10 And sent letters to Judas, and to his brethren, saying, The heathen that are about vs, are gathered against vs, to destroy vs.

11 And they make them ready for to come, and to take the fortreffe, whereunto wee are fled, and Timotheus is captaine of their holte.

12 Come now therefore, and deliuer vs out of their hands: for many of vs are slaine:

13 And all our brethren that were at Tubin, are slaine, and they haue taken away their wiues and their children, and their goods, and destroyed there almost a thousand men.

14 While these letters were yet a reading, behold, there came other messengers from Galile, with their clothes rent, which tolde the same tidings, 15 And saide that they of Ptolemais, and of Tyrus, and of Sidon, and of all Galile of the Gentiles were gathered against them to destroy them.

16 When Judas and the people heard these wordes, a great Congregation came together, to consult what they might doe for their brethren that were in trouble, and whome they besieged.

17 Then saide Judas to Simon his brother, Chase thee out men, and go and deliuer thy brethren in Galile, and I and my brother Jonathan will goe into the countrey of Galaad.

18 ¶ So hee left Iosephus the sonne of Zacharias, and Azarias to be captaines of the people, and to keepe the remnant of the holte in Iudea, 19 And commaunded them saying, Take the oversight of this people, and make no warre against the heathen, vntill we come againe.

20 And vnto Simon were given three thousand men, to goe into Galile, and to Judas eight thousand men for the countrey of Galaad.

21 Then went Simon into Galile, and gaue diners battels to the heathen, and the heathen were discomfited by him.

22 And hee pursued them vnto the gates of Ptolemais: and there were slaine of the heathen almost three thousand men: so hee tooke their spoiles.

23 Thus they rescued them that were in Galile and in Arbattis with their wiues, and their children, and all that they had, and brought them into Iudea with great ioy.

24 ¶ Judas Baccabrus also, and his brother Jonathan went ouer Jordan, and trauailed three daies iourney in the wilderness,

25 Where they met with the Nabathites, who receiued them ioyfully, & tolde them euery thing that was done vnto their brethren in the countrey of Galaad, 26 And how that many of them were besieged in Bofora, and Boloz, in ALEMIS, ¶ Chalbon, Baged and Carnain (al these cities are strong and great)

¶ Or, Chalbor.

27 And that they were kept in other cities of Galaad, and to morrow they are appointed to bring their holte vnto these fortes, and to take them, and to destroy them all in one day

28 So Judas & his holte turned in all haste by the way of the wilderness toward Bofora, and wanne the cite, and slew all the males with the edge of the sword, and tooke all their spoile, and set fire vpon the cite.

29 And in the night he removed from thence, and went toward the fortreffe.

30 And betimes in the morning when they looked vp, behold, there was an innumerable people bearing ladders, and instruments of warre, to take the forte, and had assaulted them.

31 When Judas sawe that the battel was begun, and that the cry of the cite went vp to heauen with trumpets, and a great sound, 32 Then he layd vnto the armie, Fight this day for your brethren.

33 So he went forth behinde them with three companies, and they blew the trumpets, and cried with prayer.

34 Then the holte of Timotheus knew, that it was Baccabrus, and they fled from him, and hee smote them with a great slaughter, so that there was killed of them the same day, almost eight thousand men.

35 ¶ Then departed Judas vnto Bafpba, and layde siege vnto it, and wane it, and slew all the males thereof, and spoiled it, and set fire vpon it.

36 From thence went hee and tooke Chalbon, Baged, and Boloz, and the other cities in Galaad.

37 After these things gathered Timotheus another holte, and he camped before Raphen beyond the flood.

38 Now Judas had sent to espie the holte, and they brought him word againe, saying, All the heathen that bee round about vs, are gathered vnto him, and the holte is very great, 39 And hee hath hired the Arabians to helpe them, and they haue pitched their tents beyond the flood, and are ready to come & fight against thee. So Judas went to meet them.

40 When Timotheus said vnto the captaines of his holte, ¶ When Judas and his holte come nere the flood, if hee passe ouer first vnto vs, we shall not be able to withstand him: for he will be too strong for vs.

41 But if he be afraid, and campe beyond the flood, we will goe ouer vnto him, and shall preuaile against him.

42 Now when Judas came nere to the flood, he caused the gouernors of the people to remaine by the flood, and commanded them, saying, Suffer none to pitch a tent, but let euery man come to the battell.

43 So hee went first ouer toward them, and all the people after him: and al the heathen were discomfited before him, and cast away their weapons, and fled into the temple that was at Carnain.

44 Which cite Judas wanne, and burnt the Temple with all that were in it: so was Carnaim subdued, and might not withstand Judas.

45 ¶ Then Judas gathered al the Israelites that were in the countrey of Galaad, from the least vnto the most, with their wiues and their children, and their baggage, a very great hoste, to come into the land of Juda.

46 So they came vnto Ephron, which was a great cite by the way, and strongly defenced: they could not passe neither at the right hand nor at the left, but must go thorow it.

47 But they that were in the cite, shut themselves in, and stopped vp the gates with stones: & Judas sent vnto them with peaceable words, saying, 48 Let vs passe thorow your land, that we may goe into our owne countrey, and none shall hurt you: we will but onely goe thorow on foot: but they would not open vnto him.

49 ¶ Therefore Judas commanded a proclamation to be made thorowout the hoste, that euery man should assault it according to his standing.

50 So the valiant men set vpon it, and assaulted the cite, all that day, and all that night, and the cite was giuen ouer into his hands:

51 Who slew all the males with the edge of the sword, and destroyed it, and tooke the spoile therof, and went thorow the city ouer them that were slaine.

52 Then went they ouer Jordan into the great plaine before Bethsan.

53 And Judas gathered together those that were behind, and gaue the people good exhortation all the way thorow, till they were come into the land of Juda.

54 Thus they went by with ioy and gladnes vnto mount Sion, where they offered burnt offerings, because there were none of them slaine, but came home againe in safety.

55 ¶ Now whyles Judas & Jonathan were in the land of Galaad, and Simon their brother in Galile before Ptolemais, 56 Joseph the sonne of Zacharias and Azarias the captaiues, hearing of the valiant acts, and battels which they had achieved, said, 57 Let vs get vs a name also, and goe fight against the heathen that are round about vs.

58 So they gaue their host a commandement, and went toward Iamnia.

59 But Gorgias and his men came out of the city to fight against them.

60 And Joseph & Azarias were put to flight, & pursued vnto the borders of Iuda: and there were slaine that day of the people of Israel about two thousand men: so that there was a great overthrow among the people of Israel.

61 Because they were not obedient vnto Judas and his brethren, but thought to do some valiant thing.

62 Also they came not of the stocks of these men, by whose hands deliuerance was giuen to Israel.

63 But the man Judas, and his brethren were greatly commended in the sight of all Israel, and of all the heathen, wheresoeuer their name was heard of.

64 And the people came vnto them, bidding them welcome.

65 Afterward went Judas forth with his brethren, & fought against the children of Elau in the land toward the South, where he wanne Hebron, and the towines therof, and he destroyed the castell thereof, and burnt the towers thereof round about.

Ioseph. Ann. 12 cap. 11. & 12.

66 Then remooued he to go into the land of the strangers, and went thorow Samaria.

67 At the same time were the Priests of the city slaine in the battell, which would shew their valiantnes, and went forth to battell without counsell: and when Judas came to Asotus in the strangers land, he brake downe their altars, and burnt with fire the images of their gods, andooke away the spoiles of the cities, and came againe into the land of Juda.

CHAP. VI.

1 Antiochus willing to take the cite of Elima, is driuen away of the euzens 8 He falleth into sickness, and dieth. 17 He sonne Antiochus is made kxrg. 34 The maner to prouoke elephants to fight. 43 Eleazarus valiant act. 48 The siege of Sion.

Now when king Antiochus traualled thorow the high countries, he heard that Elima in the countrey of Perlia, was a city greatly renowned for riches, siluer, and gold,

Ioseph. Ann. 12 cap. 13.

2 And that there was in it a very rich Temple, whereas were coverings of golde, coat armours, and harness, which Alexander King of Macedonia the sonne of Phillip (that reigned first in Grecia) had left there.

3 ¶ Therefore he went about to take the city, and to spoile it, but he was not able: for the citizens were warned of the matter,

4 And rose vp against him in battell, and he fled and departed thence with great heauinesse, and came againe into Babylon.

5 Whereouer, there came one which brought him tidings in the countrey of Perlia, that the armies that were against the land of Juda, were driuen away,

6 And that Lysias, which went forth first with a great power, was driuen away of the Iewes, and that they were made strong by the armour, and power, and diuers spoiles which they had gotten of the armies whom they had destroyed.

7 And that they had pulled downe the abomination, which he had set by vpon the altar at Ierusalem, and sented the Sancuarie with high walles, as it was afore, and Beth Surra his cite.

8 So when the King had heard these words, he was astonished, and loze moued: therefore he laid him downe vpon his bed, and fell sicke for very sorrow, because it was not come to passe as he had thought.

9 And there continued he many dayes: for his grieke was euer moze and moze, so that he saw he must needs die.

10 ¶ Therefore he sent for all his friends, and said vnto them, The sleepe is gone from mine eyes, and mine heart failed for very care.

11 And I thinke with my selfe, Into what aduersitie am I come? and into what floods of miserie am I fallen now, where as aforetime I was in prosperitie, and greatly set by, by reason of my power?

12 And now doe I remember the euils that I

I haue done at Ierusalem: for I tooke all the vessels of gold and silver that were in it, and sent to destroy the inhabitants of Iuda without cause.

13 I know that these troubles are come vpon me for the same cause, and behold, I must die with great sorow in a strange land.

14 Then called hee for Phillip, one of his friends, whom he made ruler of all his Realme, 15 And gaue him the crowne, and his robe, and the ring, that hee should instruct his sonne Antiochus, and bring him vp, till hee might reigne himselfe.

16 So king Antiochus died there in the hundredth fouerty and ninth yeere.

17 When Lysias knew that the king was dead, hee ordeined Antiochus his sonne (whom hee had brought vp) to reigne in his fathers stead, and called him Epipato.

18 Now they that were in the castle at Ierusalem, kept in the Israelites round about the Sanctuary, and fought alwayes their hart, and the strenghtening of the heathen.

19 Therefore Judas thought to destroy them, and called all the people together to besiege them.

20 So they came together, and besieged them in the hundredth and fiftie yeere, and made instruments to shoote, and other engines of warre.

21 But certaine of them that were besieged, gate foorth, (vnto whom some vngodly men of Israel toynd themselves.)

22 And they went vnto the king, saying, How long wilt thou cease from executing iudgement, and auenge our brethren?

23 Wee haue bene ready to serue thy father, and to goe forward in those things, that hee appointed, and to obey his commandeiments.

24 Therefore they of our nation fell from vs for this cause, and wheresoever they found any of vs, they slew them, and swallowed our inheritance.

25 And they haue not onely layd hand vpon vs, but vpon all about their borders.

26 And behold, this day are they besieging the castle at Ierusalem to take it, and haue fortified the Sanctuary, and Beth-sura.

27 And if thou dost not preuent them quickly, they will doe greater things then these, and thou shalt not be able to overcome them.

28 When the king heard this, hee was very angry, and called all his friends, the captaines of his armie, and his holmen, 29 And bandes that were hired, came vnto him from the kings, that were confederate, and from the Iles of the sea.

30 So the number of his armie was an hundredth thousand footmen, and twenty thousand holmen, and two and thirtie Elephants exercised in battell.

31 These came through Idumea, and drew neere to Beth-sura, and besieged it a long season, and made engines of warre: but they came out and burnt them with fire, and fought valiantly.

32 Then departed Judas from the castle, and removed the hoste toward Beth-zacarias, shere against the Kings campe.

33 So the king arose very early, and brought the army and his power toward the way of Beth-zacarias, where the armie set themselves in aray to the battell, and blew the trumpets. 34 And to prouoke the Elephants for to fight, they shewed them the blood of grapes and mulberries.

35 And they set the beastes according to the ranges: so that by every Elephant there stood a thousand men armed with coats of malle and helmets of brasse vpon their heades, and vnto euery beaste were ordeined fise hundredth holmen of the best,

36 Which were ready at all times wheresoever the beast was: and whithersoouer the beast went, they went also, & departed not from him.

37 And vpon them were strong towres of wood that covered euery beaste, which were fastened thereon with instruments, and vpon euery one was two and thirtie men that fought in them, and the Indian that ruled him.

38 They set also the remnant of the holmen vpon both the sides in two wings of the hoste, to stirre them vp, and to keepe them in the valleys.

39 And when the sunne shone vpon the golden shields, the mountaines glittered therewith, and gaue light as lamps of fire.

40 Thus part of the kings army was spread vpon the hie mountaines, and part beneath: so they marched forward warily, and in order.

41 And all they that heard the noise of their multitude, & the marching of the company and the racting of the harnesse, were astonied: for the army was very great and mighty.

42 Then Judas and his hoste entered into the battell, and they slew fise hundredth men of the kings armie.

43 Now when Eleazar, the sonne of I Abaron, saw one of the Elephants armed with royal harnesse, and was more excellent then all the other beastes, he thought that the king should be vpon him.

44 Therefore hee jeoparded himselfe to deliuer his people, and to get him a perpetual name, 45 And ranne boldly vnto him though the middes of the hoste, slaying on the right hand and on the left, so that they departed away on both sides.

46 So went he to the Elephants secte, and gate him vnder him, and slew him: then fel the Elephant downe vpon him, and there hee died.

47 But the other, seeing the power of the king and the fiercenesse of his armie, departed from them.

48 And the kings armie went vp to meete them toward Ierusalem, and the king pitched his tents in Iuda toward mount Zion.

49 Whosoouer the king tooke truce with them that were in Beth-sura: but when they came out of the citie, because they had no vitailles there, and were hurt by therein, and the lande had rested, 50 The king tooke Beth-sura, and set there a garison to keepe it.

51 And besieged the Sanctuary many daies, and made instruments to shoote, and other engines of warre, and instruments to cast fire and stones, and pieces to cast darts and dings.

52 They also made engines against their engins and fought a long season.

53 But in the garners there were no vitailles, so it was the seuenth yeere, and then they that were in Iuda, and were deliuered from the Gentiles, had eaten by the residue of the store, 54 So that in the Sanctuary were few men left; for the famine came to vpon them, that they were scattered euery man to his owne place.

55 ¶ Now when Lysias heard that Philip, (whom Antiochus the king, whiles hee liued, had ordeined to bring vp Antiochus his sonne, that he might be king.)

56 Was come againe out of Persia, & Media, and the Kings hoste with him, and thought to take vnto him the rule of things, 57 He and his halsted, & were retired forward by them in the castle to goe and sell the king, and the captiues of the holie, and to others, saying, We decrease dayly, and our vitales are but small: and the place that wee lay siege vnto, is strong, and the affaires of the realme depend vpon vs.

58 Now therefore let vs agree with these men, and take truce with them, and with all their nation, 59 And graunt them to liue after their Law, as they did afore: for they be grieved, and doe all these things, because wee haue broken their Lawes.

60 So the King and the Princes were content, and sent vnto them to make peace, and they received it.

61 ¶ When the king and the princes had made an othe vnto them, they came vpon this out of the fortreffe.

62 And the king went by to mount Sion: but when hee saw that the place was well defended, he brake his othe that he had made, and commaunded to breake downe the wall round about.

63 Then departed he in all haste, and returned vnto Antiochia, where he found Philip having dominion of the cite: so he fought against him, and tooke the cite by force.

CHAP. VII.

1 Demetrius reigned, after hee had killed Antiochus & Lysias. 5 He troubleth the children of Israel through the counsell of certaine wicked persons.

37 The prayer of the Priests against Nicanor. 41 Iudas killeth Nicanor, after he had made his prayer.

¶ In the hundredeth, and one and fiftie yeere departed Demetrius the son of Seleucus from Rome, and came by with a few men vnto a city of the sea coast and reigned there.

2 And when hee came into the possession of his fathers kingdome, his souldiers tooke Antiochus and Lysias & brought them vnto him.

3 But when it was told him, he said, Shew me not their faces.

4 So they put them to death. Now when Demetrius was set vpo the throne of his kingdome, 5 There came vnto him all the wicked and vngodly men of Israel whole captiue was Alcimus, that would haue bene the high Priest.

6 These men accused the people vnto the king, saying, Judas & his brethren haue slaine all thy friends, and diuened vs out of our owne land.

7 Therefore send now some man, whome thou trustest, that he may goe and see all the destruction, which hee hath done vnto vs & to the kings land, and let him punish them with all their partakers.

8 Then the king chose Bacchides a friend of his, which was a great man in the Realme, and ruled beyond the flood, and was faithfull vnto the king, and sent him, 9 And that wicked Alcimus, whom he made his Priest, and commaunded him to be auenged of the children of Israel.

10 So they departed, and came with a great host vnto the land of Iuda, and sent messengers to Iudas and his brethren, deceitfully with peaceable wordes.

11 But they beleued not their saying: for they saw that they were come with a great hoste.

12 Then a company of the gouernours assembled vnto Alcimus and Bacchides to treat of reasonable points.

13 And the High Priests were the first that required peace among the children of Israel.

14 For they sayd they, We that is a Priest of the seed of Aaron, is come with this armie: therefore he will not hurt vs.

15 Then he spake vnto them peaceably, and swore vnto them, and sayd, We will doe you no harme, neither your friends:

16 And they beleued him: but hee tooke of them threescore men, and slew them in one day, according to the wordes that were witten, 17 They haue callt the bodies of thy Saints, and their blood round about Jerusalem, & there was no man that would burie them.

18 So there came a feare and a trembling among all the people: for they said, There is neither trusth nor rightcoumess in them: for they haue broken the appointment and oth that they made.

19 Then Bacchides remooued from Jerusalem, & pitched his tent at Beth-zecha, where he sent forth & tooke many of the men that had forsaken him, and certaine of the people whome he slew and cast into the great pit.

20 Then committed hee the countrey vnto Alcimus, and left men of war with him to helpe him: so Bacchides went to the king.

21 Thus Alcimus strooke for the Priesthood.

22 And all such as troubled the people resorted vnto him: insomuch that they obtained the land of Iuda, and did much hurt in Israel.

23 Now when Iudas sawe all the mischefe that Alcimus & his company had done among the Israelites more then the heathen, 24 Hee went fourth round about all the borders of Iudea, and punished those that were fallen away, so that they came no more aboad in the countrey.

25 But when Alcimus saw that Iudas and his people had gotten the vpper hand, and knew that he was not able to abide them, hee went againe to the king and accused them of wicked things.

26 Then the King sent Nicanor one of his chiefe Princes, which hated Israel deadly, and commaunded him that hee should destroy the people.

27 ¶ So Nicanor came to Jerusalem with a great hoste, and sent vnto Iudas, and his brethren deceitfully with friendly wordes, saying, 28 Let there be no warre betwene mee, and you, I will come with few men, to see how ye be friendly.

29 So he came vnto Judas, and they saluted one another peaceably: but the enemies were prepared to take away Judas.

30 Nevertheless, it was told Judas, that he came vnto him vnder deceit: therefore he feared him, and would see his face no more.

31 When Nicanoz perceiued that his counsell was betrayed, he went out to fight against Judas, beside || Carphalataza, 32 Where there were slaine of Nicanoz's host about fise thousand men: so they fled vnto the citie of Dauid.

33 After this came Nicanoz by vnto mount Sion, and some of the Priests with the Elders of the people went forth of the Sanctuarie to salute him peaceably, and to shew him the burnt offering that was offered for the king.

34 But hee laughed at them, and mocked them, and counted them prophane, and spake proudly, 35 And swore in his wrath, saying, If Judas and his hoste bee not deliuered now into mine hands, if euer I come againe in saferte, I will burne vp this house. With that, went he out in a great anger.

36 When the priests came in, and stood before the altar in the Temple, weeping, and saying,

37 Forso much as thou, O Lord, hast chosen this Houle, that thy Name might be called vpon therein, and that it should be an house of prayer, and petition for thy people, 38 Wee auenged of this man and his hoste, and let them bee slaine by the sword: remember their blasphemies, and suffer them not to continue.

39 When Nicanoz was gone from Ierusalem, hee pitched his tent at Beth-horon, and there an hoste met him out of Syria.

40 And Judas pitched in || Adafa, with three thousand men, where Judas prayed, saying,

41 O Lord, * because the messengers of King Sennacherib blasphemed thee, thine Angel went forth, and slew an hundred, forty, and fise thousand of them.

42 So destroy thou this hoste before vs to day, that all other may know that hee hath spoken wickedly against thy Sanctuarie, and punish him according to his malice.

43 So the armies toynd together in battell, the thirteenth day of the month Adar: but Nicanoz's hoste was discomfited, and hee himselfe was first slaine in the battell.

44 Now when his arme sawe that Nicanoz was slaine, they cast away their weapons, and fled.

45 But they pursued after them a dayes fourme from Adafa vnto Safeca, blowing an alarme with the trumpets after them.

46 So they came forth of all the towne of Iudea round about, and rushed vpon them, and they fled from one to another, so that they all fell by the sword, and there was not one of them left.

47 Then they tooke the spoiles, and the pray, and knote off Nicanoz's head, and his right hand, which he held by so proudly, and brought it with them, and hanged them by afore Ierusalem.

48 So the people reioyced greatly, and kept that day as a day of great gladnesse.

49 And they ordeined to keepe yeerely that day on the thirteenth day of the moneth Adar. 50 Thus the land of Iuda was in rest a little while.

CHAP. VIII.

1 Judas considering the power and policie of the Romanes, maketh peace with them. 2 The conditions of mutuall friendship sent to the Iewes.

1 Iudas heard also the same of the Romans, that they were mighty, and valiant, and agreeable to all things that were required of them, and made peace with all that came vnto them.

2 And that they were men of great power, and they told them of their battels, and their worthy acts, which they did among the || Galatians whom they had conquered, and made to pay tribute,

3 And what they had done in the countrey of Spaine: how that they had wonne there the mines of siluer and gold,

4 And that by their counsell and gentle behauiour they were rulers in euery place, though the place was farre from them, and that they had discomfited and giuen great ouertrowes to the Kings that came against them, from the uttermost part of the earth, & that others gaue them tribute euery yeere,

5 How they had also discomfited by battell Philip and Perles kings of the || Baccenonians, and others that rose against them, and how they ouercame them,

6 And how great Antiochus king of Asia, that came against them in battell, haning an hundred and twentie Elephants, with horsemen and charers, and a very great armie, was discomfited by them,

7 And how they tooke him aliue, and ordeined him, with such as should reigne after him, to pay a great tribute, and to giue hostages, and a separate portion,

8 Euen the countrey of India, and Media, and Lydia, and of his best countreies, which they tooke of him, and gaue them to King Eumenes.

9 Againe when it was told them that the Grecians were coming to destroy them,

10 They sent against them a captain, which gaue them battell, and slew many of them, and tooke many prisoners with their wiues, and children, and spoyled them, and conquered their land, and destroyed their strong holdes, and subdued them to bee their bondmen vnto this day:

11 Moreover, how they destroyed & broughte into subiection other kingdomes and Isles, whoseouer had withstood them:

12 But they that kept amity with their owne friends, and those that staid vpon them: finally, that they conquered kingdomes, both farre and neere, inso much that whoseouer heard of their renowne was afraid of them.

13 For whom they would helpe to their kingdomes, those reigned, and whom they would, they put downe: thus were they in most high authoritie.

14 Yet for all this that none of them ware a crowne, neither was clothed in purple, to bee magnified thereby,

15 But that they had ordeined themselves a counsell, wherein three hundred and twentie men consulted dayly, and provided for the common affaires, to governe them well, 16 And that they committed their government to one man every yere, who did rule over all their country, to whom every man was obedient: and there was neither hatred nor enuie among them.

17 ¶ Then Judas chose Eupolemus the sonne of Iohn, the sonne of Accus, and Jason the sonne of Cleazar, and sent them vnto Rome, to make friendship and mutuall fellowship with them,

18 That they might take from them the yoke (for they saw that the kingdome of the Grecians would keepe Israel in bondage.)

19 So they went vnto Rome, which was a very great iourney, and came into the Senate wher they spake and laud, 20 Judas Maccabeus with his brethren, and the people of the Jewes hath sent vs vnto you, to make a bond of friendship and peace with you, and ye to register vs as your partakers and friends.

21 And the matter pleased them.

22 And this is the copie of the Epistle that they wrote in tables of brasse, and sent to Ierusalem, that they might haue by them a memoriall of the peace, and mutuall fellowship.

23 Good successe be to the Romanes, and to the people of the Jewes, by sea, and by land for ever, and the sword, and enemie be from them.

24 If there come first anywarre vpon the Romanes, or any of their friends throughout all their dominion, 25 The people of the Jewes shall helpe them, as the time shall bee appointed, with all their heart.

26 Also they shall giue nothing to them that come to fight to them: nor serue them with wheate, nor weapons, nor money, nor ships, as it pleaseth the Romanes, but they shall keepe their covenants without taking any thing of them.

27 Likewise also, if warre come first against the nation of the Jewes, the Romanes shall helpe them with a good will, according as the time shall be appointed them.

28 Neither shall wheate be giuen vnto them, nor ships, as it pleaseth the Romanes, who will keepe these covenants without deceit.

29 According to these articles the Romanes made the bond with the people of the Jewes.

30 If after these points the one partie, or the other will adde or diminish, they may doe it at their pleasures, and whatsoeuer they shall adde or take away, shall be ratified.

31 And as touching the euill that Demetrius hath done vnto the Jewes, we haue writen vnto him, saying, Wherefore layest thou thine heauie yoke vpon our friends, and confederates the Jewes?

32 If therefore they complaine any more against thee, we will doe them iustice, and fight with thee by sea and by land.

CHAP. IX.

1 After the death of Nicanor, Demetrius sendeth his armie against Judas. 18 Judas is slaine. 31 Jonathan is put in the stead of his brother. 47 The battell betwixt Jonathan and Bacchides. 55. Alcimus is smitten with the palse, and dieth. 68 Hee commeth vpon Jonathan by the counsell of certaine wicked persons, and is overcome. 70 The truce of Ionathens with Bacchides.

¶ In the meane season, when Demetrius had heard how Nicanor and his hoste had giuen the battell, hee sent Bacchides, and Alcimus againe into Iudea, and his chiefe strength with them.

Joseph. Ant. 12. cap. 18. ¶ Or, the right horn.

2 So they went forth by the way that is toward Galgala, and pitched their tents before Bethlath which is in Arbelis, and wan it, and slew much people.

3 And in the first moneth of the hundreth, fiftie and two yere, they laide their siege against Ierusalem.

4 But they raised their campe, and came to Berea with threentie thousand foote men, and two thousand horsemen.

5 Now Judas had pitched his tent at Eleaza, and threie thousand chosen men with him.

6 And when they saw that the multitude of the armie was great, they were sore afrate, and many conueyed themselves out of the hoste, so that there abode no moe of them, but eight hundreth men.

7 When Judas sawe that his hoste failed him, and that he must needs fight, hee was sore troubled in mind that hee had no time to gather them together, and was discouraged.

8 Neuerthelesse, hee said vnto them that remained, Let vs rise, and goe by against our enemies, if peraduenture we may bee able to fight with them.

9 But they would haue stayed him, saying, We are not able: but let vs rather save our liues: turne backe now, seeing our brethren are departed: for shall wee fight against them, that are so few?

10 Then Judas said, God forbid, that wee should doe this thing, to flee from them: if our time bee come, let vs die manfully for our brethren, and let vs not staine our honour.

a He that was wont to pray and overcome, is overcome when he trusteth in his strength, and omitteth prayer.

11 Then the hoste remooued out of the tents, and stood against them, who had diuided their horsemen into two troupes, and they that they with slings, and the archers marched in the foreward, and they that fought in the foreward were all valliant men.

12 And Bacchides was in the right wing: so the army drew neere on both sides, and blew the trumpets.

13 They of Judas side blew the trumpets also, and the earth shooke at the noyse of the armies, and the battell continued from morning to night.

14 And when Judas sawe that Bacchides and the strength of his armie was on the right side, heeooke with him all the hardie men, 15 And brake the right wing, and followed vpon them vnto mount Azon.

16 Now when they which were of the left wing, saw that the right wing was discomfited, they followed Judas behinde, and them that were with him, hard at the heeles.

17 Then was there a sore battell: for many were slaine of both the parties.

18 Judas also himselfe was killed, and the remanent fled.

19 So Jonathan and Simon tooke Judas their brother, and buried him in his fathers sepulchre sepulchre in the citie of Hodia.

20 And all the Israelites wept for him, and mourned greatly for him, and lamented many dayes, saying, 21 How is the valiant man fallen which deliuered Israel!

22 Concerning the other things of Judas, both the battels and the valiant acts that he did, and of his worthinesse, they are not written: for they were very many.

23 ¶ Now after the death of Judas, wicked men came vp in all the coasts of Israel, and there arose all such as gaue themselues to iniquitie.

24 In those dayes was there a very great famine in the land, and all the country gaue ouer themselues with them.

25 And Bacchides did chuse wicked men, and made them lords in the land.

26 These sought out, and made search for Judas friends, and brought them vnto Bacchides, which auenged himselfe vpon them, and mocked them.

27 And there came so great trouble in Israel, as was not since the time that no Prophet was scene among them.

28 Then came all Judas friends together, and sayd vnto Jonathan, 29 Seeing thy brother Judas is dead, and there is none like him to goe forth against our enemies, euen against Bacchides, and against them of our nation that are enemies vnto vs, 30 Therefore, this day we chuse thee that thou mayest be our Prince and captaine in his place to order our battell.

31 So Jonathan tooke the gouernance vpon him at the same time, and ruled in stead of his brother Judas.

32 But when Bacchides knew it, he sought for to slay him.

33 Then Jonathan and Simon his brother perceiving that, fled into the wilderness of Bethcia with all their company, and pitched their tents by the water poole of Alzbar.

34 Which when Bacchides vnderstood, hee came ouer Iordén with all his hoste vpon the Sabbath day.

35 ¶ Now had Jonathan sent his brother John a captaine of the people, to pray his friends the Nabathites, that they would keepe their baggage which was much.

36 But the children of Ambri came out of Hedaba, and tooke John and al that he had, and when they had taken it, went their way.

37 After this came word vnto Jonathan, and to Simon his brother, that the children of Ambri made a great marriage, and brought the bride from Hedaba with great pompe: for she was daughter to one of the noblest Princes of Canaan.

38 Therefore they remembered John their brother, and went vpon and hid themselues vnder the court of the mountaine.

39 So they lift vp their eyes, and looked, and behold there was a great noise, and much preparation: then the bridegroome came forth, and his friends and his brethren met them with timbrels and instruments of musicke, and many weapons.

40 Then Jonathans men that lay in ambush, rose vp against them, & slew many of them, and the remnant fled into the mountaines, so that theyooke all their spoiles.

41 Thus the marriage was turned to mourning, and the noise of their melodie into lamentation.

42 And so when they had auenged the blood of their brother, they turned againe vnto Iordén.

43 When Bacchides heard this, he came vnto the border of Iordén with a great power vpon the Sabbath day.)

44 Then Jonathan said vnto his company, Let vs rise now, and fight against our enemies: for it is not to day as in true past.

45 Behold, the battell is before vs, and behind vs, and the water of Iordén on this side and that side, and the marie and forest, so that there is no place for vs to turne aside.

46 Wherefore crie now vnto heauen, that yee may be deliuered from the power of your enemies: for they toynd battell.

47 Then Jonathan streched out his hand to smite Bacchides: but he turned aside from him and recoled.

48 Then Jonathan and they that were with him lept into Iordén, and swummed ouer vnto the further banke; but the other would not passe through Iordén after them.

49 So in that day were slaine of Bacchides side about a thousand men.

50 Then he turned againe to Ierusalem, and built by the strong cities in Iuda, as the castles of Jericho, and Emmaus, and Bethbozon, and Bethel, and Chamuatha, I Pharathon, and Cepho, with hie walles, with gates, and with barres, 51 And let garlsons in them, that they might vse their mallice vpon Israel.

52 He fortified also the citie Bethsura, and Gazara, and the castle, and let a garlson in them with provision of victuals.

53 He tooke also the chiefeest mens sonnes in the country for hostages, and put them in the castle at Ierusalem to be kept.

54 ¶ Afterward in the hundredth fiftie and thre yeere, in the second moneth, Alcimus commanded that the walles of the inner court of the Sanctuary should be destroyed, and hee pulled downe the monuments of the Prophets, and began to destroy them.

55 But at the same time Alcimus was plagued, and his enterpises were hindered, and his mouth was stopped: for he was smitten with a palse, and could no more speake, nor giue order concerning his house.

56 Thus died Alcimus with great torment at the same time.

57 And when Bacchides saw that Alcimus was dead, hee turned againe to the king, and to the lande of Iuda was in rest two yeeres.

58 Then all the vngodly men held a counsell, saying, Behold, Jonathan and his company dwell at ease, and without care: wherefore let vs bring Bacchides hither, and hee will take them all in one night.

59 So they went and consulted with him.

60 Who arose and came with a great hoste, and sent letters priuily to his adherents, which were in Iuder, to take Jonathan, and those that were with him: but they could not, for their counsell was knowne vnto them,

61 And if they tooke fiftie men of the country, which were the chiefe workes of this wickednesse, and slew them.

62 ¶ Then Jonathan and Simon with their company departed vnto ¶ Beth-basin which is in the wilderness, and repaired the decay thereof, and made it strong.

63 ¶ When Bacchides knew this, he gathered all his hoste, and sent word to them that were of Iudea.

64 ¶ Then came he and laid siege to Beth-basin, and taught against it a long season, & made instruments of warre.

65 ¶ But Jonathan had left his brother Simon in the citie, and went forth into the country, and came with a certaine number, 66 And slew ¶ Demeteras and his brethren, and the children of Pthaltron in their tents: so he began to slay, and increased in power.

67 Simon also and his company went out of the citie, and burnt up the instruments of warre, 68 And fought against Bacchides, and discomfited him, and veyed him sore, so that his counsell and iourney was in vaine.

69 ¶ Therefore he was very wroth at the wicked men, that gaue him counsell to come into the country, and slew many of them, and purposed to returne into his owne country.

70 ¶ Mithroch when Jonathan had knowledge, he sent ambassadours vnto him, to increate of peace with him, and that the prisoners should be deliuered.

71 Which thing he accepted, & did according to his desire, and made an othe, that hee would neuer do him harme all the dayes of his life.

72 So he restored vnto him the prisoners that he had taken aforesetime out of the land of Iuda, and so returned and went into his owne land, neither did he come any more into their borders.

73 ¶ Thus the word ceased from Israel, and Jonathan dwelt at Machmas, and began there to gouerne the people, and destroyed the vngodly men out of Israel.

C H A P. X.

1 Demetrius desireth to haue peace with Jonathan. 48 Alexander also desireth peace with the Iewes. 48 Alexander maketh warre against Demetrius. 50 Demetrius is slaine. 51 The friendship of Ptolemus and Alexander.

¶ The hundredth and threescore yeere came Alexander the sonne of Antiochus Epiphanes and tooke Ptolemas, and they receiued him, and there he reigned.

2 ¶ Now when Demetrius the king heard it, he gathered an exceeding great hoste, and went forth against him to fight.

3 ¶ Also Demetrius sent letters vnto Jonathan with louing words, as though hee would preferre him.

4 ¶ For hee sayd, ¶ Wee will first make peace with him, before hee ioyne with Alexander against vs.

5 ¶ His he will remember all the euill that we haue done against him, and against his brethren and his nation.

6 ¶ And to he gaue Jonathan leaue to gather an hoste, and to prepare weapons, and to bee confederate with him, and commanded the hostages that were in the castle, to be deliuered vnto him.

7 ¶ Then came Jonathan to Ierusalem, and read the letters in the audience of all the people, and of them that were in the castle.

8 ¶ Therefore they were sore afrayde, because they heard that the king had giuen him licence to gather an armie.

9 ¶ So they that were of the castle, deliuered the hostages vnto Jonathan, who restored them to their parents.

10 ¶ Jonathan also dwelt at Ierusalem, and began to build and repaire the citie.

11 ¶ And hee commanded the workemen to build the walles, and the mount Sion round about with hewen stone to fortifie it: and so they did.

12 ¶ Then the strangers that were in the castles which Bacchides had made, fled, 13 So that euery man left his place, & went into his owne country.

14 ¶ Onely at Beth-sura remained certaine which had forsaken the Law and the commandments: for it was their refuge.

15 ¶ Now when King Alexander had heard of the promises that Demetrius had made vnto Jonathan: and when it was told him of the battels and noble actes, which hee and his brethren had done, and of the paines that they had endured, 16 ¶ He sayd, ¶ Might wee finde such a man? now therefore we will make him our friend and confederate.

17 ¶ Upon this hee wrote a letter, and sent it vnto him with these wordes, saying, 18 KING ALEXANDER to his brother Jonathan sendeth salutation.

19 ¶ We haue heard of thee, that thou art a very valiant man, and worthy to be our friend.

20 ¶ Therefore this day we ordaine thee to be the hie Priest of thy nation, and to be called the Kings friend: (and he sent him a purple robe, and a crowne of gold,) that thou mayest consider what is for our profit, and keepe friendship toward vs.

21 ¶ So in the seventh moneth of the hundredth and threescore yeere, vpon the feast day of the tabernacles, Jonathan put on the holy garment, and gathered an hoste, and prepared many weapons.

22 ¶ Which when Demetrius heard, he was maruillous sore, and sayd, 23 ¶ What haue we done that Alexander hath prevented vs in getting the friendship of the Iewes for his strength?

24 ¶ Yet will I write and exhort them, and promise them dignities and rewards that they may helpe me.

25 ¶ Whereupon hee wrote vnto them these wordes, KING DEMETRIVS vnto the nation of the Iewes sendeth greeting.

26 ¶ We haue heard that ye haue kept your covenant toward vs, and continued in our friendship, and haue not ioynd with our enemies, whereof we are glad.

27 ¶ Now therefore remaine still, and keepe fidelitie toward vs, and we will recompense you for the good things that ye haue done for vs, 28 ¶ And will release you of many charges, and giue you rewards.

29 ¶ And now I discharge for your sake all the Iewes from tributes, and free you from the customes customes of salt, and the crowne taxes, and from the third part of the seede.

30 And from the halfe of the fruit of the trees which is mine owne duety; I so release them, that from this day fourth, none shall take any thing of the land of Iuda, or of the three governments, which are added therunto, as of Samaria and of Galile, from this day fourth for evermore.

31 Ierusalem also with all things belonging thereto, shall bee holy and free from the censures and tributes.

32 Also I release the power of the castles which is at Ierusalem, and giue it vnto the hie Priest, that he may let in it such men, as he shall chuse to keepe it.

33 Whoeuer I freely deliuer every one of the Jewes that were taken away prisoners out of the land of Iuda throughout all my Realme, and every one of them shall be free from tributes, yea, euen their cattell.

34 And all the feasts, and Sabbathes, and new moones, and the dayes appointed, and the three dayes before the feast, and the three dayes after the feast, shall be dayes of freedom and libertie for all the Jewes in my Realme, 35 So that in them no man shall haue power to doe any thing, or to bere any of them in any manner of cause.

36 Also thirtie thousand of the Jewes shall be written vp in the kings booke, and haue their wages payed them as appertaineth to all them that are of the kings armie: and of them shall bee ordeined certaine to keepe the kings strong holds.

37 And some of them shall bee set over the kings most secrett affaires, and their gouernours and their princes shall be of themselves, and they shall liue after their owne lawes, as the king hath commanded in the land of Iuda.

38 And the three governments that are added vnto Iuda from the countrey of Samaria, shall be ioyned vnto Iuda, and they shall bee as vnder one, and obey none other power, but the hie Priest.

39 And I giue Ptolemais and the borders thereof vnto the Sanctuary at Ierusalem, for the necessary expences of the holy things.

40 Whoeuer, I will giue euery yeere fiftene thousand sicles of siluer of the kings reuenues, out of the places appertaining vnto me.

41 And all the ouerplus which they haue not payed for the things due, as they did in the former yeeres, from henceforth they shall giue it toward the works of the Temple.

42 And besides this, the five thousand sicles of siluer which they receiued yeerely of the account appointed for the enterainment of the Sanctuary, these yeeres passed, euen these things shall be released, because they appertaine to the Priests that minister.

43 Item, whosoever they be that flee vnto the Temple at Ierusalem, or within the liberties thereof and are inobedient to the king for any manner of thing, they shall be pardoned, and all that they haue in my Realme.

44 For the building also and repatring of the works of the Sanctuary, expences shall be giuen of the kings reuenues.

45 And for the making of the walles of Ierusalem, and fortifying it round about, that the holdes in Iuda may bee built vp, shall also the coles be giuen out of the kings reuenues.

46 ¶ But when Jonathan and the people heard these words, they gaue no credite vnto them, neither receiued them: for they remembered the great wickednesse that he had done in Israel, and how sore he had bereed them.

47 ¶ Wherefore they agreed vnto Alexander: for hee was the first that had intreated of true peace with them, and so were confederate with him alway.

48 Then gathered King Alexander a great hoste, and camped ouer against Demetrius.

49 So the two kings ioyned battell: but Demetrius hoste fled, and Alexander pursued him, and preuailed against them.

50 So that sore battell continued till the Sunne went downe, and Demetrius was slaine the same day.

51 ¶ Then Alexander sent Ambassadors vnto Ptolemaus the king of Egypt, with these words, saying,

52 For so much as I am come againe to my Realme, and am set in the throne of my fathers, and haue gotten the dominion, and haue destroyed Demetrius, and enjoy my countrey,

53 Seeing that I haue euen giuen him the battell, and hee and his armie is discomforted by me, and I sit in the throne of his kingdom, 54 Let vs now make friendship together, and giue me now thy daughter to wife: so shall I be thy sonne in law, and giue thee rewards, and vnto her things according to thy dignitie.

55 Then Ptolemaus the king gaue answer, saying, I wylle bee the day, wherein thou art come againe vnto the land of thy fathers, and sittest in the throne of their kingdom.

56 Now therefore will I fulfill thy writing: but meete me at Ptolemais that we may see one another, and that I may make thee my sonne in law, according to thy desire.

57 So Ptolemaus went out of Egypt with his daughter Cleopatra, and came vnto Ptolemais in the hundredth threelcore and two yeere, 58 Where king Alexander met him, and hee gaue vnto him his daughter Cleopatra, and married them at Ptolemais with great glorie, as the manner of kings is.

59 ¶ Then wrote King Alexander vnto Jonathan, that he should come and meete him.

60 So he went honourably vnto Ptolemais, and there he met the two kings, and gaue them great presents of siluer and golde, and to their friends, and found fauour in their sight.

61 And there assembled certaine pestilent fellows of Israel, and wicked men to accuse him: but the king would not heare them.

62 And the king commanded that they should take off the garments of Jonathan, and clothe him in purple, and so they did: and the king appointed him to sit by him,

63 And layd vnto his Princes, Goe with him into the mids of the citie, and make a proclamation, that no man complaine against him of any matter, and that no man trouble him for any manner of cause.

64 So when his accusers saw his honour according as it was proclaimed, and that he was clothed in purple, they fled all away.

65 And the king preferred him to honour, and wrote wrote him among his chiefe friends, and made him a drinke and partaker of his dominion.

66 Thus Jonathan returned to Jerusalem with peace and gladnesse.

67 ¶ In the hundredeth, threescore and sine were came Demetrius the sonne of Demetrius, from Creta vnto his fathers land.

68 Whereof when king Alexander heard, he was very sorow, and returned vnto Antiochia.

69 Then Demetrius appointed Apollonius the gouernour of Coeloxymia, who gathered a great host, and camped in Fannia, and sent vnto Jonathan the hie Priest, saying, 70 Darest thou, being but alone, lift vp thy selfe against vs? and I am laughed at, and reproched, because of thee: now therefore why doest thou vaunt thy selfe against vs in the mountaines?

71 Now then if thou trust in thine owne strength, come downe to vs into the plaine field, and there let vs trie the matter together: for I haue the strength of cities.

72 Like and learne who I am, and they shall take my part: and they shall tell thee that your foote is not able to stand before our face: for thy fathers haue bene twice chaied in their owne land.

73 And now how wilt thou bee able to abide so great an host of hoisemen and footmen in the plaine, where is neither stone, nor rocke, nor place to flee vnto?

74 When Jonathan heard the wordes of Apollonius, he was moued in his mind: wherefore hee chose threane thousand men, and went out of Jerusalem, and Simon his brother met him for to helpe him.

75 And hee pitched his tents at Jopppe: but they shut him out of the citie: for Apollonius garrison was in Jopppe.

76 Then they fought against it, and they that were in the citie, for very feare let him in: so Jonathan wan Jopppe.

77 Apollonius hearing of this, tooke three thousand hoisemen with a great hoste of foote men, and went toward Azotus, as though he would goe forward, and came immediatly into the plaine field, because he had so many hoisemen, and put his trust in them.

78 So Jonathan followed vpon him to Azotus, and the armie skirnisshed with his arriere band.

79 For Apollonius had left a thousand hoisemen behind them in ambush.

80 And Jonathan knew that there was an ambushment behind him, and though they had compassed in his hoste, and thoe darks at the people from the morning to the euening, 81 Yet the people stood still, as Jonathan had commanded them, till their hoises were weary.

82 Then brought Simon forth his host, and set them against the band: but the hoises were weary, and hee discomfited them, and they fled: so the hoisemen were scattered in the field.

83 And they fled to Azotus, and came into the temple of Dagon their idole, that they might there lanie themselves.

84 But Jonathan set fire vpon Azotus and all the cities round about it, and tooke their spoiles, and burnt with fire the temple of Dagon with all them that were fled into it.

85 Thus were slaine and burnt about eight thousand men.

86 So Jonathan remooued the hoste from thence, and camped by Ascalon, where the men of the citie came forth, and met him with great honour.

87 After this went Jonathan and his hoste againe to Jerusalem with great poyles.

88 And when King Alexander heard these things, he began to doe Jonathan more honour.

89 And sent him a collar of golde, as the vles is to bee given vnto such as are of the Kings blood: he gaue him also Accaron, with the borders thereof in possession.

CHAP. XI.

1 The dissention betweene Ptolemus and Alexander his sonne vs law. 17 The death of Alexander. 19 Demetrius reigne after the death of Ptolemus. 22 Zion is besieged of Jonathan. 42 Demetrius seeing that no man resisted him, sendeth his armie againe. 54 Tryphon moueth Antiochus against Demetrius.

¶ Ad the king of Egypt gathered a great hoste, like the land that lyeth vpon the sea shore, and many shipp, and went about through deceit to obtaine the kingdome of Alexander, and to ioyne it vnto his owne Realme.

2 Vpon this he went into Syria with friendly wordes, and was let into the cities, and men came forth to meete him: for king Alexander had commanded them to meete him, because hee was his father in law.

3 Nowe when hee entered into the citie of Ptolemus, he left bands and garlions in euery citie.

4 And when he came neere to Azotus, they shewed them the temple of Dagon that was burnt, and Azotus, and the suburbs thereof that were destroyed, and the bodies cast aboad, and them that he had burnt in the battell: for they had made heapes of tome by the way where hee should passe.

5 And they tolde the King what Jonathan had done, to the intent they might get him euill will: but the king yeld his peace.

6 And Jonathan met the King with great honour at Jopppe, where they saluted one another, and lay there.

7 So when Jonathan had gone with the King vnto the water that was called Cleuerus, he turned againe to Jerusalem.

8 So king Ptolemus gate the dominion of the cities by the sea vnto Seleucia vpon the sea coast, imagining wicked counsels against Alexander.

9 ¶ And sent ambassadones vnto king Demetrius, saying. Come, let vs make a league betweene vs, and I will giue thee my daughter, which Alexander hath, and thou shalt reigne in thy fathers kingdome.

10 For I repent that I gaue Alexander my daughter: for hee goeth about to slay me.

11 Thus he slandered Alexander, as one that should desire his Realme.

12 And hee tooke his daughter from him, and gaue her vnto Demetrius, and sozooke Alexander, so that their hatred was openly knowne.

13 Then Ptolemus came to Antiochia, where he set two crownes vpon his owne head, of Asia, and of Egypt.

14 In the meane season was King Alexander in Cilicia: for they that dwell in those places, had rebelled against him:

Ioseph. Ant. 13. chap. 7.

15 But when Alexander heard it, he came to warre against him, and Ptolemus brought forth his host, and met him with a mighty power, and put him to flight.

16 Then fled Alexander into Arabia, there to be defended: so Ptolemus was exalted.

17 And Sabel the Arabian smote off Alexanders head, and sent it vnto Ptolemus.

18 But the third day after, King Ptolemus died, and they that were in the holdes, were slaine one of another.

19 And Demetrius reigned in the hundredth, threescore and seuenthy yeere.

20 ¶ At the same time gathered Jonathan them that were in Iudca, to lay siege vnto the castle which was at Ierusalem, and they made many instruments of warre against it.

21 Then were there certaine vngodly persons (which hated their owne people) vnto king Demetrius, and told him that Jonathan besieged the castle.

22 So when hee heard it, he was angry, and immediately came vnto Ptolemas, and wrote vnto Jonathan, that he should lay no more siege vnto it, but that he should meete him, and speake with him at Ptolemas in all haste.

23 Neuertheless, when Jonathan heard this, hee commanded to beliege it: hee chose also certaine of the Elders of Israel, and the Priests, and put himselfe in danger, 24 Andooke with him siluer and gold, and apparell, and diners pteints, and went to Ptolemas vnto the King, and found fauour in his sight.

25 And though certaine vngodly men of his owne nation had made complaints vpon him,

26 Yet the King intreated him as his predecessor had done, and promoted him in the light of all his friends, 27 And confirmed him in the hie Priesthood with all the honourable things, that hee had afore, and made him his chiefe friend.

28 Jonathan also desired the King, that hee would make Iudca free with the three governments, and the countrey of Samaria, and Iordan promised him thre hundred talents.

29 Whereunto the king consented, and gaue Jonathan writing of the same, containing these words, 30 KING DEMETRIUS vnto his brother Jonathan, and to the nation of the Jewes sendeth greeting.

31 Wee send you heere a copie of the letter, which wee did write vnto our cousin Lathenes concerning you, that ye should see it.

32 King Demetrius vnto Lathenes his father, sendeth greeting.

33 For the faithfulnessse that our friends the nation of the Jewes keepe vnto vs, and for their good will toward vs, we are determined to doe them good.

34 Wherefore wee assigne to them the coasts of Iudca, with the three governments, Appherma, and Lydda, and Ramathe (which are added vnto Iudca, from the countrey of Samaria) and all that appertaineth to all them that sacrifice in Ierusalem: both concerning the payments which the King tooke yeerly aforesaid, both for the fruites of the earth, and for the fruites of the trees.

35 As for the other things appertaining vnto vs of the tenthes and tributes, which were due vnto vs, and the customes of salt, and crowne taxes, which were payed vnto vs, we discharge them of all from henceforth.

36 And nothing hereof shal be reckoned from this time forth and for euer.

37 Therefore see that ye make a copie of these things, and deliuer it vnto Jonathan, that it may bee set vp vpon the holy mount in an open place.

38 After this, when Demetrius the king saw that his land was in rest, and that no resistance was made against him, hee sent away all his host, every man to his owne place, except certaine bands of strangers, whome hee brought from the yles of the heathen: wherefore all his fathers hoste hated him.

39 Now was there one Tryphon, that had bene of Alexanders part afore, which when hee saw that al the hoste murmured against Demetrius, he went to ¶ Simalene the Arabian, that brought by Antiochus the sonne of Alexander, 40 And lay low vpon him, to deliuer him this young Antiochus, that he might reigne in his fathers stead: hee told him also what great euill Demetrius had done, and how his men of warre hated him, and he remained there a long season.

41 Also Jonathan sent vnto King Demetrius to bidde them out which were in the castle at Ierusalem, and those that were in the fortress: for they sought against Israel.

42 So Demetrius sent vnto Jonathan, saying, I will not onely doe these things for you and thy nation, but if opportunitee serue, I will honour thee and thy nation.

43 Now therefore thou shalt doe me a pleasure, if thou wilt send me men to helpe mee: for all mine army is gone from me.

44 So Jonathan sent him thre thousand strong men vnto Antiochia, and they came vnto the King: wherefore the King was very glad at their coming.

45 ¶ But they that were of the citie, enen an hundredth and twentie thousand men, gathered them together in the mids of the citie, & would haue slaine the King.

46 But the King fled into the palace, and the citizens kept the strettes of the citie, and began to fight.

47 Then the King called to the Jewes for helpe, which came to him altogether, and went abroad to show the citie, 48 And slew the same day an hundredth thousand, and set fire vpon the citie, and tooke many spoyles in that day, and deliuered the King.

49 So when the citizens saw that the Jewes had gotten the vpper hand of the citie, and that they themselues were disappointed of their purpose, they made their supplication vnto the king saying,

50 ¶ Grant vs peace, and let the Jewes cease from being vs and the citie.

51 So they cast away their weapons, & made peace and the Jewes were greatly honoured before the King, and before all that were in his realme, and they came againe to Ierusalem with great pray.

52 Then King Demetrius sate in the thron: of his kingdome, and had peace in his land.

53 Neuertheless, hee dissembled in all that euer cuel,

hee spake, and withdiere himselfe from Jonathan, neither did hee reward him according to the benefices which hee had done for him, but troubled him very sore.

54 After this returned Tryphon with the yong child Antiochus, which reigned, and was crowned.

55 Then there gathered unto him all the men of warre, whom Demetrius had scattered, and they fought against him, who fled, and turned his backe.

56 So Tryphon tooke the beasts, and was Antiochia.

57 And yong Antiochus wrote vnto Jonathan, saying, I appoint thee to be the chiefe Priest, & make thee ruler ouer the foure governments, that thou maiest be a friend of the kings.

58 Upon this he sent him golden vessels to be serued in, and gaue him leaue to drinke in gold, and to weare purple, & to haue a collar of gold.

59 He made his brother Simon also capitaine from the coastes of Egiptus vnto the borders of Egypt.

60 Then Jonathan went forth, and passed thorow the cities beyond the flood, and all the men of warre of Syria gathered vnto him for to helpe him: so he came vnto Ascalon, and they of the citie receiued him honourably.

61 And from thence went he vnto Gaza: but they of Gaza shut him out: wherefoze hee laide siege vnto it, & burned the suburbs thereof with fire, and spoyled them.

62 Then they of Gaza made supplication vnto Jonathan, and he made peace with them, and tooke of the lonnes of the chiefe men for hostages, and sent them to Ierusalem, and went thorow the countrey vnto Damascus.

63 And when Jonathan heard that Demetrius Princes were come into Cades, which is in Galile, with a great hoste, purposing to drine him out of the countrey, 64 He came against them, and left Simon his brother in the countrey.

65 And Simon besieged Beth-sura, & fought against it a long season, and shut it vp.

66 So they desired to haue peace with him, which hee granted them, & afterward put them out from thence, and tooke the city, and set a garrison in it.

67 Then Jonathan with his hoste, came to the water of Genesar, and betimes in the morning came to the plaine of Asor.

68 And behold, the hostes of the strangers met him in the plaine, & had laid ambushments for him in the mountaines.

69 So that when they came against them, the ambushments rose out of their places and slayned them.

70 So that all that were of Jonathans side, fled: and there was not one of them left, except Gataathias the sonne of Absalomus, and Judas the sonne of Galphi the Captaines of the hoste.

71 Then Jonathan rent his clothes, and cast earth vpon his head, and prayed, 72 And turned againe to them to fight, and put them to flight, so that they fled away.

73 Now when his owne men that were fled, saw this, they turned againe vnto him, and helped him to follow after all vnto their tents at Cades, and there they camped.

74 So there were slaine of the strangers the same day about thre thousand men, and Jonathan turned againe to Ierusalem.

CHAP. XII.

1 Jonathan sendeth ambassadours to Rome, 2 and to the people of Sparta, to renew their couenant of friendship. 24 Jonathan purieth to flight the Princes of Demetrius. 40 Tryphon taketh Jonathan by deceit.

Jonathan now seeing that the time was meete for him, choise certaine men, and sent them vnto Rome, to stabiliti and renew the friendship with them.

2 He sent letters also vnto the Spartians and to other places, for the same purpose.

3 So they went vnto Rome, and entered into the Senate, and said, Jonathan the hie priest and the nation of the Iewes sent vs vnto you, for to renew friendshippe with you, and the bond of loue, as in times past.

4 So the Romanes gaue them free passports, that men should leade them home into the land of Iuda peaceably.

5 AND THIS is the copie of the letters that Jonathan wrote vnto the Spartians, 6 Jonathan the hie Priest with the Elders of the nation, and the priests, and the rest of the people of the Iewes, send greeting vnto the Spartians their bretheren.

7 Heretofore were letters sent vnto Dnias the hie Priest, from Arius, which then reigned among you, that you would be our bretheren, as the copie hereunder written sheweth.

8 And Dnias entreated the Ambassadour honourably, and receiued the letters: wherein there was mention made of the bond of loue and friendship.

9 But as for vs, we neede no such writings: for wee haue the holy bookes in our handes for comfort.

10 Neuertheless, we thought it good to send vnto you, for the renewing of the brotherhood and friendship, lest wee should bee strange vnto you: for it is long since the time that ye sent vnto vs.

11 Therefore we remember you at al seasons continually, and in the feasts and other dayes appointed, when we offer sacrifices and praies, as it is meet and conuenient to thinke vpon our bretheren.

12 And wee reioyce at your prosperous estate.

13 And though we haue bene emittred with great troubles and warres, so that the Kings round about vs haue fought against vs, 14 Yet would we not be grieuous vnto you, nor to echer of our confederates and friends in these warres.

15 For we haue had helpe from heauen, that hath succoured vs, and wee are deliuered from our enemies, and our enemies are subdued.

16 Yet haue we chosen Antimus the sonne of Antiochus, and Antipater the sonne of Jason, and sent them vnto the Romanes, for to renew the former friendship with them, and leaue.

17 Alce commannded them also to goe vnto you, and to salute you, and to deliuer you our letters concerning the renewing of our brotherhood.

18 And now ye shall doe vs a pleasure to giue vs an answer of these things.

19 ¶ And this was the copy of the letters, which Arius the king of Sparta sent vnto Dnias.

20 THE KING of the Spartians vnto Dnias the high Priest sendeth greeting.

21 It is found in writing that the Spartians and Jewes are brethren, and come out of the generation of Abraham.

22 And now for so much as this is come to our knowledge, ye shall doe well to write vnto vs of your prosperitie.

23 As for vs we haue written vnto you, that your cattell and goods are ours, and ours are yours: these things haue we commaunded to be shewed vnto you.

24 ¶ Now when Jonathan heard that Demetrius Princes were come to fight against him, with a greater hoste then afoze, 25 He went from Ierusalem, and met them in the land of Hamath: for hee gaue them not space to come into his owne countrey.

26 And he sent spies vnto their tents, which came againe and told him, that they were appointed to come vpon him in the night.

27 Wherefore, when the Sunne was gone downe, Jonathan commaunded his men to watch, and to bee in armes readie to fight all the night, and sent watch men round about the holte.

28 But when the aduersaries heard that Jonathan was readie with his men to the battell, they feared, and trembled in their hearts, and kindled fires in their tents, and fled away.

29 Nevertheless Jonathan and his company knew it not till the morning: for they saw the fires burning.

30 Then Jonathan followed vpon them, but he could not ouertake them: for they were gone ouer the flood Cleutherus.

31 So Jonathan turned to the Arabians, which were called Zabedet, and slew them, and tooke their spoile.

32 Hee proceeded further also, and came vnto Damascus, and went thorow all the countrey.

33 But Simon his brother went south, and came to Ascalon and to the next holdes, departing vnto Ioppe, and wanne it.

34 For he heard that they would deliuer the hold to them that tooke Demetrius part: wherefore he set a garrison there to keepe it.

35 ¶ After this came Jonathan home, and called the Elders of the people together, and deuised with them for to build vp the strong holds in Iudea, 36 And to make the walles of Ierusalem higher, and to make a great mount betwixt the castle and the citie, for to separate it from the citie, that it might be alone, and that men should neither buy, nor sell in it.

37 So they came together to build vp the citie: for part of the wall vpon the brooke of the East side was fallen downe, and they repaired it, and called it Capphenatha.

38 Simon also set vp Aida in Sephela, and made it strong with gates and barres.

39 ¶ In the meane time Tryphon purposed to reigne in Asia, and so hee was crowned when hee had slaine the king Antiochus.

40 But he was afraid that Jonathan would not suffer him, but fight against him: wherefore he went about to take Jonathan, & to kill him: so he departed and came vnto Bethsan.

41 Then went Jonathan forth against him to the battell with foure thousand cholen men, and came vnto Bethsan.

42 But when Tryphon saw that Jonathan came with so great an hoste, hee durst not lay hand vpon him,

43 But receiued him honourably, and commaunded him vnto all his friends, and gaue him rewards, and commaunded his men of warre to be as obedient vnto him, as to himselfe, 44 And said vnto Jonathan, Why hast thou caused this people to take such traueile, seeing there is no warre betwene vs?

45 Therefore now send them home againe, and chuse certaine men to waite vpon thee, and come thou with mee to Ptolemais: for I will giue it thee, with the other strong holdes, and the other garisons, & all them that haue the charge of the common affaires: so will I returne, and depart: for this is the cause of my coming.

46 Jonathan beleued him, and did as hee sayd, and sent away his hoste, which went into the land of Iuda, 47 And remained but three thousand with him, whereof he sent two thousand into Galile, and one thousand went with himselfe.

48 Now alsoone as Jonathan entred into Ptolemais, they of Ptolemais shut the gates, andooke him, and slewe all them with the sword, that came in with him.

49 Then sent Tryphon an hoste of footmen and horsemen into Galile, and into the great plaine, to destroy all Jonathans company.

50 But when they knew that Jonathan was taken, and slaine, and those that were with him, they encouraged one another, and came forth against them ready to the battell.

51 But when they which folowed vpon them, sawe that it was a matter of life, they turned backe againe.

52 By this meanes al they came into the land of Iuda peaceably, and bewailed Jonathan, and them that were with him, and feared greatly, and all Israel made great lamentation.

53 For al the heathen that were round about them, sought to destroy them.

54 For they sayd, Now haue they no captaine, nor any man to help them: therefore let vs now fight against them, and root out their memoerie from among men.

CHAP. XIII.

1 After Jonathan was taken, Simon is chosen captaine. 17 Tryphon taking his children and money for the redemption of Jonathan, killeth him and his children. 31 Tryphon killeth Antiochus, and possesseth the realme. 36 Demetrius taketh truce with Simon. 43 Simon winneth Gaza. 50 Hee possesseth the towre of Zion. 52 He maketh his sonne Iohn captaine.

Now when Simon heard that Tryphon gathered a great hoste to come into the land of Iuda, and to destroy it,

2 And sawe that the people was in great trembling and feare, hee came vnto Ierusalem, and gathered the people together,

3 And gaue them exhortation, saying, Ye know know what great things I, and my brethren, and my fathers house haue done for the Law, and the Sanctuary, and the battels, and troubles that we haue scene.

4 By reason whereof all my brethren are Alike for Israels sake, and I am left alone.

5 Now therefore God forbid, that I should spare mine owne life in any time of trouble: for I am not better then my brethren.

6 But I will avenge my nation, and the Sanctuary, and our wives and our children: for all the heathen are gathered together to destroy vs of very malice.

7 In hearing these words the hearts of the people were kindled,

8 So that they cryed with a loud voyce, saying, Thou shalt be our captaine in stead of Iudas and Jonathans thy brethren.

9 Fight thou our battels, and whatsoeuer thou commandest vs, we will doe it.

10 So hee gathered all the men of warre, making halt to finish the walles of Ierusalem, and fortified it round about.

11 Then sent hee Jonathans the sonne of Absalomus with a great hoste vnto Ioppe, which dioune them out that were therein, and remained there himselfe.

12 Tryphon also remooued from Ptolemas with a great armie, to come into the land of Iuda, and Jonathans was with him as prisoner.

13 And Simon pitched his tents at Adidus vpon the open plaine.

14 But when Tryphon knew that Simon stood by in stead of his brother Jonathan, and that he would fight against him, he sent messengers vnto him, saying,

15 Whereas we haue kept Jonathan thy brother, it is for money that he is owing in the kings account concerning the businesse that he had in hand.

16 Wherefore send now an hundred talents of siluer, and his two sonnes for hostages, that when he is letten forth hee will not turne from vs, and we will send him againe.

17 Neuertheless Simon knew that hee dissembled in his words, yet commaunded hee the money and children to be deliuered vnto him, least he should be in greater hatred of the people of Israel:

18 Who might haue sayd, Because hee sent him not the money and the children, therefore is Jonathan dead.

19 So hee sent the children and an hundred talents: but hee dissembled, and would not let Jonathan goe.

20 Afterward came Tryphon into the land to destroy it, and went round about by the way, that leadeth vnto Adoja: but wheresoener they went, thither went Simon and his hoste.

21 Now they that were in the castle sent messengers vnto Tryphon, that hee should make haste to come by the wilderness, and to send them vittalles.

22 So Tryphon made ready all his horsemen: but the same night fell a very great snow, so that he came not, because of the snow: but he removed & went into the countrey of Galaad.

23 And when he came nere to Balaama, he slew Jonathan, and he was buried there.

24 So Tryphon returned, and went into his owne land.

25 Then sent Simon to take the bones of Jonathan his brother, and they buried him in Modin his fathers citie.

26 And all Israel bewailed him with great lamentation, and mourned for him very long.

27 And Simon made vpon the sepulchre of his father and his brethren, a building high to looke vnto of hewen stone behind and before,

28 And set vpon seuen pillars vpon it, one against another, for his father, his mother, and foure brethren, 29 And set great pillars round about them, and set armes vpon the pillars for a perpetuall memorie, and carued ships beside the armes, that they might see scene of men sayling in the Sea.

30 This sepulchre which he made at Modin, standeth yet vnto this day.

31 Now as Tryphon went south with the pong King Antiochus, he slew him traittiously, 32 And reigned in his steade, and crowned himselfe King of Asia, & brought a great plague vpon the land.

33 Simon also built vpon the castles of Iudea, and compassed them about with high towres, and great walles, euen with towres, and gates, and battes, and layd vpon vittalles in the strong holds.

34 Moreover Simon chose certaine men and sent them to King Demetrius, that hee would discharge the land: for all Tryphons doings were robberies.

35 Whereupon Demetrius the king answered him and wrote vnto him after this manner.

36 DEMETRIUS the King vnto Simon the hie Priest, and the friend of Kings, and to the Elders, and the nation of the Iewes, sendeth greeting.

37 The golden crowne, and the precious stone that ye sent vnto vs, haue we received, and are ready to make a steadfast peace with you, and to write vnto the officers to release you of the things wherein wee made you free.

38 So the things that we haue granted you, shall be stable: the strong holds which ye haue builded, shall be your owne.

39 Also we forgie the ouersights, and faultes committed vnto this day: and the crowne take that ye ought vs, and whereas was any other tribute in Ierusalem, it shall bee now no tribute.

40 And they that are meete among you to be written with our men, let them be written vpon, that there may be peace betwene vs.

41 Thus the poke of the heathen was taken from Israel in the hundred and senentie yeere.

42 And the people of Israel began to write in their letters and publique instruments, IN THE FIRST yeere of Simon, the hie and chiefe Priest, gouernour and Prince of the Iewes.

43 In those dayes Simon camped against Gaza, and belleged it round about, where hee set vpon an engine of warre, and approched nere the citie, and beat a tower, and tooke it.

44 So they that were in the engine, leapt into the citie, and there was great trouble in the citie,

45 In so much that the people of the citie reat their clothes and climed by vpon the walles with 28 In ¶ Saramel in the great congregation of the Priests, and of the people, and of the gouernours of the nation, and of the elders of the countrey, we would signifie vnto you, that many battels haue bene fought in our countrey.

29 Wherein Simon the sonne of Mattathias (come of the children of Iarui) and his brethren put themselves in danger, and resisted the enemies of their nation, that their Sanctuarie, and Law might be maintained, and did their nation great honour.

30 For Jonathan gathered his nation together, and became their hie Priest, and is layde with his people.

31 After that would their enemies haue inuaded their countrey, and destroyed their land, and lay their hands on their Sanctuarie.

32 Then Simon resisted them, and fought for his nation, & spent much of his owne substance, and armed the valiant men of his nation, and gaue them wages.

33 He fortified also the cities of Iudea, and Berhura that lieth vpon the borders of Iudea, (where the ordinance of their enemies lay sometime) and set there a garrison of the Iewes.

34 And he fortified Toppe, which lieth vpon the sea, and ¶ Gazara that bordereth vpon Azotus (where the enemies dwelt afore) and there he placed Iewes, & furnished them with things necessary for the reparation thereof.

35 Howe when the people saw the faithfulness of Simon, and to what glory hee thought to bring his nation vnto, they made him their gouernour, and the chiefe Priest, because he had done all these things, and for the vprightnesse, and fidelitie that hee had kept to his nation, and that sought by all meanes to exalt his people.

36 For in his time they prospered wel by him, so that the heathen were taken out of their countrey, and they also which were in the citie of Dauid at Ierusalem, where they had made them a castle, out of the which they went, and defiled all things that were about the Sanctuarie, and did great hurt vnto Religion.

37 And he set Iewes in it, and fortified it, for the assurance of the land and citie, and raised by the walles of Ierusalem.

38 And King Demetrius confirmed him in his hie Priesthood for these causes, 39 And made him one of his friends, and gaue him great honour.

40 For it was reported that the Romanes called the Iewes their friends and confederates, and that they honourably receiued Simons ambassadours, 41 And that the Iewes and Priests consented that Simon should be their prince, and high Priest perpetually, till God raised by the true Prophet,

42 And that he should be their captaine and haue the charge of the Sanctuarie, and so set men ouer the workes, and ouer the Countrey, and ouer the weapons, and ouer the forrestes, and that should make provision for the holy things,

43 And that he should be obeyed of euery man, and that all the writings in the countrey should be made in his name, and that he should be clothed in purple, and weare gold,

44 And that it should not be lawfull for any of the people, or Priests to breake any of these things, or to withstand his words, or to call any congregation in the countrey without him, or be clothed in purple, or weare a collar of golde :

45 And if any did contrary to these things, or brake any of them, hee should be punished.

46 So it pleased all the people to agree that it should be done to Simon according vnto these words.

47 Simon also accepted it, and was content to be the hie Priest, and the captaine, and the Prince of the Iewes and of the Priests, and to be the chiefe of all.

48 And they commanded to set vp this writing in tables of brasse, and to fasten it to the wall that compassed the Sanctuarie in an open place, 49 And that a copy of the same should be layd vp in the treasure, that Simon and his sonnes might haue it.

C H A P. XV.

1 Antiochus maketh a couenant of friendship with Simon. 11 Tryphon is persued. 15 The Romanes write letters vnto Kings and nations in the defence of the Iewes. 27 Antiochus refusing the helpe that Simon sent him, breaketh his couenant.

Demetrius King Antiochus the sonne of Demetrius sent letters from the yles of the sea, vnto Simon the priest, and prince of the Iewes, and to all the nation,

2 Containing these words, ANTIOCHVS the King vnto Simon the great Priest, and to the nation of the Iewes, lendeth greeting.

3 For so much as certaine pestilent men haue vsurped the kingdome of our fathers; I am purposed to challenge the realme againe, and to restore it to the olde estate: wherefore I haue gathered a great holte, and prepared myself of warre,

4 That I may goe through the countrey, and be auenged of them, which haue destroyed our countrey, and wasted many cities in the realme.

5 Now therefore I do confirme vnto thee all the liberties, whereof all the Kings my progenitors haue discharged thee, and all the payments, whereof they haue released thee.

6 And I gae thee leaue to colne money of thine owne itampe within thy countrey,

7 And that Ierusalem and the Sanctuarie be free, and that all the weapons that thou hast prepared, and the forrestes, which thou hast builded, and keepest in thine handes, shall bee thine.

8 And all that is due vnto the King, and all that shall be due vnto the King, I forgive thee, from this time forth for evermore.

9 And when we haue obtained our kingdome, we wil giue thee and thy nation, and the temple great honour, so that your honoz shall be knowne throughout the world.

10 ¶ In the hundredth, seventy & foure yeere, went Antiochus into his fathers land, and all the bandes came together vnto him, so that few were left with Tryphon.

11 So the King Antiochus pursued him, but he fled and came to Doza, which lieth by the sea side.

12 For hee saw that troubles were toward him,

Or, Gaza, or

him, and that the armie had forsaken him.

13 Then camped Antiochus against Doza with an hundred and twenty thousand fighting men, and eight thousand horsemen.

14 So he compassed the citie about, and the ships came by the sea. Thus they pressed the city by lande, and by sea, insomuch that they suffered no man to go in nor out.

15 In the meane season came Numenius, and his company from Rome, hauing letters writtten vnto the kings and countreies, wherem were contained these words, 16 LVCIVS the Consul of Rome vnto king Ptolemeus sendeth greeting.

17 The ambassadours of the Jewes are come vnto vs as our friends and confederates from Simon the high Priest, and from the people of the Jewes, to renew friendship, and the bond of loue, 18 Who haue brought a shield of golde weighing a thousand pound.

19 Wherefore we thought it good to write vnto the kings and countreies, that they should not go about to hurt them, nor to fight against them, nor their cities, nor their countrey, neither to maintaine their enemies against them.

20 And we were content to receiue of them the shield.

21 If therefore there be any pestilent felowes fled from their countrey vnto you, deliuer them vnto Simon the high Priest, that hee may punish them according to their owne law.

22 The same things were writtten to Demetrius the King, and to Attalus, and to Arathes, and to Arfaces, 23 And to all the countreys, as Samplames, and to them of Sparta, and to Delus, and to Rhodus, and to Sycon, and to Carta, and to Samas, and to Panphylia, and to Lycia, and to Halcarnassus, and to Rhodus, and to Phaleses, and to Coos, and to Siden, and to Coryna, and to Gindon, and to Cyprius, and to Cyene.

24 And they sent a copy of them to Simon the high Priest.

25 So Antiochus the king camped against Doza the second time euer ready to take it, and made diuers engines of warre, and kept Tryphon in, that he could neither go in nor out.

26 Then Simon sent him two thousand chosen men to help him with siluer and golde, and much furniture.

27 Neuertheless, he would not receiue them, but brake all the Couenant, which he had made with him afore, and withpewe himselfe from him.

28 And sent vnto him Athenobius one of his friends, to commune with him, saying, We withhold Ioppe, and Gazara, with the castle that is at Jerusalem, the city of my Realme.

29 Whose borders ye haue destroyed & done great hurt in the land, and haue the gouernment of many places of my kingdom.

30 Wherefore now deliue the cities, which ye haue taken, with the tributes of the places, that ye haue rule ouer without the borders of Iudea, 31 Or else giue me for them five hundred talents of siluer, and for the harme that ye haue done, and for the tributes of the places other five hundred talents: if not, we will come, and fight against you.

32 So Athenobius the kings friende came to Jerusalem, and when he saw the honour of Simon, and the cupbord of gold and siluer plate, and so great preparation, he was astonished, and tolde him the kings message.

33 Then answered Simon, and sayde vnto him, We haue neither taken other mens lands, nor withholden that which appertaineth to others: but our fathers heritage, which our enemies had vnrightrously in possession a certaine time.

34 But when we had occasion, we recovered the inheritance of our fathers.

35 And whereas thou requirest Ioppe and Gazara, they did great harme to our people, and thow our countrey, yet will wee giue an hundred talents for them. But Athenobius answered him not one word, 36 But turned againe angry vnto the king, and told him all these wordes, & the dignitie of Simon, with all that he had seene: and the king was very angry.

37 In the meane time fled Tryphon by ship vnto Ditholias.

38 Then the king made Cendebeus captaine of the sea coast, and gaue him bandes of footmen and horsemen, 39 And commanded him to remooue the hoste toward Iudea, and to bulde by Cedion, and to fortifie the gates, and to warre against the people: but the King pursued Tryphon.

40 So Cendebeus came vnto Jamnia, and began to bere the people, and to invade Iudea, and to take the people prisoners, & to slay them.

41 And he built by Cedion, where he set horsemen and garisons, that they might make out-rides by the wayes of Iudea, as the King had commanded him.

CHAP. XVI.

1 Cendebeus the captaine of Antiochus host is put to flight by the sonnes of Simon. 11 Ptolemeus the sonne of Abubus killeth Simon & his two sonnes at a banquet. 25 Iohn killeth them that lie in wait for his life.

Then came Iohn by from Gazara, & told Simon his father, what Cendebeus had done.

Ioseph, Ant 13. chap. 12

2 So Simon called two of his eldest sonnes, Judas and Iohn, and said vnto them, I and my brethren, and my fathers house, haue euer from our youth vnto this day fought against the enemies of Israel, and the matters haue had good successe vnder our hands, and we haue deliuered Israel oftentimes.

3 But I am now olde, and yee by Gods mercy are of a sufficient age: bee ye therefore in stead of me, and my brother, & goe forth and fight for our nation, and the helpe of heauen be with you.

4 So he chose twenty thousand fighting men of the countrey with the horsemen, which went forth against Cendebeus, and rested at Modin.

5 In the morning they arose, and went into the plaine field: and behold, a mighty great hoste came against them both of footemen, and horsemen: but there was a river between them.

6 And Iohn ranged his armie ouer against him, and when hee sawe that the people was afraid to goe ouer the river, hee went ouer first himselfe, and the men seeing him, passed thowoe after him.

7 Then he deuicid his men, and set the horsemen in the mids of the footmen.

8 For their enemies horsemen were very many: but when they blew the trumpets Cendebeus fled with his host, whereof many were slaine, and the remnant gate them to the fortresse.

9 Then was Judas Iohus brother wounded: but John followed after them, till hee came to Gedion, which Cendebeus had built.

10 Also they fled vnto the towres, that were in the fields of Azotus and those did Iohn burne with fire: thus were there slaine two thousande men of them: so he returned peacably into the land of Iuda.

11 Now in the fieldes of Jericho was Ptolemus the sonne of Abubus made captaine, and he had abundance of siluer and gold.

12 For hee had married the daughter of the he Pricest.

13 Therefore hee wared proud in his minde, and thought to rule the lande, & thought to slay Simon and his sonnes by deceit.

14 Now as Simon went about thoroze the cities of the countrey, and studied carefully for them, hee came downe to Jericho with Dactathias, and Judas his sonnes in the hundredth, seuentie and seuen yeere, in the eleuenth moneth, which is the moneth Sabat.

15 Then the sonne of Abubus receiued them by treaion into a litle hold, called Dochns, which he had built, where he made the a great bancket, and had his men there.

16 So when Simon & his sonnes had made good chere, Ptolemus stood by with his men and tooke their weapons, and entred in to Simon in the bancket house, and slewe him with his two sonnes and certain of his seruants.

17 What they hee committed a great villenie, and recompented euil for good.

18 Then wrote Ptolemus these things and sent to the king, that he might send him an holte to helpe him, and to would deliuer him the countrey with the cities.

19 He sent other men also vnto Gazara, to take Iohn, & sent letters vnto the captaines to come to him, and he would giue them siluer, and gold and rewards.

20 And to Jerusalem he sent other to take it, and the mountaine of the Temple.

21 But one ran before, and tolde Iohn in Gazara, that his father, & his brother were slaine, and that Ptolemus had sent to slay him.

22 When hee heard this, hee was sore affronted, and layd hands on them that were come to slay him, and slew them: for hee knew that they went about to kill him.

23 Concerning other things of Iohn, both of his warres, and of his noble acts (wherein he behauid himselfe manfully) of y building of wals which he made, and other of his deeds, 24 Beholde, they are written in the Chronicles of his Pricesthood, from the time that he was made high Pricest after his father.

CHAP. I.

1 An Epistle of the Iewes that dwell at Ierusalem, sent vnto them that dwell in Egypt, wherein they exhort them to giue thanks for the death of Antiochus.

19 Of the fire that was hid in the pitte. 24 The prayer of Neermas.

He brethren the Iewes which be at Ierusalem, and they that are in the countrey of Iudea, vnto the brethren the Iewes that are thorozeout Egypt, send salutation, and prosperitie.

2 God be gracious vnto you, and remember his couenant made with Abraham, and Isaac, and Jacob his faithfull seruants,

3 And giue you all an heart to worship him, and to doe his will with a whole heart and with a willing minde,

4 And open your hearts in his Lawe & commandements, and send you peace,

5 And heare your prayers, and be reconciled with you, & neuer forsake you in time of trouble.

6 Thus now we pray here for you.

7 When Demetrius reigned in the hundredth threescore and ninth yeer, we Iewes wrote vnto vs in the trouble and violence that came vnto vs in those yeeres, after that Jason and his company departed out of the holy lande and kingdom.

8 And burnt the porch, & shed innocent blood. Then wee prayed vnto the Lord, & were heard: we offered sacrifices and fine floure, and lighted the lampes, and set forth the bread.

9 Nowe therefore keepe yee the dayes of the feast of the tabernacles in the moneth Chassen.

10 In the hundredth, fourescore and eght yeere, the people that was at Ierusalem, & in Iudea, and the counsell, and Judas, vnto Aristobolus king Ptolemus matter, which is of the stocke of the anointed Pricests, and to the Iewes that are in Egypt, sendeth greeting and health.

11 Inasmuch as God hath deliuered vs from great perils, we thanke him highly, as though we had ouercome the King.

12 For he brought them into Persia by heaps that fought against the holy citie.

13 For albeit the captaine and the army that was with him, seemed inuincible, yet they were slaine in the Temple of Panea, by the deceite of Paneas pricests.

14 For Antiochus as though he would dwell with her, came thither, hee and his friends with him to receiue money vnder the title of a dowry.

15 But when the pricests of Panea had laid it forth, and he was entred with a small company within the temple, they shut the temple, when Antiochus was come in.

16 And by opening a priuy doore of the vant, they cast stones, as it were thunder, vpon the captaine and his, and hauing bruiled them in pieces, they cut off their heads, and threw them to those that were without.

17 God be blessed in all things, which hath deliuered by the wicked.

18 Whereas wee are now purposed to keepe the the purification of the temple upon the five and twenty day of the moneth Challeu, we thought it necessary to certifye you thereof, that yee also might keepe the feast of the Tabernacles, and of the fire which was given vs when Jeremias offered sacrifice, after that he had built the Temple, and the altar.

Leuit. 6. 13. and 10. 2. and 16. 12.

19 For when as our fathers were led away into Babilonia, the Priestes, which sought the honour of God, tooke the fire of the altar priuely, and hid it in a hollow pit, which was dye in the bottoome, and therein they kept it, so that the place was vnknowen vnto euery man.

20 Now after many yeeres when it pleased God that Jeremias should be sent from the king of Babilonia, hee sent of the posteritie of those Priestes, which had hid it, to fetch the fire, and as they told vs, they found no fire, but thicke water.

21 Then commaunded hee them to draw it vp, and to bring it: and when the things appertaining to the sacrifices were brought, Jeremias commaunded the Priestes to sprinkle the wood, and the things layd thereupon with water.

22 When this was done, and the time came that the Sunne shone, which afore was hid in the cloud, there was a great fire kindled, so that euery man marvelled.

23 Now the Priestes, and all prayed, while the sacrifice was consuming: Jonathan began, and the other answered thereunto.

24 And the prayer of Jeremias was after this manner, O Lord, Lord God maker of all things, which art fearefull & strong, and righteous, and mercifull, and the only and gracious King,

25 Onely liberall, onely iust and Almightye and euerlasting, thou that deliuerest Israel fro al trouble, and hast chosen the fathers, and sanctified them, 26 Receiue the sacrifice for thy whole people of Israel, and preserve thine owne portion, and sanctifie it.

27 Gather those together, that are scattered from vs: deliuer the that serue among the heathen: look vpon them that are despised, and abhorred, that the heathen may know that thou art our God.

28 Punish them that oppresse vs, and with pride doe vs wrong.

Deut. 30. 5.

29 Plant thy people againe in thine holie place, as Moyses hath spoken.

30 And the Priestes sang Psalmes therunto.

31 Now when the sacrifice was consumed, Jeremias commaunded the great stones to bee sprinkled with the residue of the water.

32 Which when it was done, there was kindled a flame, which was consumed by the light, that shined from the altar.

33 So when this matter was knowne, it was told the king of Babilonia, that in the place where the Priestes, which were led away, had hid fire, there appeared water, wherewith Jeremias and his companie had purified the sacrifices.

1 That is to say, a thing, it is also called Nepbi, or Nephbar, which is a cleansing.

34 The king tried out the thing, and closed the place about, and made it holy.

35 And to them that the king fauoured, hee gaue and bestowed many giftes.

36 And Jeremias called y<sup>e</sup> same place Eph-thar, which is to say, purification: but many men call it Nephthar.

CHAP. III.

4 How Jeremie hid the Tabernacle, the Arke and the Altar in the hill. 23 Of the five booke of Iason contained in one.

It is found also in the writings of Jeremias the Prophet, that hee commaunded them which were caried away, to take fire, as was declared, and as the Prophet commaunded them that were led into captiuitie,

2 *Giuing them a law, that they should not forget the commaundements of the Lord, & that they should not erre in their minds, when they saw images of gold and siluer, with their ornaments.

3 These and such other things commaunded hee them, and exhorted them that they should not let the Law goe out of their hearts.

4 It is written also, how the Prophet, by an oracle that he had, charged them to take the Tabernacle and the Arke, and follow him: and when hee came vp into the mountaine where Moyses went by, * and saue the heritage of God,

Deut. 34. 10.

5 Jeremias went forth, and found an hollow caue, wherein he layd the Tabernacle, and the Arke, and the altar of incense, and so stopped the doore.

6 And there came certaine of those that followed him, to marke the place: but they could not find it.

7 Which when Jeremias perceived, hee reproued them, saying, As for that place, it shall be vnknowen, vntill the tyme that God gather his people together againe, and that mercie be shewed.

8 Then shall the Lord shew them these things, and the mathe of the Lord shall appeare and the cloud also, as it was shewed vnder Moyses, and as * when Salomon desired, that the place might be honourably sanctified.

9 For it is manifest that hee, being a wise man, offered the * sacrifice of dedication, and consecration of the Temple.

10 * And as when Moyses prayed vnto the Lord, the fire came downe from heauen, and consumed the sacrifice: so when Salomon prayed, * the fire came downe from heauen, and consumed the burnt offering.

11 And Moyses said, because the same offering was not eaten, therefore it is consumed.

12 So Salomon kept those eighthe dayes.

13 These things also are declared in the writings and registers of Jeremias, and how hee made a librarie, and how he gathered the acts of the Kings, and the Prophets, and the acts of Dauid, and the epistles of the Kinges concerning the holy giftes.

14 Euen so Judas also gathered all things that came to passe by the warres that were among vs, which things we haue.

15 Wherefore if yee haue need thereof, send some to fetch them vnto you.

16 Whereas wee then are about to celebrate the purification, we haue written vnto you, and ye shall doe well, if yee keepe the same dayes.

17 Wee haue also that the God which deliuered all his people, and gaue an heritage to them all and the kingdom, and the Priesthood, and the Sanctuary, 18 * As he promised in the Law, will shortly have mercy vpon vs, and gather vs together from vnder the heauen into his holy place: for hee hath saued vs from great perils, and hath cleansed the place.

19 As concerning Judas Maccabeus & his brethren, the purification of the great Temple, and the dedication of the altar.

20 And the warres against Antiochus Epi-phanes, and Cupator his sonne,

21 And the manifest signes that came from heauen vnto those, which inanfully stood for the Jewes religion: (for though they were but few, yet they ran thorow whole countreyes, and pursued the barbarous armies,

22 And repayed the Temple that was renouined thorowout all the world, and deliuered the cities, and established the Lawes, that were like to be abolished, because the Lord was mercifull vnto them with all lenitie.)

23 Wee will assay to abridge in one volume those things that Balon the Cyrenian hath declared in five bookes.

24 For considering the wonderfull number, and the difficultie that they haue that would be occupied in the rehearfall of storied, because of the diuersitie of the matters,

25 Wee haue endeouored, that they that would read, might haue pleasure, and that they which are studious, might easily keep them in memo-rie, and that wholcner read them, might haue profit.

26 Therefore to vs that haue taken in hand this great labour, it was no easie thing to make this abridgement, but required both sweate and watching.

27 Like as he that maketh a feast, & seeketh other mens comoditie, hath no small labour:
 so wee also for many mens sakes are very well content to vndertake this great labour.

28 Learning to the anthoz the exact diligence of every particular, wee will labour to goe forward according to the prescript order of an abridgement.

29 For as hee that will build a new house, must provide for the whole building, but he that ferreteth out the plat, or goeth about to paint it, seeketh but onely what is comely for the decking thereof:

30 Euen so I thinke for vs, that it appertaineth to the first writer of a storie to enter deepely into it, and to make mention of all things, and to be curious in every part:

31 But it is permitted to him that will shorten it, to ble few words, & to auoid those things that are curious therein.

32 Here then will we begin the storie, adding thus much to our former wordes, that it is but a foolish thing to abound in wordes before the storie, and to be short in the storie.

CHAP. III.

2 Of the honor done to the Temple by the kings of the Gentiles. 6 Simon uttereth what treasure is in the Temple. 7 Heliodorus is sent to take them away.

26 He is stricken of God, and healed at the prayer of Onias.

WHat time as the holy city was inhabited with all peace, and when the lawes were very well kept, because of the godlines of Onias

the high Priest, and hatred of wickednesse, 2 It came to passe that euen the Kings did honour the place, and garnished the Temple with great gifts.

3 In to much that Seleucus king of Asia of his own rents, bare all the coits belonging to the seruice of the sacrifices.

4 But one Simon of the tribe of Benjamin being appointed ruler of the Temple, contemded with the hie Priest concerning the iniquitie committed in the cite.

|| Or, the state
 & provision.

5 And when he could not ouercome Onias, hee gave him to Apollonius the sonne of Thraseas, which then was gouernour of Coelospria, and Idhenice,

6 And told him that the treasure in Jerusalem was full of innumerable money, which did not belong to the prouision of the sacrifices, and that it were possible that these thinges might come into the kings hands.

7 Now when Apollonius came to the king, & had shewed him of the money, as it was told him, the king chose out Heliodorus his treasurer, and sent him with a commaundment, to bring him the foresayd money.

8 Immediately Heliodorus tooke his iourney as though he would visite the cities of Coelospria and Idhenice, but in effect to fulfill the kings purpose.

9 So when hee came to Jerusalem, & was courteously received of the hie Priest into the cite, hee declared what was determined concerning the money, and shewed the cause of his comming, and asked if these thinges were so indeed.

10 Then the hie Priest told him that there were such thinges layed vp by the widowes & fatherlesse,

11 And that a certaine of it belonged vnto Hircanus the sonne of Tobias a noble man, and not as that wicked Simon had reported, and that in all, there were but foure hundredeth talents of silver, and two hundredeth of gold,

12 And that it were altogether impossible to do this wrong to them that had committed it of trust to the holinesse of the place and Temple, which is honoured through the whole world for holinesse and integrity.

13 But Heliodorus because of the kings commandement given him, said that in any wise it must be brought into the kings treasure.

14 So he appointed a day, & went in to take order for these thinges: then there was no small griefe throughout the whole cite.

15 For the Priests sel downe before the altar in the Priests garments, & called vnto heauen vpon him which had made a Law concerning thinges given to be kept, that they should be safely preserved for such as had committed them to be kept.

16 Then they that looked the hie Priest in the face, were wounded in their heart: for his countenance, and the changing of his colour declared the sorrow of his minde.

17 The man was so wrapped in feare and trembling of the body, that it was manifest to them that looked vpon him, what sorrow he had in his heart.

18 Others also came out of their houses by heapes vnto the common prayer, because the place was like to come vnto contempt.

19 And the women, girt with sackcloth vnder their bzels, filled the streets, and the virgins that were kept in, ranne some to the gates, and some to the wallles, and others looked our of the windowes.

20 And all held vp their hands toward heauen, and made prayer.

21 It was a lamentable thing to see the multitude that fell downe of all sorts, and the expectation of the hie Priest being in such anguiſh.

22 Therfore they called vpon the Almightye Lord, that he would keepe safe & sure the things, which were layed by for thoe that had deliuered them.

23 Neuerthelesse, the thing that Heliodorus was determined to doe, that did he performe.

24 And as hee and his souldiers were now there present by the treasure, he that is the Lord of the spirits, and of all power, shewed a great vision, so that all they which presumed to come with him, were astonish'd at the power of God, and fell into feare and trembling.

25 For there appeared vnto them an hoise with a terrible man sitting vpon him, most richly haberd, and he ran fiercely and smote at Heliodorus with his sofeete, and it seemed that he that sat vpon the hoise, had harness of gold.

26 Moreover, there appeared two yong men, notable in strength, excellent in beautie, and comely in apparel, which stood by him on either side, and scourged him continually, and gaue him many sofe stripes.

27 And Heliodorus fell suddenly vnto the ground, and was covered with great darknesse: but they that were with him,ooke him vp, and put him in a litter.

28 Thus he that came with so great compaignie, and many souldiers into the said treasure, was hozne out: for hee could not helpe himselſe with his weapons.

29 So they did know the power of God manifestly, but hee was ambe by the power of God, and lay destitute of all hope and health.

30 And they praised the Lord that had honoured his owne place: for the Temple which a litle afore was full of feare and trouble, when the Almightye Lord appeared, was filled with ioy and gladnesse.

31 Then straightway certaine of Heliodorus friends, prayed Dnias, that hee would call vpon the most High to grant him his life, which lay ready to giue by the ghost.

32 So the high Priest, considering that the King might suspect that the Jewes had done Heliodorus some euill, he offered a sacrifice for the health of the man.

33 Now when the high Priest had made his prayer, the same yong men in the same clothing appeared, and stood beside Heliodorus, saying, Giue Dnias the high Priest great thanks: for, for his sake hath the Lord granted thee thy life:

34 And seeing that thou hast bene scourged from heauen, declare vnto all men the mightie power of God: and when they had spoken these words, they appeared no more.

35 So Heliodorus offered vnto the Lord sacrifice, and made great bowes vnto him which had granted him his life and thanked Dnias, and went againe with his hoise to the king.

36 Then testified hee vnto euery man of the great workes of God that he had seene with his eyes.

37 And when the king asked Heliodorus, who were meet to be sent yet once againe to Ierusalem, he said, 38 If thou hast any enemy, or traitour, send him thither, & thou shalt receive him well scourged, if hee escape with his life: for in that place, no doubt, there is a special power of God.

39 For hee that dwilleth in heauen hath his eye on that place, and defendeth it, and bea-tereth and destroyeth them that come to hurt it.

40 This came to passe concerning Heliodorus, and the keeping of the treasure.

C H A P. IIII.

1 Simon reporteth euill of Onias. 7 Iason obtaineth the office of the hie Priest by corrupting the King, 27 and was by Menelaus d. frauded by like bribing. 34 Onias vs flame traitorously by Andronicus.

This Simon now, of whom wee spake afore, being a bewayer of the moncy, and of his owne natural countrey, reported euill of Dnias, as though he had mooued Heliodorus vnto this, and had bene the inuenter of the euill.

2 Thus was he bold to call him a traitour, that was so beneficiall to the city, and a defender of his nation, and so zealous of the Lawes.

3 But when his malice increased so far, that though one that belonged to Simon, murders were committed,

4 Dnias considering the danger of this contention, and that Apollonius, as hee that was the gouernour of Coelocypria and Phenice, did rage, and increased Simons malice,

5 Hee went to the King not as an accuser of the citizens, but as one that intended the common wealth both pynately and publikely.

6 For hee saw it was not possible, except the Kingooke order, to quiet the matters, and that Simon would not leane off his folly.

7 But after the death of Selencus, when Antiochus called Epiphanes,ooke the kingdome, Iason the brother of Dnias laboured by vnlawfull means to be high Priest.

8 For he came vnto the King, and promised him three hundredeth and threescore talents of silver, and of another rent fourescore talents.

9 Besides this he promised him an hundred and fiftie, if hee might haue licence to set by a place for exercise, and a place for the youth, and that they would name them of Ierusalem, Antiochians.

10 The which thing when the king had granted, and hee had gotten the superiority, hee began immediately to draw his kinsmen to the customes of the Gentiles, 11 And abolished the friendly priuiledges of the kings, that the Jewes had set by by Iohn the father of Eupolmus, which was sent ambassadour vnto Rome, to become friends and confederates: he put downe their lawes and polities, and brought by new statutes, and contrarie to the Law.

12 For hee presumed to build a place of exercise vnder the caſtle, and brought the chiefe yong men vnder his subiection, and made them weare hats.

||Or, that he would write the Antiochians that were at Ierusalem among them.

||Or, huskins, in token of wantonnesse as the Gentiles did.

a In working some trecherie or forcerie against him.

13 So there beganne a great desire to follow the maners of the Gentiles, and they tooke by the fashions of strange nations by the exceeding wickednesse of Jason, not the hie Priest, but the vngodly person.

14 So that the Priestes were now no more diligent about the seruice of the altar, but despised the Temple, and regarded not the sacrifices, but made haste to bee partakers of the wicked expences at the play, after the calling of the stone.

15 For they did not set by the honour of their fathers, but liked the gloiy of the Gentiles best of all.

16 By reason whereof great calamitie came vpon them: for they had them to bee their enemies and punishers, whose custome they followed to earnestly, and desired to be like them in all things.

17 For it is not a light thing to transgresse against the Lawes of God, but the time following shall declare these things.

18 Now when the games that were vsed every fife yeere, were played at Tyrus, the King being present, 19 This wicked Jason sent from Jerusalem men to looke vpon them, as though they had bene Antiochians, which brought thre hundredeth drachmes of siluer for a sacrifice to Hercules: about they that caried them, desired they might not be bestowed on the sacrifice, (because it was not comely) but to bee bestowed for other expences.

20 So hee that sent them, sent them for the sacrifice of Hercules: but because of those that brought them, they were given to the making of galleis.

21 Now Appollonius the sonne of Bennesheus was sent into Egypt because of the coronation of King Ptolemes Philometor: but when Antiochus perceived that he was entl affected to ward his affaires, he sought his own assurance, and departed from thence to Ioppe, and so came to Jerusalem.

22 Where hee was honourably receiued of Jason, and of the cite, and was brought in with torchlight, and with great shoutings, and so he went with his hoste vnto Ihenice.

23 Three yeere afterward Jason sent Benneslaus, the forsaide Simons brother, to beare the money vnto the King, and to bring to passe certaine necessarie affaires, whereof he had giuen him a memoriall.

24 But hee, being commended to the King, magnified him for the appearance of his power, and turned the Priesthood vnto himselfe: for he gaue thre hundredeth talents of siluer more then Jason.

25 So he gaue the Kings letters patents, albeit he had nothing in himselfe worthy of the hie Priesthood, but bare the stomacke of a cruell tyrant, and the wrath of a wilde beast.

26 Then Jason which had deceiued his owne brother, being deceiued by another, was compelled to flee into the countrey of the Ammonites.

27 So Benneslaus gaue the dominion; but as for the money that hee had promised vnto the king, he tooke none order for it, albeit Soltatus the ruler of the citie required it.

28 For vnto him appertained the gathering of the customes: wherefore they were both called before the King.

30 Whiles these things were in doing, the Charitians, and they of Gallor made insurrection, because they were giuen to the Kings concubine called Antiochis.

31 Then came the king in all haste to appeale the businesse, leauing Andronicus a man of authority to be his lieutenant.

32 Now Benneslaus, supposing that hee had gotten a convenient time, stole certaine vessels of gold out of the Temple, and gaue certaine of them to Andronicus: and some hee sold at Tyrus and in the citiees thereby.

33 Which when Dnias knew of a surtice, hee reprooued him, and withdrew himselfe into a Sanctuarie at Daphne by Antiochia.

34 Wherefore Benneslaus, taking Andronicus apart, prayed him to slay Dnias: so when hee came to Dnias, hee counseled him craftily, giuing him his right hand with an oath: (howbeit hee suspect him, and perswaded him to come out of the Sanctuarie) so hee slew him incontinently without any regard of rightousnesse.

35 For the which cause not onely the Jewes, but many other nations also were grieved, and tooke it heauily for the vnrighorous death of this man.

36 And when the King was come againe from the places about Cilicia, the Jewes that were in the citie, and certaine of the Greekes that abhorred the fact also, complained because Dnias was slaine without cause.

37 Therefore Antiochus was sorte in his mind, and he had compassion, and wept because of the modestie and great discretion of him that was dead.

38 Wherefore being kindled with anger, hee tooke away Andronicus garment of purple, and rent his clothes, and commanded him to be led thoroughout the citie, and in the same place where hee had committed the wickednesse against Dnias, hee was slaine as a murderer. Thus the Lord rewarded him his punishment, as hee had desired.

39 Now when Lysimachus had done many wicked deedes in the citie through the counsell of Benneslaus, and the bute was spreaed abroad, the multitude gathered them together against Lysimachus: for hee had cartted out now much vessel of gold.

40 And when the people arose, and were full of anger, Lysimachus aimed about thre thousand, and began to vse vnlawfull power, a certaine tyrant being their captaine, who was no lesse decayed in wit then in age.

41 But when they understood the purpose of Lysimachus, some gaue stones, some great clubs, and some cast handfulls of dust which lay by, vpon Lysimachus men, and those that innaded them.

42 Whereby many of them were wounded, some were slaine and all the other chased away: but the wicked Churchrobber himselfe, they killed besides the treasure.

43 For these causes an accusation was laide against against Menelaus.

44 And when the king came to Tyris, three men sent from the Senate pleaded the cause before him.

45 But Menelaus being now convicted, promised to Ptolemicus the son of Dositheus much money, if he would persuade the king.

46 So Ptolemicus went to the king into a court, whereas he was to cool himself, and turned the kings minde, 47 Inso much that hee discharged Menelaus from the accusation (notwithstanding hee was the cause of all mischiefe) and condemned those poore men to death, which if they had told their cause, yea, before the Scythians, they should haue been heard as innocent.

48 Thus were they soone punished vniustly, which followed vpon the matter for the citie, and for the people, and for the holy vessels.

49 Wherefore they of Tyris hated that wickednesse, and ministred all things liberally for their buriall.

50 And so through the couctousnesse of them that were in power, Menelaus remained in authority, increasng in malice, and declared himselfe a great traitor to the citizens.

CHAP. V.

2 Of the signes and tokens seen in Ierusalem. 6 Of the end and wickednes of Iason. 11 The pursuit of Antiochus against the Jewes. 15 The spoiling of the Temple. 27 Maccabius fleeth into the wilderness.

About the same time Antiochus vnderooke his second voyage into Egypt.

2 And then were there seene thozowout all the citie of Ierusalem fourty dayes long, horsemen running in the airc, with robes of Golde, and as bands of spearemen,

3 And as troups of horsemen set in aray, incounting and coursing one against another with shakng of shields and multitude of darts, and drawing of swords and shooting of arrows, and the glittering of the golden armour scene, and harnesse of all sorts.

4 Therefore euery man prayed, that those tokens might turne to good.

5 Nowe when there was gone forth a false rumour, as though Antiochus had bene dead, Iason tooke at the least a thousand men, and came suddenly vpon the city, and they that were vpon the walles, being put backe, and the citie at length taken,

6 Menelaus fled into the castle, but Iason slew his owne citizens without merite, not considering, that to haue the advantage against his kinfemen is greatest disadvantage, but thought that hee had gotten the victorie of his enemies, and not of his owne nation.

7 Yet hee gate not the superiority, but at the last reeined shame for the reward of his treason, and went againe like a bagabond into the countrey of the Ammonites.

8 Finally he had this end of his wicked conuersation, that he was accused before Areta the king of the Arabians, and fled from citie to city, being pursued of euery man, and dated as a forsaker of the Lawes, and was in abomination, as an enemy of his countrey and citizens, and was dnyen into Egypt.

9 Thus he that had chased many out of their owne countrey, perished as a banished man, after that hee was gone to the Lacedemonians, thinking there to haue gotten succour by reason of kinred.

10 And hee that had cast many out vnburied, was spozownt out himselfe, no man mourning for him, nor putting him in his graue: neither was hee partaker of his fathers sepulchre.

11 Now when these things that were done, were declared to the king, hee thought that Iudea would haue fallen from him: wherefore hee came with a furious minde out of Egypt, and tooke the citie by violence.

12 He commanded his men of warre also, that they should kill and not spare such as they met, and to slay such as went into their houses.

13 This was there a slaughter of yong men, and olde men, and a destruction of men and women and childzen, and virgins and infants were murdered:

14 So that within three dayes were slaine fourefscore thousand, and fourtie thousand taken prisoner, and there were as many sold as were slaine.

15 Yet was hee not content with this, but durst goe into the most holy Temple of all the world, hauing Menelaus that traitour to the Lawes, and to his owne countrey, to be his guide, 16 And with his wicked hands tooke the holy vessels, which other kings had giuen for the garnishing, gloiy, and honour of that place, and handled them with his wicked hands.

17 So haury in his minde was Antiochus, that he considered not that God was not a little wroth for the finnes of them that dwelt in the city, for the which such contempt came vpon that place.

18 For if they had not been wrapped in many finnes, hee, althosne as he had come, had suddenly been punished, and put backe from his presumption, as Heliodorus was, whom Seleucus the king sent to view the treasure.

19 But God hath not chosen the nation for the places sake, but the place for the nations sake.

20 And therefore is the place become partaker of the peoples trouble, but afterward shall it bee partaker of the benefits of the Lord, and as it is now forsaken in the wrath of the Almighty, so when the great Lord shall be reconciled, it shall be set vp in great worship againe.

21 So when Antiochus had taken eghteene hundred talents out of the Temple, hee gate him to Antiochia in all haste, thinking in his pride to make men saile vpon the drie lande, and to walke vpon the sea: such an high minde had hee.

22 But he left deputies to bere the people: at Ierusalem Phylip a Phrygian by birth, in manners more cruel then he that set him there:

23 And at Gazzin Andronicus, and with them Menelaus, which was more grieuous to the citizens then the other, and was despitfull against the Jewes his citizens.

24 Hee sent also Apollonius a cruell prince, with an army of two and twenty thousand, whom he commanded to slay those that were toward mans age, and to sell the women, and the yonger sort.

25 So when he came to Ierusalem, he fained peace, and kept him still untill the holy day of Sabbath; and then finding the Jewes keeping the feast, hee commanded his men to take their weapons.

26 And so hee slew all them that were gone forth to the shewe, and running thorow the citie with his men armed, hee murdered a great number.

27 But Judas Maccabens, being as it were the centur, fled into the wilderness, and lived there in the mountaines with his company among the beastes, and dwelling there, and eating grasse, lest they should be partakers of the filthinesse.

CHAP. VI.

1 The Jewes are compelled to leave the Law of God. 4 The Temple is defiled. 10 The women cruelly punished. 28 The grievous paine of Eleazarus.

Or, Antiochia.

NOT long after this, sent the King an old man Noris Athenz, for to compel the Jewes to transgresse the lawes of the fathers, and not to be governed by the Law of God,

2 And to defile the Temple that was at Jerusalem, and to call it the Temple of Iupiter Olympius, & that of Sarcin, according as they did that dwelt at that place, Jupiter that keepeth hospitality.

3 This wicked government was sore and grievous unto the people.

4 For the temple was full of dissolution, and gluttony of the Gentiles, which dallied with harlots, and had to doe with women within the circuit of the holy places, and brought in such things as were not lawfull.

5 The altar also was full of such things, as were abominable and forbidden by the Law.

6 Neither was it lawfull to keepe the Sabbaths, nor to obsecrate their ancient feastes, nor plainly to confesse himselfe to be a Jew.

7 In the day of the Kings birth they were grievously compelled perforce every moneth to banquet, and when the feast of Bacchus was kept, they were constrained to goe in the procession of Bacchus with garlands of vyie.

8 Moreover, though the counsell of Ptolemens, there went out a commandement unto the next cities of the heathen against the Jewes, that the like custome, and banqueting should be kept.

9 And who so would not conforme themselves to the maners of the Gentiles, should be put to death; then might a man have leene the present miserie.

10 For there were two women brought forth that had circumcised their sonnes, in whom when they had led round about the city (the babes hanging at their breasts) they cast them down headlong over the walles.

11 Some that were runne together into dennes to keepe the Sabbath day secretly, were discovered unto Philip, and were burnt together, because that for the reverence of the honourable day they were astraide to helpe themselves.

12 Now I beseech those which reade this booke, that they be not discouraged for these calamities, but that they indge these afflictions not to be for destruction, but for a chastening of our nation.

13 For it is a token of his great goodnesse,

Or, eating of the flesh that was sacrificed.

not to suffer sinners long to continue, but straight wayes to punish them.

14 For the Lord doth not long wait for vs, as for other nations, whom he punisheth when they are come to the fullnesse of their finnes.

15 But thus hee dealeth with vs, that our finnes should not be heaped by to the full, so that afterward he should punish vs.

16 And therefore hee never withdraweth his mercie from vs; and though hee punish with adverselic, yet doeth he never forsake his people.

17 But let this be spoken now for a warning unto vs: and now will we come to the declaring of the matter in fewe wordes.

18 Eleazar then one of y principal Scribes, an aged man, and of a wel favoured countenance was constrained to open his mouth, and to cate swines flesh.

19 But hee desiring rather to dye gloriously then to live with hatred, offered himselfe willingly to the torment, and spit it out:

20 As they ought to goe to death which suffer punishment for such things, as it is not lawfull to talke of for the desire to live.

21 But they that had the charge of this wicked banker, for that olde friendship of the man, tooke him aside privately, and prayed him that hee would take such thing, as was lawfull for him to use, and as hee would prepare for himselfe, and dissemble as though hee had eaten of the things appointed by the King, even the flesh of the sacrifice.

22 That in so doing hee might be delivered from death, and that for the olde friendship that was among them, he would receive this favour.

23 But he began to consider discreetly, and as became his age, and the excellency of his ancient yeres, and the honour of his gray haire, whereunto he was come, and his most honest conversation from his childhoode, but chiefly the holy Law made and given by God: therefore hee answered consequently, and willed them straightwayes to send him to the grave.

24 For it becometh not our age, sayd he, to dissemble, whereby many young persons might thinke that Eleazar being fourescore yeres old and ten, were now gone to another religion.

25 And so thorough mine hypocrite (for a litle tyme of a transitory life) they might bee deceived by me, and I should procure malediction, and reproch to mine olde age.

26 For though I were now delivered from the torments of men, yet could I not escape the hand of the Almighty, neither alive nor dead.

27 Wherefore I will notwe change this life manfully, and will shewe my selfe such as mine age requirerth.

28 And so will leave a notable example for such as be young to die willingly, and courageously for the honourable and holy Lawes. And when he had sayd these wordes, immediately he went to torment.

29 Now they that led him, changed the tone which they bare him before, into barred, because of the words that he had spoken; for they thought it had been a rage.

30 And as he was ready to give the ghost because of the strokes, he sigred and sayd, The Lord that hath the holy knowledge, knoweth manifestly, that whereas I might have bene delivered from death, I am scourged, and suffer these these sore paines of my body: but in my mind I suffer them gladly for his religion.

Or, to another maner of life.

31 Euen now after this manner ended hee his life, leaving his death for an example of a noble courage, and a memoriazl of vertue, not onely vnto yong men, but vnto all his nation.

C H A P. VII.

The punishment of the seven brethren and of their mother.

It came to passe also that seven brethren, with their mother, were taken to bee compelled by the king against the Lawe to taste swines flesh, and were tormented with scourges and whips.

2 But one of them which spake first, sayde thus, What seekst thou? and what wouldest thou know of vs? wee are ready to die rather then to transgress the lawes of our fathers.

3 Then was the king angry, and commaunded to beate pans and cauldrons, which were incessantly made hote.

4 And he commaunded the tongue of him that spake first to bee cut out, and to slay him, and to cut off the vmoist parts of his body in the sight of his other brethren and his mother.

5 Now when hee was thus mangled in all his members, he commaunded him to be brought aliuie to the fire and to stie him in the pan: and while the smoke for a long time smoked out of the pan, the other brethren with their mother exhorted one another to die couragiously, saying in this manner,

6 The Lord God doth regard vs, & in deede taketh pleasure in vs, as Doyle's declared in the song wherein hee testified openly, saying, That God will take pleasure in his seruants.

7 So when the first was dead after this manner, they brought the second to make him a mocking stocke: and when they had pulled the skinned with the haire ouer his head, they asked him if hee would eate, or he were punished in all the members of the body.

8 But hee answered in his owne language, and sayd, No. Wherefore hee was tormented forthwith like the first.

9 And when hee was at the last breath, hee sayd, Thou murderer takest this present life from vs, but the King of the world will raise vs vp, which die for the Lawes, in the resurrection of euertlasting life,

10 After him was the third had in derision, and when they demaunded his tongue, hee put it out incessantly, and stretched forth his hands boldly, 11 And spake manfully, These haue I had from the heauen, but now for the Lawe of God I despise them, and trust that I shall receiue them of him againe.

12 Insomuch that the King and they which were with him, maruelled at the yong mans courage, as at one that nothing regarded the paines.

13 Now when he was dead also, they vexed and tormented the fourth in like manner.

14 And when hee was now ready to die, hee sayd thus, It is better that wee should change this which we might hope to of men, and waite for our hope from God, that wee may be raised vp againe by him: as for thee, thou shalt haue no resurrection to life.

15 Afterward they brought the fift also and tormented him,

16 Who looked vpon the King, and sayd, Thou hast power among men, and though thou bee a mortall man, thou doest what thou wilt: but thinke not that God hath forsaken our nation, 17 But abide a while, and thou shalt see his great power, how he will torment thee and thy seede.

18 After him also they brought the sixt, who being at the point of death, said, Deceme not thy selfe foolishly: for wee suffer these things, which are worthy to be wondred at for our owne sakes, becaus we haue offended our God.

19 But thinke not thou, which vndertakest to fight against God, that thou shalt bee unpunished.

20 But the mother was marvellous aboue all other, and worthy of honouerable memoire: for when she saw her seven sonnes slaine within the space of one day, she suffered it with a good will, becaus of the hope that she had in the Lord,

21 Pea, she exhorted euery one of them in her owne language, and being full of courage and wisdom, stirred by her womanly affections, with a manly stomacke, and sayd vnto them,

22 I cannot tell howe yee came into my wombe: for I neither gaue you breath nor life: it is not I that set in order the members of your body, 23 But doubtlesse the Creator of the worlde, which formed the birch of man, and found out the beginning of all things, will also of his owne mercie giue yee breath, and life againe, as yee now regard not your owne selues, for his lawes sake.

24 Now Antiochus thinking himselfe despised, and considering the iniurious wordes, while the pongest was yet aliuie, he did exhort him not onely with wordes, but sware also vnto him by an othe that he would make him rich and wealthy, if he would forsake the lawes of his fathers, and that hee would take him as a friend, & giue him offices.

25 But when the yong man would in no case hearken vnto him, the King called his mother, and exhorted that shee would counsell the yong man to saue his life.

26 And when he had exhorted her with many wordes, shee promised him that shee would counsell her sonne.

27 So shee turned her vnto him, laughing the cruell tyrant to scoorne, and spake in her owne language, O my sonne, haue pittie vpon mee, that bare thee nine moneths in my wombe, and gaue thee sucke thee yeeres, and nourished thee, and tooke care for thee vnto this age, & brought thee vp.

28 I beseech thee, my sonne, looke vpon the heauen and the earth, and all that is therein, and consider that God made them of things that were not, and so was mankinde made likewise.

29 Feare not this hangman, but shew thy selfe worthy such brethren by suffering death, that I may receiue thee in mercie with thy brethren.

30 While she was yet speaking these wordes, the yong man sayd, Whom waite ye for? I will not obey the kings commaundement: but I will obey the commaundement of the Lawe that was giuen vnto our fathers by Moyses.

31 And thou that imaginest all mischief against the Hebrewes, shalt not escape the hand of God.

32 For wee suffer these things because of our finnes.

33 But though the living Lord be angry with vs a little while for our chaulening and correction, yet will he be reconciled with his own seruants.

34 But thou, O man without religion and most wicked of all men, list not thy selfe by in vaine, which art puffed vp with uncerteine hope, and listest thine handes against the seruants of God.

35 For thou hast not yet escaped the iudgement of Almighty God, which seeth all things.

36 My brethren that haue suffered a little paine, are now vnder the diuine Covenant of euertlasting life: but thou through the iudgment of God, shalt suffer iust punishments for thy pride.

37 Therefore I, as my brethren haue done, offer my body and life for the Lawes of our fathers, beseeching God, that he will loone be mercifull vnto our nation, and that thou by torment and punishment mayest confesse, that he is the onely God, 38 And that in me and my brethren the wrath of the Almighty, which is righteously fallen vpon all our nation, may cease.

39 Then the king being kindled with anger, ragged more cruelly against him then the others, and tooke it graciously that he was mocked.

40 So he also died holily, and put his whole trust in the Lord.

41 Last of all after the sonnes, was the mother put to death.

42 Let this now bee enough spoken concerning the bankets, and extreme cruelties.

CHAP. VIII.

1 Judas gathereth together his hoste. 9 Nicanor is sent against Iudas. 16 Judas exhortheth his souldiers to constancie. 20 Nicanor is ouercome. 27 The Iewes giue thanks, after they haue put their enemies to flight, diuiding part of the spoiles vnto the fatherlesse & vnto the widowes. 30 Timotheus and Bacchides are discomfited. 35 Nicanor fleeth vnto Antiochus.

Then Iudas Maccabees, and they that were with him, went priuily into the towne, and called their kindred and friends together, and tooke vnto them all such as continued in the Iewes religion: and assembled fere thousand men.

2 So they called vpon the Lord, that hee would haue an eye vnto his people, which was bereed of every man, and haue pittie vpon the Temple that was defiled by wicked men,

3 And that hee would haue compassion vpon the citie that was destroyed, and almost brought to the ground, and that he would heare the voice of the blood that cried vnto him,

4 And that he would remember the wicked slaughter of the innocent children, and the blasphemies committed against his Name, and that he would shew his hatred against the wicked.

5 Now when Maccabees had gathered this multitude, he could not be withstood by the heathen: for the wrath of the Lord was turned into mercy.

6 Therefore he came at bnauares, and burnt by the townes and cities: yet he tooke the most commodious places, and slew many of the enemies.

7 But specially hee vsed the nights to make such assaults, in so much that the haire of his manlinesse was spread euery where.

8 So when Philip saw that this man increased by little and litle, and that things prospered with him for the most part, hee wrote vnto Ptolemeus the gouernour of Coelocytia and Idence to helpe him in the kings businesse.

9 Then sent he speedily Nicanor, the sonne of Patroclus, a speciall friend of his, and gaue him of all nations of the heathen no lesse then twenty thousand men, to roote out the whole generation of the Iewes, and ioyned with him Sogias a captaine, which in matters of warre had great experience.

10 Nicanor ordeined also a tribute for y<sup>e</sup> king of two thousand talents, which the Romanes should haue, to be taken of the Iewes that were taken prisoners.

11 Therefore immediately he sent to the cities on the sea coast, ymouoking them to buy Iewes to be their seruants, promising to sell fourescore and ten for one talent: but he considered not the vengeance of Almighty God, that should come vpon him.

12 When Iudas then knewe of Nicanors coming, he tolde them that were with him, of the coming of the arme.

13 Now were there some of them fearefull, which trusted not vnto the righteousnes of God, but fled away, and abode not in that place.

14 But the other tolde all that they had left, and besought the Lord together to deliuer them from that wicked Nicanor, which had sold them, or euer he came nere them.

15 And though hee would not doe it for their sakes, yet for the covenant made with their fathers, and because they called vpon his holy and glorious Name.

16 And so Maccabees called his men together, about fere thousand, exhorting them not to bee afraid of their enemies, neither to feare the great multitude of the Gentiles, which came against them vnrightheously, but to fight manly,

17 Setting before their eyes the injury that they had vniuily done to the holy place, and the cruelty done to the citie by desolation, and the destruction of the orders established by their fathers.

18 For they, said hee, trust in their weapons and holynesse: but our confidence is in the Almighty God, which at a becke can both destroy them that come against vs, and all the world.

19 Moreover, hee adimouished them of the helpe that God shewed vnto their fathers, as when there perished an hundred and fourescore and sine thousand vnder Sennacherib, 20 And of the battell that they had in Babylon against the Galatians, how they came in all to the battell feight thousand, with foure thousand Macedonians: and when the Macedonians were asfortified, the eight thousand slew an hundred and twenty thousand through the helpe that was giuen them from heauen, whereby they had receiued many benefites.

21 Thus when hee had made them bold with these wordes, and ready to die for the lawes and and the country, he diuided his army into foure parts, 22 And made his owne brethren captaines ouer the army, to wit, Simon, and Ioseph, a Jonathan, giuing eche one thirtene hundred men.

23 And when Eleazarus had read the holy booke, and giuen them a token of the helpe of God, Iudas which led the foreward, toynd with Micanoz,

24 And because the Almighty helped them, they flew aboue nine thousand men, and wounded and mained the most part of Micanozs host, and so put all to flight, 25 And tooke the money from those that came to buy them, and purcheid them farre: but lacking time, they returned.

26 For it was the day before the Sabbath, and therefore they would no longer pursue them.

27 So they tooke their weapons, and spoiled the enemies, and kept the Sabbath, giuing thanks, and praising the Lord wonderfully, which had deliuered them that day, and powred vpon them the beginning of his mercy.

28 And after the Sabbath, they distributed the spoiles to the sick, and to the fatherlesse, and to the widowes, and diuided the residue among themselves and their children.

29 When this was done, and they all had made a generall prayer, they besought the mercifull Lord to bee reconciled at the length with his seruants.

30 Afterward with one consent they fell vpon Timotheus and Bacchides, and flew aboue twenty thousand, and wan bigg & strong holds, and diuided great spoiles, and gaue an equall portion vnto the sick, and to the fatherlesse, and to the widowes, and to aged persons also.

31 Moreover, they gathered their weapons together, and laide them by diligently in conuenient places, and brought the remnant of the spoiles to Ierusalem.

32 They slew also Philarches a most wicked person which was with Timotheus, and had vered the Jewes many wayes.

33 And when they kept the feast of Mictre in their country, they burnt Calisthenes that had set fire vpon the holy gates, which was fled into a little house: so he receiued a reward meet for his wickednesse.

34 And that most wicked Micanoz, which had brought a thousand merchants to buy the Jewes, 35 Hee was through the helpe of the Lord brought downe of them whom he thought as nothing, inso much that he put off his glorious raiment, and fled ouerthwart the country like a fugitive seruant, and came alone to Antiochia, with great dishonour through the destruction of his hoste.

36 Thus hee that promised to pay tribute to the Romanes, by means of the prisoners of Ierusalem, brought newes, that the Jewes had a defender, and for this cause none could hurt the Jewes, because they followed the Lawes appointed by him.

CHAP. IX.

1 Antiochus willing to spoyle Persopolis, is put to flight. 5 As he persecuteth the Jewes, he is striken of the Lord. 13 The fained repentance of Antiochus, 28 He dieth miserably,

At the same time came Antiochus againe with dishonour, out of the country of Persia.

2 For when hee came to Persopolis, and went about to robbe the Temple, and to libbind the citie, the people ran in a rage to defend their selues with their weapons, and put them to flight, and Antiochus was put to flight by the inhabitants, and returned with shame.

3 Now when he came to Ecbatana, hee vnderstood the things that had come vnto Micanoz and Timotheus.

4 And then being chafed in his fume, hee thought to impure to the Jewes their fault, which had put him to flight, and therefore commaunded his charretmen to daine continually, and to dispatch the iourney: for Gods iudgment compelled him: for he had said thus in his pride, I wil make Ierusalem a common burying place of the Jewes, when I come thither.

5 But the Lord Almighty, and God of Israel, smote him with an incurable and inuincible plague: for asloone as hee had spoken the se words, a paine of the bowels that was remediless, came vpon him, and sore torment of the inner parts,

6 And that most iustly: for he had tormentted other mens bowels with dimes and strange tormentts.

7 Howbeit hee would in no wise cease from his arrogancie, but swelled the more with pride, breatching out fire in his rage against the Jewes, and commaunded to haste the iourney: but it came to passe that he fell downe from the charret that ranne swiftly, so that all the members of his body were bruised with the great fall.

8 And thus he that a litle afore thought hee might commaund the floods of the Sea (so proud was he beyond the condition of man) and to weigh the high mountaines in the balance, was now cast on the ground, and caried in an horselitter, declaring vnto all the manifest power of God.

9 * So that the wormes came out of the body of this wicked man in abundance: & whiles he was alive, his flesh fell off for paine and torment: and all his arime was grieued at his smell.

10 Thus no man could beare because of his stinke, him that a litle afore thought he might reach to the starres of heauen.

11 Then hee began to leaue off his great pride, and selfewill when hee was plagued, and came to the knowledge of himselfe by the scourge of God, and by his paine which increased euery moment.

12 And when he himselfe might not abide his owne stinke, hee said these words, It is meete to bee subiect vnto God, and that a man which is mortall, should not thinke himselfe equalle vnto God through pride.

13 This wicked person prayed also vnto the Lord, who would notue haue no mercie on him, 14 And said thus, that he would set at libertie the holy citie vnto the which hee made iuste to delroy it, and to make it a burying place.

15 And as touching the Jewes (whom hee had iudged not worthy to bee buried, but woulde haue cast them out with their chil-men to be deuoured of the foules & wild beasts) hee would make them all like the citizens of Athens.

16 And whereas he had spoiled the holy Temple afore, hee would garnish it with great gifts, and increase the holy vessels, and of his owne rents beare the charges belonging to the sacrifices.

17 Yea, and that he would also become a Jew himselfe, and goe thow all the world that was inhabited, and preach the power of God.

18 But for all this his paines would not cease: for the iust iudgement of God was come vpon him: therefore despairing of his health he wrote vnto the Jewes this letter vnder written, containing the forme of a supplication.

19 THE KING, and prince Antiochus vnto the Jewes his louing citizens, wisherh much toy, and health and prosperitie.

20 If ye and your children fare well, and if all things goe after your minde, I giue great thanks vnto God hauing hope in the heauen.

21 Though I lie sicke, yet am I mindfull of your honour, and good will for the loue I beare you: therefore when I returned from the countrey of Persia, & fell into a sore disease, I thought it necessarie to care for the common safetie of all,

22 Not distrusting mine health, but hauing great hope to escape this sicknesse.

23 Therefore considering that when my father led an hoste against the high countreys, he appointed who should succede him:

24 That if any controuerie happened contrary to his expectation, or if that any tidings were brought that were grieuous, they in the land might knowe to whom the affaires were committed, that they should not be troubled.

25 Againe, when I ponder how that the gouernours, that are borderers and neighbours vnto my kingdome, waite for all occasions, and looke but for opportunitie. I haue ordeined that my sonne Antiochus shall be king, whom I oft commended & committed to many of you, when I went into the high prouinces, and haue writen vnto him as followeth hereafter.

26 Therefore, I pray you, and require you to remember the benefites that I haue done vnto you generally, and particularly, and that euery man will be faithfull to me and to my sonne.

27 For I trust that he will be gentle and louing vnto you accordyng vnto my mind.

28 Thus the murderer & blasphemour suffered most grieuouly, and as hee had intreated other men, so hee died a miserable death in a strange countrey among the mountaines.

29 And Philip that was brought vp with him, carried away his body, who fearing the sonne of Antiochus, went into Egypt to Ptolemens Philometor.

CHAP. X.

1 Judas Maccabeus taketh the citie and the Temple. 10 The acts of Eupator. 16 The Jewes fight against the Idumeans. 24 Timotheus inuadeth Iudea, with whom Iudas ioyneth battell. 29 Five men appeare in the aire to the helpe of the Iewes. 37 Timotheus is slaine.

Maccabeus now and his companie, though the helpe of the Lord, wanne the Temple and the citie againe,

2 And destroyed the altars, & chappels that the heathen had builded in the open places,

3 And cleansed the Temple, and made another altar, and burned stones, and tooke fire of them, and offered sacrifices, and incense two yeeres, and sixe moneths after, and set forth the lampes, and the shewbread.

4 When that was done, they fell downe flat vpon the ground, and besought the Lord, that they might come no more into such troubles; but if they sinned any more against him, that he him selfe would chasten them with mercy, and that they might not be deliuered to the blasphemous, and barbarous nations.

5 Now vpon the same day, that the strangers polluted the temple, on the very same day it was cleansed againe, euen the five and twentieth day of the same moneth which is Challem.

6 They kept eight dayes with gladnesse as in the feast of the Tabernacles, remembering, that not long afore they held the feast of the Tabernacles when they lived in the mountaines and dennes like beasts.

7 And for the same cause they bare greene boughes, and saire branches and palmes, and sang Psalmes vnto him that had giuen them good successe in cleansing his place.

8 They ordeined also by a common statute and decree, that euery yere those dayes should be kept of the whole nation of the Jewes.

9 And this was the end of Antiochus called Epiphanes.

10 How will wee declare the acts of Antiochus Eupator, which was the sonne of this wicked man, gathering briefely the calamities of the warres that followed.

11 For when he had taken the kingdome, hee made one Lysias, which had bene captaine of the hoste in Phenice, and Coeloxippa, ruler ouer the affaires of the Realmes.

12 For Ptolomies that was called Barron, purposed to doe iustice vnto the Jewes for the wrong that had bene done vnto them, and went about to behaue himselfe peaceably with them.

13 For the which cause, hee was accused of his friendes before Eupator, and was called oft times traitour, because hee had left Cyprus that Philometor had committed vnto him, and came to Antiochus Epiphanes: therefore seeing that hee was no more in estimation, he was discouraged, and poisoned himselfe, and died.

14 But when Sogias was gouernour of the same places, he entertained strangers, and made warre oft times against the Jewes.

15 Moreover, the Idumeans that held the strong holds which were meete for their purpose, troubled the Jewes, and by receiuing them that were driuen from Jerusalem, tooke in hand to continue warre.

16 Then they that were with Maccabeus, made prayers, and besought God that he would bee their helper, and so they fell vpon the strong holds of the Idumeans, 17 And assailed them fore, that they wanne the places, and slew all that fought against them on the wall, and killed all that they met with, and slew no lesse then twentie thousand.

18 And because certaine (which were no lesse then then nine thousand) were fled into two strong castles, having all manner of things convenient to sustaine the siege, 19 Maccabeus left Simon, and Joseph, and Jaccens also, and those that were with them, which were enow to besiege them, and departed to those places which were moze necessary.

20 Now they that were with Simon, being led with covetousnes, were intreated for money (through certame of those that were in y castle) and tooke seaventy thousand drachmes, and let some of them escape.

21 But when it was told Maccabeus what was done, hee called the governours of the people together, & accused those men, that they had sold their brethren for money, and let their enemies goe.

22 So he slew them when they were convict of treason, and immediately wanne the two castles:

23 And having good successe, as in all the warres that he tooke in hand, he slew in the two castles moe then twenty thousand.

24 Now Timotheus whome the Jewes had overcome afore, gathered an armie of strangers of all sorts, and brought a great troupe of horsemen out of Asia, to winne Jewrye by strength.

25 But when he drew nere, Maccabeus, and they that were with him, turned to pray unto God, and sprinkled earth vpon their heads, and girded their reines with sackcloth, 26 And fell downe at the foote of the altar, and besought the Lord to bee mercifull to them, and to be an enemy to their enemies, and to be an adversary to their adversaries,* as the law declareth.

27 So after their prayer they took their weapons, and went on further from the citie, and when they came nere to the enemies, they tooke heed to themselves.

28 And when the morning appeared, they both toynd together: the one part had the Lord for their refuge, and pledge of prosperitie, and noble victorie, and the other tooke courage as a guide of the warre.

29 But when the battel wared strong, there appeared vnto the enemies from heauen five comely men vpon horses with bridles of golde, and two of them led the Jewes, 30 And tooke Maccabeus betwixt them, and couered him on every side with their weapons, and kept him safe, but shot darts & lightnings against the enemies, so that they were confounded with blindness, and beaten downe and full of trouble.

31 There were slaine of foote men twentie thousand and five hundred, and five hundred horsemen.

32 As for Timotheus himselfe, hee fled vnto Gazara, which was called a very strong holde, wherein Thereas was captaine.

33 But Maccabeus and his company layde siege against the fortresses, with courage for foure dayes.

34 And they that were within, trusting to the height of the place, blasphemed exceedingly, and spake horrible words.

35ouertheliefe, vpon the fifth day in the morning, twentie young men of Maccabeus company, whose hearts were enflamed, because of the blasphemies, came vnto the wall, & with bold strokes smote downe those that they met.

36 Others also that climed by vpon the engines of warre against them that were within, let fire vpon the towers, and burnt those blasphemers quicke with the fires that they had made, and others brake by the gates, and receiued the rest of the armie, and tooke the citie.

37 And having found Timotheus, that was crept into a caue, they killed him, and Thereas his brother with Apollophanes.

38 When this was done, they prayled the Lord with psalmes and thanksgiving, which had done so great things for Israel, and giuen them the victorie.

1 Lysias goeth about to overcome the Jewes. 8 Succour is sent from heauen vnto the Jewes. 16 The letter of Lysias vnto the Jewes. 20 The letter of king Antiochus vnto Lysias. 27 A letter of the same vnto the Jewes. 34 A letter of the Romanes to the Jewes.

VERY shortly after this, Lysias the Kinges steward, and a kinsman of his, which had the gouernance of the affaires, took soze displeasure for the things that were done.

2 And when he had gathered about fourescore thousand, with all the horsemen, hee came against the Jewes, thinking to make the citie an habitation of the Gentiles.

3 And the Temple would he haue to get money by, like the other temples of the heathen: for he would sell the Priestes office euery yeere.

4 And thus being puffed vp in his minde, because of the great number of footemen, and thousands of horsemen, and in his fourescore Elephants,

5 He came into Judea, and drew nere to Beth-lura, which was a castle of defence, five furlongs from Jerusalem, and layde soze siege vnto it.

6 But when Maccabeus and his company knew that hee belleged the holds, they, and all the people made prayers with weeping, & teares before the Lord, that he would send a good Angel to deliuer Israel.

7 And Maccabeus himselfe first of all tooke weapons, exhorting the other that they would reopard themselves together with him to helpe their brethren: so they went forth together with a couragious mind.

8 And as they were there besides Jerusalem, there appeared before them vpon horsebacke a man in white clotying, shaking his harness of gold.

9 Then they prayled the mercifull God all together, and tooke heart, insonuch that they were ready, not only to fight with men, but with the most cruel beasts, and to breake downe walls of yon.

10 Thus they marched forward in aray, hauing an helper from heauen: for the Lord was mercifull vnto them.

11 And running vpon their enemies like Lyons, they slew eleven thousand footemen, and sixtene hundred horsemen, and put all the other to flight.

12 Many of them also being wounded, escaped naked, & Lysias himselfe fled away shamefully, fully and so escaped.

13 Who as he was a man of understanding, considering what losse he had had, and knowing that the Iewes could not be overcome because the Almighty God helped them, sent vnto them, 14 And promised that hee would consent to all things which were reasonable, and perswade the king to be their friend.

15 Haccabeus agreed to Lysias requestes, hauing respect in all things to the commonwealth, and whatsoever Haccabeus wrote vnto Lysias concerning the Iewes, the king granted it.

16 For there were letters written vnto the Iewes from Lysias containyng these wordes, L Y S I A S vnto the people of the Iewes sendeth greeting, ¶ Or, Absalon, or Absalom.

17 Iohn and I Absalom, which were sent from you, deliuced me the things that you demand by writing, and required me to fulfill the tyings that they had declared.

18 Therefore what things sooner were meet to be reported to the king himselfe, I haue declared them, and he granted that that was possible.

19 Therefore if yee behaue your selues as friends toward his affaires, hereafter also I will endeour my selfe to doe you good.

20 As concerning these things, I haue giuen commaundement to these men, & to those whom I sent vnto you, to commune with you of the same particularly.

21 Fare yee well, the hundred and eight and fortie yeere, the foure and twentieth day of the moneth Diocozinthius.

22 Now the Kings letter contained these wordes, KING ANTIOCHVS vnto his brother Lysias sendeth greeting.

23 Since our father is translated vnto the gods, our will is, that they which are in our Realme, liue quietly, that every man may applie his owne affaires.

24 We vnderstand also that the Iewes would not consent to our father, for to be brought vnto the custome of the Gentiles, but would keepe their owne manner of liuing: for the which cause they requite of vs, that we would suffer them to liue after their owne lawes.

25 Therefore our minde is that this nation shall bee in rest, and haue determined to restore them their Temple, that they may be governed according to the custome of their fathers.

26 Thou shalt doe well therefore to send vnto them, and grant them peace, that when they are certified of our minde, they may be of good comfort, and cheerefully goe about their owne affaires.

27 And this was the Kings letter vnto the nation, KING ANTIOCHVS vnto the Elders of the Iewes, and to the rest of the Iewes sendeth greeting.

28 If yee fare well, we haue our desire: we are also in good health.

29 Demetrius declared vnto vs that your desire was to returne home, & to apply your owne businesse.

30 Therefore, those that will depart, we giue them free libertie, vnto the thirti day of the moneth of Panthicus,

31 That the Iewes may vse their owne maner of liuing and lawes, like as afoze, and none of them by any manner of wayes to haue harme for things done by ignorance.

32 I haue sent also Demetrius to comfort you.

33 Fare yee well: the hundred and eight and fortie yeere, the fiftenth day of the moneth of Panthicus.

34 The Romanes also sent a letter containyng these wordes, QVIN TVS MEMMIVS and Titus I Hamulus ambassadours of the Romanes, vnto the people of the Iewes send greeting. ¶ Or, Mammā s.

35 The things that Lysias the kings kinsman hath granted you, we grant the same also.

36 But concerning that which he had reported vnto the king, sende hither some with speed, wher yee haue considered the matter diligently, that wee may consult thereupon, as shall bee best for you: for we must goe vnto Antiochia.

37 And therefore make haste and send some men, that we may know your mind.

38 Farewell: this hundred and eight and fortie yeere, the sixteenth day of the moneth of Panthicus.

CHAP. XII.

2 Timotheus troubleth the Iewes. 3 The wicked deed of them of Ioppe against the Iewes. 6 Judas is avenged of them. 9 He setteth fire in the haven of Jamnia. 20 The pursuit of the Iewes against Timotheus. 24 Timotheus is taken and led goe unhurt. 32 Judas pursueth Gorgias.

When these couenants were made, Lysias went vnto the king, and the Iewes tiled their ground.

2 But the gouernours of the places, as Timotheus, and Apollonius the sonne of Genneus, and Hieronymus, and also Demophon, and besides them Sicanor the gouernour of Cyprus, would not let them liue in rest and peace.

3 They of Ioppe also did such a vile act: they prayed the Iewes that dwelt among them, to goe with their wines and children into the ships, which they had prepared as though they had ought them none euill will.

4 And so by the common aduice of the citie, they obeyed them, and suspected nothing: but when they were gone forth into the deepe, they downed no lesse then two hundred of them.

5 Now when Judas knew of this crueltie shewed against his nation, he commanded those men that were with him, to make them ready.

6 And hauing called vpon God the righteous Iudge, he went forth against the murderers of his brethren, and set fire in the haven by night, and burnt the ships, and those that fled thence, he slew.

7 And when the citie was shut vp, hee departed as though hee would come againe, and roote out all them of the citie of Ioppe.

8 But when he perceived that the Iammites were minded to doe in like manner vnto the Iewes, which dwelt among them, 9 He came vpon the Iammites by night, and set fire in the haven with the nauie, so that the sight of the fire was scene at Ierusalem, vpon a two hundred and fortie furlonges.

10 Now when they were gone from thence nine furlonges, in their iourney toward Timotheus, about five thousand men of foote and and five hundred and forty horsemen of the Arabians set upon him.

a So called, because they were they heads.
|| Or, passages

11 So the battell was sharpe, but it prospered with Judas through the helpe of God: the Romanes of Arabia, being overcome, besought Judas to make peace with them, and promised to give him certaine scattell, and to helpe him in other things.

12 And Judas thinking that they should in deede bee profitable concerning many things, granted them peace: whereupon they tooke hands, and so they departed to their tents.

13 ¶ Judas also assaulted a citie called Calpis, which was strong by reason of a bridge, and fenced round about with walles, and had diuers kinds of people dwelling therein.

14 So they that were within it, put such trust in the strength of the walles, and in store of victuals, that they were the slacker in their doings, resulting them that were with Judas, and reproching them: yea, they blasphemed and spake such words as were not lawfull.

|| Or, battell
rammes.
Iosb. 6. 20.

15 But Baccabeus souldiers, calling vpon the great prince of the world (which without any instruments, or engines of warre, did cast downe the walles of Jericho, in the time of Jesus) gaue a fierce assault against the walles, 16 And tooke the city by the will of God, and made an exceeding great slaughter, inasmuch that a lake of two furlongs broad, which lay thereby, seemed to flow with blood.

17 ¶ Then departed they from thence, seven hundred and fiftie furlongs, and came to Characa vnto the Jewes, that are called Tubieni.

18 But they found not Timotheus there: for he was departed from thence, and had done nothing, and had left a garrison in a very strong holde.

19 But Dositheus, & Sosipater, which were captaiues with Baccabeus, went forth, & sawe thate Timotheus had left in the fortresse, more then ten thousand men.

20 And Baccabeus prepared, & ranged his army by bands, and went courageously against Timotheus, which had with him an hundred and twenty thousand men of foot, and two thousand and five hundred horsemen.

21 ¶ When Timotheus had knowledge of Judas coming, he sent the women, and children, and the other baggage afoze vnto a fortresse called Carnion (for it was hard to besiege, and vncasie to come vnto because of the straights on all sides)

22 ¶ But when Judas first band came in sight, the enemies were smitten with feare, & a trembling was among them through the presence of him that seeth all things, inasmuch that they fleeing one here, another there, were oft times hurt by their owne people, and wounded with the points of their owne swords.

23 ¶ But Judas was very earnest in pursuing, and slew those wicked men: yea, hee slew thirtie thousand men of them.

24 Timotheus also himselfe fell into the hands of Dositheus, and Sosipater, whom hee besought with much craft to let him go with his life, because he had many of the Jewes parents, and the brethren of some of them, which, if they put him to death, should be despised.

25 So when he had assured them with many words, and promised that he would restore them without hurt, they let him goe for the health of their brethren.

26 ¶ Then went Baccabeus toward Carnion, and Retagion, and slew five and twenty thousand persons.

27 And after that hee had chased away and slaine them, Judas remoued the hoste toward Ephion a strong city, wherein was Lylias and a great multitude of all nations, and the strong yong men kept the walles, defending them mightily: there was also great preparation of engines of warre, and darts.

28 But when they had called vpon the Lord, which with his power breaketh the strength of the enemies, they waime the citie, and slewe five and twentie thousand of them that were within.

29 ¶ From thence went they to Scythopolis, which lyeth sixe hundred furlongs from Jerusalem.

30 But when the Jewes that dwelt there, testified that the Scythopolitans dealt louingly with them, and intreated them kindly in the time of their aduersitie,

|| Or, Scythians.

31 They gaue them thanks, desiring them to be friendly still vnto them, and so they came to Jerusalem, as the feast of the weekes approached.

32 ¶ And after the feast called Pentecost, they went forth against Gorgias the gouernour of Idumea:

33 Who came out with thre thousand men of foote, and foure hundred horsemen.

34 And when they ioyned together, a few of the Jewes were slaine, 35 And Dositheus one of the Baccabeus, which was on horsebacke and a mighty man, tooke Gorgias, and layd holde of his garment, and drew him by force, because hee would haue taken the wicked man alive: but an hezrian of Thracia fell vpon him, and smote off his shoulder, so that Gorgias fled into Parita.

|| Or, Morensa.

36 And when they that were with Herin, had foughten long, and were weary, Judas called vpon the Lord, that hee would shew himselfe to bee their helper, and Capitaine of the field.

|| Or, with Gorgias.

37 And then he began in his owne language, and sung Psalmes with a lowd voyce, inasmuch that straight wayes he made them that were about Gorgias, to take their flight.

38 ¶ So Judas gathered his hoste, and came into the citie of Adolla. And when the seventh day came, they cleansed themselves (as the custome was) and kept the Sabbath in the same place.

39 And vpon the day following, as necessitie required, Judas and his company came to take by the bodies of them that were slaine, and to bury them with their kinsmen in their fathers graues.

40 ¶ Now vnder the coates of euery one that was slaine, they found icwells that had bene consecrate to the idoles of the Jammites, which thing is forbidden the Jewes by the Law. Then euery man sawe that this was the cause wherefore they were slaine.

Deut. 7. 25,
Iosb. 7. 1,
11, 12.

41 And so euery man gaue thanks vnto the Lord, the righteous Judge, which had opened the things that were hid.

42 And

42 And they gave themselves to prayer, and besought him, that they should not utterly be destroyed for the fault committed. Besides that, noble Judas exhorted the people to keepe themselves from sinne, so so much as they sawe before their eyes the things which came to passe by the sinne of these that were slaine, 43 And having made a gathering thorow the company, sent to Jerusalem about two thousand drachmes of silver, to offer a sinne offering, doing very wel and honestly, that he thought of the resurrection.

44 For if hee had not hoped that they which were slaine, should rise againe, it had bene superfluous, and vaine, to pray for the dead.

45 And therefore he perceived that there was great fauour layed vpon for those that died godly. (It was an holy & good thought.) So he made a reconciliation for the dead that they might bee deliuered from sinne.

a From this verse to the end of this chapter, the Greeke text is corrupt, so that no good sense, much lesse certaine doctrine can be gathered thereby. Also, it is euident, that this place was not written by the holy Ghost, both because it differeth from the rest of the holy Scriptures, and also the author of this booke acknowledging his owne infirmite, desireth pardon; if hee haue not attained to that hee should. And it seemeth that this Iason the Cyrenian, out of whom hee tooke this abridgement, is Ioseph Ben-gorion, who hath written in Ebrew five bookes of these matters, and intreating this place, maketh no mention of this prayer for the dead, Lib. 3. cap. 19. For it is contrary to the custome of the Iewes, euen to this day, to pray for the dead. And though Iudas had so done, yet this particular example is not sufficient to establish a doctrine, no more then Zipporahs was to prooue that women might minister the Sacraments, Exodus 4. 25. or the example of Razis, that one may kill himselfe, whom this author so much commendeth, Chap. 14. 41.

C H A P. XIII.

1 The coming of Eupator into Iudea. 2 The death of Menelaus. 10 Maccabees going to fight against Eupator, moueth his souldiers vnto prayer. 15 Hee killeth foureene thousand men in the tents of Antiochus. 21 Rhodocus the betrayer of the Iewes is taken.

In the hundredeth fourth and nine yere, it was tolde Judas that Antiochus Eupator was coming with a great power into Iudea,

2 And Lysias the steward and ruler of his affaires with him, hauing both in their army an hundredeth and tenne thousand men of foot of the Grecians, and five thousand horsemen, and two and twenty Elephants, and three hundredeth charcers set with hookes.

3 Menelaus also ioyned himselfe with them, and with great deccie encouraged Antiochus, not for the safegard of the country, but because he thought to haue bene made the gouernour.

4 But the King of kings moued Antiochus minde against this wicked man, and Lysias informed the king that this man was the cause of all mischiefe, so that the King commaunded to bring him to Berea to put him vnto death as the manner was in that place.

5 Nowe there was in that place a tower of sixtie cubits high, full of ashes, and it had an instrument that turned round, and on euery side it rouled downe into the ashes:

6 And there who soeuer was condemned of sacriledge, or of any other grieuous crime, was cast of all mento the death.

7 And so it came to passe that this wicked man should die such a death, and it was a most iust thing that Menelaus should want buriall.

8 For because he had committed many sinnes by the altar, whose fire and ashes were holy: hee himselfe also died in the ashes.

9 Now the king raged in his minde, and came to shew himselfe more cruel vnto the Iewes then his father.

10 Which things when Judas perceived, hee commaunded the people to call vpon the Lord night and day, that if euer hee had holpen them, he would now helpe them, when they should be put from their Law, from their country, and from the holy Temple:

11 And that hee would not suffer the people which a little afore began to recouer, to bee subdued vnto the blasphemous nations.

12 So when they had done this altogether, and besought the Lord for mercy with weeping and fasting, and falling downe thre dayes together, Judas exhorted them to make themselves ready.

13 And he being apart with the Elders, tooke counsell to goe forth, afore the king brought his hoste into Iudea, and should take the city, and commit the matter to the helpe of the Lord.

14 So committing the charge to the Lord of the world, hee exhorted his souldiers to fight manfully, euen vnto death for the Lawes, the Temple, the city, their country, and the common wealth, and camped by Modin.

15 And lo giuing his souldiers for a watch-word, The victory of God, hee picked out the manliest yong men, and went by night into the kings campe, and slewe of the hoste foureene thousand men, and the greatest Elephant with all that late vpon him.

16 Thus when they had brought a great feare, and trouble in the campe, and all things went prosperously with them, they departed.

17 This was done in the breake of the day, because the protection of the Lord did helpe them.

18 Nowe when the King had tasted the manlinesse of the Iewes, hee went about to take the holds by policie, 19 And marched toward Beth-sura, which was a strong holde of the Iewes: but hee was chased away, hurt, and lost of his men.

20 For Judas had sent vnto them that were in it, such things as were necessary.

21 But Rhodocus which was in the Iewes hoste, disclosed the secrets to the enemies: therefore he was fought out, and when they had gotten him, they put him in prison.

22 After this did the King commune with them that were in Beth-sura, and soooke truce with them, departed, and ioyned battell with Judas, who ouertcame him.

¶ Or, gave and took the right hand.

23 But when hee understood, that Philty (whom he had left to be overseer of his businesse at Antiochia) did rebel against him, hee was astonished, so that hee yielded himselfe to the Iewes, and made them an oth to doe all things that were right, and was appeased toward them, and offered Sacrifice and adomed the Temple, and shewed great gentlenesse to the place,

24 And embraced Maccabees, & made him captaine and gouernour from Ptolemais vnto the Serreneans, 25 Neuerthelesse when hee came to Ptolemais, the people of the cite were not content with this agreement: and because they were grieved, they would that he should breake the covenants.

26 Then went Lysias by into the iudgement seate, and excused the fact alwell as he could, and perwarded them, and pacified them, and made them well affectioned, and came againe vnto Antiochia. This is the matter concerning the Kings tourney, and his returne.

C H A P. XIII.

1 Demetrius moued by Alcimus sendeth Nicanor to kill the Iewes. 28 Nicanor maketh a compact with the Iewes, 29 which he yet breaketh through the motion of the King. 37 Nicanor commandeth Raxis to be taken, who sauyeth himselfe.

AFTER three yeeres was Judas informed that Demetrius the sonne of Seleucus was come by with a great power and navy by the haucn of Tripolis,

2 When hee had wonne the country, and Maie Antiochus and his lieutenant Lysias.

3 Nowe Alcimus, which had bene the high Priest, and wilfully defiled himselfe in the time that all things were confounded, seeing that by no means he could saue himselfe, nor haue any more entrance to the holy Altar,

4 Hee came to King Demetrius in the hundredth litle and one yeere, presenting vnto him a crowne of golde, & a palme, and of the boughes which were used solemnely in the Temple, and that day he held his tongue.

5 But when he had gotten opportunitie, and occasion for his rage, Demetrius called him to counsell, and asked him what deuises or counsels the Iewes leaned vnto.

6 To the which he answered, The Iewes that be called AIdians, whose captaine is Judas Maccabeus, maintaine warres, and make insurrections, and will not let the Realme be in peace.

7 Therefore I, being deuyred of my fathers honour (I meane the tie Priesthood) am now come hither, 8 Partly because I was well affectioned vnto the Kings affaires, and secondly because I sought the profit of mine owne citizens: for all our people, though their rashnesse, are not a little troubled.

9 Wherefore, O King, seeing thou knowest all these things, make yoution for the country, and our nation which is abused, according to thine owne humanitie, that is readie to helpe all men.

10 For as long as Judas liueth, it is not possible that the matter should be well.

11 When he had spoken these words, other friends also hauing euill will at Judas, set Demetrius on fire.

12 Who immediately called for Nicanor the ruler of the Elephants, and made him captaine ouer Iudea, 13 And sent him forth, commanding him to slay Judas, and to scatter them that were with him, and to make Alcimus hie priest of the great Temple.

14 Then the Heathen which fled out of Iudea from Judas, came to Nicanor by flockes, thinking the harme and calamities of the Iewes to be their welfare.

15 Now when the Iewes hearde of Nicanors coming, and the gathering together of the Heathen, they sprinkled themselues with earth, and prayed vnto him which had appointed himselfe a people for euer, and did alwaies defend his owne portion with euident tokens.

16 So at the commandement of the captaine, they remoued straightwayes from thence, and came to the towne of Delfan, 17 Where Simon Judas brother had ioynd battell with Nicanor, and was somewhat astonishd through the hidden silence of the enemies.

18 Neuerthelesse Nicanor hearing the manlinesse of them that were with Judas, and the bolde stomackes that they had for their country, durst not prooue the matter with bloodshedding.

19 Wherefore he sent Dositidonius, & Theodosius, and Hattchias before to make peace.

20 So when they had taken long aduilement thereupon, and the captaine shewed it vnto the multitude, they were agreed in one munde, and consented to the covenants.

21 And they appointed a day when they should particularly come together: so when the day was come, they set for euery man his stoole.

22 Neuerthelesse Judas commaunded certaine men of armes to warte in conuenient places: least there should suddenly arise any euill through the enemies: and so they communed together of the things whereupon they had agreed.

23 Nicanor, while he abode at Ierusalem, did none hurt, but sent away the people that were gathered together.

24 Hee loved Judas, and fauoured him in his heart.

25 He prayed him also to take a wife, and to beget children: so he married, and they liued together.

26 But Alcimus perceluing the loue that was betwene them, and vnderstanding the covenants that were made, came to Demetrius, and tolde him, that Nicanor had taken strange matters in hand, and ordeyned Judas a traitor to the Realme, to be his successor.

27 When the King was displeas'd, and by the reports of this wicked man, hee wrote to Nicanor, saying, that he was very angry for the covenants, commanding him that he should send Maccabeus in all hast prisoner vnto Antiochia.

28 When these things came to Nicanor, hee was astonishd and sore grieved, that he should breake the things whereon they had agreed, seeing that that man had committed no wickednesse.

29 But because it was not commodious to him to withstand the King, he sought craftily to accomplish it.

30 Notwithstanding when Maccabeus perceiued that Nicanor beganne to be rough vnto him, and that hee intreated him more rudely then he was wont, he perceiued that such rigour came not of good, and therefore hee gathered a few of his men, and withdrew himselfe from Nicanor.

31 But the other perceiuing that he was presented by Maccabeus with the people, came into the great and holy Temple, and commanded the Priests, which were offering their usuall sacrifices, to deliuer him the man.

32 And when they were that they could not tell where the man was, which he sought, 33 He stretched out his right hand toward the Temple, and made an othe in this manner, If ye will not deliuer mee Judas as a prisoner, I will make this Temple of God a plaine field, & will breake downe the altar, and will erect a notable temple vnto Bacchus.

34 After these wordes he departed: then the Priests life by their hands toward heauen, and he sought him that was ener the defender of their nation, laying in this manner, 35 Thou, O Lord of all things, which hast need of nothing, wouldest that the Temple of thine habitation should be among vs.

36 Therefore now, O most holy Lord, keepe this house euer undefiled, which lately was defiled, and stoppe all the mouthes of the vnrigh- teous.

37 Nowe was there accused vnto Nicanor, Razis one of the Elders of Ierusalem, a loue of the citie, and a man of very good report, which for his loue was called a father of the Jewes.

38 For this man sometimes when the Jewes were minded to keepe themselves undefiled and pure, bring accused to bee of the Religion of the Jewes, did offer to spend his body and life with all constancie for the Religion of the Jewes.

39 So Nicanor willing to declare the hatred that he bare to the Jewes, sent about six hundred men of warre to take him.

40 For hee thought by taking him to doe the Jewes much hurt.

41 But when this companie woulde haue taken his castle, and would haue broken the gates by violence, & commanded to bring fire to burne the gates, so that hee was ready to be taken on every side, he fell on his sword, 42 Killing rather to die manfully, then to giue himselfe into the handes of wicked men, and to suffer reproch unworthy for his noble stocke.

43 Notwithstanding what time as he missed of his stroke for haste, and the multitude rushed in violently betwene the doores, he ranne boldly to the wall, and cast himselfe downe manfully among the multitude:

44 Which comeyed themselves lightly away, and gaue place, so that he fell vpon his bellie.

45 Neuertheless while there was yet breath in him, being kild in his minde, he rose vp, & though his blood gushyd out like a fountaine, and he was very sore wounded, yet he ranne thorow the mids of the people,

46 And gate him to the toppe of an hie rocke: so when his blood was vterly gone, heooke out his owne bowels with both his hands, & threw them vpon the people, calling vpon the Lord of life and Spirit: that he would restore them againe vnto him, and thus he died.

CHAP. XV.

1 Nicanor goeth about to come vpon Judas on the Sabbath day. 5 The blasphemie of Nicanor. 14 Maccabeus expounding vnto the Jewes the vision encoura-geeth them. 21 The prayer of Maccabeus. 30 Maccabeus commandeth Nicanors head & handes to be cut off, and his tongue to be giuen vnto the foules. 39 The author excuseth himselfe.

Now when Nicanor knewe that Judas and his companie were in the countrey of Samaria, he thought with all assurance to come vpon them, vpon the Sabbath day.

2 Neuertheless the Jewes that were compelled to goe with him, sayd, O kill not so cruelly and barbarously, but honour and sanctifie the day that is appointed by him that seeth all thyngs.

3 But this most wicked person demanded, Is there a Lord in heauen, that commanded the Sabbath day to be kept?

4 And when they sayde, There is a liuing Lord, which ruleth in the heauen, who commaunded the seuerth day to be kept.

5 Then he sayd, And I am mightie vpon earth to commaund them for to arme themselves and to perfoyme the kings businesse. Forwithstanding he could not accomplish his wicked enterprise.

6 For Nicanor lifted vp with great pride, purposed to set vp a memoriall of the victorie obtained of all them that were with Judas.

7 But Maccabeus had euer true confidence and a perfect hope that the Lord would helpe him,

8 And exhorted his people not to be afrayde at the coming of the heathen, but alway to remember the helpe that had bene shewed vnto them from heauen, and to trust nowe also that they shoulde haue the victorie by the Almighty.

9 Thus he encouraged them by the law and Prophe- ty, putting them in remembrance of the battels that they had wonne afore, and so made them more willing,

10 And stirred vp their hearts, and shewed them also the deceitfullnesse of the heathen, and how they had broken their othes.

11 Thus hee armed every one of them, not with the assurance of shields and speares, but with wholesome words and exhortations, and shewed them a dreame woorthie to be beleued, and reioyced them greatly.

12 And this was his vision, He thought that he saw Onias, (which had bene the high Priest, a vertuous and a good man, reuerent in behauiour, and of sober conuersation, well spoken, and one that had bene exercised in all points of godlinesse from a childe) holding vs his hands toward heauen, and praying for the whole people of the Jewes.

13 After this there appeared vnto him another man which was aged, honourable, and of a wonderfull dignitie, and excellency aboue him.

14 And Onias spake and sayd, This is a loue of the brethren, who prayeth much for the people, and for the holy citie, to wit, Jeremias the Prophet of God.

15 He thought also that Jeremias held out his right hand, & gaue vnto Judas a sword of gold and as he gaue it, he spake thus,

16 Take this holy sword a gift from God, wherewith thou shalt wounde the aduersaries, a. As this priuare example ought not to be followed of the godly because it is contrary to the words of God, although the author seeme hereto approoue it: so that place as touching praiser, Chap. 12. 44. though Judas had appointed it, yet were it not sufficient to prouoe a doctrine, because it is onely a particular example.

so being comforted by the wordes of
 31. which were very sweete and able to stirre them vp to valiantnes & to encourage the hearts of the yong men, they determined to pitch no campe, but couragiously to set vpon them, and manfully to assault them, and to try the matter hand to hand, because the citie and the Sanctuarie and the Temple were in danger.

18 As for their wives and children, and brethren, and kinsfolkes, they set lesse by their danger: but their greatest and principall feare was for the holy Temple.

19 Againe they that were in the citie, were carefull for the armie that was abroad.

20 Now whiles they all waited for the tryall of the matter, and the enemies now met with them, and the hoste was set in aray, & the beasts were separated into convenient places, and the horsemen were placed in the wings:

21 Haccabeus considering the coming of the multitude, and the diuers preparations of weapons, and the fiercenesse of the beaults, held vp his hands toward heauen, calling vpon the Lord that doeth wonders, & that looked vpon them, knowing that the victorie cometh not by the weapons, but that hee giveth the victorie to them that are worthy, as seemeth good vnto him.

22 Therefore in his prayer he sayd after this manner, O Lord, thou that didst send thine Angel in the time of Ezekias king of Iudca, who in the hoste of Sennacherib, slew an hundred fourscore and five thousand,

23 Send now also thy good Angel before vs, O Lord of heaueus, for a feare and dread vnto
 them,

24 And let them be discomfited by y strength of thine arme, which come against thine holy people to blasphemie. Thus with these wordes he made an end.

25 Then Micanor and they that were with him, drew neere with trumpets and shoutings for toy.

26 But Judas and his companie praying and calling vpon God, encountered with the enemies.

27 So that with their handes they fought, but with their hearts they prayed vnto God, and slew no lesse then five and thirtie thousand men: for though the presence of God they were wonderously comforted.

28 Now when they left off, and were turning againe with toy, they vnderstood that Micanor himselfe was slaine for all his armour.

29 Then they made a great shout and a cry, praying the Almightye in their owne language.

30 Therefore Judas which was euer the chiefe defender of his citizens both in body and mind, and which bare euer good affection towardes them of his nation, commanded to linte off Micanors head, with his hand and spoulder, and to bring it to Ierusalem.

31 And when he came there, he called at them of his nation, and let the Idolltes vpon the altar, and sent for them of the castle,

32 And then hee cut Micanors head, and the hand of that blasphemie, which hee had holden vp against the holy Temple of the Almighty, with proud bags.

33 Hee cauled the tongue also of wicked Micanor to be cut in little peeces, and to be cast vnto the foules, and that the rewards of his madnes should be hanged vp before the Temple.

34 So euery man prayed toward the heauen the glorious Lord, saying, Blessed be hee, that hath kept his place vndefiled.

35 Hee hanged also Micanors head vpon the high castle, for an euident and plaine token vnto all of the help of God.

36 And so they established altogether by a common decree that they would in no case suffer this day without keeping it holy:

37 And that the feast should be the thirteenth day of the twelfth moneth, which is called Adar in the Syrians language, the day before Nabadochens day.

38 Thus saue as concerning Micanors matters, and from that time the Hebrewes had the citie in possession. And here will I also make an end.

39 If I haue done well, and as the storie required, it is the thing that I desired: but if I haue spoken slenderly and barely, it is that I could.

40 For as it is hurtfull to drinke wine alone, and then againe water: and as wine tempered with water is pleasant and delighteth the taste:
 so the setting out of the matter delighteth the cares of them that read the storie. And heere shall be the end.

Creation of man.
Sinne.

Moreover, these Bookes teach vs, that this very God Almighty, after he created all things, (thoep Also Adam the first man, <sup>g</sup>ro the image and spirituall similitude of himselfe, and that he did constitute him Lord ouer all things that he had created in earth. Which Adam by the enuie and fraude of the deull, transgressing the precept of his Creator, <sup>h</sup>by this his sinne brought in such and so great sinne into the worlde, that we which be sprong from him by the flesh, <sup>i</sup>bee in nature the children of wrath, and thereupon we be made subiect and thrall to death, to damnation, to the yoke and tyranny of the deull.

Christ promised.

Furthermore, we are taught by these excellent bookes, that God promised to <sup>k</sup> Adam, <sup>l</sup> Abraham, <sup>m</sup> Isaac, <sup>n</sup> Jacob, <sup>o</sup> David, and to other Fathers of the olde time, that he would sende that blessed seede, his Sonne Iesus Christ our Sauour, which should deliuer all those from sinne, and from the tyranny of the deull which by a liuely and working faith should beleue this promise, and put their trust in Iesus Christ, hoping that of him and by him, they should obtaine this deliuerance.

The Law.

Also they giue vs to vnderstand, that in the meane season, while those Fathers the Iſraelites looked for the saluation, and deliuerance promised (for that the nature of man is such, so proud and so corrupt, that those would not willingly acknowledge themselves to be sinners, which had neede of the Sauour promised) God the Creator gaue by Moses his <sup>q</sup> Lawe written in two Tables of stone: that by it, sinne & the malice of mans heart being <sup>r</sup> knownen, men might more vehemently thirst for the coming of Iesus Christ, who should redeeme and deliuer them from sinne: which thing, neither the Lawe, nor yet the sacrifices and oblations of the Law did <sup>t</sup> performe. For they were shadowes and figures of the true oblation of the body of Christ: by which oblation all <sup>u</sup> sinne should be blotted out, and quite put away.

Christ God our Sauour came.

By the bookes of the new Testament we be taught, that Christ so afore promised (* which is God <sup>v</sup> aboute all things most blessed for euer) euen hee, I say, was shadowed in the bookes of the olde Testament, and in sacrifices figured, that hee was <sup>w</sup> sent at the last from the Father, the selfe same time which the Father did constitute within himselfe: I say, <sup>x</sup> at that time when all wickednesse abounded in the world, then hee was sent. And this Iesus our Sauour being borne in the flesh, <sup>y</sup> suffered death, and rose againe from the dead. Which actes of his were not done by him in respect of the <sup>z</sup> good workes of any man (for we were all sinners) but that this God our Father should <sup>a</sup> appeare true, in exhibiting the abundant <sup>b</sup> riches of his grace which he promised, and that <sup>c</sup> through his mercie hee might bring vs to saluation.

A Lambe.
A sacrifice.
Peace.
Adoption.

Whereupon it is evidently shewed in the <sup>d</sup> Newe Testament, that Iesus Christ, being the true <sup>e</sup> Lambe, the true <sup>f</sup> sacrifice of the worlde, <sup>g</sup> putting away the sinnes of men, came into this worlde to purchase grace and <sup>h</sup> peace for vs with the Father, <sup>i</sup> washing vs from our sinnes in his owne blood, and <sup>k</sup> should deliuer vs from the bondage of the deull, whom by sinne we did serue: And so we should be <sup>l</sup> adopted by him to be the sonnes of God, made theires with him of that most excellent and euerlasting kingdome.

The holy Ghost.
Faith.

Now that we should acknowledge this singular and excellent benefit of God towards vs, almighty God <sup>m</sup> giueth vs his holy Spirit: the <sup>n</sup> fruit and effect of which, is faith in God, and in his Christ. For without the holy Ghost, by which we are <sup>o</sup> instructed and <sup>p</sup> sealed, neither can we beleue that God the Father sent Messias, nor yet that Iesus is Christ: For <sup>q</sup> no man (saith Paul) can say that Iesus is the Lord, but by the holy Ghost. The <sup>r</sup> same Spirit witnesseth to our spirit, that we are the children of God, <sup>s</sup> and powreth into our bowels that Charitie which Paul describeth to the Corinthians. Furthermore, that Iesus Christ doth giue vs hope, which is a sure looking for eternal life, whereof hee himselfe is the certain <sup>t</sup> token and pledge. Also he giueth vs other <sup>u</sup> spirituall gifts, of the which Paul writeth to the Galatians. Therefore the benefit of faith is not to be despised or litle to be set by. For by the means of this trust & <sup>v</sup> faith in Christ, which <sup>w</sup> worketh by charity, & sheweth it selfe forth by the works of charity, mouing man thereto, we are <sup>x</sup> iustified and sanctified: that is to say, God and the Father of our Lord

The summe of the holy Scripture.

Iesus Christ (which is made our <sup>d</sup> Father also by him, being our <sup>e</sup> brother) doth accompt vs to bee iust and holy through his grace, and through the merite of his Sonne Iesus Christ, nor <sup>f</sup> imputing our sinnes to vs, so farre forth, that we should suffer the paines of hell for them.

Finally, Christ himselfe g came into the world, to the intent that we through him being sanctified and cleansed from our sinnes, following his will in good workes, should denie the things pertaining to the flesh, and freely <sup>h</sup> serue him in right coulesse and holinesse all the dayes of our life: and that <sup>i</sup> by good workes (which God hath prepared for vs to walke in) we should <sup>k</sup> shew our selues to bee called to his grace and gift of faith: which good workes who so hath not, doth shew himselfe not to haue such a faith in Christ as is required in vs.

To Christ must we come, and follow him with a cheerefull minde, that he may teach vs: For hee is <sup>m</sup> our master, <sup>n</sup> lowly and humble of heart: he is to vs an <sup>o</sup> example, whereby we must learne the rule to liue well.

Moreouer, hee is our <sup>p</sup> Bishop, and our <sup>q</sup> high Priest, which did himselfe offer vp for vs his owne blood, being the onely <sup>r</sup> mediator betweene God and men: Who now sitteth at the right hand of God the Father, being made our <sup>s</sup> aduocate, making prayer and intercession for vs: who doubtlesse shall obtaine for vs <sup>t</sup> whatsoever we shall desire, either of him, or else of his Father in his Name, if so be that we thus desiring, shall beleue that he will so doe: for thus hath he promised. Therefore let vs not doubt, if we sinne at any time, to come with <sup>u</sup> repentance (to the which hee doeth inuite and stirre vs at the very beginning of his preaching) and with pure trust to the <sup>x</sup> throne of his grace, with this beleefe, that wee shall obtaine mercie. For therefore <sup>y</sup> hee came into the world, that hee might saue sinners by his grace.

This is verily Christ Iesus, which shall come at a <sup>z</sup> certaine time appointed by his Father, and shall sit in great maiestic to <sup>a</sup> iudge all men, and to render to euery man <sup>b</sup> the workes of his body according to that he hath done, whether it be good or euill: And hee shall say to them which shall be on the right side, which in this world did looke for the good things to come (that is, to say, life euerlasting): <sup>c</sup> Come yee blessed of my Father, enioy the kingdome that hath bene prepared for you from the beginning of the world: but to them which shall be on the left side, hee shall say, Depart from me yee cursed into euerlasting fire prepared for the deuil and his Angels. And then <sup>d</sup> shall the end be, when Christ hauing vterly vanquished all manner of enemies, shall deliuer vp the kingdome to God the Father,

To the intent that wee might vnderstand these things, the <sup>e</sup> sacred Bookes of the Bible were deliuered to vs by the goodnesse of God through his holy Spirit, with the preaching of that doctrine which is contained in them, and with his Sacraments, by which the truth of his doctrine is seal'd vp to vs: that we <sup>f</sup> might vnderstand, I say, and heleue that there is one onely true God, and one Sauiour Iesus Christ, whom (as he had promised) he hath sent: g and that we beleeuing might haue in his Name life euerlasting.

Besides this <sup>h</sup> foundation, no man can lay any other in the Church of Christ: and vpon this foundation the Church doeth stand sure and stedfast. And Paul willet him to bee <sup>i</sup> accursed which shall preach any other faith and saluation, then by Iesus Christ, yea, although hee were an Angel from heauen.

For <sup>k</sup> of him, through him, and for him, are all things: To whom with the Father and the holy Ghost, be all honour and glory, world without end, Amen.

¶ Certaine questions and answers touching the doctrine of Predestination, the vse of Gods word and Sacraments.

Question.

Why doe men so much vary in matters of religion?

By doe men so much vary in matters of religion?

Answer. Because all haue not the like measure of knowledge, neither do all beleene the Gospel of Christ.

Question.

What is the reason thereof?

Answer.

Because they onely beleue the Gospel and doctrine of Christ, which are ordained vnto eternall life.

Question.

Are not all ordained vnto eternall life?

Answer.

Some are vessels of wrath ordained vnto destruction, as others are vessels of mercie prepared to glory.

Question.

How standeth it with Gods iustice, that some are appointed vnto damnation?

Answer.

Very well: because all men haue in themselves sinne, which deserueth no lesse: and therefore the mercy of God is wonderfull in that hee vouchsafeth to saue some of that sinful race, and to bring them to the knowledge of the truth.

Question.

If Gods ordinance and determination must of necessitie take effect, then what need any man to care? for hee that liueth well, must needs be damned, if he be thereunto ordained: and he that liueth ill must needs be saued if he be thereunto appointed.

Answer.

Not so: for it is not possible, that either the elect should alwayes be without care to doe well, or that the reprobate should haue any will thereunto. For to haue either good will or good worke, it is a testimony of the Spirit of God, which is giuen to the elect onely, whereby faith is so wrought in them, that, being graft in Christ, they grow in holiness to that glory, whereunto they are appointed. Neither are they so vaine as once to thinke that they may doe as they list themselves, because they are predestinate vnto saluation: but rather they endeouour to walke in such good workes as God in Christ Iesus hath ordained them vnto, and prepared for them to be occupied in, to their owne comfort, stay and assurance, and to his glory.

Question.

But how shall I know my selfe to bee one of those whom God hath ordained to life eternall?

Answer.

By the motions of spirituall life, which belong onely to the children of God: by the which that life is perceived, euen as the life of this body is discerned by the sence and motions thereof.

Question.

What meane you by the motions of spirituall life?

Answer.

I meane remoyse of conscience, loyned with the lothing of sinne, and loue of righteousness: the hand of faith reaching vnto life eternall in Christ, the conscience comforted in distresse, and raised by to confidence in God by the worke of his Spirit: a thankfull remembrance of Gods benefites received, and the vsing of all aduerities as occasions of amendement sent from God.

Question.

Cannot such perish as at some time or other feele these motions within themselves?

Answer.

It is not possible that they should: for as Gods purpose is not changeable, so hee repenteth not of the gifts and graces of his adoption: neither doth hee cast off those whom he hath once received.

Question.

Why then should we pray by the example of David, that hee cast vs not from his face, and that hee take not his holy Spirit from vs?

Answer.

In so praying we make protestation of the weaknesse of flesh, which moueth vs to doubt: yet should not we haue courage to aske, if wee were not assured that God will giue according to his purpose and promise that which we require.

Question.

Do the children of God feele the motions aforesayd alwayes alike?

Answer.

Not truely: for God sometime to prooue his, seemeth to leaue them in such sort, that the flesh ouermatcheth the spirit, whereof ariseth trouble of conscience for the time:

Questions and answers

yet the spirit of adoption is neuer taken from them, that haue once receiued it: else might they perish. But as in many diseases of the body, the powers of bodily life are fettered: So in some assaults these motions of spiritual life are not perceined, because they lie hid- den in our manifold infirmitiez, as the fire covered with ashes. Yet as after sickness commeth health, and after clouds the sunne shineth cleare: so the powers of the spiritu- all life wil more or lesse be felt and perceined in the children of God.

Question.

What if I neuer feele these motions in my selfe, shall I despair, and thinke my selfe a castaway?

Answer.

God forbid: for God calleth his at what time he seeth good: & the instruments wher- by he usually calleth, haue not the like effect at all times, yet it is not good to neglect the meanes whereby God hath determined to worke the saluation of his. For as ware is not melted without heat, no: clay hardened but by meanes thereof: so God useth meanes both to draw those vnto himselfe, whom he hath appointed vnto saluation, and also to bewray the wickednesse of them whom hee iustly condemneth.

Question.

By what meanes vseth God to draw men to himselfe that they may be saued?

Answer.

By the preaching of his word and the mi- nistring of his Sacraments thereunto an- nered.

Question.

What meane you by the word of God?

Answer.

I meane the doctrine of the Prophets and Apostles which they receiued of the spirit of God, and haue left written in that Booke which we commonly call the Old and New Testament.

Question.

How may I be assured that it is the word of God, which that Booke containeth?

Answer.

By the maiestie of God appearing in that plaine and simple doctrine: by the purenes, vprightnesse and holines thereof: by the cer- taintie of enery thing therein affirmed: by the successe of all things according to it: by perpetuall consent which is to be teene in e- uery part thereof: by the excellencie of the matters vetered: But especially by the tes- timony of Gods Spirit, wherby it was written, who mouerth the hearts of those in whom it resteth, to consent vnto the worde, and reuerently to embrace it.

Question.

How doth this word of God serue to draw men vnto him?

Answer.

When it is so preached and heard, that men may vnderstand and learne what God teacheth: accept and receiue thankfully that which is thereby giuen, promised & assured: and be moued with desire and diligence to doe that which it commandeth.

Question.

Doe the Sacraments also serue to this end?

Answer.

Yea hereby: that by sight, taste and fee- ling, as well as by hearing, we might be in- structed, assured, and brought to obedience.

Question.

How doth our Baptisme serue hereunto?

Answer.

It teacheth vs to put on Christ, that with his righteousnesse our sinfulness may be hid- den: it assurcth vs that we are so graft into Christ, that all our sinnes by him are wa- shed away: it chargeth vs to die to sinne, to continue in the profession of Christ, and to loue each other.

Question.

Wath the Lords Supper also this vse?

Answer.

Yea doubtlesse: for it teacheth, that the body and blood of Christ crucified, is the only food of the new borne children of God: it assurcth that Christ is wholly theirs to giue and to continue life spiritual and hea- uenly to body and soule, to nourish, streng- then, refresh, & to make cheerefull the hearts of the elect: it requirerth thankfull remem- brance of the death of Christ, vniue among those that doe professe him with a free con- fession of his truth.

Question.

Why is not this vse of the Sacraments commonly knowne?

Answer.

Because they are abused for forme, for fa- shion, for custome and company, without re- gard vnto the word, wherunto they are so annexed, that they ought not vpon any ne- cessitie, by any person bee seuered from it, which teacheth the right vse of enery thing.

Question.

I perceiue that nothing is more necessary then the word of God: therefore I pray you shew me how I may attaine to some know- ledge and profit thereby.

Answer.

By diligent hearing of such as preach it, by continuall and orderly exercise of reading and praying.

Question.

What orderly exercise thinke you most conuenient to be vset herein?

Answer.

Answer.

That as every day, twise at the least, wee most commonly receiue foode to the nourishment of this cozpozall life: so no day bee let passe without some reading, in such sort that occasion thereby may bee taken to speake againe vnto God by prayer, as he in his word speaketh vnto vs: So that at the least two Chapters would bee orderly and aduisedly read every day, all other businesse, impediments and lets set apart.

— Question.

This seemeth very easie to be done: what thinke you else requisite?

Answer.

That some especiall places of Scripture be so committed to memorie, that the minde may euer be furnished with some good matter against all temptations. To which ende

I note these Scriptures vnto you, whereunto you may toyne other at your owne choise: Psalmes 139. 37. 50. Esa. 53. Job. 17. Rom. 8. 1. Tim. 4.

Question.

But the Scriptures are hard, and not easie to vnderstand.

Answer.

Discourage not your selfe herewith: for God maketh them easie to such as in humilitie seeke him: and that hardnesse that you finde, serueth to mooue you to the more diligence, and to make inquirie of such as haue knowledge, when any doubt ariseth. That which you perceiue not at one time, God shall reuella at another: So that you shall haue your growing in grace, knowledge and godlinesse, to Gods glorie and your owne comfort in Christ, whose Name for euer bee praised. Amen.

The holy<sup>a</sup> Gospel of Iesus Christ

THE ARGUMENT.

IN this historie written by Matthew, Marke, Luke, & Iohn, the Spirit of God so governed their hearts, that although they were foure in number, yet in effect and purpose they so consent, as though the whole had bene composed by any one of them. And albeit in stile and manner of writing they be diuers, and sometime one writeth more largely than which the other doeth abridge: neuertheless in matter and argument, they all tend to one end: which is to publish to the world the fauour of God toward mankind through Christ Iesus, whom the Father hath giuen as a pledge of his mercy and loue. And for this cause they entitle their story, Gospel, which signifieth good tydings, forasmuch as God hath performed in deed that which the fathers hoped for. So that hereby we are admonished to forsake the world, and the vanities thereof, and with most affectioned hearts embrace this incooperable treasure freely offered vnto vs: for there is no ioy nor consolation, nor peace nor quietnesse, no felicitie nor saluation, but in Iesus Christ, who is the very substance of this Gospel, & in whom all the promises are Yea, and Amen. And therefore vnder this word is contained the whole new Testament: but commonly we vse this name for the historie, which the foure Euangelists write, containing Christs comming in the flesh, his death, and resurrection, which is the perfect summe of our saluation. Matthew, Marke, and Luke are more copious in describing his life and death: but Iohn more laboureth to set forth his doctrine, wherein both Christs office, and also the vertue of his death and resurrection more fully appeare: for without this, to know that Christ was borne, dead, and risen againe, shou'd nothing profit vs. The which thing notwithstanding that the three first touch partly, as hee also sometime intermedleth the historical narration, yet Iohn chiefly is occupied herein. And therefore as a most learned interpreter writeth, they describe, as it were, the body, and Iohn setteth before our eyes the soule. Wherefore the same aptly termeth the Gospel written by Iohn, the key which openeth the doore to the vnderstanding of the others: for whose seer doth know the office, vertue and power of Christ, shall read that which is written of the Sonne of God come to be the Redeemer of the world, with most profic. Now as concerning the writers of this historie, it is euident that Matthew was a Publicane or custome gatherer, & was thence chosen of Christ to be an Apostle. Marke is thought to haue bene Peters disciple, and to haue planted the first Church at Alexandria, where he died the eight yeere of the reigne of Nero. Luke was a Physician of Antiochia, and became Pauls disciple, and fellow in all his traualles: he liued fourescore and foure yeeres, and was buried at Constantinople. Iohn was that Apostle whom the Lord loued, the sonne of Zebedeus, and brother of Iames: he died threescore yeere after Christ, and was buried neere to the cite of Ephesus.

17 So all the generations from Abiham to David, are foureteeen generations: and from David vntill they were caried away into Babylon, foureteeen generations: and after they were caried away into Babylon, vntill Christ, foureteeen generations.

18 How the birth of Iesus Christ was thus: When as his mother Mary was betrothed to Ioseph, before they came together, shee was found with child of the holy Ghost.

19 Then Ioseph her husband being a iust man, and not willing to make her a publike example, was minded to put her away secretly.

20 But whiles hee thought these things, behold, the Angel of the Lord appeared vnto him in a dreame, saying, Ioseph the sonne of David, feare not to take Marie for thy wife: for that which is conceived in her, is of the holy Ghost.

21 And shee shall bring forth a sonne, and thou shalt call his name: Iesus: for he shall saue his people from their sinnes.

22 And all this was done that it might bee fulfilled, which was spoken of the Lord by the Prophet, saying, 23 Behold, a Virgine shall bee with child, and shall beare a sonne, and they shall call his name Emmanuel, which is by interpretation, God with vs.

24 Then Ioseph being raised from sleepe, did as the Angel of the Lord had intioned him, and tooke his wife.

25 But shee knewe her not, till shee had brought forth her first borne sonne, and hee called his name IESVS.

b Wisemen from the East to Jerusalem, 2 Saying, Where is the King of the Jewes that is borne: for we haue seene his starre in the East, and are come to worship him.

3 When king Herode heard this he was troubled, and all Jerusalem with him.

4 And gathering together all the chiefe Priests and Scribes of the people, hee asked of them, where Christ should be borne.

5 And they sayde vnto him, At Bethlehem in Iudea: for so it is written by the Prophet,

6 And thou Beth lehem in the land of Iuda, art not the least among the princes of Iuda: for out of thee shall come the gouernour that shall feede my people Israel.

7 Then Herode priuily called the wisemen, and diligently inquired of them the time of the starre that appeared.

8 And sent them to Bethlehem, saying, See, and search diligently for the babe: and when yee haue found him, bring me word againe, that I may come also, and worship him.

9 So when they had heard the King, they departed: and loe, the starre which they had seene in the East, went before them, till it came, and stood ouer the place where the babe was.

10 And when they sawe the starre, they reioyced with an exceeding great ioy.

11 And went into the house, and found the babe with Mary his mother, and fell downe, and worshipped him, and opened their treasures, and presented vnto him giftes, euen golde, and incense and myrrhe.

12 And after they were warned of God in a dreame, that they should not go againe to Herode, they returned into their countrey another way.

13 After their departure, behold, the Angel of the Lord appeareth to Ioseph in a dreame, saying, Arise, and take the babe and his mother, and flee into Egypt, and bee there till I bring thee word: for Herode will seeke the babe, to destroy him.

14 So hee arose, and tooke the babe and his mother by night, and departed into Egypt.

15 And was there vnto the death of Herode, that it might be fulfilled, which was spoken of the Lord by the Prophet, saying, Out of Egypt haue I called my borne.

16 Then Herode, seeing that he was mocked of the wise men, was exceeding wroth, and sent forth, and slew all the male children that were in Bethlehem, and in all the coastes thereof, from two yeere olde and vnder, according to the time which hee had diligently searched out of the wisemen.

17 Then was that fulfilled which was saying of Iherusalem, that thou shalt be trodden with the feet of heathen, till thou shalt be brought to Iherusalem. And thou shalt be trodden with the feet of heathen, till thou shalt be brought to Iherusalem. And thou shalt be trodden with the feet of heathen, till thou shalt be brought to Iherusalem. And thou shalt be trodden with the feet of heathen, till thou shalt be brought to Iherusalem.

19 And when Herod was dead, behold, an Angel of the Lord appeareth in a dreame to Ioseph in Egypt, 20 Saying, Arise, and take the babe and his mother, and goe into the lande of Israel: for they are dead which sought the babes life.

21 Then he arose vp, and tooke the babe and his mother, and came into the lande of Israel.

22 But when hee heard that Archelans did reigne in Iudea in stead of his father Herode, hee was afraid to goe thither: yet after hee was warned of God in a dreame, hee turned aside into the parts of Galilee, shouldest dash thy foote against a stone.

 7 Jesus sayd vnto him, It is written againe, * Thou shalt not steipt the Lord thy God.
 8 Again the deuill tooke him by vnto an exceeding high mountaine, and <sup>b</sup> shewed him all the kingdomes of the world, and the glory of them,
 9 And sayd to him, All these will I giue thee, if thou wilt fall downe and worship me.
 10 Then said Jesus vnto him, Awayde Satan; for it is written, * Thou shalt worship the Lord thy God, and him onely shalt thou serue.
 11 * Then the deuill left him; and behold, the Angells <sup>k</sup> came and ministred vnto him.
 12 * And when Jesus had heard that John was <sup>l</sup> deliuered by, hee returned into Galile,
 13 And leaning Nazareth, went & dwelt in Capernaum, which is neere the <sup>m</sup> sea, in the borders of Zabulon and Nephthali, 14 That it might be fulfilled which was spoken by <sup>n</sup> Osee the Propheer, saying, 15 * The land of Zabulon, and the land of Nephthali by the way of the sea, beyond
 Jordan, <sup>o</sup> Galilee of the Gentiles; 16 The people which sat in <sup>p</sup> darkenesse, saw great light: and to them which sat in the region and shadow of death, light is revealed by.
 17 * From that time Jesus began to preach, and to say, Amend your lines: for the kingdome of heauen is at hand.
 18 * And Jesus walking by the sea of Galile, saw two brethren, Simon, which was called Peter, and Andrew his brother calling a net into the sea (for they were <sup>q</sup> fishers.)
 19 And he sayd vnto them, Follow me, and I will make you fishers of men.
 20 And they straightway leaving the nets, followed him.
 21 And when hee was gone forth from thence, hee saw other two brethren, James the sonne of Zebedeus, and John his brother in a ship with Zebedeus their father, mending their nets, and he called them.
 22 And they without tarying, leaving the ship, and their father followed him.
 23 So Jesus went about all Galile, teaching in their Synagogues, and preaching the Gospel of the <sup>r</sup> kingdome, and healing euery sicknesse and euery disease among the people.
 24 And his fame spread abroad through all Syria: and they brought vnto him all sicke people, that were taken with diuers diseases and gripings, and them that were possessed with <sup>s</sup> demits, and those which were <sup>t</sup> lunatique, and those that had the palfie: and hee healed them.
 25 And there followed him great multitudes out of Galile, and <sup>u</sup> Decapolis, and Ierusalem, and Iudea, and from beyond Jordan.

 against you for my sake, fally.
 12 Reioyce and be glad, for great is your Prophets which were before you.

 13 * Ye are the salt of the earth: but if the salt haue lost his sauour, wherewith shall it be salted? it is thenceforth good for no-that they may see your good works, and glorifye your father which is in heauen.

 17 Thinke not that I am come to destroy the Law, or the Prophets. <sup>h</sup> I am not come to destroy them, but to fulfill them.
 18 * For truly I say vnto you, Till heaven and earth perish, one iote, or one tittle of the Law shall not escape, till <sup>i</sup> all things be fulfilled.
 19 * Whosoener therefore shall breake one of <sup>j</sup> these least commandements, and reach men so, hee shall be called the least in the kingdome of heauen: but whosoener shall obserue and teach them, the same of heauen.

1 Scribes and Pharises, ye shall not enter into the kingdome of heauen.
21 ¶ Ye haue heard that it was said vnto them of the olde time, * Thou shalt not kill:
for whosoever killeth, shall bee culpable of iudgement.
22 But I say vnto you, Whosoever is angry with his brother s̄ vnadvisedly, shall be culpable of iudgement. And whosoever saith vnto his brother, ° Raca, shall be worthy to be punished by the p̄ Council. And whoso-uer shall say, Foole, shall be worthy to be punished with hell fire.
23 If then thou bring thy gift to the altar, and there rememberest that thy brother hath ought against thee, 24 Leaueth there thine offering before the altar, and goe thy way: first be reconciled to thy brother, and then come and offer thy gift.
25 * Agree with thine aduersarie quickly, whiles thou art in the way with him, lest thine aduersarie deliuer thee to the Iudge, and the Iudge deliuer thee to the sergeant, and thou be cast into prison.
26 Verely I say vnto thee, thou shalt not come out thence, till thou hast payed the vt-most farthing.
27 ¶ Ye haue heard that it was sayd to them of olde time, * Thou shalt not commit adulterie.
28 But I say vnto you, that whosoever looketh on a woman to lust after her, hath committed adulterie with her already in his heart.
29 ¶ Therefore if thy right eye cause thee to offend, plucke it out, and cast it from thee:
for better it is for thee, that one of thy members perish, then that thy whole body should be cast into hell.
30 Also if thy right hand make thee to offend, cut it off, and cast it from thee: for better it is for thee that one of thy members perish, then that thy whole body should bee cast into hell.
31 It hath bene said also, * Whosoever shal put away his wife, let him giue her a tes-timoniall of diuorcement.
32 But I say vnto you, Whosoever shall put away his wife (except it be for fornication) causeth her to commit adultery: & whosoever shall marie her that is diuorced, com-mitteth adultery.
33 Again, ye haue heard that it was said to them of olde time, * Thou shalt not so-swear thy selfe, but shalt performe thine othes to the Lord.
34 But I say vnto you, ¶ Swear not at all, neither by heauen, for it is the throne of God:
35 Nor yet by the earth: for it is his foot-stool: neither by Ierusalem: for it is the ci-tie of the great King.
36 Neither shalt thou sweare by thine head, because thou canst not make one haire white or blacke.

37 * But let your communication be: ¶ Peacea: Nay, nay. For what soeuer is more then these, commeth of y euill.
38 ¶ Ye haue heard that it hath bene said,
An eye for an eye, and a tooth for a tooth.
39 But I say vnto you, * Resist not euill:
but whosoever shall smite thee on the right cheeke, turne to him the other also.
40 And if any man will lit thee at the Law, and take away thy cloate, let him haue thy cloke also.
41 And whosoever wil compell thee to go a mile, go with him twaine.
42 ¶ Giue to him that asketh, and from him that would borrow of thee, turne not away.
43 Ye haue heard that it hath bene said,
* Thou shalt loue thy neighbour, and hate thine enemy.
44 But I say vnto you, * Loue your enemies: blesse them that curse you: do good to them that hate you, & pray for them which hurt you, and persecute you.
45 * That ye may be the children of your Father that is in heauen: for he maketh his sunne to arise on the euill, and the good, and sendeth raine on the iust and vniust.
46 * For if you loue them which loue you, what reward shall you haue? Doe not the Publicanes enen the same?
47 And if ye be friendly to your brethren onely, what singular thing doe ye? doe not euen the Publicanes likewise?

6 But when thou prayest, * enter into thy chamber: and when thou hast shut thy doore, pray vnto thy ffather which is in se- cret, and thy ffather which seeth in secret, shall reward thee openly.
 7 Alfo when ye pray, || * vse no vaine re- petitions as the heathen: for they thinke to be heard for their much babbling.
 8 Be ye not like them therefore: for your ffather knoweth whereof yee haue neede, before ye aske of him.
 9 After this * maner therefore pray ye, * Our ffather which art in heauen, hallowed be thy * name.
 10 Thy * kingdome come. Thy will be done euen in earth, as it is in heauen.
 11 Giue vs this day our daily bread.
 12 And forgie vs our debts, as we also forgiue our debtors.
 13 And leade vs not into tentation, but deliuer vs * from euill: for * thine is the kingdome, and the power, and the glorie for euer, Amen.
 14 * For if yee doe forgiue men their tres- passes, your heauenly ffather will also for- giue you.
 15 But if yee doe not forgiue men their trespasses, no more will your ffather for- giue you your trespasses.
 16 Whereouer, when yee fast, looke not sovre, as the hypocrites: for thy * disfigure their faces, that they might seme vnto men to fast. Certely I say vnto you, that they haue their reward.
 17 But when thou fastest, * anoint thine head, and wash thy face, 18 That thou seme not vnto men to fast, but vnto thy ffather which is in secret, and thy ffather which seeth in secret, will re- ward thee openly.
 19 Lay not vp treasures for your selues vpon the earth, where the moth and canker corrupt, and where theues dig thongs, and steale.
 20 * But lay vp treasure for your selues in heauen, where neither the moth nor canker corrupteth, and where theues neither dig throug, nor steale.
 21 For where your treasure is, there will your heart be also.
 22 * The light of the body is the eye: if ehen thine eye be single, thy whole body shall bee light.
 23 But if thine eye be wicked, then all thy body shall bee darke. Wherefore if the * light that is in thee, be darkenest, how great is that darknesse?
 24 * No man can serue two masters: for either, hee shall hate the one, and loue the other, or else hee shall leane to the one, and despise the other. Ye cannot serue God and riches.
 25 * Therefore I say vnto you, Bee not careful for your life, what yee shall eat, or what ye shall drinke: nor yet for your bodie, what yee shall put on. Is not th e life more woorth then meate? and the bodie then raiment?

26 Behold the foules of the heauen: for they sowe not, neither reape, nor carrie into the barns: yet your heauenly ffather feedeth them. Are ye not much better then they?
 27 Which of you by taking care, is able to adde one cubit vnto his stature?
 28 And why care ye for raiment? Learne, how the lilies of the ffield doe growe: they labour not, neither spin:
 29 Yet I say vnto you, that euen Solo- mon in all his glory was not arrayed like one of these.
 30 Wherefore if God do clothe the grasse of the ffield which is to day, and to morow is cast into the oven, shall he not do much more vnto you, O ye of little faith?
 31 Therefore take no thought, saying, What shall we eat, or what shall we drinke? or where with shall we be clothed?
 32 (For after all these things * seeke the Gentiles) for your heauenly ffather know- eth that ye haue need of all these things.
 33 But seeke ye first the kingdom of God, and his * righteousnesse, and all these things shall be ministred vnto you.
 34 Care not then for the morow: for the morow shall care for it: * selfe: the day hath enough with his owne griefe.

12 * Therefore whatsoeuer ye would that men should do to you, euen so do ye to them: for this is the Law and the Prophets.

13 * Enter in at the strait gate, for it is the wide gate, and broad: way that leadeth to destruction: and many there be which goe in thereat.

23 And then will I professe to them, * I neuer knew you: * depart from me, yee that worke iniquitie.

24 Whosoever then heareth of me these wordes, * and doeth the same, I will liken him to a wise man, which hath builded his house on a rocke :

26 But whosoever heareth these my wordes, and doeth them not, shall be likened vnto a foolish man, which hath builded his house vpon the sand :

27 And the raine fell, & the floods came, and the windes blew, and beare vpon that house, & it fell, and the fall thereof was great.

28 * And it came to passe when Iesus had ended these wordes, the people were astonished at his doctrine.

29 For hee taught them as one hauing authority, and not as the Scribes.

Now when hee was come downe from the mountaine, great multitudes followed him.

3 And Iesus putting forth his hand, touched him, saying, I will be thou cleane: and immediately his leprosie was cleansed.

4 Then Iesus said vnto him, See thou telle no man, but goe, and shew thy selfe vnto the Priest, and offer the gift that * Moses commanded, for a witnessse to thee.

5 * When Iesus was entered into Capernaum, there came vnto him a Centurion, beseeching him,

6 And said, Master, my seruant lieth sick at home of the palsey, & is grievously pained.

7 And Iesus said vnto him, I will come and heale him.

8 But the Centurion answered, saying, Master, I am not worthy that thou shouldst come vnder my roofe: but speake the word onely, and my seruant shall be healed.

9 For I am a man also vnder the authority of another, and haue souldiers vnder me: and I say vnto one, Goe, and hee goeth; and to another, Come, and he cometh: and to my seruant, Doe this, and he doeth it.

10 When Iesus heard that, hee maruelled, and said to them that followed him, Verely I say vnto you, I haue not found so great faith, euen in Israel.

13 Then Iesus said vnto the Centurion, Goe thy way, and as thou hast beleued, so be it vnto thee. And his seruant was healed the same houre.

19 * Then came there a certaine Scribe, and said vnto him, Master, * I will follow thee whithersoener thou goest.

20 But Iesus said vnto him, The foxes haue holes, and the birdes of heauen haue nests, but the Sonne of man hath not wher- on to rest his head.

28 ¶ And when hee was come to the other side, into the countrey of the Gergesenes, there met him two possessed with deuils, which came out of the graues very fierce: so that no man might goe by that way.

29 And behold, they cryed out, saying, Iesus the Sonne of God, what haue wee to doe with thee? Art thou come hither to torment vs? before the time?

33 Then the herdmen fled: and when they were come into the citie, they tolde all things, and what was become of them, that were possessed with the deuils.

16 Of the raw cloth & new wine. 22 He healeth the woman of the bloody issue. 25 He raiseth Jairus daughter, 29 Giveth two blind men their sight, 33 Maketh a dumme man to speake, 35 Preacheth and healeth vs in diuers places, 38 And exhorteth to prayers for the aduancement of the Gospell.

¶ When he entred into a ship, and passed ouer, and came into his owne Citie.

2 And loe, they brought to him a man sicke of the palsy, lying on a bed. And Iesus seeing their faith, sayd to the sicke of the palsy, Sonne, be of good comfort: thy sins are forgiven thee.

3 And beholde, certaine of the Scribes sayd with themselves, This man blasphemeth.

4 But when Iesus saw their thoughts, hee sayd, Wherefore thinke ye euill things in your hearts?

c Because they did maliciously refuse Christ, who offered himselfe vnto them.

5 For whether is it easier to say, Thy sinnes are forgiven thee, or to say, Arise, and walke?

6 And that ye may know that the Sonne of man hath authority in earth to forgive sinnes, (then saide hee vnto the sicke of the palsy,) Arise, take vp thy bed, and goe to thine house.

7 And he arose, and departed to his own house.

8 So when the multitude saw it, they marvelled, and glorified God, which had giuen such authority to men.

9 ¶ And as Iesus passed forth from thence, hee saw a man sitting at the rectice of custome, named Matthew, and said to him, Follow me. And he arose, and folowed him.

10 And it came to passe, as Iesus sat at meate in his house, behold, many Publicanes and sinners, that came thither, late downe at the table with Iesus and his disciples.

11 And when the Pharisees saw that, they said to his Disciples, Why eatech your Master with Publicanes and kuners?

12 Now when Iesus heard it, hee said vnto them, The whole need not a phylician, but they that are sicke.

13 But goe ye and learne what this is, I will haue mercy, and not sacrifice: for I am not come to call the righteous, but the sinners to repentance.

14 ¶ Then came the disciples of Iohn to him, saying, Why doe we and the Pharisees fast oft, and thy Disciples fast not?

15 And Iesus sayd vnto them, Can the children of the mariage chamber mourne, as long as the bridegome is with them? But the dayes will come when the bridegome shall be taken from them, and then shall they fast.

16 Moreover, no man pieceth an old garment with a piece of newe cloth: for that that should fill it vp, taketh away from the garment, and the breach is worse.

17 Neither doe they put new wine into old vessels: for then the vessels would breake, and the wine would bee spilt, and the vessels should perish: but they put new wine into new vessels, and so are both preserued.

18 ¶ While hee thus spake vnto them, behold, there came a certaine ruler, and worshipped him, saying, My daughter is now deceased, but come & lay thine hand on her and she shall liue.

19 And Iesus arose, and followed him with his disciples.

20 ( And behold, a woman which was diseased with an issue of blood twelue yeres, came behinde him, and touched the hemme of his garment.

25 And when the multitude were put forth, he went in and tooke her by the hand, and the maid arose.

26 And this brute went throughout all that land.

27 And as Jesus departed thence, two blind men followed him, crying, and saying, Sonne of David, haue mercy vpon vs.

28 And when hee was come into the house, the blind came to him, and Jesus layd vnto them, m Welcome ye that I am able to doe this: And they said vnto him, Pea, Lord.

29 Then touched hee their eyes, saying, According to your faith be it vnto you.

30 And their eyes were opened, and Jesus charged them, saying, See that no man know it.

31 But when they were departed, they spread abroad his fame throughout all that land.

32 * And as they went out, behold, they brought to him a dumme man possessed with a deuill.

33 And when the deuill was cast out, the dumme spake: then the multitude marvelled, saying, The like was neuer seene in Israel.

40 * he called his twelue Disciples vnto him. and gaue them power against vncleane spirits, to cast them out, and to heale euery sicknesse, and euery disease.

41 Now the names of the twelue Apostles are these. The first is Simon, called Peter, and Andrew his brother: James

3 Philip and Bartlemew: Thomas, and Matthew the Publicane: James the sonne of Alphaus, and Lebbaus whose surname was Thaddaeus:

4 Simon the Cananite. and Judas Iscariot who also betrayed him.

5 These twelue did Jesus send forth, and commanded them, saying, Goe not into the way of the Gentiles, and into the cities of the Samaritans enter ye not:

6 But goe rather * to the * lost sheepe of the house of Israel.

7 * And as ye goe, preach, saying, The kingdom of heauen is at hand.

15 Truly I say vnto you, it shall be easier for them of the lande of * Sodom and Gomorrah in the day of iudgement, then for that citie.

16 * Behold, I send you as sheepe in the midst of wolues: be ye therefore wise as serpents, and * innocent as dones.

17 But beware of men, for they will deliuge you vp to the Councils, and will scourge you in their Synagogues.

18 And ye shall be brought to the governors and Kings for my sake, in witness to them, and to the Gentiles.

19 * But when they deliuer you vp, take no thought how or what ye shall speake: for it shall be giuen you in that houre, what ye shall say.

20 For it is not ye that speake, but the Spirit of your father which speaketh in you.

21 And the * brother shall betray the brother to death, and the father the sonne, and the children shall rise against their parents, and shall cause them to die.

22 * And ye shall be * hated of all men for my sakes: but he that endureth to the end, he shall be saued.

24 * The discipie is not about his master, nor the seruant about his loyn.
 25 It is ynough for the discipie to bee as his matter is, and the seruant as his Lord.
 * If they haue called the matter of the house k Bezaiabud, how much more them of his household?
 26 Feare them not therefore: for there is nothing covered, that shall not bee discouered, nor hid, that shall not be knowne.
 27 What I tell you in darkenesse, that speake ye in light: and what ye heare in the eare, that preach ye on the houses.
 28 And feare ye not them which kill the body, but are not able to kill the soule: but rather feare him, which is able to destroy both soule and body in hell.
 29 Are not two sparrowes sold for a far-

 30 * Pra, and all the haire of your head

 31 Feare ye not therefore, ye are of more value then many sparrowes.
 32 * Whosoever therefore shall confess fore my father, which is in heauen.

 33 But whosoever shall denie mee before men, him will I also denie before my father,

 34 * Thinke not that I am come to send peace, but the sword.

 35 For I am come to set a man at variance against her mother in law.

 36 * And a mans enemies shall be they of 37 * He that loueth father or mother more loueth sonne or daughter more then mee, is not worthy of me.

 38 * And he that taketh not his crosse, and

 A ND it came to passe, that when Iesus
 A had made an end of commanding his twelue disciples, he departed thence to teach and to preach in their cities.
 2 * And when Iohn heard in the prison the workes of Christ, he sent two of his disciples, and said vnto him, 3 Art thou hee that should come, or shall we looke for another?
 4 And Iesus answering, said vnto them, See, and Iohn Iohn what things ye haue heard and seene.
 5 The blinde receiue sight, and the deafe heare: the dead are raised vp, & the liue poore receiue the Gospel.
 6 And blessed is hee that shall not be offended in me.
 7 And as they departed, Iesus began to speake vnto the multitude of Iohn, What went ye out into the wilderness to see? A reede shaken with the winde?
 8 But what went ye out to see? A man clothed in soft raiment? Beholde, they that weare soft clothing, are in kings houses.
 9 But what went ye out to see? A Prophet? Yea, I say vnto you, and more then a Prophet.
 10 For this is hee of whom it is writen, * Beholde, I send my messenger before thy 11 Verily I say vnto you, among them which are begotten of women, arofe there

 16 * But wherunto shall I liken this generation? It is like vnto litle children which sit in the markets, and call vnto their fellows, 17 And say, We haue piped vnto you, and ye haue not danced, we haue mourned vnto you, and ye haue not lamented.
 18 For Iohn came neither eating nor drinking, and they say, He hath a deuil.
 19 The sonne of man came eating and drinking, & they say, Beholde, a glutton and a drinker of wine, a friend vnto Publicanes

21 Woe be to thee, Chorazin: Woe be to thee, Bethsaida: for if the great workes, which were done in you, had bene done in Tyzus and Sidon, they had repented long agoone in sackcloth and ashes.

22 But I say vnto you, it shall be easier for Tyzus and Sidon at the day of iudgement, then for you.

4 How he entred into the house of God, and ate the shewe bread, which was not lawfull for him to eate, neyther for them which were with him, but onely for the Priests?

6 But I say vnto you, that heere is one greater then the Temple.

11 And he sayd vnto them, What man shall there bee among you, that shall haue a sheepe, and if it fall on a Sabbath day into a pit, will hee not take it and lift it out?

12 How much more then is a man better then a sheepe? therefore it is lawfull to doe well on a Sabbath day.

13 Then sayde hee to the man, Stretch forth thine hand. And he stretched it forth, and it was made whole as the other.

14 Then the Pharisees went out, & consulted against him how they might destroy him.

15 But when Iesus knew it, he departed thence, and great multitudes followed him, and he healed them all.

16 And charged them that they should not make him knowne,

17 What it might be fulfilled, which was spoken by Malas the Prophet, saying, 18 Beholde my seruant whom I haue choisen, my beloued in whom my soule delighteth: I will put my spirite on him, and he shall iudgement & vnto victorie.

19 He shall not striaue, nor cry, neyther shall any man heare his voice in the streets.

20 A blinde reede shall be not breake, and smoking flaxe shall be not quench, till hee bring forth iudgement & vnto victorie.

21 And in his name shall the Gentiles trust.

22 Then was brought to him one possessed with a deuil, both blinde and dumbe, and he healed him, so that he which was blind and dumbe, both spake and saw.

23 And all the people were amazed, and sayd, Is not this the sonne of Dauid?

24 But when the Pharisees heard it, they said, His man can hee the deuil no other- wise out, but through Beelzebub the prince of deuils.

25 But Iesus knew their thoughts, and sayd to them, Why kingdome diuided against it selfe, shall be brought to nought: and euery citie or house diuided against it selfe, shall not stand.

26 So if Satan cast out Satan, he is diuided against himselfe: how shall then his kingdome endure?

34 O ye generations of vipers, how can you ſpeake good things, when yee are euill?
For of the abundance of the heart the mouth

35 A good man out of the good treaſure of f That which the prophet referreth to the secret courtell of God, is here attributed to the hard stubbornness of the people: for the one cannot bee separated from the other.

Luke 10. 24. Marke 4. 15. Luke 8. 11.

¶ Or, was sowed.

14 So in them is fulfilled the prophesie of Elias, which prophesie sayth, * By hearing, ye shall heare, and shall not understand, and seeing ye shall see, and shall not perceive.

15 f For this peoples heart is waxed fat, and their eares are dul of hearing, and with their eyes haue they winked, least they should see with their eyes, and heare with their eares, and should understand with their hearts, and should returne, that I might heale them.

16 But blessed are your eyes, for they see: and your eares, for they heare.

17 * For verely I say vnto you, that many Prophets and righteous men haue desired to see those things which yee see, and haue not seene them, and to heare those things which ye heare, and haue not heard them.

18 ¶ Haue yee therefore the parable of the sower.

19 Whensoever a man heareth the word of the kingdom, and understandeth it not, the euill one cometh, and catcheth away that which was sowed in his heart: and this is hee which hath received the seede by the way side.

20 And hee that received seede in the stonie ground, is hee which heareth the worde, and incontinently with ioy receiveth it.

21 Yet hath hee no roote in himselfe, and dureth but a season: for as soone as tribulation or persecution cometh because of the worde, by and by he is offended.

22 And he that receiveth the seed among thornes, is hee, that heareth the worde: but the care of this world, and the deceitfulnesse of riches choke the worde, and he is made unfruitfull.

23 But he that receiveth the seede in the good ground, is he that heareth the word, & understandeth it, which also beareth fruitte, and bringeth forth some an hundred fold, some fiftie fold, and some thirtie folde.

24 ¶ Another parable put he forth vnto them, saying, The kingdom of heauen is like vnto a man which sowed good seede in his field.

25 <sup>b</sup> But while men slept there came his enemy, and sowed tares among the wheat, and went his way.

26 And when the blade was sprung vp, and brought forth fruit, then appeared the tares also.

27 Then came the seruants of the householder, and sayd vnto him, Master, sowest thou not good seed in thy field: from whence then hath it tares?

28 And hee sayd to them, The euillous man hath done this. Then the seruants said vnto him, Wilt thou then that we goe and gather them vp?

29 But hee sayd, Nay, lest while yee goe about to gather the tares, yee plucke vp also with them the wheat.

30 ¶ Let both grow together until the harvest, and in time of harvest I will say to the reapers, Gather yee first the tares, and bind them in sheaves to burne them:

but gather the wheate into my barn.

31 ¶ Another parable hee put forth vnto them, saying, The kingdom of heauen is like vnto a graiue of mustard seede, which a man taketh and sowerh in his felde:

Marke 4. 30, 31. Luke 13. 19.

32 Which indeede is the least of all seeds; but when it is growen it is the greatest among herbes, and it is a tree, so that the birds of heauen come and build in the branches thereof.

k This teacheth vs not to be astonished at the small beginnings of the Gospel, Luke 1. 3. 21.

33 ¶ Another parable spake he to them, The kingdom of heauen is like vnto leaven, which a woman taketh and hideth in three peckes of meale, till all bee leuened.

l By this he admonisheth them to waite til like fruit of the Gospel appeare. Marke 4. 33, 34. Psal. 78. 2.

34 ¶ All these things spake Iesus vnto the multitude in parables, and without parables spake he not vnto them, m This word signifieth graue and sententious proverbes, to the end that the doctrine might haue the more maiestie, and the wicked might thereby be confounded.

35 That it might be fulfilled, which was spoken by the Prophet, saying, I will open my mouth in parables, and will utter the things which haue been kept secret from the foundation of the world.

36 Then sent Iesus the multitude away, and went into the house. And his disciples came vnto him, saying, Declare vnto vs the parable of the tares of the field.

37 Then answered he, and sayd to them, He that soweth the good seed, is the Sonne of man,

38 And the felde is the worlde, and the good seede, they are the children of the kingdom, and the tares are the children of the wicked, 39 And the enemy that soweth them, is the deuill, and the harvest is the ende of the world, and the reapers be the Angels.

Isa. 3. 13. ier. 14. 15.

40 As then the tares are gathered and burned in the fire: so shall it be the ende of this world.

41 The Sonne of man shall send forth his Angels, and they shall gather out of his kingdom all things that offend, and them which doe iniquitie, n The wicked which hurt others by their euill cuamples, 42 And shall cast them into a soynace of fire. There shall bee weeping and gnashing of teeth.

43 ¶ Then shall the iust men shine as the Sonne in the kingdom of their Father. Hee that hath eares to heare, let him heare.

Den. 12. 3. wisd. 3. 7.

44 ¶ Againe, the kingdom of heauen is like vnto a treasure hid in the field, which when a man hath found, hee hideth it, and for ioy thereof departeth, and selleth all that he hath, and buyeth that field.

45 ¶ Againe, the kingdom of heauen is like to a merchant man that seeketh good pearles, 46 Which hauing found a pearle of great price, went, and solde all that hee had, and bought it.

o It is a kind of net that gathereth in all things that come in the way.

47 ¶ Againe, the kingdom of heauen is like vnto a draw net cast into the sea, that gathereth of all kinds of things.

55 Is not this the carpenters sonne? is not his mother called Mary, and his brethren James and Ioses, and Simon and Judas?

56 And are not his sisters all with vs? Whence then hath he all these things?

2 Herods opinion concerning Christ. 10 Iohn is beheaded. 19 Christ feedeth five thousand men with five loaves & two fishes. 23 He prays in the mountaine. 25 He appeareth by night vnto his disciples upon the sea. 31 And saureth Peter. 33 They confesse him to be the sonne of God. 36 He healeth all that touched the hem of his garment.

¶ That tyme Herod the Tetrarch heard of the fame of Jesus,

2 And said vnto his seruants, This is John Baptists: he is risen againe from the dead, therefore great workes are wrought by him.

3 ¶ For Herod had taken Iohn & bound him, & put him in prison for Herodias sake, his brother Philipps wife.

4 For Iohn sayd vnto him, It is not lawful for thee to haue her.

5 And when hee would haue put him to death, he feared the multitude, because they counted him as a Prophet.

6 But when Herods birth day was kept, the daughter of Herodias daunced before them, and pleased Herod.

7 Wherefore he promised with an oath, that hee would giue her what she would aske.

8 And she being before instructed of her mother, sayd, Giue mee here Iohn Baptists head in a platter.

9 And the king was sorry: neuertheless he caule of the othe, and them that saue with him at the table, hee commanded it to be giuen her.

10 And sent, and beheaded Iohn in the prison.

14 And Jesus went forth, and sawe a great multitude, and was moued with compassion toward them, and hee healed their sick.

15 ¶ And when euen was come, his disciples came to him, saying, This is a desert place, and the houre is already past: let the multitude depart, that they may goe into the towncs, and buy them victuals.

16 But Iesus sayde to them, They haue no neede to goe away: giue ye them to eate.

17 They sayd they vnto him, We haue here but five loaves, and two fishes.

18 And he said, Bring them hither to me.

19 And he commanded the multitude to sit downe on the grasse, and tooke the five loaves and the two fishes, and looked vp to heauen and blessed, and brake, and gaue the loaves to his disciples, and the disciples to the multitude.

20 And they did all eate, and were filled, and they tooke vp of the fragments that remained, twelue basketes full.

21 And they that had eaten, were about five thousand men, beside women and little children.

22 ¶ And straightway Iesus compelled his disciples to enter into a ship, and to goe ouer before him, while he sent the multitude away.

23 And afoone as hee had sent the multitude away, hee went by into a mountaine alone to pray: and when the evening was come, hee was there alone.

24 And the ship was now in the middes of the sea, and was tossed with waues: for it was a contrary wind.

25 And in the fourth watch of the night, Jesus went vnto them, walking on the sea.

26 And when his disciples saw him walking on the sea, they were troubled, saying, It is a spirit, and eyed out for feare.

27 But straightway Iesus spake vnto them, saying, Be of good comfort. It is I: be not afraid.

28 Then Peter answered him, and sayd, Master, if it bee thou, bid mee come vnto thee on the water.

29 And he said, Come. And when Peter was come downe out of the ship, he walked on the water, to goe to Iesus.

30 But when he saw a mighty wind, hee was afraid, and as he beganne to sinke, he cried, saying, Master, saue mee.

CHAP. XV.

3 Christ excuseth his disciples, and rebuketh the Scribes and Pharises, for transgressing Gods commandment by their owne traditions. 13 The plant that shall be rooted out. 18 What things defile a man. 22 He deliuereth the woman of Canaanee daughter. 26 The bread of the children. 30 He healeth the sicke, 36 And feedeth foure thousand men, besides women and children.

Then came to Iesus the Scribes and Pharises, which were at Ierusalem, saying,

2 Why doe thy disciples transgresse the tradition of the Elders? for they wash not their hands when they eate bread.

3 But he answered and said vnto them, Why doe ye also transgresse the commandment of God by your tradition?

4 ¶ For God hath commaunded, saying, Honour thy father and mother: * and hee that curseth father or mother, let him die the death.

5 But ye say, Whatsoeuer shall say to father or mother, <sup>b</sup> By the gift that is offered by me, thou mayest haue profit,

6 Though hee honour not his father, or his mother, shall be free: thus haue ye made the commandment of God of no authoritie by your tradition.

7 Hypocrites, ¶ Esaias prophceded well of you, saying,

8 ¶ This people draweth nere vnto me with their mouth, and honoureth mee with the lippes, but their heart is farre off from mee.

9 But in vaine they worship mee, teaching for doctrines mens precepts.

10 ¶ Then hee called the multitude vnto him, and said vnto them, Ye care and vnderstand.

11 That which goeth into the mouth, defileth not the man, but that which cometh out of the mouth, that defileth the man.

12 ¶ Then came his disciples, and said vnto him, Perceiuest thou not that the Pharises are offended in hearing this saying?

13 But hee answered and said, ¶ A Euery plant which mine heavenly father hath not planted, shall be rooted vp.

14 ¶ Let them alone: they be the * blinde leaders of the blinde: and if the blinde leade the blinde, both shall fall into the ditch.

15 ¶ Then answered Peter, and said to him, Declare vnto vs this parable.

16 Then said Iesus, Are ye yet without vnderstanding?

17 Perceiue ye not yet, that whatsoeuer entereth into the mouth, goeth into the belly, and is cast into the draught?

18 But those things which proceed out of the mouth, come from the heart, and they defile the man.

19 For out of the heart * come euill thoughts, murders, adulteries, fornications, thefts, false testimonies, flanders.

20 These are the things which defile the man: but to eat with vnwashen handes, defileth not the man.

21 ¶ And Iesus went thence, and departed into the coasts of Tyrus and Sidon.

22 And beholde, a woman a Canaanite came out of the lasse coastes, and cryed saying vnto him, Haue mercy on mee, O Lord, the soune of Dauid: i my daughter is miserably vexed with a deuill.

23 But hee answered her not a worde. Then came to him his disciples, a besought him, saying, Send her away, for she cryeth after vs.

24 But he answered, and sayd, I am not sent, but vnto the * lost sheepe of the house of Israel.

25 Yet shee came, and worshipped him, saying, Lord helpe mee.

26 And he answered, and said, Is it not good to take the childrens bread, and to cast it to the whelkes?

27 But she said, Trueth, Lord: yet indeede the whelkes eat of the crummes, which fall from their masters table.

28 Then Iesus answered, and said vnto her, O woman, great is thy faith: be it to thee, as thou desirest. And her daughter was made whole at that hour.

29 ¶ So Iesus went away from thence, and came nere vnto the sea of Galilee, and went vp vnto a mountaine and sat downe there.

30 And great multitudes came vnto him, * hauing with them halke, blinde, dumbe, maimed, and many other, and call them downe at Iesus feete, and hee healed them.

31 In so much that the multitude wondered, to see the dumbe speake, the maimed whole, the halt to goe, and the blinde to see: and they glorified the God of Israel.

32 ¶ Then Iesus called his disciples vnto him, and said, ¶ I haue compassion on this multitude, because they haue continued with me already three dayes, and haue nothing to eate: and I will not let them depart fasting, lest they faint in the way.

33 And his disciples sayde vnto him, Whence should we get so much bread in the wilderness, as should suffice to great a multitude?

34 And Iesus said vnto them, How many loaves haue ye? and they said, Seuen, and a fewe little fishes.

35 Then hee commaunded the multitude to sit downe on the ground, 36 And tooke the seuen loaves, and the fishes, and gaue thanks, and brake them, and gaue to his disciples, and the disciples to the multitude.

Then came the Pharises and Sadducees, and did tempt him, desiring him to shew them a signe from heauen.

2 But he answered, and said vnto them, When it is euening, yee say, Faire weather: for the skie is redde.

3 And in the morning yee say, To day shall be a tempest: for the skie is redde and lowering. O hypocrites, ye can discern the face of the skie, & can yee not discern the signes of the times?

4 The wicked generation, and adulterous seeketh a signe, and there shall no signe be giuen it, but the signe of the Prophet Ionas: so he left them and departed.

5 And when his disciples were come to the other side, they had forgotten to take bread with them.

6 Then Iesus said vnto them, Take heede and beware of the leauen of the Pharises and Sadduces.

7 And they thought in themselves, saying, It is because wee haue brought no bread.

8 But Iesus knowing it, sayde vnto them, O yee of little faith, why thinke you thus in your selues, because yee haue brought no bread?

9 Doe yee not yet perceiue, neither remember the five loaves, when there were five thousand men, and how many baskets tooke yee vp?

10 Neither the seven loaves when there were foure thousand men, and how many baskets tooke yee vp?

11 Why perceiue yee not, that I said not vnto you concerning bread, that yee should beware of the leauen of the Pharises and Sadduces?

12 Then vnderstoode they that hee had not said, that they should beware of the leauen of bread, but of the doctrine of the Pharises, and Sadduces.

13 Now when Iesus came into the coastes of Cesarea Philippi, hee asked his disciples, saying, Whome doe men say that I the Sonne of man am?

14 And they said, Some say, John Baptist: and some, Elias: and others, Jeremias, or one of the Prophets.

15 Hee said vnto them, But whom say yee that I am?

16 Then Simon Peter answered, and said, Thou art the Christ, the Sonne of the liuing God.

17 And Iesus answered, and said to him,

Blessed art thou, Simon the sonne of Ionas: for a flesh and blood hath not reuelled it vnto thee, but my Father which is in heauen.

18 And I say also vnto thee, that thou art Peter, and vpon this rocke I will build my Church: and the gates of hell shall not ouercome it.

19 And I will giue vnto thee the keys of the Kingdome of heauen, and whatsoever thou shalt binde vpon earth, shall be bound in heauen: and whatsoever thou shalt loose on earth shall be loosed in heauen.

20 Then hee charged his disciples, that they should tell no man that he was Iesus the Christ.

21 From that time forth Iesus began to shew vnto his disciples, that hee must go vnto Ierusalem, and suffer many things of the Elders, and of the hie Priests and Scribes, and be slaine, and rise againe the third day.

22 Peter tooke him aside, and began to rebuke him, saying, Walter, pittie thy selfe: this shall not be vnto thee.

23 Then hee turned backe and said vnto Peter, Get thee behind me, Satan: thou art an offence vnto me, because thou understandest not the things that are of God, but the things that are of men.

24 Iesus then said vnto his disciples, If any man will follow mee, let him forsake himselfe, and take vp his crosse and follow me.

25 For whosoever wil save his life, shall lose it: and whosoever shall lose his life for my sake, shall find it.

26 For what shall it profit a man, though he should win the whole world, if he lose his owne soule: or what shall a man giue for recompense of his soule?

27 For the Sonne of man shall come in the glory of his Father with his Angels, and then shall hee giue to euery man according to his deedes.

28 Certily I say vnto you, there be some of them that stand here, which shall not taste of death, till they haue seene the Sonne of man come in his kingdome.

b He speaketh chiefly to the Scribes, who began to brag, as if they had now gotten the victorie ouer Christ, because his disciples were not able to doe this miracle.

Luke 17. 6.

i By this manner of speech he signifies, that they should doe things by their faith, that should seeme impossible. k The best remedie to strengthen the weak faith, is prayer, which hath fasting added to it, as an helpe to the same. l Or, were conuersant, or, returned into Galilee. Chap. 20. 17. Marke 9. 31. Luke 9. 44. and 24. 7.

2 And was transfigured before them: and his face did shine as the Sonne, and his clothes were as white as the light.

3 And behold, there appeared vnto them Moses and Elias, talking with him.

4 Then answered Peter, and said to Iesus, Master, it is good for vs to be here: if thou wilt, let vs make here three tabernacles, one for thee, and one for Moses, and one for Elias.

5 While hee yet spake, behold, a bright cloud shadowed them: and behold, there came a voice out of the cloud, saying, This is my beloved Sonne, in whom I am well pleased: heare him.

6 And when y<sup>e</sup> disciples heard that, they fell on their faces, and were sore afraid.

7 Then Iesus came and touched them, and said, Arise, and be not afraid.

8 And when they lifted vp their eyes, they saw no man save Iesus onely.

9 And as they came downe from the mountaine, Iesus charged them, saying, Shewe the vision to no man, vntill the Sonne of man rise againe from the dead.

10 And his disciples asked him, saying, Why then say the Scribes that Elias must first come?

11 And Iesus answered, and said vnto them, Certainly Elias must first come, and restore all things.

12 But I say vnto you, that Elias is come already, and they knew him not, but haue done vnto him whatsoeuer they would: likewise shall also the Sonne of man suffer of them.

13 Then the disciples perceived that hee spake vnto them of Iohn Baptist.

14 And when they were come to the multitude, there came to him a certain man and knicled downe to him,

15 And said, Master, haue pittie on my sonne: for he is lunaticke, and is sore vexed: for oftentimes hee falleth into the fire, and oftentimes into the water.

16 And I brought him to thy disciples, and they could not heale him.

17 Then Iesus answered and said, O generation faithlesse and crooked, how long now shall I be with you? how long now shall I suffer you? bring him hither to me.

18 And Iesus rebuked the deuil, and he went out of him, and the child was healed at that houre.

19 Then came y<sup>e</sup> disciples to Iesus apart, and said, Why could not we cast him out?

20 And Iesus said vnto them, Because of your unbelief: for verily I say vnto you, if yee haue faith as much as is a graine of mustard seede, ye shall say vnto this mountaine, I remove hence to yonder place, and it shall remove: and nothing shall be impossible vnto you.

21 Howbeit this kind goeth not out, but by prayer and fasting.

22 And as he they abode in Galilee, Ie-sus said vnto them, The sonne of man shall be deliuered into the hands of men, 23 And they shall kill him, but the third day shall he rise againe: and they were very soze.

24 And when they were come to Capernaum, they that receiued polle money, came to Peter, and sayde, Doeth not your Master pay tribute?

25 He said, Yes. And when he was come into the house, Iesus presented him, saying, What thinkest thou, Simon? of whom doe the kings of the earth take tribute, or polle money: of their children, or of strangers?

26 Peter said vnto him, Of strangers. Then said Iesus vnto him, Then are the children free.

27 Neuertheless, lest we should offend them, go to the sea, and cast in an angle, and take the first fish that cometh vp, & when thou hast opened his mouth, thou shalt finde a piece of twentie pence: that take, & giue it vnto them for me and thee.

CHAP. XVIII.

1 The greatest in the kingdome of heauen, 3 He teacheth his disciples to be humble & lowly, 5 To auoide occasions of euill, 10 Not to contemne the little ones, 11 Why Christ came, 15 Of brotherly correction, 17 Of the authoritie of the Church, 19 The commendation of prayer and godly assemblies, 21 Of brotherly forgiveness.

1 He same time the disciples came vnto Iesus, saying, Who is the greatest in the kingdome of heauen?

2 And Iesus called a little child vnto him, and set him in the mids of them,

3 And said, Verily I say vnto you, except yee be conuerted, and become as little children, yee shall not enter into the kingdome of heauen.

4 Who soeuer therefore shall humble himselfe as this little child, the same is the greatest in the kingdome of heauen.

5 And who soeuer shall receiue such a little child in my name, receiue me.

6 But who soeuer shall offend one of these little ones which beleue in me, it were better for him, that a millstone were hanged about his necke, and that he were drowned in the depth of the sea.

7 Woe be vnto the world because of offences: for it must needs bee that offences shall come, but woe be to that man by whom the offence cometh.

8 Wherefore, if thine hand or thy foote cause thee to offend, cut them off, and cast them from thee: it is better for thee to enter into life, halt, or maimed, then hauing two hands or two feete, to bee cast into euerlasting fire.

9 And if thine eye cause thee to offend, plucke it out, and cast it from thee: it is better for thee to enter into life with one eye, then hauing two eyes, to bee cast into hell fire.

m Wee must be continually ready to forgive and be forgiven. n A committal talent was valued at threescore pound, it me also were greater, and some lesse.

IO See that yee despise not one of these little ones: for I say vnto you, that in heauen there * s Angels alwayes behold the face of my ffather which is in heauen.

11 For * the Sonne of man is come to save that which was lost.

12 How thinke yee? If a man haue an hundred sheepe, and one of them bee gone astray, doeth hee not leaue ninetie and nine, and goe into the mountaines, and seeke that which is gone astray?

13 And if so be that he find it, verily I say vnto you, hee reioyceeth more of that sheepe, then of the ninetie and nine which were not astray.

14 So it is not the will of your ffather which is in heauen, that one of these little ones should perill.

15 ¶ Moreover, if thy brother trespassse against thee, goe and tell him his fault betwene thee and him alone: if hee heare thee, thou hast wonne thy brother.

16 But if he heare thee not, take yet with thee one or two, that by the * mouth of two or three witnesses euery word may be confirmed.

17 And if hee will not bouchsafe to heare them, tell it vnto the * Church: and if hee refuse to heare the Church also, let him bee vnto thee as an heathen man, and a Publicane.

18 Verily I say vnto you, * Whatsoeuer yee binde on earth, shall be binde in heauen: * whatsoeuer yee loose on earth, shall be loosed in heauen.

19 Againe, Verily I say vnto you, that if two of you shall agree in earth vpon any thing, whatsoeuer they shall desire, it shall bee giuen them of my ffather which is in heauen.

20 For where two or three are gathered together in my Name, there am I in the mids of them.

21 Then came Peter to him, and sayde, Walter, how oft shall my brother sinne against mee, and I shall forgive him: * vnto seven times?

22 Iesus said vnto him, I say not to thee, vnto seven times, but vnto * seuentie times seven times.

23 Therefore is the kingdome of heauen likened vnto a certaine King, which would take a count of his seruants.

24 And when hee had begun to reckon, one was brought vnto him, which ought him ten thousand * talents.

25 And because hee had nothing to pay, his master commaunded him to be solde, and his wife and his children, and all that hee had and the debt to be payde.

26 The seruant therefore fell downe, and besought him, saying, Walter, appeale thine anger towards mee, and I will pay thee all.

27 Then that seruants master had compassion, and loosed him, and forgane him the debt.

28 But when the seruant was departed, hee found one of his fellowes, which ought him an hundred * pence, and he laide hands on him, and tooke him by the throate, saying, Pay me that thou owest.

29 Then his fellow fell down at his feet, and besought him, saying, Appaele thine anger towards me, and I will pay thee all.

30 Yet hee would not, but went and cast him into prison, till he should pay the debt.

31 And when his other fellowes saw what was done, they were very sozie, and came, and declared vnto their master all that was done.

32 Then his master called him, and said to him, I oull let aiant, I forgane thee all that debt, because thou praydest me.

33 Doughtest not thou also to haue had pittie on thy fellowe, euen as I had pittie on thee?

34 So his master was wroth, and deliuered him to the taxers, till he should pay all that was due vnto him.

35 So likewise shall mine heauenly ffather doe vnto you, except yee forgive * from your heares, each one to his brother their trespassses.

CHAP. XIX.

3 Christ sheweth for what cause a woman may be diuorced. 11 Commencement is a gift of God. 14 Hee receiueth little children. 16 To obtaine life euerslasting. 24 That rich men can scarcely be saved. 28 He promisseth them which haue left all to follow him, life euerslasting.

A ¶ Ad * it came to passe, that when Iesus had finished those sayings, hee departed from Galile, and came into the coasts of Iudaea beyond Iordan.

2 And great multitudes followed him, and hee healed them there.

3 ¶ Then came vnto him the Pharises tempting him, and saying to him, Is it lawful for a man to put away his wife for euery * fault?

4 And hee answered and said vnto them, Haue yee not read, * that hee which made them at the beginning, made them male and female,

5 And said, * For this cause, shall a man leaue father and mother, and cleaue vnto his wife, and they * twaine shall bee one * flesh?

6 ¶ Therefore they are no more twaine, but one flesh. Let not man therefore put a sinder that, which God hath coupled together.

7 They said to him, ¶ Why did then * Moses commaund to glue a bit of diuorcement, and to put her away?

8 Hee said vnto them, Moses, because of the * hardnesse of your heart, sufferd you to put away your wives: but * from the beginning it was not so.

9 I say therefore vnto you, * that whosoever shall put away his wife, except it bee for whoredome, and marrie another, * committeth adulterie: and whosoever marrieth her which is diuorced, doeth commit adulterie.

13 ¶ Then were brought to him little children, that hee should put his handes on them, & pray: & the disciples rebuked them.

14 But Iesus said, Suffer the little children, and forbid them not to come to me: for of such is the kingdome of heauen.

15 And when hee had put his handes on them, he departed thence.

16 ¶ And behold, one came, and said vnto him, Good master, what good thing shall I doe, that I may haue eternall life?

17 And hee sayd vnto him, ¶ Why callest thou me good? there is none good but one, euen God: but if thou wilt enter into life, keepe the commandmentes.

18 He sayd to him, ¶ Which? And Iesus said, These, Thou shalt not kill: Thou shalt not commit adultery: Thou shalt not steale: Thou shalt not beare false witness.

19 Honour thy father and mother: and, Thou shalt loue thy neighbour as thy selfe.

20 ¶ The yong man said vnto him, I haue obserued all these things: from my youth: what lacke I yet?

21 Iesus said vnto him, If thou wilt be perfect, goe, sell that thou hast, and giue it to the poore, and thou shalt haue treasure in heauen, and come and follow me.

22 And when the yong man heard that saying, he went away sorrowfull: for he had great possessions.

23 ¶ Then Iesus sayd vnto his disciples, Verely I say vnto you, that a rich man shall hardly enter into the kingdome of heauen.

24 And againe I say vnto you, It is easier for a camel to goe thorow the eye of a needle, then for a rich man to enter into the kingdome of God.

25 And when his disciples heard it, they were exceedingly amazed, saying, ¶ Who then can be saved?

26 And Iesus beheld them, and sayd vnto them, ¶ With men this is impossible, but with God all things are possible.

27 ¶ ¶ Then answered Peter, and said to him, Behold, we haue forsaken all, and followed thee: what shall we haue?

28 And Iesus said vnto them, Verely I say to you, that when the Sonne of man shall sit in the throne of his Righteise, yee which followed mee in the regeneration, * shall sit also vpon twelue thrones, & iudge the twelue tribes of Israel.

29 And whosoever shall forsake houses, or brethren, or sisters, or father, or mother, or wife, or children, or lands, for my Names sake, hee shall receiue an hundredfold more, and shall inherite euertlasting life.

30 ¶ But many that are first, shall be last, and the last shall be first.

CHAP. XX.

1 Christ teacheth by a similitude, that God is debter vnto no man, & how he alway calleth men to his labour. 18 He admonisheth them of his passion. 20 Hee teacheth his to flee ambition. 28 Christ payeth our ransome. 30 Hee giueth two blind men their sight.

¶ The kingdome of heauen is like vnto a certaine householder, which went out at the dawning of the day to hire labourers into his vineyard.

2 And hee agreed with the labourers for a penie a day, and sent them into his vineyard.

3 And hee went out about the thirde houre, and saue other standing idle in the market place,

4 And sayd vnto them, Goe yee also into my vineyard, and whatsoeuer is right, I will giue you: and they went their way.

5 Againe he went out about the first and ninth houre, and did likewise.

6 And hee went about the eleuenth houre, and found other standing idle, and said vnto them, ¶ Why stand yee here all the day idle?

7 They sayd vnto him, Because no man hath hired vs. He sayd to them, Goe yee also into my vineyard, and whatsoeuer is right, that shall ye receiue.

8 ¶ And when euen was come, the Master of the vineyard sayd vnto his steward, Call the labourers, and giue them their hire, beginning at the last, till thou come to the first.

9 And they which were hired about the eleuenth houre, came and receiued euery man a penie.

10 Now when the first came, they supposed that they should receiue more, but they likewise receiued euery man a penie.

11 And when they had receiued it, they murmured against the master of the house, 12 Saying, These last haue wrought but one houre, and thou hast made them equal vnto vs, which haue borne the burthen, and heate of the day.

13 And he answered one of them, saying, ¶ Friend, I doe thee no wrong: diddest thou not agree with me for a penie?

14 Take that which is thine owne, and goe thy way: I will giue vnto this last as much as to thee.

15 Is it not lawful for me to do as I will with mine owne? Is thine eye enuill because I am good?

16 ¶ So the last shall be first, and the first last: for many are called, but few chosen.

17 ¶ And Iesus went vp to Ierusalem, and tooke the twelue disciples apart in the way, and sayd vnto them, 22 And Iesus answered, and sayd, Yee knowe not what yee aske. Are yee able to drinke of the cup that I shal drinke of, and to be baptized with the baptisme that I shal be baptized with? They sayd to him, Wee are able.

e He setteth the croffe before their eyes to draw them from ambition, calling it a cup, to signifie the afflictions, which God hath ordained for every man: the which thing also he calleth baptisme.

23 And he said vnto them, Ye shal drinke in deede of my cuppe, and shal be baptized with the baptisme that I am baptized with, but to sit at my right hand, and at my left hand, is not mine to giue: but it shall be giuen to them, for whom it is prepared of my Father.

24 * And when the other ten heard this, they disdaind at the two brethren.

f God my father hath not giuen me charge to bestow offices of honour here: but to be an example of humilitie vnto all.

25 Therefore Iesus called them vnto him, and sayd, Ye know that the lords of the Gentiles haue domination ouer them, and they that are great, exercise authoritie ouer them.

33 They sayd to him, Lord, that our eyes may be opened.

4 All this was done, & that it might bee fulfilled which was spoken by the Prophet, saying,

5 C * Tell ye the daughter of Sion, Behold, thy king cometh vnto thee, meeke, and sitting vpon an asse, and a colt, the foale of an asse yled to the yoke.

6 So the disciples went, and did as Iesus had commanded them,

7 And brought the asse & the colt, and put on them their clothes, and let him thereon.

8 And a great multitude spied their garments in the way: & other cut downe branches from the trees, and strewed them in the way.

9 Moreover, the people that went before, and they also that followed, cryed, saying, * Hosanna the sonne of Dauid: blessed bee hee that cometh in the Name of the Lord, Hosanna thou which art in the highest heuens.

10 * And when he was come into Ierusalem, all the citie was moued, saying, What is this?

11 And the people said, This is Iesus the Prophet of Nazareth in Galile.

12 C And Iesus went into the Temple of God, and cast out all them that sold and bought in the Temple, and ouerthrew the tables of the money changers, and the seats of them that sold doves, 13 And said to them, It is written, * Mine house shalbe called the house of prayer: but * ye haue made it a denne of theeues.

14 Then the blind and the halt came to him in the Temple, and he healed them.

15 But when the chiefe Priests and Scribes saw the maruelles that he did, and the children crying in the Temple, and saying, Hosanna the Sonne of Dauid, they disdaind, 16 And said vnto him, Hearest thou what these say? And Iesus sayd vnto them, Yea: read yee neuer, * By the mouth of babes and sucklings thou hast made perfite the praise?

19 And seeing a figge tree in the way, he came to it, and found nothing thereon, but leaues onely, and sayd to it, Neuer fruite grow on thee henceforward. And anon the figge tree withered.

20 And when his disciples saw it, they marvelled, saying, How soone is the figge tree withered!

21 And Iesus answered, & said vnto them, * Verily I say vnto you, if yee haue faith, and doubt not, yee shall not onely doe that which I haue done to the figge tree, but also if ye lay vnto this mouraine, Take thy selfe away, and cast thy selfe into the sea, it shall be done.

and

22 * And whatsoeuer ye shall aske in prayer, if ye beleene, ye shall receiue it.

23 * And when he was come into the Temple, the chiefe Priests, and the Elders of the people came vnto him, as hee was teaching, and sayde, By what authoritie doest thou these things? and who gaue thee this authoritie?

24 Then Iesus answered and sayd vnto them, I will aske of you a certaine thing, which if you tell mee, I likewise will tell you by what authoritie I doe these things.

25 The Baptisme of John, whence was it? from heauen, or of men? Then they reasoned among themselves, saying, If we shall say, From heauen, he will say vnto vs, Why did ye not then beleene him?

26 And if we say, Of men, we feare the people: * for all hold Iohn as a Prophet.

27 Then they answered Iesus, and sayd, Wee cannot tell. And hee sayd vnto them, Neither tell I you by what authoritie I doe these things.

28 ¶ But what thinke ye? A certaine man had two binnes, and came to the elder, and sayd, Sonne, goe, and worke to day in my vineyard.

29 But he answered and sayd, I will not yet afterward hee repented himselfe, and went.

30 Then came he to the second, and sayd likewise. And he answered, and said, I will sit: yet he went not.

31 Whether of them twaine did the will of the father? They sayd vnto him, The first. Iesus said vnto them, Verily I say vnto you, that the Publicans and the harlots shall goe before you into the kingdome of God.

32 For Iohn came vnto you in the way of righteousness, and yee beleued him not: but the Publicans, and the harlots beleued him, and ye though ye saw it, were not moued with repentance afterward, that yee might beleene him.

33 ¶ Here another parable, There was a certaine honshopper, which planted a vineyard, and hedged it round about, and builded a towre, and let it out to husbandmen, and went into a strange countrey.

34 And when the time of the fruit bryewen nede, he sent his seruants to the husbandmen to receiue the fruits thereof.

35 And the husbandmen rook his seruants, and beat one, and killed another, and stoned another.

36 Again hee sent other seruants, moe then the first: and they did the like vnto them.

37 But last of all hee sent vnto them his owne sonne, saying, They will reuerence my sonne.

38 But when the husbandmen sawe the sonne, they sayd among themselves, * This is the herte: come, let vs kill him, and let vs take his inheritance.

39 So they rooke him, and cast him out of the vineyard, and slew him.

40 ¶ When therefore the Lord of the vineyard shall come, what will hee do to those husbandmen?

41 They sayd vnto him, He will cruelly destroy those wicked men, and will let out his vineyard vnto other husbandmen, which shall belueue him the fruites in their seasons.

42 Iesus said vnto them, Read yee neuer in the Scriptures, * The stone which the builders refused, the same is made the head of the corner? This was the Lordes doing, and it is maruelous in our eyes.

43 Therefore I say vnto you, the kingdome of God shall be taken from you, and shall be giuen to a nation, which shall bring forth the fruites thereof.

44 * And whosoever shall fall on this stone, hee shall bee broken: but on whomsoever it shall fall, it will grind him to powder.

45 And when the chiefe Priestes and Pharises had heard his parables, they persecuted that hee spake of them.

46 And they seeking to lay handes on him, feared the people, because they tooke him as a Prophet.

¶ Then * Iesus answered, and spake vnto them againe in parables, saying,

2 The kingdome of heauen is like vnto a certaine King which married his sonne,

3 And sent forth his seruants to call them that were bidden to the wedding, but they would not come.

4 Again hee sent forth other seruants, saying, Tell them which are bidden, Behold, I haue prepared my dinner: mine oxen and my fatchings are killed, and all things are ready: come vnto the marriage.

5 But they made light of it, and went their waies, one to his farme, and another about his merchandise.

6 And the remnant tooke his seruants, and intereated them sharply, and slew them.

7 But when the King heard it, hee was wroth, and sent forth his wardiours, and destroyed those murderers, and burnt vp their citie.

8 Then sayd he to his seruants, Cruelly the wedding is prepared: but they which were bidden, were not worthy.

9 So ye therefore out into the hie waies, and as many as ye finde, bid them to the marriage.

10 So those seruants went out into the hie waies, and gathered together all that euer they found, both good and bad: so the wedding was furnished with guests.

11 Then the King came in, to see the guests, and saw there a man which had not on a wedding garment.

12 And hee said vnto him, Friends, how

18 And whosoever sweareth by the altar, it is nothing: but whosoever sweareth by the offering that is vpon it, offendeth.

19 Ye fooles and blind, whether is greater, the offering, or the altar which sanctifieth the offering?

23 * Wo be to you, Scribes, & Pharises, hypocrites: for ye tithe mune, and anise, and cummin, and leaue the weightier matters of the Law, as iudgement and mercie, and fidelitie. These ought ye to haue done, and ner to haue left the other.

29 * Wo be unto you, Scribes & Pharises, hypocrites: for ye build the combs of the Prophets, and garnish the sepulchres of the righteous, 31 *And hee shall send his Angels with a great sound of a Trumpet, and they shall gather together his elect for the foure windes, and from the one end of the heauen to the other. 32 Now learne the parable of the figge tree: when her bough is yet tender, and it bringeth forth leaues, ye know that summer is neere. 33 So likewise ye, when ye see all these things, know that the kingdome of God is neere, euen at the doores. 34 Certily I say vnto you, this <sup>o</sup> generation shall not passe, till all these things be done. 35 *Heauen and earth shall passe away: but my words shall not passe away. 36 But of that day and houre knoweth no man, no not the angels of heauen, but my Father only. 37 But as the dayes of Noe were, so likewise shall the coming of the Sonne of man be. 38 *For as in the dayes before the flood, they did eat and drinke, marrie, and giue in marriage, vnto the day that Noe entred into the Arke, 39 And y<sup>e</sup> knew nothing till the flood came, and tooke them all away: so shall also the coming of the soune of man be. 40 *¶ Then two men shall be in the fields, the one shall be receiued, and the other shall be refused. 41 Two women shall be grinding at the mill: the one shall be receiued, and the other shall be refused. 42 *¶ Take therefore: for ye know not what houre your matter will come. 43 ¶ It is he sure, that if the goodman of the house knew at what watch the thiefe would come, he would surely watch, and not suffer his house to be digged thorow. 44 Therefore be ye alway ready: for in the houre that ye thinke not, will the Sonne of man come. 45 *¶ Altho then is a faithfull seruant and wife, whom his master hath made ruler ouer his household, to giue them meat in reason? 46 Blessed is that seruant, whom his master when he cometh, shall find so doing. 47 Certily I say vnto you, hee shall make him ruler ouer all his goods. 48 But if that euill seruant shall say in his heart, My master doth deferre his coming, 49 And begin to smite his fellowes, and to eat, and to drinke with the drunken, 50 That seruants master will come in a day, when he looketh not for him, and in all houre that yet is not ware of. 51 And will <sup>h</sup> cut him off, and giue him his portion with hypocrites: *there shall be weeping and gnashing of teeth.

¶ By the similitude of the virgins Iesus teacheth euery man to watch, 14 And by the talents to be diligent. 31 The last iudgements. 32 The sheepe and the goats. 35 The workes of the faithfull.

|| Or, separate him Chap. 13. 42. and 25. 30.

a This similitude teacheth vs, that it is not sufficient to haue once giuen our selues to follow Christ, but that we must continue.
b To doe him honour, as the maner was.

Then the Kingdome of heauen shall be likened vnto ten virgins, which tooke their lampes, and went to meete the bridegrome.

2 And fise of them were wise, and fise foolishly.

3 The foolish tooke their lampes, but tooke none oyle with them.

4 But the wise tooke oyle in their vessels with their lampes.

5 Now while the bridegrome taried long, all slumbered and slept.

6 And at midnight there was a cry made, Behold, the bridegrome cometh: goe out to meet him.

7 Then all thole vsrgins arole, and trimmed their lampes.

8 And the foolish said to the wise, Since vs of your oyle, for our lampes are ll out.

9 But the wise answered, saying, Wee feare lest there wil not be enough for vs and you; but go ye rather to them that sell, and buy for your selues.

10 And while they went to buy, the bridegrome came: and they that were ready, went in with him to the wedding, and the gate was shut.

11 Afterwards came also the other virgins, saying, Lord, Lord, open to vs.

12 But he answered, and sayd, Certly I say vnto you, I know you not.

13 Watch therefore: for ye know neither the day nor the houre, when the Sonne of man wil come.

14 For the Kingdome of heauen is as a man that goeth into a strange country, called his seruants, and deliued to them his goods.

15 And vnto one he gaue fise talents, and to another two, and to another one; and to every man after his own ability, & straightway went from home.

16 Then he that had receiued the fise talents, went & occupied with them, and he gained other fise talents.

17 Likewise also, he that receiued two, he also gained other two.

18 But he that receiued that one, went and digged it in the earth, and hid his masters money.

19 Now after a long season, the master of thole seruants came, and reckoned with them.

20 Then came he that had receiued fise talents, and brought other fise talents, saying, Master, thou deliueredst vnto me fise talents: behold, I haue gained with them other fise talents.

21 Then his master said vnto him, It is well done good seruant and faithfull, Thou hast bene faithfull in litle, I will make thee ruler ouer much: enter in into thy masters toy.

22 Also he that had receiued two talents, came and said, Master, thou deliueredst vnto mee two talents: behold, I haue gained two other talents with them.

23 His master said vnto him, It is well done good seruant, and faithfull, Thou hast bene faithfull in litle, I will make thee ruler ouer much: enter in into thy masters toy.

24 Then he which had receiued the one talent, came and sayd, Master, I knew that thou wast an hard man, which reapest where thou sowest not, & gatherest where thou it wadest not:

25 I was therefore afraid, and went and hid thy talent in the earth: behold, thou hast tyme owae.

26 And his master answered, and sayd vnto him, Thou callst me servant and steward, thou knowest that I reape, & where I sowed not, and gather where I sowed not.

27 Thou oughtest therefore to haue put my money to the exchangers, & then at my coming should I haue receiued mine own with vantage.

28 Take therefore the talent from him, & geue it vnto him which hath ten talents.

29 For vnto every man that hath, it shall be giuen, and he shall haue abundance, and from him that hath not, euen that he hath, shall be taken away.

30 Cast therefore that vnprofitable seruant into vetter darkenes: there shall be weeping and gnashing of teeth.

31 And when the Sonne of man cometh in his glorie, and all the Angels with him, then shall he sit vpon the throne of his glorie.

32 And before him shall be gathered all nations, and he shall separate them one from another, as a shepherd separateth the sheepe from the goats.

33 And he shall set the sheepe on his right hand, and the goats on the left.

34 Then shall the King say to them on his left hand, Come ye blessed of my father: inherit ye the kingdome prepared for you from the foundations of the world.

35 For I was an hungred, & ye gaue me meat: I thirsted, and ye gaue me drinke: I was a stranger, and ye lodged me:

36 I was naked, and ye clothed me: I was sicke, and ye visited me: I was in prison, and ye came vnto me.

37 Then shall the righteous answer him, saying, Lord, when saw wee thee an hungred, and fed thee? or a thirst, and gaue thee drinke?

38 And when saw wee thee a stranger, and lodged thee? or naked, and clothed thee?

39 Or when saw wee thee sicke, or in prison, and came vnto thee?

40 And the King shall answer and say vnto them, Verily I say vnto you, In as much as ye haue done it vnto one of the least of these my brethren, ye haue done it to me.

41 Then shall hee say vnto them on the left hand, Depart from me ye cursed, into everlasting fire: which is prepared for the deuil and his angels.

42 For I was an hungred, and ye gaue me no meat: I thirsted, and ye gaue me no drinke:

43 I was a stranger, and ye lodged me not: I was naked, and ye clothed me not: sicke, and ye visited me not.

44 Then shall they also answer him, saying, Lord, when saw wee thee an hungred, or a thirst, or a stranger, or naked, or sicke, or in prison, and did not minister vnto thee?

Or, lingerer.

AND * it came to passe when Iesus had finished at these sayings, he said unto his disciples,

2 Ye know that within two dayes is the Passouer, and the Sonne of man shall be deliuered to be crucified.

3 * Then assembled together the chiefe Priests, and the Scribes, and the Elders of the people into the hal of the hie Priest, called Caiaphas;

4 And consulted how they might take Iesus by subtiltie, and kill him.

5 But they said, Not on the feast day, lest any uprore be among the people.

6 * And when Iesus was in Bethanis, in the house of Simon the leper, 7 There came vnto him a woman, which had a boze of berie costly oyntment, & powred it on his head, as he sat at the table.

8 And when his disciples saw it, they had indignation, saying, What needed this wastte ?

9 For this oyntment might haue bene sold for much, and bene giuen to the poore.

10 And Iesus knowing it, sayd vnto them, Why trouble ye the woman? for shee hath wrought a good worke vpon me.

11 * For ye shall haue the poore alwayes with you, but mee haue ye not: haue alwayes.

12 For in that she powred this oyntment on my body, hee did it to a bury me.

13 Verily I say vnto you, Where soeuer this Gospel shall be preached throughtout all the world, there shall also this that the haty done be spoken of for a memoriaall of her.

14 * Then one of the twelue called Iudas Iscariot, went vnto the chiefe Priests, 15 And sayd, What will ye giue me, and I will deliuer him vnto you? and they appointed vnto him thirtie pieces of siluer.

16 And from that time he sought oportunitie to betray him.

17 * Now on the first day of the feast of vnleavened bread, the disciples came to Iesus, saying vnto him, Where wilt thou that we prepare for thee to eate the Passouer?

18 And he said, Goe into the citie to such a man, and say to him, The maister sayeth, My time is at hand: I will keep the Passouer at thine house with my disciples.

19 And the disciples did as Iesus had giuen them charge, and made readie the Passouer.

20 * So when the euen was come, he late downe with the twelue.

21 And as they did eat, hee said, Verily I say vnto you, that one of you shall betray me:

22 And they were exceeding sorrowfull, and began euery one of them to say vnto him, Is it I, Maister?

23 And he answered, and said, Hee that e dipperth his hand with mer in the dish, hee shall betray me.

24 Surely the Sonne of man goeth his way, as it is written of him: but woe be to that man, by whom the Sonne of man is betrayed: it had bene good for that man, if he had neuer bene doine.

25 Then Iudas which betrayed him, answered, and sayd, Is it I, Maister? He sayd vnto him, Thou hast sayd it.

26 * And as they did eate, Iesus tooke the bread: and when hee had giuen thanks, he brake it, and gaue it to the disciples, and sayd, Take, eate: this is my body.

27 Also he tooke the cup, and when hee had giuen thanks, hee gaue it them, saying, Drinke ye all of it.

28 For this is my blood of the new testamēt, that is shed for many, for the remission of finnes.

29 I say vnto you, that I wil not drinke henceforth of this fruit of the vine vntil that day, when I shall drinke it new with you in my Fathers kingdome.

30 And when they had sung a Psalm, they went out into the mount of Olives.

31 * Then sayd Iesus vnto them, All ye shall be offended by me this night: for it is written, I will smite the shepheard, and the sheepe of the flocke shall be scattered.

32 But after I am risen againe, I will goe before you into Galilee.

33 But Peter answered, and sayd vnto him, * Though that all men should be offended by thee, yet wil I neuer be offended.

34 * Iesus said vnto him, Verily, I say vnto thee, that this night, before the cocke crow, thou shalt denie me threife.

35 Peter said vnto him, Though I should die with thee, yet wil I not denie thee. Likewise also laid all the disciples.

36 * Then went Iesus with them into a place which is called Gethsemane, and said vnto his disciples, Sit ye here, while I goe and pray ponder.

37 And he tooke Peter, & the two sonnes of Zebedeus, and began to waie sorrowfull, and grieuously troubled.

38 Then said Iesus vnto them, My soule is very heauy, euen vnto the death: tary ye here, and watch with me.

39 So he went a little further, & fel on his face, & prayed, saying, O my Father, if it be possible, let this cup passe from me: neuertheless, not as I will, but as thou wilt.

40 After, hee came vnto the disciples, and found them asleepe, & said to Peter, What could ye not watch with me one houre?

48 Now he that betrayed him, had giuen them a token, saying, Whosoever I shall kisse, that is he, lay hold on him.

49 And forthwith he came to Iesus, and said, Godsaue thee, Master, and kissed him.

50 Then Iesus sayd vnto him, Friend, wherefore art thou come? Then came they, and laid hands on Iesus, and tooke him 51 And beholde, one of them which were with Iesus, stretched out his hand, and drew his sword, and strooke a seruant of the hie Priest, and smote of his eare.

52 Then sayd Iesus vnto him, Put thy sword into his place: for all that take the sword, shall perish with the sword.

53 Either thinkest thou, that I cannot now pray to my Father, and he will giue me more then twelue legions of Angels?

54 How then should the Scriptures be fulfilled, which say, that it must be so?

55 The same houre laid Iesus to the multitude, Vee be come out as it were against a thiefe with swords and staves, to take me: I late daily teaching in the Temple among you, and ye tooke me not.

56 But al this was done, that the Scriptures of the Prophets might be fulfilled.

57 Then all the disciples forsooke him, & fled.

58 And they tooke Iesus, and led him to Caiaphas the hie Priest, where y Scribes and the Elders were assembled.

59 And Peter followed him afarre off vnto the hie Priests hall, and went in, & late with the seruants to see the end.

60 Nowe * the chiefe Priestes and the Elders, and all the whole Councill * sought false witness against Iesus, to put him to death.

61 But they found none, and though many false witnesses came, yet found they none: but at the last came two false witnesses, 62 And sayd, This man sayd, I can destroy the temple of God, and build it in three dayes.

63 Then the chiefe Priest arose, and said to him, Answerest thou nothing? What is the matter that these men witness against thee?

64 But Iesus held his peace

Then the chiefe Priest answered, and sayd to him, I charge thee by the liuing God, that thou tel vs if thou be the Christ, the Sonne of God, 64 * Iesus said to him, Thou hast said it: neuertheless I say vnto you, hereafter shall ye see the Sonne of man sitting at the right hand of the power of God, and come in the clouds of the heauen.

65 Then the hie Priest rent his clothes, saying, He s b a hly blasphemed: what haue we any more need of witnesses? behold, now ye haue heard his blasphemy.

66 What thinke ye? They answered, and sayd, He is worthy to die.

67 Then spat they in his face, and buffeted him: and other smote him with their rods, 72 And againe he denied with an othe, saying, I know not the man.

73 So after a while, came vnto him they that stood by, and said vnto Peter, Surely, thou art also one of them: for even thy speech bewrayeth thee.

74 Then began he to curse himselfe, and to sweare, saying, I know not the man. And immediately the cock crew.

6 The resurrection of Christ. 10 The brethren of Christ. 12 The his Priests bribe the souldiers. 17 Christ appeareth to his disciples, and sendeth them forth to preach and to baptize, 20 Promising to them continuall assistance.

Now * in the // ende of the * Sabbath, when the first day of the weeke began to dawne, Mary Magdalene, and the other Mary came to see the sepulchre.

2 And behold, there was a great earthquake: for the ¶ Angel of the Lord descended from heauen, and came and rolled backe the stone from the dooze, and sat upon it.

3 And his countenance was like lightening, and his raiment white as snow.

4 And for feare of him the keepers were astonished, and became as dead men.

5 But the Angel answered, and sayd to the women, Feare ye not: for I know that ye seeke Iesus which was crucified:

6 Hee is not here, for hee is risen, as hee sayd: Come, see the place where the Lorde was layd,

7 And goe quickly, and tell his disciples that hee is risen from the dead: and behold, hee goeth before you into Galilee: there yee shall see him, * loe, I haue told you.

8 So they departed quickly from the sepulchre, with feare and great ¶ ioy, and did run to bring his disciples word.

9 And as they went to tell his disciples, behold, Iesus also met them, saying, God saue you. And they came, and tooke him by the feet, and worshipped him.

10 Then sayd Iesus vnto them, Bee not afraid, Goe, and tell my brethren, that they go into Galilee, and there shall they see me.

11 ¶ Now when they were gone, behold, some of the watch came into the citie, and shewed vnto the iie Priests all the things that were done.

12 And they gathered them together with the Elders, and tooke counsell, ¶ & gaue large money to the souldiers, 13 Saying, Say, His Disciples came by night, and stole him away while we slept.

14 And if the gouernour heare of this, we will perswade him, and saue you harmlesse.

15 So they tooke the money, and did as they were taught: and this slaying is noised among the Iewes vnto this day, 16 ¶ When the eleuen Disciples went into Galilee, into a mountaine, where Iesus had appointed them.

17 And when they saw him, they worshipped him: but some doubted.

18 And Iesus came, ¶ & spake vnto them, saying, * All power is giuen vnto me in heauen, and in earth.

19 ¶ Goe therefore, and teach all nations, baptizing them in the Name of the Father, and the Sonne, and the holy Ghost, 20 Teaching them to obserue all things, whatsoeuer I ¶ haue commanded you: and loe, ¶ I am with you alway, vntill the s ende of the world, Amen.

CHAP. I.

2 The office, doctrine and life of Iohn the Baptist, 9 Christ is baptized, 13 and tempted, 14 He preacheth, 17 callth the fishers, 23 Christ healeth the man with the unclean spirit, 27 New doctrine, 29 Hee healeth Peters mother in law, 34 The devils know him, 41 Hee cleanseth the leper, and healeth divers others.

The beginning of the Gospell of Iesus Christ, the Sonne of God:

2 As it is written in the Prophets, * Behold, I send my messenger before thy face, which shall prepare thy way before thee.

3 * The voyce of him that cryeth in the wilderness, is, * Prepare the way of the Lord, make his pathes straight.

4 * Iohn did baptize in the wilderness, and preach the baptisme of amendment of life, for remission of finnes.

5 And all the country of Iudea, & they of Ierusalem went out vnto him, and were all baptized of him in the riuer Iordán, confessing their finnes.

6 * Now Iohn was clothed with camels haire, and with a girdle of a skinne about his loynes: and he did eate * Locusts and wilde bounte, 7 * And preached, saying, A stronger then I cometh after me, whose shoes latchet I am not worthy to stoupe downe, and vnloose.

8 Truth it is, I haue * baptized you with water: but hee will baptize you with the holy Ghost.

9 * And it came to passe in those dayes, that Iesus came from Nazaret a cite of Galile, and was baptized of Iohn in Iordán.

10 And as soon as hee was come out of the water, Iohn saue the heauens clouen in twaine, and the holy Ghost descending vpon him like a doue.

11 Then there was a voyce from heauen, saying, Thou art my beloued Sonne, in whom I am well pleased.

12 * And immediatly the Spirit diuyneth him into the wilderness.

13 And hee was there in the wilderness fourety dayes, and was tempted of Satan: hee was also with the wilde beastes, and the Angels ministred vnto him.

14 * Nowe after that Iohn was committed to prison, Iesus came into Galile, preaching the Gospell of the kingdome of God, 15 And saying, The time is fulfilled, and the kingdome of God is at hand: repent and beleeue the Gospell.

16 * And as he walked by the Sea of Galile, hee saw Simon, and Andrew his brother, casting a net into the Sea, (for they were fishers.)

17 Then Iesus said vnto them, Follow me, & I will make you to be fishers of men.

18 And straightway they forooke their nets, and followed him.

19 And when he had gone a little further thence, he saw James the sonne of Zebedeus, and Iohn his brother, as they were in the ship, mending their nets.

20 And anon hee called them: and they left their father Zebedeus in the shippe with his hired seruants, and went their way after him.

21 * So they entred into Capernaum, and straightway on the Sabbath day he entred into the Synagogue, and taught.

22 And they were astonied at his doctrine: for he taught them as one that had authoritie, and not as the Scribes.

23 * And there was in their Synagogue a man which had an vncleane spirit, and hee cryed, 24 Saying, Ah, what haue wee to doe with thee, O Iesus of Nazaret? Art thou come to destroy vs? I know thee what thou art, euen that holy One of God.

25 And Iesus rebuked him, saying, Hold thy peace, and come out of him.

26 And the vncleane spirit tare him, and cried with a loud voice, and came out of him.

27 And they were all amazed, so that they demanded one of another, saying, What thing is this? what new doctrine is this? for hee commaundeth the foule spirits with authoritie, and they obey him.

28 And immediatly his fame spread abroad throughout all the region bordering on Galile.

29 * And as soon as they were come out of the Synagogue, they entred into the house of Simon and Andrew, with James and Iohn.

30 And Simons wifes mother lay sicke of a feuer, and anon they told him of her.

31 And he came & tooke her by the hand, and lift her vp, and the feuer forooke her by and by, and she ministred vnto them.

32 And when euen was come, and the Sonne was downe, they brought to him all that were diseased, and them that were possessed with devils.

33 And the whole cite was gathered together at the doore.

34 And hee healed many that were sicke of diuers diseases: and hee cast out many devils, and * suffered not the devils to say that they knew him.

35 And in the morning very early, hee before day, Iesus arose and went out into a solitary place, and there prayed.

36 And Simon, and they that were with him, followed after him.

39 And hee preached in their Synagogues, throughout all Galilee, and cast the deuils out.

40 ¶ And there came a leper to him, beseeching him, and kneeled downe vnto him, and said to him, If thou wilt, thou canst make me cleane.

41 And Iesus had compassion, and put forth his hand, and touchted him, and said to him, I will: be thou cleane.

45 But when hee was departed, * hee began to tell many things, and to publish the matter: so that Iesus could no more openly enter into the citie, but was without in desert places: and they came to him from euery quarter.

C H A P. II.

3 He healeth the man of the palsy. 5 He forgiveth finnes. 14 He calleth Leuitus the customer. 16 He eateth with sinners. 18 Hee excuseth his disciples, as touching fasting, and keeping the Sabbath day.

AFTER a few dayes, he entred into Capernaum againe, and it was noyded that he was in the * house.

2 And anon many gathered together, in so much that the places about the doore could not receiue any more: and hee preached the word vnto them.

3 And there came vnto him, that brought one like of the pallsie, borne of foure men.

4 And because they could not come neere vnto him for the multitude, they vncouered the rooffe of the house where he was: and when they had broken it open, they let downe the bed whereta the like of the pallsie lay.

5 Now when Iesus saw their faith, hee said to the like of the pallsie, Sonne, thy finnes are forgiven thee.

6 And there were certain of the Scribes sitting there, and reasoning in their hearts, 7 Why doeth this man speake such blasphemies? * who can forgive finnes, but God onely?

8 And immediately when Iesus perceived in his spirit, that thus they thought with themselves, hee sayd vnto them, Why reason ye these things in your hearts?

9 Whether is it easier to say to the like of the pallsie, Thy finnes are forgiven thee? or to say, Arise, and take vp thy bed, and walke?

10 And that yee may knowe, that the Sonne of man hath authority in earth to forgiue finnes, (hee said vnto the like of the pallsie.)

11 I say vnto thee, Arise and take vp thy bed, & get thee hence into thine owne house.

12 And by and by he arose, and tooke vp his bed, and went forth before them all, in token that they were all amazed, and glorified God, saying, We neuer saw such a thing.

13 ¶ Then hee went againe toward the sea, and all the people resorted vnto him, and he taught them.

14 * And as Iesus passed by, he saw Leui the sonne of Alphens sit at the receipt of custome, and said vnto him, Follow mee. And he rose and followed him.

15 ¶ And it came to passe, as Iesus sat at table in his house, many Publicanes and sinners late at table also with Iesus, and his disciples: for there were many that followed him.

16 And when the Scribes and Pharises saw him eate with the Publicanes and sinners, they sayd vnto his disciples, How is it, that hee eateth and drinketh with Publicanes and sinners?

17 Now when Iesus heard it, hee sayd vnto them, The whole haue no neede of the Phisitian, but the sicke. * I came not to call the * righteous, but y sinners to repentance.

18 * And the disciples of John and the Pharises did fast, & came and said vnto him, Why doe the disciples of John and of the Pharises fast, and thy disciples fast not?

19 And Iesus sayd vnto them, Can the children of the marriage chamber fast, whyles the bridegrome is with them? as long as they haue the bridegrome with them, they cannot fast.

20 But the dayes will come, when the bridegrome shall be taken from them, and then shall they fast in those dayes.

21 Also no man seweth a piece of newe cloth in an olde garment: for else the newe piece taketh away the filling vp from the old, and the breach is worse.

22 Likewise, no man putteth new wine into olde vessels: for els the new wine breaketh the vessels, and the wine runneth out, and the vessels are lost: but new wine must be put into new vessels.

23 ¶ * And it came to passe as he went thorow the corne on the Sabbath day, that his disciples, as they went on their way, began to plucke the eares of corne.

24 And the Pharises said vnto him, Behold, why doe they on the Sabbath day that which is not lawfull?

25 And hee said to them, Haue ye neuer read what * Dauid did when he had hunger, and was an hungred, both he, and they that were with him?

26 Now hee went into the house of God, in the dayes of Abtathar the chiefe Priest, and did eat the wheate, which were not lawfull to eat, but for the * Priests, and gaue also to them that were with him?

27 And hee said to them, The Sabbath was made for man, and not man for the Sabbath.

28 Therefore the sonne of man is Lord euen of the Sabbath.

Matth 12.9, 10. Luke 6.6.

And he entered againe into the Synagogue, and there was a man which had a withered hand.

2 And they watched him whether hee would heale him on the Sabbath day, that they might accuse him.

3 Then he said vnto the man which had the withered hand, Arise: stand forth in the mids.

4 And hee said to them, Is it lawfull to doe a good dede on the Sabbath day, or to doe euill: to saue the life, or to kill? But they held their peace.

5 Then he looked round about on them angrily, mourning also for the hardnesse of their hearts, and said to the man, stretch forth thine hand: And hee stretched it out: and his hand was restored as whole as the other.

6 And the Pharises departed, and straightway gathered a Council with the Herodians against him, that they might destroy him.

7 But Iesus auoyded with his disciples to the sea: and a great multitude followed him from Galile, and from Iudaea, 8 And from Ierusalem, and from Idumea, and beyond Jordan, & they that dwelled about Tyms and Sidon, when they had heard what great things hee did, came vnto him in great number.

9 And hee commanded his disciples, that a shipp should waite for him, because of the multitude, lest they should thong him.

10 For hee had healed many; inso much that they pressed vpon him, to touch him, as many as had || plagues.

11 And when the nucleane spirits sawe him, they fell downe before him, and cried, saying, Thou art the sonne of God.

12 And hee sharply rebuked them, to the end they should not vteer him.

13 And when he went vp into a mountain, and called vnto him whome hee would, and they came vnto him.

14 And hee appointed thucle that they should be with him, and that hee might send them to preach, 15 And that they might haue power to heale sicknesses, and to cast out deuils.

16 And the first was Simon, and hee named Simon, Peter.

17 Then James the sonne of Zebedeus, and John, James brother, (and named them Boanerges, which is, the sonnes of thunder)

18 And Andrew, and Philip, and Barthelew, and Mattheu, and Thomas, and James the sonne of Alphaeus, and Thaddeus, and Simon the Cananite, 19 And Iudas Iscariot who also betrayed him, and they came d home.

20 And the multitude assembled againe, so that they could not so much as eate breaui.

21 And when his kinsfolke heard of it, they went out to lay hold on him: for they thought he had bene beside himselfe.

22 And the Scribes which came from Ierusalem, said, Hee hath Beelsebub, and through the pitice of deuils hee casteth out deuils.

23 But hee called them vnto him, and said vnto them in parables, How can Satan driue out Satan?

24 For if a kingdome be diuided against itselfe, that kingdome cannot stand.

25 Or if a houie be diuided against it selfe, that houie cannot continue.

26 So if Satan make insurrection against himselfe, and bee diuided, hee cannot endure, but is at an end.

27 No man can enter into a strong mans houie, and take away his goods, except hee first binde that strong man, and then spoyle his houie.

28 Certily I say vnto you, all finnes shalbe forgiven vnto the children of men, & blasphemies, wherewith they blaspheme:

29 But he that blasphemeth against the holy Ghost shall neuer haue forgiveness, but is culpable of eternall damnation, 30 Because they said, he had an nucleane spirit.

31 Then came his brethren and mother, and stood without, and sent vnto him, and called him.

32 And the people sae about him, and they said vnto him, Behold, thy mother and thy brethren seeke for thee without.

33 But hee answered them, saying, Who is my mother and my brethren?

34 And hee looked round about on them, which sae in compass about him, and said, Behold my mother and my brethren.

35 For whosoener doeth the will of God, he is my brother, and my sister, and mother.

CHAP. IIII.

2 By the parables of the seele, and the mustard corne, Christ sheweth the state of the kingdome of God. 11 A speccall gift of God to know the mysteries of his kingdome. 37 Hee sulleth the tempest of the sea, which obeyed him.

And hee beganne againe to teach by the sea side, and there gathered vnto him a great multitude, so that hee entered into a ship and sae in the sea, and all the people was by the sea side on the land.

2 And hee taught them many things in parables, and said vnto them in his doctrine.

3 Hearken: Behside, there went out a sower to sow.

4 And it came to passe as he sowed, that some fell by the way side, and the soiles of the steeuen came and deuoured it vp.

5 And some fell on stony ground, wher it had not much earth, and by and by sprang vp, because it had not depth of earth.

6 But as soone as the sunne was vp, it caught heate, and because it had no roote, it withered away.

7 And some fell among the thornes, and the thornes grew vp, and choked it, so that it gaue no fruit.

9 Then he said vnto them, He that hath cares to heare, let him heare.
10 And when hee was alone, they that were about him with the twelue, asked him of the parable.
11 And he said vnto them, To you it is giuen to know the mystery of the kingdom of God: but vnto them that are without, all things be done in parables, 12 That they seeing, may see, and not discern: and they hearing may heare, and not vnderstand, lest at any time they should turne, and their sinnes should be forgiven them.
13 Again hee said vnto them, Perceiue ye not this parable? how then should ye vnderstand all other parables?
14 The sower soweth the word.
15 And these are they that receive the seed by the wayes side, in whome the word is sowne: but when they haue heard it, Satan cometh immediately, and taketh away the word that was sowne in their hearts.
16 And likewise they that receive the seed in stony ground, are they, which when they haue heard the word, straightwayes receive it with gladnesse.

18 Also they that receive the seed among the thornes, are such as heare the word:

20 But they that haue received seed in good ground, are they that heare the word, and receiue it, and bring forth fruite, one cometh thirtie, another sixty, and some an hundred fold.
21 Also hee said vnto them, As the candle is lighted to be put vnder a bushell, or vnder the table, and not to be put on a candlestick?

23 If any man haue cares to heare, let him heare.

25 For vnto him that hath, shall be giuen, and from him that hath not, shall be taken away, euen that he hath.
26 Also hee said, So is the kingdom of God, as if a man should cast seede in the ground, 27 And should sleepe, and rise by night and day, and the seede should spring and grow vp, he not knowing how.
28 For the earth bringeth forth fruit of her selfe, first the blade, then the eares, after 30 As he said moreover, Whereunto shall wee liken the kingdom of God? or with what comparison shall we compare it?

31 It is like a graine of mustard seede, which when it is sowne in the earth, is the least of all seedes that be in the earth:
32 But after that it is sowne, it groweth vp, and is greater of all herbes, and beareth great branches, so that the fowles of heauen may build vnder the shadow of it.
33 And with many such parables hee preached the word vnto them, as they were able to heare it.
34 And without parables spake hee nothing vnto them, but he expounded at things to his disciples apart.
35 Now the same day when euen was come, hee laid vnto them, Let vs passe ouer vnto the other side.
36 And they left the multitude, and tooke him as hee was in the ship: and there were also with him other ships.
37 And there arose a great storme of wind, and the waues dashed into the ship, so that it was now full.
38 And he was in the sterne asleepe on a pillow: and they awoke him, and said to him, Master, carest thou not that wee perishe?
39 And hee arose vp, and rebuked the wind, and said vnto the sea, Peace, and be still. So the wind ceased, and it was a great calme.
40 Then he said vnto them, Why are ye so fearefull? how is it that ye haue no faith?
41 And they feared exceedingly, and said one to another, Who is this, that both the winde and the sea obey him?

8 (For hee said vnto him, Come out of the man, thou vncleane spirit.)
9 And he asked him, What is thy name? and he answered, saying, My name is Legion: for we are many.
10 And hee prayed him instantly, that he would not send them away out of the countrey.

11 Now there was there in the mountaines a great heard of swine, feeding.

12 And all the devils besought him, saying, Send vs into the swine, that wee may enter into them.

13 And incontinently Iesus gaue them leave. Then the vncleane spirits went out, and entred into the swine, and the herd began heading from the high banke into the sea, (and there were about two thousand swine) and they were drowned in the sea.

14 And the swineheards fledde, and told it in the citie, and in the countrey, and they came out to see what it was that was done.

15 And they came to Iesus, and saw him that had bene possessed with the devill, and had the legion, sit bath clothed, and in his right minde: and they were afraid.

16 And they that saw it, tolde them what was done to him that was possessed with the devill, and concerning the swine.

17 Then <sup>d</sup> they began to pray him, that he would depart from their coasts.

18 And when hee was come into the ship, hee that had bene possessed with the devill, prayed him that he might be with him.

19 Howbeit Iesus would not suffer him, but said vnto him, Goe thy way home to thy friends, and shew them what great things the Lord hath done vnto thee, and how hee hath had compassion on thee.

20 So hee departed, and began to publish in the Decapolis, what great things Iesus had done vnto him: and all men did marvaile.

21 And when Iesus was come ouer againe by shippe vnto the ocher side, a great multitude gathered to him, and hee was nere vnto the sea.

22 And behold, there came one of the rulers of the Synagogue, whose name was Jairus: and when he saw him, he fell downe at his feete, 23 And besought him instantly, saying, My little daughter lyeth at point of death: I pray thee that thou wouldest come and lay thine hands on her, that shee may bee healed and live.

24 Then he went with him, and a great multitude followed him, and thronged him.

25 (And there was a certaine woman, which was diseased with an issue of blood twelue yeeres, 26 And had suffered many things of many physicians, and had spent all that shee had, and it availed her nothing, but shee became much worse.

27 When shee had heard of Iesus, shee came in the presse behind, and shee touched his garment.

28 For shee said, If I may but touch his clothes, I shall be whole.

29 And straightway the course of her blood was dried up, and shee felt in her body, that shee was healed of that plague.

30 And immediately when Iesus did know in himselfe the vertue that went out of him, hee turned him round about in the presse, and sayde, Who hath touched my clothes?

31 And his disciples said vnto him, Thou seest the multitude thronging thee, and sayest thou, Who did touch me?

32 And he looked round about, to see her that had done that.

33 And the woman feared and trembled: for shee knew what was done in her, and shee came and fell downe before him, and tolde him the whole truerhy.

34 And he said to her, Daughter, thy faith hath made thee whole: goe in peace, and bee whole of thy plague.)

35 Where hee yet spake, there came from the same ruler of the Synagogues house certaine which said, Thy daughter is dead: why dost thou trouble the Master any further?

36 As soone as Iesus heard that word spoken, hee said vnto the ruler of the Synagogue, Be not afraid: onely beleuee.

37 And he suffered no man to follow him, save Peter and James, and Iohn the brother of James.

38 So hee came vnto the house of the ruler of the Synagogue, and saw the tumult, and them that wept and wailed greatly.

39 And he went in, and said vnto them, Why make yee this trouble, and weepe? the child is not dead, but sleepeth.

40 And they laughed him to scorne: but he put them all out, and tooke the father, and the mother of the child, & them that were with him, and entred in where the child lay, 41 And tooke the childe by the hand, and said vnto her, Talitha cumi, which is by interpretation, Arise, I say vnto thee, Arise.

 15 Other sayd, It is Elias: and some sayde, It is a ¶ Prophet, or as one ¶ of the Prophets.
 16 ¶ So when Herod heard it, he sayd, It is John whom I beheaded, he is risen from the dead.
 17 For Herod himselfe had sent forth, and had taken John and bound him in prison for Herodias sake, which was his brother Philips wife, because he had married her.
 18 For John sayd vnto Herode, ¶ It is not lawfull for thee to haue thy brothers wife.
 19 Therefore Herodias had a quarrell against him, and would haue killed him, but she could not.
 20 For Herode feared John, knowing that hee was a iust man and an holy, and reuenced him, and when he heard him, hee did many things, and ¶ heard him gladly.

 21 But the time being conuenient, when Herod on his birth day made a banquet to his princes and capitaines, and chiefe estates of Gaule:

 24 ¶ So she went forth, and sayd to her mother, ¶ What shall I aske? And she sayd, John Baptistes head.
 25 Then she came in straightway with haste vnto the king & asked, saying, I would that thou shouldst giue mee euen now in a charger the head of John Baptist.
 26 ¶ Then the king was very sorry: yet for his othes sake, for their sakes which sate at table with him, he would not refuse her.

 30 ¶ And the Apostles gathered themselves together to Iesus, and tolde him all things, both what they haue done, and what they had taught.
 31 And he said vnto them, ¶ Come ye apart into the wilderness, and rest a while: for there were many commers and goers, that they had not leasure to eat.
 32 ¶ So they went by ship out of the way into a desert place.
 33 But the people sawe them when they departed, and many knew him, and ran a foote thither out of all cities, and came thither before them, and assembled vnto him.

14 * And they had forgotten to take bread, neither had they in the ship with them but one loafe.

15 And he charged them, saying, Take heed, and beware of the leauen of the Pharises, and of the leauen of Herod.

16 And they thought among themselues, saying, It is, because we haue no bread.

17 And when Iesus knew it, he sayd vnto them, Why reason you thus because ye haue no bread? perceiue yee not yet, neither vnderstand? haue yee your hearts yet hardened?

18 Haue yee eyes and see not? and haue yee eares and heare not? and doe yee not remember?

19 * When I brake the fixe loaves among five thousand, how many baskets full of broken meate tooke yee vp? they said vnto him, Twelue.

20 And when I brake seuen among foure thousand, how many baskets of the leauings of broken meate tooke yee vp? and they sayd, Seuen.

21 Then hee sayd vnto them, How is it that ye vnderstand not?

22 And he came to Bethsaida, and they brought a blinde man vnto him, and desired him to touch him.

23 Then he tooke the blinde by the hand, and led him out of the towne, and spet in his eyes, and put his hands vpon him, and asked him, if he saw ought.

24 And he looked vp, and said, I see men: for I see them walking like trees.

25 After that, hee put his handes againe vpon his eyes, and made him looke againe. And hee was restored to his sight, and saw euery man as farre off clearely.

26 And hee sent him home to his house, saying, Neither go into the towne, nor tell it to any in the towne.

27 * And Iesus went out, and his disciples, into the towines of Cesarea Philippi. And by the way hee asked his disciples, saying vnto them, Whom doe men say that I am?

28 And they answered, Some say, Iohn Baptist: and some, Elias: and some, one of the Prophets.

29 And he sayd vnto them, But whom say yee that I am? Then Peter answered and said vnto him, Thou art the Christ.

30 And he sharply charged them that concerning him they should tell no man.

31 Then he began to teach them that the Sonne of man must suffer many things, and should be reproboued of the Elders, and of the high Priests, and of the Scribes, & be slaine, and within thre dayes rise againe.

32 And he spake that thing plainly. Then Peter tooke him aside, and began to rebuke him.

33 Then he turned backe, and looked on his disciples, and rebuked Peter, saying, Get thee behinde me, Satan: for thou understandest not the things that are of God, but the things that are of men.

34 And he called the people vnto him, with his Disciples, and sayd vnto them, Whosoever will follow mee, let him forsake himselfe, and take vp his crosse, and follow me.

35 For whosoever will save his life, shall lose it: but whosoever shall lose his life, for my sake and the Gospels, he shall save it.

37 What shall a man giue for recompense of his soule?

38 For whosoever shall be ashamed of mee, and of my wordes among this adulterous and sinfull generation, of him shall the Sonne of man bee ashamed also, when hee cometh in the glory of his Father with the holy Angels.

2 The transfiguration. 7 Christ is to be beard. 26 The dumbe spirit is cast out. 29 The force of prayer and fasting. 31 Of the death & resurrection of Christ. 33 The disputaion who should be the greatest. 38 Not to hinder the course of the Gospel. 42 Offences are forbidden.

And hee sayd vnto them, Verely I say vnto you, that there be some of them that stand here, which shall not taste of death till they haue seene the kingdom of God come with power.

2 And sixe dayes after, Iesus tooke Peter, and James, and Iohn, and brought them vp into an high mountaine out of the way alone, and he was transfigured before them.

3 And his raiment did shine, and was very white as snow, so white as no fuller can make vpon the earth.

4 And there appeared vnto them Elias with Moses, and they were talking with Iesus.

5 Then Peter answered, and said to Iesus, Master, it is good for vs to bee here: let vs make also thre Tabernacles, one for thee, and one for Moses, and one for Elias.

6 Peter knew not what hee sayd: for they were afraid.

7 And there was a cloude that shadowed them, and a voice came out of the cloude, saying, This is my beloued Sonne, heare him.

8 And suddenly they looked round about, and sawe no more any man saue Iesus onely with them.

9 And as they came downe from the mountaine, he charged them that they should tell no man what they had seene, saue when the Sonne of man were risen from the dead againe.

10 So they kept that matter to themselves, & demanded one of another, what the riling from the dead againe should meane.

11 Also they asked him, saying, Why say the Scribes, That Elias must first come?

12 And he answered, and said vnto them, Elias verely shall first come, and restore all things: and as it is written of the Sonne of man, he must suffer many things, and be set at nought.

13 But I say vnto you, that Elias is come, (and they haue done vnto him whatsoever they would) as it is written of him.

14 And when hee came to his disciples, hee saw a great multitude about them, and the Scribes disputing with them.

15 And straightway all the people, when they beheld him, were amazed, and ranne to him, and saluted him.

16 Then hee asked the Scribes, What dispute you among your selues?

17 And one of the companie answered, and said, Master, I haue brought my sonne vnto thee, which hath a dumbe spirit:

18 And wherelouer hee taketh him, hee teareth him, and hee smeth, and gnasheth his teeth, and pineth away: and I spake to thy disciples, that they should cast him out, and they could not.

19 Then hee answered him, and sayd, O faithlesse generation, how long now shall I bee with you! How long now shall I suffer you! Bring him vnto me.

20 So they brought him vnto him: and as soone as the spirit saw him, hee tare him, and he fel downe on the ground, wallowing and foaming.

21 Then hee asked his father, How long tyme is it since he hath bene thus? And he sayd, Of a childe.

22 And oftentimes he casteth him into the fire, and into the water, to destroy him: but if thou canst doe any thing, helpe vs, and haue compassion vpon vs.

23 And Iesus sayde vnto him, If all things are possible to him that beleueth.

24 And straightway the father of the childe crying with teares, sayd, Lord, I beleue: helpe my vnbelicfe.

25 When Iesus saw that the people came running together, hee rebuked the vnclane spirit, saying vnto him, Thou dumbe and deafe spirit, I charge thee, come out of him, and enter no more into him.

39 ¶ But Iesus sayde, Forbid him not: for there is no man that can doe a miracle by my name, that can lightly speake euill of me.

40 For whosoener is not against vs, is on our part.

2 Of diuorcement. 17 The rich man questioned with Christ. 30 Their reward that are persecuted. 35 Of the sonnes of Zebedees. 46 Bartimeus hath his eyes opened.

¶ And he arose from thence, and went into the coastes of Iudea by the bare side of Iordan, and the people resorted vnto him againe, & as hee was wont, he taught them againe.

2 Then the Pharisees came and asked him, if it were lawfull for a man to put away his wife, and remprend him.

3 And he answered, and said vnto them, What did Moses commaund you?

4 And they said, Moses suffered to write a bill of diuorcement, and to put her away.

5 Then Iesus answered, and said vnto them, For the hardnesse of your heart hee wrote this precept vnto you.

6 But at the beginning of the creation, God made them male and female.

7 For this cause shall man leaue his father and mother, and cleaue vnto his wife.

8 And they twaine shall bee one flesh: so that they are no more twaine, but one flesh.

9 Therefore, what God hath coupled together, let no man separate.

10 And in the house his disciples asked him againe of that matter.

11 And hee said vnto them, Whosoener shall put away his wife and marrie another, he committeth adultery against her.

12 And if a woman put away her husband, and be married to another, shee committeth adultery.

13 ¶ Then they brought little children to him, that hee should touch them: and his disciples rebuked those that brought them.

14 But when Iesus saw it, hee was displeasid, and sayd to them, Suffer the little children to come to mee, and forbid them not: for of such is the kingdome of God.

15 Verely I say vnto you, Whosoener shall not receiue the kingdome of God as a little childe, hee shall not enter therein.

16 And hee tooke them by in his armes, and put his handes vpon them, and blessed them.

way, there came one * running, and kneeling to him, and asked him, Good Master, what shall I doe, that I may possesse eternal life?

18 Iesus said to him, Why callest thou me good? there is none good but one, even God.

19 Thou knowest the commandements, * Thou shalt not commit adultery. Thou shalt not kill. Thou shalt not steale. Thou shalt not beare false witness. Thou shalt hurt no man. Honour thy father and mother.

20 Then hee answered, and sayd to him, Master, all these thinges I haue obserued from my youth.

21 And Iesus behelde him, and * loued him, and layd vnto him, One thing is lacking vnto thee, Goe and sell all that thou hast, and giue to the poore, and thou shalt haue treasure in heauen, and come, follow me, and take vp the crosse.

22 But he was sad at that saying, and went away sorrowfull: for he had great possessions.

23 And Iesus looked round about, and said vnto his disciples, how hardly doe they that haue riches, enter into the kingdome of God?

24 And his disciples were astonied at his wordes. But Iesus answered againe, and said vnto them, Children, how hard is it for them that trust in riches, to enter into the kingdome of God!

25 It is easier for a camel to go thorow the eye of a needle, then for a rich man to enter into the kingdome of God.

26 And they were much more astonied, saying with themselves, Who then can be saved?

27 But Iesus looked vpon them, and said, With men it is impossible, but not with God: for with God all thinges are possible.

28 ¶ Then Peter began to say vnto him, Loe, we haue forsaken all, and haue followed thee.

29 Iesus answered, and sayd, Verily I say vnto you, there is no man that hath forsaken house, or brethren, or sisters, or father, or mother, or wife, or children, or landes for my sake and the Gospels, 30 But he shall receive an hundredfold now at this present: houses, and brethren, and sisters, and mothers, and children, and lands with * persecutions, and in the world to come eternall life.

31 But many that are first, shall be last, and the last, first.

32 ¶ And they were in the way going by to Ierusalem, and Iesus went before them, and they were amazed, and as they followed, they were afraide, and Iesus tooke the twelue againe, and beganne to tell them what thinges should come vnto him, 33 Saying, Behold, wee goe by to Ierusalem, and the Sonne of man shall be deliuered vnto the hie Priests, & to the Scribes, and they shall condemne him to death, and shall deliuer him to the Gentiles.

34 And they that mocke him, and scourge him, and spit vpon him, and kill him: but the third day, he shall rise againe.

35 ¶ Then James and Iohn the sonnes of Zebedeus came vnto him, saying, Master, we would that thou shouldst do for vs that we desire.

36 And he said vnto them, What would ye I should doe for you?

37 And they said vnto him, Graunt vnto vs, that wee may sit one at thy right hand, and the other at thy left hand in thy glory.

38 But Iesus said vnto them, Ye know not what ye aske. Can ye drink of the cup that I shall drinke of, and be baptized with the baptism that I shall be baptized with?

39 And they said vnto him, We can. But Iesus said vnto them, Ye shall drinke indeed of the cup that I shall drinke of, and be baptized with the baptism wherewith I shall be baptized.

40 But to sit at my right hand, and at my left, is not mine to giue, but it shall be giuen to them to whom it is prepared.

41 And when the ten heard that, they began to disbaire at James and Iohn.

42 But Iesus called them vnto him, and sayd to them, * Ye know that they which delight to beare rule among the Gentiles, haue domination ouer them, and they that be great among them, exercise authority ouer them.

43 But it shall not be so among you: but whosoever will be great among you, shall be your seruant.

44 And whosoever will be chiefe of you, shall be the seruant of all.

45 For euen the Sonne of man came not to be serued, but to serue, and to giue his life for the ranfome of many.

46 ¶ Then they came to Iericho: and as hee went out of Iericho with his disciples, and a great multitude, ¶ Bartimeus the sonne of Timeus, a blinde man, late by the way side begging.

47 And when hee heard that it was Iesus of Nazaret, hee began to cry and to say, Iesus the Sonne of Dauid, haue mercy on mee.

48 And many rebuked him, because hee should hold his peace: but hee cryed much more, O Sonne of Dauid haue merete on mee.

49 Then Iesus stood still, and commanded him to be called: and they called the blinde, saying vnto him, Bee of good comfort: arise, he calleth thee.

50 So he threw away his cloke, and rose, and came to Iesus.

51 And Iesus answered, and sayd vnto him, What wilt thou that I doe vnto thee? And the blinde sayd vnto him, Lord, that I may receive sight.

52 Then Iesus sayd vnto him, Goe thy way: thy faith hath saved thee. And by and by hee receiued his sight, and followed Iesus in the way.

11 Christ rideth to Ierusalem. 13 The fig tree dryeth vp. 15 The buyers and sellers are cast out of

of the Temple. 24 Hee declareth the vertus of faith, and how we should pray. 27 The Pharises question with Christ.

And * when they came neere to Ierusalem, of Bethphage and Bethania unto the mount of Olives, hee sent forth two of his disciples,

2 And sayd vnto them, * Goe your wayes into that towne that is ouer against you, and asloone as yee shall enter into it, yee shall finde a colt bound, wher on neuer man take: loose him, and bring him.

3 And if any man say vnto you, Why doe yee this? Say that the Lord hath neede of him, and straightway hee will send him hitter.

4 And they went their way, and found a colt tied by the doore without, in a place where two wayes mette, and they losed him.

5 Then certaine of them that stood there, sayd vnto them, What doe yee looking for the colt?

6 And they said vnto them as Iesus had commanded them. So they let them goe.

7 * And they brought the colt to Iesus, and cast their garments on him, and he sat vpon him.

8 And many spread their garments in the way: other cut downe branches off the trees, and strawed them in the way.

9 And they that went before, and they that followed, cryed, saying, ¶ Hosanna, Blessed be he that cometh in the Name of the Lord.

10 Blessed be the kingdome that cometh in the Name of the Lord of our father Dauid: Hosanna, O thou which art in the highest heauens.

11 * So Iesus entred into Ierusalem, and into the Temple: and when hee had looked about on all thinges, and now it was euening, he went forth vnto Bethania with the twelue.

12 * And on the morrow when they were come out from Bethania, hee was hungry, 13 And seeing a fig tree a farrre off, that had leaues, he went to see if hee might finde anyrthing thereon: but when hee came vnto it, he found nothyng but leaues: for the time of figs was not yet.

14 Then Iesus answered, and sayd to it, ¶ Neuer man eate fruite of thee hereafter while the world standeth: and his disciples heard it.

15 And they came to Ierusalem, and Iesus went into the Temple, and began to tell out them that sold and bought in the Temple, and ouertrew the Tables of the money changers, and the seats of them that sold dones.

16 Neither would he suffer that any man should cary a vessell thozow the Temple.

17 And hee taught, saying vnto them, As it not written, * Wine house shall be called the house of prayer vnto all nations: * but you haue made it a denne of theues.

18 And the Scribes & hie Priests heard it, and sought how to destroy him: for they feared him, because the whole multitude was astonied at his doctrine.

19 But when euen was come, Iesus went out of the city.

20 * And in the morning as they passed by, they saw the figge tree dried vpon the roots.

21 Then Peter remembered, and said vnto him, Master, behold, the figge tree which thou cursedst, is withered.

22 And Iesus answered, and sayd vnto them, Vane be faith in God.

23 For verily I say vnto you, that whosoener shall say vnto this mountaine, Take thy selfe away, and cast thy selfe into the sea, and shall not wauer in his heart, but shall beleuee that those thinges which he saith shall come to passe, whatsoeuer he saith, shall be done to him.

24 * Therefore I say vnto you, whatsoeuer ye desire when ye pray, beleene that yee shall haue it, and it shall be done vnto you.

25 * But when yee shall stand, and pray, forgiue, if yee haue anyrthing against any man, that your father also which is in heauen, may forgiue you your trespasses.

26 For if you will not forgiue, your father which is in heauen wil not pardon you your trespasses.

27 * Then they came againe to Ierusalem: & as he walked in the Temple, there came to him the hie Priests, & the Scribes, and the Elders.

28 And sayd vnto him, By what authority dost thou these thinges? and who gaue thee this authority, that thou shouldst doe these thinges?

29 Then Iesus answered, and sayd vnto them, I will also aske of you a certaine thing, and answer ye me, and I will tell you by what authority I doe these thinges.

30 The baptisme of Iohn, was it from heauen, or of men: answer me.

31 And they thought with themselves, saying, If wee shall say, from heauen, hee will say, Why then did ye not beleene him?

32 But if wee say, Of men, wee feare the people: for all men counted Iohn, that hee had bene a very Prophet.

33 Then they answered & sayd vnto Iesus, Wee cannot tell. And Iesus answered and sayd vnto them, ¶ Neither will I tell you by what authority I doe these thinges.

CHAP. XII.

1 The vineyard is let out. 14 Obedience and tribute due to princes. 25 The resurrection of the dead. 28 The summe of the Law. 35 Christ the sonne of Dauid. 38 Hypocrites must bee eschewed. 41 The offering of the poore widow.

And he began to speak vnto them in parables. * A certaine man planted a vineyard, and compassed it with a hedge, and digged a pit for the winepresse, and built a towre in it, and let it out to husbandmen, and went into a strange countrey.

2 And at a time, hee sent vnto the husbandmen a seruant, that he might receiue of the husbandmen the fruite of the vineyard.

3 But they tooke him, and beat him, and sent him away empty.

4 And againe, he sent vnto them another seruant, and at him they cast stones, and brake his head, and sent him away shamefully handled.

5 And againe, hee sent another, and him they flew, and many other, beating some, and killing some.

6 Per had he one sonne, his deare beloved: him also he sent the last vnto them, saying, They will reuerence my sonne.

7 But the husbandmen sayde among themselves, This is the heire: come, let vs kill him, and the inheritance shalbe ours.

8 So they tooke him, and killed him, and cast him out of the vineyard.

9 What shall then the Lord of the vineyard doe? Hee<sup>d</sup> will come and destroye these husbandmen, and giue the vineyard to others.

10 Haue yee not read so much as this scripture? *The stone which the builders did refuse, is made the head of the corner?

11 This was done of the Lord, and it is marvellous in our eyes.

12 Then they went about to take him, but they feared the people: for they perceived that he spake that parable against the: therefore they let him, and went their way.

13 ¶ And they sent vnto him certaine of the Pharises, and of the Herodians, that they might take him in his talke.

14 And when they came, they said vnto him, Master, wee know that thou art true, and carest for no man: for thou considerest not the person of men, but teachest the way of God truly. Is it lawfull to giue tribute to Cesar, or not?

15 Should we giue it, or should wee not giue it? But hee knew their hypocritie, and sayd vnto them, Why tempt ye me? Bring me a penny, that I may see it.

16 So they brought it, and hee said vnto them, Whose is this image and superscription? and they said vnto him, Cesar.

17 Then Iesus answered, and said vnto them, *Giue to Cesar the things that are Cezars, and to God, those that are Gods: and they maruelled at him.

18 ¶ Then came the Sadduces vnto him, (which say there is no resurrection) & they asked him, saying, 19 Master, *Moses wrote vnto vs, If any mans brother die, and leaue his wife, and leaue no children, that his brother should take his wife, and raise vp seed vnto his brother.

20 There were seven brethren, & the first tooke a wife, and when he died, left no issue.

21 Then the second tooke her, and hee dyed, neither did he yet leaue issue, and the third likewise.

22 So seuen had her, and left no issue: last of all the wife died also.

23 In the resurrection then, when they shall rise againe, whose wife shall she bee of them? for seuen had her to wife.

24 Then Iesus answered, and sayd vnto them, Are yee not therefore deceiued, because yee know not the Scriptures, neither the power of God?

25 For when they shall rise againe from the dead, neither men marry, nor wimes are married, but are as the Angels which are in heauen.

26 And as touching the dead, that they shall rise againe, haue yee not read in the booke of Moses, how in the bush God spake vnto him, saying, I am the God of Abraham, and the God of Isaac, and the God of Jacob?

27 He is not the God of the dead, but the God of the liuing. Ye are therefore greatly deceiued.

28 ¶ Then came one of the Scribes, that had heard them disputing together, and perceiving that he had answered them wel, he asked him, Which is the first commandement of all?

29 Iesus answered him, The first of all the commandements is, *Hear, Israel, the Lord our God is the onely Lord.

30 Thou shalt therefore loue the Lord thy God with all thine heart, and with all thy strength, & with all thy mind, and with all thy strength: this is the first commandement.

31 And the second is like, that is, *Thou shalt loue thy neighbour as thy selfe. There is none other commandement greater then these.

32 Then the Scribe said vnto him, Master, thou hast said the truer, that there is one God, and that there is none but he,

33 And to loue him with all the heart, and with all the vnderstanding, and with all the soule, and with all the strength, and to loue his neighbour as himselfe, is more then all burnt offerings and sacrifices.

34 Then, when Iesus saw that hee answered discreetly, hee sayd vnto him, Thou art not farre from the kingdome of God. And no man after that durst aske him any question.

35 ¶ And Iesus answered and sayd teaching in the Temple, How say the Scribes that Christ is the sonne of Dauid?

36 For Dauid himselfe said by the holy Ghost, *The Lord said to my Lord, Sit at my right hand, till I make thine enemies thy footstool.

37 Then Dauid himselfe calleth him Lord: by what meanes is he then his sonne? and much people heard him gladly.

38 *Whereouer hee sayd vnto them in his doctrine, Beware of the Scribes, which loue to goe in long robes, and loue salutations in the markets,

39 And the chiefe seats in the Synagogues, and the first roomes at feasts, 40 Which *denoure widowes houses, seuen under a colour of long prayers. These shall receive the greater damnation.

41 *And as Iesus saue ouer against the treasure, he beheld how the people cast money into the treasure, and many rich men cast in much.

42 And there came a certaine poore widow, and shee threw in two mites, which make a penny.

43 Then hee called vnto him his disciples, and sayde vnto them, Verily I say vnto

A ND as he went out of the Temple, one of his disciples said vnto him, Master, see what stones, & what buildings are here.

2 * Then Iesus answered and said vnto him, Seest thou these great buildings: there shall not be left one stone vpon a stone, that shall not be throwen downe.

3 And as he late on the mount of oliues, ouer against the Temple, Peter, & James, and John, and Andrew asked him secretly, 4 Tell vs, when shall these things be, and what shall be the signe when all these things shall be fulfilled?

5 And Iesus answered them, & began to say, * Take heed lest any man deceiue you.

6 For many shall come in my name, saying, I am Christ, and shall deceiue many.

7 Furthermore, when ye shall heare of warres, and rumours of warres, bee ye not troubled: for such things must needs be: but the end shall not be yet.

8 For nation shall rise against nation, and kingdome against kingdome, and there shall be earthquakes in diuers quarters: & there shall be famine and troubles: these are the beginnings of sorowes.

9 But take ye heed to your selues: for they shall deliue you by to the Councils, and to the Synagoges: ye shall be beaten, and brought before rulers and kings for my sake, for a testimoniall vnto them.

10 And the Gospel must first be published among all nations.

11 But when they leade you, and deliue you by, take ye no thought for a foze: neither premeditate what ye shall say: but whatsoever is giuen you at the same time, that speake: for it is not ye that speake, but the holy Ghost.

12 Yea, and the brother shall deliue the brother to death, and the father the sonne, and the children shall rise against their parents, and shall cause them to die.

13 And ye shall be hated of all men for my Names sake: but whosoener shall endure vnto the end, he shall be saved.

14 * Howouer, when ye shall see the abomination of desolation (spoken of by Daniel the Prophet) standing where it ought not, (let him that readeth, consider it) * then let them that bee in Iudea, flee into the mountaines.

15 And let him that is vpon the house, not come downe into the house, neither enter therein, to fetch any thing out of his house.

16 And let him that is in the field, not turne backe againe vnto the things which he left behinde him, to take his clothes.

17 When thou shalt see them that are with childe, and to them that giue lucke in those dayes.

18 Pray therefore that your flight bee not in the winter.

19 For there shall bee in those dayes such tribulation, as was not from the beginning of the creation which God created vnto this tyme, neither shall be.

20 And except that the Lord had shortened those dayes, no flesh should be saved: but for the elects sake, which he hath chosen, he hath shortened those dayes.

21 Then if any man say to you, Lo, here is Christ, or, Lo, he is there, belesue it not.

22 For false Christs shall arise, and false prophets, and shall shew signes and wonders to deceiue, if it were possible, the very elect.

23 But take ye heed: behold, I haue shewed you all things before.

24 Howouer in those daies, after that tribulation, the Sonne shall waxe darke, and the Moone shall not giue her light, 25 And the starres of heauen shall fall: & the powers which are in heauen, shall shake.

26 And then shall they see the Sonne of man coming in the cloudes, with great power and glory.

27 And ye shall then send his Angels, and shall gather together his elect from the foure winds, and from the vniuersall part of the earth, to the vniuersall part of heauen.

28 Now learne a parable of the fig tree. When her bough is yet tender, and it bringeth forth leaues, ye know that Sommer is nere.

29 So in like maner, when ye see these things come to passe, know that the kingdome of God is nere, euen at the doores.

30 Truly I say vnto you, that this generation shall not passe, till all these things be done.

31 Heauen and earth shall passe away, but my words shall not passe away.

32 But of that day & houre knoweth no man, no, nor the Angels which are in heauen, neither the Son himselfe, saue the Father.

33 * Take heed: watch, and pray: for ye know not when the time is.

34 For the Sonne of man is as a man going into a strange countrey, & leaueh his house, and giueth authoritie to his seruants, and to euery man his worke, and commandeth the porter to watch.

35 Watch therefore. (for ye know not when the Master of the house will come, at euening, or at midnight, at the cocke crowing, or in the dawning)

5 For it might have bene solde for moze then three hundred pence, & bene given vnto the poore, & they grueded against her.

6 But Iesus saide, Let her alone: why trouble yeer her? shee hath wrought a good worke on me.

7 For ye haue the poore with you alwayes, and when ye will ye may do them good, but mine ye shall not haue alwayes.

10 * Then Iudas Iscariot one of the twelue, went away vnto the hie Priests to betray him vnto them.

11 And when they heard it, they were glad, and promised that they would giue him money: therefore he sought how he might conveniently betray him.

12 * Now the first day of vneleuened bread, when they sacrificed the Paskeoner, his disciples said vnto him, Where wilt thou that we go and prepare, that thou maiest eat the Paskeoner?

13 Then he sent forth two of his disciples, and said vnto them, Go ye into the city, and there shall a man meet you, bearing a picher of water: follow him.

14 And whither soeuer he goeth in, say ye to the Goodman of the house, The Master saith, Where is the lodging where I shall eat the Paskeoner with my disciples?

15 And he will shew you an upper chamber which is large, trimmed and prepared: there make it ready for vs.

16 So his disciples went forth, and came to the city, and found as hee had said vnto them, and made it ready the Paskeoner.

17 C And at euen he came w the twelue.

18 * And as they sat at table and did eat, Iesus said, Verily I say vnto you, that one of you shall betray mee, whereby eateth with me.

19 Then they began to be sorrowfull, and to say to him one by one, Is it I? and another, Is it I?

20 And he answered and said vnto them, It is one of the twelue that * dipperth with me in the platter.

21 * Truly the Sonne of man goeth his way, as it is written of him: but woe bee to that man, by whom the Sonne of man is betrayed: it had bene good for that man, if he had neuer bene bozne.

22 * And as they did eat, Iesus sooke the bread, and when he had giuen thankes, he brake it and gaue to them, and sayd, Take, eat, this is my body.

23 Also he tooke the cup, and when he had giuen thankes, gaue it to them: and they all dranke of it.

24 And he sayd vnto them, This is my blood of the new Testament, which is shed for many.

25 Verily I say vnto you, I will drinke no more of the fruit of the Vine, vntill that day that I drinke it new in the kingdome of God.

26 And when they had sung a Psalm, they went out to the mount of Olives.

27 * Then Iesus said vnto them, All ye shall be offended by me this night: for it is written, * I will smite the Shepheard, and the sheepe shall be scattered.

28 But after that I am risen, I will goe into Galilee before you.

29 And Peter sayd vnto him, Although all men should bee offended, yet would not I.

30 Then Iesus sayd vnto him, Verily I say vnto thee, this day, euen in this night, before the cocke crow twise, thou shalt deny me threie.

31 But hee sayd moze earnestly, If I should die with thee, I will not deny thee: likewise also sayd they all.

32 * After, they came into a place named Gethsemane: then he sayd to his disciples, Sit ye here, till I haue prayed.

33 And hee tooke with him Peter, and James, & John, and he began to be afraid, and in great heauinesse.

34 And sayd vnto them, My soule is very heauy, euen vnto the death: tary here and watch.

35 So hee went forward a litle, and fell downe on the ground, and prayed, that if it were possible, that houre might passe from him.

36 And he said, Abba Father, all things are possible vnto thee: take away this cup from me: Neuertheless, not that I will, but that thou wilt, be done.

37 Then he came & found them sleeping, and sayd to Peter, Simon, sleepest thou? couldest not thou watch one houre?

38 Watch ye, and pray, that ye enter not into tentation: the spirit in deed is ready, but the flesh is weak.

39 And againe he went away, and prayed, and spake the same words.

40 And hee returned, and found them asleepe againe: for their eyes were heauy: neither knew they what they should answer him.

41 And he came the third time, and sayd vnto them, * Sleepe henceforth, and take your rest: it is ynough: the houre is come: behold, the Sonne of man is deliuered into the hands of sinners.

42 Rise vp: let vs goe: loe, he that betrayeth me, is at hand.

45 And as soone as he was come, he went straightway to him, and sayd, y Walter, Walter, and kised him.

46 Then they layd their hands on him, and toake him.

47 And one of them that stood by drew out a sword, and smote a servant of the hie Priest, and cut off his eare.

48 And Iesus answered and sayd vnto them, Ye be come out as vnto a thiefe with swoods and with staves to take me.

49 I was dayly with you teaching in the Temple, and yee tooke me not: but this is done that the Scriptures should be fulfilled.

50 Then they all forsooke him, and fled.

51 And there followed him a certaine young man, clothed in linnen upon his bare bodie, and the young men caught him.

52 But he left his linnen cloth, and fled from them naked.

53 So they led Iesus away to the hie Priest, and to him came all the hie Priests, and the Elders, and the Scribes.

54 And Peter followed him a farse off, enen into the hall of the hie Priest, and late with the seruants, and warmed himselfe at the fire.

55 And the hie Priests and all the Councill sought for witnesse against Iesus, to put them to death, but found none.

56 For many bare false witnesse against him, but their witnesse agreed not together.

57 Then there arose certaine, and bare false witnesse against him, saying, 58 We heard him say, * I will destroy this Temple made with hands, and within three dayes I will build another, made without hands.

59 But their witnesse yet agreed not together.

60 Then the hie Priest stood by amongst them, and asked Iesus, saying, Answerest thou nothing? What is the matter that thou beare witnesse against thee?

61 But hee held his peace, and answered nothing. Againe the hie Priest asked him, and sayd vnto him, Art thou Christ the Sonne of the Blessed?

62 And Iesus sayd, I am hee, * and yee shall see the Sonne of man sit at the right hand of the power of God, and come in the clouds of heauen.

63 Then the hie Priest rent his clothes, and sayd, What haue wee any more neede of witnesses?

64 We haue heard the blasphemy: what thinke yee? and they all condemned him to be worthy of death.

65 And some began to spit at him and to couer his face, and to beate him with fistes, and to say vnto him, Prophecie. And the sergeantes smote him with their rods.

66 * And as Peter was bruntath in the hall, there came one of the waiters of the hie Priest, 67 And when hee saw Peter warming himselfe, he looked on him. Glad, Thou wait also with Iesus of Nazaret.

68 But hee denied it, saying, I knowe him not, neither wote I what thou sayest. Then went he out into the porch, and the cocke crew.

69 * Then a maid saw him againe, and began to say to them that stood by, This is one of them.

70 But hee denied it againe: and anon after they that stood by, said againe to Peter, Surely thou art one of them: for thou art of Galile, and thy speech is like.

71 And he began to curse and sweare, saying, I knowe nor this man of whome yee speake.

72 * Then the second time the cocke crew, and Peter remembered the word that Iesus had sayd vnto him, Before the cocke crow twile, thou shalt denie me thise, and weighing that with himselfe, he wept.

CHAPTER XV.

1 Iesus is led to Pilate. 15 He is condemned, reuled, & put to death, 46 & is buried by Ioseph.

16 * And anon in the dawning, the hie Priests held a councell with y Elders, and the Scribes, and the whole councell, and bound Iesus, and led him away, and deliuered him to Pilate.

2 Then Pilate asked him, Art thou the King of the Iewes? And he answered, and said vnto him, Thou sayest it.

3 And the hie Priests accused him of many things.

4 * Wherefore Pilate asked him againe, saying, Answerest thou nothing? beholde how many things they witnesse against thee.

5 But Iesus answered b no more at all, so that Pilate maruelled.

6 Now at the feast Pilate did deliuer a prisoner vnto them, whomsoever they would desire.

7 Then there was one named Barabbas, which was bound with his fellowes, that had made insurrection, who in the insurrection had committed murder.

8 And the people cryed aloud, and began to desire that he would do as he had ceter done vnto them.

9 Then Pilate answered them, & sayd, Will yee that I let loose vnto you the King of the Iewes?

10 For he knew that the hie Priests had deliuered him of enite.

11 But the hie Priests had mocked the people to desire that he would rather deliue Barabbas vnto them.

12 And Pilate answered, and sayde againe vnto them, What wilt yee then that I doe with him, whom yee call the King of the Iewes?

13 And they cried againe, Crucifie him.

14 Then Pilate sayd vnto them, But what enill hath he done? And they cried the more ferrently, Crucifie him.

15 So Pilate willing to content the people,

16 Then the soldiers led him away into the hall, which is the common hall, and called together the whole band.

17 And clad him with purple, and planted a crowne of thornes, and put it about his head.

18 And began to salute him, saying, Halle, King of the Jewes.

19 And they smote him on the head with a y reede, and spar vpon him, and bowed the knees, and did him reuerence.

20 And when they had mocked him, they tooke the purple off him, and put his owne clothes on him, and led him out to crucifie him.

21 * And they e compelled one that passed by, called Simon of Cyrene (which came out of the countrey, and was father of Alexander and Rufus) to beare his crosse.

22 * And they brought him to a place named Golgotha, which is by interpretation, the place of dead mens skulls.

23 And they gaue him to drinke wine mingled e with myrre: but he receiued it not.

24 And when they had crucified him, they parted his garments, calling lots for them, what every man should haue.

25 And it was e the third houre when they crucified him.

26 And the title of his cause was written aboue, THE KING OF THE IEWES.

27 They crucified also with him two others. the one on the right hand, and the other on his left.

28 Thus the Scripture was fulfilled, which sayth, * And he was counted among the wicked.

29 And they that went by, railed on him, wagging their heads, and saying, * Hee thou that destroyest the Temple, and buidest it in three dayes, 30 Saue thy selfe, and come downe from the crosse.

31 Likewise also euen the high Priests mocking, sayd among themselues with the Scribes, hee saued other men, himselfe hee cannot saue.

32 Let Christ the King of Israel now come downe from the crosse, that wee may see, and beleue. h They also that were crucified with him, reuiled him.

33 ¶ Now when the first houre was come, darkenesse arose ouer all the land vntill the ninth houre.

34 And at the k ninth houre Iesus cryed with a loude voyce, saying, * Eloi, Eloi, lamma-sabachani: which is by interpretation, My God, my God, why hast thou forsaken me?

35 And some of them that stood by when they heard it, sayd, i Beholde, hee calleth Elias.

36 And one ran, and filled * a sponge full of vineger, and put it on a reede, & gaue him to drinke, saying, Let him alone: let vs see if Elias will come and take him downe.

37 And Iesus cryed with a loude voyce, and gaue by the ghost.

38 ¶ And the baile of the Temple was rent in twaine, from the top to the bottoome.

39 Now when the m Centurion, which stood ouer against him, saw that he thus crying gaue by the ghost, he sayd, Truly this man was the sonne of God.

40 ¶ There were also women, which behelde a farre off, among whom was Marie Magdalene, & Marie the mother of Iames the lesse, and of Ioses, and Salome, 41 Which also when hee was in Galilee, * followed him, and ministered vnto him, and many other women which came vp with him vnto Ierusalem.

42 ¶ And now when night was come, (because it was the day of the preparation, that is before the Sabbath)

43 Ioseph of Arimathea, an * honourable Counsellour, which also looked for the kingdom of Gods, came, and went in boldly vnto Pilate and asked the body of Iesus.

44 And Pilate manured if he were already dead, & called vnto him the Centurion, and asked of him whether hee had bene any while dead.

45 And when hee knew the truth of the Centurion, he gaue the body to Ioseph, 46 Which bought a linnen cloth, and tooke him downe, and wrapped him in the linnen cloth, and layde him in a tombe that was hewen out of a rock, and rolled a stone vnto the doore of the sepulchre.

47 And Marie Magdalene, and Marie Ioses mother beheld where he should be laid.

2 Therefore early in the morning, the first day of the weeke, they came vnto the sepulchre, when the Sun was yet rising,

3 And they sayde one to another, Which shall rolle vs away the stone from the doore of the sepulchre?

4 And when they looked, they saw that the stone was rolled away (for it was a very great one.)

5 * So they went into the sepulchre, and sawe a young man sitting at the right side, clothed in a long white robe: and they were afraid.

6 But he said vnto them, Be not afraid: yee seeke Iesus of Nazaret, which hath bene crucified: he is risen: he is not here: behold the place where they put him.

CHAP. I.

5 Of Zacharias, and Elisabet. 11 The Angel sheweth him of the nauic of John Baptist. 20 His incredulitie is punished. 28 The talke of the Angel and Mary 46 Her song. 57 The birth, circumcision, and graces of Iohn. 68 Zacharias giueth thanks to God, and prophesieth.

As much as many haue taken in hand to set forth the storie of those things whereof we are fully persuaded,

2 As they haue deliuered them vnto vs, which from the beginning sawe their selues, and were ministers of the word,

3 It seemed good also to me (most noble Theophilus) as soone as I had searched out perfectly all things from the beginning, to write vnto thee thereof from point to point,

4 That thou mightest acknowledge the certaintie of those things, whereof thou hast bene instructed.

5 In the time of Herode King of Iudea, there was a certaine priest named Zacharias, of the course of Abia: and his wife was of the daughters of Aaron, and her name was Elisabet.

6 Both were iust before God, and walked in all the commandments and ordinances of the Lord, without reproofe.

7 And they had no child, because that Elisabet was barren: and both were well stricken in age.

8 And it came to passe, as he executed the Priests office before God, as his course came in order,

9 According to the custome of the Priests office, his lot was to burne incense, when he went into the Temple of the Lord. 10 And the whole multitude of the people were without in prayer, while the incense was burning.

11 Then appeared vnto him an Angel of the Lord standing at the right side of the Altar of incense.

12 And when Zacharias saw him, he was troubled, and feare fell vpon him.

13 But the Angel said vnto him, Feare not, Zacharias: for thy prayer is heard, and thy wife Elisabet shall beare thee a sonne, and thou shalt call his name John.

14 And thou shalt haue ioy and gladnes, and many shall reioyce at his birth.

15 For he shall be great in the sight of the Lord, & shall neither drinke wine, nor strong drinke: and hee shall be filled with the holy Ghost, euen from his mothers wombe.

16 And many of the children of Israel shall be turne to their Lord God.

17 For hee shall goe before him in spirit and power of Elias, to turne the hearts of the fathers to the children, and the disobedient to the wisdom of the iust men, to make ready a people prepared for the Lord.

18 Then Zacharias said vnto the Angel, Whereby shall I know this? For I am an old man, and my wife is of a great age.

20 And the Angel answered, and said vnto him, I am Gabriel that stand in the presence of God, and am sent to speake vnto thee, and to shew thee these good tidings.

25 And behold, thou shalt be dumme, and not be able to speake, vntill the day that these things be done, because thou beleuest not my words, which shall be fulfilled in their season.

i The Temple was diuided into three parts: the first was the body of the Temple called Strium, where the people was: the second called

Sandum, where the Priests and Leuites were: and the third Sandum Sandorum, into the which the high Priest entred once a yeere to sacrifice.

21 Now the people waited for Zacharias, and marvelled that hee tarried so long in the Temple.

22 And when hee came out, hee could not speake unto them: then they perceived that he had seene a vision in the Temple: for hee made signes unto them, and remained dumme.

23 And it came to passe, when the dayes of his office were fulfilled, that hee departed to his owne house.

24 And after those dayes, his wife Elisabeth conceived, and hid her selfe sixe monthes, saying, 24 Thus hath the Lord dealt with mee, in the dayes wherein hee looked on mee, to take from me: my rebuke among men.

26 And in the first moneth, the Angel Gabriel was sent from God unto a citie of Galilee, named Nazaret, 27 To a virgin affianced to a man whose name was Ioseph, of the house of Dauid, and the virgins name was Marie.

28 And the Angel went in vnto her, and said, Hailte thou that art freely beloued: the Lord is with thee: blessed art thou among women.

29 And when she saw him, shee was troubled at his saying, and thought what manner of saluation that should be.

30 Then the Angel said vnto her, Feare not, Marie: for thou hast found fauour with God.

31 For loe, thou shalt conceive in thy wombe, and beare a sonne, and shalt call his name IESVS.

32 Hee shall be great, and shall bee called the Sonne of the most High, and the Lord God shall giue vnto him the throne of his father Dauid.

33 And he shall reigne ouer the house of Jacob for euer, and of his kingdome shall be none ende.

34 Then sayde Marie vnto the Angel, How shall this be, seeing I knowe not man?

35 And the Angel answered, and said vnto her, The holy Ghost shall come vpon thee, and the power of the most High shall ouershadow thee: therefore also that holy thing which shall be borne of thee, shall bee called the Sonne of God.

36 And behold, thy cousin Elisabeth, hee hath also conceived a sonne in her olde age: and this is her sixt moneth, which was called barren.

37 For with God shall nothing be vnpossible.

38 Then Marie said, Behold the seruant of the Lord: be it vnto me according to thy word. So the Angel departed from her.

39 And Marie arose in those dayes and went into the hill cuntry with haste to a citie of Iuda.

40 And entred into the house of Zacharias, and saluted Elisabeth.

41 And it came to passe, as Elisabeth heard the salutation of Marie, the babe sprang in her belly, and Elisabeth was filled with the holy Ghost.

42 And she cried with a lowde voice, and said, Blessed art thou among women, because the fruite of thy wombe is blessed.

43 And whence cometh this to me, that the mother of my Lord should come to mee?

44 For loe, as soone as the voice of thy salutation sounded in mine eares, the babe sprang in my belly for ioi.

45 And blessed is shee that beleued: for those things shall be performed, which were told her of from the Lord.

46 Then Marie said, My soule magnified the Lord,

47 And my spirit reioyced in God my Saviour.

48 For hee hath looked on the poore degree of his seruant: for behold, from henceforth shall all ages call me blessed.

49 Because hee that is mightie, hath done for me great things, and holy is his Name.

50 And his mercy is from generation to generation on them that feare him.

51 Hee hath shewed strength with his arme: hee hath scattered the pouldre in the imagination of their hearts, 52 Hee hath put downe the mightie from their seates, and exalted them of low degree.

53 Hee hath filled the hungrie with good things, and sent away the rich emptye.

54 He hath vpholden Israel his seruant, being mindfull of his mercy.

56 And Marie abode with her about thre moneths: after, shee returned to her owne house.

57 Now Elisabeths time was fulfilled, that she should be deliuered, and she brought forth a sonne.

58 And her neighbours, & coulins heard tell howe the Lord had shewed his great mercy vpon her, and they reioyced with her.

59 And it was so that on the eight day they came to circumcise the babe, and called him Zacharias, after the name of his father.

60 But his mother answered, and said, Not so, but he shall be called Iohn.

61 And they said vnto her, There is none of thy kindred, that is named with this name.

62 Then they made signes to his father, how he would haue him called.

63 So hee asked for writing tables, and wrote, saying, His name is Iohn: and they inaruelled all.

64 And his mouth was opened immediatly, and his tongue loosed, and hee spake and praised God.

65 Then hee came on all them that dwelt nere vnto them, and all these words were noyced abroad throughout all the hill cuntry of Iudea.

And it came to passe in those dayes, that there came a commandment from Augustus Cæsar, that all the * world should be taxed.

2 ( This first * taxing was made when Cyprianus was gouernour of Syria.)

3 Therfore went all to be taxed, euerie man to his owne citie.

4 And * Joseph also went vp from Gallile out of a citie called Nazaret, into Iudæa, vnto the citie of * Dauid, which is called Beth-lehem, (because hee was of the house and lineage of Dauid.)

5 To be taxed with Mary that was giuen him to wife, which was with child.

6 And so it was, that while they were there, the dayes were accomplished that they should be deliuered.

7 And he brought forth her * first begotten Sonne, and wrapped him in swaddling clothes, and layde him in a * cratch, because there was no roome for them in the Inn.

8 And there were in the same countrey shepherds abiding in the field, and keeping watch by night because of their flocke.

9 And loe, the Angel of the Lord came vpon them, and the glorie of the Lord shone about them, and they were feare afraid.

10 Then the Angel said vnto them, Bee not afraid: for behold, I bring you tidings of great ioy, that shall be to all the people:

11 That is, that vnto you is borne this day in the citie of * Dauid, a Saviour, which is Christ the Lord.

12 And * this shall be a signe to you. Ye shall find the childe swaddled, and layd in a cratch.

13 And straightway there was with the Angel a multitude of heauenly souldiers, praying God, and saying;

14 Glorifie to God in the high heaues, and peace in earth, and towards men * good will.

15 And it came to passe when the Angels were gone away from them into heauen, that the shepherds said one to another, Let vs goe then vnto Beth-lehem, and see this thing that is come to passe, which the Lord hath shewed vnto vs.

16 So they came with haste, and found both Mary and Ioseph, and the babe layd in the cratch.

17 And when they had seene it, they published abroad the thing, which was tolde them of that childe.

18 And all that heard it, wondered at the things which were tolde them of the shepherds.

19 But Mary kept all those sayings, and pondered them in her heart.

20 And the shepherds returned, glorifying and praying God, for all that they had heard & seene, as it was spoken vnto them.

21 And when the eight dayes were accomplished, that they should circumcise the childe, his name was then called * IESVS, which was named of the Angel, before hec was concieued in the wombe.

22 * And when the dayes of her purification after the Law of Moses were accomplished, they brought him to Ierusalem, to present him to the Lord.

23 (As it is written in the Lawe of the Lord, * Euerie man childe that first openeth the wombe, shall be called holy to the Lord.)

24 And to giue an oblation, * as it is commanded in the Lawe of the Lord, a paire of turtle doves, or two yong pigeons.

25 And behold, there was a man in Ierusalem, whose name was Simeon: this man was iust, and feared God, and waited for the consolation of Israel, and the * holy Ghost was vpon him.

27 And hee came ¶ by the motion of the Spirit into the Temple, and when the parents brought in the childe Iesus, to doe for him after the custome of the Law,

28 Then hee tooke him in his armes, and praised God, and said, 29 Lord, now lettest thou thy seruant depart in peace, according to thy word:

30 For mine eyes haue seene thy saluation,

31 Which thou hast prepared before the face of all people:

32 A light to be reuiled to the Gentiles, and the glory of thy people Israel.

33 And Ioseph and his mother marvelled at those things, which were spoken touching him.

34 And Simeon blessed them, and said vnto Mary his mother, Behold, this childe is appointed for the * fall and rising againe of many in Israel, and for a signe which shall be spoken againe, 35 (Pea and a sword shall pearce thorrow thy soule) that the thoughts of many hearts may be opened.

36 And there was a Prophetesse, one Anna the daughter of Phanuel, of the tribe of Aser, which was of a great age, and had binued with an husband seuen yeeres from her virginitee.

37 And shee was widowed about fourescore and foure yeeres, and went not out of the Temple, but serued God with fastings and prayers, night and day.

38 She then comming at the same instant vpon them, confessed likewise the Lord, and spake of him to all that looked for redemption in Jerusalem.

39 And when they had performed all things according to the Lawe of the Lord, they returned into Galile to their owne citie Nazaret.

40 And the child grew and waxed strong in spirit, and was filled with wisdom, and the grace of God was with him.

41 ¶ Now his parents went to Jerusalem euery yeere, * at the feast of the Passouer.

44 But they supposing that he had bene in the company, went a dayes iourney and sought him among their kinnesfolke, and acquaintance.

45 And when they found him not, they turned backe to Jerusalem, and sought him.

46 And it came to passe thre dayes after that they found him in the Temple, sitting in the middes of the doctours, both hearing them, and asking them questions.

47 And all that heard him were astonished at his vnderstanding, and answers.

48 So when they saw him, they were amased, and his mother sayde vnto him, Sonne, why hast thou thus dealt with vs? beholde, thy father and I haue sought thee with heauie hearts.

49 Then said hee vnto them, How is it that ye sought me? knewe ye not that I must goe about my fathers busiuesse?

50 But they * vnderstood not the word that he spake to them.

51 Then he went downe with them, and came to Nazaret, and was subiect to them: and his mother kept all these sayings in her heart.

52 And Iesus increased in wisdom, and stature, and in fauour with God and men.

3 The preaching, bapisme, and prisonment of Iohn. 15 He is thought to be Christ. 21 Christ is bapized. 23 His age, and genealogie.

Now in the fifteenth yeere of the reigne of Tiberius Cesar, Pontius Pilate being gouernour of Iudea, and Herode being Tetrarch of Galile, and his brother Philip Tetrarch of Iurea, and of the countrey of Trachonitis, and Lysanias the Tetrarch of Abileur, 2 * When Annas and Cataphas were the blye Priestes, the word of God came vnto Iohn, the sonne of Zacharias, in the wilderness.

3 * And hee came into all the coastes about Iorden, preaching the bapisme of repentance for the remission of sinnes.

4 As it is written in the booke of the sayings of Esaias the Prophet, which saith, The voice of him that crieth in the wilderness is, Prepare ye the way of the Lord: make his paths straight.

5 Euery valley shall be filled, and euery mountaine, and hill shall be brought low, and crooked things shall be made straight, and the rough wayes shall be made smooth.

6 And ¶ all flesh shall see the saluation of God.

7 Then said hee to the people that were come out to be bapized of him, ¶ W ¶ generacions of vipers, who hath forewarned you to flee from the wrath to come?

9 Nowe also is the * axe laide vnto the roote of the trees: therefore euery tree which bringeth not forth good fruite, shall be hewed downe, and cast into the fire.

10 ¶ Then the people asked him, saying, What shall we doe then?

11 And he answered, and said vnto them, ¶ He that hath two coats, let him part with him that hath none: and he that hath meate, let him doe likewise.

12 Then came there s Dubitantes also to be bapized, and said vnto him, Master, what shall we doe?

13 And hee said vnto them, Require no more then that which is appointed vnto you

11 Then the deuil said vnto him, If thou be the Sonne of God, command this stone that it be made bread.

12 But Iesus answered him, saying, It is written: That man shall not liue by bread onely, but by euery word of God.

13 Then the deuil tooke him vp into an high mountaine, and shewed him all the kingdomes of the world, & in the twinkling of an eye.

14 And the deuil sayd vnto him, All this power will I giue thee, and the glory of those kingdomes: for that is deliuered to me: and to whom soeuer I will, I giue it:

15 If thou therefore wilt worship mee, they shall be all thine.

16 But Iesus answered him, and sayd, Hence from me, Satan: for it is written, Thou shalt worship the Lord thy God, and him onely shalt thou serue.

17 Then he brought him to Ierusalem, and set him on a pinnacle of the Temple, and said vnto him, If thou be the Sonne of God, cast thy selfe downe from hence,

18 For it is written, That he will giue his Angels charge ouer thee to keepe thee, 19 And with their handes they shall lift thee vp, lest at any time thou shouldest dash thy foot against a stone.

20 And Iesus answered, and sayd vnto him, It is sayd, Thou shalt not tempt the Lord thy God.

21 And when the deuil had ended all the temptation, he departed fro him for a season.

22 And Iesus returned by the power of the Spirit into Galile: and there went a fame of him throughout all the region round about.

15 For hee taught in their Synagogues and was honoured of all men.

16 And he came to Nazaret, where hee had been brought vp, and (as his custome was) went into the Synagogue on the Sabbath day, and stood vp to reade.

17 And there was deliuered vnto him the booke of the Prophet Esaias: and when he opened the booke, he found the place, where it was written,

18 The Spirit of the Lord is vpon me, because he hath anointed me, that I should preach the Gospel to the poore: hee hath sent mee, that I should heale the broken hearted, that I should preach deliuerance to the captiues, and recouering of sight to the blind, that I should set at libertie them that are bound,

19 And that I should preach the acceptable yere of the Lord.

20 And hee closed the booke, and gaue it againe to the minister, and satte downe: and the eyes of all that were in the Synagogue were fastened on him.

21 Then hee beganne to say vnto them, This day is this Scripture fulfilled in your eares.

22 And all bare him witness, and wondered at the gracious wordes, which proceeded out of his mouth, and sayd, Is not this Iosephs sonne?

23 Then he said vnto them, Ye will surely say vnto mee this prouerbe, Physician, heale thy selfe: Whatsoeuer we haue heard done in Capernaum, doe it here likewise in thine owne countrey.

24 And hee sayd, Verely I say vnto you, No Prophet is accepted in his owne countrey.

25 But I tell you of a trueth, many widowes were in Israel in the daues of Esaias, when heauen was shut thre yeeres and sixe moneths, when great famine was throught out all the land.

26 But vnto none of them was Elias sent, saue into Sarepta, a ciue of Sidon, vnto a certaine widowe.

27 Also many sleepers were in Israel, in the tyme of Esaiens the Prophet: yet none of them was made cleane, sauing Naaman the Syrian.

28 Then all that were in the Synagogue, when they heard it, were filled with wrath, 29 And rose vp, and thrust him out of the cite, and led him vnto the edge of the hill, whereon their cite was built, to cast him downe headlong.

30 But hee passed through the mids of them, and went his way, 31 And came downe into Capernaum a ciue of Galile, and there taught them on the Sabbath dayes.

32 And they were astonied at his doctrine: for his word was with authoritie.

33 And in the Synagogue there was a man which had a spirit of an uncleane Deuill, which cryed with a loud voice, 34 Saying, Oh, what haue wee to doe with thee, thou Iesus of Nazaret? art thou come to destroy vs? I know who thou art, euen the holy One of God.

35 And Iesus rebuked him, saying, Hold thy peace, and come out of him. Then the deuill throwing him in the middes of them, came out of him, and hurt him not.

36 So feare came on them all, and they spake among themselues, saying, What thing is this? for with authority and power he commandeth the foule spirits, and they come out.

37 And the fame of him spread abroad throughout all the places of the countrey round about.

38 And hee rose vp, and came out of the Synagogue, and entred into Simons house, and Simons wifes mocher was taken with a great feuer, and they required him for her.

39 Then he stood ouer her, and rebuked the feuer, and it left her: and immediatly she rose, and ministred vnto him.

40 Now when the Sonne was downe, all they that had likee tolkes of diuers diseases, brought them vnto him, and he layd his handes on euery one of them, and healed them.

41 And devils also came out of many, crying, and saying, Thou art the Christ, the Sonne of God: but hee rebuked them, and suffered them not to say that they knew him to be the Christ.

42 And when it was day, hee departed, and went forth into a desert place, and the people sought him; and came to him, and kept him, that hee should not depart from thence.

43 But hee sayd vnto them, Surely I must also preach the kingdome of God to other cities: for therfore am I sent.

44 And he preached in the Synagogues of Galile.

13 So he stretched forth his hand, and touched him, saying, I will, be thou cleane. And immediatly the leprosie departed from him.

31 Then Iesus answered, and sayd vnto them, They that are whole, neede not the Physician, but they that are sicke.

g Hethy he shewed them that he would not transgresse the law, and that they should be inexcusable, who seeing the miracle wrought, would not be, Iesus Christ.

14 And hee commaunded him that hee should tell it no man: but hee, sayeth hee, and shew thy selfe to the Priest, and offer for thy cleansing, as ¶ Moses hath commaunded, for a witness vnto them.

32 ¶ I came not to cal the righteous, but sinners to repentance.

h Christ toucheth the principall cause of all our euils.

15 But so much moze went there a fame abroad of him, and great multitudes came together to heare, and to be healed of him of their infirmities.

33 ¶ Then they said vnto him, Why do the disciples of Iohn fast often, and pray, and the disciples of the Pharisees also, but thine eat and drinke?

16 But he kept himselfe apart in the wilderness, and prayed.

34 And he sayd vnto them, Can ye make the childre of the wedding chamber to fast, as long as the bridegrome is with them?

Math. 9.2. Marke 2.3.

17 ¶ And it came to passe, on a certaine day, as hee was teaching, that the Pharisees and doctors of the Law, late by, which were come out of euery towne of Galilee, and Iudea, and Jerusalem, and the power of the Lord was in him to heale them.

35 But the daies wil come euen when the bridegrome shall be taken away from them; then shall they fast in those dayes.

18 ¶ When behold, men brought a man lying in a bed, which was taken with a palfie, and they sought meanes to bring him in, and to lay him before him.

36 Again he spake also vnto them a parable, No man putteth a piece of a new garment into an olde vesture: for then the garment is, & the piece taken out of the new, agreeth not with the old.

i Forasmuch as his diuinitie was sufficiently shewed by this miracle, he gaue them hereby to understand that he had power to forgive sinnes.

19 And when they could not find by what way they might bring him in, because of the presse, they went vp on the house, and let him downe through the tiling bed and all, in the middes before Iesus.

37 ¶ Also no man putteth new wine into old vessels: for then the new wine wil breake the vessels, and it will runne out, and the vessels will perish.

20 And when he saw their faith, he sayd vnto him, Man, thy sinnes are forgiven thee.

38 But new wine must be powzed into new vessels: so both are preferred.

21 Then the Scribes and the Pharisees began to thinke, saying, What is this that speaketh blasphemies? Who can forgive sinnes, but God onely?

39 Also no man that drinketh old wine, straightway desireth new, for hee saith, The old is better.

CHAP. VI.

3 Christ standeth in his disciples defence and his owne, as touching the breach of the Sabbath. 12 After watching and prayer hee electeth his Apostles. 18 Hee healeth and teacheth the people. 20 Hee sheweth who are blessed. 27 To loue our enemies. 37 Not to iudge rashly. 41 And to a- uoyd hypocrisie.

And it came to passe on the second Sabbath, after the first, that he went thorow the corne fields, and his disciples plucked the eares of corne, and did eat, and rub them in their hands.

2 And certaine of the Pharisees said vnto them, Why doe ye that which is not lawfull to doe on the Sabbath dayes?

3 Then Iesus answered them, and said, I haue yee not read this, that Dauid did when hee hunckle was an hungred, and they they which were with him,

4 How hee went into the house of God, and took, and ate the shew bread, and gave also to them that were with him, which was not lawfull to eate, but for the * Priests onely?

5 And hee said vnto them, The Sonne of man is Lord also of the Sabbath day.

6 * It came to passe also on another Sabbath, that hee entered into the Synagogue and taught, and there was a man whose right hand was dried vp.

7 And the Scribes and Pharises watched him, whether hee would heate on the Sabbath day, that they might finde an accusation against him.

8 But hee knew their thoughts, and said to the man which had the withered hand, Arise, and stand vp in the mids. And he arose and stood vp.

9 Then sayd Iesus vnto them, I will aske you a question, Whether it is lawfull on the Sabbath dayes to do good, or to do euill? to saue life, or to destroy it?

10 And hee beheld them all in compasse, and said vnto the man, Stretch forth thine hand. And hee did so, and his hand was restored againe, as whole as the other.

11 Then they were filled full of madnesse, and communed one with another, what they might do to Iesus.

12 * And it came to passe in those dayes, that hee went into a mountaine to pray, and spent the night in prayer to God.

13 * And when it was day, hee called his disciples, and of them hee chose twelve, which also hee called * Apostles.

14 (Simon whom hee named also Peter, and Andrew his brother, James and Iohn, Philip, and Bartolomew:

15 Matthew, and Thomas: James the sonne of Alphens, and Simon called Zelous:

16 Judas James brother, and Judas Iscariot, which also was the traitour.)

17 Then hee came downe with them, and stood in a plaine place, with the company of his disciples, & a great multitude of people out of Iudaea and Ierusalem, and from the sea coast of Tyrus and Sidon, which came to heare him, and to be healed of their diseases:

18 And they that were vexed with foule spirits, and they were healed.

19 And the whole multitude sought to touch him: for there went vertue out of him, and healed them all.

20 * * And hee lifted vp his eyes vpon his disciples, and said, Blessed be ye: poore: for yours is the kingdome of God.

21 * * Blessed are ye that hunger now: for ye shalbe satisfied. Blessed are ye that weepe now: for ye shall laugh.

22 * * Blessed are ye when men hate you, and when they separate you, and reuile you, and put out your name as euill, for the Sonne of mans sake.

23 Reioyce ye in that day, and be glad: for behold, your reward is great in heauen: for after this manner their fathers did to the Prophets.

24 * * But woe be to you that are rich: for ye haue receiued your consolation.

25 * * Woe be to you that are full: for ye shall hunger. Woe be to you that now laugh: for ye shall weep and weepe.

26 * * Woe be to you when all men speake well of you, for so did their fathers to the false prophets.

27 * * But I say vnto you which heare, Love your enemies: doe well to them which hate you.

28 Bless them that curse you, and pray for them which hurt you.

29 * * And vnto him that smiteth thee on the one cheeke, offer also the other: * and him that taketh away thy cloake, forbid not to take thy coat also.

30 Giue to every man that asketh of thee: and of him that taketh away thy goods, aske them not againe.

31 * * And as ye would that men should do to you, so do ye to them likewise.

32 * * For if ye loue them which loue you, what thanke shall ye haue: for euen the sinners loue those which loue them.

33 And if you do good for them which do good for you, what thanke shall ye haue: for euen the sinners doe the same.

34 * * And if ye lend to them of whom ye hope to receiue, what thanke shall ye haue: for euen the sinners lend to sinners, to receiue the like.

35 Wherefore loue ye your enemies, & do good, & lend, * looking for nothing againe, and your reward shall be great: and ye shall be the children of * the most high: for he is kinde vnto the vnkinde, and to the euil.

36 Be ye therefore mercifull, as your Father also is mercifull.

37 * * Judge not, and ye shall not be iudged: condemne not, and ye shall not be condemned: forgive, and ye shall be forgiven.

38 Giue, and it shall be giuen vnto you: * a good measure, pressed downe, shaken together, & running ouer shall men giue into your bosome: for with what measure ye mete, with the same shall men mete to you againe.

39 And hee spake a parable vnto them, * Can the blinde leade the blinde? shall they not both fall into the ditch?

40 * * The disciple is not aboue his Master: but whosoever will be a disciple, shall be as his master.

41 * * And why seest thou a mote in thy brothers eye, and considerest not the beame that is in thine owne eye?

42 Either how canst thou say to thy brother, Brother, let mee pull out the mote that is in thine eye, when thou seest not the beame that is in thine owne eye? Hypocrite, cast out the beame out of thine owne eye first, and then shalt thou see perfectly, to pull out the mote that is in thy brothers eye.

CHAP. VII.

1 He healeth the captaines seruant. 11 Hee rayseth vp the widowers sonne from death to life.

19 He answereth the disciples whom Iohn Baptist sent vnto him 24 He commendeth Iohn, 31 And reproveth the Iewes for their unfaithfulness. 36 Hee eateth with the Pharisee. 37 The woman washeth his feet with her teares, and hee forgiveth her finnes.

When hee had ended all his sayings in the audience of the people, he entered into Capernaum.

2 And a certaine Centurions seruant was sick and ready to die, which was deare vnto him.

3 And when he heard of Iesus, hee sent vnto him the Elders of the Iewes, beseeching him that hee would come and heale his seruant.

4 So they came to Iesus, and besought him instantly, saying that hee was worthy that he should doe this for him.

5 For he loueth, said they, our nation, and he hath built vs a Synagogue.

6 Then Iesus went with them: but when he was now not farre from the house, the Centurion sent friends to him, saying vnto him, Lord, trouble not thy selfe: for I am not worthy that thou shouldst enter vnder my roofe.

7 Wherefore, I thought not my selfe worthy to come vnto thee: but say y word, and my seruant shall be whole.

8 For I am likewise a man set vnder authority, and haue vnder me souldiers, and I say vnto one, Goe, and he goeth; and to another, Come, and he cometh; and to my seruant, Doe this, and he doeth it.

9 When Iesus heard these things, hee marvelled at him, and turned him, and said to the people that followed him, I say vnto you, I haue not found so great faith, nor not in Israel.

10 And when they that were sent, turned backe to the house, they found the seruant that was sicke, whole.

11 And it came to passe the day after, that he went into a city called Pain, and many of his disciples went with him, and a great multitude.

12 Now when he came neere to the gate of the city, behold, there was a dead man carried out, who was the onely begotten sonne of his mother, which was a widow, and much people of the city was with her.

13 And when the Lord saw her, hee had compassion on her, and said vnto her, Weep not.

14 And he went and touched the coffin, (and they that bare him, stood still) and hee said, s Dong man, I say vnto thee, Arise.

15 And hee that was dead, late vp, and began to speake, and hee deliuered him to his mother.

16 Then there came a feare on them all, and they glorified God, saying, A great Prophet is raised vp among vs, and God hath visited his people.

17 And this rumour of him went forth throughout all Iudea, and throughout all the region round about.

18 ¶ And the disciples of Iohn shewed him of all these things.

19 So Iohn called vnto him two certaine men of his disciples, and sent them to Iesus, saying, Art thou he that should come, or shal we waite for another?

20 And when the men were come vnto him, they said, Iohn Baptist hath sent vs vnto thee, saying, Art thou he that should come, or shall we waite for another?

21 And at that time hee cured many of their sicknesses and plagues, and of euill spirits, and vnto many blind men hee gaue sight.

22 And Iesus answered and sayd vnto them, See your waies: s Hew Iohn what things ye haue seene & heard: that the blind see, the halt goe, the Lepers are cleansed, the deafe heare, the dead rise againe, and the poore receiue the Gospel.

23 And blessed is he, that shal not be offended in me.

24 And when the messengers of Iohn were departed, hee began to speake vnto the people, of Iohn, What went yee out into the wilderness to see? A Reed shaken with the winde?

25 But what went you out to see? A man clothed in soft raiment? Behold, they which are gorgeously appareled, and liue delicately, are in kings courts.

26 But what art went ye forth to see? A Prophet? yea, I say vnto you, and greater then a Prophet.

27 This is hee of whom it is writtten, Behold, I send my messenger before thy face, which shall prepare thy way before thee.

28 For I say vnto you, there is no greater Prophet then Iohn, among them that are begotten of women: neuertheless, hee that is the least in the kingdom of God, is greater then he.

30 But the Pharises and the expounders of the Law despised the counsel of God against themselves, and were not baptized of him.

31 * And the Lord said, Whereunto shall I liken the men of this generation? & what thing are they like unto?

32 They are like unto children sitting in the market place, and crying one to another, and saying, * Wee haue piped vnto you, and ye haue not danced: we haue mourned to you, and ye haue not wept.

33 For John Baptist came, neither eating bread, nor drinking wine: and ye say, Hee hath the deuill.

34 The Sonne of man is come, and eateth and drinketh: and ye say, Behold, a man which is a glutton, and a drinker of wine, a friend of Publicanes and sinners.

35 But wisdom is justified of all her children.

36 * And one of the Pharises desired him that hee would eat with him: and hee went into the Pharises house, & late downe at table.

37 And beholde, a woman in the citie, which was a sinner, when shee knew that Iesus sate at table in the Pharises house, she brought a bove of oynment.

38 * And he stood at his feet behind him weeping, and began to wash his feet with teares, and did wipe them with the haire of her head, and killed his feet, and anointed them with the oynment.

39 Now when the Pharise which bade him, saw it, hee spake within himselfe, saying, If this man were a Prophet, he would surely haue knowne who, and what maner of woman this is which toucheth him: for she is a sinner.

40 And Iesus answered, and sayd vnto him, Simon, I haue somewhat to say vnto thee. And he said, Walter, say on.

41 There was a certaine lender which had two debtors: the one ought five hundred pence, and the other sicke.

42 When they had nothing to pay, hee forgave them both. Which of them therefore, will loue him most?

43 Simon answered, and sayd, I suppose that hee to whome hee forgave most. And hee said vnto him, Thou hast truly iudged.

44 Then hee turned to the woman, and said vnto Simon, Seekest thou this woman? I entered into thine house, and thou gauest me no water to my feet: but she hath washed my feet with teares, and wiped them with the haire of her head.

45 Thou gauest me no kisse: but shee since the time I came in, hath not ceased to kisse my feet.

46 Mine head with oyle thou didst not anoint: but she hath anointed my feete with ointment.

47 Wherefore I say vnto thee, Many finnes are forgiven her: for shee loued much. To whom a litle is forgiven, he doeth louse a litle.

48 And hee said vnto her, Thy finnes are forgiven thee.

49 And they that sate at table with him, began to saye within themselves, * Who is this that euery forgiveth finnes?

50 And hee said to the woman, Thy faith hath saved thee, goe in * peace.

CHAP. VIII.

1 Christ with his Apostles goe from towne to towne, and preach. 2 The women minister vnto them of their goods. 3 Hee sheweth the parable of the seede. 4 He telleth who is his mother and his brother. 5 Hee stilleth the raging of the lake. 6 Hee deliuereth the possessed. 7 The deuiils enter into the herde of swine. 8 He healeth the sicke woman, and Iarus daughter.

And it came to passe afterward, that hee himselfe went through euery citie and towne, preaching, and publishing the kingdom of God, and the twelve were with him.

2 And certaine women which were healed of euill spirits, and infirmities, as * Mary which was called Magdalene, out of whom went seven deuils,

3 And Ioaanna the wife of Chuza, Herods steward, and Sulanna, and many other which ministered vnto him of their substance.

4 * Now when much people were gathered together, and were come to him out of all citie, he spake by a parable.

5 A sower went out to sow his seed, and as he sowed, some fell by the way side, and it was troden vnder fete, and the foules of heauen deuoured it vp.

6 And some fell on the stones, and when it was sprung vp, it withered away, because it lacked moystnesse.

7 And some fell among thornes, and the thornes sprung vp with it, and choked it.

8 And some fell on good ground, and sprang vp and bare fruit, an hundred fold. And as hee sayd these things, he cryed, * Hee that hath eares to heare, let him heare.

9 Then his disciples asked him, demanding what parable that was.

10 And hee said, Vnto you it is giuen to know the secrets of the kingdom of God, but to other in parables, that when they see, they should not see, and when they heare, they should not understand.

11 * The parable is this, the seede is the word of God.

12 And they that are beside the way, are they that heare: afterward cometh the deuill, and taketh away the word out of their hearts, lest they should beleue, and be saved.

13 But they that are on the stones, are they which when they haue heard, receiue the word with ioy: but they haue no rootes, which for a while beleue, but in the time of tentation goe away.

14 And that which fell among thornes, are they which haue heard, and after their departure are choked with cares, and with riches, and voluptuous living, and bring forth no fruit.

the waues of water: and they ceased, and it was calme.

25 Then hee sayd vnto them, Where is your faith? and they feared, and wondered among themselves, saying, Who is this that commandeth both the winds & water, and they obey him?

26 ¶ So they sailed vnto the region of the Gadarenes, which is ouer against Ga-lile.

27 And as hee went out to land, there mette him a certaine man out of the cite, which had a deuill long time, and hee ware no clothes, neither abode in house, but in the graues.

28 And when he saw Iesus, he cryed out, and fell downe before him, and with a loud
voyce sayd, What haue I to doe with thee, Iesus the sonne of God, the most high? I beseech thee torment mee not.

29 For hee commanded the foule spirit to come out of the man: (for so oft times he had caught him: therefore hee was bound with chaines, and kept in fetters: but he brake the bandes, and was carried of the deuill into wildernesses.)

30 Then Iesus asked him, saying, What is thy name? And he said, Legion, because many deuils were entred into him.

31 And they besought him, that he would not command the to goe out into the deepe.

32 And there was thereby, an herde of swine, feeding on an hill, and the deuils besought him, that he would suffer them to enter into them. So hee suffered them.

33 Then went the deuils out of the man, and entred into the swine: and the herd was carried with violence from a steepe downe place into the lake, and was chokt.

34 When the herdemen saw what was done, they fled: and when they were departed, they told it in the cite and in the coun-trei.

35 Then they came out to see what was done, and came to Iesus, and found the man, out of whome the deuils were departed, sitting at the feete of Iesus, clothed, and in his right minde, and they were afraid.

36 They also which saw it, told them by what meanes he that was possessed with the deuill was healed.

37 Then the whole multitude of the coun-trei about the Gadarenes, besought him, that hee would depart from them: for they were taken with a great feare: and he went into the ship, and returned.

38 Then the man out of whome the Demons were departed, besought him that hee might be with him: but Iesus sent him away, saying,

39 Returne into thine owne house, and shew what great things God hath done to thee. So he went his way, & preached throrowout all the peticke, what great things
Iesus had done vnto him.

40 ¶ And it came to passe when Iesus was come againe, that the people receiued him: for they all waited for him.

41 ¶ And behold, there came a man named Jairus, and he was the ruler of the synagogue, who fel downe at Iesus feete, and besought him that he would come into his house.

42 For hee had but a daughter onely, about twelue yeeres of age, and she lay dying. (And as hee went the people thronged
him.)

43 And a woman hauing an issue of blood, twelue yeeres long, which had spent all her substance vpon physicians, and could not be healed of any:

44 When shee came behind him, she touched the hemme of his garment, and im-mediatly her issue of blood stancht.

45 Then Iesus said, Who is it that hath touched mee? When euery man denyed,
Peter sayd and they that were with him,
Master, and they that were with him,
Master, the multitude thrust thee, and tread on thee, and sayest thou, Who hath touched me?

46 And Iesus sayd, Some one hath touched me: for I perceiue that vertue is gone out of me.

47 When the woman saw that shee was not hidde, shee came trembling, and fell downe before him, and tolde him before all the people, for what cause shee had touched him, and how she was healed immediately.

48 And he sayd vnto her, Daughter, bee of good comfort: thy faith hath made thee whole: goe in peace.)

from the ruler of the Synagogues house, which sayd to him, Thy daughter is dead: disease not the matter.

50 When Iesus heard it, hee answered him, saying, feare not: beleeue onely, and she shall be made whole.

51 And when he went into the house, hee suffered no man to go in with him, saue Peter, and James, and John, and the father, and mother of the maid.

52 And all wept and sorrowed for her: but he said, Weepe not: for she is not dead, but sleepeeth.

53 And they laught him to scorn, knowing that she was dead.

54 So hee thrust them all out, & tooke her by the hand, and cryed, saying, Waide, arise.

55 And her spirit came againe, and shee rose straight way: and hee commaunded it to giue her meat.

56 Then her parents were astonied: but hee commaunded them that they should tell no man what was done.

2 Hee sendeth out the twelue Apostles to preach. 7 Herod beareth the death of him 12 He feedeth foue thousand men with foue loaves, and two fishes. 19 Diuers opinions of Christ. 28 He transfigurareth himselfe vpon the mount. 42 He deliuereth the possessed, 47 and teacheth his disciples to be lowly. 54 They desire vengeance, but hee reprooueth them.

Then called hee the twelue disciples together, and gaue them power & authoritie ouer all deuils, and to heale diseases.

2 And he sent them to preach the kingdom of God, and to cure the sicke.

3 And he sayd to them, Take nothing to your iourney, neither staves, nor scrip, neither bread, nor shooes, neither haue two coats.

4 And whatsoeuer house yee enter into, there abide, and thence depart.

5 And whosoever will not receiue you, when ye goe out of that citie, shake off the very dust from your feete for a testimonie against them.

6 And they went out, and went thorow euery towne preaching the Gospel, and healing euery where.

7 ¶ Now Herod the Tetrarch heard of all that was done by him: and hee doubted, because that it was sayd of some, that John was risen againe from the dead:

8 And of some, that Elias had appeared: and of some, that one of the olde Prophets was risen againe.

9 Then Herod said, John haue I beheaded: who then is this of whom I heare such things? And he desired to see him.

10 ¶ And when the Apostles returned, they told him what great things they had done. ¶ Then he roske them, and went aside into a solitary place, neere to the citie called Bethsaida.

11 But when the people knew it, they followed him: and hee receiued them, and spake vnto them of the kingdom of God, and healed them that had need to be healed.

12 ¶ And when the day began to waere away, the twelue came, and sayd vnto him,

Send the people away, that they may go into the townes & villages round about, and lodge, and get meat: for we are here in a desert place.

13 But hee sayd vnto them, ¶ Since yee them to eate. And they sayd, Wee haue no more but foue loaves and two fishes, except wee should goe and buy meate for all this people.

14 For they were about foue thousand men. Then he sayd to his Disciples, Cause them to sit downe by fittes in a companie.

15 And they did so, and caused all to sit downe.

16 Then hee tooke the foue loaves, and the two fishes, & looked vp to heauen, and blessed them, and brake, & gaue to the disciples, to set before the people.

17 So they did all eate, and were satisfied: and there was taken vp of that remained to them, twelue baskets full of broken meate.

18 ¶ And it came to passe as he was alone praying, his Disciples were with him, and hee asked them, saying, Whome say the people that I am?

19 They answered, and sayde, John Baptist: and others say, Elias: and some say, that one of the old Prophets is risen againe.

20 And he sayd vnto them, But whome say ye that I am? Peter answered, and said, The Christ of God.

21 And he warned, & commaunded them, that they should tell that to no man, 22 Saying, ¶ The sonne of man must suffer many things, and be repproued of the Elders, and of the hie Priests & Scribes, and be slaine, and the thir day rise againe.

23 ¶ And he said to them all, If any man will come after mee, let him denie himselfe, and take vp his crosse dayly, and follow mee.

24 ¶ For whosoever will saue his life, shall lose it: and whosoever will lose his life for my sake, the same shall saue it.

25 For what aduantage it a man, if hee win the whole world, and destroy himselfe, or lose himselfe?

26 ¶ For whosoever shall be ashamed of me, and of my wordes, of him shall the Sonne of man be ashamed when he shall come in his glory, and in the glory of the Father, and of the holy Angels.

27 ¶ And I tell you of a suretie, there bee some standing here, which shall not taste of death, till they haue seene the kingdom of God.

28 ¶ And it came to passe about an eight dayes after those wordes, that hee tooke Peter and John, and James, and went vp into a mountaine to pray.

29 And as hee prayed, the fashion of his countenance was changed, & his garment was white and glistered.

30 And behold, two men talked with him, which were Moses and Elias, 31 Which appeared in gloiy, and told of his departure, which hee should accomplish at Ierusalem.

33 And it came to passe as they departed from him, Peter said vnto Iesus, Master, it is good for vs to bee here: let vs therefore make three Tabernacles, one for thee, and one for Moses, and one for Elias, and wilt not what he said.

34 While hee thus spake, there came a cloud, and <sup>o</sup>uershadowed them, & they feared when they were entering into the cloud.

35 * And there came a voyce out of the cloud, saying, This is my beloved Sonne, heare him.

36 And when the voyce was past, Iesus was found alone: and they kept it close, and tolde no man in those <sup>l</sup> dayes any of those things which they had seene.

37 And it came to passe on the next day, as they came downe from the mountaine, much people met him.

38 * And beholde, a man of the company cried out, saying, Master, I beseech thee, behold my sonne: for he is all that I haue.

39 And loe, a spirit taketh him, & suddenly he cryeth, and he tearch him, that he foomeh, and with much paine departeth from him, when he hath bawled him.

40 Now I haue besought thy disciples to cast him out, but they could not.

41 Then Iesus answered, and said, <sup>o</sup> Generation faithlesse and crooked, how long now shall I be with you, and suffer you! being thy sonne hitter.

42 And whiles he was yet conning, the deuill rent him, and tare him: and Iesus rebuked the deuileas spirit, and healed the childe, and deliuered him to his father.

43 And they were all amazed at the mighty power of God: and while they all wondered at all things, which Iesus did, he sayd vnto his disciples, 44 <sup>l</sup> Marke these wordes diligently: for it shall come to passe, that the Sonne of man shall be deliuered into the hands of men.

45 But they understood not <sup>o</sup> that word: for it was hid from them, so that they could not perceine it: and they feared to aske him of that word.

46 * Then there arose a disputation among them, which of them should bee the greatest.

47 When Iesus saw the thoughts of their hearts, he tooke a little childe, and set him by him, 48 And said vnto them, Whosoener receiveth this little childe in my Name, receiveth me: and whosoener shall receine me, receiveth him that sent me: for he that is least among you, hee shall be great.

49 * And John answered, and sayd, Master, we saw one casting out devils in thy Name, and we forbad him, because hee followeth thee not with vs.

50 Then Iesus sayd vnto him, Forbid vs him not: for he that is not against vs, <sup>o</sup> is with vs.

51 And it came to passe, when the <sup>l</sup> dayes were accomplisshed, that hee should be receined by, he settled himselfe fully to goe to Jerusalem, and sent messengers before him: and they went and entered into a towne of the Samaritans, to prepare him lodging.

53 But they would not receive him, because his <sup>o</sup> behauiour was, as though hee would goe to Jerusalem.

54 And when his disciples, James and John, saw it, they said, Lord, wilt thou that wee command that fire come downe from heauen, and consume them, even as <sup>o</sup> Elias did?

55 But Iesus turned about and rebuked them, and said, Ye know not of what <sup>o</sup> spirit ye are.

56 For the Sonne of man is not come to destroy mens liues, but to save them. Then they went to another towne.

57 And it came to passe that as they went in the way, <sup>o</sup> a certaine man sayd vnto him, I will follow thee, Lord, whither soeuer thou goest.

58 And Iesus said vnto him, The <sup>o</sup> fores haue holes, and the birds of the heauen haue nests, but the Sonne of man hath not whereon to lay his head, 59 But he said vnto another, Follow me. And the same said, Lord, suffer me first to go and <sup>o</sup> bury my father.

60 And Iesus sayd vnto him, Let the dead bury their dead: but goe thou & preach the kingdom of God.

61 Then another said, I will follow thee, Lord: but let me first go bid them farewell, which are at mine house.

62 And Iesus sayd vnto him, No man that putteth his hand to the plough, and <sup>o</sup> looketh backe, is apt to the kingdom of God.

22 Then hee turned to his disciples, and sayd, All things are o giuen mee of my Father: and no man knoweth who the Sonne is, but the Father: neither who the Father is, saue the Sonne, and hee to whom the Sonne will reueyle him.

23 And he returned to his disciples, and sayd secretly, * Blessed are the eyes which see that ye see.

24 For I tell you that many Prophets and Kings haue desired to see those things which ye see, and haue not seene them: and to heare those things, which ye heare, and haue not heard them.

25 ¶ Then behold, a certaine eyppouder of the Law stood vp, and tempted him, saying, Master, what shall I doe to inherit eternall life?

26 And he sayd vnto him, What is writen in the Law: how readest thou?

27 And he answered, & sayd, * Thou shalt loue thy Lord God with all thine heart, and with all thy soule, and with all thy strength, and with all thy thought, * and thy neighbour as thy selfe.

28 Then hee sayd vnto him, Thou hast answered right: this doe, and thou shalt liue.

29 But hee willing to iustifie himselfe, sayde vnto Iesus, Who is then my neighbour?

30 And Iesus answered, and sayd, A certaine man went downe from Ierusalem to Jericho, and fell among thornes, and they robbed him of his raiment, and wounded him, and departed, leauing him halfe dead.

31 And by chance there came downe a certaine Priest that same way, and when he saw him, he passed by on the other side.

32 And likewise also a Leuite, when hee was come neere to the place, went and looked on him, and passed by on the other side.

33 Then a certaine Samaritane, as he iourneyed, came neere vnto him, and when he saw him, he had compassion on him, 34 And went to him, and bound vp his wounds, and powred in oyle and wine, and put him on his owne beast, and brought him to an inne, and made provision for him.

36 Which now of these thre, thinkest thou, was neighbour vnto him that fell among the thornes?

37 And he sayd, he that shewed mercy on him. Then sayd Iesus vnto him, Go, and doe thou likewise.

38 ¶ Now it came to passe as they went, that hee entered into a certaine towne, and a certaine woman named Martha, reueyled him into her house.

39 And shee had a sister called Marie, which also sat at Iesus feet, and heard his preaching.

40 But Martha was troubled about much seruing, and came to him, and sayd, Master, doest thou not care that my sister hath left mee to serue alone: bid her therefore that she helpe me.

39 Nowe vnderstand this, that if the good man of the house had knowne at what houre the theefe would haue come, he would haue watched, and would not haue suffered his house to be digged through.

43 Blessed is that seruant, whom his master when hee cometh, shall finde so doing.

44 Of a truerher I say vnto you, that hee will make him ruler ouer all that hee hath.

45 But if that seruant say in his heart, My Master doeth defer his coming, and shall begin to limite the seruants, and maydens, and to eat & drinke, and to be drunken, 46 The master of that seruant will come in a day when hee thinketh not, and at an houre when hee is not ware of, and will cut him off, and giue him his portion with the vnbelievers.

47 And that seruant that knewe his masters will, and prepared not himselfe neither did according to his will, shall be beaten with many stripes.

48 But hee that knewe it not, and yet did commit things unworthy of stripes, shall be beaten with few stripes: for vnto whomsoever much is giuen, of him shall be much required, and to whom men much commit, the more of him will they aske.

Or, set at libertie our of Satans bands.

There were certaine men present at the same season, that shewed him of the Galileans, whose blood Pilate had mingled with their owne sacrifices.

2 And Iesus answered, and sayde vnto them, Suppose yee, that these Galileans were greater sinners then all the other Galileans, because they haue suffered such things?

3 I tell you, nay: but except yee amend your liues, ye shall all likewise perish.

4 D<sup>r</sup> thinke you that those eightene, vpon whom the towre in Siloam fell, and slew them, were less sinners aboue all men that dwell in Ierusalem?

5 I tell you, nay: but except yee amend your liues, yee all shall likewise perish.

6 Hee spake also this parable, A certaine man had a figge tree planted in his vineyard: and hee came and sought fruite thereon, and found none.

7 Then said he to the dresser of the vineyard, Behold, these three yeeres haue I come and sought fruite of this fig tree, and finde none: cut it downe: why keepeth it also the ground barren?

8 And he answered, and said vnto him, Lord, let it alone this yeere also, till I digge round about it, and dung it.

9 And if it beare fruite, well: if not, then after thou shalt cut it downe.

10 And hee was taught in one of the Synagogues on the Sabbath day.

11 And behold, there was a woman which had a spirit of infirmitie eightene yeeres, and was bowed together, and could not lift vp her selfe in any wise.

12 When Iesus saw her, he called her to him, and said to her, Woman, thou art loosed from thy disease.

13 And hee laide his hands on her, and immediately she was made straight againe, and glorified God.

14 And the ruler of the Synagogue answered with indignation, because that Iesus had healed on the Sabbath day, and said vnto the people, There are five dayes in which men ought to worke: in them therefore come and be healed, and not on the Sabbath day.

15 Then answered him the Lord, and said, Hypocrite, doeth not each one of you on the Sabbath day loose his ox or his asse from the stall, and leade him away to the water?

16 And ought not this daughter of Abraham whom Satan had bound, loe, eightene yeeres, be loosed from this bond on the Sabbath day?

17 And when hee said these things, all his aduersaries were ashamed: but all the people rejoyced at all the excellent things that were done by him.

18 * Then said he, What is the kingdome of God like? or whereto shall I compare it?

19 It is like a graine of mustard seede which a man tooke and sowed in his garden, and it grew, and waxed a great tree, and the fowles of the heauen made nestes in the branches thereof.

20 And againe hee said, Whereunto shall I liken the kingdome of God?

21 It is like leauen, which a woman tooke and hid in three peckes of flour, till all was leauened.

22 * And hee went through all cities and townes, teaching, and tourneying towards Ierusalem.

23 Then said one vnto him, Lord, are there few that shall be saved? And hee said vnto them, 24 * I Strive to enter in at the strait gate: for many, I say vnto you, will seeke to enter in, and shall not be able.

25 When the good man of the house is risen vp, and hath shut to the doore, and yee begin to stand without, and to knocke at the doore, saying, Lord, Lord, open to vs, and he shall answer and say vnto you, I know you not whence ye are,

26 * Then shall ye begin to say, We haue eaten and drunken in thy presence, and thou hast taught in our streetes.

27 But hee shall say, I tell you, I know you not whence yee are: * depart from mee, all yee workers of iniquitie.

28 There shall be weeping and gnashing of teeth, when ye shall see Abraham and Isaac and Jacob, and all the Prophets in the kingdome of God, and your selues thrust out at doores.

29 Then shall come many from the East, and from the West, and from the North, and from the South, and shall sit at table in the kingdome of God.

And it came to passe, that when hee was entred into the house of one of the chiefe Pharises on the Sabbath day, to eate bread, they watched him.

6 And they could not answer him againe to those things.

7 He spake also a parable to the guests, when hee marked how they chose out the chiefe rooms, and said unto them,

8 When thou shalt bee bidden of any man to a wedding, set not thy selfe downe in the chiefe place, lest a more honourable man then thou, be bidden of him,

6 And hee that bade both him and thee, come, and lay to thee, Sit this man roomer, and thou then begin with shame to take the lowest roomer.

10 * But when thou art bidden, goe, and sit downe in the lowest roomer, that when hee that bade thee, commeth, hee may say unto thee, friend, sit up higher: then shalt thou have worship in the presence of them that sit at table with thee.

11 * For whosoever exalteth himselfe, shall be brought low, and hee that humbly himselfe, shall be exalted.

12 * Then he said also to him that had bidden him, * When thou makest a dinner or a supper, call not thy friends, nor thy bretheren, neither thy kinsmen, nor thy rich neighbours, lest they also bid thee againe, and a recompense be made thee.

13 But when thou makest a feast, call the poore, the maimed, the lame, and the blind, 14 And thou shalt bee blessed, because they cannot recompense thee: for thou shalt bee recompensed at the resurrection of the just.

15 Now when one of them that sate at table, heard these things, hee said unto him, Blessed is hee that eateth bread in the kingdom of God.

16 Then said hee to him, * A certaine man made a great supper, and bade many,

17 And sent his servant at supper time to say to them that were bidden, Come: for all things are now ready.

18 But they all with one minde began to make excuse: The first said unto him, I have bought a farme, and I must needs goe out and see it: I pray thee haue me excused.

19 And another said, I have bought five yoke of oxen, and I goe to proove them: I pray thee haue me excused.

20 And another said, I have married a wife, and therefore I cannot come.

21 So that servant returned, and shewed his master these things. Then was the good man of the house angry, and said to his servant, * Goe out quickly into the places and streetes of the citie and bring in hither the poore, and the maimed, and the halt, and the blinde.

22 And the servant said, Lord, it is done as thou hast commaunded, and yet there is roomer.

23 Then the master said to the servant, Goe out into the hie wayes, and hedges, and c* compell them to come in, that mine house may be filled.

24 For I say unto you, that none of these men which were bidden, shall taste of my supper.

25 Nowe there went great multitudes with him, and hee turned and sayde unto them, 26 * If any man come to mee, and e hate not his father, and mother, and wife, and children, and bretheren and sisters, yea, and his owne life also, he cannot be my discipule.

27 * And whosoever beareth not his crosse, and commeth after me, cannot bee my discipule.

28 For which of you minding to build a tower, sitteth not downe before, and c* counteth the cost, whether hee haue sufficient to perforce it,

29 Lest that after hee hath layed the foundation, and is not able to perforce it, al that behold it, begin to mocke him, 30 Saying, This man began to build, and was not able to make an end?

31 Or what king going to make warre against another king, sitteth not downe first and taketh counsell, whether hee be able with tenne thousand, to meete him that commeth against him with twentie thousand?

32 Or els while hee is yet a great way off, hee sendeth an ambassage, and desireth conditions of peace

33 So likewise, whosoever hee bee of you that forsaketh not all that hee hath, hee cannot be my discipule.

CHAP. XV.

1 The Pharisees murmure because Christ receiueeth sinners. 4 The Kinge mercie of God is openly set forth in the parable of the hundred sheepe. 7 Joy in heauen for one sinner. 12 Of the prodigall sonne.

Then resorted vnto him all the Publicanes and sinners, to heare him.

2 Therefore the Pharisees and Scribes murmured, saying, He receiveth sinners, and eateth with them.

3 Then spake hee this parable to them, saying,

4 What man of you hauing an hundred sheepe, if he lose one of them, doeth not leaue ninetie and nine in the wilderness, and goe after that which is lost, vntill hee finde it?

5 And when hee hath found it, he layeth it on his shoulders with ioy.

6 And when he cometh home, hee calleth together his friends and neighbours, saying vnto them, Reioyce with mee: for I haue found my sheepe which was lost.

7 I say vnto you, that likewise ioy shall be in heauen for one sinner that conuerteth, more then for ninetie and nine iust men, which neede none amendment of life.

8 Either what woman hauing ten peces of siluer, if shee loose one peece, doeth not light a candle, and sweep the house, & seeke diligently till shee finde it?

9 And when shee hath found it, shee calleth her friends, and neighbours, saying, Reioyce with me: for I haue found the peece which I had lost.

10 Likewise I say vnto you, there is ioy in the presence of the Angels of God, for one sinner that conuerteth.

11 Thee hee said moxeouer, A certaine man had two sonnes.

12 And the yonger of them said to his father, Father, giue mee thy portion of the goods that fallerh to me. So he diuided vnto them his substance.

13 So not long after, when the yonger sonne had gathered all together, hee tooke his iourney into a farr country, and there hee wasted his goods with riotous living.

14 Now when hee had spent all, there arose a great dearth throughout that land, and he began to be in necessitie.

15 Then hee went and claued to a citizen of that country, and hee sent him to his farme, to feede swine.

16 And hee would faine haue filled his belly with the huskes, that the swine eate: but no man gaue them him.

17 Then hee came to himselfe, and said, Howe many hyred seruants at my fathers haue bread enough, and I die for hunger?

18 I will rise and goe to my father, and say vnto him, Father, I haue sinned against heauen, and before thee,

19 And am no more worthy to be called thy sonne: make me as one of thy hyred seruants.

20 So hee arose, and came to his father, and when he was yet a great way off, his father sawe him, and had compassion, and ranne and fell on his necke, and kissed him.

21 And the sonne said vnto him, Father, I haue sinned against heauen, and before thee, and am no more worthy to be called thy sonne.

22 Then the father said to his seruants, Bring forth the best robe, and put it on him, and put a ring on his hand, and shooes on his feete,

23 And bring the fat calfe, and kill him, and let vs eate and be merrye.

24 For this my sonne was dead, and is aliue againe: and hee was lost, but hee is found. And they began to be merrye.

25 Now the elder brother was in the field, and when hee came and drew nere to the house, hee heard melodie, and dancing,

26 And called one of his seruants, and asked what those things meant.

27 And hee said vnto him, Thy brother is come, and thy father hath killed the fatted calfe, because hee hath receiued him safe and found.

28 Then he was angry, and would not goe in: therefore came his father out and intreated him.

29 But hee answered and said to his father, Lo, these many yeeres haue I done thee seruice, neither brake I at any tyme thy commandement, and yet thou neuer gauest me a kid, that I might make merry with my friends.

30 But when this thy sonne was come, which hath deuoured thy goods with harlots, thou hast for his sake killed the fatted calfe.

31 And hee said vnto him, Sonne, thou art euer with mee, and all that I haue, is thine. It was meete that wee should make merry, and be glad: for this thy brother was dead, and is aliue againe: and hee was lost, but hee is found.

AND hee said also vnto his disciples, There was a certaine rich man, which had a steward, and hee was accused vnto him, that he wasted his goods.

2 And he called him, and said vnto him, How is it that I heare this of thee? Sure an account of thy stewardship: for thou maist be no longer steward.

3 Then the steward said within himselfe, What shall I doe? for my master will take away from mee the stewardship. I can not dig, and to beg I am ashamed.

4 I know what I will doe, that when I am put out of the stewardship, they may receiue me into their houses.

5 Then called hee euery one of his masters debtors, and said vnto the first, How much owest thou vnto my master?

6 And hee said, An hundred measures of oyle. And hee said to him, Take thy writing, and sit downe quickly, and write thirtie.

7 Then said he to another, How much owest thou? And hee sayde, An hundred measures i God reproveth the cruie of such as gudge when God receiveth sinners to mercy.

k Thy part which art a few, is nothing diminished by that, that Christ was also killed for the Gentiles: for he accepteth not the person, but feedeth indifferently all them that beleeue in him, with his body and blood to life everlasting.

a Christ teacheth hereby, that likewise as he which is in authorities, and hath riches, if he get friends in his prosperitie, may be relieved in his aduersitie: so our liberahitie towards our neighbour shall stand vs in such stead at the day of Iudgement, that God will accept it as done vnto him.

9 And I say vnto you, Take you friends with the riches of iniquitie, that when yee shall want, they may receiue you into euerslasting habitation.

10 Yee that is faithfull in the least, he is also faithfull in much: and he that is vniuersall in the least, is vniuersall also in much.

11 If then yee haue not been faithfull in the wicked riches, who will trust you in the true treasure?

12 And if yee haue not been faithfull in another mans goods, who shall giue you that which is yours?

13 * No seruant can serue two masters: for either he shall hate the one, and loue the other: or else he shall leaue to the one, and despise the other. Ye cannot serue God and riches.

14 All these things heard the Pharisees also which were couetous, and they mocked him.

15 Then he sayd vnto them, Ye are they which build vniuersall your selues before men: but God knoweth your hearts: for that which is highly esteemed among men, is abomination in the sight of God.

16 * The Law of the Prophets endured vntill John: and since that time the kingdom of God is preached, and euery man preacheth into it.

17 * Now it is more easie that heauen and earth should passe away, then that one tittle of the law should fall.

18 * Whosoever putteth away his wife, and marrieth another, committeth adultery: and whosoever marrieth her that is put away from her husband, committeth adultery.

19 There was a certaine rich man, which was clothed in purple, and fine linnen, and fard well and delicately every day.

20 Also there was a certaine begger named Lazarus, which was layd at his gate full of sores, 21 And desired to be refreshed with the crummes that fell from the rich mans table: yea, and the dogs came and licked his sores.

22 And it was so that the begger died, and was caried by the Angels into Abrahams bofome. The rich man also died and was buried.

23 And being in hell in tormentes, he lift vp his eyes, and saw Abraham afarre off, and Lazarus in his bofome.

24 Then he cried and said, Father Abraham, haue mercie on me, and send Lazarus that he may dip the tip of his finger in water, and coole my tongue: for I am tormented in this flame.

25 But Abraham sayd, Sonne, remember that thou in thy life time receiuest thy pleasures, and likewise Lazarus paines: now therefore is he comforted, and thou art tormented.

26 Besides all this betwene you and vs there is a great gulf set, so that they which would go from hence to you, cannot, neither can they come from thence to vs.

27 Then he sayd, I pray thee therefore father, that thou wouldest send him to my fathers house, 28 (For I haue five brethren) that he may testifie vnto them, least they also come into this place of torment.

29 Abraham sayd vnto him, They haue Moses and the Prophets: let them heare them.

30 And hee sayd, Nay, father Abraham: but if one come vnto them from the dead, they will amend their liues.

31 Then he sayd vnto him, If they heare not Moses and the Prophets, neither will they be perswaded, though one rise from the dead againe.

o Christ deceiue both spiritual things by such manner of speeche, as is most proper to our vnderstanding: for our soules haue neither fingers nor eyes, neither are they thirlike, or speake: but the Lord as it were in a table, painted forth the state of the life to come, as our capacity is able to comprehend it.

CHAP. XVII.

1 Christ teacheth his disciples to auoide occasions of offence. 3 one to forgive another. 5 We ought to pray for the increase of faith. 6 He magnifieth the vertue of faith, 10 and sheweth the vniuersality of mans, 11 bealeth ten lepers, 20 speaketh of the latter dayes, and of the ende of the world.

Then sayd he to the disciples, * It cannot be auoided, but that offences will come, but woe be to him by whom they come.

2 It were better for him that a great millstone were hanged about his necke, and that hee were cast into the sea, then that hee should offend one of these little ones.

4 And though hee sinne against thee 7 seuen times in a day, and seuen times in a day turne againe to thee, saying, It repenteth me, thou shalt forgive him.

5 And the Apostles said vnto the Lord, Increase our faith.

6 And the Lord sayd, * If yee had faith, as much as is a graine of mustard seed, and should say vnto this mulberry tree, d Plucke thy selfe vnto the rootes, and plant thy selfe in the sea, thou shouldst euen obey him.

o Christ deceiue both spiritual things by such manner of speeche, as is most proper to our vnderstanding: for our soules haue neither fingers nor eyes, neither are they thirlike, or speake: but the Lord as it were in a table, painted forth the state of the life to come, as our capacity is able to comprehend it.

12 I fast twice in the weeke : I giue tithe of all that euer I possesse.

13 But the Publicane standing a far off, would not lift vp so much as his eyes to heauen, but smote his breast, saying, O God be mercifull to me a sinner.

14 I tell you this man departed to his house iustificed, rather then the other: * For euery man that exalteth himselfe, shall be brought low, and he that humbleth himselfe, shall be exalted.

15 C * They brought vnto him also babes, that he should touch them. And when his disciples saw it, they rebuked them.

16 But Iesus called s them vnto him, and said, Suffer the babes to come vnto me, and forbid them not: for of such is the kingdome of God.

17 Verely I say vnto you, Whosoener relearneth not the kingdome of God, as a babe, he shall not enter therein.

18 * Then a certaine ruler asked him, saying, Good master, what ought I to do, to inherit eternal life?

19 And Iesus sayd vnto him, Why callest thou me good? none is good, saue one, euen God.

20 Thou knowest the commandements, * Thou shalt not commit adultery: Thou shalt not kill: Thou shalt not steale: Thou shalt not beare false witness: Honour thy father and thy mother.

21 And hee sayd, All these haue I kept from my youth.

22 Now when Iesus heard that, he sayd vnto him, Per lackest thou one thing, Sel all that euer thou hast, and distribute vnto the poore, and thou shalt haue treasure in heauen, and come, followe me.

23 But when he heard those things, hee was very heauy: for hee was maruelous rich.

24 And when Iesus saw him sorrowfull, hee sayd, With what difficultie shall they that haue riches enter into the kingdome of God?

25 Surely it is easier for a camell to goe through a needles eye, then for a rich man to enter into the kingdome of God.

26 Then sayd they that heard it, And who then can be saved?

27 And hee sayd, The things which are impossible with men, are possible with God.

28 C * Then Peter sayd, Loe, wee haue left all, and haue followed thee.

29 And hee sayd vnto them, Verely I say vnto you, there is no man that hath left house, or parents, or brethren, or wife, or children for the kingdome of Gods sake, 20 Which shall not receiue much more in this worlde, and in the world to come life euerlasting.

31 C * Then Iesus tooke vnto him the twelue, and sayd vnto them, Behold, we go vp to Ierusalem, and all things shall be fulfilled to the Sonne of man, that are written by the Prophets.

32 For hee shall be deliuered vnto the Gentiles, and shall be mocked, and shall be spitefully increased, and shall be spiced on.

33 And when they haue scourged him, they will put him to death: but the third day hee shall rise againe.

34 But they vnderstoode none of these things, and this saying was hid from them, neither perceived they the things, which were spoken.

35 C * And it came to passe, that as hee was come neere vnto Jericho, a certain blind man face by the way side begging.

36 And when hee heard the people passe by, he asked what it meant.

37 And they sayd vnto him, that Iesus of Nazareth passed by.

38 Then hee cryed, saying, Iesus the sonne of Dauid, haue mercy on me.

39 And they which went before, rebuked him, that hee should hold his peace, but hee cryed much more, D * Sonne of Dauid, haue mercy on mee.

40 And Iesus stood still, and commanded him to be brought vnto him. And when he was come neere, he asked him, 41 Saying, What wilt thou that I doe vnto thee? And hee said, Lord, that I may receiue my sight.

42 And Iesus sayd vnto him, Receiue thy sight: thy faith hath saued thee.

43 Then immediatly hee receiued his sight, and followed him, praying God: and all the people when they saw this, gaue praise to God.

2 Of Zaccheus. 12 The tenne pieces of money.

28 Christ rideth to Ierusalem, and weepeth for it.

45 He chaseth out the merchants, 47 and his enemies seeke to destroy him.

NOW when Iesus entred and passed throu N row Jericho,

2 Behold, there was a man named Zaccheus, which was the chiefe receiuer of the tribute, and he was rich.

3 And hee sought to see Iesus, who hee should be, and could not for the preale, because he was of a lowe stature.

4 Wherefore hee ran before, and climed by into a wilde figge tree, that hee might see him, for he should come that way.

5 And when Iesus came to the place, hee looked vp and saw him, and sayd vnto him, Zaccheus, come downe at once: for to day I must abide at thine house.

6 Then he came downe hastily, and receiued him ioyfully.

7 And when all they saw it, they murmured, saying, that hee was gone in to lodge with a sinner.

8 And Zaccheus stood forth, and sayd vnto the Lord, Behold, Lord, the halfe of my goods I giue to the poore: and if I haue taken from any man by forged caualition, I restore him fouer fold.

9 Then Iesus sayd vnto him, This day is saluation come vnto this house, forasmuch as he is also become the sonne of Abraham.

10 * For the Sonne of man is come to seeke, and to saue that which was lost.

11 And while they heard these things, he continued and spake a parable, because hee was nere to Ierusalem, and because also they thought that the kingdome of God should shortly appeare.

12 He sayd therefore, * A certaine noble man went into a farre countrey, to receiue for himselfe a kingdome, and so to come againe.

13 And he called his ten seruants, and deliuered them ten pieces of money, and sayd vnto them, * Occuipie till I come.

14 Now his citizens hated him, and sent an ambassage after him, saying, We will not haue this man to reigne ouer vs.

15 And it came to passe when hee was come againe, and had receiued his kingdome, that he commaunded the seruants to be called to him, to whome he gaue his money, that he might know what euery man had gained.

16 Then came the first, saying, Lord, thy piece had increased ten pieces.

17 And he sayd vnto him, Well good seruant: because thou hast bene faithfull in a very litle thing, take thou authoritie ouer ten cities.

18 And the second came, saying, Lord, thy piece hath increased five pieces.

19 And to the same he said, Be thou also ruler ouer five cities.

20 So the other came and sayd, Lord, behold thy piece, which I haue layd vp in a napkin.

21 For I feared thee, because thou art a straite man, thou takest vp that thou laydest not downe, and reapest that thou didst not sowe.

22 Then he said vnto him, Of thine owne mouth wilt I iudge thee, O thou seruant. Thou knowest that I am a straite man, taking vp that I layd not downe, and reaping that I did not sowe.

23 Wherefore then gauest not thou my money into the bank, that at my coming I might haue required it with vantage?

24 And hee sayd to them that stood by, Take from him that piece, and giue it him that hath ten pieces.

25 (And they said vnto him, Lord, hee hath ten pieces.)

26 * For I say vnto you, that vnto all them that haue, it shall be giuen: and from him that hath not, euen that he hath, shall be taken from him.

27 Moreover, those mine enemies, which would not that I should reigne ouer them, bring hither, and slay them before me.

28 And when he had thus spoken, hee went forth: before ascending vp to Ierusalem.

29 * And it came to passe, when he was come nere to Bethphage, and Bethania, besides the mount which is called the mount of Olues, hee sent two of his disciples, 30 Saying, Goe ye to the towne which is before you, wherein assoone as ye are come, ye shall finde a colt, tyed, whereon neuer man sat: loose him, and bring him hither.

31 * And if any man aske you, why seeke him, thus shall ye say vnto him, Because the Lord hath need of him.

32 So they that were sent, went their way, and found it as hee had layd vnto them.

33 And as they were loosing the colt, the owners thereof sayd vnto them, Why loose ye the colt?

34 And they sayd, The Lord hath neede of him.

35 * So they brought him to Iesus, and they cast their garments on the colt, and set Iesus thereon.

36 And as hee went, they spred their clothes in the way.

37 And when hee was now come nere to the going downe of the mount of Olues, the whole multitude of the disciples began to reioyce, and to prayse God with a loude voyce, for all the great woorkes that they had seene.

38 Saying, Blessed be the King that cometh in the name of the Lord: peace in heauen, and glory in the highest places.

39 Then some of the Pharisees of the company sayd vnto him, Master, rebuke thy disciples.

40 But he answered and sayd vnto them, I tell you, that if these should hold their peace, the stones would cry.

41 * And when hee was come nere, he beheld the city, and wept for it, 42 Saying, * Woe it thou haddest euen knowne at the least in this thy day: those things, which belong vnto thy peace! but now are they hid from thine eyes.

43 For the dayes shall come vpon thee, that thine enemies shall cast a trench vpon thee, and compass thee round, and keepe thee in on euery side, 44 And shall make thee euen with the ground, and the children which are in thee, and they shall not leaue in thee a stone vpon a stone, because thou knowest not the tunc of thyre visitation.

45 * He went also into the Temple, and began to cast out them that sold therein, and them that bought, 46 Saying vnto them, It is writtten, * Mine house is the house of prayer, * but ye haue made it a denne of thieues.

47 And hee taught daily in the Temple. And the hie Priests, & the Scribes, and the chiefe of the people sought to destroy him.

48 But they coude not finde what they might doe to him: for all the people hangd vpon him when they heard him.

what authorize thou doest these things, or who is he that hath giuen thee this authority?

3 And he answered, and sayd vnto them, I also will aske you one thing: tell me therefore:

4 The ° baptisme of Iohn, was it from heauen, or of men?

5 And they reasoned within themselves, saying, If we shall say, ° From heauen, hee will say, Why then beleueed ye him not?

6 But if we shall say, ° From men, all the people will stone vs: for they be perauaded that Iohn was a Prophet.

7 Therefore they answered, that they could not tell whence it was.

8 Then Iesus sayd vnto them, ° Neither tell I you by what authority I doe these things.

9 ¶ Then began he to speake to the people this parable, ° A certaine man planted a ° vineyard, and ° let it forth to husbandmen, and went into a strange country, for a great season.

10 And at a time he sent a ° seruant to the husbandmen, that they should giue him of the fruit of the vineyard, but the husbandmen did beat him, and sent him away empty.

11 Againe hee sent yet another seruant: and they did beat him, and soule increased him, and sent him away empty.

12 Moreover, he sent the third, and him they wounded, and cast out.

13 Then said the Lord of the vineyard, What shall I doe? I will send my beloved Sonne: it may bee that they will doe reuerence, when they see him.

14 But when the husbandmen saw him, they reasoned with themselves, saying, This is the heire: come, let vs kill him, that the inheritance may be ours.

15 So they cast him out of the vineyard, and killed him. What shall the Lord of the vineyard therefore doe vnto them?

16 Hee will come and destroy these husbandmen, and will giue out his vineyard to others: But when they heard it, they said, God forbid.

17 ¶ And he beheld them, & said, What meaneth this in them that is written, ° The stone that the builders refused, that is made the head of the corner?

18 ° Whosoever shall fall vpon that stone, shall be broken: and on whomsoeuer it shall fall, it will grind him to powder.

19 Then the high Priests & the Scribes the same houre went about to lay hands on him: (But they feared the people) for they perceiued that hee had spoken this parable againt them.

20 ¶ And they watched him, and sent forth spies, which should faine themselves, iust men, to take him in his talke, and to deliuer him vnto the power and authority of the gouernour.

21 And they asked him, saying, Master, wee know that thou sayest, & teachest right, neither doest thou accept any mans person, but teachest the way of God truly.

22 Is it lawfull for vs to giue Cesar tribute, or no?

23 But he perceiued their craftinesse, and sayd vnto them, Why tempt ye me?

24 Shew me a penny. Whose image and superscription hath it? They answered and sayd, Cesars.

25 Then hee sayd vnto them, ° Give then vnto Cesar the things which are Cesars, and to God those which are Gods.

26 And they could not repossue his saying before the people: but they marvelled at his answer, and held their peace.

27 ¶ Then came to him certaine of the Sadducees, (which deny that there is any resurrection) and they asked him, 28 Saying, Master, Moses wrote vnto vs, If any mans brother die hauing a wife, and he die without children, that his brother should take his wife, and rayle by seede vnto his brother.

29 Now there were seuen brethren, and the first tooke a wife, and he died without children.

30 And the second tooke the wife, and he died childlesse.

31 Then the third tooke her: and so likewise the seuen dyed, and left no children.

32 And last of all, the woman died also.

33 Therefore at the resurrection, whose wife of them shall she be? for seuen had her to wife, 34 Then Iesus answered, and said vnto them, The ° children of this world marrie wives and are married.

35 But they which shall be counted worthy to enioy that world, and the resurrection from the dead, neither marry wives, neither are married.

36 ° For they can die no more, forasmuch as they are equal vnto the Angels, and are the sonnes of God, ° since they are the children of the resurrection.

37 And that the dead shall liue againe, euen ° Moses shewed it besides the bush, when he said, The Lord is the God of Abraham, and the God of Isaac, and the God of Jacob.

38 For hee is not the God of the ° dead, but of them which liue: ° for all liue vnto him.

39 Then certaine of the Pharisees answered, and sayd, Master, thou hast well sayd.

40 And after that, durst not they aske him any thing at all.

41 ¶ Then said he vnto them, How say they that Christ is Davids sonne?

42 And Dauid himselfe saith in the book of the Psalmes, ° The Lord sayd vnto my Lord, sit at my right hand, 43 Till I shall make thine enemies thy footstool.

44 Seeing Dauid called him Lord, how is he then his ° sonne?

45 ¶ Then in the audience of all the people, he sayd vnto his disciples,

4 For they all haue of their superfluyty, cast into the offerings of God: but shee of her penny hath cast in all the liuing that she had.

5 Now as some spake of the Temple, how it was garnished with goodly stones, and with consecrate things, he sayd,

6 Are these the things that ye looke vpon: the dayes wil come, wherein a stone shall not be left vpon a stone, that shall not be thowen downe.

7 When they asked him, sayng, Master, but when shall these things bee: and what signe shall there be when these things shall come to passe?

8 And hee sayd, Take heed that yee be not deceiued: for many will come in my name, saying, I am Christ, and the time draweth nere: follow yee not them therefore.

9 And when ye heare of warres and seditions, be not afraid: for these things must first come, but the end followeth not by and by.

22 For these be the dayes of vengeance, to fulfill all things that are written.

23 But wo be to them that be with child, and to them that giue sucke in those dayes: for there shall be great distress in this land, and wrath ouer this people.

24 And they shall fall on the edge of the sword, and shall be led captiue into all nations, and Ierusalem shall be troden vnder foote of the Gentiles, vntill the time of the Gentiles be fulfilled.

25 Then there shall bee signes in the Sunne, & in the Moone, and in the Stars, and vpon the earth trouble among the nations, with perplexitie: the sea and the waters shall roare.

26 And mens hearts shall faile them for feare, & for looking after those things which shall come on the world: for the powers of heauen shall be shaken,

27 And then shall they see the Sonne of man come in a cloud, with power and great glory.

28 And when these things begin to come to passe, then looke vp, & lift vp your heads: for your redemption draweth nere.

29 And hee spake to them a parable, Behold the fig tree, and all trees, 30 When they now shoot forth, ye seeing them, know of your owne selves, that Sommer is then nere.

31 So likewise yee, when yee see these things come to passe, know ye that the kingdome of God is nere.

i By the secret counsell of God

as Acts 4. 28.

NOwe * the feast of vneleavened bread
Drew neere, which is called the Pascheouer.

2 And the hie Priestes & Scribes sought how they might kill him: for they feared the people.

3 Then entred Satan into Iudas, who was called Iscariot, and was of the number of the twelue.

4 And he went his way and communed with the hie Priestes and captaines, how he might betray him to them.

5 So they were glad, and agreed to giue him money.

6 And hee consented and sought opportunity to betray him vnto them, when the people were away.

7 ¶ Then came the day of vneleavened bread when the Pascheouer must be sacrificed.

8 And he sent Peter and John, saying, Goe, and prepare vs the Pascheouer, that wee may eat it.

9 And they said to him, Where wilt thou that we prepare it?

10 Then hee sayd vnto them, Beholde, when ye be entred into the citie, there shal a man meet you, bearing a pitcher of water: follow him into the house that hee entreteth in,

11 And say vnto the Goodman of the house, The master sayth vnto thee, Where is the lodging where I shall eate my Pascheouer with my disciples?

12 When hee shall shew you a great high chamber trimmed, there make it ready.

13 So they went and found as hee had sayd vnto them, and made ready the Pascheouer.

14 * And when the hour was come, hee satte downe, and the twelue Apostles with him.

15 Then he sayd vnto them, I haue earnestly desired to eate this Pascheouer with you before I suffer.

16 For I say vnto you, Henceforth I will not eat of it any more, vntill it be fulfilled in the kingdom of God.

17 And he tooke the cup, & gaue thanks, and sayd, Take this, and diuide it among you.

18 For I say vnto you, I will not drinke of the fruit of the vine, vntill the kingdom of God be come.

19 * And hee tooke bread, and when hee had giuen thanks, hee brake it, and gaue to them, saying, This is my bodie, which is giuen for you: doe this in the remembrance of me.

20 Likewise also after Supper he tooke the cup, saying, This cup is the new Testament in my blood, which is shed for you.

21 ¶ Yet behold, the hand of him that betrayeth me, is with me at the table.

22 And truly the Sonne of man goeth as it is appointed: but woe be to that man, by whom he is betrayed.

23 Then they began to enquire among themselves, which of them it should be, that should doe that.

24 ¶ And there arose also a strife among them, which of them should seeme to be the greatest.

25 But he sayd vnto them, The kings of the Gentiles reigne ouer them, & they that beare rule ouer them, are called Gracious Lords.

26 But ye shall not be so: but let the greatest among you be as the least: & the chiefest as he that serueth.

27 For who is greater, hee that sitteth at table, or he that serueth? is not hee that sitteth at table? And I am among you as hee that serueth.

28 And ye are they which haue continued with me in my tentations.

29 Therefore I appoint vnto you a kingdom, as my Father hath appointed to me, 30 * That ye may eat and drinke at my table in my kingdom, and sit on seats, and iudge the twelue tribes of Israel.

31 ¶ And the Lord sayd, Simon, Simon, behold, Satan hath desired you, to winnow you as wheat.

32 But I haue prayed for thee, that thy faith faile not: therefore when thou art converted, strengthen thy brethren.

33 * And he sayd vnto him, Lord, I am ready to goe with thee into prison, and to death.

34 But hee sayd, I tell thee Peter, the cocke shall not crow this day, before thou hast thrise denied that thou knowest me.

35 ¶ And he sayd vnto them, ¶ When I sent you without bag, and scrip, and shoes, lacked yet any thing? And they sayd, Nothing.

36 Then he sayd to them, But now hee that hath a bag, let him take it, and likewise a scrip: and he that hath none, let him sel his coat, and buy a sword.

37 For I say vnto you, that yet the same which is writen must be performed in mee, ¶ Euen with the wicked was hee numbered: for doubtlesse those things which are writen of me, haue an end.

38 And they sayd, Lord, behold, here are two swords. And he sayd vnto them, It is enough.

39 ¶ And he came out, and went (as he was wont) to the mount of Olives: and his disciples also followed him.

40 * And when he came to the place, hee sayd to them, Pray, least ye enter into temptation.

41 And hee gate himselfe from them about a stones cast, and kneeled downe, and prayed.

42 Saying, Father, if thou wilt, take away this cup from mee: neuerthelesse, not my will, but thine be done.

43 And there appeared an Angel vnto him from heauen, comforting him.

44 But being in an agony, hee prayed more earnestly: and his sweate was like dropes of blood, trickling downe to the ground.

q Meaning, his death & passion.

r The word signifieth that Christ had conceived, not only for feare of death, but of his Fathers iudgement and wrath against sinne.

45 And he rose up from prayer, and came to his disciples, and found them sleeping for heavinesse.

46 And he sayd unto them, Why sleepe ye: rise and pray, lest ye enter into temptation.

47 ¶ And while he yet spake, behold, a company, and he that was called Judas one of the twelve, went before them, and came neere unto Jesus to kisse him.

48 And Jesus sayd unto him, Judas, betrayest thou the Sonne of man with a kisse?

49 Now when they which were about him, saw what would follow, they sayd unto him, Lord, shall we smite with sword?

50 And one of them smote a servant of the hie Priest, and strook off his right eare.

51 Then Jesus answered and said, Suffer them thus farre: and he touched his eare, and healed him.

52 Then Jesus sayd to the hie Priestes, and capitaines of the Temple, & the Elders which were come to him, Bee ye come out as unto a theefe with swords and staves?

53 When I was dayly with you in the Temple, ye stretched not forth the handes against me: but this is your very houre, and the power of darkenesse.

54 Thenooke they him, and led him and brought him to the hie Priestes house. And Peter followed a farre off.

55 ¶ And when they had kindled a fire in the mids of the hall, & were set downe together, Peter also late downe among them.

56 And a certaine maid beheld him as he late by the fire, and having well looked on him, said, This man was also with him.

57 But he denyed him, saying, Woman, I know him not.

58 And after a little while, another man saw him, and said, Thou art also of them, But Peter sayd, Man, I am not.

59 And about the space of an houre after, a certaine other affirmed, saying, Verely even this man was with him: for he is also a Galilean.

60 And Peter sayd, Man, I know not what thou sayest. And immediatly while he yet spake, the cocke crew.

61 Then the Lord turned backe, and looked upon Peter: and Peter remembered the word of the Lord, how he had said unto him, Before the cocke crow, thou shalt deny me thrise.

62 And Peter went out and wept bitterly.

63 ¶ And the men that held Jesus, mocked him, and strooke him.

64 And when they had blindfolded him, they smote him on the face, and asked him, saying, Prophesie who it is that smote thee.

65 And many other things blasphemously spake they against him.

66 ¶ And asloone as it was day, the Elders of the people, and the hie Priestes and the Scribes came together and led him into thes Court.

67 Saying, Art thou the Christ? tell us. And he layd unto them, If I tell you, ye will not beleue it.

68 And if also I aske you, ye will not answer me, nor let me goe.

69 ¶ Hereafter shall the Sonne of man sit at the y right hand of the power of God.

70 Then sayd they all, Art thou then the Sonne of God? And he said to them, Ye say that I am.

71 Then sayd they, What need wee any further witness: for we our selues haue heard it of his owne mouth.

CHAP. XXIII.

1 Iesus is brought before Pilate and Herode. 18 Of Barabbas. 26 Of Simons the Cyrenian. 27 The woman make lamentation. 33 Christ crucified. 34 He prayeth for his enemies. 40 He conuerteth the sheefe and many others at his death. 53 And is buried.

Then * the whole multitude of the arole, and led him unto Pilate.

2 And they began to accuse him, saying, Wee haue found this man perverting the people and forbidding to pay tribute to Cæsar, saying, That he is Christ a king.

3 And Pilate asked him, saying, Art thou the king of the Jewes? And he answered him, and sayd, Thou sayest it.

4 Then sayd Pilate to the hie Priestes, & to the people, I find no fault in this man.

5 But they were the more fierce, saying, He moueth the people, teaching throughout all Iudæa, beginning at Galile, even to this place.

6 Now when Pilate heard of Galile, he asked whether the man were a Galilean.

7 And when he knew that he was of Herodes iurisdiction, he sent him to Herode, which was also at Ierusalem in those daies.

8 And when Herode saw Iesus, hee was exceedingly glad: for he was desirous to see him of a long season, because hee had heard many thinges of him, and trusted to haue seene some signe done by him.

9 Then questioned he with him of many thinges: but he answered him nothing.

10 The hie Priestes also & Scribes stood forth, and accused him vehemently.

11 And Herod with his men of warre despised him, and mocked him, and arrayed him in white, and sent him againe to Pilate.

12 The same day Pilate and Herode were made friends together: for before they were enemies one to another.

13 Then Pilate called together the hie Priestes, and the rulers, and the people,

14 ¶ And said unto them, Ye haue brought this man unto me, as one that perverted the people: & behold, I haue examined him before you, & haue found no fault in this man, of those thinges whereof ye accuse him:

15 No, nor yet Herode: for I sent you to him: and loe, nothing woorthy of death is done to him.

16 I will therefore chastise him, and let him loose.

17 (For of necessity hee must haue let one loose unto them at the feast.)

24 So Pilate gaue sentence that it should be as they required.

25 And hee let loose unto them him that for insurrection and murder was cast into prison, whom they desired, and deliuered Iesus to do with him what they would.

26 ¶ And as they led him away, they caught one Simon of Cyrene, coming out of the field, and on him they layd the crosse, to beare it after Iesus.

27 And there followed him a great multitude of people, and of women, which women bewailed and lamented him.

28 But Iesus turned backe vnto them, and sayd, ¶ Daughters of Ierusalem, weep not for me, but weepe for your selues, and for your children.

29 For behold, the dayes will come, when men shall say, Blessed are the barren, and the wombes that neuer bare, and the paps which neuer gaue sucke.

30 Then shall they beginne to say to the mountaines, ¶ Fall on vs: and to the hilles, Coner vs.

31 ¶ For if they do these things to a green tree, what shall be done to the drie?

32 ¶ And there were two others, which were euill doers, led with him to be slaine.

33 And when they were come to the place which is called Caluarie, there they crucified him, and the euill doers: one at the right hand, and the other at the left.

34 Then sayde Iesus, Father, forgive them: for they knowe not what they do. And they parted his raiment, and cast lots.

35 And the people stood, and beheld: and the rulers mocked him with them, saying, He saued others: let him saue himselfe, if he be the Christ, the Chosen of God.

36 The souldiers also mocked him, and came and offered him vineger, 37 And sayd, If thou be the King of the Jewes, saue thy selfe.

38 And a superscription was also written ouer him, in Greeke letters, and in Latine, and in Hebrew, THIS IS THE KING OF THE IEWES.

39 ¶ And one of the euill doers, which were hanged, railed on him, saying, If thou be the Christ, saue thy selfe and as.

40 But the other answered, and rebuked him, saying, ¶ Fearest thou not God, seeing thou art in the same condemnation?

41 ¶ Wee are indeed rightly coully here: for wee receiue things worthy of that wee haue done: but this man hath done nothing amisse.

42 And hee sayd vnto Iesus, Lord remember me, when thou comest into thy kingdome.

43 Then Iesus sayd vnto him, Verely I say vnto thee, to day shalt thou be with me in Paradise.

44 ¶ And it was about the sixth houre: and there was a darknell ouer all the land, vntill the ninth houre.

45 And the Sunne was darkened, and the vayle of the Temple rent thowen the middes.

46 And Iesus cryed with a loud voyce, and sayd, ¶ Father, into thine hands I commend my spirit. And when hee thus had said, he gaue vp the ghost.

47 ¶ Now when the Centurion sawe what was done, hee glorified God, saying, ¶ Verely this man was iust.

48 And all the people that came together to that sight, beholding the things which were done, smote their breasts and returned.

49 And all his acquaintance stood afarre off, and the women that followed him from Galilee, beholding these things.

50 ¶ And behold there was a man named Ioseph, which was a Counsellor, a good man and a iust.

51 Hee did not consent to the counsell and deed of them, which was of Annanias, a citie of the Jewes: who also himselfe desired for the kingdome of God.

52 He went vnto Pilate, and asked the body of Iesus, 53 And tooke it downe, and wrapped it in a linnen cloth, and layd it in a tombe hewn out of a rocke, wherein was neuer man yet layd.

54 And that day was the Preparation, and the Sabbath drew on.

55 And the women also that followed after, which came with him from Galilee, beheld the sepulchre, and how his body was layd.

56 And they returned, and prepared odours and oymments, and rested the Sabbath day, according to the commandment.

6 He is not here, but is risen: remember how he spake vnto you, when he was yet in Galilee,

7 Saying, that the Sonne of man must bee deliuered into the hands of sinfull men, and be crucified, & the third day rise againe.

8 And they remembered his words,

9 And returned from the sepulchre, and tolde all these things vnto the eleuen, and to all the remnant.

10 Now it was Mary Magdalen, and Joanna, and Mary the mother of James, and other women with them, which tolde these things vnto the Apostles.

11 But their words seemed vnto them, as a fained thing, neither beleeued they them.

12 Then arose Peter, and ranne vnto the sepulchre, and looked in, and saw the linnen clothes layed by themselves, and departed wondering in himselfe, at that which was come to passe.

13 ¶ And beholde, two of them went that same day to a towne which was from Ierusalem aboute threescore furlongs, called Emmaus.

14 And they talked together of all these things that were done.

15 And it came to passe, as they communed together, and reasoned, that Iesus himselfe drew neere, and went with them.

16 But their eyes were holden, that they could not know him.

17 And he said vnto them, What maner of communications are these that yee haue one to another as ye walke, and are lad?

18 And the one (named Cleopas) answered, and saide vnto him, Art thou onely a stranger in Ierusalem, and hast not knowen the things which are come to passe therein, in these dayes?

19 And hee sayde vnto them, What things? And they sayd vnto him, Of Iesus of Nazaret, which was a Prophet mighty in deed and in word before God, and all the people,

20 And how the hie Priests and our rulers deliuered him to bee condemned to death, and haue crucified him.

21 But we trusted that it had bene hee that should haue deliuered Israel, and as touching all these things, to day is the thirde day that they were done.

22 Pea, and certaine women among vs made vs astonied, which came earely vnto
the sepulchre,

23 And when they found not his body, they came, saying, that they had also scene a vision of Angels, which sayd, that hee was alike.

24 Therefore certaine of them which were with vs, went to the sepulchre, and found it euen so as the women had sayd, but him they saw not.

25 Then he sayd vnto them, O fooles, and slow of heart to beleeuual that the Prophets haue spoken,

26 Ought not Christ to haue suffered these things, and to enter into his glory?

27 And he began at Moses, and at all the Propheers, and interpreted vnto them in all the Scriptures the things which were written of him.

28 And they drew neere vnto the towne which they went to, but he made as though he would haue gone further.

29 But they constrained him, saying, Abide with vs: for it is towards night, and the day is farre spent. So he went in to tarie with them.

30 And it came to passe, as he sat at table with them, hee tooke the bread, and gaue thanks, and brake it, and gaue it to them.

31 Then their eyes were opened, and they knew him: but hee was taken out of their sight.

32 And they sayde betwene themselves, Did not our hearts burne within vs, while he talked with vs by the way, and when hee opened to vs the Scriptures?

33 And they rose by the same houre, and returned to Ierusalem, and found the eleuen gathered together, and them that were with them,

34 Which sayd, The Lorde is risen in deed, and hath appeared to Simon.

35 Then they tolde what things were done in the way, and how hee was knowen of them in breaking of bread.

36 ¶ And as they spake these things, Ie-sus himselfe stood in the middes of them, and said vnto them, Peace be to you.

37 But they were abashed and astrayd, supplying that they had scene a spirit.

38 Then he said vnto them, Why are yee troubled? and wherefore do doubts arise in your hearts?

39 Beholde mine handes and my feete: for it is I myselfe: handle mee, and see: for a spirit hath not flesh and bones, as yee see me haue.

40 And when hee had thus spoken, hee shewed them his handes and feete.

41 And while they yet beleeued not for ioy, and wondred, hee sayd vnto them, Haue yee here any meat?

42 And they gaue him a piece of a broiled fish, and of an hony combe.

43 And hee tooke, and did eate before them.

44 And he sayd vnto them, These are the words, which I spake vnto you while I was yet with you, That all must bee fulfilled which are written of mee in the Lawe of Moses, and in the Propheers, and in the Psalmes.

45 Then opened he their vnderstanding, that they might vnderstand the scriptures,

46 And said vnto them, Thus is it written, and thus it behoued Christ to suffer, and to rise againe from the dead the thirde day,

47 And that repentance and remission of sinnes should be preached in his Name among all nations, beginning at Ierusalem.

48 Now ye are witnesses of these things.

49 And behold, I will send the promise

The holy Gospel of Iesus Christ, according to Iohn.

CHAP. I.

1. 14. 17 The diuinitie, humanitie, and office of Iesus Christ. 15 The testimony of Iohn. 39 The calling of Andrew Peter, &c.

In the beginning was the Word, and the Word was with God, and that Word was God.

2 The same was in the beginning with God.

3 All things were made by it, and without it was made nothing that was made.

4 In it was life, and the life was the light of men.

5 And the light shineth in the darknes, and the darknes comprehended it not.

6 There was a man sent from God, whose name was Iohn.

7 The same came for a witness, to beare witness of the light, that all men through him might beleeue.

8 He was not that light, but was sent to beare witness of the light.

9 That was y true light, which lighteth every man that cometh into the world.

10 Hee was in the world, and the world was made by him: and the world knew him not.

11 He came vnto his owne, and his owne receiued him not.

12 But as many as receiued him, to them hee gaue power to bee the sonnes of God, euen to them that beleeue in his name,

13 Which are borne not of blood, nor of the will of the fleshy, nor of the will of man, but of God,

14 And the Word was made fleshy, and dwelt among vs, (we saw the gloiy thereof, as the gloiy of the only begotten Sonne of the Father) full of grace and trueti.

15 Iohn bare witness of him, & cryed, saying, This was hee of whom I sayd, hee that cometh after mee, is preferred before me: for he was before me.

16 And of his fullnesse haue all we receiued, and grace for grace.

17 For the Law was giuen by Moses: but grace and trueti came by Iesus Christ.

18 No man hath seene God at any time: the only begotten Son, which is in the bosome of the Father, he hath declared him.

19 Then this is the record of Iohn, when the Iewes sent Priestes and Leuites from Ierusalem, to aske him, Who art thou?

20 And he confessed, and denied not, and sayd plainly, I am not the Christ.

21 And they asked him, What then? Art thou Elias? and he said, I am not. Art thou the Prophet? And he answered, No.

22 Then sayd they vnto him, Who art thou, that wee may giue an answer to them that sent vs? what sayest thou of thy selfe?

23 He sayd, I am the voice of him that crieth in the wilde-nesse, Make straight the way of y Lord, as sayd the Prophet Elias.

24 Now they which were sent, were of the Pharisees.

25 And they asked him, & said vnto him, Why baptizest thou then, if thou be not the Christ, neither Elias, nor the Prophet?

26 Iohn answered them, saying, I baptize with water: but there is one among you, whom ye know not.

27 He it is that cometh after me, which is preferred before me, whose shoe latchet I am not worthy to vnloose.

28 These things were done in Bethabara beyond Iordan, where Iohn did baptize.

29 The next day Iohn seeth Iesus coming vnto him, & saith, Behold the Lambe of God, which taketh away the sinne of the world.

30 This is he of whom I sayd, After me cometh a man, which is preferred before me: for he was before me.

31 And I knew him not: but because he should be declared to Israel, therefore am I come, baptizing with water.

32 So Iohn bare record, saying, I sawe the Spirit come downe from heauen, like a doue, and it abode vpon him.

33 And I knew him not: but he that sent me to baptize with water, he said vnto mee, Upon whom thou shalt see the Spirit come down, and tary still on him, that is he which baptizeth with the holy Ghost.

34 And I saw, and bare record, that this is the Sonne of God.

35 The next day, Iohn stood againe, and two of his disciples:

36 And he beheld Iesus walking by, and said, Behold the Lamb of God.

37 And y two disciples heard him speake, and followed Iesus.

38 Then Iesus turned about, and sawe them follow, and sayd vnto them, What seeke ye? And they sayd vnto him, Rabbi, (which is to say by interpretation, Master) where dwellest thou?

39 He said vnto them, Come & see. They came and saw where hee dwelt, and abode with him that day: for it was about the tenth house.

40 And ielwe, Simon Peters brother, was one of the two which had heard of Iohn, and that followed him.

46 Then Nathanael said vnto him, Can Philip said to him, Come and see.

47 Iesus sawe Nathanael comming to 48 Nathanael said vnto him, Whence knowest thou me? Iesus answered, and sayd vnto him, Before that Philip called thee, when thou wast vnder the figge tree, I saw thee.

49 Nathanael answered, and said vnto him, Rabbi, thou art the Sonne of God:
thou art the King of Israel.

50 Iesus answered, and sayd vnto him,
Because I sayd vnto thee, I saw thee vnder greater things then these.

51 And he sayd vnto him, Verely, verely

23 He conuerteth many, and distrusteth man.

At Cana a towne of Galile, and the mother of Iesus was there.

2 And Iesus was called also, and his disciples vnto the marriage.

3 Now when the wine failed, the mother of Iesus sayd vnto him, They haue no wine.

4 Iesus sayd vnto her, Woman, what haue I to doe with thee? mine houre is not yet come.

5 His mother sayde vnto the seruants,
Whatsoeuer he sayth vnto you, doe it.

6 And there were set there lixe water pots of stone after the maner of the * purifying of the Iewes, containing two or thre
* b. skins a peece.

7 And Iesus sayd vnto them, Fill the water pots with water, When they filled them vp to the brimme.

8 Then he sayd vnto them, Drawe out now, and beare vnto the * gouernour of the feast. So they bare it.

9 Now when the gouernour of the feast had tasted the water that was made wine, (for hee knew not whence it was: but the seruants which drew the water, knewe) the gouernour of the feast called the bidegrome.

10 And sayd vnto him, All men at the beginning set fourth good wine, and when men haue well drunke, then that which is worse: but thou hast kept backe the good wine: vntill now.

11 This beginning of * miracles did Jesus in Cana a towne of Galile, and shewed fourth his glory: and his disciples beleued on him.

12 After that hee went downe into Capernaum, he and his mother, and his brether, and his disciples: but they continued not many daies there.

13 For the Iewes Passouer was at hand.
Therefore Iesus went vp to Ierusalem.

14 * And hee found in the Temple those that sold open, and sheepe, and dones, & changers of money, sitting there.

15 Then he made a scourge of smal cords, and draue them all out of the Temple with the sheepe & oren, and powred out the changers money, and ouerthrew the tables,

16 And sayd vnto them that solde dones,
Take these things hence: make not my fathers house a house of merchandise.

17 And his disciples remembered, that it was written, * The * zeale of thine house hath eaten me vp.

18 Then answered the Iewes, and sayd vnto him, What I signe shewest thou vnto vs, that thou doest these things?

19 Iesus answered and said vnto them,
* Destroy this Temple, and in thre dayes
I will raise it vp againe.

20 Then sayd the Iewes, Forty and sixe yeres was this Temple a building, and wilt thou reare it vp in thre dayes?

21 But hee spake of the Temple of his body.

22 At noone therefore as he was risen from the dead, his disciples remembered that hee thus sayd vnto them: and they beleued the Scripture, and the word which Iesus had sayd.

23 Now when hee was at Ierusalem at the Passouer in the feast, many beleued in his name, when they saw his miracles which hee did.

24 But Iesus * did not commit himselfe vnto them, because hee knew them all,

25 And had no need that any should testi-

3 Jesus answered, and sayde vnto him, Verily, verily I say vnto thee, except a man be borne againe, hee cannot see the kingdom of God.
 4 Nicodemus said vnto him, How can a man be borne which is olde? can hee enter into his mothers wombe againe, and be borne?
 5 Jesus answered, Verily, verily I say vnto thee, except that a man be borne of water and of the Spirit, hee cannot enter into the kingdom of God.
 6 That which is borne of the flesh, is flesh: and that that is borne of the Spirit, is spirit.
 7 Maruaile not that I said to thee, Vee must be borne againe.
 8 The wind bloweth where it listeth, and thou hearest the sound thereof but canst not tell whence it cometh, and whither it goeth: so is every man that is borne of the Spirit.
 9 Nicodemus answered, and said vnto him, How can these things be?
 10 Jesus answered, and said vnto him, Art thou a teacher of Israel, and knowest not these things?
 11 Verily, verily I say vnto thee, wee speake that we know, and testifie that wee haue seene; but yee receive not our witness.
 12 If when I tell you earthly things, ye beleue not, how should ye beleue, if I shall tell you of heavenly things?
 13 For no man ascenderth vp to heauen, but he that hath descended from heauen, the Sonne of man which is in heauen.
 14 And as Moses lift vp the serpent in the wilderness, so must the Sonne of man be lift vp.
 15 That whofoeuer beleueth in him, should not perish, but haue eternall life.
 16 For God so loued the world, that he hath giuen his only begotten Sonne, that whofoeuer beleueth in him, should not perish, but haue euermouing life.
 17 For God sent not his Sonne into the world, that he should condemne the world, but that the world through him might be saved.
 18 Hee that beleueth in him, shall not be condemned: but hee that beleueth not, is condemned already, because he beleueth not in the Sonne of the only begotten Sonne of God.
 19 And this is the condemnation, that light is come into the world, and men loued darkenesse rather then light, because their deedes were euill.
 20 For every man that euill doeth, hateth the light, neither cometh to light, least his deedes should be reprobated.
 21 But hee that doeth truth, cometh to the light, that his deedes might be made manifest, that they are wrought according to God.

22 After these things came Jesus and his disciples into the land of Iudea, and there taried with them, and were baptized.
 23 And Iohn also baptized in Enon, besides Salim, because there was much water there: and they came, and were baptized.
 24 For Iohn was not yett cast into prison.
 25 Then there arose a question betwene Johns disciples and the Jewes, about purifying.
 26 And they came vnto Iohn, and said vnto him, Rabbi, hee that was with thee beyond Iordain, to whom thou barest witness, be baptizeth, and all men come to him.
 27 Iohn answered, and said, A man can receiue nothing, except it be giuen him from heauen.
 28 Ye vour selues are my witnesses, that I said, I am not the Christ, but that I am sent before him.
 29 Hee that hath the bride, is the bridegrome: but the friend of the bridegrome which standeth and heareth him, reioyseth greatly, because of the bridegromes voyce. This my ioy therefore is fulfilled.
 30 Yee must increase, but I must decrease.
 31 Ye that is come from on high, is aboue all: hee that is of the earth, is of the earth, and speaketh of the earth: hee that is come from heauen, is aboue all.
 32 And what hee hath seene and heard, that hee testifieth: but no man receiueth his testimony.
 33 Hee that hath refused his testimony, hath sealed that God is true.
 34 For he whom God hath sent, speaketh the words of God: for God giueth him not the Spirit by measure.
 35 The Father loueth the Sonne, and hath giuen all things into his hand.
 36 He that beleueth in the Sonne, hath euermouing life, and hee that obeyeth not the Sonne, shall not see life, but the wrath of God abideth on him.

8 For his disciples were gone away into the cite to buy meate.

9 Then said the woman of Samaria vnto him, How is it, that thou being a Jew alkeft drinke of me, which am a woman of a Samaria? For the Jewes medle not with the Samaritanes.

10 Iesus answered, and said vnto her, If thou knewest the gift of God, and who it is that sayth to thee, Giue mee drinke, thou wouldest haue asked of him, and hee would haue giuen thee life.

11 The woman said vnto him, Sir, thou hast nothing to drawe with, and the well is deepe: from whence then hast thou that water of life?

12 Art thou greater then our father Iacob, which gaue vs the well, and he himselfe dranke thereof, and his children, and his cattell?

13 Iesus answered, and sayde vnto her, Whosoener drinketh of this water, shall thirst againe:

14 But whosoener drinketh of the water that I shall giue him, shall neuer be more athirst: but the water that I shall giue him shall be in him a well of water, springing vp into euerlasting life.

15 The woman said vnto him, Sir, giue me of that water, that I may not thirst, neither come hither to draw.

16 Iesus said vnto her, See, call thine husband, and come hither.

17 The woman answered, and said, I haue no husband. Iesus said vnto her, Thou hast well said, I haue no husband.

18 For thou hast had five husbands, and hee whom thou now hast, is not thine husband: that saidest thou truely.

19 The woman said vnto him, Sir, I see that thou art a Prophet.

20 Our fathers worshipped in this mountaine, and yee say that in Ierusalem is the place where men ought to worship.

21 Iesus said vnto her, Woman, beleeu me, the houre commeth, when yee shall neither in this mountaine, nor at Ierusalem, worship the Father.

22 Ye worship that which ye know not: we worship that which we know: for saluation is of the Iewes.

23 But the houre commeth, and now is, when the true worshippers shall worship the Father in spirit, and truely: for the father requirerh euen such to worship him.

24 God is a Spirit, and they that worship him, must worship him in spirit and truely.

25 The woman said vnto him, I know well that Ihesus shall come, which is called Christ: when hee is come, he will tell vs all things.

26 Iesus said vnto her, I am hee that speake vnto thee.

27 And vpon that came his disciples, and marvelled that hee talked with a woman: yet no man said vnto him, What alkeft thou? or why talkest thou with her?

28 The woman then left her water pot, and went her way into the cite, and said to the men, 29 Come, see a man which hath told mee all things that euer I did: is not hee the Christ?

30 Then they went out of the cite, and came vnto him.

31 In the meane while, the disciples prayed him, saying, Master, rate.

32 But he said vnto them, I haue meate to eate, that ye know not of.

33 Then said the disciples between themselves, Vahy any man brought him meate?

34 Iesus said vnto them, My meate is that I may doe the will of him that sent me, and finish his worke.

35 Say not yet, There are yet foure moneths, and then commeth harvest: Behold, I say vnto you, lift vp your eyes, and looke on the regions: for they are white already vnto harvest.

36 And he that reapeth receiueth wages, and gathereth fruite vnto life eternall, that both hee that soweth, and hee that reapeth, might reioyce together.

37 For herein is the saying true, that one soweth, and another reapeth.

38 I sent you to reape that, whereon ye bestowed no labour: other men laboured, and ye are entered into their labours.

39 Nowe many of the Samaritanes of that cite beleued in him, for the laying of the woman which testified, Ye hath told me all things that euer I did.

40 Then when the Samaritanes were come vnto him, they besought him, that hee would tarry with them: and he abode there two dayes.

41 And many more beleued because of his owne word.

42 And they said vnto the woman, Now we beleue, not because of thy saying: for we haue heard him our selues, and knowe that this is in deede the Christ the Saviour of the world.

43 So two dayes after, hee departed thence, and went into Galile.

44 For Iesus himselfe had testified that a Prophet hath none honour in his owne country.

45 Then when hee was come into Galile, the Galileans receiued him, which had seene all the things that hee did at Ierusalem at the feast: for they went also vnto the feast.

46 And Iesus came againe into Cana a towne of Galile, where he had made of water wine. And there was a certaine ruler whose sonne was sicke at Capernaum.

47 When he heard that Iesus was come out of Iudaea into Galile, he went vnto him, and besought him that he would go downe, and heale his sonne: for hee was euen ready to die.

48 Then said Iesus vnto him, Except ye see signes and wonders, ye will not beleue.

49 The ruler said vnto him, Sir, goe downe before my sonne die.

50 Iesus said vnto him, See thy way, thy sonne liueth: and the man beleued the word that Iesus had spoken vnto him, and went his way.

After that, there was a feast of y Jewes, and Iesus went by to Ierusalem. 2 And there is at Ierusalem a place of the sheepe, a poole called in Hebrew Bethesda, having five porches:

3 In the which lay a great multitude of sicke folke, of blind, halt, and withered, waiting for the mouing of the water.

4 For an Angel went downe at a certaine season into the poole, and troubled the water: whosoever then first, after the stirring of the water, stepped in, was made whole of whatsoever disease hee had.

5 And a certaine man was there, which had bene diseased eight and thirtie yeeres:

6 When Iesus saw him lie, and knewe that hee now long time had bene diseased, he said vnto him, Wilt thou be made whole?

7 The sicke man answered him, Sir, I haue no man, when the water is troubled, to put mee into the poole: but while I am coming, another steppeth downe before mee.

8 Iesus said vnto him, Rise: take vp thy bed, and walke.

9 And immediately, the man was made whole, andooke by his bed, and walked: and the same day was the Sabbath.

10 The Jewes therefore said to him that was made whole, It is the Sabbath day: it is not lawfull for thee to carrie thy bed.

11 He answered them, Hee that made me whole, hee said vnto mee, Take vp thy bed, and walke.

12 Then asked they him, What man is that which said vnto thee, Take vp thy bed, and walke?

13 And hee that was healed, knewe not who it was: for Iesus had conueyed himselfe away from the multitude that was in that place.

14 And after that, Iesus found him in the Temple, and said vnto him, Behold, thou art made whole: a sinne no more, lest a worse thing come vnto thee.

15 The man departed, and tolde the Jewes that it was Iesus, which had made him whole.

16 And therefore the Jewes did persecute Iesus, and sought to slay him, because hee had done these things on the Sabbath day.

17 But Iesus answered them, My Father worketh hitherto, and I worke.

18 Therefore the Jewes sought the more to kill him: not onely because he had broken the Sabbath, but said also that God was his Father, and made himselfe equall with God.

19 Then answered Iesus, and said vnto them, Verily, verily I say vnto you, The sonne can doe nothing of himselfe, save that hee seeth the Father doe: for whatsoeuer things hee doeth, the same things doeth the Sonne alio.

20 For the Father loueth the Sonne, and sheweth him all things, whatsoeuer hee himselfe doeth, and hee will shew him greater workes then these, that yee should maruaile.

21 For likewise as the Father raiseth by the dead, and quickneth them, so the Sonne quickneth whom hee will.

22 For the Father iudgeth no man, but hath committed all iudgement vnto the Sonne, 23 Because that all men should honour the Sonne, as they honour the Father: hee that honoureth not the Sonne, the same honoureth not the Father which hath sent him.

24 Verily, verily I say vnto you, he that heareth my word, and beleueth in him that sent mee, hath euerlasting life, and shall not come into condemnation, but hath passed from death vnto life.

25 Verily, verily I say vnto you, The houre shall come, and now is, when the dead shall heare the voyce of the Sonne of God: and they that heare it, shall liue.

26 For as the Father hath life in himselfe, so likewise hath hee giuen to the Sonne to haue life in himselfe, 27 And hath giuen him power also to execute iudgement, in that hee is the sonne of man.

28 Maruaile not at this: for as the honore shall come in the which all that are in the graues, shall heare his voyce.

29 And they shall come forth, that haue done good, vnto the resurrection of life: but they that haue done euill, vnto the resurrection of condemnation.

30 I can doe nothing of mine owne selfe: as I heare, I iudge: and my iudgement is iust, because I seeke not mine owne will, but the will of the Father who hath sent mee.

31 If I should beare witnesse of my selfe, my witnesse were not true.

32 There is an other that beareth witnesse of mee, and I know that the witnesse, which he beareth of me, is true.

CHAP. VI.

10 Iesus feedeth the five thousand men with five loaves and two fishes. 15 He departeth away, that they should not make him King. 26 He reprooveth the fleshly hearers of his word. 51 The carnall are offended at him. 63 The flesh profiteth not.

After these things, Iesus went his way <sup>a</sup> over the sea of Galilee, or of <sup>b</sup> Tiberias.

2 And a great multitude followed him, because they saw his miracles, which he did on them that were diseased.

3 Then Iesus went up into a mountaine, and there he sate with his disciples.

4 Now the Passover, a * feast of the Jewes, was nere.

5 * Then Iesus lift up his eyes, and seeing that a great multitude came unto him, hee said unto Philip, Whence shall wee buy bread, that these might eat?

6 (And this he said to prove him: for hee himselfe knew what he would doe)

7 Philip answered him, * Two hundredth p. worth of bread is not sufficient for them, that every one of them may take a little.

8 Then said unto him one of his disciples, Andrew, Simon Peters brother, 9 There is a little boy here, which hath five barley loaves, and two fishes: but what are they among so many?

10 And Iesus said, Make the people sit down. (Now there was much grasse in that place.) Then the men sate downe in number about five thousand.

11 And Iesus took the bread and gave thanks, and gaue to the disciples, and the disciples to them that were set downe: and likewise of the fishes as much as they would 12 And when they were satisfied, he said unto his disciples, Gather up the broken meate which remaineth, that * nothing bee lost.

13 Then they gathered it together, and filled twelue baskets with the broken meate of the five barley loaves, which remained unto them that had eaten.

14 Then the men when they had seene the miracle that Iesus did, said, This is of a truer, the Prophet that should come into the world.

15 When Iesus therefore perceived that they would come, and take him to make him a King, hee departed againe into a mountaine himselfe alone.

16 ¶ When euen was now come, his disciples went downe unto the sea, 17 * And entred into a shippe, and went over the sea towards Capernaum: and now it was darke, and Iesus was not come to them.

18 And the sea arose with a great winde that blew.

19 And when they had rowed about five and twentie, or thirtie * furlongs, they saw Iesus walking on the sea, and drawing nere unto the ship: so they were afraid.

20 But he said unto them, It is I: be not afraid.

21 Then willingly they received him into the ship: and the ship was by and by at the land, whither they went.

22 ¶ The day following, the people which stood on the other side of the sea, saw that there was none other shippe there, save that one, wherinto his disciples were entred, and that Iesus went not with his disciples in the ship, but that his disciples were gone alone,

23 And that there came other ships from Tiberias nere unto the place where they ate the bread, after the Lord had given thanks.

24 Now when the people saw that Iesus was not there, neither his disciples, they also tooke shipping, and came to Capernaum, seeking for Iesus.

25 And when they had found him on the other side of the sea, they said unto him, Rabbi, when camest thou hither?

26 Iesus answered them, and said, Verily, verily I say unto you, ye seeke me not, because ye saw the miracles, but because ye ate of the loaves, and were filled.

27 Labour not for the meate which perisheth, but for the meate that endureth unto everlasting life, which the Sonne of man shall give unto you: for him hath * God the Father sealed.

28 Then said they unto him, What shall we doe, that wee might worke the * workes of God?

29 Iesus answered, and said unto them, * This is the worke of God, that ye beleeveth in him, whom he hath sent.

30 They said therefore unto him, What signe shewest thou then, that wee may see it, and beleeveth thee what dost thou worke?

39 And this is the Fathers will which hath sent me, that of all which he hath giuen me, I should lose nothing, but should raise it vp againe at the last day.

40 And this is the will of him that sent me, that every man which seeth the Sonne, and beleueth in him, should haue euertlasting life: and I will raise him vp at the last day.

41 The Iewes then murmured at him, because he sayd, I am the bread, which is come downe from heauen.

42 And they said, °Is not this Iesus the sonne of Ioseph, whose father and mother we know? how then saith he, I came downe from heauen?

43 Iesus then answered, and sayd vnto them, Murmure not among your selues.

48 I am the bread of life.

49 ° Your fathers did eate Manna in the wilderness, and are dead.

50 This is the bread, which cometh downe from heauen, that he which eateth of it should not die.

51 I am the ° liuing bread which came downe from heauen: if any man eate of this bread, hee shall liue for euer: and the bread that I will giue, is my flesh, which I will giue for the life of the world.

52 Then the Iewes strone among themselves, saying, How can this man giue vs his flesh to eate?

53 Then Iesus sayd vnto them, Verely, verely I say vnto you, Except yee eate the flesh of the Sonne of man, and drinke his blood, ye haue ° no life in you.

54 Whosoever ° eateth my flesh, & drinketh my blood, hath eternall life, and I will raise him vp at the last day.

55 For my flesh is meate in deed, and my blood is drunke in deede.

56 Hee ¶ that eateth my flesh, & drinketh my blood, ° dwelleth in me, and I in him.

57 As the liuing Father hath sent me, so liue I by the Father, and he that eateth mee, euer he shall liue by me.

58 This is the bread which came downe from heauen: not as your fathers haue eaten Manna, and are dead. He that eateth of this bread, shall liue for euer.

59 Thise things spake he in the Synagogue, as he taught in Capernaum.

60 Many therefore of his disciples (when they heard this) sayd, This is an hard saying: who can ° heare it?

61 But Iesus knowing in himselfe, that his disciples murmured at this, sayd vnto them, Doeth this offend you?

62 What then if yee should see the Sonne of man ascend vp? where he was before?

63 It is the Spirit that quickeneth: the flesh ° profiteth nothing: the words that I speake vnto you are spirit and life.

64 But there are some of you that beleue not: for Iesus knewe from the beginning, which they were that beleued not, and who should betray him.

65 And hee sayd, Therefore sayd I vnto you, that no man can come vnto mee, except it be giuen vnto him of my Father.

66 From that time, many of his disciples went backe, and walked no more with him.

67 Then sayd Iesus to the twelue, Will ye also goe away?

68 Then Simon Peter answered him, Master, to whom shall wee goe? Thou hast the words of ° eternall life?

69 And we beleue, and know that thou art ° the Christ, the sonne of the liuing God.

70 Iesus answered them, I haue not ° ° chosē you twelue, and one ° of you is a deuil?

8 Soe ye vp vnto this feast: I will not goe vp yet vnto this feast: for my time is not yet fulfilled.

9 These things hee sayd vnto them, and abode still in Galile.

10 But as soone as his brethren were gone vp, then went hee also vp vnto the feast, not openly, but as it were pynly.

11 Then the Iewes sought him at the feast, and sayd, Where is he?

12 And much murmuring was there of him among the people. Some sayd, He is a good man: other sayd, Nay, but he deceiveth the people.

13 Howbeit no man spake openly of him for feare of the Iewes.

14 Now when halfe the feast was done, Iesus went vp into the Temple & caught.

15 And the Iewes maruelled, saying, How knoweth this man the Scriptures, seeing that he neuer learned?

16 Iesus answered them, and sayd, My doctrine is not mine, but his that sent me.

17 If any man will doe his will, he shall know of the doctrine, whether it be of God, or whether I speake of my selfe.

18 He that speaketh of himselfe, seeketh his owne glory: but he that seeketh his glory that sent him, the same is true, and no vnrighteousnesse is in him.

19 Did not Moses giue you a Law, and yet none of you keepeth the Law? Why go ye about to kill me?

20 The people answered, and sayde, Thou hast a deuill: who goeth about to kill thee?

21 Iesus answered, and sayde to them, I haue done one worke, and yett all maruel.

22 Moses therefore gaue vnto you circumcision, (not because it is of Moses, but of the fathers) and ye on the Sabbath day circuncise a man.

23 If a man on the Sabbath receiue circumcision, that the Law of Moses should not be broken, be ye angry with mee, because I haue made a man euery whit whole on the Sabbath day?

24 Iudge not according to the appearance, but iudge righteous iudgement.

25 Then said some of them of Ierusalem, Is not this he, whom they goe about to kill?

26 And beholde, hee speaketh openly, and they say nothing to him: doe the rulers knowe it, decide that this is the deuy Christ?

27 Howbeit wee know this man whence he is: but when the Christ cometh, no man shall know whence he is.

28 Then cryed Iesus in the Temple as he taught, saying, Pee both know mee, and know whence I am: yet am I not come of my selfe, but he that sent me, is true, whom ye know not.

29 But I knowe him: for I am of him, and he hath sent me.

30 Then they sought to take him, but no man layd hands on him, because his houre was not yett come.

31 Now many of the people beleueed in him, and sayd, When the Christ cometh, will he do moe miracles then this man hath done?

32 The Pharises heard that the people murmured these things of him, & the Pharises and high Priestes sent officers to take him.

33 Then sayd Iesus vnto them, Yet am I a little while with you, and then goe I vnto him that sent me.

34 Ye shall seeke me, and shall not finde me, and where I am, can ye not come.

35 Then sayd the Iewes among themselves, Whither will he go, that we shall not finde him? Will he go vnto them that are dispersed among the Grecians, and teach the Grecians?

36 What saying is this that he sayd, Yet shall seeke me, and shall not finde me? where I am, can ye not come?

37 Now in the last and great day of the feast, Iesus stood and cryed, saying, If any man thirst, let him come vnto mee, and drinke.

38 He that beleueth in mee, as sayth the Scripture, out of his belly shall flow riuers of water of life.

39 This spake he of the Spirit, which they that beleueed in him, should receiue: for the Holy Ghost was not yett giuen, because that Iesus was not yett glorified.

40 So many of the people, when they heard this saying, sayd, Of a truth this is the Prophet.

41 Other said, This is the Christ: & some sayd, But shall Christ come out of Galile.

42 So sayth not the Scripture that the Christ shall come of the seede of Dauid, and out of the towne of Bethlehem, where Dauid was?

43 So was there dissension among the people for him.

44 And some of them would haue taken him, but no man layd hands on him.

45 Then came the officers to the high Priestes and Pharises, and they sayd vnto them, Why haue ye not brought him?

46 The officers answered, Neuer man spake like this man.

47 Then answered them the Pharises, Are ye also dectued?

48 Doeth any of the rulers, or of the Pharises beleue in him?

49 But this people which know not the Law, are curst.

And Iesus went vnto the mount of Olives,

2 And early in the morning came againe into the Temple, & all the people came vnto him, and he saide downe, and taught them.

3 Then the Scribes and the Pharises brought vnto him a woman, taken in adultery, and set her in the mids,

4 And saide vnto him, Master, this woman was taken in adultery, in the very act.

5 * Howe shouldest thou be stoned: what sayest thou thereto?

6 And this they sayd to tempt him, that they might haue whereof to accuse him. But Iesus stooped downe, and with his finger wroote on the ground.

7 And while they continued asking him, he list himselfe vp, and said vnto them, * Let him that is among you without sinne, cast the first stone at her.

8 And againe hee stooped downe, and wroote on the ground.

9 And when they heard it, being accused by their owne conscience, they went out one by one, beginning at the eldest euen to the last: so Iesus was left alone, and the woman standing in the mids.

10 When Iesus had list by himselfe againe, & saw no man, but the woman, he said vnto her, Woman, where are those thine accusers? hath no man condemned thee?

11 She said, No man, Lord. And Iesus sayd, * Neither do I condemne thee; go and sinne no more.

12 Then spake Iesus againe vnto them, saying, I am the light of the world: he that followeth me, shall not walke in darkenesse, but shall haue the light of life.

13 The Pharises therefore said vnto him, Thou bearest record of thy selfe: thy record is not true.

14 * Iesus answered, and said vnto them, * Though I beare record of my selfe, yet my record is true: for I knowe whence I came, & whither I go: but ye cannot tell whence I come, and whither I go.

15 Ye iudge after the flesh: I iudge no man.

16 And if I also iudge, my iudgement is true: for I am not alone, but I and the Father that sent me.

17 And it is also written in your Lawe,

* that the testimony of two men is true.

18 I am one that beare witness of my selfe, and the Father that sent me, beareth witness of me.

19 Then sayd they vnto him, Where is thy Father? Iesus answered, Ye neither knowe mee, nor my Father. If yee had knowne me, ye should haue knowne my Father also.

20 These words spake Iesus in the temple, as he taught in the Temple, and no man layd hands on him: for his houre was not yet come.

21 Then sayde Iesus againe vnto them, I goe my way, and ye shall seeke mee, and shall die in your sinnes. Whither I goe, can ye not come?

22 Then sayd the Jewes, Will hee kill himselfe, because hee saith, Whither I goe, can ye not come?

23 And he said vnto them, I be from beneath: I am from above: ye are of this world, I am not of this world.

24 I sayd therefore vnto you, That yee shall die in your sinnes: for except yee beleue, that I am hee, yee shall die in your sinnes.

25 Then sayd they vnto him, Who art thou? And Iesus said vnto them, Euen the same thing that I sayd vnto you from the beginning.

26 I haue many things to say, and to iudge of you: but he that sent me, is true, and the things that I haue heard of him, those speake I to the world.

27 They understood not that he spake to them of the Father.

28 Then said Iesus vnto them, When ye haue list vp the Sonne of man, then shall ye know that I am he, and that I do nothing of my selfe, but as my Father hath taught me, so I speake these things.

29 For he that sent mee, is with mee: the Father hath not left me alone, because I do alwayes those things that please him.

30 As he spake these things, many beleued in him.

31 Then said Iesus to the Jewes which beleued in him, If ye continue in my word, ye are verely my disciples, 32 And shall know the trueth, and the trueth shall make you free.

33 They answered him, We be the Abrahams seed, and were neuer bond to any man: why sayest thou then. Yee shall bee made free?

34 Iesus answered them, Verely, verely I say vnto you, that whosoever committeth sinne, is the seruant of sinne.

35 And the seruaunt abideth not in the houle for euer: but the Sonne abideth for euer.

36 If the Sonne therefore shall make you free, ye shall bee free indeede.

37 I know that ye are Abrahams seed, but ye seeke to kill me, because my word hath no place in you.

38 I speake that which I haue seene with my Father: and ye doe that which yee haue seene with your father.

39 They answered and sayde vnto him, Abraham is our father. Iesus sayde vnto them, 43 Why do ye not understand my talke? because ye cannot heare my word.

44 * Ye are of your father the deuil, and the lusts of your father ye will doe: hee hath bene a murderer from the beginning, and now abode not in the trueth, because there is no trueth in him. When he spakech a lie, then speaketh he of his own: for he is a liar, and the father thereof.

48 Then answered the Jewes, and sayd vnto him, Say we not well, that thou art a Samaritane, and hast a deuil?

50 And I seeke not mine own praiſe: but there is one that seeketh it, and y indgeth.

51 Merely, verely I say vnto you, If a man keepe my word, he shall neuer see death.

52 Then sayd the Jewes to him, Howe know we that thou hast a deuil. Abraham is dead, and the Prophets, and thou sayest, If a man keepe my word, he shall neuer taste of death.

53 Art thou greater then our father Abraham which is dead? And the Prophets are dead: whom makest thou thy selfe?

54 Iesus answered, If I honour my selfe, mine honour is nothing worth: it is my Father that honoureth me, whom ye say, that he is your God.

55 Yee yee haue not known him: but I know him, and if I should say I know him not, I should be a liar like vnto you: but I know him, and keepe his word.

56 Your father Abraham reioyced to see my day, and he saw it, and was glad.

57 Then said the Jewes vnto him, Thou art not yett five yeer old, and hast thou seene Abraham?

58 Iesus sayd vnto them, Merely, verely I say vnto you, before Abraham was, I am.

59 * Then rooke they vp stones to cast at him, but Iesus hid himselfe, and went out of the Temple.

CHAP. IX.

1 Of him that was borne blind. 11 The confession of him that was borne blind. 39 To what blind men Christ giveth sight.

A As Iesus passed by, hee saw a man which was blind from his birth.

2 And his disciples asked him, saying, Master, who did sinne, this man or his parents, that he was borne blinde?

3 Iesus answered, Neither hath this man sinned, nor his parents, but that the workes of God should be shewed on him.

4 I must worke the workes of him that sent mee, while it is day: the night cometh, when no man can worke.

5 As long as I am in the world, * I am the light of the world.

6 Alsoone as he had thus spoken, he spat on the ground, and made clay of the spittle, and anointed the eyes of the blinde with the clay.

7 And sayd vnto him, Goe wash in the pool of Siloam (which is by interpretation, Sent) He went his way therefore and washed, and came againe seeing.

8 Some of the neighbours and they that had seene him before, when hee was blinde, said, Is not this he that sate and begged?

9 Some sayde, this is hee: and others sayd, he is like him: but he himselfe sayd, I am he.

10 Therefore they sayd vnto him, How were thine eyes opened?

11 He answered, and said, The man that is called Iesus, made clay, and aneiynd mine eyes, and sayd vnto me, Go to the pool of Siloam, and wash. So I went and washed, and received sight.

12 Then they sayd vnto him, Where is he, he sayd, I cannot tell.

13 They brought to the Pharisees him that was once blinde.

14 And it was the Sabbath day, when Iesus made the claye, and opened his eyes.

15 Then againe the Pharisees also asked him, how he had receiued sight. And he said vnto them, He sayd claye vpon mine eyes, and I washed, and do see.

16 Then said some of the Pharisees, This man is not of God, because hee keepeth not the Sabbath day. Others sayde, how can a man that is a sinner, doe such miracles? and there was a dissention among them.

17 Then spake they vnto the blinde againe, What sayest thou of him, because hee hath opened thine eyes? And he sayd, He is a Prophet.

18 Then the Jewes did not beleeue him (that hee had bene blinde, and receiued his sight) vntill they had called the parents of him that had receiued sight.

19 And they asked them, saying, Is this your sonne, whom yee say was borne blinde? how doeth he now see them?

20 His parents answered them, and said, We know that this is our sonne, and that he was borne blind:

21 But by what means hee now seeth, wee knowe not: or who hath opened his eyes, we can wee not tell: he is old enough: alke him: hee shall answer for himselfe.

22 These words spake his parents, because a God doth not always punish men for their finnes, b When opportunite and the season serueth. Chap. 1. 9. and 8. 12. and 12. 35. c This was not for any vertue that was in the earth, in the spittle, or in the clay, to make one see: but it onely pleased him to vse these signes and rrecases. d Hereby was prefigured the Messias, who should bee sent vnto them.

cause they feared the Jewes: for the Jewes had obteneid already, that if any man did confesse that he was the Christ, he should be excommunicated out of the Synagogue.

23 Therefore said his parents, He is old ynough; alke him.

24 Then againe called they the man that had bene blind, and said vnto him, What gloz vn to God: we know that this man is a sinner.

25 Then hee answered, and sayd, Whether hee be a sinner or no, I cannot tell: one thing I know, that I was blinde, and now I see.

26 Then saide they to him againe, What did he to thee? how opened hee thine eyes?

27 He answered them, I haue tolde you already, and yee haue not heard it: wherefore would ye heare it againe? will yee also be his disciples?

28 Then checked they him, and said, We thou his disciples: We be Moses disciples.

29 We know that God spake with Moses; but this man we know not from whence he is.

30 The man answered, and sayd vnto them, Doubtles this is a maruelous thing, that ye know not whence he is, and yet hee hath opened mine eyes.

31 Now we know that God heareth not sinners: but if any man be a worshipper of God, and doeth his will, him heareth he.

32 Since the world began was it not heard that any man opened the eyes of one that was borne blind.

33 If this man were not of God, he could haue done nothing.

34 They answered, and said vnto him, Thou art altogether borne in sinnes, and doest thou teach vs? so they cast him out.

35 Iesus heere that they had cast him out, and when hee had found him, hee said vnto him, Dost thou beleue in the Sonne of God?

36 He answered, and said, Who is hee, Lord, that I might beleue in him?

37 And Iesus said vnto him, Both thou hast seene him, and he it is that talketh with thee.

38 Then he said, Lord, I beleue, and worshipped him.

39 And Iesus saide, I am come vnto iudgement into this worlde, that they which see not, might see: and that they which see, might be made blind, 40 And some of the Pharises which were with him heard these sayings, and said vnto him, Are we blind also?

41 Iesus said vnto them, If yee were blind, ye should not haue sin: but now yee say, We see: therefore your sinne remaineth.

4 And when he hath sent forth his owne sheepe, hee goeth before them, and the sheepe follow him: for they know his voyce.

5 And they will not follow a stranger, but they seee from him: for they know not the voyce of strangers.

6 This parable spake Iesus vnto them: but they vnderstood not what things they were which he spake vnto them.

7 Then said Iesus vnto them againe, Verely, verely I say vnto you, I am the doore of the sheepe.

8 All that euer came before mee, are theenes and robbers: but the sheepe did not heare them.

9 I am the doore: by mee if any man enter in, he shall be saued, and shall go in and go out, and finde pasture.

10 The thiefe cometh not, but for to steale, and to kill, and to destroy: I am come that they might haue life, and haue it in abundance.

11 I am the good shepheard: the good shepheard giueth his life for his sheepe.

12 But an hireling, and hee which is not the shepheard, neither the sheepe are his owne, seeth the wolfe coming, and hee leauech the sheepe, and fleeth, and the wolfe catcheth them, and scattereth the sheepe.

13 So the hireling fleeth, because hee is an hireling, and carech not for the sheepe.

14 I am the good shepheard, and know mine, and am known of mine.

15 As the father knoweth me, so know I the father: and I lay downe my life for my sheepe.

16 Other sheepe I haue also, which are not of this fold: them also must I bring, and they shall heare my voyce: and there shall be one sheepefold, and one shepheard.

17 Therefore doth my father loue me, because I lay downe my life, that I might take it againe.

18 No man taketh it from me, but I lay it downe of my selfe: I haue power to lay it downe, and haue power to take it againe: this commandement haue I receiued of my father.

3 Therefore his sisters sent vnto him, saying, Lord, behold, he whom thou louest, is sicke.

4 When Iesus heard it, hee sayd, This sickness is not vnto death, but for the glory of God, that the Sonne of God might bee glorified thereby.

5 Now Iesus loued Martha, and her sister, and Lazarus.

6 And after he had heard that hee was sicke, yet abode he two dayes til in the same place where he was.

7 Then after that, said hee to his Disciples, Let vs goe into Iudea againe.

8 The Disciples said vnto him, Master, the Iewes lately sought to stone thee, and dost thou goe thither againe?

9 Iesus answered, Are there not twelue houres in the day? if a man walke in the day he stumbleth not, because hee seeth the light of this world.

10 But if a man walke in the night, hee stumbleth, because there is no light in him.

11 These things spake hee, and after hee said vnto them, Our friend Lazarus sleepe: but I goe to wake him vp.

12 Then said his Disciples, Lord, if hee sleepe, he shall be safe.

13 Howbeit, Iesus spake of his death: but they thought that he had spoken of the naturall sleepe.

14 Then said Iesus vnto them plainly, Lazarus is dead.

15 And I am glad for your sakes, that I was not there: that ye may beleue: but let vs goe vnto him.

35 And Jeſus wept.

36 Then ſayd the Jewes, Behold, how he loued him.

37 And ſome of them ſaid, Could not he, which opened the eyes of the blinde, haue made alſo that this man ſhould not haue died?

38 Jeſus therefore againe groined in himſelfe, and came to the grave. And it was a cane, and a ſtone was layd vpon it.

39 Jeſus ſayd, Take yee away the ſtone. Martha the ſiſter of him that was dead, ſayd vnto him, Lord, he ſitteth already: for he hath bene dead foure dayes.

40 Jeſus ſayd vnto her, Sayd I not vnto thee, that if thou diddeſt belecue, thou ſhouldeſt ſee the glorie of God?

41 When they tooke away the ſtone from the place where the dead was laid. And Jeſus lift vp his eyes, and ſayd, Father, I thanke thee, becauſe thou haſt heard me.

42 I knowe that thou heareſt mee alwayes, but becauſe of the people that ſtand by, I ſayd it, that they may belecue, that thou haſt ſent me.

43 As hee had ſpoken theſe thinges, hee cryed with a loud voyce, Lazarus, come forth.

44 Then hee that was dead, came forth, bound hand and ſoothe with bandes, and his face was bound with a napkin. Jeſus ſayd vnto them, Loocke him, and let him goe.

45 When many of the Jewes which came to Mary, and had ſene the thynges, which Jeſus did, beleueed in him.

46 But ſome of them went their way to the Pharifees, and told them what thinges Jeſus had done.

47 When gathered the hie Prieſtes, and the Pharifees a council, and ſayd, What ſhall wee doe? For this man doeth many miracles.

48 If wee let him thus alone, all men will beleue in him, and the Romanes will come and take away both our place, and the nation.

49 Then one of them named Caiaphas, which was the hie Prieſt that ſame yere, ſayd vnto them, We perceiue nothing at all,

50 Now yet doe you conſider that it is expedient for vs, that one man die for the people, and that the whole nation periſh not.

51 This ſpake he not of himſelfe: but being hie Prieſt that ſame yere, he propheteed that Jeſus ſhould die for the nation:

52 And not for the nation only, but that hee ſhould gather together in one the children of God, which were ſcattered.

53 Then from that day forth they conſulted together to put him to death.

54 Jeſus therefore walked no more openly among the Jewes, but went thence vnto a country nere to the wilderneſſe, into a cite called Ephraim, and there continued with his diſciples.

55 And the Jewes Paſſeouer was at hand, and many went out of the country vnto Ieruſalem before the Paſſeouer, to purifie themſelues.

56 Then ſought they for Jeſus, & ſpake among themſelues, as they ſtoode in the Temple. What thinke ye, that he cometh not to the feaſt?

57 Now both the hie Prieſtes and the Pharifees had giuen a commandement, that if any man knew where he were, hee ſhould ſhew it, that they might take him.

Then Jeſus ſix dayes before the Paſſeouer, came to Bethania, where Lazarus was, which was dead, whom hee had raiſed from the dead.

2 There they made him a ſupper, and Martha ſerued: but Lazarus was one of them that ſate at the table with him.

3 Then tooke Mary a pound of oymnt of ſpikenard very coſly, and anoynted Jeſus feete, and wiped his feete with her haire, and the houſe was filled with the ſauiour of the oymnt.

4 Then layd one of his diſciples, euen Iudas Iſcariot Simons ſon, which ſhould betray him, 5 Why was not this oymnt ſold for three hundred pence, and giuen to the poore?

6 Now he ſayd this, not that hee cared for the poore, but becauſe hee was a thiefe, and had the bagge, and bare that which was giuen.

7 Then ſayd Jeſus, Let her alone: againſt the day of my burying ſhe kept it.

8 For the poore alwayes ye haue with you, but me ye ſhall not haue alwayes.

9 Then much people of the Jewes knew that hee was there: and they came, not for Jeſus ſake only, but that they might ſee Lazarus alſo, whom hee had rayfed from the dead.

10 The hie Prieſtes therefore conſulted, that they might pyn Lazarus to death alſo.

13 Tooke branches of palme trees, and went forth to meet him, and cried, Hosanna, Blessed is the King of Israel that cometh in the Name of the Lord.

14 And Iesus found a young asse, and sat thereon, as it is written, 15 * Fears not, daughter of Sion; beheld, thy King cometh sitting on an asses colt.

16 But his disciples understood not these things at the first: but when Iesus was glorified, then remembered they, that these things were written of him, and that they had done these things vnto him.

17 The people therefore that was with him, bare witness that hee called Lazarus out of the graue, and raysed him from the dead.

18 Therefore mette him the people also, because they heard that hee had done this miracle.

19 And the Pharises sayd among themselves, Verelieue ye how ye prouaile nothing? Behold, the world goeth after him.

20 Now there were certaine Greekes among them that came vp to worship at the feast.

21 And they came to Philip, which was of Bethsaida in Galilee, & desired him, saying, Sir, we would see Iesus.

22 Philip came and told Andrew: and againe Andrew and Philip told Iesus.

23 And Iesus answered them, saying, The hour is come, that the sonne of man must be glorified.

24 Verely, verely I say vnto you, except the wheate corne fall into the ground and die, it abideth alone; but if it die, it bringeth forth much fruit.

25 * He that so loueth his life, shall lose it, and hee that hateth his life in this world, shall keepe it vnto life eternall.

26 * If any man serue me, let him follow me: for where I am, there shall also my seruant be: and if any man serue me, him will my Father honour.

27 Now is my soule troubled, and what shall I say? Father, launcie mee from this houre: but therefore came I vnto this houre.

28 Father, glorifie thy Name. Then came there a voyce from heauen, saying, I both haue glorified it, and will glorifie it againe.

29 Then sayd the people that stood by and heard, that it was a thunder: others sayd, An Angel spake to him.

30 Iesus answered, and sayd, This voyce came not because of mee, but for your sakes.

31 Now is the iudgement of this world: now shall the prince of this world bee cast out.

32 * And k I, if I were lifted vp from the earth, will draw all men vnto me.

33 Now this sayd hee, signifying what death he should die.

34 The people answered him, We haue heard out of the Law, that the Christ bideth for ener: and how sayest thou, that the Sonne of man must be lifted vp? who is that Sonne of man?

35 Then Iesus said vnto them, Yet a little while is the light with you: walk while ye haue light, lest the darkenesse come vpon you: for he that walketh in the darke, knoweth not whither he goeth.

36 While ye haue light, beleeue in the light, that ye may see the children of the light. These things saide Iesus, and departed, and hid himselfe from them.

37 And though hee had done so many miracles before them, yet beleeued they not on him:

38 That the saying of Elaias the Prophet might be fulfilled, that he sayd, * Lord, who beleeueth in our report? and to whom is the name of the Lord recited?

39 Therefore could they not beleeue, because that Elaias saith againe, 40 * He hath blinded their eyes, and hardened their heart, that they should not see with their eyes, nor vnderstand with their heart, and should be conuerted, and I should blyte them.

41 These things sayd Elaias when hee saw his glory, and spake of him.

42 Neuertheless euen among the chiefe rulers many beleeued in him: but because of the Pharises, they did not confesse him, lest they should be cast out of the Synagogue.

43 * For they loued the prayer of men, more then the praye of God.

44 And Iesus cryed, and sayd, Hee that beleeueth in me, beleeueth not in mee, but in him that sent me.

45 And he that seeth mee, seeth him that sent me.

46 * I am come a light into the world, that whosoener beleeueth in me, should not abide in darkenesse.

47 * And if any man heare my wordes, and beleeue not, I will iudge him not: for I came not to iudge the world, but to saue the world.

48 He that refuseth me, and receiveth not my wordes, hath one that iudgeth him: * the word that I haue spoken, it shall iudge him in the last day.

49 For I haue not spoken of my selfe: but the father, which sent me, he gaue me a commandement what I should say, and what I should spake.

50 And I know that his commandement is life everlasting: the things therefore that I speake, I speake them so as the father sayd vnto me.

b Which was the eating of the Pasche.

2 And when supper was done, (as that the deuil had now put in the heart of Judas Iscariot, Simons sonne to betray him.)

3 Jesus knowing that the father had giuen all things into his hands, and that he was come from God, and went to God,

4 Hee riseth from supper, and layeth aside his upper garments, and tooke a towell, and girded himselfe.

5 After that, he powred water into a bason and began to wash the disciples feet, and to wipe them with the towell wherewith he was girded.

6 Then came he to Simon Peter, who said to him, Lord, dost thou waly my feet?

7 Jesus answered and sayd vnto him, What I doe, thou knowest not now: but thou shalt know it hereafter.

8 Peter sayd vnto him, Thou shalt neuer wash my feete. Jesus answered him, If I wash thee not, thou shalt haue no part with me.

9 Simon Peter sayd vnto him, Lord, nor my feete onely, but also the handes, and the head.

10 Jesus said to him, Hee that is washed, needeth not, saue to wash his feete, but is cleane enuyr whir: and ye are cleane, but not all.

11 For hee knowe who should betray him: therefore sayd he, Ye are not all cleane.

12 So after he had washed their feete, and had taken his garments, and was set downe againe, he sayd vnto them, Know ye what I haue done to you?

13 Ye call me Master, and Lord, and ye say well: for so am I.

14 If I then your Lord, and Master, haue washed your feete, ye also ought to waly one anothers feete.

15 For I haue giuen you an example, that ye should doe, euen as I haue done to you.

16 Certely, verely I say vnto you, * The seruant is not greater then his maister, neither the ambassadour greater then hee that sent him.

17 If ye know these things, blessed are ye, if ye do them.

18 If I speake not of you all: I knowe whom I haue chosen: but it is that the scripture might be fulfilled, * Hee that careth bread with mee, hath I life by his heele against me.

19 From henceforth tell I you before it come, that when it is come to passe, ye might beleuee that I am soe.

20 * Certely, verely I say vnto you, If I send any, hee that receiueth him, receiueth me, and hee that receiueth me, receiueth him that sent mee.

21 When Jesus had sayd these things, he was troubled in the spirit, and testified, and sayde, Certely, verely I say vnto you, that one of you shall betray me.

22 * Then the disciples looked one on another, doubting of whom he spake.

23 Now there was one of his disciples, which leaned on Jesus bosome, whom Jesus loued.

24 To him beckened therefore Simon Peter, that hee should aske who it was of whom he spake.

25 He then, as hee leaned on Jesus backe, sayd vnto him, Lord, who is it?

26 Jesus answered, Hee it is, to whom I shall giue a sopp, when I haue dipped it: and he wet a sopp, and gaue it to Judas Iscariot, Simons sonne.

27 And after the sopp, Satan entred into him. Then said Jesus vnto him, That thou doest, doe quickly.

28 But none of them that were at table, knew for what cause he spake it vnto him.

29 For some of them thought because Judas had the bagge, that Jesus had said vnto him, Buy those things that we haue need of against the feast: or that hee should giue some thing to the poore.

30 Aftoone then as hee had received the sopp, he went immediatly out, and it was night.

31 When he was gone out, Jesus said, Now is the sonne of man glorified, and God is glorified in him.

32 If God be glorified in him, God shall also glorifie him in himselfe, & shall straightway glorifie him.

33 Little children, yet a little while am I with you: ye shall seeke mee, but as I sayd vnto the * Jewes, Whether I goe, can ye not come: also to you say I now, 34 * A new commandment giue I vnto you, that ye loue one another: as I haue loued you, that ye also loue one another.

35 By this shall all men know that ye are my disciples, if ye haue loue one to another.

36 Simon Peter sayd vnto him, Lord, whither goest thou? Jesus answered him, Whether I goe, thou canst not follow mee now: but thou shalt follow me afterwards.

37 Peter sayd vnto him, Lord, why can I not follow thee now? * I will lay downe my life for thy sake.

38 Jesus answered him, Wilt thou lay downe thy life for my sake? Certely, verely I say vnto thee, The cocke shall not crow, till thou haue denyed me thrise.

6 If a man abide not in mee, hee is cast forth as a branch, and withereth: and men gather them, and cast them into the fire, and they burne.

7 If ye abide in me, and my wordes abide in you, aske what yee will, and it shall be done to you.

8 Herein is my Father glorified, that ye beare much fruit, and be made my disciples.

CHAP. XVI.

2 Hee putteth them in remembrance of the crosse, and of their owne infirmitie to come, 7 And therefore doth comfort them with the promise of the holy Ghost. 16 Of his coming againe of Christ. 17 Of his ascension. 23 To aske in the Name of Christ. 33 Peace in Christ, and in the world affliction.

These things haue I sayd vnto you, that ye should not be offended.

2 They that communicate you: yea, the time shall come, that whosoever killeth you, will thinke that he doeth Gods seruice.

3 And these things will they doe vnto you, because they haue not knownen the Father, nor me.

4 But these things haue I told you, that when the houre shall come, ye might remember that I told you them. And these things I sayd I not vnto you from the beginning, because I was with you.

5 But now I goe my way to him that sent me, and none of you asketh mee, * Whither goest thou?

6 But because I haue sayd these things vnto you, your hearts are full of sorrow.

7 Yet I tell you the truth, it is expedient: for you that I see away: for if I goe not away, the Comforter will not come vnto you: but if I depart, I will send him vnto you.

8 And when he is come, he wil reprove the world of sinne, and of righteousness, and of iudgement:

9 Of sinne, because they beleue not in me:

10 Of righteousness, because I goe to my Father, and ye shall see me no more.

11 Of iudgement, because the prince of this world is iudged.

12 I haue yet many things to say vnto you, but ye cannot bære them now.

13 Howbeit, when hee is come which is the Spirit of truth, hee will lead you into all truth: for hee shall not speake of himselfe, but what soeuer hee shall heare, shall hee speake, and hee will shew you the things to come.

14 He shall glorifie me: for he shall receiue of mine, and shall shew it vnto you.

15 All things that the Father hath, are mine: theretore sayd I, that he shall take of mine, and shew it vnto you.

16 A little while, and ye shall not see me: and againe a little while, and ye shall see me: for I goe to my Father.

17 Then said some of his disciples among themselves, What is this that he saith vnto vs, A little while, and ye shall not see me, and againe, A little while, and ye shall see me, and for I goe to my Father?

18 They sayd therfore, What is this that he sayth, A little while? wee know not what he sayth.

19 Now Iesus knewe that they would aske him, and said vnto them, Do ye enquire among your selues of that I sayd, A little while, and yee shall not see me: and againe a little while, and ye shall see me?

20 Verely, verely I say vnto you, that ye shall weep and lament, and the world shall reioyce: and ye shall sorrow, but your sorrow shall be turned to ioy.

21 A woman when shee travaileth, hath sorrow, because her houre is come: but as soone as she is deliuered of the childe, the remembrance no more the anguish, for ioy that a man is borne into the world.

22 And ye now therfore are in sorrow: but I will see you againe, and your hearts shall reioyce, and your ioy shall no man take from you.

23 And in that day shall ye aske me nothing. Verely, verely I say vnto you, whatsoeuer ye shall aske the Father in my Name, he will giue it you.

24 Hitherto haue ye asked nothing in my Name: aske, & ye shall receiue, that your ioy may be full.

God: for the Apostles knew not that, till after the resurrection, Mine absence shall not be long: for I will send you the holy Ghost, who shall remaine with you for euer. I From death I passe to glory, and so I will endue you with mine heavenly vertue. 25 These things haue I spoken vnto you in parabes: but the time will come, when I shall no more speake to you in parabes: but I shall shew you plainly of the Father.

26 At that day shall ye aske in my Name, and I say not vnto you, that I will pray vnto the Father for you.

27 For the Father himselfe loueth you, because ye haue loued mee, and haue beleued that I came out from God.

28 I am come out from the Father, and came into the world: againe I leaue the world, and goe to the Father.

29 His disciples sayd vnto him, Loe, now speakest thou plainly, and thou speakest no parable.

30 Now know we that thou knowest all things, and needest not that any man should alke thee. By this we beleue that thou art come out from God.

31 Iesus answered them, Do you beleue now?

32 * Behold, the houre commeth, and is already come, that ye shall be scattered euery man into his owne, and that leaue me alone: but I am not alone: for the Father is with me.

33 These things haue I spoken vnto you, that if in mee ye might haue peace, in the world ye shall haue affliction, but be of good comfort: I haue overcome the world.

CHAP. XVII.

1 The prayer of Christ vnto his Father, both for himselfe and his Apostles, and also for all such as receive the truth.

These things spake Iesus, and lift by his eyes to heauen, and sayd, Father, the houre is come: glorifie thy Sonne, that thy Sonne also may glorifie thee,

2 * As thou hast giuen him a powre ouer all flesh, that hee should giue eternal life to all them that thou hast giuen him.

3 And this is life eternal, that they know thee to be the onely very God, & whom thou hast sent, Iesus Christ.

4 I haue glorified thee on the earth: I haue finished the worke which thou gauest me to doe.

5 And nowe glorifie mee, thou Father, with thine owne selfe, with the glory which I had with thee before the world was.

6 I haue declared thy Name vnto the men which thou gauest me out of the world: & thine they were, and thou gauest them me, and they haue kept thy word.

7 Now they know that all things whatsoever thou hast giuen me, are of thee.

8 For I haue giuen vnto them the words which thou gauest me, and they haue receiued them, and haue knowne surely that I came out from thee, and haue beleued that thou hast sent me.

9 I pray for them: I pray not for the world, but for them which thou hast giuen me: for they are thine.

10 And all mine are thine, and thine are mine, and I am glorified in them.

11 And now am I no more in the world, but these are in the world, & I come to thee. Holy Father, keepe them in thy Name, euen them whom thou hast giuen mee, that they may be one, as we are,

12 While I was with them in the world, I kept them in thy name: those that thou gauest me, haue I kept, and none of them is lost, but he that is childe of perdition, that the Scripture might be fulfilled.

13 And nowe come I to thee, and these things I speake I in thy world, that they might haue my ioy fulfilled in themselves.

14 I haue giuen them thy word, and the worlde hath hated them, because they are not of the world, as I am not of the world.

15 I pray not that thou shouldst take them out of the world, but that thou keepest them from euill.

16 They are not of the world, as I am not of the world.

17 * Sanctifie them with thy truth; thy word is truth.

18 As thou didst send me into the world, so haue I sent them into the world.

19 And I pray for them, because I myselfe, that they also may be sanctified through thy truth.

20 I pray not for these alone, but for them also which shall beleue in me through their word, 21 That they all may bee one, as thou, O Father, art in mee, and I in thee: euen that they may be all one in vs, that the world may beleue that thou hast sent me.

22 And the glory that thou gauest mee, I haue giuen them, that they may be one, as we are one,

23 I in them, and thou in mee, that they may be made perfect in one, & that the world may know that thou hast sent me, and hast loued them as thou hast loued me.

24 * Father, I will that they which thou hast giuen me, bee with me euen where I am, that they may behold my glory, which thou hast giuen mee: for thou louedst me before the foundation of the world.

25 O righteous Father, the worlde also hath not knownen thee, but I haue knownen thee, and these haue knownen that thou hast sent me.

26 And I haue declared vnto them thy Name, and will declare it, that the loue wherewith thou hast loued mee, may bee in them, and I in thee.

4 Then Jesus knowing all things that should come unto him, went forth and laid vnto them, Whom seeke ye?

5 They answered him, Jesus of Nazareth. Jesus said vnto them, I am hee. Now Judas also which betrayed him, stood with them.

6 Almoone then as he had said vnto them, I am hee, they went backwards, and fell to the ground.

7 Then hee asked them againe, Whom seeke ye? And they said, Jesus of Nazareth.

8 Jesus answered, I said vnto you, that I am hee: therefore if ye seeke me, let these goe their way.

9 This was that the word might be fulfilled which hee spake. * Of them which thou gauest mee, haue I lost none.

10 Then Simon Peter hauing a sword, drew it, and smote the high Priestes seruant, and cut off his right eare. Now the seruants name was Malchus.

11 Then said Jesus vnto Peter. Put thy sword into the sheath: shall I not drinke of the cup which my Father hath giuen me?

12 Then the band and the captaine, and the officers of the Jewes tooke Jesus, and bound him,

13 And ledde him away to * Annas first (for hee was father in lawe to Caiaphas, which was the high Priest: the same yeere)

14 * And Caiaphas was hee that gaue counsell to the Jewes, that it was expedient that one man should die for the people.

15 ¶ Now Simon Peter followed Jesus, and an other discipule, and that discipule was knowne of the high Priest: therefore hee went in with Jesus into the hall of the high Priest.

16 But Peter stoode at the doore without. Then went out the other discipule, which was knowne vnto the high Priest, and spake to her that kept the doore, and brought in Peter.

17 Then said the maide that kept the doore vnto Peter, Art not thou also one of this mans disciples? he said, I am not.

18 And the seruants and officers stoode there, which had made a fire of coales: for it was colde, and they warmed themselves. And Peter also stood among them, and warmed himselfe.

19 ¶ The high Priest then asked Jesus of his disciples, and of his doctrine.

20 Jesus answered him, I spake openly to the world: I neuer taught in the Synagogue and in the Temple, whither the Jewes resort continually, and in secret haue I said nothing.

21 Why askest thou me? aske them which heard mee what I said vnto them: behold, they know what I said.

22 When he had spoken these things, one of the officers which stood by, smote Jesus with his rod, saying, Answerest thou the high Priest so?

23 Jesus answered him, If I haue euill spoken, beare witness of the euill: but if I haue well spoken, why smitest thou mee?

24 ¶ Now Annas had sent him bound vnto Caiaphas the high Priest.

25 * And Simon Peter stood and warmed himselfe, and they said vnto him, Art not thou also of his disciples? Hee denied it and said, I am not.

26 One of the seruants of the high Priest, his cousin, whose eare Peter smote off, said, Did not I see thee in the garden with him?

27 Peter then denied againe, and immediately the cocke crew.

28 ¶ Then led they Jesus from Caiaphas into the common hall. Nowe it was morning, and they themselves went not into the common hall, lest they should bee defiled, but that they might eate the Passouer.

29 Pilate then went out vnto them, and said, What accusation bring ye against this man?

30 They answered, and said vnto him, If he were not an euill doer, we would not haue deliuered him vnto thee.

31 Then said Pilate vnto them, Take hee ye him, and iudge him after your owne Law. Then the Jewes said vnto him, It is not lawfull for vs to put any man to death.

32 It was that the word of Jesus * might be fulfilled which hee spake, signifying what death he should die.

33 * So Pilate entered into the common hall againe, and called Jesus, and said vnto him, Art thou the king of the Jewes?

34 Jesus answered him, Sayest thou that of thy selfe, or did other tell it thee of me?

35 Pilate answered, Am I a Jewe? Thine owne nation, and the high Priestes haue deliuered thee vnto mee. What hast thou done?

36 Jesus answered, My kingdome is not of this world: if my kingdome were of this world, my seruants would surely fight, that I should not bee deliuered to the Jewes: but now is my kingdome not from hence.

37 Pilate then said vnto him, Art thou a King then? Jesus answered, Thou sayest that I am a King: for this cause am I borne, and for this came I into the world, that I should beare witness vnto the truth: every one that is of the truth, heareth my voice.

38 Pilate said vnto him, What is truth? and when hee had said that, hee went out againe vnto the Jewes, and said vnto them, I finde in him no cause at all.

39 * But you haue an custome, that I should deliuer you one looke at the Passouer: will you then that I loose vnto you the King of the Jewes?

40 * Then cried they all againe, saying, Not him, but Barabbas: now this Barabbas was a murthrer.

Then Pilate tooke Iesus and scourged

2 And the souldiers platted a crowne of thornes, and put it on his head, and they put on him a purple garment,

3 And said, waile, King of the Iewes.
And they smote him with their rods.

4 Then Pilate went forth againe, and said vnto them, Behold, I bring him forth to you, that yee may knowe, that I finde no fault in him at all.

5 Then came Iesus forth wearing a crowne of thornes, and a purple garment.
And Pilate said vnto them, Behold the man.

6 Then when the high Priestes and officers saw him, they cried, saying, Crucifie, crucifie him. Pilate said vnto them, Take ye him, and crucifie him: for I finde no fault in him.

7 The Iewes answered him, Wee haue a lawe, and by our lawe hee ought to die, because hee made himselfe the Sonne of God.

8 When Pilate then heard that word, he was the more afraid,

9 And went againe into the common hall, and laid vnto Iesus, Whence art thou?
But Iesus gaue him none answer.

10 Then said Pilate vnto him, Spea-kest thou not vnto mee? knowest thou not that I haue power to crucifie thee, and haue power to loose thee?

11 Iesus answered, Thou couldest haue no power at all against mee, except it were given thee from above: therefore hee that deliuered mee vnto thee, hath the greater sinne.

12 From thencefoorth Pilate sought to loose him, but the Iewes cried, saying, If thou deliuer him, thou art not Celsars friend:
for whosoever maketh himselfe a King, speaketh against Celsar.

13 When Pilate heard that word, hee brought Iesus forth, and set downe in the iudgement seate in a place called the Panement, and in Hebrew, Sabbatha.

14 And it was the preparation of the Passouer, and about the sixth houre: and hee sayde vnto the Iewes, Behold your King.

15 But they cried, Away with him, away with him, crucifie him. Pilate sayde vnto them, Shall I crucifie your King? The high Priests answered, Wee haue no King but Celsar.

16 Then deliuered hee him vnto them to be crucified. And they tooke Iesus and led him away.

17 And he bare his crosse, and came into a place named of dead mens skulles, which is called in Hebrew, Golgotha:

18 Where they crucified him, and two other with him, on either side one, and Iesus in the midst.

19 And Pilate wrote also a title, and put it on the crosse, and it was written, I-E-S-V-S OF NAZARETH THE KING OF THE IEWES.

20 This title they read many of the Iewes: for the place where Iesus was crucified was here to the cite, and it was written in Hebrew, Greeke, and Latin.

21 Then said the high Priestes of the Iewes to Pilate, Write not, The King of the Iewes, but that hee said, I am King of the Iewes.

22 Pilate answered, What I haue written, I haue written.

23 Then the souldiers, when they had crucified Iesus, tooke his garments, and made foure parts, to euery souldier a part, and his coate, and the coate was without seame, wouen from the toppe thoroout.

24 Therefore they said one to another,
Let vs not diuide it, but cast lots for it, whose it shall be. This was that the scripture might be fulfilled, which saith, They parted my garments among them, and on my coat did cast lots. So the souldiers did these things indeed.

25 Then stood by the crosse of Iesus his mother, and his mothers siter, Marie the wife of Cleophas, and Marie Magdalene.

26 And when Iesus saw his mother, and the disciple standing by, whom hee loued, hee said vnto his mocher, Woman, behold thy sonne.

27 Then said hee to the disciple, Behold thy mother: and from that houre the disciple tooke her home vnto him.

28 After, when Iesus knewe that all things were performed, that the scripture might be fulfilled, he said, I thirst.

29 And there was set a vessel full of vineger: and they filled a sponge with vine-ger, and put it about an hyssope stalke, and put it to his mouth.

30 Now when Iesus had received of the vineger, he said, It is finished, and bowed his head, and gaue up the ghost.

31 The Iewes then (because it was the Preparation, that the bodies should not re-maine vpon the crosse on the Sabbath day:
for that Sabbath was an high day) besought Pilate that their legs might be broken, and that they might be taken downe.

32 Then came the souldiers, and brake the legs of the first, and of the other, which was crucified with Iesus.

33 But when they came to Iesus, and saw that hee was dead already, they brake not his legs.

34 But one of the souldiers with a speare pierced his side, and forthwith came there out blood and water.

35 And hee that saw it, haue record, and his record is true: and hee knoweth that hee saith true, that yee might beleue it.

36 For these things were done, that the scripture should be fulfilled, Not a bone of him shall be broken.

37 And againe an other scripture saith, thrust mathea, (who was a Disciple of Iesus, but secretly for feare of the Jewes) besought Pilate that he might take downe the body of Iesus. And Pilate gave him licence. Hee came then and tooke Iesus body.

39 And there came * also Nicodemus (which first came to Iesus by night) and brought of myrthe and aloes mingled together about an hundred pound.

40 ¶ Then tooke they the body of Iesus, and wrapped it in linnen clothes with the odours, as the maner of the Jewes is to burie.

41 And in that place where Iesus was crucified, was a garden, and in the garden a new sepulchre, wherein was neuer man yet of the Jewes Preparation day, for the sepulchre was nere.

NOW * the first day of the weeke came Marie Magdalene, early when it was yet darke, vnto the sepulchre, and sawe the stone taken away from the tombe.

2 Then shee ranne, and came to Simon
 Peter, and to the other disciple, whom Ie-sus loued, and said vnto them, They haue taken away the Lord out of the sepulchre, and wee knowe not where they haue laide
 him.

3 Peter therefore went forth, and the other Disciple, and they came vnto the sepulchre.

4 So they ran both together, but the other Disciple did outrun Peter, and came first to the sepulchre.

5 And hee stooped downe, and sawe the linnen clothes lying: yet went hee not in.

6 Then came Simon Peter following him, and went into the Sepulchre, and sawe
 the linnen clothes lie,

7 And the kerchiefe that was vpon his head, not lying wiche the linnen clothes, but wrapped together in a place by it selfe.

8 Then went in also the other discipule, which came first to the sepulchre, and he saw it, and beleeued.

9 For as yet they knewe not the Scripture, that he must rise againe from the dead.
 10 And the Disciples went away againe vnto their owne home.

11 ¶ * But Marie stode without at the sepulchre weeping: and as shee wept, shee bowed her selfe into the sepulchre,

12 And saw two Angels in white, sitting, the one at the head, and the other at the feet,
 where the body of Iesus had layen.

13 And they said vnto her, Woman, why weepest thou? Shee said vnto them, They haue taken away my Lord, and I knowe not where they haue layd him.

14 ¶ When shee had thus said, shee turned her selfe backe, and saw Iesus standing, and knewe not that it was Iesus.

15 Iesus saith vnto her, Woman, why weepest thou? whom seekest thou? Shee supposing that hee had bene the gardiner, said vnto him, Sir, if thou hast borne him hence, tell me where thou hast layd him, and I will take him away.

16 Iesus saith vnto her, Marie. Shee turned her selfe, and said vnto him, Rabboni, which is to say, Master.

17 Iesus saith vnto her, Touch me not, for I am not yet ascended to my Father,
 but goe to my brethren, and say vnto them,
 I ascend vnto my Father, and to your Father, and to my God, and your God.

18 Marie Magdalene came and told the Disciples, that shee had seene the Lord, and that he had spoken these things vnto her.

19 ¶ The same day then at night, which was the first day of the weeke, and when the doores were shut where the Disciples were assembled for feare of the Jewes, came Jesus and stood in the midst, and said to them,
 Peace be vnto you.

20 And when hee had so said, hee shewed vnto them his hands, and his side. Then were the disciples glad, when they had seene the Lord.

21 Then said Iesus vnto them againe,
 Peace be vnto you: as my Father sent mee,
 so send I you.

22 And when hee had said that, he breathed on them, and said vnto them, Receive the holy Ghost.

23 * Whosoever sinnes yee remit, they are remitted vnto them: and whosoever sinnes yee retaine, they are retained.

24 ¶ But Thomas one of the twelue, called Didymus, was not with them when Iesus came.

25 The other disciples therefore said vnto him, We haue seene the Lord: but hee said vnto them, Except I see in his hands the print of the nayles, and put my finger into the print of the nayles, and put mine hand into his side, I will not beleene it.

26 ¶ And eight dayes after, againe his Disciples were within, and Thomas with them. Then came Iesus when the doores were shut, and stode in the midst, and said,
 Peace be vnto you.

27 After, said hee to Thomas, Put thy finger here, and see my hands, and put forth thine hand and put it into my side, and bee not faithlesse but faithfull.

28 Then Thomas answered, and said vnto him, Thou art my Lord, and my God.

29 Iesus said vnto him, Thomas, because thou hast seene mee, thou beleuest: blessed are they that haue * not seene, and haue beleeued.

30 ¶ * And many other signes also did Iesus in the presence of his Disciples, which are not written in this booke.

31 But these things are written, that yee might beleene, that Iesus is the Christ the Sonne of GOD, and that in beleeu-ing yee might haue life through his Name.

1 Christ appeareth to his disciples againe. 15 He commandeth Peter earnestly to feede his sheepe. 18 He forewarneth him of his death. 25 Of Christs manifold miracles.

10r, lake of Genesareth.

After these things, Iesus shewed himselfe againe to his disciples at the Sea of Tiberias: and thus shewed he himselfe.

2 There were together Simon Peter, and Thomas which is called Didymus, and Nathanael of Cana in Galilee, and the sonnes of Zebedee, and two other of his disciples.

3 Simon Peter said vnto them, I goe a fishing. They said vnto him, Wee also will go with thee. They went their way, and entered into a ship straightway, and that night caught they nothing.

4 But when the morning was now come, Iesus stood on the shore: neuertheless the disciples knew not that it was Iesus.

5 Iesus then said vnto them, Sirs, haue ye any meate? They answered him, No.

6 Then he said vnto them, Cast out the net on the right side of the ship, and ye shall finde. So they cast out, and they were not able at all to draw it for the multitude of fishes.

7 Therefore said the disciple whom Iesus loued vnto Peter, It is the Lord. When Simon Peter heard that it was the Lord, he girded his coat to him (for he was naked) and cast himselfe into the sea.

8 But the other disciples came by ship (for they were not far from land, but about two hundred cubits) and they drew the net with fishes.

9 As soone then as they were come to land, they laid hot coales, and fish laid thereon, and bread.

10 Iesus said vnto them, Bring of the fishes, which ye haue now caught.

11 Simon Peter stepped forth and drew the net to land full of great fishes, an hundred threescore and thre: and albeit there were so many, yet was not the net broken.

12 Iesus said vnto them, Come, and dine. And none of the disciples durst aske him, Who art thou, seeing they knew that he was the Lord.

13 Iesus then came, and tooke bread, and gaue them, and fish likewise.

14 This is now the third time that Ie-sus shewed himselfe to his disciples, after that he was risen againe from the dead.

15 So when they had dined, Iesus said to Simon Peter, Simon the sonne of Iona, louest thou me more then these? He said vnto him, Yea Lord, thou knowest that I loue thee. Hee sayde vnto him, Feede my lambs.

16 He said to him againe the second time, Simon the sonne of Iona, louest thou mee? Hee said vnto him, Yea Lord, thou knowest that I loue thee. He said vnto him, Feede my sheepe.

17 He said vnto him the third time, Simon the sonne of Iona, louest thou mee? Peter was sore because he said to him the third time, Louest thou mee? and said vnto him, Lord, thou knowest all things: thou knowest that I loue thee. Iesus sayde vnto him, Feede my sheepe.

18 Verily, verily I say vnto thee, When thou wast young, thou girdedst thy selfe and walkedst whither thou wouldest: but when thou shalt bee olde, thou shalt stretch forth thine hands, and another shall gird thee, and lead thee whither thou wouldest not.

19 And thus spake he, signifying by what death he should glorifie God. And when hee had said this, he said to him, Follow me.

20 Then Peter turned about, and saue the disciple whom Iesus loued, following, which had also leaned on his breast at supper, and had said, Lord, which is he that betrayeth thee?

21 When Peter therefore saw him, hee sayde to Iesus, Lord, what shall this man doe?

22 Iesus said vnto him, If I will that he tarry till I come, what is it to thee? followe thou me.

23 Then went this word abroad among the brethren, that this Disciple should not die. But Iesus said not so him, He shall not die: but, If I will that hee tarry till I come, what is it to thee?

24 This is that disciple which testified of these things, and wrote these things, and we know that his testimonie is true.

25 Nowe there are also many other things which Iesus did, the which if they should bee written euery one, I suppose the world could not containe the bookes that should be written. Amen.

c The Minister cannot well teach his congregation, except hee be iustly: Christ essentially, which loue is not in them that feede not the flocke. d Because Peter should be established in his office of an Apostle, Christ cautesh him by these three times confessing, to wipe away the shame of his three times denying.

e In stead of a girdle, thou shalt be tied with bands and ceardes: and whereas now thou goest at libertie, then thou shalt be drawn to punishment, when thy flesh shall after a sort resist.

The Actes of the holy Apostles, written by Luke the Euangelist.

THE ARGUMENT.

Christ after his ascension performed his promise to his Apostles, and sent them the holy Ghost, declaring thereby that hee was not onely mindefull of his Church, but would bee the head and maintainer thereof for euer. Wherein also his mightie power appeareth, who notwithstanding that Satan and the world resisted neuer so much against this noble worke, yet by a few simple men of no reputation, replenished all the world with the sound of his Gospel. And here in the beginning of the Church, and in the increase thereof, we may plainly perceiue the practise & malice which Satan continually vseth to suppress & overthrow the Gospel: hee riseth conspiracies, tumults, commotions, persecutions, slanders, & all kind of cruelty. Again we shall here behold the prouidence of God, who overthroweth his enemies enterprises, deliuereth his Church from the rage of tyrants, strengtheneth & encourageth his most most valiantly & constantly to follow their captaine Christ, leaſſing as it were by this hiflorie a perpetual memorie to the Church: that the croſſe is to be ioyned with the Goſpel, that they are fellowes inſeparable, and that the end of one affliction is the beginning of another: Yet neuertheleſſe God: witheth that troubles, perſecutions, imprisonment, and tentations of his: to a good iſſue, giving them as it were, in ſorrow, joy: in ſonds, like death in priſon, deliuerance: in trouble, quietneſſe: in death, life. Finally, this booke containeth many excellent ſermons of the Apoſtles and diſciples, as touching the death, reſurrection, and aſcenſion of Chriſt. The mercie of God: Of the grace and remiſſion of ſinne through Jeſus Chriſt. Of the bleſſed immortallitie. An exhortation to the miniſters of Chriſt ſheeke. Of repentance, and feare of God, with other principall points of our faith: ſo that this onely hiflorie in a manner may be ſufficient to inſtruct a man in all true doctrine and Religion.

4 And when he had gathered them together, he commanded them that they ſhould not depart from Jeruſalem, but to waite for the promiſe of the father, which, ſaid he, yee haue heard of me.

12 And then returned they vnto Jeruſalem from the mount that is called the mount of Olives, which is neere to Jeruſalem, containing a Sabbath dayes iourney.

13 And when they were come in, they went vp into an upper chamber, where abode both Peter, and James, and John, and Andrew, Phillip, and Thomas, Bartolomew, and Mattheu, James the ſonne of Alphaeus, and Simon Zelotes, and Judas James brother.

14 Theſe all continued with one accord in prayer and ſupplication with the women, and Mary the mother of Jeſus, and with his brethren.

 possible that he should be holden of it.

25 For Dauid sayth concerning him, I beheld the Lord alwayes before me: for hee is at my right hand, that I should not bee shaken.

26 Therefore did mine heart reioyce, and my tongue was glad, and inprocurer also my flesh shall rest in hope,

27 Because thou wilt not leaue my soule in graue, neither wilt suffer thine holy one to see corruption.

28 Thou hast shewed mee thy wayes of life, and shalt make me full of ioy with thy countenance.

29 Men & brethren, I may boldly speake vnto you of the Patriarke Dauid, that hee is both dead and buried, and his sepulchre remaineth vnto this day.

30 Therefore seeing he was a Prophet, and knew that God had wrought with an othe to him, that of the fruite of his loynes hee would raise vp Christ concerning the flesh to set him vpon his throne,

31 We knowing this before, spake of the resurrection of Christ, that his soule should not be left in graue, neither his flesh should see corruption.

32 This Jesus hath God raised vp, whereof we all are witnesses.

33 Since then that he by the <sup>b</sup> right hand of God hath bene exalted, and hath <sup>c</sup> receiued of his father the promise of the holy Ghost, he hath shed forth this which ye now see and heare.

34 For David is not ascended into heauen, but he sayeth, * The Lord sayd to my Lord, a Sit at my right hand, 35 Untill I <sup>e</sup> make thine enemies thy footstool.

36 Therefore, let all the house of Israel know for a surety, that God hath <sup>f</sup> made him both Lord & Christ, this Iesus, I say, whom ye haue crucified.

37 Nowe when they heard it, they were pricked in their hearts, and said vnto Peter and the other Apostles, Men and brethren, what shall we doe?

38 Then Peter sayd vnto them, Amend your liues, and ebe baptized eury one of you in the name of Iesus Christ for the remission of finnes: and ye shall receiue the <sup>b</sup> gift of the holy Ghost.

39 For the promise <sup>i</sup> is made vnto you, and to your children, and to all that are a farre off, euen as many as the Lord our God shall call.

40 And with many other words he <sup>g</sup> besought, & exhorted them, saying, Save your selves from this froward generation.

41 Then they that gladly receiued his word, were baptized: & the same day, there were added to the Church about three thousand <sup>h</sup> soules.

42 And they continued in the Apostles doctrine and <sup>i</sup> fellowship, and <sup>h</sup> breaking of bread, and prayers.

43 ¶ And feare came vpon eury soule: and many wonders and signes were done by the Apostles.

44 And all that beleeued were in one place, and had all things <sup>j</sup> common.

45 And they sold their possessions and <sup>k</sup> goods, and parted them to all men, as eury one had need.

2 And a certain man which was a creeple from his mothers wombe was caried, whom they ladd daily at the gate of the temple called Beautiful, to alke <sup>o</sup> almes of them that entred into the Temple.

3 Who seeing Peter and John, that they would enter into the Temple, desired to receive an almes

4 And Peter earnestly beholding him with John, sayd, Looke on vs.

5 And he gaue heed vnto them, trusting to receive some thing of them.

6 Then sayd Peter, Siluer and gold haue I none, but such as I <sup>p</sup> haue, that giue I thee: In the <sup>q</sup> Name of Iesus Christ of Nazareth, rise vp, and walke.

7 And hee tooke him by the right hand, and lift him vp, and immediatly his feet and ankle bones received strength.

9 And all the people saw him walke, and praising God,

11 ¶ And as the creeple which was healed, held Peter and John, all the people ran amazed vnto them in the porch which is called Salomons.

12 So when Peter saw it, hee answered vnto the people, Ye men of Israel, why maruaile yee at this? or why looke ye onstedfastly on vs, as though by our owne <sup>r</sup> power or godlinesse, we had made this man goe?

18 But those things which God before had shewed by the mouth of all his Prophets, that Christ should suffer, he hath thus fulfilled.

19 Amend your liues therefore, and tume, that your finnes may be put away, when the time of refreshing <sup>w</sup> shall come from the presence of the Lord.

21 So when they heard it, they entred into the Temple early in the morning, and taught. And the chiefe Priest came, and they that were with him, and called the Councill together, and all the Elders of the children of Israel, and sent to the prison, to call them to be brought.
22 But when the officers came, & found them not in the prison, they returned and told it,

26 Then went the captaine with the officers, and brought them without violence (for they feared the people, lest they should haue bene stoned.)
27 And when they had brought them, they set them before the Councill, and the chiefe Priest asked them,

g Because of their own euill consciences, which made them to tremble: for they that were not assured of Gods mercies in Christ, were astonished at these his strange iudgements.

b Who moued thy heart to sell thy possession? whereas thou turnest part to another use, as if God did not see thy dissimulation.
c His sinne therefore was so much greater in that he committed it willingly.
d Then no man was compell'd to sell his possessions, nor to put his money to the common use.
e Because God so disposed it.
f And to mocke him as if hee should not haue knownen your crafty fetch?
 which declareth that when men do any thing of an euill conscience, they do not only pronounce the sentence of damnation vpon themselves, but also prouoke the wrath of God, because they doe proude, as it were purposely, whether God be righteous and Almighty.

16 There came also a multitude out of the citty round about vnto Ierusalem, bringing sicke folkes, and them which were vexed with vncleane spirits, who were all healed.
17 Then the chiefe Priest rose vp, and all they that were with him (which was the sect of the Sadduces) and were full of indignation,
18 And layd handes on the Apostles, and put them in the common prison.
19 But the Angel of the Lord by night opened the prison doores, and brought them forth, and laid,
20 Goe your way and stand in the Temple, and speake to the people all the wordes of this life.
21 So when they heard it, they entred into the Temple early in the morning, and taught. And the chiefe Priest came, and they that were with him, and called the Councill together, and all the Elders of the children of Israel, and sent to the prison, to call them to be brought.
22 But when the officers came, & found them not in the prison, they returned and told it,
23 Saying, Certainely wee found the prison shut as lure as was possible, and the keepers standing without before the doores: but when we had opened, we found no man within.
24 Then when the chiefe Priest, and the captaine of the Temple, and the chiefe Priests heard these things, they doubted of them, whereunto this would grow.
25 Then came one & shewed them, saying, Behold, the men that ye put in prison, are standing in the Temple, and teach the people.
26 Then went the captaine with the officers, and brought them without violence (for they feared the people, lest they should haue bene stoned.)
27 And when they had brought them, they set them before the Councill, and the chiefe Priest asked them, i Which then were the chiefe among them.

k They were full of blind zeale, emulation and ielousie, in defence of their superstition.
l That is, of the liuely doctrine, whereby the way to life is declared.
m So that there was no fraud nor deceit, nor negligence: but it liuely set forth the power of God and his providence for his,

28 Saying, Did not we straightly command you, that yee should not teach in this Name? and behold, yee haue filled <sup>u</sup> Ierusalem with your doctrine, and ye would bring this mans <sup>o</sup> blood vpon vs.

29 Then Peter and the Apostles answered, and sayd, We ought rather to obey God then <sup>p</sup> men.

30 The <sup>q</sup> God of our fathers hath ray-sed vp Iesus, whom ye slew, and hanged on a tree.

31 Him hath God lift vp with his right hand, to be a p<sup>r</sup>ince and a <sup>r</sup> Saviour, to giue repentance to Israel, and forgiveness of sinnes.

32 And we are his witnesses concerning these things which we say: yea, and the holy Ghost, whom God hath giuen to them that obey <sup>t</sup> him.

33 Now when they heard it, they brast fo<sup>r</sup> anger, and consulted to slay them.

34 Then stood there vp in the Council a certaine Pharisee named Gamaliel, a docto<sup>r</sup> of the law, honoured of all the people, and commanded to put the Apostles fo<sup>r</sup>th a litle space,

35 And said vnto them, Men of Israel, take heed to your selues, what ye intend to do touching these men.

36 For before these times, rose vp <sup>f</sup> Theu-das boasting himselfe, to whom resorted a number of men, about a foure hundreth, who was slaine: and they all which obeyed him, were scattered and brought to nought.

37 After this man, rose vp <sup>g</sup> Iudas of Galilee, in the dayes of the tribute, and drew away much people after him: hee also perished, and all that obeyed him, were scattered abroad.

38 And now I say vnto you, Refraine your selues from these men, & let them alone:
for if this counsell, or this worke be of men,
it will come to nought:

39 But if it be of <sup>h</sup> God, yee cannot destroy it, lest yee be found euen fighte<sup>r</sup>s against God.

40 And to him they agreed, and called the Apostles: and when they had beaten them, they commanded that they should not speake in the name of Iesus, and let them goe.

41 So they departed from the Council, reioycing that they were counted worthy to suffer rebuke fo<sup>r</sup> his Name.

42 And dayly in the Temple, and from houle to houle they ceased not to teach and preach Iesus Christ.

3 Wherefo<sup>r</sup> brethren, looke ye out among

4 And we will giue our selues continu-

5 And the saying pleased the whole multitude: and they chose Steuen a man full of and Prochorus, and Nicanor, and Timon, and Parmenias, and nicolas a <sup>r</sup> Proselyte of Antiochia,

they prayed, and s<sup>t</sup> laid their hands on them.

7 And the word of God increased, & the number of the disciples was multiplied in Ierusalem greatly, and a great company of the Priests were obedient to the <sup>s</sup> faith.

8 Now Steuen full of faith and power, did great wonders and miracles among the people.

9 Then there arose certaine of the <sup>h</sup> Synagogue, which are called Libertines, and Cyrenians, and of Alexandria, and of them of Cilicia, and of Asia, and disputed with Steuen.

10 But they were not able to resist the wisdom, and the Spirit by the which hee spake.

11 Then they <sup>i</sup> suborned men, which sayd, Wee haue heard him speake blasphemous words against Moyses, and God.

12 Thus they mooued the people and the Elders, and the Scribes: and running vpon him, caught him, and brought him to the Council.

13 And set fo<sup>r</sup>th false witnesses, which said, This man cease<sup>r</sup>ly not to speake blasphemous words against his holy place, and the Law.

14 For we haue heard him say, that <sup>h</sup> this Iesus of Nazaret shall destroy this place, and shall change the ordinances, which Moses gaue vs.

15 And as all that late in the Council, looked stedfastly on him, they saw his face as it had bene the <sup>i</sup> face of an Angel.

Gen. 12. 1.

3 * And said unto him. Come out of thy country, and from thy kindred, and come into the land which I shall shew thee.

4 Then came hee out of the land of the Chaldeans, and dwelt in Charan. And after that his father was dead, God brought him from thence into this land, wherein yee now dwell,

5 And he gaue him none inheritance in it, no, not the breadth of a foote: yet he promised that he would giue it to him for a possession, and to his seed after him, when as yet he had no child.

6 But God spake thus, that his * seed should be a sower in a strange land, and that they should keep it in bondage, and increase it euen <sup>to</sup> foure hundredeth yeeres.

7 But the nation to whom they shall be in bondage will I iudge, sayth God: and after that, they shall come forth and serue me in this place.

8 * He gaue him also the couenant of circumcision: and so Abraham begate * Isaac, and circumcised him the eight day: and Isaac begate Jacob, and Jacob the twelue * Patriakes.

9 And the Patriakes moued with enuie, sold * Ioseph into Egypt: but God was with him,

10 And deliuered him out of all his afflictions, and * gaue him fauour and wisdom in y light of Pharaoh king of Egypt, who made him gouernour ouer Egypt, and ouer his whole house.

11 ¶ Then came there a famine ouer all the land of Egypt and Canaan, and great affliction, that our fathers found no sustenance.

12 But when * Jacob heard that there was corne in Egypt, hee sent our fathers first.

13 * And at the second time Ioseph was knowne of his brethren, and Iosephs kindred was made knowne vnto Pharas.

14 Then sent Ioseph and caused his father to be brought, and all his kindred, euen <sup>to</sup> threelcore and fiftene soules.

15 So * Jacob went downe into Egypt, and he * died, and our fathers, 16 And were remooued into * Sychem, and were put in the sepulchre, that <sup>is</sup> Abraham had bought * for money of the sonnes of Canaan, sonne of Sychem.

17 But when the time of the promise drew neere, which God had soken to Abraham, the people * grew and multiplied in Egypt, 18 Till another thing arose, which knew not Ioseph.

19 The same deat <sup>is</sup> subtilly with our kindred, and euill increased our fathers, and made them to cast out their young children, that <sup>is</sup> they should not remaine aliue.

20 * The same time was Moses borne, and was acceptable vnto God, which was nourished in his fathers house thre moneths.

21 And when hee was cast out, Pharaohs daughter tooke him vp, and nourished him for her own sonne.

22 And Moses was learned in all the wisdom of the Egyptians, and was mighty in words and in deedes.

23 Now when he was full forty yeere old, it came into his heart to visite his brethren the children of Israel.

24 * And when he saw one of them suffer wrong, he defended him, and auenged his quarrel that had the harme done to him, and smote the Egyptian.

25 For hee supposed his brethren would haue vnderstoode that God by his hand should giue them deliuerance: but they vnderstood it not.

26 * And the next day hee shewed himselfe vnto them as they stroue, and would haue set them at one againe, saying, <sup>is</sup> this ye are brethren: why do yee wrong one to another?

27 But he that did his neighbour wrong, thrust him away, saying, Who made thee a prince, and a Iudge ouer vs?

28 ¶ Cill thou kil me, as thou didst the Egyptian yesterday?

29 Then siew Moses at that saying, and was a stranger in y land of Madian, where he begate two sonnes.

30 And when forty yeeres were expired, there appeared to him in the wilderness of mount Sina, an Angel of the Lord in a flame <sup>is</sup> of fire, in a bush.

31 And when Moses saw it, he wondered at the sight: and as he drew neere to consider it, the voyce of the Lord came vnto him, saying, 32 I am the <sup>is</sup> God of thy fathers, the God of Abraham, and the God of Isaac, and the God of Jacob. Then Moses trembled, and durst not behold it.

33 ¶ Then the Lord sayd to him, ¶ Put off thy shoes from thy feet: for the place where thou standest is holy ground.

34 I haue sene, I haue sene the affliction of my people, which is in Egypt, and I haue heard their groning, & am come down to deliuer them: and now come, and I will send thee into Egypt.

35 ¶ This Moses whom they forsooke, saying, Who made thee a prince, and a Iudge? the same God sent for a prince, and a deliuerer by the hand of the Angel, which appeared to him in the bush.

36 ¶ He * brought them out, doing wonders & miracles in the land of Egypt, and in the red Sea, and in the wilderness * forty yeeres.

37 ¶ This is that Moses which sayd vnto the children of Israel, * A Prophet shall the Lord your God raise vp vnto you, euen of your brethren like vnto me: him shall yee heare.

38 * ¶ This is he that was in the Congregation, in the wilderness with the <sup>is</sup> Angel which spake to him in mount Sina, and with our fathers, who receiued the <sup>is</sup> liuely oracles to giue vnto vs.

39 ¶ To whom our fathers would not obey, but refused, and in their hearts turned backe againe into Egypt, at him with their teeth.

55 But he being full of the holy Ghost, looked stedfastly into heauen, and saw the

AND Saul consented to his death, and at that time there was a great perfection against the Church which was at Jerusalem, and they were all scattered abroad through the regions of Iudea, and of Samaria, except the Apostles.

2 Then certaine men fearing God, carried Steuen among them, to be buried, and made great lamentation for him.

3 But Saul made hauck of the Church, and entred into euery house, and drew out both men and women, and put them into prison.

4 Therefore they that were scattered abroad, went to and fro preaching the word.

5 Then came Philip into the city of Samaria, and preached Christ vnto them.

6 And the people gaue heed vnto those things which Philip spake, with one accord, hearing, and seeing the miracles which he did.

7 For vncleane spirits crying with a loud voyce, came out of many that were possessed of them: and many taken with pallsies, and that halted, were healed.

8 And there was great ioy in that city.

9 And there was before in the city a certaine man called Simon, which vied witchcraft, and bewitched the people of Samaria, saying, That hee himselfe was some great man.

10 To whom they gaue heed from the least to the greatest, saying, This man is the great power of God.

11 And they gaue heed vnto him, because that of long time hee had bewitched them with lozeries.

12 But asoone as they beleieued Philip, which preached the things that concerned the kingdome of God, and the name of Jesus Christ, they were baptized both men and women.

13 Then Simon himselfe beleueed also and was baptized, & continued with Philip, and wondered, when hee saw the signes and great miracles which were done.

14 Now when the Apostles which were at Ierusalem, heard say, that Samaria had receiued the word of God, they sent vnto them Peter and Iohn.

15 Which when they were come downe, prayed for them, that they might receiue the holy Ghost.

m Or thine heart is full of despitefull malice, & deuillish poyson of impiety, so that now Satan hath thee as a captiue in his bands, Deut. 29. 18.
n After that Alexander had destroyed it, it was not much peopled as it was before, and therefore in respect was as waite.
o Eunuch signifieth him that is gelded: but because in the East parts great affaires were committed to such, it came in vse that noble men were called Eunuches, although they were not gelded: also all manner officers and seruants that were put in credit or necessary affaires were called by this name, as Isa. 53. 7.
p A beir Christ was in graue and in deatnes bands, feeling also his fathers anger against sinne, yet he brake the bands of death and was exalted,
Acts 2. 24. q The punishment which he suffered, was the beginning of his glory. r That is, how long his age shall endure: for being risen fro death, death shall no more reigne, neither shall his kingdom euer haue end: or els we may take generation, for his church which neuer shall haue end: for now they sit in the heauenly places with Christ their head, as Ephe. 2. 6. f And now he reigneth in heauen. t He declared at length this matter of so great importance.

17 Then layd they their hands on them, and they receiued the holy Ghost.
18 And when Simon saw that through laying on of the Apostles hands, the holy Ghost was giuen, he offered them money, 19 Saying, Giue me also this power, that on whom soeuer I lay the hands, he may receiue the holy Ghost.
20 Then said Peter vnto him, Thy money perish with thee, because thou thinkest that the gift of God may be obtained with money.
21 Thou hast neither part nor fellowship in this business: for thine heart is not right in the sight of God.
22 Repent therefore of this thy wickednesse, and pray God, that if it bee possible, the thought of thine heart may be forgiven thee.
23 For I see that thou art in the gall of bitterness, and in the bond of iniquity.
24 Then answered Simon, & said, Pray yee to the Lord for mee, that none of these things which ye haue spoken, come vpon me.
25 And so they, when they had testified and preached the word of the Lord, returned to Jerusalem, and preached the Gospel in many towncs of the Samaritanes.
26 Then the Angel of the Lord spake vnto Philip, saying, Arise, and goe toward the South vnto the way that goeth down from Jerusalem vnto Gaza, which is waste.
27 And he arose, & went on: and behold, a certaine Eunuch of Ethiopia, Candaces the Quene of the Ethiopians chiefe gouernour, who had the rule of all her treasure, and came to Jerusalem to worship.
28 And as he returned sitting in his charret, he read Esaus the Propheet.
29 Then the Spirit said vnto Philip, Go neere, and loyue thy selfe to yonder charret.
30 And Philip ran thither, & heard him read the Propheet Esaias, and said, Vnderstandest thou what thou readest?
31 And he sayd, How can I perceyue that hee would come vnto me?
32 Nowe the place of the Scripture which he read, was this, He was led as a sheepe to the slaughter: and like a lambe dumbe before his shearer, so opened hee not his mouth.
33 For his humilitie his iudgement hath bene exalted: but who shall declare his generation? for his life is taken from the earth.
34 Then the Eunuch answered Philip, and sayd, I pray thee of whom speaketh the Propheet this? of himselfe, or of some other man?
35 Then Philip opened his mouth, and began at the same Scripture, and preached vnto him Iesus.

36 And as they went on their way, they came vnto a certain water, and the Eunuch said, See, here is water: what doeth let mee to be baptized?
37 And Philip sayde vnto him, If thou belieuest with all thine heart, thou mayest. Then he answered and said, I beleene that Iesus Christ is the Sonne of God.
38 Then he commaunded the charret to stand still: and they went downe both into the water, both Philip, and the Eunuch, and hee was baptized.
39 And as soon as they were come vp out of the water, the Spirit of the Lord caught away Philip, that the Eunuch saw him no more: so he went on his way reioycing.
40 But Philip was found at Azotus, and hee walked to and fro preaching in all the cities, till he came to Cesarea.

12 And he lay in a bison a man named Ananias comming in to him, and putting his hands on him, that he might receive his sight.)

13 Then Ananias answered, Lorde, I haue heard by many of this man, how much euill he hath done to thy Saints at Ierusalem.

14 Wherefore here hee hath authority of the high Priestis, to binde all that call on thy Name.

15 Then the Lord said vnto him, So thy way: for he is a chosen vessel vnto mee, to beare my Name before the Gentiles, and kings, and the children of Israel.

16 For I wil shew him how many things he must suffer for my Names sake.

17 Then Ananias went his way, and entered into the house, and put his hands on him, and said, Brother Saul, the Lord hath sent me (euen Iesus that appeared vnto thee in the way as thou camest) that thou mightest receive thy sight and bee filled with the holy Ghost.

18 And immediatly there fell from his eyes as it had bene scales, and suddenly he receiued sight, and arose, and was baptized, 19 And receiued meate, and was strengthened. So was Saul certaine daies with the disciples which were at Damascus.

20 And straightway he preached Christ in the Synagogues, that he was the Sonne of God.

21 So that all that heard him, were amazed, and sayd, Is not this he that destroyed them which called on this Name in Ierusalem, and came hither for that intent, that hee should bring them bound vnto the high Priestis?

22 But Saul increased the more in strength, and confounded the Iewes which dwell at Damascus, confirming that this was the Christ.

23 And after that many dayes were fulfilled, the Iewes tooke counsell together to kill him.

24 But thei laying awaynt was knowen of Saul: now they watched the gates day and night, that they might kill him.

25 Then the disciples tooke him by night, and put him through the wall, and let him downe in a basker.

26 And when Saul was come to Ierusalem, hee assayed to ioyn himselfe with the disciples: but they were all afrayd of him, and beleeued not that he was a disciple.

27 But Barnabas tooke him, & brought him to the Apostles, and declared to them, how hee had seene the Lord in the way, and that he had spoken vnto him, & how hee had spoken boldly at Damascus in the Name of Iesus.

28 And he & was conuersant with them at Ierusalem,

29 And spake boldly in the Name of the Lord Iesus, and spake and disputed with the Grecians: but they went about to slay him.

30 But when the brethren knew it, they brought him to Cesarea, and sent him forth to Caesars.

31 Then had the Churches rest thorow al Iudea, and Galile, and Samaria, & were edified, and walked in the feare of the Lord, and were multiplied by the comfort of the holy Ghost.

32 And it came to passe, as Peter walked throughout all quarters, hee came also to the Saints which dwell at Lydda, 33 And there he found a certaine man named Aeneas, which had kept his bed eight yeeres, and was sicke of the palse.

34 Then sayd Peter vnto him, Aeneas, Iesus Christ maketh thee whole: arise and make by thy bed. And hee arose immediatly.

35 And all that dwell at Lydda, and Sharon saw him, and turned to the Lord.

36 There was also at Ioppa, a certayne woman a discipule named Tabitha (which by interpretation is called Dorcas) shee was full of good works and almes which shee did.

37 And it came to passe in those dayes, that she was sicke and died: and when they had washed her, they layd her in an vpper chamber.

38 Now forasmuch as Lydda was neere to Ioppa, and the disciples had heard that Peter was there, they sent vnto him two men, desiring that hee would not delay to come vnto them.

39 Then Peter arose & came with them: and when hee was come, they brought him into the vpper chamber, where all the widowes stood by him weeping, and shewing the coats & garments which Dorcas made, while she was with them.

40 But Peter put them all forth, and kneeled downe, and prayed, and turned him to the body, and sayd, Tabitha, Arise. And shee opened her eyes, and when she saw Peter, she sayd by.

41 Then hee gaue her the hand and lift her vp, and called the Saints & widowes, and restored her alme.

42 And it was knowen throughout all Ioppa, and many beleuen in the Lord.

43 And it came to passe that hee taried many dayes in Ioppa with one Simon a tanner.

Furthermore there was a certaine man in Cesarea called Cornelius, a Captayne of the band called the Italian band, 3 He saw in a vision evidently (about the ninth houre of the day) an Angel of God comming in to him, and saying vnto him, Cornelius.

5 Powe therefore send men to Ioppa, and call for Simon, whose surname is Peter.

6 He lodgeth with one Simon a tanner, whose house is by the sea side: & he shall tell thee what thou oughtest to doe.

7 And when the Angel which spake vnto Cornelius, was departed, hee called two of his seruants, and a souldier that feared God, one of them that waited on him,

8 And tolde them all thiss, and sent them to Ioppa.

9 On the morrow as they went on their iourney, and drew nere vnto the citie, Peter went v<sup>b</sup> vpon the house to pray, about the e<sup>c</sup> light houre.

10 Then waxed he an hungred, & would haue eaten: but while they made some thing ready, he fell into a trance.

11 And he saw heauen opened, and a certaine vessel come downe vnto him, as it had been a great sheete, knit at the foure corners, and was let downe to the earth.

12 Wherein were a<sup>d</sup> all manner of foure footed beasts of the earth, and wilde beasts, and creeping things, & soules of the heauen.

13 And there came a voyce to him, Arise, Peter: kill, and eate.

14 But Peter sayd, Not so, Lord: for I haue neuer eaten any thing that is v<sup>b</sup> polluted or vn-cleane.

15 And the voyce spake vnto him againe the second time, The things that God hath e<sup>c</sup> purtified, & pollute thou not.

16 This was so done thise: and the vessel was drawn vp againe into heauen.

17 Now while Peter doubted in himselfe what this vision which hee had leene, meant, beholde, the men which were sent from Cornelius, had enquired for Simons house, and stood at the gate.

18 And called, and asked whether Simon, which was surnamed Peter, were lodged there.

19 And while Peter thought on the vision, the spirit said vnto him, Behold, three men seeke thee.

20 Arise therefore, and get thee downe, and goe with them, and e<sup>d</sup> doubt nothing: for I haue sent thee.

21 Then Peter went downe to the men which were sent vnto him from Cornelius, and sayd, Behold, I am hee whom ye seeke; what is the cause wherefore ye are come?

22 And they said, Cornelius the captain, a iust man, and one that feareth God, and of good report among all the nation of the Jewes, was warned from heauen by an holy Angel, to send for thee into his house, and to heare thy words.

23 Then called he them in, and lodged them, and the next day Peter went forth with them, and certaine brethren from Ioppa accompanied him.

24 And the day after, they entered into Cesarea. Now Cornelius waited for them, and had called together his kinsmen, and speciall friends.

25 And it came to passe, as Peter came in, that Cornelius met him, and fell downe at his feete, and <sup>h</sup> worshipped him.

26 But Peterooke him vp, saying, Stand vp: for euen I my selfe am a man.

27 And as he talked with him, hee came in, and found many that were come together.

28 And he sayd vnto them, Ye know that it is an vnlawfull thing for a man that is a Jewe, to company of come vnto one of an other nation: but God hath shewed me, that I should not call any man v<sup>b</sup> polluted, or vn-cleane.

29 Therefore came I vnto you without saying nay, when I was sent for. I aske therefore, for what intent haue yee sent for mee?

30 Then Cornelius sayd, Foure dayes agoe, about this houre, I fasted, and at the ninth houre I prayed in mine house, and behold, a man stood before me in bright clothing, 31 And sayde, Cornelius, thy prayer is heard, and thine almes are had in remembrance in the sight of God.

32 Send therefore to Ioppa, and call for Simon, whose surname is Peter (hee is lodged in the house of Simon a tanner by the Sea side) who when hee commeth, shall speake vnto thee.

33 Then sent I for thee immediately, and thou hast well done to come. Now therefore are wee all here present before God, to heare all things that are commanded thee of God.

34 Then Peter opened his mouth, and sayd, Of a truth I perceiue, that God is no acceptor of persons.

35 But in enery nation hee that feareth him and worketh <sup>k</sup> rightcoustnesse, is accepted with him.

36 Pee knowe the worde which God hath sent to the children of Israel, preaching <sup>l</sup> peace by Iesus Christ, which is Lord of all.

39 And wee are witnesses of all things which hee did both in the land of the Jewes, and in Ierusalem: whom they slewe, hanging him on a tree.

40 Him God raised v<sup>b</sup> the third day, and caused that he was shewed openly:

41 Not to all the people, but vnto the witnesses chosen before of God, euen to vs which did eate and drinke with him, after hee arose from the dead.

42 And hee commanded vs to preach vnto the people, and to testifie, that it is hee that is ordained of God a Iudge of quicke and dead.

45 So they of the circumcision which believed, were astonished, as many as came with Peter, because that on the Gentiles also was poured out the gift of the holy Ghost.

46 For they heard them speake with tongues, and magnifie God. Then answered Peter, 47 Can any man forbid water, that these should not be baptized, which have received the holy Ghost, as well as we?

48 So he commanded them to be baptized in the name of the Lord. Then prayed they him to tary certaine dayes.

CHAP. XI.

1 Peter sheweth the cause wherefore he went to the Gentiles. 18 The Church approacheth it. 21 The Church increaseth. 22 Barnabas and Paul preach at Antiochia. 28 Agabus propheseth death to come, 29 and the remedie.

Now the Apostles and the brethren that had also received the word of God:

2 And when Peter was come by to Jerusalem, they of the circumcision contended against him,

3 Saying, Thou wentest in to men uncircumcised, and hast eaten with them.

4 Then Peter began, and expounded the thing in order to them, saying,

5 It was in the citie of Toppa, praying, and in a trance I saw this vision, A certaine vessel comming downe as it had been a great sheet, let downe from heauen by the foure corners, and it came to me.

6 Toward the which, when I had fastened mine eyes, I considered, and sawe foure footed beasts of the earth, and wilde beasts, and creeping things, and foules of the heauen.

7 Also I heard a voyce saying vnto me, Arise, Peter: stay and eate.

8 And I sayd, God forbid, Lord: for nothing polluted or vncleane hath at any time entered into my mouth.

9 But the voyce answered me the second time from heauen, The things that God hath purified, pollute thou not.

10 And this was done thre times, and all were taken by againe into heauen.

11 Then behold, immediately there were thre men already come vnto the house where I was, sent from Cesarea vnto me.

12 And the Spirit sayd vnto mee, that I should goe with them without doubting: moreover these thre brethren came with me, and we entered into the mans house.

13 And he shewed vs how he had seene an Angel in his house, which stood and said to him, Send men to Toppa, and call for Simon whose surname is Peter.

14 Wee shall speake wordes vnto thee, whether by both thou and at thine house shalbe saued.

15 And as I began to speake, the holy Ghost fell on them, * euen as vpon vs at the beginning.

16 Then I remembered the worde of the Lord, how he sayd, * Iohn baptized with water, but ye shalbe baptized with the Holy Ghost.

17 For as much then as God gaue them a like gift, as he did vnto vs, when we believed in the Lord Iesus Christ, who was I, that I could let God?

18 When they heard these things, they held their peace, and glorified God, saying, Then hath God also to the Gentiles granted * repentance vnto life.

19 And they which were scattered abroad because of the affliction that rose about Sennen, walked throughout till they came vnto Phenice, and Cyprius, and Antiochia, preaching the word to no man, but vnto the Jewes onely.

20 Now some of them were men of Cyprus and of Cyrene, which when they were come into Antiochia, spake vnto the Grecians, and preached the Lord Iesus.

21 And the hand of the Lord was with them, so that a great number believed and turned vnto the Lord.

22 Then risings of these things came vnto the eares of the Church, which was in Jerusalem, and they sent forth Barnabas that he should goe vnto Antiochia.

23 Who when he was come, and had seen the grace of God, was glad, and exhorted all, that with purpose of heart they would cleane vnto the Lord.

24 For hee was a good man, and full of the holy Ghost, and faith, and much people toynded themselves vnto the Lord.

25 Then departed Barnabas to Cesarea to seeke Saul:

26 And when hee had founde him, hee brought him vnto Antiochia, and it came to passe, that a whole yere they were conuersant with the Church, and taught much people, insomuch, that the Disciples were first called Christians in Antiochia.

27 In those dayes also came Prophets from Jerusalem vnto Antiochia.

28 And there stood by one of them named Agabus, and signified by the spirit, that there should bee great famine throughout all the world, which also came to passe vnder Claudius Cesar.

29 Then the disciples every man according to his abilitie, purposed to send succour vnto y brethren which dwelt in Iudea.

30 Which thing they also did, and sent it to the Elders by the handes of Barnabas and Saul.

f For they thought that Herod would haue put him to death, as he had purposed, g For they did know by Gods word, that Angels were appointed to defend the faithfull, and also in those dayes they were accustomed to see such sights, which was lke suspicē, by reason of the brethren.

2 And hee killed James the brother of John with the sword.

3 And when hee saw that it pleased the Jewes, hee proceeded further to take Peter also (then were the dayes of unseasoned bread.)

4 And when he had caught him, he put him in prison, and deliuered him to foure quartenes of souldiers to be kept, intending after the Passouer to bring him forth to the people.

5 So Peter was kept in prison, but earnest prayer was made of the Church vnto God for him.

6 And when Herod would haue brought him out vnto the people, the same night slepe Peter betwene two souldiers, bound with two chaines, & the keepers before the doore, kept the prison.

7 And behold, the Angel of the Lord came vpon them, and a light shined in the house, and hee smote Peter on the side, and raised him vp, saying, Arise quickly. And his chaines fall off from his hands.

8 And the Angel said vnto him, Gird thy selfe, and binde on thy sandals, And so hee did. Then hee said vnto him, Cast thy garment about thee, and follow me.

9 So Peter came out and followed him, and knew not that it was true, which was done by the Angel, but thought he had scene a vision.

10 Now when they were past the first and the second watch, they came vnto the yron gate that leadeth vnto the citie, which opened to them by its owne accord, and they went out, and passed through one streete, and by and by the Angel departed from him.

11 And when Peter was come to himselfe, hee said, Now I know for a trueth that the Lord hath sent his Angel, and hath deliuered me out of the hand of Herod, and from all the waiting for of the people of the Jewes.

12 And as he considered the thing, he came to the house of Mary the mother of John, whose surname was Marke, where many were gathered together, and prayed.

13 And when Peter knocked at the entrie doore, a maide came forth to hearken, named Rhode.

14 And when she knew Peters voice, she opened not the entrie doore for gladnesse, but ran in, and told how Peter stood before the entrie.

15 But they sayde vnto her, Thou art made. Yet she affirmed it constantly, that it was so. Then said they, It is his Angel.

16 But Peter continued knocking, and when they had opened it, and saw him, they were astonied.

17 And hee beckened vnto them with the hand to hold their peace, and said them how the Lord had brought him out of the prison. And hee said, Doe shewe these things vnto James and to the brethren; and he departed and went into another place.

18 Now as soon as it was day, there was no small trouble among the souldiers, what was become of Peter.

19 And when Herod had sought for him, and found him not, he examined the keepers and commanded them to be led to be punished. And hee went downe from Iudaea to Cesarea, and there abode.

20 Then Herod intended to make warre against the king of Cyprus and Sidon, but they came all with one accord vnto him, and perswaded Blastus the kings chamberlain, and they desired peace, because their countrey was moued by the kings land.

21 And vpon a day appointed, Herod arrayed himselfe in royall apparell, and sat on the iudgement seate, and made an oath vnto them.

22 And the people gaue a shout, saying, The voice of God, and not of man.

23 But immediately the Angel of the Lord smote him, because hee gaue not glorie vnto God, so that he was eaten of worms, and gaue by the Ghost.

24 And the word of God grew, and multiplied.

25 So Barnabas and Saul returned from Ierusalem, when they had fulfilled their office, and toke with them John, whose surname was Marke.

There were also in the Church that was at Antiochia, certaine prophets and teachers, as Barnabas, and Simeon called Niger, and Lucius of Cyrene, and a Manahan, (which had bene brought vp with Herod the Tetrarch) and Saul.

2 Now as they ministered to the Lord, and fasted, the holy Ghost said, Separate me Barnabas and Saul, for the worke whereunto I haue called them.

3 Then fasted they, and prayed, and laid their hands on them, and let them goe.

4 And they, after they were sent forth of the holy Ghost, came downe vnto Seleucia, and from thence they sailed to Cyprus.

5 And when they were at Salamis, they preached by word of God in the Synagogues of the Iewes: and they had also John to their minister.

6 So when they had gone throughout the yle vnto Paphus, they found a certaine soecerer, a false prophet, being a Jew, named Barcielis.

7 Which was with the Deputie Sergius Paulus, a prudent man. Hee called vnto him Barnabas and Saul, and desired to heare the word of God.

9 Then Saul (which also is called Paul) being full of the holy Ghost, see his eyes on him,

10 And said, D full of all subtiltie and all mischief, the child of the devill, and enemye of all righteousnesse, wilt thou not cease to pervert the straight wayes of the Lord?

11 Now therefore behold, the hand of the Lord is vpon thee, and thou shalt bee blinde, and not see the sunne for a season. And immediately there fell on him a myste and a darknesse, and he went about, seeking some to leade him by the hand.

12 Then the Deputie when he saw what was done, beleueed, and was astonied at the doctrine of the Lord.

13 Now when Paul and they that were with him, were departed by ship from Paphus, they came to Perga, a cite of Pamphylia: then John departed from them, and returned to Jerusalem.

14 But when they departed from Perga, they came to Antiochia a cite of Pisidia, and went into the Synagogue on the Sabbath day, and late downe.

15 And after the lecture of the Law and Prophets, the rulers of the Synagogue sent vnto them, saying, Pee men and brethren, if yett haue any word of exhortation for the people, say on.

16 Then Paul stood vp and beckened with the hand, and said, Men of Israel, and yee that feare God, hearken.

17 The God of this people of Israel chole our fathers, and exalted the people when they dwelt in the land of Egypt, and with an high arme brought them out thereof.

18 And about the time of fouertie yeeres, suffered hee their maners in the wilderness.

19 And he destroyed seuen nations in the land of Chanaan, and diuided their land to them by lot.

20 Then afterward hee gaue vnto them Iudges about foure hundred and fiftie yeeres, vnto the time of Samuel the Prophet.

21 So after that they desired a King, and God gaue vnto them Saul the sonne of Cis, a man of the tribe of Benjamin, by the space of fouertie yeeres.

22 And after he had taken him away, hee raised vp Dauid to be their king, of whom hee witnesseth, saying, I haue found Dauid the sonne of Jesse, a man after mine owne heart, which will doe all things that I will.

23 Of this mans seede hath God accorded to his promise raised vp to Israel the Saviour Iesus:

24 When John had first preached before his coming the baptisme of repentance to all the people of Israel.

25 And when John had fulfilled his course, hee said, Whom yee thinke that I am, I am not hee: but beholde, there cometh one after mee, whose shoe of his feete I am not worthy to looke.

26 Pee men and brethren, children of the generation of Abraham, and whosoer among you feareth God, to you tis the word of this saluation sent.

27 For the inhabitants of Jerusalem, and their rulers, because they knew him not, nor yett the words of the Prophets, which are read euery Sabbath day, they haue fulfilled them in condemning him.

28 And though they found no cause of death in him, yett desired they Pilate to kill him.

29 And when they had fulfilled all things that were written of him, they tooke him downe from the tree, and put him in a sepulchre.

30 But God raised him vp from the dead.

31 And hee was seene many dayes of them, which came vp with him from Galile to Jerusalem, which are his witness vnto the people.

32 And wee declare vnto you that touching the promise made vnto the fathers, 33 God hath fulfilled it vnto vs their children, in that hee raised vp Iesus, euen as it is written in the second Psalm, Thou art my Sonne: this day haue I begotten thee.

34 Now as concerning that hee raised him vp from the dead, no moze to returne to the grave, he hath said thus, I will giue you the holy things of Dauid which are faithfull.

35 Wherefore hee saith also in another place, Thou wilt not suffer thine holy one to see corruption.

36 Nowbeit, Dauid after hee had serued his time by the counsell of God, hee slept, and was layd with his fathers, and saw corruption.

37 But hee whom God raised vp, saw no corruption.

38 Bee it known vnto you therefore, men and brethren, that through this man is preached vnto you the forgiveness of finnes.

39 And from all things from which yee could not bee iustified by the Law of Moses, by him euery one that beleueth, is iustified.

40 Beware therefore, least that come vpon you, which is spoken of in the Prophets, 41 Behold, yee despisers, and wonder, and haue away: for I worke a worke in youe dayes, a worke which yee shall not beleuee, if a man would declare it you.

42 And when they were come out of the Synagogue of the Jewes, the Gentiles besought, that they would preach these words to them the next Sabbath day.

43 Now when the Congregation was dissolved, many of the Jewes, and Proselytes that feared God, followed Paul and Barnabas, which spake to them, and exhorted them to continue in the grace of God.

44 And the next Sabbath day came almost the whole cite together, to heare the word of God.

45 But when the Jewes saw the people, they were full of enuie, and vsake againt those things, which were spoken of Paul, contrarying them, and railing on them.

46 Then Paul and Barnabas spake boldly, and said, * It was necessarie that the word of God should first haue bene spoken vnto you: but seeing ye put it from you, and iudge your selues unworthy of euertasting life, loe, we turne to the Gentiles.

47 For so hath the Lord commanded vs, saying, * I haue made thee a light of the Gentiles, that thou shouldest see the saluation vnto the end of the world.

48 And when the Gentiles heard it, they were glad, & glorified the word of the Lord: and as many as were ordeined vnto eternall life, beleeued.

49 Thus the word of the Lord was published throughout the whole countrey.

50 But the Jewes stirred certaine deuout and honourable women, and the chiefe men of the cite, and raised persecution againt Paul and Barnabas, and expelled them out of their coastes.

51 But they * shooke off the dust of their feete againt them, and came vnto Iconium.

52 And the disciples were filled with ioy, and with the holy Ghost.

CHAP. XIII.

3 God giueth success to his word. 6 Paul and Barnabas preach at Iconium and are persecuted. 13 At Lystra they would doe sacrifice to Barnabas and Paul, which refuse it, and exhort the people to worship the true God. 19 Paul is stoned. 22 They confirme the disciples in faith and patience. 23 Appoint ministers. 26 And passing through many places, make report of their diligence at Antiochia.

And it came to passe in Iconium, that they went both together into the Synagogue of the Jewes, and so spake, that a great multitude both of the Jewes and of the Grecians beleeued.

2 But the * unbelceuing Jewes stirred vp, and corrupted the mindes of the Gentiles againt the brethren.

3 So therefore they abode there a long time, and spake boldly in the Lord, which gaue testimonie vnto the word of his grace, and caused signes and wonders to be done by their hands.

4 But the people of the cite were diuided: and some were with the Jewes, and some with the Apostles.

5 And when there was an assault made both of the Gentiles, and of the Jewes with their rulers, to doe them violence, and to stone them,

6 They were ware of it, and fled vnto Lystra, and Derbe, cities of Lycaonia, and vnto the region round about,

7 And there were preaching the Gospell. 8 Now there late a certaine man at Lystra, impotent in his feete, which was a creeple from his mothers wombe, who had neuer walked.

9 He heard Paul speake who beholding him, and perceiuing that he had faith to bee healed, 10 Said with a lowde voyce, † Stand vpright on thy feete. And he leaped vp, and walked.

11 Then when the people saw what Paul had done, they lifted vp their voyces, saying in the speech of Lycaonia, Gods are come downe to vs in the likenesse of men.

12 And they called Barnabas, Jupiter, and Paul, Mercurius, because hee was the chiefe speaker.

13 Then Jupiters Priest, which was before their cite, brought buls with garlands vnto the cite, and would haue sacrificed with the people.

14 But when the Apostles Barnabas and Paul heard it, they rent their clothes, and ranne in among the people, crying, 15 And saying, Men, why doe yee these things? For are euery men subiect to the like passions that ye be, and preach vnto you, that yee should turne from these vaine idoles vnto the liuing God, * which made heauen and earth, and the sea, and all things that in them are.

18 And speaking these things, scarce restrained they the people, that they had not sacrificed vnto them †.

19 Then there came certaine Jewes from Antiochia and Iconium, which when they had perswaded the people, † * stoned Paul, and drew him out of the cite, supposing hee had bene dead.

20 Howbeit, as the disciples stood round about him, he arose vp, and came into the cite, and the next day he departed with Barnabas to Derbe.

21 And after they had preached to that cite, and had taught many, they returned to Lystra, and to Iconium, and to Antiochia, 22 Confirming the disciples hearts, and exhorting them to continue in the faith, affirming that we must through many afflictions enter into the kingdome of God.

23 And when they had ordeined them Elders by election in euery Church, and payed, and fasted, they commended them to the Lord in whom they beleeued.

24 Thus they went thorowout Pisidia, and came to Pamphylia.

25 And when they had preached the word in Perga, they came downe to Attalia.

26 And thence sailed to Antiochia, from whence they had bene commended vnto the grace of God, to the worke which they had fulfilled.

27 And when they were come, and had gathered the Church together, they rehearsed all the things that God had done by them, and how hee had opened the doore of faith vnto the Gentiles.

CHAP. XV.

1 Variance about circumcision. 22 The Apostles send their determination to the Churches. 35 Paul and Barnabas preach at Antiochia, 39 And separate companis because of Jehu Marke.

Then came downe certaine from Iudea, and taught the brethren, saying, Except ye be circumcised after the maner of Moyses, ye cannot be saved.

2 And when there was great dissention and disputacion by Paul and Barnabas against them, they ordeined that Paul and Barnabas, & certaine other of them should goe vp to Ierusalem vnto the Apostles and Elders about this question.

3 Thus being sent forth by the Church, they passed through Phenice, and Samaria, declaring the conuersion of the Gentiles: and they brought great ioy vnto all the brethren.

4 And when they were come to Ierusalem, they were receiued of the Church, and of the Apostles and Elders, and they declared what things God had done by them.

5 But said they, certaine of the sect of the Pharisees, which did beleue, rose vp, saying, that it was needfull to circumcise them, and to commaund them to keepe the Law of Moyses.

6 Then the Apostles and Elders came together to looke to this matter.

7 And when there had bene great disputacion, Peter rose vp, and sayde vnto them, Ye men and brethren, yee knowe that a good while agoe, among vs God chose out me, that the Gentiles by my mouth should heare the word of the Gospel, and beleue.

8 And God which knoweth the hearts, bare them witness, in giuing vnto them the holy Ghost, euen as he did vnto vs.

9 And hee put no difference betwene vs and them, after that by faith hee had purified their hearts.

10 Now therefore, why tempt ye God, to lay a yoke on the disciples neckes, which neither our fathers, nor wee were able to beare?

11 But we beleue, through the grace of the Lord Iesus Christ to bee saved, euen as they doe.

12 Then all the multitude kept silence, and heard Barnabas and Paul, which told what signes and wonders God had done among the Gentiles by them.

13 And when they held their peace, James answered, saying, Men and brethren, hearken vnto me.

14 Simon hath declared how God first did visite the Gentiles, to take of them a people vnto his Name.

15 And to this agree the words of the Prophets, as it is written,

16 After this I will returne, and will build againe the Tabernacle of David, which is fallen downe, and the ruines thereof will I build againe, and I will let it vp,

17 That the residue of men might seeke after the Lord, and all the Gentiles vpon whom my Name is called, saith the Lord which doeth all these things.

18 From the beginning of the world God knoweth all his worke.

19 Wherefore my sentence is, that wee trouble not them of the Gentiles that are turned to God, 20 But that wee write vnto them, that they abstaine themselves from filthinesse of idoles, and fornication, and that that is strangled, and from blood.

21 For as much as these of old time hath in euery cite them that preach him, seeing he is read in the Synagogues euery Sabbath day.

22 Then it seemed good to the Apostles and Elders with the whole Church to chuse men of their owne companie to Antiochia with Paul and Barnabas: to wit, Judas whose surname was Barsabas, and Silas, which were chiefe men among the brethren.

23 And wrote letters by them after this maner, THE APOSTLES, and the Elders, and the brethren, vnto the brethren which are of the Gentiles in Antiochia, and in Syria, and in Cilicia, send greeting.

24 For as much as wee haue heard, that certaine which departed from vs, haue troubled you with words, and embred your mindes, saying, Ye must be circumcised and keepe the Lawe, to whom wee gaue no such commandement:

25 It seemed therefore good to vs, when wee were come together with one accord, to send chosen men vnto you, with our beloued Barnabas and Paul, 26 Men that haue giuen by their liues for the Name of our Lord Iesus Christ.

27 Wee haue therefore sent Judas and Silas, which shall also tell you the same things by mouth.

28 For it seemed good to the holy Ghost, and to vs, to lay no more burthen vpon you, then these necessarie things, 29 That is, that ye abstaine from things offered to idoles, and blood, and that that is strangled, and from fornication: for which if yee keepe your selues, yee shall doe well. Fare ye well.

30 Now when they were departed, they came to Antiochia, and after that they had assembled the multitude, they deliuered the Epistle.

31 And when they had read it, they reioiced for the consolation.

32 And Judas and Silas being Prophets, exhorted the brethren with many words and strengthened them.

33 And after they had tarried there a space, they were let goe in peace of the brethren vnto the Apostles.

34 Notwithstanding Silas thought good to abide there still.

36 But after certaine dayes, Paul said vnto Barnabas, Let vs returne, and visite our brethren in euery cite, where we haue preached the word of the Lord, and see how they doe.

37 And Barnabas † counselled to take with them Iohn called Marke.

38 But Paul thought it not meet to take him vnto their company, which departed from them from Pamphylia, and went not with them to the worke.

39 Then were they so stirred, that they departed asunder one from another, so that Barnabas tooke Marke, and sayed vnto Cyprus.

40 And Paul chose Silas and departed, being commended of the brethren vnto the grace of God.

41 And he went thorow Syria and Cilicia, stablishing the Churches.

CHAP. XVI.

1 When Paul had circumcised Timothee, hee took him with him. 7 The Spirit calleth them from one country to another. 14 Lydia is conuerted. 28 Paul and Silas imprisoned, conuers the Gaoler, 37 and are deliuered as Romanes.

Then came hee to Derbe and to Lystra: And beholde, a certaine discipule was there, named * Timotheus, a womans sonne, which was a Jewesse and beleued, but his father was a Grecian.

2 Of whom the brethren which were at Lystra and Iconium, reported well.

3 Therefore Paul would that he should go forth with him, and tooke and * circumcised him, because of the Jewes which were in those quarters: for they knew all that his father was a Grecian.

4 And as they went thorow the cities, they deliuered them the decrees to keepe, ordeined of the Apostles and Elders, which were at Ierusalem.

5 And so were the Churches stablished in the faith, and increased in number dayly.

6 Now when they had gone thorowout Phrygia, and the region of Galatia, they were forbidden of the holy Ghost, to preach the word in * Asia.

7 Then came they to Mysia, and sought to goe into Bithinia: but the Spirit † suffered them not.

8 Therefore they passed thorow Mysia, and came downe to * Troas, 9 Where a vision appeared to Paul in the night. There stooke a man of Macedonia, and prayed him, saying, Come into Macedonia, and helpe vs.

10 And after he had seene the vision, immediately hee prepared to goe into Macedonia, being * assured that the Lord had called vs to preach the Gospel vnto them.

11 Then went we forth from Troas, and with a streight course came to Samothracia, and the next day to * Neapolis,

12 And from thence to Philippi, which is the chiefe cite in the parts of Macedonia, and whose inhabitants came from Rome to dwell there, and we were in that cite abiding certaine dayes.

13 And on the Sabbath day, wee went out of the cite, besides a riuer where they were wont to pray: and we sat downe, and spake vnto the women, which were come together.

14 And a certaine woman named Lydia, a seller of purple, of the cite of the Thyatirians, which worshipped God, heard vs: whose heart the Lord opened, that she attended vnto the things which Paul spake.

15 And when shee was baptized and her household, shee besought vs, saying, If ye haue iudged me to be faithfull to the Lord, come into mine house and abide here: and she constrained vs.

16 And it came to passe, that as we went to prayer, a certaine madee hauing * a spirit of diuination, met vs, which gaue her spectacles much vantage with diuining.

17 She followed Paul and vs, and cried, saying, These men are the seruants of the most high God, which shewe vnto vs the way of saluation.

18 And this did she many dayes: but Paul being grieved, turned about, and said to the spirit, I command thee in the name of Iesus Christ, that thou come out of her. And hee came out the same hour.

19 Now when her masters saw that the hope of their gaine was gone, they caught Paul and Silas, and drew them into the market place vnto the Magistrates,

20 And brought them to the gouernours, saying, These men which are Jewes, trouble our cite,

21 And preach ordinances, which are not lawfull for vs to receiue, neither to obserue, seeing we are Romanes.

22 The people also rose by together against them, and the gouernours rent * their clothes, and * commanded them to be beaten with rods.

23 And when they had beaten them sore, they cast them into prison, commanding the Gaoler to keepe them surely.

24 Who hauing receiued such commandement, cast them into the inner prison, and made them sitte fast in the stocks.

25 Now at midnight Paul and Silas prayed, and sung a Psalme vnto God: and the prisoners heard them.

26 And suddenly there was a great earthquake, so that the foundation of the prison was shaken: and by and by all the doores opened, and euery mans bands were loosed.

27 Then the keeper of the prison waked out of his sleepe, and when hee saw the prison doores open, hee drew out his sword, and would haue killed himselfe, supposing the prisoners had been fled.

28 But Paul cried with a loude voyce, saying, Doe thy selfe no harme: for wee are all here.

29 Then he called for a light, and leaped in, and came trembling, and fell downe before Paul and Silas, 30 And brought them out, and said, Sirs, what must I doe to be saved?

C H A P. XVII.

1 Paul cometh to Thessalonica, 4 Where some receiue him, and others persecute him. 11 To search the Scriptures. 17 He disputeth at Athens, and the fruit of his doctrine.

Now as they passed thorow Amphipolis, and Apollonia, they came to Thessalonica, where was a Synagogue of the Iewes.

2 And Paul, as his manner was, went in vnto them, and thre Sabbath daies disputed with them by the Scriptures.

3 Opening & alledging that Christ must haue suffered, and risen againe from the dead: and this is Iesus Christ, whom, sayd hee, I preach to you.

4 And some of them beleued, and toynd in company with Paul and Silas: altho the Grecians that feared God, a great multitude, and of the chiefe women not a few.

5 But the Iewes which beleued not, moued with enmie, tooke vnto them certaine vagabonds, and wicked fellows, and when they had assembled the multitude, they made a tumult in the cite, & made assault against the house of Iason and sought to bring them out to the people.

6 But when they found them not, they drew Iason and certaine brethren vnto the heads of the cite, crying, These are they which haue subuerted the state of the worlde, and here they are,

7 Whom Iason hath receiued, and these all doe against the decrees of Cesar, saying, That there is another King, one Iesus.

8 Then they troubled the people, and the heads of the cite, when they heard these things.

9 Notwithstanding when they had receiued sufficient assurance of Iason and of the other, they let them goe.

10 And the brethren immediately sent away Paul and Silas by night vnto Berea, which when they were come thither, entred into the Synagogue of the Iewes.

11 These were also more noble men then they which were at Thessalonica, which receiued the word with all readinesse, & searched the Scriptures dayly, whether those things were so.

12 Therefore many of them beleued, and of honest women, which were Grecians, and men not a few.

13 But when the Iewes of Thessalonica knewe, that the word of God was also preached of Paul at Berea, they came thither also and moued the people.

14 But by and by the brethren sent away Paul to go as it were to the Sea: but Silas and Timotheus abode there still.

15 And they that did conduct Paul, brought him vnto Athens: and when they had receiued a commandement vnto Silas and Timotheus that they should come to him at once, they departed.

16 Now while Paul waited for them at Athens, his spirit was kindled in him, when he saw the cite subiect to idolatry.

17 Therefore hee disputed in the Synagogue with the Iewes, and with them that were religious, and in the market dayly, with whomsoeuer he met.

18 Then certaine Philosophers of the Epicures, and of the Stoicks, disputed with him, and some sayd, What will this babbler say? Others sayd, He seemeth to be a setter forth of strange gods (because hee preached vnto them Iesus, and the resurrection)

19 And they tooke him, and brought him into Mars streete, saying, May wee not know, what this new doctrine whercof thou speakest, is?

20 For thou bringest certaine strange things vnto our eares: wee would knowe therefore, what these things meane.

21 For all the Athenians and strangers which dwelt there, gaue themselves to nothing els, but either to tell or to heare some newes.

22 Then Paul stood in the mids of Mars streete, and sayd, Ye men of Athens, I perceiue that in all things ye are too superstitious.

23 For as I passed by, and beheld your deuotions, I founde an altar whercin

29 Forasmuch then as we are the generation of God, we ought not to thinke that the Godhead is like vnto golde, or siluer, or stone grauen by art and the inuention of man.

30 And the time of this ignorance God regarded not: but now he admonisheth all men euery where to repent, 31 Because hee hath appointed a day in the which he will iudge the world in righteousness, by that man who he hath appointed, wherof he hath giuen an assurance to all men, in that he hath raised him from the dead.

32 Nowe when they heard of the resurrection from the dead, some mocked, and other sayd, We will heare thee againe of this thing.

33 And so Paul departed from among them.

34 Howbeit certaine men came vnto Paul, and beleued: among whom was also Decius Arcepagita, and a woman named Damaris, and other with them.

CHAP. XVIII.

3 Paul laboureth with his hands, and preacheth at Corinthus. 6 He is detested of the Iewes, 8 Yet received of many. 9 And comforted of the Lord. 14 Gallio resisteth to meddle with religion. 18 Pauls vowe. 21 Hu saith in the providence of God, 22 And care for the brethren. 24 The praise of Apollus.

A fter these things, Paul departed from Athens, and came to Corinthus,

2 And found a certaine Jew named Aquila, bozne in Pontus, lately come from Italy, and his wife Priscilla (because that Claudius had commaunded all Iewes to depart from Rome) and he came vnto them.

3 And because he was of the same craft, he abode with them and wrought (for their craft was to make tents.)

4 And he disputed in the Synagogue euery Sabbath day, and exhorted the Iewes and the Grecians.

5 Nowe when Silas and Timotheus were come from Macedonia, Paul burned in spirit, testifying to the Iewes that Iesus was the Christ.

6 And when they resisted and blasphemed, he shooke his raiment, and sayd vnto them, Your blood be vpon your owne head: I am cleane: from henceforth will I goe vnto the Gentiles.

7 So he departed thence, and entred into a certaine mans house, named Titus, a worshipper of God, whose house toynded hard to the Synagogue.

8 And Crispus the chiefe ruler of the Synagogue, beleued in the Lord with all his household: and many of the Corinthians hearing it, beleued and were baptizyd.

9 Then sayd the Lord to Paul in the night by a vision, Feare not, but speake, and hold not thy peace.

10 For I am with thee, and no man shall lay hands on thee to hurt thee: for I haue much people in this cite.

11 So he continued there a yeere and sixe moneths, & taught the word of God among them.

12 Nowe when Gallio was deputie of Achaia, the Iewes arose with one accord against Paul, and brought him to the iudgement seat, 13 Saying, This fellow perswadeth men to worship God contrary to the Law.

14 And as Paul was about to open his mouth, Gallio sayde vnto the Iewes, If it were a matter of wrong, or an euill deed, I yee Iewes, I would according to reason inauite you.

15 But if it be a question of words, and names, and of your Lawe, looke yee to it your selues: for I will bee no iudge of those things.

16 And he drave them from the iudgement seat.

17 Then tooke all the Grecians Sosthenes, the chiefe ruler of the Synagogue, and beat him because of the iudgement seat: but Gallio cared nothing for those things.

18 But when Paul had taried there yet a good while, he tooke leaue of the brethren, and sayled into Syria (and with him Priscilla and Aquila) after that he had shorne his head in Cenchrea: for he had a vow.

19 Then hee came to Ephesus, and left them there: but hee entred into the Synagogue and disputed with the Iewes, 20 Who desired him to tarry a longer time with them: but hee would not consent.

21 But bad them farewell, saying, I must needs keepe this feast that cometh, in Jerusalem: but I will retorne againe vnto you, if God will. So he sayled from Ephesus.

22 And when he came downe to Cesarea, he went vnto Jerusalem: and when hee had saluted the Church, he went downe vnto Antiochia.

23 Now when hee had taried there a while, he departed, and went thorow the country of Galatia and Phrygia by order, strengthening all the disciples.

24 And a certaine Jew named Apollus, bozne at Alexandria, came to Ephesus, d And boyled in spirit, testifying to the Iewes that Iesus was the certaine zeale.

26 And hee began to speake boldly in the Synagogue. Whom when Aquila & Priscilla had heard, they tooke him vnto them, and expounded vnto him the way of God more perfectly.

27 And when he was minded to goe into Achaia, the brethren exhorted him, wrote to the disciples to receive him: and after hee was come thither, hee holpe them much which had beleued through grace.

28 For mightily hee confuted publickely the Jewes with great vehemencie, shewing by the Scriptures, that Iesus was the Christ.

CHAP. XIX.

6 The holy Ghost is given by Pauls hands. 9 The Jewes blaspheme his doctrine which was confirmed by miracles. 13 The raynes, and punishment of the Conuersers, and the fruit that came thereof. 24 Demetrius rayseth sedition vnder pretence of Diana. 41 Yet God deliuereth his, and appeareth it by the Towne clerke.

AND it came to passe, while Apollos was at Corinthus, that Paul when hee passed thow the byrr coastes, came to Ephesus, and found certaine disciples,

2 And layd vnto them, haue ye receiued the holy Ghost since ye beleued? And they sayd vnto him, Wee haue not so much as heard whether there be an holy Ghost.

3 And hee layd vnto them, vnto what were ye then baptized? And they sayd, vnto Johns baptisme.

4 Then said Paul, John verily baptized with the Baptisme of repentance, saying vnto the people, that they should beleue in him, which should come after him, that is, in Christ Iesus.

5 So when they heard it, they were baptized in the Name of the Lord Iesus.

6 And Paul layd his hands vpon them, and the holy Ghost came on them, and they spake the tongues and prophesied.

7 And all the men were about twelue.

8 Moreover, he went into the Synagogue, and spake boldly for the space of thre monethes, disputing and exhorting to the things that appertaine to the kingdom of God.

9 But when certaine were hardened, and dissembled, speaking euill of the way of God before the multitude, hee departed from them, and separated the disciples, and disputed daily in the schoole of one Tyrannus.

10 And this was done by the space of two yeres, so that all they which dwelt in Asia, heard the Word of the Lord Iesus, both Jewes and Grecians.

11 And God wrought no small miracles by the hands of Paul,

12 So that from his body were brought vnto the lithe, kerchiefs, or handkerchiefs, and the diseases departed from them, and the euill spirits went out of them.

13 Then certaine of ymaginabond Jewes Hierocitils, took in hand to name ouer them which had euill spirits, the Name of the Lord Iesus, saying, Wee adure you by Iesus whom Paul preacheth.

14 And there were certaine sonnes of Scena a Jew, the Priest, about seuen which did this.

15 And the euill spirit answered, and said, Iesus I acknowledge, and Paul I knowe: but who are ye?

16 And the man in whom the euill spirit was, ranne on them, and overcame them, and pincialled against them, so that they fledde out of that house, naked and wounded.

17 And this was knowne to all the Jewes and Grecians also, which dwelt at Ephesus, and feare came on them all, and the Name of the Lord Iesus was magnified.

18 And many that beleued, came and confessed, and shewed their workes.

19 Many also of them which vied curious arts, brought their bookes, and burned them before all men, and they counted the price of them, and found it <sup>to be</sup> sixtie thousand pieces of siluer.

20 So the Word of God grew mightily and pncialled.

21 Now when these things were accomplished, Paul purposed by the Spirit to passe thow Macedonia and Achaia, and to go to Jerusalem, saying, After I haue bene there, I must also see Rome.

22 So sent hee into Macedonia two of them that ministered vnto him, Timotheus and Erastus, but hee remained in Asia for a season.

23 And the same time there arose no small trouble about that way.

24 For a certaine man named Demetrius, a siluer smith, which made siluer temples of Diana, by whome great gaines vnto the craftsmen:

25 Whom hee called together, with the workemen of like things, and sayde, Sirs, ye know that by this craft wee haue our goods,

26 Moreover, ye see and heare, that not alone at Ephesus, but almost throughout all Asia this Paul hath perswaded, and turned away much people, saying, That they bee not gods which are made with hands;

27 So that not onely this thing is dangerous vnto vs, <sup>o</sup> that the state should bee reprooued, but also that the temple of the great goddesse Diana should bee nothing esteemed, and that it woulde come to passe, that her magnificence, which I see that Iust, which thing is contrary to the doing for they preferre Religion about all, all Asia, and the world worshippeth, should be destroyed.

28 Now when they heard it, they were full of wrath, and cried out, saying, Great is Diana of the Ephelians.

29 And the whole citie was full of confusion, and they rushed into the common place with one assent, & caught Caius, and Aristarchus, men of Macedonia, & Pauls companions of his journey.

30 And when Paul would haue entred in vnto the people, the disciples suffered him not.

31 Certain also of the chiefe of Asia which were his friends, sent vnto him, desiring him that hee would not present himselfe in the common place.

32 Some therefore cryed one thing, and some another: for the assembly was out of order, and the more part knew not wherefore they were come together.

33 And some of the company drewe forth Alexander, the Jewes thrusting him forwards. Alexander then beckened with the hand, and would haue excused the matter to the people.

34 But when they knew that he was a Jew, there arose a shout almost for the space of two houres, of all men, crying, Great is Diana of the Ephelians.

35 Then the towne Clerke, when he had staied the people, said, Ye men of Ephesus, what man is it that knoweth not, how that the citie of the Ephelians is a worshippet of the great goddess Diana, and of the image which came downe from Iupiter?

36 Seeing then that no man can speake against these things, yer ought to be appealed, and to doe nothing rashly.

37 For ye haue brought hither these men, which haue neither committed sacriledge, neither doe blaspheme your goddesse.

38 Wherefore, if Demetrius & the craftsmen which are with him, haue a matter against any man, the law is open, and there are Deputies: let them accuse one another.

39 But if ye enquire any thing concerning other matters, it may bee determined in a lawfull assembly.

40 For we are euen in leopordie to be accused of this dayes sedition, forasmuch as there is no cause, whereby we may giue a reason of this concourse of people.

41 And when he had thus spoken, he let the assembly depart.

CHAP. XX.

1 Paul goeth into Macedonia and into Greece. 7 He celebrateth the Lords Supper, and preacheth. 9 At Troas hee reaseth vpon Eutychus. 17 At Ephesus hee callieth the Elders of the Church together, committeth the keeping of Gods stocke vnto them, warneth them of false teachers, maketh his prayer with them, and departeth by shippe toward Jerusalem.

Now after the tumult was ceased, Paul called the Disciples vnto him, and embraced them, and departed to goe into Macedonia.

2 And when he had gone throug those partes, and had exhorted them with many wordes, he came into Grecia.

3 And hauing taried there three moneths because the Jewes layd waite for him, as he was about to saile into Syria, hee purposed to returne through Macedonia.

4 And there accompanied him into Asia, Supatris of Berea, and of them of Thessalonica, Aristarchus, and Secundus, and Gaus of Derbe, and Timotheus, and of them of Asia, Tychicus, and Trophimus.

5 These went before, and taried vs at Troas.

6 And we sailed forth from Philippi after the dayes of vnlauened bread, and came vnto them to Troas in foue dayes, where we abode seuen dayes.

7 And the first day of the weeke, the disciples being come together to breake bread, Paul preached vnto them, ready to depart on the morrow, and continued the preaching vnto midnight.

8 And there were many lights in an upper chamber, where they were gathered together.

9 And there sat in a window a certaine yong man named Eutychus, fallen into a deepe sleepe: and as Paul was long preaching, hee ouercome with sleepe, fell downe from the third loft, and was taken by dead.

10 But Paul went downe, and layed himselfe vpon him, and embraced him, saying, Trouble not your selfes: for his life is in him.

11 So when Paul was come by againe, and had broken bread, and eaten, hee commured a long while till the dawning of the day, and so he departed.

12 And they brought the boy aliue, and they were not a little comforted.

13 Then we went forth to ship, and sailed vnto the cite of Assos, that wee might receiue Paul there. for so had he appointed, and would himselfe goe afoot.

14 Now when he was come vnto vs to Assos, and we had receiued him, we came to Mitylenes.

15 And we sailed thence, and came the next day ouer against Chios, and the next day we arrived at Samos, and taried at Troglitium: the next day we came to Miletum.

16 For Paul had determined to saile by Ephesus, because hee would not spend the time in Asia: for hee halted to be, if he could possibly, at Jerusalem, at the day of Pentecost.

17 Wherefore from Miletum hee sent to Ephesus, and called the Elders of the Church.

18 Who when they were come to him, he said vnto them, Ye know from the first day that I came into Asia, after what manner I haue bene with you at all seasons,

19 Seruing the Lord with all modestie, and with many teares, and tentations, which came vnto mee by the layings awaite of the Jewes, 21 Witnessing both to the Jewes, and to the Grecians the repentance toward God, and faith toward our Lord Iesus Christ.

22 And now behold, I go bound in the spirit vnto Ierusalem, and know not what things shall come vnto me there.

23 Saue that the holy Ghost witnesseth in euery city, saying, that bandes and afflictions abide me t.

24 But I passe not at all, neither is my life deere vnto my selfe, so that I may fulfill my course with ioy, and the ministracion which I haue receiued of the Lord Iesus, to testify the Gospel of the grace of God.

25 And now, behold, I know that henceforth ye al, though whom I haue gone preaching the kingdome of God, shall see my face no more.

26 Wherefore I take you to recorde this day, that I am pure from the blood of all men.

27 For I haue kept nothing backe, but haue shewed you all the counsell of God.

28 Take heed therefore vnto your selues, and to all the flocks, whereof the holy Ghost hath made you ouerscers, to feed the Church of God, which hee hath purchased with his owne blood.

29 For I know this, that after my departing shall grieuous wolues enter in among you, not sparing the flicke.

30 Moreouer of your owne selues shall men arise, speaking p peruerse things, to draw disciples after them.

31 Wherefore watch, and remember, that by the space of thre yeeres I cealed not to warne euery one, both night and day with feares.

32 And now, brethren, I commend you to God, and to the word of his grace, which is able to build further, and to giue you an inheritance, among all them which are sanctified.

36 And when hee had thus spoken, hee kneeled downe, and prayed with them all.

37 Then they wept all abundantly, and fell on Pauls necke, and kissed him, 38 Being chiefly for the words which he spake, That they should see his face no more. And they accompanied him vnto the ship.

CHAP. XXI.

5 The common prayers of the faithfull. 9 Philips foure daughters prophetes. 13 Pauls constancy to beare the crosse, as Agabus & other forspake, although he were otherwise counselled by the brethren. 28 The great danger that he was in, and how he escaped.

As we lanchd forth, and were departed from them, wee came with a straight course vnto Coos, and the day following vnto the Rhodes, and from thence vnto Iarara.

2 And wee found a ship that went ouer vnto Iphenice, & went aboard, and set forth.

3 And when we had discouered Cyprius, we left it on the left hand, and sailed toward Syria, and arrued at Tyzus: for there the ship vnladed the burden.

4 And when we had found disciples, we taried there seue daies. And they told Paul through the Spirit, that he should not go vp to Ierusalem.

5 But when the dayes were ended, wee departed and went our way, and they all accompanied vs with their wiuues & children, euen out of the cite: and we kneeling downe on the shore, prayed.

6 Then when wee had embraced one another, wee tooke shippe, and they returned home.

7 And when wee had ended the course from Tyzus, we arrived at Iotolomais, and saluted the brethren, and abode with them one day.

8 And the next day Paul and they that were with him, departed, & came vnto Cesarea: and we entred into the house of Philyp the Euangelist, which was one of the seuen Discouers, and abode with him.

9 Now he had foure daughters, virgins, which did prophesie.

10 And as we taried there many dayes, there came a certaine Prophet from Iudaea, named Agabus.

11 And when hee was come vnto vs, hee tooke Pauls girdle, and bound his owne hands and feet, and said, Thus saith the holy Ghost, So shall the Jewes at Ierusalem bind the man that oweth this girdle, and shall deliuer him into the handes of the Gentiles.

12 And when wee had heard these things, both wee & other of the same place besought him that he would not go vp to Ierusalem.

13 Then Paul answered, and said, What doe ye weeping and breaking mine heart? For I am ready not to be bound onely, but also to die at Ierusalem for the name of the Lord Iesus.

14 So when he would not be perswaded, we cealed, saying, The will of the Lord be done.

15 And after those dayes we trusted by our fardels, and went vp to Ierusalem.

16 There were with vs also certaine of the disciples of Cesarea, and brought with them one Mnason of Cyprius, an olde disciple, with whom we should lodge.

17 And when wee were come to Ierusalem, the brethren receiued vs gladly.

18 And the next day Paul went in with vs vnto James: and all the Elders were there assembled.

19 And when hee had embraced them, hee told by order all things, that God had wrought amongst the Gentiles by his ministracion.

20 So when they heard it, they glorified

b The holy Spirit receiued vnto them the persecutions that Paul should haue made against him, & the same spirit also strengthened Paul to sustaine them.

c This office of Deaconship was but for a time according as the congregation had need, or otherwise.

d God would haue his seruants bands known, to the intent that no man should thinke that hee cast himselfe into wilful danger.

e This was not to make Paul afraid, but to encourage him against the brunt.

f Who was the chiefe or superintendent of the Church of Ierusalem.

fied the Lord, and said vnto him, Thou seeft brother, how many thousand Iewes there are which beleene, and they are all zealous of the law.

21 Now they are informed of thee, that thou teachest all the Iewes which are among the Gentiles, to forsake Moses, and sayest, that they ought not to circumcise their chyldren, neither to linc after the customs.

22 What is then to be done? the multitude must needs come together: for they shall heare that thou art come.

23 Doe therefore this that wee say to thee. See howe <sup>b</sup> foure men, which haue made a yane.

24 Them take, and i purrifie thy selfe with them, and contribute with them, that they may <sup>a</sup> shane their heads: and all shall know, that those things, whereof they haue bin informed concerning thee, are nothing, but that thou thy selfe also walkest and keepest the Law.

25 For as touching the Gentiles, which beleene, wee haue written, and determined <sup>a</sup> that they obserue no such thing, but that they keepe themselves from things offered to idoles, and from blood, & from that that is strangled, and from fornication.

26 Then Paul tooke the men, and the next day was purified with them, and entered into the Temple, <sup>a</sup> declaring the accomplishment of the dayes of the purification, vntill that an offering should be offered for euery one of them.

27 And when the seven dayes were almost ended, the Iewes which were of Asia (when they saw him in the Temple) mooued all the people, and <sup>b</sup> layde handes on him, 28 Crying, Men of Israel, helpe: this is the man that teacheth all men euery where against the people, and the law, and this place: moreover he hath brought Grecians into the Temple, and hath <sup>c</sup> polluted this holy place.

29 For they had seene before Trophimus an Ephelian with him in the citie, whom they supposed that Paul had brought into the Temple.

30 Then all the citie was mooued, & the people ran together: and they tooke Paul, and drew him out of the Temple, and lozdw with the doores were shut.

31 But as they went about to kill him, stings came vnto the chiefe Captaine of the band, that all Ierusalem was on an uprore.

32 Who immediatly tooke souldiers, and <sup>a</sup> Centurions, and ranne <sup>b</sup> downe vnto them: and when they saw the chiefe Captaine and the souldiers, they left beating of Paul.

33 Then the chiefe Captaine came neere and tooke him, and commaunded him to be bound with two chaines, and demanded who he was, and what he had done.

34 And one cryed this, another that, among the people. So when hee could not know the certaintye for the tumult, he commaunded him to be led into the castle.

35 And when hee came vnto the grieues, it was so that he was boyme of the souldiers, for the violence of the people.

36 For the multitude of the people followed after, crying, Away with him.

37 And as Paul should haue bene led into the castle, hee laid vnto the chiefe captaine, May I speake vnto thee? Who sayd, Canst thou speake Greeke?

38 Art not thou the <sup>a</sup> Egyptian, who before these dayes raised a sedition, & led out into the wilderness foure thousand men that were murderers?

39 Then Paul sayd, Doubtlesse I am a man which am a Jew, and citizen of <sup>a</sup> Carisus a famous citie in Cilicia, and I beseech thee, suffer me to speake vnto the people.

40 And when hee had giuen him licence, Paul stood on the grieues, & beckened with the hand vnto the people: and when there was made great silence, he spake vnto them in the Hebrew tongue, saying.

CHAP. XXII.

3 Paul reareth an account of his life, and doctrine. 25 He escapeth the whyp by reason he was a citizen of Rome.

Y E men, brethren, and fathers, heare my defence now toward you.

2 (And when they heard that he spake in the Hebrew tongue to them, they kept the more silence, and he sayd)

3 I am verily a man, which am a Iewe, boyme in <sup>a</sup> Carisus in Cilicia, but brought up in this citie at the feete of Gamaliel, and instructed according to the perfect maner of the Law of the fathers, and was zealous toward God, as ye all are this day.

4 <sup>a</sup> And I persecuted this way vnto the death, binding & deliuering into prison both men and women.

5 As also the chiefe Priest doth beare me witnesse, and all the state of the Elders: of <sup>a</sup> who also I receiued letters vnto the brethren, and went to Damascus to bring them which were there, bound vnto Ierusalem, that they might be punished.

6 And so it was, as Iourneyed and was come neere vnto Damascus about noone, that suddenly there shone from heauen a great light round about me.

7 So I fell vnto the earth, and heard a voice, saying vnto me, Saul, Saul, why persecutest thou me?

8 Then I answered, Who art thou, Lord? And hee sayd to mee, I am Iesus of Nazaret, whom thou persecutest.

9 Moreover, they that were with mee, saw indeed a light, and were afraid, but they heard not the voyce of him that spake vnto me.

10 Then I sayd, What shal I doe, Lord? And the Lord sayd vnto mee, Arise, and goe into Damascus: and there it shall be told thee of all things, which are appointed for thee to doe.

11 So when I could not see for the glory of that light, I was led by the hand of them that were with me, and came into Damascus.

12 And one Ananias, a godly man, as pertaining to the Law, having good report of all the Jewes which dwell there.

13 Came unto me, and stood, and said vnto me, Brother Saul, receiue thy sight: and that same houre I looked vpon him.

14 And he said, The God of our fathers hath appointed thee, that thou shouldest know his will, and shouldest see that I am one, and shouldest heare the voyce of his mouth.

15 For thou shalt be his witnesse vnto all men, of the things which thou hast seen and heard.

16 Now therefore why tarriest thou? Arise, & be baptized, & wash away thy finnes, in calling on the Name of the Lord.

17 And it came to passe, that when I was come againe to Ierusalem, and prayed in the Temple, I was in a trance, 18 And saw him laying vnto mee, Make haste, & get thee quickly out of Ierusalem: for they will not receiue thy witnesse concerning me.

19 Then I said, Lord, they know that I am *pysioned, and bear in euery Synagogue their that beleeued in thee.

20 And when the blood of thy martyrs Steuen was shed, I also stood by, and consented vnto his death, and kept the clothes of them that slew him.

21 Then he said vnto me, Depart: for I will send thee farre hence vnto the Gentiles.

22 And they heard him vnto this word, but then they lift vp their voyces, and sayd, Away with such a fellow from the earth: for it is not meet that he should liue.

23 And as they cryed and cast off their clothes, and threw dust into the ayre, 24 The chiefe Captaine commaunded him to be led into the Castle, and bade that he should be scourged and examined, that hee might know wherfore they cryed so on him.

25 And as they bound him with thongs, Paul sayd vnto the Centurion that stood by, Is it lawfull for you to scourge one that is a Romane, and not condemned?

26 Now when the Centurion heard it, hee went and told the chiefe Captaine, saying, Take heed what thou doest: for this man is a Romane.

27 Then the chiefe captaine came, & said to him, Tell me: Art thou a Romane? And he sayd, Yea.

28 And the chiefe Captaine answered, With what summe obtainedst thou this burgeship. Then Paul sayd, But I was sold borne.

29 Then straightway they departed from him which should haue examined him: and the chiefe captaine also was afraid, after hee knew that he was a Romane, and that hee had bound him.

30 On the next day, because hee would haue knowne the certaintie wherfore hee was accused of the Jewes, hee looked him from his bowdes, and commaunded the hie Priestes and all their Council to come together: and hee brought Paul, and set him before them.

CHAP. XXIII.

3 The answer of Paul being smitten, and the ouerthrow of his enemies. 11 The Lord encourageh him. 23 And because the Iewes laid waite for him, he is sent to Cesarea.

AND Paul beheld earnestly the Countenace, and said, Men and brethren, I haue in all good conscience serued God vntil this day.

2 Then the hie Priest Ananias commaunded them that stood by, to smitte him on the mouth.

3 Then sayd Paul to him, God will smite thee that thou whitedst: for thou sittest to iudge me according to the Law, and commaundest thou mee to be smitten contrary to the Law?

4 And they that stood by, sayd, Reuilest thou Gods hie Priest?

5 Then sayd Paul, I know not, brethren, that he was the hie Priest: for it is written, Thou shalt not speake euill of the ruler of thy people.

6 But when Paul perceiued that the one part were of the Sadduces, and the other of the Pharisees, he cried in the Council, Men and brethren, I am a Pharisee, the sonne of a Pharisee: I am accused of the hope and resurrection of the dead.

7 And when he had said this, there was a dissention betwene the Pharisees and the Sadduces, so that the multitude was diuided.

8 For the Sadduces say that there is no resurrection, neither Angel nor spirit: but the Pharisees confesse both.

9 Then there was a great cry: and the Scribes of the Pharisees part rose by, and stroue, saying, We finde none euill in this man: but if a spirit or an Angel hath spoken to him, let vs not fight against God.

10 And when there was a great dissention, the chiefe captaine, fearing lest Paul should haue bene pulled in pieces of them, commaunded the souldiers to go downe, and to take him from among them, and to bring him into the castle.

11 Now the night following the Lord stood by him, and sayd, Be of good courage, Paul: for as thou hast testified of me in Ierusalem, so must thou beare witnesse also at Rome.

12 And when the day was come, certaine of the Jewes made an assembly, and bound themselves with an othe, saying, that they would neither eate nor drinke, till they had killed Paul.

13 And they were more then fortie, which had made this conspiracie.

14 And they came to the chiefe Priestes and Elders, and sayd, We haue bound our selues with a solemn othe, that we will eate nothing vntill we haue slaine Paul.

15 Now therefore, yee and the Councill, signifye to the chiefe captaine, that hee bring him forth vnto you to morrow, as though ye would know some thing more perfectly of him, and we, or euer hee come neere, will be ready to kill him.

17 And Paul called one of the Centurions vnto him, and ſaid, Bring this young man vnto the chiefe captaine: for he hath a certayne thing to ſhew him.

18 So he tooke him, and brought him to the chiefe captaine, and ſaid, Paul the priſoner called me vnto him, and prayed mee to bring this yong man vnto thee, which hath ſome thing to ſay vnto thee.

19 Then the chiefe captaine tooke him by the hand, and went apart with him alone, & asked him, What haſt thou to ſhewe me?

20 And he ſaid, The Iewes haue conſpired to deſire thee, that thou wouldeſt bring fourth Paul to morrow into the Council, as though they would inquire ſomewhat of him more perfectly.

21 But let them not perſwade thee: for there lie in waÿt for him of them more then forty men, which haue bound theſelues with an orb, that they will neither eat nor drinke, till they haue killed him: and now are they ready, and wait for thy promiſe.

22 The chiefe captaine then let the yong man depart, and charged him to ſpeake it to no man, that hee had ſhewed him theſe things.

23 And he called vnto him two certayne Centurions, ſaying, Vnto theſe ready two hundred ſouldiers, that they may go to Ceſarea, and horſemen threſcore and ten, and two hundred with darts, at the third houre of the night, 24 And let them make ready an horſe, that Paul being ſet on, may be brought ſafe vnto Felix the Governour.

25 And he wrote an epiſtle in this manner:

26 Claudius Lyſias vnto the moſt noble Governour Felix, ſendeth greeting.

27 As this man was taken of the Iewes, and ſhould haue bene killed of them, I came vpon them with the garriſon, & reſcued him, perceiving that he was a Romane.

28 And when I would haue knowne the cauſe wherefore they accuſed him, I brought him forth into their Council.

29 There I perceived that he was accuſed of queſtions of their Law, but had no crime worthy of death, or of bonds.

30 And when it was ſhewed me, how that the Iewes layd wait for the man, I ſent him ſtraightway into thee, & commanded his accuſers to ſpeak before thee the things that they had againſt him. Farewell.

31 Then the ſouldiers, as it was commanded them, tooke Paul, and brought him by night to Antipatris.

32 And the next day they left the horſemen to go with him, and returned vnto the caſtle.

33 Some when they came to Ceſarea, they deliuered the Epiſtle to the governour, and preſented Paul alſo vnto him.

34 So when the gouernour had read it, hee asked of what pronuntice hee was: and when hee vnderſtood that he was of Cilicia,

Now after ſixe dayes, Ananias the hye Pretit came down with the Elders, and with Tertullus a certayne Oratour, which appeared before the Governour againſt Paul.

2 And when he was called fourth, Tertullus began to accuſe him, ſaying, Seeing that wee haue obtained great quietneſſe through thee, and that many worthy things are done vnto this nation through thy piouidence,

3 Wee acknowledge it wholly, and in all places, moſt noble Felix, with all thanks.

4 But that I bee not tedious vnto thee, I pray thee, that thou wouldeſt heare vs of thy courteſie a few words.

5 Certaynely we haue found this man a peſtilent fellow, and a moouer of ſeditiõ among all the Iewes throughout the world, and a chiefe maintainer of the ſect of the Nazarites:

7 But the chiefe captaine Lylas came vpon vs, and with great violence tooke him out of our hands,

8 Commanding his accuſers to come to thee: of whom thou mayeſt (if thou wilt inquire) know all theſe things whereof we accuſe him.

9 And the Iewes likewiſe affirmed, ſaying, that it was ſo.

10 Then Paul, after that the governour had beckned vnto him that he ſhould ſpeake, anſwered, I doe the more gladly anſwere for my ſelfe, foaſmuch as I know that thou haſt bene of many yeres a iudge vnto this nation, 17 Now after many yeeres I came and brought almes to my nation and offerings.

18 At what time certaine Jewes of Asia found me purified in the Temple, 12 Neither with multitude, nor with tumult.

20 Who ought to haue bene present before thee, and accuse me, if they had ought against me.

21 Let these themselves say, if they haue found any vnjust thing in me, while I stood in the Councell, 22 Except it be for this one voice that I cryed standing among them, Of the resurrection of the dead am I accused of you this day.

23 Now when Felix heard these things, hee deferred them, and sayd, When I shall more perfectly know the things which concerne this way, by the coming of Lysias the chiefe Captayne, I will decide your matter.

24 Then he commanded a Centurion to keepe Paul, and that hee should haue ease, and that hee should forbid none of his acquaintance to minister vnto him, or to come vnto him.

25 And after certaine dayes came Felix with his wife Drusilla, which was a Jewesse, and hee called forth Paul, and heard him of the faith in Christ.

26 And as he disputed of righteousness, and temperance, and of the iudgement to come, Felix trembled, and answered, See thy way for this time, and when I haue convenient time, I will call for thee.

27 We hoped also that money should haue bene giuen him of Paul, that he might loose him: wherefore hee sent for him the oftener, and communed with him.

28 When two yeeres were expired, Porcius Festus came into Felts roome: and Felix willing to get fauour of the Jewes, left Paul bound.

CHAP. XXV.

2 The Jewes accuse Paul before Festus. 8 He answereth for himselfe. 11 And appealeth vnto the Emperour. 14 His matter is rehearsed before Agrippa, 23 And he is brought forth.

When Festus was then come into the prouince, after three daies he went by from Cesarea vnto Ierusalem.

2 When the high Priest, and the chiefe of the Jewes appeared before him against Paul: and they besought him,

3 And desired fauour against him, that hee would send for him to Ierusalem: and they laid wait to kill him by the way.

4 But Festus answered, that Paul should bee kept at Cesarea, and that hee himselfe would shortly depart thither.

5 Let them therefore, said he, which among you are able, come downe with vs: and if there bee any wickednesse in the man, let them accuse him.

6 Now when hee had taried among them no more then ten dayes, hee went downe to Cesarea, and the next day late in the iudgement seate, and commanded Paul to be brought.

7 And when hee was come, the Jewes which were come from Ierusalem stood about him, and laid many and grieuous complaints against Paul, which they could not proue.

8 Forasmuch as he answered that hee had neither offended any thing against the lawe of the Jewes, neither against the Temple, nor against Cesar.

9 Pet Festus willing to get fauour of the Jewes, answered Paul, and sayd, Wilt thou goe vnto Ierusalem, & there be iudged of these things before me?

10 Then said Paul, I stand at Cesars iudgement seate, where I ought to be iudged: to the Jewes I haue done no wrong, as thou very well knowest.

11 For if I haue done wrong, or committed any thing worthy of death, I refuse not to dye: but if there be none of these things whereof they accuse me, no man can deliuer me to them: I appeale vnto Cesar.

12 Then when Festus had spoken with the Council, he answered, Wilt thou appeare vnto Cesar? vnto Cesar shalt thou goe.

13 And after certaine dayes, King Agrippa and Bernice came downe to Cesarea to salute Festus.

14 And when they had remayned there many dayes, Felix proposed Pauls cause vnto the King, saying, There is a certayne man left in prison by Felte.

15 Of whom when I came to Ierusalem, the high Priestes and Elders of the Jewes informed me, and desired to haue iudgment against him.

16 To whom I answered, that it is not the maner of the Romanes for fauour to deliuer any man to death, before that he which is accused, haue the accusers before him, and haue place to defend himselfe concerning the crime.

17 Therefore when they were come hither, without delay, the day following, I late on the iudgement seat, and commanded the man to be brought forth.

18 Against whom when the accusers stood by, they brought no crime of such things as I supposed:

19 But had certayne questions against him of their owne superstitiion, and of one Iesus which was dead, whom Paul affirmed to be alme.

20 And because I doubted of such manner of question, I asked him, whether he would goe to Ierusalem, and there bee iudged of these things.

21 But because hee appeale to be referred to the examinatio of Augustus, I commanded him to be kept, till I might send him to Cesar.

22 Then Agrippa sayd vnto Festus, I would also heare the man myselfe. To morrow, sayd he, thou shalt heare him.

23 And on the morrow when Agrippa was come and Bernice with great pompe, and were entered into the Common hall with the chiefe Captaines and chiefe men of the citie, at Festus commandment mandement Paul was brought fourth.

24 And Festus sayd, King Agrippa, and all men which are present with vs, yee see this man, about whom all the multitude of the Jewes haue called vpon me, both at Ierusalem, and here, crying, that he ought not to liue any longer.

25 Yet haue I found nothing worthy of death, that hee hath committed: neuertheless, seeing that hee hath appealed to Augustus, I haue determined to send him.

26 Of whom I haue no certaine thing to write vnto my lord: wherefore I haue brought him fourth vnto you, and specially vnto thee, King Agrippa, that after examination had, I might haue somewhat to write.

27 For mee thinketh it vncertaine to send a prisoner, and not to shew the causes which are layd against him.

C H A P. XXVI.

The innocencie of Paul u appr. ued by rehearsing his conuersation. 25 Hu modest answere against the iururie of Festus.

When Agrippa said vnto Paul, Thou art permitted to speake for thy selfe. So Paul stretcht fourth the hand, and answered for himselfe,

2 I thinke my selfe happie, King Agrippa, because I shall answer this day before thee of all the things whereof I am accused of the Jewes:

3 Chiefly, because thou hast knowledge of all customes, and questions which are among the Jewes: wherefore, I beseech thee to heare me patiently.

4 As touching my life from my childehood, and what it was from the beginning among mine owne nation at Ierusalem, know all the Jewes, 5 Which knew mee heretofore (if they would testifie) that after the most strait sect of our religion, I liued a Pharisee.

6 And now I stand and am accused for the hope of the promise made of God vnto our fathers.

7 Whereunto our twelue tribes instantly turning God day and night, hope to come: for the which hopes sake, O King Agrippa, I am accused of the Jewes.

8 Why should it bee thought a thing incredible vnto you, that God should raise againe the dead?

9 I also verely thought in my selfe, that I ought to do many contrary things against the name of Iesus of Nazaret.

10 Which thing I also did in Ierusalem: for many of the Saints I shut vp in prison, hauing receiued authoritie of the hie Priests, and when they were put to death I gaue my sentence.

11 And I punished them throughout all the Synagogues, and compelled them to blaspheme, and being more mad against them, I persecuted them, euen vnto strange cities.

12 At which time, euen as I went to Damascus with authoritie, and commission from the hie Priests,

13 At midday, O King, I saw in the way a light from heauen, passing the brightnesse of the sunne, shine round about me, and them which went with me.

14 So when wee were all fallen to the earth, I heard a voice speaking vnto mee, and saying in the Hebrew tongue, Saul, Saul, why persecutest thou me? It is hard for thee to kicke against prickes.

15 Then I sayd, Who art thou, Lord? And he sayd, I am Iesus, whom thou persecutest.

16 But rise and stand vp on thy feet: for I haue appeared vnto thee for this purpose, to appoint thee a minister and a witness, both of the things which thou hast seene, and of the things in the which I will appeare vnto thee,

17 Deliuering thee from the people, and from the Gentiles, vnto whom now I send thee, 18 To open their eyes, that they may turne from darkenesse to light, and from the power of Satan vnto God, that they may receiue forgiveness of sinnes, and inheritance among them, which are sanctified by faith in me.

19 Wherefore King Agrippa, I was not disobedient vnto the heavenly vision, 20 But shewed first vnto them of Damascus, and at Ierusalem, and throughout all the coasts of Iudea, and then to the Gentiles, that they should repent, and turne to God, and doe workes worthy amendment of life.

21 For this cause the Jewes caught mee in the Temple, and went about to kill me.

22 Neuertheless, I obtained helpe of God, and continue vnto this day, witnessing both to small and to great, saying none other things, then those which the Prophets and Poets did say should come,

23 To wit, that Christ should suffer, and that hee should bee the first that should rise from the dead, and should shew light vnto the people, and to the Gentiles.

24 And as he thus answered for himselfe, Festus layd with a loud voyce, Paul, thou art besides thy selfe: much learning doeth make thee mad.

25 But he sayd, I am not mad, O noble Festus, but I speake the words of truth and sobernesse.

26 For the king knoweth of these things, before whom also I speake boldly: for I am perswaded that if none of these things are hid from him: for this thing was not done in a corner.

27 O King Agrippa, beleuest thou the Prophets? I know that thou belieuest.

28 Then Agrippa sayde vnto Paul, Almost thou perswadest me to become a Christian.

29 Then Paul sayde, I would to God, that not onely thou, but also all that heare me to day, were both almost, and altogether such as I am, except these bonds.

30 And when hee had thus spoken, the King rose vp, and the gouernour, and Bernice, and they that sat with them.

31 And when they were gone apart, they talked berweene themselves, saying, This man doeth nothing worthy of death, Flatterers first used to call Tyrants by this name, and after it so grew into vfe, that vertuous Princes refused it not, as appeareth by Plinies epistles to Traiane.

Forasmuch as he best vnderstood the religion, he ought to be more attentive.

CHAP. XXVII.

1 Pauls dangerous voyage, and his companie toward Rome. 44 How, and where they arrive.

NOwe when it was concluded, that we should sayle into Italie, they deliuered both Paul, and certaine other prisoners vnto a Centurion named Iulius, of the band of Augustus.

2 And wee entred into a ship of Adramittium, pynpoing to sayle by the coastes of Asia, and launched forth, and had Aristarchus of Macedonia, a Thessalonian, with vs.

3 And the next day we arriued at Sidon: and Iulius courteously intreated Paul, and gaue him liberty to goe vnto his friends, that they might refresh him.

4 And from thence we launched, & sayled hard by Cyprus, because the winds were contrary.

5 Then sailled we ouer the sea by Cilicia, and Pamphylia, and came to Myra, a city in Lybia.

6 And there the Centurion found a ship of Alexandria sayling into Italy, and put vs therein.

7 And when we had sailled slowly, many dayes, and scarce were come against Sidum, because the winde suffered vs not, we sayled hard by Candie, nere to Salomone.

8 And with much adoe sayled beyond it, and came vnto a certaine place called the Faier haues, nere vnto the which was the cite Laica.

9 So when much time was spent, and sailing was now teoparous, because also the fast was new passed, Paul exhorted them,

10 And sayd vnto them, Syrs, I see that this vopage will be with hurt and much damage, not of the lading and ship onely, but also of our liues.

11ouertheless the Centurion beleneed rather the gouernour and the master of the ship, then those things which were spoken of Paul.

12 And because the haueu was not commodious to winter in, many tookc counsell to depart thence, if by any meanes they might attaine to Iheremie, thence to winter, which is an haue of Candie, and lyeth toward the Southwest and by West, and Northwest and by West.

13 And when the Southerne wind blew softly, they vppoling to obtaine their purpose, loosed nere, and sayled by Candy.

14 But anon after, there afole by it a stormie winde called Euroclydon.

15 And when the ship was caught, and could not resist the wind, we let her goe, and were caried away.

16 And wee ranne vnder a litle Ile named Canda, and had much adoe to get the boate.

17 Which they tooke vp and vsed all helpe, vndergirding the shippe, fearing lest they should haue fallen into Syrtes, and they let downe the vessel, and so were carted.

18 The next day when wee were tossed with an exceeding tempest, they lightened the ship.

19 And the thied day wee cast out with our owne hands the tackling of the ship.

20 And when neither sunne nor starres in many dayes appeared, and no final tempest lay vpon vs, all hope that we should be saued, was then taken away.

21 But after long abstinence, Paul stood forth in the middes of them, and said, Syrs, yee should haue hearkened to mee, and not haue loosed from Candie: so should ye haue gained this hurt and losse.

22 But now I exhort you to bee of good courage: for there shall bee no losse of any mans life among you, saue of the shippe onely.

23 For there stood by mee this night the Angel of God, whose I am, and whom I serue.

24 Saying, Feare not, Paul: for thou must be brought before Cesar: and loe, God hath giuen vnto thee all that sayle with thee.

25 Therefore, sirs, bee of good courage: for I beleene God, that it shall bee to as it hath bene told me.

26 Nowbeit, wee must be cast into a certaine Island.

27 And when the fourteenth night was come, as wee were carted to and fro in the Adriaticall sea about midnight, the slytmen deemed that some countrey approached vnto them, 28 And lounded, and found it twenty fathoms: and when they had gone a litle further, they lounded againe, and found fiftene fathoms.

29 Then fearing lest they should haue fallen thro some rough places, they cast foure ankers out of the sterne, and wished that the day were come.

30 Nowe as the mariners were about to flee out of the ship, and had let downe the boate into the sea vnder a colour as though they would haue cast ankers out of the fore-ship.

31 Paul said vnto the Centurion and the soldiers, Crept these abide in the ship, I can not be late.

32 Then the soldiers cut off the ropes of the boate, and let it fall away.

33 And when it began to bee day, Paul exhorted them all to take meate, saying, This is the fourteenth day that yee haue taried, and continued fasting, receiuing nothing.

34 Therefore I exhort you to take meate: for this is for your safeguard: for there shall not an haire fall from the head of any of you.

35 And when hee had thus spoken, hee tooke bread, and gaue thanks to God, in presence of them all, and brake it, and began to eate.

|| Or, boate.

a From Sidon to Myra they should haue sayled North, and by West: but the winds caused them to faile to Cypr-s plaine North: thence to Cilicia North & by East, and so to Pamphylia and Myra plaine West.

b Or, Creta, b Which was an high hill of Candie bowing to the seaward, c This fast the Iewes obserued about the moneth of October in the feast of their expiatiou, Leuit. 23. 37. So that Paul thought it better to winter there, then to faile in the deepe of winter which was at hand.

d That is, the Northeast wind, or euery East wind that is furious and stormie, e This Ile was West and by South from Candie straight toward the gulf of Syrtes, which were certaine boyling sandes that swallowed vp all that they caught.

36 Then were they all of good courage, and they also tooke meate.

37 Now wee were in the ship in all two hundred threescore and thirteene soules.

38 And when they had eaten enough, they lightened the ship, and cast out the wheate into the sea.

39 And when it was day, they knew not the countrey, but they spied a certaine creeke with a banke, into the which they were minded (if it were possible) to thrust in the ship.

40 So when they had taken up the anchors, they committed the shippe vnto the sea, and looked the rudder bonds, and hoyled vpon the maine saile to the wind, and drew to the shore.

41 And when they fell into a place whereto two seas met, they thrust in the shippe: and the fore-part sturcke fast, and could not bee mooued, but the hinder part was broken with the violence of the waues.

42 Then the souldiers counsell was to kill the prisoners: lest any of them, when hee had swomme out, should see away.

43 But the Centurion willing to saue Paul, stayed them from this counsell, and commaunded that they that could swimme, should cast themselves first into the sea, and goe out to land:

44 And the other, some on boards, and some on certayne pieces of the shippe: and so it came to passe, that they came all safe to land.

CHAP. XXVIII.

2 Paul with his companie are gently intreated of the barbarous people. 5 The viper hurteth him not. 8 Hee healeth Publius father and others, and being furnished by them of things necessarie, hee saued toward Rome. 15 Where being receiued of the brethren, hee declareth his businesse. 30 And there preacheth two yeeres.

AND when they were come safe, then they knew that the yle was called Melita.

2 And the Barbarians shewed vs no little kinde of kinde: for they kindled a fire, and receiued vs euery one, because of the present showre, and because of the cold.

3 And when Paul had gathered a number of stickes, and layed them on the fire, there came a viper out of the heate, and leapt on his hand.

4 Now when the Barbarians sawe the worme hang on his hand, they said among themselves, This man surely is a murderer, whome though hee hath escaped the sea, yet hee cannot escape to liue.

5 But hee shooke off the worme into the fire, and felt no harme.

6 Wherewith they waited when he should haue swollen, or fallen downe dead suddenly: but after they had looked a great while, and saw no inconuenience come to him, they changed their minds, and said, That he was a god.

7 In the same quarters, the chiefe man of the Ile (whose name was Publius) had possessions: the same receiued vs, and lodged vs by three daies continuallie.

8 And so it was, that the father of Publius lay sicke of the feuer, and of a bloody fluxe: to whom Paul entred in, and when hee prayed, hee laide his hands on him, and healed him.

9 When this then was done, other also in the Ile, which had diseases, came to him and were healed.

10 Which also did vs great honour: and when wee departed, they laded vs with things necessarie.

11 Now after three moneths wee departed in a ship of Alexandria, which had wintered in the Ile, whose name was Caesar and Pollux.

12 And when wee arrived at Syracuse, we taried there thre dayes.

13 And from thence wee set a compassse, and came to Rhegium: and after one day, the South wind blew, and we came the second day to Puteoli, 14 Where wee found brethren, and were desired to tarry with them seuen dayes, and so we went toward Rome.

15 And from thence, when the brethren heard of vs, they came to meete vs at the Market of Appius, and at the threile Cauesnes, whom when Paul saw, hee thanked God, and waied bold.

16 So when he came to Rome, the Centurion deliuered the prisoners to the generall captaine: but Paul was suffered to dwell by himselfe with a souldier that kept him.

17 And the third day after, Paul called the chiefe of the Iewes together: and when they were come, hee said vnto them, Men and brethren, though I haue committed nothing against the people or Lawes of the fathers, yet was I deliuered prisoner from Ierusalem into the hands of the Romanes.

18 Who when they had examined mee, would haue let me goe, because there was no cause of death in me.

19 But when the Iewes spake contrary, I was constrained to appeale vnto Cesar, not because I had ought to accuse my nation of.

20 For this cause therefore haue I called for you, to see you, and to speake with you: for the hope of Israels sake, I am bound with this chaine.

21 Then they said vnto him, We neither receiued letters out of Iudaea concerning thee, neither came any of the brethren that shewed or spake any euill of thee.

22 But wee will heare of thee what thou thinkest: for as concerning this sect, wee knowe that euery where it is spoken against.

23 And when they had appointed him a day, thre came many vnto him into his lodging, to whom hee repoynded and testified the kingdom of God, and preached vnto them concerning Iesus, both out of the Lawe of Moyses, and out of the Prophetes from morning to night.

24 And some were perswaded with the things which were spoken, and some beleeued not.

25 Therefore when they agreed not among theme These the Paimims fained to be Jupiters children and gods of the sea, f These places were distant from Rome a dayes iourney, or there about. Or, shoppes.

g No doubt the captaine vnderstood both by Festus letters, and also by the report of the vnder captaine, that Paul had committed no fault.

The Epistle of the Apostle Paul to the Romanes.

THE ARGUMENT.

The great mercie of God is declared toward man in Christ Iesus, whose righteousnesse is made ours through faith. For when man by reason of his owne corruption could not fulfill the law, yea, committed most abhominably, both against the law of God, and nature, the infinite bountie of God, and full of his promise made to his seruant Abraham, the father of all beleeuers, ordained that mans saluation should onely stand in the perfect obedience of his Sonne Iesus Christ: so that not onely the circumcised Iewes, but also the vncircumcised Gentiles should be saued by faith in him: euen as Abraham before he was circumcised, was counted iust onely through faith, and yet afterward receiued circumcision, as a seale or badge of the same righteousnesse by faith. And to the intent that none should thinke that the couenant which God made to him and his posteritie, was not performed: either because the Iewes receiued not Christ, (which was the blessed seede) or else beleued not that he was the true redeemer, because he did not onely, or at least more notably preserue the Iewes: the examples of Ismael and Esau declare, that all are Abrahams posteritie, which come of Abraham according to the flesh: but also the very strangers and Gentiles grafted in by faith, are made heires of the promise. The cause whereof is the onely will of God: forasmuch as of his free mercie he electeth some to be saued, and of his iust iudgement reiecteth others to be damned, as appeareth by the testimonies of the Scriptures. Yet to the intent that the Iewes should not be too much beaten downe, nor the Gentiles too much puffed vp, the example of Elias proueth, that God hath yet his elect euen of the naturall posteritie of Abraham, though it appeareth not so to mans eye: and for that preferment that the Gentiles haue, it proceedeth of the liberal mercie of God, which he at length will stretch toward the Iewes againe, and so gather the whole Israel (which is his Church) of them both. This ground-woke of faith and doctrine laied, instructions of Christian maners follow: teaching every man to walke in roundnesse of conscience in his vocation, with all patience and humblenesse, reuerencing and obeying the magistrate, exercising charitie, putting off the old man, and putting on Christ, bearing with the weak, and louing one another according to Christs example. Finally, Saint Paul asher his commendations to the brethren, exhorteth them to vniend to flee falsse preachers and flatterers, and so concludeth with a prayer.

10 Always in my prayers, beseeching that by some means one time or other I might have a prosperous journey by the will of God to come vnto you.

11 For I long to see you, that I might bestowe among you some spiritual gift, to strengthen you, 12 That is, that I might bee comforted together with you, through our mutual faith, both yours and mine.

13 Now my brethren, I would that yee should not bee ignorant, how that I haue oftentimes purposed to come vnto you (but haue bene <sup>me</sup> leg hitherto) that I might haue some <sup>of</sup> fruit also among you, as haue among the other Gentiles.

14 I am deterr'd both to the Grecians, and to the Barbarians, both to the wise men, and to the vnwise.

15 Therefore as much as in me is, I am ready to preach the Gospel to you also that are at Rome.

16 For I am not ashamed of the Gospel of Christ: for it is the power of God vnto saluation to every one that beleeueth, to the Jew first, and also to the Grecian.

17 For by it the righteousness of God is revealed, from faith to faith: as it is written, The iust shall liue by faith.

18 For the wrath of God is revealed from heauen against all vngodlinesse, and vnrightheousnesse of men, which withholdeth the truth in vnrightheousnesse.

19 Forasmuch as that, which may bee knowne of God, is manifest in them: for God hath shewed it vnto them.

20 For the invisible things of him, that is; his eternall power and Godhead, are seene by the creation of the world, being considered in his workes, to the intent that they should be without excuse.

21 Because that when they knew God, they glorified him not as God, neither were thankfull, but became vaine in their imaginations, and their foolish heart was full of darknesse.

22 When they professed themselves to be wise, they became fooles.

23 For they turned the glory of the incorruptible God to the similitude of the image of a corruptible man, and of birdes, and foure footed beastes, and of creeping things.

24 Wherefore also God gave them vp to their hearts lustes, vnto uncleannesse, to desire their owne bodies betwene themselves:

25 Which turned the truth of God vnto a lie, and worshipped and serued the creature, forsaking the Creator, which is blessed for euer. Amen.

26 For this cause God gave them vp vnto vile affections: for euen their women did change the naturall vse into that which is against nature.

27 And likewise also the men left the naturall vse of the woman, and burned in their lust one toward another, and man with man wrought filthinesse, and receiued in themselves such recompence of their error, as was meete.

28 For as they regarded not to knowe God, euen so God deliuered them by vnto a reprobate minde, to do those things which are not convenient,

29 Being full of all vnrightheousnesse, fornication, wickednesse, concupiscesse, malitiousnesse, full of enuie, of murder, of debate, of deceite, taking all things in the euill part, whisperers, 30 Backbiters, haters of God, doers of wrong, proud, boasters, inuentors of euill things, disobedient to parents, without vnderstanding, couenant breakers, without naturall affection, such as can neuer bee appeased, mercilesse.

31 Which men, though they knewe the Lawe of God, how that they which commit such things, are worthy of death, yet not onely doe the same, but also fauour them that doe them.

CHAP. II.

1 He feareth the hypocrites with Gods iudgement, 7 And comforteth the faithfull. 12 To beate downe all vaine pretence of ignorance, holinesse, and of alliance with God, he proueth all men to be sinners, 15 The Gentiles by their conscience, 17 The Iewes by the Law written.

Therefore thou art incredible, O man, whofocuer thou art that iudgeth: for in that that thou iudgeth another, thou condemnest thy selfe: for thou that iudgeth, doest the same things.

2 But wee know that the iudgement of God is according to truth, against them which commit such things.

3 And thinkest thou this, O thou man, that iudgeth them which doe such things, and doest the same, that thou shalt escape the iudgement of God?

4 Despisest thou the riches of his bountifullnes, and patience, and long sufferance, not knowing that the bountifullnesse of God leadech thee to repentance?

5 But thou after thine hardnesse, and heart that cannot repent, heapest vnto thy selfe wrath against the day of wrath, and of the declaration of the iust iudgement of God,

6 Who will reward euery man according to his workes:

7 That is, to them which by continuance in well doing seeke glorie, and honour, and immortalitye, eternall life:

8 But vnto them that are contentious and disobey the truth, and obey vnrightheousnesse, shall be indignation and wrath.

be iustified by their workes: seeing Abraham the father of beleeuers hath nothing to glory of before God, and therefore all mens workes shall condemne them, and they onely shall be saved, which apprehend Iesus Christ by faith to be their onely iustice and sanctification.

By the Grecian he vnderstandeth the Gentiles, and every one that is not a Jew.

9 Tribulation and anguish shall be vpon the soule of every man that doth euill: of the Jew first, and also of the Grecian.
 10 But to every man that doth good, shall be glory, and honour, and peace, to the Jewe first, and also to the Grecian.
 11 For there is no respect of persons with God.
 12 For as many as haue sinned without the Law, shall perishe also without the Law; and as many as shaine sinned in the Law, shall be iudged by the Law,
 13 For the heartes of the Law are not righteous before God: but the doers of the Law shall be iustified.
 14 For when the Gentiles which haue not the Law, doe by nature the things contained in the Law, they hauing not the Law, are a Law vnto themselves, 15 Which shewe the effect of the Law written in their hearts, their conscience also bearing witness, and their thoughts accusing one another, or excusing.)
 16 At the day when God shall iudge the secrets of men by Iesus Christ, according to my Gospel.
 17 Beholde, thou art called a Jewe, and restest in the Law, and gloriest in God.
 18 And knowest his will, and allowest the things that are excellent, in that thou art instructed by the Law:
 19 And perswadest thy selfe that thou art a guide of the blinde, a light of them which are in darknesse, 20 An instructor of them which lacke discretion, a teacher of the vnlearned, which hast the forme of knowledge, and of the truth in the law.
 21 Thou therefore which teachest another, teachest thou not thy selfe? thou that preachest, A man should not steale, dost thou steale?
 22 Thou that sayest, A man should not commit adultery, dost thou commit adultery? thou that abhorrest idoles, comittest thou sacrificed?
 23 Thou that gloryest in the Lawe, through breaking of the Lawe, dishonourest thou God?
 24 For the Name of God is blasphemed among the Gentiles through you, as it is written.
 25 For circumcision verely is profitable, if thou doe the Law: but if thou be a transgressour of the Lawe, thy circumcision is made vnicircumcision.
 26 Therefore if the vnicircumcision keepe the ordinances of the Lawe, shall not his vnicircumcision be counted for circumcision?
 27 And shall not vnicircumcision which is by nature (if it keepe the Lawe) iudge thee, which by the Letter and circumcision art a transgressour of the Lawe?
 28 For he is not a Jew which is one outward: neither is that circumcision which is outward in the flesh:
 29 But he is a Jew which is one within, and the circumcision is of the heart, in the Spirit, not in the Letter, whose praise is not of men, but of God.

Having graunted some prerogatiues to the Jewes, because of Gods free and stable promise, to be proueth by the Scriptures, both Iewes and Gentiles to be sinners, 21. 24 and to be iustified by grace through faith, and not by worke, 31 and so the Law to be established.
 What is then the preferment of the Jewe? or what is the profit of circumcision?
 2 Much vniuerly manner of way: for chiefly, because vnto them were committed the oracles of God.
 3 For what though some did not beleue: shall their unbelieve make the faith of God without effect?
 4 God forbid: yea, let God be true, and every man a liar, as it is written, That thou mightest bee iustified in thy wordes, and ouercome when thou art iudged.
 5 How if our vnrightheousnesse commend the rightheousnesse of God, what shall we say? Is God vnrightheous which punisheth? (I speake as a man)
 6 God forbid: els how shall God iudge the world?
 7 For if the veritie of God hath more abounded, through my lie, vnto his glory, why and I yet condemned as a sinner?
 8 And (as wee are blamed, and as some affirme that wee say) why doe wee not euill, that good may come thereof? whose damnation is iust.
 9 What then? are we more excellent? No, in any wise: for we haue already proued, that all, both Jewes and Gentiles are vnder sinne.
 10 As it is written, There is none righteous, no not one.
 11 There is none, that vnderstandeth: there is none that seeketh God.
 12 They haue all gone out of the way: they haue becine made altogether vnprofitable: there is none that doeth good, no not one.
 13 Their throteate is an open sepulchre: they haue vsed their tongues to deceit: the poison of aspses is vnder their lips.
 14 Whose mouth is full of cursing and bitterness.
 15 Their feete are swift to shed blood.
 16 Destruction and calamitie are in their wayes,
 17 And the way of peace they haue not known.
 18 The feare of God is not before their eyes.
 19 How wee know that whatsoeuer the Law saith, it saith it to them which are vnder the Law, that every mouth may be stopped, and all the world be a culpable before God.
 20 Therefore by the workes of the Law shall no flesh bee iustified in his sight: for by the Law cometh the knowledge of sinne.
 The Law doth not make vs guiltie, but doth declare that wee are guiltie before God, and deserue condemnation, Galat. 2. 16. h He meaneth the Law, either written or vnwritten, which commandeth or forbiddeth any thing, whose workes cannot iustifie, because we cannot performe them.

Chap. i. 17. i The word signifieth them which are left behind in the race, and are not able to runne to the marke, that is to everlasting life, which here is called the glory of God.

k Or fidelitie in performing his promise.

l The law of faith is the Gospel which offereth saluation with condition (if thou beleuest) which condition also Christ freely giueth to vs. So the condition of the Law is (if thou doest all these things) the which only Christ hath fulfilled for vs.

m Meaning, that they are all iustified by one meanes, and if they will haue any difference, it onely standeth in wordes: for in effect there is none. n The doctrine of faith is the ornament of the Lawe: for it embraceth Christ, who by his death hath sacrificed the Law: so that the Law which could not bring vs to saluation by reason of our owne corruption, is now made effectual to vs by Christ Iesus.

a That is, by works. b He might pretend some merite or worke worthy to be recognised. Gen. 15. 6. Gal. 3. 12. c Meriteth by his workes. d That dependeth not on his workes, neither thinketh to merite by them. e Which maketh him that is wicked in himselfe, iust in Christ. Psal. 32. 1. f Vnder this excellent sacrament he comprehendeth the whole Law.

21 But now is the * righteousness of God made manifest without the Law, hauing witness of the Law and of the Prophets.

22 To wit, the righteousness of God by the faith of Iesus Christ, vnto all, and vpon all that beleue.

23 For there is no difference: for all haue sinned, and are <sup>i</sup> deprauid of the glory of God.

24 And are iustified freely by his grace, through the redemption that is in Christ Iesus.

25 Whom God hath set forth to bee a reconciliation through faith in his blood, to declare his <sup>k</sup> righteousness, by the forgiveness of the sinnes that are passed, through the patience of God.

26 To shewe at this time his righteousness, that he might be iust, and a iustifier of him which is of the faith of Iesus.

27 Where is then the reioycing? It is excluded. By what Law: of workes? Nay: but by the <sup>l</sup> Law of faith.

28 Therefore we conclude, that a man is iustified by faith without the workes of the Law.

29 God, is he the God of the Iewes onely, and not of the Gentiles also? Yes, euen of the Gentiles also.

30 For it is one God who shall iustifie circumcition <sup>m</sup> of faith and vncircumcition through faith.

31 Doe wee then make the Law of none effect through faith: God forbid: yea, <sup>n</sup> wee establish the Law.

17 Hee declareth that iustification is a free gift, euen by them selues of whom the Iewes most boasted, as of Abraham and of Dauid, 15 And also by the office of the Law and faith.

CHAP. IIII.

17 Hee declareth that iustification is a free gift, euen by them selues of whom the Iewes most boasted, as of Abraham and of Dauid, 15 And also by the office of the Law and faith.

What shall we say then, that Abraham our father hath found <sup>a</sup> concerning the flesh?

2 For if Abraham were iustified by workes, he hath wherewith to <sup>b</sup> reioyce, but not with God.

3 For what saith the Scripture? * Abraham beleued God, and it was counted to him for righteousness.

4 Now to him that <sup>c</sup> worketh, the wages is not counted by fauour, but by debt:

5 But to him that <sup>d</sup> worketh not, but beleueth in him that <sup>e</sup> iustifieth the vngodly, his faith is counted for righteousness.

6 Euen as Dauid declareth the blessednesse of the man, vnto whom God imputeth righteousness without workes, saying,

7 * Blessed are they, whose iniquities are forgiven, and whose sinnes are couered.

8 Blessed is the man, to whom the Lord imputeth not sinne.

9 Came this blessednesse then vpon the circumcision onely, or vpon the vncircumcition also? For we say, that faith was imputed vnto Abraham for righteousness.

10 How was it then imputed? when hee was circumcised, or vncircumcised? nor when he was circumcised, but when he was vncircumcised.

11 * After he receiued the signe of circumcision, as the seale of the righteousness of the faith which he had, when he was vncircumcised, that he should be the father of all them that beleue, not being circumcised, y<sup>e</sup> righteousness might be imputed to them also.

12 And the father of circumcision, not vnto them onely which are of the circumcision, but vnto them also that waike in the <sup>f</sup> steps of the faith of our father Abraham, which he had when he was vncircumcised.

13 For the promise that he should bee the heire of the worlde, was not giuen to Abraham, or to his seed, through the <sup>g</sup> Lawe, but through the righteousness of faith.

14 For if they which <sup>h</sup> are of the Law, be <sup>i</sup> heires, faith is made voyd, and the promise is made of none effect.

15 For the Law causeth <sup>j</sup> wrath: for where no Law is, there is no <sup>k</sup> transgression.

16 Therefore it is by faith, that it might come by grace, and the promise might be sure to <sup>l</sup> all the seed, not to that onely which is of the Law: but also to that which is of the faith of Abraham, who is the father of vs all,

17 (As it is written, * I haue made thee a father of many nations) euen <sup>m</sup> before God whom hee beleued, who quickeneth the <sup>n</sup> dead, and calleth those things which bee not, as though they were.

18 Which Abraham about hope beleued vnder hope, that he should bee the father of many nations, according to that which was spoken to him, * So shall thy seed be.

19 And he is not weak in the faith, considered not his owne body, which was now dead, being almost an hundred yere old, neither <sup>o</sup> the deadnesse of Sarras wombe.

20 Neither did hee doubt of the promise of God through vnbeliefe, but was strengthened in the faith, and gaue <sup>p</sup> glory to God, 21 Being fully assured that he which had promised, was also able to doe it.

22 And therefore it was imputed to him for righteousness.

23 Now it is not written for him onely, that it was imputed vnto him for righteousness, 24 But also <sup>q</sup> for vs, to whom it shall bee imputed for righteousness, which beleue in him that raised vp Iesus our Lord from the Dead.

25 Who was deliuered to death for our sinnes, and <sup>r</sup> is risen againe for our iustification.

Then being iustified by faith, wee haue peace toward God through our Loide Iesus Christ.

2 By whome also wee haue accessethrough faith vnto this grace, wherein wee stand, and reioice vnder the hope of the glory of God.

3 Neither doe we so only, but also we restore in tribulations, knowing that tribulation bringeth forth patience.

4 And patience experience, and expectatione hope.

5 And hope maketh not ashamed, because the loue of God is shed abroad in our hearts by the holy Ghost, which is giuen vnto vs.

6 For Christ, when wee were yet of no strength, at his time died for vs vngodly.

7 Doubtlesse one will scarce die for a righteous man: but yet for a good man it may be that one dare die.

8 But God fettereth out his loue towards vs, seeing that while wee were yet sinners, Christ died for vs.

9 Much more then, being now iustified by his blood, we shall be saved from wrath through him.

10 For if when wee were enemies wee were reconciled to God by the death of his Sonne, much more being reconciled, wee shall be saved by his life.

11 And not onely so, but wee also reioyce in God through our Lord Iesus Christ, by whom wee haue nowe received the attonement.

12 Wherefore, as by one man sinne entered into the world, and death by sinne, and so death went ouer all men: soasmuch as all men haue sinned.

13 For vnto the same time of the Law was sinne in the world, but sinne is not imputed while there is no Law.

14 But death reigned from Adam to Moses, euen ouer them also that sinned not after the like manner of the transgression of Adam, which was the figure of him that was to come.

15 But yet the gift is not so, as is the offence: for if through the offence of one, many be dead, much more by the grace of God, and the gift by grace, which is by one man Iesus Christ, hath abounded vnto many.

16 Neither is the gift so, as that which entered in by one that sinned: for the fault came of one essence vnto condemnation: but the gift is of many sources to iustification.

17 For if by the offence of one death reigned through one, much more shall they which receive the abundance of grace, and of the gift of righteousness, reaigne in life through one, that is, Iesus Christ.

18 Likewise then, as by the offence of one the fault came on all men to condemnation, so by the iustifying of one, the benefit abounded toward all men to the iustification of life.

19 For as by one mans disobedience, many were made sinners: so by the obedience of one, shall many also be made righteous.

ence of one, shall many also be made righteous.

20 Howouer the Law entred thereupon, that the offence should abound: neuertheless, where sinne abounded, there grace abounded much more:

21 That as sinne had reigned vnto death, so might grace also reigne by righteousness vnto eternal life, through Iesus Christ our Lord.

CHAP. VI.

Because no man should glory in the flesh, but rather seeke to subdue it to the spirit, 3 He sheweth by the vertue and end of Baptisme, 5 That regeneration is wynd with iustification, and therefore exhorteth to godly life, 21 Setting before mens eyes the reward of sinne and righteousness.

What shall we say then? Shall we continue still in sinne, that grace may abound? God forbid.

2 How shall we that are dead to sinne, liue yet therein?

3 Know ye not, that all we which haue bene baptized into Iesus Christ, haue been baptized into his death?

4 Wee are buried then with him by baptisme into his death, that like as Christ was raised vp from the dead by the glory of the Father, so we also should walke in newnesse of life.

5 For if wee be grafted with him to the similitude of his death, euen so shall wee be to the similitude of his resurrection,

6 Knowing this, that our olde man is crucified with him, that the body of sinne might be destroyed, that henceforth wee should not serue sinne.

7 For hee that is dead is freed from sinne.

8 Wherefore, if wee be dead with Christ, wee beleue that wee shall liue also with him.

9 Knowing that Christ being raised from the dead dieth no more: death hath no more dominion ouer him.

10 For in that he died, he died once to sinne: but in that hee liueth, hee liueth to God.

11 Likewise thinks yee also, that yee are dead to sinne, but are aliuē to God in Iesus Christ our Lord.

12 Let not sinne reigne therefore in your mortall body, that yee should obey it in the lusts thereof.

13 Neither giue yee your members as weapons of vnrightheousnesse vnto sinne: but giue your selues vnto God, as they that are aliuē from the dead, and giue your members as weapons of rightheousnesse vnto God.

being dead we cannot sinne, g That hee might destroy sinne in our flesh. h And sitteth at the right hand of the Father. i Wee may gather that we are dead to sinne, when sinne beginneth to die in vs, which is by the participation of Christs death, by whome also being quickened, we liue to God, that is, to rightheousnesse. k In that yee are led with the Spirit of God. l The minde first misstreeth euill motions, wherby mans will is enticed: thence burst forth the lusts, by then the body is provoked, and the body by his actions doth solicit the minde: therefore he commandeth, at the least, that we rule our bodies. || Or, instruments, or, armour.

s Or, the reward and recompence. t Sinne is compared to a tyrant which reigneth by force, who giueth death as an allowance to them that were preferred by the Law.

14 For sinne shall not haue dominion ouer you, for ye are not vnder the Law, but vnder grace.

15 What then? shall we sinne, because we are not vnder the Lawe, but vnder grace? God forbid.

16 Know ye not, that to whomsoeuer ye giue your selues as seruants to obey, his seruants ye are to whom ye obey, whether it be of sinne vnto death, or of obedience vnto righteousnesse?

17 But God be thanked, that ye haue bene the seruants of sinne, but yee haue obeyed fro the heart vnto the forme of the doctrine, wherunto ye were delinced.

18 Being then made a free from sinne, ye are made the seruants of righteousnesse.

19 I spake after the maner of man, because of the infirmity of your flesh: for as ye haue giuen your members seruants to vncleannesse and to iniquitie, to commit iniquitie, so now giue your members seruants vnto righteousnesse in holinesse.

20 For when yee were the seruants of sinne, ye were freed from righteousnesse.

21 What fruite had yee then in those things, wherof ye are now ashamed? For the ende of those things is death.

22 But now being freed from sinne, and made seruants vnto God, ye haue your fruite in holinesse, and the ende, everlasting life.

23 For the wages of sinne is death: but the gift of God is eternal life through Iesus Christ our Lord.

CHAP. VII.

1. 7. 12 The use of the Law, 6. 24. And how Christ hath deliuered vs from it. 16 The infirmity of the faithfull. 23 The dangerous fight betweene the flesh and the spirit.

Now ye not, brethren, (for I speake to them that knowe the Lawe) that the Law hath dominion ouer a man as long as he liueth?

2 For the woman which is in subiection to a man, is bound by the Lawe to the man, while hee liueth: but if the man bee dead, shee is deliuered from the lawe of the man.

3 So then, if while the man liueth, shee take another man, she shall be called an adulteresse: but if the man bee dead, shee is free from the Lawe, so that the is not an adulteresse, though shee take another man.

4 So ye, my brethren, are dead also to the Lawe by the body of Christ, that yee should be vnto another, euen vnto him that is rayled by from the dead, that we should bring forth fruite vnto God.

5 For when we were in the flesh, the motions of sinnes, which were by the Lawe, had force in our members, to bring forth fruite vnto death.

6 But now we are deliuered from the Lawe, being dead vnto it, wherein we were holden, that wee should serue in newnesse of spirit, and not in the oldnesse of the letter.

7 What shall we say then? Is the Law sinne? God forbid. Nay, I knew not sinne, but by the Law: for I had not knowne elust, except the Law had sayd, Thou shalt not lute.

8 But sinne tooke an occasion by the commandement, and brought in mee all maner of concupiscent: for without the law sinne is dead.

9 For I once was alme, without the law: but when the commandement came, sinne reuiued.

10 But I died: and the same commandement which was ordeined vnto life, was found to be vnto me vnto death.

11 For sinne tooke occasion by the commandement, and deceiued mee, and thereby slew me.

12 Wherefore the Law is holy, and the commandement is holy, and iust, and good.

13 Was that then which is good, made death vnto me? God forbid: but sinne, that it might appeare sinne, wrought death in me by that which is good, that sinne might bee out of measure sinfull by the commandement.

14 For we know that the Law is spiritall, but I am carnall, sold vnder sinne.

15 For I allow not that which I doe: for what I would, that doe I not: but what I hate, that doe I.

16 If I do then that which I would not, I consent to the Law, that it is good.

17 Now then, it is no more I, that doe it: but the sinne that dwelleth in me.

18 For I knowe that in me, that is, in my flesh dwelleth no good thing: for to will is present with mee: but I finde no means to performe that which is good.

19 For I doe not the good thing, which I would, but the euill, which I would not, that doe I.

20 Now if I doe that I would not, it is no more I that doe it, but the sinne that dwelleth in me.

21 I finde then by the Law, that when I would doe good, euill is present with me.

22 For I delight in the Law of God, concerning the inner man:

23 But I seee another Lawe in my members, rebelling against the Lawe of my minde, and leading mee captiue vnto the law of sinne, which is in my members.

24 O wretched man that I am, who shall deliue mee from the bodie of this death?

25 I thanke God through Iesus Christ our Lord. Then I myselfe in my minde serue the Lawe of God, but in my flesh the law of sinne.

e Meaning, so sinne our first husband.

f There is nothing more enemie to sinne, then the Law: for to be therefore that sinne rage more by reason thereof, then before, why should it be imputed to the law which displeaseth the sights of sinne her enemie?

Nowe then there is no <sup>a</sup> condemnation to them that are in Christ Iesus, which walke not <sup>b</sup> after the flesh, but after the Spirit.

2 For the <sup>c</sup> Lawe of the Spirit of life, which is in <sup>d</sup> Christ Iesus, hath freedme from the Law of sinne and of death.

3 For (that that was impossible to the Lawe in as much as it was <sup>e</sup> weake, because of the flesh) God sending his owne Sonne, in the <sup>f</sup> similitude of sinfull flesh, and <sup>g</sup> for sinne, condemned sinne in the flesh,

4 That the <sup>h</sup> righteousnesse of the Law might be fulfilled in vs, which walac not after the flesh, but after the Spirit.

5 For they that are after the flesh, labour the <sup>i</sup> things of the flesh: but they that are after the Spirit, the things of the Spirit.

6 For the wisdom of the flesh is death: but the wisdom of the Spirit is life and peace,

7 Because the wisdom of the flesh is enmity against God: for it is not subject to the Law of God, neither in deed can be.

8 So then they that are in the flesh, cannot please God.

9 Now ye are not in the flesh, but in the Spirit, <sup>j</sup> because the Spirit of God dwelleth in you: but if any man hath not the Spirit of Christ, the same is not his.

10 And if Christ be in you, the <sup>k</sup> body is dead because of sinne: but the <sup>l</sup> Spirit is life for righteousnesse sake.

11 But if the Spirit of him that rayled by Iesus from the dead, dwell in you, he that rayled by Christ from the dead, shall also quicken your mortal bodies, because that his Spirit dwelleth in you.

12 Therefore brethren, wee are debtors not to the flesh, to live after the <sup>m</sup> flesh:

13 For if ye live after the flesh, ye shall die: but if ye mortifie the deeds of the body by the Spirit, ye shall live.

14 For as many as are led by the Spirit of God, they are the <sup>n</sup> sonnes of God.

15 For ye have not received the Spirit of bondage to feare againe: but ye have receiued the Spirit of <sup>o</sup> adoption, whereby wee cry <sup>p</sup> Aba, Father.

16 The same Spirit <sup>q</sup> beareth witness with our spirit, that wee are the children of God.

17 Wee must in the meane time call to God through patience. <sup>r</sup> But to live after the Spirit. 18 So hee nameth the holy Ghost of the effect, which he causeth in vs, when hee propoeth vs salvation by the Law with an impossible condition, who also doth seale our saluation in our hearts by Christs free adoption, that we consider not God now as a rigorous Lord, but as a most mercifull Father. Galat. 4.5.6. 1 So that we haue two witnesses, Gods Spirit, and ours, who is certified by the Spirit of God,

17 If we be children, we are also <sup>a</sup> heires, even the heires of God, and heires anuered with Christ, if to be that wee suffer with him, that wee may also bee glorified with him.

18 For I count that the afflictions of this present time, are not <sup>b</sup> worthy of the glory, which shall be shewed vnto vs.

19 For the feruent desire of the creature waiteth when the sonnes of God shall be revealed,

20 Because the <sup>c</sup> creature is subject to vanity, not of it owne will, but by reason of him which hath subdued it vnder hope,

21 Because the creature also shall bee deliuered from the bondage of corruption into the glorious libertie of the sonnes of God.

22 For wee know that every <sup>d</sup> creature groweth with vs also, and travaileth in paine together vnto this present,

23 And not onely the creature, but we also which haue the <sup>e</sup> first fruits of the Spirit, euen we doe sigh in our selves, wayning for the adoption, euen the <sup>f</sup> redemption of our <sup>g</sup> body.

24 For we are saied by hope: but <sup>h</sup> hope that is idle, is not hope: for how can a man hope for that which he seeth?

25 But if we hope for that we see not, we do with patience abide for it.

26 Likewise the Spirit also helpeth our infirmities: for we know not what to pray as we ought: but the Spirit it selfe maketh request for vs with sighes, which cannot be expressed.

27 But hee that searcheth the hearts, knoweth what is the meaning of the Spirit: for hee <sup>i</sup> maketh request for the Saints, according to the will of God.

28 Also we know that all things worke together for the best vnto them that loue God, euen to them that are called of his purpose.

29 For those which he <sup>j</sup> knew before, he also predestinated, to bee made like to the image of his Sonne, in whom hee might be the first borne among many brethren.

30 Moreover, whom he predestinated, them also hee called, and whom hee called, them also hee iustified, and whom he iustified, them hee also glorified.

31 What shall we then say to these things? If God be on our side, who can bee against vs?

32 Who spared not his owne Sonne, but gaue him for vs all to death, how shall hee not with him giue vs all things also?

33 Who shall lay any thing to the charge of Gods cholen? It is God that <sup>k</sup> iustifieth.

34 Who shall condemn? It is Christ, which is dead, yea <sup>l</sup> or rather, which is risen againe, who is also at the right hand of God, and maketh request also for vs.

35 Who shall separate vs from the loue of Christ? shall tribulation, or anguish, or persecution, or famine, or nakednesse, or perill, or sword?

are my kinsmen according to the flesh.

4 Which are the Israelites, to whom pertaineth the adoption, and the glory, & the

and the seruice of God and the promises.

5 Of whom are the fathers, and of whom concerning the flesh, Christ came, who is God ouer all, blessed for euer Amen.

6 Norwithstanding it cannot bee that the word of God should take none effect: for all they are not Israel, which are of Israel:

7 Neither are they all children, because they are the seede of Abraham: * but, In s Isaac shall thy seede be called:

8 That is, they which are the children of the flesh, are not the children of God: but the children of the promise are counted for the seede.

9 For this is a word of promise, * In this same time will I come, and Sara shall haue a sonne.

10 Neither he onely felt this but also Rebecca when she had conceiued by one, euen by our father Isaac.

11 For, per the children were borne, and when they had neither done good nor euill, (that the purpose of God might remaine according to election, not by works, but by him that calleth.)

12 It was said vnto her, * The elder shall serue the younger:

13 As it is written, * I haue loued Jacob and haue hated Esau.

14 What shall we say then? Is there unrighteousnesse with God? God forbid.

15 For he saith to Moses, * I will haue mercy on him to whom I will shew mercie:
and will haue compassion on him, on whom
I will haue compa'sion.

16 So then it is not in him that willeth: nor in him that runneth, but in God that sheweth mercie.

17 For the Scripture saith vnto Pharao, * For this same purpose haue I stirred thee up, that I might shew my power in thee, and that my name might bee declared throughout all ege earth.

18 Therefore he hath mercie on whom he will, and whom he will, he hardeneth.

19 Thou wilt say then vnto mee, * Why doeth he yet complaine? for who hath resisted his will?

20 But, O man, who art thou which thou pleadest against God? Shall the thing formed say to him that formed it, * Why hast thou made me thus?

21 Hath not the potter power of the clay to make of the same kinne one vessel to ll honour, and another to dishonour?

22 What and if God would, to shew his wrath, and to make his power knowne, suffer with long patience the vessels of wrath prepared to destruction?

23 And that he might declare the riches of his glory vpon the vessels of mercie, which he hath prepared vnto glory?

24 Euen vs, whom he hath called, not of the Iewes onely, but also of the Gentiles.

25 As he saith also in Osee, * I will call them, O ye people, which were not my people:
and her, Beloued, which was not beloued.

26 And it shall be, in the place where it was said vnto them, * We are not my people, that there they shall be called, The children of the liuing God.

27 Also Elias crieth concerning Israel, * Though the number of the children of Israel were as the sand of the sea, yet shall but a remnant be saued.

28 For he will make his account, and gather it into a thorn: (summe with right conscience: for the Lord will make a thorn count in the earth.

29 * And as Elias said before, Except the Lord of hostes had left vs a seed, we had bene made as Sodome, and had bene like to Gomorrah.

30 What shall we say then? That the Gentiles which followed not righteounesse, haue attained vnto righteounesse, euen the righteounesse which is of faith.

31 But Israel which followed the Law of righteounesse, could not attaine vnto the Law of righteounesse.

32 Wherefore? Because they sought it not by faith, but as it were by the workes of the Law: for they haue stumbled at the stumbling stone.

33 As it is written, * Behold, I lay in Sion a stumbling stone, and a rocke to make men fall: and euery one that belieueth in him, shall not be ashamed.

Belieuer, mine hearts desire and prayer God for Israel is, that they might be saued.

2 For I heare them recorde, that they haue the zeale of God, but not according to knowledge.

3 For they being ignorant of the righteousnesse of God, and going about to stabilish their owne righteousness, haue not submitted themselves to the righteousness of God.

4 For Christ is the end of the Lawe for righteousness vnto every one that belieueth.

5 For Moses thus describeth the righteousnesse which is of the Law, * That the man which doeth these things, shall liue thereby.

6 But the righteousness which is of faith, speaketh on this wise, * Say not in thine heart, who shall ascend into heauen?
(that is, to bring Christ from aboue.)

7 Or who shall descend into the deepe?
(that is, to bring Christ againe from the dead)

8 But what saith it? * The word is nere thee, euen in thy mouth, and in thine heart. This is the word of faith which we preach.

9 For if thou shalt confesse with thy mouth the Lord Iesus, and shalt beleue in thine heart, that God raised him vp from the dead, thou shalt be saued.

10 For with the heart man belieueth vnto righteousnesse, and with the mouth man confesseth to saluation.

11 For the Scripture saith, * Whosoener beleueth in him shall not be ashamed.

12 For there is no difference betweene the Iewes and the Greecians: for hee that is Lord ouer all, is rich vnto all, that call on him.

13 * For whosoener shall call vpon the Name of the Lord, shall be saued.

14 But how shall they call on him, in whom they haue not beleued: and how shall they beleue in him, of whom they haue not heard? and how shall they heare without a preacher?

15 And how shall they preach, except they be sent? as it is written, * How beautifull are the feete of them which bring glad tidings of peace, and bring glad tidings of good things!

16 But they haue not all obeyed the Gospel: for Calas saith, * Lord, who hath be-lieued out report.

17 Then saith is by hearing, and hearing
e by the word of God.

18 But I demanda, Haue they not heard? No doubt their sound went out through all the earth, and their words into the ends of the world.

19 But I demanda, did not Israel know God? first Moses saith, * I will prouoke you to enuy by a nation that is not my nation, and by a wissh nation I will anger you.

20 And Calas is bold, and saith, waie is found of them that thought me not, and haue bene made manifest to them that asked not after me.

21 And vnto Israel he saith, * All the day long haue I stretcht forth mine hand vnto a disobedient and gainelaying people.

CHAP. XI.

4 God hath his Church, although it be not seene to mans eye. 5 The grace shewed to the elect. 7

ded the Iewes for a time and reuealed himselfe to the Gentiles. 18 Whom hee werneth to bosome themselves. 19 The gifts of God without repentance.
33 The depth of Gods iudgements.

1 Demanda then, hath God cast away his people? God forbid. for I also am an Israelite, of the seede of Abraham, of the tribe of Benjamin.

2 God hath not cast away his people which hee knew before. Know yee not what the Scripture saith of Elias, how hee maketh request vnto God against Israel, saying,

3 Lord, they haue killed thy Prophets, and digged downe thine altars: and I am left alone, and they seeke my life?

4 But what saith the answer of God to him? I haue reserved vnto my selfe seuen thousand men, which haue not bowed the knee to Baal.

5 Euen so then at this present time is there a remnant through the election of grace.

6 And if it bee of grace, it is no more of works: of else grace, were no more grace:
but if it be of works, it is no more grace: of else were worke no more worke.

7 What then? Israel hath not obtined that he sought: but the election hath obtined it, and the rest haue bene hardened.

8 According as it is written, * God hath giuen them the spirit of slumber: eyes that they should not see, eares that they should not heare vnto this day.

9 And David saith, * Let their table be made a snare, and a net, and a stumbling blocke euen for a recompence vnto them.

10 Let their eyes be darkened that they see not, e their downe their backs alwayes, thinkto finde

11 I demanda then, haue they liued blessed, that they should fall? God forbid: but through their fall saluation cometh vnto the Gentiles, to prouoke them to follow the Gospel, thinking

12 Therefore if the fall of them bee the riches of the world: and the diminishing of them the riches of the Gentiles, how much more shall their abundance be?

13 For in that I speake to you Gentiles, e

15 For if the casting away of them be the reconciling of the world, what shall the retaining be but <sup>a</sup> life from the dead?
16 For if <sup>b</sup> the first fruites be holy, so is the whole lump: and if the <sup>c</sup> roote be holy, so are the branches.
17 And though some of the branches bee broken off, and thou being a wilde Olive tree, wait graff in <sup>d</sup> for them, and made partaker of the roote, and fatnesse of the Olive tree, 18 Boast not thy selfe against the branches: and if thou boast thy selfe, thou bearest not the roote, but the rove thee.
19 Thou wilt say then, The branches are broken off, that I might be graff in.
20 Well: though unbelieve they are broken off, and thou standest by faith: bee not high minded, but <sup>e</sup> feare.
21 For if God spared not the naturall branches, eakeheed, lest he also spare not thee.
22 Behold therefore the bountifullnesse, and lenitie of God: toward them which haue fallen, lenitie: but toward thee, bountifullnesse, if thou continue in his bountifullnesse: or else thou shalt also be cut off.
23 And they also, if they abide not still in unbelieve, shall be graffed in: for God is able to graffe them in againe.
24 For if thou wait cut out of the Olive tree, which was wilde by nature, and wait graffed contrarie to nature in a rigth Olive tree: how much more shall they that are by nature, be graffed in their owne Olive tree?
25 For I would not, brethren, that ye should be ignorant of this secret, ( lest ye should be arrogant in your flesh) that partly by obstinacie is come to Israel, untill the fullnesse of the Gentiles be come in.
26 And so <sup>f</sup> all Israel shall be saved, as it is written, * The deliverer shall come out of Zion, and shall turne away the ungodlinesse from Jacob.

31 Euen so now haue they not beleued <sup>h</sup> by the mercy shewed unto you, that they also may obtaine mercy.
32 For God hath shut by <sup>i</sup> all in unbelieve, that he might haue mercy on all.
33 O the depthes of the riches, both of the wisdom and knowledge of God! how unsearchable are his judgements, and his wayes past finding out!
34 * For <sup>j</sup> who hath known the minde of the Lord? or who hath his counsell?

25 O who hath <sup>k</sup> given unto him first, and he shall be recompensed?
26 For of <sup>l</sup> him, and through him, and for him are all things: to him be glory for ever, Amen.

CHAP. XII.

The consuetion, loue and workes of such as beleeue in Christ. 19 Not to seeke reuengence.

1 Beweich you therefore brethren, by the mercies of God, that ye giue by your bodies a <sup>a</sup> living sacrifice, holy, acceptable unto God, which is your <sup>b</sup> reasonable seruice of God.
2 And fashion not your members (like unto this world, but be ye changed by the renewing of your minde, that ye may <sup>c</sup> proue what is the <sup>d</sup> good will of God, and acceptable, and perfect.
3 For I say through the grace that is giuen unto mee, to euery one that is among you, that no man presume to understand, a <sup>e</sup> bowe that which is meete to understand, but that he <sup>f</sup> understand according to <sup>g</sup> sobriety, faith to godlines, and charitie, b <sup>h</sup> That is, true, lawfull, and spiritual. *Per 2. 5. 4 For as wee haue many members in one body, and all members haue not one office,
5 So we being many are one body in Christ, and euery one, one anothers members.
6 * Seeing then that we haue gifts that are diuers, according to the grace that is giuen vnto vs, whether we haue <sup>i</sup> prophetic, let vs prophesie according to the proportion of <sup>j</sup> faith:
7 Or an office, let vs waite on the office: or be that teacheth, on teaching:
8 Or he that exhorteth, on exhortation: hee that <sup>k</sup> distributeth, let him doe it <sup>l</sup> with simplicitie: hee that ruleth, with diligence: hee that <sup>m</sup> sheweth mercie, with <sup>n</sup> charitifulnesse.
9 Let loue be without dissimulation. * As heore that which is euill, and cleane vnto that which is good.

CHAP. XIII.

1 The obedience to the rulers. 4 Why they haue the sword. 8 Charitie ought to measure all our doings. 11 An exhortation to innocencie and puritie of life.

Let every soule be subiect vnto the high: L R powers: for there is no power but of God: and the powers that bee, are ordained of God.

2 Whosoener therefore resisteth the power, resisteth the ordinance of God: and they that resist, shall receiue to themselves iudgement.

3 For princes are not to be feared for good workes, but for euill. What thou then be without feare of the power: doe well: so shalt thou haue praise of the same.

4 For hee is the minister of God for thy wealth: but if thou doe euill, feare: for hee beareth not the sword for nought: for hee is the minister of God: to take vengeance on him that doeth euill.

5 Therefore ye must be subiect, not because of wrath onely, but also for conscience sake.

6 For, for this cause ye pay also tribute: for they are Gods ministers, applying themselves for the same thing.

7 Giue to all men therefore their due: tribute, to whom ye owe tribute: custome, to whom custome: feare, to whom feare: honours, to whom ye owe honour.

8 Owe nothing to any man, but to loue one another: for he that loueth another, hath fulfilled the Law.

9 For this, * Thou shalt not commit adulterie, Thou shalt not kill, Thou shalt not steale, Thou shalt not beare false witness, Thou shalt not couet: and if there be any other commandement, it is briefly comprehended in this saying, euen in this: * Thou shalt loue thy neighbour as thy selfe

10 Loue doeth not euill to his neighbour: therefore is loue the fulfilling of the Law.

11 And that considering the season, that it is now time that we should arise from sleep: for now is our saluation nearer then when we beleued it.

12 The night is past, and the day is at hand: let vs therefore cast away the workes of darkenesse, and let vs put on the armour of light.

13 So that we walke honestly, as in the day: not in * gluttonie and drunkennesse, neither in chambering and wantonnesse, nor in strife and enuying:

14 * But put yee on the Lord IESVS Christ, and take no thought for the flesh, to fulfill the lusts of it.

CHAP. XIII.

1 The weak ought not to be despised. 10 No man should offend anothers conscience. 15 But one to support another in charitie and faith.

Thin that is weak in the faith, receiue H vnto you, but not for controuersies of disputations.

2 One beloueth that he may eate of all things: and another, which is weak, eateth herbes.

3 Let not him that eateth, despise him that eateth not: and let not him which eateth not, iudge him that eateth: for God hath reelected him.

4 * Who art thou that condemnest another mans seruant: hee standeth of falseth to his owne master: yea, he shall bee established: for God is able to make him stand.

5 This man esteemeth one day aboue another day, and another man counteth euery day alike: let euery man be fully perswaded in his minde.

6 He that obserueth the day, obserueth it to the Lord: and hee that obserueth not the day, obserueth it not to the Lord. Wee that eateth, eateth to the Lord: for hee giueth God thanks: and he that eateth not, eateth not to the Lord, and giueth God thanks.

7 For none of vs liueth to himselfe, neither doth any die to himselfe.

8 For whether we liue, we liue vnto the Lord: or whether we die, wee die vnto the Lord: whether we liue therefore, or die, wee are the Lords.

9 For Christ therefore died, and rose againe, and returned, that he might be Lord both of the dead and the quicke.

10 But why doest thou iudge thy brother? or why doest thou despise thy brother? for wee shall all appeare before the iudgement seat of Christ.

11 For it is written, * I thus, sayth the Lord, and every knee shall bow to mee, and all tongues shall confesse vnto God.

14 I know, and am perswaded through the Lord Iesus, that there is nothing uncleane of it selfe: but vnto him that iudgeth any thing to be uncleane, to him it is uncleane.

15 But if thy brother bee grieved for the meate, nowe walkest thou not charitably: * destroy not him with thy meate, for whom Christ died.

16 Cause not your commodity to be euil spoken of.

17 For the kingdom of God is not meate nor drinke, but righteousness, and peace, and ioy in the holy Ghost.

18 For whosoever is in these things serueth Christ, is acceptable vnto God, and is approved of men.

19 Let vs then follow those things which concerne peace, and wherewith one may edifie another.

20 Destroy not the worke of God for meates sake: * all things indeede are pure: but it is euill for the man which eateth with offence.

21 * It is good neither to eate flesh, nor to drinke wine, nor any thing, whereby thy brother stumbleth, or is offended, or made weak.

22 Hast thou a faith? haue it with thy selfe before God: blessed is he that condemneth not himselfe in that thing which he alloweth.

23 For he that doubteth, is condemned if he eate, because he eateth not of faith: and whatsoeuer is not of faith, is sinne.

CHAP. XV.

1 Paul exhortheth them to see port and loue one another by the example of Christ, 9 & by the only mercy of God, which is the cause of saluation both of the one and the other. 14 He sheweth his zeale toward them and the Church, 30 and requirith the same of them.

W<sup>E</sup> which are strong, ought to beare the infirmities of the weak, and not to please our selves.

2 Therefore let every man please his neighbour in that that is good to edification.

3 For Christ also would not please himselfe, but as it is written, * The rebukes of them which rebuke thee, fell on me.

4 For whatsoever things are written against you, are written for our learning, that wee through patience, and comfort of the Scriptures, might haue hope.

5 Now the God of patience and consolation giue you that ye be like minded one towards another, according to Christ Iesus, 6 That ye with one minde, and with one mouth may prayle God, euen the Father of our Lord Iesus Christ.

7 Wherefore, receiue ye one another, as Christ also receiued vs to the glory of God.

8 Now I say, that Iesus Christ was a remanuer of the circumcision, for the truth of God, to confirme the promises made vnto the fathers.

9 And let the Gentiles praise God for his mercy, as it is written, * For this cause I will confesse thee among the Gentiles, and sing vnto thy Name.

10 And againe he sayth, * Reioyce, ye Gentiles, with his people.

11 And againe, * Praise the Lord all ye Gentiles, and laud ye him all people together.

12 And againe Estabas saith, * There shall be a roote of Jesse, and she that shall rise to reigne ouer the Gentiles, in him shall the Gentiles trust.

13 Now the God of hope fill you with all ioy, and peace in believing, that ye may abound in hope, through the power of the holy Ghost.

14 And I my selfe also am perswaded of you, my brethren, that ye also are full of goodness, and filled with all knowledge, and are able to admonish one another.

15 Wherefore these brethren, I haue somewhat boldly after a sort written vnto you, as one that putteth you in remembrance, through the grace that is giuen mee of God,

16 That I should be the minister of Iesus Christ toward the Gentiles, ministering the Gospel of God, that the offering up of the Gentiles might be acceptable, being sanctified by the holy Ghost.

17 I haue therefore wherof I may reioyce in Christ Iesus in those things which pertaine to God.

18 For I dare not speake of any thing which Christ hath not wrought by mee, to make the Gentiles obedient in word and deed, 19 With the power of signes and wonders, by the power of the spirit of God: so that from Ierusalem, and round about vnto Illyricum, I haue caused to abound the Gospel of Christ.

20 Yea, so I enforced my selfe to preach the Gospel, not where Christ was named, lest I should haue built on another mans foundation.

21 But as it is written, * To whom hee was not spoken of, they shall see him, and they that heard not, shall vnderstand him.

22 Therefore also I haue bene off let to come vnto you.

23 But nowe seeing I haue no more place in these quarters, and also haue tedious and many yeeres agone to come vnto you,

24 When I shall take my iourney into Spaine, I will come to you: for I trust 26 For it hath pleased them of Macedonia and Achata, to make a certaine distribution vnto the poore Saints which are at Ierusalem.

27 For it hath pleased them, and their debtors are they: * for if the Gentiles bee made partakers of their spirittuall things, their duty is also to minister vnto them in carnall things.

28 When I haue therefore performed this, and haue sealed them this fruit, I will passe by you into Spaine.

The first Epistle of Paul to the Corinthians.

THE ARGUMENT.

After that Saint Paul had preached at Corinthus a yeere and an halfe, he was compelled by the wickednesse of the Jewes to saile into Syria. In whose absence false apostles entred into the Church, who being puffed vp with vaine glory, and affectate eloquence, sought to bring into contempt the Gospell which Paul vsed in preaching the same. By whose ambition such factions and schismes sprang vp in the Church, that from opinions in policies & ceremonies, they fell to false doctrine and heresies, calling into doubt the resurrection from the dead, one of the chiefest points of Christian Religion. Against these euils the Apostle proceedeth, preparing the Corinthians hearts, and cares with gentle salutations: but soone after he reproveth their contentions and debates, their arrogance and pride, and exhorteth them to concord and humilitie, setting before their eyes the spirituall vertue, and heavenly wisdom of the Gospell, which cannot be perswaded by worldly wit and eloquent reason, but is reueiled by Gods Spirit, and so sealed in mens hearts. Therefore this saluation may not be attributed to the ministers, but onely to God; whose seruants they are, and haue receiued charge to edifie his Church: wherein Saint Paul behaue himselfe (skillfully, building according to the foundation (which is Christ) and exhorteth others to make the end proportionable to the beginning, taking diligent heede that they be not polluted with vaine doctrine, seeing they are the Temple of God. And as for those that doubted of his Apostleship, he sheweth them that he dependeth not on mans iudgment, albeit he had declared by manifest signes, that he neuer sought his own glory, neither yet how he might liue, but only the glory of Christ: which thing at his coming he would declare more amply, to the shame of those vaine glorious braggers, who sought themselves onely, and therefore suffered most horrible vices vnreproved and unpunished, as incest, contentions, pleadings before infidels, fornication, and such like, to the great slander of the Gospell. This done, he answereth to certaine points of the Corinthians letter, as touching single life, dueie of marriage, of discord and dissention among the married, of virginity, and second marriage. And because some thought it nothing to be present at idole seruice, seeing in their heart they worshipped the true God, he warneth them to haue respect to their weake brethren, whose faith by that dissembling was hindered, and their consciences wounded, which thing rather then he would doe, hee would neuer vse that libertie, which God had given him. But forasmuch as pride; and selfe will was the cause of those great euils, he admonisheth them by the example of the Jewes not to glory in these outward gifts, whose horrible punishment for the abuse of Gods creatures, ought to be a warning to all men to follow Christ vprightly, without all pollution and offence of others. Then he correcteth diuers abuses in their Church, as touching the behaviour of men, and women in the assemblies: of the Lords Supper, the abuse of the Spirituall gifts, which God hath giuen to maintaine loue, and edifie the Church: as concerning the resurrection from the dead, without the which the Gospell serueth to no vse. Last of all, he exhorteth the Corinthians to relieue the poore brethren at Ierusalem, to perseuer in the loue of Christ, and well doing, sending his commendations, and wishing them peace.

CHAP. I.

1 He praiseth the great graces of God shewed toward them, 10 Exhorting them to concord and humilitie. 19 Hee beateth downe all pride, and wisdom which is not grounded on God, 26 Shewing whom God hath chosen to confound the wisdom of the world.

DALL called to bee an Apostle of IESVS CHRIST, though the will of God, and our brother Sothenes,

2 Unto the Church of God, which is at Corinth, to them that are <sup>a</sup> sanctified in Christ Iesus, * <sup>b</sup> solate by calling, * with all that call on the Name of our Lord Iesus Christ in every place, both their Lord and ours;

11 For it hath been declared vnto mee, my brethren, of you, by them that are of the house of Elce, that there are contentions among you.

12 Nowe this I say, that euery one of you sayeth. I am Pauls, and I am * Apollos, and I am Cephas, and I am Christis.

13 Is Christ diuided? was Paul crucified for you? either were yee baptized * into the name of Paul?

14 I thanke God, that I baptized none of you, but * Cellys, and * Gaius,

15 Lest any should say, that I had baptized into mine owne name.

16 I baptized also the household of Ste-phanas: farthermore know I not whether I baptized any other.

17 For Christ sent mee not to = baptize, but to preach the Gospel, not with * wisdom of wordes, lest the crosse of Christ should be made of none effect.

18 For the preaching of the crosse is to them that perish, foolishnesse: but vnto vs which are lauded, it is the * power of God.

19 For it is written, * I will destroy the wisdom of the wise, and will cast away the understanding of the prudent.

20 Where is the wise? where is the p Scribe? where is the y disputer of the world? hath not God made the wisdom of this world foolishnesse?

21 For seeing the world by wisdom knew not God in the wisdom of God, it pleased God by the foolishnesse of preaching to save them that beleeue;

22 Seeing also that the Iewes require a * signe, and the Grecians seeke after wise-dome.

23 But we preach Christ crucified: vnto the Iewes, euen a stumbling blocke, and vnp to the Grecians, foolishnesse:

24 But vnto them which are called, both of the Iewes and Grecians, wee preach Christ, the power of God, and the wisdom of God.

25 For the * foolishnesse of God is wiser then men, & the weaknesse of God is stronger then men.

26 For brethren, you see your calling, how that not many wise men after the flesh, not many mighty, not many noble are called.

27 But God hath chosen y foolish things of the world, to confound the wise, and God hath chosen the weake things of the world, to confound the mighty things.

28 And vile things of the world, & things which are despised, hath God chosen, and things which are not, to bring to nought things that are,

29 That no * flesh should reioyce in his presence.

30 But yee are of him in Christ Iesus, who of God is made vnto vs * wisdom and righteousness, and sanctification, and redemption,

31 That according as it is written, * He that reioyceth, let him reioyce in the Lord.

30 But yee are of him in Christ Iesus,
who of God is made vnto vs * wisdom
and righteousness, and sanctification, and
redemption,

31 That according as it is written, * He that reioyceth, let him reioyce in the Lord.

CHAP. II.

1 Hee putteth for example his manner of preaching, which was according to the tenour of the Gospel, 8 Which Gospel was contemptible and hid to the carnall, 10 And againe honourable and manifest to the spiritual.

1 And I brethren, when I came to you,
I came not with * excellency of wordes, or of wisdom, shewing vnto you the || * testimony of God.

2 For I esteemed not to || knowe any thing among you, save Iesus Christ, & him crucified.

3 * And I was among you in b weaknes, and in feare, and in much trembling.

4 Neither stood my word, and my preaching in the * unskillfull speech of mans wise-dome, but in playne euidence of the Spirit and of power,

5 That your sayth should not bee in the wisdom of men, but in the power of God.

6 And we speake wisdom among them that are * perfitte: not the wisdom of this world, neither of the d princes of this world, which come to nought.

7 But wee speake the wisdom of God in a mystery, euen the hid wisdom of God, which God hath appoynted before the world, vnto our glory.

8 Which * none of the Princes of this world hath knowen: for had they knowen it, they would not haue crucified the l Lorde of glory.

9 But as it is written, * The things which eye hath not seene, neither eare hath heard, neither came into mans heart, are, which G O D hath prepared for them that loue him.

10 But God hath reueiled them vnto vs by his Spirit: for the Spirit b searcheth all things, yea, the deepe things of God.

11 For what man knoweth the things of a man, (save the spirit i of a man, which is in him: euen so the things of God knoweth no man, but the Spirit of God.

CHAP. III.

3 Paul rebuketh the sects and authors thereof.
 7 No man ought to attribute his saluation to the ministers, but to God.
 10 That they beware erroneous doctrine.
 11 Christ is the foundation of his Church.
 16 The dignitie and office both of the ministers, and also of all the faithfull.

a Being ingrafted in Christ by faith wee begin to moue by his Spirit, and as we profit in faith, we grow vp to a ripe age. And here let him take heede that teacheth, lest for milke he giue poison: for milke and strong meate in effect are one, but onely differ in manner and forme.
 b He chargeth them with two faults: the one, that they attributed too much to the ministers, and the other, that they preferred one minister to another.

17 I could not speake vnto you, brethren, as vnto spirituall men, but as vnto carnall, such as vnto babes in Christ.
 2 I gaue you milke to drinke, and not meate: for ye were not yet able to beare it, neither yet now are ye able.
 3 For ye are yet carnall: for whereas there is among you enuying, and strife, and diuisions, are ye not carnall, and walke as men?
 4 For when one saith, I am Pauls, and another, I am Apolos, are ye not carnall?
 5 Who is Paul then? and who is Apolos, but the ministers by whom yee beleened, and as the Loird gaue to every man?
 6 I haue planted, Apolos watered, but God gaue the increase.
 7 So then, neither is hee that planteth any thing, neither hee that watereth, but God that giueth the increase.
 8 And he that planteth, and he that watereth, are one, and every man shall receive his wages, according to his labour.
 9 For wee together are Gods labourers: yee are Gods husbandrie, and Gods building.
 10 According to the grace of God giuen to mee, as a skilfull matter builder, I haue laide the foundation, and another buildeth thereon: but let every man take heed how he buildeth vpon it.
 11 For other foundation can no man lay, then that which is laide, which is Iesus Christ.
 12 And if any man build on this foundation, gold, siluer, precious stones, timber, hay, or stubble, 13 Every mans worke shall be made manifest: for the day shall declare it, because it shall be revealed by the fire: and the fire shall trie every mans worke of what soe it is.

 14 If any mans worke, that he hath builte vpon, abide, he shall receive wages.
 15 If any mans worke burne, hee shall s. lose, but hee shall bee safe himselfe: neither the least ye as it were by the fire.
 16 Know ye not that ye are the Temple of God, and that the Spirit of God dwel- lery in you?
 17 If any man destroy the Temple of God, him shall God destroy: for the Temple of God is holy, which ye are.
 18 Let no man deceiue himselfe. If any man among you seeme to be wise in this world, let him bee a foole, that hee may bee wise.
 19 For the wisdom of this world is foolishnesse with God: for it is written, Hee catcheth the wise k in their owne craftinesse.
 20 And againe, The Lord knoweth that the thoughts of the wise be vaine.
 21 Therefore let no man reioyce in men: for all things are yours.
 22 Whether it bee Paul, or Apolos, or Cephas, or the world, or life, or death: whether they bee things present, or things to come, euen all are yours, 23 And yee Christs, and Christs Gods, which they laide for others.

g Both his labor and reward.
 h He reproveth them not as false apostles, but as curious teachers of humane sciences, as they which lothing at the simplicitie of Gods word, preach philosophical speculations.

CHAP. IIIII.

1 After that he had described the office of a true Apostle, 3 Seeing they did not acknowledge him such one, 4 He appealeth to Gods iudgement. 7 Beating downe their glory which hindered them to praise that, which they disprayed in him, 19 He sheweth what he requireth on their parts, and what they ought to looke for of him at his returne.
 1 Let a man so thinke of vs, as of the ministers of Christ, and disposers of the secrets of God.
 2 And as for the rest, it is required of the disposers, that every man be found faithfull.
 3 As touching me, I passe very little to bee iudged of you, or of mans iudgement: no, I iudge not mine owne selfe.
 4 For I know nothing by my selfe, yet am I not there by iustified: but hee that iudgeth me, is the Lord.
 5 Therefore iudge nothing before the time, vntill the Lord come, who will lighten things that are hid in darknesse, and make the counsels of the heart manifest: and then shall every man haue praise of God.
 6 Now these things, brethren, I haue figuratiuely applied vnto mine owne selfe and Apolos for your sakes, that ye might learne by vs, that no man presume about that which is written, that one shall not against another for any mans cause.
 7 For who separateth thee? and what hast thou, that thou hast not receiued? if thou hast receiued it, why reioycest thou, as though thou haddest not receiued it?

 d Concerning mine office.
 e By our example, f To wit, from other men, and preterretch thee.

8 Now ye are fill: now ye are made rich: ye reigne as kings without vs. & would to God ye did reigne, that wee also might reigne with you.

9 For I thinke that God hath let forth vs the last Apostles, as men appointed to death: for we are made a galing stocke vnto the world, and to the Angelz, and to men.

10 We are wile as fooles for Christes sake, and ye are wile in Christ: wee are weak, and ye strong: ye are honourable, and wee are despised.

11 Vnto this houre we both hunger, and thirst, and are naked, and are buffeted, and haue no certaine dwelling place.

12 * And labour, working with our owne hands: we are cruciled, and yet we blessed: wee are persecuted, and suffer it.

13 * We are euill spoken of, and we pray: we are made as the filth of the world, the offscowring of all things vnto this time.

14 I write not these things to shame you, but as my beloued children I admonish you.

15 For though ye haue ten thousand instructors in Christ, yet haue ye not many fathers: for in Christ Iesus I haue begotten you through the Gospel.

16 Wherefore, I pray you, be ye fellowers of me.

17 For this cause haue I sent vnto you Timotheus, which is my beloued sonne, and faithfull in the Lord, which shall put you in remembrance of my wayes in Christ, as I teach euery where in euery Church.

18 Some are puffed by as though I would not come to you.

19 But I will come to you shortly, * if the Lord will, and will know, not the speach of them which are puffed vp, but the power.

20 For the kingdom of God is not in word, but in power.

21 What will ye? shall I come vnto you with a rodde, or in loue, and in the spirit of meekenesse?

CHAP. V.

1 He reproveth sharply their negligence in punishing him that had committed incest, 3 Warning them to excommunicate him, 7 To embrace puritie, 9 And flee wickednesse.

I T is heard certainly, that there is fornication among you, and such fornication as is not once named among the Gentiles, * that one should haue his fathers wife.

2 And ye are puffed vp, and haue not rather sorrowed, that hee which hath done this deed, might be put from among you.

3 * For I verely as absent in body, but present in spirit, haue determined already, as though I were present, that hee that hath thus done this thing.

4 When ye are gathered together, and my spirit, * in the Name of our Lord Iesus Christ, that such one, I say, by the power of our Lord Iesus Christ, 5 * Bee deliuered vnto Satan, for the destruction of the flesh, that the spirit may be saved in the day of the Lord Iesus.

6 Your reioyng is not a good: * know ye not that a little leauen leaueth the whole lump?

7 Purge out therefore the olde leauen, that ye may be a new lump, * as ye are vnlauened: for Christ our Passouer is sacrificed for vs.

8 Therefore let vs keepe the feast, not with old leauen, neither in the leauen of malitiousnesse and wickednesse: but with the vnlauened bread of sinceritie and truth.

9 I wrote vnto you in an Epistle, * that ye should not company together with fornicators,

10 And not altogether with the fornicators of this world, or with the couctous, or with extortioners, or with idolaters: for then ye must goe out of the world.

11 But now I haue written vnto you, that ye company not together: if any that is called a brother, bee a fornicator, or couctous, or an idolater, or a rayler, or a drunkard, or an extortioner, with such one eate not.

12 For what haue I to doe to iudge them also, which are without: doe ye not iudge them that are within?

13 But God iudgeth them that are without. But away therefore from among your selves that wicked man.

CHAP. VI.

1 Hee rebuketh them for going to law together before the heathen. 7 Christians ought rather to suffer. 12 He reproveth the abusing of Christians liberitie, 15 And sheweth that we ought to serue God purely both in body and soule.

D Are any of you, hauing businesse against another, be iudged vnder the vnjust, and not vnder the Saints?

2 * Doe ye not know, that the Saints shall iudge the world? If the world then shall be iudged by you, are ye vnworthy to iudge the smallest matters?

3 Know ye not that wee shall iudge the Angels? how much more things that pertaine to this life?

4 If then ye haue iudgements of things pertaining to this life, * let by them which are least esteemed in the Church.

5 I speake it to your shame. Is it so that there is not a wise man among you? no not one, that can iudge betweene his brethren?

6 But a brother geeth to law with a brother, and that vnder the infidels.

7 Now therefore there is vnto you a fault iudge: for it is most easie to iudge betweene brethren. Or, simplicitie of minde.

CHAP. VII.

1 The Apostle answereth to certaine questions, which the Corinthians desire to know, 2 As of single-life, 3 Of the duties of marriage, 11 Of discords and dissention in marriage, 13 Of marriage betweene the faithfull and vnfaithfull, 18 Of vncircumcising the circumcised. 21 Of seruitude, 25 Of virginie, 39 And second marriage.

Now concerning the things wherof yee wrote vnto me, It were good for a man not to touch a woman.

2 Accetthelseth, to anye fornication, let every man haue his wife, and let euery woman haue her owne husband.

3 Speaking to all men in general,

3 * Let the husband giue vnto the wife due beneuolence, and likewise also the wife vnto the husband.

4 The wife hath not the power of her owne body, but the husband: and likewise also the husband hath not the power of his owne body, but the wife.

5 Detraund not one another, except it be with consent for a time, that yee may giue your selues to fasting and praier, and againe come together, that Satan tempt you not for your incontinencie.

6 But I speake this by permission, & not by commandement.

7 For I would that all men were euen as I: my selfe am: but euery man hath his proper gift of God, one after this maner, and another after that.

8 Therefore I say vnto the vnmarrid, and vnto the widoues, It is good for them if they abide euen as I doe.

9 But if they cannot abstaine, let them marrie: for it is better to marrie then to burne.

10 And vnto the married I commaund, not I, but the Lord, let not the wife depart from her husband.

11 But and if she depart, let her remaine vnmarrid, or bee reconciled vnto her husband, and let not the husband put saway his wife.

12 But to the remnant I speake, and not the Lord, If any brother haue a wife, that beleueth not, if she be content to dwell with him, let him not forsake her.

13 And the woman which hath an husband that beleueth not, if she be content to dwell with her, let her not forsake him.

14 For the vnbelleuing husbande is sanctified by the wife, and the vnbelleuing wife is sanctified by the husband, eue were your children vncleane: but now are they holy.

15 But if the vnbelleuing depart, let him depart: a brother or a sister is not in subiection in such things: but God hath called vs in peace.

16 For what knowest thou, O wife, whether thou shalt saue thine husband? Or what knowest thou, O man, whether thou shalt saue thy wife?

17 But as God hath distributed to euery man, as the Lord hath called euery one, so let him walke: and so ordeine I in all Churches.

18 Is any man called being circumcised:
 let him not gather his vncircumcision: is any called vncircumcised: let him not bee circumcised.

19 Circumcision is nothing, and vncir-cumcision is nothing, but the keeping of the commandements of God.

ration wherein he was called.

21 Art thou called being a seruant? care not for it: but if yet thou mayest be free, use it rather.

22 For he that is called in the Lord being a seruant, is the Lords free man: likewise also hee that is called being free, is Christs seruant.

23 *Ye are bought with a price: be not the seruants of men.

24 Brethren, let euery man, wherein hee was called, therein abide with God.

25 Now concerning virgins, I haue no commandement of the Lord: but I giue mine aduise, as one that hath obtained mercie of the Lord to be faithful.

26 I suppose then: this to be good for the present: * necessitie: I meane, that it is good for a man to be.

27 Art thou bound vnto a wife? seeke not to be loosed: art thou loosed from a wife? seeke not a wife.

28 But if thou takest a wife, thou sinnest not: and if a virgin marrie, the sinneth not: neuertheless, such shall haue * y trouble in the flesh: but I spare you.

29 And this I say, brethren, because the time is short, I heereafter that both they which haue wifes, bee as though they had none:

30 And they that weep, as though they wept not: and they that reioyce, as though they reioyced not: and they that buy, as though they possessed not:

31 And they that vie this world as though they used it not: for the fashion of this world goeth away.

32 And I would haue you without care. The unmarried careth for the things of the Lord, how he may please the Lord.

33 But he that is married, careth for the things of the world, how he may please his wife.

34 There is difference also betweene a virgin and a wife: the unmarried woman careth for the things of the Lord, & that shee may bee holy, both in body and in spirit: but shee that is married, careth for the things of the world, how shee may please her husband.

35 And this I speake for your owne conuincite, not to tangle you in a snare, but that ye may cleane fast vnto the Lord without separation.

36 But if any man thinketh that it is vncouenly for his virginie, if shee passe the flower of her age, and s neede so require, let him do what he will, he sinneth not: let them be married.

37 Heerthelesse, he that standeth firme in his heart, that he hath no neede, but hath power ouer his owne will, and hath to be desired in his heart, that he will keepe his virginie, hee doth well.

38 So then he hath giuen her to marriage, doeth well, but he that giueth her not to marriage, doeth better.

39 The wife is bound by the Law, as long as her husband * liueth: but if her husband be dead, she is at liberty to marry with whom shee will, onely in the Lord.

40 But shee is more blessed, if shee so abide, in my iudgement: * and I thinke that I haue also the spirit of God.

CHAP. VIII.

1 Hee rebuketh them that use their libertie to the slander of other, in going to the idolatrous sacrifices, 9 And sheweth how men ought to be haue them toward such as be weak.

And as touching things sacrificed vnto Idoles, we know that we all haue knowledge: knowledge passeth vp, but loue edifieth.

2 Now, if any man thinke that he knoweth any thing, he knoweth nothing yet as he ought to know.

3 But if any man loue God, the same is knowne of him.

4 Concerning the refoze meate sacrificed vnto idoles, wee know that an idole is nothing in the world, and that there is none other God but one,

5 For though there bee that are called gods, whether in heauen, or in earth, (as there be many gods, and many lords)

6 Yet vnto vs there is but one God, which is the Father, of whom are all things, and wee in him: and one Lord Iesus Christ, by whom are all things, and wee by him.

7 But euery man hath not knowledge: for some hauing conscience of the idole, vntil this houre, eate as a thing sacrificed vnto the idole, and so their conscience being weak, is defiled.

8 But meate maketh vs not acceptable to God: for neither if we eate, haue wee the more: neither if we eate not, haue wee the lesse.

9 But take heede lest by any meanes this power of yours be an occasion of falling to them that are weak.

10 For if any man see thee which hast knowledge, sit at table in the idoles temple, shall not the conscience of him which is weak, bee boldened to eate those things which are sacrificed to idoles?

11 And through thy knowledge shall the weak brother perish, for whom Christ died.

12 Now when ye sinne to against the brethren, and wound their weak conscience, ye sinne against Christ.

13 * Therefore if meate offend my brother, I wil eate no flesh while the world standeth, that I may not offend my brother.

k For now you haue no iust cause against me, seeing that I preach the Gospel freely vnto you.

l Seeing he is charged to preach he must willingly and earnestly follow it: for if he doe it by constraint, he doeth not his dutie.

m That I be not chargeable to them to whom I preach, seeing that I preach for gaines.

A M I not an Apostle? am I not free? haue I not serued Iesus Christ our Lord? are ye not my worke in the Lord?

2 I I be not an Apostle vnto other, yet doubtlesse I am vnto you: for ye are the 3 seals of mine Apostleship in the Lord.

3 By deservise to them that examine me is this,

4 Haue wee not power to eate, and to drinke?

5 Do haue we not power to leade about a wife being a sister, as well as the rest of the Apostles, and as the brethren of the Lord, and Cephas?

6 Do I onely and Barnabas, haue not we power to not to worke?

7 Who goeth a warfare any time at his owne cost? who planteth a vineyard, and eateth not of the fruit thereof? or who feedeth a flocke, and eateth not of the milke of the flocke?

8 Say I these things according to man? sayth not the Law the same also?

9 For it is written in the Law of Moses, * Thou shalt not muzzle the mouth of the oxe that treadeth out the corne: doeth God take care for oren?

10 Either sayth hee it not altogether for our sakes? for our sakes no doubt it is written, that hee which careth, should care in hope: and that hee that thresheth in hope, should be partaker of his hope.

11 * If I haue sower vnto you spirittuall things, is it a great thing if wee reape your carnal things?

12 If others with you bee partakers of this power, are not we rather: neuerthelesse, we haue not vied this power: but I suffer all things, that we should not hinder the Gospel of Christ.

13 Do ye not know, that they which minister about the holy things, eat of the things of the Temple? and they which wait at the altar, are partakers with the altar?

14 So also hath the Lord ordained, that they which preach the Gospel, should liue of the Gospel.

15 But I haue vied none of these things: neither wrote I these things, that it should be so done vnto me: for it were better for me to die, then that any man should make my reioycing vaine.

16 For though I preach the Gospel, I haue nothing to reioyce of: for necessitie is layed upon mee, and woe is vnto mee, if I preach not the Gospel.

17 For if I doe it willingly, I haue a reward: but if I doe it against my will, I notwithstanding the dispensation is committed vnto me.

18 What is my reward then? verely that when I preach the Gospel, I make the Gospel of Christ free, that I abuse not mine authority in the Gospel.

19 For though I bee free from all men, yet haue I made my selfe seruant vnto all men, that I might winne the mee.

20 * And vnto the Iewes I become as a Jew, that I may winne the Iewes: to them that are vnder the Lawe, as though I were vnder the Lawe, that I may winne them that are vnder the Law:

21 To them that are without Lawe, as though I were without Law (when I am not without Law as pertaining to God, but am in the Lawe through Christ) that I may winne them that are without Law.

22 To the weake I become as weake, that I may winne the weake: I am made all things to all men, that I might by all meanes save some.

23 And this I doe for the Gospels sake, that I might be partaker thereof with you.

24 Know ye not, that they which runne in a race, runne all, yet one receiveth the prize: so runne that ye may obtaine.

25 And every man that prooveth himselfe, abstaineth from all things: and they doe it to obtaine a corruptible crowne: but we for an incorruptible.

26 I therefore lo ruine, not as uncertainly: so fight I, not as one that beatech the ayre.

27 But I beate downe my body, and bring it into subiection, lest by any meanes after that I haue preached to other, I myselfe should be reprooued.

C H A P. X.

He seareth them with the examples of the Iewes, that they put not their trust carnally in the graces of God, 14 Exhering them to seee all idolatry, 23 and offence of their neighbour.

MOREouer brethren, I would not that ye should bee ignorant that all our fathers were vnder the cloudes, and all passed thorow the sea,

2 And were all baptized vnto a Moses, in the cloud, and the sea,

3 * And did all eate the same bread spiritual meate,

4 * And did all drinke the same spirituall drinke (for they dranke of the spirituall Rocke that followed them: and the Rocke was Christ)

5 But with many of them God was not pleased: for they were overthowen in the wilderness.

6 Now these are examples to vs, to the intent that wee should not lust after euill things: as they also lusted.

7 Neither be ye idolaters, as were some of them: as it is written, * The people fate downe to eate and drinke, and rose vp to play.

10 Neither murmure ye as some of them also murmured, and were destroy'd of the b Destroyer.

11 Now all these things came vnto them for examples, and were written to admonish vs, vpon whom the ends of the world are come.

12 Wherefore let him that thinketh hee standeth, take heed lest he fall.

13 There hath no tentation taken you, but such as appertaineth to man, and God is faithfull, which will not suffer you to be tempted aboue that you be able, but will euen giue the issue with the tentation, that ye may be able to beare it.

14 Wherefore my beloued, flee from idolatrie.

15 I speake as vnto them which haue vnderstanding: iudge ye what I say.

16 The cuppe of blessing which wee blefite, is it not the communion of the blood of Christ? The bread which wee breake, is it not the communion of the bodie of Christ?

17 For we that are many are one bread and one body, because wee all are partakers of one bread.

18 Behold Israel which is after the flesh: are not they which eate of the sacrifices partakers of the altar?

19 What say I then? that the soole is any thing? or that that which is sacrificed to idoles, is any thing?

20 Nay, but that these things which the Gentiles sacrifice, they sacrifice to deuils, and not vnto God: and I would not that ye should haue fellowship with the deuiils.

21 Ye cannot drinke the cup of the Lord, and the cup of the deuils. Ye cannot be partakers of the Lords table, and of the table of deuils.

22 Doe wee prouoke the Lord to anger? are we stronger then he?

23 All things are lawfull for me, but all things are not expedient: all things are lawfull for me, but all things edifie not.

24 Let no man seeke his owne, but euery man anothers wealth.

26 For the earth is the Lords, and all that therein is.

27 If any of them which beleue not call you to a feast, and if ye will goe, whatsoeuer is set before you, eate, asking no question for conscience sake.

28 But if any man say vnto you, This is sacrificed vnto idoles, eate it not, because of him that slewed it, and for the conscience (for the earth is the Lords, and all that therein is)

29 And the conscience I say, not thine, but of that other: for why would my libertie be condemned of anothers conscience?

30 For if I through Gods benefite bee partaker, why am I enill spoken of, for that wherefore I giue thanks?

31 Whether therefore ye eate or drinke, or whatsoeuer you doe, doe all to the glory of God.

32 Giue none offence, neither to the Iewes, nor to the Grecians, nor to the Church of God:

33 Euen as I please * all men in all things, not seeking mine owne profite, but the profite of many, that they might be saued.

CHAPTER XI.

He rebuketh the abuses which were crept into their Church, 4 As touching prayer, prophesying, 18 And ministering the Lords Supper, 23 Bringing them again to the first institution thereof.

Be ye the followers of me, euen as I am of Christ.

2 Now, brethren, I commend you, that ye remember all my things, and keepe the ordinances, as I deliuered them to you.

3 But I will that ye know, that Christ is the head of euery man: and the man is the womans head: and God is Christs head.

4 Euery man praying, or prophesying hauing any thing on his head, dishonoureth his head.

5 But euery woman that prayeth or prophesiech bare headed, dishonoureth her head: for it is euen one very thing, as though she were shamed.

6 Therefore if the woman be not couered, let her also be shome: and if it be shame for a woman to be shorne or shauen, let her be couered.

7 For a man ought not to couer his head: forasmuch as hee is the image and glory of God: but the woman is the glory of the man.

8 For the man is not the woman, but the woman of the man.

9 For the man was not created for the womans sake: but the woman for the mans sake.

10 Therefore ought the woman to haue power on her head, because of the Angels.

11 Neuertheless, neither is the man without the woman, neither the woman without the man in the Lord.

12 For as the woman is of the man, so is the man also by the woman: but all things are of God.

13 Iudge in your selues, Is it comely that a woman pray vnto God vncovered?

14 Doeth not nature it selfe teach you, that if a man haue long haire, it is a shame vnto him?

15 But if a woman haue long haire, it is 16 But if any man lust to be contentious, wee haue no such custom, neither the Churches of God.

17 How in this that I declare, I praise you, but that ye come together, not with profit, but with hurt.

18 For first of all, when ye come together in the Church, I heare that there are dissensions among you: and I beleue it to be true in some part.

19 For there must bee heresies euen among you, that they which are approued among you, might be knowne.

20 When ye come together therefore into one place, this is not to eate the Lords supper.

21 For every man when they should eate, taketh his own supper adoe, and one is hungry, and another is drunken.

22 Haue ye not houses to eate and to drinke in? despise ye the Church of God, and shame them that haue not? what shall I say to you? shall I prattle you in this? I praise you not.

23 For I haue receiued of the Lord that which I also haue deliuered vnto you, to wit, that the Lorde Iesus in the night that hee was betrayed, tooke bread:

24 And when he had giuen thanks, he brake it, and sayd, Take, eat: this is my body, which is broken for you: this doe ye in remembrance of me.

25 After the same manner also he tooke the cup when hee had supped, saying, This cup is the newe Testament in my blood: this doe as oft as ye drinke it, in remembrance of mee.

26 For as often as ye shall eat this bread, and drinke this cup, ye shew the Lords death til he come.

27 Therefore, whosoever shall eate this bread, and drinke the cup of the Lord unworthily, shall be guiltie of the body & blood of the Lord.

28 Let a man therefore examine himselfe, and to let him eat of this bread, and drinke of this cup.

29 For hee that eateth and drinketh unworthily, eateth and drinketh his own damnation, because he discerneth not the Lords body.

30 For this cause many are weak, and sicke among you, and many sleepe.

31 For if we would iudge our selues, we should not be iudged.

32 But when we are indged, we are chastened of the Lord, because we should not be condemned with the world.

33 Therefore, my brethren, when ye come together to eate, say one for another 34 And if any man be hungry, let him eat at home, that ye come not together vnto condemnation. Other things will I set in order when I come.

CHAP. XII.

1 The diuersitie of the gifts of the holy Ghost ought to be vsed to the edifying of Christs Church,

2 As the members of mans body serue to the vse one of another.

NOW concerning spiritual gifts, brethren, I would not haue you ignorant.

2 We know that ye were Gentiles, and were caried away vnto the dumbe idoles, as ye were led.

3 Therefore I declare vnto you, that no man speaking by the Spirit of God, calleth Iesus execrable: also no man can say that Iesus is the Lord, but by the holy Ghost.

4 Now there are diuersities of gifts, but the same Spirit.

5 And there are diuersities of administrations, but the same Lord.

6 And there are diuersities of operations, but God is the same, which worketh all in all.

7 The manifestation of the Spirit is giuen to every man, to profit withall.

8 For to one is giuen by the Spirit the word of wisdom, and to another the word of knowledge by the same Spirit:

9 And to another is giuen faith, by the same Spirit: and to another the giftes of healing, by the same Spirit:

10 And to another the operations of great workes: and to another, prophetic: and to another, the discerning of spirits: and to another, diuersities of tongues: and to another, the interpretation of tongues.

11 And all these things worketh euen the selfe same Spirit, distributing to euery man severally as hee will.

12 For as the body is one, and hath many members, and all the members of the body, which is one, though they be many, yet are but one body: euen so is Christ.

13 For by one Spirit are we all baptized into one body, whether we be Jewes or Grecians, whether we be bond, or free, and haue bene all made to drinke into one Spirit.

14 For the body also is not one member, but many.

15 If the foote would say, Because I am not the hand, I am not of the body, is it therefore not of the body?

16 And if the eare would say, Because I am not the eye, I am not of the body, is it therefore not of the body?

17 If the whole body were an eye, where were the hearing? If the whole were hearing, where were the smelling?

18 But now hath God disposed the members euery one of them in the body at his owne pleasure.

19 If of they were all one member, where were the body?

20 But now we are there many members, yet but one body:

21 And the eye cannot say vnto the hand, I haue no need of thee: nor the head againe to the feet, I haue no need of you.

22 Yea, much rather those members of the body, which seeme to be more feeble, 23 And vpon those members of the body, which we thinke most vn honest, put we more honestie on: and our vncomely parts haue more comelinitie on.

24 For our comely parts neede it not: but God hath tempered the body together, and hath giuen the more honoz to that part which lacked.

25 Least there should bee any diuision in the body: but that the members should haue the same care one for another.

26 Therefore if one member suffer, all suffer with it: if one member bee had in honour, all the members reioyce with it.

27 Now ye are the body of Christ, and members of it for your part.

28 * And God hath ordned some in the Church: as first Apostles, secondly Prophets, thirdly teachers, then them that do miracles: after that, the gifts of healing, helpers, gouernours, diueritie of tongues.

29 Are all Apostles? Are all Prophets? are all teachers?

30 Are all doers of miracles? haue all the gifts of healing? do all speake with tongues? do all interpret?

31 But I desire you the best gifts, and I will shew you a more excellent way.

CHAP. XIII.

Because loue is the fundament and rule of edifying the Church, he setteth forth the nature, office, and praise thereof.

Though I speake with the tongues of men, and of Angels, and haue not loue, I am as sounding braile, or a tinkling cymball.

2 And though I had the gift of prophetic, and knew all secrets, and all knowledge, yea, if I had all faith, so that I could remoue mountains, and had not loue, I were nothing.

3 And though I feede the poore with all my goods, and though I giue my body, that I be burned, and haue not loue, it profiteth me nothing.

4 Loue suffereth long: it is bountifull: loue enuieth not: loue doth not boast it selfe: it is not puffed by:

5 It disdaineth not: it seeketh not her owne things: it is not prouoked to anger: it thinketh not euill:

6 It reioyceth not in iniquitie, but reioyceth in the truth:

7 It suffereth all things: it beleueth all things: it hopeth all things: it endureth all things.

8 Loue doeth neuer fall away, though that prophesyings bee abolished, or the tongues cease, or knowledge vanith away.

9 For we know in part, and we know perfection.

10 But when that which is perfect, is come, then that which is in part, shall be abolished.

11 When I was a childe, I spake as a childe, I understood as a childe, I thought as a childe: but when I became a man I put away childish things.

12 For now we see through a glasse darkly, but then shall we see face to face. Now I know in part: but then shall I know even as I am known.

13 And now abideth faith, hope and loue, even these three: but the chiefest of these is loue.

CHAP. XIII.

1 He exhorteth to loue, commendeth the gift of tongues, and other spirituall gifts, 5 But chiefly prophesying. 34 He commendeth women to keepe silence in the Church, 40 And sheweth what good order ought to be obserued in the Church.

Now after loue, and couet spirituall gifts, and rather that ye may prophesie.

2 For ye that speake a strange tongue, speake not vnto men, but vnto God: for no man heareth him: howbeit in the spirit he speaketh secret things,

3 But he that prophesie, speaketh vnto men to edifying, and to exhortation, and to comfort.

4 He that speaketh strange language, edifieth himselfe: but he that prophesie, edifieth the Church.

5 I would that ye all spake strange languages, but rather that ye prophesied: for greater is hee that prophesie, then hee that speaketh diuers tongues, except hee expound it, that the Church may receiue edification.

6 And now, brethren, if I come vnto you speaking diuers tongues, what shall I profite you, except I speake to you. either by reuelation, or by knowledge, or by prophesying, or by doctrine?

7 Whereouer, things without life, which giue a sound, whether it bee a pipe, or an harpe, except they make a distinction in the sounds, how shall it be known what is piped or harped?

8 And also if the trumpet giue an vncertaine sound, who shall prepare himselfe to battell?

9 So likewise you, by the tongue, except ye utter words that haue signification, how shall it be understood what is spoken? for ye shall speake in the aire.

10 There are so many kindes of voyces (as it commeth to passe) in the world, and none of them is dumbe.

11 Except I know then the power of the voyce, I shall be vnto him that speaketh, as a Barbarian, and he that speaketh, shall be a Barbarian vnto me.

12 If I know so, forasmuch as ye couet spirituall gifts, seeke that ye may excell vnto the edifying of the Church.

13 Wherefore, let him that speaketh a strange tongue, pray that he may interpret.

14 For if I pray in a strange tongue, my spirit prayeth: but mine understanding is without fruit.

15 What is it then? I will pray with the spirit, but I will pray with the vnderstanding also: I will sing with the spirit, but I will sing with the vnderstanding also.

16 Els, when thou bleisest with the spirit, how shall he that occupieth the roome of the vnlearned, say, Amen, at thy gunning of thanks, seeing hee knoweth not what thou sayest?

17 For thou verily giuest thanks well, but the other is not edified.

18 I thanke my God, I speake languages more then ye all.

19 Yet had I rather in the Church to speake a fewe wordes with mine vnderstanding that I might also instruct others, then tenne thousande wordes in a strange tongue.

20 Brethren, be not children in vnderstanding, but as concerning maliciousnesse be children, but in vnderstanding bee of a ripe age.

21 In the Law it is written, * * By men of other tongues, & by other languages will I speake vnto this people: yet so shall they not heare me, saith the Lord.

22 Wherefore strange tongues are for a signe, not to them that beleue, but to them that beleue not: but prophesying serueth not for them that beleue not, but for them which beleue.

23 If therefore when the whole Church is come together in one, and all speake strange tongues, there come in they that are vnlearned, or they which beleue not, will they not say, that ye are out of your wits?

24 But if all prophesie, and there come in one that beleueth not, or one vnlearned, a hee is rebuked of all men, and is iudged of all.

25 And so are the secretes of his heart made manifest, and so hee will fall downe on his face and worship God, and say plainly, that God is in you indeed.

26 What is to be done then, brethren? when yee come together, according as euerie one of you hath a Psalm, or hath doctrine, or hath a tongue, or hath reuelation, or hath interpretation, let all things bee done vnto edifying.

27 If any man speake a strange tongue, let it be by two, or at the most by thre, and that by course, and let one interpret.

28 But if there be no interpreter, let him keepe silence in the Church, which speaketh languages, and let him speake to himselfe, and to God.

29 Let the Prophets speake, two or thre, and let the other iudge.

30 And if any thing bee reuieled to another that sitteth by, let the first holde his peace.

31 For ye may all prophesie one by one, that all may learne, and all may haue comfort.

32 And the spirits of the Prophets are one, after another, and the vtmost the third should reade in a strange language, which was to declare Gods miracle in the gift of tongues: but chiefly hee commandeth that nothing bee done without interpretation, s Or, learning, which Gods spirit moueth them to vnder-

CHAP. XV.

He proueth the resurrection of the dead, 3 And first that Christ is risen: 2 Then that we shall rise, 52 And the manner how.

Moreouer, brethren, I declare vnto you the Gospel, which I preached vnto you, which ye haue also received, and wherein ye continue.

2 And whereby ye are saved, if ye keepe in memorie after what maner I preached it vnto you, a except yee haue beleueed in vaine.

3 For first of all, I deliuered vnto you that which I receiued, how that Christ died for our finnes, according to the Scriptures,

4 And that hee was buried, and that hee arose the third day, according to the Scriptures,

5 * And that hee was seene of Cephas, then of the twelue.

6 After that, hee was seene of mee then five hundred brethren at once: wherof many remaine vnto this present, and some alls are asleepe.

7 After that, hee was seene of James: then of all the Apostles.

8 * And last of all, hee was seene also of me, as of one borne out of due time.

9 For I am * the least of the Apostles, which am not meete to be called an Apostle, because I persecuted the Church of God.

10 * But by the grace of God, I am that the instrument and minister, and giue the whole glory to God, u To the intent that others may iudge of him that hath spoken, if he haue passed the copse of Gods word: wherfore Saint Iohn commandeth to try the spirits whether they be of God.

1. Tim. 2. 17. x Because this disorder was in the Church that women vsurped that which was peculiar to men, the Apostle here sheweth what is meete to be done, and what is not: and albeit hee mentioned this because there he brought it in for another purpose. Gen. 3. 16. y Are ye the first or the last Christians, that yee neither submit your selues to the Churches of whom ye haue received the Gospel? nor haue respect to the others, to whom the Gospel doth likewise appertaine? z To haue vnderstanding of spirituall things, a If any man haue iudgement, let him acknowledge that I speake of the Spirit of God, and so let him obey; and if he haue no iudgement, let him acknowledge his ignorance, & trouble not the Church, but credit them that are learned.

a If you beleue to be saved by the Gospel, yee must beleue also the resurrection of the dead, which is one of the principall points thereof, or els your beliefe is but vaine.

b He sheweth y nothing ought to be taught, which we haue not learned by Gods word, I sa. 53. 5.

1. pet. 2. 24. Iohn. 2. 1. 10. Iohn. 20. 19. c Although Iudas wanted, yet they were so called still.

Acts 9. 4. rom. 6. 3. Ephes. 3. 8. Ephes. 3. 7. d For hee was but I am: and his grace which is in mee, was not in vaine: but I laboured more abundantly then they all: yet not I, but the grace of God which is with me.

11 Wherefore whether it were I, or they, so we preach, and so haue ye beleueed.

12 Now if it be preached, that Christ is risen from the dead, how say some among you, that there is no resurrection of the dead?

13 For if there bee no resurrection of the dead, then is Christ not risen.

14 And if Christ be not risen, then is our preaching vaine, and your faith is also vaine.

15 And wee are found also false witnesses of God: for wee haue testified of God, that he hath raised vp Christ: whom he hath not raised vp, if so be the dead be not raised.

16 For if the dead be not raised, then is Christ not raised.

17 And if Christ be not raised, your faith is vaine: ye are yet in your sinnes.

18 And so they which are asleep in Christ, are perished.

19 If in this life I onely wee haue hope in Christ, we are of all men the most miserable.

20 But now is Christ risen from the dead, & was made the first fruits of them that slept.

21 For since by man came death, by man came also the resurrection of the dead.

22 For as in Adam all die, euen so in Christ shall all be made aliuē.

23 But euery man in his owne order: the first fruits is Christ, afterward, they that are of Christ, at his coming shall rise againe.

24 Then shall be the end, when hee hath deliuered by the kingdome to God, euen the father, when he hath put downe all rule and all authoritie and power.

25 For hee must reigne: till he hath put all his enemies vnder his feet.

26 The last enemy that shall be destroyed, is death.

27 For hee hath put downe all thinges vnder his feet. (And when he saith that all thinges are subdued to him, it is manifest that hee is excepted, which did put downe all thinges vnder him.)

28 And when all thinges shall be subdued vnto him, then shall the Sonne also himselfe be subiect vnto him, that did subdue all thinges vnder him, that God may bee all in all.

29 Els, what shall they doe which are baptized for the dead? if the dead rise not at all, why are they then baptized for dead?

30 Els, what shall they doe which are baptized for the dead? if the dead rise not at all, why are they then baptized for dead? This kingdome standeth in governing the faithfull, & overcoming the aduersaries, euen death the chiefest: which done, Christ being perfected with all his members, shall as he is man, and head of the Church, with his fellow heires deliuer his kingdome, & be subiect to God, with whom & the holy Ghost in Godhead he is equal. Psal 110. a. act. 2. 34, 35. heb. 1. 13. & 10. 13. Psal. 8. 6. heb. 2. 8. n We shall perfectly fulfilled with his glory and Iohelie. o That is, as dead, and because they were but newly come to Christ, would be baptized before they died. p Except these things be true of Christs kingdome, & his subiection, what shall become of them whom the Church daily baptizeth, for to destroy death in them, which is the end of Baptisme, and so they to rise againe?

30 Why are wee also in jeopardy euery houre?

31 By our reioicing which I haue in Christ Iesus our Lord, I die daily.

32 If I haue fought with beasts at Epheus after the manner of men, what advantageat geth it me, if the dead be not raised vp? let vs eat and drinke: for to morrow wee shall die.

33 See not deceived: * euill speakings corrupt good maners.

34 Awake to liue righteously, and sinne not: for some haue not the knowledge of God: I speake this to your shame.

35 But some men will say, how are the dead raised vp? and with what body come they forth?

36 O foole, that which thou sowest, is not quickened, except it die.

37 And that which thou sowest, thou sowest not that body that shall be, but bare come, as it falleth, of wheate, or of some other.

38 But God giueth it a body at his pleasure, euen to cary seed his owne body.

39 All flesh is not the same flesh, but there is one flesh of men, and another flesh of beastes, and another of fishes, and another of birds.

40 There are also heauenly bodies, and earthly bodies: but the glory of the heauenly is one, and the glory of the earthly is another.

41 There is another glory of the sunne, and another glory of the moone, and another glory of the starrs: for one starr differeth from another starr in glory.

42 So also is the resurrection of the dead. The body is sown in corruption, & is raised in incorruption.

43 It is sown in dishonour, and is raised in glory: it is sown in weakenesse, and is raised in power.

44 It is sown a naturall body, and is raised a spiritual body: there is a naturall body, and there is a spiritual body.

45 As it is also written, The first man Adam was made a liuing soule: and the last Adam was made a quickening Spirit.

46 Howbeit that was not first made which is spiritual: but that which is naturall, and afterward that which is spiritual.

47 The first man is of the earth, earthly: the second man is the Lord: from heauen.

48 As is the earthly, such are they that are earthly: and as is the heauenly, such are they also that are heauenly.

49 And as wee haue borne the image of the earthly: so shall wee beare the image of the heauenly.

50 This say I, brethren, that flesh and blood cannot inherite the kingdome of God, neither doeth corruption inherite incorruption.

51 Beholde, I shew you a secret thing, vvhich shall not all sleepe, but wee shall all be changed, hody as it is now, til it be made new by the Spirit of Christ. c When the Lord cometh to iudgement, some of the Saints shall be aliue, whom hee will change euen as if they were dead, so that this change is in stead of death to them.

q I take to witness all my foes wherem I may iustly reioice in the Lord, that I haue suffeered them among you. That is, hauing regard to this present life, and not to Gods glory, and life euertlasting. Isa 22. 13. wisd. 2. 6. Alexander in Thaide.

c There is one substance as touching the flesh both of man and beast, but the difference is as touching the quality.

e Euen as the Sunne and the Moone, being of one substance, differ in dignitie: so in the resurrection our bodies shall haue more excellent qualities then they haue now.

u For what is more vile to looke vnto, then the dead carcase? x Not changing the substance, but made partaker of the diuine nature. Gene. 2. 7.

y Christ bringeth vs from heauen the Spirit of liue.

z This is attributed to Christ as concerning his diuinitie, not in respect of his humanitie, whose flesh hath this glory by the power of God who dwelleth in it.

b This naturall stance and forme are earthly.

He purseth them in remembrance of the gathering for the poore brethren at Ierusalem. 13 We must perseure in faith, in the loue of Christ and our neighbour. 15 After his commendations he wisheth to them all prosperety.

C Concerning * the gathering for the Sauntes, as I haue ordained in the Churches * of Galatia. so doe ye alid.

1 * Every first day of the weeke, let euery one of you put aside by himselfe, and lay vp as God hath prospered him, that then there be no gatherings when I come.

2 And when I am come, whomsoever ye shall allow * by letters, them will I send to bring your liberality vnto Ierusalem.

3 And if it be meete that I goe also, they shall goe with me.

4 Now I will come vnto you, after I haue gone through Macedonia (for I will passe through Macedonia.)

5 And it may bee that I will abide, yea, or winter with you, that ye may bring me on my way whithersoever I goe.

6 For I will not see you now in my passage; but I trust to abide a while with you, if the Lord permit.

7 And I will tary at Ephesus vntill Pentecost.

8 For a great doore and effectuall is opened vnto me; but there are many aduersaries.

9 ¶ Now if Timotheus come, see that he be * without feare with you, for hee worketh the worke of the Lord, euen as I doe.

10 Let no man therefore despise him: but conney him forth in peace, that he may come vnto me: for I looke for him with the brethren.

11 As touching our brother Apollos I greatly desired him to come vnto you with the brethren: but his minde was not at all to come at this time: howbeit he will come when he shall haue conuenient time.

12 Watch ye: stand fast in the faith; quite you like men, and be strong.

13 Let all your things be done in loue.

14 ¶ Now, brethren, I beseech you (ye know the house of Stephanas, that is the first fruites of Achaia, and that they haue giuen themselves to minister vnto the Saints.)

15 That ye be * obedient euen vnto such and to all that helpe vnto vs and labour.

16 I am glad of the conning of Stephanas, and Fortunatus, and Achaicus: for they haue supplied the want of you.

17 For they haue comforted my spirit and yours: acknowledge therefore such men.

18 The Churches of Asia salute you: Aquila and Priscilla with the Church that is in their house, salute you greatly in the Lord.

The second Epistle of Paul to the Corinthians.

THE ARGUMENT.

AS nothing can be written either to perfectly, or with so great affection & zeale, which is not profitable to many, and resisted by some: So the first Epistle written by S. Paul to the Corinthians, besides the purity and perfection of the doctrine, sheweth a loue toward them far passing all natural affections: which did not onely not profite all, but hardened the hearts of many to remaine in their stubbornesse, and contemne the Apostles authoritie. By reason whereof Saint Paul, being let with iust occasions to come vnto them, wrote this Epistle from Macedonia, minding to accomplish the worke which he had begun among them. First therefore hee wisheth them well in the Lord, declaring that a Vpon the first day of the weeke, which the Scripture calleth the Lords day, others Sunday, they accustomed not only in the Church, but at home also according to euery mans zeale, to lay vp some piece of money toward the reliefe of the poore brethren.

 b Which yeshall send by them that carrie the money.

that albeit certaine wicked persons abused his afflictions to condemne thereby his authoritie, yet they were necessary schoolings, and sent to him by God for their bettering. And whereas they blame his long abeare, it came of no inconstancy, but to beare with their inability and imperfection, left contrary to his fatherly affection, he should haue beene compelled to vse rigour and severity. And as touching his sharpe writing in the former Epistle, it came through their fault, as is now euident both in that, that he pardoneth the trespasser, seing hee doeth repent: and also in that hee was vnquiet in his minde, till he was certified by Titus of their estate. But forasmuch as the false apostles went about to vndermine his authority, hee consulteth their arrogane bragges, and commendeth his office, and the diligent executing of the same: so that Satan must haue greatly blinded their eyes, which fee not the brightnesse of the Gospel in his preaching: the effect whereof is newnesse of life, forsaking of our selues, cleauing to God, fleeing from idolatry, embracing the true doctrine, and that sorrow which engendreth true repentance: to the which is ioyned mercy and compassion toward our brethren: also wisdom to put difference betwix the simplicity of the Gospel, and the arrogancie of the false preachers, who vnder pretence of preaching the truth, sought only to fill their bellies, whereas hee contrariwise sought them, and not their goods, as those ambitious persons slandered him: wherefore at his comming he menaceth such as rebell against his authority, that he will declare by liuely example that he is the faithfull ambassadour of Iesus Christ.

C H A P. I.

4 He declareth the great profite that cometh to the faithfull by their afflictions. 15. 17. And because they should not impute to lishnesse, that he deferred his comming contrary to his promise, he proueth his constancie, both by the sincerity of his preaching, and also by the immutable truth of the Gospel. 21 Which truth is grounded on Christ, and sealed in our hearts by the holy Ghost.

ALL an Apostle of Iesus Christ, by y wil of God, for brother Timotheus, to the Church of God, which is at Corinthus w all the Saints which are in all Achaia:

2 Grace bee with you, and peace from God our Father, and from the Lord Iesus Christ.

3 * Blessed be God, euen the Father of our Lord Iesus Christ, the Father of mercies, and the God of all comfort.

4 Which comforteth vs in all our tribulation, that we may be able to comfort them which are in any affliction by the comfort wherewith wee our selues are comforted of God.

5 For as the sufferings of Christ abound in vs, so our consolation aboundeth through Christ.

6 And whether wee be afflicted, it is for your consolation, and saluation, which is wrought in the enduring of the same sufferings, which we also suffer: or whether wee be comforted, it is for your consolation and saluation.

7 And our hope is stedfast concerning you, in as much as we know that as yee are partakers of the sufferings, so shall yee be also of the consolation.

8 For brethren, wee would not haue you ignorant of our affliction, which came vnto vs in Asia, how we were pressed out of measure passing strength, so that we altogether doubter, euen of life.

9 Yea, we received the sentence of death in our selues, because wee should not trust in our selues, but in God which quicketh the dead.

a death, and doeth deliuer vs: in whom wee trust, that yet hereafter he will deliuer vs, 11 * So that ye labour together in prayer for vs, that for the gift bestowed vpon vs for many, thankes may be giuen by many persons for vs.

12 For our reioycing is this, the testimony of our conscience, that in simplicity and godly purentie, and not in fleshly wisdom, but by the grace of God wee haue had our conuersion in the world, and most of all to you wards.

13 For we write none other things vnto you, then that ye read, or els that ye acknowledge, and I trust ye shall acknowledge vnto the end.

14 Euen as yee haue acknowledged vs partly, that wee are your reioycing, euen as ye are ours, in the day of our Lord Iesus.

15 And in this confidence was I minded first to come vnto you, that yee might haue had a double grace, 16 And to passe by you into Macedonia, and to come againe out of Macedonia vnto you, and to bee led forth toward Iudea of you.

17 When I therefore was thus minded, did I not lighnesse? or mind I those things which I mind, according to the flesh, that with mee should bee a Yea, yea, and Nay, Nay?

18 Yea, God is faithfull, that our word toward you, was not Yea, and Nay.

19 For the Sonne of God Iesus Christ who was preached among you by vs, that is, by mee, and Silvanus, and Timotheus, was not Yea, and Nay: but in him it was Yea.

20 For all the promises of God in him are Yea, and are in him Amen, vnto the glory of God through vs.

21 And it is God which establisheth vs with you in Christ, and hath anointed vs.

22 Who hath also sealed vs, and hath giuen the earnest of the spirit in our hearts, to witness, that hee preached the truth. f Hee preacheth nothing vnto them but only Iesus Christ, who is the most constant and infallible truth of the Father. e They are made and performed, and wee are partakers onely by him, who is our Amen, in that hee hath fulfilled them for vs. Ephes. 1. 13. and 4. 30. 23. Now I call God for a record vnto my soule, that to spare you, I came not as yet vnto Corinthus.

24. Not that wee haue dominion ouer your sayth, but wee are helpers of your ioy: for by * faith ye stand.

u In that I say I came not because I would spare you, I meane not that I haue authority to alter true religiō, or to bind your consciences, but that I am Gods minister to confirme and comfort you. x And faith is not in subiection to man,

CHAP. II.

He sheweth his loue towards them, 7 requiring likewise that they would be favourable to the incestuous adulterer, seeing he did repent. 14 He also reuoceth in God for the efficacy of his doctrine, 17 confuting thereby such quarrel pickers, as vnder pretence of speaking against his person, sought nothing but the ouertrow of his doctrine.

But I determined thus in my selfe, that I would not come againe to you, in heavinesse.

2. For if I make you sorry, who is hee then that should make me glad, but y I saue which is made a sory by me?

3. And I wrote this same thing vnto you, lest when I came, I should take heavinesse of them, of whom I ought to reioyce: this confidence haue I in you all, that my ioy is the ioy of you all.

4. For in great affliction, and anguish of heart I wrote vnto you with many teares: not that ye should be made sory, but that yee might perceiue the loue which I haue, specially vnto you.

5. And if any haue caused sorrow, the same hath not made mee sory, but partly (lest I should a more charge him) you ail.

6. It is sufficient vnto the same man, that he was rebuked of many.

7. So that now contrariwise ye ought rather to forgive him, and comfort him, lest the same should be swallowed vp with ouer much heavinesse.

8. Wherefore, I pray you, that you would forgive your loue towards him.

9. For this cause also did I write, that I might know the prooue of you, whether yee would be obedient in all things.

10. To whom ye forgive any thing, I forgive also: for verely if I forgave any thing, to whom I forgave it, for your sakes forgave I it in the sight of Christ,

11. Lest Satan should circumuise vs: for we are not ignorant of his enterprises.

12. Furthermore, when I came to Troas to preach Christs Gospel, and a doore was opened vnto me of the Lord,

13. I had no rest in my spirit, because I found not Titus my brother, butooke my leaue of them, and went away into Macedonia.

14. Now thanks be vnto God, which alwaies maketh vs to triumph in Christ, and maketh manifest the fauour of his knowledge by vs in every place.

15. For we are vnto God the sweet sauour of Christ, in them that are saved, & in them which perish.

16. To the one we are the fauour of death, vnto death, * and to the other the fauour of life vnto life, and who is sufficient for these things?

CHAP. III.

He taketh for example the fault of the Corinthians for a probation of the truth which he preached. 6 And to exalt his Apostleship against the brag of the false apostles, 7. 13 he maketh comparison betwixt the Law and the Gospel.

Do we begin to praise our selues again? Do we need we as some other, Epistles of recommendation vnto you, or letters of recommendation from you?

2. Ye are our epistle, writtē in our hearts, which is vnder stood and read of all men,

3. In that ye are manifest to be the epistle of Christ ministered by vs, and writtē, not with inke, but with the Spirit of the liuing God, not in tables of stone, but in fleshy tables of the heart.

4. And such trust haue we through Christ to God:

5. Not that we are sufficient of our selues, to thinke any thing as of our selues: but our sufficiency is of God,

6. Altho also hath made vs able ministers of the new Testament, not of the letter but of the Spirit: for the letter killeth, but the Spirit giueth life.

7. If then the ministration of death written with letters, and ingrauen in stones, was glorious, so that the children of Israel could not behold the face of Moses for the glory of his countenance (which glory is done away)

8. How shall not the ministration of the Spirit be more glorious?

9. For if the ministry of condemnation was glorious, much more doeth the ministration of righteousnes exceed in glory.

10. For enen that which was glorified, was not glorified in this point, that is, as touching the exceeding glory.

11. For if that which should be abolished, was glorious, much more shall that which remaineth, be glorious.

12. Seeing then that we haue such trust, we vse it great boldnesse of speech.

of that which should be abolished.
14 Therefore their minds are hardened: for until this day remaineth the same conceit untaken away in the reading of the old Testament, which vayne in Christ is put away.

15 But euen vnto this day, when Moses is read, the vaille is layd ouer their hearts.

16 Rememberleste, when their heart shalbe turned to the Lorde, the vaille shall be taken away.

17 Now the <sup>o</sup> Lord is the * Spirit, and where the Spirit of the Lorde is, there is liberty.

18 But wee all behold as in a <sup>o</sup> myrrour the glory of the Lord with open face, and are changed into the same image, from glory to glory, as by the Spirit of the Lord.

C H A P. IIII.

1 He declareth his diligence and roundnesse in his office. 3 And that which his enemies tooke for his disadvantage, to wit, the crosse and afflictions which he endured, he turneth to his great advantage, 11. 17 shewing what profit cometh thereby.

Therefore, seeing that we haue this ministration, as we haue receiued mercy, we wee faint not:

2 But haue cast from vs the <sup>b</sup> cloakes of shame, and <sup>w</sup> walke not in craftinesse, neither handle we the word of God deceitfully: but in declaration of the truth we approue our selues to euery mans conscience in the sight of God.

3 If our Gospel be then hid, it is hid to them that are loit.

4 In whom the <sup>c</sup> god of this world hath blinded the minds, that is, of the infidels, that the light of the glorious Gospel of Christ, which is the image of God, should not shine vnto them.

5 For wee preack not our <sup>c</sup> selues, but Christ Iesus the Lord; and our selues your seruants for Iesus sake.

6 For God that <sup>c</sup> commauinded the light to shine out of darknesse, is hee which hath shined in <sup>r</sup> our hearts, to giue the <sup>s</sup> light of the knowledge of the glory of God in the face of Iesus Christ.

7 But we haue this <sup>b</sup> treasure in earthen vessels, that the excellencie of that power might be of God, and not of vs.

8 Wee are afflicted on every side, yet are we not in distresse; in poverty, but not ouercome of poverty.

9 We are persecuted, but not forsaken: cast downe, but we perish not.

10 Euery where we beare about in our body the <sup>r</sup> dying of the Lord Iesus, that the life of Iesus might also be made manifest in our bodies.

11 For we which liue, are alwayes deliuered vnto death for Iesus sake, that the life also of Iesus might be made manifest in our mortall fleshy.

12 We are contemtable as touching their person, yet the treasure which they care for is nothing worse or inferior. i All the saythfull, and chiefly the Ministers must drinke of this cup, because the world hateth Christ: and also that the members should be conformable to Christ their head, yet by the mighty power of Christ, who overcame death, they are made conquerours, 12 So then * death worketh in vs, and life in you.

13 And because we haue the same <sup>l</sup> Spirit of faith, according as it is written, * I beleue, and therefore haue I spoken, we also beleue, and therefore speake.

14 Knowing that hee which hath raised vp the Lord Iesus, shall <sup>o</sup> raise vs vp also by Iesus, and set vs with you.

15 For all things are for your sakes, that most plenteous grace by the thanksgiving of <sup>o</sup> many, may redounde to the prayle of God.

16 Therefore wee saynt not, but though our outward man <sup>l</sup> perish, yet the inward man is <sup>o</sup> renewed daily.

17 For our <sup>r</sup> light affliction which is but for a moment, causeth vnto vs a farre most excellent and eternall weight of glory:

18 While wee looke not on the things which are seene, but on the things which are not seene: for the things which are seene are temporal: but the things which are not seene are eternall.

you all, which are both partakers of mine affliction & comfort, may abundantly set forth his glory. <sup>r</sup> For be corrupted. <sup>o</sup> Groweth stronger. <sup>p</sup> Which is so called in respect of the euerslaking life.

C H A P. V.

1 Paul proceedeth to declare the utility that cometh by the crosse. 4 How we ought to prepare our selues vnto it, 5 by whom, 9 and for what end. 14. 19 He setteth forth the grace of Christ, 20 and the office of ministers, and all the faithful.

For we know that if <sup>a</sup> our earthly house of this tabernacle be destroyed, we haue a building giuen of God, that is, an house not made with hands, but eternall in the heauens.

2 For: therefore we sigh, desiring to be clothed with our house, which is from heauen.

3 Because that if we be clothed, we shal not bee found * naked.

4 For: in deed wee that are in this tabernacle, sigh and are burdened, because wee would not bee vn clothed, but would bee clothed vpon, that mortality might be swallowed vp of life.

5 And hee that hath created vs for this thing, is God, who hath also giuen vnto vs the * earnest of the spirit.

6 Therefore we are alway <sup>b</sup> bold, though we know that whiles we are at home in the body, we are absent from the Lord.

7 ( For we <sup>c</sup> walke by faith, and not by sight)

8 Rememberleste, we are bold, and loue rather to remoue out of the body, and to dwell with the Lord.

9 Wherefore also wee couet, that both dwelling <sup>d</sup> at home, and remouing <sup>e</sup> from home, we may be acceptable to him.

10 For we must all appeare before the iudgement seate of Christ, that euery man may receiue the things which are done in his body, according to that hee hath done, whether it be <sup>l</sup> good or euill.

the Lord, we persuade men, and wee are made manifest vnto God, and I trust also that wee are made manifest in your consciences.
 12 For wee praise not our selues againe vnto you, but giue you an occasion to reioice of vs, that ye may haue to answere against them, which reioyce in the face, and not in the heart.
 13 For whether we be out of our wit, we are due to God: or whether we be in our right mind, we are due vnto you.
 14 For the loue of Christ constraineth vs: because we thus iudge, that if one bee dead for all, then were all dead.
 15 And he died for all: that they which liue, should not henceforth liue vnto themselves, but vnto him which died for them, and rose againe.
 16 Therefore, henceforth knowe wee no man after the flesh, yea, though wee had knowne Christ after the flesh, yet now henceforth I knowe we him no more.
 17 Therefore if any man be in Christ, let him be a new creature. * Olde things are passed away: behold, all things are become new.
 18 And all things are of God, which hath reconciled vs vnto himselfe by Iesus Christ, and hath giuen vnto vs the ministry of reconciliation.
 19 For God was in Christ, and reconciled the world to himselfe, not imputing their finnes vnto them, and hath committed to vs the word of reconciliation.
 20 Nowe then are wee ambassadors for Christ: as though God did beleech you through vs, we pray you in Christs stead, that ye be reconciled to God.
 21 For hee hath made him to bee sinne for vs, which knewe no sinne, that wee should bee made the righteousnesse of God in him.

1 An exhortation to Christian life, 11 And to beare him like afflictions as hee beareth them. 14 Also to keepe themselves from all pollution of idolatry both in body and soule, and to haue none acquaintance with idolaters.
 S Wee therefore as workers together beleech you, that ye receiue not the grace of God in vaine.
 2 For hee sayth, * I haue heard thee is a sinne accepted, and in the day of saluation haue I discomfited thee: beholde nowe the accepted time, beholde nowe the day of saluation.
 3 We giue no occasion of offence in any thing, that our ministry should not be reprehended.

 4 But in all things wee approue our selues as the ministers of God, in much patience, in afflictions, in necessities, in distresses,
 5 In stripes, in prisons, in tumults, in labours,
 6 By watchings, by fastings, by purity, by knowledge, by long suffering, by kindnesse, by the holy Ghost, by loue vnfained,
 7 By the word of truth, by the power of God, by the armour of righteousnesse on the right hand and on the left,

 10 As sorrowing, and yet alway reioycing: as poore, and yet making many rich: as hauing nothing, and yet possessing all things.
 11 O Corinthians, our mouth is open vnto you: our heart is made large.
 12 We are not kept strait in vs, but ye are kept strait in your owne bowels.
 13 For ye for the same recompense, I speake as to my children, I see you also enlarged.

 15 And what concord hath Christ with Belial? or what part hath the beleener with the infidel?
 16 And what agreement hath the Temple of God with idols? for ye are the Temple of the liuing God: as God hath sayde, * I will dwell among them, and walke there: and I will be their God, and they shall be my people.
 17 Therefore, come out from among them, and separate your selues, sayth the Lord: and touch none vnclene thing, and I will receiue you.

Or, the deuil. 1. Cor. 3. 16 & 6. 19.* l So called, because he hath not onely life in himselfe, but giueth it also to all liuing creatures. Leuit. 26. 11, 12. Isa. 52. 11. Ier. 31. 1.

CHAP. VII.

1 He exhortheth them by the promises of God to keepe themselves pure, 3 7 assuring them of his loue, 8. 13 and doeth not excuse his seruicity toward them, but reuolunteth the ear, considering what profitt came thereby. 10 Of two sorts of fornication.
 Seeing then we haue these promises, dearly beloved, let vs cleanse our selues from all filthinesse of the flesh and spirit, & grow vp vnto full holinesse in the feare of God.
 a Cons let this wee that seruie idoles with your bodies, and yet thinke you consciences pure toward God: God will one day smite you for your halting. b Of body and soule.
 2 Receiue.

Isa. 49. 8.
 a To wit, Gods free mercie, wherein hee hath powred forth his infinite loue.

c That we may teach you.
d By greely conuentionelle.

e He had neither rest in body nor Spirit: and it seemeth that he aludeth to that which is written, Deut. 32. 25.

f For the crosse to mans eye is common both to the godly and to the wicked, although to contrary ends. f This ioy overcame all my sorrows.

1. Pet. 3. 19. g Whose heart Gods spirit doeth touch, he is sorry for his sinnes committed against a mercifull Father, and these are the fruites of his repentance, as witnesseth Davids and Peters teares: others which are sorry for their sinnes onely for feare of punishment and Gods vengeance, fall into desperation, as Cain, Saul, Achitophel, and Iudas.

h In asking God forgiuenesse. i For in iudging and chastising your selues, you prevented Gods anger.

k Or, heart. l The Greeke word signifieth his bowels, whereby is meant most great loue & tender affection. m Both is thinking and reporting well of you.

2 Receiue vs: we haue Done wrong to no man: wee haue consumed no man: wee haue not defrauded no man.

3 I speake it not to your condemnation: for I haue layd before, that yee are in our hearts to die and liue together.

4 I use great boldnesse of speech toward you: I reioyce greatly in you: I am filled with comfort, and am exceeding ioyous in all our tribulation.

5 For when wee were come into Macedonia, our flesh had no rest, but wee were troubled on enery side, fightings without, and terrors within.

6 But God that comforteth the abiect, comforted vs at the coming of Titus:

7 And not by his coming onely, but also by the consolation wherewith hee was comforted of you, when hee tolde vs your great desire, your mourning, your seruent minde to me ward, so that I reioyced much more.

8 For though I made you sorry with a letter, I repent not, though I did repent: for I perceiue that the same Epistle made you ioy, though it were but for a season.

9 I now reioyce, not that yee were sorry, but that ye sorrowed to repentance: for ye sorrowed godly, so that in nothing ye were hurt by vs.

10 For godly sorrow causeth repentance unto saluation, not to be repented of: but the worldly sorrow causeth death.

11 For beholde, this thing that yee haue been a godly ioy, what great care it hath wrought in you: yea, what clearing of your selues: yea, what indignation: yea, what feare: yea, how great desire: yea, what zeale: yea, what punishment: in all things ye haue shewed your selues that yee are pure in this matter.

12 Therefore, though I wrote vnto you, I did it not for his cause that had done the wrong, neither for his cause that had the iniurie, but that our care toward you in the sight of God might appeare vnto you.

13 Therefore wee were comforted, because yee were comforted: but rather wee reioyced much more for the ioy of Titus, because his spirit was refreshed by you all.

14 For if that I haue boasted any thing to him of you, I haue not bene ashamed: but as I haue spoken vnto you all things in truth, euen so our boasting vnto Titus was true.

15 And his inward affection is more abundant toward you, when he remembereth the obedience of you all, and how with feare and trembling ye received him.

16 I reioyce therefore that I may put my confidence in you in all things.

W<sup>e</sup> doe you also to wit, brethren, of the grace of Gods bestowed vpon the Churches of Macedonia,

2 Because in great trial of affliction their ioy abounded, and their most extreme pouertie abounded vnto their rich liberallitie.

3 For to their power (I beare record) yea, and beyond their power, they were willing,

4 And prayed vs with great instance that we should receive the grace and fellowship of the ministering which is toward the Saints.

5 And this they did, not as we looked for: but gaue their owne selues, first to the Lord, and after vnto vs by the will of God,

6 That we should exhort Titus, that as he had begun, so hee would also accomplish the same grace among you also.

7 Therefore, as yee abound in euery thing, in faith, and word, and knowledge, and in all diligence, and in your loue towards vs, euen so see that yee abound in this grace also.

8 This say I not by commandement, but because of the diligence of others: therefore p<sup>ro</sup>ue I the naturalnesse of your loue.

9 For ye know the grace of our Lord Iesus Christ, that he being rich, for your sakes became poore, that ye through his pouertie might be made rich.

10 And I shewe my minde herein: for this is expedient for you which haue began not to doo onely, but also to will, a yere agoe.

11 Now therefore performe to doe it also, that as there was a readinesse to will, euen so yee may performe it of that which yee haue.

12 For if there be first a willing minde, it is accepted according to that a man hath, and not according to that he hath not.

13 Neither is that other men should be eased and you grieved.

14 But vpon like condition at this time your abundance supplieth their lacke, that also their abundance may be for your lacke, that there may be equalitie:

15 As it is written, * Hee that gathered much, had nothing ouer, and he that gathered little, had not the lesse.

16 And thankes be vnto God, which hath put in the heart of Titus the same care for you, 17 Because he accepted the exhortation, yea, he was so carefull, that of his owne accord he went vnto you.

18 And wee haue sent also with him the brother, whose praise is in the Gospel throughout all the Churches,

19 (And not so onely, but is also chosen of the Churches to be a fellow in our iourney concerning this grace that is ministered by vs vnto the glory of the same Lord, and declaration of your prompt mind)

20 Avoiding this, that no man should blame vs in this abundance that is ministered by vs,

21 * Douiding for honest things, not onely before the Lord, but also before men a This benefite of God appeared in two things, first, that the Macedonians being in so great afflictions were so prompt to helpe others: and next, that being in great pouerty were very liberall towards others, b So that a most abundant riuier of riches flowed out of their pouertie.

c So he calleth their liberallitie, either because they were the bestowers of Gods graces, or because they received them of God freely, and so they desired Paul to see to the distribution thereof,

12. Chap. 9. d Euery man may doe good that hath ability thereunto:

but to will, and haue a minde to doe good, cometh of perfect charitie.

e That as other helpe others in their neede so others shall relieue your want.

f That both you and others, as occasion shall serue, may relieue the godly according to their necessities.

Exod. 16. 18. g And willingly offered himselfe to gather your almes.

h In preaching the Gospel some vnderstand this to be spoken of Luke, others of Barnabas.

Rom. 12. 17. i His well doing is approved before God and man.

CHAP. VIII.

1 By the example of the Macedonians, 9 and Christ, he exhorteth them to continue in relieuing the poore Saints, commending their good beginning. 23 After hee commendeth Titus, and his fellowes vnto them.

22 And we haue sent with them our brother whom wee haue oft times proued to be diligent in many things, but now much more diligent, for the great confidence, whiche I haue in you.

23 Whether any doe enquire of Titus, hee is my fellow and helper to youward: of our brethren, they are messengers of the Churches, and the glorie of Christ.

24 Wherefore shew toward them, and before the Churches the proote of your loue, and of the reioycing that we haue of you.

CHAP. IX.

3 The cause of Titus and his companions coming to them 6 He exhorteth to giue aimes cheerfully, 7 Shewing what fruit will come thereof.

4 As concluding the muniting to the Saints, it is superfluous for me to write vnto you.

2 For I know your readinesse of minde, whereof I boast my selfe of you vnto them of Macedonia, and say, that Achaia was prepared a yeece age, and your zeale hath prouoked many.

3 Now haue I sent the brethren, lest our reioycing ouer you should bee in vaine in this behalfe, that yee (as I haue said) bee ready:

4 Lest if they of Macedonia come with me, and find you vnprepared, wee (I neede not to say, you) should be ashamed in this my constant boasting.

5 Therefore, I thought it necessarie to exhort the brethren to come before vnto you, and to finish your beneuolence appointed afore, that it might bee ready, and come as of beneuolence, and not as of sparing.

6 This yee remember, that he which soweth sparingly, shall reape also sparingly, and hee that soweth liberally, shall reape also liberally.

7 As every man wilbeth in his heart, so let him giue, not * grudgingly, or of necessities * For God looueth a cheerefull giuer.

8 And God is able to make all grace to abound toward you, that yee alwayes hauing * all sufficiency in all things, may abound in every good worke, 9 As it is written, * He hath sparred abroad, and hath giuen to the poore: his beneuolence remaineth for euer.

10 Also he that kindeth seede to the sower, will minister likewise bread for foode, and multiplye your seeds, and increase the frutes of your beneuolence,

11 That on all parts yee may be made rich vnto all liberallitie, which causeth through vs thankgiuing vnto God:

12 For the ministracion of this seruice not only supplieth the necessities of the Saints, but also is abundant by the thankgiuing of many vnto God:

13 (Which by the experiment of this ministracion prayse God for your voluntarie submission to the Gospel of Christ, and for your liberall distribution to them, and to all men)

14 And by <sup>d</sup> their prayer for you, desisting after you greatly for the abundant grace of God in you.

15 Thankes therefore bee vnto God for his vspeakable gift.

CHAP. X.

He toucheth the false apostles and defendeth his authoritie, exhorting them to obedience, 11 And sheweth what his power is, 13 And how hee vseth it.

Now I Paul my selfe beseech you by the Nineuenesse, and gentleness of Christ, which when I am present among you, am <sup>a</sup> bare, but am bold toward you being absent.

2 And this I require you, that I neede not to bee bolde when I am present, with that same confidence, wherewith I thinke to bee voide against some, which esteeme vs as though wee walked <sup>b</sup> according to the flesh.

3 Neuertheless, though we walke in the flesh, yet we doe not warre after the flesh,

4 (For the weapons of our warfare are not carnal, but mighty through God to cast downe holde)

5 Casting downe the imaginations, and every high thing that is exalted against the knowledge of God, and bringing into captiuitie every thought to the obedience of Christ,

6 And hauing ready the vengeance against all disobedience, when your obedience is fulfilled.

7 Looke yee on things after the appea- rance: If any man truit in himselfe that hee is Chyuite, let him consider this againe of himselfe, that as he is Chyuite, euen so are wee Chyists.

8 For though I should boast somewhat more of our authoritie, which the Lord hath giuen vs for edification, and not for your destruction, I should haue no shame.

9 This I say, that I may not seeme as it were to feare you with letters.

10 For the letters, <sup>c</sup> faith hee, are fore and strong, but his bodily presence is weak, and his speech is of no value.

11 Let such one thinke this, that such as we are in word by letters when wee are absent, such will we be also in deed, when we are present.

12 For we dare not make our selues of the number, or to compare our selues to them, which praysie themselves: but they understand not that they <sup>d</sup> measure themselves with themselves, and compare themselves with themselves.

13 But wee will not reioyce of things, which are not within our measure, <sup>e</sup> but according to the <sup>e</sup> measure of the line, wherof God hath distributed vnto vs a measure to attaine euen vnto you.

14 For wee stretch not our selues beyond our measure, as though wee had not attempted vnto you: for euen to you also haue wee come in preaching the Gospel of Christ.

15 Not boasting of things which are without our measure: that is, of other mens labours: and we hope, when your faith shall increase, to bee magnified by you, according to our line abundantly,

<sup>c</sup> Meaning a certain man among them, which thus spake of Paul. <sup>d</sup> He that measureth any thing must haue some line or measure to mete by, and not to measure a thing by it selfe: so these boasters must measure themselves by their worthy acts: and if they will compare with others, let them shew what countries, what cities, and people they haue wonnes to the Lord: for who will praise that soldier, which onely at the table can finely take of the wartes, and when he cometh to the brunt, is neither valiant nor expert.

<sup>e</sup> That is, the gifts and vocation, which God had giuen him to winne others by.

k That is, by whom Christs glory is greatly advanced.

a Lett they shew theid giue but little, distuiling themselves there by, he sheweth that God will fo blisse their libe- rall hearts, that both they shall haue enough for themselves, and also to helpe others withall. b That ye may doe good and helpe others at all times.

d Besides that by their libe- rallie the God shall be praised, they also shall be commended to God by their prayers whom they haue holpen, yea, and all men shall reue- rence them. as being ended with an excellent gift of God.

For, greatly affected toward yee.

f God gaue the whole world to the Apoſtles to preach in, ſo that Paul here meaneth by the line, his portion of the countreys where he preached. Iere. 9. 24. 1. cor. 1. 31.

16 And to preach the Goſpel in thoſe regions which are beyond you: not to reioyce in another mans line, that is, in the things that are prepared already.

17 *But let him that reioyceth, reioyce in the Lord.

18 For hee that praiſeth himſelfe, is not allowed, but he whom the Lord praiſeth.

CHAP. XI.

2 Hee declareth his affection toward them. 5 The excellencie of his miniſterie, 9 And his diligence in the ſame. 13 The ſetches of the falſe Apoſtles. 16 The peruerſe iudgements of the Corinthians, 22 And his owne praifes.

Vould to God ye could ſuffer a little my * fooliſhneſſe, and indeede ye ſuffer mee.

2 For I am ielouſe ouer you, with godly ielouſie: for I e haue prepared you for one husband, to preſent you as a pure virgin to Chriſt:

3 But I feare leſt as the ſerpent beguiled Eue through his ſubtiltie, ſo your minds ſhould be corrupt from the ſimplictie that is in Chriſt.

4 For if hee that commeth preacheth another * Ieſus then him whom we haue preached: or if yee receiue another * ſpirite then that which ye haue receiued, either another Goſpel, then that ye haue receiued, ye might well haue ſuffered him.

5 Merely I ſuppoſe that I was not inferioriour to the very chiefe Apoſtles.

6 And though I bee ſ rude in ſpeaking, yet I am not ſo in knowledge, but among you we haue bene made manifeſt to the vniuerſe, in all things.

7 Haue I committed an offence, becauſe I abated my ſelfe, that ye might be exalted, and becauſe I preached to you the Goſpel of God freely?

8 I * robbed other Churches, and tooke wages of them to doe you ſeruiſe.

9 And when I was preſent with you and had neede, I was * not ſlouchfull to the hindrance of any man: for that which was lacking vnto mee, the brethren which came from Macedonia ſupplied, and in all things I kept and will keep my ſelfe, that I ſhould not * bee grieuous to you.

10 * The trueth of Chriſt is in mee, that this reioycing ſhal not be ſhyn vpon againſt me in the regions of Achata.

11 Wherefore? becauſe I loue you not? God knoweth.

12 But what I doe, that will I doe: that I may cut away occaſion from them which deſire * occaſion, that they might bee found like vnto vs in that where in they reioyce.

a He calleth the praying of himſelfe doctrine, to the which thing the arrogancie of the falſe Apoſtles compelled him, who fought nothing elſe but to ouerthrow the Church by diminiſhing the authoritie of his miniſterie. b To ſpeake in mine owne commendation. c The miniſter marrieh Chriſt and his Church as husband and wife by the preaching of the Goſpel. Gene. 4. d That is, more perfe& doctrine concerning Chriſt Ieſus. e More excellēt gifts of the ſpirite by other mens preaching. f They did not preach Chriſt more purely then I did: for in this behalfe I was nothing inferioriour to the chiefeſt Apoſtles. g That is, ve no worldly eloquence. h Other Churches relieved me. i Hee did not onely labour with his hands for his living, but in his extreme pouertie preached diligently without burdening any man, or elſe waxing ſlouchfull to doe his dutie to euery man. Chap. 12 13. Act. 20. 34. k Let not the trueth of Chriſt be thought to be in me, if I ſuffer my ſoy to be ſhyn vp, which I haue conceiued of Grecia. l To ſlander my miniſterie, if I ſhould receiue wages.

13 For ſuch falſe * Apoſtles are deceitfull workers, and tranſforme themſelues into the Apoſtles of Chriſt.

14 And no maruelle: for Satan himſelfe is tranſformed into an Angel of light.

15 Therefore it is no great thing, though his miniſters tranſforme themſelues, as though they were the miniſters of righteousneſſe, whoſe ende ſhall bee according to their workes.

16 I ſay againe, let no man thinke, that I am fooliſh: or elſe take me euen as a ſoule, that I alſo may boaſt my ſelfe a little.

17 That I ſpeake, I ſpeake it not after the * Lord: but as it were fooliſhly, in this my great boaſting.

18 Seeing that many reioyce * after the fleſh, I will reioyce alſo.

19 For yee ſuffer foolles gladly, becauſe that ye are wiſe.

20 For yee ſuffer euen if a man bring you into bondage, if a man deuoure you, if a man take your goods, if a man exalt himſelfe, if a man ſmite you on the face.

21 * I ſpeake as concerning the reproch: as though that wee had bene * weak: but wherein any man is bolde (I ſpeake fooliſhly) I am bold alſo.

22 They are Ebrewes, * ſo am I: they are Iſraelites, ſo am I: they are the ſeede of Abrahā, ſo am I:

23 They are the miniſters of Chriſt, (I * ſpeake as a ſoule) I am more: in labours more abundant in ſtripes aboue measure: in priſon more plentifully: in * death oft.

24 Of the Jewes * ſiue times receiued I fouerſcore ſtripes * ſane one.

25 * I was thirde * beaten with roddes: I was * once ſtoned: I ſuffered thirde * whip-waſke: night and day haue I bene in the deepe ſea.

26 In iourneying I was often, in perils of waters, in perils of robbers, in perils of mine owne nation, in perils among the Gentiles, in perils in the citie, in perils in wildeerneſſe, in perils in the ſea, in perils among falſe brethren, 27 In wearineſſe and painefulneſſe, in watching often, in hunger, and thirſt, in faſtings often, in cold and nakedneſſe.

28 Beſide the things which are outward, I am cumbered daily, and haue the care of all the Churches.

29 Who is weak, and I am not weak: who is offended, and I burne not:

30 If I muſt needs reioyce, I will reioyce of mine * inimiticities.

31 The God, euen the Father of our Lord Ieſus Chriſt, which is bleſſed for euermore, knoweth that I lie not.

32 In * Damalcus the gouernour of the people vnder King Aretas, layed watch in the citie of the Damalcens, and would haue caught me.

33 But at a windowe was I let downe in a baſket through the wall, and eſcaped his hands.

his boasting upon the Corinthians. 14 Hee sheweth what good will he beareth them, 20 And promiserh to come vnto them.

IC is not expedient for me to doubt, to reioyce: for I will come to visions and reuelations of the Lord.

2 * I knowe a man * in Christ above foueteene yeeres agoe. (Whether hee were in the body, I cannot tell, or out of the body, I cannot tell: God knoweth) which was taken vp into the <sup>b</sup> third heauen.

3 And I knowe such a man (Whether in the body or out of the body, I cannot tell: God knoweth)

4 How that he was taken vp into Paradise, & heard <sup>c</sup> words which cannot bee spoken, which are not possible for man to vnderstand.

5 Of such a man will I reioyce: of my selfe will I not reioyce, except it bee of mine infirmities.

6 For though I would reioyce, I should not bee a foole: for I will say the truth, but I reframe lest any man should thinke of mee above that he seeth in me, or that hee heareth of me.

7 And lest I should bee exalted out of measure, through the abundance of reuelations, there was giuen vnto mee <sup>d</sup> a picke in the flesh, the messenger of Satan to buffet me, because I should not be exalted out of measure.

8 For this thing I besought the Lord <sup>e</sup> thise, that it might depart from me.

9 And he said vnto me, By grace is sufficient for thee: for my power is made <sup>f</sup> perfect through weaknesse. Verp gladly therefore will I reioyce rather in mine infirmities that the power of Christ may dwell in mee.

10 Therefore <sup>g</sup> I take pleasure in infirmities, in reproches, in necessities, in persecutions, in anguish for Christes sake: for when I am weak, then am I strong.

11 I was a foole to boast my selfe, ye haue compelled me: for I ought to haue bene commended of you, for in nothing was I inferior vnto the very chiefe Apostles, though I be nothing.

12 The signes of an Apostle were wrought among you with all patience, with signes, and wonders, and great workes.

13 For what is it wherein ye were inferior vnto other Churches, * except that I haue not bene <sup>h</sup> slothful to your hinderance? forgive me this wrong.

14 Behold, the <sup>i</sup> third time I am ready to come vnto you, and yet will I not be slothful to your hinderance: for I seeke not yours, but <sup>j</sup> you: for the children ought not to lay vp for the fathers, but the fathers for the children.

15 And I will most gladly bestowe, and will bee bestowed for your <sup>k</sup> soules: though the more I loue you, the lesse I am beloved.

16 But bee it that I charged you not:

A 9. 3.

b That is to say, into the highest heauen.

c Mans infirmities was not able to declare them, neither were they shewed vnto him for that end.
||Or, lawfull.

d The Greeke word signifieth a sharpe piece of wood, as a pale, or stake, and also a little spilde or sharpe thing which pricketh one as he goeth through bushie & thicke places, and entering into the flesh, cannot bee taken out without cutting of the flesh: and this was the rebelling of the flesh against the Spirit, and warned him that Satan was at hand.
e That is to say, oftentimes.

h For first, he was minded to depart from Ephesus into Macedonia, and so to Corinthus, 1. Cor. 16. 5.
Then when the Lord letted his purpose, he appointed to goe straight from Ephesus to Corinthus, Chap. 1. 15. Which intent being changed, hee went to Macedonia, from whence now hee appointed the third time to come vnto them. i Which declareth his fatherly affection. ||Or, your cause or persons.

yet forasmuch as I was craftie, I tooke you with guile.

17 Did I pill you by any of them whom I sent vnto you?

18 I haue desired <sup>l</sup> Titus, and with him I haue sent a brother: did Titus fill you of any thing? walked wee not in the selfe same Spirit? walked we not in the same steps?

19 Againe, thinke yee that we exalte our selues vnto you? wee speake before God in Christ. But wee doe all things, dearly beloved, for your edifying.

20 For I feare, lest when I come, I shall not find you such as I would: and that I shall bee found vnto you <sup>m</sup> such as yee would not, and lest there be strife, enuying, wrath, contentions, backbiting, whisperings, swellings, and discord.

21 I feare lest when I come againe, my God <sup>n</sup> abate mee among you, and I shall bewaile many of them which haue sinned already, and haue not repented of the vncleanliness, and fornication, and wantonnes, which they haue committed.

1 He threateth the obstinate, 5 And declarerh what his power is by their owne testimonie, 10 Also he sheweth what is the effect of this Epistle. 11 After hauing exhorted them to their dueitie, he wisheth them all prosperitie.

This is the <sup>a</sup> third time that I come vnto you. * In the mouth of two or three witnesses shall every word stand.

2 <sup>b</sup> I tolde you before, and tell you before: as though I had bene present the second time, to write I now being absent, to them which be before ye haue sinned, and to all others, that if I come againe, I will not spare,

3 Seeing that yee seeke experiance of Christ, that speaketh in mee, which toward you is not weak, but is mightie in you.

4 For though hee was crucified concerning his <sup>c</sup> infirmities, yet liueth hee through the power of God. And wee no doubt are weak in him: <sup>d</sup> but wee shall liue with him, through the power of God <sup>e</sup> toward you.

5 * Doone your selues whether yee are in the faith: examine your selues: know yee not your owne selues, how that Iesus Christ is in you, except yee be reprobates?

6 But I trust that ye shall know that we are not reprobates.

7 Now I pray vnto God, that yee doe none euill, nor that we should seeme approoued, but that ye should doe that which is honest: though we be as <sup>f</sup> reprobates.

8 For wee cannot doe any thing against the truth, but for the truth.

9 For we are glad when we are weak, and that yee are <sup>g</sup> strong: this also wee wish for, euen your perfection.

The Epistle of the Apostle Paul to the Galatians.

THE ARGUMENT.

THE Galatians, after they had bene instructed by Saint Paul in the truth of the Gospel, gaue place to false Apostles, who entering in, in his absence corrupted the pure doctrine of Christ, and taught that the ceremonies of the Law must bee necessarily obserued, which thing the Apostle so earnestly reasoneth against, that he proueth that the granting thereof, is the overthrow of mans saluation purchased by Christ: for thereby the light of the Gospel is obscured: the conscience burdened: the cōfessments confounded: mans iustice established. And because the false preachers did pretend, as though they had bene sent of the chiefe Apostles, and that Paul had no authoritie, but spake of himselfe, hee proueth both that he is an Apostle ordained by God, and also that he is not inferior to the rest of the Apostles. Which thing established, hee proceedeth to his purpose, prouing that we are freely iustified before God without any workes or ceremonies: which notwithstanding in their time had their vse and commoditie: but now they are not onely vnprofitable figures, but also pernicious, because Christ the truth and the end thereof is come: Wherefore men ought now to embrace that libertie, which Christ hath purchased by his blood, and not to haue their consciences feared in the gennes of mans traditions: finally he sheweth wherein this libertie standeth: and what exercises appertaine thereunto.

CHAP. I.

6 Paul rebuketh their inconstancie which suffered themselves to be seduced by the false Apostles, who preached that the obseruation of the ceremonies of the law were necessarie to saluation, 8 And detesteth them that preach any otherwise then Christ purely. 13 He sheweth his owne conuersation, magnifieth his office and Apostleship, and declareth himselfe to be equal with the chiefe Apostles.

Aul * an Apostle (not of men neither by man, but by Iesus Christ, and God the father, which hath raised him from the dead)

3 Grace bee with you, and peace from God the father, and from our Lord Iesus Christ,

4 Which gaue himselfe for our finnes, that hee might deliuer vs * from this present euil world, according to the wil of God, euen our father,

5 To whom bee glorie for euer and euer, Amen.

6 I maruaile that yee are so soon removed away vnto another Gospel from him that hath called you in the grace of Christ,

7 Which is not another Gospel, saue that there be some which trouble you, and intend to peruert the Gospel of Christ.

8 But though that wee, or an Angel from heauen preach vnto you otherwise then that which wee haue preached vnto you, let him be accursed.

9 As wee layde before, so say I now againe, if any man preach vnto you otherwise then that yee haue received, let him be accursed.

10 For s now preach I mans doctrine, or Gods? or God? or God? I about to please men? for if I should yet please men, I were not the seruant of Christ.

11 Now I certifie you, brethren, that the Gospel which was preached of me, was not after man.

12 For neither received I it of man, neither was I taught it, but by the reuelation of Iesus Christ.

13 For ye haue heard of my conuersation in time past, in the Jewish religion, how that I persecuted the Church of God extremely, and wasted it, 14 And profited in the Jewish religion above many of my companions of mine owne nation, and was much more zealous of the traditions of my fathers.

15 But when it pleased God (which had separated me from my mothers wombe, and called me by his grace)

16 To reueale his sonne in mee, that I should preach him among the Gentiles, immediately I communicated not with flesh and blood:

f If it were possible, that an Angel should so do: whereby Paul declareth the certaintie of his preaching.

19 And none of the other Apostles sawe I, save James the Lords brother.

20 Now the things which I write vnto you, behold, I winede before God, that I lie not.

21 After that, I went into the coasts of Syria and Cilicia: for I was unknowne by face vnto the Churches of Iudea, which were in Christ.

22 But they had heard onely some say, he which persecuted vs in time past, now preacheth the faith which before he destroyed.

23 And they glorified God for me.

CHAP. II.

Confirming his Apostleship to be of God, 3 He sheweth why Titus was not circumcised, 6 and that he is nothing inferior to other Apostles: 11 Test, and that he hath reproved Peter the Apostle of the Jewes. 16 After he cometh to the principall scope, which is to prove that iustification only cometh of the grace of God by faith in Iesus Christ, and not by the workes of the Law.

Then fourteene yeeres after I went up againe to Ierusalem with Barnabas, and tooke with me Titus also.

2 And I went by revelation, and communicated with them of the Gospel which I preach among the Gentiles, but particularly with them that were the chiefe, least by any means I should runne, or had runne in vaine:

3 But neither yet Titus which was with me, though he were a Grecian, was compelled to be circumcised,

4 For all the false brethren that crept in: who came in privily to spie out our libertie, which wee have in Christ Iesus, that they might bring vs into bondage,

5 To whom we gave not place by subjection for an houre, that the truth of the Gospel might continue with you.

6 And of them which seemed to be great, I was not taught (what they were in time past; it maketh no matter to mee: * God accepteth no mans person) nevertheless, they that are the chiefe, did communicate nothing with me.

7 But contrariwise when they saw that the Gospel over the vncircumcision, was committed vnto me, as the Gospel over the circumcision was vnto Peter:

8 (For hee that was mighty by Peter in the Apostleship over the Circumcision, was also mighty by mee toward the Gentiles)

9 And when James, and Cephas, and John knew of the grace that was given vnto me, which are counted to be pillars, they gaue to mee and to Barnabas the right hands of fellowship, that wee should preach vnto the Gentiles, and they vnto the Circumcision, 10 * Warning only that we should remember the poore: which thing also I was diligent to doe.

11 And when Peter was come to Antiochia, I withstood him to his face: for he was to be blamed.

12 For before that certaine came from James, he ate with the Gentiles: but when they were come, he withdrew and separated himselfe, fearing them which were of the circumcision.

13 And the other Jewes dissembled likewise with him, in so much that Barnabas was brought into their dissimulation also.

14 But when I saw that they went not the right way to the truth of the Gospel, I sayd vnto Peter before all men, If thou being a Jew, livest as the Gentiles, and not like the Jewes, why constrainest thou the Gentiles to doe like the Jewes?

15 Wee which are Jewes by nature, and not sinners of the Gentiles, 16 Knowe that a mans is not iustified by the workes of the Lawe, but by the faith of Iesus Christ: euen wee I say, have beleued in Iesus Christ, that wee might be iustified by the faith of Christ, and not by the workes of the Lawe, because that by the workes of the Lawe, no flesh shall be iustified.

17 * If then while wee seeke to be made righteous by Christ, we ourselves are found sinners, is Christ therefore the minister of sinne? God I forbid.

18 For if I build againe the things that I have destroyed, I make my selfe a trespasser.

19 For I through the Lawe am dead to the Lawe, and that I might liue vnto God, I am crucified with Christ.

20 Thus I liue, yet not I nowe, but Christ liueth in me: and in that that I nowe liue in the flesh, I liue by the faith in the Sonne of God, who hath loued me, and giuen himselfe for me.

21 I doe not abrogate the grace of God: for if righteousness bee by the Lawe, then Christ died without a cause.

3 Are ye so foolishly, that after ye haue begun in the spirit, ye would now be made perfect by the flesh?

4 Haue ye suffered so many things in vaine? if it be it be euen in vaine.

5 He therefore that ministrerth to you the Spirit, and worketh intracles among you, doeth hee it through the workes of the Law, or by the hearing of faith preached?

6 Ye rather as Abraham beleened God, and it was imputed to him for righteousness.

7 Know ye therefore, that they which are of faith, the same are the children of Abraham.

8 For the Scripture foreseeing, that God would iustifie the Gentiles through faith, preached before the Gospel vnto Abraham, saying, * In thee shall all the Gentiles be blessed.

9 So then they which bee of faith, are blessed with faithfull Abraham.

10 For as many as are of the workes of the Lawe, are vnder the curse: for it is written, * Cursed is every man that continueth not in all things, which are written in the booke of the Lawe, to doe them.

11 And that no man is iustified by the Law in the sight of God, it is euident: * for the iust shall liue by faith.

12 And the Law is not of faith: but the man that shall doe those things, shall liue in them.

13 Christ hath redeemed vs fro the curse of the Lawe, when he was made a curse for vs (for it is written, * Cursed is every one that hangeth on tree)

14 That the blessing of Abraham might come on the Gentiles through Christ Iesus, that wee might receiue the promise of the Spirit through faith.

15 Brethren, I speake as men doe, * Though it be but a mans couenant, when it is confirmed, yet no man doeth abrogate it, or addeth any thing thereto.

16 Nowe to Abraham and his seede were the promises made. Hee sayth not, And to the seedes, as speaking of many: but, And to thy seede, as of one, which is Christ.

17 And thus I say, that the Lawe which was four hundred and thirtie yeeres after, cannot disannull the couenant that was confirmed afore of God in respect of Christ, that it should make the promise of none effect.

18 For if the inheritance be of the Law, it is no more by the promise, but God gaue it vnto Abraham by promise.

19 Wherefore then serueth the Law? It was added because of the transgressions, till the seede came vnto the which the promise was made: and it was ordained by Angels in the hande of a Mediatour. 20 Now a Mediatour is not a Mediatour of one: but God is one. 21 Is the Law then against the promise of God? God forbid: for if there had beene a Lawe giuen which could haue giuen life, surely righteousnesse should haue been by the Law. 22 But the Scripture hath concluded all vnder sinne, that the promise by the faith of Iesus Christ should be giuen to them that beleue. 23 But before faith came, wee were kept vnder the Lawe, and shut vp vnto the faith which should afterward be reuealed. 24 Wherefore the Law was our schoole-maister to bring vs to Christ, that wee might be made righteous by faith. 25 But after that faith is come, wee are no longer vnder a schoolemaister. 26 For ye are all the sonnes of God by faith, in Christ Iesus. 27 * For all ye that are baptized into Christ, haue pur on Christ. 28 There is neither Iewe nor Grecian: there is neither bond nor free: there is neither male nor female: for ye are all one in Christ Iesus. 29 And if ye be Chrisses, then are ye Abrahams seede, and heires by promise. 30 So that baptism succedeth circumcision, and so through Christ both Iew and Gentile is saued. u As all one man.

10 Ye observe dayes, and moneths, and times and yeeres.

12 See ye as I: for I am euen as you: brethren, I beseech you: ye haue not hurt me at all.

14 And the trial of mee which was in my flesh, ye despised not, neither abhorred: but ye received mee as an Angel of God, yea, as Christ Iesus.

15 What was then your felicitie? for I beare you record, that if it had bene possible, ye would haue plucked out your owne eyes, and haue giuen them to me.

16 Am I therefore become your enemy, because I tell you the truth?

17 They are ielous ouer you: amisse: yea, they would exclude you, that ye should altogether loue them.

18 But it is a good thing to loue earnestly alwayes in a good thing, and not onely when I am present with you.

19 O little children, of whom I traualle in birth againe, vntill Christ be formed in you.

20 And I would I were with you now, that I might change my voice: for I am in doubt or you.

21 Tell mee, ye that will be vnder the Law, do ye not heare the Law?

22 For it is written, that Abraham had two women: * one by a servant, * and one by a free woman.

23 But he which was of the servant, was borne after the flesh: and hee which was of the free woman, was borne by promise.

24 By the which things another thing is meant: for these mothers are the two Testaments, the one which is * Agar of mount Sina, which gendereth vnto bondage, 25 (For Agar or Sina is a mountaine in y Arabia, and it answereth to Ierusalem which now is) and shee is in bondage with her children.

26 But Ierusalem, which is <sup>1</sup> about, is free: which is the mother of vs all.

27 For it is written, * Reioyce thou <sup>2</sup> barrenthath bearest no children: breake forth, and crye thou that trauallest not: for the Desolate hath many mo children then she which hath an husband.

28 * Therefore, brethren, we are after the maner of Isaac, children of the promise.

29 But as then hee that was borne after the flesh, persecuted him that was borne after the spirit, euen so it is now.

30 What saith the Scripture? * But out the seruant and her sonne: for the sonne of the seruant shall not be heire with y sonne of the free woman.

31 Then brethren, we are not children of the seruant, but of the free woman.

2 * Beholde, I Paul say vnto you, that if ye be circumcised, Christ shall profit you nothing.

3 For I testifie againe to every man, which is circumcised, that he is bound to keepe the whole Law.

4 Ye are abolished from Christ, who sooner are iustified by the Law, ye are fallen from grace.

5 For we though the Spirit wait for the hope of righteousnesse through faith.

6 For in Iesus Christ neither circumcision auaileth any thing, neither vncircumcision, but faith which worketh by loue.

7 Ye did runne well: who did let you, that ye did not obey the truth?

9 * A little leauen doeth leauen the whole lump.

10 I haue trust in you through the Lord, that ye wil be none other wise minded: but he that troubleth you, shal beare his condemnation, whosoever he be.

11 And brethren, if I yet preach circumcision, why doe I yet suffer persecution? Then is the slander of the Crosse abolished.

12 Would to God they were euen cut off, which doe disquiet you.

13 For brethren, ye haue bene called vnto libertie: onely vie not your libertie as an occasion vnto the flesh, but by loue serue one another.

14 For all the Lawe is fulfilled in one word, which is this, * Thou shalt loue thy neighbour as thy selfe.

15 If ye bite and deuoure one another, take heed leat ye be consumed one of another.

CHAP. VI.

1 He exhorted them to vs: gentlenesse toward the weake, 2 And to shewe their brotherly loue and modestie: 6 Also to provide for their ministers, 9 To perseuere, 14 To reioyce in the crosse of Christ, 15 To newnesse of life, 16 And last of all, wiseth to them with the rest of the faithful all prosperitie.

1 Reioyce, if a man be a fallen by occasion vnto any fault, yee which are spiritually, restoree such one with the spirit of meeknesse, considering thy selfe, lest thou also be tempted.

2 Beare ye one anothers burden, and so fulfill the Law of Christ.

3 For if any man seeme to himselfe, that he is somewhat, when he is nothing, hee deceiveth himselfe in his imagination.

4 But let every man prouee his owne worke, and then shall he haue reioycing in himselfe only and not in another.

5 * For every man shall beare his owne burden. 1. Cor. 3. 8.

6 Let him that is taught in the word, make him that hath taught him partaker of all his goods.

7 Be not deceived: God is not mocked: for whatsoeuer a man soweth, that shall hee also reape.

8 For he that soweth to his fleshy, shall of the fleshy reape corruption: but hee that soweth to the spirit, shall of the spirit reape life euertlasting.

9 * Let vs not therefore be weary of well doing: for in season wee shall reape, if we faint not.

10 While we haue therefore time, let vs doe good vnto all men, but specially vnto them which are of the household of faith.

11 See see how large a letter I haue written vnto you with mine owne hand.

12 As many as desire to make a faire shewe in the fleshy, they constraene you to be circumcised, onely because they would not suffer persecution for the crosse of Christ.

13 For they themselues which are circumcised, keepe not the Lawe, but desire to haue you circumcised, that they might reioyce in your fleshy.

14 But God forbid that I should reioyce, but in the crosse of our Lord Iesus Christ, whereby the world is crucified vnto mee, and I vnto the world.

15 For in Christ Iesus neither circumcision auaileth any thing, nor vncircumcision, but a new creature.

16 And as many as walke according to this rule, peace shall be vpon them, and mercie, and vpon the Israel of God.

The Epistle of Paul to the Ephesians.

THE ARGUMENT.

While Paul was prisoner at Rome, there entred in among the Ephesians false teachers, who corrupted the true doctrine which hee had taught them, by reason whereof hee wrote this Epistle to confirme them in that thing, which they had learned of him. And first after his salutation, hee assureth them of saluation, because they were thereunto predestinate by the free election of God, before they were borne, and sealed vnto his eternall life by the holy Ghost, giuen vnto them by the Gospel, the knowledge of the which mysterie hee prayeth God to confirme toward them. And to the intent they should not glory in themselves, hee sheweth them their extreme miserie wherein they were plunged before they knew Christ, as people without God, Gentiles to whom the promises were not made, and yet, by the free mercy of God in Christ Iesus, they were saved, & hee appointed to be their Apollo, as of all other Gentiles: therefore he desireth God to lighten the Ephesians hearts with the perfect understanding of his Sonne, and exhorteth him likewise to bee mindfull of so great benefites, neither to be moued with the false apostles, which seeke to ouerthrow their faith and tread vnder soore the Gospel, which was not preached to them, as by chance or fortune, but according to the eternal counsell of God: who by this meanes onely preseruethe his Church. Therefore the Apostle commendeth his ministry, forasmuch as God: hereby reigneth among men, and causeth it to bring forth most plentiful fruites, as innocencie, holinesse, with all such offices, appertaining to godlinesse. Last of all he declareth not onely in generall, what ought to be the life of the Christians, but also sheweth particularly, what things concerneth euery mans uocation.

CHAP. I.

After his saluation, 4 Hee sheweth that the chiefe cause of their saluation standeth in the free election of God through Christ. 16 He declareth his good will toward them giuing thanks & praying God for their faith 21 The maiesty of Christ.

R ALL an Apostle of Iesus Christ, by the will of God, to the * Saints which are at Ephesus, and to the faithfull in Christ Iesus:

1 Grace be with you, and peace from God our Father, and from the Lord Iesus Christ.

4 * As he hath chosen vs in him, before the foundation of the world: so that we should be holy, & without blame before him in loue:

5 Who hath predestinate vs, to be adopted through Iesus Christ unto himselfe, according to the good pleasure of his will,

6 To the * praise of the glory of his grace, wherewith hee hath made vs accepted in his beloued,

7 By whome wee haue redemption through his blood, euen the forgiveness of sinnes, according to his rich grace:

8 Whereby he hath bene abundant toward vs in all wisdome & vnderstanding,

9 And hath opened vnto vs the mysterie of his will according to his good pleasure, which he had purposed * in him,

10 That in the dispensation of the fulnes of the times, hee might gather together in one s all things, both which are in heauen, and which are in earth, euen in Christ:

11 In whom also we are chosen when we were predestinate according to the purpose of him, which worketh all things after the counsell of his owne will,

12 That * wee which first trusted in Christ, should be vnto the praise of his glory:

13 In whom also ye haue trusted after that ye heard the word of truth, euen the Gospel of your saluation, whereof also after that ye beleeued, ye were sealed with the holy Spirit of promise,

15 Therefore also, after that I heard of the faith, which ye haue in the Lord Iesus, and loue toward all the Saints,

6 And hath raised vs by together, and made vs sit together in the heauenly places in Christ Iesus,

7 That hee might shew in the ages to come, the exceeding riches of his grace, though his kindnesse towards vs in Christ Iesus.

8 For by grace are yee saved through faith, and that not of your selues: it is the gift of God, 9 Not of workes, lest any man should boast himselfe.

10 For we are his workmanship created in Christ Iesus vnto good workes, which God hath ordeined that we should walke in them.

11 Wherefore I remember that yee being in tyme past Gentiles in the flesh, and called * vncircumcision of them, which are called circumcision in the flesh, made with hands, 12 That ye were, I say, at that tyme without Christ, and were aliens from the common wealth of Israel, and were * strangers from the covenants of promise, and had no hope, and were without God in the world.

13 But now in Christ Iesus, yee which once were farre off, are made nere by the blood of Christ.

14 For he is our peace, which hath made of both one, and hath broken the stop of the partition wall,

15 In abrogating through his flesh the hatred, that is, the Law of commandments which standeth in ordinances, for to make of twaine one new man in himselfe, so making peace,

16 And that he might reconcile both vnto God in one body by his crosse, and slay hatred thereby, 17 And came and preached peace to you which were afar off, and to them that were nere.

18 For through him wee both haue an entrance vnto the father by one Spirit.

19 Now therefore ye are no more strangers and foreigners: but citizens with the Saints, and of the household of God,

20 And are built vpon the foundation of the Apostles and Prophets, Iesus Christ himselfe being the chiefe corner stone, 21 In whom all the building coupled together, groweth vnto an holy Temple in the Lord, 22 In whom ye also are built together to be the habitation of God by the Spirit.

CHAP. III.

1 He sheweth the cause of his imprisonment, 13 Desireth them not to faint because of his trouble, 14 And prayeth God to make them steadfast in his Spirit.

For this cause, I Paul am the prisoner of Iesus Christ for you Gentiles, 2 If ye haue heard of the dispensation of the grace of God, which is giuen mee to youward,

3 This is, that God by reuelation hath shewed this mystery vnto mee (as I wrote above in few words,

4 Whereby when yee reade, ye may know mine vnderstanding in the mystery of Christ.)

5 Which in other ages was not opened vnto the sonnes of men, as it is now reuealed vnto his holy Apostles and prophets by the Spirit,

6 That the Gentiles should bee inheritors also, and of the same body, and partakers of his promise in Christ by the Gospel.

7 Whereof I am made a minister by the gift of the grace of God giuen vnto mee through the working of his power.

8 Therefore to me the least of all Saints is this grace giuen, that I should preach among the Gentiles the vnsearchable riches of Christ.

9 And to make cleare vnto all men what the fellowship of the mystery is, which from the beginning of the world hath been hid in God, who hath created all things by Iesus Christ,

10 To the intent that now vnto principalities and powers in heauenly places might be knowne by the Church the manifold wisdom of God,

11 According to the eternall purpose, which hee wrought in Christ Iesus our Lord, 12 By whom wee haue boldnesse and entrance with confidence by faith in him.

13 Wherefore I desire that yee faint not at my tribulations for your sakes, which is your glory.

14 For this cause I bow my knees vnto the father of our Lord Iesus Christ, 15 (Of whom is named the whole family in heauen and earth.)

16 That he might graunt you according to the riches of his glory, that yee may be strengthened by his spirit in the inner man,

17 That Christ may dwell in your hearts by faith, that ye, being rooted and grounded in loue,

18 May bee able to comprehend with all Saints, what is the breadth, and length, and depth, and height:

19 And to know the loue of Christ, which passeth knowledge, that yee may be filled with all fullnesse of God.

20 Unto him therefore that is able to doe exceeding abundantly above all that we aske or thinke, according to the power that worketh in vs, 21 Bee praye in the Church by Christ Iesus, throughout all generations for euer, Amen.

1 That all the graces of God may abound in you that we seele Christ in vs.

CHAP. IIIII.

1 He exhorteth them vnto meekenes, long suffering, vnto loue and peace, 3 Emery one to serue & edifie one another with the gift that God hath giuen him, 14 To beware of strange doctrine, 22 To lay aside the old conuersation of greedy lustes, and to walke in a new life.

Therefore, being prisoner in the Lord I pray you that ye walke worthy of the vocation wherunto ye are called,

The Epistle of Paul to the Philippians.

THE ARGUMENT.

PAUL being warned by the holy Ghost to goe to Macedonia, planted first a Church at Philippi a citie of the same country: but because his charge was to preach the Gospell vniuersally to all the Gentiles, hee trauidled from place to place, till at the length he was taken prisoner at Rome, wherof the Philippians being aduertised, sent their minister Epaphroditus with reliefe vnto him: who declaring him the state of the Church, caused him to write this Epistle, wherein hee commendeth them that they stood manfully against the false apostles, putting them in mind of his good wil toward them, and exhorted them that his imprisonment make them not to shrink: for the Gospell thereby was confirmed and not diminished: especially he desireth them to flee ambition, & to embrace modestly, promising to send Timotheus vnto them, who should instruct them in matters more amply: yea, and that hee him selfe would also come vnto them, adding likewise the cause of their ministers so long abode. And because there were no greater enemies to the crosse then the false apostles, hee conuerteth their false doctrine, by prouing only Christ to be the end of all true religion, with whom we haue all things, and without whom we haue nothing, so that his death is our life, and his resurrection our iustification. After this follow certaine admonitions both particular and general, with testification of his affection toward them, and thankfull accepting of their beneuolence.

CHAP. I.

1 Saint Paul discovereth his heart toward them, 3 By his thanksgiving, 4 Prayers, 8 and wishes for their faith & saluation, 7. 12. 20 Hee sheweth the fruit of his crosse, 15. 27 And exhorteth them to unity, 28 And patience.

PAUL and Timotheus the seruants of Iesus Christ, to all the Saints in Christ Iesus which are at Philippi, with the <sup>a</sup> Bishops, and Deacons:

5 Because of the <sup>b</sup> fellowship which yee haue in the Gospell, from the <sup>c</sup> first day vnto now.

6 And I am perswaded of this same thing, that hee that hath begunne this good worke in you, will perfourme it vntill the <sup>d</sup> day of Iesus Christ,

7 As it becommeth me so to iudge of you all, because I haue you in remembrance, <sup>e</sup> that both in my bands, and in my defence and confirmation of the Gospell, you all were partakers of my <sup>f</sup> grace.

8 For God is my record, how I long after you all from the very heart roote in Iesus Christ.

9 And this I pray, that your loue may abound, yer more and more in knowledge, and in all iudgement,

12 ¶ I would ye vnderstoode, brethren, that the things which haue come vnto mee, are turned rather to the furthering of the Gospell,

13 So that my bands in <sup>i</sup> Christ are famous throughout all the <sup>k</sup> iudgement hall, and in all other places, 14 In is much that many of the brethren in the Loyde are boldened through my bandes, and dare more frankly speake the <sup>l</sup> word.

15 Some preach Christ, euen through enuie and strife, and some alio of good will.

16 The one part preach Christ of contention and not <sup>m</sup> purely, supposing to adde more affliction to my bands:

17 But the others of loue, knowing that I am set for the defence of the Gospell.

18 What then yet Christ is preached all manner waies, whether it be <sup>n</sup> vnder a pretence, or inwardly, and I therein loy: yea, and will loy.

19 For I know that this shall turne to my saluation, through your prayer, and by the helpe of the Spirit of Iesus Christ, 20 As I heartily looke for, and hope, that in nothing I shall be ashamed, but that with all confidence, as alwayes, so now Christ shall be magnified in my body, whether it be by life, or by death.

21 For Christ is to me both in life, and in death advantage.

24 Nevertheless to abide in the flesh, is more needfull for you.

25 And this am I sure of, that I shall abide, and with you all continue, for your furtherance and toy of your faith, 26 That yee may more abundantly rejoice in Jesus Christ for me, by my continuing to you againe.

27 * I only let your conversation be, as it becommeth the Gospel of Christ, that whether I come and see you, or else be absent, I may heare of your matters, that yee continue in one Spirit, and in one minde fighting together through the sayde of the Gospel.

CHAP. II.

3 He exhorteth them about all things to humility, whereby pure doctrine is chiefly maintained, 19 Promising that he and Timotheus will speedily come vnto them, 27 and excuseth the long tarrying of Epaphroditus.

If there be therefore any consolation in Christ, if any comfort of love, if any fellowship of the Spirit, if any compassion and mercy,

2 Fulfill my ioy, that ye be like minded, having the same love, being of one accord, and of one iudgement,

3 That nothing be done through contention or wayne glory, but that in meeknesse of mind every man esteeme other better then himselfe.

4 Looke not every man on his owne things, but every man also on the things of other men.

5 Let the same minde be in you that was even in Christ Jesus,

6 Who being in the foame of God, thought it no robbery to be equal with God:

7 But he made himselfe of no reputation, & tooke on him the foame of a servant, and was made like vnto men, & was found in the shape as a man.

8 He humbled himselfe, and became obedient vnto the death, even the death of the crosse.

9 Therefore God hath also highly exalted him, and given him a Name above every Name,

10 * That at the Name of Jesus should every knee bow, both of things in heaven, and things in earth, and things vnder the earth, 11 * And that every tongue should confesse that Jesus Christ is the Lord, vnto the glory of God the Father.

12 Therefore you my beloved, as ye have alwayes obeyed me, not as in my presence onely, but nowe much more in mine absence, so make an end of your owne salvation with feare and trembling.

13 For it is God which worketh in you, both the will and the deed, even of his good pleasure.

14 Doe all things without murmuring and reasonings,

15 That ye may be blamelesse, and pure, and the sonnes of God without rebuke in the middes of a naughty and crooked nation, among whom ye shine, as * lightes in the world,

16 Holding forth the word of life, that I may reioyce in the day of Christ, that I have not ruine in vaine, neither have laboured in vaine.

17 Yea, and though I be offered by thyn on the sacrifice, and service of your faith, I am glad, and reioyce with you all.

18 For the same cause also be ye glad, and reioyce with me.

19 And I trust in the Lord Jesus to send Timotheus shortly vnto you, that I also may be of good comfort, when I know your state.

20 For I have no man like minded, who will faithfully care for your matters.

21 * For all ye seeke their owne, and not that which is Jesus Christs.

22 But ye know the prooffe of him, that as a sonne with the father, hee hath served with me in the Gospel.

23 Him therefore I hope to send as soone as I know how it will go with me, 24 And trust in the Lord, that I also myselfe shall come shortly.

25 But I supposed it necessarie to send my brother Epaphroditus vnto you, my companion in labour, and fellowe soldier, even your messenger, and he that ministered vnto me such things as I wanted.

26 For he longed after all you, and was full of heavinesse, because ye had heard, that he had bene sicke.

27 And no doubt he was sicke, very neere vnto death: but God had mercy on him, and not on him onely, but on me also, lest I should have sorrowe vpon sorrow.

28 I sent him therefore the more diligently, that when ye should see him againe, ye might reioyce, and I might be the lesse sorrowfull.

29 Receiue him therefore in the Lord with all gladnesse, and make much of such:

30 Because that for the worke of Christ he was neere vnto death, and regarded not his life, to fulfil that service which was lacking on your part toward me.

4 Though I might also haue confidence in the flesh. If any other man thinketh that he hath whereof he might trust in the flesh, much more I:

5 Circumcised the eight day, of the kindred of Israel, of the tribe of Benjamin, * an Hebrew of the Hebrewes, * by the lawe a Pharise.

6 Concerning zeale, I persecuted the Church: touching the righteousness which is in the Law, I was unrebekable.

7 But the things that were bawtage vnto mee, the same I counted losse for Christs sake.

8 Pea, doubtlesse I thinke all things but losse for the excellent knowledge sake of Christ Iesus my Lorde, for whom I haue counted all things losse, and doe iudge them to be dungue, that I might winne Christ.

9 And might bee found in him, that is, not hauing mine owne righteousness, which is of the Law, but that which is through the faith of Christ, euen the righteousness which is of God through faith.

10 That I may know him, and the vertue of his resurrection, and the fellowship of his afflictions, and bee made coniformable vnto his death.

11 If by any meanes I might attaine vnto the resurrection of the dead:

12 Not as though I had already attained to it, either were already perfect: but I follow, if that I may comprehend that for whose sake also I am comprehended of Christ Iesus.

13 Brethren, I count not my selfe, that I haue attained to it, but one thing I do: I forget that which is behind, and indure my selfe vnto that which is before.

14 And follow hard toward the marke, for the price of the high calling of God in Christ Iesus.

¶ The Epistle of Paul to the Colossians.

THE ARGUMENT.

I N this Epistle S Paul putteth difference betwene the liuely, effectual and true Christ, and the fained, counterfeit, and imagined Christ, whom the false apostles taught. And first, he confirmeth the doctrine which Epaphras had preached, wishing them the increase of faith, to esteeme the excellency of Gods benefit toward them, teaching them also that saluation, and whatsoever good thing can be desired, standeth onely in Christ, whom onely wee imitate by the Gospel. But forasmuch as the false brethren would haue mixed the Law with the Gospel, hee toucheth those flatterers vehemently, and exhorteth the Colossians to stay onely on Christ, without whom all things are but mere vanitie. And as for circumcision, abstinence from meates, externall holinesse, worshipping of Angels as meanes whereby to come to Christ, hee vterly condemneth, shewing what was the office and nature of ceremonies, which by Christ are abrogate: so that now the exercises of the Christians stand in mortification of the flesh, newnesse of life, with other like offices appertaining both generally and particularly to all the faithfull.

CHAP. I.

3 He giueth thanks vnto God for their faith, 7 Confirmeth the doctrine of Epaphras, 9 Prayeth for the increase of their faith. 13 He sheweth vnto them the true Christ, and discovereth the counterfeit Christ of the false apostles. 25 He approoveth his authorities and charge, 28 and of his faithfull executing of the same.

But an Apostle of IESVS Christ, by the will of God, and Timotheus our brother,

2 To all them which are at Colosse, Saints & faithfull brethren in Christ: Grace be with you, and peace from God our Father, and from the Lord Iesus Christ.

3 We giue thanks to God euen the Father of our Lord Iesus Christ, alwayes praying for you:

4 Since we heard of our faith in Christ Iesus, and of your loue toward all Saints,

5 For the hopes sake which is laid vp for you in heauen, wherof ye haue heard before by the word of truethe, which is the Gospel,

6 Which is come vnto you, euen as it is vnto all the world, and is fruitfull, as it is also among you, from the day that ye heard and truly knew the grace of God,

7 As yee also learned of Epaphras our deare fellowe seruant, which is for you a faithfull minister of Christ:

8 Who hath also declared vnto vs your loue, which ye haue by the spirit.

9 For this cause were also, since the day we heard of it, ready not to pay for you, and to desire that yee might bee fulfilled with knowledge of his will, in all wisdom, and spirituall understanding,

10 That ye might walke worthy of the Lord, & please him in all things, being fruitfull in all good works, and increasing in the knowledge of God,

11 Strengthened with all might through his glorious power, vnto all patience, and long suffering with ioyfulness, 12 Gining thanks vnto the Father, which hath made vs meete to bee partakers of the inheritance of the Saints in light.

13 Who hath deliuered vs fro the power of darkenes, and hath translated vs into the kingdome of his deare Sonne, 14 In whome we haue redemption through his blood, that is, the forgiveness of sinnes, 15 Who is the image of the invisible God, the first borne of euey creature.

16 For by him were all things created, which are in heauen, and which are in earth, things visible and invisible: whether they be Thrones, or Dominions, or Principalties, or Powers, all things were created by him and for him, 17 And he is before all things, and in him all things consist.

18 And hee is the head of the body of the Church: he is the beginning, and the first borne of the dead, that in all things he might haue the preeminence.

19 For it pleased the Father, that in him should all fullesse dwell.

20 And by him to reconcile all things vnto himselfe, and to set at peace through the blood of his crosse, both the things in earth, and the things in heauen.

21 And you which were in times past strangers and enemies, because your mindes were seer in euill workes, hath he now also reconciled,

CHAP. II.

1 Having professed his good will toward them,
 4 Hee admonisheth them not to turne backe from Christ, & to the seruice of Angels or any other inventions, or els ceremonies of the Law. 17 Which haue finished their office, and are ended in Christ.
 ¶ I would yee knew what great fighting I haue for your sakes, and for their of Laodicea, and for as many as haue not seene my person in the flesh,
 2 That their hearts might be comforted and they knit together in loue, and in all riches of the full assurance of vnderstanding, to know the mysterie of God euen the Father, and of Christ:
 3 In whom are hid all the treasures of wisdom and knowledge.
 4 And this I say, lest any man should beguile you with enticing words:
 5 * For though I be absent in the flesh, yet am I with you in the Spirit reioicing, and beholding your order, and your steadfast faith in Christ.
 6 As yee haue therefore receiued Christ Jesus the Lord, so walke in him,
 7 Rooted and builded in him, and stablished in the faith, as yee haue bene taught, abounding therein with thanksgiving.
 8 Beware lest there bee any man that spoyle you through philosophy, and vaine deceit, through the traditions of men, according to the rudiments of the world, and not after Christ.
 9 * For in him dwelleth all the fulnesse of the Godhead bodily.
 10 And yee are complete in him, which the head of all Principalities and power:
 11 In whom also yee are circumcised with * circumcision made without hands, by putting off the sinful body of the flesh, through the circumcision of Christ, 12 In that yee are buried with him through baptism, in whom yee are also rayled vp together through the faith: of the operation of God which raised him from the dead.

 13 * And yee which were dead in sinnes, and in the vnicorruption of your flesh, hath bee quickened together with him, forgiving you all your trespasses, 14 And putting out the handwriting of ordinances that was against vs, which was contrary to vs, hee euen tooke it out of the way, and fastened it vpon the crosse,
 15 And hath spoiled the Principalities, and powers, and hath made a shew of them openly, and hath triumphed ouer them in the same crosse.
 16 Let no man therefore condemne you in iudicate and drinke, or in respect of an holy day, or of the new moone, or of the Sabbath daies, 17 Which are but a shadow of things to come: but the body is in Christ.
 18 * Let no man at his pleasure haue rule ouer you by humblesse of conscience and worshipping of Angels, aduancing himselfe in those things which hee neuer sawe, rashly puffe vp with his fleshy minde.
 19 And holdeth not the head, wherof all the body furnished & knit together by ioynts and bands, increaseth with the increasing of God.
 20 Wherefore: if yee bee dead with Christ from the ordinances of the world, why as though yee were liued in the world, are yee burdened with traditions?
 21 As, Touch not, Taste not, Handle not;
 22 Which all are perished with the vsing, and are after the commandments and doctrines of men;
 23 Which things haue indrede a shew of wisdom, in voluntary religion and humbleness of minde, and in not sparring the body: neither haue they it in any estimation to satisfie the flesh.
 ¶ led them at their pleasure into all superstition, and error. ¶ Or, defraud you of your price. in And appertaine nothing to the kingdom of God. n Such as men haue chosen according to their own fantasie. ¶ Or, but they are of no value: saue for the filling of the flesh. o They pinch and defraude their body to shew themselves greater hypocrites.
 CHAP. III.
 1 He sheweth where we should seeke Christ. 3 Hee exhorteth to mortification, 10 To put off the old man and to put on Christ 12 To the which he addeth exhortations, both generall and particular, to charitie and humilitie.
 ¶ If yee then be risen with Christ, seeke those things which are aboue where Christ sitteth at the right hand of God.
 2 Set your affection on things which are aboue, and not on things which are on the earth.
 3 For yee are not dead, and your life is hid with Christ in God.
 4 When Christ, which is our life, shall appeare, then shall ye also appeare with him in glorie.

The first Epistle of Paul to the Thesalonians.

THE ARGUMENT.

After that the Thesalonians had bene well instructed in the faith, persecution (which perpetually followed the preaching of the Gospel) arose, against the which although they did constantly stand, yet Saint Paul (as most carefull for them) sent Timothee to strengthen them, who soone after admonishing him of their estate, gave occasion to the Apostle to confirme them by diuers arguments to be constant in faith, and to suffer whatsoever God calleth them vnto for the testimonie of the Gospel, exhorting them to declare by their godly liuing the puritie of their religion. And as the Church can neuer be so purged, that some cockle remaine not among the wheate, so there were among them wicked men, which by mouing vaine and curious questions to enuethrow their faith, taught falsely, as touching the point of the resurrection from the dead: whereof he briefly instructeth them what to thinke, earnestly forbidding them to seeke curiously to know the times, willing them rather to watch, lest the sudden coming of Christ come vpon them at vnawares: and so after certaine exhortations, and his commendations to the brethren, bee endeth.

CHAP. I.

1 Hee thanketh God for them, that they are so stedfast in faith and good works, 6 And receiue the Gospel with such earnestnes, 7 That they are an example to all others.

DAUL, and Silvanus, and Timotheus, vnto the Church of the Thesalonians, which is in God the Father, and in the Lord Iesus Christ: Grace be with you, & peace from God our father, and from the Lord Iesus Christ.

2 * Wee giue God thanks alwayes for you all, making * mention of you in our prayers

3 Without ceasing, remembering your b effectuall faith, and * diligent loue, and the patience of your hope in our Lord Iesus Christ, in the sight of God ench our Father,

4 Knowing, beloued brethren, that yee are elect of God.

5 For our <sup>d</sup> Gospel was not vnto you in word onely, but also in power, and in the holy Ghost, and in much assurance, as ye know after what manner we were among you for your sakes.

6 And yee became followers of vs, and of the Lord, and receiued the word in much affliction, with * top of the holy Ghost, 7 So that ye were as <sup>h</sup> ensamples to all that beleeue in Macedonia and Achaia.

8 For from you sounded out the word of the Lord, not in Macedonia and in Achaia onely: but your faith also which is toward God, spread abroad in all quarters, that we neede not to speake any thing.

9 For <sup>i</sup> they themselves shew of you what manner of entering in wee had vnto you, and how yee turned to God from idoles, to serue the s<sup>t</sup> lining and true God,

10 And to looke for his Sonne from heauen, whom he called from the dead, euen Iesus which deliuereth vs from the <sup>b</sup> w<sup>h</sup> path to come.

CHAP. II.

1 To the intent they should not faint vnder the crosse, 2 Hee commendeth his diligence in preaching, 13 And theirs in obeying, 18 Hee excuseth his absence, that hee could not come and open his heart to them.

For yee your selues know brethren, that our entrance in vnto you was not in <sup>a</sup> vaine,

2 But euen after that wee had suffered before, and were shamefully increased at <sup>b</sup> Philippi (as yee know) wee were bold in our God, to speake vnto you the Gospel of God with much striving.

3 For our exhortation was not by deceit, nor by vnclannesse, nor by guile.

4 But as we were allowed of God, that the Gospel should bee committed vnto vs, so we speake, not as they that <sup>c</sup> please men, but God, which trieth our hearts.

5 Neither yet did we euer vse flattering words, as yee know, nor coloured countenance, God is record.

6 Neither sought wee praise of men, neither of you, nor of others,

7 When we might haue bene <sup>h</sup> chargeable, as the Apostles of Christ: but we were gentle among you, euen as a <sup>d</sup> nourse cherisheth her children.

8 Thus being affectioned toward you, our good will was to haue dealt vnto you, not the Gospel of God onely, but also our owne soules, because yee were deare vnto vs.

9 For yee remember, brethren, * our labour and travail: for we laboured day and night, because we would not bee chargeable vnto any of you, and preached vnto you the Gospel of God.

10 Wee are witnesses, and God also, how holily, and iustly, and vnblameably we behaued our selues among <sup>e</sup> you that beleeue.

11 As yee know how that wee exhorted you, and comforted, and besought euery one of you (as a father his children)

12 That yee * would walke worthy of God, who hath called you vnto his kingdom and glory.

13 For this cause also thanke wee God without ceasing, that when ye receiued of vs the word of the preaching of God, yee receiued it not as the word of men, but as it is in deede the word of God, which also worketh in you that beleeue.

14 For brethren, yee are become followers of the Churches of God, which in Judea are in <sup>f</sup> Christ Iesus, because yee haue also suffered the same things of your owne country

CHAP. III.

2 He sheweth how greatly hee was afflicted toward them, both in that hee sent Timotheus to them, 10 And also prayed for them.

W herefore since we could no longer forbear, wee thought it good to re-

2 * And haue sent Timotheus our brother and minister of God, and our labour fellow in the Gospel of Christ, to stablish you, and to comfort you touching your faith,

3 That no man should bee moued with these afflictions: for yee your selues knowe, that we are appointed therunto.

4 For verily when wee were with you, we told you before that wee should suffer tribulations, euen as it came to passe, and yee knew it.

b His great affection toward the small flocke.
c Meaning Satan.

5 Euen for this cause, when I could no longer forbear, I sent him that I might know of your faith, lest the tempter had tempted you in any sort, and that our labour had bene in vaine.

6 But nowe lately when Timotheus came from you vnto vs, and brought vs good tidings of your faith and loue, and that yee haue good remembrance of vs alwayes, desiring to see vs, as we also doe you,

7 Therefore, brethren, we had consolation in you, in all our affliction, and necessitie through your faith.

d If ye remaine constant in faith and true doctrin,
I shall thinke that all mine afflictions be so many pleasures, and shall be restored from death to life.

8 For now are wee aliue, if yee stand fast in the Lord.

9 For what thanks can we recompense to God againe for you, for all the ioy wherewith wee reioyce for your sakes before our God,

10 Night and day * praying exceedingly that wee might see your face, and might accomplish that which is lacking in your faith?

uere in faith.
Rom. 11. 10.
and 15. 23.
f We must dayly

11 Now God himselfe, euen our Father, and our Lord Iesus Christ, guide our iour-ney vnto you,

12 And the Lord increase you, and make you abound in loue one toward an other, and toward all men, euen as wee doe toward you:

13 * To make your hearts stable, and un-blameable in holinesse before God euen our Father, at the remaining of our Lord Iesus Christ with all his Gnaues.

CHAP. IIIII.

1 He exhorted them to holinesse, 6 Innocence, 9 Loue, 11 Labour, 12 And moderation in lamenting for the dead, 17 Describing the end of the resurrection.

A nd furthermore wee beseech you, brethren, and exhort you in the Lord Iesus, that yee increase in loue and in ioy, as yee haue receiued of vs, how yee ought to walke, and to please God.

2 For yee knowe what I commaundements wee gaue you by the Lord Iesus.

3 * For this is the will of God vpon your sanctification, and that yee should abstaine from fornication,

4 That eery one of you should knowe, how to possesse his vessel in holinesse and honour,

5 And not in the lust of concupiscence, euen as the Gentiles which knowe not God:

6 * That no man oppresse or defraude his brother in any matter: for the Lord is anenger of all such things, as wee also haue tolde you before time, and testified.

7 * For God hath not called vs vnto un-cleannesse, but vnto holinesse.

8 Therefore that despitely these things, despitely not man, but God who hath euen giuen * you his holy Spirit.

9 But as touching brotherly loue, yee neede not that I write vnto you: * for yee are taught of God to loue one another.

10 Pea, and that thing verily yee doe vnto all the brethren, which are throughout all Bacedonia: but wee beseech you brethren that yee increase more and more,

11 * And that yee studie to bee quiet, and to meddle with your owne business, and to worke with your owne hands, as we commanded you,

12 That yee may behaue your selues honestly toward them that are without you, and that nothing be lacking vnto you.

13 I would not brethren, haue you ignorant concerning them which are sleepe, that yee sorrowe not, euen as other which haue no hope.

14 For if wee beleeue that Iesus is dead, and is risen, euen so them which sleepe in Iesus, will God bringe with him.

15 For this say we vnto you by the word of the Lord, * that we which liue, and are remaining in the comming of the Lord, shall not prevent them which sleepe.

16 For the Lord himselfe shall descend from heauen with a shout, and with the voice of the Archangell, * and with the trumpet of God: and the dead in Christ shall rise first.

CHAPTER V.

1 Hee enformeth them of the day of iudgement and coming of the Lord, 6 Exhorting them to watch, 12 And to regard such as preach Gods word among them.

1 Of the 2 times and seasons, brethren, ye haue no neede that I write vnto you.

2 For ye your selues knowe perfectly, that the * day of the Lord shall come, euen as a thiefe in the night.

3 For when they shall say, Peace, & safetie, then shall come vpon them sudden destruction, as the 2 trauaile vpon a woman with child, and they shall not escape.

4 But ye, brethren, are not in darkenes, that that day should come on you, as it were a thiefe.

5 Ye are all the children of light, and the children of the day: we are not of the night, neither of darkenesse.

6 Therefore let vs not sleepe as doe oth- er, but let vs 2 watch and be sober.

7 For they that sleepe, sleepe in the night, and they that be drunken, are drunken in the night.

8 But let vs which are of the 2 day, be sober, * putting on the breastplate of faith and loue, 7 the hope of saluation for an helme.

9 For God hath not appointed vs vnto wrath, but to obtayne saluation by the meanes of our Lord Iesus Christ.

10 Which died for vs, that whether we wake or 2 sleepe, wee should liue together with him.

11 Therefore exhort one another, and e- disse one another, euen as ye doe.

12 Now we beseech you, brethren, that ye knowe them, which labour among you, and are our you in the Lorde, and 2 as imo- nish you, 13 That ye haue them in singular loue for 2 their workes sake. Be at peace among your selues.

14 Alce desire you brethren, admonish them that are vnruly: comfort the feeble minded: beare with the weakke: be patient toward all men.

15 * See that none recompense euill for euill vnto any man: but euer follow that which is good, both toward your selues, and toward all men.

16 2 Reioyce iustwarly.

17 2 Pray continually.

18 In all things giue thanks: for this is the will of God in Christ Iesus toward you.

19 Quench not the 2 Spirit.

20 Despise not 2 prophesying.

21 Esteem all things, and keepe that which is good.

22 Absteyne from all appearance of euill.

23 Now the very God * of peace sanctifie you throughout: and I pray God that your 2 whole spirit and soule and body, may be kept blamelesse vnto the coming of our Lord Iesus Christ.

24 * Faithfull is hee which calleth you, which will also doe it.

25 Brethren, pray for vs.

26 Greete all the brethren with an holy kisse.

27 I charge you in the Lord, that this Epistle bee read vnto all the brethren the 2 Saints.

The second Epistle of Paul to the Thessalonians.

THE ARGUMENT.

1 East the Thessalonians should thinke that Paul neglected them, because hee went to other places rather then came to them, he writeth vnto them, and exhorteth them to patience and other fruits of faith, neither to be moued with that vaine opinion of such as taught that the coming of Christ was at hand, forasmuch as before that day there should bee a falling away from true religion, euen by a great part of the world, and that Antichrist should reigne in the Temple of God: finally commending himselfe to their prayers, and encouraging them to constancie, he willett them to correct such sharply, as liue idly of other mens labours, whom, if they do not obey his admonitions, he commaundeth to excommunicate.

CHAPTER I.

3 Hee thanketh God for their faith, loue & patience. 11 He prayeth for the increase of the same, 12 And sheweth what fruit shall come thereof.

1 Paul and Siluanus, and Timo- thens vnto the Church of the Thessalonians, which is in God our Father, and in the Lord Ie- sus Christ.

2 Grace bee with you, and peace from God our Father, and from the Lord Iesus Christ.

3 * Wee ought to thanke God alwayes for you brethren, as it is meete, because that your faith groweth exceedingly, and the loue of euery one of you toward another a- boundeth.

<sup>a</sup> Which proceed of your faith as a most notable fruit. <sup>b</sup> The faithful by their afflictions see as in a cleere glasse, the end of Gods iudgement, when as they shall reigne with Christ which haue suffered with him, and the wicked shall see his extreme wrath and vengeance. Iude 6.

4 So that wee our selues reioyce of you in the Churches of God, because of your patience, and faith in all your persecutions and tribulations that ye suffer.

5 Which is a token of the righteous iudgement of God, that yee may be counted worthy of the kingdome of God, for the which ye also suffer.

6 For it is a righteous thing with God, to recompense tribulation to them that trouble you.

7 And to you which are troubled, rest with vs * when the Lord Iesus shall shewe himselfe from heauen with his mighty Angels,

8 In flaming fire, reuinding vengeance vnto them that doe not know God, & which obey not vnto the Gospell of our Lorde Iesus Christ,

9 Which shall be punished with euerlasting perdition, from the presence of the Lord, and from the glory of his power,

10 When he shall come to be glorified in his Saints, and to be made maruclous in all them that beleue (because our testimonie toward you was beleued) in that day.

11 Therefore, we also pray alwayes for you, that our God may make you worthy of his calling, and fulfill all the good pleasure of his goodnesse, and the worke of faith with his power, 12 That the Name of our Lorde Iesus Christ may be glorified in you, and yee in him, according to the grace of our God, and of the Lord Iesus Christ.

CHAP. II.

3 He sheweth them that the day of the Lord shall not come, till the departing from the faith come first,

N<sup>ow</sup>, wee beseech you brethren, by the N<sup>aming</sup> of our Lord Iesus Christ, and by our assembling vnto him,

2 That ye be not suddenly moued from your minde, nor troubled, neither by spirit, nor by word, nor by letter, as it were from vs, as though the day of Christ were at hand.

3 Let no man deceiue you by any meanes: for that day shall not come, except there come a departing first, and that that man of sinne be disclosed, euen the sonne of perdition.

11 And therefore God shall send them strong delusion, that they should beleue lies,

¶ The first Epistle of Paul to Timotheus.

THE ARGUMENT.

IN writing this Epistle, Paul seemed not onely to haue respect to teach Timotheus, but chiefly to keepe other in awe, which would haue rebelled against him, because of his youth. And therefore he doth arme him against those ambitious questionists, which vnder pretence of zeale to the Law, disquieted the godly with foolish and vnprofitable questions, whereby they declared, that professing the Law, they knew not what was the chiefe end of the Law. And as for himselfe, hee so confesseth his vnworthinesse, that he sheweth to what worthinesse the grace of God hath preferred him: and therefore he willeth prayers to be made for all degrees and sorts of men, because that God by offering his Gospel and Christ his sonne to them all, is indifferent to euery sort of men, as his Apostleship, which is peculiar to the Gentiles, witnesseth. And forasmuch as God hath left ministers as ordinary meanes in his Church to bring men to saluation, he describeth what manner of men they ought to be, to whom the mystery of the Sonne of God manifested in flesh is committed to be preached. After this he sheweth him what troubles the Church at all times shall sustaine, but specially in the latter dayes, when as vnder pretence of religion, men shal teach things contrary to the word of God. This done, he teacheth what widowes should be receiued or refused to minister to the sicke: also what Elders ought to be chosen into office, exhorting him neither to be hastie in admitting nor in iudging any: also what is the dutie of seruants, the nature of false teachers, of vaine speculations, of couctoulnesse, of rich men, and aboue all things he charge:h him to beware of false doctrine,

CHAP. I.

3 Hee exhorteth Timotheus to waite vpon his office, namely to see that nothing be taught but Gods word, &c. 5 Declaring that faith, with a good conscience, charitie, and edification are the end thereof, 20 And admonisheth of Hymeneus and Alexander.

PALL an Apostle of Iesus Christ, by the commandement of God our Sauiour, and of our Lord Iesus Christ * our hope,

2 * Anto Timotheus my naturall sonne in the faith: Grace, mercie, and peace from God our Father, and from Christ Iesus our Lord.

3 As I besought thee to abide still in Ephesus, when I departed into Macedonia, so doe, that thou mayest command some that they teach none other doctrine.

4 Neither that they giue heede to * fables and genealogies, * which are endless, which beede questions rather then godly edifying which is by faith.

5 For * the b ende of the commandement is loue out of a pure heart, and of a good conscience, and of faith vnkifted.

6 From the which things some haue erred, and haue turned vnto vaine tangling.

7 They would be Doctors of the Law, and yet vnderstand not what they speake, neither whereof they affirme.

8 * And we know that the Law is good, if a man vse it lawfully.

9 Knowing this, that the Lawe is not giuen vnto a righteous man, but vnto the lawlesse and disobedient, to the vngodly, and to <sup>d</sup> sinners, to the vnholy, and to the prophane, to murderers of fathers and mothers, to manslayers,

Rom. 13. 10.
 b Because these questionists preferred their curious fables to al other knowledge, and beautified them with the Law, as if they had bene the very Law of God, S. Paul sheweth that the end of Gods Law is loue, which cannot be without a good conscience, neither a good conscience without faith, nor faith without the word of God: so their doctrine which is an occasion of contention is worth nothing. ¶ Or, of the Law. 15 This is a true saying, & by all means worthy to be receiued, that * Christ Iesus came into the world to saue sinners, of whom I am chiefe.

16 Notwithstanding for this cause was I receiued to mercede, that Iesus Christ should first shewe on mee all long suffering vnto the example of them, which shall in time to come beleue in him vnto eternal life.

This is a true saying, * If any man * desire the office of a Bishop, he desireth a worthy worke.

2 A Bishop therefore must be vntreponeable, the husband of * one wife, watching, sober, modest, harberous, apt to teach,

5 For if any cannot rule his owne house, how shall he care for the Church of God?

6 He may not be a yong scholler, lest he being puffed vp by fall into the * condemnation of the deuil.

The second Epistle of Paul to Timotheus

THE ARGUMENT.

The Apostle being now ready to confirme that doctrine with his blood, which hee had professed and taught, encourageth Timotheus (and in him all the faithfull) in the faith of the Gospel, and in the constant and sincere confession of the same: willing him not to shrinke for feare of afflictions, but patiently to attend the issue as doe husband men, which at length receiue the fruits of their labours, and to cast off all feare and care, as souldiers doe which seeke onely to please their captaine: shewing him briefly the summe of the Gospell, which hee preached, commanding him to preach the same to others, diligently taking heede of contentions, curious disputations, and vaine questions, to the intent that his doctrine may altogether edifie. Considering that the examples of Hymeneus and Philetus, which subuerted the true doctrine of the resurrection, were fo horrible: and yet to the intent that no man should bee offended at their fall, being men of authoritie and in estimation, hee sheweth that all that professe Christ are not his, and that the Church is subiect to this calamitie, that the euill must dwell among the good till Gods triall come: yet hee reuerent the m whom hee hath elected, euen to the end. And that Timotheus should not be discouraged by the wicked, hee declareth what abominable men, and dangerous times shall follow, willing him to arme himselfe with the hope of the good issue that God will giue vnto his, and to exercise himselfe diligently in the Scriptures both against the aduersaries, and for the vtilitie of the Church, desiring him to come to him for certaine necessarie affaires, and so with his and others salutations endeth.

C H A P. I.

6 Paul exhorteth Timotheus to stedfastnes and patience in persecution and to continue in the doctrine that he had taught him, 12 Whereof his bonds and afflictions were a gage. 16 A commendation of Onesiphorus.

And an Apostle of Iesus Christ, by v wil of God, according to the promise of life which is in Christ Iesus,

2 To Timotheus my beloved sonne: Grace, mercie and peace from God the Father, and from Iesus Christ our Lord.

3 I thanke God, whome I serue from mine elders with pure conscience, that without ceasing I haue remembrance of thee in my prayes night and day,

4 Desiring to see thee, mindfull of thy teares, that I may be filled with joy:

5 When I call to remembrance the vnsained faith that is in thee, which dwelt first in thy grandmoether Lois, and in thy mother Eunice, and am assured that it dwelleth in thee also.

6 Wherefore I put thee in remembrance that thou stirre by the gift of God which is in thee, by the putting on of mine hands.

7 For God hath not given to vs the Spirit of feare, but of power, and of loue, and of a sound mind.

8 We not therefore ashamed of the testimony of our Lord, neither of mee his prisoner: but be partaker of the afflictions of the Gospell, according to the power of God,

9 Who hath saued vs and called vs with an holy calling, not according to our works, but according to his own purpose and grace, which was given to vs through Christ Iesus before the world was,

10 But is now made manifest by the appearing of our Saviour Iesus Christ, who hath abolished death, and hath brought life and immortality vnto light through the Gospell.

11 Whereunto I am appointed a preacher, and Apostle, and a teacher of the Gentiles, 12 Whereunto I am appointed a preacher, and Apostle, and a teacher of the Gentiles, and of the people, and of the kings, and of all that are called by the name of our Lord Iesus Christ, to the obedience of faith, to the glory of the Father, and of the Sonne, and of the Holy Ghost, with the Father together, and consubstantiall with the Father, who proceedeth of the Father, and is worshipped and glorified with the Father, and he that speaketh by him, is the voice of him, who is sent forth by him, who is the true light, which lighteth every man that cometh into the world, who was the true light, which lighteth every man that cometh into the world, who was the true light, which lighteth every man that cometh into the world.

12 For the which cause I also suffer these things, but I am not ashamed: for I know whom I haue beleueed, and I am persuaded that hee is able to keepe that which I haue committed to him against that day.

13 Keepe the true paterne of the whole some words, which thou hast heard of me in faith and loue which is in Christ Iesus.

14 That worthy thing, which was committed to thee, keep through the holy Ghost, which dwelleth in vs.

15 This thou knowest, that all they which are in Asia, be turned from mee: of which sort are Phygellus and Hermogenes.

16 The Lord giue mercy vnto the house of Onesiphorus: for he ofte refreshed me, and was not ashamed of my chaine.

17 But when he was at Rome, he sought me out very diligently, and found me.

18 The Lord grant vnto him that he may finde mercy with the Lord at that day, and in how many things hee hath ministered vnto me at Ephesus, thou knowest very well.

C H A P. II.

2 He exhorteth him to be constant in trouble, to suffer manly, and to abide fast in the wholesome doctrine of our Lord Iesus Christ, 11 shewing him the fidelitie of Gods counsell touching the saluation of his, 19 and the markes thereof.

Thou therefore my sonne, be strong in the grace that is in Christ Iesus.

2 And what things thou hast heard of mee, by many witnesses, the same deliuer to faithfull men, which shall be able to teach other also.

3 Thou therefore suffer affliction as a good souldier of Iesus Christ.

4 No man that warreth entangleth himselfe with the affaires of this life, because he would please him that hath chosen him to be a souldier.

5 And if any man also strive for a mastership, he is not crowned, except he strive as he ought to doe.

6 The husbandman must labour before he receiue the fruits.

7 Consider what I say: and the Lord giue thee vnderstanding in all things.

8 Remember that Iesus Christ, made of the seed of Dauid, was raised againe from the dead according to my Gospell:

9 Wherein I suffer trouble as an exile doer, euen vnto bonds: but the word of God is not bound.

10 Therefore.

10 Therefore I suffer all things, for the elects sake, that they might also obtaine the saluation which is in Christ Iesus, with eternall glorie.

11 It is a true saying, For if we be dead with him, we also shall liue with him.

12 If we suffer, we shall also reigne with him: if we denie him, he also will denie vs.

13 If we be beleene not, yet abideth hee faithfully: he cannot denie himselfe.

14 Of these things put them in remembrance, and protest before the Lord, that they stroue not about wordes, which is to no profit, but to the peruerting of the hearers.

15 Studie to shewe thy selfe approoued vnto God, a workeman that needeth not to be ashamed, & vinding the worde of truely aright.

19 But the foundation of God remaineth sure, and hath this seal, e The Lord knoweth who are his, and Let euerie one that calleth on the Name of Christ, depart from iniquitie.

20 Notwithstanding in a great house are not only vessels of gold and of silver, but also of wood and of earth, and some for honour, and some vnto dishonour.

21 If any man therefore purge himselfe from this, hee shall be a vessel vnto honour, sanctified and meet for the Lord, and prepared vnto euerie good worke.

22 Flee also from the lusts of youth, and follow after righteousnesse, faith, loue, and peace, with them that call on the Lord with pure heart.

23 And put away foolishly, and vnlearned questions, knowing that they ingender strife.

24 But the seruant of the Lord must not strine, but must be gentle toward all men, apt to teach, suffering the euill men patiently,

25 Instructing them with meekenesse that are contrary minded, prouing if God at any time will giue them repentance, that they may know the truth, 26 And that they may come to amendment out of the snare of the deuil, which are taken of him at his will.

CHAP. III.

1 He propheseth of the perillous times, 2 Setteth out hypocrites in their colours, 3 Sheweth the state of the Christians, 4 And how to auoid dangers, 5 Also what profite cometh of the Scriptures.

Thy know also, that in the last dayes shall come perillous times.

2 For men shall be louers of their owne selves, conuerous, boasters, proud, bunked speakers, disobedient to parents, vnthankfull, vnholly,

3 Without naturall affection, trucebroke, false accusers, intemperate, fierce, despisers of them which are good,

4 Traitors, headie, hee minded, louers of pleasures moze then louers of God,

5 Having a shew of godlinesse, but haue denied the power thereof: turne away therefore from such.

6 For of this sort are they which creepe into houses, and lead captiue simple women laden with sinnes, and ledde with diuers lustes,

7 Which women are euer learning, and are neuer able to come to the knowledge of the truth.

8 And as James and Iambres withstood Moyses, so doe these also resist the truthy, men of corrupt mindes, reprobate concerning the faith.

9 But they shall preuaile no longer: for their madness shall be euident vnto all men, as theirs also was.

10 But thou hast fully knowne my doctrine, maner of lining, purpose, faith, long suffering, loue, patience, 11 Persecutions, and afflictions which came vnto mee at Antiochia, at Icontan and at Lystr, which persecutions I suffered: but from them all the Lord deliuered mee.

12 Pea, and all that will liue godly in Christ Iesus, shall suffer persecution.

13 But the euill men and deceiuers shall ware worse and worse, deceiuing and being deceiued.

14 But continue thou in the things which thou hast learned, and art perswaded thereof, knowing of who thou hast learned them:

15 And that thou hast knowen the holy Scriptures of a child, which are able to make thee wise vnto saluation throughy the faith which is in Christ Iesus.

16 For the whole Scripture is giuen by inspiration of God, and is profitable to teach, to impropue, to correct, and to instruct in righteousnesse, 17 That the man of God may be able to teach, being made perfect vnto all good workes.

CHAP. IIII.

The second Epistle written from Rome vnto Timotheus the first Bishop elected of the Church of Ephesus, when Paul was presented the second time before the Emperour Nero.

The Epistle of Paul to Titus.

THE ARGUMENT.

When Titus was left in Creta to finish that doctrine which Paul had there begun, Sathan stirred vp certaine which went about not only to ouerthrow the government of the Church, but also to corrupt the doctrine: for some by ambition would haue thrust in themselves to be pastors: others, vnder pretext of Moses Law brought in many trifles. Against these two sorts of men Paul armeth Titus: first teaching him what manner of ministers hee ought to chuse, chiefly requiring that hee bee men of sound doctrine, to the intent they might resist the aduersaries, and among other things hee noteth the Iewes which put a certaine holinesse in meats and such outward ceremonies, teaching them which are the true exercises of a Christian life, and what things appertaine to euery mans vocation. Against the which if any man rebell or else doth not obey, he willett him to be ayded.

CHAP. I.

He aduertiseth Titus touching the government of the Church. 7 The ordinance & office of ministers. 12 The nature of the Cretians and of them which sowe abroad Iewish fables and inuentions of men.

But a servant of God, and an Apostle of Iesus Christ, according to the faith of Gods elect, and the knowledge of the truth, which is according to godlinesse,

2 Under the hope of eternall life, which God that cannot lie, hath promised before the world began:

3 But hath made his word manifest in due time through the preaching, which is committed vnto me, according to the commandment of God our Saviour:

4 To Titus my naturall sonne according to the common faith, grace, mercy and peace from God the Father, and from the Lord Iesus Christ our Saviour.

5 For this cause left I thee in Creta, that thou shouldest continue to redresse the things that remaine, and shouldest ordaine Elders in euery citie, as I appointed thee.

6 * If any be reprobable, the husband of one wife, hauing faithfull children, which are not slandered of riot, neither are disobedient.

7 For a Bishop must bee unreproachable as Gods steward, not froward, not angry, not giuen to wine, nor strake, nor giuen to filthy lucre.

8 But hardy, one that loneth goodnesse, wise, & righteous, holy, temperate,

9 Holding fast the faithfull word according to doctrine, that he also may be able to rebort with wholesome doctrine, and improve them that say against it.

10 For there are many disobedient and bayne talkers and deceymers of mindes, which

Or, minister. a That is, to preach the fayth, to increase their knowledge, to teach them to liue godly, that at length they may obayne eternall life. b Hath willingly and of his meere liberality promised without loring our faith or workes as a cause to moue him to this free mercy. i Which were not only the Iewes, but also the Hebionites and Cerinthians hereticks, which taught that the Law must be joyned with Christ. k He calleth Epimenides the Philosopher or Poet, whose verse he here reciteth, a Prophet, because the Creitians so esteemed him: and as Laertius writeth, they sacrificed vnto him, as to a God, forasmuch as he had a marueilous gift to vnderstand things to come: which thing Satan by the permission of God hath opened to the infidels from time to time, but it turneth to their greater condemnation. 1 Tim. 1. 4. chiefly they of the Circumission, 11 Ahoie mouthes must be stopped, which subuert whole houses, teaching things which they ought not, for filthy luces sake.

12 One of themselves, even one of their owne prophets sayd, The Creitians are all wayes liars, euill beasts, slowe bellies.

13 This witnesse is true: wherefore rebuke them sharply, that they may bee found in the faith.

14 And not taking heed to * Jewish fables and commandements of men, that turn from the truth.

15 Vnto the pure * are all things pure, but vnto them that are defiled, and vnbelleuing is nothing pure, but euen their mindes and consciences are defiled.

16 They professe that they know God, but by <sup>h</sup> works they deny him, and are abominable and disobedient, and vnto euery good worke reprobate.

CHAP. II.

1 He commendeth vnto him the wholesome doctrine, and telleth him how hee shall teach all degrees to behaue themselves, 11 Through the benefit of the grace of Christ.

Pur speake thou the things which become <sup>d</sup> wholesome doctrine,

2 That the elder men bee sober, honest, discret, sound in the sayth, in loue, and in patience:

3 The elder women likewise, that they be in such behaour as becommeth holinesse, not fall acusers, not giuen to much wine, but teachers of honest things,

4 That they may instruct the yong women to be sober minded, that they loue their husbands, that they loue their children,

5 That they be discret, chaste, keeping at home, good, & <sup>e</sup> subiect vnto their husbands, that the worde of God be not euill spoken of.

6 Exhort yong men likewise, that they be sober minded.

7 About all things shew thy selfe an example of good works with vncorrupt doctrine, with grauity, integritie,

8 And with the wholesome worde, which cannot be reppoued, that by which withstanding, may be ashamed, hauing nothing concerning you to speake euill of.

9 * Let seruants be subiect to their masters, and please them in all things, not answering againe, 10 Neither pikers, but that they shew all good faithfulness, that they may adorne the doctrine of God our saviour in all things.

11 * For the Grace of God, that bringeth <sup>e</sup> saluation vnto all men hath appeared,

12 And teacheth vs that we should denye vngodliness, and worldly lusts, and that we should liue soberly, and righteously, & godly in this present world,

13 Looking for the blessed hope, and appearling of the glory of the mighty God, and of our saviour Iesus Christ, 14 <sup>d</sup> Who gaue himselfe for vs, that hee might redeeme vs from all iniquitie, and purge vs to be a <sup>d</sup> peculiar people vnto himselfe, zealous of good works.

15 <sup>e</sup> These things speake, and exhort, and rebuke with all <sup>e</sup> authoritie. See that no man despise thee.

CHAP. III.

1 Of obedience to such as be in authority. 9 He warneth Titus to beware of foolish and vprofitable questions, 12 Concluding with certayne private matters, 15 And salutations.

Put them in remembrance that they* be <sup>d</sup> subiect to the principalities and powers, and that they be obedient and ready to euery good worke,

2 That they speake euill of no man, that they be no fighters, but soft, shewing all meekenesse vnto all men.

3 * <sup>b</sup> For we our selues also were in times past vniwise, disobedient, deceiued, seruing the lusts and diuers pleasures, liuing in maliciousnes and enuy, hateful, and hating one another.

4 But when the bountifullnesse and loue of God our Saviour toward man appeared,

5 <sup>c</sup> Not <sup>c</sup> by the workes of righteousnesse, which wee had done, but according to his mercie he saued vs, by the <sup>d</sup> washing of the new birth, & the renewing of the holy Ghost,

6 <sup>e</sup> Which hee shedde: on vs abundantly through Iesus Christ our Saviour,

7 That we, being iustified by his grace, should be made heires according to the hope of eternall life.

8 This is a true saying, and these things I wil thou shouldst affirme, that they which haue beleneed in God, might be carefull to shew forth good workes. These things are good and profitable vnto men.

9 * But stay foolish questions & genealogies, & contentions, & bawling about the Law: for they are vprofitable and vaine.

10 <sup>e</sup> Reiect him that is an heretike, after once or twice admonition, 11 Knowing that he that is such, is <sup>f</sup> peruerced, and <sup>f</sup> sinneth being damned of his owne selfe.

12 When I shal send Artemas vnto thee, <sup>g</sup> Tyticus, be diligent to come to me vnto Nicopolis: for I haue determined there to winter.

13 Bring Zenas <sup>h</sup> the expounder of the law, and Apollos on their tourney diligently, that they lacke nothing.

14 And let ours also learne to shew forth good workes for necessary uses, that they bee not fruitfull.

The Epistle of Paul to Philemon.

THE ARGUMENT.

Albeit the excellencie of Pauls spirit wonderfully appeareth in other his Epistles, yet this Epistle is a great witness and a declaration of the same. For farre passing the basenesse of his matter be such as it were vp to heauen, and speaketh with a desire grace and mercie. Onesimus seruant to Philemon both robbed his master, and fled away, whom Paul hauing wonne to Christ, sent againe to his master, earnestly begging his pardon, with most weighty arguments prouing the dutie of one Christian to another, and so with salutations endeth.

4 He reioyceth to heare of the faith and loue of Philemon, 9 whom he desireth to forgive his seruant Onesimus, & louingly to receiue him againe.

P A A prisoner of Iesus Christ, & our brother Timotheus, vnto Philemon our deare friend & fellow helper, 2 And to our deare sister Apphia, and to Archippus our fellow souldier, and to the Church that is in thine house:

3 Grace bee with you, and peace from God our Father, and from the Lord Iesus Christ.

4 I * gine thanks to my God, making mention alwayes of thee in my prayers.

5 (When I heare of thy loue and faith, which thou hast toward the Lord Iesus, and toward all Saints)

6 That the fellowship of thy faith may be made fruitfull, and that whatsoever good thing is in you through Christ Iesus, may be knowne.

7 For wee haue great ioy and consolation in thy loue, because by thee, brother, the Saints hearts are comforted.

8 Wherefore, though I be very bold in Christ to command thee that which is convenient, 9 Yet for loues sake I rather beseech thee, though I be as I am, euen Paul aged, and euen now a prisoner for Iesus Christ.

10 I beseech thee for my sonne * Onesimus, whom I haue begotten in my bonds,

11 Which in time past was to thee unprofitable, but now profitable both to thee and to me,

12 Whom I haue sent againe: thou therefore receiue him, that is, mine owne bowels, 13 Whom I would haue retained with me, that in thy stead he might haue ministered vnto me in the bonds of the Gospel.

14 But without thy minde would I doe nothing, that thy benefit should not be as it were of necessitie, but willingly.

15 It may be that he therefore departed for a season, that thou shouldst receiue him for euer, 16 Not now as a seruant, but as one a seruant, euen as a brother beloued, specially to me: how much more then vnto thee, both in the flesh, and in the Lord?

17 If therefore thou count our things common, receiue him as my selfe.

18 If hee hath hurt thee, or oweth thee ought, that put on mine accounts.

19 I Paul haue written this with mine owne hand: I will recompense it, albeit I doe not say to thee, that thou owest vnto me euen thine owne selfe.

20 Pea, brother, let me obtaine this pleasure of thee in the Lord: comfort my bowels in the Lord.

21 Trusting in thine obedience, I wrote vnto thee, knowing that thou wilt doe euen more then I say.

22 Wherefore also prepare mee lodging: for I trust through your prayers I shall be giuen vnto you.

23 Here salute thee Epaphras my fellow prisoner in Christ Iesus, 24 Marcus, Aristarchus, Demas, and Luke my fellow helpers.

25 The grace of our Lord Iesus Christ be with your spirit, Amen.

The Epistle to the Hebrewes.

THE ARGUMENT.

Forasmuch as diuers, both of the Greeke writers and Latines witnesseth, that the writer of this Epistle for iust causes would not haue his name knowne, it were curiositie of our part to labour much therein. For seeing the Spirit of God is the author thereof, it diminisheth nothing the authoritie although wee know not with what pen hee wrote it. Whether it were Paul (as it is not like) or Luke, or Barnabas, or Clement, or some other, his chiefe purpose is to persuade vnto the Hebrewes (whereby he principally meaneth them that abode at Ierusalem, and vnder them all the rest of the Iewes) that Christ Iesus was not onely the redeemer, but also that at his conuincing all ceremonies must haue an ende: forasmuch as his doctrine was the conclusion of all the Propheties; and therefore not onely Moses was inferior to him, but also the Angels: for they all were seruants, and he the Lord, but so Lord, that he hath also taken our flesh, and is made our brother to assure vs of our saluation through himselfe, for he is that eternall Priest, whereof all the Leviticall Priests were but shadowes, and therefore at his conuincing they ought to cease, and all sacrifices for sinne to be abolished, as he proueth from the 7. Chap. vers. 11. vnto the 11. Chap. vers. 18. Also he was that Prophet of whom all the Prophetes in time past witnessed, as is declared from the 12. Chap. vers. 18. to the twentie and five verse of the same Chapter: yea, and is the king to whom all things are subiect, as appeareth from that vers. 25. to the beginning of the last Chapter. Wherefore according to the examples of the old fathers, we must constantly stantly beleue in him, that being sanctified by his iustice, taught by his wisdom, and governed by his power, we may steadfastly and courageously perseuere euen to the end, in hope of that ioy that is set before our eyes, occupying our selues in Christian exercises, that we may both be thankfull to God, and due will to our neighbour.

C H A P. I.

1 He sheweth the excellencie of Christ 4 aboue the Angels, 7 and of their office.

A sundry times and in diuers manners God spake in the old time to our Fathers by the Prophets:

2 In these last dayes hee hath spoken vnto vs by his Sonne, whom hee hath made heires of all things, & by whom also he made the worldes,

3 Who being the brightnesse of the glory, and the ingraued forme of his person, and beaung by all things by his mightie word, hath by himselfe purged our finnes, and sitteth at the right and of the maiestie, in the highest places,

4 And is made so much more excellent then the Angels, inasmuch as he hath obtained a more excellent name then they.

5 For vnto which of the Angels said he at any time, Thou art my Sonne, & this day begate I thee? and againe, I will be his father, and he shall be my Sonne?

6 And againe when hee bringeth in his first begotten Sonne into the world, hee sayth, And let all the Angels of God worship him.

7 And of the Angels hee sayth, Hee maketh the Spirits his messengers, and his ministers a flame of fire.

8 But vnto the Sonne hee saith, O God, thy throne is for euer and euer: the scepter of thy kingdome is a scepter of righteousness.

9 Thou hast loued righteousness, and hated iniquitie. Wherefore God, euen thy God, hath anointed thee with the oyle of gladnesse aboue thy fellows.

10 And, Thou, Lord, in the beginning hast established the earth, and the heauens are the workes of thine hands.

11 They shall perish, but thou doest remaine: and they all shall waxe else as doth a garment.

12 And as a vesture shalt thou folde them by, and they shall be changed: but thou art the same, and thy yeeres shall not faile.

13 Unto which also of the Angels sayde hee at any time, Sit at my right hand, till I make thine enemies thy footstoole?

14 Are they not all ministering spirits, sent forth to minister, for their sakes which shall be heires of saluation?

C H A P. II.

1 He exhorteth vs to be obedient vnto the new Law which Christ hath giuen vs, 9 And not to be offended at the infirmite and lowe degree of Christ, 10 Because it was necessary that for our sakes hee should take such an humble state vpon him, that he might be like vnto his brethren.

Wherefore we ought diligently to giue heed to the things which wee haue heard, lest at any time we should let them slippe.

2 For if the worde spoken by Angels was steadfast, and euery transgression, and disobedience receiued a iust recompence of reward.

3 How shall wee escape, if we neglect so great saluation, which at the first beganne to be preached by the Lorde, and after ward was confirmed vnto vs by them that heard him,

4 God bearing witness thereto, both with signes and wonders, and with diuers miracles and gifts of the holy Ghost, according to his owne will?

5 For he hath not put in subiection vnto the Angels the world to come, wherof we speake.

6 But one in a certaine place witnessed, saying, What is man, that thou shouldst be mindful of him! for the sonne of man that thou wouldst consider him!

7 Thou madest him a little inferior to the Angels: thou crownedst him with glory and honour, and hast set him aboute the workes of thine hands.

8 Thou hast put all things in subiection vnder his feete. And in that he hath put all things in subiection vnder him, hee left nothing that should not be subiect vnto him.

9 But we see Iesus crowned with glory and honour, which was made a little inferior to the Angels, though the suffering of death, that by Gods grace he might taste death for all men.

10 For it became him, for whom are all things, and by whom are all things, seeing that hee brought many children vnto glory, that hee should conserate the Prince of their saluation though afflictions.

11 For hee that sanctifieth, and they which are sanctified, are all of one: wherefore hee is not ashamed to call them brethren, 12 Saying, I will declare thy Name vnto my brethren: in the middes of the Church will I sing psayles to thee.

13 And againe, * I will put my trust in him. And againe, * Behold, here am I, and the children, which God hath giuen mee.

14 Forasmuch then as the children were partakers of flesh and blood, hee also humbly likewise tooke part with them, that hee might destroy * through death, him that had the power of death, that is the death.

15 And that hee might deliuer all them, which for feare of death were all their life time subiect to bondage.

16 For hee in no sort tooke the Angels, but hee tooke the seede of Abraham.

17 Wherefore vnto all things it became him to be made like vnto his brethren, that hee might be mercifull, and a faithfull high Priest in things concerning God, that hee might make reconciliation for the iniquities of the people.

18 For in that hee suffered, and was tempted, hee is able to succour them that are tempted.

CHAP. III.

1 Hee requireth them to be obedient vnto the word of Christ, 3 Who is more wortie then Moses. 12 The punishment of such as will harden their hearts, and not beleeeue, that they might haue eternall life.

¶ Herefore, holy brethren, partakers of the heavenly vocation, consider the Apostle and high Priest of our profession, Christ Iesus:

1 Who was faithfull to him that hath appointed him, euen as * Moses was in all his house.

2 For this man is counted worthe of more glorie then Moses, in as much as hee which hath builded the house, hath more honour then the house.

3 For this man is builded of some man, and hee that hath builded all things, is * God.

4 Now Moses verily was faithfull in all his house, as a seruant, for a witness of the things which should be spoken after.

5 But Christ is as the Sonne, euer his owne house, whose house we are, if we hold fast the confidence, and the reioycing of the hope vnto the end.

6 Wherefore, as the holy Ghost saith, * To day if yee shall heare his voice, 7 Harden not your hearts, as in thee pronocation, according to the day of the temptation in the wilderness.

8 Where your fathers tempted me, prouoked mee, and saw my workes fourtie yeeres long.

9 Wherefore I was grieved with that generation, and sayde, They erre euer in their heart, neither haue they knowen my wayes.

10 Therefore I sware in my wrath, * If I had only a people, as I had of old, they should not enter into my rest. ¶ For in obeying the Sonne, wee are made the house of God. Psal. 95. 7. 8 chap. 4. 7. g As when yee prouoked Gods anger in Massa and Meriba, Exod. 17. 7. h Meaning by his oath, that they should not enter.

they shall enter into my rest.

12 Take heede, brethren, lest at any time there bee in any of you an euill heart, and vnbefittfull, to depart away from the liuing God.

13 But exhort one another daily, while it is called * To day, least any of you bee hardened through the deceitfulness of sinne.

14 For we are made partakers of Christ, if we keepe sure vnto the end of the beginning, whereunto we are apprehended, 15 So long as it is said, To day if yee heare his voice, harden not your hearts, as in thee pronocation.

16 For some when they heard, prouoked him to anger: howbeit, not all that came out of Egypt by Moses.

17 But with whom was hee displeased fourtie yeeres? was hee not displeas'd with them that sinned, * whole * karkites fell in the wilderness?

18 And to whome sware hee that they should not enter into his rest, but vnto them that obeyed not?

19 So wee see that they could not enter in, because of vnbelleefe.

CHAP. IIIII.

2 The word without faith is unprofitable. 3 The Sabbath or rest of the Christians. 6 Punishment of vnbelleeuers. 12 The nature of the word of God.

¶ Let vs feare therefore, lest at any time by forsaking the promise of entering into his rest, any of you should seeme to bee departed.

2 For vnto vs was the Gospel preached as also vnto them: but the word that they heard, profited not them, because it was not mixed with faith in those that heard it.

3 For we which haue beleueed, doe enter into rest, as hee said to the other, * As I haue sware in my wrath, I will they shall enter into my rest: although * the workes were finished from the foundation of the world.

4 For hee spake in a certaine place of the seventh day on this wise, * And God did rest the seventh day from all his workes.

5 And in this place againe, If they shall enter into my rest.

6 Seeing therefore it remaineth that some must enter the into, and they to whom it was first preached, entered not therein for vnbelleifes sake:

7 Againe hee appointed in * David a certaine day by To day, after so long a tyme, saying, as it is said, * This day if yee heare his voice, harden not your hearts.

8 For if * Iesus had giuen them rest, then would hee not after this day haue spoken of another.

9 Where remaineth therefore a rest to the people of God.

13 For hee that is entered into his rest, hath also ceas'd from his owne workes, signifieth our heavenly rest. Gene. 2. 2. Mat. 11. 14. d That is, in the Psalmes. Chap. 3. 7. e Meaning, Iosua. f Hath cast off his appetites, mortified his flesh, enou. e. d himselfe, and followed God.

12 For the word of God is lively, and mightie in operation, and sharper then any two edged sword, and e entereth through, e- uen vnto the diuiding asunder of the soule and the spirit, and of the ioyntes, and the marrow, and is a discerner of the thonghes, and of the intents of the heart.

14 Seeing then that wee haue a great hie Priest, which is entred into heauen, euen Iesus the Sonne of God, let vs hold fast our profession.

15 For we haue not an hie Priest, which cannot bee touched with the feeling of our infirmitie, but was in all things tempted in like sort, yet without siane.

16 Let vs therefore goe boldly vnto the throne of grace, that we may receive mercy, and finde grace to helpe in time of neede.

knowing thereby that God soundeth our hearts.

CHAP. V.

¶ Hee comparateth Iesus Christ with the Leuiti- call Priests: shewing wherein they either agree, or dissent. 11 Afterward hee reproveth the negli- gence of the Iewes.

¶ Every high Priest is taken from a- mong men, and is ordeined for men, in things pertaining to God, that hee may offer both giftes, and sacrifices for sinnes,

1 Which is able sufficiently to haue com- passion on them that are ignorant, and that are out of the way, because that hee also is compassed with infirmitie,

2 And for the sames sake hee is bound to offer for sinnes, as well for his owne part, as for the peoples.

3 And no man taketh this honour vnto himselfe, but hee that is called of God, as was Aaron.

4 So likewise Christ tooke not to him- selfe this honour, to be made the hie Priest, but hee that laid vnto him, * Thou art my soune, this day begate I thee, &c. in him.

5 As hee also in another place speaketh, * Thou art a Priest for euer after the order of Melchi sedec.

6 And hee also in another place speaketh, * Thou art a Priest for euer after the order of Melchi sedec.

7 Which in the dayes of his flesh did offer by prayers and supplications, with a strong crying and teares vnto him, that was able to laue him from death, and was also heard in that which hee feared.

8 And though hee were the Sonne, yet learned hee obedience, by the things which hee suffered,

9 And being consecrate, was made the author of eternal saluation vnto all them that obey him:

10 And is called of God an hie Priest after the order of Melchi sedec.

11 Of whom wee haue many things to say, which are hard to bee believed, because yee are dull of hearing.

12 For when as concerning the time yee ought to bee teachers, yet haue yee neede a- gaine that wee teach you the first || princ- iples of the word of God: and are become such as haue neede of milke, and not of strong meate.

13 For euery one that useth milke, is in- expert in the word of righteousnesse: for hee is a babe.

14 But strong meate belongeth to them that are of age, which though long custome haue their wittes exercised, to discerne both good and euill.

CHAP. VI.

¶ Hee proceedeth in reproving them, & exhorteth them not to faint, 12 But to be steadfast & patient, 18 Forasmuch as God is sure in his promise.

¶ Therefore leauing the doctrine of the beginning of Christ, let vs bee led for- ward vnto perfection, not laying againe the foundation of repentance from dead workes, and of faith toward God,

2 Of the doctrine of baptisment, and lay- ing on of hands, and of the resurrection from the dead, and of eternal iudgement.

3 And this will we doe if God permit.

4 For it is impossible that they, which were once lightened, and haue tasted of the heauenly gift, and were made partakers of the holy Ghost,

5 And haue tasted of the good word of God, and of the powers of the world to come

6 If they fall away, should bee renewed againe by repentance: seeing theye crucifie againe to themselves the Sonne of God, and make a mocke of him.

7 For the earth which drinketh in the same that cometh out vpon it, and bringeth forth herbes meete for them by whom it is dressed, receiveth blessing of God.

8 But that which beareth thornes and briers, is repproued, and is nere vnto cur- ling, whose end is to be burned.

9 But beloued, wee haue perswaded our selves better things of you, and such as ac- companye saluation, though we thus speake.

10 For God is not vnrighteous, that hee should forget your workes, and labour of loue, which yee shewed toward his name, in that ye haue ministered vnto the Saints, and yet miniter.

11 And wee desire that euery one of you shew the same diligence, to the full accom- plishment of hope vnto the end, 12 That yee be not slothfull, but follow- ers of them, which through faith and pati- ence, inherite the promises.

13 For when God made the promise to Abraham, because hee had no greater to swear by, hee swore by himselfe, 14 Saying, * Surely I will abundantly blesse thee and multiply thee earnestly.

15 And so after that hee had taried parti- ently, hee enioyed the promise.

16 For men verely swear by him that is greater then themselves, and an oath for pent. ¶ Whereby it may appeare, that you are fully perswaded of life everlasting. ¶ As the holy fathers Prophets, and Martyrs, that were before vs. Gene. 12. 2. and 17. 4. and 22. 17.

confirmation is among them an ende of all strife.

17 So God willing more abundantly to shewe vnto the heires of promise the stablesnes of his counsel, bound him selfe by an oath, 18 That by two immutable things, wherein it is impossible that God should lie, we might haue strong consolation, which haue our refuge to hold fast the hope that is set before vs.

19 Which wee haue, as an ancre of the soule, both sure and stedfast, and it is entred into that which is within the vaile, 20 Whither the forerunner is for vs entred in, euen Iesus that is made an high Priest for euer after the order of Melchisedec.

CHAP. VII.

1 He compareth the Priesthood of Christ vnto Melchisedec. 11 Also Christs Priesthood with the Leuites.

For this Melchisedec * was King of Salem, the Priest of the most high God, who met Abraham, as hee returned from the slaughter of the Kings, and blessed him:

2 To whome also Abraham gaue the tithes of all things, who first is by interpretation King of righteounesse: after that, hee is also King of Salem, that is, King of peace,

3 Without father, without mother, without kindred, and hath neither beginning of his dayes, neither ende of life: but is likened vnto the Sonne of God, and continueth a Priest for euer.

4 Now consider howe great this man was vnto whom euen the Patriarch Abraham gaue the tithes of the Spoiles.

5 For verily they which are the children of Leui, which receiue the office of the Priesthood, haue a * commandment to take according to the law, tithes of the people (that is, of their brethren) though they came out of the loynes of Abraham.

6 But hee whole kindred is not counted among them, e receiued tithes of Abraham, and blessed him that had the promises.

7 And without all contradiction, ife lesse is blessed of the greater.

8 And here men that die, receiue tithes: but they receiue of them, of whom it is witnessed, that hee liueth.

9 And to say as the thing is, Leui also which receiueth tithes, payed tithes in Abraham.

10 For hee was yet in the loynes of his father Abraham, when Melchisedec mette him.

11 If therefore perfection had bene by the Priesthood of the Leuites (for vnder it the Lawe was established to use people) what needed it furthermore, that another Priest should rise after the order of Melchisedec, and not to be called after the order of Aaron?

12 For if the Priesthood bee changed, then of necessity must there bee a change of the Law.

13 For hee of whom these things are spoken, perteineth vnto another rithe, wherof no man serued at the altar.

14 For it is euidēt, that our Lord sprung out of Iuda, concerning the which rithe Moses spake nothing, touching the Priesthood.

15 And it is yet a more euident thing, because that after the similitude of Melchisedec, there is tithen by another Priest.

16 Which is not made Priest after the Law of the carnall commandment, but after the power of the endlesse life.

17 For hee testifieth thus, * Thou art a Priest for euer, after the order of Melchisedec.

18 For the commandment that went afore, is disannulled, because of the weaknesse thereof, and vnpofitablenesse.

19 For the Law made nothing perfit, but the bringing in of a better hope made perfit, whereby we draw neere vnto God.

20 And so much as it is not without an oath (for these are made Priests without an oath):

21 But this, hee is made with an oath by him that said vnto him, * The Lord hath sworn, and will not repent, Thou art a Priest for euer, after the order of Melchisedec.)

22 By so much as Iesus made a suretie of a better Testament.

23 And among them many were made Priests, because they were not suffered to endure, by the reason of death, 24 But this man, because he endureth euer, hath an euerlasting Priesthood.

25 Therefore, hee is able also perfectly to saue them that come vnto God by him, seeing hee euer liueth, to make intercession for them.

26 For such an hie Priest it became vs to haue, which is holy, harmlesse, undefiled, separate from sinners, and made higher then the heauens:

27 Which needed not dayly as those hie Priests to offer by sacrifice, * first for his owne finnes, & then for the peoples: for that did hee * once, when he offered by himselfe.

28 For the Lawe maketh men high Priests, which haue infirmitie: but the word of the oath that was * since the Law, maketh the Sonne, who is consecrated for euer more.

3 For every high Priest is ordained to offer both gifts and sacrifices: wherefore it was of necessitie, that this man should haue some what also to offer.

6 But now our he Priest hath obtained a more excellent office, in as much as he is the Mediator of a better Testament, which is established vpon better promises.

7 For if that first Testament had bene faultlesse, no place should haue bene sought for the second.

8 For in rebuking them he saith, * Behold, the dayes will come, saith the Lord, when I shall make with the house of Israel, and with the house of Iuda, a new Testament:

9 Not like the Testament that I made with their fathers, in the day that Iooke them by the hand, to leade them out of the land of Egypt: for they continued not in my Testament, and I regarded them not, saith the Lord.

10 For this is the Testament that I will make with the house of Israel. After those dayes, saith the Lord, I will put my lawes in their minde, and in their heart I will write them, and I will bee their God, and they shall be my people:

11 And they shall not teach every man his neighbour, and every man his brother, saying, Know the Lord: for all shall know mee, from the least of them to the greatest of them.

12 For I will bee mercifull to their iniquities, and I will remember their finnes and their iniquities no more.

13 For that hee saith, A new Testament, he hath abrogate the olde: now that which is disannulled and waxed olde, is ready to vanish away.

14 Men shall not in the time of the Gospel be so ignorant as they were before, but shall know God much more perfectly through Christ.

CHAPTER IX.

1 How that the ceremonies and sacrifices of the Law are abolished 11 by the eternitie and perfection of Christs sacrifice.

1 Then the first Testament had also ordinances of religion, and a worldly Sanctuary.

2 For the first Tabernacle was made, wherein were the candlestick, and the table, and the shewbread, which Tabernacle is called the holy places.

3 And after the second vasse was the Tabernacle, which is called the Holiest of all,

4 Which had the golden center, and the Arke of the Testament ouerlaid round around with golde, wherein the golden potte which had Manna was, and Aarons rod that had budded, and the Tables of the Testament.

5 And once the Arke were the glorious Cherubims, shadowing the Holiest seat: of which things we wil not now speake particularly.

6 Nowe when these things were thus ordeined, the Priestes went alwayes into the first Tabernacle, and accomplished the seruice.

7 But into the second went the high Priest alone, once every yeere, not without blood which hee offered for himselfe, and for the Ignorances of the people.

8 Whereby the holy Ghost this signified, that the way into the Holiest of all was not yet opened, while as yet the first Tabernacle was standing,

9 Which was a figure for the time present, wherein were offered gifts and sacrifices that could not make holy, concerning the conscience, & him that did the seruice,

10 Which only stood in meats & drinkes, and diuers washings, and carnall rites, vntill the time of reformation.

11 But Christ being come an he Priest of good things to come, by a greater and a more perfect Tabernacle, not made with hands, that is, not of this building, 12 Neither by the blood of goates and calves: but by his owne blood entred hee in once vnto the holy place, and obtained eternall redemption for vs.

13 For if the blood of buls & of goates, and the ashes of an heifer, sprinkling them that are vnclane, sanctifieth as touching the purifying of the flesh,

14 How much more shall the blood of Christ, which through the eternal spirit offered himselfe without spot to God, purge your conscience from dead works, to serue the liuing God?

15 And for this cause is he the Mediator of the new Testament, that though death which was for the redemption of the transgressions that were in the former Testament, they which were called might receiue the promise of eternall inheritance.

16 For where a Testament is, there must bee the death of him that made the Testament.

17 For the Testament is confirmed when men are dead: for it is yet of no force as long as hee that made it, is aliue.

18 Wherefore, neither was the first ordeined without blood, but Christ the true and eternall Priest offered his owne blood, which was most holy and pure: the Leuiticall Priest offered yeerely, and therefore did onely represent the true holinesse: but Christ by one only sacrifice hath made holy for euer all them that beleue.

b That is, on the inward side of the vail, which was hid from the people.

19 For when Moses had spoken every precept to the people, according to the Law, hee tooke the blood of calves and of goats, with water and purple wooll and hyssope, and sprinkled both the booke, and all the people, 20 * Saying, This is the blood of the Testament, which God hath appointed unto you.

21 Hee coner hee sprinkled likewise the Tabernacle with blood also, and all the ministering vessels.

22 And almost all things are by the Law purged with blood, and without shedding of blood is no remission.

23 It was then necessary, that the similitudes of heavenly things should be purified with such things: but the heavenly things themselves are purified with better sacrifices than are these.

24 For Christ is not entred into the holy places which are made with hands, which are similitudes of the true Sanctuary: but is entred into very heauen, to appeare now in the light of God for vs.

25 Not that he should offer himselfe often as the hie Priest entred into the holy place euery yeere with other blood, 26 (For then must hee haue often suffered since the foundation of the world) but now in the end of the world hee hath appeared once to put away sinne, by the sacrifice of himselfe.

27 And as it is appointed vnto men that they shall once die, and after that commeth the iudgement, 28 So * Christ was once offered to take away the finnes of many, & vnto them that looke for him, shall hee appeare the second time without sinne vnto saluation.

CHAP. X.

1 The old Law had no power to cleanse away sinne, 10 but Christ did it with offering of his body once for all. 22 An exhortation to receive the goodnesse of God thankfully, with patience and steadfast faith.

¶ Of the Law hauing the shadow of good things to become, and not the very image of the things, can neuer with those sacrifices which they offer yeere by yeere continually, sanctifie the conuersers therein.

2 For would they not then haue ceased to haue been offered, because that the offerers once purged, should haue had no more conscience of finnes?

3 But in those sacrifices there is a remembrance againe of finnes euery yeere.

4 For it is impossible that the blood of buls and goats should take away finnes.

5 Wherefore when hee commeth into the world, he saith, * Sacrifice and offering thou wouldest not: but a body hast thou desired me.

6 In burnt offerings, and sinne offerings thou hast had no pleasure.

7 Then I said, Lo, I come, (In the beginning of the booke it is written of mee) that I should do thy will, O God.

8 About when he said, Sacrifice and offering, and burnt offerings, and sinne offerings thou wouldest not haue, neither hadst pleasure therein (which are offered by the Law.)

9 Then sayd hee, Lo, I come to doe thy will, O God, hee taketh away the first, that he may establish the second.

10 By the which will wee are sanctified, even by the offering of the body of Iesus Christ once made.

11 And euery Priest appeareth daily ministering, and oft times offereth one manner of offering, which can neuer take away finnes:

12 But this man after he had offered one sacrifice for finnes, * sitteth for euer at the right hand of God, 13 And from henceforth tertieth * till his enemies be made his foote stolle.

14 For with one offering hath hee consecrated for euer them that are sanctified.

15 For the holy Ghost also beareth vs record: for after that he had offered one

16 * This is the Testament that I will make vnto them, After those daies, saith the Lord, I wil put my lawes in their heart, and in their mindes I will write them, 17 And their finnes and iniquities will I remember no more.

18 Now where remission of these things is, there is no more offering for sinne.

19 Seeing therefore, brethren, that by the blood of Iesus we may be bold to enter into the holy place,

20 By the new, and living way, which he hath prepared for vs, through the wayle, that is, his flesh:

21 And seeing we haue an hie Priest, which is ouer the house of God, 22 Let vs drawe neere with a true heart in assurance of faith, sprinkled in our hearts from an euill conscience, and washed in our bodies with pure water.

23 Let vs keepe the profession of our hope without wauering (for hee is faithfull that promised.)

24 And let vs consider one another, to pronoke vnto loue, and to good workes, 25 Not forsaking the fellowship that wee haue among our selues as the manner of some is: but let vs exhort one another, and that so much the more, because ye see that the daye diabethylly neere.

26 * For if we sinne willingly after that wee haue receiued the knowledge of the truth, there remaineth no more sacrifice for finnes.

CHAP. XI.

1 What faith is, and a commendation of the same. 2 Without faith we cannot please God. 16 The stedfast beleefe of the fathers in the old time.

Now faith is the ground of things which are hoped for, and the euidence of things which are not seene.

2 For by it our Elders were wel reported of.

3 Though faith wee vnderstand that the world was obtained by the word of God, so that the things which wee see, are not made of things, which did appeare.

4 By faith Abel offered vnto God a greater sacrifice then Cain, & by the which he obtained witness that he was righteous, God restifying of his giftes : by the which faith also, he being dead, yet speaketh.

5 By faith was Enoch taken away, that he should not see death : neither was he found : for God had taken him away : for before he was taken away, he was reported of, that he had pleased God.

6 But without faith it is impossible to please him : for hee that cometh to God, must beleue that God is, and that hee is a rewarder of them that seeke him.

7 By faith Noe being warned of God of the things which were as yet not seene, moued with reuerence, prepared the Arke to the saving of his household, through the which Arke he condemned the world, & was made heire of the righteousneske which is by faith.

8 By faith Abraham, when he was called, obeyed God, to go out into a place, which he should afterward receive for inheritance, and hee went out, not knowing whether hee went.

9 By faith hee abode in the land of promise, as in a strange country, as one that dwelt in tents with Isaac and Jacob heires with him of the same promise.

10 For hee looked for a citie hauing a foundation, whose builder & maker is God.

11 Though faith Sarah also receiued strength to conceiue seed, and was deliuered of a child : when shee was past age, because shee iudged him faithfull which had promised.

12 And therefore spang there of one, euen of one which was dead, so many as the starres of the skie in multitude, and as the land of the sea scope which is innumerable.

13 All these died in faith, and receiued not the promises, but saw them in faith off, and beleued them, and receiued them thankfully, & confessed that they were strangers and pilgrims on the earth.

14 For they that say such things, declare plainly that they seeke a country.

15 And if they had been minded of that country, from whence they came out, they had leature to haue returned.

16 But now they desire a better, that is, an heauenly : wherefore God is not ashamed of them to be called their God : for hee hath prepared for them a citie.

17 By faith Abraham offered by Isaac, when he was tried, and he that had receiued the promises, offered his onely begotten Sonne.

18 (To whom it was said, In Isaac shall thy seed be called.)

19 For he considered that God was able to raise him vp euen from the dead : from whence he receiued him also after a sort.

20 By faith, Isaac blessed Jacob and Esau, concerning things to come.

21 By faith, Jacob when hee was a dying, blessed both the sonnes of Joseph, and leaning on the end of his staffe, worshipped God.

22 By faith Joseph when he died, made mention of the departing of the children of Israel, & gaue commandement of his bones.

23 By faith Moses when he was borne, was hid three moneths of his parents, because they saw hee was a proper child, neither feared they the Kings commandement.

24 By faith Moses when he was come to age, refused to be called the sonne of Pharaohs daughter,

25 And chose rather to suffer aduersitie with the people of God, then to enioy the 1 An exhortation to be patient and steadfast in trouble and aduersity, upon hope of euerslasting reward. 2 5 A commendation of the new Testament aboue the olde.

For multitude.

a As riches, cares, and such like, and so to become Christis disciples by denying our selues, and taking our crosse to follow him.

For so easily compasseth vs about. b As being our marke.

Wherefore let vs also, seeing that wee are compassed with so great a cloud of witness, cast away euery thing that presseth downe, and the sinne that hangeth so fast on: let vs runne with patience the race that is set before vs,

2 Looking vnto Iesus the author and finisher of our faith, who for the ioy that was set before him, endured the crosse, & despised the shame, and is set at the right hand of the throne of God.

3 Consider therefore him that endured such speaking against of sinners, lest yee should be wearied, and faine in your minds.

4 Yee haue not yet resisted vnto blood, steering against sinne.

5 And ye haue forgotten the consolation, which speaketh vnto you as vnto children, My sonne, despise not the chastening of the Lord, neither faint when thou art rebuked of him.

6 For whome the Lord loueth, he chasteneth: and he scourgeth euery sonne that hee receiveth.

7 If ye endure chastening, God offereth himselfe vnto you as vnto sonnes: for what sonne is it whom the father chasteneth not?

8 If therefore ye be without correction, whereof all are partakers, then are yee bastards, and not sonnes.

9 Whereof we haue had the fathers of our bodies which corrected vs, & wee gaue them euerence: should we not much rather be in subiection vnto the Father of spirits, that we might liue?

10 For they verely for a fewe daies chastened vs after their owne pleasure: but he chasteneth vs for our profit, that wee might bee partakers of his holinesse.

11 Now no chastising for the present seemeth to be ioyous, but grieuous: but afterward, it bringeth the quiet fruit of righteousness, vnto them which are thereby exercised.

12 Wherefore lift vp your hands which hang downe, and your weak knees, 13 And make straight steps vnto your feet, lest that which is halting, bee turned out of the way, but let it rather be healed.

14 Follow peace with all men, and holinesse, without the which no man shall see the Lord.

15 Take heed, that no man fall away from the grace of God: let no roote of bitterness spring vp and trouble you, lest thereby many be defiled.

16 Let there be no fornicator, or prophane person as a Cane, which for a portion of meate sold his birthright.

17 For yee knowe how that after ward also when he would haue inherited the blessing, he was rejected: for he found no place to repentance, though hee sought the blessing with teares.

18 For ye are not come vnto the mount that might bee touched, nor vnto burning fire, nor to blackenesse and darkenesse, and tempest, 19 Neither vnto the sound of a trumpet, and the voice of wordes, which they that heard it, excused themselves, that the word should not be spoken to them any more.

20 For they were not able to abide that which was commaunded, * Yea, though a beast touch the mountaine, it shall be stoned, or thrust thorow with a dart:

27 And this word, Yet once more, signifieth the remoouing of those things which are shaken, as of things which are made with hands, that the things which are not shaken, may remaine.

CHAP. XIII.

1 He exhorteth vs to loue, 2 To hospitalitie, 3 To thinke vpon such as be in aduersitie, 4 To maintaine wedlocke, 5 To auoyd concouisnes, 7 To make much of them that preach Gods word, 9 To beware of strange learning, 13 To be content to suffer rebuke with Christ, 15 To be thankefull vnto God, 17 And obedient vnto our gouernors. 2 We not forgetful to lodge strangers: for thereby some haue<sup>s</sup> receiued Angels into their houses inwards.

3 Remember them that are in bonds, as though yee were bound with them: and them that are in affliction, as if ye were also afflicted in the body.

4 * Marriage is honourable among all, and the bed undefiled: but whoremongers and adulterers God will iudge.

5 Let your conuersation be without rancour, and be content with those things that yee haue: for<sup>s</sup> he hath sayd, * I wil not faile thee, neither forsake thee:

6 So that we may boldly say, * The Lord is mine helper, neither will I feare what man can doe vnto me.

7 Remember them which haue the ouersight of you, which haue declared vnto you the word of God: whose faith follow, considering what hath bene the ende of their conuersation.

8 Iesus Christ yester day, and to day, the same also is for euer.

9 Wee not caried about with diuers and strange<sup>s</sup> doctrines: for it is a good thing that the heart be stablished with grace, and not with<sup>s</sup> meates, which haue not profited them that haue bene occupied therein.

10 Wee haue an altar, whereof they haue no authoritie to<sup>s</sup> eate, which serue in the tabernacle.

11 * For the bodies of those beasts whose blood is brought into the Holy place by the hle Priest for innes, are burnt without the campe.

12 Therefore euen Iesus, that he might sanctifie the people with his owne blood, suffered without the gate.

13 Let vs goe forth therefore out of the campe, bearing his reproch.

14 * For here haue wee no continuing citie: but we seeke one to come.

15 Let vs therefore by him offer the sacrifice of praise alwayes to God, that is, the<sup>s</sup> fruite of the lippes, which confesse his Name.

16<sup>s</sup> To do good, and to distribute, forget not: for with such sacrifices God is pleased.

17 Obey them that haue the ouersight of you, and submit your selues: for they watch for your soules, as they that must giue accounts, that they may doe it with ioy, and not with griefe: for that is vnprofitable for you.

18 Pray for vs: for wee are assured that we haue a good conscience in all things, desiring to liue honestly.

19 And I desire you somewhat the more earnestly, that yee so doe, that I may be restored to you more quickly.

20 The God of peace that brought againe from the dead our Lorde Iesus, the great<sup>s</sup> Shepheard of the sheepe, through the blood of the euerlasting Couenant, 21 Make you perfect in all good workes, to doe his will, working in you that which is pleasant in his sight, through Iesus Christ, to whome be praise for euer and euer, Amen.

22 I beseech you also, brethren, suffer the wordes of exhortation: for I haue written vnto you in few wordes.

23 Know that our brother Timotheus is deliuered, with whom (if he come shortly) I will see you.

24 Salute all them that haue the ouersight of you, and all the Saints. They of Italic salute you.

25 Grace be with you all Amen.

The * generall Epistle of Iames.

THE ARGUMENT.

IAMES the Apostle and sonne of Alphaeus wrote this Epistle to the Iewes which were conuerted to Christ, but dispersed through diuers countreyes, and therefore hee exhorteth them to patience and prayer, to embrace the true word of God, and not to be partiall, neither to boast of an idle faith, c He was, is, and shall be the foundation of the Church for euer. d Whatsoeuer doctrine is not according to the simple truth of Gods word, is strange. e By reprooing them which superstitiously put difference betweene meats, he condemneth all the seruice which is offered in ceremonies, comparing it with the spiritual worshipping & regeneration. f They that stick to the ceremonies of the Law, cannot eate, that is, cannot be partakers of our altar, which is, thanksgiving and liberality, which two sacrifices or offerings are now only left to the Christians. Lem. 4. 11. & 6. 30. and 16. 27. g So that the Priests had no piece thereof. Micah 2. 10. Hose. 14. 2. h Thanksgiving and doing good are our onely sacrifices which please God. Reade Actes 20. 28. and Iohn 10. 11.

Law, and yet faileth in one point, he is guiltie of all.

11 For he that saith, *Thou shalt not commit adultery, sayd also, Thou shalt not kill. How though thou doest none adultery, yet if thou killest, thou art a transgressor of the Law.

12 So speake ye, and so doe, as they that shall be iudged by the Law of libertie.

13 For there shall be iudgement mercilesse to him that sheweth no mercie, and mercie is reioyced againt iudgement.

14 What availeth it, my brethren, though a man saith he hath faith, when he hath no workes? can the faith laue him?

15 For if a brother or a sister bee naked and destitute of dayly foode, 16 And one of you say vnto them, Depart in peace: warme your selues, and fill your bellies, notwithstanding yee giue them not those things which are needfull to the body, what helpeth it?

17 Euen so the faith, if it haue no workes, is dead in it selfe.

18 But some man might say, Thou hast the faith, and I haue workes: shew mee thy faith out of thy workes, and I will shew thee my faith by my workes.

19 Thou believest that there is one God: thou doest well: the devils also belcene it, and tremble.

20 But wilt thou vnderstand, O thou vaine man, that the faith which is without workes, is dead?

21 Was not Abraham our father iustified through workes, when he offered Isaac his sonne vpon the altar?

22 Seest thou not that the faith wrought with his workes? and through the workes was the faith made perfect.

23 And the Scripture was fulfilled which sayth, *Abraham belcene God, and it was imputed vnto him for righteoussesse: and he was called the friend of God.

24 Persee then how that of works a man is iustified, and not of faith onely.

25 Likewise also was not Rahab the harlot iustified through workes, when she had receiued the messengers, and sent them out another way?

26 For as the body without the spirit is dead, euen so the faith without workes is dead.

Here deedes are considered as ioyned with true faith. I So that faith was not idle. m The more his faith was declared by his of edience and good workes, the more was it known to men to be perfect, as the goodnesse of a tree is known by her good fruites, otherwise no man can haue perfection in this world: for euery man must pray for remission of his sinnes, and increase of faith. Gen. 1. 5. Rom. 4. 3. gal. 3. 6. n Is so known and declared to man. O Of that barren and dead faith whereof yee boast. Job. 2. 1. p Meaning hereby all them that were not Iewes, and were receiued to grace. q Wherefore we are iustified only by that liuely faith, which doeth apprehend the mercie of God toward vs in Iesus Christ.

CHAP. III.

1 He forbiddeth al ambitious to seeke honor aboue our brethren. 3 He describeth the property of the tongue. 15. 16. And what difference there is betwixt the wisdom of God, & the wisdom of the world.

My brethren, bee not many masters, knowing that we shall receiue the greater condemnation.

2 For in many things we shall sinne all. * If any man liue not in word, he is a perfit man, and able to buble all the body.

3 Behold, wee put bits into the horses mouths, that they would obey vs, and wee turne about all their body.

4 Behold also the hips, which though they bee so great, and are diuven of fierce windes, yet are they turned about with a very little rudder, whither soeuer the gouernour listeth.

5 Euen so the tongue is a little member, and boasteth of great things: behold, how great a thing is a little fire kindleth.

6 And the tongue is fire, yea, a world of wickednesse: so is the tongue set among our members, that it defileth the whole body, and setteth on fire the courie of nature, and it is set on fire of hell.

7 For the whole nature of beastes, and of birds, and of creeping things, and things of the seas is tamed, and hath bene tamed of the nature of man.

8 But the tongue can no man tame. It is an vbruly euill, full of deadly poison.

9 Therewith blesse wee God euen the father, and therewith curse wee men, which are made after the similitude of God.

10 Out of one mouth proceedeth blessing and cursing: my brethren, these things ought not to be.

11 Doeth a fontaine send foorth at one place sweet water and bitter?

12 Can the figtree, y my brethren, bring foorth oliues, either a vine figs? so can no fontaine make both salt water and sweet.

13 Who is a wise man and endued with knowledge among you? let him shew by good conuersation his works in meekenesse of wisdom.

14 But if yee haue bitter enuyng, and strife in your hearts, reioyce not, neither bee lyars against the truch.

15 This wisdom descendeth not from aboue, but is earthly, sensuall, and deuilish.

16 For where enuyng and strife is, there is sedition, and all maner of euill workes.

17 But the wisdom that is from aboue, is first pure, then peaceable, gentle, easie to be intreated, full of mercy and good fruits, without sudging, and without hypocritic.

18 And the fruit of righteoussesse is sown in peace, of them that make peace.

CHAP. IIII.

1 Having shewed the cause of all wrong and wickednesse, and also of all graces and goodnes, 4 He exhorteth them to loue God, 7 And submit themselues to him, 11 Not speaking euill of their neighbours, 13 But patiently to depend on Gods prouidence.

From whence are warres & contentions among you? are they not hence, euen of your lusts, that fight in your members? ye lust, and haue not: ye enuy, & haue indignation, and cannot obtaine; yee fight and warre, and get nothing, because ye aske not.

3 Ye aske and receiue not, because ye aske amisse, that ye might consume it on your lusts.

4 Ye adulterers and adulteresses. know ye not that the amity of the world is the enmitie of God? Whosoever therefore will be a friend of the world, maketh himselfe the enemy of God.

5 Doe ye thinke that the Scripture saith in vaine, The Spirit that dwelleth in vs, lusteth after enuy?

6 But the Scripture offereth more grace, and therefore saith, God resisteth the proud, and giueth grace to the humble.

7 Submit your selues to God: resist the deuill, and he will flee from you.

8 Draw nere to God, and he wil draw nere to you. Cleanse your hands, ye sinners, and purge your hearts frō wauering minded.

9 Suffer afflictions, and sorrow ye, and weepe: let your laughter bee turned into mourning, and your ioy into heavinesse.

10 Cast downe your selues before the Lord, and he will lift you vp.

11 Speake not euill one of another, brethren. He that speaketh euill of his brother, or hee that condemneth his brother, speaketh euill of the Law, and condemneth the Law: and if thou condemnest the Law, thou art not an obseruer of the Law, but a iudge.

12 There is one Lawgiver, which is able to saue, and to destroy. Who art thou that iudgest another man?

13 Goe to now ye that say, To day or to morow we will goe into such a citie, and continue there a yeere, and buy and sell, and get gaine,

14 (And yet ye cannot tell what shall bee to morow. For what is your life? It is euen a vapour that appeareth a litle tūne, and afterward vanisheth away.)

15 For that ye ought to say, If the Lord will, and, If wee liue, wee will doe this or that.

16 But now ye reioyce in your boastings: all such reioycing is euill.

17 Therefore, to him that knoweth how to doe well, and doeth it not, to him it is sinne.

CHAP. V.

2 He threatneth the wicked rich men, 7 exhorteth vnto patience, 12 to beware of swearing, 16 one to knowlege his faults to another, 20 and one to labour to bring another to the truth.

GOde to now, ye rich men: weepe, and g<sup>o</sup>uoulc for your miseries that shal come vpon you.

2 Your riches are corrupt, and your garments are moth eaten.

3 Your gold and siluer is cankered, and the rust of them shall be a witness against you, and shall eate your flesh as it were fire.

* Ye haue heaped by treasure for the last dayes.

4 Behold, the hire of the laborers, which haue reaped your fields (which is of you kept backe by fraud) cryeth, and the cries of them which haue reaped, are entred into the eares of the Lord of hosts.

5 Ye haue lined in pleasure on the earth, and in wantennes. Ye haue nourished your hearts, as in a day of slaughter.

6 Ye haue condemned & haue killed the iust, and he hath not resisted you.

7 Be patient therefore, brethren, vnto the coming of the Lord. Beholde, the husbandman waiteth for the precious fruit of the earth, and hath long patience for it, until hee receiue the former and the latter raine.

8 Be ye also patient therefore, and settle your hearts: for the coming of the Lord draweth nere.

9 Stridge not one against another, brethren, lest ye be condemned: behold, the iudge standeth before the doore.

10 Take, my brethren, the Prophets for an ensample of suffering aduersity, of long patience, which haue spoken in the Name of the Lord.

11 Behold, we count them blessed which endure. Ye haue heard of the patience of Job, and haue known what end the Lord made. For the Lord is very pitifull and mercifull.

12 But before all thinges, my brethren, I swear not, neither by heauen, nor by earth, nor by any other oth: but let your yea, bee yea, and your nay, nay, lest ye fall into condemnation.

13 Is any among you afflicted? Let him pray. Is any merry? let him sing.

14 Is any sicke among you? Let him call for the Elders of the Church, and let them pray for him, and anoint him with oile in the Name of the Lord.

15 And the prayer of faith shall saue the sicke, and the Lord shall rayse him vp: and if he haue committed sinne, it shall be forgiven him.

16 Acknowledge your faults one to another, and pray one for another, that ye may bee healed: for the prayer of a righteous man availeth much, if it bee true.

17 * Helias was a man subject to like passions as we are, and he prayed earnestly that it might not raine, and it rained not on the earth for thre yeeres and sixe monthes.

18 And he prayed againe, and the heauen gaue raine, and the earth brought forth her fruit.

19 Brethren, if any of you haue erred from the truth, and some man hath conuerted him,

THE ARGUMENT.

HE exhortheth the faithfull to denie themselves, and to contemne the world, that being deliuered from all carnall affections and impediments, they may more speedily attaine to the heavenly Kingdome of Christ, whereunto wee are called by the grace of God reueiled to vs in his Sonne, and haue already receiued it by faith, possessed it by hope, and are therein confirmed by holinesse of life. And to the intent that this faith should nor faint, seeing Christ contemned and reiected almost of the whole world, he declareth that this is nothing els but the accomplishing of the Scriptures which testifie that hec should be the stumbling stone to the reprobate, and the sure foundation of saluacion to the faithfull: therefore he exhortheth them courageously to go forward, considering what they were, and to what dignitie God hath called the m. After, he entreateth particular points, reaching subjects how to obey their gouernours, and seruants their masters, and how married folkes ought to behaue themselves. And because it is appointed for all that are godly to suffer persecutions, hec sheweth them what good issue their afflictions shall haue, and contrariwise what punishment God reserueth for the wicked. Last of all he teacheth how the ministers ought to behaue themselves, forbidding them to vsurpe authoritie ouer the Church: also that yong men ought to bee modest, and apt to learne, and to endeth with an exhortation.

CHAP. I.

2 He sheweth that through the abundant mercy of God we are elect and regenerate to a liuely hope, 7 and how faith must be tryed, 10 that the saluacion in Christ is no newes, but a thing prophesied of old. 13 Hee exhortheth them to a godly conuersation, forasmuch as they are now borne away by the word of God.

PETER an Apostle of Iesus Christ, to the strangers that dwell here & there throughout Pontus, Galatia, Cappadocia, Asia, and Bithynia,

2 Elect according to the foreknowledge of God the father vnto sanctification of the spirit, through obedience and sprinkling of the blood of Iesus Christ: Grace & peace be multiplied vnto you.

3 Blessed bee God euen the Father of our Lord Iesus Christ, which according to his abundant mercy hath begotten vs againe vnto a liuely hope by the resurrection of Iesus Christ from the dead,

4 To an inheritance immortal and vnderstanded, and that fadeeth not away, reserved in heauen for you,

5 Which are kept by the power of God, through faith vnto saluacion. which is prepared to be shewed in the last time:

6 Wherein ye reioyce, though now for a season (if need require) ye are in heavynesse, through manifold tentations,

7 That the triall of your faith, being much more precious then gold that perisheth (though it be tried with fire) might be found vnto your praise, and honour, and glory, at the appearing of Iesus Christ:

8 Whom ye haue not seene, and yet loze him, in whom now, though ye see him not, yet doe you beleene, and reioyce with ioy unspeakable and glorious,

9 Rectifying the end of your faith, euen the saluacion of your soules.

10 Of the which saluacion the Prophets haue enquired and searched, which prophesied of the grace that should come vnto you,

11 Searching when or what time the spirit which testified before of Christ which was in them, should declare the sufferings that should come vnto Christ, and the glorie that should follow.

12 Vnto whom it was reueiled, that i not vnto themselves, but vnto vs they should minister the things which are now shewed vnto you by them which haue preached vnto you the Gospel by the holy Ghost sent downe from heauen, the which things the Angels desire to behold.

13 Wherefore, gird by the iclines of your mind; bee sober, and trust perfectly on the grace that is brought vnto you, by the reuelation of Iesus Christ,

14 As obedient children, not fashioning your selues vnto the fornicer lusts of your ignorance:

15 But as hee which hath called you, is holy, so be ye holy in all manner of conuersation, 16 Because it is writtten, * Be ye holy, for I am holy.

17 And if ye call him Father, which without respect of personudgeth according to euery mans worke, passe the time of your dwelling here in feare,

22 Seeing your ſoules are purified in obeying the truth through the ſpirit, to loue brotherly without faiming, loue one another with a pure heart feruently, 23 Being borne anew not of mortall ſeed, but of a immortall, by the word of God which liueth and endureth for euer.

24 For all * fiſh is as graſſe, and all the glory of man is as the flower of graſſe. The graſſe withereth, & the flower falleth away.

25 But the word of the Lord endureth for euer: and this is the word which is preached among you.

CHAP. II.

1 Hee exhorteth them to lay aſide all vice, 4 Shewing that Chriſt is the foundation whereupon they build, 9 The excellent eſtate of the Chriſtians, 11 He prayeth them to abſtaine from fleſhly luſtes, 13 To obey the rulers, 18 How ſervants ſhould behaue themſelues toward their maſters, 20 Hee exhorteth to ſuffer after the enſample of Chriſt.

¶ Therefore * laying aſide all maliciousneſſe and all guile, and diſimulation, and enuy, and all euill ſpeaking,

2 As new borne babes deſire the ſincere milke of the word, that ye may grow thereby,

3 If ſo be that yee haue taſted how bountifull the Lord is,

4 To whom yee come as vnto a liuing ſtone diſallowed of men, but choſen of God and precious.

5 And yee as liuely ſtones be made a ſpiritual houſe, and holy * Dwellinghood to offer by ſpiritual ſacrifices acceptable to God by Jeſus Chriſt.

6 ¶ Wherefore it is contained in the ſcripture, * Beholde, I put in Sion a chiefe corner ſtone, elect and precious: and he that beleueth therein, ſhall not be aſhamed.

7 Vnto you therefore which beleue, it is precious: but vnto them which be diſobedient, the * ſtone which the builders diſallowed, the ſame is made the head of the corner.

8 And a * ſtone to ſtumble at, and a rocke of offence, euen to them which ſtumble at the word being diſobedient, vnto the which thing they were euen ordaind.

9 But ye are a choſen generation, a royal * Dwellinghood, an holy nation, a peculiar people, that ye ſhould ſhew forth the vertues of him that hath called you out of darkneſſe into his maruellous light,

10 ¶ Which in times paſt were not a people, yet are now the people of God, which in time paſt were not vnder mercie, but now haue obtained mercie.

11 Dearly beloved, I beſeech you as ſtrangers & pilgrims, * abſtine from fleſhly luſts, which fight againſt the ſoule,

12 * And haue your conuerſation honeſt among the Gentiles, that they which ſpeake euill of you as of euill doers, may by your * good workes which they ſhall ſee, Gloſifie

God in the Day of the viſitation.

13 * Submit your ſelues vnto all manner ordinance of man for the Lordes ſake, whether it be vnto the King, or vnto the ſuperiour, 14 ¶ Vnto governours, as vnto them that are ſent of him, for the puniſhment of euill doers, and for the praye of them that doe well.

15 For ſo is the will of God, that by well doing ye may put to ſilence the ignorance of the fooliſh men.

16 As free, and not as hauing the liberty for a cloke of maliciouſneſſe, but as the ſeruants of God.

17 Honour all men: * loue brotherly fellowship: feare God: honour the King.

18 * Seruants, be ſubiect to your maſters with all feare, not only to the good and courteous, but alſo to the ſteward.

19 * For this is thankworthy, if a man for conſcience toward God endure grieſe ſuffering wrongfully.

20 For what praye is it, if when yee be buffered for your faults, ye take it patiently: but and if when ye doe well, ye ſuffer wrong, and take it patiently, this is acceptable to God.

21 For heretofore ye are called: for Chriſt alſo ſuffered for vs, leaving vs an enſample that ye ſhould follow his ſteps.

22 ¶ Who did no ſinne, neither was there guile found in his mouth.

23 ¶ Who when hee was reuiſed, reuiſed not againe: when hee was ſuffered, he threatned not, but committed it to him that iudgeth righteouſly.

24 ¶ Who his owne ſelfe bare our finnes in his body on the tree, that we being deliuered from ſinne, ſhould liue in righteouſneſſe: by whole ſtripes ye were healed.

25 For ye were as ſheepe going aſtray: but are now returned vnto the ſhepherd and biſhop of your ſoules.

17 Diuinitie then as Christ hath suffered for vs in the flesh, atme your selues likewise with the same minde, which is, that he which hath suffered in the flesh, hath ceased from sinne.

2 That he henceforward should liue (as much time as remained in the flesh) not after the lustes of men, but after the will of God.

The second Epistle generall of Peter.

THE ARGUMENT.

The effect of the Apostle here, is to exhort them which haue once professed the true faith of Christ, to stand to the same euen to the last breath: also that God by his effectual grace rewards men murther them to holinesse of life, in punishing the hypocrites which abuse his Name, and increasing his gifts in the godly: wherefore by godly life, bee being now almost at death doore, exhorteth them to approve their vocation, not setting their aff. ctions on worldly things (as he had oft written vnto them) but lifting their eyes toward heauen, as they be taught by the Gospel, whereof he is a cleare witnesse, chiefly in that hee heard with his owne eares that Christ was proclaimed from heauen to bee the Sonne of God, as likewise the Prophets testified. And lest they should promise to themselves quietnesse by professing the Gospel, hee warneth them both of troubles which they should sustaine by the false teachers, and also by the mockers and contemptors of religion, whose maners and trade hee liuely seteth forth as in a table, aduertising the faithfull not onely to waite diligently for Christ, but also to behold presently the day of his coming, and to preserve themselves vnspotted against the same.

CHAP. I.

4 Forasmuch as the power of God hath giuen them all things pertaining vnto life, he exhorteth them to flee the corruption of worldly lusts, 10 To make their calling sure with good works, & fruits of faith. 14 He maketh mention of his own death, 17 Declaring the Lord Iesus to be the true Sonne of God as himselfe had seen, vpon the mount.

Simon Peter a seruant, and an Apostle of Iesus Christ, to you which haue obtained like precious faith with vs by the * righteousness of our God and Saviour Iesus Christ:

2 Grace and peace be multiplied to you, by the knowledge of God and of Iesus our Lord,

3 According as his b godly power hath giuen vnto vs all things that pertaine vnto * life and godlinesse, d through the knowledge of him that hath called vs ¶ vnto glory and vertue.

4 Whereby most great, and precious promises are giuen vnto vs, that by them ye should be partakers of the * godly nature, in that yee flee the corruption, which is in the world through lust.

5 Therefore giue euin all diligence therunto: loyne moreouer f vertue with your faith: and with vertue, knowledge:

g glory. e Wee are made partakers of the diuine nature, in that wee flee the corruption of the world, or as Paul writeth, are dead to sinne and are not in the flesh. f Godly maners. 6 And

b He speaketh of Christ as hee is God and Saviour. c That is, saluation. d The summe of our saluation and religion is to be led by Christ to the Father, who calleth vs in the Sonne. ¶ Or, through his a In that he declared himselfe iust and faithfull in accomplishing his promise by Christ.

6 And with knowledge, temperance: and with temperance patience: and with patience, godlinesse:

7 And with godlinesse, brotherly kindnesse: and with brotherly kindnesse, lone.

8 For if these things be among you, and abound, they will make you that ye neither shall be idle nor unfruitful in the knowledge of our Lord Jesus Christ.

9 For he that hath not these things, is blind, and s cannot see farre off, and hath forgotten that he was purged from his olde finnes.

10 Wherefore, brethren, give rather diligence to make your calling & election sure: for if ye doe these things, ye shall neuer fall.

11 For by this meanes an entering shall be ministered unto you abundantly into the everlasting Kingdome of our Lord and Saviour Jesus Christ.

12 Wherefore, I will not be negligent to put you always in remembrance of these things, though that ye have knowledge, and be established in the present仁eth.

13 For I thinke it meete as long as I am in this tabernacle, to stirre you up by putting you in remembrance, 14 Seeing I knowe that the time is at hand, that I must lay downe this my tabernacle, even as our Lord Jesus Christ hath shewed me.

15 I will endeavour therefore alwaies, that ye also may be able to have remembrance of these things after my departing.

16 For we followed not * deceivable fables, when we opened unto you the power, and coming of our Loide Jesus Christ, but with our eyes we sawe his majesticie:

17 For hee received of God the Father honour and glory, when there came such a voice to him from the excellent glory, * This is my beloved Sonne, in whom I am well pleased.

18 And this voyce wee heard when it came from heauen, being with him in the holy mount.

19 Wee have also a most sure worde of the Prophets, to the which ye do well that ye take heede, as unto a light that shineth in a darke place, untill the day dawne, and the day starre arise in your hearts.

20 * So that ye first know this, that no prophesie in the Scriptures is of any private intion.

21 For the prophesie came not in olde time by the will of man: but holy men of God spake as they were mooved by the holy Ghost.

CHAP. II.

Hee propheseth of false teachers, and sheweth their punishment.

¶ Un there were false prophets also among the people, even as there shall be false teachers among you: which privily shall bring in damnable heresies, even denying the Lord that hath bought them, & bring upon themselves swift damnation.

2 And many shall follow their damnable wayes, by whom the way of truth shall be evill spoken of,

3 And through covetousnesse shall they with fained wordes make * merchandise of you, whose iudgement long agoe is not farre off, and their damnation sleepeeth not.

4 For if God spared not the * Angels that had sinned, but cast them downe into hel, and delivred them into chains of darknesse, to be kept vnto damnation:

5 Neither hath spared he the old world, but saved * Noe the eight person a preacher of righteousnesse, and brought in the flood vpon the world of the ungodly,

6 And * turned the cities of Sodom and Gomorrah into ashes, condemned them and overthrew them, and made them an example vnto them that after should live ungodly,

7 * And delivred iust Lot with the wickedly conversation of the wicked,

8 (For he being righteous, and dwelling among them, in seeing and hearing, bereft his righteous soule from day to day with their unlawfull deedes.)

9 The Lord knoweth to delivere the godly out of temptation, and to reserve the uniuert vnto the day of iudgement to be punished:

10 And chiefly them that walke after the flesh, in the lust of uncleannesse, and despite the gouernement, which are presumptuous, and stand in their owne conceit, and feare not to speake euill of them that are in dignitie.

11 Whereas the Angels which are greater both in power and might, * gine not railing iudgement against them before the Lord.

12 But these, as * brutt beastes, led with sensuality, & made to be taken, and destroyed, speake euill of those things which they know not, and that perissh through their own corruption,

13 And shall receive the wages of unrighteousnesse, as they which count it pleasure to liue deliciously for a season. Spots they are and blots, * delighting themselves in their deceitings, in leasting with you,

14 Having eyes full of adultery, and that cannot cease to sinne, beguiling unstable soules: they have hearts exercised with uncleannesse, cursed children, 15 Which forsaking the right way, have gone astray, following the way of * Balaam, the sonne of Bosh, which loved the wages of unrighteousnesse.

16 But hee was rebuked for his iniquitie: for the dumbe asse speaking with mans voyce, forbad the foolishnesse of the prophet.

17 * These are wells without water, and are cloude carried about with a tempest, to whom the blacke darknesse is reserved for euer.

18 For in speaking swelling wordes of vanitie, they beguile with wantonnesse through the lusts of the flesh them that were cleane escaped from them which are wrapped in error,

19 Promising vnto them libertie, and are themselves the * iugnants of corruption: for of whomsoever a man is overcome euen vnto the same is he in bondage.

20 * For if they, after they haue escaped from the filthinesse of the world, through the knowledge of the Lord, and of the Sauiour Iesus Christ, are yet tangled againe therein, and ouercome, the latter end is worse with them then the beginning.

21 For it had bene better for them, not to haue knownen the way of righteousnesse, then after they haue knowen it, to turne from the holy commandement giuen vnto them.

22 But it is come vnto them, according to the true prouerbe, * The dog is returned to his owne doimite, and, The sow that was wash'd, to the wallowing in the mire.

3 Hee sheweth the impieties of them which mocke at Gods promises. 7 After what sort the end of the world shalbe. 8 That they prepare themselves thereto. 16 Who they are which abuse the writings of S. Paul, and the rest of the Scriptures, 18 concluding with eternall thanks to Christ Iesus.

THIS second Epistle I nowe write vnto you, beloued, wherewith I stirre vp and warne your pure minds,

2 To call to remembrance the wordes which were told before of the holy Prophets, and also the commandement of vs the Apostles of the Lord and Sauiour.

3 * This first understand, that there shall come in the last dayes, mockers, which will walke after their lusts,

4 And say, Where is the promise of his coming: for since the fathers died, all things continue alike from the beginning of the creation.

5 For this they b willingly knowe not, that the heauens were of olde, and the earth that was of the water, and by the water, by the word of God.

6 Wherefore the * world that then was perished, overflowed with the water.

7 But the heauens and earth, which are now, are kept by the same word in store, and reserved vnto fire against the day of iudgement, & of the destruction of ingodly men.

8 Dearly beloued, bee not ignorant of this one thing, that one day is with the Lord, * as a thousand yeres, and a thousand yeres as one day.

9 The Lord is not slacke concerning his promise (as some men count slackenesse) but is patient to ward vs, and * a world haue no man to perishe, but would a men to come to repentance.

10 * But the day of the Lord wil come as a thiefe in the night, in the which the heauens shall passe away with a noyse, & the elements shall melt with heat, and the earth with the workes that are therein, shall be burnt vp.

11 Seeing therefore that all these things must be dissolued, what maner persons ought ye to be in holy conuersation and godlinesse, - 12 Looking for, & hastning vnto the coming of the day of God, by the which the heauens being on fire, shalbe dissolued, and the elements shall melt with heat?

13 But wee looke for * new heauens, and a new earth, according to his promise, wher-in dwelleth righteousnesse.

14 Therefore, beloued, seeing that yee looke for such things, bee diligent that yee may bee found of him in * peace, without spot, and blamelesse.

15 * And suppose that the long suffering of our Lord is saluation, euen as our beloued brother Paul according to the wisdom giuen vnto him wrote to * you,

16 As one, that in al his Epistles speaketh of these things: among the which some things are hard to bee understood, which they that are vnlearned and vnstable, peruert, as they doe also other Scriptures vnto their owne destruction.

17 Therefore, beloued, seeing yee know these things before, beware least yee bee also plucked away with the error of the wicked, and fall from your owne stedfastnesse.

18 But growe in grace, and in the knowledge of our Lord & Sauiour Iesus Christ: to him be glorie both now and for euermore. Amen.

The first Epistle generall of Iohn.

THE ARGUMENT.

AFTER that Saint Iohn had sufficiently declared, how that our whole saluation doeth consist onely in A Christ, lest that any man should thereby take a boldnesse to sinne, he sheweth that no man can beleeue in Christ, vnlesse he doeth endeour himselfe to keepe his commandements, which thing being done, hee exhorteth them to beware of false prophets, whom he calleth Antichrists, and to trie the spirits. Last of all, he doeth earnestly exhort them vnto brotherly loue, and to beware of deceiuers.

CHAP. I.

2 True witnessse of the euerlasting word of God 7 The blood of Christ is the purgation of sinne. 10 No man is without sinne.

of life, 2 (for the life appeared, and wee haue seene it, and haue witnessse, and shew vnto you the eternall life, which was with the Father, and appeared vnto vs) our fellowship also may be with the Father, and with his Sonne Iesus Christ.

4 And these things write wee vnto you, that your joy may be full.

5 This then is the message, which wee haue heard of him, & declare vnto you, that God is light, and in him is no darknesse.

6 If we say that we haue fellowship with him, and walke in darkness, we lie, and doe not truly:

7 But if we walke in the light, as he is in the light, we haue fellowship one with another, and the blood of Iesus Christ his Sonne cleanseth vs from all sinne.

8 If we say that we haue no sinne, wee deceiue our selues, and truch is not in vs.

9 If we acknowledge our sinnes, he is faithfull and iust, to forgive vs our sinnes, and to cleanse vs from all vnrightheousnesse.

10 If wee say wee haue not sinned, we make him a liar, and his word is not in vs.

Iohn 8. 12.
f The fruits of our faith must declare whether we be ioynd in God or no: for God being the very puritie and light, will not haue fellowship with them which lie in sinne and darknesse.

CHAP. II.

1 Christ is our advocate. 10 Of seru: loue, and how it is tried. 18 To beware of Antichrist.

M y babes, these things write I vnto you, that ye sinne not: and if any man sinne, we haue an Advocate with the Father, Iesus Christ the iust,

2 And hee is the reconciliation for our sinnes: and not for ours onely, but also for the sinnes of the whole world.

3 And hereby we are sure that we know him, if we keepe his commandments.

4 Hee that saith, I know him, and keepeth not his commandments, is a liar, and the truch is not in him.

5 But hee that keepeth his word, in him is the loue of God perfect in dedde: hereby we know that we are in him.

6 Hee that saith hee remaineth in him, ought euery so to walke, as hee hath walked.

7 Brethren, I write no new commandment vnto you: but an olde commandment which yee haue had from the beginning: the olde commandment is the word, which yee haue heard from the beginning.

8 Again, a newe commandment I write vnto you, that which is true in him, and also in you: for the darknesse is past, and the true light now shyneth.

9 He that saith that he is in the light, and hateth his brother, is in darknesse vntill this time.

10 Hee that loueth his brother, abideth in the light, and there is none occasion of euill in him.

11 But hee that hateth his brother, is in darknesse, and walketh in darknesse, and knoweth not whither ye goeth, because that darknesse hath blinded his eyes.

a Christ is our onely advocate and atonement: for the office of intercession and redemption are ioynd together.
b That is, of them which haue embraced the Gospel by faith in all ages, degrees and places: for there is no saluation without Christ.
c That is, by faith, and so obey him: for knowledge cannot be without obedience.
d Whereby he loueth God: so that to loue God is to obey his word.
10. Or. doctrine.
e When the Law was giuen.
f Loueth neighbour as thy selfe, is the olde commandment taught in the Law: but when Christ saith, So loue one another, as I haue loued you, hee giueth a new commandment onely a-rouching the forme, but not as touching the nature or substance of the precept. Chap. 3. 14.

12 Little children, I write vnto you, because your sinnes are forgiven you for his Names sake.

13 I write vnto you, fathers, because yee haue knowen him that is from the beginning. I write vnto you yong men, because yee haue overcome the wicked.

14 I write vnto you, babes, because yee haue knowen the Father. I haue written vnto you, fathers, because yee haue knowen him, that is from the beginning. I haue written vnto you, yong men, because yee are strong, and the word of God abideth in you, and yee haue overcome the wicked.

15 Loue not the world, neither the things that are in the world. If any man loue the world, the loue of the Father is not in him.

16 For all that is in the world (as the lust of the flesh, the lust of the eyes, and the pride of life) is not of the Father, but is of the world.

17 And the world passeth away, and the lust thereof, but hee that fulfilleth the will of God abideth euer.

18 Babes, it is the last time, and as yee haue heard that Antichrist shall come, euen now are there many Antichrists, whereby we know that it is the last time.

19 They went out from vs, but they were not of vs: for if they had bene of vs, they would haue continued with vs. But this commeth to passe, that it might appeare, that they are not all of vs.

20 But ye haue an ointment from him, that is holy, & yee haue knowen all things.

21 I haue not written vnto you, because ye know not the truth: but because ye know it, and that no lie is of the truth.

22 Who is a liar, but hee that denieth that Iesus is Christ? the same is the Antichrist that denieth the Father and the Sonne.

23 Whosoener denieth the Sonne, the same hath not the Father.

24 Let therefore abide in you that same which yee haue heard from the beginning. If that which yee haue heard from the beginning, shall remaine in you, yee also shall continue in the Sonne, and in the Father.

25 And this is the promise that hee hath promised vs, euen eternall life.

26 These things haue I written vnto you, concerning them that deceiue you.

27 But the anointing which ye receiued of him, dwelleth in you: and yee need not that any man teach you: but as the same anointing teacheth you of all things, and it is true, and is not lying, and as it taught you, ye shall abide in him.

28 And now, little children, abide in him, that when he shall appeare, we may see bold, and not be ashamed before him at his coming.

29 If yee knowe that hee is righteous, know ye that hee which doeth righteously, is borne of him.

C H A P. III.

1 The singular loue of God toward vs, 7 And how we againe ought to loue one another.

BEhold, what loue the father hath shew- ed on vs, that wee stould bee called the sonnes of God: for this cause the world knoweth you not, because it knoweth not him.

2 Dearely beloved, nowe are we the sonnes of God, but ye it doeth not appeare what we shall be: and wee know that when he shall appeare, we shall be like him: for we shall see him as he is.

3 And every man that hath this hope in him, purgeth himselfe, such as he is pure.

4 Whosoever committeth sinne, transgresseth also the law: for sinne is the transgression of the Law.

5 And ye know that he appeared that he might take away our sinnes, and in him is no sinne.

6 Whosoever abideth in him sinneth not: whosoever sinneth hath not seene him, neither hath knowen him.

7 Little children, let no man deceiue you: he that doeth righteousnesse, is righteous, as he is righteous.

8 Wee that committeth sinne, is of the deuil: for the deuil sinneth from the beginning: for this purpose appeared the Sonne of God, that hee might loole the workes of the deuil.

9 Whosoever is borne of God, sinneth not: for his seele remaineth in him, neither can hee sinne, because hee is borne of God.

10 In this are the children of God known, and the children of the deuil: whosoever doeth not righteousnesse, is not of God, neither he that loveth not his brother.

11 For this is the message that ye heard from the beginning, that wee stould loue one another.

12 For as Cain which was of the wicked, and slew his brother: and wherefore slew he him? because his owne workes were euill, and his brothers good.

13 Barneite not, my brethren, though they would hate you.

14 Wee know that we are translated from death into life, because wee loue the brethren: hee that loveth not his brother, abideth in death.

15 Whosoever hateth his brother, is a manslayer: and ye know that no manslayer hath eternall life abiding in him.

16 Hereby haue we perceined lone, that hee layde downe his life for vs: therefore we ought also to lay downe our liues for the brethren.

17 And whosoever hath this worldes good, and seeth his brother haue neede, and shutteth vp his compassion from him, how dwelleth the loue of God in him?

18 By little children, let vs not loue in word, neither in tongue onely, but in deed and in truth.

19 For thereby we knowe that wee are of the truth, and shall beseege him assure our hearts.

20 For if our heart condemne vs, God is greater then our heart, and knoweth all things.

21 Beloued, if our heart condemne vs not, then haue we boldnesse toward God.

22 And whatloeuere we aske, wee receiue of him, because we keepe his commandements, and doe those things which are pleasing in his sight.

23 This is then his commandment, that wee beleene in the Name of his sonne Iesus Christ, and loue one another, as hee gaue commandement.

24 For hee that keepeth his commandements, dwelleth in him, and hee in him: and hereby we knowe that he abideth in vs, euen by the spirit which he hath giuen vs.

C H A P. IIIII.

1 Difference of spirits. 2 How the spirit of God may bee knowne from the spirit of error. 7 Of the loue of God, and of our neighbours.

DEARELY beloved, beleene not euery spirit, but trie the spirits whether they are of God: for many false prophets are gone out into the world.

2 Hereby shall ye know the spirit of God, Every spirit that confesseth that Iesus Christ is come in the flesh, is of God.

3 And euery spirit which confesseth not that Iesus Christ is come in the flesh, is not of God: but this is the spirit of Antichrist, of whome ye haue heard, howe that hee should come, and now already hee is in the world.

4 Little children, ye are of God, and haue overcome them: for greater is hee that is in you, then <sup>a</sup> he that is in the world.

5 They are of the world, therefore speake they of the world, and the world heareth them.

6 Wee are of God, hee that knoweth God, heareth vs: hee that is not of God, heareth vs not. Hereby knowe wee the spirit of truth, and the spirit of error.

7 Beloued, let vs loue one another: for loue cometh of God, and euery one that loveth is borne of God, and knoweth God.

8 He that loveth not, knoweth not God: For God is lone.

9 In this appeared the lone of God toward vs, because God sent his only begotten Sonne into the world, that wee might liue through him.

10 Herein is lone, not that we loued God, but that hee loued vs, and sent his Sonne to be a reconciliation for our sinnes.

11 Beloued, if God so loued vs, we ought also to loue one another.

12 No man hath seene God at any time, If we lone one another, God dwelleth in vs, and his loue is perfect in vs.

13 Hereby knowe wee that wee dwell in him, and hee in vs: because hee hath giuen vs of his Spirit.

14 And wee haue seene and doe testifie, that the father sent the Sonne to bee the Sauiour of the world.

15 Whosoever confesseth that Iesus is the Sonne of God, in him dwelleth God, and hee in God.

19 ¶ He loue him, because he loued vs first. 20 If any man say, I loue God, and hate his brother, hee is a liar: for how can hee that loueth not his brother whom hee hath seene, loue God whom hee hath not seene?

11 And this is the recorde, that God hath giuen vnto vs eternall life, and this life is in his Sonne.

13 These things haue I written vnto you, that beleue in the Name of the Sonne of God, that yee may know that yee haue eternall life, and that yee may beleue in the Name of the Sonne of God.

¶ Whoeuer beleueth that Iesus is the Christ, is a boine of God, and euery one that loueth him which begate, loueth him also which is begotten of him.

14 And this is the assurance, that wee haue in him, that if wee aske any thing according to his will, he heareth vs.

2 In this we know that we loue the children of God, when we loue God, and keepe his commandements.

15 And if wee knowe that yee heareth vs, whatsoeuer wee aske, wee knowe that wee haue the petitions that we haue desired of him.

3 For this is the loue of God, that wee keepe his commandements: and his commandements are not grievous.

16 If any man see his brother sinne a sinne, that is not vnto death, lee him aske, & he shall giue him life for them that sinne not vnto death. There is a sinne vnto death: I say not that thou shouldst pay for it.

4 For all that is boine of God overcometh the world: and this is the victorie that ouercometh the world, euen our faith.

17 All brighte ouerfinde is sinne, but there is a sinne not vnto death.

5 ¶ Who is it that ouercometh the world, but hee which beleueth that Iesus is the sonne of God?

18 ¶ Wee know that who soeuer is boine of God, sinneth not: but hee that is begotten of God, keepeth himselfe, and the wicked toucheth him not.

6 This is that Iesus Christ that came by water and blood, not by water onely, but by water and blood: and it is the spirit, that beareth witness: for the spirit is a truth.

19 ¶ Wee know that we are of God, and the whole world lieth in wickednesse.

7 For there are three, which beare recorde in heauen, the Father, the Word, and the holy Ghost: and these three are one.

20 But wee knowe that the Sonne of God is come, and hath giuen vs a minde to know him, which is true: and wee are in him that is true, that is, in his Sonne Iesus Christ: this same is very God, and eternall life.

8 And there are three, which beare recorde for the same. f Our minde inspired by the holy Ghost. g Which testifieth to our hearts, that we are the children of God.

21 Babes, keepe your selues from idols, Amen.

The second Epistle of Iohn.

¶ He writeth vnto a certaine Lady, 4 Reioycing that her children walke in the truth, 5 And exhorteth them vnto loue, 7 Warneth them to beware of such deceiuers as denie that Iesus Christ is come in the flesh, 8 Prayeth them to continue in the doctrine of Christ, 10 And to haue nothing to doe with them that bring not the true doctrine of Christ Iesus our Saviour.

¶ He Elder to the select Ladie, and her children, whome I loue in the truth: and not I onely, but also all that haue knowne the truth,

4 I reioyced greatly, that I found of thy children walking in truth, for we haue receiued a commandement of the Father.

2 For the truths sake which dwelleth in vs, and shall with vs for euer: 3 Grace bee with you, mercie and peace from God the Father, and from the Lord

5 And now beleeue I thee Lady, (not as writing a new commandement vnto thee, but that same which wee had from the beginning) that wee loue one another.

6 And this is the loue, that wee should walke after his commandements. This commandement is, that as yee haue heard from the beginning, yee should walke in it.

7 For many deceiuers are entred into the world, which confesse not that Iesus Christ is come in the flesh. Hee that is such one, is a deceiuer and an Antichrist.

The third Epistle of Iohn.

3 Hee is glad of Gaius that hee walketh in the truth, 8 Exhorteth them to bee leauing vnto the poore Christians in their persecution, 9 sheweth the unkind dealing of Diotrefes, 12 And the good report of Demetrius.

He Elder vnto the beloued Gaius whome I loue in the truth.

2 Beloued, I wish chiefly y thou prosperedst & faredist well, as thy soule prospereth.

3 For I reioyced greatly when the brethren came, and testified of the truth that is in thee, how thou walkest in the truth.

4 I haue no greater toy then this, that is, to heare that my sonnes walke in verity.

5 Beloued, thou dost faithfully whatsoever thou doest to the brethren, & to strangers,

6 Which bare witness of thy loue before the Churches, whom if thou bringest on their iourney, as it becometh, according to God, thou shalt doe well.

7 Because that for his names sake they went forth, and tooke nothing of the Gentiles.

8 Wee therefore ought to receiue such, that we might be helpers to the truth.

9 I wrote vnto the Church: but Diotrefes which loneth to haue the preeminence among them, receiuetly vs not.

10 Wherefore if I come, I will declare his deedes which hee doeth, prattling against vs with malicious wordes, and not therewith content, neither hee himselfe receiuetly the brethren, but forbidde them that would, and thrusteth them out of the Church.

11 Beloued, followe not that which is euill, but that which is good: hee that doeth well, is of God: but he that doeth euill hath not seene God.

12 Demetrius hath good report of all men, and of the truth it selfe: yea, and wee our felues beare record, and yee know that our record is true.

13 I haue many things to write: but I will not with inke and pen write vnto thee.

14 For I trust I shall shortly see thee, and we shall speake mouth to mouth. Peace bee with thee. The friends salute thee. Greete the friends by name.

The generall Epistle of Iude.

THE ARGUMENT.

Saint Iude admoniseth all Churches generally to take heed of deceiuers, which goe about to draw away the hearts of the simple people from the truth of God, and willetch them to haue no societie with such, whom he setteth foorth in their liuely colours, (shewing by diuers examples of the Scriptures what horrible vengeance is prepared for them: finally, hee comforteth the faithfull, and exhorteth them to perseuere in the doctrine of the Apostles of Iesus Christ.

U NDE a seruant of Iesus Christ, & brother of James, to them which are called and sanctified of God the Father, and referred to Iesus Christ:

2 Mercie vnto you, and peace, and loue be multiplied.

3 Beloued, when I gaue all diligence to write vnto you of the common saluation, it was needfull for me to write vnto you, to exhort you, that ye should earnestly contend for the maintenance of the faith, which was once giuen vnto the Saints.

4 For there are certaine men crept in, which were before of old ordeined to this condemnation: vngodly men they are which turne the grace of our God into wantonnes, and deme God the onely Lord, and our Lord Iesus Christ.

5 I will therefore put you in remembrance, so far as much as ye once knew this, how that the Lord after that hee had deliuered the people out of Egypt, destroyed them afterward which beleued not.

6 The Angels also which kept not their first estate, but left their owne habitation, he hath reserved in euerlasting chaines vnder darkenesse vnto the iudgement of the great day.

The Reuelation of || Iohn the Diuine.

|| Or, declared to Iohn.

THE ARGUMENT.

It is manifest, that the holy Ghost would, as it were, gather into this most excellent Booke a summe of those prophesies, which were written before, but should be fulfilled after the coming of Christ, adding also such things as should be expedient, as well to forewarne vs of the dangers to come, as to admonish vs to beware some, and encourage vs against others. Herein therefore is liuely set forth the diuinitie of Christ, and the testimonies of our redemption, what things the Spirit of God alloweth in the ministers, and what things he reprooueth: the prouidence of God for his elect, and of their glory and consolation in the day of vengeance: howe that the hypocrites which sting like scorpions the members of Christ shall be destroyed. But the Lambe Christ shall defend them which beare witness to the trueth, who in despite of the beast and Satan will reigne ouer all. The liuely description of Antichrist is set forth, whose time and power notwithstanding is limited: and albeit that he is permitted to rage against the elect, yet his power stretcheth no further then to the hurt of their iudices: and at length he shall be destroyed by the wrath of God, when as the elect shall giue praise to God for the victorie: neuertheless, for a season God will permit this Antichrist, and strumpet vnder colour of sayre speach and pleasaunt doctrine, to decieue the world: wherefore he aduertiseth the godly (which are but a small portion) to auoide this harlots flatteries and brags, whose ruine without mercie they shall see, and with the heavenly companies sing continuall prayles: for the Lambe is maried: the word of God hath gotten the victorie: Satan that a long time was vntied, is now cast with his ministers into the pit of fire to be tormented for euer, whereas contrariwise the faithfull (which are the holy cite of Ierusalem, and wife of the Lambe) shall enioy perpetuall glory. Reade diligently, iudge soberly, and call earnestly to God for the true vnderstanding hereof.

3 Blessed is hee that readeth, and they that heare the words of this prophesie, and keepe thole things which are written therein: for the time is at a hand.

4 Iohn to the seuen Churches which are in Asia, Grace be with you & peace from him, which is, and which was, & which is to come, and from the seuen spirits which are before his throne,

5 And from Iesus Christ, which is a faithfull witness, and the first begotten of the dead, and Prince of the Kings of the earth, vnto him that loued vs, and washed vs from our sinnes in his blood,

6 And made vs Kings and Priests vnto God, euen his Father, to him be glory and dominion for euermore, Amen.

7 Behold, he cometh with clouds, and every eye shall see him: yea euen they which hee peared him thorow: and all kindreds of the earth shall waipe before him. Euen so, Amen.

8 I am Alpha and Omega, the beginning and the ending, saith the Lord, which is, and which was, and which is to come, euen the Almighty.

9 I Iohn euen your brother, and companion in tribulation, and in the kingdom and patience of Iesus Christ, was in the yle called Patmos, for the word of God, and for the witnessing of Iesus Christ.

10 And I was rauished in spirit on the Lords day, and heard behind mee a great voyce, as it had bene of a trumpet, 11 Saying, I am Alpha and Omega, the first and the last: and that which thou seest, write in a booke, and send it vnto the seuen Churches which are in Asia, vnto Ephesus, and vnto Smyrna, and vnto Pergamus, and vnto Thyratra, and vnto Sardis, and vnto Philadelphia, and vnto Laodicea.

12 Then I turned backe to see the voyce that spake with mee: and when I was turned, I saw seuen golden candlestickes, 13 And in the middes of the seuen candlestickes one like vnto the sonne of man, clothed with a garment & downe to the feet, and girted about the paps with a golden girdle.

14 His head, and haire were white as white wool, and as snow, and his eyes were as a flame of fire, 15 And his feete like vnto fine brasse, burning as in a furnace: and his voyce as the sound of many waters.

16 And he had in his right hand seuen starrs: & out of his mouth went a sharpe two edged sword: and his face shone as the sunne shyneth in his strength.

17 And when I sawe him, I fell at his feete as dead: then he layd his right hand vpon me, saying vnto me, feare not: I am the first and last,

18 And am alieue, but I was dead: and behold, I am alieue for euermore, Amen: and I haue the keyes of hell and of death.

19 Write the things which thou hast seene, and the things which are, and the things which shall come hereafter.

20 The mystery of the seuen starrs which thou sawest in my right hand, and the seuen golden candlestickes, is this, The seuen starrs are the Angels of the seuen Churches: and the seuen candlestickes which thou sawest, are the seuen Churches.

14 But I haue a fewe things against thee, because thou hast them euen that maintaine the doctrine of Balaam, which taughte Balac to put a stumbling blocke before the children of Israel, that they should eate of things sacrificed vnto idoles, and commit fornication.

10 Because thou hast kept the word of my patience, therefore I will deliuer thee from the houre of temptation, which will come vpon all the world, to try them that dwell vpon the earth.

11 Beholde, I come shortly: holde that which thou hast, that no man take thy crowne.

12 Him that ouercommeth, will I make a pillar in the Temple of my God, and hee shall goe no more out: and I will write vpon him the Name of my God, & the Name of the citie of my God, which is the new Ierusalem, which commeth downe out of heauen from my God, and I will write vpon him my new name.

15 I know thy workes, that thou art neither cold nor hot: I would thou werest cold or hot.

16 Therefore, because thou art lukewarme, and neither cold nor hot, it will come to passe, that I shall spue thee out of my mouth.

17 For thou sayest, I am rich and increased with goods, and haue nothing neede, and knowest not how thou wast rich, and miserable, and poore, and blinde, and naked.

18 I counsell thee to buy of me gold tried by the fire, that thou mayest bee made rich, and white raiment, that thou mayest bee clothed, and that thy filthy nakednesse doe not appeare: and I anonit thine eyes with eye saluice, that thou mayest see.

19 As many as I loue, I rebuke and chasten: bee zealous therefore and amend.

20 Behold, I stand at the doore, and knocke. If any man heare my voyce and open the doore, I will come in vnto him, and will sup with him, and he with me.

21 To him that ouercommeth, will I graunte to sit with me in my throne, euen as I ouercame, and sit with my Father in his throne.

CHAP. IIIII.

The vision of the Maiestie of God. 2 He seeth the throne & one sitting vpon it. 3 and 24 seats about it with 24 elders sitting vpon them, and foure beasts praying God day and night.

After this I looked, and behold, a doore was open in heauen, and the first voyce which I heard, was as it were of a trumpet talking with me, saying, Come vnto hither, and I will shew thee things which must be done hereafter.

2 And immediately I was raiued in the spirit, and behold, a throne was set in heauen, and one sat vpon the throne.

3 And hee that sat, was to looke vpon like vnto a Jasper stone, & a Sardine, and there was a rainbow round about the throne in sight like vnto a Emeraude.

4 And round about the throne were foure and twenty seates, and vpon the seates I saw foure and twenty Elders sitting, clothed in white rayment, and had on their heades crownes of gold.

5 And out of the throne proceeded lightnings, and thundrings, and voyces, and there were seuen lamps of fire burning before the throne, which are the seuen spirits of God.

6 And before the throne there was a sea of glasse like vnto crystal: & in the midst of the throne, and round about the throne were foure beasts full of eyes before and behinde.

7 And the first beast was like a lion, and the second beast like a calfe, and the third beast had a face as a man, and the fourth beast was like a flying Eagle.

8 And the foure beasts had each one of them sixe wings about him: and they were full of eyes within, and they created no day nor night, saying, Holy, holy, holy, Lord God Almighty, which was, and which is, and which is to come.

9 And when those beasts gaue glory, and honour, and thanks to him that sat on the throne, which liueth for euer and euer.

10 The foure and twentie Elders fell downe before him that sat on the throne, and worshipped him, that liueth for euermore, and cast their crownes before the throne, saying,

CHAP. V.

1 He seeth the Lambe opening the booke, 8. 14 And therefore the foure beasts, the 24 Elders and the Angels praise the Lambe, and doe him worship, 9 For their redemption and other benefites.

And I saw in the right hand of him that sat vpon the throne, a Booke written within, and on the backeside, sealed with 6 seuen seales,

2 And I saw a strong Angell, which preached with a loud voyce, Who is worthy to open the Booke, and to loofe the seales thereof?

3 And no man in heauen, nor in earth, neither vnder the earth was able to open the Booke, neither to looke thereon.

4 Then I wept much, because no man was found worthy to open, and to reade the Booke, neither to looke thereon.

5 And one of the Elders sayd vnto mee, Weepe not: behold, the * Lion which is of the tribe of Iuda, the roote of Dauid, hath obteyned to open the Booke, and to looke the seuen seales thereof.

6 Then I beheld, and loe, in the middes of the throne, and of the foure beasts, and in the middes of the Elders, stood a * Lambe, as though hee had bene killed, which had 4 seuen hornes, and 6 seuen eyes, which are the seuen spirits of God, sent into all the world.

7 And he came and tooke the booke out of the right hand of him that sat vpon the throne.

8 And when hee had taken the Booke, the foure beasts, and the foure and twenty Elders * fell downe before the Lambe, hauing eery one harpes and golden vialles full of odours, which are the 2 prayers of Saints.

9 And they sung a new song, saying, Thou art worthy to take the Booke, and to open the seales thereof, because thou wast killed, and hast * redeemed vs to God by thy blood out of eery kindred, and tongue, and people, and nation,

10 And hast made vs vnto our GOD * Kings and Priests, and we shall * reigne on the earth.

11 Then I beheld, and I heard the voyce of many Angels round about the throne, and about the beasts and the Elders, and there were thousand thousands,

12 Saying with a loud voyce, * Worthy is the * Lambe that was killed, to receive power, and riches, and wisdom, and strength, and honour, and glorie, and prayse.

13 And all the creatures which are in heauen, and on the earth, and vnder the earth, and in the sea, & all that are in them, heard I saying, Praise, and honour, and glorie, and power bee vnto him, that sitteth vpon the throne, and vnto the Lambe for euermore.

14 And the foure beasts said, Amen, and the foure & twentie Elders fell downe, and worshipped him that lieth for euermore.

CHAP. VI.

The Lambe openeth the sixe seales, and many things follow the opening thereof, so that this concerneth a generall prophecie to the end of the world.

A fter, I behelde when the Lambe had opened one * of the seales, and I heard one of the foure beasts say, as it were the * noyse of thunder, Come and see.

2 Therefore I beheld, and loe, there was a * white horse, and he that * sat on him, had a bowe, and a crowne was given vnto him; and he went forth conquering, that he might ouercome.

3 And when hee had opened the second seale, I heard the second beast say, Come and see.

4 And there went out another horse, that was * red, and power was given to him that * sat thereon, to take peace from the earth, and that they should kill one another, and there was given vnto him a great sword.

5 And when hee had opened the third seale, I heard the third beast say, Come and see. Then I beheld, and loe, a blacke horse, and he that sat on him, had balances in his hand.

6 And I heard a voyce in the middes of the foure beasts say, A * measure of wheate for a * peny, and three measures of barley for a peny, and oyle, and wine hurt thou not.

7 And when hee had opened the fourth seale, I heard the voyce of the fourth beast say, Come and see.

8 And I looked, and beholde, a * pale horse, and his name that sat on him was Death, and Hell followed after him, and power was given vnto them ouer the fourth part of the earth, to kill with sword, & with hunger, and with death, and with the beasts of the earth.

9 And when hee had opened the * first seale, I saw vnder the altar * the Soules of them that were killed for the word of God, and for the testimony which they maintained.

10 And they cryed with a loude voyce, saying, How long, Lord, holy and true! dost thou iudge & avenge our blood on them that dwell on earth?

11 And long white robes were giuen vnto eery one, and it was said vnto them, that they should rest for a little season, vntill their fellow seruants, and their brethren that should be killed euen as they were, were fulfilled.

12 And I behelde when hee had opened the first seale, and loe, there was a great * earthquake, and the * sunne was as blacke as * sackcloth of haire, and the * moone was like blood.

CHAP. VII.

4 9 He seeth the seruants of God sealed in their foreheads out of all nations and people, 15 which though they suffer trouble, yet the Lambe sealeth them, leadeth them to the fountaines of liuing water, 17 and God shall wipe away all teares from their eyes.

And after that, I saw foure angels stand on the foure corners of the earth, holding the foure 4 winds of the 4 earth, that the winds should not blow on the earth, neither on the sea, neither on any 4 tree.

2 And I sawe another 4 Angel come by from the East, which had the seale of the liuing God, and hee cryed with a loud voyce to the foure Angels to whom power was giuen to hurt the earth, and the sea,

4 And I heard the number of them, which were sealed, and there were sealed san hundredeth and foure and forty thousand of all the tribes of the children of Israel.

9 After these things I behelde, and loe, a great multitude, which no man could number, of all nations, and kindreds, and people, and tongues, stood before the throne, and before the Lambe, clothed with long 4 white robes, and 4 palmes in their hands.

10 And they cryed with a loud voyce, saying, 4 Saluation commeth of our God, that sitteth vpon the throne, and of the Lambe.

11 And all the Angels stood round about the throne, and about the Elders, & the foure beasts, & they fell before the throne on their faces, and worshipped God, 12 Saying, Amen. Praise and gloiy, and wildome, and thanks, and honour, and power, and might be vnto our God for euermore, Amen.

13 And one of the Elders spake, saying vnto me, What are these which are arrayed in long white robes? and whence came they?

14 And I laide vnto him, Lord, thou knowest. And he laide to me, These are they which came out of great tribulation, and haue washed their long robes, and haue made their long robes white in the 4 blood of the Lambe.

4 And the smoke of the odours with the prayers of the Saints, went vp before God, out of the Angels hand.

5 And the Angel tooke the censer, and filled it with fire of the altar, and cast it into the earth, and there were voyces, and thundings, and lightnings, & earthquake.

6 Then the seven Angels, which had the seven trumpets, prepared themselves to blow the trumpets.

7 So the first Angel blew the trumpet, and there was haile and fire, mingled with blood, and they were cast into the earth, and the third part of trees was burnt, and all greene grass was burnt.

8 And the second Angel blew the trumpet, and as it were a great mountaine, burning with fire, was cast into the sea, and the third part of the sea became blood.

9 And the third part of the creatures, which were in the sea, and had life, died, and the third part of ships were destroyed.

10 Then the third Angel blew the trumpet, and there fell a great starre from heauen burning like a torch, and it fell into the third part of the riuers, and into the fountaines of waters.

11 And the name of the starre is called Wormewood: therefore the third part of the waters became wormewood, and many men died of the waters, because they were made bitter.

12 And the fourth Angel blew the trumpet, and the third part of the Sunne was smitten, and the third part of the moone, and the third part of the stars, so that the third part of them was darkened: and the day was smitten, that the third part of it could not shine, and likewise the night.

13 And I behelde, and heard one Angel flying thorow the middes of heauen, saying with a loud voyce, Woe, woe, woe, to the inhabitants of the earth, because of the soundes to come of the trumpet of the three Angels, which were yet to blow the trumpets.

14 And I behelde, and heard one Angel saying thorow the middes of heauen, saying with a loud voyce, Woe, woe, woe, to the inhabitants of the earth, because of the soundes to come of the trumpet of the three Angels, which were yet to blow the trumpets.

Psal. 115. 4 and 135. 15.

is the Angel of the bottomlesse pit, whose name in Hebrew, is Abbaddon & in Greeke he is named Apollyon.

12 One woe is fall, and beholde, yet two woes come after this.

13 ¶ Then the first Angel blew y trumpet, & I heard a voice from the four corners of the golden altar, which is before God, 14 Saying to the first Angel, which had the trumpet, Loose the four Angels which are bound in the great river Euphrates.

15 And the four Angels were loosed, which were prepared at an<sup>o</sup> houre, at a day, at a moneth, and at a yere, to slay the third part of men.

16 And the number of horsemen of warre were twenty thousand times ten thousand: for I heard the number of them.

17 And thus I saw the horses in a vision, and them that sat on them, having fiery habergions, and of Jacinth, and of hyacinth, and of the heades of the horses were as the heades of lions: & out of their mouthes went fourth fire and smoke, and hyacinth.

18 ¶ Of these thre was the third part of men killed, that is, of the fire, & of the smoke, and of the hyacinth which came out of their mouthes.

19 For their power is in their mouthes, and in their tayles: for their tayles were like unto serpents, and had heads, wherewith they hurt.

20 And the remnant of the men which were not killed by these plagues, repented not of the workes of their handes that they should not worship devills, & idols of golde, and of silver, and of brass, and of stone, and of wood, which neither can see, neyther heare, no go.

21 Also they repented not of their murder, and of their forcery, neither of their fornication, nor of their theft.

1 The Angel hath the booke open. 6 He sweareth there shall be no more time. 9 He giveth the booke unto Iohn, which eateth it up.

¶ I sawe another mighty Angel come downe from heauen, clothed with a cloud, and the seven raynebow upon his head, and his face was as the sunne, & his feete as pillars of fire.

2 And he had in his hand a little booke open, and he put his right foot upon the sea, and his left on the earth,

3 And cried with a loud voyce, as when a lion roareth: and when he had cried, seven thunders uttered their voyces.

4 And when the seven thunders had uttered their voyces, I was about to write: but I heard a voice from heauen, saying unto mee, * Seal by those things which the seven thunders haue spoken, and write them not.

5 And the Angel which I saw stand upon the sea, and upon the earth, lift by his hand to heauen,

6 And swaie by him that liueth for evermore, which created heauen, and the things that therein are, and the earth, & the things that therein are, and the sea, and the things which therein are, that time should be no more.

7 But in the dayes of the voyce of the seventh Angel, when he shall begin to blowe the trumpet, even the mystery of God shall be finished, as hee hath declared to his seruants the Prophets.

8 And the voyce which I heard from heauen, spake unto mee againe, and said, Goe and take the little booke which is open in the hand of the Angel, which standeth upon the sea and upon the earth.

9 So I went unto the Angel, and said to him, Give me the little booke. And he sayd unto me, * Take it, and eate it up, and it shall make thy belly bitter, but it shall be in thy mouth as sweet as honey.

10 Then I tooke the little booke out of the Angels hand, and ate it up, and it was in my mouth as sweet as honey: but when I had eaten it, my belly was bitter.

11 And he sayd unto me, Thou must prophesse againe among the people and nations, and tongues, and to many kings.

Ezek. 3. 1. o Which signifieth that the Ministers ought to receive the word into their hearts, & to have graue and deepe iudgement, and diligently to study it and with zeale to utter it. p Signifying, that albeit that the minister haue consolation by the word of God, yet shall he haue fore and grievous enemies, which shall be troublesome unto him. q Not only meaning in his life time, but that this booke after his death should be as a preaching unto all nations.

CHAPTER XII.

1 There appeareth in heauen a woman clothed with the sunne. & Michael fighteth with the Dragon, which persecuteth the woman. The victory is gotten, to the comfort of the faithfull.

And there appeared a great wonder in heauen: A woman clothed with the sunne, and the moone was vnder her feete, and vpon her heade a crowne of twelue starres.

2 And shee was with childe, and cryed traouling in birth, and was payned readye to be deliuered.

3 And there appeared another wonder in heauen: for behold, a great red Dragon hauing seven heads, and ten hornes, and seuen crownes vpon his heads:

4 And his taile drew the third part of the starres of heauen, and cast them to the earth. And the Dragon stood before the woman, which was ready to bee deliuered, to deuoure her childe when shee had brought it forth.

5 So shee brought forth a man childe, which should rule all nations with a rod of iron: and her foune was taken vp vnto God and to his throne.

6 And the woman fled into a wilderness, where she hath a place prepared of God, that they should feede her there a thousand, two hundredeth and threescore dayes.

7 And there was a battell in heauen, Michael and his Angels fought against the Dragon, and the Dragon fought and his Angels.

8 But they prevailed not, neither was their place found any more in heauen.

9 And the great Dragon that old serpent called the deuill and Satan, was cast out, which deceiveth all the worlde: hee was 10 Then I heard a loud voice, saying, Now is salvation in heaven, and strength, and the kingdom of our God, and the power of his Christ: for the accuser of our brethren is cast down, which accused them before our God day and night.

11 But they overcame him by the blood of the Lamb, and by the word of their testimony, and they loved not their lives unto the death.

12 Therefore rejoice, ye heavens, and ye that dwell in them. Alas to the inhabitants of the earth, and of the sea: for the Devil is come downe vnto you, which hath great wrath, knowing that hee hath but a short time.

13 And when the dragon saw that hee was cast vnto the earth, he persecuted the woman which had brought forth the man child.

14 But to the woman were giuen two wings of a great Eagle, that she might flee into the wilderness, into her place, where shee is nourished for a time, and times, and halfe a time, from the presence of the serpent.

15 And the serpent cast out of his mouth water after the woman like a flood, that hee might cause her to be caried away of the flood.

16 But the earth holpe the woman, and the earth opened her mouth, and swallowed by the flood, which the dragon had cast out of his mouth.

17 Then the dragon was wroth with the woman, and went to make warre with the remnant of her seed, which keepe the commandments of God, and haue the testimony of Iesus Christ.

And I saw a beast rise out of the Sea, hauing seuen heades, and ten hornes, and vpon his hornes were tenne crownes, and vpon his heades the name of blasphemie.

2 And the beast which I saw, was like a leopard, and his feet like a bears, and his mouth as the mouth of a lion: and the dragon gaue him his power, & his throne, and great authoritie.

3 And I saw one of his heads as it were wounded to death, but his deadly wound was healed, and all the world wondered and followed the beast.

4 And they worshipped the dragon which gaue power vnto the beast, and they worshipped the beast, saying, Who is like vnto the beast? who is able to warre with him?

5 And there was giuen vnto him a mouth that spake great things and blasphemies, and power was giuen vnto him, to doe two and forty moneths.

6 And hee opened his mouth vnto blasphemie against God, to blaspheme his Name and his tabernacle, and them that dwell in heauen.

7 And it was giuen to him to make war with the Saints, and to ouercome them, and power was giuen him ouer euery kinred, and tongue, and nation.

15 And it was permitted to him to giue a spirit vnto the image of the beast, so that the image of the beast should speake, and should cause that as many as would not worship the image of the beast, should be killed.

C H A P. XV.

1 Seven Angels haue the seven last plagues.
 3 The song of them that overcome the beast. 7 The seven vials full of Gods wrath.

And I sawe another signe in heauen great and maruelous, seven Angels hauing the seven last plagues: for by them is fulfilled the wrath of God.

2 And I saw as it were a glasse sea mingled with fire, and them that had gotten victory of the beast, and of his image, and of his marke, and of the number of his name, stand at the glasse sea, hauing the harpes of God.

3 And they sing the song of Moyses the seruant of God, and the song of the Lambe, saying, Great & marueylous are thy workes, Lord God Almighty: iust and true are thy wayes, king of Saints.

4 Also shall not feare they Lord, and glorifie thy Name: for thou onely art holy, and all nations shall come and worship before thee: for thy iudgements are made manifest.

5 And after that I looked, and beholde, the Temple of the tabernacle of testimony was open in heauen.

6 And the seven Angels came out of the temple, which had the seven plagues, clothed in pure and bright linnen, and hauing their breasts girded with golden girdles.

7 And one of the foure beasts came vnto the seven Angels seven golden vials full of the wrath of God, which liuely for euernore.

1 The Angels poure out their vials full of wrath, 6 And what plagues follow thereof. 15 Admonitions to take heed and watch.

And I heard a great voyce out of the Temple, saying to the seven Angels, Go your wayes, and poure out the seven vials of the wrath of God vpon the earth.

a This is the fourth vision, which containeth the doctrine of Gods iudgements for the destruction of the wicked and comfort of the godly.

b Measing an infinite number of Gods ministers, which had infinite maners and sorts of punishments.

c Signifying, this brittle & inconsistent world mixt with fire, that is, troubles and afflictions: but the Saints of God overcome them all, and sing diuine songs vnto God, by whose power they get the victory.

Ex-d 15. 1. Psal. 145 17. Oracles and deedes. Iere. 10. 7.

d Which is to declare that Gods iudgements are cleare, iust and without spot. e As ready to execute the vengeance of God. f By the foure beasts as a meane all the creatures of God, which willingly serue him for the punishment of the infidels. g God giueth vs full entry into his Church by destroying his enemies: for the Saints cannot clearely knowe all Gods iudgements before the full end of all things.

a This was like the sixt plague of Egypt, which was forces and toyles, or pockes: and this reigneth commonly among Canons, Monkes, Friers, Nunnes, Priests, and such filthy vermine which beare the marke of the beast, which had the marke of the beast, and vpon them: which wrought by his image.

3 And the second Angel poured out his vial vpon the sea, and it became as the blood of a dead man: and euery liuing thing died in the sea.

4 And the third Angel poured out his vial vpon the riuers and fountaines of waters, and they became blood.

5 And I heard the Angel of the waters say, Loide, thou art iust, which art, and which wait, and holy, because thou hast iudged these things.

6 For they shed the blood of the Saints, and Prophets, and therefore hast thou giuen them blood to drinke: for they are worthy.

7 And I heard another out of the Sanctuary say, Euen so, Loide God almighty, true and righteous are thy iudgements.

8 And the fourth Angel poured out his viall on the Sunne, and it was giuen vnto him to torment men with a heate of fire.

9 And men boyled in great heate, and blasphemed the Name of God, which hath power ouer these plagues, and they repented not to giue him glory.

10 And the fifth Angel poured out his viall vpon the throne of the beast, and his kingdom was darked, and they gnawe their tongues for sorrow.

11 And blasphemed the God of heauen for their paines, and for their sores, and repented not of their workes.

12 And the sixt Angel poured out his viall vpon the great riuer Euphrates, and the water thereof dried vp, that the way of the Kings of the East shoulde bee prepared.

13 And I sawe three unclean spirits like frogges come out of the mouth of the dragon, and out of the mouth of the beast, and out of the mouth of the false prophet.

14 For they are the spirits of devils, working miracles, to goe vnto the Kings of the earth, and of the whole world, to gather them to the battell of that great day of the God Almighty.

c The greatest part of the world hath been abused and seduced by this spiritual whoredome.

d When God threateth the wicked, he ever comforteth and counselleth his what they ought to doe, that is, that they doe not communicate with the sinnes of the wicked.

e The Greeke word is, that her sinnes fo follow one another, and so rise one after another, that they grow to such an heape, that at length they touch the very heavens.

o And so shew signes of great sorow.

3 For all nations haue drunken of the wine of the wrath of her fornication, and the Kings of the earth haue committed fornication with her, & the merchants of the earth are waxed rich of the abundance of her pleasures.

4 And I heard another voice from heauen say, 4 See out of her my people, that yee be not partakers in her sinnes, and that yee receive not of her plagues.

5 For her sinnes are come vp vnto heauen, & God hath remembered her iniquities.

6 6 Reward her, euen as she hath rewarded you, and giue her double according to her workes: and in the cup that she hath filled to you, fill her the double.

7 Inasmuch as she glorified her selfe, and liued in pleasure, so much giue you to her torment and sorrow: for she saith in her heart, 7 I sit being a quene, and am no widow, and shall see no mourning.

8 Therefore shall her plagues come at one day, death, and sorow, and famine, and she shall be burnt with fire: for strong is the Lord God which will condemne her.

9 And the Kings of the earth shall bewaile her, and lament for her, which haue committed fornication, and liued in pleasure with her, when they shall see the smoke of her burning,

10 And shall stand afarre off for feare of her torment, saying, Alas, alas, the great citie Bablon, the mighty citie: for in one houre is thy iudgement come.

11 And the merchants of the earth shall weepe and waile ouer her: for no man buyeth her ware any more.

12 The ware of gold & silver, and of precious stones, and of pearles, and of fine linen, and of purple, & of scarlet, and of karkel, and of all manner of Tyne wood, and of all vessels of yuooy, and of all vessels of most precious wood, and of ysaie, and of iron, and of marble,

13 And of cynamom, and odours, &ointments, and frankincense, and wine, and oyle, and fine flour, and wheat, and beasts, and sheepe, and horses, and charrets, and seruantes, and soules of men.

14 And the apples that thy soule lusted after, are departed from thee, and all things which were fat and excellent, are departed from thee, and thou shalt find them no more.

15 The merchants of these things which were waxed rich, shall stand afarre off from her, for feare of her torment, weeping and waiting,

16 And saying, Alas, alas, the great citie, that was clothed in fine linnen, and purple, and scarlet, and gilded with golde, and precious stones, and pearles.

17 For in one houre so great riches are come to desolation. And every shipmaster, and all the people that occupie shippes, and shipmen, and whosoever traualle on the sea, shall stand afarre off, 18 And crye, when they see the smoke of her burning, saying, What citie was like vnto this great citie?

19 And they shall cast dust on their heads, and crye weeping & wailling, and say, Alas, alas, the great citie, wherein were made rich all that had shippes on the sea by her commerce: for in one houre she is made desolate.

20 O heauen, reioyce of her, and yee holy Apostles and Prophets: for God hath requited your iudgement on her.

21 When a mighty Angel tooke by a stone, like a great millstone, and cast it into the sea, saying, 21 With such violence shall the great citie Bablon be cast, & shea be found no more.

22 And the voice of harpers, and musicians, and of pipers, and trumpeters shall be heard no more in thee, and no craftsman, of whatsoeuer craft he be, shall be found any more in thee: and the sound of a millstone shall be heard no more in thee.

23 And the light of a candle shall shine no more in thee: & the voyce of the bidgerome and of the bide shall be heard no more in thee: for thy merchants were the great wien of the earth: and with thine enchantments were deceiued all nations.

24 And in her was found the blood of the Prophets, and of the Saints, and of all that were slaine vpon the earth.

CHAP. XIX.

1 Praises are giuen vnto God for iudging the whore, and for auenging the blood of his seruants.
2 The Angel will not be worshipped. 3 The foules and birds are called to the slaughter.

And after these things I heard a great voyce of a great multitude in heauen, saying, 4 Hallelu-iah, saluation and gloxy, and honour, and power bee to the Lord our God.

2 For true and righteous are his iudgements: for hee hath condemned the great whore which did corrupt the earth with her fornication, and hath auenged the blood of his seruants, shed by her hand.

3 And againe they sayd, Hallelu-iah: and her smoke rose vp for euermore.

4 And the foure and twenty Elders, and the foure beasts fell downe, and worshipped God that sat on the throue, saying, Amen, Hallelu-iah.

5 Then a voyce came out of the throue, saying, Praise our God, all ye his seruants, and ye that feare him, both small and great.

6 And I heard like a voyce of a great multitude, and as the voyce of many waters, and as the voyce of strong thundings, saying, Hallelu-iah: for our Lord God almighty hath reigned.

7 Let vs bee glad and reioyce, and giue gloxy to him: for the mariage of the Lambes is come, and his wife hath made her selfe ready.

8 And to her was granted, that she should be arayed with pure fine linnen, and fynyng: for the fine linnen is the righteousnesse of Saints.

9 Then shee sayde vnto mee, Write, Blessed are they which are called vnto the complished when we shall be ioyned with our head, & that is, the Angel. Math. 22. 2. chap. 14. 13. h Whom God of free mercie calleth to be partakers of his heavenly graces, and deliuereth from the filthy pollutions of Antichrist.

q It shall not be like to other cities which may he builded againe, but it shall be destroyed without mercie, r The Romish prelates and merchants of soules are as Kings end princes: so that their couetousnesse and pride must be punished: secondly their crafts and deccits: and thirdly their cruelty, a That is, praise ye God, because the Antichrist & all wickednes is taken out of the world, b So that all the Saints are confirmed, and ought nothing to doubt of the saluation of the faithfull, c The wicked shall be burned in continuall fire, that neuer shall be extinguished, d By the foure beasts are meant all creatures.

Lambs supper, and he sayd vnto mee, These words of God are true.

10 And I fell before his feet to worship him; but he sayd vnto mee, See thou doe it not: I am thy fellow seruant and one of thy brethren, which haue the testimony of Iesus, Whom I worship: for the testimony of Iesus, is the spirit of prophetic.

11 And I saw heauen open, and beholde, a white cloud, & he that sat vpon him, was called white faithfull and true, and he iudgeth and fighteth righteously.

12 And his eyes were as a flame of fire, and on his head were many crownes; and he had a name written, that no man knew but himselfe.

13 And he was clothed with a garment dyed in a blood, and his name is called, THE WORD OF GOD.

14 And the warriors which were in heauen, followed him vpon white horses, clothed with fine linnen white and pure.

15 And out of his mouth went out a sharpe sword, that with it he should smite the heathen: for hee shall rule them with a rod of iron: for hee it is that treadeth the winepresse of the fiercenesse and wrath of almighty God.

16 And hee hath vpon his garment, and vpon his thigh a name written, THE KING OF KINGS, AND LORD OF LORDS.

17 And I sawe an Angel stand in the sunne, who cried with a loude voyce, saying to all the foules that did flie by the mides of heauen, Come and gather youe selues together vnto the supper of the great God,

18 That yee may eate the flesh of kings and the flesh of hie captaines, and the flesh of mighty men, and the flesh of horses, and of them that sit on them, and the flesh of all free men and bondmen, and of small and great.

19 And I saw the beast, and the Kings of the earth, and their warriors gathered together to make battell against him that sat on the horse, and against his souldiers.

20 But the beast was taken, and with him that false prophet that wrought miracles before him, whereby hee deceiued them that receiued the beasts marke, and them that worshipped his image. These both were aloue cast into a lake of fire burning with brimstone.

21 And the remnant were slaine with the sword of him that sitteth vpon the horse, which commeth out of his mouth, and all the foules were filled full with their flesh.

2 Satan being bound at a certaine time, 7 And after let loose, vexeth the Church grievously. 10. 14 And after the world is iudged, hee and his are cast into the lake of fire.

And I saw an Angel come downe from heauen, hauing the key of the bottomlesse pit, and a great chaine in his hand.

2 And hee tooke the dragon that old serpent, which is the deuill and Satan, and he bound him a thousand yeeres,

3 And cast him into the bottomlesse pit, and he shut him vp, and sealed the doore vpon him, that hee should deceiue the people no more, till the thousand yeeres were fulfilled: for after that he must bee loosed for a litle season.

4 And I saw seates: and they sat vpon them, and iudgement was giuen vnto them, and I sawe the foules of them that were beheaded for the witness of Iesus, and for the worde of God, and which did not worship the beast, neither his image, neither had taken his marke vpon their foreheads, or on their hands: and they liued, and reigned with Christ a thousand yeere.

5 But the rest of the dead men shall not liue againe, vntill the thousand yeeres be finished: this is the first resurrection.

6 Blessed and holy is hee that hath part in the first resurrection: for on such the second death hath no power: but they shall bee the Priests of God and of Christ, and shall reigne with him a thousand yeere.

7 And when the thousand yeeres are expired, Satan shall bee loosed out of his prison.

8 And shal goe out to deceiue the people, which are in the foure quarters of the earth: euen Gog and Magog, to gather them together to battell, whose number is as the sand of the sea.

9 And they went by into the plaine of the earth, which compassed the ents of the Saints about, and the beloued citie: but fire came downe from God out of heauen, and deuoured them.

10 And the deuill that deceiued them, was cast into a lake of fire and brimstone, where the beast and the false prophet shall bee tormented euen day and night for euermore.

11 And I saw a great white throne, and one that sat on it, from whose face shined away both the earth and heauen, and their place was no more found.

12 And I saw the dead, both great and small stand before God: and the books from sinne in newnesse of life. i The death of the soule, which is eternall damnation. k Shall be true partakers of Christ and of his dignitie. l That is, for euer. m After that the chaine is broken, and the true preaching of Gods word is corrupt. n By them are meant diuers and strange enemies of the Church of God, as the Turke, the Saracens, and others, reade Ezek. 38. 2. and 39. 1. 2. by whom the Church of God should be grieuously tormented. o Which was Christ prepared to iudgement with glory and maiesty. p Euery mans conscience is as a booke wherein his deedes are written, which shall appeare when God openeth the booke, a This Angel representeth the order of the Apostles, whose vocation and office was from heauen: or may signifie Christ which should treade downe the serpents head, b Hereby hee meaneth the Gospel whereby hell is shut vp to the faithfull, and Satan is chained that he cannot hurt them, yea, and the ministers hereby open it to the infidels, but through their impietic and stubbornnesse, c That is, from Christs nauitie vnto the time of Pope Syluester the second: so long the pure doctrine should after a fort remaine.

d After this terme Satan had greater power then he had before.

e The glory and authoritie of the Saints suffer for Christs sake.

which is the booke of life, and the dead were iudged of those things which were witten in the bookes, according to their workes.

13 And the sea gaue vp her dead, which were in her, and death and hell deliuered by the dead, which were in them: and they were iudged every man according to their workes.

14 And death and hell were cast into the lake of fire: this is the second death.

15 And whosoever was not found written in the booke of life, was cast into the lake of fire.

3 24 The blessed estate of the godly, 8 27 And the miserable condon of the wicked. 11 The description of the heavenly Ierusalem, and of the wife of the Lambe.

And I saw a new heauen, and a newe earth: for the first heauen, and the first earth were passed away, and there was no more sea.

2 And I John saw the holy citie newe Ierusalem come downe from God out of heauen, prepared as a bride trummed for her hulband.

3 And I heard a great voice out of heauen, saying, Behold the Tabernacle of God is with men, and hee will dwell with them:
and they shall bee his people, and God himselfe shall be their God with them.

4 And God shall wipe away all teares from their eyes: and there shall bee no more death, neither sorrow, neither crying, neither shall there bee any more paine: for the first things are passed.

5 And hee that sat vpon the throne, said, Behold, I make all things new: and hee said vnto me, Write: for these words are faithfull and true.

6 And hee said vnto me, It is done. I am Alpha and Omega, the beginning and the end. I will giue to him that is athirst, of the well of the water of life freely.

7 Hee that ouercometh, shall inherite all things, and I will bee his God, and hee shall bee my sonne.

8 But the seafearefull, and unbeleeuing, and the abominable, and murderers, and whoremongers, and forcerers, and idolaters, and all iuars shall haue their part in the lake, which burneth with fire and brimstone, which is the second death.

9 And there came vnto me one of the seuen Angels, which had the seuen vials full of the seuen last plagues, and talked with mee, saying, Come: I will shew thee the bride,
the Lambees wife.

10 And hee caried mee away in the spirit to a great and an hie mountaine, and hee shewed me the great citie, holy Ierusalem, descending out of heauen from God,

11 Wanting the glorie of God: and her shining was like vnto a stone most precious, as a Jasper stone, cleare as Crystall,

12 And had a great wall and hie, and had twelue gates, and at the gates twelue Angels, and the names witten, which are the twelue tribes of the children of Israel.

13 On the East parte there were three gates, and on the Northside three gates, and on the Southside three gates, and on the Westside three gates.

14 And the wall of the citie had twelue foundations, and in them the names of the Lambees twelue Apostles.

15 And he that talked with me had a golden reed to measure the citie withall, and the gates thereof, and the wall thereof.

16 And the citie lay foure square, and the length is as large as the breadth of it, and hee measured the citie with the reede, twelue thousand furlongs: and the length, and the breadth, and the height of it are equall.

17 And hee measured the wall thereof, an hundred, fourtie and foure cubites, by the measure of man, that is, of the Angel.

18 And the building of the wall of it was of Jasper: and the citie was pure golde like vnto cleare glasse.

19 And the foundations of the wall of the citie were garnished with all manner of precious stones: the first foundation was Jasper: the second of Saphir: the third of a Chalcedonie: the fourth of an Em-eraude:

20 The fifth of a Sardour: the sixth of a Sardius: the seventh of a Chrysolite: the eight of a Beryl: the ninth of a Topaz: the tenth of a Chrysolophaus: the eleuenth of a Iacynth: the twelfth an Amethyst.

21 And the twelue gates were twelue pearles, and euery gate is of one pearle, and the street of the citie is pure golde, as shining glasse.

22 And I saw no Temple therein: for the Lord God Almighty and the Lambe are the Temple of it.

23 And the citie hath no neede of the Sunne, neither of the moone to shine in it:
for the glorie of God did light it: and the Lambe is the light of it.

24 And the people which are saued, shall walke in the light of it: and the Kings of the earth shall bring their glorie and honour vnto it.

25 And the gates of it shall not bee shut by day: for there shall be no night there.

26 And the glorie and honour of the Gentiles shall be brought vnto it.

27 And there shall enter into it none vncleane thing, neither whatsoeuer worketh abomination or lies: but they which are witten in the Lambees Booke of life.

g This is not then as the other propheties which were commanded to be hid till the time appointed, as in Daniel 12. 4. because that these things should be quickly accomplished, and did now beginne.

As he shewed mee a pure river of water of life, cleare as crystal, proceeding out of the throne of God, and of the Lambe.

2 In the brimmes of the Tree of it, and of either side of the river, was the tree of life, which bare twelue manner of fruites, and gaue fruite euery moneth: and the leaues of the tree serued to heale the nations with.

3 And there shall be no more curse, but the throne of God and of the Lambe shall bee in it, and his seruants shall serue him,

4 And they shall see his face, and his name shall be in their foreheades.

5 And there shall be no night there, and they neede no candle, neither light of the Sunne: for the Lord God giveth them light, and they shall reigne for euermore.

6 And he said vnto me, These words are faithfull and true: and the Lord God of the holy Prophets sent his Angel to shew vnto his seruants the things which must shortly be fulfilled.

7 Behold, I come shortly. Blessed is hee that keepeth the wordes of the prophesie of this booke.

8 And I am Iohn, which saw and heard these things: and when I had heard and seene, I fell downe to worship before the feete of the Angel, which shewed mee these things.

9 But hee said vnto me, See thou doe it not: for I am thy fellow seruant, and of thy brethren the Prophets, and of them which keepe the wordes of this booke: worshippe God.

10 And hee said vnto me, Seale not the wordes of the prophesie of this booke: for the time is at hand.

11 He that is vnjust, let him be vnjust still:

and he which is filthy, let him be filthy still: and hee that is righteous, let him be righteous still: and hee that is holy, let him be holy still.

12 And behold, I come shortly, and my reward is with me, to giue euery man according as his worke shall be.

13 I am Alpha and Omega, the beginning and the end, the first and the last.

15 For without shall bee dogges and enchantera, and whozomongers, and murdurers, and idolaters, and whosoever loneth or maketh lyes.

16 I Iesus haue sent mine Angel, to testifie vnto you these things in the Churches: I am the roote and the generation of Dauid, and the bright morning starre.

17 And the Spirit and the Bride say, Come. And let him that heareth, say, Come: And let him that is athirst, come: and let whosoever will, take of the water of life freely.

18 For I protest vnto euery man that heareth the words of the prophesie of this booke, * If any man shall adde vnto these things, God shall adde vnto him the plagues that are written in this booke.

19 And if any man shall diminish of the words of the booke of this prophesie, God shall take away his part out of the booke of life, and out of the holy Citie, and from those things which are written in this booke.

20 He which testifieth these things, saith, Surely, I come quickly. Amen. Euen so come, Lord Iesus.

THE PREFACE TO THE
Christian Reader, touching the two Alphabets ensweing.

GOOD Christian Reader, because thou mayest enjoy and reape the profite of these two Alphabets of directions vnto Common places hereafter following, which I haue in maner of a brieue Concordance, or large & ample Index, collected, digested, and caused to be imprinted for thy comoditie: I thought it not amisse to aduertise thee somewhat touching the principall contents, vse, and commoditie of them. Wherefore be it known vnto thee, that in the first of the said Alphabets, I haue together placed by themselues in a maner, all the strange names and wordes which are scatteringly to bee found here and there throughout the whole Bible, remaining written in the Hebrewes, Chaldean, Syrian, Greeke, or Latine languages: to the ende thou mayst by that meanes, learne to be conduced vnto so much of the interpretation, Historie, Common places, and knowledge of them, and euery of them, as I trust thou shalt thinke needefull. And for that in diuers translations these strange names & words are written diuersly, I haue, in respect thereof, only in this Alphabet, followed the Geneua translation, as most allowed in that behalfe, and yet haue placed in the Margent thereof how in writing, other Translations differ from the same: to the end not only such corruptions as are found for want of y<sup>e</sup> true Orthographic of them, may appear vnto those that are skilful in those languages, to be amended, when time shall minister occasion (as some of them are already) but also the vnskilful Readers be not defrauded of such commodity, as might grow vnto them thereby, especially if they should haue occasion to looke for any word in the same Alphabet, after the same maner of writing, that they had seene or read it in other Copies, and not finde the same accordingly. Secondly, in the other of the said Alphabets, I haue likewise by themselues placed all, and as many proper and vsual English words, as are contained in the same Bible, conducing to the finding out of the most fittest sentences, and best common places, tending to the prouing or verifying of any article and doctrine, concerning our Christian faith & religion, or belonging to any other godly or necessary instruction: so as if thou wouldest vnderstand what is to be learned in the Scriptures touching God or his power, his wisdom, or his loue, his mercie, or his trueth, his iustice, his promises, his plagues, or his punishments, &c. either else concerning Christ, or the holy Ghost, Angel, or Man, Nature, or Law, Sinne, or Grace, Faith, or Vnbelieve, Predestination, or Reprobation, Iustification, Regeneration, Church or Sacraments, &c. or to be brieue, if thou wouldest vnderstand what is necessarily to bee learned in the same Scriptures, touching the estate, authoritie, office or quietie of Kings or Princes, Iudges or Magistrates, Bishops & Pastors, Elders or Ministers, Fathers and Mothers, Masters and Mistresses, Subiects, and Parishioners, Husbands & Wiues, Children and seruants, and how euery one, of what degree, estate, condition, or profession soeuer, he, she, or they be of, ought to behaue themselues towards God, and one towards another, and what is to be spoken and not spoken, and what is to be done and left vndone of them or any of them, by the rule of Gods word: thou art not voyd of competent knowledge or directions in this Alphabet to ayde thee. Thirdly, to further thee to finde out in these two Alphabets, any thing whereof I haue before made mention, thou art to resort Alphabetically vnto the first of them, with the name of any Man, Woman, Countrey, Citie, Place, Riuer, Idole, &c. in the same contained: and also vnto the second of them, with the chiefe word of any sentence or comon place therein mentioned, which thou art most affected vnto, or desirest to be satisfied of: and by that meanes in euery of them shalt thou by Gods grace, without faile be conduced, and to thy great ease directed, and as it were, ledde by the hand, euen to the Booke, Chapter and Verse, where the same, (or so much thereof, as for a godly, Christian, and necessary knowledge shall bee thought requisite) is to bee found out most readily: alwayes remembering, that whatsoeuer conuenient knowledge wanteth in these Alphabets, as touching the text whereunto it directeth thee, is there supplied by the Annotations, or quotations in the Margent. Moreover, good Christian Reader, thou hast also to obserue how that the first Figure, or Figures, which followe next after any Booke whereunto thou shalt bee guided, signifieth or signifie the Chapter, and the other the verse or verses of the same Chapter, where any of the foresaid things is to be sought for. Againe, whereas thou shalt after a Chapter, and otherwhiles after some verse or verses of a Chapter, finde this marke or Starre * quoted, thou art to vnderstand, how that the whole Chapter, or from the verse of that Chapter where the same Starre is placed forward vnto the ende thereof, entreateth, or in some good respects chiefly belongeth, and may be applied to the same Historie, matter, or common place thou seekest for, except there be any verses following the same *, for then the common place is to be vnderstoode, not to exceede those verses. Finally, whereas I haue sometimes in these Alphabets partly set downe the sense, & that which may properly be gathered of the text, which thou art directed vnto, & not the very words themselues, and otherwhiles repeated one thing in diuers places, but yet to diuers ends: I trust that will not offend thee, sith I haue so done for the vnlerned's sake, because the same could not, ne can be made too plaine for them, and therefore haue vsed not so great a curiositie and abbreviation in that behalfe, as perhaps some others would haue had me: & yet considering to what a great quantity these two Alphabets are grown vnto, (ouer that I thought they would) I haue bene forced to leaue out somewhat, that otherwise I would haue added vnto them, which hereafter by Gods grace I will supply: thus much touching the principal contents, commodity, & vse of the foresaid Alphabets, which with such other doubts as may trouble thee, I mistrust not, but by well perusing of the same, and practise (with the diuersitie of letter, which is vsed in them) will soone appeare very easie, plaine, and apparant vnto thee, albeit I particularly touch not euery of them. Now therefore to conclude, if my simple trauaile and paines taken herein shalbe wel accepted of thee, I meane, of the more skilful and learned Readers to be polished and amended of them (if they shall so deeme necessary and conuenient) to the better edification of the Church of God, whereof they are or ought to be ioynt members, helpers, and furtherers, so farre forth as their Talents wil stretch vnto, and that in the spirit of meekenesse, sobrietie, and charitie: and of the lesse learned or vnlerned Reader (vnto whom I confesse my selfe the greatest debtour) as an aid and helpe to their godly studies, and honest trade of life, and withal Christianly to be consulted of al men, as a meane and furtherance, and not an hinderance vnto any, I shall for my part thinke my selfe well rewarded, and more then sufficiently rewarded, in that I shall enioy my desire, and that which I longed for. And so beseeching Almighty God to giue vs his grace to be studious of vnitie, and bringing forth such frutes, as may declare our vndoubted election in Christ Iesus, I take my leaue of thee, this xxij of December.

Anno Domini.
