David therefore departed thence, and saued himselfe in the caue of Adullam: and when his brethren and all his fathers house heard it, they went downe thither to him.

2 And there gathered vnto him all men that were in trouble, and all men that were in debt, & all those that were berid in mind, and hee was their prince, and there were with him about foure hundred men.

3 And David went thence to Mizpeh in <sup>b</sup> Hoab, and said vnto the king of Hoab, I pray thee, let my father and my mother come and abide with you, till I know what God will doe for me.

4 And he brought them before the king of Hoab, and they dwelt with him all the while that David was in the <sup>d</sup> hold.

5 And the Prophet Gad said vnto David, Abide not in the holds, but depart and goe into the land of Iudah. Then David departed and came into the forest of Hareth.

6 And Saul heard that David was <sup>e</sup> discovered, and the men that were with him, and Saul remained in Gibeah vnder a tree in Ramah, hauing his speare in his hand, and all his seruants stood about him.

7 And Saul said vnto his seruants that stood about him, Heare now ye sonnes of Femini, will the sonne of Ishai giue enery one of you fields and vineyards? will hee make you all captaynes ouer thousands, and captaynes ouer hundreds?

8 That all yee haue conspired against me, and there is none that telleth mee that my sonne hath made a couenant with the sonne of Ishai? and there is none of you that is foy for mee, or sturweth mee, that my sonne hath stirred by my seruant to lie in waite against mee, as appeareth this day.

9 Then answered Doeg the Edomite (who was appointed out the seruantes of Saul) and said, I saw the sonne of Ishai when hee came to Nob, to Ahimelech the sonne of Ahitub.

10 Who asked counsell of the Lord for him, and gaue him victuals, and he gaue him also the worde of Goliath the Philistin.

11 Then the king sent to call Ahimelech the Priest, the sonne of Ahitub, and all his fathers house, to wit, <sup>h</sup> the Priests that were in Nob: and they came all to the king.

12 And Saul said, Heare now thou sonne of Ahitub. And he answered, here I am, my lord.

13 Then Saul said vnto him, Why haue ye conspired against me, thou and the sonne of Ishai, in that thou hast giuen him vitails, and a sword, and hast asked counsell of God for him, that he should rise against me, and lie in wait as appeareth this day?

14 And Ahimelech answered the king, and sayd, Who is so faithfull among all thy seruants as David, beeing also the Kings sonne in lawe, and goerh at thy commandement, and is honourable in thine house?

15 I Haue I this day first begun to aske counsell of God for him? be it farre from me, let not the king impute any thing vnto his seruant, nor to all the house of my father: for thy seruant knew nothing of all this, lesse, nor more.

16 Then the King said, Thou shalt surely die, Ahimelech, thou and all thy fathers house.

17 And the King sayd vnto the sergents that stood about him, Turne, and slay the Priests of the Lord, because their hand also is with David, and because they knew when he fled, and shewed it not to me. But the seruants of the King <sup>k</sup> would not moue their hands to fall vpon the Priests of the Lord.

18 Then the King sayd to Doeg, Turne thou and fall vpon the Priests. And Doeg the Edomite turned, and ranne vpon the Priests, and slew that same day fourescore and sine persons that did weare a linnen Ephod.

19 Also Nob the titie of the Priests smote hee with the edge of the sword, both man and woman, both child and suckling, both ore and asse, and sheepe with the edge of the sword.

20 But one of the sonnes of Ahimelech the sonne of Ahitub, (whose name was Abiathar) escaped and fled after David.

21 And Abiathar shewed David, that Saul had slaine the Lords Priests.

22 And David sayd vnto Abiathar, I knew it the same day, when Doeg the Edomite was there, that he would tell Saul. I am the cause of the death of all the persons of thy fathers house.

23 Abide thou with me, and feare not: for he that seeketh my life, shall seeke thy life also: for with me thou shalt be in safegard.

a Which was a citie in the tribe of Iudah, Ioth. 15 44.

Then they tolde Dauid, saying, Behold, the Philistins fight against Keilah, and spoile the barnes.

2 Therefore Dauid asked counsell of the Lord, saying, Shall I goe and fight these Philistins? And the Lord answered Dauid, Go and fight the Philistins, and save Keilah.

3 And Dauids men sayd vnto him, See, wee bee afraid here in Iudah, how much more if we come to Keilah against the hoite of the Philistins?

4 Then Dauid asked counsell of the Lord againe. And the Lord answered him, and said, Arise, goe downe to Keilah: for I will deliuer the Philistins into thine hand.

5 So Dauid and his men went to Keilah, and fought with the Philistins, and brought away their cattell, and smote them with a great slaughter: Thus Dauid saued the inhabitants of Keilah.

6 And when Abiathar the sonne of Ahimelech fled to Dauid to Keilah, he brought an Ephod with him.

7 And it was told Saul that Dauid was come to Keilah, and Saul sayd, God hath deliuered him into mine hand: for hee is shut in, seeing he is come into a citie that hath gates and barnes.

8 Then Saul called all the people together to warre, for to goe downe to Keilah, and to besiege Dauid and his men.

9 And Dauid hauing knowledge that Saul imagined mischief against him, sayd to Abiathar the Priest, Bring the Ephod.

10 Then sayd Dauid, O Lord God of Israel, thy seruant hath heard, that Saul is about to come to Keilah to destroy the citie for my sake.

11 Will the lords of Keilah deliuer mee vp into his hands? and will Saul come downe as thy seruant hath heard? O Lord God of Israel, I beseech thee, tell thy seruant. And the Lord sayde, Hee will come downe.

12 Then sayd Dauid, Will the lords of Keilah deliuer mee vp, and the men that are with mee, into the hand of Saul? And the Lord sayd, They will deliuer thee vp.

13 Then Dauid and his men, which were about fixe hundred, arose, and departed out of Keilah, and went whither they could. And it was tolde Saul, that Dauid was fled from Keilah, and hee left off his iourney.

14 And Dauid abode in the wilderness in holdes, and remained in a mountaine in the wilderness of Ziph. And Saul sought him euery day, but God deliuered him not into his hand.

15 And Dauid saw that Saul was come out for to seeke his life: and Dauid was in the wilderness of Ziph in the wood.

16 And Jonathan Sauls sonne arose and went to Dauid into the wood, and comforted him in God.

17 And sayd vnto him, Feare not: for the hand of Saul my father shall not find thee, and thou shalt be King ouer Israel, and I shall bee next vnto thee: and also Saul my father knoweth it.

18 So they twaine made a couenant before the Lord: and Dauid did remaine in the wood: but Jonathan went to his house.

19 And hee came vp the Ziphims to Saul to Gibeah, saying, Doeth not Dauid hide himselfe by vs in holdes, in the wood, in the hill of Bachiath which is on the right side of Beithoron?

20 Now therefore, O King, come downe according to all that thine heart can desire, and our part shall be to deliuer him into the kings hands.

21 Then Saul sayd, Be ye blessed of the Lord: for ye haue had compassion on me.

22 Soe, I pray you, and prepare yet better: know and see his place where he is hanteth, and who hath scene him there: for it is sayd to me, he is subtil and crafty.

23 See therefore, and know all the secret places where hee hideth himselfe, and come ye againe to me with the certainerie, and I will goe with you: and if he be in the land I will search him out throughout all the thousandes of Iudah.

24 Then they arose and went to Ziph before Saul, but Dauid and his men were in the wilderness of Maon, in the plaine on the right hand of Beithoron.

25 Saul also and his men went to seeke him, and they told Dauid: wherefore hee came downe vnto a rocke, and abode in the wilderness of Maon. And when Saul heard that, hee followed after Dauid in the wilderness of Maon.

26 And Saul and his men went on the one side of the mountaine, and Dauid and his men on the other side of the mountaine: and Dauid made haste to get from the presence of Saul: for Saul and his men compassed Dauid and his men round about, to take them.

27 But there came a messenger to Saul, saying, Halte thee, and come: for the Philistins haue invaded the land.

28 Therefore Saul returned from pursuing Dauid, and went against the Philistins. Therefore they called that place, Beth-hammakoth.

CHAP. XXIII.

1 Dauid hid in a cave spareth Saul. 10 He sheweth to Saul his innocencie. 18 Saul acknowledged his fault. 22 He causeth Dauid to swear vnto him to be fauourable vnto his.

And Dauid went thence, and dwelt in a holdes at Engedi.

2 When Saul was returned from the Philistins, they tolde him, saying, Behold, Dauid is in the wilderness of Engedi.

3 Then Saul tooke three thousand chosen men out of all Israel, and went to seeke Dauid and his men vpon the rockes among the wilde goates.

4 And hee came to the Sheeps coates by the way where there was a cave, and Saul went in: to doe his eement: and Dauid and his men sat in the inward parts

6 And afterward Dauid was touched in his heart, because he had cut off the lappe which was on Saulls garment.

7 And hee said vnto his men, The Lord keepe mee from doing that thing vnto my master the Lords anoynted, to lay mine hand vpon him: for he is the anoynted of the Lord.

8 So Dauid ouercame his seruants with these wordes, and suffered them not to arie against Saul: So Saul rose vnto out of the caue, and went away.

9 Dauid also arose afterward, & went out of the caue, and cried after Saul, saying, O my lord the King. And when Saul looked behind him, Dauid euclined his face to the earth, and bowed himselfe.

10 And Dauid said to Saul, Wherefore giuist thou an eare to mens wordes, that say, Behold, Dauid seeketh euill against thee?

11 Behold, this day thine eyes haue seene, that the Lord had deliuered thee this day into mine hand in the caue, and some bade me kill thee, but I had compassion on thee, and said, I wil not lay mine hand on my master: for he is the Lords Anoynted.

12 Whereouer my father, behold: behold, I say, the lay of thy garment in mine hand: for when I cut off the lappe of thy garment, I killed thee not. Understand and see, that there is neither euill nor wickednesse in me, neither haue I sinned against thee, yet thou huntest after my soule to take it.

13 The Lord be iudge betwene thee and me, and the Lord auenge me of thee, and let not mine hand be vpon thee.

14 According as the old prouerbe saith, Wickednesse proceedeth from the wicked, but mine hand be not vpon thee.

15 After whom is the king of Israel come out? after whom dost thou pursue? after a dead dog, and after a flea?

16 The Lord therefore be iudge, & iudge betwene thee and me, and see, and plead my cause, and deliuer me out of thine hand.

17 When Dauid had made an ende of speaking these wordes to Saul, Saul said, Is this thy voyce, my sonne Dauid? And Saul lift vp his voice, and wept.

18 And said to Dauid, Thou art more righteous then I: for thou hast reuend me good, and I haue repaid thee euill.

19 And thou hast shewed this day, that thou hast dealt well with me: for as much as when the Lord had closed me in thine handes, thou killedst me not.

20 For who shall finde his enemy, and let him depart free? wherefore the Lord render thee good for that thou hast done vnto me this day.

21 For now behold, I know that thou shalt be king, and that the kingdom of Israel shall be established in thine hand.

22 Swaere now therefore vnto me by the Lord, that thou wilt not destroy my seed after mee, and that thou wilt not abolish my name out of my fathers house.

23 So Dauid swaere vnto Saul, & Saul went home: but Dauid and his men went vp vnto the hold.

CHAP. XXV.

1 Samuel dieth. 3 Nabal and Abigail. 38 The Lord killeth Nabal. 43 Abigail and Ahinoam Dauids wiues. 44 Michal is giuen to Phalti.

Then Samuel died, and all Israel assembled, and mourned for him, and buried him in his owne house at Ramah. And Dauid arose and went downe to the wilderness of Paran.

2 Now in Gidon was a man, who had his possession in Carmel, and the man was exceeding mightie, and had three thousand sheepe, and a thousand goates: and he was shearing his sheepe in Carmel.

3 The name also of the man was Nabal, and the name of his wife Abigail, and shee was a woman of singular wisdom & beautiful, but the man was churlish and euil conditioned, and was of the family of Caleb.

4 And Dauid heard in the wilderness, that Nabal had sheare his sheepe.

5 Therefore Dauid sent ten yong men, and Dauid said vnto the yong men, Goe vp to Carmel, and goe to Nabal, and alke him in my name: & how he doeth.

6 And thus shall you say: I for salutation, Both thou and thine house, and all that thou hast, be in peace, wealth and prosperitie.

7 Behold, I haue heard, that thou hast shearers: now thy shepheards were with vs, and wee did thee no hurt, neither did they misse any thing all the while they were in Carmel.

8 Alke thy seruants, and they will shew thee. Wherefore let these yong men find fauour in thine eyes: for wee come in a good season) giue, I pray thee, whatsoeuer cometh to thine hand vnto thy seruants, and to thy sonne Dauid.

9 And when Dauids yong men came, they tolde Nabal all those wordes in the name of Dauid, and held their peace.

10 Then Nabal answered Dauids seruants, and said, Who is Dauid? And who is the sonne of Nhai? there bee many seruants now adays, that breake away euery man from his master.

11 Shall I then take my bread, and my water, and my flesh that I haue killed for my shearers, and giue it vnto men, whom I know not whence they be?

12 So Dauids seruants turned their way, and went againe, and came, and tolde him all those things.

13 And Dauid said vnto his men, Gird euery man his sword about him. And they girded euery man his sword: Dauid also girded his sword. And about foure hundred men went vp after Dauid, and two hundred abode by the cartiage.

14 Now one of the seruants tolde Abigail Nabals wife, saying, Behold, Dauid sent ¶ Ebr. drove them away.

f When we kept our sheepe in the wilderness of Paran, sent messengers out of the wilderness to salute our master, and he railed on them.

15 Notwithstanding the men were very good vnto vs, and wee had no displeasure, neither missed we any thing as long as wee were conuersant with them, when we were in the fields.

16 They were as a wall vnto vs both by night and by day, al the while we were with them keeping sheepe.

17 Now therefore take heed, and see what thou shalt doe: for euil & wil surely come vpon our master, and vpon all his family: for he is so wicked that a man cannot speake to him.

18 ¶ Then Abigail made haste, & tooke two hundred & cakes, and two bottels of wine, and five sheepe ready dressed, and five measures of parched coine, and an hundred & frails of raisins, and two hundred of figs, and laded them on asses.

19 ¶ Then she said vnto her seruants, See ye before me: behold, I will come after you: yet the told s not her husband Nabal.

20 And as she rode on her asse, shee came downe by a secret place of the mountaine, and behold, Dauid and his men came down against her, and she met them.

21 ¶ And Dauid said, In deed I haue kept all in vaine that this fellow had in the wilderness, so that nothing was missed of all that pertained vnto him: for hee hath requited me euill for good.

22 So and moze also doe God vnto the enemies of Dauid: for surely I will not leaue of al that he hath, by the dawning of the day, any that b pisseth against the wal.

23 And when Abigail saw Dauid, shee hastned, and lighted off her asse, and fell before Dauid on her face, and bowed her selfe to the ground.

24 And fell at his feete, and said, Oh my lord, I haue committed the iniquitie, and I pray thee, let thine handmaide speake & to thee, and heare thou the wordes of thine handmaide.

25 Let not my lord, I pray thee, regard this wicked man Nabal: for as his name is, so is he: Nabal is his name, and folly is with him: but I thine handmaid saw not the yong men of my lord whom thou sentest.

26 Now therefore my lord, as the Lord liueth, and as thy soule liueth (the Lord, I say, that hath withholden thee from comming to the dead blood, and that I thine hand should not see thee) so now thine enemies shall be as Nabal, and they that intend to do my lord euill.

27 And now this blessing which thine handmaid hath brought vnto my lord, let it be giuen vnto the yong men, that I follow my lord.

28 I pray thee, forgive the trespass of thine handmaid: for the Lord will make my lord a sure house, because my lord fighteth the battels of the Lord, and none euill hath bene found in thee & in all thy life.

29 ¶ Yet a man hath risen vp to persecute thee, and to seeke thy soule, but the soule of my lord shall be bound in the bundle of life with the Lord thy God: and the soule of thine enemies shall God cast out, as out of the middle of a sling.

30 And when the Lord shall haue done to my lord all the good that hee hath promised thee, & shall haue made thee ruler ouer Israel, 31 Then shall it be no grieue vnto thee, nor offence of minde vnto my Lord, that he hath not shed blood causelesse, nor that my lord hath not preferred himselfe: and when the Lord shall haue dealt well with my lord, remember thine handmaide.

32 ¶ Then Dauid said to Abigail, Blessed be the Lord God of Israel, which sent thee this day to mee me.

33 And blessed be thy counsell, and blessed bee thou, which hast kept me this day from comming to shed blood, and that mine hand hath not slayed me.

34 For indeed, as the Lord God of Israel liueth, & who hath kept mee backe from hurting thee, except thou hadst halted and met me, surely there had not bene left vnto Nabal, by the dawning of the day, any that pisseth against the wall.

35 ¶ Then Dauid receiued of her hand that which she had brought him, and said to her, See vp in peace to thine house: behold, I haue heard thy voice, and haue granted thy petition.

36 ¶ So Abigail came to Nabal, and behold, hee made a feast in his house, like the feast of a king, and Nabals heart was merry with in him, for he was very drunken: wherefore she told him & nothing, neither telle nor moze, vntill the morning arose.

37 ¶ Then in the morning, when the wine was gone out of Nabal, his wife tolde him those wordes, and his heart died within him, and he was like a stone.

38 And about ten dayes after, the Lord smote Nabal, that he died.

39 ¶ Now when Dauid heard, that Nabal was dead, hee said, Blessed bee the Lord that hath iudged the cause of my rebuke of the hand of Nabal, and hath kept his seruant from euill: for the Lord hath recompensed the wickednesse of Nabal vpon his owne head. Also Dauid sent to commune with Abigail to take her to his wife.

40 And when the seruants of Dauid were come to Abigail to Camel, they spake vnto her, saying, Dauid sent vs to thee, to take thee to his wife.

41 And she arose, and bowed her selfe on her face to the earth, and said, Behold, let thine handmaide bee a seruant to wash the feete of the seruants of my lord.

42 And Abigail halted, and arose, & rode vpon an asse, and her five maides followed her, and shee went after the messengers of Dauid, and was his wife.

43 Dauid also tooke Ahinoam of Izzet, and they were both his wives.

44 Now Saul had giuen Michal his daughter, Dauids wife, to Phalti the sonne of Laish, which was of Gathim.

Or, the wilderness.

A Gaine the Siphims came vnto Saul to Gibeah, saying, *Doth not Dauid hide himselfe in the hill of Hachilah before I Jehshimon?

2 Then Saul arose, and went downe to the wilderness of Ziph, hauing thre thousand cholen men of Israel with him, for to seeke Dauid in the wilderness of Ziph.

3 And Saul pitched in the hill of Hachilah, which is before Jehshimon by the way side. Now Dauid abode in the wilderness, and he saw that Saul came after him into the wilderness.

4 (For Dauid had sent out spies, and vnderstood that Saul was come in very deed.)

5 Then Dauid arose, and came to the place where Saul had pitched, and when Dauid beheld y place where Saul lay, and *Aner the son of Ner which was his chiefe captaine (for Saul lay in the fort, and the people pitched round about him.)

6 Then spake Dauid and said to Ahimelech the <sup>b</sup> Hittite, and to Abihai the sonne of Serutah, brother to Joab, saying, *Who will goe downe with mee to Saul to the hoste? Then Abihai sayd, I will goe downe with thee.

7 So Dauid and Abihai came downe to the people by night: and beholde, Saul lay sleeping within the fort, and his speare did sticke in the ground at his head: and Abner and the people lay round about him.

8 Then said Abihai to Dauid, God hath closed thine enemies into thine hand this day: now therefore, I pray thee, let mee smite him since with a speare to the earth, and I wil not smite him againe.

9 And Dauid said to Abihai, Destroy him not: for who can lay his hand on the Lordes Anointed, and be guiltlesse?

10 Whereouer Dauid said, As the Lord liueth, either the Lord shall smite him, or his day shall come to die, or he shall descend into battell, and perish.

11 The Lord keepe me from laying mine hand vpon the Lordes Anointed: but I pray thee, take now the speare that is at his head, and the pot of water, and let vs goe hence.

12 So Dauid tooke the speare & the pot of water from Sauls head, and they gate them away, and no man saw it, nor marked it, neither did any awake, but they were all asleepe: for the Lord had sent a dead sleepe vpon them.

13 Then Dauid went into the other side, and stood on the toppes of the hill afarre off, a great space being betwene them.

14 And Dauid cryed to the people, and to Abner the sonne of Ner, saying, & Bearest thou not Abner? Then Abner answered, and said, *Who art thou that criest to the King?

15 And Dauid said to Abner, Art not thou a man? and who is like thee in Israel? wherefoxe then haste thou not kept thy lord the king? for there came one of the folke in to destroy the King thy lord.

16 This is not well done of thee: as the Lord liueth, yee are & worthy to die, because ye haue not kept your master the Lords anointed: and now see where the Kinges speare is, and the pot of water that was at his head.

17 And Saul knewe Dauids voice, and sayd, Is this thy voice, o my sonne Dauid? and Dauid said, It is my voyce, my lord, o King.

18 And hee sayd, Wherefoxe dooth my lord thus persecute his seruant? for what haue I done? or what euill is in mine hand?

19 Now therefore, I beseech thee, let my lord the King here the wordes of his seruant. If the Lord haue stirred thee v against mee, let him smell the fauour of a sacrifice: but if the children of men haue done it, cursed be they before the Lord: for they haue cast mee out this day from abiding in the inheritance of the Lord, saying, Goe, serue other gods.

20 Now therefore, let not my blood fall to the earth before the face of the Lord: for the king of Israel is come out to seeke a flea, as one would hunt a partridge in y mountaines.

21 Then sayd Saul, I haue sinned: come againe, my sonne Dauid: for I will doe thee no more harme, because my soule was * pectious in thine eyes this day: behold, I haue done foolishly, and haue erred exceedingly.

22 Then Dauid answered, and said, Behold the kings speare, let one of the young men come ouer and fer it.

23 And let the Lord reward euery man according to his right coulesse and faithfulness: for the Lord had deliuered thee into mine handes this day, but I would not lay mine hand vpon the Lordes Anointed.

24 And behold, like as thy life was much set by this day in mine eyes: so let my life be fer by in the eyes of the Lord, that hee may deliuer me out of all tribulation.

25 Then Saul sayd to Dauid, Blessed art thou my sonne Dauid: for thou shalt doe great thinges, and also puenable. So Dauid went his way, and Saul returned to his place.

4 And it was told Saul that David was fled to Gath: so he sought no more for him.

5 And David said vnto Achish, If I haue now found grace in thine eyes, let them giue mee a place in some other citie of the countrey, that I may dwell there: for why should thy seruant dwell in the head citie of the kingdome with thee?

6 Then Achish gaue him Ziklag that same day: therefore Ziklag pertayneth vnto the Kings of Iudah vnto this day.

7 And at the time that David dwelt in the countrey of the Philistims, was foure moneths and certaine dayes.

8 Then David and his men went vp, and invaded the Gethurites, and the Gittites, and the Amalekites: for they inhabited the land from the beginning, from the way, as thou goest to Shur, euen vnto the land of Egypt.

9 And David smote the land, and left neither man nor woman aliuē, and tooke sheepe, and oxen, and asses, and camels, and apparell, and returned and came to Achish.

10 And Achish sayd, Where haue yee bene a rousing this day? And David answered, Against the South of Iudah, and against the South of the Jerahmelites, and against the South of the Kenites.

11 And David laued neither man nor woman aliuē, to bring them to Gath, saying, Lest they should tell on vs, and say, So did David, and so will be his manner: all the while that hee dwelleth in the countrey of the Philistims.

12 And Achish beleued David, saying, These hath made his people of Israel vicerly to abhorre him: therefore he shall be my seruant for euer.

CHAP. XXVIII.

2 David hath the chiefe charge promised about Achish. 8 Saul consulteth with a witch, and shee causeth him to speake with Samuel, 18 who declareth his ruine.

Now at that time the Philistims assembled their bandes, & armie to fight with Israel: therefore Achish said to David, We sure, thou shalt goe out with mee to the battell, thou, and thy men.

2 And David said to Achish, Surely thou shalt know what thy seruant can doe. And Achish said to David, Surely I will make thee keeper of mine head for euer.

3 (*Samuel was then dead, and all Israel had lamented him, and buried him in Ramah his owne citie: and Saul had put away the soorciers, and the soothlayers out of the land.)

4 Then the Philistims assembled themselves, and came, and pitched in Shunem, and Saul assembled all Israel, and they pitched in Gilboa.

5 And when Saul saw the hoste of the Philistims, hee was afraid, and his heart was sore troubled.

6 Therefore Saul asked counsell of the Lord, and the Lord answered him not, neither by dreames, nor by Urin, nor yet by Prophets.

7 Then said Saul vnto his seruants, Seeke mee a woman that hath a familiar spirit, that I may goe to her and aske of her. And his seruants said to him, Behold, there is a woman of Endor that hath a familiar spirit.

8 Then Saul changed himselfe and put on other rayment, and hee went, and two men with him, and they came to the woman by night: and hee said, I pray thee, conuerse vnto mee by the familiar spirit, and bring me him vp whom I shall name vnto thee.

9 And the woman sayd vnto him, Behold, thou knowest what Saul hath done, how hee hath destroyed the soorciers, and the soothlayers out of the land: wherefore then seekest thou to take me in a snare to cause me to die?

10 And Saul sware to her by the Lord, saying, As the Lord liueth, no harme shall come to thee for this thing.

11 Then saide the woman, Whom shall I bring vp vnto thee? And hee answered, Bring me vp Samuel.

12 And when the woman saw Samuel, she cried with a loud voice, and the woman spake to Saul, saying, Why hast thou deceiued me: for thou art Saul.

13 And the king sayd vnto her, Bee not afraid: for what lawest thou? And the woman sayd vnto Saul, I saw gods ascending by out of the earth.

14 Then he laid vnto her, What fashion is hee of? And she answered, An olde man couered by lapped in a mantle: and Saul knew that it was Samuel, and hee wrested his face to the ground, and bowed himselfe.

15 And Samuel sayd to Saul, Why hast thou disquiured mee, to bring mee up? Then Saul answered, I am in great distress: for the Philistims make warre against mee, and God is departed from mee, and answereth mee no more, neither by Prophets, neither by dreames: therefore I haue called thee, that thou mayest tell me what I shall doe.

16 Then said Samuel, Wherefore then dost thou aske of mee, seeing the Lord is gone from thee, and is thine enemy?

17 Euen the Lord hath done to s him, as hee spake by mine hand: for the Lord will rent the kingdome out of thine hand, and giue it thy neighbour David.

18 Because thou obeyest not the voyce of the Lord, nor executedst his fierce wrath vpon the Amalekites, therefore hath the Lord done this vnto thee this day.

CHAP. XXX.

4 The Princes of the Philistims cause Dauid to be sent back from the battell against Israel because they distrust him.

¶ The Philistims were gathered together with all their armies in Apphek; and the Israelites pitched by the fountaine, which is in Izeel.

2 And the princes of the Philistims went forth by hundreds, and thousands, but Dauid & his men came behind with Achish.

3 Then said the princes of the Philistims, What doe these Ebrewes heere? And Achish said unto the princes of the Philistims, Is not this Dauid the seruante of Saul the king of Israel, who hath bene with me these dayes, or these yeeres, and I haue found nothing in him, since he dwelt with me unto this day?

4 But the Princes of the Philistims were wroth with him, and the princes of the Philistims said unto him, Send this fellowe backe, that hee may goe againe to his place which thou hast appointed him, and let him not goe downe with vs to battell, least that in the battell hee be an aduerarie to vs: for wherewith should hee obtaine the fauour of his master? should it not bee with the heads of these men?

5 Is not this Dauid of whom they sang in dances, saying, Saul slew his thousand, and Dauid his ten thousand?

6 ¶ Then Achish called Dauid, and said unto him, As the Lord liueth, thou hast bene bright and good in my sight, when thou wentest out and in with me in the host: neither haue I found euill with thee: since thou camest to me unto this day, but the princes doe not fauour thee.

7 ¶ Therefore now returne, and goe in peace, that thou dispute not the prizes of the Philistims.

8 ¶ And Dauid said unto Achish, What haue I done? and what hast thou found in thy seruant as long as I haue bene with thee vnto this day, that I may not go and fight against the enemies of my lord the King?

9 Achish then answered, and said to Dauid, I know thow pleasest mee, as an Angel of God: but the Princes of the Philistims haue sayd, Let him not goe vp with vs to battell.

10 ¶ Therefore now rise vp early in the morning with thy masters seruants that are come with thee: and when ye be vp early, as soone as ye haue light, depart.

11 So Dauid and his men rose vp early to depart in the morning, and to returne into the land of the Philistims: and the Philistims went vp to Izeel.

CHAP. XXXI.

1 The Amalekites burne Ziklag, 5 Dauds two wines are taken prisoners, 6 The people would stone him, 8 He asketh counsel of the Lord, & pursuing his enemies, recouereth the pray, 24 He diuideth it equally, 26 And sendeth part to his friends.

¶ It when Dauid & his men were come to Ziklag the third day, the Amalekites had inuaded upon the South, euen vnto Ziklag, and had smitten Ziklag, and burnt it with fire.

2 And had taken the women that were therein, prisoners, both small and great, and slew not a man, but carried them away, and went their wayes.

3 ¶ So Dauid and his men came to the city, and behold, it was burnt with fire, and their wines, and their finnes, and their daughters were taken prisoners.

4 Then Dauid and the people that was with him, lift vp their voyces and wept, vntill they could weepe no more.

5 Dauds two wines were taken prisoners also, Abinoam the Izeelite, and Abigail the wife of Nabal the Carmelite.

6 And Dauid was in great sorrow: for the people minded to stone him, because the hearts of all the people were vexed euery man for his finnes and for his daughters: but Dauid comforted himselfe in the Lord his God.

7 ¶ And Dauid sayd to Abiathar the Priest Abimelechs sonne, I pray thee, bring me the Ephod. And Abiathar brought the Ephod to Dauid.

8 Then Dauid asked counsell at the Lord, saying, Shall I follow after this company? shall I ouertake them? And hee answered him, Follow: for thou shalt surely ouertake them, and recover all.

9 ¶ So Dauid and the six hundred men that were with him, went, and came to the ruer Besor, where a part of them abode.

10 But Dauid and fouce hundred men followed (for two hundred abode behinde, being too weary to goe ouer the ruer Besor)

11 And they found an Egyptian in the field, and brought him to Dauid, and gaue him bread, and hee did eate, and they gaue him water to drinke.

13 And Dauid said vnto him, To whom belongeth thou? and whence art thou? And hee said, I am a young man of Egypt, and seruant to an Amalekite: and my master left mee thre dayes agoe, because I fell sicke.

14 Hee roned vpon the South of Chereth, and vpon the coast belonging to Iudah, and vpon the South of Caleb, and we burnt Ziklag with fire.

15 And Dauid said vnto him, Canst thou bring me to this companie? and he said, I sweare vnto mee by God, that thou wilt neither kill mee, nor deliuer mee into the hands of my master, and I will bring thee to this companie.

16 And when he had brought him thither, behold, they lay scattered abroad vpon all the earth eating and drinking, and dancing, because of all the great pray that they had taken out of the land of the Philistines, and out of the land of Iudah.

17 And Dauid smote them from the twilight, euen vnto the evening: of the next morow, so that there escaped not a man of them, save foure hundred yong men, which rode vpon camels, and fled.

18 And Dauid recovered all that the Amalekites had taken: also Dauid rescued his two wines.

19 And they lacked nothing, small or great, sonne or daughter, or of the people of all that they had taken away: Dauid recovered them all.

20 Dauid also tooke all the sheepe, and the oxen, and they drave them before his cattell, and said, This is Dauids k pray.

21 And Dauid came to the two hundred men that were too wearie for to follow Dauid: whom they had made also to abide at the river Besor: and they came to meete Dauid, and to meete the people that were with him: so when Dauid came neere to the people, he saluted them.

22 Then answered all the euil and wicked of the men that went with Dauid, and said, Because they went not with vs, therefore will we giue them none of the pray that wee haue recovered, save to euery man his wife and his children: therefore let them carie them away and depart.

23 Then said Dauid, Vnshall not doe so, my brethren, with that which the Lord hath giuen vs, who hath preferred vs, and deliuered the companie that came against vs, into our hands.

24 For who will obey you in this matter? but as his part is that goeth downe to the battell, so shall his part be that carrieth by the stuffe: they shall part alike.

25 So from that day forward he made it a statute & a law in Israel, vntill this day.

26 And when Dauid therefore came to Ziklag, hee sent of the pray vnto the Elders of Iudah, and to his friends, saying, See, there is a blessing for you of the people of the enemies of the Lord.

27 He sent to them of Beth-el, & to them of South Ramoth, and to them of Iartir, 28 And to them of Aroer, and to them of Siphmoth, and to them of Eshtemoa, 4 Saul killeth himselfe. 6 His children are slaine in the battell. 22 The men of Iabesh rooke downe his body which was hanged on the wall.

Now the Philistines fought against Israel, and the men of Israel fled away from the Philistines, and they fell downe & wounded in mount Gilboa.

2 And the Philistines reuelled sore vpon Saul and his sonnes, & slew Jonathan, and Abinadab, and Malchishua, Sauls sonnes.

3 And when the battell went fore against Saul, the archers and botwomen hit him, and he was fore wounded of the archers.

4 Then said Saul vnto his armour bearer, Draw out thy sword, and thrust mee thowow therewith, least the vncircumcised come and thrust me thowow and mocke mee: but his armour bearer would not, for he was fore afraid. Therefore Saul tooke a sword, and fell vpon it.

5 And when his armour bearer saw that Saul was dead, hee fell likewise vpon his sword, and died with him.

6 So Saul died, and his thre sonnes, and his armour bearer, and all his men, that same day together.

7 And when the men of Israel that were on the other side of the valley, and they on the other side of Jordan sawe that the men of Israel were put to flight, and that Saul and his sonnes were dead, then they left the cities, and ran away: and the Philistines came and dwelt in them.

8 And on the morow, when the Philistines were come to spoyle them that were slaine, they found Saul and his thre sonnes lying in mount Gilboa.

9 And they cut off his head, & stripped him out of his armour, and sent into the land of the Philistines on euery side, that they should publish it in the Temple of their idoles and among the people.

10 And they layde vpon his armour in the house of Ashtaroth, but they hanged vpon his body on the wall of Beth-san.

11 And when the inhabitants of Iabesh Gilead heard what the Philistines had done to Saul,

The second booke of Samuel.

THE ARGUMENT.

THis booke and the former beare the title of Samuel, because they containe the conception, natiuitie, and the whole course of his life, and also the liues and actes of two Kings, to wit, of Saul and Dauid, whom he auoynted and consecrated Kings by the ordinance of God. And as the first booke containeth those things, which God brought to passe among this people vnder the gouernment of Samuel and Saul: so this second booke declareth the noble acts of Dauid after the death of Saul, when he began to reigne, vnto the end of his kingdome: and how the same by him was wonderfully augmented: also his great troubles and dangers, which he susteined both within his house and without: what horrible and dangerous insurrections, vprours, and treasons were wrought against him, partly by false counsellors, fained friends, and flatterers, and partly by some of his owne children, and people: and how by Gods assistance he ouercame all difficulties, and enioyed his kingdome in rest and peace. In the person of Dauid the Scripture seeteth forth Christ Iesus, the chiefe King, who came of Dauid according to the flesh, and was persecuted on euery side with outward and inward enemies, as well in his owne person, as in his members, but at length he ouercommeth all his enemies, and giueth his Church victory against all power both spirituall and temporall: and so reigneth with them King for euermore.

2 Behold, a man came the third day out of the holste from Saul with his clothes rent, and earth vpon his head: and when hee came to Dauid, hee fell to the earth, and did obeysance.

3 Then Dauid said vnto him, Whence comest thou? And hee said vnto him, Out of the holste of Israel I am escaped.

4 And Dauid saide vnto him, What is done? I pray thee, tell mee. Then hee sayd, That the people is fled from the battell, and many of the people are ouerthrowen, and dead, and also Saul & Ionathan his sonne are dead.

5 And Dauid sayd vnto the yong man that tolde it him, How knowest thou that Saul and Ionathan his sonne be dead?

7 Therefore now let your handes bee strong, and bee you valiant: albeit your master Saul be dead, yet neuertheles the house of Iudah hath anoynted me king ouer them.

8 But Abner the sonne of Ner, that was captaine of Sauls hoste, tooke Ish-bosheth the sonne of Saul, and brought him to Bahanaim, 9 And made him king ouer Gilead, and ouer the Ashurites, and ouer Izeel, and ouer Ephraim, and ouer Beniamin, and ouer all Israel.

10 Ish-bosheth Sauls sonne was fortie yeere olde when he began to reigne ouer Israel, and reigned two yeere: but the house of Iudah followed Dauid.

11 (And the time which Dauid reigned in Hebron ouer the house of Iudah, was ten yeere and fixe moneths.)

12 And Abner the sonne of Ner, and the seruants of Ish-bosheth the son of Saul went out of Bahanaim to Gibeon.

13 And Joab the sonne of Zeruiah, and the seruants of Dauid went out and met one another by the poole of Gibeon: and they sate downe, the one on the one side of the poole, and the other on the other side of the poole.

14 Then Abner saide to Joab, Let the yong men now arise, and play before vs. And Joab sayd, Let them arise.

15 Then there arose, & went ouer twelue of Beniamin by number, which pertained to Ish-bosheth the sonne of Saul, and twelue of the seruants of Dauid.

16 And euery one caught his fellow by the head, and thrust his sword in his fellowes side, so they fell downe together: wherfore the place was called Helkath-hazzurim, which is in Gibeon.

17 And the battell was exceeding sore that same day: for Abner and the men of Israel fell before the seruants of Dauid.

18 And there were thre sonnes of Zeruiah there, Joab, and Abishai, and Ababel. And Ababel was as light on foot as a wilde Roe.

19 And Ababel followed after Abner, and in going he turned neither to the right hand nor to the left from Abner.

20 Then Abner looked behinde him and sayd, Art thou Ababel? And hee answered, Yea.

21 Then Abner saide, Turne thee either to the right hand, or to the left, & take one of the yong men, and take thee his weapons: but Ababel would not depart from him.

22 And Abner saide to Ababel, Depart from mee: wherfore should I limite thee to the ground? How thin should I bee able to hold vp my face to Joab thy brother?

23 And when hee would not depart, Abner with the hinder ende of the speare smote him vnder the fist rib, that the speare came out behind him: and he fel downe there, and died in his place. And as many as came to the place where Ababel fell downe and died, stood still.

24 Joab also and Abishai pursued after Abner: and the Sunne went downe, when they were come to the hill Ammah, that lyeth before Etah, by the way of the wilderness of Gibeon.

25 And the children of Beniamin gathered themselues together after Abner, and were on an heape, and stood on the top of an hill.

26 Then Abner called to Joab, and said, Shall the sword deuoure for euer? knowest thou not, that it will bee bitternesse in the latter ende? how long then shall it bee, or thou bid the people returne from following their brethren?

27 And Joab said, As God liueth, if thou hadst not spoken, surely euen in the morning the people had departed euery one back from his brother.

28 So Joab blew a trumpet, and all the people stood still, and pursued after Israel no more, neither fought they any more.

29 And Abner and his men walked all that night thorow the plaine, and went ouer Iordan, and passed thorow all Bethzon till they came to Bahanaim.

30 Joab also returned backe from Abner: and when hee had gathered all the people together, there lacked of Dauids seruants nineteene men and Ababel.

31 But the seruants of Dauid had sixten of Beniamin, and of Abners men, so that thre hundred and thre score men died.

32 And they tooke by Ababel, and buried him in the sepulchre of his father, which was in Beth-lehem: and Joab and his men went all night, and when they came to Hebron, the day arose.

CHAP. III.

1 Long warre betweene the houses of Saul and David. 2 The children of David in Hebron. 12 Abner turneth to David. 27 Joab killeth him.

a That is, without intermission enduring two yeeres, which was the whole reigne of Ith-boseth.

There was then a long warre betweene the house of Saul and the house of David: but David ward stronger, & the house of Saul ward weaker.

2 And unto David were children borne in Hebron: and his eldest sonne was Amnon of Ahinoam the Jezreelite.

3 And his second was b Chileab of Abigail the wife of Nabal the Carmelite: and the third, Absalom the sonne of Paacah, the daughter of Talmai the king of Gethur,

4 And the fourth Adoniah the sonne of Haggith, and the fifth, Shephatiah the sonne of Abital,

5 And the sixth Ithrean by Eglah Davids wife: these were borne to David in Hebron.

6 Now while there was warre betweene the house of Saul and the house of David, Abner made all his power for the house of Saul.

7 And Saul had a concubine named Rizpah the daughter of Aiah. And Ith-boseth says to Abner, Wherefore hast thou gone in to my fathers concubine?

8 Then was Abner very wroth for the wordes of Ith-boseth, and sayd, Am I a dogs head, which against Judah doe shew merite this day vnto the house of Saul thy father, to his brethren and to his neighbours, and haue not deliuered thee into the hand of David, that thou chargest mee this day with a fault concerning this woman?

9 So do God to Abner, and more also, except, as the Lord hath sworne to David, euen so doe I to him,

10 To remove the kingdom from the house of Saul, that y throne of David may bee established ouer Israel, and ouer Judah, euen from Dan to Beer-sheba.

11 And he durst no more answer to Abner: for he feared him.

12 Then Abner sent messengers to David, for his behalfe, saying, Whole is the land: who should also say, Make covenant with me, and behold, mine hand shall be with thee, to bring all Israel vnto thee.

13 Who sayd, Well, I will make a covenant with thee: but one thing I require of thee, that is, that thou see not my face, except thou bring Michal Sauts daughter when thou comest to see mee.

14 Then David sent messengers to Ith-boseth Sauts sonne, saying, Deliuer me my wife Michal, which I married for * an hundred shekels of the Philistims.

15 And Ith-boseth sent, & tooke her from her husband Paltiell the sonne of Laish.

16 And her husband went with her, and came weeping behinde her vnto Bahurim: then sayd Abner vnto him, Go, and returne. So he returned.

17 And Abner had communication with the Elders of Israel, saying, We sought for David in times past, that hee might be your king.

18 Now then doe it: for the Lord hath spoken of David, saying, By the hand of my seruant David I will saue my people Israel out of the hands of the Philistims, and out of the hands of all their enemies.

19 Also Abner spake to Benjamin, and afterward Abner went to speake with David in Hebron, concerning all that Israel was content with, and the whole house of Benjamin.

20 So Abner came to David to Hebron, hauing twenty men with him, and David made a feast vnto Abner, and to the men that were with him.

21 Then Abner sayd vnto David, I will esse by, and goe gather all Israel vnto my lord the king, that they may make a covenant with thee, and that thou mayest reigne ouer all that thine heart desireth. Then David let Abner depart, who went in peace.

22 And behold, the seruants of David and Joab came from the campe, and brought a great pray with them (but Abner was not with David in Hebron: for hee had sent him away, and hee departed in peace.)

23 When Joab and all the host that was with him, were come, men told Joab, saying, Abner the sonne of Ner came to the king, and he hath sent him away, and hee is gone in peace.

24 Then Joab came to the king, & said, What hast thou done? behold, Abner came vnto thee, why hast thou sent him away, and he is departed?

25 Thou knowest Abner the sonne of Ner: for hee came to deceiue thee, & to know thy outgoing and ingoing, and to know all that thou doest.

26 And when Joab was gone out from David, hee sent messengers after Abner, which brought him againe from the well of Siriah vnknowing to David.

27 And when Abner was come againe to Hebron, Joab tooke him aside in the gate to speake with him peaceably, and smote him vnder the fifth rib, that hee died, for the blood of Aiahel his brother.

28 And when afterward it came to Davids eare, hee sayd, I and my kingdom are gullible before the Lord for euer, concerning the blood of Abner the sonne of Ner.

29 Let the blood fall on the head of Joab, and on all his fathers house, that the house of Joab bee neuer without some that haue running issues, or leper, or that leanech on a staffe, or that doth fall on the sword, or that lacketh bread.

30 (So Joab and Abisai his brother slew Abner, because he had slaine their brother Ishai at Gibeon in battell)

31 And David said to Joab, and to all the people that were with him, Rent your clothes, and put on sackcloth, and mourne before Abner: and king David himselfe followed the beree.

32 And when they had buried Abner in Hebron, the king lift vp his voyce, and wept beside the sepulchre of Abner, and all 34 Thine hands were not bound, nor thy feet tied in fetters of brasse: but as a man fallsthy before wicked men, so didst thou fall. And all the people wept againe for him.

35 Afterward all the people came to cause Dauid eat meat while it was yet day, but Dauid sware, saying, So do God to me and more also, if I taste bread or ought els, till the sunne be downe.

36 And all the people knew it, & it pleased them: as what formerly the king did, pleased all the people.

37 For all the people and all Israel vnderstood that day, how that it was not the kings deed that Abner the son of Ner was slaine.

38 And the king said vnto his seruants, Know yee not, that there is a prince and a great man fallen this day in Israel?

39 And I am this day weake and newly auointed king: and these men the sonnes of Zerutah be too hard for mee: the Lord reward the doer of euill according to his wickednesse.

CHAP. IIII.

5 Baanah and Recbab slay Ish bosherh the sonne of Saul. 12 Dauid commaundeth them to be slaine.

And when Saulls sonne heard that Abner was dead in Hebron, the his hands were so feeble, and all Israel was afraid.

2 And Saulls sonne had two men that were captaines of bandes: the one called Baanah, and the other called Recbab, the sonnes of Rimmon a Beerothite of the children of Benjamin, (for Beeroth was reckoned to Benjamin,

3 Because the Beerothites fled to Gittaim, and sojourned there vnto this day.)

4 And Jonathan Saulls son had a sonne that was lame on his feet: he was five yeere old when the tidings came of Saull & Jonathan out of Israel: then his nurse tooke him, and fled away. And as he made haste to flee, the child fell, and began to halt, and his name was Gephybosherh.

5 And the sonnes of Rimmon the Beerothite, Recbab and Baanah went & came in the heat of the day to the house of Ish bosherh (who slept on a bed at noone)

6 And behold, Recbab and Baanah his brother came into the middes of the house, as they would haue wheat, and they smote him vnder the sitrib, and fled.

7 For when they came into the house, he slept on his bed in his bed chamber, & they smote him, and slew him, & beheaded him, and tooke his head, and gate them away thozow the plaine all the night.

8 And they brought the head of Ish bosherh vnto Dauid to Hebron, and said to the king, Behold y head of Ish bosherh Saulls sonne thine enemy, who sought after thy life: and the Lord hath auenged my lord the king this day of Saull and of his seed.

9 Then Dauid answered Recbab and Baanah his brother, the sonnes of Rimmon the Beerothite, and sayd vnto them, As the Lord liueth, who hath deliuered my soule out of all adueritie,

10 When one told mee, and sayd, that Saull was dead, (thinking to haue brought good tidings) I tooke him, and slew him in Siklag, who thought that I would haue giuen him a reward for his tidings:

11 How much more when wicked men haue slaine a righteous person in his owne house, and vpon his bed? shall I not now therefore require his blood at your hand, and take you from the earth?

12 Then Dauid commaunded his young men, and they slew them, and cut off their handes and their teete, and hanged them by ouer the pool in Hebron: but they tooke the head of Ish bosherh, and buried it in the sepulchre of Abner in Hebron.

CHAP. V.

3 Dauid is made king ouer all Israel. 7 He taketh the fort of Zion. 19 Hee asketh counsell of the Lord, 20 and ouercometh the Philistims twise.

Then came all the tribes of Israel to Dauid vnto Hebron, and said thus, Behold, we are thy bones and thy flesh.

2 And in time past when Saull was our King, thou leddest Israel in and out: and the Lord hath sayd to thee, Thou shalt feed my people Israel, and thou shalt be a captain ouer Israel.

3 So all the Elders of Israel came to the king to Hebron: and king Dauid made a conenant with them in Hebron before the Lord: and they auointed Dauid king ouer Israel.

4 Dauid was thirtie yeere olde when hee began to reigne: and hee reigned fortie yeere.

5 In Hebron he reigned ouer Judah seven yeere, and sixe monthes: and in Ierusalem he reigned thirtie and three yeeres ouer all Israel and Judah.

6 The king also and his men went to Ierusalem vnto the Jebusites, the inhabitants of the land: who spake vnto Dauid, saying, Except thou take away the blinde and the lame, thou shalt not come in hither: thinking that Dauid could not come thither.

7 But Dauid tooke the fort of Zion: this is the citie of Dauid.

8 Now Dauid had said the same day, Whosoever smiteth the Jebusites, and getteth vp to the gutters, and smiteth the lame and blinde, which Dauids soule hateth, I will prefferre him: therefore they sayd, The blinde and the lame shall not come into that house.

9 So Dauid dwelt in that fort, & called it the citie of Dauid, and Dauid built round about it, from Gilo, and inward.

10 And Dauid prospered and grew: for the Lord God of hostes was with him.

11 Othram also king of Tyris sent messengers to Dauid, and cedar trees, and carpenters, and masons for walles: and they

12 And one told king Dauid, saying, * The Lord hath blessed the house of Obed-edom, & all that he hath, because of the Arke of God: therefore Dauid went and brought the Arke of God from the house of Obed-edom into the citie of Dauid with gladnesse.

CHAP. VII.

2 David would build God an house, but is forbidden by the Prophet Nathan. 8 God putteth David in minde of his benefis. 12 He promiseth continuance of his kingdom and posterity.

Afterward * when the King sat in his house, and the Lord had giuen him rest round about from all his enemies,

2 The King said unto Nathan the Prophet, Behold, now I dwell in an house of cedar trees, and the Arke of God remaineth within * the curtaines.

3 Then Nathan said unto the King, So, and doe all that is in thine heart: for the Lord is with thee.

4 And the same night the word of the Lord came unto Nathan, saying,

5 So and tell my seruant David, Thus saith the Lord, * Shalt thou build mee an house for my dwelling?

6 For I have dwelt in no house since the time that I brought the children of Israel out of Egypt vnto this day, but have walked in a tent and tabernacle.

7 In all the places wherein I have walked with all the children of Israel, spake I one * word with any of the tribes of Israel when I commanded the Iudges to feede my people Israel: or said I, Why build ye not me an house of cedar trees?

8 Now therefore lo say vnto my seruant David, Thus saith the Lord of hostes, * I rooke thee from the threepecoat following the sheepe, that thou mightest bee ruler ouer my people, ouer Israel.

9 And I was with thee wheresoener thou hast walked, & haue destroyed all thine enemies out of thy sight, and haue made thee a great Name, like vnto the name of the great men that are in the earth.

10 Also I will appoint a place for my people Israel, and will plant it, that they may dwell in a place of their owne, and more * no more, neither shall wicked people trouble them any more as beforetime.

11 And since the time that I set Iudges ouer my people of Israel, & I will giue thee rest from all thine enemies: also the Lord telleth thee, that he will make thee an house.

12 * And when thy dayes bee fulfilled, thou shalt sleepe with thy fathers, and I will set vp thy seede after thee, which shall proceede out of thy body, and will stablish his kingdom.

13 * Ye that build an house for my Name, and I shall stablish the throne of his kingdom for euer.

14 * I will be his father, and hee shall be my sonne: and * if he sinne, I will chasten him with the rod of men, and with the plagues of the children of men.

15 But my mercy shall not depart away from him, as Iooke it from Saul, whom I haue put away before thee.

16 And thine house shall be stablished and thy kingdom for euer before thee, even thy throne shall be stablished for euer.

17 According to all these words, and according to all this vision, Nathan spake thus vnto David.

18 Then king David went in, and sat before the Lord, and said, Who am I, O Lord God, & what is mine house, that thou hast brought me hither?

19 And this was yett a small thing in thy sight, O Lord God, therefore hast thou spoken alio of thy seruants house for a great while: but * docst this appertaine to * man O Lord God?

20 And what can David say more vnto thee: for thou, Lord God, knowest thy seruant.

21 For thy words sake, and according to thine owne heart hast thou done all these great things, to make them knowen vnto thy seruant.

22 Wherefore thou art great, O Lord God: for there is none like thee, neither is there any God besides thee, according to all that we haue heard with our eares.

23 * And what one people in the earth is like thy people, like Israel: whose God went and redeemed them to himselfe, that they might be his people, and that he might make him a name, and doe for * you great things, and terrible for thy * land, O Lord, even for thy people, whom thou redeemedst to thee out of Egypt, from the * nations, and their gods?

24 For thou hast * ordeined to thy selfe thy people Israel to bee thy people for euer: and thou Lord art become their God.

25 Now therefore, O Lord God, confirme for euer the word that thou hast spoken concerning thy seruant and his house, and doe as thou hast said.

26 And let thy Name bee magnified for euer by them that shall say, The Lord of hostes is the God ouer Israel: and let the * house of thy seruant David bee stablished before thee.

27 For thou, O Lord of hostes, God of Israel, hast reuealed vnto thy seruant, saying, I wil build thee an house: therefore hath thy seruant * bene bold to pray this prayer vnto thee.

28 Therefore now, O Lord God, (for thou art God, and thy words be true, & thou hast told this goodnesse vnto thy seruant)

29 Therefore now let it please thee to blesse the house of thy seruant, that it may continue for euer before thee: for thou, O Lord God, hast * spoken it: and let the house of thy seruant be blessed for euer with thy blessing.

After this now, David smote the Philistims, and subdued them, and David tooke the bundle of bondage out of the hand of the Philistims.

2 And hee smote Hoab, and measured them with a corde, and cast them downe to the ground: hee measured them with two cordes to put them to death, and with one full corde to keepe them alive: so became the Hoabites Davids servants, and brought gifts.

3 David smote also Hadadazer y sonne of Rehob king of Sobah as hee went to recover his border at the river Euphrates.

4 And David tooke of them a thousand and seven hundred horsemen, and twenty thousand footmen, and David destroyed all the charrets, but hee reserved an hundred charrets of them.

5 Then came the Aramites of Dammelek to succour Hadadazer king of Sobah, but David slew of the Aramites two and twenty thousand men.

6 And David put a garison in Aram of Dammelek: and the Aramites became servants to David, and brought gifts. And the Lord saved David wheresoever he went.

7 And David tooke the shields of golde that belonged to the servants of Hadadazer, and brought them to Jerusalem.

8 And out of Bethah, and Berothai (cities of Hadadazer) king David brought exceeding much brass.

9 Then Toi king of Hamath heard how David had smitten all the hoste of Hadadazer:

10 Therefore Toi sent Jozab his sonne unto king David to salute him, & to receive with him, because hee had fought against Hadadazer, and beaten him (for Hadadazer had ware with Toi) who brought with him vessels of silver, and vessels of gold, and vessels of brass.

11 And king David did dedicate them unto the Lord with the silver and gold that he had dedicate of all the nations, which he had subdued:

12 Of Aram and of Hoab, and of the children of Ammon, and of the Philistims, and of Amalek, and of the spoyle of Hadadazer the sonne of Rehob, king of Sobah.

13 So David gave a name after that he returned, and had slaine of the Aramites in the valley of salt eightene thousand men.

14 And hee put a garison in EDOM: thowout all EDOM put hee soldiers, & all they of EDOM became Davids servants: and the Lord kept David whithersoever he went.

15 Thus David reigned over all Israel, and executed judgement and Justice unto all his people.

16 And Hoab the sonne of Seruiath was officer of the hoste, and Joshaphat the sonne of Ahisud was recorder.

17 And Zadok the sonne of Abitub, and Ahimelech the sonne of Abiathar were the Highpriests, and Seratah the Scribe.

9 David restoreth all the lands of Saul to Mephiboseth the sonne of Ionathan. 10 He appointeth Ziba to see to the profit of his lands.

And David sayd, Is there yet any man left of the house of Saul, that I may shew him mercie for Ionathans sake?

2 And there was of the household of Saul a servant whose name was Ziba, and when they had called him unto David, the king said unto him, Art thou Ziba? And he sayd, Thy servant am he.

3 Then the king said, Remaineth there yet none of the house of Saul, on whom I may shew the mercie of God? Ziba then answered the king, Ionathan hath yet a sonne, lame of his feete.

4 Then the king sayd unto him, Where is he? and Ziba said unto the king, Behold, hee is in the house of Nahir the sonne of Amiel of Lo-debar.

5 Then king David sent, and tooke him out of the house of Nahir the sonne of Amiel of Lo-debar.

6 Now when Mephiboseth the sonne of Ionathan, the sonne of Saul was come unto David, hee fell on his face, and did reverence. And David sayd, Mephiboseth? And he answered, Behold thy servant.

7 Then David sayd unto him, Feare not: for I will surely shew thee kindnesse for Ionathans thy fathers sake, and will restore thee all the fields of Saul thy father, and thou shalt eate bread at my table continually.

8 And he bowed himselfe, & sayd, What is thy servant, that thou shouldst looke upon such a dead dogge as I am?

9 Then the king called Ziba Sauls servant, and sayd unto him, I have given unto thy masters sonne all that pertained to Saul and to all his house.

10 Thou therefore and thy sonnes and thy servants shall till the land for him, and bring in, that thy masters sonne may have food to eate. And Mephiboseth thy masters sonne shall eate bread alway at my table (now Ziba had fiftene sonnes, and twenty servants)

11 Then sayd Ziba unto the king, According to all that my lord the king hath commanded his servant, so shall thy servant doe, that Mephiboseth may eate at my table, as one of the kings sonnes.

12 Mephiboseth also had a yong sonne named Hicha, and all that dwelled in the house of Ziba, were servants unto Mephiboseth.

13 And Mephiboseth dwelt in Jerusalem: for hee did eate continually at the kings table, and was lame on both his feete.

3 And the princes of the children of Ammon layd vnto Hanun their lord, & Thinkest thou that Dauid doeth honour thy father, that hee hath sent comforters to thee? hath not Dauid rather sent his seruants vnto thee, to search the citie, and to spie it out, and to ouertrow it?

4 Wherefore Hanun tooke Dauids seruants, & shaued off the halfe of their beard, and cut off their garments in the middle, euen to their buttocks, and sent them away.

5 When it was told vnto Dauid, hee sent to meete them ( for the men were exceedingly ashamed ) and the King sayd, Carry at Jericho vntill your beards be grown, then returne.

6 And when the children of Ammon saw that they stanke in the sight of Dauid, the children of Ammon sent & hired the Aramites of Zobab, twenty thousand footmen, and of King Daacab a thousand men, and of Ish-tob twelue thousand men.

7 And when Dauid heard of it, hee sent Joab, and all the host of strong men.

8 And the children of Ammon came out, and put their arme in aray at the entering in of the gate: and the Aramites of Zobab, and of Rehob, and of Ish-tob, and of Daacab, were by themselves in the field.

9 When Joab saw that the front of the battell was against him before and behind, hee chose of all the choice of Israel, and put them in aray against the Aramites.

10 And the rest of the people he deliuered into the hand of Abisai his brother, that he might put them in aray against the children of Ammon.

11 And he said, If the Aramites be stronger then I, thou shalt helpe me, and if the children of Ammon be too strong for thee, I will come and succour thee.

12 Be strong & let vs be valiant for our people, and for the cities of our God, and let the Lord do that which is good in his eyes.

13 Then Joab, and the people that was with him, topped in battell with the Aramites, who fled before him.

14 And when the children of Ammon saw that the Aramites fled, they fled also before Abisai, and entred into the citie: so Joab returned from the children of Ammon, and came to Jerusalem.

15 And when the Aramites saw that they were smitten before Israel, they gathered them together.

16 And Hadazeret sent, and brought out the Aramites that were beyond the Irtuer: and they came to Ibelam, and Shobach the captaine of the hoste of Hadazeret went before them.

17 When it was shewed Dauid, then hee gathered all Israel together, and passed ouer Iordan, and came to Ibelam: and the Aramites set themselves in aray against Dauid, and fought with him:

18 And the Aramites fled before Israel: and Dauid destroyed seuen hundred charers of the Aramites, and forty thousand horsemen, and inote Shobach the captaine of his hoste, who died there.

19 And when all the kings, that were seruants to Hadazeret, saw that they fell before Israel, they made peace with Israel, and serued them. And the Aramites feared to helpe the children of Ammon any more.

CHAP. XI.

1 The citie of Rabbah is besieged, 4 Dauid committeth adultery. 17 Uriah is slaine. 27 Dauid marrieth Bath-sheba.

And when the yeere was expired in the Autume when kings go forth to battell, Dauid sent Joab, and his seruants with him, and all Israel, who destroyed the children of Ammon, and besieged Rabbah: but Dauid remained in Jerusalem.

2 And when it was euentide, Dauid arose out of his bed, and walked vpon the rooffe of the kings palace: and from the rooffe he saw a woman washing her selfe: and the woman was very beautifull to looke vpon.

3 And Dauid sent and enquired what woman it was: and one sayd, Is not this Bath-sheba the daughter of Eliam, wife to Uriah the Hittite?

4 Then Dauid sent messengers, and tooke her away: and shee came vnto him, and he lay with her: (now she was purchaed from her uncleamnesse) and she returned vnto her house.

5 And the woman conceiued: therefore she sent and told Dauid, and sayd, I am with child.

6 Then Dauid sent to Joab, saying, Send me Uriah the Hittite. And Joab sent Uriah to Dauid.

7 And when Uriah came vnto him, Dauid demanded him how Joab did, and how the people fared, and how the warre prospered.

8 Afterward Dauid said to Uriah, Go downe to thine house, and wash thy feet. So Uriah departed out of the kings palace, and the king sent a yeuel after him.

9 But Uriah slept at the doore of the kings palace with all the seruants of his lord, and went not downe to his house.

10 Then they told Dauid, saying, Uriah went not downe to his house: and Dauid sayd vnto Uriah, Comest thou not from thy iourney? why didst thou not goe downe to thine house?

11 Then Uriah answered Dauid, The Arke of Israel, and Iudah dwell in tents: and my lord Joab and the seruants of my lords abide in the open fields: shall I then go into mine house to eate and drinke, and lie with my wife? by thy life, and by the life of thy soule, I will not doe this thing.

12 Then Dauid sayd to Uriah, Carry yet this day, and to morrow I will send thee away. So Uriah abode in Jerusalem that day, and the morrow.

13 Then Dauid called him, & he did eate and e Dauid thought that if Uriah lay with his wife, his fault might be clocked.

f Hereby God would touch Dauids conscience, that seeing the fidelitic and religion of his seruant, he would declare himselfe to forgetfull of God, and inurious to his seruant.

g He made him drinke more liberally then he was wont to doe, thinking thereby he would have lien by his wife.

and drinke before him, and hee made him s drinke: and at euen hee went out to lic on his couch with the seruants of his lord, but went not downe to his house.

14 And on the morrow Dauid wrote a letter to Joab, and sent it by the hand of Ariah.

15 And he wrote thus in the letter, ¶ But ye Ariah in the forefront of the strength of the battell, and recule yee backe from him, that he may be smitten, and die.

16 ¶ So when Joab besieged the citie, he assigned Ariah vnto a place, where he knew that strong men were.

17 And the men of the citie came out, and fought with Joab: and there fell of the people of the seruants of Dauid, and Ariah the Wittite also died.

18 Then Joab sent and told Dauid all the things concerning the warre.

19 ¶ And he charged the messenger, saying, ¶ When thou hast made an end of telling all the matters of the warre vnto the king,

20 ¶ And if the Kings anger arise, so that he say vnto thee, ¶ Wherefore approached yee vnto the citie to fight? know yee not that they would hurle from the wall?

21 Who smote Abimelech sonne of i Jerubesheth? did not a woman cast a piece of a millstone vpon him from the wall, and hee died in Thebez? Why went yee nigh the wall? Then say thou, Thy seruant Ariah the Wittite is also dead.

22 ¶ So the messenger went, and came and shewed Dauid all that Joab had sent him for.

23 And the messenger sayd vnto Dauid, Certainly the men prouailed against vs, and came out vnto vs into the field, but we pursued them vnto the entering of the gate.

24 But the shooters shot from the wall against thy seruants, and some of the Kings seruants bee dead: and thy seruant Ariah the Wittite is also dead.

25 Then Dauid said vnto the messenger, k Thus shalt thou say vnto Joab, Let not this thing trouble thee: for the sworde deuoureth † one as well as another: make the battell more strong against the citie, and destroy it, and encourage thou him.

26 ¶ And when the wife of Ariah heard that her husband Ariah was dead, shee mourned for her husband.

27 So when the mourning was past, Dauid sent and tooke her into his house, and shee became his wife, and bare him a sonne: but the thing that Dauid had done, displeaseth the Lord.

CHAP. XII.

1 Dauid reproveth by Nathan confesseth his sinne. 18 The child conceived in adultery, dieth.

24 Salomon is borne. 26 Rabbah is taken. 31 The citizens are grievously punished.

¶ Then the Lord sent Nathan vnto Dauid, who came to him, and sayde vnto him, There were two men in one citie, the one rich and the other poore.

2 The rich man had exceeding many sheepe and oren:

3 But the poore had none at all, saue one little sheepe which hee had bought, and nourished by: and it grew by with him, and with his children also, and did eate of his owne woxels, and dranke of his owne cup, and slept in his bosome, and was vnto him as his daughter.

4 Now there came a stranger vnto the rich man, who refused to take of his owne sheepe, and of his owne oren to dreffe for the stranger that was come vnto him, but tooke the poore mans sheepe, and dressed it for the man that was come to him.

5 Then Dauid was exceeding wroth with the man, and sayd to Nathan, As the Lord liueth, the man that hath done this thing, shall surely die,

6 And he shall restore the lambe * fourefold, because hee did this thing, and had no pittie thereof.

7 Then Nathan said to Dauid, Thou art the man. Thus sayth the Lord God of Israel, * I anointed thee King ouer Israel, and deliuered thee out of the hand of Saul,

8 And gaue thee thy lords house, and thy lords wines into thy bosome, and gaue thee the house of Israel, and of Iudah, and would mozeouer (if that had beene too little) haue giue thee a lynch and such things.

9 Wherefore hast thou despised the commandement of the Lord, to doe euill in his sight? Thou hast killed Ariah the Wittite with the sword, and hast taken his wife to be thy wife, and hast slaine him with the sword of the children of Ammon.

10 Now therefore the sword shall neuer depart from thine house, because thou hast despised me, and taken the wife of Ariah the Wittite to be thy wife.

11 Thus sayth the Lord, Behold, I will raise by euill against thee out of thine owne house, and will take thy wines before thine eyes, and giue them vnto thy neighbour, and hee shall lie with thy wines in the sight of this sunne.

12 For thou diddest it secretly: but I will doe this thing before all Israel, and before the sunne.

13 Then Dauid said vnto Nathan, * I haue sinned against the Lord. And Nathan sayd vnto Dauid, The Lord also hath put away thy sinne, thou shalt not die.

14 Howbeit, because by this deede thou hast caused the enemies of the Lord to blaspheme, the child that is borne vnto thee, shall surely die.

15 ¶ So Nathan departed vnto his house: and the Lord strooke the childe that Ariahs wife bare vnto Dauid, and it was sicke.

16 Dauid therefore besought God for the childe, and fasted and went in and lay all night vpon the earth.

17 Then the Elders of his house arose to come vnto him, and to cause him to rise from the ground: but he would not, neither did he eate meate with them.

18 So on the tenth day the child died: and the seruants of Dauid feared to tell him that the childe was dead: for they sayde, Behold, while the childe was a liue, wee spake vnto him, and hee would not hearken vnto our voyce: howe then shall we 19 But when Dauid sawe that his seruants whisperd, Dauid perceined that the childe was dead: therefore Dauid sayd vnto his seruants, Is the childe dead? And they sayd, he is dead.

20 Then Dauid arose from the earth, and washed and anoynted himselfe, and changed his apparell, and came into the house of the Lord, and worshipped, and afterward came to his owne house, and bade that they should set bread before him, and he did eate.

21 Then sayd he to his seruants vnto him, What thing is this, that thou hast done? thou diddest fast and weepe for the childe, while it was aliuē, but when the childe was dead, thou didst rise vp, and eate meate.

22 And he sayd, While the childe was yet aliuē, I fasted and wept: for I sayd, Who can tell whether God will haue mercy on me, that the childe may liue?

23 But now he being dead, wherefore should I now fast? Can I bring him againe any moze? I shall goe to him, but hee shall not returne to me.

24 And Dauid comforted Bath-sheba his wife, and went in vnto her, and lay with her, and she bare a sonne, and hee called his name Salomon: also the Lord loued him.

25 For the Lord had sent by † Nathan the Prophet: therefore he called his name Iedidiah, because the Lord loued him.

26 Then Joab fought against Rabbah of the children of Ammon, and tooke the citie of the kingdome.

27 Therefore Joab sent messengers to Dauid, saying, I haue fought against Rabbah, and haue taken the citie of waters.

28 Now therefore gather the rest of the people together, and besiege the citie, that thou mayest take it, lest † the victorie be attributed to me.

29 So Dauid gathered all the people together, and went against Rabbah, and besieged it, and tooke it.

30 And hee tooke their Kings crowne from his head, (which weighed a talent of gold, with precious stones) and it was set on Dauids head: and hee brought away the spoile of the citie in exceeding great abundance.

31 And hee caried away the people that was therein, and put them vnder sawes and vnder yron hartowes, and vnder axes of yron, and cast them into the tile kilne: euen thus did hee with all the cities of the children of Ammon. Then Dauid and all the people returned vnto Ierusalem.

CHAP. XIII.

14 Amnon Dauids sonne defileth his sister Tamar. 19 Tamar is comforted by her brother Absalom. 29 Absalom therefore killeth Amnon.

Now after this so it was, that Absalom the sonne of Dauid hauing a faire sister, whose name was Tamar, Amnon the sonne of Dauid loued her.

2 And Amnon was so foze bered that he fell sicke for his sister Tamar: for shee was a virgine, and it seemed hard to Amnon to doe any thing vnto her.

3 But Amnon had a friend called Jonadab, the sonne of Shimeah Dauids brother: and Jonadab was a very subtil man.

4 Who said vnto him, Why art thou the Kings sonne so leane from day to day? wilt thou not tell mee? Then Amnon answered him, I loue Tamar my brother Absaloms sister.

5 And Jonadab sayd vnto him, Lie downe on thy bed, and make thy selfe sicke: and when thy father shall come to see thee, say vnto him, I pray thee, let my sister Tamar come and giue mee meate, and let her dress meate in my sight, that I may see it, and eate it of her hand.

6 So Amnon lay downe, and made himselfe sicke: and when the King came to see him, Amnon sayd vnto the King, I pray thee, let Tamar my sister come, and make me a couple of cakes in my sight, that I may receiue meate at her hand.

7 Then Dauid sent home to Tamar, saying, See now to thy brother Ammons house, and dress him meate.

8 So Tamar went to her brother Ammons house, and he lay downe: and shee tooke flour and knead it, and made cakes in his sight, and did bake the cakes.

9 And shee tooke a panne, and powdered them out before him, but he would not eate. Then Amnon sayd, Cause ye euery man to goe out from mee: so euery man went out from him.

10 Then Amnon sayde vnto Tamar, Bring the meate into the chamber, that I may eate of thine hand. And Tamar tooke the cakes which she had made, and brought them into the chamber to Amnon her brother.

11 And when she had set them before him to eate, hee tooke her, & layd vnto her, Come, lie with me, my sister.

12 But she answered him, Nay, my brother, doe not force mee: for no such thing ought to bee done in Israel: comint not this solly.

13 And she said, Whither shall I cause my shame to goe? and thou shalt be as one of the fooles in Israel: now therefore, I pray thee speake to the King, for he will not denie me vnto thee.

14 Howbeit, he would not hearken vnto her voice, but being stronger then she, forced her, and lay with her.

15 Then Amnon hated her exceedingly, so that the hatred wherewith hee hated her, was greater then the loue, wherewith hee had loued her: and Amnon layd vnto her, Up, get thee hence.

16 And she answered him, There is no cause: this euill (to put me away) is greater then the other that thou didst vnto mee: but he would not heare her,

29 And the ſeruants of Abfalom did vnto Amnon as Abfalom had commaunded: and all the kings ſonnes aroſe, and every man gaue by vpon his ſiſtle, and fled.

30 ¶ And while they were in the way, tidings came to Dauid, ſaying, Abfalom hath ſlaine all the kings ſonnes, & there is not one of them left.

12 Then the woman said, I pray thee, let thine handmaide speake a word to my lord the king. And he said, Say on.

13 Then the woman said, Wherefore then hast thou thought such a thing against the people of God? or why doeth the king, as one which is faultie, speake this thing, that he will not bring againe his banished?

14 For we must needs die, and we are as water spilt on the ground, which cannot bee gathered vp againe: neither doeth God spare any person, yet doeth hee appoint meanes, not to cast out from him, him that is expelled.

15 Nowe therefore that I am come to speake of this thing vnto my lord the king, the cause is, that the people I haue made mee afraide: therefore thine handmaide said, Now will I speake vnto the king: it may be that the king will performe the request of his handmaide.

16 For the king will heare, to deliuer his handmaide out of the hand of the man that would destroy mee, and also my soune from the inheritance of God.

17 Therefore thine handmaide said, The word of my lord the king shall nowe bee I comfortable: for my lord the king is euen as an Angel of God in hearing of good and bad: therefore the Lord thy God bee with thee.

18 Then the king answered, and said vnto the woman, Hide not from me, I pray thee, the thing that I shall aske thee. And the woman said, Let my lord the king now speake.

19 And the king said, Is not<sup>1</sup> the hand of Ioab with thee in all this? Then the woman answered, and said, As thy soule liueth, my lord the king, I wil not turne to the right hand nor to the left, from ought that my lord the king hath spoken: for euen thy seruauit Ioab bade me, and he put all these words in the mouth of thine handmaide.

20 For to the intent that I should change the forme of speech, thy seruauit Ioab hath done this thing: but my lord is wise according to the wisdom of an Angel of God, to vnderstand all things that are in the earth.

21 And the king said vnto Ioab, Behold now, I haue<sup>o</sup> done this thing: go then, and bring the young man Absalom againe.

22 And Ioab fell to the ground on his face, and bowed himselfe, and thanked the king. Then Ioab said, This day thy seruauit knoweth, that I haue found grace in thy sight, my lord the king, in that the king hath fulfilled the request of his seruauit.

23 And Ioab arose, and went to Gethur, and brought Absalom to Ierusalem.

24 And the king said, Let him<sup>o</sup> turne to his owne house, and not see my face. So Absalom turned to his owne house, and saw not the kings face.

25 Now in all Israel there was none to bee so much praised for beautie as Absalom: from the sole of his foote euen to the top of his head there was no blemish in him.

26 And when he polled his head, (for at euery yeeres end he polled it: because it was too heauie for him, therefore he polled it) hee weighed the haire of his head at two hundred shekels by the kings weight.

27 And Absalom had three sonnes, and one daughter named Tamar, which was a faire woman to looke vpon.

28 So Abiaion dwelt the space of two yeeres in Ierusalem, and saw not the kings face.

29 Therefore Absalom sent for Ioab to send him to the king, but he would not come to him: and when he sent againe, hee would not come.

30 Therefore hee said vnto his seruants, Behold, Ioab hath a field by my place, and hath barley therein: goe, and let it go on fire: and Absaloms seruants set the field on fire.

31 Then Ioab arose, and came to Absalom, vnto his house, and said vnto him, Wherefore haue thy seruants burnt my field with fire?

32 And Absalom answered Ioab, Behold, I sent for thee, saying, Come thou hither, and I will send thee to the king for to say, Wherefore am I come from Gethur? It had beene better for mee to haue bene there still: now therefore let me see the kings face: and if there bee any trespass in me, let him kill me.

33 Then Ioab came to the king, and told him: and hee called for Absalom, who came to the king, & bowed himselfe to the ground on his face before the king, and the king kissed Absalom.

After this, Absalom prepared him chariots and horses, and sitty men to runne before him.

2 And Absalom rose by early, and stood hard by the entering in of the gate: and euery man that had any matter, and came to the king for iudgement, him did Absalom call vnto him, and said, Of what citie art thou? And hee answered, Thy seruauit is of one of the tribes of Israel.

3 Then Absalom said vnto him, See, thy matters are good and righteous, but there is no man deputed of the king to heare thee.

10 ¶ Then Abfalom sent spies throughout all the tribes of Israel, saying, When ye heare the found of the trumpet, ye shall say, Abfalom reigneth in Hebron.

11 ¶ And with Abfalom went two hundred men out of Ierusalem, that were called: e they went in their simplicitie, knowing nothing.

12 Also Abfalom sent for Ahitophel the Gilonite Davids counsellor, from his citie Giloh, while he offered sacrifices: and the treason was great: for the people increased still with Abfalom.

13 Then came a messenger to David, saying, The hearts of the men of Israel are turned after Abfalom.

14 Then David laid vnto al his seruants that were with him at Ierusalem, Arise, and let vs flee: for we shal not escape from Abfalom: make speed to depart, lest hee come suddenly and take vs, and bring euill vpon vs, and hitte the citie with the edge of the sword.

15 And the kings seruants sayde vnto him, Behold, thy seruants are ready to doe according to all that my lord the king shall appoint.

16 So the king departed and al his household after him, and the king left ten concubines to keepe the house.

17 And the king went forth, and all the people after him, and tarried in a place far off.

18 And all his seruants went about him, and all the Cherethites, and all the Pelishtites, and all the Gittites. euen like hundred men which were come after him from Gath, went before the king.

19 Then said the king to Ittai the Gittite, Wherefore comest thou also with vs? Returne and abide with the king, for thou art a stranger: depart thou therefore to thy place.

20 Thou comest yester day, and should I cause thee to wander to day? goe with vs: I will goe whither I can: therefore returne thou, and carry againe thy brethren: mercy and clemency be with thee.

21 And Ittai answered the King, and said, As the Lord liueth, and as my lord the king liueth, in what place my lord the king shall be, whether in death or life, euen there surely will thy seruant be.

22 Then David said to Ittai, Come, and goe forward. And Ittai the Gittite went, and all his men, and all the children that were with him.

23 And all the country wept with a loud voyce, and all the people went forward, but the king passed ouer the brooke Kidon: and all the people went one toward the way of the wilderness.

24 ¶ And loe, Zadok was there, and all the Leuites with him, bearing the Arke of the Couenant of God, and they let downe the Arke of God, and Abiathar went vntill the people were all come out of the citie.

25 Then said the king vnto Zadok, Carry the Arke of God againe into the citie: if I shall finde fauour in the eyes of the Lord, he will bring me againe, and shew mee both it, and the Tabernacle thereof.

26 But if he thus say, I haue no delight in thee, behold, here am I, let him doe to me as seemeth good in his eyes.

27 The king laid againe vnto Zadok the Priest, Art not thou a Seer? returne into the citie in peace, and your two sonnes with you: to wit, Ahimaaz thy sonne, and Jonathan the sonne of Abiathar.

28 Behold, I will tarrie in the fieldes of the wilderness: untill there come some word from you to be told me.

29 Zadok therefore and Abiathar carried the Arke of God againe to Ierusalem, and they tarried there.

30 And David went by the mount of Olives, and wept as he went vp, and had his head covered, and went barefooted: and all the people that was with him, had euery man his head couered, and as they went vp, they wept.

31 Then one told David, saying, Ahitophel is one of them that haue conspired with Abfalom: And David said, O Lord, I pray thee, turne the counsell of Ahitophel into foolishnesse.

32 ¶ Then David came to the top of the mount where hee worshipped God, and behold, Hushai the Archite came against him with his coat sojned, and hauing earth vpon his head.

33 Unto whom David said, If thou goe with me, thou shalt be a burthen vnto me.

34 But if thou returne to the citie, and say vnto Abfalom, I will be thy seruant, O King, (as I haue bene in times past thy fathers seruant, so will I now be thy seruant) then thou mayest bring me the counsell of Ahitophel to nought.

35 And hast thou not there with thee Zadok and Abiathar the Priestes? therefore whatsoever thou shalt heare out of y kingdoms house, thou shalt shew to Zadok and Abiathar the Priestes.

36 Behold, there are with them their two sonnes: Ahimaaz Zadoks sonne, and Jonathan Abiathars sonne: by them also shalt ye send me euery thing that ye can heare.

4 Then said the king to Ziba, Behold, thine are all that pertained unto Absithophel. And Ziba said, I beseech thee, let me find grace in thy sight, my lord, the King.

5 And when king David came to Bahuzin, behold, thence came out a man of the family of the house of Saul, named Shimei the sonne of Sera: and he came out and cursed.

6 And he cast stones at David, and at all the servants of king David: and all the people, and all the men of warre were on his right hand, and on his left.

7 And thus said Shimei when hee cursed, Come forth, come forth thou & murdherer and wicked man.

8 The Lord hath brought upon thee all the blood of the house of Saul, in whose stead thou hast reigned: and the Lord hath delivered thy kingdome into the hand of Absalom thy sonne: and behold, thou art taken in thy wickednesse, because thou art a murdherer.

9 Then said Abisshai the sonne of Neriah vnto the king, Why doest thou dead dogge curse my Lord the king? let me goe, I pray thee, and take away his head.

10 But the king said, What have I to doe with you, ye sonnes of Jerusalem? for hee curseth, euen because the Lord hath bidden him curse David: Who dare the say, Wherefore hast thou done so?

11 And David said to Abisshai, and to all his seruants, Behold, my sonne, which came out of mine owne bowels, seeketh my life: then how much more now may this sonne of Iemini? Suffer him to curse: for the Lord hath bidden him.

12 It may be that the Lord will looke on mine affliction, and s doe mee good for his curling this day.

13 And as David and his men went by the way, Shimei went by the side of the mountaine ouer against him, and cursed as he went, and threw stones against him, and cast dust.

14 Then came the king and all the people that were with him, weary, and refreshed themselves there.

15 And Absalom, and all the people, the men of Israel came to Jerusalem, and Athithophel with him.

16 And when Hushai the Archite Dautds friend was come by vnto Absalom, Hushai said vnto Absalom, & God saue the king, God saue the king.

17 Then Absalom said to Hushai, Is this thy kindnesse to thy friend? Why wentest thou not with thy friend?

18 Hushai then answered vnto Absalom, Nay, but whome the Lord, and this people, and all the men of Israel chuse, his will I be, and with him will I dwell.

19 And & moreover vnto whome shall I doe fence? not to his sonne? As I serued befoze thy father, so will I befoze thee.

20 Then spake Absalom to Athithophel, Giue counsell what we shall doe.

21 And Athithophel said vnto Absalom, Goe in to thy fathers concubines, which hee hath left to keepe the house: and when all Israel shall heare that thou art abhorred of thy father, the handes of all that are with thee, shall be strong.

22 So they spread Absalom a tent vpon the top of the house, and Absalom went in to his fathers concubines in the sight of all Israel.

23 And the counsell of Athithophel which hee counselled in those dayes, was like as one had asked counsell at the oracle of God: so was all the counsell of Athithophel both with David and with Absalom.

2 And I will come vpon him: for hee is weary, and weake handed: so I will feare him, and all the people that are with him, shall flee, and I will smite the king onely.

3 And I will bring againe at the people vnto thee, and when all shall returne, (the man whom thou seekest, being slaine) all the people shall be in peace.

4 And the saying & pleaded Absalom well, and all the Elders of Israel.

5 Then said Absalom, Call now Hushai the Archite also, and let vs heare likewise what he saith.

6 So when Hushai came to Absalom, Absalom spake vnto him, saying, Athithophel hath spoken thus: shall wee doe after his saying, or no? tell thou.

7 Hushai then answered vnto Absalom, The counsell that Athithophel hath giuen, is not good at this time.

8 For, said Hushai, thou knowest thy father and his men, that they be strong men, and are chased in minde, as a beare robbed of her whelpes in the field: also thy father is a valiant warriour, and wil not lodge with the people.

9 Behold, he is hid now in some caue, or in some place: and though some of them be ouerthrowen at the first, yet the people shall heare and say, The people that follow Absalom, & be ouerthrowen.

10 Then hee also that is valiant, whose heart is as the heart of a lyon, shall shrink and faint: for all Israel knoweth that thy father is valiant, and they which bee with him stout men.

11 Therefore my counsell is that all Israel be gathered vnto thee, from Dan euen to Beer-sheba as the land of the Sea in number, and that thou go to battell in thine owne person.

12 So shall wee come vpon him in some place, where wee shall find him, and we will vpon him, as the dew-falleth on the ground:

15 Then said Hushai vnto Zadok and to Abiathar the Priests, Of this and that manner did Ahithophel and the Elders of Israel counsell Absalom : and thus and thus hath I counsell'd.

16 Now therefore send quickly, and shew Dauid, saying, Earie not this night in the fields of the wilderness, but rather see thee ouer, least the king be deuoured, and all the people that are with him.

17 ¶ Howe Jonathan and Ahimaaz a-bode by the well of Rogel : (for they might not see liene to come into the citie) and a maide went, and told them, and they went and shewed king Dauid.

18 Neuertheless a yong man saw them, and told it to Absalom : therefore they both departed quickly, and came to a mans house in Bahurim, who had a well in his court, into the which they went downe.

19 And the wise tooke and spread a covering ouer the welles mouth, and spread ground coare thereon, that the thing should not be knowen.

20 And when Absaloms seruants came to the wife into the house, they said, Where is Ahimaaz and Jonathan? And the woman answered them, They bee gone ouer the brooke of water. And when they had sought them, and could not finde them, they returned to Jerusalem.

21 And alsoo as they were departed, the other came out of the well, and went and tolde king Dauid, and said vnto him, Up, and get you quickly ouer the water : for such counsell hath Ahithophel giuen against you.

22 Then Dauid arose, and all the people that were with him, and they went ouer Jordan, untill the dawning of the day, so that there lacked not one of them, that was not come ouer Jordan.

23 ¶ Now when Ahithophel sawe that his counsell was not followed, hee sadled his asse, and arose, & hee went home vnto his citie, and put his boult in order, and hanged himselfe, and died, and was buried in his fathers graue.

24 ¶ Then Dauid came to Bahaimain. And Absalom passed ouer Jordan, he, and all the men of Israel with him.

25 And Absalom made Amasa captain of the hoste in the stead of Joab : which Amasa was a mans sonne named Ichja an Israelite, that went in to Abigail the daughter of Nabal, sister to Jeremiah Joabs mother, 26 So Israel and Absalom pitched in the land of Gilead.

27 ¶ And when Dauid was come to Bahaimain, Shobi the sonne of Nahab, and Bachir the sonne of Amiel, and Barzillai the Gileadite out of Rogel, and Brought beds and baulins, and earthen vessels, and wheate, and barley, and flour, and parched coare, and beanes, and lentilles, and parched coare.

28 And they brought honie, and butter, and sheepe, and cheefe of kine for Dauid and for the people that were with him, to eat: for they saide, The people is hungrie, and wearie, and thirstie in the wilderness.

¶ Then Dauid numbred the people that were with him, and set ouer them capitaines of thousandes, and captaines of hundredeths.

2 And Dauid sent forth the third part of the people vnder the hand of Joab, and the third part vnder the hand of Abisai Joabs brother the sonne of Zeruah : and the other third part vnder the hand of Ittai the Gittite : and the king said vnto the people, I will goe with you my selfe also.

3 But the people answered, Thou shalt not goe forth : for if we flee away, they will not regard vs, neither will they passe for vs, though halfe of vs were slaine : but thou art now worth ten thousand of vs : therefore now it is better that thou succour vs out of the citie.

4 Then the king said vnto them, What seemeth you best, that will I doe. So the king stood by the gate side, and all the people came out by hundredeths, and by thousandes.

5 And the king commaunded Joab and Abisai, and Ittai, saying, Embrace the yong man Absalom gently for my sake : and al the people heard when the king gaue all the captaines charge concerning Absalom.

6 So the people went out into the field to meete Israel, and the battell was in the wood of Ephraim :

7 Where the people of Israel were slaine before the seruants of Dauid : so there was a great slaughter that day, even of threentie thousand.

8 ¶ For the battell was scattered ouer all the countrey : and the wood deuoured much more people that day, then did the sword.

9 ¶ Now Absalom met the seruants of Dauid, and Absalom rode vpon a mule, and the mule came vnder a great thicke oke: and his head caught hold of the oke, and he was taken by it betwene the heauen and the earth : and the mule that was vnder him, went away.

10 And one that saw it tolde Joab, saying, Behold, I sawe Absalom hanged in an oke.

this noght: and that will be worke vnto thee, then all the euill that fell on thee from thy youth hitherto.

8 When the King arose, and sate in the gate: and they told vnto all the people saying, Behold, the King doth sit in the gate: and all the people came before the King, for Israel had sieden euery man to his tent.

9 Then all the people were at scriffe throughout all the tribes of Israel, saying, The King saued vs out of the hand of our enemies, and he deliuered vs out of the hand of the Philistins, and now he is fled out of the land for Absalom.

10 And Absalom, whom wee anoynted ouer vs, is dead in battell: therefore why are ye so slow to bring the King againe?

11 But King Dauid sent to Zadok, and to Abiathar the Priests, saying, Speake vnto the Elders of Iudah, and say, Why are ye behind to bring the King againe to his house? (for the saying of all Israel is come vnto the King, euen to his house)

12 Ye are my brethren: my bones and my flesh are yee: wherefore then are ye the last that bring the King againe?

13 Also say ye to Amasa, Art thou not my bone and my flesh? God doe so to me & more also, if thou be not captaine of the host to me for euer in the roome of Ioab.

14 So hee bowed the heartes of all the men of Iudah, as of one man: therefore they sent to the King, saying, Returne thou with all thy seruants.

15 So the King returned, and came to Iordan. And Iudah came to Gilgal, for to goe to meete the King, and to conduct him ouer Iordan.

16 And S. Shimeg the sonne of Gera the sonne of Jerim, which was of Bahurim, hastned and came downe with the men of Iudah to meete King Dauids.

17 And a thousand men of Benjamin with him, and Ziba the seruant of the house of Saul, and his siterne sonnes and twentie seruants with him: and they went ouer Iordan before the King.

18 And there went ouer a boate to carie ouer the Kings household, and to doe him pleasure. Then Shimeg the sonne of Gera fell before the King, when he was come ouer Iordan.

19 And said vnto the King, Let not my lord impute wickednesse vnto mee, nor remember the thing that thy seruant did wickedly when my lord the King departed out of Ierusalem, that the king should take it to his heart.

20 For thy seruant doeth knowe, that I haue done amisse: therefore beholde, I am the first this day of all the house of Ioseph, that am come to goe downe to meete my lord the King.

21 But Abisgai the sonne of Neriah answered, and said, Shall not Shimeg die for this, because hee cursed the Lords anoynted?

22 And Dauid said, What haue I to doe with you, ye sonnes of Neriah, that this day ye should be aduersaries vnto mee? Shall there any man die this day in Israel? for doe not I know, that I am this day King ouer Israel?

23 Therefore the King said vnto Shimeg, Thou shalt not die: and the King swore vnto him.

24 And Mephibosheth the sonne of Saul came downe to meete the King, and had neither washed his feete, nor dressed his beard, nor washed his clothes from the time the King departed, vntill hee returned in peace.

25 And when hee was come to Ierusalem, and met the King, the King said vnto him, Wherefore wentest thou not with mee, Mephibosheth?

26 And hee answered, My lord the king, my seruant deceiued me: for thy seruant said, I would haue mine asse saddled to ride thereon, for to goe with the King, because thy seruant is lame.

27 And hee hath accused thy seruant vnto my lord the King: but my lord the King is as an Angel of God: doe therefore thy pleasure.

28 For all my fathers house were dead men before my lord the King, yet didst thou set thy seruant among them that did eat at thine owne table: what right therefore haue I yet to critic any more vnto the King?

29 And the King saide vnto him, Why speakest thou any more of thy matters? I haue sayde, Thou, and Ziba diuide the lands.

30 And Mephibosheth sayde vnto the King, Yea, let him take all, seeing my lord the King is come home in peace.

31 Then Barzillai the Gileadite came downe from Rogelin, and went ouer Iordan with the King, to conduct him ouer Iordan.

32 Now Barzillai was a very aged man, euen fourescore yeere olde, and he had prouided the King of sustenance, while hee lay at Mahanaim: for he was a man of very great substance.

33 And the King said vnto Barzillai, Come ouer with mee, and I will feede thee with me in Ierusalem.

34 And Barzillai said vnto the King, How long haue I to liue, that I should goe vp with the King to Ierusalem?

35 I am this day fourescore yeere old: and can I discern betwene good or euill? What thy seruant any taste in that I eat, or in that I drinke? Can I heare any more the voice of singeing men and women? wherefore then should thy seruant bee any more a burden vnto my lord the King?

36 Thy seruant will goe a litle way ouer Iordan with the King, and why will the King recompense it me with such a reward?

37 I pray thee, let thy seruant turne back againe, that I may die in mine owne citie, and bee buried in the graue of my father and of my mother: but beholde thy seruant Chimham, let him goe with my lord the King, and doe to him what shall please thee.

a Where the ten tribes contended against Iudab, b As they of Iudab say, c He thought by speaking contemptuously of the King, to stir the People rather to sedition, or else by causing Israel to depart, thought that they of Iudah would haue lesse esteemed him, d From Gilgal, which was neere Iorden.

1 When there was come a wicked man, (named Sheba the son of Bichzi, a man of Ienini) and he blew the trumpet, and said, We haue no part in Dauid, neither haue wee inheritance in the sonne of Ithai: every man to his tents, O Israel.

2 So every man of Israel went from Dauid, and followed Sheba the sonne of Bichzi: but the men of Iudah clane fast vnto their king, from Jordan euen to Ierusalem.

3 When Dauid then came to his house to Ierusalem, the king tooke the ten women his concubines, that he had left behind him to keepe the house, and put them in ward, and fed them, but lay no more with them: but they were enclosed vnto the day of their death, liuing in widowhood.

4 C Then said the king to Amasa, Assemble mee the men of Iudah within thre dayes, and be thou here present.

5 So Amasa went to assemble Iudah, but he taried longer then the time which he had appointed him.

6 Then Dauid said vnto Abithai, Now shalt Sheba the sonne of Bichzi doe vs more harme then did Absalom: take thou therefore thy Iobbs seruants, and follow after him, least hee get him walled cities, and escape vs.

7 And there went out after him Iobbs men, and the Cherethites and the Ielethites, and all the mightie men: and they departed out of Ierusalem, to follow after Sheba the sonne of Bichzi.

8 When they were at the great stone, which is in Sibron, Amasa went before them, and Iobbs garment, that he had put on, was girded vnto him, and vpon it was a sword girded, which hanged on his loyies in the sheath, and as hee went, it vld to fall out.

9 And Iob said to Amasa, Art thou in health my brother? And Iobooke Amasa by the beard with the right hand to kille him.

10 But Amasa tooke no heed to the word that was in Iobbs hand: for therewith hee smote him in the fifth ribbe, and shed out his bowels to the ground, and smote him not the second time: so he died. Then Iob and Abithai his brother followed after Sheba the sonne of Bichzi.

11 And one of Iobbs men stood by him, and said, We that fauoureth Iob, & hee that is of Dauids part, let him goe after Iob.

12 And Amasa wallowed in blood in the mids of the way: and when the man sawe that all the people stood still, he removed Amasa out of the way into the field, and cast a cloth vpon him, because he saw that euery one that came by him, stood still.

13 C When hee was removed out of the way, euery man went after Iob, to follow after Sheba the sonne of Bichzi.

14 And hee went thoway all the tribes of Israel vnto Abel, and Bethmaachah and all places of Berim: and they gathered together, and went also after him.

15 So they came, and besieged him in Abel, neere to Bethmaachah: and they cast vp a mound against the cite, and the people thereof stood on the rampier, and all the people that was with Iob, destroyed and cast downe the wall.

16 Then cried a wife woman out of the cite, Heare, heare, I pray you, say vnto Iob. Come thou hither, that I may speake with thee.

17 And when he came neere vnto her, the woman said, Art thou Iob? And hee answered, Yea. And she said to him, Heare the words of thine handmaide. And he answered, I do heare.

18 Then she spake thus, They spake in the old time, saying, They should alke of Abel. And so haue they continued.

19 I am one of them, that are peaceable and faithfull in Israel: and thou goest about to destroy a cite, and a woman in Israel: why wilt thou denounce the inheritance of the Lord?

20 And Iob answered, and said, God forbid, God forbid it me, that I should denounce or destroy it.

21 The matter is not so, but a man of mount Ephzaim (Sheba the sonne of Bichzi by name) hath lste by his hand against the King, euen against Dauid: deliuer vs him onely, and I will depart from the cite. And the woman said vnto Iob, Beholde, his head shall bee thowen to thee ouer the wall.

22 Then the woman went vnto all the people with her wisdom, and they cut off the head of Sheba the sonne of Bichzi, and cast it to Iob: then hee blew the trumpet, and they retired from the cite, every 1 Three deare yeeres. 9 The vengeance of the sinnes of Saul begineth on his seuen sonnes, which are hanged. 15 Foure great battels which Dauid had against the Philistims.

¶ Then there was a famine in the dayes of Dauid three yeres together: and Dauid asked counsell of the Lord, & the Lord answered, it is for Saul, and for his bloodie house, because he slew the Gibeonites.

2 ¶ Then the king called the Gibeonites, and said vnto them, (now the Gibeonites were not of the children of Israel, but a remnant of the Amorites, vnto whom the children of Israel had swoyn: but Saul sought to slay them for his zeale toward the children of Israel and Iudah.)

3 And Dauid said vnto the Gibeonites, ¶ What shall I doe for you, and where with shall I make the atonement, that yee may blesse the inheritance of the Lord?

4 The Gibeonites then answered him, We will haue no siluer nor gold of Saul, nor of his house, neither for vs shalt thou kill any man in Israel. And he said, What yee shall say, that will I doe for you.

5 ¶ Then they answered the king, The man that consumed vs, and that imagined euill against vs (so that wee are destroyed from remaining in any coast of Israel,

6 Let seuen men of his sonnes be deliuered vnto vs, and we will hang them by vnto the Lord in Gibeah of Saul, the Lords chosen. And the king said, I wil giue them.

7 ¶ But the king had compassion on Hephibosheth the sonne of Jonathan the sonne of Saul, because of the Lordes othe, that was betwene them, euen betwene Dauid and Jonathan the sonne of Saul.

8 ¶ But the king tooke the two sonnes of Rizpah the daughter of Aiah, whom hee bare vnto Saul, euen Armoni and Hephibosheth, and the two sonnes of Michal the daughter of Saul, whom she bare to Adiel the sonne of Barzillai the Beholathite.

9 And he deliuered them vnto the hands of the Gibeonites, which hanged the in the mountaine before the Lord: so they died all seuen together, and they were slaine in the time of harvest, in the first dayes, and in the beginning of barley harvest.

10 ¶ Then Rizpah the daughter of Aiah tooke 7 sackcloth and hanged it by her vpon the rocke, from the beginning of harvest, vntill water dropped vpon them from the heauen, and suffered neither the birds of the aire to light on them by day, nor beasts of the field by night.

11 ¶ And it was told Dauid what Rizpah the daughter of Aiah the concubine of Saul had done.

12 And Dauid went and tooke the bones of Saul & the bones of Jonathan his sonne from the citizens of Jabesh Gilead, which had stollen them from the street of Bethshan, where the Philistims had hanged them, when the Philistims had slaine Saul in Gilboa.

13 So hee brought thence the bones of Saul and the bones of Jonathan his sonne, and they gathered the bones of them that were hanged.

14 And the bones of Saul and of Jonathan his sonne buried they in the countrey of Benjamin in Zelah, in the graue of Kish his father: and when they had performed all that the king had commaunded, God was then appeared with the land.

15 ¶ Againe the Philistims had warre with Israel: and Dauid went downe, and his seruants with him, and they fought against the Philistims, and Dauid slained.

16 ¶ Then Ishi-benob which was of the sons of Haraphay (the head of whose speare weyed three hundred speckels of masse) euen hee being giued with a new sword, thought to haue slaine Dauid.

17 ¶ But Abithai the sonne of Zeruah succoured him, and smote the Philistin, and killed him. ¶ Then Dauides men swaue vnto him, saying, Thou shalt go no more out with vs to battell, lest thou quench the light of Israel.

18 ¶ And after this also there was a battell with the Philistims at Gob: then Sibbechai the Hulathite slew Saph, which was one of the sonnes of Haraphay.

19 And there was yet another battell in Gob with the Philistims, where Ethanah the sonne of Jaere-ogim, a Bethlehemite slew Goliath the Gittite, the staffe of whose speare was like a weavers beame.

20 ¶ Afterward there was also a battell in Gath, where was a man of a great stature, and had on euery hand fire fingers, and on euery foote fire toes, foure and twentie in number: who was also the sonne of Haraphay.

21 And when hee reuiled Israel, Jonathan the son of ¶ Shimai the brother of Dauid slew him.

22 ¶ These foure were boone to Haraphay in Gath, and died by the hand of Dauid and by the hands of his seruants.

3 God is my strength, in him wil I trust: my shield, and the borne of my saluation, my hie tower and my refuge: my Saviour, thou hast saued me from violence.

4 I will call on the Lord, who is worthy to be prayled: so shall I bee safe from mine enemies.

5 For the panges of death haue compassed mee: the floods of vngodlinesse haue made me afraid.

6 The sorowes of the grave compassed me about: the snares of death overtooke me.

7 But in my tribulation did I call vpon the Lord, and cry to my God, and hee did heare my voyce out of his Temple, and my cry did enter into his eares.

8 Then the earth trembled and quaked: the foundations of the heauens moued, and shooke, because he was angry.

9 Smoke went out at his nostrils, and consuming fire out of his mouth: coles were kindled thereat.

10 Hee bowed the heauens also & came downe, and darkenesse was vnder his feet.

11 And hee rode vpon Cherub and did flie, and he was seene vpon the wings of the winde.

12 And he made darkenesse a tabernacle round about him, euen the gatherings of waters, and the cloudes of the aire.

13 At the brightnesse of his presence the coles of fire were kindled.

14 The Lord thundred from heauen, and the most hie gaue his voyce.

15 Hee shot arrowes also, and scattered them: to wit, lightning & destroyed them.

16 The chanelles also of the sea appeared, euen the foundations of the world were discovered by the rebuking of the Lord, and at the blast of the breath of his nostrils.

17 He sent from aboue, and tooke me: hee drew me out of many waters.

18 He deliuered me from my strong enemy, and from them that hated me: for they were too strong for me.

19 They presented me in the day of my calamitie, but the Lord was my stay, 20 And brought mee forth into a large place: hee deliuered me, because hee fauoured mee.

21 The Lord rewarded me according to my righteounesse: according to the purenesse of mine hands hee recompensed me.

22 For I kept the wayes of the Lord, and did not wickedly against my God.

23 For all his lawes were before mee, and his statutes: I did not depart therefrom.

24 I was vpright also toward him, and haue kept me from my wickednesse.

25 Therefore the Lord did reward mee according to my righteounesse, according to my purenesse before his eyes.

26 With the godly thou wilt shew thy selfe godly: with the vpright man thou wilt shew thy selfe vpright.

27 With the pure thou wilt shew thy selfe pure, and with the froward thou wilt shew thy selfe froward.

28 Thus thou wilt saue the poore people: but thine eyes are vpon the haucie to humble them.

29 Surely thou art my light, O Lord: and the Lord will lighten my darkenesse.

30 For by thee haue I broken through an holte, and by my God haue I leaped ouer a wall.

31 The way of God is vncorrupt: the word of the Lord is tried in theire: hee is a shield to all that trust in him.

32 For who is God besides the Lord? and who is mighty, saue our God?

33 God is my strength in battel, and maketh my way vpright.

34 He maketh my feet like r hinds feet, and hath set me vpon mine hie places.

35 He teacheth mine hands to fight, so that a bow of brass is broken with mine arms.

36 Thou hast also giuen me the shield of thy saluation, and thy louing kindnesse hath caused me to increafe.

37 Thou hast enlarged my steps vnder me, and my heeles haue not slid.

38 I haue pursued mine enemies and destroyed them, and haue not turned againe vntill I had consumed them.

39 Pea, I haue consumed them and thrust them through, and they shal not arise, but shall fall vnder my feete.

40 For thou hast giued me with power to battel, and thou that rose against mee, hast thou subdued vnder me.

41 And thou hast giuen me the neckes of mine enemies, that I might destroy them that hate me.

42 They looked about, but there was none to saue them, euen vnto the Lord, but he answered them not.

43 Then did I beate them as small as the dust of the earth: I did tread them flat as the clay of the street, and did spread them abroad.

44 Thou hast also deliuered mee from the contentions of my people: thou hast preferred mee to be the head ouer nations: the people which I knew not, doe serue me.

45 Strangers shall bee in subiection to me, asloone as they heare, they shall obey me.

46 Strangers shall thinke away, and feare in their princ chambers.

47 Let the Lord live, and blessed be my strength: and God, euen the force of my saluation be exalted.

48 It is God that giueth mee power to reuenge me, and subdue the people vnder me, 49 And rescue me from mine enemies: (thou also hast lift mee vp from them that rose against mee, thou hast deliuered mee from the cruell man.

50 Therefore I wil praise thee, O Lord, among the nations, and will sing vnto thy Name.)

51 Hee is the tower of saluation for his king, and sheweth mercy to his anointed, euen to Dauid, and to his seed for euer.

4 Euen as the morning light when the Sonne riseth, the morning, Day, without cloudes, so shall mine house bee, and not as the <sup>c</sup> graffe of the earth is by the bright raine.

5 For so shall not mine house bee with God: for hee hath made with me an euertlasting covenant, perfect in all points, & suret therefore al mine health and whole desire is, that he will not make it <sup>d</sup> grow so.

6 But the wicked shall bee euery one as thornes thrust away, because they cannot be taken with hands.

7 But the man that shall touch them, must be defended with yron, or with the shaft of a speare: and they shall be burnt with fire in the same place.

8 These bee the names of the mightie men whom Dauid had, hee that sate in the seate of <sup>e</sup> wisdom, being chiefe of the princes, was Adino of Gini, he slew eight hundred at one time.

9 And after him was <sup>f</sup> Eleazar the sonne of Dodo, the sonne of Ahohi, one of the three worthies with Dauid, when they <sup>g</sup> did fight the Philistins gathered there to battell, when the men of Israel were <sup>h</sup> gone by.

10 He arose and smote the Philistins vntill his hand was weare, & his hand <sup>i</sup> claued vnto the sword: and the Lord gaue great victorie the same day, and the people returned after him onely to spoyle.

11 After him was <sup>j</sup> Shamamah the sonne of Age the Hararite: for the Philistins assembled at a towne, where was a piece of a field full of lentiles, and the people fled from the Philistins.

12 But hee stood in the mids of the field, and defended it, and slew the Philistins: so the Lord gaue <sup>k</sup> great victorie.

13 Afterward thre of the thirtie captaines went downe, and came to Dauid in the harvest time vnto the cane of Avuliam, and the holte of the Philistins puched in the valley of <sup>l</sup> Rephatim.

14 And Dauid was then in an hold, and the garrison of the Philistins was then in Beth-lehem.

15 And Dauid <sup>m</sup> longed, and said, Oh that one would giue me to drinke of the water of the well of Beth-lehem, which is by the gate.

16 Then the three mightie brake into the holte of the Philistins, and drew water out of the well of Beth-lehem, that was by the gate, and tooke and brought it to Dauid, who would not drinke thereof, but <sup>n</sup> powred it for an offering vnto the Lord.

17 And said, O Lord, bee it farre from mee, that I should doe this. I. not this the blood of the men that went in leoparde of their liues: therefore he would not drinke it. These things did these three mightie men.

20 And Benaiah the sonne of Jehoiada the sonne of sa valiant man, which had done many actes, and was of Krabzel, slew two strong men of Goba: hee went downe aild, and slew a lyon in the mids of a pit in the time of snow.

21 And hee slew an Egyptian a man of great stature, & the Egyptian had a speare in his hand: but he went downe to him with a staffe, and plucked the speare out of the Egyptians hand, and slewe him with his owne speare.

22 These things did Benaiah the sonne of Jehoiada, and had the name among the thre worthies.

number ye the people, that I may know the number of the people.

3 And Joab said unto the King, The Lord thy God increase the people an hundred fold more then they be, and that the eyes of my lord the King may see it: but why doth my lord the King desire this thing?

4 Notwithstanding the kings word prevailed against Joab and against the captaines of the hoste: therefore Joab and the captaines of the hoste went out from the presence of the King, to number the people of Israel.

5 And they passed over Jordan, and pitched in Arar at the right side of the citie that is in the middes of the valley of Gad and toward Jazer.

6 Then they came to Gilead, and to the Cabir-hodshi, so they came to Dan Arah, and so about to Sidon,

7 And came to the fortress of Tyuz, and to all the cities of the Hittites and of the Canaanites, and went toward the South of Judah, even to Beer-sheba.

8 So when they had gone about all the land, they returned to Jerusalem at the end of nine moneths and twentie dayes.

9 And Joab delivred the number and summe of the people unto the King: and there were in Israel a eight hundred thousand strong men that drew swordes, and the men of Judah were a five hundred thousand men.

10 Then Davids heart smote him, after that hee had numbered the people: and David said unto the Lord, I have sinned exceedingly in that I have done: therefore now, Lord, I beseech thee, take away the trespass of thy servant: for I have done very foolishly.

11 And when David was by in the morning, the word of the Lord came unto the Prophet Gad Davids Seer, saying, 12 Lord, and say unto David, Thus saith the Lord, I offer thee three things, chuse thee which of them I shall doe unto thee.

13 So Gad came to David, and shewed him, and said unto him, Wilt thou that a seven yeeres famine come upon thee in thy land, or wilt thou flee three moneths before thine enemies, they following thee, or that there bee three dayes pestilence in thy land: now advise thee, and see, what answer I shall give to him that sent me.

14 And David said unto Gad, I am in a wonderfull strait: let us fall now into the hand of the Lord, (for his mercies are great) and let mee not fall into the hand of man.

15 So the Lord sent a pestilence in Israel, from the morning, even to the time appointed: and there died of the people from Dan, even to Beer-sheba seventy thousand men.

16 And when the Angel stretched out his hand upon Jerusalem to destroy it, the Lord repented of the euill, and said to the Angel that destroyed the people, It is sufficient, I hold now thine hand. And the Angel of the Lord was by the threshing place of Araunah the Jebusite.

17 And David spake unto the Lord, (when he saw the Angel that smote the people) and said, Behold, I have sinned, yea, I have done wickedly: but these sheepe, what have they done? Let thine hand, I pray thee, be against mee and against my fathers house.

18 So God came the same day to David, and said unto him, See ye, reare an altar unto the Lord in the threshing floore of Araunah the Jebusite.

19 And David (according to the saying of Gad) went up, as the Lord had commanded.

20 And Araunah looked, & saw the King and his servants comming toward him, and Araunah went out, and bowed himself before the King on his face to the ground, 21 And Araunah said, Wherefore is my lord the King come to thy servant? Then David answered, To buy the threshing floore of thee, for to build an Altar unto the Lord, that the plague may cease from the people.

22 Then Araunah said unto David, Let my lord the King take and offer what seemeth him good in his eyes: behold the oxen for the burnt offering, and charrets, and the instruments of the oxen for wood.

23 (All these things did Araunah as a King gave unto the King, and Araunah said unto the King, The Lord thy God be favourable unto thee.)

24 Then the King said unto Araunah, Not so, but I will buy it of thee at a price, and will not offer burnt offering unto the Lord my God, of that which doth cost me nothing. So David bought y<sup>e</sup> threshing floore, and the oxen for a fiftie shekels of silver.

25 And David built there an Altar unto the Lord, and offered burnt offerings and peace offerings, and the Lord was appeased toward the land, and the plague ceased from Israel.

THE ARGVMENT.

Because the children of God should looke for no continuall rest and quietnesse in this world, the Holy Ghost setteth before our eyes in this booke, the variety and change of things, which came to the people of Israel from the death of David, Salomon, and the rest of the Kings, vnto the death of Ahab, declaring how that flourishing kingdomes, except they be preferred by Gods protection, (who then fauoureth them when his Word is truly set forth, vertue esteemed, vice punished, and concord maintained) fall to decay and come to nought: as appeareth by the diuiding of the kingdome vnder Roboam and Ieroboam, which before were but all one people, and now by the iust punishment of God were made two, wherof Iudah and Benjamin came to Roboam: and this was called the the kingdome of Iudah, and the other ten tribes held with Ieroboam, and this was called the kingdome of Israel. The king of Iudah had his throne in Ierusalem, and the king of Israel in Samaria, after it was built by Anri Ahab's father. And because our Saviour Christ according to the flesh should come of the Roocke of Dauid, the genealogie of the kings of Iudah is here described, from Salomon to Iosiam the sonne of Iosaphat, who reigned ouer Iudah in Ierusalem, as Ahab did ouer Israel in Samaria.

CHAP. I.

3 Abisbag keepeth Dauid in his extreme age.
5 Adonijah vsurpeth the kingdome. 30 Salomon is anointed king. 50 Adonijah fleeth to the altar.

NOW when king Dauid was old, & stricken in yeeres, they couered him with clothes, but no heat came vnto him.

2 Therefore his seruants sayd vnto him, Let there bee sought for my lord the king a yong virgine, and let her stand before the king, and cherish him: and let her lie in thy boosome, that my lord the king may get heate.

3 So they sought for a faire yong maide throughout all the coastes of Israel, & found one Abisbag a Shunammite, and brought her to the king.

4 And the maide was exceeding faire, and cherished the king, and ministered to him, but the king knew her not.

5 Then Adonijah the sonne of Hagith exalted himselfe, saying, I will be king. And he gat him charets and horsemen, and a fiftie men to runne before him.

6 And his father would not displease him from his childhood, to say, Why hast thou done so? and hee was a very goodly man, and his mother bare him next after Absalom.

7 And hee tooke counsell of Iobab the sonne of Zeruiah, & of Abiathar the Priest, and they helped forward Adonijah.

8 But Zadok the Priest, and Benaiash the sonne of Jehoiada, and Nathan the prophet, and Shimei, and Rei, and the men of might which were with Dauid, were not with Adonijah.

9 Then Adonijah sacrificed sheepe, and oxen, and fat cattell by the stone of Zohelech which is by En-rogel, and called all his brethren the kings sonnes, and all the men of Iudah the kings seruants.

10 But Nathan the Prophet, and Benaiash and the mighty men, and Salomon his brother he called not.

11 Therefore Nathan spake vnto Bathsheba the mother of Salomon, saying, Hast thou not heard, that Adonijah the sonne of Hagith doeth reigne, and Dauid our lord knoweth it not?

12 Now therefore come, and I will nowe giue thee counsell, how to saue thine owne life, and the life of thy sonne Salomon.

13 See, and get thee in vnto king Dauid, and say vnto him, Wilt thou not thou my lord, O King, sweare vnto thine handmaid, saying, Assuredly Salomon thy sonne shall reigne after mee, and he shall sit vpon my throne? Why is then Adonijah king?

14 Beholde, while thou yet talkest there with the king, I also will come in after thee, and confirme thy words.

15 So Bathsheba went in vnto the king into the chamber, and the king was very olde. And Abisbag the Shunammite ministered vnto the king.

16 And Bathsheba bowed and made obeisance vnto the king. And the king sayd, What is thy matter?

17 And she answered him, My lord, thou swearest by the Lorde thy God vnto thine handmaid, saying, Assuredly Salomon thy sonne shall reigne after mee, and hee shall sit vpon my throne.

18 And behold, now is Adonijah king, and now my lord, O king, thou knowest it not.

19 And hee hath offered many oxen, and fat cattell, and sheepe, and hath called all the sonnes of the king, and Abiathar the Priest, and Joab the captaine of the host: but Salomon thy seruant hath bee not bid-den.

20 And thou, my lord, O king, knowest that the eyes of all Israel are on thee, that thou shouldst tell them, who should sit on the throne of my lord the king after him.

21 For else when my lord the king shall sleepe with his fathers, I and my sonne Salomon shall be reputed & vile.

22 And loe, while the yet talked with the king, Nathan also the Prophet came in.

23 And they told the king, saying, Beholde, Nathan the Prophet. And when he was come in to the king, he made obeisance before the king vpon his face to the ground.

24 And Nathan sayd, My lord, O King, hast thou sayd, Adonijah shall reigne after mee, and he shall sit vpon my throne?

25 For hee is gone downe this day, and hath slaine many oxen, and fat cattell, and sheepe, and hath called all the kings sonnes, and the captaines of the host, and Abiathar the Priest: and behold, they eate and drinke before him, and say, & God saue king Adonijah.

26 But me thy seruant, and Zadok the Priest, and Benaiash the sonne of Jehoiada, and thy seruant Salomon hath hee not called.

27 Is this thing done by my lord the king, and thou hast not sweared it vnto thy seruant, who should sit on the throne of my lord the king after him?

28 Then king Dauid answered, and said, Call mee Bathsheba. And shee came into the Kings presence, and stood before the king.

29 And the king sware, saying, As the Lord liueth, who hath redeemed my soule out of all aduersities, 30 That as I have sware vnto thee by the Lord God of Israel, saying, Assuredly Salomon thy sonne shall reigne after mee, and hee shall sit vpon my throne in my place, so will I certainly doe this day.

32 And King Dauid sayd, Call me Zadok the Priest, & Nathan the Prophet, and Benaiah the sonne of Jehoiada. And they came before the King.

33 Then the king sayd vnto them, Take with you the °seruants of your lord, and caule Salomon my sonne to ride vpon mine owne mule, and cary him downe to Gihon.

34 And let Zadok the Priest and Nathan the Prophet anoint him there king ouer Israel, and blow yee the trumpets, and say, God saue King Salomon.

35 Then come vp after him, that he may come and sit vpon my throne: and hee shall be king in my stead: for I haue appointed him to bee prince ouer Israel, and ouer Iudah.

36 Then Benaiah the sonne of Jehoiada answered the king, and sayd, So be it, and the Lord God of my lord the king & ratifie it.

37 As the Lord hath been with my lord the king, so be he with Salomon, and exalt his throne aboute the throne of my lord king Dauid.

38 So Zadok the Priest, and Nathan the Prophet, and Benaiah the sonne of Jehoiada, and the Cherethites and the Pelsethites went downe, and cauled Salomon to ride vpon king Dauids mule, and brought him to Gihon.

39 And Zadok the Priest tooke an horne of oyle out of the Tabernacle, and anointed Salomon: and they blew the trumpets, and all the people sayd, God saue king Salomon.

40 And all the people came vp after him, and the people piped with pipes, and reioyced with great ioy, so that the earth & rang with the sound of them.

41 And Adonijah and all the ghesst that were with him, heard it: (and they had made an ende of eating) and when Ioaab heard the sound of the trumpet, hee sayde, What meaneth this noyse and bypnoare in the citie?

42 And as he yet spake, behold, Jonathan the sonne of Abiathar the Priest came: and Adonijah sayd, Come in: for thou art a worthy man, and bringest good tidings.

43 And Jonathan answered, and said to Adonijah, Certely our lord king Dauid hath made Salomon king.

44 And the king hath sent with him Zadok the Priest, and Nathan the Prophet, and Benaiah the sonne of Jehoiada, and the Cherethites, and the Pelsethites, and they haue cauled him to ride vpon the kings mule.

45 And Zadok the Priest, and Nathan the Prophet haue anointed him king in Gihon: and they are gone by feore thence with ioy, and the citie is moued: this is the noyse that ye haue heard.

46 And Salomon also sitteth on the throne of the king dome.

47 And moreover the kings seruants came to blesse our lord king Dauid, saying,

God make the name of Salomon more famous then thy name, and exalt his throne aboute thy throne: therefore the king was shipped vpon the bed.

48 And thus sayd the king also, Blessed be the Lord God of Israel, who hath made one to sit on my throne this day, euen in my sight.

49 Then all the ghesst that were with Adonijah, were afraid, and rose vp, and went euery man his way.

50 And Adonijah fearing the presence of Salomon, arose, and went, and tooke hold on the hoznes of the altar.

51 And one told Salomon, saying, Behold, Adonijah doth feare king Salomon: for loe, he hath caught hold on the hoznes of the altar, saying, Let king Salomon sweare vnto me this day, that he will not slay his seruant with the sword.

52 Then Salomon sayd, If he will shew himselfe a worthy man, there shall not an haire of him fall to the earth, but if wickednesse be found in him, he shall die.

53 Then king Salomon sent, and they broughe him from the altar, and hee came and did obeisance vnto king Salomon. And Salomon said vnto him, Go to thine house.

David exhortheth Salomon, and giueth charge as concerning Ioaab, Barzilai and Shimei. 10 The death of Dauid. 17 Adonijah asketh Abishag to wife. 25 Hee is slaine. 35 Zadok was placed in Abiathars rounse.

Then the dayes of Dauid drewe neree that he should die, and he charged Salomon his sonne, saying,

2 I go the way of all the earth: be strong therefore, and shew thy selfe a man,

3 And take heede to the charge of the Lord thy God, to walke in his wayes, and keep his statutes and his commandements, and his iudgements, and his testimonies, as it is writen in the Lawe of Moses, that thou mayest prosper in all that thou doest, and in euery thing wherunto thou turnest thee,

4 That the Lord may confirme his word which hee spake vnto mee, saying, If thy sonnes take heede to their way, that they walke before mee in truth with all their hearts, and with all their soules, & thou shalt not (sayd he) want one of thy posterie vpon the throne of Israel.

5 Thon knowest also what Ioaab the sonne of Zeruiah did to me, and what hee did to the two captaynes of the hoznes of Israel, vnto Abner the sonne of Ner, and vnto Amasa the sonne of Iether whom he slew, and shed blood of battel in peace, and e put the blood of warre vpon his girdle that was about his loines, and in his shoes that were on his feete.

8 ¶ And behold, with thee * is Shimei the sonne of Gera, the sonne of Gemini, of Bahurim, which cursed me with an horrible curse in the day when I went to Bahanaim: but hee came downe to meete mee at Jordan, and I sware to him by the Lord, saying, * I will not slay thee with the sword.

9 But thou shalt not count him innocent: for thou art a wild man, and knowest what thou oughtest to doe unto him: therefore thou shalt cause his hoare head to go downe to the grave with his blood.

10 So * David slept with his fathers, and was buried in the cite of David.

11 And the daies which David * reigned upon Israel were forty yeeres: seven yeeres reigned he in Hebron, and thirty and three yeeres reigned he in Jerusalem.

12 ¶ * Then late Salomon upon the throne of David his father, and his kingdom was established mightily.

13 And Adonijah the sonne of Haggith came to Bath-sheba the mother of Salomon, and she sayd, * Commest thou peaceably. And he sayd, Yea.

14 He sayd moreover, I have a suite unto thee. And she sayd, Say on.

15 Then he said, Thou knowest that the kingdom was mine, and that all Israel set their faces on mee, that I should reigne: howbeit the kingdom is turned away, and is my brothers: for it came to him by the Lord.

16 Now therefore I aske thee one request, & refuse me not. And she said unto him, Say on.

17 And he sayd, Speake, I pray thee, unto Salomon the King, (for hee will not say thee nay) that he give me Abisag the Shunammite to wife.

18 And Bath-sheba sayd, * Well, I will speake for thee unto the king.

19 ¶ Bath-sheba therefore went unto king Salomon, to speake unto him for Adonijah: and the king rose to meete her, and bowed himselfe unto her, and late downe on his throne: and hee caused a seate to be set for the Kings mother, and she late at his right hand.

20 Then she said, I desire a final request of thee, say me not nay. Then the king said unto her, Aske on, my mother: for I will not say thee nay.

21 She said then, Let Abisag the Shunammite be given to Adonijah thy brother to wife.

22 ¶ Unt King Salomon answered and sayd unto his mother, And why doest thou aske Abisag the Shunammite for Adonijah? Aske for him the kingdom also: for he is mine elder brother, and hath for him both Abiathar the Priest, and Ioab the sonne of Zeruiah.

23 Then King Salomon sware by the Lord, saying, God do so to me and more also if Adonijah hath not spoken this word against his owne life.

24 Now therefore as the Lord liveth, who hath established me, and set mee on the throne of David my father, who also hath made me an house, as he * promised, Adonijah shall surely die this day.

25 And king Salomon sent by the hand of Benaiah the sonne of Jehoiada, and hee slew him that he died.

26 ¶ Then the king sayd unto Abiathar the Priest, Goe to Anathoth unto thine owne fields: for thou art * worthy of death: but I will not this day kill thee, because thou * barest the Arke of the Lord God before David my father, and because thou hast suffered in all, wherein my father hath been afflicted.

27 So Salomon cast out Abiathar from being Priest unto the Lord, that he might * fulfil the words of the Lord, which he spake against the house of Eli in Shiloh.

28 ¶ Then tidings came to Ioab: (for Ioab had * turned after Adonijah, but hee turned not after Abalom) and Ioab fled unto the Tabernacle of the Lord, & caught hold on the hornes of the altar.

29 And it was told king Salomon, that Ioab was fled unto the Tabernacle of the Lord, and behold, he is by the * altar. Then Salomon sent Benaiah the sonne of Jehoiada, saying, Goe, fall upon him.

30 And Benaiah came to the Tabernacle of the Lord, & sayd unto him, Thus saith the king, Come out. And he sayd, Nay, but I will die here. Then Benaiah brought the King word againe, saying, Thus sayd Ioab, and thus he answered me.

31 And the King sayd unto him, Doe as he hath sayd, and * smite him, and bury him, that thou mayest take away the blood, which Ioab shed causelesse, from me and from the house of my father.

32 And the Lord shall bring his blood upon his owne head: for hee smote two men more righteous and better then he, and slew them with the sword, and my father David knew not: to wit, * Abner the sonne of Ner, captaine of the hoste of Israel, and * Amasa the sonne of Iether, captaine of the host of Judah.

33 Their blood shall therefore returne upon the * head of Ioab, and on the head of his seede for ever: but upon David, and upon his seede, and upon his house, and upon his throne shall there be peace for ever from the Lord.

34 So Benaiah the sonne of Jehoiada went by, and smote him, and slew him, and hee was buried in his owne house in the wilderness.

35 And the king put Benaiah the sonne of Jehoiada in his roome over the host: and the king set Zadok the Priest in the roome of Abiathar.

36 ¶ Afterward the king sent, and called Shimei, and sayd unto him, Build thee an house in Jerusalem, and dwell there, and depart not thence any whither.

37 For that day that thou goest out, and passest over the river of Kidron, know assuredly, that thou shalt die the death: thy blood shall be upon thine owne head.

And thou saydest vnto me, The thing is good, that I haue heard.

11 And God said vnto him, Because thou hast asked this thing, and hast not asked for thy selfe long life, neither hast asked riches for thy selfe, nor hast asked the life of thine enemies, but hast asked for thy life vnderstanding to heare iudgement.

h That is, that thine enemies should die.

43 Why then hast thou not kept the othe of the Lord, and the commandement wherewith I charged thee?

12 Behold, I haue done according to thy words: for I haue giuen thee a wife and an vnderstanding heart, so that there hath been none like thee before thee, neither after thee shall arise the like vnto thee.

44 The king said also to Shimei, Thou knowest all the wickednes wherewith thine heart is puffed, that thou didst to Dauid my father: the Lord therefore shall bring thy wickednes vpon thine owne head.

13 And I haue also giuen thee that, which thou hast not asked, both riches and honour, so that among the kings there shall be none like vnto thee all thy dayes.

6 Now therefore command, that they hew me cedar trees out of Lebanon, and my seruants shall be with thy seruants, and vnto thee will I giue the hire for thy seruants, according vnto all that thou shalt appoint: for thou knowest that there are none among vs, that can hew timber like vnto the Sidonians.

7 And when Hiram heard the words of Salomon, hee reioyced greatly, and said, Blessed be the Lord this day, which hath giuen vnto Dauid a wise sonne ouer this mightie people.

8 And Hiram sent to Salomon, saying, I have considered the things, for the which thou sentest vnto mee, and will accomplish all thy desire, concerning the cedar trees and fire trees.

9 My seruants shall bring them downe from Lebanon to the sea: and I will comey them by sea in raftes vnto the place that thou shalt shew mee, and will cause them to be discharged there, and thou shalt receiue them: now thou shalt doe mee a pleasure to minister foode for any family.

13 And king Salomon raised a summe out of all Israel, and the summe was thirtie thousand men:

CHAP. VI.

The building of the Temple, and the firme thereof. 12 The promise of the Lord to Salomon.

2. Chron. 3. 1.

And in the foure hundred and fourscore Ayere (after the children of Israel were come out of the land of Egypt) and in the fourth yeere of the reigne of Salomon ouer Israel, in the moneth Zif (which is the second moneth) he built the house of the Lord.

a Which moneth, conteineeth part of April, and part of May. b Whereby is meant the temple and the oracle. c Or the court where the people prayed, which was before the place where the altar of burnt offerings stood. Or, to open and to shut. Or, Iphis.

2 And the house which king Salomon built for the Lord, was threescore cubites long, and twenty broad, & thirtie cubites hie.

3 And the porch before the Temple of the house was twentie cubites long according to the breadth of the house, and ten cubites broad before the house.

4 And in the house he made windowes, broad without, and narrow within.

5 And by the wall of the house hee made galleries round about, euen by the wals of the house round about the Temple and the oracle, and made chambers round about.

6 The nethermost gallerie was sixe cubites broad, and the middlemost sixe cubites broad, and the thirde seven cubites broad, for hee made rests round about without the house, that the beams should not be fastened in the walles of the house.

d Whence God spake betweene the Cherubims, called also the most holy place. e Which were certaine stones coming out of the wall as flays for the beames to rest vpon. Or, gallerie.

7 And when the house was built, it was built of stone, perfect before it was brought, so that there was neither hammer, nor axe, nor any toole of iron heard in the house while it was in building.

8 The doore of the middle chamber was in the right side of the house, and men went by with winding staires into the middlemost, & out of the middlemost into the thirde.

9 So he built the house and finished it, and sieled the house, being vaulted, with sieeling of cedar trees.

f In Exodus it is called the Tabernacle: and the Temple is there called the Sanctuary, and the oracle the most holy place.

10 And hee built the galleries vpon all the wall of the house of sixe cubites height, and they were ioyned to the house with beames of cedar.

11 And the word of the Lord came to Salomon, saying,

12 Concerning this house which thou buildest, if thou wilt walke in mine ordinances, and execute my iudgements, and keepe all my commandements, to walke in them, then will I performe vnto thee my promise, which I promised to Dauid thy father.

2. Sam. 7. 13.

13 And I will dwell among the children of Israel, and will not forsake my people Israel.

g According as he promised vnto Moses, Exod. 25. 22.

14 So Salomon built the house, and finished it, h Meaning, vnto the roofe, which was also sieled.

15 And built the walles of the house within, with boords of cedar tree from the pavement of the house vnto the walles of the sieing, and within hee covered them with wood, and covered the flooze of the house with planks of firre.

16 And hee built twenty cubits in the sides of the house with boordes of Cedar, from the flooze to the walles, and hee prepared a place within it for the oracle, euen the most holy place.

17 But the house, that is, the temple before it, was fourtie cubits long.

18 And the Cedar of the house within was carued with knops, and grauen with floures: all was Cedar, so that no stone was seene.

19 Also hee prepared the place of the oracle in the mids of the house within, to let the Arke of the Couenant of the Lord there.

20 And the place of the oracle within was twenty cubites long, and twenty cubites broad, and twenty cubits hie, and hee covered it with pure gold, and covered the altar with Cedar.

21 So Salomon covered the house within with pure gold: and hee fastned the place of the oracle with chaynes of gold, and covered it with gold.

22 And hee overlaid all the house with gold, vntill all the house was made perfect. Also hee covered the whole altar that was before the oracle, with gold.

23 And within the oracle hee made two Cherubims of oliue tree, ten cubits hie.

24 The wing also of the one Cherub was five cubits, and the wing of the other Cherub was five cubites: from the uttermost part of one of his wings vnto the vtermost part of the other of his wings, were tenne cubits.

25 Also the other Cherub was of tenne cubites: both the Cherubims were of one measure and one sie.

26 For the height of the one Cherub was ten cubits, and so was the other Cherub.

27 And hee put the Cherubims within the inner house, and the Cherubims stretched out their wings, so that the wing of the one touched the one wall, and the wing of the other Cherub touched the other wall: and their other wings touched one another in the iniddet of the house.

28 And hee overlaid the Cherubims with gold.

29 And hee carued all the walles of the house round about with grauen figures of Cherubims and of palme trees, and grauen floures within and without.

30 And the flooze of the house he covered with gold within and without.

31 And in the entring of the oracle hee made two doozes of oliue tree: and the vpper post and side postes were five square.

32 The two doozes also were of oliue tree, and hee graued them with grauing of Cherubims & palme trees, and grauen floures, and covered them with gold, and laid thin gold vpon the Cherubims and vpon the palme trees.

33 And so made hee for the dooze of the Temple postes of oliue tree foure square.

34 But the two doozes were of firre tree, the two sides of the one dooze were // round, and the two sides of the other dooze were round.

35 And hee graued Cherubims, & palme trees, and carued floures, and covered the carued worke with gold finely wrought.

36 And he built the court within with three rows of hewed stone, and one row of beames of cedar.

37 In the fourth yeere was the foundation of the house of the Lord laid in the month of Zif:

38 And in the eleuenth yeere in the month of Bul, (which is the eight moneth) hee finished the house with all the furniture thereof, and in euery point: so was hee seuen yeere in building it.

CHAP. VII.

The building of the houses of Salomon. 15 The excellent workmanship of Hiram in the pieces which he made for the Temple.

At Salomon was building his owne house * thirtene yeeres, and finished at his house.

2 Hee built also an house <sup>b</sup> called the fore-rest of Lebanon, an hundred cubites long, and sixtie cubites broad, and thirtie cubites hie vpon foure rows of Cedar pillars, and Cedar beames were layde vpon the pillars.

3 And it was covered aboue with Cedar vpon the beames, that lay on the fortye and sixe pillars, sixtene in a row.

4 And the windowes were in three rowes, and window was against window in three rankes.

5 And all the doozes, and the side postes with the windowes were foure square, and window was ouer against window in three rankes.

6 And hee made a porch of pillars sixtie cubits long, and thirtie cubits broad, and the porch was before them, euen before them were thirty pillars.

7 Then hee made a porch <sup>e</sup> for the throne, where hee indged, euen a porch of iudgement, and it was sieled with Cedar from pavement to pavement.

8 And in his house, where hee dwelt, was another hall more inward then the porche, which was of the same worke. Also Salomon made an house for Pharaohs daughter (* whom he had taken to wife) like vnto this porch.

9 All these were of costly stones, hewed by measure, and sawed with sawes within and without, from the foundation vnto the stones of an hand breadth, and on the outside to the great court.

10 And the foundation was of costly stones, and great stones, euen of stones of ten cubits, and stones of eight cubits.

11 Above also were costly stones, squared by rule, and boords of Cedar.

12 And the great court round about was with three rowes of hewed stones, and a row of Cedar beames: so was it to the inner inner court of the house of the Lord, and to the porch of the house.

13 ¶ Then King Salomon sent, and let one Hiram out of ¶ Tyus.

14 He was a widomes sonne of the tribbe of Naphtali, his father being a man of Tyrus, and wrought in brasle: hee was full of wisdom, and vnderstanding, and knowledg to worke all maner of worke in brasle: who came to king Salomon, and wrought all his worke.

15 For he cast two pillars of brasle: the height of a pillar was eighteene cubits, and a threed of twelue cubits did compass eith- er of the pillars.

16 And he made two ¶ chapters of molten brasle to set on the tops of the pillars: the height of one of the chapters was five cubits, and the height of the other chapter was five cubites.

17 Hee made grates like networke, and ¶ wreathen worke like chaines for the chapters that were on the top of the pillars, euen seuen for the one chapter, and seuen for the other chapter.

18 So hee made the pillars ¶ two rowes of pomegranates round about in the one grate to couer the chapters that were vpon the toppes. And thus did hee for the other chapter.

19 And the chapters that were on the toppes of the pillars were after <sup>k</sup> lillie worke in the porch, four cubites.

20 And the chapters vpon the two pil- lars had also above, ¶ ouer against the bellie ¶ within the networke pomegranates: for two hundredeth pomegranates were in the two rankes about vpon ¶ eith- er of the chapters.

21 And he set vpon the pillars in the <sup>l</sup> porch of the Temple. And when he had set vpon the right pillar, hee called the name thereof <sup>m</sup> Iachin: and when hee had set vpon the left pillar, he called the name thereof <sup>n</sup> Boaz.

22 And vpon the toppes of the pillars was worke of lilies: so was the workmanship of the pillars finished.

23 ¶ And he made a molten <sup>o</sup> sea ten cubites wide from brimme to brimme, round in compass, and five cubites hie, and a line of thirtie cubites did compass it about.

24 And vnder the brimme of it were knoppes like wilde cucumers compassing it round about, tenne in one cubite, compassing the sea <sup>p</sup> round about: and the two rowes of knoppes were cast, when it was molten.

25 It stood on twelue bulles, three looking toward the North, and three toward the West, and thre toward the South, and three toward the East: and the sea hoode about vpon them, and all their hinder parts were inward.

26 It was ¶ an hand breadth thicke, and the brimme thereof was like the worke of the brimme of a cuppe with floures of lilies: it contained two thousand <sup>p</sup> Baths.

27 ¶ And hee made ten bases of brasle, one base was four cubites long, and foure cubites broad, and thre cubites hie.

28 ¶ And the worke of the bases was on this manner, they had borders, and the bor- ders were betweene the ledges:

29 And on the borders that were be- twene the ledges, were lions, bulles and Cherubims: and vpon the ledges there was a base about: and beneath the Lyons and bulles, were additions made of thimne worke.

30 And euery base had foure brasen wheelles, and plates of brasle: and the foure corners had ¶ vnderletters: vnder the cal- dron were vnderletters molten at the side of euery addition.

31 And the mouth of it was within the chapter and about to measure by the cubite: for the mouth thereof was round made like a base, and it was a cubite and halfe a cubite: and also vpon the mouth thereof were gra- uen worke, whose borders were foure square, and not round.

32 And vnder the borders were foure wheelles, and the arcltrees of the wheelles ioyned to the base: and the height of a wheelle was a cubite and halfe a cubite.

33 And the fashion of the wheelles was like the fashion of a charer wheelle, their ar- cltrees, and their naues and their ¶ fellows, and their spokes were all molten.

34 And foure vnderletters were vpon the foure corners of one base: and the vnderlet- ters thereof were of the base it selfe.

35 And in the toppes of the base was a round: compass of halfe a cubite hie round about: and vpon the top of the base the led- ges thereof and the borders thereof were of the same.

36 And vpon the tables of the ledges thereof, and on the borders thereof hee did graue Cherubims, Lyons, and palme trees on the side of euery one, ¶ additions round about.

37 Thus made he the ten bases, they had all one casting, one measure, and one file.

38 ¶ Then made hee <sup>r</sup> tenne caldrons of brasle, one caldron contained fortie bathes: and euery caldron was foure cubites, one cal- dron was vpon one base throughout the ten bases.

39 And he set the bases, five on the right side of the house, and five on the left side of the house. And hee set the sea on the right side of the <sup>s</sup> house Eastward toward the South.

40 ¶ And Hiram made caldrons, and beloms, and ballins: and Hiram finished all the worke that hee made to king Salomon for the house of the Lord:

41 To wit, two pillars and two bowles of the chapters that were on the top of the two pillars, ¶ two grates to couer the two bowles of the chapters which were vpon the toppes of the pillars,

42 And foure hundredeth pomegranates for the two grates, euen two rows of pome- granates for euery grate to couer the two bowles of the chapters that were vpon the pillars,

43 And the ten bases, and tenne caldrons vpon the bases,

44 And the sea, and twelue bulles vnder that sea,

46 In the plaine of Jordan did the King call them in clay betweene Succoth and Zarthan.

47 And Salomon left to weigh all the vessels because of the exceeding abundance, neither could the weight of the brasse bee counted.

48 So Salomon made all the vessels, that pertained unto the house of the Lord, the golden altar, and the golden table, whereon the Shewbread was,

49 And the candlesticks, sixe at the right side, and sixe at the left, before the oracle of pure gold, and the flowers, and the lampes, and the snuffers of gold,

50 And the bowles, and the hookes, and the basons, and the spoones, and the skippans of pure golde, and the hinges of gold for the doores of the house within, euen for the most holy place, and for the doores of the house, to wit, of the Temple.

51 So was finished all the worke that King Salomon made for the house of the Lord, and Salomon brought in the things which Dauid his father had dedicated: the silver and the gold, and the vessels, and layde them among the treasures of the house of the Lord.

CHAP. VIII.

4 The Arke is borne into the Temple. 10 A cloud filleth the Temple. 14 The King blesseth the people.

Then King Salomon assembled the Elders of Israel, euen all the heads of the Tribes, the chiefe fathers of the children of Israel vnto him in Jerusalem, for to bring vnto the Arke of the Couenant of the Lord from the city of Dauid, which is Zion.

2 And all the men of Israel assembled vnto King Salomon at the feast in the moneth of Ethanim, which is the seventh moneth.

3 And all the Elders of Israel came, and the Priests tooke the Arke.

4 They bare the Arke of the Lord, and they bare the Tabernacle of the Congregation, and all the holy vessels that were in the Tabernacle: thot did the Priests and Leuites bring vp.

5 And king Salomon and all the Congregation of Israel, that were assembled vnto him, were with him before the Arke, offering sheepe and beemes, which could not bee tolde, nor numbered for multitude.

6 So the Priests brought the Arke of the Couenant of the Lord vnto his place, into the oracle of the house, into the most holy place, euen vnder the wings of the Cherubims.

7 For the Cherubims stretched out their wings ouer the place of the Arke, and the Cherubims covered the Arke, & the barres thereof aboue.

8 And they drew out the barres, that the ends of the barres might appeare out of the Sanctuary before the oracle, but they were not seene without: and there they are vnto this day.

9 Nothing was in the Arke save the two Tables of stone which Moses had put there at Horeb where the Lord made a couenant with the children of Israel, when he brought them out of the land of Egypt.

10 And when the Priests were come out of the Sanctuary, the cloud filled the house of the Lord.

11 So that the Priests could not stand to minister, because of the cloud: for the glory of the Lord had filled the house of the Lord.

12 Then spake Salomon, The Lord saide, that hee would dwell in the darke cloud.

13 I haue built thee an house to dwell in, an habitation for thee to abide in for euer.

14 And the King turned his face, and blessed all the Congregation of Israel: for all the Congregation of Israel stood there.

15 And he said, Blessed be the Lord God of Israel, who spake with his mouth vnto Dauid my father, and hath with his hand fulfilled it, saying, 16 Since the day that I brought my people Israel out of Egypt, I chose no erie of all the tribes of Israel, to build an house that my Name might be there: but I haue chosen Dauid to be ouer my people Israel.

17 And it was in the heart of Dauid my father to build an house to the Name of the Lord God of Israel.

18 And the Lord said vnto Dauid my father, Whereas it was in thine heart to build an house vnto my Name, thou diddest well, that thou wast so minded:

19 Forerethels, thou shalt not build the house, but thy sonne, that shall come out of thy loynes, he shall build the house vnto my Name.

20 And the Lord hath & made good his word that hee spake: and I am risen vp in the roome of Dauid my father, and sit on the throne of Israel, as the Lord promised, and haue built the house for the Name of the Lord God of Israel.

21 And I haue prepared therein a place for the Arke, wherein is the Couenant of the Lord which hee made with our fathers, when he brought them out of the land of Egypt.

22 When Salomon stood before the altar of the Lord in the sight of all the Congregation of Israel, and stretched out his hands toward heauen,

23 And said, O Lord God of Israel, there is no God like thee in heauen above, or in the earth beneath, thou that keepest couenant & mercy with thy seruants that walke before thee with all their heart, 24 Thou that hast kept with thy seruant Dauid my father, that thou hast promised him: for thou spakest with thy mouth, and hast fulfilled it with thine hand, as appeareth this day.

25 Therefore now, Lord God of Israel, keepe with thy seruant Dauid my father that thou hast promised him, saying, Thou shalt not want a man in my sight to sit vpon the throne of Israel: so that that thy children take heed to their way, that they walke before mee, as thou hast walked in my sight.

26 And now, O God of Israel, I pray thee, let thy word be verified, which thou spakest vnto thy seruant Dauid my father.

27 For I see indeed that God wil dwell on the earth: behold, the heauens, and the heauens of heauens are not able to containe thee: how much more vnable is this house that I haue built?

28 But haue thou respect vnto thy prayer of thy seruant, and to his supplication, O Lord my God, to heare the cry and prayer which thy seruant prayeth before thee this day:

29 That thine eyes may be open toward this house, night and day, euen toward the place whereof thou hast sayd, * My Name shall be there: that thou mayest hearken vnto the prayer which thy seruant prayeth in this place.

30 Heare thou therefore the supplication of thy seruant, and of thy people Israel, which pray in this place, and heare thou sin the place of thine habitation, euen in heauen, and when thou hearest, haue mercy.

31 When a man shall trespass against his neighbour, and he lay vpon him an oath to cause him to sweare, & the swearer shall come before thine Altar in this house, 32 Then heare thou in heauen, and iudge the wicked to bring his way vpon his head, and iustifie the righteous, to giue him according to his righteousnes.

33 When thy people Israel shall bee ouerthrowen before the enemy, because they haue sinned against thee, and turned againe to thee, and confessed thy Name, and pray and make supplication vnto thee in this house,

34 Then heare thou in heauen, and bee mercifull vnto the sinne of thy people Israel, and bring them againe vnto the land which thou gauest vnto their fathers.

35 When heauen shall be shut vp, and there shall be no raine, because they haue sinned against thee, and shal pray in this place, and confesse thy Name, and turne from their sinne, when thou dost afflict them,

36 Then heare thou in heauen, and pardon the sinne of thy seruants, and of thy people Israel (when thou hast taught them the good way wherein they may walke) and giue raine vpon the land that thou hast giuen to thy people to inherit.

37 When there shall bee famine in the land, when there shall bee pestilence, when there shall be blasting, mildew, grasshopper, or caterpillar, when their enemy shal besiege them in the cities of their land, or any plague, or any sicknesse,

38 Then what prayer and supplication soeuer shall bee made of any man or of all thy people Israel, when euery one shal know the plague in his owne heart, and stretch forth his hands in this house,

39 Heare thou then in heauen, in thy dwelling place, and be mercifull, and doe, and giue euery man according to all his wayes, as thou knowest his heart (for thou onely knowest the hearts of all the children of men)

40 That they may feare thee as long as they liue in the land, which thou gauest vnto our fathers.

41 Moreover, as touching the stranger that is not of thy people Israel, who shall come out of a farre countrey for thy Names sake,

42 (When they shall heare of thy great Name, and of thy mighty hand, and of thy stretched out arme) and shall come and pray in this house,

43 Heare thou in heauen thy dwelling place, and do according to all that the stranger calleth for vnto thee: that all the people of the earth may know thy Name, and feare thee, as doe thy people Israel: and that they may know that thy Name is called vpon in this house which I haue built.

44 When thy people shall goe out to battell against their enemy by the way that thou shalt send them, and shall pray vnto the Lord, toward the way of the city which thou hast chosen, and toward the house that I haue built for thy Name, 45 Heare thou then in heauen their prayer, and heare their supplication, and iudge their cause.

46 If they sinne against thee (* for there is no man that sinneth not) and thou be angry with them, and deliuer them vnto the enemies, so that they carry them away prisoners vnto the land of the enemies, either farre or neere,

47 Yet if they turne againe vnto their heart in the land (to the which they bee carried away captiues) and returne and pray vnto thee: in the land of them that carried them away captiues, saying, Wee haue sinned, wee haue transgressed and done wickedly,

48 If they turne againe vnto thee with all their heart, and with all their soule in the land of their enemies, which led them away captiues, and pray vnto thee toward the way of their land, which thou gauest vnto their fathers, and toward the city which thou hast chosen, and the house which I haue built for thy Name,

49 Then heare thou their prayer & their supplication in heauen thy dwelling place, and iudge their cause,

50 And be mercifull vnto thy people that haue sinned against thee, and vnto all their iniquities (wherein they haue transgressed against thee) and cause that they, which led them away captiues, may haue pitie and compassion on them:

51 For they be thy people, and thine inheritance, which thou broughtest out of Egypt from the mids of the yron furnace

52 Let thine eyes be open vnto the prayer of thy seruant, and vnto the prayer of thy people Israel, to hearken vnto them in all that they call for vnto thee.

12 And Hiram came out from Tyrus to see the cities which Salomon had giuen him, and they pleased him not.
13 Therefore hee said, What cities are these which thou hast giuen me my brother? And he called them the land of Cabul vnto this day.
14 And Hiram had sent the King <sup>d</sup> sixe score talents of gold.
15 ¶ And this is the cause of the tribute why King Salomon raised tribute, to wit, to builde the house of the Lord, and his owne house, and Millo, and the wall of Ierusalem, and Hazor, and Beithdo, and Gezer.
16 Pharaoh King of Egypt had come by, and taken Gezer, and burnt it with fire, and and flew the Canaanites that dwelt in the citie, and gaue it for a present vnto his daughter Salomons wife.

17 Therefore Salomon built Gazer and Beth-horon the nether, 18 And Baalath and Ramoth in the wilderness of the land.

19 And all the cities of store, that Salomon had, euen cities for charrets, and cities for horsmen, and all that Salomon desired and would build in Ierusalem, and in Lebanon and in all the land of his dominion.)

20 All the people that were left of the Amozites, Bitrites, Perizzites, Hittites, and Jebusites, which were not of the children of Israel:

21 To wit, their children that were left after them in the land, whom the children of Israel were not able to destroy, those did Salomon make tributaries vnto this day.

22 But of the children of Israel did Salomon make no bondmen: but they were men of warre and his seruants, and his princes, and his captaynes, and rulers of his charrets, and his horsmen, 23 These were the princes of the officers, that were ouer Salomons worke: euen five hundred and thirtie, and they ruled the people that wrought in the worke.

24 And Pharaohs daughter came by from the city of Dauid vnto the house which Salomon had built for her: then did hee build a Pillor.

25 And thise a yeece did Salomon offer burnt offerings and peace offerings vpon the altar which he built vnto the Lord: and hee burnt incense vpon the altar, that was before the Lord, when hee had finished the house.

26 Also king Salomon made an nauie of ships in Ezeon-geber, which is beside Tyre, and the hynke of the red Sea, in the land of Edom.

27 And Hiram sent with the Nauie his seruants, that were mariners, and had knowledge of the sea, with the seruants of Salomon.

28 And they came to Ophir, and fet from thence foure hundredeth and twentie talents of golde, and brought it to king Salomon.

CHAPTER X.

The Queene of Saba commeth to heare the wisdom of Salomon. 18 His royall throne. 23 His power and magnificence.

And the Queene of Sheba hearing the fame of Salomon (concerning the Name of the Lord) came to proue him with hard questions.

2 And shee came to Ierusalem with a very great traine, and Camels that bare sweete odours, and golde exceeding much, and precious stones: and shee came to Salomon, and communed with him of all that was in her heart.

3 And Salomon declared vnto her all her questions: nothing was hid from the king, which he expounded not vnto her.

4 Then the Queene of Sheba sawe all Salomons wisdom, and the house that he had built,

5 And the meate of his table, and the sitting of his seruants, and the order of his minuter, and their apparel, and his drinaking vessels, and his burnt offerings, that hee offered in the house of the Lord, and shee was greatly astonied.

6 And shee said vnto the king, It was a true word that I heard in mine owne land of thy sayings, and of thy wisdom.

7 Howbeit I beleued not this report, till I came, and had seene it with mine eyes: but loe, the one halfe was not tolde me; for thou hast more wisdom and prosperitie, then I haue heard by report.

8 Happie are thy men, happie are these thy seruants, which stand euer before thee, and heare thy wisdom.

9 Blessed bee the Lord thy God, which loued thee, to set thee on the throne of Israel, because the Lord loued Israel for euer: and made thee king, to doe equitie and rightconnesse.

10 And shee gaue the king sixe score talents of golde, and of sweete odours exceeding much, and precious stones. There came no more such abundance of sweete odours as the Queene of Sheba gaue to king Salomon.

11 The nauie also of Hiram (that carted gold from Ophir) brought likewise great plentie of Amuggim trees from Ophir and precious stones.

12 And the king made of the Amuggim trees, pillars for the house of the Lord, and for the kings palace, and made harpes and psalteries for lingers. There came no more such Amuggim trees, nor were any more seene vnto this day.

13 And king Salomon gaue vnto the Queene of Sheba, whatsoeuer shee would aske, besides that, which Salomon gaue her of his kingly liberaltie: so shee returned and went to her owne countrey, both shee, and her seruants.

14 Also the weight of golde, that came to Salomon in one yeece, was sixe hundredeth, threetye score and sixe talents of golde, 15 Besides that hee had of merchant men and of the merchandises of them that solde spices, and of all the kings of Arabia, and of the princes of the countrey.

16 And king Salomon made two hundredeth targets of beaten golde, sixe hundredeth shekels of golde went to a target:

17 And thre hundredeth shields of beaten golde, thre pound of golde went to one shield: and the king put them in the house of the wood of Lebanon.

18 Then the king made a great throne of Iusie, and couered it with the best golde.

19 And the throne had sixe steps, the top of the throne was round behind, & there were stayes on either side on the place of the throne, & two lions standing by the stayes.

20 And there stood twelue lions on the sixe steps on either side: there was not the like made in any kingdome.

21 And all King Salomons drincking vessels were of golde, and all the vessels of the house of the wood of Lebanon were of pure golde, none were of siluer; for it was nothing

23 So King Salomon exceeded all the kings of the earth both in riches and in wisdom.

24 And all the world sought to see Salomon, to heare his wisdom, which God had put in his heart,

25 And they brought euery man his present, vessels of silver, and vessels of gold, and raiment, and armor, and sweet odours, horses and mules, from yeere to yeere.

26 Then Salomon gathered together charrets and horsemen: and he had a thousand and foure hundred charrets, & twelue thousand horsemen, whome hee placed in the charret cities, & with the king at Jerusalem.

27 And the king gaue silver in Jerusalem as stones, and gaue ebdars as the wild figge trees that grow abundantly in the plaine.

28 Also Salomon had horses brought out of Egypt, and fine linnen: the kings merchants receiued the linnen for a price.

29 There came vp and went out of Egypt some charret worth five hundred shekels of silver: that is, one horse, an hundred and fiftie, and thus they brought horses to all the kings of the Hittites, and to the kings of Aram by their means.

CHAP. XI.

1 Salomon hath a thousand wiues and concubines, which bring him to idolatry. 14 His God raiseth up aduersaries against him. 43 Hee dieth.

At King Salomon loued many outlandish women: both the daughter of Pharaoh, and the women of Hoab, Ammon, Edom, Sidon and Ieth,

2 Of the nations, whereof the Lord had sayd vnto the children of Israel, See not ye in to me, nor let them come in to you: for surely they will turne your hearts after their gods. To them, I say, did Salomon ioyne in loue.

3 And he had seven hundred wiues, that were princesses, and three hundred concubines, & his wiues turned away his heart.

4 For when Salomon was olde, his wiues turned his heart after other gods, so that his heart was not perfect with the Lord his God, as was the heart of Dauid his father.

5 For Salomon followed Astarteh the god of the Sidonians, and Bilcom the abomination of the Ammonites.

6 So Salomon wrought wickednes in the sight of the Lord, but continued not to follow the Lord, as did Dauid his father.

7 Then did Salomon build an hie place for Chemosh the abomination of Hoab, in the mountaine that is ouer against Jerusalem, and vnto Molech the abomination of the children of Ammon.

8 And so did hee for all his outlandish wiues, which burnt incense and offered vnto their gods,

9 Therefore the Lord was angry with Salomon, because hee had turned his heart from the Lord God of Israel, which had appeared vnto him twise,

10 And had giuen him a charge concerning this thing, that he should not follow other gods: but hee kept not that which the Lord had commanded him.

11 Therefore the Lord sayd vnto Salomon, Inasmuch as this is done of thee, and thou hast not kept my couenant, and my statutes (which I commanded thee) I will surely rent the kingdome from thee, and will giue it to thy seruant.

12 Notwithstanding in thy dayes I will not doe it, because of Dauid thy father, but I will rent it out of the hand of thy sonne:

13 Howbeit I will not rent all the kingdome, but will giue one tribe to thy sonne, because of Dauid my seruant, and because of Jerusalem which I haue chosen.

14 Then the Lord stirred vp an aduersary vnto Salomon, euen Hadad the Edomite, of the kings seed, which was in Edom.

15 For when Dauid was in Edom, and Joab the captaine of the holte had slinitten all the males in Edom, and was gone vp to bury the slaine, 16 For hie moneths did Joab remaine there, and all Israel, till he had destroyed all the males in Edom.)

17 Then this Hadad fled and certaine other Edomites of his fathers seruants with him, to goe into Egypt, Hadad being yet a little child.

18 And they arose out of Midian, & came to Paran, and tooke men with them out of Paran, and came to Egypt vnto Pharaoh king of Egypt, which gaue him an house, and appointed him buttailes, and gaue him land.

19 So Hadad found great fauour in the sight of Pharaoh, and hee gaue him to wife the sister of his owne wife, euen the sister of Tahpenes the Queene.

20 And the sister of Tahpenes bare him Sennabath his son, whom Tahpenes wened in Pharaohs house: a Sennabath was in Pharaohs house among the sonnes of Pharaoh.

21 And when Hadad heard in Egypt, that Dauid slept with his fathers, and that Joab the captaine of the holte was dead, Hadad said to Pharaoh, Let mee depart, that I may goe to mine owne countrey.

22 But Pharaoh sayd vnto him, What hast thou lacked with mee, that thou wouldest thus goe to thine owne countrey? And he answered, Nothing, but in any wise let me goe.

23 And God stirred him vp another aduersary, Rezon the sonne of Eliadah, which fled from his lord Hadadezer king of Iobah.

24 And hee gathered men vnto him, and had bene captaine ouer the company, when Dauid slew them. And they went to Damascus, and dwelt there, and they made him king in Damascus.

26 * And Ieroboam the sonne of Nebat an Ephraimite of Zereda Salomons seruau (whose mother was called Zeruah a widow) lift up his hand against the king.

27 And this was the cause that he lift up his hand against the king, When Salomon built Bello, hee repaired the broken places of the citie of Dauid his father.

28 And this man Ieroboam was a man of strength and courage, and Salomon seeing that the yong man was meeete for the worke, he made him * ouersceer of all the labour of the house of Ioseph.

29 And at that time, when Ieroboam went out of Ierusalem, the Prophet Ahitah the Shilonite found him in the way, hauing a new garment on him, and they two were alone in the field.

30 Then Ahitah caught the new garment that was on him, & rent it in twelue pieces, 31 And sayd to Ieroboam, Take vnto thee ten pieces: for thus saith the Lord God of Israel, Behold, I will rent the kingdome out of the hands of Salomon, and wil giue ten tribes to thee.

32 But he shall haue one tribe for my seruant Dauids sake, and for Ierusalem the citie, which I haue chosen out of all the tribes of Israel,

33 Because they haue forsaken mee, and haue worshipped Astartoth the god of the Sidonians, and Chemosh the god of the Moabites, and Belcom the god of the Ammonites, and haue not walked in my wayes (|| to doe right in mine eyes, and my statutes, and my lawes) as did Dauid his father.

34 But I will not take the whole kingdome out of his hand: for I will make him Prince all his life long for Dauid my seruants sake, whom I haue chosen, and who kept my commandments and my statutes.

35 * But I will take the kingdome out of his sonnes hand, and will giue it vnto thee, even the ten tribes.

36 And vnto his sonne will I giue one tribe, that Dauid my seruau may haue a right alway before me in Ierusalem the citie which I haue chosen mee, to put my name there.

37 And I will take thee, and thou shalt reigne, & euen as thine heart desireth, and shalt be king ouer Israel.

38 And if thou hearken vnto all that I commaund thee, and wilt walke in my wayes, and doe right in my sight to keepe my statutes and my commandments, as Dauid my seruau did, then will I be with thee, and builde thee a sure house, as I built vnto Dauid, and will giue Israel vnto thee.

39 And I will for * thee, afflict the seed of Dauid, & but not for euer.

40 ¶ Salomon fought therefore to kill Ieroboam, and Ieroboam arose, and fled into Egypt vnto Shishak king of Egypt, and was in Egypt vntill the death of Salomon.

20 And when all Israel had heard that Jeroboam was come againe, they sent and called him unto the assembly, and made him King over all Israel: none followed the house of David, but the tribe of Iudah only.

21 And when Rehoboam was come to Ierusalem, he gathered all the house of Iudah with the tribe of Benjamin, an hundredth and fourescore thousand of chosen men (which were good warriors) to fight against the house of Israel, and to bring the kingdom againe to Rehoboam the sonne of Salomon.

22 * But the word of God came unto Shemaiah the man of God, saying,

23 Speake unto Rehoboam the sonne of Salomon King of Iudah, and unto all the house of Iudah and Benjamin, and the remnant of the people, saying,

24 Thus saith the Lord, Ye shall not go by, nor fight against your brethren the children of Israel: returne every man to his house: for this thing is done by mee. They obeyed therefore the word of the Lord, and returned, and departed, according to the word of the Lord.

25 When Jeroboam built Shechem in mount Ephraim, and dwelt therein, and went from thence, and built Penuel.

26 And Jeroboam thought in his heart, Now shall the kingdom returne to the house of David.

27 If this people go by, and doe sacrifice in the house of the Lord at Ierusalem, then shall the heart of this people turne againe unto their lord, even to Rehoboam King of Iudah: so shall they kill mee and goe againe to Rehoboam King of Iudah.

28 Whereupon the King took counsell, and made two calves of gold, and said vnto them, * It is too much for you to goe vp to Ierusalem: behold, O Israel, thy gods, which brought thee vp out of the land of Egypt.

29 And he set the one in Beth el, and the other set he in Dan.

30 And this thing turned to sinne: for the people went (because of the one) euen to Dan.

31 Also hee made an house of hie places, and made priests of the lowest of the people, which were not of the sonnes of Leui.

32 And Jeroboam made a feast the fifteenth day of the eighth moneth, like vnto the feast that is in Iudah, and offered on the altar. So did he in Beth el, and offered vnto the calves that hee had made: and hee placed in Beth el the priests of the hie places, which he had made.

33 And hee offered vpon the altar, which hee had made in Beth el, the thirtieth day of the eighth moneth (euen in the moneth which hee had forged of his owne heart) and made a solemne feast unto the children of Israel: and he went vp to the altar, to burne incense.

CHAP. XIII.

1 Jeroboam is reprehended of the Prophet, 4 His hand drieth vp. 15 The Prophet is seduced, 24 And is killed of a lyon. 33 The obliuiscence of Jeroboam.

And behold, there came a man of God out of Iudah (by the commandement of the Lord) vnto Beth el, and Jeroboam stood by the altar to offer incense.

2 And hee cried against the altar by the commandement of the Lord, and said, O altar, altar, thus saith the Lord, Behold, a child shall bee bozne vnto the boule of David, * Iosiah by name, and vpon thee shall he sacrifice the priests of the high places that burnt incense vpon thee, and they shall burne mens bones vpon thee.

3 And hee gaue a signe the same time, saying, This is the signe, that the Lord hath spoken, Behold, the altar shall rent, and the ashes that are vpon it, shall fall out.

4 And when the king had heard the saying of the man of God, which hee had cried against the altar in Beth el. Jeroboam stretched out his hand from the altar, saying, Lay hold on him: but his hand which he put forth against him, dried vp, and hee could not pull it in againe to him.

5 The altar also cleaued asunder, and the ashes fell out from the altar, according to the signe which the man of God had giuen by the commandement of the Lord.

6 Then the king answered, and said vnto the man of God, I beseech thee, pray vnto the Lord thy God, and make intercession for mee, that mine hand may be restored: and became as it was afore.

7 Then the King said vnto the man of God, Come home with mee, that thou mayest dine, and I will give thee a reward.

8 But the man of God sayde vnto the King, l He feared lest his people should haue by this means beene enticed to rebell against him.

King, If thou wouldest giue mee halfe thine houle, I would not goe in with thee, neither would I eate bread nor drinke water in this place.

9 For so was it charged me by the word of the Lord, saying, Eat no bread nor drinke water, nor turne againe by the same way that thou camest.

10 So he went another way, and returned not by the way that he came to Beth-el.

11 And an old Prophet dwelt in Beth-el, and his sonnes came, and tolde him all the workes that the man of God had done that day in Beth-el, and the words which he had spoken vnto the King, told they their father.

12 And their father sayde vnto them, What way went he? and his sonnes shewed him what way the man of God went, which came from Iudah.

13 And he said vnto his sonnes, Saddle me the asse. Who saddled him the asse, and hee rode thereon, 14 And went after the man of God, and found him sitting vnder an oke: and he said vnto him, Art thou the man of God that camest from Iudah? And he said, Yea.

15 Then he said vnto him, Come home with me, and eat bread.

16 But he answered, I may not returne with thee, nor goe in with thee, neither will I eate bread, nor drinke water with thee in this place.

17 For it was charged me by the word of the Lord, saying, Thou shalt eate no bread nor drinke water there, nor turne againe to goe by the way that thou wentest.

18 And hee said vnto him, I am a Prophet also as thou art, and an Angel spake vnto mee by the word of the Lord, saying, Bring him againe with thee into thine house, that hee may eate bread and drinke water: but hee yered vnto him.

19 So he went againe with him, and did eat bread in his house, and drank water.

20 And as they late at the table, the word of the Lord came vnto the Prophet, that brought him againe.

21 And hee cried vnto the man of God that came from Iudah, saying, Thus saith the Lord, Because thou hast disobeyed the commandement which the Lord thy God commanded thee.

22 But camest backe againe, and hast eaten bread, and drinke water in the place (whereof hee did say vnto thee, Thou shalt eate no bread nor drinke any water) thy carckets shall not come into the sepulchre of thy fathers.

23 And when he had eaten bread, and drinke, hee saddled him the Asse, to wit, to the Prophet whom he had brought againe.

24 And when hee was gone, a Lyon met him by the way, and slew him, and his body was cast in the way, and the Asse stood thereby: the Lyon stood by the coxps also.

25 And behold, men that passed by, sawe the carckets cast into the way, and the Lyon standing by the coxps: and they came and tolde it in the towne where the old Prophet dwelt.

26 And when the Prophet, that brought him backe againe from the way, heard thereof, hee said, It is the man of God, who hath bene disobedient vnto the commandement of the Lord: therefore the Lord hath deliuered him vnto the Lyon, which hath rent him and slaine him, according to the word of the Lord, which he spake vnto him.

27 And he spake to his sonnes, saying, Saddle me the asse, and they saddled him.

28 And he went and found his body cast in the way, and the Asse and the Lion stood by the coxps, and the Lyon had not eaten the body, nor toene the asse.

29 And the Prophet tooke by the body of the man of God, and layed it vpon the asse, and brought it againe, and the old Prophet came to the citie, to lament and burie him.

30 And hee layed his body in his owne graue, and they lamented ouer him, saying, Alas, my brother.

31 And when he had buried him, he spake to his sonnes, saying, When I am dead, burie mee also in the sepulchre, wherein the man of God is buried: lay my bones beside his bones.

32 For that thing which hee cried by the word of the Lord against the altar that is in Beth-el, and against all the houses of the hie places, which are in the cities of Samaria, shall surely come to passe.

33 Howbeit, after this Jeroboam converted not from his wicked way, but turned againe, and made of the lowest of the people Priests of the hie places. Who would, might consecrate himselfe, and bee of the Priests of the hie places.

34 And this thing turned to sinne vnto the house of Jeroboam, euen to roote it out, and destroy it from the face of the earth.

CHAP. XIII.

2 Jeroboam sendeth his wife disguised to Abiiah the Prophet, who declareth vnto him the destruction of his house. 22 Iudah is punished by Shishak.

At that time Abiiah the sonne of Jeroboam fell sicke.

2 And Jeroboam said vnto his wife, Up, I pray thee, and disguise thy selfe, that they know not that thou art the wife of Jeroboam, and goe to Shiloh: for there is Abiiah the Prophet, which told mee that I should be King ouer this people.

3 And take with thee ten loanes and se cracknels, and a boittell of hony, and go to him: hee shall tell thee what shall become of the yong man.

4 And Jeroboams wife did so, and arose, and went to Shiloh, and came to the house of Ahijah: but Ahijah could not see, for his sight was decayed for his age.

5 Then the Lord said vnto Ahijah, Behold, the wife of Jeroboam cometh to aske a thing of thee for her sonne, for hee is sicke: thus and thus shalt thou say vnto her: for when she cometh in, she shall slaine her selfe to bee another.

God would reprove his folly by him who was the occasion to bring him into error.

13 And all Israel shall mourne for him, and burie him: for he only of Ierooboam shall come to the graue, because in him there is found some goodnesse toward the Lord God of Israel in the house of Ierooboam.

14 Moreover, the Lord shall stirre him by a King ouer Israel, which shall destroy the house of Ierooboam in that day: what? yea, euen now.

15 For the Lord shall smite Israel, as when a reebe is shaken in the water, and hee shall weede Israel out of this good land, which he gaue to their fathers, and shall scatter them beyond the * Ruer, because they haue made them grones, pronokeyng the Lord to anger.

18 And they buried him, and all Israel lamented him, according to the word of the Lord which he spake by the hand of his seruant Ahijah the Prophet.

19 And the rest of Ierooboams acts, how he warred, and how he reigned, behold, they are written in the booke of the Chronicles of the Kings of Israel.

20 And the dayes which Ierooboam reigned, were two and twenty yere: & he slept with his fathers, and Nadab his sonne reigned in his stead.

21 Also Rehoboam the sonne of Salomon reigned in Iudah. Rehoboam was one and forty yere old, when he began to reigne, and reigned seenteene yere in Ierusalem the citie, which the Lord did chuse out of all the tribes of Israel, to put his name there: and his mothers name was Naamah an Ammonite.

22 And Iudah wrought wickednesse in the sight of the Lord: and they prouoked him more with their finnes, which they had committed, then all that which their fathers had done.

23 For they also made them hic places and images, and grones on euery hie hill, and vnder euery greene tree.

24 There were also Sodomites in the land, they did according to all the abominations of the nations which the Lord had cast out before the children of Israel.

25 And in the sixt yere of King Rehoboam, Shishak king of Egypt came by against Ierusalem, 26 And tooke the treasures of the house of the Lord, and the treasures of the Kings house, and tooke away all: also he caried away all the shields of gold which Salomon had made.

27 And King Rehoboam made for them brazen shields, and committed them vnto the hands of the chiefe of the gard, which waited at the doore of the Kings house.

28 And when the king went into the house of the Lord, the gard bare them, and brought them againe into the gard chamber.

29 And the rest of the acts of Rehoboam, and all that hee did, are they not written in the booke of the Chronicles of the kings of Iudah?

30 And there was warre betweene Rehoboam and Ierooboam continually.

31 And Rehoboam slept with his fathers, and was buried with his fathers in the citie of Dauid: his mothers name was Naamah an Ammonite. And Abitam his sonne reigned in his stead.

9 And in the twenty yeere of Ieroboam king of Israel, reigned Afa ouer Iudah.

10 Hee reigned in Ierusalem one and forty yeere, and his * mothers name was Baachah, the daughter of Abithalom.

11 And Afa did right in the eyes of the Lord, as did Dauid his father.

12 And hee tooke away the Sodomites out of the land, and put away all the idoles that his fathers had made.

13 And hee <sup>d</sup> put downe * Baachah his mother also from her estate, because shee had made an idole in a grone: and Afa destroyed her idoles, and burnt them by the brooke Kidron.

14 But they put not downe the hie places. Neuertheless, Afas heart was <sup>e</sup> upright with the Lord all his dayes.

15 Also hee brought in the holy vessels of his father, and the things that hee had dedicated into the house of the Lord, siluer, and golde, and vessels.

16 And there was warre betweene Afa and Baasha king of Israel at their dayes.

17 Then Baasha king of Israel went by against Iudah, and built <sup>f</sup> Ramah, so that hee would let none goe out of in to Afa king of Iudah.

18 Then Afa tooke all the siluer and the golde that was left in the treasures of the house of the Lord, and the treasures of the Kings house, and deliuered them into the hands of his seruants, and King Afa sent them to * Ben-hadad the sonne of Tabrimon, the sonne of Hezion king of Aram that dwelt at Damascus, saying,

19 There is a couenant betwene mee and thee, and betwene my father and thy father: behold, I haue sent vnto thee a present of siluer and golde: come, breake thy couenant with Baasha king of Israel, that hee may <sup>g</sup> depart from me.

20 So Ben-hadad hearkened vnto king Afa, and sent the captiues of the hostes, which hee had, against the cities of Israel, and inuote Iion, and Dan, and Abel-beth-machah, and all Emmeroth with all the land of Naphtali.

21 And when Baasha heard thereof, hee left building of Ramah, and dwelt in Tirzah.

22 Then king Afa assembled all Iudah, † none excepted, and they reake the stones of Ramah, and the timber thereof, wherewith Baasha had built, and king Afa built with them Geba: Benjamin and Hizpah.

23 And the rest of all the acts of Afa, and all his might, and all that hee did, and the cities which hee built, are they not written in the booke of the Chronicles of the Kings of Iudah: but in his old age hee was diseased in his <sup>h</sup> secte.

24 And Afa slept with his fathers, and was buried with his fathers in the citie of Dauid his father. And Iehoshaphat his sonne reigned in his stead.

25 And Nadab the sonne of Ieroboam began to reigne ouer Israel the second yeere of Afa king of Iudah, and reigned ouer Israel two yeere.

26 And hee did euill in the sight of the Lord, walking in the way of his father, and in his sinne wherewith he made Israel to liane.

27 And Baasha the sonne of Abihah of the house of Issachar conspired against him, and Baasha slew him at Gibbethon, which belonged to the Philistims: for Nadab and all Israel layd siege to Gibbethon.

28 When in the third yeere of Afa King of Iudah did Baasha slay him, and reigned in his stead.

29 And when hee was King, hee <sup>k</sup> inuote all the house of Ieroboam, he left none alitue to Ieroboam, until hee had destroyed him, according to the * word of the Lord which hee spake by his seruant Abihah the Shilonite,

7 And also by the hand of Jehu the sonne of Hanani the Prophet, came the word of the Lord to Baasha, & to his house, that he should bee like the house of Ieroboam, even for all the wickednesse that he did in the sight of the Lord, in prouoking him with the worke of his hands, and because he killed him.

8 In the five and twenty yeere of Aha king of Iudah began Elah the sonne of Baasha to reigne ouer Israel in Tirzah, & reigned two yeere.

9 And his seruant Zimri, captaine of halfe his charres, conspired against him, as hee was in Tirzah, & drunke till he was drunken in the house of Arza steward of his house in Tirzah.

10 And Zimri came and smote him, and killed him in the seuen and twenty yeere of Aha king of Iudah, & reigned in his stead.

11 And when he was king, and sat on his throne, he slew all the house of Baasha, not leauing thereof one to pisse against a wall, neither of his kindestokes, nor of his friends.

12 So did Zimri destroy all the house of Baasha, according to the word of the Lord, which he spake against Baasha by the hand of Jehu the Prophet.

13 For all the finnes of Baasha, and finnes of Elah his sonne, which they inned, and made Israel to sinne, and prouoked the Lord God of Israel with their vanities.

15 In the seuen and twenty yeere of Aha king of Iudah did Zimri reigne seuen dayes in Tirzah, and the people was then in campe against Gibbethon, which belonged to the Philistims.

16 And the people of the hoste heard say, Zimri hath conspired, and hath also slaine the King. Wherefore all Israel made Omri the captaine of the hoste, king ouer Israel that same day, euen in the hoste.

17 Then Omri went vp from Gibbethon, and all Israel with him, and they besieged Tirzah.

18 And when Zimri saw that the city was taken, he went into the palace of the kings house, and burnt himselfe, and the kings house with fire, and so died.

19 For his finnes which he sinned, in doing that which is euill in the sight of the Lord, in walking in the way of Ieroboam, and in his finnes which he did, causing Israel to sinne.

20 And the rest of the acts of Zimri, and his treason that hee wrought, are they not written in the booke of the Chronicles of the Kings of Israel?

21 Then were the people of Israel diuided into two parts: for halfe the people followed Tibni the sonne of Giniath) to make him king, and the other halfe followed Omri

22 But the people that followed Omri, prevailed against the people that followed

Tibni the sonne of Giniath: so Tibni died, and Omri reigned.

23 In the one and thirtie yeere of Aha King of Iudah began Omri to reigne ouer Israel, and reigned twelue yeere. Sixe yeere reigned he in Tirzah.

24 And he bought the mountaine of Samaria of one Sheimer to two talents of silver, and built in the mountaine, and called the name of the citie which he built, after the name of Sheimer lord of the mountain, Samaria.

25 But Omri did euill in the eyes of the Lord, and did worse then all that were before him.

26 For he walked in all the way of Ieroboam the sonne of Nebat, and in his finnes wherewith hee made Israel to sinne, in prouoking the Lord God of Israel with their vanities.

27 And the rest of the acts of Omri that hee did, and the strength that hee shewed, are they not written in the booke of the Chronicles of the kings of Israel?

28 And Omri slept with his fathers, and was buried in Samaria: and Ahab his sonne reigned in his stead.

29 Now Ahab the sonne of Omri began to reigne ouer Israel, in the eight and thirtie yeere of Aha king of Iudah: and Ahab the sonne of Omri reigned ouer Israel in Samaria two and twenty yeere.

30 And Ahab the sonne of Omri did worse in the sight of the Lord then all that were before him.

31 For was it a light thing for him to walke in the finnes of Ieroboam the sonne of Nebat, except hee tooke Jezebel also the daughter of Eth-baal king of the Sidonians to his wife, and went and serued Baal, and worshipped him?

32 Also hee reared vp an altar to Baal in the house of Baal which he had built in Samaria.

33 And Ahab made a groue, and Ahab proceeded, and did prouoke the Lord God of Israel more then all the kings of Israel that were before him.

34 In his dayes did Hiel the Bethelite build a Fortice: hee layd the foundation thereof in Abiram his eldest sonne, and set by the gates thereof in his youngest sonne Segub, according to the word of the Lord which hee spake by Ioshua the sonne of Nun.

To strengthen his faith against Persecution, God Promiseth to feed him mifulously,

I have commanded the rauenes to feed thee there.

5 So he went and did according unto the word of the Lord: for he went, and remained by the river Cherith that is over against Jordan.

6 And the rauenes brought him bread and flesh in the morning, and bread and flesh in the evening, and he dranke of the river.

7 And after a while the river dried up, because there fell no raine vpon the earth.

8 And the word of the Lord came vnto him, saying,

9 * Up, and get thee to Zarephath, which is in Zidon, and remaine there: behold, I haue commanded a widow there to sustaine thee.

10 So he arose, and went to Zarephath: and when hee came to the gate of the citie, behold, the widow was there gathering stickes: and hee called her, and sayd, Bring me, I pray thee, a litle water in a vessel, that I may drinke.

11 And as she was going to fet it, he called to her, and said, Bring me, I pray thee, a morsell of bread in thine hand.

12 And she said, As the Lord thy God liueth, I haue not a cake, but euen an handfull of meale in a barrell, and a litle oyle in a cruse: and behold, I am gathering for a few stickes for to goe in, and drasse it for me, and my sonne, that we may eate it, and die.

13 And Elijah sayd vnto her, Feare not, come, doe as thou hast sayd, but make mee thereof a litle cake first of all, & bring it vnto me, and afterward make for thee and thy sonne.

14 For thus sayth the Lord God of Israel, The meale in the barrell shall not be wasted, neither shall the oyle in the cruse be diminished, vnto the time that the Lord send raine vpon the earth.

15 So she went, and did as Elijah sayd, and she did eate: so did hee and her house for a certaine time.

16 The barrell of the meale wasted not, nee the oyle was spent out of the cruse, according to the word of the Lord, which he spake by the hand of Elijah.

17 And after these things, the sonne of the wife of the house fell sicke, and his sicknesse was so sore, that there was no breath left in him.

18 And hee said vnto Elijah, What haue I to doe with thee, O thou man of God? Art thou come vnto me to call my lin to recompensance, and to slay my sonne?

19 And hee sayd vnto her, Giue mee thy sonne, and hee tooke him out of her bosome, and caried him vnto a chamber, where hee abode, and layed him vpon his owne bed.

20 Then hee called vnto the Lord, and sayd, O Lord my God, haue thou punished also this widow, with whom I souourne, by killing her sonne?

21 And hee stretched himselfe vpon the childe three times, and called vnto the Lord, and sayd, O Lord my God, I pray thee, let this chldes soule come into him againe.

22 Then the Lord heard the voice of Elijah, and the soule of the childe came into him againe, and he reuiued.

23 And Elijah tooke the childe, & brought him down out of the chamber into the house, and deliuered him vnto his mother, and Elijah sayd, Behold, thy sonne liueth.

24 And the woman sayd vnto Elijah, Now I know that thou art a man of God, and that the word of the Lord in thy mouth is true.

I So hard a thing it is to depend on God, except we be confirmed by miracles.

CHAP. XVIII.

1 Elijah is sent to Ahab, 13 Obadiah hideth an hundred Prophets, 20 Elijah killeth all Baals prophets, 45 He obtaineth raine.

After many dayes, the word of the Lord came to Elijah, in the third yeere, saying, Goe, shew thy selfe vnto Ahab, and I will send raine vpon the earth.

a After that he departed from the riter Cherich.

2 And Elijah went to shew himselfe vnto Ahab, and there was a great famine in Samaria.

3 And Ahab called Obadiah the gouernour of his house: (for Obadiah feared God greatly:

b God had begun to worke his feare in his heart, but had not yet brought him to that knowledge which is also requisite for the golly: that is, to profess his Name openly.

4 For when Izebel destroyed the Prophets of the Lord, Obadiah tooke an hundred Prophets, and hid them by fifty in a caue, and hee fed them with bread and water.)

5 And Ahab said vnto Obadiah, Go into the land, vnto all the fountaines of water, and vnto all the riuers: if so bee that wee may finde grasse to saue the horses and the mules a line, lest wee deperize the lande of the beastes.

6 And so they diuided the land between them to walke thownd it. Ahab went one way by himselfe, & Obadiah went another way by himselfe.

7 And as Obadiah was in the way, behold, Elijah met him: and he knew him, and fell on his face, and sayd, Art not thou my lord Elijah?

c God pitieth oft times the wicked for the godlies sake, and causeth Elijah to meete with Obadiah, that the benefit might be knowne to beee granted for Gods childrens sake, 8 And he answered him, Yea, go tell thy lord, Behold Elijah is here.

9 And he said, What haue I sined, that thou wouldest deliuer thy seruant into the hand of Ahab to slay me?

10 As the Lord thy God liueth, there is no nation or kingdome, whither my lord hath not sent to seeke thee: and when they sayd, hee is not here, hee tooke an othe of the kingdome and nation, if they had not found thee.

11 And now thou sayest, See, tel thy lord, Behold, Elijah is here.

12 And when I am gone from thee, the Spirit of the Lord shall carie thee into some place that I doe not know: so when I come and tell Ahab, if hee cannot find thee, then will he kill me: but I thy seruant feare the Lord from my youth.

13 Was it not told my lord, what I did when Izebel sloued the Prophets of the Lord, how I hid an hundred men of the Lords Prophets by fifties in a caue, and fed them with bread and water?

d I am none of the wicked persecuters, that thou shouldest procure vnto me such displeasure, but serue God, and fauour his children.

14 And now thou sayest, Go, tell thy lord, Behold, d As the troubles of the Saints of God are many, so his mercie is euer at hand to deliuer them, Luke 4.25,26.

e All this was to strengthen the faith of Elijah, to the intent that he should looke vpon nothing worldly, but onely trust on Gods prouidence.

#Ebr. twa,

f For there is no hope of any more sustenance.

g God receiueth nobenefit for the vse of his bar hee promiseth a most ample recompense for the same.

h That is, till he had raine & food on the earth.

i Or, that hee died. God would try whether hee had learned by his mercifull prouidence to make him her only stay and comfort.

k He was afraid lest Gods Name should haue been blasphemed and his ministers condemned, except he should haue continued his mercies, as he had begun them, specially while hee there remained.

Behold, Eliah is here, that he may slay me.

15 And Eliah said, As the Lord of hosts liveth, before whom I stand, I will surely slay thee: my life unto him this day.

16 ¶ So Dabiah went to meete Ahab, and told him: & Ahab went to meete Eliah.

17 And when Ahab saw Eliah, Ahab said unto him, Art thou hee that troublest Israel?

18 And he answered, I have not troubled Israel, but thou, and thy fathers house, in that yee haue forsaken the commandements of the Lord, and thou hast followed Baalim.

19 Now therefore send, and gather to me all Israel vnto mount Carmel, and the prophets of Baal foure hundred and fiftie, and the prophets of the groves foure hundred, which eat at Jezabels table.

20 ¶ So Ahab sent vnto all the children of Israel, and gathered the prophets together vnto mount Carmel.

21 And Eliah came vnto all the people, and said, How long shall yee betwene two opinions? If the Lord be God, follow him: but if Baal be he, then goe after him. And the people answered him not a word.

22 Then said Eliah vnto the people, I onely remaine a Prophet of the Lord: but Baals prophets are foure hundred and fifty men.

23 Let them therefore giue vs two bullockes, and let them chuse the one, and cut him in pieces, and lay him on the wood, but put no fire vnder, and I will prepare the other bullocke, and lay him on the wood, and will put no fire vnder.

24 Then call ye on the name of your god, and I will call on the name of the Lord: and then the God that answereth by fire, let him be God. And all the people answered, and said, It is well spoken.

25 And Eliah said vnto the prophets of Baal, Chuse you a bullocke, and prepare him first (for yee are many) and call on the name of your gods, but put no fire vnder.

26 So they tooke the one bullocke, that was giuen them, and they prepared it, and called on the name of Baal, from morning to noone, saying, O Baal, heare vs: but there was no voice, nor any to answer: and they leapt vpon the altar that was made.

27 And at noone Eliah mocked them, and said, Crie loud; for he is a god: either he talketh, or putteth his enemies, or is in his iourney, or it may bee that hee sleepech and must bee awaked.

28 And they cried lowde, and cut themselves as theye inauer was, with knives and lancers till the blood gushed out vpon them.

29 And when midday was passed, and they had prophesied vntill the offering of the evening sacrifice, there was neither voyce, nor one to answer, nor any that regarded.

30 And Eliah said vnto all the people, Come to mee. And all the people came to him, and hee repaired the altar of the Lord that was broken downe.

31 And Eliah tooke twelue stones, according to the number of the tribes of the sonnes of Iacob, (vnto whom the word of the Lord came, saying, * Israel shall bee thy name.)

32 And with the stones hee built an altar in the name of the Lord: and hee made a ditch round about the altar, as great as would containe two & incasures of seede.

33 And hee put the wood in order, and hewed the bullocke in pieces, and laide him on the wood, 34 And said, Fill foure barrels with water, and poure it on the burnt offering and on the wood. Againe he said, Doe so againe. And they did so the second time. And he said, Doe it the third time. And they did it the third time.

35 And the water ran round about the altar: & he filled the ditch with water also.

36 And when they should offer the evening sacrifice, Eliah the Prophet came, and said, Lord God of Abraham, Ishaak and of Israel, let it bee knowne this day, that thou art the God of Israel, and that I am thy seruant, & that I haue done all these things at thy commandment.

37 Heare me, O Lord, heare me, and let these people know that thou art the Lord God, and that thou hast turned their heart againe * at the last.

38 Then the fire of the Lord fell, and consumed the burnt offering, and the wood, and the stones, and the dust, and licked vp the water that was in the ditch.

39 And when all the people saw it, they fell on their faces, and said, The Lord is God, the Lord is God.

40 And Eliah said vnto them, Take the prophets of Baal, let not a man of them escape. And they tooke them, & Eliah brought them to the brooke Kishon, and slew them there.

41 ¶ And Eliah said vnto Ahab, Get thee vp, eat and drinke, for there is a sound of much raine.

42 So Ahab went vp to eat, & to drinke, and Eliah went vp to the top of Carmel: and hee crouched vnto the earth, and put his face betwene his knees, 43 And said to his seruant, See vp now and looke toward the way of the Sea. And hee went vp, and looked, and said, There is nothing. Againe he said, See againe & seuen times.

44 And at the seuenth time he said, Behold, there ariseth a little cloud out of the sea like a mans hand. Then he said, Ap, and lay vnto Ahab, Make ready thy chare, and get thee downe that the raine stay thee not.

45 And in the meane while the heauen was black with clouds and wind, and there was a great raine. Then Ahab went vp and came to Izzel.

46 And the hand of the Lord was on Eliah, and hee giued by his voyces, and raine s before Ahab till he came to Izzel.

2 Then Jezebel sent a messenger unto Elijah, saying, b The gods doe so to me and more also, if I make not thy life like one of their lives by to morow this time.

3 ¶ When hee saw that, hee arose, and went for his life, and came to Beer-sheba, which is in Judah, & left his servant there.

4 But he went a dayes journey into the wilderness, and came and laye downe vnder a Juniper tree, and desired that hee might die, and said, It is now ynough, O Lord, take my soule, for I am no better then my fathers.

5 And as he lay and slept vnder the Juniper tree, behold now, an Angel touched him, and said vnto him, Up and eate.

6 And when hee looked about, behold, there was a cake baken on the coales, and a pot of water at his head: so he did eate and drinke, and returned and slept.

7 And the Angel of the Lord came againe the second time, and touched him, and said, Up and eate: for thou d hast a great iourney.

8 ¶ Then hee arose, and did eate and drinke, and walked in the strength of that meat fourtie dayes and fourtie nights, vnto Ijehab the mount of God.

9 And there hee entered into a caue, and lodged there: and behold, the Lord spake to him, and said vnto him, What doest thou here, Elijah?

10 And he answered, I haue bene very zelous for the Lord God of hostes: for the children of Israel haue forsaken thy covenant, broken downe thine altars, and slaine thy Prophets with the sword, * and I onely am left, and they seeke my life to take it away.

11 And he said, Come out, and stand vpon the mount before the Lord. And behold, the Lord went by, and a mightie strong wind rent the mountaines, and brake the rockes before the Lord: but the Lord was not in the wind: and after the wind, came an earthquake: but the Lord was not in the earthquake.

12 And after the earthquake came fire: but the Lord was not in the fire: and after the fire, came a still and soft voyce.

13 And when Elijah heard it, he covered his face with his mantel, and went out, and stood in the entering in of the caue: and behold, there came a voyce vnto him, and said, What doest thou here, Elijah?

14 And hee answered, I haue bene very zelous for the Lord God of hostes, because the children of Israel haue forsaken thy covenant, cast downe thine altars, and slaine thy Prophets with the sword, and I onely am left, and they seeke my life to take it away.

15 And the Lord said vnto him, Go, returne by the wilderness into Damascus, and when thou comest there, anoynt Hazael king ouer A Ram.

16 And Jehu the sonne of Nimshi shalt thou anoynt king ouer Israel: and Elisha the sonne of Shaphat of Abel-Betholah shalt thou anoint to bee Prophet in thy roome.

17 And * him that escapeth from the sword of Hazael, shall Jehu slay: and him that escapeth from the sword of Jehu, shall Elisha slay.

18 Yet will * I leaue seven thousand in Israel, euen h all the knees that haue not bowed vnto Baal, and euery mouth that hath not killed him.

19 ¶ So hee departed thence, and found Elisha the sonne of Shaphat who was plowing with twelue yoke of oxen before him, and was with the twelfth: and Elijah went towards him, and cast his mantel vpon him.

20 And hee left the oxen, and ranne after Elijah, and said, Let me, I pray thee, kisse my father and my mother, and then I will follow thee. ¶ Elisha answered him, See, returne: for what haue I done to thee?

21 And when he went backe againe from him, he tooke a couple of oxen, & slew them, and sod their flesh with the instruments of the oxen, and gaue vnto the people, and they did eat: then hee arose and went after Elijah, and ministred vnto him.

Or, Syria.

All that thou didst send for to thy seruant at the first time, that I will doe, but this thing I may not doe. And the messengers departed, and brought him an answer.

10 And Ben-hadad sent vnto him, and sayd, The gods doe so to me, and more also, if the dust of Samaria be enough to all the people that follow mee, for euery man a handful.

11 And the king of Israel answered, and sayd, Tell him, Let not him that girdeth his harness, boast himselfe, as hee that putteth it off.

12 And when hee heard that tidings, as hee was with the kings drinke in the pavilions, hee sayd vnto his seruants, Bring forth your engines, and they set them against the citie.

13 And behold, there came a Prophet vnto Ahab king of Israel, saying, Thus saith the Lord, Hast thou seene all this great multitude? behold, I will deliuer it into thine hand this day, that thou mayest know, that I am the Lord.

14 And Ahab sayd, By whom? And hee said, Thus saith the Lord, By the seruants of the princes of the prouinces. He sayd againe, Who shall order the battell? And he answered, Thou.

15 Then hee numbred the seruants of the princes of the prouinces, and they were two hundred two and thirtie: and after that hee numbred the whole people of all the children of Israel, euen seuen thousand.

16 And they went out at noone: but Ben-hadad did drinke till hee was drunken in the tents, both hee, and the Kings: for two and thirtie kings helped him.

17 So the seruants of the princes of the prouinces went out first: and Ben-hadad sent out, and they shewed him, saying, There are men come out of Samaria.

18 And he sayd, Whether they bee come out for peace, take them aliu: or whether they be come out to fight, take them yet aliu.

19 So they came out of the citie, to wit, the seruants of the princes of the prouinces, and the host which followed them.

20 And they slew euery one his enemy: and the Aramites fled, and Israel pursued them: but Ben hadad the king of Aram escaped on a horse with his horsemen.

21 And the king of Israel went out, and smote the horses and charrets, with a great slaughter till hee the Aramites.

22 (For there had come a Prophet to the king of Israel, and had said vnto him, See, be of good courage, and consider and take heed what thou doest: for when the yeere is gone about, the king of Aram will come vp against thee.)

23 Then the seruants of the king of Aram said vnto him, Their gods are gods of the mountaines, and therefore they ouercome vs: but let vs fight against them in the plaine, and doubtlesse we shall ouercome them.

24 And this doe, Take the kings away, euery one out of his place, and place captiues for them.

25 And number thy selfe an armie, like the armie that thou hast lost, with such horses, such charrets, and we will fight against them in the plaine, and doubtlesse we shall ouercome them: and hee hearkened vnto their voice, and did so.

26 And after the yeere was gone about, Ben-hadad numbred the Aramites, & went vp to Aphek to fight against Israel.

27 And the children of Israel were numbred, and were all assembled and went against them, and the children of Israel pitched before them, like two little flockes of kids: but the Aramites filled the countrey.

28 And there came a man of God, and spake vnto the king of Israel, saying, Thus saith the Lord, Because the Aramites haue said, The Lord is the God of the mountaines, and not God of the valleys, therefore will I deliuer all this great multitude into thine hand, and yee shall know that I am the Lord.

29 And they pitched one ouer against the other seuen daies, and in the seuenth day the battell was ioyned: and the children of Israel slew of Aramites an hundred and threescore thousand footemen in one day.

30 But the rest fled to Aphek into the citie: and there fell a wall vpon seuen & twenty thousand men that were left: and Ben-hadad fled into the citie, and came into a secret chamber.

31 And his seruants said vnto him, Behold now, we haue heard say, that the kings of the house of Israel are merciful kings: we pray thee, let vs put sackcloth about our loines, and ropes about our heads, and goe out to the king of Israel: it may be that hee will saue thy life.

32 Then they girded sackcloth about their loines, & put ropes about their heads, and came to the king of Israel, and saide, Thy seruant Ben-hadad saith, I pray thee, let mee liue: and hee said, Is he yet aliu? he is my brother.

33 Now the men tooke diligent heede, if they could catch any thing of him, and made halfe, and said, Thy brother Ben-hadad. And he sayd, So bring him. So Ben-hadad came out vnto him, and hee caused him to come vp vnto the charret.

34 And Ben-hadad sayd vnto him, The cities which my father tooke from thy father, I will restore, and thou shalt make altars for thee in Damascus, as my father did in Samaria, Then sayd Ahab, I will let thee goe with thy covenant. So hee made a covenant with him, and let him goe.

35 Then a certaine man of the children of the Prophets sayd vnto his neighbour by the commandement of the Lord, I smite me, I pray thee. But the man refused to smite him.

36 Then sayd hee vnto him, Because thou hast not obeyed the voyce of the Lord, behold, as soone as thou art departed from me, a Lion shall slay thee. So when hee was departed from him, a Lion found him, and slew him.

38 So the Prophet departed, and waited for the king by the way, and disguised himselfe with ashes upon his face.

39 And when the King came by, he cried vnto the king, and sayd, Thy seruant went into the mids of the battell: & behold, there went away a man, whome another man broughe vnto me and said, keepe this man; if he be lost, and want, thy life shall goe for his life, or els thou shalt pay a talent of siluer.

40 And as thy seruant had here & there to doe, hee was gone: and the King of Israel sayd vnto him, So shall thy iudgement be: thou hast giuen sentence.

41 And hee halted, and tooke the ashes away from his face: and the king of Israel knew him that he was of the Prophets:

42 And he said vnto him, Thus saith the Lord, * Because thou hast let goe out of thine hands a man whom I appointed to die, thy life shall goe for his life, and thy people for his people.

43 And the King of Israel went to his house heauy and in displeasure, and came to Samaria.

CHAP. XXI.

8 Iezebel commandeth to kill Naboth, for the vineyard that he refused to sell to Ahab, 19 Eliab reproveth Ahab, and he repenteth.

After these things Naboth the Izzreelite had a vineyard in Izzreel, hard by the palace of Ahab king of Samaria.

2 And Ahab spake vnto Naboth, saying, Giue mee thy vineyard, that I may make me a garden of herbes thereof, because it is neere by mine house: and I will giue thee for it a better vineyard then it is: or if it please thee, I will giue thee the worth of it in money.

3 And Naboth said to Ahab, The Lord keepe me from giuing the inheritance of my fathers vnto thee.

4 Then Ahab came into his house heauie and in displeasure, because of the word which Naboth the Izzreelite had spoken vnto him, for he had sayd, I will not giue thee the inheritance of my fathers, and hee lay vpon his bed & turned his face, and would eate no bread.

5 Then Iezebel his wife came to him, and sayd vnto him, Why is thy spirit so sad, that thou eatest no bread?

6 And he sayd vnto her, Because I spake vnto Naboth the Izzreelite, and sayd vnto him, Giue me thy vineyard for money, or if it please thee, I will giue thee another vineyard for it: but he answered, I will not giue thee my vineyard.

7 Then Iezebel his wife said vnto him, Doe it thou now: governe the kingdom of Israel: vp, eate bread, and & bee of good cheere, I will giue thee the vineyard of Naboth the Izzreelite.

8 So she wrote letters in Ahabs name, and sealed them with his seale, and sent the letters vnto the Elders, & to the nobles that were in his citie dwelling wth Naboth.

9 And shee wrote in the letters, saying, Proclaime a fast, and let Naboth among the chiefe of the people,

10 And let two wicked men befoze him, and let them witness against him, saying, Thou didst blaspheme God and the King: then carie him out, and stone him that hee may die.

11 And the men of his citie, euen the Elders and Gouvernours, which dwelt in his citie, did as Iezebel had sent vnto them: as it was written in the letters which shee had sent vnto them.

12 They proclaimed a fast, and let Naboth among the chiefe of the people, 13 And there came two wicked men, and sate befoze him: and the wicked men witnessed against Naboth in the presence of the people, saying, Naboth did & blaspheme God and the King. Then they caried him away out of the citie, and stoned him wth stones, that hee died.

14 Then they sent to Iezebel, saying, Naboth is stoned and is dead.

15 And when Iezebel heard that Naboth was stoned and was dead, Iezebel said to Ahab, Up, & take possession of the vineyard of Naboth the Izzreelite, which hee refused to giue thee for money: for Naboth is not alive, but is dead.

16 And when Ahab heard that Naboth was dead, he arose to goe downe to the vineyard of Naboth the Izzreelite, to take possession of it.

17 And the word of the Lord came vnto Eliab the Tishbite, saying,

18 Arise, goe downe to meete Ahab king of Israel, which is in Samaria: loe, hee is in the vineyard of Naboth, whither he is gone downe to take possession of it.

19 Therefore shalt thou say vnto him, Thus saith the Lord, Hast thou killed, and also gotten possession: And thou shalt speake vnto him, saying, Thus saith the Lord, In the place where dogges licked the blood of Naboth, shall dogges lick euen thy blood also.

20 And Ahab sayd to Eliab, Hast thou found mee, O mine enemy? And he answered, I haue found thee: for thou hast sold thy selfe to worke wickednesse in the sight of the Lord.

21 Behold, I will bring euill vpon thee, and will take away thy posteritie, and will cut off from Ahab him that * pisseth against the wall, as well him that is * shut vp, as him that is left in Israel, 22 And I will make thine house like the house of * Jeroboam the sonne of Nebat, and like the house of * Baasha the sonne of Ahiah, for the pronocation wherewith thou hast provoked, and made Israel to sinne.

23 And also of Iezebel spake the Lord, saying, * The dogs shall eate Iezebel by the wall of Izzreel.

24 The dogges shall eate him of Ahabs Rocks, that dieth in the citie: and him that dieth in the fields, shall the fowles of the aire eate.

d For then they vied to enquire of mens faults: for none could fast truly that were notorious sinners.

e Thus the worldlings contrary to Gods commandement, who willect not to confesse to the shedding of innocent blood, obey rather the wicked commandements of Princes, then the iust lawes of God.

3 (Then the king of Israel said vnto his seruants, Know ye not that Ramoth Gilead was ours? and we stay, and take it not out of the hand of the king of Aram?)
 4 And he said vnto Iehoshaphat, Will thou goe with me to battell against Ramoth Gilead? And Iehoshaphat sayd vnto the king of Israel, I am as thou art, my people as thy people, and mine hostes as thine hostes.

5 Then Iehoshaphat said vnto the king of Israel, Alike counsell, I pray thee, of the Lord to day.
 6 Then the king of Israel gathered the prophets vpon a foure hundred men, and said vnto them, Shall I go against Ramoth Gilead to battel, or shall I let it alone? And they said, Goe vp: for the Lord shall deliuer it into the hands of the king.

7 And Iehoshaphat sayd, Is there here neuer a Prophet of the Lord more, that we might inquire of him?
 8 And the king of Israel sayd vnto Iehoshaphat, There is yet one man (Michaiah the sonne of Imlah) by whom we may aske counsell of the Lord, but I hate him: for he doth not prophesse good vnto mee, but euill. And Iehoshaphat sayd, Let not the king say so.

9 Then the King of Israel called an i Cunnuch, and said, Call quickly Michaiah the sonne of Imlah.
 10 And the king of Israel and Iehoshaphat the king of Iudah satte either of them

12 And all the Prophets prophesied so, saying, Goe vp to Ramoth Gilead, and prosper: for the Lord shall deliuer it into the kings hand.
 13 ¶ And the messenger that was gone to call Michaiah, spake vnto him, saying, Beholde now, the wordes of the Prophets declare good vnto the king with one accord: let thy word therefore, I pray thee, bee like the word of one of them, and speake thou good.

14 And Michaiah said, As the Lord lieth, whatsoeuer the Lord saith vnto mee, that will I speake.

16 And the king said vnto him, How oft shall I charge thee that thou tell me nothing but that which is true in the name of the Lord?
 17 Then he said, I saw all Israel scattered vpon the mountaines, as sheep that had no shepheard. And the Lord sayd, These haue no matter, let euery man returne vnto his house in peace.

18 (And the king of Israel said vnto Iehoshaphat, Did I not tel thee, that he would prophetic no good vnto mee, but euill?)
 19 Again he said, Heare thou therefore the word of the Lord. I saw the Lord sit on his throne, and all the host of heauen stood about him on his right hand, and on his left hand.

20 And the Lord said, (Who shall entice Ahab that hee may goe and fall at Ramoth Gilead? And one sayd on this maner, and another sayd on that maner.
 21 Then there came fourth a spirit, and stood before the Lord, and said, I wil entice him. And the Lord sayd vnto him, Where with?

22 And hee said, I will goe out, and be a false spirit in the mouth of all his prophets. Then he sayd, Thou shalt entice him, and shalt also preuaile: goe fourth, and do so.
 23 Now therefore behold, the Lord hath put a lying spirit in the mouth of all these thy prophets, and the Lord hath appointed euill against thee.

24 Then Zidkiiah the sonne of Chenaanah came neere, and smote Michaiah on the cheeke, and sayd, ¶ When went the Spirit of the Lord from mee, to speake vnto thee?

1 The true Prophets of God were accustomed to vse signes for the confirmation of their doctrine, IIa. 20. 2. ## ¶ The second booke of the Kings.

THE ARGUMENT.

THIS second booke containeth the actes of the Kings of Iudah and Israel: to wit, of Israel, from the death of Ahab vnto the last king Hoshea, who was imprisoned by the King of Assyria, & his citie Samaria taken, & the ten tribes by the iust plague of God for their idolatry and disobedience to God, led into captivity. And also of Iudah, from the reigne of Iehoram son of Iehoshaphat vnto Zedechia, who for contemning the Lords comandement by his Prophets, & neglecting his sundry admonitions by famine and other meanes, was taken by his enemies, saw his sonnes most cruelly slaine before his face and his owne eyes put out, as the Lord had declared to him before by his Prophet Ieremy: & also by the iust vengeance of God for contempt of his Word Ierusalem was destroyed, the Temple burnt, & hee and all his e Not onely at Beth-el, but at Iericho, and other places were there prophets which had scholars, whom they instructed, and brought vp in the true feare of God.

f To wit, of Iordan.

g Let thy spirit haue double force in me, because of these dangerous times: or let me haue twice so much as the rest of the Prophets: or thy Spirit being diuided into three parts, let me haue two.

Eccles. 48. 9. 1. mzc. 2. 58.
h Thus God hath left a testimony in all ages (both before the Law, in the Law, and in the time of our redemption).

i The spirit of prophesie is giuen to him as it was to Elijah.

k Meaning Elijah: for they thought his body had bene cast in some mountaine.

l Because the fact was extraordinary, they doubted where he was become, but Elisha was assured that he was taken vp to God.
m Or, killeth the inhabitants.

5 And the children of the Prophets that were at Iericho, came to Elisha, and sayd vnto him, Knowell thou that the Lord will take thy master from thine head this day: and he sayd, Yea, I know it: hold ye your peace.

6 Moreover, Eliah said vnto him, Carry, I pray thee, here: for the Lord hath sent me to Jordan. But he said, As the Lord liueth, and as thy soule liueth, I will not leaue thee. So they went both together.

7 And litte men of the sonnes of the Prophets went, and stood on the other side afaire off, and they two stood by Jordan.

8 ¶ Then Eliah tooke his cloake, and wpat it together, and snote the waters and they were diuided hither and thither, and they twaine went ouer on the dry land.

9 Now when they were passed ouer, Eliah said vnto Elsha, Like what I shall do for thee before I be taken from thee. And Elsha said, I pray thee, Let thy Spirit be double vpon me.

10 And he said, Thou hast asked an hard thing: yet if thou see mee when I am taken from thee, thou shalt haue it to: and if not, it shall not be.

11 And as they went walking and talking, behold, there appeared a charet of fire, and hoyses of fire, and did separate them twaine. * So Eliah went vp by a whirle-winde into <sup>h</sup> heauen.

12 And Elsha saw it, and hee cried, My father, my father, the charet of Israel, and the hoysen thereof: and hee sawe him no more: and hee tooke his owne clothes, and rent them in two pieces.

13 ¶ Hee tooke vp also the cloake of Eliah that fell from him, and returned, and stood by the banke of Jordan.

14 After hee tooke the cloake of Eliah, that fell from him, and snote the waters, and said, Where is the Lord God of Eliah? And so he also, after he had striken the waters, so that they were diuided this way and that way, went ouer, euen Elsha.

15 And when the children of the Prophets, which were at Iericho, saw him on the other side, they sayd, i The spirit of Eliah doeth rest on Elsha: and they came to meete him, and fell to the ground before him,

16 And said vnto him, Behold now, there bee with thy seruants litte strong men: let them goe, we pray thee, and seeke thy master, if so be the Spirit of the Lord hath taken him vp, and call him vpon some mountaine, or into some valley. But he said, i Pee shall not find.

17 Yet they were instant vpon him, til hee was ashamed: wherefore hee said, Send. So they sent litte men, which sought thre dayes, but found him not.

18 Therefore they returned to him, (for hee taried at Iericho) and hee said vnto them, Did not I say vnto you, See not?

19 ¶ And the men of the citie sayd vnto Elsha, Behold, wee pray thee: the situation of this city is pleasant, as thou, my lord, seest, but the water is naught, & the ground barren.

20 Then he said, Bring me a new cruse, and put salt therein. And they brought it to him.

21 And hee went vnto the spring of the waters, and cast there = the salt, and sayd, Thus saith the Lord, I haue healed this water: death shall no more come thereof, neither barrenesse to the ground.

22 So the waters were healed vntill this day, according to the word of Elsha which he had spoken.

23 ¶ And hee went by from thence vnto Beth-el. And as hee was going by the way, litte children came out of the city, and mocked him, and sayd vnto him, Come up, thou bald head, come vp, thou bald head.

24 And hee turned backe, and looked on them, and = cursed them in the name of the Lord. And two beaues came out of the forest, and tare in pieces two and fourtie children of them.

25 So hee went from thence to mount Carmel, and from thence hee returned to Samaria.

C. H. A. P. III.

i The reigne of Iehoram. 6. He and Iehoshaphat goe to warre against Moab, which rebelled.

13 Elsha reprooueth him, 17 And giueth them holste water. 24 The Moabites are overcome. 27 Their King sacrificeth his soone.

NOW Iehoram the sonne of Ahab began to reigne ouer Israel in Samaria, the eighteenth yeere of Iehoshaphat King of Iudah, and reigned twelue yeeres.

2 And he wrought euil in the sight of the Lord, but not like his father nor like his mother: for hee tooke away the image of Baal that his father had made.

3 ¶ Nevertheless, hee cleaued vnto = the sinnes of Ieroboam, the sonne of Nebat, which made Israel to sinne, and departed not therefrom.

4 ¶ Then: Mesha King of Moab had stole of sheepe, and tendered vnto the King of Israel an hundredeth thousand lambes, and an hundredeth thousand rammes with the wooll.

5 But when Ahab was dead, the king of Moab rebelled against the King of Israel.

6 Therefore: king Iehoram went out of Samaria the same season, and numbred all Israel,

7 And went, and sent to Iehoshaphat King of Iudah, saying, The king of Moab hath rebelled against me: wilt thou go with me to battell against Moab? and he answered, I will goe vp: for I am, as thou art, my people, as thy people, and mine hoyses as thine hoyses.

8 Then sayd he, What way shall we goe by? And he answered, The way of the wilderness of Edom.

9 ¶ So went the king of Israel and the king of Iudah, and the king of Edom, and when they had compassed the way seuen dayes, they had no water for the hoys, nor for the cattell that = followed them.

11 But Iehoshaphat said, Is there not here a Prophet of the Lord, that we may enquire of the Lord by him? and one of the king of Israels seruants answered, and said, Here is Elisha the sonne of Shaphat, which f powred water on the handes of Gehazi.

12 Then Iehoshaphat sayd, e The word of the Lord is with him. Therefore the king of Israel, and Iehoshaphat, and the king of Edom went downe to him.

13 And Elisha sayd vnto the king of Israel, What haue I to doe with thee? get thee to the prophets of thy father, and to the prophets of thy mother. And the king of Israel sayd vnto him, Nay: for the Lord hath called these three kings, to giue them into the hand of Moab.

14 Then Elisha sayd, As the Lord of hostes liueth, in whose sight I stand, if it were not that I regard the presence of Iehoshaphat the king of Iudah, I would k not haue looked toward thee, nor seen thee.

15 But now bring mee a minstrell. And when the minstrell l played, the hand of the Lord came vnto him.

16 And he sayd, Thus sayth the Lord, Make this valley full of ditches.

17 For thus sayth the Lord, Ye shall neither see warre, nor see famine, yet the valley shall be filled with water, that ye may drinke, both ye and your cattell, and your beasts.

18 But this is a m small thing in the sight of the Lord: for he wil giue Moab into your hand.

19 And ye shall finde every strong towne and euery chiefe cite, and shall fell euery faire tree, and shall stop all the fountaines of water, and n marre every good field with stones.

20 And in the morning when the meate offering was offered, behold, there came water by the way of Edom: and the countrey was filled with water.

21 And when all the Moabites heard that the kings were come vp to fight against them, they gathered all that was able t to put on harness, and vnto the top of their border, 22 And when they arose early in the morning when the Sunne arose vpon the water, and the Moabites saw the water ouer against them, as red as blood.

23 And they sayd, o This is blood: the kings are surely slaine, and one hath smitten another: now therefore Moab to the spoile.

24 And when they came to the boyle of Israel, the Israelites arose by, and smote the Moabites, so that they fled before them, but they p persuaded them, and smote Moab.

25 And they destroyed the cities: and on all the good field euery man cast his stone, and filled them, and they stopp all the fountaines of water, & felled all the good trees: onely in q Kir-harasheth left they the stones thereof: howbeit they went about it with slings, and smote it.

26 And when the king of Moab saw that the battell was too sore for him, hee tooke with him seven hundred men that drew the sword to breake through vnto the King of Edom: but they cou'd not.

27 Then hee tooke his eldest sonne, that should haue reigned in his stead, and offered him for a burnt offering vpon the wall: so that Israel was sore grieved, and they departed from him, and returned to their countrey.

CHAP. IIII.

4 God increaseth the oyle to the poore widow by Elisha. 12 He obtaineth for the Shunammite a fox at Gods hand. 18 Who dying, 32 Hee rayseth him vp againe. 40 Hee maketh sweet the pasture, 42 And multiplieth the loaves.

A And one of the wiuces a of the sonnes of the Prophets cried vnto Elisha, saying, Thy seruant mine husband is dead, & thou knowest that thy seruant did b feare the Lord: and the creditor is come to take my two sonnes to be his c bondmen.

2 Then Elisha said vnto her, What shall I do for thee? tel me, what hast thou at home? And shee sayd, Thine handmaid hath nothing at home, save a d picher of oyle.

3 And he sayd, Go and borrow thee vessels abroad of all thy neighbours, empty vessels, and spare not.

4 And when thou art come in, thou shalt shut the doore vpon thee & vpon thy sonnes, and poure out into e at those vessels, and set aside those that are full.

5 So she departed from him, and shut the doore vpon her, and vpon her sonnes. And they brought to her, and she poured out.

6 And when the vessels were full, she said vnto her sonne, Bring me yet a vessel. And he said vnto her, There are no moe vessels. And the oyle f ceased.

7 Then she came & told the man of God. And he sayd, Goe, and sell the oyle, and pay them that thou art in debt vnto, and liue thou and thy children of the rest.

8 And on a time Elisha came to Shunem, and there a woman of great estimation constrained him to eate bread: and as hee passed by, hee turned in thither to eate bread.

9 And shee said vnto her husband, Behold, I know now, that this is an holy man of God that passeth by vs continually.

10 Let vs make h him a little chamber, I pray thee, with walles, and let vs set him there a bed, and a table, and a stoole, and a candlestick, that hee may turne in thither when hee cometh to vs.

11 And on a day hee came thither, and turned into the chamber, and lay therein.

12 And sayd to Gehazi his seruant, Call this Shunammite: and when hee called her, she stood before him.

13 Then hee sayd vnto him, Say vnto her now, Beholde, thou hast had all this great care for vs, i what shall we doe for thee? Is there any thing to bee spoken for thee to the King, or to the Captaine

b And therefore fell nor into debt by vnchristianesse or prodigality, but by the hand of the Lord.

c Because I am poore and not able to pay.

d Thus God suffereth his, many times: o bec brought to extreme needesse, before he succore them, that afterward they may the more praise his mercy.

e The Prophet declareth hereby vnto her, that God neuer sayleth to prouide for his seruants, their wiuces and children, if they trust in him.

f To augment and increase in the vessels.

g God here did not only prouide for his seruant, that his debt should bee payd, and so kept his doctrine and profession without slander, but also for his wife and children.

h Which should be separate from the rest of the house, that hee might more commodiously giue himselfe to studie and prayers.

i Thus the seruants of God are not vnthankfull for the benefits they receiue.

k I am content with that that God hath sent me, and can want nothing that one can doe for another.

of the hoste? And she answered, I dwell among mine owne people.

14 Again hee layd, What is then to be done for her? Then Gehazi answered, In deed she hath no sonne, and her husband is old.

15 Then said he, Call her. And he called her, and the hood in the doore.

16 And hee said, At this time appointed, according to the time of life, thou shalt embrace a son. And she said, Ob my lord, thou man of God, doe not lie vnto thine handmaid.

17 So the woman conceived, and bare a sonne at that same season, according to the time of life that Elisha had said vnto her.

18 And when the child was grown, it fell on a day, that he went out to his father, and to the reapers.

19 And hee laid to his father, Mine head, mine head. Altho layd to his seruant, Beare him to his mother.

20 And hee tooke him, and brought him to his mother, and hee sate on her knees till noone, and died.

21 Then shee went by, and layd him on the bed of the man of God, & shut the doore vpon him and went out.

22 Then shee called to her husband, and sayd, Send with mee, I pray thee, one of the young men, and one of the asses: for I will haste to the man of God, and come againe.

23 And hee sayd, Therefore wilt thou go to him to day? it is neither new Moone nor Sabbath day. And shee answered, All shall be well.

24 Then shee saddled an asse, and layd to her seruant, Dine, and goe forward: I say not for me to get by except I bid thee.

25 So shee went, and came vnto the man of God to mount Carmel. And when the man of God saw her, he ouer against him, he sayd to Gehazi his seruant, Beholde the Shunammite.

26 Runne now, I say, to mee, and say vnto her, Art thou in health? is thine husband in health? and is the child in health? And she answered, We are in health.

27 And when shee came to the man of God vnto the mountaine, she caught him by his feet: and Gehazi went to her, to thrust her away: but the man of God sayd, Let her alone: for her soule is vexed within her, and the Lord hath hid it from me, and hath not told it me.

28 Then shee said, Did I desire a sonne of my lord? Did I not say, Deceiue me not?

29 Then hee sayd to Gehazi, Giue thy loynes, & take my staffe in thine hand, & goe thy way: If thou meet any, salute him not: and if any salute thee, answere him not: and lay my staffe vpon the face of the child.

30 And the mother of the child sayd, As the Lord liueth, and as thy soule liueth, I will not leave thee. Therefore he arose, and followed her.

31 But Gehazi was gone before them, and had laid the staffe vpon the face of the child, but hee neither spake nor heard: wherefore he returned to mee, and told him, saying, The child is not waken.

32 Then came Elisha into the house, and behold, the child was dead, and layd vpon his bed.

33 Hee went in therefore, and shut the doore vpon them twaine, and prayd vnto the Lord.

34 After he went by, and lay vpon the child, and put his mouth on his mouth, and his eyes vpon his eyes, and his handes vpon his handes, and stretched himselfe vpon him, and the flesh of the child waxed warme.

35 And he went from him, and walked by and downe in the house, & went by & layd himselfe vpon him: then the childe neede seuen times, and opened his eyes.

36 Then hee called Gehazi, and said, Call this Shunammite. So hee called her, which came in vnto him. And hee sayd vnto her, Take thy sonne.

37 And shee came and fell at his feet, and bowed herselfe to the ground, and tooke vp her sonne, and went out.

38 Afterward Elisha returned to Gilgal, and a famine was in the land, and the children of the Prophets dwelt with him. And hee layd vnto his seruant, Set on the great pot, and sethe portage for the children of the Prophets.

39 And one went out into the field to gather herbs, and found, as it were, a wild vine, and gathered thereof wild gourds his garment full, and came and layd them into the pot of portage: for they knew it not.

40 So they powred out for the men to eate: and when they did eate of the portage, they cried out, & said, O thou man of God, death is in the pot, and they could not eate thereof.

41 Then hee said, Bring meale. And hee cast it into the pot, and said, Powre out for the people, that they may eate: and there was none euill in the pot.

42 Then came a man from Baalshalisha, and brought the man of God bread of the first fruits, euen twenty loaves of barley, and full eares of come in the hulke. And hee sayd, Giue vnto the people, that they may eate.

43 And his seruant answered, How should I set this before an hundred men? Hee said againe, Giue it vnto the people, that they may eate: for thus saith the Lord, They shall eate, and there shall remaine.

44 So hee let it before them, and they did eate, and left ouer according to the word of the Lord.

CHAP. V.

1 Naaman the Syrian is healed of his leprosie. 16 Elisha resuseth his gifts. 27 Gehazi is stricken with leprosie, because hee tooke money, & raiment of Naaman.

Now was there one Naaman captaine of the hoste of the king of Aram, a great man and honorable in the sight of his lord, because that by him the Lord had deliuered the Aramites. Hee also was a mighty man and valiant, but a leper.

2 And the Aramites had gone out by hand, hands, and had taken a little maide of the land of Israel, and shee serued Naamans wife.

3 And she said vnto her mistresse, Would God my lord were with the Prophet that is in Samaria, he would soone deliuer him of his leprosie.

4 And hee went in, and tolde his lord, saying, Thus and thus saith the maide that is of the land of Israel.

5 And the King of Aram said, See thy way thither, and I will send a letter vnto the king of Israel. And hee departed, and tooke with him ten talents of siluer, and six thousand pieces of gold, and ten change of raiments,

6 And brought the letter to the King of Israel to this effect, Now when this letter is come vnto thee, vnderstand, that I haue sent thee Naaman my seruauit, that thou mayest heale him of his leprosie.

7 And when the King of Israel had read the letter, he rent his clothes, and said, Am I God, to kill and to giue life, that hee doeth send to me, that I should heale a man from his leprosie? Wherefore consider, I pray you, and see how hee seeketh a quarell against me.

8 But when Elisha the man of God had heard that the King of Israel had rent his clothes, hee sent vnto the King, saying, Wherefore hast thou rent thy clothes? Let him come now to mee, and hee shall know, that there is a Prophet in Israel.

9 Then Naaman came with his horses, and with his charrets, and stood at the doore of the house of Elisha.

10 And Elisha sent a messenger vnto him, saying, See, and wash thee in Iordan seven times, and thy flesh shall come againe to thee, and thou shalt be cleansed.

11 But Naaman was wroth, and went away, and saide, Beholde, I thought with my selfe, he will surely come out, and stand, and call on the name of the Lord his God, and put his hand on the place, and heale the leprosie.

12 Are not Abanah and Pharpar, riuers of Damascus, better then all the waters of Israel: may I not wash me in them, and bee cleansed? so hee turned, and departed in displeasure.

13 But his seruants came, and spake vnto him, and said, e Father, if the Prophet had commanded thee a great thing, wouldest thou not haue done it? how much rather then when hee saith to thee, Wash, and bee cleane?

14 Then went hee downe and washed himselfe seven times in Iordan, according to the saying of the man of God, and his flesh came againe, like vnto the flesh of a little child, and he was cleane.

15 And hee turned againe to the man of God, he, and all his companie, and came and stood before him, and said, Behold, now I know that there is no God in all the world, but in Israel: now therefore, I pray thee, take a reward of thy seruant.

16 But hee said, As the Lord liueth (before whome I stand) I will not receiue it.

And hee would haue constrained him to receiue it, but hee refused.

17 Moreover, Naaman said, Shall there not be giuen to thy seruant two mules load of this earth? for thy seruant will henceforth offer neither burnt sacrifice, nor offering vnto any other god, saue vnto the Lord.

18 Herein the Lord be mercifull vnto thy seruant, that when my master goeth into the house of Rimmon, to worship there, and leaneth on mine hand, and I bowe my selfe in the house of Rimmon: when I doe bowe downe, I say, in the house of Rimmon, the Lord be mercifull vnto thy seruant in this point.

19 Unto whom hee said, See in peace. So hee departed from him about halfe a dayes iourney of ground.

20 And Gehazi the seruant of Elisha the man of God said, Behold, my master hath spared this Aamite Naaman, receiuing not those things at his hand that hee brought: as the Lord liueth, I will runne after him, and take somewhat of him.

21 So Gehazi followed speedily after Naaman. And when Naaman sawe him running after him, hee light downe from the charet to meet him, and said, Is all well?

22 And he answered, All is well: my master hath sent me, saying, Behold, there be come to me, euen now from mount Ephraim two young men of the children of the Prophets: giue them, I pray thee, a talent of siluer, and two change of garments.

23 And Naaman sayde, Yea, take two talents: and hee compelled him, and bound two talents of siluer in two bagges, with two change of garments, and gave them vnto two of his seruants, that they might beare them before him.

24 And when he came to the towne, hee tooke them out of their hands, and laide them in the house, and sent away the men: and they departed.

25 Then hee went in, and stood before his master. And Elisha sayde vnto him, Whence comest thou, Gehazi? And hee said, Thy seruant went no whither.

26 But hee said vnto him, Went not mine heart with thee when the man turned againe from his charet to meete thee? Is this a time to take money, and to receiue garments, and oiles, and vineyards, and sheepe, and oxen, and men seruants, and maide seruants?

27 The leprosie therfore of Naaman shall cleaue vnto thee, and p to thy seede for euer. And hee went out from his presence a leper white as snow.

2. Chr. 3. 2. 7. h That he may behold how thou hast prepared an armie to rescue vs.

i Meaning the Syrians his enemies, which came downe thinking themselves sure of him.

k Thus he did being led by the Spirit of God, and not because he sought his owne reuengance, but onely to set forth the glory of God.

2 Let vs now goe to Iordan, that wee may take thence enery man a beame, and make vs a place to dwell in. And he answered, See.

3 And one saith, Touchsafe, I pray thee, to goe with thy seruants: and he answered, I will goe.

4 So he went with them, and when they came to Iordan, they cut downe wood.

5 And as one was felling of a tree, the yron fell into the water: then he cried, and said, Alas, master, it was then borrowed.

6 And the man of God said, Where fell it? And he shewed him the place. Then hee cut downe a piece of wood, and cast in thither, and he caused the yron to be swimme.

7 Then he said, Take it by to thee. And he stretched out his hand, and tooke it.

8 ¶ Then the king of Aram warred against Israel, and tooke counsell with his seruants, and said, In such and such a place shall be my campe.

9 Therefore the man of God sent vnto the king of Israel, saying, Beware thou goe not ouer to such a place: for there the Aramites are come downe.

10 So the king of Israel sent to the place which the man of God told him, and warned him of, & saved himselfe from thence, not once, nor twice.

11 And the heart of the king of Aram was troubled for this thing: therefore hee called his seruants, and said vnto them, Will yeer not shew mee, which of vs bewrayeth our counsell to the king of Israel?

12 Then one of his seruants said, None, my lord, & King, but Elisha the Prophet that is in Israel, telleth the king of Israel, euen the words that thou speakest in thy private chamber.

13 And he said, See, and spie where hee is, that I may send and fetch him. And one told him, saying, Behold, he is in Dothan.

14 ¶ So hee lent thither horses and charrets, and a mightie hoste: and they came by night, and compassed the citie.

15 And when the seruant of the man of God aroise early to goe out, behold, an hoste compassed the citie with horses and charrets. Then his seruant said vnto him, Alas, master, how shall we doe?

16 And hee answered, Feare not: for they that be with vs, are moe then they that be with them.

17 Then Elisha prayed and said, Lord, I beseech thee, open his eyes, that hee may see. And the Lord opened the eyes of the seruant, and hee looked, and behold, the mountaine was full of horses and charrets of fire round about Elisha.

18 So they came downe to him: but Elisha prayed vnto the Lord, and said, Smite this people, I pray thee, with blindness. And hee smote them with blindness, according to the word of Elisha.

19 And Elisha said vnto them, This is not the way, neither is this the citie: follow mee, and I will leade you to the man whom ye seeke. But hee led them to Samaria.

20 And when they were come to Samaria, Elisha said, Lord, open their eyes, that they may see. And the Lord opened their eyes, and they saw, and behold, they were in the mids of Samaria.

21 And the king of Israel said vnto Elisha when he saw them, My father, shall I smite them, shall I smite them?

22 And hee answered, Thou shalt not smite them: dost thou not smite them that thou hast taken with thy sword, and with thy bowe? but set bread and water before them, that they may eat and drinke, and go to their master.

23 And hee made great preparation for them: and when they had eaten, and drunken, hee sent them away: and they went to their master. So the bands of Aram came no more into the land of Israel.

24 But afterward Ben-hadad King of Aram gathered all his hoste, and went up, and besieged Samaria.

25 So there was a great famine in Samaria: for loe, they besieged it, vntill an asses head was at foure score pieces of siluer, and the fourth part of a cab of dones was at five pieces of siluer.

26 And as the king of Israel was going vpon the wall, there cried a woman vnto him, saying, Welp, my lord, & king.

27 And he said, seeing the Lord doth not succour thee, how should I helpe thee with the barn, or with the winepress?

28 Also the king said vnto her, What aileth thee? And she answered, This woman said vnto mee, Giue thy sonne, that we may eate him to day, and wee will eate my sonne to morrow.

29 ¶ So wee sod my sonne, and did eate him: and I said to her the day after, Giue thy sonne, that we may eate him, but she hath hid her sonne.

30 And when the King had heard the words of the woman, hee rent his clothes, (and as hee went vpon the wall, the people looked, and behold, he had lackeloch with him vpon his flesh.)

31 And he said, God doe so to me and more also, if the head of Elisha the sonne of Shaphat shall stand on him this day.

32 ¶ Now Elisha sate in his house, and the Elders sate with him. And the king sent a man before him: but before the messenger came to him, hee said to the Elders, See yeer not how this murderer's sonne hath lent to take away mine head? take heede when the messenger cometh, and shut the doore, and handle him roughly at the doore: is not the sound of his mallets teete behind him?

33 While hee yet talked with them, behold, the messenger came downe vnto him, and sayde, Behold, this euill cometh of the Lord: should I attend on the Lord any longer?

Then Elsha sayd, Heare ye the word of the Lord: thus sayth the Lord, To morow this time a measure of fine flour shall be sold for a shekel, and two measures of barley for a shekel in the gate of Samaria.

2 Then a prince on whole hand the king be leand, answered the man of God, and sayd, Though the Lord would make windowes in the heauen, could this thing come to passe? and he sayd, Behold, thou shalt see it with thine eyes, but thou shalt not eat thereof.

3 Howe there were four lepious men at the entering in of the gate: and they sayd one to another, Why sit wee here until wee die?

4 If we say, we will enter into the citie, the famine is in the citie, and wee shall die there: and if we sit here, we die also. Howe therefore come, and let vs fall into the campe of the Aramites: if they saue our liues, wee shall liue: and if they kill vs, wee are but dead.

5 So they rose vp in the twilight, to goe to the campe of the Aramites: and when they were come to the vtmost part of the campe of the Aramites, loe, there was no man there.

6 For the Lord had caused the campe of the Aramites to heare a noise of charrets, and a noise of horses, and a noise of a great armie, so that they sayd one to another, Behold, the king of Israel hath hired against vs the kings of the Hittites, and the kings of the Egyptians to come vpon vs.

7 Wherefore they arose and fled in the twilight, and left their tents, and their horses, and their asses, euenthe campe as it was and s fled for their liues.

8 And when these lepers came to the vtmost part of the campe, they entered into one tent, and did eate and drinke, and caried thence siluer and golde, and rayment, and went and hid it: after they returned, and entered into another tent, and caried thence also, and went and hid it,

9 Then said one to another, We doe not well: this day is a day of good tidings, and we hold our peace. If we tary till day light, some ill mischiefe will come vpon vs. Howe therefore come, let vs goe, and tell the kings houshold.

10 So they came, and called vnto the porters of the citie, and tolde them, saying, We came to the campe of the Aramites, and loe, there was no man there, neither voice of man, but horses tyed, and asses tyed: and the tents are as they were.

11 And the porters cried and declared to the kings houshold within.

12 Then the king arose in the night, and sayd vnto his seruants, If I will theue you now what the Aramites haue done vnto vs. They know that we are affamished, therefore they are gone out of the campe to hide themselves in the fieldes, saying, When they come out of the citie, we shall catch them a liue, and get into the citie.

13 And one of his seruants answered, and sayde, Let men take now fine of the horses that remaine and are left in the citie (behold, they are euen as all the multitude of Israel that are left therein: behold, I say, they are as the multitude of the Israelites that are consumed) and we will send to see.

14 So they took two charets of horses, and the king sene after the hoste of the Aramites, saying, Goe and see.

15 And they went after them vnto Jordan, and loe, all the way was full of clothes and vessels which the Aramites had cast from them in their haste: and the messengers returned, and told the king.

16 Then the people went out and spoyled the campe of the Aramites: so a measure of fine flour was at a shekel, and two measures of barley at a shekel according to the word of the Lord.

17 And the king gaue the Prince (on whole hand hee leand) the charge of the gate, and the people trode vpon him in the gate, and hee died, as the man of God had sayd, which spake it when the king came downe to him.

18 And it came to passe, as the man of God had spoken to the king, saying, Two measures of barley at a shekel, and a measure of fine flour shall be at a shekel, to morow about this time in the gate of Samaria.

19 But the prince had answered the man of God, and sayd, Though the Lord would make windowes in the heauen, could it come so to passe? And he sayd, Behold, thou shalt see it with thine eyes, but thou shalt not eate thereof.

20 And so it came vnto him: for the people trode vpon him in the gate, and he died.

1 Elsha propheseth vnto the Shunammite the dearch of seven yeere. 12 He propheseth to Hazael that hee shalbe king of Syria. 15 He reigneth after Ben-hadad. 16 Jehooram reigneth ouer Iudab. 20 Edom falleth from Iudab. 25 Ahaziah succedeth Jehooram.

Then spake Elsha vnto the woman, whose soune he had restored to life, saying, Up, and goe, thou and thine housle, and sojourn where thou canst sojourn: for the Lord hath called for a famine, and it cometh also vpon the land seven yeeres.

2 And the woman arose, and did after the saying of the man of God, and went both shee and her houshold, and sojourned in the land of the Philistims seven yeeres.

3 And at the seven yeeres end, the woman returned out of the land of the Philistims, and went out to call vpon the king for her housle and for her land.

4 And the king talked with Gehazi the seruant of the man of God, saying, Tell me, I pray thee, all the great actes that Elsha hath done.

5 And as hee told the king, how he had restored one dead to life, behold, the woman whose soune he had restored to life, called vpon the king for her housle and for her land. Then Gehazi said, My lord, O king, this is the woman, and this is her soune, whom Elsha restored to life.

c Gods wonderful providence appeareth in this, that he caused the king to be desirous to heare of him, whom before hee con- sidered, and also hereby prepared an entrance, to the poore widowes sake.

6 And when the King asked the woman, she tolde him: so the King appointed her an Eunuch, saying, Restore thou all that are hers, and all the fruits of her lands since the day she left the land, euen vntill this time.

7 ¶ Then Elisha came to Damascus, and Ben-hadad the King of Aram was sicke, and one told him, saying, The man of God is come hither.

8 And the king said vnto Hazael, Take a present in thine hand, and goe meete the man of God, that thou mayest inquire of the Lord by him, saying, Shall I recover of this disease?

9 ¶ So Hazael went to meete him, and tooke the present in his hand, and of euery good thing of Damascus, euen the burden of fortie camels, and came and stode before him, and said, Thy sonne Ben-hadad king of Aram hath sent me to thee, saying, Shall I recover of this disease?

10 And Elisha said to him, See, and say vnto him, Thou shalt recover: howbeit the Lord hath shewed me, that he shall surely die.

11 And he looked vpon him stedfastly till Hazael was ashamed, and the man of God wept.

12 And Hazael said, Why weepeth my lord? and he answered, Because I knowe the euill that thou shalt do vnto the children of Israel: for their strong cities shalt thou set on fire, and their yong men shalt thou slay with the sword, and shalt dash their infants against the stones, and rent in pieces their women with child.

13 Then Hazael said, What? is thy seruants a dogge, that I should doe this great thing? And Elisha answered, The Lord hath shewed me, that thou shalt be king of Aram.

14 ¶ So he departed from Elisha, and came to his master, who said to him, What said Elisha to thee? And he answered, He tolde me that thou shouldst recover.

15 And on the morowe he tooke a thicke cloth, and dypt it in water, and spreade it on his face, and he died: and Hazael reigned in his stead.

16 ¶ Now in the fiftie yeere of Ioram the sonne of Ahab king of Israel, and of Jehoshaphat King of Iudah, Iehozam the sonne of Jehoshaphat king of Iudah began to reigne.

17 Hee was two and thirtie yeere olde, when he began to reigne: and he reigned eight yeeres in Ierusalem.

18 And hee walked in the wayes of the kings of Israel, as did the house of Ahab: for the daughter of Ahab was his wife, and hee did euill in the sight of the Lord.

19 Yet the Lord would not destroy Iudah, for Dauid his seruants sake, as he had promised him to giue him a light and to his children for euer.

20 ¶ In those dayes Omri rebelled from vnder the hand of Iudah, and made a king ouer himselfes.

21 Therefore Ioram went to Zair, and all his charcets with him, and he arose by night, and smote the Edomites which were about him with the Captaines of the charcets, and the people fled into their tents.

22 So Edom rebelled from vnder the hand of Iudah vnto this day. Then Libnah rebelled at that same time.

23 Concerning the rest of the actes of Ioram, and all that hee did, are they not written in the booke of the Chronicles of the kings of Iudah?

24 And Ioram slept with his Fathers, and was buried with his Fathers in the cite of Dauid. And Ahaziah his sonne reigned in his stead.

25 ¶ In the twelfth yeere of Ioram the sonne of Ahab king of Israel, did Ahaziah the sonne of Iehozam king of Iudah begin to reigne.

26 ¶ Two and twentie yeere olde was Ahaziah when he began to reigne, and he reigned one yeere in Ierusalem, and his mothers name was Athaliah the daughter of Omri king of Israel.

27 And hee walked in the way of the house of Ahab, and did euill in the sight of the Lord, like the house of Ahab: for he was the sonne in law of the house of Ahab.

28 And he went with Ioram the sonne of Ahab to warre against Hazael king of Aram in Ramoth Gilead, and the Aramites smote Ioram.

29 And king Ioram returned to be healed in Izeel of the woundes which the Aramites had giuen him at Ramah, when he fought against Hazael King of Aram: and Ahaziah the sonne of Iehozam king of Iudah went downe to see Ioram the sonne of Ahab in Izeel, because he was sicke.

¶ Then Elisha the Propheet called one of the children of the Propheets, and said vnto him, ¶ Get thy loynes, and take this bore of oyle in thine hand, and get thee to Ramoth Gilead.

2 And when thou comest thither, looke where is Jehu the sonne of Jehoshaphat, the sonne of Nimshi, and goe and make him arise vp from among his brethren, and leade him to a secret chamber.

3 ¶ Then take the bore of oyle, and powre it on his head, and say, Thus saith the Lord, I haue anointed thee for king ouer Israel: then open the doore, and flee without any tarrying.

4 So the seruant of the Propheet gate him to Ramoth Gilead.

5 And when he came in, behold, the captaines of the armie were sitting. And he said, I haue a message to thee, O Captaine. And Jehu said, Unto which of vs? And he answered, To thee, O Captaine.

11 ¶ Then Iehu came out to the seruants of his lord. And one layd vnto him, Is all well? wherefore came this mad fellow to thee? And he said vnto them, We know the man, and what his talke was.

12 And they sayd, It is false, tell vs it now. Then he sayd, Thus and thus spake he to mee, saying, Thus sayth the Loide, I haue anointed thee for king ouer Izrael.

13 Then they made haste, and tooke euery man his garment, and put it vnder him on the top of the staires, and blew the trumpet, saying, Iehu is king.

14 So Iehu the sonne of Nechoabphat the sonne of Nimshi conspired against Ioram, (Now Ioram kept Ramoth Gilead, he and all Izrael, because of Hazael king of Aram.

15 And * king Ioram returned to be healed in Izreel of the wounds, which the Aramites had giuen him, when hee fought with Hazael king of Aram) and Iehu sayd, It is bee your mindes, let no man depart and escape out of the citie, to goe and tell in Izreel.

16 So Iehu gate vp into a charet, and went to Izreel: for Ioram lay there, and * Ahaziah king of Iudah was come downe to see Ioram.

17 And the watchman that stood in the towne in Izreel, spied the company of Iehu as he came, and sayde, I see a company. And Iehozam sayd, Take a holycarian, and send to meeete them, that hee may say, Is it peace?

18 So there went one on horsebacke to meeete him, and sayd, Thus sayth the king, Is it peace? And Iehu sayd, What hast thou to doe with peace? I eune behinde me. And the watchman tolde, saying, The messenger came to them, but hee commeth not againe.

19 Then hee sent out an other on horsebacke, which came to them, and sayd, Thus sayth the king, Is it peace? And Iehu answered, What hast thou to doe with peace? turne behind me.

20 And the watchman tolde, saying, Hee came to them also, but commeth not againe, and the marching is like the marching of Iehu the sonne of Nimshi: for hee marcheth furiously.

f As one that went carefully about his enterprise.

21 ¶ Then Iehozam sayd, Make ready: and his charet was made ready. And Iehozam king of Israel, and Ahaziah king of Iudah went out either of them in his charet against Iehu, and met him in the field of Naboth the Izeelite.

22 And when Iehozam saw Iehu, hee said, Is it peace Iehu? and hee answered, What s peace, whiles the whozedomes of thy mother Iezebel, and her witchcrafts are yet in great number?

23 Then Iehozam turned his hand, and fled, and layd to Ahaziah, Ahaziah, there is trealon.

24 But Iehu tooke a bowe in his hand, and smote Iehozam betwene the shoulders, that the arrow went thorow his heart: and he fell downe in his charet.

25 Then said Iehu to Bidkar a captain, Take and cast him in some place of the field of Naboth the Izeelite: for I remember that when I and thou rode together after Ahab his father, the Loide || laid this burden vpon him.

26 * Surely I haue scene yesterday the blood of Naboth, & the blood of his sonnes, sayd the Loide, and I will render it thee in this field, saith the Loide: now therefore take and cast him in the fildes, according to the word of the Loide.

27 But when Ahaziah the king of Iudah saw this, hee fled by the way of the garden house: and Iehu pursued after him, and slayd, smote him also in the charet: and they smote him in the going vp to Gur, which is by Ibleam. And he fled to Megiddo, and there died.

28 And his seruants caried him in a charet to Ierusalem, & buried him in his sepulchre with his fathers in the citie of Dauid.

29 ¶ And in the eleuenth yeere of Ioram the sonne of Ahab, began Ahaziah to reigne ouer Iudah.

30 And when Iehu was come to Izreel, Iezebel heard of it, and painted her face, and tyed her head, and looked out at a window.

31 And as Iehu entered at the gate, shee sayd, Had = Sunri peace, which slewe his master?

32 And hee lift vp his eyes to the window, and sayd, Who is on my side, who? Then two or thye of her Eunuches looked vnto him.

33 And he said, Cast her downe: and they cast her downe, * and hee sprinkled of her blood vpon the wall, and vpon the hozles, and he trode her vnder foote.

34 And when he was come in, hee did eate and drinke, and said, Willre now yonder cursed woman and bury her: for she is a kings daughter.

CHAP. X.

6 Iehu causeth the seventy sonnes of Ahab to be slaine, 14 and after that fortie and two of Ahaziahz brethren. 25 He killeth also all the Priests of Baal. 35 After his death his sonne reigneth in his stead.

Ahab had now seuentie sonnes in Samaria. And Iehu wrote letters, and sent to Samaria vnto the rulers of Izezel, and to the Elders, and to the bringers vp of Ahabs children, to this effect,

2 Now when this letter cometh to you, (so) yee haue with you your masters sonnes, yee haue with you boch charrets and howses, and a defenced citie, and armour)

3 Consider therefore which of your masters sonnes is best and most meete, and set him on his fathers throne, and fight for your masters house.

4 But they were exceedingly afraid, and sayd, Behold, two kings could not stand before him, how shall we then stand?

5 And hee that was gouernour of Ahabs house, and hee that ruled the citie, and the Elders, and the bringers vp of the children sent to Iehu, saying, Wee are thy seruants, and will doe all that thou shalt bid vs: wee will make no king: doe what seemeth good to thee.

6 Then hee wrote another letter to them, saying, If yee be mine, and will obey my voyce, take the heads of the men that are your masters sonnes, and come to me to Izezel by to morrow this time. (Now the Kings sonnes, euen seuentie persons, were with y great men of the citie, which brought them vp)

7 And when the letter came to them, they tooke the kings sonnes, and slew the seuentie persons, and laid their heads in baskets, and sent them vnto him to Izezel.

8 Then there came a messenger, and tolde him, saying, They haue brought the heads of the kings sonnes. And he said, Let them lay them on two heapes at the entering in of the gate vntill the morning.

9 And when it was day, he went out, and stood and sayd to all the people, We be righteous: behold, I conspired against my master, and slew him: but who slewe all these?

10 Know now that there shall fall vnto the earth nothing of the worde of the Lord, which the Lord spake concerning the house of Ahab: for the Lord hath brought to passe the things that hee spake by his seruant * Eliah, 11 So Iehu slew all that remained of the house of Ahab in Izezel, and all that were great with him, and his familiarz, and his priests, so that hee let none of his remaine.

12 And hee arose, and departed, and came to Samaria. And as Iehu was in the way by an house where the shepheards did there, 13 Hee met with the brethren of Ahaziah King of Iudah, and sayd, Who are yee? And they answered, Wee are the brethren of Ahaziah, and doe goe downe to salute the children of the King, and the children of the Queene.

14 And he sayd, Take them aline. And they tooke them aline, and slew them at the well beside the house where the sheepe are shorne, euen two and forty men, and hee left not one of them.

15 And when hee was departed thence, hee met with Iehonadab the sonne of Rechab comming to meete him, and hee blessed him, and sayd to him, Is thine heart vp-right, as mine heart is toward thine? And Iehonadab answered, Yea, doubtlesse. Then giue me thine hand. And when hee had giuen him his hand, hee tooke him vp to him into the charret.

16 And he sayd, Come with mee, and see the zeale that I haue for the Lord: so they made him ride in his charret.

17 And when hee came to Samaria, hee slew all that remained vnto Ahab in Samaria, till hee had destroyed him, according to the word of the Lord, which hee spake to Eliah.

18 Then Iehu assembled all the people, and sayd vnto them, Ahab serued Baal a little, but Iehu shall serue him much more.

19 Nowe therefore call vnto mee all the prophets of Baal, all his seruants, and all his priests, and let not a man bee lacking: for I haue a great sacrifice for Baal; whosoeuer is lacking, hee shall not liue. But Iehu did it by a subtilty to destroy the seruants of Baal.

20 And Iehu sayd, Proclaime a solemn assembly for Baal. And they proclaimed it.

21 So Iehu sent vnto all Israel, and all the seruants of Baal came, and there was not a man left that came not. And they came into the house of Baal, and the house of Baal was full from end to end.

22 Then hee sayd vnto him that had the charge of the besty, Bring forth vestments for all the seruants of Baal. And hee brought them out vestments.

23 And when Iehu went, and Iehonadab the sonne of Rechab into the house of Baal, hee sayd vnto the seruants of Baal, Search diligently, and looke, lest there be here with you any of the seruants of the Lord, but the seruants of Baal onely.

24 And when they went in to make sacrifice and burnt offering, Iehu appointed fourety men without, and sayd, If any of the men whom I haue brought into your handes, escape, his soule shall bee for his soule.

25 And when hee had made an ende of the burnt offering, Iehu sayd to the gard, and to the captaines, Goe in, slay them, let not a man come out. And they smote them with the edge of the sword. And the garde, 31 But Iehu regarded not to walke in the law of the Lord God of Israel with all his heart: for hee departed not from the finnes of Ieroboam, which made Israel to sinne.

32 In those dayes the Lord begaune to lothe Israel, and hazard smote them in all the coasts of Israel, 33 From Jordan Eastward, euen all the land of Gilcad, the Gadites, and the Reubenites, and them that were of Danasseh, from Aroer (which is by the riuier Arnon) and Gilcad and Basan.

34 Concerning the rest of the acts of Iehu, and all that hee did, and all his valiant deeds, are they not written in the booke of the Chronicles of the kings of Israel?

35 And Iehu slept with his fathers, and they buried him in Samaria, and Ichoahaz his sonne reigned in his stead.

36 And the time that Iehu reigned ouer Israel in Samaria, is eight & twenty yeres.

CHAP. XI.

1 Athaliah putteth to death all the kings sons, except Ioash the son of Ahabaz. 4 Ioash is appointed king. 5 Iehoiada causeth Athaliah to be slaine 17 Hee maketh a covenant betwene God, and the people. 18 Baal and his Priests are destroyed.

Then <sup>h</sup> Athaliah the mother of Ahasiah when shee saw that her sonne was dead, shee arose, and destroyed all the <sup>h</sup> kings seed.

2 But Iehosheba the daughter of king Ioram, and sister to Ahasiah <sup>h</sup> tooke Ioash the sonne of Ahasiah, and stole him from among the kings sonnes: that should be slaine, both him and his nurse, keeping them in the <sup>h</sup> bed chamber, and they hid him from Athaliah, so that hee was not slaine.

3 And hee was with her hid in the house of the Lord sixe yeres: & Athaliah did reigne ouer the land.

4 <sup>h</sup> C And the seventh yere <sup>o</sup> Iehoiada sent and tooke the captaines ouer hundredths with other captaines, and them of the garde, and caused them to come unto him into the house of the Lord, and made a covenant with them, and tooke an oath of them in the house of the Lord, & shewed them the kings sonne.

5 And he commanded them, saying, This is it that ye must do. The third part of <sup>o</sup> you that cometh on the Sabbath, shall <sup>h</sup> ward toward the kings house.

6 And another third part in the gate of <sup>h</sup> Sur: and another third part in the gate behinde them of the garde: and ye shall keepe watch <sup>h</sup> in the house of Basah.

7 And two parts of you, <sup>h</sup> chais, all that <sup>h</sup> goe out on the Sabbath day, shall keepe the watch of the house of the Lord about the king.

8 And ye shall compass the king round about euery man with his weapon in his hand, and whosoever cometh within the ranges, let him be slaine: bee you with the king, as hee goeth out and in.

9 And the captaines of the hundredths did according to all that Iehoiada the Priest commanded, and they tooke euery man his men <sup>h</sup> entered in to their charge on the Sabbath, with them that went out of on the Sabbath, and came to Iehoiada the Priest.

10 And the <sup>h</sup> Priest gaue to the captaines of hundredths <sup>h</sup> speeres and the shields that were king Dauids, and were in the house of the Lord.

11 And the garde stood euery man with his weapon in his hand, from the right side of the house to the left side, about the altar and about the house, round about the king.

12 Then hee brought out the <sup>h</sup> Kings son, and put the crowne vpon him, and gaue him <sup>o</sup> the testamonte, and they made him king: also they anoynted him, & clapt their hands, and said, God sanc the King.

13 And when Athaliah heard the noyse of the running of the people, shee came in to the people in the house of the Lord.

14 And when she looked, behold, the king stood by a <sup>h</sup> pillar, as the maner was, and the Princes and the Trumpeters by the King, and all the people of the land reioyced, and blew with trumpets. Then Athaliah rent her clothes, and cried, Treason, treason.

15 But Iehoiada the Priest commanded the captaines of the hundredths that had the rule of the hoste, and said unto them, Vaine her <sup>h</sup> forth of the ranges, and hee that <sup>o</sup> followeth her, let him die by the sword: for the Priest had said, Let her not be slaine in the house of the Lord.

16 Then they laide hands on her, and shee went by the way, by the which the <sup>h</sup> Kings goe to the house of the Kings, and there was shee slaine.

17 And Iehoiada made a covenant betwene the Lord, and the <sup>h</sup> King and the people, that they should bee the Lords people: likewise betwene the <sup>h</sup> King and the people.

18 Then all the people of the land went into the house of Baal, and destroyed it with his altars, and his images: and they downe courageously, and slew Mattan the priest of Baal before the <sup>h</sup> altars: and the Priest set a garde ouer the house of the Lord.

20 And all the people of the land reioyced, and the citie was in quiet: for they had slaine Athaliah with the sword beside the kings house.

21 Seuen yeere olde was Iehoash when he began to reigne.

C H A P. XII.

6 Iehoash maketh provision for the repairing of the Temple. 16 He slayeth the king of Syria by a present from comming against Ierusalem. 20 He is killed by two of his seruants.

1 In the seuenth yeere of Iehu, Iehoash began to reigne, and reigned fourtie yeeres in Ierusalem, and his mothers name was Zibiah of Beer-sheba.

2 And Iehoash did that which was good in the sight of the Lord all his time that Iehoiada the Priest taught him.

3 But the high places were not taken away: for the people offered yet and burnt incense in the high places.

4 And Iehoash said to the Priests, All the siluer of dedicate things that bee brought to the house of the Lord, that is, the money of them that are vnder the count, the money that every man is let at, and all the money that one offereth willingly, and bringeth into the house of the Lord,

5 Let the Priests take it to them, every man of his acquaintance: and they shall repaire the broken places of the house, wher-soeuer any decay is found.

6 Yet in the thire and twentieth yeere of king Iehoash, the Priests had not mended that which was decayed in the temple.

7 Then king Iehoash called for Iehoiada the Priest, and the other Priests, and said vnto them, Why repaire yee not the ruines of the Temple? Howe therefore receiue no more money of your acquaintance, except yee deliuer it to repaire the ruines of the Temple.

8 So the Priests consented to receiue no more money of the people, neither to repaire the decayed places of the Temple.

9 Then Iehoiada the Priest tooke a chest, & boxed an hole in the sid of it, and set it beside the altar, on the right side, as every man cometh into the temple of the Lord. And the Priests that kept the doore, put therein all the money that was brought into the house of the Lord.

10 And when they saw there was much money in the chest, the Kings secretarie came by, and the hie Priest, and put it by after that they had told the money that was found in the house of the Lord.

11 And they gaue the money made ready into the hands of them, y that vnderooke the worke, and that had the ouersight of the house of the Lord: and they paid it out to the carpenters, and builders that wrought vpon the house of the Lord,

12 And to the masons and hewers of stone, and to buy timber and hewed stone, to repaire that was decayed in the house of the Lord, and for all that which was laide out for the reparation of the Temple.

13 Howbeit there was not made for the house of the Lord bowles of siluer, Instruments of musicke, basins, trumpets, nor any vessels of gold, or vessels of siluer, of the money that was brought into the house of the Lord.

14 But they gaue it to the workemen, which repaired therewith the house of the Lord.

15 Howeouer, they reckoned not with the men, into whose hands they deliuered that money to be bestowed on workmen: for they dealt faithfully.

16 The money of the trespass offering, and the money of the sinne offerings was not brought into the house of the Lord: for it was the Priests.

17 Then came by Hazael king of Aram, and fought against Gath and tooke it: and Hazael set his face to goe by to Ierusalem.

18 And Iehoash king of Iudah tooke all the hallowed things that Iehobabhat, and Iehozan, and Abaziah his fathers kings of Iudah had dedicated, and that hee himselfe had dedicated, and all the gold that was in the treasures of the house of the Lord, and in the kings house, and sent it to Hazael king of Aram, and he departed from Ierusalem.

19 Concerning the rest of the actes of Ioash, and all that hee did, are they not written in the booke of the Chronicles of the kings of Iudah?

20 And his seruants arose and wrought treason, and slew Ioash in the house of 1 Billo, when he came downe to Silla:

21 Euen I Jozabab the sonne of Shimeath, and Iehozabab the sonne of Shomer his seruants smote him, and hee died: and they buried him with his fathers in the citie of Dauid. And Amaziah his sonne reigned in his stead.

C H A P. XIII.

3 Iehoahaz the sonne of Iehu is deliuered into the hands of the Syrians. 4 He prayeth vnto God and is deliuered. 9 Iosh his sonne reigneth in his stead. 20 Elisha dieth. 24 Hazael dieth.

1 In the thire and twentieth yeere of Iosh the sonne of Abaziah king of Iudah, Iehoahaz the sonne of Iehu began to reigne ouer Israel in Samaria, and he reigned seuentene yeere.

2 And hee did euill in the sight of the Lord, and followed the sinnes of Ieroboam the sonne of Nebat, which made Israel to sinne, and departed not therefrom.

3 And the Lord was angry with Israel, and deliuered them into the hand of Hazael king of Aram, and into the hand of Benhadad the sonne of Hazael all his dayes.

4 And Iehoahaz besought the Lord, and the Lord heard him: for he saw the trouble of Israel, wherewith the king of Aram troubled them.

5 And the Lord gaue Israel a deliuerer, so that they came out from vnder the subiection of the Aramites. And the children

h For these men had onely the charge of the reparation of the Temple, and the rest of the money was brought to the king, who caused these afterward to be made, a. Chron. 24. 14.

i After the death of Iehoiada, Iosh fell to idolatry: therefore God reiecteth him, and stirreth vp his enemy against him, whom he pacified with the treasures of the temple: for God would not be serued with those gifts, seeing the kings heart was wicked, k Because he had put Zacharie the sonne of Iehoiada to death, l. daughter to my sonne to wife : and the wild beaſt that was in Lebanon, went and trode downe the thistle.

10 Because thou haſt ſmitten Edom, thine heart hath made thee proud : ſ blagge of glory, and tary at home: why doeſt thou pro- uoake to thine hurt, that thou ſhouldeſt fall, and Judah with thee ?

11 But Amaziah would not heare: there- fore Jehoash king of Iſrael went vp : and hee & Amaziah king of Judah ſaw one ano- ther in the face at Beth-ſhemesh which is in Judah.

12 And Judah was put to the worſe be- fore Iſrael, and they fled euery man to their tents.

13 But Jehoash king of Iſrael tooke A- maziah king of Judah, the ſonne of Jehoahaz the ſonne of Aſaiah, at Beth-ſhemesh, and ſ came to Ieruſalem, and brake downe the wall of Ieruſalem, from the gate of E- phraim to the corner gate, foure hundredeth cubites.

14 And he tooke all the gold and ſilver, and all the veſſels that were found in the houſe of the Lord, and in the treaſures of the Kings houſe, and the children that were in ſ houſage, and returned to Samaria.

15 Concerning the reſt of the acts of Je- hoash which he did, and his valiant deedes, and how hee fought with Amaziah king of Judah, are they not written in the booke of the Chronicles of the kings of Iſrael ?

16 And Jehoash ſlept with his fathers, & was buried at Samaria among the kinges of Iſrael : and Jeroboam his ſonne reigned in his ſtead.

17 & And Amaziah the ſonne of Joaſh king of Judah, liued after the death of Je- hoash ſonne of Jehoahaz king of Iſrael ſix- teene yeere.

18 Concerning the reſt of the acts of A- maziah, are they not written in the booke of the Chronicles of the kings of Judah ?

19 But they * wrought treaſon againſt him in Ieruſalem, and hee fled to <sup>b</sup> Lachyſh, but they ſent after him to Lachyſh, and ſlew him there.

20 And they brought him on hoſes, & he was buried at Ieruſalem with his fathers, in the citie of Dauid.

21 Then all the people of Judah tooke i Azariah which was ſixteene yeere old, and made him king for his father Amaziah.

22 He built <sup>c</sup> Etach, & reſtoied it to Ju- dah, after that the King ſlept with his fa- thers.

23 & In the ſixteene yeere of Amaziah the ſon of Joaſh king of Judah, was Jerobe- am the ſon of Joaſh made king ouer Iſrael in Samaria, and reigned one & fortye yeere.

24 And hee did euill in the ſight of the Lord: for he departed not from all the <sup>d</sup> ſins of Jeroboam the ſon of Nebat, which made Iſrael to ſinne.

25 He reſtoied the coaſt of Iſrael, from the entering of Hamath, vnto the Sea of the wilderneſſe, according to the word of the Lord God of Iſrael, which he ſpake & by his ſeruant Jonah the ſonne of Amittai the pro- phet, which was of Gaſh ſepher.

26 For the Lord ſaw the exceeding bitter affliction of Iſrael, ſo that there was none <sup>e</sup> ſhur vp, nor any left, neither yet any that could help Iſrael.

27 Yet the Lord & had not decreed to put out the name of Iſrael from vnder the hea- uen: therefore he preferred them by the hand of Jeroboam the ſonne of Jeſaſa.

28 Concerning the reſt of the acts of Je- roboam, and all that hee did, and his valiant deedes, and how hee fought, and how hee re- torred Damascus and <sup>f</sup> Hamath to Judah in Iſrael, are they not written in the booke of the Chronicles of the kings of Iſrael ?

29 So Jeroboam ſlept with his fathers, euen with the kinges of Iſrael, and Zachari- ah his ſonne reigned in his ſtead.

i Azariah the king of Iudah becommeth a le- per. 5 Of Totham. 10 Shallum, 14 Menahem, 23 Pekahiah, 30 Vzziah, 32 Iotham, 38 and Ahaz.

1 <sup>a</sup> In the & ſenen and twentieth yeere of Je- roboam king of Iſrael, began Azariah, ſonne of Amaziah king of Judah to reigne.

2 Sixteene yeere old was hee when hee was made king, and he reigned two and ſix- tie yeeres in Ieruſalem : and his mothers name was Jeholiah of Ieruſalem.

3 And hee did <sup>b</sup> uprightly in the ſight of the Lord, according to all that his father A- maziah did.

4 But the hie places were not put away: for the people yet offered, and burned incenſe in the hie places.

5 And the Lord <sup>b</sup> ſmote the king: and he was a leper vnto the day of his death, and dwelt in an houſe apart, and Iotham the kings ſonne governed the houſe, & <sup>c</sup> iudged the people of the land.

6 Concerning the reſt of the acts of A- zariah, and all that hee did, are they not wri- ten in the booke of the Chronicles of the kings of Judah ?

7 So Azariah ſlept with his fathers, and they buried him with his fathers in the citie of Dauid, and Iotham his ſonne reigned in his ſtead.

8 & In the eight and thirtieth yeere of Azariah king of Judah, did Zachariah the ſonne of Jeroboam reigne ouer Iſrael in Samaria ſixe <sup>d</sup> monthes, 9 And did euill in the ſight of the Lord, as did his fathers: for he departed not from the ſinnes of Jeroboam the ſonne of Nebat, which made Iſrael to ſinne.

10 And Shallum the ſonne of Tabeth conſpired againſt him, and ſmote him in the ſight of the people, and <sup>e</sup> killed him, and reigned in his ſtead.

11 Concerning the reſt of the acts of Za- chariah, behold, they are written in <sup>f</sup> booke of the Chronicles of the kings of Iſrael.

12 This was the <sup>g</sup> word of the Lord, which hee ſpake vnto Iehu, ſaying, Why ſhoueſt thou ſit on the throne of Iſrael vnto the fourth generation after thee. And it came ſo to paſſe.

13 & Shallum the ſonne of Tabeth began to reigne in the nine and thirtieth yeere of Uzziah king of Judah : and hee reigned the 14 For Menahem the sonne of Gadi went by from Tirzah, and came to Samaria, and smote Shallum the sonne of Iabeel in Samaria, and slew him, & reigned in his stead.

15 Concerning the rest of the acts of Shallum, & the reuersion which hee wrought, behold, they are written in the booke of the Chronicles of the Kings of Israel.

16 ¶ Then Menahem destroyed Ephi-sah, and all that were therein, and the coats thereof from Tirzah, because they opened way to him, and hee lieth there, and ripe vp all their women with child.

17 The nine and thirtieth yere of Azariah king of Iudah, began Menahem the sonne of Gadi to reigne ouer Israel, and reigned ten yeeres in Samaria.

18 And hee did euill in the sight of the Lord, and departed not all his dayes from the sin of Jeroboam the sonne of Nebat, which made Israel to sinne.

19 ¶ Then Pul the king of Asshur came against the land: and Menahem gaue Pul a thousand talents of siluer, that his hand might bee with him, and establish the kingdome in his hand.

20 And Menahem exacted the money in Israel, that all men of substance should giue the king of Asshur sixtie shekles of siluer a peece: so the king of Asshur returned and caried not there in the land.

21 Concerning the rest of the acts of Menahem, and all that hee did, are they not written in the booke of the Chronicles of the kings of Israel?

22 And Menahem slept with his fathers, and Pekahiah his sonne did reigne in his stead.

23 ¶ In the fiftieth yere of Azariah king of Iudah, began Pekahiah the sonne of Menahem to reigne ouer Israel in Samaria, and reigned two yeeres.

24 And hee did euill in the sight of the Lord: for hee departed not from the sinnes of Jeroboam the sonne of Nebat, which made Israel to sinne.

25 And Pekah the sonne of Remaliah, his captaine conspired against him, and smote him in Samaria in the place of the kings palace with Argob and Arie, and with him fiftie men of the Siladites: so hee killed him, and reigned in his stead.

26 Concerning the rest of the actes of Pekahiah, and all that hee did, behold, they are written in the booke of the Chronicles of the kings of Israel.

27 ¶ In the two and fiftieth yere of Azariah king of Iudah beganne Pekah the sonne of Remaliah to reigne ouer Israel in Samaria, and reigned twentie yeeres.

28 And hee did euill in the sight of the Lord: for hee departed not from the sinnes of Jeroboam the sonne of Nebat, that made Israel to sinne.

29 In the dayes of Pekah king of Israel came Tiglath Pileser king of Asshur, and tooke Iton, and Abel, Beth-maachab, and Ianoah, and Kedesh, and Iyaroz, and Gilcad, and Galgath, and all the land of Naphtali, and caried them away to Asshur.

30 And Hozeah the son of Elah wrought reuersion against Pekah the sonne of Remaliah, and smote him, and slew him, and reigned in his stead in the twentieth yere of Iotham the sonne of Oziah.

31 Concerning the rest of the acts of Pekah, and all that hee did, behold, they are written in the booke of the Chronicles of the kings of Israel.

32 ¶ In the second yere of Pekah the son of Remaliah king of Israel began Iotham sonne of Oziah king of Iudah to reigne.

33 ¶ Four and twentie yere olde was hee, when he began to reigne, and hee reigned fiftene yeeres in Jerusalem: and his mothers name was Jerusha the daughter of Zadok.

34 And hee did wrightly in the sight of the Lord: hee did according to all that his father Oziah had done.

35 But the high places were not put away: for the people yet offered and burnt incense in the high places: hee built the highest gate of the house of the Lord.

36 Concerning the rest of the acts of Iotham, and all that hee did, are they not written in the booke of the Chronicles of the kings of Iudah?

37 In those dayes the Lord beganne to send against Iudah Rezin the king of Aram, and Pekah the sonne of Remaliah.

38 And Iotham slept with his fathers, and was buried with his fathers in the citie of Dauid his father, and Ahaz his sonne reigned in his stead.

1 The seuenteenth yere of Pekah the sonne of Remaliah, Ahaz the sonne of Iotham king of Iudah began to reigne.

2 Twentie yere olde was Ahaz, when he began to reigne, and hee reigned fiftene yere in Jerusalem, and did not wrightly in the sight of the Lord his God, like Dauid his father:

3 But walked in the way of the kings of Israel, yea, and made his sonne to goe throw the fire, after the abominations of the heathen, whom the Lord had cast out before the children of Israel.

4 Also hee offered and burnt incense in the high places, and on the hills, and vnder euery greene tree.

5 ¶ Then Rezin king of Aram, and Pekah sonne of Remaliah king of Israel came vp to Jerusalem to fight: and they besieged Ahaz, but could not ouercome him.

6 At the same time Rezin king of Aram restored Clath to Aram, and Ioue the Jewes from Clath: so the Aramites came to Clath, and dwelt there vnto this day.

7 Then Ahaz sent messengers to Tiglath Pileser king of Asshur, saying, I am thy seruant and thy sonne: come vp, and deliuer mee out of the hand of the

CHAP. XVII.

3 Hoshea king of Irael is taken, 4 and he and all his realme brought to the Assyrians 18 for their idolatrie. 25 Lions destroy the Assyrians that dwelt in Samaria. 29 Every one worshippeth the God of his nation, 35 contrary to the commandement of God. 1 In the twelfth yeere of Azah king of Iudah beganne Hoshea the sonne of Elah to reigne in Samaria ouer Irael, and reigned nine yeeres. 2 And hee did euill in the sight of the Lord, but not as the kings of Irael, that were before him. 3 And Shalmaneser king of Asshur came by against him, and Hoshea became his seruant, and gaue him presents. 4 And the king of Asshur found treason in Hoshea: for he had sent messengers to So king of Egypt, and brought no present vnto the king of Asshur, as hee had done secretly: therefore the king of Asshur shut him vp, and put him in prison. 5 Then the king of Asshur came vp thoroughout all the land, and went against Samaria, and besieged it thre yeeres. 6 In the ninth yeere of Hoshea, the king of Asshur tooke Samaria, and carried Irael away vnto Asshur, and put them in Halah, and in Habor, by the riuier of Gozan, and in the cities of the Medes. 7 For when the children of Irael sinned against the Lord their God, which they brought them out of the land of Egypt, from vnder the hand of Pharaoh king of Egypt, and feared other gods, 8 And walked according to the fashions of the heathen, whom the Lord had cast out before the children of Irael, and after the maners of the kings of Irael, which they did, 9 And the children of Irael had done secretly things that were not upright before the Lord their God, and thoroughout all their cities had built high places, both from the tower of the watch, to the defended citie, 10 And had made them images and grones vpon euery hie hill, and vnder euery greene tree, 11 And there burnt incense in all the high places, as did the heathen, whom the Lord had taken away before them, and wrought wicked things to anger the Lord, 12 And serued idols: whereof the Lord had said vnto them, * Pee shall doe no such thing. 13 Notwithstanding the Lord testified to Irael, and to Iudah by all the Prophets, and by all the Seers, saying, * Turne from your euill wayes, and keepe my commandements and my statutes, according to all the law, which I commanded your fathers, and which I sent to you by my seruants the Prophets. 14 Neuerthelesse, they would not obey, but hardened their necks, like to the necks of their fathers, that did not beleue in the Lord their God. 15 And they refused his statutes and his covenant, that hee made with their fathers, and his testimonies (wherewith hee witnessed vnto them) and they followed vanitie, and became vaine, and followed the heathen that were round about them: concerning whom, the Lord had charged them a Though he invented no new idolatry or impietie as others did, yett he sought for helpe at the Egyptians, which God had forbidden. b For he had payed tribute for the space of eight yeeres. Chap. 18. 10. c For at this time the Medes and Persians were subiect to the Assyrians. d Hee setteth forth at length the cause of his great plague and perpetual captiuitie, to admonish all people and nations to cleaue to the Lord God, and onely worship him for feare of like iudgement. e Meaning, thoroughout all their borders. n Of these peopls came the Samaritans, where of mention is so much made in the Gospel, and with whom the Iewes would haue nothing to doe, Iohn 4. 9.

o That is, they serue him not: therefore, lest they should blaspheme him, as though there were no God, because he chastised the Israelites, he sheweth his mighty power among them by this strange punishment.
p That is, how to worship him: thus the wicked, rather then to loose their commodities, will change to all religions.
q Meaning, that every country serued that idol, which was most esteemed in that place whence they came.

them, that they should not doe like them.
16 Finally, they left all the commandements of the Lord their God, and made them molten images, * euen two calves, and made a grone, and worshipped all the host of heauen, and serued Baal.
17 And they made their sonnes, and their daughters, to passe thorow the fire, and used witchcraft and incantments, yea, sold themselves to do euil in the sight of the Lord to anger him.
18 Therefore the Lord was exceeding wroth with Israel, and put them out of his sight, and none was left but the tribe of Iudah only.
19 Yet Judah kept not the commandments of the Lord their God, but walked according to the fashion of Israel, which they used.
20 Therefore the Lord cast off all the seed of Israel, and afflicted them, and deliuered them into the hands of vsurers, vntill hee had cast them out of his light.
21 For hee cut off Israel from the house of David, and they made Jeroboam the son of Nebat, King: and Jeroboam drew Israel away from following the Lord, and made them liue a great liue.
22 For the children of Israel walked in all the finnes of Jeroboam, which he did, and departed not therefrom, 23 vntill the Lord put Israel away out of his sight, as hee had said by all his seruants the Prophets, and carried Israel away out of their land to Asshur vnto this day.
24 And the king of Asshur brought folke from Babel, and from Cuthah, and from Auai, and from Hamath, and from Sepharuaim, and placed them in the cities of Samaria in stead of the children of Israel: so they possessed Samaria, and dwelt in the cities thereof.
25 And at the beginning of their dwelling there, they feared not the Lord: therefore the Lord sent Lyons among them, which slew them.
26 Therefore they spake to the King of Asshur, saying, The nations which thou hast remooued, and placed in the cities of Samaria, knowe not the manner of the God of the land: therefore he hath sent Lyons among them, and beholde, they slay them, because they know not the manner of the God of the land.
27 Then the King of Asshur commaunded, saying, Carry thither one of the Priests, whom ye brought thence, and let him go and dwell there, and teach them the manner of the God of the countrey.
28 So one of the Priests, which they had carried from Samaria, came and dwelt in Beth-el, and taught them how they should feare the Lord.
29 Howbeit, euery Nation made their gods, & put them in the houses of the hie places, which the Samaritans had made euery Nation in their cities, wherein they dwelt.
30 For the men of Babel made a Sercoth-Bonoth; the men of Cuth made Nergal, and the men of Hamath made Ashima.
31 And the Auims made Ashbas, and Cartak: and the Sephartims burnt their children in the fire to Adrammelech, and Ananmelech the gods of Sepharuaim.

32 Thus they feared the Lord, and appointed out priests out of themselves for the hie places, who prepared for them sacrifices in the houses of the hie places.
33 They feared the Lord, but serued their gods after the manner of the nations whom they carried thence.
34 vnto this day they doe after the olde manner: they neither feare God, neither doe after their ordinances, nor after their customes, nor after the Law, nor after the commandment, which the Lord commaunded the children of Iacob, * whom hee named Israel.
35 And with whom the Lord had made a couenant, & charged them, saying, * Feare none other gods, nor bowe your selues to them, nor serue them, nor sacrifice to them:
36 But feare the Lord which brought you out of the land of Egypt with great power, and a stretched out arme: him feare ye, and worship him, and sacrifice to him.
37 Also keepe ye diligently the statutes and the ordinances, and the Law, and the commandment, which hee wrote for you, that ye doe them continually, and feare not other gods.
38 And forget not the couenant that I haue made with you, neither feare ye other gods.
39 But feare the Lord your God, and he will deliuer you out of the hands of all your enemies.
40 Howbeit, they obeyed not, but did after their old custome.
41 So these Nations feared the Lord, and serued their images also: so did their children, and their childrens children: as did their fathers, so doe they vnto this day.

4 Hezekiah king of Iudah putteth downe the brasen serpen, and destroyeth the idoles, 7. And prospereth. 11 Israel is caried away captiue. 30 The blasphemie of Saneherib.
Now in the third yeere of Hoshea sonne of Elah the King of Israel, Hezekiah the sonne of Abaz King of Iudah beganne to reigne.
2 Hee was sine and twentie yeere olde when hee began to reigne, and reigned nine and twentie yeere in Ierusalem. His mothers name also was Abi the daughter of Zachariah.
3 And hee did a righteously in the sight of the Lord according to all that Dauid his father had done.
4 Hee tooke away the hie places, and brake the images, and cut downe the grones, and brake in pieces the brasen serpent that Hoses had made: for vnto those dayes the children of Israel had burnt incense to it, and he called it Nehushtan.
5 Hee called the serpent by contempt, which now is standing, was set vp by the word of God, and miracles were wrought by it: yet when it was abused to idolatry, this good king destroyed it, not thinking it worthy to be called aserpens, but a piece of brasie.

ked them to repentance, Num 21. 8, 9. b That is, a piece of brasie: thus hee called the serpent by contempt, which now is standing, was set vp by the word of God, and miracles were wrought by it: yet when it was abused to idolatry, this good king destroyed it, not thinking it worthy to be called aserpens, but a piece of brasie.

5 He trusted in the Lord God of Israel: so that after him was none like him among all the Kings of Judah, neither were there any such before him.

6 For hee came to the Lord, and departed not from him, but kept his commandments, which the Lord had commanded Moses.

7 So the Lord was with him, and hee prospered in all things, which hee tooke in hand: also hee rebelled against the King of Asshur, and served him not.

8 Hee smote the Philistines vnto Azzah, and the coastes thereof, & from the watch tower vnto the defended citie.

9 And in the fourth yeere of King Hezekiah, (which was the seuenth yeere of Hoshea sonne of Elah King of Israel) Sennacherib King of Asshur came by against Samaria, and besieged it.

10 And after three yeeres they tooke it, even in the first yeere of Hezekiah: that is, the ninth yeere of Hoshea King of Israel was Samaria taken.

11 Then the King of Asshur did carrie away Israel vnto Asshur, and put them in Halah, and in Habor, by the river of Sozan, and in the cities of the Medes.

12 Because they would not obey the voyce of the Lord their God: but transgressed his Covenant: that is, all that Moses the seruant of the Lord had commanded, and would neither obey nor doe them.

13 Moreover, in the fourteenth yeere of King Hezekiah, Sancherib King of Asshur came by against all the strong cities of Judah, and tooke them.

14 Then Hezekiah King of Judah sent vnto the King of Asshur to Lachish, saying, I haue offended: depart from me, and what thou layest vpon me, I will beare it. And the King of Asshur appointed vnto Hezekiah King of Judah thre hundredth talents of silver, and thirtie talents of gold.

15 Therefore Hezekiah gaue all the silver that was found in the house of the Lord, and in the treasures of the Kings house.

16 At the same season did Hezekiah pull off the plates of the doores of the Temple of the Lord, and the pillars (which the said Hezekiah King of Judah had covered ouer) and gaue them to the King of Asshur.

17 And the King of Asshur sent Tartan and Rablissar, and Rabshakeh from Lachish to King Hezekiah with a great hoste against Ierusalem. And they went by, and came to Ierusalem, and when they were come by, they stood by the conduit of the hypper poole, which is by the path of the fullers field.

18 And called to the King. Then came out to them Eliakim the sonne of Hilkiah, which was steward of the house, and Shebna the chanceller, and Ioah the sonne of Asaph the Recorder.

19 And Rabshakeh said vnto them, Tell mee Hezekiah, I pray you, Thus saith the great King, euen the great King of Asshur, What confidence is this wherein thou trustest?

20 Thou thinkest, Surely I haue & clo-quence, & but counsell and strength are for the warre. On whom then dost thou trust, that thou rebellest against me?

21 Loe, thou trustest now in this broken staffe of reed, to wit, on egypt, on which if a man leane, it will geare into his hand, and pearce it: so is Pharaoh King of Egypt vnto all that trust on him.

22 But if wee lay vnto me, Wee trust in the Lord our God, is not that hee whose high places, and whose altars Hezekiah hath taken away, and hath said to Judah and Ierusalem, Wee shall worship before this Altar in Ierusalem?

23 Now therefore giue hostages to my lord the King of Asshur, and I will giue thee two thousand horses, if thou be able to let riders vpon them.

24 For how canst thou despise any captaine of the least of my masters seruants, and put thy trust on Egypt for charcets and horsemen?

25 Am I nowe come by without the Lord to this place, to destroy it? The Lord said to me, See vp against this land, and destroy it.

26 Then Eliakim the sonne of Hilkiah, and Shebna, and Ioah said vnto Rabshakeh, Speake, I pray thee, to thy seruants in the Hebrew language, for we vnderstand it, & talke not with vs in the Jewes tongue, in the audience of the people that are on the wall.

27 But Rabshakeh said vnto them, Hath my master sent me to thy master and to thee to speake these words, and not to the men which sit on the wal, that they may eat their owne doimg, and drinke & their owne piss with you?

28 So Rabshakeh stood and cried with a lowde voice in the Jewes language, and spake, saying, Heare the wordes of the great King, of the King of Asshur.

29 Thus saith the King, Let not Hezekiah deceiue you: for hee shall not be able to deliuer you out of mine hand.

30 Neither let Hezekiah make you to trust in the Lord, saying, The Lord wil surely deliuer vs, and this citie shall not be giuen ouer into the hand of the King of Asshur.

31 Hearken not vnto Hezekiah: for thus saith the King of Asshur, Make appointment with mee, and come out to mee, that every man may eate of his owne wine, and enery man of his owne figge tree, and drinke enery man of the water of his owne well.

32 Till I come, and bring you to a land like your owne land, euen a land of wheate and wine, a land of beead and vineyardes, a land of olives oyle, and honie, that ye may liue and not die: and obey not Hezekiah, for hee deceiueth you, saying, The Lord wil deliuer vs.

33 Hath any of the gods of the nations deliuered his land out of the hand of the King of Asshur?

34 Where is the god of Hamath, and of Arpad? where is the god of Sepharuaim, Hena and Iuah? how haue they deliuered Samaria out of mine hand?

f Thou thinkest that words will serue to persuade thy people, or to moue my master. g Egypt shall not only not be able to succour thee, but shall be an hurt vnto thee. h Thus the idolaters thinke that Gods religion is destroyed when superstition and idolatrie are reformed. i Meaning, that it was best for him to yeeld to the king of Assyria, because his power was so small that he had not men to furnish two thousand horses. k The wicked alwayes in their prosperitie flatter themselues that God doth fauour them. Thus he speaketh to feare Hezekiah that by resisting him, he should resist God.

37 Then Eliakim, the sonne of Hilkiah, which was steward of the house, and Shebnah the Chancelor, and Joah the sonne of Asaph the Recorder, came to Hezekiah with their clothes rent, and told him the wordes of Rabshakeh.

CHAP. XIX.

6 God promiseth by Isayah victorie to Hezekiah. 35 The Angel of the Lord killeth an hundred and fourscore and five thousand men of the Assyrians. 37 Saneherib is kelled of his owne sonnes.

A Rent * when king Hezekiah heard it, hee removed his clothes, and put on sackcloth, and came into the house of the Lord,

2 And sent Eliakim which was the steward of the house, & Shebnah the Chancelor, and the Elders of the Priestes clothed in sackcloth, & to Iaiiah the Prophet, the sonne of Amoz.

3 And they sayd vnto him, Thus saith Hezekiah, This day is a day of tribulation and of rebuke and blasphemie: for the children are come to the birth, and there is no strength to bring forth.

4 If so be the Lord thy God hath heard all the wordes of Rabshakeh, whome the king of Asshur his master hath sent to raise on the liuing God, and to reproach him with wordes which the Lord thy God hath heard, then life thou by thy prayer for the remnant that are left.

5 So the seruants of king Hezekiah came to Iaiiah.

6 And Iaiiah sayd vnto them, So shall ye say to your maister, Thus saith the Lord, Be not afraid of the wordes which thou hast heard, wherewith the seruants of the king of Asshur haue blasphemed me.

7 Behold, I will send a blast vpon him, and he shall heare a noyse, and returne to his owne land: and I will cause him to fall by the sword in his owne land.

8 So Rabshakeh returned, and found the king of Asshur fighting against Libnah: for he had heard that he was departed from Lachish.

9 He heard also men say of Tirhakah king of Ethiopia, Behold, he is come out to fight against thee: he therefore departed and sent other messengers vnto Hezekiah, saying,

10 Thus shalt ye speake to Hezekiah king of Iudah, and say, Let not thy God deceiue thee in whom thou trustest, saying, Ierusalem shall not be deliuered into the hand of the king of Asshur.

11 Beholde, thou hast heard what the kings of Asshur haue done to all lands, how they haue destroyed them: and shalt thou be deliuered?

12 Haue the gods of the heathen deliuered them which my fathers haue destroyed? as Gozan, and Haran, and Rezeph, and the children of Eden, which were in Chelassar?

13 Where is the king of Hamath, and the king of Arpad, and the king of the citie of Sepharuaim, Hena and Iuah?

14 So Hezekiah receiued the letter of the hand of the messengers, and read it: and Hezekiah went by into the house of the Lord, and Hezekiah spied it before the Lord.

15 And Hezekiah prayed before the Lord, and sayd, O Lord God of Israel, which dwellest betwene the Cherubims, thou art very God alone ouer all the kingdomes of the earth: thou hast made the heauen and the earth.

16 Lord, bow downe thine eare, and heare: Lord open thine eyes and behold, and heare the wordes of Saneherib, who hath sent to blaspheme the liuing God.

17 Trueh it is, Lord, that the kings of Asshur haue destroyed the nations and their lands, 18 And haue set fire on their gods: for they were no gods, but the worke of mans hands, euen wood and stone: therefore they destroyed them.

19 Now therefore, O Lord our God, I beseech thee, saue thou vs out of his hand, that all the kingdoms of the earth may know, that thou, O Lord, art onely God.

20 Then Iaiiah the sonne of Amoz sent to Hezekiah, saying, Thus saith the Lord God of Israel, I haue heard that which thou hast prayed me, concerning Saneherib king of Asshur.

21 This is the word that the Lord hath spoken against him, O virgin, daughter of Zion, he hath despised thee, and laughed thee to scorn: O daughter of Ierusalem, he hath shaken his head at thee.

22 Whom hast thou raised on? and whom hast thou blasphemed: and against whome hast thou exalted thy voyce, and lifted vp thine eyes on high: euen against the Holy one of Israel.

23 By thy messengers thou hast railed on the Lord, and said, By the multitude of my charrets I am come vp to the top of y mountaines, by the sides of Lebanon, and will cut downe the hie Cedars thereof, and the faire fire trees thereof, and I will goe into the lodging of his borders, and into the forest of his Camel.

24 I haue digged, and drunk the waters of others, and with the plant of my feet haue I dyed all the floods closed in.

25 Hast thou not heard how I haue of old time made it, and haue found it long agoe: and should I now bring it, that it should bee destroyed, and layd on ruinous heapes, as cities detened?

36 All these inhabitants haue smal power, and are afraid, and confounded: they are like the grasse of the field, and greene herbe, or grasse on the house tops, or as corne blasted before it be growen.

37 I know thy dwelling, yea, thy going out, and thy coming in, and thy fury against me.

h Before the Arke of the covenant. i Hee sheweth what is the true refuge and succour in all dangers, to wit, to flee to the Lord by earnest prayer. k Shew by effect that thou wilt not suffer thy name to be blasphemed.

l By this title hee directeth God from all idoles and false gods. m He sheweth for what end the faithfull desire of God to be deliuered; to wit, that he may be glorified by their deliuerance.

n Because as yet Ierusalem had not bene taken by the enimie, therefore he calleth her virgin.

o God commaeth that iniury done to him, and will reuenge it, which is done to any of his Saints. p Meaning, Ierusalem, which Iaiiah calleth the height of his borders, to wit, of Iudah, Isa. 37. 24.

q Or, pleasant country. r Or, the waters of cities besieged.

s Hee declareth that forasmuch as he is the author and beginning of his Church, hee will neuer suffer it vtterly to be destroyed as other cities and kingdomes.

t Thus he describeth the wicked, which for a time flourish and afterward fade and decay like flowers.

m This is an execrable blasphemie against the true God, to make him equal with the idoles of other nations: therefore God did most sharply punish it.

h The more neere that the wicked are to their destruction, the more they blaspheme.

f I will bridle thy rage, & turne thee ro and fro, as pleasech me. r God did not only promise him the victorie, but giuech him a signe to confirme his faith. u The Lord will multiply in great number that smal remna<sup>t</sup> of Iudah that is escaped. x The loue that God beareth toward his Church shall overcome the counsels and enterprises of men.

28 And because thou ragest against mee, and thy tumult is come vp to mine eares, I will put my <sup>c</sup> hooke in thy nostrils, and my <sup>b</sup> bulke in thy lips, and will bring thee backe againe the same way thou camest.

29 And this shall be a <sup>s</sup>igne vnto thee, O Hezekiah, Thou shalt eat this yeere, such things as grow of themselves, and the next yeere such as grow without sowing, and the third yeere sowe ye and reape, and plant vineyards, and eate the fruits thereof.

30 And the remnant that is escaped of the house of Iudah, shall againe take <sup>a</sup> root downward, and beare fruit upward.

31 For out of Ierusalem shall goe a remnant, and some that shall escape out of mount Zion: the <sup>x</sup> zeale of the Lord of hostes shall doe this.

32 Wherefore, thus saith the Lord concerning the king of Asshur, He shall not enter into this cite, nor hooste an arrow there, nor come before it with shield, nor cast a mount against it:

33 But hee shall returne the way he came, and shall not come into this cite, sayth the Lord.

34 For I will defend this cite to saue it for mine owne sake, and for Dauid my seruants sake.

35 And the same night the Angel of the Lord went out and smote in the campe of Asshur an hundredch fourscore and sine thousand: so when they awoke early in the morning, beholde, they were all dead corpses.

36 So Saneherib king of Asshur departed, and went his way, and returned, and dwelt in Nineuch.

37 And as hee was in the Temple worshipping Nisroch his god, Adramelech, and Sharzer his sonnes, 7 few him with the sword: and they escaped into the land of Arrarat, and Esarhaddon his sonne reigned in his stead.

CHAP. XX.

1 Hezekiah is sicke, and receiueth the signe of his health, 12 He receiueth rewards of Berodach, 13 Sheweth his treasures, and is reprehended of Isaiah. 22 He dieth, and Manasseh his sonne reigneth in his stead.

A Bout that time * was Hezekiah sicke vnto death: and the Prophet Isaiah the sonne of Amoz came to him, and layde vnto him, Thus saith the Lord, Put thine house in an order: for thou shalt die, and not liue.

2 Then he turned his face to the wall, and prayed to the Lord, saying,

3 I beseech thee O Lord, remember now, how I haue walked before thee in truth, and with a <sup>b</sup> perfect heart, and haue done that which is good in thy sight: and Hezekiah wept sore.

4 And afoze Isaiah was gone out into the middle of the court, the word of the Lord came to him, saying,

5 Turne againe, and tell Hezekiah the captaine of my people, Thus saith the Lord God of Dauid thy father, I haue heard thy prayer, and seene thy teares: behold, I haue heared thee, and the third day thou shalt goe vp to the house of the Lord.

6 And I will adde vnto thy dayes fiftene yeere, and will deliuer thee and this cite out of the hand of the king of Asshur, and will defend this cite for mine owne sake, and for Dauid my seruants sake.

7 Then Isaiah said, Take a <sup>s</sup>ump of dry figs. And they tooke it, and layd it on the woule, and he recovered.

8 After Hezekiah had said vnto Isaiah, What shall be the signe that the Lord will heale mee, and that I shall goe vp into the house of the Lord the third day?

9 And Isaiah answered, His signe shall thou haue of the Lord, that the Lord wil doe that hee hath spoken, Wilt thou that the shadow goe forward teinne degrees, or * goe backe ten degrees?

10 And Hezekiah answered, It is a light thing for the shadow to passe forward teinne degrees: not so then, but let the shadow goe backe tenne degrees.

11 And Isaiah the Prophet called vnto the Lord, and he brought againe the shadow teinne degrees backe by the degrees wherby it had gone downe in the <sup>b</sup> diall of Ahaz.

12 * The same season Berodach Baladan the sonne of Baladan king of Babel, sent letters and a <sup>i</sup> present to Hezekiah: for he had heard how that Hezekiah was sicke.

13 And Hezekiah heard them, and shewed them all his treasure house, to wit, the siluer and the gold, and the spices, and the prettious oymnt, and all the house of his armour: and all that was found in his treasures: there was nothing in his house, and in all his <sup>k</sup> realme, that Hezekiah shewed them not.

14 Then Isaiah the Prophet came vnto king Hezekiah, and sayd vnto him, What sayd these men, and from whence came they to thee? And Hezekiah said, They be come from a farr countrey, euen from Babel.

15 Then said hee, What haue they seene in thine house? And Hezekiah answered, All that is in mine house haue they seene: there is nothing among my treasures, that I haue not shewed them.

16 And Isaiah said vnto Hezekiah, Hearc the word of the Lord.

17 Behold, the dayes come, that all that is in thine house, & whatsoeuer thy fathers haue layd vp in store vnto this day, * shall be caried into Babel: nothing shall bee left, sayth the Lord.

18 And of thy sonnes that shall proceed out of thee and which thou shalt beget, shall they take away, and they shall be eunuches in the palace of the king of Babel.

19 Then Hezekiah said vnto Isaiah, The word of the Lord which thou hast <sup>i</sup> spoken, is good: for, said he, Shall it not be good, if <sup>m</sup> peace and truely be in my dayes?

21 And Hezekiah slept with his father; and Manasseh his son reigned in his stead.

CHAP. XXI.

3 King Manasseh restorcth idolatric, 16 And wseth great crueltie. 18 Hee doeth, and Amon his sonne succedeth, 23 Who is killed of his owne seruants. 26 After him reigneth Iosiah.

Manasseh was twelue yere old when he began to reigne, and reigned sixtie and sine yeece in Ierusalem: his mothers name also was Hephzi-bah.

2 And hee did euill in the sight of the Lord after the abomination of the heathen, whom the Lord had cast out before the children of Israel.

3 For hee went backe and built the high places, * which Hezekiah his father had destroyed: and hee crected vp altars for Baal, and made a grone, as did Ahab king of Israel, and worshipped all the holie of heauen and serued them.

4 Also hee built altars in the house of the Lord, of the which the Lord said, * In Ierusalem will I put my Name.

5 And hee built altars for all the beste of the heauen in the two courts of the house of the Lord.

6 And hee caused his sonnes to passe thorow the fire, and gaue himselfe to witchcraft and soecrite, and hee used them that had familiar spirits, and were soothsayers, and did much euill in the sight of the Lord to anger him.

7 And he set the image of the grone, that he had made in the house, whereof the Lord had said to Dauid & to Salomon his sonne, * In this house, and in Ierusalem, which I haue chosen out of all the tribes of Israel, will I put my Name for euer.

8 Neither will I make the secte of Israel mooue any more out of the land, which I gaue their fathers: so that they wil obserue and doo all that I haue commanded them, and according to all the Law that my seruant Moses commanded them.

9 Yet they obeyed not, but Manasseh led them out of the way, to doe moe wickedly then did the heathen people, whom the Lord destroyed before the children of Israel.

10 Therefore the Lord spake by his seruants the Prophets, saying,

11 * Because that Manasseh king of Iudah hath done such abominations, and hath wrought moe wickedly then all that the Amorites (which were before him) did, and hath made Iudah sinne also with his idoles, 12 Therefore thus saith the Lord God of Israel, Behold, I will bring an euil vpon Ierusalem and Iudah, that who so heareth of it, both his eares shall tingle.

13 And I will stretch ouer Ierusalem the line of Samaria, and the plummet of the house of Ahab: and I will wipe Ierusalem, as a man wipech a dish, which hee wipech, and turnerh it upside downe.

14 And I will forsake the remnant of mine inheritance, and deliuer them into the hand of their enemies, and they shall be robbed and spoyled of all their aduenticaries, 15 Because they haue done euill in my sight, and haue prouoked me to anger, since the tyme their fathers came out of Egypt, vntill this day.

16 Moreover Manasseh shed innocent blood exceeding much, till hee replenished Ierusalem from corner to corner, beside his sinne wherewith hee made Iudah to sinne, and to doe euill in the sight of the Lord.

17 Concerning the rest of the actes of Manasseh, and all that hee did, and his sinne that hee sinned, are they not written in the booke of the Chronicles of the Kings of Iudah?

18 And Manasseh slept with his fathers, and was buried in the garden of his owne house, euen in the garden of Azza: and Amon his sonne reigned in his stead.

19 Amon was two and twenty yere old, when hee began to reigne, and hee reigned two yere in Ierusalem: his mothers name also was Hephzibulmeth the daughter of Haruz of Iobab.

20 And hee did euill in the sight of the Lord, as his father Manasseh did.

21 For hee walked in, and serued the idoles that his father serued, and worshipped them.

22 And hee forsooke the Lord God of his fathers, and walked not in the way of the Lord.

23 And the seruants of Amon conspired against him, and slew the King in his owne house.

24 And the people of the land slewe all them that had conspired against King Amon, and the people made Iosiah his sonne King in his stead.

25 Concerning the rest of the actes of Amon, which hee did, are they not written in the booke of the Chronicles of the Kings of Iudah?

26 And they buried him in his sepulchre in the garden of Azza: and Iosiah his sonne reigned in his stead.

Iosiah was eight yere old when hee began to reigne, and hee reigned one and thirtie yere in Ierusalem. His mothers name also was Jedidah, the daughter of Adaiaph of Bozath.

2 And hee did vprightly in the sight of the Lord, and walked in all the wayes of Dauid his father, and bowed neither to the right hand, nor to the left.

3 And in the eighteenth yere of King Iosiah, the King sent Shephaniah the sonne of Azaiaph, the sonne of Meshullam the chanceller, to the house of the Lord, saying,

6 To wit, vnto the artificers and carpenters and masons, and to buy timber, and hewed stone to repaire the house.

7 Howbeit let no reckoning bee made with them of the money, that is deliuered into their hand: for they deale faithfully.

8 And Hilkiah the high Priest said vnto Shaphan the chanceler, I haue found the booke of the Law in the house of the Lord: and Hilkiah gaue the booke to Shaphan, and he read it.

9 So Shaphan the chanceler came to the King, and brought him word againe, and said, Thy seruants haue gathered the money, that was found in the house, and haue deliuered it into the hands of them that doe the worke, & haue the oversight of the house of the Lord.

10 Also Shaphan the chanceler shewed the King, saying, Hilkiah the Priest hath deliuered me a booke. And Shaphan read it before the King.

11 And when the King had heard the words of the booke of the Law, he rent his clothes.

12 Therefore the King commanded Hilkiah the Priest, and Ahikam the sonne of Shaphan, and Achboz the sonne of Bichabab, and Shaphan the chanceler, and Ashabiah the Kings seruant, saying,

13 Go ye and enquire of the Lord for me, and for the people, and for all Iudah, concerning the words of this booke that is found: for great is the wrath of the Lord that is kindled against vs, because our fathers haue not obeyed the words of this booke, to doe according vnto all that which is written therein for vs.

14 So Hilkiah the Priest, and Ahikam, and Achboz, and Shaphan, and Ashabiah went vnto Iudah to the Prophete the wife of Shallum the sonne of Tikvah, the sonne of Harhas keeper of the wardrobe: (and he dwelt in Ierusalem in the s Colledge) and they communed with her.

15 And she answered them, Thus saith the Lord God of Israel, Tell the man that sent you to me, 16 Thus saith the Lord, Behold, I will bring euill vpon this place, and on the inhabitants thereof, euen all the wordes of the booke which the King of Iudah hath read.

17 Because they haue forsaken mee, and haue burnt incense vnto other gods, to anger me with all the wordes of their hands: my wrath also shall be kindled against this place, and shall not be quenched.

18 But to the King of Iudah, who sent you to enquire of the Lord, so shall ye say vnto him, Thus saith the Lord God of Israel, The wordes that thou hast heard, shall come to passe.

19 But because thine heart did melt, and thou hast humbled thy selfe before the Lord, when thou heardest what I spake against this place, and against the inhabitants of the same, to wit, that it should bee destroyed and accursed, and hast rent thy clothes, and wept before mee, I haue also heard it, saith the Lord.

20 Behold therefore, I will gather thee to thy fathers, and thou shalt bee put in thy graue in peace, and thine eyes shall not see all the euill, which I will bring vpon this place. Thus they brought the King word againe.

CHAP. XXIII.

2 Iosiah readeth the Law before the people. 3 He maketh a covenant with the Lord. 4 Hee putteth downe the idoles after he had killed their Priests. 22 He keepeth Pascheouer. 24 He destroyeth the co-surers. 29 He was killed in Megiddo, 30 And his sonne Iehoahaz reigneth in his stead. 33 After he was taken, his sonne Iehoiakim was made King.

Then the King sent, and there gathered vnto him all the Elders of Iudah and of Ierusalem.

2 And the King went vnto the house of the Lord, with all the men of Iudah and all the inhabitants of Ierusalem with him, and the Priests and Prophets, and all the people both small and great: and he read in their eares all the wordes of the booke of the Couenant, which was found in the house of the Lord.

3 And the King stood by the pillar, and made a couenant before the Lord, that they should walke after the Lord, and keepe his Commandements, and his testimonies, and his statutes with all their heart, & with all their soule, that they might accomplish the wordes of this Couenant written in this booke. And all the people stood to the Couenant.

4 Then the King commanded Hilkiah the high Priest, and the Priests of the second order, and the keepers of the doore, to bring out of the Temple of the Lord all the vessels that were made for Baal, and for the groue, and for all the hoist of heauen, and he burnt them without Ierusalem in the fields of Kedon, and caried the powder of them into Beth el.

5 And he put downe the Chemarims, whom the Kings of Iudah had founded to burne incense in the high places, and in the cities of Iudah, and about Ierusalem, and also to them that burnt incense vnto Baal, to the Sunne, and to the Moone, and to the planets, and to all the hoist of heauen.

6 And hee brought out the groue from the Temple of the Lord without Ierusalem vnto the valley Kedon, and burnt it in the valley Kedon, and stampe it to powder, and cast the dust therof vpon the graues of the children of the people.

7 And he brake downe the houses of the Sodomites, that were in the house of the Lord, where the women waite hangings for the groue.

8 Also hee brought all the Priests out of this place, and against the inhabitants of the same, to wit, that it should bee destroyed and accursed, and hast rent thy clothes, and wept before mee, I haue also heard it, saith the Lord.

the cities of Iudah, & defiled the hie places where the Priests had burnt incense, even from Geba to Beer sheba, and destroyed the hie places of the gates that were in the entering in of the gate of Ioshua the gouernour of the citie, which was at the left hand of the gate of the citie.

9 Rememberlesse the Priests of the hie places came not by to the altar of the Lord in Ierusalem, saue onely they did eate of the vnicleaned bread among their brethren.

10 He defiled also Gopheth, which was in the valley of the children of Ammon, that no man should make his sonne or his daughter passe thowre the fire to Molech.

11 He put downe also the holtes that the kings of Iudah had given to the sunne at the entering in of the house of the Lord, by the chamber of Berhan-melech the eunuch, which was ruler of the suburbs, and burnt the charetes of the sunne with fire.

12 And the altars that were on the top of the chamber of Abaz, which the kings of Iudah had made, and the altars which Manasse had made in the two courts of the house of the Lord, did the king breake downe, and hasted thence, and cast the dust of them in the brooke Kedron.

13 Howouer the king defiled the hie places that were before Ierusalem and on the right hande of the mount of corruption (which Salomon the king of Israel had built for Astoroth the idole of the Sidonians, and for Chemosh the idole of the Moabites, and for Milcom the abomination of the children of Ammon)

14 And hee brake the images in pieces, & cut downe the grones, and filled their places with the bones of men.

15 Furthermore, the altar that was at Beth-el, and the high place made by Ierobam the sonne of Nebat, which made Israel to sinne, both this altar, and also the high place brake hee downe, and burnt the high place, and stampd it to powder and burnt the groue.

16 And as Iosiah turned himselfe, hee spied the graues, that were in the mount, and sent and tooke the bones out of the graues, and burnt them vpon the altar, and polluted it, according to the worde of the Lorde that the man of God proclaimed which cried the same words.

17 Then he said, What title is that which I see? And the men of the citie saide vnto him, It is the sepulchre of the man of God, which came from Iudah, and tolde these things that thou hast done to the altar of Beth-el.

18 Then said he, Let him alone: let none remoue his bones. So his bones were saued with the bones of the Prophet that came from Samaria.

19 Iosiah also tooke away all the houses of the hie places, which were in the cities of Samaria, which the kings of Israel had made to anger the Lord, and did to them according to all the factes that he had done in Beth-el.

20 And hee sacrificed all the Priests of the hie places, that were there vpon the altars, and burnt mens bones vpon them, and returned to Ierusalem.

21 Then the king commanded all the people, saying, Keepe the Passouer vnto the Lord your God, as it is written in the booke of this conenant.

22 And there was no Passouer holden like that from the dayes of the Iudges that iudged Israel, nor in all the dayes of the Kings of Israel, and of the Kings of Iudah.

23 And in the eighteenth yeece of king Iosiah was this Passouer celebrated to the Lord in Ierusalem.

24 Iosiah also tooke away them that had familiar spirits, and the soothsayers, and the images and the idoles, and all the abominations that were espied in the lande of Iudah and in Ierusalem, to performe the wordes of the Law, which were written in the booke that Hilkiah the Priest founde in the house of the Lord.

25 Like vnto him was there no King before him that turned to the Lord with all his heart, and with all his soule, and with all his might, according to all the Law of Moses, neither after him arose there any like him.

26 Notwithstanding the Lorde turned not from the fiercenesse of his great wrath wherewith hee was angry against Iudah, because of all the provocations wherewith Manasse had provoked him.

27 Therefore the Lord sayd, I will put Iudah also out of my sight, as I haue put away Israel, and will cast off this citie Ierusalem, which I haue choien, and the house wherof I sayd, My Name shall be there.

28 Concerning the rest of the acts of Iosiah, and all that hee did, are they not written in the booke of the Chronicles of the Kings of Iudah?

29 In his dayes Pharaoh Nechoh king of Egypt, went vpon against the king of Assur to the riuier Perath. And king Iosiah went against him, whom when Pharaoh saw, he slew him at Megiddo.

3 Surely by the b commaundement of the Lord came this vpon Iudah, that hee might put them out of his sight for the sinnes of Manasseh, according to all that hee did.

4 And for the innocent blood that hee shed, (for he filled Ierusalem with innocent blood) therefore the Lord would not pardon it.

5 Concerning the rest of the actes of Jehoiakim, and all that hee did, are they not written in the booke of the Chronicles of the kings of Iudah?

6 So Jehoiakim slept with his fathers, and Jehoiachin his sonne reigned in his stead.

7 And the king of Egypt came no more out of his land: for the king of Babel had taken from the riuier of Egypt, vnto the riuier of Perath, all that pertained to the king of Egypt.

8 Jehoiachin was eightene yeere olde when he began to reigne, and reigned in Ierusalem three moneths. His mothers name also was Nehultha, the daughter of Elna-athan of Ierusalem.

9 And hee did euill in the sight of the Lord, according to all that his father had done.

10 In that time came the seruants of Nebuchad nezzar king of Babel vp against Ierusalem: so the citie was besieged.

11 And Nebuchad-nezzar king of Babel came against the citie, and his seruants did besiege it.

12 Then Jehoiachin the king of Iudah came out against the king of Babel, hee, and his mother, and his seruants, and his princes, and his eunuches: and the king of Babel tooke him in the eight yeere of his reigne.

13 And hee caried out thence all the treasures of the house of the Lord, and the treasures of the kings house, and brake all the vessels of golde, which Salomon king of Irael had made in the Temple of the Lord, as the Lord had sayd.

14 And hee caried away all Ierusalem, and all the princes, and all the strong men of warre, even ten thousand into captiuitie, and all the workemen, and cunning men: so none remained sauing the poore people of the land.

15 And hee caried away Jehoiachin into Babel, and the kings mother, and the kings wiues, and his eunuches, and the mighty of the land caried hee away into captiuitie from Ierusalem to Babel.

16 And all the men of warre, even seuen thousand, and carpenters, and locksmiths a thousand: all that were strong and apt for warre, did the king of Babel bring to Babel captiues.

17 And the king of Babel made Balthazar his vncle king in his stead, and changed his name to Zedekiah.

18 Zedekiah was one and twenty yeere olde when hee began to reigne, and hee reigned eleuen yeeres in Ierusalem. His mothers name also was Hamutal the daughter of Ieremiah of Libnah.

19 And hee did euill in the sight of the Lord, according to all that Jehoiakim had done.

20 Therefore certainly the wrath of the Lord was against Ierusalem and Iudah vntill he cast them out of his sight. And Zedekiah rebelled against the king of Babel.

before his eyes, and put out the eyes of Zedekiah, and bound him in chaines, and caried him to Babel.

8 And in the first moneth, and seventh day of the moneth, which was the nineteenth yeere of King Nebuchad-nezzar King of Babel, came Nebuzar-adan chiefe steward and seruant of the king of Babel, to Jerusalem,

9 And burnt the house of the Lord, and the kings house, and all the houses of Jerusalem, and all the great houses burnt he with fire.

10 And all the armie of the Caldees that were with the chiefe steward, brake downe the walles of Jerusalem round about.

11 And the rest of the people that were left in the citie, and those that were fled and a fallen to the King of Babel, with the remnant of the multitude, did Nebuzar-adan chiefe steward carie away captive.

12 But the chiefe steward left of the pooze of the land to dress the vines, and to till the land.

13 * Also the pillars of brasse that were in the house of the Lord, and the bases, and the brasen Sea that was in the house of the Lord, did the Caldees breake, and caried the brasse of them to Babel.

14 The pots also, and the besomes, and the instruments of musicke, and the incense dishes, and all the vessels of brasse that they ministred in, tooke they away.

15 And the athe pannes, and the basins, and all that was of gold, and that was of silver, tooke the chiefe steward away, 16 With the two pillars, one Sea, and the bases which Salomon had made for the house of the Lord: the brasse of all these vessels was without weight.

17 * The height of the one pillar was eightene cubites, and the chapter thereon was brasse, and the height of the chapter was with networke three cubites, and pomegranates ypon the chapter round about, all of brasse: and likewise was the second pillar with the networke.

18 And the chiefe steward tooke Seraiah the chiefe Priest, and Zephaniah the second Priest, and the three keepers of the doore.

19 And out of the citie hee tooke an Eunuch that had the oversight of the men of warre, and kinsmen of them that were in the Kings presence, which were found in the citie, and Sopher captaine of the hoste, who mustered the people of the land, & threescore men of the people of the land, that were found in the citie.

20 And Nebuzar-adan the chiefe steward tooke them, and brought them to the king of Babel to Riblah.

21 And the King of Babel smote them, and slew them at Riblah in the land of Hamath. So Judah was caried away captiue out of his owne land.

22 * Howbeit there remained people in the land of Judah, whom Nebuchad-nezzar King of Babel left, and made Gedaliah the sonne of Ahikam the sonne of Shaphan ruler over them.

23 Then when all the captaines of the hoste, and their men heard that the King of Babel had made Gedaliah governour, they came to Gedaliah to Mizpah, to wit, Ishmael the sonne of Nethaniah, and Johanan the sonne of Kareah, and Seraiah the sonne of Tanhumeth the Astropharhite, and Jaazaniah the sonne of Baachathi, they and their men.

24 And Gedaliah sware to them, and to their men, and sayd vnto them, feare not to bee the seruants of the Caldees: dwell in the land, and serue the king of Babel, and ye shall be well.

25 * But in the seventh moneth Ishmael the sonne of Nethaniah the sonne of Elishama of the kings seede came, and ten men with him, and smote Gedaliah, and he died, and so did hee the Iewes and the Caldees that were with him at Mizpah.

26 Then all the people both small and great, and the captaines of the armie arose, and came to Egypt: for they were afraid of the Caldees.

27 Notwithstanding in the tenth and thirtieth yeere after Jehoiachin King of Judah was caried away in the twelfth moneth and the tenth and twentieth day of the moneth, Euzl-microdach King of Babel in the yeere that he began to reigne, did lift vp the head of Jehoiachin king of Judah out of the prison,

28 And spake kindly to him, and set his throne about the throne of the kings that were with him in Babel, 29 And changed his prison garments; and he did continually eat bread before him, all the dayes of his life.

30 And his portion was a continual portion given him by the king, euery day a certaine, all the dayes of his life.

THE ARGUMENT.

The Iewes comprehend both these bookes in one, which the Grecians, because of the length, diuide into two: and they are called Chronicles, because they note briefly the histories from Adam to the returne from their captiuitie in Babylon. But these are not those bookes of Chronicles, which are so often mentioned in the bookes of the Kings of Iudah and Iisrahel, which did at large set forth the story of both the kingdomes, and afterward perished in the captiuitie: but an abridgment of the same, and were gathered by Ezra, as the Iewes write, after their returne from Babylon: This first booke booke containeth a briefe rehearsal of the children of Adam vnto Abraham, Izhak, Iaakob and the twelue Patriarkes, chiefly of Iudah and of the reignes of Dauid, because Christ came of him according to the flesh. And therefore it setteth fourth more amply his actes, both concerning ciuill gouernement, and also the administration, and care of things concerning religion, for the good successe wherof he reioyceeth, and giueth thanks to the Lord.

CHAP. I.

The genealogie of Adam and Noah vntill Abraham, 27 And from Abraham to Esau. 35 His children. 43 Kings and Dukes came of him.

1 Adam, 2 Sheth, Enoch, 2 Ikenan, Bahaleel, Iered, 3 Ienoch, Bethushelah, Lamech, 4 Noah, 5 Shem, Ham, and Iapheth.

6 The sonnes of Iapheth were Somer, and Magog, & Madai, and Iauan, and Tubal, and Meshech, and Tiras.

7 And the sonnes of Somer, Achenaz, and Iphath, and Togarmah.

8 Also the sonnes of Iauan, Elisab, and Tarshish, Kittim, and Dodanim.

9 The sonnes of Ham were Cush, and Mizraim, Put, and Canaan.

10 And the sonnes of Cush, Siba, and Hayilab, and Sabta, and Raamah, & Sabtecha. Also the sonnes of Raamah were Sheba and Dedan.

11 And Cush begate Nimrod, who began to be mighty in the earth.

12 And Mizraim begate Ludim, and Anamim, Lehabim, and Naphtubim.

13 And Canaan begate Sidon his first borne, and Heth.

14 And the Jebusite, and the Amozite, and the Girgashite,

15 And the Hiuuite, and the Arkite, and the Sinite,

16 And the Arnadite, and the Zemarite, and the Hamathite.

17 The sonnes of Shem were Elam and Asshur, and Arpachshad, and Lud, and Aram, and Uz, and Hul, and Gether, and Meshech.

18 Also Arpachshad begate Shelah, and Shelah begate Eber.

19 Unto Eber also were borne two sons: the name of the one was Peleg: for in his dayes was the earth diuided: and his brothers name was Joktan.

20 When Joktan begate Almodad and Sheceph, and Hazezmauech, and Ierah, 21 And Hadoram, & Uzal, and Diklah, 22 And Ebal, and Abimael, and Sheba, 23 And Dypir, and Hauilab, and Jobab: all these were the sonnes of Joktan.

24 Shem, 25 Arpachshad, Shelah, 26 Eber, Peleg, Refu, 27 Serug, Nahor, Terah, 28 Abram, which is Abraham, 29 The sonnes of Abraham were Izhak, and Ishmael.

30 These are their generations. The eldest sonne of Ishmael was Rebaioth, and Kedar, and Adbeel, and Hiblaim, 31 Bilhama, and Dunnah, Basla, 32 Dad, and Tema,

33 Jetur, Naphith, and Kedema: these are the sonnes of Ishmael.

34 And Returah Abrahams concubine bare sonnes, Zimran, and Jokshan, and Medan, and Midian, and Ishbak, & Shuah: and the sonnes of Jokshan, Sheba, and Dedan.

35 And the sonnes of Midian were Ephah, and Ephar, and Henoah, & Abida, and Gidazah: all these are the sonnes of Returah.

36 And Abraham begate Izhak: the sonnes of Izhak, Esau and Israhel.

37 The sonnes of Esau were Eliphaz, Reuel, and Teush, and Jaalam, and Kozah.

38 The sonnes of Eliphaz, Teman, and Omar, & Zephi, and Gatam, Kenaz, and 39 Timna, and Amalek.

40 The sonnes of Reuel, Nahath, Zerah, Shammah, and Bizzah.

41 And the sonnes of Seir, Lotan, and Shobal, and Zibeon, and Anah, and Dishon, and Ezer, and Dishan.

42 And the sonnes of Lotan, Hori, and Homam, and Timna Lotans sister.

43 The sonnes of Shobal were Alian, and Hanahath, and Ebal, Shephi, and Dnam. And the sonnes of Zibeon, Aiah, and Anah.

44 The sonne of Anah was Dishon. And the sonnes of Dishon, Amran, and Eshban, and Ithyan, and Chcran.

45 The sonnes of Ezer were Bilhan, and Jaauan, and Jaakan. The sonnes of Dishon were Uz, and Aran.

46 And these were the Kings that reigned in the land of Edom, before a King reigned ouer the children of Israhel, to wit, Bela the sonne of Beor, and the name of his cite was Dinhabah.

47 Then Bela died, & Jobab the sonne of Zerah, son of Bozrah reigned in his stead.

48 And when Jobab was dead, Huscham of the land of the Temantites reigned in his stead.

49 And when Huscham was dead, Hadad the sonne of Bedad, which smote Midian in the felde of Moab, reigned in his stead, and the name of his city was Avith.

50 So Hadad died, and Samlah of Masserah reigned in his stead.

51 And Samlah died, and Shaul of Rehoboth by the riuer reigned in his stead.

52 And when Shaul was dead, Baalhanan the sonne of Achboz reigned in his stead.

53 And Baalhanan died, and Hadad reigned in his stead, and the name of his cite was Pal, and his wiues name Mehetabel the daughter of Matred the daughter of Mezabab.

54 Hadad died also: and there were dukes in Edom, Duke Timna, Duke Ialah,

The sonnes also of Reuben the eldest sonne of Israel (for hee was the eldest, but had defiled his fathers bed, therefore his birthright was given unto the sonnes of Joseph the sonne of Israel, so that the genealogie is not reckoned after his birthright.)

1 For Judah prevailed above his brethren, and of him came the Prince, but the birthright was Josephs.)

2 The sonnes of Reuben the eldest son of Israel, were Hanoch and Pallu, Hozron and Carmi.

3 The sonnes of Joel, Shematah his sonne, Hog his sonne, and Shunehi his sonne, 4 Michah his sonne, Reatah his sonne, and Baal his sonne,

5 Berach his sonne, whome Tilgath Pilenezer king of Assur carried away: hee was a Prince of the Reubenites.

6 And when his brethren in their families reckoned the genealogie of their generations, Jeciel and Zechariah were the chiefe,

7 And Bela the sonne of Azaz, the sonne of SHEMA the sonne of Joel, which dwelt in Arder, even unto Hebo and Baal-meon.

9 Also Eastward he inhabited vnto the entering in of the wilderness from the riuer ¶ Berach: for they had much cattell in the land of Gilead.

10 And in the dayes of Saul they warred with the Hagarims, which fell by their hands: and they dwelt in their tents in all the East parts of Gilead.

11 And the children of Gad dwelt ouer against them in the land of Bashan, vnto Salchah.

12 Joel was the chiefeest, and Shapham the second, but Jaani and Shaphat were in Bashan.

13 And their brethren of the house of their fathers were Michael, and Heshullam, and Sheba, and Sozal, and Jacan, and Sia, and Eber, seuen.

14 These are the children of Abihail, the sonne of Hur, the sonne of Iaroh, the sonne of Gilead, the sonne of Michael, the sonne of Jehishai, the sonne of Jahdo, the sonne of Bus.

15 Abi the sonne of Abdiel, the sonne of Guni was chiefe of the household of their fathers.

16 And they dwelt in Gilead in Bashan, and in the townes thereof, and in all the suburbs of Sharon, by their borders.

17 All these were reckoned by genealogies, in the dayes of Ioram king of Iudah, and in the dayes of Ieroboam king of Israel.

18 The sonnes of Reuben and of Gad, and of halfe the tribe of Manasseh of those that were valiant men, able to beare shield and sword, and to draw a bow, exercised in warre, were foure and forty thousand seuen hundredeth and threelcore, that went out to the warre.

19 And they made warre with the Hagarims, with Fetur, and Naphisi, and Adobah.

20 And they were holpen against them, and Hagarims were deliuered into their hand, and all that were with them: for they cryed to God in the battell, and hee heard them because they trusted in him.

21 And they led away their cattell, euen their camels sixtie thousand, and two hundredeth and fiftie thousand sheepe, and two thousand asses, and of 1 persons a hundredeth thousand.

22 For many fell downe wounded, because the warre was of God. And they dwelt in their steads vntill the captiuitie.

23 And the children of the halfe tribe of Manasseh dwelt in the land, from Bashan vnto Baal Hermon, and Seimr, and vnto mount Hermon: for they increased.

24 And these were the heads of the households of their fathers, euen Ephraim and Ithi, and Eliel and Azriel, and Jeremih, and Hodanah, and Jahdiel, strong men, valiant and famous, heads of the households of their fathers.

25 But they transgressed against the God of their fathers, and went a whoring after the gods of the people of the land whome God had destroyed before them.

26 And the God of Israel stirred up the spirit of Pul king of Assur, and the spirit of Ulgath Pilnezer king of Assur, and hee caried them away: euen the Rubenites, and the Gadites, and the halfe tribe of Manasseh, and brought them vnto Palah, and Habor, and Hara, and to the riuer Gozan, vnto this day.

16 And Obadiab the sonne of Shematah, the sonne of Galal, the sonne of Jeduthun, and Berechiah the sonne of Ala, the sonne of Elkazah that dwelt in the villages of the Propheathites.

17 And the porters were Shallum, and Akkub, and Talmon, and Ahiman, & their brethren: Shallum was the chiefe.

18 For they were porters to this time by companies of the children of Levi vnto the Kings gate Eastward.

19 And Shallum the sonne of Kore the sonne of Ebiasaph the sonne of Korah, and his brethren the Korachites (of the house of their father) were ouer the worke, and office to keepe the gates of the Tabernacle: so their families were ouer the host of the Lord, keeping the entry.

20 And Phinehas the sonne of Eleazar, was their guide, and the Lord was with him.

21 Zechariah the sonne of Bethelenuah was the porter of the doore of the Tabernacle of the Congregation.

22 All these were chosen for porters of the gates, two hundredth and twelue, which were numbred according to their genealogies by their townes. Dauid established these and Samuel the Seer in their perpetuall office.

23 So they and their children had the ouerlight of the gates of the house of the Lord, euen of the house of the Tabernacle by wards.

24 The porters were in foure quarters, Eastward, Westward, Northward, and Southward.

25 And their brethren which were in their townes, came at seuen dayes from thine to time with them.

26 For these foure chiefe porters were in perpetuall office, and were of the Leuites, and had charge of the chambers, and of the treasures in the house of God.

27 And they lay round about the house of God, because the charge was theirs, and they cauled it to be opened euery morning.

28 And certaine of them had the rule of the ministring vessels: for they brought them in by tale, and brought them out by tale.

29 Some of them also were appointed ouer the instruments, and ouer all the vessels of the Sanctuary, and of the flour, and the wine, and the oyle, and the incense, and the sweet odours.

30 And certaine of the sonnes of the Priestes made oymntes of sweet odours.

31 And Batsiabiah one of the Leuites which was the eldest sonne of Shallum the Kohite, had the charge of the things that were made in the frying pan.

32 And other of their brethren the sonnes of Kohath had the ouerlight of the Shewbread to prepare it euery Sabbath.

33 And these are the singers, the chiefe fathers of the Leuites, which dwell in the chambers, and had none other charge: for they had to doe in that bulincle day and night.

34 These were the chiefe fathers of the Leuites according to their generations, and the principall which dwell at Jerusalem.

3 After the death of Saul is Dauid anointed in Hebron. 5 The Iebusites rebell against Dauid, from whom he taketh the tower of Zion. 6 Joab is made capitaine. 10 His valiant men.

Then * all Israel gathered themselves to Dauid vnto Hebron, saying, Behold, we are thy bones and thy flesh.

2 And in times past, euen when Saul was king, thou ledst Israel out and in: and the Lord thy God said vnto thee, Thou shalt feed my people Israel, and thou shalt be capitaine ouer my people Israel.

3 So came all the Elders of Israel to the king to Hebron, and Dauid made a covenat with them in Hebron, before the Lord. And they anointed Dauid king ouer Israel, * according to the word of the Lord by the hand of Samuel.

4 And Dauid and all Israel went to Ierusalem, which is Iebus, where were the Iebusites, the inhabitants of the land.

5 And the inhabitants of Iebus said to Dauid, Thou shalt not come in hither. Neuertheless Dauid tooke the tower of Zion, which is the citie of Dauid,

2.Sam.5.8.

6 And Dauid said, * Whosoever smiteth the Iebusites first, shall be the chiefe and capitaine. So Joab the son of Zeruiah went first vp, and was capitaine.

7 And Dauid dwelt in the tower: therefore they called it the citie of Dauid.

2.Sam.5.9.

12 And after him was Eleazar the sonne of Dodo the Ahoite, which was one of the three valiant men.

13 Hee was with Dauid at Badanim, and there the Philistims were gathered together to battel: and there was a parcel of ground full of barley, and the people fled before the Philistims.

14 And they stood in the middes of the field, and saued it, and slew the Philistims: so the Lord gave a great victorie.

15 And three of the thirty captaines went to a rocke to Dauid, into the caue of Adullam. And the armie of the Philistims camped in the valley of Rephaim.

c This act is referred to Shammab, 2. Sam. 23. 11. which seemeth was the chiefest of these.

16 And when Dauid was in the hold, the Philistims garison was at Beth-lehem.

21 And they helped Dauid against s that band: for they were all valiant men, & were captaines in the hoste.

22 For at that time day by day there came to Dauid to helpe him, vntill it was a great hoste, like the hoste of <sup>h</sup> God.

23 And these are the numbers of the captaines that were armed to battell, and came to Dauid to Hebron to rurne the kingdome of Saul to him, according to the word of the Lord.

24 The children of Judah that bare shield and speare, were sixe thousand and eight hundred armed to the warre.

25 Of the children of Simeon valiant men of warre, seuen thousand & an hundred.

26 Of the children of Leui, foure thousand and sixe hundred.

27 And Jehoiada was the chiefe of them of Aaron: and with him theze thousand and seuen hundred.

28 And his Zadok a yong man very valiant, and of his fathers household came two and twentie captaines.

29 And of the children of Benjamin the brethren of Saul three thousand: for a great part of them vnto that time <sup>k</sup> kept the ward of the house of Saul.

30 And of the children of Ephraim twentie thousand, & eight hundred valiant men and famous men in the household of their fathers.

31 And of the halfe tribe of Manasse eighteene thousand, which were appointed by name to come and make Dauid king.

32 And of the children of Issachar, which were men that had vnderstanding of the times, to know what Israel ought to doe: the heads of them were two hundred, and all their brethren were at their commandement.

33 Of Zabulon that went out to battell, expert in warre, and in all instruments of warre, fittie thousand: which could set the battell in aray: they were not of a double heart.

34 And of Naphtali a thousand captaines, and with them with shield and speare seuen and thirtie thousand.

35 And of Dan expert in battell, eight and twentie thousand and sixe hundred.

36 And of Asher that went out to the battell and were trained in the warres, fourtie thousand.

37 And of the other side of Jordan of the Rubenites, and of the Gadites, and of the halfe tribe of Manasseh with all instruments of warre to fight with, an hundred and twentie thousand.

38 ¶ All these men of warre: that could leade an armie, came with <sup>l</sup> by right heart to Hebron to make Dauid King ouer all Israel: and all the rest of Israel was of one accord to make Dauid King:

39 And there they were with Dauid thre dayes, eating and drinkeing: for their brethren had prepared for them.

40 Moreover, they that were nere them vntill Issachar, and Zabulon, and Naphtali brought bread vpon asses, and on camels, and on mules, & on oxen, euen meate, flour, figges, and ratiins, and wine and oyle, and beenes and keepe abundantly: for there was ioy in Israel.

7 The Arke i brought againe from Kiriathearim to Ierusalem. 9 Vzza dieth because hee touched it.

And Dauid counselled with the captaines of thousands and of hundredths, and with all the gouernours.

2 And Dauid saide to all the Congregation of Israel, If it seeme good to you, and that it puercedeth of the Lord our God, wee will send to and see vnto our brethren, that are left in all the land of Israel (for with them are the Priests and the Leuites in the citie and their suburbs) that they may assemble themselves vnto vs.

3 And we wil bring againe the Arke of our God to vs: for we sought not vnto it in the dayes of Saul.

4 And all the Congregation answered, Let vs doe so: for the thing seemed good in the eyes of all the people.

5 ¶ So Dauid gathered all Israel together from Shihor in Egypt, euen vnto the cuntry of Hamath, to bring the Arke of God from Kiriathearim.

6 And Dauid went vp and all Israel to Baalath, in Kiriathearim, that was in Iudah, to bring vp from thence the Arke of God the Lord that dwelleth betwene the Cherubims, where his Name is called on.

7 And they caried the Arke of God in a new cart out of the house of Abinadab: and Uzza and Ahio guided the cart.

8 And Dauid and all Israel played before God with all their might, both with songs and with harps, and with viols, and with timbrels and with cybals, and with trumpets.

9 And when they came vnto the thre-tyng flooze of Etidon, Uzza put forth his hand to hold the Arke, for the oxen did shake it.

10 But the wrath of the Lord was kindled against Uzza, and hee inote him, because he layed his hand vpon the Arke: so hee died there: before God.

11 And Dauid was angrie, because the Lord had made a breach in Uzza, and hee called the name of that place Perez-Uzza vnto this day.

12 And Dauid feared God that day, saying, How shall I bring in to me the Arke of God?

13 Therefore Dauid brought not the Arke to him into the citie of Dauid, but caused

T<sup>h</sup>en sent Hiram the king of Tyre messengers to Dauid, and cedar trees, with masons and carpenters to build him an house.

2 Therefore Dauid knew that the Lord had confirmed him King ouer Israel, and that his kingdome was lift vp on high, because of his people Israel.

3 Also Dauid took mee wines at Ierusalem, and David begate mee sonnes and daughters.

4 And these are the names of the children which hee had at Ierusalem, Shamua, and Shobab, Nathan, and Salomon,

5 And Ithar, & Elisua, and <sup>b</sup> Elpalet,

6 And Nogah, and Nepheg, & Japhia,

7 And Elisama, and <sup>h</sup> Beilitada, and Eliphalet.

8 But when the Philistines heard that Dauid was a noyned King ouer Israel, all the Philistines came vp to seeke Dauid. And when Dauid heard, hee went out against them.

9 And the Philistines came and spread themselues in the valley of Rephaim.

10 Then Dauid asked counsell at God, saying, Shall I goe by against the Philistines, and wilt thou deliuer them into mine hand? And the Lord said vnto him, Goe vp: for I will deliuer them into thine hand.

11 So they came by to Baal-perazim, and Dauid smote them there: and Dauid said, God hath diuided nine enemies with mine hand, as waters are diuided: therefore they called the name of that place, <sup>c</sup> Baal-perazim.

12 And there they had left their gods: and Dauid said, Let them euen bee burnt with fire.

13 Againe the Philistines came and spred themselues in the valley.

14 And when Dauid asked againe counsell at God, God said to him, Then shalt not goe by after them, but tricke away from them, that thou mayest come vpon them ouer against the mulberie trees.

15 And when thou hearest the noyse of one going in the tops of the mulberie trees, then goe out to battel: for God is gone forth before thee, to smite the hoste of the Philistines.

16 So Dauid did as God had commanded him: and they smote the host of the Philistines from Gibeon euen to Gether.

17 And the fame of Dauid went out into all lands, and the Lord brought the feare of him vpon all nations.

A<sup>n</sup>d Dauid made him houses in the citie of Aof Dauid, and prepared a place for the Arke of God, and pitched for it a tent.

2 Then Dauid said, None ought to carie the Arke of God but the Levites: for the Lord hath chosen them to beare the Arke of the Lord, and to minister vnto him for euer.

3 And Dauid gathered all Israel together to Ierusalem to bring vp the Arke of the Lord vnto his place, which he had ordeined for it.

4 And Dauid assembled the sonnes of Aaron, and the Levites.

5 Of the sonnes of Kohath, Ariel the chiefe, and his brethren fire seape.

6 Of the sonnes of Merari, Alaiah the chiefe, and his brethren two hundred and twentieth.

8 Of the sonnes of Elizaphan, Shemaiab the chiefe, & his brethren two hundred.

9 Of the sonnes of <sup>a</sup> Hebron, Eliel the chiefe, and his brethren fourescore.

10 Of the sonnes of Uzziel, Amminadab the chiefe, and his brethren an hundred and twentie.

11 And Dauid called Zadok and Abiathar the Priests, and of the Levites, Ariel, Alaiab, and Joel, Shemaiab, and Eliel, and Amminadab:

12 And hee said vnto them, Vee are the chiefe fathers of the Levites: sanctifie your selues, and your brethren, and bring vp the Arke of the Lord God of Israel vnto the place that I haue prepared for it.

13 For because yee were not there at the first, the Lord our God made a breach among vs: for we fought him not after due order.

14 So the Priests and the Levites sanctified themselues to bring vp the Arke of the Lord God of Israel.

15 And the sonnes of the Levites bare the Arke of God vpon their shoulders with the barres, as Moyses had commanded, according to the word of the Lord.

16 And Dauid spake to the chiefe of the Levites, that they should appoint certaine of their brethren to sing with instruments of musike, with viols and harpes, and cymbals, that they might make a sound, and lift vp their voice with ioy.

17 So the Levites appointed Heman the sonne of Joel, and of his brethren Alaph the sonne of Berechiah, & of the sonnes of Merari their brethren, Ethan y<sup>e</sup> sonne of Ruthaiab

18 And with them their brethren in the second degree, Zechariah, Ben, & Jaaziel, and Shemiramoth, and Jehiel, and Unni, Eliah, and Benatah, & Paalatiab, and Hattathab, and Eliphaleb, and Hilmeneah, and Obed Edom, and Itiel the peeters.

25 So Dauid and the Elders of Israel & the captaines of thousands went to bring vp the Arke of the Covenant of the Lord from the house of Obed Edom with joy.

26 And because that God helped the Leuites that bare the Arke of the Covenant of the Lord, they offered seven bullockes and seven rammes.

27 And Dauid had on him a linnen garment, as all the Leuites that bare the Arke and the lingers, and Chenaniah that had the chiefe charge of the lingers: and vpon Dauid was a linnen Ephod.

28 Thus all Israel brought vp the Arke of the Lords Covenant with shouting, and sound of cornet, and with trumpets, and with cybals, making a sound with viols and with harpes.

29 And when the Arke of the Covenant of the Lord came into the cite of Dauid, Michal the daughter of Saul looked out at a window, and saw king Dauid dancing and playing, and she despised him in her heart.

1 The Arke being placed, they offer sacrifices. 4 Dauid ordaineth Afaph and his brethren to minister before the Lord. 8 He appointeth a notable Psalme to be sung in praise of the Lord.

9 They brought in the Arke of God, and set it in the midst of the Tabernacle that Dauid had pitched for it, and they offered burnt offerings and peace offerings before God.

2 And when Dauid had made an end of offering the burnt offering and the peace offerings, he blessed the people in the Name of the Lord.

3 And hee dealt to euery one of Israel both man and woman, to euery one a cake of bread, and a piece of flesh, and a bottell of wine.

4 And he appointed certaine of the Leuites to minister before the Arke of y Lord, and to becheare and to thanke and praye the Lord God of Israel,

5 Afaph the chiefe, and next to him Zebartiah, Jeiel, and Shemiramoth, and Jeiel, and Bantitiah, and Eliah, and Benaiah, and Obed Edom, euen Jeiel with instruments, viols and harpes, and Afaph to make a sound with cybals,

6 And Benaiah and Jahaziel Priestes, with trumpets continually before the Arke

N<sup>ow</sup> afterward when Dauid dwelt in his house, hee sayd to Nathan the Prophet, Behold, I dwell in an house of cedar trees, but the Arke of the Lords Couenant remaineth vnder curtains.

2 Then Nathan said to Dauid, Doe all that is in thine heart: for God is with thee. 3 And the same night euen the word of God came to Nathan, saying,

4 Go, and tell Dauid my seruant, Thus sayth the Lord, Thou shalt not build mee an house to dwell in:

5 For I haue dwelt in no house, since the day that I brought out the children of Israel vnto this day, but I haue been from tent to tent, and from habitation to habitation.

6 Wherefore I haue walked with all Israel, sake I one word to any of the Judges of Israel (whom I commaunded to feede my people) saying, Why haue yee not built me an house of cedar trees?

7 Now therefore thus shalt thou say vnto my seruant Dauid, Thus saith the Lord of hostes, I tooke thee from the sheepe-

27 Now therefore it hath pleased thee to blesse the house of thy seruant, that it may be before thee for euer: for thou, O Lord, hast blessed it, and it shall be blessed for euer.

C H A P. XVIII.

1 The battell of Dauid against the Philistims, 2 and against Moab, 3 Zobah, 5 Aram, 12 and Edom.

And after this, Dauid smote the Philistims, and subdued them, and took the Gath, and the villages thereof out of the hand of the Philistims.

2 And he smote Moab, and the Moabites became Dauids seruants, & brought gifts.

3 And Dauid smote Hadarezer king of Zobah vnto Hamath, as hee went to establish his border by the riner Euphrat.

4 And Dauid tooke from him a thousand chariots, and seven thousand horsemen, and twenty thousand footmen, and bestroycd all the chariots, but hee reserued of them an hundred chariots.

5 Then came the Aramites of Damascus to succour Hadarezer king of Zobah, but Dauid slew of the Aramites two and twenty thousand.

6 And Dauid put a garrison in Aram of Damascus, and the Aramites became Dauids seruants, and brought gifts: and the Lord preferred Dauid wheresoener he went.

7 And Dauid tooke the shields of golde that were of the seruants of Hadarezer, and brought them to Ierusalem.

8 And from Tibbath, and from Chun (cities of Hadarezer) brought Dauid exceeding much brasse, wherewith Salomon made the brazen sea, and the pillars and the vessels of brasse.

9 Then Tou king of Hamath heard how Dauid had smitten all the hoste of Hadarezer king of Zobah:

10 Therefore hee sent Hadoram his sonne to king Dauid to salute him, and to releyue with him, because hee had fought against Hadarezer, and beaten him, (for Tou had warre with Hadarezer) who brought all vessels of golde, and siluer, and brasse.

11 And King Dauid did dedicate them vnto the Lord, with the siluer and gold that hee brought from all the nations, from Edom, and from Moab, and from the children of Ammon, and from the Philistims, and from Amalek.

12 And Abisai the sonne of Neriah smote of Edom in the salt valley eightene thousand.

13 And he put a garrison in Edom, and all the Edomites became Dauids seruants: and the Lord preferred Dauid wheresoener he went.

14 So Dauid reigned ouer all Israel, and executed iudgement and iustice to all his people.

15 And Ioab the sonne of Zeruiah was ouer the hoste, and Jehoshaphat the sonne of Ahitub Recorder.

16 And Zadok the sonne of Ahitub, and Abimelech the sonne of Abiathar were the Priests, and Shaulha the Scribe.

17 * And Benarath the sonne of Jehoiada was ouer the Cherethites and the Pelishtites: and the sonnes of Dauid were thiese about the King.

C H A P. XIX.

4 Hanun king of the children of Ammon doth great iniuries to the seruants of Dauid. 6 Hee prepareth an armie against Dauid, 15 and is overcome.

After this also Nabash the king of the children of Ammon died, and his sonne reigned in his stead.

2 And Dauid said, I will shew kindnesse vnto Hanun the sonne of Nabash, because his father shewed kindnesse vnto me. And Dauid sent messengers to comfort him for his father. So the seruants of Dauid came into the land of the children of Ammon to Hanun to comfort him.

3 And the Princes of the children of Ammon sayd to Hanun, Thinkest thou that Dauid doeth honour thy father that he hath sent comforters vnto thee? Are not his seruants come to thee to search, to seeke, and to spye out the land?

4 Therefore Hanun tooke Dauids seruants, and shaued them, and cut off their garments by the haile vnto the buttookes, and sent them away.

5 And there went certaine and tolde Dauid concerning the men: and hee sent to meeete them (for the men were exceedingly ashamed) and the King sayd, Tarry at Iericho vntill your beards be grown: then returne.

6 When the children of Ammon saw that they stanke in the sight of Dauid, then sent Hanun and the children of Ammon a thousand talents of siluer to hire them chariots and horsemen out of Aram Nabarain, and out of Aram Baachah, and out of Edom.

7 And they hired them two and thertie thousand chariots, and the king of Baachah and his people which came and pitched before Medeba: and the children of Ammon gathered themselues together from their cities, and came to the battell.

8 And when Dauid heard, hee sent Joab and all the host of the valiant men.

9 And the children of Ammon came out, and set their battell in aray at the gate of the citie. And the Kings that were come, were by themselues in the field.

10 When Joab sawe that the front of the battell was against him before and behinde, then hee chose out of all the choise of Israel, and set himselfe in aray to meeete the Aramites.

13 Be strong, and let vs shew our selues valiant for our s people, and for the cities of our God, and let the Lord doe that which is good in his owne sight.

14 So Iobab and the people that was with him, came neere before the Aramites vnto the battell, and they fled before him.

15 And when the children of Ammon saw that the Aramites fled, they fled also before Abisai his brother, and entered into the citie: so Iobab came to Ierusalem.

16 And when the Aramites saw that they were discomfited before Israel, they sent messengers and called the Aramites to come forth that were beyond the riuer: and Shophach the captaine of the hoste of Hadarezer went before them.

17 And when it was shewed Dauid, hee gathered all Israel, and went ouer Iordan, and came vnto them, and put himselfe in aray against them: and when Dauid had put himselfe in battell aray to meete the Aramites, they fought with him.

18 But the Aramites fled before Israel, and Dauid destroyed of the Aramites seuen thousand charrets, and fourtie thousand footmen, and killed Shophach the captaine of the hoste.

19 And when the seruants of Hadarezer saw that they fell before Israel, they made peace with Dauid, and serued him. And the Aramites would no more succour the children of Ammon.

CHAP. XX.

1 Rabbah destroyed. 3 The Ammonites tornented. 4 The Philistims are thrice overcome with their giants.

And when the yeere was expired, in the time that kings goe out a warfare, Iobab carried out the strength of the armie, and destroyed the countrey of the children of Ammon, and came and besieged Rabbah (but Dauid taried at Ierusalem) and Iobab smote Rabbah and destroyed it.

2 Then Dauid tooke the crown of their King from off his head, and found it the weight of a talent of golde, with precious stones in it: and it was set on Dauids head, and he brought away the spoyle of the citie exceeding much.

3 And hee carried away the people that were in it, and cut them with sawes, and with harrowes of yron, and with axes: euen thus did Dauid with all the cities of the children of Ammon. Then Dauid and all the people came againe to Ierusalem.

4 And after this also, there arose warre at Gazer with the Philistims: then Sibbechai the Iushathite slew Gippai, of the children of Haraphah, and they were subdued.

5 And there was yet another battell with the Philistims: and Elhanan the sonne of Iair slew Lahmi, the brother of Goliath the Gittite, whose speare staffe was like a weaners beame.

6 And yet againe there was a battell at Gath, where was a man of a great stature, and his fingers were by fives, euen foure and twenty, and was also the sonne of Haraphah.

7 And when hee reuiled Israel, Iehonathan the sonne of Shimea Dauids brother did slay him.

8 These were bozne vnto Haraphah at Gath, and fell by the hand of Dauid, and by the hands of his seruants.

CHAP. XXI.

1 Dauid causeth the people to bee numbred, 14 and there die seuentie thousand men of the pestilence.

And Satan stood by against Israel, and Apronoked Dauid to number Israel.

2 Therefore Dauid sayd to Iobab, and to the rulers of the people, Goe, and number Israel from Beer sheba euen to Dan, and bring it to me, that I may know the number of them.

3 And Iobab answered, The Lord encrease his people an hundred times so many as they be, O my lord the king: are they not all my lords seruants? wherefore doeth my lord require this thing? why should he be a cause of trespasse to Israel?

4 Neuertheless the kings word prevailed against Iobab. And Iobab departed and went thorow all Israel, and returned to Ierusalem.

5 And Iobab gaue the number & summe of the people vnto Dauid: & all Israel were eleuen hundred thousand men that drew sword: and Iudah was foure hundred and seuentie thousande men that drew sword.

6 But the Leuites and Benjamin counted he not among them: for the kings word was abominable to Iobab.

7 And God was displeas'd with this thing: therefore hee smote Israel.

8 Then Dauid sayd vnto God, I haue sinned greatly, because I haue done this thing: but now I beseech thee, remooue the iniquitie of thy seruant: for I haue done very foolishly.

9 And the Lord spake vnto Gad Dauids seer, saying,

10 Goe and tell Dauid, saying, Thus saith the Lord, I offer thee three things: chuse thee one of them, that I may doe it vnto thee.

11 So God came to Dauid, and sayd vnto him. Thus saith the Lord, Take to thee

12 Either three yeeres famine, or three moneths to bee destroyed before thine aduersaries, and the sword of thine enemies to take thee, or else the word of the Loide and pestilence in the lande three dayes, that the Angel of the Lord may destroy thorowout all the coastes of Israel:

Israel: Now therefore advise thee, what word I shall bring againe to him that sent mee.

13 And David said unto God, I am in a wonderfull strait: let mee now fall into the hand of the Lord: for his mercies are exceeding great, and let me not fall into the hand of man.

14 So the Lord sent a pestilence in Israel, and there fell of Israel seventie thousand men.

15 And God sent the Angel into Jerusalem to destroy it. And as he was destroying, the Lord beheld, and he repented of the euill, and said to the Angel that destroyed, It is now enough, let thine hand cease. Then the Angel of the Lord stood by the threshing floore of Orman the Jebusite.

16 And David lift up his eyes, and saw the Angel of the Lord stand betweene the earth and the heauen with his sword drawn in his hand, and stretched out toward Jerusalem. Then David and the Elders of Israel, which were clothed in sacke, fell vpon their faces.

17 And David said unto God, Is it not I that commaunded to murder the people? It is enen I that haue sinned and haue committed euill, but these sheepe, what haue they done? O Lord my God, I beseech thee, let thine hand bee on me, and on my fathers house, and not on thy people for their destruction.

18 Then the Angel of the Lord commaunded Gad to say to David, that David should goe vp, and let vp an altar vnto the Lord in the threshing floore of Orman the Jebusite.

19 So David went by according to the saying of Gad, which hee had spoken in the Name of the Lord.

20 And Orman turned about, and sawe the Angel, and his foure sonnes that were with him, hid themselves, and Orman threshed wheate.

21 And as David came to Orman, Orman looked and saw David, and went out of the threshing floore, and bowed himselfe to David with his face to the ground.

22 And David said to Orman, Giue mee the place of thy threshing floore, that I may build an altar therein vnto the Lord: giue mee for sufficient money, that the plague may be stayed from the people.

23 Then Orman said vnto David, Take it to thee, and let my lord the king doe that which seemeth him good: loe, I giue thee bullockes for burnt offerings, and threshing instruments for wood, and wheat for meate offering, I giue it all.

24 And king David said to Orman, Not so: but I will buy it for sufficient money: for I will not take that which is thine for the Lord, nor offer burnt offerings without cost.

25 So David gaue to Orman for that place six hundred shekels of golde by weight.

26 And David built there an altar vnto the Lord, and offered burnt offerings & peace offerings, and called vpon the Lord, and he answered him by fire from heauen vpon the altar of burnt offering.

27 And when the Lord had spoken to the Angel, hee put vp his sword againe into his sheath.

28 At that time when David sawe that the Lord had heard him in the threshing floore of Orman the Jebusite, then hee sacrificed there.

29 (But the tabernacle of the Lord which Moses had made in the wilderness, and the altar of burnt offering were at that season in the hie place at Gibeon.)

30 And David could not goe before it to aske counsell at God: for hee was afraid of the sword of the Angel of the Lord.)

CHAP. XXII.

1 David prepareth things necessary for the building of the Temple. 6 Hee commaundeth his sonne Salomon to build the Temple of the Lord, which thing he himselfe was forbidden to doe. 9 Vnder the figure of Salomon Christ is promised.

AND David said, This is the house of the Lord God, and this is the altar for the burnt offering of Israel.

2 And David commaunded to gather together the strangers that were in the land of Israel, and hee let masons to hew and polish stones to build the house of God.

3 David also prepared much iron for the nails of the doores and of the gates, and for the turnings, and abundance of brasse passing weight.

4 And cedar trees without number: for the stonemans and they of Tyrus brought much cedarwood to David.

5 And David said, Salomon my sonne is young and tender, and we must build an house for the Lord, magnificentall, excellent, and of great fame and dignitie throughout all countreys. I will therefore now prepare for him. So David prepared very much before his death.

6 Then hee called Salomon his sonne, and charged him to build an house for the Lord God of Israel.

7 And David said to Salomon, By mine house, I purposed with my selfe to build an house for the Name of the Lord my God,

8 But the word of the Lord came to me, saying, Thou hast shed much blood, and hast made great battels: thou shalt not build an house vnto my Name: for thou hast shed much blood vpon the earth in my sight.

9 Behold, a sonne is borne vnto thee, which shall be a man of rest: for I will giue him rest from all his enemies round about: therefore his name is Salomon: and I will send peace and quietnesse vpon Israel in his dayes.

10 He shall build an house for my Name, and hee shall be my sonne, and I will be his father, and I will establish the throne of his kingdom vpon Israel for euer.

11 Now therefore my sonne, the Lord shall bee with thee, and thou shalt prosper, and then shalt build an house for the Lord thy God, as he hath spoken of thee.

16 Of gold, of siluer, and of brasse, and of yron, there is no number: vpon therefore, and bee doing, and the Lord will be with thee.

17 Dauid also commanded all the princes of Israel to helpe Salomon his sonne, saying,

18 Is not the Lord your God with you, and hath giuen you rest on euery side? for he hath giuen the inhabitants of the land into mine hand, and the land is subdued before the Lord, and before his people.

19 Now let your hearts and your soules to leeke the Lord your God, and attile, and build the Sanctuary of the Lord God, to bring the Arke of the covenant of the Lord, and the holy vessels of God into the house built for the Name of the Lord.

CHAP. XXIII.

1 Dauid being olde, ordeined Salomon king. 2 He causeth the Leuites to be numbered, 4 and assigneth them to their offices. 13 Aaron and his sonnes are for the high Priest. 14 The sonnes of Moyses.

¶ When Dauid was olde & full of dayes, hee made Salomon his sonne king ouer Israel.

2 And he gathered together all the princes of Israel with the Iudges and the Leuites.

3 And the Leuites were numbred from the age of thirtie yeere and aboue, and their number according to their (lumme was eight and thirtie thousand men.

4 Of these foure and twentie thousand were set to aduance the worke of the house of the Lord, & fixe thousand were ouerscers and Iudges.

5 And foure thousand were porters, and foure thousand prayed the Lord with instruments which hee made to prayse the Lord.

6 So Dauid diuided offices vnto them, to wit, to the sonnes of Leui, to Gershom, Kohath, and Merari.

7 Of the Gershomites were Laadan and Shimei.

8 The sonnes of Laadan, the chiefe was Jehiel, and Zethai, and Joel, three.

9 The sonnes of Shimei, Shelomith and Haziel, and Haram, three: these were the chiefe fathers of Laadan.

10 Also the sonnes of Shimei were Jahath, Zina, Jemid, and Beriah: these foure were the sonnes of Shimei.

11 And Jahath was the chiefe, and Jizabab the second, but Jemid and Beriah had not many sonnes: therefore they were in the families of their father, counted but as one.

12 The sonnes of Kohath were Amram, Izhar, Hebron, and Uzziel, foure.

13 The sonnes of Amram, Aaron, and Moses: and Aaron was separated to sanctifie the most holy place, he and his sonnes for euer to burne incense before the Lord, to minister to him, and to blesse in his Name for euer.

14 Moses also the man of God, and his children were named with the tribe of Leui.

15 The sonnes of Moses were Gershom, and Elezer.

16 Of the sonnes of Gershom was Shebuel the chiefe.

17 And the soune of Elezer was Rehabiah the chiefe: for Elezer had none other sonnes: but the sonnes of Rehabiah were very many.

18 The sonne of Izhar was Shelomith the chiefe.

19 The sonnes of Hebron were Jertiah the first, Amariah the second, Jahaziel the third, and Jekamiam the fourth.

20 The sonnes of Uzziel were Michah the first, and Jishiah the second.

21 The sonnes of Merari were Bahli and Husi. The sonnes of Bahli, Eleazar and Kith.

22 And Eleazar died, and had no sonnes, but daughters, & their brethren the sonnes of Kith tooke them.

23 The sonnes of Husi were Bahli, and Eder, and Jerimoth, three.

24 These were the sonnes of Leui according to the house of their fathers, euen the chiefe fathers according to their offices, according to the number of names, and their summe that did the worke to the seruice of the house of the Lord from the age of twentie yeeres and aboue.

25 For Dauid said, The Lord God of Israel hath giuen rest vnto his people, that they may dwell in Ierusalem for euer.

26 And also the Leuites shall no more beare the Tabernacle and all the vessels to the seruice thereof.

27 Therefore according to the last words of Dauid, the Leuites were numbred from twentie yeere and aboue,

28 And their office was vnder the hand of the sonnes of Aaron, for the seruice of the house of the Lord in the courses, and chambers, and in the purifying of al holy things, and in the worke of the seruice of the house of God,

29 Both for the shew bread, and for the fine flour, for the meate offering, and for the unleaued cakes, and for the fried things, and for that which was roasted, and for all measures and etc,

David assigneth offices vnto the sonnes of Aaron.

These are also the diuisions of the sonnes of Aaron. The sonnes of Aaron were Nadab, and Abihu, Eleazar, and Ithamar.

2 But Nadab and Abihu died before their father, and had no children: therefore Eleazar and Ithamar executed the Priestes office.

3 And David distributed them, euen Zadok of the sonnes of Eleazar, and Ahimelech of the sonnes of Ithamar according to their offices in their ministration.

4 And there were found mo of the sons of Eleazar by the number of men, then of the sonnes of Ithamar, and they diuided them, to wit, among the sonnes of Eleazar, sixteen heads, according to the household of their fathers, and among the sonnes of Ithamar, according to the household of their fathers, eight.

5 Thus they distributed them by lot the one from the other, and so the rulers of the Sanctuarie, and the rulers of the house of God, were of the sonnes of Eleazar, and of the sonnes of Ithamar.

6 And Schemajah the sonne of Netanel the Scribe of the Leuites, wrote them before the King & the Princes, and Zadok the Priest, and Ahimelech the sonne of Abiathar, and before the chiefe fathers of the Priestes & of the Leuites, one family being referred for Eleazar, and another referred for Ithamar.

7 And the first lot fell to Jehoiarib, and the second to Jedatah,

8 The third to Harim, the fourth to Seorim,

9 The fift to Malchiah, the sixt to Bilamin,

10 The seuenth to Hakkoz, the eight to Abiath.

11 The ninth to Ieshua, the tenth to Shecaniah,

12 The eleuenth to Eliashib, the tweift to Jakim,

13 The thirteenth to Huppah, the fourteenth to Iessebeab,

14 The fiftieth to Bilgah, the sixteenth to Immer,

15 The seuenteenth to Hezer, the eighteenth to Haphtizer,

16 The nineteenth to Bethshiah, the twentieth to Iehezekel,

17 The one and twenty to Jachin, the two and twenty to Samui,

18 The three and twenty to Dethai, the four and twenty to Baaziah, 19 These were their orders according to their offices, when they entred into the house of the Lord according to their custome under the hand of Aaron their father, as the Lord God of Israel had commaunded him.

20 And of the sonnes of Leui that remained of the sonnes of Amram, was Shubael, of the sonnes of Shubael, Jedatah, 21 Of Rehabiah, euen of the sons of Rehabiah, the first Ithuah, 22 Of Ithari, Shelemoth, of the sonnes of Shelemoth, Iahath.

23 And his sonnes Ieriah the first, Amariah the second, Iahaziel the third, and Ikameam the fourth,

24 The sonne of Uzziel was Michah, the sonne of Michah was Shamit, 25 The brother of Michah was Mishah, the sonne of Mishah, Sechariah, 26 The sonnes of Merari, were Hahli, and Hushi, the son of Hahziah, was Beno, 27 The sonnes of Merari, of Iahaziah, were Beno, and Shoham, and Zaccur, and Ithi.

28 Of Hahli came Eleazar, which had no sonnes.

29 Of Kish, the sonne of Kish was Jerahmeel.

30 And the sonnes of Hushi were Hahli, and Eder, and Jerimoth: these were sonnes of the Leuites after the household of their fathers.

31 And these also cast lots with their brethren the sonnes of Aaron before King David, and Zadok and Ahimelech and the chiefe fathers of the Priestes, and of the Leuites, euen the chiefe of the families against their younger brethren.

CHAP. XXV.

The fingers are appointed with their places and lots.

David and the captaines of the armie separated for the ministerie the sonnes of Alaph, and Heman, and Jeduthun, who should sing propheties with harpes, with viols, and with cymbals, and their number was euen of the men for the office of their ministery, to wit,

2 Of the sonnes of Alaph, Zaccur, and Ioseph, and Bethaniah, and Aharelah the sonnes of Alaph were vnder the hand of Alaph, which sang propheties by the commission of the king.

3 Of Jeduthun the sonnes of Jeduthun, Gedaliah, and Seri, and Ieshaiab, Ahabiah, and Mattithiah, sixe, vnder the hands of their father: Jeduthun sang propheties with an harpe, for to give thanks and to praise the Lord.

4 Of Heman, the sons of Heman, Bukkiab, Paraniab, Uzziel, Shebuel, and Jerimoth, Hananiah, Hanani, Eliabab, Sidvairt, and Romamir-ezer, Ioshebekasab, Mallorch, Horhic and Mahazioth.

5 All these were the sons of Heman the Kings Seer in the words of God to lift by the home: and God gaue to Heman fourteene sonnes and three daughters.

CHAP. XXXI.

1 The porters of the Temple are ordained, euery man to the gate which he should keepe, 20 ouer the treasure.

Concerning the diuisions of the porters of the Kohites, Bethelmeiah the sonne of Koze of the sonnes of Alaph.

2 And the sonnes of Bethelmeiah, Zebariah the eldest, Iediel the second, Zebadiah the third, Nathaniel the fourth,

3 Elam the fifth, Jehohanan the sixth, and Etobenai the seuenth.

4 And of the sonnes of Dbed Edom, Shemaiah the eldest, Jehozabab the second, Joah the third, and Sacar the fourth, and Bethaneel the fifth.

5 Ammiel the sixth, Iffachar the seuenth, Deulebat the eighth: for God had blessed him.

6 And to Shemaiah his sonne, were sonnes borne that ruled in the house of their father: for they were men of might.

7 The sonnes of Shemaiah were Dethan, and Rephael, and Dbed, Elzabad & his brethren strong men: Elub also, and Semachiah.

8 All these were of the sonnes of Dbed Edom, they and their sonnes and their brethren mighty & strong to serue, euery threescore and two of Dbed Edom.

9 And of Bethelmeiah sonnes and brethren eigheteen mighty men.

10 And of Holah of the sonnes of Merari, the sonnes were Shuri the chiefe, and (though he was not the eldest, yet his father made him the chiefe)

11 Helkiah the second, Tebaliah the third, and Zebariah the fourth: all the sons and the brethren of Holah were thirtene.

12 Of these were the diuisions of the porters of the chiefe men, hauing the charge against their brethren, to serue in the house of the Lord.

13 And they cast lottes both small and great for the house of their fathers, for euery gate.

14 And the lot on the East side fell to Bethelmeiah: then they cast lots for Zebariah his sonne, a wise counsellor, & his lot came out Northward:

15 To Dbed Edom Southward, and to his sonnes the house of Aluppin.

16 To Shuppin, and to Holah Westward with the gate of Shallecheh by the paved street that goeth byward, ward ouer against ward.

17 Eastward were five Levites, and Northward foure a day, and Southward foure a day, and toward Aluppin, two and two.

18 In Parbar toward the West were foure by the paved street, and two in Parbar.

19 These are the diuisions of the Porters of the sonnes of Koze, and of the sonnes of Merari.

CHAP. XXVIII.

3 Because David was forbidden to builde the Temple, he willeth Salomon and the people to performe it, 9 exhorting him to feare the Lord.

Now David assembled all the princes of Israel: the princes of the tribes, and the captaines of the bands that serued the king, and the captaines of thousands, and the captaines of hundreds, and the rulers of all the substance and possession of the king, and of his sonnes, with the Eunuches, and the mightie, and all the men of power vnto Ierusalem.

2 And king David stode by vpon his feete, and sayd, heare yee mee, my brethren and my people: I purposed to haue built an house of rest for the Arke of the couenant of the Lord, and for a footestoolle of our God, and haue made ready for the building.

3 But God said vnto mee, Thou shalt not build an house for my name, because thou hast bene a man of warre, and hast shed blood.

4 Yet as the Lord God of Israel chose me before all the house of my father, to bee king ouer Israel for euer (for in Iudah would hee chuse a prince, and of the house of Iudah is the house of my father, & among the sonnes of my father he delighted in mee to make me king ouer all Israel.)

5 So of all my sonnes (for the Lord hath giuen me many sonnes) hee hath euen chosen Salomon my sonne to sit vpon the throne of the kingdome of the Lord ouer Israel.

6 And hee said vnto me, Salomon thy sonne, hee shall build mine house & my courts: for I haue chosen him to be my sonne, and I will be his father.

7 I will stablish therefore his kingdome for euer, if hee endeavour himselfe to doe my commandements, and my iudgements, as this day.

8 Now therefore in the sight of all Israel the Congregator of the Lord, and in the audience of our God, keepe and seeke for all the commandements of the Lord your God, that yee may possesse this good land, and leaue it for an inheritance for your children after you for euer.

9 And thou, Salomon my sonne, know thou the God of thy father, and serue him with a perfect heart, & with a willing mind: For the Lord searcheth all hearts, & vnderstandeth all the imaginations of thoughts: if thou seeke him, hee will be found of thee: but if thou forsake him, he will cast thee off for euer.

10 Take heede now, for the Lord hath chosen thee to build the house of the Sanctuarie: be strong therefore, and doe it.

11 Then David gaue to Salomon his sonne the paterne of the porche and of the houses thereof, and of the closets thereof, and of the galleries thereof, and of the chambers thereof that are within, and of the house of the mercle seat,

12 And the paterne of all that he had in his minde for the courses of the house of the Lord, and for all the chambers round about, for the treasures of the house of God, and for the treasures of the dedicate things,

13 And for the courses of the Priests, and of the Leuites, and for all the worke for the seruice of the house of the Lord, and for all the vessels of the ministerie of the house of the Lord.

14 Hee gaue of gold by weight, for the vessels of golde, for all the vessels of all manner of seruice, and al the vessels of silver by weight, for al manner of vessels of al manner of seruice.

15 The weight also of gold for the candlestickes, and gold for their lamps, with the weight for every candlesticke, and for the lamps thereof, and for the candlestickes of silver by the weight of the candlesticke, and the lamps thereof, according to the vse of euery candlesticke,

16 And the weight of the gold for the tables of shewbread, for euery table, and silver for the tables of silver,

17 And pure gold for the fleshhookes, and the bowles, and plates, and for basins, gold in weight for euery basin, and for silver basins by weight for euery basin,

18 And for the altar of incense pure gold by weight, and golde for the paterne of the charret of the Cherubs, that spread themselves, and covered the Arke of the couenant of the Lord:

19 All said he, by writing sent to mee by the hand of the Lord which made mee vnderstand all the workemanshippe of the paterne.

20 And David sayd to Salomon his sonne, Be strong, and of a valiant courage and do it: feare not nor be afraid: for the Lord God, euen my God is with thee: he will not leaue thee nor forsake thee, till thou hast finished all the worke for the seruice of the house

C H A P. XXIX.

2 The offering of David and of the princes for the building of the Temple. 10 David giueth thanks to the Lord. 20 He exhorteth the people to do the same. 22 Salomon is created King. 28 David dieth, and Salomon his sonne reigneth in his stead.

Moreouer David the King sayd vnto all the Congregation, God hath chosen Salomon mine onely sonne yong and tender, and the worke is great; for this house is not for man, but for the † Lord God.

2 Now I haue prepared with all my power for the house of my God, golde for vessels of golde, and siluer for them of siluer, and brasse for things of brasse, yron for things of yron, and wood for things of wood, and Onyx stones, and stones to be set, and carbuncle stones, and of diuers colours, and all precious stones, and marble stones, in abundance.

3 Moreover, because I haue <sup>b</sup> delight in the house of my God, I haue of mine owne golde and siluer, which I haue giuen to the house of my God, beside all that I haue prepared for the house of the Sanctuarie,

4 Euen <sup>c</sup> three thousand talents of gold of the golde of Ophir, and seuen thousande talents of fined siluer to ouerlay the walles of the houses.

5 The golde for the things of golde, and the siluer for things of siluer, and for all the worke by the hands of artificers: and who is <sup>e</sup> willing I to fill his hand to day vnto the Lord?

6 So the princes of the families, and the princes of the tribes of Israel, and the captaynes of thousandes and of hundredes, with the Rulers of the Kings worke, offered willingly,

7 And they gaue for the seruice of the house of God, five thousand talents of gold, and ten thousand pices, and ten thousande talents of siluer, and eightene thousand talents of brasse, and one hundredeth thousand talents of yron.

8 And they with whom precious stones were <sup>e</sup> found, gaue them to the treasure of the house of the Lord, by the hand of Jehiel the Gerhummite.

9 And the people reioiced when they offered willingly: for they offered willingly vnto the Lord, with a <sup>f</sup> perfect heart. And David the King also <sup>g</sup> reioyced with great ioy.

10 Therefore David blessed the Lord before all the Congregation, and David sayd, Blessed be thou, O Lord God of Israel our father, for euer and euer.

11 Thine, O Lord, is greatnesse, & power, and glory, and victorie, and praise: for all that is in heauen and in earth is thine: thine is the kingdome, O Lord, and thou excel-lest as head ouer all.

 12 Both riches and honour come of thee, and thou reignest ouer all, and in thine hand is power and strength, and in thine hand it is to make great, & to giue strength vnto all.
 13 Now therefore our God wee thanke thee, and praise thy glorious name.

14 But who am I, and what is my people, that wee should be able to offer willingly after this sort: for all things <sup>h</sup> come of thee: and of thine owne hand we haue giuen thee.

15 For we are <sup>i</sup> strangers before thee, and sojourners: like all our fathers: one dayes are like the shadow vpon the earth, and there is none † abiding.

16 O Lord our God, all this abundance that we haue prepared to build thee an house for thine holy name, is of thine hand, and all is thine.

17 I know also, my God, that thou <sup>k</sup> triest the heart and hast pleasure in righteousness: I haue offered willingly in the brightness of mine heart at these things: now also haue I scene thy people which are founde here, to offer vnto thee willingly with ioy.

18 O Lord God of Abraham, Izhak and Israel our fathers, keepe this for euer in the <sup>k</sup> purpose, and the thoughts of the heart of thy people, and prepare their hearts vnto thee.

19 And giue vnto Salomon my sonne a perfect heart to keepe thy commandements, thy testimonies and thy statutes, and to doe all thy things, and to build the house which I haue prepared.

20 O And David said to all the Congregation, Now blesse the Lord your God. And all the Congregation blessed the Lord God of their fathers, and bowed downe their heads, and worshipped the Lord, and the <sup>l</sup> King.

21 And they offered sacrifices vnto the Lorde, and on the morrow after that day, they offered burnt offerings vnto the Lord, euen a thousande yong bullockes, a thousand rammes, and a thousand sheepe, with their <sup>m</sup> drinke offerings, and sacrifices in abundance for all Israel.

22 And they did eate, and drinke before the Lord the same day with great ioy, and they made Salomon the sonne of David King the second time, and anoynted him Prince before the Lord, and Zadok for the hie Priest.

23 So Salomon sat on the <sup>n</sup> throne of the Lord, as King in stead of David his father, and prospered: and all Israel obeyed him.

24 And all the princes & men of power, and all the sonnes of King David † submitted them selues vnder King Salomon.

25 And the Lord magnified Salomon in dignitie, in the sight of all Israel, and gaue him so glorious a kingdome, as no King had before him in Israel.

THE ARGUMENT.

THis second booke conteineth briefly in effect that, which is comprehended in the two bookes of the Kings: that is, from the reigne of Salomon to the destruction of Ierusalem, and the carying away of the people captiue into Babylon. In this story are certaine things declared and set forth more copiously then in the bookes of the Kings, and therefore serue greatly to the vnderstanding of the Prophetes. But three things are here chiefly to be considered. First that the godly Kings, when they saw the plagues of God prepared against their country for sinne, had recourse to the Lord, and by earnest prayer were heard, and the plagues remooued. The second, how it is a thing that greatly offendeth God, that such as feare him and professe his Religion, should ioyne in amitie with the wicked. And thirdly, how the good Rulers euer loued the Prophetes of God, and were very zealous to set forth his Religion throughout all their dominions, and contrariwise the wicked hated his Ministers, deposited them, and for the true Religion and word of God, set vp idolatry, and serued God according to the fantasie of men. Thus haue we hitherto the chiefe acts from the beginning of the world to the building againe of Ierusalem, which was the two and thirtieth yeere of Darius, and containe in the whole, three thousand sixe hundredeth, threescore and eightene yeeres, and sixe moneths.

CHAP. I.

6 The offering of Salomon at Gibeon. 8 Hee prayeth vnto God to giue him Wisdome: 11 Which he giueth him and more. 14 The number of his charres and horses. 15 And of his riches.

Or, established and strong, reade 1. King. 2. 40.

When Salomon the sonne of David was confirmed in his kingdome: and the Lord his God was with him, and magnified him highly.

2 And Salomon spake vnto all Israell, to the captaiues of thousands, and of hundredths, and to the Judges, and to all the gouernours in all Israell, euen the chiefe fathers.

3 So Salomon and all the Congregation with him went to the high place that was at Gibeon: for there was the Tabernacle of the Congregation of God which Moses the seruant of the Lord had made in the wilderness.

4 But the Arke of God had David brought vp from Kiriathearim, when Dauid had made preparation for it: so he had pitched a tent for it in Ierusalem.

5 Moreover the brazen Altar that Bezaleel the sonne of Uri, the sonne of Hur had made, did he set before the Tabernacle of the Lord: and Salomon and the Congregation sought it.

6 And Salomon offered there before the Lord vpon the brazen Altar that was in the Tabernacle of the Congregation: * euen a thousand burnt offerings offered he vpon it.

7 The same night did God appeare vnto Salomon, and saide vnto him, Alke what I shall giue thee.

8 And Salomon sayd vnto God, Thou hast shewed great mercy vnto Dauid my father, and hast made mee to reigne in his stead.

9 Now therefore, O Lord God, let thy promise vnto Dauid my father bee true:

for thou hast made mee King ouer a great people, like to the dust of the earth.

10 Giue mee now wisdom and knowledge, that I may goe out and goe in before this people: for who can iudge this thy great people?

11 And God said to Salomon, Because this was in thine heart, and thou hast not asked riches, treasures, nor honour, nor the likes of thine enemies, neither yet hast asked long life, but hast asked for thee wisdom and knowledge, that thou mightest iudge my people, ouer whom I haue made thee King, 12 Wisdom and knowledge is granted vnto thee, and I will giue thee riches, and treasures & honour, so that there hath not bene the like among the kings which were before thee, neither after thee shall there be the like.

13 Then Salomon came from the high place that was at Gibeon, to Ierusalem from before the Tabernacle of the Congregation, and reigned ouer Israell.

14 And Salomon gathered the charres and horsen: and hee had a thousand and foure hundred charres, and twelue thousand horsen, whom hee placed in the charre cities, and with the king at Ierusalem.

15 And the king gaue silver and gold at Ierusalem as stones, and gaue cedar trees as the wilde figge trees, that are abundantly in the plaine.

16 Also Salomon had horses brought out of Egypt and fine linnen: the kings merchants receiued the fine linnen for a price.

17 They came by ass and brought out of Egypt some charre, worth sixe hundred shekels of silver, that is, an horse for an hundred and fiftie: and thus they brought horses to all the kings of the Iddities, and to the kings of Aram by their means.

CHAP. II.

2 The number of Salomon workemen to build the Temple. 3 Salomon fendeth to Hiram the king of Tyrus for wood and workemen.

Then Salomon determined to builde an house for the Name of the Lord, and an house for his kingdome.

2 And Salomon told out seuentie thousand that bare burdens, & fourescore thousand men to hewe stones in the mountaine, and these thousand and a lxx hundred to ouerseeke them.

3 And Salomon sent to Hiram the king of Tyus, saying, As thou hast done to Dauid my father, and diddest send him Cedar trees to build him an house to dwell in, so doe to me.

4 Beholde, I build an house vnto the Name of the Lord my God, to sanctifie it vnto him, and to burne sweet incense before him, and for the continuall hew bread, and for the burnt offerings of the morning, and evening, on the Sabbath days, and in the new moeths, and in the solemne feasts of the Lord our God: this is a perpetuall thing for Israel.

5 And the house which I build, is great: for great is our God aboue all gods.

6 Who is hee then that can bee able to build him an house, when the heauen, & the heauen of heauens can not containe him? who am I then that I should build him an house? but I doe it to burne incense before him.

7 Send me now therfore a cunning man that can worke in gold, in siluer, & in brasse, and in yron, and in purple, and in cristall, and in blue sitke, and that can graue in grauen worke with the cunning men that are with me in Iudah and in Ierusalem, whom Dauid my father hath prepared.

8 Send me also Cedar trees, firre trees and Algummin trees from Lebanon: for I know that thy seruants can skill to hewe timber in Lebanon: and behold, my seruants shalbe with thine, 9 That they may prepare mee timber in abundance: for the house which I do build, is great and wonderfull.

10 And beholde, I will giue to thy seruants the cutters and the hewers of timber, twenty thousand measures of beaten wheat and twenty thousand measures of barley, and twentie thousand bashes of wine, and twentie thousand bashes of oyle.

11 Then Hiram king of Tyus answered in writing which hee sent to Salomon, Because the Lord hath loued his people, he hath made thee king ouer them.

12 Hiram said moreover, Blessed be the Lord God of Israel which made the heauen and the earth, and that hath giuen vnto Dauid the king a wife: some that hath decretion, prudence and vnderstanding to build an house for the Lord, and a palace for his kingdome.

13 Now therfore I haue sent a wise man, and of vnderstanding of my father Hiram,

14 The son of a woman of the danghters of Dan: and his father was a man of Tyus, and he can skill to worke in gold, in siluer, in brasse, in iron, in stone, and in timber, in purple, in blue sitke, and in fine linnen, and in crimolite, and can graue in all grauen workes, and boyder in all boydered worke that shall bee giuen him, with thy cunning men, and with the cunning men of my lord Dauid thy father.

15 Now therfore the wheat and the barley, the oyle, and the wine, which my lord hath spoken of, let him send vnto his seruants.

16 And wee will cut wood in Lebanon as much as thou shalt neede, and will bring it to thee in rafts by the sea to Iapho, & thou mayest carry them to Ierusalem.

17 And Salomon numbred all the strangers that were in the land of Israel, after the numbering that his father Dauid had numbred them: and they were found an hundredth and thre and fiftie thousand, and lxx hundredth.

18 And hee set seuentie thousand of them to the burden, and fourescore thousand to hewe stones in the mountaine, and these thousand and lxx hundredth ouerseeers to caule the people to worke.

CHAP. III.

1 The Temple of the Lord and the porch are builded, with other things thereto belonging.

2 Salomon began to build the house of the Lord in Ierusalem, in Mount Moriah which had bene declared vnto Dauid his father, in the place that Dauid prepared in the thersyng floore of Oman the Jebusite.

2 And hee began to build in the second moeth and the second day, in the fourth yere of his reigne.

3 And these are the measures, whereon Salomon grounded to build the house of God: the length of cubites after the first measure was threescore cubites, & the breadth twentie cubites:

4 And the porch, that was before the length in the front of the bredth was twentie cubits, and the height was an hundredth and twentie, and he overlaid it with pure gold.

5 And the greater house he sieled with firre tree which hee overlaid with good gold, and graued thereon palme trees and chaires.

6 And hee overlaid the house with precious stone for beautie: and the golde was gold of Daruaim.

7 The house, I say, the braemes, postes, and walles thereof, and the doores thereof overlaid hee with gold, and graued Cherubims vpon the walles.

8 Hee made also the house of the most holy place: the length thereof was in the front of the breadth of the house, twenty cubites, and the breadth thereof twentie cubites: and he overlaid it with the best gold, of lxx hundredth talents.

9 And the weight of the nailes was fiftie shekels of gold, and hee overlaid the chambers with gold.

f It is also written that there was of the tribe of Naphtali, 1. King. 7. 14. which may be vnderstood that by reason of the confusion of tribes, which then began to be, they married in diuers tribes, so that by her father she might be of Dan, and by her mother of Naphtali.

11 And the wings of the Cherubims were twenty cubites long: the one wing was five cubites, reaching to the wall of the house, and the other wing five cubites, reaching to the wing of the other Cherub.

12 Likewise the wing of the other Cherub was five cubites, reaching to the wall of the house, and the other wing five cubites, toying to the wing of the other Cherub.

13 The wings of these Cherubims were spread abroad twenty cubites: they stood on their feet, and their faces were toward the house.

14 He made also the vail of blue silke, and purple, and crimolin, and fine linnen, and wrought Cherubims thereon.

15 And hee made before the house two pillars of fine and thirty cubites hee: and the chapiter that was upon the top of each of them, was five cubites.

16 He made also chaines for the Oracle, and put them on the heades of the pillars, & made an hundred pomegranates, and put them among the chaines.

17 And hee set up the pillars before the Temple, one on the right hand, & the other on the left, and called that on the right hand Jachin, and that on the left hand Boaz.

CHAP. IIII.

1 The altar of brasse. 2 The molten sea. 6 The caldrons. 7 The candlestickes, &c.

And he made an altar of brasse twenty cubites long, and twenty cubites broad, and ten cubites high.

2 And he made a molten Sea of ten cubites from brim to brim, round in compass, and five cubites high: and a line of thirtie cubites did compass it about.

3 And under it was the fashion of oven, which did compass it round about, tenne in a cubite compassing the Sea about: two rowes of open were cast when it was molten.

4 It stood upon twelve oven: three looked toward the North, and three looked toward the West, and three looked toward the South, and three looked toward the East, and the Sea stood above upon them, and all their hinder parts were inward.

5 And the thickness thereof was an hand breadth, and the brim thereof was like the worke of the brim of a cuppe, with flowers of lilies: it contained three thousand baths.

6 He made also ten caldrons, and put five on the right hand, and five on the left, to wash in them, and to cleanse in them that which appertained to the burnt offerings: but the Sea was for the Priests to wash in.

7 And he made tenne candlestickes of gold, (according to their forme) and put them in the Temple, five on the right hand, and five on the left.

8 And hee made ten tables, and put them in the Temple, five on the right hand, and five on the left: and hee made an hundred basens of gold.

9 And he made the court of the Priests, and the great Court, and doores for the Court, and overlaid the doores therof with brasse.

10 And hee set the Sea on the right side Eastward toward the South.

11 And Huram made pots, and basens, and basens, and Huram finished the worke that he should make for king Salomon for the house of God.

12 To wit, two pillars, and the bowles and the chapters on the top of the two pillars, & two grates to cover the two bowles of the chapters, which were upon the top of the pillars:

13 And foure hundred pomegranates for the two grates, two rowes of pomegranates for every grate to cover the two bowles of the chapters, that were upon the pillars.

14 Hee made also basens, and made caldrons upon the basens:

15 And a Sea, and twelve bulles under it:

16 Pots also and basens, and fleshhooks, and all these vessels made Huram his father to king Salomon for the house of the Lord, of spinning brasse.

17 In the plaine of Jordan did the king cast them in clay between Succoth and Zeredathah.

18 And Salomon made all these vessels in great abundance: for the weight of brasse could not be reckoned.

19 And Salomon made all the vessels that were for the house of God: the golden altar also & the tables whereon the shewbread stood.

20 Moreover the candlestickes with their lamps to burne them after the manner, before the Oracle, of pure gold.

21 And the flowers, and the lamps, and the snuffers of gold, which was fine gold:

22 And the hooks, and the basens, and the spoones, and the ashyans of pure gold: the entry also of the house and doores thereof within, even of the most holy place: and the doores of the house, to wit, of the Temple were of gold.

4 And all the elders of Israel came, and the Leuites tooke by the Arke.
5 And they caried by the Arke, and the Tabernacle of the Congregation: & all the holy vessels that were in the Tabernacle, those did the Priests and Leuites bring vp.
6 And king Salomon and all the Congregation of Israel that were assembled vnto him, were before the Arke offering heepe and bullockes, which could not bee sold nor numberd for multitude.
7 So the Priests brought the Arke of the Couenant of the Lord vnto his place, into the Place of the house, into the most holy place, euen vnder the wings of the Cherubins.
8 For the Cherubins stretched out their wings ouer the place of the Arke, and the Cherubins couered the Arke, and the bars thereof aboue.
9 And they diuise out the barres, that the endes of the barres might bee seene out of the Arke before the Place, but they were not seene without: and there they are vnto this day.
10 Nothing was in the Arke, saue 4 the two Tables, which Moses gaue at Horeb, where the Lord made a Couenant with the children of Israel, when they came out of Egypt.
11 And when the Priests were come out of the Sanctuarie (for all the Priests that were present, were sanctified and did not waite by course.
12 And the Leuites the singers of al sorts, as of Flaph, of Yeman, of Jeduthun, and of their sonnes, and of their brethren, being clad in fine linnen, stood with cymbals, and with viols and harpes at the East ende of the altar, and with them an hundred and twentie Priests blowing with trumpets:
13 And they were as one, blowing trumpets, and singing, and made one sound to be heard in praying and thanking the Lord, and when they lift by their voice with trumpets, and with cymbals, and with instruments of musicke, and when they praised the Lord, singing, s For hee is good, because his mercy lasteth for euer) then the house, euen the house of the Lord was filled with a cloud, 14 So that the Priest could not stand to minister, because of the cloud: for the glorie of the Lord had filled the house of God.

5 Since the day that I brought my people out of the land of Egypt, I chose no citie of all the tribes of Israel to build an house, that my Name might be there, neither chose I any man to bee a ruler ouer my people Israel:
6 But I haue chosen Jerusalem, that my Name might be there, and haue chosen Dauid to be ouer my people Israel.
7 * And it was in the heart of Dauid my father to build an house vnto the Name of the Lord God of Israel,
8 But the Lord said to Dauid my father, Where as it was in thine heart to build an house vnto my Name, thou didst well that thou wast so minded.
9 Notwithstanding thou shalt not build the house, but thy sonne which shall come out of thy loynes, hee shall build an house vnto my Name.
10 And the Lord hath performed his word that he spake: and I am risen vp in the roome of Dauid my father, and am set on the throne of Israel, as the Lord promised, and haue built an house to the Name of the Lord God of Israel.
11 And I haue set the Arke there, wherein is the Couenant of the Lord, that hee made with the children of Israel.
12 And the King stood before the altar of the Lord, in the presence of all the congregation of Israel, and stretched out his hands,

25 Then heare thou in heauen, and bee mercifull vnto the sinne of thy people, Israel, and bring them againe vnto the land which thou gauest to them and to their fathers.

26 ¶ When heauen shall bee shut vp, and there shall be no raine, because they haue sinned against thee, and shall pray in this place, and confesse thy name, and turne from their sinne, when thou dost afflict them,

27 Then heare thou in heauen, and pardon the sinne of thy seruants, and of thy people Israel (when thou hast taught them the good way wherein they may walke) and giue raine vpon thy land, which thou hast giuen vnto thy people for an inheritance.

28 ¶ When there shall be famine in the land, when there shall be pestilence, blasting, or mildew, when there shall be grasshopper, or caterpillar, when their enemies shall besiege them in the cities of their land, or any plague of any sickness,

29 Then what prayer and supplication soeuer shall bee made of any man, or of all thy people Israel, when euery one shall know his owne plague, and his owne disease, and shall stretch forth his hands toward this house,

30 Heare thou then in heauen, thy dwelling place, and bee mercifull, and giue euery man according vnto all his wayes, as thou dost know his heart (for thou onely knowest the hearts of the children of men)

31 That they may feare thee, and walke in thy wayes as long as they liue in the land which thou gauest vnto our fathers.

32 ¶ Moreover, as touching the stranger which is not of thy people Israel, who shall come out of a farre countrey for thy great names sake, and thy mightie hand, and thy stretched out arme: when they shall come and pray in this house,

33 Heare thou in heauen thy dwelling place, and do according to all that the stranger calleth for vnto thee, that all the people of the earth may know thy name, and feare thee like thy people Israel, and that they may know, that thy name is called vpon in this house which I haue built.

34 ¶ When thy people shall go out to battell against their enemies, by the way that thou shalt send them, and they pray to thee, in the way toward this citie, which thou hast chosen, euen toward the house which I haue built to thy name, 35 Then heare thou in heauen their prayer and their supplication, and iudge their cause.

36 ¶ If they sinne against thee (*for there is no man that sinneth not) and thou be angry with them, and deliuer them vnto the enemies, and they take them and carie them away captiue vnto a land farre or neere,

37 If they turne againe to thine heart in the land whither they bee caried in captiuitie, and turne and pray vnto thee in the land of their captiuitie, saying, We haue sinned, wee haue transgressed and haue done wickedly,

38 If they turne againe to thee with all their heart, and with all their soule in the land of their captiuitie, whither they haue caried them captiues, and pray toward their land, which thou gauest vnto their fathers, and toward the citie which thou hast chosen, and toward the house which I haue built for thy name,

39 Then heare thou in heauen, in the place of thine habitation their prayer and their supplication, and iudge their cause, and be mercifull vnto thy people, which haue sinned against thee.

40 Now my God, I beseech thee, let thine eyes bee open, and thine eares attend vnto the prayer that is made in this place.

41 ¶ Now therefore arise, O Lord God, to come into thy rest, thou, and the Arke of thy strength: O Lord God, let thy Priests be clothed with saluation, & let thy Saints reioyce in goodnesse.

42 O Lord God, refuse not the face of thine anointed: remember the mercies promised to Dauid thy seruant.

1 The fire consumeth the sacrifice. 2 The glory of the Lord filleth the Temple. 12 He heareth his prayer, 17 And promiseth to exalt him and his throne.

¶ And when Salomon had made an end of praying, a fire came downe from heauen, and consumed the burnt offering and the sacrifices: and the glory of the Lord filled the house,

2 So that the Priestes could not enter into the house of the Lord, because the glory of the Lord had filled the Lords house.

3 And when all the children of Israel saw the fire, and the glory of the Lord come downe vpon the house, they bowed themselves with their faces to the earth vpon the pavement, and worshipped, and praised the Lord, saying, For he is good, because his mercie lasteth for euer.

sacrifices before the Lord.

5 And king Salomon offered a sacrifice of two and twenty thousand bullockes, and an hundred and twenty thousand sheepe. So the king and all the people dedicated the house of God.

6 And the Priests waited on their offices, and the Levites with the instruments of musicke of the Lord, which king Dauid had made to praise the Lord, Because his mercie lasteth for ever: when Dauid praised God & by them, the Priests also blew trumpets euer against them: and all they of Israel stood by.

7 Porouer Salomon halowed the middle of the court that was before the house of the Lord: for there bee had prepared burnt offerings, and the fat of the peace offerings, because the brazen altar which Salomon had made, was not able to receive the burnt offering, and the meate offering, and the fatte.

8 And Salomon made a feast at that time of seven dayes, & all Israel with him, a very great congregation, from the entering in of Hamath, vnto the riuier of Egypt.

9 And in the eight day they made a solemne assembly: for they had made the dedication of the altar seven dayes, and the feast seven dayes.

10 And the three and twentieth day of the seventh moneth, he sent the people away into their tents, ioyous and with glad heart because of the goodnesse that the Lord had done for Dauid and for Salomon, and for Israel his people.

11 So Salomon finished the house of the Lord, and the kings house, and all that came into Salomons heart, to make in the house of the Lord: and he prospered in his house.

12 And the Lord appeared to Salomon by night, and said to him, I haue heard thy prayer, and haue chosen this place for my selfe to be an house of sacrifice.

13 If I but the heauen that there bee no raine, or if I command the grasshopper to deuoure the land, or if I send pestilence among my people,

14 If my people, among whom my name is called vpon, doe humble themselves and pray, and seeke my presence, and turne from their wicked wayes, then will I heare in heauen, and be mercifull to their sinne, and will heale their land:

15 When mine eyes shall be open, & mine eares attend vnto the prayer made in this place.

16 For I haue now chosen and sanctified this house, that my name may bee there for euer: and mine eyes and mine heart shall be there perpetually.

17 And if thou wilt walke before me, as Dauid thy father walked, to doe according vnto all that I haue commanded thee, and shalt obserue my statutes and my iudgements, 18 Then will I stablish the throne of thy kingdom, according as I made the covenant with Dauid thy father, saying, Thou shalt not want a man to be ruler in Israel.

19 But if ye turne away and forsake my statutes and my commandments which I haue set before you, and shall goe and serue other gods, and worship them, 20 Then will I plucke them by out of my land which I haue giuen them, and this house which I haue sanctified for my name, will I cast out of my sight, and will make it to bee a prouerbe & a common talke among all people.

21 And this house which is most hie, shall be an astonishment to eueryone that passeth by it, so that hee shall say, Why hath the Lord done thus to this lande, and to this house?

22 And they shall answere, Because they forsooke the Lord God of their fathers, which brought them out of the lande of Egypt, and haue taken holde on other gods, and haue worshipped them, & serued them, therefore hath he brought all this euill vpon them.

1 The cities that Salomon built. 7 People that were made tributaries vnto him. 12 His sacrifices. 17 He sendeth to Ophir.

And after twenty yeere when Salomon had built the house of the Lord, and his owne house,

2 Then Salomon built the cities that Huram gaue to Salomon, and caused the children of Israel to dwell there.

3 And Salomon went to Hamath Zobab, and ouercame it.

4 And hee built Cadmoz in the wilderness, and repaired all the cities of store which hee built in Hamath.

5 And hee built Beth hozon the hypper, and Beth hozon the nether, cities defended with walles, gates and barres:

6 Also Baalath, and all the cities of store, that Salomon had, and all the charer cities, and the cities of the horsemen, and euery pleasant place that Salomon had a minde to build in Jerusalem, and in Lebanon, and throughout all the lande of his dominion.

7 And all the people that were left of the Hittites, and the Amozites, and Deerzites, and the Hiuites, and the Iebuites, which were not of Israel,

8 But of their children which were left after them in the lande, whom the children of Israel had not consumed, euen then did Salomon make tributaries vntill this day.

9 But of the children of Israel did Salomon make no seruants for his worke: for they were men of warre, and his chiefe pirces, and the captaynes of his charers and of his horsemen.

10 So these were the chiefe of the officers which Salomon had, euen two hundredly and sitty that bare rule over the people.

11 Then Salomon brought by the daughter of Pharaoh out of the cite of Dauid, into the house that he had built for her: for he said, My wife shall not dwell in the house of Dauid King of Israel: for it is holy, because that the Arke of the Lord came vnto it.

12 Then Salomon offered burnt offerings

14 And he let the courses of the Priests to their offices, according to the order of Dauid his father, and the Leuites in their watches, for to praye and minister before the Priests every day, and the porters by their courses at every gate: for so was the commandement of Dauid the man of God.

15 And they declined not from the commandement of the king, concerning the Priests & the Leuites, touching all things, and touching the treasures.

16 Now Solomon had made prouision for all the worke, from the day of the foundation of the house of the Lord, vntill it was finished: so the house of the Lord was perfite.

17 Then went Solomon to Eziongeber, and toloth by the sea side in the land of Edom.

18 And Huram sent him by the hands of his seruants, and seruants that had knowledge of the sea: and they went with the seruants of Solomon to Ophir, and brought thence foure hundred and fiftie talents of golde, and brought them to king Solomon.

CHAP. IX.

1. 9 The Queene of Sheba cometh to see Solomon, and bringeth gifts. 13 His yerely reuenues. 30 The time of his reigne. 31 His death.

And when the Queene of Sheba heard of the fame of Solomon, she came to proue Solomon with hard questions at Ierusalem, with a very great traine, and camels that bare sweete odours, and much gold, and precious stones: & when she came to Solomon, she communed with him of all that was in her heart.

2 And Solomon declared her all her questions, and there was nothing hid from Solomon, which he declared not vnto her.

3 Then the Queene of Sheba saw the wisdom of Solomon, and the house that he had built,

4 And the meat of his table, and the sitting of his seruants, and the order of his waiters, and their apparell, and his butlers, and their apparell, and his burnt offerings, which hee offered in the house of the Lord, and she was greatly astounded.

5 And she sayd to the King, It was a true worde which I heard in mine owne land of thy sayings, and of thy wisdom: 6 For when I beleened their report, vntill I came, and mine eyes had seene it: and behold, the one halfe of thy great wisdom was not told me: for thou exceedest it the fame that I heard.

7 Happie are thy men, & happy are these thy seruants, which stand before thee alway and heare thy wisdom.

8 Blessed bee the Lord thy God, which loued thee, to set thee on his throne as King, in the stead of the Lord thy God: because thy God loueth Israel, to establish it for euer, therefore hath hee made thee king ouer them, to execute iudgement and iustice.

9 Then shee gaue the King store of talents of gold, & of sweete odours exceeding much, and precious stones: neither was there such sweet odours since, as the Queene of Sheba gaue vnto king Solomon.

10 And the seruants also of Huram, and the seruants of Solomon which brought gold from Ophir, brought Algummim wood and precious stones.

11 And the king made of the Algummim wood staires in the house of the Lord, and in the Kings house, and harpes and viols for fingers: and there was no such scene before in the land of Iudah.

12 And King Solomon gaue to the Queene of Sheba, every pleasant thing that shee asked, besides for that which shee had brought vnto the king: so shee returned and went to her owne countrey, both she, and her seruants.

13 Also the weight of golde that came to Solomon in one yeere, was sixe hundred and threescore and sixe talents of gold, 14 Besides that which euayners & merchants brought: and all the Kings of Arabia, and the princes of the countrey brought gold and siluer to Solomon.

15 And King Solomon made two hundred targets of beaten gold, and sixe hundred shekels of beaten golde went to one target, 16 And three hundred shields of beaten golde: three hundred shekels of gold went to one shield, and the King put them in the house of the wood of Lebanon.

17 And the King made a great throne of iuorie, and overlaid it with pure gold.

18 And the throne had sixe steppes, with a footstool of gold fastned to the throne, and staves on either side on the place of the seate, and two Lyons standing by the staves.

19 And twelue lions stood there on the sixe steps on either side: there was not the like made in any kingdome.

20 And all King Solomons drinking vessels were of gold, and all the vessels of the house of the wood of Lebanon were of pure gold: for siluer was nothing esteemed in the dayes of Solomon.

21 For the kings ships went to Tarshish with the seruants of Huram, every three yeere once came the ships of Tarshish, and brought gold, and siluer, iuorie and apes, and peacocks.

22 So king Solomon excelled all the kings of the earth in riches and wisdom.

23 And all the kings of the earth sought the presence of Solomon, to heare his wisdom, that God had put in his heart.

24 And they brought euery man his present, vessels of siluer, and vessels of gold, and raiment, armour, and sweete odours, horses, and mules from yeere to yeere.

4 14 The rigor of Rehoboam. 13 He followeth lewd counsell. 16 The people rebell.

¶ When ¶ Rehoboam <sup>a</sup> went to Shechem : for to Shechem came all Israel to make him king.

2 And when Jeroboam the sonne of Ne-bat heard it (which was in Egypt, whither he hath fled from the presence of Salomon the king) he returned out of Egypt.

3 And they sent and called him : so came Jeroboam and all Israel, and communed with Rehoboam, saying,

4 Thy father ¶ made our yoke grieuous:
now therefore make thou the grieuous seruitude of thy father, and his loze yoke, that he put vpon vs, lighter, and we will serue thee.

5 And he layd to them, Depart yet three dayes, then come againe vnto me. And the people departed.

6 And king Rehoboam tooke counsell with the old men that had stood before Salomon his father, while hee yet liued, saying, ¶ What counsell giue yee that I may answere
this people ?

7 And they spake vnto him, saying, If thou be kind to this people, and please them, and speake louing words to them, they will be thy seruants for euer.

8 But he left the counsell of the ancient men that they had giuen him, and tooke counsell of the yong men that were brought vp with him, and ¶ wayted on him.

9 And he said vnto them, ¶ What counsell giue yee, that we may answere this people, which haue spoken to me, saying, Make the yoke which thy father did put vpon vs, lighter ?

10 And the yong men that were brought vp with him, spake vnto him, saying, Thus shalt thou answere the people that spake to thee, saying, Thy father made our yoke heauie, but make thou it lighter for vs : thus shalt thou say vnto them, My least part shal be bigger then my fathers loynes.

11 Now whereas my father did burden you with a grieuous yoke, I will yet increase your yoke : my father hath chastised you with rodde, but I will correct you with scourges.

12 ¶ Then Jeroboam and all the people came to Rehoboam the third day, as the king had appointed, saying, Come againe to me the third day.

13 And the king answered them sharply :
and king Rehoboam left the counsell of the ancient men,

14 And spake to them after the counsell of the yong men, saying, My father made your yoke grieuous, but I will increase it :
my father chastised you with rods, but I will correct you with scourges.

15 So the king hearkened not vnto the people : for it was the ordinance of God, that the Lord might performe his saying, which he had spoken ¶ by Ahitah the Shilo-nite to Jeroboam the sonne of Nebat.

16 So when all Israel saw that the king would not heare them, the people answered the king, saying, ¶ What portion haue we in Dauid ? for we haue none inheritance in the sonne of Ithai. O Israel, every man to your tents : now see to thine owne house, Dauid.
So all Israel departed to their tents.

17 Nowbert Rehoboam reigned ouer the children of Israel, that dwelt in the cities of Judah.

18 Then king Rehoboam sent Hadadum that was ¶ ouer the tribute, and the children of Israel stoned him with stones, that he died : then king Rehoboam ¶ made Isped to get him by to his charret, to flee to Jeru-

16 And after the Leuites there came to Jerusalem of all the tribes of Israel, such as set their † hearts to seeke the Lord God of Israel, to offer vnto the Lord God of their fathers.

f So long as they feared God, and set fourth his word, they profpered.

17 So they strengthened the kingdome of Iudah, and made Rehoboam the sonne of Solomon mighty, three yeere long: for three yere they † walked in the way of Dauid and Salomon.

18 ¶ And Rehoboam tooke him Bahalah the daughter of Jerimoth the sonne of Dauid to wife, and Abihail the daughter of Etiah the sonne of Ishai,

19 Which bare him sonnes, Ienhi, and Schemariah, and Zabam.

20 And after her hee tooke Naakah the daughter of Absalom which bare him Abi-tah, and Arhat, and Ziza, and Shelomith.

21 And Rehoboam loued Naakah the daughter of Absalom aboue all his wiues and his concubines: for he tooke eightene wiues, and threescore concubines, and begat eight and twenty sonnes, and threescore daughters.

22 And Rehoboam made s Abitah the sonne of Naakah the chiefe ruler among his brethren: for hee thought to make him king.

g Called also Abitam, who reigned three yeere, 1 King.

h He gaue him
selfe to haue many wiues.

23 And he taught him: and dispersed all his sonnes throughout all the countreys of Judah and Benjamin vnto euery strong citie:
and he gaue them abundance of vitaille, and † desired many wiues.

CHAP. XII.

1 Rehoboam forsaketh the Lord and is punished by Shishak. 5 Schemaiah reproveth him. 6 Hee humbleth himselfe. 7 God sendeth him succour.
9 Shishak taketh his treasures. 13 He reigneth and death. 16 Abiath his sonne succeedeth him.

¶ And when ¶ Rehoboam had established the kingdome and made it strong, hee forsooke the Law of the Lord, and † all Israel with him.

2 Therefore in the first yeere of king Rehoboam, Shishak the king of Egypt came vp against Jerusalem ( because they had transgressed against the Lord)

3 ¶ Which twelue hundredeth charrets, and threescore thousand horsemen, and the people were without number, that came with him from Egypt, euen the Libinins, b Sakkims, and the † Ethiopians.

b Which were glodites, because they dwelt in

4 And hee tooke the strong cities which were of Iudah, and came vnto Ierusalem.

¶ Or, blacke

5 ¶ Then came Schemaiah the Prophet to Rehoboam, and to the princes of Iudah, that were gathered together in Jerusalem,
because of Shishak, and sayd vnto them,
Thus sayeth the Lord, Ye haue forsaken me, therefore haue I also left you in the hands of Shishak.

c Signifying that no calamitie can come vnto vs, ex-

6 Then the princes of Israel, and the king humbled themselves, and sayd, The Lord is † iust.

d And therefore doeth iustly punish you for your sines.

7 And when the Lord sawe that they humbled themselves, the word of the Lord came to Schemaiah, saying, They haue humbled themselves, therefore I will not destroy them, but I will lend them deliue-rance shortly, and my wrath shall not † bee powred out vpon Jerusalem by the hand of Shishak.

8 Neuertheless they shall be his seruants:

chastise them, to bring them to the knowledge of themselves, and to know how much better it is to serue God
then tyrants.

9 ¶ Then Shishak king of Egypt came vp against Jerusalem, and tooke the treasures of the house of the Lord, and the treasures of the kings house: hee tooke euen all, and hee caried away the shields of golde

12 And because he † humbled himselfe, the wrath of the Lord turned from him, that he would not destroy all together. And also in Judah the things prospered.

13 * So king Rehoboam was strong in Jerusalem and reigned: for Rehoboam was one and fortie yeere olde, when he began to reigne, and reigned s seuentene yeeres in Jerusalem, the citie which the Lord had chosen out of all the tribes of Israel to put his

1 In the eighteenth yeere of king Jeroboam, began Abiah to reigne over Judah.

2 Hee reigned thre yeere in Ierusalem: (his mothers name also was Pichajah the daughter of Ariel of Sibra) and there was warre betwene Abiah and Jeroboam.

3 And Abiah set the battell in aray with the army of valliant men of warre, euen foure hundred thousand chosen men. Jeroboam also set the battell in aray against him with eight hundred thousand chosen men, which were strong and valliant.

4 And Abiah stood by vpon mount Zemarain, which is in mount Ephraim, said, O Jeroboam, and all Israel, heere you me,

5 Ought you not to know that the Lord God of Israel hath giuen the kingdom ouer Israel to David for euer, euen to him and to his sonnes by a covenant of salt?

6 And Jeroboam the sonne of Nebat the seruant of Salomon the sonne of Dauid is risen vp, and hath rebelled against his lord:

7 And there are gathered to him saine men & wicked, & made themselves strong against Rehoboam the sonne of Salomon: for Rehoboam was but a child, and tender hearted, and could not resist them.

8 Now therefore ye thinke that ye be able to resist against the kingdom of the Lord, which is in the hands of the sonnes of Dauid, and yett be a great multitude, and the golden calves are with you which Jeroboam made you for gods.

9 Waite ye not dinen away the Priests of the Lord, the sonnes of Aaron and the Leuites, and haue made you priestes like the people of other countreys: whofoever cometh to consecrate with a yong bullocke and seuen rammes, the same may be a priest of them that are no gods.

10 But wee belong vnto the Lord our God, and haue not forsaken him, and the Priests the sonnes of Aaron minister vnto the Lord, and the Leuites in their office.

11 And they burne vnto the Lord euery morning and euery euening burnt offerings and sweete incense, and the bread is set in order vpon the pure table, and the candlesticke of golde with the lampes thereof, to burne euery euening: for wee keepe the watch of the Lord our God: but yett haue forsaken him.

12 And behold, this God is with vs as a captaine, and his Priests with the sounding trumpets, to crye an alarme against you. O ye children of Israel, fight not against the Lord God of your fathers: for yett shall not prosper.

13 But Jeroboam caused an ambushment to compasse, and come behind them, when they were before Judah, and the ambushment behind them.

14 Then Judah looked, and behold, the battell was before and behind them, and they cried vnto the Lord, and the Priests blew with the trumpets, 15 And the men of Judah gaue a shout: and euen as the men of Judah shouted, God smote Jeroboam and also Israel before Abiah and Judah.

16 And y children of Israel fled before Judah, & God deliuered them into their hand.

17 And Abiah this people slew a great slaughter of them, so that there fell downe wounded of Israel five hundred thousand chosen men.

18 So the children of Israel were brought vnder at that time: and the children of Judah preuailed, because they stayed vpon the Lord God of their fathers.

19 And Abiah pursued after Jeroboam, and tooke cities from him, euen Beth el, and the villages thereof, and Ieshanah with her villages, and Ephron with her villages.

20 And Jeroboam recontried to strength againe in the dayes of Abiah, but the Lord plagued him, and he died.

21 So Abiah waged mightie, and married foureteen wines, and begate two and twentie sonnes, and sirteene daughters.

22 The rest of the acts of Abiah, and his maners and his sayings are writen in the storie of the Prophet Ido.

CHAP. XIII.

3 Afa destroyed idolatrie, and commanded his people to serue the true God. 11 He prayeth vnto God when he should goe to fight. 12 Hee obtai- neth the victorie.

1 So Abiah slept with his fathers, & they buried him in the citie of Dauid, and Afa his sonne reigned in his steade: in whose dayes the land was quiet ten yeere.

2 And Afa did that was good and right in the eyes of the Lord his God.

3 For hee tooke away the altars of the strange gods & the hie places, & brake downe the images, and cut downe the groones,

4 And commanded Judah to seeke the Lord God of their fathers, and to doe according to the Law and the commandment.

5 And hee tooke away out of all the cities of Judah the hie places, & the images: therefoe the kingdome was quiet before him.

6 Hee built also strong cities in Judah, because the land was in rest, and hee had no warre in those yeeres: for the Lord had giuen him rest.

7 Therefore hee said to Judah, Let vs build these cities and make walles about and towres, gates, and barres, whiles the land is before vs: because wee haue sought the Lord our God, we haue sought him, and hee hath giuen vs rest on euery side: so they built and prospered.

8 And Afa had an armie of Judah that bare shields & speares, three hundred thousand, and of Benjamin that bare shields and drew bowes, two hundred & fourescore thousand: all these were valliant men.

9 And there came out against them Zerah of Ethiopia with an host of ten hundred thousand, and three hundred charrets, and came vnto Marehab.

10 Then Afa went out before him, and they set the battell in aray in the valley of Zephathah beside Marehab.

11 And Afa cried vnto the Lord his God,

|| Or gaue him the ouerthrow.

13 And Asa and the people that was with him, pursued them vnto Gerar. And the Ethiopians hoste was ouerthrowen, so that there was no life in them: for they were destroyed before the Lord, and before his hoste: and they caried away a mightie great spoyle.

1 The exhortation of Azariah, 2 Asa purgeth his country of idolatry. 11 He sacrificeth with the people. 14 They sweare together to serue the Lord. 16 He deposeth his mother for her idolatry.

Then the Spirit of God came vpon a Azariah the sonne of b Obed.

2 And he went out to meete Asa, and said vnto him, ¶ Asa, and all Judah and Benjamin, heare yee me. The Lord is with you, while ye be with him: and if yee seeke him, he will be found of you, but if yee forsake him, he will forsake you.

3 Now for a long season Israel hath bene without the b true God, and without ¶ Priests to teach, and without Law.

4 But whosoever returned in his affliction to the Lord God of Israel, and sought him, he c was found of them.

5 And in that time there was no peace to him, that did goe out and goe in: but great troubles were to all the inhabitants of the earth.

6 For nation was destroyed of nation, and cite of cite: for God troubled them with all aduersitie.

7 We ye therefore, and let not your hands be weak: for your d worke shall haue a reward.

8 And when Asa heard these words, and the prophetic of ¶ Obed the Prophet, hee was encouraged, and tooke away the abominations out of all the land of Judah, and Benjamin, & out of the cities which hee had taken of mount Ephraim, and hee renued the altar of the Lord, that was before the porch of the Lord.

9 And hee gathered all Judah & Benjamin, & the strangers w them out of Ephraim, and Manasse, and out of Simeon: for there fell many to him out of Israel, when they saw that the Lord his God was w him.

10 So they assembled to Jerusalem in the e thid moneth, in the thirteenth yeere of the reigne of Asa.

11 And they offered vnto the Lord the same time of the f spoyle, which they had brought, euen ten thousand bullockes, and ten thousand sheepe.

12 And they made a couenant to seeke the Lord God of their fathers, with all their heart, and with all their soule.

13 And ¶ whosoever will not seeke the Lord God of Israel, shall bee blame, whether he were small or great, man or woman.

14 And they swaue vnto the Lord with a lowde voyce, and with shouting and with trumpets, and with cymbals.

15 And all Judah reioyced at the oath: for they had sworne vnto the Lord with all their heart, and sought him with a whole desire, and hee was h found of them. And the Lord gaue them rest round about.

16 ¶ And king Asa depol'd ¶ Maachah his mother from her regencie, because shee had made an idole in a groue: and Asa brake downe her idole and stamped it, and burnt it at the brooke Kidon.

17 But the hie places were not ¶ taken away out of ¶ Israel: yet the heart of Asa was ¶ perfect all his dayes.

18 Also he brought into the house of God the things that his father had dedicate, and that hee had dedicate, siluer, and gold, and vessels.

1 Asa for feare of Baasha king of ffrail, maketh a couenant with Benhadad king of Aram. 7 He is reproued by the Prophet, 10 Whom he putteth in prison. 12 Hee putteth his trust in the Physicians, 13 His death.

In the fixe and thirtieth yeere of the reigne of Asa came ¶ Baasha king of Israel by against Judah, and built ¶ Ramah to let none passe out or goe in to Asa king of Judah.

2 Then Asa brought out siluer and gold out of the treasures of the house of the Lord, and of the kings house, and sent to Benhadad king of Aram that dwelt at ¶ Damascus, saying,

3 There is a couenant betweene me and thee, and betweene my father, and thy father: behold, I haue sene thee siluer and gold: come, ¶ brake thy league with Baasha king of Israel, that he may depart from mee.

4 And Benhadad hearkned vnto king Asa, and sent the captaines of the armies which hee had, against the cities of Israel. And they smote Iion, and Dan, and Belmain, and all the stoz cities of Naphtali.

5 And when Baasha heard it, hee left building of Ramah, and let his worke cease.

6 Then Asa the king tooke all Judah, and caried away the stones of Ramah, and 7 And at that same time Hanani the Seer came to Afa king of Judah, and said unto him, Because thou hast relied upon the King of Aram, and not relied in y<sup>e</sup> Lord thy God, therefore is the hoste of the king of Aram escaped out of thine hand.

8 The Ethiopians and the Lubims, were they not a great hoste with charrets and holmeu, exceeding many? yet because thou diddest rest upon the Lord, hee deliuered them into thine hand.

9 For the eyes of the Lord behold all the earth to shew himselfe strong with them that are of perfect heart toward him: thou hast then done foolishly in this: therefore from henceforth thou shalt haue warres.

10 Then Afa was wroth with the Seer, and put him into a prison: for hee was a displeasur with him, because of this thing. And Afa oppressed certaine of the people at the same time.

11 And behold, the acts of Afa first and last, hee, they are written in the booke of the Kings of Iudah and Israel.

12 And Afa in the nine and thirtieth yeere of his reigne was diseased in his feet, and his disease was extreme: yet hee sought not the Lord in his disease, but to the Physicians.

13 So Afa slept with his fathers, and dyed in the one and fortieth yeere of his reigne.

14 And they buried him in one of his sepulchres, which he had made for himselfe in the cite of Dauid, and layd him in the bed, which they had filled with sweete odours, and diuers kindes of spices, made by the arte of the Apothecary: and they burnt odours for him with an exceeding great fire.

And hee was the chiefe cause of all our diseases, and after vs the helpe of the Physician, as a meane by whome God worketh.

CHAP. XVII.

5 Iehoshaphat trusting in the Lord, prospereth in riches and honour. 6 Hee aboliseth idolatrie, 7 and causeth the people to be taught. Hee receiueth tribute of strangers. 13 His manitions, and men of warre.

And Iehoshaphat his soune reigned in his stead, and picauiled against Israel.

2 And hee put garlions in all the strong cities of Iudah, and set bands in the land of Iudah, and in the cities of Ephraim, which Afa his father had taken.

3 And the Lord was with Iehoshaphat, because he walked in the first wayes of his father Dauid, and sought not Baalim, 4 But sought the Lord God of his father, and walked in his commandements, and not after the trade of Israel.

5 Therefore the Lord stablished the kingdom in his hand, and all Iudah brought presents to Iehoshaphat, so that hee had of riches and honour in abundance.

6 And hee lifted up his heart vnto the wayes of the Lord, and hee tooke away moreouer the high places and the groues out of Iudah.

7 And in the third yeere of his reigne he sent his princes, Ben-hai and Obadiah, and Zechariah, and Methaneel, and Ghitchatab, that they should teach in the cities of Iudah,

8 And with them Leuites, SHEMAIAH, and Methaniah, and Zebadiah, and Afahel, and Sheiramoth, and Iehonathan, and Adoniah, & Tobiah, and Tob-odoniah, Leuites, and with them Elshama and Iehoram Priests.

9 And they taught in Iudah, and had the booke of the law of the Lord with them, and went about throughout all the cities of Iudah, and taught the people.

10 And the feare of the Lord set vpon all the kingdoms of the lauds that were round about Iudah, and they fought not against Iehoshaphat.

11 And some of the Philistines brought Iehoshaphat gifts, and tribute silver, & the Arabians brought him flockes, seven thousand and seven hundred rammes, and seven thousand and seven hundred hee goats.

12 So Iehoshaphat prospered and grew by on him: and hee built in Iudah palaces and cities of stone.

13 And he had great workes in the cities of Iudah, and men of warre, and valiant men in Ierusalem.

14 And these are the numbers of them after the house of their fathers. In Iudah were captaiues of thousandes, Adnah the captaine, and with him of valiant men three hundred thousand.

15 And he had his hande Iehoshaphat a captaine, and with him two hundred and fourescore thousand.

16 And at his hand Amasai the son of Zichri, which willingly offered himselfe vnto the Lord, and with him two hundred thousand valiant men.

17 And of Benjamin, Eliada a valiant man, and with him armed men with bow and shield two hundred thousand.

18 And at his hand Iehozabab, and with him an hundred and fourescore thousand armed to the warre.

19 These waited on the King, besides those which the King put in the strong cities throughout all Iudah.

people as thy people, and we will ioyne with thee in the warre.

4 And Jehoshaphat said vnto the king of Israel, Ake counsell, I pray thee, at the word of the Lord this day.

5 Therefore the king of Israel gathered of Prophets foure hundred men, and sayd vnto them, Shall wee goe to Ramoth Gilead to battell, or shall I cease? And they said, Goe vp: for God shall deliuer it into the kings hand.

6 But Jehoshaphat said, Is there here neuer a Prophet more of the Lord that wee might inquire of him?

7 And the king of Israel sayd vnto Jehoshaphat, There is yet one man, by whom we may alke counsell of the Lord, but I hate him: for he doeth not prophesie good vnto me, but alway euill: it is Michaiah the sonne of Imia. Then Jehoshaphat said, Let not the king say so.

8 And the king of Israel called an Euenuch, and sayd, Call quickly Michaiah the sonne of Imia.

9 And the king of Israel, and Jehoshaphat king of Iudah late either of them on his thronc clothed in their apparel: they late euen in the threshing floore at the entering in of the gate of Samaria: and all the prophets prophesied before them.

10 And Zidkiah the sonne of Chenaanah made him a home of yron, and sayd, Thus sayth the Lord, Alth these halt thou putt the Aramites, vntill thou hast consumed them.

11 And all the prophets prophesied so, saying, Goe vp to Ramoth Gilead, and prosper: for the Lord shall deliuer it into the hand of the king.

12 And the messenger that went to call Michaiah, spake to him, saying, Behold, the wordes of the Prophets declare good to the king with one accord: let thy word therefore, I pray thee, be like one of theirs, and speake thou good.

13 And Michaiah said, As the Lord liueth, whatsoeuer my God sayth, that will I speake.

14 So hee came to the King, and the King said vnto him, Michaiah, shall wee goe to Ramoth Gilead to battell, or shall I leaue off? And hee said, Soe see vp, and prosper, and they shal be deliuered into your hand.

15 And the king said vnto him, How oft hal I charge thee, that thou tell me nothing but truth in the Name of the Lord?

16 Then hee said, I saw all Israel scattered in the mountaines, as sheepe that haue no shepheard: and the Lord sayd, These haue no master: let them returne euery man to his house in peace.

17 And the king of Israel sayd to Jehoshaphat, Did I not tell thee, that hee would not prophesie good vnto me, but euill?

18 Againe hee said, Therefore heare ye the word of the Lord: I saw the Lord sit vpon his thronc, and all the hoste of heauen standing at his right hand, and at his left.

19 And the Lord sayd, Who shall persuade Ahab king of Israel, that hee may goe by and fall at Ramoth Gilead? And one spake and said thus, and another sayd that.

20 Then there came forth a spirit, and stood before the Lord, and sayd, I will persuade him. And the Lord sayd vnto him, Wherein?

21 And hee said, I will goe out, and bee a false spirit in the mouth of all his prophets. And hee said, Thou shalt persuade, and shalt also preuaile: goe forth and do so.

22 Now therefore behold, the Lord hath put a false spirit in the mouth of these thy prophets, and the Lord hath determined euill against thee.

23 Then Zidkiah the sonne of Chenaanah came neere, and smote Michaiah vpon the cheeke, and sayd, By what way went the spirit of the Lord from mee, to speake with thee?

24 And Michaiah sayd, Behold, thou shalt see that day, when thou shalt goe from chamber to chamber to hide thee.

25 And the king of Israel said, Take ye Michaiah, and carry him to Amn the gouernour of the citie, and to Ioash the kings sonne, 26 And say, Thus saith the king, Put this man in the prison house, and feede him with bread of affliction, and with water of affliction, vntill I returne in peace.

27 And Michaiah said, If thou returne in peace, the Lord hath not spoken by mee. And hee sayd, Beare, all ye people.

28 So the king of Israel, and Jehoshaphat the king of Iudah went vp to Ramoth Gilead.

29 And the king of Israel said vnto Jehoshaphat, I will change my selfe, and enter into the battell: but put thou on thine apparel. So the king of Israel changed himselfe, and they went into the battell.

30 And the king of Aram had commanded the captaines of the charrets that were with him, saying, Fight you not with small nor great, but against the king of Israel onely.

31 And when the captaines of the charrets saw Jehoshaphat, they sayd, It is the king of Israel: and they compassed about him to fight. But Jehoshaphat cryed, and the Lord helpe him, and moued them to depart from him.

32 For when the captaines of the charrets saw that he was not the king of Israel, they turned backe from him.

33 Then a certain man drew a bowe mightily, and smote the king of Israel betwene the toynts of his brigandine: therefore hee sayd to his charctman, Turne thine hand, and carry mee out of the hoste: for I am hurt.

34 And the battell increased that day: and the king of Israel stood still in his charret against the Aramites vntill euen, and died at the time of the Sunne going downe.

18 ¶ Then Jehoshaphat bowed downe with his face to the earth, and all Iudah and the inhabitants of Ierusalem fell downe before the Lord, worshipping the Lord.

19 And the Leuites of the children of the Kohathites, and of the children of the Gerahtes stood vp to praise the Lord God of Israel with a lowd voice on high.

20 And when they arose early in the morning, they went forth to the wilderness of Tekoa: and as they departed, Jehoshaphat stood and sayd, Heare ye mee. O Iudah, and yee inhabitants of Ierusalem: put your trust in the Lord your God, and yee shall be assured: beleue his Prophets, and ye shall prosper.

21 And when hee had consulted with the people, and appointed singers vnto the Lord, and them that should praise him that is in the beautifull Sanctuary, in going forth before the men of armes, and sayng, Praise ye the Lord, for his mercylastend for euer, 22 And when they began to shout and to praise, the Lord layed ambushments against the children of Ammon, Moab, and mount Seir, which were come against Iudah, and they slew one another.

23 For the children of Ammon, & Moab rose against the inhabitants of mount Seir, to slay and to destroy them: and when they had made an end of the inhabitants of Seir, every one helped to destroy another.

24 And when Iudah came toward Mizpah in the wilderness, they looked vnto the multitude: and behold, the carriages were fallen to the earth, and none escaped.

25 And when Jehoshaphat and his people came to take away the spoyle of them, they found among them in abundance both of substance, and also of bodies laden with precious iuwels, which they tooke for themselves, till they could carry no more: they were three dayes in gathering of the spoyle: for it was much.

26 And in the fourth day they assembled themselves in the valley of Berachah: for there they blessed the Lord: therefore they called the name of that place, The valley of Berachah vnto this day.

27 Then every man of Iudah and Ierusalem returned with Jehoshaphat their head, to goe againe to Ierusalem with ioy: for the Lord had made them to reioyce ouer their enemies.

28 And they came to Ierusalem with viols, and with harpes, and with trumpets, euen vnto the house of the Lord.

29 And the feare of God was vpon all the kingdomes of the earth, when they had heard that the Lord had fought against the enemies of Israel.

30 So the kingdome of Jehoshaphat was quiet, and his God gaue him rest euery day.

31 ¶ And Jehoshaphat reigned ouer Iudah, and was fine and thirtie yeere olde when he began to reigne: and reigned fine and twentie yeere in Ierusalem, and his mothers name was Azubah the daughter of Shilhi.

32 And he walked in the way of Asa his father, and departed not therefrom, doing that which was right in the sight of the Lord.

33 Howbeit the high places were not taken away: for the people had not yet prepared their hearts vnto the God of their fathers.

34 Concerning the rest of the acts of Jehoshaphat first and last, beholde, they are written in the booke of Iehu the sonne of Hanani, which is mentioned in the booke of the Kings of Israel.

35 ¶ Yet after this did Jehoshaphat king of Iudah ioyne himselfe with Ahaziah king of Israel, who was giuen to do euill.

36 And hee toynd with him to make ships to goe to Tarshish: and they made the ships in Ezion Gaber.

37 Then Eliezer the son of Dodanah of Marekiah prophesied against Jehoshaphat, saying, Because thou hast toynd thy selfe with Ahaziah, the Lord hath broken thy works: and the ships were broken, that they were not able to goe to Tarshish.

rose by by night, and smote Edom, which had compassed him in, and the captivates of the charots.

10 But Edom rebelled from under the hand of Judah unto this day. Then did Libnah rebell at the same time from under his hand, because hee had forsaken the Lord God of his fathers.

11 Moreover, he made his places in the mountains of Judah, and caused the inhabitants of Jerusalem to commit fornication, and compelled Judah thereto.

12 And there came a writing to him from Elishah the Prophet, saying, Thus saith the Lord God of David thy father, Because thou hast not walked in the wayes of Jehoshaphat thy father, nor in the wayes of Asa King of Judah,

13 But hast walked in the way of the Kings of Israel, and hast made Judah and the inhabitants of Jerusalem to goe a whooring, as the house of Ahab went a whooring, and hast also slaine thy brethren of thy fathers house, which were better then thou,

14 Behold, with a great plague will the Lord smite thy people, and thy children, and thy wives, and all thy substance, 15 And thou shalt be in great diseases in the disease of thy bowels, untill thy bowels fall out for the disease, day by day.

16 So the Lord stirred up against Jehoram the spirit of the Philistines, and the Arabians that were behide the Ethiopians.

17 And they came by into Judah, and brake into it, and caried away all the substance that was found in the Kings house, and his sonnes also, and his wives, so that there was not a sonne left him, save Jehoahaz, the youngest of his sonnes.

18 And after all this, the Lord smote him in his bowels with an incurable disease.

19 And in proccesse of time, euen after the ende of two yeeres, his guttes fell out with his disease: so he died of sore diseases: and his people made no burning for him like the burning of his fathers.

20 When he began to reigne, he was two and thirtie yeere olde, and reigned in Jerusalem eight yeere, and lined without being desired: yet they buried him in the citie of David, but not among the sepulchres of the Kings.

CHAP. XXII.

1 Ahaziah reigneth after Jehoram. 9 Jehu King of Israel killeth Ahaziah. 10 Athaliah putteth to death all the Kings linage. 11 Ioaib escapeth.

1 And the inhabitants of Jerusalem made Ahaziah his youngest sonne King in his stead: for the armie that came with the Arabians to the campe, had slaine all the eldest: therefore Ahaziah the sonne of Jehoram King of Judah reigned.

2 Two and fourtie yeere old was Ahaziah when he began to reigne, & he reigned one yeere in Jerusalem: and his mothers name was Athaliah the daughter of Omri.

3 Hee walked also in the wayes of the house of Ahab: for his mother counselled him to doe wickedly.

4 Therefore hee did euill in the sight of the Lord, like the house of Ahab: for they were his counsellors after the death of his father, to his destruction.

5 And hee walked after their counsel, and went with Jehoram the sonne of Ahab King of Israel to fight against Hazael King of Aram at Ramoth Gilead: and the Aramites smote Jehoram.

6 And hee returned to be healed in Jezreel, because of the wounds wherewith they had wounded him at Ramah, when hee fought with Hazael King of Aram. Now Azariah the sonne of Jehoram King of Judah went downe to see Jehoram the sonne of Ahab at Jezreel, because hee was diseased.

7 And the destruction of Ahaziah came of God in that hee went to Jezreel: for when he was come, hee went forth with Jehoram against Jehu the sonne of Nimshi, whome the Lord had appointed to destroy the house of Ahab.

8 Therefore when Jehu executed iudgement upon the house of Ahab, and found the princes of Judah and the sonnes of the brethren of Ahaziah that waited on Ahaziah, he slew them also.

9 And hee sought Ahaziah, and they caught him where hee was hid in Samaria, and brought him to Jehu, and slew him, and buried him, because, sayd they, hee is the sonne of Jehoshaphat, which sought the Lord with all his heart. So the house of Ahaziah was not able to retaine the kingdom.

10 Therefore when Athaliah the mother of Ahaziah sawe that her sonne was dead, she arose and destroyed all the Kings seede of the house of Judah.

11 But Jehoshabeah the daughter of the King, tooke Joash the sonne of Ahaziah, and haled him from among the Kings sonnes, that should bee slaine, and put him and his nurse in the bed chamber: so Jehoshabeah the daughter of King Jehoram the wife of Jehoiada the Priest (for shee was the sister of Ahaziah) hid him from Athaliah: so shee slew him not.

12 And hee was with them hidde in the house of God six yeeres, whiles Athaliah reigned ouer the land.

2 And they went about in Judah, and gathered the Levites out of all the cities of Judah, and the chief fathers of Israel: and they came to Jerusalem.

Lord saue the Priests, and the Leuites that minister: they shall goe in, for they are hoie:
but all the people shal keepe the watch of the Lord.

7 And the Leuites shall compass the King round about, and every man with his weapon in his hand, and he that entred<sup>d</sup> in to the house shall be slaine, and be you with the King, when hee cometh in, and when he goeth out.

8 So the Leuites and all Iudah did according to all things that Jehoiada the Priest had commaunded, and tooke every man his men that came on the Sabbath, with them that went out on the Sabbath:
for Jehoiada the Priest did not discharge the courses.

9 And Jehoiada the Priest deliuered to the captaines of hundredths, speares, and shields, and bucklers which had bene King Dauids, and were in the house of God.

10 And hee caused all the people to stand (every man with his weapon in his hand) from the right side of the house, to the left side of the house by the Altar and by the house round about the King.

11 Then they brought out the Kings son, and put vpon him the crowne, and gaue him the testimonie, and made him King. And Jehoiada and his sonnes anoynted him, and said, God saue the King.

12 But when Athaliah heard the noyse of the people running and praising the king, shee came to the people into the house of the Lord.

13 And when she looked, behold, the king stood by his pillar at the entering in, and the princes and the trumpets by the King, and all the people of the land reioyced, and blew the trumpets, and the singers were with instruments of musicks, and they that could sing praise: then Athaliah rent her clothes, and said, Treason, treason.

14 Then Jehoiada the Priest brought out the captaines of hundredths that were gouernours of the host, and said vnto them, Hane her forth of the ranges, and hee that followeth her, let him die by the sword: for the Priest had said, Slay her not in the house of the Lord.

15 So they laide hands on her: and when she was come to the entering of the host gate by the Kings house, they slew her there.

16 And Jehoiada made a couenant betweene him, and all the people, and the king, that they would be the Lords people.

17 And all the people went to the house of Baal, and destroyed it, and brake his altars and his images, and slew Mattan the Priest of Baal before the altars.

18 And Jehoiada appointed officers for the house of the Lord, vnder the hands of the Priests, and Leuites, whom Dauid had distributed for the house of the Lord, to offer burnt offerings vnto the Lord, *as it is wri-ten in the Law of Moses, with reioycing and singing by the appointment of Dauid.

19 And he set porters by the gates of the house of the Lord, that none that was uncleane in any thing, should enter in.

20 And he tooke the captaines of hundredths, and the noble men, and the gouer-nours of the people, and all the people of the land, and hee caused the King to come downe out of the house of the Lord, and they went through the hie gate of the Kings house, and set the King vpon the throne of the kingdome.

21 Then all the people of the land reioy-ced, and the cite was quiet, * after that they had slaine Athaliah with the sword.

4 Ioash repairs the house of the Lord. 17
After the death of Iehoiada hee falleth to idolatry.

21 Hee cometh to death Zechariah the Prophet.

1 Dauid was seuen yeere old, when he began

Ierusalem, and his mothers name was Zi-biah of Beer-sheba.

2 And Ioash did byrightly in the sight of the Lord, all the dayes of Jehoiada the Priest.

3 And Jehoiada tooke him two wiues, and he begate sonnes and daughters.

4 And afterward it came into Ioash minde to renew the house of the Lord.

5 And hee assembled the Priests and the Leuites, and said to them, Goe out vnto the cities of Iudah, and gather of all Israel mony to repaite the house of your God, from yeere to yeere, and haake the thing: but the Leuites haiked noe.

6 Therefore the King called Jehoiada the chiefe, and said vnto him, Why hast thou not required of the Leuites to bring in out of Iudah and Ierusalem the taxe of Holes the seruant of the Lord, and of the Congregation of Israel, for the Tabernacle of the testimonie?

7 For wicked Athaliah, and her children brake by the house of God: and all the things that were dedicate for the house of the Lord, did they bestow vpon Baalim.

8 Therefore the King commaunded, *and they made a chest, and set it at the gate of the house of the Lord without.

9 And they made proclamation through Iudah and Ierusalem, to bring vnto the Lorde the taxe of Holes the seruant of God laide vpon Israel in the wilderness.

10 And all the princes and all the people reioyced, and brought in, and cast into the chest, vntill they had finished.

11 And when it was tyme, they brought the chest vnto the Kings officer by the hand of the Leuites: and when they saue kings Scribe (and one appointed by the high Priest) came and emptied the chest, and took it, & carried it to his place againe: thus they did day by day, and gathered silver in abundance.

12 And the king and Jehoiada gaue it to such as did the labour and worke in the house of the Lord, and hired Malons and carpenters to reparaire the house of the Lord: they gaue it also to the workers of yron and brass, to reparaire the house of the Lord.

13 So the workemen wrought, and the worke & amended through their hands: and they restored the house of God to his state, and strengthened it.

14 And when they had finished it, they brought the rest of the silver before the king and Jehoiada, and he made thereof vessels for the house of the Lord, euen vessels to minister, both molts and incense cups, and vessels of gold and of silver: and they offered burnt offerings in the house of the Lord continually all the dayes of Jehoiada.

15 But Jehoiada waxed old, and was full of dayes, and died. An hundredeth and thirty yeere old was he when hee died.

16 And they buried him in the city of Dauid with the kings, because hee had done good in Israel, and toward God and his house.

17 And after the death of Jehoiada, came the princes of Judah, and did reuerence to the king, and the king hearkened vnto them.

18 And they left the house of the Lord God of their fathers, and serued grones and idoles: and wrath came vpon Judah and Ierusalem, because of this their trespass.

19 And God sent prophets among them, to bring them againe to the Lord: and they made protestation among them, but they would not heare.

20 And the spirit of God came vpon Zechariah the sonne of Jehoiada the Priest which stood above the people, and sayd vnto them, Thus sayth God, Why transgresse yee the commandements of the Lord: surely ye shall not prosper: because yee haue forsaken the Lord, he hath also forsaken you.

21 Then they conspired against him, and stoned him with stones at the commandement of the king, in the court of the house of the Lord.

22 Thus Ioash the king remembered not the kindenesse which Jehoiada his father had done to him, but slew his sonne. And when he died, he said, The Lord look vpon it, and requite it.

23 And when the yeere was out, the holse of Aram came vpon against him, & they came against Judah and Ierusalem, and destroyed all the princes of the people from among the people, and sent all the spoyle of them vnto the king of Damalus.

24 Though the armie of Aram came with a small company of men, yet the Lord deliuered a very great army into their hand, because they had forsaken the Lord God of their fathers: and they gaue sentence against Ioash.

25 And when they were departed from him, (for they left him in great diseases) his own seruants conspired against him for the blood of y<sup>e</sup> children of Jehoiada the Priest, and slew him on his bed, and he died, & they buried him not in y<sup>e</sup> city of Dauid: but they buried him not in the sepulchres of the kings.

26 And these are they that conspired against him, Sabad the sonne of Shimirath an Ammonitisse, and Jehozabab the sonne of Shimirath a Doabitesse.

27 But his sonnes, and the ssumme of the taze gathered by him, and the foundation of the house of God, behold, they are written in the storie of the booke of the Kings. And Amaziah his sonne reigned in his stead.

CHAP. XXV.

3 Amaziah putteth them to death which slew his father. 10 He sendeth backe them of Irael. 11 He ouercometh the Edomites. 14 He falleth to idolatrie. 17 And Ioash king of Irael ouercometh Amaziah. 27 He is slaine by a conspiracie.

Amaziah was slaine and twenty yeere old, when he began to reigne, and hee reigned nine and twentieth yeere in Ierusalem: and his mothers name was Jehoaddan, of Ierusalem.

2 And hee did brightly in the eyes of the Lord, but not with a perfitt heart.

3 And when the kingdom was established vnto him, he slew his seruants that had slaine the king his father.

4 But he slew not their children, but did as it is written in the Law, and in the booke of Moses, where the Lord commanded, saying, The fathers shall not die for the children, neither shall the children die for the fathers, but euery man shall die for his owne sinne.

5 And Amaziah assembled Judah, and made them captaines ouer thousandes, and captaines ouer hundredes, according to the houses of their fathers, thowout al Judah and Benjamin: and hee numbred them from twentieth yeere old & about, and found among them three hundred thousand chosen men to go forth to the warre, and to handle speare and shield.

6 Hee hired also an hundred thousand haliant men out of Irael for a hundredth talents of silver.

7 But a man of God came to him, saying, O king, let not the armie of Irael goe with thee: for the Lord is not with Irael, neither with all the house of Ephraim.

8 If not, goe thou on, doe it, make thy selfe strong to the battell, but God shall make thee fall before the enemy: for God hath power to helpe, and to cast downe.

of Israel? Then the man of God answered, The Lord is able to giue thee more then this.

10 So Amaziah separated them, to wit, the armie that was come to him out of Ephraim, to returne to their place: wherefore their wrath was kindled greatly against Iudah, and they returned to their places with great anger.

11 Then Amaziah was encouraged, and led forth his people, and went to the salt valley, and smote of the children of Seir, ten thousand.

12 And other tenne thousand did the children of Iudah take aline, and caried them to the top of a rocke, and cast them downe from the top of the rocke, and they all burst to peeces.

13 But the men of the army, which Amaziah sent away, that they should not goe with his people to battell, fell vpon the cities of Iudah from Samaria vnto Beth-hozon, and smote three thousand of them, and tooke much spoyle.

14 Now after that Amaziah was come from the slaughter of the Edomites, hee brought the gods of the children of Seir, & set them vp to be his gods, and worshipped them, and burnt incense vnto them.

15 Wherefore the Lord was wroth with Amaziah, and sent vnto him a Prophet, which said vnto him, Why hast thou sought the gods of the people, which were not able to deliuer their owne people out of thine hand?

16 And as he talked with him, hee said vnto him, Haue they made thee the kings counsellor: cease thou: why should they? smite thee? And the Prophet ceased, but said, I know that God hath determined to destroy thee, because thou hast done this, and hast not obeyed my counsell.

17 Then Amaziah king of Iudah tooke counsell, and sent to Ioash the sonne of Jehoahaz, the sonne of Iehu king of Israel, saying, Come, let vs see one another in the face.

18 But Ioash king of Israel sent to Amaziah king of Iudah, saying, The thistle that is in Lebanon, sent to the Cedar that is in Lebanon, saying, * Giue thy daughter to my sonne to wife: and the wilde beast that was in Lebanon, went and trode downe the thistle.

19 Thou thinkest: loe, thou hast smitten Edom, and thine heart lieth thee vp to bragge: abide now at home: why doest thou prouoke to thine hurt, that thou shouldst fall, and Iudah with thee?

20 But Amaziah would not heare: for it was of God, that he might deliuer them into his hand, because they had sought the gods of Edom.

21 So Ioash the king of Israel went vp and he, and Amaziah king of Iudah, saue one another in the face at Bethshemesh, which is in Iudah.

22 And Iudah was put to the worse before Israel, and they fled euery man to his tents.

23 But Ioash the king of Israel tooke Amaziah king of Iudah, the sonne of Ioash, the sonne of Jehoahaz in Bethshemesh, and brought him to Jerusalem, and brake downe the wall of Jerusalem, from the gate of Ephraim vnto the corner gate, fouer hundred cubits.

24 And hee tooke all the gold and the silver, and all the vessels that were found in the house of God with Obed Edom, and in the treasures of the kings house, and the children that were in hostage, and returned to Samaria.

25 And Amaziah the sonne of Ioash king of Iudah liued after the death of Ioash sonne of Jehoahaz king of Israel, sixteene yeere.

26 Concerning the rest of the actes of Amaziah first and last, are they not written in the booke of the kings of Iudah and Israel?

27 Now after the time that Amaziah did turne away from the Lord, * they wrought treason against him in Jerusalem: & when he was fled to Lachish, they went to Lachish after him, and slew him there.

l According to the commandement of the Lord Levit. 13. 46.

9 Uzziah built towers in Jerusalem at the corner gate, and at the valley gate, and at the turning, and made them strong.

10 And hee built towers in the wilderness, and digged many cisternes: for he had much cattel both in the valleys and plaines, plovemen, and dressers of vines in the mountains, and in S. Carmel: for hee loved husbandrie.

11 Uzziah had also an hoste of fighting men that went out to war by bands, according to the count of their number under the hand of Jesei the scribe, and Baasiah the ruler, and under the hand of Hananiah, one of the Kings captaines.

12 The whole number of the chiefe of the families of the valiant men were two thousand and five hundred.

13 And under their hand was the armie for warre, three hundred & seven thousand, and five hundred that fought valiantly to helpe the King against the enemye.

14 And Uzziah prepared them thousand out all the holte, shields, and speares, and helmets, and brigandines, and bowes, and stones to sling.

15 He made also very artificiall engins in Jerusalem to be vpon the towers and vpon the corners, to shoot arrowes, and great stones: and his name spread farre abroad, because God did helpe him marvellously, till he was mightie.

16 But when hee was strong, his heart was lifted vp to his destruction: for he transgressed against the Lord his God, and went into the Temple of the Lord to burne incense vpon the Altar of incense.

17 And Azariah the Priest went in after him, and with him foure score Priests of the Lord, valiant men.

18 And they withstood Uzziah the King, and said vnto him, * It is not meet for thee, Uzziah, to burne incense vnto the Lord, but to the Priests, the Iohnes of Aaron, that are consecrated for to offer incense: go forth of the Sanctuary: for thou hast transgressed, and thou shalt haue none honore of the Lord God.

19 Then Uzziah was wroth, and had incense in his hand to burne it: and while hee was wroth with the Priests, the leprous rose vpon his forehead before the Priests in the house of the Lord beside the incense Altar.

20 And when Azariah the chiefe Priest with all the Priests looked vpon him, behold, hee was leprous in his forehead, and they caused him hastily to depart thence: and hee was euen compelled to goe out, because the Lord had smitten him.

21 * And Uzziah the king was a leper vnto the day of his death, and dwelt as a leper in an house apart, because hee was cut off from the house of the Lord: and Jotham his sonne ruled ouer the kings house, and iudged the people of the land.

22 Concerning the rest of the acts of Uzziah, first and last, did Izaiah the Prophet the sonne of Amoz write.

23 So Uzziah slept with his fathers, and they buried him with his fathers in the field of the buriall, which pertained to the Kings: for they said, * Hee is a leper. And Jotham his sonne reigned in his stead.

CHAP. XXVII.

1 Jotham reigned, and ouercommeth the Ammonites. 8 His reigne and death. 9 Abaz his sonne reigned in his stead.

Jotham was fine and twentie yeere olde when he began to reigne, and reigned threene yeere in Jerusalem, and his mothers name was Jerubab the daughter of Zadok.

2 And hee did vprightly in the sight of the Lord according to all that his father Uzziah did, save that hee entered not into the Temple of the Lord, and the people did yet corrupt their wayes.

3 Hee built the high gate of the house of the Lord, and hee built very much on the wal of the citie.

4 Moreover, hee built cities in the mountains of Judah, and in the toppes hee built palaces and towers.

5 And hee fought with the King of the children of Ammon, and prevailed against them. And the children of Ammon gaue him the same yeere an hundred talents of siluer, and ten thousand measures of wheate, and ten thousand of barley: this did the children of Ammon giue him both in the second yeere and the thirde.

6 So Jotham became mightie, because hee directed his waye before the Lord his God.

7 Concerning the rest of the acts of Jotham, and all his warres and his wayes, loe, they are written in the booke of the Kings of Israel and Judah.

3 Moreover, hee burnt incense in the valley of Ben-hinnom, and burnt his sonnes with fire, after the abomination of the heathen, whom the Lord had cast out before the children of Israel.

4 Hee sacrificed also and burnt incense in the high places, and on hills, and vnder every greene tree.

his, I many prisoners, and brought them to Damascus: and hee was also deliuered into the hand of the King of Israel, which smote him with a great slaughter.

6 For Dekah the sonne of Remaliah slew in Iudah fire thownd in one day, all valiant men, because they had forsaken the Lord God of their fathers.

7 And Zichi almighty man of Ephraim slew Baaltiah the Kings sonne, and Azekah the gouernour of the house, and Ekanaah the second after the King.

8 And the children of Israel tooke prisoners of their brethren, a two hundredth thowland of women, sonnes, and daughters, and carried away much spoyle of them, & brought the spoyle to Samaria.

9 ¶ But there was a Prophet of the Lords, (whose name was Oded) and he went out before the holte that came to Samaria, and said vnto them, Behold, because the Lord God of your fathers is wroth with Iudah, he hath deliuered them into your hand, and yee haue slaine them in a rage, that reacheth vp to heauen.

10 And now yee purpose to keepe vnder the children of Iudah and Jerusalem, as seruants, and handmaidens vnto you: but are not you such, that sinnes are with you before the Lord your God?

11 Now therefore heare mee, and deliuer the captiues againe, which yee haue taken prisoners of your brethren: for the fierce wrath of the Lord is toward you.

12 Wherefore certaine of the chiefe of the children of Ephraim, Azariah the sonne of Iehohanan, Berechiah the sonne of Bechielmorch, and Jehzkiiah the sonne of Shaluum, and Amasa the sonne of Hadai, stoode vp against them that came from the warre.

13 And said vnto them, Wring not in the captiues hither: for this shall be a sinne vpon vs against the Lord: yee intend to adde more to our sinnes and to our trespasses, though our trespasses be great, and the fierce wrath of God is against Israel.

14 So the army left the captiues and the spoyle before the Princes and all the Congregation.

15 And the men that were named by name, rose vp and tooke the prisoners, and with the spoyle clothed all that were naked among them, and arayed them, and shodde them, and gave them meate and gaue them drinke, and appointed them and carried all that were feeble of them vpon Ases, and brought them to Jericho the cite of Ihalme trees to their brethren: so they returned to Samaria.

16 ¶ At that time did king Ahaz send vnto the Kings of Asshur to helpe him.

17 For the Edomites came inoieourer, and slew of Iudah, & carried away captiues.

18 The Philistines also inuaded the cities in the low countrey, and toward the South of Iudah, and tooke Bechistemesch, and Aulon, and Gederoth and Shohocho, with the villages thereof, and Timnah, with her villages, and Ginzio, with her villages: and they dwelt there.

19 For the Lord had humbled Iudah, because of Ahaz King of Israel: for he had brought vengeance vpon Iudah, and had grievously transgressed against the Lord.

20 And Tilgath Pilnezer King of Asshur came vnto him, who troubled him, and did not strengthen him.

21 For Ahaz took a portion out of the house of the Lord, and out of the Kings house and of the Princes, and gaue vnto the King of Asshur: yet it helped him not.

22 And in the time of his tribulation did he yet trespass more against the Lord, (this is King Ahaz)

23 For he sacrificed vnto the gods of Damalcus, which plagued him, and hee said, Because the gods of the Kings of Aram helped them, I will sacrifice vnto them, and they will helpe me: yet they were his ruine and of all Israel.

24 And Ahaz gathered the vessels of the house of God, and brake the vessels of the house of God, and shut vp the doores of the house of the Lord, and made him altars in euery corner of Ierusalem.

25 And in euery cite of Iudah hee made hie places, to burne incense vnto other gods, and prouoked to anger the Lord God of his fathers.

26 Concerning the rest of his actes, and all his wayes first and last, behold, they are written in the booke of the Kings of Iudah and Israel.

27 And Ahaz slept with his fathers, and they buried him in the cite of Ierusalem, but brought him not vnto the sepulchres of the Kings of Israel: and Hezekiah his sonne reigned in his stead.

12 ¶ Then the Levites arose, Shabath the sonne of Amasai, and Joel the sonne of Azariah of the sonnes of the Kohathites: and of the sonnes of Merari, Kish the son of Abdi, and Azariah the sonne of Jehaleleel: and of the Gersonites, Joah the sonne of Finmah, and Eden the sonne of Joah:

13 And of the sons of Elizaphan, Shimri, and Jehiel: and of the sonnes of Aaph, Zebariah, and Bantaniah:

14 And of the sonnes of Heman, Jehiel, and Shimei: and of the sonnes of Jeduthun, Sherebiah, and Gziel.

15 And they gathered their brethren, and sanctified themselves, and came according to the commandment of the king, and by the words of the Lord, for to cleanse the house of the Lord.

16 And the Priests went into the inner parts of the house of the Lord, to cleanse it, and brought out all the uncleannesse that they found in the Temple of the Lord, into the court of the house of the Lord: and the Levites took it, to carie it out unto the brooke Kidron.

17 They began the first day of the first moneth to sanctifie it, and the eight day of the moneth came they to the porch of the Lord: so they sanctified the house of the Lord in eight daies, and in the sixteenth day of the first moneth they made an end.

18 ¶ Then they went in to Hezekiah the King, and sayd, Wee haue cleansed all the house of the Lord, and the altar of burnt offering, with all the vessels thereof, and the shewbread table, with all the vessels thereof: 19 And all the vessels which King Ahaz had cast aside when hee reigned, and transgressed, haue we prepared and sanctified: and behold, they are before the altar of the Lord.

20 ¶ And Hezekiah the king rose early, and gathered the princes of the citie, and went vp to the house of the Lord.

21 And they brought seven bullocks, and seven rammes, and seven lam bes, and seven hee goates, for a sinne offering to the kingdome: and for the Sanctuary, and for Judah. And hee commanded the Priests the sonnes of Aaron, to offer them on the altar of the Lord.

22 So they slew the bullockes, and the Priests receiued the blood, and sprinkled it vpon the altar: they slew also the rams, and sprinkled the blood vpon the altar, and they slew the lambes, and they sprinkled the blood vpon the altar.

23 Then they brought the hee goates for the sinne offering before the king and the Congregation, and they layd their hands vpon them.

24 And the Priests slew them, and with the blood of them they cleansed the altar to reconcile all Israel: for the king had commanded for all Israel the burnt offering and the sinne offering.

25 Hee appointed also the Levites in the house of the Lord withymbales, with vioules, and with harpes, according to the commandment of Dauid, and Gad the Kings Seer, and Nathan the Prophet: for the commandment was by the hande of the Lord, and by the hande of his Prophets.

26 And the Levites stood with the instruments of Dauid, and the Priests with the trumpets.

27 And Hezekiah commanded to offer the burnt offering vpon the Altar: and when the burnt offering began, the song of the Lord beganne with the trumpets, and the instruments of Dauid King of Israel.

28 And all the Congregation worshipped, singing a song, and they blew the trumpets: all this continued vntill the burnt offering was finished.

29 And when they had made an ende of offering, the King and all that were present with him, bowed themselves, and worshipped.

30 ¶ Then Hezekiah the King and the princes commanded the Levites to praise the Lord with the words of Dauid, and of Aaph the Seer: so they praised with ioy, and they bowed themselves and worshipped.

31 And Hezekiah spake, and sayd, Now ye haue consecrated your selues to the Lord: come nere and bring the sacrifices and offerings of praise into the house of the Lord. And the Congregation brought sacrifices, and offerings of praises, and euery man that was willing in heart, offered burnt offerings.

32 And the number of the burnt offerings, which the Congregation brought, was seventy bullockes, an hundred rams, and two hundred lambes: all these were for a burnt offering to the Lord:

33 And for sanctification sixe hundred bullockes, and three thousand sheepe.

34 But the Priests were too fewe, and were not able to slay all the burnt offerings, therefore their brethren the Levites did help them till they had ended the worke, and vntill other Priests were sanctified: for the Levites were more vpright in heart to sanctifie themselves, then the Priests.

35 And also the burnt offerings were many with the fat of the peace offerings, and the drinke offerings of the burnt offering: so the seruite of the house of the Lord was set in order.

CHAP XXX.

1. 13 The keeping of the Passouer by the kings commandment. 6 He exhorteth Israel to turne to the Lord. 18 He prayeth for the people. 24 His oblation and the princes. 27 The Leuites bless the people.

And Hezekiah sent to all Israel, and Judah, and also wrote letters to Ephraim, and Manasseh, that they should come to the house of the Lord at Jerusalem, to keepe the Passouer vnto the Lord God of Israel.

2 And the king and his princes, and all the Congregation had taken councell in Jerusalem to keepe the Passouer in the second moneth.

3 For they could not keepe it at this time, because there were not Priests enow sanctified, neither was the people gathered to Jerusalem.

4 And the thing pleased the King, and all the Congregation.

5 And they decreed to make proclamation throughout all Israel from Beer-sheba euen to Dan, that they should come to keepe the Passouer vnto the Lord God of Israel at Jerusalem: for they had not done it of a great time, as it was written.

6 So the Posts went with letters by the commission of the king and his princes, throughout all Israel and Judah, and with the commandment of the King, saying, Ye children of Israel, turne againe vnto the Lord God of Abraham, Izhak, and Israel, and he will returne to the remnant that are escaped of you out of the hands of the kings of Asshur.

7 And be not ye like your fathers, & like your brethren, which trespassed against the Lord God of their fathers: and therefore he made them desolate as ye see.

8 We not yee now stiffnecked like your fathers, but I give the hand to the Lord, and come into his Sanctuary, which hee hath sanctified for euer, and serue the Lord your God, and the fiercenesse of his wrath shall turne away from you.

9 For if ye returne vnto the Lord, your brethren and your children shall finde mercie before them that led them captiues, and they shall returne vnto this land: for the Lord your God is gracious and mercifull, and will not turne away his face from you, if ye conuert vnto him.

10 So the posts went from city to city throughout the land of Ephraim and Manasseh, euen vnto Zebulun: but they laughed them to scorn, and mocked them.

11 Aheriabele, diners of Aser, and Manasseh, and of Zebulun submitted themselves, and came to Jerusalem.

12 And the hand of God was in Judah, so that hee gaue them one heart to doe the commandment of the King, and of the rulers, according to the word of the Lord.

13 And there assembled to Jerusalem much people, to keepe the feast of the vnteaucned bread in the second moneth, a very great assembly.

14 And they arose, and tooke away the altars that were in Jerusalem: and all those for incense tooke they away, and cast them into the brooke Kidron.

15 Afterward they slew the Passouer the fourteenth day of the second moneth: and the Priests and the Leuites were ashamed, and sanctified themselves and brought the burnt offerings into the house of the Lord.

16 And they stood in their place after their maner according to the Law of Moses the man of God: and the Priests sprinkled the blood, receiued of the handes of the Leuites.

17 Because there were many in the congregation that were not sanctified, therefore the Leuites had the charge of the killing of the Passouer for all that were not cleane, to sanctifie it to the Lord.

18 For a multitude of the people, euena multitude of Ephraim, and Manasseh, Issachar and Zebulun had not sanctified themselves, yet did eate the Passouer, but not as it was written: wherefore Hezekiah prayed for them, saying, The good Lord be mercifull toward him.

19 That prepareth his whole heart to seeke the Lord God, the God of his fathers, though he be not cleane, according to the purification of the Sanctuary.

20 And the Lord heard Hezekiah, and healed the people.

21 And the children of Israel that were present at Jerusalem, kept the feast of the vnteaucned bread seuen dayes with great joy, and the Leuites, and the Priests praised the Lord day by day, singing with loude instruments vnto the Lord.

22 And Hezekiah spake comfortably vnto all the Leuites that had good knowledge to sing vnto the Lord: and they did eat in that feast seuen dayes, and offered peace offerings, and prayed the Lord God of their fathers.

23 And the whole assembly tooke counsel to keepe it other seuen dayes. So they kept it seuen dayes with joy.

24 For Hezekiah king of Iudah had giuen to the Congregation a thousand bullocks, and seuen thousand sheepe. And the princes had giuen to the Congregation a thousand bullocks, and ten thousand sheepe: and many Priests were sanctified.

25 And all the Congregation of Iudah reioyced with the Priests and the Leuites, and all the Congregation that came out of Israel, and the strangers that came out of the land of Israel, and that dwelt in Iudah.

26 So there was great joy in Jerusalem: for since the time of Salomon the sonne of Dauid king of Israel, there was not the like thing in Jerusalem.

27 Then the Priests and the Leuites arose, and blessed the people, and their voice was heard, and their prayer came by vnto beauen, to his holy habitation.

CHAP. XXXI.

1 The people destroy idolatry. 2 Hezekiah appointeth Priests and Leuites, 4 and prouideth for their liuing. 13 He ordereth overseers to distribute to euery one his portion.

And when all these things were finished, All Israel that were found in the cities of Iudah, went out and brake the images, and cut downe the groines, and brake downe the hie places, and the altars thorowout all Iudah and Benjamin, in Ephraim also and Manasseh, until they had made an ende: afterward all the children of Israel returned euery man to his possession, into their owne cities.

2 And Hezekiah appointed the courses of the Priests and Leuites, by their turnes, euery man according to his office, both Priests and Leuites, for the burnt offering and peace offerings, to minister and to giue thanks, and to praye in the gates of the tents of the Lord.

3 (And the Kings portion was of his owne substance for the burnt offerings, euen for the burnt offerings of the morning and of the evening, and the burnt offerings for the Sabbarhs, and for the new moones, and for the solemne feasts, * as it is written in the Law of the Lord)

4 Her commanded also the people that dwelt in Ierusalem, to giue a part to the Priests, and Leuites, that they might be encouraged in the Law of the Lord.

5 And when the commandement was spiced, the children of Israel brought abundance of first fruits of come, wine, and oyle, and honic, and of all the increase of the field, and the tithe of all things brought they abundantly.

6 And the children of Iserael and Iudah that dwelt in the cite of Iudah, they also brought the tithes of bullockes and sheepe, and the holy tithes which were consecrate unto the Lord their God, and layd them on s many heapes.

7 In the thirde moneth they began to lay the foundation of the heapes, and finished them in the seventh moneth.

8 And when Hezekiah and the Princes came and saw the heapes, they blessed the Lord and his people Israel.

9 And Hezekiah questioned with the Priests and the Leuites concerning the heapes.

10 And Azariah the chiefe Priest of the house of Zadok answered him, and sayde, Since the people began to bring the offerings unto the house of the Lord, wee haue earen and haue been satisfied, and there is left in abundance: for the Lord hath blessed his people, and this abundance that is left.

11 And Hezekiah commanded to prepare chambers in the house of the Lord: and they prepared them, 12 And eared in the first fruits, and the tithes, and the best of things faithfully: and ouer them was Conantah the Leuite, the chiefe, and Shimei his brother the second.

13 And Iehiel, and Azariah, and Ma-bath, and Alabel, and Jetimoth, and Jozabad, and Eliel, and Jinnachiah, and Bahath, and Benatiah were ouersers by the appointment of Conantah, and Shimei his brother, and by the commandment of Hezekiah the king, and of Azariah the chiefe of the house of God.

14 And Roze the sonne of Innah the Leuite, porter toward the East, was ouer the things that were willingly offered vnto God, to distribute the oblations of the Lord, and the holy things that were consecrate.

15 And at his hand were Eder, and Ginnamin, and Jehua, and Schemajah, Amastah, and Shechaniah, in the cities of the Priests, to distribute with fidelitie to their brethren by courses both to the great and small.

16 Their dayly portion: beside their generation being males from thre yeere old and aboue, euen to all that entered into the house of the Lord to their office in their charge, according to their courses:

17 Both to the generation of the Priests after the house of their fathers, and to the Leuites, from twenty yeere olde and aboue, according to their charge in their courses:

18 And to the generation of all their children, their wiues, and their sonnes, and their daughters thorowout all the Congregation: for by their fidelitie are they partakers of the holy things.

19 Also to the sonnes of Aaron, the Priests, which were in the fields and suburbs of their cities, in euery cite the men that were appointed by names, should giue portions to all the males of the Priests, and to all the generation of the Leuites.

20 And thus did Hezekiah thorowout all Iudah, and did wel and vnghtly, and truly before the Lord his God.

21 And in all the workes that hee began for the seruite of the house of God, both in the Law and in the commandementes to seeke his God, hee did it with all his heart, and prospered.

7 Be strong and couragious: feare not, neither bee afraid for the king of Asshur, neither for all the multitude that is with him: for there be moe with vs, then is with him.

8 With him is an arme of flesh, but with vs is the Lord our God for to helpe vs, and to fight our battels. When the people were confirmed by the wordes of Hezekiah king of Iudah.

9 After this did Saneherib king of Asshur send his seruants to Ierusalem (while he was against Lachish, and all his dominion was against him) vnto Hezekiah king of Iudah, and vnto all Iudah that were at Ierusalem, saying,

10 Thus sayeth Saneherib the king of Asshur, Wherein doe ye trust, that ye will remaine in Ierusalem, during the siege?

11 Doth not Hezekiah entise you to gine ouer your selues vnto death by famine and by thirst, saying, The Lord our God shall deliuer vs out of the hand of the king of Asshur?

12 Hath not the same Hezekiah taken away his high places and his altars, and commanded Iudah and Ierusalem, saying, Ye shall worship before one altar, and burne incense vpon it?

13 Know ye not what I and my fathers haue done vnto all the people of other countreys? Were the gods of the nations of other lands able to deliuer their land out of mine hand?

14 Also is hee of all the gods of those nations (that my fathers haue destroyed) that could deliuer his people out of mine hand, that your God should be able to deliuer you out of mine hand?

15 Now therefore let not Hezekiah deliue you, nor seduce you after this sort, neither beleue ye him: for none of all the gods of any nation or kingdome was able to deliuer his people out of mine hand, and out of the hand of my fathers: how much lesse shall your gods deliuer you out of mine hand?

16 And his seruants spake yet more against the Lord God, and against his seruant Hezekiah.

17 Hee wrote also letters, blaspheming the Lord God of Israel, and speaking against him, saying, As the gods of the nations of other countreies could not deliuer their people out of mine hand, so shal not the God of Hezekiah deliuer his people out of mine hand.

18 Then they cryed with a loud voyce in the Iewes speech vnto the people of Ierusalem that were on the wall, to feare them and to astonish them, that they might take the cite.

19 Thus they spake against the God of Ierusalem, as against the gods of the people of the earth, euen the workes of mans hands.

20 But Hezekiah the king, and the Prophet Iaiyah the sonne of Amoz prayed against this, and cried to heauen.

21 And the Lord sent an Angel which destroyed all the valiant men, and the princes and captaiues of the hoke of the king of Asshur: so hee returned with shame to his owne land. And when hee was come into the house of his god, they that came forth of his owne bowels, slew him there with the sword.

22 So the Lord saned Hezekiah and the inhabitants of Ierusalem from the hand of Saneherib king of Asshur, and from the hand of all other, and maintained them on euery side.

23 And many brought offerings vnto the Lord to Ierusalem, and presents to Hezekiah king of Iudah, so that hee was magnified in the sight of all nations from thenceforth.

24 In those dayes Hezekiah was sicke vnto the death, and prayed vnto the Lord, who spake vnto him, and gaue him a signe.

25 But Hezekiah did not render according to the reward bestowed vpon him: for his heart was lifted vp, and wrath came vpon him, and vpon Iudah and Ierusalem.

26 Notwithstanding Hezekiah humbled himselfe (after that his heart was lifted vp) hee and the inhabitants of Ierusalem, and the wrath of the Lord came not vpon them in the dayes of Hezekiah.

27 Hezekiah also had exceeding much riches and honour, and hee gate him treasures of silver and of gold, and of precious stones, and of sweete odours, and of ipeilds, and of all pleasant vessels:

28 And of storehouses for the increafe of wheat and wine, and oyle, and stables for all beasts, and rows for the stables.

29 And hee made him cities, and had possession of sheepe and oren in abundance: for God had giuen him substance exceeding much.

30 This same Hezekiah also stopped the vpper water springes of Sion, and led them straight vnderneath toward the cite of Dauid Westward. So Hezekiah prospered in all his workes.

31 But because of the ambassadors of the princes of Babel, which sent vnto him to enquire of the wonder that was done in the land, God left him to reuele him, and to know all that was in his heart.

32 Concerning the rest of the actes of Hezekiah, and his goodnesse, behold, they are writen in the vision of Iaiyah the 33 So Hezekiah slepe with his fathers, and they buried him in the highest sepulchre of the sonnes of David: and all Iudah and the inhabitants of Ierusalem did him honour at his death: and Manasseh his sonne reigned in his stead.

C H A P. XXXIII.

1 Manasseh an idolater, 9 He causeth Iudah to erre. 11 He u led away prisoner into Babylon. 12 Hee prayeth to the Lord, and is deliuered. 14 Hee abasheth idolatrye, 16 and seeth vpr his religion. 20 Hee dieth, and Amon hu sonne succedeth, 24 whom his owne seruants slay.

Manasseh was threety yeere old,* when he began to reigne, and he reigned thre and fiftie yeere in Ierusalem:

2 And hee did euill in the sight of the Lord, like the abominations of the heathen,* whom the Lord had cast out before the children of Israel.

3 For hee went backe and built the high places,* which Hezekiah his father had broken downe: * and he set vp altars for Baalim, and made groues, and worshipped all the hoste of the heauen, and serued them.

4 Also hee built altars in the house of the Lord, whereof the Lord had said,* In Ierusalem shall my Name be for euer.

5 And hee built altars for, all the hoste of the heauen, in the two courts of the house of the Lord.

6 * And hee caused his sonnes to passe thorow the fire in the valley of Ben hinon: hee gaue himselfe to witchcraft, and to charming, and to sozerie, and he vsed them that had familiar spirits, and soothsayers: hee did very much euill in the sight of the Lord to anger him.

7 Hee put also the carued image, which hee had made, in the house of God: whereof God had said to Dauid, and to Salomon his sonne, * In this house and in Ierusalem, which I haue chosen before all the tribes of Israel, will I put my Name for euer.

8 Neether will * I make the foote of Israel to remooue any more out of the land which I haue appointed for your fathers, so that they take heed, and do all that I haue commaunded them, according to the Lawe and statutes and iudgements by the <sup>b</sup> hand of Moses.

9 So Manasseh made Iudah and the inhabitants of Ierusalem to erre, and to doe worse then the heathen, whom the Lord had destroyed before the children of Israel.

10 And the Lord spake <sup>c</sup> to Manasseh and to his people, but they would not regard.

11 Wherefore the Lord brought vpon them the captaiues of the hoste of the king of Asshur, which tooke Manasseh, and put him in fetters, and bound him in chaines, and carried him to Babel.

12 And when hee was in tribulation, hee prayed to the Lord his God, and humbled himselfe greatly before the God of his fathers, 13 And prayed vnto him: and God was <sup>d</sup> entreated of him, and heard his prayer, and brought him againe to Ierusalem into his kingdome: then Manasseh knew that the Lord was God.

14 Now after this hee built a wall with- out the cite of Dauid, on the West side of <sup>e</sup> Sion in the valley, euen at the entrie of the fish gate, and compassed about <sup>f</sup> Tybel, and raised it very high, and put captaiues of warre in all the strong cities of Iudah.

15 And hee tooke away the strange gods and the image out of the house of the Lord, and all the altars that hee had built in the mount of the house of the Lord, and in Ierusalem, and cast them out of the cite.

16 Also hee prepared the <sup>g</sup> altar of the Lord, and sacrificed thereon peace offerings, and of thankes, and commaunded Iudah to serue the Lord God of Israel.

17 Neuertheless, the people did sacrifice still in the high places, but vnto the <sup>h</sup> Lord their God.

18 Concerning the rest of the actes of Manasseh, and his prayer vnto his God, and the words of the Seers, that spake to him in the Name of the Lord God of Israel, behold, they are written in the booke of the kings of Israel.

19 And his prayer, and how God was in- treated of him, and all his sinne, and his trespasses, and the places wherein hee built high places, and set groues and images (be- fore hee was humbled) behold, they are writ- ten in the booke of the <sup>i</sup> Seers.

20 So Manasseh slept with his fathers, and they buried him in his own <sup>k</sup> house, and Amon his sonne reigned in his stead.

21 Amon was two and twentie yeere olde when hee began to reigne, and reigned two yeere in Ierusalem.

22 But hee did euill in the sight of the Lord, as did Manasseh his father: for Amon sacrificed to al the images, which Manasseh his father had made, and serued them.

23 And hee humbled not himselfe before the Lord, as Manasseh his father had hum- bled himselfe: but this Amon trespassed more and more.

24 And his seruants * conspired against him, and slew him in his owne house.

25 But the people of the land slew all them that had conspired against king Amon: and the people of the land made Ioshah his sonne king in his stead.

(When hee was yet a child) hee beganne to seeke after the God of David his father, and in the twelue yeere he began to purge Iudah and Ierusalem from the high places and the grones, and the carved images, and molten images:

4 And they brake downe in his sight the altars of Baalim, and hee caused to cut downe the images that were on high vpon them: he brake also the grones, and the carved images, and the molten images, and stamp them to powder, and drew it vpon to the grones of them that had sacrificed vnto them.

5 Also he burnt the bones of the priests vpon their altars, and purged Iudah and Ierusalem.

6 And in the cities of Danasseh, and Ephraim, and Simcon, euen vnto Asphath, with their maules they brake all round about.

7 And when hee had destroyed the altars and the grones, and had broken and stamped to powder the images, and had cut downe all the idoles throuout all the land of Israel he returned to Ierusalem.

8 ¶ When in the eighteenth yeere of his reigne, when hee had purged the land and the Temple, hee sent Shaphan the sonne of Asaitah, and Baalerah the Gouernour of the citie, and Joab the sonne of Joahaz the Recorder, to reparaire the house of the Lord his God.

9 And when they came to Hilkiah the high Priest, they deliuered the money that was brought into the house of God, which the Leuites that kept the doore had gathered at the hand of Danasseh, and Ephraim, and of all the residue of Israel, and of all Iudah and Benjamin, and of the inhabitants of Ierusalem.

10 And they put it in the hands of them that should doe the worke, and had the oversight in the house of the Lord: and they gaue it to the workemen that wrought in the house of the Lord, to reparaire and amend the house.

11 Euen to the workmen and to the builders gaue they it, to buy hewed stone and timber for couples and for beames of the houses, which the kings of Iudah had destroyed.

12 And the men did the worke faithfully, and the ouerscers of them were Iahab and Obadiah the Leuites, of the children of Berai, and Sechariah, and Heshullam, of the children of the Kohathites to see it forward: and of the Leuites all that could skill of instruments of musick.

13 And they were other the bearers of burdens, and them that set forward all the workmen in enery worke: and of the Leuites were scribes, and officers and porters.

14 And when they brought out the money that was brought into the house of the Lord, Hilkiah the Priest found the booke of the Law of the Lord giuen by the hand of Moses.

15 Therefore Hilkiah answered, and said to Shaphan the chancellour, I haue found the booke of the Law in the house of the Lord: and Hilkiah gaue the booke to Shaphan.

16 And Shaphan carried the booke to the king, and brought the king word againe, saying, All that is committed to the hands of thy seruants, that doe they.

17 For they haue gathered the money that was found in the house of the Lord, and haue deliuered it into the hands of the ouerscers, and to the hands of the workmen.

18 Also Shaphan the chancellour declared to the king, saying, Hilkiah the Priest hath giuen me a booke: and Shaphan read it before the king.

19 And when the king had heard the words of the Law, he tare his clothes.

20 And the king commaunded Hilkiah and Aikam the sonne of Shaphan, and Abdon the sonne of Hicai, and Shaphan the chancellour, and Asarah the kings seruant, saying,

12 Go and enquire of the Lord for me, and for the rest in Israel and Iudah, concerning the words of this booke that is found: for great is the wrath of the Lord that is fallen vpon vs, because our fathers haue not kept the word of the Lord, to doe after all that is written in this booke.

22 Then Hilkiah and they that the king had appointed, went to Iudah the Desolatrice the wife of Shallum, the sonne of Tokhath, the sonne of Iasrah keeper of the wardrobe (and she dwelt in Ierusalem within the college) and they commauned hereof with her.

23 And shee answered them, Thus saith the Lord God of Israel, Tell ye the man that sent you to me,

14 Thus saith the Lord, Behold, I will bring euill vpon this place, and vpon the inhabitants thereof, euen all the curses, that are written in the booke which they haue read before the king of Iudah:

25 Because they haue forsaken mee, and burnt incense vnto other gods, to anger mee with all the workes of their hands, therefore shall my wrath fall vpon this place, and shall not be quenched.

26 But to the king of Iudah, who sent you to enquire of the Lord, so shall ye say vnto him. Thus saith the Lord God of Israel, The words which thou hast heard, shall come to passe.

27 But because thine heart did smelt, and thou didst humble thy selfe before Sab, when thou heardst his words against this place, and against the inhabitants thereof, a humbledst thy selfe before mee, and tarest thy clothes, and weptest before mee; I haue also heard it, saith the Lord.

28 Behold, I will gather thee to thy fathers, and thou shalt bee put in thy graue in peace, and thine eyes shall not see all the euill which I will bring vpon this place, and vpon the inhabitants of the same. Thus they brought the king word againe.

32 And he caused all that were found in Ierusalem & Benjamin to stand to it: and the inhabitants of Ierusalem did according to y<sup>e</sup> couenant of God, euen the God of their fathers.

33 So Josiah tooke away all the abominations out of all the countreys that pertained to the children of Israel, and compelled all that were found in Israel, to serue the Lord their God: so all his dayes they turned not backe from the Lord God of their fathers.

CHAP. XXXV.

1 Josiah keepeth the Passeouer. 2 He setteth forth Gods seruice 30 He fighteth against the king of Egypt, and dieth. 24 The people bewaile him.

Whereof Josiah kept a Passeouer vnto the Lord in Ierusalem, and they slew the Passeouer in the fourteenth day of the first moneth.

2 And he appointed the Priests to their charges, and encouraged them to the seruice of the house of the Lord,

3 And hee layd vnto the Leuites that taught all Israel, and were sanctified vnto the Lord, But the holy Arke in the house which Salomon the sonne of Dauid King of Israel did build: it hath no more a burden vpon your shoulders: leaue now the Lord your God and his people Israel,

4 And prepare your selues by the houses of your fathers according to your courses, as Dauid the King of Israel hath written, and according to the writing of Salomon his sonne,

5 And stand in the Sanctuary according to the diuision of the families of your brethren the children of the people, and after the diuision of the family of the Leuites:

6 So kill the Passeouer, & sanctifie your selues, and prepare your brethren that they may doe according to the word of the Lord by the hand of Moses.

7 Josiah also gaue to the people sheepe, lambs, and kids, all for the Passeouer, euen to all that were present, to the number of thirty thousand, & three thousand bullockes: these were of the kings substance.

8 And his Princes offered willingly vnto the people, to the Priests and to the Leuites: Hulkiab, and Zechariah, and Jehiel, rulers of the house of God, gaue vnto the Priests of the Passeouer, euen two thousand and fixe hundred sheepe, and three hundred bullockes.

9 Conaniah also and Shemaiah and Jehaneel his brethren, & Hasabiah and Jziel, and Jozabad, chiefe of the Leuites, gaue vnto the Leuites for the Passeouer, fixe thousand sheepe, and five hundred bullockes.

10 Thus the seruice was prepared, and the Priests stood in their places, also the Leuites in their orders, according to the Kings commandment:

11 And they slew the Passeouer, and the Priests sprinkled the blood with their hands, and the Leuites slayed them.

12 And they tooke away from the burnt offering to giue it according to the diuisions of the families of the children of the people to offer vnto the Lord, as it is written in the booke of Moses, and so of the bullockes.

13 And they roasted the Passeouer with fire, according to the custome, but the sanctified things they sod in pots, pans, and caldrons, and distributed them quickly to all the people.

14 Afterward also they prepared for themselves & for the Priests: for the Priests the sonnes of Aaron were occupied in offering of burnt offerings, and the fatte vntill night: therefore the Leuites prepared for themselves, and for the Priests the sonnes of Aaron.

15 And the fingers of the sons of Asaph stood in their standing according to y<sup>e</sup> commandment of Dauid, and Asaph, and Herman, and Jeduthun the Kings Seer: and the porters at euery gate, who might not depart from their seruice: therefore their brethren the Leuites prepared for them.

16 So at the seruice of the Lord was prepared the same day to keepe the Passeouer, and to offer burnt offerings vpon the altar of the Lord, according to the commandment of King Josiah.

17 And the children of Israel that were present, kept the Passeouer the same time, and the feast of the vnleavened bread seuen dayes.

18 And there was no Passeouer kept like that in Israel, from the dayes of Samue the Prophet: neither did all the Kings of Israel keep such a Passeouer as Josiah kept and the Priests and the Leuites, and all Judah & Israel that were present, and the Inhabitants of Ierusalem.

19 This Passeouer was kept in the eighteenth yeere of the reigne of Josiah.

20 After all this, when Josiah had prepared y<sup>e</sup> Temple, Necho King of Egypt came by to fight against Carchemish by Berach, and Josiah went out against him.

21 But hee sent messengers to him, saying, What haue I to doe with thee, thou King of Iudah? I come not against thee this day, but against the house of mine enemy, and God commanded mee to make haste: leaue off to come against God, which is with me, lest he destroy thee.

22 But Josiah would not turne his face from him, but changed his apparell to fight with him, and bearkened not to the wordes of Necho, which were of the mouth of God, but came to fight in the valley of Megiddo.

When the people of the land tooke Jehoiakim the sonne of Iohas, and made him king in his fathers stead in Ierusalem.

2 Jehoiakim was three and twenty yeere old when he began to reigne, and he reigned three moneths in Ierusalem.

3 And the king of Egypt tooke him away at Ierusalem, & condemned the land in an hundred talents of silver, & a talent of gold.

4 And the king of Egypt made Eliakim his brother king over Iudah and Ierusalem: and turned his name to Jehoiakim: and Necho tooke Ichoahaz his brother, and caried him to Egypt.

5 Jehoiakim was five and twenty yeere old when hee began to reigne, and hee reigned eleven yere in Ierusalem, and did euill in the sight of the Lord his God.

6 Against him came by Nebuchad-nezzar king of Babel, and bound him with chaines to carie him to Babel.

7 Nebuchad-nezzar also caried of the vessels of the house of the Lord to Babel, and put them in his Temple at Babel.

8 Concerning the rest of the actes of Jehoiakim, and his abominations which hee did, and that which was found vpon him, behold, they are written in the booke of the Kings of Israel & Iudah: and Jehoiakim his sonne reigned in his stead.

9 Jehoiachin was eight yere old when hee began to reigne, and hee reigned three moneths and ten dayes in Ierusalem, and did euill in the sight of the Lord.

10 And when the yere was out, King Nebuchad nezzar sent and brought him to Babel with the precious vessels of the house of the Lord, and he made Zedeekiah his brother king over Iudah and Ierusalem.

11 Zedeekiah was one and twenty yeere old when he began to reigne, and reigned eleven yeere in Ierusalem.

12 And hee did euill in the sight of the Lord his God, and humbled not himselfe before Ieremias the Prophet at the commandement of the Lord:

13 But he rebelled moreover against Nebuchad-nezzar, which had caused him to swear by God: and he hardened his necke and made his heart obstinate that he might not returne to the Lord God of Israel.

14 All the chiefe of the Priestes also, and of the people trespassed wouderfully, according to all the abominations of the heathen, and polluted the house of the Lord which he had sanctified in Ierusalem.

15 Therefore the Lord God of their fathers sent to them by his messengers, rising early and sending: for he had compassion on his people, and on his habitation.

16 But they mocked the messengers of God, and despised his words, & mistuled his Prophets, untill the wrath of the Lord arose against his people, and till there was no remedie.

17 For hee brought vpon them the King of the Caldeans, who slew their young men with the sword in the house of their Sanctuary, and spared neither young man, nor virgine, ancient, nor aged: God gaue all into his hand,

18 And all the vessels of the house of God, great and small, and the treasures of the house of the Lord, and the treasures of the king, and of his princes: all these caried in to Babel.

19 And they burnt the house of God, and brake downe the wall of Ierusalem, and burnt all the palaces therof with fire, and all the precious vessels therof to destroy all.

20 And they that were left by the sword, caried he away to Babel, and they were servants to him and to his sonnes, untill the kingdom of the Persians had rule, 21 To fulfill the word of the Lord by the mouth of Ieremias, untill the land had her fill of her desolatie: for all the dayes that she lay desolate, she kept Sabbath, to fulfill seuentie yeeres.

22 But in the first yere of Cyrus King of Persia (when the word of the Lord spoken by the mouth of Ieremias, was finished) the Lord stirred vp the spirit of Cyrus king of Persia, and he made a Proclamation thowout at his kingdom, and also by writing, saying,

23 Thus sayth Cyrus king of Persia, All the kingdoms of the earth hath the Lord God of heauen giuen me, and he hath commanded me to build him an house in Ierusalem, that is in Iudah. Who is among you of all his people, with whom the Lord his God is? let him goe vp.

2 The building of the Temple is hindred, and how. 11 Letters to Artaxerxes, & the answer.

11 UR<sup>a</sup> the aduersaries of Iudah and Benjamin heard, that the children of the captiuitie builded the Temple vnto the Lord God of Israel.

2 And they came to Zerubbabel, & to the chiefe fathers, and said vnto them, Wee will build with you: for we seeke the Lord your God, as ye doe, and wee haue sacrificed vnto him, since the time of Esar Haddon King of Assur, which brought vs vp hither.

3 Then Zerubbabel, and Iesua, and the rest of the chiefe fathers of Israel, sayd vnto them, It is not for you. but for vs to builde the house vnto our God: for wee our selues together will build it vnto the Lord God of Israel, as King Cyrus the King of Persia had commanded vs.

4 Wherefore the people of the land & discouraged the people of Iudah, and troubled them in building,

5 And they hired counsellers against them, to hinder their deuice, all the dayes of Cyrus king of Persia, euen vntill the reigne of Darius King of Persia.

6 And in the reigne of D<sup>a</sup> Hasueros (in the beginning of his reigne) wrote they an accusation against the inhabitants of Iudah and Ierusalem.

7 And in the dayes of Artahashate, Bichardath, Tabeel, & the rest of their companions wrote when it was peace, vnto Artahashate King of Persia, and the writing of the letter was the Aramites writing, and the thing declared was in the language of the Aramites.

8 Rehum the Chancellor, and Shimshai the Scribe wrote a letter against Ierusalem to Artahashate the King, in this sort.

9 Then wrote Rehum the chancellor, and Shimshai the Scribe, and their companions, Dinaie, and Apharhate, Tarpelata, Apphasate, Archenate, Baslaie, Sushanachate, Dehaue, Chumse,

10 And the rest of the people whome the great and noble Anaparr brought ouer and set in the cities of Samaria, and other that are beyond the River and Cheeneth.

11 And this is copie of the letter that they sent vnto King Artahashate, THY SERVANTS the men beyond the River and Cheeneth, salute thee.

12 We it knowen vnto the King, that the Jewes which came vp from thee to vs, are come vnto Ierusalem (a citie rebellious and wicked) and build, and lay the foundations of the walles, and haue toynd the foundations.

13 We it knowen now vnto the King, that if this citie be built, and the foundations of the walles layd, they will not giue toll, tribute, nor custome: so that thou hinder the Kings tribute.

14 Now therefore because we haue bene brought vp in the Kings palace, it was not meete for vs to see the Kings dishonour: for this cause haue wee sent and certified the King,

15 That one may search in the booke of the Chronicles of thy fathers, and thou shalt finde in the booke of the Chronicles, and perceiue that this citie is rebellious and notable vnto Kings and pounces, and that they haue mooued ledition of old time, for the which cause this city was destroyed.

16 Wee certifie the King therefore, that if this citie be builded, and the foundation of the walles layd, by this meanes the portion beyond the River shall not be thine.

17 The King sent an answer vnto Rehum the Chancellour, and Shimshai the Scribe, and to the rest of their companions that dwelt in Samaria, and vnto the other beyond the River, Shelam, and Cheeth.

18 The letter which ye sent vnto vs, hath bene openly read before me, 19 And I haue commaunded and they haue searched, and found, that this citie of olde time hath made insurrection against Kings, and hath rebelled, and rebellion hath bene committed therein.

20 There haue bene mighty Kings also ouer Ierusalem, which haue ruled ouer all beyond the River, and toll, tribute, and custome was giuen vnto them.

21 Make ye now a decree, that those men may cease, and that the citie be not built till I haue giuen another commandement.

22 Take heed now that ye faille not to do this: why should damage growe to hurt the King?

23 When the copy of King Artahashates letter was read before Rehum & Shimshai the Scribe, and their companions, they went vp in all the haste to Ierusalem vnto the Jewes, and caused them to cease by force and power.

24 Then ceased the worke of the house of God which was in Ierusalem, and did stay vnto the second yere of Darius King of Persia.

arose, and began to build the house of God at Jerusalem, & with them were the Prophets of God, which helped them.

3 At that same time came to them Tatnai, which was captaine beyond the river, and Sether boznai & their companions, and sayd thus vnto them, Who hath giuen you commandement to build this house, and to lay the foundation of these walles?

4 Then sayd wee vnto them after this manner, What are the names of the men that build this building?

5 But the eye of their God was vpon the Elders of the Jewes, that they could not cause them to ceale, till the matter came to Darius: and then they answered by letters theraunto.

6 The copie of the letter, that Tatnai captaine beyond the River, and Sether boznai and his companions, Appharsebaie, (which were beyond the River) sent vnto king Darius.

7 They sent a letter vnto him wherein it was written thus, VNTO DARIVS the king, all peace.

8 Be it knowen vnto the king, that we went into the Prouince of Iudea, to the house of the great God, which is builded with great stones, and beames are layd in the wals, and this worke is wrought speedily, and prospereth in their hands.

9 Then asked we those Elders, and sayd vnto them thus, Who hath giuen you commandement to build this house, and to lay the foundation of these walles?

10 Wee asked their names also, that wee might certifie thee, and that wee might write the names of the men that were their rulers.

11 But they answered vs thus, and said, Wee are the seruants of the God of heauen and earth, and builde the house that was built of old and many yeeres agoe, which a great king of Israel builded, and founded it.

12 But after that our fathers had prouoked the God of heauen vnto wrath, he gaue them ouer into the hand of Nebuchadnezzar king of Babel the Caldean, and he destroyed this house, and caried the people away captiue vnto Babel.

13 But in the first yeere of Cyrus king of Babel, king of Cyrus made a decree to build this house of God.

14 And the vessels of golde and siluer of the house of God, which Nebuchadnezzar tooke out of the Temple that was in Jerusalem, and brought them into the Temple of Babel, those did Cyrus the king take out of the temple of Babel, and they gaue them vnto one Setherbazzar by his name, whome he had made captaine.

15 And he said vnto him, Take these vessels and goe thy way, and put them in the Temple that is in Jerusalem, and let the house of God be built in his place.

16 Then came the same Setherbazzar, and laid the foundation of the house of God, which is in Jerusalem, and since that time euen vntill now, hath it bene in building, yet is it not finished.

17 Now therefore if it please the king, let there bee search made in the house of the kings treasures, which is there in Babel, whether a decree hath bene made by king Cyrus, to build this house of God in Jerusalem, and let the king send his minde concerning this.

CHAP. VI.

At the commandement of Darius king of Persia, after the Temple was builded and dedicate, the children of Israel keepe the feast of vnleauened bread.

Then king Darius gaue commandement, and they made search in the treasury of the treasures, which were there laid up in Babel.

2 And there was found in a coffer (in the palace that was in the prouince of the Medes) a volume, and therein was it thus written, as a memoriale.

3 IN THE FIRST yeere of King Cyrus, King Cyrus made a decree for the house of God in Jerusalem. Let the house be built, euen the place where they offered sacrifices, and let the walles thereof be toynd together: let the height thereof be threescore cubites, and the breadth thereof threescore cubites, 4 Three orders of great stones, and one order of lumber, and let the expenses bee giuen of the Kings house.

5 Also let them render the vessels of the house of God (of gold and siluer, which Nebuchadnezzar tooke out of the Temple which was in Jerusalem, and brought vnto Babel) and let him goe vnto the Temple that is in Jerusalem to his place, & put them in the house of God.

6 Therfore Tatnai captaine beyond the river, and Sether Boznai, (and their companions Appharsebaie, which are beyond the river) be ye farre from thence.

7 Suffice ye the worke of this house of God, that the captaine of the Jewes & the Elders of the Jewes may build this house of God in his place.

8 For I haue giuen a commandement what ye shall doe to the Elders of these Jewes for the building of this house of God, that of the reuenues of my king, which is of the tribute beyond the river, there bee momentarily expenses giuen vnto these men that they cease not,

9 And that which they shall haue neede of, let it bee giuen vnto them day by day, whether it be young bullockes, or rammes, or lammes for the burnt offerings of the God of heauen, wheate, salt, wine and oyle, according to the appointment of the Priestes that are in Jerusalem, that there bee no fault,

10 That they may haue to offer sweete odours vnto the God of heauen, and pray for the kings life, and for his houses.

11 And I haue made a decree, that whosoever shall alter this sentence, the wood shall be pilled downe from his house, and shall bee let by, and hee shall bee hanged thereon,

12 And the God that hath caused his Name to dwell there, destroy all kinges and people that put to their hand to alter, and to destroy this house of God, which is in Jerusalem. ¶ Darius haue made a decree, let it be done with speed.

13 ¶ Then Carnat the captaine beyond the riuier, and Sether Boznai and their companions, according to that which Darius had sent, to they did speedily.

14 So the Elders of the Jewes builded, and they prospered by the prophesying of Haggai the Prophet, and Zachariah the sonne of Iddo, and they builded & finished it, by the appointment of the God of Israel, and by the commaundement of Cyrus and Darius, and Artahshaste king of Persia.

15 And this house was finished the third day of the moneth Adar, which was the sixt yere of the reigne of king Darius.

16 ¶ And the children of Israel, the priests and the Leuites, and the residue of children of the captiuitie, kept the dedication of the house of God with ioy :

17 And offered at the dedication of this house of God an hundred bullockes, two hundred rammes, foure hundred lambes, and twelue goates, for the sinne of all Israel, according to the number of the tribes of Israel.

18 And they set the priests in their order, and the Leuites in their courses, ouer the seruice of God in Jerusalem, as it is written in the * booke of Hoses.

19 And the children of the captiuitie kept the Passeeouer on the fourteenth day of the first moneth.

20 (For the Priestes and the Leuites were purified all together) and they killed the Passeeouer for all the children of the captiuitie, and for their brethren the Priestes, and for themselves.

21 So the children of Israel which were come againe out of captiuitie, and all such as had separated themselves vnto them from the filthinesse of the heathen of the land, to seeke the Lord God of Israel, did eate,

22 And they kept the feast of vnteaueued bread seuen dayes with ioy: for the Lord had made them glad, and turned the heart of the king of <sup>k</sup> Asshur vnto them, to encourage them in the worke of the house of God, euen the God of Israel.

CHAP. VII.

1 By the commaundement of the king, Ezra and his companions come to Ierusalem. 27 He gudgeth thanks to God.

N<sup>o</sup> After these things in the reigne of Artahshaste king of Persia, was Ezra the sonne of Seratah, the sonne of Azariah, the sonne of Weikiah,

2 The sonne of Shallum, the sonne of Zadok, the sonne of Ahitub,

3 The sonne of Amaria, the sonne of Azarah, the sonne of Beraiah,

4 The sonne of Zeratah, the sonne of Uzai, the sonne of Bukki,

5 The sonne of Abisnua, the sonne of Phinehas, the sonne of Eleazar, the sonne of Aaron the chiefe Priest.

6 This Ezra came by from Babel, and was a scribe prompt in the law of Moses, which the Lord God of Israel had giuen, and the king gaue him all his request according to the hand of the Lord his God which was vpon him.

7 And there went by certaine of the children of Israel, and of the Priestes, and the Leuites, and the singers, and the porters, and the Perbimuzs vnto Jerusalem, in the seuenth yere of king Artahshaste.

8 And he came to Jerusalem in the fifth moneth, which was in the seuenth yere of the king.

9 For vpon the first day of the first moneth began he to go by from Babel, and on the first day of the first moneth came hee to Jerusalem, according to the good hand of his God that was vpon him.

10 For Ezra had prepared his heart to seeke the law of the Lord, and to doe it, and to teach the precepts and iudgements in Israel.

11 ¶ And this is the copie of the letter that king Artahshaste gaue vnto Ezra the Priest and scribe, euen a writer of the words of the commaundements of the Lord, and of his statutes ouer Israel.

12 ARTAHSHASTE King of kings to Ezra the Priest and scribe of the Law of the God of heauen, and to Theeneth.

13 I haue giuen commaundement, that every one that is willing in my kingdome of the people of Israel and of the Priestes, and Leuites to go to Jerusalem with thee, shall goe.

14 Therefore art thou sent of the king and his seuen counsellors, to inquire in Iudah and Jerusalem, according to the law of thy God, which is in thine hand,

15 And to carrie the siluer and the golde, which the king and his counsellors willingly offer vnto the God of Israel (whose habitation is in Jerusalem.)

16 And all the siluer and golde that thou canst finde in all the Prouince of Babel, with the free offering of the people, and that which the Priestes offer willingly to the house of their God which is in Jerusalem,

17 That thou mayest buy speedily with this siluer bullocks, rammes, lambes, with their meat offerings, and their drinke offerings: and thou shalt offer them vpon the altar of the house of your God, which is in Jerusalem.

18 And whatsoeuer it pleaseeth thee and thy brethren to do with the rest of the siluer and golde, doe ye it according to the will of your God.

19 And the vessels that are giuen thee for the seruice of the house of thy God, those deliuer thou before God in Jerusalem.

20 And the residue that shall be needfull for the house of thy God, which shall be meet for thee to bestow, thou shalt bestow it out of the kinges treasure house.

14 And of the sonnes of Biguai, Athai, and Zabbud, and with them fiftie males.

15 And I gathered them to the River that goeth toward Ahava, and there abode wee thre dayes: then I viewed the people, and the Priests, and found there none of the sonnes of Leui.

16 Therefore sent I to Eliezer, to Ariel, to Shemeiah, and to Elnathan, and to Jarib, and to Elnathan, and to Sachar, and to Zechariah, and to Beschullam the chiefe, and to Jocharib, and to Elnathan, men of vnderstanding, 17 And I gaue them commandement, to Iddo the chiefe at the place of Calipha, and I tolde them the wordes that they should speake to Iddo, and to his brethren the Bethinims at the place of Calipha, that they should cause the ministers of the house of our God to come vnto vs.

18 So by the good hand of our God, which was vpon vs, they brought vs a man of vnderstanding of the sonnes of Bahali the sonne of Leui the sonne of Israel, and Sheberbiah with his sonnes and his brethren, euen eightene.

19 Also Habbatah, and with him Ieshatah of the sonnes of Herari, with his brethren, and thre sonnes ewentie.

23 So wee fasted, and besought our God for this: and he was increased of vs.

the house of our God, which the king and his counsellors, and his princes, and all Israel that were present had offered.

26 And I weighed unto their hand six hundred and threescore talents of silver, and in silver vessel, an hundred and threescore talents, and in gold an hundred talents:

27 And twenty basins of gold, of a thousand drammes, and two vessels of shining brass very good, and precious as gold.

28 And I said unto them, Ye are consecrate unto the Lord, and the vessels are consecrate, and the gold and the silver are freely offered unto the Lord God of your fathers.

29 Watch ye, and keepe them until ye weigh them before the chiefe Priests and the Leuites, and the chiefe fathers of Israel in Jerusalem in the chambers of the house of the Lord.

30 So the Priests and the Leuites received the weight of the silver, and of the gold, and of the vessels to bring them to Jerusalem, unto the house of our God.

31 Then we departed from the River of Ahava on the twelfth day of the first month, to goe unto Jerusalem, and the hand of our God was vpon vs, and deliuered vs from the hand of the enemy, and of such as laide wait by the way.

32 And we came to Jerusalem, and abode there three dayes.

33 And on the fourth day was the silver weighed, and the golde and the vessel in the house of our God by the hand of Seremoth the sonne of Ariah the Priest, and with him was Eleazar, the sonne of Phinehas, and with them was Jozabad, the sonne of Jeshua, and Noadiah, the sonne of Binuai the Leuites, 34 By number and by weight of euery one, and all the weight was witten at the same time.

35 Also the children of the captiuitie, which were come out of captiuitie, offered burnt offerings unto the God of Israel, twelue bullockes for all Israel, ninetie and six rammes, seuentie and seuen lambes, and twelue hee goates for sinne: all was a burnt offering of the Lord.

36 And they deliuered the Kings commiſſion unto the kings officers, and to the captaines beyond the River: and they promoted the people, and the house of God.

CHAPTER. IX.

1 Ezra complaineth on the people that had turned themselves from God, and married with the Gentiles. 5 He prayeth unto God.

When as these things were done, the rulers came to me, saying, The people of Israel, and the Priests and the Leuites are not separated from the people of the lands (as touching their abominations) to wit, of the Canaanites, the Hittites, the Perizzites, the Jebulites, the Ammonites, the Moabites, the Egyptians, and the Amorites.

2 For they haue taken their daughters to themselves, and to their sonnes, and they haue mixed the holy seede with the people of the landes, and the hand of the Princes and rulers had bene chiefe in this trespass.

3 But when I heard this saying, I rent my clothes and my garment, and pluckt off the haire of mine head, and of my beard, and Iate downe astonished.

4 And there assembled vnto me all that feared the wordes of the God of Israel, because of the transgression of them of the captiuitie. And I sate downe astonished until the evening sacrifice.

5 And at the evening sacrifice I arose vpon from mine heavinesse, and when I had rent my clothes and my garment, I fell vpon my knees, and spread out mine hands vnto the Lord my God,

6 And said, O my God, I am confounded and ashamed to lift vp mine eyes vnto thee, my God: for our iniquities are increased ouer our head, and our trespass is grown vnto the heauen.

7 From the dayes of our fathers haue we bene in a great trespass vnto this day, and for our iniquities haue wee, our kings, and our Priests bene deliuered into the hand of the kings of the landes, vnto the sword, into captiuitie, into a spoyle, and into confusion of face, as appeareth this day.

8 And now for a little space, grace hath bene shewed from the Lord our God, in causing a remnant to escape, and in giuing vs a way in his holy place, that our God may light our eyes, and giue vs a little reuiving in our seruitude.

9 For though we were bondmen, yet our God hath not forsaken vs in our bondage, but hath inclined mercy vnto vs in the sight of the kings of Persia, to giue vs life, and to erect the house of our God, and to redresse the desolate places thereof, and to giue vs a wall in Iudah and in Jerusalem.

13 And now, our God, what shall we say after this: for wee haue forsaken thy commandements, 14 Which thou hast commanded by thy seruants the Prophets, saying, The land whereunto ye goe to possess it, is an vncleane land, because of the filthinesse of the people of the landes, which by their abominations, and by their vncleannesse haue filled it from corner to corner.

12 Now therefore shall ye not giue your daughters vnto their sonnes, neither shall ye take their daughters vnto your sonnes, nor seeke their peace nor wealth for euer, that ye may be strong and eate the goodnes of the land, and leaue it for an inheritance to your sonnes for euer.

13 And after all that is come vpon vs for our euill deeds, and for our great trespasses, (seeing that thou our God hast staled vs from being beneath: for our iniquities, and hast giuen such vs deliuerance)

14 Should we returne to breake thy commandements, and ioyne in affinitie with the people of such abominations? wouldst not thou bee angry toward vs till thou haddest consumed vs, so that there should be no remnant nor any escaping?

1 The people: repent and turne, and put away their strange wiues.

W<sup>h</sup>iles * Ezra prayed thus, and <sup>a</sup> confessed himselfe weeping, and falling downe before the house of God, there assembled vnto him of Israel a very great Congregation of men and women, & children: for the people wept with a great lamentation.

2 Then Sberchaniah the sonne of Iehiel one of the sonnes of Elam, answered, and sayd to Ezra, Wee haue trespassed against our God, and haue taken strange wiues of the people of the land, yet now there is hope in Israel concerning this.

3 Now therefore let vs make a covenant with our God, to put away <sup>c</sup> all the wiues, (and such as are borne of them) according to the counsell of the Lord, and of those that feare the commandments of our God, and let it be done according to the Law.

4 Arise: for the matter <sup>d</sup> belongeth vnto thee: we also will be with thee: be of counsell, and doe it.

5 <sup>e</sup> Then arose Ezra, and caused the chiefe Priests, the Leuites, and all Israel to swear, that they would doe according to this word. So they ware.

6 *And Ezra rose vp fro before the house of God, and went into the chamber of Jo-hanan the sonne of Eliashib: hee went euen thither, but hee did eate neither bread, nor drinke water: for hee mourned, because of the transgression of them of the captiuitie.

7 And they caused a proclamation to goe throughout Iuda and Ierusalem, vnto <sup>f</sup> all them of the captiuitie, that they should assemble themselves vnto Ierusalem.

8 And whosoever would not come within three dayes according to the counsell of the Princes and Elders, all his substance should bee <sup>g</sup> forfeyt, and hee should be separate from the Congregation of them of the captiuitie.

9 <sup>h</sup> Then all the men of Iudah & Beniamin assembled themselves vnto Ierusalem within three dayes, which was the twentieth day of the ninth moneth, and all the people late in the streete of the house of God, trembling for this matter, and for the famine.

10 And Ezra the Priest stood vp & sayd vnto them, Ye haue transgressed, and haue taken strange wiues, to <sup>i</sup> increase the tres-passe of Israel.

11 Now therefore <sup>j</sup> giue praise vnto the Lord God of your fathers, and doe his will, and separate your selues from the people of the land, and from the strange wiues.

12 And all the Congregation answered, and sayd with a loud voyce, So will we doe according to thy wordes vnto vs.

13 But the people are many, and it is a rainie weather and we are not able to stand withont, neither is it the worke of one day or two: for we are many that haue offended in this thing.

14 Let our rulers stand therefore <sup>k</sup> i before all the Congregation, & let all them which haue taken strange wiues in our cities, come at the time appointed, and with them the Elders of euerie cttie, and the Iudges thereof, till the fierce wrath of our God for this matter turne away from vs.

15 Then were appointed, Jonathan the sonne of Abih-el, and Zabariah the sonne of Tikhaui ouer this matter, and Besuliam and Sabberhat the Leuites helped them.

16 And they of the captiuitie did so, and <sup>l</sup> departed, euen Ezra the Priest, & the men that were chiefe fathers to the familie of their fathers by name, and late downe in the first day of the tenth moneth to examine the matter.

17 And vntill the first day of the first moneth they were finishing the businesse with all the men that had taken strange wiues.

18 And of the sonnes of the priests there were men found, that had taken strange wiues, to wit, of the sonnes of Iehua, the sonne of Jozadak, and of his brethren, Maasiah, Heliezer, and Jarib, and Gedal-iah.

19 And they gaue <sup>m</sup> these handes, that they would put away their wiues, and they that had trespassed, gaue a raine for their trespasse.

THE ARGUMENT.

God doeth in all ages and at all times set vp worthy persons for the commoditie and profit of his Church, as now within the compass of seuentie yeeres he raised vp diuers excellent men for the preferuation of his people, after their returne from Babylon: as Zerubbabel, Ezra, and Nehemiah. Whereof the first was their captaine to bring them home, and provided that the Temple was builded: the second reformed their manners, and planted religion: and the third builded vp the wals, deliuered the people from oppression, and provided that the Lawe of God was put in execution among them. Hee was a godly man and in great authoritie with the King, so that the King fauoured him greatly, and gaue him most ample letters for the accomplishment of all things which he could desire. This booke is also called of the Latines the second of Ezra, because he was the writer thereof.

CHAP. I.

4 Nehemiah bewaileth the calamity of Ierusalem. 5 He confesseth the finnes of the people, and prayeth to God for them.

He wordes of Nehemiah the sonne of Hachabiah. In the moneth<sup>a</sup> Chilleu, in the twentieth yere, as I was in the palace of Shulhan, 2 Came Hanani one of my brethren, he and the men of Iudah: and I asked them concerning the Iewes which were deliuered, which were of the residue of the captiuitie, and concerning Ierusalem.

3 And they sayd vnto me, The residue that are left of the captiuitie there in the<sup>c</sup> prouince, are in great affliction and in reproch, and the wall of Ierusalem is broken downe, & the gates thereof are burnt with fire.

4 And when I heard these wordes, I sate downe and wept, and mourned certaine dayes, and I fasted and prayed before the God of heauen,

5 And said, O Lord God of heauen, the great and terrible God, that keepeth covenant and mercy for them that loue him, and obserue his commandementes,

6 I pray thee, let thine eares be attent, and thine eyes open, to heare the prayer of thy seruant, which I pray before thee daily, day and night for the children of Israel thy seruants, and confesse the finnes of the children of Israel, which we haue sinned against thee, both I & my fathers house haue sinned:

7 We haue & gricuously sinned against thee, & haue not kept the commandementes, nor the statutes, nor the iudgements which thou commandedst thy seruant Moses.

8 I beseech thee, remember the word that thou commandedst thy seruant Moses, saying, Ye will transgresse, and I will scatter you abroad among the people.

9 But if ye turne vnto me, and keepe my commandementes, and do them, though your scattering were to the vttermost part of the heauen, yet will I gather you from thence, & wil bring you vnto the place that I haue chosen to place my Name there.

10 Now these are thy seruants and thy people, whom thou hast redeemed by thy great power and by thy mighty hand.

11 O Lord, I beseech thee. Let thine eare now hearken to my prayer of thy seruant, and to the prayer of thy seruants, who desire to d feare thy Name, and I pray thee, cause thy seruant to prosper this day, and giue him fauour in the presence of this man: for I was the kings butler.

CHAP. II.

1 After Nehemiah had obtained letters of Artaxerxes, 11 He came to Hierusalem, 17 And builded the walles.

Now in the moneth<sup>a</sup> Nisan in the twentieth yere of King<sup>b</sup> Artabastate, the wine flood before him, and I tooke by the wine, & gaue it vnto the King. Now I was not before time to prosper in his presence.

2 And the king said vnto me, Why is thy countenance sad, seeing thou art not sicke? this is nothing but sorrow of heart. Then was I sore afraid,

3 And I sayd to the King, God saue the King for ever: why should not my countenance be sad, when the city and hostie of the sepulchres of my fathers lyeth waste, and the gates thereof are denouered with fire?

4 And the King sayd vnto me, For what thing dost thou require? Then I praied<sup>c</sup> to the God of heauen,

5 And sayd vnto the King, If it please the King, and if thy seruant haue found fauour in thy sight, I desire that thou wouldest send me to Iudah vnto the citie of the sepulchres of my fathers, that I may build it.

6 And the king laid vnto me (the Queen also sitting by him) Howe long shall thy iourney be? and when wilt thou come againe? So it pleased the King, and hee sent me, and I set him a time.

7 After, I sayd vnto the King, If it please the king, let them giue me letters to the captaiues beyond the Riuer, that they may conuey me oner, till I come into Iudah, 9 ¶ Then came I to the captaines beyond the riuer, and gaue them the Kings letters. And the King had sent captaines of the armie and horsemen with yne.

10 But ¶ Sanballat the Horonite, and Tobiah a seruant an Ammonite heard it, and it grieved them sore, that there was come a man which sought the wealthy of the children of Israel.

11 So I came to Jerusalem, and was there three dayes.

12 And I arose in the night, I, and a few men with mee: for I tolde no man what God had put in mine heart to doe at Jerusalem, and there was not a beast with mee, saue the beast wheron I rode.

13 And I went out by night by the gate of the valley, and came before the Dragon well, and to the dung port, and viewed the walles of Jerusalem, how they were broken downe, and the ports thereof denoured with the fire.

14 Then I went south vnto the gate of the fountaine, and to the Kings fishpoole, and there was no roome for the beast that was vnder me to passe.

15 Then went I by in the night by the brooke, and viewed the wall, and turned backe, and coming backe, I entred by the gate of the valley and returned.

16 And the rulers knew not whither I was gone, nor what I did, neither did I as yet tel it vnto the Iewes, nor to the Priests, nor to the noble men, nor to the rulers, nor to the rest that laboured in the worke.

17 Afterward I layd vnto them, Pee see the miserie that we are in, how Jerusalem steth waste, and the gates thereof are burnt with fire: come and let vs build the wall of Jerusalem, that we be no more a reproche.

18 Then I tolde them of the hand of my God (which was good ouer me) and also of the Kings wordes, that hee had spoken vnto mee. And they sayde, Let vs rise, and build. So they strengthened their hand to good.

19 But when Sanballat the Horonite, and Tobiah the seruant an Ammonite, and ¶ Gessem the Arabian heard it, they mocked vs, and despised vs, and sayd, What a thing is this that ye doe? Will ye rebell against the King?

20 Then answered I them, and sayd to them, The God of heauen, he will prosper vs, and wee his seruants will rise by and build: but as for you, ye haue no portion nor right, nor memoriall in Jerusalem.

4 And next vnto them fortified Merimoth, the sonne of Uriah, the sonne of Hakkoz; and next vnto them fortified Besullam the sonne of Berechiah, the sonne of Shephazabel: and next vnto them fortified Zadok the sonne of Baana:

5 And next vnto them fortified the Tekoites: but the great men of them put not their neckes to the worke of their lozds.

6 And the gate of the olde fishpoole fortified Jehoiada the sonne of Paseah, and Besullam the sonne of Belodaiab: they layd the beames thereof, and set on the doozes thereof, and the lockes thereof, and the barres thereof.

7 Next vnto them also fortified Melatiah the Sibeonite, and Iadon the Heronothite, men of Sibeon, and of Mishab, vnto the throne of the Duke, which was beyond the Riuer.

8 Next vnto him fortified Uzziel the sonne of Harbobiab ¶ of the goldsmithes: next vnto him also fortified Hananiah, the sonne of Harakkaim, and they repayed Jerusalem vnto the broad wall.

9 Also next vnto them fortified Rezbaiab, the sonne of Hur, the ruler of the halfe part of Jerusalem.

10 And next vnto him fortified Jedaiab the sonne of Harumaph, euen ouer against his house: and next vnto him fortified Harush, the sonne of Vashabaiab.

11 Malchiah the sonne of Harim, and Vashub the sonne of Pahath Moab fortified the second ¶ portion, and the towre of the fornaeces.

12 Next vnto him also fortified Shallum, the sonne of Halloesh, the ruler of the halfe part of Jerusalem, he, and his daughters.

13 The valley gate fortified Hanun, and the inhabitants of Zanaub: they built it, and set on the doozes thereof, the lockes thereof, and the barres thereof. euen a thousand cubites on the wall vnto the dung port.

14 But the dung port fortified Malchiah, the sonne of Rechab, the ruler of the fourth part of Beth-baccarem: he built it, and set on the doozes thereof, the lockes thereof, and the barres thereof.

15 But the gate of the fountaine fortified Shallan, the sonne of Col-hozeh, the ruler of the fourth part of Mishpah: he builded it, and concred it, and set on the doozes thereof, the lockes thereof, and the barres thereof, and the wall vnto the fishpoole of ¶ Shelah by the Kings garden, and vnto the steps that goe downe from the citie of David.

29 After them fortified Zadok the sonne of Immer ouer against his house: and after him fortified Sheumaiah, the sonne of Shechaniah the keeper of the East gate.

30 After him fortified Hananiah, the sonne of Shebemiah, and Haman, the sonne of Zalaph, the slier, another portion: after him fortified Meshullam, the sonne of Berechiah ouer against his chamber.

31 After him fortified Batsabai the goldsmiths sonne, vntill the house of the Meshinims, and of the merchants ouer against the gate of Biphkad, and to the chamber in the corner.

32 And betwene the chamber of the corner vnto the shepegate, fortified the goldsmiths and the merchants.

C H A P . I I I I .

7 The building of Jerusalem is hindered. 15 But God breaketh their enterprise. 17 The Ierues build with one hand, and hold their weapons in the other.

At when Sanballat heard that we builded the wall, then was he wroth and sore grieved, and mocked the Iewes,

2 And sayd before his brethren and the armie of Samaria, thus hee sayd, What doe these weake Iewes? will they fortifie themselves? will they sacrifice? will they finish it in a day? will they make the stones whole againe out of the heapes of dust, seeing they are burnt?

3 And Tobiah the Ammonite was beside him, and sayd, Although they build, yet if a fore goe by, he shall euen breake downe their stone wall.

4 Heare, O our God, (for we are despised) and turne their shame vpon their owne head, and giue them vnto a pray in the land of their captiuitie,

5 And couer not their iniquity, neither let their sinne be put out in thy presence: for they haue prouoked vs before the builders.

6 So we built the wall, and all the wall was toynd vnto the halfe thereof, and the heart of the people was to worke.

7 But when Sanballat, and Tobiah, and the Arabians, and the Ammonites, and the Iudodims heard that the walles of Ierusalem were repaired, (for the breaches began to bee stopped) then they were very wroth,

8 And conspired all together to come and to fight against Ierusalem, and to hinder them.

9 Then wee prayed vnto our God, and set watchmen by them, day and night, because of them.

10 And Iudah sayd, The strength of the bearters is weakened, and there is much care, so that wee are not able to build the wall.

11 Also our aduersaries had sayd, They shall not know, neither see, till we come into the middes of them, and slay them, and cause the worke to cease.

12 But when the Iewes (which dwell beside them) came, they told vs ten times, from all places whence yee shall returne, they will be vpon vs.

13 Therefore set I in the lower places behind the wall vpon the tops of the stones, and placed the people by their families with their swordes, their speares and their bowes.

14 Then I beheld, and rose vp, and sayd vnto the Iudices, and to the rulers, and to the rest of the people, Bee not afraid of them: remember the great Lord, and fearfull, and fight for your brethren, your sonnes, and your daughters, your wiues, and your houses.

15 And when our enemies heard that it was knowne vnto vs, then God brought their counsell to nought, and wee turned all againe to the wall, eury one vnto his worke.

16 And from that day, halfe of the yong men did the labour, and the other halfe part of them held the speares, and bowes, and bowes, and haberguises: and the rulers stood behinde all the house of Iudah.

that bare burdens, and they that laded, did the worke with one hand, and with the other held the sword.

18 For every one of the builders had his sword girded on his loynes, and so builded: and he that blew the trumpet, was beside me.

19 Then said I vnto the Princes, and to the rulers, and to the rest of the people, The worke is great and large, and wee are separated vpon the wall, one farre from another.

20 In what place therefore yee heare the sound of the trumpet, k restore yee thither vnto vs: our God shall fight for vs.

21 So wee laboured in the worke, and halfe of them held the speares from the appearing of the morning, til the starres came forth.

22 And at the same time said I vnto the people, Let every one with his seruant lodge within Ierusalem, that they may be a watch for vs in the night, and labour in the day.

23 So neither I, nor my brethren, nor my seruants, nor the men of the warde, (which followed me) none of vs did put off our clothes, haue euery one put them off for washing.

CHAP. V.

1 The people are oppressed and in necessitie. 6 Nehemiah remedeth it. 14 He took not the portion of others that had ruled before, lest hee should grieue the people,

Now there was a great crie of the people And of their wines a against their brethren the Jewes.

2 For there were that said, Wee, our sonnes and our daughters are many, therefore wee take vp b corne, that wee may eate and liue.

3 And there were that said, Wee must gage our lands, and our vineyards, and our houses, and take vp corne for the famine.

4 There were also that said, Wee haue borrowed money for the kings tribute vpon our lands and our vineyards.

5 And now our flesh i is as d the flesh of our brethren, and our sonnes as their sonnes: and loe, we bring into subiection our sonnes, and our daughters, as seruants, and there be of our daughters now in subiection, and there is no power e in our hands: for other men haue our lands and our vineyards.

6 Then was I very angry when I heard their crie and these words.

7 And I thought in my minde, and I rebuked the Princes, and the rulers, and said vnto them, You lay f burdens euery one vpon his brethren: and I let a great assemblie against them,

8 And I said vnto them, Wee (according to our abilitie) haue redeemed our brethren the Jewes, which were sold vnto the heathen: and will you sel your brethren againe? or shall they be h sold vnto vs? Then held they their peace, and could not answer.

9 I said also, That which yee doe, is not good. Dight ye not to walke in the feare of our God, for the k reproch of the heathen our enemies?

10 For euery I, my brethren, and my seruants doe lend them money and corne: I pray you, let vs leaue off this l burden.

11 Restore, I pray you, vnto them this day their landes, their vineyardes, their olines, and their houses, and rime the hundredth part of the tithe and of the corne, of the wine and of the oyle i that yee exact of them.

12 Then said they, We wil restore it, and will not require it of them: wee will doe as thou hast said. Then I called the Priettes, and caused them to swear that they should doe according to this promise.

13 So Iooke my lap, and said, So let God shake out euery man that will not performe this promise, from his house, and from his labour: euen thus let him bee shaken out and emptied. And all the congregation said, Amen, and praised the Lord: and the people did according to this promise.

14 And from the time that the King gaue mee charge to be gouernour in the land of Iudah from the twentieth yeere, euen vnto the two and thirtieth yeere of King Artabastite, that is, twelue yeere, I, and my brethren haue not eaten the m bread of the gouernour.

15 For the former gouernours that were before mee, had bene chargeable vnto the people and had taken of them bread and wine, besides fourtie shekels of siluer i yea, and their seruants bare rule over the people: but I did not I, because of the feare of God.

16 But rather I fortified a portion in the worke of this wall, and we bought no land, and all my seruants came thither together vnto the worke.

17 Moreover there were at my table an hundred and fiftie of the Jewes, and Rulers which came vnto vs from among the heathen that are about vs.

18 And there was prepared dailly an oxe, and fire cholen sheepe, and birdes were prepared for mee, and n within ten dayes wine for all o in abundance. Yet for all this I required not the bread of the gouernour: for the bondage was grievous vnto this people.

19 Remember mee, O my God, in goodnesse, according to all that I haue done for this people.

of Dno: and they thought to doe me euill.

3 Therefore I sent messengers vnto them, saying, I haue a great worke to doe, and I cannot come downe: why should the worke cease, whiles I leaue it, and come downe to you?

4 Yet they sent vnto mee foure times after this sort. And I answered them after the same manner.

5 Then sent Sanballat his seruant after this sort vnto me the fifth time, with an open letter in his hands,

6 Wherein was written, It is reported among the heathen, and I Gashmu hath said it, that thou and the Iewes thinke to rebell, for the which cause thou buildest the wall, and thou wilt be their king according to these words.

7 Thou hast also ordeined the Prophets to preach of thee at Jerusalem, saying, There is a King in Iudah: and now according to these words it shall come to the Kings eares: come now therefore, and let vs take counsell together.

8 Then I sent vnto him, saying, It is not done according to these words that thou sayest: for thou faintest them of thine owne heart.

9 For all they afrayed vs, saying, Their hands shall be weakened from the worke, and it shall not be done: now therefore I encourage thou me.

10 And I came to the house of Shezniasah, the sonne of Delatah the sonne of Shehetabel, and hee was shut vp, and hee said, Let vs come together into the Houle of God in the middes of the Temple, and shut the doores of the Temple: for they will come to slay thee: yea, in the night will they come to kill thee.

11 Then said I, Should such a man as I, flee? Who is hee, being as I am, that would goe into the Temple to liue? I will not goe in.

12 And loe, I perceived, that God had not sent him, but that hee pronounced this propheticke against me: for Tobiah and Sanballat had hired him.

13 Therefore was he hired, that I might be afraide, and doe thus, and sinne, and that they might haue an euill report that they might reproch me.

14 O my God, remember thou Tobiah and Sanballat according vnto these their workes, and Moabiah the Prophetesse also, and the rest of the Prophets that would haue put me in feare.

15 The doorty standing the wall was finished on the siue and twentieth day of the first in two and fiftie dayes.

16 And when all our enemies heard thereof, euen all the heathen that were about vs, they were afraide, and their courage failed them: for they knew that this worke was wrought by our God.

17 And in these dayes were there many of the Princes of Iudah, whose letters went vnto Tobiah, and those of Tobiah came vnto them.

18 For there were many in Iudah, that were sworne vnto him: for hee was the sonne in lawe of Shechaniah, the sonne of Arah: and his sonne Jehonathan had the daughter of Gesullam, the sonne of Beerechiah.

19 Yea, they spake in his praise before mee, and told him my words, and Tobiah sent letters to put me in feare.

CHAP. VII.

1 After the wall once builded, is the watch appointed. 6 They that returned from the captiuitie are numbred.

Now when the wall was builded, and I had let vp the doores, and the porters and the singers and the Leuites were appointed,

2 Then I commanded my brother Hanani and Hananiah the prince of the palace in Jerusalem (for he was doubtlesse a faithfull man, and feared God aboue many)

3 And I said vnto them, Let not the gates of Jerusalem bee opened, vntill the heate of the sunne: and while they stand by, let them shut the doores, and make them fast, and I appointed wardes of the inhabitants of Jerusalem, euery one in his ward, and euery one ouer against his house.

4 Now the citie was large and great, but the people were few therein, and the houses were not builded.

5 And my God put into mine heart, and I gathered the princes, and the rulers, and the people to count their genealogies: and I found a booke of the genealogie of them, which came by at the first, and found written therein,

6 These are the sonnes of the prouince that came by from the captiuitie that was caried away (whom Nebuchadnezzar king of Babel had caried away) and they returned to Jerusalem and to Iudah euery one vnto his citie.

7 They which came with Zerubbabel, Iehna, Nehemiah, Azariah, Raamiah, Nahamani, Mordecai, Bilshan, Mispreth, Bignai, Achum, Baanah. This is the number of the men of the people of Israel.

8 The sonnes of Parosh, two thousand, an hundred thientie and two.

9 The sonnes of Shephatiah, three hundred thientie and two.

10 The sonnes of Arah, sixe hundred thientie and two.

11 The sonnes of Pahath Moab of the sonnes of Iehna, and Josab, two thousand, eight hundred thientie and eighteene.

CHAP. VIII.

2 Ezra gathereth together the people, and readeth to them the Law. 12 They reioyce in Israel for the knowledge of the word of God. 15 They keepe the feast of Tabernacles or boothes.

1 And all the people assembled themselves together, in the streete that was before the water gate, and they came vnto Ezra the Scribe, that he would bring the booke of the Law of Moses, which the Lord had commanded to Israel.

2 And Ezra the Priest brought the Law before the Congregation both of men and women, and of all that could heare and vnderstand it, in the first day of the seventh moneth,

3 And he read therein in the streete that was before the watergate (fro the morning vntill the midday) before men and women, and them that vnderstood it, and the eares of all the people bearkened vnto the booke of the Law.

4 And Ezra the Scribe stode vpon a pulpit of wood, which hee had made for the preaching, and beside him stood Mattithiah, and Sheana, and Ananiah, and Uriah, and Yehiakih, and Baasaiah on his right hand, and on his left hand Iedaiah, and Mishal, and Mithaiah, and Yahmih, and Yahbadana, Zechariah, and Elziballam.

5 And Ezra opened the booke before all the people: for he was above all the people: and when he opened it, all the people stood vp.

6 And Ezra prayed the Lord the great God, and all the people answered, Amen, Amen, with lifting vp their hands: and they bowed themselves, & worshipped the Lord with their faces toward the ground.

7 And Ieshua, and Bani, & Sherebiah, Jamin, Akub, Shabberhai, Hodiah, Ghalctai, Kelita, Azariah, Jozabad, Hanan, Delatah, and the Levites caused the people to vnderstand the Law, & the people stood in their place.

8 And they read in the booke of the Law of God distinctly, and gaue the sense, and caused them to vnderstand the reading.

9 Then Nehemiah (which is Tirshatha) and Ezra the Priest and Scribe, and the Levites that instructed the people, said vnto all the people, This day is holy vnto the Lord your God: moune not, neither weepe: for all the people wept, when they heard the words of the Law.

10 He said also vnto them, Goe and eat of the fat, and drinke the sweet, and send part vnto them, for whom none is prepared: for this day is holy vnto our Lord: be ye not sorrie therefore: for the joy of the Lord is your strength.

11 And the Levites made silence throughout all the people, saying, Holde your peace: for the day is holy, be not sad therefore.

12 Then all the people went to eat and to drinke, and to send away part, & to make great ioy, because they had vnderstood the words that they had taught them.

13 And on the second day, the chiefe fathers of all the people, the Priests & the Levites were gathered vnto Ezra the Scribe, that he also might instruct <sup>the</sup> in the words of the Law.

14 And they found written in the Law, (that the Lord had commanded by Moyses) that the children of Israel should dwell in boothes in the feast of the seventh moneth,

15 And that they should cause it to be declared and proclaimed in all their cities, and in Jerusalem, saying, Goe forth vnto the mount, and bring olive branches, and pine branches, and branches of myrtus, & palme branches, & branches of thicke trees, to make boothes, as it is written.

16 So the people went forth and brought them and made them boothes, every one vpon the roofe of his house, & in their courts, and in the courts of the house of God, and in the street by the watergate, & in the street of the gate of Cybaim.

17 And all the Congregation of them that were come againe out of captiuitie, made boothes, and tare vnder the boothes: for since the time of Ieshua the sonne of Nun vnto this day, had not the children of Israel done so, and there was very great ioy.

18 And hee read in the booke of the Law of God every day, from the first day vnto the last day. And they kept the feast seuen daies, and on the eighth day a soleimne assembly, according vnto the manner.

CHAP. IX.

1 The people repent, and forsake their strange wives. 5 The Levites exhort them to praise God, 6 Declaring his wonders, 26 And their ingratitude, 30 And Gods great mercies toward them.

1 In the foure & twentieth day of this month, the children of Israel were assembled with fasting, and with sackcloth, and earth vpon them.

2 And they that were of the seed of Israel were separated from all the strangers, and they stode and confessed their sinnes and the iniquities of their fathers.

3 And they stode vp in their place and read in the booke of the Law of the Lord their God foure times on the day, and they confessed & worshipped the Lord their God foure times.

4 Then stode vpon the staires of the Levites Ieshua, and Bani, Radmuel, Shebaniah, Bunni, Sherebiah, Bani & Chenai, & cryed with a loud voice vnto the Lord their God.

5 And the Levites said, euen Ieshua and Radmuel, Bani, Washabniab, Sherebiah, Hodiah, Shebaniab and Berchabiah, stand vp, and praye the Lord your God for for euer & euer, and let them praise thy glorious Name, O God, which excellently about all thanksgiving and praise.

6 Thou art Lord alone: thou hast made heauen, and the heauen of all heauens, with all their hoste, the earth, and all things that are therein, the seas, and all that are in them, and thou preseruest them all, and the hoste of the heauen worshippeth thee.

7 Thou art, O Lord, the God that hast chosen Abraham, and broughtest him out of * Ar in Chaldea, and madest his name Abraham, 8 And foundest his heart faithful before thee, and madest a covenant with him, to giue vnto his seede the lande of the Canaanites, Vitites, Amarites, and Perizzites, and Jebusites, and Girgashites, and hast performed thy wordes, because thou art iust.

9 * Thou hast also considered the affliction of our fathers in Egypt, and heard their crye by the red sea,

10 And shewed tokens and wonders vpon Pharaoh, and on all his seruants, and on all the people of his land: for thou knewest that they dealt proudly against thee: therefore thou madest thee a Name, as appeareth this day.

11 * For thou didst breake vp the sea before them, and they went thowow the mids of the sea on dry land, and thole that pursued them, hast thou cast into the bottomes as a stone in the mighty waters:

12 And * leddest them in the day with a pillar of a cloud, and in the night with a pillar of fire, to giue them light in the way that they went.

13 * Thou camest down also vpon mount Sinai, and spakest vnto them from heauen, and gauest them right iudgements and true lawes, ordinaunces, and good commaundements,

14 And declaredst vnto them thine holy Sabbath, and commaundedst them precepts, and ordinaunces, and lawes, by the hand of Moses thy seruant:

15 * And gauest them bread from heauen for their hunger, * and broughtest forth water for them out of the rocke for their thirst: and * promisedst them that they should goe in, and take possession of the lande, for the which thou haddest lift vp thine hand for to giue them.

16 But they and our fathers behauid themselves proudly, and hardened their necke, so that they hearkened not vnto thy commaundements,

17 But refused to obey, and would not remember thy marvellous works that thou haddest done for them, but hardened their necke, and had in their heads to returne to their bondage by their rebellion: but thou, O God of mercies, gracious & full of compassion, of long forbearing, and of great mercy, yet forsookest them at last.

18 Moreover, when they made them a molten calfe (as sayd, This is thy God that brought thee vp out of the lande of Egypt) and committed great blasphemies,

19. Yet thou for thy great mercies for-sookest them not in the wilderness: * the pillar of the cloud departed not from them by day to lead them the way, neither the pillar of fire by night, to direct them light, and the way whereby they should go.

20 Thou gauest also thy good Spirit to instruct them, & with heldest not thy MAN from their mouth, and gauest them water for their thirst.

21 Thou didst also feed them forty yeeres in the wilderness: they lacked nothing: * their clothes waxed not olde, and their feet * swelled not.

22 And thou gauest them kingdoms and people, and * scatterdest them into corners; so they possessed * the land of Sion and the land of the king of thephson, and the land of Og king of Basan.

23 And thou diddest multiply their children like the starrs of the heauen, & broughtest them into the land, whercof thou hadst spoken vnto their fathers, that they should go, and possesse it.

24 So the children went in, and possessed the land, and thou subduedst before them the inhabitants of the land, euen the Canaanites, and gauest them into their handes, with their kings and the people of the land, that they might doe with them what they would.

25 And they tooke their strong cities and the fat land, and possessed houses, full of all goods, cisternes digged out, vineyards and olives, and trees for food in abundance, and they did eate, and were filled, and became fat, and lived in pleasure through thy great goodnesse.

26 Yet they were disobedient, & rebelled against thee, and cast thy law behinde their backs, and slew thy Prophets (which * appointed among them to reue thee vnto thee) and committed great blasphemies.

27 Therefore thou deliuerdest them into the hande of their enemies that vexed them: yet in the time of their affliction, when they cryed vnto thee, thou heardest them from the heauen, and through thy great mercies thou gauest them saluours, who saued them out of the hand of their adversaries.

28 But when they had * rest, they returned to doe * ill before thee: therefore leftest thou them in the hande of their enemies, so that they had the dominion ouer them, yet when they conuerted, and cried vnto thee, thou heardest them from heauen, and deliuerdest them according to thy great mercies many times,

29 And protestedst among them that thou mightest bring them againe vnto thy Law: but they behauid themselves proudly, and hearkened not vnto thy commaundements, but kinned against thy iudgements (* which a man should do and lue in them) and * pulled away the shoulder, and were withoute, and would not * heare.

30 Yet thou * diddest forbear them many yeeres, and protestedst among them by

 7 Sallu, Amok, Hilkiah, Jedatab: these were the chiefe of the Priests, and of their brethren in the dayes of Nehua.
 8 And the Leuites, Jehua, Binrai, Radmuel, Spheratob, Inoah, Mattanah, were ouer the thanksgiuings, hee, and his brethren.

9 And Bakkukiah and Unni, and their 12 And in the dayes of Joiakim were these the chiefe fathers of the Priests: Ander Seratah was Seraiah, vnder Sereni-ah, Hananiah,

13 Under Ezra, Deshullam, vnder Amariath, Jehohanan,

14 Under Bilciu, Jonathan, vnder
 Shebaniab, Joleph,

15 Under Haran, Adna, vnder Heratoth, Helkai.

16 Under Iddo, Zechariah, vnder Sin-

 daiab, Uzzi,

20 Under Sallai, Kallai, vnder Amok, Eber,

21 Under Hilkiah, Hasabiah, vnder Jedaiab, Netaneel.

22 In the dayes of Eliashib, Joiada, and Jothanan, & Jaddua were the chiefe fathers of the Leuites written, and the Priests in the reigne of Darius the Persian.

23 The sonnes of Leui, the chiefe fathers were written in the booke of the Chronicles euen vnto the dayes of Iehanan the sonne of Eliashib.

24 And the chiefe of the Leuites were Hasabiah, Spherabiah, & Jehua the sonne of Radmuel, & their brethren about them to giue praise and thanks, according to the ordinance of Dauid the man of God, ward ou-er against ward.

25 Mattaniah and Bakkukiah, Obadiah, Deshullam, Salmon, and Akkub were porters keeping the ward at the thresholds of the gates.

26 These were in the dayes of Joiakim the sonne of Jehua, the sonne of Josadak, and in the dayes of Nehemiah the captaine, and of Ezra the Priest and Scribe.

27 And in the dedication of the wall at Jerusalem they sought the Leuites out of all their places to bring them to Jerusalem to keepe the dedication & gladnesse, both with thanksgiuings and with songs, cymbals, viules, and with harpes.

28 Then the fingers gathered themselues together both from the playne countrey about Jerusalem, and from the villages of * Bethphatib.

29 And from the house of Gilgal, and out of the countreyes of Geba, & Azmauch: for the fingers had built them vilages rounde about Jerusalem.

30 And the Priests and Leuites were purified, & cleaned the people, and the gates, and the wall.

31 And I brought vp the princes of Judah vpon the wall, and appointed two great companies to giue thanks, and the one went on the right hande of the wall towards the doung gate.

32 And after them went Hoshatah, and halfe the princes of Iudah,

33 And Azariab, Ezra and Deshullam, 34 Judah, Beniamin, and Schematah and Jeremiah,

35 And of the Priests sonnes with trum-peters, Zechariah the sonne of Jonathan, the sonne of Schematah, the sonne of Mattaniah, the sonne of Bichaiab, the sonne of Zaccur, the sonne of Alaph.

36 And his brethren, Schematah, and Azareel, Bilalai, Gilalai, Baal, Netaneel, and Judah, Hanani, with the musical instruments of Dauid the man of God: and Ezra the Scribe were before them.

37 And to the gate of the fountaine, euen ouer against it went they vp by the staires of the city of Dauid, at the going vp of the wall beyond the house of Dauid, euen vnto the water gate Eastward.

38 And the second company of them that gaue thanks, went on the other side, & Pas-ter them, and the halfe of the people was vp-on the wall, and vpon the tower of the furnaces euen vnto the broad wall.

39 And vpon the gate of Ephraim, and vpon the else gate, & vpon the fish gate, and the tower of Hananeel, and the tower of Sheah, euen vnto the sheepe gate: and they stood in the gate of the ward.

40 So stood the two companies of them that gaue thanks in the house of God, and I and the halfe of the rulers with me.

41 The Priests also, Eliakim, Mnafeiah, Biniamin, Bichaiab, Etiochiel, Zechariah, Hananiah, with trumpets,

42 And Hasabiah, and Schematah, and Eleazar, and Uzzi, and Jehohanan, and Balthaiab, and Elam, and Ezra: and the fingers & sang loud, hauing Izerabiah which was the ouerleer.

43 And the same day they offered great sacrifices and reioiced: for God had giuen them great ioy, so that both the women and the children were ioyfull: and the ioy of Jerusalem was heard farre off.

44 Also at the same time were men appointed ouer the chambers of the store for the offerings, for the first fruits, and for the tithes, to gather into them out of the fields of the citie the portions of the Law, for the Priests and the Leuites: for Iudah reioiced for the Priests and for the Leuites, that serued.

45 And both the fingers and the Leuites kept the ward of their God, & the ward of the purification, according to the commaun-dement of Dauid, and Salomon his sonne.

47 And in the dayes of Zerubbabel, and in the dayes of Nehemiah did all Israel giue portions vnto the fingers and porters, every day his portion, & they gaue the holy things vnto the Leuites, and the Leuites gaue the holy things vnto the sonnes of Aaron.

CHAP. XIII.

1 The Law is read. 3 They separate from them all strangers. 15 Nehemiah reproveth them that breake the Sabbath. 30 An ordinance to serue God.

And on that day did they read in y booke of Hoies, in the audience of the people, and it was found written therein, that the Ammonite, and the Moabite * should not enter into the Congregation of God,

2 Because they met not the children of Israel with bread and with water, * but hired Balaam against them, that hee should curse them: and our God turned the curse into a blessing.

3 Now when they had heard the Lawe, they separated from Israel * all those that were mixed.

4 And before b this had the Priest Eliashib the ouersight of the chamber of the house of our God, being kinsman to Tobiah :

5 And hee had made him a great chamber, and there had they aforesaid laid the offerings, the incense, and the vessels, and the riches of corne, of wine & of oyle (appointed for the Leuites, and the fingers, and the porters) and the offerings of the Priests.

6 But in all this time was not I in Ierusalem: for in the two and thirteth yeere d of Artahabathe king of Babel, came I vnto the king, and after certayne dayes I obtained of the king,

7 And when I was come to Ierusalem, I understood e the euill that Eliashib had done for Tobiah, in that he had made him a chamber in the court of the house of God,

8 And it grieved me sore: therefore I cast forth all the vessels of the house of Tobiah out of the chamber.

9 And I commanded them to cleanse the chambers: and thither brought I againe the vessels of the house of God with the meat offering and the incense.

10 And I perceived that the portions of the Leuites had not bene giuen, & that euery one was fled to his land, euen the Leuites and fingers that executed the worke.

11 Then reprovod I the rulers, & sayd, Why is the house of God forsaken? And I assembled them, and set them in their place.

12 Then brought all Iudah the riches of corne, and of wine, and of oyle vnto the treasures.

13 And I made treasurers ouer the treasures, Shelemiah the Priest, and Zadok the Scribe, and the Leuites, Jedaiah, and vnder their hand Hanan the sonne of Zaccur the sonne of Batriahab: for they were counted faithfull, and their office was to distribute vnto their brethren.

14 Remember mee, O my God, heretin, and wipe not out my skindnesse that I haue shewed on the youle of my God, and on the offices thereof.

15 In those dayes saw I in Iudah, them that trode wine plession the Sabbath, and that brought in sheaves, and which laden asses also with wine, grapes and figges, and all burthens, and brought them into Ierusalem vpon the Sabbath day: and I protested to them in the day that they sold victuals.

16 There dwelt men of Tyrus also therein, which brought fish and all wares, & sold on the Sabbath vnto the children of Iudah euen in Ierusalem.

17 Then reprovod I the rulers of Iudah, and sayd vnto them, What euill thing is this that ye doe, and breake the Sabbath day?

18 Did not your fathers b thus, and our God brought al this plague vpon vs, & vpon this cite: yet ye increase the wrath vpon Israel, in breakeing the Sabbath.

19 And when the gates of Ierusalem began to be i dark before the Sabbath, I commanded to shut the gates, and charged, that they should not be opened till after the Sabbath, and some of my seruants set I at the gates, that there should no burde be brought in on the Sabbath day.

20 So the chapmen and merchants of all merchandize remained once or twise al night without Ierusalem.

21 And I protested among them and said vnto them, Why tary ye all night about the wall? If ye doe it once againe, I will lay hands vpon you. From that time came they no more on the Sabbath.

22 And I sayd vnto the Leuites that they should cleanse themselves, and that they should come and keepe the * gates to sanctifie the Sabbath day. Remember mee, O my God, concerning this, and pardon me according to thy great mercy.

23 In those dayes also I saw Iewes that married wiues of Adod, of Ammon, and of Moab.

24 And their children spake halfe in the spech of Adod, and could not speake in the Jewes language, and according to the language of the one people, and of the other people.

25 Then I reprovod them, and cursed them, and smote certaine of them and pulled off their haire, and tooke an othe of them by God, Ye shall not giue your daughters vnto their Ionnes, neither shall ye take of their daughters vnto your sonnes, nor for your selues.

26 * Did not Salomon the king of Israel sinne by these things? yet among many nations was there no king like him: for he was * beloued of his God, & God had made him king ouer Israel: * Yet strange women caused him to sinne.

27 Shall we then obey vnto you, to do all this great euill, and to transgresse against our God, euen to marrie strange wiues?

28 And one of the Ionnes of Iobada the sonne of Eliashib the high Priest was the same in law of Sanballat the Hozonite: but I chased him from me.

29 Remember them, O my God, y * defile

g I declared vnto them, that God would not suffer such transgressors of his law to be vrgu-nised.

h Was not this a great cause why God plagued vs in times past? meaning, that if they transgressed now in the same againe, their plague should be greater.

i About the time that the Sunne went downe: for the Sabbath lasted from the sunne going downe of the one day, to the sunne setting of the other.

k Meaning, of the Temple, that none that was vnclene, should enter.

THE ARGUMENT.

Because of the diversitie of names, whereby they vsed to name their kinges, and the supputation of yeeres wherin the Ebrewes & the Grecians do vary, diuers authors write diuersly as touching this Ahashuerosh, but it seemeth, Dan. 6. 1 & 9. 1. that he was Darius king of the Medes, & some of Ahyages, called also Ahashuerosh, which was a name of honour, and signified great & chiefe, as chiefe head. Herein is declared the great mercies of God toward his Church, who neuer saileth them in their greatest dangers, but when all hope of worldly helpe faileth, he euer stirreth vp some by whom he sendeth comfort and deliuerance. Herein also is descibed the ambition, pride, and cruelty of the wicked when they come to honour, and their sudden fall when they are at the highest: and how God preferreth and preferreth them which are zealous of his glory, and haue a care and loue toward their brethren.

CHAP. I.

3 King Ahashuerosh maketh a royall feast, 12 Whereunto the Queene Vashti will not come, 19 for which cause she is divorced. 20 The kings decree touching the preeminence of man.

In the dayes of Ahashuerosh (this is Ahashuerosh that reigned from India euen vnto Ethiopia, ouer an hundred and seuen and twentie prouinces)

2 In those dayes when the king Ahashuerosh sat on his throne, which was in the palace of Shushan,

3 In the third yeere of his reigne he made a feast vnto all his princes and his seruants, euen the power of Persia and Media, and to the captaynes and gouernours of the prouinces which were before him,

4 That he might shew the riches and glory of his kingdome, and the honour of his great maiestie many dayes, euen an hundred and fouretioze dayes.

5 And when these dayes were expired, the king made a feast to all the people that were found in the palace of Shushan, both vnto great and small, seuen dayes, in the court of the garden of the kings palace,

6 Vnder an hanging of white, Greene, and blew clothes, fastened with cords of fine linnen and purple, in silver rings, & pillars of marble: the beds were of gold, and of silver vpon a pavement of porphyre, and marble, and alabastrer, and blew colour.

7 And they gaue them drinke in vessels of gold, and changed vessell after vessell, and royall wine in abundance according to the power of the king

8 And the drinking was by an order none might compel: so: so the king had appointed vnto all the officers of his house, that they should do according to every mans pleasure.

9 The queene Vashti made a feast also for the women in the royal house of king Ahashuerosh.

10 Upon the seuenth day, when the king was merry with wine, he commaunded Behuman, Biztha, Harbona, Bigtha, and Abagtha, Zethar, and Carcas, the seuen Eunuches, (that serued in the presence of king Ahashuerosh.)

11 To bring Queene Vashti before the king with the crowne royall, that he might shew the people and the princes her beautie: for she was faire to looke vpon.

12 But the Queene Vashti refused to come at the kings word, & which he had giuen in charge to the eunuches: therefore the king was very angry, & his wrath kindled in him.

13 Then the king sayd to the wise men, that knew the times (so: so was the kings manner towards all that knew the Law and the iudgement:

14 And the next vnto him was Carshena, Shetar, Admatha, Tarshish, Meres, Barsena & Meracan the seuen princes of Persia and Media, which saw the kings face, and late the first in the kingdome.)

15 What shall wee doe vnto the Queene Vashti according to the law, because she did not according to the word of the king Ahashuerosh by the commission of the eunuches?

16 Then Meracan answered before the king and the princes, The Queene Vashti hath not onely done euill against the king, but against all the princes, & against all the people that are in all the prouinces of king Ahashuerosh.

17 For the act of the Queene shall come abroad vnto all women: so that they shall despise their husbands in their owne eyes, and shall say, The king Ahashuerosh commaunded Vashti the Queene to be brought in before him, but she came not.

18 So shall the princes of Persia and Media this day say vnto all the kings princes, when they heare of the act of the queene: thus shall there be much despitefullnesse and wrath.

19 If it please the king, let a royall decree proceed from him, & let it be written among the statutes of Persia, and Media (and let it not be transgressed) that Vashti come no more before king Ahashuerosh: & let the king giue her royall estate vnto her companion that is better then she.

20 And when the decree of the king which shall be made, shall be published throughout all his kingdome (though it be great) all the women shall giue their husbands honoz both great and small.

C H A P. II.

2 After the Queene is put away, certaine yong maides are brought to the King. 17 Ester pleaseth the King, and is made Queene. 22 Mordecai discloseth vnto the King those that would betray him.

After these things, when the wrath of King Ahasuerus was appeald, he remembred Uashti, and what shee had done, and what was decreed against her.

2 And the Kings seruants that ministred vnto him, said, Let them seeke for the King beautifull yong virgins,

3 And let y King appoint officers through all the prouinces of his kingdom, and let them gather all the beautifull yong virgins vnto the palace of Shushan, into the house of the women, vnder the hand of Hege the kings eunuch: keeper of the women, to giue them their things for purification.

4 And the maide that shall please the King, let her reigne in the stead of Uashti. And this pleased the King, and he did so.

5 In the citie of Shushan, there was a certaine Jewe, whose name was Mordecai, the sonne of Jair, the sonne of Sitrain, the sonne of Kish a man of Ieranti,

6 Which had bene carried away from Ierusalem with the captiuitie that was carried away with Ieconiah King of Iudah (whose name Nebuchad-nezzar King of Babel had carried away)

7 And hee nourished Hadasah, that is Ester, his vnckles daughter: for shee had neither father nor mother, and the maide was faire, and beautifull to looke on: and after the death of her father & her mother, Mordecai tooke her for his owne daughter.

8 And when the Kings commandement and his decrees was published, and many maides were brought together to the palace of Shushan, vnder the hand of Hege, Ester was brought also vnto the Kings house vnder the hand of Hege the keeper of the women.

9 And the maide pleased him, and shee found fauour in his sight: therefore hee caused her things for purification to be giuen her speedily, and her state, and seuen comely maides to be giuen her out of the Kings house, and hee gaue change to her and to her maides of the best in the house of the women.

10 But Ester shewed not her people and her kindred: for Mordecai had charged her, that shee should not tell it.

11 And Mordecai walked euery day before the court of the womens house, to know if Ester did well, and what should be done with her.

12 And when the course of euery maide came, to goe in to King Ahasuerus, after that she had bene twelue moneths according to the maner of the women (for so were the dayes of their purifications accomplished, fixe moneths with oyle of myrrhe, and fixe moneth with sweete odours, and in the purifying of the women.

13 And thus went the maides vnto the King) whatsoever she required, was giuen her, to goe with her out of the womens house vnto the Kings house.

14 In the euenting shee went, and on the morrow she returned into the second house of the women, vnder the hand of Shasbegas the Kings eunuch, which kept the concubines: shee came in to the King no more, except she pleased the King, and that she were called by name.

15 Howe when the course of Ester the daughter of Abihail the vnckle of Mordecai (which had taken her as his owne daughter) came, that she could see in to the King, shee desired nothing, but what Hege the Kings eunuch the keeper of the womens said: and Ester found fauour in the sight of all them that looked vpon her.

16 So Ester was taken vnto King Ahasuerus into his house royall in the tenth moneth, which is the moneth Tebeth, in the tenth yeere of his reigne.

17 And the King loued Ester above all the women, and shee found grace and fauour in his sight more then all the virgins: so that he set the crowne of the kingdom vpon her head, and made her Queene in stead of Uashti.

18 Then the King made a great feast vnto all his princes, and his seruants, which was the feast of Ester, and gaue rest vnto the prouinces, and gaue gifts, according to the power of a King.

19 And when the virgins were gathered the second time, then Mordecai late in the Kings gate.

20 Ester had not yet shewed her kindred, nor her people, as Mordecai had charged her: for Ester did after the word of Mordecai, as when he was nourished with him.

21 In those dayes when Mordecai late in the kings gate, two of the Kings eunuches, Bigthan and Teresh, which kept the doore, were worthy, and sought to lay hand on the King Ahasuerus.

22 And the thing was knowne to Mordecai, and hee told it vnto Queene Ester, and Ester certified the King thereof in Mordecais name: and when inquisition was made, it was found so: therefore they were both hanged on a tree: and it was written in the booke of the Chronicles before the King.

reuerenced Haman; for the king had so com-bowed not the knee, neither did reverence.

3 Then the Kings seruants which were at the Kings gate, sayde vnto Mordecai, Why traungrestest thou the kings comandement?

4 And albeit they spake daily vnto him, yet he would not heare them: therefore they told Haman, that they might see how Mordecais matters would stand: for he had told them, that he was a Jew.

5 And when Haman saue that Morde-cai bowed not the knee vnto him, nor did re-uerence vnto him, then Haman was full of wrath.

6 Nowe hee thought it too little to lay handes onely on Mordecai: and because they had shewed him the people of Morde-cai, Haman sought to destroy all the Jewes, that were throughout the whole kingdome of Ahasuerus, euen the people of Mordecai.

7 In the first moneth (that is the moneth rus, they call Pur (that is a lot) before Haman, from day to day, and from moneth to moneth, vnto the twelfth moneth, that is, the moneth of Adar.

8 Then Haman said vnto King Ahasue-rus, There is a people scattered and dispersed among the people in all the prouinces of thy kingdome, and their lawes are diuers from all people, and they doe not obserue thy Kings lawes: therefore it is not the kings profit to suffer them.

9 If it please the king, let it bee written that they may be destroyed, and I will pay ten thousand talents of silver by the handes of them that haue the charge of this busines to bring it into the kings treasure.

10 Then the Kingooke his ring from his hand, and gaue it vnto Haman the sonne of Hammedatha the Agagite, the Jewes ad-uersary.

11 And the King saide vnto Haman, Let the silver be thine, and the people to do with them as it pleaseth thee.

12 Then were the kings scribes called on the thirteenth day of the first moneth, and there was written (according to all that Haman commanded) vnto the Kings officers, and to the captaynes that were ouer enerie prouince, and to the rulers of euery people, and to euery prouince, according to the writing thereof, and to euery people according to their language: in the name of king Ahasuerus was it written, and sealed with the kings ring.

13 And the letters were sent by postes into all the kings prouinces, to rouse out, to kill and to destroy all the Jewes, both yong and old, children and women, in one day vpon on the thirteenth day of the twelfth moneth, (which is the moneth Adar) and to spoyle them as a pray.

14 The contents of the writing was, that there should bee given a commandement in all prouinces, and published vnto all people, that they should bee ready against the same day.

15 And the posts compelled by the kings commandement went forth, and the commandement was given in the palace of Shushan: and the King and Haman sat drinking, but the scribe of Shushan was in perplexity.

CHAP. IIII.

1 Mordecai gueth the Queene knowledge of the cruel decree of the king against the Jewes. 16
She willeth that they pray for her.

Now when Mordecai perceiued all that was done, Mordecai rent his clothes, and put on sackcloth and ashes, & went out into the middes of the city, and cried with a great cry and a bitter.

2 And hee came euen before the Kings gate, but hee might not enter within the kings gate, being clothed with sackcloth.

3 And in euery prouince, & place, wither the kings charge and his commission came, there was great sorrow among the Jewes, and fasting, and weeping, and mourning, & many lay in sackcloth and in ashes.

4 Then Esters maids & her eunuches came and told it her: therefore the Queene was very heary, & she sent raiment to clothe Mordecai, and to take away his sackcloth from him, but hee reuised it not.

5 Then called Ester Hatach one of the kings Euniches, whom hee had appointed to serue her, and gaue him a commandement vnto Mordecai, to know what it was, and why it was.

6 So Hatach went soorth to Mordecai vnto the street of the city which was before the kings gate.

7 And Mordecai tolde him of all that which had come vnto him, & of the summe of the silver that Haman had promised to pay vnto the kings treasures, because of the Jewes to destroy them.

8 Also he gaue him the copy of the writing & commission that was given at Shushan, to destroy them, that hee might shew it vnto Ester, and declare it vnto her, and to charge her, that she should goe in to the king, and make petition and supplication before him for her people.

9 So when Hatach came, hee told Ester
the words of Mordecai.

10 Then Ester sayde vnto Hatach, and commanded him to say vnto Mordecai,

11 All the kings seruants and the people of the kings prouinces doe know, that whosoeuer, man or woman, that cometh to the king into the inner court, which is not cal-golden rod, that hee may liue. Now I haue not beene called to come vnto the king these thirty dayes.

12 And they certified Mordecai of Esters words.

13 And Mordecai sayd, that they should answere Ester thus. Thinke not with thy selfe, that thou shalt escape in the Kings house, more then all the Jewes.

14 For if thou holdest thy peace at this time, & comfort and deliuerance shall ap-

CHAP. V.

1 Ester enueth in to the King, and biddeth him and Haman to a feast. 14 Haman prepareth a gallows for Mordecai.

ASD on the third day Ester put on her royall apparell, and stood in the court of the kings palace within, ouer against the kings house: and the King satte vpon his royall throne in the kings palace ouer against the gate of the house.

2 And when the king saw Ester the Queene standing in the court, he found fauour in his sight: and the king helde out the golden scepter that was in his hand: so Ester bowed nere, and touched the top of the scepter.

3 Then sayd the king vnto her, What wilt thou Queene Ester? and what is thy request? it shall be euen giuen thee to the halfe of the kingdom.

4 Then sayd Ester, If it please the king, let the king and Haman come this day vnto the banquet, that I haue prepared for him.

5 And the king sayd, Cause Haman to make haste that hee may doe as Ester hath sayd. So the king and Haman came to the banquet, that Ester had prepared.

6 And when the king layd vnto Ester, at the banquet of a wine, What is thy petition, that it may be giuen thee? and what is thy request? it shall euen be performed vnto the halfe of the kingdom.

7 Then answered Ester, and sayd, My petition and my request is,

8 If I haue found honour in the sight of the king, and if it please the king to giue mee my petition, and to performe my request, let the king and Haman come to the banquet that I shall prepare for them, and I will do to morrow according to the kings saying.

9 Then went Haman forth the same day ioyfull and with a glad heart. But when Haman saw Mordecai in the kings gate, that hee stood not vp, nor bowed for him, then was Haman full of indignation at Mordecai.

10 Acuertheless Haman refrained himselfe: and when hee came home, he sent and called for his friends, and Zerech his wife.

11 And Haman told them of the glory of his riches, and the multitude of his children, and of the things wherein the king had honoured him, and how that hee had let him about the princes and seruants of the king.

12 Haman sayd moreover, Verily Ester the Queene did let no man come in with the king to the banquet that shee had prepared, save me: and to morrow am I bidden vnto her also with the king.

13 But all this doeth nothing anasse me, as long as I see Mordecai the Jewe sitting at the kings gate.

14 Then sayd Zerech his wife and all his friends vnto him, Let them make a tree of little cubits high, and to morrow speake thou vnto the king, that Mordecai may be hanged thereon: then shalt thou go ioyfully with the king vnto the banquet. And the thing pleased Haman, and hee caused to make the tree.

CHAP. VI.

1 The king turneth ouer the Chronicles, and findeth the fidelitie of Mordecai, 10 And commandeth Haman to cause Mordecai to see had in honour.

THE same night the king slept not, and he commanded to bring the booke of the Records and the Chronicles: and they were read before the King.

2 Then it was found written that Mordecai had told of Bigtana, and Teresh two of the kings eunuches, keepers of the doore, who sought to lay hands on the king Ahasuerus.

3 Then the king said, What honour and dignitie hath been giuen to Mordecai for this? And the kings seruants that ministered vnto him, sayd, There is nothing done for him.

4 And the king said, Who is in the court? (Nowe Haman was come into the inner court of the kings house, that hee might speake vnto the king to hang Mordecai on the tree that he had prepared for him.)

5 And the kings seruants said vnto him, Behold, Haman standeth in the court. And the king said, Let him come in.

6 And when Haman came in, the king sayd vnto him, What shall be done vnto the man, whom the king will honour? Then Haman thought in his heart, To whose would the king do honour more then to me?

7 And Haman answered the king, The man whom the king would honour,

8 Let them bring for him royall apparell, with the king vetch to weare, and the horse that the king rideth vpon, & that the crowne royall may be set vpon his head.

9 And let the raiment and the horse be deliuered by the hande of one of the kings most noble princes, and let them apparel the man (whom the king will honour) and cause him to ride vpon the horse through the street of the cite, and proclaime before him, Thus shall it be done vnto the man whom the king will honour.

10 Then the king said to Haman, Make haste, take the raiment and the horse as thou hast said, & do so vnto Mordecai the Jew, that sitteth at the Kings gate: let nothing faile of all that thou hast spoken.

11 So Haman tooke the raiment and the horse, and arayed Mordecai, and brought him on horsebacke through the street of the cite, and proclaimed be fore him, Thus shall it be done to the man whom the king will honour.

13 And Haman told Zeresh his wife, and all his friends all that had befallen him. Then sayd his wife men, and Zeresh his wife vnto him, If Mordecai be of the seed of the Jewes, before whom thou hast begun to fall, thou shalt not preuaile against him, but thou shalt surely fall before him.

3 The Queene biddeth the king and Haman againe, and prayeth for her selfe and her people. 6 She accuseth Haman, and he is hanged on the gallowes which he had prepared for Mordecai.

4 The King and Haman came to banquet with the Queene Ester.

2 And the king sayd againe vnto Ester on the second day at the banquet of wine, What is thy petition. Queene Ester, that it may be giuen thee? and what is thy request? It shall all be euen performed vnto the halfe of the kingdome.

3 And Ester the Queene answered, and sayd, If I haue found fauour in thy sight, O King, and if it please the King, let my life be giuen mee at my petition, and my people at my request.

4 For wee are sold, I, and my people to be destroyed, to be slaine and to perish: but if wee were sold for seruants, and for hand-maydes, I would haue held my tongue: although the aduersary could not recompence the kings losse.

5 Then King Ahasueros answered and sayd vnto the Queene Ester, Who is hee? and where is hee that spied this to doe thus?

6 And Ester sayd, The aduersary and enemye is this wicked Haman. Then Haman was afraide before the king and the Queene.

7 And the king arose from the banquet of wine in his wrath, and went into the palace garden: But Haman stood vp, to make request for his life to the Queene Ester: for he saw that there was a mischief prepared for him of the king.

8 And when the King came againe out of the palace garden, into the house where they dranke wine, Haman was fallen vpon the bed whereon Ester sae: therefore the king sayd, Will hee force the Queene also before me in the house? as the word went out of the kings mouth, they covered Hamans face.

9 And Harbonah one of the eunaches sayd in the presence of the King Behold, there standeth yet the tree in Hamans house fit for to burne him, which Haman had prepared for Mordecai, that spake good for the king. Then the king said, Hang him thereon.

10 So they hanged Haman on the tree that hee had prepared for Mordecai: then was the kings wrath pacified.

1 After the death of Haman was Mordecai exalted. 14 Comfortable letters are sent vnto the Jewes.

1 The same day did king Ahasueros giue the house of Haman the aduersary of the Jewes vnto the Queene Ester. And Mordecai came before the King: for Ester told what he was vnto her.

2 And the king tooke off his ring, which he had taken from Haman, and gaue it vnto Mordecai: and Ester set Mordecai ouer the house of Haman.

2 And Ester spake yet more before the king, and fell downe at his feete weeping, and besought him that hee would put away the wickednesse of Haman the Agagite, and his device that he had imagined against the Jewes.

4 And the King helde out the golden scepter toward Ester. Then arose Ester, and stood before the king.

5 And said, If it please the king, and if I haue found fauour in his sight, and the thing be acceptable before the king, and if I please him, let it be written, that the letters of the deuice of Haman the sonne of Ammedatha the Agagite, may be called againe, which he wrote to destroy the Jewes, that are in all the kings prouinces.

6 For how can I suffer and see the cull, that shall come vnto my people? Or how can I suffer and see the destruction of my kindred?

7 And y king Ahasueros said vnto the Queene Ester, and to Mordecai the Jewe, Beholde, I haue giuen Ester the house of Haman, whom they haue hanged vpon the tree because he layd hand vpon the Jewes.

8 Write ye also for the Jewes, as it liketh you in the kings name, and seale it with the kings ring: (for the writings written in the kings name, and sealed with the kings ring, may no man reuoke.)

9 Then were the kings scribes called at the same time, euen in the third moneth, that is the moneth Sivan, on the three and twentieth day thereof: and it was written, according to all as Mordecai commanded vnto the Jewes, and to the princes, and captaines, and rulers of the prouinces, which were from India euen vnto Ethiopia, an hundred and seuen and twenty prouinces, vnto euery prouince, according to their writing thereof, and to euery people after their speech, and to the Jewes, according to their writing, and according to their language.

10 And he wrote in the king Ahasueros name, and sealed it with the kings ring: and hee sent letters by postes on horsebacke, and that rode on beasts of price, as adomedartes, and colts of mares.

11 Wherein the king granted the Jewes (in what cities fouer they were) to gather themselves together, and to stand for their life, and to roote out, to slay, and to destroy all the power of the people and of the prouince that veried them, both children and women, and to spoyle their goods:

13 The copy of the writing was, how there should be a commandement giuen in all and euery prouince, published among all the people, and that the Jewes should be ready against that day to auenge themselves on their enemies.

14 So the postes rode vpon beasts of price, and drummaries, & went forth with speed, to execute the kings commandement, and the decree was giuen at Shushan the palace.

15 And Mordecai went out from the King in royall apparell of blue and white, and with a great crowne of gold, and with a garment of fine linnen and purple, and the citie of Shushan reioyced and was glad.

16 And vnto the Jewes was come light and ioy and gladnesse, and honour.

17 Also in all and euery prouince, and in all euery citie and place, where the kings commandement and his decree came, there was ioy and gladnesse to the Jewes, a feast, and good day, and many of the people of the land became Jewes: for the feare of the Jewes fell vpon them.

CHAP. IX.

1 At the commandement of the king the Jewes put their aduersaries to death. 14 The ten sonnes of Haman are hanged. 17 The Jewes keepe a feast in remembrance of their deliuerance.

1 In the twelfth moneth, which is the moneth Adar, vpon the thirteenth day of the same, when the kings commandement and his decree drew nere to be put in execution, in the day that the enemies of the Jewes hoped to haue power ouer them (but it turned contrary: for the Jewes had rule ouer them that hated them.)

2 The Jewes gathered themselves together into their citie, throughout all the prouinces of the king Ahasuerus, to lay hand on such as sought their hurt, & no man could withstand them: for the feare of them fell vpon all people.

3 And all the rulers of the prouinces, and the princes and the captaiues, and the officers of the king captaiued the Jewes: for the feare of Mordecai fell vpon them.

4 For Mordecai was great in the Kings house, and the report of him went through all the prouinces: for this man Mordecai was of greater and greater.

5 Thus the Jewes smote all their enemies with strokes of the sword and slaughter, and destruction, & did what they would vnto those that hated them.

6 And at Shushan the palace slew the Jewes and destroyed fine hundred men.

7 And Parshandatha, and Dalphon, and Apacha,

8 And Poratha, and Adalia, and Aridatha,

9 And Parmashta, and Arisai, and Aridai, and Vakisatha,

10 The ten sonnes of Haman, the sonne of Ammedatha, the aduersary of the Jewes slew they: but they laid not their hands on the people.

11 On the same day came the number of those that were slaine, vnto the palace of Shushan before the king.

12 And the king sayde vnto the Queene Ester, The Jewes haue slaine in Shushan the palace and destroyed fine hundred men, and the ten sonnes of Haman: what haue they done in the rest of the kings prouinces? and what is thy petition, that it may be giuen thee? or what is thy request moresouer, that it may be performed?

13 Then sayde Ester, If it please the king, let it be granted also to morrow to the Jewes that are in Shushan, to doe according vnto this dayes decree, that they may hang vpon the tree Hamans tenne sonnes.

14 And the king charged to doe so, and the decree was giuen at Shushan, and they hanged Hamans tenne sonnes.

15 So the Jewes that were in Shushan assembled themselves vpon the fourteenth day of the moneth Adar, & slew three hundred men in Shushan, but on the spoyle they layd not their hand.

16 And the rest of the Jewes that were in the kings prouinces assembled themselves and stood for their liues, and had rest from their enemies, and slew of them that hated them, seventy and fine thousand: but they layd not their hands on the spoyle.

17 This they did on the thirteenth day of the moneth Adar, and rested the fourteenth day thereof, and kept it a day of feasting and ioy.

18 But the Jewes that were in Shushan assembled themselves on the thirteenth day and on the fourteenth thereof, and they rested on the fifteenth of the same, and kept it a day of feasting and ioy.

19 Therefore the Jewes of the villages that dwell in the walled towne, kept the fourteenth day of the moneth Adar with ioy and feasting, euen a topsfull day, and euery one sent presents vnto his neighbour.

20 And Mordecai wrote these words, and sent letters vnto all the Jewes that were through all the prouinces of the King Ahasuerus, both nere and farr,

21 Inuoying them that they should keepe the fourteenth day of the moneth Adar, and the fifteneeth day of the same, euery yeere,

22 According to the dayes wherein the Jewes rested from their enemies, and the moneth, which was turned vnto them from sorrow to ioy, and from mourning into a topsfull day, to keepe them the dayes of feasting and ioy, and to send presents euery man to his neighbour, and gifts to the poore.

23 And the Jewes promised to do as they had begun, and as Mordecai had written vnto them, 24 Because Haman the sonne of Hammedatha the Agagite all the Jewes aduersarie, had imagined against the Jewes, to destroy them, and had cast Pur (that is a lot) to consume and destroy them.

26 Therefore they called these daies Purim, by the name of Pur, and because of all the wordes of this letter, and of that which they had seen besides this, and of that which had come vnto them.

27 The Jewes also ordeined and promised for them and for their seede, and for all that toynd vnto them, that they would not faile to obserue those two dayes every yeere, according to their writing, and according to their season,

28 And that these dayes should bee remembered and kept throughout every generation and every family, and every prouince, and every cite: euen these dayes of Purim should not faile among the Jewes, and the memoriall of them should not perish from their seede.

29 And the Queene Ester the daughter of Abihail & Mordecai the Jew wrote with all authority (to confirme this letter of Purim the second time)

THE ARGVMENT.

IN this history is set before our eyes the example of a singular patience. For this holy man Iob was not onely extremely afflicted in outward things and in his body, but also in his minde and conscience, by the sharpe tentations of his wife, and chiefest friends: which by their vehement wordes, and subuill disputations brought him almost to despair: for they set foorth God as a senect Iudge, and mortall enemie vnto him which had cast him off, therefore in vaine hee should seeke vnto him for succour. These friends came vnto him vnder pretence of consolation, and yet they tormented him more then did all his affliction. Notwithstanding hee did constantly resist them, and at length had good successe. In this story we haue to marke that Iob maintaineth a good cause, but handleth it euill: againe, his aduersaries haue an euill matter, but they defend it craftily. For Iob held that God did not alway punish men according to their finnes, but that he had secret iudgements, wherof man knew no: the cause, and therefore man could not reason against God therein, but he should be conuicted. Moreover, he was assured that God had not reiected him, yet through his great torments and affliction, he brasteth foorth into many inconueniences both of wordes and sentences, and sheweth himselfe as a desperate man in many things, and as one that would resist God: and this is his good cause which he doeth not handle well. Againe, the aduersaries maintaine with many goodly arguments, that God punisheth continually according to the trespass, grounding vpon Gods prouidence, his iustice, and mans finnes, yet their intention is euill: for they labour to bring Iob into despair, and fo they maintaine an euill cause. Ezekiel commendeth Iob as a iust man, Ezek. 14. 14. and James setteth out his patience for an example, James 5. 11.

were gone about, Job feat, and sanctified them, and rose vp early in the morning, and offered burnt offerings according to the number of them all. For Job thought, It may be that my sonnes have sinned, and blasphemed God in their hearts: thus did Job every day.

6 Now on a day, when the children of God came and stood before the Lord, Satan came also among them.

7 Then the Lord said vnto Satan, Whence comest thou? And Satan answered the Lord, saying, From compassing the earth to and fro, and from walking in it.

8 And the Lord said vnto Satan, Hast then not considered my seruants Job, how none is like him in the earth, an upright and just man, one that feareth God, and elchew-eth euill?

9 Then Satan answered the Lord, and said, Doth Job feare God for nought?

10 Hast thou not made an hedge about him and about his house, and about all that hee hath on euery side? thou hast blessed the worke of his hands, and his substance is increased in the land.

11 But stretch out now thine hand, and touch all that hee hath, to see if hee will not blaspheme thee to thy face.

12 Then the Lord said vnto Satan, Lo, all that hee hath is in thine hand: onely vp-on himselfe shalt thou not stretch out thine hand. So Satan departed from the presence of the Lord.

13 And on a day when his sonnes and his daughters were eating, and drinking wine in their eldest brothers house,

14 There came a messenger vnto Job, and said, The oxen were plowing, and the asses feeding in their places,

15 And the Shebans came violently, and tooke them: yea, they haue slaine the ser-uants with the edge of the sword: but I onely am escaped alone to tell thee.

16 And whyles he was yet speaking, another came, and said, The yre of God is fallen from the heauen, and hath burnt vp the sheepe and the seruants, and deuoured them: but I onely am escaped alone to tell thee.

17 And whyles he was yet speaking, another came, and sayd, The Caldeans let out thre bands, and fell vpon the camels, and haue taken them, & haue slaine the seruants with the edge of the sword: but I onely am escaped alone to tell thee.

18 And whyles he was yet speaking, came another, and sayde, Thy sonnes, and thy daughters were eating, and drinking wine in their eldest brothers house,

19 And behold, there came a great wind from beyond the wilderness, and smote the four corners of the house, which fell vpon the children, and they are dead, and I onely am escaped alone to tell thee.

20 Then Job arose, and rent his garment, and shaued his head, and fell downe vpon the ground, and worshipped,

21 And said, Naked came I out of my mothers wombe, and naked shall I returne thither: the Lord hath giuen, and the Lord hath taken it: blessed bee the Name of the Lord.

6 Satan hath permission to afflict Job. 9 His wife tempteth him to forsake God. 11 His three friends visit him.

A ND on a day the children of God came and stood before the Lord, and Satan came also among them, and stood before the Lord.

2 Then the Lord sayde vnto Satan, Whence comest thou? And Satan answered the Lord, saying, From compassing

3 And the Lord sayd vnto Satan, Hast thou not considered my seruant Job, how none is like him in the earth, an upright and iust man; one that feareth God, and elcheweth euill. for yet he continueth in his rightnesse, although thou mouedst mee against him, to destroy him without cause.

4 And Satan answered the Lord, and sayd, Shall hee for thine sake, and all that euer a man hath, will hee giue for his life.

5 But stretch now out thine hand, and touch his stones, and his fleshy, to see if hee will not blaspheme thee to thy face.

6 Then the Lord sayd vnto Satan, Doe, he is in thine hand, but hee shall keepe his life.

7 So Satan departed from the presence of the Lord, and smote Job with sore boiles, him then another man. f Meaning his owne person. g Thus l Meaning, what gainest thou to serue God, seeing he thus plagueth thee, as though hee were thine enemy?

This is the most grieuous temptation of the faithfull, when their faith is assailed, and when Satan goeth about to perfwade them, that they trust in God in vaine.

m For death was appointed to the blasphemer, and so shee meant that he should be sooner rid out of his paine. n That is, to be patient in aduersitie, as we reioyce when hee sendeth prosperitie, and so to acknowledge him to be both mercifull and iust. o Hee so bridled his affections, that his tongue through impatiencie, did not murmur against God. p Which were men of authoritie, wise and learned, and as the Septuagint write, kings, and came to comfort him, but when they saw how hee was visited, they conceived an euill opinion of him, as though he had bene but an hypocrite, and so iustly plagued of God for his finnes. q This was also a ceremonie, which they vsed in those countreys, as the renting of their clothes in signe of sorrow, &c. r And therefore thought that hee would not haue hearkened to their counsell.

3 Let the day e<sup>c</sup> perill wherein I was borne, and the night when it was said, There is a man child conceived.

4 Let that day be darknesse, let not God regard it from aboue, neither let the light shine vpon it,

5 But let darknesse, and the shadow of death staine it: let the cloud remain vpon it, and let them make it fearefull as a bitter Day

6 Let darknesse possesse that night, let it not be toynd vnto the dayes of the yeere, nor let it come into the count of the moneths.

7 Pea, desolate be that night, and let no toy be in it.

8 Let them that curse the day (being ready to renew their mourning) curie it.

9 Let the starres of that twilight bee dimme through darknesse of it: let it looke for light, but haue none: neither let it see the dawning of the day,

10 Because it shut not by the doozes of my mothers wombe: nor hidde sorrow from mine eyes.

11 Why died not I in the birth: or why did not I when I came out of the wombe?

12 Why did the knees prevent mee? and why did I sucke the breasts?

13 For should I now haue i<sup>l</sup>ien and bene quiet, I should haue slept then, and bene at rest,

14 With the kings and counsellors of the earth, which haue builded themselues desolate places:

15 Or with the princes that had gold, and haue filled their houses with siluer.

16 Or why was I not hid, as an vntimely birth, either as infants, which haue not seene the light?

17 The wicked haue there ceased from their tyrannie, and there they that laboured valiantly, are at rest.

18 The prisoners rest together, and heare not the voyce of the oppressour.

19 There are sinall and great, and the seruant is free from his master.

20 Wherefore is the light giuen to him that is in miserie? and life vnto them that haue heauie hearts?

21 Which long for death, and if it come not, they would euen search it more then treasures:

22 Which toy for gladnesse, and reioyce when they can finde the graue.

23 Why is the light giuen to the man whose way is hidde, and whom God hath hedged in?

24 For my fighting commeth before I eate, and my tearings are powred out like the water.

25 For the thing I feared, is come vpon me, and the thing that I was afraid of, is come vnto me.

26 I had no peace, neither had I quietnes, neither had I rest, yet trouble is come.

by make their names immortal. l That is, by death the crueltie of the tyrants hath ceased. m All they that sustaine any kinde of calamitie and miserie in this world: which he speaketh after the iudgement of the flesh. n He sheweth that the benefites of God are not comfortable, except the heart be ioyfull, and the conscience quietted. o That seeth not how to come out of his miseries, because hee dependeth not on Gods providence. p In my prosperitie I looked euer for a fall, as is now come to passe. q The feare of troubles that should ensue, caused my prosperitie to seeme to mee as nothing, and yer I am not exempted from trouble.

CHAP. IIIII.

5 Job is reprehended of impatiencie, 7 and vniustice, 17 and of the presumption of his owne righteousnessse.

T hen Eliphaz the Temanite answered, and sayd,

2 If wee aslay to commune with thee, wilt thou be attuned? but who can withhold himselfe from speaking?

3 Behold, thou hast taught many, and hast

i The vehemencie of his afflictions mad. him to vtter these words, as though death were the end of all miseries, and as if there were no life after this, which he speaketh not as though it were so, but the infirmities of his flesh caused him to braut out into this error of the wicked.
k Hee noteth the ambition of them, which for their pleasure, as it were change the order of nature, and build in most barren places, because they would here-a Seeing this thine impatiencie, b Thou hast comforted others in their afflictions, and canst not now comfort thy selfe.

c Thus he concluded that Iob was but an hypocrite, and had no true feare, nor trust in God.

d Hee concludeth that Iob was reprooved, seeing that God handled him so extremely, which is the argument that the carnall men make against the children of God.

e They that doe evil, e not but receive euill.

f He sheweth that God needeth no great preparation to destroy his enemies :

for he can doe it with the blast of his mouth.

g Though men according to their office doe not punish tyrants (whom for their cruelty he compareth to lions, and their children to their whelpes) yet God both is able, and his iustice will punish them.

h A thing that I knew not before, was declared vnto mee by a vision: that is, that who soeuer thinketh himselfe iust, shall be found a sinner, when hee cometh before God.

i In these visions which God sheweth to his creatures, there is euer a certaine feare ioyned, that y authority thereof might be had in greater reuerence.

k When all things were quiet, or when the feare was somewhat asswaged, as God appeared to Eliah, 1. King. 19. 12.

l Hee proueth that if God did punish the innocent, the creature should be more iust than the Creator, which were a blasphemie.

m If God find imperfeccion in his Angels, when they are not maintained by his power, how much more shall hee lay folly so mans charge, when he would iustifie himselfe against God?

n That is, in this mortall body subiect to corruption, 2. Cor. 5. 1.

o They see death continually before their eyes, and daily approaching toward them.

p No man for all this doeth consider it.

q That is, before that any of them were so wise as to thinke on death.

h half strengthened the weary hands.

4 Thy wordes haue confirmed him that was falling, and thou hast strengthened the weak knees.

5 But now it is come vpon thee, & thou art grieved: it toucheth thee, and thou art troubled.

6 Is not this thy feare, thy confidence, thy patience, and the vprightnesse of thy wayes?

7 Remember, I pray thee: who euer perished being an innocent; or where were the vpright destroyed?

8 As I haue seene, they that plough iniquitie, and sow wickednesse, reape the same.

9 Why the blast of God they perish, and with the breach of his nostrils are they consumed.

10 The roaring of the Lion, and the voice of the Lionelle, and the teeth of the Lions whelpes are broken.

11 The Lion perissheth for lacke of pray, and the Lions whelpes are scattered abroad.

12 Woe a thing was brought to mee fecerely, and mine care hath recieued a little thereof.

13 In the thoughts of the visions of the night, when sleepe falleth on men, 14 feare came vpon me, and dead, which made all my bones to tremble.

15 And the winde passed before mee, and made the haire of my flesh to stand vp.

16 Then stood one, and I knew not his face: an image was before mine eyes and in silence heard I a voyce, saying,

17 Shall man be more iust than God? or shall a man be more pure than his maker?

18 Behold, hee layd folly vpon his Angels, and sayd vpon his seruants, and sayd vpon his Angels.

19 How much more in them that dwell in houses of clay, whose foundation is in the dust, which shall be destroyed before the moeth?

20 They bee destroyed from the morning vnto the evening: they perish sooner without regard.

21 Doth not their dignitie go away with them? doe they not die, and that without wisdom?

Call now, if any will answer thee, and to which of the faints wilt thou turne?

2 Doubtlesse danger killeth the foolish, and enuy slayerh the idioe.

3 I haue seene the foolish well rooted, & suddenly I curied his habitacion, saying,

4 His children shall bee farre from saluation, & they shall be destroyed in the gate, and none shall deliuer them.

5 The hungry shall eate vp his harvest: yea, they shall take it from among y thorns, and the thistle shall drinke vp their substance.

6 For wisery commeth not forth of the dust, neither doeth affliction spring out of the earth.

7 But man is borne vnto trouble, as the sparkes flie upward.

8 But I would enquire at God, and turne my talke vnto God:

9 Which doeth great things and vnsearchable, and maruelous things without number.

10 He giueth raine vpon the earth, and powreth water vpon the streetes, 11 And letteth vy on his feet them that bee lowe, and the sorrowfull may bee exalted to saluation.

12 He scattereth the deuices of the crafty: so that their handes cannot accomplishe that which they doe enterpris.

13 He taketh the wife in their craftines, & the counsell of the wicked is made foolish.

14 They meete with darkenesse in the day time, and grope at noone day, as in the night.

15 But hee launche the p poore from the sword, from their mouth, & from the hand of the violent man, 16 So that the poore hath his hope, but iniquitie shall stoppe her mouth.

17 Beholds, blessed is the man whom God correcteth: therefore refuse not thou the chastising of the Almighty.

18 For hee maketh the wound, and bindeth it up: hee smiteth, and his handes make whole.

19 He shall deliuer thee in fire troubles, and in the seventh the euill shall not touch thee.

20 In famine hee shall deliuer thee from death: and in battell from the power of the sword.

21 Thou shalt be hid from the scourge of a Hee willett Iob to consider the example of all them that haue liued or doe liue godly, whether any of them be like vnto him in raging against God as hee doeth.

b Murruring against God in afflictions, in case of the paine and vce-reth maas folie.

c That is, the sinner that hath not the feare of God.

d I was not moued with his prosperitie, but knew that God had curled him and his.

e Though God sometime suffer the fathers to passe in this world, yet his iudgements will light vpon their wicked children.

f By publike iudgement they shall be condemned and none shall picie them.

g Though there be but two or three cares left in the hedges, yet these shall be taken from him.

h That is, the earth is not the cause of barrennesse, and mans misery, but his owne sinne.

CHAP. V.
1, 2 Eliphaz sheweth the difference betweene the children of God and the wicked. 3 The fall of the wicked. 9 Gods power, who destroyeth the wicked, and deliuereth his.

i Which declareth that sinne is euer in our corrupt nature: for before sinne it was not subiect to paine and affliction. k If I suffered as thou doest, I would seeke vnto God. l Hee counselleth Iob to humble himselfe to God, to whom all creatures are subiect, and whose workes declare that man is inexcusable, except hee glorifie God in all his works. m He sheweth by particular examples what the workes of God are, 2. Cor. 3. 19. n In things plainc and euident they shew themselves fooles in steade of wise men. o This declareth that God punisheth the worldly wise, as hee threatned, Deute 28 29. p That is, hee that humbleth himselfe before God. q Hee comparreth the slander of the wicked to sharpe swords. r If the wicked be compelled at Gods workes to stop their mouths, much more than that professe God. f Hee will send trouble after trouble, than his children may not for one time, but continually trust in him: but they shall haue a comfortable issue, even in the greatest and the last, which is here called the seventh.

c Whereas the wicked lament in their troubles, thou shalt haue occasion to reioyce.

u When we are in Gods fauour, all creatures shall reioyce vs.

x God shall so blesse thee, that thou shalt haue occasion to reioyce in all things, and not to be offended.

y Though the children of God haue not alwayes this promise performed, yet God doeth recompense it otherwise to their advantage. z We haue learned these points by experience, that God punisheth not the innocent, that man cannot compare in iustice with him, that the hypocrites shall not long prosper, and that the affliction which man susteineth, cometh for his owne sinne.

the tongue, and thou shalt not be afraid of destruction when it cometh.

22 But thou shalt laugh at destruction and dearchy, and shalt not be afraid of the beast of the earth.

23 For the stones of the field shall be in league with thee, and the beasts of the field shall be at peace with thee.

24 And thou shalt know that peace shall be in the tabernacle, & thou shalt dwelle in thine habitation, and shalt not sinne.

25 Thou shalt perceiue also, that thy seed shall be great, and thy posteritie as the graffe of the earth.

26 Thou shalt go to thy graue in a full age, as a ricke of corne cometh in due season into the barme.

27 Lo, this haue we enquired of it, and so it is: heare this, and know it for thy selfe.

or is my flesh of brasse?

13 Is it not so, that there is in mee no helpe: & that strength is taken from mee?

14 Yee that is in misery ought to be comforted of his neighbour: but men haue forsaken the feare of the Almighty.

15 Thy brethren haue deceiued mee as a brooke, and as the riling of the riuers they passe away.

16 Which are blackish with ice, & wherein the snow is hid.

17 But in the time they are dried by with heat, and are consumed: and when it is hote, they faile out of their places, 18 Or they depart from their way & course, yea, they vanish and perish.

19 They that goe to Tema, considered them, and they that goe to Sheba, waited for them.

20 But they were confounded: when they hoped, they came thither and were ashamed.

21 Surely now are yee like vnto it: yee haue seene my fearefull plague, and are afraid.

22 As it became I said, Bring vnto mee: or giue a reward to mee of your substance?

23 And deliuer me fro the enemies hand, or ransom me out of the hand of tyrants?

24 Teach me, & I will hold my tongue: and cause me to vnderstand wherein I haue erred.

25 How steadfast are the words of righteousness? and what can any of you iustly reprove?

26 Doe ye imagine to reprove words, that the talke of the afflicted should be as the wind?

27 Doe make your wrath to fall vpon the fatherlesse, and dig a pit for your friend.

28 Now therefore bee content to reioyce vpon mee: for I will not lie before your face.

29 Hence, I pray you, let there bee none iniquitie: returne, I say, and yee shall see yet my righteousness in that behalfe. Is there iniquitie in my tongue? doth not my mouth feele sorowes?

30 Shew me wherein I haue erred, and I will confesse my fault. He that hath a good conscience, doeth not shrinke at the sharpe words or reasoning of others, except they bee able to perswade him by reason.

31 Do you cauil at my words, because I should be thought to speake foolishly which am now in misery? Consider whether I speake as one that is driuen to this impatiencie through very sorow, or as an hypocrite as you condemne me.

a To know whether I complain without iust cause.

b My grieffe is so great, that I lacke wordes to expresse it.

c Which declareth that hee was not onely afflicted in body, but wounded in conscience, which is the greatest battell that the faithfull can haue.

d Think you that I cry with out cause, seeing the bruite beasts doe not complain when they haue what they would?

e Can a mans taste delight in that that hath no fauour? meaning that none take pleasure in affliction, seeing they cannot away with things that are vsuorie to the mouth.

f Herein hee sinneth double, both in wishing through impatiencie to die, and also in desiring of God a thing which was not agreeable to his will. g That is, let mee die: once before I come to distrust in Gods promise through mine impatiencie. h He searcht leif hee should be brought to inconueniences, if the sorowes should continue.

CHAP. VI.

1 Job answereth, that his paine is more grieuous then his fault. 8 He wisheth death, 14 He complaineth of his friends.

At Job answered, and sayd,

2 Oh that my grieffe were wel weighed, and my miseries were layd together in the balance!

3 For it would bee now heavier then the sand of the sea: therefore my words are swallowed vp.

4 For the arrowes of the Almighty are in mee, the venime whereof doeth drinke vpon my spirit, and the terrors of God fight against me.

5 Doeth the wilde asse bray when hee hath graffe? or loweth the oxe when hee hath fodder?

6 That which is vsuorie, shall it bee eaten without salt? or is there any cast in the white of an egge?

7 Such thinges as my soule refused to touch, as were sorowes, are my meate.

8 Oh that I might haue my desire, and that God would graunt me the thing that I long for!

9 That is, that God would destroy me: that he would let his hand goe, and cut mee off.

10 Then should I yet haue comfort, (though I burne with sorow, let him not spare) because I haue not denied the words of the Holy one.

11 What power haue I that I should endure? or what is mine end, if I should prolong my life?

12 Is my strength the strength of stones?

CHAP. V.

1 Job sheweth the shortnes by misery of mans life. 5 There not an appointed time to man vpon earth? and are not his daies as the daies of an hireling?

2 As a seruant longeth for the shadow, and as a hireling looketh for the eod of his worke,

3 So haue I had as an inheritance the monthes of vauitie, and painefull nights haue bene appointed vnto me.

4 If I layd mee downe, I sayd, When shall i Haue I not sought to helpe my selfe as much as was possible? ||Or, wisdom, & Law.

k He compared the friends which comfort vs not in misery, to a brooke which in summer when we neede waters, is dry, in winter is hard frozen, and in the time of raine, when we haue no neede, overfloweth with water.

l They that passe thereby to goe into the hot countries of Arabia thinke to find water there, to quench their thirst, but they are deceiued.

m That is, like to this brooke, which deceiueth them that thinke to haue water there in their neede, as I looked for consolation at your hands.

n He toucheth the worldlings, which for no necessitie will giue part of their goods, and much more these men, which would not giue him comfort o Shew me wherein I haue erred, and I will confesse my fault.

p He that hath a good conscience, doeth not shrinke at the sharpe words or reasoning of others, except they bee able to perswade him by reason.

q Do you cauil at my words, because I should be thought to speake foolishly which am now in misery?

r Consider whether I speake as one that is driuen to this impatiencie through very sorow, or as an hypocrite as you condemne me.

a Hath not an hired seruant some rest & ease? then in this my continuall torment I am worse then an hireling.

b My sorow hath continued from moneth to moneth, and I haue looked for hope in vaine. Shall c This signifieth that his disease was rare and most horrible.

 d Thus he speaketh in respect of the brevity of mans life, which passeth without hope of returning: in consideration whereof, he desireth God to have compassion on him.
 e If thou behold me in thine anger, I shall not be able to stand in thy presence.
 f Shall no more enjoy this mortal life.
 g Seeing I can by none other means comfort my selfe, I will declare my griefe by words, and thus he speaketh as one overcome with griefe of mind.
 h Am not I a poore wretch? what needest thou then to lay so much payne on me?
 i So that I can have no rest night nor day.
 k He speaketh as one overcome with sorrow & not of judgement, or of the examination of his faith.
 l Seeing my terme of life is so short, let me have some rest & ease.
 m Seeing that man of himselfe is so vile, why doest thou give him honour to contend against him? Iob vseth all kind of persuasion with God, that he might stay his hand.
 n After all temptations faith burleth forth, and leadeth Iob to repentance: yet it was not in such perfection, that he could bridle himselfe from reasoning with God, because that hee still mied his faith.
 o That is, I shall be dead.

a He declareth that their wordes which would diminish any thing from the iustice of God, is but as a puffe of wind y vanissheth away.

shall I arise? and measuring the evening, I am euen fill with tossing to and fro vnto the dawning of the day.

6 By flesh is clothed with wormes and filthinesse of the dust, my kinne is rent, and become horrible.

7 Remember that my life is but a wind, and that mine eye shall not returne to see pleasure.

8 The eye that hath seene me shall see me no more: thine eyes are vpon me, and I shall be no longer.

9 As the cloud vanissheth and goeth away, so be that goeth down to the graue that cometh by no more.

10 He shall returne no more to his house, neither shall his place know him any more.

11 Therefore I will not spare my mouth, but will speake in the trouble of my spirit, and muse in the bitterness of my mind.

12 Am I a sea? or a whale fish, that thou keepst me in ward?

13 When I say, My couch shall relieue me, and my bed shall bring comfort in my meditation, 14 Then fearest thou me with dreames, and astonishest me with visions.

15 Therefore my soule is chafeth rather to bee trangled and to dye, then to be in my bones.

16 I abhorre it, I shall not liue alway: spare me then, for my dayes are but vanity.

17 What is man that thou doest magnifie him, and that thou secretest thine heart vpon him?

18 And dost visit him euery morning, and triest him euery moment?

19 How long will it bee yer thou depart from me? thou wilt not let me alone whiles I may swallow my spittle.

20 I haue sinned, what shall I do vnto thee? Without preference of men, why baist thou see me as a marke against thee, so that I am a burden vnto my selfe?

21 And why doest thou not pardon my trespasser, and take away mine iniquity? for now shall I sleepe in the dust, and if thou feelest me in the morning, I shall not be found.

22 I haue sinned, what shall I do vnto thee? Without preference of men, why baist thou see me as a marke against thee, so that I am a burden vnto my selfe?

23 And why doest thou not pardon my trespasser, and take away mine iniquity? for now shall I sleepe in the dust, and if thou feelest me in the morning, I shall not be found.

24 I haue sinned, what shall I do vnto thee? Without preference of men, why baist thou see me as a marke against thee, so that I am a burden vnto my selfe?

25 And why doest thou not pardon my trespasser, and take away mine iniquity? for now shall I sleepe in the dust, and if thou feelest me in the morning, I shall not be found.

26 I haue sinned, what shall I do vnto thee? Without preference of men, why baist thou see me as a marke against thee, so that I am a burden vnto my selfe?

27 And why doest thou not pardon my trespasser, and take away mine iniquity? for now shall I sleepe in the dust, and if thou feelest me in the morning, I shall not be found.

28 I haue sinned, what shall I do vnto thee? Without preference of men, why baist thou see me as a marke against thee, so that I am a burden vnto my selfe?

29 And why doest thou not pardon my trespasser, and take away mine iniquity? for now shall I sleepe in the dust, and if thou feelest me in the morning, I shall not be found.

30 I haue sinned, what shall I do vnto thee? Without preference of men, why baist thou see me as a marke against thee, so that I am a burden vnto my selfe?

31 And why doest thou not pardon my trespasser, and take away mine iniquity? for now shall I sleepe in the dust, and if thou feelest me in the morning, I shall not be found.

32 I haue sinned, what shall I do vnto thee? Without preference of men, why baist thou see me as a marke against thee, so that I am a burden vnto my selfe?

33 And why doest thou not pardon my trespasser, and take away mine iniquity? for now shall I sleepe in the dust, and if thou feelest me in the morning, I shall not be found.

34 I haue sinned, what shall I do vnto thee? Without preference of men, why baist thou see me as a marke against thee, so that I am a burden vnto my selfe?

and he hath sent them into the place of their iniquity,

5 Yet if thou wilt early seeke vnto God, and pray to the Almighty,

6 If thou be pure and vpright, then surely he will awake vnto thee, and hee will make the habitation of thy righteousnesse prosperous.

7 And though thy beginning be small, yet thy latter end shall greatly increate.

8 Inquire therefore, I pray thee, of the former age, and prepare thy selfe to feare of their fathers.

9 For we are but of yesterday, and are ignorant: for our dayes vpon earth are but a shadow.

10 Shall not they teach thee and tel thee, and utter the words of their heart?

11 Can a rush grow without mire? or can the grass grow without water?

12 Though it were in greene and not cut downe, yet shall it wither before any other herbe.

13 So are the paths of all that forget God, and the hypocrites hope shall perish.

14 His confidence also shall be cut off, and his trust shall be as the house of a spider.

15 Hee shall lean vpon his house: but it shall not stand: hee shall hold him fast by it, yet shall it not indure.

16 The tree is greene before the sunne, and the boughes spread ouer the garden thereof.

17 The roots thereof are wrapped about the fountain, and are folded about the house of stones.

18 If any plucke it from his place, and it deny, saying, I haue not seene thee, 19 Behold, it will reioyce in this meane, that it may grow in another mold.

20 Beholde, God will not cast away an vpright man, neither will he take the wicked by the hand, 21 Till hee haue filled thy mouth with laughter, and thy lips with ioy.

22 They that hate thee shall bee clothed with shame, and the dwelling of the wicked shall not remaine.

23 They that hate thee shall bee clothed with shame, and the dwelling of the wicked shall not remaine.

24 They that hate thee shall bee clothed with shame, and the dwelling of the wicked shall not remaine.

25 They that hate thee shall bee clothed with shame, and the dwelling of the wicked shall not remaine.

26 They that hate thee shall bee clothed with shame, and the dwelling of the wicked shall not remaine.

27 They that hate thee shall bee clothed with shame, and the dwelling of the wicked shall not remaine.

28 They that hate thee shall bee clothed with shame, and the dwelling of the wicked shall not remaine.

29 They that hate thee shall bee clothed with shame, and the dwelling of the wicked shall not remaine.

30 They that hate thee shall bee clothed with shame, and the dwelling of the wicked shall not remaine.

31 They that hate thee shall bee clothed with shame, and the dwelling of the wicked shall not remaine.

32 They that hate thee shall bee clothed with shame, and the dwelling of the wicked shall not remaine.

33 They that hate thee shall bee clothed with shame, and the dwelling of the wicked shall not remaine.

34 They that hate thee shall bee clothed with shame, and the dwelling of the wicked shall not remaine.

b That is, hath rewarded them according to their iniquities: meaning, that Iob ought to be warned by the example of his children, that hee offer d not God.
 c That is, if thou turne betime, whiles God calleth thee to repentance.
 d Though the beginnings be not so pleasant, as thou wouldest desire, yet in the end thou shalt haue sufficient occasion to content thy selfe.
 e He willeth Iob to examine all antiquity, and he shall find it true which here he sayth.
 f Meaning that it is not enough to haue experience of ourselues, but to be confirmed by the examples of them that went before vs.
 g As a rush cannot grow without our moynnesse, so cannot the hypocrite because he hath not faith which is mystified with Gods Spirit.
 h Which is to day, and to morrow swept away.
 i He compareth the iust to a tree, which although it be remooued out of one place to another, yet flourisheth: so the affliction of the godly turneth to their proficke.
 k That is, so that there remaine nothing there to prooue whether the tree hath growen there or no. I To be planted in another place, where it may growe at pleasure.
 m If thou be godly, hee will giue thee occasion to reioyce, and if not, thine affliction shall increase.

a Iob here answereth that their wordes which would diminish any thing from the iustice of God, is but as a puffe of wind y vanissheth away.
 b Of a thousand things, which God could lay to his charge, man cannot answere him one.
 4. 26.

CHAP. VIII.

1 Bildad sheweth that Iob is a sinner, because God punisheth the wicked, & preferueth the good.

Then answered Bildad the Shuhite, and sayd,

2 How long wilt thou talk of these things? and how long shall the words of thy mouth be as a mighty wind?

3 Dost God peruert iudgement? or doth the Almighty subuert iustice?

4 If thy sonnes haue sinned against him

CHAP. IX.
 1 Iob declareth the mighty power of God, and that mans righteousnesse is nothing.

Then Iob answered, and said,

2 I knowe verely that it is so: for how should man compared vnto God be afflicted?

3 If he would dispute with him, he could not answere him one thing of a thousand.

justice of God & his innocency, confessing God to be infinite in iustice, & man to be nothing in respect of him.
 b Of a thousand things, which God could lay to his charge, man cannot answere him one.

4 Hee is wise in heart, and mightie in strength: whs hath bene fierce against him and hath prospered?

5 Hee remooueth the mountaynes, and they feele not when hee ouerthroweth them in his wraoth.

6 Hee remooueth the earth out of her place, as the pillars thereof do shake.

7 He commaundeth the sunne, and it riseth not: he closeth by the starres as vnder a signet.

8 Hee himselfe alone spreadeth out the heauens, and walketh vpon the height of the sea.

9 He maketh the starres <sup>a</sup> Arcturus, Orion, and Pleiades, and the climates of the South.

10 He doeth great things, and vnsearchable: yea, maruileous things without number.

11 Lo, when he goeth by me, I see him not: and when he passeth by, I perceiue him not.

12 Behold, when he taketh a prey, <sup>c</sup> who can make him to restore it? who shall say vnto him, What doest thou?

13 Gods will not withdrawe his anger, and the most mighty helpes <sup>d</sup> doe scourge vnder him.

14 How much lesse shall I answer him? or how should I find out <sup>e</sup> my wordes with him?

15 For though I were iust, yet could I <sup>f</sup> not answer, but I would make supplication to my iudge.

16 If I cry, and hee answer me, yet would I not beleue <sup>g</sup> y he heard my voyce.

17 For he destroyeth me with a tempest, and woundeth me <sup>h</sup> without cause.

18 Hee will not suffer mee to take my breath, but fillerh me with bitterness.

19 If we speake of strength, behold, he is <sup>i</sup> strong: if we speake of iudgement, who shall bring me in to please?

20 If I would iustifie my selfe, mine own mouth shall condemne me: <sup>j</sup> if I would be perfect, he shall iudge me wicked.

21 Though I were perfect, yet I know not my soule: therefore abhorre I my life.

22 This is one poynnt: therefore I sayd, He destroyeth the <sup>k</sup> perfect and the wicked.

23 If the scourge should suddenly <sup>l</sup> slay, should God laugh at the punishment of the innocent?

24 The earth is giuen into the hand of the wicked: hee couereth the faces of the Iudges thereof: if not, where is hee? or who is he?

25 By dayes haue bene more swift then a poste: they haue fled, and haue seene no good thing.

26 They are passed as with the most swift skippes, and as the Eagle that flieth to the pray.

27 If I say, I will forget my complaint, I will cease from my wraoth, and comfort me, 28 Then I am afraid of all my sorowes, knowing that thou wilt not iudge me innocent.

29 If I be wicked, why labour I thus in vaine?

30 If I wraoth my selfe with snow water, and purge mine hands most cleane, 31 Yet shalt thou plunge mee in the pit, and mine owne clothes shall make mee filthy.

32 For yee is not a man as I am, that I should answer him, if we come together to iudgement.

33 Repyber to there any vmpire <sup>m</sup> that might lay his hand vpon vs both.

34 Let him take his rod away from me, and let not his feare astonish me.

35 Then will I speake, and feare him not: but because I am not so, I hold me still.

thou destroy me ?

9 Remember, I pray thee, that thou hast made mee, as the clay, and wilt thou bring me into dust againe ?

10 Hast thou not powred me out as milke; and turned me to cruds like cheefe ?

11 Thou hast clothed me with skinned and flesh, and toynd mee together with bones and sinewes.

12 Thou hast giuen me life, and grace: & thy visitation hath preferred my spirit.

13 Though thou hast hidde these things in thine heart, yet I knowe that it is so with thee.

14 If I haue sinned, then thou wilt straitly looke vnto mee, and wilt not holde me guiltlesse of mine iniquitie.

15 If I haue done wickedly, wor vnto mee: if I haue done righteously, I will not p lift vp mine head, being full of confusion, because I see mine affliction.

16 But let it increase: hunt thou me as a lion: returne and shewe the selfe a maruelous vpon me.

17 Thou rennest thy plagues against me, and thou increasest thy wrath against mee: changes and armies of sorowes are against mee.

18 Wherefore then hast thou brought me out of the wombe? Wh that I had perished, and that none eye had seene mee, 19 And that I were as I had not benee, but brought from the wombe to the graue!

20 Are not my dayes few? let him cease, and leaue off from me, that I may take a litle comfort.

CHAP. XI.

1 Job is vniuſly reprehended of Zophar. 7 God is incomprehensible. 2 He is mercifull to the repentant. 3 Her assurance that liue godly.

Then answered Zophar the Naamathite, and saide,

2 Should not the multitude of wordes be answered? or should a great talker bee iustified?

3 Should men hold their peace at thy lies? and when thou mockest others, shall none make thee ashamed?

4 For thou hast said, My doctrine is pure, and I am cleane in thine eyes.

5 But oh, that God would speake and open his lips against thee!

6 That hee might shewe thee his secrets of wisdom, how thou hast deserued double, according to right: know therefore that God hath forgotten thee for thine iniquitie.

7 Canst thou by searching find out God? canst thou find out the Almighty to his perfection?

8 The heauens are his, what canst thou doe? it is deeper then the hell, how canst thou know it?

9 The measure thereof is longer then the earth, and it is broader then the sea.

10 If hee cut off, and shut vp, or gather together, who can turne him backe?

11 For he knoweth vaine men, and seeth iniquitie, and him that understandeth nothing.

12 Per vaine man would be wise, though man new borne is like a wild asse & colt.

13 If thou se prepare thine heart, and stretch out thine hands toward him:

14 If iniquitie be in thine hand, put it faere away, and let no wickednesse dwell in thy tabernacle.

15 Then truly shalt thou lift vp thy face without spot, and shalt bee stable, and shalt not feare.

16 But thou shalt forget thy misery, and remember it as waters that are past.

17 Thine age also shall appeare more cleare then the noone day: thou shalt shine & bee as the morning.

18 And thou shalt be bolde, because there is hope: and thou shalt dig pits, and shalt lie downe safely.

19 For when thou takest thy rest, none shall make thee afraid: yea, many shall make sute vnto thee.

20 But the eyes of the wicked shall faile, and their refuge shall perish, and their hope shall be sorrow of mind.

whom thou hast charge. i Hee declareth what quietnesse of conscience and successe in all things such shall haue, which turne to God by true repentance. Leuir. 26, 5, 6. Hee sheweth that contrary things shall come vnto them that doe not repent.

CHAP. XII.

2 Job accuseth his friends of ignorance. 7 Hee declareth the might and power of God, 17 and how hee changeth the course of things.

Then Job answered and said,

2 In dedee because that yee are the people onely, a wisdom must die with you.

3 But I haue vnderstanding as well as you, and am not inferior vnto you: yea, who knoweth not such things?

4 I am b as one mocked of his neighbour, who calleth vpon God, and hee heareth him: the iust and the vpright is laughed to scorn.

5 He that is ready to fall, is as a lampe despised in the opynion of the rich.

Pro. 14, 2. b He reprooeth these his friends of two faulces: the one, that they thought they had better knowledge then indeed they had, and the other, that in stead of true consolation, they did deride and despise their friend in his aduersitie. c The which neighbour being a mocker, and a wicked man, thinketh that no man is in Gods favour but he, because he hath all things that hee desireth. d As the rich esteeme not a light or torch, that goeth out, so is he despised that falleth from prosperitie to aduersitie.

d That is, this perfection of God: and if man be not able to comprehend the height of the heauen, the depth of hell, the length of the earth, the breadth of the sea, which are but creatures: how can he attain to the perfection of the Creator? e If God should turne the state of things, and establish a new order in nature, who could controll him? f That is, without vnderstanding: to that what fouer gifts hee hath afterward, come of God, & not of nature. g If thou repent pray vnto him. h Renounce thine owne euill works, and see that they offend not God, our l As brittle as a pot of clay. m That is, reason and vnderstanding, and many other gifts whereby man excelleth all earthly creatures. n That is, thy fatherly care and prouidence, whereby thou preferrest mee, & without which I should perish straightway. o Though I be not fully able to comprehend these things, yet I must needs confesse that it is so. p I will alway walke in feare & humilitie, knowing that none is iust before thee. q Job being sore assaulted in this battell betwene flesh & the spirit, brauesth our into these afflictions, wishing rather thort dayes then long paine. r That is, diuersitie of diseases, & in great abundance, shewing that God hath infinite meanes to punish man. f Hee witheth that God would leaue off his afflictions, considering his great miserie & the breuitie of his life. g He speaketh thus in the person of a sinner, that is overcome with passions and with the feeling of Gods iudgements, and therefore cannot apprehend in that state the mercies of God and comfort of the resurrection. h No distinction between light and darknesse, but where all is very darknesse it selfe.

a Should hee persuade by his great talke, that hee is iust? b Hee chargeth Job with this, that hee should say, that the thing which hee spake, was true, & that hee was without sinne in the sight of God. c Which is, not to stand in iustifying of thy selfe: hee signifieth that man will neuer be overcome, while hee reasoneth with another, and therefore God must breake off the controwersie, & stop mans mouth.

e He declareth to them that did dispute against him, that their wisdom is common to all, and such as the very brail beasts doe dayly teach.

Or, flesh
f He exhorteth them to be wise in iudging, and as well to know the right vse why God hath giue them eares, as he hath done a mouth.

g Though men by age, and continuance of time attaine to wisdom, yet it is not comparable to Gods wisdom: nor able to comprehend his iudgements, wherein he answereth to that, which was alleged, Chap. 8. 8.

h He sheweth that there is nothing done in this world without Gods will & ordinance: for else hee should not be almighty.

i He taketh wisdom from them. k He abatech the honour of Princes, and bringeth them into the subiection of others.

l He causeth that their words haue no credite, which is, when hee will punish sinne. m In this discourse of Gods wonderfull workes, Iob sheweth that whatsoever is done in this world, both in the order, and change of things is by Gods will and appointment, wherein he declareth that hee thinketh well of God and is as able to let forth his power in words, as they that reasoned against, were.

6 The tabernacles of robbers doe prosper, and they are in safetie, that prouoke God, & whom God hath enriched with his hand.

7 Alke nowe the beastes, and they shall teach thee, and the foules of the heauen, and they shall tell thee:

8 O speake to the earth, and it shall shew thee: or the fishes of the sea, and they shall declare vnto thee.

9 Who is ignorant of all these, but that the hand of the Lord hath made these?

10 In whose hand is the soule of every liuing thing, and the breath of all spiriting.

11 Doth not the eares discern vnto words? and the mouth taste meat for it selfe?

12 Among the s ancient is wisdom, and in the length of dayes is vnderstanding.

13 With him is wisdom and strength: he hath counsell and vnderstanding.

14 Behold, he will bringe downe, and it cannot be built: hee shutteth a man vp, and hee cannot be looked.

15 Behold, hee withholdeth the waters, and they die by: but when hee sendeth them out, they destroy the earth.

16 With him is strength and wisdom: hee that is deceived, and that deceiueth, are his.

17 He causeth the counsellors to go as spoiled, and maketh the iudges fooles.

18 Hee looseth the collar of kings, and girdeth their loynes with a girdle.

19 He leaeth away the princes, as a pray, and ouerthroweth the mighty.

20 Hee taketh away the speech from the faithfull counsellors, and taketh away the iudgement of the ancient.

21 He pouerth contempt vpon princes, & maketh the strength of the mighty weak.

22 Hee discouereth the deepe places from their darknesse, and bringeth forth the shadow of death to light.

23 Hee increaseth the people, and destroyeth them: hee enlargeth the nations, and bringeth them in againe.

24 Hee taketh away the hearts of them that are the chiefs ouer the people of the earth, and maketh them to wander in the wilderness of the way.

25 They grope in the darke without light: and hee maketh them to stagger like a drunken man.

and I desire to dispute with God.

4 For indeede yee sojge lies, and all you are physicians of no value.

5 Oh, that you would hold your tongue, that it might bee inquired to you for wisdom!

6 Now heare my disputation, and giue eare to the arguments of my lips.

7 Will yee speake a wickedly for Gods defence, and talke deceitfully for his cause?

8 Will yee accept his perion? or will yee contend wth God?

9 Is it well that hee should seeke of you? will you make a lie for him, as one lieth for a man?

10 He will surely repproue you, if yee doe secretly accept any perion.

11 Shall not his excellency make you afraid? and his feare fall vpon you?

12 Pour memories may bee compared vnto ashes, and your bodies to bodies of clay.

13 Holde your tongues in my presence, that I may speak, and let come vpon what will.

14 Wherefore doe I take my flesh in my teeth, and put my soule in my hand?

15 Lo, though he slay me, yet will I trust in him, and I will repproue my wayes in his sight.

16 He shall be my saluation also: for the hypocrite shall not come before him.

17 Heare diligently my wordes, and marke my talke.

18 Behold now: if I prepare mee to iudgement, I knowe that I shall bee iustified.

19 Who is he that will plead with me? for if I now holde my tongue, I die.

20 But do not these two things vnto me: then will I not hide my selfe from thee:

21 Neither draw thine hand frem me, and let not thy feare make me afraid.

22 Then call thou, and I will answer: or let me speake, and answer thou me.

23 How many are mine iniquities and sinnes? shewe mee my rebellion, and my sinne.

24 Wherefore hidest thou thy face, and takest me for thine enemy?

25 Alit thou breake a leafe driuen to and fro? and wilt thou pursue the dyce stubble?

26 For thou warest bitter things against mee, and makest mee to possesse the iniquities of my youth.

27 Thou puttest my feete also in the stocks, and lookest narrowly vnto all my partes, and makest the print thereof in the fleshes of my feete.

28 Such one consumeth like a rotten thing, and as a garment that is most eaten.

a For although hee knew that God had a iustice which was manifest in his ordinary working, & another in his secret counsell, yet would he vtter his affection to God, because he was not able to vnderstand the cause why hee did thus punish him.

b You doe not well apply your medicine to the disease.

c Hee condemneth their zeale which had not knowledge, neither regarded they to comfort him, but alway grated on Gods iustice, as though it was not euidently seene in Iob, except they had vnderaken the probation thereof.

d Your same shall come to nothing.

e Is not this a manifest signe of mine affliction, and that I doe not complain without cause, seeing that I am thus tormented as though I should teare mine owne flesh, and put my life in danger?

f Whereby hee declareth that he is not an hypocrite, as they charged him.

g That is, cleared, and not cast off for my sinnes, as you reason.

h To proue that God doth thus

CHAP. XIII.

1 Iob compareth his knowledge with the experience of his friends. 16 The penitent shall be saved, and the hypocrite condemned. 20 He prayeth vnto God that he would not handle him rigorously.

L De mine eye hath seene all this: mine eare hath heard and vnderstood it.

2 I know also as much as you know: I am not inferior vnto you.

3 But I will speake to the Almighty, punish mee for my sinnes. i If I defend not my cause, every man will condemne mee. k Hee sheweth what these two things are.

l His panges thus moue him to reason with God, not denying bus that he hath sinned: but he desired to vnderstand what were his great sinnes, that had defered such rigour, wherein hee offended, that hee would knowe a cause of God why hee did punish him. m Thou punishest mee now for the faultes that I committed in my youth.

n Thou makest mee thy prisoner, and doest fo presse me that I cannot stirre hand or foote. † Ebr. rootes,

CHAP. XIII.

1 Job describeth the shortnesse and miserie of the life of man. 14 Hope sustaïneth the godly. 22 The condonatiō of mans life.

a Taking occasion of his aduersaries words, he describeth the state of mans life from his birth to his death. Chap 8 9.

MAn that is borne of woman, is of short continuance, and full of trouble.

2 He flourisheth forth as a flower, and is cut downe: he flourisheth also as a shadow, and continueth not.

3 And yet thou openest thine eyes vpon such one, and causest me to enter into iudgement with thee.

4 Who can bring a cleane thing out of filthinesse? there is not one.

5 Are not his dayes determined? the number of his moneths are with thee: thou hast appointed his bounds, which he cannot passe.

6 Turne from him that he may cease vntill his deliuid day, as an hireling.

7 For there is hope of a tree, if it be cut downe, that it will yet sprout, and the branches thereof will not cease.

8 Though the root of it waxe olde in the earth, and the stocke thereof be dead in the ground,

9 Yet by the sent of water it will bud, and bring forth boughes like a plant.

10 But man is like, and diech, and man perissheth, and where is he?

11 As the waters passe from the sea, and as the flood decayeth and drieth vp,

12 So man sleepech and riseth not: for he shall not wake againe, nor be raised from his sleepe till the heauen be no more.

13 Why that thou wouldest hide me in the graue, and keepe mee secret, vntill thy wrath were past, and wouldest giue mee terme, and remember me!

14 If a man die, shall he liue againe? All the dayes of mine appointed time will I waite, till my s changing shall come.

15 Thou shalt call mee, and I shall answer thee: thou louest the worke of thine owne hands.

16 But now thou numbrest my steps, and doest not delay my finnes.

17 Mine iniquitie is sealed by, as in a bagge, and thou addest vnto my wickednesse.

18 And surely as the mountaine that falleth, commeth to nought, and the rocke that is remoued from his place:

19 As the water breaketh the stones, when thou overflowest the things which growe in the dust of the earth: so thou destroyest the hope of man.

20 Thou vniuaillest alway against him, so that hee passeth away: hee changeth his face when thou callest him away.

21 And he knoweth not if his finnes shal be honourable, neither shall hee vnderstand concerning them, whether they shall bee of low degree:

b His meaning is, seeing that man is so frail a creature, God should not handle him so extremely: wherein Job sheweth the wickednesse of the heh, when it is not subiect to the Spirit. Psal 51. 7.

c Vntill the time that thou hast appointed for him to die, which he desireth, as the hireling waiteth for the end of his labour to receiue his wages. d He speaketh not here, as though he had not hope of the immortalitye, but as a man in extreme paine, when reason is overcome by afflictions and torments.

e Hereby he declareth that the feare of Gods iudgement was the cause why he desired to die. f That is, releas my paines, and take me to mercie. g Meaning, vnto the day of the resurrection when he should be changed and renewed. h Though I be afflicted in this life, yet in the resurrection I shall feele thy mercies, and answer when thou callest me, Proverbs 5. 21. i Thou layest them all together, and sufferest none of my finnes vniuersed. k Hee murmureth through the impaciencie of the flesh against God, as though hee wiled as great feruencie against him as against the hard rocks, or waters that overflowe, so that hereby all the occasion of his hope is taken away.

22 But while his flesh is vpon him, hee shall bee sorrowfull, and while his soule is in him, it shall mourne.

CHAP. XV.

1 Eliphaz reprehendeth Job, because hee ascribeth wisdome, and purenesse to himselfe. 16 He describeth the curse that falleth on the wicked, reckoning Job to be one of the number.

Then answered Eliphaz the Temanite, and sayd,

2 Shall a wise man speake words of the winde, and fill his belly with the East winde?

3 Shall hee dispute with words not comely: or will hee talke that is not profitable?

4 Surely thou hast cast off feare, and restrainest prayer before God.

5 For thy mouth declarerh thine iniquitie, seeing thou hast cholen the tongue of the craftie.

6 Thine owne mouth condemneth thee, and not I, and thy lips testifie against thee.

7 Art thou the first man that was borne: and wast thou made before the hills?

8 Hast thou heard the secret counsell of God? and doest thou restraine wisdome to thyselfe?

9 What knowest thou that wee knowe not? and vnderstandest thou that is not in vs?

10 Altho vs are both ancient and very aged, men, farre older then thy father.

11 Seeme the consolations of God small vnto thee: is this thing strange vnto thee?

12 Why doest thine heart take thee away, and what do thine eyes meane, 13 That thou answerest to God at thy pleasure, and bringest such words out of thy mouth?

14 What is man, that he should be cleane? and he that is boyn of woman, that he should be iust?

15 Behold, hee found no stedfastnesse in his saints: yea, the heauens are not cleane in his sight.

16 How much more is man abominable, and filthy, which drinketh iniquitie like water?

17 I will tell thee: heare me, and I will declare that which I haue seene:

18 Which wile men haue tolde, as they haue heard of their fathers, and haue not kept it secret:

19 Tho whom alone the land was giuen, and no stranger passed thowow them.

20 The wicked man is continually as one that traueleth of childe, and the number of yeeres is hid from the vyant.

21 A sound of feare is in his eares, and in his prosperitie the destroyer shall come vpon him.

22 Hee beleueth not to returne out of darkenes: for he seeth the sword before him.

23 Hee wandreth to and fro for bread

1 Yet while hee liueth, hee shall be in paine and miserie.

a That is, vaine words, and without consolation?

b Meaning, with matters that are of none importance, which are forgotten as soon as they are vttered, as the East wind drieth vp the moisture of the soil as it falleth. c Hee chargeh Job as though his talke caused men to cast off the feare of God and prayer.

d Thou speakest as doe the mockers & contemners of God. e That is, the most ancient, & so by reason the most wise? f Art thou onely wise?

g Hee accuseth Jobs pride, and ingratitude, that will not be comforted by God, nor by their counsell.

h Why doest thou stand in thine owne conceite? i Es in thy spirit. i His purpose is to proue that Job as a vniust man and an hypocrite is punished for his sinnes, like as hee did before, Chap. 4.

k Which hath a desire to sinne, as he that is thirstie to drinke. l Who by their wisdome so gouerned, that no stranger inuade d them, and so the land seemed to be giuen to them alone. m The cruell man is euen in danger of death, and is neuer quiet in conscience. n Out of that miserie whereinto hee once falleth. o God doeth not onely impouerish the wicked of times: but euen in their prosperitie hee punisheth them with a greedinesse euermore to gather: which is as a beggerie.

where hee may : hee knoweth that the day of darknesse is prepared at hand.

24 Affliction and p anguish shall make him afraid : they shall penitiate against him as a king ready to the battell.

25 For hee hath stretched out his hand against God, and made himselfe strong against the Almightye.

26 Therefore God shall runne upon him, even upon his necke, and against the most thicke part of his shield, 27 Because he hath covered his face with his fatnesse, and hath collops in his flanke.

28 Though he dwell in desolate cities, and in houses which no man inhabiteth, but are become heapes, 29 He shall not be rich, neither shall his substance continue, neither shall hee prolong the perfection thereof in the earth.

30 Hee shall neuer depart out of darknesse, the flame shall die by his branches, and hee shall goe away with the breath of his mouth.

31 Hee belceueth not that he ereth in vanitie : therefore vanitie shall be his change.

32 His branch shall not be greene, but shall be cut off before his day.

33 God shall destroy him as the vine her soure grapes, and shall cast him off, as the oliue doeth her flower.

34 For the congregation of the hypocrite shall be desolate, and fire shall denoure the houses of bybes.

35 For they conceine mischese, and bring forth vanitie, and their belly hath prepared deceit.

p Heweth what weapons God vetch against the wicked which lift vp themselves against him, to wit, terrour of conscience and outward afflictions.

q That is, he was put vp with great prosperitie and abundance of all things, that he forgate God: noting that Iob in his felicitie had not the true feare of God.

r Though he build and reparaire ruinous places to get him fame, yet God shall bring all to nought, & turne his great prosperitie into extreme misery.

s Meaning that his luptuous buildings should neuer come to perfection.

t He standeth so in his owne conceit, that hee will giue no place to good counsell, therefore his owne pride shall bring him to destruction. u As one that gathereth grapes before they beripe. x Which were built or maintained by pawning and bribery. y And therefore all their vaine desires shall turne to their owne destruction.

CHAP. XVI.

1 Job moued by the importunisie of his friends, 7 Counteth in what extremitie he is, 19 And taketh God to witness of his innocencie.

B At Job answered, and sayd, 2 I haue oft times heard such things: miserable comforters are ye all.

3 Shall there be none ende of wordes of windes? or what maketh thee bolde so to be answered?

4 I could also speake as you doe: (but would God your soule were in my soules stead) I could keepe you company in speaking, and could shake mine head at you.

5 But I would strengthen you with my mouth, and the comfort of my lips should allwaie you forow.

6 Though I speake, my sorrow cannot be asswaged: though I cease, what release haue I?

7 But now is hee maketh me weary: O God, thou hast made all my congregation desolate, a Which serue for vain ostentation, and for no true comfort. b For Eliphaz did reply against Iobs answer.

c I would you felt that which I do.

d That is, mocke at your miserie, as you do at mine.

e If this were in my power, yet would I comfort you, and not doe as ye do to me. f If they would say, Why dost thou not then comfort thy selfe? hee answereth, that the iudgements of God are more heauy, then hee is able to aswage either by words or silence. g Meaning, God. h That is, destroyed most of my familie.

8 And hath made me full of wrinkles, which is a witness thereof, and my leannes riseth by in mee, testifying the same in my face.

9 His wrath hath toured me, and he hateth mee, and gnasheth vpon mee with his teeth: mine enemye hath sharpened his eyes against me.

10 They haue opened their mouthes vpon mee, and smitten mee on the cheeke in reproch: they gather themselves together against me.

11 God hath deliuered mee to the vniust, and hath made mee to turne out of the way by the hands of the wicked.

12 I was in wealth, but he hath brought mee to nought: hee hath taken mee by the necke, and beaten me, and set me as a marke for himselfe.

13 His archers compass me round about: he cutteth my reines, and doeth not spare, and powreth my gall vpon the ground.

14 He hath broken mee with one breacking vpon another, and rinned vpon mee like a giant.

15 I haue sowed a sackcloth vpon my skinne, and haue abated mine home vnto the dust.

16 My face is withered with weeping, and the shadow of death is vpon mine eyes, 17 Though there bee no wickednesse in mine hands, and my prayer be pure.

18 O earth, couer not thou my blood, and let my crying find no place.

19 For loe, nowe my witness is in the heauen, and my record is on hie.

20 My friendes speake eloquently against mee: but mine eye powreth out teares vnto God.

21 Wh that a man might plead with God, as man with his neighbour!

22 For the yeeres accounted come, and I shall go the way, whence I shall not returne.

condemne me, yet God is witness of my cause. u Vnto words in stead of true consolation. x Thus by his great tormentes he is caried away, and brasteth out into passions, and speaketh vnadvisedly, as though God should intreat man more gently, seeing hee hath but a short time here to liue.

CHAP. XVII.

1 Job saith that hee consumeth away, & yet doth patiently abide it. 10 He exhorteth his friends to repentance, 13 shewing that hee looketh but for death.

M Death is corrupt: my dayes are cutt off, and the graue is readie for me.

2 There are none but mockers with mee, and mine eye continueth in their bitterness.

3 Lay downe now and put me in surety for thee: who is hee that will touch mine hand?

4 For thou hast hid their heart from vnderstanding: therefore shalt thou not set them by on hie.

vexe me. c He reasoneth with God as a man beside himselfe, to the intent that his cause might be brought to light. d And answereth for thee? e That these mine afflictions are thy iust iudgements, though man know not the cause.

f He that flattereth a man, and onelyudgeth him happie in his prosperitie, shall not himselfe onely, but in his posteritie be punished, g God hath made all the world to speake of me, because of mine afflictions. h That is, a continual found in their eares. i To wit, when they see the godly punished; but in the ende they shall come to vnderstanding, and know what shall be the reward of the hypocrite. k That is, will not be discouraged, considering that the godly are punished as well as the wicked. l Job speaketh to them three, that came to comfort him. m That is, hath brought me sorrow in stead of comfort. n Though I should hope to come from aduersitie to prosperitie, as your discourse pretendeth. o I have no more hope in father, mother, sister, or of any worldly thing: for the dust and wormes shall bee to me in stead of them. p All worldly hope, and prosperitie faile, which you say, are onely signes of Gods fauour: but fearing that these things perish, I set mine hope in God, and in the life euerslasting.

a Which counten your selues iust, as Chap. 12. 4. b Whom you take to be beasts, as Chap. 12. 7. c That is, like mad man, that shall God change the order of nature for thy sake, by dealing with thee otherwise then he doth with all men. d When the wicked is in his prosperitie, then God change his countenance: and this is his ordinary working for their sins. e Meaning, that the wicked are in continual danger,

5 For the eyes of his children shall faile, that speaketh flatterie to his friends. 6 Hee hath also made mee a byword of the people, and I am as a tablet before them. 7 Mine eye therefore is dimme for griefe, and all my strength is like a shadow. 8 The righteous shall bee alighted at this, and the innocent shall be moued against the hypocrite. 9 But the righteous wil hold his way, and he whose hands are pure, shall increas his strength. 10 All you therefore turne you, and come now, and I shall not finde one wiue among you. 11 My dayes are past, mine enterpises are broken, and the thoughts of mine heart. 12 Haue changed the night for the day, and the light is now approached, for darknesse. 13 Though I hope, yet the graue shall bee mine house, and I shall make my bed in the darke. 14 I shall say to corruption, Thou art my father, and to the worme, Thou art my mother and my sister. 15 Where is then now my hope? or who shall consider the thing that I hoped for? 16 They shall goe downe into the bottom of the pit: surely it shall lie together in the dust.

1 Job speaketh to them three, that came to comfort him. That is, hath brought me sorrow in stead of comfort. n Though I should hope to come from aduersitie to prosperitie, as your discourse pretendeth. o I have no more hope in father, mother, sister, or of any worldly thing: for the dust and wormes shall bee to me in stead of them. p All worldly hope, and prosperitie faile, which you say, are onely signes of Gods fauour: but fearing that these things perish, I set mine hope in God, and in the life euerslasting.

CHAP. XVIII.

Bildad rebearseth the paines of the vnfaithfull and wicked.

1 When answered Bildad the Shubite, and said, 2 When will ye make an ende of your words? he cause vs to vnderstand, and then we will speake. 3 Therefore are wee counted as beasts, and are vile in your sight? 4 Thou art as one that teareth his soule in his anger: shall the earth bee forsaken for thy sake? or shall the rocke be remoued out of his place? 5 Yea, the light of the wicked shall bee quenched, and the sparke of his fire shall not shine. 6 The light shall bee darke in his dwelling, and his candle shall be put out with him. 7 The Reys of his strength shall bee restrained, and his owne counsel shall cast him downe. 8 For he is taken in the net by his feete, and he shall walke vpon snares. 9 The greene shall take him by the heele, and the thistle shall come vpon him. 10 A snare is laid for him in the ground, and a trap for him in the way. 11 Fearefulnesse shall make him afraide on every side, and shall drine him to his feete.

12 His strength shall be as famine: and destruction shall be ready at his side. 13 It shall denoure the inner parts of his skinne, and the first boyme of death shall denoure his strength. 14 His hope shall bee rooted out of his dwelling, and shall cause him to goe to the King of feare. 15 Feare shall dwell in his house (because it is not his) and brimstone shall be scattered vpon his habitation. 16 His rootes shall bee dried by beneath, and aboute shall his bryche bee cut downe. 17 His remembrance shall perish from the earth, and hee shall haue no name in the streete. 18 They shall drine him out of the light vnto darkenesse, and chale him out of the world. 19 Hee shall neither haue some nor nephew among his people, nor any posterity in his dwellings. 20 The posteritie shall be astonied at his day, and feare shall come vpon the ancient. 21 Surely such are the habitations of the wicked, and this is the place of him that knoweth not God.

CHAP. XIX.

2 Job reprooeth his friends, 15 and reciteth his miseries and grievous paines. 25 He asureth himselfe of the generall resurrection.

1 At Job answered, and said, 2 How long will ye bere my soule, and torment me with words? 3 Ye haue now ten times reproched mee, and are not ashamed: ye are impudent toward me. 4 And though I had in deed erred, mine error remaineth with me. 5 But in deede if you will aduance your selues against me, and rebuke me for my reproch, 6 Knowe now, that God hath overthrowen mee, and hath compassed mee with his net. 7 Behold, I crye out of violence, but I haue none answer: I crye, but there is no iudgement. 8 Hee hath hedged by my way that I cannot passe, and hee hath set darknesse in my paths. 9 Hee hath spoyled mee of mine honour, and taken the crowne away from mine head. 10 Hee hath destroyed mee on every side, and I am gone: and he hath removed mine hope like a tree. 11 And he hath kindled his wrath against me, and counteth me as one of his enemies. 12 His armies came together, and made their way vpon mee, and camped about my tabernacle. 13 Hee hath removed my brethren farre from mee, and also mine acquaintance were strangers vnto me. 14 My neighbours haue forsaken me, and my familiar friends haue forgotten me. 15 They that dwell in mine house, and my maidesooke mee for a stranger: for I was a stranger in their sight. 16 I called my seruant, but he would not

g That which should nourish him shall be consumed by famine. h That is, some strong and violent death shall consume his strength: or as the Hebrew word signifies his members or parts. i That is, with most great feare. k Meaning, not truly come by. l Though all the world would sauer him, yet God would destroy him and his. m He shall fall from prosperitie to aduersitie. n When they shall see what came vnto him.

a That is, many times, as Nebe, 4. 12. b That is, I myselfe shall punished for it, or you haue not yet confused it. c He brasteth out againe into his passions, and declareth still, that his affliction cometh of God, though he be not able to feele the cause in himselfe. d Meaning, out of his afflictions. e Meaning, his children, and whatsoever was deere vnto him in this world. f Which is plucked vp, and hath no more hope to grow. g His manifold afflictions. h Mine household seruants: by all these losses Job feareth, that touching the flesh hee had great occasion to bee moued.

Which were hers and mine. k Besides these great losses and most cruell vnkindnesse, he was touched in his owne person as followeth.

l All my flesh was consumed, m Seeing I haue these iust causes to complaine, condemne me not as an hypocrite, especially yee which should comfort me. n Is it not enough that God doth punish me, except you by reproches increase my sorrows? o To see my bodie punished, except yee trouble my minde? p He protesteth that notwithstanding his sore passions, his religion is perfect, and that he is not a blasphemer, as they judged him.

q I doe not so iustifie my selfe before the world, but I know that I shall come before the great Iudge, who shall be my deliuerer and Saviour. r Herein Iob declareth plainly that he had a full hope, that both the soule and body should enjoy the presence of God in the last resurrection. s Though his friends thought that he was but persecuted of God for his sinnes, yet hee declareth that there was a deeper consideration: to wit, the triall of his faith and patience, and to be an example for others. t God will be reuenged of this hallic iudgement, whereby yee condemne me.

CHAP. XX.

1 Zophar sheweth that the wicked and the covetous shall haue a short ende, 22 Though for a time they flourish.

Then answered Zophar the Naamathite, and said,

2 Doubtlesse my thoughts cause mee to answer, and therefore I make haste.

3 I haue heard the correction of my reproch: therefore the spirit of mine vnderstanding causeth me to answer.

4 Knowest not thou this of olde? and since God placed man vpon the earth,

5 That the reioycing of the wicked is short, and that the ioy of hypocrites is but a moment?

6 Though his excellencie mount vp to the heauen, and his head reach vnto the cloude,

7 Yet shall hee perish for ever, like his dung, and they which haue seene him shall say, Where is he?

8 Hee shall flee away as a dreame, and they shall not finde him, and shall passe away as a He declareth that two things moued him to speak to wit, because Iob seemeth to touch him, and because he thought he had knowledge sufficient to confute him, b His purpose is to proue Iob to be a wicked man, & an hypocrite, because God punished him, and changed his prosperitie into a duerfittis.

answer, though I prayed him with my mouth.

17 My breath was strange vnto my wife, though I prayed her for the childrens sake of mine owne body.

18 The heauy also despised me, & when I rose, they spake against me.

19 All my secret friends abhorred mee, and they whom I loued, are turned against mee.

20 My bone cleaueth to my skinne, and to my fleshy, and I haue escaped with the skinne of my recty.

21 Haue pittie vpon me: haue pittie vpon me, (O yee my friends) for the hand of God hath touched me.

22 Why doe yee persecute mee as God? and are not satisfied with my flesh?

23 Why that my words were now written? Why that they were written euen in a booke?

24 And grained with ran vpon pen in lead, or in stone for euer!

25 For I am sure that my Redeemer liueth, and hee shall stand the last on the earth.

26 And though after my skinne wormes destroy this body, yet shall I see God in my fleshy.

27 Whom I myselfe shall see, and mine eyes shall behold, and none other forme, though my reines are consumed within me.

28 But yee said, Why is hee persecuted? And there was a deepe matter in me.

29 Be ye afraid of the sword: for the sword will be enanged of wickednesse, that yee may know that there is a iudgement.

a vision of the night,

9 So that the eye which had seene him, shall doe so no more, and his place shall see him no more.

10 His children shall flatter the poore, and his hands shall restore his substance.

11 His bones are full of the sinne of his youth, and it shall lie downe with him in the dust.

12 When wickednesse was sweet in his mouth, and hee did it vnder his tongue,

13 And fauoured it, and would not forsake it, but kept it close in his mouth,

14 Then his mire in his bowels was turned: the gall of Aspes was in the mids of him.

15 Hee hath deuoured substance, and hee shall vomite it: for God shall draw it out of his belly.

16 Hee shall sucke the gall of Aspes, and the vipers tongue shall lay him.

17 Hee shall not see the riuers, nor the floods and streames of home and butter.

18 Hee shall restore the labour, and shall deuoure no more: euen according to the substance shall be his exchange, and hee shall enjoy it no more.

19 For he hath vndone many: he hath forsaken the poore, and hath spoiled houises which hee builded not.

20 Surely hee shall seele no quietnesse in his body, neither shall hee reuerne of that which hee desired.

21 There shall none of his meat be left: therefore none shall hope for his goods.

22 When hee shall be filled with his abundance, hee shall bee in paine, and the hand of all the wicked shall assaile him.

23 Hee shall bee about to fill his belly, but God shall send vpon him his fierre wrath, and shall cause to raine vpon him, euen vpon his meate.

24 Hee shall flee from the vpon weapons, and the bow of Steele shall strike him through.

25 The arrow is drawen out, and cometh forth of the body, and smutcheth of his gall, so feare cometh vpon him.

26 All darknesse shall be hid in his secret places: the fire that is not blown, shall deuoure him, and that which remaineth in his tabernacle, shall be destroyed.

27 The heauen shall declare his wickednesse, and the earth shall rise vp against him.

28 The increase of his house shall goe away: it shall flowe away in the day of his wrath.

29 This is the portion of the wicked man from God, and the heritage that hee shall haue of God for his words.

for after, God will take it from them, and cause them to make restitution, so that it is but an exchange. k Hee shall leave nothing to his posteritie. l The wicked shall neuer be in rest: for one wicked man shall seeke to destroy another. m Some reade, vpon his fleshy, alluding to Iob, whose fleshy was smitten with a leab. n Some reade, of the quier. o All feare and sorrow shall light vpon him, when hee thinketh to escape. p That is, fire from heauen, or the fire of Gods wrath. q Meaning, the children of the wicked shall flow away like riuers, and bee dispersed in diuers places. r Thus God will plague the wicked, s Against God, thinking to excuse himselfe, and to escape Gods hand.

c Whereas the father through ambition and tyrannie oppressed the poore, the children through pouertie and misericordie shall seeke fauour at the poore, d So that the thing, which hee hath taken away by violence, shall be restored againe by force. e Meaning, that hee shall caie nothing away with him, but his sinne. f As poison that is sweete in the mouth, bringeth destruction, when it cometh into the body: so all vice at the first is pleasant, but afterward God turneth it to destruction. g Hee compareth ill gotten goods to the venime of Aspes, which serpent is most dangerous: noting that Iobs great riches were not truly come by, and therefore God did plague him iustly for the same. h Though God giue to all other abundance of his blessings, yet hee shall haue no part thereof: i That is, these raueners and spoylers of the poore shall enjoy their theft but for a time:

CHAP. XXI.

7 Job declareth how the prosperitie of the wicked maketh them proud. 15 Inasmuch that they blaspheme God. 16 Their destruction is at hand. 23 None ought to be iudged wicked for affliction, neither good for prosperie.

B At Job answered, and sayd, 2 I heare diligently my wordes, and this I shalbe in stead of your consolations.

3 Suffer mee that I may vsake, and when I haue spoken, mocke on.

4 Doe I direct my talke to man? If it were so, how should not my spirit be troubled?

5 Marke me, and be abashed, and lay your hand vpon your mouth.

6 When would I remember, I am afrayd, and feare taken hold on my fleshy.

7 Wherefore doe the wicked die, and were olde, and grow in wealthe?

8 Their seed is established in their sight with them, and their generation before their eyes.

9 Their houses are peaceable without feare, and the rod of God is not vpon them.

10 Their bullocke耕地 and faileth not; their cow calueth, and casteth not her calf.

11 They send forth their children like sheepe, and their sonnes dance.

12 They take the taber and harpe, and reioyce in the sound of the Organs.

13 They spend their daies in wealthe, and suddenly they goe downe to the graue.

14 They say also vnto God, Depart from vs: for we desire not the knowledge of thy wayes.

15 Who is the Almighty, that we should serue him? and what profit should we haue, if we should pray vnto him?

16 Lo, their wealthe is not in their hands: therefore let the counsell of the wicked bee farr from me.

17 How oft shall the candle of the wicked be put out? and their destruction come vpon them? he will diuide their liues in his wrath.

18 They shall be as stubble before the winde, and as chaffe that the storme carrieth away.

19 God will lay by the sorrow of the father for his children: when he rewardeth him, he shall know it.

20 His eyes shall see his destruction, and hee shall drinke of the wrath of the Almighty.

21 For what pleasure hath he in his house after him, when the number of his mouerhs is cut off?

22 Shall any teach God knowledge, who iudgeth the highest things?

23 One dieth in his full strength, being in all ease and prosperitie.

24 His beasts are full of milke, and his bones linn full of marrow.

25 And another dieth in the bitternesse of his soule, and neuer eateth with pleasure.

26 They shall sleepe both in the dust, and the wormes shall couer them.

27 Behold, I know your thoughts, and the enterprises, wherewith ye do me wrong.

28 For ye say, Where is the Prince of house? and where is the Tabernacle of the wicked dwelling?

29 Wap ye not qalke them that goe by the way? and ye cannot deny their signes.

30 But the wicked is kept vnto the day of destruction, and they shall be brought forth to the day of wrath.

31 Who shall declare his way to his face? and who shall reward him for that hee hath done?

32 Yet shall he be brought to the graue, and remaine in the heape.

33 The simle valley shall be sweet vnto him, and every man shall draw after him, as before him there were innumerable.

34 How then comfort ye me in vaine, seeing in your answers there remaine lyes?

punish him in the last day. f Though men doe flatter him, and none dare reprove him in this world, yet death is taken, that God will bring him to an account. t Hee shall be glad to lie in a simle pit, which before could not be content with a royall palace. u Saying, that the iust in this world haue prosperitie, and the wicked aduicitic.

CHAP. XXII.

1 Eliphaz affirmeth that Job is punished for his sinnes. 6 Hee accuseth him of vniuersalsinne. 13 And that hee denied Gods providence. 21 He exhorteth him to repentance.

Then Eliphaz the Temanite answered, and sayd,

2 Had a man bee profitable vnto God, as hee that is wise, may be profitable to himselfe?

3 Is it any thing to the Almighty, that thou art righteous? or is it profitable to him, that thou makest thy wayes by right?

4 Is it for feare of thee that he will acquiesce? or goe with thee into iudgement?

5 Is not thy wickednes great, and thine iniquities innumerable?

6 For thou hast taken the pledge from thy brother for nought, & spoiled the clothes of the naked.

7 Colic as were weary, thou hast not giuen water to drinke, and hast withheld water from the hungry.

8 But the mighty man had the earth, and he that was in authoritie dwelt in it.

9 Thou hast cast out widowes empty, & the armes of the fatherlesse were broken.

10 Therefore snares are round about thee, and feare shall suddenly trouble thee:

11 Darkness that thou shouldst not see, and abundance of waters shall couer thee.

12 Is not God on the height in the heauen? and n To wit, the godly.

o As concerning their bodies: and this he speaketh according to the common iudgement.

p Thus they called Iobs house in derision, concluding that it was destroyed because he was wicked.

q Which through long travelling haue experience and tokens hereof, to wit, that the wicked doe prosper, and the godly liue in affliction.

r Though the wicked nourish here, yet God will hereafter reprooue him and none dare

bring him to an account

Hee shall be glad to lie in a simle pit, which before could not be content with a royall palace.

Saying, that the iust in this world haue prosperitie, and the wicked aduicitic.

CHAP. XXII.

1 Eliphaz affirmeth that Job is punished for his sinnes.

6 Hee accuseth him of vniuersalsinne.

13 And that hee denied Gods providence.

21 He exhorteth him to repentance.

Then Eliphaz the Temanite answered, and sayd,

2 Had a man bee profitable vnto God, as hee that is wise, may be profitable to himselfe?

3 Is it any thing to the Almighty, that thou art righteous? or is it profitable to him, that thou makest thy wayes by right?

4 Is it for feare of thee that he will acquiesce? or goe with thee into iudgement?

5 Is not thy wickednes great, and thine iniquities innumerable?

6 For thou hast taken the pledge from thy brother for nought, & spoiled the clothes of the naked.

7 Colic as were weary, thou hast not giuen water to drinke, and hast withheld water from the hungry.

8 But the mighty man had the earth, and he that was in authoritie dwelt in it.

9 Thou hast cast out widowes empty, & the armes of the fatherlesse were broken.

10 Therefore snares are round about thee, and feare shall suddenly trouble thee:

11 Darkness that thou shouldst not see, and abundance of waters shall couer thee.

12 Is not God on the height in the heauen? and

When thou wast in power & auhoritie thou didst not iustice but wrong.

e Thou hast not only not shewed pity, but oppressed them. f That is, manifold afflictions, g Hee accuseth Job of impiety and contempt of God, though he would say, Job, if thou passe not for men, yet consider the height of Gods maiestie.

Et 4 behold

a Your diligent marking of my wordes, shalbe to me a great consolation.

b As though he would say, I doe not talke with man, but with God, who will not answere me, and therefore my mind must needs be troubled.

c He chargeth them as though they were not able to comprehend this his feeling of Gods iudgement, and exhorteth them to silence.

d Job proueth against his aduersaries, that God punisheth not kraitheynes: the wicked, but oft times giueth them long life & prosperitie, so that we must not iudge God iust or vniust by the things that appeare to our eyes.

e They haue store of children, lusty, and healthfull: and in these points he answereth to that which Zophar alleged before.

f Not being troubled with long sickness.

g They desire nothing more then to be exempt from all subiection that they should beare to God:

h This Job sheweth his aduersaries, that if they reason onely by that which is seene by common experience, the wicked that hate God are better deli withal, then they that loue him. i It is not their owne, but God only leadeh it vnto them: i God keepe me from their prosperitie. k When God recompenseth his wickednes, he shall know that his prosperitie was but vniuitic.

l Who sendeth to the wicked prosperitie, and punisheth the godly, m Meaning the wicked.

h That so much the more by that excellent worke thou mayest feare God, and reuerence him.
 i He reproveth Job as though he denied Gods providence, and that he could not see the things that were done in this world.
 k How God hath punished them from the beginning.
 l He prooueth Gods providence by the punishment of the wicked, whom hee taketh away before they can bring their wicked purposes to passe.
 m He answereth to that which Job had sayd, Chap. 21. 7, that the wicked haue prosperie in this world: desiring that hee might not be partaker of the like.
 n The iust reioyce at the destruction of the wicked for two causes: first because God sheweth himselfe iudge of the world, and by this means continueth his honour and glory: secondly, because God sheweth that hee hath care ouer his, in that hee punisheth their enemies.

Beholde the height of the <sup>h</sup> starres how hee they are.
 13 But thou sayest, How should God knowe? can hee iudge through the darke cloud?
 14 The clouds hide him that he cannot see, and hee walketh in the circle of heauen.
 15 Hast thou marked the way of y world, wherein wicked men haue walked?
 16 Which were cut downe before the time, whose foundation was as a ruier that ouerflowed:
 17 Which sayd vnto God, Depart from vs, and asked what the almighty could doe for them.
 18 Yet hee filled their houses with good things: but let the counsell of the wicked be farre from me.
 19 The righteous shall see them, and shall reioyce, and the innocent shall laugh them to scorn.
 20 Surely our substance is hid: but the fire hath deuoured the remnant of them.
 21 Therefore acquaint thy selfe, I pray thee, with him, and make peace: thereby thou shalt haue prosperitie.
 22 Receiue I pray thee, the Lawe of his mouth, and lay by his words in thine heart.
 23 If thou returne to the Almighty, thou shalt bee built vp, and thou shalt put iniquity farre from thy Tabernacle.
 24 Thou shalt lay vp gold for dust, and the gold of Ophir, as the flims of the relictors.
 25 Yea the Almighty shall be thy defence, and thou shalt haue plenty of siluer.
 26 And thou shalt then delight in the Almighty, and lift vp thy face vnto God.
 27 Thou shalt make thy prayer vnto him, and hee shall heare thee, and thou shalt render thy vowes.
 28 Thou shalt also decree a thing, and hee shall establish it vnto thee, and the light shall shine vpon thy wayes.
 29 When others are cast downe, then shalt thou say, I am lifted vp: and God shall saue the humble person.
 30 The innocent shall deliuer the <sup>h</sup> fland, and it shall bee preferred by the purenesse of thine handes.

CHAP. XXIII.

2 Job affirmeth that hee both knoweth and feareth the power & sentence of the Iudge. 10 And that he is not punished onely for his sinnes.
 B Ut Job answered and sayd, 2 Though my talke bee this day in bitterness, and my plague greater then my grouing.

 3 Should God yet I knew how to finde him, I would enter vnto his place.
 4 I would pleade the cause before him, and fill my mouth with arguments.
 5 I would know the words, that hee would answer mee, and would understand what hee would say vnto me.
 6 Should hee be plead against me with his great power? No, but hee would put strength in me.
 7 Where the righteous might reason with him, so I should be deliuered for ever from my iudge.
 8 Behold, if I go to the East, he is not there: if to the West, yet I cannot perceiue him:
 9 If to the North where hee worketh, yet I cannot see him: hee wil hide himselfe in the South, and I cannot behold him:
 10 But hee knoweth my way, and trieth me, and I shall come forth like the gold.
 11 My foote hath followed his steps: his way haue I kept, and haue not declined.
 12 Neither haue I departed from the commandement of his lips: & I haue esteemed the words of his mouth more then mine appointed foode.
 13 Yet hee is in one minde, and who can turne him? yea, hee doeth what his minde desireth.
 14 For hee wil performe that which is decreed of me, and many such things are with him.
 15 Therefore I am troubled at his presence, and in considering it, I am afraid of him.
 16 For God hath softened mine heart, and the Almighty hath troubled me.
 17 For I am not cut off in darkenesse, but hee hath hid the darkenesse from my face.

CHAP. XXIII.

2 Job describeth the wickednesse of men, and sheweth what curse belongeth to the wicked. 12 How all things are governed by Gods providence, 17 And the destruction of the wicked.
 H ow should not the times bee hid from the Almighty, seeing that they which know him, see not his dayes?
 2 Some remove the land marks, that rob the flockes, and feede thereof.
 3 They lead away the Ass of the fatherlesse, and take the widowes ore to pledge.
 4 They make the poore to turne out of the way, so that the poore of the earth hide themselves together.
 5 Behold, others as wilde Asses in the wilderness, goe forth to their businesse, and rise early for a pray: the wilderness b Vsing his absolute power, and saying, because I am God, I may doe what I will.

 c Of his mercie, hee would giue me power to answer him.
 d When hee of his mercie hath giuen strength to maintain their cause.
 e Meaning, that if hee consider Gods iustice, hee is not able to comprehend his iudgements, on what side or part so euer hee turneth himselfe.
 f God hath this promise, that hee knoweth my way: so wit that I am innocent, and I am not able to iudge of his workes: hee sheweth also his confidence, that God doth visite him for his profit.
 g His word is more precious vnto me, then the meate wherewith the body is sustained. h Job confessed that at this present hee felt not Gods fauour, and yet was assured that hee had appointed him to a good end. i In many points man is not able to attaine to Gods iudgements. k That I should not be without feare. l He sheweth the cause of his feare, which is, that hee being in trouble, teeth none end, neither yet knoweth the cause.

a He sheweth the iust cause of his complaining, and as touching that Eliphaz had exhorted him to returne to God, Chap. 22. 21. hee declareth that he desireth nothing more: but it seemed that God would not be found of him.

godly. b When hee punisheth the wicked, and rewardeth the good. c And for cruelty and oppression dare not shew their faces. d That is, spare no diligence.

e He and his liue by robbing and murdering f Meaning, the poore mans.
g Signifying, that one wicked man will not spoile another, but for necessity.
h The poore are driuen by the wicked into rocks and holes, where they can not lie drie for the raine.
i That is, they fo poulw and fill the poore widow, that shee cannot haue to sustaine her selfe, that shee may be able to giue her childre sucke.
k That is, his garment, where with he should be covered or clad.
l In such places, which are appointed for that purpose, meaning that those that labour for the wicked are pined for hunger.
m For the great oppression and extortion.
n Cry out & call for vengeance.
o God doth not condemne the wicked, but suffereth to passe ouer it by his long silence.
p That is, Gods worde, because they are reprooued thereby.
q By these particular vices, and the silence thereunto, he would prouee that God punisheth not the wicked, and rewardeth the iust.
r Hee fleeth to the waters for his succour.
s They thinke that all the world is bent against them, and dare not goe the hie way.
t As the dry ground is neuer full with waters, so will they neuer cease sinning, till they come to the graue.
u Though God suffer the wicked for a time, yet their ende shall be most vile destruction, and in this point Iob commeth to himselfe, and sheweth his confidence.
x He sheweth why the wicked shall not be lamented, because hee did not pity others.
y Hee declareth that after that the wicked haue destroyed the weakest, they will do like to the stronger, and therefore are iustly puenient by Gods iudgements.

6 giueh him and his children foode.
6 They reape his prouision in the field, but they gather the late vintage of the wicked.
7 They cause the naked to lodge without garment, and without covering in the colde.
8 They are wet with the showres of the mountaines, and they embrace the rocke for want of a covering.
9 They plucke the fatherlesse from the breast, and take the pledge of the poore.
10 They cause him to goe naked without clothing, and take the gleaming from the hungry.
11 They that make oyle betwene their walles, and tread their wine presses, suffer thirst.
12 When hee crieth out of the city, & the soules of the flaine cry out: yet God doeth not charge them with folly.
13 These are they that abhorre the light: they know not the wayes thereof, nor continu in the paths thereof.
14 The murderer riseth early, & killeth the poore and the needy: and in the night he is as a thiefe.
15 The eye also of the adulterer waiteth for the twilight, and sayeth, None eye shall see me, and will disguise his face.
16 They dig through houses in the darke, which they marked for themselves in the day: they know not the light.
17 But the mourning is enen to them as the shadowe of death: if ene know them, they are in the terrours of the shadowe of death.
18 He is swift vpon the waters: their portion shall be curked in the earth: he will not behold the way of the vineyards.
19 As the drie ground and heate consume the snow waters, so shall the graue the sinners.
20 The pittifull man shall forget him: the woman that seele his sweetnesse: he shall be no more remembered, and the wicked shall be broken like a tree.
21 Hee doth enill intreate the barren, that doeth not beare, neither doeth he good to the widow.
22 Hee draweth also the mighty by his power, and when he riseth vpon, none is sure of life.
23 Though mens giue him assurance to be in safety, yet his eyes are vpon their waves.
24 They are exalted for a little, but they are gone, and are brought low as all others: they are destroyed, and cut off as the top of an earre of coyne.

25 But if it be not so, where is hee? or who wil prouee me a liar, & make my words of no value?
perfect reason of Gods iudgements, let mee bee reprooued,
C H A P. XXV.
Bildad proueth that no man is cleane nor without sinne before God.
Then answered Bildad the Shubite, and sayd,
2 Power and feare is with him, that maketh peace in his hie places.
3 Is there any number in his armies: and vpon whom shall not his light arise?
4 And how may a man be iustificed with God? or how can he be cleane, that is boyne of woman?
5 Behold, hee will giue no light to the moone, & the starres are vncleane in his sight.
6 How much more man, a worime, euen the sonne of man, which is but a worime?
Iob sheweth that man cannot helpe God, and proueth it by his miracles.
But Iob answered, and sayd,
2 Whom helpest thou? him that hath no power: sauest thou the arme that hath no strenght?
3 Whom couldest thou? him that hath no wilddome: thou the best right well as the thing is.
4 To whome dost thou declare these words? whose spirit commeth out of thee?
5 The dead things are loined vnder the waters, and nere vnto them.
6 The graue is naked before him, and there is no covering for destruction.
7 He stretcheth out the North ouer the empty place, and hangerh the earth vpon nothing.
8 He bindeth the waters in his cloudes, and the cloud is not broken vnder them.
9 He holdeth backe the face of his thron: and spreadeth his cloud vpon it.
10 He hath set bounds about the waters, until the day and night come to an end.
11 The pillars of heauen tremble and quake at his reproofe.
12 The sea is calme by his power, and by his vnderstanding hee smiteth the pade thereof.
13 His spirit hath garnished the heauen, and his hand hath formed the crooked serpent.
14 Lo, these are part of his wayes: but how little a portion beare we of him? and how little a portion beare we of him?
Hee catcheth the whole heauen to turne about the north pole, he hideth the heauen, which are called his thron, so long as this world endureth.
K Not that heauen hath pillars to uphold it, but hee speaketh by a similitude, as though hee would say, The heauen itselfe is not able to abide his reproofe. I Which is a figure of starres fashioned like a serpent, because of the crookednes.
m If these few things, which wee see daily with our eyes, declare his great power and prouidence, how much more would they appeare, if we were able to comprehend all his workes.

z That is, that contrary to your reasoning no man can giue a a His purpose is to prouee that albeit God try & afflic the iust, yet soone after he sendeth prosperity, and because he did not so to Job, he concludeth that he is wicked.
b Who can hide him fro his presence?
c That is, he iust in respect of God?
d If God shew his power, the moone and starres cannot haue that light, which is giuen them, much lesse can man haue any excellencie, but of God.
C H A P. XXVI.
a Thou concludest nothing: for neither thou helpest n.e, which am deficiute of all helpe, neither yet speakest sufficiently on Gods behalfe, who hath no neede of thy defence.
b But thou doest not apply it to the purpose.
c That is, moue them thee to speake this?
d Job beginneth to declare force of Gods power & prouidence in the mines & metals in the deepe places of the earth.
e There is nothing hid in the bowtome of the earth, but hee seeth it.
f Meaning, the graue wherein things putrifie.
g Hee catcheth the whole heauen to turne about the north pole.
h That is, he hideth the heauen, which are called his thron.
i So long as this world endureth.
k Not that heauen hath pillars to uphold it, but hee speaketh by a similitude, as though hee would say, The heauen itselfe is not able to abide his reproofe.
l Which is a figure of starres fashioned like a serpent, because of the crookednes.

who can vnderstand his fearefull power ?

CHAP. XXVII.

3 The constancie and perfectnesse of Job. 13
The reward of the wicked and of the tyrants.

Moreouer Job proceeded and continued his parable, saying,

2 The lining God hath taken away my iudgement: for the almighty hath put my soule in bitterness.

3 Yet so long as my breath is in me, and the Spirit of God in my nostrils, 4 My lippes surely shall speake no wickednesse, and my tongue shall vtter no deceit.

5 God forbid, that I should inuoluntarily die, I will neuer take away mine innocencie from my selfe.

6 I will keepe my righteousnes, and will not forsake it: mine heart shall not reprocue me of my sayes.

7 Mine enemy shall bee as the wicked, and hee that riseth againt mee, as the vnrightheous.

8 For what hope hath the hypocrite when he hath heaped vp riches, if God take away his soule ?

9 Will God heare his cry, when trouble cometh vpon him ?

10 Will he let his delite on the Almighty: will he call vpon God at all times ?

11 I will teach you what is in the hand of God, and I will not conceale that which is with the Almighty.

12 Behold, all ye your selues have seene it: why then doe you thus vanitie in banter ?

13 This is the portion of a wicked man with God, and the heritage of tyrants, which they shall receiue of the Almighty.

14 If his children bee in great number, the sword shall destroy them, and his posteritie shall not be satisfied with bread.

15 His remnant shall be buried in death, and his widowes shall not weepe.

16 Though he would heape vp silver as the dust, and prepare rayment as the clay, 17 He may prepare it, but the mist shall put it on, and the innocent shall diuide the illur.

18 He buildesth his house as the moth, and as a lodge that the watchman maketh.

19 When the rich man sleepeth, he shall not bee gathered to his fathers: they opened their eyes, and he was gone.

20 Terrours shall take him as waters, and a tempest shall cary him away by night.

21 The East wind shall take him away, and hee shall depart: and it shall hurle him out of his place.

22 And God shall cast vpon him and not spare, though hee would saue thee out of his hand.

23 Euerie man shall clap their hands at him, and hiss at him out of their place.

CHAP. XXVIII.

Job sheweth that the wisdom of God is vnssearchable.

The silver surely hath his delite, and the gold his place, where they take it.

2 Iron is taken out of the dust, and brasse is molten out of the stone.

3 God putteth an end to darknesse, and he trieth the perfection of all things: he setteth a bond of darknesse, and of the shadow of death.

4 The flood breaketh out against the inhabitant, and the waters forgotten of the foot, being higher then man, are gone away.

5 Out of the same earth cometh bread, and vnder it, as it were fire is turned vp.

6 The stones thereof are a piece of Sapphires, and the dust of it is gold.

7 There is a path which no soule hath known, neither hath the kites eye seene it.

8 The Lyons whelps haue not walked it, nor the Lyon passed thereby.

9 We putteth his hand vpon the rocks, & ouerthroweth the mountains by the roots.

10 He breaketh riuers in the rocks, and his eye seeth euerie precious thing.

11 He bindeth the floods that they do not ouerflow, and the thing that is hid, bringeth he to light.

12 But where is wisdom found? and where is the place of vnderstanding?

13 Man knoweth not the price thereof: for it is not found in the land of the liuing.

14 The depth saith, It is not in me: the sea also saith, It is not with me.

15 Gold shall not be giuen for it, neither shall silver be weighed for the price thereof.

16 It shall not be valued with the wedges of gold of Sapphir, nor with the precious onix, nor the Sapphir.

17 The gold nor the chrystal shall be equal vnto it, nor the exchange shall be for plate of fine gold.

18 Do mention shall bee made of corall, nor of the garnet: for wisdom is more precious then pearles.

19 The topaz of Ethiopia shall not be equal vnto it, neither shall it be valued with the wedges of pure gold.

20 Whence then cometh wisdom? and where is the place of vnderstanding?

21 Seeing it is hid from the eyes of all the liuing, and is hid from the soules of the heauen?

22 Destruction and death say, We haue heard the fame thereof with our eares:

23 But God vnderstandeth the way thereof, and he knoweth the place thereof.

24 For he beholdeth the ends of the world, and seeth all that is vnder heauen, 25 To make the weight of the windes, and to weigh the waters by measure.

26 When he made a decree for the raine, and a way for the lightning of the thunders, 27 Then did he see it, and counted it: he prepared it and also considered it.

a His purpose is to declare that man may attaine in this world to diuers secrets of nature, but man is neuer able to comprehend the wisdom of God

b There is nothing but it is compassed with in certain limits and hath an end, but Gods wisdom.

c Meaning, him that dwelleth thereby.

d Which a man cannot made through.

e That is, come, and vnderneath is brimstone or cole, which easily conceiue fire.

f He alludeth to the mines and secrets of nature which are vnder the earth, whereinto neither foules nor beasts can enter.

g After that he hath declared the wisdom of God, in the secrets of nature, he describeth his power.

h Though Gods power and wisdom may be vnderstood in earthly things, yet his heauenly wisdom cannot be attained vnto.

i It is too high a thing for man to attaine vnto in this world.

k It can neither be bought for gold nor precious stones, but is onely the gift of God.

l Which is thought to be a kind of precious stone

m Meaning, that there is no natural way

n Hee maketh God onely the author of this wisdom, and the giuer thereof.

Prov. 1. 7.
o He declareth that man hath so much of this heavenly wisdom, as hee sheweth by fearing God, and departing from euill.

28 And vnto man he said, Behold, the feare of the Lord is wisdom, and to depart from euill is vnderstanding.

25 I appointed out of their way, and did sit as chiefe, and dwelt as a king in the arnie, and like him that comforteth the mourners.

1 I had them at commandement.

CHAP. XXIX.

1 Job complaineth of the prosperitie of the time past. 7. 21 His avarhorrie, 12 Iustice and equitie.

2 Job proceeded and continued his passage, laying,

2 Why that I were as I in times past, when God persecuted me!

3 When his light shined vpon mine head, and when by his light I walked thorow the darkness,

4 As I was in the dayes of my youth, when Gods pponidence was vpon my tabernacle;

5 When the Almighty was yet with me, and my children roum about me:

6 When I washed my paths with butter, and when the rocke powred mee out riuers of oyle:

7 When I went out to the gate, even to the iudgement seat, and when I caused them to prepare my seate in the streete.

8 The yong men saw me, and chid themselves, and the aged arose, and stood vp.

9 The princes staid talke, and laid their hand on their mouth.

10 The voice of princes was hid, & their tongue cleaued to the soote of their mouth.

11 And when the seare heard me, it blessed mee: and when the eye saw mee, it gaue witness to me.

12 For I deliuered the poore that cried, and the fatherlesse, and him that had none to helpe him.

13 The blessing of him that was readie to perish, came vpon mee, and I caused the widowes heart to reioyce.

14 I put on iustice, and it covered mee: my iudgement was as a robe, and a crowne.

15 This was the eyes to the blind, and I was the seete to the lame.

16 I was a father vnto the poore, and when I knew not the cause, I sought it out diligent.

17 I brake also the chawes of the vnrigh- teous man, and pluckt the pray out of his teeth.

18 Then I said, I shall die in my nest, and I shall multiply my dayes as the sand.

19 For my roote is watered out by the wa- ter, and the dew shall lie vpon my branch.

20 Why gloiy shall renue toward me, and my bow shall be restored in mine hand.

21 Vnto me men gaue care, and waited, and held their tongue at my counsell.

22 After my words they replied not, and my talke dropped vpon them.

23 And they waited for mee, as for the raine, and they opened their mouth as for the latter raine.

24 If I laughed on them, they beleued it not: neither did they cause the light of my countenance to fall.

1 Job complaineth that hee is contemned of the most contemptible, 11, 21 because of his aduersitie and affliction. 23 Death is the howse of all flesh.

2 At now they that are yonger then I, mocke mee: yea, they whose fathers I haue refused to set with the dogges of my flockes.

3 For wherto should the strength of their hands haue serued mee, seeing age & perished in them?

4 They cut vp nettles by the bushes, and the tuniper rootes was their meate.

5 They were chased forth from among men: they shouted at them, as at a thiefe.

6 Therefore they dwell in the clefts of riuers, in the holes of the earth and rockes.

7 They roard among the bushes, and vnder the thistles they gathered themselves.

8 They were the children of foolles, and the children of villaines, which were more vile then the earth.

9 And now am I their song, and I am their talke.

10 They abhorre me, and flee farre from me, and spare not to spit in my face.

11 Because that God hath loosed my cord and humbled me, & they haue loosed the bit- dle before me.

12 The yong rife by at my right hand: they haue puzst my fette, and baur troden on me as on the paths of their destruction.

13 They haue destroyed my paths: they tooke pleasure at my calamitie, they had none helpe.

14 They came as a great breach of wa- ters, and vnder this calamitie they come on heapes.

15 If care is turned vpon me: and they pur- sue my soule as the winde, and mine health passeth away as a cloud.

16 Therefore my soule is now powred out vpon mee, and the dayes of affliction haue taken hold on me.

17 It pierceth my bones in the night, and my sinewes take no rest.

25 Did not I weepe with him that was in trouble? was not my soule in heavinesse for the poore?

26 Yet when I looked for good, euill came vnto me: and when I waited for light, there came darknesse.

27 My bowels did boyle without rest: for the dayes of affliction are come vpon me.

28 I went mourning without sunne: I stood vp in the congregation, and cried.

29 I am a brother to the dragons, and a companion to the ostriches.

30 My skinne is blacke vpon me, and my bones are burnt with heate.

31 Therefore mine harpe is turned to mourning, and mine organs into the voyce of them that weepe.

CHAP. XXXI.

1 Job reciteth the innocencie of his living, and number of his vertues, which declareth what ought to be the life of the faithfull.

I made a covenant with mine eyes: why then should I thinke on a maid?

2 For what portion should I haue of God from above? and what inheritance of the Almighty from on high?

3 Is not destruction to the wicked, and strange punishment to the workers of iniquitie?

4 Doth not he behold my wayes, and tel all my steps?

5 If I haue walked in vanitie, or if my foote haue made haste to deceit,

6 Let God weigh me in the iust balance, and he shall know mine vprightnesse.

7 If my step hath turned out of the way, or mine heart hath walked after mine eye, or if any blot hath cleaued to mine hands,

8 Let mee sowe, and let another eate: yea, let my plants be rooted out.

9 If mine heart hath bene deceiued by a woman, or if I haue laide waite at the doore of my neighbours;

10 Let my wife be giude vnto another man, & let other ride bow downe vpon her:

11 For this is a wickednesse, and iniquity to be condemned:

12 Yea, this is a fire that shall denoure to destruction, and which shall root out all mine increase.

13 If I did contemme the iudgement of my seriant, and of my maide, when they did contend with me, 14 What then shall I doe when God standeth by? and when hee shall visite mee, what shall I answer?

15 We that hath made me in the wombe, hath hee not made I him? hath not hee alone fashioned vs in the wombe?

16 If I restrained the poore of their desire, or haue caused the eyes of the widowe to fall,

17 Or haue eaten my morsels alone, and the fatherlesse haue not eaten thereof,

18 (For from my youth hee hath grown vp with mee: as with a father, and from my mothers wombe I haue bene a giude vnto her)

19 If I haue seene any perill for want of clothing, or any poore without covering,

20 If his toyne haue not blessed me, because hee was warmed with the fleece of my sheepe,

21 If I haue lift up my hand against the fatherlesse, when I saue that I might helpe him in the gate,

22 Let mine arme fall from my shoulder, and mine arme be broken from the bone

23 For Gods punishment was I fearefull vnto me, and I could not bee deliuered from his highnesse.

24 If I made golde mine hope, or haue said to the wedg of gold, Thou art my confidence,

25 If I reioyed because my substance was great, or because mine hand had gotten much,

26 If I did behold the Sunne, when it shined, or the moone walking in her brightness,

27 If mine heart did flatter me in secret, or if my mouth did kisse mine hand,

28 (This also had bene an iniquitie to bee condemned: for I had denied the God above)

29 If I reioyed at his destruction that hated mee, or was moued to ioy when euill came vpon him, 30 Neither haue I suffered my mouth to sinne by wishing a curse vnto his soule.

31 Did not the men of my Tabernacle say, Who shall gine vs of his flesh? wee can not be satiated.

32 The stranger did not lodge in the streete, but I opened my doores vnto him that went by the way.

33 If I haue hid my sinne, as Adam, concealing mine iniquitie in my bosome, 34 Though I could haue made a fraide a great multitude, yet the most contemptible of the families did feare me: so I kept silence, and went not out of the doore.

35 Wh, that I had some to heare mee! behold my figure that the Almighty will witness for me: though mine aduersarie should write a booke against me, 36 Would not I take it vpon my shoulder, and binde it as a crovne vnto mee?

37 I will tell him the number of my goings, and goe vnto him as to a prince.

38 If my land cry against mee, or the furrowes thereof complaine together,

THE WORDS OF IOB ARE ENDED.

CHAP. XXXII.

2 Elihu reprooueth them of folly. 8 Age maketh not a man wise, but the Spirit of God.

So these three men ceased to answer Job, because he esteemed himselfe iust.

2 Then the wrath of Elihu the sonne of Barachel the Buzite of the family of Ram, was kindled: his wrath, I say, was kindled against Job, because hee iustified himselfe more then God.

3 All his anger was kindled against his three friends, because they could not finde an answer, and yete censured Job.

4 How Elihu had waited till Job had spoken: for they were more ancient in yeres then hee

5 So when Elihu sawe that there was none answer in the mouth of the three men, his wrath was kindled.

6 Therefore Elihu the sonne of Barachel the Buzite, answered and sayde. I am young in yeres, and ye are ancient: therefore I doubted, and was afraide to shewe you mine opinion.

7 For I sayde, The dayes shall speake, and the multitude of yeres shall teach wifedome.

8 Surely there is a spirit in man, f but the inspiration of the Almighty giueth understanding.

9 Great men are not alway wise, neither do the aged alway vnderstand iudgement.

10 Therefore I say, heare me, and I will shew also mine opinion.

11 Behold, I did wait vpon your wordes, and bearkend vnto your knowledge, whiles you sought out reasones.

12 Yea, when I had considered you, loe, there was none of you that reproued Job, nor answered his wordes:

13 Lest yee should say, Wee haue found wifedome: for God hath cast him downe, and no man.

14 Yet hath he not directed his wordes to me, neither will I answer him by your wordes.

15 Then they fearing, answered no more, but lest off their talke.

16 When I had waited (for they spake not, but stood still, and answered no more) 17 Then answered I in my turne, and I shewed mine opinion.

18 For I am full of matter, and the spirit within me compelleth me.

19 Behold, my belly is as the wine, which hath no vent, and like the new bottles that brast.

20 Therefore will I speake, that I may take heath: I will open my lippes, and will answer.

21 I will not nowe accept the person of man, neither will I giue titles to man.

22 For I may not giue titles, lest my speaker should take me away suddenly.

CHAP. XXXIII.

5 Elihu accuseth Job of ignorance. 14 He sheweth that God hath diuerse meanes to instruct man and to draw him from sinne. 19. 29 He afflicteth man, and suddenly deliuereth him. 26 Man being deliuered, giueth thanks to God.

VVherefore, Job, I pray thee, heare my talke, and hearken vnto all my wordes.

2 Behold now I haue opened my mouth: my tongue hath spoken in my mouth.

3 My wordes are in the vprightnesse of mine heart, and my lips shall speake pure knowledge.

4 The Spirit of God hath made mee, and the breath of the Almighty hath giuen me life.

5 If thou canst giue me answer, prepare thy selfe, and stand before me.

6 Beholde, I am according to thy wish in Gods stead: I am also formed of the clay.

7 Beholde, my terror shall not feare thee, neither shall mine hand be heauie vpon thee.

8 Doubtlesse thou hast spoken in mine eares, and I haue heard the voyce of thy wordes:

9 I am cleane, without sinne: I am innocent, and there is none iniquitie in me.

10 Loe, he hath found occasions against me, and counted me for his enemy.

11 He hath put my feete in the stocks, and looketh narrowly vnto all my pathes.

12 Beholde, in this hast thou not done right: I will answer thee, that God is greater then man.

13 Why dost thou strine against him? for hee doeth not giue account of all his matters.

14 For God speaketh once or twice, and once seeth it not.

15 In dreames and visions of the night, when sleepe falleth vpon men, & they sleepe vpon their bedes,

16 Then hee openeth the eares of men, euen by their corrections, which hee had sealed,

17 That hee might cause man to turne away from his enterpryse, and that hee might hide the pride of inan, 18 And keepe backe his soule from the pit, and that his life should not passe by the sword.

19 Yee is also stricken with sorrowe vpon his bed, and the griefe of his bones is sore, 20 So that his life cauleth him to abhorre bread, and his soule daintie meate.

21 His flesh faileth that it cannot bee seene, and his bones which were not seene, clatter.

22 So his soule draweth to the graue, and his life to the buriers.

o meaning that he would not cloke the truth to flatter men.

a I confesse the power of God, and am one of his, therefore thou oughtest to heare me.

b Because Iob had wished to dispute his cause with God, Chap. 16. 21. so that he might do it without feare, Elihu saith he will reason in Gods stead, whom hee denieth not to feare because he is a man made of the same matter that he is.

c I will not handle the so roughly as these others haue done d He repeateth Iobs wordes, whereby he protested his innocencie in diuers places, but specially in the 13. 16. and 30. chapters.

e The cause of his iudgements is not alway declared to man.

f Though God by sundry examples of his iudgements speake vnto man, yet the reason thereof is not knowne: yea, and though God should speake, yet he is not vnderstood.

CHAP. XXXIIII.

5 Elihu chargeth Iob, that hee called himselfe righteous. 12 He sheweth that God is iust in his iudgements. 24 God destroyeth the mightie. 30 By him the hypocrite reigneth.

1 M Drouer Elihu answered, and sayd, 2 Heare my wordes, yee wise men, and hearken vnto me, yee that haue knowledge.

3 For the care telethe the wordes, as the mouth tasteth meate.

4 Let vs seeke iudgement among vs, & let vs know among our selues what is good.

5 For Iob hath sayde, I am righteous, and God hath taken away my iudgement.

6 Should I lie in my right: my wound of the arrowe is grieuous without my sinne.

7 What man is like Iob, that drincketh scoonefullnesse like water?

8 Which goeth in the company of them that worke iniquity, and walketh with wicked men?

9 For he hath sayd, It profiteth a man nothing, that he should walke with God.

10 Therefore hearken vnto mee, yemen of wisdom, God forbid that wickednesse should be in God, and iniquity in the Almighty.

11 For he will tender vnto man according to his worke, and cause euery one to finde according to his way.

12 And certainly God will not doe wickedly, neither will the Almighty peruert iudgement.

13 Whom hath hee appoynted ouer the earth beside himselfe? or who hath placed the whole world?

14 If hee set his heart vpon man, and gather vnto himselfe his spirit and his breath, 15 All flesh shall perith together, and man shall returne vnto dust.

16 And if thou hast vnderstanding, heare this, and hearken to the voyce of my wordes.

17 Shall hee that hateth iudgement, gouerne? and wilt thou iudge him wicked that is not iust?

18 Wilt thou say vnto a King, Thou art wicked: or to princes, Ye are vngodly?

19 Howe much lesse to him that accepteth not the persons of princes, and regardeth not the rich, more then the poore? for they be all the worke of his handes.

20 They shall die suddenly, and the people shall be troubled at midnight, and they shall passe soothly and take away the mighty without hand.

21 For his eyes are vpon the wayes of man, and hee seeth all his goings.

22 There is no darkenes nor shadowe of death, that the workers of iniquity might be hid therein.

23 For hee will not lay on man so much, that he should enter into iudgement with God.

24 Hee shall breake the mighty without seeking, and shall set vp other in their stead.

25 Therefore shall he declare their works: hee shall turne the night, and they shall be destroyed.

26 Hee striketh them as wicked men in the places of the sheers,

27 Because they haue turned backe from him, and would not consider all his wayes:

28 So that they haue caused the voyce of the poore to come vnto him, and hee hath heard the cry of the afflicted.

29 And when hee giueth quietnesse, who can make trouble? and when hee hideth his face, who can behold him, whether he be vpon nations, or vpon a man onely?

30 Because the hypocrite doeth reigne, and because the people are inared.

31 Surely it apperaineth vnto God to say, I haue pardoned, I will not destroy.

32 But if I see not, reach thou me: if I haue done wickedly, I will do no more.

33 Will hee performe the thing through thee? for thou hast repproued it, because geth to God to moderate his corrections, and not vnto man. a Thus Elihu speaketh in the person of God, as it were mocking Iob, because he would be wiser then God. b Will God vse thy counsel in doing his works? c Thus he speaketh in the person of God, as though Iob should chuse and refuse affliction at his pleasure.

y When tyrants sit in the throne of Iustice, which vnder pretence of executing iustice, are but hypocrites and oppress the people, it is a signe that God hath drawn back his countenance and fauour from that place.

z Only it belongeth to God to moderate his corrections, and not vnto man.

a Thus Elihu speaketh in the person of God, as it were mocking Iob, because he would be wiser then God.

3 For thou hast sayde, What profiteth it thee, and what auailleth it mee, to purge mee from my sinne?

4 Therefore will I answer thee, and thy b companions with thee.

5 Looke vnto the heauen, and see, and behold the <sup>c</sup> clouds which are higher then thou.

6 If thou findest, what dost thou <sup>d</sup> against him, yea, when thy finnes bee many, what doest thou vnto him?

7 If thou be righteous, what grieueth thou vnto him? or what receiveth hee at thine hand?

8 Thy wickednesse may hurt a man as thou art: and thy righteoulnesse may profite the soune of man.

9 They cause many that are oppressed to crie, which crye out for the violence of the mighty.

10 But none sayth, Where is God that made me, which giueth songs in the night?

11 Which teacheth vs more then y<sup>e</sup> beasts of the earth, and giueth vs more wisdom then the foules of the heauen.

12 Then they cry because of the violence of the wicked, but the answereth not.

13 Surely God wil not heare vanity, neither wil the Almighty regard it.

14 Although thou sayest to God, Thou wilt not regard it, s yet iudgement is before him: trust thou in him.

15 But now because his anger hath not visited, nor called to count the euel with great extremity,

16 Therefore Job <sup>a</sup> boyneth his mouth in bayne, and multiplyeth wordes without knowledge.

C H A P. XXXVI.

1 Elihu sheweth the power of God, 6 and his iustice: 9 And wherefore he punisheth. 13 The Elihu also proceeded and said,

2 Suffer mee a little, and I will instruct thee: for I haue yet to speake on Gods behalf.

3 I will fetch <sup>a</sup> my knowledge afarre off, and commaundeth them that they returne from iniquity.

11 If they obey and serue him, they shall end their dayes in prosperitie, & their yerres in pleasures.

12 But if they wil not obey, they shall passe by the wordes, and perish <sup>g</sup> without knowledge.

13 But the hypocrites <sup>h</sup> of heart increase the wrath: for they <sup>i</sup> call not when hee bindeth them.

14 Their soule dieth in <sup>k</sup> youth, and their life among the whomongers.

15 He deliuereth the poore in his affliction, and openeth their eare in trouble.

16 Euen so would he haue taken thee out of the strait place into a broad place and not shut vp beneath: and <sup>l</sup> that which resteth vpon thy table, had bene full of far.

17 But thou art full of the <sup>m</sup> iudgement of the wicked, though iudgement and equity maintaine all things.

18 <sup>n</sup> For Gods wrath is, lest he should take thee away in thine abundance: for no multitude of gifts can deliuer thee.

19 <sup>o</sup> Will hee regard thy riches? hee regardeth not golde, nor all them that excell in strength.

20 <sup>p</sup> Be not carefull in the night, how he destroyleth the people out of their place.

21 Take thou heede: looke not to <sup>q</sup> iniquity: for thou hast chosen it rather then af-liction.

22 Beholde, God exaltech by his power:
what teacher is like him?

23 Who hath appointed to him his way? or who can say, Thou hast done wickedly?

24 Remember that thou magnifie his worke, which men behold.

25 All men see it, and men behold it <sup>r</sup> afarre off.

26 Beholde, God is excellent, <sup>s</sup> and wee knowe him not, neither can the number of his yerres be leached out, manner of the wicked: for thou doest murmur against <sup>t</sup> the iustice of God. n God doth punish thee, lest thou shouldst forget God in thy wealth, and to perish. o Be not thou curious in seeking the cause of Gods iudgements, when hee destroyeth any. p And so murmur against God through impatience. q The workes of God are so manifest that a man may see them afarre off, and know God by the same.

r Our iniquity hindreth vs so, that we cannot attayne to the perfect knowledge of God.

f That is, the raine commeth of those drops of water, which he keepeth in the clouds.

t Meaning, of the clouds, which he calleth the Tabernacle of God.

u Upon the cloud.

x That men can not come to the knowledge of the springs thereof. y He sheweth that the raine hath double vye: the one that it declareth Gods iudgements, when it doeth ouerflowe any places, & the other that it maketh the land fruitfull. z That is, one cloud to dash against another. a The colde vapour sheweth him: that is, the cloud of the hote exhalation, which being taken in the cold cloude, mounteth vp toward the place where the fire is, and so anger is ingendred: that is, noyse and thunder claps.

CHAP. XXXVII.

2 Elihu prometh that the unsearchable wisdom of God u manifest by his works, 4 as by the thunders, 6 the snow, 9 the whirlewind, 11 and the raine.

a At the maruelling of the thunder and lightnings: whereby he declareth that the faithfull are liuely touched with the maiesty of God, when they behold his works.

b That is, the thunder, whereby he speaketh to men to waken their dulnesse, & to bring them to the consideration of his works.

c Meaning the raines and thunders.

d So that neither small raine nor great, snow nor any thing els commeth without Gods appointment.

e By raines and thunders God causeth men to keepe themselves within their houses.

f In Ebrew it is called the scattering wind, because it driueth away the clouds, & purgeth the aire. g That is, is frozen vp and dried. h Gather the vapours, and moue to and fro to water the earth. i That is, the cloud that hath lightning in it. k Raine, cold, heat, tempests and such like are sent of God, either to punish man, or to profit the earth, or to declare his fauour toward man, as chap 36. 31.

27 When he restraineth the drops of water, the raine <sup>u</sup> powreth downe by the vapour thereof, 28 Which raine the clouds do drop and let fall abundantly vpon man.

29 Who can knowe the diuisions of the cloudes, and the thunders of his tabernacle?

30 Beholde, he spreadeth his light vpon it, and couereth the <sup>u</sup> botome of the sea.

31 For therby he toucheth the people, and giueth meat abundantly.

32 He couereth the light with the clouds, and commandeth them to go <sup>u</sup> against it.

33 His companion sheweth him thereof, and there is anger in rising vp.

15 Didst thou knowe when God disposed them? and caused the light of his cloud to shine?

16 Hast thou knowen the variety of the cloud, and the wondrous workes of him, that is perfitt in knowledge?

17 Or how thy clothes are warme, when he maketh the earth quiet through y South wind?

18 Hast thou stretched out the heauens, which are strong, and as a molten glasse?

19 Tell vs what we shall say vnto him: for wee cannot dispose our matter because of darknessesse.

20 What it be told him when I speake: or shall man speake when hee shall bee destroyed?

21 And now men see not the light, which shineth in the cloudes, but the winde passeth and cleareth them.

22 The brightnesse commeth out of the North: the praise thereof is to God, which is terrible.

23 It is the Almighty: wee cannot find him out: hee is excellent in power and iudgement, and abundant in iustice: he afflicteth not.

24 Let men therefore feare him: for hee will not regard any that are wise in their owne conceite.

when man murmureth against him? r If God would dekroy a man, should hee repine? s The cloud stoppeth the shining of the sunne, that man cannot see it till the winde haue chafed away the cloude: and if man bee not able to attaine to the knowledge of these things, how much lesse of Gods iudgements? t In Hebrew, gold, meaning faire wether and cleere as gold. u Meaning, without cause.

CHAP. XXXVIII.

God speaketh to Iob, and declareth the weaknes of man in the consideration of his creatares, by whose excellency the power, iustice, & providence of the Creator is knownen.

1 When answered the Lord vnto Iob out of the whirlewind, and said, 2 Who is this that darkeneth the counsell by words without knowledge?

3 Sit vp nowe thy loynes like a man: I will demaund of thee, and declare thou vnto me.

4 Where wast thou when I layde the foundations of the earth? declare, if thou hast vnderstanding,

5 Who hath layde the measures thereof, if thou knowest? or who hath stretched the line ouer it?

6 Whereupon are the foundations thereof set: or who laid the corner stone thereof?

7 When the stars of the morning prayed me together, and all the children of God reioyced:

8 Where hast thou hath shutte by the sea with doores, when it issued and came forth as out of the wounde?

9 When I made the cloud as a couerting not iudge of those things, which were done so long before hee was borne, he was not able to comprehend all Gods workes: much lesse the secreet causes of his iudgements. e The starres and dumbe creatares are said to praise God, because his power, wisdom, and goodness is manifest and knownen therein. f Meaning, the Angels. thercof,

A is moued out of his place.

2 Heare the sound of his voyce, and the noise that goeth out of his mouth.

3 He directeth it vnder the whole heauen, and his light vnto the ends of the world.

4 After it a noise soundeth: he thundreth with the voyce of his maiesty, and he wil not stay: them when his voyce is heard.

5 God thundreth maruellously with his voyce: he worketh great things, which wee know not.

6 For he saith to the snow, Be thou vpon the earth: likewise to the small rayne and to the great raine of his power.

7 With the force thereof hee shutteth vp every man, that all men may knowe his worke.

8 Then the beasts go into the den, and remaine in their places.

9 The whirlewinde commeth out of the South, and the cold from the North wind.

10 At the breath of God the frost is giuen, and the breadth of the waters is made narrow.

11 He maketh also the clouds to labour, to water the earth, and scattereth the cloud of his light.

12 And it is turned about by his government, that they may do whatsoever he commandeth them vpon the whole world:

13 Whether it be for punishment, or for his laud, or of mercy, he causeth it to come.

14 Hearken vnto this, O Iob: stand and consider the wondrous workes of God.

l That is, the lightning to breake forth in the clouds? m Which is sometime changed into raine or snowe, or haille, or such like.

n Why thy clothes should keepe thee warme, when the South winde bloweth, rather then when any other winde bloweth?

o For their cleerenesse.

p That is, our ignorance, signifying that Iob was so presumptuous that hee would controll the workes of God.

q Hath God need that any should tell him a That his words might haue greater maiesty, and that Iob might knowe with whom he had to doe.

b Which by seeking to the secreet counsell of God by mans reason, maketh it more obscure, and sheweth his owne folly.

c Because he had wished to dispute with God, Chap. 13. 3. God reasoneth with him to declare his rashnesse.

d Seeing he could not iudge of those things, which were done so long before hee was borne, he was not able to comprehend all Gods workes: much lesse the secreet causes of his iudgements.

e The starres and dumbe creatares are said to praise God, because his power, wisdom, and goodness is manifest and knownen therein.

f Meaning, the Angels. thercof, g As though the great sea were but as a little ba'e in y hands of God to turne to and fro.

 h That is, Gods decree and commandement, as verse, 10.
 i To wit, to rise, since thou wast borne.
 k Who hauing in the night bene giuen to wickednesse, cannot abide the light, but hide themselves.
 l The earth which seemed in the sight to haue no forme, by the rising of the sunne as it were created anew, and all things therein clad with new beauty.
 m If thou art not able to seeke out the depth of the sea, how much lesse art thou able to comprehend the counsel of God?
 n That thou mightest appoint it his way and limits.
 o To punish mine enemies with them, as Exod. 9. 18. Iosh. 10. 11.
 p They ce couereth it, as though it were paled with stone.
 q Which starres arise when the sunne in Taurus, which is the spring time, and bring flowers.
 r Which starre bringeth in winter.
 s Certaine starres so called: some thinke they were the twelue signes.
 t The North starre, with those that are about him.
 u Canst thou cause the heavenly bodies to haue any power ouer the earthly bodies?

thereof, and darknesse as the swadling bands thereof:
 10 When I established my commandement upon it, and let barres and doores, 11 And said, hitherto shalt thou come, but no further, and here shall it stay thy proude waues.
 12 Hast thou commanded the morning since thy dayes? hast thou caused the morning to know his place?
 13 That it might take hold of the corners of the earth, and that the wicked might bee shaken out of it?
 14 It is turned as clay to fashion, and all stand vp as a garment.
 15 And from the wicked their light shall be taken away, and the hie arme shall be broken.
 16 Hast thou entered into the botromes of the sea? or hast thou walked to seeke out the depth?
 17 Haue the gates of death bene opened vnto thee, or hast thou seene the gates of the shadow of death?
 18 Hast thou perceiued the breadth of the earth? tellt thou knowest all this.
 19 Where is the way where light dwelleth? and where is the place of darknesse, 20 That thou shouldst receiue it in the bounds thereof, and that thou shouldst know the pathes to the house thereof?
 21 Knewest thou it, because thou wast then borne, and because the number of thy dayes is great?
 22 Hast thou entered into the treasures of the snow? or hast thou seene the treasures of the haille, 23 Which I haue hid against the time of trouble, against y day of war and battell?
 24 By what way is y light parted, which scattereth the East wind vpon the earth?
 25 Who hath diuided the spowtes for the raine? or the way for the lightning of the thunders, 26 To cause it to raine on y earth where no man is, & in the wilderness where there is no man?
 27 To fulfill the wild and waste place, and to cause the bud of the herbe to spring forth?
 28 Who is the father of the raine? or who hath begotten the drops of the dew?
 29 Out of whose wombe came the yce? who hath engendred the frost of the heauen?
 30 The waters are hid y as with a stone: and the face of the depth is frozen.
 31 Canst thou restrain the sweete influences of the Pleiades, or loose the bands of Orion?
 32 Canst thou bring forth Mazzaroth in their time? canst thou also guide Arturus with his sonnes?
 33 Knowest thou the course of heauen, or canst thou set the rule thereof in the earth?
 34 Canst thou list by thy voyce to the cloudes, that the abundance of water may couer thee?
 35 Canst thou send the lightningnes y they may walk, & say vnto thee, Lo, here we are?
 36 Who hath put wisdom in the reines?

x In the secret parts of man, or who hath giuen the heart understanding?

 37 Who can number cloudes by wille-dome? or who can cause to create the y botrels of heauen, 38 When the earth groweth into hardness, and the clots are fast together?
 open these bottels. the earth commeth to this inconuenience.

CHAP. XXXIX.

1 The boame and prouidence of God, which extendeth euen to the yong rauens, giueth men full occasion to put his confidence in God. 37 Job confesseth and humbleth himselfe.

Willst thou hunt the praye for the Lyons? or fill the appetite of the Lyons whelpes,

2 When they couch in their places, and remaine in the covert to lie in waite?
 3 Who prepareth for the rauen his meat, when his birds crie vnto God, wandering for lacke of meate?
 4 Knowest thou the time when the wilde goates bring forth yong? or dost thou marke when the hindes doe calue?
 5 Canst thou number the monthes that theye flourish? or knowest thou the time when theye bring forth?
 6 They bow themselves: theye huille their yong, and cast out their sorrowes.
 7 Yet their yong waxe fat, and grow by with come: theye goe toorth and returne not vnto them.
 8 Who hath set the wilde asse at libertie? or who hath loosed the bands of the wilde asse?
 9 It is I which haue made the wilderness his house, & the salt places his dwellings.
 10 He derideth the multitude of the city: he heareth not the cry of the driner.
 11 Hee seeketh out the mountaine for his pasture, and searcheth after euery greene thing.

12 Willst thou the Anicozneserue thee? or wilt hee tarie by thy crib?
 13 Canst thou bind the Anicozne with his hand to labour in the furrow? or wilt hee plow the balles after thee?
 14 Wilt thou trust in him, because his strength is great, and cast off thy labour vnto him?
 15 Wilt thou beleene him, y he wil bring home thy shee, and gather it vnto thy barn?
 16 Hast thou giuen the pleasant wings vnto the peacocks? or wings and feathers vnto the ostrich?
 17 Who leaueh his egges in the earth, and maketh them hot in the dust, 18 And forgetteth that the foote might scatter them, or that the wilde beast might breake them.
 19 Hee stremeth himselfe exell vnto his yong ones, as they were not his, and is without feare, as if hee traualled in vaine.
 20 For God hath depriued him of wille-dome, and hath giuen him no part of vnderstanding.
 21 When time is, hee mounteth on hie: hee mocketh the horse and his rider.
 22 Hast thou giuen the horse strength? or natural affection toward his yong. 1 When the yong ostrich is grown vp, hee ouercometh the horse.

m That is, given him courage? which is meant being neyng & shaking his mane: for with his breath he couereth his necke.

n He beatech with his hooftes.

o He fo tiddeh the ground, that it seemeth nothing vnder him.

covered his necke with neyng?
 23 Hast thou made him afraid as the grayhopper? his strong neyng is fearful.
 24 He diggeth in the valley, and reioyced in his strength: he goeth forth to meete the harnessed man.
 25 He mocketh at feare, & is not afraid, and turneth not backe from the sword.
 26 Though the quiter rattle against him, the glittering speare and the shield, 27 He swalloweth the ground for fiercenesse and rage, and hee beleueth not that it is the noyse of the trumpet.
 28 Hee sauyeth among the trumpets, ha, ha: he smelleth the battell afarre off, and the noyse of the captaynes, and the shouting.
 29 Shall the haunke flie by thy wisdom, stretching out his wings toward y<sup>e</sup> South?
 30 Doeth the eagle mount vp at thy commandement, or make his nest on hye?
 31 Shee abideth & remaineth in the rocke, euen vpon the top of the rocke & the tower.
 32 From thence shee spurieth for meat, and her eyes behold afarre off.
 33 His yong ones also sucke by blood: and where the flame are, there is hee.
 34 Whereouer the Lord spake vnto Iob, and said,

35 Is this to ye I learne, to strine with the Almighty? he that reppoueth God, let him answer to it.
 36 ¶ Then Iob answered y<sup>e</sup> Lord, saying, 37 Behold, I am vile: what shall I answer thee? I will lay mine hande vpon my mouth.
 38 Once haue I spoken, but I will answer no more, yea twile, but I will proceed no further.

CHAP. XL.

2 How weakes mans power is, being compared to the workes of God: & whose power appeareth in the creation, and governing of the great beasts.

Gainc, the Lord answered Iob out of the whirlwind, and said,

1 Stirr'd vp now thy loynes like a man: I will demand of thee, and declare thou vnto mee.
 2 Wilt thou disanull my iudgement? or wilt thou condemne me, that thou mayst be intified?
 3 Hast thou an arme like God? or dost thou thunder with a voyce like him?
 4 Decke thy selfe now with maiestie and excellente, & aray thy selfe with beautie and glory.
 5 Cast abroad the indignation of thy wrath, and behold euery one that is proud, and abase him.
 6 Looke on euery one that is arrogant, and bring him low: and destroy the wicked in their place.
 7 Hide them in the dust together, and binde their faces in a secret place.
 8 Then will I confesse vnto thee, aske, that thy right hand can doe saue thee.
 9 ¶ Behold now Behemoth, (whom I made with thee) which eateth graffe as an oxe.

as an oxe.
 11 Beholde now, his strength is in his loynes, & his force is in the naut of his belly.
 12 When he taketh pleasure, his taylor is like a Cedar: the sinewes of his floues are wrapt together.
 13 His bones are like stauces of brass, and his small bones like stauces of yron.
 14 He is the chiefe of the wayes of God: hee that made him, will make his sword to approach vnto him.
 15 Surely the mountains bring him forth graffe, where all the bestes of the field play.
 16 Lett he vnder the trees in the covert of the reede and fennes?
 17 Can the trees couer him with their shadow? or can the willowes of the river compasse him about?
 18 Behold, hee spoyleth the riuer, & and harketh not: hee trusteth that hee can draw by Jordan into his mouth.
 19 Hee taketh it with his eyes, & thrusteth his nose through what loouer meeteth him.
 20 Canst thou draw out Limathian with an hooke, and with a line which thou shalt cast downe vnto his tongue?
 21 Canst thou cast an hooke into his nose? canst thou pierce his iawes with an angle?
 22 Canst thou make many prayers vnto thee, or spake thee faire?
 23 Wilt he make a covenant with thee? & wilt thou take him as a seruant for ever?
 24 Wilt thou play with him, as with a bird? or wilt thou binde him for thy maides?
 25 Shall the companions banquet with him? shall they diuide him among the merchants?
 26 Canst thou fill the basket with his skinne? or the fish panier with his head?
 27 Lay thine hand vpon him: remember o the battell, and do no yon lo.
 28 Behold, his hope is in vaine, for shall not one perish euen at the light of him?

CHAP. XLII.

1 By the greatnesse of this monster Leviathan, God sheweth his greatnesse, and his power, which nothing can resist.

None is so fierce that dare stirre him vp.
 2 Who hath prevented me that I should make an end? All vnder heauen is mine.
 3 I wil not keepe silence concerning c his parts, nor his power, nor his comely proportion.
 4 Who can discover the face of his garment? or who shall come to him with a double bridle?
 5 Who shall open the doores of his face? his teeth are fearefull round about.

CHAP. XLII.

6 The repentance of Job, 9 He prayeth for his friends. 12 His goods are restored double vmo him. 13 His children, age and death.

Then Job answered the Lord, and sayde,
 2 I knowe that thou canst doe all things, and that there is no <sup>o</sup> thought hid from thee.
 3 Who is he that hideth counsel without knowledge? therefore haue I spoken that I understood not, euen things too wonderfull for me, and which I knew not.
 4 Heare, I beseech thee, & I will speake: I will demand of thee, and declare thou vnto me.
 5 I haue heard of thee by the hearing of the eare, but now mine eye seeth thee.

 6 Therefore I abhorre my selfe, and repent in dust and ashes.
 7 Now after that the Lorde had spoken these wordes vnto Job, the Lord alke sayde vnto Eliphaz the Temanite, My wrath is kindled against thee, and against thy two friends: for yee haue not spoken of mee the thing that is right, like my seruants <sup>is</sup> Job.
 8 Therefore take vnto you nowe seuen bullocks, and seuen rammes, and goe to my seruant Job, and offer by for your selues a burnt offering, and my seruant Job shall pray for you: for I will accept him, least I should put you to shame, because ye haue not spoken of mee the thing which is right, like my seruant Job.
 9 So Eliphaz the Temanite, and Bildad the Shubite, and Sophar the Naamathite went, and did according as the Lord had layde vnto them, and the Lord accepted Job.
 10 Then the Lord turned the captiuitie of Job, when hee prayed for his friends: also the Lord gaue Job twise so much as hee had before.
 11 Then came vnto him all his brethren, and all his sisters, and all they that had bene of his acquaintance before, & did eate bread with him in his house, and had compaffion of him, and comforted him for all the euill, that the Lord had brought vpon him, and euery man gaue him a piece of money, and euery one an earring of gold.
 12 So the Lorde blessed the last dayes of Job more then the first: for hee had foure- teene thousand sheepe, and lixe thousand camels, and a thousand yoke of oren, & a thousand hee asses.
 13 Hee had also seuen sonnes, and three daughters.
 14 And hee called the name of one <sup>o</sup> Rehimah, and the name of the second <sup>o</sup> Keziah, and the name of the third <sup>o</sup> Kerenhapuch.
 15 In all the land were no women found so faire as the daughters of Job, and their father gaue them inheritance among their brethren.
 16 And after this liued Job an hundreth and forty yeeres, and saw his sonnes, and his sonnes sonnes, euen foure generations.
 17 So Job died, being old & full of dayes.

f You tooke in hand an euill cause in that you condemned him by his outward afflictions, & not comforted him with my mercies. g Who had a good cause, but handled it euill. h When you haue reconciled your selues to him for y faults that you haue committed against him, he shall pray for you, and I will heare him. i He deliuered him out of the affliction where- in he was, k That is, all his kinred, reade Chap. 19. 13. l Or, lambe, or manie so marked. m God made him twise so rich in cattell as he was afore, & gaue him as many children as he had taken from him. n That is, of long life, or beautiful as the daye- n As pleasant as Cassia, or sweete spice. o That is, the borne of beauty.

h Nothing is painefull or hard vnto him.

The*Psalmes of Dauid.

THE ARGVMENT.

This booke of Psalmes is set forth vnto vs by the holy Ghost, to be esteemed as a most precious treasure, wherein all things are contained that appertaine to true felicitie, as well in this life present as in the life to come. For the riches of true knowledge, and heavenly wisdom are here set open for vs to take thereof most abundantly. If wee would know the great and his maiestie of God, here we may see the brightnesse thereof shine most clearly. If we would seek his incomprehensible wisdom, here is the schoole of the same profession. If we would comprehend his inscalmable bountie, and approach neere thereunto, and fill our hands with that treasure, here wee may haue a most liuely and comfortable taste thereof. If we would know wherein standeth our saluation, and how to attaine to life eueralasting, here is Christ our onely Redeemer and Mediatour most evidently descried. The rich man may learne the true vse of his riches. The poore man may finde full contentation. He that will reioyce, shall knowe the true ioy, and howe to keepe measure therein. They that are afflicted and oppressed, shall see wherein standeth their comfort, and how they ought to praye God when hee sendeth them deliverance. The wicked and the persecuters of the children of God shall see howe the hand of God is euer against them: and though he suffer them to prosper for a while, yet hee brideleth them, in somuch as they cannot touch an haire of ones head, except he permit them, and how in the end their destruction is most miserable. Briefly, heere wee may haue most present remedies against all temptations and troubles of mind and conscience, so that being well practised herein, we may bee assured against all dangers in this life, liue in the true feare and loue of God, and at length attaine to that incorruptible crowne of glory, which is laid vp for all them that loue the comming of our Lord Iesus Christ.

* Or, prayfes, according to the Hebrewes: and were chiefly instituted to prayse and giue thanks to God for his benefites. They are called the Psalmes or songs of Dauid, because the most part were made by him.

P S A L. I.

Whether it was Esdras, or any other that gathered the Psalms into a booke, it seemeth he did set this Psalm first in manner of a Preface, to exhort all godly men to study and meditate the heavenly wisdom For the effect hereof is, 1 That they be blessed, which giue themselves wholly all their life to the holy Scriptures: 4 And that the wicked contemners of God though they seem for a while happy, yet at length shall come to miserable destruction.

a When a man hath giuen once place to euill counsel, or to his owne concupiscence, he beginneth to forget himselfe in his sinne, and so falleth into contempt of God, which contempt is called the seate of the scorners.

Deut. 6. 6. iosh. 1. 8. prou. 6. 20. b In the holy Scriptures.

Iere. 17. 8. c Gods children are to be ministered euer with his grace, that whatsoever commeth vnto them, tendeth to their saluation. d Though the wicked seeme to beate the fling in this worlde, yet the Lord driueth them downe that they shall not rise nor stand in the company of the righteous. e But tremble when they seele Gods wrath. f Doeth approue and prosper, like as not to know, is to reprove and reiect.

Blessed is the man that doeth not walke in the counsell of the wicked, nor stand in the way of sinners, nor sit in the seate of the scornfull.

2 But his delight is in the Lawe doeth he meditate day and night.

3 For he shall be like a tree planted by the riuers of waters, that will bring forth her fruit in due season: whose leafe shall not fade, nor whatsoener he shall do, shall prosper.

4 The wicked are not so, but as the chaffe, which the winde driueth away.

5 Therefore the wicked shall not stand in the iudgement, nor sinners in the assembly of the righteous.

6 For the Lord knoweth the way of the righteous, and the way of the wicked shall be to be ministered death.

P S A L. II.

The Prophet David reioyceth that notwithstanding his enemies rage, yet God will continue his kingdome for euer, and aduance it euen to the end of the world, 10 and therefore exhorteth kings & rulers, that they would humbly submit themselves vnto Gods yoke, because it is in vaine to resist God. Herein is figured Christs kingdome.

a The conspiracy of the Gentiles, the murmuring of the Iewes, and power of Kings cannot preuaile against Christ.

Act. 4. 25. b Or, anoynded. c Thus the wicked say, that they will cast off the yoke of God, &

Why doe the heathen rage, and the people murmure in vaine?

2 The kings of the earth band themselves, & the princes are assembled together against the Lord, and against his Christ.

3 Let vs breake their bands, and cast their cords from vs.

4 But he that dwelleth in the heauē, shall laugh: the Lord shall haue them in derision.

5 Then shall he speake vnto them in his wrath, & reue them in his fure displeasure, saying,

6 Euen I haue set my King vpon Zion mine holy mountaine.

7 I will declare the decree: that is, the Lord hath sayde vnto mee, & Thou art my Sonne: this day haue I begotten thee.

8 Aske of me, and I shall giue thee the heathen for thine inheritance, and the ends of the earth for thy possession.

9 Thou shalt crush them with a scepter of yron and breake them in peeces like a potters vessel.

10 Bee wise now therefore, ye Kings: be learned ye Iudges of the earth.

11 Serue the Lord in feare, and reioice in trembling.

12 Kille the sonne, lest he be angry, & ye perish in the way, when his wrath shall suddenly burne: blessed are all that trust in him.

13 Not only the Iewes, but the Gentiles also. Reu. 12. 27. g Hee exhorteth all rulers to repent in time. h In signe of homage. i When the wicked shall say, Peace and rest, seeming yet to be but in the midway of their purposes, then shall destruction suddenly come, 1. Thes. 5. 3.

P S A L. III.

David driven forth of his kingdome, was greatly tormented in minde for his sines against God.

And therefore calleth vpon God, and waxeth bolde through his promises against the great raylings and terrors of his enemies, yea, against death it selfe, which hee saw present before his eyes. Finally, hee reioyceth for the good successe that God gaue him, and all the Church.

A Psalm of David, when he fled from his sonne Absalon.

Lord, how are mine aduerfaries increased? how many rife against me?

2 Many say to my soule, There is no help for him in God. Selah.

3 But thou Lord art a buckler for mee: my glory, and the lifter vp of my head.

4 I did call vnto the Lord with my voyce, and he heard me out of his holy mountaine. Selah.

5 I laid me downe and slept, and rose vp againe: for the Lord sustained me.

6 I will not be afraid for ten thousand of the people, that should beset me round about.

7 O Lord, arise: helpe me, my God: for thou hast smitten all mine enemies vpon the cheeke bone: thou hast broken the teeth of the wicked.

8 Salvation belongeth vnto the Lord, and thy blessing is vpon thy people. Selah.

9 Be the dangers neuer so great or many, yet God will deliuer him.

10 Be the dangers neuer so great or many, yet God will deliuer him.

P S A L. IIII.

When Saul persecuted him, he called vpon God, trusting most assuredly in his promise, and therefore boldly reprooeth his enemies, who wilfully resisted his dominion, 7 and finally preferreth the fauour of God before all worldly treasures.

d To shew that my vocation to the kingdome is of God.

Act. 1. 3. 23. 33. hebr. 1. 5.

e That is to say as touching mans knowledge, because it was the first time that Dauid appeared to be elected of God. So is it applied to Christ in his first comming and manifestation to the world. f Not only the Iewes, but the Gentiles also. Reu. 12. 27. g Hee exhorteth all rulers to repent in time. h In signe of homage. i When the wicked shall say, Peace and rest, seeming yet to be but in the midway of their purposes, then shall destruction suddenly come, 1. Thes. 5. 3.

a This was a token of his stable faith, that for all his troubles, he had his recourse to God.

b Selah here signifieth a lifting vp of the voyce, to cause vs to consider the sentence as a thing of great importance.

c When he considered the trutheth of Gods promise, and tryed the same, his faith increased maruellously.

3 For ye be sure that the Lord hath chosen to himselfe a godly man: the Lord will heare when I call vnto him.

4 Tremble, and linnie not: examine your owne heart vpon your bed, and be still. Selah.

5 Offer the sacrifices of righteousness, and trust in the Lord.

6 Many say, Who will shewe vs any good? but the Lord, lift vp the light of thy countenance vpon vs.

7 Thou hast giuen me more ioy of heart, then they haue had, when their beate and their wine did abound.

8 I will lay mee downe, and also sleepe in peace: for thou Lord, onely makest mee dwell in safetie.

PSALM V.

1 Dauid oppressed with the crueltie of his enemies, and fearing greater dangers, calleth to God for succour, shewing how requisite it is that God should punish the malice of his aduersaries. 7 After being assured of prosperous successe, he conceiveth comfort, 12 Concluding that when God shall deliuer him, others also shall bee partakers of the same mercies.

Co him that excelleth vpon Neginoth. A Psalm of David.

Hear me wordes, O Lord: vnderstand my meditation.

2 Hearken vnto the voyce of my crye, my King and my God: for vnto thee doe I pray.

3 Heare my voyce in the morning, O Lord: for in the morning will I direct thee vnto thee, and I will waite.

4 For thou art not a God that loueth wickednesse: neither shall euill dwell with thee.

5 The foolish shall not stande in thy sight: for thou hatest all them that worke iniquitie.

6 Thou shalt destroy them that speake lies: the Lord will abhorre the bloody man and deceitfull.

7 But I will come into thine house in the multitude of thy mercie: and in thy feare will I worshippe toward thine holy Temple.

8 Leade mee, O Lord, in thy righteousness, because of mine enemies: make thy way pathe before my face.

9 For no constancie is in their mouth: within they are very corruption: their throat is an open sepulchre, and they flatter with their tongue.

10 Destroy them, O God: let them be fall from their counsils: cast them out for the multitude of their iniquities, because they haue rebelled against thee.

11 And let all them, that trust in thee, reioyce and triumph for euer, and couer thou them: and let them that loue thy Name, reioyce in thee.

12 For thou Lord wilt bless the righteous, and with fauour wilt compass him, as with a shield.

PSALM VI.

1 When Dauid by his sinnes had prouoked Gods wrath, and now felt not only his hand against him, but also conceived the horrors of death euerlasting, he desireth forgiveness, 6 Bewailing that if God tooke him away in his indignation, he should lacke occasion to praise him as hee was wont to doe, while he was among men. 9 Then suddenly feeling Gods mercie, he sharply rebuketh his enemies, which reioyced in his affliction.

Co him that excelleth on Neginoth vpon the eighth tune. A Psalm of Dauid.

O Lord, rebuke me not in thine anger, neither chastise me in thy wrath.

2 Haue mercie vpon mee, O Lord, for I am weake: O Lord heale me, for my bones are veret.

3 My soule is also sore troubled: but Lord, how long wilt thou delay?

4 Returne, O Lord: deliuer my soule: saue me for thy mercies sake.

5 For in death there is no remembrance of thee: in the graue, who shall praise thee?

6 I fainted in my mourning: I cause my bed every night to swimme, and water my couch with my teares.

PSALM VII.

1 Being falsely accused by Chush one of Sauls kinsmen, he calleth to God to be his defender: 3 To whome hee commendeth his innocencie, 9 First shewing that his conscience did not accuse him of any euill towards Saul: 10 Next that it touched Gods glory to awarde sentence against the wicked. 12 And so entring into the consideration of Gods mercie and promise, he waxeth bold, and denieth the vaie enterprises of his enemies, 16 Threatning that it shall fall on their owne necke which hee haue purposed for others.

 20 But them in feare, O Lord, that the heathen may know that they are but men. Selah.

PSALM X.

1 He complaineth of the fraud, rapine, tyranny, and all kinds of wrong, which worldly men vse, assigning the cause thereof, that wicked men, being as it were drunken wth worldly prosperity, and therefore setting apart all feare and reuerence toward God, thinke they may doe all things without controuling. 15 Therefore he calleth vpon God, to send some remedy against these desperate exils, 16 and at length comforteth himselfe with hope of deliuerance.

W hy standest thou farre off, O Lord, and hidest thee in a due time, euen in affliction?

2 The wicked with pride doth persecute the poore: let them bee taken in the crafts that they haue imagined.

3 For the wicked hath made boast of his own heares desire, and the couetous blesteth himselfe: he contemnerh the Lord.

4 The wicked is so proud that he seeketh not for God: he thinketh alwayes, There is no God.

5 His wayes alway prosper: thy iudgements are high aboue his sight: therefore he deseth he all his enemies.

6 He saith in his heart, I shall neuer be moued, nor be in danger.

7 His mouth is full of curling and deceit, and fraude: vnder his tongue is mischief and iniquitie.

8 He lieth in wait in the villages: in the secret places doth he murder the innocent: his eyes are bent against the poore.

9 He lieth in wait secretly, euen as a lion in his den: he lieth in wait to spoyle the poore: he doth spoyle the poore, when hee draweth him into his net.

10 He croucheth and boweth: therefore heapes of the poore do fall by his might.

11 He hath sayd in his heart, God hath forgotten, he hideth away his face, and will neuer see.

12 Arise, O Lozde God: lift vp thine hand: forget not the poore.

13 Therefore doth the wicked contemne God: he saith in his heart, Thou wilt not regard.

a So soone as we enter into affliction, we thinke God should helpe vs, but that is not alwayes his due time.
 b The wicked man reioyceth in his owne lust: he boasteth when he hath that he would: he braggeth of his wit and wealth, and blesteth himselfe, and thus blasphemeth the Lord.
 || Or, sufficeth at. || Or, not be moued because he was neuer in euill.
 c The euill shall not touch me, Isa. 58 15 or else he speaketh thus, because he neuer felt euill.
 d He sheweth that the wicked haue many meanes to hide their crueltie, and therefore ought more to be feared.
 e By the hypocritie of them that haue authority, the poore are deuoured. f He calleth to God for helpe, because wickednes is so farre outgrown, that God must now helpe or neuer.
 g Therefore thou must needs punish this their blasphemie.

14 Yet thou hast seene it: for thou beholdest mischief and wrong, that thou mayest take it into thine hands: the poore committeth himselfe vnto thee: for thou art the helper of the fatherlesse.

15 Breake it on the arme of the wicked and malicious: feareh his wickednes, and thou shalt finde it now.

16 The Lord is King for euer and euer: the weather are destroyed forth of his land.

17 Lord, thou hast heard the desire of the poore: thou preparest their heart: thou benedict thine ear to them.

18 To iudge the fatherlesse and poore, that earthly man can cause to feare no more.

PSALM XI.

1 This Psalm containeth two parts. In the first David sheweth how hard assaults of tentations he sustained, and in how great anguish of minde hee was when Saul did persecute him. 4 Then next he reioyceth that God sent him succour in his necessitie, declaring his iustice as well in governing the good, and the wicked men, as the whole world.

To him that exelleth. A Psalm of Dauid.

1 O the Lord put I my trust: howe say yee I then to my soule, flee to your mountaine as a bird?

2 For loe, the wicked bend their bow, & make ready their arrowes vpon the string, that they may secretly shoot at them, which are vpright in heart.

3 For the foundations are cast downe: what hath the righteous done?

4 The Lozde is in his holy palace: the Lords throne is in the heauen: his eyes will consider: his eye lids will trie the children of men.

5 The Lord will trie the righteous: but the wicked and him that loueth iniquitie, doth his soule hate.

6 vpon the wicked he shall raine snares, fire, and brimstone, and stormie tempest: this is the portion of their cup.

7 For the righteous Lord leueth righteousnesse: his countenance doth beheld the iust.

dome and Gomorrah. f Which they shall drinke euen to the dregges, Ezek. 16 34.

PSALM XII.

1 The Prophet lamenting the miserable estate of the people, and the decay of all good order, desireth God speedily to send succor to his children. 7 Then comforting himselfe and others with the assurance of Gods helpe, he commendeth the constant veritie that God obserueth in keeping his promises.

To him that exelleth vpon the righte. A Psalm of Dauid.

1 O the Lord, for there is not a godly man left: for the faithfull are failed from among the children of men.

2 They speake deceitfully euery one with his neyghbour, flattering with their lips, and speake with a double heart.

3 The Lord cutt off all flattering lips, and the tongue that speaketh proud things:

h To iudge betwene the right and the wrong.
 i For thou hast vterly destroyed him.
 k The hypocrites or such as liue not after Gods lawe, shall be destroyed.
 l God helpeth when mans helpe ceaseth.
 || Or, destroy no more man vpon the earth.

a This is the wicked counsel of his enemies to him and his companions, to driue him from the hope of Gods promise.
 b All hope of succour is taken away.
 c Yet am I innocent and my cause good.
 d Though all things in earth be out of order, yet God will execute iudgement from heauen.
 e As in the destruction of Sodom and Gomorrah.

a Which dare defend truth, and shew mercy to the oppressed.
 b He meaneth flatterers of the court, which hurt him more wth their tongues than wth their weapons.

e They thinke themselves able to perseuade whosoever they take in hand. d The Lord is moued with the complaints of his, & deliuereth in the end from all dangers. e Because the Lords word and promise is true & vnable to change, he will performe it, and preferre the poore from this wicked generation. f That is, thine, though he were but one man. g For they suppresseth the godly, and maintaine the wicked.

4 Which haue said, With our tongue will wee peruaile: our lips are our owne: who is Lord ouer vs? 5 How for the oppression of the needy, and for the sighs of the poore, I will by, saith the Lord, and will set at liberty him, whom the wicked hath snared. 6 The words of the Lord are pure words, as the silver, tried in a furnace of earth, fined seven fold. 7 Thou wilt keep thē, O Lord: thou wilt preferre him from this generation for ever. 8 The wicked walke on enery side: when they are exalted, it is a shame for the sonnes of men.

6 You haue made a mocke at the counsell of the poore, because the Lord is his trust. 7 Whose saluation vnto Israel out of Zion: when the Lord turneth the captiuitie of his people, then Iacob shall reioyce, and Israel shall be glad. ¶ Note that of this Psalme, the 5. 6. & 7. verses, which are put into the common translation, & may seeme vnto some to be left out in this, are not in the same Psalme in the Hebrew text, but are rather put in, more fully to expresse the manners of the wicked: and are gathered out of the 5. 140. and 10. Psalmes, the 59. of the Prophet Isaiah, & the 36. Psalme, and are alleaged by S. Paul, and placed together in the 3. to the Romanes.

e You mocke the that put their trust in God. f He prayeth for whole Church whō he is assured God will deliuer: for none but he onely can doe it.

PSAL. XIII.

1 David as he were overcome with sundry and new afflictions, seeketh to God as his onely refuge, 3 and so at the length being encouraged through Gods promises, he conceiveth most sure confidence against the extreme horrors of death.

To him that excelleth. A Psalme of David.

How long wilt thou forget me, O Lord, how long wilt thou hide thy face from me?

2 How long shall I take counsell within my selfe, having wearied mine heart: how long shall mine enemy be exalted about me?

3 Behold, and heare mee, O Lord my God: lighten mine eyes, that I sleepe not in death:

4 Lest mine enemy say, I haue peruailed against him: and they that afflict me, reioyce when I slide.

5 But I trust in thy mercy: mine heart shall reioyce in thy saluation: I will sing to the Lord, because hee hath dealt louingly with me.

PSAL. XIII.

1 He describeth the peruerse nature of men which were so grown to licentiousnes, that God was brought to viter contempt. 7 For the which thing although he was greatly grieved, yet being perswaded that God would send some present remedie, he comforteth himselfe and others.

To him that excelleth. A Psalme of David.

The foole hath said in his heart, There is no God: they haue corrupted, and done an abominable worke: there is none that doeth good.

2 The Lord looked downe from heauen vpon the children of men, to see if there were any that would vnderstand and seeke God.

3 All are gone out of the way: they are all corrupt: there is none that doeth good, no not one.

4 Doe not all the workers of iniquity knowe that they eate vp my people, as they eate bread? they call not vpon the Lord.

5 Where they shall be taken with feare because God is in the generation of the iust.

a He declareth that his afflictions lasted a long time, and that his faith fainted not. b Changing my purpose as the sicke man doeth his places. c Which might turne to Gods dishonor, if he did not defend his. d The mercie of God is the cause of our saluation. e Both by the benefites past, & by others to come.

Psal. 53. 1. a He sheweth that the cause of all wickednesse is to forget God. b There is nothing but disorder and wickednesse among them. c David here speaketh of the faithfull & the reprobate: but S Paul speaketh the same of all men naturally, Rom. 3. 10. d Where they thinke themselves most sure.

PSAL. XV.

1 This Psalme teacheth on what condition God did chuse the Lewes for his peculiar people, and wherefore he placed his Temple among them, which was to the intent that they by liuing uprightly & godly might witness that they were his special and holy people.

A Psalme of David.

Lord, who shall dwell in thy Tabernacle? who shall rest in thine holy mountaine?

2 He that walketh byrightly and worketh righteousnesse, and speakech the truth in his heart.

3 Hee that slandereth not with his tongue, nor doeth euill to his neighbour, nor receiveth a false report against his neighbour.

4 In whose eyes a vile person is contemned, but hee honoureth them that feare the Lord: hee that sweareth to his owne hindrance and changeth not.

5 He that giveth not his money vnto vulture, nor taketh reward against the innocent: hee that doeth these things, shall neuer be mooued.

PSAL. XVI.

1 David prayeth to God for succour, not for his workes, but for his fastis sake, 4 Professing that he hateth all idolatry, taking God onely for his comfort and felicitie, 8 who suffereth his to lacke nothing.

A Hictram of David.

Preserue mee, O God: for in thee doe I trust.

2 O my soule, thou hast said vnto the Lord, Thou art my Lord: my wel doing extendeth not to thee,

3 But to the Saints that are in the earth, and to the excellent: all my delight is in them.

4 The sorrowes of them, that offer to another God, shall be multiplied: their offerings of blood will I not offer, neither make mention of their names with my lips.

5 The Lord is the portion of mine inheritance, and of my cup: thou shalt maintaine my lot.

6 The lines are fallen vnto me in pleasant places, yea, I haue a faire heritage.

 11 Thou wilt shew me the path of life: in thy presence is the fulnesse of ioy: and at thy right hand there are pleasures for evermore.
 k Where God fauoureth, there is perfect felicity.

PSAL. XVII.

a Here he complaineth to God of the crueltie and arrogancy of Saul and the rest of his enemies, who thus rag'd without any cause giuen on his part. b Therefore he desireth God to reuenge his innocencie, and deliuer him.

The prayer of Dauid.

Hear, O Lord, consider my cry: hearken vnto my prayer of lips vnfained.
 2 Let my sentence come forth from thy presence, and let thine eyes behold equitie.
 3 Thou hast spoiled and visited mine heart in the night: thou hast tryed me, and foundest nothing: for I was purposed that my mouth should not offend.
 4 Concerning the works of men, by the words of thy lips I kept me from the pathes of the cruell man.
 5 Stay my steps in thy pathes, that my feete doe not slide.
 6 I haue called vpon thee: surely thou wilt heare me, O God: incline thine eare to me, and hearken vnto my words.
 7 Shew thy maruelous mercies, thou that art the Saviour of them that trust in thee, from such as resist thy right hand.
 8 Keepe me as the apple of the eye: hide me vnder the shadow of thy wings,

 10 They are inclosed in their owne fat, and they haue spoken poudely with their mouth.
 11 They haue compassed vs now in our steps: they haue set their eyes to bring down to the ground:

 13 Up Lord, disappoint him: cast him downe: deliuer my soule from the wicked with thy sword, PSAL. XVIII.

a This Psalm is the first beginning of his gratulation and thanksgiving in the entering into his kingdome, wherein he extollet and prayseth his nobly by the maruelous mercies and grace of God, who hath thus preserved and defended him. b Also he setteth forth the image of Christs kingdome, that the faithfull may be assured that Christ shall alwayes conquer and overcome by the vnspeakable power of his Father, though all the whole world should rise thereagainst.

Go him that excellet. A Psalm of Dauid the seruant of the Lord, which spake vnto the Lord the words of this song (in the day that the Lord deliuered him from the hand of all his enemies, & from the hand of Saul) and sayd,

I will loue thee dearely, O Lord my strength.
 2 The Lord is my rocke, and my fortress, and hee that deliuereth me, my God and my strength: in him will I trust, my shield, the hope also of my saluation, and my refuge.
 3 I will call vpon the Lord, which is worthy to be praised: so that I be safe from mine enemies.
 4 The sorowes of death compassed me, and the floods of wickednesse made mee afraid.
 5 The sorowes of the graue haue compassed me about: the snares of death overtook me.
 6 But in my trouble did I call vpon the Lord, and cried vnto my God: he heard my voice out of his Temple, & my cry did come before him, euen into his eares.
 7 Then the earth trembled, and quaked: the foundations also of the mountaines mooued and shooke, because he was angry.
 8 Smoke went out of his nostrils, and a consuming fire out of his mouth: coales were kindled thereat.
 9 He bowed the heauens also and came downe, and darkenesse was vnder his feete.
 10 And he rode vpon Cherub and did flie, and he came flying vpon the wings of the winde.
 11 He made darkenesse his secret place, & his pavilion round about him, euen darknesse of waters, and cloudes of the ayre.
 12 At the brightnesse of his presence his clouds passed, hallelstones and coales of fire.
 13 The Lord also thundred in the heauen, and the highest gaue his voyce, hallelstones and coales of fire.
 14 Then he sent out his arrowes and scattered them, and he increased lightnings and destroyed them.

17 And the chanel of waters were seene, and the foundations of the world were disclosed at thy rebulking, O Lord, at the blasting of the breath of thy nostrils.
 18 He hath sent downe from aboue, and taken me: he hath drawen me out of many waters.
 19 He hath deliuered me from my strong enemy, and from them which hate mee: for they were too strong for me.
 20 They persecuted me in the day of my calamitie: but the Lord was my stay.
 21 He brought me forth also into a large place: he deliuered me because he fauoured mee.
 22 The Lord rewarded me according to my righteousness: according to the purenesse of mine hands he recompensed me:
 23 Because I kept the waies of the Lord, and did not wickedly against my God.
 24 For all his lawes were before me, and I did not cast away his commandements from me.
 25 I was bright also with him, & haue kept me from my wickednesse.

 29 What thou wilt see the poore people, and wilt cast downe the proud lookes.
 30 Surely thou wilt light my candle: the Lord my God will lighten my darkenesse.
 31 For by thee I haue broken through an host, and by thy God I haue leaped ouer a wall.
 32 The way of God is incorrupt: the word of the Lord is tried in the fire: he is a shield to all that trust in him.
 33 For who is God besides the Lord? and who is mighty saue our God?
 34 God giueth me with strength, and maketh my way vpright.
 35 He maketh my feete like vlnides feete, and setteth me vpon mine high places.
 36 Hee teacheth mine hands to fight: so that a bowe of brass is broken with mine armes.
 37 Thou hast also giuen me the shield of thy saluation, and thy right hand hath stayed me, and thy louing kindnesse hath cauled me to triefesse.
 38 Thou hast enlarged my steps vnder me, and mine heeles haue not slid.
 39 I haue pursued mine enemies, and taken them, and haue not turned againe till I had consumed them.
 40 I haue wounded them, that they were not able to rise: they are fallen vnder my feete.

39 For thou hast girded me with strength to battell: them, that rose against me, thou hast subdued vnder me.
 40 And thou hast giuen me the neckes of mine enemies, that I might destroy them that hate me.
 41 They cried, but there was none to saue them, euen vnto the Lord, but he answered them not.
 42 Then I did beate them small as the dust before the wind: I did tread them flat as the clay in the streetes.
 43 Thou hast deliuered me from the contentious of the people: thou hast made mee the head of the sea heathen: a people, whom I haue not knowen, shall feare me.

11 Doleauer by them is thy seruant made circumspect, and in keeping of them there is great reward.

12 Who can understand his faultes: cleane me from secret faults.

13 Keepe thy seruant also from presumptuous finnes: let them not reigne ouer me: so shall I bee bright, and made cleane from much wickednesse.

PSAL. XX.

1 A prayer of the people vnto God, that it would please him to heare their king, and receiue his sacrifice which he offered before he went to battell against the Amorrhites.

To him that excelleth. A Psalm of Dauid.

The Lord heare thee in the day of trouble: the Name of the God of Iacob defend thee:

2 Send thee helpe from the Sanctuary, and strengthen thee out of Zion.

3 Let him remember all thine offerings, and turne thy burnt offerings into ashes. Selah:

4 And graunt thee according to thine heart, and fulfill all thy desires:

5 That we may reioyce in thy saluation, and set vp by the banner in the Name of our God, when the Lord shall performe all thy petitions.

6 Now knowe I that the Lord will helpe his anoynted, and will heare him from his Sanctuary by the mighty helpe of his right hand.

7 Some was in chariots, and some in horses: but we will remember the Name of the Lord our God.

8 They are brought downe and fallen, but we are risen, and stand by might.

9 Some Lord: let the King heare vs in the day that we call.

10 The worldlings that put not their only trust in God. 11 Be the king able to deliuer vs by thy strength, when we seeke vnto him for succour.

PSAL. XXI.

1 Dauid is the person of the people praise God for the victory attributing it to God, and not to the strength of man. When the holy Ghost directeth the faithful to Christ, who is the perfection of this kingdome.

To him that excelleth. A Psalm of Dauid.

The King shall reioyce in thy strength, O Lord: yea, how greatly shall hee reioyce in thy saluation!

2 Thou hast giuen him his hearts desire, and hast not denyed him the request of his lips. Selah.

3 For thou diddest prevent him with liberall blessings, and diddest set a crowne of pure gold vpon his head.

4 Hee asked life of thee, and thou gauest him a long life for euer and euer.

5 His glory is great in thy saluation: dignitie and honour hast thou laid vpon him.

6 For thou hast let him as blessings for euer: thou hast made him glad with the toy of thy countenance.

7 Because the king trusteth in the Lord, and in the mercy of the most High, hee shall not slide.

8 Thyne hand shall finde out all thine enemies, and thy right hand shall finde out them that hate thee.

9 Thou shalt make them like a fierie oven in time of thine anger: the Lord shall destroy them in his wrath, and the fire shall deuoure them.

10 Their fruite shalt thou destroy from the earth, and their seede from the chylidren of men.

11 For they intended euill against thee, and imagined mischief, but they shall not preuaile.

12 Therefore shalt thou put them apart, and the strings of thy bowe shalt thou make ready against their faces.

13 Againe they cried, O Lord, in thy strength: so will we sing & praise thy power.

14 As a marke to shooe at. 15 Maintaine thy Church against thine aduersaries, that we may haue ample occasion to praise thy Name.

PSAL. XXII.

1 Dauid complained because hee was brought into such extremities, that he was past all hope: but after hee had rehearsed the sorowes and grieues wherewith he was vexed, 10 He recovereth himselfe from the bottomles pit of temptation, & groweth in hope. And here vnder his owne person hee setteth forth the figure of Christ, whom he did see by the spirit of prophecie, that hee should maruolously and strangely be delected & abased, before his father should raise and exalt him againe.

To him that excelleth vpon Aduelch. A Psalm of Dauid.

My God, my God, why hast thou forsaken mee, and art so farr from mine heath, and from the words of my roaring?

2 O my God, I crye by day, but thou hearest not, and by night, but haue no audience.

3 But thou art holy, and dwelt in habitation: I am in desperation. b Being persecuted with extreme anguish, I cease not.

a When he shall ouercome his enemies, and so be assured of his vocation.

b Thou declaredst thy liberall fauour toward him before hee prayed.

c Dauid did not onely obtain life but also assurance that his posterity should reigne for euer.

d Thou hast made him thy Blessings to others, & a perpetual example of thy fauour for euer.

e Here he describeth the power of Christs Kingdome, against the enemies thereof.

f This teacheth vs patiently to endure the crosse till God destroy the aduersarie.

g They said as it were their nets to make: Gods power to giue place to their wicked enterprises.

h As a marke to shooe at.

i Maintaine thy Church against thine aduersaries, that we may haue ample occasion to praise thy Name.

10 He recovereth himselfe from the bottomles pit of temptation, & groweth in hope.

11 For they intended euill against thee, and imagined mischief, but they shall not preuaile.

12 Therefore shalt thou put them apart, and the strings of thy bowe shalt thou make ready against their faces.

13 Againe they cried, O Lord, in thy strength: so will we sing & praise thy power.

14 As a marke to shooe at.

15 Maintaine thy Church against thine aduersaries, that we may haue ample occasion to praise thy Name.

16 He recovereth himselfe from the bottomles pit of temptation, & groweth in hope.

17 For they intended euill against thee, and imagined mischief, but they shall not preuaile.

18 Therefore shalt thou put them apart, and the strings of thy bowe shalt thou make ready against their faces.

19 Againe they cried, O Lord, in thy strength: so will we sing & praise thy power.

20 As a marke to shooe at.

21 Maintaine thy Church against thine aduersaries, that we may haue ample occasion to praise thy Name.

22 He recovereth himselfe from the bottomles pit of temptation, & groweth in hope.

e He meaneth the place of praising, even the Tabernacle: or els it is so called, because he gave the people continually occasion to praise him.

d And seeming most miserable of all creatures, which was meant of Christ. And herein appeareth the unspeakable loue of God toward man, that he would thus abase his Sonne for our sakes.

Mat. 27. 43.

e Even from my birth thou hast giuen me occasion to trust in thee.

f For except Gods prouidence preferre the infants, they should perish a thousand times in the mothers wombe.

g He meaneth, that they were to be so late, proud and cruell, that they were rather beastes than men.

h Before hee spake of the crueltye of his enemies, and now hee declareth the inward griefes of the minde, so that Christ was tormented, both in soule and body.

i Thou hast suffered me to be without all hope of life.

k Thus Dauid complaineth as though he were nailed by his enemies both hands and feete: but this was accomplished in Christ.

l My life that is solitary, left alone, and forsaken of all, Psal. 35. 17. and 25. 16. m Christ is deliuered with a more mighty deliuerance by ouercomming death, then if hee had not tasted death at all. the praises of Israel.

4 Our fathers trusted in thee: they trusted, and thou didst deliuer them.

5 They called vpon thee, and were deliuered: they trusted in thee, and were not confounded.

6 But I am a woman, and not a man: a shame of men, and the contempt of the people.

7 All they that see me, haue me in derision: they make a moue and nod the head, saying,

8 I trusted in the Lord, let him deliuer him: let him saue him, seeing hee looueth him.

9 But thou diddest draw me out of the wombe: thou gauest me hope, euen as my mothers breasts.

10 I was cast vpon thee, euen from the wombe: thou art my God from my mothers belly.

11 We not farre from me, because trouble is neere: for there is none to helpe me.

12 Many yong buls haue compassed me: mightie bulles of Bashan haue closed me about.

13 They gape vpo me with their mouthes, as a ramping and roaring lion.

14 I am like water powred out, and all my bones are out of ioynt: mine heart is like waxe: it is molten in the middes of my bowels.

15 My strength is dreyed by like a portsheard, & my tongue cleaueth to my iawes, and thou hast brought me into the dust of death.

16 For dogges haue compassed mee, and the assembly of the wicked haue inclosed mee: they pierced mine hands and my feete.

17 I may tell all my bones: yet they bebold, and looke vpon me.

18 They part my garments among them, and cast lots vpon my vesture.

19 But be not thou farr off, O Lord, my strength: hasten to helpe me.

20 Deliuer my soule from the sword: my desolate soule from the power of the dog.

21 Saue me from the lions mouth, and answer me in sauing me from the hornes of the vntowes.

22 I will declare thy Name vnto my brethren: in the mids of the Congregation will I praise thee, saying,

23 Praise the Lorde, yee that feare him: magnifie ye him, all the seede of Iacob, and feare yee him, all the seede of Israel.

24 For he hath not despised nor abhorred the affliction of the poore: neither hath hee hid his face from him, but when hee called vnto him, he heard.

25 Why praise shall be of thee in the great congregation: my prayers will I performe before thee that feare him.

26 The poore shall eate and be satisfied: they that seeke after the Lorde, shall prayle him: your heart shall liue for euer.

27 All the endes of the world shall remember themselves, and turne to the Lord: and all the kindreds of the nations shall worship before thee.

28 For the kingdome is the Lords, and hee ruleth among the nations.

29 All they that be fat in the earth, shall eate and worship: all they that goe downe into the dust, shall bow before him, euen he that cannot quicken his owne soule.

30 Their seed shall serue him: it shall be counted vnto the Lord for a generation.

31 They shall come, and shall declare his righteousness vnto a people that shall bee borne, because hee hath done it.

A Psalm of David.

Vnto thee, O Lord lift I vp my soule. 2 My God, I trust in thee: let mee not be confounded: let not mine enemies reioyce ouer me.

3 So all that hope in thee, shall not be ashamed: but let them be confounded, that transgresse without cause.

4 Shewe mee thy wayes, O Lord, and teach me thy pathes.

5 Lead me forth in thy trueth, and teach me: for thou art the God of my saluation: in thee doe I trust all the day.

P S A L. XXVI.

David oppressed with many iniuries, finding no helpe in the world, calleth for ayde from God: and assured of his integritie toward Saul, desireth God to be his iudge, and to defend his innocencie. 6 Finally, he maketh mentio of his sacrifice, which he will offer for his deliuerance, and desireth to be in the company of the faithfull in the Congregation of God, whence hee was banished by Saul, promising integritie of life, and open praises and thankesgiuing.

A Psalm of David.

Iudge me, O Lord, for I haue walked in mine innocencie: my trust hath benee also in the Lord: therefore shall I not slide.

PSALM. XXVII.

1 David maketh this Psalm being deliuered from great perils, as appeareth by the prayes and thankes giuing annexed: 6 Wherein we may see the constant faith of Dauid against the assaults of all his enemies, 7 And also the end wherefore he desireth to liue and to be deliuered, only to worship God in his Congregation.

A Psalm of Dauid.

The Lord is my light and my saluation, to whom shall I feare? the Lorde is the strength of my life, of whom shall I be afraid?

2 When the wicked, euen mine enemies and my foes came vpon mee to eate vp my flesh, they stumbled and fell.

3 Though an hoste pitched against mee, mine heart should not be a frayde: though warre bee rayled against me, I will trust in the Lord.

4 One thing haue I desired of the Lord, that I will require, euen that I may dwell in the house of the Lorde all the dayes of my life, to beholde the beauty of the Lord, and to visite his Temple.

5 For in the time of trouble he shall hide me in his Tabernacle: in the secret place of his pavilion shall he hide me, and set mee vp vpon a rocke.

6 And now shall hee lift vp mine head about mine enemies round about me: therefore wil I offer in his Tabernacle sacrifices of ioy: I will sing and praise the Lord.

7 Hearken vnto my voyce, O Lord, when I cry: haue mercy also vpon me and heare me.

8 When thou saidest, Seeke yee my face, mine heart answered vnto thee, O Lord, I will seeke thy face.

9 Hide not therefore thy face from me, nor cast thy seruant away in displeasure: thou hast bene my succour: leaue me not, neither forsake me, O God of my saluation.

10 Though my father and my mother should forsake me, yet the Lord will gather me vp.

11 Teach me thy way, O Lord, and lead me in a right path, because of mine enemies.

12 Giue mee not vnto the lust of mine aduersaries: for they are false witnessen risen vp against me, & such as speake cruelly.

13 I should haue fainted, except I had beleued to see the goodness of the Lord in the land of the liuing.

14 Hope in the Lord: be strong, and hee shall comfort thine heart, and trust in the Lord.

a Because he was assured of good successe in all his dangers, and that his saluation was surely layd vp in God, he feared not the tyranny of his enemies.
b That God will deliuer me, and giue my faith the victory.
c The losse of countrey, wife, and all worldly commodities grieue me not in respect of this one thing, that I may not praise thy name in the mids of the congregation.
d Dauid assured himselfe by the Spirit of propheticke, that he should overcome his enemies, and serue God in his Tabernacle.
e He groundeth vpon Gods promise, and sheweth that he is most willing to obey his commandement.
f He magnifieth Gods loue toward his, which saue pasteth the most tender loue of parents toward their children.
g But either pacifie their wrath, or bridle their rage. h In this present life before I die, as Isa. 38. 11. i Hee exhorted himselfe to depend on the Lord, seeing he neuer failed in his promises.

PSALM. XXVIII.
1 Being in great feare and beaumes of heart to see God dishonoured by the wicked, he desireth to be rid of them, 4 And cryeth for vengeance against them: And at length assureth himselfe that God hath heard his prayer. 9 Vnto whose iustice he commendeth all the faithfull.

A Psalm of Dauid.

Vnto thee O Lorde, doe I cry: O my strength, be not deaf to toward mee, least, if thou answer me not, I be like them that goe Downe into the pit.

2 Heare the voyce of my petitions, when I cry vnto thee, wher I hold vp mine hands toward thine holy Oracle.

3 Draw me not away with the wicked, and with the workers of iniquitie: which speake friendly to their neighbours, when malice is in their hearts.

4 Reward the according to their deeds, and according to the wickednes of their intentions: recompense them after the worke of their hands: render them their reward.

5 For they regard not the workes of the Lord, nor the operation of his hands: therefore breake them downe, and builde them not vp.

6 Praised be the Lord, for he hath heard the voyce of my petitions.

7 The Lord is my strength, & my shield: mine heart trusted in him, and I was helped: therefore mine heart shall reioyce, and with my song will I praise him.

8 The Lord is a their strength, & he is the strength of the deliuerances of his anointed.

9 Saue thy people, & blesse thine inheritance: feed them also, & exalt them for ever.

e Let them be vterly destroyed, as Malac. 1. 4. f Because he felt the assurance of Gods helpe in his heart, his mouth was opened to sing his praises. g Meaning, his soldiets, who were as meanes, by whom God declared his power.

PSALM. XXIX.

1 The Prophet exhorted the princes & rulers of the world, (which for the most part thinke there is no God.) 3 As the least to feare him for the thunders and tempests, for feare whereof all creatures tremble. 11 And though thereby God threateneth sinners, yet is he alwayes mercifull to his, and moueth them thereby to praise his Name.

A Psalm of Dauid.

3 The voyce of the Lord is vpon the waters: the God of glory maketh it to thunder; the Lord is vpon the great waters.

4 The voyce of the Lord is mightie: the voyce of the Lord is glorious.

5 The voyce of the Lord breaketh the cedars: yea, the Lord breaketh the cedars of Lebanon.

P S A L. XXX.

When Dauid was deliuered fro great danger, he rendered thanks to God, exhorting others to doe the like, & to learne by his example, that God is rather mercifull then seuer. & is good towards his children, & And also that the fall from prosperitie to aduersity is sudden. 8 This done, he returneth to prayer, promising to praise God for ever.

A Psalm or song of the dedication of the house of Dauid.

1 What magnific thee, O Lord: for thou hast repaid me, and halt not made my foes to reioyce ouer me.

2 O Lord my God, I cryed vnto thee, and thou hast reposed me.

3 O Loide, thou hast brought my soule out of the grane: thou hast reuined me from them that goe downe into the pit.

4 Sing praises vnto the Lord, pee his Saints, & giue thanks before the remembrance of his holinesse.

5 For he endureth but a while in his anger: but in his fauour is life: weeping may abide at evening, but joy cometh in the morning.

6 And in my prosperitie I sayd, I shall neuer be moued.

7 For thou Lord of thy goodnesse haddest made my mountaine to stande strong: but thou diddest hide thy face, and I was troubled.

8 Then cryed I vnto thee, O Loide, and prayed to my Lord.

9 What profite is there in my blood, when I goe downe to the pit: shall the dust giue thanks vnto thee: or shall it declare thy truely?

10 Heare, O Lord, and haue mercy vpon me: Lord, be thou mine helper.

11 Thou hast turned my mourning into joy: thou hast loosed my lacke and girded me with gladnesse.

12 Therefore shall my tongue praise thee and not cease: O Lord my God, I will giue thanks vnto thee for ever.

P S A L. XXXI.

Dauid deliuered from some great danger, first rehearsed what meditation he had by the power of faith, when death was before his eyes, his enemy being ready to take him 15 Then he affirmeth that the fauour of God is alwayes ready to those that feare him 20 Finally, he exhorteth all the faithfull to trust in God, and to loue him because hee preserueth & strengentheth them, as they may see by his example.

A Psalm that exceleth. A Psalm of Dauid.

1 I will thee, O Lord, haue I put my trust: let me neuer be confounded: deliuer me in thy righteoufnesse.

2 Bow downe thine care to mee: make haste to deliuer mee: bee vnto mee a strong rocke, and an house of defence to saue me.

3 For thou art my rocke, and my fortress: therefore for thy names sake direct mee and guide me.

4 Drawe mee out of the net, that they haue layde priuily for mee: for thou art my strength.

5 Into thine hand I commend my spirit: for thou hast redeemed me, O Lord God of truth.

6 I haue hated them that giue themselves to deceitfull vanities: for I trust in the Lord.

7 I will be glad and reioyce in thy mercie: for thou hast seene my tribles: thou hast known my soule in aduersities.

8 And thou hast not thur me vp in y hand of the enemy, but hast set my feet at large.

9 Haue mercy vpon mee, O Lord: for I am in trouble: mine eye, my soule & my belly are confirmed with griefe.

10 For my life is wasted with heauinesse, and my yeres with mourning: my strength faileth for my paynt, and my bones are consumed.

11 I was a reproch among all mine enemies, but especially among my neighbours: and a feare to mine acquaintance, who seeing me in the street, fled from me.

12 I am forgotten, as a dead man out of mind: I am like a broken vessel.

13 For I haue heard the railing of great men: feare was on every side, while they conspired together against me, and consulted to take my life.

14 But I trusted in thee, O Lord: I said, Thou art my God.

15 Why times are in thine hand: deliuer me from the hand of mine enemies, and from them that persecute mee.

16 Wake thy face to shine vpon thy seruant, and saue me through thy mercy.

17 Let me not be confounded, O Lord: for I haue called vpon thee: let the wicked bee put to confusion, & to silence in the grane.

18 Let the lying tippes bee made dumbe, which cruelly, proudly, and spitefully speake against the righteous.

19 Howe great is thy goodnesse, which thou hast layde vp for them that feare thee, and done to them that trust in thee, euen befoze the sonnes of men!

PSAL. XXXII.

1 David punished with greivous sicknesse for his sinnes, counteth them blessed, to whom God doth not impute their transgressions. 5 And after that hee had confessed his sinnes and obtained pardon, 6 Hee exhorteth the wicked men to lue godly, 11 And the good to reioyce.

A Psalme of David to giue instruction. Blessed is he whose wickednesse is forggiuen, and whose sinne is covered.

Blessed is the man vnto whom the Lord imputeth not iniquity, and in whose spiritte there is no guile.

3 When I helde my tongue, my bones consumed, or when I roared all the day,

4 (For thine hand is heavy vpon me, day and night: and my moisture is turned into the drought of Summer. Selah.)

5 Then I acknowledged my sinne vnto thee, neither hidde I mine iniquity: for I thought, I will confesse against my selfe my wickednes vnto the Lord, and thou forgaiest the punishment of my sinne. Selah.

6 Therefore shal every one that is godly, make his prayer vnto thee in a time when thou mayest be found: surely in the flood of great waters they shal not come neere him.

7 Thou art my secreet place: thou preferrest mee from trouble: thou compassedst me about with ioyfull deliuerance. Selah.

8 I will instruct thee, and teach thee in the way that thou shalt goe, and I will guide thee with my mine eye.

9 Be ye not like an horse, or like a mule, which vnderstand not: whose mouthes thou dost binde with bit & bridle, least they come neere thee.

10 Many sorowes shall come to the wicked: but he that trusteth in the Lord, mercie shall compass him.

11 Be glad ye righteous, and reioyce in the Lord, and bee ioyfull all ye, that are vp-right in heart.

12 David promiseth to make the rest of Gods children partakers of the benefices, which he felt, & that he will diligently look and take care to direct them in the way of saluation. i If men can rule brute beasts, thinke they that God will not bridle and tame their rage? k He sheweth, that peace and ioy of conscience in the holy Ghost is the fruite of faith.

PSAL. XXXIII.

1 Hee exhorteth good men to praise God, for that he hath not onely created al things, & by his proudence governeth the same, but also is faithful in his promises. 10 Hee vnderstandeth mans heart, and scattereth the counsell of the wicked, 16 For no man can bee preserued by any creature or mans strength: but they that put their confidence in his mercy, shal be preserued from all aduersities.

2 Praise the Lord in harpe: sing vnto him with viol, and instrument of ten strings.

3 Sing vnto him a new song: sing cheerfully with a loud voyce.

4 For the word of the Lord is righteous, and all his works are faithful.

5 He toucheth righteoulines & iudgement: the earth is full of the goodnes of the Lord.

6 By the word of the Lord were the heauens made, and all the hoste of them by the breath of his mouth.

7 He gathereth the waters of the sea together as vpon an heap, and layeth by the depths in his treasures.

8 Let all the earth feare the Lord: let all them that dwell in the world, feare him.

9 For he spake, and it was done: he commanded, and it stood.

10 The Lord breaketh the counsell of the heathen, and bringeth to nought the devices of the people.

11 The counsell of the Lord shall stand for ener, & the thoughts of his heart throughout all ages.

12 Blessed is that nation, whose God is the Lord: euen the people, that he hath chosen for his inheritance.

13 The Lord looketh downe from heauen, and beholdeth all the children of men.

14 From the habitation of his dwelling he beholdeth al them that dwell in the earth.

15 He fashioneth their hearts every one, and vnderstandeth all their works.

16 The King is not saved by the multitude of an hoste, neither is the mightie man deliuered by great strength.

17 A hoste is a vaine helpe, and shall not deliuer any by his great strength.

18 Beholde, the eye of the Lord is vpon them that feare him, and vpon them, that trust in his mercy.

them that strue with mee: fight thou against them that fight against me.

2 Lay hand vpon the shield and buck-ler, and stand vp for mine helpe.

3 Bring out all the ipeare, and stop the way against them that persecute me: say vnto my soule, I am thy saluation.

4 Let them bee confounded and put to shame, that seeke after my soule: let them be turned backe and brought to confusion, that imagine mine hurt.

5 Let them be as chaffe before the wind, and let the Angel of the Lord scatter them.

6 Let their way be darke and slipperie:
let the Angel of the Lord persecute them.

7 For without cause they haue hid the pit and their net for me: without cause haue they digged a pit for my soule.

8 Let destruction come vpon him at

P S A L. XXXV.

1 So long as Saul was enemy to Dauid, all that had any authority vnder him to flatter their king (as u the course of the world) did also most cruelly persecute Dauid: against whom he prayeth God to p In token of contempt and mocking.

 Or, clefs of the earth: meaning himselfe and others in their misery.
 q They reioyced as though they had now scene Dauid overthrowen.
 r It is the iustice of God to giue to the oppressours affliction and torment, and to the oppressed aide and reliefe.
 2. Thess. 1. 6.
 s Becomes wee haue that which wee fought for seeing he is destroyed.
 t That is, at once, were they neuer so many or mightie.
 u This prayer shal alwayes be writted against them that persecute y faithful. x That at least fauour my right, though they be not able to helpe me. y He exhortheth the Church to praise God for the deliuerance of his seruants, and for the destruccion of his aduersaries.

uiniuily reioyce ouer mee, neither let them pynke with the eye, that hate mee without a cause.
 20 For they speake not as friends: but they imagine deceitfull words against the gutter of the land.
 21 And they gaped vpon mee with their mouthes, saying, Aha, aha, our eye hath scene.
 22 Thou hast scene it, O Lord: keepe not silence: be not farr from me, O Lord.
 23 Arise and waxe to my iudgement, euen to my cause, my God, and my Lord.
 24 Iudge mee, O Lord my God, according to thy righte ouerlesse, and let them not reioyce ouer me.
 25 Let them not say in their hearts, O our soule reioyce: neither let them say, Wee haue deuoured him.
 26 Let them be confounded, and put to shame together, that reioyce at mine hurt: let them be clothed with confusion & shame, that lift vp their ielousy against me.
 27 But let them be ioyfull and glad, that loue my righte ouerlesse: yea, let them say alway, Let the Lord bee magnified, which loueth the prosperitie of his seruant.
 28 And my tongue shall utter thy righte ouerlesse, and thy praise euer day.

PSALM XXXVII.

a The Prophet grievously vexed by the wicked, doth complaine of their malicious wickednesse.
 b Then he turneth to consider the wise & goodnes of God toward all creatures: c But specially toward his children, that by the faith thereof, bee may be comforted & assured of his deliuerance, and by the ordinary course of Gods worke, d who is the end destroyer of the wicked and sauerh the iust.
 e To him that excellen. A Psalme of Dauid the seruant of the Lord.

Wickednesse saith to the wicked man, euen in mine heart, that there is no feare of God before his eyes.
 2 For he flattereth himselfe in his owne eyes, while his iniquitie is found worthy to be hated.
 3 The words of his mouth are iniquitie and deceit, hee hath left off to vnderstand and to doe good.
 4 Hee imagineth mischief vpon his bed: hee seetheth himselfe vpon a way, that is not good, and doeth not abhorre euill.
 5 Thy mercy, O Lord, reacheth vnto the heauen, and thy faithfullnes vnto the clouds.
 6 Thy righte ouerlesse is like the mightie mountaines, thy iudgements are like a great deepe: thou, Lord, dost slaine man and beast.
 7 How excellent is thy mercie, O God!

d By describing at large the nature of the reprobate, he admonisheth the godly to be ware of their vices. e Though wickednesse seemeth to our shew all the world, yet by thine heavenly providence thou governest heauen and earth. f Ebr the nou. taxes of God: for what soeuer is excellent is thus called. g The depth of thy prouidence, prouideth all things, and disposeth them, albe it the wicked seeme to ouerwhelme the world.

therefore the children of men trust vnder the shadow of thy wings.
 8 They shal bee satisfied with the fatnes of thine house, and thou shalt giue them drinke out of the ruer of thy pleasures.
 9 For with thee is the well of life, and in thy light shall wee see light.
 10 Extend thy louing kindnes vnto them that know thee, and thy righte ouerlesse vnto them that are by right in heart.
 11 Let not the feare of paine come against me, and let not the hand of the wicked moue me.
 12 Where they are fallen that worke iniquitie: they are cast downe, and shall not be able to rise.
 13 Where they are fallen that worke iniquitie: they are cast downe, and shall not be able to rise.
 14 There they are fallen that worke iniquitie: they are cast downe, and shall not be able to rise.
 15 That is, in their pride, wherein they flatter themselves.

PSALM XXXVII.

1 This Psalme concerneth exhortation and consolation of the weak, that are grieved at the prosperitie of the wicked, and the affliction of the godly.
 2 For his prosperitie only serueth the wicked as a liue for the time, he doth assure me their felicitie to be vaine & transitorie, because they are wor in the fauour of God, but in the end they are destroyed as bu. in mes. 11 and how miserably that the righteous seemeth to liue in the world, yet his end is peace, and he is in the fauour of God, he is deliuered from the wicked, and preserved.

A Psalme of Dauid.

Ret not thy selfe because of the wicked men, neither be enuious for the euill doers.
 2 For they shall soone be cut downe like the gras, and shall wither as the greene herbe.
 3 Trust thou in the Lord & do good: dwell in the land, and thou shalt be made iustly.
 4 And delight thy selfe in the Lord, and he shall giue thee thine hearts desire.
 5 Commit thy way vnto the Lord, and trust in him, and hee shall bring it to passe.
 6 And he shall bring forth thy righte ouerlesse as the light, and thy iudgement as the noone day.
 7 Wait patiently vpon the Lord, & hope in him: fret not thy selfe for him, which prospereth in his way: nor for the man that bringeth his euill rapines to passe.
 8 Cease from anger, and leaue off wrath: fret not thy selfe: also to do euill.
 9 For euill doers shalbe cut off, & they that wait vpon y Lord, they shal inherit the land.
 10 Therefore yet a litle while, and the wicked shall not appeare, and thou shalt looke after his place, and hee shall not be found.
 11 But meeke men shall possesse the earth, and shal haue their delight in the multitude of peace.

a He admonisheth vs neither to vexe our selues for the prosperitie of the wicked, neither to desire to be like them to make our estate the better.
 b For Gods iudgement cutteth downe their state in a moment.
 c To trust in God, and to doe according to his will, are iure tokens y his prouidence will neuer faile vs.
 d Benot led by thine owne wisdom, but obey God, and he will finish his worke in thee.
 e As the hope of the day light causeth vs not to be offended with the darkenes of the night: so ought we patiently to trust y God will clear our cause, & restore vs to our right. f When God suffereth the wicked to prosper, it seemeth to the flesh that hee fauoureth their doings, Job. 21. 7. & c. g Maning, except he moderate his aff. Aions, he shall be led to doe as they doe. h He correcteth the impatience of our nature, which cannot abide till the fullnesse of Gods time be come. Mar 5. 1. The godly are assured that the power and creat. of the wicked shall not preuaile against them, but fall on their owne neckes, and therefore ought patiently to abide Gods time, and in the meane while beaile their finnes, and offer vp their teares as a sacrifice of their obedience.

k For they are daily fed as with Manna from heauen, and haue sufficient, when the wicked haue neuer enough, but euer hunger. l God knoweth what dangers hang ouer his, and by what meanes to deliuer them. m For God will giue them contented minds, and that which shalbe necessary. n They shal vanish away suddenly: for they are fed for the day of slaughter. o God so furnisheth him with his blessing, that he is able to helpe others. p God prospereth the faithfull, because they walke in his wayes with an vpright conscience. q When God doeth exercise his faith with diuers tentions. r Though the iust man die, yet Gods blessings are extended to his posteritie. s Though God suffer some iust man to lacke temporall benefits, yet he recompenseth him with spirituall treasures. t They shal continually be preserved vnder Gods wings, and hence at least inward rest. u These three paynes are required of the faithfull, that their talke be godly, that Gods Law be in their heart, and that their life be vpright. u For though it be sometime so expedient both for Gods glory and their saluation, yet he will approue their cause, and reuenge their wrong. x So that the prosperitie of the wicked is but as a cloud, which vanissheth away in a moment.

tust, and gnasheth his teeth against him.

12 But the Lord shall laugh him to scorn: for he seeth that his day is coming.

14 The wicked haue drawen their sword, and haue bent their bow, to cast downe the poore and needy, and to slay such as be of vpright conuerfation.

15 But their sword shall enter into their owne heart, and their bowes shalbe broken.

16 A small thing vnto the iust man is better, then great riches to the wicked and mightie.

17 For the armes of the wicked shall be broken: but y Lord vpholdeth the iust men.

18 The Lord knoweth the dayes of vpright men, and their inheritance shal be perpetuall.

19 They shall not be confounded in the perilous time, and in the dayes of famine they shall haue enough.

20 But the wicked shall perish, and the enemies of the Lord shal be consumed as the fat of Lambes: euen with the smoke shall they consume away.

21 The wicked boroweth and payeth not againe: but the righteous is mercifull, and giueth.

22 For such as be blessed of God, shall inherit the land, & they that be cursed of him, shall be cut off.

23 The paths of man are directed by the Lord: for he toucheth his way.

24 Though he fall, he shall not be cast off: for the Lord putteth vnder his hand.

25 I haue bene young, and am old: yet I sawe neuer the righteous forsaken, nor his seed begging bread.

26 But hee is euer mercifull and lendeth, and his seed enioyeth the blessing.

27 Flee from euil and do good, and dwell for euil.

28 For the Lord loueth indgement, and forsaketh not his iusts: they shall be preferred for euermore: but the seed of the wicked shall be cut off.

29 The righteous men shall inherit the land, and dwell therein for euer.

30 The mouth of the righteous will speake of wisdom, and his tongue will talke of indgement.

31 For the law of his God is in his heart, and his steps shall not slide.

32 The wicked watcheth the righteous, and seeketh to slay him.

33 But the Lord will not leaue him in his hands, nor condemne him, when he is iudged.

34 Wait thou on the Lord, and keepe his way, and he shall exalt thee, that thou shalt inherit the land: when the wicked men shall perish, thou shalt see.

35 I haue seene the wicked strong, and spreading himselfe like a greene bay tree.

36 Yet he passed away, and as loc, he was gone, and I sought him, but he coulde not be found.

u For though it be sometime so expedient both for Gods glory and their saluation, yet he will approue their cause, and reuenge their wrong. x So that the prosperitie of the wicked is but as a cloud, which vanissheth away in a moment.

37 Marke the vpright man, and behold the iust: for the end of that man is peace.

38 But the transgressours shalbe destroyed together, and the end of the wicked shalbe cut off.

39 But the saluation of the righteous men shall be of the Lord: hee shall be their strength in the time of trouble.

40 For the Lord shall helpe them, and deliuer them: hee shall deliuer them from the wicked, and shall saue them, because they trust in him.

vaine, but in the ende hath good successe, though for a time God prouoe them by sundry tentations.

PSALM. XXXIII.

1 David being sicke of some grieuous disease, acknowledgeth himselfe to be chastised of the Lord for his finnes, and therfore prayeth God to turne away his wrath. 5 He uttereth the greatness of his griefe by many words and circumstances, as wounded with the arrowes of Gods ire, forsaken of his friends, euil increased of his enemies. 22 But in the end with firme confidence he commendeth his cause to God, and hopeth for speedie helpe at his hand.

1 Psalm of Dauid for remembrance. O Lord, rebuke mee not in thine anger, neither chastise me in thy wrath.

2 For thine arrowes haue light vpon me, and thine hand lieth vpon me.

3 There is nothing sound in my flesh, because of thine anger: neither is there reit in my bones, because of my sinne.

4 For mine iniquities are gone ouer mine head, and as a weightie burden, they are too heauy for me.

5 My wounds are putrified, and corrupt because of my foolishnesse.

6 I am bowed, and crooked very sore: I goe mourning all the day.

7 For my reines are full of burning, and there is nothing sound in my flesh.

8 I am weakened and sore broken: I roare for the very griefe of mine heart.

9 Lord, I pouer mine whole desire before thee, and my sighing is not hid from thee.

10 Mine heart & pancre: my strength faileth me, and the light of mine eyes, such as they are not mine owne.

11 My louers and my friends stand aside from my plague, and my kinsemen stand afarre off.

12 They also, that seeke after my life, lay snares, and they that go about to do me euil, talke wicked things, and imagine deceit continually.

13 But I as a deafe man heard not, and am as a dumbe man, which openeth not his mouth.

14 Thus am I as a man, that heareth not, and in whose mouth are no reuocers.

15 For on thee, O Lord, do I wait: thou wilt heare me, my Lord, my God.

16 For I said, Heare me, least they reioyce to me, and therefore patiently wait for the helpe of God.

17 He exhorteeth the faithfull to marke diligently both of Gods mercies, and also of his iudgements.

18 He sheweth that the patient hope of the godly is neuer in despair, be the torment neuer so great: but alwayes to cry vnto God with sure trust for deliurance. & Ebr. runneth about, or, is seduced to, & froe meaning, that he was destitute of all helpe and counsell.

19 My sight faileth me for very sorow. i Partly for leare, and partly for pride they denied all due tie and friendship. k For I can haue no audience before men, and therefore patiently wait for the helpe of God.

k As touching the iudgement of the flesh, I was vterly destitute of all counsell: yet faith inwardly moued mine heart to pray.
l He desireth that Gods mercie may contend for him against the rage of his enemies.
m Let the same shame and confusion light vpon them, which they intended to haue brought vpon me. n As the faithfull alwayes praise God for his benefites: so the wicked mocke Gods children in their afflictions.

then the haire of mine head: therefore mine heart hath failed me.

13 Let it please thee, O Lord, to deliuer me: make haste, O Lord, to helpe me.

14 Let them bee confounded and put to shame together, that seeke my soule to destroy it: let them bee diuinen backward and put to rebuke that desire mine hurt.

15 Let them be <sup>m</sup> destroyed for a reward of their shame, which say vnto mee, Aha, aha.

16 Let all them that seeke thee, reioyce, & bee glad in thee: and let them that loue thy saluation, say alway, <sup>n</sup> The Lord be praised.

17 Therefore I be poore & needie, the Lord thinketh on mee: thou art mine helper and my deliuerer: my God, make no taryng.

PSAL. XLI.

1 David being grievously afflicted, bleaseth them, that pitie his case, 9 And complaineth of the treason of his owne friends and familiars, as came to passe in Iudas, Iohn 13, 18. After he feeling the great mercies of God gently chastising him, and not suffering his enemies to triumph against him, 13 Gueeth most hearse thanks to God.

To him that excelleth. A Psalme of Dauid.

Blessed is hee that iudgeth wisely of the poore: the Lord shall deliuer him in the time of trouble.

2 The Lord wil keepe him, and preferue him altime: he shall be blessed vpon the earth, and thou wilt not deliuer him vnto the will of his enemies.

3 The Lord wil strengthen him vpon the bed of sorow: thou hast turned all his bed in his sicknesse.

4 Therefore I said, Lord haue mercy vpon mee: heale my soule, for I haue sinned against thee.

5 Mine enemies <sup>d</sup> speake euill of me, saying, What shall he die, and his name perish?

6 And if he come to see mee, he speaketh euill, but his heart heareth iniquitie within him, and when he commeth forth, he telleth it.

7 All they that hate mee, whisper together against mee: euen against mee doe they imagine mine hurt.

8 If a mischief is light vpon him, and he that seeth, shall no more rite.

9 Yea, my familiar friend, whome I trusted, which did eate of my bread, <sup>s</sup> hath lifted by the heele against me.

10 Therefore, O Lord, haue mercy vpon me, and raise me vp: so I shall reward them.

11 By this I know that thou fauourst me, because mine enemy doeth not triumph against me.

12 And as for mee, thou vpheldest mee in mine integritie, and dost set mee before thy face for euer.

13 Blessed bee the Lord God of Israel world without end. <sup>k</sup> So be it, euen so be it.

k By this repetition hee sheweth vp the faithfull to P S A L. XLII.

1 The Prophet grievously complaineth, that being led by his persecours, he could not be present in the congregation of Gods people, protesting that although he was separate in body from them, yet his heart was thitherward afflicted. 7 And last of all sheweth that he was not so fure overcome with these sorowes and thoughts, 8 But that he continually put his confidence in the Lord.

To him that excelleth. A Psalme to giue instruction, committed to the sonnes of Korah.

As the hart bayeth for the euers of water, so <sup>b</sup> panteth my soule after thee, O God.

2 My soule thirsteth for God, euen for the liuing God: when shall I come and appeare before the presence of God?

3 My teares haue bene my meate day and night, while they daily say vnto mee, Where is thy God?

4 When I <sup>d</sup> remembered these things, I powred out my very heart, because I had gone with the multitude, and ledde them into the house of God with the voyce of singing, and praise, as a multitude that keepeth a feast.

5 Why art thou cast downe my soule, and inquiet within mee? waite on God: for I will yet giue him thanks for the helpe of his presence.

6 My God, my soule is cast downe within mee, because I remember thee from the land of Iordan, and Hermonim, and from the Mount Paran.

7 One <sup>s</sup> deepe calleth another deepe by the noyie of thy water spoutes: all thy wautes and thy floods are gone ouer me.

8 The Lord <sup>h</sup> will graunt his louing kinde in the day, and in the night shall I sing of him, euen a prayer vnto the God of my life.

9 I will say vnto God, which is my rocke, Why hast thou forgotten mee? Why goe I mourning, when the enemy oppresseth mee?

10 My bones are cut asunder, while mine enemies reproch me, saying Dayly vnto me, Where is thy God?

11 Why art thou cast downe, my soule? and why art thou disquieted within mee? waite on God: for I will yet giue him thanks: hee is my present helpe, and my God.

vpon me, that I felt my selfe as overwhelmed: whereby he sheweth there is no end of our miserie, till God bee pacified, and send remedie. h He assurcth himselfe of Gods helpe in time to come. i That is, I am most grievously tormented. k This repetition doeth declare that Dauid did not overcome at once: to teach vs to bee constant, forasmuch as God will certainly deliuer his.

d That is, how I led the people to serue thee in thy Tabernacle, and now seeing my contrarie estate, I die for sorrow.

1 The faithful remember the great mercy of God towards his people. 9 After they complaine, because they feele it no more. 17 Also they alledge the covenant made with Abraham, for the keeping whereof they shew what grieuous things they suffered. 23 Finally they pray vnto God not to contemne their affliction, seeing the same redoundeth to the contempt of his honour.

 12 Thou sellest thy people without gain, and doest not increace their price.
 13 Thou makest vs a reproch to our neighbours, a test and a laughing stocke to them that are round about vs.
 14 Thou makest vs a proverbe among the nations, and a nodding of the head among the people.
 15 My confusion is daily before me, and the shame of my face hath covered me.
 16 For the voyce of the slanderer and rebuker, for the enemy and auenger.
 17 All this is come vpon vs, yet doe wee not forget thee, neither deale we falsely concerning thy covenant.
 18 Our heart is not turned backe: neither our eyes gone out of thy pathes.
 19 Albeit thou hast smitten vs downe into the place of dragons, and covered vs with the shadow of death.
 20 If wee haue forgotten the name of our God, and holden by our handes a strange God, 21 Shall not God search this out? for he knoweth the secrets of the heart.
 22 Surely for thy sake are we slaine continually, and are counted as sheepe for the slaughter.
 23 Why sleepest thou, O Lord? awake, be not asleepe for euer.
 24 Therefore hidest thou thy face: and forgettest our misery and our affliction?
 25 For our soule is beaten downe vnto the dust: our bellie cleaueth vnto the ground.
 26 Rise vp for our succour, and redeeme vs for thy mercies sake.

PSAL. XLV.

1 The maiestie of Salomon, his honour, strength, beautie, riches, and power are praised, and also his mariage with the Egyptian being an heathen woman is blessed, 10 If that shee can renounce her people, and the loue of her country, and giue her selfe wholly to her husband. Vnder the which figure the wonderfull maiestie and increase of the kyngdome of Christ, and the Church his spouse now taken of the Gouernours, is described.

To him that excelleth on a Shophannim a long of loue to giue instruction, committed to the sonnes of Korah.

My heart will utter forth a good matter: I will increase in my workes of the King: my tongue is as y pen of a swift writer.
 2 Thou art fairer then the children of men: grace is powred in thy lippes, because God hath blessed thee for euer.

Or, at their pleasure. Rom. 8. 36. k Knowing God to be author of this calamitie, they murmure not but seker remedie at his hands, who wounded them, l As flanes which are sold for a low price, neither looketh thou for him that offereth moft, but takest the first chapman. m I dare not lift vp mine head for thine. n Meaning, the proud and cruell tyrant. o They boast not of their vertues, but declare that they rest vpon God in the middes of their afflictions: who punished not now their sinnes, but by hard afflictions called them to the consideration of the heavenly ioyes. p Or, whatles?

a This Psalme seemeth to haue bene made by some excellent Prophet for the vse of the people, when the Church was in extreme miserie, either at their returne from Babylon, or vnder Antiochus, or in such like affliction. b That is, the Canaanites. c To wit, our fathers. d Of Canaan. e That is, our fathers. f Gods free mercie and loue is the onely fountaine and beginning of the Church, Deut. 4. 37. g Because thou art our King, therefore deliuer thy people from their miserie. h Because they and their forefathers made both one Church, y they apply that to themselves, which before they did attribute to their fathers. i As they called before, that their strength came of God, so now they acknowledge that this affliction came by his iust iudgement.

a This was a certain time or an instrument b Of y peis loue that ought to bee betwene the husband & the wife. c Salomons beautie and eloquence to win fauour with his people, and his power to overcome his enemies, is here described.

d Healludeth to them that ride in chariots in their triumphs, shewing that the quiet state of a kingdom standeth in truth, meeknesse and iustice, not in worldly pompe and vanitie.

e Under this figure of this kingdom of iustice is set forth the everlasting kingdom of Christ.

f Hath established thy kingdom as the figure of Christ, which is the peace and ioy of the Church.

g In the which palace the people made the ioyfull to see them giue thanks & reioyce for thee.

h Though hee had many kings daughters, among his wiues, yet hee loued Pharaohs daughter best.

i Under y figure of Pharaohs daughter, he sheweth that the Church must cast off all carnal affections to obey Christ onely.

k He signifieth that diuerse of them that be rich shall be benefactors to the Church, albeit they giue not perfect obedience to the Gospel. Or, Zer. 1 There is nothing fained nor hypocriticall, but he is glorious both within and without: and howbeit the Church hath not at all times this outward glory, the fault is to be imputed only to their owne ingratitude. m They shall haue greater graces then their fathers. n He signifieth the great compasse of Christs kingdom, which shall be sufficient to enrich all his members.

o This must onely be referred to Christ, and not to Salomon.

3 Sted thy sword vpon thy thigh, O most mightie, to wile, thy worship and thy glory, 4 And prosper with thy glory: ride vpon the word of truth and of meeknesse and of righteousness: to thy right hand shall reach thee terrible things.

5 Thine arrows are as sharpe to pierce the heart of the kings enemies: therefore the people shall fall vnder thee.

6 Thy scepter, O God, is for euer and euer: the scepter of thy kingdom is a scepter of righteousness.

7 Thou iouest righteousness, and hatest wickednes, because God, euen thy God hath anointed thee with the oyle of gladnesse aboue thy fellows.

8 All thy garments smell of myrrhe and aloes, and Cassia, when thou comest out of the pryce palaces, where they haue made thee glad.

9 Kings daughters were among thine honourable wiues: vpon thy right hand did stand the Queene in a vesture of golde of Ophir.

10 Hearken, O daughter, and consider, and incline thine eare: forget also thine own people and thy fathers house.

11 So shall the king haue pleasure in thy beautie: for he is thy Lord, and reuerence thou him.

12 And the daughter of Tyrus with the rich of the people shall do homage before thy face with presents.

13 The kings daughter is all glorious within: her clothing is of broidered gold.

14 Shee shall be brought vnto the king in raiment of needle worke: the virgins that follow after her, and her companions shall be brought vnto thee.

15 With ioy and gladnesse shall they be brought, and shall enter into the kings palace.

16 In stead of thy fathers shall thy children bee: thou shalt make them princes through all the earth.

17 I will make thy Name to be remembered through all generations: therefore shall y people giue thanks vnto thee world without end.

PSAL. XLVI.

1 A song of triumph or thanksgiving for the deliuerance of Ierusalem, after Sennacherib with his army was driven away, or some other like sudden & marvellous deliuerance by the mightie hand of God. 2 Whereby the Prophet commending this great benefit, doeth exhort the faithfull to giue themselves wholly into the hand of God, doubting nothing lest that vnder his protection they shall be safe against all the assaults of their enemies, because this is his delight to assuage the rage of the wicked when they are most busie against the iust.

To him that excelleth vpon Alamoth A long committed to the iannes of Korah.

P S A L. XLVIII.

A notable deliuerance of Ierusalem from the hand of many Kings is mentioned, for the which thanks are giuen to God, & the state of that city is praised, that hath God so presently at all times ready to defend them. This Psalme seemeth to be made in the time of Abaz, Ioshaphat, Aza or Ezechias: for in their times chiefly was the city by forren Princes assaulted.

A long or Psalm committed to the sonnes of Kozab.

Great is the Lord, and greatly to be praised in the Citie of our God, euen vpon his holy mountaine.

2 Mount Zion, lying Northward, is faire in situation: it is the top of the whole earth, and the city of the great King.

3 In the palaces thereof God is knowne for a refuge.

4 For loe, the kings were gathered and went together.

5 When they saw it, they marueiled: they were alotted, and suddenly driuen backe.

6 Feare came vnto them, and sorrow, as vpon a woman in trauell.

7 As with an East wind thou breakest the shipps of Carthily, so werest they destroyed.

8 As we haue heard, so haue we seene in the city of the Lord of hostes, in the citie of our God: God will stablish it for euer. Selah.

9 Waite for thy louing kindnesse, O God, in the mids of thy Temple.

10 O God, according vnto thy Name, so is thy praise vnto the worlds end: thy right hand is full of righteousnesse.

11 Let mount Zion reioyce, & the daughters of Iudah be glad, because of thy iudgements.

12 Compass about Zion, and go round about it, and tell the towers thereof.

13 Marke well the wall thereof: behold her towers, that ye may tell your posterity.

14 For this God is our God for euer and ener: he shall be our guide vnto the death.

a Some put this difference betweene a song & Psalmes, saying, that it is called a song, when there is no instrument, but the voice: & the Psalmes, the contrary. The song of y Psalme is when the instruments begin, and the voice followeth: y Psalme of the song, the contrary.

b Albeit God shew his wonders through all the world, yet he will be chiefly praised in his Church.

c Because the word of saluation came thence to all them that should beleue.

d Except God were the defence thereof, neither situation, nor munition could preuaile.

e They conspired and went against Gods people.

f The enemies were afrade at the sight of the citie, g That is, Glicia, or the sea called Mediteranum. h To wit, of our fathers, so haue we proued: or, God hath performed his promise. i In all places where thy Name shall be heard of, men shall praise thee, when they heare of thy maruiculous workes. k Let Ierusalem & the cities of Iudea reioyce for thy iust iudgements against thine enemies. l For in this outward defence and strength, Gods blessings did also appeare: but the chief is to be referred to Gods fauour and secret actence, who neuer leaueh his.

To him that exelleth. A Psalm committed to the sonnes of Kozab.

Care: this, all ye people: giue care, all ye that dwell in the world,

2 As well low as he, both rich and poore.

3 My mouth shall speake of wisdom, and the meditation of my heart is of knowledge.

4 I will incline mine eare to a parable, and vter my graue matter vpon the harpe.

5 Wherefore should I feare in the cull dayes, when iniquitie shall compass me about as a mine heeles?

6 They trust in their goods, and boast themselves in the multitude of their riches.

7 Yet a man can by no meanes redeme his brother: hec cannot giue his ransom to God,

8 (So a precious is the redemption of their soules, and the continuance for euer)

9 That he may liue till for euer, and not see the graue.

10 For hee seeth that wise men die, and also that the ignorant and foolish perish, and leaue their riches for others.

11 Yet they imagine their houses, and their habitations shall continue for euer, euen from generation to generation, & call their lands by their names.

12 But man that not continue in honour: he is like the beastes that die.

13 This their way vttereth their foolishnesse: yet their porticite delight in their talkes. Selah.

14 Like sheepe they lise in graue: death deuoureth them, and the righteous shall haue domination ouer them in the morning: for their beautes shall consume, when they shall go from their house to graue.

15 But God shall deliuer my soule from the power of the graue: for he will receiue me. Selah.

16 Be not thou afraid when one is made rich, and when the glory of his house is increased.

17 For he shall take nothing away when he dieth, neither shall his pompe descend after him.

18 For while he liued, he reioyced himselfe: and men will prayse thee, when thou makest much of thy selfe.

¶ A Psalm of Asaph.

The God of gods, euen the Lord hath spoken and called the earth from the rising up of the Sunne vnto the going downe thereof.

2 Out of Zion, which is the perfection of beaunte, hath God shined.

3 Our God shall come and shall not keepe silence: a fire shall deuoure before him, and a mightie tempest shall be moued round about him.

4 We that call the heauen about, and the earth, to iudge his people.

5 Gather my <sup>c</sup> Saints together vnto me, those that make a covenant with mee with thy sacrifice.

6 And the heauens shall declare his righteousness: for God is iudge himselfe. Selah.

7 Hear, O my people, & I will speake: heare, O Israel, and I will testify vnto thee: for I am God, euen thy God.

8 I will not reprove thee for thy sacrifices, or thy burnt offerings, that haue not bene continually before me.

9 I will take no bullocke out of thine house, nor goates out of thy holds.

10 For all the beastes of the forest are mine, and the beastes on a thousand mountaines.

11 I know all the fowles on the mountaines: and the wild beastes of the field are mine.

12 If I be hungry, I will not tell thee: for the world is mine, and all that therein is.

13 Will I eate the flesh of buls? or drinke the blood of goates?

14 Offer vnto God prayle, and pay thy vovnes vnto the most high.

15 And call vpon me in the day of trouble: so wil I deliuer thee, and thou shalt glorifie me.

16 But vnto wicked said God, What hast thou to do to declare mine ordinances, that thou shouldest take my covenant in thy mouth, 17 Seeing thou hast <sup>e</sup> to be reformed, and hast call my wordes behind thee?

18 For when thou seest a theefe thou runnest with him, and thou art partaker with the adulterers.

19 Thou giuest thy mouth to euill, & with thy tongue thou forgett deceit.

20 Thou <sup>f</sup> sittest, & speakest against thy brother, and slanderest thy mothers sonne.

21 These things hast thou done, & I held my tongue: therefore thou thoughtest that I was like thee: but I will reprove thee, and let them in order before thee.

22 Consider this, yee that forgett God, lest I teare you in pieces, and there be none that can deliuer you.

23 He that offereth praise, shall glorifie me: and to him that disposeth his way aright, will I shew the saluation of God.

1 When David was rebuked by the Prophet Nathan for his grea offences, he did not only acknowledge the same to God with protestation of his natural corruption and iniquity, but also left memoriall thereof to his posteritie. 7 Therefore first he desired God to forgive his sinnes, 10 And to renew in him his holy spirit, 13 With promise that he will not be unmercifull of those great graces. 18 Finally fearing lest God would punish the whole Church for his fault, hee requesteth that he would rather increase his graces toward the same.

In this Psalm is iueily set forth the kingdome of Antichrist. 5 To him that excelleth. A Psalm of David to giue instruction. When Doeg the Edomite came and shewed Saul, and sayd to him, David is come to the house of Ahimelech.

Why boastest thou thy selfe in thy wickednesse, O man of power: the louing kindnesse of God endureth dayly. 2 Thy tongue imagineth mischief, and is like a sharpe razor that cutteth deceitfully. 3 Thou dost loue euill more then good, and lies, more then to speake the truth. 4 Selah. 5 Thou louest all wordes that may destroy, O deceitfull tongue! 6 So shall God destroy thee for euer: he shall take thee and plucke thee out of thy tabernacle, and roote thee out of the land of the liuing. 7 Selah. 8 The righteous also shall see it, and feare, and shall laugh at him, saying, 9 Beholde the man that took not God for his strength, but trusted vnto the multitude of his riches, & put his strength in his malice.

a O Doeg, which hath credit with the tyrant Saul, and hath power to murder the Saints of God. b Thy malice moueth thee by crafty flatteries and lies to accuse and destroy the innocents. c Though God forbore for a time, yet at length hee will recompense thy falsehoode. d Albeit thou seeme to be neuer so sure seled, e For the eyes of the reprobate are shut vp at Gods iudgements. f With ioyfull reuerence, seeing that he taketh their part against the wicked. g In his substance.

8 But I shall be like a greene oliue tree in the house of God: for I trusted in the mercy of God for euer and euer. 9 I will alway praise thee, for that thou hast done this, & I will hope in thy name, because it is good before thy Saints. g He reioyceeth to haue a place among the seruants of God, that he may growe in the knowledge of godlinesse. h Executed his vengeance. i Or, waite vpon thy grace and promise.

PSAL. LIII.

1 He describeth the crooked nature, 2 The cruelty, 3 And punishment of the wicked, when they looke not for it, 4 And desireth the deliuerance of the godly, that they may reioyce together. 5 To him that excelleth on Mahalath. A Psalm of Dauid to giue instruction. 6 The foole hath layd in his heart, there is no God, they haue corrupted and done abominable wickednesse: there is none that doeth good. 7 God looked downe from heauen vpon the children of men, to seee if there were any that would vnderstand and seeke God. 8 Every one is gone backe: they are altogether corrupt: there is none that doeth good, nor one. 9 Do not the workers of iniquity know that they eat by my people as they eat bread; they call not vpon God. 10 There they were afraid for feare, where no feare was: for God hath scattered the bones of him that beliegeth thee: thou hast put them to confusion, because God hath cast them off. 11 Why giue saluation vnto Israel out of Zion: when God turneth the captiuitie of his people, then Iacob shall reioyce, and Israel shall be glad. 12 Why giue saluation vnto Israel out of Zion: when God turneth the captiuitie of his people, then Iacob shall reioyce, and Israel shall be glad. 13 He defend and preserue Gods people, doe most cruelly deuoure them. 14 When they thought there was none occasion to feare, the sudden vengeance of God lighted vpon them. 15 See the enemies power neuer so great, nor the danger so fearefull, yet God deliuereth his in due time.

PSAL. LIIII.

1 David brought into great danger by the reason of the Ziphims, 2 Callesth vpon the Name of God to destroy his enemies, 3 Promising sacrifice and free offerings for so great deliuerance. 4 To him that excelleth on Meginoth. A Psalm of David to giue instruction. When the Ziphims came and sayd vnto Saul, Is not David hid among vs? 5 Selah. 6 O God, by thy name, and by thy power iudge me. 7 O God, heare my prayer: hearken vnto the wordes of my mouth. 8 For strangers are risen vp against me, and tyrants seeke my soule: they haue not set God before them. 9 Selah. 10 Behold, God is my helper: the Lord is with 4 them that uphold my soule. 11 He shall reward euill vnto mine enemies: Cutt them off in thy truth. 12 Then I will sacrifice freely vnto thee: I will praise thy name, O Lord, because it is good.

1. Sam. 23. 19. a He declareth that when all meanes do faile, God will deliuer, euen as it were by miracle, them that call vpon him with an vpright conscience. b To wit, the Ziphims. c Saul and his armie which were like cruell beasts, and could not be satisfied, but by his death. d Be they neuer so few, as he was with Ionathan. e According to thy faithfull promise for my deliuerance. f For hypocrites serue God for feare, or vpon conditions, g We may lawfully reioyce for Gods iudgments against the wicked, if our affections be pure.

7 For hee hath deliuered mee out of all trouble, and mine eye hath seene my desire vpon mine enemies.

PSAL. LV.

1 David being in great beauesse and distresse complaineth of the crueltie of Saul, 13 And of the falshood of his familiar acquaintance, 17 Uttering most ardent affections to moue the Lord to pittie him. 22 After being assured of deliuerance, he setteth forth the grace of God as though he had already obtained his request.

¶ To him that excelleth on Argimoth. A Psalm of David to giue instruction.

1 Fare my prayer, O God, and hide not thy selfe from my supplication.

2 Hearken vnto me, and answer me: I mourne in my prayer, and make a noyse,

3 For the voyce of the enemye, and for the beration of the wickes, because they haue brought iniquitie vpon mee, and furiously hate me.

4 Myne heart trembleth within me, and the terrors of death are fallen vpon me.

5 Fear and trembling are come vpon me, and an horrible feare hath covered me.

6 And I sayd, Wher shall I haue wings like a dove: then would I flie away and rest.

7 Behold, I would take my flight farre off, and lodge in the wilderness. Selah.

8 Hee would make hate for my deliuerance: from the stormie wind and tempest.

9 Destroy, O Lord, and diuide their tongues: for I haue seene crueltie and strife in the citie.

10 Day and night they goe about it vpon the walles thereof: both iniquitie and mischief are in the middes of it.

11 Wickednes is in the mids thereof: deceit and guile depart not from her streets.

12 Surely mine enemye did not defame me: for I could haue bozned it: neither did mine aduersarie exalt himselfe against me: for I would haue hid me from him.

13 But it was thou, O man, euen my companion, my guide and my familiar:

14 Which delighted in consulting together, and went into the house of God as companions.

15 Let death seaze vpon them: let them goe downe quicke into the graue: for wickednesse is in their dwellings, euen in the mids of them.

16 But I will call vnto God, and the Lord will saue me.

17 Euening and morning, and at noone will I pray, and make a noyse, and he will heare my voyce.

18 Hee hath deliuered my soule in peace from the battell, that was against mee: for many were wch me.

19 God shall heare and afflict them, euen he that reigneth of olde. Selah, because they haue no changes, therefore they feare not God.

20 He laid his hand vpon such, as he at peace with him, and he brake his covenant.

21 The wordes of his mouth were softer then butter, yet warce was in his heart: his wordes were more gentle then oyle, yet they were swordes.

22 Cast thy burden vpon the Lord, and hee shall nourish thee: hee will not suffer the righteous to fall to the eare.

23 And thou, O God, shalt bring them downe into the pit of corruption: the bloodie and deceitfull men shall not live halfe their dayes: but I will trust in thee.

¶ Though they sometime liue longer, yet their life is cursed of God, vnquiet, and worle then any death.

1 David being in the desert of Ziph, where the inhabitants did betray him, and at length in the same came with Saul, 2 Calleth most earnestly vnto God, with full confidence that hee will performe his promise. 3 Take his cause in hand: 5 As for that hee will shew his glory in the heauens and the earth against his cruell enemies. 9 Therefore doth he reuerend laud and praise.

¶ To him that excelleth. Destroy not. A Psalm of David on Hicham, when he fled from Saul in the cave.

1 HAue mercie vpon mee, O God, haue mercie vpon mee: for my soule crucieth in thee, and in the shadow of thy wings will I trust, till thine afflictions ouerpass.

2 I will call vnto the most high God, even to the God, that performeth his promise toward me.

3 Hee will send from heauen, and shall mee from the reproofe of him that would swallow me. Selah. God will send his mercie and his truth.

4 My soule is among lions: I lie among the children of men that are set on fire: whose teeth are speeres and arrowes, and their tongue a sharpe sword.

5 ¶ Exalt thy selfe, O God, above the heauen, and let thy glory be vpon all the earth.

6 They haue made a net for my steppes: my soule is pressed downe: they haue digged a pit before mee, and are fallen into the middes of it. Selah.

7 Mine heart is prepared, O God, mine heart is prepared: I will sing & giue praise.

8 Awake my tongue, awake viole and harpe: I will awake early.

9 I will praise thee, O Lord, among the people, and I will sing vnto thee among the nations.

10 For thy mercie is great vnto the heauens, and thy truth vnto the clouds.

11 ¶ Exalt thy selfe, O God, above the heauens, and let thy glory be vpon all the earth.

To him that excelleth vpon Shoshanim. A Psalm of Dauid.

Saueme O God: for the waters are entered euery to my soule.

1 I sticke fast in the deepe myze, where no stay is: I am come into deepe waters, and the streames runne ouer me.

2 I am wearie of crying: my throte is drie: mine eyes faile, whiles I waite for my God.

3 They that hate mee without a cause, are moe then the haire of mine head: they that wouid destroy mee, and are mine enemies: falsely, are mighty, so that I restofed that which I tooke not.

4 O God, thou knowest my foolishnes, and my faulces are not hid from thee.

5 Let not them that trust in thee, O Lord God of hostes, bee ashamed for mee: see not those that seeke thee, be confounded through me, O God of Israel.

6 For thy sake haue I suffered reproofe: shame hath couered my face.

7 I am become a stranger vnto my brethren, euen an aliant vnto my mothers lonnes.

8 For the zeale of thine house hath eaten me, and the rebukes of them that rebuke thee, are fallen vpon me.

9 I kept, and my soule fasted, but that was to my reproofe.

10 I pur on a sack also: and I became a yponerbe vnto them.

11 They that late in the gate, spake of me, and the drunkards sang of me.

12 But Lord, I make my prayer vnto thee in an acceptable time, euen in the multitude of thy mercy: O God, heare me in the truth of thy saluation.

13 Deliuere me out of the myze, that I sinke not: let mee bee deliuered from them that hate me, and out of the deepe waters. neither let the deepe swallow me vp: and let not the pit shut her mouth vpon me.
14 Heare mee, O Lord, for thy louing kindnesse is good: turne vnto me according to the multitude of thy tender mercies.
15 And hide not thy face from thy seruant, for I am in trouble: make haste and heare me.
16 Draw keere vnto my soule, & redeme it: deliuer me, because of mine enemies.
17 Thou hast known my reproofe, and my shame, and my dishonour: all mine vnderpartes are before thee.
18 Rebuke hath broken mine heart, and I am full of heauinesse, and I looked for some to haue pity on me, but there was none: and for comforters, but I found none.
19 For they gaue me gall in my meate, and in my thirst they gaue me vineger to drinke.
20 Let their table be a snare before them, and their prosperity their ruine.
21 Let their eyes bee blinded, that they see not: and make their saynes alway to tremble.
22 Powre out thine anger vpon them, and let thy wrathfull displeasure take them.
23 Let their habitation be voyde, and let none dwell in their tents.
24 For they persecute him, whome thou hast smitten: and they adde vnto the sorrow of them, whom thou hast wounded.
25 Lay iniquitie vpon their iniquitie, & let them not come into thy righteousnesse.
26 Let them be put out of the booke of life, neither let them bee written with the righteous.
27 When I am poore, and in heauinesse, thine helpe, O God, shall exalt me.
28 I will praise the name of God with a song, and magnifie him with thanksgiving.
29 This also shall please the Lord better then a yong bullocke, that hath hoines and hoofes.
30 The humble shall see this, and they that seeke God, shall be glad, and your heart shall linc.
31 For the Lord heareth the poore, and despiseth not his prisoners.
32 Let heauen and earth praise him: the seas and all that moueth in them.

PSALM LXXIII.

1 The Prophet teacheth by his example that neither the worldly prosperitie of the vngodly, 14 Nor yet the affliction of the good, ought to discourage Gods children: but rather ought to moue vs to consider our Fathers providence, and to cause vs to reuerence Gods judgments, 19 For as much as the wicked vanish away, 24 And the godly enter into life euerslasting. 28 In hope whereof he resigneth himselfe into Gods hands.

CA Psalm committed to Asaph. YET a God is good to Israel: euen to the pure in heart.

2 As for me, my feete were almost gone: my steps had welneere slipt.

a As it were betwene hope and despair he breatheth forth into this affliction, being assured that God would continue his fauour toward such as were godly indeed, and not hypocrites.

3 For I fretted at the foolish, when I saw the prosperitie of the wicked.

4 For there are no bands in their death, but they are lustie and strong.

5 They are not in trouble as other men, neither are they plagued with other men.

6 Therefore pride is as a chaine vnto them, and crueltie conereth them as a garment.

7 Their eyes stand out for fatnes: they haue more then they can with.

8 They are licentious, and speake wickedly of their oppression: they talk presumptuously.

9 They set their mouth against heauen, and their tongue walketh vpon the earth.

10 Therefore his people turne hither: for waters of a full cup are wrung out to them.

11 And they say, How doeth God know it? or is there knowledge in the most high?

12 Lo, these are the wicked, yet prosper they away, and increase in riches.

13 Certainly I haue cleansed my heart in vaine, and washed mine hands in innocencie.

14 For dayly haue I bene punished, and chastened euery morning.

15 If I say, I will iudge thus, beholde, the generation of thy children: I haue trespassed.

16 Then thought I to know this, but it was too painfull for me.

17 Untill I went into the Sanctuary of God: then understood I their end.

18 Surely thou hast set them in slippery places, & castest them down into desolation.

19 How suddenly are they destroyed, perished and horribly consumed.

20 As a dream when one awaketh! O Lord, when thou callest vs by, thou shalt make their image despised.

21 Certainly mine heart was vexed, and I was pricked in my reins:

22 So foolishly was I and ignorant: I was a beast before thee.

23 Yet I was alway with thee: thou hast holden me by my right hand.

24 Thou wilt guide me by thy counsell, and afterward reuete me to glory.

25 Whome haue I in heauen but thee? and I haue desired none in the earth with thee.

26 My flesh faileth, and mine heart also: but God is the strength of mine heart, and my portion for euer.

27 For so, they that withdraw themselves from thee, shall perish: thou destroyest all them that go a whoring from thee.

most wisely, and protectest thy children in their greatest dangers. k Vntill I entred into thy schoole, and learned by thy word and holy spirit, that thou orderest all things most wisely and iustly. i By thy fearefull iudgement. k When thou openest our eyes to consider thy heavenly felicitie, wee condemne all their vaine pompe.

l For the more that man goeth about by his owne reason to seeke out Gods iudgements, the more doeth he declare himselfe a beast.

m By faith I was assured that thy providence did watch alwayes ouer me to preferre me. n He thought neither helpe nor comfort of any faue of God onely. o He teacheth vs to denie our felices, to haue God our whole sufficiency, and onely contentment. o That is, forsake thee to seeke others.

b The wicked in this life liue at pleasure, and are not drawn to death like prisoners: that is, by sicknesse, which is deaths messenger.

c Thy glory in their pride, as some do in their chaires: and in crueltie, as some doe in apparell. † Ebr. they passe the desires of the heart.

d They blaspheme God and feare not his power, and raille vpon men, because they esteeme themselves aboue all others.

e Not onely the reprobates, but also the people of God oftentimes fall backe, seeing the prosperous estate of the wicked, and are ouerwhelmed with sorrows, thinking that God considereth not aight the state of the godly.

f Thus the flesh mouth euen the godly to dispute with God touching their poore estate, and the prosperitie of the wicked.

g If I giue place to this wicked thought, I offend against thy providence, seeing thou disposedst all things q Though all the world stricke from God, yet he promisseth to trust in him, and to magnifie his works.

28 As for me, it is good for me to draw neere to God: therefore I haue put my trust in the Lord God, that I may declare all thy workes.

1 The faithfull complaints of the destruction of the Church and true religion, 2 Vnder the name of Zion, & the Temple destroyed: 11 And trust- ing in the might and free mercies of God, 20 By his covenant, 21 They require helpe and succour for the glory of Gods holy Name, for the saluation of his poore afflicted seruants, 23 And the confusion of his proud enemies.

A Psalm to giue instruction, committed to Alaph.

O God, why hast thou put vs away for euer? why is thy wrath kindled against the sheepe of thy pasture?

2 Think vpon thy Congregation, which thou hast possessed of old, and on the rod of thine inheritance which thou hast redeemed, and on this mount Zion, wherein thou hast dwelt.

3 Lift vp thy strokes, that thou mayest for euer destroy euery enemy that doeth euil to the Sanctuary.

4 Thine aduersaries roare in the mids of thy Congregation, and let vp their banners for signes.

5 He that lifted the axes vpon the thicke trees, was renowned, as one that brought a thing to perfection:

6 But now they breake downe the carned worke thereof with axes and hammers.

7 They haue cast thy Sanctuare into the fire, and rased it to the ground, and haue defiled the dwelling place of thy Name.

8 They said in their hearts, Let vs destroy them all together: they haue burnt all the Synagogues of God in the land.

9 We see not our signes: there is not one Prophet more, nor any with vs that knoweth how long.

10 O God, how long shall the aduersary reproch thee? shall the enemy blasphemie thy Name for euer?

11 Why withdrawest thou thy hande, euen thy right hande? drawe it out of thy bosome, and consume them.

12 Euen God is my king of old, working saluation in the mides of the earth.

13 Thou didst diuide the sea by thy power: thou brakest the heads of the dragons in the waters.

14 Thou brakest the head of Liniathan in pieces, and ganest him to be meate for the people in wilderness.

15 Thou brakest vp the fountaine, and riuer: thou driest vp mightie riuers.

16 The day is thine: and the night is thine: thou hast prepared the light & the sun.

g They ioyned their deliuerance with Gods glory and power, knowing that the punishment of the enemy should be their deliuerance. h Meaning, in the fight of all the world. i To war, Pharaohs armie. k Which was a great monster of the sea, or whale, meaning Pharaoh. l His destruction did reioice them as meate refresheth the body. m Seeing that God by his providence governeth and disposeth all things, hee gathereth that he will take care chiefly for his children.

17 Thou hast set all the borders of the earth: thou hast made summer and winter.

18 Remember this, that the enemy hath reproched the Lord, and the foolish people hath blasphemed thy Name.

19 Gine not the loine of thy turtle dove vnto the beast, and forget not the Congregation of the poore for euer.

20 Consider thy covenant: for the darke places of the earth are full of the habitations of the cruel.

21 Whet not the oppressed returne ashamed, but let the poore and needy praye thy Name.

22 Arise, O God: maintaine thine rowne cause: remember thy dayly reproch by the foolish man.

23 Forget not the voice of thine enemies: for the tumult of them, that rise against thee, shall ascender continually.

P S A L. LXXV.

1 The faithfull do praye the name of the Lord, 2 which shall come to iudge at the time appointed, 8 When the wicked shall be put to confusion, and drinke of the cuppe of his wrath, 10 Their pride shall be abated, and the righteous shall be exalted to honour.

5 Lift not vp your horne on his, neither speake with a stiffe necke.

6 For to come to preferment is neither from the East, nor from the West, nor from the South.

7 But God is the Iudge: he maketh lowe and he maketh hie.

8 For in the hand of the Lorde is a cup, and the wine is red: it is full miet, and hee powreth out of the same: surely all the wicked of the earth shall wyng out and drinke the dreges thereof.

9 But I will declare for euer, and sing praises vnto the God of Iacob.

10 All the hornes of the wicked also will I breake: but the hornes of the righteous shall be exalted.

Gods people, seeing that God at his time destroyeth them that rule wickedly. f Gods wrath is compared to a cup of strong and delicate wine, wherein the wicked are made so drunke, that by drinking till they come to the very dreges, they are vterly destroyed. g The godly shall better prosper by their innocent simplicity, then the wicked shall by all their craft and subtiltie.

10 They kept not the covenant of God, but refused to walke in his law, 11 And forgate his acts, and his wonderful workes that he had shewed them.

12 He did marvellous things in the sight of their fathers in the land of Egypt: euen in the field of Zoan.

13 He diuided the sea, and led them thorrow: he made also the waters to stand as an heape.

14 In the day time also hee ledde them with a cloud, and all the night with a light of fire.

15 He claued the rocks in the wilderness, & gaue them drinke as of the great depths.

16 He brought floods alio out of the stonem rocke, so that he made the waters to descend like the riuers:

17 Yet they sinned still against him, and provoked the highest in the wilderness.

18 And tempted God in their hearts in requiring meate for their lust.

19 They spake against God also, saying, Can God prepare a table in the wilderness?

20 Behold, hee smote the rocke, that the water gushed out, and the streames ouerflowed: can hee giue bread also? or prepare flesh for his people?

21 Therefore the Lord heard and was angry, and the fire was kindled in Jaakob, and also wrath came vpon Israel, 22 Because they beleued not in God, and trusted not in his helpe.

23 Yet hee had commanded the cloudes aboute, and had opened the doores of heauen, 24 And had rained downe MAN vpon them for to eate, and had giuen them of the wheate of heauen.

25 Dan did eate the bread of Angels: he sent them meate enough.

26 Hee caused the East winde to passe in the heauen, and throug his power hee brought in the South wind.

27 He rained foule also vpon them as dust, and feathered foule as the land of the sea.

28 And hee made it fall in the middes of their campe, euen round about their habitations.

29 So they did eate, and were wel filled: for he gaue them their desire.

30 They were not turned from their lust, but the meate was yet in their mouthes, 31 When the wrath of God came euen vpon them, and slew the strongest of them, and smote downe the chosen men in Israel.

32 For all this, they sinned still, and beleued not his wondrous workes.

33 Therefore their dayes did he consume in vanitie, and their yeeres hastily.

34 And when hee slew them, they sought him, and they returned, and sought God carely.

35 And they remembered that God was their strength, and the most high God their redeemer.

36 But they flattered him with their mouth, and dissembled with him with their tongue.

37 For their heart was not vpight with him: neither were they faithfull in his covenant.

38 Yet he being mercifull forgate their iniquitie, and despitous them not, but oft times called backe his anger, and did not stirre by all his wrath.

39 For he remembered that they were flesh: yea, a winde that passeth and cometh not againe.

40 How oft did they prouoke him in the wilderness: and grieue him in the desert?

41 Yea, they returned and tempted God, and limited the holy one of Israel.

42 They remembered not his hand, nor the day when hee deliuered them from the enemy,

43 Nor him that set his signes in Egypt, and his wonders in the field of Zoan, 44 And turned their riuers into blood, and their floods, that they could not drinke.

45 Hee sent a swarme of flies among them, which deuoured them, and frogges which destroyed them.

46 Hee gaue also their frutes vnto the caterpillar, and their labour vnto the grasshopper.

47 Hee destroyed their vines with baile, and their wilde figtrees with the hailstone.

48 He gaue their cattell alio to the haile, and their flockes to the thunderbolts.

49 Hee cast vpon them the fiercenesse of his anger, indignation and wrath, and vexation by the sending out of euill angels.

50 He made a way to his anger: he spated

51 And smote all the first borne in Egypt, euen the beginning of their strength in the tabernacles of Ham.

52 But he made his people to goe out like sheepe, and led them in the wilde walle like a flocke,

2 A Psalm committed to Asaph.

O God, the heathen are come into thine inheritance: thine holy Temple haue they desiled, and made Ierusalem heapes of stones.

3 The dead bodies of thy seruants haue they giuen to be meate vnto foules of the heauen: and the flesh of thy Saints vnto the beastes of the earth.

4 Their blood haue they shed like waters round about Ierusalem, and there was none to bury them.

16 Turne vnto me, and haue mercy vpon me: giue thy strength vnto thy seruant, and saue the soule of thy handmaid.

17 Shew a token of thy goodnesse toward me, that they which hate me, may see it, and be ashamed, because thou, O Lord, hast holpen me and comforted me.

i The holy Ghost promisth that the condision of the Church, which was in misery after the captivity of Babylon, should be restored to great excellency, so that there should be nothing more comfortable, then to be numbred among the members thereof.

i David sore afflicted and forsaken of all, pray- eth feruently for deliuerance: somtyme rehearsing his miseries. 5 Somtyme the mercies received. 11 Desiring also to be instructed of the Lord, that he may feare him and glorifie his Name. 14 He complaineth also of his aduersaries, and requireth to be deliuered from them.

CA Prayer of David.

a That is, to humble. It was the beginning of a song, by the tune whereof this Psalm was sung. b Though many cry in their sorrows, yet they cry not earnestly to God for remedy as he did: whom he confessed to be the author of his saluation.

c For he that is dead, is free from all cares and business of this life: and thus he sayth, because he was vnprofitable for all matters concerning mans life, and as it were cut off from this world.

d That is, from thy prouidence and care, which is meant according to y judgement of the flesh. e. The stormes of thy wrath haue ouerwhelmed me.

f He attributeth the losse and displeasure of his friends to Gods prouidence, whereby he partly punisheth & partly trieth his. g I see none ende of my sorrowes. h Mine eyes and face declare my sorrowes. i He sheweth that the time is more conuenient for God to helpe, when men call vnto him in their dangers, then to tary till they be dead, & then raise them vp againe. k That is, in the graue, where only the body lieth without all sense and remembrance. l I am euer in great dangers and sorrowes, as though my life should vterly be cut off euery moment.

1 Agriuous complaint of the faithfull sore afflicted by sickness, persecutions, and aduersitie, 7 Being as v were left of God without any consolation: 13 Yet he calleth on God by faith, & strueth against desperation, 18 complaining himselfe to be forsaken of all earthly helpe.

1 A song or Psalm of * Heman the Ezrahite, to giue instruction, committed to the sonnes of Kohab for him that excelleth vpon Balath = Leannoth.

O Lord God of my saluation, I cry day and night: b before thee.

2 Let my prayer enter into thy presence: encline thine eare vnto my cry.

3 For my soule is filled with euils, and my life draweth neere to the graue.

4 I am counted among them that goe downe vnto the pit, & am as a man without strength;

5 I free among the dead, like the flaine lying in the graue, whome thou rememberest no more, and they are cut off from thine hand.

6 Thou hast layd me in the lowest pit, in darknesse, and in the deepe.

7 Thine indignation lieth vpon me, and thou hast vexed mee with all thy waues. Selah.

8 Thou hast put away mine acquaintance face from mee, and made me to be abhorred of them: I am shut vp, and cannot get forth.

9 Mine eye is sorrowfull though mine affliction: Lorde, I call dayly vpon thee: I stretch out mine hands vnto thee.

10 Wilt thou shewe a miracle to the dead? or shall the dead rise and praye thee? Selah.

11 Shall thy louing kindnesse bee declared in the graue? or thy faithfullnesse in destruction?

12 Shall thy wondrous works be knownen in the darke? and thy righteousnesse in the land of obliuion?

13 But vnto thee haue I cryed, O Lorde, and early shall my prayer come before thee.

14 Lorde, why deest thou reiect my soule, and hidest thy face from me?

15 I am afflicted, and at the poynt of death: I from my mouth I suffer thy terrors, doubting of my life.

16 Thine indignations goe ouer me, and thy feare hath cut me off.

17 They came round about me daily like water, and compassed me together.

18 Thy louers and friends hast thou put away from me, and mine acquaintance & his themelues.

PSAL. LXXXIX.

1 With many words doth the Prophet praise the goodness of God, 23 for hu testament and covenant that he had made betweene him and his elect by Iesu Christ the sonne of Dauid: 38 Then doeth hee complaine of the great ruine, and desolation of the kingdome of Dauid, so that to the outward appearance the promise was broken. 46 Finally hee praieth to be deliuered from his afflictions, making mention of the shortnesse of mans life, and confirming himselfe by Gods promises.

1 A Psalm to giue instruction, of Ethan the Ezrahite.

1 Willing the mercies of the Lord for euer: I with my mouth will I declare thy truthy from generation to generation.

2 For I haue sayde, Mercy shall bee set by for euer: thy truth shall thou stablish in the very heauens.

3 I haue made a covenant with my chosen: I haue swoyne to Dauid my seruant,

4 Thy seede will I stablish for euer, and set by thy throne from generation to generation. Selah.

5 O Lord, euen the heauens shall praise thy wondrous worke: yea, thy truthy in the Congregation of the Saints.

6 For who is equal to the Lorde in the heauen; and who is like the Lord among the sonnes of the gods?

7 God is very terrible in the assembly of the Saints, and to be reuerenced aboue all that are about him.

8 O Lord God of hostes, who is like vnto thee, which art a mighty Lord, and thy truthy is about thee!

9 Thou rulest the raging of the sea: whē the waues thereof arise, thou stillest them,

10 Thou hast beaten downe Rahab as a man flaine: thou hast scattered thine enemies with thy mighty arme.

11 The heauens are thine, the earth also is thine: thou hast laid the foundation of the world, and all that therein is.

12 Thou hast created the North and the South; & Tabor and Hermon shall reioyce in thy Name.

13 Thou hast a mighty arme: strong is thine hand, and high is thy right hand.

14 Righteousnes and equity are the fag Meaning, the Angels. h If the Angels tremble before Gods majesty & iniustice, what earthly creature by oppressing the church, dare set himselfe against God? i For as hee deliuered the Church by the red sea, and by destroying Rahab, that is, the Egyptians: so will hee be the deliuerer, when the dangers bee great. k Tabor is a mountaine Westward from Ierusalem, and Hermon Eastward: so the Prophet signifieth that all partes and places of the world shall obey Gods power for the deliuerance of his Church. l For hereby hee iudgeth the world, and sheweth himselfe a mercifull Father, and faithfull protectour vnto his, m Feeling in their conscience that God is their Father.

n They shall be preferred by thy fatherly providence.

o In that they are preferred and continue, they ought to give the praise and glory wholly to thee.

p In that that our king hath power to defend vs, it is the gift of God.

q To Samuel & to others, to assure that Dauid was thy chosen one.

y His excellent dignity that appear herein, that he shall be named the sonne of God, and the first borne, wherein he is a figure of Christ.

z Though for the finnes of the people the state of this kingdome decayed, yet God reserved still a roote, till he had accomplished this promise in Christ. 2. Sam. 7. 14. a I though the faithful answered not in all points to their profession, yet God will not breake his covenant with them. b For God in promising hath respect to his mercy, and not to mans power in performing. *1. blisment of thy throne: mercy and truth go before thy face.

15 Blessed is the people that can reioyce in thee: they shall walke in the light of thy countenance. D. Lord.

16 They shall reioyce continually in thy Name, and in thy righteouesse they shall exalt themselves.

17 For thou art the glory of their strength, and by thy fauour our homes shall be exalted.

18 If our righteouesse appertaineth to the Lord, and our king to the Holy one of Israel.

19 Thou spakest then in a vision vnto a chine Woyle one, & saidst, I haue layd helpe vpon one that is mighty: I haue exalted one choiser out of the people.

20 I haue found Dauid my seruant; with mine holy oyle haue I anoynted him.

21 Therefore mine hand shall be established with him, and mine arme shall strengthen him.

22 The enemy shall not oppresse him, neither shall the wicked hurt him.

23 But I wil destroy his foes before his face, and plague them that hate him.

24 My truth also and my mercy shall be with him, and in my Name shall his home be exalted.

25 I will let his hand also in the sea, and his right hand in the floods.

26 He shall cry vnto mee, Thou art my Father, my God, and the rocke of my saluation.

27 Also I will make him my first borne, higher then the kings of the earth.

28 My mercie will I keepe for him for euermore, and my covenant shall stand fast with him.

29 His seede also wil I make to endure for euer, & his throne as the daies of heauen.

30 But if his children forsake my Lawe, and walke not in my iudgements:

31 If they breake my statutes, and keepe not my commandements:

32 Then will I visit their transgression with the rod, & their iniquity with strokes.

33 Yet my loving kindeesse wil I not take from him, neither wil I falsifie my truth.

34 My covenant will I not breake, nor alter the thing that is gone out of my lips.

35 I haue sworne once by mine holinesse, & that I will not faile Dauid, saying, 36 His seede shall endure for euer, and his throne shall be as the sunne before me.

37 He shall be established for euermore as the moone, and as a faithfull witness in the heauen. Selab.

38 But thou hast reiected and abhorred, thou hast bene angry with thine anoynted.

39 Thou hast broken the covenant of thy seruant, and prophaned his crowne, casting it on the ground.

40 Thou hast broken down all his wailes: thou hast laid his fortresses in raine.

41 All that goe by the way, spoile him: he is a rebuke vnto his neigbours.

42 Thou hast set by the right hand of his enemies, and made all his aduersaries to reioyce.

43 Thou hast also turned the edge of his sword, and hast not made him to stand in the battell.

44 Thou hast caused his dignitie to decay, and cast his throne to the ground.

45 The dayes of his youth hast thou shortened, and couered him with shame. Selab.

46 O Lord, how long wilt thou hide thy selfe, for euer? Shall thy wrath burne like fire?

47 Remember what time I am: wherefore shouldst thou create in dayne all the children of men?

48 What manlieth, and shall not see death? shall hee deliuer his soule from the hand of the graue? Selab.

49 O Lord, where are thy former mercies, which thou wast vnto Dauid in thy truth?

50 Remember, O Lord, the rebuke of thy seruants, which I beare in my bosome of all the mighty people.

51 For thine enemies haue reproched thee, O Lord, because they haue reproched the footsteps of thine Anointed.

52 Praised be the Lord for euermore. So be it, euen so be it.

that Gods enemies did not only slander him behind his backe, but also mocked him to his face, and as it were cast their iniuries in his bosome.

k So he calleth them that persecute the Church, I they laugh at vs, which patiently waite for the comming of thy Christ.

PSAL. XC.

1 Moses in his prayer seeth before vs the eternal fauour of God toward his, who are neither admonished by the breuity of their life, nor by his plagues to be thankesful, 2 therefore Moses prayeth God to turne their hearts & continue his mercies toward them, and their posterity for euer.

¶ A prayer of Moses the man of God.

Lord, thou hast bene our habitation from generation to generation.

2 Before the mountains were made, and before thou hadst formed the earth, and the worlde, euen from euerlasting to euerlasting thou art our God.

3 Thou turnest man to destruction: againe thou sayest, Returne, yee sonnes of Adam.

4 For a thousand yeres in thy sight are as yesterday when it is past, and as a watch in the night.

5 Thou hast overflowed them: they are as a sleepe: in the morning hee groweth like the graske:

menting the frailtie and shortnesse of mans life, moeth God to pity.

e Though man thinke his life long, which is in deed most thort, yea, though it were a thousand yeres: yet in Gods sight it is as nothing, and as the watch that lasteth but three hoeres.

f Thou takest them away suddenly as with a flood.

e By this hee meaneth the horrible dilapidation and renting of the kingdome, which was vnder Ieroboam: or els by the spirit of prophesie, Elisha speaketh of those great miseries, which came soone afterward to passe at the captiuitie of Babylon.

f He sheweth that the kingdome fel before it came to perfection, or was ripe.

g The Prophet in ioyning prayer with his complaint, sheweth that his saych neuer failed.

h Seeing mans life is thort, and thou hast created man to bestow thy beneficis vpon him, except thou haste to helpe, death will preuent thee.

i He meaneth, I haue created man to bestow thy beneficis vpon him, except thou haste to helpe, death will preuent thee.

i He meaneth, I haue created man to bestow thy beneficis vpon him, except thou haste to helpe, death will preuent thee.

i He meaneth, I haue created man to bestow thy beneficis vpon him, except thou haste to helpe, death will preuent thee.

i He meaneth, I haue created man to bestow thy beneficis vpon him, except thou haste to helpe, death will preuent thee.

i He meaneth, I haue created man to bestow thy beneficis vpon him, except thou haste to helpe, death will preuent thee.

i He meaneth, I haue created man to bestow thy beneficis vpon him, except thou haste to helpe, death will preuent thee.

i He meaneth, I haue created man to bestow thy beneficis vpon him, except thou haste to helpe, death will preuent thee.

i He meaneth, I haue created man to bestow thy beneficis vpon him, except thou haste to helpe, death will preuent thee.

i He meaneth, I haue created man to bestow thy beneficis vpon him, except thou haste to helpe, death will preuent thee.

i He meaneth, I haue created man to bestow thy beneficis vpon him, except thou haste to helpe, death will preuent thee.

i He meaneth, I haue created man to bestow thy beneficis vpon him, except thou haste to helpe, death will preuent thee.

i He meaneth, I haue created man to bestow thy beneficis vpon him, except thou haste to helpe, death will preuent thee.

g Thou callest vs by thy rods to consider the shortnesse of our life, and for our finnes thou abridgest our daies.

h Our dayes are not onely short, but miserable, for as much as our finnes daily pro-uoketh thy wrath.

i Meaning, according to the common state of life.

k If mans life for the breuitie be miserable, much more if thy wrath lye vpon it, as they which feare thee, onely know.

l Which is by considering the shortnesse of our life, & by meditating the heavenly ioyes.

m Meaning, wilt thou be angry?

n Or, take comfort in thy seruants.

o Euen thy mercy, which is thy chiefest worke. o As Gods promises appertained aswel to their posterity, as to them, so Moses praierth for the posterity. p Meaning, that it was obscured, when he ceased to do good to his Church. q For except thou guide vs with thine holy Spirit, our enterprises can haue no good successe.

6 In the morning it flourisheth & groweth, but in the evening it is cut downe and withereth.

7 For we are consumed by thine anger, and by thy wrath are we troubled.

8 Thou hast set our iniquities before thee, and our secret finnes in the light of thy countenance.

9 For all our dayes are past in thine anger: wec haue spent our yeeres as a thought.

10 The time of our life is threecore yeeres and tenne, and if they be of strength, fourescore yeeres: yet their strength is but labour and sorrow: for it is cut off quickly, and wec flee away.

11 Who knoweth the power of thy wrath? for according to thy feare is thine anger.

12 Teach vs so to number our dayes, that wec may applie our hearts vnto wisdom.

13 Returne, O Lord, how long? and be pacified toward thy seruants.

14 Still vs with thy mercy in the morning: so that we reioyce and be glad all our dayes.

15 Comfort vs according to the dayes that thou hast afflicted vs, & according to the yeeres that we haue leene euill.

16 Let thy worke be seene toward thy seruants, and thy glory vpon their children.

17 And let the beauty of the Lord our God be vpon vs, and direct thou the worke of our hands vpon vs, euen direct the worke of our hauds.

PSAL. XCI.

PSAL. XCII.

1 This Psalm was made to be sung on the Sabbath, to stirre up the people to acknowledge God, and to prayse him in his works: the Prophet reioiceth therein. 6 But the wicked is not able to consider that the vngodly, when he is most flourishing, shall most speedily perish: 12 In the end is described the felicitie of the iust, planned in the house of God to prayse the Lord.

A Psalmie or song for the Sabbath day. It is a good thing to payse the Lord, and to sing vnto thy Name, O most high,

2 To declare thy louing kindnesse in the morning, and thy truth in the night,

3 vpon an instrument of ten strings, and vpon the viole, with the song vpon the harpe.

4 For thou, Lord, hast made me glad by thy works, and I will reioyce in the works of thine hands.

5 O Lord, how glorious are thy works! and thy thoughts are very deepe.

6 An vnwise man knoweth it not, and a foolc doth not vnderstand this,

7 When the wicked grow as the grasse, and all the workers of wickednesse doe flourish: that they shall be destroyed for euer.

8 But thou, O Lord, art most high for euermore.

9 For loe, thine enemies, O Lord: for loe, thine enemies shall perish: all the workers of iniquitie shall be destroyed.

day: to wit, to meditate Gods works. e That is, the wicked consider not Gods works, nor his iudgements against them, and therefore most iustly perish. f Thy iudgements are most constant against the wicked, and passe our reach.

f The godly shall haue some experience of Gods iudgements: against the wicked euen in this life, but fully they shall see it at that day, when all things shall be reucaled.

g God hath not appointed euery man one Angel, but many to be ministers of his providence to keepe his and defend them in their vocation, which is the way to walke in without tempting God.

h Thou shalt not onely be preferred from all euill, i To assure the faithfull of Gods proteccion, hee bringeth in God to confirme the same. k For he is contented with that life, that God giueth: for by death the shortnesse of this life is recompensed with immortallitie.

a Which teacheth that the vse of the Sabbath standeth in praying God, and not onely in ceasing from worke, b For Gods mercy & fidelitie in his promises toward his, binde them to praese him continually, both day and night.

c These instruments were then permitted, but at Chrills coming abolished, d He sheweth what is the vse of the Sabbath

g Thou wilt strengthen them with all power, and blest them with all felicity. h Though the richfull seeme to wither and be cut downe by the wicked: yet they shall grow againe and flourish in the Church of God, as the Cedars do in mount Lebanon. i The children of God that haue a power aboue nature, and their age shall bring forth most fresh fruits.

10 But thou shalt exalt mine home, like the Unicoures, and I shall be anointed with fresh oyle. 11 Mine eye also shall see my desire against mine enemies: and mine eares shall heare my wish against the wicked, that rise vp against me. 12 The righteous shall flourish like a palme tree, and shall grow like a Cedar in Lebanon. 13 Such as bee planted in the house of the Lords, shall flourish in the courts of our God. 14 They shall still bring forth fruit in their age: they shall be fat and flourishing. 15 To declare that the Lord my rocke is righteous, and that none iniquity is in him.

PSAL XCIII.

1 He praiseth the power of God in the creation of the worlde, and beateh downe all people which lift them up against his Majesty, 5 And prouoketh to consider his promises.

The Lord reigneth, and is clothed with minerie: the Lord is clothed, and girded with power: the world also shall bee established, that it cannot be moued. 2 Thy throne is established of olde: thou art from euermalting. 3 The floods of their auer lifted vp, O Lord: the floods haue lifted by their voyce: the floods lift vp their waues. 4 The waues of the sea are maruailous through the noyse of many waters, yet the Lord on high is more mighty. 5 Thy testimonies are very sure: holines becommeth thine house, O Lord, for euer.

PSAL XCIII.

1 He praiseth vnto God against the violence and arrogancy of tyrants, 10 Warning them of Gods iudgements. 12 Then doth he comfort the afflicted by the good issue of their afflictions, as hee felt in himselfe, and did see in others, and by the ruine of the wicked, 23 Whom the Lord will destroy.

Lord God the auenger, O God, the auenger, shew thy selfe clearly. 2 Exalt thy selfe, O iudge of the world, and render a reward to the proud. 3 Lord, how long shall the wicked, how long shall the wicked triumph? 4 They prate and speake fiercely: all the workers of iniquitie vaunt themselves. 5 They diminish downe thy people, O Lord, and trouble thine heritage. 6 They slay the widow and the stranger, and murder the fatherlesse. 7 Yet they say, The Lord shall not see: neither will the God of Iacob regard it. 8 Understand ye viriue among the people: and ye fooles, when will ye be wise?

9 We that planted the eare, shall he not heare? or he that formed the eye, shall he not see? 10 Or hee that chastised the nations, shall he not correct? hee that teacheth man knowledge, shall he not know? 11 The Lord knoweth the thoughts of man, that they are vanitie. 12 Blessed is the man whom thou chastisest, O Lord, and teachest him in thy Law, 13 That thou mayest giue him rest from the dayes of euill, whiles the pit is digged for the wicked. 14 Surely the Lord will not faile his people, neither will he forsake his inheritance. 15 For iudgement shall returne to iustice, and all the vppright in heart shall follow after it. 16 Who will rise vp with me against the wicked? or who will take my part against the workers of iniquitie? 17 If the Lord had not holpen mee, my soule had almost dwelt in silence. 18 When I sayd, My foote slideth, thy mercy, O Lord, stayed me. 19 In the multitude of my thoughts in mine heart, thy comforts haue reioyced my soule. 20 Hath the thione of iniquitie fellowship with thee, which foigeth wrong for a law? 21 They gather them together against the soule of the righteous, and condemne the innocent blood. 22 But the Lord is my refuge, and my God is the rocke of mine hope. 23 And hee will recompense them their wickednes, and destroy them in their owne malice: yea, the Lord our God shall destroy them.

PSAL XCV.

1 An earnest exhortation to prayse God, 4 for the gouernment of the world, & the election of his Church 8 An admnition not to follow the rebellion of the old fathers, that sinned God in the wilderness: 11 For the which they might not enter into the land of promise.

Come, let vs promise vnto the Lord: let vs sing a loude vnto the rocke of our saluation. 2 Let vs come before his face with praise: let vs sing loud vnto him with Psalms. 3 For the Lord is a great God, and a great king aboue all gods. 4 In whose hand are the deepe places of the earth, and the heights of the mountains are his: 5 To whom the Sea belongeth: for hee made it, and his hands formed the drie land. 6 Come, let vs worship and fall down, f He sheweth that it is impossible, but God should heare, see and vnderstand their wickednes, g If God punish wold nations for their sinnes, it is meere folly for any one man, or else a fewe to thinke that God will spare them. h God hath care ouer his, and chastiseth them for their wealth, that they should not perish for euer with the wicked. i God will restore the state & gouernement of things to their right vse, and then the godly shall follow him cheerefully. k He complaineth of them, which would not helpe him to resist the enemies: yet was assured that Gods helpe would not faile. l When I thought there a He sheweth that Gods seruice standeth not in dead ceremonies, but chiefly in the sacrifice of praye and thanksgiving. b Euen the Angels (who in respect of men are thought as gods) are nothing in his sight: much lesse the idoles, which mans braine inuenteth. c All things are gouerned by his providence. d By these three words he signifieth one thing, meaning, that they must wholly gve themselves to serue God.

a As God by his power and wisdom hath made and gouerneth the world: so must the same be our defence against all enemies and dangers. b Wherein thou seekest and gouernest the world. c Gods power appeareth in ruling the furious waters. d Besides Gods power and wisdom in creating, and gouerning, his great mercy also appeareth in that he hath giuen his people his word and couenant.

a Whose office it is to take vengeance on the wicked. b Shew by effect that thou art iudge of the world to punish the wicked. c That is, bragg of their euillie an oppression: or, esteeme themselves aboue all others. d Seeing the Church was then so sore oppressed, it ought not to seeme strange to vs, if we see it so now, and therefore we must call to God to take our cause in hande. e He is weth that they are desperate in malice, forasmuch as they feared not God, but gaue themselves wholly to doe wickedly.

and kneele before the Lord our maker.

7 For he is our God, & we are the people of his pasture, and the sheepe of his hands:

8 Harden not your heart, as <sup>in</sup> Hertenbah, and as in the day of Hadenah in the wilderness.

9 Where your fathers tempted me, provoked me, though they had seene my worke.

10 For tie yeeres haue I contended with this generation, and said, They are a people that erre in heart, for they haue not knownen my wayes.

11 Eitherfore I sweare in my wrath, saying, Surely they shall not enter into my rest.

PSAL. XCVI.

1 An exhortation both to the Iewes and Gentiles to praise God for his mercie. And this especially ought to be referred to the kingdom of Christ.

Sing vnto the Lord a new song: sing vnto the Lord, all the earth.

2 Sing vnto the Lord, and prayse his name: declare his saluation from day to day.

3 Declare his glory among all nations, and his wonders among all people.

4 For the Lord is great and much to be praised: he is to be feared about all gods.

5 For all the gods of the people are idols: but the Lord made the heauens.

6 Strength and glory are before him: power and beautie are in his Sanctuary.

7 Give vnto the Lord, yee families of the people: giue vnto the Lord glory and power.

8 Give vnto the Lord the glory of his name: bring an offering, and enter into his courts.

9 Worship the Lord in the glorious sanctuary: tremble before him all the earth.

10 Say among the nations, The Lord reigneth: surely the world shall be stable, and not moue, and he shall iudge the people in righteousness.

11 Let the heauens reioyce, and let the earth be glad: let the sea reare, and all that therein is.

12 Let the field be ioyful, and all that is in it: let all the trees of the wood then reioyce.

13 Before the Lord: for he cometh, for he cometh to iudge the earth: he will iudge the world with righteousness, and the people in his truth.

PSAL. XCVII.

1 The Prophet exhorteth all to reioyce for the comming of the kingdom of Christ, 7 a readfull to the rebels and idolaters, 8 and ioyfull to the iust, whom he exhorteth to innocencie, 12 to reioycing and thanksgiving.

The Lord reigneth: let the earth reioyce: let the multitude of the yles be glad.

2 Cloudes and darkenesse are round about him: righteousnesse and iudgement are the foundation of his throne.

3 There shall goe a fire before him, and burne by his enemies round about.

4 His lightnings gave light vnto the world: the earth saw it, and was afraid.

5 The mountains melted like waxe at the presence of the Lord, at the presence of the Lord of the whole earth.

6 The heauens declare his righteousness, and all the people fee his glory.

7 Confounded bee all they that serue grauen images, & that glory in idoles: worship him f all ye gods.

8 Zion heard of it, and was glad: and the daughters of Iudah reioiced, because of thy iudgements, O Lord.

9 For thou Lord art most high above all the earth: thou art much exalted above all gods.

10 Perceiue thou the Lord, hate enill: he preferreth the soules of his Saints: hee will deliuer them from the hand of the wicked.

11 Light is sowne for the righteous, and joy for the upright in heart.

12 Reioyce ye righteous in the Lord, and giue thanks for his holy remembrance.

PSAL. XCVIII.

1 An earnest exhortation to all creatures to praise the Lord for his power, mercy, & fidelity in his promise by Christ, 10 by whom he hath communicated his saluation to all nations.

A Psalm.

Sing vnto the Lord a newe song: for he hath done marueilous things: his right hande, and his holy arme haue gotten him the victory.

2 The Lord declared his saluation: his righteousness hath he reuelled in the sight of the nations.

3 Hee hath remembered his mercie and his truth toward the house of Israel: all the ends of the earth haue seene the saluation of our God.

4 All the earth, sing ye lowd vnto the Lord: cry out and reioyce, and sing praises.

5 Sing psaltes to the Lord vpon the harpe, euen vpon the harpe with a singing voyce.

6 With shaltes and sound of trumpets sing lowd before the Lord the king.

7 Let the sea reare, and all that therein is, the world, and they that dwell therein.

8 Let the floods clap their hands, and let the mountains reioyce together.

9 Before the Lord: for hee is come to iudge the earth: with righteousness shall he iudge the world, and the people with equity.

a He sheweth that where God reigneth, there is all felicity and spirituall ioy.

b For the Gospel shall not be onely preached in Iudaea, but thorow all yles and countreys.

c Hee is thus described to keepe his enemies in feare, which commonly concerne Gods power.

d This ree bringeth not the wicked to true obedience, but maketh them to run away from God.

e Hee signifieth that Gods iudgements are in a readinesse to destroy the idolaters.

f Let all which is esteeme in the world, fall downe before him.

g The Iewes shal haue occasion to reioyce, & the Gentiles are made partakers with them of Gods fauour.

h Hee requirith two things of his children: the one, that they detest vice, the other, that they put their trust in God for their deliuerance.

i Though Gods deliuerance appeare not suddenly, yet it is sowne and layd vp in store for them.

k Be mindfull of his benefites, and onely trust in his defence.

a That is, some song newly made in token of their wonderful deliuerance by Christ.

b Hee preferreth his Church miraculously.

c For the deliuerance of his Church.

d God was moued by none other meanes to gather his church of the Iewes and Gentiles, but because he would performe his promise.

e By this repetition and earnest exhortation to giue praises with instruments, and also of the dumbe creatures, he signifieth that the world is neuer able to praise God sufficiently for their deliuerance.

PSAL. XCIX.

1 He commendeth the power, equity and excellency of the kingdoms of God by Christ ouer the Iewes & Gentiles, 5 and prouoketh them to magnifie the same, and to serue the Lord, 6 following the example of the ancient fathers, Moses, Aaron, Samuel, who calling vpon God, were heard in their prayers.

The Lord reigneth, let the people tremble: he sitteth between the Cherubims, let the earth be moued.

2 The Lord is great in Zion, and he is hye above all the people.

3 They shall praise thy great and fearful Name (for it is holy.)

4 And the kings power that loneth iudgement: for thou hast prepared equity: thou hast executed iudgement and iustice in Iacob.

5 Exalt the Lord our God, and fall down before his footstool: for he is holy.

6 Moses and Aaron were among his Priestes, and Samuel among such as call vpon his Name: these called vpon the Lord, and he heard them.

7 Wee spake vnto them in the cloudy pillar: they kept his testimonies, and the Law that he gaue them.

8 Thou hearest them, O Lord our God: thou wast a fauourable God vnto them, though thou didst take vengeance for their inuentions.

9 Exalt the Lord our God, and fall down before his holy mountaine: for the Lord our God is holy.

10 He prophesieth that Gods benefite in calling the Gentiles, shall be so great, that they shall haue wonderful occasion to praise his mercie and reioyce.

11 He exhorteth also to serue the Lord, 3 who hath chosen vs, and preferred vs: 4 and to enter into his assemblies to praise his name.

PSAL. C.

1 Sing ye loue vnto the Lord, all the earth. 2 Serue the Lord with gladnes: come before him with ioyfulness.

3 Know ye that euen the Lord is God: he hath made vs, and not we our selues: we are his people, and the sheepe of his pasture.

4 Enter into his gates with praise, and into his courts with reioycing: prayse him, and blesse his Name.

5 For the Lords is good: his mercy is euertlasting, and his truth is from generation to generation.

6 He sheweth that God will not bee worshipped, but by that means which he hath appointed. d He declareth, that we ought neuer to bee weary in praying him, seeing his mercies toward vs last for euer.

PSAL. CI.

1 David describeth what government he wil obserue in his house and kingdome, 5 He wil punish and correct by rooting forth the wicked, 6 and cherishing the godly persons.

A Psalm of David.

1 I will sing mercie and iudgement: vnto thee, O Lord, will I sing.

2 He declareth what manner of king hee would be when God should place him in the throne, promising openly, that he would be mercifull and iust.

2 I will doe wisely in the perfit way: till thou comest to me: I wil walke in the vprightnesse of mine heart in the mids of mine house.

3 I will let no wicked thing before mine eyes: I hate the work of them that fal away: it shall not cleaue vnto me.

4 A froward heart shall depart from me: I will know none illand.

5 Him that punitly slandereth his neyghbour will I destroy: him that hath a proud looke and hye heart, I cannot suffer.

6 Mine eyes shall vnto the faithfull of the land, y they may dwell with me: he that walketh in a perfect way, he shall serue me.

7 There shall no deceitfull person dwell within mine house: he that telleth lies, shall not remaine in my sight.

8 Wetimes will I destroy all the wicked of the land, that I may cut off all the workers of iniquity from the citie of the Lord.

9 He sheweth what is the true vse of the sword: to punish the wicked, and to maintain the good. f Magistrates must immediatly punish vice, lest it grow to further inconueniencies: and if heathen Magistrates are bound to doe this, how much more they that haue the charge of the Church of God?

PSAL. CII.

6 I am like a pelican of the wilderness: I am like an owle of the deserts.

7 I watch and am as a sparrow alone vpon the house top.

8 Mine enemies reuile mee daily, and they that rage against mee, haue sworn against me.

9 Surely I haue eaten ashes as bread, and mingled my drinke with weeping.

10 Because of thine indignation and thy wrath: for thou hast heaued me vp, and cast me downe.

11 My dayes are like a shadow that fadeth, and I am withered like grasse.

12 But thou, O Lord, doest remaine for my death. g I haue not isen out of my mourning to take my refection. h He sheweth that the afflictions did not onely thus moue him, but chiefly the feeling of Gods displeasure. i Howsoeuer wee be fraile: yet thy promise is sure, and the remembrance thereof shall confirme vs for euer.

b Though as yet thou dclerrest to place me in the kingly dignity, yet wil I giue my selfe to wisdom & vprightsness being a priuat man, c He sheweth that magistrates do not their duties, except they be enemies to all vice, d In promising to punish these vices, which are most pernicious in them that are about kings, hee declareth that he will punish all. e He sheweth what is the true vse of the sword: to punish the wicked, and to maintain the good. f Magistrates must immediatly punish vice, lest it grow to further inconueniencies: and if heathen Magistrates are bound to doe this, how much more they that haue the charge of the Church of God?

ener, and thy remembrance from generation to generation.

13 Thou wilt arise, and haue mercy vpon Zion: for the time to haue mercie thereon, for the appointed time is come.

14 For thy seruants delight in the stones thereof, and haue pricc on the dust thereof.

15 Then the heathen shall feare the Name of the Lord, and all the Kings of the earth thy glory,

16 When the Lord shall builde by Zion, and shall appeare in his glory, 17 And shall turne vnto the prayer of the desolate, and not despise their prayer.

18 This shall be written for the generation to come: and the people which shall be created, shall praise the Lord.

14 The fruites of mans life. 20 An exhortation to men and Angels to praise the Lord.

¶ A Psalm of David.

M y soule, praye thou the Lord, and all that is within me, praise his holy Name.

2 O soule, praise thou the Lord, & forget not all his benefites.

3 Which forgiveth all thine iniquities, and healeth all thine infirmities.

a Hee wakeneth his dulnesse to praise God shewing that both vnderstanding and affections, minde and heart are too litle to set forth his praise. b This is the beginning and chiefest of all benefites: remission of sinne,

4 Which redeemeth thy life from the graue, and crowneth thee with mercie and compassions.

5 Which satisfieth thy mouth with good things: and thy youth is renewed like the eagles.

6 The Lord executeth righteousness and iudgement to all that are oppressed.

7 He made his wayes knowne vnto Moses, & his workes vnto the childre of Israel.

8 The Lord is full of compassion & mercie, slow to anger and of great kindnesse.

9 He will not alwaye chide, neither keepe his anger for euer.

10 Hee hath not dealt with vs after our finnes, nor rewarded vs according to our iniquities.

11 For as high as the heauen is aboue the earth, so great is his mercie toward them that feare him.

12 As farre as the East is from the West: so farre hath he remooued our finnes from vs.

13 As a father hath compassion on his children, so hath the Lord compassion on them that feare him.

14 For he knoweth whereof we be made: hee remembereth that we are but dust.

15 The dayes of a man are as grasse: as a flowe of the field, so flourisheth he.

16 For the winde goeth ouer it, and it is gone, and the place thereof shall know it no more.

17 But the louing kindnesse of the Lord endureth for euer and euer vpon them that feare him, and his righteousness vpon childrens children, 18 Vnto them that keepe his covenant, and thinke vpon his commandements to doe them.

19 The Lord hath prepared his throne in heauen, and his kingdome ruleth ouer all.

20 Praise ye y Lord, ye his Angels, that excell in strength, that doe his commandement in obeying the voice of his word.

21 Praise the Lord, all ye his hosts, ye his seruants that doe his pleasure.

22 Praise the Lord, all ye his workes, in all places of his dominion: my soule, praise thou the Lord.

b As the Prophet here sheweth that all visible powers are ready to serue God: so the Apostle to the Heb. 1. 7. be-holdeth in this glaſſe, how the very Angels also are obedient to his commandment.

c Thou makeſt the ſea to be an ornament vnto the earth.

d If by thy power thou diddeſt not bridle the rage of waters; it were not poſſible but ſ whole world ſhould be deſtroyed.

 16 Hee called a famine vpon the land, and vterly brake the staffe of bread.
 17 But hee sent a man before them: Ioseph was sold for a slave.
 18 They held his feete in the stockes, and he was layd in prisons.
 19 Untill his appointed time came, and the counsell of the Lord had tried him.
 20 The king sent and looted him: euen the ruler of the people deliuered him.
 21 Hee made him lord of his house, and ruler of all his substance, 22 That hee should binde his Princes vnto his will, and teach his Ancients widdome.
 23 Then Israel came to Egypt, and Iacob was a stranger in the land of Ham.
 24 And hee increased his people exceedingly, and made them stronger then their oppressors.
 25 Hee turned their heart to hate his people, and to deale craftily with his seruants.
 26 Then sent hee Moses his seruant, and Aaron whom hee had chosen.
 27 They shewed among them the message of his signes, and wonders in the land of Ham.
 28 He sent darknesse and made it darke: and they were not disobedient vnto his commission.
 29 Hee turned their waters into blood, and slew their fish.
 30 Their land brought forth frogs, euen in their kings chambers.
 31 Hee spake, and there came swarmes of flies, and lice in all their quarters.
 32 Hee gaue them a haille for raine, and flames of fire in their land.
 33 Hee smote their vines also and their figge trees, & brake downe the trees in their coaits.

 1 The people dispersed vnder Antiochus doe magnifie the goodnesse of God among the iust and repentant: & Desiring to be brought againe into the land by Gods mercifull visitation. 8 And after the manifold maruails of God wrought in their deliuerance forth of Egypt, and the great ingratitude of the people rehearsed, 47 they do pray and desire to be gathered from among the heathen, to the intent they may praise the name of the God of Israel.

Praise ye the Lord, because hee is good, for his mercy endureth for euer.
 2 Who can expresse the noble acts of the Lord, or shew forth all his praye?
 3 Blessen are they that keepe iudgement, and do righteousnesse at all times.
 4 Remember me, O Lord, with thy fauour of thy people: visit me with thy saluation,
 5 That I may see the felicity of thy chosen, and reioyce in the joy of thy people, and glory with thine inheritance.
 6 We haue sinned with our fathers: we haue committed iniquity, & done wickedly.
 7 Our fathers understood not thy wonders in Egypt, neither remembered they the multitude of thy mercies, but rebelled at the Sea, euen at the red Sea.
 8 Auert heuells, & hee saved them for his Names sake, that he might make his power to be knowne.
 9 And he rebuked the red sea, and it was dried vp, and he led them in the deepe, as in the wilderness.
 10 And hee saved them from the aduersaries hand, and deliuered them from the hand of the enemy.
 11 And the waters couered their oppressors: not one of them was left.
 12 Then bleued they his words, and sang praise vnto him.

13 But incontinently they forgate his workes: they waited not for his counsell.
 14 But lusted with concupiscence in the wilderness, and tempted God in the desert.
 15 Then he gaue them their desire: but hee sent a cannesse into their soule.
 16 They enuied Moses also in the tents, and Aaron the holy one of the Lord.
 17 Therefore the earth opened and swallowed by Dathan, and covered the company of Abiram.

He would change the order of nature rather then his people should not be deliuered, although they were wicked. Exod. 14. 27. f The wonderfull workes of God caused them to beleue for a time, and to praise him. g They would prevent his wisdom and providence. h The abundance that God gaue them profited not, but made them pite away, because God cursed it. i By the greatnesse of the punishment the hainous offence may be considered: for they that rise against Gods ministers, rebell against him.

y When the Egyptians lamented and were destroyed.
 z This is the end, why God profreth his hum in this world.

a The Prophet exhorteth the people to praise God for his benefitts past, that thereby their minds may be strengthened against all present troubles and despair.
 b He sheweth, that it is not enough to praise God with mouth except the whole heart agree therunto, and all our life be thereto framed.
 c Let the good will that thou bearest to thy people, extend vnto me, that thereby I may be reeued into the number of thine.
 d By earnest confession, as well of their owne, as of their fathers finnes, they shew that they had hope that God according to his promise would pitie them. e The inestimable goodnesse of God appeareth in this, that he

18 And the fire was kindled in their assembly: the flame burnt by the wicked.

19 They made a calfe in Horeb, and worshipped the molten image.

20 Thus they turned their glory into the similitude of a bullocke, that eateth grass.

21 They forgate God their Saviour, which had done great things in Egypt, 22 Wonderous workes in the land of Ham and fearefull things by the red sea.

23 Therefore he minded to destroy them, had not Moses his chosen stood in y breach before him to turne away his wrath, least he should destroy them.

24 Also they contemned that pleasant land, and beleued not his word, 25 But murmured in their tents, and hearkened not vnto the voyce of the Lord.

26 Therefore hee lifted vp his hand against them, to destroy them in the wilderness, 27 And to destroy their seede among the nations, and to scatter them throughout the countreys.

28 They toynd themselves also vnto Baal-peor, and did eate the offerings of the pe dead.

29 Thus they prouoked him vnto anger with their owne inuentions, and the plague brake in vpon them.

30 But Phinehas stood vp, and executed iudgement, and the plague was stayed,

31 And it was imputed vnto him for righteousness from generation to generation for euer.

32 They angered him also at the waters of Meribah, so that Moses was punished for their sakes, 33 Because they vexed his spirit, so that he spake vnadvisedly with his lips.

34 Neither destroyed they the people, as the Lord had commanded them,

35 But were mingled among the heathen, and learned their workes, 36 And serued their idols, which were their ruine.

37 Yea, they offered their sonnes, and their daughters vnto demils, 38 And shed innocent blood, and the blood of their sonnes, and of their daughters, whom they offered vnto the idoles of Canaan, and the land was defiled with blood.

39 Thus were they stayned with their owne workes, and went a whoring with their owne inuentions.

40 Therefore was the wrath of the Lord kindled against his people, and hee abhorred his owne inheritance.

41 And hee gaue them into the hand of the heathen: & they that hated them, were lords ouer them.

42 Their enemies also oppressed them, and they were humbled vnder their hand.

43 Many a time did hee deliuer them, but they prouoked him by their counsils: therefore they were brought downe by their iniquity.

44 Yet hee saw when they were in affliction, and he heard their cry.

45 And hee remembered his conenant to ward them, and repented according to the multitude of his mercies, 46 And gaue them fauour in the sight of all them that led them captiues.

47 Saue vs, O Lord our God, and gather vs from among the heathen, that we may praise thine holy Name, and glory in thy praise.

48 Blessed be the Lord God of Israel for euer and euer, and let all the people say, So be it. Praise ye the Lord.

y The Prophet. sheweth that neither by menaces nor promises we can com: to God except we bee altogether newly reformed, & that his mercy ouer-couert and hide our malice, z Not that God is changeable in himselfe, but that then hee seemeth to vs to reuer, when he altereth his punishment, and forgiueth vs, and constancy vnder the crosse, that with one consent we may all praise thee.

PSAL. CVII.

1 The Prophet exhorteth all those that are redeemed by the Lord, & gathered vnto him to giue thanks for the mercifull prouidence of God turning all things at his good pleasure, 20 sending good and euill, prosperity and aduersity to bring men vnto him. 42 Therefore as the righteous thereat reioyce, so shall the wicked haue their mouthes flopped.

Praise the Lord, because he is good: for his mercy endureth for euer.

2 Let them which haue bene redeemed of the Lord, shewe how hee hath deliuered them from the hand of the oppressour,

3 And gathered them out of the landes, from the East and from the West, from the North and from the South,

4 When they wandered in the desert and wilderness out of the way, and found no city to dwell in,

5 Both hungry and thirstie, their soules fainted in them.

6 Then they cryed vnto the Lord in their trouble, and hee deliuered them from their distresse,

7 And led them forth by the right way, that they might goe to a citie of habitation.

8 Let them therefore confesse before the Lord his louing kindnesse, and his wonderfull workes before the sonnes of men.

9 For hee satisfied the thirstie soule, and filled the hungry soule with goodnesse.

10 They that dwell in darknesse and in the shadow of death, being bound in misery and yron,

11 Because they rebelled against the wordes of the Lord, and despised the counsell of the most high,

12 When hee humbled their heart with heauynesse, then they fel downe, and there was no helper.

13 Then they cryed vnto the Lord in their trouble, and hee deliuered them from their distresse.

c He sheweth that there is none affliction so grieuous, out of the which God will not deliuer his, and also exhorteth them, that are deliuered, to be mindefull of so great a benefite.

d Then the true way to obey God is to follow his expresse commandment: also herby al are exhorted to descend into themselves, for in such a none are punished, but for their finnes. e He sheweth that the cause why God doeth punish vs extremely, is because wee can bee brought vnto him by none other meanes.

Numb. 20. 13. psal. 95. 8. t If so notable a Prophet of God escape not punishment, though others prouoked them to sinne, how much more shall they be subiect to Gods iudgement, which cause Gods children to sin? u He sheweth how monstrous a thing idolatry is, which can win vs to things abhorring to nature, whereas Gods worde cannot obtayne most frail things. x Then true chastitie is to cleaue wholly and onely vnto God, f When there seemeth to mans iudgement no recouerie, but all things are brought to despair, then God chiefly sheweth his mightie power.

g They that haue no feare of God, by his sharper rods are brought to cal vpon him, and so finde mercie.

h By healing them he declarerth his good will toward them.

i Meaning their diseases, which had almost brought them to the graue and conuulsion.

k Praise and confession of Gods benefites are the true sacrifices of the godly.

l He sheweth by the sea, what care God hath ouer man, for in that that he deliuereth them from the great dangers of the sea, he deliuereth them, as it were from a thousand deaths.

n When their arte and meanes faile them, they are compelled to confesse that onely Gods providence doth preserve them.

o Though before euery drop seemed to fight one against another, yet at his commandment they are as still, as though they were frozen.

14 He brought them out of darknesse, and out of the shadow of death, and brake their bands asunder.

15 Let them therefore confesse before the Lord his louing kindnesse, and his wonderfull workes before the sonnes of men.

16 For he hath broken the gates of brass, and brast the barres of yron asunder.

17 s fooles by reason of their transgression, because of their iniquities are afflicted.

18 Their soule abhorreth all meate, and they are brought to dearehs dooze.

19 Then they cry vnto the Lord in their trouble, and hee deliuereth them from their distresse.

20 Hee sendeth his word and healeth them, and deliuereth them from their graues.

21 Let them therefore confesse before the Lord his louing kindnesse, and his wonderfull workes before the sonnes of men.

22 And let them offer sacrifices of praise, and declare his workes with reioicing.

23 They that goe downe to the sea in ships, and occupie by the great waters, 24 They see the workes of the Lord, and his wonders in the deepe.

25 For hee commandeth and raiseth the stormie winde, and it lifteth vp the waues thereof.

26 They mount vp to the heauen, and descend to the deepe, so that their soule melteth for trouble.

27 They are tossed to and fro, and stagger like a drunken man, and all their cunning is gone.

28 Then they cry vnto the Lord in their trouble, and hee bringeth them out of their distresse.

29 He turneth the storme to calme, so that the waves thereof are still.

30 When they are quieted, they are glad, and he bringeth them vnto the haueu where they would be.

31 Let them therefore confesse before the Lord his louing kindnesse, and his wonderfull workes before the sonnes of men.

32 And let them exalt him in the congregation of the people, and praise him in the assembly of the Elders.

33 Hee turneth the floods into a wilderness, and the springs of waters into drynesse, 34 And a fruitful land into barrennesse, for the wickednesse of them that dwell therein.

This Psalme is composed of two other Psalmes before, the seuen and fiftieth and the sixtieth. The matter here contained is, 1 That Dauid giueth himselfe with heart and voice to praise the Lord, 7 And assureth himselfe of the promise of God concerning his kingdom ouer Israel, and his power against other nations: 11 Who though hee seeme to forsake vs for a time, yet he alone will in the end cast downe our enemies.

A long or Psalme of Dauid.

God, mine heart is prepared, so is my tongue: I will sing and giue praise.

2 Awake viol and harpe: I will awake earely.

3 I will praise thee, O Lord, among the people, and I will sing vnto thee among the nations.

4 For thy mercy is great about the heauens, and the trueth vnto the clouds.

5 Exalt thy selfe, O God, about the heaurns, and let thy glorie bee vpon all the earth.

6 That thy beloued may bee deliuered: 4 helpe with thy right hand and heare mee.

7 God hath spoken in his holines: therefore I will reioyce, I shall diuide Shechem, and measure the valley of Succoth.

8 Gilead shall be mine, & Manasse shall be mine: Ephraim also shall be the strength of mine head: Iudah is my law-giuer.

9 Moab shall be my washpot: ouer Edome will I cast out my shoe: vpon Palestina will I triumph.

10 Who will leade me into the strong citie? who will bring me vnto Edom?

11 Wilt not thou, O God, which haddest forsaken vs, and didst not goe forth, O God, with our armies?

12 Giue vs helpe against trouble: for vaine is the helpe of man.

13 Though God we shall doe vallantly: for he shall tread downe our enemies.

14 Let us not cease to praye, and to call vnto him, to continue and finish his graces. e As he hath spoken to Samuel concerning me, so will he shew himselfe constant and holy in his promise, so that these nations following shall be subiect vnto me. Psal 60 8. f From the sixt verse of this Psalme vnto the last, reade the exposition in the 60. Psalme, and fift verse.

1 Dauid being falsly accused by flatterers vnto Saul, prayeth God to helpe him, and to destroy his enemies. 8 And vnder them he speaketh of Iudas the traitour vnto Iesu Christ, and of all the like enemies of the children of God: 27 And desireth so to be deliuered, that his enemies may knowe the worke to be of God. 30 Then doth hee promise to giue praises vnto God.

t For their wickednesse & tyranny he causeth y people and subiects to conteme them. u They, whose faith is lightened by Gods Spirit, shall reioyce to see Gods iudgements against the wicked and vngodly.

a This earnest affection declarerth that he is free from hypocritie, and that sluggishnes flattereth him not.

b He prophesieth of the calling of the Gentiles: for except they were called, they could not heare the goodnesse of God.

c Let all the world see thy iudgements, in that that thou art God ouer all, and so confesse that thou art glorious.

d When God by his benefites maketh vs partakers of his mercies, he admonisheth vs to be earnest in prayer, to desire him to continue and finish his graces.

e As he hath spoken to Samuel concerning me, so will he shew himselfe constant and holy in his promise, so that these nations following shall be subiect vnto me.

To him that creetheth. A Psalm of David.

H O be not thy tongue, O God of my praise. For the mouth of the wicked, and the mouth full of deceit are opened upon mee; they haue spoken to mee with a lying tongue.

They compassed mee about also with words of hatred, and sought against mee without a cause.

For my friendship they were mine aduersaries, but I gaue my selfe to prayer.

And they haue rewarded mee euill for good, and hatred for my friendship.

Set thou the wicked ouer him, and let the aduersarie stand at his right hand.

When he shall bee indged, let him bee condemned, and let his prayer bee turned into sinne.

Let his dayes bee few, and let another take his charge.

Let his children be fatherless, and his wife a widow.

Let his children bee vagabonds and begge and seeke bread, coming out of their places destroyed.

Let the extortioner catch all that hee hath, and let the stranger spoyle his labour.

Let there be none to extend mercy vnto him, neither let there be any to shew mercy vpon his fatherlesse children.

Let his posteritie be destroyed, and in the generation following let their name bee put out.

Let the iniquitie of his fathers bee had in remembrance with the Lord: and let not the sinne of his mother bee done away.

But let them alway be before the Lord, that he may cut off their memoriall from the earth.

Because hee remembered not to shew mercie, but persecuted the afflicted and poore man, and the sorrowfull hearted, to slay him.

As hee loued curling, so shall it come vnto him, and as hee loued not blessing, so shall it be farre from him.

As hee clothed himselfe with curling like a raiment, so shall it come into his bowels like water, and like oyle into his bones.

Let it bee vnto him as a garment to couer him, and for a girdle, wherewith he shall be alway girded.

Let this be the reward of mine aduersarie from the Lord, and of them, that speake euill against my soule.

But thou, O Lord my God, deale with mee according to thy Name: Dealt with mee according to thy Name: Dealt uer mee, (for they mercie is good.)

Because I am poore and needie, and mine heart is wounded within me.

I depart like the shadow that declineth, and am shaken off as the grassopper.

My knees are weake through falling, and my flesh hath lost all fastnesse.

I became also a rebuke vnto them: they that looked vpon mee, shooke their heads.

Helpe me, O Lord my God: saue me according to thy mercie.

And they shall know, that this is thine hand, and that thou, Lord, hast done it.

Though they curse, yet thou wilt blesse: they shall aile and bee confounded, but thy seruant shall reioyce.

Let mine aduersaries bee clothed with shame, and let them couer themselves with their confusion, as with a cloke.

Let mine aduersaries bee clothed with shame, and let them couer themselves with their confusion, as with a cloke.

I will giue thanks vnto the Lord greatly with my mouth, and prayle him among the multitude.

For he will stand at the right hand of the poore, to saue him from them that would condemne his soule.

the Congregation, Hereby he sheweth that hee had not to doe with them that were of little power, but with the iudges and princes of the world.

David propheseth of the power and euerlasting kingdome giuen to Christ, And of his Priesthood, which should put an end to the Priesthood of Leui.

A Psalm of David.

The Lord laid vnto my Lord, Sit thou at my right hand, vntill I make thine enemies thy footstool.

The Lord shall send the rodde of thy power out of Zion: bee thou ruler in the iniddes of thine enemies.

They people shall come willingly at the time of assembling: thine armie in holy beautie: the youth of thy wombe shall bee as the morning dewe.

The Lord swaie, and will not repent, Thou art a Priest for euer after the order of Melchizedek.

The Lord that is at thy right hand, shall wound kings in the day of his wrath.

He shall bee iudge among the heathen: he shall sit all with dead bodies, and smite the head vnto great countreys.

He shall drinke of the brooke in the way: therefoze shall hee liue by his head.

be assembled into thy Church, whose increase shall bee so abundant and wonderfull, as the drops of the dewe: As Melchizedek the figure of Christ was both King and Priest: so the eccle cannot be accomplished in any King, saue onely in Christ, Hebr 7.25. No power shall be able to resist him. Under this similitude of a captaine, that is greedie to destroy his enemies, that hee will not scaie drinke by the way, he sheweth how God will destroy his enemies.

a Though all the world condemne me, yet thou wilt approve mine innocencie, and that is a sufficient praise to me. b To declare that I had none other refuge, but in thee in whom my conscience was at rest. c Whether it were Doeg or Saul, or some familiar friend, that had betrayed him, he prayeth not of private affection, but moued by Gods Spirit that God would take vengeance vpon him. d As to the ele& all things turne to their profit: so to the reprobate, euen those things that are good, turne to their damnation. e This was chiefly accomplished in Iudas, Actes 1.20. f He declareth that the curse of God lieth vpon the extortioners: who thinking to enrich their children by their vnlawfull gotten goods are by Gods iust iudgement deprived of all. g Thus punisheth the Lord to the third and fourth generation the wickedness of the parents in their wicked children. h Hee sheweth that God accustomed to plague them after a strange sort, that shew themselves cruell toward other. i Thus giueth the Lord to euery man the thing wherein hee delighteth, that the reprobate cannot accuse God of wrong, when they are giuen vnto their lustes and reprobate mindes. k For being destitute of mans helpe, hee fully trusted in the Lord, that hee would deliuer him. l As thou art named mercifull, gracious and long suffering, so shew thy selfe in eccle&

m Meaning, that he hath no stay nor assurance in this world. n For hunger that came of sorrow, hee was lean, and his natural moyle failed him. o The more grievous that Satan assailed him, the more earnest and instant was he in prayer. p They shall goine nothing by cursing me. q Not onely in confessing it secretly in my selfe: but also in declaring it before all a Iesus Christ in the two and twentieth of Mat. verse 44. g ueth the interpretation hereof, and sheweth that this cannot properly be applied vnto David, but to himselfe. b And thence it shall stretch through all the world: and this power chiefly standeth in the preaching of his word. c By thy word thy people shall be assembled into thy Church, whose increase shall bee so abundant and wonderfull, as the drops of the dewe: d As Melchizedek the figure of Christ was both King and Priest: so the eccle cannot be accomplished in any King, saue onely in Christ, Hebr 7.25. e No power shall be able to resist him. f Under this similitude of a captaine, that is greedie to destroy his enemies, that hee will not scaie drinke by the way, he sheweth how God will destroy his enemies.

a The Prophet declareth that he will praise God both privately and openly, and that from the heart, as he that consecrateth himself wholly and onely vnto God.
 b He sheweth that Gods works are a sufficient cause wherefore we should praise him, but chiefly his benefits toward his Church.
 c God hath giuen to his people all that was necessary for them, and will do still euen for his covenants sake: and in this sense the Hebrew word is taken, Prou. 30. 8. and 31. 15. Or, pray, and food.
 d As God promised to take the care of his Church: so in effect doeth hee declare himselfe iust & true in the gouernement of the same.
 e They onely are wise that feare God, and none haue vnderstanding, but they that obey his word.
 f To wit, his commandments, as verse 7.

Praise the Lord.
 1 Alleluia praise the Lord with my whole heart in the assembly and Congregation of the iust.

2 The works of the Lord are great, and ought to be sought out of all them that loue them.

3 His worke is beautifull and glorious, and his righteousness endureth for euer.

4 He hath made his wonderfull works to be had in remembrance: the Lord is mercifull and full of compassion.

5 Hee hath giuen a portion vnto them that feare him: he wil euer be mindful of his covenant.

6 He hath shewed to his people the power of his workes in giuing vnto them the heritage of the heathen.

7 The workes of his hands are truth and iudgement: all his statutes are true.

8 They are established for euer and euer, and are done in truth and equitie.

9 Hee sent redemption vnto his people: hee hath redeemed his covenant for euer: holy and fearefull is his Name.

10 The beginning of wisdom is the feare of the Lord: al they that obserue them haue good vnderstanding: his praise endureth for euer.

Psal. cxii.
 1 As God promised to take the care of his Church: so in effect doeth hee declare himselfe iust & true in the gouernement of the same.

 f To wit, his commandments, as verse 7.

a He meaneth that reuerent feare which is in the Children of God, which causeth them to delight only in the word of God.
 b The godly shall haue abundance & contentment, because their heart is satisfied in God onely.
 c The faithfull in all their aduersities know that all shall go well with them: for God will be mercifull and iust.
 d He sheweth what is the fruit of mercie: to lend freely & not for gaine, and so to measure his doings, that he may be able to helpe where need requireth and not to bestow all on himselfe.
 e The godly pinch not miserably, but distribute liberally, as the necessities of the poore requireth, and as his power

Psal. cxii.
 1 Hee praiseth the felicity of them that feare God.
 10 And condemneth the cursed state of the contemptors of God.

Praise ye the Lord.
 Blessed is the man that feareth the Lord and delighteth greatly in his commandments.

2 His seed shall be mighty vpon earth, the generation of the righteous shall be blessed.

3 Riches & treasures shall be in his house, and his righteousness endureth for euer.

4 Vnto the righteous ariseth light in darkeness: he is mercifull and full of compassion and righteous.

5 A good man is mercifull and lendeth, & will measure his affaires by iudgement.

6 Surely he shall neuer bee moued: but the righteous shall be had in euermourning remembrance.

7 He will not be afraid of euill tidings: for his heart is fixed, and hee trusteth in the Lord.

8 His heart is stablished: therefore hee wil not feare, until hee see his desire vpon his enemies.

9 He hath distributed and giuen to the poore: his righteousness remaineth for euer: his home shall be exalted with glory.

10 The wicked shall see it and bee ashamed.
 11 The godly pinch not miserably, but distribute liberally, as the necessities of the poore requireth, and as his power gry: hee shall gnash with his teeth, and continue away: the desire of the wicked shall perish.

 1 An exhortation to praise the Lord for his providence, 7 In what that contrary to the course of nature hee worketh in his Church.

Praise ye the Lord.
 Praise ye seruantes of the Lord, praise the Name of the Lord.

2 Blessed be the Name of the Lord, from henceforth and for euer.

3 The Lords name is praised from the rising of the sunne, vnto the going downe of the same.

4 The Lord is high above all nations, and his glory above the heauens.

5 Who is like vnto the Lord our God, that hath his dwelling on high!

6 Who abaseth himselfe to behold things in the heauen and in the earth!

7 Hee raiseth the needy out of the dust, and lifteth by the poore out of the dung,

8 That he may set him with the princes, euen with the princes of his people.

9 He maketh the barren woman to dwell with a family, and a ioyfull mother of children. Praise ye the Lord.

5 They haue a mouth and speake not: they haue eyes and see not.

6 They haue eares and heare not: they haue noles and smell not.

7 They haue hands and touch not: they haue eares and walke not: neither make they a sound with their throat.

8 They that make them are like vnto them: so are all that trust in them.

9 O Israel trust thou in the Lord: for he is thy hope and thy shield.

10 O house of Aaron, trust yee in the Lord: for he is their helpe and their shield.

11 Pee that feare the Lord, trust in the Lord: for he is their helper and their shield.

12 The Lord hath bene mindfull of vs: he will blesse, hee will blesse the house of Israel, he will blesse the house of Aaron.

13 He will blesse them that feare the Lord, both small and great.

c Being exalted to this estate, he assured himselfe to haue man cuer to be his enemy: yet he doubted not, but God would maintaine him, because he had placed him. d He sheweth that he had trusted in vaine, if he had put his confidence in man, to haue bene preferred to the kingdom, and therefore he put his trust in God, and obtained. e Hee noeth Saul his chiefe enemy. f In that he was deliuered, it came not of himselfe, nor of the power of man, but onely of Gods fauour: therefore he will praye him. g He promisseth both to render graces himselfe, and to cause others to doe the same, because that in his person the Church was restored. h So that all that are both farre & nere, may see his mighty power, i He willetch the doores of the Tabernacle to be opened, that he may declare his thankfull mind. I sa 28. 16. mat. 23. 42. act. 4. 11. rom. 9. 33. 1. pet. 2. 6, 7. k Though Saul and the chiefe powers refused me to be king, yet God hath preferred me about them all. l When God hath shewed chiefly his mercy by appointing mee king, and deliuering his Church. m The people pray for the prosperitie of Dauids kingdom, who was the figure of Christ. n Which are the Priests, and haue the charge thereof, as Numb. 6. 23. o Because hee hath restored vs from darknesse to light, we will offer sacrifices and prayes vnto him.

the Lord heard me, and set me at large.

6 The Lord is with me: therefore I will not feare what a man can doe vnto me.

7 The Lord is with me among them that helpe me: therefore shall I see my desire vpon mine enemies.

8 It is better to trust in the Lord, then to haue confidence in man.

9 It is better to trust in the Lord, then to haue confidence in princes.

10 All nations haue compassed me: but in the Name of the Lord shall I destroy them.

11 They haue compassed mee, yea, they haue compassed me: but in the Name of the Lord I shall destroy them.

12 They came about mee like bees, but they were quenched as a fire of thornes: for in the Name of the Lord I shall destroy them.

13 Thou hast thrust sore at mee, that I might fall: but the Lord hath holpen me.

14 The Lord is my strength and song: for he hath bene my deliuerance.

15 The voice of ioy and deliuerance shall be in the Tabernacles of the righteous, saying, The right hand of the Lord hath done valiantly.

16 The right hand of the Lord is exalted: the right hand of the Lord hath done valiantly.

17 I shall not die, but liue, and declare the workes of the Lord.

18 The Lord hath chastened me sore, but he hath not deliuered me to death.

19 Open ye vnto me the gates of righteousness, that I may go into them, and praise the Lord.

20 This is the gate of the Lorde: the righteous shall enter into it.

21 I will praise thee: for thou hast heard me, and hast bene my deliuerance.

22 The stone, which the builders refused, is the head of the corner.

23 This was the Lords doing, and it is marvellous in our eyes.

24 This is the day, which the Lord hath made: let vs reioyce and be glad in it.

25 O Lord, I pray thee, saue now: O Lord I pray thee, now giue prosperitie.

26 Blessed be hee, that commeth in the Name of the Lord: we haue blessed you out of the house of the Lord.

27 The Lord is mighty, and hath giuen vs light: bind the Sacrifice with cordes vnto the hornes of the altar.

28 Thou art my God, and I will praise thee, euen my God: therefore I will exalt thee.

29 Praise ye the Lord, because he is good: for his mercie endureth for cuer.

30 Praise ye the Lord, because he is good: for his mercie endureth for cuer.

P S A L. CXIX.

1 The Prophet exhorteth the children of Gods frame their liues according to his holy word. 123 Also he sheweth wherein the true seruice of God standeth: that is, when we serue him according to his word, and not after our owne fantasies.

A L E P H.

Blessed are those that are bright in their way, and walke in the law of the Lord.

2 Blessed are they that keepe his testimonies, and seeke him with their whole heart.

3 Surely they worke none iniquity, but walke in his wayes.

4 Thou hast commaunded to keepe thy precepts diligently.

5 O that my wayes were directed to keepe thy statutes!

6 Then should I not be confounded, when I haue respect vnto all thy commandements.

7 I will praise thee with an bright heart, when I shall learne the iudgements of thy righteousness.

8 I will keepe thy statutes: forsake me not ouerlong.

9 I will praise thee with an bright heart, when I shall learne the iudgements of thy righteousness. f He refuseth not to be tried by tentations, but he searcheth to faint, if God succour not his infirmities in time.

B E T H.

9 Wherewith shall a young man reuerse his way: in taking heed thereto according to thy word.

10 With my whole heart haue I sought thee: let me not wander from thy commandements.

11 I haue hid thy promise in mine heart, that I might not liue against thee.

12 Blessed art thou, O Lord: teach mee thy statutes.

13 With my lippes haue I declared all the iudgements of thy mouth.

14 I haue had as great delight in the way of thy testimonies, as in all riches.

15 I will meditate in thy precepts, and consider thy wayes.

16 I will delight in thy statutes, and I will not forget thy word.

17 The Prophet doeth not boast of his vertues, but setteth forth an example for others to follow Gods word and leaue worldly vanities.

G I M E L.

17 Be beneficiall vnto thy seruant, that I may liue and keepe thy word.

18 Open mine eyes, that I may see the wonders of the Law.

19 I am a stranger vpon earth: hide not thy commandements from me.

20 Mine heart breaketh for the desire to thy iudgements alway.

21 Thou hast destroyed the proud: cursed are they that do erre from thy commandements.

22 What should become of him, if thy word were not his guide? c In all ages thou hast plagued all such, which maliciously and contemptuously depart from thy truth.

a Here they are not called blessed which thinke themselves wise in their owne iudgement, nor which imagine to themselves a certain holinesse, but they whose conuersation is without hypocrisie. b For they are ruled by Gods spirit, and embrace no doctrine but his. c Dauid acknowledgeth his imperfection, desiring God to reforme it, that his life may be conformable to Gods word. d For true religion standeth in seruing God without hypocrisie. e That is, thy precepts, which containe perfect righteousness. f He refuseth not to be tried by tentations, but he searcheth to faint, if God succour not his infirmities in time.

a Because youth is most giuen to licentiousnesse, he chiefly warneth them to frame their liues betime to Gods word. b If Gods word be grauen in our hearts, we shall be more able to resist the assaults of Satan: and therefore the Prophet desireth God to instruct him dayly more and more therein.

c The Prophet doeth not boast of his vertues, but setteth forth an example for others to follow Gods word and leaue worldly vanities.

a He sheweth that we ought not to desire to liue, but to serue God, and that we cannot serue him aright, except he open our eyes and minds.

b Seeing mans life in this world is but a passage, what should become of him, if thy word were not his guide? c In all ages thou hast plagued all such, which maliciously and contemptuously depart from thy truth.

d When the powers of the world gave false sentence against me, thy word was a guide and counsellor to teach me what to do, and to comfort me.

a That is, it is almost brought to the grave, and without thy word I cannot live.
b I have confessed mine offences, and now depend wholly on thee.

c If God did not maintaine vs by his word, our life would drop away like water.
d Instruct me in thy word, whereby my mind may be purged from vanitie, and taught to obey thy will.

a He sheweth that he cannot follow on to the end, except God teach him oft times, and leade him forward.
b Not onely in outward conversation, but also with inward affection.
c Hereby meaning all other vices, because that covetousnes is the roote of all euill.
d Meaning all his senses.

e Let me not fall to thy dishonour, but let mine heart still delight in thy gracious word. f Giue me strength to continue in thy word euen to the end.

a He sheweth that Gods mercie and loue is the first cause of our salvation.
b By trusting in Gods word, he assureth himselfe to be able to confute the slanderers of his aduersaries.
c They that simply walke after Gods word haue no lets to entangle them, whereas they that do contrary, are euer in nets and snates.

22 Remember from me shame & contemp: for I haue kept thy testimonies.

23 Princes also did sit, & speake against me: but thy seruant did meditate in thy statutes.

24 Also thy testimonies are my delight, and my counsellors.

25 My soule cleaueth to the dust: quicken me according to thy word.

26 I haue declared my wayes, and thou heardest me: teach me thy statutes.

27 Make me to vnderstand the way of thy precepts, and I will meditate in thy wonderful workes.

28 My soule melteth for heavinesse: raise me vp according vnto thy word.

29 Take from me the way of lying, and grant me graciously thy Law.

30 I haue chosen the way of truth, and thy iudgements haue I laid before me.

31 I haue cleaued to thy testimonies, O Lord: & consouid me not.

32 I will runne the way of thy commandments, when thou shalt enlarge mine heart.

e By this he sheweth that we can neither chuse good, cleave to Gods word, nor runne forward in his way, except he make our hearts large to receive his grace, and willing to obey.

33 Teach me, O Lord, the way of thy statutes, and I will keep it vnto the end.

34 Giue me vnderstanding, and I will keep thy Law: yea, I will keep it with my whole heart.

35 Direct me in the path of thy commandments: for therein is my delight.

36 Incline mine heart vnto thy testimonies, and not to concouisines.

37 Turne away mine eyes from regarding vanity, and quicken me in thy way.

38 Stablish thy promise to thy seruant, because he feareth thee.

39 Take away my rebuke that I feare: for thy iudgements are good.

40 Beholde, I desire thy commandments: & quicken me in thy righteousness.

41 And let thy louing kindnesse come vnto me, O Lord, & thy saluation according to thy promise.

42 So shall I make answer vnto my blasphemers: for I trust in thy word.

43 And take not the word of truth utterly out of my mouth: for I waite for thy iudgements.

44 So shall I alway keep thy law for euer and euer.

45 And I will walke at libertie: for I seeke thy precepts.

46 I will speake also of thy testimonies before kings, and will not be ashamed.

47 And my delight shall be in thy commandments, which I haue loued.

48 Mine hands also will I life by vnto thy commandments, which I haue loued, and I will meditate in thy statutes.

Z A I N.

49 Remember the promise made to thy seruant, wherein thou hast caused mee to truit.

50 It is my comfort in my trouble: for thy promise hath quickened me.

51 The proud haue had me exceedingly in derision: yet haue I not declined from thy Law.

52 I remembered thy iudgements of old, O Lord, and haue bene comforted.

53 Feare is come vpon me for the wicked, that forsake thy Law:

54 Thy statutes haue bene my songs in the house of my pilgrimage.

55 I haue remembered thy name, O Lord, in the night, and haue kept thy Law.

56 This I had because I kept thy precepts.

d That is, a vehement zeale to thy glory, and indignation against the wicked. e In the course of this life, and sorrowfull exile. f Euen when others sleepe. g That is, all these benefits.

C H E T H.

57 O Lord, that art my portion, I haue determined to keep thy words.

58 I made my supplication in thy presence with my whole heart: be mercifull vnto me according to thy promise.

59 I haue considered my wayes, & turned my feete into thy testimonies.

60 I made haste, & delayed not to keep thy commandments.

61 The bands of the wicked haue robbed me: but I haue not forgotten thy Law.

62 At midnight will I rise to giue thanks vnto thee, because of thy righteous iudgements.

63 I am a companion of all them that feare thee, and keep thy precepts.

64 The earth, O Lord, is full of thy mercie: teach me thy statutes.

T E T H.

65 O Lord, thou hast dealt graciously with thy seruant according vnto thy word.

66 Teach me good iudgement & knowledge: for I haue beleued thy commandments.

67 Before I was afflicted, I went astray: but now I keep thy word.

68 Thou art good and gracious: teach me thy statutes.

c That is, the examples, whereby thou declarest thy selfe to bee iudge of this world.

a I am persuaded that to keepe thy law is an heroicall and great gain for me.

b He sheweth that none can embrace the word of God, except he consider his owne imperfections and wayes.

c They haue gone about to draw mee into their company.

d Not onely in mutual consent, a Having proued by experience that God was true in his promise, he desireth that he would increase in him knowledge and iudgement.

c Their heart is indurated and hardened, puffed yp with prosperitie and vaine elimation of themselves.

70 Their heart is fat as grease: but my delight is in thy Law.

71 It is a good for me that I have bene afflicted, that I may learne thy statutes.

72 The Law of thy mouth is better unto me, then thousands of gold and silver.

a Because God leaueh not his worke, that hee hath begun, he desireth a new grace, that is, that he would continue his mercies.

73 Thine hands haue made mee and fashioned me: giue me understanding therefore, that I may learne thy commandements.

74 So they that feare thee, seeing me, shall reioyce, because I haue trusted in thy word.

75 I know, O Lord, that thy iudgements are right, and that thou hast afflicted mee justly.

76 I pray thee that thy mercie may comfort mee according to thy promise vnto thy seruant.

77 Let thy tender mercies come vnto mee, that I may liue: for thy Law is my delight.

78 Let the proud bee ashamed: for they haue dealt wickedly, and falsely with me: but I meditate in thy precepts.

79 Let such as feare thee, & turne vnto me, and they that know thy testimonies.

80 Let mine heart bee vpright in thy statutes, that I be not ashamed.

b When God sheweth his grace toward any, he referreth to others, that he faileth not in them that trust in him. Ebr. in vrb. c He declareth that when hee felt not Gods mercies, hee was as dead. d That is, be comforted by mine example. e Hee sheweth that there can bee no true feare of God without the knowledge of his word.

81 My soule fainteth for thy saluation: yet I wait for thy word.

82 Mine eyes shall looke for thy promise, saying, When wilt thou comfort me?

83 For I am true a botell in the smoke: yet doe I not forget thy statutes.

84 How many are the dayes of thy seruant? When wilt thou execute iudgement on them that persecute me?

85 The proud haue digged pits for me, which is not after thy Law.

86 All thy commandements are true: they persecute me falsly: helpe me.

87 They had almost consumed me vpon the earth: but I forsooke not thy precepts.

88 Quicken me according to thy louing kindnesse: so shall I keepe the testimonie of thy mouth.

a Though my strength faile me, yet my soule groweth and fighteth, resting still in thy word. b Like a skin-bottle or bladder that is parched in the smoke. c How long wilt thou afflict thy seruant? d They haue not onely oppressed me violently, but also craftily conspired against mee. e Hee assured himselfe that God will deliuer him, and destroy such as vnjustly persecute them. f Finding no hope in earth, he lieth vp his eyes to heauen.

L A M E D.

89 O Lord, thy word endureth for ever in a brazen.

90 Thy truth is from generation to generation: & thou hast laide the foundation of the earth, and it abideth.

91 They continue euen to this day by thine ordinances: for all are thy seruants.

a Because none should esteeme Gods word according to the changes of things in this world, he sheweth that it abideth in heauen, and therefore is immutabile. b Seeing the earth and all creatures remaine in that state, wherein thou hast created them, much more thy truth remaineth constant and vchangeable.

92 Except thy Law had bene my delight, I should now haue perished in mine affliction.

93 I will neuer forget thy precepts: for by them thou hast quickned me.

94 I am thine, saue mee: for I haue sought thy precepts.

95 The wicked haue waited for mee to destroy mee: but I will consider thy testimonies.

96 I haue seene an end of all perfection: but thy commandement is exceeding large.

97 Oh how lone I thy law: it is my meditation continually.

98 By thy commandements thou hast made me wiser then mine enemies: for they are euer with me.

99 I haue had more understanding then all my teachers: for thy testimonies are my meditation.

100 I understood more then the ancient, because I kept thy precepts.

101 I haue restrained my feet from euery euill way, that I might keepe thy word.

102 I haue not declined from thy iudgements: for thou didst teach me.

103 How sweete are thy promises vnto my mouth! yea, more then hony vnto my mouth.

104 By thy precepts I haue gotten understanding: therefore I hate all the wayes of falshood.

105 Thy word is a lantern vnto my feet, and a light vnto my path.

106 I haue no sounne and will performe it, that I will keepe thy righteous iudgements.

107 I am very sore afflicted: O Lord, quicken me according to thy word.

108 O Lord, I beseech thee, accept the free offerings of my mouth, and reach mee thy iudgements.

109 My soule is continually in mine hand: yet doe I not forget the Law.

110 The wicked haue laide a snare for me: but I swarued not from thy precepts.

111 Thy testimonies haue I taken as an heritage for euer: for they are the toy of mine heart.

112 I haue applied mine heart to fulfill thy statutes alway, euen vnto the end.

113 I hate vaine inuentions: but thy Law doe I loue.

114 Thou art my refuge and shield, and I trust in thy word.

115 Away from me, ye wicked: for I will keepe the commandements of my God.

116 And hinder me not to keepe the Law of the Lord

c He proueth by effect, that he is Gods child, because he seeketh to understand his word. d There is nothing to perfect in earth, but it hath an end: onely Gods word lasteth for euer.

a He sheweth that we cannot loue Gods word, except we exercise our selues therein and practise it. b Whosoever doeth submit himselfe onely to Gods word, shall not onely be safe against the practices of his enemies, but also learne more wisdom, then they that profess it, and are men of experience. c So then of our selues we can doe nothing, but when God doeth inwardly instruct vs with his Spirit, we feele his graces sweeter then hony.

a Of our selues we are but darkness, and cannot see, except we be lightened with Gods word.

b So al the faithful ought to bind themselves to God by a solemne oath and promise to stirre vp their zeale to imbrace Gods word. c That is my praier & thanksgiving, which sacrifice Hesea calleth the calues of the lips, Chap. 14

117 I am in continual danger of my life. e I esteeme no worldly things, but made thy word mine inheritance.

a Whosoever will imbrace Gods word aright, must abhorre all fantasies and imaginations both of himselfe and of others.

c He desireth Gods continuall assistance, lest he should faint in this race, which he had begun. d The craftie praefises of the m that contemne thy law, shall be brought to nought.

c The Prophet sheweth that when the wicked haue brought all things to confusion, and Gods word to vter contemne, then it is Gods time to helpe, and send remedy. d That is, whatsoever dissenteth from the puritie of thy word.

a Containing high and secret mysteries, fo that I am moued with admiration and reuerence.

b The simple idiots that submit themselves to God, haue their eyes opened, and their mindes illuminated to soone as they beginne to reade Gods word. c My zeale toward thy word was so great d He sheweth what ought to bee the zeale of Gods children, when they see his word contemned.

a We cannot confesse God to be righteous, except we liue vprightly, and truly as hee hath commanded Psal. 69. 10. 11. 12.

116 Stablish mee according to thy promise, that I may liue, and disapoint mee not of mine hope.

117 Stay thou mee, and I shall be safe, & I will delight continually in thy statutes.

118 Thou hast troden downe all them that depart from thy statutes: for their delectation is vaine.

119 Thou hast taken away all the wicked of the earth like a dross: therefore I loue thy testimonies.

120 My flesh trembleth for feare of thee, and I am afraid of thy iudgements.

A I N.

121 I haue executed iudgement and iustice: leaue me not to mine oppressours.

122 Answer for thy seruant in that which is good, and let not the proud oppress me.

123 Mine eyes haue failed in waiting for thy saluation, and for thy lust promise.

124 Deale with thy seruant according to thy mercy, and teach me thy statutes.

125 I am thy seruant: grant mee therefore vnderstanding, that I may know thy testimonies.

126 It is a time for thee, Lord, to worke: for they haue destroyed thy Law.

127 Therefore loue I thy commandments aboue gold, yea, aboue most fine gold.

128 Therefore I esteeme all thy precepts most iust, and hate all false wayes.

P E.

129 Thy testimonies are wonderfull: therefore doth my soule keepe them.

130 The entrance into thy words sheweth light, and giueth vnderstanding to the simple.

131 I opened my mouth and I panted, because I loued thy commandments.

132 Looke vpon me and be mercifull vnto mee, as thou blest to doe vnto those that loue thy Name.

133 Direct my steps in thy word, and let none iniquitie haue dominion ouer me.

134 Deliuer mee from the oppression of men, and I will keepe thy precepts.

135 Shew the light of thy countenance vpon thy seruant, and teach me thy statutes.

136 Mine eyes gush out with riuers of water, because they keepe not thy Law.

137 Righteous art thou, O Lord, and iust are thy iudgements.

138 Thou hast commanded iustice by thy testimonies and truth especially.

139 My zeale hath euen consumed mee, because mine enemies haue forgotten thy words.

140 Thy word is proued most pure, and thy seruant loueth it.

141 I am small and despised: yet doe I not forget thy precepts.

142 Thy righteousnes is an euerlasting righteousnes, and thy Law is truth.

143 Trouble and anguish are come vpon mee: yet are thy commandments my delight.

144 The righteousnesse of thy testimonies is euerlasting: graunt mee vnderstanding, and I shall liue.

PSAL. CXXIX.

1 He admonisheth the Church to reioyce though it be afflicted. 4 For by the righteous Lord it shall be deliuered, 6 and the enemies for all their glorious shew, shall suddnly be destroyed.

A song of degrees.

They haue oftentimes afflicted mee from my youth (maye Israel now say)

2 They haue often times afflicted mee from my youth; but they could not preuaile against me.

3 The plowers plowed vpon my backe, and made low furrowes.

4 But the righteous Lord hath cut the cords of the wicked.

5 They that hate Zion, shall be all ashamed and turned backward.

6 They shall be as the grasse on the house toppes, which withereth afore it commeth fourth.

7 Whereof the mower flitteth not his hand, neither the gleaner his lap:

8 Neither they which goe by, say, The blessing of the Lord bee vpon you, or, Blessesse you in the name of the Lord.

a The Church now afflicted ought to remember how her condition hath euer bene such from the beginning to be molested most grievously by the wicked; yet in time it hath euer bene deliuered. b Because God is righteous, he cannot but plague his aduersaries, and deliuer his as oxen out of the plow.

c The enemies that lift themselves most high, and as it were, approach neere to the sun, are consumed with the heat of Gods wrath, because they are not grounded in godly humility. d That is, the wicked that perish and none shall passe for them.

PSAL. CXXX.

1 The people of God from their bottomlesse miseries doe cry vnto God, & are heard, 3 They confesse their finnes and flee vnto Gods mercie.

A song of degrees.

Out of the deepe places haue I called vnto thee, O Lord.

2 Lord, heare my voyce: let thine eares attend to the voyce of my prayers.

3 If thou, O Lord, straitly markest iniquities, O Lord, who shall stand?

4 But mercy is with thee, that thou mayest be feared.

5 I haue waited on the Lord: my soule hath waited, & I haue trusted in his word.

6 My soule watch on the Loide more then the moorning watch watcheth for the morning.

7 Let Israel wait on the Lord: for with the Lord is mercy, and with him is great redemption.

8 And hee shall redeme Israel from all his iniquities.

PSAL. CXXXI.

1 Dauid charged with ambition & greedy desire to reigne, protesteth his humility & modesty before God, and teacheth all men what they should doe.

A song of degrees, or Psalm of Dauid.

Wide, a mine heart is not haughty, neither late mine eyes loftie, neither haue I walked in great matters and hid from me.

2 Surely I haue behauid my selfe like one weaned from his mother, and kept silence: I am in my selfe as one that is weaned.

a Being in great distresse & sorrow. b Hee declarerth y we cannot be iust before God, but by forgiveness of finnes. c Because of nature thou art mercifull: therefore the faithfull reuerence thee. d He sheweth to whom the mercy of God doth appertaine to Israel, y is, to the church, and not to the reprobate.

a He setteth forth his great humility as an example to all rulers and gouernors. b Which passeth measure & limits of his vocation. c He was voyd of ambition & wicked desires.

3 Let Israel wayte on the Loide from henceforth and for euer.

PSAL. CXXXII.

1 The faithfull grounding on Gods promise made vnto Dauid, desire that hee would establish the same, both as touching his posterity & the building of the Temple, to pray there as was forespoken, Dem. 12.5.

A song of degrees.

1 I did remember Dauid with all his affliction.

2 Also swaie vnto the Loide, and bowed vnto the mighty God of Iakob, saying,

3 I will not enter into the Tabernacle of mine house, nor come vpon my pallet, or bed,

4 Nor suffer mine eyes to sleep, nor mine eye lids to slumber,

5 Untill I find out a place for the Lord, an habitation for the mighty God of Iakob.

6 Lo, we heard of it in Ephraim, and found it in the fields of the forest.

7 Wee will enter into his Tabernacles, and worship before his footstool.

8 Arise, O Loide, to come into thy rest, thou, and the arke of thy strength.

9 Let thy Iudges be clothed with righteousness, and let thy Saints reioyce.

10 For thy seruant Dauids sake refuse not the face of thine Anointed.

11 The Lord hath sworn in truth vnto Dauid, and hee will not shrinke from it, saying, Of the fruite of thy body will I set vpon thy throne.

12 If thy sonnes keepe my covenant, and my testimonies, that I shall teach them, their sonnes also shall sit vpon thy throne for euer.

13 For the Lord hath chosen Zion, and loved to dwell in it, saying, 14 This is my rest for euer: herce will I dwell, for I haue a delight therein.

15 I will surely bless her vitaties, and will satiate her poore with bread, 16 And will clothe her priests with salvation, and her Saints shall shout for ioy.

17 There will I make the house of Dauid to bind: for I haue ordeined a light for mine Anointed.

18 His enemies will I clothe with shame, but on him his crowne shall flourish.

afterward his Arke should remouee to none other place. f Let the effect of thy grace both appeare in the priests & in the people. g As thou first madest promise to Dauid, so continue it to his posterity, that whatsoeuer they shall aske for their people, it may be granted. h Because this cannot be accomplished but in Christ, it followeth that the promise was spirituall. i Meaning, for his owne sake, and not for the plentifulnesse of the place: for hee promiseth to bleste it, declaring before, that it was barren. k That is, with my protection, whereby they shall be safe. l Though his force for a time seemed to bee broken, yet he promised to restore it.

PSAL. CXXXIII.

1 This Psalm conterneth the commendation of brotherly amity among the seruants of God.

A song of degrees, or Psalm of Dauid.

1 Choose, home good and howe comely a thing it is, brethren to dwell euery together.

a That is, with how great difficulty hee came to the kingdom, and with how great zeale and care he went about to build thy Temple. b Because the chiefe charge of the King was to set forth Gods glory, he sheweth that he could take no rest, neither would hee about any worldly thing, were it neuer so necessary, before he had executed his office. c That is, the Arke, which was a signe of Gods presence. d The common brute was that the Arke should remaine in Ephraim: that is, in Beth-lehem a plentiful place: but after, we perceived that thou wouldst place it in Ierusalem, which was barren as a forest, and compassed about onely with hills. e That is, Ierusalem, because that a Because the greatest part were against David, though some favoured him, yet when he was established king, at length they joy-ned altogether like brethren, & therefore he sheweth by these similitudes the commodity of brotherly loue. b The oymēt is a figure of the graces, which come from Christ the head of his Church. c By Hermon and Zion hee meaneth the plentifull country about Ierusalem. d Where there is such concord.

1 It is like to the precious ointment vpon the head, y runneth downe vpon the beard, euen vnto Aarons beard, which went downe on the boyster of his garments:

1 Hee exhorteth the Leuites, watching in the Temple to praise the Lord.

A Song of degrees.

1 Behold, praise ye the Lord, all ye seruants of the Lord, ye that by night stand in the house of the Lord.

2 Lift up your hands to the Sanctuary, and praise the Lord.

3 The Lord that hath made heauen and earth, blesse thee out of Zion.

a Yehatare Le-uites, and chiefly office. b For their charge was not onely to keepe

the Temple, but to pray there and to giue God thanks. c And therefore hath all power, blesse thee with his fatherly loue declared in Zion. Thus the Leuites vsed to praise the Lord, and blesse the people.

PSAL. CXXXV.

1 Hee exhorteth all the faithfull, of what estate soeuer they bee, to praise God for his maruelous works, 12 & especially for his graces toward his people, wh. in he hath declared his maiesty, 15 to the confusion of all idolaters, and their idoles.

Praise ye the Lord.

1 Praise the Name of the Lord: ye seruants of the Lord, praise him.

2 See that stande in the house of the Loide, and in the courts of the house of our God.

3 Praise ye the Loide: for the Loide is good: sing prayles vnto his Name: for it is a comely thing.

4 For the Lord hath chosen Iakob to himselfe, and Israel for his chiefe treasure.

5 For I know that the Lord is great, and that our Lord is aboue all gods.

15 The idoles of the heathen are silver and gold, euen the worke of mens hands.

they haue eyes and see not.

praise the Lord, ye house of Aaron.

20 Praise the Lord ye house of Leui: ye that feare the Lord, praise the Lord.

PSAL. CXXXVII.

The people of God in their banishment seeing Gods true religion decay, lued in great anguish & sorrow of heart : the which grieue the Chaldeans did so little paine, 3 that they rather encreased the same dayly with raunts, reproches & blasphemies against God. 7 Wherefore the Israelites desire God, first to punish the Edomites, who prouoked the Babylonians against them, 8 and moued by the spirit of God, prophesie the destruction of Babylon, where they were handled so tyrannously.

By the ruins of Babel we sate, and there we wept, when we remembered Zion.

2 We hanged our harpes vpon the willowes in the mids thereof.

3 Then they that led vs captiues, & requited of vs songs and mirth, when we had hanged by our harpes, saying, Sing vs one of the songs of Zion.

4 How shall we sing, sayd wee, a song of the Lord in a strange land ?

5 If I forget thee, O Jerusalem, let my right hand forget to play.

6 If I doe not remember thee, let my tongue cleaue to the rooke of my mouth : yea, if I preferre not Jerusalem to my chiefe top.

7 Remember the children of Edom, O Lord, in the s day of Ierusalem, which said, Rafe it, rafe it to the foundation thereof.

8 O daughter of Babel, worthy to bee detroyed, blessed shall he be that rewardeth thee as thou hast serued vs.

9 Blessed shall hee be that taketh and dasheth thy children against the stones.

That is, we abode a long time & albeit that the countrey was pleasant, yet could it not stay our teares, nor turne vs from the true seruire of our God.

To wit, of that countrey. The Babylonians spake thus in mocking vs, as though by our seruice we should signifie that we opened no more God.

Albeit the rich shall are touched with their vnicular griefes, as the common sorrow of the Church is moer grieuous vnto them, & is such as they cannot but remember and lament.

PSAL. CXXXVIII.

David with great courage praiseth the goodness of God toward him, the which is so great, 4 that it is knowne to forraime princes, who shall praise the Lord together with him. 6 And hee is affraid to haue his comfort of God in the time following, as he hath had heretofore.

A Psalm of David.

I will praise thee with my whole heart : euen before the gods will I praise thee.

2 I will worshippe toward thine holy Temple, and praise thy Name, because of thy louing kindeesse and for thy truth : for thou hast magnified thy Name about all things by thy word.

3 When I called, then thou heardest me, and hast encreased strength in my soule.

4 All the kings of the earth shall praise thee, O Lord : for they haue heard the words of thy mouth.

5 And they shall sing of the wayes of the Lord, because the glory of the Lord is great.

6 For the Lord is hie : yet he beholdeth the lowly, but the prouide hee knoweth a farre off.

7 Though I walke in the middes of trouble, yet wilt thou reuue me : thou wilt stretch forth thine hand vpon the watch of mine enemies, and thy right hand shall saue mee.

8 The Lord will performe his worke toward mee : O Lord, thy mercy endureth for euer : forsaake not the workes of thine hand.

9 Distance of place cannot hinder God to shew mercie to his, and to iudge the wicked though they thinke that he is farre off.

10 Though mine enemies rage neuer so much, yet the Lord which hath begun this worke in me, will continue his grace to the end.

PSAL. CXXXIX.

David to cleanse his heart from all hypoerisie, sheweth that there is nothing so hid, which God seeth not. 13 Which hee confirmeth by the creation of man. 14 After declaring his zeale and feare of God, hee protesteth to bee enemy to all them that contemne God.

To him that excelleth. A Psalm of David.

O Lord, thou hast tried me, & knowen me.

2 Thou knowest my sitting and my rising : thou vnderstandest my thought a farre off.

3 Thou compassest my paths, and my lying downe, and art accustomed to all my wayes.

4 For there is not a word in my tongue, but loe, thou knowest it wholly, O Lord.

5 Thou holdest me strait behind and before, and layest thine hand vpon mee.

6 Thy knowledge is too wonderfull for me : it is so hie that I cannot attaine vnto it.

7 Whither shall I goe from thy Spirit? or whither shall I flee from thy presence?

8 If I ascend into heauen, thou art there : if I lie downe in hell, thou art there.

9 Let me take the wings of the morning, and dwell in the vttermost parts of the sea :

10 Per thyer shall thine hand lead me, and thy right hand hold me.

3 Set a watch, O Lord, before my mouth, and keepe thee doore of my lips.

4 Incline not mine heart to euill, that I should commit wicked workes with men that worke iniquitie: and let me not eate of their delicats.

5 Let the righteous smite me: for that is a benefit: and let him reprove mee, and it shall be a precious oyle, that shall not breake mine head: for within a while I shall euen pray in their miseries.

6 When they iudge shall be cast downe in stonie places they shall heare my words, for they are sweete.

7 Our bones lie scattered at the graues mouth, as hee that heweth wood or diggeth in the earth.

8 But mine eyes looke vnto thee, O Lord God: in thee is my trust: leaue not my soule destitute.

9 Keepe mee from the snare, which they haue laide for mee, and from the gennes of the workers of iniquitie.

10 Let the wicked fall into his nets together, whiles I escape.

f By patience I shall see the wicked so sharply handled, that I shall for pittie pray for them. g The people which followed their wicked rulers in persecuting the Prophet, shall repent and turne to God when they see their wicked rulers punished. h Here appeareth the Dauid was miraculously deliuered out of many deaths, as. 3 Cor. 9. 10. i Into Gods nets, whereby he catcheth the wicked in the same malice. k So that none of them escape.

1 David complaineth of the crueltie, falsehood and iniuries of his enemies. 8 Against the which he prayeth vnto the Lord, & assureth himselfe of his helpe and succour. 12 Wherefore he prouoketh the iust to praise the Lord, & to assure themselves of his ruision.

To him that excelleth. A Psalm of Dauid.

Deliner me, O Lord, from the euillman: preserve me from the cruellman.

2 Which imagine euill things in their heart, and make warre continually.

3 They haue sharpened their tongues like a serpent: adders poyson is vnder their lips. Selah.

4 Keepe me, O Lord, from the hands of the wicked: preserve me from the cruell man, which purpoheth to cause my steps to slide.

5 The pounce haue laide a snare for me, and spread a net with toyls in my pathway, and let genneses for me. Selah.

6 Therefore I said vnto the Lord, Thou

e Hee calleth to God with lively faith, being assured of his mercies because he had before time proueed, that God helped him euer in his dangers. f For it is in Gods hand to ouerthrow the counsels and enterprises of the wicked. g It seemeth that he alludeth to Saul.

a Hee sheweth that there is none other refuge in our necessities, but onely to flee vnto God for comfort of soule. b Hee meaneth his earnest zeale and gesture, which he vsed in prayer, alluding to the sacrifices, which were by Gods commandement offered in the olde law. c Hee desireth God to keepe his thoughts and wayes either from thinking or executing vengeance. d Let not their prosperitie allume me to be wicked as they are. e He could abide all corrections, that came of a louing heart.

PSAL. CXLII.

1 The Prophet neither astounded with feare, nor carried away with anger, nor forced by desperation, would kill Saul: but with a quiet minde directed his earnest prayer to God, who did preserve him.

¶ A Psalm of Dauid to give instruction, and a prayer when he in the cause.

I Cryed vnto the Lord with my voyce: with my voyce I prayed vnto the Lord.

2 I poured out my meditation before him, and declared mine affliction in his presence.

3 Though my spirit was in perplexity in me, yet thou knewest my path: in the way wherein I walked, haue they printly laide a snare for me.

4 I looked vpon my right hand, and beheld, but there was none that would knowe me: all refuge failed me, and none cared for my soule.

5 Then cryed I vnto thee, O Lord, and sayd, Thou art mine hope, and my portion in the land of the living.

6 Hearken vnto my cry, for I am brought very low: deliuer me from my persecuters, for they are too strong for me.

7 Bring my soule out of prison, that I may praise thy Name: then shall the righteous come about me, when thou art beneficiall vnto me.

PSAL. CXLIII.

1 An earnest prayer for remission of sinnes, acknowledging that the enemies did thus cruelly persecute him by Gods iust iudgement. 8 He desireth to be restored to grace, 10 To be gouerned by his holy spirit that he may spend the remanent of his life in the true feare and seruice of God.

¶ A Psalm of Dauid.

Heare my prayer, O Lord, and hearken vnto my supplication: answer me in thy truth, and in thy righteousness.

2 (And enter not into iudgement with thy seruant: for in thy sight shall none that liueth be iustificed.)

3 For the enemy hath persecuted my soule, hee hath mittern my life downe to the earth: he hath laid me in the darkenesse, as they that haue bene dead long agoe.

4 And my spirit was in perplexitie in me, and mine heart within me was amazed.

5 Yet doe I remember the time past: I meditate in the workes of thine hands.

6 I stretch forth mine hands vnto thee: my soule desireth after thee, as the thirte land, Selah.

7 Heare me speedily, O Lord, for my spirit faileth: hide not thy face from mee, lest I shall be like vnto them that goe downe into the pit.

8 Let mee heare thy louing kindnesse in the morning, for in thee is my trust: 9 Heare me the way that I should walke in, for I lift vp my soule vnto me.

9 Deliuer me, O Lord, from mine enemies: for I hid me with thee.

10 Teach me to doe thy will: for thou art my God: let thy good spirit lead me vnto the land of righteousness.

11 Quicken me, O Lord, for thy Names sake, and for thy righteousness bring my soule out of trouble.

12 And for thy mercie O flay mine enemies, and destroy all them that oppesse my soule: for I am thy seruant.

that both the knowledge and obedience of Gods will cometh by the spirit of God, who teacheth vs by his word, giueth vnderstanding by his spirit, and frameth our hearts by his grace to obey him. 1 That is, iustly and aright: for so soone as wee decline from Gods will, wee fall into error. m Which shall be a signe of thy fatherly kindnesse toward me. n Resigning my selfe wholly vnto thee, and trusting in thy protection.

PSAL. CXLIIII.

1 He praefeth the Lord with great affection & humility for his kingdome restored, & for his victories obtained, 5 demanding help & the destruction of the wicked, 9 promising to acknowledge the same with songs of praises, 15 and declareth wherein the felicitie of any people consisteth.

¶ A Psalm of Dauid.

PSAL. CXLV.

This Psalme was composed, when the kingdom of Dauid flourisheth. 1 Wherin he describeth the wonderful prouidence of God afixe in governing man, as in preferring all the rest of his creatures. 17 He praifeth God for his iustice and mercie. 18 But specially for his louing kindnes toward those that call vpon him, that feare him, and loue him: 21 For the which he promiseth to praife him for euer.

A Psalme of Dauid of prayse.

O My God, and King, 1 I will extoll thee, and will bleste thy Name for euer and euer.

2 I will bleste thee daily, and prayse thy Name for euer and euer.

3 Great is the Lord, and most worthy to be praised, and his greatnesse is incomprehensible.

4 Generation shall prayse thy works vnto generation, and declare thy power.

5 I will meditate of the beautie of thy glorious maiestie, and thy wonderfull workes. 6 And they shall speake of the power of thy 4 fearefull actes, and I will declare thy greatnesse.

7 Thy great shall break out into the mention of thy great goodnesse, and shall sing aboude of thy righteousnesse.

8 * The Lord is gracious and mercifull, slow to anger, and of great mercy.

9 The Lord is good to all, and his mercies are ouer all his workes.

10 All thy workes praife thee, O Lord, and thy Saints bleste thee.

his preservation in this life, is to praife God, therefore he requirith that not onely we our selues do this, but cause all other to doe the same. d Of thy terrible iudgements against the wicked. Exod. 34. 6. e He describeth after what sort God sheweth himselfe to all his creatures, though our sinnes haue pronoked his vengeance against all: to wit, mercifull, not onely in pardoning the sinnes of his elect, but in doing good euen to the reprobate, albeit they cannot feele the sweet comfort of the same.

11 They shewe the glory of thy kingdom, and speake of thy power,

12 To cause his power to be knowne to the sonnes of men, and the glorious renowne of his kingdom.

13 Thy kingdom is an euerlasting kingdom, and thy Dominion endureth throughout all ages.

14 The Lord vpholdeth all that fall, and lifeth vp all that are ready to fall.

15 The eyes of I all wait vpon thee, and thou giueth them their meate in due season.

16 Thou openest thine hand and fillest all things liuing of thy good pleasure.

17 The Lorde is k righteous in all his wayes, and holy in all his workes.

18 The Lord is nere vnto all that call vpon him: yea, to all that call vpon him in 1 trueny.

19 He will fulfill the desire of them that feare him: he also will heare their crye, and will saue them.

20 The Lorde preserveth all them that loue him: but he will destroy all the wicked.

21 My mouth shall speake the praife of the Lorde, and all flesh shall bleste his holy Name for euer and euer.

heauen, and suffer themselves to be governed by him. i To wit, all well of man as of beast. k He praifeth God, not onely for that he is beneficiall to all his creatures, but also in that that he iustly punisheth the wicked, and mercifully examineth his by the crosse, giuing them strength and deliuering them. l Which onely appertaineth to the faithfull: and this vertue is contrary to infidelitie, doubting, impatience, and murmur. m For they will aske or wish for nothing, but according to his will. 1. Iohn 5. 14. n That is, all men shall be bound to praife him.

PSAL. CXLVI.

1 Dauid declareth his great zeale that he hath to praife God, 3 and teacheth not to trust in man but onely in God alwaighie, 7 which deliuereth the afflicted, 9 defendeth the strangers, comforteth the fatherlesse, and the widowers, 10 and reigneth for euer.

Praise ye the Lord.

Praife thou the Lord, O my soule. 2 I will praife the Lorde during my life: as long as I haue any being, I will sing vnto my God.

3 Put not your trust in b princes, nor in the sonne of man, for there is none helpe in him.

4 His breath departeth, and he returneth to his earth: then his thoughts perish.

5 Blessed is he, that hath the God of Iacob for his helpe, whose hope is in the Lord his God.

6 Which made d heauen and earth, the sea, and all that therein is: which keepeth his fidelitie for euer:

7 Which executeth iustice for the oppressed: which giueth bread to the hungry: the Lord looth the prisoners.

8 The Lorde giueth sight to the blinde: and the Lord raiseth vp the crooked: the Lorde

d He encourageth the godly to trust onely in the Lord, both for that his power is able to deuiet them from all danger, and for his promise like his will is most ready to do it. e Whose faith and patience for a while he trieth, but at length he punisheth the aduersaries, that he may be knowne to be iudge of the world.

f Though he visiteth them by affliction, hunger, imprisonment and such like, yet his fatherly loue & mercie neuer faileth them, yea rather to his these are signes of his loue. g Meaning all them, that are desire of worldly meanes and succour. h Hee assureth the Church that God reigneth for ever for the preservation of the same.

a He sheweth wherein we ought to exercise our selues continually and to take our pastime: to wit, in praising God. b Because the Lord is the founder of the Church, it can not be destroyed, though the members thereof be dispersed, and seeme as it were for a time to be cut off. c With affliction, or sorrow for sine. d Though it seeme to man incredible that God should assemble his Church, being so dispersed: yet nothing can be too hard to him, that can number and name all the starres. e For the more high that the wicked climb, the greater is their fall in the end. f He sheweth the examples of Gods mightie power, goodnesse and wisdom, that we can neuer want most iust occasion to praise God. g For their crying as it were a confession of their neede, which cannot be relied but by God onely: then if God shew himselfe mindfull of the most contemptible soules, can he suffer them to die with famine, who he hath assured of life everlasting? h Though to vse lawfull meanes is Gods profit: ble and pleaseth God, yet to put our trust in them, is to defraud God of his honour. i He doth not onely furnish his Church with all things necessarie, but preserve it also the same, and maketh it strong against all outward force. k His secret working in all creatures is as a commandment to keepe them in order, and to giue them moouing and force. l For in me, daily and without resisting, all things obey him.

PSAL. CXLIX.

1 An exhortation to the Church to praise the Lord for his victorie and conquest, that hee giueth his Saints against all mans power.

2 Sing ye vnto the Lord: a new song: let his praise bee heard in the Congregation of Saints.

3 He hath created the world, and he hath established the earth, and he hath founded the world.

a For his rare and manifold benefi-ts bestowed on his Church.

b In that that they were preferred before all other nations, it was as a new creation, and therefore Psal. 95. 7. they were called the sheepe of Gods handis. c For God as he is the Creator of the soule and body, so will he that both two ferue him, and that his people be continually subiect vnto him as to their most lawfull King. d He alludeth to that continuall rest and quietnesse, which they should haue, if they would suffer God to rule them. e This is chiefly accomplished in the kingdom of Christ, when Gods people for iull causes execute Gods iudgements against his enemies: and it giueth no libertie to any to reuenge their priuate iniuries. f Not onely the people, but the kings that were their enemies, should bee destroyed. g Hereby God bindeth the hands and mindes of all his to enterprise no further then he appointeth.

- 2 Let Israel reioyce in him that made him, and let the children of Zion reioyce in their King.
- 3 Let them praise his Name with the flute: let them sing praises vnto him with the timbrell and harpe.
- 4 For the Lord hath pleasure in his people: he will make the mecke glorious by deliverance.
- 5 Let the Saints bee joyfull with glory, let them sing lowde vpon their beds.
- 6 Let the high actes of God bee in their mouth, and a two edged worde in their hands,
- 7 To execute vengeance vpon the heathen, and corrections among the people:
- 8 To binde their kings in chaines, and their nobles with fetters of iron,
- 9 That they may execute vpon them the iudgement that is written: this honour shall be to all his Saints. Praise ye the Lord.

1 An exhortation to praise the Lord without ceasse by all manner of wayes, for all his mighty and wonderfull workes.

Praise ye the Lord.

- Praise ye God in his Sanctuarie: praise ye him in the firmament of his power.
- 2 Praise ye him in his mightie Actes: praise ye him according to his excellent greatnesse.
- 3 Praise ye him in the sound of the trumpet: praise ye him vpon the viole and the harpe.
- 4 Praise ye him with timbrel and flute: praise ye him with virginals and organs.
- 5 Praise ye him with sounding cymbals: praise ye him with high sounding cymbals.
- 6 Let euery thing that hath breath, praise the Lord. Praise ye the Lord.

a That is, in the heauen. b For his wonderfull power appeareth in the firmament, which in Hebrew is called a stretching out, or spreading abroad, wherein the mightie work of God shineth. c Exhorting the people onely to reioyce in praising God, he maketh mention of those instruments, which by Gods commaundement were appointed in the old Law, but vnder Christ the vse thereof is abolished in the Church. d Hee sheweth that all the ordee of nature is bound to this ducie, and much more Gods children, who ought neuer to cease to prays him, till they be gathered into that kingdom, which hee hath prepared for his, where they shall sing euerlasting praise.

* This word Prouerbe, or parable, signifieth a graue and notable sentence, worthy to be kept in memorie: and is sometime taken in the euill part for a moocke, or scoffe.

The Prouerbes of Salomon.

THE ARGUMENT.

The wonderful loue of God toward his Church, is declared in this booke: so far as much as the summe and effect of the whole Scriptures is here set foorth in these brieue sentences, which partly containe doctrine, and partly maners, and also exhortations to both. Whereof the nine first Chapters are as a preface full of graue sentences, and deepe mysteries, to allure the hearts of men to the diligent reading of the parables that follow: which are left as a most precious iewel to the Church of those three thousand parables mentioned, 1 King 4. 32. and were gathered and committed to writing by Salomons seruants, and indited by him.

CHAP. I.

1 The power and vse of the word of God. 7 Of the feare of God & knowledge of his word. 10 We may not consent to the iustificings of sinners 20 Wisdom complaineth that shee is contemned. 24 The punishment of them that contemne her.

The Parables of Salomon the soune of Dauid King of Israel.

- 2 To know wisdom, and instruction, to vnderstand the words of knowledge,
- 3 To receive instruction to doe wisely, by a iustice and iudgement and equitie,
- 4 To giue vnto the simple the earnestnesse of wit, and to the child knowledge and discretion.
- 5 A wise man shall heare and increase in learning, and a man of vnderstanding shall attaine vnto wise counsels, a That is, what wee ought to know and folow, and what wee ought to refuse. b Meaning, the word of God, wherein is the only true knowledge. c To learne to submit our selues to the correction of those that are wise. d By liuing iustly, and rendering to euery man that which appertaineth vnto him. e To such as haue no discretion to rule themselves. f As hee sheweth that these parables, containing the effect of religion as touching maners and doctrine, do appertaine to the simple people: so doth he declare, that the same are also necessarie for them that are wise and learned.

- 6 To vnderstand a parable, and the interpretation, the words of the wife, and their darke sayings.
- 7 The feare of the Lord is the beginning of knowledge: but foolles despise wisdom and instruction.
- 8 My soune, heare thy fathers instruction, and forsake not thy mothers teaching.
- 9 For they shall be to thee a comely ornament vnto thine head, and as chains for thy necke.
- 10 My soune, if sinners do uttill thee, consent thou not.
- 11 If they say, Come with vs, wee will lay waite for thy blood, and lie in wait for thee innocent without a cause:
- 12 Wee will swallow them vp as a man like a prey: wee will euen whole, as those that goe downe into the pit:
- 13 Wee shall finde all precious riches, and fill our houses with spoye:

Psal. 111. 10. eccles. 1. 16. g He speaketh this in the Name of God, which is the vniuersall Father of all creatures, or in the name of the passion of the Church, who is as a father. h That is, of the Church, wherein is the faithfull are begotten by the incorruptible seede of Gods word.

14 Br. Increase of grace. i To wit, the wicked, which haue not the feare of God. k Hee speaketh not onely of the shedding of blood with hand, but of all crastie practises which tend to the detrimment of our neighbour. l As the graue is neuer satiate, so the auarice of the wicked and their euellie haue none end.

m He sheweth where y the wicked are allure to ioyne together, because they haue euery one part of the spoyle of the innocent.
 n That is, haue nothing at all to do with them.
 o He sheweth that the eis no cause to moue these wicked to spoile the innocent, but their auarice & cruelty.
 p Whereby he concludeth that the courteous man is a murderer.
 q This wisdom is the eternal word of God.
 r So that none can pretend ignorance.
 s Wisdom reprooueth three kinds of men: the foolish or simple, which erre of ignorance, and the mockers that cannot suffer to be taught, & the foolkes which are drowned in worldly lusts & hate the knowledge of godlinesse.
 t This is spoken according to our capacite, signifying that the wicked which mocke and iest at Gods word, shall haue the iust reward of their mocking.
 u That is, your destruction, which thing you feared.
 x Because they fought not with an affection to God, but for ease of their owne griefe.
 y Showing that without faith and obedience we can not call vpon God aright.
 z They shall feele what commoeditie their wicked life shall giue them, a That is, the prosperitie and iustitie wherein they delight.

14 Cast in thy lot among vs: we wil all haue one<sup>m</sup> purle:

15 Hy soune, walke not thou in the way way them: retrainet thy foote from their<sup>n</sup> path.

16 For they seeke run to euill, and make hake to shed blood.

17 Certainly as without cause the net is slyzed before the eyes of all that hath wing:

18 So they lay warte for blood, and lie pitifully to<sup>o</sup> their lures.

19 Such are the wayes of euery one that is greedy of gaine: he would take away the p life of the owners thereof.

20 The wise do crieth without: she vttereth her voice in the<sup>p</sup> streetes.

21 She calleth in the big streete, among the pleate in the entrings of the gates, and vttereth her words in the citie, saying,

22 Why ye foolishly, how long will yee loue foolishnes: and the scornful take their pleasure in looking: and the foolkes hate knowledge?

23 Turne you at my correction: loe. I wil poue out my mind vnto you, and make you vnderstand my words.

24 Because I haue called, and ye refused: I haue stretched out my mine hand, and none would regard:

25 But ye haue despised all my counsell, and would noare of my correction:

26 I wil also laugh at your destruction, and mocke when your feare commeth:

27 When your feare commeth like sudden delolation, & your destruction that cometh, like a whirlwind: when affliction and anguish shall come vpon you,

28 Then shall they call vpon mee, but I wil not answere: they shall seeke me early, but they shall not find me, 29 Because they hated knowledge, & did not: thus the feare of the Lord.

30 They would none of my counsell, but y despised all my correction.

31 Therefore shall they eate of the<sup>r</sup> fruit of their owne way, and bee filled with their owne deuilles.

32 For<sup>s</sup> east slayeth the foolish, and the prosperitie of foolkes destruyeth them.

33 But hee that obeyeth mee, shall dwell safely, and be quiet from feare of euill.

e and cryest for vnderstanding:

4 If thou seekest her as hinc, & searchest for her as for<sup>t</sup> a treasurie,

5 Then shalt thou vnderstand the feare of the Lord, & had the<sup>v</sup> knowledge of God.

6 For the Lord giueth wisdom, out of his mouth commeth knowledge and vnderstanding.

7 Hee preferreth the state of y righteous, he is a fielde to them that walke vprightly,

8 That they may keepe the wayes of iudgement: and hee preferreth the way of his iannts.)

9 Then shalt thou vnderstand righteounes, and iudgement, and equite, and euery good path.

10 When wisdom entereth into thine heart, and knowledge delighteth thy soule,

11 Then shall<sup>w</sup> counsell preferre thee, and vnderstanding shall keepe thee,

12 And deliuer thee from the euil way, & from the man that speaketh froward things,

13 And from them that leane the<sup>x</sup> wayes of righteounesse, to walke in the wayes of darkenesse:

14 Which reioyce in doing euill, and delighte<sup>y</sup> in the frowardnesse of the wicked, 15 Which wayes are crooked, and they are lewd in their paths.

16 And it shall deliuer thee fro the strange woman, euen from the stranger, which flaterech with her words, 17 Which forsaketh the<sup>z</sup> guide of her youth, & forgetteth the<sup>a</sup> covenant of her God.

18 Surely her<sup>b</sup> house tendeth to death, and her paths vnto<sup>c</sup> the dead.

19 All they that go vnto her, retorne not againe, neither take they hold of the wayes of life.

20 Therefore walke thou in y way of good men, and keepe the wayes of the righteous.

21 For the iust shall dwell in the<sup>d</sup> land, and the vpright men shall remaine in it.

22 But the wicked shall be cut off from the earth, and the traunglers shall be rooted out of it.

Miserable, forget not thou my lawe, but mitte thine heart<sup>e</sup> keepe my commandements.

3 Let not<sup>g</sup> mercie & truth forsake thee: blud them on thy<sup>h</sup> necke, and write them vpon the table of thine<sup>i</sup> heart.

a Long life is the blessing of God which he giueth to his fo. burre fourth as it is expedient for them.

e By this parte he comprehendeth the whole body, as by health he meaneth all the benefits promised in the Law both corporall and spiritual.

f As was commanded in the Law, Exod. 23. 19. Deut 26. 2. and by this they acknowledged that God was the giuer of all things, and that they were ready to bestow all at his commandment.

g For to the faithful distributor, God giueth in greater abundance.

Hebr. 12. 5. reue. 3. 19.

h Meaning, that he that seeketh wisdom, that is, suffereth himselfe to be governed by the word of God, shall haue all prosperitie both corporall and spiritual.

i Which bringeth fourth such fruite that they that care thereof, haue life: and he alludeth to the tree of life in Paradise.

k Hereby hee sheweth that this wisdom, whereof he speaketh, is euerslasting, because it was before all creatures, & that all things, euen the whole world were made by it.

l For when God destroyeth the wicked he will saue his as he did Lot in Sodom.

4 So shalt thou find fauour & good vnderstanding in the sight of God and man.

5 Trust in the Lord w all thine heart, and leaue not vnto thine owne wisdom.

6 In all thy waies acknowledge him, and he shall direct thy wayes.

7 Be not wise in thine owne eyes: but feare the Lord and depart from euill.

8 So health shall be vnto thy nauill, and marrow vnto thy bones.

9 Honour the Lord with thy riches, and with the first fruits of all thine increase.

10 So shall thy barnes be filled with abundance, and thy presses shall be burst with new wine.

11 Why sonne, refuse not the chastening of the Lord, neither be grieved with his correction.

12 For the Lord correcteth him, whom he loveth, euen as the father doeth the child in whom he delighteth.

13 Blessed is the man that findeth wisdom, and the man that getteth vnderstanding.

14 For the merchandise thereof is better then the merchandise of silver, and the gaine thereof is better then gold.

15 It is more precious then peales: and all things that thou canst desire, are not to be compared vnto her.

16 Length of dayes is in her right hand, and in her left hand riches and glory.

17 Her wayes are wayes of pleasure, and all her paths prosperitie.

18 She is a tree of life to them that lay hold on her, and blessed is hee that retaineth her.

19 The Lord by wisdom hath laid the foundation of the earth, & hath established the heauens through vnderstanding.

20 By his knowledge the deepes are broken vp, & the clouds drop downe the dew.

21 Why sonne, let not these things depart from thine eyes, but obserue wisdom and counsell.

22 So they shall bee life to thy soule, and grace vnto thy necke.

23 When shalt thou walke safely by thy way: and thy foote shall not stumble.

24 If thou sleepest thou shalt not be afraid, and when thou sleepest, thy sleep shall be sweete.

25 Thou shalt not feare for any sudden feare, neither for the destruction of the wicked, when it cometh.

26 For the Lord shall be for thine assurance, and shall preserue thy foote from taking.

27 Withhold not the good from the owners thereof, though there bee power in thine hand to doe it.

28 Say not vnto thy neighbour, Go and come againe, and to morrow I will giue thee, if thou now haue it.

29 Intend none hurt against thy neighbour, seeing hee doeth dwell without feare by thee.

30 Strive not with a man causelesse, when he hath done thee no harme.

31 Be not enuious for the wicked man, neither chuse any of his wayes.

32 For the reward is abomination vnto the Lord: but his secret is with the righteous.

33 The curse of the Lord is in the house of the wicked: but he blesteth the habitation of the righteous.

34 With the scornfull he scorneth, but he quietly grace vnto the humble.

35 The wife shall inherit glory: but foolkes dishonour, though they be exalted.

CHAP. IIIII.

1 Wisdom and her fruits ought to be searched, 14 The way of the wicked must be refused, 20 By the word of God the heart, eyes, and course of life must be guided.

2 Care, O ye children, the instruction of a father, and giue care to learne vnderstanding.

3 For I doe giue you a good doctrine: therefore forsake ye not my law.

4 When I was my fathers soune, tender and deare in the sight of my mother.

5 He taught me, & said vnto me, Let thine heart hold fast my wordes: keepe my commandments, and thou shalt liue.

6 Get wisdom, get vnderstanding: for get not, neither decline from the wordes of my mouth.

7 For sake her not, & she shall keepe thee: lone her, and she shall preserue thee.

8 Wisdom is the beginning: get wisdom therefore: and aboue all thy possession get vnderstanding.

9 Great her, & she shall exalt thee: she shall bring thee to honour if thou embrace her.

10 Shee shall giue a costly ornament vnto thine head, yea, shee shall giue thee a crowne of glory.

11 Heare, my sonne, and receiue my wordes, & the yeeres of thy life shall be many.

12 I haue taught thee in the way of wisdom, and led thee in the paths of righteousness.

13 When thou goest, thy gate shall not be strait, and when thou runnest, thou shalt not fall.

14 Take hold of instruction, & leaue not: keepe her, for she is thy life.

15 Enter not into the way of the wicked, and walke not in the way of euill men.

16 Anyoy it, and go not by it: turne from it, and passe by.

17 For they cannot sleepe, except they haue done euill, and their sleep departeth, except they cause some to fall.

c Meaning, Dauid his father. d He sheweth that we must first begin at Gods word, if so be we will that other things prosper with vs, contrary to the iudgement of the world, which make it their last study, or else care not for it at all.

e Salomon declareth what care his father had to bring him vp in the true feare of God: for this was Dauids protestation.

f Thou shalt walke at libertie without offence. g Meaning, that to doe euill is more proper and naturall to the wicked, then to sleepe, eat, or drinke. h Gotten by wicked meanes and cruell oppression. i Signifying, that the godly increase dayly in knowledge and perfection, till they come to full perfection, which is, when they shall be ioyned to their head in the heauens.

19 The way of the wicked is as the darkness: they know not wherein they shall fall.
 20 O My sonne, hearken vnto my wordes, incline thine eare vnto my sayings.
 21 Let them not depart from thine eyes, but keepe them in the mids of thine heart.
 22 For they are life vnto thee that finde them, and heath vnto all their flesh.
 23 Keepe thine heart with all diligence: for thereout cometh life.
 24 Put away fro thee a froward mouth, and put wicked lips farre from thee.
 25 Let thine eyes behold the right, and let thine eye lids direct thy way before thee.
 26 Consider the path of thy feete, and let all thy wayes be ordered aright.
 27 Turne not to the right hand, nor to the left, but remove thy foote from euill.

CHAP. V.

3 Whoredome forbidden, 9 And prodigality.
 15 He wilkech a man to live on his labours, and to helpe others, 18 To loue his wife. 22 The wicked taken in their owne wickednesse.

O My sonne, hearken vnto my wisdom, and incline thine eare vnto my knowledge.

2 That thou mayest regard counsell, and thy lips obserue knowledge.
 3 For the lips of a strange woman drop as an honeie combe, and her mouth is more soft then b oyle.
 4 But the end of her is bitter as wormewood, and sharpe as a two edged sword.
 5 Her feete go downe to death, and her steps take hold on hell.
 6 She weicherh not the way of life: her paths are a mouebale: thou canst not know them.
 7 Heare yee me now therefore, O children, and depart not from the wordes of my mouth.
 8 Keepe thy way farre from her, & come not neere the doore of her house.
 9 Lest thou give thine honoure vnto others, and thy yeres to the cruel:
 10 Lest the stranger should be filled with thy strength, & thy labours be in the house of a stranger, 11 And thou mourne at thine end, (when thou hast consumed thy flesh and thy body)
 12 And say, How haue I hated instruction, and mine heart despised correction!
 13 And haue not obeyed the voice of them that taught me, nor inclined mine eare to them that instructed me!
 14 I was almost brought into all euill in the mids of the Congregation & assemblie.
 15 Drink the water of thy cisterne, and of the riuers out of the middes of thine owne well.
 16 Let thy fountaines flow forth, and the riuers of waters in the streets.
 17 But let them be thine, euen thine only, and not the strangers with thee.

k That is, they shall haue health of body: vnder the which all other blessings promised in the law are contained.
 l For as the heart is either pure or corrupt, so is the whole course of mans life.
 m Keepe a measure in all thy doings.

Or, understanding.

a That is, an harlot which giueth her selfe to another then to her husband.
 b By oyle and honie he meaneth flattering and crafty iustificatiens.
 c All her doings leade to destruction.
 d She hath euer new meanes to allure to wickednesse.
 e That is, thy strength and goods to her that will haue no pittie vpon thee: as is read of Samson, and the prodigall sonne.
 f The goods gotten by thy crueltie.
 g Although I was faithfully instructed in the truth, yet had I almost fallen to utter shame and destruction, notwithstanding my good bringing vp in the assembly of the godly.
 h He teacheth vs sobriety, exhorting vs to live of our owne labours, and to bee beneficiall to the godly that want.
 i Distribute them not to the wicked and infidels, but reserve them for thy selfe, thy familie, and them that are of the household of faith.

18 Let thy fountaine be blessed, and reioyce with the wife of thy youth:
 19 Let her be as the loking hinde and pleasant roe: let her breasts lactifie thee at all times, and delight in her loue continually.
 20 For why shouldst thou delight in thy sonne, in a strange woman, or embrace the bosome of a stranger?
 21 For the wayes of man are before the eyes of y Lord, & he pondereth all his paths.
 22 His owne iniquities shall rake the wicked himselfe, and he shall be holden with the cords of his owne sinne.
 23 Yee shall die for fault of instruction, and shall goe astray through his great folly.

wife both in heart and in outward conuersation, that hee shall not escape the iudgements of God. n Because hee will not giue care to Gods word and be admonished.

CHAP. VI.

1 Instruction for seruets. 6 The slothful and sluggish is stirred to worke. 12 He describeth the nature of the wicked. 16 The things that God hateth. 20 To obserue the word of God. 24 To see adultery.

O My sonne, if thou be surety for thy neighbour, and hast stricken handes with the stranger,

2 Thou art snared with the wordes of thy mouth: thou art euen taken with the wordes of thine owne mouth.
 3 Doe this now, my sonne, and deliuer thy selfe: seeing thou art come into the hand of thy neighbour, goe and humble thy selfe, and sollicit thy friends.
 4 Gine no sleepe to thine eyes, nor slumber to thine eye lids.
 5 Deliuer thy selfe as a Doe from the hand of the hunter, and as a bird from the hand of the fowler.
 6 Goe to the pilsimire, O Sluggard: behold her wayes and be wise.
 7 For the hauing no guide, goernment, nor ruler,
 8 Prepareth her meate in the summer, and gathereth her foode in harvest.
 9 How long wilt thou sleepe, O Sluggard? when wilt thou arise out of thy sleepe?
 10 Yet a little sleepe, a little slumber, a little foeding of the hands to sleepe.
 11 Therefore thy powerie cometh as one that is reuelerly by the way, and thy necessity like an armed man.
 12 The vnthriftie man and the wicked man walketh with a froward mouth.
 13 He maketh a signe with his eyes, hee signifieth with his feete: hee is instructed with his fingers.
 14 Lewd things are in his heart: he imagineth euill at all times, and raiseth by contentions.
 15 Therefore shall his destruction come speedily: hee shall be destroyed suddenly without recovery.
 16 These sixe things doeth the Lord hate: his soule abhorreth seuen:
 17 The haury eyes, a lying tongue, and the hands that shed innocent blood, k Thy children which shall come of thee in great abundance, shewing that God blesteth marriage, and curseth whoredome.

 l Which thou didst marry in thy youth.
 m Or, gze astray with a stranger.
 n Hee declareth that except man doe ioyne to his wife both in heart and in outward conuersation, that hee shall not escape the iudgements of God. n Because hee will not giue care to Gods word and be admonished.

a Hee forbiddeth vs not to become surety one for another, according to the rule of charitie, vnto whom and after what sort, so that the creditor may not be defrauded.
 b If the word of God cannot instruct thee, yet learne at the little pilsimire to labour for thy selfe and not to burden others.
 Chap. 24. 33.
 c Hee expresseth liuely the nature of the sluggards, which though they sleepe neuer so long, yet haue neuer ynough, but euer seeke occasions thereunto.
 d That is, siddely, and when thou lookest not for it.
 e It shall come in such sort as thou art not able to resist it.
 f Hee sheweth vnder what inconuenience the idle persons & sluggards come, by calling them vnthriftie, or the men of Belial, and slanderous.
 g Thus all his gesture tendeth to wickednesse.
 h An

h Meaning, the raging affections which carie a man away in such fort that he cannot tell what he doeth.

|| Or, neighbours. i Reale Chap. 3. 3.

k By the commandment he measceth the word of God: and by the instruction, the preaching and declaration of the same, which is committed to the Church.

l And reprehensions when the word is preached bring vs to life. m With her wanton looks and gesture.

n Meaning, that she will neuer cease till shee haue brought thee to beggerie, and then seeke thy destruction.

o He approueth not these, but sheweth that it is not so abominable as whoredome, forasmuch as these might be redeemed: but adultery was a perpetall infamie, and death by the Law of God.

p Meaning, for verie necessitie.

q Ebr. faileth in heart. r Hee sheweth that man by nature seeketh his death that hath seduced his wife, and so concludeth, that neither Gods Law, nor the lawe of nature admitteth any ranlome for the adultery.

18 An heart that imagineth wicked enterprises, hee teete that he twitt in running to milchefe.

19 A false witnes that speaketh lies, and him that raieth vp contentis among his brethren.

20 O my sonne, keepe thy fathers commandment, and forsake not thy mothers instruction.

21 Bind them alway vpon thine heart, and tie them about thy necke.

22 It shall leade thee, when thou walkest: it shall watch for thee when thou sleepest, & when thou wakest it shall talke with thee.

23 For the commandment is a lantern, and instruction a light: and corrections for instruction are the way of life.

24 To keepe thee from the wicked woman, and from the flattery of the tongue of a strange woman.

25 Delure not her beauty in thine heart, neither let her take thee with her eye lids.

26 For because of the whozith woman, a mans brougher to a morsell of bread, & a woman will hurt for the precious life of a man.

27 Can a man take fire in his bosome, and his clothes not be burnt?

28 Can a man go vpon coales, and his feete not be burnt?

29 So he that goeth in to his neighbours wife, shall not be innocent, wholoever toucheth her.

30 Men doe not despise a thiefe, when he stealeth, to satisfie his soule, because hee is hungry.

31 But if he be found, he shall restore seven fold, or hee shall giue all the substance of his house.

32 But he that committeth adultery with a woman, he is destitute of vnderstanding: he that doeth it, destroyeth his owne soule.

33 He shall find a wound and dishonour, and his reproch shall neuer be put away.

34 For lealousie is the rage of a man: therefore he will not spare in the day of vengeance.

35 We cannot beare the sight of any ranlome: neither will hee consent, though thou augment the gifts.

6 As I was in the window of mine house, I looked through my window.

7 And I saw among the foolles, and considered among the children a young man destitute of vnderstanding.

8 Who passed through the streete by her corner, and went toward her house,

9 In the twilight in the evening, when the night began to be blacke and darke.

10 And behold, there met him a woman, with an harlots behauiour, and subtil in heart.

11 (Shee is babling and loud: whose feete cannot abide in her house.

12 Now she is without, now in the streets, and lieth in wait at euery corner)

13 So she caught him and kiled him, and with an impudent face said vnto him, 14 I haue a peace offering: this day haue I payed my vowes.

15 Therefore came I forth to meeete thee, that I might seeke thy face: and I haue found thee.

16 I haue deckt my bed with ornaments, scarpetes and laces of Egypt.

17 I haue perfumed my bed with myrrhe, aloes, and cynamon.

18 Come, let vs take our fill of loue vntill the morning: let vs take our pleasure in dancing.

19 For mine husband is not at home: hee is gone a iourney farre off, 20 He hath taken with him a bag of siluer, & wil come home at the day appointed.

21 Thus with her great craft hee caused him to veele, and with her flattering lips hee enticed him.

22 And hee followed her straightwaies, as an oxe that goeth to the slaughter, and as a foole to the lockes for correction.

23 Till a dart strike through his siner, as a bird hattereth to the snare, not knowing that he is in danger.

24 Heare me now therefore, O children, and hearken to the words of my mouth.

25 Let not thine heart decline to her wayes: wander thou not in her paths.

26 For she hath caused many to fall down wounded, and the strong men are all slaine by her.

27 Her house is the way vnto the graue, which goeth downe vnto the chambers of death.

CHAP. VIII.

1 Wisdome declareth her excellencie, 2 Riches, 15 power, 22 Eternitie. 32 She exhorth al colour and follow her.

Death not a wisdome cry? and vnderstanding utter her voyce?

2 Shee standeth in the way in the place of the path.

he can pretend no ignorance, forasmuch as God calleth to all men by his word, and by his workes, to follow vertue and to flee from vice.

b Salomon vseth this parable to declare their folly that suffer themselves to be abused by harlots.

c Hee sheweth that there was almost none so impudent, but they were afraid to bee seene, and also their owne consciences did accute them, which caused them to seeke the night to couer their shidnesse.

|| Or, garment. || Or, hid.

d Hee describeth certain conditions, which are peculiar to harlots.

|| Ebr. she strengthened her face.

e Because that in peace she brings a portion returned to them that offered, she sheweth him that she hath meate at home to make good chere with: or els the world vs some cloke of holinesse, till she had gotten him in her snares.

f Which declareth that harlots outwardly will seeme holy and religious: both because they may be betred deceiue others, and also thinking by observing of ceremonies and offerings to make satisfaction for their sinnes.

g Which thinking hee goeth to the pasture, goeth willingly to his owne destruction. h Which goeth the refully, not knowing that he shall be challid. || Ebr. a u for his life. i Ne ther wir nor strength can deliuer them that fall into the hands of the harlot. Chap 2 18.

Chap. 1. 10. a Salomon declareth that man is cause of his owne perdition, & that a By this diuersitie of words he meaneth that nothing ought to befo deare vnto vs, as the word of God, nor that we looke on any thing more, nor minde any thing so much.

1 An exhortation to wisdome and to the word of God, 5 which wil preserve vs from the harlot, 6 whose maners are described.

M y sonne, keepe my wordes, and hide my commandments with thee.

2 Keepe my commandments, and thou shalt live, and mine instruction as the apple of thine eyes.

3 Bind them vpon thy fingers, and write them vpon the table of thine heart.

4 Say vnto wisdome, Thou art my sister: & call vnderstanding thy kinde woman,

5 That they may keepe thee from the strange woman, even from the stranger that is smoothie in her wordes.

b Where the people did most resort, and which was the place of iustice.
c Meaning, that the word of God is easie vnto all that haue a desire vnto it, & which are not blinded by the prince of this world.
d That is, except a man haue wisdom, which is the true knowledge of God, he can neither be prouder, nor good counsellor.
e So that he that doth not hate euill, feareth not God.
f Whereby he declareth that honours, dignitie or riches come not of mans wisdom, or industrie, but by the prouidence of God.
g That is, studie the word of God diligently, and with a desire to profite.
h Signifying, that he chiefly meaneth the spirituall treasures and heauenly riches.
i For there can be no true iustice or iudgement, which is not directed by this wisdom.
k He declareth hereby the diuinitie of this wisdom, which he magnifieth and prayseth through this booke: meaning thereby the eternal Sonne of God Iesus Christ our Saviour, who S. Iohn calleth the Word that was in the beginning, Iohn 1. 1.
l He declareth the eternitie of the Sonne of God, which is meant by this worde Wisdom, who was before all time, and euer present with the Father.

3 She cryeth besides the gates before the citie at the entrie of the doores, 4 Men, I call vnto you, and vnto my voyce to the children of man.
5 See health men, vnderstand wisdom, and see D fooles, be wise in heart.
6 Give eare, for I will speake of excellent things, and the opening of my lips shall teach things that be right.
7 For my mouth shall speake the truth, and my lips abhorre wickednesse.
8 All the words of my mouth are righteous: there is no lewdnesse, nor frowardnesse in them.
9 They are all plainne to him that will vnderstand, & straight to them that would finde knowledge.
10 Reuene mine instruction and not siluer, and knowledge rather then fine gold.
11 For wisdom is better then precious stones: and all pleasures are not to be compared vnto her.
12 I wisdom dwell with a prouidence, and I find forth knowledge and counsils.
13 The feare of the Lord is to hate euill, as pride, and arrogancie, and the euill way: and a mouth that speaketh lewde things, I doe hate.
14 I haue counsell and wisdom: I am vnderstanding, and I haue strength.
15 By mee kings reign, and princes decree iustice.
16 By mee princes rule, and the nobles, and all the iudges of the earth.
17 I loue them that loue mee: and they that seek me early, shall finde me.
18 Riches and honour are with mee: heauen durable riches and righteousnesse.
19 My fruite is better then golde, euen then fine golde, and my reuenues better then fine silver.
20 I canse to walke in the way of righteousness, and in the middes of the pathes of iudgement, 21 That I may cause them that loue me, to inherite substance, and I will fill their treasures.
22 The Lord hath possessed me in the beginning of his way: I was before his workes of olde.
23 I was set by from euerlasting, from the beginning, and before the earth.
24 When there were no depths, was I begotten, when there were no fountaines abounding with water.
25 Before the mountains were seled: and before the hills, was I begotten.
26 He had not yet made the earth, nor the open places; nor the height of the dust in the world.
27 When hee prepared the heauens, I was there, when he set the compass vpon the deepe:
28 When hee established the cloudes aboue, when hee confirmed the fountaines of the deepe:
29 When hee gaue his decree to the sea, that the waters should not passe his commandement, when he appointed the foundations of the earth.

30 Then was I with him as a nourisher, and I was dayly his delight reioycing alway before him, 31 And tooke my solace in the compass of his earth: and my delight is with the children of men.
32 Therefore now hearken, O children, vnto me: for blessed are they that keepe my wayes.
33 Heare instruction, and be ye wise, and refuse it not: blessed is the man that heareth me, watching dayly at my gates, and giuing attendance at the postes of my doores.
34 For he that findeth me, findeth life, and shall obtaine fauour of the Lord.
35 But he that sinneth against me, hurteth his owne soule: & al that hate me, loue death.
o By earth he meant man, which is the worke of God in whom Wisdom tooke pleasure: in so much as for mans sake the Diuine Wisdom tooke mans nature, and dwelt among vs, and filled vs with vnspokeable treasures, and this is that solace and pastime whereof is here spoken.
CHAP. IX.
2 Wisdom calleth all to her feast. 7 The scooner will not be corrected, 10 The feare of God, 13 The conditions of the harlot.
VVisdom hath built her a house, and hewen out her seven pillars.
2 She hath killed her vitailles, drawn her wine, and prepared her table.
3 She hath sent forth her maydens, and cryeth vpon the highest places of the citie, saying,
4 Who so is simple let him come hither, and to him that is destitute of wisdom, she sayth,
5 Come, and eate of my meate, & drinke of the wine that I haue drawn.
6 Forake your way, ye foolish, & ye shall liue: & walke in the way of vnderstanding.
7 He that reprooueth a scooner, purchaseth to himselfe shame: and he that rebuketh the wicked, getteth himselfe a blot.
8 Rebuke not a scooner, lest he hate thee: but rebuke a wise man, and he will loue thee.
9 Gine admonition to the wise, and he will be the wiser; teach a righteous man, and he will increase in learning.
10 The beginning of wisdom is the feare of the Lorde, and the knowledge of holy things, is vnderstanding.
11 For thy dayes shall bee multiplied by mee, and the yeeres of thy life shall be augmented.
12 If thou be wise, thou shalt be wise for thy selfe, and if thou bee a scooner, thou m Some reade a chiefe worker: signifying that this wisdom, euen Christ Iesus was equal with God his father, and created, pre-serued, and still worketh with him, as Ioh. 5. 17.

n Whereby is declared that the worke of the creation was no paine, but a solace vnto the wisdom of God, of God in whom o God in whom Wisdom tooke pleasure: in so much as for mans sake the Diuine Wisdom tooke mans nature, and dwelt among vs, and filled vs with vnspokeable treasures, and this is that solace and pastime whereof is here spoken.
p Christ hath prepared him a Church.
q That is, many chiefe stayes, and principall parts of his Church, as were the Patriarks, Prophets, Apostles, Pastors and Doctors.
r He compareth wisdom with great princes that keepe open house for all that come.
d Meaning, true preachers, which are not infected with mans wisdom.
e Hee that knoweth his owne ignorance, and is void of malice.
f By the meate and drinke, is meant the word of God, and the ministracion of the Sacraments, whereby God nourisheth his seruants in his house, which is the Church.
g For the wicked will contemne him and labour to defame him.
h Meaning, them that are incorrigible, which Christ calleth dogges and swine: of he speaketh this in comparison, not that the wicked should not be rebuked, but he sheweth their malice, and the small hope of profite.
i Hee sheweth what true vnderstanding is, to know the will of God in his word, which is meant by holy things.
k Thou shalt haue the chiefe profite and commoditie thereof.

By the foolish woman some vnderstande the wicked preachers, who counterfeite the word of God, as appeareth verse 16. which were the words of the true preachers, as vers. 4. but their doctrine is but as stollen waters: meaning that they are but mens traditions, which are more pleasant to the flesh then the worde of God: and therefore they themselves boast thereof.

alone shalt suffer.
13 CA foolish woman is troublesome: shee is ignorant, and knoweth nothing.
14 But shee lieth at y<sup>e</sup> doore of her house, on a seate in the high places of the cite.
15 To cal them that passe by the way, that goe right on their way, saying, 16 Who so is simple, let him come hither, and to him that is desirous of wisdom, shee saith also.
17 Stollen waters are sweete, and hld bread is pleasant.
18 But hee knoweth not, that the dead are there, and that her ghasts are in the depth of hell.

CHAP. X.

In this Chapter & that follow vnto the thirtieth the wise man exhorteth by diuers sentences, which be called parables, so follow vertue, and flee vice: and sheweth also what profit cometh of wisdom, and what hinderance proceedeth of foolishnesse.

THE PARABLES OF SALOMON.

A wise sonne maketh a glad father: but a foolish sonne is an heauynesse to his mother.

2 The treasures of a wickednesse profite nothing: but righteounesse deliuereth from death.

3 The Lord will not famish the soule of the righteous: but hee casteth away the substance of the wicked.

4 A slouthfull hand maketh poore: but the hand of the diligent maketh rich.

5 Hee that gathereth in summer, is the sonne of wisdom: but hee that sleepech in harvest, is the sonne of confusion.

6 Blessings are vpon the head of the righteous: but iniquitie shall couer the mouth of the wicked.

7 The memoriale of the iust shall be blessed: but the name of the wicked shall rot.

8 The wife in heart will receiue commandements: but the foolishly in talke shall be beaten.

9 Doe that walketh by righte, walketh boldly: but hee that peruertereth his wayes, shall be knowen.

10 Doe that winketh with the eye, worketh sorow, and he that is foolishly in talke, shall be beaten.

11 The mouth of a righteous man is a wel spring of life: but iniquitie couereth the mouth of the wicked.

12 Hatred streech by contentions: but lone couereth all trespasses.

13 In the lippes of him that hath vnderstanding, wisdom is found, and a rod shall be for the backe of him that is desirous of wisdom.

14 Wise men lay by knowledge: but the mouth of the foole is a present destruction.

15 The rich mans goods are his strong cite, but the feare of the needy is their poerty.

16 The labour of the righteous tendeth to life: but the reuenies of the wicked to sinne.

17 He that regardeth instruction, is in the way of life: but he that refuseth correction, goeth out of the way.

18 He that dissemblerh hatred with lying lips, & hee that inuenteth slander, is a foole.

19 In many wordes there cannot want iniquitie: but hee that reframeh his lips, is wise.

20 The tongue of the iust man is asefined silver: but the heart of the wicked is litle worth.

21 The lips of the righteous doe feede many: but foolles shall die for want of wisdom.

22 The blessing of the Lord, it maketh rich, and he doth adde no sorrowes with it.

23 It is as a pasture to a foole to doe wickedly: but wisdom is vnderstanding to a man.

24 That which the wicked feareth, shall come vpon him: but God will graunt the desire of the righteous.

25 As the whylewind passeth, so is the wicked no more: but the righteous is as an euerlasting foundation.

26 As vineger is to the teeth, & as smoke to the eyes, so is the slouthfull to them that send him.

27 The feare of the Lord increaseth the dayes: but the yeres of the wicked shall be diminished.

28 The patient abiding of the righteous shall be gladnesse: but the hope of the wicked shall perish.

29 The way of the Lord is strength to the byright man: but feare shall bee for the workers of iniquitie.

30 The righteous shall neuer bee remoued: but the wicked shall not dwell in the land.

31 The mouth of the iust shall be fruitfull in wisdom: but the tongue of the froward shall be cut out.

32 The lips of the righteous know what is acceptable: but the mouth of the wicked speakeh froward things.

CHAP. XI.

Falle balances are an abomination vnto the Lord: but a perfite & weight pleaseh him.

2 When pride cometh, then cometh shame: but with the lowly is wisdom.

3 The vpprightnesse of the iust shall guide them: but the frowardnesse of the transgressors shall delstroy them.

4 Riches auail not in the day of wrath: but righteounesse deliuereth from death.

5 The righteounesse of the byright shall direct his way: but the wicked shall fall in his owne wickednesse.

6 The righteounesse of the iust shall deliuer them: but the transgressors shall be taken in their owne wickednesse.

7 When a wicked man dieth, his hope perisheth, and the hope of the vnust shall perish.

8 The righteous escapeth out of trouble, and the wicked shall come in his stead.

9 An hypocrite with his mouth burteth his neighbour: but the righteous shall be deliuered by knowledge.

10 In the pophousness of the righteous the i For they speake truth and edifie many by exhortations, admonition and counsell.

k Meaning, that all worldly things bring care, and sorrow, whereas they that feele the blessings of God, haue none.

l He is but a trouble and grief to him that setteth him about any businesse.
m The time of their prosperitie shall be short because of their great fall, though they seeme to liue long.
n They enioy in this life by faith and hopes, their euerlasting life.

a Vnder this word hee condemneth all false weights, measures and currencies.
b When man forgetteth himselfe, and thinkeh to be exalted aboue his vocation, then God bringeth him to confusion.
c That is, shall enter into trouble.

citie reioyceth, and when the wicked perish, there is top.
 11 By the blessing of the righteous, the citie is exalted: but it is subuerted by the mouth of the wicked.
 12 He that despiseth his neighbour, is destitute of wisdom: but a man of vnderstanding will keepe silence.
 13 He that goeth about as a slanderer, discretely a seerer: but he that is of a fainfull heart concealeth a matter.
 14 Where no counsell is, the people fall: but where many counsellers are, there is health.

 18 The wicked worketh a deceitfull work: but he that soweth righteousness, shall reeue a sure reward.
 19 As righteousness leadech to life, so hee that followeth euill, seeketh his owne death.
 20 They that are of a froward heart, are abomination to the Lord: but they that are vpright in their way, are his delight.
 21 Though hand ioyne in hand, the wicked shall not be unpunished: but the seede of the righteous shall escape.
 22 As aewel of gold in a swines snout: so is a tappe woman, which lacketh discretion.

CHAP. XII.

He that loneth instruction, loneth know- ledge: but hee that hateth correction, is a foole.

2 A good man getteth fauoz of the Lord: but the man of wicked imaginations wil he condemne.
 3 A man cannot bee established by wic- kednes: but the roote of the righteous shall not be mooued.
 4 A vertuous woman is the crowne of her husband: but he that maketh him ashamed, is a corruption in his bones.
 5 The thoughts of the iust are right: but the counsels of the wicked are deceitfull.
 6 The talking of the wicked is to lie in waite for blood: but the mouth of the righteous will deliuer them.
 7 God ouerthroweth the wicked, and they are not: but the house of the righteous shall stand.
 8 A man shall be commended for his wisdom: but the froward of heart shall be despised.
 9 He that is despised, and is his owne seruant, is better then he that boasteth himselfe and lacketh bread.
 10 A righteous man regardeth the life of his beast: but the mercies of the wicked are cruell.
 11 Hee that tilleth his land shall be satisfied with bread: but hee that followeth the idle, is destitute of vnderstanding.
 12 The wicked desireth the nette of euils: but the roote of the righteous groweth fruite.
 13 The euill man is snared by the wickednes of his lips, but the iust shall come out of aduersitie.
 14 A man shall bee satiate with good things by the fruite of his mouth, and the recompense of a mans handes shall God giue vnto him.
 15 The way of a foole is a right in his owne eyes: but he that heareth counsell, is wise.
 16 A foole in a day shall bee knownen by his anger: but hee that coureth shame is wise.
 17 Hee that speaketh truth, will shew righteousness: but a false witnesseth deceit.

CHAP. XIII.

A Wiſe ſonne will obey the inſtruction of his father: but a ſcornor will heare no re- buke.

2 A man ſhal eat good things by the fruit of his mouth: but the ſoule of the treſpaſſers ſhall ſuffer violence.

3 He that keepeth his mouth, keepeth his life: but he that openeth his lips, deſtruction ſhalbe to him.

4 The ſluggard luſteth, but his ſoule hath nought: but the ſoule of the diligent ſhall haue plenty.

5 A righteous man hateth lying words: but the wicked cauſeth flaunder and ſhame.

6 Righteousneſſe preſerueth the ſpirit of life: but wickedneſſe ouerthroweth the ſinner.

7 There is that maketh himſelfe rich, and hath nothing, and that maketh himſelfe poore, hauing great riches.

8 A man will giue his riches for the ranſome of his life: but the poore cannot heare the reproch.

9 The light of the righteous reioyceth: but the candle of the wicked ſhall be put out.

10 Onely by pride doth man make contention: but with the well aduised is wiſedome.

11 The riches of vanity ſhall diminiſh: but hee that gathereth with the hand ſhall increaſe them.

12 The hope that is deferred, is the fainting of the heart: but when the deſire cometh, it is as a tree of life.

13 He that deſpiſeth the word, he ſhalbe deſtroyed: but he that feareth the commandement, he ſhalbe rewarded.

14 The inſtruction of a wiſe man is as the welſpring of life, to turne away from the ſnares of death.

15 Good vnderſtanding maketh acceptable: but the way of the diſobedient is hated.

16 Euery wiſe man will worke by knowledge: but a foole will ſpread abroad folly.

17 A wicked meſſenger falleth into euill: but a faithfull ambalaſſadour is preſeruation.

18 Houerte and ſhame is to him that reſuſeth inſtruction: but hee that regardeth correption, ſhall be honoured.

19 A deſire accompliſhed delighteth the ſoule: but it is an abomination to fooles to depart from euill.

20 Hee that walketh with the wiſe, ſhall be wiſe: but a companion of fooles ſhall be afflicted.

21 Affliction followeth ſinners: but vnto the righteous God will recompenſe good.

22 The good man ſhall giue inheritance vnto his childrens children: and the riches of the ſinner is laid by for the iuſt.

23 Much food is in the field of the poore: but the field is deſtroyed without diſcretion.

24 Hee that ſpareth his rodde, hateth his ſonne: but he that loneth him, chaſtineneth him betime.

25 The righteous cateth to the contentation of his minde: but the belly of the wicked ſhall want.

CHAP. XIII.

A Wiſe woman buildeth her houſe: but the fooliſh deſtroyeth it with her owne hands.

2 He that walketh in his righteousneſſe, feareth the Lord: but he that is lewde in his wayes, deſpiſeth him.

3 In the mouth of the fooliſh is the rod of pride: but the lippes of the wiſe preſerue them.

4 Where none open are, there the crib is emptic: but much increaſe cometh by the ſtrength of the ore.

5 A faithfull witneſſe will not lie: but a falſe record will ſpeake lies.

6 A ſcornor ſeeketh wiſedome, and findeth it not: but knowledg is eaſy to him that will vnderſtand.

7 Depart from the fooliſh man, when thou perceuſt not in him the lips of knowledg.

8 The wiſedome of the prudent is to vnderſtand his way: but the fooliſhnes of the foole is deceit.

9 The foole maketh a mocke of ſinne: but among the righteous there is ſauiour.

10 The heart knoweth the bitterneſſe of his ſoule, and the ſtranger ſhal not meddle with his ioy.

11 The houſe of the wicked ſhall bee deſtroyed: but the tabernacle of the righteous ſhall flouriſh.

12 There is a way that ſeemeth right to a man: but the iſſues thereof are the waies of death.

13 Euen in laughing the heart is ſorrowfull, and the ende of that mirth is heauineſſe.

14 The heart that declineth, ſhalbe ſatiſfied with his owne wayes: but a good man ſhall depart from him.

15 The fooliſh will beleue euery thing: but the prudent will conſider his ſteps.

16 A wiſe man ſearcheth, and departeth from euill: but a foole rageth, and is careleſſe.

17 Hee that is baſtie to anger, committeth folly, and a buſie bodie is bated.

18 The fooliſh doe inherite folly: but the prudent are crowned with knowledg.

19 The euill ſhall bow before the good, & the wicked at the gates of the righteous.

21 The ſinner deſpiſeth his neighbour: but hee that hath mercie vpon the poore is bleſſed.

22 Doe not they erre that imagine euill: but to them that thinke on good things, ſhall be mercie and truth.

 27 The feare of the Lorde is as a weltring of life, to avoide the snares of death.
 28 In the multitude of the people is the honour of a king, and for the want of people commeth the destruction of the punice.
 29 Hee that is slowe to wrath, is of great wisdom: but hee that is of an hasty minde, exalteth folly.
 30 A sound heart is the life of the flesh : but enuy is the rotting of the bones.
 31 * Hee that oppreseth the poore, reprooveth him that made him: but hee honoureth him, that hath mercy on the poore.
 32 The wicked shall be cast away for his malice : but the righteous hath hope in his death.

 34 Justice exalteth a nation, but sinne is a shame to the people.
 35 The pleasure of a king is in a wife servant : but his wrath shall be toward him that is lewd.

CHAP. XV.

A * Soft answere putteth away wrath: but agrievous words stirre up anger.
 2 The tongue of the wise useth knowledge aright: but the mouth of foolcs * babbleth out foolishnesse.
 3 The eyes of the Lord in euery place behold the euill and the good.
 4 A wholesome tongue is as a tree of life : but the frowardnesse thereof is the breaking of the minde.
 5 A foole despiseth his fathers instruction: but he that regardeth correction, is prudent.
 6 The house of the righteous hath much treasure: but in the reuenues of the wicked is a trouble.
 7 The lips of the wise doe spread abroad knowledge : but the heart of the foolcs doth not so.
 8 The sacrifice of the wicked is abominable unto the Lord : but the prayer of the righteous is acceptable unto him.
 9 The way of the wicked is an abomination unto the Lord : but hee loueth him that followeth righteounesse.
 10 Instruction is euill to him that forsaketh the way, & hee that hateth correction, shall die.
 11 Hell and destruction are before the Lorde: howe much more the hearts of the finnes of men?
 12 A scooner loueth not him that rebuketh him, neither will hee goe unto the wise.
 13 * A ioyfull heart maketh a cheerefull countenance : but by the sorrow of the heart the minde is heauy.
 14 The heart of him that hath understanding, seeketh knowledge: but the mouth of the foole is fed with foolishnesse.
 15 All the dayes of the afflicted are euill: but a good & conscience is a continuall feast.
 16 * Better is a little in the feare of the Lord, then great treasure and trouble the rewith.

 17 Better is a dinner of greene herbes where lone is, then a stalled oxe and hated therewith.
 18 * An angry man stirreth by strife: but hee that is slow to wrath, appeareth strife.
 19 The way of a ioculfull man is as an hedge of thornes: but the way of the righteous is plaine.
 20 * A wife some reioyeth the father: but a foolissh man despiseth his mother.
 21 Foolishnesse is toy to him that is destitute of vnderstanding: but a man of vnderstanding walketh by sight.
 22 Without counsell thoughts come to nought: but in the multitude of counsellers there is stedfastnesse.
 23 A toy commeth to a man by the answer of his mouth: and how good is a wordc in due season?
 24 The way of life is on high to the prudent, to anyod from hell beneath.
 25 The Lord will destroy the house of the pride men: but he will stablish the borders of the widow.
 26 The thoughts of the wicked are abominable to the Lorde: but the pure haue pleasant words.
 27 Hee that is greedy of gaine, troubleth his owne house: but hee that hateth gifts shall liue.
 28 The heart of the righteous studieth to answer: but the wicked mans mouth babbleth euill things.
 29 The Lord is farre off from the wicked: but he heareth the prayer of the righteous.
 30 The light of the eyes reioyeth the heart, & a good name maketh the bones fat.
 31 The eare that hearkeneth to the correction of life, shall lodge among the wise.
 32 He that refuseth instruction, despiseth his owne soule: but he that obeyeth correction, getteth vnderstanding.
 33 The feare of the Lord is the instruction of wisdom: and before honour goeth humility.

CHAP. XVI.

The * preparations of the heart are in the Lord: but the answer of the tongue is of the Lord.

 4 The Lord hath made all things for his owne sake: yea, euen the wicked for the day of euill.
 5 All that are proud in heart, are an abomination to the Lord: though * hand ioyne in hand, he shall not be unpunished.
 6 By * mercy and trueht iniquity shall be forgiven, and by the feare of the Lord they depart from euill.

11 A true weight and ballance are of the Loide: all the weights of the bagge are his worke.
12 It is an abomination to kings to commit wickednesse: for the throne is stablished by iustice.
13 Righteous lippes are the delight of kings, and the king loueth him that speaketh right things.
14 The wrath of a king is as messengers of death: but a wise man will pacifie it.
15 In the light of the kings countenance is life: and his fauour is as a cloude of the latter raine.
16 How much better is it to get wisdom then gold? and to get vnderstanding, is more to be desired then silver.
17 The path of the righteous is to decline from euill, and hee keepeth his soule that keepeth his way.
18 Pride goeth before destruction, and an high mind before the fall.
19 Before it is to be of humble mind with the lowly, then to denide the spoiles with the proud.
20 Hee that is wise in his businesse, shall finde good: and hee that trusteth in the Lord, he is blessed.
21 The wise in heart shall bee called prudent: and the sweetenesse of the lips shall increase doctrine.
22 Vnderstanding is a wellspring of life vnto them that haue it: and the instruction of fooles is folly.
23 The heart of the wise guideth his mouth wisely, & addeth doctrine to his lips.
24 Saye wordes as an hony combe, sweetness to the soule, & health to the bones.
25 There is a way that seemeth right vnto man: but the issue thereof are the wayes of death.
26 The person that trauaileth, trauaileth for himselfe: for his mouth traueth it of him.
27 A wicked man diggeth by euill, and in his lips is like burning fire.
28 A froward person soweth strife: and a tale teller maketh diuision among princes.
29 A wicked man deceiveth his neighbour, and leadeth him into the way that is not good.
30 Hee shutteth his eyes to deuiel wickednesse: hee moueth his lips, and bringeth euill to passe.
31 Age is a crowne of glory, when it is found in the way of righteousnesse.
32 He that is slow vnto anger, is better then the mighty man: and he that ruleth his owne minde, is better then hee that winneth a title.
33 The lot is cast into the lappe: but the whole disposition thereof is of the Lord.

Better is a drie morsell, if peace bee with thee, then an house full of sacrifices with strife.
2 A discreet seruant shall haue rule ouer a lewd sonne, and hee shall diuide the heritage among the brethren.
3 As is the sining pot for siluer, and the furnace for gold, so the Lord trieth the hearts.
4 The wicked giueth heed to false lips, and a liar hearkeneth to the naughty tongie.
5 He that mocketh the poore, reioyceth him that made him: and he that reioyceth at destruction, shall not be unpunished.
6 Childrens children are the crowne of the Elders: and the glory of the children are their fathers.
7 High talke becommeth not a foole, much lesse a lying talke a prince.
8 A rewarde is as a stone pleasant in the eyes of them that haue it: it prospereth, whither soeuer it turneth.
9 He that couereth a transgression, seeketh loue: but he that repeateth a matter, separateth the prince.
10 A reposithe entrench more into him that hath vnderstanding, then an hundred stripes into a foole.
11 A seditious person seeketh onely euill, and a cruell messenger shall be sent against him.
12 It is better for a man to meete a beare robbed of her whelpes, then a foole in his folly.
13 Hee that rewardeth euill for good, euill shall not depart from his house.
14 The beginning of strife is as one that openeth the waters: therefore yet the contention be medled with, leaue off.
15 He that iustifieth the wicked, and he that condemneth the iust, euen they both are abomination to the Lord.
16 Wherefore is there a spyc in the hand of the foole to get wisdom, and he hath none heart?
17 A friend loneth at all times: and a brother is bozne for aduersity.
18 A man deliuiture of vnderstanding i toucheth the hand, and becommeth surcey for his neighbour.
19 Hee loneth transgression that loneth strife: and he that exalteth his gate, seeketh destruction.
20 The froward heart findeth no good: and he that hath a naughty tongue shall fall into euill.
21 Hee that begetteth a foole, getteth himselfe sorrow, and the father of a foole can haue no ioy.
22 A ioyfull heart causeth good health: but a sorrowfull mind drieth the bones.
23 A wicked man taketh a gift out of the bolome to wrest the wayes of iudgement.
24 A wisdom is in the face of him that hath vnderstanding: but the eyes of a foole are in the corners of the world.
25 A foolthy sonne is a griefe vnto his father, and a heauinesse to her that bare him.
26 Surely it is not good to condemne the sult, nor that the princes should smite such for equity.

27 He that hath knowledge, spareth his wordes, and a man of vnderstanding is of an excellent spirit.

CHAP. XVIII.

Foole the desire thereof hee will • separate himselfe to seeke it, and occupie himselfe in all wisdom.

2 A foole hath no delight in vnderstanding: but that his heart may be <sup>b</sup> discovered.

3 When the wicked commeth, then commeth contempt, and with the vile man reproch.

4 The wordes of a mans mouth are like deepe waters, and the wellspring of his wisdom is like a flowing ruer.

5 It is not good to accept the person of the wicked, to cause the righteous to fall in judgement.

6 A fooles lips come with strife, and his mouth calleth for stripes.

7 A fooles mouth is his owne destruction, and his lips are a snare for his soule.

8 The wordes of a talebearer are as flatterings, and they go downe into the bowels of the belly.

9 Hee also that is slothfull in his worke, is euen the brother of him that is a great waster.

10 The name of the Lord is a strong tower: the righteous runneth vnto it, and is exalted.

11 * The rich mans riches are his strong citie: and as an high wall in his imagination.

12 * Before destruction the heart of a man is haucie, and before glorie goeth lowliness.

13 * Hee that answereth a matter before hee heare it, is folly and shame vnto him.

14 The spirit of a man will sustaine his infirmitie: but a wounded spirit, who can heare it?

15 A wise heart getteth knowledge, and the eare of the wise seeketh learning.

16 A mans gift enlargeth him, and lea- deth him before great men.

17 * Hee that is first in his owne cause, is last: then commeth his neighbour, and maketh inquirie of him.

18 The lot causeth contentions to cease and maketh a partition among the mighty.

19 A brother offended is harder to winne, then a strong citie, and their contentions are like the barre of a pallas.

20 With the fruit of a mans mouth shall his belly bee satisfie'd, and with the increase of his lips shall he be filled.

21 Death and life are in the power of the tongue, and they that loue it, shall eate the fruit thereof.

22 He that findeth a wife, findeth a good thing, and receiueth fauour of the Lord.

23 The poore speake with prayes: but the rich answereth roughly.

24 A man that hath friendes, ought to shew himselfe friendly: for a friend is neerer then a brother.

the rich which is not vertuous.
Chap. 21. 15.
1 That is, the simple, and ignorant men learne, whē they see the wicked punished.

22 That that is to be desired of a man, is his goodnesse, and a poore man is better then a yare.
23 The feare of the Lord leadeth to life;
and he that is filled therewith, shall continue,
and shall not be visited with euill.
24 The thoughtfull hideth his hand in his bosome, and will not put it to his mouth againē.
25 Smite a scooner, and the foolish wil beware; and a repproue the prudent, and hee will vnderstand knowledge.
26 Hee that destroyeth his father or chaseth away his mother, is a lewde & a shamefull childe.
27 By some, heare no more the instruction, that cauery to erre from the wordes of knowledge.
28 A wicked witnesse mocketh at iudge-ment, and the mouth of the wicked is walloweth by iniquitie.
29 But iudgements are prepared for the scooners, and stripes for the backe of the fooles.

CHAP. XX.

Wine is a mocker, and strong drinke is raging; and whosoener is decei-ued thereby, is not wise.
2 The feare of the king is like the con-ring of a lion; hee that proouoketh him vnto anger, sinneth against his owne soule.
3 It is a mans honor to cease from strife;
but euery foole will be meddling.
4 The thoughtfull will not plow, because of winter; therefore shall he begge in summer, but haue nothing.
5 The counsell in the heart of a man is like deepe waters; but a man that hath vnder-standing will draw it out.
6 Many men will boast, euery one of his owne goodnesse; but who can find a faith-full man?

k Takeh a pleasure and delight
therein, as gluta-tions and drunkards in delicate meates & drinks.

a By wine here is meant him that is giuen to wine, and so by strong drinke.

is as deepe waters, whose bot-tome cannot be wise man will know a man either by his words

7 Hee that walketh in his integritie, is suff; and blessed shall his children bee after him.
8 A king that sitteth in the throne of iudgement, chalet away all euill with his eyes.
9 Who can say, I haue made mine heart
cleane, I am cleane from my sinne?
10 Diuers weights, and diuers measures, both these are euill abomination vnto
the Lord.
11 A childe also is knowne by his doings, whether his worke bee pure and right.
12 The Lord hath made both these, euen the eare to heare, and the eye to see.
13 Loue not sleepe, lest thou come vnto pouertie; open thine eyes, and thou shalt bee satisfied with bread.
14 It is naught, it is naught, saith the bayer; but when hee is gone a part, hee boasteth.

15 There is gold, and a multitude of precious stones; but the lips of knowledge are a precious riewel.
16 Take his garment, that is suretie for a stranger, and a pledge of him for the stranger.
17 The head of deceit is sweet to a man;

but afterward his mouth shall be filled with grauell.
18 Establish the thoughtes by counsell;
and by counsell make warre.
19 Ipe that goeth about as a slanderer, dis-couereth secrets; therefore middle not with him that flattereth with his lips.
20 He that curseth his father or his mother, his light shall bee put out in obscure darkenesse.
21 An heritage is halftly gotten at the beginning, but the end thereof shall not bee bled.
22 Say not thou, * I will recora pence euill; but waite vpon the Lord, and he shall saue thee.

23 Diuers weights are an abomination vnto the Lord, and deceitfull ballances are not good.
24 The steppes of a man are ruled by the Lord; how can a man then vnderstand his owne way?
25 It is a destruction for a man to deu-nour that which is sanctified, and after the vowes to inquire.
26 A wife king scattereth the wicked, and causeth the heuerele to turne ouer them.
27 The light of the Lord is the breath of man, and searcheth all the bowels of the belly.
28 Mercie and trueneth preserue the king; for his throne shall be established with mercie.
29 The beautie of young men is their strength, and the gloze of the aged is the gray head.
30 The bl-wnesse of the wound serueth to purge the euill, and the stripes within the bowels of the belly.

ment that pereth euen the inward partes, is profitable for the wicked, to bring them to amendment.

CHAP. XXI.

The Kings heart is in the hand of the Lord, as the riuers of waters; he turneth it whither soeuer it pleaseth him.
2 Euery way of a man is right in his owne eyes; but the Lord pendereth the hearts.
3 To do iustice and iudgement is more acceptable to the Lord then sacrifice.
4 A hairet looke, and a proude heart, which is the light of the wicked, is sinne.
5 The thoughtes of the diligent doe surely bring abundance; but whosoener is hastie, commeth surely to pouertie.
6 The gathering of treasures by a de-ceitfull tongue is banitic tosted to and fro of them that seeke death.
7 The robberie of the wicked shall destroy them; for they haue refused to execute iudgement.
8 The way of some is peruerced and strange; but of the pure man, his worke is right.

6 Teach a child in the trade of his way, and when hee is olde, hee shall not depart from it.

When thou liest to cate with a ruler consider diligently what is before thee.

2 And put thy knife to thy thoroate, if thou be a man giuen to the appetite.

3 Be not desirous of his dainty meates: for it is a deceivable meate.

4 Trauaile not too much to be rich; but cease from thy wisdom.

5 Wilt thou cast thine eyes upon it, which is nothing: for riches taketh her to her wings as an eagle, and flyeth into the heauen.

6 Eate thou not the bread of him that hath an euill eye, neither desire his daintie meates.

7 For as though hee thought it in his heart, to will hee say vnto thee, Eate, and drinke: but his heart is not with thee.

8 Thou shalt vomite the morsels that thou hast eaten, and thou shalt lose thy sweet words.

9 Speake not in the eares of a foole: for he will despise the wisdom of thy words.

10 Remooue not the ancient boundes, and enter not into the fieldes of the fatherlesse.

11 For hee that redermeth them, is mighty: he will defend their cause against thee.

12 Apply thine heart to instruction, and thine eares to the words of knowledge.

13 Withhold not correction from the child: if thou smite him with the rod, he shall not die.

14 Thou shalt smite him with the rodde, and shalt deliuer his soule from hell.

15 My sonne, if thine heart be wise, mine heart shall reioyce, and I also.

16 And my reines shall reioyce, when thy lips speake righteous things.

17 Let not thine heart bee enuious against sinners: but let it be in the feare of the Lord continually.

18 For surely there is an end, and thy hope shall not be cut off.

19 O thou my sonne, heare and hee wise, and guide thine heart in the way.

20 Keepe not company with drunkards, nor with gluttons.

21 For the drunkard and the glutton shall be poore, and the sleeper shall be clothed with ragges.

22 Obey thy father that hath begotten thee, and despise not thy mother when shee is old.

23 Buy the truth but sell it not: likewise wisdom, and instruction, and understanding.

24 The father of the righteous shall greatly reioyce, and he that begetteth a wise child shall haue ioy of him.

25 Thy father and thy mother shall bee glad, and shee that bare thee, shall reioyce.

26 My sonne, giue mee thine heart, and let thine eyes delight in my wayes.

27 For a whore is as a deepe ditch, and a strange woman is as a narrow pit.

28 Also shee lyeth in waite as for a pray, and she increaseth the transgressors among men.

29 To whom is woe? to whom is sorrow? to whom is strife? to whom is murmuring? to whom are woundes without cause? and to whom is the rednesse of the eyes?

30 Euen to them that tary long at the wine, to them that goe, and seeke murt wine.

31 Looke not thou upon the wine, when it is red, and when it sheweth his colour in the cup, or goeth downe pleasantly.

32 In the end thereof it will bite like a serpent, and hurt like a cockatrice.

33 Thine eyes shall looke vpon strange women, and thine heart shall speake lewde thyngs.

34 And thou shalt be as one that sleepeyth in the mids of the sea, and as hee that sleepeyth in the top of the mast.

35 They haue striken mee, shalt thou say, but I was not sick: they haue beaten me, but I knew not, when I awoke: therefore will I seeke it yet still.

n Which by arte make winestronger, and more pleasant.

o That is, drunkennesse shall bring thee to whoredome.

p In such great danger shalt thou bee.

q Though drunkennesse make them more insensible then beasts, yet can they not refraine.

CHAP. XXIII.

Be not thou enuious against euill men, neither desire to be with them.

2 For their heart imagineth destruction, and their lips speake mischief.

3 Though wisdom is an house builded, and with understanding it is established.

4 And by knowledge shall the chambers bee filled with all precious and pleasant riches.

5 A wise man is strong: for a man of vnderstanding increaseth his strength.

6 For with counsel thou shalt enterpriue thy warre, and in the multitude of them that can giue counsell, is health.

7 Wisdom is he to a foole: therefore he cannot open his mouth in the gate.

8 He that imagineth to do euill, men shall call him an author of wickednesse.

9 The wicked thought of a foole is sinne, and the scorner is an abomination vnto men.

10 If thou be faint in the day of aduersitie, thy strength is finall.

11 Deliuer them that are drawen to death: and wilt thou not preferre them that are led to be slaine?

12 If thou say, Behold, wee knew not of it: hee that pondereth the hearts; doeth not hee vnderstand it? and hee that kepeth thy soule, knoweth hee it not? wilt not hee also recompense euery man according to his workes?

13 My sonne, eate hony, for it is good, and the hony combe, for it is sweet vnto thy mouth:

14 So shall the knowledge of wisdom be vnto thy soule, if thou finde it, and there shall be an iend, and thine hope shall not bee cut off.

15 Lay no waite, wicked man, against the house of the righteous, and spoile not his resting place.

16 For a iust man falleth seuen times, and riseth againe: but the wicked fall into mischief.

17 Wee thou not glad when thine enemy faileth,

3 Unto the horse belongeth a whippe, to the asse a ydole, and a rodde to the fooles backe.

4 Answer not a foole according to his foolishnesse, lest thou also be like him.

5 Answer a foole according to his foolnesse, lest hee bee wise in his owne conceite.

6 He that sendeth a message by the hand of a foole, is as he that curteth off the feete, and drinketh iniquitie.

7 As they that lift vp the legs of the lame, so is a parable in a fooles mouth.

8 As the closing by of a precious stone in an heape of stones, so is hee that giveth glory to a foole.

9 As a thorne standing by in the hand of a drunkard, so is a parable in the mouth of fooles.

10 The excellent that formed al things, both rewardeth the foole and rewardeth the transgressors.

11 As a dog turneth againe to his owne vomit, so a foole turneth to his foolishnesse.

12 Seest thou a man wise in his owne conceite? smore hope is of a foole then of him.

13 The slouthfull man saith, A lyon is in the way: a lyon is in the streets.

14 As the doore turneth vpon his hinges, so doth the slouthfull man vpon his bed.

15 The slouthfull hideth his hand in his holme, and if grieveth him to put it againe to his mouth.

16 The sluggard is wiser in his owne conceite, then seven men that can render a reason.

17 Hee that passeth by and medleth with the strife that belongeth not vnto him, is as one that taketh a dog by the eares.

18 As hee that raineth himselfe mad, casteth firebrands, arrows, a mortall thing, 19 So dealeth the deceitfull man with his friend, and saith, Am not I in sport?

20 Without wood the fire is quenched, and without a talebearer strife ceaseth.

21 As the cole maketh burning coles, and wood a fire, so the contentious man is apt to kindle strife.

22 The words of a talebearer are as flatter-ings, and they goe downe into the bowels of the belly.

23 As silver drosse overlaid vpon a potsheard, so are burning lips, and an euill heart.

24 Hee that hateth, will counterfeite with his lips, but in his heart hee layeth vp deceit.

25 Though hee speake fauourably, beleeue him not: for there are seven abominations in his heart.

26 Hatred may bee covered by deceit:
but the malice thereof shall bee discovered in the congregation.

27 He that diggeth a pit, shall fall therein, and he that rouseth a stone, it shall returne vnto him.

28 A false tongue hateth the afflicted, and a flattering mouth causeth ruin.

Butt not thy selfe of to morrowe: for thou knowest not what a day may bring forth.

2 Let another man praise thee; and not thine owne mouth: a stranger, and not thine owne lips.

3 A stone is heauie, and the sand weigh-tie: but a fooles wrath is heauier then them both.

4 Anger is cruell, and wrath is raging:
but who can stand before enuie?

5 Open rebuke is better then secret loue.

6 The wounds of a loner are faithfull, and the kisses of an enemye are pleasant.

7 The person that is full, despitely anhony combe: but vnto the hungrie soule eue-ry bitter thing is swete.

8 As a bird that wandreth from her nest:
so is a man that wandreth from his owne place.

9 As opyntment and perfume reioyce the heart, so doeth the sweetnesse of a mans friend by heartie counsell.

10 Thine owne friend, and thy fathers friend forsake thou not: neither enter into thy brothers house in the day of thy calamitie:
for better is a neighbour that is neere, then a brother farre off.

11 Thy sonne, bee wise, and reioyce mine heart, that I may answer him that reprocheth me.

12 A prudent man seeth the plague, and hideth himselfe: but the foolish goe on still, and are punished.

13 Take his garment that is suretie for a stranger: and a pledge of him for the stranger.

14 Hee that praileth his friend with a lowde voice, rising early in the morning, it shall be counted to him as a curse.

15 A continuall dropping in the day of raine, and a contentious woman are a like.

16 He that hideth her, hideth the winde, and hee is as the oyle in his right hand, that vntereth it selfe.

17 Iron sharpeneth iron, so doeth a man sharpen the face of his friend.

18 He that keepeth the fig tree, shall eat the fruit thereof: so hee that waiteth vpon his master, shall come to honour.

19 As in water face answereth to face, so the heart of man to man.

20 The grave and destruction can neuer be full, so the eyes of man can neuer bee satisfied.

21 As is the fining pot for silver, and the foulnesse for gold, so is every man according to his dignitie.

22 Though thou shouldest buy a foole in a market among wheate brayed with a yckell: yet will not his foolishnesse depart from him.

23 Bee diligent to know the state of thy flocke, and take heed to the heards.

24 For riches remaine not alway, nor the crown from generation to generation.

25 The hay discouereth it selfe, and the grass appeareth, and the herbes of the mountaines are gathered.

a Delay not the time, but take occasion when it is offered.

3 A poore man, if he oppress the poore, is like a raging raine, that leaueh no food.
4 They that forsake the Law, praise the wicked: but they that keepe the Lawe, let themselves against them.
5 Wicked men vnderstand not iudgement: but they that seeke the Lord, vnderstand all things.

Chap. 19. 1.

6 * Better is the poore that walketh in his vprightnesse, then he that pernerterh his wayes, though he be rich.
7 He that keepeth the Law, is a childe of vnderstanding: but he that feedeth the gluttons, shameth his father.
8 He that increaseth his riches by vniury and interest, gathereth it them for him that will be mercifull vnto the poore.
9 Hee that turneth away his care from hearing the Lawe, euen his prayer shall be abominable.
10 Hee that causeth the righteous to goe astray by an euill way, shall fall into his owne pit, and the vpright shall inherit good things.
11 The rich man is wise in his own conceit: but the poore that hath vnderstanding, can trie him.
12 * When righteous men reioyce, there is great glory: but when the wicked come vp, the man is tried.
13 He that hideth his sinnes, shall not prosper: but he that confesseth it, and forsaketh them, shall haue mercie.
14 Blessed is the man that seareth alway: but he that hardeneth his heart, shall fall into euill.
15 As a roaring Lyon, and an hungry Beare, so is a wicked ruler ouer the poore people.
16 A prince destitute of vnderstanding, is also a great oppressor: but he that hateth couetousnesse shall prolong his dayes.
17 A man that doeth violence against the blood of a person, shall flee vnto the graue, and they shall not stay him.
18 He that walketh vprightly, shall be lauded: but hee that is skoward in his wayes, shall once fall.
19 * He that tilleth his land, shall be satisfi- ed with bread: but hee that followeth the idle, shall be filled with pouerty.
20 A faithfull man shall abound in blessings, and he * that maketh haste to be rich, shall not be innocent.
21 To haue respect of persons is not

A man that hardeneth his necke, when he is rebuked, shall suddenly bee destroyed and cannot be cured.
2 * When the righteous sare in authoritie, the people reioyce: but when the wicked beareth rule, the people sigh.
3 A man that loueth wisdom, reioyceth his father: * but he that feedeth harlots, wasteth his substance.
4 A king by iudgement maintaineth the countrey: but a man receiuing gifts, destroyeth it.
5 A man that flattereth his neighbour, spreadeth a net for his steps.
6 In the transgression of an euill man is his snare: but the righteous doth sing and reioyce.
7 The righteous knoweth the cause of the poore: but the wicked regardeth not knowledge.
8 Scornfull men bring a citie into a snare: but wise men turne away wrath.
9 If a wife man contend with a foolish man, whether he be angry or laugh, there is no rest.
10 Bloody men hate him that is vpright: but the iust haue care of his soule.
11 A foole pouerth out all his mind: but a wise man keepeth it in till afterward.
12 Of a prince that hearkeneth to lies, al his seruants are wicked.
13 * The poore and the vniuersee meeete together, and the Lord lighteneth both their eyes.
14 * A king that iudgeth y poore in truth, his throne shall be established for euer.
15 The rodde and correction giue wisdom: but a childe let at liberty maketh his mother ashamed.
16 When the wicked are increased, transgression increaseh: but the righteous shall see their fall.
17 Correct thy son, and he will giue thee rest, and will giue pleasures to thy soule.
18 * Where there is no vision, the people decay: but hee that keepeth the Lawe, is blessed.

The prophetic which the man spake vnto Ishiel, euen to <sup>b</sup> Ishiel, and Ucal.

2 Surely I am more foolish then any man, and haue not the vnderstanding of a man in me.

3 For I haue not learned wisdom, nor attained to the knowledge of holy things.

4 Who hath ascended by to <sup>a</sup> heauen, and descended: Who hath gathered the winde in his fist: Who hath bound the waters in a garment: Who hath established all the ends of the world: What is his name, and what is his sonnes name, if thou canst tell?

5 * Euery word of God is pure: hee is a shield to those, that trust in him.

6 * Put nothing vnto his words, lest he reprooue thee, and thou be found a liar.

7 Two things haue I required of thee:
denie me them not before I die.

8 Remouee farre from mee vanitie and lies: giue me not powertie, nor riches: feede me with foode conuenient for me,

9 Least I be full and denie thee, and say,
Who is the Lord? or least I be poore, and steale, and take the name of my God in vaine.

10 Accuse not a seruant vnto his maister, least hee curse thee, when thou hast offended.

11 There is a generation that curseth their father, and doeth not blesse their mother.

12 There is a generation that are pure in their owne conceit, and yet are not washed from their filthinesse.

13 There is a generation, whose eyes are hauie, and their eye lids are lited vp.

14 There is a generation, whose teeth are as swordes, and their iawes as knives to eate by the afflicted out of the earth, & the poore from among men.

15 The horseleach hath two <sup>b</sup> daughters which cry, Giue, giue. There be thre things that will not be satisfied: yea, feure that say not, It is enough.

16 The graue, and the barren wombe, the earth that cannot be satisfied with water, and the fire that saith not, It is enough.

17 The eye that mocketh his father, and despisech the instruction of his mother, let the rauenis <sup>c</sup> of the valley picke it out, and the yong eagles eat it.

18 There be thre things hid from me:
yea, foure that I know not.

19 The way of an eagle in the aire, the way of a serpent vpon a stone, the way of a ship in the midst of the sea, and the way of a man with a maid.

20 Such is the way also of an aduice-rous woman: shee eateth and <sup>b</sup> wipeth her mouth, and saith, I haue not committed iniquity.

21 For thre things the earth is mooued:
yea, for foure it cannot sustaine it selfe.

22 For <sup>a</sup> a seruant when he reigneth, and a foole when he is filled with meat.

23 For the hatefull woman when shee is married, and for a handmaid that is <sup>b</sup> heire to her mistresse.

24 These be foure small things in the earth, yet they are <sup>a</sup> wise and full of wise-dome:

25 The pistaire a people not strong, yet prepare they their meat in summer:

26 The conies a people not mightie, yet make they their houles in the rocke:

27 The grasshopper hath no king, yet go they forth all by bands:

28 The spider taketh holde <sup>a</sup> with her hands, and is in kings palaces.

29 There be thre things that order wel their going: yea, foure are comely in going.

30 A lion which is strong among beasts, and turneth not at the sight of any:

31 A lusty grayhound, and a goat, and a king against whom there is no rising by.

32 If thou hast bene foolish in lifting thy selfe by, and if thou hast thought wickedly, lay thine hand <sup>a</sup> vpon thy mouth.

33 When one churchech milke, hee bringeth forth butter: and hee that wungeth his nose, causeth blood to come out: so hee that foareth warth, bringeth forth strife.

Ecclesiastes, or the Preacher.

THE ARGUMENT.

Salomon, as a preacher and one that desired to instruct all in the way of saluation, describeth the deceivable vanities of this world, that man should not be addicted to any thing vnder the Sunne, but rather inflamed with the desire of the heavenly life: therefore he confuteth their opinions, which set their felicitie either in knowledge, or in pleasures, or in dignitie and riches, shewing that mans true felicitie consisteth in that that he is vnited with God, and that enioy his presence: so that al other things must be reiecte d, saue in as much as they further vs to attaine to this heavenly treasure, which is sure and permanent, and cannot be found in any other saue in God alone.

CHAP. I.

2 All things in this worlde are full of vanity, and of none endurance. 13 All mans wisdom is but folly and grieffe.

The wordes of the Preacher, the sonne of Dauid King in Ierusalem.

2 Vanitie of vanities, saith the preacher: vanity of vanities, all is vanitie.

3 What remaineth vnto man in all his trauel, which he suffereth vnder the sunne?

4 One generation passeth, and another generation succeedeth: but the earth remaineth for euer.

a Salomon is here called a Preacher, or one that assemblith the people, because he teacheth the true knowledge of God, and how men ought to passe their life in this transitory world.

b He condemne the opinions of all men that set felicitie in any thing, but in God alone, seeing that in this world all things are as vanitie and nothing. c Solomon doth not condemne mans labour or diligence, but sheweth that there is no full contentation in any thing vnder the heauens, nor in any creature, forasmuch as all things are transitory. d One man dieth after another, and the earth remaineth longest, euen to the last day, which yet is subiect to corruption.

5 The sunne riseth, and the sunne goeth downe and draweth to his place, where hee riseth.

6 The wind goeth toward the South, and compasseth toward the North: the winde goeth round about, and returneth by his circuits.

7 All the riuers goe into the sea, yet the sea is not full: for the riuers goe vnto the place whence they returne and goe.

8 All things are full of labour: man cannot bitter it: the eye is not satisfied with seeing, nor the eare filled with hearing.

9 What is it that hath been: that that shall be: and what is it that hath been done: that which shall be done: and there is no new thing vnder the sunne.

10 Is there any thing, whereof one may springs and riuers into the Sea againe. g Hee speaketh of times and seasons, and things done in them, which as they haue been in times past, so come they to passe againe, e By the sunne, wind and riuers, he sheweth that the greatest labour and longest hath an ende, and therefore there can be no felicitie in this world.

Eccl. 10. 17.

f The sea which compasseth all the earth, filleth the veins thereof, the which poure out

g Hee speaketh of times and seasons, and things done in them, which as they haue been in times past, so come they to passe againe, h He prooueth that if any could haue attained to felicitie in this world by labour and studie, he chiefly should haue obtained it, because he had gifts and aydes of God thereunto about all other.

i Man of nature hath a desire to know, and yet is not able to come to the perfection of knowledge, which is the punishment of sin, to humble man, and to teach him to depend onely vpon God.

k Man is not able by all his diligence to cause things to goe otherwise then they doe: neither can he number the faultes that are committed, much lesse remedie them. l That is, vaine things, which serued vnto pleasure, wherein was no commoditie, but griefe and trouble of conscience. m Wisdome and knowledge cannot be come by without great paine of body and minde: for when a man hath attained to the highest, yet is his minde neuer fully content: therefore in this world is no true felicitie.

a Salomon maketh this discourse with himselfe, as though he would trie whether there were contentation in ease and pleasures.

b I draw my selfe to wise. c Albeit I gaue my selfe to pleasures, yet I thought to keepe euidentome and the feare of God in mine heart, and gouerne mine affaires by the same.

d Ebr. doe. e Ebr. paradises. f Meaning, of the seruants, or slaues, which he had bought: so the children borne in their seruitude, were y masters.

say, Behold this, it is new? It hath beene already in the olde time that was before vs.

11 There is no memoie of the former, neither shall there be a remembrance of the lattes that shalbe, with them that shall come after.

12 ¶ I the Preacher haue bene king ouer Israel in Ierusalem:

13 And I haue giuen my heart to search and find out wisdome by all things that are done vnder the heauen: (this foze trauell hath God giuen to the sonnes of men, to humble them thereby)

14 I haue considered all the workes that are done vnder the sunne: and beholde, all is vanitie and vexation of the spirit.

15 That which is crooked, can none make streight: and that which faileth, can not be mended.

16 I thought in mine heart, and said, Behold, I am become great, and excell in wisdome all them that haue bene before me in Ierusalem: and mine heart hath seene much wisdome and knowledge.

17 And I gaue mine heart to know wisdome and knowledge, madnes and foolishnesse: I knew also that this is a vexation of the spirit.

18 For in the multitude of wisdome is much griefe: and he that increaseth knowledge, increaseth sorrow.

CHAP. II.

Pleasures, sumptuous buildings, riches and profusions are but vanitie. 15 The wise and the foole haue both one end, touching the bodily death. Said in mine heart, Goe to now, I will pzoide: ezez with ioy: therefore take thou pleasure in pleasant things: and behold, this also is vanitie.

2 I said of laughter, Thou art mad: and of ioy, What is this that thou doest?

3 I sought in mine heart to giue my selfe to wine, and to leade mine heart in wisdome, and to take hold of follie, till I might see where is that goodnesse of the children of men, which they enjoy vnder the sunne, the whole number of the daies of their life.

4 I haue made my great workes: I haue buildt me houses: I haue planted mee vineyards.

5 I haue made mee gardens & orchards, and planted in them trees of all fruite.

6 I haue made me cisternes of water, to water therewith the woods that grow with trees.

7 I haue gotten seruants and maydes, and had children borne in the house: also I had great possession of beeces and sheepe about all that were before mee in Ierusalem.

8 I haue gathered vnto mee also silver, and gold, and the chiefe treasures of Kings and Princes: I haue prouided mee men fingers and women fingers, and the delights of the loines of men: as a woman taken captiue, and women taken captiues.

9 And I was great and increased about all that were before me in Ierusalem: also my wisdome remained with me.

10 And whatsoever mine eyes desired, I withheld it not from them: I withheld not mine heart from any ioy: for mine heart reioyced in all my labour: and this was my portion of all my trauell.

11 Then I looked on all my workes that mine hands had wrought, and on the traualle that I had laboured to doe: and beholde, all is vanitie and vexation of the spirit: and there is no profite vnder the sunne.

12 ¶ And I turned to behold wisdome, and madnesse, and folly: (for who is the man that shall come after the King in things, which men now haue done?)

13 Then I sawe that there is profit in wisdome, more then in folly: as the light is more excellent then darkenesse.

14 For the wise mans eyes are in his head, but the foole walketh in darkenesse: yet I know also that the same condition falleth to them all.

15 Then I thought in mine heart, It befalleth vnto mee, as it befalleth to the foole: why therefore doe I then labour to bee more wise? And I sayd in mine heart, that this also is vanitie.

16 For there shall be no remembrance of the wise, nor of the foole: for cur: for that that now is, in the dayes to come shall all be forgotten. And how dieth the wise man, as doeth the foole?

17 Therefore hated life: for the worke that is wrought vnder the sunne is grieuous vnto me: for all is vanitie, and vexation of the spirit.

18 I hated I also all my labour, wherein I had trauelled vnder the sunne, which I shall leaue to the man that shall bee after mee.

19 And who knoweth whether hee shall bee wise or foolish? yet shall hee haue rule ouer all my labour, wherein I haue trauelled, and wherein I haue shewed my selfe wise vnder the sunne. This is also vanitie.

20 Therefore I went about to make mine heart abhorre all the labour, wherein I had trauelled vnder the sunne.

21 For there is a man whose trauell is in wisdome, and in knowledge and in equitie: yet to a man that hath not trauelled hercin, shall hee giue his portion: this also is vanitie and a great griefe.

22 For what hath man of all his trauell and griefe of his heart, wherein he hath trauelled vnder the sunne?

23 For all his dayes are sorowes, and d That is, what- soeuer men take pleasure in, which were the most beautiful of them that were taken in warre, as Iudg. 5. 30 Some vnderstand by these words, no women, but instruments of musike. f For all this God did not take his gift of wisdome from me. g This was the fruit of all my labour, a certain pleasure mixt with care, which he calth vanity in the next verse. h I bethought with my selfe whether it were better to follow wisdome, or mine owne affections and pleasures, which he calleth madnesse. || Or, compare with the king. Prou. 17. 24. i He foreseeb things, which the foole cannot for lacke of wisdome. k For both die and are forgotten, as verse 16, or they both alike haue prosperitie or aduersitie. l Meaning, in this world. m He wondereth that men forget a wife man being dead, as soone as they doe a foole. n That I might seeke the true felicitie which is in God. o Among other griefes this was not the least, to leaue that which he had gotten by great trauell, to one that had taken no paine therefore, and whom he knew not whether he were a wife man or a foole.

his trauaile griefe: his heart also taketh not rest in the night: which alio is vanitie.

24 There is no profit to man, but that he eate and drinke, and delight his soule with the profit of his labour: I saw also this, that it was of the hand of God.

25 For who could eate, and who could haile to our ward things more then I?

26 Surely to a man that is good in his sight, God giueth wisdom, and knowledge, and toy: but to the finner he giueth paine to gather, and to heape to giue to him that is good before God: this is also vanitie, and veyation of the spirit.

CHAP. III.

1 All things haue their time. 14 The workes of God are persue, and cause vs to feare him. 17 God shall iudge both the iust and vniust.

TD all things there is an appointed time, and a time to eury purpose vnder the heauen.

2 A time to bee borne, and a time to die: a time to plant, and a time to plucke vp that which is planted.

3 A time to slay, and a time to heale: a time to breake downe, and a time to build.

4 A time to wepe, and a time to laughe: a time to mourne, and a time to daunce.

5 A time to cast away stones, and a time to gather stones: a time to embrace, and a time to bee farr from embracing.

6 A time to seeke, and a time to lose: a time to keepe, and a time to cast away.

7 A time to rende, and a time to sowe: a time to keepe silence, and a time to speake.

8 A time to loue, and a time to hate: a time of warre, and a time of peace.

9 What profite hath hee that worketh, of the thing wherein hee trauaileth?

10 I haue scene the trauaile that God hath giuen to the sonnes of men: to humble them thereby.

11 Hee hath made eury thing beautifull in his time: also hee hath set the world in their heart, yet cannot man finde out the worke that God hath wrought from the beginning euen to the end.

12 I know that there is nothing good in them, but to reioyce: and to doe good in his life.

13 And also that eury man cateth and drinketh, and seeth the commoditie of all his labour: this is the gift of God.

14 I know that whatsoeuer God shall doe, it shall bee for euer: to it can no man adde, and from it can none diminish: for God hath done it, that they should feare before him.

15 What is that that hath bene? that is now: and that that shall bee, hath now bene: for God requirerh that which is past.

16 And moreover I haue scene vnder the sunne the place of iudgement, where was wickednesse, and the place of iustice where was iniquitie.

17 I thought in mine heart, God will iudge the iust and the wicked: for time is there for eury purpose and for eury worke.

18 I considered in mine heart the state of the children of men, that God hath purged them: yet to see to, they are in themselves as beastes.

19 For the condition of the children of men, and the condition of beastes are euen as one condition vnto them. As the one dieth, so dieth the other: for they haue all one breath, and there is no excellencie of man above the beast: for all is vanitie.

20 All goe to one place, and all was of the dust, and all shall retorne to the dust.

21 Who knowerh whether the spirit of the man ascende vppward, and the spirit of the beast defende downward to the earth?

22 Therefore I see that there is nothing better then that a man should reioyce in his affaires, because that is his portion. For who shall bring him to see what shall be after him?

saith wee easily know the diuersitie, as verse 21. that reason cannot comprehend that which faith eleueth herein. I by the often repetition of this sentence, as Chap. 2. 24 & 3. 12, 22 and 5. 17 & 8. 15 he declareth that man by reason can comprehend nothing better in this life, then to vie the gifts of God soberly and comfortably: for to know further is a speciall gift of God reueiled by his spirit.

CHAP. IIII.

1 The innocent are oppressed, 4 Mens labours are full of abuse and vanitie. 9 Mans wisdom is necessaerie. 13 A young man poore, and wise, is to be preferred to an old king that is a foole.

SO I turned, and considered all the oppression that are wrought vnder the sun, and beheld, the teares of the oppressed, and none comforteth them: and loe, the strength is of the hand of them that oppresse them, and none comforteth them.

2 Therefore I praised the dead which now are dead, above the liuing which are yet aliue.

3 And count him better then them both which haue not yet bene: for hee hath not scene the euil which which are wrought vnder the sunne.

4 Also I beheld all trauaile, and all vexation of workes, that this is the enuie of a man against his neighbour: this alio is vanitie and veyation of spirit.

5 The foole seldely his hands, and eateth by his owne flesh.

6 Better is one handfull with quietnesse, then two handfulls with labour and veyation of spirit.

7 Againe I returned, and saw vanitie vnder the sunne.

8 There is one alone, and there is not a second, which hath neither sonne nor brother, yet is there none ende of all his trauaile, neither can his eye bee satisfied with riches: neither doeth hee thinke, for whome doe I trauaile, and defraude my soule

l Hee maketh here another discourse with himselfe concerning the tyrannie of them that oppressed the poore.

m Because they are no more subiect to these oppressions.

n He speaketh according to the iudgement of the flesh, which cannot abide to feeble or feebles.

o The more perfect that the worke is, the more it enuied of the wicked.

p For idleness he is compelled to destroy himselfe.

q Meaning, to pleasures.

a Hee speaketh of this diuersitie of time for two causes: first to declare that there is nothing in this world perpetuall: next to be grieved if we haue not all things at once according to our desires, neither enjoy them so long as we would wish.

c God hath giuen man a desire and affection to seeke out the things of this world, and to labour therein.

e That is, man shall neuer be able to let Gods worke, but as he hath determined, so it shall come to passe.

f God onely causeth that which is past to retorne.

Forasmuch as when man is alone, he can neither helpe himselfe nor others: he sheweth that men ought to live in mutuall societie, to the intent they may be profitable one to another, and that their things may increase.

g By this pro- uerbe he declar- eth how neces- sary it is, that men should live in societie.

Dest. 23. 21.

c He speaketh of voves, which are approved by Gods word, and serue to his glorie.

d Cause not thy selfe to sinne by vowing rashly: as they doe which make a vowe to liue unmarried, and such like.

e That is, before Gods messenger, when he shall examine thy doing: as though thy ignorance should be a iust excuse, coule of pleasure? this also is vanitie, and this is an euill travaile.

9 Two are better then one: for they haue better wages for their labour.

10 For if they fall, the one will lift vp his fellow: but woe vnto him that is alone: for he falleth, and there is not a second to lift him vp.

11 Also if two sleepe together, then shall they haue heate: but to one how should there be heate?

12 And if one overcome him, two shall stand against him: and a threefolds cord is not easily broken.

13 Better is a poore and wise childe, then an old and foolish King, which will no more be admonished.

14 For out of the prison hee commeth forth to reigne: when as he that is borne in his kingdome is made poore.

15 I behelde all the lining, which walke vnder the sunne, with the second childe, which shall stand vp in his place.

16 There is none ende of all the people, nor of all that were before them, and they that come after, shall not reioyce in him: surely this is also vanitie and vexation of spirit.

17 Take heede to thy foote when thou enrest into the house of God, and bee moze neere to heare, then to giue the sacrifice of foolles: for they knowe not that they doe euill.

CHAP. V.

1 Not to speake lightly, chiefly in Gods matters.

9 The covetous can neuer haue enough.

11 The labourers sleepe is sweet.

14 Man when he dieth, taketh nothing with him.

18 To liue softly, and with a contented mind, is the gift of God.

Be not rash with thy mouth, nor let thine heart bee haste to utter a thing before God: for God is in the heauens, and thou art on the earth: therefore let thy wordes be few.

2 For as a dreame commeth by the multitude of bulinnesse: so the voyce of a foole is in the multitude of wordes.

3 When thou hast vowed a vowe to God, deferre not to pay it: for he delighteth not in foolles: pay therefore that thou hast vowed.

4 It is better that thou shouldst not vowe, then that thou shouldst vowe and not pay it.

5 Suffer not thy mouth to make thy flesh to sinne: neither say before the Angel, that this is ignorance: wherefore shall God bee angrie by thy voyce, and destroy c'vowed.

the worke of thine hands?

6 For in the multitude of dreames, and vanities, are also many wordes: but feare thou God.

7 If in a countrey thou seekest the oppression of the poore, and the defrauding of iudgement and iustice, bee not astonied at the matter: for hee that is higher then the highest, regardeth, and there be higher then they.

8 And the abundance of the earth is ouer all: the King also consisteth by the felde that is tilled.

9 He that loneth siluer, shall not be satisfied with siluer, and hee that loneth riches, shall bee without the fruite thereof: this also is vanitie.

10 When goods increase, they are increased that eate them: and what good commeth to the owners thereof, but the beholding thereof with their eyes?

11 The sleepe of him that trauelleth, is sweete, whether he eate little or much: but the society of the rich will not suffer him to sleepe.

12 There is an euill sicknesse that I haue seene vnder the sunne: to wit, riches referred to the owners thereof for their euill.

13 And these riches perish by euill travaile, and he begetteth a sonne, and in his hand is nothing.

14 As hee came forth of his mothers belly, hee shall returne naked to goe as hee came, and shall beare away nothing of his labour, which he hath caused to passe by his hand.

15 And this also is an euill sicknesse, that in all points as hee came, so shall hee goe, and what profite hath hee that he hath traauiled for? he shall winde?

16 Alid also his dayes he eateth in darkness with much griefe, and in his sorow and anger.

17 Behold then what I haue seene good, that it is comely to eate, and to drinke, and to take pleasure in all his labour, wherein hee traauileth vnder the sunne, the whole number of the dayes of his life, which God giueth him: for this is his portion.

18 Also to cury man to whom God hath giuen riches and treasures, and giueth him power to eate thereof and to take his part, and to enjoy his labour: this is the gift of God.

19 Surely hee will not much remember the dayes of his life, because God answereth to the ioy of his heart.

CHAP. VI.

The miserable estate of him to whom God hath giuen riches, and not the grace to vse them.

There is an euill, which I saw vnder the sunne, and it is much among men.

2 A man to whom God hath giuen riches and treasures and honour, and hee wanteth nothing for his soule of all that he desireth: but a God giueth him not power to eate thereof, but a strange man shall eate it by: this is vanitie, and this f Meaning, that God will redresse these things, and therefore we must depend vpon him.

g The reuenues of the earth are to be preferred about all things which appertaine to this life.

h Kings and princes cannot mainteine their estate without tillage, which thing commendeth the excellencie of tillage.

i That is, his great abundance of riches, or the suffering which commeth by his great feeding.

k When covetous men heape vp riches, which turne to their destruction.

l He doeth not enjoy his fathers riches.

is better then the proud in spirit.

3 If a man beget an hundred children, and liue many yeeres, and the dayes of his yeeres be multiplied, & his soule be not buried with good things, and hee be not buried, I say that an vntimely fruit is better then he.

4 For he commeth in to vanitie, and goeth into darkenesse: and his name shall be couered with darkenesse.

5 Also he hath not seene the Sunne, nor knowen it: therefore this hath more rest then the other.

6 And if he had liued a thousand yeeres thwile toide, and had seene no good, shall not all goe to one place?

7 All the labour of man is for his mouth: yet the soule is not filled.

8 For what hath the wife man more then the foole? what hath the pooze that knoweth how to walke before the liuing?

9 The sight of the eye is better then to walke in the lutes: this also is vantie, and veration of spirit.

10 What is that that hath bene? the name thereof is now named: & it is knowen that it is man: and hee cannot strue with him that is stronger then he.

f That knoweth to vse his goods well in the iudgement of men. g To be content with that which God hath giuen, is better then to follow the desires that neuer can be satisfied. h Meaning God, who will make him to feele that he is mortall.

CHAP. VII.

Diuers precepts to follow that which is good, and to auoid the contrary.

1 Surely there be many things that increase vantie: and what auaieth it a man?

2 For who knoweth what is a good for man in the life and in the number of the dayes of the life of his vantie, seeing he maketh them as a shadow? for who can shew vnto man, what shall be after him vnder the Sunne?

3 A good name is better then a good otment, and the day of death, then the day that one is borne.

4 It is better to go to the house of mourning, then to get to the house of feasting, because this is the end of all men: and the liuing shall lay it to his heart.

5 Anger is better then laughter: for by a sad looke the heart is made better.

6 The heart of the wife is in the house of mourning: but the heart of foolles is in the house of mirth.

7 Better it is to heare the rebuke of a wise man, then that a man should heare the song of foolles.

8 For like the noyle of the thornes vnder the pot, so is the laughter of the foole: this also is vantie.

9 Surely oppression maketh a wise man madde: and the reward destroyeth the heart.

10 The end of a thing is better then the beginning thereof, and the patient in spirit is better then the proud in spirit. f He noteth their lightnes which enterpris a thing, and suddenly leaue it off againe.

11 Be not thou of an halitic spirit to bee angry: for anger resteth in the bosome of foolles.

12 Say not thou, Why is it that the former dayes were better then these? for thou doest not enquire so wisely of this thing.

13 Wisdome is good with an inheritance, and excellent to them that see the Sunne.

14 For man shall rest in the shadow of wisdom, and in the shadow of illur: but the excellencie of the knowledge of wisdom giueth life to the possessors thereof.

15 Behold the worke of God: for who can make straight that which hee hath made crooked?

16 In the day of wealth bee of good comfort, and in the day of affliction consider: God also hath made this contrary to that, to the intent that man should finde nothing after him.

17 I haue seene all things in the dayes of my vantie: there is a iust man that periseth in his iustice, and there is a wicked man that continueth long in his malice.

18 Bee not thou iust ouermuch, neither make thy selfe ouer wise: whereunto shouldst thou be desolate?

19 Be not thou wicked ouermuch, neither bee thou foolish: wherefore shouldst thou perish not in thy time?

20 It is good that thou lay hold on this: but yet withdraw not thine hand fro that: for hee that feareth God, shall come forth of them all.

21 Wisdome shall strengthen the wise man more then ten mightie princes that are in the citie.

22 Surely there is no man iust in the earth, that doeth good and sinneth not.

23 Giue not thine heart also to all the wordes that men speake, lest thou doe heare thy seruant cursing thee.

24 For often times also thine heart knoweth that thou likewise hast cursed others.

25 All this haue I proued by wisdom: I thought, I will be wise, but it went farre from me.

26 It is farre off, what may it be? and it is a profound depencesse, who can finde it?

27 I haue compassed about, both I and mine heart to know and to enquire and to search wisdom, and reason, and to know the wickednes of folly, and the foolishnes of madnesse.

28 And I finde more bitter then death, the woman whose heart is as nets & snares, and her hands, as bands: hee that is good before God, shall be delinere from her, but the sinner shall be taken by her.

29 Behold, saith the preacher, this haue I found, seeking one by one to finde the count:

30 And yet my soule seeketh, but I find it not: I haue found one man of a thousand: but a woman among them all haue I not found.

g Murtherer against God when he sendeth aduersities for mans ill. h He answered to them that esteeme not wisdom, except riches be joyed therewith, shewing that both are the gifts of God, but that wisdom is more excellent, and may be without riches. Chap. 1. 15. i Consider whether God doeth send it, and what may comfort thee. k That man should be able to controll nothing in his workes. l Meaning, that cruell tyrants put the godly to death, and let the wicked goe free. m Boast not too much of thine owne iustice and wisdom. n Tary not long when thou art admonished to come out of the way of wickednesse. o To wit, on these admonitions that goe before. p Consider what destruction shall come, if thou doe not obey them. 1. King. 8. 46. 2. Chron. 6. 36. 2. Chron. 20. 9. 1. Jobn 1. 8. q Credite them not, neither care for them. r Or, spoken euill of others. s Meaning, wisdom. t That is, to come to a conclusion.

b If hee can neuer haue enough. c As we see of tentimes, that the couctous man either falleth into crimes that deserue death, or is murdered, or drowned, or hangech himselfe, or such like, and so lacketh the honor of buriall, which is the last office of humanity. d Meaning the vntimely fruit whose life did neither profite nor hurt any. e His desire and affection. f That knoweth to vse his goods well in the iudgement of men. g To be content with that which God hath giuen, is better then to follow the desires that neuer can be satisfied. h Meaning God, who will make him to feele that he is mortall. a There is no state wherein man can liue to haue perfect quietnesse in this life. Job. 1. 4. 2. psal. 144. 4. Prou. 22. 1. b He speaketh thus after the iudgement of the flesh, which thinketh death to be the end of all euils: or els, because that this corporall death is the entring into life euelsing. c Where wee may see the hand of God, & learne to examine our liues. d Which crake for a while and profit nothing. e A man that is esteemed wise, when hee falleth to oppression, becommeth like a beast. f He noteth their lightnes which enterpris a thing, and suddenly leaue it off againe.

And so are made of their own destruction.

31 Only loe, this haue I found, that God hath made man righteous: but they haue sought many inventions.

CHAP. VIII.

2 To obey Princes and Magistrates. 17 The works of God passe mans knowledge.

Who is as the wise man? and who knoweth the interpretation of a thing? the wisdom of a man doeth make his face shalbe to shine: and the strength of his face shalbe changed.

3 I aduertise thee to take heede to the cōmōth of the king, and to the word of the othe of God.

4 Hast thou not to goe sooth of his sight: stand not in an euill thing: for hee will doe whatsoeuer please him.

5 Where the word of the king is, there is power, and who shall say vnto him, What dost thou?

6 Hee that keepeth the commandment, shall know none euill thing, and the heart of the wise shall know the time and iudgement.

7 For to every purpose there is a time and iudgement, because the misery of man is great vpon him.

8 For hee knoweth not that which shall be: for who can tell him when it shall be?

9 Man is not lord ouer the spirit to reuele the spirit: neither hath he power in the day of death, nor deliuerance in the battell, neither shall wickednesse deliuer the possessor thereof.

10 All this haue I seene, and haue giuen mine heart to every worke which is wrought vnder the Sunne, and I saw a time that man ruleth ouer man to his owne hurt.

11 And likewise I saw the wicked buried, and when they returned, and they that came from the holy place, were yet forgotten in the cite where they had done right: this also is vanitie.

12 Because sentence against an euill worke is not executed speedily, therefore the heart of the children of men is fully set in them to doe euill.

13 Though a sinner do euill an hundred times, and God prolongeth his dayes, yet I know that it shall be well with them that feare the Lord, and doe penitence before him.

14 But it shall not be well to the wicked, neither that he prolong his dayes: hee shall be like a shadow, because hee feareth not before God.

15 There is a vanitie which is done vpon the earth, that there bee righteous men to whom it commeth according to the worke of the wicked: and there be wicked men to whom it commeth according to the worke of the iust: I thought also that this is vanitie.

16 And I prayd for ioy: for there is no goodnes to man vnder the Sunne, saue to eate and to drinke and to reioyce: for this is adioyned to his labour, the dayes of his life that God hath giuen him vnder the Sunne.

17 When I applied mine heart to know wisdom, and to beholde the businesse that is done on earth, that neither day nor night the eyes of man take sleepe, 18 Then I behelde the whole worke of God, that man cannot find out his worke that is wrought vnder the sunne: for the which man laboureth to seeke it, and cannot finde it: yea, and though the wise man thinke to know it, he cannot find it.

CHAP. IX.

1 By no outward thing can man knowe whom God loueth or hateth. 12 No man knoweth his end. 16 Wisdome excelleth strength.

I haue surely giuen mine heart to all this, and to declare all this, that the iust, & the wise, & their workes are in the hand of God: and no man knoweth either loue or hatred of all that is before them.

2 All things come alike to all: and the same condition is to the iust and to the wicked, to the good and to the pure, and to the polluted, to him that sacrificeth, and to him that sacrificeth not: as is the good, so is the sinner, he that sweareth, as he that feareth an othe.

3 This is euill among all that is done vnder the sun, that there is one condition to all, and also the heart of the sonnes of men is full of euill, and madness is in their hearts whilst they liue, and after that, they goe to the dead.

4 Surely whoeuer is loyned to all the liuing, there is hope: for it is better to a liuing dog, then to a dead lion.

5 For the liuing know that they shall die, but the dead know nothing at all: neither haue they any more a reward: for their remembrance is forgotten.

6 All their loue, and their hatred, and their enuie is now perished, and they haue no more portion for euer, in all that is done vnder the Sunne.

7 Soeate thy bread with ioy, and drinke thy wine with a cheerefull heart: for God now accepteth thy works.

8 At all times let thy garments be white, and let not oyle be lacking vpon thine head.

9 Reioyce with the wife whom thou hast found all the dayes of the life of thy vanitie, which God hath giuen thee vnder the Sunne all the dayes of thy vanitie: for this is the portion in the life, and in thy trauell wherein thou labourst vnder the Sunne.

10 All that thine hand shall finde to doe, doe it with al thy power: for there is neither worke nor invention, nor knowledge, nor wisdom in the grave whither thou goest.

11 I returned, and I saw vnder the sunne that the race is not to the swift, nor the battell to the strong, nor yet bread to the wise, nor also riches to men of vnderstanding, neither yet fauour to men of knowledge: but time and chance commeth to them all.

e Reioyce, be merry, & spare for no cost: thus speake the wicked belly gods. f Ehr regard the life. Chap. 5. 18. g Thus the worldlings say to proue that all things are lawfull for them, and attribute that to chance and fortune which is done by the providence of God.

a That is, doeth get him fauour prosperitie.
b Whereas before hee was proud and arrogant, he shall become humble and meeke.
c That is, that thou obey the king, and keepe the oth that thou hast made for the same cause. d Withdraw not thy selfe lightly from the obedience of thy prince.
e That is, when time is to obey, and how farre he should obey.
f Man of himselfe is miserable, and therefore ought to do nothing to increase the same, but to worke all things by wisdom and counsell.
g Man hath no power to saue his owne life, and therefore nist not rashly cast himselfe into danger.
h As commeth oftentimes to tyrants and wicked rulers.
i That is, others as wicked as they.
k They that feared God, and worshipped him according as he had appointed.
l Where iniustice is deliuey, there sinne reigneth.
m Which are punished as though they were wicked, as Chap. 7. 17.
n Read Chap. 3. 22.

a Meaning, what things he ought to chuse or refuse: or man knoweth not by these outward things, that is, by prosperity or aduersitie, whom God doth fauour or hate: for he sendeth them as well to the wicked as to the goodly.
b In outward things, as riches, & pouerty, sickness and health, there is no difference betweene the goodly & the wicked: but the difference is that godly are assured by fayth of Gods fauour and assistance.
c He noteth the Epicures & carnal men, which made their belly their God, and had no pleasure but in this life, wishing rather to be an abiect, & vile person in this life than a man of authority, and so to dye, which is meant by the dog and lyon.
d They flatter themselves to be in Gods fauour, because they haue all things in abundance.

a So that hee doeth not to seee what shall come.

12 For neither doth man know his time, but as the fishes which are taken in an euill net, and as the birds that are caught in the snare: so are the children of men snared in the euill time when it falleth vpon them suddenly.

13 I haue also seene this wisdom vnder the sunne, and it is great vnto me.

14 A little citie and few men in it, and a great king came against it, and compassed it about, and builded forts against it.

15 And there was found therein a poore and wile man, and hee deliuered the city by his wisdom: but none remembred this poore man.

16 Then said I, Better is wisdom then strength: yet the wisdom of the poore is despised, and his wordes are not heard.

17 The wordes of the wise are more heard in quietnesse, then the crye of him that ruleth among foolles.

18 Better is wisdom then weapons of warre: but one siner destroieth much good.

CHAP. X.

1 The difference of foolishnesse and wisdom. 11 A slanderer is like a serpent that cannot be charmed. 16 Of foolish kings and drunken princes. 17 Awd of good kings and princes.

Dad flies cause to sinke, and putrifie the Doyment of the Apocbarie: so doeth a little folly him that is in estimation of wisdom, and for glory.

2 The heart of a wife man is at his right hand: but the heart of a fool is at his left hand.

3 And also when the foole goeth by the way, his heart falleth, and he be telseth vnto all that he is a foole.

4 If the spirit of him that ruleth rise by against thee, leaue not thy place: for gentle-nesse pacifieth great sinnes.

5 There is an euill that I haue seen vnder the sunne, as an error that proceedeth from the face of him that ruleth.

6 Folly is set in great excellencie, and the rich set in the low place.

7 I haue seene seruants on horses, and princes walking as seruants on the ground.

8 He that diggeth a pit, shall fall into it: he that breaketh the hedge, a serpent shall bite him.

9 Hee that removeth stones, shall hurt himselfe thereby, and he that cutteth wood, shall be in danger thereby.

10 If the yon be blunt, and one hath not whet the edge, hee must then put to more strength: but the excellencie to direct a thing, is wisdom.

11 If the serpent bite, when he is not charmed: ne better is a babler.

12 The wordes of the mouth of a wise man haue grace: but the liys of a foole deuoure him selfe.

13 The beginning of the wordes of his mouth is foolishnesse, and the latter end of his of the wicked is wickednes.

14 For the fool multiplieth words, say- ing. Man knoweth not what shall be: and man things, and who can tel him what shall be after him?

15 The labour of the foolish doth weary him: for he knoweth not to go into the city.

16 Aoe to thee, O land, when thy king is a child, and thy princes eate in the mo- ning.

17 Blessed art thou, O land, when thy King is the sonne of nobles, and thy princes eate in time, for strength and not for drunkennesse.

18 By flouthfulnes the rooffe of the house goeth to decay: and by the idleness of the hands, the house droppeth thowow.

19 They prepare bread for laughter, and wine comforteth the lining, but silver an- swereth to all.

20 Curse not the king, no not in thy thought, neither curse the rich in thy bed chamber: for the soule of the heauen shall carry the voice, and that which hath wings, shall declare the matter.

CHAP. XI.

1 To be liberal is the poore. 4 Not to doubt of Gods providence. 8 All worldly prosperitie is but vanity. 9 God will iudge all.

Cast thy bread vpon the waters: for after many dayes thou shalt find it.

2 Giue a portion to seuen, & shall to eight: for thou knowest not what euill shall be vpon the earth.

3 If the cloudes be full, they wil poure forth raine vpon the earth: and if the tree doe fall toward the South, or toward the North, in the place that the tree falleth, there it shall be.

4 He that obserueth the wind, shall not sow, and he that regardeth the cloudes, shall not reape.

5 As thou knowest not which is the way of the spirit, nor how the bones doe grow in the wombe of her that is with child, so thou knowest not the worae of God that worketh all.

6 In the morning sowe thy seede, and in the evening let not thine hand rest: for thou knowest not whether shall prosper, this or that, or whether both shall be alike good.

7 Surely the light is a pleasant thing: and it is a good thing to the eyes to see the sunne.

8 Though a man liue many yeeres, and in them all he reioyce, yet he shall remember the dayes of his darkenesse, because they are many, all that cometh is vanitie.

9 Reioyce, O yong man, in thy youth: and let thine heart cheer thee in the dayes of thy youth, and walke in the wayes of thine heart, and in the sight of thine eyes: but know that for all these things, God will bring thee to iudgement.

10 Therefore take away griefe out of thine heart, and cause euill to depart from thy flesh: for childhoode and youth are vanitie.

God would not call them to an account. i To wit, anger, and enie.

CHAP. XII.

1 To thinke on God in youth, and not to deserre tillage. 7 The souls returneth to God. 11 Wis- dome is the gift of God, and consisteth in fearing him, and keeping his commandments.

h That is, with our wife dome and counsell. i Are giuen to their lusts and pleasures. k Meaning, when he is noble for vertue and wisdom, and with the grise of God.

l Thou canst not worke euil to secretly but it shall be knowne.

a That is, be liberal to the poore, and though it seeme to be as a thing ventured on the sea, yet it shall bring thee profit. b As the cloudes that are full, powre out raine, so the rich that haue abundance, must distribute it liberally. c He exhortheth to be liberal while we liue: for after there is no power.

d He that feareth inconueniencies, when necessities requieth, shall neuer doe his dutie. e Be not weary of what is doing.

f That is, such of thy works are most agreeable to God. g That is, of affliction and trouble.

h He derideth them that set their delight in worldly pleasures, as though

Remember

Remember now thy Creator in the dayes of thy youth, whiles the euill dayes come not, nor the yeeres appoach where in thou shalt say, I haue no pleasure in them:

2 Whiles the sunne is not darke, nor the light, nor the moone, nor the starres, nor the clouds returne after the raine.

3 When the keepers of the house shall tremble, & the strong men shall bow themselves, and the grinders shall cease, because they are few, and they way darke that looke out by the windowes:

4 And the dunces shall be shut without by the bale sound of the grinding, and he shall rise by at the voyce of the bird: and all the daughters of singing shall be abated.

5 Also they shall be afraid of the high thing, and feare shall be in the way, and the almond tree shall flourish, and the grasshopper shall be a burden, and concupiscence shall be drunken away: for man goeth to the house of his age, and the mourner's go about in the street.

6 Whiles the silver cord is not lengthened, nor the golden ewer broken, nor the pitcher broken at the well, nor the bottle broken at the cistern:

7 And the dust returne to the earth, as it was, and the spirit returne to God that gaue it.

8 Vanitie of vanities, saith the Preacher, all is vanitie.

9 And the more wise the Preacher was, the more hee taught the people knowledge, and caused them to heare, and searched forth and prepared many parables.

10 The Preacher sought to find out pleasant words, and an bright writing, even the words of truth.

11 The words of the wise are like grapes, and like nailes fastened by the masters of the assemblies, which are giuen by one Dauid.

12 And of other things besides these, my sonne, take thou heede, for there is none ende in making many booke, and much reading is a wearinesse of the flesh.

13 Let vs heare the end of all: Feare God and keepe his commandements: for this is the whole duty of man.

14 For God will bring euery worke vnto iudgement with euery secret thing, whether it be good or euill.

Hebr. a song of songs, so called because it is the chiefest of those 1005. which Salomon made, as is mentioned, 1. Kings, 4. 32

An excellent Song which was Salomons.

THE ARGUMENT.

IN this song Salomon by most sweet & comfortable allegories and parables describeth the perfect loue of Iesus Christ, the true Salomon & King of peace, and the faithfull soule or his Church, which he hath sanctified and appointed to be his spouse, holy, chaste, and without reprehension, so that here is declared the singular loue of the bridegrome toward the bride, and his great and excellent benefits wherewith he doth enrich her of his pure bounty and grace without any of her deseruings. Also the earnest affection of the Church which is inflamed with the loue of Christ, desiring to be more and more ioyned to him in loue, and not to be forsaken for any spot or blemish that is in her.

CHAP. I.

The familiar talke and mysticall communication of the spirittuall loue betweene Iesus Christ and his Church. 5 The domestical enemies that persecute the Church.

Let him kisse me with the kisses of his mouth: for thy loue is better then wine.

2 Because of the saour of thy good ointments thy name is as an ointment poured out: therefore the virgins loue thee.

3 Draw me: we will runne after thee: the King hath brought mee into his chambers: we will reioyce and be glad in thee: we will remember thy loue more then wine: the righteous doe loue thee.

a This is spoken in the person of the Church, or of the faithfull soule inflamed with the desire of Christ whom she loueth.
b The feeling of thy great benefits.
c They that are pure in heart and conuersation.
d The faithfull confesse that they cannot come to Christ, except they be drawn.
e Meaning the secret ioy that is not kno wen to the world.

4 I am blacke, O daughters of Ierusalem, but comely, as the tents of Cedar, and as the curtaines of Salomon.

5 Regard ye me not because I am black: for the sunne hath looked upon mee. The sonnes of my mother were angry against me: they made mee the keeper of the vines: but I kept not mine owne vine.

Christ speaketh to his Church, bidding them
that are ignorant, to goe to the Pas-
tours to learne.
For thy spiri-tuali beautie and excellencie, there was no worldly treasure to bee compared vnto thee.
The Church reioyceth that she is admitted to the companie
of Christ.
He shall bee most

7 If thou knowest not, O thou the fairest among women, get thee forth by the steps of thy flocke, and feede thy kids by the tents of thy shepheards.
8 I haue compared thee, O my loue, to the troupe of horses in the charcers of Bharaoh.
9 Thy cheekes are comely with powes of stones, and thy necke with chaines.
10 Wee will make thee borders of golde with studs of silver.
11 Whiles the king was at his repast, my spikedard gaue the smell thereof.
12 My welbeloued is as a bundle of myrrhe vnto me: he shall lie betwene my breasts.
13 My welbeloued is as a cluster of Camphire vnto me in the vines of Engedi.
14 My loue, behold, thou art faire: behold, thou art faire: thine eyes are like the doves.
15 My welbeloued, behold, thou art faire and pleasant: also our bed is Greene:
16 The beames of our house are cedars, our rafters are of firre.
3 The Church desireth to rest vnder the shadow of Christ. 8 She heareth his voyce. 14 She is compared to the dove. 15 And she enemies to the foxes.
I Am the rose of the field, and the lillie of the valleys.
2 Like a lillie among the thornes, so is my loue among the daughters.
3 Like the apple tree among the trees of the forest, so is my welbeloued among the sonnes of men: vnder his shadow had I de-lite and fate downe: and his fruit was sweete vnto my mouth.
4 He brought mee into the wine seller, and loue was his banker ouer me.
5 Stay me with flagons, and comfort me with apples: for I am sicke of loue.
6 His left hand is vnder mine head, and his right hand doth embrace me.
7 I charge you, O daughters of Jerusalem, by the roes and by the bindes, of the fielde, that ye stirre not vp, nor waken my loue, vntill the please.
8 It is the voyce of my welbeloued: behold, hee cometh leaping by the moun-taines, and skipping by the hills.
9 My welbeloued is like a roe, or a yong hart: loe, hee standeth behind our wall, looking forth of the windowes, shewing himselfe through the grates.
10 My welbeloued spake and sayd vnto me, Arise, my loue, my faire one, and come thy way.
11 For behold, winter is past: the raine is changed, and is gone away.
12 The flowers appeare in the earth: the time of the singing of birds is come, and the voyce of the turtle is heard in our land.
13 The figge tree hath brought forth her yong figges: and the vines with their small grapes haue cast a saour: arise my loue, which is here described by spring time, when all things flourish.

my faire one, and come away.
14 My done thou art in the holes of the rocks, in the secret places of the staires, the me thy sight, let me heare thy voyce: for thy voyce is sweete, and thy sight comely.
15 Take vs the forces: the little forces, which destroy the vines: for our vines haue small grapes.
16 My welbeloued is mine, and I am his:
he feedeth among the lillies.
17 Antill the day breake, and the shadowes flee away: returne my welbeloued, and bee like a roe, or, a yong hart vpon the mountaines of Bethce.
The Church desireth to bee most readie to helpe her in all dangers.
CHAP. III.
1 The Church desireth to be ioyned inseparably to Christ her husband. 16 Her deliuerance out of the wilderness.
2 My bed by night I sought him that my loue loued: I sought him, but I found him not.
3 I will tise therefore now, and goe about in the citie, by the streets and by the open places, and will beseeke him that my soule lo-ueth: I sought him, but I found him not.
4 The watchmen that went about the citie, found mee: to whom I sayd, haue you scene him whom my soule loueth?
5 When I had past a litle from them, then I found him whom my soule loued: I tooke hold on him and left him not, till I had brought him vnto my mothers house, into the chamber of her that conceiued mee.
6 I charge you, O daughters of Jerusa-like thy flocke of goats, which looke downe from the mountaine of Seiead.

2 Thy teeth are like a flock of sheepe in good order, which goe vp from the washing: which euery one bring out twinnes, and none is barren among them.

3 Thy lips are like a thyrce of skarlet, & thy talke is comely: thy temples are within thy lockes, as a piece of a pomegranate.

4 Thy necke is as the towre of Dauid built for defence: a thousand shieldes hang therein, and all the targets of the strong men.

5 Thy two e brestes are as two young roes that are twinnes, feeding among the lilies.

6 Untill the day breake, & the shadowes flee away, I will goe into the mountaine of myrthe and to the mountaine of incense.

7 Thou art all faire, my loue, and there is no spot in thee.

8 Come with mee from Lebanon, my spouse, euen with mee from Lebanon, and looke from the toppes of Amanah, from the top of Shehur & Hermon, from the denues of the lions and from the mountaines of the leopards.

9 My sister my spouse, thou hast wounded mine heart: thou hast wounded mine heart with one of thine eyes, and with a chaine of thy necke.

10 My sister, my spouse, how faire is thy lone, how much better is thy lone then wine, and the sauour of thine oynments then all spices?

11 Thy sippes, my spouse, drop as honie combs: honie and milke are vnder thy toungue, & the sauour of the garments is as the sauour of Lebanon.

12 My sister my spouse is as a garden inclosed, as a spring shut vp, and a fountaine sealed vp.

13 Thy plants are as an orchard of pomegranates wch sweete fruits, as camphire, sphenard, 14 Euen spikenard, and saffron, calamus, and cinamon, with all the trees of incense, myrthe and aloes, with all the chiefe spices.

15 Wel of liuing waters, and the springs of Lebanon.

16 Arise, & North, and come South, and bled on my garden that the spyes thereof may flow out: let my welbeloued come to his garden, and eate his pleasant fruit.

CHAP. V.

1 Christ calleth his Church to the participation of all his treasures. 2 Shee heareth his voyce.

3 Shee confesseth her nakednesse. 10 Shee praiseth Christ her husband.

I am come into my garden, my sister, my spouse: I gathered my myrthe with my spice: I ate mine honie combe with mine honie: I dranke my wine with my milke: eate, & friends, drinke and make you merie, & welbeloued.

2 My sheepe, but mine heart waketh, it is the voyce of my welbeloued that knocketh, saying, Open vnto mee, my sister, my loue, my doue, my vndeciled: for mine head is full of dowe, and my lockes wch the drops of the night.

3 I haue put on my deate, howe shall I put it on? I haue washed my feete, how shall I defile them?

4 My welbeloued put in his hand by the hole of the doore, and mine heart was affectioned toward him.

5 I rose vp to open to my welbeloued, and mine hands did drop downe myrthe, and my fingers pure myrthe vpon the handles of the barre.

6 I opened to my welbeloued: but my welbeloued was gone and past: mine heart was gone whe he did speake: I sought him, but I could not finde him: I called him, but he answered me not.

7 The wicked watchmen that went about the cite, found me: they mote me and wounded me: the watchmen of the walles tooke away my baile from me.

8 I charge you, O daughters of Ierusalem, if ye finde my welbeloued, that you tell him that I am sicke of loue.

9 The fairest among women, what is thy welbeloued more then other welbeloued? what is thy welbeloued more then another lover, that thou dost to charge vs?

10 My welbeloued is white and ruddie, the chiefe of ten thousand.

11 His head is as fine gold, his locks curled, and blacke as a rauen.

12 His eyes are like dones vpon the riuers of waters, which are washed with milke, and remaine by the full vessels.

13 His cheeks are as a bed of spices, and as sweete flowres, and his lips like lilies dropping honie pure myrthe.

14 His handes as rings of golde set with the chrysolite, his belly like white yuoze covered with Sappires.

15 His legges are as pillars of marble set vpon sockets of fine golde: his countenance as Lebanon, excellent as the cedars.

16 His mouth is as sweete things, and hee is wholly delectable: this is my welbeloued, and this is my loue, O daughters of Ierusalem.

17 The fairest among women, whither is thy welbeloued gone? whither is thy welbeloued turned aside, that we may seeke him with thee?

3 Thou art beautiful, my loue, as a Trazah, comely as Ierusalem, terrible as an army with banners.

4 Turne away thine eyes from me: for they overcome mee: thine haye is like a flocke of goats, which looke downe from Seiead.

8 But my doue is alone, and my vndeilded she is the onely daughter of her mother, and she is deare to her that bare her: the daughters have seene her and counted her blessed: euen the Queenes and the concubines, and they haue played her.

9 What is she that looketh forth as the morning, faire as the moone, pure as the sunne, terrible as an armie with banners?

10 I went downe to the garden of nuts, to see the fruits of the valley, to see if the vine budded, and if the pomegranates flourished.

11 I knew nothing, my loue let me be as the charrets of my noble people.

12 Returne, returne, O Shulamite, returne: returne that wee may behold thee. What shall you see in the Shulamite, but as the companie of an armie?

d Meaning, that the gifts are infinite which Christ giueth to his Church: or that his faithfull are many in number. e He sheweth of the beginning of the Church was small, but that it grew vp to a great multitude. f He went down into the Synagogue to see what fruits came of the Law and the Prophets. g I found nothing but rebellion. h I ran as swift as the nobles of my people in their charrets. i O ye people of Ierusalem: for Ierusalem was called Shalem, which significeth peace.

CHAP. VII.

1 The beautie of the Church in all her members. 2 She is assured of Christs loue toward her.

How beautifull are thy goings with thy shoulders, O princes daughter! the toynts of thy thighs are like jewels: the worke of the hand of a cunning workeman.

2 Thy nauellis as a round cup that wanteth not liquor: thy belly is as an heape of wheat compassed about with lilies.

3 Thy two breasts are as two young roes that are twinnes.

4 Thy necke is like a tower of Iouis: thine eyes are like the fish pooles in Iericho by the gate of Bath-rabbim: thy nose is as the tower of Lebanon, that looketh toward Damascus.

5 Thine head vpon thee is as skarlet, and the bush of thine head like purple: the king is sited in the rafter.

6 How faire art thou, and how pleasant art thou, O my loue, in pleasures!

7 This thy stature is like a palme tree, and thy breasts like clusters.

8 I said, I will go vp into the palme tree, I will take hold of her boughes: thy breasts shall now be like the clusters of the vine: and the fauour of thy nose like apples.

9 And the roose of thy mouth like good wine, which goeth straight to my welbeloued, and causeth the lips of the ancient to speake.

10 I am my welbeloueds, and his desire is toward me.

11 Come, my welbeloued, let vs go forth into the field: let vs remaine in the villages.

12 Let vs get vp early to the vines, let vs see if the vine flourish, whether it hath budded the small grape, or whether the pomegranates flourish: there will I giue thee my loue.

13 The mandrakes haue giuen a smell, and in our gates are all sweet things, newe and olde: my welbeloued, I haue kept them for thee.

2 The Church will be taught by Christ. 3 Shee is uphelden by him. 6 The vebement loue wherewith Christ loveth her. 11 She is the Vine that bringeth forth fruite to the spirituall Salomon, which is Iesus Christ.

O that thou werest as my brother that sucked y breasts of my mother: I would find thee without, I would kisse thee, then they should not despise thee.

2 I will leade thee, & bring thee into my mothers house: there thou shalt teach me, and I will cause thee to drinke spiced wine, and new wine of the pomegranate.

3 His left hand shall be vnder mine head, and his right hand shall embrace me.

4 I charge you, O daughters of Ierusalem, that you sitre not vp, nor waken my loue, vntill the please.

5 What is this that cometh by out of the wilderness, leaning vpon her welbeloued? I raised thee by vnder an apple tree: there thy mother conceived thee: there shee conceived that bare thee.

6 Set me as a seale on thine heart, & as a signet vpon thine arme: for loue is strong as death: relouise is cruell as the graue: the coles thereof are fierie coles, and a vehement flame.

7 Much water cannot quench loue, neither can the floods drowne it: If a man should giue all the substance of his house for loue, they would greatly contemne it.

8 We haue a little sister, and she hath no breasts: what shall we do for our sister when shee shall be spoken for?

9 If she be a wall, wee will build vpon her a silver palace: and if she be a doore, we will keepe her in with boords of Cedar.

10 I am a wall, and my breasts are as towers: then was I in his eyes as one that sinder peacc.

11 Salomon had a vine in Baal-hamon: hee gaue the vineyard vnto keepers: every one bringeth for the fruit thereof a thousand pieces of silver.

12 But my vineyard which is mine, is before me: to thee, O Salomon, appeareth a thousand pieces of silver, and two hundred to them that keepe the fruit thereof.

13 O thou that dwellest in the gardens: the companions hearken vnto thy voyce: canst me to heare it.

14 O my welbeloued, flee away, and be like vnto the Roe, or to the young Hart vpon the mountaines of spices.

Isaiah.

THE ARGUMENT.

God, according to his promise, Deut. 18. 15. that hee would neuer leaue his Church destitute of a Prophet, hath from time to time accomplished the same, whose office was not onely to declare vnto the people the things to come, wherof they had a speciall reuelation, but also to interpret and declare the Lawe, and to apply particularly the doctrine contained briefe therein, to the vilitie and profite of those, to whom they thought it chiefly to appertaine, and as the time and state of things required. And principally in the declaration of the Lawe they had respect to three things, which were the ground of their doctrine: First, to the doctrine contained briefly in the two tables; secondly, to the promises and threatenings of the Law; and thirdly, to the covenant of grace and reconciliation on, grounded vpon our Sauiour Iesus Christ, who is the end of the Law. Whereunto they neither added nor diminished, but faithfully expounded the sense and meaning thereof. And according as God gaue them vnderstanding of things, they applied the promises particularly for the comfort of the Church and the members thereof, and also denounced the menaces of the enemies against the same: not for any care or regard to the enemies, but to assure the Church of their safeguard by the destruction of their enemies. And as touching the doctrine of reconciliation, they haue more clearly intreated it then Moses, and set forth more liuely Iesus Christ, in whom this covenant of reconciliation was made. In all these things Isaiah did excell all the Prophets, and was most diligent to set out the same, with most vehement admonitions, reprehensions, and consolations: euer applying the doctrine, as he saw that the disease of the people required. He declareth also many notable propheties which he had receiued of God, as touching the promise of the Messiah, his office and his kingdom. Also of the fauor of God toward his Church, the vocation of the Gentiles, and their vniou with the Iewes. Which are as most principal poynts contained in this booke, and a gathering of his Sermons which he preached. Which after certaine dayes that they had stood vpon the Temple doore (for the manner of the Prophets was to set vp the summe of their doctrine for certaine dayes, that the people might the better marke it, as Isa. 8. 1. and Habbak. 2. 2.) the Priests tooke it downe and reserued it among the registers: and so by Gods prouidence these booke were preferred as a monument to the Church for euer. As touching his person and time, he was of the kings stocke (for Amos his father was brother to Azariah King of Iudah, as the best writers agree) and prophesied more then 64. yeeres, from the time of Vz-ziah vnto the reigne of Manasse, whose father in law he was (as the Ebrewes write) and of whom he was put to death. And in reading of the Prophets, this one thing among other is to be obserued, that they speake of things to come, as though they were now past, because of the certaintie thereof, and that they could not but come to passe, because God had ordeined them in his secret counsell, and so reuealed them to his Prophets.

2 Isaiah reproveth the Iewes of their ingratitude and stubbornnes, that neither for benefis nor punishment would amend. 11 He sheweth why their sacrifices are reiected, and wherein Gods true seruice standeth. 24 He propheseth of the destruction of Ierusalem, 25 and of the restitution thereof.

u Your sacrifices offered in the new moones and feastes: be condemned hereby hypocrites, which thinke to please God with ceremonies, and they themselues are voyde of faith and mercy. x He sheweth that where men be giuen to auarice, deccite, cruelitic and extortion, which is meant by blood, there God will shew his anger, and not accept them, though they seeme neuer so holy, as Chap. 59. 3. y By this outward washing, he meaneth the spiriual: exhorting the Lewes to repent and amend their liues. z This kinde of reasoning by the second table, the Scriptures vse in many places against the hypocrites, who pretend most holities and religion in worde, but when their charity and loue toward their brethren should appere, they declare that they haue neither faith nor religion. a To know if I do accuse you without cause. b Left sinners should pretend any rigour on Gods part he onely willetch them to be pure in heart, and hee will forgieue him their finnes, were they neuer so many or great. c Hee sheweth that whatsoeuer aduersitie man endureth, it ought to be attributed to his owne incontinencie and disobedience. d That is, Ierusalem, which had promised fidelitie to mee, as a wife to her husband. e Giuen to couetousnesse and extortion, which he signified before by blood, verse 15. f Whatsoeuer was pure in thee before, is now corrupt, though thou haue an outward shew. g That is, they maintaine the wicked and the extortioners, and not onely doe not punish them, but are themselves such. h When God will shew himselfe mercifull to his Church, he calleth himselfe, The holy One of Iisrael: but when he hath to do with his enemies, he is called Mighty, as against whom no power is able to resist. i I will take vengeance of mine aduerariaries the Lewes, and so satisfie my desire by punishing them, which thing yett hee doeth with griefe, because of his covenant. k Left the faithfull among them should be overcome with this threatening, he addeeth this consolation I It is onely the worke of God to purifie the heart of man, which thing he doeth because of his promise, made concerning the saluation of his Church. m By iustice is meant Gods faithful promise, which is the cause of the deliuerance of this Church.

14 My soules hatech you: new moones and your appointed feastes: they are a burden vnto me: I am weary to beare them.
 15 And when you shall stretch out your hands, I will hide mine eyes from you: and though you make many prayers, I will not heare: for your hands are full of blood.
 16 Wash you, make you cleane: take away the euill of your workes from before mine eyes: cease to doe euill.
 17 Learne to do well: seeke iudgement, releue the oppressed: iudge the fatherlesse and defend the widow.
 18 Come now, & let vs reason together, saith the Lord: & tell vs your finnes were as crimson, they shall bee made white as snow: though they were redde like scarlet, they shall be as wooll.
 19 If ye consent and obey, yee shall eate the good things of the land.
 20 But if ye refuse and be rebellious, yee shall bee denoued with the sword: for the mouth of the Lord hath spoken it.
 21 How is the faithfull citie become an harlot? It was full of iudgement, and iustice lodged therein, but now they are murderers.
 22 Thy siluer is become drosse: thy wine is mixt with water.
 23 Thy princes are rebellions and companions of the theues: euery one loneth gifts, and followeth after rewards: they iudge not the fatherlesse, neither doeth the widowes cause come before them.
 24 Therefore saith the Lord God of hosts, the mighty One of Iisrael, Ah, I will holde me of mine aduerariaries, and auenge me of mine enemies.
 25 Then will I turke mine hand vpon thee, and burne out thy drosse, till it be pure, and take away all thy tume.
 25 And I will restore thy iudges as at the first, and thy counsellors as at the beginning: afterward shall thou bee called a citie of righteoulesse, and a faithfull citie.
 27 Zion shall be redeemed in iudgement, and they that returne in her, in iustice.

28 And the destruction of the transgressours and of the sinners shall bee together: and they that forsake the Lord, shall be consumed.
 29 For they shall be confounded for the okes, which yee haue desired, and yee shall bee ashamed of the gardens, that yee haue chosen.
 30 For yee shall be as an oke, whose leafe fadeth: and as a garden that hath no water.
 31 And the strong shall be as a tow, and the maker thereof as a sparke: and they shall both burne together, and none shall quench them.

 2 It shall be in the last dayes, that the mountaine of the house of the Lord shall bee prepared in the top of the mountaines, and shall be exalted aboue the hills, and all nations shall flow vnto it.
 3 And many people shall go, & say, Come, and let vs goe vnto the mountaine of the Lord, to the house of the God of Iacob, and he will teach vs his wayes, and we will walke in his pathes: for the Lawe shall goe forth of Zion, and the word of the Lord from Ierusalem,
 4 And hee shall iudge among the nations, and rebuke many people: they shall breake their swordes also into mattockes, and their speares into sithes: nation shall not lift vp a sword against nation, neither shall they learne to fight any more.
 5 O house of Iacob, come yee, and let vs walke in the light of the Lord.
 6 Surely thou shalt forsake thy people, the house of Iacob, because they are full of the East maners, and are foecersers as the Philistines, and abound with strange children.
 7 Their land also was full of siluer and golde, and there was none end of their treasures: and their land was full of horses, and their charrets were infinite.
 8 Their land also was full of idols: they worshipped the worke of their owne hands, Micah 4. 1.

 a The decree and ordinance of God, touching the reformation of the Church, which is chiefly meant of the time of Christ, b In an euident place to be seene and discerned, c When y kingdom of Christ shall be enlarged by the preaching of the doctrine. Here also is declared the zeale of the children of God, when they are called, d Alluding to mount Zion, where the visible Church then was, Micah 4. 2.
 e Meaning, the whole doctrine of saluation, f This was accomplished, when the Gospel was first preached in Ierusalem, and from thence went through all the world. g The Lord, which is Christ, shall haue all power giuen him. h That they may acknowledge their finnes, and turre to him. i Hee sheweth the fruit of the peace, which the Gospel should bring, to wit, that men should doe good one to another, whereas before they were enemies. k He speakeeth not against the vse of weapons and lawfull warre, but sheweth how the hearts of the godly shall bee affected one toward another: which peace and loue doeth beginne and growe in this life, but shall be perfected, when we are ioyned with our head Christ Iesus. l Seeing the Gentiles will bee so ready, make you haue, and shew them the way to worship God. m The Prophet seeing the small hope, that the Lewes would conuert, complaineth to God, as though he had vtterly forsaken them for their finnes. n Full of the corruptions that reigned chiefly in the East parts. o They altogether giue themselves to the fashions of other nations. p The Prophet first condemned their superstition and idolatry, next their couetousnesse, and thirdly, their vaine trust in worldly meanes.

q He noteth the nature of the idolaters, which are neuer satisfied in their superfluous.

r Thus the Prophet spake, being inflamed with the zeal of Gods glory, and that he might feare them with Gods iudgement.

s Meaning, as soone as God shall begin to execute his iudgements.

t By high trees and mountaines are meant them that are proud, and lofty, and thinke themselves most strong in this world.

u He conde- neth their vaine confidence, which they had in strong holdes, and in their rich merchandise, which brought in vaine pleasures, wherewith mens min-les became effeminate.

Hose. 10. 8. Luke 23. 30. reuel. 6. 16. and. 9. 6.

x They shall cast them into most vile and filthy places, when they perceiue that they are not able to helpe them.

y Cast off your vaine confidence of man, whose life is so fraile, that if his nose be stopped, he is dead, and consider that ye haue to do with God.

a Because they trusted in their abundance and prosperity, he sheweth that they should be taken from them.

b The temporal gouernour and the minister.

c By these he meaneth that God would take away euery thing that was in any estimation, & wherein they had any occasion to vaunt themselves.

d Not onely in age, but in witt, manners, knowledge and strength.

e For lacke of good regiment and order.

which their owne fingers haue made.

9 And a man bowed himselfe, and a man humbled himselfe : therefore spare them not.

10 Enter into the rocks, and hide thee in the dust from before the feare of the Lorde, and from the glory of his maiesty.

11 The hee looke of man shall be humbled, and the loftinesse of men shall be abated, and the Lorde onely shall be exalted in that day.

12 For the day of the Lorde of hostes is upon all the proud and haue, and upon all that is exalted : and it shall be made low.

13 Euen upon all the Cedars of Lebanon, that are hie and exalted, and upon all the oaks of Baibai.

14 And upon all the high mountaines, and upon all the hills that are lifted vp,

15 And upon euery high tower, and upon euery strong wall.

16 And upon all the ships of Tarshish, and upon all pleasant pictures.

17 And the haughtinesse of men shall bee brought lowe, and the loftinesse of men shall be abated, and the Lorde shall onely be exalted in that day.

18 And the idoles will be utterly destroyed.

19 Then they shall goe into the holes of the rockes, and into the caues of the earth, from before the feare of the Lorde, and from the glory of his maiesty, when he shall come to destroy the earth.

20 At that day shall man cast away his silver idoles, and his golden idoles (which they had made themselves to worship them) to the moles, and to the backes,

21 To goe into the holes of the rockes, and into the toppes of the ragged rockes, from before the feare of the Lorde, and from the glory of his maiesty, when he shall come to destroy the earth.

22 Ceale you from the man whose breath is in his nostrils : for wherein is hee to be esteemed ?

CHAP. III.

1 For the sin of the people God will take away the wise men, & give them foolish princes. 14 The covousnesse of the gouernours. 16 The pride of the women.

1 And loe, the Lorde God of hostes will take away from Ierusalem and from Iudah the stay and the strength : euen all the stay of bread, and all the stay of water,

2 The strong man, and the man of war, the iudge and the prophet, the prudent and the aged,

3 The captaine of fittie, and the honourable, and the counsellor, and the cunning artificer, and the eloquent man.

4 And I will appoint children to be their princes, and babes shall rise ouer them

5 The people shall be oppressed one of another, and euery one by his neighbour : the children shall presume against the ancient, and the vile against the honourable.

6 When euery one shall take hold of his brother of the bonke of his father, and say, Thou hast clothing : thou shalt bee our prince, and let this fall be vnder thine hand.

7 In that day hee shall sweare, saying, I cannot be an helper : for there is no bread in mine house, nor clothing : therefore make me no prince of the people.

8 Doubtlesse Ierusalem is fallen, & Iudah is fallen downe, because their tongue and workes are against the Lorde, to provoke the eyes of his glory.

9 The trial of their countenance testifieth against them, yea, they declare their finnes as Sodome, they hide them not. Ecce be unto their soules : for they haue rewarded euill vnto themselves.

10 Say ye, Surely it shall be well with the Just : for they shall eate the fruit of their workes.

11 Ecce be to the wicked, it shall be euill with him : for the reward of his handes shall be giuen him.

12 Children are extortioners of my people, and women haue rule ouer them : O my people, they that leade thee, cause thee to erre, and destroy the way of thy paths.

13 The Lorde standeth vp to plead, yea, he standeth to iudge the people.

14 The Lorde shall enter into iudgement with the Ancients of his people and the princes thereof : for yee haue eaten by the vinegarde : the spoyle of the poore is in your houses.

15 What haue yee to doe, that yee beate my people to pieces, and giuide the faces of the poore, saith the Lorde, euen the Lorde of hostes ?

16 The Lorde also sauyeth, Because the daughters of Zion are haughtie, and walke with stretched out neckes, and with wandering eyes, walking and mistaking as they go, and making a tinkling with their feete, 17 Therefore shall the Lorde make the heads of the daughters of Zion balde, and the Lorde shall discover their secret partes.

18 In that day shall the Lorde take away the ornament of the shippers, and the callos, and the round tiers,

19 The sweete balles, and the bracelets, and the bonnets,

20 The tyres of the head, and the shoyes, and the head bands, and the tablets, and the earerings,

21 The rings, and the muslers,

22 The costly apparell and the bailes, and the winples and the creeping pinnes,

23 And the glasses, and the finelinnen, f Hee sheweth that this plague shall be horrible, that contrary to the common manner of men, which by nature are ambitious, none shall be found able or willing to be their gouernour.

g Feare shall rather cause him to forswear himselfe, they to take such a dangerous charge vpon him.

h When God shall examine their deedes, where upon they now let an impudense face, he shall finde the marke of their impiety in their forehead.

i Be ye that are godly assured that God will defend you in the midst of these troubles.

k Because the wicked people were more added, & to their princes, then to the commandements of God, he sheweth that he would giue them such princes, by whom they should haue no helpe, but that should be manifest tokens of his wrath, because they should be fooles and effeminate.

l Meaning that the rulers and gouernours had destroyed his Church, and not preserved it according to their duty.

m That is, yee shew all cruelty against them. n He menaceth the people, because of the arrogancie and pride of their women, which gaue themselves to all wantonnesse and dissolution. o Which declared their pride. p As a signe, that they were not chaste. q Which shewed their wantonnesse. r They delighted them in shippers that did creeke, or had litle plates sowed vpon them, which twinkled as they went.

In rehearsing all these things particularly, he sheweth the lightnesse and vnicitie of such as cannot be content with comely apparell according to their degree.

and the hoods, and the laines.
24 And in stead of sweete saour there shall be stinke, and in stead of a girdle, a rent, and in stead of dressing of the haire, baldnes, and in stead of a stomacher, a giording of sackcloth, and burning in stead of beautie.
25 Thy men shall fall by the sword, and thy strength in the battell.
26 Then shall her gates mourne and lament, and she being desolate shall lie vpon the ground.

Meaning, that God will not only punish the women, but their husbands, which haue suffered this dissolutenesse, and also the common wealth, which hath not remedied it.

CHAP. IIII.

The small remnant of men after the destruction of Ierusalem. The graces of God vpon them that remaine.

When God shall execute this vengeance, there shall not be one man found to be the head to many women, and they, contrary to womanly shamefastnesse, shall seeke vnto men, and offer themselves to any condition.

And in that day shall a fewen women take of one man, saying, Wee will eate our owne bread, and wee will weare our owne garments: onely let vs bee called by thy name, and take away our reproch.
2 In that day shall the bud of the Lord be beautifull and glorious, and the fruit of the earth shall be excellent and pleasaunt for them that are escaped of Irael.

3 Thou be that shall be left in Zion, and he that shall remaine in Ierusalem, shall be called holy, and euery one shall be written among the liuing in Ierusalem.

4 When the Lord shall wash the filthynesse of the daughters of Zion and purge the blood of Ierusalem out of the mids thereof by the spirit of iudgement, and by the spirit of burning.

5 And the Lord shall create vpon euery place of mount Zion, & vpon the assenblies thereof, a cloud and inuoke by day, and the shining of a flaming fire by night: for vpon all the glory shall be a defence.

6 And a couering shall be for a shadow in the day for the heate, & a place of refuge, and a covert for the storme, and for the raine.

For so they thought it to be without an head and husband.
He comforteth the Church in this desolation, which shall spring vp like a bud, signifying that Gods graces should be as plentiful toward the faithful, as though they sprang out of the earth, as Chap. 45. 8. Some by it eud of the Lord, meane Christ. He alleudeth to the booke of life, wherof reade Exod. 32. 32. meaning Gods secret counsil, wherin his elect are ordinarie to life euersluing. That is, the cruelty, extortion, auarice, an all wickednesse. When things shall be redressed that were amisse. He alleudeth to the pillar of the cloud, Exod. 13. 21. meaning, that Gods saour and protection should appeare in euery place. The faithful are called the glory of God, because his image and tokens of his grace shine in them. God promisseth to be the defence of his Church against a troubles and dargers.

CHAP. V.

Under the similitude of the vine, he describeth the state of the people. 8 Of their auarice. 11 Their drunkennesse. 13 Of their captiuitie.

Now will I sing to my beloved a song. Now my beloved to his vineyard, for my beloved had a vineyard in a very fruitful hill.

2 And he hedged it, and gathered out the stones of it, and he planted it with the best

The Prophet by this song doeth set before the peoples eyes their ingratitude, and Gods mercy. That is, to God. Iera. 2. 21. math. 21. 33. Meaning, that he had planted his Church in a place most plentiful and abundant.

plants, and he built a tower in the midst thereof, and made a vinepresse therein: then he looked that it should bring forth grapes: but it brought forth wild grapes.

3 Now therefore. O inhabitants of Ierusalem, and men of Iudah, iudge, I pray you, betwene me and my vineyard.

4 What could I haue done any more to my vineyard, that I haue not done vnto it? Why haue I looked that it should bring forth grapes, and it brought forth wild grapes?

5 And now I will tell you what I will doe to my vineyard: I will take away the hedge thereof, and it shall be eaten by: I will breake the wall thereof, and it shall be troden downe.

6 And I will lay it waste: it shall not be cut, nor digged, but breres, and thornes shall grow vp: I will also command the cloudes that they raine no raine vpon it.

7 Surely the vineyard of the Lord of hosts is the house of Irael, and the men of Iudah: he his pleasant place, and hee looked for iudgement, but beholde oppression: for righteousnesse, but behold a crying.

8 Wee vnto them that telle youne to house, and lay field to field, till there bee no place, that ye may be placed by your selues in the mids of the earth.

9 This is mine cares, sayeth the Lord of hosts. Surely many houses shall bee desolate, euen great, and faire without inhabitant.

10 For ten acres of vines shall yeeld one bath, and the seed of an homer shall yeeld an ephah.

11 Wee vnto them that rise vp early to follow drunkennesse, and to them that continue vntill a night, all the wine doe in flame them.

12 And the harpe, and viose, timbrell, and pipe, and wine are in their feastes: but they regard not the worke of the Lord, neither consider the worke of his hands.

13 Therefore my people is gone into captiuitie, because they had no knowledge, and the glory thereof are men famished, and the multitude thereof is dyed by with thirst.

14 Therefore hell hath enlarged it selfe, and hath opened his mouth without measure, and their glory, & their multitude, and their pompe, and he that reioyceth among them, shall descend into it.

15 And man shall be brought downe, and man shall be humbled, euen the eyes of the proud shall be humbled.

16 And the Lord of hosts shall be exalted in iudgement, & the holy God shall be sanctified in iustice.

their rioting and excessive pleasures: but vse all care of God euer them, not for what end he hath created them. f That is, shall certainly goe: for so the Prophet vs to speake, as though the thing which shall come to passe, were done already. t Because they would not obey the word of God. u Meaning the graue shall swallow vp them that shall die for Iurget and thurst, and yet for all this great destruction, it shall neuer be waste.

d Hespered diligence not coll.
e In the seventh verse he declareth what they were.
f He maketh them iudges in their owne cause, for as such as it was euident that they were the cause of their owne iudgement.
g I will take no more care for it: meaning that he would take from them his word and ministers, and all other comforts, and send them contrary plagues.
h Iudgement & righteousnesse are true fruits of the feare of God, and therefore in the cruel oppressors there is no religion.
i Of them that are oppressed.
k To wit, for the poore to dwell in.
l I haue heard the complaint and cry of the poore.
m Which cannot abate about ten pottels: so that euery acre should but yeeld one pottell.
n Which containeth an hundred pottels.
o An ephah containeth ten pottels, and is in other things as much as Bath is in Iicurs.
p That spare no paine nor diligence to follow their lusts.
q Which are neuer weary of me: next to prouoke care of God euer them. f That is, shall certainly goe: for so the Prophet vs to speake, as though the thing which shall come to passe, were done already. t Because they would not obey the word of God. u Meaning the graue shall swallow vp them that shall die for Iurget and thurst, and yet for all this great destruction, it shall neuer be waste.

x God comforteth the poore lambes of his Church, which had bene strangers in other countreys, promising that they should dwell in those places againe, whereof they had bene deprived by the fat and cruell tyrants.

y Which vse all allurements, occasions, and excuses to harden their conscience in sinne.

z He sheweth what are the works of the wicked, when they are menaced with Gods iudgements, 2. Pet. 3. 4.

a Which are not ashamed of sin, nor care for honesty, but are grown to a desperate impiety.

b Which are contentmers of all doctrine and admonition.

c Which are never weary but shewe their strength, & brag in gluttony and drunkenesse.

d Both they and their posterity, so that nothing shall be left.

e He sheweth that God had fore punished this people, that the dumme creatures, if they had bene so plagued, would haue bene more sensible, and therefore his plagues must continue till they begin to feele them.

f He will make the Babylonians to come against them at his becke, and to fight vnder his standerd. g They shal be prompt, and lusty to execute Gods vengeance. h The enemy shall haue none impediment. i Whereby is declared the cruelty of the enemy. k The Iewes shall find no succour. l In the land of Iudah.

17 Then shall the lambs feed after their manner, and the strangers shall eate the deliuate places of the fat.

18 ¶ Come vnto them that draw iniquity with 7 cords of vanity, and sinne, as with cart ropes :

19 ¶ Which say, Let him make speede : let him halten his woike that we may see it : and let the counsell of the holy One of Israel draw neere and come, that we may knowe it.

20 Come vnto them that speake good of euill, and euill of good, which put darknesse for light, & light for darkenesse, that put bitter for sweete, and sweete for soure.

21 Come vnto them that are wise in their owne eyes, and prudent in their owne sight.

22 Come vnto them that are mighty to drinke wine, and to them that are strong to powre in strong drinke :

23 ¶ Which iustifie the wicked for a reward, and take away the righteousnesse of the righteous from him.

24 Therefore as the flame of fire deuorcth the stubble, and as the chaffe is consumed of the flame : so their roote shall be as rottenesse, and their bud shall ryle vp like dust, because they haue cast off the Lawe of the Lord of hostes, and contemned the word of the holy One of Israel.

25 Therefore is the wrath of the Lorde kindled against his people, & he hath stretched out his hand vpon them, & hath smitten them that the mountaines did tremble : and their carkeises were come in the midst of the streeces, and for all this his wrath was not turned away, but his hand was stretched out still.

26 And he will lift vp a signe for the nations afarre, & will hiss vnto them from the end of the earth : and behold, they shall come halting with speed.

27 None shall stumber nor sleepe, neither shall the girdle of his loynes be loosed, nor the latchet of his shooes be broken :

28 ¶ Whose arrowes shalbe sharpe, and all his bowes bent : his horse hoornes shall bee thought like stin, and his wheeles like a whirlewind.

29 His roaring shall be like a lion, and he shall roare like lions whelps : they shall roare and lay hold of the pray : they shall take it away, and none shall deliuer it.

30 And in that day they shall roare vpon them, as the roaring of the sea : and (k) they looke vnto the earth, behold darkenesse, and sorrow, and the light shalbe darkened in their k ktc.

CHAP. VI.

1 Isaiah sheweth his vocation by the vision of the diuine maiesty. 2 He sheweth the obstinacie of the people. 3 The destruction of the land. 4 The remnant rescued.

In the yeere of the death of king Azbiah, I saw also the Lord sitting vpon an high throne, and lifted vp, and the lower parts thereof filled the Temple.

2 The Seraphims stood vpon it: euery one had sixe wings: with twaine hee covered his face, and with twaine hee covered his feete, and with twaine hee did sit.

3 And one cryed to another, and sayde, Holy, holy, holy is the Lord of hostes : the whole world is full of his glory.

4 And the liuelies of the dooze cheekes k mooued at the voice of him that cryed, and the house was filled with smoke.

5 Then I said, ¶ Come is me: for I am vndone, because I am a man of polluted lips, and I dwell in the midst of a people of polluted lips : for mine eyes haue seene the King and Lord of hostes.

6 Then flew one of the Seraphims vnto me with an hot cole in his hand, which hee had taken from the altar with the tongs :

7 And he touched my mouth, and sayd, Lo, this hath toucht thy lips, and thine iniquity shall be taken away, and thy sinne shall be purged.

8 Also I heard the voyce of the Lord, saying, ¶ Whom shall I send ? and who shall goe for vs ? Then I said, Here am I, send mee.

9 And he said, Go, and say vnto this people, ¶ Ye shall heare in deed, but ye shall not vnderstand : ye shall plainly see, and not percieue.

10 Make the heart of this people fat, make their eares heavy, and shut their eyes, lest they see with their eyes, and heare with their eares, & vnderstand with their hearts, and conuert, and hee shall be healed.

11 Then said I, Lord, ¶ how long ? And hee answered, ¶ Until the cities bee wasted without inhabitant, and the houses without man, and the land be utterly desolate, 12 And the Lord haue remooued men farre away, and there be a great desolation in the midst of the land.

Gods commandment. h This often repetition signifieth, that the holy Angels cannot satisfie themselves in praying God, to teach vs that in all our lines we should giue our felices to the continual praise of God. i His glory doeth not onely appeare in the heavens, but through all the world, and therefore all creatures are bound to prayse him. k Which things were to confirme the Prophet that it was not the voyce of man : and by the smoke was signified the blindness that should come vpon the Iewes. l He speaketh this for two causes : the one, because he that was a mortall creature, and therefore had more neede to glorifie God then the Angels, did it not : and the other, because the more neere that man approacheth to God, the more doth hee knowe his owne sinne and corruption. m Of the burnt offerings, where the fire neuer went out. n This declareth that man cannot render true obedience to God, till hee haue purged vs. o Whereby is declared that for the malice of man God will not immediately take away his word, but he will cause it to be preached to their condemnation, when as they will not learne thereby to obey his will, and be saved : hereby he exhortheth the ministers to do their duty, and answered to the wicked murmurers, that through their owne malice their heart is hardened, Matth. 13. 14. Act. 28. 26. Rom. 1. 18. p As he was moued with the zeale of Gods glory, so was hee toucht with a charitable affection toward the people.

q Meaning, the tenth part: or as some cite, it was reuicell to Isaiah for th confirmation of his prophes, that ten kings should come before their captiuitie, as were from Vzzah to Zedekiah. r For the fewnesse they shall seeme to be eate vs: yet they shall after flourish as a tree, which in winter looeth his hautes, and seemeth to be dead, yet in summer is fresh and greene.

13 But yet in it shall be 9 a tenth, and shal retorne, & shall be eaten by as an elme: or as an oke, which haue a substance in them, whe they fall their leaues: to the holy seed shall bee the substance thereof.

14 Therefore the Lord himselfe will giue you a signe. Behold, the virgine shall conceive and beare a sonne, and she shall call his name Immanuel.

m Forasmuch as thou art vnworthy, the Lord for his owne promise sake will giue a signe, which shall be, that Christ the Sauour of his Church and the effect of all signes and miracles, shall be reuicell.

CHAP. VII.

1 Ierusalem besieged. 4 Isaiah comforteth the king. 14 Christ is promised.

1 AD in the dayes of Ahaz, the sonne of Iorham, the sonne of Azziah king of Iudah, Rezin the king of Aram came vp, and Pekah the sonne of Remalsh king of Israel, to Ierusalem to fight against it, but hee could not ouercome it.

2 And it was tolde the house of Dauid, saying, Aram is ioyned with Ephraim: therefore his heart was removed, & the heart of his people, as the trees of the forest are moued by the winde.

3 Then sayd the Lord vnto Isaiah, Go forth now to meet Ahaz (thou and Shearathub thy sonne) at the ende of the conuente of the vpper poole, in the path of the fullers field,

4 And say vnto him, Take heede, and be still, feare not, neither bee fayne hearted for the two tailles of these smoking firebrands, for the furious wrath of Rezin and of Aram, and of Remalshs sonne:

5 Because Aram hath taken wicked counsell against thee, & Ephraim, and Remalshs sonne, laying,

6 Let vs go by against Iudah, and let vs waken them vp, and make a breach therein for vs, and let a king in the mids thereof, euen the sonne of Sabelal.

7 Thus sayth the Lord God, It shall not stand, neither shall it be.

8 For the head of Aram is Damascus, and the head of Damascus is Rezin: and within five and threescore yeere Ephraim shall bee destroyed from being a people.

9 And the head of Ephraim is Samaria, and the head of Samaria is Remalshs sonne. If ye beleene not, surely ye shall not be established.

10 And the Lord spake againe vnto Ahaz, saying,

11 Like a signe for thee of the Lord thy God: aske it, either in the depth beneath, or in the height aboue.

12 But Ahaz sayd, I will not aske, neither will I tempt the Lord.

13 Then hee sayde, Heare you now, O house of Dauid, Is it a small thing for you to grieue men, that ye will also grieue my God?

2 King. 16. 5. Dr. Syria.

1 To wit, the second time: for in the first battell Ahaz was ouercome.

b Meaning, that Christs house.

c That is, Israel, because that tribe was the greatest, Gen. 48. 19.

d For feare.

e That is to say, the rest shall retorne:

f Which name Isaiah gaue his sonne, to signify, that the rest of the people should retorne out of their captiuitie.

f Which haue but a litle smoke, and shall quickly be quenched.

g Which was an Israelite, and as seemeth, enemy to the house of Dauid.

h Counting from the five & twentieth yeere of the reigne of Vzziah, at what time Amos prophesied this thing, i And now Isaiah confirmeth that the Israelites should be led into perpetual captiuitie, which thing came to passe within twenty yeere after that Isaiah did this message.

j For the confirmation of this thing, that thine enemies shall be destroyed, and thou preferred. k Not to beleue Gods word without a signe, is to tempt God: but to refuse a signe when God offereth it for the ayde and helpe of our infirmities, is to rebell against him. l You thinke you haue to do with men, when ye contemne Gods messengers: but it is God, against whom you bend your selues.

16 For afoze the child shall haue knowledg to eschew the euill, & to chuse the good, the land that thou abjorest, shall be forsaken of both her kings.

17 The Lord shall bring vpon thee, and vpon thy people, and vpon thy fathers house (the dayes that haue not come from the day that Ephraim departed from Iudah) euen the king of Asshur.

18 And in that day shall the Lord hitte for the file that is at the vttermost part of the floods of Egypt, and for the Bee which is in the land of Asshur.

19 And they shall come and shal light all in the desolate vallees, and in the holes of the rocks, and vpon all thorny places, and vpon all bushie places.

20 In that day shall the Lord shane with a rasor: that is byred, euen by them beyond the riuer, by the king of Asshur, the head and the haire of the sheete, and it shall consume the beard.

21 And in the same day shall a man nourish a yong kow, and two sheepe.

22 And for the abundance of milke that they shall giue, he shall eate butter: for butter and hony shall euery one eate, which is left within the land.

23 And at the same day euery place, where in shall be a thousand vines, shall be at a thousand pieces of filter: so it shall be for the byters and for the thornes.

24 With arrowes and with bow shall one come thither: because all the land shall be byters and thornes.

25 But on all ymountaines, which shall be digged with the mattocke, there shall not come thither the feare of byters and thornes: but they shall be for the sending out of bullocks, and for the treading of sheepe.

country is hot and moist, it is full of Flies, as Assyria is full of Bees, f Signifying, that no place shall be free from them. t That is, that which is from the belly downward: meaning that hee would destroy both great and small. u He that before had a great number of cattell, shall be content with one kow and two sheepe. x The number of men shall be so small, that a few beasts shall be able to nourish all abundantly. y As they that goe to seeke wild beasts among the bushes. z The mountaines contrary to their wont, shall be filled by such as shall flee to them for succour.

CHAP. VIII.

1 The captiuitie of Israel and Judah by the Assyrians. 6 The infidelitie of the Iewes. 9 The destruction of the Assyrians. 14 Christ the stone of stumbling to the wicked. 19 The word of God must be inquired at.

1 Moreouer, the Lord said vnto me, Take a great roll, and write in it with a mans pen, Make speed to the spoile: haste to the pray.

For, God wnt vs, which name can agree to none, but to him, that is both God and man.

n Meaning, that Christs not onely God but man also, because he shall be nourished as other men, vntill the age of discretion.

o Not meaning Christ, but any child: for before a child can come to the yeeres of discretion, the Kings of Samaria and Syria shall be destroyed.

p Since the time that the twelue tribes rebelled vnder Roboam, q In whom thou hast put thy trust.

r Meaning, the Egyptians: for by reason the r That is, that which is from the belly downward: meaning that hee would destroy both great and small.

x The number of men shall be so small, that a few beasts shall be able to nourish all abundantly.

y As they that goe to seeke wild beasts among the bushes.

z The mountaines contrary to their wont, shall be filled by such as shall flee to them for succour.

a That thou mayest write in great letters, to the intent it may be more easilly read. b Meaning, after the common fashion: for because all men might read it.

c Because the thing was of great importance, he tooke these two witnesses, which were of credit with the people, when he set this vp upon the dore of the Temple, albeit Vriah was a flattering hypocrite 2 King, 16.11.

d Meaning, to his wife, and this was done in a vision.

||Or, make Vriah to the spirit: he saith to the pray.

e Before any child be able to speake,

f That is, the army of Assyria, g which was a fountaine at the foote of mount Zion, out of the which ran a small river, through the citie: meaning, that they of Iudah distrusting their owne power, which was small, desired such power and riches as they saw in Syria and Israel.

h That is, the Assyrians, which dwell beyond Euphrates.

i It shall be ready to drowne them, k He speaketh this of Messiah or Christ, in whom the faithfull were comforted, and who would not suffer his Church to be destroyed utterly.

l To wit, ye that are enemies to the Church, is the Assyrian, Egyptians, Syrians, &c.

m To encourage me that I should not shrinke for the infidelity of this people, and so neglect mine office.

n Consent not ye that are godly, to the league and friendship that this people seeke with strangers & idolaters.

o Meaning, that they should not feare the thing that they feared, which hath no hope in God.

p In puring your trust only in him, in calling upon him in aduersitie, patiently looking for his helpe, and fearing to do any thing contrary to his will.

q He will defend you which is his elect, and I reiect all the rest, which is meant of Christ, a iust whom the Iewes should stumble and fall.

r Luk. 2. 34. Rom. 9. 33. Pet. 2. 7, 8.

t Though all forsake me, yet ye that are mine, keepe by word sure sealed in your hearts,

2 Then I tooke vnto mee e faithfull witnesses to record, Vriah the Priest, & Jehearah the sonne of Ieberechiah.

3 After, I came vnto the d Prophetesse, which conceived, and bare a sonne. Then sayd the Lord to mee, Call his name, Wa-her shalathah baz.

4 For before e the child shall haue knowledge to cry, My father and my mother, f he shall take away the riches of Damascus, and the spoyle of Samaria, before the King of Asshur.

5 And the Lord spake yet againe vnto me, saying,

6 Because this people hath refused the waters of e Shiloah that runne softly, and reioyce with Rezin, and the sonne of Remaliah,

7 Now therefore beholde, the Lord bringeth vp vpon them the waters of e the River mightie and great, even the King of Asshur with all his glory, and he shall come vp vpon all their euers, and goe ouer all their bankes,

8 And shall breake into Iudah, and shall ouerflowe and passe through, and shall come by to the neck, and the stretching out of his wings shall fill the breadth of thy lande, O k Immanuel.

9 Gather together on heapes, O ye e people, and ye shall be broken in peeces, and hearken all ye of farre countreys: giue your selues, and you shall be broken in peeces: giue your selues, and you shall be broken in peeces.

10 Take counsell together, yet e shall be brought to nought: pronounce a decree, yet shall it not stand: for God is with vs.

11 For the Lord spake thus to mee, in taking e of mine hand, and taught mee, that I should not walke in the way of this people, saying,

12 Say ye not, A e confederacie to all them, to whom this people hath a confederacie, neither feare you e their feare, nor bee afraid of them.

13 e Sanctifie the Lord of hostes, and let him be your feare, and let him be your bread, 14 And hee shall be as a e Sanctuary: but as a stumbling stone, and as a rocke to fall vpon, to both the houses of Israel, and as a snare, and as a net to the inhabitants of Ierusalem.
