15 And many among them shall stumble, and shall fall, and shall be broken, and shall be thued, and shall be taken.

16 e Bind vp the testimony: seale vp the Law among my disciples.

17 Therefore I will wait vpon the Lord that hath hid his face from the house of Iacob, and I will looke for him.

18 I would, I and the captiues whom the Lord hath giuen me, as a signe & as wonders in Israel, by the Lord of hostes, which dwelleth in mount Zion.

19 And when they that lay vnto you, Enquire at them that haue a spirit of diuination, & at the soothsayers, which whisper and murmur, e Should not a people enquire at their God? from the e living to the dead?

20 To the e Law, and to the testimony, if they speake not according to this word: because there is no e light in them.

21 Then he that is attacked and famished, shall goe to and fro in e it: and when he shall be hungry, he shall euen seeke himselfe, b and curse his king and his gods, and shall looke vnto King.

22 And when hee shall looke to the earth, behold trouble, and e darkness, vexation and anguish, and he is egiuen to darkness.

x That is, Will they refuse to be taught of the mouth of God, and seeke helpe at the dead, which is the illusion of Satan? y Seeke remedy in the word of God where his will is declared. z They haue no knowledge, but are blind leaders of the blind. a That is, in Iudah, where they should haue had rest, if they had not thus grievously offended God. b In whom afore they put their trust. c They shall thinke that heauen and earth and all creatures are bent against them to trouble them.

CHAP. IX.

1 The vocation of the Gentiles. 6 A prophesie of Christ. 14 The destruction of the ten tribes for their pride and contempt of God.

Y E t the darkness shall not be according to the affliction, e that it had when at the first he touched lightly the land of Sebulim, and the land of Naphtali, nor afterward when he was more grieuous by the way of the sea beyond Iordan in Galile of e the Gentiles.

2 The people that e walked in darkness, haue seene a great e light: they that dwelled in the land of the shadow of death, vpon them hath the light shined.

3 Thou hast e multiplied the nation, and not increased their joy: they haue reioyced before thee according to the ioy in harvest, and as men reioyce when they diuide a spoyle,

4 For e the yoke of their burden, and the stake of their shoulder, and the rod of their oppressour hast thou broken as in the day of e Sion.

5 Surely every battell of the warrior is f Meaning, them that were willing to heare & obey the word of God, whom the world hated, as though they were monsters and not worthy to heare. t This was a consolation in their troubles, knowing that nothing could come vnto them, ut by the will of the Lord. u Answer to the wicked thus, Should not Gods people seeke succour only at him?

a He comforteth the Church againe after these great threatenings, promising to restore them to great glory in Messiah.

b Where with Israel was punished, first by Tiglath pilser, which was a light scourge: in respect of that which they suffered afterward.

by Shalmaneser, who carried the Israelites away captiues.

c Whereas the Iewes and Gentiles dwell together by reason of those twentie cities, which Salomon gave to Hiram. d Which were captiue in Babylon: and the Prophet speaketh of that thing, which should come to passe thre score yeeres after, as though it were now done. e Meaning, the comfort of their deliuerance. f This captiuitie and deliuerance were figures of our captiuitie by sinne, and of our deliuerance by Christ through the preaching of the Gospel, Mar. 4. 15. 16. g Their number was greater when they went into captiuitie, then when they returned, but their ioy was greater at their returne, Hag 2. 10. h Thou gauest them perfit ioy, by deliuering them, and by destroying the tyrants that had kept them in cruel bondage, as thou didst deliuer them by Gideon from the Midianites, Iudg. 7. 22.

i He speake:h of the deliuranc of his church, which he hath deliurcd miraculo:ly from his enemies, but speci:ly by Christ, of whom he prophesieth in the next verse.

k The author of eternitie, and by whome the Church and euerie member thereof shalbe preserved for euer, and haue immortall life.

m This is another prophesie against them of Samaria, which were mockers, & contemners of Gods promises and menaces.

n We were but weake, when the enemy ouercame vs, but we will make our selues so strong, that we will neither care for our enemies, nor feare Gods threatenings.

o Rezin king of Syria, who was in league with Israel, was slaine by the Assyrians, after whose death, Aram, that is, the Syrians were against Israely, which on the other side were assailed by the Philistims.

p Wickednes, as a bellows kindleth the fire of Gods wrath, which consumeth all his obliuious enemies.

q Though there were no fortime enemy, yet they shall destroy one another.

r Their greedie desire shalbe insatiabie, so that one brother shal care vp another, as though he should eat his owne flesh.

with noyse, and with tumbling of garments in blood: but this shall be with burning and deuouring of fire.

6 For vnto vs a childe is borne, and vnto vs a Sonne is giuen: and the gouernement is vpon his shoulder: and hee shall call his Name Wonderfull, Counsellor, The mighty God, The euertlasting Father, The prince of peace.

7 The increase of his gouernement and peace shall haue none ende: hee shall sit vpon the throne of Dauid, & vpon his kingdom, to order it, and to stablish it with iudgement and with iustice from henceforth, euen for euer: the zeale of the Lord of hostes will performe this.

8 The Lord hath sent a word into Jaakob, and it hath lighted vpon Israel.

9 And all the people shall know, euen Ephraim, and the inhabitant of Samaria, that say in the pride and presumption of the heart.

10 The buccles are fallen, but wee will build it with hewen stones: the wilde figge trees are cut downe, but wee will change them into cedars.

11 Neuertheless, the Lorde will raise by the aduersaries of Rezin against ym, and wyne his enemies together.

12 Aram before, and the Philistims behinde, and they shall denounce Israel with open mouth: yet for all this his wrath is not turned away, but his hande is stretched out still.

13 For the people turneth not vnto him that smiteth them, neither doe they seeke the Lord of hostes.

14 Therefore wil the Lord cut off Israels head & taile, branch and ruff in one day.

15 The ancient and the honourable man, he is the head: and the ppyhet that teacheth lies he is the taile.

16 For the leaders of the people cause them to erre: and they that are led by them are deuoured.

17 Therefore shal the Lord haue no pleasure in the young men, neither wil hee haue compasston of their fatherlesse and of their widowes: for euerie one is an hypocrite and wicked, and euerie mouth speaketh folly: yet for all this his wrath is not turned away, but his hande is stretched out still.

18 For wickednesse is buneneth as a fire: it denouereth the byers and the thornes, and will kinde in the thicke places of the forest: and they shall mount vp like the lifting vp of smoke.

19 By the wrath of the Lord of hostes shal the land be darkened, and the people walke as the meate of the fire, no man shall spare his brother.

20 And he shall watch at the right hand, and be hungry: and hee shall care on the left hand, and shal not be satisfied: euerie one shal eate the flesh of his owne auncle.

21 Manasseh Ephraim: and Ephraim Manasseh, and they both shall hate against Iudah: yet for all this his wrath is not turned away, but his hande is stretched out still.

C H A P. X.

1 Of wicked lawmakers. 5 God will punish his people by the Assyrians, and after deliury them.

2 The remnant of Israel shalbe saved.

W E vnto them that decreed wicked decrees, and wrote grieuous things,

2 To keepe backe the people from iudgement, and to take away the iudgement of the poore of my people, that widowes may be their praye, and that they may spoyle the fatherlesse.

3 What will ye do now in the day of visitation, & of destruction, which shall come from Ierusalem: to whom will ye flee for helpe: and where will ye leane your gloze?

4 Whilout me euerie one shal fall among them that are bound, and they shal fall down among the flaine: yet for all this his wrath is not turned away, but his hande is stretched out still.

5 O Assur, the rod of my wrath, and the staffe in their hands is mine indignatio.

6 I will send him to a dismantling nation, and I will giue him a charge against the people of my wrath to take the spoyle and to take the praye, and to tread them vnder feet like the mire in the streets.

7 But he thinketh not so, neither doeth his heart esteeme it so: but hee imagineth to bestrow, and to cut off not a few nations.

8 For he saith, Are not my princes altogether kings?

9 Is not Caluas as Earchemish? Is not Hamath like Arpad? Is not Samaria as Damascus?

10 Like as mine hande hath found the kingdomes of the idoles, seeing their idoles were about Ierusalem, and about Samaria:

11 Shal not I as I haue done to Samaria, and to the idoles thereof, so doe to Ierusalem, and to the idoles thereof?

12 What when the Lord hath accomplished all his worke vpon mount Zion and Ierusalem, I wil visite the fruit of the proud heare of the king of Assur, and his glorious and proude lookes, 13 Because hee saide, By the power of mine owne hande haue I done it, and by my wisdom, because I am wis: therefore I haue remoued the borders of the people, and haue spoyled their treasures, and haue pulled downe the inhabitants like a valiant man.

14 And mine hande hath found as a nest the riches of the people, & as one gathered they egges that are left, so haue I gathered at the earth and there was none to moue the wing, or to open the mouth, or to whisper.

15 Shall this speake itselfe against its owne matter, as the worke of the deuill. g Seeing that I haue ouercome as well, I am eitic as anothr, so that none could resist, shall I be able to escape mine hands? h When hee hath feuerly chastised his people (for hee beginneth at his owne house) then will hee burne the rodde. i Meaning of Saneherib. K It were seethat no creature is able to dee any thing but as God appointeth him, and that they are all but his instruments to do his worke, though the intentions be diuers, as verse 6, a Which write and pronounce a wicked sentence to oppress the poore: meaning that the wicked magistrates, which were the chiefe cause of iustices, should be first punished.

b To wit, from Assyria.

c Your riches and authority, that they may be safe, and that ye may recieue them againe.

d Because they haue forsaken me, some shall go into captiuitie, and the rest shall be slaine.

e God calleth for the Assyrians to see the executioners of his vengeance.

f That is, the Assyrians against the lewes, which are but hypocrites: and in this sixt and seventh verse is declared the difference of the worke of God, and of the wicked in one very thing: & as for Gods intention is to chastise them for their amendment, and the Assyrians purpose is to destroy them to enrich themselves: thus in respect of Gods iustice, it is Gods worke, & in respect of their him that beweth therewith? or shall the law exalt it selfe against him that moueth it? as if the rodde should lift vp it selfe against him that taketh it vp, or the staffe should exalt it selfe, as it were, no wood.

16 Therefore shall the Lord God of hostes sew among his fat men, leaunes, and vnder his glory hee shall kinde a burning, like the burning of fire.

17 And the light of Israel shall bee as a fire, and the holy one thereof, as a flame, and it shall burne and deuour his thornes and his briars in one day:

18 And shall consume the glory of his forest, and of his fruitful fields both soule and fleshy: and he shall bee as the raynting of a stander bearer.

19 And the rest of the trees of his forest shall be few, that a child may reit them.

20 And at that day shall the remnant of Iſſak, & such as are escaped of the house of Iaakob, stay no more vpon him that smote them, but shall stay vpon the Lord, the holy
One of Israel in truthy.

21 The remnant shall returne, euen the remnant of Iaakob vnto the mighty God.

22 For though thy people, O Israel, be as the sande of the Sea, yet shall the remnant of them returne. The consumption decreed shall overflow with righteousnes.

23 For the Lord God of hostes shall make the consumption, euen determined in the mids of all the land.

24 Therefore thus saith the Lord God of hostes, O my people that dwellest in Zion, be not afraid of Asshur: he shall smite thee with a rod, and shall lift vp his staffe against thee after the manner of Egypt:

25 But yet a very little time, & the wrath shall bee contained, and mine anger in their destruction.

26 And the Lord of hostes shall rayse vp a scourge for him, according to the plague of Midian in the rocke Oreb: and as his staffe was vpon the Sea, so he will lift it vp after the manner of Egypt.

27 And at that day shall his burden be taken away from off thy shoulder, and his yoke from off thy necke: and the yoke shall be destroyed because of the annoynting.

28 He is come y to Aiath, hee is passed into Migron: at Bethmeth that he lay vp his armour.

29 They haue gone ouer the foord: they lodged in the lodging at Geba: Kamah is afraid: Oibeah of Saul is fled away.

30 Lift vp thy voice, O daughter Gallim, cause I aith to heare, O poore Anathoth.

31 Madmenah is remooued: the inhabitants of Gebim haue gathered the themselues together.

32 Yet there is a time that he will stay at Iob: hee shall lift vp his hand toward the mount of the daughter Zion, the hill of Ie-rusalem.

33 Beholde, the Lord God of hostes shall cut off the bough with feare, and they of hie that as their statue shall bee cut off, and the high shall be humbled.

34 And hee shall cut away the thicke places of the tower with yon, and Lebanon shall

calling of the Gentiles.

But there shall come a rodde forth of the 2 And the Spirit of the Lorde shall rest vpon him: the Spirit of wisdom, & understanding, the Spirit of counsell and strenght, the Spirit of knowledge, and of the feare of the Lord,

3 And shall make him prudent in the feare of the Lord: for he shall not iudge after the sight of his eyes, neither reprocure by the hearing of his eares:

4 But with righteousnesse shall he iudge the poore, and with equity shall he reprocure the meeke of the earth: and hee shall smite the earth with the rodde of his mouth, and with the breath of his lippes shall he slay the wicked.

5 And iustice shall bee the girdle of his loynes, and faithfullnesse the girdle of his 6 The Wolfe also shall dwell with the Lambe, and the Leopard shall lye with the Kidde, and the Calfe and the Lyon, and the farrer beast together, and a little childe shall lead them.

7 And the Cow, and the Beare shall feed: their yong ones shall lye together: and the Lyon shall eate straw like the bullocke.

8 And the sucking childe shall play vpon the hole of the Ape, & the weaned childe shall put his hand vpon the Cockatrice hole.

9 Then shall none hurt nor destroy in all the mountaine of mine holines: for the earth shall be full of the knowledge of the Lord, as the waters that couer the sea.

10 And in that day the roote of Iſſak, which shall stande vp for a signe vnto the people, the nations shall seeke vnto it, and his rest shall be glorious.

11 And in the same day shall the Lorde stretch out his hand against the second time to possess the remnant of his people (which shall be left) of Asshur, and of Egypt, and of Bathios, and of Ethiopia, and of Ham, and of Shinar, and of Hamath, and of the yles corners of the world.

of the calling of the Gentiles. f That is, his Church, which hee also calleth his rest, Psal. 132. 14. g For God first deliuered his people out of Egypt, and nowe promiseth to deliuer them out of their enemies handes, as from the Partians, Persians, Caldeans, and them of Antiochia, among whome they were dispersed: and this is chiefly meant of Christ, who calleth his people, being dispersed through all the world.

a Because the captiuitie of Babylon was a figure of the spiritual captiuitie

sheweth that our true deliuerance must come by Christ: for as Da-

Christ should mortifieth their concupiscences:

and to the wic-shall perish: so that all the world

worke in them such mutual charity, that they

h Here he describeth the content that shall be in his Church, & their victory against their enemies.

i Meaning, a corner of the sea that entrench into the land, & hath the forme of a tongue.
k To wit, Nilus the great river of Egypt, which entrench into the sea with seven streames.

13 The hatred also of Ephraim shall depart, and the adversaries of Judah shall be cut off: Ephraim shall not enuie<sup>b</sup> Judah, neither shall Judah vere Ephraim:

14 But they shall see vpon the shoulders of the Philistines toward the West: they shall spoue them of the East together: Edom and Moab shall be the stretching out of their handes, and the children of Ammon in their obedience.

15 The Lord also shall utterly destroy the tongue of the Egyptian sea, and with his mighty winde shall lift vp his hande<sup>k</sup> ouer the riuers, and shall smite him in his seven streames, & cause men to walke therein with shooes.

16 And there shall be a path to the remnant of his people, which are left of Ashur, like as it was vnto Israel in the day that he came vp out of the land of Egypt.

b The chiefſcetic, whereby the whole country was meant.

The burden of Moab. Surely Ar of Moab was deſtroyed, and brought to ſilence in a night: ſurely Kir of Moab was deſtroyed, and brought to ſilence in a night.

6 Hee haue heard of the pride of Moab, (hee is very proud) euen his pride and his arrogancie, and his indignation, but his ſcillies ſhall not be ſo.

7 Therefore ſhal Moab howle vnto Moab: euerie one ſhall howle: for the foundations of Kir bareſeth ſhall ye mourne, yet the ſhalbe ſtricken.

g For all your mourning, yet the cry ſhall be deſtroyed, euen vnto the foundations.

c The Moabites ſhall ſee to their idoles for faccours, vntill thebe too late.

2 We ſhall goe vnto the temple, and to Dimon to the hie places to weepe: for Arbo and for Bedetha ſhal Moab howle: vpon all their heads ſhalbe baldnes, and euerie beard ſhaluen.

8 For the vineyards of Heſſibon are cut downe, & the vine of Sibmah: the Lords of the heathen haue broken the principall vines thereof: they are come vnto Jaazer: they wandred in the wilderneſſe: her goodly branches ſtreched out themſelues, and went ouer the ſea.

h That is, the Aſſyrians, and other enemies.

d Which were cities of Moab.

4 And Heſſibon ſhall cry, and Elealeh: their voyce ſhalbe heard vnto Jahaz: therefore the warriours of Moab ſhall ſhout: the ſoule of euerie one ſhall lament in himſelfe.

9 Therefore wil I weepe with the weeping of Jaazer, and of the vine of Sibmah, O Heſſibon: and Elealeh, I wil make thee drinke with my teares, becauſe vpon thy ſummer fruites, and vpon thy harneſt a ſhoutng is fallen.

i Meaning, that the country of Moab was now deſtroyed, & all y preciouſ things thereof were cutted into the borders, yea into other countreyes, and ouer the ſea.

e For as in the Weſt parts the people vſed to let their haire grow long, when they mourned, ſo in the Eaſt parts they cut it off.

5 Mine heart ſhall cry for Moab: his fugitives ſhall ſee vnto Zoar, ſan ſciter of theeſe peere old: for they ſhal goe vnto the way of the mounting vp of Luhith: and by the way of Horonaim they ſhal raile vnto a cry of deſtruction.

10 And gladneſſe is taken away, and toy out of the pleaſant hillde: and in the vineyards ſhall be no ſinging nor ſhoutng for toy: the treader ſhall not tread wine in the wine preſſes: I haue cauſed the reioycing to ceaſe.

k He ſeeth that their plague was ſo great, y it would haue moued any man to lament with the, f The Prophet ſpeaketh this in the perſon of the Moabites, or as one that felt the great iudgement of God, that ſhould come vpon them.

6 For the waters of Dimon ſhalbe dried vp: therefore the graſſe is withered, the hearbes conſumed, and there was no greene herbe.

11 Therefore, my bowels ſhall ſounde like an harpe for Moab, and mine inwarde parts foſ Ker bareſeth.

l The enemies are come vpon thee, and ſhout for ioy, when they carry thy commodities from thee, as Iere. 48. 33.

g Meaning, that it was a cue that euer liued in pleaſure and neuer felt forrow.

7 Therefore what euerie man hath left, and their ſubſtance ſhal they beare to the brooke of the willowes.

12 And when it ſhal appeare that Moab ſhall be weary of his hie places, then ſhall he come to his temple to pray, but hee ſhal not vntuaile.

m For very forrow and compaſſion.

h He deſcribeth the miſerable diſſipation and flight of the Moabites.

8 For the cry went rounde about the borders of Moab: and the howling thereof vnto Egialim, and the ſeeking thereof vnto Beer Elim.

13 This is the word that the Lord hath ſpoken againſt Moab ſince that tyme.

n They ſhall vſe al means to ſecke

i To hide themſelues & their goods there.

9 Becauſe the waters of Dimon ſhalbe full of blood: for I will bring noxe vpon Dimon, euen liens: vpon him that eſcapeth of Moab, and to the remnant of the land.

14 And now the Lord hath ſpoken, ſaying, In theſe yerres, as the yerres of an ſhirching, & the gloxy of Moab ſhalbe conſumed in all the great multitude, and the remnant ſhalbe very ſmall and feeble.

o Hee appointed a certain tyme to puniſh the enemies in.

k Oſt them that are ſlain.

Send ye a lambe to the ruler of the world from the rocks of the wilderneſſe vnto the mountayne of the daughter Zion. 2 For it ſhalbe as a bird that ſyereth, and a neſt ſoſaken: the daughters of Moab ſhal be at the footes of Arnon.

a He meaneth that part of Ethiopia, which lieth toward the Sea, which ſo full of ſhips, that the ſayles (which he compareth to wings) ceas'd to ſhadow the ſea.

ſaith the Lord of hoſtes.

4 And in that day the glory of Iſaak ſhall be unpouerished, and the ſarcelle of his ſky ſhalbe made leane.

5 And it ſhalbe as when the harueſt man gathereth the e come, and reapech the eares with his arme, and he ſhall bee as hee that gathereth the eares in the valley of Kepphain.

6 Yet a gathering of grapes ſhall be left in it, as the ſhaking of an Olive tree, two or three berries are in the toppe of the vinnost boughes, and ſoure or ſiue in the high branches of the fruit thereof, ſaith the Lord God of Iſrael.

7 At that day ſhall a man looke to his maker, and his eyes ſhall looke to the holy one of Iſrael.

8 And he ſhall not looke to the altars, the workes of his owne hands, neyther ſhall hee looke to thote things, which his own fingers haue made, as groues and images.

9 In that day ſhall the cities of their ſtrength be as the forſaking of boughes and branches, which they did forſake, becauſe of the children of Iſrael, and there ſhalbe deſolation.

10 Becauſe thou haſt forgotten the God of thy ſalvation, and haſt not remembered the God of thy ſtrength, therefore ſhalt thou feare pleaſant places, and ſhalt graue ſtrange vine branches.

11 In the day ſhalt thou make the plant to growe, & in the morning ſhalt thou make thy leede to ſcourily: but the harueſt ſhall be gone in the day of poſſeſſion, and there ſhall be deſperate ſorrow.

12 Ah, the multitude of many people, they ſhall make a ſound like the noyſe of the ſea: for the noyſe of the people ſhall make a ſound like the noyſe of mighty waters.

13 The people ſhal make a ſound like the noyſe of many waters, but God ſhall rebuke them, and they ſhall flee farre off, and ſhalbe chaſed as the chaſſe of the mountains before the wind, and as a rowling thing before the whirlewind.

14 And loe, in the evening there is a trouble: but afore the morning it is gone. This is the portion of them that ſpoyle vs, and the lot of them that robbe vs.

3 All ye the inhabitants of the world and dwellers in the earth, ſhall ſee when he ſetteth vpon a ſigne in the mountains, and when he bloweth the trump, ye ſhall heare.

4 For the Lord ſayd vnto me, I will e reſt and beholde in my tabernacle, as heate drying by the raine, and as a cloud of deawe in the heat of harueſt.

5 For afore the harueſt when the flour is finiſhed, and the fruite is riſing in the flour, then he ſhall cut downe the branches with hookes, and ſhal take away, and cut off the boughes.

6 They ſhall be left together vnto the ſoules of the mountains, and to the beaſts of the earth: for the ſoule ſhall ſummer vpon it, and euery beaſt of the earth ſhall winter vpon it.

7 At that time ſhall a preſent be brought vnto the Lord of hoſtes, (a people that is ſcattered abroad, and ſpoyled, and of a terrible people from their beginning hitherto, a nation by little and little euen trodden under ſoote, whoſe land the times haue ſpoyled) to the place of the ſtame of the Lord of hoſtes, euen the mount Zion.

1 The deſtruction of the Egyptians by the Aſſyrians. 18 Of their conuerſion to the Lord.

The burden of Egypt. Beholde, the Lord rideth vpon a ſwift cloude, and ſhall come into Egypt, and the idoles of Egypt ſhall be moued at his preſence, and the heart of Egypt ſhall melt in the middeſ of her.

2 And I will ſet the Egyptians againſt the Egyptians: ſo euery one ſhall fight againſt his brother, and euery one againſt his neighbour, city againſt city, and kingdome againſt kingdome.

3 And the ſpirit of Egypt ſhall falſe in the middeſt of her, and I will deſtroy their counſel, and they ſhall ſeek in the idoles, and at the ſorcerers, & at them that haue ſpirits of diuination, and at the ſoothſayers.

4 And I will deliuer the Egyptians into the hand of cruell lordes, and a mightie King ſhall rule ouer them, ſayeth the Lord God of hoſtes.

b Which in thoe countreyes were great: in ſomuch as they made ſhips of them for ſwifneſſe.

c This may be taken that they ſent ether to comfort the Iewes, & to promiſe them help agaiſt their enemies, & ſo the Lord did threaten to take away their ſtrength, & the Iewes ſhould not truſt therein: or that they did ſolicite the Egyptians, & promiſed them ayde to goe againſt Iudah.

d To wit, the Iewes, who becauſe of Gods plagues made all other nations afraid of the like, as God threatned, Deut. 28. 37.

c As hee cauſed the Ammonites, Moabites, and Idumeans to kill one another, when they came to deſtroy the Church of God, 2 Chron. 20. 23, and Chap. 49. 26. d Meaning, their policie, and wiſedome.

e He sheweth y the sea and Nilus their great riu- whereby they thought them- selves most sure, should not be able to defend them from his anger, but that he would send the Assyrians among them, that should keepe them vnder as flaues.

f For Nilus ran into the sea by seuen streames, as though they were so many riuers.

g The Ebrew word is mouth, whereby they meane the spring, out of the which the water gusheth as out of a mouth.

h The Scriptures vse to describe the destruction of a country by taking away of the commodities thereof, as by vines, flesh, fish, and such other things, whereby countreyes are enriched.

i Called also Tanes a famous cite vpon Nilus.

k He noteth the flatterers of Pharaoh: who perswaded the King that he was wise, and noble, and that his house was most ancient, and so he flattered himselfe, saying, I am wise.

m The principall vpholders thereof, are the chiefe cause of their destruction.

n For the spirit of wisdom, hee hath made them drunke and giddie with the spirit of error.

o Neither the great nor the small, the strong nor the weak.

p Considering that through their occasion the Iewes made not God their defence, but put their trust in them, and were therefore now punished, they shall feare least the like light vpon them.

q Shall make one confession of faith with the people of God: by the speech of Canaan, meaning, the language, wherin God was then seru'd.

r Shall renounce their superstitions, and protest to serue God aright.

s Meaning, of sixe cities, sixe should serue God, and the sixt remaine in their wickednes, and so of the sixt part, there should be but one loth.

5 Then the waters of the sea shall faile, and the riuers shall be dried vp and washed.

6 And the riuers shall goe farre away: the riuers of defence shall be emptied and dried vp: the reedes and flagges shall be cut downe.

7 The grasse in y riuers and at the head of the riuers, and at that growth by the riuers, shall wither, and be driuen away, and be no more.

8 The fishers also shall mourne, and all they that cast angle into the riuers, shall lament, and they that spread their net vpon the waters, shall be weakened.

9 Moreover, they that worke in flaxe of Diuers soyes, shall be confounded, and they that weane nets.

10 For their nets shall be broken, and all they that make ponds, shall be heauie in heart.

11 Surely the princes of Zoan are fooles: the counsell of the wise counsellers of Pharaoh is become foolish: how say ye vnto Pharaoh, I am the sonne of the wise? I am the sonne of the ancient kings?

12 Where are now thy wise men, that they may tell thee, or may know what the Lord of hostes hath determined against Egypt?

13 The Princes of Zoan are become fooles: the princes of Noph are deceived, they haue deceived Egypt, euen the corners of the tribes thereof.

14 The Lord hath mingled among them the spirit of errors: and they haue caused Egypt to erre in euery worke thereof, as a drunken man erreth in his vomit.

15 Neither shall there be any worke in Egypt, which the head may doe, nor the taile, the branch nor the ruff.

16 In that day shall Egypt bee like vnto women: for it shall be afraid and feare because of the mouing of the hand of y Lord of hostes, which hee shakech ouer it.

17 And the land of Iudah shall be a feare vnto Egypt: euery one that maketh mention of it, shall be afraid thereat, because of the counsell of the Lord of hostes, which hee hath determined vpon it.

18 In that day shall sixe cities in the lande of Egypt speake the language of Canaan, and shall be care by the Lorde of hostes: one shall be called the cite of destruction.

19 In that day shall the altar of the Lord bee in the middes of the land of Egypt, and a pillar by the border thereof vnto the Lord.

20 And it shall bee for a signe and for a witness vnto the Lord of hostes in the land of Egypt: for they shall cree vnto the Lord, because of the pyrellous, and hee shall send them a Saviour and a great man, & shall deliuer them.

21 And the Lord shall be knowne of the Egyptians, and the Egyptians shall know the Lord in that day, and doe sacrifice and oblation, and shall bowe bowes vnto the Lord, and performe them.

22 So the Lord shall smite Egypt, he shall smite and heale it: for hee shall returne vnto the Lord, and he shall be increased of them, and shall heale them.

23 In that day shall there be a path from Egypt to Asshur, and Asshur shall come into Egypt, and Egypt into Asshur: for the Egyptians shall worship with Asshur.

24 In that day shall Israel bee the third with Egypt and Asshur, euen a blessing in the mids of the land.

25 For the Lord of hostes shall blesse it, saying, Blessed bee my people Egypt and Asshur, the worke of mine hands, and Israel mine inheritance.

1 The three yeres captiuitie of Egypt & Ethiopia described by the three yeres going naked of Isaiah.

1 A yere that Tartan came to Abidod, (when Sargon king of Asshur sent him) and had fought against Abidod, and taken it.

2 At the same time spake the Lord by the hand of Isaiah the sonne of Amos, saying, Oe, & looke the sackcloth from thy loynes, and put off thy shoe from thy foot. And hee did so, walking naked, and barefoote.

3 And the Lord said, Like as my seruant Isaiah hath walked naked, and barefoote thre yeres, as a signe and wonder vpon Egypt and Ethiopia,

4 So shall the king of Asshur take away the captiuitie of Egypt, and the captiuitie of Ethiopia, both yong men and old men, naked and barefoote, with their buttockes discovered, to the shame of Egypt.

5 And they shall feare and bee ashamed of Ethiopia their expectation, and of Egypt their glory.

6 Then shall the inhabitant of this yle say in that day, Behold, such is our expectation, whither we fled for helpe to be deliuered from the king of Asshur, and how shall we be deliuered?

There shall be evident signes and tokens, that Gods religion is there: which maner of speech is taken of the Patriarks and ancient times, when God had not as yet appointed the place, and full maner how he would be worshipped.

u This declareth that this prophesie should be accomplished in the time of Christ.

 4 Mine heart failed: fearefulnesse troubled me: the night of my pleasures hath be turned into feare vnto mee.
 5 Prepare thou the table: watch in the watch tower: eate drinke, ye princes, among the field.

 8 And hee cried, A lyon: my Lord, I stand continually vpon the watch tower in the day time, and I am set in my watch euer y night.

 1 He prophesieyth of the destruction of Ierusalem by Nebuchad-nezzar. 15 A threatening against Shebna, 20 To whose office Elakim is preferred.
 The burden of the valley of vision. What saith the Lord that thou art wholly gone by vnto the horrible tops?
 2 Thou that art full of people, a citie full of drinke, a town of citie: thy drinke men shall not be thine: with sword, nor die in battell.
 3 All thy princes shall flee together from the bow: they shall be bound: all that shall be found in thee, shall be bound together, which haue fled from farre.
 4 Therefore sayd I, Turne away from mee: I will weep bitterly: labour not to continue me for the destruction of the daughter of my people.
 5 For it is a day of trouble, and of ruine, and of perplexitie by the Lord God of hostes in the valley of vision, breaking downe the citie: and a crying vnto the mountaynes.
 6 And Elam bare the quiver in a mans chariot with horsemen, and drave vnto the shield.
 7 And thy chiefe valleys were full of chariots, and the horsemen set themselves in aray against the gate.
 8 And hee discovered the esuering of Indah: and thou diddest looke in that day to the armour of the house of the forest.
 9 And ye haue seene the breaches of the citie of David: for they were many, and ye gathered the waters of the lower pool.
 10 And ye numbred the houses of Ierusalem, and the houses haue ye broken downe to fortifie the wall.
 11 And haue also made a ditch betweene the two walles, for the waters of the olde pool: and haue not looked vnto the waker thereof, neither had respect vnto him that formed it of olde.
 12 And in that day did the Lord God of hostes call vnto weeping and mourning, and to baldnesse and giuing with sackcloth.

 f Which haue fled from other places to Ierusalem for succour.
 g Hee sheweth what is the deuotion of the godly, when Gods plagues hang ouer the Church, and specially of the ministers, Iere. 9. 1.
 h That is, the shoute of the enemies whom God had appointed to destroy the citie.
 i He putteth them in mind how God deliuered them once from Sancherib, who brought the Persians and Cyrenians with him, that they might by returninge to God, auoyde that great plague which they should else suffer by Nebuchad-nezzar. k The secret place where the armour was: to wit, in the house of the forest. l Kings. 7. 2. m Ye fortified the ruinous places, which were neglected in time of peace: meaning, the whole citie and the citie of David, which was within the compasse of the other. n Either to pull downe such a might hurt, or else to knowe what men they were able to make. o To provide if neede should be of water. o To God that made Ierusalem: that is, they trusted more in these worldly meanes than in God.

p In stead of repentance ye were joyfull and made great cheare, concerning the admonitions of the Prophets, saying, Let vs eate and drinke: for our Prophets say, that we shall die to morow.

q Because the Brevew worde doeth also signifie one that doeth nourish and cherish, there are of the learned that thinke, that this wicked man did nourish secret friendship with the Assyrians and Egyptians, to betray the Church, and to provide for himselfe against all dangers: in the meane season he pecke craftily, and got of the best offices into his hand vnder Hezekiah, euer aspiring to the height.

r Meaning, that he was a stranger and came vp of nothing.

s Whereas he thought to make his name immortal by his famous sepulchre, he died most miserably among the Assyrians, that whatsoeuer dignitie the wicked attaine vnto, at length it will turne to the shame of those Princes, by whom they are preferred.

drinking wine, & eating and drinking for to morow we shall die.

14 And it was declared in the eares of the Lords of hostes, Surely this iniquitie shall not be purged from you, till ye die, saith the Lord God of hostes.

15 Thus saith the Lord God of hostes, See get thee to that a treasurer, to Shebna, the Secretary of the house, and say:

16 What hast thou to do here? & whome hast thou here? that thou shouldst heere hewe thee out a sepulchre, as hee that heweth out his sepulchre in an hie place, or that graue an habitation for himselfe in a rocke?

17 Behold, the Lord will cary thee away with a great captivity, and will surely couer thee.

18 He will surely roll and turne thee like a ball in a large courtrey: there shalt thou die, and there the charrets of thy glory shall be the shame of the Lords house.

19 And I will drie thee from thy station, and out of thy dwelling will he delstroy thee.

20 And in that day will I call my seruant Eltakin the sonne of Izkiah, 21 And with thy garments will I clothe him, and with thy girdle will I strengthen him: thy power also will I commit into his hande, and he shall bee a father of the inhabitants of Ierusalem, and of the house of Iudah.

22 And the key of the house of Dauid will I lay vpon his shoulder: so he shall open and no man shall shut: and he shall shut and no man shall open.

23 And I will fasten him as a nail in a sure place, and he shall be for the throne of glory in his fathers house.

24 And they shall hang vpon him all the glory of his fathers house, euen of the nephewes and posteritie: all small vessels from the vessels of the cups, euen to all the instruments of musike.

25 In that day, saith the Lord of hostes, shall the nail, that is fastened in the sure place, depart, and shall be broken, and fall: and the burden that was vpon it, shall be cut off: for the Lord hath spoken it.

t Signifying, that whatsoeuer dignitie the wicked attaine vnto, at length it will turne to the shame of those Princes, by whom they are preferred.

u To be steward againe, out of which office hee had bene by the craft of Shebna.

x I will commit vnto him the full charge and government of the kings house.

y I will establish him and confirme him in his office: of this phrase, read Ezra. 9. 9.

z Meaning, that both small and great that shall come of Eliakim, shall haue praise and glory by this faithfull officer, a Hee meaneth Shebna, who in mans iudgement should neuer haue fallen.

CHAP. XXIII.

1 A prophesie against Tyrus. 17 A promise that it shall be restored.

T<sup>H</sup>e burden of Tyrus. Howle, ye ships of Tarshish: for it is desitoyed, so that there is none haue: none shall come from the land of Chittim: it is reuealed vnto them.

2 Be still, ye that dwell in the yles: the merchants of Zidon, and such as passe ouer the sea, haue replenished thee.

3 The seede of Nilus growing by the abundance of waters, and the harvest of the riuier was her enemies, and she was a martre of the nations.

4 Be ashamed, thou Zidon: for the sea hath spoken, euen the strength of the sea, saying, I haue not craueled, nor brought forth children, neither nourished yong men, nor brought vp bigines.

5 When the same commeth to the Egyptians, they shall be sorry, concerning the ruinoz of Tyus.

6 See you ouer to Tarshish: howle, ye that dwell in the yles.

7 Is not this that your glorious cite? her antiquitie is of ancient dayes: her ouerfeet shall leade her afarr off to bee a founer.

8 Who hath decreed this against Tyus (that crowneth men) whose merchants are princes, whose chaymen are the nobles of the world?

9 The Lord of hostes hath decreed this, to staine the pride of all glory, and to bring to contemp all them that be glorious in the earth.

10 Passe though thy land like a flood to the daughter of Tarshish: there is no more strength.

11 Hee stretched out his hande vpon the sea: hee shoote the kingdome: the Lord hath giuen a commaundment concerning the place of merchandise, to destroy the power thereof.

12 And hee sayd, Thou shalt no more reioyce, when thou art oppressed: O virgine daughter of Zidon, rite vp, goe ouer vnto Chittim, yet there shalt thou haue no rest.

13 Behold the land of the Caldeans: this was no people: Assur founded it by the inhabitants of the wilderneffe: they set by the towers thereof: they raised the palaces thereof, and hee brought it to ruine.

14 Howle yee ships of Tarshish: for your strength is destroyed.

15 And in that day shall Tyus be forgotten like sentie yeeres (according to the yeeres of one king) at the ende of sentie yeeres, shall Tyus sing as an harlot.

16 Take an harpe, and go about the cite: (thou harlot that hast bene forgotten) make sweet melodie, sing no songs that thou mayest be remembered.

17 And at the end of sentie yeeres shall the Lord visit Tyus, and she shall returne to her wages, and shall commit fornication f Haue haunted thee, and enriched thee.

g Meaning, the come of Egypt, which was sed by the ouerflowing of Nilus.

h That is, Tyrus, which was the chiefe port of the sea.

i I haue no people left in me, & am as a barren woman that neuer bad child.

k Because these two countreys were ioyned in league together.

l Tyrus will leaue other Merchants to goe to Cilicia, and to come no more there.

m Who maketh her merchants like Princes.

n Thy strength will no more leue thee: therefore flee to other countreys for succour.

o For Tyus was neuer touched nor afflicted before.

p Because Tyus was built by them of Zidon.

q The Caldeans which dwelt in tents in the wilderneffe were gathered by the Assyrians into cities.

r The people of the Caldeans destroyed the Assyrians: where by the Prophet meaneth, that leeing the Caldeans were able to ouercome the Assyrians, which were so great a nation, much more shall these two nations of Caldea and Assyria be able to ouerthrow Tyus. That is, Tyus, by whom ye are enriched: Tyus shall lie destroyed sentie yeeres, which hee calleth the reigne of one King, as a mans age. u Shall vse all craft and subtiltie to entise men againe to her. x Shee shall labour by all means to recover her first credit, as an harlot, when she is long forgotten, seeketh by all means to entertaine her lovers. y Though she haue bene chastised of the Lord, yet she shall returne to her olde wicked practises, and for gaine shall giue her selfe to all mens lusts like an harlot.

13 Yet her occupying and her wages ſhal be ⁊ holy unto the Lord: it ſhal not be laid by nor kept in ſtoze, but her merchandiſe ſhall be for them that dwell before the Lord, to eat ſufficiently, and to haue durable cloſting.

z He ſheweth that God yet by the preaching of the Goſpel will call Tyruſ to repentance, and turne her heart from avarice and filthy gaine, vnto the true worſhipping of God and liberalitie toward his Saints.

C H A P. XXI III.

A prophete of the curſe of God for the finnes of the people. 13 A remnant reſerued ſhall praife the Lord.

1 Echoth, the Lord maketh the earth empty, and he maketh it waſte: he turneth it vpylde downe, and ſcattereth abroad the inhabitants thereof.

2 And there ſhal be like people like ⁊ prieſt, and like ſeruant, like maſter, like maide, like miſtreſſe, like buyer, like ſeller, like lender, like boꝛrower, like giuer, like taker to viſity.

3 The earth ſhal be cleane emptied, and vterly ſpoyled: for the Lorde hath ſpoken this word.

4 The earth lamenteth and ſadeth away: the world is feeble and decayed: the proud people of the earth are weakened.

5 The earth ⁊ alſo deceyeth, becauſe of the inhabitants thereof: for they tranſgreſſed the lawes: they changed the ordinances, and brake the enertlaſting covenant.

6 Therefore hath the Lord curſed the earth, and the inhabitants thereof are deſolate. Wherefore the inhabitants of the land are burned vp, and few men are left.

7 The wine ſayeth, the vine hath no might: al that were of merry heart, doe mourne.

8 The mirth of tabrets ceaſeth: the noiſe of them that reioyce, endeth: the ioꝝ of the harpe ceaſeth.

9 They ſhall not drinke wine with mirth: ſtrong drinke ſhall be bitter to them that drinke it.

10 The city of vanity is broken downe: every houſe is ſhut vp, that no man may come in.

11 There is a crying for wine in the ſtreetes: all ioꝝ are darkened: the mirth of the world is gone away.

12 In the city is left deſolation, and the gate is ſmitten with deſtruction.

13 Surely this ſhall it be in the mids of the earth, among the people, as the ſhaking of an olive tree, ⁊ as the grapes when the vintage is end.

14 They ſhall liſt by their voyce: they 15 Wherefore praye vce the Lord in the valleyes, euen the ſtame of the Lord God of Iſrael, in the vles of the ſea.

16 From the vtermoſt part of the earth wee haue heard prayes, euen gloꝝ to the Lord Juſt, and I ſayde, ⁊ My leannelle, my leannelle, was in me: the tranſgreſſors haue offended: yea, the tranſgreſſors haue greivouſly offended.

17 Feaſe, and the pit, and the ſnare are vpon thee, O inhabitant of the earth.

18 And hee that ſceeth from the noiſe of the feaſe, ſhall fall into the pit: and hee that cometh by out of the pit, ſhall be taken in the ſnare: for the windows from on high are open, and the foundations of the earth doe ſhake.

19 The earth is vterly broken downe: the earths cleane diſſolued: the earth is moued exceedingly.

20 The earth ſhall reele to and fro like a drunken man, and ſhall be remooued like a tent, and the iniquitie thereof ſhall be heauie vpon it: ſo that it ſhall fall, and riſe no more.

21 And in that day ſhal the Lord viſit the hoſte aboue that is on high, eue the kings of the world that are vpon the earth.

22 And they ſhall be gathered together as the piſtoners in the pit: and they ſhall be thruſt vp in the priſon, and after many dayes ſhall they be viſited.

23 When the Hoone ſhall be abaſhed and the Sunne aſhamed, when the Lorde of hoſtes ſhall reigne in mount Zion and in Ieruſalem: and ioꝝ ſhall be beioꝝe his ancient men.

Athankeſe giuing to God in that that he ſheweth himſelfe iudge of the world, by puniſhing the wicked, and maintaining the godly.

Lord, thou art my God: I will exalt thee, I will praife thy ſtame: for thou haſt done wonderfull things, according to the counſels of old, with a itable truth.

2 For thou haſt made of a b cite an heape, of a ſtrong citie a ruine: euen the palace of ſtrangers of a citie, it ſhall neuer be built.

3 Therefore ſhall the mighty people giue gloꝝ vnto thee: the city of the ſtrong nations ſhall feare thee.

4 For thou haſt bene a ſtrength vnto the poore, euen a ſtrength to the needy in his trouble, a refuge againſt the tempeſt, a ſhadowe againſt the heate: for the blaſt haue bene thine enemies. c That is, a place whereas all vagabonds may liue without danger, and as it were, at eaſe, as in a palace. d The arrogant and proud, which before would not know thee, ſhall by thy correCTIONS feare and gloriſie thee.

i From the vtermoſt coaſts of the world, where the Goſpel ſhall be preached, as verſe 16. k Meaning, to God, who will publiſh his Goſpel through all the world. l I am conſumed with care, conſidering the affliction of the Church, both by forcine enemies and domeſticall. Some reade, my ſecreſt, my ſecreſt: that is, it was reueiled to the Prophet, that the good ſhould be preſerued, and the wicked deſtroyed.

m Meaning, that Gods wrath and vengeance ſould bee our and vnder them: ſo that they ſhould not eſcape no more then they did at Noahs Flood. n There is no power ſo high or mighty, but God o of the mightie is like a stone against the wall.

5 Thou shalt bring downe the noyse of the strangers, as the heate in a drie place: he will bring downe the song of the mightie, as the heat in the shadow of a cloud.

6 And in this mountaine shall the Lord of hostes make vnto all people a feast of fat things, euen a feast of fined wines, and of fat things full of marrow, of wines fined and purified.

7 And he will destroy in this mountaine the covering that covereth this people, and the baile that is spread vpon all nations.

8 He will destroy death for euer: and the Lord God will wipe away the teares from all faces, and the rebuke of his people will he take away out of all the earth: for the Lord hath spoken it.

9 And in that day shall men say, Lo, this is our God: we haue waited for him, and he will saue vs. This is the Lord, we haue waited for him: we will reioyce and be ioyfull in his saluation.

10 For in this mountaine shall the hand of the Lord rest, and Moab shall be threshed vnder him, euen as strawe is threshed in Madmenah.

11 And he shall stretch out his hand in the mids of them (as hee that swimneth, stretcheth them out to swimme) and with the strength of his hands shall hee bring downe their pride.

12 The defence also of the height of thy walles shall hee bring downe, and lay low, and cast them to the ground, euen vnto the dust.

CHAP. XXVII.

A propheticke against the kingdom of Satau, and of the voy of the Church for their deliuerance.

a At the time appointed.

b That is, by his mightie power, and by his word. He prophesieth here of the destruction of Satau and his kingdom vnder the name of Leuiathan, As hur and Egypt c Meaning, of the best wine which this vineyard, that is, the Church should bring forth as most agreeable to the Lord.

d Therefore he will destroy the kingdom of Satau, because he loueth his Church for his owne mercies sake, and cannot be angrie with it, but witheth that he may poure his anger vpon the wicked infidels, whom he meaneth by briers and thornes.

e He marvelleth that Israel will not come by gentlenesse, except God make them to feele his rods, and so bring them vnto him.

f Though I afflict and diminish my people for a time, yet shall the roote spring againe and bring forth in great abundance.

g He sheweth that God punisheth his in mercie, and his enemies in iustice. h That is, thou wilt not destroy the roote of thy Church, though the branches thereof seeme to perishe by the sharpe winde of affliction. i He sheweth that there is no true repentance, nor full reconciliation to God, till the heart be purged from all idolatrie, and the monuments thereof destroyed. k Notwithstanding his fauour that hee will shew them after: yet Ierusalem shall be destroyed, and grasse for cattell shall grow in it. l God shall not haue neede of mightie enemies: for the very women shall doe it to their great shame. m He shall destroy all from Euphrates to Nilus: for some fled toward Egypt, thinking to haue escaped.

In that day the Lord with his sore and great and mightie sword shall visite Leuiathan, that pearcing serpent. euen Leuiathan that crooked serpent, and hee shall slay the dragon that is in the sea.

2 In that day sing of the vineyard of our red wine.

3 If the Lord doe keepe it: I will water it euery moment: lett any assaile it, I will keepe it night and day.

4 Anger is not in mee: who would set the thurs and the thornes against mee in battell? I would goe thow them, I would burne them together.

5 He will be e feele my strength, that he may make peace with me, and be at one with mee?

6 Hereafter, Iakob shall take roote: Israel shall flourish and grow, and the world shall be filled with fruit.

7 Hath hee snitten v him as hee snote those that snote him? or is hee laine according to the slaughter of them that were laine by him?

8 In measure in the branches thereof wilt thou contend with it, when hee bloweth with his rough winde in the day of the East winde.

9 By this therefore shall the iniquitie of Iakob be purged, and this is all the fruit, the taking away of his sinne: when he shall make all the stones of the altars, as chaine stones broken in pieces, that the groues and images may not stand vp.

10 Yet the defended citie shall be desolate, and the habitation shall be forsaken, and left like a wilderness. There shall the calfe feed, and there shall hee lie, and continue the branches thereof.

11 When the boughes of it are drie, they shall bee broken: the women come and let them on fire: for it is a people of none vnderstanding: therefore hee that made them, shall not haue compassion of them, and hee that formed them, shall haue no mercie on them.

12 And in that day shall the Lord thresh from the chanell of the Riuer, vnto the riuer of Egypt, and yee shall be gathered one by one. O children of Israel.

13 In that day also shall the great trumpe be blowen, and they shall come, which perished in the land of Assur: and they that were chased into the land of Egypt, and they shall worship the Lord in the holy mount at Ierusalem.

CHAP. XXVIII.

Against the pride and drunkennesse of Israel. 9 The vntowardnesse of them that should learne the word of God. 24 God doth all things in time and place.

VVords to the crowne of pride, the drunkards of Ephraim: for his glorious beautie shall be a fading flower, which is vpon the head of the valley of them that be fat, and are overcome with wine.

2 Behold, the Lord hath a mightie and strong bre, like a tempest of haile, and a whirlewinde that overthroweth, like a tempest of mightie waters that our flow, which thow to the ground mightily.

3 They shall be troden vnder foote, euen the crowne and the pride of the drunkards of Ephraim.

4 For his glorious beautie shall be a fading flower, which is vpon the head of the valley of them that be fat, and as the hartie fruit afore summer, which when be that looketh vpon it, seeth it, whilst it is in his hand, he eateth it.

5 In that day shall the Lord of hostes be for a crowne of glorie, and for a diademe of beautie vnto the residue of his people,

6 And for a spirite of iudgement to him that sitteth in iudgement, and for strength vnto them that turne away the battell to the gate.

7 But they haue erred because of wine, and are out of the way by strong drinke: the Priest and the prophet haue erred by strong drinke, they are swallowed vp with wine: they haue gone astray though strong drinke: they faile in vision: they stumble in iudgement.

8 For all their tables are full of filth by vomiting: no place is cleane.

9 Whom shall hee teach knowledge? and whom shall hee make to vnderstand the things that hee heareth? them that are weaned from the milke, and drawn from the breasts.

10 For precept must be vpon precept, precept vpon precept, line vnto line, line vnto line, there a litle, and there a litle.

11 For with a stammering tongue, and with a strange language shall he speake vnto this people.

12 Vnto whom hee said, This is the owne gates.

g Meaning the hypocrites, which were among them, and were altogether corrupt in life and doctrine, which is here meant by drunkennesse and vomiting. h For there was none that was able to vnderstand any good doctrine: but were foolish, and as vnweaned as young babes. i They must haue one thing of times told. k Let one teach what hee can, yet they shall no more vnderstand him, then if hee speake in a strange language. l That is, the Prophet, whom God should send. m This is the doctrine, whereupon yee ought to stay and rest.

n In the time of Cyrus by whom they should be deliuered: but this was chiefly accomplished vnder Christ, a Meaning, the proud kingdom of the Israelites, which were drunken with worldly profecricie.

b Because the Israelites, for the most part dwelt in plentifull valleys, he meaneth hereby the valley of them that had abundance of worldly prosperitie, and were as it were crowned therewith, as with garlands.

c He seemeth to meane the Assyrians, by whom the ten tribes were carried away.

d Which is not of long continuance, but is soon ripe, and first eare.

e Signifying, that the faithfull, which put not their trust in any worldly prosperitie, but made God their glory, shall be preferred.

f He will giue counsell to the gouernour, and strength to the captaine, to driue the enemies in at their n Shew to them that are wearie and haue need of rest, what is the true rest. o Because they will not receiue the word of God when it is offered, it cometh of their owne malice, if after their hearts be so hardened, that they care not for it, as before, Chap. 6. 9.

p They thought they had wisdome to auoid Gods iudgments, and that they could escape though all other perished.

q Though the Prophets condemned their idoles and vaine crust of falsehood, and vanity, yet the wicked thought in themselves that they would trust in these things.

c As the plowman hath his appointed time, and diuers instruments for his labour, so hath the Lord for his vengeance: for hee punisheth some at one time, and some at another, some after one sort and some after another, so that his chosen seed is beaten, and tried, but not broken, as are the wicked.

rest: a ginereft to him that is weary; and this is the refreshing, but they would not heare.

13 Therefore shall the word of the Lord bee vnto them precept vpon precept, precept vpon precept, line vnto line, line vnto line, there a little, and there a little: that they may go and fall backward, and be broken and be shamed and be taken.

14 Wherefore heare the word of the Lord, ye scornfull men that rule this people, which is at Jerusalem.

15 Because ye haue said, We haue made a covenant with death, and with hellace we are at agreement: though a scourge runne ouer, and passe through, it shall not come at vs: for we haue made a falsehood our refuge, and vnder vanitie are we hid.

16 Therefore thus saith the Lord God, Behold, I will lay in Zion a stone, a tryed stone, a precious corner stone, a firr foundation. He that beleueth, shall not make false.

17 Iudgement also will I lay to the rule, and rightcoufnesse to the balance, and the baile shall sweepe away the vaine confidence, and the waters shall ouerflow the secret place.

18 And your covenant with death shall be disannulled, and your agreement with hell shall not stand: when a scourge shall runne ouer and passe through, then shall ye be trode downe by it.

19 When it shall passe ouer, it shall take you away: for it shall passe through euery morning in the day, and in the night, and there shall be onely y feare to make you to understand the hearing.

20 For the bed is so strait that it cannot suffice, and the covering narrow that one cannot wrap himselfe.

21 For the Lord shall stand as in mount Perazim: he shall be wroth as in the valley of Gibeon, that he may doe his worke, his strange worke, and bring to passe his act, his strange act.

22 Nowe therefore be ye no mockers, least your bonds increase: for I haue heard of the Lord of hostes a consumption, euen determined vpon the whole earth.

23 Hearken ye, and heare my voyce, hearken ye, and heare my speech.

24 Doth the plowman plow all the day, to sowe? doth hee open and breake the clods of his ground?

25 When hee hath made it plaine, will hee not then sowe the sitches, and sowe cummin, and cast in wheate by measure, and the appointed barley and rye in their place? 26 For his God doth instruct him to haue discretion, and doth teach him.

27 For sitches shall not be threshed with a threshing instrument, neither shall a cart wheele be turned about vpon the cummin: but the sitches are beaten out with a staffe, and cummin with a rod.

28 Bread come when it is threshed, hee doeth not alway thresh it, neither doeth the wheele of his cart fill make a noyse, neither will hee breake it with the teeth thereof.

29 This also cometh from the Lord of hostes, which is wonderfull in counsaile, and excellent in workes.

1 A prophete against Jerusalem. 13 The vengeance of God on them that follow the traditions of men.

A<sup>a</sup> Altar, altar of the citie that Darius dwelt in: adde yeere vnto yeere: <sup>b</sup> let them kill lambes.

2 But I will bring the altar into dust, and there shall be heauinesse, and sorrow, and it shall be vnto me like an altar.

3 And I will besiege thee as a citie, and fight against thee on a mount, and will call vp ramparts against thee.

4 So shalt thou be humbled, and shalt speake out of the ground, and thy speech shall be as out of the dust: thy voyce also shall bee out of the ground like him that hath a spirit of diuination, and thy talking shall whisper out of the dust.

5 Whoreouer, the multitude of thy strangers shall be like small dust: and the multitude of strong men shall bee as chaffe that passeth away, and it shall bee in a moment, euen suddenly.

6 Thou shalt bee visited of the Lord of hostes with thunder and shaking and a great noyse, a whirlewinde, and a tempest, and a flame of a deuouring fire.

7 And the multitude of all the nations that fight against the altar, shall bee as a dreame or vision by night: euen all they that make the warre against it, and strong holds against it, and law siege vnto it.

8 And it shall be like as an hungry man dreameth, and behold hee eateth: and when hee awaketh his soule is empty: or like as a thirsty man dreameth, and see, hee is drinking, and when hee awaketh, behold, hee is faint, and his soule longeth: so shall the multitude of all nations bee that fight against mount Zion.

9 Stay your selues and wonder: they are blinde, & make you blind: they are drunken, but not with wine: they stagger, but not by strong drinke.

10 For the Lord hath covered you with a a The Hebrew word Ariel signifieth the lyon of God, and signifieth the Altar, because the Altar seemed to deuoure the sacrifice that was offered to God, as Ezek. 43. 16.

b Your vaine confidence in your sacrifices shall not last long.

c Your citie shall be full of blood as an altar whereon they sacrifice.

d Thy speech shall be no more so lofty, but abased, and low, as the very charmers, which are in low places, and whisper, so that their voyce can scarce be heard.

e Thine hired soldiers in whom thou trustest shall be destroyed as dust or chaffe in a whirlewind.

CHAP. XXX.

Spirit of slumber, and hath shut by your eyes: the Prophets, and your chiefe Seers hath he covered.

11 And the vision of them all is become vnto you, as the wordes of a booke that is sealed vp, which they deliuer to one that can reade, saying, Reade this, I pray thee. Then shall he say, I can not: for it is sealed.

12 And the booke is giuen vnto him that cannot reade, saying, Reade this, I pray thee. And hee shall say, I cannot reade.

13 Therefore the Lord said, Because this people <sup>k</sup> come neere vnto mee with their mouth, and honour mee with their lippes, but haue remooued their heart farre from me, and their feare toward me was taught by the precept of men, 14 Therefore behold, I will againe doe a maruelous worke in this people, euen a maruelous worke, and a wonder: for the wickedoime of their wise men shall <sup>m</sup> perish, and the vnderstanding of their prudent men shall be hid.

15 I Doe vnto them that <sup>n</sup> seeke deepe to hide their counsell from the Lorde: for their workes are in darkenesse, and they say, Who seeth vs? and who knoweth vs?

16 Your turning of deuices shal it not bee esteemed <sup>o</sup> as the potters clay: for shall the worke say of him that made it, Here made mee not? or the thing formed, say of him that fashioned it, Hee had none vnderstanding?

17 Is it not yet but a little while, and Lebanon shall be <sup>p</sup> turned into Carmel? and Carmel shall be counted as a forest?

18 And in that day shall the deafe heare the wordes of the booke, and the eyes of the blinde shall see out of obscuritie, and out of darkenesse.

19 The meeke in the Lord shall receive toy againe, and the poore men shall reioyce in the holy one of Israel.

20 For the cruell man shall cease, and the scoornefull shalbe consumed: and all that hastened to iniquitie shall be cut off:

21 Which made a man to sinne in the word, and tooke him in a snare: which reynoued them in the gate, and made the mist to fall without cause.

22 Therefore thus saith the Lord vnto the house of Yaakob, euen hee that redeemed Abraham, Yaakob shall not now bee confounded, neither now shall his face bee pale.

23 But when hee seeth his children, the worke of intire handes, in the mids of him they shall sanctifie my Name, and sanctifie the help one of Yaakob, and shall feare the God of Israel.

24 Then they that erred in spirit, shall haue vnderstanding, and they that murmured shall learne doctrine.

1 He reproveth the Iewes which in their aduersitie used their owne counsels, 2 And sought help of the Egyptians, 10 Despiseth the Prophets, 16 Therefore hee sheweth what destruction shall come vpon them, 18 But offereth mercie to the repentant.

W<sup>d</sup>de to the rebellious children, sayth the Lord, that take counsell, but not of mee, and <sup>e</sup> couer with a couering, but not by my Spirit, that they may lay blame vpon sinne:

2 Which walke forth to goe downe into Egypt (and haue not asked at my mouth) to strengthen themselves with the strength of Pharaoh, and trust in the shadow of Egypt.

3 But the strength of Pharaoh shall be your shame, and the trust in the shadow of Egypt, your confusion.

4 For his <sup>f</sup> princes were at Soan, and his Ambassadors came vnto Hanes.

5 They shall be all ashamed of the people that cannot profite them, nor helpe nor doe them good, but shall be a shame and also a reproach.

6 The <sup>g</sup> burden of the beastes of the South, in a land of trouble and anguish, from whence shall come the young and olde lyon, the viper, & fiery flying serpent against them that shall beare their riches vpon the sholders of the colts, and their treasures vpon the bunches of the camels, to a people that cannot profit.

7 For the Egyptians are vanitie, and they shall helpe in vaine. Therefore haue I cryed vnto <sup>h</sup> her, Their strength is to sit still.

8 Now goe, and write it before them in a table, and note it in a booke that it may be for the <sup>i</sup> last day for cuer and cuer:

9 That it is a rebellious people, lying children, and children that would not <sup>j</sup> heare the Law of the Lord.

10 Which say vnto the Seers, See not: and to the Prophets, Prophecie not vnto vs right things: but speake flattering things vnto vs: propheticke <sup>k</sup> errors.

11 Depart out of the way: goe aside out of the path: cause the holy One of Israel to cease from vs.

12 Therefore thus saith the holy One of Israel, Because ye haue cast off this worde, and trust in <sup>l</sup> violence and wickednesse, and stay therevpon,

13 Therefore this iniquitie shall be vnto you as a breach that falleth, or a walling in an he wall, whose breaking cometh suddenly in a moment,

14 And the breaking thereof is like the breaking of a Potters pott, which is broken without pittie, and in the breaking thereof is not founde <sup>m</sup> a heerd to take fire out of the hearth, or to take wam Signifying, that the destruction of the wicked shall be without recovery.

i Meaning, that it is all alike, ei- ther to reade or not to reade, ex- cept God open the heart to vnder- stand.

k Because they are hypocrites and not sincere in heart, as Math. 15.8.

l That is, their religion was learned by mans doctrine, and not by my word.

m Meaning, that whereas God is not worshipped according to his word, both mag- istrates and mi- nisters are but fooles and with- out vnderstan- ding.

n This is spoken of them which in heart despised Gods worl, and mocked at the admonitions, but outwardly bare a good face.

t Ye shall cast away your idoles which you haue made of golde and silver, with all that belongeth vnto them, as a most filthy thing and polluted.

u Shewing that there can be no true repentance, except both in heart and deede we shew our selues enemies to idolatry.
 x By these diuers manners of speach he sheweth that the felicitie of the Church shall be so great, that none is able sufficiently to expresse it.

y When the Church shall be restored the glory thereof shall passe seuentimes the brightnesse of the Sunne: for the Sunne and Moone, which are two excellent creatures, see he weeth what shall be the glory of the children of God in the kingdom of Christ.

15 For thus saith the Lord God, the holy One of Israel, In rest and quietnesse shall ye be found: in quietnesse and in confidence shall be your strength, but ye would not.

16 For ye haue sayd, No, but we will slee away vpon horses. Therefore shall ye slee. And hee will ride vpon the swiftest. Therefore shall your persecuters be swift.

17 A thousand as one shall kee at the rebuke of one: at the rebuke of one shall ye slee, till ye be left as a shippe mast vpon the top of a mountaine, and as a beacon vpon an hill.

18 Yet therefore will the Lord waite, that he may haue mercie vpon you, and therefore will he be exalted, that he may haue compassion vpon you: for the Lord is the God of iudgement. Blessed are all they that waite for him.

19 Surely a people shall dwell in Zion, and in Ierusalem: thou shalt weepe no more: hee will certainly haue mercie vpon thee at the voyce of thy cry: when he heareth thee, he will answer thee.

20 And when the Lord hath giuen you the bread of aduerfitie, and the water of affliction, thy rayne shall be no more kept backe, but thine eyes shall see the raine.

21 And thine eares shall heare a worde behinde thee, saying, This is the way, I walke yee in it, when thou turnest to the right hand, and when thou turnest to the left.

22 And yee shall pollute the covering of the images of silver, and the rich ornament of thine images of gold, and call them away as a menstruous cloth, and thou shalt say vnto it, Get thee hence.

23 Then shall he giue raine vnto thy seed, when thou shalt sowe the ground, and bread of the increase of the earth, and it shall be fat, and as oyle: in that day shall thy cattell be fed in large pastures.

24 The open alse and the yong asses, that till the ground, shall eate cleane vponder, which is winnowed with the shouel, and with the fanne.

25 And vpon euery high mountaine, and vpon euery hie hill shall there be riuers and streames of waters, in the day of the great slaughter, when the towres shall fall.

26 Moreover, the light of the Moone shall be as the light of the Sunne, and the light of the Sunne shall be seuen folde, and like the light of seven daies in the day that the Lord shall diue up the breach of his people, and heale the stroke of their wound.

27 Behold, the Name of the Lord cometh from Sarr, his face is burning, and the burden thereof is heavy, his lips are full of indignation, and his tongue is as a deuouring fire.

28 And his Splite is as a riuier that ouerfloweth vp to the necke: it diuiderh a sunder, to faine the nations with the fannic of a banitic, and there shall be a bulle to cause them to erre in the lawes of the people.

29 But there shall be a song vnto you as in the night, when a solemn feast is kept: and gladnesse of heart, as he that cometh with a pipe to goe vnto the mount of the Lord, to the mighty One of Israel.

30 And the Lord shall cause his glorious voyce to be heard, and shall declare the lighting downe of his arme, with the anger of his countenance, and fannic of a deuouring fire, with scattering and tempest, and hailstones.

31 For with the voyce of the Lord shall Assur be destroyed, which smote with the rodde.

32 And in euery place that the staffe shall passe, it shall cleane fast, which the Lorde shall lay vpon him with tabrets and harps, and with battels, and lifting vp of hands shall he fight against it.

33 For a Tophet is prepared of olde: it is enen prepared for the King: hee hath made it deepe and large: the burning thereof is fire and much wood: the breath of the Lord, like a riuier of bymitions, doeth kinde it.

23. 10. h So that their estate or degree cannot exempt the wicked. i By these figuratiue speeches hee declareth the condition of the wicked after this life.

CHAP. XXXI.

v He curseth them that forsake God, and seeke for the helpe of men.

WDe vnto them that goe downe into Egypt for helpe, and stay vpon horses, and trust in chariots, because they are many, and in horsemen, because they be very strong: but they looke not vnto the holy One of Israel, nor seeke vnto the Lord.

2 But he yet is wisest: therefore hee will bring euil, and not turne backe his word, but hee will arise against the house of the wicked, and against the helpe of them that worke vanitie.

3 Now the Egyptians are men, and not God, and their holies flesh, and not spirit: and when the Lorde shall stretch out his hand, the helper shall fall, and hee that is holpen shall fall, and they shall altogether faile.

4 For thus hath the Lord spoken vnto mee, as the lion of lions whelpe roareth vpon his praye, against whome if a multitude of shepheards be called hee will not bee afrayde at their voyce, neither will hee humble himselfe at their noyse: so shall a To drive them to nothing: and thus God consumeth the wicked by that meanes, whereby hee cleanseth his.

b Ye shall reioyce at the destruction of your enemies, as they that sing for ioy of the solemn feast, which begin in the euening.

c Gods plague, d It shall destroy. e With ioy and assurance of the victory.

f Against Babel: meaning the Assyrians and Babylonians. g Here it is taken for bell, where the wicked are tormented, reade 2. Kin.

a There were two special causes, why the Israelites should not ioyne amitie with the Egyptians: first, because the Lord had commanded them neuer to returne thither, Deuterono. 17.

16. and 28. 6. lest they should forget the benefite of their redemption: and secondly, lest they should be corrupted with the superstition and idolatrie of the Egyptians, and so forsake God, Ier. 2. 18.

b Meaning, that they forsake the Lord, that put their trust in worldly things, for they cannot trust in both. c And knoweth their craftie enterprises, and will bring all to nought. d Meaning, both the Egyptians and the Israelites.

e He sheweth the Lewes, that if they would put their trust in him, he is so able that none can resist his power: and so carefull over them, as a bird over her yong, which ever flitch about them for their defence, which similitude the Scripture vseth in diuers places, as Deut. 32. 11. math. 23. 37. f He toucheth their conscience that they might earnestly feele their grieuous finnes, and so truly repent, for as much as now they are almost drowned, and past recovery.

the Lord of hostes come downe to fight for mount Zion, and for the hill thereof.
5 As birds that flie, so shall the Lorde of hostes defend Jerusalem by defending and deliuering, by passing through and preserving it.
6 Ye children of Israel, turne againe, in as much as ye are sunk in rebellion.
7 For in that day, every man shall cast out his idoles of silver, and his idoles of gold, which your handes haue made you, euen a sinne.
8 Then shall Ashur fall by the sword, not of man, neither shall the sword of man denoure him, & he shall see from the sword, and his yong men shall faint.
9 And he shall go for feare to his tower, and his princes shall be afraid of the standard, sayth the Lord, whose fire is in Zion, and his fornaie in Jerusalem.

hearken to my words.
10 Ye women, that are carelesse, shall be in feare: above a yeere in dayes: for the vintage shall faile, and the gathering shall come no more.
11 Ye women, that are at ease, be admonishd: feare, & ye carelesse women: put off the clothes: make bare, and girde locked: & upon the loynes.
12 Men shall lament for the teares, euen for the pleasaunt fieldes, and for the fruitfull vine.
13 Upon the land of my people shall grow thornes and bysses: yea, upon all the houles of idoly in the cite of retoyng.
14 Because the palace shall bee forsaken, and the noyle of the cite shall bee left: the tower and fourrelle shall bee donnes for euer, and the delite of wilde asses, and a pasture for flockes.
15 Until the Spirit be powred upon vs from above, and the wildernesse become a fruitfull field, and the plenteous field be counted as a forrest.

g Meaning, that the affliction should continue long, and when one yeere were past, yet they should looke for new plagues.
h God will take from you the meanes and occasions, which made you to continue in sin: to wit, abundance of worldly goods.
i By the teares he meaneth the plenteous fields, whereby men are nourished, as children with the teare: or the mothers for sorrow and leanesse, shall lacke milke.
k Or, multitude.
l That is, when the Church shall be reformed: thus the Prophets after they haue denounced Gods iudgements against the wicked, vs to comfort the godly, lest they should faint.

g By these fruits your repentance shall be known, as Chap. 2. 18. h When your repentance appeareth. i This was accomplished soone after when Saneheribs army was discomfited, and he fled to his castle in Ninueh for succour. k To destroy his enemies.

CHAP. XXXII.

1 The conditions of good rulers and officers described by the gouernement of Hezekiah, who was the figure of Christ.

a This prophesie is of Hezekiah, who was a figure of Christ, and therefore it ought chiefly to be referred to him.
b By iudgement and iustice is meant an vpright gouernement, both in policie and religion.
c Where men are wearie with traucing, for lacke of water.
d He promisseth to giue the true light, which is the pure doctrine of Gods word, and vnderstanding, and zeale of the same contrary to the threatnings against the wicked, Chap. 6. 9. and 29. 10.
e Vice shall no more be called vertue, nor vertue esteemed by power and riches. f He prophesieth of such calamity to come, that they will not spare the women and children, and therefore wille: them to take heede and prouide.

Beholde, a King shall reigne in iustice, and the Princes shall rule in iudgement.
2 And that man shall bee as an hiding place from the winde, and as a refuge for the tempest: as riuers of water in a drie place, and as the shadow of a great rocke in a weary land.
3 The eyes of the seeing shall not be shut, and the eares of them that heare, shall hearken.
4 And the heart of the foolish shall vnderstand knowledge, and the tongue of the stutters shall bee ready to speake distinctly.
5 A niggard shall no more be called liberall, nor the churlish rich.
6 But the niggard will speake of niggardnesse, and his heart will worke iniquitie, and doe wickedly, and speake falsely against the Lord, to make empty the hungry soule, and to cause the drinke of the churlie to faile.
7 For the weapons of the churl are wicked: hee denieth wicked counsels, to vndo the poore with lying wordes, and to speake against the poore in iudgement.
8 But the liberall man will denie of liberall things, and he will continue his liberalltie.
9 Rise vp, ye women that are at ease: heare my voyce, ye carelesse daughters:

16 And iudgement shall dwell in the desert, and iustice shall remaine in the fruitfull field.
17 And the worke of iustice shall be peace, euen the worke of iustice and quietnesse, and assurance for euer.
18 And my people shall dwell in the tabernacle of peace, and in three dwellings, and in safe resting places.
19 When it haileth, it shall fall on the forest, and the cite shall be set in the low place.
20 Blessed are ye that sow upon all waters, and diue thither the feete of the oxe and the asse.

iudgements against the wicked, vs to comfort the godly, lest they should faint. 1 The field which is now fruitfull, shall be but as a barren forrest in comparison of that it shall be then, as Chap. 29. 17. which shall bee fulfilled in Christs time: for then they that were before as the barren wildernesse, being regenerate, shall bee fruitfull, and they that had some beginning of godlinesse, shall bring forth fruites in such abundance, that their former life shall seeme but as a wildernesse where no fruites were. m They shall not neede to build it in high places for feare of the enemie: for God will defend it, and turne away the stormes from hurting of their commodities. n That is, vpon flat ground and well watered, which bringeth forth in abundance: or in places which before were couched with waters, and now made dry for your vses. o The fields shall be so ransacke, that they shall send out their cattel to eate vp the first crop, which abundance shall be signes of Gods fauour and loue towards them.

a Meaning, the enemies of the Church, as were the Caldians, and Assyrians: but chiefly of Saneherib, but not onely. b When thine appointed time shall come that God shall take away thy power, and that which thou hast wrongfully gotten, shall be giuen to others, as Amos 5. 11.

e The Caldeans shall doe like to the Assyrians, as the Medes and Persians shall doe the same to the Caldeans, d He declareth hereby what is the chiefe refuge of the faithful when troubles come, to pray and seeke helpe of God. e Which helpe our fathers so soone as they called vpon thee. f That is, the Assyrians fled before the armie of the Caldeans, or the Caldeans for feare of the Medes and Persians. g When thou, O Lord, didst lift vp thine enemies, h Yehothas caterpillers destroyed with your number the whole world, shall haue no strength to resist your enemies the Caldeans, but shall be gathered on an heape and destroyed. i Meaning, the Medes and Persians against the Caldeans. k That is, in the dayes of Hezekiah.

ende of doing wickedly, they shall doe wickedly against thee. 2 The Lord haue mercie vpon vs, wee haue wayted for thee: bee thou, which wast thine arme in the morning, our helpe also in time of trouble. 3 At the noyse of the tumult, the people fled: at thine exalting, the nations were scattered. 4 And your spoyle shall be gathered like the gathering of caterpillers: and he shall goe against him like the leaping of grasshoppers. 5 The Lord is exalted: for he dwelleth on high; he hath filled Zion with iudgement and iustice. 6 And there shall bee stabilitie of thy ruins, strength, saluation, wisdom and knowledge: for the feare of the Lord shall be his treasure. 7 Beholde, their messengers shall crye without, and the ambassadours of peace shall weepe bitterly. 8 The paths are waste: the wayfaring man ceaseth: he hath broken the couenant: he hath contemned the cities: hee regarded no man. 9 The earth mourneth and fawnteth: Lebanon is ashaied, and heben downe: Sharon is like a wilde nesse, and Bathan is shaken and Carmel. 10 Now will I arise, sayth the Lord: now will I be exalted, now will I lift vp my selfe. 11 See shall conceiue chaffe, and bring forth stubble: the fire of your breath shall deuoure you. 12 And the people shall be as the burning of lime: and as the thornes cut vp, shall they be burnt in the fire. 13 Heare, yee that are farre off, what I haue done, and yee that are neere, knowe my power. 14 The sinners in Zion are afrayde: a feare is come vpon the hypocrites: who among vs shall dwell with the deuouring fire? who among vs shall dwell with the euersliding burnings? 15 He that walketh in iustice, and speaketh righteous things, refusing gayne of oppression, shaking his hands from taking of gifts, stopping his eares from hearing of blood, and shutting his eyes from seeing euill. 16 Hee shall dwell on high: his defence shall bee the munitions of rockes: bread shall bee giuen him, and his waters shall be sure.

17 Thine eyes shall see the King in his gloire: they shall behold the land farre off. 18 Thine heart shall meditate feare, where is the Scithe? where is the receiver? where is hee that counted the towers? 19 Thou shalt not see a fierre people, a people of a darke speech, that thou canst not perceiue, and of a stammering tongue, that thou canst not vnderstand. 20 Looke vpon Zion the citie of our Ierusalem feastes: thine eyes shall see Ierusalem a quiet habitation, a Tabernacle that cannot be remoued, and the stakes thereof can neuer bee taken away, neither shall any of the cordes thereof be broken. 21 For surely there the mightie Lord will bee unto vs, as a place of goods and broad riuers, whereby shall passe no shippe with oares, neither shall great shippe passe thereby. 22 For the Lord is our Iudge, the Lord is our Lawgiuer: the Lord is our King, he will saue vs. 23 Thy coardes are loosed: they could not well strengthen their mass: neither could they spread the saile: then shall the pray be diuided for a great spoile: yea, the lame shall take away the pray. 24 And none inhabitant shall say, I am sicke: the people that dwell therein shall haue their iniquitie forgiven.

u They shall see Hezekiah deliuered from his enemies, and restored to honour and glorie. x They shall be, no more shut in as they were by Saneherib, but goe where it pleaseth them. y Before that this liberie cometh, thou shalt thinke that thou art in great dangere for the enemy shall so sharply assaile you, that one shall crye, where is the clerke that writeth the names of them that are taxed? another, where is the receiver? another shall crye for him that valueth the rich houses, but God will deliuer you from this feare. z Let vs bee content with this small riuer of Shiloah, and not desire the great streames and riuers, whereby the enemies may ring in hippes, and destroy vs. a Hee denideth the Assyrians and enemies of the Church, declaring their destruction, as they that perish by shipwracke. b Hee comforteth the Church, and sheweth that they shall bee enriched with all benefites both of body and soule.

CHAP. XXXIIII.

1. Hee sheweth that God punisheth the wicked for the loue he beareth toward his Church.

Come neere, ye nations and heare, and hearken, yee people: let the earth heare, and all that is therein, the world and all that proceedeth thereof. 2 For the indignation of the Lord is byt on all nations, and his wrath vpon all their armies: hee hath destroyed them and deliuered them to the slaughter. 3 And their flaine shall be cast out, and their stink shall come vp out of their bodies, and the mountains shall bee melted with their blood. 4 And all the host of heauen shall be dissolved, and the heauens shall be folded like a booke: and all their hostes shall fall as the leafe falleth from the time, and as it falleth from the figge tree. 5 For my sword shall be drunken in the 6 The sword of the Lord is filled with blood: it is made fatte with the fatte and with the blood of the Lambs, and the goats, with the fatte of the kidnies of the Rammes: for the Lord hath a sacrifice in his Bozrah, and a great slaughter in the land of Edom.

7 And the Unicorn shall come downe with them, and the heifers with the bulles, and their lande shall be drunken with blood, and their dust made fatte with fatnesse.

The desert and the wilderness shall reioyce: and the waste ground shall be glad and flourish as the rose.

4 Say vnto them that are fearefull. Bee you strong, feare not: behold, your God cometh with vengeance: euen God with a recompense, hee will come and saue you.

5 Then shall the eyes of the blinde be lightened, and the eares of the deafe be opened.

6 Then shall the lame man leape as an Hart, and the dumbe mans tongue shall sing: for in the wilderness shall waters breake out, and riuers in the desert.

7 And the drie ground shall be as a pool, and the thiriste as springes of water: in the habitation of dragons, where they lay, shall be a place for reedes and rushes.

8 And there shall be a path and a way, and the way shall be called holy: the polluted shall not passe by it: for he shall be with them, and walke in the way, and the fooles shall not erre.

9 There shall be no lyon, nor noysome beastes shall ascend by it, neither shall they bee found there, that the redeemed may walke.

10 Therefore the redeemed of the Lord shall returne and come to Zion with praise: and euertlasting ioy shall be vpon their heads: they shall obtaine ioy and gladnesse, and sorrow and mourning shall flee away.

11 The knowledge of Christ is reuealed. 2 They that were barren and destitute of the graces of God, shall haue them giuen by Christ. h It shall be for the Saints of God, and not for the wicked. i God shall lead and guide them, aluring to the bringing forth of Egypt. k As hee threatned to the wicked to be destroyed hereby, Chapter 30. 6. l Whom the Lord shall deliuer from the captiuitie of Babylon.

CHAP. XXXVI.

1 Saneherib sendeth Rabshakeh to beseege Ierusalem. 15 He blasphemeth against God.

Now in the fourteenth yeere of King Hezekiah, Saneherib King of Assur came by against all the strong cities of Iudah, and tooke them.

2 And the king of Assur sent Rabshakeh from Lachish toward Ierusalem vnto King Hezekiah, with a great host, and hee stood by the conduit of the vpper pool in the path of the fullers field.

3 Then came forth vnto him Eliakim the Church to bee afflicted, but at length would send deliuerance. b When hee had abolished superstition and idolatrie, and restored religion, yet God would exercise his Church to trie their faith and patience.

For he was now r. fared to his office, as Iſaiah had prophesied, Chap. 22. 20 d This declareth that there were fewe godly to be found in y<sup>e</sup> kings house, when hee was driven to send this wicked man in such a weighty matter. e Saneheribs chief captaine. f He speaketh this in the person of Hezekiah, fallily charging him, that he put his trust in his wit and eloquence, whereas his only confidence was in the Lord. g Satan laboured to pull the godly king from one vaine confidence to another, to wit, from trust in the Egyptians, whose power was weak and would deceue them, to yeeld himselfe fe to the Assyrians, and so not to hope for any helpe of God. h Or, turne backe. i He reprocheth to Hezekiah his small power, which is not able to resist one of Saneheribs least captaines. j Thus the wicked to deceiue vs, will pretend the Name of the Lord, but we must try the spirits, whether they be of God or no. k They were afraid, left by his words, he should haue stirred the people against the king and also pretended to grow to some appointment with him. l Ebr. the water of their feet. 1 The Ebrew word signifieth blessing: whereby this wicked captaine would haue persuaded the people that their condition should be better vnder Saneherib, then vnder Hezekiah, sonne of Bilkiab the steward of the house, and Shebna the Chancellor, and Ioah the sonne of Aſaph the recorder. 4 And Rabhakeh sayde vnto them, Tell you Hezekiah, I pray you, Thus sayeth the great King, the King of Asshur, What confidence is this, wherein thou trustest? 5 I say, Surely I haue eloquence, but counsell and strength are for the warre: in whom then doest thou trust, that thou rebellest against me? 6 Loe, thou trustest in this broken staffe of reede, of Egypt, whereupon if a man lean, it will goe into his hande, and pierce it: so is Pharaoh king of Egypt, vnto all that trust in him. 7 But if thou say vnto me, Wee trust in the Lorde our God: Is not that hee whose hye places and whose altars Hezekiah tooke downe, and sayde to Iudah and to Ierusalem, Pee shall worship before this altar? 8 Now therefore giue hostages to my lord the king of Asshur, and I will giue thee two thousand horses, if thou bee able on thy part to set riders vpon them. 9 For how canst thou despise one captaine of the least of my lords seruants? and put thy trust on Egypt for charrets and for horsemen? 10 And am I now come vp without the Lord to this land to destroy it? The Lorde sayd vnto me, I so vp against this land, and destroy it. 11 Then sayd Eliakim, and Shebna, & Ioah vnto Rabhakeh, Speake, I pray thee, to thy seruants in the Aramites language, (for we vnderstand it) and talke not with vs in the Iewes tongue, in the audience of the people that are on the wall. 12 Then sayd Rabhakeh, Hath my matter sent mee to thy master, and to thee to speake these wordes, and not to the men that sit on the wall, that they may eat their owne doughe, and drinke their owne & pisse with you? 13 So Rabhakeh stood, and cried with a loud voyce in the Iewes language, and said, Heare the wordes of the great king, of the King of Asshur. 14 Thus saith the King, Let not Hezekiah deceiue you: for he shall not be able to deliuer you. 15 Neither let Hezekiah make you to trust in the Lord, saying, The Lord will surely deliuer vs: his city shall not be giuen ouer into the hand of the king of Asshur. 16 Hearken not to Hezekiah: for thus saith the King of Asshur, Make appointment with me, and come out to me, that every man may eat of his owne vine, and every man of his owne figtree, and drinke every man the water of his owne well. 17 Till I come and bring you to a land like your owne lande, euen a lande of wheate and wine, a land of head and vineyards, 18 Least Hezekiah deceiue you, saying, the Lorde will deliuer vs. Hath any of the gods of the nations deliuered his land out of the hand of the king of Asshur? 19 Where is the god of Hamath, and of Arpad? where is the god of Sepharuaim? or how haue they deliuered Samaria out of mine hand? 20 Who is he among all the gods of these lands, that hath deliuered their countrey out of mine hand, that the Lorde should deliuer Ierusalem out of mine hand? 21 Then they kept silence, and answered him not a word: for the kings commandement was, saying, Answer him not. 22 Then came Eliakim the sonne of Bilkiab the steward of the house, and Shebna the chauceleur, and Ioah the sonne of Aſaph the Recorder, vnto Hezekiah with rent clothes, and tolde him the wordes of Rabhakeh. 23 Hezekiah said vnto them, Have ye punished cities for sinne. n Not that they did not shewe by cuident signes that they did detest his blasphemy: for they had nowe rent their clothes, but they knewe it was in vayne to vie long reasoning with this infidel, whose rage they should haue so much more prouoked.

m That is, of Antiochia in Syria, of the which these two other cities also were: whereby we see how euerie towne had his peculiar idole, and how the wicked make God an idole, because they doe not vnderstand that vnderstand that God maketh them his scourge, and not shewe by cuident signes that they did detest his blasphemy: for they had nowe rent their clothes, but they knewe it was in vayne to vie long reasoning with this infidel, whose rage they should haue so much more prouoked.

2 Hezekiah asketh counsel of Iſaiah, who promisseth him the victory. 10 The blasphemy of Saneherib. 16 Hezekiahs prayer. 36 The arme of Saneherib is slaine of the Angels. 38 And hee himselfe of his owne finnes.

And when the king Hezekiah heard it, he rent his clothes, & put on sackcloth, and came into the house of the Lord. 2 And he sent Eliakim the steward of the house, and Shebna the chauceleur, with the elders of the Priestes, clothed in sackcloth, vnto Iſaiah the Prophet, the sonne of Amoz. 3 And they sayde vnto him, Thus saith Hezekiah, This day is a day of tribulation and of rebuke and blasphemy: for the children are come to the birth, and there is no strength to bring forth. 4 If so be the Lord thy God hath heard the wordes of Rabhakeh whome the king of Asshur his master hath sent to raylor on the liuing God, and to reproch him with wordes which the Lorde thy God hath heard, theye lift thou vp thy prayer for the remnant that are left. 5 So the seruants of the king Hezekiah came to Iſaiah. 6 And Iſaiah sayd vnto them, Thus sayd vnto your master, Thus sayth the Lord, Be not afraid of y<sup>e</sup> wordes that thou hast heard, wherewith the seruants of the king of Asshur haue blasphemed me. 7 Beholde, I will send a blast vpon him,

2 King. 19. 1. a Inigne of grieue and repentance. b To haue comfort of him by the word of God, that his faith might be confirmed, and so his prayer be more earnest: reaching hereby, that in all dangers these two are the onely remedies, to seeke vnto God and his ministers. c We are in as great sorrow as a woman that travaileth of child, & cannot be deliuered. d That is, will declare by effect that hee hath heard it: for when God deserteth to punish it, it seemeth to the flesh, that hee knoweth not the sinne, or heareth not the cause. e Declaring that the ministers office doeth not onely stand in comforting by the word, but also in praying for the people.

f Of the Egyptians and Ethiopians that shall come and fight against him.

and he shall heare a noise, & returne to his owne lande, and I will caufe him to fall by the sword in his owne land.

8 ¶ So Rabshakeh returned, and found the king of Asshur fighting against Sennacherib: for he had heard that he was departed from Lachish.

9 ¶ Hee heard also men say of Tirhakah king of Ethiopia, Beholde, he is come out to fight against thee: and when he heard it, he sent other messengers to Hezekiah, saying,

10 Thus shall ye speake to Hezekiah king of Judah, saying, Let not thy God deceive thee, in whom thou trustest, saying, Jerusalem shall not bee giuen into the hande of the king of Asshur.

11 Behold, thou hast heard what the kings of Asshur haue done to all landes in destroying them, and that thou be deliuered?

12 Haue the gods of the nations deliuered them, which my fathers haue destroyed? as Sogah, and Haran, and Rezeph, and the children of Eden, which were at Telassar?

13 Where is the King of Hamath, and the King of Arpad, and the King of the city of Sepharuaim, Hena, and Iuah?

14 ¶ So Hezekiah receiued the letter of the hand of the messengers, and read it, and he went vp into the house of the Lord, and Hezekiah spake it before the Lord.

15 And Hezekiah prayed vnto the Lord, saying,

16 O Lord of hosts, God of Israel, which dwellest betwene the Cherubims, thou art very God alone ouer all the kingdomes of the earth: thou hast made the heauen and the earth.

17 Incline thine care, O Lord, and heare: open thine eyes, O Lord, and see, and heare all the words of Saneherib, who hath sent to blasphemie the liuing God.

18 Trueneth it is, O Lord, that the kings of Asshur haue destroyed all landes, and their countrey, 19 And haue cast their gods in the fire: for they were no gods, but the work of mens hands, euen wood or stone: therefore they destroyed them.

20 Now therefore, O Lord our God, saue thou vs out of his hand, that all the kingdomes of the earth may know, that thou only art the Lord,

21 ¶ Then Istaah the sonne of Amoz sent vnto Hezekiah, saying, Thus sayeth the Lord God of Israel, Because thou hast prayed vnto me concerning Saneherib king of Asshur, 22 This is the word that the Lord hath spoken against him. The virgin, the daughter of Zion, hath despised thee, and laughed thee to scorn: The daughter of Jerusalem hath shaken her head at thee.

23 ¶ Whom hast thou railled on, and blasphemed? and against whom hast thou exalted thy voice, and lifted up thine eyes as his? euen against the holy One of Israel.

24 By thy seruants hast thou rayled on the Lord, and sayd, I will not see the face of the Lord, and sayd, By the multitude of my chariots I am come vp to the toppe of the mountains, to the sides of Lebanon; and will cut downe the big cedars thereof, and the faire fire trees thereof, and I will goe vp to the heightes of his top, and to the forest of his fruitfull places.

25 I haue digged & and drunke the waters, and with the plants of my feete haue I dyed all the rivers closed in.

26 Hast thou not heard how I haue of olde time made it? and haue formed it long agoe? and should I now bring it, that it should bee destroyed, and layed on ruinous heapes, as cities destroyed, 27 Whyole inhabitants? haue small power, and are afraid and confounded? they are like the grass of the field and greene herbe, or graffe on the houle topp, or come blasted before it be grown.

28 But I know thy dwelling, and thy going out, and thy coming in, and thy furie against me.

29 Because thou ragest against me, and thy ruminie is come by vnto mine eares, therefore will I put mine hook in thy nostrils, and my bridle in thy lips, and will bring thee backe againe the same way thou camest.

30 And this shall be a signe vnto thee, O Hezekiah, Thou shalt eate this yeere such as groweth of it selfe: and the second yeere, such things as grow without sowing: and in the third yeere, sowe ye and reape, and plant vineyards, and eate the fruit thereof.

31 And the remnant that is escaped of the house of Iudaah, shall againe take roote downward, and beare fruit upward.

32 For out of Jerusalem shall goe a remnant: and they that escape out of mount Zion: the reule of the Lord of hostes shall doe this.

33 Therefore thus sayeth the Lord, concerning the king of Asshur, He shall not enter into this cite, nor shoot an arrow there, nor come before it with shield, nor cast a mount against it.

34 By the same way that he came, he shall returne, and not come into this cite, sayeth the Lord.

35 For I will defend this cite to saue it for mine owne sake, and for my seruants Dauids sake.

36 ¶ Then the Angel of the Lord went out, & stode in the campe of Asshur an hundredeth, thousand, and slew them: so when they arose early in the morning, beholde, they were all dead corpses.

¶ He boasteth of his policie, in that that he can finde meanes to nourish his army: & of his power, in that that his army is so great, that it is able to dry vp whole rivers, and to destroy the waters, which the Iewes had closed in.

Hezekiah is sicke. 5 Hee restored to health by the Lord, and liueth fiftene yeeres after. 10 He giueth thanks for his benefice.

A Bout that time was Hezekiah sicke vnto the death, and the Prophet Iahab sonne of Amos came vnto him, and sayde vnto him, Thus sayeth the Lord, But thine house is in an order, for thou shalt dye, and not liue.

2 Then Hezekiah<sup>b</sup> turned his face to the wall, and prayed to the Lord,

3 And said, I beseech thee, Lord, remember now how I haue walked before thee in truth, and with a perfect heart, and haue done that which is good in thy sight: and Hezekiah wept sore.

4 Then came the worde of the Lord to Iahab, saying,

5 Goe, and say vnto Hezekiah, Thus sayeth the Lord God of Dauid thy father, I haue heard thy prayer, and seene thy teares: behold, I will adde vnto thy dayes fiftene yeeres:

9 The writing of Hezekiah king of Iudah, when he had bene sicke, and was recovered of his sickness.

10 I said in the cutting off of my daies, I shall goe to the gates of the graue: I am deprived of the residue of my yeeres.

11 I sayde, I shall not see the Lord, even the Lord in the land of the liuing: I shall see man no more among the inhabitants of the world.

 12 Mine habitation is departed, and is remoued from me, like a shepherds tent: I haue cut off like a weauer, my life: he will cut mee off from the height: from day to night, thou wilt make an end of me.
 13 I reckoned to the morning: but he brake all my bones, like a lion: from day to night wilt thou make an end of me.

14 Like a crane or a swallow, so did I chatter: I did moune as a dove: mine eyes were lift vp on high: O Lord it hath appelled me, comfort me.

15 What shall I say? soz he hath sayde it to me, and he hath done it: I shall walke feewly all my yeeres in the bitterness of my soule.
 16 O Lord, I to them that outclue thee, and to all that are in them, the life of my spirit shall be knowne, that thou causedst me to sleepe, and hast giuen life to me.

17 Beholde, for felicity I had bitter griefe, but it was thy pleasure to deliuer my soule from the pitte of corruption: for thou hast cast all my sinnes behinde thy backe.

18 For the graue cannot confesse thee: death cannot praye thee: they that goe downe into the pit, cannot hope for thy truth.
 19 But the liuing, the liuing, he shall confesse thee, as I doe this day: the father to the children shall declare thy truth.

20 The Lord was ready to saue me: therefore we will sing my song, all the daies of y our life in the boule of the Lord.
 21 Then sayde Iahab, Take a lump of dry figges and lay it vpon the boye, and he shall recover.

22 Also Hezekiah had said, What is the signe that I shall goe vp into the house of the Lord?

23 They that shall outclue the men that are now alieue, and all they that are in these yeeres, shall acknowledge this benefice. r That after that they haddest condemned me to death thou restoredst mee to life. s Whereas I thought to haue liued in rest and ease, being deliuered from mine enemy, I had griefe vpon griefe. t He esteemeth more the remission of his finnes, and Gods fauour, then a thousand liues. u For as much as God hath placed n an in this world to glorifie him, the god y take it as a signe of this wrath when their dayes were shortened, either because that they seemed vnworthy for their finnes to liue longer in his seruice, or for their zeale to Gods glory, seeing that there is so fewe in earth, that doe regard it, as Psal. 65. and 115. 17. x All posterity shall acknowledge, and the fathers according to their dutie towarde their children, shall instruct them in thy graces and mercies towarde me. y Hee theweth what is the vse of the Congregation and Church: to wit, to giue the Lord thanks for his benefices. z Reade a, King. 20. 7. a As verse 7.

4 Then sayde he, What haue they seene in thine house? And Hezekiah answered, All that is in mine house haue they seene: there is nothing among my treasures that I haue not shewed them.

CHAP. XL.

2 Remission of sinnes by Christ. 3 The coming of Iohn Baptist. 4 The Prophet reprooueth the idolaters, and them that trust not in the Lord.

Comfort ye, comfort ye my people, will your God say.

2 Speake comfortably to Jerusalem, and crye vnto her, that her warfare is accomplished, that her iniquitie is pardoned: for she hath receiued of the Lords hand double for all her sinnes.

3 A voyce cryeth in the wilderness, Prepare ye the way of the Lord: make straight in the desert a path for our God.

4 Every valley shall be exalted, and euery mountaine and hill shall be made low: and the crooked shall bee straight, and the rough places plaine.

5 And the glory of the Lord shall be reuelled, and all flesh shall see it together: for the mouth of the Lord hath spoken it.

6 A voyce said, Cry. And he said, What shall I cry? All flesh is grass, and all the grace thereof is as the floure of the field.

7 The grass withereth, the floure fadeth, because the Spirit of the Lord bloweth vpon it: surely the people is grass.

8 The grass withereth, the floure fadeth: but the word of our God shall stand for euer.

9 O Zion, that bringest good tidings, get thee vp into the hie mountaine: O Jerusalem, that bringest good tidings, lift up thy voyce with strength: lift it vp, be not afraid: say vnto the cities of Iudah, Behold your God.

10 Behold, the Lord God will come with power, and his arme shall rule for him: behold, his reward is with him, and his worke before him.

11 Hee shall feede his stocke like a shepheard: he shall gather the lambs with his arme, and carle them in his bosome, and shall guide them with a yong.

12 Who hath measured the waters in his fist: and counted heauen with the spanne, and comprehended the dust of the earth in a measure: and weighed the mountaynes in a weight, and the hills in a balance?

13 Who hath instructed the Spirit of the Lord? or was his counsellor, or taught him?

14 Of whom tooke he counsell, and who instructed him and taught him in the way of iudgement? or taught him knowledge, and shewed vnto him the way of vnderstanding?

15 Beholde, the nations are as a drop of a bucket, and are counted as the dust of the balance: behold, he taketh away the yles as a little dust.

16 And Lebanon is not sufficient for fire, nor the bestes thereof sufficient for a burnt offering.

17 All nations before him are as nothing, & they are counted to him lesse then nothing, and vanity.

18 To whom then will ye liken God? or what similitude will ye set vp vnto him?

19 The workman melteth an image, or the goldsmith beateth it out in golde, or the goldsmith maketh siluer plates.

20 Doeth not the poore chuse out a tree

q Hee shall shewe his care and fauour ouer them that are weak and tender. r Declaring that as GOD onely hath all power, so doeth hee vse the same for the defence and mayntenance of his Church. s He sheweth Gods infinite wisdome for the same ende and purpose. t He speaketh all this to the intent that they should neyther feare man, nor put their trust in any, save onely in GOD. u Hee tey hee armeth them against the idolatrie wherewith they shoulde be tempted in Babylon. x Hee sheweth the rage of the idolaters, seeing that the poore that haue not to suffice their owne necessaries, will defraude themselves to serue their idoles.

b This miracle shall be great that it shall be knowne through all the world.

m The Spirit of God shall discover the vanitie in all that seeme to haue any excellencie of themselves.

n Though considering the frailty of mans nature, many of the lewes should perish, and so not be partakers of this deliuerance.

o Yet Gods promise should be fulfilled, and they that remained, shoulde feele the fruit thereof.

p To publish this benefite through all the world.

q He sheweth the perfection of all mans felicity, which is to haue Gods presence.

r His power shall be sufficient: without helpe of any other, and shall haue all means in himselfe to bring his will to passe.

that will not rotte, for an oblation? hee seeketh also vnto him a cunning workeman, to prepare an image, that shall not bee mooued.

21 Know ye nothing? haue ye not heard it? hath it not bene told you from the beginning? haue ye not vnderstood it by the foundation of the earth?

22 He siteth vpon the circle of the earth, and the inhabitants thereof are as grasshoppers, he stretcheth out the heauens, as a curtaine, and spreadeth them out, as a tent to dwell in.

23 Hee bringeth the princes to nothing, and maketh the Iudges of the earth, as vanity, 24 As though they were not planted, as though they were not lowen, as though their stocke tooke no roote in the earth: for hee did euen blow vpon them, and they withered, and the whitelewind will take them away as stubble.

25 To whom now will ye liken mee, that I should be like him, saith the holy one?

26 Lift vp your eyes on high, and behold who hath created these things, and bringeth out their armies by number, and calleth them all by names: by the greatnesse of his power and mightie strength nothing faileth.

27 Why sayest thou, O Iacob, and speakest, O Israel, My way is hid from the Lord, and my iudgement is passed ouer of my God?

28 Knowest thou not? or hast thou not heard, that the everlasting God, the Lord hath created the ends of the earthe neither fainteth, nor is wearie: there is no reaching of his understanding.

29 But he giueth strength vnto him that fainteth, & vnto him that hath no strength, hee encreaseth power.

30 Euen the yong men shall faint, and bee wearie, and the yong men shall stumble and fall.

31 But they that waite vpon the Lord, shall renew their strength: they shall lift vp the wings as the eagles: they shall runne, and not be wearie, and they shall walke and not faint.

They that trust in their owne vertue, and doe not acknowledge that all cometh of God.

CHAP. XLII.

2 Gods mercie in chusing his people. 6 Their idolatrie. 27 Deliueraunce promised to Zion.

1 Cepe silence before me, O ylandes, and let the people renew their strength: let them come neere, and let them speake; let vs come together into iudgement.

2 Who called vs to iustice from the East, and called him to his foote? and gaue the nations before him, and subdued the kings? he gaue them as dust to his sword, and as scattered stubble vnto his bow.

3 He pursued them, & passed safely by the way that he had not gone with his feete.

4 Who hath wrought and done it? hee that calleth the generations from the beginning. I the Lord am the first, and with the last I am the same.

5 The yles saw it, and did feare, and the endes of the earth were abashed, betwenee, and came.

6 Euery man helped his neighbour, and sayde to his brother, Be strong.

7 So the workeman comforted the founder, and he that smote with the hammer, him that smote by course, saying, It is ready for the sodering, and he fastened it with nailes that it should not be mooued.

8 But thou, Israel, art my seruant, and thou Iacob, whom I haue chosen, the seede of Abraham my friend.

9 For I haue taken thee from the endes of the earth, and called thee before the chiefe thereof, and saide vnto thee, Thou art my seruant: I haue chosen thee, & not cast thee away.

10 Feare thou not, for I am with thee: bee not afrayde, for I am thy God: I will strengthen thee, & helpe thee, & will susteine thee with the right hand of my iustice.

11 Beholde, all they that prouoke thee, shall be ashamed, and confounded: they shall be as nothing, and they that strue with thee shall perish.

12 Thou shalt seeke them, and shalt not find them: to wit, the men of thy knife, for they shall be as nothing, and the men that warre against thee, as a thing of nought.

13 For I the Lord thy God will hold thy right hand, saying vnto thee, Feare not, I will helpe thee.

14 Feare not, thou worne Iacob, and see men of Israel: I will helpe thee, sayth the Lord, and thy redeemer the holy one of Israel.

15 Beholde, I will make thee a roller, and a new threshing instrument hauing teeth: thou shalt thresh the mountaines, & bring them to powder, and shalt make the hills as chaffe.

16 Thou shalt fenne them, and the wind shall cary them away, and the whitelewind shall scatter them: and thou shalt reioyce in the Lord, and shalt glory in the holy one of Israel.

17 When the poore and the needie seeke water, & there is none, (their tongue faileth for thirst: I the Lord will heare them: I the God of Israel will not forsake them.)

18 I will open riuers in y tops of the hills, and fountaines in the mids of the balleyes: I will make the widernesse as a poole of water, and the waste land as springes of water.

19 I will set in the wildernesse the cedar, the sycittar tree, and the myrris tree, and the pine tree, and I will set in the wildernesse the firre tree, the elme and the boxe tree together.

that shall bee afflicted in the captiuitie of Babylon. p God will rather change the order of nature, then they should want any thing, that crieth to him by true faith in their miseries: declaring to them hereby that they shall lacke nothing by the way, when they returne from Babylon.

i And therefore oughtest thou not to pollute thy selfe with the superstition of the Gentiles.

k That is, by the force of my promise, in the performance whereof I will shew my selfe faithfull and iust.

l Because they shall be destroyed.

m Thus he calleth them because they were contemned of all the world, & that they considering their owne poore estate, should seeke vnto him for helpe.

y Haue ye not the word of God which plainly condemneth idolatrie?
z Can you not learne by the visible creatures whom God hath made to serue you vs, that you should not serue them nor worship them?
a So that his power appeareth in every place wherefoeuer wee turne our eyes.
b Who hath set in order the infinite number of the starres.
c He rebuketh the Iewes, because they did not rest on the prouidence of God, but thought that he had forsaken them in their troubles.
d And therefore all power is in his hand to deliuer when his time cometh.
e Shewing, that man must patiently abide, and not curiously seeke out the cause of Gods delay in our afflictions.

i Who called Iacob (who was the paterne of Gods iustice in deliuering his Church) from the idolatrie of the Caldeans to goe to and fro at his commandement, and placed him in the land of Canaan?

q That is, hath appointed, and determined that it shall come to passe.

r Hee biddeth the idolaters to prove their religion, and to bring forth their idoles, that they may be tried whether they know all things, and can doe all things: which if they cannot doe, hee concludeth that they are no gods, but vile idoles.

s So that a man cannot make an idole, but hee must doe that, which God detesteth and abhorreth: for he chuseth his owne deuities, and forsaketh the Lords, t Meaning, the Chaldeans.

u That is, Cyrus, who shall do all things in my Name, and by my direction: whereby he meaneth, that both their captiuitie, and deliuerance shall be ordered by Gods providence and appointment. x Both of the Chaldeans and others. y Meaning, that none of the Gentiles gods can work any of these things. z That is, the Israelites, which returne from the captiuitie. a To wit, a continual succession of Prophets and ministers. b When I looked whether the idols could doe these things, I found that they had neither wisdom nor power to doe any thing: therefore hee concludeth that all are wicked, that trust in such vanitie.

1 The obedience & humilitie of Christ. 6 Why he was sent into the world. 11 The vocation of the Gentiles.

2 Beholde, my seruant: b I will stay by you him: mine elect, in whom my soule delighteth: I haue put my Spirit vpon him: he shall bring forth iudgement to the Gentiles.

3 He shall not cry, nor lift vp, nor cause to be mentioned any great promise, because he is the foundation whereupon all the promises are made and ratified. b For I haue committed all my power to him, as to a most faithful steward. Some read, I will establish him, to wit, in his office, by giuing him the fullness of my Spirit. c Hee only is acceptable vnto me, and they that come vnto me by him: for there is no other meane of reconciliation, Mat. 11. 28. eph. 1. 4. d He shall declare himselfe gouernour ouer the Gentiles, and call them by his worde, and rule them by his Spirit. e His coming shall not be with pompe and noise, as earthly princes.

3 A builded reed shall he not breake, and the smoking flaxe shall he not quench: hee shall bring forth iudgement in truth.

4 Hee shall not faile nor be discouraged till hee haue iudgement in the earth: and the ples shall waite for his law.

5 Thus saith God the Lord, (hee that created the heauens & spread them abroad: he that stretched forth the earth, and the budde thereof: he that giueth breath vnto the people vpon it, and spirit to them that walke therein.)

6 I the Lord haue called thee in righteousness, and will holde mine hand, and I will keepe thee, and giue thee for a covenant of the people, and for a light of the Gentiles.

7 That thou mayest open the eyes of the blind, and bring out the prisoners from the prison: and them that sit in darkenesse, out of the prison house.

8 I am the Lord, this is my Name, and my glory will I not giue to another, neither my praye to grauen images.

9 Behold, the former things are come to passe, and new things doe I declare: before they come forth, I tell you of them.

10 Sing vnto the Lord a new song, and his praye from the end of the earth: ye that goe downe to the sea, and all that is therein: the ples and the inhabitants thereof.

11 Let the wilderness & the cities thereof lift vp their voice, the towncs that a Redar doeth inhabit: let the inhabitants of the rocks sing: let them shoute from the toppe of the mountaines.

12 Let them giue glory vnto the Lord, and declare his praye in the ylands.

13 The Lord shall goe forth as a gyant: hee shall stirre by his courage like a man of warre, he shall shout and cry, and shall preuaile against his enemies.

14 I haue a long time holden my peace: I haue bene still and restrained my selfe: now will I cry like a traoualing woman: I will destroy and deuoure at once.

15 I will make waste mountaines and hills, and dry vp all their herbes, & I will make the floods ylands, and I will dry vp the postes.

16 And I will bring the blinde by a way that they knew not, and leade them by paths that they haue not known: I will make darkenesse light before them, and crooked things straight. These things will I do vnto them, and not forsake them.

17 They shall be turned backe: they shall see greatly ashamed, that trust in grauen images, and say to the molten images, Wee are our gods.

18 Heare, yee deafe: and yee blinde, regard, that ye may see.

19 Who is blinde but my seruant? or the zeale of the Lorde, and his power in the confutation of his Church. f I will hast to execute my vengeance, which I haue so long deferred, as a woman that desisteth to be deliuered, when shee is in trauaile. t That is, my poore people which are in perplexitie and care. u To wit, Israel, which should haue been light because of my Law.

f Hee will not hurt the weak and feeble, but support & comfort them.

g Meaning, the wick of a lampe, or candle, which is almost out, but hee will cherish it and snuffe it, that it may shine brighter.

n As him by whom the promise made to all nations in Abraham, shall be fulfilled.

o I will not suffer my glorie to be diminished: which I should doe, if I were not faithful in performing the same, & the idolaters thereby would extoll their idoles aboue mee.

y As the priests and prophets, that should be lights to others?

z Because they will not acknowledge this benefite of the Lord, who is ready to deliuer them, hee suffereth them to be spoiled of their enemies through their owne fault and incredulitie.

20 Seeing many things, but thou keepest them not, opening the eares, but he heareth not?

21 The Lorde is willing for his righteousness sake that he may magnifie the Law, and exalt it.

22 But this people is robbed and spoiled, and shall be all lined in dungeons, and they shall be hid in prison houses: they shall be for a pray, and none shall deliuer: a spoile, and none shall say, y Restore.

23 Who among you shall hearken to this, and take heed, and heare for afterwards?

24 Who gaue Iacob for a spoyle, and Israel to the robbers? Did not the Lord, because we haue sinned against him: for they would not walke in his wayes, neither be obedient vnto his Law.

25 Therefore he hath powred vpon him his fierce wrath, and the strengty of battell: and it set him on fire round about, and hee knew not, and it burned him vp, yet he considered not.

they shall haue eyes, and the deafe, and they shall haue eares.

9 Let all the nations be gathered together, and let the people be assembled: who among them can declare this? & shewe vs former things? let them bring forth their witnessnes, that they may be iustificed: but let them be heare, and say, It is truerth.

10 For I am my witnessnes, saith the Lord, and my seruant, whom I haue chosen: therefore ye shall know and beleue me, and ye shall vnderstand that I am: before me there was no God formed, neither shall there be after me.

11 I, Iuen I am the Lord, and beside mee there is no Saviour.

12 I haue declared, and I haue saued, and I haue shewed, when there was no strange god among you: therefore you are my witnessnes, sayeth the Lord, that I am God.

13 Yea, before the day was, I am, and there is none that can deliuer out of mine hand: I will doe it, and who shall let it?

14 Thus saith the Lord your redeemer, the holy one of Israel, For your sake I haue sent to Babel, and brought it downe: they are all fugitives, and the Chaldeans cry in the ships.

15 I, I am the Lord your holy one, the creator of Israel, your king.

16 Thus saith the Lorde which maketh a way in the sea, and a path in the mightie waters.

17 When he bringeth out the charret and hoyle, the armie and the power lie together, and shall not rise: they are extinct, and quenched as towne.

18 Remember ye not the former things, neither regard the things of old.

19 Behold, I doe a new thing: now shall it come forth: shall you not know it? I will euen make a way in the desert, and floods in the wilderness.

20 The wilde beasts shall honour mee, the dragons & the ostriches, because I gaue water in the desert, and floods in the wilderness to giue drinke to my people, euen to mine elect.

21 This people haue I formed for my selfe: they shall shew forth my praye.

22 And thou hast not called vpon mee, O Iacob, but thou hast wearied mee, O Israel.

23 Thou hast not brought me the sheepe of thy burnt offerings, neither hast thou honoured mee with thy sacrifices. I haue not caused thee to serue with an offering, nor wearied thee with incense.

h Signifying, that no power can resist him in doing his miraculous works, nor at their idols are able to doe the like, as Chap. 41. 22.

i To proue that the things which are spoken of them, are true.

k Shewing, that the malice of the wicked hindereth them in the knowledge of the truth, because they will not heare when God speaketh by his word.

CHAP. XLIII.

The Lord comforteth his people. Hee promisseth deliuerance to the Iewes. There is no God but one alone.

1 BUt now thus saith the Lord, a that created thee, O Iacob: and he that formed thee, O Israel, b feare not: for I haue redeemed thee: I haue called thee by thy name, c thou art mine.

2 When thou wast thorow the waters, I will be with thee, and thorow the floods, that they doe not ouerflowe thee. d When thou walkest thorow the very fire thou shalt not be burnt, neither shall the flame kindle vpon thee.

3 For I am the Lord thy God, the holy one of Israel, thy Saviour: I gaue e Egypt for thy ranfome, Ethiopia & Seba for thee.

4 Because thou wast precious in my sight, and thou wast honourable, and I loued thee, therefore will I giue a man for thee, and people for thy sake.

5 Fear not, for I am with thee: I will bring thy seede from the East, and gather thee from the West.

6 I will lay to the North, & Sine: and to the South, keepe not back: bring my sonnes from far, and my daughters from the ends of the earth.

7 Every one shall be called by my name: for I created him for my glory, formed him and made him.

8 I will bring forth the blind people, and doe, and so were as the payment of thy ranfome, Chap. 37. 9. e I will not spare any man rather then thou shouldst perish: for God more esteemeth one of his faithful, then all the wicked in the world. f He propheseth of their deliuerance from the captiuitie of Babylon, and so of the calling of the vniuersall Church, alluding to that which is written, Deut. 30. 3. g Meaning, that he could noe be vniuindfull of them, except he would neglect his owne name & glory.

9 Let all the nations be gathered together, and let the people be assembled: who among them can declare this? & shewe vs former things? let them bring forth their witnessnes, that they may be iustificed: but let them be heare, and say, It is truerth.

10 For I am my witnessnes, saith the Lord, and my seruant, whom I haue chosen: therefore ye shall know and beleue me, and ye shall vnderstand that I am: before me there was no God formed, neither shall there be after me.

11 I, Iuen I am the Lord, and beside mee there is no Saviour.

12 I haue declared, and I haue saued, and I haue shewed, when there was no strange god among you: therefore you are my witnessnes, sayeth the Lord, that I am God.

13 Yea, before the day was, I am, and there is none that can deliuer out of mine hand: I will doe it, and who shall let it?

14 Thus saith the Lord your redeemer, the holy one of Israel, For your sake I haue sent to Babel, and brought it downe: they are all fugitives, and the Chaldeans cry in the ships.

15 I, I am the Lord your holy one, the creator of Israel, your king.

16 Thus saith the Lorde which maketh a way in the sea, and a path in the mightie waters.

17 When he bringeth out the charret and hoyle, the armie and the power lie together, and shall not rise: they are extinct, and quenched as towne.

18 Remember ye not the former things, neither regard the things of old.

19 Behold, I doe a new thing: now shall it come forth: shall you not know it? I will euen make a way in the desert, and floods in the wilderness.

20 The wilde beasts shall honour mee, the dragons & the ostriches, because I gaue water in the desert, and floods in the wilderness to giue drinke to my people, euen to mine elect.

21 This people haue I formed for my selfe: they shall shew forth my praye.

CHAP. XLIIII.

5 The Lord promisseth comfort, and that he will assemble his Church of diuers nations. 9 The warning of idolers. 17 The blasfines of idolaters.

Y Et now heare, O Iacob my seruant, and Israel whom I haue chosen.

2 Thus saith the Lorde that made thee, and formed thee from the wombe: hee will helpe thee. Feare not, O Iacob, my seruant, and thou righteous, whom I haue chosen.

3 For I will powre water vpon the thirte, and floods vpon the dry ground: I will powre my Spirit vpon thy seede, and my blessing vpon thy buds,

4 And they shall growe as among the grasse, and as the willowes by the riuers of waters.

5 One shall say, I am the Lords: another shall be called by the name of Iacob: and another shall subscribe with his hand vnto the Lord, and name himselfe by the name of Israel.

6 Thus sayeth the Lord the King of Israel, and his redeemer the Lord of hosts, I am the first, and I am the last, and without me there is no God.

7 And who is like me, that shall call, and shall declare it, and set it in order before mee, since I appointed the ancient people: and what is to at hand, and what things are to come? let them shew vnto them.

8 Feare ye not, neither be afraid: haue not I told thee of old, and haue declared it: you are euen my witnesses, whether there bee a God beside mee, and that there is no God that I know not.

9 All they that make an image, are vanitie, and their delectable things shall no thing profit: and they are their owne wittnesse, that they see not nor knowe: therefore they shall be confounded.

10 Who hath made a god, or molten an image, that is profitable for nothing?

11 Behold, all that are of the fellowship thereof shall be confounded: for the workmen themselues are men: let them all be gathered together, and stand by, yet they shall feare, and be confounded together.

12 The smith taketh an instrument, and worketh in the coles, and fashioneth it with hammers, and worketh it with the strength of his armes: yea, he is an hungred, and his strength faileth: he drinketh no water, and is faint.

13 The carpenter stretcheth out a line: he fashioneth it with a red thred, he planeth it, and he putteth it with the compass, and maketh it after the figure of a man, and according to the beaultie of a man that it may remaine in an house.

14 He will hew him downe cedars, and take the pine tree and the oke, and taketh courage among the trees of the forest: hee planteth a firre tree, and the caine doth nourish it.

15 And man burneth thereof: for he will take thereof and warme himselfe: hee also kindleth it, and baketh bread, yet he maketh a god and worshippeth it: hee maketh it an idole and boweth vnto it.

16 He burneth the halfe thereof euen in the fire, and vpon the halfe thereof he eateth flesh: he roseth the roste and is satisfied: also he warmeth himselfe and saith, Aha, I am warme, I haue bene at the fire.

17 And the residue thereof hee maketh a god, euen his idole: he boweth vnto it, and worshippeth and prayeth vnto it, and saith, Deliuere me: for thou art my God.

18 They haue not knowen, nor vnderstood: for God hath thut their eyes that they cannot see, and their hearts, that they cannot vnderstand.

19 And none considereth in his heart, neither is there knowledge nor vnderstanding to say, I haue burnt halfe of it, euen in the fire, and haue baked bread alio vpon the coales thereof: I haue rosted flesh, and eaten it, and shall I make the residue thereof an abomination? shall I bow to the stocks of a tree?

20 Hee feedeth of ashes: a seduced heart hath deceiued him, that hee cannot deliuere his soule, nor say, Is there not a lie in my right hand?

To place it in some Temple, u Hee setteth soorth the obfusacie and malice of the idolaters, which though they see by dayly experience that their idoles are no better then the rest of the matter whereof they are made, yet they refuse the one part, and make a God of the other, as the Papists make their cake god, and the rest of their idoles.

x That is, he either maketh a table or trenchers, y The Prophet giueth here an answer to all them that wonder how it is possible that any should be so blinde to commit such abomination, saying, that God hath blinded their eyes, and hardened their hearts.

z He is abused as one that would eate ashes, thinking to satisfie his hungcr.

n That is, the idolaters seeing their idoles blinde, must needs be wittnesse of their owne blindness, and feeling that they are not able to helpe them, must confesse that they haue no power.

o Meaning, that whatsoever is made by the hand of man, if it be cleemed as God, is most delectable.

p Whereby appeareth their blasphemie, which call images the books of the laitie, seeing that they are not onely here called vnprofitable, but chap. 41. 24. abominable: and Ieremie calleth them the worke of errors, Ierem. 10. 15., Habakkuk, a lying teacher, 2. 18.

q That is, which by any way content either to the making, or worshipping.

r Signifying, that the multitude shall not then see the idolaters, when God will take vengeance, although they excuse themselves thereby among men.

s He describeth the raging affection of the e By this diuersitie of speech, he meaneth one thing, that is, that the people shall be holy, and receive the true religion of God, as Psalme 37. 5.

f I am alwayes like my selfe, that is, mercifull toward my Church, and most able to maintaine it, as Chap 41. 4. and 48. 12. reuelat 1. 17. and 22. 13. g And appoint them that shall deliuer the Church. h That is, declare vnto mee how I ought to proceede herein. i God calleth the Israelites ancient, because he preferred them to all other, in his eternal election. k Meaning their idoles.

l Reade Chap 43. 10. m Whatsoeuer they bestow vpon their idoles to make them to seem glorious.

a Shewing that mans heart is most inclined to idolatry, and therefore he warrneth his people by these examples, that they should not cleave to any but to the living God, when they should be among the idolaters.

b He sheweth that the worke of the Lord toward his people shall be so great, that the insensible creatures shall be moued therewith.

c Hee armeth them against the soothsayers of Babylon, which would haue borne them in hand that they knew by the starres that God would not deliuer them, and that Babylon should stand.

d Of Isaiah & the rest of his Prophets, which did assure the Church of Gods fauour and deliuerance.

21. Remember these (O Iakob and Israel) for thou art my seruant: I haue formed thee: thou art my seruant: O Israel forget me not.

22 I haue put away thy transgressions like a cloud, and thy iniquities as a mist: turne vnto me, for I haue redeemed thee.

23 Reioyce ye heauens: for the Lord hath done it: mounte, ye lower parts of the earth: brast forth into prayles, ye mountains, O forest, and euery tree therein: for the Lord hath redeemed Iakob, and will be glorified in Israel.

24 Thus saith the Lord thy redeemer, and hee that formed thee from the wombe, I am y Lord that made all things, that spread out the heauens alone, and stretched out the earth by my selfe.

25 I destroy the tokens of the soothsayers, and make them that coniecture, fooles, and turne the wisemen backward, & make their knowledge foolishnesse.

26 Hee considereth the word of his seruant, & performeth the counsell of his messengers, saying to Jerusalem, Thou shalt be inhabited: and to the cities of Iudah, Pee shall be built vpon, and I will repaire the decayed places thereof.

27 He saith to the deepe, Be drie, and I will drie by the floods.

28 He saith to Cyrus, Thou art my shepheard: and hee shall performe all my desire: saying also to Jerusalem, Thou shalt be built: and to the Temple, Thy foundation shall be surely laied.

e He sheweth that Gods worke should be no lesse notable in this their deliuerance, then when hee brought them out of Egypt through the sea, for To assure them of their deliuerance, hee nameth the person, by whom it should be, more then a hundreth yere before he was borne.

5 I am the Lord and there is none other: there is no God beside mee: I s giued thee though thou hast not known me.

6 That they may know from the rising of the sunne and from the West, that there is none beside me. I am the Lord, and there is none other.

7 I forme the light and create darkness: I make peace and create euill: I the Lord doe all these things.

8 Pee heauens send the dewe from aboue, and let the cloudes droppe downe: I righte iudicall: let the earth open, and let saluation and iustice growe forth: let it bring them forth together: I the Lord haue created him.

9 What bee vnto him that striueth with his maker, the posherd with the posherds of the earth: shall the clay say to him that fashioneth it, What makest thou? or thy worke, or I haue none hands?

10 What bee vnto him that saith to his father, What hast thou begotten? or to his mother, What hast thou brought forth?

11 Thus saith the Lord, the Holy one of Israel, and his maker, Make me of things to come concerning my lonnes, and concerning the workes of mine hands: commaund you me.

12 I haue made the earth, and created man vpon it: I, whose hands haue spread out the heauens, I haue euen commaunded all their armie.

13 I haue rayled him by in righteousnesse, and I will direct all his wayes: hee shall bulde my citie, and hee shall let goe my captiuitie, not for a price nor reward, saith the Lord of hostes.

14 Thus saith the Lord, The labour of Egypt, and the merchandise of Ethiopia, and of the Sabaeans, men of stature shall come vnto thee, and they shall be thine: they shall follow thee, and shall goe in chains: they shall fall downe before thee, and make supplication vnto thee, saying, Surely, God is in thee, and there is none other God besides.

15 Verily thou, O God, hidest thy selfe, O God, the labour of Israel.

16 All theye shall be ashamed and also confounded: they shall goe to confusion together, that are the makers of images.

17 But Israel shall be saued in the Lord, with an euertlasting saluation: yee shall not be ashamed nor confounded world without end.

18 For thus saith the Lord (that created heauen, God himselfe, that formed the earth, g I haue giuen thee strength, power and authoritie, h I send peace and warre, prosperitie, and aduersitie, as Amos, 3.6.

i He comforteth the Iewes, as if he would say, Though when yee looke to the heauens & earth for succour, yee see nothing now, but signes of Gods wrath, yet I will cause them to bring forth most certaine tokens of your deliuerance, and of the performance of my promise, which is meant by righteousnesse, k I haue appointed Cyrus to this vnto and purpose.

l Hereby hee brideth their impatience, which in a seruile and trouble murmure against God, and will not carie his pleasure: willing that man should match with his like, & not contend against God.

m That is, it is not perfectly made.

n In stead of murmuring, humble your selues, and aske what ye will for the consolation of my children, and you shall be sure o fit, as ye are of these things which are at your commaundment.

Some reade it with an interrogation, & make it the application of the similitude. o That is, the starres. p To wit, Cyrus, that I may thin by him the faithfulness of my promise in deliuering my people. q Meaning, freely, and without ranfome, or any grieuous condition. r These people were tributaries to the Persians, and so King Artabastate gaue his money toward the building of the Temple. Ezra. 7. 21.

f Whereas before they were thine enemies, they shall now honour thee, & thou shalt rule them: which was accomplished in the time of Christ. t Hereby hee exhorteth the Iewes to patience, though their deliuerance bee deferred for a time: shewing that they should not repent their long patience, but the wicked and idolaters shall be destroyed.

CHAP. XLV.

1 The deliuerance of the people by Cyrus. 9 God is iust in all his workes. 20 The calling of the Gentiles.

Thus saith the Lord vnto Cyrus his anoynted, whose right hand I haue holden: to subdue nations before him: therefore will I weaken the loynes of kings, and open the doores before him, and the gates shall not be shut.

2 I will goe before thee and make the crooked straight: I will breake the brazen doores, and burst the yron barres.

3 And I will giue thee the treasures of darkness, and the things hid in secret places, that thou mayest know that I am the Lord which call thee by thy name, euen the God of Israel.

4 For Iakob my seruants sake, and Israel mine elect: I will euen call thee by thy name, and name thee, though thou hast not knowne me.

d I will take away all impediments and lets, e Not that Cyrus did know God to worship him aright, but hee had a certaine particular knowledge, as prophane men may haue of his power, and so was compelled to deliuer Gods people, f Not for any thing that is in thee, or for thy worthinesse.

a To assure the Iewes of their deliuerance against the great temptation that they should abide, he nameth the person and the means, b Because Cyrus should execute the office of a deliuerer, God called him his anoynted for a time, but after an other sort then hee called David, c To guide him in y deliuerance of my people. d I will take away all impediments and lets, e Not that Cyrus did know God to worship him aright, but hee had a certaine particular knowledge, as prophane men may haue of his power, and so was compelled to deliuer Gods people, f Not for any thing that is in thee, or for thy worthinesse.

n To wit, of man, but chiefly of his Churc h- x As doth a false gods which give vncertaine answers.

y Al ye Idolaters which though you seeme to haue neuer so much worldly dignity, yet in Gods sight you are vile & abiect.

z He calleth the idolaters to repentance, willing them to looke vnto him with the eye of faith.

a That is, that the thing which I haue promised shall be faithfully performed.

b The knowledge of God, and the true worshipping shall be through all the world. Rom. 14. 11. Phil. 2. 10 wherby he signifieth y we must not onely serue God in heart, but declare the same also by outward profession.

c Meaning, the contemners of God.

a These were chief idolers of Babylon. b Because they were of gold and siluer, the Medes and Persians carried them away.

c The Beastes that caried the idolers, led downe vnder their burden.

d He denideth the idolers, which had neither soule nor sense.

e He sheweth the difference betweene the idolers and the true Gnd: for they must be caried of other, but God himselfe carrieth his, as Deut. 32. 11. f Seeing I haue begotren you, I will nourish and preferre you for euer. g The people of God, seeing their owne calamitie, and the flourishing state of the Babylonians, should be tempted to thinke y their God was not le mightie as the idolers of their enemies: therefore he describeth the originall of all the idolers, to make them to be abhorred of all men: shewing that the most that can be spoken in their commendation, is but to reprooue them vile, Baruch 6. 25.

and made it: hee hath prepared it, hee created it not in vaine: he formed it to bee inhabited) I am the Lord, and there is none other.

19 I haue not spoken in secret, neither in a place of darkenesse in the earth: I said not in vaine to the seed of Jaakob. Seeke you mee: For the Lord doe speake righteousness, and declare righteous things.

20 Assemble your selues, and come: draw neere together, yee abiect of the Gentiles: they haue no knowledge, that let vp the wood of their idole, and pray vnto a god, that cannot saue them.

21 Tell ye and bring them, and let them take counsell together, who hath declared this from the beginning: or hath tolde it of olde? Haue not I the Lord? there is none other God beside me, a iust God, and a Saviour: there is none beside me.

22 Looke vnto me, and ye shall be saued: all the ends of the earth shall be saued: for I am God, and there is none other.

23 I haue sworne by my selfe: the word is gone out of my mouth in righteousness, and shall not returne, That euery knee shall bowe vnto mee, and euery tongue shall sweare by me.

24 Surely he shall say, In y Lord haue I righteousness and strength: he shall come vnto him, and all that prouoke him, shall be ashamed.

25 The whole seed of Israel shall be justified, and glorie in the Lord.

saithfull shall feele and confesse this d All the contemners of God.

CHAP. XLVI.

1 The destruction of Babylon & of their idoles. 3 He calleth the Iewes to the consideration of his works.

B El is bowed downe: a Hebo is fallen: and vpon the idoles were vpon the beastes, and vpon the cattell: they which did beare you, were laden with a wearie burden.

2 c They are bowed downe, and fallen together: for they could not ridde them of the burden, and their soule is gone into captiuitie.

3 Heare yee me, O house of Jaakob, and all that remaine of the house of Israel, which are borne of mee, from the wombe, and brought vp of me from the birth.

4 Therefore vnto olde age, I the same, euen I will beare you vntill the hoare haires: I haue made you: I will also beare you, and I will care you, f and I will deliuer you.

5 ¶ To whom will yee make mee like, or make mee equal, or compare mee, that I should be like him?

f Seeing I haue begotren you, I will nourish and preferre you for euer. g The people of God, seeing their owne calamitie, and the flourishing state of the Babylonians, should be tempted to thinke y their God was not le mightie as the idolers of their enemies: therefore he describeth the originall of all the idolers, to make them to be abhorred of all men: shewing that the most that can be spoken in their commendation, is but to reprooue them vile, Baruch 6. 25.

6 They draw gold out of the bagge, and weigh siluer in the balance, and hire a goldsmith to make a god of it, and they bow down and worship it.

7 They beare it vpon the shoulders: they carry him and set him in his place: so doeth hee stand, and cannot remouee from his place. Though one cry vnto him, yet can he not answer, nor deliuer him out of his tribulation.

8 Remember this, and be ashamed: bring it againe to vnto vnto, and ye transgressers.

9 Remember the former things of olde: for I am God, and there is none other God, and there is nothing like me,

10 Which declare the last thing from the beginning: and from of olde, the things that were not done, saying, My counsell shall stand, and I will doe whatsoeuer I will.

11 I call a bird from the East, and the man of my counsell from farre: as I haue spoken, so will I bring it to passe: I haue purposed it, and I will doe it.

12 Heare me, ye stubburne hearted, that are farre from iustice.

13 I bring nere my iustice: it shall not be farre off, and my saluation shall not tarry: for I will giue saluation in Zion, and my glorie vnto Israel.

CHAP. LXVII.

The destruction of Babylon, and the causes wherefore.

C ome downe and sit in the dust, O virgine, daughter Babel, sit on the ground: there is no thron, O daughter of the Chaldeans: for thou shalt no more bee called, Tender and delicate.

2 Take the millstones, and grind meate: loose thy locks: make bare the feete: uncover the legges, and passe through the floods.

3 Thy filthinesse shall be discovered, and thy shame shall bee scene: I will take vengeance, and I will not meeete thee as a man.

4 Our redeemer, the Lord of hostes is his name, the holy one of Israel.

5 Sit still, and get thee into darkenesse: O daughter of the Chaldeans: for thou shalt no more be called, The Ladie of kingdoms.

6 I was wroth with my people: I haue polluted mine inheritance, and giuen them into thine hand: thou diddest shew them no mercy, but thou diddest lay thy very heauy yoke vpon the ancient.

7 And thou saidst, I shall bee a Lady for euer, so that thou diddest not let thy minde to these things, neither didst thou remember the latter end thereof.

8 Therefore now heare, thou that art giuen to pleasures, and dwellest carelesse, shee saith in her heart, I am and none else: I shall not sit as a widow, neither shall I know the losse of children.

9 But the two things that come to thee suddenly in one day, the losse of children, and widowhoode, they shall come vpon thee.

h They abused Gods iudgements, thinking that they would utterly cast them off, and therefore instead of pitying their miserie, thou diddest increase it.

h Become wise, meaning that all idolaters are without wic or sense, like mad men.

i That is, Cyrus, which shall come as swift as a bird, and fight against Babylon.

k Him by whom I haue appointed to execute that, which I haue determined.

l Which by your incredulitie would let the performance of my promise.

m He sheweth that mans incredulitie cannot abolish the promise of God, Rom. 3. 3.

a Which hath lured in wealth & wantonnes, and hath not yet been overcome by any enemies.

b Thy gouernment shall be taken from thee.

c Thou shalt be brought to moke vile seruitude: for to turne the mill was the office of slaues.

d The things wherein shee fetch her greatest pride shall be made vile, euen from the head to the foote.

e I will vse no humanitie nor pitie toward thee.

f The Israelites shall confesse, that the Lord doeth this for his Churches sake.

g For very shame, and hide thy selfe.

h Hee punished the Israelites, because he would utterly cast them off, and therefore instead of pitying their miserie, thou diddest increase it.

i So that thy punishment shall be so great as is possible to be imagined.

k Thou dost thinke that thine owne wisdom, & policie would haue saued thee. l He denieth their vaine confidence, that put their trust in any thing but in God condemning also such vaine sciences, which serue to no vse, but to delude y<sup>e</sup> people, & to bring them from depending onely on God. m They shall vterly perish, and no part of them remaine. n They shall see euery one to that place, which he thought by his speculations to be most sure: but that shall deceiue them, thee in their i perfection, for the multitude of thy diuinations, & for the great abundance of thine inchanters.

10 For thou hast trusted in thy wickednesse: thou hast sayd, None seeth me. Thy wisdom, & thy knowledges they haue caused thee to rebel, and thou hast said in thine heart, I am, and none els.

11 Therefore shall euill come vpon thee, and thou shalt not know the morning thereof: destruction shall fall vpon thee, which thou shalt not be able to put away: destruction shall come vpon thee suddenly, yet thou beware.

12 Stand now among thine inchanters, and in y<sup>e</sup> multitude of thy soothsayers (with whom thou hast wearied thy selfe from thy y<sup>o</sup>uth) if so be thou mayest haue profite, or if so be thou mayest haue strenght.

13 Thou art wearied in the multitude of thy counsell: let now the Astrologers, the Starre-gazers, and Diviners stand vpon, and saue thee from these things, that shall come vpon thee.

14 Behold, they shall bee as stubble: the fire shall burne them: they shall not deliuer their owne liues from the power of y<sup>e</sup> flame: there shall be no coales to warme at, nor light to lit by.

15 Thus shall they serue thee, with whom thou hast wearied thee, euen the merchants from thy youth: euery one that wander to his owne quarter: none shall saue thee.

CHAP. XLVIII.

1 The hypocrisie of the Jewes is reproofed. 2 The Lord alone will be worshipped, 20 Of their deliuerance out of Babylon.

a He deteeth their hypocrisie which vaunted themselves to be Israelites and were not so in deed.

b Meaning the fontaine and stocke.

c They make a shew, as though they would haue none other God.

d He sheweth that they could not accuse him in any thing, forasmuch as he had performed whatsoever he had promised.

e I haue done for thee more then I promised, that thy stubburnes and impudencie might haue bene ouercome.

f How thou shouldst be deliuered out of Babylon. g Will ye not acknowledge this my benefite and declare it vnto others?

Heare ye this, O house of Iaacob, which are called by the name of Israel, & are come out of the waters of Iudah: which I sweare by the Name of the Lord, and make mention of the God of Israel, but not in truth nor in righteousness.

2 For they are called of the holy city, and say themselves vpon the God of Israel, whose name is the Lord of hostes.

3 I haue declared the former things of olde, and they went out of my mouth, and I shewed them: I did them suddenly, and they came to passe.

4 Because I knew, that euen thou art obstinate, and thy necke is as yron sinew, and thy browe braffe,

5 Therefore I haue declared it to thee of old: before it came to passe, I shewed it thee, lest thou shouldst say, Mine idole hath done them, and my carued image, & my molten image hath commanded them.

6 Thou hast heard, beholde all this, and will not v<sup>e</sup> declare it? I haue shewed thee new things, euen now, & hid things, which thou knewest not.

7 They are created now, and not of old, & euen before this thou heardest them not, lest thou shouldst say, Behold, I knowe them.

8 Yet thou heardest them not, neither diddest knowe them, neither yet was thine care opened of olde: for I knew that thou wouldst grieuously transgresse: therefore haue I called thee a transgressor from the wombe.

9 For my Names sake will I deferre my wrath, and for my praise will I reframe it from thee, that I set thee not off.

10 Behold, I haue fined thee, but not as sinner: I haue chosen thee in the furnace of affliction.

11 For mine owne sake, for mine owne sake will I doe it: for how should my Name be polluted? surely I will not giue my glory vnto another.

12 Heare me, O Iaacob, and Israel my called, I am, I am the first, and I am the last.

13 Surely mine hand hath layd the foundation of the earth, and my right hand hath spanned the heauens: when I call them, they stand by together.

14 All you, assemeble your selues, & heare: which among them hath declared these things? The Lord hath loued y<sup>e</sup> him: he will doe his will in Babel: and his arme shall be against the Caldeans.

15 I, euen I haue spoken it, and I haue called him, I haue brought him, and his way shall prosper.

16 Come nere vnto me: heare ye this: I haue not spoken it in secret from the beginning: from the time that the thing was, I was there, and now the Lord God and his spirit hath sent me.

17 Thus sayth the Lord thy Redeemer, the holy one of Israel, I am the Lord thy God, which teach thee to profite, and lead thee by the way, that thou shouldst goe.

18 Wh<sup>o</sup> that thou haddest hearkened to my commandments: then had thy prosperitie bene as the flood, and thy righteousness as the waues of the Sea.

19 Thy seede also had bene as the sand, & the fruit of thy body like the grauell thereof: his name should not haue bene cut off nor destroyed before me.

20 Go ye out of Babel: flee ye from the Caldeans, with a voice of ioy: tell & declare this: shew it forth to the end of the earth: say yee, The Lord hath redeemed his seruant Iaacob.

21 And they were not thirke: he led them though the wilderness: he caused the waters to flowe out of the rocke for them: for he claue the rocke, and the water gushed out.

22 There is no peace, sayeth the Lord, vnto the wicked.

h Shewing that mans arrogancie is the cause why God doeth not declare all things at once, lest they should attribute this knowledge to their owne wisdom. i From the time that I brought thee out of Egypt: for that deliuerance was as the birth of the Church. k As it was my free mercy that I did chuse thee: so is it my free mercy that mult saue thee. l For I had respect to thy weakness and infirmity: for in sinuere there is some purenesse, but in vs there is no-thing but drosse. m Iooke thee out of the furnace where thou shouldst haue bene consumed. n God iudgeth the saluation of his which his owne honour: so that they cannot perish, but his glory should be diminished, as Deut. 32. 27. o Reade Chap. 42. 8. p Reade Chap. 41. 4. q To obey me and to do what I command them. r Meaning, Cyrus, whom he had choisen to destroy Babylon. s Since the time that I declared my selfe to your fathers. t Thus the Prophet speaketh for himselfe, and to assure them of these things. u What things shall do thee good. x That is, the prosperous estate of Israel. y After that he had forwarned them of their captiuitie, & of the cause thereof, he sheweth them the great ioy that shall come of their deliuerance. z He sheweth that it shall be as easie to deliuer them, as he did their fathers out of Egypt. a Thus he speaketh, that the wicked hypocrites should not abuse Gods promise, in whom was neither faith nor repentance, as chap. 57. 21.

C H A P. XLIX.

a The Lord exhorteth all nations to beleaue his promises. b Christ is the saluation of all that beleaue, and will deliuer them from the tyranny of their enemies.

Heare ye me, O Iſraels, and hearken, yee people from ſarre. The Lord hath called me from the wombe, and made mention of my name from my mothers belly.

2 And he hath made my mouth like a ſharpe sword: vnder the ſhadowe of his hand hath he hid me, and made me a choſen ſhaft, and hid me in his quiver,

3 And ſayd vnto me, Thou art my ſeruant: Iſrael, for I will be glorious in thee.

4 And I ſaid, I haue laboured in vaine: I haue ſpent my ſtrength in vaine, & for nothing: but my iudgement is with the Lord, and my worke with my God.

5 And now ſayth the Lord that foimed me from the wombe to be his ſeruant, that I may bring Iakob againe to him (though Iſrael be not gathered, yet ſhall I be glorious in the eyes of the Lord: and my God ſhal be my ſtrength.)

6 And he ſayd, It is a ſmall thing that thou ſhoudeſt be my ſeruant, to raiſe vp the tribes of Iakob, and to reſtore the deſolations of Iſrael: I will alſo giue thee for a light of the Gentiles, that thou mayeſt be my ſaluation vnto the ends of the world.

7 Thus ſayth the Lord the redeemer of Iſrael, and his holy one, to him that is deſpiſed in ſoule, to a nation that is abhorred, to a ſeruant of rulers, Kings ſhal ſee, and warte, and princes ſhall worſhip, becauſe of y<sup>e</sup> Lord, that is faithfull: and the holy one of Iſrael, which hath choſen thee.

8 Thus ſayth the Lord, In an acceptable time haue I heard thee, and in a day of ſaluation haue I helped thee: and I wil preſerue thee, and wil giue thee for a covenant of the people, that thou mayeſt raiſe vp the earth, and obtaine the inheritance of the deſolate heritages:

9 That thou maieſt ſay to the prisoners, Go forth: and to them that are in darknes, Shewe your ſelues: they ſhall feede in the wayes, and their p<sup>a</sup>ſtures ſhall be in all the tops of the hills.

10 They ſhall not be hungry, neither ſhal they be thirſtie, neither ſhall the heate ſmite them, nor the ſunne: for he that hath compaſſion on them, ſhall leade them: euen to the ſprings of waters ſhall he drinke them.

11 And I will make all my mountaines, as a way, and my paths ſhal be exalted.

a This is ſpoken in the perſon of Chriſt, to aſſure the faithfull that theſe promiſes ſhould come to paſſe: for they were all made in him, and in him ſhould be performed,

b This is meant of the time that Chriſt ſhould be maniſteſted to the world, as Pſa. 2. 7.

c By the ſword and ſhaft, hee ſignifieth y<sup>e</sup> vertue and efficacy of Chriſts doctrine.

d God hath taken roe to his protection and defence: this chiefly is meant of Chriſt, & may alſo be applied to the miniſters of his word.

e By Iſrael is meant Chriſt, & all the body of the faithfull, as the members and their head.

f Thus Chriſt in his members complaineth that his labour and preaching take none effect, yet he is contented that his doings are approved of God.

g Though the Iewes reſuſe my doctrine, yet God wil approve my miniſterie.

h To declare my Goſpel to the Gentiles, Chap. 42. 6. acts 13. 47. luke 2. 32.

i Meaning, the Iewes whom tyrants kept in bondage.

k The benefiſt of their deliuerance ſhal be ſo great that great & ſmall ſhall acknowledge it, and reverence God for it. 1. Thus he ſpeaketh of his Church, when he would ſhew his mercy toward it, 2. Cor. 6. 2.

m Meaning, Chriſt alone. n Signifying, that before Chriſt renew the earth by his word, there is nothing but conſuſion and diſorder.

o To them that are in the priſon of ſinne and death. p Being in Chriſts protection, they ſhall be ſafe againſt all dangers, and free from the feare of the enemies. q Meaning, that there ſhould be nothing in their way from Babylon, that ſhould hinder or hurt them: but this is accompliſhed ſpiritually.

12 Beholde, theſe ſhall come from ſarre: and loe, theſe from the North, and from the Weſt, and theſe from the land of Sinim.

13 Reioyce, O heauens: and be toyfull, O earth: burſt forth into praife, O mountaines: for God hath comforted his people, and will haue mercy vpon his afflicted.

14 But Zion ſaid, The Lord hath forſaken me, and my Lord hath forgotten me.

15 Can a woman forget her child, and not haue compaſſion on the ſonne of her wombe? though they ſhould forget, yet will I not forget thee.

16 Behold, I haue granted thee vpon the palme of mine hands: thy wals are euer in my light.

17 Thy builders make haste: thy deſtroyers and they that made thee waile, are departed from thee.

18 Lift vp thine eyes round about, and beholde: all theſe gather themſelues together and come to thee: as Iſtaur, ſaith the Lord, thou ſhalt ſurely put them all vpon thee as a garment, and giue thy ſelfe with them like a bride.

19 For thy deſolations, and thy waſte places: and thy land deſtroyed, ſhal ſurely be now narrow for them that ſhall dwell in it, and they that did denounce thee, ſhal be ſarre away.

20 The children of thy barrenneſſe ſhall ſay againe in thine eares, The place is ſtraite for me: giue place to me that I may dwell.

21 Then ſhalt thou ſay in thine heart, Who hath begotten me theſe, ſeeing I am barren and deſolate, a captiue and a wanderer: and hee that did denounce thee, ſhal be ſarre away: whence are theſe?

22 Thus ſayth the Lord God, Behold, I will lift vp mine hand to the Gentiles, and ſet for my ſtandard to the people, and they ſhal bring thy ſonnes in their armes, and thy daughters ſhall be carried vpon their ſhoulders,

23 And kings ſhall be thy nurſing fathers, and Queenes ſhall be thy nurſes: they ſhall worſhip thee with their faces toward the earth, and lick vpon the duſt of thy ſeete: and thou ſhalt knowe that I am the Lord: for they ſhall not be aſhamed that waite for me.

24 Shall the pray be taken from the mightie for the iuſt captiuitie deliuered?

25 But thus ſayth the Lord, Euen the captiuitie of the mightie ſhall be taken away: and the pray of the tyrant ſhall be deliuered: for I will contend with him that contendeth with thee, and I will ſaue thy children,

26 And will feede them that ſpoyle thee, with their owne fleſh, and they ſhall be drunken with their owne blood, as with hewd, and giue him all honour. d He maketh this as an obediſion, as though the Caldeans were ſtrong, and had them in iuſt poſſeſſion. e This is the anſwere to this obediſion, that none is ſtronger than the Lord, neither hath a more iuſt title vnto them. f I will cauſe them to deſtroy one another, as Iudges 7. 22. 2. Chron. 2. 0. 22. Chap. 19. 2.

r Meaning, the South country, ſo that Chriſt ſhall deliuer his ſeruaunts from all the parts of the world.

s Read Chap. 44. 23.

t He obiecteth what y<sup>e</sup> faithfull might ſay in their long affliction,

to comfort them, with a moſt proper ſimilitude and of conſolation.

u Becauſe I would not forget thee.

x Meaning, the good order of policie and diſcipline.

y I haue a continuall care to ſubliue thee vpon againe, and to deſtroy thine enemies.

z He ſheweth what are the ornaments of the Church: to haue many children, which are aſſembled by the word of God, & governed by his Spirit.

a He ſheweth that Chriſt will not onely gather this great number of the Iewes, but alſo of the Gentiles.

b Meaning, that kings ſhall be conuerted to the Goſpel, and beſtow their power and authoritie for the preſeruation of the Church.

c Being ioyned with y<sup>e</sup> Church, they ſhall humble themſelues to Chriſt their hewd, and giue him all honour.

d He maketh this as an obediſion, as though the Caldeans were ſtrong, and had them in iuſt poſſeſſion.

e This is the anſwere to this obediſion, that none is ſtronger than the Lord, neither hath a more iuſt title vnto them.

f I will cauſe them to deſtroy one another, as Iudges 7. 22. 2. Chron. 2. 0. 22.

C H A P. L.

1 The Iewes forsaken for a time. 2 Yet the power of God is not diminished. 3 Christes obedience and victory.

Thus saith the Lord, Where is that bill of your mothers diuorcement, whom I haue call off: who is the creditor to whom I solde you? Beholde, for your iniquities are ye sold, and became of your transgressions is your mother forsaken.

2 Wherefore came I, and there was no man: I called, and none answered: is mine hand to be shortned, that it cannot helpe: or haue I no power to deliuer? Behold, at my rebuke I dre wv the sea: I make the floods deserte: their fish roteth for want of water, and dieth for thirst.

3 I clothe the heauens with darknes, and make a lacke their covering.

4 The Lord God hath giuen me a tongue of the learned, that I should know to minister a word in time to him that is weary: he will raise mee vp in the morning: in the morning hee will waken mine care to heare as the learned.

5 The Lord God hath opened mine eare, and I was not rebellious: neither turned I backe.

6 I gaue my backe vnto the smiters, and my cheekes to the nippers: I hid not my face from shame and scurring.

7 For the Lord God will helpe me, therefore shall I not be confounded: therefore haue I set my face like a flint, and I knowe that I shall not be ashamed.

8 He is neere that iustifieth me: who wil contend with mee? Let vs stand together: who is mine aduersary? let him come neere to me.

9 Beholde, the Lord God will helpe mee: who is he that can condemne me? loe, they shall waue olde as a garment: the moth shall eate them vp.

10 Who is among you that feareth the Lord? let him heare the voyce of his seruant: he that walketh in darkness, and hath no light, let him trust in the Name of the Lord, and stay vpon his God.

11 Behold, all you kinde a fire, and are compassed about with sparkes: walke in the light of your fire, and in the sparkes that yee haue kindled. This shall yee haue of mine hand: yee shall lye downe in sorrow.

C H A P. L I.

1 To trust in God alone by Abrahams example.

7 Not to feare men. 17 The great affliction of Ierusalem, 22 and her deliuerance.

Hear me, ye that follow after righteousnes, & ye that seeke the Lord: looke vnto the rocke, whence ye are hewen, and to the hole of the pit whence ye are digged.

2 Consider Abraham your father, and Sarah that bare you: for I called him alone, and blessed him, and increased him.

3 Surely the Lord shall comfort Zion: he shall comfort all her desolations, & he shall make her deser-like Eden, and her wildernes like the garden of the Lord: toy & gladnesse shall be found therein: praise, and the voyce of singing.

4 Hearken ye vnto me, my people, and giue eare vnto mee, O my people: for a Lawe shall procede from me, and I will bring forth my iudgement for the light of the people.

5 My righteousnes is neere: my saluation goeth forth, and mine armes shall iudge the people: the yles shall wait for me, and shall trust vnto mine eare.

6 Lift vp your eyes to the heauens, and looke vpon the earth beneath: for the heauens shall vanish away like smoke, and the earth shall waue olde like a garment, and they that dwell therein, shall perish in like manner: but my saluation shall be for euer, and my righteousnesse shall not bee abolished.

7 Hearken vnto me, ye that knowe righteousness, the people in whose heart is my Law. Feare ye not the reproch of men, neither be ye afraid of their rebukes.

8 For the moth shall eate them vp like a garment, and the womne shall eate them like wool: but my righteousnesse shall be for euer, and my saluation from generation to generation.

9 Rise vp, rise vp, and put on strength, O arme of the Lord: rise vp, as in the olde time in the generations of the world. Art not thou the same, that hath cut Rahab, and wounded the dragon?

10 Art not thou the same which hath dried the sea, euen the waters of the great deep, making the depth of the sea a way for the redeemer to passe ouer?

11 Therefore the redeemed of the Lord shall returne, and come with toy vnto Zion, and enercasting toy shall be vpon their head: they shall obtaine toy and gladnes: and sorrow and mourning shall flee away.

12 I, euen I am he, that comfort you. Who art thou, that thou shouldst feare a mortal man, and the sonne of man, which shall be made as grasse?

13 And forgettest the Lord thy maker, that hath spread out the heauens, and layed the foundations of the earth: and hast feared continually all the day, because of the rage of the oppressour, which is ready to destroy? Where is now the rage of the oppressour?

14 The captiue hasteneth to be loosed, and that he should not die in the pit, nor that his bread should faile.

16 And I haue put my wordes in thy mouth, and haue defended thee in the shadowe of mine hande, that I may plant thee in heauen, and lay the foundation of the earth, and say vnto Zion, Thou art my people.

17 Awake, awake, and stand vp. O Ierusalem, which hast drunken at the hande of the Lord the cup of his wrath: thou hast drunken the dregs of the cup of trembling, and wringing thine out.

18 There is none to guide her among all the sonnes, whome shee hath brought forth: there is none that taketh her by the hand of all the sonnes that she hath brought vp.

19 These two things are come vnto thee: who wilt lament thee? desolation and destruction and famine, and the sword: by whom shall I comfort thee?

20 Thy sonnes haue fainted, & lie at the head of all the streets as a wild bull in a net; and are full of the wrath of the Lord, and rebuke of thy God.

21 Therefore heare now this, thou miserable and drunken, but not with wine.

22 Thus saith thy Lord God, euen God that pleadeth the cause of his people, Behold, I haue taken out of thine hand the cup of trembling, euen the dregs of the cup of my wrath: thou shalt drinke it no more.

23 But I will put it into their hand that spoyle thee: which haue sayde to thy soule, Bow downe, that we may go ouer, and thou hast layd thy body as the ground, and as the street to them that went ouer.

Cor. 15. 3. i Meaning, the punishment of our iniquity, and not the fault it selfe. k But willingly and patiently obeyed his fathers appointment, Math. 26. 63. a 2es 8. 32. l From the crosse & graue, after that he was condemned. m Though he died for sinne, yet after his resurrection he shall live for euer; and this his death is to restore life to his members, Rom. 6. 9. n God the Father deliuered him into the hands of the wicked, & to the powers of the world to do with him what they would. o Christ by offering vp himselfe shall give life to his Church, and so cause the n to liue with him for euer. p That is, the fruit & effect of his labour, which is the saluation of his Church. q Christ shall iustifie by faith through his word, whereas Moses could not iustifie by the Law. r Because he humbled himselfe, therefore he shall be exalted to glory, Phil. 2. 7, 8. f That is, of all that beleue in him.

3 He is despised and reiected of men: he is a man full of sorowes, and hath experience of infirmities, wee hid as it were our faces from him: he was despised, & we esteemed him not.

4 Surely hee hath borne our iniquities, and caried our sorowes: yet we did iudge him as a plagued, and smitten of God, and humbled.

5 But hee was wounded for our transgressions, hee was broken for our iniquities: the chastisement of our peace was upon him, and with his stripes we are healed.

6 All we like sheepe haue gone astray, we haue erred euey one to his owne way, and the Lord hath layd upon him the iniquity of vs all.

7 He was oppressed, and he was afflicted, yet did he not open his mouth: he is brought as a sheepe to the slaughter, and as a sheepe before her shearer is dumb, so hee openeth not his mouth.

8 Hee was taken out from prison, and from iudgement: and who shall declare his age: for he was cut out of the land of the living: for the transgression of my people was he plagued.

9 And he made his graue with the wicked, and with the rich in his death, though he had done no wickednesse, neither was any deceit in his mouth.

10 Yet the Lord would breake him, & make him subject to infirmities: when hee shall make his soule an offering for sin, he shall see his seed, and shall prolong his daies, & the will of the Lord shall prosper in his hand.

11 He shall see of the perauaile of his soule, and shall be satisfied: by his knowledge shall my righteous seruant iustifie many: for he shall beare their iniquities.

12 Therefore will I giue him a portion with the great, and he shall diuide the spoyle with the strong, because he hath powred out his soule vnto death, & he was counted with the transgressours, and he bare the sinne of many, and prayed for the trespassers.

Her deliuerance vnder Cyrus was as her childhood, and therefore this was accomplished, when she came to her age, which was vnder the Gospell.

ried wife, saith the Lord. 2 Enlarge the place of thy tents, and let them spred out the curraynes of thine habitations: spare not, stretch out thy cordes, and make fast thy stakes.

3 For thou shalt increase on the right hand and on the left, and thy seede shall possess the Gentiles and dwell in the desolate cities.

4 Feare not: for thou shalt not be ashamed, neither shalt thou be confounded: for thou shalt not be put to shame: yea, thou shalt forget the shame of thy youth, and shalt not remember the reproch of thy widowhooe any more.

5 For he that made thee, is thine husband (whose name is the Lord of hostes) and thy redeemer the holy one of Israel, shall be called the God of the whole world.

6 For the Lord hath called thee being as a woman forsaken, and afflicted in spirit, and as a yong wife when thou wast refused, saith the God.

7 For a litle while I haue forsaken thee, but with great compassion will I gather thee.

8 For a moment in mine anger I hid my face from thee for a litle season, but with everlasting mercie haue I had compassion on thee, saith the Lord thy redeemer.

9 For this is vnto mee as the waters of Noab: for as I haue twome that the waters of Noab thould no more goe ouer the earth, so haue I twome that I would not be angry with thee, nor rebuke thee.

10 For the mountains shall remoue, and the hills shall fall downe: but my mercie shall not depart from thee, neither shall the covenant of my peace fall away, sayeth the Lord, that hath compassion on thee.

10 Thou afflicted and tossed with tempest, that hast no comfort, behold, I will lay thy stones with the carduncle, and lay thy foundation with lappines.

12 And I will make thy windows of Emeraunds, and thy gates shining stones, and and all thy borders of pleasant stones.

13 And all thy children shall bee taught of the Lords, and much peace shall bee to thy children.

14 In righteousness shalt thou be established, & bee farre from oppression: for thou shalt not feare it: and from feare, for it shall not come neere thee.

15 Beholde, the enemy shall gather himselfe, but without mee: whosoever shall gather himselfe in thee, against thee, shall fall.

16 Beholde, I haue created thee in finith that bloweth the coales in the fire, and him that bringeth forth an instrument for his worke, and I haue created the destroyer to destroy.

17 But all the weapons that are made against thee, shall not prosper: and enter tongue, that shall rise against thee in iudgement, thou shalt call condemne. This is the heritage of the Lordes seruantes,

1 An exhortation to come to Christ. 8 Gods counsels are not as mans. 12 The joy of the faithfull.

H D, every one that thirsteth, come ye to the waters, and ye that have no siluer, come, buy, and eate: come, I say, buy wine and milke without siluer and without money.

2 Wherefore do ye lay out siluer and not for bread? and yont labour without being satiffied? hearken diligently unto mee, and eate that which is good, and let your soule delite in it: fatnesse.

3 Incline your eares, & come vnto mee: heare, and your soule shall liue, and I will make an euertlasting Couenauent with you, euen the sure mercies of Dauid.

4 Behold, I gave s him for a witness to the people, for a prince and a master vnto the people.

5 Beholde, thou shalt call a nation that thou knowest not, and a nation that knew not thee, shall runne vnto thee, because of the Lord thy God, and the Holy one of Israel: for he hath glorified thee.

6 Seeke ye the Lord while hee may be found, call ye vpon him while he is neere.

7 Let the wicked forsake his wayes, and the vnrightheous his own imaginatons, and returne vnto the Lord, and he will haue mercy vpon him: and to our God, for hee is very ready to forgive.

8 For my thoughts are not your thoughts, neither are your wayes my wayes, saith the Lord.

9 For as the heauens are higher then the earth, so are my wayes higher then your wayes, and my thoughts aboute your thoughts.

10 Surely as the raine commeth downe and the snoue from heauen, and returneth not thither, but watereth the earth, and maketh it to bring forth and bud, that it may giue seede to the sower, and bread vnto him that eateth:

11 So shall my word be, that goeth out of my mouth: It shall not returne vnto me void, but it shall accomplish that which I will, and it shall prosper in the thing whereto I sent it.

12 Therefore yee shall goe out with ioy, and bee led forth with peace: the mountaine and the hills shall brake forth before you into ioy, and all the trees of the field shall clap their hands.

13 For thornes, there shall growe fire trees: for nettles shall grow the myrre tree, and it shall bee to the Loide for a name, and for an euertlasting signe that shall not bee taken away.

CHAP. LVI.

1 An exhortation to iudgement and iustice. 10 Against Shepheards that deuoure their flocke.

H us sayeth the Lord, I keepe iudgement, and do iustice: for my saluation is at hand to come, and my righteousness to be renewed.

2 Blessed is the man that doeth this, and the sonne of man which layeth holde on it: he that keepeth the Sabbath and polluteth it not, and keepeth his hand from doing any euill.

3 And let not the sonne of the stranger, which is toyned to the Loide, speake and say, The Lord hath surely separated me from his people: neither let the Eunuch say, Behold, I am a dry tree.

4 For thus sayeth the Lord vnto the Eunuchs, that keepe my Sabbaths, and chuse the thing that pleaseth mee, and take hold of my couenant,

5 Euen vnto them will I giue in mine house and sit in my walles, a place and a name better then of the sonnes and of the daughters: I will giue them an euertlasting name, that shall not be put out.

6 Also the strangers that cleaue vnto the Lord, to serue him, & to loue the Name of the Lord, and to be his seruants: euery one that keepeth the Sabbath, and polluteth it not, and embraeceth my couenant,

7 Then will I bring also to mine holy mountaine, and make them ioyfull in mine house of prayer: their burnt offerings and their sacrifices shall be accepted vpon mine altar: for mine house shall be called an house of prayer for all people.

8 The Lord God saith, which gathereth the scattered of Israel, Yet will I gather to them those that are to be gathered to them.

9 All yee beastes of the field, come to deuoure, euen all ye beastes of the forest.

10 Their watchmen are all blind: they haue no knowledge: they are all dumbe dogs: they cannot bark: they lie and sleepe and delight in sleeeping.

11 And these greedy dogs can neuer haue enough: and these shepheards cannot understand: for they all looke to their owne way, euery one for his aduantage, and for his owne purpose.

12 Come, I will bring wine, and we will fill our selues with strong drinke, and to morrow shall be as this day, and much more abundant.

To sit forth his glory, p Of Gods deliuerance, and that he will neuer forsake his Church.

a God sheweth what he requirerh of the alter that he hath deliuered them, to wit, the works of charity, whereby true faith is declared.

b Which I will declare toward you, and pouer into your hearts by my spirit.

c Vnder the Sabbath hee comprehendeth the whole seruice of God and true religion.

d Let none thinke himselfe vnmeete to receive the graces of the Lord: for the Lord will take away all impediments, and will forsake none which will keepe his true religion, and beleue in him.

e Meaning, in his Church.

f They shall be called after my people, and be of the same religion; yea, vnder Christ the dignity of the faithfull shall be greater then yf Iewes were at that time.

g Herby hee meaneth the spiriutall seruice of God, to whom the faithfull offer continual thanksgiving, yea, themselves and all that they haue as a liuely & acceptable sacrifice. h Not only for the Iewes, but for all others, Mat. 21. 13.

i Meaning, the enemies of the Church, as the Babylonians, Assyrians, &c. Thus hee speaketh to feare the hypocrites, and to assure the faithful, that when this commeth they may know that it was told them before.

k He sheweth that this affliction shall come through the fault of the gouernours, prophets, & pastors, whose ignorance, negligence, auarice, and obliuiscence prouoked Gods wrath against them. l We are well yet, and to morrow shall be better: therefore let vs not feare the plagues, before they come: thus the wicked condemned the admonitions and exhortations, which were made them in the Name of God.

a Christ by proposing his graces and gifts to his Church, exempteth the hypocrites which are full with their imagined works, and the epicures, which are full with their worldly lusts, and fo thirst nor after these waters. b Signifying, that Gods benefits cannot be bought for money. c By wares, wine, milke and bread, he meaneth all things necessary to the spirituall life, as these are necessary to this corporall life. d He reprooueth their ingratitude which refuse those things that God offereth willingly, and in the meane time spare neither cost nor labor to obtaine those which are nothing profitable. e You shall be fed abundantly. f The same couenant, which through my mercie I ratified and confirmed to Dauid that it should be eternall, 2. Sam. 7. 13. Actes 13. 34. g Meaning, Christ, of whom Dauid was a figure. h To wit, the Gentiles, which before thou didest not receiue to be thy people. i When he offereth himselfe by the preaching of his word, k Herby he sheweth that repentance must be ioynd with faith, and how wee cannot call vpon God aright, except the fruits of our faith appeare. l Although you are not soone reconciled one to another, and iudge me by your selues, yet I am most easie to be reconciled, yea, I offer my mercies to you. m If these small things haue their effect, as daily experience sheweth, much more shall my promise which I haue made and confirmed, bring to passe the things which I haue spoken for your deliuerance. n Reade Chap. 44. a 3. and 49. 13.

f That you leaue off all your ex-tortions.

g For in him thou seest thy selfe as in a glasse b That is, the prosperous estate wherewith God will blesse thee.

i The testimony of thy goodnesse shall appeare before God & man. k Whereby is meant all manner of iniury.

l That is, haue compassion on their miseries.

m Thine aduersity shalbe turned into prosperity.

n Signifying, that of the Tewes should come such as should build againe the ruines of Ierusalem and Iudea: but chiefly this is meant of the spirituall Ierusalem, whose builders were 7 Apostles, o If thou refrainethy selfe from thy wicked workes, chosen, to loose the bandes of wickednesse, to take off the heauie burdens, and to let the oppressed goe free, and that yee breake euery yoke?

7 Is it not to deale thy bread to the hungry, and that thou bring the poore that wander, vnto thine boule? when thou seest the naked, that thou couer him, and hide not thy selfe from s thine owne flesh.

8 When shall thy light breake forth as the morning, and thine heath shall growe speedily; thy righteousnesse shall goe before thee, and the glory of the Lorde shall embrace thee.

9 Then shalt thou call, and the Lorde shall answer: thou shalt cry, and he shall say, here I am: if thou take away from the middes of thee the yoke, the putting forth of the finger, and wicked speaking:

10 If thou poure out thy soule to the hungry, and refresh the troubled soule: then shall thy light spring out in the darkenesse, and thy darkenesse shall be as the noone day.

11 And the Lorde shall guide thee continually, and facilitate thy soule in drought, and make fat thy bones: and thou shalt be like a watered garden, and like a spring of water, whose waters faile not.

12 And they shall bee of thee, that shall build the olde waste places: thou shalt raise vp the foundations for many generations, and thou shalt be called the repayer of the breach, and the restorer of the paths to dwell in.

13 If thou turne away thy foote from the Sabbath, from doing thy will on mine holy day, and call the Sabbath a delight, to consecrate it, as glorious to the Lorde, & shalt honour him, not doing thine owne wayes, nor seeking thine owne will, nor speaking a vaine word, 14 Then shalt thou delight in the Lorde, and I will cause thee to mount vpon the hye places of the earth, and feede thee with the heritage of Iacob thy father: for the mouth of the Lorde hath spoken it.

CHAP LIX.

2 The wicked perish through their owne iniquities. 12 The confession of finnes. 16 God alone will preserue his Church, though all men fail.

Behold, the Lords hands is not shortned, that it cannot see: neither is his eare heavy, that it cannot heare.

3 But your iniquities haue separated between you and your God, and your finnes haue hid his face from you, that hee will not heare.

4 For your hands are defiled with blood, and your fingers with iniquity: your lippes haue spoken lies, and your tongue hath murmured iniquity.

5 No man calleth for iustice: no man contendeth for truth: they trull in vanity, and speake vaine things: they conceine mischief, and bring forth iniquity.

6 They hatch cockatrice egges, and weaue the spiders webbe: he that eateth of their egges, dieth, and that which is trod vpon, breaketh out into a serpent.

7 Their webbes shall be no garment, neither shall they couer themselues with their labours: for their workes are workes of iniquity, and the worke of cruelty is in their hands.

8 Their feet run to euill, and they make halte to the innocent blood: their thoughts are wicked thoughts: desolation and destruction is in their paths.

9 The way of peace they know not, and there is none equity in their goings: they haue made their crooked paths: whosoever goeth therein, shall not know peace.

10 Therefore is iudgement farre from vs, neither doeth s iustice come nere vnto vs: we waye for light, but loe, it is darkenes; for brightnesse, but we walke in darknesse.

11 We grope for the wall like the blind, and wee grope as one without eyes: wee stumble at the noone day as in the twilight: we are in solitary places, as dead men.

12 Wee roare all like beares, and mourne like dones: wee looke for equity, but there is none: for health, but it is farre from vs.

13 For our trespasses are many before thee, and our sinnes testifie against vs: for our trespasses are with vs, and we know our iniquities

14 In trespassing and lying against the Lorde, and we haue departed away from our God, and haue spoken of cruelty and rebellion, conceiuing and uttering out of the heart false matters.

15 Therefore is iudgement turned backward, and iustice standeth farre off: for truthy is fallen in the streete, and equitie cannot enter.

16 Pea, truest faileth, and he that refrained from euill, maketh himselfe a praye: and when the Lorde saw it, it displeas'd him, that there was no iudgement.

17 And when hee saw that there was no man, hee wondered that none would offer himselfe. O therefore his arme did & saue it, and his righteousnesse it selfe did sustaine it.

18 For he put on righteousness, as an habergion, and an helmet of saluation vpon his head, and he put on the garments of vengeance for clothing, and was clad with zeale as a cloke.

19 As to make recompense, as to requite the furtie of the aduersaries with a recompense to his enemies: he will fully repay the Islands.

20 So shall they feare the name of the Lorde from the West, and his glory from the rising of the Sonne: for the enemy shall come like a flood: but the spirit of the Lorde shall chase him away.

21 And the Redeemer shall come vnto Zion, and vnto s them that were from iniquitie in Iacob, sayeth the Lorde.

22 And I will make this my Covenant with them, sayeth the Lorde, My Spirit that is vpon thee, and my wordes, which I haue put in thy mouth, shall not decrease from sinne and Satan belongeth to none but to the children of God, whom he iustificeth. u Because the do & trine is made profitable by the vertue of the Spirit, he ioyneth the one with the other, and promisseth to giue them both to his Church for euer.

f That is, Gods vengeance to punish our enemies.

g Gods protection to defend vs.

h We are altogether deficiute of counsell, and can find no end of our miserie.

i We expresse our sorowes by outward signes, some more, some lesse.

k This confession is general to the Church to obtaine remission of finnes, and the Prophets did not exempt themselves from the same.

m There is neither iustice nor vprightnesse among men.

n The wicked will destroy him.

o Meaning, to doe iustice, and to remedie the things that were so farre out of order.

p That is, his Church: or his arme did helpe it selfe, and did not seeke ayde of any other.

q Signifying, that God hath all means at hand to deliuer his Church, and to punish their enemies.

r To wit, your enemies which dwell in diuers places, and beyond the sea.

s He sheweth that there shalbe great affliction in the Church, but God will euer deliuer his.

t Whereby he declareth that the true deliuerance from sinne and Satan belongeth to none but to the children of God, whom he iustificeth.

u Because the do & trine is made profitable by the vertue of the Spirit, he ioyneth the one with the other, and promisseth to giue them both to his Church for euer.

CHAP. LX.

3 The Gentiles shall come to the knowledge of the Gospel. 8 They shall come to the Church in abundance. 16 They shall have abundance, though they suffer for a time.

A Rise, O Jerusalem: bee bright, for thy light is come, and the glory of the Lord is risen upon thee.

2 For beholde, darkenesse shall cover the earth, and grosse darkenesse the people: but the Lord shall arise upon thee, and his glory shall be scene upon thee.

3 And the Gentiles shall walke in thy light, and Kings at the brightness of thy rising up.

4 Lift up thine eyes rounde about, and behold: all these are gathered, and come to thee: thy sonnes shall come from farre, and thy daughters shall be nourished at thy side.

5 Then shalt thou see & thine: thine heart shall be astonished and enlarged, because the multitude of the sea shall be converted unto thee, & the riches of the Gentiles shall come unto thee.

6 The multitude of camels shall cover thee: and the dromedaries of Arabia and of Cypha: all they of Sheba shall come: they shall bring golde and incense, and shew forth the praises of the Lord.

7 All the sheepe of a Kedar shall be gathered unto thee: the rammes of Nebaioth shall serue thee: they shall come up to be accepted vpon mine altar: and I will beautifie the house of my glory.

8 Who are these that flee like a cloude, and as the doves to their windowes?

9 Surely the yles shall wait for me, and the ships of Tarshish, as at the beginning, that they may bring thy sonnes from farre, and their silver and their golde with them, unto the name of the Lord thy God, and to the holy one of Israel, because he hath glorified thee.

10 And the sonnes of strangers shall build by thy walles, and their kings shall minister unto thee: for in my wrath I smote thee, but in my mercie I had compassion on thee.

11 Therefore thy gates shall be open continually: neither day nor night shall they be shut, that they may bring unto thee the riches of the Gentiles, and that their kings may be brought.

12 For the nation and the kingdom, that will not serue thee, shall perish: & those nations shall be utterly destroyed.

13 The glory of Lebanon shall come unto thee, the firre tree, the elme and the boxe tree together, to beautifie the place of my Sanctuary: for I will glorifie the place of my temple.

14 The sonnes also of them that afflicted thee, shall come and bowe vnto thee: and all they that despised thee, shall fall downe at the soles of thy feete: and they shall call thee, The citie of the Lord, Zion of the holy one of Israel.

15 Whereas thou hast bene forsaken and hated, so that no man went by thee, I will make thee an eternal glory, and a joy from generation to generation.

16 Thou shalt also sucke the milke of the Gentiles, and shalt sucke the breasts of kings: & thou shalt knowe, that I the Lord am thy Saviour, and thy Redeemer, the mighty one of Iacob.

17 For vvasse will I bring golde, and for yron will I bring silver, and for wood byasse, and for stones yllur. I will also make thy gouernement peace, and thine tractours righteousnes.

18 Altogether shall no more be heard of in thy land, neither desolation, nor destruction, within thy borders: but thou shalt call saluation, thy walles, and praise, thy gates.

19 Thou shalt haue no more Sunne to shine by day, neither shall the brightness of the Moone shine vnto thee: for the Lord shall be thine euertasting light, and thy God, thy glory.

20 Thy Sunne shall neuer goe downe, neither shall thy moone be hid: for the Lord shall be thine euertasting light, and the dayes of thy sorrow shall be ended.

21 Thy people also shall be all righteous, they shall possesse the land for ever, y<sup>e</sup> graffe of my planting shall be the worke of mine hands, that I may be glorified.

22 A little one shall become as a strong nation: I the Lord will hasten it in due time.

that Christ shall be al in all, as Reuel. 2. 22. & 25: u The children of the Church. x Meaning, that the Church should be miraculously multiplied.

d An infinite number from all countreyes, as Chap. 49. 18. e Forioy: as the heart is drawn in for sorrow.

 p Whereas the Gentiles had dominion ouer the Jewes in times past, now they shall haue double authority ouer them; & possesse twise so much.
 q I will not receive their offering, which are extortioners, deceiturs, hypocrites, or that deprine me of my glory. r That is, of the Church. s He sheweth what shall be the affection, when they seele this their deliuerance.

3 To appoynt vnto them that mourne in Zion, & to giue vnto them beauty for ashes, the oyle of ioy for mourning, the garment of gladnes for the spirit of heauinesse, that they might be called a tree of righteousness, the planting of the Lorde, that hee might be glorified.

4 And they shall builde the olde waste places, and rayse vp the former desolations, and they shall repaire the cities that were desolate and waste thowse many a generations.

5 And the strangers shall stand & feede your sheepe, and the sonnes of the strangers shall bee your plowmen and dyers of your vines.

6 But ye shall be named <sup>the</sup> Priests of the Lorde, and men shall say vnto you, The ministers of our God; yee shall eate the riches of the Gentiles, and shall bee exalted wth their glory.

7 For your shame you shall receiue <sup>o</sup> double, and for confusion <sup>o</sup> they shall reioyce in <sup>o</sup> their porton: for in their lande they shall possesse the r double: euertasting ioy shall be vnto them.

8 For I the Lord loue iudgment & hate a robbery; for burnt offering, and I will direct their worke in riches, and will make an euertasting covenant with them.

9 And their seed shall be known among the Gentiles, and their biddes among the people. All that see them shall knowe them, that they are the seede which the Lord hath blessed.

10 I will greatly reioyce in the Lorde, and my soule shall be ioyfull in my God: for hee hath clothed mee with the garments of saluation, and covered mee with the robe of righteousness: hee hath decked mee like a bridegrome, and as a bride tyeth herselfe with her iewels.

11 For as the earth bringeth forth her bud, and as the garden causeth to grow that which is sown in it: so the Lorde God will cause righteousness to growe, and payle before all the heathen.

r That is, of the Church. s He sheweth what shall be the affection, when they seele this their deliuerance.

CHAP. LXII.

1 The great desire that the Prophets haue had for Christes coming. 6 The diligence of the Pastors to preach.

1 For Zions sake I will not holde my tongue, and for Ierusalem sake I will not rest, vntill the righteousness thereof breake forth as the light, and saluation thereof as a burning lampe.

2 And the Gentiles shall see thy righteonnesse, & all kings thy glory: and thou shalt be called by a newe name, which the mouth of the Lord shall name.

3 Thou shalt also be a crowne of glory in the hand of the Lorde, and a royall dia-dem in the hand of thy God.

c Thou shalt haue a more excellent fame then thou hast had hitherto. d He shall esteeme thee as deare and precious, as a king doth his crowne.

a The Prophet sayth that he will neuer cease to declate vnto the people the good tidings of their deliuerance.
 b Til they haue full deliuerance:
 and this the Prophet speaketh to incourage all other ministers to the setting forth of Gods mercies toward his Church. c Thou shalt haue a more excellent fame then thou hast had hitherto. d He shall esteeme thee as deare and precious, as a king doth his crowne.

4 It shall no more bee sayde vnto thee, forsaken, neither shall it bee said any more to thy land, Desolate, but thou shalt be called Hephzibah, and thy land shall be called Beulah: for the Lord delighteth in thee, and thy lande shall haue an husband.

5 For as a yong man marrieth a virgin, so shall thy sonnes marrie thee: and as a bridegrome is glad of the bride, so shall thy God reioyce ouer thee.

6 I haue set watchmen vpon thy wals, O Ierusalem, which all the day and all the night continually shall not cease: yee that are mindedfull of the Lord, keepe not silence.
 7 And giue him no rest, till hee repaire, and vntill he be set vpon Ierusalem the praise of the world.

8 The Lorde hath sworne by his right hand and by his strong arme, Surely I will no more giue thee to be meate for thine enemies, and surely the sonnes of the strangers shall not drinke thy wine, for the which thou hast laboured.

9 But they that haue gathered it, shall eate it, and prayse the Lorde, and the gateders thereof shall drinke it in the courts of my Sanctuary.

10 Goe thowse, goe thowse the gates:
 prepare you the way for the people: call vp,
 call vp the way, and gather out the stones, and set vp a standard for the people.

11 Beholde, the Lorde hath proclaymed vnto the ends of the world: I tel the daughter Zion, Beholde, thy Saviour cometh: beholde, his wages is with him, and his worke is before him.

12 And they shall call them, The holy people, The redeemed of the Lorde, & thou shalt be named, A city sought out, & not forsaken.

k For the restau-
 ration where of all the world shall praise him. 1 Signifying the great number that should come to the Church, and what meanes he would prepare for the restitution of the same, as chap. 57. 14. m Ye Prophets and ministers shewe the people of this their deliuerance: which was chiefly meant of our saluation by Christ, Zech. 9. 9. Mat. 21. 5.

 couer her when shee was lost.

CHAP. LXIII.

1 God shall destroy his enemies for his Churches sake. 7 Gods benefice toward his Church.

Who is this that cometh from Borah; he is glorious in his apparell, and walketh in his great strength. I speak in righte-ousnes, and am mighty to saue.

2 Therefore is thine apparell red, and thy garments like him that treadeth in the winepresse?

3 I haue troden the winepresse alone, and of all people there was none with mee: for in Bozrah, the chief city of the Idumians; for these were their great enemies, and vnder the title of circumcision, and the kindred of Abraham, claimed to themselves the chief religion & hated the true worshippers, Psal. 137. 7. b God answered them that asked this question, Who is this? & c. and faith, Ye see now performed in deede the vengeance which my Prophets threatened. c An other question to the which the Lord answereth.

e Thou shalt no more be contem-ned as a woman forsaken of her husband.

f Or, my delight is hee.

g Or, married.
 f That it may be replenished with children.

g Forasmuch as they confesse one faith and religion with thee, they are in the same bond of marriage with thee: and they are called the children of the Church, inasmuch as Christ maketh her plenifull to bring forth children vnto him.

h Prophets, pastors and ministers.

i He exhorteth
 the ministers here to cease to call vpon God by prayer for the de-liuerance of his Church, and to teach other to doe the same.

k For the restau-
 ration where of all the world shall praise him. 1 Signifying the great number that should come to the Church, and what meanes he would prepare for the restitution of the same, as chap. 57. 14. m Ye Prophets and ministers shewe the people of this their deliuerance: which was chiefly meant of our saluation by Christ, Zech. 9. 9. Mat. 21. 5. n He shall haue all power to bring his purpose to passe, as chap. 40.
 10. o That is, one, ouer whom God hath had a singular care to re-couer her when shee was lost.

d Shewing, that when God punisheth his enemies, it is for the profit and delivrance of his Church.

e God sheweth that he hath no neede of mans helpe for the delivrance of his, and though men refuse to doe their dutie through negligence and ingratitude, yet he himselfe will delivrer his Church, and punish the enemies; reade Chap. 59. 16.

f I will to astonish them, and make them fo giddie, that they shall not know which way to goe.

g The Prophet speaketh this to moue the people to remember Gods benefites in times past, h For I did chuse them to be mine, that they should be holy and not deceiue mine expectation.

i He bare their afflictions and griefes as though they had bene his owne.

k Which was a witness of Gods presence: and this may be referred to Christ, to whom belongeth the office of saluation.

l That is, the people of Israel being afflicted, is called to remembrance Gods benefites, which he had bestowed vpon their fathers in times past. m Meaning, Moses. n That is, in Moses, that he might well gouerne the people: some referre this giuing of the Spirit to the people. o Peaceably and gently, as an hoise is led to his pasture. p Having declared Gods benefites shewed to their forefathers he turneth himselfe to God by prayer, desiring him to continue the same graces to ward them. q Thy great affliction which thou barest toward vs. r Meaning, from the whole body of the Church.

s Though Abraham would refuse vs to be his children, yet thou wilt not refuse to be our father.

I will tread them in mine anger, and tread them vnder foote in my wrath, and their blood shall be spunked vpon my garments, and I will staine all my rayment.

4 For the day of vengeance is in mine heart, and the day of reedem is come.

5 And I looked, and there was none to helpe, and I wondered that there was none to vphold: therefore mine owne arme helped mee, and my wrath it selfe sustained mee.

6 Therefore I will tread downe the people in my wrath, and make them drunk in mine indignation, and will bring downe their strength to the earth.

7 I will remember the mercies of the Lord, and the prayes of the Lord according vnto all that the Lord hath giuen vs, and for the great goodnesse toward the house of Israel, which he hath giuen them according to his tender loue, & according to his great mercies.

8 For he sayd, Surely they are my people, children that wil not lie: so he was their sauiour.

9 In all their troubles he was troubled, and the Angel of his presence saued them: in his loue and in his mercie hee reedemed them, and he bare them and caried them alwayes continually.

10 But they rebelled, and vexed his holy Spirit: therefore was he wroth to be their enemy, and he fought against them.

11 Then hee remembered the old time of Moses and his people, saying, Where is hee that brought them vp out of the sea with the shepheard of his sheepe? where is hee that put his holy Spirit within him?

12 He led them by the right hand of Moses with his owne glorious arme, diuiding the water before them, to make himselfe an euertlasting Name.

13 He led them through the deepe, as an hoise in the wilderness, that they should not stumble.

14 As the beast goeth downe into the valley, the Spirit of the Lord gaue them rest: so diddest thou leade thy people, to make thy selfe a glorious Name.

15 Looke downe from heauen, and behold from the dwelling place of thine holinesse, and of thy glory: Where is thy zeale and thy strength, the multitude of thy mercies, and of thy compassions? they are restrained from mee.

16 Doubtes thou art our father: though Abraham bee ignorant of vs, and Israel know vs not, yet thou, O Lord, art our Father, and our reedemer: thy Name is for euer.

17 O Lord, why hast thou made vs to erre from thy wayes? and hardened our heart from thy feare? Returne for thy seruants sake, and for the tribes of thine inheritance.

18 The people of thine holinesse haue possessed it but a little while: for our aduersaries haue troden downe thy Sanctuarie.

19 Wee haue bene as they, ouer whom thou neuer barest rule, and vpon whom thy Name was not called.

u Meaning for the seruants sake made to Abraham, Izhak & Iacob his seruants. x That is, in respect of the promise which is perpetual: albeit they had now possessed the land of Canaan a thousand and foure hundred yeeres: and thus they lament, to meane God rather to remember his couenant, then to punish their finnes.

CHAP. LXIIII.

1 The Prophet prayeth for the finnes of the people. 6 Mans righteousnesse vlike a filthy clob.

O Lord, that thou wouldest breake the heauens, and come downe, and that the mountaines might melt at thy presence!

2 As the melting fire burned, as the fire caused the waters to boyle, (that thou mightest declare thy Name to thy aduersaries) the people did tremble at thy presence.

3 When thou diddest terrible things, which wee looked not for, thou camest downe, and the mountaines melted at thy presence.

4 For since the beginning of the worlde they haue not heard no vnderhood with the eare, neither hath the eye seene another God beside thee, which doeth so to him that waiteth for him.

5 Thou diddest meeke him, that rejoiced in thee, and did iustly: they remembered thee in thy wayes: behold, thou art angry, for wee haue sinned: yet in them is continuance, and wee shall be saued.

6 But wee haue all bene as an uncleane thing, and all our righteousnesse is as filthy cloutes, and wee all doe fade like a leafe, and our iniquities like the winde haue taken vs away.

7 And there is none that calleth vpon thy Name, neither that sitteth by himselfe to take holde of thee: for thou hast hidde thy face from vs, and hast consumed vs because of our iniquities.

8 But now, O Lord, thou art our Father: we are the clay, and thou art our potter: and we all are the worke of thine hands.

9 Bee not angry, O Lord, about mensure, neither remember iniquitie for euill: for wee beseech thee, behold, we are all thy people.

g Thou wilt haue pitie vpon vs. h We are iustly punished and brought into captiuitie, because wee haue prouoked thee to anger, and though wee could excuse our selues, yet our righteousnesse and best vertues are before thee as vile cloutes, or, (as some reade) like the menstruous clothes of women. i Albeit, O Lord, by thy iust iudgement thou mayest vterely destroy vs, as the potter may his pot, yet we appeale to thy mercies, whereby it hath pleased thee to adoept vs to be thy children. k For so the flesh iudgeth when God doth not immediately send succour.

t By taking away thy holy Spirit from vs by whom wee were gouerned and so for our ingratitude diddest deliuer vs vp to our owne concupiscentie, & didst punish sin by sin according to thy iust iudgement.

u Meaning for the seruants sake made to Abraham, Izhak & Iacob his seruants. x That is, in respect of the promise which is perpetual: albeit they had now possessed the land of Canaan a thousand and foure hundred yeeres: and thus they lament, to meane God rather to remember his couenant, then to punish their finnes.

a The Prophet continueth his prayer, desiring God to declare his loue toward his Church by miracles, and mighty power, as hee did in mount Sinai.

b Meaning, the raine, haile, fire, thunder, and lightnings.

c Saint Paul vseth the same kinde of admiration, 1 Cor. 2.6.

d Thou shewedst fauour toward our fathers when they trusted in thee, and walked after thy commandements.

e They considered thy great mercies.

f That is, in thy mercies, which hee calleth the wayes of the Lord.

service and to call vpon thy Name.

n That is, at the contempt of thine owne glory
? though our sinnes haue deserued this, yet thou wilt not suffer thy glory thus to be diminished.

10 <sup>1</sup> Thine holy cities lie waste: Zion is a wildernesse, and Ierusalem a desert.

11 The house of our Sanctuaries and of our glory, <sup>m</sup> where our fathers prayed thee, is burnt by that fire, and all our pleacant things are wasted.

12 <sup>o</sup> Altho thou hold thy selfe still <sup>o</sup> at these things, O Lord: <sup>o</sup> wilt thou hold thy peace and afflict vs aboue measure?

13 <sup>o</sup> though our sinnes haue deserued this, yet thou wilt not suffer thy glory thus to be diminished.

CHAP. LXV.

<sup>1</sup> The vocation of the Gentiles and the reuelati-on of the Iewes. 13. The ioy of the elect, and the punishment of the wicked.

1 I haue beene sought of them that asked
I not: I was found of them that sought mee not: I sayde, Behold mee, behold mee, vnto a nation that called not vpon my Name.

2 I haue <sup>b</sup> spread out mine hands all the day vnto a rebellious people, which waiked in a way that was not good, euen after their owne <sup>c</sup> imaginations:

3 A people that prouoked mee euer vnto my face: that sacrificy in <sup>d</sup> gardenis, and burnt incense vpon <sup>e</sup> buikes.

4 Which remaine among the <sup>f</sup> graues, and lodge in the deserts, which eate <sup>g</sup> swines flesh, and the bothe of things polluted are in their vessels.

5 Which say, <sup>h</sup> Stand apart, come not nere to me: for I am holier then thou: these are a smoke in my wrath, & a fire that <sup>i</sup> burneth all the day.

6 Behold, it is <sup>j</sup> written before me: I will not keepe silence, but will render it and recompense it into their bosome.

7 Pour iniquities and the iniquities of your fathers shall be <sup>k</sup> together (saith <sup>l</sup> y Lord) which haue burnt incense vpon the moun-taines, and blasphemed me vpon the hilles:
therefore will I measure their olde worke into their bosome.

8 Thus saith the Lord, As the wine is found in the cluster, and one saith, Destroy it not, for a <sup>m</sup> blessing is in it, so will I doe for my seruants sakes, that I may not destroy them whole.

9 But I will bring a seede out of Iaa-kub, and out of Iudah, that shall inherite my mountaine: and mine elect shall inherite it, and my seruants shall dwell there.

10 And <sup>n</sup> Sharon shall be a sheepefolde, and the valley of Achor shall be a resting place for the cattell of my people, that haue sought mee,

11 But yee are they that haue forsaken the Lord, and forgotten mine holy Doutaine, and haue prepared a table for the <sup>o</sup> multitude, & turny the drinke offerings vnto the number.

12 Therefore will I <sup>p</sup> number you to the sword, and all you shall bowe downe to the flayghter, because I called, and yee did not answer: I <sup>q</sup> spake, and yee heard not, but did euil in my sight, and did chuse that thing which I would not.

13 Therefore thus saith the Lord God, Behold, my seruants shall <sup>r</sup> eate, and yee shall be hungry: behold, my seruants shall drinke, and yee shall be thirstie: behold, my seruants shall reioyce, and yee shall bee ashamed.

14 Beholde, my seruants shall sing for ioy of heart, and ye shall crye for sorowe of heart, and shall howle for vexation of minde.

15 And yee shall leaue your name as a curse vnto my <sup>s</sup> chosen: for the Lord God shall slay you, and call his seruants by <sup>t</sup> an other name.

16 He that shall blesse in the <sup>u</sup> earth shall blesse himselfe in the true God, and hee that sweareth in the earth, shall swear by the true God: for the former <sup>v</sup> troubles are forgotten, and shall surely hide themselves from mine eyes.

17 For loe, I will create <sup>w</sup> new heauens and a new earth: and the former shall not be remembered nor come into minde.

18 But bee you glad and reioyce for euer in the things that I shall create: for behold, I will create Ierusalem as a reioycing, and her people as a ioy,

19 And I will reioyce in Ierusalem, and ioy in my people, and the voyce of weeping shall be no more heard in her, nor the voyce of crying.

20 There shall be no more there a childe of yecetes, nor an olde man that hath <sup>x</sup> not filled his dayes: for ye that shall be an hundred yeres old, shall die as a yong man: but the sinner being an hundred yeres old shall be accursed.

21 And they shall build houses and inhabite them, and they shall plant vineardes, and eate the fruit of them.

22 They shall not build, and another in-habite: they shall not plant, and another eat: for as the dayes of the tree are the dayes of my people, and mine elect shall inioy in olde age the worke of their hands.

23 They shall not labour in vaine, nor bring forth in feare, for they are the seede of the blessed of the Lord, and their budde x I will no more suffer my Church to bee desolate as in times past.

y I will so alter and change the state of my Church, that it shall seeme to dwell in a newe world.

z Meaning, in this wonderfull restoration of the Church there should be no weakenesse of youth, nor infirmities of age, but all should bee fresh and flourishing: and this is accomplished in the heauenly Ierusalem when all sinnes shall cease, and the teares shall be wiped away. a Whereby he sheweth that the infidels and vnrepentant sinners haue no part in this benediction. b He proposeth to the faithfull the blessings which are contained in the law, and so vnder temporall things comprehendeth the spirituall promises,

tude and number he meaneth their innumerable idoles of whom they thought they could neuer cannot number your gods, I will number you with the sword.

phets whom blessed life of the faithfull, on and full contentment of all things in their God, though sometimes they lacke these corporall things.

he would call the Gentiles, horre euen the

the Iewes for their infidelities sake.

praying of god
for his benefits, and the true worshipping of him, which shall not be onely in Iudea, but through all the world.

a Meaning, the Gentiles, which knew not God, should seeke after him when he had moued their hearts, with his holy Spirit, Rom.
10. 20.

the cause of the rejection of the Iewes, because they should not obey him for any admiration of his Prophets by whom hee called them continually, and stretcht out his hand to draw them.

that delight in sies, is the declining from God,

ning of all superstition and idolauils, which was forbidden, Deut. 18. 11.

punishment shall neuer haue ende. k So that the remembrance thereof cannot be forgotten. l Shall bee both punished together:

and this declareth how the children are punished for their fathers faultes: to wit, when the same faultes or like are found in them.

faithfull branches of his vinearde, when he destroyeth the rotten stockes, that is, the hypocrites. n Which was a plentiful place in 25 The wolfe and the lambe shall feede together, and the lion shall eat straw like the bullocke: and the serpent dust shall be his meate. They shall no more hurt nor destroy in all mine holy mountaine, sayeth the Lord.

CHAP. LXXVI.

1 God dwelleth not in temples made with hands. 3 He despiseth sacrifices done without mercy and faith. 5 God comforteth them that are troubled for his sake. 19 The uocation of the Gentiles. 23 The perpetual Sabbath. 24 The punishment of the wicked & euersluing.

e Reade Chap. 1, 6.

Acts 7. 48. 49. a My maiestie is so great, that it filleth both heauen and earth, and therefore can not be included in a Temple like an idole: condemning hereby their vaine confidence, which trusted in the Temple and sacrifices. b Seeing that both the Temple and the things therein with the sacrifices, were made and done by his appointment, he sheweth that he hath no need thereof, and that he can be without them, Pal. 50. 10.

Thus saith the Lord, * The heauen is my throne, and the earth is my footstool: where is that woulde that yee will build vnto mee? and where is that place of my rest?

2 For all these things hath mine hande made, and all these things haue bene, saith the Lord: and to him will I looke, even to him that is poore, and of a contrite spirite and trembleth at my words.

3 Hee that killeth a bullocke, is as if hee slew a man: he that sacrificeth a sheepe, as if hee cut off a dogs necke: he that offereth an oblation, as if he offered swines blood: hee that remembereth incense, as if he blessed an idole: yea, they haue chosen their owne wayes: and their soule delighteth in their abominations.

4 Therefore will I chuse out their delusions, and I will bring their feare vpon them, because I called, and none would answer: I spake and they would not heare: but they did enill in my sight, and chose the things, which I would not.

5 Heare the word of the Lord, all ye that tremble at his word, Your brethren that hated you, and cast you out for my names sake, said, Let the Lord be glorified: but he shall appeare to your ioy, and they shall be ashamed.

6 A voyce soundeth from the citie, euen a voyce from the Temple, the voyce of the Lord, that recompenseth his enemies fully.

7 Before shee travelled, shee brought forth: and before her paine came, she was deliuered of a man child.

8 Who hath heard such a thing? who

c To him that is humble and pure in heart, which receiueh my doctrine with reverence and feare. d Because the Iewes thought themselves holy by offering of their sacrifices, and in the meane season had neither faith nor repentance, God sheweth that he doeth no lesse detest these ceremonies, then he doeth the sacrifices of the heathen, who offered men, dogs and swine to their idoles, which things were expressly forbidden in the Law. e I will discouer their wickednesse and hypocrisie, wherewith they thinke to blind mens eyes, to all the world. f Hee encourageth the faithful, by promising to destroy their enemies which pretended to be eas brethren, but were hypocrites and hated them that feared God. g The enemies shall shortly heare a more terrible voyce, euen fire & slaughter, seeing they would not heare the gentle voyce of the Prophets which called them to repentance. h Meaning, that the refection of the Church should be so fudden and contrary to all mens opinion, as when a woman is deliuered before shee looke for it, and that without paine in trauell.

hath seene such things? shall the earth be brought forth in one day? or shall a nation be borne at once? for asloone as Zion traueled, she brought forth her children.

9 Shall I cause to trauell, & not bring forth: shall I came to bring forth, and shall be barren, saith thy God?

10 Reioyce ye with Jerusalem, & be glad with her, all ye that loue her: reioyce for ioy with her, all ye that mourne for her,

11 That ye may sucke and bee satisfied with the breasts of her consolation: that ye may milke out and bee delighted with the brightnesse of her glory.

12 For thus saith the Lord, Beholde, I will create peace ouer her like a flood, and the glory of the Gentiles like a flowing stream: then shall ye sucke, ye shall be borne vpon her sides, and bee ioyfull vpon her knees.

13 As one whom his mother comforteth, so will I comfort you, and yee shall be comforted in Jerusalem.

14 And when ye see this, your heart shall reioyce, and your bones shall flourish like an herbe: and the hand of the Lord shall be known among his seruants, and his indignation against his enemies.

15 For behold, the Lord will come with fire, and his charers like a whirlewinde, that he may recompence his anger with wrath, and his indignation with the flame of fire.

16 For the Lord will iudge with feare, & with his sword all flesh, and the slaine of the Lord shall be many.

17 They that sanctifie themselves, and purifie themselves in the gardens behinde one tree in the middes eating swines flesh, and such abomination, euen the moue, shall be consumed together, sayeth the Lord.

18 For I will visite their works, and their imaginations: for it shall come that I will gather all nations and tongues, and they shall come, and see my glory.

19 And I will see a signe among them, and will send those that escape of them, vnto the nations of Carthage, Babylonia, Lydia, and to them that dwel in the bowle, to Tubal, and to Jaui, Iles a farr off, that haue not heard my fame, neither haue seene my glory, and they shall declare my glory among the Gentiles.

20 And they shall bring all your brethren for an offering vnto the Lord out of all complishment thereof. r Meaning, the hypocrites. s Wherby are meant them that did maliciously transgresse the Law, by eating things forbidden, euen to the moue which nature abhorreth. t The Gentiles shall be parakers of that glory which before I shewed to the Iewes. u I will marke these that I chuse, that they perish not with the rest of the Insidels, whereby hee alludeth to the marking of the postes of his people whom hee preferred, Exodus 12. 7. x I will scatter the rest of the Iewes which escape destruction into diuers nations. y That is, Cilicia. z Meaning Africa. a To wit, Lydia, or Asia minor. b Signifying, the Parthians. c Italy. d Grecia. e Meaning, the Apostle, Disciples, and others, which hee did first chuse of the Iewes to preach vnto the Gentiles. f That is, the Gentiles, which by faith shall be made the children of Abraham as you are.

i This shall passe the capacite of man to see such a multitude that shall come vp at once, meaning, vnder the preaching of the Gospel, wherof they that came vp out of Babylon, were a figure. k Declaring hereby, that as by his power and prouidence woman traueled, and is deliuered: so hath hee power to bring forth his Church at his time appointed. l That ye may reioyce for all the benefits that God bestoweth vpon his Church. m I will giue hee felicity and possession in great abundance. n Reade Chap. 60. 16. o Ye shall be cherished, as hee dearly beloued children. p Ye shall haue new strength and new beautie. q This vengeance God began to execute at the destruction of Babylon, and haue euer continued it against the enemies of his Church, and will doe it till the last day, which shall be the accomplishment thereof.

g Whereby he meaneth that no necessary names shall want when God shall call the Gentiles to the knowledge of the Gospel.

b To wit, of the Gentiles, as he did Luke, Timothy, and others first, and others after, to preach his word. i Hereby he signifyeth the kingdome of Christ, wherein his Church shall be renewed: and whereas before there were appointed seasons to sacrifice, in this there shall be one continuall Sabbath, so that all times and seasons shall be meete.

nations, vpon horses and in charrets, and in horse litters, and vpon mules, and swift beasts to Ierusalem mine holy mountaine, layeth the Lord, as the children of Israel offer in a cleane vessel in the house of the Lord.

21 And I will take of them for priests, and for Leuites, saith the Lord.

22 For as the new heauens, and the new earth which I will make, shall remaine before me, saith the Lord, so shall your seed and your name continue.

23 And from moneth to moneth, and from Sabbath to Sabbath, shall all flesh come to worship before me, saith the Lord.

24 And they shall goe forth and looke vpon the carcasses of the men that haue transgressed against mee: for their womne shall not die, neither shall their fire be quenched, and they shall be an abhorring vnto all flesh.

k As he hath declared the felicity that shall be within the Church for the comfort of the godly, so doth he shew what horrible calamitie shall come to the wicked, that are out of the Church. l Meaning, a continuall torment of conscience, which shall euer gnaw them and neuer suffer them to be at rest, Marke 9.44. m This is the iust recompense for the wicked, which contemning God and his word, shall be by Gods iust iudgment abhorred of all his creatures.

Jeremiah.

THE ARGUMENT.

The Prophet Ieremiah borne in the citie of Anathoth in the countrey of Benjamin, was the sonne of Hilkiah, whome some thinke to be he that found out the booke of the Law, and gaue it to Iosiah. This Prophet had excellent gifts of God, and most euident reuelations of prophesie, so that by the commandement of the Lord he began very yong to prophesie, that is, in the thirteenth yeere of Iosiah, and continued eighteene yeeres vnder the sayd King, and three moneths vnder Iehoahaz, and vnder Iehoiakim eleuen yeeres, and three moneths vnder Iehoiachin, and vnder Zedekiah eleuen yeeres: vnto the time that they were caried away into Babylon. So that this time amounteth to aboue fourtie yeeres, beside the time that he prophesied after the captiuitie. In this booke he declareth with teares and lamentation, the destruction of Ierusalem, and the captiuitie of the people for their idolatrie, couetousnesse, subtiltie, crueltie, excessie, rebellion and contempt of Gods word: and for the consolation of the Church, reuealeth the iust time of their deliuerance. And here chiefly are to be considered three things. First the rebellion of the wicked, which waxe more stubburne and obstinate, when the Prophets doe admonish them most plainly of their destruction. Next how the Prophets and ministers of God ought not to be discouraged in their vocation, though they be persecuted and rigorously handled of the wicked for Gods cause. And thirdly though God shew his iust iudgement against the wicked, yet will he euer shew himselfe a preferuer of his Church, and when all meanes seeme to mans iudgement to be abolished, then will he declare himselfe victorious in preferuing his.

CHAP. I.

i In what time Ieremiah prophesied. 6 He acknowledged his imperfektion, and is strengthened of the Lord. 11 The Lord sheweth him the destruction of Ierusalem. 17 He commaundeth him to preach his word without feare.

a That is, the sermons and prophesies.
b Which is thought to be he that found the booke of y Law vnder king Iosiah. 2. King. 22.8
c This was a citie about 3. miles distant from Ierusalem, and belonged to the priests the sonnes of Aaron, Ioh. 2. 1. 8.

In the wordes of Ieremiah the sonne of Hilkiah one of the Priests that were at Anathoth in the land of Benjamin. 2 To whom y word of the Lord came in the dayes of Iosiah the sonne of Amon King of Iudah in the thirteenth yeere of his reigne:

3 And also in the dayes of Iehoiakim the sonne of Iosiah King of Iudah, vnto the ende of the eleuenty yeere of Zedekiah, the sonne of Iosiah King of Iudah, euen vnto Ioh. 2. 1. 8.

d This is spoken to confirme his vocation and office: forasmuch as he did not presume of himselfe to preach and prophesie, but was called thereunto by God. e Meaning, the nephew of Iosiah: for Iehoahaz was his father, who reigned but three moneths, and therefore is not mentioned, no more is Iochin that reigned no longer.

to the carrying away of Ierusalem captiue in the first moneth.

4 Then the word of the Lord came vnto me, saying,

5 Before I formed thee in the wombe, I knewe thee, and before thou camest out of the wombe, I sanctified thee, and ordeined thee to bee a Prophet vnto the nations.

6 Then said I, Oh, Lord God, behold, I cannot speake, for I am a child.

7 But the Lord said vnto me, Say not, I am a child: for thou shalt goe to all that I shall send thee, and whatsoever I commaund thee, shalt thou speake.

8 Be not afraid of their faces: for I am with thee to deliuer thee, saith the Lord.

9 Then the Lord stretched out his hand as Iosiah 49. 1. Galatians 1. 15. h For Ieremiah did not onely prophesie against the Iewes, but also against the Egyptians, Babylonians, Moabites and other nations. i Considering the great iudgements of God, which according to his threatenings should come vpon the world, he was moued with a certaine compassion on the one side to pittie them that should thus perish, and on the other side by the infirmitie of mans nature, knowing how hard a thing it was to entrepise such a charge, as Iosiah 6. 11. Exod. 3. 11. and 4. 1.

k Which declareth, that God maketh them meet & assureth them, whom he calleth to see forth his glory, giuing them all meanes necessarye for the same, Exod. 4. 12. isa. 6. 7.

l He sheweth, what is the authoritie of Gods true ministers, which by his word haue power to beate downe whatsoever lieth against God: and to plant and assure the humble and such as giue themselves to the obedience of Gods word, 2. Cor. 10. 4. heb. 4. 12. and these are the keys which Christ hath left to loose and binde, Matt. 18. 18.

m Hee ioyneeth the see with the word for a more ample confirmation, signifying by the rod of the almond tree, which first buddeth, the hastie comming of the Babylonians against the Jewes.

n Signifying, that the Caldeans and Assyrians should be as a pot to seeth the Jewes which boyled in their pleasures and lustes. o Syria and Assyria were Northward in respect of Ierusalem, which were the Caldeans dominion, p I will giue them charge and power to execute my vengeance against the idolaters, which haue forsaken mee for their idoles. q Which declareth that Gods vengeance is prepared against them, which dare not execute their duety faithfully, either for feare of man, or for any other cause, 1. Cor. 9. 16. r Signifying on the one part, that the more that Satan and the world rage against Gods ministers, the more present will he be to helpe them, Ioh. 1. 4. heb. 1. 7. s. and on the other part, that they were vterly vnmeete to serue God and his Church which are afraid, and doe not resist wickednesse, whatsoever danger depend thereon, Isa. 50. 7. ez. ek. 3. 8.

CHAP. II.

2 God rehearseth his benefites done vnto the Jewes. 8 Against the Priests and false prophets. 12 The Jewes are destroyed, because they forsake God.

Moreouer, the word of the Lord came vnto me, saying, and he touched my mouth, and the Lord said vnto mee, Behold, I haue put my words in thy mouth.

10 Behold, this day haue I set thee ouer the nations and ouer the kingdomes, to plucke vp, and to root out, and to destroy and throw downe, to build, and to plant.

11 After this the word of the Lord came vnto me, saying, Jeremias, what seest thou? And I layde, I see a rod of an almond tree.

12 Then said the Lord vnto mee, Thou hast seene aright: for I will hasten my word to performe it.

13 Againe the word of the Lord came vnto mee the second time, saying, What seest thou? and I said, I see a seething pot looking out of the North.

14 Then said the Lord vnto mee, Out of the North shall a plague be spread vpon all the inhabitants of the land.

15 For loe, I will call all the families of the kingdomes of the North, sayeth the Lord, and they shall come, and euerie one shall set his thymone in the entering of the gates of Ierusalem, and on all the walles thereof round about, and in all the cities of Iudah.

16 And I will declare vnto them my iudgements touching all the wickednesse of them that haue forsaken mee, and haue burnt incense vnto other gods, and worshipped the woodkes of their owne hands.

17 Thou therefore truste by thy loynes, and arise, and speake vnto them all that I command thee: be not afraid of their faces, lest I destroy thee before them.

18 For I, behold, I this day haue made thee a defended citie, and an vpon pillar, and walles of brass against the whoite land, against the kings of Iudah, and against the princes thereof, against the Priests thereof, and against the people of the land.

19 For they shall fight against thee: but they shall not preuaile against thee: for I am with thee to deliuer thee, sayeth the Lord.

2 Goe, and erie in the eares of Ierusalem, saying, Thus saith the Lord, I remember thee, with the kindnesse of thy youth, and the loue of thy marriage, when thou wentest after me in the wilderness in a land that was not sowed.

3 Israel was as a thing halloved vnto the Lord, and his first fruites: all they that eate it, shall offend: euill shall come vpon them, saith the Lord.

4 Heare ye the word of the Lord, O house of Iakob, and all the families of the house of Israel.

5 Thus saith the Lord, What iniquitie haue your fathers found in me, that they are gone far from me, and haue walked after vanitie, and are become vaine?

6 For they said not, Where is the Lord that brought vs by out of the lande of Egypt: that led vs throug the wilderness, throug a desert and waite land, throug a thowe land, and by the shadow of death, by a land that no man passed throug, and where no man dwelt?

7 And I brought you into a plentifull country, to eate the fruite thereof, and the commodities of the same: but when ye entered, ye defiled my land, and made mine heritage an abomination.

8 The Priests said not, Where is the Lord? and they that should minister the Law, knew me not: the pastors also offended against mee, and the Prophets prophesied in Baal, and went after things that did not profit.

9 Therefore I will yet plead with you, saith the Lord, and I will plead with your childrens children.

10 For goe ye to the ples of O Chittim, and behold, and send vnto P Cedar, and take diligent heed, and see whether there be such things.

11 Hath any nation changed their gods, which yet are no gods? but my people haue changed their a glory, for that which doeth not profit.

12 Vp heauenus, be astonied at this: be afraide, and vterly confounded, saith the Lord.

13 For my people haue committed two euils: they haue forsaken me the fountaine a According to that grace and fauour, which shewed thee from the beginning, when I did first chuse thee to be my people, and married thee to my selfe, Ezekiel. 16.

b When I did deliuer thee out of Egypt, c Chosen aboue all other to serue the Lord onely, and the first offered to the Lord of all other nations.

Ionah. 2. 8. zech. 10. 2.

Ebr. sede was all true. g Though thou vie all the purification and ceremonies of the Law, thou canst not escape punishment, except thou turne to me by faith and penitence. h Meaning, that hypocrites denie that they worshippe the idoles, but that they honour God in them, and therefore they call their doings Gods seruice. i He compareth the idolaters to these heastes, because they neuer cease running to and fro: for both val- leys and hills are full of their idolatrie. k Hee compareth the idolaters to a wilde asse: for thee can neuer be tamed, nor yet wearied: for as the runneth, shee can take her wilde at enery occasion. l That is, when thee is with soile, and therefore the hunters waite their time: so though thou canst not be turned backe nowe from thine idolatrie, yet when thine iniquitie shall be at the full, God will meete with thee. m Hereby he warneth them that they should not goe into strange countries to seeke helpe: for that they should but spend their labour, and hurt themselves, which is here meant by the bare foot and third, Iai. 57. 10.

14 Is Israel a seruant, or is he bozne in the houle? why then is he spoiled?

15 The Lyons roared vpon him and yelld, and they haue made his laud waste: his cities are burnt without an inhabitant.

16 Also the children of 2 Noph and Ca- hypanes haue broken chine head.

17 Wand not thou procured this vnto thy selfe, because thou hast forsaken the Lorde thy God, when hee b ledde thee by the way?

18 And what hast thou now to doe in the way of e Egypt: to drinke the water of Nilus? or what maketh thou in the way of Asshur: to drinke the water of the 4 Ri- uer?

19 Thine owne wickednesse shall c cor- rect thee, and thy turnings backe shall re- prooue thee: know therefore and beholde, that it is an euill thing, and bitter, that thou hast forsaken the Lord thy God, and that my feare is not in thee, saith the Lord God of hostes.

20 For of olde time I haue broken thy yoke, and burst thy bonds, and thou saydest, I will no more tearyntelle, but like an har- lot: thou runnest about vpon all hie hills, and vnder all greene trees.

21 Yet I had planted thee a noble vine, whose plants were all naturall: how then art thou turned vnto mee into the plants of a strange vine?

22 Though thou wash thee with nitre, and take thee much sope, yet thine in- quietie is marked before mee, saith the Lord God.

23 How canst thou say, I am not pollu- ted, neither haue I b followed Baalim: be- hold thy wayes in the valley, & know, what thou hast done: thou art like a swift i wom- darte, that runneth by his wayes:

24 And as a wilde asse, vnto the wil- dernesse, that smiffeth vp the winde by oc- casion at her pleasure: who can turne her backe? all they that seeke her, will not wearie themselves, but will find her in her mo- neth.

25 Keepe thou thy feete from barenesse, and thy throat from thirst: but thou saydest desperately, No, for I haue loued strangers, and them will I follow.

26 As the chiefe is ashamed when he is found, so is y house of Israel ashamed, they, their kings, their princes, and their priestes, and their prophets,

27 Saying to a tree, Thou art my fa- ther, and to a stone, Thou hast begotten mee: for they haue turned their backe vnto mee, and not their face: but in the time of their trouble they will say, Arie, and helpe vs.

28 But where are thy gods, that thou hast made thee? Let them arise if they can helpe thee in the time of thy trouble: for ac- cording to the number of thy cities, are thy Gods D Iudah.

29 Therefore will I ye pleade with me: yee all haue rebelled against mee, sayeth the Lord.

30 I haue smitten your children in vaine, they receiued no correction: your 2 ont sword hath deuoured your Prophets like a dectroying lion.

31 O generation, take heed to the word of the Lord: I haue I bene as a 1 wilder- nesse vnto Israel: or a land of darkenesse: therefore sayeth my people then, Wee are lordes, wee will come no more vnto thee?

32 Can a maide forget her ornament, or a brude her attire? yet my people haue forgot- ten me, dayes without number.

33 Why dost thou prepare thy way, to seeke amitie: enen therefore will I reach thee, that thy wayes are wickednesse

34 Also in thy wings is found the blood of the soales of the poore innocents: I haue not found it in holes, but vpon all these places.

35 Yet thou sayest, Because I am guilt- lesse, surely his wrath shall turne from mee: beholde, I will enter with thee into iudg- ment, because thou sayest, I haue not sinned.

36 Why runnest thou about to much to change thy wayes? for thou shalt bee con- founded of Egypt: as thou art confounded of Asshur.

37 For thou shalt goe forth from thence, and thine hands vpon 2 chine head, because the Lord hath reiected thy confidence, and thou shalt not prosper thereby.

f Have I not given them abundance of all thing, in our own power & policie. u With strangers, x The Prophets and the faithfull areaine in euery corner of your country. y For the Assyrians had taken away the tenn. tribes out of Israel, and de- stroyed Iuda, euen vnto Ierusalem, and the Egyptians slew Iosif, and vexed the Iewes in sundrie sorts. z In signe of lamentation, as. 2. n As a chiefe will not acknowledge his fault, till hee bee taken with the deede, and readie to be pu- nished: so they will not confesse their idolatrie, till the plagues due to the same light vpon them. o Meaning, that idolaters spoyle God of his ho- nour: and where- as he hath taught to call him the father of all flesh, they attribute this title to their idoles.

p Thou though- test that thy gods of blockes and stones could haue holpen thee be- cause they were many in number and present in euery place: but now let vs see whether either the multitude, or their presence can deliuer thee from my plagues Chap. 11. 13.

gainc vnto her? shall not this land be polluted; but thou hast played the harlot with many louers: yet turne againe to me, saith the Lord.

2 Lift vp thine eyes vnto the hie places, and behold, where thou hast not played the harlot: thou hast lie waiting for them in the wayes, as the Arabians in the wilderness: and thou hast polluted the land with thy whoredomes, and with thy magicke.

3 Therefore the stormes haue bene returned, and the latter raine came not, and thou hadst a s whores forehead: thou wilt not be ashamed.

4 Didst thou not still cry vnto me, Thou art my father, and the guide of my youth?

5 Will he keepe his anger for ever? will he reserve it to the end? thus hast thou spoken, but thou dost euill, euill more and more.

6 The Loide sayd also vnto mee, in the dayes of Iosiah the King, What thou seene what this rebell Israel hath done: for she hath gone vp vpon euery high mountaine, and vnder euery greene tree, & there played the harlot.

7 And I sayde, when shee had done all this, Turne thou vnto mee: but shee returned not, as her rebellious sister Iudah saw.

8 When I sawe, how that by all occasions rebellious Israel had played the harlot, I call her away, and gaue her a bill of diuorcement: yet her rebellious sister Iudah was not afraide, but she went also, and played the harlot.

9 So that for the lightnes of her whoredome she hath euill defiled the land: for she hath committed fornication with stones and stockes.

10 Rememberest thou for all this, her rebellious sister Iudah hath not returned vnto me with her whole heart, but faintly, saith the Loide.

11 And the Loide said vnto me, The rebellious Israel hath unjustified her selfe more then the rebellious Iudah.

12 See and cry these words toward the North, and say, Thou disobedient Israel, returne, saith the Loide, and I will not let my wrath fall vpon you: for I am mercifull, saith the Loide, and I will not alway keepe mine anger.

13 But knowe thine iniquitie: for thou hast rebelled against the Loide thy God, and hast scattered thy wayes to the strange gods vnder euery greene tree, but yet would not obey my voyce, saith the Loide.

14 O ye disobedient children, turne againe, saith the Loide, for I am your Loide, and I will take you one of a city, and two of a tribe, and will bring you to Zion.

15 And I will giue you pastors according to mine heart, which shall feede you with knowledge and vnderstanding.

16 He obserue, when ye be increased, and multiplied in the land, in those dayes, saith the Loide, they shall lay no more, The Covenent of the covenant of the Loide: for it shall come no more to mind, neither shall they remember it, neither shall they visit it, for that shall be no more done.

17 At that time they shall call Jerusalem, The Throne of the Loide, and all the nations shall be gathered vnto it, even to the Name of the Loide in Jerusalem: and thenceforth they shall follow no more the hauidnesse of their wicked heart.

18 In those dayes the house of Iudah shall walke with the house of Israel, and they shall come together out of the lande of the North, into the land, that I haue giuen for an inheritance vnto your fathers.

19 But I sayde, howe did I take thee for children, and giue thee a pleasant land, euen the glorious heritage of the armies of the heathen, and sayd, Thou shalt call me, saying, My father, and shalt not turne from mee?

20 But as a woman rebelleth against her husband: so haue ye rebelled against me, O house of Israel, saith the Loide.

21 A voyce was heard vpon the high places, weeping and supplications of the children of Israel: for they haue peruerced their way, and forgotten the Loide their God.

22 O ye disobedient children, returne and I will heale your rebellions: Beholde, we come vnto thee, for thou art the Loide our God.

23 Truly, the hope of the hills is but vaine, nor the multitude of mountaintes; but in the Loide our God is the heath of Israel.

24 For confusion hath denoured our fathers labour, from our youth, their sterpe and their bullockes, their sonnes and their daughters.

25 Lie downe in our confusion, and our shame couereth vs: for we haue sinned against the Loide our God, we and our fathers from our youth, euen vnto this day, and haue not obeyed the voyce of the Loide our God.

CHAP. IIII.

1 True repentance. 4 He exhorteth to the circumcision of the heart. 5 The destruction of Iudah is prophesied for the malice of their hearts. 19 The Prophet Iam. entech it.

O Israel, if thou returne, returne vnto me, saith the Loide: and if thou put away thine abominations out of my sight, then shalt thou not remooue.

2 And thou shalt sweare, The Loide is truth, in trust, in iudgement, and in righte serue him by halves, as Hecsa. 7. 16. b Thou shalt dect the name of idoles, Psal. 116. 4. and shalt with reuerence sweare by the liuing God, when thine othe may encrease Gods glory, and profit others: and here by swearing he meaneth the true religion of God.

q This is to be vnderstood of the coming of Christ: for then they shall not seeke the Loide by ceremonies, and all figures shall cease.

r Meaning, the Church, where the Loide will be present to the worlds end, Mat. 28. 20.

s Where they are now in captivity.

t The Hebrew word signifieth a friend or companion, and here may be taken for a husband, as it is vsed also, Hose.

u Signifying that God whom they had forsaken, would bring their enemies vpon them who should lead them captiue and take them to cry and lament.

x This is spoken in the person of Israel to the shame of Iudah, which stayed long to turne vnto God.

a That is, wholly and without hypocrisy, Joel 2.

trouffnelle, and the nations shall be blessed in him, and shall glory in him.

3 For thus saith the Lord to the men of Iudah, and to Jerusalem,

4 Breake vp e your fallow ground, and sow not among the thornes: be circumcised to the Lord, and take away the foreskinnes of your hearts, ye men of Iudah, and inhabitants of Jerusalem, least my wrath come forth like fire, and burne, that none can quench it, because of the wickednesse of your inventions.

5 Declare in Iudah, and shew forth in Jerusalem, and say, Blowe the trumpet in the land: cry, and gather to gether, and say, Assemble your selues, and let vs goe into strong cities.

6 Set vp the standard in Zion: e prepare to flee, and stay not: for I will bring a plague from the North, and a great destruction.

7 The lion is come vp from his denne, and the destroyer of the Gentiles is departed, and gone forth of his place to lay thy land waste, and thy cities shall be destroyed without inhabitant.

8 Therefore gird you with sackcloth: lament and howle, for the fierce wrath of the Lord is not turned backe from vs.

9 And in that day, sayeth the Lord, the heart of the king shall perish, and the heart of the Princes, and the Priests shall be astonished, and the prophets shall wonder.

10 Then said I, Ah, Lord God, surely thou hast deceived this people, and Jerusalem, saying, Ye shall haue peace, and the sword pearcech vnto the heart.

11 At that time shall it be sayd to this people, and to Jerusalem, A drie winde in the high places of the wildecnesse cometh toward the daughter of my people, but neither to fanne, nor to cleanse.

12 A mightie winde shall come vnto mee from those places, and now will I also giue sentence vpon them.

13 Beholde, hee shall come vp as the cloudes, and his charrets shall be as a tempest: his hoiles are lighter then eagles. Wo vnto vs, for we are destroyed.

14 O Jerusalem, wash thine heart from wickednesse, that thou mayest be saued: how long shall thy wicked thoughts remaine within thee?

15 For a voyce declareth from Dan, and publisheth affliction from mount Ephraim.

16 Make ye mention of the heathen, and publish in Jerusalem, Beholde, the kourtes come from a faire countrey, and cry out against the cities of Iudah.

17 They haue compassed her about as the watchmen of the field, because it hath provoked me to wrath, saith the Lord.

18 Thy wayes & thine inventions haue procured thee these things, such is thy wickednesse: therefore it shall be bitter, therefore it shall pearce vnto thine heart.

19 O my belly, & my belly, I am pained, euen at the very heart: my heart is troubled within me: I cannot be still: for my soule hath heard the sound of the trumpet, and the alarme of the battell.

20 Destruction vpon destruction is cried, for the whole land is wasted: suddenly are my tents destroyed, and my curtains in a moment.

21 How long shall I see the standard, and heare the found of the trumpet?

22 For my people is foolish: they haue not knowne me: they are foolish children, and haue noie vnderstanding: they are wise to doe euill, but to do well they haue no knowledge.

23 I haue looked vpon the earth, and loe, it was without foyme and void: and to the heauens, and they had no light.

24 I beheld the mountaines, and lo, they trembled, and all the hilles shooke.

25 I beheld, and loe, there was no man, and all the birdes of the heauen were departed.

26 I beheld, and loe, the fruitfull place was a wildecnesse, and all the cities thereof were broken downe at the presence of the Lord, and by his fierce wrath.

27 For thus hath the Lord sayde, The whole land shall be desolate: yet will I not make a full end.

28 Therefore shal the earth mourne, and the heauens aboue shall be darkened, because I haue pronounced it: I haue thought it, and will not repent, neither will I turne backe from it.

29 The whole city shall flee, for the noise of the hostemen and bowemen: they shall go into thickets, and clime by vpon the rockes: eueny city shall be forsaken, and not a man dwell therein.

30 And when thou shalt bee destroyed, what wilt thou do? Though thou clovest thy selfe with skarlet, though thou deckest thee with ornaments of gold, though thou paintest thy face with colours, yet shalt thou trunne thy selfe in vaine: for thy louers will abhorre thee, and seeke thy life.

31 For I haue heard a noyie as of a woman traunling, or as one labouring of her first child, euen the voyce of the daughter Zion that sigheth and stretcheth out her hands: y woe is me now: for my soule fainteth because of the murderers.

rich gifts shall deliuer thee. y As the Prophets were moued to pittie the destruction of their people, so they declared it to the people to moue them to repentance, Isa. 22. 4. chap 9. 11.

ye can find a man, or if there be any that exe-cureth iudgement, and ſeeketh the truth, and I will ſpare it.
2 For though they ſay, The <sup>b</sup> Lorde li-

3 <sup>d</sup> Lorde, are not thine eyes vpon the e truth? thou haſt ſtricken them, but they haue not ſorrowed: thou haſt conſumed them, but they haue refuſed to receive correction:
they haue made their faces harder then a ſtone, and haue refuſed to returne.
4 Therefore I ſayde, Surely they are poore, they are fooliſh, for they know not the way of the Lord, nor the iudgement of their God.
5 I will get mee vnto the <sup>e</sup> great men, and will ſpeake vnto them: for they haue knowne the way of the Lord, and the iudge-

6 Therefore <sup>f</sup> a Lion out of the foreſt ſhal

7 How ſhould I ſpare thee for this? thy aſſembled themſelues by companies in the 8 They roſe vp in the morning like ſed

the Lord? Shall not my ſoule be enanged

13 And the Prophets ſhall be as <sup>l</sup> winde, paſſe it, and though the waues thereof rage, yet can they not preuaile, though they roare, yet can they not paſſe ouer it?

23 But this people hath an unfaithfull and rebellious heart: they are departed and gone.
24 For they ſay not in their heart, Let vs

1 The coming of the Assyrians and Caldeans.
16 He exhorteſh the Jewes to repentance.

Ove children of Benjamin, prepare to flee out of the middeſ of Ierusalem, and blow the trumpet in <sup>b</sup> Bethcoa: ſet up a ſtandard vpon Beth-haccerem: for a plague

c Reade Nehemiah 3. 14.

d I haue increased her gently, and giuen her abundance of all things.

e She it albe fo destroyed, that the sheepe may be fed in her.

f He speaketh this in the person of the Babylonians, which complaine that the time faileth them before they haue brought
th. in enterprises to passe.

g He saith the cause why it should be destroyed, and how it commeth of themselves.

h He warneth them to amend by his corrections, and to turne to him by repentance.

i He exhorteth
the Babylonians to be diligent to search out all and to leaue none.

k They delight to heare vaine things, and to shut vp their eares to true doctrine.

l As the Lord had giuen him his word: so be as a fire of his indignation to burne the wicked, Chap. 5. 14.

so he kindleth it now when he seeth that all remedies are past.

m None shall be spared.

n When the people began to feare Gods iudgements, the false prophets comforted them by flattering, & showing that God would send peace and not warre.

o Wherein the Patriarkes and Prophets walked, directed by the word of God:
signifying, that there is no true way, but that which God prescribeth.

2 I haue compared the daughter of Zion to a beautiful and dainty woman.

3 The palaces with their flockes shall come vnto her: they shall pitch their tents round about by her, and euery one shall feed in his place.

4 I prepare warre against her: arise, and let vs goe vp toward the South: woe vnto vs: for the day declineth, and the shadows of the euening are stretched out.

5 Arise, and let vs goe vp by night, and destroy her palaces.

6 For thus hath the Lord of hostes sayde, Behold I will lay a moult against Ierusalem: this citie must be vilited: all oppression is in the mids of it.

7 As the fountaine casteth out her waters, so shee casteth out her malice: & cruelty and hypocrisie is continually heard in her before me with howl and strokes.

8 Behold I instructed, O Ierusalem, lest my soule depart from thee, lest I make thee desolate as a land that none inhabiteth.

9 Thus sayth the Lord of hostes, They shall gather as a vine, the residue of Israel:
turne & bake thine hand as the grape gatherer into the baskets.

10 Vnto whom shall I speake, and admonish, that they may heare? Beholde, their eares are vncircumcised, and they cannot hearken, beholde, the worde of the Lord is vnto them as a reproch: they haue no delite in it.

11 Therefore I am full of the wrath of the Lord: I am weary with holding it: I will poure it out vpon the children in the street, and like wildfire vpon the assembly of the yong men: for the bulband shall euen be taken with the wife, and the aged with him that is full of dayes.

12 And their houses with their landes, and wines all shall bee turned vnto strangers: for I will stretch out mine hande vpon the inhabitants of the lande, sayeth the Lord.

13 For from the least of them, euen vnto the greatest of them, euery one is giuen vnto conterfacion, and from the prophet euen vnto the priest, they all deale fallly.

14 They haue healed also the hurt of the daughter of my people with sweete wordes, saying, Peace, peace, when there is no peace.

15 Where they asked when they had committed abomination? nay, they were not ashamed, no neither could they haue any shame: therefore they shall fall among the flaine: when I shall visite them, they shall be cast down, sayth the Lord.

16 Thus sayth the Lord, Stand in the wayes and beholde, and aske for the olde way which is the good way, & walke therein, and ye shall find rest for your soules: but they sayd, We will not walke therein.

17 Also I set watchmen ouer you, which said, Take heed to the sound of the trumpet:

but they said, We will not take heed.

18 Heare therefore, ye Gentiles, and thou Congregation know, what is among them.

19 Heare, O earth, behold, I will cause a plague to come vpon this people, euen the fruite of their owne imaginations: because they haue not taken heed vnto my wordes, nor to my law, but cast it off.

20 To what purpose bringest thou seerifices from Sheba, and sweete calamus from a faire countrey? Pour burnt offerings are not pleasant, nor your sacrifices sweete vnto me.

21 Therefore thus sayth the Lord, Be-holde, I will lay stumbling blockes before this people, and the fathers and the sonnes together shall fall vpon them: the neighbour and his friend shall perishe.

22 Thus saith the Lord, Beholde, a people cometh from the North countrey, and a great nation shall arise from the sides of the earth.

23 With bowe and shilde shall they bee weaponed: they are cruell, and will haue no compassion: their voyce roareth like the sea, and they rde vpon horses, well appointed, like men of warre against thee, O daughter Zion.

24 We haue heard their fame, and our hands were feeble: for now is come vpon vs, as the sorow of a woman in trauaile.

25 Goe not forth into the field, nor walke by the way: for the sword of the enemy and fear is on euery side.

26 O daughter of my people, gird thee with sackcloth, and wallow thy selfe in the ashes: make lamentation, and bitter mounting as for thine oarly soune: for the destroyer shall suddenly come vpon vs.

27 I haue set thee for a defence and fortresse among my people, that thou mayest know and try their wayes.

28 They are all rebellious traytors, walking craftily: they are blasphemous, and yron, they all are destroyers.

29 They are burnt: the lead is continued in the fire: the founder melteth in vaine: for the wicked are not taken away.

30 They shall call them reprobate silver, because the Lord hath rejected them.

a Beleeue not the false prophets, wh ch say f for the Temples sake and the sacrifices there, the Lord will preferre you, and fo nourish you in your fin, and vaine confidence b God sheweth on what condition he make his promise to this Temple: that they should be an holy people vnto him, as he would be a faithfull God to them.
c As sheeues hid in holes and denues, thinke themselves safe, so when you are in my Temple, you thinke to be couered with the holinesse thereof, and that I cannot see your wickednesse, Mat. 21. 13.
d Because they depeded so much on the Temple, which was for his promise that he would be present, and defend them where the Arke was: hee sendeth them to Gods iudgements against Shilo, where the Arke had remained about 300. yeeres, and after was taken, the Priests slaine, and the people miserably discomfited, 1. Sam. 4. 11. chap. 26. 6.
e That is, I neuer ceased to warne you, as Isa 65. 2. Pro. 1. 12. 3.
f He sheweth what is the only remedy to redresse our faults: to suffer God to lead vs into the way, & to obey his calling, Isa. 66. 4. g I wil send you into captivity as I haue done Ephraim, that is, the ten tribes.
h To assure them that God had determined with himselfe to punish their wickednes, he sheweth that the prayer of the godly can nothing auail them, while they remaine in their obduracy against God, and will not vse the meanes that he vseth to call them to repentance, Cha. 11. 14. & 14. 11. i That is, they sacrifice to the sunne, moone, and starres, which they called the Queens of heauen, Chap. 44. 17. 2. king. 23. 5.

4 Trust not in lying wordes, saying, The Temple of the Lord, the Temple of the Lord: this is the Temple of the Lord.
5 For if you amende and redresse your wayes and your workes: if you execute iudgement betwene a man and his neighbour,
6 And oppresse not the stranger, the fatherlesse and the widowe, and shed no innocent blood in this place, neither walke after other gods to your destruction,
7 Then will I let you dwell in this place in the lande that I gaue vnto your fathers, for euer and euer.
8 Behold, you trust in lying wordes, that cannot profit.
9 Will you steale, murder, and commit adultery, and sinne falsely, and burne incense vnto Baal, and walke after other gods whom ye know not,
10 And come and stand before me in this house, wherupon my Name is called, and say, We are deliuered, though we haue done all these abominations?
11 Is this house become a denne of thieues, wherupon my Name is called before your eyes? Beholde, euen I see it, sayeth the Lord.
12 But goe yee now vnto my place which was in Shilo, where I set my Name at the beginning, and beholde what I did to it for the wickednesse of my people Israel.
13 Therefore now because yee haue done all these workes, saith the Lord (and I rose vp early and spake vnto you: but when I spake, yee would not heare me, neither when I called, would ye answer)
14 Therefore will I doe vnto this house, wherupon my Name is called, wherein also yee trust, euen vnto the place that I gaue to you and to your fathers, as I haue done vnto Shilo.
15 And I will call you out of my sight, as I haue callt out all your brethren, euen the whole seede of Ephraim.
16 Therefore thou shalt not pray for this people, neither lift vp crye or prayer for them, neither intreat me, for I will not heare thee.
17 Seest thou not what they doe in the cities of Iudah and in the streetes of Ierusalem?
18 The children gather wood, and the fathers kinde the fire, and the women knead the dough to make cakes to the Queene of heauen, and to poure out drinke offerings vnto other gods, that they may prouoke mee vnto anger.
19 Doe they prouoke me to anger, sayth the Lord, and not themselves to the confusion of their owne faces?

20 Therefore thus sayeth the Lord God, Beholde, mine anger and my wrath shall be poured vpon this place, vpon man and vpon beaist, and vpon the tree of the ficke, and vpon the fruit of the ground, & it shall burne and not be quenched.
21 Thus saith the Lord of hostes the God of Israel, But your burnt offerings vnto your sacrifices, and eate the flesh.
22 For I spake not vnto your fathers, nor commanded them, wher I brought them out of the land of Egypt, concerning burnt offerings and sacrifices.
23 But this thing commanded I them, saying, Obey my voyce, and I will bee your God, and ye shall be my people: and walke ye in all the wayes which I haue commanded you, that it may be well vnto you.
24 But they would not obey, nor incline their eare, but went after the counsels and the stubburnnesse of their wicked heart, and went backwarde and not forward.
25 Since the day that your fathers came vp out of the land of Egypt, vnto this day, I haue enuent vnto you all my seruants the Prophets, rising vp early euery day, and sending them.
26 Yet would they not heare me, nor incline their eare, but hardened their neck, and did worke then their fathers.
27 Therefore shalt thou speake all these wordes vnto them, but they will not heare thee: thou shalt also crye vnto them, but they will not answer thee.
28 But thou shalt say vnto them, This is a nation that heareth not the voyce of the Lord their God, nor receiueth discipline: truth is perished, and is cleane gone out of their mouth.
29 Cut off thine hate, O Ierusalem, and cast it away, and take by a complaint on the high places: for the Lord hath reiected and forsaken the generation of his wrath.
30 For the children of Iudah haue done euill in my sight, sayeth the Lord: they haue let their abominations in the house, wherupon my Name is called, to polluce it.
31 And they haue built the high place of Topheth, which is in the valley of Benhinom, to burne their sonnes and their daughters in the fire, which I commanded them not, neither came it in mine heart.
32 Therefore behold, the daies come, saith the Lord, that it shall no more be called Topheth, nor the valley of Ben hinom, but the valley of slaughter: for they shall bury in Topheth, till there be no place.
33 And the carkeles of this people shall be meate for the fowles of the heauen and for the bestes of the earth, and none shall fray them away.
34 Then will I cause to cease from the Cities of Iudah and from the streetes of Ierusalem, the voyce of myrrh and the voyce of gladnesse, the voyce of the bride-g Shewing that it was not his chief purpose and intent that they should offer sacrifices: but that they should regard, wherefore they were ordained: to wit, to beioyned to the word, as seales & confirmations of remission of sinnes in Christ: for without the word they were wayne and vprofitable. l Which was about foureene hundred yeeres. m Read vers. 13. n Whereby he sheweth that the Pastours ought not to leaue their flocks in their obduracy: for the Lord will vse the meanes of his seruants to make the wicked more faulty, and to prouue his. o In signe of mourning, as Iob 1. 20. mich. 1. 16. p Against whom he had iust occasion to poure out his wrath. q Of Topheth read 2. CHAP. VIII.

1 The destruction of the Jewes. 4 The Lord moveth the people to amendment. 10 He reprehendeth the lying doctrine and the couctousnesse of the Prophets and Priests.

That time, sayeth the Lorde, they shall bring out the bones of the Kings of Iudah, and the bones of their Princes, and the bones of the Priests, and the bones of the Prophets, and the bones of the inhabitants of Jerusalem out of their graves.

2 And they shall spread them before the sunne and the moone, and all the hoste of heauen, whom they haue leued, and whome they haue leued, and whome they haue followed, & whom they haue sought, and whome they haue worshipped: they shall not bee gathered nor be buried, but shall be as dung vpon the earth.

3 And death shall be desired rather then life, of all the residue that remaineth of this wicked family, which remaine in all the places where I haue scattered them, sayeth the Lord of hostes.

4 Thou shalt say vnto them also, Thus saith the Lord, Shall they be fal and not arise? shall he turne away and not turne againe?

5 Wherefore is this people of Jerusalem turned backe by a perpetuall rebellion? they gaue themselves to deceit, and would not returne.

6 I hearkened and heard, but none spake right: no man repented him of his wickednesse, saying, What haue I done? euerie one turned to their race, as the horse rusheth into the battell.

7 Euen the stouke in the alre knoweth her appointed times, and the Turtle, and the crane, & the swallow obserue the time of their coming, but my people knoweth not the iudgement of the Lord.

8 How doe ye say, Wee are wise, and the Law of the Lord is with vs? Lo, certainly in vaine made hee it, the pen of the Scribes is in vaine.

9 The s wise men are ashamed: they are afraid and taken: loe, they haue reiected the worde of the Lord, and what wisdom is in them?

10 Therefore wil I giue their wines vnto others, and their fieldes to them that shall possesse them: for euerie one from the least euen vnto the greatest is a liuen to couctousnesse, and from the Prophet euen vnto the Priest, euerie one dealeth falsely.

11 For they haue dealed the hurt of the daughter of my people with sweete wordes, saying, Peace, peace, when there is no peace.

12 Were they ashamed when they had committed abomination? nay, they were not ashamed, neither could they haue any shame: therefore shall they fall among the slayne: when I shall visite them, they shall bee cast downe, saith the Lord.

13 I wil surely consume them, saith the Lord: there shall bee no grapes on the vine, nor figges on the fig tree, and the lease shall fade, and the things that I haue giuen them shall depart from them.

14 Why doe wee stay? assemble your selues, and let vs enter into the strong cities, and let vs bee quiet there: for the Lorde our God hath put vs to silence, and giuen vs water with gall to drinke, because we haue sinned against the Lord.

15 Wee looked for peace, but no good came, and for a time of health, and beholde, troubles.

16 The noyng of his horses was heard from Dan, the whole land trembled at the noyng of the noyng of his strong bowes: for they are come, and haue deuoured the lande with all that is in it, the citie and those that dwell therein.

17 For behold, I will send serpents, and cockatrices among you, which will not bee charmed: and they shall sting you, saith the Lord.

18 I would haue comforted my selfe against sorrow, but mine heart is heauy in me.

19 Beholde, the voyce of the cry of the daughter of my people for feare of them of a farre country, Is not the Lorde in Zion? is not her King in her? Why haue they provoked mee to anger with their grauen images, and with the vanities of a strange god?

20 The harvest is past, the summer is ended, and we are not holpen.

21 I am a sore vered for the hurt of the daughter of my people: I am heauy, and astonishment hath taken me.

22 Is there no balm in Gilead? is there no Physician there? Why then is not the health of the daughter of my people recovered?

q The Prophet speaketh this. r Meaning, that no mans helpe or means could saue them: for in Gilead was precious balm, Chap. 46. 11. or els deciding the vaine confidence of the people, who looked for helpe at their Priests, who should haue bene the Physicians of their soules, and dwelt at Gilead, Hof. 6. 8.

CHAP. IX.

1 The complaint of the Prophet for the malice of the people. 24 In the knowledge of God ought we only to reioice 26 The uncircucision of the heare.

Oh that mine head were full of water, and mine eyes a fountain of teares, that I might weepe day and night for the slayne of the daughter of my people.

2 Why that I had in the wilderness a cottage of wayfaring men, that I might leaue my people and goe from them: for they be all adulterers and an assembly of rebels,

3 And they bend their tongues like their bowes for lies: but they haue no courage for the truth vpon the earth: for they proceede from euill to worse, and they haue not knowne me, saith the Lord.

4 Let euerie one take heed of his neighbour, and trust you not in any brother: for euerie brother wil be deceit, and euerie friend wil deale deceitfully.

h That this were more quietnesse, and greater safety for him to dwell among the wilde beastes, then among this wicked people, saue that God hath enioyned him this charge. i Vicerly turned from God. d To belie and slander their neighbours. e Meaning, that all were corrupt, and none could find an honest man.

i He speaketh of the pestion of the people, who whilome the enemy commeth, will runne about to hide themselves, and acknowledge that it is Gods hand.

k That is, hath brought vs into extreme affliction, and thus they shall not attribute this plague to fortune, but to Gods iust iudgement, Chap. 9. 15. and 23. 15.

m God threateneth to send the Babylonians against them, who shall utterly destroy them in such sort as by no means they shall escape.

o Thus the Lord speaketh.

p The people wonder that they haue so long time looked for succour in vaine.

a The Prophet sheweth the great compassion that he had toward this people, seeing that hee could neuer sufficiently lament the destruction that he saw to hang ouer them. Which is a speciall note to discern the true pastors from the hirelings: Reade Chap. 4. 19.

b He sheweth

f They haue so practised deceit, that they cannot forsake it.

g They had rather forsake God then leave their wicked trade.

h With the fire of affliction, Psal. 28. 3. and 120. 4.

i Signifying, y all the places about Jerusalem should be destroyed.

k Meaning, that they are all without sense and vnderstanding, and that God hath taken his spirit from them.

l He sheweth that the children cannot excuse themselves by their fathers: for both father and child, if they be wicked, shall perish.

m Reade Chap. 8. 14.

n Seeing you can not lament your owne sinnes, call for those foolish women, whom of a superstition you haue to lament for the dead, that they by their fained teares may provoke you to some sorrow.

o As though they were weary of vs because of our iniquities, Leuit. 11. 28. & 20. 22.

p He derideth the superstition of the women, which made an art of mourning, and taught to weepe with fained teares.

q Signifying, that there is no means to deliuer the wicked from Gods iudgements: but when they thinke to be most sure, and most safe off, then are they soonest taken.

5 And enery one will deceiue his felow, and will not speake the truth: for they haue taught their tongues to speake lies, and take great paines to doe wickedly.

6 Their habitation is in the mids of deceiturs: s because of their deceit they refuse to know me, saith the Lord.

7 Therefore thus saith the Lord of hostes, Beholde, I will melt them, and try them: for what should I els doe for the daughter of my people?

8 Their tongue is as an arrow shot out, and speakech deceit: one speakech peaceably to his neighbour with his mouth, but in his heart he layeth wait for him.

9 Shal I not visit them for these things, saith the Lord: or shal not my soule be auenged on such a nation as this?

10 Upon the mountaynes will I take vp a weeping and a lamentation, and vpon the fayre places of the wildernesse a mourning, because they are burnt vp: so that none can passe through them: neyther can men heare the voyce of the flocke: both the foule of the ayre, and the beast are fled away, and gone.

11 And I will make Ierusalem an heape, and a den of dragons, & I will make the cities of Iudah waste, without an inhabitant.

12 Who is wile to vnderstand this? and to know the mouth of the Lord hath spoken euen he shall declare it. Why doeth the land perish, and is burnt vp like a wildernes, that none passerh through?

13 And the Lord saith, Because they haue forsaken my Lawe, which I set before them, and haue not obeyed my voyce, neither walked thereat.

14 But haue walked after the stubbornnesse of their own heart, and after Baalims, which their fathers taught them.

15 Therefore thus saith the Lord of hostes the God of Israel, Behold, I will feede this people with wormwood, and giue them waters of gall to drinke:

16 I will scatter them also among the heathen, whome neither they nor their fathers haue known, and I will send a sword after them, till I haue consumed them.

17 Thus saith the Lord of hostes, Take heed, & call for the mourning women, that they may come, and send for skillfull women, that they may come.

18 And let them make haist, and let them take vp a lamentation for vs, that our eyes may cast out teares, and our eye lids gilly out water.

19 For a lamentable noyse is heard out of Zion, how are we destroyed, and vterly countounded, for we haue forsaken the land, and our dwellings: haue cast vs out.

20 Therefore heare the word of the Lord, O ye women, and let your eares regard the words of his mouth, and reach your daughters to moune, and enery one her neighbour to lament.

21 For death is come vp into our palaces, to destroy the children without, and the yong men in the streetes.

22 Speake, Thus sayeth the Lord, The carkises of men shall see euen as the dung vpon the ficke, and as the handfull after the mow, and none shall gather them.

23 Thus saith the Lord, Let not the wise man glory in his wisdom, nor the strong man glory in his strength: neither the rich man glory in his riches.

24 But let him that gloryeth, glory in this, that he vnderstandeth, and knoweth me: for I am the Lord which shew merite, iudgement, and righteousnesse in the earth: for in these things I delight, saith the Lord.

25 Behold, the daies come, saith the Lord, that I will visit all them, which are circumcised, with the vncircumcised:

26 Egypt, and Iudah, and Edom, and the children of Ammon, and Moab, and all the vtmost corners of them that dwell in the wildernesse: for all these nations are vncircumcised, and all the house of Israel are vncircumcised in the heart.

wherein consisteth our saluation: his iudgement, which he executeth continually against the wicked: & his iustice, whereby he defendeth and maintaineth the faithfull. r Meaning both Iewes & Gentiles, as in the next verse he sheweth the cause, reade Chap. 4. 4.

use thus plainly and simply to set forth the vile absurditie of the idolaters, that men might learne to be ashamed of that, whereunto their corrupt nature is most subiect, reade Isa. 44. 12. d He teacheth the people to lift vp their eyes to God, who hath all power, & therefore ought onely to be feared: and herein he sheweth them not onely the euill that they ought to eschewe, but the good which they ought to follow, Reuel. 15. 4. e Because the people thought to haue images, was a meane to serue God, and to bring them to the knowledge of him, he sheweth that nothing more displeaseth God, nor bringeth man into greater errors and ignorance of God: and therefore he calleth them the doctrine of vanitie, the worke of errors, verse 15 and Hab 2. 18. calleth them the teachers of officers: contrary to that wicked opinion that they are the books of the lay people.

r Forasmuch as none can faue himselfe by his owne labour or any worldly meanes, he sheweth that it is in vaine to put our trust therein, but that we trust in the Lord, and reioyce in him, who only can deliue vs, 1. Cor. 1. 31.

2. Cor. 10. 17. f These three points are necessary to know aright: his mercy, f Whereas they found the best gold, shewing that they thought nothing too deere for their idoles: some read Ophir, as 1 King. 9. 28. g This declareth that all that hath bene in this Chapter spoken of idoles, was to arme the Jewes when they should be in Caldea among the idolaters, and nowe with one sentence he instructeth them both how to protest their owne religion against the idolaters, & how to answer them to their shame which should exhort them to idolatry, & therefore he writeth this sentence in the Caldeans tongue for a memoriall, whereas all the rest of his writing is Hebrew. h The more that man thinketh to doe any thing well by his owne wisdom, and not as God instructeth him, the more doeth he proove himselfe to be a vile beast. i By these words portion and rod, he significeth their inheritance: meaning that God should be all sufficient for them, and that their felicitie consisted in him alone, and therefore they ought to renounce all other helpes and succours, as of idoles, &c. Deut. 32. 9. Psal. 16. 5. k The Prophet wilketh the Jewes to prepare themselves to this captiuitie, shewing that it is now at hand, that they should seele the things whereof he had told them. l It is my iust plague, and therefore I will take it patiently: whereby he teacheth the people how to behaue themselves toward God. m Hee sheweth how Ierusalem shall lament. n The gouernours and ministers. o Reade Chap. 4. 15. p Hee speaketh this, because that Nebuchad-nezzar purposed to haue made war against the Moabites and Ammonites, but hearing of Zedekiahs rebellion, he turned his power to goe against Ierusalem. 10 But the Lord is the God of truth: he is the living God, and an everlasting king: at his anger the earth shall tremble, and the nations cannot abide his wrath.

11 Thus shall you say vnto them, The gods that haue not made the heauens and the earth shall perish from the earth, & from vnder these heauens)

12 He hath made the earth by his power, and established the world by his wisdom, and hath stretched out the heauen by his direction.

13 Hee directeth by his voyce the multitude of waters in the heauen, and he causeth the clouds to ascend from the ends of the earth: he turneth lightnings to raine, and bringeth forth the wind out of his treasures.

14 Every man is a beast by his owne knowledge: euery founder is confounded by the grauen image: for his melting is but falsehood, and there is no breath therein.

15 They are vanity, and the worke of error: in the time of their visitation they shall perish.

16 The portion of Iacob is not like them: for hee is the maker of all things, and Israel is the rod of his inheritance: the Lord of hosts is his name.

17 Gather vp the wares out of the lande, & thou that dwellest in the strong place.

18 For thus saith the Lord, Beholde, at this time I will throwe as with a sling the inhabitants of the lande, and will trouble them, and they shall finde it so.

19 Who is me for my destruction, and my greivous plague: but I thought, Per it is my sorrow, and I will beare it.

20 My tabernacle is destroyed, and all my coards are broken: my children are gone from me, and are not: there is none to speeke out my tent any more, and to set vp my curtains.

CHAP. XI.

3 A curse of them that obey not the worde of Gods covenant. 10 The people of Iudah following the Steps of their fathers, worship strange gods. 15 The Lord forbiddeth Ieremiah to pray for them.

The worde that came to Ieremiah from the Lord, saying,

2 Heare ye the words of this covenant, and speake vnto the men of Iudah, & to the inhabitants of Ierusalem,

3 And say thou vnto them, Thus saith the Lord God of Israel, Turned bee the man that obeyeth not the wordes of this covenant,

4 Which I commanded vnto your fathers, when I brought them out of the land of Egypt, from the yon soznace, saying, Obey my voice, and do according to all these things, which I commaund you: so shall ye be my people, and I will be your God.

5 That I may confirme the othe that I haue sworn vnto your fathers, to giue them a land which floweth with milke and hony, as appeareth this day. Then answered I and sayd, So be it, O Lord.

6 Then the Lord sayd vnto me, Cry all these wordes in the cities of Iudah, and in the streetes of Ierusalem, saying, Heare ye the wordes of this covenant and do them.

7 For I haue protested vnto your fathers, when I brought them by out of the land of Egypt vnto this day, crying early and protesting, saying, Obey my voyce.

8 Nevertheless they would not obey, nor incline their eare: but euery one walked in the stubbornesse of his wicked heart: therefore I will bring vpon them all the wordes of this covenant, which I commanded them to doe, but they did it not.

9 And the Lord sayd vnto me, A conspiracy is found among the men of Iudah, and among the inhabitants of Ierusalem.

10 They are turned backe to the iniquities of their forefathers, which refused to heare my wordes: and they went after other gods to serue them: thus the house of Israel, and the house of Iudah haue broken my covenant which I made with their fathers.

9 Considering that God had reuiled vnto him the certitude of their captiuitie, Chap. 7. 16. hee openly prayeth, that he would punish them with mercie, a He calleth the Jewes to the consideration of Gods mercies who freely chose them, made a covenant of eternal felicitie with them and how hee euer performed it on his behalfe, & how they euer shewed themselves rebellious and ingrate toward him, and brake it on their part, and so are subiect to the curse of the Law, Deut. 27. 26. b This hee speakech in the person of the people which agreed to the covenant. c Read Chap. 7. 13.

o Let vs destroy the Prophet and his doctrine.

Some reade, Let vs corrupt his meat with wood, meaning poison.

p Thus he spake not for hatred but being moued with y spirit of God, he desired the aduancement of Gods glory, and the verifying of his word which is by the destruction of his enemies.

q To wit, both the priests & the rest of y people: for this towne was the Priests, & they dwelt in it, read Chap. 1. 1.

r Not that they could not abide to heare God named: (for herein they would shew themselves most holy) but because they could not abide to be sharply repproued, and therefore desired to be flattered, Isa. 30. 10. and to be maintained in their pleasures, Micah 2. 11. and not to beare vice condemned, Amos 7. 12.

11 Therefore thus sauyeth the Lorde, Behold, I will bring a plague vpon them, which they shall not be able to escape, and though they cry vnto me, I will not heare them.

12 Then shall the cities of Iudah, and the inhabitants of Ierusalem goe, and cry vnto the gods vnto whom they offer incense, but they shall not be able to helpe them in time of their trouble.

13 For according to the number of thy cities were thy gods, O Iudah, & according to the number of the streetes of Ierusalem haue ye set vp altars of confusion, euen altars burning incense vnto Baal.

14 Therefore thou shalt not pray for this people, neither list by a cry, or prayer to the: for when they cry vnto mee in their trouble, I will not heare them.

15 What should my beloved say in mine house, seeing they haue committed abomination with many? and the holy flesh goeth away from thee: yet when thou doest euill, thou reioycest.

16 The Lorde called thy name, A greene olive tree, sayre, and of goodly fruite: but with noyle and great tumult he hath set fire vpon it, and the branches of it are broken.

17 For the Lorde of hostes that plagued thee, hath pronounced a plague against thee for the wickednesse of the house of Israel, and of the house of Iudah, which they haue done against themselves to prouoke mee to anger in offering incense vnto Baal.

18 And the Lord hath taught mee, and I know it, euen then thou shewdest me their practises.

19 But I was like a lambe, or a bullocke, that is brought to the slaughter, and I knew not that they had deuyled thus against mee, saying, Let vs destroy the tree with the fruite thereof, and cut him out of the land of the living, that his name may be no more in memory.

20 But O Lorde of hostes, that iudgest righteously, & triest the reins and the heart, let me see thy vengeance on them: for vnto thee haue I opened my cause.

21 The Lorde therefore speaketh thus of the men of Anathoth, (that seeke thy life, and say, Wo vnto him that is in the name of the Lord, that thou die not by our hands)

22 Thus therefore saith the Lord of hostes, Behold, I will visit them: the yong men shall die by the sword: their sommes & their daughters shall die by famine.

23 And none of them shall remaine: for I will bring a plague vpo the men of Anathoth, euen the yeere of their visitation.

Speakeh against pastors and preachers, that seduce the people. 14 The Lord threareth destruction vnto them that troubled Iudah.

O Lorde, if I dispute with thee, thou art righteous: per let mee talke with thee of thy iudgements: wherefore doth the way of the wicked prosper? why are all they in wealth that rebelliously traugresse?

2 Thou hast planted them, and they haue taken roote: they growe, and bring forth fruit: thou art neere in their mouth, and farre from their reins.

3 But thou, Lord, knowest mee: thou hast seene mee, and tried mine heart toward thee: pull them out like sheepe from the slaughter, and prepare them for the day of slaughter.

4 How long shall the land mourne, and the heards of eueri field wither, for the wickednes of them that dwell therein: the beasts are consumed and the birdes, because they said, We will not see our last end.

5 If thou hast run with the footemen, and they haue wearied thee, then how canst thou march thy selfe with horses? and if thou thoughtest thy selfe safe in a peaceable land, what wilt thou doe in the swelling of Jordan?

6 For enny brethren, and the house of thy father, euen they haue dealt vnfaithfully with thee, & they haue cryed out altogether vpon thee, but beleue them not, though they speake faire to thee.

7 I haue forsaken s mine house: I haue left mine heritage: I haue giuen the dearely beloved of my soule into the hands of her enemies.

8 Mine heritage is vnto mee, as a lion in the forest: it crieth out against mee, therefore haue I hated it.

9 Shall mine heritage bee vnto me as a bird of diuers colours: are not the birdes about her, saying, Come, assemble all the beasts of the field, come to eate her?

10 Many pastours haue destroyed my vineyard, and troden my portion vnder foote: of my pleasant portion they haue made a desolate wilderness.

11 They haue layd it waste, and it being waste, mourneth vnto mee: and the whole lande lyeth waste, because no man secretly flattered themselves as though God would euer be mercifull, and not vterly destroy them: therefore they hardened themselves in sinne, till at length the beastes and insensible creatures felt the punishment of their sinne borne rebellion against God. f Some thinke that God reprooueth Ieremiah, in that that he would reason with him, saying, that if he were not able to match with men, that he were farre vnable to dispute with God. Others, by the foote men, meane them of Anathoth, and by the housemen them of Ierusalem, which should trouble the Prophet worse then his owne country men did. g God willeth the Prophet to denounce his iudgements against Ierusalem, notwithstanding that they shall both by threatnings and by tries labour to put him to silence. h Euer ramping & raging against mee, and my Prophets. i In stead of bearing my livery and wearing onely my colours, they haue change and diuersities of colours of their idols and superstitions: therefore their enemies, as thicke as the foules of the ayre, shall come about them to destroy them. k He prophesied of the destruction of Ierusalem by the captaynes of Nebuchad nezzar, whom he calleth pastors.

a The Prophet confesseth God to be iust in all his doings, although man be not able to giue a reason of all his acts.

b This question hath been alway a great temptation to the godly, to see the wicked enemies of God in prosperitie, and his deare children in aduersitie, as Tob 21. 7. psal. 37. 1. and 73. 3. Hab. 1. 3.

c They professe God in mouth, but denie him in heart, which is here meant by the reins, Isa. 29. 13. math. 15. 8.

d The Hebrew word is, Sanctifie them, meaning, that God would be sanctified in the destruction of the wicked, to whom God for a while giueth presenty that afterward they should the more feele his heavy iudgement when they lacke their riches, which were a signe of his mercie.

15 And after that I haue plucked them out, I will returne, and haue compassion on them, and will bring againe euery man to his heritage, and euery man to his land.

CHAP. XIII.

1 The destruction of the Iewes is prefigured. 2 Why Israel was reuenced to be the people of God, and why they were forsaken. 15 Hee exhorted them to repentance.

Thus saith the Lord vnto mee, See, and buy thee a linnen girdle, and put it vpon thy loynes, and put it not in water.

2 So I bought the girdle according to the commandement of the Lord, and put it vpon my loynes.

3 And the worde of the Lord came vnto me the second time, saying,

4 Take the girdle that thou hast bought which is vpon thy loynes, and arise, goe toward Perath, and hide it there in the cleft of the rocke.

5 So I went, and hid it by Perath, as the Lord had commanded me.

6 And after many dayes the Lord sayde vnto me, Arise, goe toward Perath and take the girdle from thence, which I commanded thee to hide there.

7 Then went I to Perath, and digged, and tooke the girdle from the place where I had hid it, & beholde, the girdle was corrupt, and was profitable for nothing.

8 Then the word of the Lord came vnto me, saying,

9 Thus saith the Lord, After this manner will I destroy the pride of Iudah, and the great pride of Ierusalem.

10 This wicked people haue refused to heare my word, & walke after the stubbornnesse of their owne heart, and walke after other gods to serue them, & to worship them: therefore they shalbe as this girdle, which is profitable to nothing.

11 For as the girdle cleaueth to the loynes of a man, so haue I tried to mee the whole house of Israel, and the whole house of Iudah, sayeth the Lord, that they might bee my people: that they might haue a name and prayle, and gloey, but they would not heare.

12 Therefore thou shalt say vnto them this worde, Thus saith the Lord God of Israel, Euery bottle shalbe filled with wine, & they shall say vnto thee, Doe wee not know, that euery bottle shalbe filled with wine?

13 Then shalt thou say vnto them, Thus saith the Lord, Beholde, I will fill all the inhabitants of this lande, euen the kings that sit vpon the throne of Damm, & the Priettes, and the Prophets, and all the inhabitants of Ierusalem with drunkenesse.

14 And I will dash them one against another, euen the fathers and the sonnes together, sayeth the Lord: I will not spare, I will not pity nor haue compassion, but destroy them.

15 Heare and giue care, be not proud: for the Lord hath spoken it.

16 Giue glory to the Lord our God before hee bring darkenesse, and ouer your feete stumble in the darke mountaines, and while yee looke for light, hee turne it into the shadow of death, and make it as darkenesse.

17 But if yee will not heare this, my soule shall weepe in secret for your pride, & mine eye shall weepe and droppe downe teares, because the Lords flocke is carried away captiue.

18 Say vnto the King & to the Queene, Humble your selues, sit downe, for the crown of your gloey shall come downe from your heads.

19 The cities of the South shall be smyt vpon, and no man shall open them: all Iudah shalbe carried away captiue: it shall be wholly carried away captiue.

20 Lift vp your eyes, and beholde them that come from the North: where is the flocke that was giuen thee, euen the beautiful flocke?

21 What wilt thou say, when hee shall visite thee? (for thou hast taught them to bee captaynes and as thiefe ouer thee) shall not sorrow take thee as a woman in traualle?

22 And if thou say in thine heart, Wherefore come these things vpon mee? For the multitude of thine iniquities are thy skirts discovered and thine heeles made bare.

23 Can the blacke Moore change his skin, or the leopard his spots? then maye also do good, that are accustomed to do euill.

24 Therefore will I scatter them, as the stubble that is taken away with the South wind.

25 This is thy porton, and the part of thy measures from mee, sayeth the Lord, because thou hast forgotten mee, and trusted in lies.

26 Therefore I haue also discovered thy skirts vpon thy face, that thy shame may appeare.

27 I haue seene thine adulteries, and thy neyings, b Euery one of you shalbe filled with spiritual drunkenesse & be without all knowledge to seeke how to helpe your selues.

c It shalbe as easie for me to destroy the greatest & the strongest, d That is, affliction and misery by the Babylonians, Isa 8. 22.

CHAP. XLIII.

Of the dearth that ſhould come. 7 The prayer of the people asking mercie of the Lord. 10 The unfaithfull people are not heard. 12 Of prayer, ſetting of falſe prophets that ſeducer the people

The word of the Lord that came vnto Ieremiah, concerning the dearth.
2 Iudah hath mourned, and the gates thereof are deſolate, they haue bin brought to heauineſſe vnto the ground, and the crye of Ierusalem goeth vp.

3 And their mothers haue ſent their inferiours to the water, who came to the wells, and found no water: they returned with their veſſels empty: they were aſhamed and confounded, and covered their heads.

4 For the ground was deſtroyed, becauſe there was no raine in the earth: the plowmen were aſhamed, and covered their heads.

5 Pea, the hinde alſo calued in the field, & ſooke it, becauſe their was no graſſe, & the wilde aſſes did ſtand in the high places, and dyewe in their winde like dragons: their eyes did falſe, becauſe there was no graſſe.

6 O Lord, though our iniquities teſtifie againſt vs, deale with vs according to thy name: for our rebellions are many, we ſinned againſt thee.

8 O the hope of Iſrael, the ſaviour thereof in the time of trouble, why art thou as a ſtranger in the land, as one that paſſeth by to taſte for a night?

9 Why art thou as a man aſtonied, and as a ſtrong man that cannot helpe? yet thou O Lord, art in the mids of vs, and thy name is called vpon vs: forſake vs not.

10 Thus ſaith the Lord vnto his people, Thus haue they delighted to wander: they haue not refrained their feete, therefore the Lord hath no delight in them: but hee will now remember their iniquity, and viſit their finnes.

11 Then ſaid the Lord vnto me, Thou ſhalt not pray to doe this people good.

12 When they ſaſt, I will not heare their crye, and when they offer burnt offering, and an oblation, I will not accept them: but I will conſume them by the ſword, and by the famine and by the peſtilence.

13 Then answered I, Ah Lord God, behold, the Prophets ſay vnto them, De ſhall not ſee the ſword, neither ſhall famine come vpon you, but I will giue you aſſured peace in thi place.

14 Then the Lord ſaid vnto me, The prophets propheticallies in my name: I haue not ſent them, neither did I commande

15 Therefore thus ſaith the Lord, Concerning the prophets that propheticke in my name, whom I haue not ſent: yet they ſay, Sword and famine ſhall not be in this land, by ſword and famine ſhall thoſe prophets be conſumed.

16 And the people to whom theſe prophets doe propheticke ſhall bee caſt out in the ſtreets of Ierusalem becauſe of the famine, and the ſword, and there ſhall be none to burye them, both they and their wiues, and their ſonnes, and their daughters: for I will powre their wickedneſſe vpon them.

17 Therefore thou ſhalt ſay this word vnto them, Let mine eyes drop downe teares night and day without ceasing: for the virgine daughter of my people is deſtroyed with a great deſtruction, and with a ſore grievous plague.

18 For if I goe into the field, behold the famine with the ſword: and if I enter into the cite, behold them that are licke for hunger alſo: moreover, the prophet alſo & the Prieſt goe a wandering into a land that they know not.

19 Haſt thou bitterly reiected Iudah, or hath thy ſoule abhorred Zion? why haſt thou ſmiten vs, that we cannot be healed: We looked for peace, and there is no good, and for the time of health, and behold trouble.

20 We acknowledge, O Lord, our wickedneſſe, and the iniquity of our fathers: for we haue ſinned againſt thee.

21 Doe not abhorre vs: for thy flames ſake caſt not downe the throne of thy glorie: remember and breake not thy covenant with vs.

22 Are there any among the banitiſes of the Gentiles, that can giue raine? or can the heauens giue ſhowres: is it not thou, O Lord our God: therefore we wil waite vpon thee: for thou haſt made all theſe things.

CHAP. XV.

all these words, and they shall say vnto thee,
 Therefore hath the Lord pronounced all this great plague against vs? or what is our iniquitie? what is our sinne that we haue committed against the Lord our God?
 If Then saith thou say vnto them, Because your fathers haue forsaken mee, saith the Lord, and haue walked after other gods, and haue serued them, and worshipped them and haue forsaken me, and haue not kept my Lawe, 13 Therefore will I diuine you out of this land into a land that yee knowe not, neither you nor your fathers, and there shall ye serue other gods day and night: for I will shewe you no grace.

 14 Beyond therefore, saith the Lord, the dayes come that it shall no more bee sayde, The Lord lieth, which brought vp the children of Israel out of the land of Egypt.
 15 But, The Lord lieth, that brought vp the children of Israel from the lands of the North, and from all the lands where he had scattered them, & I will bring them againe into their land that I gaue vnto their fathers.
 16 Behold, saith the Lord, I will send out many a fisher, & they shall fish them, & after will I send out many hunters, and they shall hunt them from euery mountaine, and from euery hill, and out of the caues of the rockes.
 17 For mine eyes are vpon all their waies: they are not hid from my face, neither is their iniquitie hid from mine eyes.
 18 And first I will recompense their iniquitie and their sinne double, because they haue defiled my lands, and haue filled mine inheritance with their filthy carions and their abominations.
 19 O Lord, thou art my i force, and my strength, and my refuge in the day of affliction: the Gentiles shall come vnto thee from the ends of the world, and shall say, Surely our fathers haue inherited lyes, and vanity, wherein there was no profit.
 20 Shall a man make gods vnto himselfe, and they are no gods?
 21 Beholde, therefore I will this once teach thee: I will shew them mine hande and my power, and they shall know that my name is the Lord.

CHAPTER XVII.

1 The stouardnesse of the Iewes. 5 Cursed be those that put their confidence in man. 9 Mans heart is wicked. 10 God is the searcher of the heart 13 The liuing waters are forsaken. 21 The right keeping of the Sabbath commanded.
 The sinne of Iudah is written with a pen of ypon, and with the point of a diamond, and graven vpon the table of their heart, and vpon the hornes of your altars.

 2 They remember their altars as their children, with their greoues by the greene trees vpon the high hills.
 3 O my mountaine in the field, I will giue thy substance, and al thy treasures to be spoiled, for the sin of thy high places though out all thy borders.
 4 And thou shalt rest, and in thee shall be areft from thine heritage that I gaue thee, and I will cause thee to serue thine enemies in the land, which thou knowest not: for ye haue kindled a fire in mine anger, which shall burne for euer.
 5 Thus saith the Lord, Cursed be the man that trusteth in man, and maketh flesh his arme, and withdraweth his heart from the Lord.
 6 For he shall be like the heath in the wilderness, & shall not see when any good cometh, but shall inhabit the parched places in the wilderness, in a salt land, and not inhabited.
 7 Blessed be the man that trusteth in the Lord, and whose hope the Lord is.
 8 For he shall be as a tree that is planted by the water, which spreadeth out her roots by the riner, & shall not feele when the heate cometh; but her leafe shall be greene; and shall not care for the yeere of drought, neither shall cease from yielding fruit.
 9 The heart is deceitfull and wicked above all things, who can know it?
 10 I the Lord search the heart, and trie the reins, euen to giue euery man according to his wayes, and according to the fruite of his workes.

 12 As a glorious throne exalted from the beginning, so is the place of our Sanctuary.
 13 O Lord, the hope of Israel, all that forsake thee, shall be confounded: they that depart from thee, shall bee written in the earth, because they haue forsaken the Lord the fountaine of liuing waters.
 14 Heale mee, O Lord, and I shall bee whole: saue me, and I shall be laud: for thou art my praye.

Chap. 23 4.

16 But I have not thought in my life for a p<sup>o</sup>ur after thee, neither have I desired the day of misery, thou knowest: that which came out of my lips, was right before thee.

17 Be not a terrible vnto mee; thou art mine hope in the day of aduersitie.

18 Let them be confounded that persecute me, but let me not be confounded: let them be afraid, but let me not be afraid: being vpon them the day of aduersitie, and destroy them with double destruction.

19 Thus hath the Lord sayd vnto me, Go and itand in the gate of the children of the people, whereby the kings of Iudah come in, and by the which they goe out, and in all the gates of Ierusalem, 20 And say vnto them, Heare the worde of the Lord, ye kings of Iudah, and all Iudah, and all the inhabitants of Ierusalem, that enter in by these gates.

21 Thus saith the Lord, Take heede to your soules, and beare no burden in the Sabbath day, nor bring it in by the gates of Ierusalem.

22 Neither cary foorth burthens out of your houses in the Sabbath day: neither do ye any worke, but sanctifie the Sabbath, as I commanded your fathers.

23 But they obeyed not; neither inclined their eares, but made their Hicks stiffe, and would not heare, ne receiue correction.

24 Neuer theles, if ye will heare me, saith the Lord, and beare no burden through the gates of the citie in the Sabbath day, but sanctifie the Sabbath day, so that ye doe no worke therein,

25 Then shall the kings and the princes enter in at the gates of this citie, and shall sit vpon the throne of Dauid, and shall rde vpon charers, and vpon horses, both they and their princes, the men of Iudah; and the inhabitants of Ierusalem: and this citie shall remaine for euer.

26 And they shall come from the cities of Iudah, and from about Ierusalem, and from the land of Benjamin, and from the plaine, and from the mountaines, and from the South, which shall bring burnt offerings and sacrifices, and in eate offerings, and incense, and shall bring sacrifice of praise into the house of the Lord.

27 But if ye will not heare me to sanctifie the Sabbath day, and not to beare a burthen, nor to go through the gates of Ierusalem in the Sabbath day, then will I kindle a fire in the gates thereof, and it shall deuoure the palaces of Ierusalem, and it shall not be quenched.

CHAP. XVIII.

1 God sheweth by the example of a potter, that it is in his power to destroy the despiser of his word

18 The conspiracie of the Jews against Ieremiah. 19 His prayer against his aduersaries.

The word which came to Ieremiah from the Lord, saying,

2 Arise and goe downe into the potters house, and there shall I shew thee my words.

3 Then I went downe to the potters house, and behold, he wrought a work on the wheel.

4 And he vesell that he made of clay, was broken in the hand of the potter: so hee returned and made it another vesell, as seemed good to the potter to make it.

5 Then the word of the Lord came vnto me, saying,

6 O house of Israel, cannot I doe with you as this pottir, saith the Lord; behold, as the clay is in the potters hand; so are you in mine hand, O house of Israel.

7 I will speake suddenly against a nation, or against a kingdome to plucke it vp, and to roote it out, and to destroy it.

8 But if this nation, against whom I haue pronounced, turne from their wickednesse, I will repent of the plague that I thought to bring vpon them.

9 And I will speake suddenly concerning a nation, and concerning a kingdome to build it and to plant it.

10 But if it do euill in my sight, and heare not my voyce, I will repent of the good that I thought to doe for them.

11 Speake thou now therefore vnto the men of Iudah, and to the inhabitants of Ierusalem, saying, Thus saith the Lord, Behold, I prepare a plague for you, and purpose a thing against you: returne you therefore euery one from his euill way, and make your wayes and your workes good.

12 But they said desperately, Surely we will walke after our owne imaginacions, and doe euery man after the stubbomnesse of his wicked heart.

13 Therefore thus saith the Lord, Aske now among the heathen, who hath heard such things: the virgin of Israel hath done very filthily.

14 Will a man forsake the snow of Lebanon, which cometh from the rocke of the field? or shall the cold flowing waters, that come from another place, be forsaken?

15 Because my people hath forgotten me, and hath burnt incense to vanitie, & their prophets haue caused them to stumble in their wayes from the ancient wayes, to walke in the paths and way that is not troden,

16 To make their land desolate and a perpetual desision, so that euery one that passeth thereby, shall bee astonished and wagge his head, 17 I will scatter them with an East wind before the enemy: I will shew them the backe, and not the face in the day of their destruction.

18 Then said they, Come, and let vs imagine some deuise against Ieremiah: for the Lawe shall not perish from the Priest, nor counsell from the wise, nor the word from the Prophet: come, and let vs unite helpe and succour at strangers, and leaue God, which was present with them. e That is, the way of truth, which God had taught by his Law, read Chap. 6. 16. f I will shew mine anger, and not my fauour toward them. g This argument the wicked haue euer vsed against the seruants of God, The Church cannot erre: we are the Church, and therefore whosoeuer speaketh against vs, they ought to die. i King 22. 24. chapter 7. 4 and 20. 2 malachi. 2. 4. and thus the false Church persecuteth the true Church, which standeth not in outward pompe, and in multitude, but is known by the graces of the holy Ghost, b When the Scripture attributeth repentance vnto God, it is not that he doth contrary to that which he hath ordained in his secret counsell: but when he threatneth it is a calling to repentance, and when he giueth man grace to repent, he threatneth, (which euer containeth a condition in it) taketh no place; and this the Scripture calleth repentance in God, because it so appeareth to mans iudgement.

c As men that had no remorse, but were altogether bent to rebellion and to their owne selfe will.

him with the tongue, and let vs not giue heed to any of his words.

19 Hearken vnto me, O Lord, and heare the voyce of them that contend with me.

20 Shall euill be recompensed for good? for they haue digged a pit for my soule: remember that I stode before thee, to speake good for them, and to turne away thy wrath from them.

21 Therefore i deliuer vp their children to famine, and let them droppe away by the force of the sword, and let their wiues be robbed of their children, and bee widowes: and let their husbands bee put to death, and let their yong men be slaine by the sword in the battell.

22 Let the crye be heard from their houses, when thou shalt bring an hoke suddenly vpon them: for they haue digged a pit to take me, and hid snares for my feete.

23 Yet Lord thou knowest all their counsel against me: render to death: I forgiue not their iniquitie, neither put out their sinne from thy sight, but let them be ouerthrowen before thee: deale thus with them in the time of thine anger.

CHAP. XIX.

He propheseth the destruction of Ierusalem for the contempt and despising of the word of God.

Thus said the Lord, God, and buy an earthen botell of a pottier, and take of the ancients of the people, and of the ancients of the Priests,

2 And goe forth vnto the valley of Ben-hinnom, which is by the entrie of the East gate: and thou shalt preach there the words, that I shall tell thee,

3 And shalt say, Heare ye the word of the Lord, O Kings of Iudah, & inhabitants of Ierusalem, Thus saith the Lord of hostes, the God of Israel, Behold, I will bring a plague vpon this place, the which whosoer heareth, his eares shall tingle.

4 Because they haue forsaken mee, and prophaned this place, and haue burnt incense in it vnto other gods, whom neither they, nor their fathers haue knowne, nor the Kings of Iudah (they haue filled this place also with the blood of innocents,

5 And they haue built the high places of Baal, to burne their sonnes with fire for burnt offerings vnto Baal, which I commanded not, nor spake it, neither came it into my minde.)

6 Therefore behold, the dayes come, saith the Lord, that this place shall no more be called Topheth, nor the valley of Ben-hinnom, but the valley of slaughter.

7 And I will bring the counsel of Iudah and Ierusalem to nought in this place, and I will cause them to fall by the sword before their enemies, and by the hand of them that seeke their liues: and their karkelles will I giue to be meat for the fowles of the heauen, and to the beasts of the field.

8 And I will make this cite desolate, and an hissing, so that euery one that passeth thereby, shall be astonishd and hisse because of all the plagues thereof.

9 And I will feede them with the fleshy of their sonnes, and with the fleshy of their Daughters, and euery one shall eate the fleshy of his friend in the sieg and straitnesse, wherewith their enemies, that seeke their liues, shall hold them strait.

10 Then shalt thou breake the bottell in the sight of the men that goe with thee, 11 And shalt say vnto them, Thus saith the Lord of hostes, When I will I breake this people and this cite, as one breaketh a potters vessell, that cannot bee made whole againe, and they shall burie them in Topheth, till there be no place to burie.

12 Thus will I doe vnto this place, saith the Lord, and to the inhabitants thereof, and I will make this cite like Topheth.

13 For the houses of Ierusalem, and the houses of the Kings of Iudah shall bee defiled as the place of Topheth, because of all the houses vpon whose rootes they haue burnt incense vnto all the hostes of heauen, and haue powred out drinke offerings vnto other gods.

14 Then came Jeremiah from Topheth, where the Lord had sent him to prophesie, and he stood in the court of the Lords house, and said to all the people,

15 Thus saith the Lord of hostes, the God of Israel, Behold, I will bring vpon this cite, and vpon all her towne, all the plagues that I haue pronounced against it, because they haue hardened their neckes, and would not heare my words.

CHAP. XX.

Jeremiah is smitten and cast into prison for preaching of the word of God. 3 He propheseth the captiuitie of Babylon. 7 He complaineth that he is a mocking stocke for the word of God. 9 Hee is compelled by the spirit to preach the word.

When Pashur, the sonne of Immer, the Priest, which was appointed gouernour in the house of the Lord, heard that Jeremiah prophesied these things, 3 Then Pashur smote Jeremiah the Prophet, and put him in the stocks that were in the high gate of Benjamin which was by the house of the Lord.

3 And on the morning, Pashur brought Jeremiah out of the stocks. Then said Jeremiah vnto him, The Lord hath not called thy name Pashur, but Magog, mislabib.

4 For thus saith the Lord, Behold, I will make thee to bee a terror to thy selfe, and to all thy friends, and they shall fall by the sword of their enemies, and thine eyes shall behold it, and I will giue all Iudah into the hand of the King of Babel, and he shall carie them captiue into Babel, and shall slay them with the sword.

5 Moreover, I will deliuer all the substance of this cite, and all the labours thereof, and all the precious things thereof, and all the treasures of the Kings of Iudah will I giue into the hand of thine enemies, which shall spoyle them, and take them away and carie them to Babel.

6 And thou Pashur, and all that dwell in thine house, shall goe into captiuitie, and thou shalt come to Babel, and there thou shalt die, and shalt bee buried there, thou and all thy friends, to whom thou hast

4 For if ye doe this thing, then shall the Kings sitting vpon the throne of Dauid enter in by the gates of this house, * and ride vpon chariots, and vpon horses, both hee and his seruants and his people.

5 But if ye will not heare these wordes, I b sweare by my selfe, saith the Lord, that this house shall be waste.

10 * Weepe not for the dead, and be not moued for them, but weepe for him * that goeth out: for he shall returne no more, nor see his native country.

11 For thus sayth the Lorde, as touching * Shallum the sonne of Iosiah King of Iudah, which reigned for Iosiah his father, which went out of this place, He shall not returne thither.

12 But hee shall die in the place, whither they haue led him captiue, and shall see this land no more.

13 * Come vnto him that buildeth his house by * righteousnesse, and his chambers without equitie: hee vseth his neighbour without wages, and giueth him not for his worke.

14 He saith, I will build me a wide house and large chambers: so hee wil make himselfe large windowes and sining with cedar, and paine them with vermilion.

15 Shalt thou reigne, because thou closeth thy selfe in cedar? did not thy * father eate and drinke and prosper when hee executed iudgement and iustice?

17 But thine eyes and thine heart are but onely for thy couetousnesse, and for to shed innocent blood, and for oppression, and for destruction, even to doe this.

18 Therefore thus saith the Lord against Iehoiakin, the sonne of Iosiah King of Iu-

19 He shall be buried as an asse * is buried, euen drawn and cast forth without the gates of Ierusalem.

20 * Go by to * Lebanon, and cry: shout in * Bashan and cry by the passages: for all thy loners are destroyed.

22 The wound shall eede all thy pastours, and thy loners shall go into captiuitie: and then shall thou be ashamed and confounded of all thy wickednesse.

23 Thou that dwellest in Lebanon, and makest thy nest in the * cedars, how beautiful shalt thou be when sorowes come vpon thee, as the sorow of a woman in travel?

24 As I live, saith the Lord, though * Coenah the sonne of Iehoiakin king of Iudah, were the signet of my right hand, yet would I plucke thee thence.

28 Is not this man Coenah as a despised and broken Idole? or as a vessel, wherein is no pleasure? wherefore are they caried away, hee & his seede, and cast out into a land that they know not?

6 In his dayes Iudah shall be saued, and * Israel shall dwell safely, and this is the name wherby they shall call him, * The Lord our righteoulnesse.

9 Mine heart breaketh within mee, because of the s prophets, all my bones shake I am like a drunken man (and like a man whom wine hath overcome) for the presence of the Lord, and for his holy words.

10 For the land is full of adulterers, and because of the land mourneth, the pleasant places of the wilderness are dryed vp, and their h court is euill, and their force is not right.

11 For both the prophet and the priest do wickedly: & their wickednesse haue I found in mine house, saith the Lord.

12 Wherefore their way shall be vnto them as slippery wayes in the darkness: they shall be drinen forth and fall therein: for I will bring a plague vpon them, euen the yeere of their visitation, saith the Lord.

13 And I haue seene foolishnes in the prophets of Samaria, that prophesied in Baal, and caused my people Israel to erre.

14 I haue seene also in the Prophets of Ierusalem a filchinesse: they commit adulterie and walke in lies: they strengthen also the handes of the wicked that none can reuerie from his wickednesse: they are all vnto me as Sodom, & the inhabitants thereof, as Gomorah.

15 Therefore thus saith the Lord of hostes concerning the prophets, Behold, I will feede them with wormewood, and make them drinke the water of gall: for from the prophets of Ierusalem is wickednesse gone forth into all the land.

16 Thus saith the Lord of hostes, Heare not the words of the prophets that prophesie vnto you and reach you wantie: they speake the vision of their owne heart, and not out of the mouth of the Lord.

17 They say still vnto them that despise me, The Lord hath said, Peace shall haue peace:

and they say vnto euery one that walketh after the stubbornnesse of his owne heart, No euill shall come vpon you.

18 For who hath stood in the counsel of the Lord that he hath perceived and heard his word? Who hath marked his word and heard it?

19 Behold, the tempest of the Lord goeth forth in his wrath, and a violent tempest wind shall fall downe vpon the head of the wicked.

20 The anger of the Lord shall not reuerie vntil he haue executed, and till he haue performed the thoughts of his heart: in the latter dayes ye shall vnderstand it plainly.

21 I haue not sent these Prophets, saith the Lord, yet they ran: I haue not spoken to them, and yet they prophesied.

22 But if they had stood in my counsel, and had declared my words to my people, then they should haue turned them from their euill way, and from the wickednesse of their inventions.

23 Am I a God at hand, saith the Lord, and not a God farre off?

24 Can any hide himself in secret places, that I shall not see him, saith the Lord? Doe not I fill heauen and earth, saith the Lord?

25 I haue heard what the prophets sayd, that prophesie lies in my name, saying, I haue dreamed, I haue dreamed.

26 How long? Do the prophets delight to prophesie lies, euen prophesying the deceit of their owne heart?

27 Thinke they to cause my people to forget my name by their dreames, which they tell euery man to his neighbor, as their forefathers haue forgotten my name for Baal?

28 The Prophet that hath a dreame, let him tell a dreame, & he that hath my word, let him speake my word faithfully: what is the chaffe to the wheate, saith the Lord?

29 Is not my word euen like a fire, saith the Lord? and like a hammer that breaketh the stone?

30 Therefore behold, I will come against the prophets, saith the Lord, that steal my word euery one from his neighbor.

31 Behold, I will come against the prophets, saith the Lord, which haue sweete tongues, and say, he saith.

32 Behold, I wil come against them that prophesie false dreames, saith the Lord, and doe tell them, and cause my people to erre by their lies, and by their flatteries, and I sent them not, nor commaunded them: therefore they bring no profit vnto this people, saith the Lord.

33 And when this people, or the prophet, or a Priest shall aske thee, saying, What is the burden of the Lord? thou shalt then it, and that it may appeare to be applied to the same purpose that it was spoken, Ezek. 3. 17. 1. Corinth. 2. 13. and 4. 2. 2. Tim. 2. 15. 1. Per. 4. 10. 11. 2 Which set forth in my Name that which I haue not commaunde. a To wit, the Lord. b The Prophets called their threatnings Gods burden, which the sinners were not able to sustaine, therefore u e wicked in deriding the word, would aske of the prophets, What was the burden? As though they would say, You seeke nothing else but to lay burdens on our shoulders: and thus they retained the word of God, as a grieuous burden.

p Thus they did deride Ieremiah as though the word of God were not reuealed vnto him: so also spake Zedekiah to Michah, 1. King. 22. 24. q Both that God hath sent me, and that my wordes shall be true, Chap. 14. 13. 14. and 27. 15. and 29. 8. 9. r He sheweth the difference betwene the true Prophets and the false, betwene the hireling and the true minister. s Doe not I see your falsehood, howsoeuer you cloke it, and whersoeuer you commit it? t I haue a prophetic reuealed, vnto me, as Num. 12. 6. 1. Chr. u it is the heart of the prophets? u He sheweth that Satan raiseth vp false prophets to bring the people from God. x Let the false prophet declare: that it is his owne fantasie, and not slander my word as though it were a cloke to couer his lies. y Meaning, that it is not sufficient for Gods ministers to abstaine from lies, and to speake the word of God: but that there be iudgement in alle: ging h Meaning, that bread & al things that should serue vnto their feasts, should be taken away.

12 And when the seventy yeres are accomplished. I will visite the king of Babel and that nation, sayeth the Loide, for their iniquities, euen the land of the Caldeans, and will make it a perpetuall desolation.

16 And they shall drinke, and be maoued, and he mad, because of the word, that I will send among them.

17 Thenooke I the cup at the Lordes hand, and made all people to drinke, vnto whom the Lord had sent me:

18 Euen Jerusalem, and the cities of Judah, and the Kings thereof, and the Princes thereof, to make them desolate, an astonishment, an hissing, and a curse, as appeareth this day:

19 Pharaoh also king of Egypt, and his seruants, and his princes, and all his people:

20 And all sort of people, & all the kings of the land of Uz: and all the kings of the lande of the Philistins, and Phikelon, and Azzah, and Ekron, and the remnant of Ashdod:

26 And all the kings of the North, farre and neere one to another, and all the kingdoms of the world, which are vpon earth, and the king of Shephach shall drinke after them.

27 Therefore say thou vnto them, Thus sayeth the Lord of hostes, the God of Israel, Drinke and be drunken, and spew and fall and rise no more, because of the sword, which I will send among you.

28 But if they refuse to take the cup at thine hand to drinke, then tell them, Thus sayeth the Lord of hostes, Ye shall certainly drinke.

29 For loe, I begin to plague the cite, where my name is called vpon, and shoud you goe free: Ye shal not goe quite: for I will call for a sword vpon all the inhabitants of the earth, sayeth the Lord of hostes.

30 Therefore prophesie thou against them all these words, and say vnto them, The Lord shall roare from aboue, and thust out his voyce from his holy habitation: he shall roare vpon his habitation: and cry aloud, as they that presse the grapes, against all the inhabitants of the earth.

31 The sound shal come to the ends of the earth: for the Lords hath a controuersie with the nations, and will enter into iudgement with all flesh, and he will giue them that are wicked to the sword, sayeth the Lord.

32 Thus sayeth the Lord of hostes, Behold, a plague shall goe forth from nation to nation, and a great whirlewind shall be raised vpon from the coasts of the earth, 33 And the flaine of the Lord shall be at that day from one end of the earth, euen vnto the other end of the earth: they that shall be mourned, neither gathered nor buried, but shalbe as the dung vpon the ground.

34 Howle, ye shepheards, and crye, and wallow your selues in the ashes, ye principall of the flocke: for your dayes of slaughter are accomplished, and of your dispersion, and ye shall fall like precious vessels.

35 And the flight shall faile from the shepheards, and the escaping from the principal of the flocke.

36 A voyce of the crye of the shepheards, and an howling of the principall of the flock shall beheard: for the Lord hath destroyed their pasture.

37 And the best pastures are destroyed because of the wrath and indignation of the Lord.

every man from his euill way, that I may repent mee of the plague, which I haue determined to bring vpon them, because of the wickednesse of their workes.

4 And thou shalt say vnto them, Thus saith the Lord, If yee will not heare mee to walke in my lawes, which I haue set before you,

5 And to heare the wordes of my seruants the Prophets, whom I sent vnto you, both rising by early, and sending them, and will not obey them,

6 Then will I make this House like a Shiloh, and will make this citie a curle to all the nations of the earth.

7 So the Priests and the Prophets, and all the people heare Jeremiahs speaking these wordes in the house of the Lord.

8 Now when Jeremiahs had made an ende of speaking all that the Lord had commanded him to speake vnto all the people, then the Priests and the Prophets, and all the people tooke him, and said, Thou shalt die the death.

9 Why hast thou prophesied in the Name of the Lord, saying, This house shall be like Shiloh, and this citie shall be desolate without an inhabitant? and all the people were gathered against Jeremiahs in the house of the Lord.

10 And when the Princes of Iudah heard of these things, they came by from the kings house into the House of the Lord, and fate downe in the entrie of the new gate of the Lords House.

11 Then spake the Priests and the Prophets vnto the princes, and to all the people, saying, This man is worthe to die: for he hath prophesied against this citie, as ye haue heard with your eares.

12 Then spake Jeremiahs vnto all the princes, and to all the people, saying, The Lord hath sent me to prophesie against this house and against this citie all the things that ye haue heard.

13 Therefore nowe amend your wayes and your workes, and heare the voyce of the Lord your God, that the Lord may repent him of the plague, that hee hath pronounced against you.

16 Then said the princes and all the people vnto the Priests, and to the Prophets, This man is not worthe to die: for he hath spoken to vs in the Name of the Lord our God.

17 Then rose by certaine of the Elders of the land, and spake to all the assembly of the people, saying,

18 Michah the Morashite * prophesied in the dayes of Hezekiah King of Iudah, and spake to all the people of Iudah, saying, Thus saith the Lord of hostes, Zion shall bee plowed like a field, and Ierusalem shall bee an heape, and the mountaine of the House shall be as the high places of y forest.

19 Did Hezekiah king of Iudah, and all Iudah put him to death? did hee not feare the Lord, and prayed before the Lord, and the Lord repented him of the plague, that hee had pronounced against them? thus might wee procure great euill against our sones.

20 And there was also a man that prophesied in the Name of the Lord, one Elishah the sonne of Shematah, of Kiriat-sarem, who prophesied against this citie, and against this land, according to all the wordes of Jeremiahs.

21 Now when Jehoiakim the king with all his men of power, and all the Princes heard his wordes, the king sought to slay him. But when Elishah heard it, hee was afraid, and fled, and went into Egypt.

22 Then Jehoiakim the king sent men into Egypt, euen Elnathan the sonne of Achbor, and certaine with him into Egypt.

23 And they fet Elishah out of Egypt, and brought him vnto Jehoiakim the king, who slew him with the sword, and cast his dead body into the graues of the children of the people.

24 But the hand of Ahikam * the sonne of Shaphan was with Jeremiahs that they should not giue him into the hand of the people to put him to death.

In the beginning of the reigne of Jehoiakim the sonne of Josiah King of Iudah came this worde vnto Jeremiahs of the Lord, saying,

2 Thus saith the Lord to me, Make thee bonds, and yokes, and put them vpon thy necke,

3 And send them to the King of Edom, and to the king of Moab, and to the king of the Ammonites, and to the king of Tyria, and to the king of Zidon by the hand of the messengers, which come to Ierusalem vnto Zedekiah the king of Iudah,

6 But now I haue giuen all these lands into the hand of Nebuchad-nezzar the King of Babel my seruant, and the beasts of the field haue I also giuen him to serue him.

7 And all nations shall serue him, and his sonne, and his sonnes sonne, vntill the very tyme of his land come also: then many nations and great Kings shall serue themselves of him.

8 And the nation and kingdome which will not serue the same Nebuchad-nezzar King of Babel, and that will not put their necke vnder the yoke of the King of Babel, the same nation will I visite, saith the Lord, with the sword, and with the famine, and with the pestilence, vntill I haue wholly giuen them into his hands.

9 Therefore heare not your prophets nor your soothsayers, nor your dreamers, nor your enchanters, nor your soothsayers, which say vnto you thus, It shall not serue the king of Babel.

10 For they prophesse a lie vnto you to cause you to goe farre from your land, and that I should cast you out, and you should perish.

11 But the nation that put their neckes vnder the yoke of the King of Babel, and serue him, those will I let remaine still in their owne land, saith the Lord, and they shall occupie it, and dwell therein.

12 I spake also to Zedekiah king of Iudah according to all these wordes, saying, Put your neckes vnder the yoke of the king of Babel, and serue him and his people, that ye may liue.

13 Why will ye die, thou, and thy people by the sword, by the famine, and by the pestilence, as the Lord hath spoken against the nation, that will not serue the King of Babel?

14 Therefore heare not the words of the prophets, that speake vnto you, saying, Wee shall not serue the King of Babel: for they prophesse a lie vnto you.

15 For I haue not sent them, saith the Lord, yet they prophesse a lie in my Name, that I might cast you out, and that ye might perish, both you, and the Prophets that prophesse vnto you.

16 Also I spake to the Priests, and to all this people, saying, Thus saith the Lord, Heare not the words of your Prophets that prophesse vnto you, saying, Behold, the vessels of the House of the Lord shall now shortly bee brought againe from Babel, for they prophesse a lie vnto you.

17 Heare them not, but serue the King of Babel, that ye may liue: wherefore should this cite be desolate?

18 But if they bee Prophets, and if the word of the Lord be with them, let them entreate the Lord of hostes, that the vessels which are left in the house of the Lord, and in the house of the king of Iudah, and at Ierusalem, goe not to Babel.

19 For thus saith the Lord of hostes, concerning the pillars, and concerning the sea, and concerning the bales, and concerning the residue of the vessels that remaine in this cite,

20 Which Nebuchad-nezzar king of Babel tooke not, when hee caried away captiue Ieconiah the sonne of Iehoiakim king of Iudah from Ierusalem to Babel, with all the nobles of Iudah and Ierusalem.

21 For thus saith the Lord of hostes the God of Israel, concerning the vessels that remaine in the House of the Lord, and in the house of the king of Iudah, and at Ierusalem, 22 They shall bee brought to Babel, and there they shall be vntill the day that I visite them, saith the Lord: then will I bring them by, and restore them vnto this place.

CHAP. XXVIII.

1 The false prophesie of Hananiah. 2 Jeremiah reproveth Hananiah, and prophesieth.

AND that same yeere, in the beginning of the reigne of Zedekiah King of Iudah in the fourth yeere, and in the sixth moneth, Hananiah the sonne of Azur the Prophet, which was of Sibeon, spake to mee in the House of the Lord, in the presence of the priests, and of all the people, and said,

2 Thus speaketh the Lord of hostes, the God of Israel, saying, I haue broken the yoke of the king of Babel.

3 Within two yeeres space I will bring into this place all the vessels of the Lords house, that Nebuchad-nezzar king of Babel tooke away from this place, and caried them into Babel.

4 And I will bring againe to this place Ieconiah the sonne of Iehoiakim King of Iudah, with all them that were caried away captiue of Iudah, and went into Babel, saith the Lord: for I will breake the yoke of the king of Babel.

5 Then the Prophet Jeremiah said vnto the prophet Hananiah in the presence of the Priests, and in the presence of all the people that stood in the house of the Lord,

6 Euen the Prophet Jeremiah said, So bee it: the Lord so doe, the Lord confirme thy words which thou hast prophesied, to restore the vessels of the Lords house, and all that is caried captiue from Babel, into this place.

7 But heare thou now this word that I will speake in thine eares, and in the eares of all the people.

8 The Prophets that haue deene before me and before thee in time past, prophesied against many countreyes, and against great kingdomes, of warre, and of plagues, and of pestilence.

9 And the Prophet which prophesieth of peace, when the word of the Prophet shall come to passe, then shall the Prophet bee knownen that the Lord hath truly sent him.

11 And Hananiah spake in the presence of all the people, saying, Thus sayeth the Lord, When lo will I breake the yoke of Nebuchad-nezzar King of Babel, from the necke of all nations within the space of two yeeres: and the Prophet Jeremiah went his way.

12 ¶ Then the worde of the Lord came vnto Jeremiah the Prophet, (after that Hananiah the prophet had broken the yoke from the necke of the Prophet Jeremiah) saying, 13 See, and tell Hananiah, saying, Thus sayth the Lord, Thou hast broken the yokes of wood, but thou shalt make for them yokes of yron.

14 For thus saith the Lord of hostes, the God of Israel, I haue put a yoke of yron vpon the necke of all these nations, that they may serue Nebuchad-nezzar King of Babel: for they shall serue him, and I haue giuen him the realmes of the felde also.

15 Then said the Prophet Jeremiah vnto the prophet Hananiah, Heare now Hananiah, the Lorde hath not sent thee, but thou makest this people to trust in a lie.

16 Therefore thus saith the Lord, Behold, I will cast thee from off the earth: this yeeere thou shalt die, because thou hast spoken rebelliously against the Lord.

17 So Hananiah the prophet died the same yeeere in the seuenth moneth.

CHAP. XXIX.

1 Jeremiah writeth vnto them that were in captiuitie in Babilon. 10 He propheseth their returne after seuentie yeeres. 16 He propheseth the destruction of the king and of the people that remaine in Ierusalem. 21 He threatneth the prophets that seduce the people. 32 The death of Shemash is prophesied.

Now these are the wordes of the booke that Jeremiah the Prophet sent from Ierusalem vnto the residue of the Elders which were carryed away captiues, and to the Priestes, and to the Prophets, and to all the people whom Nebuchad-nezzar had carryed away captiue from Ierusalem to Babel.

2 (After that Ieconiah the king, and the Queene, and the Eunuches, the princes of Iudah, and of Ierusalem, and the workmen and cunning men were departed from Ierusalem)

3 By the hande of Elakah the sonne of Shaphan, and Gemariah the sonne of Nilkah, (whom Zedekiah king of Iudah sent vnto Babel to Nebuchad-nezzar King of Babel) saying,

4 Thus hath the Lord of hostes, the God of Israel spoken vnto all that are carryed away captiues, whom I haue caused to be carryed away captiues from Ierusalem vnto Babel:

5 Build you houses to dwell in, and plant you gardens, and eat the fruits of them.

6 Take you wives, & beget sonnes and daughters: and take wives for your sonnes, and giue your daughters to husbands, that they may beare sonnes and daughters, that ye may be increased there, and not diminished.

7 And seeke the prosperitie of the city, whether I haue caused you to bee carryed away captiues, and pray vnto the Lorde for it: for in the peace thereof shall you haue peace.

8 ¶ For thus saith the Lord of hostes the God of Israel, Let not your prophets & your soothsayers that be among you, deceiue you, neither giue care to your dreames; which you dreame.

9 For they prophesie you a lye in my Name: I haue not sent them, sayeth the Lord.

10 But thus sayth the Lord, That after seuentie yeeres be accomplished at Babel, I wil visit you, and performe my good promise toward you, and cause you to returne to this place.

11 For I know the thoughts that I haue thought towards you, sayeth the Lorde, euen the thoughts of peace, and not of trouble, to giue you an end, and your hope.

12 Then shall you cry vnto mee, and yee shall goe and pray vnto me, and I will heare you.

13 And you shall seeke me, and finde me, because yee shall seeke mee with all your heart.

14 And I will be found of you, sayeth the Lord, and I will turne away your captiuitie, and I will gather you from all the nations, and from all the places, whither I haue cast you, saith the Lord, and wil bring you again vnto the place, whence I caused you to bee carryed away captiue.

15 ¶ Because yee haue said, The Lorde hath raised vs vp s prophets in Babel, 16 Therefore thus sayth the Lord of the king, that sitteth vpon the throne of Dauid, and of all the people that dwell in this city, your brethren that are not gone south with you into captiuitie:

17 Euen thus saith the Lord of hostes, Behold, I will send vpon them the sword, the famine, and the pestilence, and will make them like wilde figges, that cannot be eaten, they are so naughty.

18 And I will persecute them with the sword, with the famine, and with the pestilence: and I will make them a terror to all kingdomes of the earth, & a curse, and astonishment and an hissing, and a reproch among all the nations whither I haue cast them.

19 Because they haue not heard my wordes, sayth the Lorde, which I sent vnto them by my seruants the Prophets, rising vp early, and sending them, but ye would not heare, saith the Lord.

20 ¶ I care yee therefore the word of the Lord all ye of the captiuitie, whom I haue sent from Ierusalem to Babel.

e The Prophet speaketh thus for the affliction that he bare to the tyrant, but that they should pray for the common rest and quietnesse, that their troubles might not be increased, and that they might with more patience and lesse griefe waite for the time of their deliuerance which God had appointed most certaine: for else not onely the Israelites, but all the world, yea, and the insensible creatures should reioyce when these tyrants should be destroyed, as Isa. 14 4.

22 And all they of the captivity of Judah, that are in Babel, shall take up this curse against them, & say, The Lord make thee like Zedekiah and like Ahub, whom the king of Babel burnt <sup>in</sup> the fire.

26 The Lord hath made thee Priest, for Jehoiada the Priest, that ye should be officers in the house of the Lord, for every man that raileth and maketh himselfe a Prophet, to put him in prison and in the stocks.

27 Now therefore why hast not thou reprooved Jeremiah of Anathoth, which propheticeth unto you?

28 For, for this cause hee sent unto vs in Babel, saying, This captivitie is long: build houses to dwell in, and plant gardens, and eat the fruits of them.

29 And Sephaniah the Priest read this letter in the eares of Jeremiah the Prophet.

30 Then came the word of the Lord unto Jeremiah, saying,

31 Send to all them of the captivity, saying, Thus saith the Lord of Shemaiah the Iudhelamite, Because that Shemaiah hath prophesied unto you, and I sent him not, and he caused you to trust in a lie, 32 Therefore thus saith the Lord, Beholde, I will visite Shemaiah the Iudhelamite, and his seede: he shall not have a man to dwell among this people, neither shall he beholde the good, that I will doe for my people, saith the Lord, because he hath spoken rebelliously against the Lord.

CHAP. XXX.

1 The returne of the people from Babylon. 16 He menaceth the enemies, 18 and comforteth the Church.

The worde that came to Jeremiah from the Lord, saying,

2 Thus speaketh the Lord God of Israel, saying, Write thee all the wordes that I have spoken unto thee, in a booke.

3 For loe, the dayes come, saith the Lord, that I will bring againe the captivitie of my people Israel and Judah, sayeth the Lord: for I will restore them unto the land that I gave to their fathers, and they shall possesse it.

4 Againe, these are the wordes that the Lord spake concerning Israel, and concerning Iudah.

5 For thus saith the Lord, Wee have heard a terrible voyce, of feare, and not of peace.

6 Demaund now and beholde, if man traivaille with child. Wherefore doe I beholde every man with his handes on his loynes as a woman in traivaille, and all faces are turned into a palene?

7 Alas, for this day is great: none hath been like it: it is even the tyme of Iakobs trouble, yett shall he be delivered from it.

8 For in that day, saith the Lord of hosts, I will breake his yoke from off thy necke, and breake thy bonds, and strangers shall no more serue themselves of him.

9 But they shall serue the Lord their God, and Sadaid their King, whom I will raise up unto them.

10 Therefore feare not, O my servaunt Iakob, saith the Lord, neither bee afrayde, O Israel: for loe, I will deliver thee from a farre country, and thy seede from the land of their captivitie, and Iakob shall turne againe, and shall be in rest and prosperitie, and none shall make him afraid.

11 For I am with thee, saith the Lord, to save thee: though I utterly destroy all the nations where I have scattered thee, yett will I not utterly destroy thee, but I will correct thee by iudgement, and not utterly cut thee off.

12 For thus saith the Lord, Thy bruising is incurable, and thy wound is dolorous.

13 There is none to iudge thy cause, or to lay a plaister: there are no medicines, nor helpe for thee.

14 All thy louers haue forgotten thee: they seeke thee not: for I have stricken thee with the wound of an enemy, and with a sharpe chastisement for the multitude of thine iniquities, because thy sinnes were increased.

15 Why cryest thou for thine affliction? thy sorrow is incurable, for the multitude of thine iniquities: because thy sinnes were increased, I have done these things unto thee.

16 Therefore all they that denoure thee, shall bee deuoured, and all thine enemies every one shall goe into captivitie: and they that spoile thee, shall bee spoyled, and all they that robbe thee, will I giue to bee robbed.

17 For I will restore health unto thee, and I will heale thee of thy wounds, saith the Lord, because they called thee, The cast away, saying, This is Zion, whom no man seeketh after.

18 Thus saith the Lord, Behold, I will bring againe the captivitie of Iakobs tents, and have compassio on his dwelling places: and the citie shall be builded upon her owne heape, and the palace shall remaine after the maner thereof.

19 And I will destroy them for their sinnes, but correct and chastise them, till he have purged and pardoned them, and so burneth the rodde by the which hee did punish them, Isa 33. 1. Meaning that the citie and the Temple should be restored to their former state.

CHAP. XXXI.

1 Hee rehearseth Gods benefis after their returne from Babylon, 23 and the spirituall ioy of the faithfull in the Church.

A Bee the same time, saith the Lord, will I be the God of all the families of Israel, and they shall be my people.

5 Thou shalt yet plant vines vpon the mountaynes of Samaria, and the planters that plant them shall make them common.

6 For the dayes shall come that the watchmen vpon the mount of Ephraim shall cry, Arise, and let vs go vnto Zion, to the Lord our God.

7 For thus saith the Lord, Reioyce with gladnesse for Iacob, & shout for ioy among the chiefe of the Gentiles: publish praise, and say, O Lord, saue thy people, the remnant of Israel.

8 Beholde, I will bring them from the North countrey, and gather them from the coastes of the world, with the blinde and the 9 They shall come w weeping, and with mercy will I bring them againe: I will leade them by the riuers of water in a straight way, wherein they shall not stumble: for I am a father to Israel, and Ephraim is my first borne.

10 I heare the words of the Lord O ye Gentiles, and declare in the yles afarre off, and say, he that scattered Israel, will gather him, and will keepe him as a shepheard doth his flocke.

12 Therefore they shall come and reioyce in the height of Zion, & shall run to the beautifullnesse of the Lord, euen for the wheat, and for the wine, and for the oyle, and for the increase of sheepe and bullockes: and their soule shall bee as a watered garden, and they shall haue no more sorrow.

13 Then shall the virgine reioyce in the dance, and the young men, and the old men together: for I will turne their mourning into ioy, and I will comfort them, and giue them ioy for their sorowes.

14 And I will replenish the soule of the Priests with fatnes, and my people shall be satisfied with my goodnes, saith the Lord.

15 Thus saith the Lord, A voyce was heard on hie, a mourning & bitter weeping: Rachel weeping for her children, refused to be comforted for her children, because they were not.

16 Thus saith the Lord, Restrayne thy voyce from weeping, and thine eyes from teares: for thy worke shall be rewarded, saith the Lord, and they shall come againe from the land of the enemy.

17 And there is hope in thine end, saith the Lord, that thy children shall come againe to their owne borders:

18 I haue heard O Ephraim lamenting thus, Thou hast corrected mee, and I was chastised as an vntamed calfe: y conuert thou me, and I shall be conuerted: for thou art the Lord my God.

20 Is Ephraim my deare sonne or pleasant child: yet since I spake vnto him, I still remembred him: therefore my bowels are troubled for him: I will surely haue compassion vpon him, saith the Lord.

23 Thus saith the Lord of hostes, the God of Israel, Yet shall they say this thing in the land of Judah, and in the cities thereof, when I shall bring againe their captiuitie, The Lord bleste thee, O habitation of iustice and holy mountaine.

24 And Judah shall dwell in it, and all the cities thereof together, the husbandmen and they that go forth with the flocke.

28 And like as I haue watched vpon them, so to plucke up, and to roote out, and to throw downe, and to destroy, and to plague them, so will I watch ouer them, to build and to plant them, saith the Lord.

29 In those dayes shall they say no more, The fathers eateh a sowe grape, and the childens teeth are set on edge.

30 But every one shall die for his owne iniquitie: every man that eateh the sowe grape, his teeth shall be set on edge.

31 Behold, the dayes come, saith y Lord, that I will make a new covenant with the house of Israel, & with the house of Judah, 32 Not according to the covenant that I made with their fathers, when I tooke them by the hand to bring them out of the land of Egypt, the which my covenant they brake, although I was an husbande vnto them, saith the Lord.

33 But this shall be the covenant that I will make with the house of Israel. After those dayes, sayth the Lord, I will put my Lawe in their inward parts, and write it in their hearts, and will be their God, and they shall be my people.

34 And they shall teach no more every man his neighbour, and every man his brother, saying, Know the Lord, for they shall all knowe mee from the least of them vnto the greatest of them, sayeth the Lord: for I will forgiue their iniquitie, and will remember their finnes no more.

36 If these ordinances depart out of my sight, sayeth the Lord, then shall the seed of Israel cease from being a nation before mee, for euer.

37 Thus saith the Lord, If the heauens can be measured, or the foundations of the earth bee searched out beneath, then will I cast off all the seed of Israel, for all that they haue done, saith the Lord.

CHAP. XXXII.

Jeremiah is cast into prison because he prophesied that the city should be taken of the king of Babylon. 7 Hee sheweth that the people should come againe to their owne possession. 38 The people of God are his seruants, and he is their Lord.

The word that came vnto Jeremiah from the Lord, in the tenth yeere of Zedekiah King of Judah, which was the eighteenth yeere of Nebuchad-nezzar.

1 For then the king of Babels hoste besieged Ierusalem: and Jeremiah the Prophet was shut vp in the court of the prison, which was in the king of Judahs house.

2 For Zedekiah king of Judah had shut him vp, saying, Whether doest thou prophesie, and say, Thus saith the Lord, Behold, I will giue this city into the hands of the king of Babel, and he shall take it?

3 And Zedekiah the king of Judah shall not escape out of the hand of the Caldeans, but shall surely be deliuered into the hands of the king of Babel, and shall speake with him mouth to mouth, and his eyes shall beholde his face.

4 And he shall leade Zedekiah to Babel, and there shall he be, vntill I visit him, saith the Lord: though yee fight with the Caldeans, ye shall not prosper.

5 And Jeremiah said, The word of the Lord came vnto me, saying,

6 Behold, Hamaneel, the some of Shalum thine vncle, shall come vnto thee and say, Behy vnto thee my felde, that is in Anathoth: for the title by kinned appertaineth vnto thee: to buy it.

Then I knew that this was the word of the Lord.
 9 And I bought the field of Hanameel, mine vncles sonne, that was in Anathoth, and weighed him the silver, even tenen shekels, and ten pieces of silver.
 10 And I wrote it in the booke, and signed it, and tooke witnesses, and weighed him the silver in the ballances.
 11 So I rooke the booke of the possession, being sealed according to the Law, and custome, with the booke that was open.
 12 And I gaue the booke of the possession vnto Baruch the sone of Neriah, the sone of Nebuchadrezzar, in the sight of Hanameel mine vncles sonne, and in the presence of the witnesses, written in the booke of the possession, before all the Jewes that sat in the court of the prison.
 13 And I charged Baruch before them, saying,
 14 Thus sayeth the Lorde of hostes the God of Israel, Take the writings, even this booke of the possession, both that is sealed, and this booke that is open, and put them in an earthen vessel, that they may continue a long time.
 15 For the Lorde of hostes, the God of Israel saith thus, Houses and fields, and vineyards shall be possessed againe in this land.
 16 Now when I had delivred the booke of the possessions vnto Baruch, the sone of Neriah, I prayed vnto the Lorde, saying,
 17 Ah Lorde God, beholde, thou hast made the heauen and the earth by thy great power, and by thy stretched out arme, and there is nothing I hard vnto thee.
 18 * Thou shewest mercie vnto thousands, and recompenseth the iniquitie of the fathers into the bosome of their children after them: O God the great and mightie, whose name is the Lord of hosts,
 19 Great in counsell, & mighty in worke, (for thine eyes are open vpon all the wayes of the sonnes of men, to giue to everyone according to his wayes, and according to the fruit of his worke)
 20 Which hast set signes and wonders in the land of Egypt vnto this day, and in Israel, and among all men, and hast made thee a Name, as appeareth this day, 21 And hast brought thy people Israel out of the land of Egypt with signes, and with wonders, and with a strong hand, with a stretched out arme, and with great terror,
 22 And hast given them this land, which thou diddest sweare to their fathers to giue them, euen a lande that floweth with milke and hony, 23 And they came in, and possessed it, but they obeyed not thy voyce, neither walked in thy Law: all that thou commandedst them to doe, they haue not done: therefore thou hast caused this whole plague to come vpon them.

 24 Behold, the mountes, they are come into the citie to take it, and the citie is giuen into the hand of the Caldeans, that fight against it, by means of the sword, and of the famine, and of the pestilence, and what thou hast spoken, is come to passe, & behold, thou seest it.
 25 And thou hast sayd vnto me, O Lord God, Buy vnto thee the field for silver, and take witnesses: for the citie shall be giuen into the hand of the Caldeans.
 26 O Then came the worde of the Lord vnto Jeremias, saying, 27 Beholde, I am the LORD GOD of all flesh: is there any thing too hard for mee?
 28 Therefore thus sayth the Lord, Behold, I will giue this citie into the hand of the Caldeans, and into the hand of Nebuchadrezzar king of Babel, & he shall take it.
 29 And the Caldeans shall come and fight against this citie, and set fire on this citie, and burne it, with the houses, vpon whose roofes they haue offered incense vnto Baal, and powred drinke offerings vnto other gods, to prouoke me vnto anger.
 30 For the children of Israel, and the children of Iudah haue surely done euill before me from their youth: for the children of Israel haue surely prouoked me to anger with the workes of their handes, sayeth the Lord.
 31 Therefore this citie hath bene vnto me as a prouocation of mine anger, and of my wrath, from the day that they built it, euen vnto this day, that I should remooue it out of my sight,
 32 Because of all the euill of the children of Israel, & of the children of Iudah, which they haue done to prouoke mee to anger, euen they, their Kings, their Princes, their Priestes, and their Prophets, and the men of Iudah, and the inhabitants of Ierusalem.
 33 And they haue turned vnto mee the backe & not the face: though I taught them rising vp early, and instructing them, yet they were not obedient to receive doctrine,
 34 But they set their abominations in the house, wherupon my Name was called, to defile it,
 35 And they built the high places of Baal, which are in the valley of Ben-hinnom, to cause their sonnes and their daughters to passe through the fire vnto Molech, which I commanded them not, neither came it into my minde, that they should doe such abomination to cause Iudah to sinne.
 36 And now therefore, thus hath the Lord God of Israel spoken concerning this citie, wherof I say, It shall be delivred into the hand of the king of Babel by y<sup>e</sup> sword, and by the famine, and by the pestilence, 37 * Behold, I will gather them out of all countreys, whereto I haue scattered them in mine anger, and in my wrath, and in great indignation, and I will bring them againe vnto this place, and I will cause them to dwell safely.

CHAP. XXXIII.

1 The Prophet is punished of the Lord to pray for the deliuerance of the people, which the Lord promised. 8 God forgiveth sinnes, for his owne glory 15 Of the birth of Christ. 20 The kingdome of Christ in the Church shall neuer be ended.

Whereof, the word of the Lord came vnto Ieremiah the second time (while hee was yet shut vp in the * court of the prison) saying,

2 Thus saith the Lord, the maker thereof, the Lord that formed it, and established it, the Lord is his Name.

3 Call vnto me, and I will answere thee, and shew thee great and mighty things, which thou knowest not.

4 For thus saith the Lord God of Israel, concerning the houses of this citie, and concerning the houses of the Kings of Judah, which are destroyed by the * mounts, and by the sword,

5 They come to * fight with the Caldeans, but it is to kill themselves with the dead bodies of men, whom I haue slaine in mine anger and in my wrath: for I haue hid my * face from the citie, because of all their wickednesse.

6 Behold, I will give it health and amendment: for I will cure them, and will reuente vnto them the abundance of peace, and truth.

7 And I will cause the captiuitie of Judah, and the captiuitie of Israel to returne, and will build them as at the first.

8 And I will cleanse them from all their iniquities, whereby they haue sinned against mee: yea, I will pardon all their iniquities, whereby they haue sinned against me, and whereby they haue rebelled against mee.

9 And it shall be to me a * joy, a praise, and an honour before all the nations of the earth, which shall heare all the good that I doe vnto them: and they shall feare, and tremble for all the goodnesse, and for all the wealth that I shew vnto this citie.

10 Thus saith the Lord, Againe there shall be heard in this place (which ye say shall be desolate, without man, and without beast, even in the cities of Judah, and in the streets of Jerusalem, that are desolate without man, and without inhabitant, and without beast)

11 The voyce of the joy and the voyce of gladnesse, the voyce of the bugerome, and the voyce of the bride, the voyce of them that shall say, Praise the Lord of host, because the Lord is good: for his mercie endureth for ever, and of them that offer the sacrifice of praise in the house of the Lord: for I will cause to returne the captiuitie of the land, as at the first, saith the Lord.

12 Thus saith the Lord of hostes, Againe in this place, which is desolate without man, and without beast, and in all the cities thereof there shall be dwelling for shepherds to rest their flocks.

13 In the cities of the * mountaines, in the cities in the plaine, & in the cities of the South, and in the land of Benjamin, and about Jerusalem, and in the cities of Judah shall the sheepe passe againe, vnder the hand of him that telleth them, saith the Lord.

14 Beholde, the dayes come, saith the Lord, that I will performe that good thing, which I haue promised vnto the house of Israel, and to the house of Judah.

15 In those dayes and at that time will I cause * the branch of righteousnesse to grow vp vnto Dauid, and hee shall execute iudgement, and righteousnesse in the land.

16 In those dayes shall Iudah be lauded, and Jerusalem shall dwell safely, and he that shall call * her, is y Lord our * righteousnesse.

17 For thus saith the Lord, Dauid shall neuer want a man to sit vpon the throne of the house of Israel.

18 Neither shall the Priests and Leuites want a man before me to offer * burnt offerings, and to offer meate offerings, and to doe sacrifice continually.

19 And the word of the Lord came vnto Ieremiah, saying,

20 Thus saith the Lord, If you can breake my covenant of the * day, and my covenant of the night, that there should not be day, and night in their season,

21 Then may my covenant be hidken with Dauid my seruant, that hee should not haue a sonne to reigne vpon his throne, and with the Leuites, and Priests my ministers.

22 As the armie of heauen cannot be numberd, neither the sand of the sea measured: so will I multiply the seede of Dauid my seruant, and the Leuites, that minister vnto me.

23 Moreover, the worde of the Lord came to Ieremiah, saying,

24 Considerest thou not what I this people hath spoken, saying, The two families,

CHAP. XXXIII.

2 Hee threatneth that the citie and the king Zedekiah shall be giuen into the hands of the king of Babylon. 11 He rebuketh their crueltie toward their seruants.

THE word which came vnto Ieremias from the Lord (when Nebuchad-nezzar king of Babel, and all his hoste, and all the kingdomes of the earth, that were vnder the power of his hand and all people fought against Ierusalem, and against all the cities thereof) saying,

2 Thus sayeth the Lord God of Israel, God, and speake to Zedekiah king of Iudah, and tell him, Thus sayth the Lord, Behold, I will giue this citie into the hand of the king of Babel, and he shall burne it with fire.

3 And thou shalt not escape out of his hand, but shalt surely be taken, and deliuered into his hand, and thine eyes shall behold the face of the king of Babel, and hee shall speake with thee mouth to mouth, and thou shalt goe to Babel.

4 Yet heare the word of the Lord, O Zedekiah king of Iudah: Thus saith the Lord of thees, thou shalt not die by the sword.

5 But thou shalt die in peace: and according to the burninge for thy fathers the former kings which were before thee, so shall they burne odours for thee, and they shall lament thee, saying, Oh Lord: for I haue pronounced the word, sayth the Lord.

6 Then Ieremias the Prophet spake all these words vnto Zedekiah king of Iudah in Ierusalem,

7 (When the king of Babels hoste fought against Ierusalem, and against all the cities of Iudah that were left, euen against Lachish, and against Azekah: for these strong cities remained of the cities of Iudah)

8 This is the word that came vnto Ieremias from the Lord, after that the King Zedekiah had made a covenant with all the people which were at Ierusalem, to proclaim libertie vnto them.

9 That euery man should let his seruant go free, and euery man his handmaid, which was an Hebrew, or an Hebrewesse, and that none should serue himselfe of them, or of a Iew his brother.

10 Now when all the princes, and all the people which had agreed to the covenant, heard that euery one should let his seruant goe free, and euery one his handmaide, and that none should serue themselves of them any more, they obeyed and let them goe.

11 But afterward they repented, and caused the seruants and the handmaidens, whom they had let goe free, to returne, and held them in subiection as seruants & handmaidens.

& 4 Ebr. returned.

12 Therefore the word of the Lord came vnto Ieremias from the Lord, saying,

13 Thus saith the Lord God of Israel, I made a covenant with your fathers, when I brought them out of the land of Egypt, out of the house of seruants, saying,

[Or, bondage. Deut. 15. 12.]

14 At the terme of seuen yeeres let ye go euery man his brother an Hebrew which hath been sold vnto thee: and when he hath serued thee sixe yeeres, thou shalt let him goe free from thee: but your fathers obeyed mee not, neither inclined their eares.

15 And ye were now turned, & had done right in my sight in proclaiming libertie, euery man to his neighbour, and ye had made a covenant before me in the house, whereupon my Name is called.

f Meaning, in the Temple, to declare that it was a most solemn and straight covenant made in the Name of the Lord.

16 But ye repented, and polluted my Name: for ye haue caused euery man his seruant, & euery man his handmaid, whom ye had let at liberty at their pleasure, to returne and hold them in subiection to bee vnto you as seruants and handmaidens.

17 Therefore thus sayeth the Lord, Bee haue not obeyed me, in proclaiming freedom euery man to his brother, and euery man to his neighbour: behold, I proclaime a libertie for you, sayeth the Lord, to she the sword, to the pestilence, and to the famine, and I will make you a terrour to all the kingdomes of the earth.

g That is, I giue the sword liberty to destroy you.

18 And I will giue those men that haue broken my covenant, and haue not kept the wordes of the covenant, which they had made before me, when they cut the calse in twaine, and passed betwene the parts thereof.

h As touching this maner of solemn covenant which the ancient vied by passing between the two parts of a beast, to signifye that the transgressor of the same covenant should be so diuided in pieces, read Gen. 15. 10.

19 The princes of Iudah, and the princes of Ierusalem, the Eunuches, and the Priestes, and all the people of the land, which passed betwene the parts of the calse, 20 I will euen giue them into the hands of their enemies, and into the hands of them that seeke their life: and their dead bodies shall be for meate vnto the foules of the heauen, and to the beasts of the earth.

21 And Zedekiah king of Iudah, and his princes will I giue into the hand of their enemies, and into the hand of them that seeke their life, & into the hand of the king of Babels hoste, which are gone vp from you.

i To fight against the Egyptians, as Chap. 37. 11.

22 Beholde, I will commaund, sayth the Lord, and cause them to returne to this citie, and they shall fight against it, and take it, and burne it with fire: and I will make the cities of Iudah desolate without an inhabitant.

h Which declareth that they were not so bound to their vowe, that it could not bee broken for any necessitie: for where they were commanded to dwell in tents, they dwell now at Ierusalem for feare of the warres.

i Whom I haue chosen to be my children, seeing these which were the children of an heathen man, obeyed the commandment of their father. k I haue most diligently exhorted and warned you both by my selfe, and my Prophets. Chap. 18. 1. and 25. 5.

2 Goe vnto the house of the Rechabites, and speake vnto them, and bring them into the house of the Lord, into one of the chambers, and giue them wine to drinke.

3 Then tooke I Raazaniah, the sonne of Jeremiah the sonne of Habazziniah, and his brethren, and all his sonnes, and the whole house of the Rechabites,

4 And I brought them into the house of the Lord. Into the chamber of the sonnes of Hanan, the sonne of Igdaltah a man of God, which was by the chamber of the princes, which was aboue the chamber of Hasaia the sonne of Shallum, the keeper of the house.

5 And I set before the sonnes of the house of the Rechabites, pots full of wine, & cups, and I said vnto them, Drinke wine.

6 But they sayd, We wil drinke no wine: For Jonadab the sonne of Rechab our father commaunded vs, saying, Ye shall drinke no wine, neither you nor your sonnes for euer.

7 Neither shall you build house, nor sow seede, nor plant vineyard, nor haue any, but all your dayes ye shall dwell in tents, that ye may liue a long time in the land where ye be strangers.

8 Thus haue we obeyed the voyce of Jonadab the sonne of Rechab our father, in all that he hath charged vs, and we drinke no wine all all our dayes, neither we, our wives, our sonnes, nor our daughters.

9 Neither build we houses for vs to dwell in, neither haue we vineyard, nor field, nor seede.

10 But we haue remained in tents, and haue obeyed, and done according to all that Jonadab our father commaunded vs.

11 But when Nebuchad-nezzar king of Babel came vnto the lande, we sayde, Come, and let vs goe to Ierusalem, from the hoste of the Caldeans, and from the host of Aram: so we dwelt at Ierusalem.

12 Then came the worde of the Lord vnto Jeremiah, saying,

13 Thus saith the Lord of hostes, the God of Israel, Goe, and tell the men of Iudah, and the inhabitants of Ierusalem, Will ye not receiue doctrine to obey my words, saith the Lord?

14 The commandment of Jonadab the sonne of Rechab that he commaunded his sonnes, that they should drinke no wine, is surely kept: for vnto this day they drinke none, but obey their fathers commandment: notwithstanding I haue spoken vnto you, & rising early, & speaking, but yet would not obey me.

15 I haue sent also vnto you all my seruants the Prophets, rising vnto you early, and sending them, saying, Returne now euery man from his euill way, and amend your wayes, and goe not after other gods to serue them, and ye shall dwell in the land which I haue giuen vnto you, and to your fathers, but ye would not incline your eare, nor obey me.

16 Surely, the sonnes of Jonadab the sonne of Rechab, haue kept the commandment of their father, which he gaue them, but this people hath not obeyed me.

17 Therefore thus saith the Lord of hostes, the God of Israel, Behold, I will bring vpon Iudah, and vpon all the inhabitants of Ierusalem, all the euill that I haue pronounced against them, because I haue spoken vnto them, but they would not heare, and I haue called vnto them, but they would not answer.

18 And Jeremiah sayde vnto the house of the Rechabites, This saith the Lord of hostes the God of Israel, Because ye haue obeyed the commandment of Jonadab your father, and kept all his precepts, and done according vnto all that he hath commanded you, 19 Therefore thus saith the Lord of hostes, the God of Israel, Jonadab the sonne of Rechab shall not want a man to stand before me for euer.

CHAP. XXXVI.

1 Baruch writeth, as Jeremiah enditeth, the booke of the curses against Iudah and Israel. 9 He is sent with the booke vnto the people, & readeth it before them all. 14 He is called before the rulers, and readeth it before them also. 23 The king casteth it in the fire. 28 There is another written at the commandment of the Lord.

A Add in the fourth yeere of Ichoiakim the sonne of Iosiah king of Iudah, came this worde vnto Jeremiah from the Lord, saying,

2 Take thee a roll or booke, and write therein all the words that I haue spoken to thee against Israel, and against Iudah, and against all the nations, from the day that I spake vnto thee, euē from the dayes of Iosiah vnto this day.

3 It may be that the house of Iudah will heare of all the euill, which I determined to do vnto them, that they may returne euery man from his euill way, that I may forgive their iniquitie and their sinnes.

4 Then Jeremiah called Baruch the sonne of Neriah, and Baruch wrote at the mouth of Jeremiah all the wordes of the Lord, which he had spoken vnto him, vpon a roll, or booke.

5 And Jeremiah commaunded Baruch, saying, I am shut vp, and cannot goe into the house of the Lord.

6 Therefore goe thou, and read the roll, wherein thou hast written at any month the wordes of the Lord, in the audience of the people in the Lords house vpon the fasting day: also then shalt read them in the hearing of all Iudah, that come out of their cities.

7 It may be that they will pray before the Lord, and euery one returne from his euill way, for great is the anger, & the wrath that the Lord hath declared against this people.

8 So Baruch the sonne of Neriah did according vnto all, that Jeremiah the Prophet commaunded him, reading in the booke the wordes of the Lord in the Lords

1 That is, by his Prophets & ministers: which sheweth that it is as much as though hee should speake to vs himselfe, when hee endeth his ministers to speake in his Name.

m His posteritie shall continue and be in my fauour for euer.

f Hee sheweth fasting without prayer & repentance as well nothing, but is meer hypocrisy.

The fast was then proclaimed, and Baruch read this rule, which was a litle before that Jerusalem was first taken, and then Iehoiakim and Daniel and his companions were led away captives, h Which is the East gate of the Temple.

Lords house. 9 And in the fifth yeere of Iehoiakim the sonne of Ioshiah King of Iudah, in the ninth month, they proclaimed a fast before the Lord to all the people in Ierusalem, and to all the people that came from the cities of Iudah unto Ierusalem.

10 Then read Baruch in the booke the wordes of Ieremiah in the house of the Lord, in the chamber of Gemariah the sonne of Shaphan the Secretarie, in the higher court at the entrie of the new gate of the Lords house, in the hearing of all the people.

11 When Michajah the sonne of Gemariah the sonne of Shaphan had heard out of the booke all the wordes of the Lord, 12 Then hee went downe to the kings house into the Chancellours chamber, and loe, all the Princes late there, euen Elishama the Chancellour, and Delaiah the sonne of Shematah, and Elnathan the sonne of Achboz, and Gemariah the sonne of Shaphan, and Zedekiah the sonne of Hananiah, and all the princes.

13 Then Michajah declared unto them all the wordes that hee had heard when Baruch read in the booke in the audience of the people.

14 Therefore all the princes sent Iehudi the sonne of Meshaniah, the sonne of Shelemiah, the sonne of Chushi, unto Baruch, saying, Take in thine hand the rule, wherein thou hast read in the audience of the people, and come. So Baruch the sonne of Gemariah, tooke the rule in his hand, and came unto them.

15 And they said unto him, Sit downe now, and reade it, that wee may heare. So Baruch read it in their audience.

16 Now when they had heard all the wordes, they were affraide, both one and other, and said unto Baruch, Ecce will certifie the King of all these wordes.

17 And they examined Baruch, saying, Tell vs now, how diddest thou write all these wordes at his mouth?

18 Then Baruch answered them, Hee pronounced all these wordes unto mee with his mouth, and I wrote them with yuke in the booke.

19 Then said the Princes unto Baruch, See, hide thee, thou and Ieremiah, and let no man know where ye be.

20 And they went in to the King to the court, but they laide by the rule in the chamber of Elishama the Chancellour, and told the King all the wordes, that hee might heare.

21 So the King sent Iehudi to sette the rule, and heeooke it out of Elishama the Chancellours chamber, and Iehudi read it in the audience of the King, and in the audience of all the Princes, which stood beside the King.

22 Now the King sate in the winter-houise, in the ninth month, and there was a fire burning before him.

23 And when Iehudi had read thre or foure sides, he cut it with the pen knife, and cast it into the fire that was on the hearth, untill all the rule was consumed in the fire, that was on the hearth.

24 Yet they were not affraide, nor rent their garments, neither the King, nor any of his seruants that heard all their wordes.

25 Neuertheless, Elnathan, and Delaiah, and Gemariah had belonged by the King, that hee would not burne the rule, but hee would not heare them.

26 But the King commanded Ierahmeel the sonne of Hammelech, and Seratah the sonne of Azriel, and Shelemiah the sonne of Adiel, to take Baruch the scribe, and Ieremiah the Prophet: but the Lord hid them.

27 Then the word of the Lord came to Ieremiah (after that the King had burnt the rule and the wordes which Baruch wrote at the mouth of Ieremiah) saying,

28 Take thee againe another rule, and write in it all the former wordes that were in the first rule which Iehoiakim the King of Iudah hath burnt, 29 And thou shalt say to Iehoiakim King of Iudah, Thus saith the Lord, Thou hast burnt this rule, saying, I will not write upon this rule, saying, that the King of Babel shall certainly come & destroy this land, and shall take thence both man and beast?

30 Therefore thus saith the Lord of Iehoiakim King of Iudah, Hee shall haue a noie to sitte upon the throne of David, and his dead body shall be cast out in the day to the heate, and in the night to the frost.

31 And I will visit him and his seed, and his seruants for their iniquitie, and I will bring upon them, and upon the inhabitants of Ierusalem, and upon the men of Iudah all the euill that I haue pronounced against them: but they would not heare.

32 Then tooke Ieremiah another rule, and gaue it Baruch the scribe the sonne of Meriah, which wrote therein at the mouth of Ieremiah all the wordes of the booke which Iehoiakim King of Iudah had burnt in the fire, and there were added besides them many like wordes.

CHAP. XXXVII.

Zedekiah succedeth Ieconiah. 3 He sendeth unto Ieremiah to pray for him. 12 Ieremiah going into the land of Benjamin, is taken. 15 He is beauen, and put in prison.

AND King Zedekiah the sonne of Ioshiah reigned for 11 moneths the sonne of Iehoiakim, whom Nebuchadrezzar King of Babel made King in the land of Iudah.

2 But neither hee, nor his seruants, nor the people of the land would obey the wordes of the Lord, which he spake by the Prophet Ieremiah.

3 And Zedekiah the King sent Iehucal the sonne of Shelemiah, and Zephaniah the sonne of Maaseiah the Priest to the Prophet Ieremiah, saying, Pray now unto the Lord our God for vs.

4 Now Ieremiah went in and out among the people: for they had not put him into the prison.

m Shewing that the wicked in stead of repenting when they heare Gods judgments, grow into further malice against him and his word.

n Thus we see the continual care that God hath euer ouer his to persecute them from the rage of the wicked.

o Though the wicked thinke to haue abolished the word of God, when they haue burnt the booke thereof: yet this declareth that God will not only raise it vp againe, but also increase it in greater abundance to their condemnation,

5 Then Pharaohs host came out of Egypt: and when the Caldeans that besieged Ierusalem, heard tidings of them, they departed from Ierusalem.

6 Then came the word of the Lord vnto the Prophet Ieremiah, saying,

7 Thus saith the Lord God of Israel, Thus shall ye say to the King of Iudah, that sent you vnto me, to enquire of me, Behold, Pharaohs hoste, which is come forth to helpe you, shall returne to Egypt into their owne land.

8 And the Caldeans shall come againe, and fight against this citie, and take it, and burne it with fire.

9 Thus saith the Lord, ¶ Deceiue not your selues, saying, The Caldeans shall surely depart from vs: for they shall not depart.

10 For though yee had smitten the whole host of the Caldeans that fight against you, and there remained but wounded men among them, yet should euery man rise up in his tent, and burne this citie with fire.

11 ¶ When the host of the Caldeans was broken vp from Ierusalem, because of Pharaohs armie, 12 Then Ieremiah went out of Ierusalem to goe into the land of Beniamin, separating himselfe thence from among the people.

13 And when hee was in the gate of Beniamin, there was a chiefe officer, whose name was Iriah, the sonne of Shelemiah, the sonne of Hananiah, and hee tooke Ieremiah the Prophet, saying, Thou fallest to the Caldeans.

14 Then said Ieremiah, That is false, I flee not to the Caldeans: but hee would not heare him: so Iriah tooke Ieremiah, and brought him to the princes.

15 Therefore the princes were angry with Ieremiah, and smote him, and laid him in prison in the house of Iehonathan the scribe: for they had made that the prison.

16 ¶ When Ieremiah was cycled into the dungeon, and into the pylons, and had remained there a long time, 17 Then Zedekiah the king sent, and tooke him out, and the king asked him secretly in his house, and said, Is there any word from the Lord? And Ieremiah said, Yea: for said he, thou shalt be deliuered into the hand of the king of Babel.

18 Whereouer, Ieremiah said vnto king Zedekiah, What haue I offended against thee, or against thy seruants, or against this people, that yee haue put me in prison?

19 ¶ Where are now your prophesies, which prophesied vnto you, saying, The king of Babel shall not come against you, nor against this land?

20 Therefore heare now, I pray thee, O my lord the king: let my prayer be accepted before thee, that thou cause me not to returne to the house of Iehonathan the scribe, lest I die there.

21 Then Zedekiah the king commanded that they should put Ieremiah in the court of the prison, and that they should giue him daily a piece of bread out of the Bakers Arce, vntill all the bread in the citie were eaten vp. Thus Ieremiah remained in the court of the prison.

C H A P. XXXVIII.

1 By the motion of the rulers Ieremiah is put into a dungeon, 10 At the request of Ebed melech the king commandeth Ieremiah to be brought forth of the dungeon. 17 Ieremiah sheweth the king how he might escape death.

¶ When Shephatiah the sonne of Mattan, and Gedaliah the sonne of Bahsur, and Iucal the sonne of Shelemiah, and Bahsur the sonne of Galchiah, heard the wordes that Ieremiah had spoken vnto all the people, saying,

2 Thus saith the Lord, Hee that remaineth in this citie, shall die by the sword, by the famine and by the pestilence: but he that goeth forth to the Caldeans, shall liue: for he shall haue his life for a pray, and shall liue.

3 Thus saith the Lord, This citie shall surely bee giuen into the hand of the king of Babels armie, which shall take it.

4 Therefore the Princes said vnto the King, ¶ We beseech you, let this man be put to death: for thus he ll weakeneth the hands of the men of warre: that remaine in this citie, and the hands of all the people, in speaking such wordes vnto them: for this man seeketh not the wealch of this people, but the hurt.

5 Then Zedekiah the king said, Behold, hee is in your hands, for the king can denie you nothing.

6 Then tooke they Ieremiah, and cast him into the dungeon of Galchiah the sonne of Hammelech, that was in the court of the prison: and they let downe Ieremiah with cordes: and in the dungeon there was no water: but mire: so Ieremiah stacke salt in the mire.

7 Now when Ebed-melech the blacke Moore, one of the Eunuchs, which was in the kings house, heard that they had put Ieremiah in the dungeon (then the king late in the gate of Beniamin.)

8 And Ebed-melech went out of the kings house, and spake to the king, saying,

9 O my lord the king, these men haue done euill in all that they haue done to Ieremiah the Prophet, whom they haue cast into the dungeon, and he dieth for hunger in the place where he is: for there is no noyse bread in the citie.

10 Then the King commanded Ebed-melech the blacke Moore, saying, Take from hence thirte men: with thee, and take Ieremiah the Prophet out of the dungeon before he die.

11 So Ebed-melech tooke the men with him, and went to the house of the king vnder the treasure, and tooke there old rotten ragges, and olde woone clewes, and let them downe by cordes into the dungeon to Ieremiah.

12 And Ebed-melech the blacke Moore said vnto Ieremiah, Put nowe these olde rotten ragges and woone, vnder thine armes, betwene the cordes. And Ieremiah did so.

13 So they drew by Ieremiah with cordes, and tooke him vp out of the dungeon, and and Jeremiah remained in the court of the prison.

14 Then Zedekiah the king sent, and tooke Jeremiah the Prophet unto him, into the third entrie that is in the house of the Lords, and the king said unto Jeremiah, I will aske thee a thing: hide nothing from me.

15 Then Jeremiah sayd to Zedekiah, If I declare it unto thee, wilt not thou slay mee? and if I giue thee counsell, thou wilt not heare me.

16 So the king sware secretly unto Jeremiah, saying, As the Lord lieth, that made vs these soules, I will not slay thee, nor giue thee into the handes of those men that seeke thylife.

17 Then sayd Jeremiah unto Zedekiah, Thus sayeth the Lord God of hostes, the God of Israel, If thou wilt goe fourth unto the king of Babels pynces, then thy soule shall liue, and this citie shall not be burnt by with fire, and thou shalt liue, and thine house.

18 But if thou wilt not goe fourth to the king of Babels pynces, then shall this citie be giuen into the hand of the Caldeans, and they shall burne it with fire, and thou shalt not escape out of their handes.

19 And Zedekiah the king sayd unto Jeremiah, I am carefull for the Jewes that are fled unto the Caldeans, lest they deliuer me into their handes, and they i mocke me.

20 But Jeremiah sayd, They shall not deliuer thee: hearken unto the voyce of the Lord, I beseech thee, which I speake unto thee: so shall it be well unto thee, and thy soule shall liue.

21 But if thou wilt refuse to goe fourth, this is the word that the Lord hath shewed me.

22 And behold, all the women that are left in the king of Judahs house, shall be brought forth to the king of Babels pynces: and those women shall say, Thy friends haue perswaded thee, and haue perswaded against thee, thy feete are fastened in the mire, and they are turned backe.

23 So they shall bring out all thy wines, and thy children to the Caldeans, and thou shalt not escape out of their handes, but shalt be taken by the hand of the king of Babel: and this citie shall tyeon cause to be burnt with fire.

24 Then said Zedekiah unto Jeremiah, Let no man know of these words, and thou shalt not die.

25 But if the pynces vnderstand that I haue talked with thee, and they come unto thee, and say unto thee, Declare unto vs now, what thou hast sayd unto the king, hide it not from vs, and we will not slay thee: also what the king said unto thee, 26 Then shalt thou say unto them, I humbly besought the king that hee would not cause me to returne to Ionathans house to die there.

27 Then came all the Princes unto Jeremiah and asked him. And hee tolde them according to all these wordes that the king had commaunded: so they left off speaking with him, for the matter was not perceiued.

28 So Jeremiah abode still in the court of the prison, untill the day that Ierusalem was taken: and hee was there, when Ierusalem was taken.

C H A P. XXXIX.

1 Nebuchad-nezzar besiegeth Ierusalem. 4 Zedekiah fleeth, & is taken of the Caldeans. 6 His sonnes are slaine. 7 His eyes are thrust out. 11 Jeremiah is prouid. d for. 15 Ebed-melech is deliuered from captiuitie.

I N the ninth yeere of Zedekiah king of Iudah, in the tenth moneth, came Nebuchadnezzar king of Babel and all his hoste against Ierusalem, and they besieged it.

2 And in the eleuenth yeere of Zedekiah, in the fourth moneth, the ninth day of the moneth, the citie was broken vp.

3 And all the pynces of the king of Babel came in, and late in the middle gate, euen Nerregal, Sharezzer, Saingar-nebo, Sarlechim, Rab-faris, Nerregal, Sharezzer, Rabmag, with all the residue of the pynces of the king of Babel.

4 And when Zedekiah the king of Iudah sawe them, and all the men of waire, then they fled, and went out of the citie by night, through the kings garden, and by the gate betweene the two walles, and he went toward the wilder nesse.

5 But the Caldeans host pursued after them, and ouertooke Zedekiah in the desert of Iericho: and when they had taken him, they brought him to Nebuchadnezzar king of Babel vnto Riblah in the land of Hamath, where he gaue iudgement vpon him.

6 Then the king of Babel slewe the sonnes of Zedekiah in Riblah before his eyes: also the king of Babel slew all the nobles of Iudah.

7 Whereouer he put out Zedekiahs eyes, and bound him in chaines, to cary him to Babel.

8 And the Caldeans burnt the Kings house, and the houses of the people with fire, and brake downe the walles of Ierusalem.

9 Then Nebuzar-adan the chiefe steward carped away captiue into Babel the remnant of the people, that remained in the citie, and those that were fled and fallen vnto him with the rest of the people that remained.

10 But Nebuzar-adan the chiefe steward left the 4 pozze that had nothing, in the land of Iudah, & gaue them vineyardes and fields at the same time.

11 Now Nebuchad-nezzar king of Babel gaue charge concerning Jeremiah & vnto Nebuzar-adan the chiefe steward, saying 12 Take him, and looke well to him, and doe him no harme, but doe vnto him euen as he shall say vnto thee.

13 So Nebuzar-adan the chiefe steward sent, and Nebuzasaban, Rab-faris, and Nerregal, Sharezzer, Rabmag, and all the king of Babels pynces:

k When Ieremiah and his mother with others were caried away, these women of the kings house were left: which shal be taken, sayth the Prophet, and tell the king of Babel how Zedekiah hath been seduced by his familiar friends and false Prophets, which haue left him in the mire.

l Herein appeareth the infirmity of the Prophet, who did dissemble to saue his life, albeit it was not to the denial of his doctrine, or to the hurt of any.

f Whom the king of Babel had now appointed gouernour out the rest of the Iewes that he left behind.

14 Euen they sent, and tooke Jeremiah out of the court of the prison, and committed him vnto Gedaliah the sonne of Ahikam the sonne of Shaphan, that he should carry him home: so he dwelt among the people.

15 Now the word of the Lord came vnto Jeremiah, while he was shut vp in the court of the prison, saying, 16 See and speake to Ebed melech the blacke Moze, saying, Thus sayth the Lord of hostes the God of Israel, Behold, I will bring my words vpon this city for euill, and not for good, and they shall be accomplished in that day before thee.

17 But I will deliuer thee in that day, sayth the Lord, & thou shalt not be giuen into the hand of the men whom thou fearest.

18 For I will surely deliuer thee, and thou shalt not fall by the sword, but thy life shall bee for a pray vnto thee, because thou shalt put thy trust in me, sayth the Lord.

CHAPTER XL.

4 Jeremiah hath licence to goe whither he wil. 6 He dwelleth with the people that remaine with Gedaliah.

The word which came to Jeremiah from the Lord after that Nebuzar-adan the chiefe steward had let him goe from Ramath, when he had taken him being bound in chaines among all that were carried away captiue of Ierusalem and Iudah, which were carried away captiue vnto Babel.

2 And the chiefe steward tooke Jeremiah, and sayd vnto him, The Lord thy God hath pronounced this plague vpon this place.

3 Nowe the Lord hath brought it, and done according as he hath sayd: because yee haue sinned against the Lord, and haue not obeyed his voice, therefore this thing is come vpon you.

4 And nowe behold, I loose thee this day from the chaines which were on thine hands: if it please thee to come with me into Babel, come, and I will looke well vnto thee: but if it please thee not to come with mee into Babel, stay still: behold, all the lande is before thee: whither it seemeth good, and conuenient for thee to goe, thither goe.

5 For yet thee was not returned: therefore hee sayd, Returne to Gedaliah the sonne of Ahikam, the sonne of Shaphan, whome the king of Babel hath made gouernour ouer all the cities of Iudah, and dwell with him among the people, or goe wheresoever it pleaseth thee to goe. So the chiefe steward gaue him vitualles and a reward, and let him goe.

6 Then went Jeremiah vnto Gedaliah the sonne of Ahikam, to Hizpah, & dwelt there with him among the people that were left in the land.

7 Nowe when all the captiues of the hoste, & which were in the fields, euen they and their men heard, that the king of Babel had made Gedaliah the sonne of Ahikam gouernour in the land, and that he had committed vnto him men, and women, and childzen, and of the poore of the lande, that were not carried away captiue to Babel.

8 Then they came to Gedaliah to Hizpah, euen Ishmael the sonne of Nethaniah, and Johanan, and Jonathan the sonnes of Kareah, and Seraiah the sonne of Enechimeth, and the sonnes of Ephai, the Astrophachtite, and Jezaniah the sonne of Chazabhai, they and their men.

9 And Gedaliah the sonne of Ahikam, the sonne of Shaphan, swore vnto them, and to their men, saying, Feare not to serue the Caldeans: dwell in the land, and serue the king of Babel, and it shall be well with you.

10 As for mee, beholde, I will dwell at Hizpah to serue the Caldeans, which will come vnto us: but you, gather you wine, and summer fruites, and oyle, and put them in your vessels, and dwell in your cities that ye haue taken.

11 Likewise when all the Iewes that were in Moab, & among the Ammonites, and in Edom, and that were in all the countreys, heard that the king of Babel had left a remnant of Iudah, and that he had set ouer them Gedaliah the sonne of Ahikam the sonne of Shaphan, 12 Euen all the Iewes returned out of all places where they were diners, and came to the land of Iudah to Gedaliah vnto Hizpah, and gathered wine and summer fruites very much.

13 Honourer Johanan the sonne of Kareah, and all the captiues of the hoste, that were in the fields, came to Gedaliah to Hizpah, 14 And said vnto him, Knowest thou not, that Baalis the king of the Ammonites hath sent Ishmael the sonne of Nethaniah to slay thee? but Gedaliah the sonne of Ahikam beleued them not.

15 Then Iohanan the sonne of Kareah spake to Gedaliah in Hizpah secretly, saying, Let me goe, I pray thee, and I will slay Ishmael the sonne of Nethaniah, and no man shall know it. Wherefore should he kill thee, that all the Iewes which are gathered vnto thee, should be scattered, and the remnant in Iudah perish?

16 But Gedaliah the sonne of Ahikam sayd vnto Johanan the sonne of Kareah, Thou shalt not doe tuis thing: for thou speakest falsly of Ishmael.

CHAPTER XLI.

2 Ishmael killeth Gedaliah fully, and many other with him. 11 Johanan followeth after Ishmael.

1) At in the seventh moneth came Ishmael the sonne of Nethaniah, the sonne of Elishama of the seede royal, and the princes of the king, and some men with him, vnto Gedaliah the sonne of Ahikam to Hizpah, and there they did eate bread together in Hizpah.

2) Then arose Ishmael the sonne of Nethaniah with thier sonne men that were as familiar friends, h Thus the godly which thinke no harme to others, are sooneft deceived, and neuer lacke such as conspire their destruction.

g Thus God recompensed his zeale & fauour, which he shewed to his Prophet in his troubles, a From this second verse, vnto chap. 42. 7. it seemeth to be as a parenthesis, and separated matter: and there this storie beginneth againe, and this vision is declared what it was.

with him, and smote Gedaliah the sonne of Ahikam the sonne of Shaphan with the sword, and slew him, whom the king of Babel had made the governour over the land.

3 Iſhmael also slew all the Jewes that were with Gedaliah at Mizpah, and all the Chaldeans that were found there, and the men of warre.

4 Now the second day that he had slaine Gedaliah, and no man knew it.

5 There came men from Shechem, from Shiloh, and from Samaria, even fourscore men, hauing their beards shauen, and their clothes rent and cut, with 4 shivings and incense in their hands to offer in the house of the Lord.

6 And Iſhmael the sonne of Bethaniah went forth from Mizpah to meete them, weeping as he went: & when he met them, he sayd vnto them, Come to Gedaliah the sonne of Ahikam.

7 And when they came into the middes of the cite, Iſhmael the sonne of Bethaniah slew them, and cast them into the middes of the pit, hee and the men that were with him.

8 But ten men were found among them, that sayd vnto Iſhmael, Stay vs not: for wee haue treasures in the field, of wheate, and of barley, and of oyle, and of hony: so hee slayed, and slew them nor among their brethren.

9 Now the pit wherein Iſhmael had cast the dead bodies of the men (whom hee had slaine because of Gedaliah) is it, which Aſa the king had made because of Baſha king of Israel, and Iſhmael the sonne of Bethaniah filled it with them that were illaine.

10 Then Iſhmael carried away captiue all the residue of the people that were in Mizpah, even the kings daughters, and all the people that remained in Mizpah, whom Nebuzaradan the chiefe steward had committed to Gedaliah the sonne of Ahikam, and Iſhmael the sonne of Bethaniah carried them away captiue, and departed to go ouer to the Ammonites.

11 But when Johanan the sonne of Kareah, and all the captiues of the hoste that were with him, heard of all the euil that Iſhmael the sonne of Bethaniah had done, 12 Then they all tooke their men, & went to fight with Iſhmael the sonne of Bethaniah, and found him by the great waters that are in Gibeon.

13 Now when all the people whom Iſhmael carried away captiue, saw Johanan the sonne of Kareah, and all the captiues of the hoste, that were with him, they were glau.

14 So all the people, that Iſhmael had carried away captiue from Mizpah, returned, and came againe, and went vnto Johanan the sonne of Kareah.

15 But Iſhmael the sonne of Bethaniah escaped from Johanan with eight men, and went to the Ammonites.

16 Then tooke Johanan the sonne of Kareah, and all the captiues of the hoste that were with him, all the remnant of the people, whom Iſhmael the sonne of Bethaniah had carried away captiue from Mizpah, (after that he had slaine Gedaliah the sonne of Ahikam) even the strong men of warre, and the women, and the children, and the eunuches, whom hee had brought againe from Gibeon:

17 And they departed and dwelt in Gethur: Chimijam: which is by Beth-lehem, to goe and to enter into Egypt, 18 Because of the Chaldeans: for they feared them, because Iſhmael the sonne of Bethaniah had slaine Gedaliah the sonne of Ahikam, whom the king of Babel made governour in the land.

CHAP. XLII.

1 The captiues aske counsell of Ieremias what they ought to doe. 7 He admonisheth the remnant of the people not to goe into Egypt.

Then all the captiues of the hoste, and Johanan the sonne of Kareah, and Jezaniah the sonne of Hoſhaiah, and all the people from the least vnto the most came,

2 And said vnto Ieremias the Prophet, & weare our prayer, wee beseech thee, and pray for vs vnto the Lord thy God, euen for all this remnant (for we are left but a few of many, as thine eyes doe behold)

3 That the Lord thy God may shew vs the way wherein wee may walke, and the thing that we may doe.

4 Then Ieremias the Prophet said vnto them, I haue heard vs: behold, I will pray vnto the Lord your God, according to your words, and whatsoever thing the Lord shall answer you, I will declare it vnto you: I will keepe nothing backe from you.

5 Then they sayd to Ieremias, b The Lord bee a witness of truth, and faith betwene vs, if we doe not, euen according to all things, for the which the Lord thy God shall send thee to vs.

6 Whether it be good or euill, we will obey the voyce of the Lord God, to whom we send thee, that it may be well with vs, when we obey the voyce of the Lord our God.

7 ¶ And so after tenne dayes came the word of the Lord vnto Ieremias.

8 Then called hee Johanan the sonne of Kareah, and all captiues of the hoste, which were with him, and all the people from the least to the most,

9 And sayd vnto them, Thus sayth the Lord God of Israel, vnto whom ye sent me to present your prayers before him,

10 If pee will dwell in this land, then I will build you, and not destroy you, and I will plant you, and not roote you out: for I repent me of the euil that I haue done vnto you.

11 Feare not for the king of Babel, of whom ye are afraid: hee is not afraid of him, sayeth the Lord: for I am with you to saue you, and to deliuer you from his hand, 12 And I will grant you mercie, that hee may haue compassion vpon you, and he shall cause you to dwell in your owne land.

13 But if ye say, Wee will not dwell in this land, neither heare the voyce of the Lord a This declareth the nature of hypocrites, which would know of Gods word what they would doe, but they should follow it, but in as much as it agreeth with that thing which they haue purposed to doe.

b There are none more ready to abuse the Name of God and take it in vaine, then the hypocrites, which to colour their falshood, vse it without all reuerence, and make it a means for them to deceiue the simple and the godly.

c Here is declared the vision and the occasion thereof, whereof mention was made, chap. 40. 1. Read Chap. 18. 8.

Lord your God,

14 Saying, Nay, but we will goe into the land of Egypt, where we shall see no warre, nor heare the sound of the trumpet, nor haue hunger of bread, and there will we dwell.

15 (And now therefore heare the word of the Lord, ye remnant of Judah: thus sayth the Lord of hostes, the God of Israel, If yee set your faces to enter into Egypt, and go to dwell there.)

16 Then the sword that ye feared, shall take you there in the land of Egypt, and the famine, for the which yee care, shall there hang vpon you in Egypt, and there shall yee die.

17 And all the men that set their faces to enter into Egypt, to dwell there, shall die by the sword, by the famine, and by the pestilence, and none of them shall remaine nor escape from the plague that I will bring vpon them.

18 For thus sayeth the Lord of hostes, the God of Israel, As mine anger and my wrath hath bene powred forth vpon the inhabitants of Ierusalem: so shall my wrath be powred forth vpon you, when ye shall enter into Egypt, and yee shall be a desolation, and an astonishment, and a curse, and a reproch, and ye shall see this place no more.

19 O ye remnant of Judah, the Lord hath sayd concerning you, Goe not into Egypt: know certainly that I haue admonished you this day.

20 Surely ye haue dissembled in your hearts when yee sent mee vnto the Lord your God, saying, I pray vs vnto the Lord our God, and declare vnto vs euen according vnto all that the Lord our God shall say, and we will doe it.

21 Therefore I haue this day declared it vpon, but you haue not obeyed the voyce of the Lord your God, nor any thing for the which he hath sent me vnto you.

22 Now therefore, know certainly that ye shall die by the sword, by the famine, and by the pestilence, in the place whither yee desire to goe and dwell.

CHAP. XLIII.

Iohanan carieth the remnant of the people into Egypt contrary to the mounds of Jeremiah. & Jeremiah prophesieth the destruction of Egypt.

Now when Jeremiah had made an ende of speaking vnto the whole people all the wordes of the Lord their God, for the which the Lord their God had sent him to them, euen all these wordes,

2 Then spake Azariah the sonne of Hozaiah, and Iohanan the sonne of Kareah, and all the proud men, saying vnto Jeremiah, Thou speakest falsely: the Lord our God hath not sent thee to say, Goe not into Egypt to dwell there,

2 Then spake Azariah the sonne of Hozaiah, and Iohanan the sonne of Kareah, and all the proud men, saying vnto Jeremiah, Thou speakest falsely: the Lord our God hath not sent thee to say, Goe not into Egypt to dwell there, they burst forth into open rage: for they can abide nothing but flatteries, reade Isa. 30. 10. d He sheweth what is the nature of hypocrites to wit, to feigne that they would obey God and embrace his word, if they were assured that his messengers spake the truth: though indeed they be most farre from all obedience.

3 But Baruch the sonne of Neriah propheseth thee against vs, for to deliuer vs into the hand of the Caldeans, that they might slay vs, and carie vs away captiues into Babel.

4 So Iohanan the sonne of Kareah, and all the captiues of the host, and all the people obeyed not the voyce of the Lord, to dwell in the land of Judah.

5 But Iohanan the sonne of Kareah, and all the captiues of the hoste tooke all the remnant of Judah, that were returned from all nations, whither they had ben diuicid, to dwell in the land of Judah:

6 Euen men and women, and children, and the kings daughters, and euery person that Nebuzar-adan the chiefe steward had left with Gedaliah the sonne of Ahikam the sonne of Shaphan, and Jeremiah the Prophet, and Baruch the sonne of Neriah.

7 So they came into the land of Egypt: for they obeyed not the voyce of the Lord: thus came they to Tahpanhes.

8 Then came the word of the Lord vnto Jeremiah in Tahpanhes, saying,

9 Take great stones in thine hand, and hide them in the clay in the bricke kiln which is at the entrie of Pharaohs house in Tahpanhes in the sight of the men of Judah,

10 And say vnto them. Thus sayth the Lord of hostes the God of Israel, Beholde, I will sende and bring Nebuchad-rezzar the King of Babel, my seruant, and will set his thone vpon these stones that I haue hid, and hee shall spread his pavilion ouer them.

11 And when he shall come, he shall smite the land of Egypt: such as are appointed for death, to death, and such as are for captiuitie, to captiuitie, and such as are for the sword, to the sword.

12 And I will kindle a fire in the houses of the Gods of Egypt, and hee shall burne them, and carie their away captiues, and hee shall aray himselfe with the land of Egypt, as a shepheard putteth on his garment, and shall depart from thence in peace.

13 Yee shall also breake the images of Beth-schemesh that is in the land of Egypt, and the houses of the gods of the Egyptians shall be burne with fire.

CHAP. XLIIII.

He reprooueth the people for their idolatry. 15 They that set light by the threating of the Lord are chastened. 26 The destruction of Egypt, and of the Iewes therein prophesied.

The word that came to Jeremiah concerning all the Iewes, which dwell in the land of Egypt, and remained at Migdol and at Tahpanhes, and at Poph, and in the countrey of Pathros, saying,

2 Thus sayth the Lord of hostes, the God of Israel, Yee haue seene all the euill that I haue brought vpon Ierusalem, and vpon all the cities of Judah: and behold, this day they are desolate, and no man dwelleth therein, f Thus God turneth the policie of the wicked to their owne destruction: for they thought themselves sure in Egypt, and there Nebuchad-rezzar destroyed them and the Egyptians, Chap. 46. 25.

g Reade Chap. 26. 6. & 44. 12. shewing that this should come vpon them for their infidelitie and stubbornnesse. h For you were fully minded to goe into Egypt, whatsoever God spake to the contrary.

b This declareth that pride is the cause of rebellion, and contempt of Gods ministers.

c When the hypocrite of the wicked is discovered, they burst forth into open rage: for they can abide nothing but flatteries, reade Isa. 30. 10. d He sheweth what is the nature of hypocrites to wit, to feigne that they would obey God and embrace his word, if they were assured that his messengers spake the truth: though indeed they be most farre from all obedience.

e Thus the wicked doe not onely contemne and hurt the messengers of God, but slander & speake wickedly of all them that support or fauour the the godly.

m Meaning, most easily, and suddenly shall he carie the Egyptians away. ||Or, the house of the furnace.

n These were all famous & strong cities in Egypt, where the leues were fled dwelt for their safetie: but the Prophet declareth y there is no hold so strong, y can pre-ferue them from Gods vengeance.

3 Because of their wickednes which they have committed, to prouoke mee to anger, in that they went to burne incense, and to seene other gods, whom they knewe not, neither they, nor you, nor your fathers.

4 Howbeit I sent vnto you all my seruants the Prophets, rising early, and sending them, saying, Why do not this abominable thing that I hate.

5 But they would not heare nor incline their eare to turne from their wickednesse, and to burne no more incense vnto other gods.

6 Wherefore my wrath, and iuine anger was powred forth, and was kindled in the cities of Iudah, and in the streetes of Ierusalem, and they are desolate, and wasted, as appeareth this day.

7 Therefore now thus sayth the Lord of hostes the God of Israel, Wherefore commit ye this great euill against your soules, to cut off from you man and woman, child and suckling out of Iudah, and leaue you none to remaine?

8 In that yee prouoke mee vnto wrath with the workes of your hands, burning incense vnto other gods in the land of Egypt whither yee bee gone to dwell: that ye might bring destruction vnto your selues, and that ye might be a curse and a reproch among all nations of the earth.

9 Haue yee forgotten the wickednesse of your fathers, and the wickednesse of the Kings of Iudah, and the wickednesse of their wiues, and your owne wickednes, and the wickednesse of your wiues, which they haue committed in the land of Iudah and in the streetes of Ierusalem?

10 They are not shumbled vnto this day, neither haue they feared nor walked in my Law nor in my Statutes, that I set before you, and before your fathers.

11 Therefore thus sayeth the Lord of hostes the God of Israel, Behold, I will set my face against you: to euill, and to destroy all Iudah, 12 And I will take the remnant of Iudah, that shall haue left their faces to goe into the land of Egypt there to dwell, and they shall all bee consumed and fall in the land of Egypt: they shall euen bee consumed by the sword, and by the famine: they shall die from the least vnto the most, by the sword, and by the famine, and they shall bee a detestation, and an astonishment, and a curse and a reproch.

13 For I will visit them that dwell in the land of Egypt, as I haue visited Ierusalem, by the sword, by the famine, and by the pestilence.

14 So that none of the remnant of Iudah, which are gone into the land of Egypt to dwell there shall escape or remaine, that they should returne into the land of Iudah, to the which they haue a desire to returne to dwell there: for none shall returne, but such as shall escape.

15 Then all the men which knewe that their wiues had burnt incense vnto other gods, & all the women that stood by, a great multitude, euen all the people that dwell in the land of Egypt in Pathros, answered Ieremias, saying,

16 The word that thou hast spoken vnto vs in the name of the Lord, we will not heare it of thee,

17 But we will do whatsoeuer thing goeth out of our owne mouth, as to burne incense vnto the Queene of heauen, and to poure out drinke offerings vnto her, as we haue done, both we and our fathers, our Kings and our Princes in the cities of Iudah, and in the streetes of Ierusalem: for when I had wee plenty of vitayles, and were well and selfe none euill.

18 But since we left off to burne incense to the Queene of heauen, and to poure out drinke offerings vnto her, wee haue had scarcenesse of all things, & haue bene consumed by the sword and by the famine.

19 And when wee burnt incense to the Queene of heauen, and poured out drinke offerings vnto her, did we make her cakes & make her glad, and poure out drinke offerings vnto her without our husbands?

20 Then said Ieremias vnto all the people, to the men, and to the women, and to all the people which had giuen him that euillswere, saying,

21 Did not the Lord remember the ancient, that yee burnt in the cities of Iudah, and in the streetes of Ierusalem, both you, and your fathers, your kings, & your princes, and the people of the land, and hath he not considered it?

22 So that the Lord could no longer forbear, because of the wickednesse of your intentions, and because of the abominations, which yee haue committed: therefore is your land desolate and an astonishment, and a curse, and without inhabitant, as appeareth this day.

23 Because yee haue burnt incense, and because yee haue sinned against the Lord, & haue not obeyed the voice of the Lord, nor walked in his Law, nor in his statutes, nor in his testimonies, therefore this plague is come vpon you, as appeareth this day.

24 Moreover Ieremias sayde vnto all the people, and to all the women, heare the wordes of the Lord, all Iudah that are in the land of Egypt.

25 Thus spake the Lord of hostes the God of Israel, saying, Yee and your wiues haue both spoken with your mouthes, and fulfilled with your hands, saying, Wee will perforce our vowes that wee haue vowed to burne incense to the Queene of heauen, and to poure out drinke offerings to her: yee will perforce your vowes, and doe the things that yee haue vowed.

26 Therefore heare the wordes of the Lord, all Iudah that dwell in the land of Egypt. Beholde, I haue sware by my great Name, sayeth the Lord, that my Name they be not assured by Gods word: for thereby they take an occasion to iustifie their doings, and their husbands shall giue an account thereof before God, read I sa 3. 5. † Ebr is it not come up into his heart? m You haue committed double euill in making wicked vowes, and in performing the same.

h This declareth how dangerous a thing it is to decline once from God, and to follow our owne fantasies: for Saule cuer solliciteth such, and doth not leaue them till he haue brought the to extreme impudency & madness, euen to iustifie their wickednesse against God and his Prophets. i Reade Chap. 7. 18. It seemeth that the Papists gathered of this place, their Saule Regina, & Regina calistare, calling the virgin Marie Queene of heauen, and so of the blessed virgin and mother of our Saviour Christ made an idole: for here the Prophet condemneth their idolatrie. † Ebr. we were satiate with bread. k This is still the argument of idolaters, which esteeme religion by the belly, and in stead of acknowledging Gods workes, who sendeth both plenty and death, health, & sickness, they attribute it to their idoles, and so dishonour God. † Or. saul. † Or. saul. † Or, to appease her. l This teacheth vs how great danger it is for the husbands to permit their wiues any thing whereof

b Reade Chap. 7. 25. and 25. 3. and 26. 5. & 29. 19. and 32. 33. c He feareth before their eyes Gods iudgements against Iudah & Ierusalem for their idolatry, that they might beware by their example; and not with the like wickednesse prouoke the Lord: for then they should be double punished. d He sheweth that we ought to keepe in memorie Gods plagues from the beginning, that considering the same, we might liue in his feare, and know if he haue not spared our fathers, yea, kings, princes and rulers, and also whole countries, and nations for their sinnes, that we vile wormes cannot looke to escape punishment for ours. † Or, beaten downe. Amos 9. 4. e Which haue fully fed their mindes, and are gone thither on purpose. Whereby he excepteth the innocents, as Ieremias & Baruch that were forced: therefore the Lord sheweth, that he will set his face against them: that is purposely destroy them. f Reade Chap. 26. 6 & 42. 18. † Ebr. lift up their skulls. g Meaning, but a few.

n This declareth an horrible plague toward idolaters, seeing that God will not vouchsafe to haue his Name mentioned by such as haue polluted it.
 o We see therefore, that God hath a perpetual care ouer his, wherefoer they are scattered: for though they be but two or three, yet he will deliuer them when he destroyeth his enemies.
 p He sheweth the reasons where-by they should be destroyed, to assure them of the certaintie of the plague, and yet they remaine still in their obstinacie till they perish: for Iosephus lib. 10. de Ant. cap. 11. writeth, that sine yeere after the taking of Ierusalem, Nebuchad-nezzar the yonger, hauing overcome the Moabites, the Ammonites, went against Egypt, and slew the king, and so brought these Iewes, and other into Babylon.

C H A P. XLV.

2 Jeremiah comforteth Baruch, assuring him that he should not perish in the destruction of Ierusalem

TH E word that Jeremiah the Prophet spake vnto Baruch the sonne of Neriah, when hee had written these words in a booke at the mouth of Jeremiah, in the fourth yeere of Iehoiakin the sonne of Iosiah king of Iudah, saying,

2 Thus saith the Lord God of Israel vnto thee, O Baruch,

3 Thou diddest say, Woe is mee now: for the Lord hath layde his reue vnto my sorrow: I am fainted in my mourning, and I can finde no rest.

4 Thus shalt thou say vnto him, The Lord saith thus, Behold, that which I haue built, will I destroy, and that which I haue planted will I plucke vp, euen this whole land.

5 And seekest thou great things for thy selfe? seeke them not: for behold, I will bring a plague vpon all flesh, saith the Lord: but thy life will I giue thee for a pray in all places, whither thou goest.

c Thinkest thou to haue honour and credit? where-in he sheweth his infirmitie. f Reade Chap. 21. 9.

C H A P. XLVI.

2 He prophesieth the destruction of Egypt, 27 Deliueraunce is promised to Iffrael.

TH E words of the Lord, which came to Jeremiah the prophet against the Gentiles,

2 As against Egypt, against the army of Pharaoh Necho King of Egypt, which was by the riuier Perath in Carchemish, which Nebuchad-nezzar King of Babel smote in the fourth yeere of Iehoiakin the sonne of Iosiah king of Iudah.

3 Make ready buckler and shield, and goe forth to battell.

4 Make ready the hories, and let the horicemen get vp, and stand vp with your speares, furbish the speares, and put on the brigandines.

5 Wherefore haue I seene them afeard, and dumen backe? for their mightie men are smitten, & are fled away, & looke not backe: for feare was round about, saith the Lord.

6 The swift shall not flee away, nor the strong men escape: they shall stumble, and fall toward the North by the riuier Perath.

7 Who is this, that commeth vp as a flood, whose waters are mooued like the riuers?

8 Egypt riseth vp like the flood, and his waters are mooued like the riuers, and hee saith, I will goe vp, and will couer the earth: I will destroy the citie with them that dwel therein.

9 Come vp, yee hoises, and rage yee charrets, and let the valiant men come forth, & the blacke Doxes, and the Libyans that beare the shield, and the Lydians that handle and bend the bow.

10 For this is the day of the Lord God of hostes, and a day of vengeance, that hee may avenge him of his enemies: for the twoid shall deuoure, and it shall be laiciate, and made dunke with their blood: for the Lord God of hostes hath a sacrifice in the North by the riuier Perath.

11 Goe vp vnto Gilead, and take balm, O virgin, the daughter of Egypt: in vaine shalt thou vse many medicines: for thou shalt haue no health.

12 The nations haue heard of thy shame, & thy crye hath filled the land: for the strong hath stumbled against the strong, and they are fallen both together.

13 The word that the Lord spake to Jeremiah the Prophet, how Nebuchad-nezzar king of Babel should come and smite the land of Egypt.

14 Publish in Egypt, and declare in Migdol, and proclaime in Noph, and in Tahpanhes, and say, Stand still, and prepare thee: for the sword shall deuoure round about thee.

15 Why are thy valiant men put backe? they could not stand, because the Lord did digne them.

16 He made many to fall, & one fell vpon another: and they said, Arise, let vs goe againe to our own people, and to the land of our natinitie from the sword of the violent.

17 They did crye there, Pharaoh king of Egypt, and of a great multitude hath passed the time appointed.

18 As I live, saith the King, whose name is the Lord of hostes, Surely as Tabor is in the mountaines, and as Carmel is in the sea: so shall it come.

19 O thou daughter dwelling in Egypt, make thee care to goe into captiuitie: for Noph shall be waistes and desolate, without an inhabitant.

ment. p To wit, that the Egyptians shall bee destroyed.

a Which was Ieremiahs disciple, and wrote his prophesies vnder him.
 b Whereof reade Chap. 36. 10.
 c Baruch moued with an inconsiderate zeale of Ieremiahs imprisonment, but chiefly for the destruction of the people, and the Temple, maketh this lamentation, as Psal 6. 6.
 d Meaning, that God might destroy this people because he had planted them. e Thinkest thou to haue honour and credit? where-in he sheweth his infirmitie. f Reade Chap. 21. 9.

c He warneth the Egyptians to prepare themselves to waire.
 d The Prophet had this vision of the Egyptians, which should be put to flight by the Babylonians at Carchemish.
 e The Babylonians shall discomfit them at the riuier Euphrates.
 f He derideth the boasting of the Egyptians, who thought by their riches and power to haue overcome all the world, alluding to the riuier Nilus, which at certaintimes ouerfloweth the countrey of Egypt.
 g For these nations tooke part with y Egyptians.
 h He calleth the slaughter of Gods enemies, a sacrifice, because it is a thing that doth please him, Ila. 34. 6.
 i That is, at Carchemish.
 k For at Gilead did growe most foueraigne balm for wounds.
 l So called, because Egypt had not yet bene overcome by the enemy.
 m He sheweth that no salue or medicine can preuail, where-as God giueth the wound.
 n As they that should repent that they helped the Egyptians.
 o He denideth them which thal inpute their ouerthrow to lacke of counsell and policie, or to fortune, and not obseruing o time: not considering that it is Gods iudgement.

g They have abundance of all things, and therefore are disobedient and proud.
 r As verse 9.
 f They shall be scarce able to speake for feare of the Caldeans.
 t Meaning, Egypt.
 u That is, they shall slay the great and mighty men of power.
 x To wit, Nebuchadnezzars armie.
 y Some take the Hebrew word Amon for the Kings name of No, that is, of Alexandria.
 z Meaning, that after the space of forty yeeres, Egypt should be restored, Isa. 19. 23. ezech. 29. 13.
 a God comforteth all his that were in captiuitie, but especially the small Church of the Iewes whereof were Jeremia, and Baruch, which remayned among the Egyptians: for the Lord neuer forsakes his, Isa. 44. 2. chap. 30. 10.

20 Egypt is like a faire calfe, but destruction cometh: out of the North it cometh.
 21 Also her hired men are in the mids of her like fat calves: they are also turned back and fledde away together: they coude not stand, because the day of their destruction was come upon them, and the time of their visitation.
 22 The voyce thereof shall goe forth like a serpent: for they shall march with an armie, and come against her with axes, as hewers of wood.
 23 They shall cut downe her forest, saith the Lord: for they cannot bee counted, because they are more then the grasshoppers, and are innumerable.
 24 The daughter of Egypt shall be confounded: she shall be deliuered into the hands of the people of the North.
 25 Thus saith the Lord of hostes, the God of Israel, Behold, I will visite the common people of No, and Pharaoh, & Egypt, with their gods and their kings, euen Pharaoh, and all them that trust in him.
 26 And I will deliuer the into the hands of thoe that seeke their liues, and into the hand of Sarchad-nezzar king of Babel: and into the handes of his seruantes, and afterward she shall dwell as in the olde time, saith the Lord.
 27 But feare not thou, O my seruant Jaakob, and be not thou afraid, O Israel: for behold, I will deliuer thee from a farre country, and thy seed from the land of their captiuitie, and Jaakob shall returne and be in rest and prosperitie, and none shall make him afraid.
 28 Feare thou not, O Jaakob my seruant, saith the Lord: for I am with thee, & I will utterly destroy all the nations, whiche I haue diuised thee: but I will not utterly destroy thee, but correct thee by iudgement, and not utterly cut thee off.

CHAP. XLVII.

The word of the Lord against the Philistims.

a Which was also called Gaza, a cite of the Philistims.
 b He meaneth the army of the Caldeans, Isa. 8 7, 8.
 c The great care shall take away their naturall affection.
 d Their heart shall so faile them. e For the Caphortims, which are also called Capadocians, had destroyed in olde time the Philistims and dwelt in their land, euen to Gaza, Deut. 2. 23.

The words of the Lord that came to Jeremia the Prophet, against the Philistims, before that Pharaoh smote Azzah.
 2 Thus saith the Lord, Behold, waters rise vp out of the North, and shall bee as a swelling flood, and shall ouerflow the land, and all that is therein, and the cities with them that dwell therein: then the men shall cry, and all the inhabitants of the land shall howle.
 3 At the noise and stamping of the hoofes of his strong hoies, at y noise of his charrets, and at the rumbering of his wheels: the fathers shall not: looke back to their children, for feeblesse of hands.
 4 Because of the day that cometh to destroy all the Philistims, & to destroy Tyms and Zion, & all the rest that take their part: for the Lord will destroy the Philistims, the remnant of the isle of Caphro.

5 Baldnesse is come upon Azzah: Ashkelon is cut vp with the rest of their valleys. How long wilt thou cut the sette?
 6 O thou sword of the Lords, how long wilt it be: or thou cease! turne againe into thy scabbard, rest and be still.
 7 How can it cease, seeing the Lord hath giuen it a charge against Ashkelon, and against the sea banke? euen there hath he appointed it.
 it is not possible that the wicked should by any means escape or slay the Lord, when he will take vengeance.

CHAP. XLVIII.

The word of the Lord against the Moabites, 26 Because of their pride and cruelty.

Concerning Moab, thus saith the Lord God of hostes, the God of Israel, Alas vnto Nebo: for it is wasted: Kiriatjaim is founded and taken: Misgab is confounded and afraid.
 2 Moab shall boast no more of Heshbon: for they haue deuised evil against it. Come, and let vs destroy it, that it be no more a nation: also thou shalt be destroyed. O Madmen, and the sword shall pursue thee.
 3 A voice of crying shall come from Horonaim with desolation and great destruction.
 4 Moab is destroyed: her little ones haue caused their cry to be heard.
 5 For at the going vp of Luhith, the mourner shall goe vp with weeping: for in the going downe of Horonaim, the enemies haue heard a cry of destruction.
 6 Flee, and saue your liues, and bee like vnto the heath in the wilderness.
 7 For because thou hast trusted in thy works and in thy treasures, thou shalt also be taken, and Chemosh shall goe forth into captiuitie with his priestes, and his princes together.
 8 And the destroyer shall come vpon all cities, & no city shall escape: the valley also shall perish, and the plaine shall be destroyed as the Lord hath spoken.
 9 Shute wings vnto Moab, that it may flee & get away: for the cities thereof shall be desolate, without any to dwell therein.
 10 Cursed be he that doth the worke of the Lord! negligently and cursed be he that keepeth backe his sword from blood.
 11 O Moab hath bin at rest from his youth, and hee hath relied on his fees, and hath not bene powdered from vessel to vessel, neither hath he gone into captiuitie: therefore his taste remayned in him, and his sent is not changed.
 12 Therefore beholde, the dayes come, saith the Lord, that I will lend vnto him such as shall cary him away, and shall empty his vessels, and breake their bottels.
 13 He sheweth that God would punish the Caldeans, the Egyptians, and that with a courage, & calleth this executing his vengeance against his enemies, his worke: though the Caldeans sought an other end, Isa. 10. 2. O, deceitfully, Hath not bene remoued as the Iewes haue, but hath hued at ease, and as a winde that feedeth himselfe on his lees.

f They haue pulled off their haire for sorrow and heauinesse.
 g As the heathen vsed in their mourning, which the Lord forbade his people to do, Deut 14. 1.
 h Meaning, that a There were cities of the Moabites which Nebuchadnezzar tooke before he went to fight against Necho king of Egypt.
 b Thus shall the Babylonians encourage one another.
 c Reade Isa. 25. 10.
 d Horonaim & Luhith were two places, whereby the Moabites should flee, Isa. 15. 5.
 e Hide your selues in barren places, where the enemy will not pursue after you, Chap. 17. 6.
 f That is, the idoles which are the works of thine hands.
 g Some read, in thy possessions: for so the word may signifie, as 1. Sam. 25. 2.
 h Both thy great idole, and his maintainers shall be led away captiues, so that they shall then know that it is in vaine to looke for help at idoles, Isa. 15. 2 k As the calfe of Beth-el was not able to deliuer the Israelites: no more shall Chemosh deliuer the Moabites. 1 Ebr gone up, or destroyed.

l How are they destroyed that put their trust in their strength and riches!

m Thus they that see shall answere.

n That is, his power & strength. o He willed the Caldeans to lay afflictions ynow upon them, till they be like drunken men that fall downe to their shame and are derided of all. || Or, shall be full, or clap his hands. p Thou rejoicest to heare of his misery. 7 Ja. 1. 6. 6. q He shall not execute his malice against his neighbours. r Read Isa. 1. 6, 7.

f Which city was in the vtmost border of Moab: and here by he significeth that the whole land should be destroyed, and the people caried away.

13 And Moab shall bee ashamed of Chemosh, as the house of Israel was ashamed of Beth-el their confidence.

14 How thinke you thus, We are mighty and strong men of warre?

15 Moab is destroyed, & his cities // burnt vp, and his chosen yong men are gone downe to slaughter, sayth the King, whose name is, The Lord of hostes.

16 The destruction of Moab is ready to come, and his plague halleth fast.

17 All ye that are about him, mourne for him, and allpce that knowe his name, say, Howe is the strong staffe broken, and the beautifull roo!

18 Thou daughter that dost inhabit Dibon, come downe from thy glory, and sit in thirt: for the destroyer of Moab shall come vp vpon thee, and he shall destroy thy strong holds.

19 Thou that dwellest in Aroer, stand by the way, & behold: aske him that fleeth and that escapeth, and say, What is done?

20 Moab is confounded: for it is destroyed: howle, and cry, tell yee it in Arnon, that Moab is made waste,

21 And iudgement is come vpon y plaine countrey, vpon Holoim & vpon Jahazab, and vpon Dephaath, 22 And vpon Dibon, and vpon Mebo, and vpon the house of Diblathaim, 23 And vpon Kiriaathaim, & vpon Beth-ganuil, and vpon Beth-meon, 24 And vpon Kerioth, and vpon Bozrah, and vpon all the cities of the land of Moab faire or neere.

25 The horn of Moab is cut off, and his arme is broken, sayth the Lord.

26 Make ye him drunk: for he magnified himselfe against the Lord: Moab shall // wallow in his vomite, and he also shall be in derision.

27 For didst not thou deride Israel, as though he had bene found among theeues? for when thou speakest of him, thou art rimoined.

28 Vye that dwell in Moab, leaue the cities, and dwell in the rocks, and be like the done that maketh her nest in the side of the holes mouith.

29 Wee haue heard the pride of Moab (he is exceeding proud) his stoutnesse, and his arrogancie, and his pride, and the haughtinesse of his heart.

30 I know his wrath, sayth the Lord, & but it shall not be so: and his dissimulations, for they doe not right.

31 Therefore will I howle for Moab, and I will crye out for all Moab: mine heart shall mourne for the men of Kir-heres.

32 O vine of Sibraim, I will weepe for thee, as I wept for Timnah: the plantes are gone ouer the sea, they are come to the sea of Iazer: the destroyer is fallen vpon the summer fruits, and vpon the vintage, 33 And ioy, and gladnes is taken from the plentifulle fields & from the land of Moab: and I haue caused vine to faile from the wine presse: none shall tread with shouting: their shouting shall be no shouting.

34 From the cry of Heshbon vnto Elaleh, and vnto Jahaz haue they made their noyse: from Saar vnto Heshonaim, the heifer of three yeere old shall goe lowing: for the waters are alid of Amrin: shall be waited. Read Isa. 15. 5.

35 Therefore, I will cause to cease in Moab, sayth the Lord, him that offereth in the hie places, and him that burneth incense to his gods.

36 Therefore mine heart shall sounde for Moab like a shawme, and mine heart shall sounde like a shawme for the men of Kir-heres, because the riches that hee hath gotten, is perished.

37 For euery head shall be // balde, and euery beard plucked: vpon all the handes shall bee cuttings, and vpon the loynes sackcloth.

38 And mourning shall bee vpon all the house tops of Moab and in all the streetes thereof: for I haue broken Moab like a vessel wherein is no pleasure, sayth the Lord.

39 They shall howle, saying, How is he destroyed? How hath Moab turned the backe with shame: so shall Moab be a derision and a feare to all them about him.

40 For thus sayth the Lord, Behold, he shall seee as an eagle, & shall spread his wings ouer Moab.

41 The cities are taken, and the strong holds are wonne, & the mighty mens hearts in Moab at that day shall be as the heart of a woman in trauell.

42 And Moab shall be destroyed from being a people, because he hath set vp himselfe agaimt the Lord.

43 Feare, and pit and snare shall be vpon thee, O inhabitant of Moab, sayth the Lord.

44 He that escapeth from the feare, shall fall in the pit, & he that getteth by out of the pit, shall be taken in the snare: for I will bring vpon it, euen vpon Moab, the yeece of their visitation, sayth the Lord.

45 They that fled, stode vnder the shadow of Heshbon, because of the force: for the fire came out of Heshbon, and a flame from Sion, and deuoured the corner of Moab, and the toppes of the seditious children.

46 Moab is vnto thee, O Moab: the people of Chemosh perisheth: for thy sonnes are taken captiues, and thy daughters led into captivity.

47 Yet will I bring againe the captiuitie of Moab in the latter daies, sayth the Lord. Thus saith the Lord of iudgement of Moab.

CHAP. XLIX.

1 The words of the Lord against the Ammonites, 7 Judaea, 23 Damascus, 28 Kedar, 34 and Elam.

Vnto the children of Ammon thus sayth the Loude, Hath Israel no sonnes? or hath he none heire? Why then hath thir king possessed Gad: and his people dwelt in his cities?

2 Therefore beholde, the dayes come, sayeth the Lord, that I will cause a people of deded the countrey of Gad, b To wit, of the Ammonites, c Meaning of the Israelites.

u Their custome was to play on flutes or instruments heauy and graue tunes at burials & in the time of mourning, as Mat. 9. 23. 1 Sa. 15. 2, 3. ezeck. 7. 18. || Or, shawme.

x That is, Nebuchad-nezzar, as Chap. 49. 2. y He that escapeth one danger, shall be taken of another, Isa 24. 17.

z They fled thither, thinking to haue succour of the Amorites. a The Amorites had destroyed the Moabites in times past, and now because of their power, the Moabites shall seeke to them for helpe.

b Which vanted then selues of their idol, as though he could haue defended them. c That is, they shall be restored by the Messias.

d Which was one of the chief cities of the Ammonites as were Heshbon & Ai: there was also a city called Heshbon among the Moabites.

e In thy plentiful country.

f Signifying that power and riches cannot procure when as God will execute his judgement, g That is, without looking backe, & as every one can finde a way to escape.

h In the time of Christ, when the Gentiles shall be called.

i Which was a citie of Edom called by the name of Teman Eliphaz sonne, who came of Esau.

k The enemies that shall dissemble as though they fled away, shall turne backe, and invade your land, and possesse it.

l Meaning, that God would utterly destroy them, and not spare one, though the grape gatherers leaue some grapes, & theennes seeke but til they haue enough, Obad. i. 5.

m The destruction shall be so great that there shall be none left to take care ouer the widowes & fatherlesse.

n I haue not spared mine own people, and how should I pitie thee?

o Which was a chief citie of Edom.

p That is, Bozrah.

warre to bee heard in Rabbah of the Ammonites, and it shall be a desolate heape, and her daughters shall be burnt with fire: than shall Israel possesse thoe that possessed him, saith the Lord.

3 Howle, O Heshbon, for Ai is wasted: cite ye daughters of Rabbah: giue you with sackcloth: mourne and vnnie to and fro by the hedges, for their king shall goe into captivity, and his Princes, and his Princes likewise.

4 Therefore gloriefit thou in the valleys: thy valley flower away, O rebellious daughter: the trusted in her treasures, saying, My house shall come vnto me?

5 Behold, I will bring a feare vpon thee, saith the Lord God of hoies, of all those that be about thee, and ye shall be scattered euery man s right forth, and none shall gather him that freely.

6 And afterward I will bring againe the captivity of the children of Ammon.

7 O To Edom thus saith the Lord of hoies, Is wisdom no more in Teman? Is his counsell perished from their children? Is their wisdom banished?

8 Flee, ye inhabitants of Dedan (for they are turned backe, and haue consulted to dwell) for I haue brought the destruction of Esau vpon him, and the time of his visitation.

9 If the grape gatherers come to thee, would they not leaue some grapes? if theennes come by night, they wil destroy til they haue enough.

10 For I haue discovered Esau: I haue vncouered his secrets, and he shal not be able to hide himselfe: his seed is wasted, and his brethren and his neighbours, and there shall be none to say, 11 Leauethy fatherlesse children, and I will reuerue them alme, & let thy widowes trust in me.

12 For thus saith the Lord, Behold, they whose iudgement was not to drinke of the cup, haue assuredly drunken, and art thou he that shalt escape free? thou shalt not goe free, but thou shalt surely drinke of it.

13 For I haue woone by my selfe, saith the Lord, that Bozrah shall be waste, and for a reproch, and a desolation, and a curie, and all the cities thereof shall be perpetuall desolations.

14 I haue heard a rumour from the Lord, and an ambassador is sent vnto the heathen, saying, Gather you together, and come against her, and rife by to the battell.

15 For loe, I will make thee but small among the heathen, and despised among men.

16 The feare, & the pride of thine heart hath deceiued thee, thou that dwellest in the clefts of the rocke, and keepst the helght of the hill: though thou shouldest make thy nest as high as the Eagle, I will bring thee down from thence, saith the Lord.

17 Also Edom shall be desolate: euery one that geeth by it, shall bee alighted, and shall hiss at all the plagues thereof.

18 As in the ouerthrow of Sodom, and of Gomorah, and the places thereof neere about, saith the Lord: no man shall dwell there, neither shall the tonnes of men remaine in it.

19 Behold, he shall come by like a lion from the swelling of Jordan vnto the strong dwelling place: for I will make Israel to rest, euen I will make him to halte away from her, and who is a chosen man that I may appoynt against her? for who is like mee? and who will appoynt mee the time? and who is the shepheard that will stande before me?

20 Therefore heare the counsell of the Lord: that hee hath deuised against Edom, and his purpose that hee hath conceiued against the inhabitants of Teman: surely the least of the stocke shall draw them out: surely hee shall make their habitations desolate with them.

21 The earth is moued at the noise of their fall: the cry of their voyce is heard in the red sea.

22 Behold, hee shall come by, and flee as the Eagle, and spread his wings ouer Bozrah, and at that day shall the heart of the strong men of Edom bee as the heart of a woman in trauell.

23 Unto Damascus he saith, Hamath is confounded, and Arpad, for they haue heard euill tidings, & they are saynt hearted as one on the fearefull sea that cannot rest.

24 Damascus is discouraged, and turneth herselfe to flight, and feare hath leasid her: anguish and sorowes haue taken her as a woman in trauell.

25 How is the glorious citie not reuerued, the city of my top!

26 Therefore her yong men shall fall in her streets, and all her men of warre shall be cut off in that day, saith the Lord of hoies.

27 And I will kindle a fire in the wall of Damascus, which shall consume the palaces of Ben-hadad.

28 Unto Kedar and to the kingdoms of Hazor, which Nebuchad-nezzar King of Babel shall smite, thus saith the Lord, Arise, and goe by vnto Kedar, and destroy the men of the East.

29 Their tents and their flocks shall they take away: yea, they shall take to themselues their curtains, and all their vessels, and their camels, and they shall cry vnto them, feare is on euery side.

30 Flee, get you farre off (for they haue consulted to dwell) ye inhabitants of Hazor, saith the Lord: for Nebuchad-nezzar King of Babel hath taken counsell against you, and hath deuised a purpose against you.

31 Arise, and get you by vnto the weaklye nation, that dwalleth without care, saith the Lord, which haue neither gates nor battres, but dwell alone.

32 And their camels shall be a booty, & the multitude of their catel a spoyle, and I will scatter them into all windes, & to the most corners, and I will bring their destruction from all the sides thereof, saith the Lord.

will dwell in your places. f He sheweth that they of Hazor will flee to the Arabians for succour, but that shall not auail them.

q To wit, Nebuchad-nezzar, after hee hath ouercome iudah which is meant by the swelling of Jordan, shall come against mount Seir and Edom.

r That is, the Israhelites, whom the Edomites kept as prisoners: to halte away from thence.

s The captaine and gouernour of the army, meaning, Nebuchad-nezzar.

t They shall not be able to resist his perie captiues.

x As Chap. 48. 40. was said of Moab.

y Which was the chief citie of Syria, whereby he meaneth the whole country.

z When these heard the sudden comming of the enemy.

a He speaketh this in the person of the King and of them of the country, who shall wonder to see Damascus the chief citie destroyed.

b Who was King of Syria, 1. King. 20. 26. and had built these palaces, which were still called the palaces of Ben-hadad.

 35 Thus saith the Lord of hostes, Beholde, I will breake the bow of Elam, even the chiefe of their strength.
 36 And vpon Elam I will bring the foure windes from the foure quarters of heauen, & will scatter them towards all these windes, and there shall be no nation, whither the fugitives of Elam shall not come.
 37 For I will cause Elam to be afraid before their enemies, & before them that seeke their liues, & will bring vpon them a plague, even the indignation of my wrath, saith the Lord, and I will send the sword after them till I haue consumed them.
 38 And I will set my throne in Elam, and I will destroy both the king & the princes from thence, saith the Lord: but in the latter daies I will bring againe the captiuitie of Elam, saith the Lord.

CHAP. L.

Hee propheseth the destruction of Babylon, and the deliuerance of Israel, which was in captiuitie.

The word that the Lord spake concerning Babel, and concerning the lande of the Caldeans by the ministrie of Jeremiah the Prophet.

2 Declare among the nations, and publish it, and let vp a standart, proclaime it and conceale it not: say, Babel is taken, Bel is confounded, Merodach is broken downe: her idoles are confounded, and their images are burst in peeces.

3 For out of the North there cometh vp a nation against her, which shall make her land waste, & none shall dwell therein: they shall flee, and depart, both man and beast.

4 In those dayes, and at that time, saith the Lord, the children of Israel shall come, they, and the children of Iudah together, going, and weeping shall they goe, and seeke the Lord their God.

5 They shall aske the way to Zion, with their faces thitherward, saying, Come, and let vs cleane to the Lord in a perpetuall covenant that shall not be forgotten.

6 My people hath bene as lost sheepe: their shepheards haue caused them to goe astray, and haue turned them away to the mountaynes: they haue gone from mountayne to hill, and forgotten their resting place.

7 All that founde them, haue denioured them, & their enemies sayd, We offend not, because they haue sinned against the Worde, the habitation of iustice, even the Lord the hope of their fathers.

8 Flee from the midst of Babel, and depart out of the land of the Caldeans, and be ye as the bee goates before the flocke.

9 For soe, I will raise, and cause to come vp against Babel a multitude of mighty nations from the North country, and they shall set themselves in aray against her, whereby she shall be taken: their arrows shall be as of a strong man, which is expert, for none shall returne in vaine.

10 And Caldea shall be a spoyle: all that spoyle her, shall bee satisfied, saith the Lord.

11 Because ye were glad and reioyced in destroying mine heritage, and because ye are grown fat, as the calves in the grasse, and nyed like strong horses, 12 Therefore your mother shall bee sore confounded, and shee that bare you shall bee ashamed: beholde, the vttermost of the nations shall be a desert, a dry land and a wilderness.

13 Because of the wrath of the Lord, it shall not be inhabited, but shall be wholly desolate: eury one that goeth by Babel, shall astonish, and be hiffe at all her plagues.

14 Put your shies in aray against Babel round about: all ye that bend the bowe, shoot at her, there are no arrows: for she hath sinned against the Lord.

15 Cry against her round about: shee hath giuen her hand: her foundations are fallen, and her walles are destroyed: for it is the vengeance of the Lord: take vengeance vpon her: as shee hath done, doe vnto her.

16 Destroy the tower from Babel, and him that handleth the sicke in the time of haruel: because of the worde of the oppressour they shall turne eury one to his people, and they shall see eury one to his owne land.

17 Israel is like scattered sheepe: the Lyons haue dispersed them: first the King of Asshur hath denoured him, and last this Nebuchad-nezzar King of Babel hath broken his bones.

18 Therefore thus saith the Lord of hostes, the God of Israel, Behold, I will visite the king of Babel, and his lande, as I haue visited the king of Asshur.

19 And I will bring Israel againe to his habitation: he shall feede on Carmel & Bashan, and his soule shall be satisfied vpon the mount Ephraim and Gilcad.

20 In those dayes, and at that time, saith the Lord, the inquiry of Israel shall bee sought for, and there shall bee none: and the sinnes of Iudah, and they shall not be found: for I will bee mercifull vnto them, whom I reuerse.

21 Goe vp against the lande of the rebeles, euen against it, and against the inhabitants of it: of Pekod: destroy, and lay it waste after them, saith the Lord, and doe according to all that I haue commaunded thee.

22 A cry of battell is in the lande, and of great destruction.

23 Howe is the hammer of the whole world destroyed and broken! howe is Babel become desolate among the nations!

24 I have snared thee, and thou art taken, O Babel, and thou wast not aware: thou art found, & also caught, because thou hast streuen against the Lord.

25 The Lord hath opened his treasure, and hath brought forth the weapons of his wrath: for this is the worke of the Lord God of hostes in the lands of the Caldeans.

26 Come against her & from the utmost border: open her store houses: tread on her as on sheaves, and destroy her utterly: let nothing of her be left.

27 Destroy all her bullockes: let them go downe to the slaughter. Goe unto them, for their day is come, and the time of their visitation.

28 The voice of them that flee, and elcape out of the land of Babel to declare in Zion the vengeance of the Lord our God, and the vengeance of his Temple.

29 Cal by the archers against Babel: all ye that bend y bowe, besiege it round about: let none thereof escape: * recompense her according to her work, and according to al that she hath done, do vnto her: for she hath bene proud against the Lord, euen against the holy one of Israel.

30 Therefore shall her yong men fall in the streetes, and all her men of warre shalbe destroyed in that day, sayth the Lord.

31 Beholde, I come vnto thee, O proude man, sayth the Lorde God of hostes: for thy day is come, euen the time that I will visite thee.

32 And the proud shall stumble and fall, and none shal raise him vp: and I will kinde a fire in his cities, and it shal deuoure all round about him.

33 Thus sayeth the Lord of hostes, The children of Israel, and the children of Iudah were oppressed together: and all that tooke them captiues, held them, and would not let them goe.

34 But their strong Redeemer, whose name is the Lord of hostes, he shall maintayne their cause, that hee may giue rest to the land, * and disquiet the inhabitants of Babel.

35 A sword is vpon the Caldeans, sayeth the Lord, and vpon the inhabitants of Babel, and vpon her princes, and vpon her wise men.

36 A sword is vpon the sword slayers, and they shall dote: a sword is vpon her strong men, and they shalbe afraid.

37 A sword is vpon their horses, and vpon their charots, and vpon all the multitude that are in the midds of her, and they shall be like women: a sword is vpon her treasures, and they shalbe spoyled.

38 A drought is vpon her waters, and they shall be dried vp: for it is the land of geauen images, * and they dote vpon their idoles.

39 Therefore shall the Simes with the Simes, shall dwell there, and the ostriches shall dwell therein: for it shall be no more inhabited, neither shall it be inhabited from generation vnto generation.

40 As God destroyed * Sodom and Gomorah with the places thereof neere about, sayth the Lord: so shall no man dwell there, neither shall the sonne of man remaine therein.

41 Beholde, a people shall come from the North, and a great nation, and many kings shall be raised vp from the coastes of the earth.

42 They shall hold the bowe and the buckler: they are cruell and vnumercifull: their voice shall roare like the sea, and they shall ride vpon horses, and be put in aray like mento the battell against thee, O daughter of Babel.

43 The king of Babel hath heard the report of them, and his handes were feeble: sorow came vpon him, euen sorow as of a woman in treuails.

44 Beholde, hee shall come vp like a lpon from the swelling of Jordan vnto the strong habitation: for I will make Israel to rest, and I will make them to haste away from her: and who is a chosen man that I may appoint against her? for who is like mee, and who will appoint mee the time? and who is she that heheard that will stand before me?

45 Therefore heare the counsell of the Lord that hee hath deuised against Babel, and his purpose that hee hath conceived against the land of the Caldeans: surely the least of the flocke shall dray them out: surely hee shall make their habitation desolate with them.

46 At the noyle of the winning of Babel the earth is moued, and the cry is heard among the nations.

CHAP. LI.

Why Babylon is destroyed. 41 The vaine confidence of the Babylonians. 43 The vanitie of idolaters. 59 Ieremiah giueth his booke to Stheriaah.

Thus sayth the Lord, Beholde, I will raise T by against Babel, and against the inhabitants: that lift vp their heart against me, a destroying wind,

2 And will lend vnto Babel fanners that shall fanne her, and shall emptie her land: for in the day of trouble they shall be against her on euery side.

3 Alld to the bender that bendeth his bowe, and to him that listeth himselfe vp in his brigadine, will I say, Spare not her yong men, but destroy all her host.

4 Thus the flaine shall fall in the land of the Caldeans, and they that are thrust throught in her streetes.

5 For Israel hath bene no widow, nor Iudah from his God, from the Lorde of hostes, though their lane was filled with sinne against the Holy one of Israel.

6 Flee out of the midis of Babel, and deliuer every man his soule: be not destroyed in her iniquitie: for this is the time of the Lords vengeance: hee will render vnto her a recompense.

7 Babel hath bene as a golden cup in the Lords hand, that made alle the earth drunken: the nations haue drunken of her wine, therefore doe the nations rage.

11 Make bright the arrowes; gather the shields: the Lord hath raised up the spirit of the king of the Medes: for his purpose is against Babel to destroy it, because it is the vengeance of the Lord, and the vengeance of his Temple.

12 Set vp the standerd vpon the walles of Babel, make the watch strong: set vp the watchmen: prepare the skoutes: for the Lord hath both deuled, and done that which hee spake against the inhabitants of Babel.

13 O thou that dwellest vpon many waters, abundant in treasures, thine ende is come, such the ende of thy couetousnesse.

14 The Lord of hostes hath sworn by his name, saying, Surely I will fill thee with men, as with caterpillers, and they shall cry and shout against thee.

15 He hath made the earth by his power, and established the world by his wisdom, and hath stretched out the heauen by his discretion.

16 Hee curseth by his voyce the multitude of waters in the heauen, and hee canseth the cloudes to ascende from the endes of the earth: he turneth lightnings to raime, and bringeth forth the winde out of his treasures.

18 They are vanitie, and the worke of errorous: in the time of their visitation they shall perish.

19 The portion of Iacob is not like them: for he is the maker of all things, and Israel is the rod of his inheritance: the Lord of hostes is his Name.

20 Thou art mine hammer, and weapons of warre: for with thee will I breake the nations, and with thee will I destroy kingdomes.

21 And by thee will I breake horse and horseman, and by thee will I breake the charret and him that rideth therein.

22 By thee also will I breake man and woman, and by thee will I breake olde and yong, and by thee will I breake the yong man and the maide.

23 I will also breake by thee the shepheard and his flocke, and by thee will I breake the husbandman and his yoke of oren, and by thee will I breake the dukes and princes.

24 And I will render vnto Babel, and to all the inhabitants of the Caldeans all their euill, that they haue done in Zion, euen in your sight, saith the Lord.

25 Behold, I come vnto thee, O destroying mountaine, saith the Lord, which destroyest all the earth: and I will stretch out mine hand vpon thee, and rolle thee downe from the rocks, and will make thee a burnt mountayne.

26 They shall not take of thee a stone for a corner, nor a stone for foundations, but thou shalt bee destroyed for euer, sayeth the Lord.

27 Set by a standard in the lande: blow the trumpets among the nations: prepare the nations against her: call vp the kingdomes of Ararat, Minni, and Achenaz against her: appoint the prince against her: cause horses to come vp as the rough caterpillers.

28 Prepare against her the nations with the kings of the Medes, the dukes thereof, and the princes thereof, and all the land of his dominion.

29 And the land shall tremble and sorrow: for the deuice of the Lord shall be performed against Babel, to make the land of Babel waste without an inhabitant.

30 The strong men of Babel haue ceased to fight, they haue remained in their holdes: their strength hath failed, and they were like women: they haue burnt her dwelling places, and her barres are broken.

31 A post shall runne to meete the post, and a messenger to meete the messenger, to shew the king of Babel, that his citie is taken on a side thereof.

32 And that the passages are stopped, and the reedes burnt with fire, and the men of warre troubled.

33 For thus sayth the Lord of hostes the God of Israel, The daughter of Babel is like a threshing floore: the time of her threshing is come: yet a litle while, and the time of her harvest shall come.

34 Nebuchad-nezzar the king of Babel hath deuoured me, and destroyed mee: he hath made me an empty vessel: he swallowed me vp like a dragon, and filled his belly with my delicates, and hath cast me out.

35 The spoyle of me, and that which was left of mee, is brought vnto Babel, shall the inhabitant of Zion say: and my blood vnto the inhabitants of Caldea, shall Ierusalem say.

36 Therefore thus sayeth the Lord, Behold, I will maintaine thy cause, and take vengeance for thee, and I will dye by the sea, and dye by her spings.

37 And Babel shall be as heapes, a dwelling place for Dragons, an astonishment, and an hissing, without an inhabitant.

38 They shall roare together like Lyons, and yell as the Lyons whelpes.

39 In their hate I will make them feales, and I will make them drunken, that they may reioyce, and sleepe a perpetual sleepe, and not wake, saith the Lord.

40 I will bring them downe like lambs to the slaughter, and like rammes and goates.

41 How is Shelbach taken! and how is the glory of the whole earth taken! how is Babel become an astonishment among the nations!

44 I will also visit Bel in Babel, and I will bring out of his mouth, that which he hath swallowed vp, and the nations shall run no more vnto him, and the wall of Babel shall fall.

45 Why people, goe out of the mids of her and deliuer ye every man his soule from the fierce wrath of the Lord, 46 Lest your heart euen faint, & ye feare the rumoꝛ, that shall be heard in the land: the rumoꝛ shall come this yere, & after that in the other yere shall come a rumoꝛ, and cruelty in the land, and ruler against ruler.

47 Wherefoꝛe behold, the dayes come, that I will visite the images of Babel, and the whole land shall be confounded, and all her staine shall fall in the mids of her.

48 When the heauen and the earth, and all that is therein, shall reioyce foꝛ Babel: foꝛ the destroyers shall come vnto her from the North, saith the Lord.

49 As Babel caused the staine of Israel to fall, so by Babel the staine of all the earth did fall.

50 Pe that haue escaped the sword, goe away, if and not till: remember the Lord a farre off, and let Ierusalem come into your mind.

51 We are confounded because we haue heard reproch: shame hath covered our faces, foꝛ strangers are come into the Sanctuaries of the Lords house.

52 Wherefoꝛe behold, the dayes come, saith the Lord, that I will visite her grauent images, and thꝛough all her land the wounded shall grone.

53 Though Babel should mount vp to a heauen, and though they should defend her strength on high, yet from mee shall her destroyers come, saith the Lord.

54 A loud of a cry cometh from Babel, and great destruction from the lande of the Caldeans, 55 Because the Lord hath layed Babel waste, & destroyed from her the great voice, and her waues shall roare like great waters, and a loud was made by their noise;

56 Because the destroyer is come vpon her, euen vpon Babel, and her strong men are taken, their bowes are broken: foꝛ the Lord God that recompenseth, shall surely recompense.

57 And I will make drunke her princes, and her wife men, her dukes and her nobles and her strong men: and they shall sleepe a perpetual sleepe, and not wake, saith the king, whose name is the Lord of hostes.

58 Thus saith the Lord of hostes, The thicke wall of Babel shall be broken, and her high gates shall be burnt with fire, and the people shall labour in vaine, and the folke in the fire, foꝛ they shall be weary.

59 The word which Ieremiah the Prophet commaunded Shereiah the son of Neriah, the sonne of Shaafesah, when hee went with Zedekiah the king of Iudah into Babel, in the fourth yere of his reigne: and this Shereiah was a peaceable prince.

60 So Ieremiah wrote in a booke all the euill that should come vpon Babel: euen all these things that are written against Babel.

61 And Ieremiah sayde to Shereiah, When thou comest vnto Babel, and shalt see, and shalt read all these words, 62 Then shalt thou say, O Lord, thou hast spoken against this place, to destroy it, that none should remaine in it, neither man nor beast, but that it should be desolate foꝛ euer.

63 And when thou hast made an ende of reading this booke, thou shalt bind a stone to it, and cast it in the midst of Euphrates, 64 And shalt say, Thus shall Babel be drowned, and shall not rise from the euill, that I will bring vpon her. & they shall be wearie. Thus saire are the wordes of Ieremiah.

18.21 m They shall not be able to resist but shall labour in vaine.

CHAP. LIJ.

4 Ierusalem is taken. 10 Zedekias sonnes are killed before his face, and his eyes put out. 13 The city is burned. 31 Iehosabab is brought forth of prison, and fed like a king.

Zedekiah was one and twentie yere old when he began to reigne, and he reigned euen yeres in Ierusalem, and his mothers name was Hamutal, the daughter of Ieremiah of Libnah.

2 And he did euill in the eyes of the Lord, according to all that Iehoiakim had done.

3 Doubtlesse because the wrath of the Lord was against Ierusalem and Iudah, till hee had cast them out from his presence, thꝛough Zedekiah rebelled against the king of Babel.

4 But in the ninth yere of his reigne, in the tenth moneth, the tenth day of the moneth came Nebuchad-nezzar king of Babel, hee and all his hoste against Ierusalem, and pitched against it, and built tores against it round about.

5 So the city was besieged vnto the eleuenth yere of the king Zedekiah.

6 Now in the fourth moneth, the ninth day of the moneth, the famine was sore in the cite, so that there was no more bread foꝛ the people of the land.

7 Then the cite was broken vp and all the men of warre fled, & went out of the cite by night, by the way of the gate betwene the two walls, which was by the kings garden: (now the Caldeans were by the cite round about) and they went by the way of the wilderness.

8 But the army of the Caldeans pushed after the king, and tooke Zedekiah in the desert of Iericho, and all his host was scattered from him.

9 Then they tooke the king and caried him vp to the king of Babel to Riblah in the land of Hamath, where he gaue iudgement vpon him.

10 And the king of Babel slew the sonnes of Zedekiah, before his eyes: he slew also all the princes of Iudah in Riblah.

11 Then he put out the eyes of Zedekiah, and the king of Babel bound him in chaines and caried him to Babel, and put him in prison till the day of his death.

12 Now in the first moneth in the 4th tenth day of the moneth (which was the nineteenth yeere of the king Nebuchad-nezzar king of Babel) came Nebuzar-adan chiefe steward which stood before the king of Babel in Jerusalem, 13 And burnt the house of the Lord, & the kings house, and all the houses of Jerusalem, and all the great houses burnt he with fire.

14 And all the armie of the Caldeans that were with the chiefe steward, brake downe all the walles of Jerusalem round about.

15 Then Nebuzar-adan the chiefe steward caried away captiue certaine of the poore of the people, & the residue of the people that remained in the citie, and those that were fled, and fallen to the king of Babel, with the rest of the multitude.

16 But Nebuzar-adan the chiefe steward left certaine of the poore of the land, to dress the vines, and to till the land.

17 Also the 4 pillars of brasie that were in the house of the Lord, and the bases, & the brazen sea that was in the house of the Lord, the Caldeans brake, and caried all the brasie of them to Babel.

18 The pots also and the scabsons, and the instruments of musicke, & the balins, and the incense dishes, and all the vessels of brasie wherewith they ministered,ooke they away.

19 And the bowles, and the aspans, and the balins, and the pots, & the candlestickes, and the incense dishes, and the cups, and all that was of gold, & that was of siluer,ooke the chiefe steward away,

20 With the two pillars, one Sea, and twelue brazen buls, that were vnder the bases, which king Salomon had made in the boule of the Lord: the brasie of all these vessels was without weight.

21 And concerning the pillars, the height of one pillar was eightene cubites, and a thred of twelue cubites did compass it, and the thicknes thereof was foure fingers: it was hollow.

22 And a chapter of brasie was vpon it, and the height of one chapter was five cubites with networke, and pomegranates vpon the chapters round about, all of brasie: the second pillar also, and the pomegranates were like vnto these.

23 And there were ninetie & six pomegranates on a sider and all the pomegranates vpon y<sup>e</sup> net worke were 1 an hundred forty about.

24 And y<sup>e</sup> chiefe steward tooke Seraiab the chiefe Priest, and Sephanias the chiefe Priest, and the three keepers of the doore.

25 He tooke also out of the city an eunich which had the oversight of the men of warre and 7 seuen men that were in the kings presence which were found in the citie, and Sopher captaine of the holle who ministered the people of the land, and threescore men of the people of the land, that were found in the mids of the citie.

26 Nebuzar-adan the chiefe steward took them, and brought them to the king of Babel to Riblah.

27 And the king of Babel smote them, and slew them in Riblah, in the land of Hamath: thus Judah was caried away captiue out of his owne land.

28 This is the people, whome Nebuchad-nezzar caried away captiue, in the 7th seuenth yeere, euen three thousand Iewes and three and twenty.

29 In the 18th eighteenth yeere of Nebuchadnezzar he caried away captiue from Jerusalem eight hundred thirtie & two & persons.

30 In the three and twentieth yeere of Nebuchadnezzar, Nebuzar-adan the chiefe steward caried away captiue of the Iewes seuen hundred thortie and five persons: all the persons were foure thousand and six hundred.

Lamentations.

CHAP. I.

The Prophet bewaileth the miserable estate of Ierusalem, 5 And sheweth that they are plagued because of their sinnes. The first & second chapter begin euerie verse according to the letters of the Hebrew Alphabet. The third hath three verses for euerie letter, and the fourth is as the first.

How doth<sup>a</sup> the city remaine solitary that was full of people! she is as a widow: shee that was great a 2 She weepeth continually in the night, and her teares run downe by her cheekes: among all her <sup>d</sup>lovers, shee hath none to comfort her: all her friends haue delt vnfaithfully with her, and are her enemies.

3 Iudah is caried away captiue, because e of affliction, and because of great seruitude: she dwelleth among the heathen and findeth no rest: all her persecutersooke her in the straits.

no man commeth to the soleinne feasts: all her gates are desolate: her Iudictees sigh: her virgins are discomfited, and shee is in a heauinesse.

5 Her aduersaries are the chiefe, and her enemies prosper: for the Lord hath afflicted her, for the multitude of her transgressions, and her children are gone into captiuitie before the enemy.

6 And from the daughter of Zion all her beautie is departed: her princes are become like harts that finde no pasture, and they are gone without strength before the pursuer.

7 Ierusalem remembered the dayes of her affliction, and of her rebellion, and all her pleasant things, that shee had in times past, when her people fell into the hand of the enemy, and none did helpe her: the aduersaries saw her, and did mocke at her Sab-baths.

8 Ierusalem hath grievously sinned, therefore she is in derision: all that honour her, despise her, because they haue seene her filthinesse: yea, shee lighteth and tureth backward.

9 Her filthinesse is in her skirts: shee remembered not her last ende, therefore shee came downe wonderfully: shee had no comforter: O Lord, behold mine affliction: for the enemy is proud.

10 The enemy hath stretched out his hand vpon all her pleasant things: for shee hath seene the Heathen enter into her Sanctuarie, whom thou diddest commaunde, that they should not enter into thy Church.

11 All her people sigh & seeke their bread: they haue giuen their pleasant things for meate to refresh the soule: see, O Lord, and consider: for I am become vile.

12 Haue ye no regard, all ye that passe by this way? behold, and see, if there be any sorrow like vnto my sorrow, which is done vnto me, where with the Lord hath afflicted me in the day of his fierce wrath.

13 From aboue hath he sent fire into my bones, which preuaileth against them: hee hath spread a net for my feet, and turned me backe: he hath made mee desolate, and daily in heauinesse.

14 The yoke of my transgressions is bound vpon his necke: they are wrapped, and come by vpon my necke: he hath made my strength to fall: the Lord hath deliuered mee into their handes, neither am I able to rise vp.

15 The Lord hath troden vnder soote all my valiant men in the mids of me: hee hath called an assembly against me to destroy my young men: the Lord hath troden the winepresse vpon the virgine the daughter of Iudah.

16 For these things I weepe: mine eye, euen mine eye casteth out water, because the comforter that should refresh my soule, is farre from me: my children are desolate, because the enemy preuailed.

17 Zion stretched out her handes, and there is none to comfort her: the Lord hath appointed the enemies of Iacob round about him: Ierusalem is as a menstruous woman in the mids of them.

18 The Lord is righteous: for I haue rebelled against his commandement: heare, I pray you, all people, and behold my sorow: my virgins and my yong men are gone into captiuitie.

19 I called for my louers, but they deceiued mee: my Iudictees and mine Elders perished in the city, while they sought their meate to refresh their soules.

20 Behold, O Lord, how I am troubled: my bowels swell: mine heart is turned within mee, for I am full of heauinesse: the sword spoyleth abroad, as death doeth at home.

21 They haue heard that I mourne, but there is none to comfort mee: all mine enemies haue heard of my trouble, and are glad, that thou hast done it: thou wilt bring the day that thou hast pronounced, and they shall be like vnto me.

22 Let all their wickednes come before thee: || Doe vnto them, as thou hast done vnto me, for all my transgressions: for my sighs are many, and mine heart is heauie.

CHAP. II.

How hath the Lord darkened the daughter of Zion in his wrath? and hath cast downe from heauen vnto the earth the beautie of Israel, and remembered not his footstoolle in the day of his wrath?

2 The Lord hath destroyed all the habitations of Iacob, and not spared: he hath thowen downe in his wrath the strong holds of the daughter of Iudah: he hath cast them downe to the ground: he hath polluted the kingdome and the princes thereof.

3 Hee hath cut off in his fierce wrath all the hope of Israel: hee hath draynen backe his right hand from before the enemy, and there was kindled in Iacob like a flame of fire, which denoued round about.

4 Hee hath bent his bowe like an enemy: his right hand was stretched vp as an aduersarie, and slew al that was pleasant to the eye in the Tabernacle of the daughter of Zion: he powred out his wrath like fire.

5 The Lord was as an enemy: he hath denoued Israel, and consumed all his palaces: he hath destroyed his strong holds, and hath increased in the daughter of Iudah lamentation and mourning.

6 For hee hath destroyed his Tabernacle, as a garden, hee hath destroyed his congregation: the Lord hath caused the feastes and Sabbaths to be forgotten in Zion, and hath despised in the indignation of his wrath the King and the Priest.

7 The Lord hath forsaken his altar: he hath abhorred his Sanctuarie: hee hath giuen into the hand of the enemy the wallles of her palaces: they haue made a noyse in the house of the Lord, as in the day of solemnitie.

8 The Lord hath determined to destroy the wall of the daughter of Zion: hee stretched out a line: hee hath not withhelden his hand from destroying: therefore hee made the rampart and the wall to lament: they were destroyed together.

9 Her gates are sunk to the ground: he hath destroyed and broken her barres: her King and her Princes are among the Gentiles: the lawe is no more, neither can her Prophets receive any vision from the Lord.

10 The Elders of the daughters of Zion sit upon the ground, and keepe silence: they haue cast vp dust upon their heads: they haue girded themselves with sackcloth: the virgins of Ierusalem hang downe their heads to the ground.

11 Mine eyes doe faile with teares: my bowels swell: my liver is powred upon the earth, for the destruction of the daughter of my people, because the children & sucklings haue swoone in the streets of the citie.

12 They haue sayde to their mothers, Where is he bread and drinke? when they swooned, as the wounded in the streets of the citie, and when they gaue up the ghost in their mothers bosome.

13 What thing shall I take to witnesse for thee? What thing shall I compare to thee, O daughter Ierusalem, what shall I liken to thee, that I may comfort thee, O virgine daughter Zion? for thy breach is great like the sea: who can heale thee?

14 The prophets haue looked out vaine and foolish things for thee, and they haue not discerned thine iniquitie, to come away thy captiuitie, but haue looked out for thee false prophecies, and causes of banishment.

15 All that passe by the way, clappe their handes at thee: they hisse and wagge their head upon the daughter Ierusalem, saying, Is this the citie that men call, The perfection of beautie, and the ioy of the whole earth?

16 All thine enemies haue opened their mouth against thee: they hisse and gnash their teeth, saying, Let vs deuoure it: certainly this is the day that we looked for: wee haue found and seene it.

17 The Lord hath done that which hee had purposed: he hath fulfilled his word that hee had determined of olde time: he hath shewen downe, and not spared: hee hath caused thine enemy to reioyce ouer thee, and set vp the home of thine aduersaries.

18 Their heart cried vnto the Lord, O wall of the daughter Zion, let teares runne downe like a riuier, day and night: take thee no rest, neither let the apple of thine eye cease.

19 Arise, crye in the night: in the beginning of the watches powre out thine heart like water before the face of the Lord: lift thy thinge hands toward him for the life of the young children, that saue for hunger in the corners of all the streets.

20 Behold, O Lord, & consider to whom thou hast done thus: shall the women care their fruit, and children of a Spanne long? shall the Priest and the Prophet be slaine in the Sanctuary of the Lord?

21 The young & the old lie on the ground in the streets: my virgins and my young men are fallen by the sword: thou hast slaine them in the day of thy wrath: thou hast ruled and not spared.

22 Thou hast called as in a solemn day my teares round about, so that in the day of the Lords wrath none escaped nor remained: those that I haue nourished & brought vp, hath mine enemy consumed.

CHAP. III.

1 Am the man that hath seene affliction in the rod of his indignation.

2 He hath led me, and brought mee into darknesse, but not to light.

3 Surely hee is turned against mee: hee turneth his hand against me all the day.

4 My flesh and my skin hath bee caused to ware off, and he hath broken my bones.

5 Hee hath builded against mee, and compassed me with gall and labour.

6 He hath set me in darke places, as they that be dead for euer.

7 Hee hath hedged about mee, that I cannot get out: hee hath made my chaines heauie.

8 Also when I crye and shout, hee heareth not my prayer.

9 Hee hath stopped by my wayes with between stones, and turned away my paths.

10 Hee was vnto me as a beare lying in wait, and as a lion in secret places.

11 Hee hath stopped by my wayes, and pulled me in pieces: hee hath made me desolate.

12 Hee hath bent his bowe, and made me a marke for the arrow.

13 Hee caused the arrowes of his quiver to enter into my reins.

14 It was a detision to all my people, and their song all the day.

15 He hath filled me with bitterness, and made me drunken with wormewood.

16 Hee hath also broken my teeth with stones, and hath covered me with ashes.

17 Thus my soule was farre off from peace: I forgate prosperitie.

18 And I said: My strength and mine hope is perished from the Lord.

19 Remembering mine affliction, and my mourning, the wormewood and the gall.

20 My soule hath them in remembrance, and is humbled in me.

21 I consider this in mine heart: therefore haue I hope.

22 It is the Lords mercies that we are not consumed, because his compassions faile not.

23 They are renewed euery morning: great is thy faithfullnesse.

24 The Lord is my portion, saith my soule: therefore will I hope in him.

25 The Lord is good vnto them, that trust in him.

27 Hee shall be a Father to the fatherlesse, and a Father to them that are forsaken.

a The Prophet complained of the punishments and afflictions that he endured by the false prophets and hypocrites, when he declared the destruction of Ierusalem, as 1er. 20. 2 b Hee speaketh this as one that felt Gods heauie iudgements, which hee greatly feared, and therefore fettereth them out with this diuersion of words.

30 He stretcheth his cheeke to him that smiteth him: he is filled full with reproches.

31 For the Lord will not forsake for ever.

32 But though he send affliction yet will he have compassion according to the multitude of his mercies.

33 For hee doeth not punish willingly, nor afflict the children of men, 53 They haue shut by my life in the dungeon, and cast a stone vpon me.

54 Waters flowed ouer mine head, then thought I, I am destroyed.

55 I called vpon thy Name, O Lord, out of the low dungeon.

56 Thou hast heard my voyce: stay not thine eare from my sigh, and from my crie.

57 Thou dweldest nere in the day that I called vpon thee: thou hastd. feare not.

58 O Lord, thou hast maintained the cause of my soule, & hast redeemed my life.

59 O Lord, thou hast seene my wrong, iudge thou my cause.

60 Thou hast seene all their vngance, and all their deuises against me.

61 Thou hast heard their reproch, O Lord, and all their imaginacions against mee:

62 The lips also of those that tole against me, and their whispering against mee continually.

63 Behold their sitting downe and their rising vp, how I am their song.

64 O God, giue me a recompense, O Lord, according to the worke of their hands.

65 Giue them sorrow of heart, euen thy eule to them.

66 Persecute with wrath and destroy them from vnder the heauen, O Lord.

CHAP. IIII.

How is the golde become so dimme! the most fine golde is changed, and the stones of the Sanctuary are scattered in the corner of euery streete.

2 The noble men of Zion comparable to fine gold, how are they esteemed as earthen pitchers, euen the worke of the hands of the potter!

3 Euen the dragons drawe out the breasts, and giue sucke to their yong, but the daughter of my people is become cruell like the ostriches in the wide rnesse.

4 The tongue of the sucking child cleaueth to the rooffe of his mouth for thirst: the yong children aske bread, but no man breaketh it vnto them.

5 They that did feede delicately, perishe in the streets: they that were brought by in scarlet, embrace the dung.

6 For the iniquity of the daughter of my people is become greater then the sinne of Sodome, that was destroyed as in a moment, and none pitched campes against her.

7 Her Nazarites were purer then the snowe, and whiter then the milke: they were more ruddy in body, then the red precious stones: they were like polished saphire.

8 Nowe their visage is blacker then a cole: they cannot know them in the streets: their skinne cleaueth to their bones: it is withered like a stocke.

9 They that be flaine with the sword, are better then they that are killed with hunger: for they fade away as they were stricken through for the fruits of the field.

10 The hands of the pitifull women haue sodden their own children, which were their meate in the destruction of the daughter of my people.

11 The Lord hath accomplished his indignation: hee hath powred out his fierce wrath, he hath kindled a fire in Zion, which hath deuoured the foundations thereof.

12 The kings of the earth, and all the inhabitants of the world would not haue believed that the aduersarye of the enemy should haue entered into the gates of Ierusalem:

m He sheweth that we can neuer begin too timely to be exercised vnder the crosse. that when the afflictions growe greater, our patience also by experience may be stronger. n He murmureth not against God, but is patient. o He humbleth himselfe as they that fall downe with their face to the ground, and so with patience waiteth for succour. p He taketh no pleasure in it, but doth it for necessitie for our amendement, when he suffereth the wicked to oppresse the poore. q He doth not delight therein. r He sheweth that nothing is done without Gods prouidence. s That is, auersity, and prosperity. t When God afflicteth him. u That is, both hearts & hands: for esse to lift vp the hands is but hypocrisie. x I am ouercome with fire weeping for all my people. y Reade Ierem. 37. 16. how hee was in the myric dungeon. z Meaning, the cause wherefore his life was in danger.

n This is spoken by derision.

||Or, shew thy nakednesse. o He comforteth the Church by that after seuentie yeeres their sorowes shall haue an end, whereas the wicked should be tormented for euer.

14 They haue wandered as blind men in the streets, and they were polluted with blood, so that they would not touch their garments.

15 But they cried vnto them, Depart yee polluted, depart, depart, touch not: therefore they fled away, and wandered: they haue said among the heathen, They shall no more dwell there.

16 The i anger of the Lord hath scattered them, hee will no more regard them: k they reuerenced not the face of the Priestes, nor had compassion of the Elders.

17 Whiles we waited for our vaine help, our eyes failed: for in our waiting wee looked for a nation that could not saue vs.

18 They hunt our steps that we cannot goe in our streets: our ende is nere, our dayes are fulfilled, for our end is come.

19 Our persecuters are swifter then the eagles of the heauen: they pursued vs vpon the mountaines, and said waite for vs in the wilderness.

20 The m breath of our nostrils, the Anointed of the Lord was taken in their nets, of whom wee sayde, Under his shadowe wee shall be preserved aliuie among the heathen.

21 Reioyce and be glad, D daughter Edom, that dwellest in the land of Uz, the cup also shall passe through vnto thee: thou shalt be drunke and vomit.

22 Thy punishment is accomplished, D daughter Zion: hee ° will no more cary thee away into captiuitie, but hee will visite thine iniquitie, D daughter Edom, hee will discover thy sinnes:

Ezekiel.

THE ARGUMENT.

AFTER that Ichoiachin by the counsell of Ieremih and Ezekiel had yeelde himselfe to Nebuchadnezzar, and so went into captiuitie with his mother and diuers of his princes and of the people, certayne began to repent and murmure that they had obeyed the Prophets counsell, as though the thing which they had prophesied should not come to passe, and therefore their estate should bee still miserable vnder the Caldeans. By reason whereof hee confirmeth his former prophesies, declaring by new visions and reuelations shewed vnto him, that the citie should most certainly be destroyed, and the people grieuouly tormented by Gods plagues, in so much that they that remained, should be brought into cruell bondage. And lest the godly should despaire in these great troubles, hee assureth them that God wil deliuer his Church at his time appointed, and also destroy their enemies which either assisted them, or reioyced in their miseries. The effect of the one and the other should chiefly be performed vnder Christ, of whom in this Booke are many notable promises, and in whom the glory of the new Temple should perfectly be restored. He prophesied these things in Caldea, at the same time that Ieremiah prophesied in Iudah, and there began in the fift yeere of Ichoiachins captiuitie.

CHAP. I.

1 The time wherein Ezekiel prophesied, and in what place. 3 His kinred. 5 The vision of the four beasts. 26 The vision of the throne.

ECAME to passe in the thirtieth yeere in the fourth moneth, and in the sixt day of the moneth (as I was among the captiues by the riuer Chebar) that the heauens were opened, and I saw visions of God.

2 In the sixt day of the moneth (which was the sixt yeere of king Ioiachins captiuitie)

3 The word of the Lord came vnto Ezekiel the Priest, the Sonne of Buzi, in the land of the Caldians, by the riuer Chebar, where the 4 hande of the Lorde was vpon him.

4 And I looked, and behold, a white-lynne came out of the North, a great cloude and a fire wrapped about it, and a brightnesse was about it, and in the mids thereof, to wit, in the mids of the fire came out as the likenesse of amber.

5 Als out of the mids thereof came the likenesse of foure beastes, and this was their forme: they had the appearance of a man.

6 And euery one had foure faces, and euery one had foure wings.

7 And their feete were straight feete, and the sole of their feete was like the sole of a calves foote, and they sparkled like the appearance of bright brasse.

8 And the hands of a man came out from vnder their wings in the foure parts of them, and they foure had their faces, and their wings.

9 They were ioyned by their wings one to another, and when they went forth, they returned not, but euery one went straight forward.

10 And the similitude of their faces was as the face of man: and they foure had the face of a lion on the right side, and they foure had the face of a bullocke on the left side: they foure also had the face of an eagle.

11 Thus were their faces: two wings of euery one were ioyned one to another, and two covered their bodies.

12 And euery one went straight forward: they went whither their spirit led them, and they returned not when they went forth.

13 The similitude also of the beasts, and their appearance was like burning coales of fire, and like the appearance of lampes: for the fire rane among the beastes, and the fire gaue a glister, and out of the fire there went lightning.

14 And the beasts ranne, and returned like vnto lightning.

15 Now as I beheld the beastes, beholde, a wheele appeared vpon the earth by the beastes, hauing foure faces.

16 The fashion of the wheeles and their worke was like vnto a chrysolite: and they foure had one forme, and their fashion, and their worke was as one wheele in another wheele.

17 When they went, they went vpon their foure sides, and they returned not when they went.

18 They had also rings, and height, and were fearefull to behold, and their rings were full of eyes, round about them foure.

19 And when the beastes went, the wheeles went with them: when the beastes were lifted vp from the earth, the wheeles were lifted vp.

20 Whither their spirit led them, they went, & whither did the spirit of the wheeles leade them, and the wheeles were lifted vp besides them: for the spirit of the beastes was in the wheeles.

21 When the beastes went, they went, and when they stood, they stood, and when they were lifted vp from the earth, the wheeles were lifted vp besides them: for the spirit of the beastes was in the wheeles.

22 And the similitude of the firmament vpon the heads of the beastes was wonderfull, like vnto chrystall, spread ouer their heads about.

23 And vnder the firmament were their wings straight, the one toward the other: euery one had two, which covered them, and euery one had two which covered their bodies.

24 And when they went forth, I heard the noise of their wings, like the noise of great waters, and as the voyce of the Almighty, euen the voyce of speech, as the noise of an hoste: and when they stood, they let downe their wings.

25 And there was a voyce from the firmament that was ouer their heads, when they stood, and had let downe their wings.

26 And about the firmament that was ouer their heads, was the fashion of a throne like vnto a sapphire stone, and vpon the similitude of the throne was by appearance, as the similitude of a man about vpon it.

27 And I sawe as the appearance of amber, and as the similitude of fire round about within it to looke to, euen from his loynes vpwarde: and to looke to, euen from his loynes downewarde, I sawe as a likenesse of fire, and brightnesse round about it.

28 As the likenesse of the bowe, that is in the cloude in the day of raine, so was the appearance of the light round about.

29 This was the appearance of the similitude of the glory of the Lord: and when I saw it, I fell vpon my face, and I heard a voyce of one that spake.

2 And the spirit entred into me, when he had spoken vnto me, and set me vpon my feete, so that I heard him that spake vnto me.

4 For they are a impudent children, and stiffe hearted: I do send thee vnto them, and thou shalt say vnto them, Thus saith the Lord God.

5 But surely they will not heare, neither indeede will they cease: for they are a rebellious house: yet shall they know that there hath been a Prophet among them.

6 And thou sonne of man, cease them not, neither bee afraid of their wordes, although rebels, and thornes bee with thee, and thou remainest with scorpions: feare not their wordes, nor be afrayd at their lookes, for they are a rebellious house.

7 Therefore thou shalt speake my wordes vnto them: but surely they will not heare, neither will they indeede cease: for they are rebellious.

8 But thou sonne of man, heare what I say vnto thee: bee not thou rebellious, like this rebellious house: open thy mouth, and I shall give thee.

9 And when I looked vp, beholde, an hand was sent vnto me, and loe, a roule of a booke was therein.

10 And he spread it before me, and it was written within and without, and there was written therein, Lamentations, and mourning, and woe.

CHAP. III.

1 The Prophet being sed with the word of God, and with the constant boldness of the Spirit, is sent vnto the people that were in captiuitie. 17 The office of true ministers.

Mouer he layd vnto mee, Sonne of man, eate that thou findest: eate this roule. and goe, and speake vnto the house of Israel.

2 So I opened my mouth, and hee gaue me this roule to eate.

3 And he sayd vnto me, Sonne of man, cause thy belly to eate, and fill thy bowels with this roule that I giue thee. Then did I eate it, and it was in my mouth as sweete as hony.

4 And he sayd vnto me, Sonne of man, go, and enter into the house of Israel, and declare them my wordes.

5 For thou art not sent to a people of an vnknown tongue, or of an hard language, but to the house of Israel:

6 Not to many people of an vnknown tongue, or of an hard language, whose words thou canst not vnderstand: verie I should send thee to them, they would obey thee.

7 But the house of Israel will not obey thee: for they will not obey mee: yea, all the house of Israel are impudent and stiffe hearted.

8 Behold, I haue made thy face strong against their faces, and thy forehead hard against their foreheades.

9 I haue made thy forehead as the adamant, and harder then the flint: feare them not therefore, neither bee afrayd at their lookes: for they are a rebellious house.

10 He sayd moreover vnto me, Sonne of man, receive in thine heart all my wordes that I speake vnto thee, and heare them with thine eares, 11 And goe and enter to them that are led away captiues, vnto the children of thy people, and speake vnto them, I tell them, Thus saith the Lord God: but surely they will not heare, neither will they indeede cease.

12 When the spirit tooke me by, and I heard behind me a noyse of a great rushing, saying, Blessed be the glory of the Lord out of his place.

13 I heard also the noyse of the wings of the beastes, that touched one another, and the rattling of the wheeles that were by them, euen a noyse of a great ruinting.

14 So the spirit lift me vp, and tooke me away, and I went in bitterness, and indignation of my spirit, but the hand of the Lord was strong vpon me.

15 Then I came to them that were led away captiues, to Tel-abib, that dwelt by the river Chebar, and I sat where they sat, and remained there astonishd among them s seuen dayes.

16 And at the ende of seuen dayes, the wordes of the Lord came againe vnto mee, saying, 17 Sonne of man, I haue made thee a watchman vnto the house of Israel: therefore heare the word at my mouth, and giue them warning from me.

18 When I shall say vnto the wicked, Thou shalt surely die, and thou giuest not him warning, nor speakest to admonish the wicked of his wicked way, that he may liue, the same wicked man shall die in his iniquitie: but his blood will I requite at thine hand.

19 Yet if thou warne the wicked, and hee turne not from his wickednes, nor from his wicked way, he shall die in his iniquitie, but thou shalt haue delivered thy soule.

20 Likewise if a righteous man turne from his righteousnes, and commit iniquitie, I will lay a stumbling blocke before him, and hee shall die, because thou hast not giuen him warning: hee shall die in his sinne, and his righteous deedes, which hee hath done, shall not be remembered: but his blood will I requite at thine hand.

21 Reuerse these, if thou admonish that righteous man, that the righteous sinne not, and that hee doeth not sinne, he shall liue, because he is admonishd: also thou shalt haue delivered thy soule.

1 He sheweth that Ierusalem shall be destroyed for their idolatrie. 8 He prophesith the repentance of the remnant of the people, and their deliverance.

Againe the word of the Lord came vnto me, saying,

6 In all your dwelling places the cities shall be desolate, and the high places shall be laide waste, so that your altars shall be made waste and desolate, and your idoles shall bee broken, and cease, and your images of the sinne shall be cut in pieces, and your workes shall be abolished.

7 And the haine shall fall in the mids of you, and ye shall know that I am the Lord.

8 Yet will I leaue a remnant, <sup>d</sup> that you may haue some that shall escape the sword among the nations, when you shall be scattered thorow the countreyes.

9 And they that escape of you shall remember me among the nations, where they shall bee in captiuitie, because I am grieved for their whorish hearts, which haue departed from me, and for their eyes, which haue gone a whoring after their idoles, and they shall be displeas'd in themselues for the euils which they haue committed in all their abominations.

10 And they shall know that I am the Lord, and that I haue not said in vaine, that I would doe this euill vnto them.

11 Thus saith the Lord God, <sup>e</sup> Smite with thine hand, and stretch forth with thy foot, and say, Alas, for all the wicked abominations of the house of Israel: for they shall fall by the sword, by the famine, and by the pestilence.

12 Ye that is farre off, shall die of the pestilence, and he that is neere, shall fall by the sword, and hee that remaineth and is besieged, shall die by the famine: thus will I accomplish my wrath vpon them.

13 Then shall ye know, that I am the Lord, when their haine men shall be among their idoles round about their altars, vpon every hit hill in all the toppes of the mountaines, and vnder every greene tree, and vnder every thicke oke, which is the place where they did offer sweet savour to all their idoles.

14 So will I stretch mine hand vpon them, and make the land waste, and desolate <sup>f</sup> from the wilderness vnto Diblath in all their habitations, and they shall know, that I am the Lord.

2 Also thou sonne of man, thus saith the Lord God, An end is come vnto the land of Israel: the end is come vpon the four corners of the land.

3 Now is the end come vpon thee, and I will send my wrath vpon thee, and wil iudge thee according to thy wayes, and will lay vpon thee all thyne abominations.

4 Neither shall mine eye spare thee, neither will I haue pittie: but I will lay thy wayes vpon thee: and thine abomination shall be in the mids of thee, and ye shall know that I am the Lord.

5 Thus sayth the Lord God, Behold, one euill, euen one euill is come.

6 An end is come, the end is come, it is watched for thee: behold, it is come.

7 The morning is come vnto thee, that dwellest in the land: the time is come, the day of trouble is nere, & not the sounding againe of the mountaines.

8 Now I will horribly powze out my wrath vpon thee, and fulfill mine anger vpon thee: I will iudge thee according to thy wayes, and will lay vpon thee all thine abominations.

9 Neither shall mine eye spare thee, neither will I haue pittie, but I will lay vpon thee according to thy wayes, and thine abominations shall be in the mids of thee, and ye shall know that I am the Lord that visiteth.

10 Behold, the day, behold, it is come: the morning is gone forth, the rod flourisheth: spide hath budded.

11 Cruelty is risen vp into a rod of wickednesse: none of them shall remaine, nor of their riches, nor of any of theirs, neither shall there be lamentation for them.

12 The time is come, the day draweth nere, let not the buyer reioyce, nor let him that selleth, mourn: for the wrath is vpon all the multitude thereof.

13 For hee that selleth, shall not returne to that which is sold, although they were yet alive: for the vision was vnto all the multitude thereof, & they returned not, neither doeth any encourage himselfe in the punishment of his life.

14 They haue blown the trumpet, and prepared all, but none goeth to the battell: for my wrath is vpon all the multitude thereof.

15 The sword is without, and the pestilence and the famine within: hee that is in the field, shall die with the sword, and he that is in the cite, famine and pestilence shall deuoure him.

16 But they that flee away from them, shall escape, and shall be in the mountaines, like the doues of the valleys: all they shall mourne, euery one for his iniquitie.

17 All hands shall be weak, and all knees shall fall away as water.

18 They shall also gird themselves with sackcloth, and feare shall couer them, and heart to repent for his euill life. Some read, for none shall be strengthened in his iniquitie of his life: meaning, that they should gaue nothing by flatterring themselves in euill. o The Israhelites made a bragge, but their hearts failed them. Isa. 13.7. ier. 6.24. Isa. 15.3. ier. 48.37.

same shall bee vpon all faces, and baldnesse vpon their heads.

19 They shall cast their silver in y streetes, and their gold shall bee cast farre off: their silver and their golde cannot deliuer them in the day of the wrath of the Lord: they shall not satisfie their soules, neither fill their bowels: for this ruine is for their iniquitie.

20 He had also set the beauty of his ornament in maiestic: but they made images of their abominations, and of their idoles therein: therefore haue I set it farre from them.

21 And I will giue it into the hands of the strangers to be spoiled, and to the wicked of the earth to be robbed, and they shall pollute it.

22 My face will I turne also from them, and they shall pollute my secret place: for the destroyers shall enter into it, & defile it.

23 Make a chaine: for the land is full of the iudgement of blood, and the cities full of cruelty.

24 Therefore I will bring the most wicked of the heathen, & they shall possesse their houses: I will also make the poyse of the mighty to cease, and their holy places shall be defiled.

25 When destruction cometh, they shall seeke peace, and shall not haue it.

26 Calamitie shall come vpon calamitie, and rumour shall be vpon rumour: then shall they seeke a vision of the Prophet: but the Law shall perish from the Priest, and counsell from the Ancient.

27 The king shall mourne, and the prince shall be clothed with desolation, & the hands of the people in the land shall be troubled: I will do vnto them according to their wayes, and according to their iudgements will I iudge them, and they shall know that I am the Lord.

CHAP. VIII.

1 An appearance of the similitude of God. 3 Ezekiel is brought to Ierusalem in the Spirit. 6 The Lord sheweth the Prophet the idolatres of the house of Israel.

And in the sixth day of the month, as I sat in mine house, and the Elders of Iudah sat before me, the hand of the Lord God fell there vpon mee.

2 Then I beheld, and loe, there was a likeness, as the appearance of fire to looke to, from his loynes downward, and from his loynes vpyard, as the appearance of brightness, and like vnto amber.

3 And hee stretched out the likeness of an hand, & tooke mee by an haire Locke of mine head, and the Spirit lift mee vpbetweene the earth, and the heauen, and brought mee by a Diuine vision to Ierusalem, into the entrie of the inner gate that lieth toward the North, where remained the idole of indignation, which prouoked indignation.

4 And behold, the glory of the God of Israel was there according to the vision, that I saw in the field.

6 He sayd farthermore vnto me, Sonne of man, seest thou not what they doe? euen the great abominations that the house of Israel committeth here to cause me to depart from my Sanctuarie: but yet turne thee & thou shalt see greater abominations.

7 And he caused me to enter at the gate of the court: and when I looked, behold, an hole was in the wall.

8 Then said he vnto me, Sonne of man, dig now in the wall. And when I had digged in the wall, behold, there was a doore, 9 And he sayd vnto mee, See in, and behold the wicked abominations that they doe here.

10 So I went in, and saw, and beholde, there was euery similitude of creeping things and abominable beasts, and all the idoles of the house of Israel painted vpon the wall round about.

11 And there stood before them seuentie men of the Ancients of the house of Israel, and in the mids of them stood Azaanah, the sonne of Shaphan, with euery man his cenfer in his hand, and the vapour of the incense went vp like a cloud.

12 Then said he vnto me, Sonne of man, hast thou seene what the Ancients of the house of Israel doe in the darke, euery one in the chamber of his imagery? for they say, The Lord seeth vs not, the Lord hath forsaken the earth.

13 Againe hee said also vnto mee, Turne thee againe, & thou shalt see greater abominations that they doe.

14 And he caused me to enter into the entrie of the gate of the Lords house, which was toward the North: and behold, there sate women mourning for Tammuz.

15 Then said he vnto me, Vast thou seene this, O sonne of man? Turne thee againe, and thou shalt see greater abominations then these.

16 And he caused me to enter into the inner court of the Lords house, & behold, at the doore of the Temple of the Lord, betwene the porch and the altar were about fise and twentie men with their backs toward the Temple of the Lord, and their faces toward the East, and they worshipped the sunne toward the East.

17 Then he said vnto me, Vast thou seene this, O sonne of man? Is it a small thing to the house of Iudah to commit these abominations which they doe here? for they haue filled the land with cruelty, and haue returned to prouoke me: and lo, they haue cast out P stinke before their noses.

18 Therefore wil I also execute my wrath; mine eye shall not spare them, neither will I haue pittie, and though they cry in mine eares with a loud voyce, yet will I not heare them.

1 The destruction of the city. 4 They that shall be saved, are marked. 8 A complaint of the Prophet for the destruction of the people.

He crept also with a loud voyce in mine eares, saying, The visitations of the citie draw neere, and euery man hath a weapon in his hand to destroy it.

2 And behold, fire men came by the way of the hie gate, which lieth toward the North, and euery man a weapon in his hand to destroy it: and one man among them was clothed with linnen, with a writers inkhorne by his side, and they went in and stood beside the brazen altar.

3 And the glory of the God of Israel was gone vp from the Cherub, whereupon hee was, and stood on the i doore of the house, and he called to the man clothed with linnen, which had the writers inkhorne by his side.

4 And the Lord sayd vnto him, Goe through the mids of the citie, euen through the mids of Ierusalem, and set a marke vpon the foreheads of them that mourne, and cry for all the abominations that be done in the mids thereof.

5 And to the other he sayd, that I might heare, So ye after him through the citie, and smite: let your eye spare none, neither haue pittie.

6 Destroy utterly the old, and the young, and the maids, and the children, and the women, but touch no man vpon whom is the s marke, and begin at my Sanctuarie. Then they began at the Ancient men, which were before the house.

7 And he said vnto them, Defile y house and fill the courts with the staine, then goe forth: and they went out, and slew them in the citie.

8 Now when they had slaine them, and I had escaped, I fell downe vpon my face, and crept, saying, Oh Lord God, wilt thou destroy all the residue of Israel, in powring out thy wrath vpon Ierusalem?

9 Then said hee vnto me, The iniquitie of the house of Israel, and Iudah is exceeding great, so that the land is full of blood, and the citie full of corruption iudgement: for they say, The Lord hath forsaken the earth, and the Lord seeth vs not.

10 As touching me also, mine eye shall not spare them, neither will I haue pittie, but will recompense their wayes vpon their heads.

11 And behold, the man clothed with linnen which had the inkhorne by his side, made report, and said, Lord, I haue done as thou hast commanded me.

As as I looked, beholde, in the firmament that was about the heade of the Cherubims, there appeared vpon them like vnto the similitude of a throne, as it were a Saphir stone.

2 And hee spake vnto the man clothed with linnen, and sayd, See in betwene the wheeles, euen vnder the Cherub, & fill thine hands with coales of fire from betwene the Cherubims, and scatter them ouer the city. And he went in in my sight.

3 Nowe the Cherubims stood vpon the right side of the house when the man went in, and the cloud filled the inner Court.

4 Then the glory of the Lord came vnto the Cherub, & stood ouer the doore of the house, and the house was filled with the cloud, & the court was filled with the brightness of the Lords glory.

5 And the sound of the Cherubims wings was heard into the vtter court, as the voice of the Almighty God when he speaketh.

6 And when hee had commaunded the man clothed with linnen, saying, Take fire from betwene the wheeles, and from betwene the Cherubims, then he went in and stood beside the wheele.

7 And one Cherub stretched forth his hande from betwene the Cherubims vnto the fire, that was betwene the Cherubims, and tooke thereof, and put it into the handis of him that was clothed with linnen: who tooke it and went out.

8 And there appeared in the Cherubims, the likenesse of a mans hande vnder their wings.

9 And when I looked vp, beholde, foure wheeles were beside the Cherubims, one wheele by one Cherub, & another wheele by another Cherub, and the appearance of the wheeles was as the colour of a Chrysolite stone.

10 And their appearance (for they were all foure of one fashion) was as if one wheele had bene in another wheele.

11 When they went forth, they went vpon their foure sides, and they returned not as they went: but to the place whither the first went, they went after it, and they turned not as they went.

12 And their whole body, & their rings, and their handes and their wings, and the wheeles were full of eyes round about, euen in the same foure wheeles.

13 And the Cherub cried to these wheeles in mine hearing, laying, O wheele.

14 And euery beak had foure faces: the first face was the face of a Cherub, and the second face was the face of a man, & the third the face of a lyon, and the fourth the face of an Eagle.

15 And the Cherubims were lifted vp: this is the beast that I sawe at the riuer Chebar.

16 And when the Cherubims went, the wheeles went by them: and when the Cherubims lift vp their wings to mount vp from the earth, the same wheeles also turned not from beside them.

17 When the Cherubims stood, they stood: and when they were lifted vp, they lifted themselves by also: for the spirit of the beast was in them.

18 Then the glory of the Lord departed from aboue the doore of the house, and stood vpon the Cherubims.

19 And the Cherubims lift by their wings, & mounted vp from the earth in my sight: when they went out, the wheeles also were beside them: and euery one stood at the entry of the gate of the Lodes house, at the East side, and the glory of the God of Israel was vpon them on high.

20 This is the beast that I sawe vnder the God of Israel by the riuer Chebar, and I knowe that they were the Cherubims.

21 Euery one had foure faces, and euery one foure wings, and the likenesse of mans handes was vnder their wings.

22 And the likenesse of their faces was the selfe same faces, which I saw by the riuer Chebar, and the appearance of the Cherubims was the selfe same, & they went euery one straight forward.

CHAP. XI.

1 Who they were that seduced the people of Israel. 5 Against these he prophesieth, shewing the how they shall be dispersed abroad. 19 The renewing of the heart cometh of God. 21 He threatneth them that lease vnto their owne counsels.

M brought me vnto the East gate of the Lords house, which lyeth Eastward, and beholde, at the entry of the gate were fine and twenty men: among whome I sawe Jaasaniah the sonne of Azur, and Pelatiah the sonne of Wenath, the princes of the people.

2 Then sayd he vnto me, Sonne of man, these are the men that imagine mischief, and deuite wicked counsell in this city.

3 For they say, It is not necesse, let vs build houses: this cite is the caldron, and we be the flesh.

4 Therefore prophesie against them, son of man, prophesie.

5 And the Spirit of the Lorde fell vpon me, and sayd vnto me, Speake, Thus sayth the Lord, O ye house of Israel, this haue ye sayde, and I knowe that which riseth vp of your mindes.

6 Many haue ye murdered in this city, and ye haue filled the streetes thereof with the flaine.

7 Therefore thus sayth the Lorde God, They that ye haue slaine, and haue layed in the middes of it, they are the flesh, and this city is the caldron, but I will bring you forth of the mids of it.

8 Ye haue feared the sword, and I will bring a sword vpon you, saith the Lord God, 9 And I will bring you out of the mids thereof, and deliuer you into the hands of strangers, and will execute iudgements among you.

10 Ye shall fall by the sword, and I will indge you in the border of Israel, and ye shall know that I am the Lord.

d That is, of the Caldeans.

12 And ye shall know that I am the Lord: for ye have not walked in my statutes, neither executed my iudgements, but have done after the maners of the heathen, that are round about you.

13 ¶ And when I prophesied, Delattiah the sonne of Benaiiah died: then fell I downe vpon my face, and cryed with a loud voyce, and sayde, Ah Lord God, wilt thou then utterly destroy all the remnant of Israel?

14 Againe the word of the Lord came vnto me, saying,

15 Some of man, thy brethren, euen thy brethren, the men of thy kindred, and all the house of Israel, wholly are they vnto whom the inhabitants of Ierusalem haue sayde, Depart ye farre from the Lord: for the land is giuen vs in possession.

16 Therefore say, Thus sayeth the Lord God, Although I haue cast them farre off among the heathen, & although I haue scattered them among the countries, yet will I be to them as a little Sanctuary in the countreyes where they shall come.

17 Therefore say, Thus sayth the Lord God, I will gather you againe from the people, and assemblen you out of the countreyes where ye haue bin scattered, and I will giue you the land of Israel.

18 And they shall come thither, and they shall take away at the idoles thereof, and all the abominations thereof from thence.

19 ¶ And I will giue them one heart, and I will put a new spirit within their bowels: and I will take the stony heart out of their bodies, and I will giue them an heart of flesh, 20 That they may walke in my statutes, and keepe my iudgements, & execute them: and they shall bee my people, and I will bee their God.

21 But vpon them whose heart is toward their idoles, & whose affection goeth after their abominations, I will lay their way vpon their owne heads, sayth the Lord God.

22 ¶ Then did the Cherubims lift vp their wings, and the wheeles besides them, and the glory of the God of Israel was vpon them on yve.

23 And the glory of the Lord went by from the mids of the citie, and stood vpon the mountayne which is toward the East side of the city.

24 Afterward the Spirit tooke mee by, and brought me in a vision by the Spirit of God into Caldea to them that were led away captiues: so the vision that I had seene, went by from me.

25 Then I declared vnto them that were led away captiues, all the things that the Lord had shewed me.

CHAP. XII.

1 The parable of the captiuitie. 18 Another parable whereby the distress of hunger and thirst is signified.

The word of the Lord also came vnto me, saying,

2 Sonne of man, thou dwellest in the mids of a rebellious house, which haue eyes to see, and see: not: they haue eares to heare, & heare not: for they are a rebellious house.

3 Therefore thou sonne of man, prepare thy stuffe to go into captiuitie, & go fourth by day in their sight: and thou shalt passe from thy place to another place in their sight, if it be possible that they may consider it: for they are a rebellious house.

4 Then shalt thou bring forth thy stuffe by day in their sight as the stuffe of him that goeth into captiuitie: and thou shalt go fourth at euen in their sight, as they that goe fourth into captiuitie.

5 Digge thou through the wall in their sight, and carry out thereby.

6 In their sight shalt thou beate it vpon thy shoulders, & carry it fourth in the darke: thou shalt couer thy face that thou see not the earth: for I haue set thee as a signe vnto the house of Israel.

7 And as I was commanded, so I brought forth my stuffe by day, as y stuffe of one that goeth into captiuitie: and by night I digged through the wall with mine hand, & brought it fourth in the darke, and I bare it vpon my shoulder in their sight.

8 And in the morning came the word of the Lord vnto me, saying,

9 Some of man, hath not the house of Israel, the rebellious house, layd vnto thee, What doest thou?

10 But say thou vnto them, Thus sayeth the Lord God, This burden concerneth the chiefe in Ierusalem, and all the house of Israel, that are among them.

11 Say, I am your signe: like as I haue done, so shall it be done vnto them, they shall go into bondage and captiuitie.

12 And the chiefe that is among them, shall beate vpon his shoulder in the darke and shall go fourth: they shall dig through the wall, to carrie out thereby: hee shall couer his face, that he see not the ground with his eyes.

13 By net also will I spread vpon him, and he shall be taken in my net, and I will bring him to Babel to the land of the Caldeans, yet shall he not see it, though he shall die there.

14 And I will scatter toward enery wind all that are about him to helpe him, and all his garlions, and I will draw out the sword after them.

15 And they shall knowe that I am the Lord, when I shall scatter them among the nations, and disperse them in the countreyes.

16 But I will leaue a little number of them from the sword, from the famine, and from the pestilence, that they may declare all these abominations among the heathen, where they come, and they shall know, that I am the Lord.

17 ¶ Moreover, the word of the Lord came vnto mee, saying,

18 Some of man, eate thy bread with trembling, and drinke thy water with trouble, and with carefullnesse, 19 And lay vnto the people of the land, Thus sayeth the Lord God of the inhabitants of Ierusalem, and of the land of Israel, They shall eate their bread with care.

a That is, they receiue not the fruite of that which they see and heare, & Ebr. make the vessels to goe into captiuitie.

b That as thou doest, so shall they doe, and therefore in thee they shall see their owne plague and punishment.

c Doe not they deride thy doings? || Or, prophesie.

carefulnesse, and drinke their water with desolation: for the land shall be desolate from her abundance, because of the crueltie of them that dwell therein.

20 And the cities that are inhabited, shall be left voyde, and the land shall be desolate, and ye shall know that I am the Lord.

21 ¶ And the word of the Lord came vnto me, saying,

22 Sonne of man, what is that prouerbe that thou haue in the land of Israel, saying, The dayes are prolonged, and all visions shall faile?

23 Tell them therefore, Thus sayeth the Lord God, I will make this prouerbe to cease, and they shall no more vse it as a prouerbe in Israel: but say vnto them, The dayes are at hand, and the effect of every vision.

24 For so vision shall bee any more in vaine, neither shall there be any flattering deuination within the house of Israel.

25 For I am the Lord: I will speake, and that thing that I shall speake, shall come to passe: it shall be no more prolonged: for in your dayes, O rebellious house, will I say the thing, & I will performe it, saith the Lord God.

26 Again the word of the Lord came vnto me, saying,

27 Sonne of man, beholde, they of the house of Israel say, The vision that he seeth is for many dayes to come, and he propheseth of the times that are farre off.

28 Therefore say vnto them, Thus sayeth the Lord God, All my words shall no longer bee delayed, but that thing which I haue spoken, shall be done, saith the Lord God.

CHAP. XIIII.

2 The word of the Lord against false prophets, which teach the people the counsels of their owne hearts.

¶ And the word of the Lord came vnto me, saying,

2 Sonne of man, prophesie against the prophets of Israel, that prophesie, and say thou vnto them, that prophesie out of their owne hearts, heare the word of the Lord.

3 Thus sayeth the Lord God, Woe vnto the foolish prophets that follow their owne spirit, and haue seene nothing.

4 O Israel, thy Prophets are like the foxes in the waste places.

5 ¶ Ye haue not risen vp in the gaps, neither made vp the hedge for the house of Israel, to stand in the battell in the day of the Lord.

6 They haue seene vanitie, and lying diuination, saying, The Lord saith it, and the Lord hath not sent them: and they haue made others to hope that they would confirme the word of their prophesie.

7 Haue ye not seene a vaine vision? and haue ye not spoken a lying diuination? yee say, The Lord saith it, albeit I haue not spoken.

8 Therefore thus saith the Lord God, Because yee haue spoken vannie, and haue seene lies, therefore behold, I am against you, saith the Lord God.

9 And mine hand shall be vpon the prophets that see vannie, and diuine lies: they shall not be in y assembly of my people, neither shall they be written in the writing of the house of Israel, neither shall they enter into the land of Israel: & ye shall know that I am the Lord God.

10 And therefore, because they haue deceiued my people, saying, Peace, and there was no peace: and one built vp as wall, and behold, the others daubed it with vntempered mortar, 11 Say vnto them which daube it with vntempered mortar, that it shall fall: for there shall come a great showre, and I will send hailstones, which shall cause it to fall, and a stormie winde shall breake it.

12 Lo, when the wall is fallen, shall it not bee sayde vnto you, Where is the daubing wherewith ye haue daubed it?

13 Therefore thus sayeth the Lord God, I will cause a stormie winde to breake forth in my wrath, and a great showre shall bee in mine anger, and hailstones in mine indignation to consume it.

14 So I will destroy the wall that yee haue daubed with vntempered mortar, and bring it downe to the ground, so that y foundation thereof shall be discovered, and it shall fall, and ye shall be consumed in the middes thereof, & ye shall know that I am the Lord.

15 Thus will I accomplish my wrath vpon the wall, and vpon them that haue daubed it with vntempered mortar, and will say vnto you, The wall is no more, neither the daubers thereof.

4 The Lord sheweth false prophets for the ingratitude of the people. 22 He referreth a small portion for his Church.

When came certaine of the Elders of Israel vnto me, and saide before me.

2 And the word of the Lord came vnto me, saying,

3 Sonne of man, these men haue set by their idoles in their heart, and put the stumbling blocke of their iniquitie before their face: should I, being required, answer them?

4 Therefore speake vnto them, and say vnto them. Thus saith the Lord God, Every man of the house of Israel that setteth by his idoles in his heart, & putteth the stumbling blocke of his iniquitie before his face, and commeth to the Prophet, I the Lord will answer him that commeth, according to the multitude of his idoles,

5 That I may take the house of Israel in their owne heart, because they are all departed from me through their idoles.

6 Therefore say vnto the house of Israel, Thus saith the Lord God, Returne, and withdraw your selues, and turne your faces from your idoles, and turne your faces from all your abominations.

7 For euery one of the house of Israel, or of the stranger that commeth in Israel, which departeth from me, and setteth by his idoles in his heart, and putteth the stumbling blocke of his iniquitie before his face, and commeth to a Prophet, for to enquire of him for mee, I the Lord will answer him for my selfe.

8 And I will set my face against that man, and will make him an example & prouerbe, and I will cut him off from the mids of my people, and yee shall know that I am the Lord.

9 And if the prophet be deceiued, when he hath spoken a thing, I the Lord haue deceiued that prophet, and I will stretch out mine hand vpon him, and will destroy him from the mids of my people of Israel.

10 And they that heare their punishment: the punishment of the prophet shall bee euen as the punishment of him that speaketh.

11 That the house of Israel may go no more astray from me, neither be polluted any more with all their transgressions, but that they may be my people, and I may be their God, saith the Lord God.

13 Sonne of man, when the land sinneth against mee by committing a trespasse, then will I stretch out mine hand vpon it, and will breake the staffe of the bread thereof, and will send famine vpon it, and I will destroy man and beast forth of it.

14 Though these thee men, i. Noah, Daniel, and Job were among them, they should deliuer but their owne soules by their righteousnesse, saith the Lord God.

20 And though Noah, Daniel and Job were in the mids of it, As I liue, saith the Lord God, they shall deliuer neither sonne nor daughter: they shall bee deliuer their owne soules by their righteousnesse.

21 For thus saith the Lord God, Howe much more when I sende my foure foze iudgements vpo Jerusalem, euen the sword, and famine, and the noylome beast, and pestilence, to destroy man and beast out of it?

22 Yet behold, therein shalbe left a remnant of them that shall be carryed away both sonnes and daughters: beholde, they shall come forth vnto you, and ye shall see their way, and their enterpryses: and yee shall bee comforted, concerning the euill that I haue brought vpon Jerusalem, euen concerning all that I haue brought vpon it.

23 And they shall comfort you. when yee see their way and their enterpryses, and yee shall know, that I haue not done without cause all that I haue done in it, saith the Lord God.

Again the word of the Lord came vnto me, saying,

2 Sonne of man, cause Ierusalem to know her abominations,

3 And say, Thus saith the Lord God vnto Ierusalem, Thine habitation & thy kindred is of the land<sup>e</sup> of Canaan; thy father was an Amoitie, and thy mother an Hittite.

4 And in thy natiuitie when thou wast borne, thy nauill was not cut: thou wast not washed in water to loose thee: thou wast not salted with salt, nor swaded in cloutes.

5 None eye pitied thee to do any of these vnto thee, for to haue compassion vpon thee, but thou wast cast out into the open field, to the contempt of thy person in the day that thou wast borne.

6 And when I passed by thee, I saue thee polluted in thine owne blood, and I said vnto thee, when thou wast in thy blood, Thou shalt liue: euen when thou wast in thy blood, I said vnto thee, Thou shalt liue.

7 I haue caused thee to multiplye, as the bud of the field, and thou hast increased and wazen great, and thou hast gotten excellent ornaments: thy breasts are fashioned, thine haine is grown, whereas thou wast naked and bare.

8 Now when I passed by thee, and looked vpon thee, beholde, thy time was as the time of loue, and I spread my skirts ouer thee, and covered<sup>d</sup> thy filthinesse: yea, I swore vnto thee, and entred into a couenant with<sup>e</sup> thee, saith the Lord God, and thou becamest mine.

9 Then washed I thee with<sup>e</sup> water: yea, I washed away thy blood from thee, and I s'ointed thee with oyle.

10 I clothed thee also with broydered worke, and shod thee with badgers skinne, and I girded thee about with fine linnen, and I covered thee with silke.

11 I decked thee also with ornaments, and I put bracelets vpon thine handes, and a chaine on thy necke.

12 And I put a frontlet vpon thy face, and earerings in thine eares, and a beautifull<sup>e</sup> crowne vpon thine head.

13 Thus wast thou deckt with gold and siluer, and thy rayment was of fine linnen and silke and broyded worke: thou diddest eate fine floure, and hony and oyle, and thou wast very beautifull, and thou diddest grow vp into a kingdome.

14 And thy name was spread among the heathen for thy beauty: for it was peritce through my<sup>e</sup> beauty which I had set vpon thee, saith the Lord God.

15 Now thou didst<sup>e</sup> trust in thine owne beauty, and playdest the harlot, because of thy renowne, and hast powdered out<sup>e</sup> thy fornications on euery one that passed by, thy desire was to him.

16 And thou diddest take thy garments, and deckedst thine high places with diuers colours, and playdest the harlot thereupon: the like things shall not come, neither hath any done so.

17 Thou hast also taken thy faire jewels made of ray gold and of my siluer, which I had giuen thee, and madest to thy selfe images of men, and diddest commit whoyedome with them,

18 And tookest thy broyded garments, and coveredst them: and thou hast set mine oyle and my perfume before thee.

19 Why meate also which I gaue thee, as fine floure, oyle and hony wherewith I fedde thee, thou hast euen let it before thee for a sweet savour: thus it was, saith y<sup>e</sup> Lord God.

20 Whoreouer, thou hast taken thy sonnes and thy daughters, whose thou hast borne vnto me, and these hast thou sacrificed vnto them, to<sup>e</sup> bee deuoured: is this thy whoyedome a small matter?

21 That thou hast slain my children, and delivered them to cause them to passe thorow fire for them, 22 And in all thine abominations and whoyedomes, thou hast not remembered the dayes of thy youth, when thou wast naked, and bare, and wast polluted in thy blood.

23 And beside all thy wickednesse, (woe, woe vnto thee, sayth the Lord God.)

24 Thou hast also built vnto thee an hie place, and hast made thee an hie place in euery street.

25 Thou hast built thine hie place at euery<sup>e</sup> corner of the way, & hast made thy beauty to be abhorred: thou hast opened thy feete to euery one that passed by, and multiplied thy whoyedome.

26 Thou hast also committed fornication with the Egyptians thy neighbours, which haue great members, and hast increased thy whoyedome to prouoke me.

27 Beholde, therefore I did stretch out mine hand ouer thee, and wil diminish thine ordinarie, and deliuer thee vnto the will of them that hate thee, euen to the<sup>e</sup> daughters of the Philistims, which are ashamed of thy wicked way.

a Thou boastest to be of the feede of Abraham, but thou art degenerated & followest the abominations of the wicked Canaanites, as children doe the manners of their fathers, Isa. 1. 4. and 57. 3.

b When I first brought thee out of Egypt, and planted thee in this land to be my Church.

c Being thus in thy filthinesse and forsaken of all men, I tooke thee and gaue thee life, whereby is meant that before God wash his Church, and giue life, there is nothing but filthinesse and death.

the Assyrians, because thou wast insatiable: yea, thou hast played the harlot with them; and yet couldst not be satisfied.

29 Thou hast moreover multiplied thy fornication from the land of Canaan unto Caldea, and yet thou wast not satisfied herewith.

30 How weak is thine heart, sayth the Lord God, seeing thou doest all these things, even the worke of a presumptuous whoresish woman?

31 In that thou buildest thine hie place in the corner of every way, and makest thine hie place in every street, and hast not bene as an harlot that despiseth a reward,

32 But as a wife that playeth the harlot, and taketh others for her husband;

33 They give gifts to all other whores, but thou givest gifts unto all thy lovers, and rewardest them, that they may come unto thee on every side for thy fornication.

34 And the contrary is in thee from other women in thy fornications, neither the like fornication shall be after thee: for in that thou givest a reward, and no reward is given unto thee, therefore thou art contrary.

35 Wherefore, O harlot, heare the word of the Lord.

36 Thus sayth the Lord God, Because thy shame was powred out, and thy filthinesse discovered through thy fornications with thy lovers, and with all the idoles of thine abominations, and by the blood of thy children, which thou diddest offer unto them, 37 Beholde, therefore I will gather all thy lovers, with whom thou hast taken pleasure, and all them that thou hast loved, with all them that thou hast hated: I will even gather them round about against thee, and will discover thy filthinesse unto them, that they may see all thy filthinesse.

38 And I will iudge thee after the manner of them that are harlots, and of them that shed blood, and will give thee the blood of wrath and ielousie.

39 I will also give thee into their hands, and they shall destroy thine hie places: they shall breake downe thine hie places: they shall stripye thee also out of thy clothes, and shall take thy faire iewels, and leaue thee naked and bare.

40 They shall also bring by a companie against thee, and they shall stone thee with stones, and thrust thee through with their swords.

41 And they shall burne by thine houses with fire, and execute iudgements vpon thee in the sight of many women: & I will cause thee to cease from playing the harlot, and thou shalt give no reward any more.

42 So will I make my wrath toward thee to rest, and my ielousie shall depart from thee, and I will cease and bee no more angry.

43 Because thou hast not remembered the dayes of thy youth, but hast provoked mee with all these things, beholde, therefore I also have brought thy way vpon thine head, sayeth the Lord God: yet hast not thou had consideration of all thine abominations.

44 Behold, all that use prouerbe, shall use this prouerbe against thee, saying, As is the mother, so is her daughter.

45 Thou art thy mothers daughter, that hath cast off her husband and her children, and thou art the sister of thy sisters, which forlooke their husbands and their children: your mother is an hitite, and your father an Amouree, 46 And thine elder sister is Samaria, and her daughters, that dwell at thy left hand, and thy younger sister, that dwelleth at thy right hand, is Sodom, & her daughters.

47 Yet hast thou not walked after their wayes, nor done after their abominations: but as it had bene a very little thing, thou wast corrupted more then they in all thy wayes.

48 As I liue, sayth the Lord God, Sodom thy sister hath not done, neither she nor her daughters, as thou hast done and thy daughters.

49 Behold, this was the iniquitie of thy sister Sodom: Pride, fulnesse of bread, and abundance of idleness was in her, and in her daughters: neither did she strengthen the hand of the poore and needie.

50 But they were haughty, and committed abomination before me: therefore I tooke them away, as I spake of them.

51 Neither hath Samaria committed halfe of thy finnes, but thou hast exceeded them in thine abominations, and hast iustified thy sisters in all thine abominations, which thou hast done.

52 Therefore thou which hast iustified thy sisters, beare thine owne shame for thy sins, that thou hast committed more abominable then they which are more righteous then thou art: be thou therefore confounded also, and beare thy shame, seeing that thou hast iustified thy sisters.

53 Therefore I will bring againe their captiuitie with the captiuitie of Sodom, and her daughters, and with the captiuitie of Samaria, and her daughters: euen the captiuitie of thy captiues in the mids of them, 54 That thou mayest beare thine owne shame, and mayest be confounded in all that thou hast done, in that thou hast comforted them.

55 And thy sister Sodom and her daughters shall returne to their former state: Samaria also and her daughters shall returne to their former state, & when thou and thy daughters shall returne to your former state.

56 For thy sister Sodom was not heard of by thy report in the day of thy pride,

And the word of the Lord came vnto me, ſaying,

2 Sonne of man, put forth a parable, and ſpeake a prouerbe vnto the houſe of Iſrael.

3 And ſay, Thus ſaith the Lord God, The great Eagle with great wings, and long wings, and full of feathers, which had diuers colours, came vnto Lebanon, and tooke the highest branch of the cedar,

4 And brake off the top of his twigge, and carried it into the land of merchants, & ſet it in a city of merchants.

5 He tooke alſo of the ſeed of the land, and planted it in a fruitful ground: he placed it by great waters, and ſet it as a willow tree.

6 And it budded vp, & was like a ſpreading vine of a lowe ſtature, whole branches turned toward it, and the roots thereof were vnder it: ſo it became a vine, and it brought forth branches, and ſhot forth buds.

7 There was alſo another great Eagle with great wings, and many feathers, & beheld, this vine did rime her roots toward it, and ſpread forth her branches toward it, that ſhee might water it by the trenches of her plantation.

8 It was planted in a good ſoyle by great waters, that it ſhould bring forth branches, and beare fruit, and be an excellent vine.

9 Say thou, Thus ſaith the Lord God, Shall it prosper? Shall he not pull by the roots thereof, and deſtroy the fruit thereof, and cauſe them to die? all the leaues of her bud ſhall wither without great power, or many people, to plucke it by by the rootes thereof.

11 Whereouer the worde of the Lord came vnto me, ſaying,

12 Say now to this rebellious houſe, Know ye not what theſe things meane? tell them, Behold, the king of Babel is come to Ieruſalem, and hath taken the king thereof, and the princes thereof, and led them with him to Babel, 14 That the king dome might be in ſubjection, and not lit it ſelfe by, but keepe their covenant, and ſtand to it.

15 But he rebelled againſt him and ſent his Ambaſſadours into Egypt, that they might giue him hoſes, and much people: ſhall he prosper? ſhall he eſcape, that doth ſuch things? or ſhall hee breake the covenant, and be deliuered?

16 As I liue, ſaith the Lord God, he ſhall die in the mids of Babel, in the place of the King, that had made him King, whole oath he deſpised, and whole covenant made with him, he brake.

17 Neither ſhall Pharaoh with his mighty hoſts, & great multitude of people, maintaine him in the war, when they haue caſt vp mounts, and builded ramparts to deſtroy many perſons.

18 For he hath deſpised the oath and broken the covenant: (yet lo, he had giuen his hand) becauſe he hath done all theſe things, he ſhall not eſcape.

19 Therefore thus ſaith the Lord God, As I liue, I will ſurely bring mine oath that hee hath deſpised, and my covenant that hee hath broken, vpon his owne head.

20 And I will ſpread my net vpon him, and hee ſhall bee taken in my net, and I will bring him to Babel, & I will enter into iudgement with him there: for his treſpaſſe that he hath committed againſt me.

21 And all that ſee from him with all his hoſts, ſhall fall by the ſworde, and they that remaine, ſhall bee ſcattered toward all the windes: and yet ſhall knowe that I the Lord haue ſpoken it.

stone. 21 To him that amendeth, his saluation promised. 24 Death is prophesied to the righteous, which turneth backe from the right way.

The word of the Lord came vnto mee againe, saying,

2 What meanee yee that yee speake this prouerbe, concerning the land of Israel saying, The fathers haue eaten sowre grapes, and the childrens teeth are set on edge?

3 As I liue, saith the Lord God, ye shall ble this prouerbe no more in Israel.

4 Behold, all soules are mine, both the soule of the father, and also the soule of the sonne are mine: the soule that sinneth, it shall die.

5 But if a man bee iust, and doe that which is lawfull and right,

6 And hath not eaten b vpon the mountaines, neither hath lift vp his eyes to the idoles of the house of Israel, neither hath defiled his neighbours wife, neither hath spoken with a meretricious woman,

7 Neither hath oppressed any, but hath restored the pledge to his debtour: hee that hath spoiled none by violence, * but hath gotten his bread to the hungry, and hath covered the naked with a garment,

8 And hath not given forth * vpon vsurie, neither hath taken any increase, but hath withhelden his hand from iniquitie, and hath executed true iudgement between man and man,

9 And hath walked in my statutes, and hath kept my iudgements to deale truly, he is iust, he shall surely liue, saith the Lord God.

10 If he beget a sonne, that is a thiefe, or a shedder of blood, if he do any one of these things,

11 Though he doe not all these things, but either hath eaten vpon the mountaines, or defiled his neighbours wife,

12 Or hath oppressed the poore and needie, or hath spoiled by violence, or hath not restored the pledge, or hath lift vp his eyes vnto the idoles, or hath committed abomination,

13 Or hath giuen sooth vpon vsurie, or hath taken increase, shall he liue? he shall not liue: seeing he hath done all these abominations. * he shall die the death, and his blood shall be vpon him.

14 But if he beget a sonne, that seeth al his fathers sinnes, which he hath done, and feareth, neither doth such like,

15 That hath not eaten vpon the mountaines, neither hath lift vp his eyes to the idole of the house of Israel, nor hath defiled his neighbours wife,

16 Neither hath oppressed any, nor hath withholden the pledge, neither hath spoiled by violence, but hath giuen his bread to the hungry, and hath covered the naked with a garment,

17 Neither hath withhelden his hande from the afflicted, nor receiued vsurie nor increase, but hath executed my iudgement, and hath walked in my statutes, he shall not die in the iniquitie of his father, but hee shall surely liue.

18 His father, because he cruelly oppressed and spoiled his brother by violence, and hath not done good among his people, loe, euen he dieth in his iniquitie.

19 Yet say yee, & therefore shall not the sonne beare the iniquitie of the father? because the sonne hath executed iudgment and iustice, and hath kept all my statutes, and done them, he shall surely liue.

20 * The same soule that sinneth, shall die: the sonne shall not beare the iniquitie of the father, neither shall the father beare the iniquitie of the sonne, but the righteousness of the righteous shall be vpon him, and the wickednesse of the wicked shall be vpon himselfe.

21 But if the wicked will returne from all his sinnes that hee hath committed, and keepe all my statutes, and doe that which is lawfull and right, he shall surely liue, and shall not die.

22 All his transgressions that hee hath committed, they shall not be mentioned vnto him, but in his righteousness that he hath done, he shall liue.

23 * Haue I any desire that the wicked should die, saith the Lord God? or shall hee not liue, if he returne from his wayes?

24 But if the righteous turne away from his righteousness, and commit iniquitie, and doe according to all the abominations, that the wicked man doeth, shall hee liue? all his righteousness that hee hath done, shall not be mentioned: but in his transgression that hee hath committed, and in his sinne that hee hath sinned, in them shall hee die.

25 Yet say yee, The way of the Lord is not equal: heare now, O house of Israel. Is not my way equal? or are not your wayes vnequall?

26 For when a righteous man turneth away from his righteousness, and committeth iniquitie, he shall euen die for the same, he shall euen die for his iniquitie that he hath done.

27 Againe, when the wicked turneth away from his wickednesse that he hath committed, and doeth that which is lawfull and right, he shall saue his soule aline.

28 Because hee considereth, and turneth away from all his transgressions that hee hath committed, he shall surely liue and shall not die.

29 Yet saith the house of Israel, The way of the Lord is not equal. O house of Israel, are not my wayes equal? or are not your wayes vnequall?

30 Therefore I will iudge you, O house of Israel, euery one according to his wayes, saith the Lord God: returne therefore & cause others to turne away from al your transgressions: so iniquitie shall not be your destruction.

31 Cast away from you al your transgressions, whereby yee haue transgressed, and make y ou a new heart and a new spirit: for why will yee die, O house of Israel?

32 For I desire not the death of him that dieth, saith the Lord God: cause therefore one another to returne, and liue yee.

4 The nations also heard of him, and he was taken in their nettes, and they brought him in chains unto the land of Egypt.

8 Then the nations set against him on every side of the countreys, and layd their nets for him, so hee was taken in their pit.

3 The Lord denieth that he will answer them when they pray, because of their unkindnesse. 33 Hee promisseth that his people shall returne from captivitie. 46 By the forest that should be burnt, is signified the burning of Jerusalem.

And in the tenth day of the month, came certaine of the Elders of Israel to enquire of the Lord, and late before me.

2 Then came the word of the Lord unto me, saying,

3 Some of man, Speake unto the Elders of Israel, and say unto them, Thus sayth the Lord God, Are ye come to enquire of me? As I live, sayth the Lord God, when I am asked, I will not answer you.

4 And thou iudge them, sonne of man, will thou iudge them? cause them to understand the abominations of their fathers,

5 And say unto them, Thus sayth the Lord God, In the day when I chose Israel, and lift up mine hand unto the seede of the house of Iacob, and made my selfe knowne unto them in the land of Egypt, when I lift by mine hand unto them, and sayd, I am the Lord your God,

6 In the day that I lift by mine hande unto them to bring them forth of the land of Egypt, into a land that I had provided for them, flowing with milke and hony, which is pleasant among all lands,

7 Then said I unto them, Let every man call away the abominations of his eyes, and defile not your selues with the tooles of Egypt: for I am the Lord your God,

8 But they rebelled against me, & would not heare me: for none cast away the abominations of their eyes, neither did they forsake the idoles of Egypt: then I thought to powre out mine indignation upon them, and to accomplish my wrath against them in the midst of the land of Egypt.

9 But I had respect to my Name, that it should not be polluted before the heathen, among whom they were, and in whose sight I made my selfe knowne unto them in bringing them forth of the land of Egypt.

10 Now I carried them out of the land of Egypt, and brought them into the wilderness, 11 And I gave them my statutes, and declared my iudgements unto them, which if a man doe, he shall live in them.

12 Moreover, I gave them also my Sabbaths to be a signe betwene mee and them, that they might know that I am the Lord, that sanctifie them.

13 But the house of Israel rebelled against mee in the wilderness: they walked not in my statutes, and they cast away my iudgements, which if a man doe, hee shall live in them, and my Sabbaths have they greatly polluted: then I thought to powre out mine indignation upon them in the wilderness to consume them,

14 But I had respect to my Name, that it should not be polluted before the heathen, in whose sight I brought them out.

15 Yet neuertheless I lift by mine hand unto them in the wilderness, that I would not bring them into the land, which I had given them, flowing with milke and hony, which was pleasant above all lands, 16 Because they cast away my iudgements, and walked not in my statutes, but heare polluted my Sabbaths: for they have went after their idoles.

17 Nevertheless mine eye spared them, that I would not destroy them, neither would I consume them in the wilderness.

18 But I sayd unto their children in the wilderness, Walke ye not in the ordinances and 26. 65. thereby take an occasion to blaspheme my Name, and to cause mee of lacke of abilitie, or els that I had sought a meane to destroy them more commodiously. h That is, my true religion, which I had commanded them, and gave them helmes to serue mee according to their owne fantasies.

b This declareth the great lenity and patience of God, which calleth sinners to repentance before hee condemne them.

c I sweare that I would be their God, which manner of othe was observed from all antiquitie where they vsed to lift vp their hands toward the heauen, acknowledging God to be the author of truth, and the defender thereof, and also the iudge of the heart, wishing that he should take vengeance, if they concealed any thing which they knew to be truth.

e Which thing declareth the wickednesse of mans heart, which iudge Gods seruice by their eyes and outward senses.

of your fathers, neither observe their manners, nor desire your selves with their idoles.

19 I am the Lord your God: walke in my statutes, and keepe my iudgements and doe them, 20 And sanctifie my Sabbaths, and they shall be a signe betwix me and you, that ye may know that I am the Lord your God.

21 Now withstanding the children rebelled against mee: they walked not in my statutes, nor kept my iudgements to doe them, which if a man doe he shall live in them, but they polluted my Sabbaths: then I thought to powze out mine indignation upon them, and to accomplish my wrath against them in the wilderness.

22 Nevertheless I withheld mine hand, and had respect to my Name, that it should not be polluted before the heathen, in whose sight I brought them forth.

23 Yet I lift vp mine hand unto them in the wilderness, that I would scatter them among the heathen, & disperse them thorow the countreys, 24 Because they had not executed my iudgements, but had cast away my statutes, and had polluted my Sabbaths, and their eyes were after their fathers idols.

25 Wherefore I gave them also statutes, that were not good, and iudgements wherein they should not live.

26 And I polluted them in their owne gifts, in that they caused to passe by the fire all that first openeth the wound, that I might destroy them, to the ende that they might know that I am the Lord.

27 Therefore some of man speake unto the howle of Israel, and say unto them, Thus sayeth the Lord God, Yet in this your fathers haue blasphemed me, though they had before grievously transgressed against me,

28 For when I had brought them into the land, for y<sup>e</sup> which I lifted vp mine hand to give it to them, then they saw every high hill, and all the thicke trees, and they offered there their sacrifices, and there they presented their offering of prostitution: there also they made their sweet santonie, and powzed out there their drinke offerings.

29 Then I sayd unto them, What is the high place wherunto ye goe? And the name thereof was called O Baniab unto this day.

30 Wherefore say unto the house of Israel, Thus sayeth the Lord God, Are ye not polluted after the maner of your fathers? and commit ye not whoredom after their abominations?

31 For when you offer your gifts, & make your santonies to passe through the fire, you pollute your selves with all your idoles unto this day: shall I answer you when I am asked, O house of Israel? As I live, sayeth the Lord God, I will not answer you when I am asked.

Which signifiesh an high place, declaring that they wanted themselves of their idolatry, and were not ashamed thereof, though God had commanded them expressly that they should haue no altar lifted vp on hie by staires, Exod. 20. 26. Ibr. in the way. p Hee sheweth that the ingratitude of the people deserueth that God should cut them off, and that they should not haue the comfort of his word.

Neither shall that be done that cometh into your minde: for ye say, We will be as the heathen, and as the families of the countreys, and serue wood and stone.

32 As I live, sayeth the Lord God, I will surely ruse you with a mighty hande, and with a stretched out arme, and in my wrath powzed out, 33 And will bring you from the people, and will gather you out of the countreys, wherein ye are scattered with a mighty hande and with a stretched out arme, and in my wrath powzed out.

34 And I will bring you into the wilderness of the people, & there will I plead with you face to face.

35 Like as I pleaded with your fathers in the wilderness of the land of Egypt, so will I plead with you, sayeth the Lord God.

36 And I will cause you to passe vnder the rod, and will bring you into the bond of the covenant.

37 And I will chuse out from among you the rebels, and them that transgress against me: I will bring them out of the land where they dwell, and they shall not enter into the land of Israel, and you shall know that I am the Lord.

38 As for you, O house of Israel, Thus sayeth the Lord God, Goe you, and serue euery one his idole, seeing that ye will not obey me, and pollute mine holy Name no more with your gifts and with your idoles.

39 For in mine holy mountaine, euen in the hie mountaine of Israel, sayeth the Lord God, there shall all the house of Israel, and all in the land, serue me: there will I accept them, and there will I require your offerings, and the first fruites of your oblations, with all your holy things.

40 I will accept your sweete sauour, when I bring you from the people, and gather you out of the countreys, wherein ye have been scattered, that I may be sanctified in you before the heathen.

41 And ye shall know that I am the Lord, when I shall bring you into the land of Israel, into the land, for the which I lifted vp mine hand to give it to your fathers.

42 And there shall ye remember your wayes, and all your works wherein ye haue been defiled, and ye shall iudge your selves worthy to be cut off, for all your evils, that ye haue committed.

43 And ye shall know that I am the Lord, when I haue respect unto you for my names sake, & not after your wicked wayes, nor according to your corrupt works, O ye house of Israel, sayeth the Lord God.

CHAP. XXI.

3 He threateth the sword, and destruction to Ierusalem. 25 Hee sheweth the fall of King Zedekiah. 28 He is commanded to prophesie the destruction of the children of Ammon. 30 The Lord threateth to destroy Nebuchad-nezzar.

The word of the Lord came to me againe, saying, 2 Sonne of man, let thy face toward Ierusalem, and drop thy word toward the holy places, and prophesie against the land of Israel.

3 And say to the land of Israel, Thus saith the Lord, Behold, I come against thee, and will draw my sword out of his sheath, and cut off from thee both the righteous and the wicked.

4 Seeing then that I will cut off from thee both the righteous and wicked, therefore shall my sword, goe out of his sheath against all flesh from the South to the North.

5 That all flesh may know that I the Lord haue drawn my sword out of his sheath, and it shall not returne any more.

6 Because therefore, thou sonne of man, as in the paine of thy reines, and as none bitterly before them.

7 And if they say vnto thee, Wherefore moueest thou? then answer, Because of the burnt: for it cometh, and euery heart shall melt, and all hands shall be weak, and all minds shall faint, and all knees shall fall away as water: behold, it cometh, and shall be done, saith the Lord God.

8 Againe, the word of the Lord came vnto me, saying,

9 Sonne of man, prophesie, & say, Thus saith the Lord God, say, A sword, a sword both sharpe and furbished.

10 It is sharpened to make a sore slaughter, and it is furbished that it may glitter: how shall we reioyce? for it containeth the rod of my sonne, as all other trees.

11 And he hath giuen it to be furbished, that he may handle it: this sword is sharpe, and is furbished, that he may giue it into the hand of the slayer.

12 Cry, and howle, sonne of man: for this shall come to my people, and it shall come vnto all the Princes of Israel: the terrores of the sword shall be vpon my people: smite therefore vpon thy thigh.

13 For it is a rell, and what shall this be, if the sword containe euen the rod? It shall be no more, saith the Lord God.

14 Thou therefore, sonne of man, prophesie, and smite with hand to hand, & let the sword be doubled: let the sword that hath killed, returne the third time: it is the sword of the great slaughter entering into their priuy chambers.

15 I haue brought the feare of the sword into all their gates to make their heart to faint; and to multiply their ruines. Ah it is made bright, & it is dressed for the slaughter.

16 Get thee alone: go to the right hand, or get thy selfe to the left hand, whither soeuer thy face turneth.

17 I will also smite mine hands together, and will cause my wrath to cease. If the Lord haue laid it.

18 The word of the Lord came vnto me againe, saying,

19 Also thou sonne of man, appoint thee two wayes, and that the sword of the King of Babel may come: both wayne shall come out of one land, and chuse a place, and chuse it in the corner of the way of the citie.

20 Appoint a way, that the sword may come to Rabbath of the Ammonites, and to Iudah in Ierusalem the strong citie.

21 And the King of Babel stood at the parting of the way, at the head of the two wayes, consulting by diuination, and made his arrows bright: he consulted with idols, and looked in the iuer.

22 At his right hand was the diuination for Ierusalem to appoint captaiues, to open their mouth in the slaughter, and to lift vp their voyce with shouting, to lay engines of warre against the gates, to cast a mount, and to build a fortress.

23 And it shall be vnto them as a false diuination in their sight: for the ordes made vnto them: but he will call to remembrance their iniquitie, to the intent they should be taken.

24 Therefore thus saith the Lord God, Because yet haue made your iniquity to be remembered, in discouering your rebellion; that in all yone works your innes might appeare: because, I say, that ye are come to remembrance, ye shall be taken with the hand.

25 And thou Prince of Israel polluted, and wicked, whose day is come, when iniquitie shall haue an end.

26 Thus saith the Lord God, I will take away the diademe, and take off the crowne: this shall be no more the same: I will erate the humble, and will abate him that is hie.

27 I will ouerturne, ouerturne, ouerturne it, and it shall be no more: until he come whose right it is, and I will giue it him.

28 And thou sonne of man, prophesie, and say, Thus saith the Lord God to the children of Ammon, and to their blasphemy: say thou, I say, The sword, the sword is drawn forth, and furbished to the slaughter to continue; because of the glittering:

and prophessed a lie vnto thee to bring thee vpon the necks of the wicked that are slaine, whose day is come when their iniquitie shall haue an end.

30 Shall I cause it to returne into his sheath? I will iudge thee in the place where thou wast created, euen in the land of thine habitation.

31 And I will powze out mine indignation vpon thee, and will blow against thee in the fire of my wrath, and deliuer thee into the hand of beauly men, and skillfull to destroy.

32 Thou shalt be in the fire to be deuoured: thy blood shall bee in the mids of the land, and thou shalt be no more remembered: for I the Lord haue spoken it.

CHAP. XXII.

1 Ierusalem is reprobud for crueltie. 25 Of the wicked doctrine of the falso prophets and priests, and of their vsuriable couetousnesse. 27 The tyranny of their rulers. 29 The wickednesse of the people.

Mourer the worde of the Lorde came vnto me, saying,

2 How thou sonne of man. wilt thou iudge, wilt thou indge this bloodye iudg: wilt thou shew her all her abominations?

3 Then say, Thus sayth the Lord God, The cite sheaderth blood in the mids of it, that her b<sup>e</sup> time may come, and maketh idols <sup>a</sup> against her selfe to pollue her selfe.

4 Thou hast offended in thy blood, that thou hast shed, and hast polluted thy selfe in thine idols, which thou hast made, and thou hast caused thy dayes to draw neere, and art come vnto thy terme: therfore haue I made thee a reproch to the heathen, and a mocking to all countreys.

5 Those that be neere, and those that be farre from thee, shall mocke thee, which are vile in <sup>a</sup> name, and soze in affliction.

6 Beholde, the princes of Israel enery one in thee was ready to his power to shed blood.

7 In thee haue they despised father and mother: in the mids of thee <sup>a</sup> haue they oppressed the stranger: in thee haue they vered the fatherlesse and the widow.

8 Thou hast despised mine holy things, and hast polluted my Sabbaths.

9 In thee are men that eary tales to shed blood: in thee are they that eate vpon the mountaines: in the mids of thee they commit abomination.

10 <sup>a</sup> In thee haue they discovered their fathers shame: in thee haue they vered her that was polluted in her floures.

11 And enery one <sup>a</sup> hath committed abomination with his neighbours wife, and euery one hath wickedly defiled his daughter in law, and in thee hath enery man forced his owne sister, euen his fathers daughter.

12 In thee haue they taken gifts to shed blood: thou hast taken vsury & the increase, and thou hast defrauded thy neighbours by extortion, and hast forgotten mee, sayth the Lord God.

13 Beholde, therefore I haue <sup>a</sup> smitten mine hands vpon thy coteculnes, that thou hast used, and vpon the blood, which hath been in the mids of thee.

14 Can thine heart endure, or can thine hands be strong in the dayes that I shall haue to doe with thee? I the Lord haue spoken it, and will doe it.

15 And I will scatter thee among the heathen, and disperse thee in the countreys, and will cause thy <sup>a</sup> Althimselfe to cease from thee.

16 And thou shalt take thine <sup>a</sup> inheritance in thy selfe in the sight of the heathen, & thou shalt know that I am the Lord.

17 And the word of the Lord came vnto me, saying,

18 Sonne of man, The house of Israel is vnto mee as <sup>a</sup> drosse: all they are brasse, and time, and yron, and lead in the mids of the fornaice: they are euen the drosse of siluer.

19 Therefore thus sayth the Lord God, Because yee are all as drosse, beholde, therfore I will gather you in the mids of Ierusalem.

20 As they gather siluer and brasse, and yron, and lead, and tinne into the mids of the fornaice, to blow the fire vpon it to melt it, so will I gather you in mine anger and in my wrath, and will put you there <sup>a</sup> and melt you.

21 I will gather you, I say, and blow the fire of my wrath vpon you, and you shall bee melted in the mids thereof.

22 As siluer is melted in the mids of the fornaice, so shall yee bee melted in the mids thereof, and yee shall know that I the Lord haue powzed out my wrath vpon you.

23 And the word of the Lord came vnto me, saying,

24 Sonne of man, say vnto her, Thou art the land that is vncleane, <sup>a</sup> and not rained vpon in the day of wrath.

25 There is a conspiracie <sup>a</sup> of her prophets in the mids thereof like a roaring lion, rauening the pray: they haue denoured soules: they haue taken the riches and precious things: they haue made her many widowes in the mids thereof.

26 Her priests haue broken my Law, and haue defiled mine holy things: they haue put no difference betwene the holy & profane, neither discerned betwene the vncleane, and the cleane, and haue hid their <sup>a</sup> eyes from my Sabbaths, and I am prophaned among them.

27 Her princes in the <sup>a</sup> mids thereof, are like wolues, rauening the pray to shed blood, and to destroy soules for their owne couetous lucre.

28 And her <sup>a</sup> prophets haue dawbed them with vncleane mortar, seeing vaulties, and diuining lies vnto them, saying, Thus sayth the Lord God, when the Lord had not spoken.

29 The people of the land haue violently oppressed by spoyling and robbing, and haue vered the poore and the needy: yea, they haue oppressed the stranger against right.

30 And I sought for a man among them that should <sup>a</sup> make by the hedge, and stand

C H A P. XXIIII.

Of the idolatrie of Samaria and Ierusalem, vnder the names of Aholah and Aholibah.

The word of the Lord came againe vnto me, saying,

2 Sonne of man, there were two women, the daughters of one mother.

3 And they committed fornication in Egypt, they committed fornication in their youth: there were their breastes pressed, and there they builded the teates of their virginities.

4 And the names of them were Aholah the elder, and Aholibah her sister: and they were mine, and they bare sonnes and daughters: thus were their names: Samaria is Aholah, and Ierusalem Aholibah.

5 And Aholah played the harlot when she was mine, and she was set on fire with her louers, to wit, with the Assyrians her neighbours,

6 Which were clothed with blew silke, both captaynes and princes: they were all pleasant yong men, and horsemen riding vpon horses.

7 Thus she committed her whoredome with them, euen with all them that were the chosen men of Asshur, and with all on whom shee doted, and defiled her selfe with all their idoles.

8 Neither left shee her fornication, learned of the Egyptians: for in her youth they lay with her, and they builded the breast of her virginity, and powred their whoredome vpon her.

9 Therefore I deliuered her into the hands of her louers, euen into the hands of the Assyrians, vpon whom shee doted.

10 These discovered her shame: they tooke away her sonnes and her daughters, and slew her with the sword, and shee had an euill name among women: for they had executed iudgement vpon her.

11 And when her sister Aholibah sawe this, shee married her selfe with inordinate loue, more then shee, and with her fornications, more then her sister with her fornications.

12 Shee doted vpon the Assyrians her neighbours, both captaynes and princes clothed with diuers lutes, horsemen riding vpon horses: they were all pleasant yong men.

13 Then I saw that shee was defiled, and that they were both after one sort.

14 And that shee increased her fornications: for when shee saw men painted vpon the wall, the images of the Caldeans painted with vermillion,

15 And girded with girdles vpon their loynes, and with died attire vpon their heads (looking all like princes after the manner of the Babylonians in Caldea, the land of their nativitye.)

16 Alsoone, I say, as shee saw them, shee doted vpon them, and sent messengers vnto them into Caldea.

17 Now when the Babylonians came to her into the bed of loue, they defiled her with their fornication, and shee was polluted with them: and her lute departed from them.

18 So she discovered her fornication, and disclosed her shame: then mine heart forsooke her, like as mine heart had forsaken her sister.

19 Yet shee increased her whoredome more, and called to remembrance the dayes of her youth, wherein shee had played the harlot in the land of Egypt.

20 For shee doted vpon their seruants, whose members are as the members of asses, and whose issue is like the issue of horses.

21 Thou calledst to remembrance the wickednesse of thy youth, when thy teates were builded by the Egyptians: therefore the pappes of thy youth are thus:

22 Therefore, O Aholibah, thus saith the Lord God, Behold, I will raise vp thy louers against thee, from whom thine heart is departed, and I will bring them against thee on euery side,

23 To wit, the Babylonians, and all the Caldeans, the Pehel, and Shoah, and Koa, and all the Assyrians with them: they were all pleasant yong men, captaynes and princes: all they were valiant and renouued, riding vpon horses.

24 When these shall come against thee with charres, wagons, and wheels, and with a multitude of people, which shall set against thee, buckler and shield, and helmet round about: and I will leane the punishment vnto them, and they shall iudge thee according to their iudgements.

25 And I will lay mine indignation vpon thee, and they shall deale cruelly with thee: they shall cut off thy nose and thine eares, and thy remnant shall fall by the sword: they shall carie away thy sonnes and thy daughters, and thy residue shall be denoued by the fire.

26 They shall also stripp thee out of thy clothes, and take away thy faire iewels.

27 Thus will I make thy wickednesse to ecale from thee, and thy fornication out of the land of Egypt: so that thou shalt not lift vp thine eyes vnto them, nor remember Egypt any more.

28 For thus saith the Lord God, Behold, I will deliuer thee into the hand of them, whom thou hatest: euen into the hands of them from whom thine heart is departed.

29 And they shall handle thee despitefully, and shall take away all thy labour, and shall leave thee naked and bare, and the shame of thy fornications shall be discovered, both thy wickednesse and thy whoredome.

30 I will doe these things vnto thee, because thou hast gone a whooring after the heathen, and because thou art polluted with their idoles.

31 Thou hast walked in the way of thy sister: therefore will I giue her a cup into thine hand.

a Meaning Israel and Iudah, which came both out of one family.

b They became idolaters after the manner of the Egyptians.

c Aholah signifieth a mansion or dwelling in herselfe, meaning Samaria which was the royall citie of Israel: And Aholibah signifieth my mansion in her, whereby is meant Ierusalem where Gods Temple was.

d When the Israelites were named the people of God, they became idolaters, and forsooke God, and put their trust in the Assyrians.

e The holy Ghost vseth these termes which seeme strange to chaffe eares, to cause this wicked vice of idolatrie so to be abhorred, that vneth any should abide to heare the name thereof mentioned.

f Meaning the Assyrians.

g This declareth that no words are able sufficient to expresse the rage of idolaters, and therefore the holy Ghost here compareth them to those which in their raging loue and filthy lustes dote vpon the images and paintings of them after whom they lust.

h These were the names of certaine princes and captaynes vnder Nebuchadnezar.

i Ebr. I will giue iudgements before them.

ii Or, lawes.

i They shall destroy the princes and priests with the rest of thy people.

k All thy treasures and riches which thou hast gotten by labor.

l All the world shall see thy shamefull forsaking of God to seruic idoles.

m I will execute the same iudgements and vengeance against thee, & that with greater severitye.

32 Thus saith the Lord God, Thou shalt drinke of thy sisters cup, deepe and large: thou shalt bee laughed to scorn and had in derision, because it containeth much.

33 Thou shalt bee filled with drunkennesse and sorrowe, even with the cup of destruction, and desolation, with the cup of thy sister Samaria.

34 Thou shalt euen drinke it, and bring it out to the dregges, and thou shalt breake the sheardes thereof, and teare thine owne breasts: for I haue spoken it, saith the Lord God.

35 Therefore thus saith the Lord God, Because thou hast forgotten mee, and cast mee behinde thy backe, therefore thou shalt also breake thy wickednesse and thy whoredome.

36 The Lord said moreover vnto mee, Sonne of man, wilt thou iudge Aholah, and Aholibah? and wilt thou declare to them their abominations?

37 For they haue played the whores, and blood is in their handes, and with their idoles haue they committed adulterie, and haue also caused their sonnes, whom they bare vnto me, to passe by the fire to be their meate.

38 Moreover, thus haue they done vnto me: they haue defiled my Sanctuary in the same day, and haue prophaned my Sab-baths.

39 For when they had slaine their children to their idoles, they came the same day into my Sanctuary to defile it: and lo, thus haue they done in the middes of mine house.

40 And howe much more is it that they sent for men to come frome far, vnto whom a messenger was sent, and loe, they came: for whom thou diddest wash thy selfe, and paintedst thine eyes, and deckedst thee with ornaments,

41 And fastest vpon a costly beeb, and a table prepared before it, whereupon thou hast set mine incense and mine oyle.

42 And a voyce of a multitude being at ease, was with her: and with the men to make the company great, were brought men of Saba from the wilderness, which put bracelets vpon their hands, and beautifull crownes vpon their heads.

43 Then I said vnto her that was old in adulteries, How shall shee and her fornications come to an end.

44 And they went in vnto her as they goe to a common harlot: so went they to Aholah and Aholibah the wicked women.

45 And the righteous men they shall iudge them, after the manner of harlots, and after the maner of murderers: for they are harlots, and blood is in their handes.

46 Therefore thus saith the Lord God, I will bring a multitude vpon them, and will giue them vnto the tumult, and to the spoile.

47 And the multitude shall stone them with stones, and cut them with their swords: they shall slay their sonnes, and their daughters, and burne vp their houses with fire.

48 Thus will I cause wickednes to cease out of the land, that all women may be taught, not to doe after their wickednesse.

49 And they shall lay your wickednesse vpon you, and ye shall beare the sinnes of your idols, and ye shall know that I am the Lord God.

C H A P. XXIII.

1 Hee sheweth the destruction of Ierusalem by a parable of a seething pot. 2 The parable of Ezekiel's wife being dead.

A Saine in the ninth yeere, in the tenth moneth, in the tenth day of the moneth came the word of the Lord vnto mee saying,

2 Sonne of man, write thee the name of the day, even of this same day: for the king of Babel set himselfe against Ierusalem this same day.

3 Therefore speake a parable vnto the rebellious house, and say vnto them, Thus saith the Lord God, Prepare a pot, prepare it, and also powre water into it.

4 Gather the pieces thereof into it, euen euery good piece, as the thigh and the shoulder, and fill it with the chiefe bones.

5 Take one of the best sheepe, and burne also the bones vnder it, and make it boyle well, and seeth the bones of it therein.

6 Because the Lord God saith thus, Mee to the bloody citie, euen to the pot, whose skumme is therein, and whose skumme is not gone out of it: bring it out a piece by piece: let no lot fall vpon it.

7 For her blood is in the middes of her: she set it vpon an high rocke, and powred it not vpon the ground: so couer it with dust,

8 That it might cause wrath to arise, and take vengeance: euen I haue set her blood vpon an high rocke that it should not be couered.

9 Therefore thus saith the Lord God, * Mee to the bloody citie, for I will make it the burning great.

10 Heape on much wood: I kindle the fire, consume the flesh, and cast in spice, and let the bones be burnt.

11 Then set it empty vpon the coales thereof, that the braile of it may be hot, and may burne, and that the filthinesse of it may bee wroten in it, and that the skumme of it may be consumed.

12 She hath wearied her selfe with lies, and her great skumme went not out of her: therefore her skumme shall bee consumed with fire.

13 Thou remained in thy filthines and wickednesse: because I would haue purged thee, and thou wast not purged, thou shalt not be purged from thy filthinesse, til I haue caused my wrath to light vpon thee.

14 I the Lord haue spoken it: it shall come to passe, and I will doe it: I will not goe backe, neither will I spare, neither will I repent: according to thy wayes, and according to thy workes shall they iudge thee, saith the Lord God.

be utterly destroyed, and that hee would giue the enemies an appetite therunt o. For bottom. 1 The citie hath sattered her selfe in vaine, in laboured by sending my Prophets to call thee to repentance, but thou wouldest not. n This is, the Babylonians.

i The citie shewed her cruelties all the world, and was not ashamed thereof, neither yet hid it.

15 Also the word of the Lord came unto me, saying,

16 Sonne of man, behold, I take away from thee the pleasure of thine eyes with a plague: yet shalt thou neither mourne nor weepe, neither shalt thy teares run downe.

17 Cease from sighing: make no mourning for the dead, and bind the tyre of thine head upon thee, and put on thy shoes upon thy feet, and cover not thy lips, and eat not the bread of men.

18 So I spake unto the people in the morning, and at even my wife died: and I did in the morning, as I was commaunded.

19 And the people sayd unto mee, Will thou not tell vs what these things meane toward vs, that thou doest so?

20 Then I answered them, The word of the Lord came unto me, saying, 21 Speake unto the house of Israel, Thus saith the Lord God, Behold, I will pollute my Sanctuary, euen the pize of your power, the pleasure of your eyes, and your hearts desire, and your sonnes, and your daughters whom ye haue left, shall fall by the sword.

22 And yee shall doe as I haue done: yee shall not cover your lips, neither shall ye eat the bread of men.

23 And your tire shall be upon your heads, and your shoes upon your feet: yee shall not mourne nor weepe, but yee shall pine away for your iniquities, and mourne one toward another.

24 Thus Ezekiel is unto you a signe: according to all that hee hath done, yee shall doe: and when this cometh, yee shall know that I am the Lord God.

25 Also, thou sonne of man, shall it not be in the day when I take from them their power, the top of their honour, the pleasure of their eyes, and the desire of their heart, their sonnes and their daughters, 26 That hee that escapeth in that day, shall come unto thee to tell thee that which he hath heard with his eares?

27 In that day shall thy mouth be opened to him which is escaped, & thou shalt speake and be no more dumbe, and thou shalt be a signe unto them, and they shall know that I am the Lord.

CHAP. XXV.

The word of the Lord against Ammon, which reuoyced at the fall of Ierusalem. 8 Against Moab and Seir, Idumea and the Philistines.

The word of the Lord came againe unto me, saying,

2 Sonne of man, set thy face against the Ammonites, and prophesie against them,

3 And say unto the Ammonites, Heare the word of the Lord God, Thus saith the Lord God, Because thou saydest, Ha, ha, against my Sanctuary, when it was polluted, and against the land of Israel, when it was desolate, and against the house of Iudah, when they went into captiuitie,

4 Behold, therefore I will deliuer thee to the men of the East for a possession, and they shall see their palaces in thee, & make their dwellings in thee: they shall eat thy fruit, and they shall drinke thy milke.

5 And I will make Rabbah a dwelling place for camels, and the Ammonites a sheepecoat, and ye shall know that I am the Lord.

6 For thus saith the Lord God, Because thou hast clapped the hands, and stamped with the feet, and reioyced in heart with all thy despite against the land of Israel,

7 Beholde, therefore I will stretch out mine hand upon thee, and will deliuer thee to be poyled of the heathen, and I will roote thee out from the people, and I will cause thee to be destroyed out of the countreyes, and I will destroy thee, and thou shalt know that I am the Lord.

8 Thus saith the Lord God, Because that Moab and Seir doe say, Behold, the house of Iudah is like vnto all the heathen, 9 Therefore, beholds, I will open the side of Moab, euen of the cities of his cities, I will say, in his frontiers with the pleasant countrey, Beth-teshmoth, Baal-meon, and Kirjathaim.

10 I will call the men of the East against the Ammonites, and will giue them in possession, so that the Ammonites shall no more be remembered among the nations, 11 And I will execute iudgements vpon Moab, and they shall know that I am the Lord.

12 Thus saith the Lord God, Because that Edom hath done euil by taking vengeance vpon the house of Iudah, & hath committed great offence, and reuenged himselfe vpon them, 13 Therefore thus saith the Lord God, I will also stretch out mine hand vpon Edom, and destroy man and beast out of it, and I will make it desolare from Teman, and they of Dedan shall fall by the sword.

14 And I will execute my vengeance vpon Edom by the hand of my people Israel, and they shall do in Edom according to mine anger, and according to mine indignation, and they shall know my vengeance, saith the Lord God.

15 Thus saith the Lord God, Because the Philistines haue executed vengeance, and reuenged themselves with a despitefull heart, to destroy it for the old hatred, 16 Therefore thus saith the Lord God, Behold, I will stretch out mine hand vpon the Philistines, and I will cut off the Cherethims, and destroy the remnant of the sea coast.

17 And I will execute great vengeance vpon them with rebukes of mine indignation, and they shall know that I am the Lord, when I shall lay my vengeance vpon them.

g The gouernours and rulers of other countreys that dwell by the sea: whereby hee signifieth that her destruction should be so horrible, that all the world should heare thereof, and be afraid.

And in the eleuenth yere, in the sixth day of the month, the word of the Lord came vnto me, saying,

2 Sonne of man, because that Tyrus hath said against Ierusalem, Aha, the gate of the people is broken: it is turned vnto me; for seeing thee is desolate, I shall be replenished,

3 Therefore thus saith the Lord God, Beholde, I come against thee, O Tyrus, and I will bring vp many nations against thee, as the sea mounteth vp with his waues.

4 And they shall destroy the walles of Tyrus, and breake downe her towers: I will also scrape her dust from her, and make her like the top of a rocke.

5 Thou shalt be for the spreading of nets in the mids of the sea: for I haue spoken it, saith the Lord God, and it shall bee a spoyle to the nations.

6 And her daughters which are in the field, shall bee slaine by the sword, and they shall know that I am the Lord.

7 For thus saith the Lord God, Behold, I will bring vpon Tyrus Nebuchad-nezzar king of Babel, a king of kings, from the North, with hoes and with charrets, and with horsemen, with a multitude and much people.

8 Hee shall slay with the sword the daughters in the field, and hee shall make a foxt against thee, and cast a mount against thee, and lift vp the becker against thee.

9 Ixe shall set engines of warre before him against thy walles, and with his weapons breake downe thy towers.

10 The dust of his hoes shall couer thee, for the multitude: thy walles shall shake at the noise of the horsemen, and of the wheelles, and of the charrets, when hee shall enter into thy gates, as into the entry of a city that is broken downe.

11 With the hookes of his hoes shall hee tread downe all thy streets: he shall slay thy people by the sword, and the pillars of thy strength shall fall downe to the ground.

12 And they shall robbe thy riches, and spoile thy merchandise, and they shall breake downe thy walles, and destroy thy pleasant houses, and they shall cast thy stones and thy timber and thy dust into the middes of the water.

13 Thus will I cause the sound of thy songs to cease, and the sound of thine harpes shall be no more heard.

14 I will lay thee like the top of a rocke: thou shalt be for a spreading of nets: thou shalt be built no more, for I the Lord haue spoken it, saith the Lord God.

15 Thus saith the Lord God to Tyrus, Shall not the yles tremble at the sound of thy fall, and at the crye of the wounded, when they shall see slaine and murdered in the middes of thee?

16 Then all the princes of the sea shall come downe from their thrones: they shall lay away their robes, and put off their broyded garments, and shall cloth themselves with ashenismen: they shall sit vpon the ground, and bee astonished at every moment, and be amazed at thee.

17 And they shall take vp a lamentation for thee, and say to thee, How art thou destroyed, that wast inhabited of the sea men, the renowned citie which was strong in the sea, both thee and her inhabitants, which cause their feare to bee on all that haunt therein!

18 Now shall the yles be astonished in the day of thy fall: yea, the yles that are in the sea, shall be troubled at thy departure.

19 For thus saith the Lord God, When I shall make thee a desolate citie, like the cities that are not inhabited, and when I shall bring the deepe vpon thee, and great waters shall couer thee,

20 When I shall cast thee downe with them that descend into the pit, with the people of old time, and shall sit thee in the low parts of the earth, like the olde ruines, with them, I say, which goe downe to the pit, so that thou shalt not be inhabited, and I shall shew my glory in the land of the liuing, 21 I will bring thee to nothing, and thou shalt be no more: though thou be sought for, yet shalt thou neuer bee found againe, saith the Lord God.

CHAP. XXVII.

The Prophet bewaileth the desolation of Tyrus, shewing what were the riches, power and aubourne thereof in time past.

The word of the Lord came againe vnto me, saying,

2 Sonne of man, take vp a lamentation for Tyrus,

3 And say vnto Tyrus, that is situate at the entry of the sea, which is the mart of the people of many yles, Thus saith the Lord God, O Tyrus, thou hast sayd, I am of perfect beauty.

4 Thy borders are in the mids of the sea, and thy builders haue made thee of perfect beauty.

5 They haue made all thy ship boards of fere trees of Shemar: they haue brought cedars from Lebanon, to make maistes for thee.

6 Of the ookes of Bashan haue they made thine oes: the company of the Assyrians haue made thy bankes of yuozite, brought out of the yles of Chittim.

7 Fine linnen with broyded worke, brought from Egypt, was spread ouer thee to be thy sayle, blue lilke and purple, brought from the yles of Citium, was thy couering.

8 The inhabitants of Sidon and Arad were thy mariners, O Tyrus: thy wise men that were in thee, they were thy pilots.

9 The ancients of Gebal, and the wise men thereof were in thee thy talkers: all the shippes of the sea with their mariners were in thee to occupie thy merchandise.

11 The men of Arad with thine army were upon thy walles round about, and the Saminadims were in thy towers: they hanged their shieldes vpon thy walles round about: they haue made thy beautie perfit.

12 They of Tarshish were thy merchants for the multitude of al riches, for siluer, iron, tinne, and lead, which they brought to thy faires.

33 When thy wares went forth of the seas, thou filledest many people, and thou diddest enrich the kings of the earth with the multitude of thy riches and of thy merchandise.

34 When thou shalt be broken by the seas in the depthes of the waters, thy merchandise and all thy multitude, which was in the mids of thee, shall fall.

35 All the inhabitants of the ples shall be astonishd at thee, and al their kings shall be loze afrayde and troubled in their countenance.

36 The merchants among the people shall hiss at thee: thou shalt be a terror, and neuer shalt be any more.

CHAP. XXVIII.

2 The word of God againt the king of Tyrus in his pride. 2 The word of the Lord againt Zidon.

25 The Lord promiseth that he will gather together the children of Israel.

The word of the Lord came againt vnto True, saying,

2 Sonne of man, say vnto the prince of Tyrus, Thus saith the Lord God,

Because thine heart is exalted, and thou hast sayde, I am a god, I sit in the seate of God in the mids of the sea, yet thou art but a man and not God, and though thou didst think in thine heart that thou wast equall with God,

3 Behold, thou art wiser then Daniel: there is no secret, that they can hide from thee.

4 With thy wisdom and thine understanding thou hast gotten thee riches, and hast gotten golde and siluer into thy treasures.

5 By thy great wisdom and by thine occupying, hast thou increased thy riches, and thine heart is lifted vp because of thy riches.

6 Therefore thus saith the Loide God, Because thou diddest thinke in thine heart, that thou wast equal with God, against the beauty of thy wisdom, and they shall desire thy brightness.

8 They shall cast thee downe to the pit, and thou shalt die the death of them, that are slaine in the midst of the sea.

9 Wilt thou say then before him that sanctify thee, I am a god? but thou shalt bee a man and no God, in the hands of him that slayeth thee.

10 Thou shalt die the death of the uncircumcised by the hands of strangers: for I have spoken it, saith the Lord God.

11 Moreover the word of the Lord came unto me, saying,

12 Some of man, take by a lamentation upon the king of Tyrus, and say unto him, Thus saith the Lord God, Thou sealest up the summe, and art full of wisdom and perfit in beauty,

13 Thou hast bene in Eden the garden of God: every precious stone was in thy garment, the ruby, the topaze & the diamond, the chrysolite, the onix, and the talper, the saphire, lemeraud, and the carbuncle and gold: the workmanship of thy tymbrels, and of thy pipes was prepared in thee in the day that thou wast created.

14 Thou art the appointed Cherub, that covereth, & I have set thee in honour: thou wast upon the holy mountayne of God: thou hast walked in the middes of the stones of fire.

15 Thou wast perfect in thy waies from the day that thou wast created, till iniquity was found in thee.

16 By the multitude of thy merchandise, they have filled the nuds of thee with cruelty, and thou hast sinned: therefore I will cast thee as prophane out of the mountaine of God, and I will destroy thee, O covering Cherub, from the middes of the stones of fire.

17 Thine heart was lifted up, because of thy beauty, and thou hast corrupted thy wisdom by reason of thy brightness: I will cast thee to y ground: I will lay thee before kings, that they may behold thee.

18 Thou hast defiled thy sanctification by the multitude of thine iniquities, and by the iniquity of thy merchandise: therefore will I bring forth a fire from the middes of thee, which shall deuoure thee: & I will bring thee to ashes upon the earth, in the light of all them that behold thee.

19 All they that know thee among the people, shall be astonied at thee: thou shalt be as terrour, and neuer shalt thou be any more.

20 Againe, the word of the Lord came unto me, saying,

21 Some of man, let thy face against Zidon, and prophesie against it,

22 And say, Thus saith the Lord God, Beholde, I come against thee, O Zidon, and I will be glorified in the mids of thee: and they shall know that I am the Lord, when I shall have executed iudgements in her, and shall be sanctified in her.

23 For I will send into her pestilence, and blood into her streets, and the slaine shall fall in the mids of her: the enimie shall come against her with the sword on euery side, and they shall know that I am the Lord.

24 And they shall be no more a picking thome vnto the house of Israel, nor any grieuous thorne of all that are round about thee, and despised them, and they shall know that I am the Lord God.

25 Thus saith the Lord God, When I shall have gathered the house of Israel from the people where they are scattered, and shall be sanctified in them in the sight of the heathen, then shall they dwell in the land, that I haue giuen to my seruant Iacob.

26 And they shall dwell safely therein, and shall build houses and plant vineyards: yea, they shall dwell safely, when I haue executed iudgements vpon all round about them that despise them, and they shall know that I am the Lord their God.

CHAP. XXIX.

He prophesieth against Pharaoh and Egypt. 13 The Lord promisseth that hee will restore Egypt after forty yeres. 18 Egypt is the reward of King Nebuchad-nazzar for the labour which hee tooke against Tyrus.

In the tenth yere, and in the tenth moneth, in the twelfth day of the moneth, the word of the Lord came unto me, saying,

2 Some of man, set thy face against Pharaoh the king of Egypt, and prophesie against him, and against all Egypt.

3 Speake, and say, Thus saith the Lord God, Behold, I come against thee, Pharaoh king of Egypt, the great dragon, that lieth in the middes of his riuers, which hath said, The riuier is mine, and I haue made it for my selfe.

4 But I will put hookes in thy lawes, and I will cause the fish of thy riuers to strike vnto thy scales, and I will drawe thee out of the middes of thy riuers, and all the fish of thy riuers shall strike vnto thy scales.

5 And I will leaue thee in the wilderness, both thee and all the fish of thy riuers: thou shalt fall vpon y open field: thou shalt not be brought together, nor gathered: for I haue giuen thee for meat to the beasts of the field, and to the fowles of the heauen.

6 And all the inhabitants of Egypt shall knowe that I am the Lord, because they haue bene a staffe of reede to the house of Israel.

7 When they tooke holde of thee with their hand, thou diddest breake, and rent all their shoulder: and when they leaned vpon thee, thou brakest and madest at their loines to stand vppright.

8 Therefore thus saith the Lord God, Behold, I will bring a sword vpon thee, and destroy man and beat out of thee, 9 And the land of Egypt shall be desolate, and waste, and they shall knowe that I am the Lord: because he hath said, The riuier is mine, and I haue made it.

10 Beholde, therefore I come vpon thee, and vpon thy riuers, & I will make the land of Egypt utterly waste and desolate from 12 And I will make the land of Egypte desolate in the middes of the countreys that are desolate, and her cities shall be desolate among the cities that are desolate, for fourty yeeres: and I will scatter the Egyptians among the nations, and will disperse them thozow the countreys.

13 Yet thus sayeth the Lord God, * At the end of fourty yeeres will I gather the Egyptians from the people, where they were scattered,

14 And I will bring againe the captiuitie of Egypt, and will cause them to retorne into the land of Pathros, into the land of their habitation, and they shall be there a small kingdome.

15 It shalbe the smallest of the kingdoms, neither shall it exalt it selfe any moze aboute the nations: for I will diminish them, that they shall no more rule the nations.

16 And it shall be no more the confidence of the house of Israel, to bring their iniquitie to remembrance by looking after them, so shall they know, that I am the Lord God.

17 In the i seuen and twentieth yeere also in the first moneth, and in the first day of the moneth, came the word of the Lord vnto me, saying,

18 Sonne of man, Nebuchad-nezzar King of Babel caused his arme to serue a great seruice against Tyus: every head was made balde, and euery shoulder was made bare: yet had hee no wages, nor his arme for Tyus, for the seruice that he serued against it.

19 Therefore thus saith the Lord God, Behold, I will giue the land of Egypt vnto Nebuchad-nezzar the king of Babel, and he shall take her multitude, and spoyle her spoyle, and take her praye, and it shall be the wages of his arme.

20 I haue giuen him the land of Egypt for his labour, that he serued against it, because they wrought for me, sayeth the Lord God.

21 In that day will I cause the horne of the house of Israel to grow, and I will giue thee an open mouth in the middes of them, and they shall know that I am the Lord.

CHAP. XXX.

The destruction of Egypt, and the cities thereof. The word of the Lord came againe vnto me, saying.

2 Sonne of man, prophesie, and say, Thus sayeth the Lord God, Woulc and crie, Woe be vnto this day.

3 For the day is neere, and the day of the Lord is at hand, a cloudie day, and it shall be the time of the heathen.

4 And the sword shall come vpon Egypt, and feare shall bee in Ethiopia, when the flaine shall fall in Egypt, when they shall take away her multitude, & when her foundations shall be broken downe.

5 Ethiopia, and Ibut, and Lud, and all the common people, and Cub, and the men of the land, that is in league, shall fall with them by the sword.

6 Thus sayeth the Lord, They also that maintaine Egypt, shall fall, and the pride of her power shall come downe: from the the tower of Senueh shall they fall by the sword, sayth the Lord God.

7 And they shall be desolate in the middes of the countreys that are desolate, and her cities shall bee in the mids of the cities that are wasted.

8 And they shall knowe that I am the Lord, when I haue set a fire in Egypt, and when all her helpers shalbe destroyed.

9 In that day shall their messengers goe footth from me in ships, to make the carelesse Doies afraid, and feare shall come vpon them as in the day of Egypt: for loe, it commerth.

10 Thus saith the Lorde God, I will also make the multitude of Egypt to cease by the hand of Nebuchad-nezzar King of Babel.

11 For hee and his people with him, euen the terrible nations shall bee brought to destroy the land: and they shall draw their swordes against Egypt, and fill the land with the flaine.

12 And I will make the riuers dry, and sell the land into the hands of the wicked, and I will make the land waste, and all that therein is, by the hands of strangers: I the Lord haue spoken it.

13 Thus sayth the Lord God, I will also destroy the idoles, and I will cause their idoles to cease out of Egypt, and there shall bee no moze a Prince of the land of Egypt, and I will send a feare in the land of Egypt, 14 And I will make Pathros desolate, and will set fire in Zoan, and I will execute iudgement in Do.

15 And I will poyse my wrath vpon Sin, which is the strength of Egypt: and I will destroy the multitude of it.

16 And I will set fire in Egypt: Sin shall haue great sorow: and Do shall be destroyed, and Soph shall haue sorowes dayly.

19 Thus will I execute iudgements in Egypt, and they shall knowe, that I am the Lord.

20 And in the eleuenth yeere, in the first moneth, and in the seuenth day of the moneth, the word of the Lord came vnto mee, saying, 21 Sonne of man, I haue broken the arme of Pharaoh king of Egypt: and loe, it shall not be bound up to be healed, neither shall they put a rolle to bind it, and so make it strong, to hold the sword.

CHAP. XXXI.

2 A comparison of the prosperie of Pharaoh with the prosperie of the Assyrians. 10 He prophesieth a like destruction to them both.

AND in the eleventh yeere, in the thied month, & in the first day of the month, the word of the Lord came unto me, saying,

2 Sonne of man, speake unto Pharaoh king of Egypt, and to his multitude, Whom art thou like in thy greatnesse?

3 Behold, Asshur was like a cedar in Lebanon with faire branches, and with thicke shadowing boughs, and shot by very hie, and his top was among the thicke boughs.

4 The waters nourished him, and the deepe exalted him on high with her riuers running round about his plants, and sent out her little riuers unto all the trees of the field.

5 Therefore his height was exalted aboue all the trees of the field, and his boughs were multiplied, and his branches were long, because of the multitude of y waters, which the deepe lent out.

6 All the foules of the heauen made their nests in his boughs, and vnder his branches did all the beasts of the field bring forth their young, and vnder his shadowe dwelt all mightie nations.

7 Thus was he faire in his greatnesse, and in the length of his branches: for his root was neree great waters.

8 The cedars in the garden of God could not hide him: no firre tree was like his branches, and the chessenut trees were not like his boughs: all the trees in the garden of God were not like unto him in his beautie.

9 I made him faire by the multitude of his branches: so that all the trees of Eden, that were in the garden of God, enuied him.

10 Therefore thus sayeth the Lord God, Because he is lift vp on high, and hath shot by his top among the thicke boughs, and his heart is lift up in his height,

11 I haue therefore deliuered him into the handes of the mightiest among the heathen: he shall handle him, for I haue cast him away for his wickednesse.

12 And the strangers haue destroyed him, euen the terrible nations, and they haue left him vpon the mountaines, and in all the valleys his branches are fallen, and his boughs are broken by all the riuers of the land: and all the people of the earth are departed from his shadow, and haue forgotten him.

13 Upon his ruine shall all the foules of the heauen remaine, and all the beasts of the field shall be vpon his branches.

14 So that none of all the trees by the waters shall be exalted by their height, neither shall shoue by their toppc among the thicke boughs, neither shall their leaues stand by in their height, which drinke so much water: for they are all deliuered vnto death in the nether parts of the earth in the middes of the children of men, among them that goe downe to the pit.

15 Thus sayeth the Lord God, In the day when he went downe to hel, I caused them to mourne, and I covered the deepe for him, and I did restrain the floods thereof, & the great waters were stayed: I caused Lebanon to mourne for him, and all the trees of the field fainted.

16 I made the nations to shake at the sound of his fall, when I cast him downe to hell, with them that descend to the pit, and all the excellent trees of Eden, and the best of Lebanon: euen all that are nourished with waters, shall be comforted in the nether parts of the earth.

17 They also went downe to hell with him vnto them that be slaine with the sword, and his arme, and they that dwell vnder his shadow in the mids of the heathen.

18 To whom art thou thus like in glory and in greatnesse among the trees of Eden: yet thou shalt be cast downe with the trees of Eden vnto the nether parts of the earth: thou shalt sleepe in the mids of the vnercumbered, with them that be slaine by the sword: this is Pharaoh and all his multitude, saith the Lord God.

2 The Prophet is commaunded to bewaile Pharaoh King of Egypt. 12 He prophesieth that destruction shall come vnto Egypt through the King of Babylon.

3 Thus saith the Lorde God, I will therefore spread my nette ouer thee with a great multitude of people, and they shall make thee come vp into my net.

4 Then will I leaue thee vpon the land, and I will cast thee vpon the open fielde, and I will cause all the foules of the heauen to remaine vpon thee, and I will fill desolate, and the countrey with all that is therein, shall be layed waste: when I shall smite all them, which dwell therein, then shall they know that I am the Lord.

16 This is the mourning wherewith they shall lament her: the daughters of the nations shall lament her: they shall lament for Egypt, and for all her multitude, sayeth the Lord God.

17 In the twelfth yeere also, in the fifteenth day of the month, came the word of the Lord vnto me, saying,

18 Sonne of man, lament for the multitude of Egypt, and <sup>k</sup> cast them downe, euen them and the daughters of the mightie nations vnto the nether parts of the earth, with them that goe downe into the pit.

19 Whom doest thou praise <sup>l</sup> in beauty? go downe and sleepe with the vncircumcised.

20 They shall fall in the mids of them that are slaine by the sword: <sup>m</sup> he is deliuered to the sword: draw her downe, and all her multitude.

21 The most mightie and strong shall speake to <sup>n</sup> him out of the mids of hell with them that helpe her: they are gone downe and sleepe with the vncircumcised that bee slaine by the sword.

22 Asshur is there and all his company:
 their graues are aduut him: all they are slaine and fallen by the sword.

 23 Whose graues are made in the stee of the pit, and his multitude are round about his graue: all they are slaine and fallen by the sword, which caused feare to be in the land of the liuing.

24 There is <sup>o</sup> Gham and all his multitude round about his graue: al they are slaine and fallen by the sword, which are gone downe with <sup>p</sup> vncircumcised into the nether parts of the earth, which caused themselves to bee feared in the land of the liuing, yet haue they borne their shame with them that are gone downe to the pit.

25 They haue made his bed in the mids of chellame w al his multitude. their graues are round about him: all they vncircumcised are slaine by the sword: though they haue caused their feare in the land of the liuing, yet haue they borne their shame with them that goe downe to the pit: they are layed in the mids of them that be slaine.

26 There is <sup>q</sup> Hethsch, Tubal, and all their multitude: their graues are round about them: all these vncircumcised were slaine by the sword, though they caused their feare to be in the land of the liuing.

27 And they shall not lie with the valiant <sup>r</sup> of the vncircumcised, that are fallen, which are gone downe to the graue, with their weapons of warre, and haue layd their swordes vnder their heads, but their iniquitie shall bee vpon their bones: because they were the feare of the mighty in the land of the liuing.

28 Pca, thou shalt bee broken in the mids of the vncircumcised: and lie with them that are slaine by the sword.

29 There is <sup>s</sup> EDOM, his kings, and all his princes, which with their strength are layed by them that were slaine by the sword: they shall sleepe with the vncircumcised, & with them that goe downe to the pit.

30 There be al the princes of the North, with al the Zidonians, which are gone downe with the slaine, with their feare: they are ashamed of their strength, and the vncircumcised sleepe with them that bee slaine by the sword, and beare their shame with them that goe downe to the pit.

31 Pharaoh shall see them, and seee shall be <sup>t</sup> comforted ouer all his multitude: Pharaoh and all his armie shall be slaine by the sword, saith the Lord God.

32 For I haue caused my <sup>u</sup> feare to be in the land of the liuing: & hee shall be laid in the mids of the vncircumcised with them that are slaine by the sword, euen Pharaoh and al his multitude, saith the Lord God.

 of me, as they

Or, of their covets.
 a He sheweth that the people ought to have continually governors and teachers which may have a care over them, and to warne them ever of the dangers which are at hand.

I bring the sword upon a land, if the people of the land take a man from among them, and make him their watchman,
 3 If when he seeth the sword come upon the land, hee blow the trumpet, and warne the people,
 4 Then he that heareth the sound of the trumpet, and wil not be warned, if the sword come, and take him away, his blood shall be upon his owne head.
 5 For he heard the sound of the trumpet, and would not be admonished: therefore his blood shall be upon him: but he that receiveth warning, shall save his life.

6 But if the watchman see the sword come, and blowe not the trumpet, and the people bee not warned: if the sword come, and take any person from among them, hee is taken away for his iniquitie, but his blood will I require at the watchmans hand.

7 So thou, O sonne of man, I have made thee a watchman unto the house of Israel: therefore thou shalt heare the word at my mouth, and admonish them from me.

8 When I shall say unto the wicked, O wicked man, thou shalt die the death, if thou dost not speake, and admonish the wicked of his way, that wicked man shall die for his iniquitie: but his blood will I require at thine hand.

9 Nevertheless, if thou warne the wicked of his way, to turne from it, if hee doe not turne from his way, yee shall die for his iniquitie, but thou shalt deliver thy soule.

10 Therefore, O thou son of man, speake unto the house of Israel, Thus ye shall say, and say, If our transgressions & our sinnes be upon vs, and we are consumed because of them, how should we then live?

11 Say unto them, As I live, sayeth the Lord God, I desire not the death of the wicked, but that the wicked turne from his way & live: turne you, turne you from your evil wayes, for why will ye die, O yee house of Israel?

12 Therefore thou sonne of man, say unto the children of thy people, The righteousnesse of the righteous shall not deliver him in the day of his transgression, nor the wickednesse of the wicked shall cause him to fall therein, in the day that hee returneth from his wickednesse, neither shall the righteous live for his righteousnesse in the day that hee sinneth.

13 When I shall say unto the righteous, that he shall surely live, if hee trust to his owne righteousnesse, and commit iniquity, all his righteousnesse shall bee no more remembered, but for his iniquitie that he hath committed, he shall die for the same.

14 Again, when I shall say unto the wicked, Thou shalt die the death, if hee turne from his sinne, and do that which is lawfull and right, 15 To wit, if the wicked restore the pledge, and give againe that he had robbed, & walke in the statutes of life, without committing iniquitie, he shall surely live, and not die.

16 None of his sinnes that hee hath committed, shall be mentioned unto him, because he hath done that which is lawfull & right, he shall surely live.

17 Yet the children of thy people say, The way of the Lord is not equal: but their owne way is unquall.

18 When the righteous turneth from his righteousnesse, and committeth iniquity, hee shall even die thereby.

19 But if the wicked returne from his wickednesse, and doe that which is lawfull and right, he shall live thereby.

20 Yet ye say, the way of the Lord is not equal. O ye house of Israel, I will iudge you every one after his wayes.

21 Also in the twelfth yeere of our captivity, in the tenth month, and in the fift day of the month, one that had escaped out of Jerusalem, came unto me, and said, The citie is smitten.

22 Now the hand of the Lord had bene upon me in the evening afore hee that had escaped, came, and had opened my mouth, until he came to me in the morning: and when he had opened my mouth, I was no more dumbe.

23 Againe the word of the Lord came unto me, and said,

24 Sonne of man, these that dwell in the desolate places of the land of Israel, talke and say, Abraham was but one, and he possessed the land: but we are many, therefore the land shall be given vs in possession.

25 Wherefore say unto them, Thus saith the Lord God, Yee eate with the blood, and lift up your eyes toward your idoles, and shed blood: should yee then possess the land?

26 Yee leane upon your swordes: yee worke abomination, and ye defile every one his neighbours wife: should ye then possess the land?

27 Say thus unto them, Thus saith the Lord God, As I live, so surely they that are in the desolate places, shall fall by the sword: and him that is in the open field, will I give unto the beasts to be devoured: and they that be in the forts and in the caues, shall dye of the pestilence.

28 For I will lay the land desolate and waste, and the poyne of her strenght shall cease, and the mountaines of Israel shall be desolate, and none shall passe thowow.

29 Then shall they know that I am the Lord, when I have layd the land desolate and waste, because of all their abominacions that they have committed.

30 Also thou sonne of man, the children of thy people that talk of thee by the wals and in the doores of houses, & speake one to another, every one to his brother, saying, Come, I pray you, and heare what is the word that cometh from the Lord.

31 For they come unto thee, as the people vish to come: and my people sit before thee, and heare thy wordes, but they will not doe them: for with their mouthes they make vnto thee, and their heart goeth after their covetousnesse.

32 And loe, thou art unto them, as a jesting song of one that hath a pleasant voice, and can sing well: for they heare thy wordes, but

CHAP. XXXIIII.

2 Against the shepherdes that despised the flocke of Christ, and seeke their owne gaine. 7 The Lord saith that he will visite his dispersed flocke, and gather them together. 23 Hee promisseth the true shepheard Christ, and with him peace.

And the word of the Lord came vnto me, saying,

1 Sonne of man, prophesse against the shepherdes of Israel, prophesse and say vnto them, Thus saith the Lord God vnto the shepherdes, * Come be vnto the shepherdes of Israel, that feede themselves: should not the shepherdes feede the flocke?

3 Ye eate the fat, and ye cloth you with the wool: ye kill them that are fed, but ye feede not the sheepe.

4 The weake haue yee not strengthened: the sick haue yee not healed, neither haue yee bound vp the broken, nor brought againe that which was diuen away, neither haue yee sought that which was sold, but with crueltye, and with rigour haue yee ruled them.

5 And they were scattered without a shepheard: and when they were dispersed, they were deuoured of all the beasts of the field.

6 My sheepe wandered thorow all the mountaynes, and vpon euery high hill: yea, my flock was scattered thorow all the earth, and none did seeke or search after them.

7 Therefore yee shepherdes, heare the word of the Lord.

8 As I liue, saith the Lord God, surely because my flocke was spoiled, and my sheepe were deuoured of all the beasts of the field, hauing no shepheard, neither did my shepherdes seeke my sheepe, but the shepherdes fed themselves, and fed not my sheepe, 9 Therefore heare yee the word of the Lord, O yee shepherdes.

10 Thus saith the Lord God, Behold, I come against the shepherdes, and will requite my sheepe at their hands, and cause them to cease from feeding the sheepe: neither shall the shepherdes feede themselves any more: for I will deliuer my sheepe from their mouthes, and they shall no more deuoure them.

11 For thus saith the Lord God, Behold, I will search my sheepe, and seeke them out.

12 As a shepheard searcheth out his flock, when hee hath bene among his sheepe that are scattered, so will I seeke out my sheepe, and will deliuer them out of all places, where they haue bene scattered in the cloudie and darke day.

13 And I will bring them out from the people, and gather them from the countries, and will bring them to their owne land, and feede them vpon the mountaynes of Israel, by the riuers, and all the inhabited places of the countrey.

14 I will feede them in a good pasture, and vpon the hic mountaynes of Israel shall their folde bee: there shall they lie in a good folde, and in fat pasture shall they feede vpon the mountaynes of Israel.

15 I will feede my sheepe, and bring them to their rest, saith the Lord God.

16 I will seeke that which was lost, and bring againe that which was diuen away, and will binde vp that which was broken, and will strengthen the weake, but I will destroy the fat and the strong, and I will feede them with iudgement.

17 Also you my sheepe, Thus saith the Lord God, Behold, I iudge betweene sheepe and sheepe, betweene the raimes and the goates.

18 Seemeth it a small thing vnto you to haue eaten vp the good pasture, but ye must treade downe with your fete the residue of your pasture: and to haue drunk of the deepe waters, but ye must trouble the residue with your fete?

19 And my sheepe eat that which ye haue troden with your fete, & drinke that which ye haue troubled with your fete.

20 Therefore thus saith the Lord God vnto them, Behold, I, euen I will iudge betweene the fat sheepe and the lean sheepe.

21 Because yee haue thrust with side and with shoulder, and pushed all the weake with your hornes, till yee haue scattered them abroad, 22 Therefore will I helpe my sheepe, and they shall no more bee spoiled, and I will iudge betweene sheepe and sheepe.

23 And I will see vp a shepheard ouer them, and he shall feede them, euen my seruant Dauid, hee shall feede them, and hee shall be their shepheard.

24 And I the Lord will be their God, and my seruant Dauid shall be the prince among them. I the Lord haue spoken it.

25 And I will make with them a covenant of peace, and will cause the euill beasts to cease out of the land: and they shall dwell safely in the wilderness, and sleepe in the woods.

26 And I will set them, as a blessing, euen round about my mountaine: and I will cause raine to come down in due season, and there shall bee raine of blessing.

27 And the tree of the field shall yeelde her fruite, and the earth shall giue her fruite, and they shall bee safe in their land, and shall know that I am the Lord, when I haue broken the coardes of their yoke, and deliuered them out of the hands of those that serued themselves of them.

28 And they shall no more bee spoiled of the heathen, neither shall the beasts of the land deuoure them, but they shall dwell safely, and none shall make them afraid.

29 And I will raise vp for them a plant of renowne, and they shall bee no more consumed with hunger in the land, neither beare the reproch of the heathen any more.

30 Thus shall they vnderstand, that I the Lord their God am with them, and that they, euen the house of Israel, are my people, saith the Lord God.

31 And ye my sheepe, the sheepe of my pasture are men, and I am your God, saith the Lord God.

1. By the shepherds he meaneth the king, the Magistrates, Priests and Prophets.

2. Ye seeke to enrich your selues by their commodities, & so spoyle their riches and substance.

4. For lacke of good gouernement & doctrine they perished.

5. By destroying the couetous hirelings, and restoring true shepherds: whereof we haue a signe, so oft as God sendeth true preachers, who both by doctrine and life labour to feed his sheepe in the pleasant pastures of his word.

k Meaning Christ, of whom Dauid was a figure, Iere 30.9. hofe 3.5.

l This declareth that vnder Christ the flocke should be truly deliuered from sinne, and hell, and so bee safely preserved in the Church where they should neuer perish.

m The fruit of Gods graces shall appear in great abundance in his Church.

n That is, the rod that shall come out of the roote of Ithai, Isa 11.1.

CHAP. XXXV.

2 The destruction that shall come on moane Seir, because they troubled the people of the Lord. Moreover the word of the Lord came vnto me, saying,

2 Sonne of man, set thy face against mount Seir, and prophesie against it, 3 And say vnto it, Thus saith the Lord God, Behold, I will stretch out mine hand against thee, and I will make thee desolate and waste.

4 I will lay thy cities waste, and thou shalt be desolate, and thou shalt know that I am the Lord.

5 Because thou hast had a perpetual hatred and hast put the children of Israel to flight by the force of the sword in the time of their calamitie, when their iniquitie had an end,

6 Therefore as I live, saith the Lord God, I will prepare thee vnto blood, and blood shall pursue thee: except thou hate blood, euen blood shall pursue thee.

7 Thus will I make mount Seir desolate, and waste, and cut off from it him that passeth out, and him that returneth.

8 And I will fill his mountaines with hye flaine men: in thine hils, and in thy valleys, and in all thy riuers shall they fall, that are flaine with the sword.

9 I will make thee perpetual desolations, and thy cities shall not returne, and ye shall know that I am the Lord.

10 Because thou hast said, These two nations, and these two countreys shall be mine, and wee will possesse them (seeing the Lord was not there.)

11 Therefore as I live, saith the Lord God, I will euen doe according to thy wrath, and according to thine indignation which thou hast vsed in thine hatred against them: and I will make my selfe knowne among them when I haue iudged thee.

12 And thou shalt know, that I the Lord haue heard all thy blasphemies which thou hast spoken against the mountaines of Israel, saying, They lie waste, they are giuen vs to be deuoured.

13 Thus with your mouthes ye haue boasted against mee, and haue multiplied your wordes against mee: I haue heard them.

14 Thus saith the Lord God, So shall all the world reioyce, when I shall make thee desolate.

15 As thou diddest reioyce at the inheritance of the house of Israel, because it was desolate, so will I doe vnto thee: thou shalt be desolate, I mount Seir, and all Iudnea wholly, and they shall know, that I am the Lord.

CHAP. XXXVI:

8 He promisseth to deliuer Israel from the Gentiles. 22 The benefits done vnto the Iewes, are to bee ascribed to the mercie of God, and not vnto their desertings. 26 God reneweth our hearts, that we may walke in his commandment.

Also thou sonne of man, prophesie vnto the mountaines of Israel, and say vnto the mountaines of Israel, heare the word of the Lord.

2 Thus sayeth the Lord God, Because the enimie hath said against you, A ha, euen the b hie places of the world are ours in possession,

3 Therefore prophesie, & say, Thus saith the Lord God, Because that they haue made you desolate, and swallowed you vp on every side, that ye might bee a possession vnto the residue of the heathen, and ye are come vnto the lips and tongues of men, and vnto the reproch of the people,

4 Therefore see mountaines of Israel, heare the word of the Lord God, Thus saith the Lord God to the mountaines and to the hils, to the riuers, and to the valleys, and to the waste and desolate places, and to the cities that are forsaken: which are spoyled and had in derision of the residue of the heathen that are round about.

5 Therefore thus saith the Lord God, Surely in the fire of mine indignation haue I spoken against the residue of the heathen, and against all Iudnea which haue taken my land for their possession, with the top of all their heart, and with desighfull mundes to cast it out for a pray.

6 Prophesie therefore vpon the land of Israel, and say vnto the mountaines, and to the hilles, to the riuers, and to the valleys, Thus sayeth the Lord God, Behold, I haue spoken in mine indignation, & in my wrath, because ye haue suffered the shame of the heathen,

7 Therefore thus saith the Lord God, I haue lifted by mine hand, surely the heathen that are about you, shall beare their shame.

8 But you, O mountaines of Israel, ye shall shoote forth your branches, and bring forth your fruit to my people of Israel: for they are ready to come.

9 For behold, I come vnto you, and I will turne vnto you, and ye shall be filled and sowne.

10 And I will multiply the men vpon you, euen all the house of Israel wholly, and the cities shall be inhabited, and the desolate places shall be builded.

11 And I will multiply vpon you man and beast, and they shall increase and bring fruit, and I will cause you to dwell after your old estate, and I will bestow benefites vpon you more then at the first, and ye shall know that I am the Lord.

12 Yea, I will cause men to walke vpon you, euen my people Israel, and they shall possesse you, and ye shall be their inheritance, and ye shall no more henceforth depriue them of men.

13 Thus saith the Lord God, Because they say vnto you, Thou art deuoured by men, and hast bene a waste of thy people,

14 Therefore thou shalt deuoure men no more, neither waste thy people henceforth, saith the Lord God, 15 Neither will I cause men to beare in thee the shame of the heathen any more, neither shalt thou beare the reproch of the people any more, neither shalt cause thy folke to fall any more, saith the Lord God.

d Which signifieth the ioyning together of the two houses of Israel and Iudah, 17 And thou shalt ioyne them one to another into one tree, and they shall be as one in thine hand.

18 And when the children of thy people shall speake vnto thee, saying, All thou hast said is what thou meanest by these?

19 Thou shalt answer them, Thus sayth the Lord God, Behold, I will take the tree of Ioseph, which is in the hand of Ephyraim, and the tribes of Israel his fellowes, and will put them with him, even with the tree of Iudah, and make them one tree, and they shall be one in mine hand.

e That is, the house of Israel.

20 And the peece of wood whereon thou writest, shall be in thine hand in their sight.

21 And say vnto them, Thus sayth the Lord God, Behold, I will take the children of Israel from among the heathen whither they be gone, and will gather them on euery side, and bring them into their owne land.

22 And I will make them one people in the lande vpon the mountaines of Israel, & one king shall be king to them all: and they shall be no more two peoples, neither bee diuided any more henceforth into two kingdomes.

23 Neither shall they bee polluted any more with their idoles, nor with their abominations, nor with any of their transgressions: but I will saue them out of all their dwelling places, wherein they haue sinned, and will cleanse them: so shall they bee my people, and I will be their God.

24 And Dauid my seruant shall be king ouer them, and they shall all haue one shepheard: they shall also walke in my iudgements, and obserue my statutes, and doe them.

25 And they shall dwell in the land, that I haue giuen vnto Iacob my seruant, where your fathers haue dwelt, and they shall dwell therein, euen they and their sonnes, and their sonnes sonnes for euer, and my seruant Dauid shall be their prince for euer.

CHAP. XXXVIII.

¶ See propheseth that Gog and Magog shall fight with great power against the people of God.

1 Their destruction. And the word of the Lord came vnto me, saying,

2 Sonne of man, let thy face against Gog, and against the land of Magog, the chiefe prince of Meshech and Tubal, and prophesie against them.

3 And say, Thus sayth the Lord God, Behold, I come against thee, O Gog the chiefe prince of Meshech and Tubal.

4 And I will destroy thee, and put hookes in thy iawes, and I will bring thee forth, and all thine hoste, both horses, and horsemen, all clothed with all sorts of armour, euen a great multitude with bucklers & shields, all handling swords.

5 They of Paras, of Cass, and Phit with them, euen all they that beare shield and helmet.

6 Gomer and all his bandes, and the house of Togarmah of the North quarters, and all his bandes, and much people with thee.

7 Prepare thy selfe, and make thee ready, both thou, and all thy multitude, that are assembled vnto thee, and bee thou their safeguard.

8 After many dayes thou shalt bee visited: for in the latter yeeres thou shalt come into the land, that hath been destroyed with the sword, and is gathered out of many people vpon the mountaines of Israel, which haue long liew walke: yet they haue beene brought out of the people, and they shall dwell all safe.

9 Thou shalt ascend and come by like a tempest, and shalt be like a cloud to cover the land, both thou and all thy bands, and many people with thee.

10 Thus sayth the Lord God, Euen at the same time shall many things come into thy minde, and thou shalt thinke as euill thoughts, 11 And thou shalt say, I will goe by to the lande that hath no walled towres: for I will goe to them that are at rest, and dwell in safety, which dwell all without walles, and haue neither barres nor gates.

14 Therefore some of man, prophesie, and say vnto Gog, Thus sayth the Lorde God, In that day when my people of Israel dwell in safety, shalt thou not know it,

15 And come from thy place out of the North parts, thou and much people with thee: all shall ride vpon horses, euen a great multitude and a mighty army.

16 And thou shalt come vp against my people of Israel, as a cloud to couer the land: thou shalt be in the latter dayes, and I will bring thee vpon my land, that the heathen may know me, when I shall be sanctified in thee, O Gog, before their eyes.

17 Thus sayth the Lord God, Art not thou he, of whom I haue spoken in old time, by the hand of my seruants the Prophets of Israel, which prophesied in those dayes and yeres, that I would bring thee vpon them?

21 For I will call for a sword against him: throughout all my mountaines, sayth the Lord God: euery mans sword shall be against his brother.

22 And I will pleade against him with pestilence, and with blood, and I will cause to raine vpon him and vpon his bands, and vpon the great people, that are with him, a sore raine, and haille stones, fire, and vntill stone.

23 Thus will I be magnified, and sanctified, and known in the eyes of many nations, and they shall knowe that I am the Lord.

CHAP. XXXIX.

1 Hee sheweth the destruction of Gog and Magog. 11 The graues of Gog and his host. 17 They shall bee deuoured of birds and beasts. 23 Wherefore the house of Israel is captiue. 24 Their bringing againe from captiuitie is promised.

Therefore thou some of man, prophesie against Gog, and say, Thus sayth the Lord God, behold, I come against thee, O Gog, the cheefe Prince of Meserch and Tubal.

2 And I will destroy thee, and leaue but the first part of thee, and will cause thee to come vp from the North parts, & will bring thee vpon the mountaines of Israel:

3 And I will smite thy bowe out of thy left hand, and I will cause thine arrowes to fall out of thy right hand.

4 Thou shalt fall vpon the mountaines of Israel, and all the bands, and the people, that is with thee: for I will giue thee vnto the birds, and to euery feathered soule and beast of the field to be deuoured.

5 Thou shalt fall vpon the open field: for I haue spoken it, sayth the Lord God.

6 And I will send a fire on Magog, and among them that dwell safely in the Cities, and they shall know that I am the Lord.

7 So will I make mine holy Name known in the middes of my people Israel, and I will not suffer them to pollute mine holy Name any more, and the heathen shall know that I am the Lorde, the holy One of Israel.

8 Behold, it is come, and it is done, sayth the Lord God: this is the day whereof I haue spoken.

9 And they that dwell in the cities of Israel, shall goe forth, and shall burne and set fire vpon the weapons, on the shields, and bucklers, vpon the bowes, and vpon the arrows, and vpon the stauces in their hands, and vpon the speares, and they shall burne them with fire seuen yeres.

10 So that they shall bring no wood out of the field, neither cut downe any out of the forestes: for they shall burne the weapons with fire, and they shall robbe those that robbed them, and spoile those that spoiled them, sayth the Lord God.

11 And at the same time will I giue vnto Gog a place there for buriall in Israel, euen the valley whereby men go toward the East part of the sea: and it shall cause them that passe by, to stoppe their noses, and there shall they bury Gog with all his multitude: and they shall call it the valley of Hamon-gog.

12 And seuen moneths long shall the house of Israel be burying of them, that they may cleanse the land.

13 Yea, all the people of the land shall bury them, and they shall haue a name when I shall be glorified, sayth the Lord God.

14 And they shall chuse out men to go continually thowen the land: and them that trauaile, to bury those that remaine vpon the ground, to cleanse it: they shall search to the end of seuen moneths.

15 And the trauellers that passe thowen the land, if any see a mans bone, then shall he set vp a signe by it, till the buriers haue buried it, in the valley of Hamon-gog.

16 And also the name of the citie shall be Hamonah: thus shall they cleanse the land.

17 And thou sonne of man, thus sayth the Lorde God, Speake vnto euery feathered soule, and to all the beastes of the field, Assemble your selues, and come: gather your selues on euery side to my sacrifice, for I doe sacrifice a great sacrifice for you vpon the mountaynes of Israel, that ye may eat fleshy and drinke blood.

18 Yee shall eat the flesh of the baliart, and drinke the blood of the Princes of the earth, of the weathers, of the lambs, and of the goats, and of bullockes, euen of all fatte beastes of Bashan.

e After this destruction the Church shall haue great peace and tranquility, and burne all their weapons, because they shall no more feare the enemy: and this is chiefly meant of the accomplishment of Christs kingdom, when by their head Christ all enemies shall be overcome.

l Signifying, that God will be sanctified by maintaining his Church, and destroying his enemies, as Chap. 36, 23, and 37, 28.

m Hereby hee declareth that none affliction can come to the Church, whereof they haue not been advertised aforetime, to teach them to endure all things with more patience, when they know that God hath so ordained.

and drinke blood, till ye be drunken of my sacrifice, which I have sacrificed for you.

20 Thus you shall be filled at my table with horses and chariots, with valiant men, and with all men of warre, sayth the Lord God.

21 And I will set my glory among the heathen, and all the heathen shall see my judgement, that I have executed, and mine hand, which I have layd upon them.

22 So the house of Israel shall knowe, that I am the Lord their God from that day and so forth.

23 And the heathen shall knowe, that the house of Israel went into captiuitie for their iniquity, because they trespassed against me: therefore hid I my face from them, and gaue them into the hand of their enemies: so fell they all by the sword.

24 According to their uncleannes, and according to their transgressions haue I done unto them, and hid my face from them.

25 Therefore thus sayth the Lord God, Howe will I bring againe the captiuitie of Iacob, & haue compassion vpon the whole house of Israel, and will be zealous for mine holy Name.

26 After that they haue borne their shame, and all their transgression, whereby they haue transgressed against mee, when they dwelt safely in their land, and without feare of any.

27 When I haue brought them againe from the people, & gathered them out of their enemies lands, and an<sup>a</sup> an<sup>a</sup> sanctified in them in the sight of many nations, 28 Then shall they knowe, that I am the Lord their God, which caused them to be ledde into captiuitie among the heathen: but I haue gathered them vnto their owne lande, and haue left none of them any more there.

29 Neither wil I hide my face any more from them: for I haue powred out my Spirit vpon the house of Israel, sayth the Lord God.

The restoring of the Citie and the Temple.

I <sup>a</sup>sd the sine and twentieth yeere of our being in captiuitie, in the<sup>a</sup> beginning of the yeere, in the tenth day of the moneth, in the fourteenth yeere after that the citie was smitten, in the selfe same day, the hand of the Lord was vpon mee, and brought mee thither.

2 Into the land of Israel brought he me by a diuine vision, and see me vpon a very hye mountayne, whereupon was as the building of a citie toward the South.

3 And he brought me thither, & behold, there was a<sup>b</sup> man, whose similitude was to looke to, like brasse, with a linnen thread in his hand, and a reed to measure with: and he stood at the gate.

4 And the man sayd vnto me, Sonne of man, behold with thine eyes, and heare with thine eares, and set thine heart vpon al that I shall shew thee: for to the intent that they might see shewed thee, art thou brought hither: Declare al that thou seest vnto the house of Israel.

5 And behold, I saw a wall on the outside of the house round about: and in the mans hand was a reede to measure with, of six cubites long, by the cubite, and an hand breadth: so hee measured the breadth of the building with one reed, and the height with one reede.

6 Then came he vnto the gate, which looketh towards the East, and went by the skales thereof, and measured the<sup>a</sup> polle of the gate, which was one reede broad, and the other polle of the gate, which was one reede broad.

7 And every chamber was one reed long, and one reed broad, and betwene the chambers were six cubites: and the polle of the gate by the porch of the gate within was one reede.

8 He measured also the porch of the gate within with one reede.

9 Then measured hee the porch of the gate of eight cubites, and the polles thereof, of two cubites, and the porch of the gate was inward.

10 And the chambers of the gate Eastward, were three on this side, and three on that side: they three were of one measure, and the polles had one measure on this side, and one on that side.

11 And hee measured the breadth of the entrie of the gate ten cubites, and the height of the gate thirtene cubites.

12 The space also before the chambers was one cubite on this side, and the space was one cubite on that side, and the chambers were six cubites on this side, and six cubits on that side.

13 Hee measured then the gate from the rooffe of a chamber to the top of the gate: the breadth was sixe and twenty cubites, doore against doore.

14 Hee made also postes of threescore cubites, and the postes of the court, and of the gate had one measure round about.

15 And vpon the forefront of the entrie of the gate vnto the forefront of the porch of the gate within were sixtie cubites.

16 And there were narrowe windowes in the chambers, and in their postes within the gate round about, and likewise to the arches: and the windowes were round about within: and vpon the postes were palme trees.

17 Then brought he mee into the outward court, and loe, there were chambers, and a pavement made for the court round about, and thirtie chambers were vpon the pavement.

18 And the pavement was by the side of the gates ouer against the length of the gates, and the pavement was beneath.

19 Then hee measured the breadth from the forefront of the lower gate without, vnto the forefront of the court within, an hundred cubites Eastward and Northward.

20 And the gate of the outward court, that looked toward the North, measured hee after the length and breadth thereof.

23 And the gate of the inner court stood ouer against the gate toward the North, and toward the East, and he measured from gate to gate an hundred cubites.

24 After that, he brought me toward the South, and loe, there was a gate toward the South, and he measured the postes thereof, and the arches thereof according to these measures.

25 And there were windowes in it, and in the arches thereof round about like those windowes: the height was fiftie cubites, and the breadth five and twentie cubites.

30 And the arches round about were five and twentie cubites long, and five cubites broad.

31 And the arches thereof were toward the utter court, and palme trees were vpon the posts thereof, and the going vp to it had eight steps.

32 And againe hee brought me into the inner court toward the East, and he measured the gate according to these measures.

33 And the chambers thereof, & the postes thereof, and the arches thereof were according to these measures, and there were windowes therein, and the arches thereof round about, it was fiftie cubites long, and five and twentie cubites broad.

34 And the arches thereof were toward the utter court, and palme trees were vpon the postes thereof, on this side and on that side, and the going vp to it had eight steps.

35 After, hee brought me to the North gate, and measured it, according to these measures, 36 The chambers thereof, the postes thereof, and the arches thereof, and there were windowes therera round about: the height was fiftie cubites, and the breadth five and twentie cubites.

37 And the postes thereof were toward the utter court, and palme trees were vpon the postes thereof on this side, and on that side, and the going vp to it had eight steps.

38 And euery chamber, and the entrie thereof was vnder the postes of the gates: there they washed the burnt offering.

39 And in the porch of the gate stood two tables on this side, and two tables on that side, vpon the which they slew the burnt offering, and the sime offering, and the trespass offering.

40 And at the side beyond the steps, at the entrie of the North gate stood two cubites, & on the other side, which was at the porch of the gate, were two tables.

41 Foure tables were on this side, and foure tables on that side by the side of the gate, euen eight tables wherevpon they slew their sacrifice.

42 And the foure tables were of hewen stone for the burnt offering, of a cubit and an halfe long, and a cubite and an halfe broad, and one cubit hie: wherevpon also they laide the instruments wherewith they slew the burnt offering and the sacrifice.

43 And within were borders an hand broad, fastned round about, and vpon the tables lay the fleshy of the offering.

44 And without the inner gate, were the chambers of the singers in the inner court, which was at the side of the North gate: and their prospect was toward the South, and one was at the side of the East gate, hauing the prospect toward the North.

45 And hee said vnto me, This chamber whose prospect is toward the South, is for the Priests that haue charge to keepe the house.

46 And the chamber whose prospect is toward the North, is for the Priests that haue the charge to keepe the altar: these are the sonnes of Zadok among the sonnes of Leuit, which may come nere to the Lord to minister vnto him.

47 So hee measured the court an hundred cubites long, and an hundred cubites broad, euen foure square: likewise the altar that was before the house.

48 And he brought me to the porch of the house, and measured the postes of the porch, five cubites on this side, and five cubites on that side: and the breadth of the gate was three cubites on this side, and three cubites on that side.

49 The length of the porch was twentie cubites, and the breadth eleuen cubites, and he brought me by the steps wherby they went vp to it, and there were pillars by the postes, one on this side, and another on that side.

1 The disposition and order of the building of the Temple and the other things thereto belonging.

Afterward, hee brought me to the Temple and measured the postes, five cubites broad on the one side, and five cubites broad on the other side, which was the breadth of the Tabernacle.

2 And the breadth of the entrie was ten cubites, and the sides of the entrie were five cubites on the one side, and five cubites on the other side, and hee measured the length thereof forty cubites, and the breadth twentie cubites.

3 Then went hee in, and measured the postes poſtes of the entrie two cubites, and the entrie ſixe cubites, and the breadth of the entrie ſeven cubites.

4 So hee measured the length thereof twentie cubites, and the breadth twentie cubites before the Temple. And hee ſaid unto me, This is the moſt holy place.

5 After, hee measured the wall of the houſe, ſixe cubites, and the breadth of every chamber foure cubits round about the houſe on every ſide.

6 And the chambers were chamber upon chamber, thre and thirtie foote high, and they entred into the wal made for the chambers which was round about the houſe, that the poſts might be faſtned therein, and not be faſtned in the wall of the houſe.

7 And it was large, and went round mounting upward to the chambers: for the ſtaire of the houſe was mounting upward round about the houſe: therefore the houſe was larger upward: ſo they went by from the loweſt chamber to the higheſt by the mids.

8 I ſaw alſo the houſe hie round about: the foundations of the chambers were a full reede of ſixe great cubites.

9 The thickneſſe of the wall which was for the chamber without was ſixe cubites, and that which remained, was the place of the chambers that were within.

10 And betweene the chambers was the wideſſe of twentie cubits round about the houſe on every ſide.

11 And the doores of the chambers were toward the place that remained, one dooze toward the South, and another dooze toward the South, and the breadth of the place that remained, was ſixe cubites round about.

12 Now the building that was before the ſeparate place toward the Weſt corner, was ſeventie cubites broad, and the wall of the building was ſixe cubites thicke, round about, and the length ninetie cubites.

13 So he measured the houſe an hundred cubites long, and the ſeparate place, and the building with the wals thereof were an hundred cubites long.

14 Alſo the breadth of the forefront of the houſe, and of the ſeparate place toward the Eaſt, was an hundred cubites.

15 And hee measured the length of the building, over againſt the ſeparate place, which was behinde it, and the chambers on the one ſide, and on the other ſide an hundred cubites with the temple within, and the arches of the court.

16 The poſts and the narrow windowes, and the chambers round about, on three ſides over againſt the poſtes, ſieled with cedar wood round about, and from the ground up to the windowes, and the windowes were ſieled.

17 And from above the dooze unto the inner houſe and without, and by all the wall round about within and without it was ſieled according to the meaſure.

18 And it was made with Cherubims and palme trees, ſo that a palme tree was betwene a Cherub and a Cherub: and every Cherub had two faces.

19 So that the face of a man was toward the palme tree on the one ſide, and the face of a lion toward the palme tree on the other ſide: thus was it made throughout all the houſe round about.

20 From the ground unto above the dooze were Cherubims and palme trees made as in the wall of the Temple.

21 The poſtes of the Temple were ſquare, and thus to looke unto was the ſimilitude and ſorme of the Sanctuarie.

22 The altar of wood was three cubites hie, and the length thereof two cubites, and the corners thereof, and the length thereof, and the ſides thereof were of wood. And hee ſaid unto me, This is the table that ſhall be before the Lord.

23 And the Temple and the Sanctuarie had two doozes.

24 And the doozes had two wickets, even two turning wickets, two wickets for one dooze, and two wickets for another dooze.

25 And upon the doozes of the Temple there were made Cherubims, and palme trees, like as was made upon the wals, and there were thicke planks upon the forefront of the porch without.

26 And there were narrow windowes and palme trees on the one ſide, and on the other ſide, by the ſides of the porch, and upon the ſides of the houſe, and thicke planks.

CHAP. XLII.

Of the chambers of the Temple for the Priests, and the holy things.

Then brought hee me to the utter court by the way toward the South, and hee brought me into the chamber that was over againſt the ſeparate place, and which was before the building toward the South.

2 Before the length of an hundred cubites, was the South dooze, and it was ſixtie cubites broad.

3 Over againſt the twentie cubits which were for the inner court, and over againſt the pavement, which was for the utter court, was chamber againſt chamber in three rowes.

4 And before the chambers was a gallerie of tenn cubites wide, and within was a way of one cubite, and their doozes toward the South.

5 Now the chambers above were narrower: for thoſe chambers ſeemed to eate by theſe, to wit, the lower, and thoſe that were in the mids of the building.

6 For they were in three rowes, but had not pillars as the pillars of the court: therefore there was a difference from them beneath and from the middlemoſt, even from the ground.

7 And the wall that was without over againſt the chambers, toward the utter court on the forefront of the chambers, was ſixtie cubites long.

8 For the length of the chambers that were in the utter court, was ſixtie cubites: and loe, before the Temple were an hundred cubites.

9 And under these chambers was the entrie, on the West side, as one goeth into them from the outward court.

10 The chambers were in the thicknes of the wall of the court toward the East, one against the separate place, and one against the building.

11 And the way before them was after the maner of the chambers, which were toward the North, as long as they, and as broad as they: and all their entries were like, both according to their fashions, and according to their doozes.

12 And according to the doozes of the chambers that were toward the South, was a dooze in the corner of the way, even the way directly before the wall toward the East, as one entereth.

13 Then said hee vnto mee, The North chambers and the South chambers which are before the separate place, they bee holy chambers, wherein the Priests that appoach vnto the Lorde, shall eate the most holy things: there shall they lay the most holy things, and the meat offering, and the sinne offering, and the trespass offering: for the place is holy.

14 When the Priests enter therein, they shall not goe out of the holy place into the utter court, but there they shall lay their garments wherein they minister: for they are holy, and shall put on other garments, and I shall appoach to those things which are for the people.

15 Now when they had made an end of measuring the inner house, hee brought mee forth toward the gate whose prospect is toward the East, & measured it round about.

16 Hee measured the East side with the measuring rod, five hundred reedes, even with the measuring reed round about.

17 Hee measured also the North side, five hundred reedes, even with the measuring reed round about.

18 And he measured the South side, five hundred reedes with the measuring reed.

19 He turned about also to the West side, and measured five hundred reedes with the measuring reed.

20 He measured it by the foure sides: it had a wall round about, five hundred reedes long, and five hundred broad to make a separation betwene the Sanctuary and the prophane place.

CHAP. XLIII.

2 Hee seeth the glory of God going into the Temple, from whence it had before departed. 7 Hee mentioineth the idolatry of the children of Israel for the which they were consumed and brought to nothing. 9 He is commanded to call them againe to repentance.

Afterward hee brought mee to the gate, even the gate that turneth toward the East.

2 And behold, the glory of the God of Israel came from out of the East, whose voyce was like a noise of great waters, and the earth was made light with his glory.

3 And the vision which I saw was like the vision, even as the vision that I saw when I came to destroy the citie: and the visions were like the vision that I saw by the river Chebar: and I fell vpon my face.

4 And the glory of the Lord came into the house by the way of the gate, whose prospect is toward the East.

5 So the Spirit tooke me by, & brought me into the inner court, and behold the glory of the Lord filled the house.

6 And I heard one speaking vnto me out of the house: and there stood a man by me,

7 Which sayd vnto me, Sonne of man, this place is my throne, and the place of the soles of my feet, whereas I wil dwell among the children of Israel for euer, and the house of Israel shall no more defile mine holy Name, neither they, nor their kings by their fornication, nor by the carkeles of their kings in their he places.

8 Albeit they let their thresholds by my thresholds, and their postes by my postes (for there was but a wall between me and them) yet haue they defiled mine holy Name with their abominations, that they haue committed: wherefore I haue consumed them in my wrath.

9 Now therefore let them put away their fornication, and the carkeles of their kings farre from me, and I wil dwell among them for euer.

10 Thou sonne of man, shew this house to the house of Israel, that they may be ashamed of their wickednes, and let them measure the paterne.

11 And if they be ashamed of all that they haue done, shew them the forme of the house, and the paterne thereof, and the going out thereof, and the coming in thereof, and the whole fashion thereof, and all the ordinances thereof, and all the figures thereof, and all the lawes thereof: and write it in their light, that they may keepe the whole fashion thereof, and all the ordinances thereof, and doe them.

12 This is the description of the house, It shall bee vpon the top of the mount: all the limits thereof round about shall be most holy. Behold, this is the description of the house.

13 And these are the measures of the Altar, after the cubits: the cubite is a cubite and an hand breadth, even the bottome shall be a cubite, and the breadth a cubit, and the border thereof by the edge thereof, round about shall be a span: and this shall be the height of the altar.

14 And from the bottome which toucheth the ground to the lower piece shall be two cubites, and the breadth one cubite, and from the little piece to the great piece shall be foure cubites, and the breadth one cubite.

15 So the altar shall be foure cubites, and from the altar vppward shall be foure hoines.

16 And the altar shall be twelue cubites long, and twelue broad, and foure square in the foure corners thereof.

17 And the frame shall be fourteene cubites long, and fourteene broad in the foure square corners thereof, and the border about it shall be halfe a cubite, and the bottome thereof shall be a cubite about, and the steps thereof shall be turned toward the East.

a When I prophesied the destruction of the citie by the Caldeans.

18 And he laid vnto me, Sonne of man, thus sayth the Lord God, These are the ordinances of the altar in the day when they shall make it to offer the burnt offering thereon, and to sprinkle blood thereon.

19 And thou shalt give to the Priests, and to the Levites, that be of the seed of Zadok, which appoach vnto me, to minister vnto me sayth the Lord God, a young bullocke for a sinne offering.

20 And thou shalt take of the blood thereof, and put it on the foure hornes of it, and on the foure corners of the frame, and vpon the border round about: thus shalt thou cleanse it, and reconcle it.

21 Thou shalt take the bullocke also of the sinne offering, & burne it in the appointed place of the house without the Sanctuary.

22 But the second day thou shalt offer an hee goat without blemish for a sinne offering, and they shall cleanse the altar, as they did cleanse it with the bullocke.

23 When thou hast made an end of cleansing it, thou shalt offer a young bullocke without blemish, and a ramme out of the flocke without blemish.

24 And thou shalt offer them before the Lord, & the Priests shall cast salt vpon them, and they shall offer them for a burnt offering vnto the Lord.

25 Seven dayes shalt thou prepare euey day an hee goat for a sinne offering: they shall also prepare a young bullocke and a ramme out of the flocke without blemish.

26 Thus shall they seuen dayes purifie the altar, and cleanse it, and consecrate it.

27 And when these dayes are expired, vpon the eighth day and so forth, the Priests shall make your burnt offerings vpon the altar, and your peace offerings, and I will accept you, sayth the Lord God.

CHAP. XLIIII.

He reproveth the people for their offence. 7 The uncircumcised in heart and in the flesh. 9 Who are to be admitted to the seruice of the Temple, and who to be refused.

Then hee brought me toward the gate of the outward Sanctuary, which turneth toward the East, and it was shut.

2 Then said the Lord vnto me, This gate shall be shut, & shall not be opened, & no man shall enter by it, because the Lord God of Israel hath entred by it, and it shall be shut.

3 It apperaineth to the prince: the prince himselfe shall sit in it to eate bread before the Lord: he shall enter by the way of the porch of that gate, and shall goe out by the way of the same.

4 Then brought hee mee toward the North gate before the house: & when I looked, behold, the glory of the Lord filled the house of the Lord, and I fell vpon my face.

5 And the Lord sayd vnto me, Sonne of man, & marke well, and behold with thine eyes, and heare with thine eares, all that I say vnto thee, concerning all the ordinances of the House of the Lord, and all the lawes thereof, and marke well the entering in of the House with euey going forth of the Sanctuary,

6 And thou shalt say to the rebellious, euen to the house of Israel: Thus sayeth the Lord God, O house of Israel, ye haue enough of all your abominations,

7 Seeing that ye haue brought into my Sanctuary strangers, vncircumcised in heart, and vncircumcised in flesh, to be in my Sanctuary, to pollute mine house, when ye offer my bread, euen fat, and blood: and they haue broken my couenant, because of all your abominations.

8 For ye haue not kept the ordinances of mine holy thinges: but you your selues haue set other to take the charge of my Sanctuary.

9 Thus sayth the Lord God, No stranger vncircumcised in heart, nor vncircumcised in flesh, shall enter into my Sanctuary, of any stranger that is among the children of Israel.

10 Neither yet the Levites that are gone backe from mee, when Israel went astray, which were astray from mee after their idoles, but they shall beare their iniquitie.

11 And they shall serue in my Sanctuary, and keepe the gates of the House, and minister in the House: they shall lay the burnt offering and the sacrifice for the people, and they shall stand before them to serue them.

12 Because they serued before their idols, and caused the house of Israel to fall into iniquitie: therefore haue I lift up mine hand against them, sayth the Lord God, and they shall beare their iniquitie.

13 And they shall not come nere vnto me to do the office of the Priest vnto mee, neither shall they come nere vnto any of mine holy thinges in the most holy place, but they shall beare their shame and their abominations, which they haue committed.

14 And I will make them keepers of the watch of the House, for all the seruice thereof, and for all that shall be done therein.

15 But the Priests of the Levites, the sonnes of Zadok, that kept the charge of my Sanctuary, when the children of Israel went astray from mee, they shall come nere to me to serue me, and they shall stand before me to offer mee the fat and the blood, sayth the Lord God.

16 They shall enter into my Sanctuary and shall come nere to my table to serue me, and they shall keepe my charge.

17 And when they shall enter in at the gates of the inner court, they shall be clothed with linnen garments, and no wooll shall come vpon them while they steeue in y gates of the inner court, and within.

18 They shall haue linnen bonets vpon their heads, and shall haue linnen breeches vpon their loynes: they shall not gird themselves in the sweating places.

19 But when they goe forth into the vnter court, euen to the vnter court to the people, they shall put off their garments, wherein they ministered, and lay them in the holy chambers, and they shall put on other garments: for they shall not sanctifie

23 And they shall teach my people the difference betwene the holy and profane, and cause them to discern betwene the vncleane and the cleane.

24 And in controuersie they shall stande to iudge, and they shal iudge it according to my iudgements: and they shall keepe my lawes and my statutes in all mine assemblies, and they shall sanctifie my Sabbaths.

25 * And they shall come at no dead person to defile themselves, except at their father, or mother, or sonne, or daughter, brother or sister, that hath had yet none husband: in these may they be defiled.

26 And when he is clested, they shal reckon vnto him leuen dayes.

27 And when he goeth into the Sanctuary vnto the inner court to minister in the Sanctuary, he shall offer his sinne offering, sayth the Lord God.

28 * And the Priesthood shall be their inheritance, for I am their inheritance: therefore shall ye give them no possession in Israel, for I am their possession.

29 They shall eate the meate offering, and the sinne offering, and the shewbread offering, and every dedicate thing in Israel, shal be theirs.

30 * And all the first of all the first borne, and every oblation, euen all of every sort of your oblations shall be the Priests. Ye shall also giue vnto the Priests the first of your dough, that he may caule the blessing to rest in thine house.

CHAP. XLV.

1 Out of the land of promise are there separate foure parties, of which the first w<sup>g</sup>uē to the priests and to the Temple, the second to the Leuites, the third to the city, the fourth to the prince. 9 An exhortation vnto the heads of Israel. 10 Of iust weights and measures. 11 Of the first fruits, &c.

Moreouer when yee shall diuide the land for inheritance, ye shal offer an oblation vnto the Lord an holy portion of the land, sine and twenty thousand reeds long, & ten thousand broad: this shall be holy in all the borders thereof round about.

2 Of this there shall be for the Sanctuary sine hundredth in length, with sine hundredth in breadth, all square round about, and fifty cubites rounde about for the suburbs thereof.

3 And of this measure shalt thou measure the length of sine and twenty thousand, and the breadth of tenne thousand: and in it shall be the Sanctuary, and the most holy place.

4 The holy portion of the land shalbe the priests, which minister in the Sanctuary, which come neere to seene the Lord; and it shall be a place for their houses, and an holy place for the Sanctuary.

5 And in the sine and twenty thousand of length, and the ten thousand of breadth, shal the Leuites that minister in the house, haue their possession for twenty chambers.

6 Also yee shall appoynt the possession of the city sine thousand broad, & sine and twenty thousand long ouer against the oblation of the holy portion: it shall be for the whole house of Israel.

7 And a portion shall be for the prince on the one side, & on that side of the oblation of the holy portion, and of the possession of the city, euen before the oblation of the holy portion, and before the possession of the city from the West corner Eastward, and from the East corner Eastward, and the length shall bee by one of the portions from the West border vnto the East border.

8 In this land shall bee his possession in Israel: and my princes shall no more oppresse my people, and the rest of the land shall they giue to the house of Israel, according to their tribes.

9 Thus sayth the Lord God, Let it suffice you, O princes of Israel; leaue off cruelty & oppression, and execute iudgement and iustice: take away your exactions from my people, sayth the Lord God.

10 Ye shal haue iust balances, and a true Ephah, and a true Bath.

11 The Ephah and the Bath shall be equal: a Bath shall containe the tenth part of an Homer, and an Ephah the tenth part of an Homer: the equality thereof shall be after the Homer.

12 * And the shekel shall be twenty gerahs, and twenty shekels, and sine and twentie shekels, and thirtene shekels shall be your Maneh.

13 This is the oblation that ye shal offer, the first part of an Ephah of an Homer of wheate, and ye shall giue the first part of an Ephah of an Homer of barley.

14 Concerning the ordinance of the oyle, euen of the Bath of oyle, yee shall offer the tenth part of a Bath out of the Cor. (ten Baths are an Homer: for ten Baths fill an Homer.)

15 And one lambe of two hundred sheepe out of the fat pastures of Israel for a meate offering, & for a burnt offering, and for peace offerings, to make reconciliation for them, sayth the Lord God.

16 All the people of the land shal giue this oblation for the prince in Israel.

17 And it shall be the princes part to giue burnt offerings, and meate offerings, & Danke offerings in the solemne feasts, & in the new moones, and in the Sabbaths, and in all the high feasts of the house of Israel: he shal prepare the sinne offering, and the meate offering, and the burnt offering, and the peace offerings, to make reconciliation for the house of Israel.

CHAP. XLVI.

1 The sacrifices of the Sabbath and of the newe moones. 2 Thorow which doores they must goe in, or come out of the Temple, &c.

Thus saiyeth the Lord God, The gate of the inner court, that turneth toward the East, shall bee shut the sixe working dayes: but on the Sabbath it shall bee opened, and in the day of the newe moone it shall bee opened.

2 And the prince shall enter by the way of the porch of that gate without, and shall stand by the post of the gate, and the priest shall make his burnt offering, and his peace offerings, and hee shall worship at the threshold of the gate: after he shall goe forth, but the gate shall not bee shut till the evening.

3 Likewise the people of the lande shall worship at the entry of this gate before the Lord on the Sabbathes, and in the newe moones.

4 And the burnt offering that the prince shall offer vnto the Lord on the Sabbath day shall bee sixe lambes without blemish, and a ramme without blemish.

5 And the meate offering shall be an Ephah for a ramme: and the meate offering for the lambes a gift of his hande, and an Hin of oyle to an Ephah.

6 And in the day of the newe moone it shall be a yong bullocke without blemish, and sixe lambes and a ramme: they shall be without blemish.

7 And he shall prepare a meate offering, euen an Ephah for a bullock, and an Ephah for a ramme, and for the lambes according as his hand shall bring, and an Hin of oyle to an Ephah.

8 And when the prince shall enter, he shall goe in by the way of the porch of that gate, and he shall goe forth by the way thereof.

9 But when the people of the land shall come before the Lord in the solemn feastes, hee that entred in by the way of the North gate to worship, shall goe out by the way of the South gate: and hee that entred by the way of the South gate, shall goe forth by the way of the North gate: hee shall not returne by the way of the gate whereby hee came in, but they shall goe forth ouer against it.

10 And the prince shall be in the mids of them: he shall goe in when they goe in, and when they goe forth, they shall goe forth together.

11 And in the feasts, & in the solemnities the meate offering shall be an Ephah to a bullocke, and an Ephah to a ramme, and to the lambes, the gift of his hande, and an Hin of oyle to an Ephah.

12 Now when the prince shall make a free burnt offering or peace offerings freely vnto the Lord, one shall then open him the gate, that turneth toward the East, and hee shall make his burnt offering, & his peace offerings as he did on the Sabbath day: after he shall goe forth, and when he is gone forth, one shall shut the gate.

13 Thou shalt daily make a burnt offering vnto the Lord of a lambe of one yeere without blemish: thou shalt doe it euery morning.

14 And thou shalt prepare a meate offering for it euery morning, the sixe part of an Ephah, and the third part of an Hin of oyle, to mingle with the fine flour: this meate offering shall be continually by a perpetual ordinance vnto the Lord.

15 Thus shall they prepare the lambe, and the meate offering, and the oyle euery morning, for a continually burnt offering.

16 Thus saiyeth the Lord God, If the prince giue a gift of his inheritance vnto any of his sonnes, it shall bee his sonnes, and it shall be their possession by inheritance.

17 But if he giue a gift of his inheritance to one of his seruants, then it shall be his to the yeere of libertie: after, it shall returne to the prince, but his inheritance shall remaine to his sonnes for euer.

18 Moreover, the prince shall not take of the peoples inheritance, nor thrust them out of their possession: but he shall cause his sonnes to inherit of his owne possession, that my people be not scattered euery man from his possession.

19 After he brought me thorow the entry, which was at the side of the gate, into the holy chambers of the Priests, which stood toward the North: and beholde, there was a place at the West side of this.

20 Then sayd he vnto mee, This is the place where the priests shall see the trespass offering, and the sinne offering, where they shall bake the meate offering, that they should not beare them into the viter court, to sacrifice the people.

21 Then he brought me forth into the viter court, and caused me to goe by the foure corners corners of the court : and behold, in every corner of the court, there was a court.

22 In the foure corners of the court there were courtes ioyned of fourtie cubits long, and thirtie broad : these foure corners were of one measure.

23 And there went a wal about them, even about those foure, and kitchins were made vnder the walles round about.

24 Then said he vnto mee, This is the kitchen where the ministers of the haufe shall see the sacrifice of the people,

CHAP. XLVII.

1 The vision of the waters, that came out of the Temple. 23 The castles of the land of promise, & the diuision thereof by tribes.

Afterward he brought me vnto the dooze of the house : and behold, waters issued out from vnder the threshold of the house Eastward : for the forefront of the house floode toward the East, and the waters ranne downe from vnder the right side of the house, at the South side of the altar.

2 Then brought he mee out toward the North gate, and led mee about by the way without vnto the vetter gate, by the way that turneth Eastward : and behold, there came forth waters on the right side.

3 And when the man that had the line in his hand, went southward Eastward, he measured a thousand cubits, and he brought me through the waters : the waters were to the ancles.

4 Again hee measured a thousand, and brought me through the waters : the waters were to y knees : againe hee measured a thousand, and brought me through : the waters were to the loynes.

5 Afterward hee measured a thousand, and it was a riuer that I could not passe ouer : for the waters were risen, and the waters did flow, as a riuer that could not be passed ouer.

6 And he said vnto me, Some of man, hast thou seene this ? Then he brought me, & caused me to retorne to the brinke of the riuer.

7 Now when I returned, behold, at the brinke of the riuer were very many trees on the one side, and on the other.

8 Then said he vnto me, These waters issue out toward the East countrey, and runne downe into the plaine, and shall goe into the sea : they shall runne into another sea, and the waters shall be wholesome.

9 And every thing that liueth, which moueth, wheresoeuer the riuers shall come, shall liue, and there shall be a very great multitude of fish, because these waters shall come thither : for they shall be wholesome, and every thing shall liue whiche the riuer cometh.

10 And then the fishers shall stand vpon it, & from En gedi euen vnto the En-eglain, they shall fyed out their nets : for their fish shall be according to their kinde, as the fish of the maine sea, exceeding many.

11 But the mytie places thereof, and the marishes thereof shall not be wholesome : they shall be made salt pits.

12 And by this riuer vpon the brinke thereof, on this side, and on that side shall growe all fruitefull trees, whose leafe shall not fade, neither shall the fruit thereof faide : it shall bring forth new fruit according to his months, because their waters run out of the Sanctuarie : and the fruite thereof shall be meate, and the leafe thereof shall be for medicine.

13 Thus saith y Lord God, This shall be the border, whereby yee shall inherit the land according to the twelue tribes of Israel : Joseph shall haue two portions.

14 And ye shall inherit it, one as well as another : concerning the which I lift by mine hand to giue it vnto your fathers, and this land shall fall vnto you for inheritance.

15 And this shall be the border of the land toward the Northside, from the maine sea toward Hethlon as men goe to Sedadah :

16 Hamath, Berothah, Sibzaim, which is betwene the border of Damascus, and the border of Hamath, and Hazar, Hatticon, which is by the coast of Hauran.

17 And the border from the sea shall bee Hazar, Enan, and the border of Damascus, and the residue of the North, Northward, and the border of Hamath : so shall bee the North part.

18 But the East side shall yee measure from Hauran, and from Damascus, and from Gilead, and from the land of Israel by Jordan, and from the border vnto the East sea : and so shall bee the East part.

19 And the Southside shall bee toward Teman from Camar to the waters of Beriboth in Kadeth, and the riuer to the maine sea : so shall be the South part toward Teman.

20 The West part also shall be the great sea from the border, till a man came ouer against Hamath : this shall be the West part.

21 So shall ye diuide this land vnto you, according to the tribes of Israel.

22 And you shall diuide it by lot for an inheritance vnto you, and to the strangers that dwell among you, which shall beget children among you, and they shall be vnto you as borne in the countrey among the children of Israel, they shall part inheritance with you in the midis of the tribes of Israel.

23 And in what tribe the stranger dwelleth, there shall ye giue him his inheritance, saith the Lord God.

CHAP. XLVIII.

1 The lots of the tribes. 9 The parts of the possession of the Priests, of the Temple, of the Levites, of the cite, and of the Prince are rehearsed.

Now these are the names of the tribes : From the Northside, to the coast toward Hethlon, as one goeth to Hamath, Hazar, Enan, and the border of Damascus Northward to the coast of Hamath, euen from the East side to the West shall bee a portion for Dan.

2 And by y border of Dan from the East side to the West side, a portion for Asher.

3 And by the border of Asher from the East part euen vnto the West part, a portion for Naphtali.

1 Or, tree for meate.

1 Or, for bruyfes and sores.

Gen. 12. 7 & 13. 15. & 15. 18. and 26. 4. deut. 34. 4. k By the land of promise he signifieth the spiritual land, wherof this was a figure.

1 Or, strife.

a The tribes, after that they entred into the land vnto the lost. u. diuided the land some what otherwise : then is here set forth by this vision.

a Whereby are meant the spirituall graces that should be giuen to the Church vnder the Kingdome of Christ.
b Signifying, that the graces of God should neuer decrease, but euer abound in his Church.
c Meaning, the multitude of the that should be refreshed by the spirituall waters.
d Shewing that the abundance of these graces should be so great, that all the world should be full therof, which is here meant by the Persian sea, or Genesareth, and the sea called Mediterraneum, Zech. 14. 8.
e The waters which of nature are salt and vnholefome, shall be made sweete and comfortable.
f Signifying that when God be-Roweth his mercies in such abundance the ministers shall by their preaching winne many.
g Which were cities at the corners of the salt or dead sea.
h They shall be here of all sorts, and in as great abundance as in the great Ocean where they are bred.
i That is, the wicked & reprobate.

4 And by the border of Naphtali from the East quarter unto the West side, a portion for Danasseh.

5 And by the border of Danasseh from the East side unto the West side, a portion for Ephraim.

6 And by the border of Ephraim, from the East part even unto the West part, a portion for Reuben.

7 And by the border of Reuben, from the East quarter unto the West quarter, a portion for Judah.

8 And by the border of Judah, from the East part unto the West part shall bee the offering which they shall offer of fine and twentie thousand reeds broad, and of length as one of the other parts, from the East side unto the West side, and the Sanctuarie shall be in the mids of it.

9 The oblation that yee shall offer unto the Lord shall bee of fine and twentie thousand long, and of ten thousand the breadth.

10 And for them, even for the Priests, shall be this holy oblation, toward the North fine and twentie thousand long, and toward the West ten thousand broad, and toward the East ten thousand broad, and toward the South fine and twentie thousand long, and the Sanctuarie of the Lord shall bee in the mids thereof.

11 It shall bee for the Priests, that are sanctified of the sonnes of Zadok, which haue kept my charge, which went not astray, when the children of Israel went astray, as the Levites went astray.

12 Therefore this oblation of the land that is offered, shall be theirs, as a thing most holy by the border of the Levites.

13 And ouer against the border of the Priests, the Levites shall haue fine & twentie thousand long, and ten thousand broad: all the length shall be fine and twentie thousand, and the breadth ten thousand.

14 And they shall not sell of it, neither change it, nor abalienate the first fruits of the land: for it is holy unto the Lord.

15 And the five thousand that are left in the breadth ouer against the fine & twenty thousand, shall be a prophane place for the citie, for housing, and for suburbs, and the citie shall be in the mids thereof.

16 And these shall be the measures thereof, the North part five hundredeth and foure thousand, and the South part five hundredeth and foure thousand, and the East part five hundredeth and foure thousand, and the West part five hundredeth and foure thousand.

17 And the suburbs of the citie shall bee toward the North two hundredeth and fiftie, and toward the South two hundredeth and fiftie, and toward the East two hundredeth and fiftie, and toward the West two hundredeth and fiftie.

18 And the residue in length ouer against the oblation of the holy portion shall bee ten thousand Eastward, and tenne thousand Westward, and it shall be ouer against the oblation of the holy portion, and the increase thereof shall be for food unto them that serue in the citie.

19 And they that serue in the citie, shall bee of all the tribes of Israel that shall serue therein.

20 All the oblation that shall bee fine and twentie thousand with a fine and twentie thousand: you shall offer this oblation four square for the Sanctuarie, and for the possession of the citie.

21 And the residue shall bee for the prince on the one side and on the other of the oblation of the Sanctuarie, and of the possession of the citie, ouer against the fine and twenty thousand of the oblation toward the East border, and Westward ouer against the fine & twentie thousand toward the West border, ouer against shall be for the portion of the prince: this shall be the holy oblation, and the house of the Sanctuarie shall be in the mids thereof.

22 Moreover, from the possession of the Levites, and from the possession of the citie, that which is in the mids shall be the princes: betweene the border of Judah, and betweene the border of Benjamin shall bee the princes.

23 And the rest of the tribes shall be thus: from the East part unto the West part, Benjamin shall bee a portion.

24 And by the border of Benjamin, from the East side unto the West side, Simeon a portion.

25 And by the border of Simeon from the East part unto the West part, Issachar a portion.

26 And by the border of Issachar from the East side unto the West, Zebulun a portion.

27 And by the border of Zebulun from the East part unto the West part, Gad a portion.

28 And by the border of Gad at the South side, toward Temath, the border shall bee even from Camar unto the waters of Beribath in Kadesh, & to the river, that runneth into the maine sea.

29 This is the land, which yee shall distribute unto the tribes of Israel for inheritance, and these are their portions, saith the Lord God.

30 And these are the boundes of the citie, on the North side five hundredeth, and foure thousand measures.

31 And the gates of the citie shall be after the names of the tribes of Israel, the gates Northward, one gate of Reuben, one gate of Judah, and one gate of Levi.

32 And at the East side five hundredeth and foure thousand, and three gates, one gate of Ioseph, one gate of Benjamin, and one gate of Dan.

33 And at the South side, five hundredeth and foure thousand measures, & three ports, one gate of Simeon, one gate of Issachar, and one gate of Zebulun.

34 At the West side five hundredeth and foure thousand, with their three gates, one gate of Gad, one gate of Asher, and one gate of Naphtali.

35 It was round about eighteene thousand measures, and the name of the citie from that day shall be, The Lord is there.

d Every way it shall be fine and twentie thousand.

e So that Judah was on the North side of the Princes and Levites portions, and Benjamin on the South side.

f Which is here taken for Idumie.
g Which was Jericho, the citie of Palistines.
h Meaning Nilus, that runneth into the sea called Mediterraneum.

b That is, the portion of the ground, which they shall separate and appoint to the Lord, which shall be divided into three parts: for the Priests, for the Prince, and for the citie.

THE ARGUMENT.

THe great prouidence of God, and his singular mercie toward his Church are most liuely here set forth, who neuer leaueth his destitute, but now in their greatest miseries and afflictions giueth them Prophets, as Ezekiel, and Daniel, whom he adorned with such graces of his holy Spirit, that Daniel aboue all other had most special reuelations of such things as should come to the Church, euen from the time that they were in captiuitie, to the last end of the world, and to the generall resurrection, as of the foure monarchies and empires of all the world, to wit, of the Babylonians, Persians, Grecians and Romans. Also of the certaine number of the times euen vnto Christ, when all ceremonies and sacrifices should cease, because he should be the accomplishment thereof: moreover he sheweth Christs office & the cause of his death, which was by his sacrifice to take away sins, and to bring euerlasting life. And as from the beginning God euer exercised his people vnder the crosse, so he teacheth here, that after that Christ is offered, he will still leaue this exercise to his Church vntill the dead rise againe, and Christ gather his into his kingdome in the heauens.

CHAP. I.

1 The captiuitie of Iehoiakim king of Iudah. 4 The king chuseth certaine yong men of the Iewes to learne his law. 5 They haue the kings ordinance appointed, 8 But they absteme from it.

a Reade 2. King. 24. 1. and Iere. 25. 1.

b Which was a plaine by Babylon, where was the Temple of their great god, and is here taken for Babylon.
c Who was as master of the wards.
d Hee calleth them eunuches whom the King nourished and brought vp to be rulers of other countreyes afterward.
e His purpose was to keepe them as hostages, and that he might shew himselfe victorious, and also by their good intreacie and learning of his religion, they might fauour rather him then the Iewes, and so to be able to serue him as gouernours in their land: moreover by this meane the Iewes might be better kept in subiection, fearing otherwise to procure hurt to these noble men.
f The King required three things, that they should be of noble birth, that they should be witty and learned, & that they should be of a strong and comely nature, that they might do him better seruice: this he did for his owne commoditie, therefore it is not to praise his liberalitie: yet in this he is worthy of praise, that he esteemed learning, and knewe that it was a necessarie meane to gouerne by.
g That they might forget their owne religion and country fashions, to serue him the better to his purpose: yet it is not to bee thought that Daniel did learne any knowledge that was not godly: in all points he refused the abuse of things and superstition, inso much that hee would not eate the meate which the King appointed him, but was content to learne the knowledge of naturall things.
h Thence by their good entertainment, they might learne to forget the mediocritie of their owne people.

In the third yere of the raigne of Iehoiakim king of Iudah, came Nebuchad-nezzar king of Babel vnto Ierusalem, and besieged it.

2 And the Lord gaue Iehoiakim king of Iudah into his hande, with part of the vessels of the house of God, which he caried into the land of Shinar, to the house of his god, and he brought the vessels into his gods treasure.

3 And the king spake vnto Ashpenaz the master of his Eunuches, that hee should bring certaine of the children of Israel, of the Kings seede, and of the princes:

4 Children in whom was no blemish, but wel fauoured, and instructed in all wisdom, and well scene in knowledge, and able to better knowledge, and such as were able to stand in the kings palace, and whom they might teach the s learning, and the tongue of the Caldeans.

5 And the king appointed them prouision euery day of a portion of the kings meate, and of the wine which he dranke, to nourish ing them i three yere, that at the end thereof, they might stand before the king.

6 Now among these were certaine of the children of Iudah, Daniel, Hananiah, Mishael, and Azariah.

7 Vnto whom the chiefe of the eunuches gaue other names: for he called Daniel, Belteshazzar, and Hananiah, Shadrach, and Mishael, Meshach, and Azariah, Abednego.

8 But Daniel had determined in his heart, that hee would not desile himselfe with the portion of the kings meate, nor with the wine which he dranke: therefore he required the chiefe of the Eunuches that hee might not desile himselfe.

9 (Now God had brought Daniel into fauour, and tender loue with the chiefe of the Eunuches)

10 And the chiefe of the Eunuches sayd vnto Daniel, I feare my lord the king, who hath appointed your meate and your drinke: therefore if hee see your faces worse liking then the other children, which are of your sort, then shall yee make mee lose mine head vnto the king.

11 Then said Daniel to Melzar, whom the chiefe of the Eunuches had set ouer Daniel, Hananiah, Mishael and Azariah,

12 Proue thy seruants, I beseech thee, ten dayes, and let them giue vs p pulse to eate, and water to drinke.

13 Then let our countenances be looked vpon before thee: and the countenances of the children that eate of the portion of i To the intent that in this time they might both learne the manners of the Caldeans, & also their tongue.

k As well to serue at the table, as in other offices.

l That they might altogether forget their religion: for the Iewes giue their children names, which might euer put them in remembrance of some point of religion, therefore this was a great temptation and a signe of sciuitude which they were not able to resist.

m Not that he thought any religion to be in the meate or drinke (for afterward he did eate) but because the King should not enuie him by this sweete poyson, to forget his religion and accustomed sobrietie, and that in his meate and drinke he might dayly remember of what people hee was: and Daniel bringeth this in to shewe how God from the beginning assisted him with his Spirit, and at length called him to be a Prophet. n He supposed they did this for their religion, which was contrary to the Babylonians: and therefore herein he presenteth them which are of no religion: for neither hee would condemne theirs, nor mainaine his owne.

o Meaning, that within this space hee might haue the triall, and that no man should be able to discern it: and thus he spake, being moued by the Spirit of God.
p Not that it was a thing abominable to eat daintie meates and to drinke wine, as both before and after they did, but if they should haue hereby bene wonne to the King, and haue refused their owne religion, that meat and drinke had bene accused.

ice him by this sweete poyson, to forget his religion and accustomed sobrietie, and that in his meate and drinke he might dayly remember of what people hee was: and Daniel bringeth this in to shewe how God from the beginning assisted him with his Spirit, and at length called him to be a Prophet. n He supposed they did this for their religion, which was contrary to the Babylonians: and therefore herein he presenteth them which are of no religion: for neither hee would condemne theirs, nor mainaine his owne. o Meaning, that within this space hee might haue the triall, and that no man should be able to discern it: and thus he spake, being moued by the Spirit of God. p Not that it was a thing abominable to eat daintie meates and to drinke wine, as both before and after they did, but if they should haue hereby bene wonne to the King, and haue refused their owne religion, that meat and drinke had bene accused.

the kings meate and as thou seest, deale with thy seruants.

14 So he consented to them in this matter, and procured them ten dayes.

15 And at the end of tenne dayes, their countenances appeared fairer, and in better liking then all the chylidrens, which did eate the portion of the kings meate.

16 Thus Belzar took away the portion of their meate, and the wine that they should drinke, and giue them pisse.

17 As for these foure chylidren, God gaue them knowledge, and vnderstanding in all learning, and wisdom: also hee gaue Daniel vnderstanding of all r'illions and dreames.

18 Now when the time was expired, that the king had appointed to bring them in, the chiefe of the Eunuches brought them before Nebuchad-nezzar.

19 And the king communed with them: and among them all was found none like Daniel, Hananiah, Mishael, and Azariah: therefore stood they before the king.

20 And in all matters of wisdom, and vnderstanding that the king enquired of them, hee found them ten times better then all the incanters & astrologians, that were in all his realme.

21 And Daniel was vnto the first yere of King Cyrus.

shall shew the interpretation.

5 And the King answered, and said to the Caldeans: The thing is gone from mee. If ye will not make me vnderstand the dreame with the interpretation thereof, ye shall be drawn in pieces, & your houses shall be made a take.

6 But if yee declare the dreame, and the interpretation thereof, ye shall receiue of mee gifts and rewards, and great honour: therefore shew me the dreame and the interpretation of it.

7 They answered againe, and sayd, Let the king shew his seruants the dreame, and we wil declare the interpretation thereof.

8 Then the King answered and sayd, I know certainly that yee would game the time, because yee see the thing is gone from me.

9 But if yee will not declare mee the dreame, there is but one iudgement for you: for ye haue prepared lying & corrupt words, to speake before me till the time be changed: therefore tell mee the dreame, that I may know, if yee can declare mee the interpretation thereof.

10 Then the Caldeans answered before the king, and sayde, There is no man vpon earth, that can declare the kings matters: yea, there is neither king nor prince nor lord that asked such things at an uchanter or astrologian, or Caldean.

11 For it is a rare thing that the king requireth, and there is none other that can declare it before the king, except the gods whose dwelling is not with flesh.

12 For this cause the king was angry and in great furie, and commaunded to destroy all the wise men of Babel.

13 And when sentence was giuen, the wise men were slaine, and they sought Daniel and his fellows to be put to death.

14 Then Daniel answered with counsell and wisdom to Arioeh the kings chiefe steward, which was gone forth to put to death the wise men of Babel.

15 Yea, he answered and said vnto Arioeh the Kings captaine, Why is the sentence so hastie for the king? Then Arioeh declared the thing to Daniel.

16 So Daniel went and desired the king that he would giue him leaseure, and that hee would shew the king the interpretation thereof.

17 Then Daniel went to his house and shewed the matter to Hananiah, Mishael, and Azariah his companions, 18 That they should beseech the God of heauen for grace in this secret, that Daniel and his fellows should not perish with the rest of the wise men of Babel.

19 Then was the secret reuealed vnto Daniel in a vision by night: therefore Daniel praised the God of heauen.

20 And Daniel answered and said, The Name of God be praised for euer and euer: for wisdom and strength are his.

21 And hee changed the times and seasons: hee taketh away kings: hee setteth vp kings: hee giueth wisdom vnto the wise, and

That is, he was esteemed in Babylon as a Prophet for long as that common wealth stood.

CHAP. II.

1 The dreame of Nebuchad-nezzar. 13 The king commaundeth all the wise men of Babylon to bee slaine because they could not interpret his dreame. 16 Daniel requireth time to solute the quest: on 24 Daniel is brought vnto the king, and sheweth him his dreame and the interpretation thereof. 44 Of the euerlasting kingdome of Christ.

AND in the second yere of the reigne of Nebuchad-nezzar, Nebuchad-nezzar dreamed dreames wherwith his spirit was troubled, and his sleepe was vpon him.

2 Then the king commaunded to call the incanters, and the astrologians & the forcerers, and the Caldeans for to shew the king his dreames: so they came and stood before the king.

3 And the king sayd vnto them, I haue dreamed a dreame, and my spirit was troubled to know the dreame.

4 Then spake the Caldeans to the king in the Aramites language, O king liue for euer: shew thy seruants thy dreame, and we will shew thee the interpretation thereof. a The father and the sonne were both called by this name, so that this is meant of the sonne, when he reigned alone: for he reigned also after a sort with his father. b Not y he had many dreames, but because many matters were contained in this dreame. c Because it was so rare and strange a dreame that he had not had the like. d He was so heavy with sleepe, that he began to sleepe againe. Some read, and his sleepe was broken from him. e For all these astrologers and forcerers called themselves by this name of honour as though all the wisdom and knowledge of the countrey depended vpon them, and that all other countreys were void of the same. f That is, in the Syrian tongue which differed not much from the Caldeans, saue it seemed to be more eloquent, and therefore the learned vsf to speake it: as the Jewish writers doe to this day.

Psal. 113. 2. and 115. 18.

k He sheweth that man hath neither wisdom nor knowledge, but very darke blindness and ignorance of himselfe: for it cometh onely of God, that man vnderstandeth any thing.

l To whom thou madest thy promise, and who liued in thy feare: whereby he concluded all other gods.

m Meaning, power to interpret it.

n Whereby appeareth that many were slaine, as verse. 13. and the rest at Daniels offer were preferred on condition: not that Daniel fauoured their wicked profession, but that he had respect to equitie, because the king proceeded according to his wicked affection, and not considering if their science were lawfull or no.

o He affirmeth that man by reason & arte is not able to attain to the cause of Gods secrets, but the vnderstanding onely thereof: of must come of God: whereby hee smiteth the king with a certaine feare and reuerence of God, that hee might be the more apt to receiue the high mysteries that should be reueiled.

p Because he had said that God onely must reueile the significations of his dreame, the king might haue asked, why Daniel did enterprise to interpret it, and therefore he sheweth that he was Gods minister, and had no gifts, but such as God had giuen him to see forth his glorie.

q By gold, siluer, brasse, and yron, are meant, the Caldeans, Persians, Macedonian and Romane kindome, which should successiue rule all the world till Christ (which heere is called the stone) come himselfe and destroy the last: and this was to assure the reueles, that their afflictions should not end with the Empire of the Caldeans, but that they should patiently abide the coming of Messiah, which should be at the end of this fourth Monarchie.

and vnderstanding to those th at vnderstand. 22 Hee discouereth the deepe and secret things: he knoweth what is in the darknes, and the light dwelleth with him.

23 I thanke thee and praise thee, O thou God of my fathers, that thou hast giuen me wisdom and strength, and hast shewed mee now the thing that we desired of thee: for thou hast declared vnto vs the kings matter.

24 Therefore Daniel went vnto Arioch, whom the king had ordained to destroy the wise men of Babel: hee went and sayd thus vnto him. Destroy not the wise men of Babel, but bring me before the king, and I will declare vnto the king the interpretation.

25 Then Arioch brought Daniel before the king in all haste, and said thus vnto him, I haue found a man of the children of Iudah that were brought captiues, that will declare vnto the king the interpretation.

26 Then answered the king and said vnto Daniel, whose name was Belteshazzar, Art thou able to shew me the dreame which I haue seene, and the interpretation thereof?

27 Daniel answered in the presence of the king, and sayd, The secret which the king hath demanded, can neither the wise, the astrologians, the enchanters, nor the soothsayers declare vnto the king.

28 But there is a God in heauen that reuileth secrets, and sheweth the king Nebuchadnezzar what shall bee in the latter dayes. Thy dreame, and the things which thou hast seene in thine head upon thy bed, is this.

29 O king, when thou wast in thy bed, thoughts came into thy minde, what should come to passe hereafter, and hee that reuileth secrets, telleth thee what shall come.

30 As for me, this secret is not shewed mee for any wisdom that I haue, more then any other thing, but onely to heeme the King the interpretation, and that thou mightest knowe the thoughts of thine heart.

31 O king, thou sawest, and behold, there was a great Image: this great Image whose glorie was to excellen, stood before thee, and the forme thereof was terrible.

32 This Images head was of fine gold, his breest and his armes of siluer, his belly and his thighes of brasse,

33 His legs of yron, and his feete were part of yron, and part of clay.

34 Thou beheldest it till a stone was cut without hands, which smote the Image upon his feete, that were of yron and clay, and brake them to peeces.

35 Then was the yron, the clay, the brasse, the siluer and the gold broken altogether, and became like the chaffe of the Summer flowers, and the wind carried them away, that no place was found for them: and the stone that smote the Image, became a great mountaine, and filled the whole earth.

36 This is the dreame, and wee will declare before the king the interpretation thereof.

37 O king, thou art a king of kings: for the God of heauen hath giuen thee a kingdome, power, strength, and glorie.

38 And in all places where the children of men dwell, the brasse of the fildes, and the foules of the heauen hath he giuen into thine hand, and hath made thee ruler over them all: thou art this head of gold.

39 And after thee shall rise another kingdome, inferior to thee, of siluer, and another third kingdome shall be of brasse, which shall beare rule ouer all the earth.

40 And the fourth kingdome shall be strong as yron: for as yron breaketh in peeces, and lubbeth all things, and as yron bruteth all these things, so shall it breake in peeces, and buist all.

41 Whereas thou sawest the feete and toes, part of potters clay, and part of yron: the kingdome shall be diuided: but there shall be in it the strength of the yron, as thou sawest the yron mixt with the clay, and earth.

42 And as the toes of the feete were part of yron, and part of clay, so shall the kingdome be partly strong, and partly broken.

43 And whereas thou sawest yron mixt with clay and earth, they shall mingle themselves with yron: yete of men: but they shall not toyne one with another, as yron cannot be mixt with clay.

44 And in the dayes of these kings, shall the God of heauen set by a kingdome, which shall neuer be destroyed: and this kingdome shall not be giuen to another people, but it shall breake and destroy all these kingdomes, and it shall stand for euer.

45 Whereas thou sawest that the stone was cut off the mountaine without hands, and that it breake in peeces the yron, the brasse, the clay, the siluer and the gold: so

And this kingdome which is not onely referred to the person of Christ, but also to the whole body of his Church, and to euery member thereof, shall be eternall: for the spirit that is in them is life eternal, Rom. 8. 10.

r Daniel leaueth out the kingdom of the Assyrians, which was before the Babylonian, both because it was not a Monarchie and general Empire, and also because he would declare the things that were to come, to the coming of Christ, for the comfort of the elect among these wonderful alterations: and he calleth the Babylonian kingdome the golden head, because in respect of the other three, it was the best, and yet was of it selfe wickned and cruel.

the great God hath shewed the King what shall come to passe hereafter, and the dreame is true, and the interpretation thereof is sure.

46 ¶ Then the king Nebuchad-nezzar fell upon his face, and bowed himselfe unto Daniel, and commanded that they should offer meat offerings, and sweet odours unto him.

47 Also the king answered vnto Daniel, and sayd, I know of a truery that your God is a God of gods, and the Lord of kings, and the revealer of secrets, seeing thou couldst open this secret.

48 So the king made Daniel a great man, and gave him many and great gifts. He made him gouernour ouer the whole prouince of Babel, and chiefe of the rulers, and aboute all the wise men of Babel.

49 Then Daniel made request to the king, and hee let Shadrach, Meshach, and Abednego ouer the charge of the prouince of Babel: but Daniel saue in the gate of the King.

b Though this humbling of the king seemed to deserue commendation, yet because he ioynd Gods honour with the Prophets, it is to be reprobued, and Daniel herein erred if hee suffered it: but it is credible that Daniel admonished him of his fault, and did not suffer it. c This confession was but a sudden motion, as it was also in Pharaoh, Exod. 9. 27, 28. but his heart was not touched, as appeared soone afterward. d Not that the Prophet was desirous of gifts or honour, but because by this meanes he might relieue his poore brethren which were grievously oppressed in this their captiuitie, and also he receiued them, lest he should offend this cruel king, which willingly gaue them. e Hee did not do this for their priuar profit, but that the whole Church which was then there in affliction, might haue some reliefe and ease by this benefite. f Meaning, that either hee was a Iudge, or that hee had the whole authoritie, so that none could be admitted to the kings presence, but by him.

CHAP. III.

1 The king setteth up a golden image. 2 Certaine are accused because they despised the kings commandment, and are put into a burning oven.

25 By helpe in God they are deliuered from the fire. 26 Nebuchad-nezzar confesseth the power of God after the sight of the miracle.

Nebuchad-nezzar the king made a image of golde, whose height was threescore cubites, and the breadth thereof six cubites: hee let it up in the plaine of Dura, in the prouince of Babel.

2 ¶ Then Nebuchad-nezzar the king sent forth to gather together the Nobles, the Princes and the Dukes, the Iudges, the receiuers, the counsellers, the Officers, and all the gouernours of the prouinces, that they should come to the dedication of the image, which Nebuchad-nezzar the king had set vp.

3 So the nobles, princes and dukes, the wicked, when they are ouercome with the grearfulness of his workes. The Greeke interpreters write that this was done eightene yeeres after the dreame, and as may appeare, the king feared least the Iewes by their religion should haue altered the state of his common wealth, and therefore he meant to bring all to one kinde of religion, and so rather sought his owne quietnesse then Gods glory. b Shewing that the idoles is not knowne for an idole so long as he is with the workeman: but when the ceremonies and customes are reiected and vsed, and the consent of the people is there, then of a blocke they thinke they haue made a god. c This was sufficient with the wicked at all times to approve their religion, if the kings authoritie were alledged for the establishment thereof, not considering in the same reason what Gods word did permit.

judges, the receiuers, the counsellers, the officers, and all the gouernours of the prouinces were assembled vnto the dedicating of the image, that Nebuchad-nezzar the king had set vp: and they stood before the image, which Nebuchad-nezzar had set vp.

4 ¶ Then an herald cried aloude, Bee it knownen to you, O people, nations, and languages,

5 That when ye heare the sound of the cornet, trumpet, harpe, sackbut, psalterie, dulcimer, and all instruments of musike, ye fall downe and worship the golden image that Nebuchad-nezzar the king hath set vp.

6 And whosoever falleth not downe and worshippeth, shall the same houre be cast into the mids of an hote fierie fornace.

7 Therefore as soon as all the people heard the sound of the cornet, trumpet, harp, sackbut, psalterie, and all instruments of musike, all the people, nations, and languages fell downe, and worshipped the golden image, that Nebuchad-nezzar the king had set vp.

8 ¶ By reason whereof at that same time came men of the Caldeans, and grievously accused the Iewes.

9 For they spake and sayde to the king Nebuchad-nezzar, O king, liue for euer.

10 ¶ Thou, O king, hast made a decree, that euery man that shall heare the sound of the cornet, trumpet, harpe, sackbut, psalterie, and dulcimer, and all instruments of musike, shall fall downe and worship the golden image, 11 And whosoever falleth not downe, and worshippeth, that hee should be cast into the mids of an hote fierie fornace.

12 There are certaine Iewes whom thou hast set ouer the charge of the prouince of Babel, e Shadrach, Meshach, and Abednego: these men, O king, haue not regarded thy commandment, neither will they serue thy gods, nor worship the golden image that thou hast set vp.

13 ¶ Then Nebuchad-nezzar in his anger and wrath commanded that they should bring Shadrach, Meshach, and Abednego: for the men were brought before the king.

14 And Nebuchad-nezzar, spake and said vnto them, What disorder? will not you, Shadrach, Meshach, and Abednego serue my god, nor worship the golden image that I haue set vp?

15 ¶ Now therefore are ye ready when ye heare the sound of the cornet, trumpet, harp, sackbut, psalterie, and dulcimer, and all instruments of musike, to fall downe and worship the image, which I haue made: for if ye worship it not, ye shall be cast immediately into the mids of an hote fierie fornace. for who is that God that can deliuer you out of mine hands?

16 Shadrach, Meshach, and Abednego answered, and sayde to the king, Nebuchad-nezzar, Wee are not carefull to answer thee in this matter.

17 Beholde, our God whom we serue, is d These are the two dangerous weapons wherewith Satan vseth to fight against the children of God, the consent of the multitude, and the cruelty of the punishment: for though some feared God yet the multitude which consented to the wickednesse, stoned them: and here the king required not an inward consent, but an outward gesture, that the Iewes might by little and little came to forget their true religion.

c It seemeth that they named not Daniel, because he was greatly in the kings favour, thinking if these three had bene destroyed, they might haue had better occasion to accuse Daniel: and this declareth that this policie of erecting this image, was inuened by the malicious flatterers, which sought nothing, but the destruction of the Iewes, whom they accused of rebellion and ingratitude.

f Signifying, that he would receive them to grace, if they would now obey his decrees. g For they should haue done iniury to God if they should haue doubted in this holy cause, and therefore they say, that they are resolu'd to die for Gods cause, able

h They ground on two points, first on the power and providence of God over them, and secondly on their cause, which was Gods glory, and the testifying of his true religion with their blood, & so make open confession, that they will not so much as outwardly consent to idolatry.

i This declareth that more than tyrants rage, and the more wittie they shew themselves in unchanging strange and cruel punishments, the more is God glorified by his servants to whom he giueth patience & constancie to abide the equality of their punishment: for either hee delivereth them from death, or els for this life giueth them a better.

k For the Angels were called the sonnes of God because of their excellency: therefore the King called this Angell, whom God sent to comfort his in these great torments, the sonne of God.

l This commendeth their obedience vnto God, that they would not for any feare depart out of this furnace, till the time appointed, as Noe remained in the Arke till the Lord called him forth.

m He was moued by the greatness of the miracle to praise God, but his heart was not touched. And here we see that miracles are not sufficient to convert men to God, but that doctrine must chiefly be aduoyced, without the which there can be no faith.

able to deliuer vs from the hote fierre furnace, and he will deliuer vs out of thine hand, D King.

18 But it not, be it knowne to thee, O King, that we will not serue thy gods, nor worship the golden image, which thou hast set vp.

19 ¶ Then was Nebuchad-nezzar full of rage, and the foume of his ire was changed against Shadrach, Meshach, and Abednego: therefore he charged and commanded that they should heare the sentence at once ten times more then it was wont to be heate.

20 And he charged the most valiant men of warre that were in his army, to binde Shadrach, Meshach, and Abednego, and to cast them into the hote fierre furnace.

21 So these men were bound in their coats, their hosen, and their clothes, with their other garments, and cast into the mids of the hote fierre furnace.

22 Therefore, because the kings commandment was tyrante, that his innocencie should be exceeding hote, the flame of the fire flewe thowen man that broughte forth Shadrach, Meshach, and Abednego.

23 And these three men, Shadrach, Meshach, and Abednego fell downe bound into the mids of the hote fierre furnace.

24 ¶ Then Nebuchad-nezzar the King was astonied and rose vp in haste, and spake, and sayd vnto his counselliers, Did not wee cast these men bound into the midses of the fire? And they answered, and said vnto the king, It is true, O King.

25 And hee answered, and sayd, For, I see foure men looke, walking in the midses of the fire, and they haue no hurt, and the foume of the fourth is like the Sonne of God.

26 Then the King Nebuchad-nezzar came neere to the mouth of the hote fierre furnace, and spake and sayd, Shadrach, Meshach, and Abednego, the seruants of the High God, goe forth and come hither: for Shadrach, Meshach, and Abednego came forth of the midses of the fire.

27 Then the nobles, princes, and dukes, and the kings counselliers came together to see these men, because the fire had no power over their bodies: for not an haire of their head was burnt, neither were their coats changed, nor any smell of fire came vpon them.

28 Wherefore Nebuchad-nezzar spake and sayd, Blessed bee the God of Shadrach, Meshach, and Abednego, who hath sent his Angell, and deliuerd his seruants, that put their trust in him, and haue changed the Kings commandement, and rescued their bodies rather then they would serue of worship any God, save their owne God.

29 Therefore I make a decree, that every people, nation, and language, which speake any blasphemie against the God of Shadrach, Meshach, and Abednego, shall be drawn in pieces, and their houses shall be made a take, because there is no God that can deliuer after this sort.

30 ¶ Then the king promoted Shadrach, Meshach, and Abednego, in the prouince of Babel.

31 Nebuchad-nezzar King vnto all people, nations and languages, that dwell in all the world, Peace be multiplied vnto you: 32 I therefore it good to declare the signes and wonders, that the high God hath wrought towards me.

2 Another dreame of Nebuchad-nezzar, which Danie: declareth. 29 The Prophet declareth how of a proud king he should become as a beast. 31 After he confesseth the power of Gods, and is restored to his former dignitie.

1 Nebuchad-nezzar being at rest in mine house, and flourishing in my palace,

2 Sawe a dreame, which made me afraid, and the thoughts vpon my bed, and the visions of mine head troubled me.

3 Therefore made I a decree, that they should bring all the wise men of Babel before me, that they might declare vnto me the interpretation of the dreame.

4 So came the enchanters, the astrologians, the Chaldeans and the soothsayers, to whom I told the dreame, but they could not shew me the interpretation thereof.

5 Till at the last Daniel came before me, (whose name was Belteshazzar, according to the name of my God which hath the spirit of the holy gods in him) and before him I told the dreame, saying,

6 O Belteshazzar, chiefe of the enchanters, because I knowe that the spirit of the holy gods is in thee, and no secret troubleth thee, tell me the visions of my dreame, that I haue seene, and the interpretation thereof.

7 Thus were the visions of mine head in my bed. And behold, I sawe a tree in the midses of the earth, and the height thereof was great.

8 A great tree and strong, and the height thereof reached vnto heaven, and the sight thereof to the ends of all the earth.

9 The branches thereof were faire, and the fruit thereof much, and in it was meat for all: it made a shadowe vnder it for the beastes of the field, and the n If this heathen king moued by Gods spirit would not see blasphemie vponified, but made a law, and set a punishment to such transgressours, much more ought all they that profess religion, to take order that such impietie reigne not, lest according to their knowledge and charges greater, so fare as his dominion extended. p Re-de Chap. 2. 44.

CHAP. IIII.

2 Another dreame of Nebuchad-nezzar, which Danie: declareth. 29 The Prophet declareth how of a proud king he should become as a beast. 31 After he confesseth the power of Gods, and is restored to his former dignitie.

a There was no trouble that might cause me to dreame, and therefore it came onely of God.

b This was another dreame besides that which hee saw of the foure empires: for Daniel both declared what that dreame was, and what it meant: and here he onely expoundeth the dreame.

c In that that he sent abroad to others whose ignorance in times past he had experimented, and left Daniel which was euer ready at hand, it declareth the nature of the vngodly, which neuer seeke to the seruants of God, but for verie necessity, and then they spare no flatterings.

d This no doubt was a great grieke to Daniel, not onely to haue his name charged, but to be called by the name of a vaine idol, which thing Nebuchad-nezzar did, to make him forget the true religion of God. ¶ Which also was a great grieke to the Prophet, to be numbered among the foreracers, and men whose practises were wicked and contrary to Gods word. ¶ By the tree, is signified the dignitie of a king, whom God ordaineth to be a defence for all kind of men, and whose state is profitable for mankind.

g Meaning, the Angel of God, which neither eateth nor sleepeth, but is ever ready to do Gods will, and is not infected with mans corruption, but is ever holy: & in that that he commandeth to cut downe this tree, he knew yit should nor be cut downe by man, but by God. h Hereby hee meaneth that Nebuchad-nezzar should not onely for a time lose his kingdom, but be like a beast. i God hath decreed this judgement, and the whole army of heauen haue as it were subscribed vnto it, like as also they desire the execution of his decree against all them that lift vp themselves against God. k He was troubled for the great iudgement of God which hee saw ordained against the King: and so the Prophets vied on the one part to denounce Gods iudgements for the zeale they bare to his glory, and on the other part to haue compassion vpon him, and also to consider that they should be subject to Gods iudgements, if he did not regard them with pittie. l Whereby hee meaneth a long yeere, as seven yeeres. Some interpret: seven moneths, and others seuen weekes: but it seemeth he meant of yeeres.

foules of the heauen dwell in the boughes thereof, and all flesh fed of it.

10 I saw in the visions of mine head, vpon my bed, and behold, a watchman, and an holy one came downe from heauen, 11 And cried aloud, and sayd thus, Hew downe the tree, and breake off his branches: shake off his leaues, and scatter his fruit, that the beasts may feed from vnder it, and the foules from his branches.

12 Wherehele he leaue the stumpe of his rootes in the earth, and with a band of iron and brasle binde it among the grasse of the field, and let it be wet with the dew of heauen, and let his portion be with the beasts among the grasse of the field.

13 Let his heart be changed from mans nature, and let a beasts heart be giuen vnto him, and let seuen times be passed ouer him.

14 The sentence is according to the decree of the watchmen, and according to the word of the holy ones: the demand was answered, to the intent that liuing men may know, that the most high hath power ouer the kingdom of men, and giueth it to whomsoever he wil, and appointeth ouer it the most abiet among men.

15 This is the dreame, that I King Nebuchad-nezzar haue seene: therefore thou, Belteshazzar, declare the interpretation thereof: for all the wise men of my kingdom are not able to shew me the interpretation: but thou art able, for the spirit of the holy gods is in thee.

16 Then Daniel (whose name was Belteshazzar) held his peace by the space of one houre, and his thoughts troubled him, and the king spake and said, Belteshazzar, let neither the dreame, nor the interpretation thereof trouble thee. Belteshazzar answered, and said, My lord, the dreame be to them that hate thee, and the interpretation thereof to thine enemies.

17 The tree that thou sawest, which was great and mighty, whose height reached vnto the heauen, and the light thereof shyned all the world,

18 Whose leaues were faire and the fruit thereof much, and in it was meate for all, vnder the which the beasts of the field dwell, and vpon whose branches the foules of the heauen did sit,

19 It is thou, O king, that art great and mighty: for thy greatness is grown, and reacheth vnto heauen, and thy dominion to the ends of the earth.

20 Whereas the king saw a watchman, and an holy one that came downe from heauen, and said, Hewe downe the tree, and destroy it, yet leaue the stumpe of the rootes thereof in the earth, and with a band of iron and brasle binde it among the grasse of the field, and let it be wet with the dew of heauen, and let his portion be with the beasts of the field, till seuen times passe ouer him,

21 This is the interpretation, O king, and it is the decree of the most high, which is come vpon my lord the king,

22 That they shall drie thee from men, and thy dwelling shall be with the beasts of the field: they shall make thee to eate grasse as the oxen, and they shall wet thee with the dew of heauen: and seuen times shall passe ouer thee, till thou know, that the most high beareth rule ouer the kingdom of men, and giueth it to whomsoever he wil.

23 Whereas they said, that one should leaue the stumpe of the tree rootes, the kingdom shall remaine vnto thee: after that, thou shalt know that the heauens haue the rule.

24 Wherefore, O king, let my counsell be acceptable vnto thee, and breake off thy sinnes by righteousness, and thine iniquities by mercie toward the poore: loe, let there be an healing of thine error.

25 All these things shall come vpon the king Nebuchad-nezzar.

26 At the end of twelue moneths, he walked in the royall palace of Babel.

27 And the king spake and sayd, Is not this great Babel, that I haue built for the houle of the kingdom by the might of my power, and for the honour of my maiestie?

28 While the worde was in the kings mouth, a voyce came downe from heauen, saying, O king Nebuchad-nezzar, to thee be it spoken, thy kingdom is departed from thee, 29 And they shall drie thee from men, and thy dwelling shall be with the beasts of the field: they shall make thee to eate grasse, as the oxen, and seuen times shall passe ouer thee, vntill thou knowest, that the most high beareth rule ouer the kingdom of men, and giueth it vnto whomsoever he wil.

30 The very same houre was this thing fulfilled vpon Nebuchad-nezzar, and hee was diuyn from men, and did eate grasse as the oxen, and his bodie was wet with the dew of heauen, till his haire was grownen as Eagles feathers, and his nayles like birds claws.

31 And at the end of these dayes I Nebuchad-nezzar lift vp mine eyes vnto heauen, and mine understanding was restored vnto me, and I gaue thanks vnto the most high, and I praised and honoured him that liueth for ever, whose power is an cuerlasting power, and his kingdom is from generation to generation.

32 And all the inhabitants of the earth are reputed as nothing: & according to his will he worketh in the army of heauen, and in the inhabitants of the earth: & none can stay his hand, nor say vnto him, What dost thou?

33 At the same time was mine understanding restored vnto me, and I returned to the honour of my kingdom: my glory and my beauty was restored vnto mee, and my counsellers, and my princes, sought vnto me, and I was established in my kingdom, and my glorie was augmented toward me.

34 Nowe therefore, I Nebuchad-nezzar to stand content therewith, and giue him the glory, seemeth that he had bene put from his kingdom.

m Not that his shape or forme was changed into a beast, but that he was made like a striken mad, and so auoided mans company, or was cast our for his tyranny, and so wandered among y beasts, and ate herbes, and grasse.

n Daniel liueth the cause why God thus punished him. o Cease from prouoking God to anger any longer by thy sinnes, that he may mitigate his punishment, if thou shew by thine vpright life that thou hast true faith and repentance.

p Suffer the errors of thy former life to be redressed.

q After that Daniel had declared this vision: & this his pride declareth that it is not in man to consent to God except his Spirit moue him, seeing that these terrible threatenings could not moue him to repent.

5 Belshazzar King of Babylon seeth an hand writing on the wall. 8 The sooth sayers called of the king cannot expound the writing. 25 Daniel readeth it, and interpreteth it also. 30 The king is slaine. 31 Darius inuoyeth the kingdome.

King Belshazzar made a great feast to the thousand of his princes, and dranke wine before the thousand.

2 And Belshazzar whyles hee tasted the wine, commaunded to bring him the golden and siluer vessels, which his father Nebuchad nezzar had brought from the Temple in Jerusalem, that the king and his princes, his wives, and his concubines might drinke therein.

3 Then were brought the golden vessels, that were taken out of the Temple of the Lords house at Jerusalem, and the king and his princes, his wives, and his concubines dranke in them.

4 They dranke wine and played the gods of gold and of siluer, of brasse, of yron, of wood and of stone.

5 At the fauise house appeared fingers of a mans hand, which wrote ouer against the candlesticke vpon the playster of the wall of the kings palace, & the king sawe the palme of the hand that wrote.

6 Then the kings countenance was changed, and his thoughts troubled him, so that the topics of his loynes were loosed, and his knees smote one against another.

7 Wherefore the King cryed aloud, that they shoulde bring the Astrologians, the Caldeans and the sooth sayers. And the king spake and sayde to the wise men of Babel, Whosoever can reade this writing, and declare me the interpretation thereof, shall be clothed with purple, and shall haue a chaine of golde about his necke, and shall be the third ruler in the kingdome.

8 Then came all the kings wise men, but they could neither reade the writing, nor shew the king the interpretation.

9 Then was king Belshazzar greatly troubled, and his countenance was changed in him, and his princes were astonished.

10 Now the Queene by reason of the talke of the King and his princes, came into the banquet house, and the Queene spake, and sayd, O king, lue to euer: let not thy 12 Because a more excellent spirit, and knowledge, and vnderstanding (for hee did expound dreames, and declare hard sentences, and dissolved doubts) were found in him, euen in Daniel, whom the king named Belteshazzar: now let Daniel be called, and he will declare the interpretation.

13 Then was Daniel brought before the king, and the king spake, and sayd vnto Daniel, Art thou that Daniel, which art of the children of the captiuitie of Iudah, whom my father the King brought out of Iurie?

14 Now I haue heard of thee that the spirit of the holy gods is in thee, and that light and vnderstanding and excellent wisdom is found in thee.

15 Now therefore, wise men, and Astrologians haue bene brought before me, that they shoulde reade this writing, and shewe mee the interpretation thereof: but they could not declare the interpretation of the thing.

16 Then heard I of thee, that thou couldest shewe interpretations, and dissolve doubts: now if thou canst reade the writing, and shew me the interpretation thereof, thou shalt be clothed with purple, and shalt haue a chaine of gold about thy necke, and shalt be the third ruler in the kingdome.

17 Then Daniel answered, and sayd before the king, Keepe thy rewardes to thy selfe, and giue thy gifts to another: yet I will reade the writing vnto the king, and shew him the interpretation.

18 O King, heare thou, the most High God gaue vnto Nebuchad nezzar thy father a kingdome, and maieste, and honour and glory.

19 And for the maiesty that he gaue him, all people, nations, and languages trembled, and feared before him: hee put to death whom he would: he smote whom he would: whom he would hee let vp, and whom hee would hee put downe.

20 But when his heart was pufft vp, and his mind hardened in pride, he was depouled from his kingly throne, and they tooke his honour from him.

21 And he was diuinen from the sonnes of men, his heart was made like the beasts, and his dwelling was with the wild asses: they fed him with grasse, like oren, and his body was wet with the dew of the heauen, till hee knewe that the most High God had reuerenour the kingdome of men, and that he appointed ouer it, whomsoeuer hee pleased.

22 And thou his sonne, O Belshazzar, hast not humbled thine heart, though thou knewest all these things, a Daniel reciteth this history of king Balshazzar Euilmredachas sonne, to shew Gods iudgements against the wicked, for the deliuerance of his Church, and how the prophesie of Jeremias was erue, that they should be deliuered after seuen yeeres.

b The kings of the East partes when vied to sit alone commonly, and disdained that any should sit in their company: and now to shew his power, and how little hee set by his enemy, which then besieged Babylon, he made a solemne banquet, and vied excessiue in their company, which is meant here by drinking wine: thus the wicked are most dissolute and negligent when their destruction is at hand.

c Or, overcome with wine.

d In contempt of the true God they praised their idoles, not that they thought that the gold or siluer were gods, but that there was a certaine vertue and power in them to do them good, which is also the opinion of all idolaters.

e That it might the better be seene. f So he that before contemned God, was moued by this sight to tremble for feare of Gods iudgements.

g Thus the wicked in their troubles seeke many means, who draw them from God, because they seeke not to him who is the onely comfort in all afflictions.

h To wit, his grandmother Nebuchad nezzars wife, which for her age was not before at the feast, but came thither when she heard of these strange newes.

k For the idolaters thought, that the Angels had power as God, and therefore had them in like estimation, as they had God, thinking that the spirit of prophecie, and vnderstanding came of them.

l Before hee read the writing, hee declareth to the king his great ingratitude toward God, who could not be moued to giue him the glory, considering his wonderful worke toward his grandfather, and so sheweth that he doth not finne of signorance, but of malice.

23. But hast lift thy selfe by against the Lord of heauen, & they haue brought the vessels of his house before thee, and thou and thy princes, thy wines and thy concubines haue drunke wine in them, and thou hast praised the gods of silver and golde, of brasse, yron, wood, and stone, which neither see, neither heare, nor vnderstand; and the God in whose hande thy breath is, and all thy wayes, him hast thou not glorified.

24. Then was the palace of the hande sent from him, & hath written this writing.

25. And this is the writing that hee hath written, MENE, MENE, TEKEL VPHARSIN.

26. This is the interpretation of the thing, MENE, God hath numbered thy kingdome, and hath finished it.

27. TEKEL, thou art weighed in the ballance, and art found too lighte.

28. PARES, thy kingdome is diuided, and giuen to the Medes and Persians.

29. Then at the commandment of Belshazzar, they clothed Daniel with purple, and put a chayne of golde about his necke, and made a proclamation concerning him, that he should be the third ruler in the kingdome.

30. The same night was Belshazzar the king of the Caldeans slaine.

31. And Darius of the Medes tooke the kingdome, being therscore & two yeere old.

Cyrus his sonne in lawe gaue him this title of honour, although Cyrus in effect had the dominion.

CHAPTER VI.

1. Daniel is made ruler over the gouernours. 5. An act against Daniel. 16. He is put into a den of lions by the commandment of the King. 23. He is deliuered by faith in God. 24. Daniels accusers are put into the lions. 25. Darius by a decree magnifieth the God of Daniel.

¶ The pleased Darius to set ouer the kingdome an hundred and twentie gouernours, which should be ouer the whole kingdome.

¶ And ouer these, three rulers (of whom Daniel was one) that the gouernours might giue accounts vnto them, and the King should haue no damage.

¶ Now this Daniel was preferred aboue the rulers and gouernours, because the spirit was excellent in him, and the King thought to set him ouer the whole realme.

¶ Therefore the rulers and gouernours sought an occasion against Daniel concerning the kingdome: but they could finde none occasion nor fault: for he was so faultlesse that there was no blame nor fault found in him.

¶ Then said these men, We shall not finde an occasion against this Daniel, except we finde it against him concerning the Law of his God.

¶ Therefore the rulers and these gouernours went together to the King, and desired that they might haue a good conscience.

layd thus vnto him, King Darius, lue for euer.

¶ All the rulers of thy kingdome, the officers and gouernours, the counsellors, and dukes haue conuerted together to make a decree for the king, and to establish a statute, that whosoever shall aske a petition of any god or man for thirtie dayes saue of thee, O king, he shall be cast into the den of lions.

¶ Now King, confirme the decree, and seale the writing, that it be not changed, according to the lawe of the Medes and Persians, which altereth not.

¶ Therefore king Darius sealed the writing and the decree.

¶ Now when Daniel vnderstoode that he had sealed the writing, he went into his house, and his window being open in his chamber toward Jerusalem, he kneeled vpon his knees thre times a day, and prayed, and praised his God, as he did aforesaid time.

¶ Then these men assembled, and found Daniel praying, and making supplication vnto his God.

¶ So they came, and spake vnto the king concerning the kings decree, that thou hadst sealed the decree, that every man that shall make request to any God or man within thirtie dayes, saue to thee, O King, shall be cast into the denne of lions? The king answered, and sayd, The thing is true, according to the Lawe of the Medes and Persians, which altereth not.

¶ Then answered they, and layde vnto the king, This Daniel which is of the children of the captiuitie of Iudah, regardeth not thee, O King, nor the decree, that thou hast sealed, but maketh his petition thre times a day.

¶ When the king heard these wordes, he was sore displeas'd with himselfe, and set his heart on Daniel, to deliuer him: and he laboured till the Sunne went downe to deliuer him.

¶ Then these men assembled vnto the king, and layd vnto the king, vnderstand, O king, that the Lawe of the Medes and Persians is, that no decree nor statute which the king confirmeth, may be altered.

¶ Then the king commanded, and they brought Daniel, and cast him into the denne of lions: now the king spake, and said vnto Daniel, Thy God, whom thou alwayst thinkest, euen he will deliuer thee.

¶ And a stone was brought, and layd vpon the mouth of the denne, and the King sealed it with his owne siget, and with the siget of his princes, that the purpose might not be changed, concerning Daniel.

¶ Then the king went vnto his palace, and remained fasting, neither were the instruments of musike brought before him, and his sleepe went from him.

¶ Then the king awoke early in the morning, and went in all haste vnto the den of lions.

¶ And when he came to the denne, hee cryed with a lamentable voice vnto Daniel,

Here is condemned the wickedness of the king, who would be set vp as a god, and perished not what wicked lawes he approved for the maintenance of the same. He became hee would not by his silence shew that hee consented to this wicked decree, he set open his windowes toward Jerusalem, when hee prayed: both to stirre vp himselfe with the remembrance of Gods promises to his people, which they should pray toward that Temple, and also that other might see, that he would neither consent in heart nor deed for these few dayes to any thing that was contrary to Gods glory. Thus the wicked maintain euill lawes by constancy and authority, which is of times either lightnesse, or stubbornnesse, when as the innocents thereby perish, and therefore gouernours neither ought to see nor be ashamed to breake such.

m After that God had for long time deferred his anger, and patiently waited for thine amendment. n This word is twice written for the certainty of the thing: shewing that God had most surely counted, signifying also that God hath appointed a terme for all kingdomes, and that a miserable end shall come on all that raise themselves against him.

Or warning. o Cyrus his sonne in lawe gaue him this title of honour, although Cyrus in effect had the dominion.

s Reade Esthor Chap. i. i. Or, hee be troubled. b This heathen King preferred Daniel, a stranger to all his nobles and familiar, because the graces of God were more excellent in him then in others. c Thus the wicked cannot abide the graces of God in others, but seeke by all occasions to deface them: therefore against such faults there is no better remedy then to walke vprightly in the feare of God, and to haue a good conscience.

and the king spake, and said to Daniel, O Daniel, the servant of the living God, is not thy God (whom thou alway seruest) able to deliuer thee from the lions?

21 Then sayd Daniel vnto the king, O king, sine for euer.

22 My God hath sent his Angell, and hath shut the lions mouthes, that they haue not hurt me: for my iustice was found out before him: and vnto thee, O King, I haue done no hurt.

23 Then was the King exceeding glad for him, and commaunded that they should take Daniel out of the den: so Daniel was brought out of the den, and no manner of hurt was found vpon him, because hee beleued in his God.

24 And by the commaundement of the king, these men which had accused Daniel, were brought, and were cast into the den of lions, euen they, their children, & their wiues: and the lions had the mastery of them, and brake all their bones in peeces, soe as they came at the ground of the den.

25 Afterward king Darius wrote, vnto all people, nations and languages, that dwell in all the world: Peace be multiplied vnto you.

26 I make a decree, that in all the dominion of my kingdome, men tremble & feare before the God of Daniel: for he is the liuing God, and remaineth for euer: and his kingdome shall not perish, and his dominion shall be euerslasting.

27 He rescuerth & deliuereth, and he worketh signes and wonders in heauen and in earth: who hath deliuered Daniel from the power of the lions.

28 So this Daniel prospered in the reigne of Darius, and in the reigne of Cyrus of Persia, wrote the dreame, & declared the summe of the matter.

2 Daniel spake, and sayde, I sawe in my vision by night, and beholde, the foure windes of the heauen stroue vpon the great sea:

3 And foure great beasts came vpon the sea, one diuers from another.

4 The first was as a lion, and had eyles wings: I beheld, til the wings thereof were plucked off, & it was lifted vp from the earth, and set vpon his fette as a man, and a mans heart was giuen him.

5 And beholde, another beast which was the second, was like a beare, and stood vpon the one side: and hee had three ribbes in his mouth betweene his teeth, & and they sayd thus vnto him, Arise, and deuoure much flesh.

6 After this, I beheld, and loe, there was another like a leopard, which had vpon his backe foure wings of a foule: the beast had also foure heades, and dominion was giuen him.

7 After this, I sawe in the visions by night, and beholde, the fourth beast was fearefull, and terrible, and very strong. It had great vpon teeth: it denoured, and brake in peeces, and stamped the residue vnder his fette: and it was vnlke to the brasse that were before it: for it had tenne hornes.

8 As I considered the hornes, beholde, there came vp among them another little horn, before whom there were three of and cruel. e They were small in the beginning, and were shut vp in their mountaines and had no fruit. f That is, destroyed many kingdomes: & was insatiabie. g To wit, the Angels by Gods commaundment, who by this meanes punished the ingratitude of the world. h Meaning, Alexander the king of Macedonia. i That is, his foure chief captaines, which had the empire among the after his death Seleucus had Asia the great, Antigonus yeste, Cassander, and after him Antipater was king of Macedonia, and Ptolemeus had egypt. k It was not of himle fe, nor of his owne power, that hee gate of these countries: for his army contained but thirty thousand men, and he ouercame in one battel Darius, which had tenne hundred thousand, when he was so heauy with sleepe, that his eyes were scarce open, as the stories report: therefore this power was giuen him of God. l That is, the Romane Empire, which was as a monster, and could not be compared to any beast, because the nature of none was able to expresse it. m Signifying the tyranny and greedinesse of the Romanes. n That which the Romanes could not quietly inioyn other countries, they would giue it to other kings and rulers: that all times when they would, they might take it againe: which liberality is here called the stamping of the rest vnder the fette. o That is, sundry & diuers provinces, which were gouerned by the Deputies and Proconsuls, wherof euery one might be compared to a King. p Which is meant of Iulius Cesar, Augustus, Tiberius, Caligula Claudius and Nero: &c who were as Kings in effect, but because they could not rule, but by the consent of the Senate, their power is compared to a little home. For Mahomet came not of the Romane Empire, and the Pope hath no vocation of government: therefore this cannot be applied vnto them. And also in this prophesie the Prophets purpose is chiefly to comfort the Jewes vnto the reuelation of Christ. Some take it for the whole body of Antichrist. q Meaning, a certaine portion of the renne hornes: that is, a part from the whole estate was plucked away. For Augustus tooke from the Senate the libertie of choosing the Deputies to send into the prouinces, and tooke the gouernment of certaine countreys to himselfe.

b Which signified that there should be horrible troubles and afflictions in all corners of the world, in all times of the world, and at sundry times.

c Meaning, the Assyrian and Caldean Empire, which was most strong and fierce in power and most soone come to their authority, as though they had had wings to fly: yet their wings were pulled by the Persians, and they went on their fette, and were made like other men, which is here meant by manshere.

d Meaning the Persians, which were barbarous

g This declarerth that Darius was not toucht with the true knowledge of God, because he doubted of his power. h My iust cause and vprightnesse in this thing, wherein I was charged, is approved of God. i For he did disobey the kings wicked commaundement, to obey God, and to do no iniury to the king, who ought to command nothing, whereby God should be dishonoured. k Because he committed himselfe wholly vnto God, whose cause he did defend, he was assured that nothing vnto good could come vnto him: wherein we see the power of faith, as Heb. 11. 33.

l This is a terrible example against all the wicked, which do against their conscience make cruell lawes to destroy the children of God, and also admonisheth Princes how to punish such, when their wickednesse is come to light: though not in euery poynt, or with like circumstances, yet to execute true iustice vpon them. m This proueth not that Darius did worship God aright, or els was conuerted: for then he would haue destroyed all superstition and idolatry, & not only giuen God the chief place, but also haue st. thin vp, and caused him to be honoured according to his word: but this was a certayne confession of Gods power, wherunto he was compelled by this wonderful miracle. n Which hath not onely life in himselfe, but is the only fountayne of life, and quickeneth all things, so that without him there is no life.

CHAP. VII.

3 A vision of foure beastes is shewed vnto Daniel. 8 The ten hornes of the fourth beast. 27 Of the euerslasting kingdome of Christ.

In the first yere of Belshazzar king of Babel Daniel saw a dreame, and there were visions in his head, vpon his bed: then he a Whereas the people of Israel looked for a continuall quietnesse after these seventy yeres, as Ieremiah had declared, he sheweth that this rest shall not be a deliuerance from all troubles, but a beginning, and therefore encourageth them to look for a continuall affliction till the Messias be vttered and reuealed, by whome they should haue a spirituall deliuerance, and all the promises fulfilled: wherof they should haue a certayne token in the destruction of the Babylonical kingdome.

r These Romane Emperours at the first vied a certaine humanity, and gentleness, and were content that others, as the Consuls and Senate should bear the name of dignity, so that they might haue the profit, and therefore in elections and counsels would behaue themselves according as did other Senators: yet against their enemies; & those that would resist them, they were fiere and cruell, which is here meant by the proud mouth.

f Meaning, the places where God and his Angels should come to iudge these Monarchies, which iudgment should beginne at the first coming of Christ.

t That is, God which was before all times, and is here described as mans nature is able to comprehend some portion of his glory.

u That is, an infinite number of Angels, which were ready to execute his commaundment.

x This is meant of the first coming of Christ, when as the will of God was plainly reuealed by his Gospell.

y Meaning, that hee was asloned when hee saw these Emperours in such dignity and pride, and so iudicidly destroyed at the coming of Christ, when this fourth Monarchy was subiect to men of other nations.

z As the three former Monarchies had an ende, at the time that God appointed, although they flourished for a time, so shall this fourth haue, and they that patiently be Gods appoyntment, shall enioy the promises.

a Which is meant of Christ, who had not yet taken vpon the humans nature, neither was the sonne of Dauid according to the flesh, as hee was afterward: but appeared then in a figure, and that in the cloudes: that is, being separate from the common sort of men by manifest signes of his diuinity.

b To wit, when he ascended into the heauens, and his diuine Maiesty appeared, that all power was giuen vnto him in respect of that that hee was our Mediatour.

c This is meant of the beginning of Christis kingdome, when God the Father gaue vnto him all dominion, as to the Mediatour, to the intent that hee should gouerne here his Church in earth continually, till the time that hee brought them to eternall life.

d Through the straungesse of the vision.

e Meaning, of the Angels, as verse 10.

the first hornes plucked away: and beholde, in this horn were eyes like the eyes of man, and a mouth speaking presumptuous things.

9 I beheld, till the thrones were set by, and the Ancient of dayes did sit, whose garment was white as snow, and the haire of his head like the pure wooll: his throne was like the fiery flame, and his wheeles as burning fire.

10 A fiery stream issued, and came forth from before him: thousande thousande thousande stood before him: the iudgement was set, and the bookes opened.

11 Then I behelde, because of the voyce of the presumptuous words, which the horne spake: I behelde, euen till the beast was slayne, and his body destroyed, and giuen to the burning fire.

12 As concerning the other beasts, they had taken away their dominion: yet their liues were prolonged for a certaine time and season.

13 As I beheld in visions by night, behold, one like the sonne of man came in the cloudes of heauen, and approached vnto the Ancient of dayes, and they brought him before him, 14 And he gaue him dominion, and honour, & a kingdome, that all people, nations, and languages should serue him: his dominion is an euerlasting dominion, which shall neuer be taken away: and his kingdome shall neuer be destroyed.

15 I Daniel was troubled in my spirite in the middes of my body, and the visions of mine heade made mee astray.

16 Therefore I came vnto one of them that stood by, and asked him the truth of all this: so hee tolde mee, and shewed mee the interpretation of these things.

17 These great beastes which are foure, are foure kings, which shall arise out of the earth.

18 And they shall take the kingdome of the Saints of the most high, which shall possesse the kingdome for euer, euen for euer and euer.

19 After this I would know the truth of the fourth beast, which was so unlike to all y orders, very fearefull, whose teeth were of iron, and his nailes of brasse, which deuoured, brake in peeces, and stamped the residue vnder his feete.

20 Also to know of the tenne hornes that were in his head, & of the other which came vp, before whom three fell, and of the horne that had eyes, and of the mouth that spake presumptuous things, whose looke was more stout then his fellowes.

21 I behelde, and the same horne made battel against the Saints, yea, and preyed against them.

22 Until the Ancient of dayes came, and iudgement was giuen to the Saints of the most high: and the time approached, that the Saints possessed the kingdome.

23 Then he sayd, The fourth beast shall be the fourth kingdome in the earth, which shall be unlike to all the kingdomes, and shall deuoure the whole earth, & shall tread it downe and breake it in peeces.

24 And the ten hornes out of this kingdome are ten kings that shall rise: & another shall rise after them, and he shall be unlike to the first, and he shall subdue three kings,

25 And shall speake words against the most high, and shall consume the Saints of the most high, & thinke that he may change times and lawes, and they shall be giuen into his hand, vntill a time, and times, and the diuiding of time.

26 But the iudgement shall sit, and they shall take away his dominion, to consume and destroy it vnto the end.

27 And the kingdome, and dominion, retained them for terme of life: also the Romans were the strongest of all the other, and were neuer quiet among themselves. i Reade verse 7. k This is meant of the fourth beast, which was more terrible then the other. l Meaning, the Romane Emperours, who were most cruell against the Church of God both of the Iewes and of the Gentiles. m Till God shewed his power in the person of Christ, & by the preaching of the Gospell gaue vnto his some rest, and so obtained a famous name in the world, and were called the Church of God, or the kingdome of God. n Reade the exposition here of verse 8.

o That is, shall make wicked decrees and proclamations against Gods word, and send thorowout all their dominion, to destroy all that did profess it. p These Emperours shall not consider that they haue their power of God, but thinke it is in their owne power to change Gods lawes and maners, and as it were the order of nature, as appeareth by Octavius, Tiberius, Caligula, Nero, Domitianus, &c. q God shall suffer them thus to rage against his Saints for a long time, which is meant by the time and times, but at length hee will asswage these troubles, and shorten the times for his elects sake, Math. 24. 22.

r which is here meant by the diuiding of time. s God by his power shall restore things that were out of order, and s destroy this little horne that it shall neuer rise vp againe. t Hee shewed wherefore the beast should be destroyed, to wit, that his Church might haue rest and quietnesse, which although they doe not fully enioy here, yet they haue it in hope, and by the preaching of the Gospell enioy the beginning thereof, which is meant by these words, vnder the heauens: and therefore hee here speaketh of the beginning of Christis kingdome in this world, which kingdome the faithfull haue by the participation that they haue with Christ their head.

f Because Abraham was appoynted heire of all the world, Rom. 4. 13. and in him all the faithfull, therefore the kingdome thereof is theirs by right, which these foure beasts or tyrants should inuade, and vsurpe vntill the world were restored by Christ: and this was to confirme them that were in troubles, that their afflictions should haue an end at length.

g That is, of the most high things, because God hath chosen them out of this world that they should looke vp to the heauens, where on all their hope dependeth. h For the other three monarchies were gouerned by a king, and the Romane Empire by consuls: the Romans changed their gouernours yeerely, and the other monarchies

t That is, some of every sort that beare rule.
u Though hee had many motions in his heart which moued him to and fro to seeke out this matter curiously:

yet hee was content with that which God reuealed, and kept it in memory, and wrote it for the vse of the church.

CHAP VIII.

1 A vision of a battell betweene a ramme and a goate. 20 The vnderstanding of the vision.

In the third yere of the reigne of king Belshazzar, a vision appeared vnto mee, euen vnto me Daniel, after that which appeared vnto me at the first.

2 And I saw in a vision, and when I saw it, I was in the palace of Shushan, which is in the pounice of Elam, and in a vision me thought I was by the riuier of Uai.

3 Then I looked vp and saw, and beheld there stood before the riuier a ramme, which had two hornes: and these two hornes were hie: but one was higher then another, and the highest came vp last.

4 I saw the ramme pushing against the West, and against the North, and against the South: so that no beastes might stand before him, nor coulde deliuer one of his hand, but he did what hee listed, and became great.

5 And as I considered, behold, a goate came from the West ouer the whole earth, and touched not the ground: and this goate had an s horne that appeared betweene his eyes.

6 And he came vnto the ramme that had the two hornes, whom I had seene standing by the riuier, and ran vnto him in his fierce rage.

7 And I saw him come vnto the ramme, and being incued against him, he smote the ramme, and brake his two hornes: and there was no power in the ramme to stand against him, but he cast him downe to the ground, and stamped vpon him, and there was none that coulde deliuer the ramme out of his power.

8 Therefore the goate waxed exceeding great, and when he was at the strongest, his great horn was broken: and for it came vp foure that appeared towards the foure winds of the heauen.

9 And out of one of them came forth a little horn, which is meant by this horne. h Alexander ouercame Darius two sundry battels, & so had the two kingdomes of the Medes and Persians. i Alexander's great power was broken: for when he had ouercome at the East, he thought to returne toward Grecia, to subdue them that there had rebelled, and so dyed by the way. k That is, which were famous: for almost in the space of fiftene yere, there were fiftene diuers successors before this monarchy was diuided to these foure, wherof Cassander had Macedonia, Seleucus Syria, Antigonus Asia the lesse, & Ptolemus Egypt. l Which was Antiochus Epiphanes, who was of a seuell and flustering nature, and also there were other betweene him and the kingdomes, and therefore is here called a little horne, because neither princely conditions, nor any other thing was in him, why he should obtaine this kingdomes.

the horne, which waxed very great towards the South, and toward the East, and toward the pleasant land.

10 Pea, it grew vp vnto the hoste of heauen, and it cast downe some of the hoste, and of the starres to the ground, and trode vpon them.

11 And extolled himselfe against the spines of the hoste from whom the daily sacrifice was taken away, & the place of his sanctuaty was cast downe.

12 And a time shall bee giuen him ouer the daily sacrifice for the iniquity: and it shall cast downe the truth to the ground, & thus shall it doe, and prosper.

13 Then I heard one of the Saints speaking, and one of the Saints spake vnto a certaine one, saying, How long it all endure the vision of the daily sacrifice, & the iniquity of the desolation to tread both the Sanctuaty and the army vnder foote?

14 And he answered me, Vnto the evening, and the morning, two thousand & three hundred: then shall the Sanctuaty bee cleansed.

15 Now when I Daniel had seene the vision, and sought for the meaning, behold, there stood before me like the similitude of a man.

16 And I heard a mans voyce betweene the banks of Uai, which called and sayd, Gabriel, make this man to vnderstand the vision.

17 So he came where I stood: and when he came, I was afraid, & fell vpon my face: but he said vnto me, vnderstand, & sonne of man: for in the last time shall be the vision.

18 Now as he was speaking vnto me, I being asleepe fell on my face to the ground: but he touched me, & set me vp in my place.

19 And he sayd, Behold, I will shew thee what shall be in the last tyme: for in the end of the time appointed it shall come.

20 The ramme which thou sawest hauing two hornes, are the kings of the Medes and Persians.

21 And the goat is the king of Grecia, and the great horne that is betweene his eyes, is the first king.

22 And that that is broken, and foure stood vp for it, are foure kingdomes, which shall stand vp of that nation, but not in his strength.

23 And in the ende of their kingdomes, when the rebellious shall be consumed, a king of fierce countenance, and vnderstanding one, or a secret one, or a marueilous one, x That is, the Iewes finnes, which were cause of this destruction. y That is, which suppreth Gods religion, and his people. z Christ answered me for the comfort of the Church. a That is, vntill fo many natural dayes be past, which make fixe yeres, three monthes and an halfe: for so long vnder Antiochus was the Temple profaned. b Which was Christ, who in this maner declared himselfe to the olde fathers how he would be God manifested in flesh. c This power to command the Angel declared that he was God. d The effect of this vision shall not yet appeare, but a long time after. e Meaning that great rage, which Antiochus should then against the Church. f That is, out of Grecia. g They shall not haue like power as had Alexander. h Noting that this Antiochus was impudent, and euell, and a craftie, that he could not be decieued.

m That is, toward Egypt.

n Whereby he meaneth Ptolemus;

o That is, Iudca.

p Antiochus ragged against the elect of God, and trode his precious starres vnder feet, which are so called because they are separated from the world.

q That is, God who gouerneth and maintaineth his Church.

r He laboured to abolish all religion, and therefore cast Gods seruice out of his Temple, which God had chosen as a little corner from all the rest of the world to haue his Name there truly called vpon.

3 Daniel desireth to haue that performed of God, which he had promised concerning the return of the people from their banishment in Babylon.

 21 Gabriel the Angel expoundereth vnto him the vision of the seventy weekes. 24 The anointing of Christ 25 The building againe of Ierusalem. 26 The death of Christ.

I<sup>a</sup> The first yeere of Darius the sonne of I<sup>b</sup> Achasuerus, of the seede of the Medes, which was made King ouer the realme of the Chaldeans,

2 Euen in the first yeere of his reigne, I Daniel vnderstood by bookes the number of the yeeres, whereof the Lorde had spoken vnto Ieremiah the Prophet, that hee would accomplish seventy yeeres in the desolation of Ierusalem.

3 And I turned my face vnto the Lorde God, & I sought by prayer and supplications with fasting and sackcloth and ashes.

4 And I prayed vnto the Lord my God, and made my confession, saying, O Lorde God, which art e great & fearful, and keepst covenant & mercie toward them which loue thee, and toward them that keepe thy commandments,

5 Wee haue sinned, and haue committed iniquity and haue done wickedly, yea, wee haue rebelled, and haue departed from thy precepts, and from thy iudgements.

6 For we would not obey thy seruants the Prophets, which spake in thy Name to our kings, to our princes, and to our fathers, and to all the people of this land.

7 O Lorde, righteousnesse belongeth vnto thee, and vnto vs & open shame, as appeareth this day vnto every man of Iudah, & to the inhabitants of Ierusalem: yea, vnto all Israel, both neere and farre off, though all the countreyes whither thou hast driven them because of their offences, that they haue committed against thee.

8 O Lorde, vnto vs appertyneth open shame, to our e Kings, to our Princes, and to our fathers, because we haue sinned against thee.

9 Yet compassion and forgiveness is in the Lorde our God, albeit wee haue rebelled against him.

10 For wee haue not obeyed the h voyce of the Lord our God, to walke in his lawes, which hee had layd before vs by the ministry of his seruants the Prophets.

11 Yea, all Israel haue transgressed thy Lawe, and are turned backe, and haue not heard thy voyces: therefore the curse is pouerred vpon vs, & the othe that is written in the Lawe of Moses the seruant of God, because we haue sinned against him.

12 And hee hath continued his wordes, which hee spake against vs, and against our iudges that I iudged vs, by bringing vpon vs a great plague: for vnder the whole heauen hath not bene the like, as hath bene brought vpon Ierusalem.

13 All this plague is come vpon vs, as it is written in the Lawe of Moses: yet made we not our prayer before the Lord our God, that we might turne from our iniquities, and vnderstand thy cruety.

14 Therefore hath the Lord & made reade the plague, and brought it vpon vs: for the Lorde our God is righteous in all his workes which hee doeth: for we would not heare his voyce.

15 * And now, O Lord our God, that hast brought thy people out of the lande of Egypt with a mighty hand, and hast gotten thee renowne, as appeareth this day, we haue sinned, we haue done wickedly.

16 O Lorde, according to all thy k righteousness, I beseech thee, let thine anger and thy wrath be turned away from thy cite Ierusalem thine holy mountaine: for because of our finnes, and for the iniquities of our fathers, Ierusalem & thy people are a reproch to all that are about vs.

17 Now therefore, O our God, heare the prayer of thy seruant, and his supplications, and cause thy face to shine vpon thy Sanctuary, that lieth waste for the m Lords sake.

18 O my God, incline thine eare, and heare: open thine eyes, and behold our desolations, and the cite whereupon thy Name is called: for wee doe not present our supplications before thee for our owne n righteousness, but for thy great tender mercies.

19 O Lord heare, O Lord forgive, O Lord consider, and doe it: deferre not, for thine owne sake, O my God: for thy Name is called vpon thy city, and vpon thy people.

20 And whiles I was speaking and praying, and confessing my sinne, and the sinne of my people Israel, and did present my supplication before the Lord my God, for 23 At the beginning of thy supplications the commandement came forth, and I am come to shew thee, for thou art greatly beloved: therefore vnderstand the matter and consider the vision.

24 Seventy weekes are determined vpon thy people, and vpon thine holy citie to finish the wickednes, & to seale vnder the sinnes, and to reconcile the iniquity, and to bring in everlasting righteousnes, and to seale vnder the vision and prophesie, and to anoynt the most holy.

25 Know therefore and vnderstand, that from the going forth of the commandement to bring againe the people, and to build Ierusalem, vnto Messiah the prince, shall be seuen weekes, and thre score and two weekes, and the streete shall be built againe, and the wall euen in a troublous time.

26 And after thre score and two weekes, shall Messiah bee slaine, and shall haue nothing, & the people of the prince that shall come, shall despoile the citie and the sanctuary, & the end thereof shall be with a flood: and vnto the end of the battell it shall be destroyed by desolations.

27 And he shall confirm the couenant with many for one weeke: and in the midst of the weeke he shall cause the sacrifice & the oblation to cease, & for the overspreading of the abominations, hee shall make it desolate, euen vntill the consummation determined shall be powred vpon the desolate.

CHAP. X.

There appeareth vnto Daniell a man clothed in linen, which sheweth him wherefore he is sent. In the third yere of Cyrus king of Persia, a thing was revealed vnto Daniel (whose name was called Belsesazzar) and the moude was true, but the reue appoynted was long, and he vnderstood the thing, and had vnderstanding of the vision.

a He noteth this third yere because at this time the building of the Temple began to be hindered by Cambyses Cyrus sonne, when the father made war in Asia minor against the Scythians, which was a discouraging to the godly, and a great feare to Daniel. b Which is to declare that the godly should not hasten too much, but patiently to abide the issue of Gods promise.

2 At the same time, I Daniel was in heauenslie for thre weekes of dayes.

3 I ate no pleasant bread, neither came flesh, nor wine in my mouth, neither did I anoynt my selfe at all, till thre weekes of dayes were fulfilled.

4 And in the foure and twentieth day of the first month, as I was by the side of that great river, euen Tigris,

5 And I lift vp mine eyes, and looked, and behold, there was a man clothed in linen, whose loynes were girded with linc gold of Cyprus,

6 His body also was like the Chybolite, and his face (to looke vpon) like the lightning, and his eyes as lampes of fire, and his armes and his feet were like in colour to polished brasse, and the voyce of his words was like the voyce of a multitude.

7 And I Daniel alone saw the vision: for the men that were with me saw not the vision: but a great feare fell vpon them, so that they fled away and hid themselves.

8 Therefore I was left alone, & saw this great vision, and there remained no strength in mee: for my strength was turned in mee into corruption, and I retained no power.

9 Yet heard I the voyce of his words, and when I heard the voyce of his words, I slept on my face: and my face was toward the ground.

10 And behold, an hand touched mee which set mee vpon my knees and vpon the palmes of my hands, 11 And he said vnto me, O Daniel, a man greatly beloved, vnderstand the words that I speake vnto thee, and stand in thy place: for vnto thee am I now sent. And when hee had said this word vnto mee, I stood trembling.

12 Then said he vnto mee, Feare not Daniel: for from the first day that thou diddest set thine heart to vnderstand, and to humble thy selfe before thy God, thy words were heard, and I am come for thy words.

13 But the prince of the kingdom of Persia withstood me one and twenty dayes: but toe, Michael one of the chiefe princes, came to helpe me, and I remained there by the kings of Persia.

14 Nowe I am come to shew thee what shall come to thy people in the latter dayes: for yet the vision is for many dayes.

15 And when hee spake these words vnto mee, I set my face toward the ground, and held my tongue.

16 And behold, one like the similitude of the sonnes of man touched my lips: then I opened my mouth, and spake, and said vnto him that stood before mee, O my Lord, by the vision my sorowes are returned vpon me, and I haue retained no strength.

17 For how can the seruant of this my Lord talke with my Lord being such a one? for as for mee, straightway there remained no strength in mee, neither is there breath left in me.

CHAP. XI.

<sup>a</sup> The Angel affirmeth Daniel that God hath giuen him power to performe these things, seeing hee appointed him to assist Darius when hee ouercame the Caldeans.

A Lo I, in the first yere of Darins of the Medes, euen I stood to encourage and to strengthen him.

2 And now wil I shewe thee the truth. Behold, there shall stand vp yet thre kinges in Persia, and the fourth shall be farre richer then they all: and by his strength, and by his riches he shall stir vp all against the realme of Grecia.

3 But a mighty king shall stande vp, that shall rule with great dominion, and doe according to his pleasure.

4 And when hee shall stand vp, his kingdome shall be broken, and shall be diuided toward the foure windes of heauen: & not to his posterity, nor according to his dominion, which hee ruled: for his kingdome shall be plucked vp, eue to be for others besides those.

5 And the King of the South shall be mighty, & one of his princes, and shall preuaile against him, and beare rule: his dominion shall be a great dominion.

6 And in the end of yeres they shall be ioyned together: for the kings daughter of the South shall come to the king of the North to make an agreement, but she shall not retaine the power of the arme, neither shall she continue, nor his arme: but she shall be deliuered to death, & they that brought her, and they that begate her, and he that comforted by these times.

7 But out of the budde of her roots shall one stande vp in his stead, which shall come with an arme, and shall enter into the fortreffe of the king of the North, and doe with them as hee list, and shall preuaile,

8 And shall also cary captiues into Egypt their gods with their moulten images, and with their precious vessels of silver and of golde, and hee shall continue moe yeres then the king of the North.

9 So the king of the South shall come into his kingdome, and shall returne into his owne land.

10 Wherfoze his sonnes shall be stirred vp, and shall assembe a mighty great army: and one shall come and ouerflow, and passe thow: then shall he returne, and be stirred vp at his fortreffe.

11 And the King of the South shall be angry, and shall come forth, and fight with him, euen with the King of the North: for hee shall set forth a great multitude, and the multitude shall be giuen into his hand.

12 Then the multitude shall be proude, and their heart shall be lifted vp: for hee shall cast downe thousands: but hee shall not still preuaile.

13 For the king of the North shall returne, & shall set forth a greater multitude then afore, and shall come forth (after certaine yeres) with a mighty arme, and great riches.

14 And at the same time there shall many stand vp against the king of the South: also the rebellious children of thy people shall exalt themselves to stablsh the vision, but they shall fall.

15 So the King of the North shall come, and cast vp a mount, and take the strong citie: and the armes of the South shall not resist, neither his chosen people, neither shall there be any strength to withstand.

16 But hee that shall come, shall doe vnto him as hee list, and none shall stand a

<sup>r</sup> Some reade, shee that begate her, and thereby vnderstand her nurse, which brought her vp: so that all they that were occasion of this marriage, were destroyed.

<sup>t</sup> Meaning, that Ptolemeus Euergetes after the death of his father Philadelphus, should succede in the kingdome, being of the same stocke that Berenice was.

<sup>u</sup> To reuenge his sisters death

six and fourtie yeres. <sup>x</sup> Meaning, Seleucus and Antiochus the great, the sonnes of Calinicus shall make warre against Ptolemeus Philopater the sonne of Philadelphus. <sup>y</sup> For his elder brother Seleucus died, or was slaine while the warres were preparing. <sup>z</sup> That is, Philopater when hee shall see Antiochus to take great dominions from him in Syria, and also ready to invade Egypt. <sup>a</sup> For Antiochus had sixe thousand horsemen, and therefore thousand footemen. <sup>b</sup> After the death of Ptolemeus Philopater, who left Ptolemeus Epiphanes his heire. <sup>c</sup> For not onely Antiochus came against him, but also Philip King of Macedonia, and these two brought great power with them. <sup>d</sup> For vnder Onias which falsly alledged that place of Icliah 19. 19. certayne of the Jewes retired with him into Egypt to fulfill this prophesie: also the Angel sheweth that all these troubles which are in the Church, are by the prouidence and counsell of God. <sup>e</sup> The Egyptians were not able to resist Stopas Antiochus captaine.

f Hee sheweth that he shall not onely afflict the Egyptians, but also the Iewes, and shall enter into their countrey, whereof he admonisheth them before, that they may know that all these things come by Gods prouidence.

g This was the second battell that Antiochus fought against Ptolemes Epiphanes.

h To wit, a beautiful woman which was Cleopara Antiochus daughter.

i For he regarded not the life of his daughter, in respect of the kingdom of Egypt.

k She shall not agree to his wicked counsell, but shall loue her husband, as her dutie requireth, and not seeke his destruction.

l That is, toward Asia, Grecia, and those yles which are in the sea called Mediterranean: for y Iewes called all countreys yles, which were diuided from them by sea. m For whereas Antiochus was wont to conteme the Romanes, & put their embassadours to shame in all places, Atilius the Consul, or Lucius Scipio put him to flight, & caused his shame to turne on his owne head.

n By his wicked lite, and obeying of foolish counsel. o For feare of the Romanes he shall flee to his holdes.

p For when as vnder the pretence of pouertie he would haue robbed the Temple of Iupiter Dodonous, the countrey men slew him.

q That is, Seleucus shall succeed his father Antiochus. r Not by foireine enemies, or battell, but by treason. s Which was Antiochus Epiphanes, who as is thought, was the occasion of Seleucus his brothers death, and was of a vile, cruell, and flattering nature, & defrauded his brothers sonne of the kingdom, and vsurped the kingdom without the consent of the people. t Hee sheweth that great foraine powers shall come to helpe the yong sonne of Seleucus against his vnckle Antiochus, and yet shall be ouerthrowen.

u Meaning Ptolemes Philometor Philopatens sonne, who was this childes cousin germane, and is here called the prince of the couenant, because hee was the chiefe, and all other followed his conduyt. x For after the battell, Philometor and his vnckle Antiochus made a league. y For he came vpon him at vnawares, and when he suspected his vnckle Antiochus nothing. z Meaning, in Egypt. a Hee will content himselfe with the small holdes for a time, but euer labour by craft to attaine to the chiefest. b Hee shall be ouercome with treason.

against him; and he shall stand in the plea-sure land, which by his hand shall be con-sumed.

17 Again he shall set his face to enter with the power of his whole kingdom, and his confederates with him: thus shall he do, and he shall giue him the daughter of wo-men, to destroy her: but she shall not stand on his side, neither be for him.

18 After this shall he turne his face vnto the yles, and shall take many: but a prince shall cause his shame to light vpon him, beside that he shall cause his owne shame to turne vpon himselfe.

19 For he shall turne his face toward the forces of his owne land: but he shall be ouerthrowen and fall, and be no more found.

20 Then shall stand vpon his place in the glory of the kingdom, one that shall raise rayes: but after few dayes hee shall be destroyed, neither in wrath, nor in battell.

21 And in his place shall stand by a vile person, to whom they shall not giue the hono-ur of the kingdom: but he shall come in peaceably, & obtaine the kingdom by flatter-ies.

22 And the armes shall be ouerthrowen with a flood before him, and shall be broken; and also the prince of the couenant.

23 And after the league made with him, he shall worke deceitfully: for he shall come by, and ouercome with a small people.

24 He shall enter into the quiet and plen-tifull pounce, and hee shall doe that which his fathers haue not done, nor his fathers fathers: he shall diuide among them the pray and the ipeople, and the substance, yea, and he shall forecast his deuites against the strong holdes, euen for a tunc.

25 Also he shall stir vp his power and his courage against the king of the South with a great army, and y king of the South shall be stirred vp to battell with a very great and mightie armie: but he shall not stand:

for they shall forecast and practise against him.

26 Yea, they that feede of the portion of his meate, shall destroy him: and his armie shall ouerflow: and many shall fall, and be slaine.

27 And both these kings hearts shall bee to deceitfull, and they shall talke of deccet at one table: but it shall not auail: for yet the ende shall be at the time appointed.

28 Then shall hee returne into his lande with great substance: for his heart shall be against the holy couenant: so shall hee do and returne to his owne land.

29 At the time appointed hee shall returne, and come toward the South: but the last shall not be as the first.

30 For the ships of Chittim shall come against him: therefore hee shall be voy and re-turue, and fret against the holy couenant: so shall hee doe, hee shall euen returne: and haue intelligence with them that forsake the holy couenant.

31 And armes shall stand on his part, and they shall pollute the Sanctuarie of strength, and shall take away the Dayly sacrifice, and they shall see the abominable delolation.

32 And such as wickedly breake the cou-enant, shall be cause to sinne by flatterie: but the people that do know their God, shall preuaile and prosper.

33 And they that vnderstand among the people, shall instruct many: yet they shall fall by sword, and by flame, by captiuitie and by ipeople, many dayes.

34 Now when they shall fall, they shall be holpen with a little helpe: but many shall cleaue vnto them & faimed.

35 And some of them of vnderstanding shall fall to trie them, and to purge, and to make them white, till the tunc bee out: for there is a time appointed.

So long the tyrants shall preuaile as God hath appointed to punish his people: but hee sheweth that it is but for a time.

That is, the god of power and riches: they shall esteeme their owne power above all their gods, and worship it. z Vnder pretence of worshipping the gods, they shall enrich their cite with the most precious iewels of all the world, because that hereby all men should haue them in admiration for their power & riches. a Although in their hearts they had no religion, yet they did acknowledge the gods, and worshipped them in their temples, lest they should haue bene despised as Atheists: but this was to increase their fame and riches: and when they gate any country, they so made others the rulers thereof, that the profite euer came to the Romans. b That is, both the Egyptians and the Syrians shall length fight against the Ronanes, but they shall overcome. c The Angel forewarneth the Iewes, that when they should see the Romans inuade them, and that the wicked should escape their hands, that then they should not thinke but that all this was done by Gods providence, forasmuch as he warned them of it so long afore, & therefore would it stil preferre them. d Hearing that Crassus was slaine, and Antonius discomfited. e For Augustus overcame the Parthians, and recovered that which Antonius had lost. f the Romanes after this reigned quietly through all countreys, and from sea to sea, and in Iudea: but at length for their enuety God shall destroy them.

Of the deliuerance of the Church by Christ.

36 And the king shall doe what him list: he shall exalt himselfe, and magnifie himselfe against all, that is God, and shall speake maruolous things against the God of gods, and shall prosper till the wrath be accomplished: for the determination is made.

37 Neither shall hee regard the God of his fathers, nor the desires of women, nor care for any god: for he shall magnifie himselfe aboue all.

38 But in his place shall hee honour the god of Babilon, and the god whom his father's knew not shall hee honour with gold and with silver, and with precious stones, and with pleasant things.

39 Thus shall hee doe in the holdes of Babilon with a strange god whom he hath acknowledged: he shall increase his glory, and shall cause them to rule one man, and shall diuide the land for gaue.

40 And at the ende of time shall the king of the South push at him, and the king of the North shall come against him like a whirlewinde, with charcers, and with horsemen, and with many hippes, and hee shall enter into the countreys, and shall overflow and passe thoru.

41 Hee shall enter also into the pleasant land, and many countreys shall be overthrowen: but these shall escape out of his hande, euen Edom and Hoab, and the childre of Ammon.

42 He shall stretch forth his hands also vpon the countreys, and the land of Egypte shall not escape.

43 But he shall haue power over the treasures of golde and of silver, and over all the precious things of Egypt, and of the Librans, and of the blacke Hores where hee shall passe.

44 But the tidings out of the East and the North shall trouble him: therefore hee shall goe forth with great wrath to destroy and rouse out many.

45 And he shall plant the tabernacles of his palace betwene the seas in the glorious and holy mountaine, yet he shall come to his ende, and none shall helpe him.

At that time shall Michael stand by, the great prince, which standeth for the children of thy people, and there shall be a time of trouble, such as neuer was since there beganne to be a nation vnto that same time: and at that time thy people shall be deliuered, every one that shall be found written in the booke.

2 And many of them y sleepe in the dust of the earth, shall awake, some to everlasting life, & some to shame & perpetual contempt. 3 And they that be wise, shall shine, as the brightnesse of the firmament: and they that turne many to righteousness, shall shine as the starres, for euer and euer.

4 But thou, O Daniel, be shut up the wordes, and seale the booke till the ende of the time: many shall runne to and fro, and knowledge shall be increased.

5 When I Daniel looked, and beheld, there stood other two, the one on this side of the banks of the riuer, & the other on that side of the brink of the riuer.

6 And one said vnto the man clothed in linen, which was vpon the waters of the riuer, When shall be the ende of these wonders?

7 And I heard the man clothed in linen, which was vpon the waters of the riuer, when hee held vp his right hand & his left hand vnto heauen, & sware by him that lieth for euer, that it shall tary for a time, two times and an halfe: and when hee shall haue accomplished, to scatter the power of the holy people, all these things shall be finished.

8 Then I heard it, but I understood it not: then sayd I, O my Lord, what shall be the ende of these things?

9 And he said, See thy way, Daniel: for the wordes are closed vp, and sealed, till the ende of the time.

10 Many shall be purified, made wytte and tried: but the wicked shall doe wickedly, and none of the wicked shall haue understanding: but the wise shall vnderstand.

11 And from the time that the daily sacrifice shall be taken away, and the abominable desolation set vp, there shall be a thousand two hundredth and ninetie dayes.

12 Blessed is hee that waiteth and cometh to the thousand thre hundredth and fine and thirtie dayes.

13 But goe: thus thy way till the ende be: for thou shalt rest and stand vp in thy lot, at the ende of the dayes.

a The Angel here noteth two things: first that the Church shall be in great affliction and trouble at Christs coming & next that God will send his Angel to deliuer it, whom here he calleth Michael, meaning Christ, which is published by preaching of the Gospel. b Meaning, all shall rise at the general resurrection, which thing he here nameth, because the faithfull should haue euer their respect to that: for in the earth there shall be no sure comfort. c Who haue kept the true feare of God and his religion. d Hee chiefly meaneth the ministers of Gods word & next all faithful which instruct ignorant and bring them to the true knowledge of God. e Though the most part despise this prophetic, yet keepe thou it sure and esteeme it as a treasure. f Till the time that God hath appointed for the full reuelation of these things, and then many shall run to and fro to search the knowledge of these

Hosea.

THE ARGUMENT.

After that the ten tribes had fallen away from God by the wicked and subtil counsell of Ieroboam the sonne of Nebat, and in stead of his true service commaunded by his word, worshipped him according to their owne fantasies and traditions of men, giuing themselves to most vile idolatrie and superstition, the Lord from time to time sent them Prophets to call them to repentance: but they grew euer worse and worse, and still abused Gods benefits. Therefore now when their prosperitie was at the highest vnder Ieroboam the sonne of Ioash, God sent Hosea and Amos to the Israclites (as he did at the same time Isaiah and Michaiah to them of Iudah) to condemne them of their ingratitude: and whereas they thought themselves to be greatly in the fauour of God, and to be his people, the Prophet calleth them bastards and children borne in adulterie: and therefore sheweth them that God would take away the kingdome, and giue them to the Assyrians to be led away captiues. Thus Hosea faithfully executed his office for the space of seuentie yeeres, though they remained still in their vices and wickednesse, and derided the Prophets, and contemned Gods iudgements. And because they should neither be discouraged with threatnings onely, nor yet flatter themselves by the sweetenesse of Gods promises, he setteth before them the two principall parts of the Law, which are the promise of saluation, and the doctrine of life: for the first part hee directeth the faithfull to Messiah, by whome onely they should haue true deliuerance: and for the second, he vseth threatnings and menaces to bring them from their wicked maners and vices, and this is the chiefe scope of all the Prophets, either by Gods promises to allure them to be godly, or els by threatnings of his iudgements to feare them from vice: and albeit that the whole Law containe these two poynts, yet the Prophet moreover note peculiarly, both the time of Gods iudgements and the maner.

CHAP. I.

1 The time wherein Hosea prophesied. 2 The idolatry of the people. 10 The calling of the Gentiles. 11 Christ vnder the head of all people.

Hosea the sonne of Beeri, in the dayes of azziah, iotham, abaz, and hizekiah kings of Iudah, and in the dayes of Ieroboam the son of ioash king of Israel.

2 At the beginning the Lord spake by Hosea, and the Lord sayd vnto Hosea, Goe, take vnto thee a wife of fornications, and children of fornications: for the lande hath committed great whoredome, departing from the Lord.

3 So he went, and tooke a Gomer the daughter of Diblaim, which conceived and bare him a sonne.

4 And the Lord sayd vnto him, Call his name Israel: for yet a litle, and I will visite the blood of Israel vpon the house of Iehu, and will cause to cease the kingdome of the house of Israel.

5 And at that day will I also breake the bow of Israel, in the valley of Jezreel.

6 Shee conceived yet againe, and bare a daughter, and God sayd vnto him, Call her vnder this parable or figure the idolatry of the Synagogue, and of the people her children. d Gomer signifieth a consumption or corruption, and Diblaim cluets of figges, declaring that they were all corrupt like rotten figges. c Meaning, that they should be no more called Israelites, of the which name they boasted, because Israel did preuaile with God: but that they were as bastards, and therefore should be called Izreelites, that is, scattered people, alluding to Izreel, which was the chiefe cite of the ten tribes vnder Ahab, where Iehu shed so much blood, 2 Kings 10 8, 11. f I will be reuenged vpon Iehu for the blood that hee shed in Izreel: for albeit God stirred him vp to execute his iudgements, yet hee did them for his owne ambition, and not for the glory of God, as the end declared: for hee built vp that idolatry, which he had destroyed. g When the measure of their iniquitie is full, and I shall take vengeance and destroy all their policie and force.

name <sup>b</sup> Lo-ruhamah: for I will no more haue pittie vpon the house of Israel: but I will utterly take them away.

7 Yet I will haue mercie vpon the house of Iudah, and will saue them by the Lord their God, and will not saue them by bowe, nor by sword, nor by battell, by horses, nor by horsemen.

8 Now when shee had weined Lo-ruhama, shee conceived and bare a sonne.

9 Then sayd God, Call his name Iouani: for ye are not my people: therefore will I not be yours.

10 Yet the number of the <sup>m</sup> children of Israel shall be as the sand of the sea, which cannot bee measured nor tolde: I and in the place where it was layd vnto them, Ye are not my people, it shall be said vnto them, Ye are the sonnes of the liuing God.

11 Then shall the children of Iudah, and the children of Israel be gathered together, and appoint themselves one head, and they shall come by out of the land: for great is the <sup>o</sup> day of Jezreel.

cept he had preserved them, hee declareth that though they were destroyed, yet the true Israelites, which are the sonnes of the promise, should be without number, which stand both of the Iewes, and the Gentiles, Rom 9. 26. n To wit, after the captiuitie of Babylon when the Iewes were restored: but chiefly this is referred to the time of Christ, who should be the head both of the Iewes and Gentiles. o The calamitie and destruction of Izreel shall be so great, that to restore them shall be a miracle.

CHAP. II.

1 The people is called to repentance. 5 He sheweth their idolatrie and threatneth them except they repent.

1 Say vnto your <sup>a</sup> brethren, Ammi, and to your sisters, Ruhamah,

2 Pleade with your <sup>b</sup> mother: pleade

you encourage one another to embrace the same, considering that ye are my people on whom I will haue mercie. b God sheweth that the fault was not in him but in their Synagogue, and their idolatries, that hee forsooke them, Isa 50. 1.

l That is, not obtaining mercy: whereby he signifieth, that Gods fauor was departed from them. i For the Israclites neuer returned, after that they were taken captiues by the Assyrians. k For after their captiuitie he restored them miraculously by the means of Cyrus, Ezra. 1. 1. l That is, not my people. m Because they thought that God could not haue bene true in his promise ex-

a Called also Azariah, who being a leper, was deposed from his kingdome.

b So that it may be gathered by the reigne of these foure kings, that he preached about three score yeeres.

c That is, one that of long time hath accustomed to play the harlot: not that the Prophet did this thing in effect, but hee law this in a vision, or els was commaunded by God to set forth with her : for she is not my wife, neither am I her husband : but let her take away her fornications out of her sight, and her adulteries : for she hath broken her breads,

3 <sup>a</sup> Let I strip her naked, and let her as in the day that she was borne, and make her as a wilderness, and leave her like a waste land, and slay her for thirst.

4 And I will have no pittie upon her children : for they be the children of fornications.

5 For their mother hath playd the harlot : shee that conceived them, hath done shamefully : for shee said, I will goe after my lovers that give me my bread and my water, my wooll and my flaxe, mine oyle and my drinke.

6 Therefore behold, I will stoppe thy way with thornes, and make an hedge, that she shall not find her paths.

7 Though shee follow after her lovers, yet shall shee not come at them : though shee seeke them, yet shall shee not find them : then shall shee say, I will goe and returne to my first husband : for at that time was I better then now.

8 Now shee did not know that I gaue her coyne, and wine, and oyle, and multiplied her siluer and gold, which they bestowed vpon Baal.

9 Therefore I will returne, & take away my coyne in the time thereof, and my wine in the season thereof, and will recouer my wooll and my flaxe lene to couer her shame.

10 And now will I discouer her lewdnesse in the sight of her lovers, and no man shall deliuer her out of mine hand.

11 I will alid cause all her mirth to cease, her feast dayes, her new moones, and her Sabbaths, and all her solemne feasts.

12 And I will destroy her vines, and her fig trees, whereof shee hath sayd, These are my rewards that my lovers haue giuen me : and I will make them as a forest, and the wilde beasts shall eate them.

13 And I will visit vpon her the dayes of Baalim, wherein shee burnt incense to them : and shee decked herselfe with her earetings and her riewels, and shee followed her louers, and forgate me, saith the Lord.

14 Therefore, behold, I will allure her, and bring her into the wilderness, & I speake friendly vnto her,

15 And I will giue her of her vineyardes from thence, and the valley of Achor for the doore of hope, and she shall sing there as in the dayes of her youth, & as in the day when she came vp out of the land of Egypt.

16 And at that day, saith the Lord, thou shalt call me <sup>a</sup> Jhu, and shalt call me no more <sup>b</sup> Baal.

17 For I will take away the names of Baalim out of her mouth, and they shall haue no more remembered by their names.

18 And in that day will I make a covenant for them, with the wilde beasts, and with the foules of the heauen, and with that that creepeth vpon the earth, & I will breake the bow and the sword, and the battell out of the earth, and will make them to sleepe safely.

19 And I will marry thee vnto mee for euer : yea, I will marry thee vnto mee in righteousness, and in iudgement, and in mercie and in compassion.

20 I will euen marry thee vnto mee in yfaithfulness, and thou shalt know the Lord, 21 And in that day I will heare, saith the Lord, I will euen heare the heauens, and they shall heare the earth, 22 And the earth shall heare the coyme, and the wine, and the oyle, and they shall heare Izeel.

23 And I will sowe her vnto mee in the earth, and I will haue mercie vpon her, that was not pitied, & I will say vnto them which were not my people, Thou art my people. And they shall say, Thou art my God.

CHAP. III.

1 The Jewes shall be cast off for their idolatry. 5 Afterward they shall returne to the Lord.

Then said the Lord to me, <sup>a</sup> See yet, and I loue a woman (beloued of her husband, and was an harlot) according to the loue of the Lord toward the children of Israel : yet they looked to other gods, and <sup>b</sup> leued the wine botrels.

2 So I bought her to mee for fifteene pieces of siluer, & for an homer of barley and an halfe homer of barley.

3 And I said vnto her, Thou shalt abide with me many dayes : thou shalt not play the harlot, and thou shalt bee to none other man, and I will be to vnto thee.

4 For the children of Israel shall remaine many dayes without a king, and without a prince, and without an offering, and without an image, and without an Ephod, and without Uraphim.

5 Afterward shall the children of Israel conuert, and seeke the Lord their God, and s Dauid their King, and shall feare the Lord, and his goodnesse in the latter dayes.

perceiving the greatnesse of my loue, it would haue not been vnder duetie : for fifteene pieces of siluer were but halfe the price of a slave, Exod. 21. 32. d I will trie thee a long time as in thy widowhood whether thou wilt be mine or no. e Meaning, not onely all the time of their captiuitie, but also vnto Christ, f That is, they should neither haue policie nor Religion, and their idoles also wherein they put their confidence, should be destroyed, g This is meant of Christs kingdome, which was promised vnto Dauid to be eternall, Psalme 72. 17.

CHAP. IIIII.

A complaint against the people, and the priests of Israel.

<sup>e</sup> Meaning that their idolatrie was so great that they were not ashamed, but boasted of it, Ezek. 16 25.

<sup>d</sup> For though this people were as an harlot for their idolatries, yet he hath left them with their apparel & dowry & certaine signes of his fauour, but if they continued still, hee would utterly destroy them.

<sup>h</sup> I will punish thee, that then thou mayest try whether thine idoles can helpe thee, and bring thee into such stricnesse, that thou shalt haue no lust to play the wanton. <sup>i</sup> This hee speake of the faithfull which are truly conuerted, and also the worth the vse and profit of Gods tods.

<sup>t</sup> That is, my master : which name was applied to their idoles.

Rom. 9. 25. 1. pet. 2. 10.

a Because the people would not obey the admonitions of the prophet, he rebuked them before the judgement seat of God against whom they chiefly offended, Isa. 7. 13. Micah. 6. 1. 2. Zech. 12. 10.

b In every place appeareth a liberie to most heinous vices, so that one followeth in the necke of another.

c As though he would say, that it were in vaine to rebuke them: for no man can abide it: yea, they will speake against the Prophets and Priests whose office it is chiefly to rebuke them.

d Ye shall perish all together: the one, because he would not obey, and the other because he would not admonish.

e That is, the Synagogue wherein thou boatest. f That is, the Priests shall be cast off, because that for lacke of knowledge, they are not able to execute their charge, and instruct others, Deut. 33. 3. Mal. 2. 7.

g Meaning the whole body of the people which were weary with hearing the word of God. h The more I was beneficiall vnto them. i To wit, the Priests seeke to eate the peoples offerings, and flatter them in their sinnes. k Signifying that if they haue sinned together, so shall they be punished together. l Shewing that their wickednesse shall be punished on all sorts: for though they thinke by the multitude of wines to haue many children, yet they shall be decieued of their hope. m In giuing themselves to pleasures, they become like brut beasts. n Thus he speaketh by derision in calling them his people, which now for their sinnes they were not: for they sought helpe of stockes and stiekes. o They are caried away with a rage. p Because they take away Gods honour, and giue it to idoles, therefore he will giue them vp to their lustes, that they shall dishonour their owne bodies, Rom. 1. 28. q I will not correct your shame to bring you to amendment, but let you run headlong to your owne damnation.

Hear the word of the Lord, yee children of Israel: for the Lord hath a controuersie with the inhabitants of the land, because there is no truth, nor mercie, nor knowledge of God in the land.

2 By swearing, and lying, and killing, and stealing, and whooring, they breake out, and blood toucheth blood.

3 Therefore shall the land mourne, and euery one that dwelleth therein, shall be cut off, with the beasts of the field, and with the foules of the heauen, and also the fishes of the sea shall be taken away.

4 Yet let none rebuke, nor reprove another: for thy people see as they that rebuke the Priest.

5 Therefore shalt thou fall in the day, and the Prophet shall fall with thee in the night, and I will destroy thy mother.

6 My people are destroyed for lacke of knowledge: because thou hast refused knowledge, I will also refuse thee, that thou shalt be no Priest to mee: and seeing thou hast forgotten the Lawe of thy God, I will also forget thy children.

7 As they were increased, so they sinned against me: therefore will I change their glory into shame.

8 They eate vp the sinnes of my people, and life vp their minds in their iniquitie.

9 And there shall bee like people, like Priest: for I will visite their wayes vpon them, and reward them their deeds.

10 For they shall eate, and not haue enough: they shall commit adulterie, & shall not increase, because they haue left off to take heed to the Lord.

11 Whoredome, and wine, and newe wines, take away their heart.

12 My people alke counsell at their stockes, and their staffe teacheth them: for the spirit of fornications hath caused them to erre, and they haue gone a whooring from vnder their God.

13 They sacrifice vpon the toppes of the mountaines, and burne incense vpon the hills vnder the oaks, and the poplar tree, and the elme, because the shadowe thereof is good: therefore your daughters shall be harlots, and your spouses shall be whores.

14 I will not visite your daughters when they are harlots, nor your spouses when they are whores: for they themselves are separated with harlots, and sacrifice with whores: therefore the people that doth not vnderstand, shall fall.

15 Though thou, Israel, play the harlot, yet let not Judah sinne: come not ye vnto Gilgal, neither goe ye vp to Beth-auen, nor swear, by the Lord's name.

16 For Israel is rebellious as an vnruely heifer. Now the Lord will feede them as a lambe in a large place.

17 Ephraim is toynd to idoles: let him alone.

18 Their drunkennesse stincketh: they haue committed whoredome: their rulers loue to say with shame, y King ye.

19 The wilde hath bound them by their wings, and they shall bee ashamed of their sacrifices.

CHAP. V.

1 Against the Priests and rulers of Israel. 13 The helpe of man is in vaine.

O Be Priests, heare this, and hearken ye, O house of Israel, and giue yee eare, O house of the King: for iudgement is toward you, because ye haue bene a snare on Sephah, and a net spread vpon Tabor.

2 Yet they were profound, to decline to slaughter, though I haue bene a rebuker of them all.

3 I know Ephraim, and Israel is not hid from me: for now, Ephraim, thou art become an harlot, and Israel is defiled.

4 They will not giue their mindes to turne vnto their God: for the spirit of fornication is in the mids of them, and they haue not known the Lord.

5 And the pride of Israel doth resist to his face: therefore shall Israel & Ephraim fall into their iniquitie: Judah also shall fall with them.

6 They shall goe with their sheepe, and with their bullockes to seeke the Lord: but they shall not find him: for hee hath withdrawn himselfe from them.

7 They haue transgressed against the Lord: for they haue begotten strange children: now shall a moueth deuoure them with their portions.

8 Blow ye the trumpet in Ebreah, and the shawme in Ramah: crye out at Beth-auen, after thee, Benjamin.

9 Ephraim shall be desolate in the day of rebuke: among the tribes of Israel haue I caused to know the truth.

10 The princes of Judah were like the moly: to remove the board: therefore will I pour out my wrath vpon them like water.

11 Ephraim is oppressed, and broken in 12 Therefore will I be unto Ephraim as a moth, and to the house of Judah as a rottennelle.

13 When Ephraim saw his sicknesse, and Judah his wound, then went Ephraim vnto Aſhur, and sent vnto king Iareb: yet could hee not heale you, nor cure you of your wounds.

14 For I will be vnto Ephraim as a lyon, and as a Lyons whelp to the house of Judah: I, euen I will spoyle, and goe away: I will take away, and none shall rescue it.

15 I will goe, and returne to my place, till they acknowledge their fault, and seeke me: in their affliction they will seeke me diligently.

1 Affliction causeth a man to turne to God. 2 The wickednesse of the Priests.

Come, and let vs: returne to the Lord: for hee hath spoyle<sup>d</sup> vs, and hee will heale vs: he hath wounded vs, and hee will binde vs vp.

2 After two dayes will<sup>b</sup> hee reuine vs, and in the third day hee will raise vs vp, and we shall liue in his sight.

3 When shall wee haue knowledge, and indenour our selues to know the Lord: his going forth is prepared as the morning, and he shall come vnto vs as the raine, and as the latter raine vnto the earth.

4 O Ephraim, what shall I doe vnto thee? O Iudah, how shall I entreate thee: for your godnesse is as a morning cloud, and as the morning dew it goeth away.

5 Therefore haue I<sup>d</sup> cut downe by the Prophets: I haue flaine them by the words of my mouth, and<sup>e</sup> thy iudgements were as the light that goeth forth.

that they should ioyne the obedience of God, and the loue of their neighbour with outward sacrifice. g That is, like light and weak persons. h Which was the place where the Priests dwelt, and which should haue bene best instructed in my word. i That is, doth imitate thine idolatry, and hath taken graifes of thy trees.

CHAP. VII.

1 Of the vices and wantonnesse of the people. 2 Of their punishment.

When I would haue healed Israel, then the iniquitie of Ephraim was discouered, and the wickednesse of Samaria: for they haue dealt falsly: and the<sup>2</sup> chief commeth in, and the robber spoyleth without.

2 And they consider not in their hearts, that I remember all their wickednesse: now their owne intentions haue beset them about: they are in my sight.

3 They make the<sup>3</sup> king glad with their wickednesse, and the princes with their lies.

4 They are all adulterers, and as a beery<sup>4</sup> ouen heated by the baker, which ceaseth from raising vp, & from kneading the dough vntill it be leauened.

5 This is the<sup>5</sup> day of our king: the princes haue made hun sicke with flagons of wine: he stretcheth out his hand to scorners.

6 For they haue made ready their heart like an ouen whyles they lie in wait: their baker sleeperth all the night: in the morning it burneth as a flame of fire.

7 They are all hore as an ouen, and haue<sup>6</sup> deuoured their Iudges: all their kings are fallen: there is none among them that calteth vnto me.

8 Ephraim hath<sup>7</sup> met himselfe among the people. Ephraim is as a cake on the hearth not turned.

9 Strangers haue deuoured his strength, and hee knoweth it not: yea, & gray hairez are here and there vpon him, yet hee knoweth not.

10 And the pride of Israel testifieth to his face, and they doe not returne to the Lord their God, nor seeke him for all this.

11 Ephraim also is like a donec deceived, without heart: they call to Egypt: they goe to Aſhur.

12 But when they shall goe, I will spread my net vpon them, and draw them downe as the fowles of the heauen: I will chastise them as their congregation hath heard.

13 Woe vnto them: for they haue fled away from me: destruction shall be vnto them, because they haue transgressed against mee: though I haue<sup>8</sup> redeemed them, yet they haue spoken lies against me.

14 And they haue not cried vnto me with their hearts, when they howled vpon their beds: they assemble themselves for wine and wine, and they rebel against me.

15 Though I haue bound, and strengthened their arms, yet doe they imagine mischief against me.

16 They returne, but not to the most high: they are like a deceitfull bow: their princes shall fall by the sword, for the rage<sup>9</sup> of their tongues: this shall bee their vertilion in the land of Egypt.

ther it is better to cleane pnyly to God, or to seeke the helpe of man. i According to my curses made to the whole congregation of Israel. k That is, diuers times redeemed them, and deliuered them from death. l When they were in affliction, and cried out for paine, they fought not vnto me for helpe. m They only seeke their owne commoditie and wealth, and passe not for mee their God. n Because they boast of their owne strength, and passe not what they speake against me and my seruants, Pal. 73. 9.

CHAP. VIII.

1 The destruction of Iudah and Israel, because of their idolatry.

a Meaning, that there was not one kinde of vice among them, but that they were subiect to all wickednesse, both secret and open. b They esteeme their wicked king Ieroboam about God, and seeke but how to flatter and please him.

c He compareth the rage of the people to a burning ouen which the baker heareth fill till his dough be leauened and raised.

d They vsed all ryot and excess in their feasts and solemnities, wherby their king was overcome with surfeit, and brought into diseases, and delighted in flatteries.

e By their occasion God hath deprived them of all good rulers.

f That is, he counterfeited the religion of the Gentiles, yet is but as a cake bakel on the one side, and raw on the other: that is, neither through hot nor through cokle, but partly a Iew, and partly a Gentile.

g Which are a token of his manifold afflictions.

h That is, without all iudgment, as they that cannot tell whea God encourage the Prophet to signifie the speely coming of the enemie against Israel, which was once the people of God.

b They shall crie like hypocrites, but not from the heart, as their deeds declare.

c That is, Ieroboam by whom they sought their owne liberty, and not to obey my will.

d That is, vpright iudgement and godly life, e Meaning the calfe was inuenced by them.

f Selus, and of their fathers in the wilderness. f Shewing that their religion hath but a shew, and in it selfe is but vanitie.

g They neuer cease, but run to and fro to seeke helpe.

h That is, for the tribute which the king and the princes shall lay upon them: which means the Lord vseth to bring them to repentance.

i Thus the idolaters count the word of God is strange in respect of their owne inuentions. k Saying that they offer it to the Lord, but he accepteth no seruice, which he himselfe hath not appointed.

a For although all other people should escape, yet thou shalt be punished.

b Thou hast committed idolatry in hope of reward, and to haue thy barnes filled, ter 43. 17.

as an harlot that had rather liue by playing the whore, then to be contented of her owne husband. c The outward things that thou seekest, shall be taken from thee. d Although thy doings both touching policie and religion, shall be reiected as things polluted,

SEt the trumpet to thy mouth: the shall come vnto thee. As an Eagle against the house of the Lord, because they haue transgressed my covenant, and trespassed against my Law.

2 Israel shall cry vnto me, My God, we know thee.

3 Israel hath cast off the thing that is good: the enemy shall pursue him.

4 They haue set vp a king, but not by me: they haue made princes, and I knew it not: of their siluer and their gold haue they made them idoles: therefore shall they be destroyed.

5 They calfe, O Samaria, hath cast thee off: mine anger is kindled against them: how long wilt they be without innocencie!

6 For it came euen from Israel: the workeman made it, therefore it is not God: but the calfe of Samaria shall be broken in pieces.

7 For they haue sowne the wind, & they shall reape the whirlwind: it hath no stalk: the bud shall bring forth no sheele: if so bee it bring forth, the strangers shall deuoure it.

8 Israel is deuoured, now shall they be among the Gentiles as a vessell wherein is no pleasure.

9 For they are gone by to Asshur: they are as a wild asse alone by himselfe: Ephraim hath hired louers.

10 Yet though they haue hired among the nations, now will I gather them, and they shall sorrow a little, for the burthen of the king, and the princes.

11 Because Ephraim hath made many altars to sinne, his altars shall be to sinne.

12 I haue written to them the great things of my Law: but they were counted as a strange thing.

13 They sacrifice fleshy for the sacrifices of linnie offerings, and eate it: but the Lord accepteth them not: now will he remember their iniquity, and visite their finnes: they shall returne to Egypt.

14 For Israel hath forgotten his maker, and buildeth temples, and Iudah hath increased strong cities: but I will send a fire vpon his cities, and it shall deuoure the palaces thereof.

CHAP. IX.

Of the hunger and captiuitie of Israel.

REioyce not, O Israel, for ioy, as other people: for thou hast gone a whozing from thy God: thou hast loned a reward vpon euery come flooze.

2 The flooze, & the winepresse shall not feed them, & the new wine shall faile in her.

3 They wil not dwell in the Lords land, but Ephraim will returne to Egypt, and they will eate vnicane things in Asshur.

4 They shall not offer wine to the Lord, neither shall their sacrifices be pleasant vnto him: but they shall bee vnto them as the breade of mourners: all that eate thereof, shall be polluted: for their bread for their soules shall not come into the house of the Lord.

5 What wil ye doe then in the soleinne day, and in the day of the feast of the Lord?

6 For loe, they are gone from s destruction: but Egypt shall gather them by, & Demphis shall bury them: the nettle that possesse the pleasant places of their siluer, and the thorne shall be in their tabernacles.

7 The dayes of visitation are come: the dayes of recompense are come: Israel shall know it: the prophet is a foole: the spirituall man is mad, for the multitude of thine iniquitie: therefore the hatred is great.

8 The watchman of Ephraim shall be with my God: but the prophet is the snare of a fouler in all his wayes, and harred in the house of his God.

9 They are deeply set: they are corrupt as in the dayes of Gibeah: therefore hee will remember their iniquitie, he will visite their finnes.

10 I found Israel like grapes in the wilderness: I saw your fathers as the first ripe in the figtree at her first time: but they went to Baal-peor, and separated themselves vnto that shame, and their abominations were according to their louers.

11 Ephraim their glory shall flee away like a bird: from the birth and from the wombe, and from the conception.

12 Though they bring vp their children, yet will I depulce them from being men: yea, woe to them, when I depart from them.

13 Ephraim, as I sawe, is as a tree in Cyprus planted in a cottage: but Ephraim shall bring forth his children to the murderer.

14 O Lorde, giue them: what wilt thou giue them? giue them a Pabren wombe and drie breasts.

15 All their wickednesse is in Gilgal: for there doe I hate them: for the wickednesse of their inuentions, I will cast them out of mine house: I will loue them no more: all their princes are rebels.

16 Ephraim is smitten, their roote is dried vnto they can bring no fruit: yea, though they bring forth, yet will I lay euen the dearest of their body.

17 My God will cast them away, because they did not obey him: and they shall wander among the nations, lours the idols. n Signifying, that God would destroy their children by these sundry meanes, and so consume them by little & little. o As they kept tender plants in their houses in Tyrus, to preserve them from the cold aere of the sea, so was Ephraim at the first vnto me, but now will I giue him to the slaughter. p The Prophet seeing the great plagues of God toward Ephraim, prayeth to God to make them barren, rather then that this great slaughter should come vpon their children. q The chiefe cause of their destruction is, that they committed idolatry, and corrupt my religion in Gilgal.

CHAP. X.

Israel

e The meate offering which they offered for themselves.

f When the Lord shall take away all the occasions of seruing him, which shall be the most grievous punishment of your captiuitie, when you shall see your felus cut off from God.

g Though they thinke to escape by flying the destruction that is at hand, yet shall they be destroyed in the place whither they flee for succour.

h Then they shall know that they were deluded by them who challenged to themselves to be their Prophets & spirituall men.

i The Prophets dutie is to bring men to God, and not to be a snare to pull them from God.

k This people is so rooted in their wickednesse, that Gibeah which was like to Sodome, was neuer more corrupt, iudg. 19. 22.

m They were as abominable vnto me, as their c To sit, from God.

d The day shall come that God shall take away their king, and then they shall seele the fruit of their finnes and how they trusted in him in vaine, 2. King, 17. 6, 7.

e In promising to be faithful toward God.

f Thus their integrity and fidelity which they pretended, was nothing but bitterness and griefe.

g When the calfe shall be caried away.

h Chemarims were certain idolatrous priests which did weate blacke apparell in their sacrifices and cried with a loue voyce: which superstition Eliah derided, 1. King, 18. 27. reade 2. Kin, 23 5.

i This he speaketh in contempt of Beth-el, reade Chap. 4. 15. Isa 2. 19. Iud. 23. 30. reuel 6. 16. and 9. 6. k In those dayes wilt thou as wicked as the Gibeonites, as God there partly declared: for thy zeale could not be good in executing Gods iudgements, seeing thine owne deeds were as wicked as theirs.

Israel is an empty vine, yet hath it brought forth fruit vnto it selfe, and according to the multitude of the fruit thereof hee hath recreated the altars: according to the goodnesse of their land they haue made faire images.

2 Their heart is diuided: now shall they be found faulty: he shall breake downe their altars: he shall destroy their images.

3 For now they shall say, Wee haue no king because we feared not the Lord: and what should a king do vs?

4 They haue spoken wordes, swearing falsely in making a covenant: thus indgement groweth as wormewood in the furrowes of the field.

5 The inhabitants of Samaria shall feare because of the calfe of Beth auen: for the people thereof shall moune ouer it, and the Chemarims thereof, that reioyced on it for the glory thereof, because it is departed from it.

6 It shall be also brought to Ashur, for a present vnto king Iareb: Ephraim shall receive shame, & Israel shall be ashamed of his owne confell.

7 Of Samaria, the king thereof is destroyed as the place vpon the water.

8 The hye places also of Auen shall be destroyed, euen the turre of Israel: the thorne and the thistle shall grow vpon their altars, and they shall say to the mountaines, Come vs, and to the hills, fall vpon vs.

9 O Israel, thou hast sinned from the daues of Gibeah: there they stood: the battell in Gibeah against the children of iniquitie did not touch them.

10 It is my desire that I should chastise them, and the people shall bee gathered against them, when they shall gather themselves in their two furrowes.

11 And Ephraim is as an heifer vnto delight in the thing: but I will passe by her g faire necke: I will make Ephraim to ride: Iudah shall plowe, and Iacob shall beake his cloue.

12 Sow to your selues in righteousness: reape after the measure of mercy: breake vp your fallow ground: for it is time to seeke the Lord, till he come and raine righteousness vpon you.

13 But you haue plowed wickednesse: ye haue reaped iniquity: you haue eaten y fruit of lies: because thow didst trust in thine own wates, & in the multitude of thy strong men.

14 Therefore shall a tumult arise among thy people, and all thy munitions shall be destroyed, as Shalman destroyed Betharbel in the day of battell. the mother with the children was dashed in peeces.

15 So shall Beth el do vnto you, because of your malicious wickednes: in a morning shall the king of Israel be destroyed.

CHAP. XI.

The benefits of the Lords toward Israel. 5 Their ingratitude against him.

When Israel was a childe, then I loved him, and called my sonne out of Egypt.

2 They called them, but they went thus from them: they sacrificed vnto Baalim, and burnt incense to images.

3 I led Ephraim also, as one should beare them in his armes: but they knew not that I healed them.

4 I led them with cords of a man, euen with bands of stone, and I was to them, as he that taketh off the yoke from their lawes, and I layd the meat vnto them.

5 He shall no more returne into the land of Egypt: but Ashur shall be his king, because they refused to conuert.

6 And the sword shall fall on his cities, and shall consume his barres, and denoure them because of their owne counsels.

7 And my people are bent to rebellion against me: though they called them to the most high, yet none at all would eate him.

8 How shall I give thee vp, Ephraim? how shall I deliuer thee, Israel? how shall I make thee, as a Admah? how shall I set thee as Sodom: mine heart is turned within me: my repentings are rolled together.

9 I will not reuerie the fiercenes of my wrath: I will not returne to destroy Ephraim, for I am God, and not man, the holie one in the mids of thee, and I will not enter into the city.

10 They shall walke after the Lord: hee shall roare like a lyon: when he shall roare, then the children of the eldest shall feare.

11 They shall feare as a Sparrow out of Egypt, and as a dove out of the land of Ashur, and I will place them in their houses, saith the Lord.

12 Ephraim compasseth me about with lies, and the house of Israel with deceit: but Iudah yet ruleth with God, and is faithful with the Samirs.

fatherly affection, that his mercy toward his shall ouercome his iudgements, as he declareth in the next verse. i To consume thee, but will cause thee to yeeld and so receive thee to mercy: and this is meant of the final member who shall walke after the Lord & The Egyptians and Assyrians shall be a fraide when the Lord maintaineth his people. l Gorneth their eite according to Gods word, and doth not degenerate.

CHAP. XII.

He admonisheth by Iacobes example to trust in God and not in man.

Ephraim is fed with the wind, and soloweth after the East wind: he increaseth dayly lies and destruction, and they doe make a covenant with Ashur, and ople is caried into Egypt.

2 The Lorde hath also a controuersie with Iudah, and will visit Iacob, according to his wayes: according to his workes will he recompense him.

a Whiles the Israelites were in Egypt and did not prouoke my wrath by their malice and ingratitude.

b They rebelled and went a contrary way when the Prophets called them to repentance.

c That is, friendly and not as beasts or slaves.

d Seeing they conuente all this kinnesse, they shall be led captiue into Assiria.

Ephraim is fed with the wind, and soloweth after the East wind: he increaseth dayly lies and destruction, and they doe make a covenant with Ashur, and ople is caried into Egypt.

2 The Lorde hath also a controuersie with Iudah, and will visit Iacob, according to his wayes: according to his workes will he recompense him.

d Seeing that God did thus preferre Iaakob their father, Iudahs ingratitude was the more to be a'horred.

e Reade Gen. 32. 31.

f God found Iaakob as he lay sleeping in Beth-el, Gen. 28. 12. and so spake with him there, that the fruit of that speech appertained to the whole bodie of the people, whereof we are.

g As for Ephraim, he is more like the wicked Canaanites, then godly Abraham or Iaakob.

h Thus the wicked measure Gods fauour by outward profperitie, and like hypocrites cannot abide that any should reprove their doings.

i Seeing thou wilt not acknowledge my benefites, I will bring thee againe to dwell in tents as in the feast of the Tabernacles, which thou doest nowe contemne. k The people thought that no man euillt haue spoken against Gilead that holy place, and yet the Prophet saith, that all their religion was but vanitie. l If you boast of your riches and nobilitie, yee seeme to reproch your father who was a poore fugitiue and seruant. m Meaning Moses, whereby appeareth, that whatsoeuer they haue, it cometh of Gods free goodnesse.

3 Hee tooke his brother by the heele in the wombe, and by his strength hee had 4 power with God,

4 And had e power ouer the Angel, and prevailed: he wept and prayed vnto him: he found him in Beth-el, and there he spake with vs.

5 Ya, the Lord God of hostes, the Lord is himselfe his memoriall.

6 Therefore turne thou to thy God: keepe mercie and iudgement, and hope still in thy God.

7 He is g Canaan: the balances of deceit are in his hand, he loneth to oppresse.

8 And Ephraim saith, Forwithstanding I am rich, I haue found me out riches in all my labours: they shall finde none iniquitie in me, h that were wickednesse.

9 Though I am the Lord thy God from the land of Egypt, yet will I make thee to dwell in the tabernacles, as in i the dayes of the solemne feast.

10 I haue spoken also by the Prophets, and I haue multiplied visions, & vied similitudes by the ministrerie of the Prophets.

11 Is there k iniquitie in Gilead: surely they are vanitie: they sacrifice bullockes in Gilgal, and their altars are as heapes in the firrowes of the field.

12 And Iaakob fled into the countrey of Aram, and Israel serued for a wife, and for a wife he kept sheepe.

13 And by a m Prophet the Lord brought Israel out of Egypt, and by a Prophet was hee released.

14 But Ephraim provoked him with hie places: therefore shall his blood be poured vpon him, and his reproch shall his Lord reward him.

4. Yet I am the Lord thy God: from the lande of Egypt, and thou shalt know no God but mee: for there is no Saviour beside mee.

5 I did know thee in the wilderness, in the land of drought.

6 As in their pastures, so were they filled: they were filled, and their heart was exalted: therefore haue they forgotten mee.

7 And I will be vnto them as a very lyon, and as a leopard in the way of Ashur.

8 I will meete them as a Bear that is robbed of her whelps, and I will breake the kalle of their heart, and there will I deuoure them like a lyon: the wilde beaust shall teare them.

9 O Israel, one hath destroyed thee, but in mee is thy helpe.

10 I am: where is thy king, that should helpe thee in all thy cities? and thy Iudges of whom thou saydest, Giue me a king, and princes?

11 I gaue thee a king in mine anger, and I tooke him away in my wrath.

12 The iniquitie of Ephraim is b bound vp: his sinne is hid.

13 The sorrowes of a traunelling woman shall come vpon him: he is an vnwile sonne, else would hee not stand still at the time, euen at the breaking forth of the children.

14 I will redeeme them from the power of the graue: I will deliuer them from death: O k death, I will bee thy death: O graue, I will be thy destruction: l repentance is hid from mine eyes.

15 Though hee grow vp among his brethren, an East wind shall come, euen the winde of the Lord shall come vp from the wilderness, and die by his veine, and his fountaine shall bee dried vp: he shall spoyle the treasure of all pleasant beetsels.

CHAP. XIII.

1 The destruction of Samaria. 2 He exhorteth Israel to turne to God, who requesth prayse and thanks.

S Amaria shall be desolate: for she hath rebelled against her God: they shall fall by the sword: their infants shall bee dashed in pieces, and their women with childe shall be ript.

2 O Israel, returne vnto the Lord thy God: for thou hast fallen by thine iniquitie.

3 Take vnto you wordes, and turne to the Lord, and say vnto him, b Take away all iniquitie, and receive vs graciously: so will we render the calues of our lips.

4 Ashur shall c not saue vs: neither will wee ride vpon horses: neither will wee say any more to the worke of our hands, Yee are our Gods: for in thee the fatherlesse findeth mercie.

5 I will heale their rebellion: I will loue them freely: for mine anger is turned away from him.

6 I will bee as the deaw vnto Israel: hee shall growe as the lillie, and fasten his e He calleth them to repentance, and reproveth their ingratitude.

f Thy destruction is certaine, & my benefites toward thee declare that it cometh not of me: therefore thine owne malice, idolatrie and vaine confidence in men must needs be the cause thereof.

h It is surely laid vp to be punished, as Iere. 17. 1.

l Because they will not turne to me, I will not change my purpose.

CHAP. XIII.

1 The abomination of Israel, 9 And cause of their destruction.

W hen Ephraim spake, there was trembling: hee berailed himselfe in Israel, but he hath sinned in Baal, and is dead.

2 And now they sinne more and more, and haue made them molten images of their siluer, and idoles according to their owne vnderstanding: they were all the worke of the craftsmen: they say one to another whiles they sacrifice a d man, Let them kisse the calues.

3 Therefore they shall be as the morning cloude, and as the morning dewe that passeth away, as the chaffe that is driven with a whirlewinde out of the floore, and as the smoke that goeth out of the chimney.

 these things? and prudent, and hee shall knowe them? for the wayes of the Lord are righteous, and the iust shall walke in them:
 but the wicked shall fall therein.

Joel.

THE ARGUMENT.

The Prophet Joel first rebuketh them of Iudah, that being now punished with a great plague of famine remaine still obstinate. Secondly, he threatneth greater plagues, because they grew dayly to a more hardnesse of heart, and rebellion against God, notwithstanding his punishments. Thirdly, he exhorteth them to repentance, shewing that it must be earnest, and proceede from the heart, because they had grieuouly offended God. And so doing, he promisseth that God will be mercifull, and not forget his couenant that he made with their fathers: but will send his Christ, who shall gather the scattered sheepe, and restore them to life and liberty, though they seemed to be dead.

2 Heare yee this, O Eld-ders, and hearken, all yee inhabitants of the land, whether such a thing hath bene in your dayes, or yet in the dayes of your fathers.

3 Tell you your children of it, and let your children tewe to their children, and their children to another generation.

4 That which is left of the palmer worme, hath the grasshopper eaten, and the residue of the grasshopper hath the canker worme eaten, and the residue of the canker worme hath the caterpillar eaten.

5 Awake yee drunkardes, and weepe, and howle all ye drinkers of wine, because of the new wine: for it shall be pulled from your mouth.

6 Yea, a nation commeth vpon my land, mightie, and without number, whose teeth are like the teeth of a lion, and he hath the talues of a great lyon.

7 He maketh my vine wast, and pillet off the barke of my figge tree: he maketh it bare, and casteth it downe: the branches thereof are made white

8 Mourne like a virgine grieved with sackcloth for the husband of her youth.

9 The meate offering, and the drinke offering is cutt off from the house of the Lord:
 the Priests the Lords ministers mourne.

10 The field is wasted: the land mon-neth: for the corne is destroyed, & the newe wine is dried vp, and the oyle is decayed.

11 See yee ashamed, O husbandmen:
 howle, O ye vine dressers for the wheat, and for the barley, because the harvest of the field is perished.

12 The vine is dried vp, and the fig tree is decayed: the pomegranate tree, and the palme tree, and the apple tree, euen all the trees of the field are withered: surely the ioy is withered away from the sonnes of men.

13 Gird your selues and lament, yee Priests, howle yee ministers of the altar:
 come, and sit all night in sackcloth, yee ministers of my God: for the meate offering, and the drinke offering is taken away from the house of your God.

14 Sanctifie you a fast: call a solemne assembly: gather the Elders, and all the inhabitants of the land into the house of the Lord your God, and crye vnto the Lord,

15 Alas for the day, for the day of the Lord is at hand, & it commeth as a destruction from the Almighty.

16 Is not the meate cutt off before our eyes? and ioy, and gladnesse from the house of our God?

17 The seed is rotten vnder their clods:
 the garners are destroyed: the barnes are broken downe, for the corne is withered.

18 Howe did the bestes mourne?
 the heards of cattell pine away, because they haue no pasture, and the flocks of sheepe are destroyed.

19 O Lord, to thee will I cry: for the fire hath deuoured the pastures of the wildernesse, and the flame hath burnt vp all the trees of the field.

20 The bestes of the field crye also vnto thee: for the riuers of waters are dried vp, and the fire hath deuoured the pastures of the wilderness.

CHAP. II.

 their enemies. 13 An exhortation to misse them

1 Howe the trumpet in Zion, and shoute Dia mine holy mountaine: let all the inhabitants of the land tremble: for the day of the Lord is come: for it is at hand.

2 A day of darknesse, and of blackenesse, a day of cloudes, and obscuritie, as the morning spread vpon the mountaines, so is there a great people, and a mightie: there was none like it from the beginning, neither shall be any more after it, vnto the yeeres of many generations,

h He sheweth that the onely meanes to auoid Gods wrath, and to haue all things restored, is vnfe-ined repentance.

i We see by these that vnto destrud The enemy plentiful coun-treij, whereſocuer

he cometh.

3 A fire deuoureth before him, and behind him a flame burneth vp: the lande is as the garden of Eden before him, & behind him a deſolate wilderneſſe, ſo that nothing ſhall eſcape him.

4 The beholding of him is like the ſight of hoſtes, & like the hoſtmen, ſo ſhal they run.

5 Like the noile of charcets in the toppes of the mountaynes ſhall they leape, like the noyle of a flame of fire that deuoureth the ſtubble, and as a mighty people prepared to the battell.

6 Before his face ſhal the people tremble: all faces ſhall gather blackneſſe.

7 They ſhal run like ſtrong men, and goe vp to the wall like men of warre, and euery man ſhall go forward in his waies, and they ſhall not ſtay in their paths.

8 Neither ſhall one thruſt another, but euery one ſhal walke in his path: and when they fall vpon the ſwoorde, they ſhall not be wounded.

9 They ſhall runne to and fro in the city: they ſhall runne vpon the wall: they ſhall cline vp vpon the houſes, and enter in at the windowes like the cheefe.

10 The earth ſhall tremble before him, the heauens ſhall ſhake, the ſunne and the moone ſhall be darke, and the ſtarrs ſhall withdrow their ſhining.

11 And the Lord ſhall utter his voice before his hoſte: for his hoſte is very great: for he is ſtrong that doth his word: *for the day of the Lorde is great and very terrible, and who can abide it?

12 Therefoe alſo now the Lorde ſayeth, Turne you vnto me with all your heart, and with fasting, and with weeping, and with mourning.

13 And rent your heart, and not your clothes: and turne vnto the Lord your God, for he is gracious and mercifull, ſlow to anger, and of great kindneſſe, and repenteth him of the cuill.

14 Who knoweth, if he will returne and repent and leaue a bleſſing behind him, euen a meate offering, and a drinke offering vnto the Lord your God?

15 Blow the trumpet in Zion, ſanctifie a faſt, call a ſolemne aſſembly.

16 Gather the people: ſanctifie the Congregation, gather the Elders: aſſemble the children: & thoſe that ſicke the breaſtes: lee the hydegaine goe forth of his chambers, and the wide out of her wide chamber.

17 Let the Prieſtes, the miniſters of the Lord weep betweene the porch and the altar, and let them ſay, Spare thy people, O Lorde, and giue not thine heritage into reproch that the heathen ſhould rule ouer them. *Wherefoe ſhould they ſay among the people, Where is their God?

18 Then will the Lord be iſealous ouer his land, and ſpare his people.

19 Wea, the Lord will anſwere, & ſay vnto his people, Behold, I will ſend you come and win, and eyle, and you ſhal be deſiſſed therewith: and I will no more make you a reproch among the heathen.

20 But I will remoue farre off from you the Northen armie, and I will diſtroy him into a lande, barren and deſolate, with his face toward the e. Caſt ſea, and his ende to the vtmoſt ſea, and his ſtinke ſhall come vp, and his corruption ſhall aſcend, becauſe hee hath exalted himſelfe to doe this.

21 Feare not, O land, but be glad and reioyce: for the Lord will doe great things.

22 Bee not afraid, pee beaſts of the field; for the paſtures of the wildernes are greene: for the tree beareth her fruit: the figge tree and the vine doe giue their force.

23 We glad then ye children of Zion, and reioyce in the Lord your God: for hee hath giuen you the raine of P righteouſnes, * and hee will cauſe to come downe for you the raine, euen the firſt raine, and the latter raine in the firſt moneth.

24 And the barnes ſhall be full of wheate, and the preſſes ſhall abound with wine & oyle.

25 And I will render you the yeeres that the graſshopper hath eaten, the canker worm and the caterpillar, and the palmer worme, my great hoſte which I ſent among you.

26 So you ſhall eat and be ſatiſſed, and praile the name of the Lord your God, that hath dealt maruelouſly with you: and my people ſhall neuer be aſhamed.

27 Pee ſhall alſo knowe that I am in the mids of Iſrael, and that I am the Lord your God, and none other, and my people ſhall neuer be aſhamed.

28 And afterward wil I powre out my Spirit vpon all fleſh: and your ionnes and your daughters ſhal prophelie: your old men ſhal dreame & dreames, and your yong men ſhal lee viſions.

29 And alſo vpon the ſeruants, and vpon the maydes in thoſe dayes wil I powre my Spirit.

30 And I wil ſhew wonders in the heauens and in the earth: blood and fire, and pillars of ſmoke.

31 The ſunne ſhalbe turned into darkneſſe, and the moone into blood, before the great and terrible day of the Lord come.

32 But whoſoener ſhal call on the name of the Lord, ſhalbe ſaued: for in mount Zion and in Ieruſalem, ſhalbe deliuerance, as the Lord hath ſayd, and in the remnant, whom the Lord ſhall call.

e That which the enemy gate for the sale of my people, he bestowed upon harlots and drinke. d He taketh the cause of his Church in hand against the enemy, as though the iniurie were done to himself. e Haue I done you wrong that yee will render me the like? f For afterward God sold them by Nebuchadnezzar, and Alexander the great, for the loue he bare to his people, and thereby they were comforted as though the price had bene theirs. g When I shall execute my iudgements against mine enemies, I will cause euery one to be ready, and to prepare their weapons to destroy one another for my Church sake.

Jehoshaphat, and will please with them there for my people, and for mine heritage Israel, whom they haue scattered among the nations, and parted my land.

3 And they haue cast lots for my people, & haue giuen the child: for the harlot, & sold the girls for wine, that they might drinke.

4 Vea, and what haue you to doe with me, O Tyris and Sidon, and all the coasts of Palestina? will yee render me a recompense? and if yee recompense me, twisly and speedily will I render your recompense vpon your head:

5 For yee haue taken my silver and my golde, and haue caried into your temples my goodly and pleasant things.

6 The children also of Judah and the children of Ierusalem haue you sold vnto the Grecians, that yee might send them farre from their border.

7 Behold, I will raise them out of the place where yee haue sold them, and will render your reward vpon your owne head.

8 And I will sell your sonnes and your daughters into the hand of the children of Judah, and they shall sell them to the Sabeans, to a people farre off: for the Lord hath spoken it.

9 Inblis this among the Gentiles: prepare warre, waite by the mighty men: let all the men of warre draw neede and come vp.

10 Break your plowshares into swords, and your lutes into speares: let the weak say, I am strong.

11 Assemble your selues, and come all yee heathen, and gather your selues together round about: there shall the Lord cast downe thy mightie men.

12 Let the heathen bee wakened, and come by to the valley of Jehoshaphat: for there will I sit to iudge all the heathen round about.

13 But in your fishes, for the harvest is ripe: come, get you downe, for the wine-press is full: yea, the wine-presses runne ouer, for their wickednesse is great.

14 Multitude, multitude, come into the valley of threshing: for the day of the Lord is nere in the valley of threshing.

15 The sunne & moone shall be darkened, and the starres shall withdraw their light.

16 The Lord also shall roare out of Zion, and utter his voyce from Ierusalem, and the heauens and the earth shall shake, but the Lord will be the hope of his people, and the strength of the children of Israel.

17 So shall yee know that I am the Lord your God dwelling in Zion, mine holy mountaine: then shall Ierusalem bee holy, and there shall no strangers go thow her any more.

18 And in that day shall the mountaines drop downe new wine, and the hills shall flow with milke, and all the riuers of Judah shall run with waters, and a fountaine shall come forth of the house of the Lord, and shall water the valley of Shittim.

19 Egypt shall bee waste, and Edom shall be a desolate wilderness, for the iniuries of the children of Judah, because they haue shed innocent blood in their land.

20 But Judah shall dwell for euer, and Ierusalem from generation to generation.

21 For I will cleanse their blood, that I haue not cleansed, and the Lord will dwell in Zion.

m The malicious enemies shall haue no part of this grace. n He had suffered his Church hitherto to lie in their filthinesse, but now promiseth to cleanse them and to make them pure vnto him, h Thus he shall encourage the enemies, when their wickednesse is full ripe, to destroy one another, which he calleth the valley of Gods iudgement. i God shall reth his against all troubles, that when he destroyeth his enemies, his children shall be deliuered. k The strangers shall no more destroy his Church: which if they doe, it is the people which by their finnes make the breach for the enemy. l He promiseth to his Church abundance of graces, read Ezekiel 47. 1. which should water and comfort the most barren places, Amos 9. 13.

Amos.

THE ARGUMENT.

Among many other Prophets that God raised vp to admonish the Israelites of his plagues for their wickednesse and idolatrie, he stired vp Amos, who was an herdsman or shepherd of a poore towne, and gaue him both knowledge and constancie to reprocual of ages & degrees, and to denounce Gods horrible iudgements against them, except they did in time repent: shewing them that if God spare not the other nations about them, who had lued as it were in ignorance of God in respect of them, but for their finnes will punish them, that they could looke for nothing, but his horrible destruction, except they turned to the Lord by vnfeigned repentance. And finally he comforteth the godly with hope of the coming of the Messiah, by whom they should haue perfect deliuerance and saluation.

CHAPTER I.

1 The time of the prophesie of Amos. 3 The word of the Lord against Damascus, 6 The Philistines, Tyrus, Iudicia and Ammon.

Behold the wordes of Amos, who was among the herdsmen at Tecoa, which he saw vpon Israel, in the dayes of Uzziah King of Iudah, and in the dayes of Jeroboam the sonne of Ioas king of Israel, two yere before the earthquake.

2 And he said, The Lord shall roare from Zion, and utter his voyce from Ierusalem, and the dwelling places of the shepherdes flourish.

c Which, as Iosephus writeth, was when Vzziah would haue vsurped the Priests office, and therefore was smitten with the leprosie.

shall perish, and the toppe of Carmel shall wither.

3 Thus saith the Lord, For three transgressions of Damascus, and for foure, I will not turne to it, because they haue threshed Silead with threshing instruments of yon.

4 Therefore will I send a fire into the house of Hazael, and it shall deuoure the palaces of Ben-hadan.

meant by three and foure which make seuen, because the Israelites should the more deeply consider Gods iudgements toward them.

f If the Syrians shall not bee spared for committing this crueltie against one citie, it is not possible that Israel should escape punishment, which hath committed so many and grievous finnes against God and man. g The antiquitie of their buildings shall not avoid my iudgements, read Ierem. 49. 27.

d Whatsoeuer is fruitful and pleasant in Israel shall shortly perish. e He sheweth first that all the people round about should be destroyed for their manifold finnes: which are a Which was a bowne fixe miles from Ierusalem in Iudea, but he prophesied in Israel.

b In his dayes the kingdome of Israel did most flourish.

c Which, as Iosephus writeth, was when Vzziah would haue vsurped the Priests office, and therefore was smitten with the leprosie.

5 I will breake also the battes of Damascus, and cut off the inhabitant of Bithach-anon: and him that holdeth the scepter out of Beth eden, and the people of Aram shall goe into captiuitie vnto Kir, saith the Lord.

6 Thus saith the Lord, For three transgressions of Azzah, and for foure, I will not turne to it, because they carried away prisoners the whole captiuitie to shut them vp in Edom.

7 Therefore I will send a fire vpon the walles of Azzah, and it shall deuoure the palaces thereof.

8 And I will cut off the inhabitant from Ahdod, and him that holdeth the scepter from Ahtkelon, and turne mine hand to Ekron, and the remnant of the Philistins shall perish, saith the Lord God.

9 Thus saith the Lord, For three transgressions of Tyrus, and for foure, I will not turne to it, because they shut the whole captiuitie in Edom, and haue not remembered the brotherly covenant.

10 Therefore will I send a fire vpon the walles of Tyrus, and it shall deuoure the palaces thereof.

11 Thus saith the Lord, For three transgressions of Edom, and for foure, I will not turne to it, because he did pursue his brother with the sword: and did cast off all pittie, and his anger spoiled him rather more, and his wrath watched him alway.

12 Therefore will I send a fire vpon Teman, and it shall deuoure the palaces of Bozrah.

13 Thus saith the Lord, For three transgressions of the children of Ammon, and for foure, I will not turne to it, because they haue ript vp the women with child of Silead, that they might enlarge their border.

14 Therefore will I kindle a fire in the wall of Rabbah, and it shall deuoure the palaces thereof, with shouting in the day of battell, and with a tempest in the day of the whirlwind.

15 And their King shall goe into captiuitie, hee and his princes together, saith the Lord.

CHAP. II.

Against Moab, Judah, and Israel.

Thus saith the Lord, For three transgressions of Moab, and for foure, I will not turne to it, because it burnt the bones of the king of Edom into linc.

2 Therefore will I send a fire vpon Moab, and it shall deuoure the palaces of Kirior, and Moab shall die with tumult, with shouting, and with the sound of a trumpet.

3 And I will cut off the Judge out of the mids thereof, and will slay all the princes thereof with him, saith the Lord.

4 Thus saith the Lord, For three transgressions of Judah, and for foure, I will not turne to it, because they haue cast away the Law of the Lord, and haue not kept his commandements, and their lies caused them to erre after the which their fathers haue walked.

5 Therefore I will send a fire vpon Iuday, and it shall deuoure the palaces of Ierusalem.

6 Thus saith the Lord, For three transgressions of Israel, and for foure, I will not turne to it, because they sold the righteous for siluer, & the poore for shoes.

7 They gaue out the head of the poore in the dust of the earth, and peruert the wapes of the meeke: and a man and his father will goe in to a maid to dissonour mine holy Name.

8 And they lie downe vpon clothes layd to pledge: by every altar: and they drinke the wine of the condemned in the house of their God.

9 Yet destroyed I the Amorite before them, whole height was like the height of the cedars, and he was strong as the oke: notwithstanding I destroyed his fruit from above, and his roote from beneath.

10 Also I brought you vp from the land of Egypt, and led you fourtie yeeres thro' the wilderness, to possesse the land of the Amorite.

11 And I raised vp of your sonnes for Prophets, and of your young men for Hazarites. Is it not euen thus, O ye children of Israel, saith the Lord?

12 But ye gaue the Hazarites wine to drinke, and commanded the Prophets, saying, Prophecie not.

13 Behold, I am pressed vnder you, as a cart is pressed that is full of sheaves.

14 Therefore the swift shall perish from the swift, and the strong shall not strengthen his force, neither shall the mighty saue his life.

15 For hee that handleth the bowe, shall stand, and hee that is swift of foore, shall not escape, neither shall he that rideith the horse, saue his life.

16 And he that is of a mighty courage among the strong men, shall see away naked in that day, saith the Lord.

17 Yeecontemned my benefits, and abused my graces, and craftily went about to stoppe the mouthes of my Prophets. k You haue wearied me with your sinnes, Isa. i. 14. I None shall be deliuered by any means.

CHAP. III.

He reproveth the house of Israel of ingratitude, for the which God will punish them.

Heereby against you, O children of Israel, even against the whole familie which I brought vp from the land of Egypt, saying, 2 You haue onely haue I knowne of all the families of the earth: therefore I will visite you for all your iniquities.

3 Can two walke together except they be agreed?

4 Will a lion roare in the forest, when he hath no pray? or will a Lyons whelp cry out of his den if he haue taken nothing?

5 Will a man take his selfe, but as God guideth and moueth him, which is called the agreement betwene God and his Prophets. c Will God threaten by his Prophets, except there be some great occasion?

5. Can

h Tiglah Pileser led the Syrians captiue, and brought them to Cyrène, which he calleth here Kir. i They ioyned themselves with the Edomites their enemies, which carried them away captiues.

k For Esau (of whom came the Edomites) and Iaakob were brethren: therefore they ought to haue admonished the of their brotherly friendship, and not to haue prouoked them to hatred. l Ebr. corrupt his compassions.

1 He was a continuall enimie vnto him. m Hee noteth the great crueltie of the Ammonites, that spared not the women, but most tyrannously tormented them, and yet the Ammonites came of Lot, who was of the houshold of Abraham.

a For the Moabites were so cruel against the King of Edom, that they burnt his bones after that he was dead, which declared their barbarous rage, seeing they would reuenge themselves of the dead. b Seeing the Gentiles that had not so farre knowledge, were thus punished, Iudah, which was so fully instructed of the Lords will, might not thinke to escape.

c If he spare not Iudah vnto whom his promises were made much more he will not spare this degenerate kingdom. d They esteemed most vile bribes more then mens liues. e When they haue spoiled him and thrown him to the ground, they gape for his life.

f Thinking by these ceremonies, that is, by sacrificing, and being neere mine altar, they may excuse all their other wickednesse.

g They spoyle others and offer thereof vnto God, thinking that hee will dispense with them, when hee is made partaker of their iniquitie.

h The destruction of their enemies, & his mercie toward them, should haue eased their hearts to melt for loue toward him.

i Yeecontemned my benefits, and abused my graces, and craftily went about to stoppe the mouthes of my Prophets. k You haue wearied me with your sinnes, Isa. i. 14. I None shall be deliuered by any means.

d Can any thing come without Gods providence?
 e Shall his threatenings be in vaine?
 f Shall the Prophets threaten Gods judgments, and the people not be afraid?
 g Doeth any aduercitie come without Gods appointment? Isa. 45. 7.
 h God dealeth not with the Israelites as hee doeth with other people: for he euer warneth them before of his plagues, by his Prophets.
 i Because the people euer murmured against the Prophets, he sheweth that Gods Spirit moued them to speak as they did.
 k He calleth the strangers, as the Phillitims and Egyptians to be witnesses of Gods judgments against the Israelites for their crueltye and oppression.

5 Can a bird fall in a snare vpon the earth, where no fouler is? or will he take vpon the snare from the earth, and haue taken nothing at all?
 6 Or shall a trumpet bee blown in the citie, and the people be not afraid? or shall there bee euill in a citie, and the Lord hath not done it?
 7 Surely the Lorde God will doe nothing, but he reuellet his secret vnto his seruants the Prophets.
 8 The Lyon hath roared: who will not be afraid? The Lord God hath spoken: who can but prophesie?
 9 Proclaime in the palaces at Ashdod, and in the palaces in the land of Egypt, and say, Assemble your selues vpon the mountaines of Samaria: so behold the great tumults in the mids thereof, and the oppressed in the mids thereof.
 10 For they knowe not to do right, saith the Lord: they store vp violence, and robbet in their palaces.
 11 Therefore thus saith the Lord God, An aduercitie shall come euen round about the country, and shall bring downe thy strength from thee, and thy palaces shall be spoiled.
 12 Thus saith the Lorde, As the shepheard taketh out of the mouth of the Lyon two legges, or a peece of an eare: so shall the children of Israel bee taken out that dwell in Samaria in the corner of a bed, and in Damascus, as in a couch.
 13 Heare and testifie in the house of Iacob, saith the Lord God, the God of hostes.
 14 Surely in the day that I shall visite the transgressions of Israel vpon him, I will also visite the altars of Beth-el, and the houses of the altar shall be broken off, and fall to the ground.
 15 And I will smite the winter house with the summer house, and the houses of yronie shall perishe, and the great houses shall be consumed, saith the Lord.

1 The fruit of their crueltye & these appeareth by their great riches, which they haue in their houses. m When the Lion hath satiate his hunger, the shepheard findeth a legge, or a tip of an eare, so shewe that the sheepe haue bene worried. n Where they thought to haue had a sure hold, and to haue bene in safety.

CHAP. IIII.
 Against the gouernours of Samaria.

a Thus he calleth the princes and gouernours, which being ouerwhelmed with the great abundance of Gods benefits, forgare God, and therefore he calleth them by the name of beasts and not of men.
 b They encourage such as haue authoritie ouer the people, to powle them so that they may haue profite by it. c Hee alludeth to fishers which catch fish by bookes and thornes.

1 Heare this worde yee king of Basban, that are in the mountaine of Samaria, which oppresse the poore, & destroy the uerde, and they lay to their masters, b Spring, and let vs drinke.
 2 The Lord God hath sworne by his holinesse, that loe the dayes shall come vpon you, that hee will take you away with thornes and your posteritie with fishbooks.
 3 And yee shall goe out at the breaches, crieri kowe forward: and yee shall cast your selues out of the palace, saith the Lord.

4 Come to Beth-el, and transgresse: to Gilgal, and multiple transgression, and bring your sacrifices in the morning, & your rites after thre e yeeres.
 5 And offer a thanksgiving of leauen, publish and proclaime the free offerings: for this liketh you, O yee children of Israel, saith the Lord God.
 6 And therefore haue I giuen you cleannesse of teeth in all your cities, and scarcenesse of bread in all your places, yet haue ye not returned vnto me, saith the Lord.
 7 And also I haue withholden the raine from you, when there were yet thre moneths to the harvest, and I caused it to raine vpon one citie, and haue not caused it to raine vpon another citie: one peece was rained vpon, and the peece wherevpon it rained nor, withered.
 8 So two or thre cities wandered vnto one citie, to drinke water, but they were not satisfied: yet haue ye not returned vnto me, saith the Lord.
 9 I haue smitten you with blasting, and mildew: your great gardens and your vineyardes, and your figge trees, and your olive trees did the palmer worme denoure: yet haue ye not returned vnto me, saith the Lord.

 11 I haue overthowen you, as God overthrew Sodome and Gomozab: and yee were as a firebrand pluckt out of the burning, yet haue ye not returned vnto me, saith the Lord.
 12 Therefore thus will I doe vnto thee, O Israel: and because I will doe this vnto thee, prepare to meet thy God, O Israel.
 13 For so, he that foureth the mountaines, and createth the winde, and declareth vnto man what is his thought: which maketh the morning darkenesse, and walketh vpon the high places of the earth, the Lorde God of hostes is his name.

CHAP. V.

A lamentation for the captiuitie of Israel.

1 Heare ye this word, which I lift vp vpon you, euen a lamentation of the house of Israel.
 2 The virgin Israel is fallen, and shall no more rise: she is left vpon her hand, and there is none to raise her vp.
 3 For thus saith the Lord God, The citie which went out by a thousand, shall leaue an hundred: and that which went forth by an hundred, shall leaue ten to the house of Israel.
 4 For thus saith the Lord vnto the house of Israel, Seeke ye me, and ye shall liue.
 5 But seeke not Beth-el, nor enter into Gilgal, and goe not to Beer-sheba: for Gilgal shall goe into captiuitie, and Beth-el shall come to nought.
 6 Seeke the Lord, and ye shall liue, lest he pour out of God: therefore he saith that these shall not be sake a He so calleth them, because they so boasted of their felues, or because they were giuen to wantonnesse and daintinesse.

 b Meaning, that the tenth part should scarcely be saved.
 c In these places they worshipped new idoles which sometime serued for the true house of God.

d In stead of iudgement and equity, they execute cruelty and oppression. e He describeth the power of God, Ioh. 9. 9. f They hate the Prophets, which reprove them in the open assemblies. g Ye take both his money and also his goodes where with he should live. h God will so plague them, that they shall not suffer the godly once to open their mouths to admonish them of their faults. i So that all degrees shall have matter of lamentation for the great plagues. k Thus he speaketh because the wicked & hypocrites sayd they were content to abide Gods iudgements, whereas the godly tremble and feare. Iere. 30. 7. ioc. 2. 2. 1. zeph. 1. 15. l Because ye have corrupted my true seruice and remaine obstinate in your vices, Isa. 1. 11. ierem. 6. 10. m Doe your dutie to God and to your neighbour, and so ye shall feele his grace plentifully, if you shew your abundant affections according to Gods word. n Hatidole which you esteemed as your King, and carried about as you did Chiu, in the which images you taught that there was a certaine diuinity.

broke out like fire in the house of Ioseph, and deuoured it, and there be none to quench it in Beth-el.
7 They turne iudgement to wormewood, & leaue off righteousnes in the earth.
8 We makeh Hetaides, and Orion, and he turneth the shadow of death into the morning, and he maketh the day dark as night: he calleth the waters of the sea, and poureth them out vpon the open earth: the Lord is his name.
9 He strengtheneth the destroyer against the mighty: and the destroyer shall come against the fortresse.
10 They haue hated him, that rebuked in the gate: and they abhorred him that speaketh brightly.
11 Iohnanah then as your treading is vpon the poore, and ye take from him burthen of wheat, ye haue built houses of hewen stone, but ye shall not dwell in them: ye haue planted pleasaunt vineyards, but ye shall not drinke wine of them.
12 For I knowe your manifold transgressions, and your mighty finnes: they afflict the iust, they take rewards, and they oppress the poore in the gate.
13 Therefore the prudent shall keepe silence in that time, for it is an euill time.
14 Seeke good and not euil, that ye may live: and the Lord God of hosts shall be with you, as you haue spoken.
15 Hate the euil & loue the good, and establish iudgement in the gate: it may be that the Lord God of hosts will be mercifull vnto the remnant of Ioseph.
16 Therefore the Lord God of hostes, the Lord sayeth thus: Mourning shall be in all streets: and they shall say in all the high wayes, Alas, alas: & they shall call the husbandman to lamentation, and such as can mourne, to mourning.
17 And in all the vines shall lamentation: for I will passe thowr them, sayeth the Lord.
18 Woe vnto you, that desire the day of the Lord: what haue you to doe with it? the day of the Lord is darknesse and not light.
19 As if a man did flee from a lyon, and a beare met him: or went into the house, and leaned his hand on the wall, and a serpent bit him.
20 Shall not the day of the Lord be darknesse and not light: euen darknes and no light in it.
21 I hate & abhorre your feast daies, and I will not smell in your solemn assemblies.
22 Though you offer me burnt offerings and meat offerings, I will not accept them: neither will I regard the peace offerings of your feast daies.
23 Take thou away from me the multitude of thy songs: for I will not heare the melody of thy viols.
24 And let iudgement raine downe as waters, & righteousnes as a mighty riuer.
25 Haue ye offered vnto me sacrifices and offerings in the wilderness fortie yeeres, I house of Israel?
26 But you haue borne Siccuth your King, & Chiu your images, and the statue of your gods, which ye made to your selues.

27 Therefore will I cause you to go into captivity beyond Damascus, saith the Lord, whose Name is the God of hosts.
C H A P. V I.
Against the princes of Israel living inplacure.
Woe to them that are at ease in Zion, and trust in the mountaine of Samaria, which were famous at the beginning of the nations: and the house of Israel came to them.
2 Goe you vnto Caluch, and see: and from thence goe you to Hamath the great: then goe downe to Gath of the Philistines: see: they better then their kingdomes? or the border of their lands greater then your border?
3 See that put farre away the euill day, and appoach to the least of iniquity?
4 They lye vpon beds of puorie, & stretch themselves vpon their beddes, and eate the lambs of the flocke, and the calves out of the stall.
5 They sing to the sound of the viol: they inuent themselves instruments of munnike like Dauid.
6 They drinke wine in bowles, & anoint themselves with the chiefe oymments, but no man is for the affliction of Ioseph.
7 Therefore now shall they goe captive with the first that goe captiue, and the sorrow of them that stretched themselves, is at hand.
8 The Lord God hath sware by himselfe, saith the Lord God of hostes, I abhorre the excellencie of Iacob, and hate his palaces: therefore will I deliuer by the edge with all that is therein.
9 And if there remaine ten men in one house, they shall die.
10 And his vncle shall take him by and burke him to carry out the bones out of the house, and shall lay vnto him that is by the sides of the house, Is there yet any with thee? And he shall say, None. Then shall he say, Hold thy tongue: for wee may not remember the Name of the Lord.
11 For behold, the Lord commaundeth, and he will smite the great house with breaches, and the little house with cleftes.

Thus hath the Lorde God shewed vnto me, and behold, hee formed a grasshoppers in the beginning of the shooting vp of the latter growth: and loe, it was in the latter growth after the kings mowing.

2 And when they had made an ende of eating the grasse of the land, then I sayd, O Lord God, spare, I beseech thee: who shall raise vp Iakob? for he is small.

3 So the Lord repented for this. It shal not be, saith the Lord.

4 Thus also hath the Lord God shewed vnto me, and behold, the Lord God called to iudgement by fire: and it denoued the great deeps, and did eate vp a part.

5 Then sayd I, O Lorde God, cease, I beseech thee: who shall raise vp Iakob? for he is small.

6 So the Lord repented for this. This also shal not be, saith the Lord God.

7 Thus againe hee shewed me, and behold, the Lord stood vpon a wall made by line: with a line in his hand.

8 And the Lord saide vnto mee, Amos, what seest thou? And I sayd, A line. Then sayde the Lord, Beholde, I will set a line in the mids of my people Israel, and will passe by them no more.

9 And the hie places of Ithak shalbe desolate, & the temples of Israel shalbe destroyed: and I wil rite against the house of Ieroboam with the sword.

10 Then Amazah y Priest of Bethel, sent to Ieroboam king of Israel, laying, Amos hath conspired against thee in the mids of the house of Israel: the laude is not able to beare all his words.

11 For thus Amos saith, Ieroboam shal die by the sword, and Israel shalbe led away captiue out of their owne land.

12 Also Amazah sayd vnto Amos, O thou the Seer, goe, flee thou away into the land of Iudah, and there eate thy bread and prophesie there.

13 But prophesie no more at Beth-el: for it is the kings chappel, and it is the kings court.

14 Then answered Amos, and said to Amazah, I was no Prophet, neither was I a Prophets sonne, but I was an heard-man, and a gatherer of wild figs.

15 And the Lord tooke me as I followed the flocke, and the Lord sayd vnto me, Goe, prophesie vnto my people Israel.

16 Now therefore heare thou the word of the Lord. Thou saist, Prophesie not against Israel, and speake nothing against the house of Ithak.

17 Therefore thus sayth the Lord, Thy wife shall be an harlot in the cite, and thy sonnes and thy daughters shall fall by the sword, and thou shalt dye in a polluted lande, and Israel shall surely goe into captiuitie forth of his land.

Thus hath the Lorde God shewed vnto me, & behold, a basket of summer fruit.

3 And the songs of the Temple shal be howlings in that day, sayeth the Lord God: many dead bodies shal be in every piacc: they shal cast them forth with silence.

4 Heare this, O ye that swallow by the poore, that yee may make the needy of the land to sayle,

7 The Lord hath sworne by the excellencie of Iakob, Surely I will neuer forget any of their works.

8 Shal not the land tremble for this? and everyone mourne, that dwelleth therein? and it shall rise vp wholly as a flood, and it shalbe cast out, and downed as by the flood of Egypt.

9 And in that day, sayeth the Lord God, I wil euen cause the sunne to goe downe at noone: and I will darken the earth in the cleare day.

10 And I will turne your feastes into mourning, & all your songs into lamentation: and I will bring sackcloth vpon all your s, and baldnesse vpon every head: and I will make it as the mourning of an onely sonne, and the end thereof as a bitter day.

THE ARGUMENT.

The Idumeans which came of Esau, were mortall enemies alwayes to the Israelites, which came of Iacob: and therefore did not onely vexe them continually with sundry kinds of crueltie, but also stirred vp others to fight against them. Therefore when they were now in their greatest prosperitie, and did most triu-umph against Israel, which was in great affliction and misery, God raised vp his Prophet to comfort the Israelites, forasmuch as God had now determined to destroy their aduersaries, which did so fore vexe them, and to send them such as should deliuer them, and set vp the kingdome of Messiah, which he had promised.

He vision of Obadiah. Thus sayeth the Lord God against Edom, Wee haue heard a rumour from the Lord, and an ambassadour is sent among the heathen: arise, and let vs rise vp against her to battell.

2 Beholde, I haue made thee small among the heathen: thou art utterly despised.

Thus the heathen encourage themselves to rise against Edom.

3 The pride of thine heart hath deceiued thee: thou that dwellest in the clefts of the rockes, whose habitation is hid, that saith in his heart, Who shall bring me downe to the ground?

19 And they shall possess the South side of the mount of Eſau, and the plaine of the Philistims: and they shall possess the fields of Ephyraim, and the fields of Samaria, and Benjamin shall haue Eſend.

20 And the captiuitie of this hoste of the children of Israel, which were among the Canaanites, shall possess vnto Zarephath, and the captiuitie of Ierusalem, which is in Sepharad, shall possess the cities of the South.

THE ARGUMENT.

When Jonah had long prophesied in Israel, & had little profited, God gaue him expresse charge to goe & denounce his iudgements against Nineueh the chiefe cite of the Assyrians, because hee had appointed, that they which were of the heathen, should conuert by the mighty power of his word, and that within three dayes preaching, that Israel might see how horribly they had prouoked Gods wrath, which for the space of so many yeeres, had not conuerted to the Lord for so many Prophets, and so diligenr preaching. He prophesied vnder Ioash & Ieroboam, as 2. Kings 14 25.

CHAP. I.

3 Jonah fled when he was sent to preach. 4 A tempest ariseth, and he is cast into the sea for his disobedience.

And the word of the Lorde came also vnto Jonah the sonne of Amittai, saying, that great cite, and cry against it: for their wickednesse is come vpon before me.

3 But Jonah rose vp to flee into Tarshish from the presence of the Lorde, and went downe to Eſapho: and hee found a shippe going to Tarshish: so hee payed the towers, and at this time there were an hundred and twentie thousand children therein, Chap. 4. 1. d Whereby he declared his weaknesse, that would not properly follow the Lordes calling, but gaue place to his owne reason, which perswaded him that hee should nothing at all profit there, seeing he had done so small good among his owne people, Chap. 4. 2. e Which was the hauen and port to take shipping thither, called also Ioppe.

e They in whom thou didst trust, for to haue helpe and friendship of them, shall be thine enemies and destroy thee. f That is, thy familiar friendes & ghests haue by secret practises destroyed thee. g He sheweth the cause why the Edomites were so sharply punished: to wit, because they were enemies to his Church, whom now hee comforteth by punishing their enemies. h When Nabuchad-nezzar came against Ierusalem, thou ioyneſt with him, and hadst part of the spoile; and so diddest reioyce, when my people, that is, thy brother, were afflicted, whereas thou shouldst haue pitied & holpen thy brother. i When the Lorde depriued them of their former dignitie, & gaue them to be caried into captiuitie.

a After that hee had preached a long time in Israel: and so Ezekiel, after that for a time he had prophesied in Iudah, he had visions in Babylon, Ezek. 1. 3. b For seeing the great obſtination of the Israelites, hee sent his Prophet to the Gentiles, that they might prouoke them to repentance, or at the least make them inexcusable: for Nineueh was the chiefe cite of the Assyrians.

f From that vocation wherein to God had called him, and wherein he would haue assisted him.

g As one that would haue cast off this care and solicitude by seeking rest and quietnesse.

h As they had called on their idols: which declareth that idolaters haue no stay nor certaintie, but in their troubles seeke they cannot tell to whom.

i Which declareth that the matter was in great extremitie and doubt, which thing was Gods motion in them for the triall of the cause: and this may not be done but in matters of great importance.

k This declareth that verry wicked in their necessities flee vnto God for succour, and also that they are touched with a certaine feare to shed mans blood, whereas they know no manifest signe of wickednesse.

l They were touched with a certaine repentance of their life past, and began to worship the true God by whom they saw themselves so wonderfully deliuered: but this was done for feare, and not of a pure heart and affection, neither according to Gods word.

m Thus the Lord would chastise his Prophet with a most terrible spectacle of death, and hereby also confirmed him of his fauour and support in this his charge which was enioyned him.

fare thereof, and went downe into it, that he might goe with them vnto Tarshish, from the presence of the Lord.

4 But the Lord sent out a great winde into the Sea, and there was a mighty tempest in the sea, so that the ship was like to be broken.

5 Then the mariners were afraid, and cryed euery man vnto his God, and cast the wares that were in the ship, into the sea to lighten it of them: but Ionah was gone downe into the sides of the ship, and he lay downe, and was fast asleepe.

6 So the Shipmaster came to him, and said vnto him, What meanest thou, O Sleeper? Arise, call vpon thy God, if so be that God wil thinke vpon vs, that we perish not.

7 And they said euery one to his fellow, Come, and let vs cast lots, that we may knowe, for whose cause this euill is vpon vs. So they cast lots, and the lot fell vpon Ionah.

8 Then sayd they vnto him, Tell vs for whose cause this euill is vpon vs? what is thine occupation? & whence comest thou? which is thy country? and of what people art thou?

9 And hee answered them, I am an Hebrew, and I feare the Lord God of heauen, which hath made the sea, and the Dry land.

10 Then were the men exceedingly afraid, and sayd vnto him, Why hast thou done this? (for the men knewe, that he fled from the presence of the Lord, because hee had told them)

11 Then said they vnto him, What shall we doe vnto thee, that the sea may be calme vnto vs? (for the Sea wrought and was troublous)

12 And he said vnto them, Take me, and call me into the sea: so shall the sea be calme vnto you: for I know, that for my sake this great tempest is vpon you.

13 Wheretheforse, the men rowed to bring it to the land, but they could not: for the sea wrought and was troublous against them.

14 Wherefore they cryed vnto the Lord, and said, We beseech thee, O Lord, we beseech thee, let vs not perish for this mans life, and lay not vpon vs innocent blood: for thou, O Lord, hast done, as it pleased thee.

15 So they tooke vp Ionah, and cast him into the sea, & the sea ceased from her raging.

16 Then the men feared the Lord exceedingly, and offered a sacrifice vnto the Lord, and made vowes.

17 Nowe the Lord had prepared a great fish to swallow vp Ionah: and Ionah was in the belly of the fish three daies and thre nights,

Then Ionah prayed vnto the Lorde his God out of the fishes belly,

2 And saide, I cryed in mine affliction vnto the Lord, and he heard me: out of the belly of hell cryed I, and thou heardest my voyce.

3 For thou hadst cast me into the bottome in the mids of the sea, and the floods compassed me about: all thy fluges, and all thy waues passed ouer me.

4 Then I sayd, I am cast away out of thy sight: yet will I looke againe towarde thine holy Temple.

5 The waters compassed me about vnto the soule: the depth closed me round about, and the weeds were wrapt about mine head.

6 I went downe to the bottome of the mountaines: the earth with her barres was about mee for euer, yet hast thou brought vp my life from the pit, O Lorde my God.

7 When my soule fainted within mee, I remembered the Lord, and my prayer came vnto thee, into thine holy Temple.

8 They that wait vpon lying & vanities forsake their owne mercie.

9 But I will sacrifice vnto thee with the voyce of thanksgiving, and will pay that that I haue vowed: saluation is of the Lord.

10 And the Lord spake vnto the fish, and it cast out Ionah vpon the dry land.

a Being now swallowed vp of death, and seeing no remedy to escape, his faith braut out vnto the Lord, knowing that out of the very hell he was able to deliuer him. b For he was now in the fishes belly, as in a graue or place of darkenesse. c This declared what his prayer was, and how he laboured betweene hope and despair, considering the neglect of his vocation, and Gods iudgements for the same; but yet in the end faith gate the victory. d Thou hast deliuered me from the belly of the fish, and all these dangers, as it were raising mee from death to life. e They that depend vpon any thing saue on God alone. f They refuse their owne felicitie, and that goodnesse which they should else receiue of God.

CHAP. III.

1 Ionah is sent againe to Nineueh. 5 The repentance of the King of Nineueh.

And the word of the Lord came vnto Ionah the second time, saying,

2 Arise, goe vnto Nineueh that great citie, and preach vnto it the preaching, which I bid thee.

3 So Ionah arose and went to Nineueh according to the word of the Lord: now Nineueh was a great and excellent citie of thre dayes iourney.

4 And Ionah began to enter into the citie a dayes iourney, and he cryed, and said, Yet fourtie dayes, and Nineueh shall be overthrowen.

5 So the people of Nineueh beleued God, and proclaimed a fast, and put on sackcloth from the greatest of them euen to the least of them.

6 For word came vnto the King of Nineueh, and he arose from his throne, and hee layed his robe from him, and covered him with sackcloth, and sate in ashes.

7 And hee proclaimed and said through Nineueh, (by the counsel of the king and his nobles) saying, Let neither man, nor beast, bullocke nor sheepe taste any thing, neither seee nor drinke water.

8 But let man and beast put on sack-a This is a great declaration of Gods mercy, that hee receiueh him againe & sendeth him forth as his Prophet, which had before shewed so great infirmitie. b Reade Chap. 1. 2. c He went forward one day in the citie, and preached, and so he continued till the citie was conuerted. d For he declared that he was a Prophet sent to them from God to denounce his iudgements against them, e Not that the dumbe beasts had sinned or could repent, but that by their example man might be astonished, considering that for his sinne the anger of God hangd ouer all creatures.

f He willed, that the men should earnestly call vnto God for mercie, g For partly by the threatening of the Prophet, and partly by the motion of his owne conscience he doubted whether God would shew them mercy. h That is, the fruits of their repentance, which did proceed of faith, which God had planted by the ministry of his Prophet. i Reade Iere. 18. 3.

cloth, and cry mightily vnto God: yea, let every man turne from his euill way, and from the wickednesse that is in their hands. 9 s Alho can tell if God will turne, and repent & turne away from his fierce wrath, that we perish not? 10 And God saue their h workes that they turned from their euill wayes: & i God repented of the euill that he had said, that he would doe vnto them, and he did it not.

5 So Jonah went out of the citie, & late on the East side of the city, and there made him a boorhe, and late vnder it in the shadow: till he might see what should be done in the citie.

6 And the Lord God prepared a gourd, and made it to come by ouer Jonah, that it might be a shadowe ouer his head, and deliuer him from his griefe. So Jonah was exceeding glad of the gourd.

7 But God prepared a worme when the morning rose the next day: and it smote the gourd that it withered.

8 And when the Sunne did arise, God prepared also a feruent East wind: and the Sunne beat vpon the head of Jonah, that hee fainted, and wished in his heart to die, and said, It is better for mee to die, then to liue.

9 And God said vnto Jonah, Doest thou well to be angry for the gourd? And he said, I doe well to be angry vnto the death.

10 Then said the Lord, Thou hast had pittie on the gourd for the which thou hast not laboured, neither madest it growe, which came vp in a night, and perished in a night.

11 And shoulde h not I spare Ninuech that great citie, wherein are five score thousand persons, that i cannot discern betwene their right hand and their left hand, and also much cattell?

C H A P. IIII.
The great goodnesse of God toward his creatures.

T Herefore it displeas'd a Jonah exceedingly, and he was angry.

2 And he prayed vnto the Lord, and said, I pray thee, O Lord, was not this my saying, when I was yet in my countrey? therefore I yecuted it to flee vnto b Tarshish: for I knew that thou art a gracious God, and mercifull, slowe to anger, and of great kindnesse, and repentest thee of the euill.

3 Therefore now, O Lord, take, I beseech thee, my life: from me: for it is better for me to die then to liue.

4 Then said the Lord, Doest thou well to be d angry?

5 And God said vnto Jonah, I will not doe as thou sayest: for I will spare Ninuech: because I am gracious vnto the citie. And God destroyed Ninuech the next day.

slues to God, h Thus God mercifully reproveth him which would punit himselfe and this gourd, and yet would restraime God to shew his compassion to so many thousand people. i Meaning, that they were children and infants.

e For he doubted as yet whether God would shew them mercie or no: and therefore after fourtie dayes he departed out of the city, looking what issue God would send. f Which was a further meanes, to couer him from the heat of the Sunne, as he remained in his boothe. g This declareth the great inconueniences whereinto Gods seruants doe fall when they giue place to their owne affections, and doe not in all things willingly submit them-a Because hereby he should be taken as a false prophet, and so the Name of God which he preached should be blasphemed. b Reade Chap. 1. 3. c Thus he prayed of griefe, fearing lest Gods Name by this forgueneesse might bee blasphemed, as though hee sent his Prophets sooth to denounce his iudgements in vaine. d Wilt thou be iudge when I do things for my glory, and when I doe not?

Micah.

THE ARGUMENT.

Micah the Prophet of the tribe of Iudah, serued in the worke of the Lord, concerning Iudah and Israel, at the least thirtie yeeres, at what time Isaiah prophesied. He declareth the destruction, first of the one kingdome and then of the other, because of their manifold wickednes, but chiefly for their idolatry. And to this end he noteth the wickednesse of the people, the cruelty of the princes and gouernours, and the permission of the false prophets, and the delighting in them. Then he setteth soorth the comming of Christ, his kingdome, and the felicitie thereof. This Prophet was not that Micah, which resisted Ahab, and all his false prophets, as 1. King, 22. 8. but another of the same name.

C H A P. I.

1 The destruction of Iudah and Israel because of their idolatry.

The word of the Lord, that came vnto Micah the b Borathite in the dayes of Iotham, Ahas, and Hezekiah Kings of Iudah, which hee saue concerning Samaria and Ierusalem.

2 Heare, b all yee people: hearken thou, O earth, and all that therein is, and let the Lord God be witness against you, euen the Lord from his holy Temple.

3 For beholde, the Lozde commeth out of his place, and wil come c down, and tread vpon the hie places of the earth.

4 And the mountaines shall melt vnder him (so shall the valleys cleaue) as water before the fire, and as the waters that are powdered downward.

5 For the wickednesse of Iacob is all this, and for the finnes of the house of Israel: what is the wickednesse of Iacob? Is not d Samaria: and which are the hie c places of Iudah? Is not Ierusalem?

6 Therefore I will make Samaria as an heape of the stieles, and for the planting of a vineyard, and I will cause the stoues thereof to tumble downe into the valley, and I will discouer the foundations thereof.

7 And all the grauen images thereof shall be broken, and all the f gifts thereof shall be their father Iacob. c That is, the idolatry & infection. f Which they gathered by euill practises, and thought that their idoles had enuised them therewith for their seruite vnto them, d Samaria which should haue bene an example to all Israel of true religion, was the puddle and stoues of all idolatry and corruption, and boasted themselves of a Borne in Marathah a citie of Iudah. b Because of the malice and obstinacie of the people whom he had so oft exhorted to repentance, he summoned them to Gods Iudgements, taking all creatures and God himselfe to witness, that at the preaching of his Prophets, which they haue abused shall be reuenged. c Meaning hereby, that God will come to iudgement against the strong cities and holds,

g The gaine that came by their idols, shall be counted as a thing of nought: for as the wages of harlots are wickedly gotten, so are they vilely and speedily spent.

h Lett the Philistims our enemies reioyce at our destruction.

i Which was a citie neere to Ierusalem, Iosh. 18. 23. there called Ophrah, & signifieth dust: therefore he willlert them to mourne, and roule themselves in the dust, for their dustie citie.

k These were cities whereby the enemy should passe as he came to Iudah.

l He shall not depart before he hath ouercome you, and so you shall pay for his taryng.

m For Rabshakeh had shut vp Ierusalem, that they could not send to succour them.

n To flee away: from Saneherib laide siege first to that citie, and remained therein when he sent his captaines and armie against Ierusalem.

o Thou first receivdest the idolatrie of Ieroboam and so diddest infect Ierusalem.

p Thou shalt be the Philistims thy neighbours, but they shall deceiue thee, as well as they of Ierusalem.

q He prophesieth against his owne citie, and because it signified an heritage, hee saith that God would send an heire to possesse it.

r For so they thought themselves for the strength of their citie.

1 Threatning against the wanton and daintie people.

6 They would teach the Prophetes to preach.

WDe vnto them that imagine iniquity, and worke wickednesse vpon their beddes: when the morning is light they practise it, because their hand hath power.

2 And they coner bedes, and take them by violence, & houses, and take them away: so they oppresse a man and his house, euen man and his heritage.

3 Therefore thus sauyeth the Lord, Behold, against this familie base I denised a plague, whereunto yee shall not plucke your necks, and ye shall not goe so proudly, for this time is euill.

4 In that day shall they take by a parable against you, and lament with a dolefull lamentation, and say: Woe bee vnto vs because he hath changed the portion of my people: how hath hee taken it away to restore it vnto mee? he hath dunded our fields, a As soone as they rise, they execute their wicked deuices of the night and according to their power hurt other.

b Thus the Iewes lament, and say, that there is no hope of restitution, seeing their possessions are diuided among the enemies.

burnt with the fire, and all the idols thereof will I destroy: for he gathered it of the hire of an harlot, and they shall returne to the wages of an harlot.

8 Therefore will I mourne and howle: I will goe without clothes, and naked: I will make lamentation like the dragons, and mourning as the sistriches.

9 For her plagues are grievous: for it is come into Iudah: the enemy is come vnto the gate of my people, vnto Ierusalem.

10 Declare yee it not at Gath, neither weep ye: for the house of Aphyrah roule thy selfe in the dust.

11 Thou that dwellest at Shaphir, goe together naked with shame: the that dwelleth at Zaanan, shall not come forth in the mourning of Beth-zel: the enemy shall receiue of you for his standing.

12 For the inhabitant of Baroth watted for good, but euill came from the Lord vnto the gate of Ierusalem.

13 Thou inhabitant of Lachish, binde the chariot to the beastes of price: the beginning of the summe to the daughter of Zion: for the transgressions of Israel were found in thee.

14 Therefore shalt thou giue presents to Hozaieth & Gath: the houses of Achizib shall be as a lie to the kings of Israel.

15 Yet will I bring an heire vnto thee, O inhabitant of Beersheba, hee shall come vnto Adullam, the glory of Israel.

16 Make thee baides: and shau thee for thy delicate children: enlarge thy baldnesse as the egle: for they are gone into captiuitie from thee.

1 substance and liuing, which is Gods blessing, and as it were part of his glorie.

1 Ierusalem shall not be your iategard, but the cause of your destruction.

m That is, shew himselfe to bee a Prophet.

n Hee sheweth what Prophetes they delight in: that is, in flatterers, which tell them pleasant tales, and speake of their commodities.

o To destroy thee.

p The enemy shall breake their gates and walles, and leade them into Caldea.

q To driue them forward, and to helpe their enemies.

CHAP. III.

5 Therefore thou shalt haue none that shall cast a cord by lot, in the congregation of the Lord.

6 They that prophesied, Prophecie ye not. They shall not prophesie to them, neither shall they take shame.

7 Thou that art named the house of Iacob, is the Spirit of the Lord hoyned? are these his workes? are not my workes good vnto him: & that walketh uprightly?

8 But hee that was yesterday my people, is risen vp on the other side, as against an enemy: they speele the beautiful garment from them that passe by peaceably, as though they returned from the warre.

9 The women of my people haue ye cast out from their pleasant houses, and from their children haue ye taken away my glory continually.

10 Arise and depart, for this is not your rest: because it is polluted, it shall destroy you, euen with a sore destruction.

11 If a man walke in the Spirit, and would lie falsely, saying, I will prophesie vnto thee of wine, and of strong drinke, hee shall euen be the Prophet of this people.

12 I will surely gather thee wholly, O Iacob: I will surely gather the remnant of Israel: I will put them together as the sheepe of Bozrah, euen as the stocke in the middes of their folde: the cities shall bee full of brut of the men.

13 The breaker vp shall come before them: they shall breake out and passe by the gate, and goe out by it, and their king shall goe before them, and the Lord shall be vpon their heads.

1 Against the tyrannie of princes and false prophetes.

And I said, Heare, I pray you, O heads of Iacob, and yee princes of the house of Israel: Should not yee knowe iudgement?

2 But they hate the good, and loue the euill: they plucke off their skins from them, and their flesh from their bones.

3 And they rate also the flesh of my people, and flayoff their skinne from them, and they breake their bones, and choppe them in peeces, as for the pot, and as flesh within the caldron.

4 Then shall they cry vnto the Lord, but hee will not heare them: hee will euen hide his face from them: at that time, because they haue done wickedly in their workes.

pareth them to wolves, lions, and most cruell beastes.

e Ye shall haue no more lands to diuide, as you had in times past, and as you vsed to measure them in the Iubile.

d Thus the people wante y<sup>e</sup> Prophetes that they speake to them no more: for they cannot abide their threatenings.

e God saith that they shall not prophesie, nor receiue no more of their retukes nor dunts.

f Are these your workes according to his law?

g Doe not the godly finde my words comfortable?

d They deuoure all their substance, and then flatter them, promising that all shall goe well-but if one restraine from their bellies, then they inuent all wayes to mischief.

e As you haue loued to walke in darknesse and to prophesie lies, so God shall reward you with grosse blindness and ignorance, fo that when all others shall see the bright beams of Gods graces, ye shall as blinde men grope as in the night.

f When God shall discouer them to the world, they shall be afraid to speake: for all shall know that they were but false prophets and did helieth the word of God.

5 Thus saith the Lord, Concerning the prophets that deceiue my people, and bare them with their teeth, and crye Peace, but if a man put not into their monthes, they prepare warre against him.

6 Therefore a night shall be vnto you for a vision, and darknesse shall be vnto you for a diuination, and the sunne shall goe downe ouer the Prophets, and the day shall be darke ouer them.

7 Then shall the Seers be ashamed, and the soothsayers confounded: yea, they shall all coner their lippes, for they haue none answer of God.

8 Per notwithstanding, I am full of power by the Spirit of the Lord, and of iudgement, and of strength to declare vnto Iakob his transgression, and to Israel his sinne.

9 Heare this, I pray you, ye heads of the house of Iakob, and princes of the house of Israel: they abhorre iudgement, and peruert all equitie.

10 They build by Zion with blood, and Jerusalem with iniquitie.

11 The heads thereof iudge for rewards, and the Priests thereof teach for hire, and the Prophets thereof prophesie for money: yet will they beauen upon the Lord, and say, Is not the Lord among vs? no euill can come vpon vs.

12 Therefore shall Zion for your sake be plowed as a field, and Jerusalem shall be an heape, and the mountaine of the house, as the hie places of the forest.

g The Prophet being assured of his vocation by the Spirit of God, setteth himselfe alone against all the wicked, shewing how God both gaue him giftes, ability, and knowledge to discern betweene good and euill, and also constancie to reprove the sinnes of the people, and not to flatter them. h They build them houses by bribes, which he calleth blood and iniquitie. i They will say, that they are the people of God, and abuse his name, as a pretence to cloke their hypocrisie. k Reade Iere. 26. 18.

But in the last dayes it shall come to passe, that the mountaine of the house of the Lord shall be prepared in the toppe of the mountaines, and it shall be exalted aboue the hills, and people shall flow vnto it.

2 Yea, many nations shall come and say, Come, and let vs goe vnto the mountaine of the Lord, and to the house of the God of Iakob, and hee will teach vs his wayes, and wee will walke in his paths: for the Law shall goe forth of Zion, and the word of the Lord from Ierusalem.

3 And hee shall iudge among many people, and rebuke mighty nations afarre off, and they shall breake their words into mattocks, and their speares into scythes: nation shall not lift vp a sword against nation, neither shall they learne to fight any more.

4 But they shall sit every man vnder his vine, and vnder his figge tree, and none shall doe, and exercise themselves in godly life and in well doing to others. a Reade Isa. 2. 4.

a When Christ shall come, and the Temple shall be destroyed. b Reade Isa.

2. 2. c He sheweth that there is no true Church, but whereas the people are taught by Gods pure word. d) By his corrections & threatenings, he will bring the people into subiection, which are in the ymost corners of the world. e They shall abstaine from all euill doing, make them afraid: for the month of the Lord of holtes hath spoken it.

5 For all people will walke in the name of his god, and we will walke in the name of the Lord our God, for euer and euer.

6 At the same day, saith the Lord, will I gather her that halteth, and I will gather her that is cast out, and her that I haue afflicted.

7 And I will make her that halted, a remnant, and her that was cast farre off, a mighty nation: and the Lord shall raigne ouer them in mount Zion, from henceforth euen for euer.

8 And thou, O tower of the flocke, the strong hold of the daughter Zion, vnto thee shall it come, enen the first dominion, and kingdome shall come to the daughter Jerusalem.

9 Now why doest thou crye out with lamentation? is there no king in thee? is thy counsell perished? for sorrow hath taken thee, as a woman in trauaile.

10 Sorrow I mene, O daughter Zion, like a woman in trauaile: for now shalt thou goe forth of the citie, and dwell in the field, and shalt goe into Babel, but there shalt thou be deliuered: there the Lord shall redeeme thee from the hand of thine enemies.

11 Now also many nations are gathered against thee, laying, Zion shall be condemned, and our eye shall looke vpon Zion.

12 But they knowe not the thoughts of the Lord: they vnderstand not his counsell, for he shall gather them as the sheaues in the barn.

13 Arise, and thresh, O daughter Zion: for I will make thee horne iron, and I will make thee thine hoines brass, and thou shalt breake in pieces many people: and I will consecrate their riches vnto the Lord, and their substance vnto the ruler of the whole world.

m He sheweth that the faithfull ought not to measure Gods iudgements by the brags and threatenings of the wicked, but thereby are admonished to lift vp their hearts to God to call for deliuerance. n God giueth his Church victorie, so oft as hee ouercometh their enemies: but the accomplishment hereof shall bee at the last comming of Christ.

1 The destruction of Ierusalem. 2 The excellencie of Beth-lehem.

Now assemble thy garisons, O daughter of garisons: he hath layd siege against vs: they shall smite the Iudge of Israel with a rod vpon the cheek.

2 And thou Beth-lehem Ephrathah, art little to bee among the thousand of Iudah, yet out of thee shall hee come forth vnto mee, that shall bee the ruler in her garisons to trouble others, the Lord would now cause other garisons to vex her, and that her ruers should be smitten on the face most contemptuously. b For to the Iewes diuided their countrey, that for every thousand there was a chiefe captaine: and because Beth-lehem was not able to make a thousand, he called it little, but yet God will raise vp his captaine and gouernour therein: and thus is not the least by reason of this benefite, as Maith 2. 6.

g Hee sheweth that the people of God ought to remaine constant in their religion, albeit all the world should giue them felues to their temptation and idolatrie. h I will cause that Israel, which is now as one lame and halting, and so almost destroyed, shall liue againe, and grow into a great people. i Meaning Ierusalem, where the Lords flocke was gathered. k The flourishing state of the kingdome, as it was vnder David and Salomon, which thing was accomplished to the Church by the comming of Christ.

l In the meane season he sheweth that they should endure great troubles and tentations, when they saw themselves neither to haue king nor counsell.

m He sheweth that the faithfull ought not to measure Gods iudgements by the brags and threatenings of the wicked, but thereby are admonished to lift vp their hearts to God to call for deliuerance. n God giueth his Church victorie, so oft as hee ouercometh their enemies: but the accomplishment hereof shall bee at the last comming of Christ.

a He forewarneth them of the dangers that shall come, before they enjoy these comforts, shewing that Ierusalem was accustomed with her garisons to trouble others, the Lord would now cause other garisons to vex her, and that her ruers should be smitten on the face most contemptuously. b For to the Iewes diuided their countrey, that for every thousand there was a chiefe captaine: and because Beth-lehem was not able to make a thousand, he called it little, but yet God will raise vp his captaine and gouernour therein: and thus is not the least by reason of this benefite, as Maith 2. 6.

c He sheweth that the coming of Christ and all his wayes were appointed of God from all eternitie. d He compareth the Iewes to women with child, who for a time should haue great sorrows, but at length they should haue a comfortable deliverance, Iohn 16. 21.

e That is, Christs Kingdome shall be stable and euerlasting, and his people, as all the Gentiles, as the Iewes shall dwell in safety.

f This Messiah shall be a sufficient safeguard for vs, & though the enemy invade vs for a time, yet shall God sit vp many which shall be able to deliuer vs. g These whom God shall raise vp for vs deliverance of his Church, shall destroy all the enemies thereof, which are meant here by the Assyrians and Babylonians which were the chiefe at that time.

h By these governors wil God deliuer vs when the enemy cometh into our land. i This remnant of Church which God shall deliuer, shall only depend on Gods power and defence, as doth the grasse of the field, and not on the hope of man. k I will destroy all things wherein thou puttest thy confidence, as thy vaine confidence and idolatry, and so will helpe thee.

l It shall be so terrible, that the like hath nor bene heard of.

J Israel: whose goings forth haue bene from the beginning and from euerlasting.

3 Therefore will he giue them by, vntill the time that the which shall heare, shall trauaile: then the remnant of their brethren shall returne vnto the children of Israel.

4 And he shall stand, and feede in the strength of the Lord, and in the maiestie of the name of the Lord his God, and they shall dwell still: for now shall he be magnified vnto the ends of the world.

5 And he shall obteine peace when Asshur shall come into our land: when he shall tread in our palaces, then shall wee raise against him ten thousand shepherds, and eight principall men.

6 And they shall destroy Asshur with the sword, and the land of Nimrod with their swords: thus shall he deliuer vs from Asshur, when hee cometh into our land, and when hee shall tread within our borders.

7 And the remnant of Jaakob shall be among the people, as a dewe from the Lord, as a as the flowers vpon the grasse, that waiteth not for man, nor hopeth in the soules of Adam.

8 And the remnant of Jaakob shall be among the Gentiles, in the middes of many people, as the lyon among the beasts of the forest, and as the Lyons whelp among the flocks of sheepe, who when he is gored thowow, treadeth downe and teareth in peeces, and none can deliuer.

9 Thine hand shall be lift vp vpon thine aduersaries, and all thine enemies shall be cut off.

10 And it shall come to passe in that day, saith the Lord, that I will cut off thine hopes out of the middes of thee, and I will destroy thy charites.

11 And I will cut off the cities of thy land, and ouerthrow all thy strong holds.

12 And I will cut off thine enchanters out of thine hand: and thou shalt haue no more soothsayers.

13 Thine idoles also will I cut off, and thine images out of the middes of thee: and thou shalt no more worship the worke of thine hands.

14 And I will plucke by the groues out of the middes of thee: so will I destroy thine enemies.

15 And I will execute a vengeance in my wrath and indignation vpon the heathen, which they haue not heard.

of the second table, to know if they will obey God aright or no, saying, that God hath prescribed them to do this. h Meaning, that when God speaketh to any city or nation, the godly wil acknowledge his Maiestie, & consider not the mortal man that bringeth the threatening, but God that sendeth it. i That is, of Ierusalem. k Thou shalt be consumed with inward griefe and euils. l Meaning, that the citie should goe about to saue her men, as they that lay hold on that which they would preserve. m You haue recieued all the corruption and idolatry, wherewith the ten tribes were infected vnder Omri and Ahab his sonne: and to excuse your doings, you alledge the kings vnicritie by his statutes, and also wisdom and policie in so doing, but you shall not escape punishment, but as I haue shewed you great fauour, and taken you for my people, so shall your plagues be accordingly, Luk. 12. 47.

CHAP. VI.

An exhortation to the dum creatures to heare the iudgement against Israel being vniuersall. 6 What manner of sacrifices do please God

Hearken ye now what the Lord saith. Write thou, and contend for the innocents, and let the hills heare thy voyce.

a He taketh the high mountaines, and hard rocks to witness against the obstinacie of his people.

2 Heate ye, O mountaines, the Lords quarrell, and ye mightie foundations of the earth: for the Lord hath a quarrell against his people, and he will plead with Israel.

3 O my people, what haue I done vnto thee: or wherein haue I grieued thee? testify against me.

4 Surely I brought thee vp out of the land of Egypt, and redeemed thee out of the house of seruants, and I haue sent before thee Moses, Aaron, and Huriam.

5 O my people, remember now what Balak king of Moab had denied, and what Balaam the sonne of Beor answered him, from Spirit vnto Gilgal, that ye may know the righteousnesse of the Lord.

6 Wherewith shall I come before the Lord, and bow my selfe before the hie God? Shall I come before him with burnt offerings, and with calves of a yeere old?

7 Will the Lord be pleased with thousands of rammes, or with ten thousand riuers of oyle? shall I giue my first borne for my transgression, euen the fruite of my body for the sinne of my soule?

8 He hath shewed thee, O man, what is good, and what the Lord requireth of thee: surely to doe iustly, and to loue mercie, and to humble thy selfe, to walke with thy God.

9 The Lords voyce crieth vnto the citie, and the man of wisdom shall see thy name: heare the rod, and who hath appointed it.

10 Are yet the treasures of wickednesse in the house of the wicked, and the scant measure that is abominable?

11 Shall I iustifie the wicked balances, and the bag of deceitfull weights?

12 For the rich men: i thereof are full of crueltye, and the inhabitants thereof haue spoken lies, and their tongue is deceitfull in their mouth.

13 Therefore also will I make thee sicke in limiting thee, and in making thee desolate, because of thy finnes.

14 Thou shalt eat and not be satisfied, and thou shalt cast downe shall be in the middes of thee, and thou shalt take hold, but shalt not deliuer: and that which thou deliuerest, will I giue by the sword.

15 Thou shalt sowe, but not reape: thou shalt tread the olives, but thou shalt not annoint: thee with oyle: and make sweete wine, but shalt not drinke wine.

16 For the statutes of Omri are kept, b I haue not lured thee, but bellowed: I desire benefits vpon thee.

c That is, remember thy benefits from the beginning, how I deliuered you from Balams curse, and also spared you from Shittim, which was in the plaine of Moab, till I brought you into the land promised.

d That is, the truth of his promise, and his manifold benefits toward you.

e Thus the people by hypocritic aske how to please God, and are content to offer sacrifices, but will not change their liues.

f There is nothing so deare to man, but the hypocrites will offer it vnto God, if they thinke thereby to auoid his anger: but they will neuer be brought to mortifie their owne affections, and to giue themselves willingly to serue God as he commandeth.

g The Prophet in fewe words calleth them to the obseruation and all the manner of the house of Ahab, and ye walke in their counsels, that I should make thee waste, and the inhabitant thereof: of an hill: therefore ye shall beare the reproch of my people.

C H A P. VII.

1 A complaint for the small number of the righteous. 4 The wickedness of those times. 14 The prosperitie of the Church.

WDe is me, for I am as the Summer gathering; and as the grapes of the vine; there is no cluster to eat: my soule desired the first ripe fruits.

2 The good man is perished out of the earth, and there is none righteous among men: they all lie in waite for blood: every man hunteth his brother with a net.

3 To make good for the evil of their hands, the prince asked, and the Judge iudgeth for a reward: therefore the great man he speaketh out the corruption of his soule: so they wrap it up.

4 The best of them is as a bribe, and the most righteous of them is sharper then a thorne hedge: the day of thy wrathme and thy visitation cometh: then shall be their confusion.

5 Trust ye not in a friend, neither put ye confidence in a counsellor: keepe the doores of thy mouth from her that lieth in thy bosome.

6 For the soune revileth the father: the daughter riseth up against her mother: the daughter in law against her mother in law, and a mans enemies are the men of his owne house.

7 Therefore I will looke vnto the Lord: I will wait for God my Saviour: my God will heare me.

8 Reioyce not against me, mine enemy: though I fall, I shall arise: when I shall sit in darkness, the Lord shall a light vnto me.

9 I will beare the wrath of the Lord, because I have sinned against him, vntill he plead my cause, and execute iudgement for me: then will he bring me forth to the light, and I shall see his righteousnesse.

12 In this day also they shall come vnto thee from Aihur, and from the strong cities and from the strong holds euen vnto the riuer, and from sea to sea, and from mountaine to mountaine.

13 Notwithstanding, the land shall be desolate because of them that dwell therein, and for the fruits of their taunitions.

14 Feed thy people with thy rodde, the flocke of thine heritage (which dwell solitary in the wood) as in the mids of Carmel: let them feede in Bashan and Gilead, as in olde time.

15 According to the dayes of thy coming out of the land of Egypt will I shewe vnto him marvellous things.

16 The nations shall see, and be confounded for all their power: they shall lay their hand vpon their mouth: their eares shall be deafe.

17 They shall like the dust like a serpent: they shall moue out of their holes like womnes: they shall be afraid of the Lord our God, and shall feare because of thee.

18 Who is a God like vnto thee, that taketh away iniquitie, and passeth by the transgression of the remnant of his heritage: he retaineth not his wrath for euer, because mercy pleaseh him.

19 He will turne, againe, and haue compassion vpon vs: he will luddue our iniquities, and cast all their innes into the bottom of the sea.

Nahum.

THE ARGVMENT.

AS they of Nineueh shewed themselves prompt and ready to receiue the word of God at Ionahs preaching, and so turned to the Lord by repentance: so after a certaine time rather giving themselves to worldly meanes to increase their dominion, then seeking to continue in the feare of God, and trade wherein they had begun, they cast off the care of Religion, & so returned to their vomite, and prouoked Gods iust iudgement against them in afflicting his people. Therefore their citie Nineueh was destroyed, and Mercho-baladan King of Babel (or as some thinke Nebuehad nezzar) enioyed the Empire of the Assyrians, But because God hath a continuall care of his Church, he stirreth vp his Prophet to comfort the godly, shewing that the destruction of their enemies should be for their consolation. And as it seemeth he prophesied about the time of Hezekiah, and not in the time of Manasse his sonne, as the Iewes write,

4 He rebuketh the ſea, and drieth it, and he drieth vp all the riuers: Baſhan is waſted and Carmel, and the floure of Lebanon is waſted.

THE ARGUMENT.

The Prophet complaineth vnto God, considering the great felicitie of the wicked, and the miserable oppression of the godly, which endure all kind of affliction and cruelty, and yet can see none end. Therefore he had this reuelation shewed him of God, that the Caldeans should come and take them away captiues, so that they could looke for none end of their trouble, as yet, because of their stubbornesse and rebellion aginst the Lord, And lest the godly should despair, seeing this horrible confusion, he comforteth them by this, that God will punish the Caldeans their enemies, when their pride and cruelty shall abate in height: wherefore he exhorte the faithfull to patience by his owne example, and sheweth them a forme of prayer, where with they should comfort themselves.

CHAP. I.

2 A complaint against the wicked that persecute the iust.

The burden which Habakkuk
the Prophet did see.

2 O Lord, how long shall I cry, and thou wilt not heare:
I encry out vnto thee: for violence, and thou wilt not helpe!

3 Why dost thou shew me iniquity, and cause me to behold sorow? for spoiling, and violence are before me: and there are that raffe by strife and contention.

4 Therefore the Lawe is dissolved, and iudgement doth neuer go forth: for the wicked doeth compassie about the righteous:

therefore wrong iudgement proceedeth.

5 Beholde among the heathen, and regard, and wonder, and maruile: for I will worke a worke in your dayes: yete will not believe it, though it be told you.

6 For loe, I raise vp the Caldeans, that bitter and furious nation, which shall go vpon the breadth of the land to possesse the dwelling places, that are not theirs.

past you would not beleue Gods word, so shall ye not now beleue the strange plagues which are at hand.

him if any should cause.

iustices which should redresse
this excess, are as

2 A vision 5 against pride, couetousnesse, drunkennesse, and idolatry.

Will stand vpon my watch, and let mee vpon the towne, and will looke & see what hee would say vnto me, and what I shall answer to him that rebuketh me.

2 And the Lord answered mee, and said, Write the vision, and make it plaine vpon tables, that hee may runne: & that readeth it.

3 For the vision is yet for an appointed time, but at the last it shall speake, and not lie: though it tarie, waite: for it shall surely come, and shall not faile.

10 And they shall mocke the kings, and the Princes shall be a scoime vnto them: they shall deride euery strong hold: for they shall gather dust, and take it.

11 Then shall they take a courage, and reanresse and doe wickedly, impuing this their power vnto their god.

13 Thou art of pure eyes, & canst not see evil: thou canst not behold wickednesse: wherefore doest thou looke vpon the transgressors, and holdest thy tongue, when the wicked denouret the man that is more righteous then he?

THE ARGUMENT.

Seeing the great rebellion of the people, and that there was now no hope of amendment, hee denounceth the great iudgement of God which was at hand, shewing that their country should be utterly destroyed, and they cailed away captiues by the Babylonians. Yet for the comfort of the faithfull, hee prophesied of Gods vengeance against their enemies, as the Philistims, Moabites, Assyrians and others, to assure them that God had a continually care ouer them. And as the wicked should bee punished for their sinnes and transgressions: so hee exhorteth the godly to patience, and to trust to finde mercie by reason of the free promises of God made vnto Abraham: and therefore quietly to abide till God shew them the effect of that grace, whereby in the ende they should bee gathered vnto him, and counted as his people and children.

11 The Lord will be terrible vnto them, for he wil consume at the gods of the earth, and euery man shall worship him from his place, euen all the yles of the heathen.

12 The Boians also shall be slaine by my sword with them.

13 And hee will stretch out his hand against the North, and destroy Assyrie, and will make Mesuech desolate, and waste like a wilderness.

14 And flockes shall lie in the middes of her, and all the beastes of the nations, and the pellicane, and the owle shall abide in the upper postes of it: the voyce of birdes shall sing in the windows, and desolations shall be vpon the postes: for the cedars are vnconquered.

3 Her princes within her are as roaring lions: her Judges are as wolues in the evening, which leaue not the bones till the morrow.

4 Her prophets are light, & wicked persons: her priests haue polluted the sanctuarie: they haue wrested the Law.

5 The iust Lord is in the middes thereof: hee will doe none iniquitie: euery morning doeth hee bring his iudgement to light, hee faileth not: but the wicked will not learne to be ashamed.

6 I haue cut off the nations: their towers are desolate: I haue made their streets waste, that none shall passe by: their cities are destroyed without man and without inhabitant.

7 I said, Surely thou wilt feare me: thou wilt receiue instruction: so that dwelling should not be destroyed, howsoeuer I visited

8 Therefore I wait ye vpon me, saith the Lord, vntill the day that I rise vp to the praye: for I am determined to gather the nations, and that I will assemble the kingdoms to powze vpon them mine indignation, euen all my fierce wrath: for all the earth shall be deuoured with the fire of my ielousie.

19 Behold, at that time I will visite all that afflict thee, and I will saue her that halteth, and gather her that was cast out, and I will get them praye and fame in all the lands of their shame.

20 At that time will I bring you againe, and then will I gather you: for I will giue you a name and praye among all people of the earth, when I turne backe your captiuitie before your eyes, saith the Lord.

Haggai.

THE ARGUMENT.

When the time of the leuentic yeres captiuitie, prophesied by Ieremiah, was expired, God raised vp Haggai, Zechariah, and Malachi to comfort the Iewes, and to exhort them to the building of the Temple, which was figure of the spirituall Temple and Church of God, whose perfection and excellencie stood in Christ, And because that all were giuen to their owne pleasures and commodities, hee declareth that that plague of famine, which God sent among them, was a iust rewarde of their ingratitude, in that they contemned Gods honour, who had deliuered them. Yet he comforteth them, if they will returne to the Lord, with the promise of greater felicitie, forasmuch as the Lorde will finish the worke that hee hath begun, and send Christ whom hee had promised, and by whome they should attaine to perfect ioy and glory.

CHAP. I.

The time of the Propheste of Haggai. 8 An exhortation to build the Temple againe.

In the seconde yere of King Darius, in the first moneth, the first day of the moneth, came the word of the Lord (by the ministrie of the Prophet Haggai) vnto Zerubbabel the sonne of Shealtiel, a prince of Iudah, and to Iehoshua the sonne of Iehozadak, the hie Priest, saying,

2 Thus speaketh the Lord of hostes, saying, This people say, The time is not yet come, that the Lordes house should be builded.

3 Then came the word of the Lord by the ministrie of the Prophet Haggai, saying,

4 Is it time for your selues to dwell in your siled houses, & this house lie waste?

5 Now therefore thus saith the Lord of hostes, Consider your owne wayes in your hearts.

6 Pee haue sown much, and bring in little: yee eate, but yee haue not enough: yee drinke, but yee are not warme: and yee eat earnest wayes, putteth the wages into a broken bag.

7 Thus saith the Lord of hostes, Consider your owne wayes in your hearts.

8 Goe vp to the mountaine, and bring wood, and build this house, and I will bee fauourable in it, and I will bee glorified, saith the Lord.

9 Yee looked for much, and loe, it came to little: and when yee brought it home, I did blowe vpon it. And why, saith the Lord of hostes? because of mine house that is waste, and yee runne euery man vnto his owne house.

10 Therefore the heauen ouer you stayed it selfe from deaw, and the earth it ayed her fruit.

11 And I called for a drought vpon the land, and vpon the mountaines, and vpon the corne, and vpon the wine, and vpon the oile, vpon all that the ground bringeth forth: both vpon men and vpon cattell, and vpon all the labour of the hands.

12 When Zerubbabel the sonne of Shealtiel, and Iehoshua the sonne of Iehozadak the hie Priest with all the remnant of the people, heard the voyce of the Lorde their God, and the wordes of the Prophet Haggai (as y<sup>e</sup> Lord their God had sent him) then the people did feare before the Lord.

13 Then spake Haggai the Lords messenger, saying, I am with you, saith the Lord.

14 And the Lord stirred vp the spirit of Zerubbabel, the sonne of Shealtiel a prince of Iudah, and the spirit of Iehoshua the sonne of Iehozadak the hie Priest, and the spirit of all the remnant of the people, and they came, and did the worke in the house of the Lorde of hosts their God.

CHAP. II.

He sheweth that the glory of the second Temple shall exceede the first.

In the foure and twentieth day of the first moneth, in the second yere of king Darius,

2 In the leuentic moneth, in the one and twentieth day of the moneth, came the word of the Lord by the ministrie of the Prophet Haggai, saying,

3 Speake now to Zerubbabel the sonne of Shealtiel prince of Iudah, and to Iehoshua the sonne of Iehozadak the hie Priest, and to the residue of the people, saying,

4 Who is left among you, that saw this house in her first glory, and how doe you seee it now? Is it not in your eyes, in comparison of it as nothing?

5 Yet now here of good courage, O Zerubbabel, sayeth the Lorde, and he of good comfort, O Iehoshua, sonne of Iehozadak the hie Priest: and be strong all ye people of the land, saith the Lord, and doe it: for I am with you, saith the Lord of hostes.

6 According to the word that I cōmmanded with you, when yee came out of Egypt: so my spirit shall remaine among you, feare ye not.

7 For thus sayeth the Lorde of hostes, Yet a litle while, and I will shake the heauens, and the earth, and the sea, and the dry land:

them to patience, though they seee not as yet this Temple so glorious as the Prophet had declared: for this should bee accomplished in Christ, by whom all things should be renewed.

k This declared that God was the author of the doctrine, and that he was but the minister, as Exod. 14. 31. Iud. 7. 20. Acts 15. 28. l Which declareth that men are vnapt and dull to serue the Lord, neither can they obey his word or his messengers before God reforme their hearts, and giue them new spirits, Iohn 6. 44.

a Who was the sonne of Hystaspis, and the third king of the Persians, as some thinke, b Because the building of the Temple began to cease by reason that the people were discouraged by their enemies: and if these two notable men had need to be stirred vp and admonished of their duties, what shall we thinke of other gouernours, whose doings are either against God, or very cold in his cause? c Not that they condemned the building thereof, but they preferred policie, and private profit to religion, being content with small beginnings, d Shewing that they sought not onely their necessities, but their very pleasures before Gods honour, e Consider the plagues of God vpon you for preferring your policie to his religion, and because yee seeke not him first, f Meaning, that they should leaue off their owne commodities, and goe forward in the building of Gods Temple, and in the setting forth of his religion, g That is, I will heare your prayers according to my promise, 1. King. 8. 21. 29, h That is, my glory shall be set forth by you, i And so bring it to nothing.

a For the people according as Isa. 32. 11. and Ezek. 41. 3. had prophesied, thought: this Temple should haue bene more excellent then Salomons Temple, which was destroyed by the Babylonians, but the Prophets meant the spirituall Temple the Church of Christ, b That is, go forward in building the Temple, c He exhorted d Meaning Christ, whom all ought to looke for and desire or by desire, hee may signifie all precious things, as riches and such like.

e Therefore when his time cometh, he can make all the treasures of the world to serue his purpose: but the glory of this second Temple doeth not stand in material things, neither can be built.

f Meaning, all spirituall blessings and felicitie purchased by Christ, Phil. 4. 7. g That is, the flesh of the sacrifices: whereby he signifieth that that thing, which of it self is good, cannot make an other thing so: and therefore they ought not to iustifie themselves by their sacrifices and ceremonies: but contrary, hee that is vnclene and not pure of heart, doeth corrupt those things, and make them detestable vnto God, which else are good and godly. h Consider how God did plague you with famine afore you began to build the Temple.

8 And I will moue all nations, and<sup>d</sup> the desire of all nations shall come, and I will fill this house with glory, sayeth the Lord of hostes.

9 The silver is mine, and the golde is mine, sayeth the Lord of hostes.

10 The glory of this last house shall be greater then the first, sayeth the Lord of hostes: and in this place will I giue peace, sayeth the Lord of hostes.

11 In the foure and twentieth day of the ninth moneth, in the second yeere of Darius, came the word of the Lord vnto the Prophet Haggai, saying,

12 Thus sayeth the Lord of hostes, Aske now the priests concerning the Law, and say, 13 If one beare a holy flesh in the skirt of his garment, and with his skirt doe touch the bread, or the portraie, or the wine, or oyle, or any meat, shall it be holy? and the Priests answered, and sayd, No.

14 Then said Haggai, If a polluted person touch any of these, shall it bee vnclene? And the Priests answered, and said, It shall bee vnclene.

15 Then answered Haggai, and said, So is this people, and so is this nation before me, saith the Lord: and so are all the workes of their hands, and that which they offer here is vnclene.

16 And now, I pray you, consider in your mindes: from this day, and afore, euen afore a stone was layed vpon a stone in the Temple of the Lord:

17 Before these things were, when one came to an heape of twentie measures, there were but tenne: when one came to the wine presse for to draw out fiftie vessels out of the presse, there were but twentie.

18 I smote you with blasting, and with mitew, and with haile, in all the labours of your hands: yet you turned not to mee, saith the Lord.

19 Consider I pray you, in your mindes, from this day, and afore from the foure and twentieth day of the ninth moneth, euen from the day that the foundation of the Lords Temple was laid: consider it in your mindes.

20 Is the seed yet in the barne? as yet the vine, and the fig tree, and the pomegranate, and the olive tree hath not brought forth: from this day will I blesse you.

21 And againe the word of the Lord came vnto Haggai in the foure and twentieth day of the moneth, saying,

22 Speake to Zerubbabel the prince of Iudah, and say, I will shake the heauens and the earth,

23 And I will overthrowe the throne of kingdomes, and I will destroy the strength of the kingdoms of the heathen, and I will overthrowe the charers, and those that ride in them, and the horse and the riders shall come downe, euery one by the sword of his brother.

24 In that day, saith the Lord of hostes, will I take thee, O Zerubbabel my seruant the sonne of Shealtiel, saith the Lord, and will make thee as a signet: for I haue chosen thee, saith the Lord of hostes.

his his dignity should be most excellent, which is fulfilled in Christ.

i That is, before the building was begun, k From the time they began to build the Temple, he promisseth that God would blesse them: and albeit as yet the fruit was noe come forth, yet in the gathering they should haue plentie.

l He exhorteth them to patience and to abide till the harvest came, and then they should see Gods blessings.

m I will make a change, and renew all things in Christ of whom Zerubbabel here is a figure.

n Hereby hee sheweth that there shall be no let or hinderance when God will make this wonderful restitution of his Church.

THE ARGUMENT.

Two moneths after that Haggai had begun to prophesie, Zechariah was also sent of the Lord to helpe him in the labour, and to confirme the same doctrine. First therefore he putteth them in remembrance for what cause God had so fore punished their fathers; and yet comforteth them, if they will repent vnfaiedly, and not abuse this great benefite of God in their deluerance, which was a figure of that true deliuerance, that all the faithfull should haue, from death and sinne, by Christ. But because they still remained in their wickednesse and coldnesse: to set forth Gods glory and were not yet made better by their long banishment, he rebuketh them most sharply: yet for the comfort of the repentant, he cuer mixeth the promise of grace, that they might by this meanes be prepared to receiue Christ, in whom all should be sanctified to the Lord.

CHAP. I.

1 Hee exhorteth the people to returne to the Lord, and to eschew the wickednesse of their fathers. 16 He signifieth the restitution of Ierusalem and the Temple.

In the eight moneth of the second yeere of Darius came the woide of the Lord vnto Zechariah the sonne of Berechiah, the sonne of Iddo, the Prophet, saying, a Who was the sonne of Hysaspis.

b This was not that Zechariah, whereof is mention, 2. Chro. 24. 10. but had the same name, and is called the sonne of Berechiah, as hee was, because he came of those progenitors, as of Ioiada or Berechiah and Iddo.

2 The Lord hath bene sore displeas'd with your fathers.

3 Therefore say thou vnto them, Thus sayeth the Lord of hostes, Turne ye vnto mee, sayeth the Lord of hostes, and I will turne vnto you, sayeth the Lord of hostes.

4 Be ye not as your fathers, vnto whom punished. d Let your fruites declare, that you are Gods people, and that he hath wrought in you by his Spirit, and mortified you: for els man hath no power to returne to God, but God must conuert him, as Ierem. 31. 18. Lament. 5. 21. Isaiah 21. 8. and 31. 6. and 45. 21.

the Iere. 3. 12. 27. 28. 30. hose. 14. 2. 2uel. 2. 12.

c Though your fathers be dead, yet Gods iudgements in punishing them ought still to be before your eyes: and though the prophets be dead, yet their doctine remaineth for euer, 2 Pet. 1. 19.

f Seeing ye saw the force of my doctine in punishing your fathers, why doe not ye feare the threatenings contained in y same, and declared by my Prophets?

g As men astonished with my iudgements, and not that they were touched with true repentance. h Which contenech part of Ianuarie and part of Februarie.

i This vision signifieth the restauration of the Church, but as yet it should not appeare to mans eyes, which is here ment by the night, by the botome and by the myrre trees, which are blacke and giue a darke shadow: yet he compareth God to a king, who hath his postes and messengers abroad, by whom he still woorketh his purpose, and bringeth his matters to passe.

k Who was the chiefe among the rest of the horsemen. l These signified the diuers offices of Gods

Angels, by whom God sometime punisheth and sometime comforteth, and bringeth forth his workes in diuers sorts. m That is,

Christ the Mediatour prayed for the saluation of his Church, which was now troubled when all the countreys about them were at rest.

the * former Prophets haue cryed, saying, Thus sayeth the Lord of hostes, Turne you nowe from your euill wayes, and from your wicked workes: but they would not heare, nor hearken vnto me, sayeth the Lord.

5 Your fathers, where are they? and do the Prophets liue for euer?

6 But did not my wordes and my seruants, which I commanded by my seruants the Prophets, take holde of your fathers? And as they returned, and said, As the Lord of hostes hath determined to doe vnto vs, according to our owne wayes, and according to our workes, so hath hee dealt with vs.

7 Upon the foure and twentieth day of the eleuenth moneth, which is the moneth Shebat, in the second yeere of Darius, came the word of the Lord vnto Zechariah the sonne of Berechiah, the sonne of Iddo the Prophet, saying,

8 I saw by night, and beholde a man riding vpon a red horse, and he stood among the myrre trees that were in a bottoine, and behinde him were three red horses speckled and white.

9 Then said I, O my Lord, What are these? And the Angel that talked with mee, said vnto mee, I will shew thee what these be.

10 And the man that stood among the myrre trees, answered and said, These are they whom the Lord hath sent to go thorow the world.

11 And he answered the Angel of the Lord, that stood among the myrre trees, and said, Alce haue gone thorow the world: and behold, all the world sitteth still, and is at rest.

12 Then the Angel of the Lord answered, and said, O Lord of hostes, how long wilt thou be vnnmercifull to Jerusalem, and to the cities of Iudah, with whom thou hast bene displeas'd now theise threecore and ten yeeres?

13 And the Lord answered the Angel that talked with me, with good words and comfortable words.

14 So the Angel that communed with mee, said vnto mee, Crie thou, and speake, Thus saith the Lord of hostes, I am a teiour ouer Jerusalem and Zion with a great zeale.

15 And I was greatly angry against the careless heathen: for I was angry but a little, and they helped forward the affliction.

k Who was the chiefe among the rest of the horsemen. l These signified the diuers offices of Gods

Angels, by whom God sometime punisheth and sometime comforteth, and bringeth forth his workes in diuers sorts. m That is,

Christ the Mediatour prayed for the saluation of his Church, which was now troubled when all the countreys about them were at rest.

n Though for a time God deferre his helpe and comfort from his Church, yet this declareth that hee loneth them still most dearly, as a most mercifull father his children, or an husband his wife, and when it is expedient for them, his helpe is euer ready. o In destroying the reprobate, I shewed my selfe but a little angry toward my Church, but the enemy would haue destroyed them also, and considered not the end of my chastisements.

16 Therefore thus saith the Lord, I will returne vnto Jerusalem with tender mercy: mine house shall be builded in it, sayeth the Lord of hostes, and a line shall be stretched vpon Jerusalem.

17 Crie yet, and speake, Thus saith the Lord of hostes, By cities shall yet a bee broken with plentie: the Lord shall yet comfozt Zion, and shall yet chuse Jerusalem.

18 Then lift I by mine eyes, and sawe, and beholde, foure hornes.

19 And I said vnto the Angel that talked with me, What be these? And he answered me, These are the hornes which haue scattered Iudah, Isteat, and Jerusalem.

20 And the Lord shewed mee foure carpenters.

21 Then said I, What come these to doe? And hee answered, and sayd, These are the hornes, which haue scattered Iudah, so that a man durst not lift vp his head: but these are come to fray them, and to cast out the hornes of the Gentiles, which lift vp their horne ouer the land of Iudah to scatter it.

are Gods instruments, which with their mallets and hammers break these hard and strong hornes, which would overthrow the Church, and declare that none enemies horne is so strong, but God hath an hammer to breake it in pieces.

CHAP. II.

The restoring of Jerusalem and Iudah.

1 Lift by mine eyes againe and looked, and beholde, a man with a measuring line in his hand.

2 Then said I, Whither goest thou? And hee said vnto mee, To measure Jerusalem, that I may see what is the bredth thereof, and what is the length thereof.

3 And beholde, the Angel that talked with mee, went fourth: and another Angel went out to meet him,

4 And said vnto him, Runne, speake to this young man, and say, Jerusalem shall be inhabited without walles, for the multitude of men and cattell therein.

5 For I, saith the Lord, will be vnto her a wall of fire round about, and will be the glory in the mids of her.

6 Ho, ho, come fourth, and see from the land of the North, saith the Lord: for I haue scattered you into the foure windes of the heauen, saith the Lord.

7 Saue thy selfe, O Zion, that dwellest with the daughter of Babel.

8 For thus saith the Lord of hostes, After this a glory hath he sent me vnto the nations, which spoiled you: for hee that toucheth among all their enemies. d To defend my Church, to feare the enemies, and to destroy them if they approach neere. e In me they shall haue their full felicitie and glory. f Hee calleth to them, which partly for feare, and partly for their owne ease remained still in captiuitie, and so preferred their owne priuate commodities to the benefis of God promised in his Church. g As it was I that scattered you, so haue I power to restore you. h By fleeing from Babylon, and coming to the Church. i Seeing that God hath begun to shew his grace among you by deliuering you, hee continueth the same still toward you, and therefore sendeth mee his Angel and his which should be extended by the Gospel thorow all the world, and should neede no materiall walles, nor trust in any worldly strength, but should be safely preferred, and dwell in peace among all their enemies.

d To defend my Church, to feare the enemies, and to destroy them if they approach neere.

 11 And many nations shall bee ioyned to the Lord in that day, and shall be my people: and I will dwell in the middes of thee, and thou shalt know that the Lord of hostes hath sent me vnto thee.

k That is, the Angels who represented the whole number of the faithful: signifying, that all the godly should willingly receiue him.
 l Because they follow my word, they are contented in the world, and esteemed as monsters, Isa. 8. 18.

Christ, who being God equall with his Father, was sent as he was Mediatour to dwell in his Church, and to gouerne the n.

CHAP. III.

A prophetic of Christ, and of his kingdom.

a He prayed to Christ the Mediator for the state of the Church.
 b Which declareth that the faithful haue not onely warre with flesh and blood, but with Satan himselfe and spiritual wickedneses, Ephel. 6. 12.
 c That is, Christ speaketh to God as the Mediator of his Church, that he would rebuke Satan: and here he sheweth himselfe to be the continual preferer of his Church.
 d Meaning, that Iehoshua was wonderfully preserved in the captiuitie, and now Satan sought to afflict and trouble him, when hee was doing his office.
 e In respect of the glorious garments, and the precious stones that the Priests did weare before the captiuitie: and by this contempible state the Prophet signifieth that these smal beginnings should be made excellent when Christ shall make the full restitution of his Church.
 f He sheweth of what appaerance he speaketh, which is, when our filthie sinnes are taken away, and we are clad with Gods mercies, which is meant of the spiritual restitution.
 g The Prophet prayeth, that besides the raiment, the Priest might also haue tyre for his head accordingly, that is, that the dignitie of the Priesthood might be perfect: and this was fulfilled in Christ, who was both Priest and King: and here all such are condemned that can content themselves with any meane reformation in religion, seeing the Prophet desireth the perfection, and obtaineth it.
 h That is, haue rule and gouernment in my Church, as thy predecessours haue had.
 i Whereby hee meaneth, to haue the whole charge and ministry of the Church.

AND hee shewed mee Iehoshua the high Priest, standing before the Angel of the Lord, and <sup>b</sup> Satan stood at his right hand to resist him.
 2 And the <sup>c</sup> Lord said vnto Satan, The Lord reproboue thee, O Satan: euen the Lord that hath chosen Ierusalem, reproboue thee. Is not this a <sup>d</sup> brand taken out of the fire?
 3 Now Iehoshua was clothed with filthie garments, and stood before the Angel.
 4 And he answered and spake vnto those that stood before him, saying, Take away the <sup>e</sup> filthie garments from him. And vnto him hee said, Behold, I haue caused thine iniquitie to depart from thee, and I will clothe thee with change of raiment.
 5 And I said, Let them see a faire diademe vpon his head. So they set a faire diademe vpon his head, and clothed him with garments, and the Angel of the Lord stood by.
 6 And the Angel of the Lord testified vnto Iehoshua, saying,
 7 Thus saith the Lord of hostes, If thou wilt walke in my wayes, and keepe my watch, thou shalt also <sup>g</sup> iudge mine house, and shalt also keepe my courts, and I will m That is, Christ, who did so humble himselfe, that not onely hee became the seruant of God, but also the seruant of men: and therefore in him they should haue comfort, although in the world they were contemned, Ma. 11. 1. iere. 2. 3. 5. and. 33. 14, 15.

 n He sheweth that the ministers cannot build, before God lay the first stone, which is Christ, who is full of eyes, both because he giueth sight vnto all others, and that all ought to seeke light at him, Chap. 4. 10.
 o That is, I will make it perfect in all points, as a thing wrought by the hand of God.

CHAP. IIII.

The vision of the golden candlestick, and the exposition thereof.

AND the Angel that talked with mee, A came againe and waked mee, as a man that is raised out of his sleepe,
 2 And said vnto mee, What seest thou? and I said, I haue looked, and beholde, a <sup>a</sup> candlesticke all of gold, with a bowle vpon the top of it, and his seuen lampes therein, and seuen <sup>b</sup> pipes to the lampes, which were vpon the top thereof.
 3 And two olive trees ouer it, one vpon the right side of the bowle, and the other vpon the left side thereof.
 4 So I answered, and spake to the Angel that talked with mee, saying, What are these, my Lord?
 5 Then the Angel that talked with me, answered and said vnto me, Knowest thou not what these bee? And I sayd, No, my Lord.
 6 Then he answered and spake vnto me, saying. This is the word of the Lord vnto <sup>c</sup> Zerubbabel, saying, Neither by <sup>d</sup> an armie nor strength, but by my Spirit, sayth the Lord of hostes.
 7 Who art thou, O <sup>e</sup> great mountaine, before Zerubbabel? though thou be a plaine, and <sup>f</sup> hee shall bring forth the head stone a Which was euen in the mids of the Temple, signifying that the grace of Gods spirit should shine there in most abundance, and in all perfection.

 b Which conueyed the oyle that dropped from the trees into the lampes, so that the light neuer failed: and this vision was to confirme the faithful, y God had sufficient power in himselfe to continue his graces, and to bring his promise to passe, though hee had no helpe of man.

c Who was a figure of Christ, and therefore this doctrine was directed to all the Church who are his body and members.
 d Hee sheweth that Gods power onely is sufficient to preserve his Church, though hee see not mans helpe thereunto.
 e Hee compareth the power of the aduersaries to a great mountaine, who thought the Iewes nothing in respect of them, and would haue hindered Zerubbabel, who represented Christ, whom the enemies dayly labour to let in the building of his spiritual Temple, but all in vaine.
 f Though the enemies thinke to stay this building, yet Zerubbabel shall lay the highest stone thereof, and bring it to perfection, so that all the godly shall reioyce, and pray vnto God that hee would continue his grace and fauour toward the Temple, thereof,

thereof, with shoutings, crying, Grace, grace vnto it.

8 Moreover the word of the Lord came vnto me, saying,

9 The handes of Zerubbabel haue layd the foundation of this house: his hands shall also finish it, and s thou shalt know that the Lord of hostes hath sent me vnto you.

10 For who hath despised the day of the small things? but they shall reioyce, and shall see the stone of <sup>1</sup> time in the hand of Zerubbabel: <sup>2</sup> these seuen are the eyes of the Lord, which goe thow the whole world.

11 Then answered I, and sayd vnto him, What are these two olive trees vpon the right and vpon the left side thereof?

12 And I spake moreover, and sayd vnto him, What bee these two olive branches, which thow the two golden pypes empty themselves into the golde?

13 And he answered me, and said, Knowest thou not what these be? and I said, No my Lord.

14 Then said hee, These are the two olive branches, that stand with the ruler of the whole earth.

g Meaning, the Prophet, that I am Christ, sent of my Father for the building and preferuauon of my spirituall Temple.
h Signifying, that all were discouraged at the small and poore beginnings, of the Temple.
i Whereby he signifieth the plummet & line, that is, that Zerubbabel which represented Christ, should go forward with his building to the ioy and comfort of the godly, though <sup>1</sup> world be againt him, and though his for a while bee discouraged, because they see not things pleasant to the eye. k That is, God hath seuen eyes: meaning a continual providence, so that neither Satan nor any power in the world can goe about or bring any thing to passe to hinder his worke, Chap. 3. 9. l Which were cur Greene and full of oyle, so that fill they pow red forth oyle into the lampes: Signifying, that God will continually maintaine and preferue his Church, and endue it full with abundance and perfection of graces.

CHAP. V.

1 The vision of the flying booke, signifying the curse of the eues, and such as abuse the Name of God. 6 By the vision of the measure is signified the bringing of Iudahs afflictions into Babylon.

Then I turned mee, and lifted vp mine eyes, and looked, and beholds, a flying booke.

2 And he sayd vnto me, What seest thou? And I answered, I see a flying booke: the length thereof is twentie cubites, and the breadth thereof ten cubites.

3 Then said hee vnto mee, This is the curse that goeth south ouer the whole earth: for euery one that <sup>1</sup> stealeth, shall be cut off a well on this side, as on that: and euery one that <sup>2</sup> sweareth shall be cut off, as well on this side, as on that.

4 I will bring it forth, saith the Lord of hostes, and it shall enter into the house of the theeft, and into the house of him that falsly sweareth by my Name: and it shall remaine in the middes of his house, and shall consume it, with the timber thereof, and stones thereof.

5 Then the Angel that talked with me, went south and said vnto mee, Lift vp now thine eyes, and see what is this that goeth south.

6 And I said, What is it? And hee said, This is an Ephah that goeth south. Hee a Because the Iewes had provoked Gods plagues by contemning his word, & casting off all iudgement and equitie, he sheweth Gods curses written in this booke had iustly light both on them, & their fathers: but now if they would repent, God would send the same among the Caldeans their former enemies.

b That is, vnto any injury toward his neighbour.
c Meaning, wherefoerer hee be in the world. d Hee that transgresseth the first table, and scruteh not God aright, but abuseh Gods name. e Which was a measure in dry things, containing about ten pottels.

And moreover, This is the sight of them, thow the earth.

7 And beholds, there was lift vp a talent of lead: and this is a woman that lieth in the mids of the Ephah.

8 And he sayd, This is wickednes, and he cast it into the mids of the Ephah, and hee call the waight of lead vpon the month thereof.

9 Then lift I vp mine eyes, and looked: and behold, there came out two women, and the wind was in their wings (for they had wings like the wings of a hoake) and they lift vp the Ephah betweene the earth and the heauen.

10 Then said I to the Angel that talked with mee, Whither doe these beare the Ephah?

11 And hee said vnto mee, To build it an house in the land of Shinar, and it shall bee established and set there vpon her owne place.

vp iniquity in a measure as in a prison. k Which declared that God would execute his iudgements by the meanes of weake and infirme meanes. l To remouie the iniquitie and afflictions that came for the same from Iudah, to place it for euer in Babylon.

CHAP. VI.

By the foure charets he describeth the foure monarchies.

Gainc, I turned and lift vp mine eyes, and looked: & beholds, there came foure charets out from betweene two mountaines, & the mountaines were mountaines of brass.

2 In the first charret were red horses, and in the second charret blacke horses,

3 And in the third charret white horses, and in the fourth charret, horses of diuers colours, and reddith.

4 Then I answered, and said vnto the Angel that talked with me, What are these my Lord?

5 And the Angel answered, and said vnto mee, These are the foure spirits of the heauen, which goe forth from standing with the Lord of all the earth.

6 That with the blacke horse went forth into the land of the North, and the white went out after them, and they of diuers colours went forth toward the South countrey.

7 And the reddith went out, and requiered to goe, and passe thow the world. And he said, So passe thow the world. So they went thow our world.

8 Then cryed he vpon me, and spake vnto mee, saying, Behold, these that goe toward dured vnder diuers enemies. d Signifying, that they had endured great afflictions vnder the Babylonians. e These represented their state vnder the Persians which restored them to libertie. f Which signified that God would sometime giue his Church rest, and powre his plagues vpon their enemies, as he did in destroying Nineueh and Babylon, and other their enemies. g Meaning, all the actions & motions of Gods spirit, which according to his vnchangeable counsell hee causeth to appeare thow all the world. h That is, toward Egypt, and other countreys thereabout. i That is, they of diuers colours, which aske leaue, to signifye that Satan hath no power to hurt or afflict till God giue it him, Job. 1. 12.

f That is, all the wickednesse of the vngodly is in Gods sight, which he keepeth in a measure, and can shut it, or open it at his pleasure.
g To couer the measure.
h Which representeth iniquitie, as in the next verse.
i Signifying that Satan should not haue such power againt the Iewes to tempt them, as he had in time past, but that God would shut

h To receive of him and the other three, money to make the two crownes, which were men of great authority among the Jewes & doubted of his restitution of the kingdom and of the priesthood, and hurt others by their example, m Because this could not be attributed to any one according to the Law, therefore it followeth that Iehoshua must represent the Messiah, who was both Priest and King.

n Meaning, Christ, of whose Iehoshua was the figure: for in Greeke they were both called Iesus. o That is, of himselfe, without the helpe of man. p Which declareth that none could build this Temple, whereof Haggai speaketh but onely Christ; and therefore it was spiritual, and not materiall, Haggai. 2. 10. q Whereof Iehoshua had but a shadow. r The two offices of the kingdom and priesthood shall be so ioyned together, that they shall be no more disieured. s Who was also called Haldai. t Hee was also called Ioshiah, u That they may acknowledge their infirmities, which looked that all things should have bene restored incontinently: and of this their infidelity these two crownes shall remaine as tokens. Actes 1. 6. x That is, the Gentiles by the preaching of the Gospel shall help toward the building of this spiritual temple. y If yee will beleue and remaine in the obedience of faith.

CHAP. VII.

5 The true fasting. 11 The rebellion of the people is the cause of their affliction.

A In the fourth yeere of King Darius, At the word of the Lord came unto Zechariah in the fourth day of the ninth moneth, even in a Chiffen.

2 For they had sent unto the house of God Shazarzer, and Regem-melech, and their men to pray before the Lord,

3 And to speake unto the Priests, which were in the house of the Lord of hostes, and to the Prophets, saying, Should I weep in the fit moneth, and separate my selfe as I have done these so many yeeres?

4 Then came the word of the Lord of the North countrey, have pacified my spirit in the North countrey.

9 And the word of the Lord came unto me, saying,

10 Take of them of the captivitie, even of Hetaid, and of Tobiah, and Sedaiab, which are come from Babel, and come thou the same day, and go unto the house of Ioshtab, the sonne of Zephaniah.

11 Take euen silver and golde, and make crownes, and set them vpon the head of Iehoshua, the sonne of Iehozadak the high Priest, 12 And speake vnto him, saying, Thus speaketh the Lord of hostes, and sayth, Behold the man whose name is the Branch, and hee shall grow vpon our of his place, and he shall build the Temple of the Lord.

13 Euen he shall build the Temple of the Lord, and he shall beare the glory, and shall sit and rule vpon his throne, and hee shall be a Priest vpon his throne, and the counsell of peace shall be betwene them both.

14 And the crowne shall bee to Hetaim, and to Tobiah, and to Sedaiab, & to Ben the sonne of Zephaniah, for a memoriall in the Temple of the Lord.

15 And they that are farre off, shall come and build in the Temple of the Lord, and yee shall know that the Lord of hostes hath sent mee vnto you. And this shall come to passe, if yee will obey the voyce of the Lord your God.

hostes vnto me, saying,

5 Speake vnto all the people of the land, and to the Priests, & say, When yee fasted, and mourned in the first and seventh moneth, euen these seuentie yeeres, did ye fast vnto me? s Doe I approve it?

6 And when ye did eat, and when ye did drinke, did ye not eat for your selues, and drinke for your felicitie?

7 Should yee not heare the words which the Lord hath cryed by the ministerie of the former Prophets when Ierusalem was inhabited, and in prosperitie, and the cities thereof round about her, when the South and the plaine was inhabited?

8 And the word of the Lord came vnto Zechariah, saying,

9 Thus speaketh the Lord of hostes, saying, Execute true iudgement, and shew mercie and compassion, eueny man to his brother,

10 And appeale not the widow, nor the fatherlesse, the stranger, nor the poore, and let none of you imagine euill against his brother in your heart.

11 But they refused to hearken, and pulled away the shoulder, and stopped therr eares, that they should not heare.

12 Yea, they made their hearts as an Adamant stone, lest they should heare the law, and the words which the Lord of hostes sent in his spirit by the ministerie of the former Prophets: therefore came a great wrath from the Lord of hostes.

13 Therefore it is come to passe, that as hee cryed, and they would not heare, so they cryed, and I would not heare, saith the Lord of hostes.

14 But I scattered them among all the nations, whome they knew not: thus the land was desolate: after them, that no man passed thowou nor returned: for they layed the pleasant land waste.

2 Of the returne of the people vnto Ierusalem, and of the mercy of God toward them. 16 Of good works. 20 The calling of the Gentiles.

A Gaine the word of the Lord of hostes A came to me, saying,

2 Thus sayth the Lord of hostes, I was zealous for Zion with great ielouise, and I was zealous for her with great wrath.

3 Thus sayth the Lord, I will returne vnto Zion, and will dwell in the middes of Ierusalem: and Ierusalem shall be called a citie of trueti, and the Mountaine of the Lord

f For there were both of the people, and of the Priests, which doubted as touching this conuention, besides them which as yet remained in Caldea, and reasoned of iras of one of the chief points of their religion.

g For they thought they had detruded toward God, because of this fast, which they inuented of themselves: and though fasting of it felte bee good, yet because they thought it a seruice toward God, and trusted therein, it is here reprobred.

h Did you not eate and drinke for your owne commoditie and necessitie? and so likewise ye did abstaine according to your own fantasies, & not after the prescript of my law, i Hereby he condemneth their

Lord of hostes, the holy mountaine.

4 Thus saith the Lord of hostes, There shall yer olde men and old women dwell in the strettes of Jerusalem, and euery man with his staffe in his hand for very age.

5 And the strettes of the cite shall be full of boyes and girles, playing in the strettes thereof.

6 Thus saith the Lord of hostes, Though it be impossible in the eyes of the remnant of this people in these dayes, should it therefore be impossible in my sight, saith the Lord of hostes?

7 Thus saith the Lord of hostes, Beholde, I will deliuer my people from the East countrey, and from the West countrey.

8 And I will bring them, and they shall dwell in the mids of Jerusalem, and they shall be my people, and I will be their God in truthy and in righteuousnesse.

9 Thus saith the Lord of hostes, Let your hands be strong, ye that heare in these dayes these words by the mouth of the Prophets, which were in the day that the foundation of the house of the Lord of hostes was laide, that the Temple might be builded.

10 For before these dayes there was no htre for a man, nor any htre for beast, neither was there any peace to him that went out, or came in because of the affliction: for I set all men, euery one against his neighbour.

11 But now I will not increase the residue of this people as aforesayd, saith the Lord of hostes.

12 For the seede shall be prosperous: the vine shall giue her fruite, and the ground shall giue her increase, and the heauens shall giue her dewe, and I will cause the remnant of this people to possesse all these things.

13 And it shall come to passe, that as yee were a curse among the heathen, so house of Iudah, and house of Israel, so will I deliuer you, and ye shall be a blessing; feare not, but let your hands be strong.

14 For thus saith the Lord of hostes, As I thought to punish you, when your fathers prouoked mee vnto wrath, saith the Lord of hostes, and repented not.

15 So againe haue I determined in these dayes to doe well vnto Jerusalem, and to the house of Iudah: feare ye not.

16 These are the things that ye shall doe. Speake yee euery man the truthy vnto his neighbour: execute iudgement truly and vprightly in your gates.

17 And let none of you imagine euill in your hearts against his neighbour, and loue no false oath: for all these are the things that I hate, saith the Lord.

18 And the word of the Lord of hostes came vnto me, sayng,

19 Thus saith the Lord of hostes, The fast of the fourth month, and the fast of the fift, and the fast of the seuenthy, and the fast of the tenth shall bee to the house of Iudah & Which shall toy and gladnes, and prosperous high feasts: therefore loue the truthy and peace.

20 Thus saith the Lord of hostes, That there shall yet come 1 people, and the inhabitants of great cities.

21 And they that dwell in one cite, shall goe to another, sayng, Up, let vs goe and pray before the Lord, and seeke the Lord of hostes: I will goe also.

22 Yea, great people and mightie nations shall come to seeke the Lord of hostes in Jerusalem, and to pray before the Lord.

23 Thus saith the Lord of hostes, In those dayes shall ten men take hold out of all languages of the nations, euen take hold of the skirt of him that is a Jew, and say, We will goe with you: for wee haue heard that God is with you.

The burden of the word of the Lord in the land of Iudah: and Damascus shall bee his rest; when the eyes of man, euen of all the tribes of Israel shall be toward the Lord.

2 And Hamath also shall border there by: Tyrus also and Sidon, though they be very wise.

3 For Tyrus did build her selfe a strong hold, and heaped by siluer as the dust, and gold as the mire of the strettes.

4 Behold, the Lord will spoyle her, and he will smite her: power in the Sea, and she shall be deuoured with fire.

5 Ashkelon shall see it, and feare, and Azzah also shall be very sorrowfull, and Ekron: for her countenance shall be ashamed, and the king shall perish from Azzah, and Ashkelon shall not be inhabited.

6 And the stranger shall dwell in Ashdod, and I will cut off the pride of the Philistines.

7 And I will take away his blood out of his mouth, and his abominations from betwene his teeth: but hee that remaineth, euen he shall be for our God, and hee shall be as a pounce in Iudah, but Ekron shall be as a Jebulite.

e Though their enemies did greatly molest and trouble them, yet God would come and dwell among them, and so preserve them so long as nature would suffer them to liue, and increase their children in great abundance. d He sheweth wherein our faith standeth, that is, to beleeue that God can performe that which he hath promised, though it seeme neuer so vnpossible to man, Gen. 18. 14. Rom. 4. 20. e So that their returne shall not be in vaine: for God will accomplish his promise, and their prosperitie shall be sure and stable. f Let neither respect of your private commodities, neither countell of others, nor feare of enemies discourage you in the going forward with the building of the Temple, but be constant and obey the Prophets, which encourage you therunto. g For God cursed your worke, so that neither man nor beast had profit of their labours. h Reade Ezek. 18. 20. i Which declareth that man cannot turne to God till hee change mans heart by his Spirit, and so begin to doe well, which is to pardon his sinnes, and to giue him his graces.

2 The vanitie of idolatrie. 3 The Lord promiſeth to viſit and comfort the houſe of Iſrael.

A SKE you of the Lord name in the time of the latter raine: ſo ſhall the Lord make white clouds, and give you ſhowers of raine, and to every one graſſe in the field.

2 Surely the <sup>b</sup> idoles have ſpoken vanitie, and the ſoothſayers have ſene a lye, and the dreamers have told a vaine thing: they comfort in vaine: therefore they went away as ſheepe: they were troubled, becauſe there was no ſhepherd.

3 My wrath was kindled againſt the ſhepherds, and I did vitie <sup>d</sup> goates: but the Lord of hoſtes will write his ſlocke the houſe of Iudah, and will make them as his beautifull baſe in the battell.

4 Out of him ſhall the corner come forth: out of him the naile, out of him the bow of battell, and out of him eury ſappoſiter of tribute alſo.

5 And they ſhall be as the mightie men, which tread downe their enemies in the mire of the ſtreets in the battell, and they ſhall fight, becauſe the Lord is with them, and the riders and hoſtes ſhall be confounded.

6 And I will ſtrengthen the houſe of Iudah, and I will preſerve the houſe <sup>b</sup> of Joſeph, and I will bring them againe, to I pitie them, and they ſhalbe as though I had not caſt them off: for I am the Lord their God, and will heare them.

7 And they of Ephraim ſhall be as a gyant, and their heart ſhall reioyce as though wine: yea, their children ſhall ſee it, and bee glad: and their heart ſhall reioyce in the Lord.

8 I will <sup>i</sup> hiſſe for them, and gather them: for I have redeemed them: and they ſhall increaſe, as they have increaſed.

9 And I will <sup>i</sup> ſove them among the people, and they ſhall remember me in ſarre countreyes: and they ſhall live with their children, and <sup>i</sup> turne againe.

10 I will bring them againe alſo out of the land of Egypt, and gather them out of Aſſhur: and I will bring them into the land of Gilead and Lebanon, and place ſhall not be found for them.

11 And hee <sup>m</sup> ſhall goe into the Sea with affliction, and ſhall linte the wanes in the ſea, and all the depths of the river ſhall drie up: and the pride of Aſſhur ſhall be caſt downe, and the ſcepter of Egypt ſhall depart away.

9 Reioyce greatly, O daughter Zion: ſhout for ioy, O daughter Ieruſalem: behold, thy king cometh vnto thee: <sup>m</sup> hec is iuſt, and ſaued himſelfe, poore, and riding vpon an <sup>n</sup> aſſe, and vpon a colt the foale of an aſſe.

10 And I will cut off the <sup>o</sup> charrets from Ephraim, and the horſe from Ieruſalem: the bowe of the battell ſhall bee broken, and hee ſhall ſpeake peace vnto the heathen, and his dominion ſhall be from ſea vnto ſea, and from the riuer to the ende of the land.

11 Thou alſo ſhalt be ſaued through the blood of the Couenant, I haue looſed thy ſpouſers out of the pit wherein is no water for ſuch a king as ſhould be glorious in the eyes of man, but ſhould bee poore, and yet in himſelfe haue all power to deliuer his: and this is meant of Chriſt, as Matt. 21.5.

12 Turne you to the <sup>r</sup> ſtrong holde, yee <sup>r</sup> priſoners of hope: euen to day doe I declare, that I will render the <sup>r</sup> double vnto thee.

13 For Iudah haue I y bent as a bow for me: Ephraims hand haue I filled, and I haue raiſed vp thy ionnes, O Zion, againſt thy ionnes, O Grecia, and haue made thee as a gyant ſword.

14 And the Lord ſhal be ſene over them, and his arrow ſhall goe forth as the lightning: and the Lord God ſhal blow the trumpet, and ſhall come forth with the whirlewind of the South.

15 The Lord of hoſtes ſhall defend them, and they ſhall denouce them, <sup>z</sup> and ſubdue them with ſting ſones, and they ſhall drinke, and make a noiſe as though wine, and they ſhall be filled like bowles, and as the voyces of the altar.

16 And the Lord their God ſhall deliuer them in that day as the flocke of his people: for they ſhall be as the <sup>z</sup> ſtones of the crowne liſted by vpon his land.

17 For how great is his goodneſſe! and how great is his beautie! come ſhall make the yong men cheerefull, and new wine the maides.

q That is, from Euphrates. <sup>r</sup> Meaning, Ieruſalem, or the Church which is ſaued by the blood of Chriſt, whereof the blood of the ſacriſices was a figure, and is heere called the couenant of the Church, becauſe God made it with his Church, and left it with them, for the loue that hee bare vnto them. <sup>s</sup> God ſheweth that he will deliuer his Church out of all dangers, ſeeme they neuer ſo great. <sup>t</sup> That is, into the holy land, where the citie and the Temple are, where God will defend you. <sup>u</sup> Meaning, the faithfull, which ſeem'd to bee in danger of their enemies on euery ſide, and yet liued in hope that God would reſtore them to libertie. <sup>x</sup> This is, double benefites and proſperitie, in reſpect of that, which your fathers enjoyed from Dauids time to the captiuitie. <sup>y</sup> I will make Iudah and Ephraim, that is, my whole Church, victorious againſt all enemies, which hee heere meaneth by the Grecians. <sup>z</sup> Hee promiſeth that the Iewes ſhall deſtroy their enemies, and haue abundance and exceſſe of all things, as here is abundance on the altar when the ſacriſice is offered: which things are not to moue them to intemperancie, but to ſobrietie, and a thankfull remembrance of Gods great liberaltie. <sup>a</sup> The faithfull ſhalbe preſerued, and reuencured of all, that the vaine enemies ſhall be compelled to eſteeme them: for Gods glory ſhall thine in them, as Iofephus declarcth of Alexander the great, when he met Iadi the high Prieſt.

CHAP. XI.

1 The destruction of the Temple. 4 The care of the fast full u committed to Christ, 7 A grievous vision against Jerusalem and Iudah.

Open the doores, O Lebanon, and the citie shall denounce the cedars.

2 Howle, b sicce trees: for the cedar is fallen, because all the mighty are destroyed: y howle ye, O oaks of Basan, for the defended forest is cut downe.

3 There is the voice of the howling of the shepheards: for their glory is destroyed: the voice of the roaring of lions whelpa: for the pride of Jordan is destroyed.

4 Thus sayth the Lord my God, Feede the sheepe of the slaughterer.

5 They that possesse them, slay them, and sinne not: and they that sell them, say, Blessed bee the Lord: for I am rich, and their owne shepheards spare them not.

6 Surely I wil no more spare those that dwell in the land, sayth the Lord: but see, I will deliue the men euery one into his neighbours hand, and into the hand of his king: and they shall misse the land, and out of their hands I will not deliue them.

7 For I fed the sheepe of slaughter, euen the poore of the flocke, and I tooke vnto mee two staves: the one I called Beauty, and the other I called Bands, and I fed the sheepe.

8 Three shepheards also I cut off in one month, and my soule loathed e them, and their soule abhorred me.

9 Then said I, I wil not feede you: that that dieth, let it die: and that that perisheth, let it perish: and let the remnant eate, euery one the flesh of his neighbour.

10 And I tooke my staffe, euen Beauty, and brake it, that I might disannull my covenant, which I had made with all people.

11 And it was broken in that day: and so the poore of the sheepe that waited vpon me, knew that it was the word of the Lord.

12 And I sayd vnto them, If ye thinke it good, giue mee y my wages: and if no, leaue off: so they weighed for my wages thierie piece of siluer.

13 And the Lord said vnto mee, Cast it vnto the potter: a goodly price, that I was valued at of them. And I tooke: he thurte

Some reade, for Bands destroyers, but in the 14. verse the first reading is confirmed. m Whereby, he sheweth his care and diligence that hee would suffer them to haue no euill rulers, because they should consider his great loue. n Meaning the people, because they would not acknowledge the great benefite of God. o He sheweth that the least part euer profite by Gods iudgements. p Besides their ingratitude God accuseth them of malice and wickednes, which did not onely forget his benefites, but esteemed them as things of naught. q Shewing that it was too little to pay his wages, which could scarce suffice to make a few tiles for to cover the Temple.

pieces of siluer, and cast them to the potter in the house of the Lord.

14 Then brake I mine other staffe, euen the Bands, that I might dissolue the brotherhood betwene Iudah and Israel.

14 And the Lord said vnto mee, Take to thee yet the instruments of a foolish shepheard:

16 For loe, I will raise vp a shepheard in the land, which shall not looke for the thing that is lost, nor seeke the tender lambe, nor heale that which is hurt, nor feede that that standeth vpp: but he shall eate the flesh of the fat, and reare their clawes in pierces.

17 O idle shepheard that leaureth the flocke: the sword shall bee vnto thy arme, and vpon his right eye. His arme shall bee cleane dried vp, and his right eye shall be utterly darkened.

and sound. t By the arme he signifieth strength, dome and iudgement by the eye, that is, the plague of God shall take away both thy strength and iudgement.

CHAP. XII.

Of the destruction and building againe of Ierusalem.

The burden of the word of the Lord vpon Ierusalem, sayth the Lord, which spread the heauens, and layd the foundation of the earth, and formed the spirit of man within him.

2 Behold, I will make Ierusalem a b cup of poison vnto all the people round about: and all who with Iudah will bee be, in the siege against Ierusalem.

3 And in that day will I make Ierusalem an heauy stone for all people: all that lift it vp, shall be come, though all the people of the earth be gathered together against it.

4 In that day, sayth the Lord, I will smite euery holse with blindness, and his rider with madnesse, and I will open mine eyes vpon the house of Iudah, and wil smite euery holse of the people with blindness.

5 And the princes of Iudah shall say in their hearts, The inhabitants of Ierusalem shall be my strength in the Lord of hosts their God.

6 In that day will I make the princes of Iudah like coles of fire among the wood, and like a firebrand in the sheafe, and they shall denoure all the people round about on the right hand and on the left: and Ierusalem shall bee inhabited againe in her owne place, euen in Ierusalem.

7 The Lord also shall preserue the tents of Iudah, as a fortress: therefore the glory of the house of Dauid shall not boast, nor the glory of the inhabitants of Ierusalem against Iudah.

8 In that day shall the Lord defend the inhabitants of Ierusalem and be that is feeble among them, in that day shall be as Dauid: and the house of Dauid shall be as Gods house, euen as the Angel of the Lord be fore them.

9 And in that day will I seeke to destroy all the nations that come against Ierusalem.

10 And I will powre vpon the house of Dauid, r Signifying, that they should haue a certaine kinde of regimēt, and outward shew of gouernement: but in effect it should be nothing: for they should be wolues, and deuouring beasts in stead of shepheards. s And is in health as he doeth wisely, the plague of God shall take a He armeth the godly against the great terrors that should come before they enioyed this prosperous state promised vnder Christ, that when these dangers should come, they might know that they were warned of them afore. b As your fathers and you haue had experience both at the red sea and at all other times. c By this manner of speech the Prophet sheweth Gods power and care ouer his Church, and how he will by miracle saue it.

d So that out of all the parts of the world they shall see Ierusalem, which was before hid with this mountaine: and this hee meaneth of the spirituall Ierusalem the Church. e Hee speaketh of the hypocrites, which could not abide Gods presence, but should see into all places, where they might hide them among the mountains. f Reade Amos 1. 1. g Because they did not credite the Prophets words, he turneth to God, and comforteth himselfe in that that hee knowd that these things should come, and sayth, Thou, O God, with thine Angels wilt come to performe this great thing.

b Signifying, that there should be great troubles in the Church, and that y<sup>e</sup> time hereof is in the Lords handes, yet at length (which is here meant by the evening) God would send comfort.

i That is, the spiritual graces of God, which should ever continue in most abundance.

k All idolatry & superstition shall be abolished, and there shall be one God, one faith, and one religion.

l This new Jerusalem shall be seene through all the world, and shall excell the first in excellence, wealth and graineesse.

the Lord) neither day nor night, but about the evening time it shall be light.

8 And in that day shall there be waters of life goe out from Jerusalem, halfe of them toward the East sea, and halfe of them toward the uttermost sea, and shall be both in summer and winter.

9 And the Lord shall be King over all the earth: in that day shall there be one Lord, and his name shall be one.

10 All the land shall be turned as a plaine from Geba to Rimmon, toward the South of Jerusalem, and it shall be lifted up, and inhabited in her place: from Beniamins gate unto the place of the first gate, unto the corner gate, and from the tower of Hananiel, unto the kings winepresses.

11 And men shall dwell in it, and there shall be no more destruction, but Jerusalem shall be safely inhabited.

12 And this shall be the plague where with the Lord shall smite all people, that have fought against Jerusalem: their flesh shall consume away, though they stand upon their feete, and their eyes shall consume in their holes, and their tongue shall consume in their mouth.

13 But in that day shall a great tumult of the Lord shall be among them, and every one shall take the hand of his neighbour, and his hand shall rise up against the hand of his neighbour.

14 And Judah shall fight also against Jerusalem, and the arme of all the heathen that bee gathered round about, with golde and silver, and great abundance of apparail.

15 Yet this shall be the plague of the horse, of the mule, of the camel, and of the asse, and of all the beasts that be in their tents as this plague.

16 But it shall come to passe that every one that is left of all the nations, which came against Jerusalem, shall goe by from yeere to yeere to worship the King the Lord of hosts, and to keepe the feast of Tabernacles.

17 And who so will not come by of all the families of the earth unto Jerusalem to worship the king the Lord of hosts, even upon them shall come no raine.

18 And if the family of Egypt goe not by, and come not, it shall not raine upon them. This shall be the plague where with the Lord will smite all the heathen, that come not by to keepe the feast of Tabernacles.

19 This shall be the punishment of Egypt, and the punishment of all the nations, that come not by to keepe the feast of Tabernacles.

20 In that day shall there be written upon the shields of the horses, The holinesse unto the Lord, and the spurs in the Lords house shall be like the bowles before the altar.

21 Peace, every pot in Jerusalem and Judah shall be holy unto the Lord of hosts, and all they that sacrifice, shall come and take of them, and seeke therein: and in that day there shall be no more the Canaanite in the house of the Lord of hosts.

o The enemies are rich, and therefore shall not come for a pray, but to destroy and shed blood.

p As the men should be destroyed, ver. 13.

q By the Egyptians, which were greatest enemies to true religion, he meant all the Gentiles.

r Signifying, that to what service they were put now (whether to labour, or to serve in warre) they were now holy, because the Lord had sanctified them.

s Aspicuous the one as the other, because they shall be sanctified.

t But all shall be pure and cleane, and there shall neither be hypocrite, nor any that shall corrupt the true service of God.

Malachi.

THE ARGUMENT.

This Prophet was one of the three, which God raised up for the comfort of his Church after the captivitie, and after him there was no more until John Baptist was sent, which was either a token of Gods wrath, or an admonition that they should with more fervent desires looke for the coming of Messiah. He confirmeth the same doctrine that the two former doe, but chiefly he reproveth the Priests for their covetousnesse, and for that they served God after their owne fantasies, and not according to the prescript of his word. He also noteth certaine peculiar finnes, which were then among them, as marrying of idolatrous and many wives, murmuring against God, impatience and such like. Notwithstanding, for the comfort of the godly, hee declareth that God would not forget his promise made unto their fathers, but would send Christ his messenger, in whom the Couenant should be accomplished, whose coming should be terrible to the wicked, and bring all consolation and joy unto the godly.

CHAP. I.

A complaint against Israel & chiefly the Priests.

He burden of the worde of the Lord to Israel by the ministry of Malachi.

2 I have loved you, sayth the Lord: yet ye say, Wherein hast thou loved vs? Was not Esau Jaakobs hyother, sayth the Lord? yet I loved Jaakob,

3 And I hated Esau, and made his mountaines waste, and his heritage a wilderness for dragons.

4 Though Edom say, We are impoverished, but wee will returne, and build the desolate places, yet sayth the Lord of hosts, They shall build, but I will destroy it, and they shall call them, The border of wickednesse, and the people with whom the Lord is angry for ever.

5 And your eyes shall see it, and ye shall say, The Lord will be magnified upon the border of Israel.

6 A sonne honoureth his father, & a servant his master. If then I be a father, where is mine honour? And if I be a master, where is my feare, sayth the Lord of hosts unto you, O Priests that despise my name? and ye say, Wherein have we despised thy name?

7 He noteth their grosse hypocrisie, which would not see their fault, but most impudently couered them, and so were blinde guides, b Which declarereth their great ingratitude: that did not acknowledge this love, which was so evident in that he chose Abraham from out of all the world, and next chose Jaakob the younger brother of whom they came, and lest Esau the elder. c For besides that the signes of mine hatred appeared even when hee was made servant unto his younger brother, beinge in his mothers belly, and also afterward in that he was put from his birthright, y<sup>e</sup> even now before your eyes the signes hereof are evident, in that that his country lieth waste, and hee shall never returne to inhabit it, whereas ye my people, whom the enemye hated more then them, are by my grace and love toward you delivered, reade Rom. 9. 13.

d Besides the rest of the people he condemneth the Priests chiefly, because they should have reprov'd others for their hypocrisie, and obstinacie against God, and not have hardened them by their example to greater evils.

f Ye receive all manner offerings for your owne greedinesse, and doe not examine whether they be according to my Law or no.

g Nor that they say thus, but by their doings they declared no lesse.

h You make it no fault: whereby he condemneth them, that thinke it sufficient to serue God partly as he hath commaunded, and partly after mans fantasie, and so come not to that parentesse of religion, which he requireth, and therefore in reproch he sheweth them that a mortal man wuld not be content to be so serued.

i He derideth the Priests who bare the people in hand, that they prayed for them, and sheweth that they were the occasion, that these euils came vpon the people.

k Will God consider your office and state, seeing ye are so couetous and wicked? l Because the Leuites who kept the doores, did not trie whether the sacrifices that came in, were according to the Lawe, God witheth that they would rather sit at the doores, then to receive such as were not perfect. m God sheweth that their ingratitude, and neglect of his true seruice, shalbe the cause of the calling of the Gentiles: and here the Prophet that was vnder the Lawe, framed his wordes to the capacitie of the people, and by the altar and sacrifice he meaneth the spirittuall seruice of God, which should be vnder the Gospell, when an ende should be made to all these legall ceremonies by Christs onely sacrifice. n Both the Priests, and the people were infected with this error, that they passed not what was offered: for they thought that God was as well content with the leane as with the fatte: but in the meane season they shewed not that obedience to God which hee required, and so committed both impietie, and also shewed their contempt of God, and conuincesse. o The Priests and people were both weary, with seruing God, and passed not what manner of sacrifice and seruice they gaue to God: for that which was least profitable, was thought good enough for the Lord. p That is, hath ability to serue the Lord according to his word, and yet will I use him according to his couetous minde.

7 Pee offer vncleane bread vpon mine altar, and you say, Wherein haue we polluted thee? In that ye say, The table of the Lord is not to be regarded.

8 And if yee offer the blinde for sacrifice, it is not euill: and if yee offer the lame and sicke, it is not euill: offer it now vnto thy Prince: will hee be content with thee, or accept thy person, sayth the Lord of hostes?

9 And now, I pray you, I pray before God, that hee may haue mercie vpon vs: this hath bene by your meanes: will ye regard your persons, sayth the Lorde of hostes?

10 Who is there enim among you, that would shut the doores, and kinde not fire on mine altar in vaine? I haue no pleasure in you, sayeth the Lorde of hostes, neither will I accept an offering at your hand.

11 For from the rising of the Sunne vnto the going downe of the same, my Name is great among the Gentiles, and in euery place incense shall bee offered vnto my Name, and a pure offering: for my Name is great among the heathen, sayeth the Lord of hostes.

12 But ye haue polluted it, in that ye say, The table of the Lord is polluted, and the fruit thereof, euen his meate is not to be regarded.

13 Pee sayd also, Behold, it is a wearines, and ye haue snuffed at it, sayth the Lord of hostes, and yee offered that which was to me, and the lame, and the sicke: thus ye offered an offering: should I accept this of your hand, sayth the Lord?

14 But curst bee the delinuer, which hath in his flocke a male, and voweth, and sacrificeth vnto the Lorde a corrupt thing: for I am a great King, sayth the Lord of hostes, and my Name is terrible among the heathen.

And now, I pray you, I pray before God, that hee may haue mercie vpon vs: this hath bene by your meanes: will ye regard your persons, sayth the Lorde of hostes?

2 If ye wil not heare it, nor consider it in your heart, to giue glory vnto my Name, sayth the Lord of hostes, I will euen send a curse vpon you, & will curse your blessings: yea, I haue curst them already, because yee doe not consider it in your heart.

2 Behold, I will corrupt your seed, and cast dung vpon your faces, euen the dung of your solenne feasts, and you shall bee like vnto it.

4 And ye shall know, that I haue sent this commandment vnto you, that my couenant which I made with Leui, might stand, sayth the Lord of hostes.

5 My couenant was with him of life and peace, and I gaue him feare, and hee feared mee, and was afraid before my Name.

6 The law of kernetz was in his mouth, and there was no iniquitie found in his lippes: hee walked with mee in peace and equitie, and did turne many away from iniquitie.

7 For the Priests lips should preserve knowledge, and they should seeke the Lawe at his mouth: for hee is the messenger of the Lord of hostes.

8 But yee are gone out of the way: yee haue caused many to fall by the Lawe: yee haue broken the couenant of Leui, sayth the Lord of hostes.

9 Therefore haue I also made you to be despised, and vile before all the people, because yee kept not my wayes, but haue been partiall in the Law.

10 Haue we not all one father? hath not one God made vs? why doe wee transgreesse euery one against his brother, and breake the couenant of our fathers?

11 Iudah hath transgressed, and an abomination is committed in Ierusalem: for Iudah hath defiled the holiness of the Lord, which hee loued, and hath married the daughter of a strange god.

12 The Lord will cut off the man that doeth this: both the master and the seruant out of the Tabernacle of Dauid, and him that offereth an offering vnto the Lord of hostes.

13 And this haue yee done againe, and covered the altar of the Lord with teares, with weeping, and with mourning: because him according to his worde. h I prescribed Leui a certaine Lawe to serue me. i He serued me and set forth my glory with all humilitie and submission. k He sheweth that the Priest ought to haue knowledge to instruct othen in the word of the Lord. l He is as the treasure house of Gods word, and ought to giue euery one according to their needesse, and not to reserue it for himselfe. m Shewing, that whosoever doeth not declare Gods will is not his messenger and Priest. n The Prophet accuseth the impietie of the Iewes toward God, and man: for seeing they were all borne of one father Abraham, and God had elected them to be his holy people, they ought not to offend God, nor their brethren.

o Whereby they had bound themselves to God to be an holy people. p They haue ioyned themselves in marriage with them that are of another religion. q That is, the Priests. r Ye cause the people to lament, because that God doeth not regard their sacrifices, so that they seeme to sacrifice in vaine.

CHAP. II.

Threatnings against the Priests, being seducers of the people.

f This is another fault, whereof hee accuseth them, that is, that they brake the lawes of marriage.

e As the one halfe of thy selfe.

the offering is no more regarded, neither receiued acceptably at your hands.

14 Per yee say, Wherem? Because the Lord hath bene with vs betwene thee and the wife of thy youth, against whome thou hast transgressed: yet the is thy companion, and the wife of thy covenant.

15 And did not he make one? yet had he y abundance of spirit: and wherefore one? because hee sought a godly seede: therefore keepe your selues in your spirit, and let none trespass against the wife of his youth.

16 If thou hatest her, put her away: saith the Lord God of Israel, yet hee conereth: the iniurie vnder his garment, saith the Lord of hostes: therefore keepe your selues in your spirit, and transgress not.

17 Ye haue wearied the Lord with your words: yet ye say, Wherem? haue we wearied him? When ye say, Every one that doth euill, is good in the sight of the Lord, and hee delighteth in them. Where is the God of iudgement?

z Such as should be borne in lawfull and moderate marriage wherein is no exesse of lusts. a Containe your selues within your bounds, and be sober in mind, & bridle your affections. b Not that hee doth allow diuorcement, but of the two suits, hee theueth which is the lesse. c Hee thinketh it sufficient to keepe his wife still, albeit hee take others, and so as it were conereth his fault. d Ye murmured against God, because hee heard you not as soone as yee called. e In thinking that God fauoured the wicked, and hath no respect to them that serue him. f Thus they blasphem'd God in condemning his power and iustice, because hee iudged not according to their fantasies.

CHAP. IIII.

1 Of the messenger of the Lord John Baptist, and of Christs office.

Behold, I will send my messenger, and hee shall prepare the way before mee: and the Lord whom ye seeke, shall suddenly come to his Temple: euen the messenger of the covenant whom yee desire: behold, hee shall come, saith the Lord of hostes.

2 But who may abide the day of his coming? and who shall endure, when hee appeareth? for hee is like a purging fire, and like fullers lode.

3 And hee shall sit downe to tric and fine the siluer: hee shall euen fine the sonnes of Leui, and purifie them as gold and siluer, that they may bring offerings vnto the Lord in righteousness.

4 Then shall the offerings of Iudah and Ierusalem bee acceptable vnto the Lord, as in old time, and in the yeeres afore.

5 And I will come neere to you to iudgement, and I will be a swift witness against the loothslayers, and against the adulterers, and against false swearers, and against thole that wrongfully keepe backe the hirelings wages, and vexe the widow and the fatherlesse, and oppresse the stranger, and feare not me, saith the Lord of hostes.

6 For I am the Lord: I change not, and yee sonnes of Iacob are not consumed.

e Hee beginneth at the Priests, that they might be lightes & shine vnto others. f They murmured against God, because they saw not his help euer present to defend them: and therefore hee accuseth them of ingratitude, and sheweth that in that they are not daily consumed, it is a token that hee doth still defend them, and so his mercy toward them neuer changeth.

7 From the dayes of your fathers, yee are gone away from mine ordinances, and haue not kept them: returne vnto mee, and I will returne vnto you, saith the Lord of hostes: but yee said, Wherem? shall wee returne?

8 Will a man spoyle his gods? yet haue yee spoiled me: but ye say, Wherem? haue we spoiled thee? In: riches and offerings.

9 Ye are cursed with a curse: for ye haue spoiled me, euen this whole nation.

10 Bring yee all the riches into the storehouse, that there may be meat in mine house, and psume me now herewith, saith the Lord of hostes, if I will not open the windowes of heauen vnto you, and poure you out a blessing without measure.

11 And I will rebuke the denouncer for your sakes, and hee shall not destroy the fruit of your ground, neither shall your vine be barren in the field: saith the Lord of hostes.

12 And all nations shall call you blessed: for ye shall be a pleasant land, saith the Lord of hostes.

13 Your words haue bene stout against me, saith the Lord: yet ye say, What haue we spoken against thee?

14 Yee haue said, It is in vaine to serue God: and what profit is it that we haue kept his commandments, and that wee walked humbly before the Lord of hostes?

15 Therefore we count the proud blessed: euen they that worke wickednesse, are set vp, and they that tempt God, yea, they are deliuered.

16 Then spake they that feared the Lord, euen one to his neighbour, and the Lord hearkened and heard it, and a booke of remembrance was written before him for them that feared the Lord, and that thought vpon his Name.

17 And they shall be to me, saith the Lord of hostes, in that day that I shall doe this, for a flocke, and I will spare them, as a man spareth his owne sonne that serueth him.

18 Then shall you returne, and discern betwene the righteous and wicked: betweene him that serueth God, and him that serueth him not.

APOCRYPHA.

THE ARGUMENT.

These bookes that follow in order after the Prophets vnto the new Testament, are called APOCRYPHA, that is, bookes which were not received by a common consent to be read and expounded publickely in the Church, neither yet setued to proue any point of Christian religion, save in as much as they had the consent of the other scriptures called Canonically to confirme the same, or rather whereon they were grounded: but as bookes proceeding from godly men, were received to be read for the advancement and furtherance of the knowledge of the historie, and for the instruction of godly manners: which bookes declare that at all times God had an especiall care of his Church, and left them not vnto the destitute of teachers and meanes to confirme them in the hope of the promised Messiah, and also witnesseth that those calamities that God sent to his Church, were according to his providence, who had both so threatened by his Prophets, & so brought it to passe for the destruction of their enemies, and for the triall of his children.

2 Josias appointeth Priests, and keepeth the Passouer. 7 Offerings for the Priests & the people. 11 The order of the Levites. 23 The upright life of Josias. 25 His death and the occasion thereof, and the lamentation for him. 34 Ioachaz appointed king. 53 The destruction of Jerusalem.

AD Josias kept the Passouer to his Lord in Jerusalem, and offered the Passouer in the fourteenth day of the first moneth,

2 And appointed the Priests according to their dayly courses, being clothed with long garments in the Temple of the Lord.

3 And hee spake to the Levites the holy ministers of Israel, that they should sanctifie themselves to the Lord, to see the holy Arke of the Lord in the house, which Salomon the sonne of king David had built,

4 And sayd, Pee shall no more beare the Arke vpon your shoulders: now therefore serue the Lord your God, and take the charge of his people of Israel, and prepare according to your families and tribes,

5 After the writing of David king of Israel, and according to the manerly of Salomon his sonne, and stand in the Temple according to the order of the dignitie of your fathers the Levites, which were appointed before your bretheren the children of Israel.

6 Offer in order the Passouer, & make ready the sacrifices for your bretheren, and keepe the Passouer after the Levites commandement given to Moses.

7 And Josias gaue to the people that was present, thirtie thousand lambes and kids with three thousand calves.

8 These were given of the kings possessions according to the promise, to the people, and to the Priests, and to the Levites. Then gaue Helkias and Zacharias and Serus the gouernours of the Temple, to the priests for the Passouer two thousand six hundred sheepe, and three hundred calves.

9 Further more, Iechonias, & Samatas and Nathanael his bretheren, and Sabias, and Chielus, and Joiam captaines gaue to the Levites for the Passouer five thousand sheepe, and seven hundred calves.

10 And when these things were done, the Priests & the Levites stood in order, hauing unleaued bread according to the tribes, 11 And after the order of the dignitie of their fathers, before the people to offer to the Lord, as it is written in the bookes of Moyse: and thus they did in the morning.

12 And they rolled the Passouer with fire as appertained, and they sod their offerings with perfumes in caldrons and pots.

13 And set it before all them that were of the people, and afterward they prepared for themselves, and for the Priests their bretheren the sonnes of Aaron.

14 For the Priests offered the fatte vnto the evening, and the Levites did make ready for themselves, and for the Priests their bretheren the sonnes of Aaron.

15 And the holy singers the sonnes of Asaph, were in their orders, according to the appointed ordnances of David, to wit, Asaph, and Azarias, and Eddinus, which was of the kings appointment.

16 And the porters were at every gate so that it was not lawfull that any should passe his ordinary watch: for their bretheren the Levites made ready for them.

17 And in that day those things which appertained to the sacrifice of the Lord, were accomplished, that they might offer the Passouer.

18 And offer sacrifices vpon the altar of the Lord, according to the commandement of king Josias.

19 So the children of Israel, which were present at that time, kept the Passouer, and the feast of unleaued bread seven dayes.

20 And there was no such a Passouer kept in Israel since the time of Samuel the Prophet.

21 And all the kinges of Israel did not offer such a Passouer, as did Josias, and the Priests and the Levites, and the Jewes, and all Israel, which were found to remaine in Jerusalem.

22 In the eighteenth yere of the reigne of Josias was this Passouer kept.

before his Lord with a heart full of godlines.

24 And concerning the things which came to passe in his time, they are written before, to wit, of those that sinned and did wickedly against the Lord, about every nation and kingdome, and grieved him with insensible things, so that the wordes of the Lord stood by against Israel.

25 ¶ Now after all these acts of Iosias, it came to passe that when Pharaoh king of Egypt came to make war at Carchamis upon Euphrates, Iosias went out against him

26 But the king of Egypt sent to him, saying, What haue I to doe with thee, O king of Iudea?

27 I am not sent of the Lord God against thee: but my warre is upon Euphrates, and now the Lord is with mee, and the Lord hasteneth me forward: depart from me, and be not against the Lord.

28 But Iosias would not turne backe his chariot from him, but prepared himselfe to fight with him, not regarding the wordes of Ieremias the Prophet, by the mouth of the Lord.

29 But hee set himselfe in battell aray against him in the field of Megiddo, and the Princes came downe to king Iosias.

30 And the king said to his seruants, Conuey me out of the battell, for I am very weake. And by and by his seruants brought him out of the battell.

31 So hee gate vp on his second chariot, & being come againe to Ierusalem hee changed his life, & was buried in his fathers graue.

32 And in all Iudea was Iosias bewailed, yea, Ieremias the Prophet did lament for Iosias, and the gouernours, and their wiues did lament him vnto this day: and this was ordeined in all the kindred of Israel, to be done continually.

33 But these things are written in the booke of the stories of the kings of Iudea, & every one of the acts that Iosias did, and his glozy, and his knowledge in the law of the Lord, and the things which hee did before, and the things now rehearsed are registered in the booke of the kings of Israel & Iudea.

34 Then they of the nation tooke * Iozabaz the soune of Iosias, and made him king in stead of his father Iosias, when hee was thre and twenty yeere old.

35 And he reigned in Iudea and in Ierusalem thre moneths: for the king of Egypt deposed him from reigning in Ierusalem.

36 Hee taxed also the people of an hundredth talents of silver, & one talent of gold.

37 And the king of Egypt made Iocim his brother king of Iudea and Ierusalem.

38 And hee bound Iozabaz and his gouernours: but when hee had taken Zaraces his brother, he led him away into Egypt.

39 Twenty and five yeere old was Iocim, when he reigned in Iudea and Ierusalem, and hee did euill in the sight of the Lord.

40 Wherefore against him came vp Nabuchodonosor king of Babylon, who when he had bound him with a chaine of brasse, led him away into Babylon.

41 Then Nabuchodonosor tooke of the holy vessels of the Lorde, and caried them away, & set them in his temple at Babylon.

42 But all his actes, and his prophanation, and his reproch, are written in the booke of the Chronicles of the kings.

43 And Iocim his soune reigned for him: and when he was made king, hee was eghtene yeere old.

44 And hee reigned thre moneths and ten dayes in Ierusalem, and hee did euill in the sight of the Lord.

45 ¶ So a yeere after Nabuchodonosor sent and brought him to Babylon with the holy vessels of the Lord.

46 And hee made Sedecias king of Iudea and Ierusalem, when he was one and twenty yeere old, and hee reigned eleuen yeeres.

47 And hee did euill in the sight of the Lord, neither did he feare the wordes spoken * by Ieremias the Prophet from the mouth of the Lord.

48 For after that he was sworn to king Nabuchodonosor, hee swore himselfe by the name of the Lord, and set away, and hardened his necke and his heart, & transgressed the lawes of the Lord God of Israel.

49 Also the gouernours of the people, and the Priests committed many things against the Lawes, and passed all the pollutions of all nations, and polluted the Temple of the Lord, which was sanctified in Ierusalem.

50 Nevertheless the God of their fathers sent his messengers to call him backe, because hee spared them, and his owne Tabernacle.

51 But they derided his messengers, and in the day, that the Lord spake vnto them, they mocked his Prophets, 52 So that hee, being moued to anger against his people for their great wickednes, commanded the kings of the Chaldeans to invade them.

53 These killed their young men with the sword round about their holy Temple, neither did they spare young man, nor maiden, neither old man nor child among them.

54 But hee deliuered them all into their handes, and all the holy vessels of the Lord, both great and small, with the vessels of the Arke of God: and they tooke, and caried away the kings treasures into Babylon.

55 And they let fire in the house of the Lord, and brake downe the walles of Ierusalem, and burnt their towres with fire.

56 They consumed also all the precious things thereof, and brought them to nought, and choie that were left by the sword, hee caried away into Babylon.

57 And they were seruants to him, and to his children till the Persians reigned, to fulfill the word of the Lord by the mouth of * Ieremias, 58 And that the land might enioy her Sabbaths all the time, that it was desolate, till seventy yeeres were accomplished.

2 The Lord raised by the spirit of Cyrus King of the Persians, and he made proclamation throughout all his kingdom, euen by expresse letters,

3 Saying, Thus sayeth Cyrus King of the Persians, The Lord of Israel, euen the most hie Lord, hath made me King ouer the whole world,

4 And he hath commanded me to build him an house in Jerusalem which is in Iudea.

5 If there be any therefore of you of his people, let the Lord, euen his Lord bee with him, and let him goe by to Jerusalem, which is in Iudea, and build the house of the Lord of Israel: he is the Lord which dwelleth in Jerusalem.

6 All they then that dwell in the places round about, those, I say, that are in his place, let them helpe him with golde and siluer,

7 With giftes, with horses and cartell, and of other things, which shall be brought, according to the vowes, into the temple of the Lord, which is in Jerusalem.

8 Then arose the chiefe of the families of Iudea, and of the tribe of Benjamin, and the Priests and Levites, and all whose mind the Lord had moued to go by, and build an house to the Lord in Jerusalem.

9 And those that were about them, helped them in all things with siluer and gold, horses, and cartell, and with diuers vowes of many whose minds were stirred vp.

10 Also King Cyrus brought out the holy vessels of the Lord, which Nabuchodonosor had caried out of Jerusalem, and had consecrated them in the temple of his idoles.

11 Now when Cyrus King of the Persians had brought them out, he deliuered the to Mithridates his treasurer.

12 By whom they were given to || Abasfar the gouernour of Iudea.

13 Whereof this was the number: a thousand golden cups, & a thousand siluer cups, basins of siluer for the sacrifices, nine and twenty, viols of gold thirty, & of siluer two thousand foure hundred and tenne, and a thousand other vessels.

14 So all the vessels of golde and siluer, which they caried away, were nine thousand foure hundred, threecore and nine.

15 They were brought by Sanabassar with them of the captiuitie of Babylon to Jerusalem.

16 But in the time of Artaxerxes King of the Persians, || Belemus, & Mithridates, and Cabellius, and Rathumus, and Beelcthemus, and Semellius the secretary, and others which were ioynd to these, dwelling in Samaria and in other places, wrote vnto him this Epistle here following against them that dwell in Iudea and Jerusalem, TO THE KING ARTAXERXES OVR LORD, 17 Thy seruants, Rathumus the writer of things that come to passe, and Semellius the secretary, and the rest of their counsell, and the Iudges which are in Coelospria and Phenice.

18 Bee it now therefore knowen to our Lord the King, that the Jewes which came by from you, are come to vs into Jerusalem, that rebellious and wicked citie, and build the market places, and make up the wals thereof, and lay the foundations of the Temple.

19 Therefore if this citie bee built, and the walles be finished, they will not onely not endure to pay tribute, but also will resist kings.

20 And because the things pertaining to the Temple goe forward, we thought it not meete to passe ouer such a thing,

21 But to declare it to our lord the King, that if it bee thy pleasure, it may bee sought out in the bookes of thy fathers,

22 And thou shalt find in the Chronicles the writings concerning these things, and shalt know that this city did alwayes rebel, and did trouble both kings and cities,

23 And that the Jewes are rebellious, raising alwayes warres therein: for the which cause also this city was made desolate.

24 Now therefore, O Lord the King, wee declare it, that if this citie bee built, and the wals thereof repaired, you shall haue no more passage into Coelospria, nor Phenice.

25 Then the king wrote againe to Rathumus, that wrote the things that came to passe, and to Beelcthemus, and to Semellius the secretary, and to the rest of those that were ioynd with them, and to the dwellers of Samaria, Syria, & Phenice, these things that follow.

26 I haue read the Epistle, which ye sent to me: therefore I commanded, that it should be sought out, & it was found, that this city hath alwayes practised against kings, 27 And that the men thereof were giuen to rebellion and wars, and how that mighty kings and sterce haue reigned in Jerusalem, which tooke tribute of Coelospria, and Phenice.

28 Now therefore I haue commanded to forbid these men to build by the city, & that it be taken heed that no more be done, 29 And that those wicked things which should molest the king, goe not forward.

30 Then when Rathumus, and Semellius the secretary, & the rest, which were ioynd with them, had read the things, which King Artaxerxes had written, they moued their tents with speede to Jerusalem with horses and men in aray, 31 And began to let them which build, so that the building of the Temple in Jerusalem ceased vnto the second yere of the reigne of Darius King of the Persians.

CHAP. III.

1 The feast of Darius. 16 The three wise sentences. Now when Darius reigned, he made a great feast to all his subiects, and to all those of his owne house, and to all the Princes of Media and Persia.

2 And to all the gouernours & captaines, and lieutenants that were with him, from India vnto Ethiopia of an hundred and seuen and twenty prouinces.

3 And when they had eaten and drunke, and were lathised, they departed, and King Darius went into his chamber, and slepe th he wakened againe.

4 In the meane time thre yong men of the the guard, keepers of the kings body, sayde one to another,

5 Let every one of vs speake a sentence, and he that shal ouercome, & whose sentence shall appeare wiser then the others, Darius the king shall giue him great gifts, & great things in token of victory,

6 As to weare purple, and to drinke in golde, and to sleepe in golde, and a charrlot with budles of gold, an head tirc of fine linnen, and a chaine about his necke.

7 And he that sit next to Darius for his wisdome, and shalbe called Darius cousin.

8 Then every man wrote his sentence, and sealed it, and put it vnder the pillow of king Darius,

9 And sayde, when the King rose, they would giue him the writing, & whose sentence the king and the thre princes of Persia should iudge to be wisest, to him should the victory be giuen, as it was appointed.

10 One wrote, The wine is strongest.

11 The other wrote, The king is strongest.

12 The other wrote, Women are strongest, but truely ouercommeth all things.

13 And when the king rose, they tooke the writings and gaue them to him, and he read them,

14 And sent and called all the noble men of Persia and of Media, and the gouernors and the captaynes, and lieutenants, and the Counsellors, 15 And saue him downe in the Councell, and the writing was read before them.

16 Then he said, Call the yong men that they may declare their owne sentences. So they called them, and they came in.

17 Then he said vnto them, Declare vnto vs the writings. So the first bega, which had spoken of the strength of wine, 18 And sayd on this maner, O ye men, howe strong is wine! it deceueth all men that drinke it.

19 It maketh the minde of the king and of the fatherlesse both one, of the bonde man and of the free man, of the poore man and of the rich man.

20 It turneth also every thought into ioy and gladnesse, so that one remembreth no maner of sorrow nor debt.

21 It maketh every heart rich, so that one remembreth neither king nor gouer nor, and causeth to speake all things by salents.

22 When men haue drunke, they haue no minde to loue either friends or brethern, and a little after they draw out swords.

23 But when they are from the wine, they do not remember what they haue done.

24 O ye men, is not wine strongest, which compelleth to doe such things? and he held his peace when he had thus spoken.

C H A P. IIII.

Of the strength of a king. 13 Of the strength of women. 34 Of the strength of tructh, which sentence is approued, 47 and his petition graued.

Then the second which had spoken of the strength of the king began to say,

2 O ye men, are not men strongest, which beare rule by land and by sea, and ouer all things which are in them?

3 But the king is yet greater: for he ruleth all things, and is Lord of them, so that they doe all things which he commaundeth them.

4 If he bid them make war one against another, they doe it: if he lend them out against the enemies, they go & breake downe mountaines, and walles, and towers.

5 They kill & are killed, and do not passe the commandement of the king: if they ouercome, they bring all to the king, as well the spoiles as all other things,

6 And those also which go not to warre and battell, but till the earth: for when they haue lowen it againe, they reape it, & bring it to the king, and compell one another to pay tribute to the king.

7 Yet he is but one man: if he bid, Kill, they kill: if he say, Spare, they spare.

8 If he bid, Smite, they smite: if hee bid them, Make desolate, they make desolate: if he bid, Build, they build.

9 If he bid, Cut off, they cut off: if he bid, Plant, they plant.

10 So all his people, and all his armies obey one man: in the meane while he sitteth downe, he eateth, and drunke, and sleepeth.

11 For these keepe him round about: neither can any one go & do his owne businesse, neither are they disobedient vnto him.

12 O ye men, how should not the king be strongest, seeing he is thus obeyed? So hee held his tongue.

13 When the third which had spoken of women & of the truth (this was Zorobabel) began to speake, 14 O ye men, neither the mighty King, nor many men, nor wine is strongest: who then ruleth them? or hath dominion ouer them? are they not women?

15 Women haue borne the king, & all the people which beare rule by sea and by land.

16 Euen of them were they borne, and they nourished them which planted y vines of which the wine is made.

17 They also make mens garments and make men honourable, neither can men bee without women.

18 And if they haue gathered together gold and siluer, or any goodly thing, do they not loue a faire and beautifull woman?

19 Do they not leaue all those things and giue themselves wholly vnto her, and gape, and gaze vpon her, & all men desire her more then gold or siluer, or any precious thing?

20 A man leaueh his owne father which hath nourished him, and his owne countrey, and is ioyned with his wife.

21 And for the woman he teopardeth his life, and neither remembreth father nor mother nor countrey.

22 Therefore by this ye may know that the women beare rule ouer you: doe ye not labour and crauel, and giue and bring all to the women?

23 Yea, a man takeh his sword and goeth forth to kil and to steale, and to slay vpon the sea, and vpon riuers, 24 And hee seeh a Lion & goeth in darkness, and when he hath stoln, rauished and spoiled, hee bringeth it to his loue.

25 Wherefore a man loueth his owne wife more then father or mother.

26 Pea, many haue run mad for women, and haue bene seruants for them.

27 Many also haue perished and haue erred and sinned for women.

28 Howe therefore doe you not belceue mee? is not the King great in his power? doe not all regions feare to touch him?

29 Yee I saw him and Apame, the Kings concubine, the daughter of the famous Bactacus, sitting on the right hand of the King.

30 And shee tooke the crowne of the Kings head, and put it vpon her owne, and strooke the King with her left hand.

31 Yet in the meane season the King gaped and gazed on her: and if she laughed at him, hee laughed; and if shee were angrie with him, hee did flatter her: that hee might be reconciled with her.

32 How then, O ye men, are not women more strong, seeing they doe this?

33 ¶ Then the King and the Princes looked one vpon another, and he began to speake of the truthe.

34 O ye men, are not women stronger? great is the earth, and the heauen is high, and the Sun is swift in his course: for he turneth round about heauen in one day, and runneth againe into his owne place.

35 Is not he great that maketh these things? therefore the truthe is greater and stronger then all.

36 All the earth calleth for truthe, and the heauen blessed it: and all things are shaken and tremble, neither is there any vnjust thing with it.

37 The wtne is wicked, the King is wicked, women are wicked, and all the children of men are wicked, and all their wicked works are such, and there is no reuety in them, and they perish in their iniquitie.

38 But truthe doeth abide, and is strong for euer, and lieth and reigneth for euer and euer.

39 Wich her there is no receiving of persons nor difference: but the doeth the things which are iust, & absteineth from vnjust and wicked things, and all men fauour her workes.

40 Neither is there any vnjust thing in her iudgement, and she is the strength and the kingdome and the power, and maiestie of all ages. Blessed be the God of truthe.

41 So hee ceased to speake, and then all the people cried and said, Truthe is great and strong.

42 Then the King said vnto him, Alke what thou wilt besides that which is appointed, and wee will giue it thee, because thou art found the wisest, and thou shalt haue libertie to sit by mee, and shalt be called my counsell.

43 ¶ Then he layd to the King, Remember the vowe that thou hast bowed to builde Ierusalem, in the day that thou tookest the kingdome.

44 And to send againe all the vessels that were taken out of Ierusalem, which Cyrus let apart when hee made a vow to cut off Babylon, and vowed to send them thither.

45 Thou also hast bowed to build the Temple, which the Iudmeans burnt when Iudea was destroyed by the Chaldeans.

46 And now, O Iode the King, this is that which I desire and require of thee, and this is the magnificence, which I require of thee: I require therfore that thou wouldest accomplish the vowe which thou hast bowed with thine owne mouth to do to the King of heauen.

47 ¶ Then King Darius riling vp, kissed him, and wrote him letters to all the stewards, and lieutenantes, and captains, & gouernours, that they should bring on the way both him, and all that were with him, which went vp to builde Ierusalem.

48 And hee wrote letters to all the Lieutenantes in Coelosyria, and Phenice, and to them that were in Libanus, that they should bring cedar wood from Libanus to Ierusalem, and build the cite with him.

49 And hee wrote for all the Jewes, which went vp out of his kingdome vnto Iudea, concerning their libertie, that no prince nor Lieutenant, nor gouernor, nor steward should enter into their doores,

50 And that all the region which they kept, should pay no tribute, and that the Iudmeans should let goe the villages of the Jewes which they held,

51 And that euery yeere there should be giuen for the building of the Temple twentie talents, vntill it were built,

52 And to maintaine the burnt offerings vpon the altar euery day (as they had a commandement to offer seuenteeue) other ten talents euery yeere:

53 And that all they which went from Babylon to build the cite, should haue libertie, as well they as their posteritie, and all the Priests that went away.

54 ¶ Hee wrote also touching the charges, and the Priestes garment, wherein they should minister.

55 And hee wrote that they should giue the Leuites their charges, vntill the house were finished, and Ierusalem built.

56 Also hee wrote that they should giue penstons and wages to them that kept the cite.

57 And he sent away all the vessels which Cyrus had let apart out of Babylon, and what soeuer Cyrus had commanded to doe, hee also commanded to doe it, and to send to Ierusalem.

58 And when the young man was gone forth, hee liet vp his face to heauen towardes Ierusalem, and gaue thanks to the King of heauen, babel.

59 Saying, Of thee is the victoye, and of thee is wisdome, and of thee is gloyy, and I am thy seruant.

60 Blessed be thou which hast giuen me wisdome: for vnto thee I acknowledge it, O Loyde of our fathers.

61 ¶ So hee tooke the letters, and went out and came to Babylon, and told all his brethren.

62 And they blessed the God of their fathers, because hee had giuen them freedome and libertie.

63 To goe vp and to builde Ierusalem, and the Temple, where his Name is renoued, and they reioyced with instruments of mulicke and toy seuen dayes.

37 Neither could they shew their families nor their stocke how they were of Israel, the sonnes of Ladan the sonne of Ban, the sonnes of Necodan, sixe hundred sixtie and two.

38 And of the Priests those which exercised the office of the Priests, and were not found the sonnes of Dodia, the sonnes of Accos, the sons of Addis, * which had taken for wife Augia, one of the daughters of Berzelaius, 39 And was called after his name: and when the description of the kindred of these men had bene sought in the register, and could not bee found, they were set apart from the office of Priests.

40 For Aecmias and Atharias sayd to them, that they should not bee partakers of the holy things, till there arose an hie Priest clothed with doctrine and truth.

41 So all they of Israel, from them of twelve peere olde, and little children, were fortie thousand, besides men servants and women servants, two thousand three hundred and sixtie.

42 Their servants and handmaides were seven thousand, three hundred fortie and seven: the singing men and women, two hundred, fortie and six:

43 Camels, foure hundred thirty and six: and hoxles, seven hundred fortie and six: mules, two hundred fortie and six: beasts that bare the yoke, six thousand, six hundred, twentie and six.

44 And there were of the governours after their families, which when they were come to the Temple in Jerusalem, vowed to build the house in his owne place according to their power, 45 And to give to the treasure of the works, a thousand pound in gold, a twentie thousand pound in silver, and an hundred pricely garments.

46 And the Priests and the Levites and the people dwelt in Jerusalem, and in the country, and the holy singers and the porters, and all Israel in their villages.

47 Exit * when the seventh moneth was neere, and when the children of Israel were euerie one at home, they were all gathered together with one accord into the open place of the first gate, which is toward the East.

48 Then Jesus the sonne of Josedec and his brethren the Priests, with Sorobabel the sonne of Salathiel and his brethren, rising up, made ready the altar of the God of Israel, 49 To offer burnt offerings upon it according as it is written in the booke of Moses the man of God.

50 Whither also there were gathered against them of all nations of the land: but they dressed the altar in his owne place, although all the nations of the land were their enemies and vexed them, and they offered sacrifices according to the season, and burnt offerings to the Lord, morning and evening.

51 They kept also the feast of tabernacles, as it is * ordained in the Law, and offered sacrifices every day, as was requisite, 52 And afterward, the continuall oblations and offerings of the Sabbaths, and of the new moneths and of all holy feasts.

53 And al * they which had made any vow to God, began to offer sacrifice unto God in the first day of the seventh moneth, although the temple of God was not yet built.

54 They gave also money to the masons and to the workemen, and meate and drinke with gladnesse, 55 And charerts to the Sidonians, & to those of Cypus to bring Cedar wood one of Libanus, which should bee brought by flotes to the haven of Joppe, according to the commandement giuen unto them by Cypus king of Persia.

56 And in the second peere and second moneth came into the Temple of God in Jerusalem, Sorobabel the sonne of Salathiel, and Jesus the sonne of Josedec, and their brethren, and the Priests and Levites, and all they that came out of captiuitie into Jerusalem, 57 And * layd the foundation of the house of God in the first day of the second moneth of the second peere, after their returne into Judea and Jerusalem.

58 And they appointed the Levites from twenty peere old ouer the workes of the Lord, and Jesus and his sonne and his brethren, and his brother Eadmiel, and the sonnes of Hadiabon with the sonnes of Joda, the sonne of Heltadun, with their sonnes and brethren, even all the Levites with one accord did follow after the work, calling vpon the workes in the house of God: thus the workemen built the Temple of the Lord.

59 And the Priests stood clothed with their long garments with musick instruments, and trumpets, and the Levites the sonnes of Ashaph with cymbals, 60 Singing and blessing the Lord, according to the ordinance of David king of Israel.

61 And they sing with loud voyce songs to the praye of the Lord, because his mercie and glory is for euer in all Israel.

62 Then all the people blew trumpets, and cryed with loud voyce, praying the Lord for the rasing vp of the house of the Lord.

63 Also some of the Priests and Levites, and chiefe men, to wit, the Ancients which had seene the former house,

64 Came to see the building of this with weeping & great crying, and many with trumpets and ioyced with loud voyce, 65 So that the people could not heare the trumpets, because of the weeping of the people: yet there was a great multitude y blew trumpets, so that they were heard farre off.

66 Wherfore when the enemies of the tribes of Juda and Beniamin heard it, they came to know what noise of trumpets it was,

67 And they knew that they of the captiuitie built the Temple to the Lord God of Israel.

68 Wherfore they coming to Sorobabel, and Jesus, and the chiefe of the families, sayd unto them, Let vs build also with you.

69 For wee obey your Lord as you doe, and sacrifice vnto him since the dayes of Absatharath king of the Assyrians, which brought vs hither.

70 Then Sorobabel, and Jesus, and the chiefe of the families of Israel sayd to them, It doeth not appertaine to vs, and to you to builde an house to the Lord our God.

CHAP. VI.

1 Of Aggeus and Zacharias. 2 The building of the Temple, 3 Sissanes would let them. 7 His Epistle to Darius. 23 The Kings answer to the contrary.

¶ At * in the second yeere of the reigne of Darius, Aggeus and Zacharias the sonne of Ado do the Prophets prophesied to the Jewes, euen vnto them that were in Iudaea and Jerusalem, in the Name of the Lord God of Israel, which they called † vpon.

2 When Zorobabel sonne of Salathiel, and Iesus the sonne of Iosedec stood vp, and began to build the house of the Lord, which is in Jerusalem, the Prophets of the Lord being with them, and helping them.

3 In that time Sissanes the gouernour of Syria and Phenice, and Sathabouzanes with his companions came vnto them,

4 And sayd vnto them, By whose commandement build you this house and this building, and enterpise all these other things? and who are the builders that enterpise such things?

5 But the ancients of the Jewes had grace of the Lord, after that hee had vtilled the captiuitie,

6 That they were not letted to build, vntill it was signified vnto Darius of these matters, and an answer was receiued.

7 The copie of the Epistle, which hee did write and sent to Darius: SISANNES gouernour of Syria and of Phenice, and Sathabouzanes, and their companions, presidents in Syria and Phenice, salute king Darius.

8 It may please the king our master plainely to vnderstand, that when wee came to the countrey of Iudaea, and entred into the citie of Jerusalem, wee found in the citie of Jerusalem the ancients of the Jewes that were of the captiuitie, 9 Building an house to the Lord great and new, of hewen stones, and of great price, and the timber already layd vpon the walles.

10 And these workes are done with great speed, yea, and the worke hath good successe in their handes, so that it will be finished with all glory and diligence.

11 When we asked their ancients, saying, By whose commandement build you this house, and lay the foundation of these workes?

12 Wee asked them these things to the intent to notifie them to thee, and to write to thee the men that gouerned it: therefore wee demanded the names of the gouernours in writing.

13 But they answered saying, Wee are the seruants of the Lord, which hath created the heauen and the earth.

14 And * this house was built by many yeeres agoe by a king of Israel great and strong, and was finished.

15 But when our fathers, prouoking GOD to wrath, sinned against the Lord of Israel, which is in heauen, * hee deliuered them into the hands of Nabuchodonosor king of Babylon of the Chaldeans, 2. King. 24. 1 16 Who brake downe the house, and burnt it, and caried the people captiue to Babylon.

17 But in the first yeere of the reigne of Cyrus ouer the countrey of Babylon, king Cyrus wrote that this house should be built vp.

18 And the holy vessels of gold and of siluer, which Nabuchodonosor had caried out of the house of Jerusalem, and had dedicated them in his owne Temple, Cyrus the king tooke out of the Temple at Babylon, and they were given to Zorobabel, and to † Sanabassar the ruler. || Or, Shafsbazar.

19 And a commandement was giuen vnto him, that he should carry away those vessels, and put them in the Temple at Jerusalem, and that this Temple of the Lord should bee built in this place.

20 Then the same Sanabassar, being come hither, layde the foundations of the house of the Lord at Jerusalem, and since that time till now, it is in building, and is not finished.

21 Now therefore if it please the king, let it bee sought vp in the kings librarie concerning Cyrus.

22 And if it be found that the building of the house of the Lord at Jerusalem hath bene done by the consent of king Cyrus, and if it seeme good to the lord our king, let him make vs answer concerning these things.

23 Then king Darius commaunded to search in the kings librarie that were in Babylon, and there was found in Ecbarane, which is a towne in the region of Media, a place where such things were laid vp for memorie.

24 In the first yeere of the reigne of Cyrus, king Cyrus commaunded the house of the Lord at Jerusalem to be builded, where they did sacrifice with the continuall fire.

25 Of the which the height should be of threescore cubites, the breadth of threescore cubites, with three rowes of hewen stones, and one row of new wood of that countrey, and that the costes should bee payed out of the house of king Cyrus,

26 And that the holy vessels of the house of the Lord, as wel those of gold as of siluer, which Nabuchodonosor had caried out of the house in Jerusalem, and brought into Babylon, should bee restored to the house which is in Jerusalem, and set in the place where they were afore.

27 Also hee commaunded that Sissanes gouernour of Syria and Phenice, and Sathabouzanes, and their companions, & those which were constitute captaines in Syria & Phenice, should take heed to restraime from that place, and to suffer Zorobabel the seruant of the Lord, and gouernour of Iudaea, and the Elders of the Jewes to build that house of the Lord in that place.

28 And I also haue commaunded to build it cleane vp againe, and that they bee diligent to helpe them of the captiuitie of the Jewes, till the house of the Lord be finished.

Iolytia and Phenice should be diligently given to these men for sacrifice unto the Lord, and to Zorobabel the gouernour, for bulles, rammes, and lambes:

30 Also coyne, and salt, and wine, and oile continually every yeere without fail, as the Priests which are in Ierusalem shall testifie to bee spent every day.

31 That offerings may be made to the hie God for the king and his children, and that they may pray for their liues.

32 Furthermore he commanded that whosoever should transgresse any thing afore spoken or written, or derogate any thing thereof, that a tree should be taken out of his possession, and hee be hanged thereon, and that his goods should be the kings.

33 And therefore let the Lord whose name is there called vpon, destroy euery king and nation, which stretcheth out his hand to hinder or doe euill to that house of the Lord which is in Ierusalem.

34 * If Darius the King haue ordeined that it should be diligently executed according to these things.

CHAP. VII.

1 Sisinnus and his companions follow the Kings commandement, and helpe the Jewes to build the Temple. 5 The time that it was built. 10 They keepe the Pascheouer.

Then Sisinnus the * gouernour of Coelolytia and Phenice, and Sathrabouzanes, and their companions obeying King Darius commandements,

2 Assisted diligently the holy workes, working with the ancientes & gouernours of the Sanctuary
3 And the holy workes prospered by Aggeus and Zacharias the Prophets which propheticed.

4 So they finished all things by the commandement of the Lord God of Israel, and with the consent of Cyrus and Darius, and Artaxerxes kings of the Persians.

5 Thus the holy house was finished in the thire and twentieth day of the moneth Abar in the first yeere of Darius king of the Persians.

6 And the children of Israel, and the Priestes and the Leuites, and the rest, which were of the captiuitie, and had any charge, did according to the things written in the booke of Moyles.

7 And they offered for the dedication of the Temple of the Lord, an hundred bulles, two hundred rammes, foure hundred lambes.

8 And twelue gates for the linne of all Israel, according to the number of the chiefe of the tribes of Israel.

9 And the Priestes and the Leuites stood according to their kindreds, clothed with long robes in the workes of the Lord God of Israel, according to the booke of Moyles, and also the porters in euery gate.

10 And the children of Israel offered the Pascheouer together with them of the captiuitie, in the fourteenth day of the first moneth, after that the Priestes and Leuites were sanctified.

11 But all the children of the captiuitie were not sanctified together, but all the Leuites were sanctified together.

12 And they offered the Pascheouer for all the children of the captiuitie, and for their brethren the Priestes, and for themselves.

13 Then all the children of Israel which were of the captiuitie did eate, euen all they that had separated themselves from the abominations of the people of the land, and sought the Lord.

14 And they kept the feast of unleavened bread seuen dayes, reioycing before the Lord, 15 Because hee had turned the counsell of the King of the Assyrians towards them to strengthen their hands in tge workes of the Lord God of Israel.

3 This Esdras went out of Babylon, and was a scribe well taught in the Law of Moyles, given by the Lord God of Israel.

4 Also the King gaue him great honour, and hee found grace in his sight in all his requests.

5 Call him also there departed some of the children of Israel, and of the Priestes and Leuites, and of the holy singers, and of the Porters, and of the ministers of the Temple vnto Ierusalem,

6 In the seventh yeere of the reigne of Artaxerxes, and in the first moneth: this was the seventh yeere of the King (for they went out of Babylon in the first day of the first moneth,

7 And came to Ierusalem according as the Lord gaue them speede in their iourney.)

8 For Esdras had gotten great knowledge, so that hee would let nothing passe that was in the Law of the Lord, and in the commandements. and hee taught all Israel all the ordinances and iudgements.

9 So the Commission written by King Artaxerxes was given Esdras the Priest, and reader of the Law of the Lord: the copie thereof followeth.

10 King Artaxerxes to Esdras the Priest, and reader of the Law of the Lord, Salutation.

11 For as much as I consider things with pfecte, I haue commaunded that they that will and desire of the nation of the Jewes, & of the Priestes and Leuites, which are in our kingdome, should goe with thee vnto Israel.

12 Therefore as many as be willing, let them depart together; as it hath seemed good to mee and my seuen friends the counsellers,

13 That they may visite the things that are in Iudca and Ierusalem diligently, as it is contained in the Law of the Lord.

14 And carie the gifts to the Lord of Israel in Ierusalem, which I and my friends haue vowed: also all the gold and siluer, which shall be found in the countrey of Babylon appertaining to the Lord in Ierusalem.

15 With that which is giuen of the people to the Temple of the Lord their God, that it might be brought to Ierusalem, as well siluer as golde, for bulles and rammes, and lambes, and things thereunto pertaining,

16 That they may offer sacrifices to the Lord vpon the altar of the Lord their God, which is in Ierusalem.

17 And whatsoeuer thou and thy brethren will doe with the golde or siluer, accomplish it according to the will of thy God.

18 And the holy vessels of the Lord, which are giuen thee for the vse of the Temple of thy God, which is in Ierusalem, thou shalt set before thy God in Ierusalem.

19 And what other things soeuer thou shalt remember for the vse of the Temple of thy God, thou shalt giue it out of the kings treasure.

20 And I also King Artaxerres haue commanded the treasures of Syria and Phenice, that whatsoeuer Esdras, the Priest and reader of the Lawe of the highest God, shall send for, they should giue it him with all speede, euen to the summe of an hundredth talents of siluer, 21 And likewise vnto an hundredth coxes of corne, and an hundredth pieces of wine and other things in abundance.

22 Let all things be done to the highest God, according to the Lawe of God with diligence, that wrath come not vpon the kingdome of the king and of his sonnes.

23 Also to you it is commanded, that of none of the Priests, or Leuites, or holy singers, or Doctors, or ministers of the Temple, or of the workmen of this Temple, no tribute nor taxe be taken, nor that any haue power to take them in any thing.

24 Thou also, Esdras, according to the wisdom of God, ordaine iudges and gouernours, that they may iudge in all Syria and Phenice all those which are well instructed in the Lawe of thy God, and reach those, which are not instructed.

25 And let all those which shall transgresse the Lawe of God and the King, be diligently punished, either with death, or other punishment, either with penaltie of money, or banishment.

26 ¶ When Esdras the Scribe, said, Blessed be thou only Lord God of my fathers, which hath put this in the heart of the King to glorifie his house which is in Ierusalem, 27 And hath honoured mee before the King, and the counsailers, and all his friends and gouernours.

28 ¶ Therefore I was encouraged by the helpe of the Lord my God, and gathered men of Israel to goe vpon with me.

29 These are the guides after their families and order of dignities, which came vpon with me out of Babylon in the reigne of Artaxerres the King.

41 ¶ And I gathered them together to the flood called ¶ Theras, and pitched out tents there three dayes, and numbered them.

43 I sent to Eleazar, and behold, there came ¶ Baalman, and Amahan, and Samatan, and ¶ Foribon, and Nathan, Ennatan, Zacharian, and ¶ Bofollamon the chiefe, and best learned.

gard against our enemies,

51 Because we had said to the king, that the power of our Lord should bee with them that sought him, to direct them in all things.

52 Wherefore we prayed our Lord againe according to these things, whom we found favourable.

53 Then I chose from among the chiefe of the tribes, and of the Priests, twelue men, to wit, Tobias and Ananias, and with them tenne of their brethren.

54 And I weighed them the silver and the golde, and the holy vessels of the house of our Lords, which the king and his counsellers, and his princes, and all Israel had giuen.

55 And I weighed them, five hundred and thirtie talents of silver, and silver vessels of an hundred talents, and an hundred and thirtie talents of golde, 56 And twenty golden basins, and twelue vessels of brass, of fine brass shining like gold.

57 And I sayd to them, you are also holy to the Lord, and the vessels are holy, and the golde, and the silver is a bowe to the Lorde of our fathers.

58 Take, and keepe them, till that you giue them to the heads of the families of the Priests, and Leuites, and captaines of the families of Israel in Jerusalem in the chambers of the house of our God.

59 So the Priests and Leuites tooke the silver and the golde, and the vessels, and caried them to Jerusalem to the Temple of the Lord.

60 And we departed from the flood Tera, in the twelth day of the first month, and came to Jerusalem, according to the mighty power of our Lorde with vs: and the Lorde deliuered vs from the beginning of our iourney from all enemies. So we came to Jerusalem.

61 And three dayes being past there, in the fourth day the silver that was weighed, and the golde was deliuered in the house of our Lord to Harmoth the Priest, the sonne of Jouri, 62 And with him to Eleazar the sonne of Phinices: and there were with them, Josabab the sonne of Ithia, and Boeth sonne of Sabbannus, Leuites: all was deliuered them by number and weight.

63 And all the weight of them was written that same hour.

64 Afterwards those that were come out of the captiuitie, offered sacrifices to the Lord God of Israel, euen twelue bulles for all Israel, rams foure score and thirtie, 65 Lambes threescore and twelue, twelue goats for situation, all in sacrifice to the Lord.

66 And they presented the commandements of the King to the Kings stewards, and to the gouernours of Coelosyria and Phoenice, who honoured the people, and the Temple of God.

67 When these things were done, the gouernours came to me, saying, The people of Israel, the Princes and the Priests, and the Leuites have not separated from them the strange people of the land, 68 Nor the pollutions of the Gentiles, to wit, of the Canaanites, and Chetites, and Phereites, and Jebusites and Moabites, and Egyptians, and Idumeans.

69 For they haue dwelt with their daughters, both they and their sonnes, and the holy seed is mixed with the strange people of the land, and the gouernours and rulers haue been partakers of this wickednesse from the beginning of the thing.

70 And as soone as I had heard these things, I rent my clothes, and the holy garment, and I pulled the hair off mine head, and off my beard, and late me downe sorrowfull, and very sad.

71 Then also all they that were moued with the word of the Lord God of Israel came to mee whiles I wept for the iniquitie, but I late very sad till the evening sacrifice.

72 Then I rose from the fast with my clothes soene, and the holy garment, and bowed my knees, and stretched forth mine hands to the Lord, 73 And sayd, O Lord, I am ashamed, and contounded before thy face.

74 For our sinnes are increased aboue our heads, and our ignorances are lifted vp to heauen.

75 Peace, enen from the time of our fathers we are in great sinne vnto this day.

76 For our sinnes therefore, and our fathers, we with our brethren, with our Kings & Priests haue been giuen by to the Kings of the earth, to the sword and to captiuitie, and for a pray with all shame vnto this day.

77 And now how great hath thy mercy been, O Lord, that there should be left vs a roote and name in the place of thy holinesse!

78 And that thou shouldst reueale to vs a light in the house of the Lord our God, and giue vs meate in the time of our seruitude!

79 For when we were in bondage, we were not left of our God, but he gaue vs sauaour before the Kings of the Persians, that they should giue vs meate, 80 And that they should honour the Temple of our Lord, and raise vp a stone that is desolate, and giue vs assurance in Iudea and Jerusalem.

81 And now, O Lord, what shall wee say, hauing these things? for we haue transgressed thy Commandements, which thou hast giuen by the handes of thy seruants the Prophets, saying,

82 Because the land which yee goe to inherit, is a land polluted by the pollutions of the strangers of the land, which haue filled it with their filthinesse,

83 Therefore now ye shall not loyue their daughters with your sonnes, neither giue your daughters to their sonnes, 84 Neither shal you desire to haue peace with them for euer, that yee may be made strong, and eate the good things of the land, and leaue it for an inheritance to your children for euer.

85 Therefore all that is come to passe, was done for our wicked workes, and for our great sinnes: yet, Lorde, thou hast forgiven our sinnes, 86 And hast giuen vs such a roote: but we againe haue turned backe to transgressed by Law, and to mixe vs with the uncleannesse of the people of the land.

87 Mightest thou not bee angrie with vs to destroy vs, so that thou shouldst neither leave vs roote, nor seede, nor maine?

88 But, O Lord of Israel, thou art true: for there is a roote left, even vnto this day.

89 Behold, we are now before thee with our iniquities, neither can we endure before thee for these things.

90 And as Esdras prayed and confessed and wept, and lay vpon the ground before the Temple, a very great multitude was gathered vnto him out of Ierusalem, of men and women, and yong children: for there was great lamentation among the multitude.

91 Then Iechonias the sonne of Ieiel of the sonnes of Israel, crying out, sayd, O Esdras, we haue sinned against the Lord God: we haue taken in marriage strange women of the nations of the land.

92 And now all Israel is doubtfull: therefore let vs make an othe concerning this to the Lord to put away all our wiues, which are strangers, with their children.

93 If it seeme good to thee, and to all them that obey the law of the Lord, rise vp and put it in execution.

94 For to thee doth it appertaine, and we are with thee to make thee strong.

95 Then Esdras arose, and made all the chiefe of the families of the Priests and Leuites of all Israel to sweare, that they would doe thus: and they sware.

CHAP. IX.

7 After Esdras had read the lawe for the strange wiues, to they promised to put them away.

Then Esdras rose from the court of the Temple, and went to the chamber of Ioanman the sonne of Elisib,

2 And being lodged there, hee did eate no bread, nor dranke water, but mourned for the great iniquities of the multitude.

3 And there was a proclamation in all Iudea and Ierusalem, to all them that were of the captiuitie, that they should be gathered to Ierusalem,

4 And that all they which should not meete there within twos or thre dayes, according to the ordinance of the Elders, which bare rule, should haue their cattell confiscate to the Temple, and be cast out from among them of the captiuitie.

5 Then all they which were of the tribe of Iuda, & Benjamin came together within thre dayes into Ierusalem: this was the ninth moneth, and twentieth day of the moneth.

6 And all the multitude sate in the broad place of the Temple shaking, because of the extreme winter.

7 Then Esdras arose and sayd to them, Wee haue sinned: for ye haue married strange wiues, so that ye haue augmented the finnes of Israel.

8 Nowe we therefore confesse and glozifie the Lord God of our fathers, 9 And doe his will, and separate your selves from the people of the land, & from the strange wiues.

10 Then all the multitude cried out and sayd with a loud voice, Wee will doe as thou hast sayd.

11 But because the multitude is great, and the time is winter, so that wee cannot stande without, and the worke is not of one day nor of two, seeing that many of vs haue sinned in this matter,

12 Let the chiefe men of the multitudes, and al they which haue strange wiues of our families, tarric:

13 And let the Priest and Iudges come out of all places at the day appointed, till they haue appealed the wrath of the Lord against vs for this matter.

14 Then Ionathas Aiaels sonne, and Ezeclas sonne of Thecan were appointed concerning these things, and Hotholai and Sabbatus did helpe them.

15 And they which were of the captiuitie, did after all these things.

16 Esdras the Priest also chose him certaine men, chiefe of their families, all by name: and they sate together in the first day of the tenth moneth to examine this matter.

17 And they made an ende of the things pertaining to them that had married strange wiues in the first day of the first moneth.

18 And there were found of the Priests which had married strange wiues, 19 Of the sonnes of Iesus, the sonne of Ioseph, and of his brethren, Ithabehel, and Eleazar, and Iozibus, and Ionadan.

20 Who also gaue their hands to cast out their wiues, and offered a ranime for their reconciliation in their purgation.

21 And of the sonnes of Emmer, Ananias, and Zabden, and Canes, and Samcius, and Hircel, and Azarias.

22 And of the sonnes of Ithaius, Ellionas, Haffias, Emaelus, and Nathanael, and Obedelus, and Callas, 23 And of the Leuites, Iozababud, and Semis, and Colius, who was called Callas, and Parhas, and Doubas, and Ionas.

24 Of the holy fingers, Elzurus, Bachurus.

25 Of the porters, Sallumus, & Tolbanes.

27 Of the sonnes of Ela, Parthanas, Zacharias, and Hierielas, and Hieremoth, and Aedias.

28 And of the sonnes of Jamoth, Eliadas, Elimus, Echonias, Ieremoth, and Sabatus, and Sarebus.

29 Of the sonnes of Webai, Ioannes, and Ananias, and Iosabab, and Enathanes.

30 Of the sonnes of Bant, Iamius, Hamuchus, Iedatas, Iasubus, Iasael, and Ieremoth.

31 And of the sonnes of Addi, Maathus, Hoolias, Lacimus, and Balbus, & Hathanias, and Selchel, and Balmus, and Hanyassas.

32 And of the sonnes of Annas, Elionas, and Aelas, and Melchias, & Sabbus, and Simon a Cholaimit.

33 And of the sonnes of Aton, Altaneus, and Parthias, and Banaias, Eliphalat, and Banalles, and Semei.

34 And of the sonnes of Maani, Teremias, Houdis, Omaleus, Inel, Hamai, and Paclias, and Amos, Carabaior, and Enathbus and Hamminataneus, Elthais, Amis, Elthi, Samis, Selermias, Parthanas, and of the sonnes of Dyoas, Helis, Esrl, Asalus, Samaras, Neb. 3. 1.

38 ¶ Then all the multitude assembled together with one consent into the broad place before the gate of the Temple toward the East, 39 And spake to Edras the Priest, and reader, that he should bring the Lawe of Moyses, which had bin given by the Lord God of Israel.
 40 Then brought Edras the chiefe Priest the Law to all the multitude, both man and woman, & to all the Priestes, that they might heare the Law the first day of the seuenth moneth.
 41 And he read in the first broad place of the gate of the Temple, from morning to midday, before the men and the women, and all the multitude hearkened to the Lawe.
 42 So Edras the Priest and reader of the Law, stood vpon a Pulpit of wood that was prepared.
 43 And there stood by him Matgathias, Sammus, Ananias, Azarias, Durias, Ezeccias, Balalamus at his right hand, 44 And at his left hand, Phaldaius, and Sall, Helchias, Arthasaphus, Nabarias.

 46 And they all stood vpright when he expounded the Law, and Edras blessed the Lord the most high God, the most mightie God of hostes.

47 And the whole multitude cryed, Amen.
 48 Then Jesus, and Anus, and Sarabias, and Adimus, and Iacobus, Sabataias, Autanias, Baianias, and Caltas, Azarias, and Joazabbus and Ananias, & Viatas the Levites lift up their hands, and fell downe on the ground, and worshipped the Lord, 49 And taught the Lawe of the Lord, and Rood also earnestly vpon the reading.

Or, Nche-mias.

50 Then sayd Atharabates to Edras the chiefe Priest and Reader, and to the Levites, that taught the multitude in all things, This day is holy vnto the Lord, and all haue wept in hearing of the Law.
 51 See therefore and eate the fatts meates and drinke the sweete drinckes, and send presents to them that haue not.
 52 For this day is holy to the Lord, and be not soyr: for the Lord God will glorifie you.
 53 So the Levites commaunded all these things to the people, saying, This day is holy to the Lord: be not sad.
 54 Then they departed all to eat and drinke, and to reioyce, and to giue presents to them that had not, and to make good cheere.
 55 For they were yet filled with the wordes wher with they were instructed, when they were assembled together.

3 I brought you vp with gladnesse, but with sorow and heauinesse haue I lost you: for ye haue sinned against the Lord your God, and done the thing that displeaseth him.

4 But what fhall I nowe doe vnto you? I am a widow and forfaken: goe ye, O my children, and alke mercie of the Lord.

5 And thee, O Father I call for a witness for the mother of these children, which would not keepe my covenant,

10 Thus sayth the Lord vnto Esdras, Tel my people, that I will giue them the kingdome of Ierusalem, which I would haue giuen vnto Israel.

11 And I will get me glory by them, and giue them the enclasting tabernacles, which I had prepared for thofe.

12 They that haue at will the tree of life smelling of ointment: they that neither labour nor be weary.

13 Goe ye, and ye shall receiue it: pray that the time which is long, may be thortned: the kingdome is already prepared for you: watch.

14 Take heauen and earth to witness: for I haue abolished the euill, and created the good: for I lue, sayth the Lord.

15 Mother, embrace thy children, and bring them vp with gladnesse: make their feete as fast as a pillar: for I haue chofen thee, sayth the Lord.

16 And thofe that be dead will I raise vp from their places, and bring them out of the graues: for I haue knowen my name in Israel.

17 Feare not thou motter of the children: for I haue chofen thee, sayth the Lord.

18 I will send thee my feruants Esaf and Teremie to helpe thee, by whose counfel I haue sanctified and prepared for thee twelue trees laden with diuers fruits, 19 And as many fountaines, flowing with milke and hony, and feuen mighty mountaines, whereupon there grow roses and lilies, whereby I will fill thy children with ioy.

20 Execute iustice for the widow: iudge the cause of the fatherlesse: giue to the poore: defend the fatherlesse: clothe the naked.

21 Heale the wounded, and keke: laugh not a lame man to icome: defend the creeple, and let the blind come into the light of my clearenesse.

22 Keepe the old and the yong that are within thy wals.

23 * Wherefoerer thou findest the dead, take them and burie them, and I wil giue thee the first place in my resurrection.

24 Abide still, O my people, and rest: for thy quietnesse shall come.

25 Nourish thy children, O thou good nurse: stablish their feete.

26 None of the seruants that I haue giuen thee, shall perish: for I will seeke them from among the number.

27 Be not wearie: for when the day of trouble and heauenly commeth, ether shall weepe and be sorrowfull, but thou shalt be marrie, and haue abundance.

28 The heathen shall emnie thee, and shall doe nothing against thee, saith the Lord.

29 Mine hands shall couer thee, so that thy children shall not see hell.

30 Bee ioyfull, O thou mother, with thy children: for I wil deliuer thee, saith the Lord.

31 Remember thy children that sleepe: for I will bring them out of the sides of the earth, and will shew mercie vnto them: for I am mercifull, saith the Lord Almightye.

32 Embrace thy children, vntill I come and shew mercie vnto them: for my fountaines runne ouer, and my grace shall not faile.

33 I Elias receiued a charge of the Lord vpon the mount Horeb, that I should goe vnto them of Israel, but when I came to them, they cast me off, and despised the commandment of the Lord.

34 And therefore I say vnto you, O yee heathen, that heare and vnderstand. Waite for your shepheard, who shall giue you enclasting rest: for he is neere at hand, that shall come in the ende of the world.

35 Bee ready to the reward of the kingdom: for the enclasting light shall shine vpon you for euermore.

36 Flee the shadowe of this world: receiue the top of your glorie: I testifie my Sautour openly.

37 Receiue the gift that is giuen you, and bee glad, giuing thanks vnto him that hath called you to the heauenly kingdom.

38 Arise and stand vp, and behold the number of those that are sealed for the feait of the Lord, 39 Which are departed from the shadowe of the world, and haue receiued glorious garments of the Lord.

40 Take thy number, O Sion, and shew vnto them that are clothed in white, which haue fulfilled the Law of the Lord.

41 The number of thy children whome thou longest for, is fulfilled: belecth the power of the Lord, that the people which haue bene called from the beginning may be sanctified.

42 * I Elias saw vpon mount Sion a great people whom I count not number, and they all praised the Lord with songs.

43 And in the mids of them there was a yong man higher in stature then them all, and vpon every one of their heads hee set crownes, and was higher then the others, which I much maruailed at.

44 So I asked the Angel, and said, Who are these my Lord?

45 Who answered and said vnto mee, These be they that haue put off the exortall clothing, and haue put on the innerstall, and haue confessed the Name of God: now are they crowned, and receiue the palmes.

46 Then said I vnto the Angel, What yong man is it that settech crownes on them, and giueth them the palmes in their hands?

47 And he answered, and said vnto me, It is the Sonne of God, whom they haue confessed in the world. Then began I greatly to commend them, that had stood so strongly for the Name of the Lord.

48 Then the Angel said vnto mee, Goe thy way, and tell my people, what, and how great wonders of the Lord God thou hast seene.

CHAP. III.

The wonderful works, which God did for the people, are recited. 31 Esdras marvelleth that God suffereth the Babylonians to haue rule ouer his people, which yet are sinners also.

1 And the thirtiech yeere after the fall of the citie, as I was at Babylon, I lay troubled vpon my bed, and my thoughts came vnto mine heart,

2 Because I saw the desolation of Sion, and the wealth of them that dwelt at Babylon.

3 So my spirit was sore mooued, so that I began to speake fearefull words to the most high, and said,

4 O Lord, Lord, thou speakest at the beginning when thou alone plantest the earth, and gapest commandment vnto the people,

5 * And a booy vnto Adam without soule, who was also the workmanship of thine hands, and hast breathed in him the breath of life, so that he liued before thee,

6 And testif him into Paradse, which thy right hand haue planted, or euer the earth brought forth,

7 Euen then thou gapest him commandment to lone thy way: but he transgressed it, and immediatly thou appointedst death to him and his generation, of whom came nations, tribes, people, and kindes out of number.

8 * And euery people walked after their owne will, and did wonderfull things before thee, and despised thy commandments.

9 * But at the time appointed thou broughtest the flood vpon those that dwelt in the world, and destroyedst them,

10 So that by the flood, that came to euery one of them, which came by death vnto Adam.

11 Yet thou testest one, euen * Noe, with his household of whose came all righteous men.

12 And when they that dwelt vpon the earth, began to multiply, and the number of the children, people, and many nations were increased, they began to be more vngodly then the first.

13 Now when they liued wickedly before thee, * thou didst chuse thee a man from among them, whose name was * Abraham

14 Whom thou lovedst, and vnto whom onely thou shewedst thy will;

15 And madest an euerslasting covenant with him, promising him that thou wouldst neuer forsake his seede.

16 * And vnto him thou gapest Isaac, * vnto Isaac also thou gapest Jacob and Esau, * and didst chuse Jacob, and cast off Esau, and so Jacob became a great multitude.

17 And when thou ledst his seed out of Egypt, * thou broughtest them vp to mount Sina, 18 And inclinedst the heauens, and bowedst downe the earth, and didst moue the ground, and cause the depths to shake, and didst astonish the world.

19 And the glorie went thorow foure gates of fire, with earthquakes, wind and cold, that thou mightest giue the Law vnto the seede of Jacob, and that which the generation of Israel should diligently obserue.

20 Yet tookest thou not away from them the wicked heart, that thy Law might bring forth fruit in them.

21 For * Adam first hauing a wicked heart, was overcome and vanquished, and all they that are borne of him.

22 Thus remained weaknesse ioyned with the Law in the hearts of the people, with the wickednesse of the roote: so that the good departed away, and the euill abode still.

23 So the times passed away, and the yeeres were brought to an end, * til thou didst raise thee by a seruant called Dauid, 24 * Whom thou commandedst to build a citie vnto thy Name, to call vpon thee therein with incense and sacrifice.

25 When this was done many yeeres, the inhabitants forsooke thee, 26 Following the wayes of Adam and all his generation: for they had also a wicked heart.

27 Therefore thou gauest the citie ouer into the hands of thine enemies.

28 But doe they that dwell at Babylon, any better, that they should haue the dominion of Zion?

29 For when I came thither, and sawe their wicked deedes without number (for this is the thirtieth yere that I see many trespassing) I was discouraged.

30 For I saw, how thou sufferedst them that sinne, and sparedst the wicked doers, whereas thou hast destroyed thine owne people, and preferred thine enemies, and thou hast not shewed it.

31 I cannot perceiue howe this cometh to passe. Are the deedes of Babylon better then they of Zion?

32 Or is there any other people that knoweth thee besides Israel: or what generation hath so beleueed thy Testimonies as Jacob?

33 And yet their reward appeareth not, and their labour hath no fruit: for I haue gone here & there thorowout the heathen: I see them flourish, and thinke not vpon the commandemens.

34 Weigh thou therefore our wickednes now in the ballance, and theirs also that dwell in the world, and no mention of thee shall be found but in Israel.

35 Or when is it that they that dwell on the earth haue not sinned in thy sight: or what people haue I kept thy commandemens?

36 Thou shalt surely find that Israel by name hath kept thy precepts, but not the heathen.

CHAP. IIII.

1 The Angel reproueth Esdras, because hee seemed to enter into the profound iudgements of God.

And the Angel that was sent vnto me, whose name was Uriel, answered,

2 And said, Thine heart hath taken too much vpon it in this world, and thou thinkest to comprehend the wayes of the highest.

3 Then said I, Pear, my Lord. And he answered mee, and said, I am sent to shewe thee three wayes, and to set fourth three similitudes before thee,

4 Whereof if thou canst declare mee one, I will shewe thee also the way that thou desirest to see, and I will shew thee from whence the wicked heart cometh.

5 And I said, Tell on, my Lord. Then said he vnto me, See thy way, weigh mee the weight of the fire, or measure me the blast of the wind, or call me againe the day that is past.

6 Then answered I, and said, What man is borne, that can do that which thou requirest me, concerning these things?

7 And he said vnto me, If I should aske thee how deepe dwellings are in the mids of the sea, or how great springs are in the beginning of the depth, or how great springs are in the stretching out of the heauen, or which are the borders of Paradise,

8 Paradiuer thou wouldest say vnto me, I neuer went downe to the deepe, nor yet to the hell, neither did I euer come vp to heauen.

9 But now haue I asked thee but of fire and winde, and of the day, where by thou hast passed, and from the which things thou canst not bee separated, and yet canst thou giue mee none answer of them.

10 Yet said inioiueuer vnto me, Thine owne things, and such as are growen by with thee, canst thou not knowe?

11 How should thy vessell then bee able to comprehend the wayes of the highest, and now outwardly in the corrupt world, to vnderstand the corruption, that is euident in my sight?

12 Then said I vnto him, It were better that wee were not at all, then that wee should liue in wickednes, and to suffer, and not to know wherefore.

13 And hee answered mee, and said, * I came to a forest in the plaine where the trees helv a council, Iudg 9. 8.
2. chr. 25. 18

14 And said, Come, let vs goe fight against the sea, that it may giue place to vs, and that we may make vs more woods.

15 Likewise the floods of the sea tooke counsell, and said, Come, let vs goe vp and fight against the trees of the wood, that we may get another countrey for vs.

16 But the purpose of the wood was vaine: for the fire came and consumed it.

17 Likewise also the purpose of the floods of the sea: for the land stood vp and stopped them.

18 If thou wert iudge betwene these two, whom wouldest thou iustifie: or whom wouldest thou condemne?

19 I answered, and said, Verily it is a foolish purpose, that at they both haue denied: for the ground is appointed for the wood, and the Sea hath his place to beare his floods.

20 Then answered hee me, and said, Thou hast giuen right iurgement: but why iudgest thou not thyselfe also?

21 For like as the ground is appointed for the the wood, and the sea for the floods, so * they that dwell vpon earth, can vnderstand nothing, but that which is vpon earth: and they that are in the heauens, the things that are aboue y height of the heauenis.

22 Then answered I, and sayd, I beseech thee, O Lord, let vnderstanding be giuen me.

23 For I did not purpose to enquire of thine high things, but of such as wee daily meddle withall, namely, wherefore Israel is made a reproch to the heathen, and for what cause the people whom thou hast loued, is giuen ouer to wicked nations, and why the law of our fathers is abolished, and the written ceremonies are come to none effect, 24 Why we are tossed to and fro through the world as the grasshoppers, and our life is a very feare, and we are not thought worthy to obtaine mercy.

25 But what will hee bee to his Name, which is called vpon ouer vs? Of these things haue I asked the question.

26 Then answered he me, & said, The more thou searchest, the more thou shalt maruaile: for the world hasteth fast to passe away, 27 And cannot comprehend the things that are promised to the righteous in time to come: for this world is full of vnrightheadnesse and weaknesse.

28 But to declare thee the things whereof thou askest, the euill is sown, but the destruction thereof is not yet come.

29 If the euill now that is sown, be not turned vpside downe, & if the place where the euill is sown, passe not away, then cannot the thing come, that is sown with good.

30 For the corne of euill seed hath bin sown in the heart of Adam from the beginning, and how much vngodlines hath he brought vpon this time? And how much shall hee bring forth vntill the harvest come?

31 Ponder with thy selfe, how much fruite of wickednesse the corne of euill seed bringeth forth, 32 And when the stalkes shall be cut downe which are without number, how great an harvest must be prepared.

33 Then I answered, and sayd, How, and when shall these things come to passe? wherefore are our yerres few and euill?

34 And he answered me, saying, Hast not to bee aboue the most high: for thou labourst in vaine to bee aboue him, though thou endeavour neuer to much.

35 Did not the soules also of the righteous aske question of these things in their chambers, saying, How long shall I thus hope? and when cometh the suite of my barne and our wages?

36 And vpon this Jeremiel the Archangel answered, and sayd, When the number of the seed is filled in you: for hee hath weighed the world in the ballance.

37 The measure of the times is measured: the ages are counted by number, and they shall not be mooued of Ithacen, till the measure thereof be fulfilled.

38 Then answered I and said, O Lord, Lord, we are all euen full of sinne, 39 And for our sake peraduenture the harvest of the righteous is not fulfilled, because of the sinne of them that dwell vpon earth.

40 So he answered mee and sayd, Goe and aske a woman with child, when shee hath fulfilled her nine moneths, if her wombe may keepe the birth any longer within her.

41 Then said I, No, Lord, she cannot. And he said vnto me, In the graue the places of soules are like the wombe.

42 For as shee that is with childe, hasteth to escape the necessitie of the trauell, so doe these places hast to deliuer those things that are committed vnto them.

43 That which thou desirest to see, shall bee shewed thee from the beginning.

44 Then answered I, and sayd, If I haue found grace in thy sight, and if it be possible, and if I be met therefore,

45 Shew me whether there be more to come then is past, or more things past, then are to come.

46 What is past, I know, but what is to come, I know not.

47 And he said vnto me, Stand on the right side, and I will expound thee this by example.

48 So I stood, and beheld, a hote burning ouen passed before me: and when the flame was gone by, I looked, and behold, the smoke had the vpper hand.

49 After this there passed before me a watery cloud, & sent downe much raine with a storme: and when the stormy raine was past, the drops came after.

50 Then said he vnto me, Consider with thy selfe, as the raine is more then the drops, and as fire exceedeth the smoke, so the portion that is past, hath the vpper hand, and the drops and the smoke were much.

51 Then I prayed, and sayd, May I liue, thinkest thou, vntill that time? Or what shall come to passe in those dayes?

52 He answered me and said, Of the tokens whereof thou askest mee, I can tell thee a part: but I am not sent to shew thee of thy life: for I doe not know it.

CHAP. V.

1 In the latter times trueth shall be hid, 10 Vnrightheadnes and all wickednesse shall reigne in the world, 23 Israel is reuelled, and God deliuereth them, 35 God doeth all things in season.

NEuertheless concerning the tokens, behold, the times shall come, that they which dwell vpon earth, shall bee taken in a great number, and the way of the trueth shall bee hid, and the land shall be barren from faith,

2 And * iniquitie shall be increased more then thou hast seene now, or hast heard in time past: Mat. 24. 12.

3 And it shall come to passe that one shall set in foote, and thou shalt see the land desolate, which now reigneth.

4 Yea, if God graunt thee to liue, thou shalt see after the third trumpet, that the sunne shall suddenly shine againe in the night, & the moone three times a day.

5 Woodd shall drop out of the wood, and the stone shall giue his voyce, and the people shall be mooued.

6 And he shall rule, of whome they hope not that dwell vpon earth, & the soules shall change place.

7 And the sea of Sodom shall cast out fish, and make a noise in the night, which many shall not know, but they shall all heare the voyce thereof.

8 There shall be a confusion in many places, and the fire shall out breake forth, and the wild beastes shall change their places, and menstruous women shall beare monsters.

9 And salt waters shall be found in the sweet, and all friends shall fight one against another: then shall wit hide it selfe, and understanding depart into his secret chamber.

10 It shall be brought of many, and yet not be found: then shall vnrighthouse and voluptuousnesse haue the vpper hand vpon earth.

11 One land also shall alke another, and say, Is righteous iustice gone thorow thee? And it shall say, No.

12 At the same time shall men hope, but not obtaine: they shall labour, but their enterprises shall not prosper.

13 To shew thee such tokens I haue leaue, and if thou wilt pray againe, and weep as now, and fast seuen dayes, thou shalt heare yet greater things then these.

14 ¶ Then I awaked, and a fearefulnesse went thorow all my body, and my minde was feeble and fainted.

15 But the Angel that was come to talke with me, yeld me, comforted me, and set mee vp vpon my feet.

16 And in the second night, Salathiel the captaine of the people came vnto mee, saying, Where hast thou been? and why is thy countenance so heauy?

17 Knowest thou not that Israel is committed vnto thee in the land of their captiuitie?

18 ¶ Then and leaue, and forsake vs not, as the shepherd that leaueh his flock in the hands of the cruell wolues.

19 Then sayd I vnto him, See thy wayes from me, and come not nere me: and when hee heard it, he went from me.

20 And I fasted seuen dayes, mourning, and weeping, as Ariel the Angel had commaunded me.

21 And after seuen dayes the thoughts of mine heart were verie grieuous vnto mee againe,

22 And I had a desire to reason againe, and I began to talke with the most High againe, 23 And said, O Lord, Lord: of enery forest of the earth, and of all the trees thereof thou hast chosen thee one onely vineyard.

24 And of all landes of the world thou hast chosen thee one pit, and of all the flowers of the ground thou hast chosen thee one lillie,

25 And of all the depths of the sea thou hast filled thee one river, and of all builded cities thou hast sanctified Zion vnto thy selfe.

26 And of all the fowles that are created, thou hast named thee one doue, and of all the cattell that are made, thou hast appointed thee one sheepe.

27 And among all the multitude of people, thou hast gotten thee one people, and vnto this people whome thou louedst, thou gaucst a law, that is proued of all.

28 And now, O Lord, why hast thou giuen this one people ouer vnto many? and vpon one roote thou hast set others, & hast scattered thine onely people among many.

29 They treade them downe, which haue withstood thy promises, and beleue not thy testimonies.

30 And if thou diddest so much hate thy people, they should haue bene punished with thine owne hands.

31 ¶ Now when I had spoken these wordes, the Angel that came to me the night aloze, was sent vnto me, 32 And said vnto me, Heare mee, and I will teach thee, and hearken that I may instruct thee further.

33 And I sayd, Speake on, my Lord. Then sayd he vnto me, Thou art sore vexed and troubled for Israels sake. Louest thou them better then he doth that made them?

34 And I sayd, No, Lord: but of very sorrow haue I spoken: for my reines paine mee euery houre, while I labour to comprehend the way of the most High, & to seeke out part of his iudgement.

35 And hee sayd vnto mee, Thou canst not. And I sayd, Wherefore, Lord, wherefore was I borne? or why was not my mothers wombe then my grave? so had I not seene the trouble of Iacob, and the griefe of the flocke of Israel.

36 And he sayd vnto me, Dumber vnto mee the things that are not yet come, or gather mee the broys that are scattered, or make me the withered flowers greene againe.

37 ¶ Dyrme the places that are closed, and bring mee forth the windes that are shut vp therein: shew mee the image of a voyce, and then will I declare thee the thing, that thou askest and labourst to know.

38 And I said, O Lord, Lord, who can know these things, but hee that hath not his dwelling with men?

39 But I that am ignorant, how can I speake of these things, wherof thou askest mee?

40 Then said he vnto me, Like as thou canst doe none of these things, that I haue spoken of, so canst thou not finde out my iudgement, nor the least benefite, that I haue promised vnto my people.

41 Then I sayd, Behold, O Lord, the last things are present vnto thee, and what shal they doe that haue bin before mee, or we that be now, or they that shall come after vs?

42 And hee sayd vnto mee, I will compare my iudgement vnto a ring: as there is no slacknesse of the last, so there is no swiftnesse of the first.

43 Then I answered, and sayd, Candest thou not make at once those that haue bene, those that are now, and those that shall come, that thou mightest shew thy iudgement the sooner?

44 Then answered hee mee, The creature, said he, cannot preuent the Creator, neither can the world hold them at once, that shall be created therein.

45 And I sayde, As thou hast taught thy seruant, that thou which giuest strength to all, hast giuen life at once to all the worke created by thee, and hast sustained it, so might it now

now also containe all men at once.

46 And hee sayd vnto me, Aske the wombe of a woman, and say vnto her, Why must thou haue rime before thou bringest forth? require her to bring forth ten at once.

47 And I sayd, Surely she cannot, but by distance of time.

48 Then said he vnto me, So haue I diuided the number of the earth by times when seedes is sown vpon it.

49 For as a yong child begetteth not that that belongeth to the aged, so haue I ordeyned the time which I haue created.

50 ¶ I asked againe, and sayd, Seeing thou hast now shewed meen he way, I will proceed to speake before thee: for one mother, whom thou hast tolde mee is yong, beaweth the neere vnto age?

51 He answered me, and said, Aske a woman that traueleth, and she will tell thee.

52 Say vnto her, Wherefore are not they whom thou hast now brought forth, like those that were before thee, but lesse of stature?

53 And shee shall answer thee, Some were boine in the flour of youth, others were boine in the tyme of age, when the wombe failed.

54 Consider now thy selfe, how that ye are lesse of stature then those that were before you.

55 And so are they that come after you, lesse then ye, as the creatures which now begun to bee olde, and haue passed ouer the strength of youth.

56 Then sayd I, Lord, I beseech thee, if I haue found fauour in thy light, shewe thy seruant, by whom doest thou gouerne thy worke-manship?

C H A P. VI.

God hath foreseene all things in his secret counsell, and is author thereof, and hath created them for his children. 25 The felicity of the age to come.

AND hee sayd vnto mee, In the beginning when the rounde worlde was made, and before the borders of the worlde were set, and before the windes blew one against another:

2 Before the noise of thunders sounded, before the bright lightning did shine forth, before the foundations of Paradise were layd:

3 Before the faire flowers did appeare, before the muscable powers were established, before the innumerable armies of Angels were gathered:

4 Before the heightes of the ayre were lifted vp, before the measures of the heaucns were named; before the chunnies in Sion were hore:

5 Before the present yeeres were sought out, and before the affections of them that nowe linne, were turned away, and they that haue layed vp the treasure of fayth, were sealed,

6 Then did I purpose these things, and they were made by mee alone, and by none other: by mee also they shall bee ended, and by none other.

7 Then answered I, and sayd, What shall be the duration of times? or when shall bee the end of the first, and the beginning of it that fo-loweth?

8 And hee sayde vnto mee, From Abraham vnto Isaac, when Jacob and Esau were borne of him, Jacobs hand held first the heele of Esau.

9 For Esau is the end of this world, and Jacob is the beginning of it that followeth.

10 The hande of man is betweene the heele and the hand. Other thing, Eldras, aske thou not.

11 ¶ I answered then, & said, O Lord, Lord, if I haue found fauour in thy light, 12 I beseech thee, make an end to shewe thy seruant thy tokens, wherof thou shewest me part the last night.

13 So he answered me, and said, Stand by vpon thy feete, and heare a mighty sounding voyce.

14 There shall come as an earthquake, but the place where thou standest shall not bee mooued.

15 And therefore when he speaketh, bee not afraide: for of the end shall bee the worde, and of the foundation of the earth shall it bee vnderstood.

16 Therefore while one speaketh of them, it trembleth and is mooued: for it knoweth that it must be changed at the end.

17 And when I had heard it, I stood by vpon my feete, and hearkened, & beholde there was a voyce that spake, and the sound of it was like the sound of many waters:

18 And it sayd, Behold, the dayes come, that I will come and inquire of them that dwell vpon the earth,

19 And when I beginne to enquire of them, who by their vnrightheousnesse haue hurt others, and when the affliction of Sion shall be fulfilled,

20 And the world that shall vanish away, shall be sealed, then will I shew these signes: the books shall be opened before the heauen, and they shall see all it together.

21 And the children of a yeere old shall speake with their voyces: the women with child shall bring forth vnto us children of three or foure moneths olde, and they shall liue that are rapst vp.

22 Then suddenly shall the towne places appeare as the vntowen, and the full storehouses shall suddenly be found empty.

23 And the trumpet shall sound, and all they that heare it, shall be suddenly afraid.

24 At that time shall friendes fight with friendes, as with enemies: and the earth shall feare with them: the springes of the wellles shall stand still, and in thre houres they shall see runne.

25 Whosoeuer remaineth from all these things that I haue told thee, shall bee saued and see my saluation, and the end of your wo.

26 And the men that are receiued, shall see it: they that haue not tasted death from their birth, and the heart of the inhabitants shall be changed, and turned to another meaning.

27 For euill shall be put out, and deceit shall be quenched.

28 But faith shall flourish: corruption shall be ouercome, and the truth which hath bene so long without fruit, shall come forth.

29 ¶ And:

29 And when hee talked with me, behold, I looked a litle vpon him befoze whome I stood.

30 And these words sayd he vnto mee, I am come to shew thee the time of the night to come.

31 If thou wilt pray againe, and fast seuen dayes more, I will tel thee more things, & greater then these, which I haue heard in the day.

32 For thy voyce is heard befoze the highest: surely the Highest hath seene thy righteous dealing: he hath seene also thy chastity, which thou hast kept since thy youth.

33 Therefore hath he sent me to shew thee all these things, and to say vnto thee, See of good comfort, and feare not.

34 And haste not in the vaine consideration of the best times, nor make haste to the latter times.

35 And after this I wept againe, and fasted seuen daies in like maner, that I might fulfil the three weekes which he had appointed me.

36 And in the eight night was mine heart bereed within me againe, and I began to speake befoze the most High.

37 For my spirit was greatly set on fire, and my soule was in distresse.

38 And I sayd, O Lord, thou spakest expressly in the first creation (euen the first day) and commandedst that the heauen & the earth should be made, and the worke followed thy word.

39 And then was there the spirit, and the darknesse was on euery side with silence: there was no mans voyce as yet created of thee.

40 Then commandedst thou a bright light to come forth out of thy treasures, that it might giue light to thy worke.

41 Vpon the second day thou createdst the heauenly aire, and commandedst it, that going betwene, it should make a diuision between the waters, that the one part might remaine aboue, and the other beneath.

42 Vpon the third day thou commandedst, that the waters should be gathered together in the seventh part of the earth: lixe parts diddest thou drye, & kept them to the intent that of these there should be that should serue thee, being sowne of God and tilled.

43 As soone as thy word went forth, the worke was incontinently made.

44 For immediately great and innumerable fruit did spring vp, & many diuers pleasures for the taste, & floures of vchangeable colour, and odours of a most wonderfull smell, & these things were created the third day.

45 Vpon the fourth day thou createdst the light of the sunne, and of the moone, and the order of the starres.

46 And gauest them a charge, to do seruice euen vnto man that was for to be made.

47 And vpon the fifth day thou saidst vnto the seventh part where the waters were gathered, that it should bring forth beasts, as foules and fishes: and it was so.

48 For the dumbe waters, and without life, brought forth liuing things at the commandement of God, that the nations might praise thy wonderous works.

49 Then diddest thou prepare two liuing things: the one thou calledst Behemoth, and the other thou calledst Leniathan.

50 And didst separate the one from the other:

for the seventh part where the water was gathered, could not hold them.

51 Vnto Behemoth thou gauest one part, which was dyled by the third day, that he should dwell in the same part, wherein are a thousand hilles.

52 Vnto Leniathan thou gauest the seventh part, that is wet, and hast prepared him to deuoure what thou wilt, and when thou wilt.

53 Vpon the first day thou gauest commandement vnto the earth, that befoze thee it should bring forth beasts, cattell, and creeping things.

54 And besides this Adam, whome thou madest lord ouer all the works which thou hast created, of him come we all, & the people also, whom thou hast cholen.

55 All this haue I spoken befoze thee, O Lord, because thou hast created the world for our sakes.

56 As for the other people, which also come of Adam, thou hast declared them that they are nothing befoze thee, but be like vnto spetle, and hast compared their riches vnto a drop that falleth from a vessel.

57 And now, O Lord, behold, these heathen which haue bene reputed as nothing, haue begun to be lords ouer vs, and to deuoure vs.

58 And we thy people (whom thou hast called the first borne, the only begotten, and thy seruent louer) are giuen into their hands.

59 If the world then be created for our sakes, why haue wee not the inheritance thereof in possession? or how long shall we suffer these things?

CHAP. VII.

5 Without tribulation none can come to felicitie. 12 God aduersifeth all in time. 28 The coming and death of Christ. 32 The resurrection and last iudgement. 43 after the which all corruption shall cease. 48 All fell in Adam. 59 The true life. 62 The mercies and goodnesse of God.

AND when I had made an ende of these wordes, there was sent vnto mee an Angel, which had bene sent downe to mee the nights afore.

2 And he said vnto me, He, Eldras, & heare the words that I am come to tell thee.

3 And I sayde, Speake on, my God. Then sayd he vnto me, The sea is set in a wide place, that it might be deepe and great.

4 But presuppose that the entrance thereof were narrow, and like the riuers.

5 Who could go into the sea to looke vpon it, and to rule it? if he went not thorow the narrow, how could he come into the broad?

6 There is also another thing: a citie is builded, and set vpon a broad field, and is full of all good things:

7 The entrance thereof is narrow, & in a dangerous place to fall, that there is fire at the right hand, and a deepe water at the left.

8 And there is but one path betwixt them, euen betwixt the fire and the water, so that there could go but one man there.

9 If this citie were giuen vnto a man for an inheritance, if he neuer went thorow the perill befoze it, how could he receiue his inheritance?

10 And I sayd, It is so, Lord. Then said hee, so is the portion of Israel.

11 Surely for their sakes haue I made the worlde: and when Adam transgressed my statutes, then came this thing to passe.

12 Then were the entrances of the worlde made narrow, full of sorrow and trouble: they are but few and euill, and full of perils, and very painefull.

13 For the entrances of the fore worlde were wide and lurre, and brought immortall fruit.

14 If then they that are liuing, labour not to enter by these strait and brittle things, they can not attaine to those things that are hid.

15 Why then disquietest thou thy selfe, seeing thou art corruptible? and why art thou moued, seeing thou art mortall?

16 And why hast thou not considered in thy minde the things to come, rather then them that are present?

17 Then sayd I, O Lord, Lord, * seeing thou hast ordained in the Lawe, that the righteous should inherit these things, and that the vngodly should perish, 18 Should the righteous suffer straitnesse in hoping for large things? yet they that haue liued vngodly and suffered straitnesse, shal not see the large things.

19 Then he sayd vnto mee, There is no iudge more iust then God, and there is none more wise then the most High.

20 For many perish in this life, because they deuiyse the Law of God that is appointed.

21 For God hath diligently admonished such as came, to oft as they came, what they should doe to haue life, and what they should obserue to auoyd punishment.

22 Neuertheless, they were not obedient vnto him, but spake against him, and imagined vaine things, 23 And deceiued themselves by their wicked deedes, and denied the power of the most High, and regarded not his wayes.

24 But they despised his law, and refused his promises: they haue unfaithfully broken his ordinances, and haue not performed his works.

25 And therefore, Elias, vnto the emptye are emptye things, and to the full, full things.

26 Behold, the tyme shall come, that these tokens which I haue tolde thee, shall come to passe, and the bride shall appeare, and shee shall come fourth, and be seene that now is vnder the earth.

27 And whosoer shall escape these euils, hee shall see my wonders.

28 For my sonne Iesus shall appeare with those that be with him, and they that remaine, shall reioyce within foure hundred yeeres.

29 After these same yeeres shall my sonne Christ die, and all men that haue life.

30 And the worlde shall be turned into the old silence for seuen dayes, as in the fore iudgements, so that no man shall remaine.

31 But after seuen dayes, the worlde that is yet asleepe, shall be rayled vp: and that shall die, that is corrupt.

32 Then the earth shall restore those, that haue slept in her, and so shall the dust those that dwell therein in silence, and the secret places shall deliuer the soules that were committed vnto them.

33 And the most High shall appeare vpon the seate of iudgement, and miseries shall vanishe away, and long suffering shall haue an ende.

34 Justice onely shall continue: the truely shall remaine, and faith shall be strong.

35 The worke shall follow, and the rewarde shall be shewed: the good deedes shall be of force, and vnrightheousnesse shall beare no more rule.

36 Then sayd I, * Abraham prayed first for the Sodomites, and * Moyses for the fathers that sinned in the wilderness:

37 And they that came after him, for Israel in the time of Ahas and Samuel,

38 And * Dauid for the destruction, * and Salomon for them that came into the Sanctu-aric,

39 * And Elias for those that receiued raine, and for the dead that he might liue, 40 And * Ezechias for the people in the time of Sennacherib, and diuers others for many.

41 Euen so now, seeing vice is increased, and wickednesse aboundeth, and the righteous haue prayed for the vngodly, wherefore shall not the same effect follow alio now?

42 Then he answered mee, and sayd, This present life is not the end, oft times honour is retained in it: therefore haue they prayed for the weake.

43 But the day of iudgement shall be the end of this worlde, and the beginning of the immortalitie to come, wherein all corruption shall cease.

44 Intemperancie shall passe away: incontinencie shall be cut off: righteousnesse shall grow vp; and the veritie shall liue vp.

45 Then shall no man be able to saue him that is destroyed, nor oppresse him that hath gotten the victorie.

46 I answered then, and sayd, This is my selfe and last saying, that it had bene better not to haue giuen the earth vnto Adam, or when it was giuen him, to haue kept him that hee should not haue sinned.

47 For what profit is it for men in this present life to be in heauinesse, and after death to feare punishment?

48 O Adam, what hast thou done? * for in that that thou hast sinned, thou art not fallen alone, but the fall also redoundeth vnto vs that come of thee.

49 For what profit is it vnto vs, if there be promised an immortal life, when wee doe the works that bring death?

50 And that an euertlasting hope should be promised vs, seeing that wee beid our selues to deadly nauitie?

51 And that there should be appointed vs dwellings of health and safete, if wee haue liued wickedly?

52 And that the glory of the most High should be kept to defend them which haue led a patient life, if wee haue walked in the wicked wayes?

53 And that an eternal Paradise should be shewed, whose fruit remaineth incorruptible, wherein is safete and health, if wee will not enter into it?

54 (For we haue bene conuertant in vnclean places.)

55 And that the faces of them, which haue abstained abstained, should shine more then Carres, if our faces be blacker then Darkenesse?

56 For while we lived, we did not remember when we did unrighteously, that we should suffer after death.

57 Then answered he me, and sayd, This is the maner of the battell, which man, that is bozne in the earth shall fight.

58 That if he be overcome, he should suffer as thou hast sayd, but if he get the victoey, he should receive the thing that I sayd.

59 For this is the life whereof Moses spake unto the people, while he lived, saying, * Thus thee life that thou mayst live.

60 Neither the lesse they beleened him not, neither the Prophets after him, nor me also which have sayd unto them, 61 That heavynesse should not so bee to their destruction, as toy should come unto them, to whome saluation is perswaded.

62 I answered then and said, I know, Lord, that the most high is called mercifull, in that he hath mercy vpon them, which are not yet come to that world,

63 And that he hath pittie on those that walke in his Law,

64 And that * hee is patient: for he long suffereth those that haue sinned as his creatures,

65 And that he is liberall: for he will giue as much as needeth,

66 And that he is of great mercie: for he overcometh in mercie those that are present, and that are past, and them which are to come.

67 For if hee were not abundant in his mercies, the world could not continue, nor they that haue the possession thereof.

68 He pardoneth also: for if he gaue not of his goodnesse, that they which haue done euill might be releued from their wickednesse, the ten thousand part of men should not remaine alive.

69 And if he, being iudge, forgaueth not those that he healed with his worde, and tooke away the multitude of sinnes, 70 There should peradventure bee very fewe left in an vnnumerable multitude.

C H A P. VIII.

1 The number of the godly is small. 6 The workes of God are excellent. 20 Esdras prayer for him and for his people. 30 The promise of saluation to the iust. 35 The destruction of the uniuers.

And he answered me, saying, The most high A made this world for many, but the world to come for fewe.

2 I will tell thee a similitude, O Esdras. As when thou askest the earth, it shall say vnto thee that it giueth much earthy matter to make pots, but litle dust that gold cometh of, so is it with the worke of this world.

3 * There be many created, but fewe shall bee saved.

4 Then answered I, and sayd; Then swallowed by the wit, O my soule, and deuoure vnderstanding.

5 For thou hast promised to heare, and thou wilt prophesie: for thou hast no longer space, but the life giuen thee.

6 O Lord, if thou sufferest not thy seruant, that we may entreat thee, that thou mayest giue seed vnto our heart, and prepare our vnderstanding, that there may come fruit of it, whereby euery one which is corrupt, may liue, who sawest him selve for man?

7 For thou art alone, & we all are one workmanship of thy handes as thou hast sayd.

8 For when the body is fashioned now in the wombe, as thou hast giuen it members, thy creature is preserved by fire & water, and the worke created by thee, doeth suffer nine moneths the creature, which is fashioned in it.

9 But the thing that containeth, and that which is contained, shall both be preserved, and when time is come, the wombe, being preserved, deliuereth the things that grew in it.

10 For thou hast commanded the members, euen the breasts, to giue milke vnto the fruit appointed to the breasts, 11 That the thing, which is created, may be nourished for a time, till thou disposest it to thy mercie.

12 Thou bringest it vp with thy righteoussnesse, nurrest it in thy lawe, and repossess it with thy iudgement.

13 Thou layest it as thy creature, and giuest it life as thy worke.

14 Seeing then that thou destroyest him, which with so great labours is fashioned, it is an easie thing to appoint by thy commandement, that the thing also which is made, might be preserved.

15 Haue therefore, O Lord, I will speake (as touching men in general) thou shalt rather prouide) but concerning thy people, for whose sake I am soey, 16 And for thine inheritance, for whose cause I mourne: for Israel, for whome I am wofull, and for Jacob, for whose sake I am grieved.

17 For them will I pray before thee, as well for my selfe as for them: for I see our faults that dwell in the land.

18 * But I haue heard the sudden coming of the iudge, which is to come.

19 Therefore heare my voice, and vnderstand my words which I will speake before thee. The beginning of the words of Esdras, before he was taken by:

20 O Loide, that liuest for euer, which beholdest from aboue that which is aboue, and in the ayre,

21 Whose thronne is inestimable, and his glorie incomprehensible, before whome the host of the Angels stand with trembling,

22 Whose keeping is turned in winde and fire, whose worde is true, and sayings stedfast, whose commandement is strong, and gouernement terrible,

23 Whose looke dyeth by the depths, and reach maketh the mountains to melt away as the thing beareth witnesse, 24 Heare the prayer of thy seruant, and recelue into thine eares the petition of thy creature.

25 For while I liue, I will speake, and so long as I haue vnderstanding, I will answer.

26 Look not vpon the finnes of thy people, rather then thy faithfull seruantes.

27 Haue not respect vnto the wicked deedes of men, rather then to them that haue thy testimonies in afflictions.

28 Thinke not vpon those that haue walked faintly before thee, but remember them that reuerence thy will,

29 Let it not bee thy will to destroy them, which haue liued like beasts, but looke vpon them that haue clearly taught thy Law.

30 Take not displeasure with them, which appeare worke then beasts, but loue them, that alway put their trust in thy righteousnesse and gloze.

31 For we and our fathers haue all the same sicknesses, but because of vs that are sinners, thou shalt be called mercifull.

32 If therefore thou wilt haue mercie vpon vs, thou shalt bee called mercifull towards vs which haue no workes of righteousnesse.

33 For the righteous, which haue laud by many good workes, let them receive the reward of their owne deeds.

34 But what is man, that thou shouldst take displeasure at him? or what is this mortall generation, that thou shouldst bee so grieued towards it?

35 *For verely there is no man among them that be borne, but hee hath done wickedly, nor any that both confesse thee, which hath not done amisse.

36 For in this, O Lord, thy righteousnesse and thy goodnesse shalbe praised, if thou be mercifull vnto them, which haue not the substance of good workes.

37 Then answered he me, and said, Some things hast thou spoken aright, and according to thy words it shall be.

38 For I will not verely consider the workes of them, before the death, before the iudgement, before the destruction:

39 But * I will reioyce in the wayes of the righteous, and I wil remember the pilgrimage, the saluation, & the rewards that they shall haue.

40 Like as I haue spoken now, so shall it come to passe.

41 For as the husbandman soweth much seed vpon the ground, and planteth many trees, and yet alway the thing that is sowed, commeth not by in time, neither yet doeth all that is planted, take roote: so neither shall they all that are brought into the world, be saved.

42 I answered then & said, If I haue found grace, let me speake.

43 Like as the husbandmans seede perissheth, if it come not vp, and receiue not raine in due season, or if it bee destroyed with too much raine:

44 So perissheth man which is created with thine hands, and thou art called his paterne, because he is created to thine image, for whose sake thou hast made al things, and likened him vnto the husbandmans seed.

45 Bee not wroth with vs, O Lord, but spare thy people, and haue mercy vpon thine inheritance: for thou wilt be mercifull vnto thy creature.

46 Then answered he me, & said, The things present are for the present, & the things to come for such as be to come.

47 For thou art farre off, that thou shouldst loue my creature aboue me: but I haue oft times drawn neere vnto thee and vnto it, but neuer to the vnrightheous.

48 In this also art thou marueilous before the Wisest.

49 In that thou hast humbled thy selfe, as it becommeth thee, and hast not iudged thy selfe worthy to boast thy selfe greatly among the righteous.

50 For many miseries & calamities remaine for them, that shall liue in the latter time, because they shall walke in great pride.

51 But learne thou for thy selfe, and seeke out the gloze for such as be like vnto thee.

52 For vnto you is paradise opened: the tree of life is planted: the tune to come is prepared, plenteousnesse made ready: the citie is builded: and rest is prepared, perfect goodnesse and absolute wisdom.

53 The root of euil is sealed by from you: the weaknesse and moth is destroyed from you, and into hell fleeth corruption to be forgotten.

54 Sorowes are banished away, and in the end is shewed the treasure of immortallitie.

55 Therefore aske thou no more questions concerning the multitude of them that perish:

56 For when they had libertie, they despised the most High: they contemned his Law, and forsooke his wayes.

57 Whereouer, they haue troden downe his righteousnesse,

58 *Saying in their heart, that there was no God, though they knew that they should die.

59 For as the thing that I haue spoken of, is made ready for you: so is christ & paine prepared for the: for God would not that man should perish.

60 But they, after that they were created, haue defiled the name of him that made them, and are vnthankfull vnto him, which prepared life for them.

61 Therefore my iudgement is now at hand.

62 These things haue I not shewed vnto all men, but vnto thee, and to a few like thee: then I answered, and sayd, 63 Behold now, O Lord: thou hast shewed me the many wonders, which thou art determined to doe in the last time, but in what time, thou hast not shewed me.

He answered me then, and said, Measure the time with it selfe, and when thou seest that one part of the tokens come to passe, which I haue told thee before,

2 Then shalt thou vnderstand, that it is the time wherein the most High will begin to vltimate the world which he made.

3 Therefore when there shall bee seene an earthquake in the world, and an vproze of the people,

4 Then shalt thou vnderstand that the most High spake of those things, from the dayes that were before thee, euen from the beginning.

5 For as all that is made in the world, hath a beginning and an end, & the end is manifest:

6 So the times also of the most High haue plaine beginnings in wonders and signes, and end in effect and miracles.

9 Then shall they haue pittie of themselves, which now haue abused my wayes: and they that haue cast them out despitely, shall dwell in paines.

10 For such as in their life haue receiued benefites, and haue not knowen me,

11 But haue abhorred my law, while they were yet in libertie, and when they had yet pleasure of amendment, and would not vnderstand but despised it,

12 They must be taught it after death by paine.

13 And therefore be thou no more carefull, to know how the wicked shall be punished, but inquire how the righteous shall be saved, & whole the world is, and for whom it is, and when.

14 Then answered I, and sayd,

15 I haue afoze sayd that which I say now and will speake it hereafter, that there be many moe of them which perish, then of them that shal be saved,

16 As the flood is greater then a drop.

17 And he answered me, saying, As the field is, so is also the seed: as the flowers be, so are the colours also: such as the workeman is, such is his worke: and as the husbandman is, so is his husbandry: for it was the tunc of the world.

18 Surely when I prepared the world, which was not yet made for them to dwell in that now tunc, no man spake against me.

19 For then every one obeyed, but now the maners of them that are created in this world, that is made, are corrupted by a perpetuall seed, and by a law, whereout they cannot rid themselves.

20 So I considered the world, and behold, there was perill, because of the deuises, that were sprung vp into it.

21 Per when I saw it, I spared it greatly, and haue kept me one graps of the cluster, and a plant out of a great people.

22 Let therefore the multitude perish, which are bozne in vaine: and let my grape bee kept, and my plant, which I haue dressed with great labour.

23 Remember theesse, if thou wilt cease seuen dayes moe (but thou shalt not fast in them,

24 But shalt goe into a faire field, where no house is builded, and shalt eat onely of the flowers of the field, and eat no flesh, nor drinke wine, but the flowers onely,

25 And pray vnto the most High continually) then will I come, and talke with thee.

26 So I went my way, as he had commanded me, into the field, which is called Ardath, and there I late among the floures, and did eat of the herbes of the field, and the meate of the same satisfied me.

27 And after seuen dayes, as I late vpon the grasse, and my heart was vexed with him mee, as afoze,

28 I opened my mouth, and began to talke before the most High, and to say,

29 O Lord, when thou wouldest shew thy selfe vnto vs, * thou declaredst thy selfe vnto our fathers in the wildernesse, in a place where no man dwelleth, in a barren place, when they came out of Egypt,

30 And expressly spake vnto them, saying, Heare me, O Israel, and marke my words, thou seed of Jacob.

31 For behold, I sowe my law in you, that it may bring forth fruit in you, and that ye may be honoured by it for euer.

32 But our fathers which received the Law, kept it not, neither obserued thine ordinances, neither did the fruit of the Law appeare, neither could it, for it was thine.

33 * For they that received it, perished because they kept not the thing that was sown in them.

34 And loe, it is a custome when the ground receiueh seed, of the sea a ship, or a vessel meate and drinke, if that perish wherein a thing is sown, or where in any thing is put,

35 Likewise the thing that is sown, or is put therein, and the things that are receiued, inuit perish: so the things that are receiued, doe not remaine with vs: but in vs it commeth not so to passe.

36 For wee that haue received the Law, perish in unne, & our heart also which received it:

37 But the Law perisheth not, but remaineth in his force.

38 And when I spake these things in mine heart, I looked about mee, and vpon the right side * I saw a woman, which mourned loue, and lamented with a loud voyce, and was grieved in heart, and rent her clothes, and she had ashes vpon her head.

39 Then I left my thoughts, wherein I was occupied, and turned me vnto her, 40 And sayd vnto her, Wherefore weepest thou? why art thou so sory in mind?

41 And she said vnto me, Sir, let me alone, that I may bewaile my selfe, and increase sorrow: for I am sore vexed in my mind, & brought very low.

42 Then I sayd vnto her, What aileth thee? tell me.

43 And she sayd to mee, I thy seruant haue bene barren, and haue had no child, hauing an husband thirtie yeres.

44 And every houre, & every day these thirtie yeres I pray to the most High day and night.

45 And after thirtie yeres God heard mee thine handmayd, and looked vpon my misery, considered my trouble, and gaue me a sonne, and I was glad of him: so was mine husband ails, and all they of my countrey, and we gaue great honour vnto the Almighty.

46 And I nourished him with great trouble.

47 So when hee grew vp, and came to take a wife, I made a feast.

field as thou seest,

4 And am not purposed to returne into the citie, but to remaine here, and neither to eate nor drinke, but continually to mourne and fast, untill I die.

5 Then left I my purpose wherein I was, and spake to her angrily, and said,

6 Thou foolish woman above all other, seest thou not our heavinesse, and what cometh vnto vs?

7 For Zion our mother is all woefull, and is sore afflicted, and mourneth extremely.

8 Seeing wee be all now in heavinesse, and make our moene (for we be all sorrowfull) art thou soire for our lonne?

9 Demand the earth, and shee shall tell thee that it is shee which ought to mourne for the fall of so many that grow vpon her.

10 For from the beginning, all men are borne of her, and other shall come, and behold, they walke almost all into destruction, and the multitude of them shall be destroyed.

11 Who should then rather mourne, shee that hath lost so great a multitude, or thou which art soire but for one?

12 But if thou wouldest say vnto mee, My mourning is not like the mourning of the earth (for I haue lost the fruite of my wombe, which I brought forth with heavinesse, and bare with sorowes, 13 But the earth is according to the maner of the earth, and the present multitude returneth into her as it came)

14 Then say I vnto thee. As thou hast borne with trauell, so the earth also from the beginning giueth her fruite vnto man, euen to him that laboured her.

15 Now therefore withhold thy sorow in thy selfe, and beare constantly that which cometh vnto thee.

16 For if thou allowest Gods purpose, and receivest his counsell in time, thou shalt be commended therein.

17 Goe thy way then into the citie to thine husband.

18 Then she said vnto me, I will not, I will not goe into the citie, but here will I die.

19 So I continued to speake more with her, and said, 20 Doe not so, but be counsell'd: for how many fall'es hath Zion? Be of good comfort, because of the sorow of Jerusalem.

21 For thou seest that our Sanctuarie is laide waste: our altar is broken downe: our Temple is destroyed.

22 Our Altarion is fainteth, and the song ceaseth, and our mirth is vanished away, and the light of our candlesticke is quenched, and the Arke of our Covenant is taken away, and our holy things are defiled, and the flame that is called vpon ouer vs, is almost dishonoured, and our children are put to shame, and our Priestes are burnt, and our Leuites are called into captiuitie, and our virgins are defiled, and our wines vanishes, and our righteous men spoyled, and our children destroyed, and our young men are brought in bondage, and our strong men are become weak.

23 And, which is the greatest of all, Zion the scale hath lost her worship: for shee is deliuered into the hands of them that hate vs.

24 And therfore shake off thy great heavinesse, and put away the multitude of sorowes, that the Almighty may be mercifull vnto thee and that the most high may giue thee rest and ease from thy labour.

25 And when I was talking with her, her face and beautie shined suddenly, and her countenance was bright, so that I was afraid of her, and mused what it might be.

26 And behold, immediately she cast out a great voice, very fearefull, so that the earth shooke at the noyse of the woman.

27 And I looked, and behold, the woman appeared vnto mee no more: but there was a citie builded, and a place was shewed from the ground and foundation. Then was I afraid, and cried with a loud voice, and said, 28 Where is Ariel the Angel * which came to me at the first? for he hath caused mee to come into many and deepe considerations, and mine end is turned into corruption, and my prayer to rebuke.

29 And as I was speaking these words, behold, he came vnto me, and looked vpon me.

30 And for, I lay as one dead, and mine vnderstanding was altered, and he took me by the right hand and comforted mee, and set mee vpon my feete, and said vnto me.

31 What aileth thee? and why is thine vnderstanding yeerd? and the vnderstanding of thine heart? and wherefore art thou soire?

32 And I said, Because thou hast forsaken mee, and I haue done * according vnto thy wordes: I went into the fieldes, and there haue I seene things, and see that I am not able to expresse.

33 Then said hee vnto me, Stand by manly, and I will giue thee exhortation.

34 Then said I, Speake vnto mee, my Lord, and forsake me not, lest I die through rashnesse.

35 For I haue seene that I knew not, and heare that I doe not know.

36 D<sup>r</sup> is mine vnderstanding deceued, or doeth my minde being haule, erre?

37 Now therefore, I beseech thee, that thou wilt shew thy seruant of this wonder.

38 Then he answered me, and said, Heare me, and I will enforme thee, and tell thee wherefore thou art afraid: for the most high hath cruciell many secret things vnto thee.

39 Hee hath seene thy good purpose, that thou art soire continually for thy people, and makest great lamentation for Zion.

40 This therfore is the vnderstanding of the vision, which appeared vnto thee a litle while agoe.

41 Thou sawest a woman mourning, and thou beganest to comfort her.

42 But now seest thou the likenesse of the woman no more, but there appeared vnto thee a citie builded.

43 And whereas shee told thee of the death of her sonne, this is the solution,

44 This woman, which thou sawest, shee is Zion: and where as she told thee (euen she which thou seest now a citie builded)

45 And as teaching that shee said vnto thee, that she was barren thirtie yeeres, this was concerning that there was euen thirtie yeeres wherein there was no offering offered in her.

46 But after thirtie yeeres, Salomon built the titie, and offered offerings: then bare the barren a sonne.

47 And whereas shee told thee, that the nourished him with labour, that was the inhabiting of Ierusalem.

48 But whereas shee told thee that her sonne, as his chance was, died when shee came into her chamber, that is the fall that is come to Ierusalem.

49 And when thou sawest her like one that mourned for her sonne, thou beganest to comfort her: of these things whych haue chanced, these are to be opened vnto thee.

50 For nowe the most High seeth, that thou art soyle in thy mind, & because thou sufferest with all thine heart for her, hee shewed thee the cleaue-ness of her glory, and the fairenesse of her beautie.

51 And therefore I bade thee remaine in the field where no house was built.

52 For I knew that the most High would shew these things vnto thee.

53 Wherefore I comanded thee to go into the field, where no foundation nor building is.

54 For the worke of mans building cannot stand in that place where the Witte of the most High should be shewed.

55 And therefore feare not, neither let thine heart be afraid, but goe in, and see the beautie and greatnesse of the building as much as thou art able to see with thine eyes.

56 And after this shalt thou heare as much as thine eares may comprehend.

57 For thou art blessed aboue many, and art called with the most High among the few.

58 But to morow at night thou shalt remaine here.

59 And the most High shall shew thee visions of high things, which the most High will doe vnto them that dwell vpon earth, in the last dayes. So I slept the same night and another, as he had commanded me.

CHAP. XI.

1 The vision of an Eagle coming forth of the sea, and of her feathers. 37 Of a Lion coming out of the Forrest.

When saw I a dreame, and behold, there came vp from the sea an Eagle, which had twelue feathered wings, and three heads.

2 And I saw, and behold, she spread her wings ouer all the earth, and all the windes of the ayre blew on her, and gathered themselves.

3 And I beheld, and out of her feathers grew out other contrarie feathers, and they became little feathers and small.

4 But her heads remained still, and the head in the mids was greater then the other heads, yet rested it with them.

5 Moreover, I saw that the eagle flew with his feathers, and reigned vpon earth, and ouer them that dwell therein.

6 And I sawe that all things vnder heauen were subiect vnto her, and no man spake against her, nor not one creature vpon earth.

7 I saw also that the eagle stood vp vpon her clawes, and spake to her feathers, saying,

8 March not all together: sleepe euery one in his owne place, and watch by course.

9 But let the heads be preferred for the last.

10 Nevertheless, I saw that the boye went not out of her heads, but from the middes of her body.

11 Then I numbered her contrarie feathers, and behold, there were eight of them.

12 And I looked, and behold, vpon the right side there arose one feather, and reigned ouer all the earth.

13 And when it had reigned, the ende of it came, and the place thereof appeared no more. So the next stood vp, and reigned: it continued a long time.

14 And when it had reigned, the ende of it came also, and as the first, so it appeared no more.

15 Then there came a voice vnto it, and said,

16 Heare thou that shalt keep the earth so long: this I say vnto thee, before thou beganest to appeare no more.

17 There that none after thee attaine vnto thy time, neither to the halfe thereof.

18 Then arose the third, and reigned as the other afore, and it appeared no more also.

19 So came it to all the others one after another, so that euery one reigned, and then appeared no more.

20 Then I looked, and behold, in processe of time the feathers that followed, stood vp on the right side, that they might rule also, and some of them ruled, but within a while they appeared no more.

21 For some of them were set vp, but ruled not.

22 After this I looked, and behold, the twelue feathers appeared no more, nor the two wings.

23 And there was no more vpon the eagles body, but two heads that rested, and sixe wings.

24 Then saw I also, that two wings diuided themselves from the fire, and remained vnder the head that was vpon the right side: for the foure continued in their place.

25 So I looked, and behold, the vnderwings thought to set by themselves, and to haue the rule.

26 Then was there one set vp, but shortly it appeared no more.

27 And the second were sooner gone then the first.

28 Then I beheld, and so, the two that remained, thought also in themselves to reigne.

29 And when they so thought, behold, there awaked one of the heads that were at rest, which was in the mids: for that was greater then the two.

30 And then I sawe that the two heads were loyned therewith.

31 And behold, the head was turned with them, that were with it, and did eat by the two vnderwings that would haue reigned.

32 But this head put the whole earth in feare, and bare rule in it, ouer all those that dwell vpon earth, with much labour, and it had the gouernance of the world, more then all the wings that had beene.

33 After this I looked, and behold, the head that was in the mids, suddenly appeared no more, as did the wings.

34 But the two heads remained, which also ruled likewise vpon earth, and ouer those that dwelt therein.

35 And I beheld, and loe, the head vpon the right right side denoured it that was vpon the left side.

36 ¶ Then I heard a voyce which sayd vnto mee, Looke before thee, and consider the thing that thou seest.

37 So I saw, and beholde, as it were a lyon that roareth, running hastily out of the wood: and I saw that hee sent out a mans voyce vnto the Eagle, and spake, and sayd,

38 Heare thou, I will talke with thee, and the most High shall say vnto thee,

39 Art not thou that, that of the foure beasts remainest, whom I made to reigne in my world, that by them the ende of times might come,

40 And the fourth is come, and hath ouercome all the beasts that were past, and hath power over the world with great fearefulness, and ouer the whole compasse of the earth with most wicketed oppression, and that dwelleth so long time in all the world with deceit?

41 For thou hast not iudged the world with truth.

42 Seeing thou hast troubled the meeke, thou hast hurt the peaceable, and thou hast loued lyers, and destroyed the dwellings of them that brought forth fruit, and hast cast downe the walls of such as did thee no harme, 43 Therefore is thy wrongfull dealing come by vnto the most High, and thy pride vnto the Highest.

44 The most High also hath looked vpon the proud times, and beholde, they are ended, and their abominations are fulfilled.

45 Therefore appeare no more, thou Eagle, nor thine horrible wings, nor thy wicked feathers, nor thy malicious heads, and thy wicked clawes, nor all thy vaine body, 46 That all the earth may be refreshed, and come againe, as one deliuered from thy violence, and that thee may hope for the iudgement and mercie of him that made her.

CHAP. XII.

The declaration of the former visions.

AD when the Lion spake these words to the Eagle, I saw,

2 And beholde, the head that had the vpper hand appeared no more, neither did the foure wings appeare any more, that came to it, and set by themselves to reigne, whole kingdome was small and full of vprozes.

3 And I sawe, and beholde, they appeared no more, and the whole body of the Eagle was burnt, so that the earth was in great feare. Then I awaked out of the trouble and trance of my minde, and from the great feare, and sayd vnto my spirit, 4 Loe, this hast thou done vnto me in that thou searchest out the wayes of the most High.

5 Loe, yet am I weary in my mind, and very weak in my spirit, and little strength is there in me, for the great feare that I receiued this night.

6 Therefore now, will I beseech the most High, that he will comfort me vnto the end.

7 And I sayd, O Lord, Lord, if I haue found grace before thy sight, and if I am iustified with thee before many other, and if my prayer in dedde be come by before thy face,

8 Comfort me, and shewe me thy seruant the interpretation and difference of this horrible sight, that thou mayest perfectly comfort my soule,

9 Seeing thou hast iudged mee worthy to shewe me the last times.

10 ¶ Then he sayd vnto me, This is the interpretation of this vision, 11 The Eagle whom thou sawest come by from the sea, is the *kingdome which was seene in the vision of thy brother Dauid. Dan. 7. 3.

12 Now it was not expounded vnto him: therefore now I declare it vnto thee.

13 Behold, the dayes come, that there shall rise vpon a kingdome vpon the earth, and it shall be feared aboue all kingdomes that were before it.

14 In it shall twelue kings reigne one after another.

15 Whereof the second shall begin to reigne, and shall haue more time then the twelue.

16 And this doe the twelue wings signifie, which thou sawest.

17 As for the voyce that thou hearest speake, and that thou sawest not go out from the heads, but from the mids of the body thereof, this is the interpretation, 18 That after the time of that kingdome, there shall arise great strife, and it shall be in danger to fall, but it shall not then fall, but shall be restored againe to his beginning.

19 Concerning the eight vnderwings, which thou sawest hang vnto her wings, this is the interpretation, 20 In him shall arise eight kings, whose time shall be but small, and their yeeres swift, and two of them shall perish.

21 But when the mid time commeth, there shall be loure kept a time, whyles his time beginneth to come, that it may be ended, but two shall be kept vnto the end.

22 And whereas thou sawest three heads rising, this is the interpretation.

23 In his last dayes shall the most High raise by three kingdomes, and shall call againe many things into them, and they shall haue the dominion of earth,

24 And of those that dwell therein, with much griefe about all those that were before them: therefore are they called the heads of the Eagle:

25 For they shall accomplish his wickednesse and shall finish his last end.

26 And whereas thou sawest that the great head appeared no more, it signifieth that one of them shall die vpon his bedde, and yet with paine.

27 For the two that remaine, the sword shall deuoure them.

28 For the sword of the one shall deuoure the other: but at the last shall hee fall by the sworde himselfe.

29 And wheras thou sawest two vnderwings, that went off toward the head, which was on the right side, this is the interpretation, 30 These are they whom the most High hath preserved for that ende, whose kingdome is little, and full of trouble as thou sawest.

31 And the Lion whom thou sawest rising by out of the wood and roaring, and speaking vnto the Eagle, and rebuking her for her vnrigheteousnesse with all the wordes that thou hast heard,

32 This is the winde which the most High bath kept for them, and for their wickedneſſe vnto the ende, and he ſhall reprove them, and caſt beſore them their ſpoules.

33 For hee ſhall ſet them aloue in the iudgement, and ſhall rebuke them and correct them.

34 For he will deliuer the reſidue of my people by affliction, which are preferred vpon my borders, and he ſhall make them toſupfull, vntill the coming of the day of iudgement, whereof I haue ſpoken vnto thee from the beginning.

35 This is the dreame that thou ſaweſt, and theſe are the interpretations.

36 Thou onely haſt bene meete to know this ſecret of the moſt High.

37 Therefore write all theſe things that thou haſt ſeene in a booke, and hide them.

38 And teach them the wiſe of the people, whoſe hearts thou knoweſt may comprehend and keepe theſe ſecrets.

39 But waite thou here yet ſeuen dayes moe, that it may bee ſhewed thee whatſoener it pleaſeth the moſt High to declare vnto thee: & with that he went his way.

40 And when all the people perceiued, that the ſeuen dayes were paſt, and I not come againe into the citie, they gathered them altogether, from the leaſt vnto the moſt, and came vnto me, and ſpake vnto me, ſaying, 41 What haue we offended thee? or what euil haue we done againſt thee, that thou forſakeſt vs, and ſitteſt in this place?

42 For of all the people thou onely art left vs as a grape of the vine, and as a candle in a darke place, and as a hauen of ſhip preferred from the tempeſt.

43 Are not the euils which are come vnto vs, ſufficient?

44 If thou then forſake vs, how much better had it been for vs, that we had been burnt alſo as Sion was burnt?

45 For we are no better then they that dyed there: and they wept vnto a loude voyce. Then answered I them, and ſayd, 46 Be of good comfort, O Iſrael, and be not heary thou houſe of Iacob.

47 For the moſt High hath you in remembrance, and the Almighty hath not forgotten you in temptation.

48 As for me I haue not forſaken you, neither am I departed from you, but am come into this place to pray for the deſolation of Sion, that I might ſeeke mercie for the lowe eſtate of your ſanctuary.

49 And now goe your way home euery man, and after theſe dayes will I come vnto you.

50 So the people went their way into the citie as I commanded them:

41 But I remained ſtill in the ſeldes ſeuen dayes, as he had commanded mee, and did eaſe onely of the flowers of the ſeldes, and had my meate of the hearbes in thoſe dayes.

CHAP. XIII.

1 The viſion of a winde coming forth of the ſea,
3 Which became a man, 5 His propertie and power againſt his enemies. 21 The declaration of his viſion.

After the ſeuen dayes I dreamed a dreame by night.

2 And behold, there aroſe a wind from the ſea, and it moued all the waues thereof.

3 And I looked, and beholde, there was a mighty man with the thouſands of heauen: and when he turned his countenance to looke, all the things trembled that were ſeene vnder him.

4 And when the voyce went out of his mouth, all they burned that heard his voyce, as the earth ſaileth when it ſeeth the fire.

5 After theſe things I ſaw, and behold, there was gathered together a multitude of men out of number, fro the ſoure windeſ of the heauen, to fight againſt the man that came out from the ſea.

6 And I looked, and behold, he graued himſelfe a great mountaine, and ſlew vpon it.

7 But I would haue ſeene the countrey or place whereout the hill was grauen, and I could not.

8 I ſawe after theſe things, and behold, all they which came to fight againſt him were ſore afraid, and yet they durſt fight.

9 Nevertheless, when he ſaw the fierceneſſe of the multitude that came, he liſted not by his hand: for he held no ſwoorde nor any ſtrument of warre.

10 But onely, as I ſawe, hee ſent out of his mouth, as it had been a blaſt of fire, and out of his lips the winde of the flame, and out of his tongue he caſt out ſparkes and ſtormes.

11 And they were all mixt together, euen this blaſt of fire, the winde of the flame, and the great ſtorme, & fell with violence vpon the multitude which was prepared to fight, and burnt them vp all, ſo that of the innumerable multitude there was nothing ſeene, but onely duſt and ſmell of ſmoke, when I ſaw this, I was afraid.

12 Afterward ſawe I the ſame man come downe from the mountaine, and calling vnto him another peaceable multitude.

13 And there came many vnto him, ſome with ſoyfull countenance, and ſome with ſad: ſome of them were bound, and ſome brought of them that were offered: and I was ſicke through great feare, and awaked, and ſayd, 14 Thou haſt ſhewed thy ſeruant theſe wonders from the beginning, and haſt counted mee worthy to receive my prayer.

15 Shew me now theretoe the interpretations of this dreame.

16 For thus I conſider in mine vnderſtanding, Woe vnto them that ſhal be left in thoſe dayes, and much moze woe vnto them that are not left behind.

17 For they that were not left, were in beautieſſe.

18 Howe vnderſtand I the things that are layd by in the latter daies, which ſhall come both vnto them, and to thoſe that are left behind.

19 Therefore are they come into great perils, and many neceſſities, as theſe dreames declare.

20 Yet is it eaſier, that he that is in danger ſhould fall into theſe, and forſeke the things to come hereafter, then to paſſe away as a cloude out of the world.

21 When answered he me, and ſayd, The interpretation of the viſion will I ſhewe thee, and I will open to thee the thing that thou haſt required.

22 Whereas thou haſt ſpoken of them that are left behind, this is the interpretation.

23 He that ſhal beate the danger in that time, hee ſhall keepe himſelfe. They that bee fallen into danger, are ſuch as haue woked and ſaith faith toward the most mighty.

24 Know therefore, that they which bee left behind, are more blessed then they that be dead.

25 These are the meanings of the vision, whereas thou sawest a man coming vp from the mids of the sea, 26 The same is he whom the most High hath kept a great season, who by his owne lesse shall deliuer his creature, and he shall order them that are left behinde.

27 And whereas thou sawest, that out of his mouth there came as a blast with fire and storme,

28 And that hee neither held sword nor weapon, but that by his fiercenesse he destroyed the whole multitude that came to fight against him, this is the interpretation,

29 Beholde, the dayes come that the most High will begin to deliuer them that are vpon the earth:

30 And hee shall astonish the hearts of them that dwell vpon the earth:

31 And one shall prepare to fight against another, citie against citie, and place against place, * and nation against nation, and realme against realme.

32 When this commeth to passe, then shall the tokens come, that I shewed thee before, and then shall my sonne be reuealed, whom thou sawest goe vp as a man.

33 And when all the people heare his voyce, every man shall in their owne land leane the battell that they haue one against another.

34 And an innumerable multitude shall be gathered as one, as they that be willing to come, & to fight against him.

35 But he shall stand vpon the top of mount Sion.

36 And Sion shall come, and shall be shewed to all, being prepared and builded, as thou sawest the hill grauen sooth without any hands.

37 And this my sonne shall rebuke the wicked inventions of those nations, which for their wicked life are fallen into the tempest, 38 And into tormentes like to flame, whereby they shall be tormented: and without any labour will he destroy them euen by the Law, which is compared vnto the fire.

39 And whereas thou sawest that he gathered another peaceable people vnto him, 40 Those are the ten tribes which were carried away captiues out of their owne land * in the time of Deas the king, whom Salmanasar the king of the Assyrians tooke captiue, and carried them beyond the riuer: so were they brought into another land.

41 But they tooke this counsel to themselves, that they would leane the multitude of the heathen, and goe sooth into a further countrey, where neuer mankind dwelt,

42 That they might there keepe their statutes, which they neuer kept in their owne land.

43 And they entred in at the narrow passages of the riuer Euphrates.

44 For the most High then shewed them signes, * and stayed the springs of the flood till they were passed ouer

45 For thow the countrey there was a great iourney, euen of a peece and a halfe, and the same region is called || Ariaraty.

46 Then dwelt they there vntill the latter time: and when they come sooth againe, 47 The most High shall hold still the springs of the riuer againe, that they may goe thow: therefore sawest thou the multitude peaceable.

48 But they that be left behinde of thy people, are those that be found within my borders.

49 Now when hee destroyed the multitude of the nations that are gathered together, he shall defend the people that remaine.

50 And then shall he shew great wonders vnto them.

51 Then sayd I, O Lord, Lord, shew me this, wherefore haue I seene the man coming vp from the mids of the sea?

52 And hee sayd vnto me, As thou canst neither seeke out, nor know these things, that are in the deepe of the sea, so can no man vpon earth see my sonne, or those that bee with him, but in the time of that day.

53 This is the interpretation of the dreame which thou sawest, and whereby thou onely art lightened.

54 For thou hast forsaken thine owne lawe, and applied thy diligence vnto mine, and sought it.

55 Thy life hast thou ordered in wisdome, and hast called vnderstanding thy mother.

56 Therefore haue I shewed thee the rewards with the most High: and after these other dayes I will speake other things vnto thee, and will declare vnto thee great and wonderful things.

57 Then went I forth vnto the field, glorifying and praysing the most High for the wonders which hee did in time.

58 Which hee gouerneth, & such things as come in their seasons: and there I sate three dayes.

CHAP. XIII.

3 How God appeared to Moses in the bush. 10 All things decline to age. 15 The latter times worsten the former. 29 The ingratitude of Israell. 35 The resurrection and iudgement.

Vpon the third day I sate vnder an oke, and behold, there came sooth a voyce vnto mee out of the bush, and sayd, Eldias, Eldias.

2 And I sayd, Here am I, Lord, and stood vp vpon my feete.

3 Then sayd he vnto me, * In the bush I reuealed my selfe, and spake vnto Peoples, when my people serued in Egypt.

4 And I sent him, and led my people out of Egypt, and brought him vpon the nouent Sinai, and I held him with me a long season,

5 And I told him many wonders, & shewed him the secrets of the times and the ende, and commanded him, sayng,

6 These wordes shalt thou declare, and these shalt thou doe.

7 And now I lay vnto thee, that thou lay vp in thine heart the signes that I haue shewed, and the dreames that thou hast seene, and the interpretation: which thou hast heard.

8 For thou shalt be taken away from all, and thou shalt remaine henceforth with my counsell, and with such as be like thee, vntill the times be ended, 9 For the world hath lost his youth, and the times.

times begin to wake old.

10 For the world is diuided into twelue parts, and ten parts of it are gone already, and halfe of the tenth part.

11 And there remaineth that which is after the halfe of the tenth part.

12 Therefore let thine house in order, and reforme thy people, and comfort such of them as be in trouble, and now renounce the corruption.

13 Let goe from thee the mortall thoughts: cast away from thee the burdens of men, and put off now the weake nature, 14 And let alide thy most greivous thoughts, and haste thee to depart from these times.

15 For greater evils then these, which thou hast seene now, shall they commit.

16 For the weaker that the world is by reason of age, the more shall the evils bee increased vpon them that dwell therein.

17 For the truth is fled farre away, and lies at hand: for now haltereth the vision to come, that thou hast seene.

18 ¶ Then answered I, and sayd before thee,

19 Behold, O Lord, I will goe as thou hast commanded me, and reforme the people, which are present: but they that shall bee boyne afterward, who shall admonish them?

20 Thus the world is let in darkenesse, and they that dwell therein, are without light.

21 For thy Law is burnt, therefore no man knoweth the things that are done of thee, or the workes that shalbe done.

22 But if I haue found grace before thee, send the holy Ghost into mee, and I will write all that hath been done in the world since the beginning, which was written in thy Law, that men may find the path, and that they which will liue in the latter dayes, may liue.

23 And he answered me, saying, Goe and gather the people, and say vnto them, that they seeke thee not for forty dayes.

24 But prepare thee many booke tables, and take with thee these five, Sarta, Dabria, Selemtia, Ceanus, and Ahiel, which are ready to write swiftly, 25 And come hither, and I will light a candle of vnderstanding in thine heart, which shall not be put out, till the things be performed which thou shalt begin to write.

26 And then shalt thou declare some things openly vnto the perfect men, and some things shall thou shew secretly vnto the wise: to morrow this hour shalt thou begin to write.

27 Then went I forth, as be commanded me, and gathered all the people together, and said, 28 Heare these words, O Israel.

29 Our fathers at the beginning were strangers in Egypt, from whence they were deliuered,

30 And receiued the Law of life, which they kept not, which yee also haue transgressed after them.

31 Then was the land, euen the land of Sion parted among you by lot: but your fathers and yee also haue done vnrightrously, and haue not kept the wayes, which the most high commanded you.

32 And for so much as he is a righteous iudge, he tooke from you in time the thing that he had giuen you.

33 And now are ye here, and your brethren among you.

34 Therefore if so be that ye will subdue your owne vnderstanding, and reforme your heart, ye shalbe kept aliué, and after death ye shall obtaine inherite.

35 For after death shall the iudgement come, when wee shall liue againe: and then shall the names of the righteous bee manifest, and the workes of the vngodly shalbe declared.

36 Let no man therefore come now vnto mee, nor seeke me these forty dayes.

37 So I tooke the five men, as be commanded me; and we went into the field, and remained there.

38 The next day, behold, a voyce called me, saying, Esdras, open thy mouth, and drinke that I giue thee to drinke.

39 Then opened I my mouth, and beholde, he reached mee a full cup, which was full as it were with water: but the colour of it was like fire.

40 And I tooke it, and dranke, and when I had drunke it, mine heart had vnderstanding, and wisdome grew in my breast: for my spirit was strengthened in memory.

41 And my mouth was opened, and shut no more.

42 The most high gaue vnderstanding vnto the five men, that they wrote the high things of the night, which they vnderstood not.

43 But in the night they did eate bread, but I spake by day, and helde not my tongue by night.

44 In forty dayes, they wrote two hundred and foure bookes.

45 And when the forty dayes were fulfilled, the most high spake, saying, The first that thou hast written, publish openly, that the worthy and vnworthy may reade it.

46 But keep the tenety last, that thou mayest giue them to the wise among thy people.

47 For in them is the beine of vnderstanding, and the fountaine of wisdome, and the riner of knowledge: and I did so.

C H A P. XV.

1 The prophetic of Esdras is certaine. 5 The evils that shall come on the world. 9 The Lord will auenge the innocent blood. 12 Egypt shall lament. 16 Sedition 20 and punishment vpon the kings of the earth. 24 Cursed are they that sin. 29 Troubles and warres vpon the whole earth. 33 God is the reuenger of his elect.

Beholde, speake thou in the cares of my people the wordes of prophetic, which I will put in thy mouth, sayth the Lord:

2 And cause them to be written in a letter: for they are faithfull and true.

3 Feare not the imaginations against thee: let not the vnfaiethfulness of the speakers trouble thee, that spake against thee.

4 For euery vnfaiethfull shall die in his vnfaiethfulness.

5 Behold, sayth the Lord, I will bring plagues vpon all the world, the sword, famine, death and destruction.

6 Because that iniquity hath fully polluted all the earth, & their wicked workes are fulfilled.

7 Therefore, sayth the Lord, I will holde my tongue no more for their wickednesse, (they doe vngodly) neither will I suffer them in the things that they doe wickedly.

8 Behold,

Esdr. 3. 2.

Gen. 47. 4.

Acts 7. 53.

Reue. 6. 10.
and 19. 2.

8 Behold, * the innocent and righteous blood crieth vnto me, and the soules of the iust cry continually.

9 I will surely auenge them, saith the Lord, and receiue vnto me all the innocent blood from among them.

10 Behold, my people is led as a flocke to the slaughter: I will not suffer them now to dwell in the land of Egypt.

11 But I will bring them out with a mightie hand, and a stretched out arme, and smite it with plagues as afore, and will destroy all the land thereof.

12 Egypt shall mourne, and the plowdarsens thereof shall be smitten with the plague and punishment, that God shall bring vpon it.

13 The plowmen that till the ground, shall moune: for their seedes shall faile though the blasting and haile, and by an horrible scarre.

14 Cōe to the world, and to them that dwell therein.

15 For the sword, and their destruction draweth nere, and one people shall stand by to fight against another with swordes in their hands.

16 For there shall bee sedition among men, and one shall invade another: they shall not regarde their King, and the princes shall measure their doings by their power.

17 A man shall desire to goe into a citie, and shall not be able.

18 Because of their wilde the cities shall bee troubled, the houses shall bee afraide, men shall feare.

19 A man shall haue no plie vpon his neighbour, but shall destroy their houses with the sword, and their goods shall be spoyled for lacke of bread, and because of great trouble.

20 Behold, saith God, I call together all the Kings of the earth to reuence mee, which are from the East, and from the South, from the East, and from Libanus, to turne vpon them and to repay the things that they haue done to them.

21 As they doe yet this day vnto my chosen, so will I doe also, and recompene them in their besome: thus saith the Lord God, 22 My right hand shall not spare the sinners, neither shall the sword cease from them, that shed innocent blood vpon earth.

23 The fire is gone out from his wrath, and hath consumed the foundations of the earth, and the sinners like the straw that is kindled.

24 Cōe to them that sinne, and keepe not my commandements, saith the Lord.

25 I will not spare them: depart, O children, from the powder: besite not my Sanctuarie.

26 For the Lord knoweth all them that sinne against him, and therefore deliuereth hee them vnto death and destruction.

27 For now are the plagues come vpon the world, and ye shall remaine in them: for God will not deliue you, because yee haue sinned against him.

28 Behold, an horrible vision cometh from the East,

29 Where generations of dragons of Arabia shall come out with many chariots, and the multitude of them shall bee caried as the wind vpon the earth, that all they which heare them, may feare and tremble,

30 Euen the Carmanians raging in wrath, shall goe forth as the beares of the forest, and shall come with great power, and stand against them in battell, and shall destroy a portion of the land of the Assyrians.

31 But after this shall the dragons haue the vpper hand, and remember their nature, and shall turne about, and conspire to consume them with a great power.

32 Then these shall bee troubled, and keepe silence by their power, and shall flee.

33 From the land of the Assyrians shall the eunne bessege them, and consume some of them, and in their holse shall be feare and dread, and strife among their kings.

34 Behold clouds from the East, and from the North vnto the South, and they are very horrible to looke vpon, full of wrath and foyne.

35 They shall smite one vpon another: and they shall smite downe a great multitude of starres vpon the earth, euen their owne starre, and the blood shall bee from the sword vnto the belly, 36 And the dung of man vnto the Camels litter.

37 And there shall be great fearfulnesse and trembling vpon earth, and they that see the wrath, shall be afraide, and a trembling shall come vpon them.

38 And then there shall come great stormes from the South, and from the North, and part from the West.

39 And from the East shall winds arise, and shall open it with the cloud, which hee raised by in wrath, and the starre, raised to feare the East and West wind, shall be destroyed.

40 And the great and mightie clouds shall be lift vp full of wrath, and the starres that they may make all the earth afraide, and them that dwell therein, and that they may powce out ouer euery high place, and lifted by, an horrible constellation, 41 As fire and haile, and flying swordes, and many waters, that all fields may bee full, and all riuers with the abundance of great waters.

42 And they shall breake downe the cities, and wals and mountaines, and hills, and the trees of the wood, and the grasse of the meadowes, and their cone.

43 And they shall goe with a straight course vnto Babylon, and make it afraide.

44 They shall come to her and bessege her, and shall powce forth the constellation, and all the wrath against her: then shall the dust and smoke goe by vnto the heauen, and all they that be about her, shall bewaile her.

45 And they that remaine vnder her, shall doe seruice vnto them that haue put her in feare.

46 And thou Alia, that art partaker of the hope of Babylon, and the glorie of her person, 47 Cōe vnto thee, O wretch, because thou hast made thy selfe like vnto her, and hast deckt thy daughters in whozedom: that they might please and glorie in thy louers, which haue alway desired to committe whozedom with thee.

48 Thou hast followed her that is hated in all her works, and in her intentions: therefore saith God,

Or. West.

49 I will send plagues vpon thee, widow-hood, pouertie, and famine, and the sword, and pestilence, to waste thine houles with destruction and death.

50 And the glorie of thy power shall bee dried vp, as a flowe when the heate riseth, that is sent vpon thee.

51 Thou shalt bee sicke as a poore wife that is plagued and beaten of woomen. so that the mightie and the louers shall not be able to receiue thee.

52 Would I thus hate thee, saith the Lord,

53 If thou hadst not alway slaine my chosen, exalting the stroke of thine handes, and said ouer their death, when thou wast drunken,

54 Sett forth the beautie of thy countenance?

56 The reward of thy whoredome shall bee in thy bosome: therefore shalt thou receiue a reward.

56 As thou hast done vnto my chosen, saith the Lord, so will God doe vnto thee, and will deliuer thee vnto the plague.

57 And thy children shall die of hunger, and thou shalt fall by the sword, and thy cities shall be broken downe, and all the men shall fall by the sword in the field.

58 And they that bee in the mountaines, shall die of hunger, and eat their owne flesh, and drinke their owne blood for want of bread and thirst of water.

59 And thou, as vnhappie, shalt come thorow the Sea, and receiue plagues againe.

60 In the passage they shall cast downe the slaine citie, and shall roote out one part of thy land, and consume the portion of thy glorie, and shall returne to her that was destroyed.

61 When thou shalt be cast downe, thou shalt bee to them as stubble, and they shall be to thee as fire.

62 And they shall destroy thee, and thy cities, thy land, and thy mountaines: all thy woods and all thy fruitfull trees shall they burne with fire.

63 Thy children shall they carie away captiue, and shall spoyle thy substance, and marre the beautie of thy face.

CHAP. XVI.

1 Against Babylon, Asia, Egypt and Syria. 18. 38.

Of the euils that shall come vpon the world, with admonition how to gouerne themselves in afflictions. 54. To acknowledge their finnes, and to commit themselves to the Lord, 55 whose iudicium providence and iustice is to be reuerenced.

WDe to thee, Babylon, and Asia: woe to thee, Egypt and Syria.

2 Gird your selues with sacke and hate cloath, and mourne your children, and bee loze: for your destruction is at hand.

3 A sword is sent vnto you, and who will turne it backe: a fire is sent among you, and who will quench it?

4 Plagues are sent vnto you, and who can dilue them away?

5 May any man dilue away an hungry Lion in the wood? or quench the fire in stubble when it hath once begunne to burne? may one turne againe the arrow, that is shot of a strong archer?

6 The mightie Lord sendeth the plagues, and who can dilue them away? the fire is gone forth in his wrath, and who can quench it?

7 Hee shall cast lightnings, and who shall not feare? hee shall thunder, and who shall not be afraid?

8 The Lord shall threaten, and who shall not vicerly bee broken in peeces at his presence? the earth quaketh, and the foundation thereof: the sea ariseth by with waues from the deepe, and the waues thereof are troubled, and the fishes thereof, before the Lord and the glorie of his power.

9 For strong is his right hand, that bendeth the bow: his arrowes that he shooteth, are sharpe, and shall not misse, when they begin to be shot into the ends of the world.

10 Behold, the plagues are sent, and shall not turne againe till they come vpon the earth.

11 The fire is kindled, and shall not be put out till it consume the foundations of the earth.

12 As an arrow which is shotte of a mightie archer, returneth not backward, so the plagues that shall bee sent vpon earth, shall not turne againe.

13 Woe is me, woe is me: who will deliuer me in those dayes?

14 The beginning of sorowes, and great mourning: the beginning of famine, and great death: the beginning of warres, and the powers shall feare: the beginning of euils, and all shall tremble. What shall I doe in these things, when the plagues come?

15 Behold, famine, and plague, and trouble, and anguish are sent as scourges for amendement.

16 But for all these things they will not turne from their wickednesse, nor be alway mindfull of the scourges.

17 Behold, vntailes shalbe so good cheape vpon earth, that they shall thinke themselves to bee in good ease: but then shall the euils bud forth vpon earth, when the sword, the famine, and great confusion.

18 For many of them that dwell vpon earth, shall perishe with famine, and the other that escape the famine, shall the sword destroy.

19 And the dead shall be cast out as dung, and there shall bee no man to comfort them: for the earth shall bee wasted, and the cities shall be cast downe.

20 There shall be no man left to till the earth, and to sowe it: the trees shall giue fruit, but who shall gather them?

21 The grapes shalbe ripe, but who shall tread them: for all places shall bee desolate, so that one man shall desire to see another, or to heare his voyce.

22 For of one citie there shall bee ten left, and two of the field which shall hide themselves in the thicke woods, and in the clefts of rocks.

23 As when there remaine three or foure olives in the place where olives growe, or among other trees.

24 As when a vineyard is gathered, there are left some grapes of them that diligently sought thorow the vineyard:

25 So in those dayes there shall bee three or foure left by them that search their houles with the sword.

26 And the earth shall bee left waste, and the fields thereof shall waue olde, and her wayes and all her parbes shall grow full of thornes, because no man shall trauaile therethrough.

27 The virgins shall mourne, hauing no bridegromes: the women shall make lamentation hauing no husbands: their daughters shall mourne hauing no helpers.

28 In the warres shall their bridegromes be destroyed, and their husbands shall perish with famine.

29 But, yee seruants of the Lord, heare these things, and marke them.

30 Behold the word of the Lord, receiue it: beleue not the gods of whome the Lord speakech: behold, the plagues draw neere, and are not slacke.

31 And as a traouling woman, which in the ninth moneth bringeth forth her sonne, when the houre of birth is come, two or three houres afore the paines come vpon her body, and when the childe cometh to birth, they take not a whit:

32 So shall not the plagues be slacke to come vpon the earth, and the world shall mourne, and sorrowes shall come vpon it on euery side.

33 O my people, heare my word: make you ready to the battell, and in the troubles be euen as strangers vpon earth.

34 He that telleth, let him be as he that fleeth his way, and hee that heareth, as one that will lose:

35 Who so occupieth merchandise, as he that winneth not: and hee that buildeth, as hee that shall not dwell therein:

36 He that soweth, as one that shall not reape: he that cutteth the vine, as he that shall not gather the grapes:

37 They that marry, as they that shall get no children: and they that marry not, so as the widowes.

38 Therefore they that labour, labour in vaine.

39 For strangers shall reape their fruites, and spoyle their goodes, and ouerthrow their houses, and take their children captiue: for in captiuitie and famine shall they get their children.

40 And they that occupie their merchandise with conseruence, the more they decke their cities, their houses, their possessions, & their owne persons, 41 So much more will I be angry againt them, for their finnes, saith the Lord.

42 As a wopse enuiceth an honest and vertuous woman,

43 So shall righteousnes hate iniquitie, when she decketh herselfe, and shall accuse her openly, when she shall come that shall bidde the athonr of all sinne vpon earth.

44 And therefore be ye not like thereunto, nor to the workes thereof: for or euer it be long, iniquitie shall be taken away out of the earth, and righteousnesse shall reigne among you.

45 Let not the sinner say, that he hath not sinned: for condes of fire shall burne vpon his head, which saith, I haue not sinned before the Lord God and his glory.

46 Behold, the Lord knoweth all the workes of men, their imaginations, their thoughts, and their hearts.

47 For asloone as hee saith, Let the earth be made, it was made: let the heauen be made, and it was created.

48 By his word were the starres established, and he knoweth the number of them.

49 He searcheth the depth, and the treasures thereof: he hath measured the sea, and what it containeth.

50 He hath shut the sea in the middes of the waters, and with his word hath hee hangd the earth vpon the waters.

51 He spreadeth out the heauen like a vault: vpon the waters hath he founded it.

52 In the desert hath he made springes of water, and pooles vpon the top of the mountaines, to poure out floods from the high rocks to water the earth.

53 Hee made man, and put his heart in the middes of the body, and gaue him breath, life, and vnderstanding.

54 And the spirit of the almighty God, which made all things, and hath searched all the hidde things in the secrets of the earth, 55 Hee knoweth your inuentions, and what ye imagine in your heart when ye sinne & would hide your finnes.

56 Therefore hath the Lord searched and sought out all your workes, and will put you all to shame.

57 And when your finnes are brought forth before men, yee shall be confounded, and your owne finnes shall stand as your accusers in that day.

58 What will yee doe, or how will you hide your finnes before God and his Angels?

59 Beholde, God himselfe is the Iudge: feare him: cease from your finnes, and forgoe your iniquities, & meddle no more from henceforth with them: so shall God lead you forth, and deliuer you from all trouble.

60 For beholds, the heat of a great multitude is kindled againt you, and they shall take away certaine of you, and shall slay you for meate to the idoles.

61 And they that consent vnto them, shall be had in derision, and in reproch, and troden vnder foote.

62 For in euery place & cities that are neere, there shall be great inuersion againt these that feare the Lord.

63 They shall be like mad men: they shall spare none: they shall spoyle, and waste such as yet feare the Lord.

64 For they then shall waste and spoyle their goods, and cast them out of their houses.

65 Then shall the triall of my chosen appeare, as the gold is tryed by the fire.

66 Heare, O ye my beloved, saith the Lord, Behold, the dayes of trouble are at hand, but I will deliuer you from them: be not yee afraid, doubt not, for God is your captaine.

67 Who so keepech my commandments and precepts, saith the Lord God, let not your finnes weigh you downe, and let not your iniquities litte themselves vp.

68 Come vnto them that are bound with their finnes, and covered with their iniquities, as a field is hedged in with bushes, & the path thereof covered with thornes, whereby no man may trauell: it is shut vp, and is appointed to bee deuoured with fire.

CHAP. I.

1 Tobias parentage. 3 His godliness. 6 His equitie. 8 His charity and prosperity. 19 Hee fleeth, and his goods are confiscate. 22 And after restored.

The booke of the wordes of Tobit the sonne of Tobiel, the sonne of Ananai, the sonne of Rauel, the sonne of Gabael, of the seed of Asael, and of the tribe of Nephthalim.

2 Who in the time of Sennacherib King of the Assyrians was ledde away captiue out of Tishbe, which is at the right hand of that citie, which is called properly Nephthalim, in Galile about Aier.

3 I Tobias haue walked all my life long in the way of truth and Justice, and I did many things liberally to the brethren, which were of my nation, and came with mee to Ninene into the land of the Assyrians.

4 And when I was in mine owne countrey in the land of Israel, being but young, all the tribe of Nephthalim my father fell from the house of Ierusalem, which was chosen out of all the tribes of Israel, that all the tribes should sacrifice there, where the Temple of the Tabernacle of the most High was consecrated, and built by for all ages.

5 Now all the tribes which fell from God, yea, and my father Nephthalims house offered to the heifer called Baal.

6 But I (as it was ordeined to all Israel by an euerlasting decree) went alone often to Ierusalem, at the feastes, bringing the first fruits, and the tenths of beasts, with that which was first thorne, and offered them at the altar to the Priests the chyldren of Aaron.

7 The first tenth part I gaue to the Priests the sonnes of Aaron, which ministred in Ierusalem: the other tenth part I sold, and came and bestowed it euery yere at Ierusalem.

8 The thied tenth part I gaue vnto them to whom it was meete, as Deboza my fathers mother had commaunded me, for my father left me as a pupill.

9 Furthermore, when I was come to the age of a man, I married Anna of mine owne kindred, and of her I begate Tobias.

10 But when I was led captiue to Ninene, all my brethren, and those which were of my kindred, did eat of the bread of the Gentiles.

11 But I kept my selfe from eating,

12 Because I remembered God with all mine heart.

13 Therefore the most high gaue mee grace and fauour before Sennacherib, so that I was his purueio.

14 And I went into Media, and I deliuered tenne talents of siluer to Gabael, the brother of Gabrias in the land of Media.

15 But when Sennacherib was dead, Sennacherib his sonne reigned in his stead: whose state because it was troubled, I could not go into Media.

16 But in the time of Sennacherib, I gaue many almes to my brethren, and gaue my bread to them which were hungry,

17 And my clothes to the naked; and if I sawe any of my kindred dead, or cast about the walles of Ninene, I buried him.

18 And if the King Sennacherib had laine any, when he was come and fled from Iudea, I buried them punitly (for in his wrath he killed many) but the bodies were not found when they were sought for of the king.

19 Therefore when a certaine Nineneite had acculed mee to the King, because I did burie them, I hid my selfe: and because I knew that I was sought to be laine, I withdrew my selfe for feare.

20 Then all my goods were spoiled, neither was there any thing left mee besides my wife Anna, and my sonne Tobias.

21 Neertheles within five and fifty dayes two of his sonnes killed him, and they fled into the mountaines of Ararath, and Sarchedonus his sonne reigned in his stead, who appointed ouer his fathers accounts, and ouer all his domestikall affaires, Achiacharus my brother Anuels sonne.

22 And when Achiacharus had made a request for mee, I came againe to Ninene: how Achiacharus was cupbearer and keeper of the signet, and steward, and ouerlaw the accounts: So Sarchedonus appointed him next vnto him, and he was my brothers sonne.

CHAP. II.

2 Tobit calleth the faithfull to his table. 3 Hee leaueth the feast to burie the dead. 10 How he became blind. 13 His wife laboureth for her liuing. 14 Shee reprocherh him bitterly.

Now when I was come home againe, and my wife Anna was restored vnto mee with my sonne Tobias, in the feast of Pentecost, which is the holy feast of the seven weekes, there was a great dinner prepared me, in the which I ate downe to eate.

2 And when I saw abundance of meate, I sayd to my sonne, Soe, and bring what poore man soeuer thou shalt finde of my brethren, which doth remember God, and loe, I will taie for thee.

3 But he came againe, and sayd, Father, one of our nation is strangled, and is cast out in the market place.

4 Then before I had tasted any meate, I start vp, and brought him into mine house vntill the going downe of the Sonne.

5 Then I returned and washed, and ate my meat in heauinesse,

6 Remembering that prophesse of Amos which had sayd, Your solemn feastes shall be turned into mourning, and your ioyes into weeping.

7 Therefore I wept, and after the going downe of the Sonne I went and made a graue and buried him.

8 But my neighbours mocked me, and said, Doeth hee not feare to die for this cause, who fled away, and yet loe, hee burieth the dead againe?

9 The same night also when I returned from the buriall, and slept at the wall of mine house, because I was polluted, and hauing my face vncouered, 13 Which when it was at mine house, and began to bleat, I sayd vnto her, From whence is this kiddie? is it not stolen? render it to the owners: * for it is not lawfull to cate any thing that is stolen.

14 But she said, It was giuen for a gift more then the wages: but I did not beleue, and bade her to render it to the owners, and I did blush because of her. Furthermoze she sayd, Where are thine almes, and thy right counsell? behold, they all now appeare in thee.

CHAP. III.

3 The prayer of Tobit. 7 Sarra Razuels daughter and the things that came vnto her. 12 Her praier heard. 19 The Angel Raphael sent.

Then I being sorrowfull, did weep, & in my sorrow waied, saying,

2 O Lord, thou art iust, and all thy workes, and all thy waies are mercy and clemency, and thou iudgett truly and iustly for euery.

3 Remember me, and looke on mee, neyther punish me according to my sinnes or mine ignorances, or my fathers, which haue sinned befoze thee.

Deut. 28. 15. 37. Or, thy iudgements are many and true.

4 For they haue not obeyed thy commandements: wherefoze thou hast deliuered vs * for a spoyle, and vnto captiuitie, & to death, and for a Prouerbe of a reproch to all them among whom we are disperseed, and now yf thou hast many and iust causes,

5 To doe with mee according to my sinnes, and my fathers, because wee haue not kept thy commandements, neyther haue walked in trueth befoze thee.

6 Now therefore deale with me as seemeth best vnto thee, and commaund my spirit to bee taken from me, that I may be dissolued, and become earth: for it is better for me to die then to liue, because I haue heard false reproches, and am very sorrowfull: commaund therefore that I may be dissolued out of this distresse, and go into the euertlasting place: turne not thy face away from me.

Sarra is checked of her fathers maydes.

7 It came to passe the same Day that in Cebatane a citie of Media, Sarra the daughter of Raguel was also reproched by her fathers maydes,

8 Because shee had bene married to seuen husbands, whome Asinodens the euill spirit had killed befoze that they had ihen with her. Dooest thou not know, sayd they, that thou hast strangled thine husbandes? thou hast had now seuen husbandes, neyther wast thou named after any of them.

For when she beat them for their faults, they sayd,

9 Wherefoze doest thou beat vs for them? if they bee dead, goe thy wayes hence to them, that wee may neuer see of thee eyther sonne or daughter.

10 When shee heard these things, shee was very sorrowfull, so that she thought to haue strangled herselfe. And she said, I am the only daughter of my father, and if I do this, I shall slander him, and shall bring his age to the graue with sorrow.

11 Then she prayed toward the window, and said, Blessed art thou, O Lord my God, and thine holy and glorious name is blessed, and honourable for euery: let all thy workes praise thee for euery.

Sarra praieth and fasteth, that she may be deliuered from shame.

12 And now, O Lord, I see mine eyes, and my face toward thee, 13 And say, Take me out of the earth, that I may heare no more any reproch.

14 Thou knowest, O Lord, that I am pure from all shame with man,

The innocencie of Sarra. Her chastity.

15 And that I haue neuer polluted my name, nor the name of my father in the land of my captiuitie: I am the only daughter of my father, neither hath he any man child to bee his heire, neyther any y neere kinman or child borne of him, to whom I may keepe my selfe for a wife: my seuen husbands are now dead, & why should I liue? But if it please not thee that I should die, commaund to looke on me, & to pittie me, that I do no more heare reproch.

† Greek, nere brother.

16 So the prayers of them both were heard befoze the maiesty of the great God.

The prayers of Tobit and Sarra are heard both at a time.

17 And Raphael was sent to heale them both, that is, to take away the whiteness of Tobits eyes, and to giue Sarra the daughter of Raguel for a wife to Tobias the sonne of Tobit, and to bind Asinodens y euill spirit, because she belonged to Tobias by right. The selfesame time came Tobit home, and entered into his house, and Sarra the daughter of Raguel came downe from her chamber.

CHAP. IIII.

Precepts and exhortations of Tobit to his sonne.

1 In that day Tobit remembered * the iustice, which he had deliuered to Gabael in Rages a city of Media,

Chap. 1. 14.

2 And layde with himselfe, I haue wished for death: wherefoze doe I not call for my sonne Tobias that I may admonish him befoze I dye?

3 And when he had called him, he sayd, Why sonne, after that I am dead, bury me, and despise not thy mother, but * honour her all the dayes of thy life, and do that which shall please her, and anger her not.

Tobits exhortation to his sonne, when hee thought he should die.

4 Remember my sonne, how many dangers she susteineth, when thou wast in her wombe,

The mother is to be reuerenced. Exod. 20. 12. ecclus. 7. 27.

5 And when she dieth, bury her by mee in the same graue.

6 My sonne, let our Lord God alwayes befoze thine eyes, and let not thy will bee set to sinne, or to transgresse the commandements of God. Doe vprightly all thy life long, and follow not the wayes of vnrightheousnesse: for if thou deale cruelty, thy doings shall prosperously succede to thee, and to all them which liue iustly.

God must be in our hearts

7 Giue * almes of thy substance: and when thou giuest almes, let not thine eye bee enuious, neyther turne thy face from any poore; lest that God turne his face from thee.

Almes. Prover. 3. 9. ecclus 4. 1. & 14. 13. Luke 14. 13. Ecclus. 3. 35. 10.

8 * Giue almes according to thy substance: if thou haue but a little, be not afraid to giue a little almes.

9 For thou laicst by a good store for thy selfe, against the day of necessity.

10 * Because that almes doeth deliuer from deatch, and suffereth not to come into darknesse.

11 For almes is a good gift before: the most high to all them which use it.

12 Beware of all * whoredome, my sonne, and chesely take a wife of the seede of thy fathers, and take not a strange woman to wife, which is not of thy fathers stocke: for we are the children of the Prophets: Noe, Abraham, Isaac and Jacob are our fathers from the beginning. Remember, my sonne, that they married wives of their owne kindred, and were blessed in their children, and their seede shall inherit the land.

13 Now therefore, my sonne, lone thy brethren and despise not in thine heart thy brethren, the sonnes and daughters of thy people, in not taking a wife of them: for in pride is destruction, and much trouble, and in fiercenesse is scarcity and great pouerty: for fierceneffe is the mother of famine.

14 Let not the * wages of any man, which hath wrought for thee, tary with thee, but giue him it out of hand: for if thou serue God, he will also pay thee: bee circumspect, my sonne, in all things that thou doest, and be well instructed in all thy conuersation.

15 * Doe that to no man which thou hatest: drinke not wine to make thee drunken, neither let drunkennesse goe with thee in thy iourney.

16 * Giue of thy bread to the hungry, and of thy garments to them that are naked, and * of all thine abundance giue almes, and let not thine eye be enuious, when thou seekest almes.

17 * Howe eare thy bread on the buriall of the iust, but giue nothing to the wicked.

18 Take counsell alway of the wise, & despise not any counsell that is profitable.

19 Blesse thy Lord God alway, and desire of him that thy wayes may be made streight, & that all thy purposes & counsells may prosper: for euery nation hath not counsell: but the Lord giueth all good things, & he humbleth whom he will, as he will: now therefore, my sonne, remember my commandements, neither let them at any time be put out of thy mind.

20 * Furthermore, I signify this to thee, that I deliuered tenne talents to Sabacl the sonne of Gabiias at Rages in Media.

21 And feare not, my sonne, for as much as we are made poore: for thou hast many things, if thou feare God, and flee from all sinne, & do that thing which is acceptable vnto him.

CHAP. V.

Tobias sent to Rages. 4 Hee meeteth with the Angel Raphael which did conduct him.

22 When he came in, and they saluted one another.

23 Then Tobit said vnto him, Brother, shew me of what tribe and family thou art.

24 To whom he said, Doest thou seeke a stock or family, or an hired man to goe with thy sonne? Then Tobit said vnto him, I would know, whether, thy kindred and thy name.

25 Then he said, I am of the kindred of Azarias and Ananias the great, and of thy brethren.

26 Then Tobit saide, ¶ Thou art welcome, brother: be not now angry with mee, because I haue enquired to know thy kindred and thy family: for thou art my brother of an honest and good stocke: for I know Ananias and Ionathas, sonnes of that great Samaias: for we went together to Jerusalem to worship, and offered the first borne, and the tenths of the fruits, and they were not deceyved with the erreour of our brethren: my brother, thou art of a great stocke.

27 But tell me, what wages shall I giue thee? wilt thou a great a day, & things necessary, as to mine owne sonne?

28 Yea, moreouer, if ye retuene safe, I will adde something to the wages.

29 So they agreed. Then said he to Tobias, Prepare thy selfe for the iourney, and goe you on Gods name. And when his sonne had prepared all things for the iourney, his father sayd, Go thou with this man, & God which dwelleth in heauen, prosper your iourney, and the Angel of God keepe you company. So they went forth both, and departed, and the dog of the yong man with them.

30 ¶ Anna his mother wept, and sayd to Tobit, ¶ Why hast thou sent away our sonne? is he not the staffe of our hand to minister vnto vs?

31 Would to God wee had not layd money vpon money, but that it had bene cast away in respect of our sonne.

32 For that which God hath giuen vs to liue with, doth suffice vs.

33 Then sayd Tobit, Be not carefull, my sister: he shall retuene in safety, and thine eyes shall see him.

34 For the good Angel doth keepe him company, and his iourney shall be prosperous, and he shall retuene safe.

35 Then she made an end of weeping.

Tobias then answered, and sayde, Father, I will do all things which thou hast commanded me.

3 Then he gaue him the hand writing, and sayd vnto him, Seeke thee a man, which may goe with thee, whyles I yet liue, and I will giue him wages, and go and receiue the money.

4 Therefore when hee was gone to seeke a man, he found Raphael the Angel.

Pouerty with the feare of God.

As they went on their iourney, they came at night to the flood Tigris, and there abode.

2 And when the young man went to wash himselfe, a fish leaped out of the river, and would haue deuoured him.

3 Then the Angel sayd vnto him, Take the fish. And the young man took the fish, and drewe it to land.

4 To whom the Angel sayd, Cut the fish, and take the heart, and the liuer, and the gall, and put them vpon lincly.

5 So the young man did as the Angel commanded him: and when they had roasted the fish, they ate it: then they both went on their way, till they came to Ecbatane.

6 Then the young man sayd to the Angel, Brother Azarias, what auaileth the heart, and the liuer and gall of the fish?

7 And he sayd vnto him, Touching the heart and the liuer, if a deuill or an euill spirit trouble any man, we must make a perfume of this befoze the man or the woman, and hee shall be no more vexed.

8 As for the gall, annoint a man that hath whitenesse in his eyes, and hee shall be healed.

9 And when they were come nere to Rages,

10 The Angel sayd to the young man, Brother, to day we shall lodge with Raguel, who is thy cousin: he also hath one onely daughter named Sarra: I will speake for her that shee may be giuen thee for a wife.

11 For to thee doth the right of her pertaine, seeing thou alone art the remnant of her kinred.

12 And the maide is faire and wise: nowe therefore heare me, and I will speake to her father, that we may make the marriage when we are returned from Rages: for I know that Raguel cannot marrie her to another, according to the Law of Moses: els he should deserue death, because the right doth rather appertaine to thee then to any other man.

13 Then the young man answered the Angel, I haue heard, brother Azarias, that this mayde hath bene giuen to seven men, who all died in the marriage chamber.

14 And I am the onely begotten sonne of my father, and I am afraid least I go in to her, and die as the other befoze: for a wicked spirit lonerh her, which hurteth nobody, but those which come in to her: wherefore I also feare lest I die, and bring my fathers and my mothers life because of mee to the graue with sorrow: for they haue no other sonne to bury them.

15 Then the Angel sayd vnto him, Dost thou not remember the precepts which thy father gaue thee, that thou shouldst marry a wife of thine owne kinred? wherefore, heare me, O my brother: for she shall be thy wife, neither be thou carefull of the euill spirit: for this same night shall she be giuen thee in marriage.

16 And when thou shalt go into the marriage chamber, thou shalt take of the hote coales for perfumes, and make a perfume of the heart, and of the liuer of the fish,

17 Which if the spirit do smell, he will flee away, and neuer come againe any more: but when thou shalt come to her, rise vp both of you, & pray to God which is mercifull, who will haue pittie on you, and saue you: feare not, for she is appointed vnto thee from the beginning, and thou shalt keepe her, and hee shall goe with thee: moreover I suppose that she shall beare thee children: now when Tobias had heard these things, hee loued her, and his heart was effectually toynd to her.

CHAP. VII.

Tobias marrieth Sarra Raguels daughter.

As when they were come to Ecbatane, they came to the house of Raguel, & Sarra met them, and after they had saluted one another, she brought them into the house.

2 Then said Raguel to Edna his wife, How like is this young man to Tobit my cousin?

3 And Raguel asked, Whence are you, my brethren? To whom they sayd, that thy were of the tribe of Nephtalim, and of the captiues that dwelt at Babilene.

4 Then he said to them, Doe ye know Tobit our kinseman? And they sayd, Wee know him: Then sayd he, Is he in good health?

5 And they said, He is both aliue, and in good health: and Tobias sayd, He is my father.

6 Then Raguel leaped, & kissed him, & wept.

7 And blessed him, and sayd vnto him, Thou art the sonne of an honest & good man: but when he had heard that Tobit was blinde, he was sorrowfull, and wept.

8 And likewise Edna his wife, and Sarra his daughter wept. Moreover, they receiued them with a readie mind, & after that they had killed a ramme of the flocke, they set much meat on the table. Then sayd Tobias to Raphael, Brother Azarias, put sooth those things wherof thou speakest in the way, that this businesse may be dispatched.

9 So he communicated the matter with Raguel, and Raguel sayde to Tobias, Eat, and drinke, and make merry.

10 For it is meete that thou shouldst marry my daughter: neuertheless, I will declare vnto thee the truth.

11 I haue giuen my daughter in marriage to seven men, who died that night which they came in vnto her: neuertheless, be thou of a good courage and mery. But Tobias sayd, I wil eate nothing here, vntill ye bring her hither, and betroth her to me.

12 Raguel sayd then, Marry her then according to the custome: for thou art her cousin, and she is thine. God which is mercifull, make this prosperous to you in all good things.

13 Then he called his daughter Sarra, and shee came to her father, and he tooke her by the hand, and gaue her for wife to Tobias, saying, Beholde, take her after the Law of Moses, and leade her away to thy father: and hee blessed them, 14 And called his wife Edna, and he tooke a booke, and wrote a contract, and sealed it.

15 Then they began to eate.

16 After, Raguel called his wife Edna, and sayd vnto her, Sister prepare another chamber, and bring her in thither.

17 Which when shee had done, as he had bid den her, she brought her thither: then Sarra wept, and her mother wiped away her daughters teares,

18 And sayde vnto her, Be of good comfort, my daughter: the Lorde of heauen and earth

CHAP. VIII.

Tobias driueth away the euill spirit. He prayeth to God with his wife. 11 Raguel prepareth a graue for his sonne in law. 16 Raguel blesteth the Lord.

And when they had supped, they brought Tobias in vnto her.

2 And as he went, he remembered the words of Raphael, and tooke coales for perfumes, and put the heart and liuer of the fish thereupon, and made a perfume.

3 The which smell when the euill spirit had smelled, he fled into the furthest parts of Egypt, whom the Angel bound.

4 And after that they were both shut in, Tobias rose out of the bed, & sayd, Sister, arise and let vs pray, that God would haue pittie on vs.

5 Then beganne Tobias to say, Blessed art thou, O God of our fathers, and blessed is thine holy and glorious Name for euer: let the heauens blesse thee, and all thy creatures.

6 Thou madest Adam, and gauest him* Eua his wife for an helpe, and stay: of them came mankind: thou hast sayd, It is not good, that a man should be alone: let vs make vnto him an ayde like vnto himselfe.

7 And now, O Lord, I take not this my sister for fornication, but vpprightly: therefore grant me mercy, that we may become aged together.

8 And she sayd vnto him, Amen.

9 So they slept both that night, and Raguel arose, and went and made a graue.

10 Saying, Is not he dead also?

11 But when Raguel was come into his house,

12 He sayd to his wife Eua, Send one of the maides, and let them see whether he be alive: if not, that I may bury him, and none know it.

13 So the maide opened the doore, and went in, and found them both asleepe.

14 And came forth, and tolde them that hee was alive.

15 Then Raguel praised God, & said, O God, thou art worthy to be praised with all pure and holy praise: therefore let thy Saints praise thee with all thy creatures, and let all thine Angels and thine elect praise thee for euer.

16 Thou art to be praised, O Lord: for thou hast made me ioyfull, and that is not come to me which I suspected: but thou hast dealt with vs according to great mercy.

17 Thou art to be praised, because thou hast had mercy of two that were the onely begotten children of their fathers: grant them mercy, O Lord, and finish their life in health with ioy and mercy.

18 Then Raguel bade his seruants to fill the graue.

19 And he kept the wedding feast foureteene dayes.

20 For Raguel had sayd vnto him by an oth, that he should not depart before that the foureteene dayes of the marriage were expired.

21 And then hee should take the halfe of his goods, and returne in safetie to his father, and should haue the rest, when hee and his wife were dead.

CHAP. IX.

Raphael leaeth Gabael to Tobias marriage.

Then Tobias called Raphael, and sayd vnto him,

2 Brother Azarias, take with thee a seruant and two camels, and go to Rages of the Medes to Gabael, and bring mee the money, and bring him to the wedding.

3 For Raguel hath sworne that I shall not depart.

4 But my father counteth the dayes: and if I tary long, he will be ioy.

5 So Raphael went out, and came to Gabael, and gaue him the hand writing, who brought forth bags which were sealed vpon, and gaue them to him.

6 And in the morning they went forth both together, and came to the wedding. And Tobias begate his wife with child.

CHAP. X.

Tobias and his wife thinke long for their sonne. Raguel sendeth away Tobias and Sarra

Now Tobias his father counted euery day, & when the dayes of the iourney were expired, and they came not,

2 Tobias said, Are they not mocked? or is not Gabael dead, and there is no man to give him the money?

3 Therefore he was very ioy.

4 Then his wife sayd to him, My sonne is dead, seeing he tareth; and she beganne to bewaile him, and sayd,

5 Now I care for nothing, my sonne, since I haue lost thee the light of mine eyes.

6 To whom Tobias sayd, Holdc thy peace: be not carefull, for he is safe.

7 But she said, Hold thy peace, and deceiue me not, my sonne is dead: and she went out euery day, by the way which they went, neither did she eate on the day time, and did consume whole nightes in bewayling her sonne Tobias, vntill the foureteene dayes of the wedding were expired, which Raguel had sworn, that he should tary there. Then Tobias sayde to Raguel, Let mee goe: for my father and my mother looke no more to see mee.

8 But his father in law said vnto him, Tary with me, and I will lend to thy father, and they shall declare him thine affaires.

9 But Tobias said, No, but let me go to my father.

10 Then Raguel arose, and gaue him Sarra his wife, and halfe his goods, as seruants, and cartell, and money.

11 And he blessed them, and sent them away, saying, The God of heauen make you, my children, to prosper before I die.

12 And he sayd to his daughter, Honour thy father and thy mother in law, which are now thy parents, that I may heare good report of thee: and he kissed them. Eua also sayd to Tobias, The Lord of heauen restore thee, my deare brother, and graunt that I may see the children of my daughter Sarra, that I may reioyce before the Lord. Beholde now, I committe to thee my daughter, as a pledge: doe not entreate her euill.

After

After these thinges Tobias went his way, prapling God that hee had giuen him a prosperous iourney, and blessed Raguel and Tona his wife, and went on his way till he dreyd nere to Ninene.

2 Then Raphael sayd to Tobias, Thou knowest brocher, how thou didst leaue thy father.

3 Let vs haste befoze thy wife, and prepare the house,

4 And take in thine hand the gall of the fish. So they went their way, and the dog followed them.

5 Now Anna late in the way looking for her sonne,

6 Whom when she saw coming; shee sayd to his father, Behold, thy sonne cometh, and the man that went with him.

7 Then said Raphael, I know, Tobias, that thy father shall receiue his sight.

8 Therefore anoynt his eyes with the gall, and being pickt therewith, he shall rubbe and make the whitenesse to fall away, and shall see thee.

9 Then Anna ranne forth, and fell on the necke of her sonne, and layd vnto him, Seeing I haue seene thee, my sonne, from hence forth I am content to die, and they wept both.

10 Tobit also went forth toward the doore, and stumbled, but his sonne ranne vnto him.

11 And tooke hold of his father, and sprinkled of the gall on his fathers eyes, saying, Be of good hope, my father.

12 And when his eyes began to picke, hee rubbed them.

13 And the whitenesse pilled away from the corners of his eyes, and when he saw his sonne, he fell vpon his necke.

14 And hee wept, and sayd, Blessed art thou O Lord, and blessed be thy Name for euer, and blessed be all thine holy Angels.

15 For thou hast scourged mee, and hast had pittie on me: for behold I see my sonne Tobias: and his sonne, being glad, went in, and told his father the great thinges that had come to passe in Media.

16 Then Tobit went out to meet his daughter in law, reioycing and prapling God to the gate of Ninene: and they which saw him goe, manneiled, because he had receiued his sight.

17 But Tobias testified before them all, that God had had pittie on him. And when he came neere to Sarra his daughter in law, hee blessed her, saying, Thou art welcome, daughter: God be blessed, which hath brought thee vnto vs, and blessed be thy father: and there was great ioy among all his brethren, which were at Ninene.

18 And Achlacharus and Dalbas his brothers sonne came.

19 And Tobias marriage was kept seuen dayes with great ioy.

CHAP. XII.

1 Tobias declareth to his father the pleasure that Raphael had done him, 5 The which he would recompense. 11. 15 Raphael declareth that he is an Angel sent from God.

Then Tobit called his sonne Tobias, and sayd vnto him, Prouide, my sonne, wages for the man, which went with thee, and thou must giue him more.

2 And hee sayd vnto him, O father, it shall not grieue me to giue him halfe of those thinges which I haue brought.

3 For he hath brought mee againe to thee in safetie, and hath made whole my wife, and hath brought me the money, and hath likewise healed thee.

4 Then the old man sayd, It is due vnto him.

5 So he called the Angel, and sayd vnto him, Take halfe of all that ye haue brought, and goe away in safetie.

6 But hee tooke them both apart, and sayd vnto them, Praise God, and confesse him, and giue him the glory, and praise him for the thinges which he hath done vnto you befoze al them that liue. It is good to praise God, and to exalt his Name, and to shew forth his euident workes with honour: therefore be not weary to confesse him.

7 It is good to keepe close the secrets of a King, but it is honourable to reueale the workes of God: doe that which is good, and no cuill shall touch you.

8 Prayer is good with fasting, and almes and rightcoulnesse. A little with rightcoulnesse is better then much with vnrightroulnesse: it is better to giue almes, then to lay by gold.

9 For almes doth deliuer from death, and doth purge al sinne. Those which exercise alms and rightcoulnesse, shall be filled with life.

10 But they that liue, are enemies to their owne life.

11 Surely I will keepe close nothing from you: neuertheless, I sayd it was good to keepe close the secret of a King, but that it was honorable to reueale the workes of God.

12 Now therefore when thou didst pray, and Sarra thy daughter in law, I did bring to memorie your prayer befoze the holy One: And when thou diddest bury the dead, I was with thee likewise.

13 And when thou wast not grieved to rise by, and leaue thy dinner to bury the dead, thy good deed was not hid from mee: but I was with thee.

14 And now God hath sent me to heale thee, and Sarra thy daughter in law.

15 I am Raphael, one of the seuen holy Angels, which present the prayers of the Saintes, and which goe forth befoze his holy Spirit.

16 Then they were both troubled, and fel by on their face: for they feared.

17 But he layd vnto them, Feare not, for it shall goe well with you: praye God therefore.

18 For I came not of mine own pleasure, but by the good will of your God: wherefoze praye him in all ages.

19 * All these dayes I did appeare vnto you, but I did neither eate nor drinke, but you saw it in vision.

20 Now therefore giue God thanks: for I goe by to him that sent me: but write all thinges which are done, in a booke.

21 And when they rose, they saw him no more.

22 Then they confessed the great and wonderfull workes of God, and how the Angel of the Lord had appeared to them.

9 And to all that were in Samaria, and the cities thereof, and beyond Iordyn vnto Ierusalem, and Betane, and Chelne, and Cades, and the riuer of Egypt, and Caphnes, and Ramesse, and all the land of Selem, 10 Untill one come to Tanis, and Memphis, and to all the inhabitants of Egypt, and till one come to the mountaines of Ethiopia.

11 But all the inhabitants of this countrey did not passe for the commaundement of Nabuchodonosor King of the Assyrians, neither would they come with him to the battell: for they did not feare him: yea, hee was before them as one man: therefore they sent away his ambassadors from them without effect, and with dishonour.

12 Therefore Nabuchodonosor was very angry with all this countrey, and swore by his throne and kingdome, that he would surely bee auenged vpon all those coasts of Cilicia and Damascus, and Syria, and that he would slay with the sword all the inhabitants of the land of Moab, and the children of Ammon, and all Iudea, and all that were in Egypt, till one come to the borders of the two seas.

13 Then hee marched in battell aray with his power against King Arphaxad in the seuenteenth yeere, and he prevailed in his battell: for hee surthrew all the power of Arphaxad, and all his hostemen, and all his charrets.

14 And hee warne hiscitties, and came vnto Ecbatane, and tooke the towers, and spoiled the treasures thereof, and turned the beautie thereof into shame.

15 Hee tooke also Arphaxad in the mountaines of Ragau, and smote him thorow with his darts, and destroyed him drectly that day.

16 So he returned afterward to Ninene, both hee, and all his companie with a very great multitude of men of warre, and there hee passed the time, and banquetted, both he and his armie, an hundredth and twentle dayes.

CHAP. II.

5 Nabuchodonosor commaunded presumptuously that all people should bee brought vnto subiection, 6 and to destroy those that disobeyed him, 15 The preparation of Olofernes armie. 23 The conquest of his enemies.

And in the eighteenth yere, the two and twentieth day of the first moneth, there was talke in the house of Nabuchodonosor King of the Assyrians, that hee should auenge himselfe on all the earth, as he had spoken.

2 So hee called vnto him all his Officers and all his Nobles, and communicated with them his secret counsell, and set before them with his owne mouth all the malice of the earth.

3 Then they decreed to destroy all flesh, that had not obeyed the commaundement of his mouth.

4 And when hee had ended his counsell, Nabuchodonosor King of the Assyrians called Olofernes his chiefe captain, and which was next vnto him, and said vnto him,

5 Thus saith the great King, the lord of the whole earth, Behold, thou shalt goe forth from my presence, and take with thee men that trust in their owne strength, of footmen, an hundredth and twentle thousand, and the number of hoxles with their riders, twelue thousand.

6 And thou shalt goe against all the West countrey, because they disobeyed my commaundement.

7 And thou shalt declare vnto them, that they prepare for mee the land and the water: for I will goe forth in my warre against them, and wil couer the whole face of the earth with the secte of mine army, and I will giue them as a spoyle vnto them,

8 So that their wounded shall fill their valleys, and their riuers, and the floods shall overflow, being filled with their dead.

9 And I will bring their captiuitie to the utmost parts of all the earth.

10 Thou therefore shalt depart hence, and take vp for me all their countie: and if they yeeld vnto thee, thou shalt reuerne them for mee vntill the day that I rebuke them.

11 But concerning them that rebell, let not thine eye spare them, but yue them to death, and spoyle them wheresoener thou goest.

12 For as I liue, and the power of my kingdom, wharsoener I haue spoken, that will I doe by mine hand.

13 And take thou heede that thou transgresse not any of the commandments of thy lord, but accomplish them faithfully, as I haue commaunded thee, and desire not to doe them.

14 Then Olofernes went forth from the presence of his lord, and called all the gouernours, and captaines, and officers of the army of Assur,

15 And he mustred the chosen men for the battell, as his lord had commaunded him, vnto an hundred and twentie thousand, and twelue thousand archers on horsebacke.

16 And hee let them in aray according to the maner of setting a great army in aray.

17 And hee tooke camels and asses for their burdens, a very great number, and sheepe, and oxen, and goates without number for their provision,

18 And vitaille for euery man of the army, and very much golde and siluer out of the Kings house.

19 Then hee went forth and all his power, to goe before in the voyage of king Nabuchodonosor, and to couer all the face of the earth Westward, with their charrets and horsemen, and chosen footemen.

20 A great multitude also of sundrie sortes came with them like grasshoppers, and like the grauel of the earth: for the multitude was without number.

21 And they went forth of Nineue three dayes iourney toward the countrey of Bectileth, and pitched from Bectileth neere the mountaine which is on the left hand of the upper Cilicia.

22 Then hee tooke all his armie, his footemen and horsemen, and charrets, and went from thence into the mountaines, 23 And he destroyed Phud and Lud, and spoiled all the children of Rassas, and the children of Ismael, which were toward the wilderness at the South of the Chelians.

24 Then he went ouer Euphrates, and went throught Mesopotamia, and destroyed all the high cities that were vpon the riuer of Arbonai, vntill one come to the sea.

25 And hee tooke the borders of Cilicia, and destroyed all that resisted him, and came to the borders of Iapheth, which were toward the South, and ouer against Arabia.

26 Hee compassed also all the children of Median, and burnt by their tabernacles, and spoy-led their lodges.

27 Then hee went downe into the countrey of Damalecus, in the time of wheate harvest, and burnt vp all their fields, and destroyed their flocks and the herds: hee robbed their cities, and spoiled their countrey, and smote all their young men with the edge of the sword.

28 Therefore feare and trembling fell vpon all the inhabitants of the Sea coast, which were in Sidon and Cyprus, and them that dwelt in Sene and Cina, and all that dwelt in Fennaan: and they that dwelt in Azotus and Ascalon feared him greatly.

CHAP. III.

The people subiect to Olofernes. 8 Hee destroyed their gods, that Nabuchodonosor might only bee worshipped.

So they sent ambassadours to him with messages of peace, saying,

2 Behold, wee are the seruants of Nabuchodonosor the great King: we lie downe before thee: vse vs as it shall be good in thy sight.

3 Behold, our houses and all our places, and all our fields of wheate, and our flocks and our herds, and all our lodges and tabernacles lie before thy face: vse them as it pleaseth thee.

4 Behold, euen our cities and the inhabitants thereof are thy seruants: come, and take them, as seemeth good to thee.

5 So the men came to Olofernes, and declared vnto them after this maner.

6 Then came he downe toward the sea coast, both he and his army, and set garisons in the cities, and tooke out of them chosen men for the warre.

7 So they and all the countrey round about receiued them with crownes, and dances, and with timbrels.

8 Yet hee brake downe all their borders, and cut downe their woods: for it was inioyned him to destroy all the gods of the land, that all nations should worship Nabuchodonosor onely, and that all tongues and tribes should call vpon him as God.

9 Also he came against Edraclon, neere vnto Iudea, ouer against the great strait of Iudea.

10 And hee pitched betwene Seba, and a cite of the Sycrybians, and there hee taried a moneth, that hee might assemble all the baggage of his armie.

CHAP. IIII.

The Iffraelites were afraid and defended their countrey. 6 Joasem the Priest writeth to Bethulah, that they should forsake themselves. 9 They cried to the Lord, and humbled themselves before him.

Nowe the children of Israel that dwelt in Iudea, heard all that Olofernes the chiefe captaine of Nabuchodonosor King of the Assyrians had done to the nations, and how hee had spoyled all their temples, and brought them to nought.

2 Therefore they feared greatly his presence, and were troubled for Ierusalem, and for the Temple of the Lord their God.

3 For they were newly returned from the captiuitie, and of late all the people was assembled assembled in Judea, and the vessels and the altar of the house had been sanctified because of the pollution.

4 Therefore they sent into all the coastes of Samaria, and the villages, and to Bethozai, and Belmen, and Jericho, and to Choba, and Etoza, and to the valley of Salem,

5 And tooke at the tops of the hie mountaines, and walked the hillages that were in them, and put in vitailles for the provision of war: for their fields were of late reaped.

6 Also Joacim the hie Priest which was in those dayes in Jerusalem, wrote to them that dwell in Bethulia and Betomestham, which is ouer against Edoaelon, toward the open countrey neere to Dorbain,

7 Exhorting them to keepe the passages of the mountaines: for by them there was an entry into Judea, and it was easie to let them that would come by, because the passage was straitte for two men at the most.

8 And the children of Israel did as Joacim the hie Priest had commanded them with the ancients of all the people of Israel which dwell at Jerusalem.

9 Then cryed every man of Israel to God with great feruency, and their soules with great affliction.

10 Both they, and their wiues, and their children, and their cattell, and every stranger, and hireling, and their bought seruants put sackcloth upon their lomes.

11 Thus every man and woman, and the children, and the inhabitants of Jerusalem sel before the Temple, and sprinkled ashes upon their heads, and spred out their sackcloth before the face of the Lord: also they put sackcloth about the altar, 12 And cried vnto the God of Israel, all with one consent most earnestly, that he would not giue their children for a pray, and their wiues for a spoyle, and the cities of their inheritance to destruction, and the sanctuary to pollution and reproch, and vnto desition vnto the heathen.

13 So God heard their prayers, and looked vpon their affliction: for the people fasted many dayes in all Judea, and Jerusalem before the Sanctuary of the Lord Almighty.

14 And Joacim the hie Priest, and all the Priests that stood before the Lord, and ministered vnto the Lord, had their lynes girt with sackcloth, and offered the continuall burnt offering, with prayers, and the free gifts of the people.

15 And had ashes on their miters, and cryed vnto the Lord with all their power for grace, and that hee would looke vpon all the house of Israel.

C H A P . V .

Aschior the Ammonite doeth declare to Olofernes of the maner of the Israelites.

Then was it declared to Olofernes the chiefe captaine of the armie of Assur, that the children of Israel had prepared for warre, and had shut the passages of the mountaines, and had walled all the tops of the hie hills, and had layd impediments in the champion countrey.

2 Wherewith he was very angry, and called all the Princes of Moab, and the captaines of Ammon, and all the gouernours of the sea coast.

3 And he sayd vnto them, Shew me, O yee sonnes of Chanaan, Who is this people that dwellerh in the mountaines? and what are the cities that they inhabite? and what is the multitude of their armie? and wherein is their strength and their power? and what king or captaine is rayed among them ouer their armie?

4 And why haue they Determined not to come to mee me, more then all the inhabitants of the West?

5 Then said Achior the captaine of all the sonnes of Chanaan, Let my lord heare the worde of the mouth of his seruant, and I will declare vnto thee the truethe concerning this people, that dwell in these mountaines, neere where thou remainest: and there shall no lie come out of the mouth of thy seruant.

6 This people come of the stocke of the Chaldeans.

7 And they dwell before in Mesopotamia, because they would not followe the gods of their fathers, which were in the land of Chaldaea.

8 But they went out of the way of their ancestors, and worshipped the God of heauen, the God whom they knewe: so they cast them out from the face of their gods, and they fled into Mesopotamia, and sojourned there many dayes.

9 Then their God commanded them to depart from the place where they sojourned, and to go into the land of Chanaan, where they dwell, and were increased with golde and silver, and with very much cattell.

10 But when a famine couered all the land of Chanaan, they went downe into Egypt, and dwelt there till they returned, and became there a great multitude, so that one could not number their linage.

11 Therefore the King of Egypt rose by against them, and sed deceit against them, and brought them low with labouring in bricke, and made them slaves.

12 Then they cryed vnto their God, and hee smote all the land of Egypt with incurable plagues: so the Egyptians cast them out of their sight.

13 And God dyed the redde sea in their presence,

14 And brought them into mount Sina and Cades Barnea, and cast forth all that dwell in the wilderness.

15 So they dwell in the land of the Amorites, and they destroyed by their strength all them of Eschbon, and passing ouer Iordán, they inherited all the mountaines.

16 And they cast forth before them the Chanaanites, and the Iberesites, and the Jebulites, and them of Sichem, and all the Gergesites, and they dwell in that countrey many dayes.

17 And whiles they sinned not before their God, they prospered, because the God that hated iniquity was with them.

18 But when they departed from the way which hee appointed them, they were destroyed in many battels after a wonderfull foze, and were ledde captiues into a lande that was not theirs: and the Temple of their their God was cast to the ground, and their cities were taken by the enemies.

Exa 1. 1. 3.

19 But * now they are turned to their God, and are come by from the scattering wherein they were scattered, and haue possessed Hierusalem, where their Temple is, and dwell in the mountaines which were desolate.

20 Now therefore, my lord and gouernour, if there be any fault in this people, so that they haue sinned against their God, let vs consider that this shall bee their ruine, and let vs goe by, and we shall overcome them,

21 But if there bee none iniquitie in this people, let my lord passe by, least their Lord defend them, and their God be for them, and we become a reprobach before all the world.

22 And when Achior had finished these sayings, all the people, standing round about the tent, murmured: and the chiefe men of Olofernes, call that dwell by the sea side, and in Doab, spake that he should kill him.

23 For, say they, wee feare not to meete the children of Israel: for loe, it is a people that haue no strength nor power against a mighty armie.

24 Let vs therefore go by, O lord Olofernes, and they shall be meat for thy whole armie.

CHAP. VI.

Olofernes blasphemeth God whom Achior confessed. 14 Achior is deliuered into the hands of them of Bethulia. 18 The Bethulians crie vnto the Lord.

About the counsell was created, Olofernes the chiefe captaine of the armie of Assur, sayd vnto Achior before all the people of the strangers, and before all the children of Doab, and of them that were hired of Ephraim,

2 Because thou hast prophesied among vs to day, and hast sayd that the people of Jerusalem is able to fight, * because their God will defend them: and who is god but Nabuchodonosor?

3 He will lend his power, and will destroy them from the face of the earth, and their God shall not deliuer them: but we his seruants will destroy them as one man: for they are not able to susteine the power of our horses.

4 For we will treade them vnder feete with them, and their mountaines shall bee drunken with their blood, and their fields shall bee filled with their dead bodies, and their footstepes shall not be able to stand before vs: but they shall utterly perish.

5 The king Nabuchodonosor lord of all the earth hath sayd, euen he hath sayd, None of my words shall be in vaine.

6 And thou Achior an hireling of Ammon, because thou hast spoken these words, in the day of thine iniquitie, thou shalt see my face no more from this day, vntill I take vengeance of that people that is come out of Egypt.

7 And then shall the yron of mine armie, and the multitude of the that serue me passe through thy sides, and thou shalt fall among their slaine, when I shall put them to flight.

8 And my seruants shall carie thee into the mountaines, and they shall leaue thee at one of the hie cities: but thou shalt not perish, till thou be destroyed with them.

9 And if thou perswade thy selfe in thy mind, that they shall not be taken, let not thy countenance fall: I haue spoken it, and none of my words shall be in vaine.

10 Then commaunded Olofernes them concerning Achior, that they should bring him to Bethulia, and deliuer him into the hands of the children of Israel.

11 So his seruants tooke him, and brought him out of the campe into the plaine: and they went out from the mids of the plaine into the mountaines, and came vnto the fountaines that were vnder Bethulia.

12 And when the men of the citie sawe them from the top of the mountaine, they tooke their armour, and went forth of the citie vnto the top of the mountaine, euen all the throwers with slings, and kept them from comming vp, by casting stones against them.

13 But they went quietly vnder the hill, and bound Achior, and left him lying at the foote of the hill, and returned to their lord.

14 Then the Israelites came down from their citie, and stood about him, and loosed him and brought him into Bethulia, and presented him to the gouernours of that citie, 15 Which were in those dayes Dyzias the sonne of Michah, of the tribe of Simeon, & Charbis the sonne of Sothoniel, and Charimis the sonne of Belchiel.

16 And they called together all the ancients of the citie, and all their youth ran together, & their women to the assembly: and they set Achior in the mids of all their people. Then Dyzias asked him of that which was done.

17 And hee answered and declared vnto them the words of the counsell of Olofernes, and all the wordes that hee had spoken in the mides of the princes of Assur, and whatsoeuer Olofernes had spoken proudly against the house of Israel.

18 Then the people fell downe, and worshipped God, and cryed vnto God, saying, 19 O Lord God of heauen, behold their pride, and haue mercie on the baseness of our people, and behold this day the face of those that are sanctified vnto thee.

20 Then they comforted Achior, and prayled him greatly.

21 And Dyzias tooke him out of the assembly into his house, and made a feast to the Elders, & they called on the God of Israel all that night to helpe.

CHAP. VII.

1 Olofernes doth besiege Bethulia. 8 The counsell of the Idumeans and other against the Israelites. 13 The Bethulians murmur against their gouernours for lacke of water.

The next day Olofernes commanded all his armie and all his people, which were come to take his part, that they should remouee their camps against Bethulia, and that they should take all the streets of the hill, and to make warre against the children of Israel.

2 Then their strong men remoued their camps in that day, and the armie of the men of warre was an hundredth thousand and sententie footmen, and twelue thousand horsemen, beside the baggage and other men that were were afoote among them, a very great multitude.

3 And they camped in the plaine neere vnto Bethulia, by the fountaine, and they spread abroad toward Dothain vnto Belbain, and in length from Bethulia vnto Giamon, which is ouer against Esdraelon.

4 Now the children of Israel, when they saw the multitude, were greatly troubled, and said euery one to his neighbour, Now will they fight vpon all the whole earth: for neither the hie mountaines, nor the valleys, nor the hilles are able to abide their burden.

5 Then euery one tooke his weapons of warre, and burning fires in their towers, they remained and watched all that night.

6 But in the second day Dofernes brought forth all his hoysen in the sight of the children of Israel, which were in Bethulia,

7 And viewed the passages vnto their citie, and came to the fountains of their waters, and tooke them, and set garlions of men of warre ouer them, and remooued toward his people.

8 Then came vnto him all the chiefe of the children of Etau, and all the gouernours of the people of Hoab, and all the captaines of the sea coast, and sayd, 9 Let our captaine now heare a worde, lest an inconuenience come in thine armie.

10 For this people of the children of Israel doe not trust in their speeres, but in the height of the mountaines, wherein they dwell, because it is not easie to come vnto the tops of their mountaines.

11 Now therefore my lord, fight not against them in battell aray, and there shall not so much as one man of thy people perish.

12 Remain in thy campe, and keepe all the men of thine armie, and let thy men keepe still the water of the cuntry, that commeth forth at the foote of the mountaine.

13 For all the inhabitants of Bethulia haue their water therof: so shall thirst kill them, and they shall giue vp their citie: and wee and our people will goe vp to the toppes of the mountaines that are neere, and will campe vpon them, and watch that none goe out of the citie.

14 So they and their wines, and their children shall bee consumed with famine, and before the sword come against them, they shall bee ouerthrowen in the streetes where they dwell.

15 Thus shalt thou render them an euill reward, because they rebelled and obeyed not thy perion peaceably.

16 And these wordes pleased Dofernes and all his souldiers, and he appointed to doe as they had spoken.

17 So the campe of the children of Ammon departed, and with them five thousand of the Assyrians, and they pitched in the valley, and tooke the waters, and the fountains of the waters of the children of Israel.

18 Then the children of Etau went vnto the children of Ammon, and camped in the mountaines ouer against Dothain, and they sent some of themselves toward the South, and toward the East, ouer against Rebel, which is neere vnto Chusi, that is vpon the riuer Hochmur: and the rest of the armie of the Assyrians camped in the field, and conuened the whole lande: for their tents and their baggage were pitched in a wonderfull great place.

19 Then the children of Israel cried vnto the Lord their God, because their heart failed: for all their enemies had compassed them about, and there was no way to escape out from among them.

20 Thus all the company of Assur remained about them, both their footmen, chariots and hoysen, foure and thirty dayes: so that euery all the places of their waters failed all the inhabitants of Bethulia.

21 And the cisternes were empye, and they had not water enough to drinke for one day: for they gaue them to drinke by measure.

22 Therefore their children swooned, and their wines and yong men failed for thirst, and fell downe in the streetes of the citie, and by the passages of the gates, and there was no strength in them.

23 Then all the people assembled to Dyzas, and to the chiefe of the citie, both yong men and women, and children, and cryed with a loude voyce, and sayd before all the Elders, 24 The<sup>e</sup> Lorde bee iudge betweene vs and you: for you haue done vs great iniurie, in that yee haue not required peace of the children of Assur.

25 For now wee haue no helper: but God hath solde vs into their hands, that we should be throuen downe before them with thirst & great destruction.

26 Now therefore call them together, and deliuer the whole citie for a spoyle to the people of Dofernes, and to all his armie.

27 For it is better for vs to be made a spoyle vnto them, then to die for thirst: for wee will be his seruants, that wee may liue, and not see the death of our infants before our eyes, nor our wine, nor our children to die.

28 We take to witness against you, the heauen and the earth, and our God and lord of our fathers, which punisheth vs according to our sinnes, and the sinnes of our fathers, that he lay not these things to our charge.

29 Then there was a great crie of all with one consent in the middes of the assemblee, and they cryed vnto the Lord God with a loude voyce.

30 Then sayd Dyzas to them, Brethren, be of good contrage: let vs waite yet five dayes, in the which space the Lorde our God may turne his mercie toward vs: for he will not forsake vs in the end.

31 And if these dayes passe, and there come not helpe vnto vs, I will doe according to your word.

32 So he separated the people, euery one vnto their charge, and they went vnto the walles and towres of their citie, and sent their wines and their children into their houses, and they were very lowe brought in the citie.

CHAP. VIII.

The parentage, life and conuersation of Judith. 11 Shee rebuketh the fainnesse of the gouernours. 12 She sheweth that they should not tempt God, but waite vpon him for succour. 33 Her enterprise against the enemies.

Now at that time, Judeth heard thereof, which was the daughter of Heract, the sonne of Dr, the sonne of Ioseph, the sonne of Oziel, the sonne of Ecia, the sonne of Ananias, the sonne of Sedeon, the sonne of Raphaim, the sonne of Acito, the sonne of Eliu, the sonne of Eliab, the sonne of Parhanael, the sonne of Samael, the sonne of Salaladal, the sonne of Israel.

2 And Hanasses was her husband, of her stocke and kindred, who died in the barley harvest.

3 For as hee was diligent ouer them that bound sheaves in the field, the heate came vpon his head, and he fell vpon his bed, and died in the cite of Bethulia, and they buried him with his fathers in the field betwene Dothaim and Salamo.

4 So Judeth was in her house a widow thre yeeres and foure moneths.

5 And shee made her tent vpon her house, and put on sackcloth on her loines, and ware her widowes apparell.

6 And she fasted all the dayes of her widowhood, saue the day before the Sabbath, and the Sabbaths, and the day before the new moones, and in the feasts and solemne dayes of the house of Israel.

7 Shee was also of a godly countenance, and very beautiful to behold: and her husband Hanasses had left her gold and siluer, and men seruants, and mayd seruants, and cattell, and possessions where she remained.

8 And there was none that could bring an euill report of her: for she feared God greatly.

9 Now when she heard the euill wordes of the people against the gouernour, because they fainted for lacke of waters (for Judeth had heard all the wordes that Ozias had spoken vnto them, and that he had <sup>sworne</sup> vnto them to deliuer the cite vnto the Assyrians within fise dayes.)

10 Then shee sent her mayd that had the gouernement of all things that shee had, to call Ozias and Chabyris and Charmis the ancients of the cite.

11 And they came vnto her, and she sayd vnto them, Heare mee, O yee gouernours of the inhabirants of Bethulia: for your wordes that yee haue spoken before the people this day, are not right, touching this othe which yee made and pronounced betwene God and you, and haue promised to deliuer the cite to the enemies, unlesse within these dayes the Lord turne to helpe you.

12 And now who are you that haue tempted God this day, and let your felles in the place of God among the children of men?

13 So now yee seeke the Lord Almighty, but you shall neuer know any thing.

14 For you cannot finde out the depth of the heart of man, neither can yee perceiue the things that hee thinketh: how then can you search out God, that hath made all these things, and know his minde, or comprehend his purpose? Nay my brethren, prouoke not the Lord our God to anger.

15 For if hee will not helpe vs within these fise dayes, he hath power to defend vs when hee will, euen euery day, or to destroy vs before our enemies.

16 Doe not you therefore bind the counsels of the Lord our God: for God is not as man that he may be threatened, neither as the sonne of man to be brought to iudgement.

17 Therefore let vs wait for saluation of him, and call vpon him to helpe vs, and he will heare our voyce if it please him.

18 For there appeareth none in our age, neither is there any now in these dayes, neither tribe nor family, nor people, nor cite among vs, which worke by the gods made with handes, as hath beene accustomed.

19 For <sup>the</sup> which cause our fathers were giuen to the sword, and for a spoyle, & had a great fall before our enemies, 20 But we know none other God: therefore we trust that hee will not despise vs, nor any of our linage.

21 Neither when we shall be taken, shall Iudea bee so famous: for our Sanctuary shall bee spoiled, and hee will require the prophannation thereof at our mouth, 22 And the feare of our brethren, and the captiuitie of the countrey, and the desolation of our inheritance wil be turne vpon our heads among the Gentiles, where soeuer we shalbe in bondage, and we shall see an offence and a reproch to all them that possesse vs.

23 For our seruitude shall not bee directed by fauour, but the Lord our God shall turne it to dishonour.

24 Now therefore, O brethren, let vs shewe an example to our brethren, because their hearts depend vpon vs, and the Sanctuary, and the House, and the Altar rest vpon vs.

25 Wherefore, let vs giue thanks to the Lord our God, which crieth vs euen as hee did our fathers.

26 Remember what things he did to <sup>Abraham</sup>, and how hee tryed Isaac, and all that hee did to <sup>Jacob</sup> in Heloporamia of Syria when hee kept the sheepe of Laban his mothers brother.

27 For hee hath not tryed vs as hee did them to the examination of their hearts, neither doeth hee take vengeance on vs, but the Lord punisheth for instruction them that come neere to him.

28 ¶ Then sayd Ozias to her, All that thou hast spoken, hast thou spoken with a good heart, and there is none that is able to resist thy wordes.

29 For it is not to day that thy wisdome is knownen, but from the beginning of thy life all the people haue knownen thy wisdome: for the deuice of thine heart is good.

30 But the people were very thirstie, & compelled vs to doe vnto them as wee haue spoken, and haue brought vs to an othe, which wee may not transgresse.

31 Therefore now pray for vs, because thou art an holy woman, that the Lord may send vs raine to fill our cisternes, and that we may faime no more.

32 Then sayde Judeth vnto them, Heare me, and I will doe a thing which shall be declared in all generations, to the children of our nation.

33 You shall stand this night in the gate, and I will goe forth with mine handmaide: and within the dayes that yee haue promised to deliuer the cite to our enemies, the Lord will visit Israel by mine hand.

34 But enquire not you of mine acte: for I will not declare it vnto you, till the things be finished that I doe.

35 Then said Ozias and the princes vnto her, God in peace, and the Lord God be before thee, to take vengeance on our enemies.

36 So they returned from the tent, and went to their wards.

1 Judeth humbleth her selfe before the Lord, and maketh her prayers for the deliuerance of her people.

7 Against the pride of the Assyrians. 11 God is the befe of the humble.

Then Judeth fell vpon her face, and put ashes vpon her head, & put off the sackcloth wherewith shee was clothed. And about the time that the incense of that euening was offered in Ierusalem in the house of the Lord, Judeth cried with a lowde voice, and said,

2 O Lord God of my father * Simeon, to whom thou gauest a sword to take vengeance of the strangers which opened the wombe of the maide, and desired her, and discouered the thigh with shame, and polluted the wombe to reproch (for thou hadst commaunded that it should not be,

3 Yet they did things for the which thou gauest their princes to the slaughter, for they were deceiued and washed their beds with blood) and hast stricken the seruants with the gouernours, and the gouernours vpon their thrones,

4 And hast giuen their wines for a pray, and their daughters to bee captiues, and all their spoyles for a boorie to the children that thou louest: which were mooued with thy zeale, and abhorred the pollution of their blood, and called vpon thee for ayde, O God, O my God, heare me also a widow.

5 For thou hast wrought the things afore, and these, and the things that shall be after, and thou considerest the things that are present, and the things that are to come.

6 For the things which thou doest purpose, are present, and lay, Behold, we are here: for all thy wayes are reade, and thy iudgements are foreknown.

7 Behold, the Assyrians are multiplied by their power: they haue exalted themselves with horses and horsemen: they glorie in the strength of their footemen, they trust in shield, speare, and bowe, and sling, and doe not know that thou art the Lord that breakest the battels: the Lord is thy Name.

8 Breake thou their strength by thy power, and breake their force by thy wrath: for they haue purposed to defile thy Sanctuarie, and to pollute the Tabernacle where thy glorious Name resteth, and to cast downe with weapons the hornes of the Altar.

9 Behold their pride, and send thy wrath vpon their heads: giue into mine hand which am a widow, the strength that I haue conceiued.

10 * Smite by the decree of my lips, the seruant with the prince, and the prince with the seruant: abate their height by the hand of a woman.

11 * For thy power standeth not in the multitude, nor thy might in strong men: but thou, O Lord, art the helpe of the humble and little ones, the defender of the weak, and the protectour of them that are forsaken, and the sauour of them that are without hope.

12 Surely, surely thou art the God of my father and the God of the inheritance of Israel, the Lord of heauen and earth, the Creator of the waters, the King of all creatures: heare thou my prayer, 13 And graunt mee wordes and craft, and a wound, and a stroke against them that enterpise cruell things against thy Couenant, and against thine holy Houle, and against the toppe of Ston, and against the house of the possession of thy children.

14 Shew evidently among all thy people, and all the tribes, that they may know that thou art the God of all power and strength, and that there is none other that defendeth the people of Israel, but thou.

1 Judeth decketh her selfe, and goeth forth of the cite. 11 She is taken of the watch of the Assyrians, and brought to Olofernes.

Now after she had ceased to crie vnto the God of Israel, and had made an ende of all these wordes,

2 She rose where shee had fallen downe, and called her maide, and went downe into the house in the which shee abode in the Sabbath dayes, and in the feast dayes.

3 And putting away the sackcloth wherewith shee was clad, and putting off the garments of her widowhood, shee washed her body with water, and anoynted it with much oynment, and dressed the haire of her head, and put attire vpon it, and put on her garments of gladnesse, wherewith shee was clad, during the life of Hananias her husband.

4 And shee put slippers on her feete, and put on bracelets, and sleeves, and rings, and earrings, and all her ornaments, and shee decked her selfe branely, to allure the eyes of all men that should see her.

5 Then shee gaue her maide a bottle of wine, and a pot of oyle, and filled a scrip with flour, and with drie figges, and with fine bread, so shee lapped vp all these things together, and laid them vpon her.

6 Thus they went forth to the gate of the cite of Bethulia, and found standing there Ozias, and the Ancients of the cite, Chabris and Charnis.

7 And when they saw her, that her face was charged, and that her garment was changed, they maruelled greatly at her wonderfull beauty, and said vnto her,

8 The God, the God of our fathers giue thee fauour, and accomplish thine enterpises to the glory of the children of Israel, and to the exaltation of Ierusalem. Then they worshipped God.

9 And shee said vnto them, Commande the gates of the cite to bee opened vnto mee, that I may goe forth to accomplish the things which you haue spoken to mee. So they commaunded the young men to open vnto her, as shee had spoken.

Gen. 34 2, 25.

Judg. 4. 21. & 5. 26. Judg. 7. 2. 2. Chron. 14. 11. & 16. 8. and 20. 6.

10 And when they had done so, Judeth went out, shee, and her maide with her, and the men of the cite looked after her, untill shee was gone downe the mountaine, and till shee had passed the valley, and could see her no more.

11 Thus they went straight forth in the valley, and the first watch of the Assyrians met her,

12 And tooke her, and asked her, Of what people art thou? and whence comest thou? and whither goest thou? And shee sayde, I am a woman of the Hebrewes, and am fled from them: for they shall bee given you to bee consumed.

13 And I come before Olofernes the chiefe captaine of your armie, to declare him true things, and I will shewe before him the way whereby hee shall goe and winne all the mountaines without losing the body or life of any of his men.

14 Now when the men heard her words, and beheld her countenance, they wondred greatly at her beautie, and said vnto her,

15 Thou hast saued thy life, in that thou hast hastied to come downe to the presence of our lord: now therefore come to his tent, and some of vs shall conduct thee vntill they haue deliuered thee into his hands.

16 And when thou standest before him, bee not afraide in thine heart, but shewe vnto him according as thou hast to say, and hee will entreat thee well.

17 Then they chose out of them an hundred men, and prepared a charet for her and her maide, and brought her to the tent of Olofernes.

18 Then there was a running to and fro thoroughout the campe: for her coming was bruted among the tents: and they came and stood round about her: for shee stood without the tent of Olofernes, vntill they had declared vnto him concerning her.

19 And they marvelled at her beautie, and wondered at the children of Israel, because of her, and euery one said vnto his neighbour, Who would despise this people, that haue among them such women? surely it is not good that one man of them be left: for if they should remaine, they might deceiue the whole earth.

20 Then Olofernes gard went out, and all his seruants, and they brought her into the tent.

21 Nowe Olofernes rested vpon his bed vnder a canopic, which was wouen with purple and golde and emeraudes, and precious stones.

22 So they shewed him of her, and hee came forth into the entry of his tent, and they carried lampes of silver before him.

23 And when Judeth was come before him and his seruants, they all marvelled at the beautie of her countenance, and shee fell downe vpon her face, and did reuerence vnto him, and his seruants tooke her vp.

C H A P. XI.

1 Olofernes comforteth Iudeth, 3 and asketh the cause of her coming, 5 She deceiueth him by her fine words.

Then said Olofernes vnto her, Woman, bee of good comfort: feare not in thine heart: for

I neuer hurt any that would true Nabuchodonosor the king of all the earth.

2 Now therefore if thy people that dwelleth in the mountaines, had not despised mee, I would not haue lifted by my speare against them: but they haue procured these things to themselues.

3 But now tell mee wherefore thou art fled from them, and art come vnto vs: for thou art come for safeguard: be of good comfort, thou shalt liue from this night, and hereafter.

4 For none shall hurt thee, but intreate thee well, as they doe the seruants of King Nabuchodonosor my lord.

5 Then Judeth said vnto him, Receiue the words of thy seruant, and suffer thine handmaide to speake in thy presence, and I will declare no lie to my lord this night.

6 And if thou wilt followe the words of thine handmaide, God will bring the thing perfectly to passe by thee, and my lord shall not faile of his purpose.

7 As Nabuchodonosor King of all the earth liueth, and as his power is of force, who hath sent thee to reforme all persons, not onely men shall bee made subiect to him by thee, but also the bestes of the feldes, and the cattell, and the fowles of the heauen shall liue by thy power vnder Nabuchodonosor and all his house.

8 For wee haue heard of thy wisdom and of thy prudent spirit, and it is declared through the whole earth, that thou onely art excellent in all the kingdome, and of a wonderfull knowledge, and in feares of warre manerlous.

9 * Now as concerning the matter which Achior did speake in thy counsell, we haue heard his words: for the men of Bethulia did take him, and he declared vnto them all that hee had spoken vnto thee.

10 Therefore, O lord and gouernour, respect not his word, but set it in thine heart, for it is true: for there is no punishment against our people, neither can the sword beate against them, except they sinne against their God.

11 Now therefore lest my lord should bee frustrated, and vnder of his purpose, and that death may fall vpon them, and that they may bee taken in their sinne whyles they prouoke their God to anger, which is so oft times as they doe that which is not becomming,

12 (For because their vittalles faile, and all their water is wasted, they haue determined to take their cattell, and haue purposed to continue all things that God had forbidden them to eate by his Lawes:

13 Yea, they haue purposed to consume the first fruites of the wheate, and the tithes of the wine, and of the oyle which they had reserved and sanctified for the Priestes that serue in Ierusalem before the face of our God: the which things it is not lawfull for any of the people to touch with their hands.

14 Whereouer, they haue sent to Ierusalem, because they also that dwell there, haue done the like, such as should bring them licence from the Senate)

15 Now when they shall bring them word, they will doe it, and they shall bee given thee to be be destroyed the same day.

16 Wherefore I thine handmaid, knowing all this, am fled from their presence, and God hath sent me to worke a thing with thee, whereof all the earth shall wonder, and whosoever shall heare it.

17 For thy seruant feareth God, and worshippeth the God of heauen day and night, and now let me remaine with thee, my lord, and let thy seruant goe out in the night into the valley, and I will pray vnto God, that he may reuile vnto me when they shall commit their sinnes.

18 And I will come and shew it vnto thee: then thou shalt goe forth with all thine armie, and there shall be none of them that shall resist thee.

19 And I will lead thee through the middes of Iudea, vntill thou come before Ierusalem, and I will set thy thorne in the mids thy: rose, and thou shalt dzine them as sheepe that haue no shepheard, and a dogge shall not barke with his mouth against thee: for these things haue bene spoken vnto me, and declared vnto mee according to my foreknowledge, and I am sent to shew thee.

20 Then her wordes pleased Dlofernes, and all his seruants, and they maruelled at her wisdom, and sayd, 21 There is not such a woman in all the world, both for beautie of face, and wisdom of words.

22 Likewise Dlofernes sayd vnto her, God hath done this, to lend thee before the people, that strength might be in our hands, & destruction vpon them that despise my lord.

23 And now thou art both beautifull in thy countenance, and wittie in thy words: surely if thou doe as thou hast spoken, thy God shall bee my God, and thou shalt dwell in the house of Nabuchodonosor, & shalt be renowned throughout the whole earth.

CHAP. XII.

2 Judeth would not pollute herselfe with the meate of the Gentiles. 5 She maketh her request that shee might goe out by night to pray. 11 Dlofernes causeth her to come to the banquet.

Then he commaunded to bring her in where his treasures were layd, and bade that they should prepare for her of his owne meates, and that she should drinke of his owne wine.

2 But Judeth sayd, * I may not eate of them, lest there should bee an offence, but I can suffice my selfe with the things that I haue brought.

3 Then Dlofernes sayd vnto her, If the things that thou hast, should faile, how should we giue thee the like? for there is none with vs of thy nation.

4 Then sayd Judeth vnto him, As thy soule liueth, my lord, thine handmaid shall not spend those things that I haue, before the Lord worke by mine hand the things that he hath determined.

5 Then the seruants of Dlofernes brought her into the tent, and she slept vntill midnight, and arose at the morning watch,

6 And sent to Dlofernes, saying, Let my lord command that thy handmaid may goe forth vnto prayer.

7 Then Dlofernes commaunded his garde that they should not stay her: thus shee abode in the campe three dayes, and went out into the night into the valley of Bethulta, and washed her selfe in a fountaine, euen in the water by the campe.

8 And when she came out, shee prayed vnto the Lord God of Israel, that hee would direct her way to the exaltation of the childzen of her people.

9 So she returned, and remained pure in the tent, vntill she ate her meate at euening.

10 And in the fourth day Dlofernes made a feast to his owne seruants onely, and called none of them to the banquet, that had the affaires in hand.

11 Then said he to Bagoas the eunuch who had charge ouer all that hee had, Goe and purchase this Hebrew woman, which is with thee, that she come vnto vs and eate and drinke with vs.

12 For it were a shame for vs, if we should see such a woman alone, and not talke with her, and if we doe not allure her, she will mocke vs.

13 Then went Bagoas from the presence of Dlofernes, and came to her, and said, Let not this faire maide make difficulty to goe in to my lord, and to be honoured in his presence, and to drinke wine with vs ioyfully, and to be increased as one of the daughters of the childzen of Assur, which remaine in the house of Nabuchodonosor.

14 Then said Judeth vnto him, What an I now, that I should game say my lord? Surely whatsoeuer pleasest him, I will do speedily, and it shall be my ioy vnto the day of my death.

15 So shee arose and trimmed her with garments, and with all the ornaments of women, and her maid went, and spread forth her kins on the ground ouer against Dlofernes, which shee had receiued of Bagoas for her dayly vse, that she might sit and eate vpon them.

16 Nowe when Judeth came and sate downe, Dlofernes heart was rauished with her, and her spirit was mooned, and hee desired greatly her company: for hee had waited for the time to decieve her from the day that hee had seene her.

17 Then said Dlofernes vnto her, Drinke now and be merry with vs.

18 So Judeth said, I drinke now, my lord, because my state is exalted this day more then euer it was since I was borne.

19 Then shee tooke, & ate, and drank before him the things, that her maid had prepared.

20 And Dlofernes reioyced because of her, and drank much more wine then he had drunke at any time in one day since he was borne.

CHAP. XIII.

4 Judeth prayeth for strength. 8 She smiteth off Dlofernes necke. 10 She returneth to Bethulta and reioyceth her people.

Now when the evening was come, his seruants made haste to depart, and Bagoas shut his tent without, and dismissed those that were present, from the presence of his lord, and they went to their bedes: for they were all weary because the feast had bene long.

Or, hath done well.

2 And Judeth was left alone in the tent, and Olofernes was stretched along vpon his bed: for he was filled with wine.

3 ¶ Now Judeth had commaunded her mayds to stand without her chamber, and to wait for her coming forth as shee did dayly: for she sayd, she would goe forth to her prayer, and she spake to Bagoas according to the same purpose.

4 So all went forth in her presence, and none was left in the chamber neither little nor great: then Judeth standing by his bed, said in her heart, O Lord God of all power, behold at this present the works of mine hands for the exaltation of Ierusalem.

5 For now is the time to helpe thine inheritance, and to execute mine enterprises, to the destruction of the enemies which are risen against vs.

6 Then she came to the post of the bed, which was at Olofernes head, and tooke downe his scabbard from thence,

7 And approached to the bed, and tooke hold of the haire of his head, and sayd, Strengthen me, O Lord God of Israel this day.

8 And she smote twise vpon his necke with all her might, and she tooke away his head from him,

9 And rolled his body downe from the bed, and pulled downe the canopie from the pillars, and anon after she went forth, and gaue Olofernes head to her maid.

10 And she put it in her scrippe of meate: so they twaine went together according to their custome vnto prayer, and praesing through the tents, went about by that walley, and went vnto the mountaine of Bethulsa, and came to the gates thereof.

11 ¶ Then sayd Judeth a farre off to the watchmen at the gates, Open now the gate: God, euen our God is with vs to shew his power yet in Ierusalem, and his force against his enemies, as he hath euen done this day.

12 Now when the men of her cite heard her voyce, they made haste to goe downe to the gate of their cite, and they called the Elders of the city.

13 And they ranne altogether both small and great: for it was above their expectation, that she should come. So they opened the gate & receiued her, and made a fire for a light, and stood round about them twaine.

14 Then she sayd to them with a loud voice, Praise God, praise God: for hee hath not taken away his mercy from the house of Israel, but hath destroyed our enemies by mine hands this night.

15 So shee tooke the head out of the scrippe, and shewed it, and sayd vnto them, Beholde the head of Olofernes, the chiefe captaine of the armie of Assur, and beholde the canopie, wherein hee did lie in his drunkenesse, and the Lord hath smitten him by the hand of a woman.

16 As the Lord lieth, who hath kept mee in my way that I went, my countenance hath deuioued him to his destruction, and hee hath not committed sinne with mee by any pollution or villenie.

17 Then all the people were wonderfully astonished, and bowed themselves, and worshipped God, and sayd with one accord, Blessed bee thou, O our God, which hast this day brought to nought the enemies of thy people.

18 Then said Ozias vnto her, O daughter, blessed art thou of the most high God above all the women of the earth, and blessed be the Lord God, which hath created the heauens and the earth, which hath directed thee to the cutting off of the head of the chiefe of our enemies.

19 Surely this thine hope shall neuer depart out of the hearts of men: for they shall remember the power of God for euer:

20 And God turne these things to thee for a perpetuall prayse, and visite thee with good things, because thou hast not spared thy life, because of the affliction of our nation, but thou hast holpen our ruine, walking a straight way before our God. And all the people sayd, So be it, so be it.

CHAP. XIII.

1 Judeth causeth to hang vp the head of Olofernes. 10 Achior ioyneth himselfe to the people of God. 11 The Israelites goe out against the Assyrians.

Then sayd Judeth vnto them, Heare me also my brethren, and take this head, and hang it vpon the highest place of your walles.

2 And so soone as the morning shall appeare, and the Sunne shall come forth vpon the earth, take you euery one his weapons, and goe forth euery valiant man out of the cite, and let you a captaine ouer them, as though you would goe downe into the field, toward the watch of the Assyrians, but goe not downe.

3 Then they shall take their armour, & shall go into their campe, and raise vp the captaine of the armie of Assur, and they shall runne to the tent of Olofernes, but shall not finde him: then feare shall fall vpon them, and they shall flee before your face.

4 So you and all that inhabit the coasts of Israel shall pursue them, and ouerthrow them as they goe.

5 But before you doe these things, call mee Achior the Ammonite, that hee may see, & know him that despiseth the house of Israel, and that sent him to vs as to death.

6 Then they called Achior out of the house of Ozias, and when hee was come and saw the head of Olofernes in a certaine mans hand in the assembly of the people, hee fell downe on his face, and his spirit failed.

7 But when they had taken him vp, hee fell at Judeths feete, and reuerenced her, and sayd, Blessed art thou in all the Tabernacle of Iuda, and in all nations, which hearing thy name, shall be astonished.

8 Now therefore tell mee all the things, that thou hast done in these dayes. Then Judeth declared vnto him in the mids of the people, all that shee had done from the day that shee went forth, vntill that houre shee spake vnto them.

9 And when shee had left off speaking, the people reioyced with a great voyce, and made a noyse of gladnesse through their cite.

10 And Achior, seeing all things that God had done for Israel, beleneed in God vnfeignedly, nedly, and circumcised the foreskin of his flesh, and was toynd vnto the house of Israel vnto this day.

11 C Assoone as the morning arose, they hauged the head of Olofernes out at the wall, and every man tooke his weapons, and they went forth by bands vnto the straits of the mountaine.

12 But when the Assyrians sawe them, they sente to their captaines, which went to the gouernours and chiefe captaines, and to all their rulers.

13 So they came to Olofernes tent, and said to him that had the charge of al his things, Clarken our Lord: for the slaues haue bene bolde to come downe against vs to batcel, that they may be destroyed for euer.

14 Then went in Bagoas, and knocked at the doore of the tent: for he thought that he had slept with Iudeth.

15 But because none answerd, he opened it, and went into the chamber, and found him cast vpon the flooze, & his head was taken from him.

16 Therefoze he cried with a loud voice, with weeping and mourning, and a mightie cri, and rent his garments.

17 After, he wer into the tent of Iudeth where she used to remaine, and found her noc: then he leaped out to the people, and cried, 18 These slaues haue committed wickednes: one woman of the hebrewes hath brought shame vpon the house of king Nabuchodonosor: for beholde, Olofernes lieth vpon the ground with-out an head.

19 When the captaines of the Assyrians arme heard these words, they rent their coats, and their heart was wonderfully troubled, and there was a cri and a very great noise thowout the campe.

1 The Assyrians are afraid and flee. The Israelites pursue them. 8 Ioacim the hie Priest cometh to Bethulsa to see Iudeth and to praise God for her.

AND when they that were in the tents, heard, they were astonishd at the thing that was done.

2 And feare and trembling fell vpon them, so that there was no man that durst abide in the sight of his neighbour: but altogether amazed, they fled by euery way of the playne and of the mountaines.

3 They also that had camped in the mountaines round about Bethulsa, were put to flight: then the children of Israel, euery one that was a warrior among them, rushed out vpon them.

4 Then sent Oyas to Bethoniatkem, and to Sebar, and Chobai, and Chola, and to all the coastes of Israel, such as should declare vnto them the things that were done, & that all should rush forth vpon their enemies to destroy them.

5 Nowe when the children of Israel heard it, they all fell vpon them together vnto Chobai: likewise also they that came fro Jerusalem, and from all the mountaines: for men had told them what things were done in the campe of their enemies, and they that were in Galaad, and in Galite, chased them with a great slaughter, vntill they came to Darnacus, and to the coastes thereof.

6 And the residue that dwelt at Bethulsa, fell vpon the campe of Assur, and spoyled them, and were greatly enriched.

7 And the children of Israel that returned from the slaughter, had the rest, and the villages and the cities that were in the mountaines and in the playne, had a great bootie, for the abundance was very great.

8 Then Ioacim the hie Priest, and the anclents of the children of Israel that dwelt in Jerusalem, came to confirme the benefits that God had shewed to Israel, and to see Iudeth, and to salate her.

10 Thou hast done all these things by thine hand: thou hast done much good to Israel, and God is pleased therewith: blessed be thou of the almighty Lord for euermore: and all the people sayd, So be it.

11 And the people spoyled the campe the space of thirtie dayes, and they gaue vnto Iudeth Olofernes tent, and all his liuer, and beds, and baskins, and all his stuffe, and shee tooke it, and layd it on her mules, and made ready her charets, and layd them thereon.

12 Then all the women of Israel came together to see her, and blessed her, and made a dance among them for her, and shee tooke branches in her hand, and gaue also to the women that were with her.

13 They also crowned her with oliues, and her that was with her, and she went before the people in the dance, leading all the women: and all the men of Israel followed in their armour, with crownes, and with songs in their mouthes.

Indeth the daughter of Herari did discomfit him by the beautie of her countenance.

8 For she put off the garment of her widow-hood, for the exaltation of those that were oppressed in Israel, and anoynted her face with ointment, and bound up her haire in a coiffe, and tooke a linnen garment to deceiue him.

9 Her slippers raiſhed his eyes: her beauty tooke his mind prisoner, and the ſauchin paſſed thorow his necke.

10 The Perſians were aſtoniſhed at her boldnes, and theſe Bedes were troubled with her hardiſſe.

11 But mine afflicted reioyced, and my feeble ones ſhouted: then they feared, they liſted vp their voice, and turned backe.

12 The childzen of maids pearced them, and wounded them as they fled away like childzen: they periſhed by the battell of the Lord.

13 I will ſing unto the Lord a ſong and praiſe, O Lord, thou art great & glorious, marueilous and inuincible in power.

14 Let all thy creatures ſerue thee: * for thou haſt ſpoken, and they were made: thou haſt lent thy ſpirit, and hee made them vp: and there is none that can reſiſt thy voice.

15 For the mountaynes leape vp from their foundations with the waters: the rocks melt at thy preſence like waxe: yet thou art mercifull to them that feare thee.

16 For all ſacrifice is too little for a ſweet ſauiour, and all the fat is too little for thy burnt offering: but he that feareth the Lord, is great at all times.

17 As to the nations that riſe vp againſt my kinned: the Lord Almighty will take vengeance of them in the day of iudgement, in ſending fire and woimes vpon their fleſh, and they ſhall ſeele them and weepe for euer.

18 After when they went unto Ieruſalem, they worſhipped the Lord, and as ſoone as the people were purified, they offered their burnt offerings, and their free offerings, and their gifts.

19 Indeth alſo offered all the ſuſſe of Dioſcorus, which the people had giuen her, and gaue the canopie which he had taken off his bed, for an oblation to the Lord.

20 So the people reioyced in Ieruſalem by the Sanctuary for the ſpace of three moneths, and Indeth remained with them.

21 After this time, euery one returned to his owne inheritance, & Indeth went to Bechulia, and remained in her owne poſſeſſion, & was for her time honourable in all the countrey.

22 And many deſired her, but none had her company all the daies of her life, after that Hananias her husband was dead, and was gathered to all his people.

23 But ſhee increaſed more and more in honour, and waied olde in her husbands houſe, being an hundred and ſine yeere olde, and made her mayd free: ſo ſhe dyed in Bechulia, and they buried her in the graue of her husband Hananias.

24 And * the houſe of Iſrael lamented her ſeuen dayes, and before ſhe died, ſhe did diſtribute her goods to al them that were neereſt of kinned to Hananias her husband, & to them that were the neereſt of her kinned.

25 And there was none that made the childzen of Iſrael any more aſtrayd in the dayes of Indeth, nor a long time after her death.

Eſther.

Certaine portions of the ſtorie of Eſther, which are found in ſome Greeke and Latine translations: which follow the tenth Chapter.

When Hardocheus ſaid, God hath done theſe things.

5 For I remember a dreame, which I ſaw concerning theſe matters, and there was nothing thereof omitted.

6 A little fountaine which became a flood, and was a light, and as the ſunne, and as much water, this flood was Eſther whom the King married, and made Queene.

7 And the two Dragons are I and Aman.

8 And the people are they that are aſſembled to deſtroy the name of the Jewes.

9 And my people is Iſrael, which cried to God, and are ſaued: for the Lord hath ſaued his people, and the Lord hath deliuered vs from all theſe euils, and God hath wrought ſignes and great wonders, which haue not bene done among the Gentiles.

10 Therefore hath he made two lots, one for the people of God, & another for all the Gentiles.

11 And theſe two lots came before God for all nations, at the houre and time appointed, & in the day of iudgement.

12 So God remembered his owne people, and iuſtified his inheritance.

13 Therefore thoſe dayes ſhalbe vnto them in the moneth Adar the foureteenth and fifteenth day of the ſame moneth, with an aſſembly and top, and with gladneſſe before God, according to the generations for euer among his people.

CHAP. XI.

In the fourth yeere of the reigne of Ptolemus I and Cleopatra Doſitheus, who ſaid he was a Priet & Leuite, and Ptolemus his ſonne that brought the former letters of Dhurat, which the ſaide Lyſimachus the ſonne of Ptolemus, which was at Ieruſalem, interpreted,

|| Or, lots.

2 In the ſecond yeere of the reigne of great Artaxerxes, in the firſt day of the moneth Niſan, Hardocheus the ſonne of Iarus, the ſonne Semei, the ſonne of Cis of the tribe of Benjamin had a dreame:

3 A Jew dwelling in the citie of Suſis, a noble man, that bare office in the kings court.

4 Hee was alſo one of the captiuitie which Babcuchodonosor the king of Babylon brought from from Jerusalem with Jeconias.

5 And this was his dreame, Behold, a noyle of a tempest with thunders & earthquakes, and voyce in the land.

6 Beholde two great Dragons come foorth ready to fight one against another.

7 Their crye was great, wherby all the heathen were ready to fight against the righteous people.

8 And the same day was full of darkenesse and obliuiscence, and trouble, and anguish: yea, aduersitee, and great affliction was vpon the earth.

9 For then the righteous fearing their afflictions, were amazed, and being ready to die, cried vnto God.

10 And while they were crying, the litle wel grew into a great riner, and flowed ouer with great waters.

11 The light & the sunne rose vp, and the lowly were exalted, and denouced the glorious.

12 Now when Hardocheus had scene this dreame, hee awoke and rose vp, and thought in his heart vntill the might, what God would doe, and so he desired to know all the matter.

CHAP. XII.

At the same time dwelt Hardocheus in the Kings Court with Bagathas and Chara, the Kings eunuchs and keepers of the palace.

2 * But when he heard their purpose, & their imaginations, hee perceived that they went about to lay their hands vpon y<sup>e</sup> King Artaxerxes, and so he certified the king thereof.

3 Then caused the king to examine the two eunuchs with toynments, and when they had confessed it, they were put to death.

4 This the king caused to be put in the Chronicles: Hardocheus also wrote the same thing.

5 So the king commanded that Hardocheus should remaine in the Court, and for the aduertisement he gaue him a reward.

6 But Aman the sonne of Amadathus the Agagite, which was in great honour and reputation with the King, went about to hurt Hardocheus and his people, because of the two eunuchs of the king that were put to death.

CHAP. XIII.

1 The copie of the letters of Artaxerxes against the Iewes, & The prayer of Hardocheus.

The copie of the Letters was this. The great King Artaxerxes wrieth these things to the princes a gouernours that are vnder him from Iudia vnto Ethiopia in an hundred and seuen and twentie prouinces.

2 When I was made lord ouer many people, and had subdued the whole earth vnto my dominion, I would not reate my selfe by the reason of my power, but purposed with equitie alway, and gentlenesse, to gouerne my subiects, and wholy to sic them in a peaceable life, and thereby to bring my kingdome vnto tranquillitee, that men might safely go thorow on euery side, and to renew peace againe, which all men desire.

3 Now when I asked my counsellers howe

these things might be brought to passe, one that was conuulsant with vs, of excellent wisdome, and constant in good will, and shewed himselfe to be of sure fidelitie, which had the second place in the kingdome, euen Amen,

4 Declared vnto vs, that in all nations there was scattered abroade a rebellious people, that had lawes contrary to all people, and haue alway despised the commandements of Kings, and so that this general Empire, that we haue begunne, cannot bee gouerned without offence.

5 Seeing nowe wee perceiue that this people alone are altogether contrary vnto euery man, vling strange and other maner of lawes, and hauing an euill opinion of our doings, and goe about to stablish wicked matters, that our kingdome should not come to good estate,

6 Therefore haue wee commanded that all they that are appointed in writing vnto you by Aman (which is ordered ouer the affaires, and is as our second father) shall all with their wiues and childzen bee destroyed and rooted out with the sword of their enemies without all mercie, and that none bee spared the fourteenth day of the twelfth moneth Adar of this yeere,

7 That they which of old, and now also haue euer bene rebellious, may in one day with violence be thrust downe into the hell, to the intent that after this time our affaires may be without troubles and well gouerned in all points.

8 Then Hardocheus thought vpon all the workes of the Lord, and made his prayer vnto him, 9 Saying, O Lord, Lord, the king almightie (for all things are in thy power) and if thou hast appointed to saue Israel, there is no man that can withstand thee.

10 For thou hast made heauen and earth, and all the wondrous things vnder the heauen.

11 Thou art Lord of all things, and there is no man that can resist thee, which art the Lord.

12 Thou knowest all things, and thou knowest, Lord, that it was neither of malice, nor presumption, nor for any desire of glory that I did this, and not bow downe to proude Aman.

13 For I would haue bene content with good will for the saluation of Israel to haue killed the Gole of his feere.

14 But I did it, because I would not preferre the honour of a man about the glory of God, and would not worship any but onely thee, my Lord, and this haue I not done of pride.

15 And therefore, O Lord God and King, haue mercy vpon thy people: for they imagine howe they may bring vs to nought, yea, they would destroy the inheritance, that hath bene thine from the beginning.

16 Despisit not the portion which thou hast deliuered out of Egypt for thine owne selfe.

17 Heare my prayer, and bee mercifull vnto thy portion: turne our sorrow into joy, that wee may sing, O Lord, and praise thy Name: But not the monthes of them that praise thee.

18 All Israel in like maner cried most earnestly vnto the Lord, because that death was before their eyes.

C H A P. XIII.

The prayer of Esther for the deliuerance of her, and her people.

Queene Esther also, being in danger of death reioyced vnto the Lord,

2 And layd away her glorious apparell, and put on the garments of sighing, and mourning. In the stead of precious oymnt, shee scattered ashes and dung vpon her head: and shee humbled her body greatly with fasting, and all the places of her ioy filled shee with the haire that shee plucked off.

3 And shee prayed vnto the Lord God of Israel, saying, O my Lord, thou onely act our king: help me desolate woman, which haue no helper but thee.

4 For my danger is at hand.

5 From my youth vp I haue heard in the kindred of my father, that thou, O Lord, tookest Israel from among all people, and our fathers from their predecessors for a perpetuall inheritance, and thou hast performed that which thou didest promise them.

6 Howe Lord, wee haue sinned before thee: therefore hast thou giuen vs into the hands of our enemies,

7 Because wee worshipped their gods: O Lord, thou art righteous.

8 Neuertheless, it satisfied them not, that wee are in bitter captiuitie: but they haue stroken hands with their idoles,

9 That they will abolish the thing that thou with thy mouth hast ordained, and destroy thine inheritance, to shut by the mouth of them that praise thee, and to quench the glory of the Temple, and of thine altar,

10 And to open the mouthes of the heathen, that they may praise the power of the idoles, and to magnifie a fleshly king for euer.

11 O Lord, give not thy scepter vnto them that be nothing, least they laugh vs to scoone in our miserie: but turne their deuise vpon themselves, and make him an example, that hath begun the same against vs.

12 Thinke vpon vs, O Lord, and shew thy selfe vnto vs in the time of our distresse, and strengthen me, O king of gods, and Lord of all power.

13 Giue me an eloquent speech in my mouth before the Lion: turne his heart to hate our enemy, to destroy him, and all such as consent vnto him.

14 But deliuer vs with thine hand, and helpe me that am solitary, which haue no defence but onely thee.

15 Thou knowest all things, O Lord: thou knowest, that I hate the glory of the vniuersions, and that I abhorre the bed of the vncircumcised, and of all the heathen.

16 Thou knowest my necessitie: for I hate this token of my peccencie, which I beare vpon my head, what time as I must shewe my selfe, and that I abhorre it as a menstruous cloth, and that I weare it not when I am alone by my selfe,

17 And that I thine handmaide heie not eaten at Amans table, and that I haue had no pleasure in the kings feast, nor drunke the wine of the drinke offerings,

18 And that I thine handmaide haue no ioy since the day that I was brought hither vntill this day, but in thee, O Lord God of Abraham. 19 O thou mightie God aboue all, heare the voyce of them that haue none other hope, and deliuer vs out of the hand of the wicked, and deliuer me out of my feare.

C H A P. XV.

1 Mardocheus moueth Esther to goe in to the king, and make intercession for her people, 9 And she performeth his request.

Mardocheus also bade Esther to goe in vnto the King, and pray for her people, and for her countrey.

2 Remember, sayth hee, the dayes of thy low estate, howe thou wast nourished vnder mine hand: for Aman which is next vnto the King, hath giuen sentence of death against vs.

3 Call thou therefore vpon the Lord, & speake for vs vnto the King, and deliuer vs from death.

4 And vpon the third day when shee had ended her prayer, shee layd away the mourning garments, and put on her glorious apparell,

5 And decked her selfe goodly, after that shee had called vpon God, which is the beholder and Saviour of all things, & tooke two handmaids with her.

6 Vpon the one shee leaned her selfe, as one that was tender.

7 And the other followed her, and bare the traine of her vesture.

8 The shine of her beautie made her face rose coloured: and her face was cheerefull & amiable, but her heart was sorrowfull for great feare.

9 Then shee went in thorow all the doores, and stood before the King, and the King fate vpon his royall throne, & was clothed in his goodly array, all glittering with gold & precious stones, and he was very terrible.

10 Then hee lift vp his face that shone with maiestie, and looked fiercely vpon her: therefore the Queene fell downe, and was pale and faint, and leaned herselfe vpon the head of the mayde that went with her.

11 Neuertheless, God turned the kings minde that hee was gentle, who being carefull, leaped out of his throne, and tooke her in his armes, till she came to herselfe againe: and comforted her with louing words, and said,

12 Esther, what is the matter? I am thy brother, be of good cheere, 13 Thou shalt not die: for our commaundement toucheth the commons, & not thee. Come nere:

14 And so he held by his golden scepter, and layd it vpon her necke, 15 And kissed her, and said, Talke with me.

16 Then said shee, I saw thee, O lord, as an angel of God, and mine heart was troubled for feare of thy maiestie.

17 For wonderfull art thou, O lord, and thy face is full of grace.

18 And as shee was thus speaking vnto him, she fell downe againe for faintnesse.

19 Then the King was troubled, and all his seruants comforted her.

C H A P. XVI.

The copie of the letters of Artaxerxes, wherby hee renoueth those which be first sent forth.

The

Joseph. Ane.
11. cap. 6.

The great King Artaxerxes, which reigned from India unto Ethiopia, ouer an hundred and seuen and twenty prouinces, sendeth vnto the princes and rulers that haue the charge of our affaires, Salutation.

2 There be many that through the goodnes of Princes and honour giuen vnto them, become very proud,

3 And endeavour not onely to hurt our subiects, but not content to liue in wealth, doe also imagine destruction against those that do them good,

4 And take not onely all thankefulnes away from men, but in pride and presumption, as they that be vniuersal of benefites, they thinke to escape the vengeance of God, that seeth al things, and is contrary to euill.

5 And oftentimes many, which be set in office, and vnto whom their friends causes are committed, by vaine intencions doe waippe them in calamities, that cannot bee remedied: for they make them partakers of innocent blood,

6 And deceitfully abuse the simplicity and gentleness of princes with lying tales.

7 This may bee prooued not onely by olde histories, but also by those things that are before our eyes, and are wickedly committed of such pestilences as are not worthie to beare rule.

8 Therefore we must take heed hereafter that wee may make the kingdome peaceable for all men, what change souere shall come,

9 And discern the things that are before our eyes, to withstand them with gentleness.

10 For Aman, a Macedonian, the sonne of Amadathus, being indeed a stranger from the Persians blood, and farre from our goodnesse, was retained of vs, 11 And hath pouoed the friendship that wee beare toward all nations, so that hee was called our father, & was honoured of euery man, as the next person vnto the king.

12 But hee could not vse himselfe soberly in this great dignity, but went about to depprue vs of the kingdome, and of our life.

13 Which manifold deceit also hath he desired to destroy Dardochens our pretence, which hath done vs good in all things, and innocent either the partaker of our kingdome, with all her nation.

14 For his minde was (when hee had taken them out of the way) to lay wait for vs, & by this meanes to translate the kingdome of the Persians vnto them of Macedonia.

15 But we find that the Iewes (which were accused of this most wicked ma that they might be destroyed) are no euill doers, but vse most iust lawes,

16 And that they be the children of the most high and Almighty and euertlasting God, by whome the kingdome hath bene preferred vnto vs, and our progenitors, in very good order.

17 Therefore ye shall do well, if ye do not put in execution those letters that Aman the son of Amadathus did write vnto you.

18 For hee that inuented them, hangeth at Sulis before the gates with all his familie, and God (which hath all things in his power) hath speedily rewarded him after his deserting.

19 Therefore ye shall publish the copy of this letter in all places, that the Iewes may freely liue after their owne lawes.

20 And ye shall ayde them, that vpon the thirteenth day of the twelfth moneth Adar, they may bee auenged of them, which in the time of their trouble would haue oppressed them.

21 For Almighty God hath earned to soy the day, wherein the chosen people should haue persecuted.

22 Moreover, among other solemne dayes, ye shall keepe this day with all gladnesse, 23 That both now and in time to come, this day may bee a remembrance of deliuerance for vs and al such as leue the prosperity of the Persians, but a remembrance of destruction to those that be seditious vnto vs.

24 Therefore all cities and countreyes that doe not this, shall horribly bee destroyed with sword and fire, and shall not onely not bee inhabited of men, but hee abhorred also of the wilde beasts and foules for euer.

CHAP. I.

1 How we ought to search and enquire after God.

2 Who be the those that find him. 3 The holy Ghost.

8 11 We ought to flee from backebiting and murmuring. 12 Whereof death cometh. 13 Righteousnesse and vnrightheousnesse.

Due * rightheousnesse, yee that be Judges of the earth: thinke reuerently of the Lord, and seeke him in simplicitie of heart.

2 * For he wil be found of them that tempt him not, and appeareth vnto such as be not vnfaithfull vnto him.

3 For wicked thoughts separate from God: and his power when it is tryed, cryoueth the vnwise.

4 Because wisdome cannot enter into a wicked heart, nor dwell in the bodie that is subiect vnto sinne.

5 For the holy * Spirit of discipline fleeth from deceit, and withdraweth himselfe from the thoughts that are without vnderstanding, and is rebuked when wickednesse cometh.

6 For the spirit of wisdome * is louing, and will not abohne him, that blasphemeth with his lips: for God is a witnesse of his reines, and a true beholder of his heart, and an bearer of the tongue.

7 For the spirit of the Lord filleth all the world: & the same that maintaineth all things hath knowledge of the voyce.

8 Therefore hee that speakech vnrightheous things, cannot bee hid: neither shall the iudgement of reproch let him escape.

9 For inquisition shall bee made for the thoughts of the vngodly, and the sound of his words shall come vnto God for the correction of his iniquities.

11 Therefore beware of murmuring, which profiteth nothing, & reſtraine your tongue from handers: for there is no word to ſecret, that ſhall goe for nought, & the mouth that ſpeaketh lies, ſuppeth the ſoule.

12 Seeke not death in the errour of your life: * deſtroy not your ſelues though the workes of your owne hands.

13 * For God hath not made death, neither hath he pleaſure in the deſtruction of the living. 14 For he created all things, that they might haue their being: and the generations of the world are preſerued; and there is no poiſon of deſtruction in them, and the kingdome of hell is not vpon earth.

15 For righteousneſſe is immortal, but vnrigh- teouſneſſe bringeth death.

16 And the vngodly call * it vnto them both with handes and wordes: and while they thinke to haue a friend of it, they come to nought: for they are confederate with it: therefore are they worthy to be partaker a thereof.

CHAP. II.

The imagination and deſires of the wicked, and their counſell againſt the ſanctiſhall.

For the vngodly ſay, as they falſely imagine with themſelues, * Our life is ſhort and tedious: and in the death of a man there is no recovery, neither was any known that hath returned from the graue.

2 For wee are borne at all aduenture, and we ſhall be hereafter, as though we had receiued being: for the breath is a ſmoke in our noſtrils, and the wordes as a ſparke rayſed out of our breaſt.

3 Which being extinguished, the body is turned into aſhes, and the ſpirit ſmellith as the ſmoke are.

4 Our life ſhall paſſe away as the trace of a ſteed, and come to nought as the miſt that is diſſeued away with the beames of the ſunne, and caſt downe with the heat thereof. Our name alſo ſhall be forgotten in time: and no man ſhall haue our workes in remembrance.

5 * For our time is as a ſhadow that paſſeth away, and after our end there is no returning: for it is ſo ſealed, ſo that no man commeth againe.

6 * Come therefore, and let vs enjoy the pleaſures that are preſent, and let vs cheerefully vie the creatures as in youth.

7 Let vs fill our ſelues with coſtly wine, and ointments, and let not the ſoure of life paſſe by vs.

8 Let vs crowne our ſelues with roſe buds afore they be withered.

9 Let vs all bee partakers of our wantonneſſe: let vs haue ſome token of our pleaſure in euery place: for that is our portion, and this is our lot.

10 Let vs oppreſſe the poore that is righteous: let vs not ſpare the widow, nor reuerence the white haire of the aged, that haue liued many yeeres.

11 Let our ſtrength be the law of vnrigh- teouſneſſe: for the thing that is feeble, is reſpoynded as vnpoſſible.

12 Therefore let vs deſtand the righteous, for he is not for our profit, and he is contrary to our doings: he cheel eth vs for offending againſt the Law, and blaſmeth vs as traitors & ſlours of diſcipline.

13 Hee maketh his boaſt to haue the know- ledge of God: and he calleth himſelfe the iſſuue of the Lord.

14 He is made to * reſpoune our thoughts.

15 He grieueth vs alſo to looke * vpon him: for his life is not like other mens: his wayes are of another ſanctiſ.

16 He counteth vs as baſtards, and he with- draweth himſelfe from our waies as from filthy- neſſe: hee commendeth greatly the latter end of the iuſt, and boaſteth that God is his father.

17 Let vs ſee then if his wordes be true: let vs proue what end he ſhall haue.

18 For if the righteous man be the * ſonne of God, he will helpe him, and deliuer him from the hands of his enemies.

19 Let vs * examine him with rebukes and tormentes, that we may know his meekeneſſe, and proue his patience.

20 Let vs condemne him vnto a ſhamefull death: for hee ſhall be preſerued as hee himſelfe ſaith.

21 Such thinges doe they imagine, and god aſſay: for their owne wickedneſſe hath blinded them.

22 And they doe not underſtand the myſte- ries of God, neither hope for the reward of righ- teouſneſſe, nor can dicernie the honour of the ſoules that are faultleſſe.

23 For God created man without corruption, and made him after the image of his owne like- neſſe.

24 * Quertheleſſe, though enuie of the deuil came death into the world: and they that holde of his lide, prouet it.

CHAP. III.

1 The conuſion & aſurance of the righteous, 2 The reward of the iuſt.

At the * ſonnes of the righteous are in the Rhand of God, and vs torment ſhall touche them.

2 * In the ſight of the vnruiſe they appeared to die, and their end was thought grieuous,

3 And their departing from vs, deſtruction, but they are in peace.

4 And though they ſuffer paine before men, yet is * their hope full of immortalitye.

5 They are puniſhed but in few thinges, yet in many thinges ſhall they bee well rewarded: * For God puniſheth them, and ſtandeth them mee- for himſelfe.

6 We tryeth them as the gold in the furnace, and receiweth them as a perfect fruit offering.

7 * And in the time of their viſion they ſhall ſhine, and runne thow as the ſparkes among the rubble.

8 They * ſhall iudge the nations, and haue dominion ouer the people, and their Lord ſhall reigne for euer.

9 They that truſt in him ſhall vnderſtand the trueth, and the faithfull ſhall remaine with him in loue: for grace and mercy is among his Saints, and he regardeth his elect.

10 * But the vngodly ſhall bee puniſhed ac- cording to their imaginations: for they haue deſpised

Of vertue and the commoditie thereof. 10 The death of the righteous and the condemnation of the vnfaithfull.

Better is barrennesse with vertue: for the me- moiall thereof is immortall: for it is known with God and with men.

2 When it is present, men take example thereof, and if it goe away, yet they desire it: it is alway crowned and triumpheth, and winneth the battell and the undefiled rewards.

3 But the multitude of the vngodly which abound in children is unprofitable: and the bastard plants shall take no deepe rooce, or lay any fast foundation.

4 For though they bud sooth in the branches for a time, yet they shall be shaken with the winde: for they stand not fast, and through the vehemencie of the wind they shall be rooted out.

5 For the vnperfect branches shall be broken, and their fruit shall be unprofitable and loyde to eat, and meete for nothing.

6 For all the children that are borne of the wicked bed, shall be witness of the wickednesse against their parents when they be asked.

7 But though the righteous bee penenced with death, yet shall he be in rest.

8 For the honourable age is not that which is of long time, neither that which is measured by the number of yeeres.

9 But wisdom is the gray haire, and an undefiled life is the old age.

10 He pleased God and was beloued of him, so that whereas he liued among sinners, he translated him.

11 Hee was taken away, lest wickednesse should altar his vnderstanding, or deceit beguile his minde.

12 For wickednesse by bewitching obscureth the things that are good, and the vnstedfastnes of concupiscence peruertereth the simple mind.

13 Though hee was loone dead, yet fulfilled he much time.

14 For his soule pleased God: therefore hastened he to take him away from wickednesse.

15 Yet the people see and vnderstand it not, and consider no such things in their hearts, how that grace and mercy is vpon his saints, and his prouidence ouer the elect.

16 Thus the righteous that is dead, condemneth the vngodly which are liuing: & the youth that is soone brought to an ende, the long life of the vnrighteous.

17 For they see the end of the wise, but they vnderstand not what God hath demised for him, & wherefore the Lord hath preferred him in safety.

18 They see him and despise him, but the Lord will laugh them to scorne.

19 So that they shall fall hereafter without honour, and shall haue a shame among the dead for euermore: for without any voice shall he bury them, and cast them down, and shake them from the foundations, so that they shall be utterly wasted, and they shall be in sorrow, and their memorie all shall perish.

20 So they being afraid, shall remember their sinnes, and their owne wickednesse shall come before them to conuince them.

CHAP. V.

1 The constantnesse of the righteous before the persecutors. 14 The hope of the vnfaithfull is vaine. 15 The blessednesse of the Saints and godly.

Then shall the righteous stand in great boldnesse before the face of such as haue tormented him, and taken away his labours.

2 When they see him, they shall bee hered with horrible feare, and shall bee amazed for his wonderfull desturance.

3 And shall change their minds, and sigh for griefe of mind, and lay with in themselves, This is he whom we sometime had in derision, and in a parable of reproch.

4 Hee fooles thought his life madnesse, and his end without honour.

5 Now is he counted among the children of God, and his portion is among the Saints!

6 Therefore we haue erred from the way of truth, and the light of rightcounesse hath not shined vnto vs, and the sunne of vnderstanding roie not vpon vs.

7 We haue wearied our selues in the way of wickednesse and destruction, and we haue gone through dangerous wayes: but we haue not known the way of the Lord.

8 What hath yde profited vs? or what profit hath the pompe of riches brought vs?

9 All those things are passed away like a shadow, and as a poste that passeth by:

10 As a shippe that passeth ouer the waues of the water, which when it is gone by, the trace thereof cannot be found, neither the path of it in the floods:

11 As a bird that flieth thorow in the ayre, & no man can see any token of her passage, but onely heare the noyse of her wings, beating the light wind, parting the ayre through the vehemencie of her going, and flieth on, shaking her wings, whereas afterward no token of her way can be found:

12 As when an arrow is shot at a marke, it parteth the ayre, which immediately cometh together againe, so that a man cannot know where it went to glory.

13 Euen so we, as bene as we were borne, we began to draw to our end, and haue shewed no token of vertue, but are continued in our owne wickednesse.

14 For* the hope of the vngodly is like the durt that is blowen away with the winde, and like a thynne fume that is scattered abroad with the storme, and as the smoake which is disperfed with the winde, and as the remembrance of him pasketh, that carrieth but for a day.

15 But the righteous shall liue for euer: their reward also is with the Lord, & the most High hath care of them.

16 Therefore shall they receiue a glorious kingdome, and a beautiful crowne of the Lords hand: for with his right hand shall hee couer them, and with his arme shall he defend them.

17 We shall take his ielousie for armour, and shall arme the creatures to bee reuenged of the enemies.

18 We shall put on righteousnesse for a breast-plate, and take true iudgement in stead of an helmet.

19 We will take holines for an inuincible shield.

20 Hee will sharpen his fierce wrath for a sword, and the world shall fight with him against the vnwise.

21 Then shall the thunderbolts goe straight out of the lightnings, and shall ste to the marke as out of the bent bow of the clouds, and out of his anger that throweth stones, shall thicke hail be cast, and the waters of the sea shall be wroth against them, and the floods shall mightily ouerflow.

22 And a mighty wind shall stand by against them; and like a storme shall scatter them abroad. Thus iniquitie shall bring all the earth to a wilderness, and wickednes shall ouerthrow the thrones of the mightie.

CHAP. VI.

The calling of Kings, Princes, and Iudges, which are also exhorted to search wisefedome.

Hear therefore, O yee Kings, and vnderstand: learne ye that be Iudges of the ends of the earth.

2 Giue eare, ye that rule the multitudes, and glorie in the multitude of people.

3 For the rule* is giuen you of the Lord, and power by the most High, which will tele your workes, and search out your imaginations.

4 Because that ye being officers of his kingdome, haue not iudged aright, nor kept the law, nor walked after the will of God,

5 Worthily and suddainely will hee appeare vnto you: for an hard iudgement shall they haue that beare rule.

6 For he that is most low, is worthy mercie, but the mightie shall bee mightily tormented.

7 For he that is Lord ouer all, will spare no person, neither shall hee feare any greatnesse: for he hath made the final and great, and careth for all alike.

8 But for the mighty abideth the sozer till all.

9 Vnto you therfore, O tyrants, do I speake, that ye may learne wisefedome, and not go amisse.

10 For they that keepe holinesse holly, shall bee holy, and they that are learned there, shall haue a defence.

11 Therefore set your delight vpon my wordes and desire them, and ye shall bee instructed.

12 Wisefedome thyneth and neuerfadeth away, and is easily teene of them that loue her, & found of such as seeke her.

13 Shee preuenteth them that desire her, that she may first shew her selfe vnto them.

14 Who lo awaketh vnto her sometimes, shall haue no great traualle: for he shall finde her sitting at his doores.

15 To thinke vpon her then is profit vnderstanding: and who so watcheth for her, shall bee soone without care.

16 For shee goeth about, seeking such as are meete for her, and sheweth her selfe cheerefully vnto them in the wayes, and meeteth them in euery thought.

17 For the most true desire of discipline is her beginning: and the care of discipline is loue.

18 And loue is the keeping of her lawes: and the keeping of the lawes is the assurance of immortallitie.

19 And immortallitie maketh vs neere vnto God.

20 Therefore the desire of wisefedome leadeth to the kingdome.

21 If your delight bee then in thrones, and scepters, O kings of the people, vsour wisefedome, that ye may reigne for euer.

22 Now I will tell you what wisefedome is, and whence it cometh, and will not hide the mysterie from you, but will seeke her out from the beginning of her natiuitie, and bring the knowledge of her into light, and will not keepe backe the truth.

23 Neither will I haue to doe with consuming enue: for such a man shall not be partaker of wisefedome.

24 But the multitude of the wise is the preferuation of the world, and a wise King is the stay of the people.

25 Be therfore instructed by my wordes, and yee shall haue profit.

CHAP. VII.

Wisefedome ought to be preferred aboue all things.

I My selfe am also mortall and a man like all other, and am come of him that was first made of the earth.

2 And in my mothers wombe was I fastened to be fleshy in ten moneths: I was brought together into blood of the seede of man, and by the pleasure that cometh with sleepe.

3 And when I was borne, I receiued the common aye, and fell vpon the earth, which is of like nature, crying and weeping at the first as all other doe.

4 I was nourished in swadling clothes, and with cares.

5 For there is no king that had any other beginning of birth.

6 All men then haue no entrance vnto life, and alike going out.

7 Therefore I prayed, and vnderstanding was giuen me: I called, and the spirit of wisefedome came vnto me.

8 I preferred her to scepters & thrones, and counted riches nothing in comparison of her.

9 Neither did I compare precious stones in respect of her: for all golde is but a little grauel in respect of her, and silver shall bee counted but but clay before her.

10 I loued her aboue health and beauty, and purposed to take her for my light: for her light cannot be quenched.

11 All * good things therefore came to me together with her, and innumerable riches thowow her hands.

12 So I was glad in all: for wisdom was the author thereof, and I knew not that she was the mother of these things.

13 And I learned vnfaignedly, and communicated without enuie, and I doe not hide her riches.

14 For shee is an infinite treasure vnto men, which who so ble, become partakers of the loue of God, and are accepted for the gifts of knowledge.

15 God hath granted me to speake according to my mind, and to iudge worthily of the things that are giuen me: for he is the leader vnto wisdom, and the director of the wise.

16 For in his hande are both wee and our wordes, and all wisdom, and the knowledge of the workes.

17 For he hath giuen me the true knowledge of the things that are, so that I know how the world was made, and the powers of the elements.

18 The beginning and the end, and the mids of the times: how the times alter, & the change of the seasons.

19 The course of the yere, the situation of the starres, 20 The nature of liuing things, and the fiercenes of beasts, the power of the windes, and the imaginacions of men, the diuersities of plants, and the vertues of rootes.

21 And all things both secret and knowen do I know: for wisdom the worker of all things hath taught me it.

22 For in her is the spirit of vnderstanding, which is holy, the onely begotten, manifold, subtil, moueable, cleare, vndebled, euident, not hurtfull, louing the good, sharpe, which cannot be letted, doing good.

23 Courteous, stable, sure, without care, hauing all power, circumspect in all things, and passing through all intellectuall, pure, and subtil spirits.

24 For wisdom is nimbler then all nimble things: shee goeth thowow and attaineth to all things, because of her purenesse.

25 For she is the breath of the power of God, and a pure influence that floweth from the glory of the Almighty: therefore can no defiled thing come vnto her.

26 For shee is the brightnesse of the euerlasting light, the vndefiled mirror of the Diuinitie of God, and the image of his goodnesse.

27 And being one, she can doe all things, and remaining in her selfe, reneweth all, and according to the ages she entreteth into the holy soules, and maketh them the friends of God and Prophets.

28 For God loueth none, if he dwell not with wisdom.

29 For she is moze beautiful then the Sunne, and is aboue all the order of the starres, and the light is not to be compared vnto her.

30 For might cometh vpon it, but wickednesse cannot ouercome wisdom.

CHAP. VIII.

The effects of wisdom.

Shee also reacheth from one end to another swiftnly, and comely doeth shee order all things.

2 I haue loued her, and sought her from my youth: I desired to marrie her, such loue had I vnto her beauty.

3 In that she is conuerfant with God, it commendeth her nobility: yea, the Lord of all things loveth her.

4 For shee is the Schoolemistresse of the knowledge of God, and the chooser out of his workes.

5 If riches bee a possession to bee desired in this life, what is richer then wisdom, that worketh all things?

6 For if prudence worketh, what is it among all things that worketh better then shee?

7 If a man loue righteoulesse, her labours are vertuous: for shee teacheth sobernesse and prudence, righteoulesse, and strength, which are the most profitable things that men can haue in this life.

8 If a man desire great experience, shee can tell the things that are past, and discern things to come: shee knoweth the subtilities of wordes & the solutions of darke sentences: shee foreseth the signes and wonders, or euer they come to passe, and the successe of seasons and times.

9 Therefore I purposed to take her vnto my company, knowing that shee would counsell mee good things, and comfort mee in cares and griefes.

10 For her sake shall I haue glory among the multitude, & honour among the Elders though I be yong.

11 I shall be found of sharpe iudgement, so that I shall bee marueilous in the sight of great men.

12 When I holde my tongue, they shall abide my pleasure: when I speake, they shall be diligent, and if I talke much, they shall lay their hands vpon their mouth.

13 Moreover, by her I shall obtaine immortallitie, and leaue an euerlasting memoriall among them that come after me.

14 I shall gouerne the people, and the nations shall be subdued vnto me.

15 Horrible tyrants shall be afraid when they heare me: among the multitude I shall be counted good, and mighty in battell.

16 When I come home I shall rest with her: for her company hath no bitterness, and her fellowship hath no tediousnesse, but mirth and toy.

17 Nowe when I considered these things by my selfe, and pondered them in mine heart, how that to bee loyued vnto wisdom is immortallitie.

18 And great pleasure is in her friendship, and that in the workes of her hands are infinite riches, and that in the exercise of talking with her is prudence, and glory by communicating with her. I went about, seeking how I might take her vnto me.

19 For I was a wittie childe, and was of a good spirit.

20 Yea, rather being good, I came to an vndefiled body.

4 * When they were thirstie they called vpon thee, and water was given them out of the high rocke, and their thirst was quenched out of the hard stone.

5 For by the things whereby their enemies were punished, by the same were the Israelites helped in their neede.

6 For in stead of a fountaine of running water, the enemies were troubled at the corrupt blood, which was to rebuke the commandement of the killing of the children, but thou gauest vnto thine owne abundance of water vnlooked for.

Exod. 17. 10.

7 Declaring by the thirst that was at that time, * how thou hadst punished thine aduersaries.

8 For when they were tried and chastised with mercy, they knew how the vngodly were iudged and punished in wrath.

9 For these hast thou exhorted as a father, and proued them: but thou hast condemned the other as a righteous King, when thou didst examine them.

10 Whether they were absent or present, their punishment was alike: for their griefe was double with mourning, and the remembrance of things past.

11 For when they persecuted that through their torments good came vnto them, they felt the Lord.

12 And seeing the things that came to passe, at the last they wondred at him, whom afore they had cast out, denied and derided: for they had another thirst then the iust.

13 Because of the foolish devices of their wickednesse wherewith they were deceiued, and wordstipped * serpents, that had not the ble of reason, and vile beastes, thou lendedst a multitude of vreasonable beasts vpon them for a vengeance, which they might know, that wherewith a man sinneth, by the same also shall he be punished.

14 For vnto thine almighty hand, that made the world of * nought, it was not vnpossible to send among them a multitude of * Beares, or fierce Lions,

15 * Furious beastes newly created and vknown, which should breathe out blastes of fire, and cast out smoke as a tempest, or shoote horrible sparkes like lightnings out of their eyes.

16 Which might not onely destroy them with burning, but also kill them with their horrible sight.

17 Dea, without thes might they haue been cast downe with one winde, being persecuted by thy vengeance, and scattered abroad through the power of thy Spirit: but thou hast ordered all things in measure, number, and weight.

18 For thou hast euer had great strength and might, and who can withstand the power of thine arme?

19 For as the small thing that the ballance weigheth, so is the world before thee, and as a drop of the morning dewe that falleth downe vpon the earth.

20 But thou hast mercie vpon all: for thou hast power of all things, and makest as though thou sawest not the finnes of men, because they should amend.

21 For thou lovest all the things that are, and hatest none of them whom thou hast made: for thou wouldest haue created nothing that thou hadst hated.

22 And how might any thing endure, if it were not thy will? or how could any thing bee preferred, except it were called of thee?

23 But thou sparest all: for they are thine. O Lord, which art the louer of soules.

CHAP. XII.

2 The mercie of God toward sinners. 14 The works of God are vnreprouable. 19 God giueth leasure to repent.

For thine incorruptible Spirit is in all things.

2 Therefore thou chastenest them measurably that goe wrong, and warnest them by putting them in remembrance of the things where-in they haue offended, that leauing wickednesse, they may beleeue in thee, O Lord.

3 * As for those otse inhabitants of the holy land, thou didst hate them.

4 For they committed abominable workes, as sorceries and wicked sacrifices,

5 And slaying of their owne children without mercie, and eating of the bowels of mans flesh in banquetting, where the raging priest shed abominable blood.

6 And the fathers were the chiefe murderers of the soules, destitute of all helpe, whom thou wouldest destroy by the handes of our fathers,

7 That the land which thou lovest about all other, might be a ierece dwelling for the children of God.

8 * Neuertheless, thou sparedst them also, as men, and lendedst the forerunners of thine hoste, euen hornets to destroy them by little and little,

9 Not that thou wast vnable to subdue the vngodly vnto the righteous in battell, or with cruell beastes, or with one rough word to destroy them together.

10 But in punishing them by little and little, thou gauest them space to repent, knowing wel that it was an vnrightheous nation, and wicked of nature, and that their thought could neuer be altered.

11 It was a curled seeDe from the beginning: yet hast thou not spared them when they sinned, because thou fearedst any man.

12 For who dare say, * What hast thou done? or who dare stand against thy iudgement? or who dare accuse thee for the nations that perish, whome thou hast made? or who dare stand against thee to reuenge the wicked men?

13 For there is none other God but thou, * that carest for all things, that thou mayest declare how that thy iudgement is not vnright.

16 For thy power is the beginning of righteoussnesse, and because thou art Lord of all things, it causeth thee to spare all things.

17 When men thinke thee not to be of a perfect power, thou declarest thy power, and reprovest the boldnesse of the wise.

18 But thou ruling the power, iudgest with equitie, and governeest vs with great fauour: for thou maigest shew thy power when thou wilt.

19 By such workes now hast thou taught thy people, that a man should be iust and louing, and hast made thy children to be of a good hope: for thou guesst repentance to sinners.

20 For if thou hast punished the enemies of thy children that had deserved death with so great consideration, and requesting vnto them, giuing them time and place that they might change from their wickednesse.

21 With how great circumspection wilt thou punish thine owne children, vnto whose fathers thou hast swoyne and made covenants of good promises?

22 So when thou doest chasten vs, thou punishest our enemies a thousand times more, to the intent that when wee iudge, we should diligently consider thy goodness, and when we are iudged, we should hope for mercy.

23 Wherefore thou hast tormented the wicked that haue liued a dissolute life by their owne imaginations.

Chap. 11. 13.
Rom. 1. 2, 3.

24 * For they went astray very farre in the wayes of error, and esteemed the beasts, which their enemies despised, for gods, being abused after the manner of children, that haue none vnderstanding.

25 Therefore hast thou sent this punishment that they should be in derision as children without reason.

26 But they that will not be reformed by those scornfull rebukes, shal feele the worthy punishment of God.

27 For in those things when they suffered, they disdained: but in these whom they counted godly, when they saw themselves punished by them, they all acknowledged the true God, whom afore they had denied to know: therefore came extreme damnation vpon them.

CHAP. XIII.

1 All things be vaine, except the knowledge of God, 10 Idolaters and idoles are mocked.

Rom. 1. 19.

Surely all men are vaine by nature, and are ignorant of God, and could not know him that is, by the good things that are seen, neither consider by the workes, the workemaister.

Deut. 4. 19.
and 17. 3.

2 But they thought the fire or the winde, or the swift aye, or the course of the starres, or the raging water, or the lightes of heauen to be gouernours of the world and gods.

3 Though they had such pleasure in these beautie that they thought them gods, yet should they haue knowen how much more excellent hee is that made them: for the first authoꝝ of beauty hath created these things.

4 Or if they marvelled at the power, and operation of them, yet should they haue perceined thereby, how much he that made these things, is mightier.

5 For by the greatnesse of their beauty, and of the creatures, the Creator being compared with them, may be considered.

6 But yet the blame is lesse in these, that seeke God and would finde him, and yet peradventure doe erre.

Rom. 1. 21.

7 For they * goe about by his workes to seeke him, and are perfwaded by the sight, because the things are beautifull that are seene.

8 Howbeit they are not to be excused.

9 For if they can know so much, that they can discern the world, why doe they not rather finde out the Lord thereof?

10 But miserable are they, and among the dead is their hope, that call them gods, which are the workes of mens hands, gold, and siluer, and the thing that is inuented by arte, and the similitude of beasts, or any vaine stone that hath been made by the hand of antiquity.

Iere. 10. 3.

11 * As when a carpenter cutteth downe a tree merre for the worke, and pareth off all the barke thereof cunningly, and by arte maketh a vessel profitable for the vse of life.

12 And the things that are cut off from his worke, hee bestoweth to dresse his meate to fill himselfe.

13 And that which is left of these things, which is profitable for nothing (for it is a crooked piece of wood, and full of knobs) he carneth it diligently at his leasare, and according as hee is expert in cunning, hee giueth it a proportion, and fashioneth it after the similitude of a man.

14 Or maketh it like some vile beast, and straketh it ouer with red, and painteth it, and couereth euery spot that is in it.

15 And when he hath made a conuenient tabernacle for it, he setteth it in a wall, and maketh it fast with yon.

16 Prouding so for it, lest it fall: for he knoweth that it cannot helpe it selfe, because it is an image, which hath neede of helpe.

17 When he prayeth for his goods, and for his marriage, and for children: hee is not ashamed to speake vnto it that hath no life.

18 Hee calleth on him that is weake, for health: he prayeth vnto him that is dead, for life: he requireth him of help, that hath no experience at all.

19 And for his iourney, him that is not able to goe, and for gaine, and worke, and successe of his affaires: hee requireth furtherance of him that hath no manner of power.

CHAP. XIII.

1 The detestation and abomination of images. 8 A curse of them, and of him that maketh them. 14 Whereof idolatry proceeded. 23 What euils come of idolatry.

A Gaine, another man purposing to saile, and intending to passe thorow the raging waues, calleth vpon a stocke more rotten then the shippe that carrieth him.

[Or, the ship.

2 For as for // it, couetousnesse of money hath found it out, and the craftsman made it by

by cunning.

Exod. 14. 22 3 But thy providence, O Father, governeth it: * for thou hast made a way, even in the sea, and a sure path among the waues,

4 Declaring thereby that thou hast power to helpe in all things, yea, though a man went to the sea without means.

5 Neuertheless, thou wouldest not that the workes of thy wisdom should bee vaine, and therefore doe men commit their lues to a small piece of wood, and passe over the stormie sea in a ship and are saved.

Gen. 6. 4 & 7. 10. 6 * For in the oide time also when the proud giants perished, the hope of the world went into a ship which was governed by thine hand, and so left seede of generation vnto the world.

7 For blessed is the tree whereby righteousness commeth.

Psal. 115. 8. bairuch. 6. 3. 8 But that is cursed that is made with hands, * both it, and he that made it, because he made it, and it being a corruptible thing, because it was called god.

Psal. 5. 5. 9 * For the vngodly and his vngodlinesse are both alike hated of God: so truly the worke and he that made it, shall be punished together.

Iere. 10. 8. habac. 2. 18. 10 Therefore shal there be a visitation for the idoles of the nations: for of the creatures of God they are become abomination, * and stumbling blockes vnto the soules of men, and a snare for the feete of the vnwise.

11 For the inuention of idoles was the beginning of whoredome, and the finding of them is the corruption of life.

12 For they were not from the beginning, neither shall they continue for euer.

13 The vaine glory of men brought them into the world: therfore shall they come shortly to an end.

14 When a father mourned grievously for his sonne that was taken away suddenly, hee made an image for him that was once dead, whom now he worshippeth as a god, and ordained to his seruants ceremonies and sacrifices.

15 Thus by procelle of time this wicked custome prevailed, and was kept as a lawe, and idoles were worshipped by the commandement of tyrants.

16 As for those that were so farre off, that men might not worshipp them presently, they did counterfeit the visage that was farre off, and made a gorgeous image of a king, whom they would honour, that they might by all meanes flatter him that was absent, as though he had bene present.

17 Again, the ambition of the craftsman thrust forward the ignorant to increaseth the superstition.

18 For hee peradventure willing to please a noble man, laboured with all his cunning to make the image of the best fashion.

19 And so through the beautie of the worke the multitude was allured, and so tooke him nowe for a god, which a little afore was but honoured as a man.

20 And this was the deceiuing of mans life, when men, being in seruitude through calamitie and tyrannie, ascribed vnto stones and stockes the name, which ought not to be communicate vnto any.

21 Howouer, this was not enough for them that they erred in the knowledge of God: but whereas they liued in great wars of ignorance, those so great plagues called they peacc.

Deut. 18. 10. iere. 7. 9. and 19. 4. 22 For either * they slew their owne children in sacrifice, or used fcerre ceremonies, or raging dissolucenesse by strange rites, 23 And so kept neither life nor marriage cleane: but either one slew another by treason, or else vered him by adulterie.

24 So were all mixt together, blood and slaughter, theft and deceit, corruption, vnfaithfulness, tumults, perurie, 25 Diliqueting of good men, vnthankfulness, defiling of soules, changing of birth, disorder in marriage, adulterie and vncleannesse.

26 For the worshipping of idoles, that ought not to be named, is the beginning and the cause, and the end of all euill.

27 For either they be mad when they be merrie, or prophetic lie, or lue vngodly, or els lightly forswear themselves.

28 For in so much as their trust is in the idoles, which haue no life, though they sweare faithfully, yet they thinke to haue no hurt.

29 Therefore for two causes shall they iustly be punished, because they haue an euill opinion of God, addicting themselves vnto idoles, and because they sweare vniustly to deceiue, and despite holinesse.

30 For it is not the power of them by whom they sweare, but the vengeance of them that sinne, which punisheth alwayes the offence of the vngodly.

C H A P. XV.

The voyce of the faithfull, praising the mercie of God, by whose grace they serue not idoles.

BUt thou, O our God, art gracious and true, Blong suffering, and governest all things by mercie.

2 Though we sinne, yet art we thine: for we know thy power: but wee sinne not, knowing that we are counted thine.

3 For to know thee, is perfect righteousness, and to know thy power, is the roote of immortallitie.

4 For neither hath the wicked inuention of men deceiued vs, nor the vnprofitable labour of the painters, nor an image spotted with diuers colours.

5 Whose sight stirreth by the desire of the ignorant: so that he cometh to the forme that hath no life, of a dead image.

6 They that loue such wicked things, are worthy to haue such things to trust to, and they that make them, and they that desire them, and they that worshipp them.

7 The potter also tempereth soft earth, and fashioneth euery vessell with labour to our use: but of the same clay hee maketh both the vessels that serue to cleane vses, and the contrary likewise: but whereto euery vessel serueth, the potter is the iudge. Rom. 9. 21.

8 So by his wicked labour hee maketh a vaine god of the same clay: euen he, which is little afore was made of earth himselfe, and within a little while after goeth thither againe whence he was taken, * when he shall make account for the lone of his life. Luke 12. 30.

9 Notwithstanding he careth not for the labour hour he taketh, nor that his life is short, but hee striueth with the goldsmithes, and siluer-smithes, and counterfeiteth the copper-smithes, and taketh it for an honour to make deceivable things.

10 His heart is ashes, and his hope is more vile then earth, and his life is lesse worthy of honour then clay.

11 For he knoweth not his owne maker, that gaue him his soule, that had power and breathed in him the breath of life.

12 But they count one life to be but a pastime, and our conuerſation as a market, where there is gaine: for they say we ought to bee getting on euery side, though it be by euill meanes.

13 Now hee that of earth maketh fraile vessels and images, knoweth himselfe to offend aboue all other.

14 All the enemies of thy people, that hold them in subiection, are most vnwilt, and more miserable then the very fooles.

15 For they iudge all the idoles of the nations to bee gods, which neither haue eye sight to see, nor noses to smell, nor eares to heare, nor fingers of hands to gripe, and their feete are slow to goe.

16 For man made them, and he that hath but a bowed spirit, fashioned them: but no man can make a god like to himselfe.

17 For seeing he is but mortall himselfe, it is but mortall that hee maketh with vnrighteous hands: he himselfe is better then they whom he worshippeth: for he liued, but they neuer liued.

18 Psea, they worshipped beastes also, which are their most enemies, and which are the worst, if they bee compared vnto others, because they haue none vnderstanding.

19 Neither haue they any beautie to be desired in respect of other beastes, for they are destitute of Gods praise, and of his blessing.

CHAP. XVI.

The punishment of idolaters. 20 The benefites done vnto the faithfull.

Therefore by such things they are worthily punished and * corrected by the multitude of beastes.

2 In steade of the which punishment thou hast bene fauourable to thy people, and to satisfie their appetite, hast prepared a meate of a strange taste, euen * quailles,

3 So the intent that they that desire meate, by the things which were shewed & sent among them, might turne away their necessarie desire, and that they, which had suffered penurie for a space, should also feele a new taste.

4 For it was requisite, that they which vsed tyrannie, should fall into erreaine pouertie, and that to these onely it should be shewed, how their enemies were tormented.

5 * For when the cruell fiercenesse of the beastes came vpon them, & they were hurt with the stings of cruell serpents,

6 They woud endure not perpetually, but they were troubled for a little season, that they might bee reformed, hauing a * signe of saluation to remember the commaundement of thy Law.

7 For he that turned toward it, was not healed by the thing that he saw, but by thee, O Saluour of all.

8 So in this thou shewedst our enemies, that it is thou, which deliuerest from all euill.

9 * For the biting of grasshoppers and flies killed them, and there was no remedie found for their life: for they were worthy to bee punished by such.

10 But the teeth of the venemous dragons could not ouercome thy children: for thy mercy came to helpe them, and healed them.

11 For they were pricked, because they should remember thy words, and were speedily healed, lest they should fall into so deepe forgetfulness, that they could not bee called backe by thy benefite.

12 For neither herbe nor plaister healed them, but thy word, O Lord, which healeth all things.

13 For thou hast the power of life and death, * and leadest downe vnto the gates of hell, and bringest by againe.

14 A man indeede by his wickednes may slay another: but when the spirit is gone forth, it turneth not againe, neither can hee call againe the soule that is taken away.

15 But it is not possible to escape thine hand.

16 * For the vngodly that woud not knowe thee, were punished by the strenght of thine arme, with strange raine and with haile, and were purified with tempest, that they could not auoid, and were consumed with fire.

17 For it was a wonderous thing that fire might doe more then water, which quencherh all things: but the world is the auenger of the righteous.

18 For sometime was the fire so came, that the beastes, which were sent against the vngodly, burnt not: and that, because they should see, and knowe, that they were persecuted with the punishment of God.

19 And sometime burnt the fire in the mids of the water, about the power of fire, that it might destroy the generation of the vniust land.

20 * In the stead whereof thou hast fed thine owne people with Angels food, and sent them bread ready from heauen without their labour, which had abundance of all pleasures in it, and was meete for all tastes.

21 For thy sustenance declared thy sweetness vnto thy children, which serued to the appetite of him that tooke it, and was meete to that that euery man woud.

22 Forer, the * snow and yce abode the fire and melted not, that they might know, that the fire burning in the haile, and sparking in the raine, destroyed the fruit of the enemies.

23 Againe it forgot a his owne strenght, that the righteous might be nourished:

24 For the creature that serueth thee which art the maker, is fierce in punishing the vngodly: but it is easie to doe good vnto such as put their trust in thee.

25 Therefore was it changed at the same time vnto all fashions to serue thy grace, which nourisheth all things, according to the desire of them that haue neede thereof.

26 That thy children whom thou louest, O Lord, might knowe, * that it is not the increase of fruites that feedeth men, but that it is thy word,

CHAP. XVII.

The iudgement of God against the wicked.

For thy iudgements are great, and cannot be perpepled: therefore men doe erre, that will not be reformed.

2 For when the vntighteous thought to haue thine holy people in subiection, they were bound with the bands of darknes, and long night, and bring hie vp vnder the roote, did he there to escape the euertlasting prouidence.

3 And while they thought to be hid in their darke cowering, of forgetfulness, fearing horribly and troubled with visions.

4 For the denne that hid them, kept them not from feare: but the soundes that were about them troubled them, and terrible visions and sorrowfull sights did appere.

5 No power of the fire might giue light, neither might the cleere flames of the starrs lighten the horrible night.

6 For there appeared vnto them onely a sudden fire, very deadly: so that being afraid of this vision, which they could not see, they thought the thinges which they saw to bee worse.

7 And the illusions of the Magickall artes were brought downe, and it was a most shameful reproch for the boasting of their knowledge.

8 For they that promised to vniue away feare and trouble from the sicke person, were sicke for feare, and worthy to be laughed at.

9 And though no fearefull thing did feare them, yet were they afraid at the beastes which passed by them, and at the hissing of the serpents: so that they died for feare, and said they saw not the ayre, which by no meanes can bee aduoyded.

10 For it is a fearefull thing when malice is condemned by her owne testimony: and a conscience that is touched, doeth euer forecast cruell thinges.

11 For feare is nothing else, but a betraying of the succours, which reason offereth.

12 And the lesse that the hope is within, the more doth he esteeme the ignorance of the thing, that tormenteth him, great.

13 But they that did endure the night that was intolerable, and that came out of the dungeon of hell, which is insupportable, kept the same sleepe.

14 And sometimes were troubled with monstrous visions, and sometime they swooned, as though they should soule should betray them: for a sudden feare not looked for, came vpon them.

15 And thus whoeuer fell downe, hee was kept, and shut in prison, but without chaines.

16 For whether he was an husbandman, or a shepheard, or one that was set to worke alone, if he were taken, hee must suffer this necessitie, that he could not answere:

17 (For with one chaine of darknesse were they all bound) whether it were an hissing wind, or a sweete song of the birdes among the thicke branches of the trees, or the vehemency of haffe running water,

18 Or a great noyse of the falling downe of skanes, or the running of skipping beastes, that could not be seene, or the noyse of cruell beastes, that roared, or the sound that answered againe in the hollow mountaines: these fearefull thinges made them to swoone.

19 For all the world shined with cleere light, and no man was hindered in his labour.

20 Vnely vpon them there fel an heary night and image of that darknesse that was to come vpon them: yea, they were vnto themselves more grieuous then darknesse.

22 For hee overcame not the multitude with bodily power, nor with force of weapons, but with the word hee subdued him that punished, alledging the othes and couenant made vnto the fathers.

3 For while yet sorrow was before them, and they lamented by the graues of the dead, they deuised another foolishnesse. So that they persecuted the in their fleeing, whom they had cast out afoze with prayer.

a That is, the children of Israel whom they before had desired and prayed to goe their way.

4 For the destinie whereof they were worthy, brought them to this end, and caused them to forget the things that had come to passe, that they might accomplish the punishment, which remained, by torments.

5 Both that thy people might try a marvelous passage, & that they might finde a strange death.

6 For euery creature in his kind was fashioned anew, and serued in their owne offices employed them, that thy children might bee kept without hurt.

7 For the cloud ouershadowed their tents, and the drie earth appeared, where afoze was water: so that in the red Sea there was a way without impetiment, and the great deepe became a greene field.

Or, Egyptians.

13 For the one sort would not receive them when they were present, because they knew them not: the other sort brought the strangers into bondage that had done them good.

14 Beside all these things some would not suffer, that any regard should be had of them: for they handled the strangers despitefully.

15 Others that had received them with great banquetting, and admitted them to bee partakers of the same lawes, did afflict them with great labours.

¶ This argument was found in a certaine Greeke copie.

This Iesus was the sonne of Sirach, and Sirachs father was also called Iesus, and he liued in the latter times after the people had bene led away captiue, and brought home againe, and almost after all the Prophets. Now his grandfather, as he himselfe witeneth, was a man of great diligence, and wisdom among the Hebrewes, who did not onely gather the graue sentences of wise men that had bene before him, but he himselfe also spake many full of great knowledge and wisdom. So this first Iesus died, and left this which hee had gathered, and Sirach afterward lett it to Iesus his sonne, who tooke it and put it in order in a booke, and called it Wisdom, intitling it both by his owne name, his fathers name, and his grandfathers: thinking by this title of Wisdom, to allure the Reader to read this booke with more great desire, and to consider it more diligently. Therefore this booke containeth wise sayings, and darke sentences, and similitudes, with certaine diuine histories which are notable and ancient, euen of men that were approued of God, and certaine prayers and songs of the author himselfe: moreouer, what benefites the Lord had bestowed vpon his people, and what pl. gucs he had heaped vpon their enemies. This Iesus did imitate Salomon, and was no lesse famous in wisdom and doctrine, who was therefore called a man of great knowledge, as he was indeed.

The Prologue of the wisdom of Iesus the sonne of Sirach.

Whereas many and great things haue bene giuen vs by the Law and the Prophets, and by others that haue followed them, (for the which things Israel ought to be commended by the reason of doctrine and wisdom, whereby the readers ought not onely to become learned themselves, but also may be able by the diligent study thereof to be profitable vnto strangers, both by speaking and writing) after that my grandfather Iesus had giuen himselfe to the reading of the Law and the Prophets, and other books of our fathers, and had gotten therein sufficient iudgement, he purposed also to write some thing pertaining to learning and wisdom, to the intent that they which were desirous to learne, and would giue themselves to these things, might profit much more in liuing according to the Law. Wherefore, I exhort you to receiue it louingly, and to reade it with diligence, and to take it in good worth, though we seeme to some in some things not able to attaine to the interpretation of such words as are hard to be expressed: for the things that are spoken in the Hebrew tongue, haue another force in themselves then when they are translated into another tongue: and not onely these things, but other things also, as the Law it selfe, and the Prophets, and other bookes haue no small difference when they are spoken in their owne language. Therefore in the right and thirtieth yere, when I came into Egypt vnder king Euergetes, and continued there, I found a copy full of great learning, and I thought it necessary to bestow my diligence and trauel to interpret this booke. So for a certaine time with great watching & study I gaue my selfe to the finishing of this booke, that it might be published, that they which remaine in banishment, and are desirous to learne, might apply themselves vnto good maners, and liue according to the Law.

2 To our father and mother ought we to giue double honour. 10 Of the blessing and curse of the father and mother. 22 No man ought ouer curiously to search out the secrets of God.

THe children of wisdome are the Church of the righteous, and their offspring is obedient and loue.
 2 Heare your fathers iudgment, O children, and do thereafter, that ye may be safe.
 3 For the Lord will haue the father honoured of the children, and hath confirmed the authoritie of the mother ouer the children.
 4 Who so honoureth his father, his sinnes shall be forgiven him, [and he shall abstaine from them, and shall haue his daily desires.]
 5 And he that honoureth his mother, is like one that gathereth treasure.
 6 Who so honoureth his father, shall haue ioy of his owne children, and when hee maketh his prayer, he shall be heard.
 7 Hee that honoureth his father, shall haue a long long life, and hee that is obedient vnto the Lord, shall comfourt his mother.

8 Hee that feareth the Lord, honoureth his parents, and doeth seruice vnto his parents, as vnto lords.

9 * Honour thy father and mother in deede and in worde, [and in all patience,] that thou mayest haue Gods blessing, [and that his blessing may abide with thee in the end.]

10 For the blessing of the father establisheth the houses of the children, and the mothers curse rooteth out the foundations.

11 Reioyce not at the dishonour of thy father: for it is not honour vnto her, but shame, 12 Seeing that mans glory cometh by his fathers honour, and the reproch of the mother is dishonour to the children.

13 Thy sonne, helpe thy father in his age, and grieue him not as long as he liueth.

14 And if his vnderstanding faile, haue patience with him, and despise him not when thou art in thy full strength.

15 For the good increaseth of thy father shall not be forgotten, but it shall be a fortress for thee against sinnes, [and for thy mothers offence thou shalt be recompensed with good, and it shall be founded for thee in righteousnesse.]

16 And in the day of trouble thou shalt be remembered: thy sinnes also shall melt away as the yee in the furnace.

17 He that forsaketh his father, shall come to shame, and he that angreth his mother, is cursed of God.

18 If My sonne, performe thy doings with meekenesse, so shalt thou be beloued of them that are approued.

19 The greater thou art, the more humble thy selfe [in all things] and thou shalt find fauour before the Lord.

20 Many are excellent and of renowne: but the secrets are reuelled vnto the meeke.

21 For the power of the Lord is great, and he is honoured of the lowly.

22 * Seeke not out the things that are too hard for thee, neither search the things rashly which are too mightie for thee.

23 [But] what [God] hath commaunded thee, thinke vpon that with reuerence, [and be not curious in many of his workes:] for it is not needfull for thee to see with thine eyes the things that are secret.

24 Be not curious in superfluous things: for many things are shewed vnto mee above the capacitee of men.

25 The meddling with such hath beguiled many, and an euill opinion hath deceined their iudgement.

26 Thou canst not see without eyes: preesse not the knowledge therefore that thou hast not.

27 A stubburne heart shall fare euill at the last; and he that longeth danger, shall perishe therein.

28 An heart that goeth two wayes, shall not prosper: and hee that is steward of heart, shall stumble therein.

29 An oblitmate heart shall be laden with sorowes: and the wicked man shall heape sinne vpon sinne.

30 The perswasion of the psonde is without remedy, and his iteps shall be pluckt down: for the plant of sinne hath taken roote in him, [and yee shall not be escheued.]

31 The heart of him that hath vnderstanding, shall perceiue secret things, and an attentive eare is the desire of a wise man.

32 [An heart that is wise and vnderstanding, will abstaine from sinne, and shall prosper in the workes of righteousnesse.]

33 Water quengeth burning fire, * and almes taketh away sinnes.

34 And hee that rewardeth good deeds, will remember it afterward, and in the time of the fall, hee shall find a stay.

Mysonne, defraud not the * poore of his liuing, and make not the needie eyes to waite long.

2 Make not a hungry soule sorrowfull, neither bere a man in his needlinitie.

3 Trouble not the heart that is grieued, and deferre not the gift of the needie.

4 Refuse not the prayer of one that is in trouble: * turne not away thy face from the poore.

5 Turne not thine eyes aside [in anger] from the poore, and giue him none occasion to speake euill of thee.

6 For if hee curse thee in the bitterness of his soule, his prayer shall be heard of him that made him.

7 Be courteous vnto the company [of poore, and humble thy soule vnto the Elber,] and bow downe thy head to a man of worshipping.

8 Let it not grieue thee to bow downe thine eare vnto the poore, [but pay thy debt] and giue him a friendly answer.

9 Deliver him that suffereth wrong, from the hand of the oppressed, and be not silent hearded // when thou iudget.

10 Be as a father vnto the fatherlesse, and as an husband vnto their mother: so shalt thou bee as the sonne of the most high: and hee shall loue thee more then thy mother doeth.

11 Alledome exalteth her children, and reuerieth them that seeke her, [and will goe before them in the way of righteousnesse.]

12 Hee that longeth her, longeth life, and they that seeke life in the morning, shall haue great toy.

13 He that keepeth her, shall inherite glory: for vnto whom shee entreth, him the Lord will bleesse.

14 They that honour her, shall be the seruants of the holy One, and them that loue her, the Lord doeth loue.

15 Who so giueth care vnto her, shall iudge the nations, and hee that goeth vnto her, shall dwell safely.

16 Hee that is faithfull vnto her, shall haue her in possession, and his generation shall possesse her.

17 For first shee will walke with him by crooked wayes, and bring him vnto feare and dread, and torment him with her discipline vntill shee haue cryed his soule, and haue proued him by her iudgements.

In riches may we not put any confidence. 7 The vengeance of God ought to be feared, and repentance may not be deferred.

Trust not vnto thy * riches, and say not, I haue enough for my life: [for it shall not helpe in the time of vengeance and indignation.]

2 Followe not thine owne minde and thy strength to walke in the wayes of thine heart:

3 Acyther say thou, [Howe haue I had strength?] or who will bring mee vnder for my workes? For God the auenger will reuenge the wrong done by thee.

4 And say not, I haue sinned, and what euill hath come vnto me? for the Almighty is a patient rewarder, but he will not leane thee vnpunished.

5 Because thy sinne is forgiven, be not without feare, to heape sinne vpon sinne.

6 And say not, The mercie of God is great: hee will forgive my manifold finnes: for mercie and wrath come from him, and his indignation commeth downe vpon sinners.

7 Make no tarrying to turne vnto the Lord, and put not off from day to day: for suddenly shall the wrath of the Lord breake forth, and in thy securitie thou shalt be destroyed, and thou shalt perish in time of vengeance.

8 Trust not in wicked riches: for they shall not helpe thee in the day of punishment [and vengeance.]

9 Be not caried about with every wind, and goe not into every way: for so doeth the sinner that hath a double tongue.

10 Stand fast in thy sure vnderstanding [and] in the way and knowledge of the Lord [and] haue but one maner of word, [and] follow the word of peace and righteousness.

11 Be humble to heare the word of God, that thou mayest vnderstand it, and make a true answer with wisdom.]

12 * Bee swift to heare good things, and let thy life be pure, and giue a patient answer.

13 If thou hast vnderstanding, answer thy neighbour: if not, lay thine hand vpon thy mouth, lest thou bee trapped in an vnderreect word, and to id be blamed.]

14 Honour and shame is in the talke, and the tongue of a man caueth him to fall.

15 Be not counted a * talebearer, and lie not in wait with thy tongue: for shame [and] repentance] follow the thirde, and an euill condemnation is ouer him that is doubled tongued: [but] he that is a backbiter shall be hated, eunited and confounded.

Be not of a friend [thy neighbours] * enemy: for such shall haue an euill name, shame and reproch, and he shall be in infamie as the wicked that hath a double tongue.

2 Bee not psond in the denice of thine owne minde, lest thy soule rent thee as a bull,

3 And eate vp thy leaues, and destroy thy fruit, and so thou be left as a drie tree [in the wilderness.]

4 For a wicked soule destroyeth him that hath it, and maketh him to bee laughed to scorn of his enemies, [and] bringeth him to the portion of the vngodly.]

5 A sweete talke multiplieth the friends [and] pacifieth them that be at variance,] and a sweet tongue increaseth much good talke.

6 Hold friendship with many, neuer thelesse haue but one counsellor of a thousand

7 If thou gettest a friend, procure him first, and bee not haltie to credit him.

8 For some man is a friend for his owne occasion, & will not abide in the day of thy trouble.

9 And there is some friend that turneth to enmitie, and taketh part against thee, and in contention hee will declare thy shame.

10 Againe, some * friend is but a companion at the table, and in the day of thine affliction he continueth not.

11 But in thy prosperity he will be as thou thy selfe, and will vnderwrite ouer thy seruants.

13 Depart from thine enemies, and beware of thy friends.

14 A faithfull friend is a strong defence, and he that findeth such a one, findeth a treasure.

18 O My sonne, receive doctrine from thy youth by: so shalt thou find wisdom [which shall endure] till thine old age.

19 Goe to her as one that ploweth, and soweth, and wait for her good fruits: for thou shalt haue but litle labour in her worke: but thou shalt eat of her fruits right soone.

20 How exceeding sharpe is shee to the vnllearned! he that is without iudgement, will not remaine with her.

22 For they haue the name of wisdom; but there be but few that haue y knowledge of her.

23 [For with them that know her, shee adueth vnto the appearing of God.]

24 Give care, my sonne: receive my doctrine, and refuse not my counsell.

25 And put thy secte into her links, and thy necke into her chaine.

26 Bow downe thy shoulder vnto her, and beare her, and be not weary of her bands.

27 Come vnto her with thy whole heart, and keepe her wayes with all thy power.

28 Seeke after her, and searce her, and shee shall be thywed there: and when thou shalt gotten her, forlake her not.

29 For at the last thou shalt find rest in her, and that shall be turned to thy ioy.

30 Then shall her fetters be a strong defence for thee. [and a sure foundation] & her chaines a glorious raiment.

31 For there is a golden ornament in her, and her bands are the laces of purple colour.

32 Thou shalt put her on as a robe of honour, and shalt put her vpon thee as a crowne of ioy.

33 My sonne, if thou wilt, thou shalt bee taught, and if thou wilt apply thy minde, thou shalt be wittie.

34 If thou loue to heare, thou shalt receive doctrine, and if thou delight in hearing, thou shalt be wise.

35 Stand with the multitude of the elders, which are wise, and ioyne with him that is wise.

36 * Desire to heare all godly talke, and let not the graue sentences of knowledge escape thee.

37 And if thou seeke a man of vnderstanding, get thee soone vnto him, and let thy foot weare the steps of his doores.

38 Let thy mind bee vpon the ordinances of the Lord, and be continually * occupied in his commandements: so shall hee establish thine heart, and giue thee wisdom at thine owne desire.

CHAP. VII.

2 Wee must for sake euill, and yet not iustifie our selues. 23 The behauiour of the wise toward his wife, his friends, his children, his seruants, his father and mother.

De no euill: so shall no harme come vnto thee.

2 Depart from the thing that is wicked, and sinne shall turne away from thee.

3 My sonne, sowe not vpon the furrowes of knighthoodlesse, least that thou reape them leuen fold.

4 Aske not of the Lord preeminence, neither of the King the seat of honour.

5 * Iustitie not thy selfe before the Lord: [for he knoweth thine heart,] & boast not thy wisdom in the presence of the king.

6 Seeke not to be made a Iudge, least thou bee not able to take away iniquitie, and least thou, fearing the person of the mightie, shouldest commit an offence against thine vprightnesse.

7 Offend not against the multitude of a citie, and cast not thy selfe among the people.

8 * Bind not two sinnes together: for in one sinne shalt thou not be unpunished.

9 Say not, God will looke vpon the multitude of mine oblations, and when I offer to the most high God, he will accept it.

10 Be not faint hearted, when thou makest thy prayer, neither slacke in giuing of almes.

11 Laugh no man to scozne in the beautiesse of his soules for [God which seeth all things] is hee * that can bring downe, and set vp againe.

12 Sow not a lie against thy brother, neither doe the same against thy friend.

13 Use not to make any manner of lie: for the custome thereof is not good.

14 Make not many words when thou art among the elders, neither * repeate a thing in thy prayer.

15 Hate not laborious * worke, neither the husbandry which the most high hath created.

16 Number not thy selfe in the multitude of the wicked, but remember that vengeance will not slacke.

17 Humble thy mind greatly: for the vengeance of the wicked is fire and wormes.

18 Sine not ouer thy friend for any good, nor thy true brother for the gold of Ophir.

19 Depart not from a wife and good woman, [that is fallen vnto thee for thy portion in the feare of the Lord:] for her grace is aboue gold.

20 * Whereas thy seruant worketh truly, intreate him not euill, nor the hireling that belongeth himselfe wholly for thee.

21 Let thy soule loue a good seruant, and defend him not of libertie, [neither leaue him a poore man.]

22 * If thou haue cattell, looke well to them, and if they bee for thy profit, keepe them with thee.

23 * If thou haue sonnes, instruct them, and hold their necke from their youth.

24 If thou haue daughters, keepe their bodie, and shew not thy face cheerefull toward them.

25 Marry thy daughter, and so shalt thou performe a weighty matter: but giue her to a man of vnderstanding.

26 If thou haue a wife after thy minde, for sake her not, but commit not thy selfe to the hatefull.

28 Remember that thou wast boyne of them, & how canst thou recompence them the thyngs that they haue done for thee?

29 Feare the Lord with all thy soule, and honour his minsters.

30 Love him that made thee, with all thy strength, *and forsake not his seruants.

31 Feare the Lord with all thy soule, and honour the Priests, *and giue them euer portion, as it is commaunded thee, the first fruits, [and purifications] and sacrifices for sin, and the offerings of the shoulders, & the sacrifices of sanctification, and the first fruits of the holy thyngs.

32 Stretch thine hand vnto the poore, that thy blessing, [and reconciliation] may bee accomplished.

33 Liberalitie pleaseth all men liuing, and *from the dead restraint it not.

34 *Let not them that weepe, bee without [comfort:] but mourne with such as mourne.

35 *Bee not slow to write the sicke: for that shall make thee to be beloued.

36 Whatsoeuer thou takest in hand, remember the end, and thou shalt neuer doe amisse.

C H A P. VIII.

We must take heed with whom we haue to doe.

Strive not with a mighty man, least thou fall into his hands.

2 *Take not variance with a rich man, lest hee on the other side weigh downe thy weight: *for gold [and silver] hath destroyed many, and hath libnerted the hearts of kings.

3 Strive not with a man that is full of words, and lay no sticks vpon his face.

4 Play not with a man that is vntaught, least thy kindred be dishonoured.

5 *Despise not a man that treneth himselfe away from sinne, nor cast him not in the teeth withall, but remember that wee are all worthe blame.

6 *Dishonour not a man in his old age: for they were as we which are not old.

7 Bee not glad of the death of thine enemy, but remember that we must all die, [and so enter into ioy.]

8 *Despise not the exhortation of the [Elders] that be wise, but acquaint thy selfe with their wise sentences: for of the thou shalt learne wisdome, [and the doctrine of vnderstanding,] and how to serue great men [without complaint.]

9 Goe not from the doctrine of the Elders: for they haue learned it of their fathers, and of them thou shalt learne vnderstanding, and to make answer in the time of need.

10 Kindle not the coales of sinners, [when they rebuke them,] least thou be burnt in the fierie flames [of their finnes.]

11 Rise not vp against him that doth wrong, that he lay not wait as a spye for thy mouth.

12 *Lend not to him that is mightier then thy selfe: for if thou lendest him, count it but lost.

13 Bee not libertie aboute thy power: for if thou be libertie, thinke to pay it.

14 Goe not to law with the iudge: for they will giue sentence according to his owne honour.

15 *Truste not by the way with him that is rash, least hee doe thee iniurie: for he followeth his owne willfullnesse, and so thalt thou perishe through his folly.

16 *Striae not with him that is angry, and goe not with him into the wilderness: for blood is as nothing in his sight, and where there is no helpe he will ouerthrow thee.

17 Take no counsell at a foole: for he cannot keepe a thyng close.

18 Doe no secret thyng before a stranger: for thou canst not tell what he goeth about.

19 Open not thine heart vnto euery man, lest he be vnthankfull vnto thee, [and put thee to reproofe.]

C H A P. IX.

Of ielousie, 12 An old friend is to be preferred before a new. 18 Righteous men should be bidden to thy table.

10e not ielous ouer thy wife of thy boyme, neither a reach her by thy meanes an euil lesson.

2 Giue not thy life vnto a woman, least she ouercome thy strength, [and so thou be confounded.]

3 Bewete not an harlot, least thou fall into her snares.

4 Ake not the company of a woman that is a singer, [and a dancer, neither heare her,] lest thou be taken by her craftinesse.

5 *Gaze not on a maid, that thou fall not by that that is pericious in her.

6 *Cast not thy mynd vpon harlots [in any manner of thyng,] least thou destroy [both thy selfe and] thine heritage.

7 Goe not about gazing in the streets of the cite, neither wander thou in the secret places thereof.

8 *Turne away thine eye from a beautifull woman, and looke not vpon others beauntie: for many *haue perished by the beauntie of women: for through it loue is kindled as a fire.

9 [Every woman that is an harlot, shall be] tr open vnder foot as doning, of euery one that goeth by the way.

10 Many wondering at the beauntie of a strange woman, haue bin cast out: for her words burne as a fire.]

11 Sit not at all with another mans wife, [neither lie with her vpon the bed,] nor banquet with her: lest thine heart incline vnto her, and so through thy desire fall into destruction.

12 Forsake not an old friend: for the new shall not be like him: a new friend is as new wine: when it is cold, thou shalt drinke it with pleasure.

13 *Desire not the honour [and riches] of a sinner: for thou knowest not what shall bee his end.

14 Delight not in the thyng that the vngodly haue pleasure in, but remember that they shal not be found lust vnto theire graue.

15 Keepe thee from the man that hath power to slay: so shalt thou not doubt the feare of death: and if thou come vnto him, make no fault, lest he take away thy life: remember that thou goest in the middes of snares, and that thou waitest vpon the towers of the cite.

16 Try thy neighbour as uerre as thou canst, *and take counsell of the wife.

20 A man full of words is dangerous in the citie, and he that is rash in his talking, shall bee hated.

C H A P. X.

1 Of Kings and Judges. 7 Pride and covetousnesse are to be abhorred. 28 Labour is praised.

A Wise Judge will instruct his people with discretion: the governance of a prudent man is well ordered.

2 As the Judge of the people is himselfe, so are his officers, and what manner of man the ruler of the citie is, such are all they that dwell therein.

1. King. 12. 1, 3, 14.

3 * An unwise King destroyeth his people, but where they that bee in authoritie, are men of understanding, there the citie prospereth.

4 The government of the earth is in the hand of the Lord, [and all iniquitie of the nations is to bee abhorred,] and when time is, hee will set up a profitable ruler over it.

5 In the hand of God is the prosperitie of man, and upon the Scribes will he lay his honour.

Leui. 19. 19.

6 * Bee not angry for any wrong, with thy neighbour, & doe nothing by inturious practises.

7 Pride is hateful before God and man, and by both doth one commit iniquitie.

Iere 27. 6. Dani. 4. 14.

8 * Because of unrighteous dealing, and wrongs, and riches gotten by deceit, the kingdom is translated from one people to another.

9 There is nothing worse then a covetous man: [why art thou proud, O earth and ashes? there is not a more wicked thing, then to love money:] for such one would even sell his soule, and for his life every one is compelled to pull out his owne bowels.

10 [All tyrannie is of small indurance, and the disease that is hard to heale, is gotten to the Physician.]

11 The Physician cutteth off the sore disease, and he that is to day a King, to morrow is dead.

12 Why is earth and ashes proud, seeing that when a man dieth, hee is the herte of serpents, beasts, and wormes?

13 The beginning of mans pride, is to fall away from God, and to tunc away his heart from his maker.

14 For pride is the originall of sinne, and hee that hath it, shall powre out abomination, till at last he be overthrowen: therefore the Lord bringeth the persuasions [of the wicked] to dishonour, and destroyeth them in the end.

15 The Lord hath cast downe the thrones of the [proud] princes, and set by the necke in their stead.

16 The Lord plucketh by the rootes of the [proud] nations, and planteth the lowly with glory among them.

17 The Lord overthroweth the lands of the heathen, and destroyeth them unto the foundations of the earth: hee causeth them to wither a way, and destroyeth them, and maketh theyr memoriall to cease out of the earth.

Luke 1. 52. & 14. 11. and 18. 14. 1. Sam. 2. 7, 8

18 [God destroyeth the memoriall of the proud, and leaveth the remembrance of the humble.]

19 Pride was not created in men, nelsther wrath in the generation of women.

20 There is a seede of man, which is an honourable seede: the honourable seede are they that feare the Lord: there is a seede of man, which is without honour: the seede without honour, are they that transgress the commandements of the Lord: it is a seede that remaineth, which feareth the Lord, and a false plant, that love him: but they are a seede without honour, that despise the law, and a deceittable seede that beake the commandements.

21 Hee that is the chiefe among brethren, is honourable: so are they that feare the Lord in his sight.

22 The feare of the Lord causeth that the kingdom faileth not, but the kingdom is lost by crueltie and pride.

23 The feare of the Lord is the glory as well of the rich and the noble, as of the poore.

24 It is not meete to despise the poore man that hath understanding, neither is it convenient to magnifie the rich that is a wicked man.

25 The great man and the indge, and the man of authoritie, are honourable, yet is there none of them greater then hee that feareth the Lord.

26 * Unto the servant that is wise, shall they that are free, doe service: * he that hath knowledge, will not grudge when hee is reformed, [and the ignorant shall not come to honour.]

Prov. 17. 2. 2. Sam. 12. 13.

27 Seeke not excuses when thou shouldest do thy worke, neither be ashamed thereof through pride in the time of adversitie.

28 * Better is hee that laboureth, and hath plenteousnesse of all things, then he that is gorgeous, and wanteth bread.

Pro. 12. 9, 11

29 By soone, get thy selfe praise by meekenesse, and esteeme thy selfe as thou deseruest.

30 Who will count him lust that sinneth against himselfe? or honour him that dishonoureth his owne soule?

31 The poore is honoured for his knowledge [and his feare,] but the rich is had in reputation because of his goods.

32 Hee that is honourable in pouertie, how much more shall he be when he is rich: and hee that is unhoneest being rich, how much more will he be when he is in pouertie?

C H A P. XI.

1 The praise of humilitie. 2 After the outward appearance ought wee not to iudge. 7 Of rash iudgement. 14 All things come of God. 29 All men are not to be brought into thine house.

Wise dome lifteth by the head of him that is lowe, and maketh him to sit among great men.

Gen. 41. 40. dan. 6. 3

2 Commend not a man for his beautie, neither despise a man in his bitter appearance.

3 The Bee is but small among the soulles yet doth her fruit passe in sweetnesse.

4 Bee not proud of clothing and raiment, * and spate not thy selfe in the day of honour: for the workes of the Lord are wonderfull [and glorious] secret, [and unknown] are his workes

 7 * Blame no [man] before thou hast enquired the matter: vnderstand first, and then re-toyme [righteously.]

8 * Giue no sentence before thou hast heard the cause, neither interrupt men in the mids of their tales.

9 Striue not for a matter that thou hast not to doe with, and sit not in the iudgement of sinners.

Mat. 19. 23 1. 22. 6. 5.
 10 Hy soune, meddle not with many matters: * for if thou game much, thou shalt not bee blamelesse, and if thou follow after it, yet shalt thou not attayne it, nepeher shalt thou cleape, though thou flee from it.

Pro. 10. 3.
 11 * There is some man that laboureth and taketh payne, and the more he hasteth, the more he wanteth.

Job. 42. 10.
 12 Againe there is some that is sountfull, and hath neede of helpe: for he wanteth strenght, and hath great povertie, yet the eye of the Lord looketh vpon him to good, and letteth him vp from his low estate,

13 And belisseth by his head: so that many men manuaile at him, [ and giue honour vnto God.]

14 * Prosperity and aduersity, life and death, povertie and riches come of the Lord.

Job. 1. 21. exek. 28. 4.
 15 Wisdome and knowledg, & vnderstanding of the Law are of the Lord: loue and good works come of him.

16 Erroure and darknesse are appointed for sinners, and they that exalt themselues in euill, ware old in euill.

17 The gift of the Lord remaineth for the godly, and his good will giueth prosperity for euer.

18 A Some man is rich by his care and nigardship, and this is the portion of his wages, Luke 12. 19.

 19 In that hee saith, * I haue gotten rest, and now will I eate continually of my goods, yet hee considereth not that the time draweth nere that hee must leaue all these things vnto other men, and die himselfe.

20 Stand thou in thy state, and exercise thy selfe therein, and remaine in thy worke vnto thine age.

21 Haruaile not at the works of sinners, but trust in the Lord, and abide in thy labour: for it is an easy thing in the sight of the Lord suddenly to make a poore man rich.

22 The blessing of the Lord is in the wages of the godly, and he maketh his prosperity soone to flourish.

23 * Say not, What profit and pleasure shall I haue: and what good things shall I haue hereafter?

24 Againe, say not, I haue enough, and possesse many things, and what euill can come to me hereafter?

Eccl. 7. 18. 24.
 25 * In thy good state remember aduersitie, and in aduersitie forget not prosperity.

26 For it is an easie thing vnto the Lord in the day of death to reward a man accordyng to his wayes.

27 The aduersity of an houre maketh one to forget pleasure: and in a mans end, his workes are discouered.

28 Iudge none blessed before his death: for a man shall be known by his chyldren.

29 Bring not enery man into thine house: for the secretfull haue many traueses. [and are like stomackes that belch stinkingly.]

30 As a partridge is taken vnder a basket, [and the hinde is taken in the snare,] so is the heart of the proud man, which like a pite water-teth for thy fall.

31 For hee lieth in waite, and turneth good vnto euill, and in things woorthy praiue he will find some fault.

32 Of one little sparke is made a great fire, [and of one deceitfull man is blood increased:] for a sinfull man layeth wait for blood.

33 Beware of a wicked man: for hee imagineth wicked things to bring thee into a perpetuall shame.

34 Lodge a stranger, and hee will destroy thee with vnquietnesse, and dyne thee from thine owne.

C H A P. XII.

1 Vnto whom we ought to doe good. 10 Enemies ought not to be trusted.

W hen thou wilt doe good, know to whom thou doest it, so shalt thou be thanked for thy benefites.

2 * Doe good vnto the righteous, and thou shalt finde [great] reward, though not of him, yet of the most high.

3 Hee cannot haue good that continueth in euill, and giueth no almes: [for the most high hateth the sinners, and hath mercie vpon them that repent.]

4 Giue vnto such as feare God, and receiue not a sinner.

5 Doe well vnto him that is lowly, but giue not to the vngodly: hold backe thy bread, and giue it not vnto him, lest hee overcome thee thereby: els thou shalt receiue twise as much euill for all the good that thou doest vnto him.

6 For the most high hateth the wicked, and will repay vengeance vnto the vngodly, & keepeth them against the day of horrible vengeance.

7 Giue vnto the good, and receiue not the sinner.

8 A friend cannot bee knownen in prosperitie, neither can an enemy bee vnknownen in aduersitie.

9 When a man is in wealth, it grieueth his enemies, but in heauynesse and trouble a mans very friend will depart from him.

10 Trust neuer thine enemy: for like as an yron rusteth, so doeth his wickednesse.

11 And though hee inake much crouching and kneeling, yet abasile thy selfe, and beware of him, and thou shalt bee to him, as hee that wipeth a glasse, and thou shalt know that all his rust hath not bene well wiped away.

12 See him not by thee, lest hee destroy thee, and stand in thy place.

13 Neither let him at thy right hand, lest hee seeke thy roome, and thou at the last remember my words, and bee pickt with my sayings.

14 Winde not tso sinnes together: for there shall not one be unpunished.

Galat. 6. 10. 1. 22. 5. 8.

Eccl. 7. 2. and 21. 2.

15 Who will haue pittie on the charmer, that is stinged of the serpent; or of all such as come neere the beasts? so is it with him that keepeth company with a wicked man, and wrappeth himselfe in his sinnes.

16 For a scalion will he bide with thee; but if thou stumbe, he tarreth not.

Iere. 41. 6.

17 *An enimie is sweete in his lips: he can make many good words, and speake many good things: yea, hee can weepe with his eyes, but in his heart hee imagineth how to throw thee into the pit; and if he may finde opportunity, he will not be satisfied with blood.

18 If aduersarie come upon thee, thou shalt finde him there first, and though hee pretend to helpe thee, yet shall hee vndermine thee: he will shake his head, and clasp his hands, and wil make many words, and disguise his countenance.

CHAP. XIII.

1 The companies of the proud and of the rich are to bee eschewed. 15 The loue of God. 17 Like doe company with their like.

Deut. 7. 3.

He that toucheth pitch, shall be defiled with it: and hee that is familiar with the proud, shall be like vnto him.

2 Burthen not thy selfe about thy power, whilste thou liuelt, and company not with one that is mightier, and richer then thy selfe: for howe agree the kettle and the earthen pott together? for if the one be smurten againt the other, it shall be broken.

3 The rich dealeth vnrightrously, & threatheneth with all: but the poore being oppressed must intreat: if the rich haue done wrong, he must yet bee intreated: but if the poore haue done it, hee shall straight wayes be threathned.

4 If thou be for his profite, he vseth thee: but if thou haue nothing he will forsake thee.

5 If thou haue any thing, hee will liue with thee: yea, he will make thee a bare man, and will not care for it.

6 If he haue neede of thee, hee will defraude thee, and wil laugh at thee, and put thee in hope, and giue thee all good words, and say, What wantest thou?

7 Thus will he shame thee in his meate, vntil he hath slyt thee by cleane twile of threile, and at the last he will laugh thee to scorn: afeerward when he seeth thee, he will forsake thee, and shake his head at thee.

8 [Submitt thy selfe vnto God, and waite vpon his hand.]

9 Beware that thou be not deceiued in thine own conceit, and brought downe by thy simple- nesse: be not too humble in thy wisdom.

10 If thou be called of a mightie man, absent thy selfe: so shall he call thee the more oft.

11 Heare not thou vnto him, that thou be not shut out, but see not thou farre off, lest he forget thee.

12 Withdraw not thy selfe from his speech, but beleene not his many words: for with much communication will he tempt thee, and laughingly will he groye thee.

13 Hee is vnmercifull, and keepeth not promise: hee will not spare to doe thee hurt, and to put thee in prison.

14 Beware, and take good heede: for thou walkest in perill of thine overthrowing: when thou hearest this, awake in thy sleepe.

15 Loue the Lord all thy life, and call vpon him for thy saluation.

16 Euery beast loneth his like, and euery man loneth his neighbour.

17 All rich will reioice to their like, and euery man will keepe company with such as he is himselfe.

18 How can the wolfe agree with the lambe? no more can the vngodly with the righteous.

19 What fellowship hath hyena with a dogge? and what peace is betwene the rich and the poore?

[Which is a wilde beast that counterfeineth the voice of men, and foentifeth them out of their houses and deuoureth them.]

20 As the wilde asse is the Lions pray in the wilderness, so are poore men the meate of the rich.

21 As the proude hate humility, so do the rich abhorre the poore.

22 If a rich man fall, his friends set him vpon againe: but when the poore falleth, his friends forsake him away.

23 If a rich man offend, hee hath many helpers: he speaketh proud wordes, and yet men iustifie him: but if a poore man fall, they rebuke him, and though hee speake wisely, yet can he haue no place.

24 When the rich man speaketh, euery man holdeth his tongue; and looke what hee saith, they praise it vnto the cloudes: but if the poore man speake, they say, What fellow is this? and if hee doe amisse, they will destroy him.

25 Riches are good vnto him that hath no sinne [in his conscience,] and pueritie is euill in the mouth of the vngodly.

26 The heart of a man changeth his countenance, whether it be in good or euill.

27 A cherfull countenance is a token of a good heart: for it is an hard tying to know the secrets of the thought.

CHAP. XIII.

1 The offence of the tongue. 17 Man is but a vaine thing. 21 Happy is he that continueth in wisdom.

Blessed is the man * that hath not fallen by [the word of] his mouth, and is not torment- ed with the sorrow of sinne.

Chap. 19. 6, 16. ian. 3. 2.

2 Blessed is he that is not condemned in his conscience, and is not fallen from his hope in the Lord.

3 Riches are not comely for a niggard, and what should an enuious man doe with money?

4 He that gathereth together from his owne soule, heapeth together for others, that wil make good thee with his goods.

5 He that is wicked vnto himselfe, to whom wil he be good? for such one can haue no pleasure of his goods.

6 There is nothing worse, then when one enuieeth himselfe: and this is a rewarde of his wickednesse.

7 And if hee doe any good, hee doeth it not knowing thereof, and against his wil, and at the last hee declareth his wickednesse.

8 The enuious man hath a wicked looke: he turneth away his face, and despiseth men.

9 A couetous mans eye hath neuer enough of a portion, and his wicked malice withereth his owne soule.

7 But foolishly men will not take ho, be vpon her: [but such as haue vnderstanding will meet her:] the sinners shall not see her.

8 For she is farre from pride [and deceite,] and men that lie cannot remember her: [but men of truth shall haue her, and shall prosper euen vnto the beholding of God.]

9 Praise is not seemly in the mouth of the sinner: for that is not sent of the Lord.

10 But if praise come of wisdom, [and bee plentious in a faithfull mouth] then the Lorde will prosper it.

11 Say not thou, It is through the Lord that I turne backe: for thou oughtest not to doe the things that hee hateth.

12 Say not thou, He hath caused me to erre: for hee hath no needs of the iust man.

There not the multitude of vprofitable children, neither delight in vngodly children: though they be many, reioice not in them, except the feare of the Lord be with them.

2 Griefe not thou to their life, neither rest vpon their multitude.

3 For one that is iust, is better then a thousand such, and better it is to die without children, then to leaue behinde him vngodly children.

4 For by one that hath vnderstanding, shall the citie be inhabited: but the stocke of the wicked shall be waied incontinently.

11 Therefore if there bee one stiffnecked among the people, it is marvellous if he escape unpunished: for mercie and wrath are with him: he is mighty to forgive, and to powre out displeasure.

12 * As his mercie is great, so is his punishment also: hee iudgeth a man according to his works.

13 The ungodly shall not escape with his spoile, and the patience of the godly shall not be decayed.

14 He will give place to all good Deedes, and every one shall finde according to his works, [and after the understanding of his pilgrimage.]

15 The Lord hardened Pharaos, that hee should not knowe him, and that his workes should bee knownen upon the earth under the heauen.

16 His mercie is knownen to all creatures: he hath separated his light from the darkenes with an adamant.

17 Say not thou, I will hide my selfe from the Lord: for who will thinke vpon me from above? I shall not be knownen in so great an heape of people: for what is my soule among such an infinite number of creatures?

18 Beholde, the heauen, and the * heauen of heavens, which are for God, the depth, and the earth, and all that therein is, shall bee mooued when he shall visit.

19 All the world which is created and made by his will, the mountaines also, and the foundations of the earth shall quake for feare, when the Lord looketh vpon them.

20 These things doeth he not heare vnderstand worthily, [but he vnderstandeth every heart.]

21 And who vnderstandeth his wayes: and the skyme that no man can see: for the most part of his workes are hid.

22 Who can declare the workes of his righteousness: or who can abide them: for his ordinance is far off, and the trying out of all things falseth.

23 Hee that is humble of heart, will consider these things: but an unwise and erronious man casteth his minde vpon foolish things.

24 My soune, hearken vnto mee, and learne knowledge, and marke my wordes with thine heart.

25 I will declare thee weighty doctrine, and I will instruct thee exactly in knowledge.

26 The Lord hath set his workes in good order from the beginning, and part of them hath hee sundred from the other when hee first made them.

27 Hee hath garnished his workes for euer, and theye beginning so long as they shall endure, they are not hungry nor wearied in their labours, nor cease from their offices.

28 None of them hindereth another, neither was any of them disobedient vnto his wordes.

29 After this the Lord looked vpon the earth, and filled it with his good things.

30 With all manner of liuing beasts hath hee covered the face thereof, and theye returne inoer againe.

Chap. xvij.

1 The creation of man, and the goodnesse that God hath done vnto him: 20 Of almes, 22 and repentance.

The * Lord hath created man of the earth, and turned him vnto it againe.

2 Hee gaue him the number of Daies and certaine tynes, and gaue him power of the things that are vpon earth.

3 Hee clothed them with strength, as they had neede; and made them according to his image.

4 Hee made all fleshy to feare him, so that hee had the dominion ouer the beasts, and foules.

5 [ * He created out of him an helper like vnto himselfe, ] and gaue them discretion and tongue, and eyes, eares, and an heart to vnderstand, and liuely hee gaue them a spirit, and sequently hee gaue them speech to declare his workes.

6 And he filled them with knowledge of vnderstanding, and shewed them good and euill.

7 He set his eyes vpon their hearts, declaring vnto them his noble workes.

8 And gaue them occasion to reioice perpetually in his miracles, that they should prudently declare his workes, & that the cleer should prayle his holy Name together.

9 Beside this, hee gaue them knowledge, and gaue them the Law of life for an heritage, that they might now know that they were * mortall.

10 Hee made an euerlasting covenant with them, and shewed them his iudgements.

11 Their eyes saw the matelie of his glorie, and their eares heard his glorious voice.

12 And hee sayd vnto them, Beware of all vnrighthouse things. * Hee gaue every man also a commandement concerning his neighbour.

13 Their wayes are euer before him, and are not hid from his eyes.

14 Every man from his youth is given to euill, and their stonie hearts cannot become fleshy.

15 Hee appointed a ruler vpon every people, when he diuided the nations of the whole earth.

16 * And hee did chuse Israel, as a peculiar people to himselfe, whom hee nourished with discipline as his first borne, and giueh him most louing light, and doth not forsake him.

17 All their workes are as the Sunne before him, and his eyes are continually vpon their wayes.

18 None of their vnrighthouse is hidde from him, but all their sinnes are before the Lord.

19 And as he is mercifull, and knoweth his worke, he doth not leaue them nor forsake them, but spareth them.

He that liueth for euer, *made all things together: the Lord who onely is iust, and there is none other but he, [and he remaineth a dictatorial King for euer.]

2 Hee ordereth the world with the power of his hand, and all things obey his will: for he gouerneth all things by his power, and diuideth the holy things from the prophane.

3 To whom hath he giuen power to crypse his workes? who will seeke out the ground of his noble actes?

4 Who shall declare the power of his greatnesse? or who will take vpon him to tell out his mercie?

5 As for the woonderous workes of the Lord, there may nothing be taken from them, neither can any thing bee put vnto them, neither may the ground of them bee found out.

6 But when a man hath done his best, hee must begin againe, and when hee thinketh to come to an ende, hee must goe againe to his labour.

12 The mercie that a man hath, reacheth to his neighbour: but the mercie of the Lord is vpon all flesh: he chaiketh, and nurrureth, and teacheth, and bringeth backe, as a shepheard his flocke.

17 Repprooue thy neighbour before thou threaten him, and being without anger, giue place vnto the Law of the most High.

18 The feare of the Lord is the first degree to bee receiued of him, and wisdome obtaineth his loue.

19 The knowledge of the commandements of the Lord is the doctrine of life, and they that obey him, shall receiue the fruit of immortallitie.

20 The feare of the Lord is all wisdome, and the performing of the Law is perfect wisdome, and the knowledge of his almightie power.

21 If a seruant say vnto his master, I will not doe as it pleaseth thee, though after ward hee do it, hee shall displease him that nourisheth him.

22 The knowledge of wickednesse is not wisdome, neither is there puaence whereas the counsell of sinners is: but it is euen execrable malice: and the foole is void of wisdome.

23 Hee that hath small vnderstanding, and feareth God, is better then one that hath much wisdome, and transgresseth the Law of the most High.

24 There is a certaine subtiltie that is fine, but it is vnrighteous: and there is that which is the open and manifest law: yet there is that is wise, and iudgeth righteously.

25 There is some, that being about wicked purposes, doe bow downe themselves, and are sad, whose inward parts burne altogether with receit: hee looketh downe with his face, and faineth himselfe deafe: yet before thou perceiue, hee will be vpon thee to hurt thee.

5 Some man keepeth silence, and is found wise, and some by much babbling becommeth hatefull.

Chap. 6. 5.

13 A wise man with his words maketh himselfe to bee loved, but the merrie tales of foolles shall be powdered out.

14 The gift receiued of a foole, shall doe thee no good, neither yet of the eniuous for his inposumittie: for he looketh to receiue many things for one: he giueth litle, and he vbradeth much: he openeth his mouth like a towne crier: to day he lendeth, to morow asketh he againe, and such one is to be hated of God and man.

15 The foole saith, I haue no friend: I haue no thanke for all my good deedes: and they that eat my bread, speake euill of me.

16 How oft, and of how many shall hee bee laughed to scornes: for he comprehendeth not by right iudgement that which hee hath; and it is all one as though he had it not.

17 The fall on a pavement is very sudden: so shall the fall of the wicked come hastily.

18 A man without grace is as a foolish tale which is oft told by the mouth of the ignorant.

19 A wise sentence loseth grace when it cometh out of a foolles mouth: for hee speaketh not in due season.

20 Some man sinneth not because of pouertie, and yet is not grieved when he is alone.

21 Some man there is that destroyeth his owne soule, because hee is ashamed; and for the regard of persons loseth it.

22 Some man promisseth vnto his friend for shame, and getteth an enemie of him for nought.

Chap. 25. 2.

A Slothfull man is like a filthy stone, which euery man mocketh at for his shame.

2 A mouthfull man is to be compared to the dung of oren, and euery one that taketh it by, will shake it out of his hand.

3 An euil nurtured sonne is the dishonour of the father: and the daughter is least to be esteemed.

4 A wise daughter is an heritage vnto her husband: but shee that liueth dishonestly, is her fathers heauinie.

5 Shee that is bold, dishonoureth both her father and her husband. (and is not inferiour to the vngodly) but they both shal despise her.

6 A rale out of time is as mulcke in mourning: but wisdom knoweth the seasons of correction and doctrine.

7 Who lo reacheth a foole, is as one that gleweth a porthead together, and as hee that waketh one that sleepech, from a sound sleepe.

8 If children lye honestly, and haue wherewith, they shall put away the shame of their parents.

9 But if children be proude, with hauintesse and foolihnesse they defile the nobilitie of their kindred.

10 Who so tellecth a foole of wisdomed, is as a man which speaketh to one that is asleepe: when he hath told his tale, he saith, What is the matter?

11 Weepe for the dead, for hee hath lost the light: lo weepe for the foole, for hee waiteth vnderstanding: make small weeping for the dead, for he is at rest: but the life of the foole is worse then the death.

12 Seuen dayes do men mourne for him that is dead: but the lamentation for the foole and vngodly [should endure] all the dayes of their life.

13 Talke not much with a foole, and goe not to him that hath no vnderstanding. *beware of him lest it turne the e to paine. and lest thou bee defiled when he shaketh himselfe. Depart from him, and thou shalt find rest, and shalt not receiue sorrow by his foolihnesse.

14 What is heauer then lead? and what other name should a foole haue?

15 *Sand and salt, and a lump of yron is easier to beare, then an vniuers. [foolish & vngodly man.]

16 As a frame of wood ioyned together in a building cannot be loosed with shaktag. so the heart that is stablished by aduised counsell, shall feare at no time.

17 The heart that is softened by discrete wit done, is as a faire plaistering on a plaine wall.

18 As reedes that are set by on high, cannot abide the wind, so the fearefull heart with foolish imagination can endure no feare.

19 Hee that hurteth the eye bringeth tooth teares, and hee that hurteth the heart, bringeth forth the affliction.

20 Who so casteth a stone at the birds, frayeth them away: and hee that vpbraideth his friend, breaketh friendship.

21 Though thou drawest a sworde at thy friend, yet dispaire not: for there may be a returning to fauour.

22 If thou haue opened thy mouth against thy friend, feare not: for there may be a reconciliation, so that vpbraiding, or pride, or disclosing of secrets, or a traiterous wound doe not let: for by these things euery friend will depart.

23 Be faithfull vnto thy friend in his pouertie, that thou mayest reioyce in his prosperitie. Abide it as fast vnto him in the time of his trouble, that thou mayest bee heere with him in his heritage: for pouertie is not alwayes to be conremned, nor the rich that is foolish, to bee had in admiration.

24 As the vapour and smoke of the chimney goeth before the fire, so euil words [rebukes and] rebukes goe before bloodshedding.

25 I will not be ashamed to defend a friend: neither will I hide my selfe from him, though he should do me harme: whoeuer heareth it, shall beware of him.

26 Who shal set * a watch before my mouth, and a seale of wisdomed vpon my lips, that I shal not inddently by them, and that my tongue destroy me not?

1 A prayer of the author. 13 Of othes, blasphemie and vnwise communication. 16 Of three kindes of finnes. 23 Many finnes proceed of adultery. 27 Of the feare of God.

O Lord, father and gouernour of almy whole Orise, leaue me not to their counsell, and let me not fall by them.

|| That is, of the tongue and lips.

3 Least mine ignorances increase, and my finnes abound to my destruction, and least I fall before mine aduersarie, and mine enemies reioyce ouer mee, whose hope is farre from thy mercy.

4 O Lord, father and God of my life, [leaue me not in their] imaginations: neither giue me a proud looke, but turne away from thy seruants a stoune mind.

5 Take from me vaine hope, and conceytedence, & retaine him in obedience, that desireth continually to serue thee.

6 Let not the greedinesse of the belly, nor lust of the flesh hold me, and giue not me thy seruant ouer into an impudent mind.

7 Oears, O ye children, the instruction of a mouth that shall speake truth: who so keepeth it, shall not perish, through his lips. [nor be hurt by wicked works.]

one: [ for thou shalt not be unpunished for such things.]

10 For as a servant which is oft punished, cannot be without some leaue, so he that sweareth, and nameth God continually, shall not be faultlesse.

11 A man that bleseth much swearing, shall be filled with wickednes, and the plague shall neuer goe from his house: when hee shall offend, his fault shall be vpon him, and if he knowledg not his sinne, he maketh a double offence: and if hee sweare in vaine, he shall not be innocent, but his house shall be full of plagues.

12 There is a word which is clothed with death: God graunt that it bee not found in the heritage of Jacob: but they that feare God, eschew all such, and are not wrapped in sinne.

13 Use not thy mouth to ignorant raignes: for therein is the occasion of sinne.

14 Remember thy father and thy mother when thou art set among great men, least thou bee forgotten in their sight, and so through thy courtesie become a foole, and with that thou hadst not bene bozne, and curse the day of thy natiuitie.

15 The man that is accustomed to opprobrious wordes, will neuer bee reformed all the dayes of his life.

16 There are two sorts [of men] that abound in sinne, and the third bringeth wrath [and destruction:] a minde hote as fire that cannot be quenched, till it be consumed: an adulterous man that gineth his bodie no rest, till hee haue kindled a fire.

17 [All bread is sweet to a whoresonger: he will not leaue off till hee perish.]

18 A man that breaketh wedlocke, and thinketh thus in his heart, * Who seeth me? I am compassed about with darkenesse: the walles couer mee: no bodie seeth mee: whome need I to feare? the most High will not remember my sinnes.

19 Such a man only feareth the eyes of men, and knoweth not that the eyes of the Lord are ten thousand times brighter then the sunne, beholding all the waies of men, [and the ground of the deepe,] and considereth the most secret parts.

20 Hee knoweth all things or euer they were made, and after they be brought to passe also, hee looketh vpon them all.

21 The same man shall be punished in the strettes of the city, [and shall be chafed like a young houle foale,] and when hee thinketh not vpon it, hee shall be taken: [ thus shall hee be put to shame of euery man, because he would not vnderstand the feare of the Lord.]

22 And thus shall it goe also with euery wife that leauerh her husband, and getteth inheritance by another.

23 For first shee hath disobeyed the Law of the most High, and secondly shee hath trespassed against her owne husband, and thirdly shee hath played the whoore in adultery, and gotten her children by another man.

24 Shee shall bee brought out into the Congregation, and examination shall be made of her children.

25 Her children shall not take roote, and her branches shall bring forth no fruit.

26 A shamefull report shall shee leaue, and her reproch shall not be put out.

27 And they that remaine, shall know that there is nothing better then y<sup>e</sup> feare of the Lord, and that there is nothing sweeter then to take heed vnto the commandements of the Lord.

28 It is great glory to followe the Lord, and to be receiued of him is long life.

CHAP. XXIIII.

1 A prayse of wisdom proceeding forth of the mouth of God. Of her works and place where she dwelleth. 2 She is giuen to the children of God.

WISDOME shall praise her selfe, [and be honoured in God,] and reioyce in the minds of her people.

2 In the congregation of the most High shall shee open her mouth, and triumph before his power.

3 [In the midst of her people shall shee be exalted, and wondred at in the holy assembly.]

4 In the multitude of the chosen shee shall be commended, and among such as be blessed, shee shall be praised, and shall say,

5 I am come out of the mouth of the most High, [first bozne before all creatures.]

6 I caused the light that faileth not, to arise in the heauen, [and couered the earth as a cloud.]

7 My dwelling is aboue in the height, and my throne is in the pillar of the cloud.

8 I alone haue gone round about the compass of heauen, and haue walked in the bottoome of the deeth.

9 I possessed the wanes of the sea, and all the earth, and all people, and nations. [and with my power haue I troden downe the hearts of all, both high and low.]

10 In all these things I sought rest, and a dwelling in some inheritance.

11 So the creatour of all things gaue mee a commandement, and he that made mee appointed me a tabernacle, and said, Let thy dwelling be in Jacob, and take thine inheritance in Israel, and roote thy selfe among my chosen.

12 He created mee from the beginning, and before the world, and I shall neuer faile: * In the holy habitation I haue serued before him, and so was I established in Sion.

13 In the welbeloued citie he gaue mee rest, and in Jerusalem was my power.

14 I tooke roote in an honourable people, euen in the portion of the Lords inheritance.

15 I am set vp on hie like a cedar in Libanus, and as a Cyprus tree vpon the mountaines of Hermon.

16 I am exalted like a palme tree [about the banks, and as a rose plant in Jericho,] as a faire oliue tree in a pleasant field, and am exalted as a plane tree by the water.

17 I smelled as the cinamon, and as a bagge of spices: I gaue a sweeter odour as the best myrrhe, as Galbanum, and onit, and sweet storax, and perfume of incense in an houle.

18 As the Terebinth, haue I stretched out my branches, and my branches are the branches of honour and grace.

of feare, and of knowledge, and of holy hope, I giue eternal things to all my children to whom God hath commanded.

33 For her considerations are more abundant then the sea, and her counsell is profounder then the great deepe.

35 I sayd, I will water my faire garden, and will water my pleasant ground: and loe, my ditch became a flood, and my flood became a sea.

36 For I make doctrine to shine as the light of the morning, and I lighten it for euer.

37 [I will peace thorowe all the lower parts of the earth: I will looke vpon all such as be allecepe, and lighten all them that trust in the Lord.]

38 I will yet powre out doctrine, as prophesie, and leane it vnto all ages for euer.

39 * Beholde that I haue not laboured for my selfe onely, but for all them that seeke wisdom.

Three things reioyce mee, and by them am I beautified before God and men: * the vnitie of brethren, the loue of neighbours, a man and a wife that agree together.

Gen. 13. 2, 5.

2 Three sorts of men my soule hateth, and I utterly abhorre the life of them: a poore man that is proud, a rich man that is a liar, and an olde adulterer that doth.

3 If thou hast gathered nothing in thy youth, what canst thou finde in thine age?

4 How pleasant a thing is it when gray headed men minister iudgement, and when the Elders can giue good counsell!

5 Oh, how comely a thing is wisdom vnto aged men, and vnderstanding and prudence to men of honour!

6 The crowne of old men, is to haue much experience, and the feare of God is their glory.

7 There be nine things, which I haue indged in mine heart to be happy, & the tenth will I pronounce with my tongue: a man that while he liueth, hath loy of his children, and seeth the fall of his enemies.

8 It is him that dwelleth with a wife of vnderstanding, * and that hath not fallen with his tongue, and that hath not serued such as are unworthy of him.

1 The praise of a good woman. 5 Of the feare of three things, and of the fourth. 6 Of the malice and drunken woman. 29 Of two things that cause sorrow, and of the third which moueth wrath.

Blessed is the man that hath a vertuous wife: for the number of his yeeres shall be double.

2 An honest woman reioyceth her husband, and shee shall fill the yeres of his life with peace.

3 A vertuous woman is a good portion, which shall be giuen for a gift vnto such as feare the Lord.

4 Whether a man be rich or poore, he hath a good heart toward the Lord, and they shall at all times haue a cherefull countenance.

5 There bee three things that mine heart feareth, and my face is afraid of the fourth: reason in a citie, the assembly of the people, and to the accusation: all these are heauier then death.

6 But the tozow and griefe of the heart is a woman that is ielous ouer another: and she that communiteth with all, is a scourge of the tongue.

7 An euill wife is as a yoke of oren that drinketh wayes: hee that hath her, is as though he held a scorpion.

8 A drunken woman, and such as cannot be tamed, is a great plague: for she cannot couer her olune shame.

9 The whoredome of a woman may be knowne in the pride of her eyes, and eye lids.

13 The grace of a wife reioyceth her husband, and feedeth his bones with her vnderstanding.

14 A peaceable woman, and of a good heart, is a gift of the Lord, & there is nothing so much worth as a woman well instructed.

15 A shamefast and fairly holl woman is a double grace, and there is no waight to be compared vnto her continent minde.

16 As the sunne when it ariseth in the high places of the Lorde, so is the beauty of a good wife the ornament of her house.

21 When thou hast gotten a fruitful possession through all the fields, sowe it with thine owne seed, trusting in thy nobility.

22 So thy stocke that shall line after thee, shall growe, trusting in the great liberality of their nobility.

23 An harlot is compared to a sowe: but the wife that is married, is counted as a tower against death to her husband.

24 A wicked woman is giuen as a reward to a wicked man: but a godly woman is giuen to him that feareth the Lord.

25 A shamelesse woman contemmeth shame: but a shamefast woman wil reuerence her husband.

26 A shamelesse woman is compared to a dogge: but she that is shamefast, reuerenceth the Lord.

27 A woman that honoureth her husband, shall be in danger of all: but she that despiseth him, shall be the first for her yde.

28 A leard crying woman, & a babler, let her bee sought out to drive away the enemies: the name of euery man that fighteth with such, shall be commeth among the troubles of warre.

29 There bee two things that grieue mine heart, & the third maketh me angry: a man of warre that suffereth poverty: and men of vnderstanding that are not set by: & when one departeth from righteoulines vnto him: the Lord appointeth such to the sword.

23 When thou art present, he wil speak sweetly, and praise thy words: but at the last hee wil turne his tale, and slander thy saying.

24 Many things haue I hated, but nothing so euill as such one: for the Lord also hateth him.

25 Who so casteth a stone on high, casteth it vpon his owne head: and he that sautech with guile, maketh a great wound.

26 Who so *diggeth a pit, shall fall therein, [and hee that layeth a stone in his neighbours way, shall stumble thereon, and he that layeth a snare for another, shall be raken in it himselfe.]

27 He that worketh euill, shall be wrapped in euill, and shall not know from whence they come vnto him.

28 Mockerie and reproch follow the proud, and vengeance lucketh for them as a lyon.

29 They that reioyce at the fall of the righteous, shall be taken in the snare, and anguish shall consume them before they die.

30 Despise & anger are abominable things, and the sinfull man is subiect to them both.

CHAP. XXVIII.

1 We ought not to desire vengeance, but to forgive the offence. 13 Of the vices of the tongue, and of the dangers thereof,

HC* that seeketh vengeance, shall find vengeance of the Lord, and hee will surely keepe his finnes.

2 † Forgiue thy neighbour the hurt that hee hath done to thee, so shall thy finnes be forgiven thee also when thou prayest.

3 Should a man beare hatred against man, and *desire forgiveness of the Lord?

4 Hee will shew no mercy to a man, which is like himselfe: and will bee alke forgiveness of his owne finnes?

5 If he that is but flesh, nourish hatred, [and aske pardon of God,] who will intreat for his finnes?

6 Remember the end, and let enmitie passe: imagine not death and destruction to another through anger, but perseuere in the commandements.

7 Remember the commandements: so shalt thou not bee rigorous against thy neighbour: [consider diligently] the Couenant of the most High, and forgine his ignorance.

8 * Beware of strife, and thou shalt make thy finnes fewer: for an angry man kindleth strife.

9 And the sinfull man disquieteth friends, and bringeth in false accusations among them that be at peace.

10 * As the matter of the fire is, so it burneth, and mans anger is according to his power: and according to his riches his anger increaseth, & the more vehement the anger is, the more is hee inflamed.

11 An harkie bawling kindleth a fire, and an harkie fighting sheddeth blood: [a tongue that beareth false witness, bringeth death.]

12 If thou blow the sparke, it shall burne: if thou spit vpon it, it shall be quenched, and both these come out of the mouth.

13 † Abhorre the slanderer and double tongued: for such haue destroyed many that were at peace.

14 The double tongue hath disquieted many, & drawn them from nation to nation: strong cities hath it broken downe, and ouerthrowen the houses of great men: [the strength of the people hath it brought downe, and bene the decay of mighty nations.]

15 The double tongue hath cast out many vertuous women, and robbed them of their labours.

16 Who so hearkeneth vnto it, shall neuer find rest, and neuer dwell quietly.

17 The stroke of the too maketh markes in the flesh, but the stroke of the tongue breaketh the bones.

18 There be many that haue perished by the edge of the sword, but not so many as haue fallen by the tongue.

19 Well is him that is kept from an euill tongue, and commeth not in the anger thereof, which hath not drawn in that poke, neither hath bene bound in the bands thereof.

20 For the yoke thereof is a yoke of prou, and the bands of it are bands of brass.

21 The death thereof is an euill death: hell were better then such one.

CHAP. XXIX.

1 Doe lend money, and doe almes. 15 Of a faithfull man answering for his friend. 24 The poore mans life.

† Of weldo- ing. Deu. 15, 7, 8. mat. 5. 42. Luke 6. 35.

He that will shew mercy, † lendeth to his neighbour: and hee that hath power ouer himselfe, keepeth the commandements.

2 * Lend to thy neighbour in time of his need, and pay thou thy neighbour againe in due season.

3 Keepe thy word, and deale faithfully with him, and thou shalt alway finde the thing that is necessary for thee.

4 Many when a thing was lent them, reckoned it to be found, and grieved them that had helped them.

5 Till they receiue, they kisse his hands, and for their neighbours goods they humble their voyce: but when they should pay againe, they prolong the terme, and giue a carelesse answer, and make excuses by reason of the time.

6 And though he be able, yet giueth he scarce the halfe againe, & reckoneth the other as a thing found: els hee deceiveth him of his money, and maketh him an enemy without a cause: he payeth him with curling and rebuke, and giueth him euill words for his good deed.

7 There bee many which refuse to lend because of this inconuenientie, fearing to bee defrauded without cause.

8 Yet haue thou patience with him that humbly himselfe, and deferre not mercy from him.

9 Helpe the poore for the commandements sake, and turne him not away, because of his pueritie.

10 Lose thy money for the brothers & neighbours sake, & let it not rust vnder a stone to thy destruction.

11 * Bestow the treasure after the commandement of the most High, and it shall bring thee more profit then gold.

12 Lay vp thine * almes in thy secret chambers, and it shall keepe thee from all affliction.

13 A mans almes is as a purple with him, and shall keepe a mans fauour: as the apple of the eye, and afterward shall it arte, and pay euery man his reward vpon his head.]

14 It shall fight for thee against thine enemies, better then the shield of a strong man, or speare of the mighty.

15 An honest man is * surty for his neighbour: but he that is unpudent, shall lacke him.

16 Forget not the friendship of the surty: for he hath layd his life for thee.

17 The * wicked despiseth the good deed of his surty.

18 The wicked will not become surties: and hee that is of an vnthankfull minde, shall lacke him that deliuered him.

19 [Some man promiseth for his neighbour and when he hath lost his honestie, hee will forsake him.]

20 Sueritship hath destroyed many a rich man, and remoueth them as the waues of the sea: mighty men hath it driuen away from their houses, and caused them to wander among strange nations.

21 A wicked man transgressing the commandements of the Lord, shall fall into sueritship: and he that medleth much with other mens busines, is intangled in controuersies.

22 Helpe thy neighbour according to thy power, and beware that thou thy selfe fall not.

23 * The chiefe thing of life is water, and bread, and clothing, and lodging to cower thy shame.

24 † The poore mans life in his owne lodge, is better then delicate fare in another mans.

25 Be it little or much, hold thee contented, that the house speake not euill of thee.

26 For it is a miserable life to go from house to house: for where thou art a stranger, thou darrest not open thy mouth.

27 Thou shalt lodge and feed vnthankfull men, and after shalt haue bitter words for the same, saying, 28 Come, thou stranger, and prepare the table, and feed me of that thou hast ready.

29 Gine place, thou stranger, to an honorable man: my brother commeth to bee lodged, and I haue need of mine house.

30 These things are heauy to a man that hath vnderstanding, the vpbidding of the house, and the reproch of the lender.

CHAP. XXX.

1 Of the correction of children. 14 Of the com- moditie of health. 17 Death is better then a sorrowfull life. 22 Of the ioy and sorrow of the heart.

He that loneth his sonne, * causeth him off to feele the rod, that hee may haue ioy of him in the end.

Prou. 13, 24. and 23, 13.

2 Hee that chastiseth his sonne, shall haue ioy in him, and shall reioyce of him among his acquaintance.

3 He that * teacheth his sonne, giveth the enemy, and before his friends hee shall reioyce of him.

Deu. 6. 7.

4 Though his father die, yet is hee as though hee were not dead: for hee hath left one behind him that is like him.

5 In his life hee saw him, and had ioy in him, and was not ioy in his death, [neither was hee ashamed before his enemies.]

6 Hee left behind him an ennger against his enemies, and one that should shew fauour vnto his friends.

7 Hee that flattereth his sonne, bindeth by his wounds, and his heart is grieved at euery cry.

8 An vntrained horse will be stubborne, and a wanton child will be wilfull.

9 If thou bring vp thy sonne delicately, hee shall make thee afraid: and if thou play with him, hee shall bring thee to beaumeffe.

10 Laugh not with him, least thou bee soyy with him, and lest thou gnash the teeth in the end.

11 * Gine him no libertie in his youth, and winke not at his folly.

Chap. 7. 23.

12 Bowe downe his necke while he is yong, and beate him on the shoules whiles hee is a childe, lest hee waxe stubborne, and be disobedient vnto thee, and so bring sorrowe to thine heart.

13 Chastise thy childe, and be diligent therein, least his shame grieue thee.

14 Ct Better is the poore being whole and strong, then a rich man that is afflicted in his body.

15 Health and strength is aboue all gold, and a whole bodye aboue infinite treasure.

16 There is no riches aboue a sound body, and no ioy aboue the top of the heare.

17 Death is better then a bitter life, [7 long rest] then continuall sickenesse.

18 The good things that are payed on a mouth shut vp, are as meales of inmeate let vpon a graue.

19 What good doeth the offering vnto an Idole? for he can neither eate, nor smell: so is he that is persecuted of the Lord, [and beareth the reward of iniquity.]

20 Hee seeth with his eyes, and groneth like a gelded man, that lieth with a virgine and sigheth.

21 Sine not ouer thy minde to heauinesse, and weepe not thy selfe in thine owne counsell.

22 The ioy of the heart is the life of man, and a mans gladnesse is the prolonging of his dayes.

23 Loue thine owne soule, and comfort thine heart: driue sorrowe farre from thee: for sorrow hath slaine many, and there is no profite therein.

24 Enuy and wrath shorten the life, and carefullnesse bringeth age before the time.

25 A noble and good heart will haue consideration of his meate and drinke.

CHAP. XXXI.

1 Of couetousnesse. 2 Of them that take paine to gather riches. 3 The praise of a rich man without a fault. 4 We ought to steare drunkennesse and follow sobernesse.

Waking after riches, pineth a way the body, and the care thereof driueth away sleepe.

2 This waking care breaketh the sleepe, as a great sickenesse breaketh the sleepe.

3 The rich hath great labour in gathering riches together, and in his rest hee is filled with pleasures.

4 The poore labourereth in lining poorely, and when he leaureth off, he is still poore.

5 He that longeth golde, shall not be iustified, and hee that followeth corruption, shall haue enough thereof.

6 Many are destroyed by the reason of gold, and haue found their destruction before their time.

7 It is as a stumbling blocke vnto them that sacrifice vnto it, and euery foole is taken therewith.

8 Blessed is the rich which is found without blemish, and hath not gone after gold, [nor hoped in money and treasures.]

9 Who is hee, and wee will commend him? for wonderfull things hath hee done among his people.

10 Who hath bene tried thereby, and found perfect: let his bee an example of glory, who might offend, and hath not offended, or doe euill, and hath not done it.

11 Therefore shall his goods bee stablished, and the congregation shall declare his almes.

12 If thou lie at a costly table, open not thy mouth wide vpon it, and say not, Behold much meate.

13 Remember that an euill eye is a shew: and what thing created is worse then a wicked eye? for it weepeth for euery cause.

14 Stretch not thine hande wheresoener it looketh, and thrust it not with it into the dish.

15 Consider by thy selfe him that is by thee, and marke euery thing.

16 Eate modestly that which is set before thee, and denoure not lest thou be hated.

17 Leane thou off first for natures sake, and be not unsatiated, least thou offend.

18 When thou streest among many, reach not thine hand out first of all.

19 How little is sufficient for a man well taught: and thereby he belcheth not in his chamber, [nor seeth any paine.]

20 A wholesome sleepe cometh of a temperate belly: hee riseth vp in the morning, and is well at ease in himselfe: but paine in watching and cholericke diseases, and paines of the belly are with an vnquietable man.

21 If thou hast bene forced to eate, arise, goe forth, y vomite and then take thy rest: [so thou shalt bring no sicknesse vnto thy body.]

22 My sonne, heare mee, and despise me not, and at the last thou shalt finde as I haue tolde thee: in all thy workes bee quicke, so shall there no sicknesse come vnto thee.

23 Whoso is liberal in his meate, men shall blisse him: and the testimony of his honesty shall be beleened.

24 But against him that is a niggard of his meate, the whole city shall murmur: the testimonies of his niggardnesse shall be sure.

25 Shewe not thy valiantnesse in wine: for wine hath destroyed many.

26 The foynate pouereth the edge in the tempering: so doth wine the hearts of the proud by drunkennesse.

27 Wine soberly drunken, is profitable for the life of man: what is his life that is overcome with wine?

28 Wine was made [from the beginning] to make man glad, [7 not for drunkennesse.] Wine measurably drunken and in time, bringeth gladnesse and cherefullnesse of the minde.

29 But wine drunken with excess, maketh bitternesse of mind with brawlings & scoldings.

30 Drunkennesse increaseth the courage of a foole, till he offend: diminisheth his strength and maketh wounds.

31 Revoke not thy neighbour at the wine, and despise him not in his mirth: giue him no despitefull words, and presse not vpon him with contrary words.

17 They that feare the Lorde, shall finde that which is righteous, and shall kinde iustice as a light.

18 An vngodly man will not be reformed, but hinder out cruell according to his will.

19 A man of vnderstanding despiseth not counsell : but a leud and proud man is not touched with feare, euen when he hath done rashly.

20 [Whysonne] doe nothing without aduise-ment : so shall it not repent thee after the dedde.

21 Goe not in the way where thou maiest fall, nor where thou maiest stumble among y stones, neither trust thou in the way that is plaine.

22 And beware of thine owne children, and take heede of them, that bee thine owne house- holdes.]

23 In euery good worke, be of a faithfull heart : for this is the keeping of the commaund-ments.

24 Who so beleueth in the Lorde, keepeth the commaundments : and hee that trusteth in the Lorde shall take no hurt.

CHAP. XXXIII.

1 The deliuerance of him that feareth God. 2 The answer of the wise. 3 Man is in the hand of God, as the clay is in the hand of the potter. 23 Of euill seruants.

There shall no euill come vnto him that feareth the Lorde : but when he is in tentation, he will deliuer him againe.

2 A wise man hateth not the Law : but hee that is an hypocrite therein, is as a thip in a skowe.

3 A man of vnderstanding walketh faithfully in the Law, and the Lawe is faithfull vnto him.

4 As the question is made, prepare the answer, and so shalt thou be heard : be sure of the matter, and so walk thou.

5 The heart of the * foolish is like a cart wheele : and his thoughtes are like a roling aril- tree.

6 As a wild horse neyeth vnder every one that stretch vpon him, so is a scornfull friend.

7 Why doeth one day excell another, seeing that the light of the dayes of the yecre come of the sunne?

8 The knowledge of the Lorde hath parted them asunder, and he hath by them disposed the times and solemne feasts.

9 Some of them hath he chosen and sanctified, and some of them hath he put among the dayes to number.

10 And all men are of the * ground, and Adam was created out of the earth : but the Lorde hath diuided them by great knowledge, and made their wayes diuers.

11 Some of them hath he blessed and exalted, and some of them hath he sanctified, and appropiate to himselfe : but some of them hath hee curled, and brought them low, and put them out of their estate.

12 * As the clay is in the potters hands, to order it at his pleasure, so are men also in the hand of their Creator, so that he may reward them as liketh him best.

13 Against euill is good, and against death is life: so is the godly against the sinner, and the vngodly against the faithfull.

14 So in all the worke of the most high thou maiest see that there are euer two, one against another.

15 I am awaked by last of all, as one that gathereth after them in the vintage, In the blessing of the Lorde I am increased, and haue filled my winepresse, like a grape gatherer.

16 * Behold, how I haue not laboured onely for my selfe, but for all them that seeke knowledge.

17 Heare me, O yet great men of the people, and hearken with your eares, yee rulers of the congregation.

18 Give not thy soune and wife, thy brother and friends, powder ouer thee while thou liuest, and giue not away thy substance to another, lest it repent thee, and thou increase for the same againe.

19 As long as thou liuest, and hast breath, giue not thy selfe ouer to any person.

20 For better it is that thy children should pray vnto thee, then that thou shouldst looke vp to the hands of thy children.

21 In all thy workes be excellent, that thy honour be neuer stained.

22 At the time when thou shalt ende thy dayes, and finish thy life, distribute thine inheritance.

26 Send him to labour, that he goe not idle: for idleness bringeth much euill.

27 Set him to worke, for that belongeth vnto him: if he be not obedient, put on more heauie fetters.

28 But be not excessive towards any, and with due discretion doe nothing.

29 * If thou haue a faithfull seruant, let him be vnto thee as thine owne soule: for in blood hast thou gotten him. If thou haue a seruant, entreat him as thy brother: for thou hast euill of him, as of thy selfe. If thou entreat him euill, and hee run away, wilt thou seeke him?

CHAP. XXXIIII.

Of dreames. 13 The praise of them that feare God. 18 The offerings of the wicked. 22 The bread of the needie. 27 God doth not allow the workes of an vnfishfull man.

The hope of a foolish man is vaine and false, and dreames make fooles to haue wings.

2 Who so regardeth dreames, is like him that will take hold of a shadow, and follow after the wind.

3 Such so is it in the appearings of dreames, as the likenesse of a face is before another face.

4 Who can bee cleansed by the vncleane? or what truely can be spoken of a liar?

5 Soothsayings, witchcraft, and dreaming, is but vanity, and a mind that is occupied with fantasies, is as a woman that frantiseth.

6 Whereas such visions come not of the most High to trie thee, set not thine heart vpon them.

7 For dreames haue deceived many, and they haue failed that put their trust therein.

8 The lawe shalbe fulfilled without lies, and wisdom is sufficient to a faithfull mouth: [what knowledge hath he that is not tried?]

9 A man that is instructed, vnderstandeth much, and hee that hath good experyence, can talke of wisdom.

10 He that hath no experyence, knoweth litle, and he that erreth, is full of craft.

11 When I wandered to and fro, I saw many things, and mine vnderstanding is greater then I can expresse.

12 I was oft times in danger of death, yet I was deliuered by these things.

13 The spirit of those that feare the Lord, shall liue: for their hope is in him that can helpe them.

14 Who so feareth the Lord, feareth no man, neither is afraid: for he is his hope.

15 Blessed is the soule of him that feareth the Lord: in whom purely hee his trust: who is his strength?

16 * For the eyes of the Lord haue respect vnto them that loue him: he is their * mightie protection, and strong ground, a defence from the heate, and a shadow for the noone day, a succour from stumbling, and an helpe from falling.

17 Hee settech vpon the soule, and lightneth the eyes: hee giveth health, life, and blessing.

18 Hee that * giveth an offering of vntigh-teous goods, offereth a mocking sacrifice, and the gifts of the vnrighteous please not him.

19 [But the Lord is theirs only, that patiently abide him in the way of truth and righte-ousnesse.]

20 The most High doeth not allow the offerings of the wicked, * neither is hee pacified for sinne by the multitude of sacrifice.

21 Who so bringeth an offering of the goods of the poore, doeth as one that sacrificeth the same before the fathers eyes.

22 The bread of the needfull is the life of the poore: hee that defraudeth him thereof, is a murderer.

23 Hee that taketh away his neighbors living, slayeth him, * and hee that defraudeth the labourer of his hire, is a bloodshedder.

24 [When one buildeth, & another breaketh downe, what profit haue they then but labour?]

25 When one prayeth, and another curseth, whose voice will the Lord heare?

26 * Vce that wasteth himselfe because of a dead body, and toucheth it againe, what auail-eth his wastage?

27 * So is it with a man that fasteth for his sinnes, and committeth them againe: who will heare his prayer: or what doth his fasting helpe him?

CHAP. XXXV.

1 Of true sacrifices. 14 The prayer of the fatherles, and of the widow, and him that humbleth himselfe.

Who so keepeth the Lawe, * bringeth offerings enow: he that holdeth fast the commandements, offereth an offering of saluation.

2 Hee that is thankfull to them that haue well deserued, offereth fine floure: * and hee that giveth almes, sacrificeth praise.

3 To depart from euill is a thankfull thing to the Lord, and to forsake vnrighteousnesse, is a reconciling vnto him.

4 * Thou shalt not appeare emptie before the Lord.

5 For all these things are done because of the commandement.

6 * The offering of the righteous maketh the altar fat, and the smell thereof is sweete before the most High.

7 The sacrifice of the righteous is acceptable, and the remembrance thereof shall neuer be forgotten.

8 Giue the Lord his honour with a good and liberall eye, and diminish not the first frutes of thine hands.

9 * In all thy gifts shew a joyfull countenance, and dedicate thy riches with gladnesse.

10 Giue vnto the most High according as he hath enriched thee, * and looke what thine hand is able, giue with a cheerfull eye.

11 For the Lord recompenseth, and will giue thee seven times as much.

12 * Diminish nothing of thine offering: for he will not receive it, and abstaine from wrong-full sacrifices: for the Lord is the Iudge and regardeth no mans person.

13 Hee accepteth not the person of the poore, but hee heareth the prayer of the oppressed.

14 Hee despiseth not the desire of the fatherlesse nor the widow, when shee poureth out her prayer.

11 † Gather all the tribes of Jacob together, [that they may know that there is none other God but onely thou, and that they may shew thy wonderful workes,] and inherite thou them as from the beginning.

12 O Lord, haue mercy vpon the people, that is called by thy Name, and vpon Israel, * whom thou hast likened to a first borne sonne.

13 Oh, be mercifull vnto Ierusalem the citie of thy Sanctuarie, the citie of thy rest.

14 Fill Sion, that it may magnifie thine graces, and fill thy people with thy glory.

15 Giue witness vnto those that thou hast possessed from the beginning, and raise vp the prophesies that haue bene thewed in thy Name.

16 Rewards them that waite for thee, that thy Prophecies may be found faithful.

17 O Lord, heare the prayer of thy seruants, according to the blessing of Aaron ouer thy people, [and guide thou vs in the way of righteoufnesse:] that all they which dwell vpon the earth, may knowe that thou art the Lord the eternal God.

18 The belly deuoureth all meates, yet is one meate better then another.

19 As the throte tasteth venison, so doeth a wise minde discerne false wordes.

20 A froward heart bringeth grieffe, but a man of experience will resist it.

21 A woman is apt to receiue euery man: yet is one daughter better then another.

22 The beautie of a woman cheareth the face, and a man loeeth nothing better.

23 If there be in her tongue gentleness, meeknesse, and wholesome talke, then is not her husband like other men.

24 Hee that hath † gotten a [vertuous] woman, hath begonne to get a possession: she is an helpe like vnto himselfe, & a pillar to rest vpon.

25 Where no hedge is, there the possession is spoyled: and he that hath no wife, wandereth to and fro, mourning.

26 Who will trust a chiefe that is alway ready, and wandereth from towne to towne? and likewise him, that hath no rest, and lodgeth where soeuer the night taketh him?

CHAP. XXXVII.

1 How a man should know friends and counsellors. 12 To keepe his companie that feareth God.

EAery friend saith, † I am a friend vnto him also: but there is some friend, which is onely a friend in name.

2 Remaineth there not heauines vnto death, when a companion and friend is turned to an enemy?

3 O wicked presumption, from whence art thou sprung vp to couer the earth with deceit?

4 * There is some companion which in prosperitie reioyce with his friend: but in the time of trouble he is against him.

5 There is some companion that helpeth his friend for the bellies sake, and taketh by the buckler against the enemy.

6 Forget not thy friend in thy misde, and thinke vpon him in thy riches.

7 Seeke † no counsell at him of whom thou art suspected, and disclose not thy counsell vnto such as hate thee.

8 * Euey counsellor praise th his owne counsell: but there is some that counselleth for himselfe.

9 Beware of the counsellor, and be aduised also: † wherto thou wilt vse him: for he wil counsell for himselfe, lest hee cast the lot vpon thee,

10 And say vnto thee, Thy way is good, and afterward he stand against thee, and looke what shall become of thee.

ching her of whom she is selous, nor of a coward in matters of warre, nor of a merchant concerning exchange, nor of a buyer for the sale, nor of an envious man touching thankfulness, nor of the vnnmercifull touching kindnesse, [ nor of an vnbonest man of honestie ] nor of the slothfull for any labour, nor of an hireling for the finishing of a worke, nor of an idle seruant for much businesse: hearken not vnto these in any matter of counsell.

12 But bee continuall wth a godly man whom thou knowest to keepe the commaundements of the Lorde, whose minde is according to thy minde, and is soyr for thee when thou stumblest.

13 Take counsell of thine owne heart: for there is no man more faithfull vnto thee, then it.

14 For a mans mind is sometimes more accustomed to thew more then seuen watchmen that li aboute in an hie tower.

15 And aboue all this pray to the most high, that he will direct thy way in tructh.

16 Let reason goe before every enterpryse, and counsell before every action.

17 [ The changing ] of the countenance is a signe of the changing of the heart: foure things appeare, good and euill, life and death, but the tongue hath euermore the gouernement ouer them.

18 [ Some man is witty, and hath instructed many, and yet is vnprofitable vnto himselfe.

19 Some man will be wise in words, and is hated, yea, he is destitute of all foodde, 20 Because grace is not given him of the Lord: for he is destitute of all wisdomme.

21 Another is wise for himselfe, and the fruits of vnderstanding are faithfull in his mouth.

22 A wise man instructeth his people, and the fruits of his wisdomme faile not.

23 A wise man shal be plenteously blessed, and all they that see him, shall thinke him blessed.

24 The life of man standeth in the number of dayes: but the dayes of Israel are innumerable.

25 A wise man shall obtayne credit among his people, and his name shall be perpetual.

26 By sonne, proue thy soule in thy life, and see what is euill for it, and permit it not to do it.

27 For all things are not profitable for all men, neither hath euery soule pleasure in euery thing.

28 Be not + greedy in all delights, and be not too hasty vpon all meates.

29 * For excessse of meates bringeth sicknesse, and gluttonie commeth into cholericke diseases.

CHAP. XXXVIII.

1 A Physician is commendable. 16 To bury the dead. 24 The wisdomme of him that is learned.

Honour the + Physician wth that honour that is due vnto him, because of necessitie: for the Lord hath created him.

2 For of the most high commeth healing, and he shall receiue gifts of the king.

3 The knowledge of the Physician listeth by his head, and in the sight of great men hee shalbe in admiration.

4 The Lord hath created medicines of the earth, and hee that is wise, will not abhorre them.

5 * Was not the swate made sweete with wood, that men might knowe the vertue thereof?

6 So he hath giuen men knowledge, that hee might bee glorified in his wonderous workes.

7 Wth such doth he heale men, and taketh away their paines.

8 Of such doth the Apothecary make a confession, & yet he cannot finish his owne workes: for of the Lord commeth prosperitie and wealth ouer all the earth.

9 By sonne, faile not in thy sicknesse, but pray vnto the Lord, and hee will make thee whole.

10 Leau off from sinne, & order thine hands aright, and cleanse thine heart from all wickednesse.

11 Offer sweete incense, and fine flour for a remembrance: make the offering fat, for thou art not the + first giuer.

12 Then giue place to the Physician: for the Lord hath created him: let him not goe from thee, for thou hast neede of him.

13 The houre may come, that their enterprises may haue good successe.

14 For they also shall pray vnto the Lorde, that hee would prosper that, which is giuen for ease, and their phisicke for the prolonging of life.

15 He that sinneth before his maker, let him fall into the hands of the Physician.

16 By sonne, + poyse toothy teares ouer the dead, + and begin to mourne, as if thou haddest suffered great harme thy selfe, and then couer his body according to his appointment, and neglect not his buriall.

17 Make a grieuous lamentation, and be earnest in mourning, and vse lamentation as hee is worthy, and that a day or two, least thou be euill spoken of, and then comfort thy selfe for thine heauinesse.

18 * For of heauinesse commeth death, and the heauinesse of the heart breaketh the strenght.

19 Of the affection of the heart commeth sorrowe, and the life of him that is afflicted, is according to his heart.

20 Take no heauinesse to heart: diuine it away and remember the last end.

21 Forget it not: for there is no turning againe: thou shalt do him no good, but hurt thy selfe.

22 Remember his iudgement: thine also shall be likewise, vnto mee yesterday, and vnto thee to day.

23 * Seeing the dead is at rest, let his remembrance rest, and comfort thy selfe againe for him, when his spirit is departed from him.

24 The wisdomme of a learned man commeth by vsing well his vacant time: and he that careth from his owne matters and labour, may come by wisdomme.

25 How can hee get wisdomme that holdeth the plough, and hee that hath pleasure in the goade, and in driving oxen, and is occupied in their labours, and talketh but of the breede of ballocks?

27 So is it of every carpenter, and worke-maſter that laboureth night and day: and they that cut and graue ſeales, and make ſundry diverſities, and give themſelves to counterfeit ſinagery, and watch to performe the worke.

28 The Smith in like maner abideth by his anail, and doeth his diligence to labour the iron: the vapour of the fire dieth his fleſh, and he muſt fight with the heate of the furnace: the noyle of the hammer is ever in his eares, and his eyes looke ſtill upon the thing that hee maketh: hee ſetterh his minde to make up his workes: therefore he watcheth to poliſh it perfectly.

29 So doeth the porter ſit by his worke: hee turneth the wheele about with his feete: hee is carefull alway at his worke, and maketh his worke by number.

30 Hee faſhioneth the clay with his arme, and with his feete he tempereth the hardneſſe thereof: his heart imagineth howe to coner it with lead, and his diligence is to cleaſe the oven.

31 All theſe hope in their hands, and every one beſtoweth his wiſedome in his work.

1 A wiſe man. 16 The workes of God. 24 Vnto the good, good things profice, but vnto the euill, euill good things are euill.

1 Whoſe that applieth his minde to the Lawe of the moſt High, and is occupied in the meditation thereof, ſeeketh out the Wiſedome of all the ancient, and exerciſeth himſelfe in the propheties.

2 Hee keepeth the ſayings of ſanons men, and entereth in alſo to the ſecrets of darke ſentences.

3 He ſeeketh out the myſtery of graue ſentences, and exerciſeth himſelfe in darke parables.

4 Hee ſhall ſerue among great men, and appeare before the prince: hee ſhall trauiſe through ſtrange countreys: for hee hath tried the good and the euill among men.

5 He will glue his heart to reſort early vnto the Lord that made him, and to pray before the moſt High, and will open his mouth in prayer, and pray for his finnes.

6 When the great Lord will, hee ſhall be filled with the Spirit of vnderſtanding, that hee may powre out wiſe ſentences, and give thanks vnto the Lord in his prayer.

7 Hee ſhall direct his counſell and knowledge: ſo ſhall hee medicate in his ſecrets.

8 Hee ſhall ſhew forth his ſcience and learning, and reioyces in the Lawe and covenant of the Lord.

9 Many ſhall commend his vnderſtanding, and his wicriſſy, ſhall neuer be put out, nor depart away: but his name ſhall continue from generation to generation.

13 Hearken vnto mee, yee holy children, and bring forth fruit as the roſe that is planted by the brookes of the field,

15 Giue honour vnto his Name, and ſhewe forth his praye with the ſonges of your lippes, and with harpes, and yee ſhall ſay after this maner, 16 * All the workes of the Lord are exceeding good, and all his commandments are done in due ſeaſon. Gene. 1. 31. mar. 7. 37.

17 And none may ſay, What is this, wherefore is that: for at time conſent, they ſhall all be fought out: at his commandement the water ſtood as an heape, and at the word of his mouth the waters gathered themſelues.

18 His whole ſanour appeared by his commandement, and none can diminiſh that which hee will ſaue.

19 The workes of all fleſh are before him, and nothing can be hid from his eyes.

20 Hee ſeeth from euerlaſting to euerlaſting, and there is nothing wonderfull vnto him.

21 A man neede not to ſay, What is this? wherefore is that: for hee hath made all things for their owne uſe.

22 His bleſſing ſhall run ouer as the ſtreame, and moſten the earth like a flood.

23 As hee hath turned the waters into ſaltneſſe, ſo ſhall the heathen feele his wrath.

24 As his wayes are plaine and right vnto the iuſt, ſo are they ſlumbering blockes to the wicked.

25 For the good are good things created from the beginning, and euill things for the ſinners.

26 * The principall things for the whole uſe of mans life is water, ſire, and yron, and ſalt, and meale, wheate and hony, and milke, the blood of the grape, and oyle, and clothing. Chap. 29. 23.

27 All theſe things are for good to the godly: but to the ſinners they are turned vnto euill.

28 There be ſpirites that are created for vengeance, which in their rigor lay on ſure ſtokes: in the time of deſtruction they ſhew forth their power, and accompliſh the wrath of him that made them.

29 * Fire, and haille, and famine, and death: all theſe are created for vengeance. Chap. 40. 9, 10.

30 The teeth of wild beaſts, & the ſcorpions, and the ſerpents, and the ſwoorde execute vengeance for the deſtruction of the wicked.

31 They ſhall be glad to doe his commandments: and when neede is, they ſhall be ready vpon earth: and when their houſe is conu, they ſhall not overpaſſe the commandement.

Of true wiſedome.

32 Therefore haue I taken a good courage vnto me from the beginning, and haue thought on these things, and haue put them in writing.

Gen. 1. 31.

33 * All the workes of the Lord are good, and hee giueth euery one in due season, and when neede is;

34 So that a man neede not to say; This is worke then that: for in due season they are all worthy praye.

CHAP. XL.

1 Many miseries in mans life. 14 Of the blessing of the righteous, and prerogative of the feare of God.

† The miseries of mans life.

Great † traucells created for all men, and Gan haue yoke vpon the sonnes of Adam from the day that they goe out of their mochers wombe, till the day that they returne to the mother of all things,

2 Namely their thoughts, and feare of the heart, and their imagination of the things they waite for, and the day of death.

3 From him that sitteth vpon the glorious throne, to him that is beneath in the earth and ashes:

4 From him that is clothed in blue silke, and weareth a crowne, euen vnto him that is clothed in simple linnen.

5 Wrath and enuie, trouble, and vnquietnes, and feare of death, and rigour, and strife, and in the time of rest, the sleepe in the night vpon his bed, change his knowledge.

6 A litle or nothing is his rest, and afterward in sleeping hee is as a watch towe in the day: hee is troubled with the visions of his heart, as one that runneth out of a battell.

7 And when all is safe he awaketh, and maruellet that the feare was nothing.

8 Such things come vnto all flesh, both man and beast, but leuen sold to the vngodly!

9 Howeuer, death and blood, and strife, and woode, oppression, famine, destruction, and punishment.

10 These things are all created for the wicked, and for their lakes came the flood also.

11 All things that are of the earth, that turne to earth againe: and they that are of the waters, shall returne into the sea.

12 All bribes and vngodlinesse shall be put away: but † faithfulness shall endure for euer.

13 The substance of the vngodly shall be diuid by like a riuer, and they shall make a sound like a great thunder in the raine.

14 When he openeth his hand, he reioyceth: but all the transgressors shall come to nought.

15 The children of the vngodly shall not obtaine many branches: for the nucleare rootes are as vpon the hie rockes.

16 Their tender stalks by what water soeuer it be or water banke, it shall be pulled vp before all other herbes.

17 Friendsinesse is as a most plentifull garden of pleasure, and merite endureth for euer.

18 To labour and to be content with that a man hath, is a sweete life: but he that liueth by a treasure is aboute them both.

19 Children, and the building of the city maketh a perpetuall name: but an honest woman is counted aboue them both.

20 Wine and musicke reioyet the heart: but the loue of wisdom is aboue them both.

21 The pipe and the psalterion make a sweete noise: but a pleasant tongue is aboue them both.

22 Thine eye desireth fauour and beauty: but a Greene seede time rather then them both.

23 A friend and companion come together at opportunity: but aboue them both is a wife with her husband.

24 Friends and helpe are good in the time of trouble: but almes shall deliuer more then them both.

25 Gold and siluer fasten the secte: but counsell is eiteemed aboue them both.

26 Riches and strength lift vp the mind: but the feare of the Lord is aboue them both: there is no want in the feare of the Lord, and it needeth no helpe.

27 The feare of the Lord is a pleasant garden of blessing, and there is nothing so beautifull as it is.

28 Thy sonne, leade not a beggars life: for better it were to die then to beg.

29 The life of him that dependeth on another mans table, is not to be counted for a life: for hee tomentereth himselfe after other mens meate: but a wise man and well nourished will beware thereof.

30 Begging is sweet in the mouth of the vnshamefast, and in his belly there burneth a fire.

CHAP. XLI.

1 Of the remembrance of death. 3 Death is not to be feared. 8 A curse vpon them that forsake the Law of God. 12 Good name and fame. 14 An exhortation to giue heede vnto wisdom. 17 Of what things a man ought to be ashamed.

† Of death, O † Death, how bitter is the remembrance of thee to a man that liueth at rest in his possessions, vnto the man that hath nothing to bere him, and that hath prosperitie in all things: yea, vnto him that yet is able to recete meate!

2 Death, how acceptable is thy iudgement vnto the needfull, and vnto him whose strenght faileth, and that is now in the last age, and is bered with all things, and to him that despayreth, and hath lost patience!

3 Feare not the iudgement of death, remember them that haue bene before thee, and that come after, this is the ordinance of the Lord ouer all flesh.

4 And why wouldest thou bee against the pleasure of the most High? whether it be tenne, or an hundred, or a thousand yeeres, there is no defence for life against the graue.

5 The children of the vngodly are abominable children, and so are they that keepe company with the vngodly.

6 The inheritance of vngodly children shall perish, and their possession shall haue a perpetuall thame.

7 The children complaine of an vngodly father, because they are reproched for his sake.

8 Woe be vnto you, O ye vngodly, which haue forsaken the Lawe of the most High God: for though you increase, yet shall you perish.

9 If ye be borne, ye shall be borne to cursing: if ye die, the curse shall be your portion.

10 All that is of the earth, shall turne to earth againe:

again: so the vngodly goe from the curse to destruction.

11 Though men mourne for their body, yet the wicked name of the vngodly shall be put out.

12 Wane regard to thy name: for that shall continue with thee above a thousand treasures of gold.

13 A good life hath the dayes numbered: but a good name endureth for euer.

14 My children, keepe wisdom in peace: * for wisdom that is hid, and a treasure that is not scene, what profit is in them both?

15 A man that hideth his foolishnesse, is better then a man that hideth his wisdom.

16 Therefore beare reuerence vnto my words: for it is not good in all things to bee † ashamed: neither are all things allowed as fairesfull in all men.

17 Bee ashamed of whoredome before father and mother: be ashamed of lies before the prince and men of authoritie:

18 Of sinne before the iudge and ruler: of offence before the congregation and people: of vnrightrouinesse before a companion and friend.

19 And of theft before the place where thou dwellest, and before the truth of God and his Covenant, and to leane with thine eldowes vpon the bread, or to bee reprooued for giuing or taking.

20 And of silence vnto them that salute thee, and to looke vpon an harlot.

21 And to turne away thy face from thy kinsman: or to take away a portion of a gift, or to be euill minded toward another mans wife.

22 Or to sollicite any mans mayd, or to stand by her bed, or to reproch thy friendes with wordes.

23 Or to vpbraid when thou giuest any thing, or to report a matter that thou hast heard, or to reueale secret wordes.

24 Thus mayest thou well be shamefast, and shalt finde fauour with all men.

CHAP. XLII.

1 The Law of God must be taught. 2 A daughter. 14 A woman. 18 God knoweth all things, yea, euen the secrets of thine heart.

OF these things be not thou † ashamed, neither haue regard to offend for any person:

2 Of the Law of the most High and his Covenant, and of iudgement to iustitie the godly:

3 Of the cause of thy companion, and of strangers, or of distributing the heritage among friends:

4 To be diligent to keepe true balance, and weight, whether thou haue much or little:

5 To set merchandise at an indifferent price, and to correct thy children diligently, & to beate an euill seruant to the blood:

6 To set a good locke where an euill wife is, and to locke where many hands are:

7 If thou giue any thing by number, and weight, to put all in writing, both that that is giuen out, and that that is receiued againe:

8 To teach the vniuersaned, and the vniuersed, and the aged, that contend against the young: thus shalt thou be well instructed, and approued of all men liuing.

9 The daughter I maketh the father to watch secretly, and the carefulnesse that hee hath for her, taketh away his sleepe in the youth, lest shee should passe the flower of her age: and when shee hath an husband, lest shee should be hated:

10 In her virginittie, lest she should be defiled, or gotten with childe in her fathers house, and, when she is with her husband, lest shee misbehaue her selfe: and when she is inarried, lest she continue vnfertill.

11 * If thy daughter bee vnsamefast, keepe her secretly, lest she cause thine enemies to laugh thee to scoorne, and make thee a common talke in the cite, and defame thee among the people, and bring thee to publique shame.

12 * Beholde not euery bodys beauty, and company not among women.

13 For as the mist commeth out of garments: * so doeth wickednesse of the woman.

14 The wickednesse of a man is better then the good intreatie of a woman, to wit, of a woman that is in shame and reproch.

15 I will remember the workes of the Lord, and declare the thing that I haue scene: by the word of the Lord are his workes.

16 The Sunne that shineth, looketh vpon all things, and all the worke thereof is full of the glory of the Lord.

17 Hath not the Lorde appointed that his Saints should declare all his wonderous workes, which the Almighty Lord hath stablished to confirme all things by in his Palace?

18 He seeketh out the depth, and the heart, and hee knoweth their practises: for the Lord knoweth all science, and he beholdeth the signes of the world.

19 He declareth the things that are past, and for to come, and discloseth the paths of things that are secret.

20 * No thought may escape him, neither may any word be hid from him.

21 He hath garnished the excellent workes of his wisdom, and he is from euerslasking to euerslasking, and for euer: vnto him may nothing be added, neither can he be diminished: he hath no neede of any counsellor.

22 Whow delectable are all his workes, and to be considered euen vnto the sparkes of fire!

23 They liue all and endure for euer: and whensoever neede is, they are all obedient.

24 They are all double one against another: he hath made nothing that hath any fault.

14 Therefore he openeth his treasures, and the clouds flie forth as the fowles.

15 In his power hath hee strengthened the clouds, and broken the hailestones.

16 The mountaines leape at the sight of him: the South wind bloweth according to his will.

17 The sound of his thunder beatech the earth: to doeth the foyme of the North, the whirlewind also, as birds that flie, scattereth the snow, and the falling downe thereof is as the grasshoppers that ligh downe.

18 The eye maruileth at the beautie of the whitenesse thereof, and the heart is astonished at the raine of it.

19 Hee also powreth out the frost vpon the earth like salt, and when it is frozen, it sticketh on the tops of pales.

20 When the colde Northwind bloweth, an yce is frozen of the water, it abideth vpon all the gatherings together of water, and clobeth the waters as with a brestplate.

21 It deuoureth the mountaines, and burneth the wildernesse, and destroyeth that that is Greene, like fire.

22 The remedie of all these is when a cloude commeth hastily, and when a dew commeth vpon the heat, it refresheth it.

23 [By his word he stilleth the wind:] by his counsell hee appeareth the deepe, and planteth Islands therein.

24 They that saile ouer the Sea, tell of the perils thereof, and when wee heare it with our eares, we maruaill thereat.

25 For there bee strange, and wonderous workes, diuers maner of beasts, and the creation of Whales.

26 Through him are all things directed to a good end, and are established by his word.

27 And when we haue spoken much, we can not attaine vnto them: but this is the summe of all, That he is all.

28 What power haue wee to praise him? for he is aboue all his workes.

29 The Lord is terrible, and very great, and maruellous is his power.

30 Praise the Lord, and magnifie him as much as ye can, yet doeth he farre exceede: craue him with all your power, and be not wearie, yet

Let vs now commend the famous men, and our fathers, of whom we are begotten.

2 The Lord hath gotten great glorie by them, and that thought his great power from the beginning.

3 They haue borne rule in their kingdomes, and were renowned for their power, and were wise in counsell, and declared propheties.

4 They gouerned the people by counsell, and by the knowledge of learning meete for the people, in whose doctrine were wise sentences.

5 They inuented the melody of musick, and expounded the verses that were written.

6 They were rich and mightie in power, and liued quietly at home.

7 All these were honourable men in their generations, and were well reported of in their times.

8 There are of them that haue left a name behind them, so that their praise shall bee spoken of.

9 There are some also which haue no memoriall, and are perished as though they had neuer bene, and are become as though they had neuer bene borne, and their children after them.

10 But the former were mercifull men, whose righteousnesse hath not bene forgotten.

11 For whose posteritie a good inheritance is reserved, and their seed is contained in the covenant.

12 Their stocke is contained in the covenant, and their posteritie after them.

13 Their seed shall remaine for ever, and their praise shall neuer be taken away.

14 Their bodies are buried in peace, but their name liueth for evermore, 15 *The people speake of their wisdom, and the congregation talke of their praise.

16 *Enoch pleased the Lord God: therefore was he translated for an ensample of repentance to the generations.

17 *Noe was found perfect, and in the time of wrath hee had a reward: therefore was hee left as a remnant vnto the earth, when the flood came.

18 An euerlasting covenant was made with him, that all flesh should not mooue by the flood.

19 *Abraham was a great father of many people: in gloiy was there none like vnto him.

20 Hee kept the Law of the most high, and was in covenant with him, and he set the covenant in his flesh, and in tentation he was found faithfull.

21 Therefore hee assured him by an oath, that hee would blesse the nations in his seede, and that hee would multiply him as the dust

The praise of Moses, Aaron and Phinees.

† Moses. Exod. 11. 3. Act. 7. 22.

AND † Moyses the * beloved of God and men, brought he forth, whose remembrance is blessed.

2 He made him like to the glorious Saints, and magnified him by the feare of his enemies.

Exod. 6. 7, 8. 9. chapters.

3 By his words hee cauled the wonders to cease, and he made him * glorious in the sight of Kings, and gaue him commandements for his people, and shewed him his glorie.

Num. 1. 2. 3.

4 He sanctified him with fastinitesse, and meekenesse, and chose him out of all men.

Exod. 1. 9. 7.

5 Hee cauled him to heare his voyce, and brought him into the darke cloud, * and there he gaue him the commandements before his face, euen the Law of life and knowledg, that hee might teach Jacob the covenant, and Israell his iudgements.

† Aaron. Exod. 4. 13.

6 He eralted † Aaron an holy man like unto him, euen his * brother of the tribe of Leui.

7 An everlasting covenant made hee with him, and gaue him the Priesthood among the people and made him blessed through his comely ornament, and clothed him with the garment of honour.

8 Hee put perfect ioy vpon him, and girded him with ornaments of strength, as with breeches, and a tunicke, and an ephod.

Exod. 28. 35.

9 Hee compassed him about with besles of golde, and with many bels round about, * that when he went in, the sound might be heard, and might make a noise in the Sanctuarie, for a remembrance to the children of Israell his people.

10 And with an holy garment, with gold also, and blue silke, and purple, and diuers kinds of workes, and with a breslap of iudgement, and with the signes of truely.

† Urim and Thummim.

11 And with worke of scarlet cunningly wrought, and with precious stones grauen like scales, and set in golde by goldsmiths worke for a memoriam, with a writing grauen after the number of the tribes of Israell, a That was, either puring to his hand the booke of the Lawe written to reade vnto the people, or els some sacrifice that hee might offer vnto God for their offences. Leuit. 8. 12.

12 And with a crowne of gold vpon the miter, bearing the forme and mark of holinesse, an ornament of honour, a noble worke garnished, and pleasant to looke vpon.

13 Before him were there no such faire ornaments: there might no stranger put them on, but onely his children: and his childrens children perpetually.

14 Their sacrifices were wholly consumed, every day twice continually.

15 Moyses filled * his hands, * and anoynted him with holy oyle: this was appointed vnto him by an everlasting coucnant, and to his seede to long as the heauens should remaine, that hee should minister before him, and also to execute the office of the Priesthood, and blesse his people in his name.

16 Before all men lining the Lord chose him that he should present offerings before him, and a sweete sauent for a remembrance to make reconciliation for his people.

Deut. 17. 10. and 21. 5.

17 * Hee gaue him also his commandements and authoritie according to the Lawes appointed, that he should teach Jacob the testimonies, and giue light vnto Israell by his Law.

Num. 16. 1, 2

18 Strangers stood by against him, and enuied him in the wilderness, euen the men that tooke Dathans & Abirans part, and the company of Core in fury and rage.

19 This the Lord saw, and it displeasid him, and in his wrathfull indignation were they consumed: hee did wonders vpon them, and consumed them with the fiery flame.

Num. 17. 3.

20 * But he made Aaron more honourable, and gaue him an heritage, and parted the first fruits of the first borne vnto him: vnto him specially he appointed bread in abundance.

21 For the Priests did eat of the sacrifices of the Lord, which he gaue vnto him and to his seed.

Deut. 18. 1, 2 and 18. 1.

22 * Els had hee none heritage in the land of his people, neither had hee any portion among the people: for the Lord is the portion of his inheritance.

23 The third in glory is † Phinees the sonne of Eleazar, because hee had zeale in the feare of the Lord, & stood by with good courage of heart, when the people were turned backe, and made reconciliation for Israell.

† Phinees. Num. 25. 1, 2. 1. 1. Mac. 2. 54.

24 Therefore was there a covenant of peace made with him, that hee should bee the chiefe of the Sanctuarie and of his people, and that hee and his posterity should haue the dignity of the Priesthood for euer.

25 And according to the couenant made with Dauid, that the inheritance of the kingdom should remaine to his sonne of the tribe of Iudath to the heritage of Aaron should bee to the onely sonne of his soune, and to his seed. God giue vs wisdom in our heart to iudge his people in righteousnesse, that the good things that they haue, be not abolished, and that their glory may endure for their posterity.

CHAP. XLVI.

The praise of Iosue, Caleb, and Samuel.

THIS † the sonne of Naue was valiant in the wars, & was the succellour of Moyses in prophesies, who according vnto his name was a great fauourer of the elect of God, to take vengeance of the enemies that rose by against them, and to set Israell in their inheritance.

† Iosue. Num. 27. 18. deut. 34. 9. Ios. 1. 2. and 1. 2. 7.

2 * What glory gate he, when hee lift by his hand, & drew out his sword against the cities!

Ios. 8. 1, 2.

3 Who was there before him like to him: for hee fought the battels of the Lord.

4 * Goodd not the Sunne stil by his meanes and hee day was as long as two?

Ios. 10. 12, 13, 14.

5 He called vnto the most high Gouernour, when the enemies ptealed vpon him on every side, and the mighty Loide heard him with the haile stones, and with mighty power.

6 Hee rushed in vpon the nation in battell, and in the * gsing downe of Bethoron hee destroyed

¶ Or, that the Lord fauoured his battel.

stroyed the aduerfaries, that they might knowe his weapons, and that he fought in the fight of the Lord: for he followed the Almighty.

7 * In the time of Boyles alfo he did a good worke: hee and Caleb the ſonne of Iepune flood againſt the enemy and withheld the people from ſinne, and appeaſed the wicked murmuring.

8 * And of five hundred thouſand people of foote, they two were preferred to bring them into the heritage, euen into the land that floweth with milke and honny.

9 * The Lord gaue ſtrength alſo vnto Caleb, which remained with him vnto his olde age, ſo that he went by into the hye places of the land, and his ſeed obtained it for an heritage.

10 That all the children of Iſrael might ſee, that it is good to follow the Lord.

11 Concerning the Iudges, euerie one by name, whole heart went not a whooling, nor departed from the Lord, their memozy be bleſſed.

12 Let * their bones flouriſh out of their place, and their names by ſucceſſion remaine to them that are moſt famous of their children.

13 ¶ Samuel the Prophet of the Lord, beloved of his Lord, * ordained kings, and anointed the princes ouer his people.

14 By the Lawe of the Lorde he iudged the congregation, and the Lord had reſpect vnto Iacob.

15 This Prophet was approved for his faithfullnes, & he was knowne faithfull in his word, and viſions.

16 * He called vpon the Lord Almighty, when his enemies pealed vpon him on euery ſide, when he offered the ſucking lambe.

17 And the Lord thundered from heauen, and made his voyce to be heard with a great noyſe.

18 So he diſcomfited the princes of the Egyptians: and all the rulers of the Philiftins.

19 * And before his long ſleepe hee made profeſſation in the light of the Lorde, and his anointed, that he tooke no ſubſtance of any man, nor not ſo much as a ſheepe, and no man could accuſe him.

20 * After his ſleepe alſo he told of the kings death, and from the earth liſt hee by his voyce, and prophelſed that the wickednes of the people ſhould periſh.

CHAP. XLVII.

The praiſe of Nathan, Dauid, and Salomon.

¶ Nathan. 2. Sam. 12. 1

After him roſe vp * Nathan to prophelſe in the time of Dauid.

2 For as the fat is taken away from the peate offering, ſo was Dauid * choſen out of the children of Iſrael.

3 * He played with the Lions, as with kids, and with bears, as with lambes.

4 * Slew he not againe when he was yet but young, and tooke away the rebake from the people, when hee liſt up his hand with the ſtone in the ſling, to beat downe the pride of Goliath.

5 For hee called vpon the moſt High Lord, which gaue him ſtrength in his right hand, to ſlay that mighty warrior, and that he might ſet by the borne of his people.

6 * So he gaue him the praiſe of ten thouſand, and honoured him with great prayles, and gaue him a crowne of glory.

7 * For hee deſtroyed the enemies on euerie ſide, and rooted out the Philiftins his aduerſaries, and brake their horne in ſunder vnto this day.

8 In all his workes hee praifed the Holy one, and the moſt high with honourable words, and with his whole heart hee ſung ſongs, & loued him that made him.

9 * Hee ſet fingers alſo before the altar, and according to their tune hee made ſweete ſongs, that they might praife God daply with their ſonges.

10 Hee ordeined to keepe the feaſt dayes comely, and appointed the times perfectly, that they might praife the holy Name of God, and make the Temple to ſound in the morning.

11 * The Lordooke away his ſinnes, and exalted his borne for euer: hee gaue him the countant of the kingdome, and the throne of glory in Iſrael.

12 After him roſe vp a wife ſonne, who by him dwelt in a large poſſeſſion.

13 * Salomon reigned in a peaceable time, and was glorious: for God made all quiet round about, that he might build an bouſe in his name, and prepare the Sanctuary for euer.

14 * How wiſe waſt thou in thy youth, & waſt filled with vnderſtanding as with a flood!

15 Thy mind couered the whole earth, & hath filled it with graue and darke ſentences.

16 Thy name went abroade in the yles, and for thy peace thou waſt beſeoned.

17 * The countreys maruelled at thee for thy ſongs, and proacerts, and ſimilitudes, and interpretations.

18 By the Name of the Lorde God, which is called the God of Iſrael, thou haſt * gathered golde as tinne, and haſt as much ſiluer as lead.

19 * Thou diddeſt bow thy loynes to women, and waſt overcome by thy body.

20 Thou diddeſt ſtaine thine honour, and haſt deſiled thy poſteritie, & haſt brought wrath vpon thy children, and haſt felt ſorrow for thy folly.

21 * So the kingdome was diuided, & Ephraim began to be a rebellious kingdome.

22 * Neitherdeſte the Lord left not off his mercy, neither was hee deſtroyed for his workes: neither did hee abolifh the poſterity of his elect, nor tooke away the ſeede of him that loued him, but hee left a remnant vnto Iacob, and a roote of him vnto Dauid.

23 Thus reſted Salomon with his fathers, and of his ſeede hee left behind him Roboam, euen ¶ the fooliſhnes of the people, & one that had no vnderſtanding, who turned away the people through his counſell, and ¶ Jeroboam the ſonne of Nebat, which cauſed Iſrael to ſinne, & ſhewed Ephraim the way of ſinne.

24 So that their ſinnes were ſo much increaſed, that they were diuinen out of the land:

25 For they ſought out all wickedneſſe, till the vengeance came vpon them.

3 By the worde of the Lord he shut the heauen, * and threer times brought he the fire from heauen.

4 O Elias, how honourable art thou by thy wondrous deeds! who may make his boast to be like thee!

5 Which hast raised vp the dead from death, and by the worde of the most High out of the graue:

6 Which hast brought Kings vnto destruction, and the honourable from their seat:

7 Which heardest the rebuke of the Loarde in Sina, * and in Horeb the iudgement of the vengeance:

8 * Which diddest auoynt Kings that they might recompense, and Prophets to be thy luciflous:

9 * Which was taken vp in a whirlewind of fire, and in a charret of fiery hoesles:

10 Which was appoynted * to reprove in due season, and to pacifie the wrath of the Lords iudgement before it kindled, and to turne the hearts of the fathers vnto the chyldren, and to set vp the tribes of Jacob.

11 Blessed were they that saw thee, and slept in loue: for we shall huc.

12 When Elias was covered with the skowe, † Elizeus was filled with his spirit: while he liued, he was not moued for any prince, neither could any bring him into subiection.

13 Nothing could ouercome him, * and after his death his body prophesied.

14 He did wonders in his life, and in death were his workes maruelous.

15 For all this the people repented not, neither departed they from their sinnes: * till they were carryed away prisoners out of their land, and were scattered through all the earth, so that there remained but a very few people with the prince vnto the house of Dauid.

16 Howbeit some of them did right, and some heaped vp sinnes.

17 † Ezekias made his city strong, and conuened water into the mids thereof: hee digged thoroow the rocke with yron, & made fountaines for waters.

18 * In his time came Sennacherib vp, and sent Rabfaces, & lift vp his hand against Sion, and boasted proudly.

19 Then trembled their hearts and hands, so that they sorrowed like a woman in trauaile.

20 But they called vpon the Lord, which is mercifull, and lift vp their hands vnto him, and immediately the Holy one heard them out of heauen.

21 [ Hee thought no more vpon their sinnes, nor gaue them ouer to their enemies, ] but deliuered them by the hand of Clat.

22 He smote the hothe of the Assyrians, and his Angel destroyed them.

23 For Ezekias had done the thing that pleased the Loarde, and remained steadfastly in the wayes of Dauid his father, as † Clat the great Prophet & faithfull in his vision had commanded him.

24 * In his time the sunne went backward, and he lengthened the Kings life.

25 He saw by an excellent spirit what should come to passe at the last, and he comforted them that were sorrowfull in Sion.

26 He shewed what should come to passe for euer, & secret things, wher euer they came to passe.

CHAP. XLIX.

Of Iosias, Hezekiah, Dauid, Ieremie, Ezekiel, Zorobabel, Iesus, Nehemias, Enoch, Ioseph, Sem and Seth.

The remembrance of † * Iosias is like the composition of the perfume that is made by the arte of the Apothecary: it is sweete as hony in all monthes, and as musicke at a banquet of wine.

2 Hee behaued himselfe vprightly in the reformation of the people, and tooke away all abominations of iniquitie.

3 Hee * directed his heart vnto the Lord, & in the time of the vngodly he established religion.

4 All, except Dauid and Ezekias, and Iosias, committed wickednesse: for euen the Kings of Iuda forsooke the Law of the most High, and failed.

5 Therefore he gaue their thome vnto other, and their honour to a strange nation.

6 Hee burnt the elect cite of the Sanctuary, * and destroyed the streets thereof according to the † prophetic of † Ieremias.

7 For they * increased him euil, which neuertheless was a Prophet, * sanctified from his mothers wombe, that he might root out and afflict, and destroy, and that hee might also build vp, and plant.

8 † Ezekiel had the gloriovs vision, which was shewed him vpon the charret of the Cherubims.

9 * For he made mention of the enemies vnder the figure of the raine, and directed them that went right.

10 † * And let the bones of the twelue Prophets flourish out of their place, and let their memory be blessed: for they comforted Iacob, and deliuered them by assured hope.

11 † * How shall we praise † Zorobabel, which was as a ring on the right hand!

12 So was † Iesus also: hee sonne of Iosedec: these men in their time builded the hoale, and set vp y<sup>e</sup> Sanctuary of the Lord againe, which was prepared for an euerlasting worship.

13 † * And among the elect was † Nehemias whose renowne is great, which set vp for vs the walles that were fallen, & set by the gates and the bars, and laid the foundations of our houses.

14 † * But vpon the earth was no man created like † Enoch: for he was taken vp from the earth.

15 Neither was there a like man vnto † Ioseph the generour of his brethren, and the vp-holder of his people, whose bones were kept.

16 † * Sem and Seth were in great honour among men; and so was † Adam aboute currey liuing thing in the creation.

2 Under him was the foundation of the double height layed, and the high walles that compasseth the Temple.

3 In his dayes the places to receive water, that were decayed, were restored, and the waste was about in measure at the sea.

4 Hee took care for his people, that they should not fall, and fortified the citie against the siege.

5 How honourable was his conuersation among the people, and when he came out of the house covered with the vail!

6 He was as the morning starre in the mids of a cloud, and as the moone when it is full,

7 And as the sunne shining vpon the temple of the most High, and as the rainbow that is bright in the faire clouds,

8 And as the flower of the roses in the spring of the yeere, and as lillies by the springs of waters, and as the boughes of the frankincense tree in the time of Summer,

9 As a fire and incense in the censer, and as a vessel of masse gold, set with all maner of precious stones,

10 And as a faire olive tree that is fruitfull, and as a cypresse tree, which groweth vpon the clouds.

11 When hee put on the garment of honour, and was clothed with all beautie, he went vpon the holy altar, and made the garment of holines honourable.

12 When hee tooke the positions out of the Priestes hands, hee himselfe stood by the hearth of the altar, compassed with his brethren round about, as the branches doe the cedar tree in Libanus, and they compassed him as the branches of the palme trees.

13 So were all the sonnes of Aaron in their glory, and the oblations of the Lord in their hands, before all the congregation of Israel.

14 And that hee might accomplish his ministratione vpon the altar, and garnish the offering of the most High and Almighty, 15 Hee stretched out his hand to the drink offering, & powred of the blood of the grape, and hee powred at the foote of the altar a perfume of good labour vnto the most high King of all.

16 Then shouted the sonnes of Aaron, and blowed with brazen trumpets, and made a great noise to be heard, for a remembrance before the most High.

17 Then all the people together hasted, and fell downe to the earth vpon their faces to worship their Lord God Almighty, and most High.

18 The singers also sang with their voices, so that the sound was faint, and the melody sweet.

19 And the people prayed vnto the Lord most high, with prayer before him that is mercifull, till the honour of the Lord were performed, and they had accomplished his seruice.

20 Then went hee downe, and stretched out his hands ouer the whole Congregation of the children of Israel, that they should giue praise with their lips vnto the Lord, and reioyce in his Name.

21 He began againe to worship, that he might receive the blessing of the most High.

22 Now therefore giue praise alwey vnto God, that worketh great things enery where, which hath increased our dayes from the wombe, and dealt with vs according to his mercy,

23 That he would giue vs ioyfulness of heart, and peace in our dayes in Israel, as in old time, 24 That he would confirme his mercie with vs, and deliuer vs at his time.

25 There be two maner of people, that my heart abhorreth, and the third is no people;

26 They that sit vpon the mountaine of Samaria, the Philistines, and the foolish people that dwell in Scitinas.

27 Jesus the sonne of Serech, the sonne of Eleazarus of Ierusalem, hath written the doctrine of vnderstanding and knowledge in this booke, and hath powred out the wisdom of his heart.

28 Blessed is he that exerceiseth himselfe therein: and he that layeth vpon these in his heart shall be wise.

29 For if he do these things, hee shall be strong in all things: for he setteth his steps in the light of the Lord, which giveth wisdom to the godly. The Lord be prayed for euery one. So be it, so be it.

CHAP. LI.

A prayer of Iesus the sonne of Sirach.

I will confesse thee, O Lord & King, and praise thee, O God my Saviour: I will giue thanks vnto thy Name.

2 For thou art my defender and helper, and hast preferred my body from destruction, & from the snare of the slanderous tongue, & from the lips that are occupied with lies: thou hast holpen me against mine aduersaries,

3 And hast deliuered mee according to the multitude of thy mercie, and for thy names sake, from the roaring of them that were ready to deuoure mee, and out of the handes of such as sought after my life, and from the manifold afflictions which I had,

4 And from the fire that choaked me round about, and from the mids of the fire that I burned nor,

5 And from the bottome of the belly of hell, from an vnclene tongue, from lying wordes, from false accusation to the King, and from the slander of an vnrightheous tongue.

6 [ My soule shall praye the Lord vnto death: ] for my soule drew neere vnto death: my life was neere to the hell beneath.

7 They compassed me on euery side, & there was no man to helpe mee: I looked for the succour of men, but there was none.

8 Then thought I vpon thy mercie, O Lord, and vpon thine acts of old, how thou deliuerest such as wait for thee, and sauest them out of the hands of the enemies.

9 Then lifted I vp my prayer from y earth, and prayed for deliuerance from death.

10 I called vpon the Lord the father of my Lord, that he would not leaue me in the day of my trouble, and in the time of the proud, without helpe.

11 I will praye thy Name continually, and will sing praise with thanksgiving: and my prayer was heard.

12 Thou sauest me from destruction, and deliueredst me from the euill time: therefore will I giue thanks, and praye thee, & blisse the name of the Lord.

13 When I was yet young, or euer I went abroad, abroad, I desired wisdome openly in my prayer.

14 I prayed for her before the Temple, and sought after her vnto faire countreys, & she was as a grape that wareth ripe out of the flower.

15 Mine heart retoyed in her: my foote walked in the right way, and from my youth by sought I after her.

16 I bowed somewhat downe mine eare, and receiued her, and gate me much wisdome:

17 And I profited by her: therefore will I ascribe the glorie vnto him, that giueth me wisdome.

18 For I am aduised to doe thereafter: I will be ieaalous of that that is good: so shall I not be confounded.

19 My soule hath wrestled with her, and I haue examined my workes: I lifted by mine handes on high: and considered the ignorances thereof.

20 I directed my soule vnto her, and I found her in purenesse: I haue had mine heart ioynd with her from the beginning: therefore shall I not be forsaken.

21 My bowels are troubled in seeking her: therefore haue I gotten a good possession.

22 The Lord hath giuen me a tongue for my reward, wherewith I wil praise him.

23 Draw neere vnto me, yee vnlarned, and dwell in the house of learning.

24 Wherefore are yee slow? and what say you of these things, seeing your soules are vnto thirkie?

25 I opened my mouth, and sayd, * Buy her for you without money.

26 Bowe downe your necke vnder the yoke, and your soule shall receiue instruction: ther is ready that ye may find her.

27 Beholde with your eyes, * how that I haue had but little labour, and haue gotten vnto me much rest.

28 Get learning with a great summe of money: for by her ye shall possesse much gold.

29 Let your soule reioyce in the mercy of the Lord, and be not ashamed of his payle.

30 Doe your duetic betimes, and he will giue you a reward at his time.

Baruch.

CHAP. I.

Baruch wrote a booke during the captiuitie of Babylon, which he read before Iechonias and all the people. 10 The Lewes sent the booke with money vnto Ierusalem to their other brethren, to the intent that they should pray for them.

And these are the wordes of the booke, which Baruch the son of Nechias, the sonne of Nechias, the sonne of Sedecias, the sonne of Adarias, the son of Helcias wrote in at Babylon.

2 In the fift yere, and the senenth day of the moneth, what time as the Chaldeans tooke Ierusalem, and burnt it with fire.

3 And Baruch did read the wordes of this booke, that Iechonias the sonne of Ioachim king of Iuda might heare, & all the people that were come to heare the booke.

4 And in the audience of the gouernour, and of the kings sonnes, and before the Elders, and before the whole people, from the lowest vnto the highest, before all them that dwelt at Babylon by the riuer of Sid.

5 Which when they heard it, wept, fasted, and made prayers vnto the Lord.

6 They made a collection alio of money, according to euery mans power,

7 And sent it to Ierusalem vnto Ioachim the sonne of Helcias the sonne of Salom Duict, and vnto the other priests, & to all the people, which were with him at Ierusalem,

8 When hee had receiued the vessels of the Temple of the Lord, that were taken away out of the Temple, to bring them againe into the land of Iuda, the tenth day of the moneth of Situan, to wit, silver vessels, which Sedecias the sonne of Iosias king of Iuda had made,

9 After that Nabuchodonosor King of Babylon had ledde away Iechonias from Ierusalem, and his Princes and his Nobles, pri-ners, and the people, and carted them to Babylon.

10 And they said, Behold, we haue sent you money, wherewith yee shall buy burnt offerings for sinne, and incense, and prepare a meate offering, and offer vpon the altar of the Lord our God,

11 And pray for the life of Nabuchodonosor king of Babylon, and for the life of Baltasar his sonne, that their dayes may be vpon earth, as the Dayes of heauen.

12 And that God would giue vs strength and lighten our eyes, that we may lme vnder the shadow of Nabuchodonosor King of Babylon, and vnder the shadow of Baltasar his sonne, that we may long doe them seruite, and find fauour in their sight.

13 Pray for vs also vnto the Lord our God, (for we haue sinned against the Lord our God, and vnto this day the furie of the Lord, and his wrath is not turned from vs.)

14 And read this booke (which we haue sent to you to be rehearsed in the Temple of the Lord) vpon the feast dayes, and at time conuenient.

15 Thus shall ye say, * To the Lord our God belongeth righteousnesse, but vnto vs the confusion of our faces, as it is come to passe this day vnto them of Iuda, and to the inhabitants of Ierusalem.

16 And to our Kings and to our princes, and to our priests, and to our prophets, and to our fathers,

17 Because we haue sinned before the Lord our God,

18 And haue not obeyed him, neither hearkened vnto the voyce of the Lord our God, to walke in the commandements that hee gaue vs openly.

19 From the day that the Lord brought our fathers out of the land of Egypt, euen vnto this day, we haue bin disobedient vnto the Lord our God, and wee haue been negligent to heare his voyce.

my Name.

33 When shall they turne them from their hard backs, and from their euill workes: for they shall remember the way of their fathers, which sinned before the Lord.

34 And I will bring them againe into the land, which I promised with an othe vnto their fathers, Abrahah, Isaac, and Jacob, and they shall be lords of it: and I will increase them, and they shall not be diminished.

35 And I will make an euerlasting couenant with them, that I will bee their God, and they shall be my people: and I will no more drine my people of Israel out of the land that I haue giuen them.

CHAP. III.

1 The people continueth in their prayer begun for their deliuerance. 9 He praiseth wisdom vnto the people, shewing that so great aduersities came vnto them for the despising thereof. 36 Onely God was the finder of wisdom. 37 Of the incarnation of Christ.

O Lord Almighty, O God of Israel, the soule that is in trouble, and the spirit that is vexed, crieth vnto thee.

2 Heare, O Lord, and haue mercie: for thou art mercifull, and haue pity vpon vs, because we haue sinned before thee.

3 For thou endurest for euer, and we utterly perish.

4 O Lord Almighty, the God of Israel, heare now the prayer of the dead Israelites, and of their children, which haue sinned before thee, and not hearkened vnto the voyce of thee their God, wherefore these plagues hang vpon vs.

5 Remember not the wickednesse of our fathers, but thinke vpon thy power and thy Name at this time.

6 For thou art the Lord our God, and thee O Lord, will we praise.

7 And for this cause hast thou put thy feare in our hearts, that we should call vpon thy Name, and praise thee in our captiuitie: for we haue considered in our mindes all the wickednesse of our fathers, that sinned before thee.

8 Behold, we are yet this day in our captiuitie, where thou hast scattered vs, to bee a reproch and a curse, and subiect to payments, according to all the iniquities of our fathers, which are departed from the Lord their God.

9 O Israel, heare the commandements of life: hearken vnto them, that thou mayst learne wisdom.

10 What is the cause, O Israel, that thou art in thine enemies land, and art wairen old in a strange countrey.

11 And art defiled with the dead, and art counted with them, that goe downe to the graues?

12 Thou hast forsaken the fountaine of wisdom:

13 For if thou haddest walked in the way of God, thou shouldst haue remained safe for euer.

14 Learne where is wisdom, where is strength, where is understanding, that thou mayest knowe also from whence cometh long continuance, and life, and where the light of the eyes and peace is.

15 Who hath found out her place: or who hath come into her treasures?

16 Where are the princes of the heathen, and such as ruled the beasts vpon the earth?

17 They that had their paine with the soules of the heauen, that boarded vpon siluer and gold, wherein men truit and made none end of their gathering?

18 For they that coined siluer, and were so carefull of their worke, and whose inuention hau none end, 19 Are come to nought, and gone downe to hell, and other men are come vp in their steads.

20 When they were young, they sawe the light, and dwelt vpon the earth: but they vnderstood not the way of knowledge, 21 Neither perceived the paths thereof, neither haue their children receiued it: but they were farre off from that way.

22 It hath not bene heard of in the land of Chanaan, neither hath it bene seene in Cheman, 23 Nor the Agarines that sought after wisdom vpon the earth, nor the merchants of Perran, and of Cheman, nor the expounders of fables, nor the searchers out of wisdom haue knowen the way of wisdom, neither doe they thinke vpon the pathes thereof.

24 O Israel, howe greate is the house of God! and howe large is the place of his possession!

25 It is great, and hath none end, it is high, and vnumerable.

26 There were the gyants, famous from the beginning: that were of so great stature, and so expert in warre.

27 Those did not the Lord chuse, neither gaue he the way of knowledge vnto them.

28 But they were destroyed, because they had no wisdom, and perished through their owne foolishnesse.

29 Who hath gone by into heauen to take her, and brought her downe from the cloudes?

30 Who hath gone ouer the sea to finde her, and hath brought her rather then fine gold?

31 No man knoweth her wayes, neither considereth her pathes.

32 But he that knoweth all things, knoweth her, and he hath found her out with his vnderstanding: this fame is hee which hath prepared the earth for euermore, and hath filled it with foure footed beasts.

33 When hee sendeth out the light, it goeth: he and when hee calleth it againe it obeyeth him with feare.

34 And the starres shine in their watch, and reioyce. When he calleth them, they say, Here we be: and so with cheerefullnesse they shew light vnto him that made them.

35 This is our God, and there shall none other be compared vnto him.

36 Hee hath found out all the way of knowledge, and hath giuen it vnto Jacob his seruant, and to Israel his beloued.

37 Afterward he was seene vpon earth, and dwelt among men.

CHAP. IIIII.

1 The reward of them that keepe the Law, and the punishment of them that despise it. 12 A comforting of the people being in captiuitie. 19 A complaint of Ierusalem, and vnder the figure thereof the Church. 25 A consolation and comforting of the same.

This is the booke of the commandements of God, and the Law that endureth for ever: all they that keepe it, shall come to life: but such as forsake it, shall die.

2 Turne thee, O Iacob, and take holde of it: walke by this brightnes before the light thereof.

3 Shine not thine honour to another, nor the things that are profitable vnto thee, to a strange nation.

4 O Israel wee are blessed: for the things that are acceptable vnto God, are declared vnto vs.

5 Bee of good comfort, O my people, which art the memorie of Israel.

6 We are sold to the nations, not for your destruction: but because ye prouoked God to wrath ye were deliuered vnto the enemies.

7 For ye haue displeas'd him that made you, offering vnto deuils, and not to God.

8 Yee haue forgotten him that created you, euen the euerlasting God, and yee haue grieved Ierusalem, that nourish'd you.

9 When shee saw the wrath coming vpon you from God, she said, hearken, ye that dwell about Sion: for God hath brought mee into great heavinesse.

10 I see the captiuitie of my sonnes & daughters, which the euerlasting will bring vpon them.

11 With ioy did I nourish them, but I must leaue them with weeping and mourning.

12 Let no man reioyce ouer me a widow, and forsaken of many, which for the sinnes of my children am desolate, because they departed from the Law of God.

13 They would not know his righteousnesse, nor walke in the wayes of his commandements: neither did they enter into the paths of discipline, through his righteousnesse.

14 Come, yee that dwell about Sion, and call to remembrance the captiuitie of my sonnes and daughters, which the euerlasting hath brought vpon them.

15 For hee hath brought vpon them a nation from far, an impudent nation, and of a strange language, 16 Which neither reuerence the aged, nor pite the yong: these haue caried away the deare beloued of the widowes, leauing me alone, and destitute of my daughters.

17 But what can I helpe you?

18 Surely he that hath brought these plagues vpon you, can deliuer you from the hands of your enemies.

19 Goe your way, O children, goe your way, for I am left desolate.

20 I haue put off the clothing of peace, and put vpon me the sackcloth of prayer, and so long as I liue, I will call vpon the euerlasting.

21 Bee of good comfort, O children: cry vnto God, and he will deliuer you from the power, and hand of the enemies.

22 For I haue hope of your saluation tho-row the euerlasting, and ioy is come vpon mee from the holy One, because of the mercy which shall quickly come vnto you from our euerlasting Saviour.

23 For I sent you away with weeping, and mourning: but with ioy and perpetuall gladnesse will God bring you againe vnto me.

24 Like as now the neighbours of Sion saw your captiuitie, so shall they also see shortly your saluation from God, which shall come vnto you with great glorie, and brightnes from the Euerlasting.

25 My children, suffer patiently the wrath that is come vpon you from God: for thine enemy hath persecuted thee, but shortly thou shalt see his destruction, and shall treade vpon his necke.

26 My darlings haue gone by rough wayes, and we are led away as a flocke that is scattered by the enemies.

27 Bee of good comfort, my children, and cry vnto God: for hee that led you away, hath you in remembrance.

28 And as it came into your minde to goe astray from your God: so endenour your selues tenne times more, to turne againe and to seeke him.

29 For he that hath brought these plagues vpon you, will bring you euerlasting ioy againe, with your saluation.

30 Take a good heart, O Ierusalem: for he which gaue thee that name, will comfort thee.

31 They are miserable that afflict thee, and such as reioyce at thy fall.

32 The cities are miserable whome thy children serue: miserable is shee that hath taken thy sonnes.

33 For as she reioyc'd at thy decay, and was glad of thy fall, so shall shee be soory for her owne desolation.

34 For I will take away the reioycing of her great multitude, and her ioy shall be turned into mourning.

35 For a fire shall come vpon hee from the Euerlasting, long to endure, and shee shall be inhabited of diuels for a great season.

36 O Ierusalem looke toward the East, and behold the ioy that commeth vnto thee from thy God.

37 Loe, thy sonnes (whome thou hast let goe) come gathered together from the East vnto the West, reioycing in the word of the holy One vnto the honour of God.

CHAP. V.

1 Ierusalem is moued vnto gladnesse for the returne of her people, and vnder the figure thereof the Church.

Put off thy mourning clothes, O Ierusalem, and decke thee with the worship & honour, that commeth vnto thee from God, for evermore.

2 Put on the garment of righteousnesse, that commeth from God, and let a crowne vpon thine heade of the glorie of the euerlasting.

3 For God will declare thy brightnesse to euerie country vnder the heauen.

4 And God will name thee by this name for ever, The peace of righteousnesse, and the the glory of the worship of God.

5 Artie, O Jerusalem, and stand by on hie, and looke about thee toward the East, and beholde thy children gathered from the East vnto the West by the word of the holy One, reioycing in the remembrance of God.

6 For they departed from thee on foote, and were led away from their enemies: but God will bring them againe vnto thee, exalted in glory, as children of the kingdom.

7 For God hath determined to bring downe every high mountaine, and the long enduring rocks, and to fill the valleys, to make the ground plaine, that Israel may walke safely vnto the honour of God.

8 The woodes and all sweete smelling trees shall ouershadow Israel at the commandement of God.

9 For God shall bring Israel with ioy in the light of his maiestie, with the mercie and righteousness that commeth of him.

CHAP. VI.

A COPIE OF THE EPISTLE THAT Jeremias sent vnto them that were led away captiues into Babylon by the King of the Babylonians, to certifie them of the thing that was commanded him of God.

Because of the finnes, that yee haue committed againt God, ye shal be led away captiues vnto Babylon, by Nabuchodonosor, King of the Babylonians.

2 So when ye be come into Babylon, ye shall remaine there many yeeres, and a long season, euen seuen generations, and after that will I bring you away peaceably from thence.

3 Now shall yee see in Babylon gods of siluer, and of gold, and of wood, borne vpon mens shoulders, to cause the people to feare:

4 Beware therefore that ye in no wise be like the strangers, neither be ye afraid of them, when yee see the multitude before them and behinde them worshipping them.

5 But say ye in your hearts, O Lord, wee must worship thee.

6 For mine Angel shalbe with you: and shall care for your soules.

7 As for their tongue, it is polished by the carpenter, and they themselves are gilted, and layd ouer with siluer: yet are they but lyes, and cannot speake.

8 And as they take gold for a mayde that looeth to be dekt,

9 So make they crownes for the heades of their gods: sometimes also the Priestes themselves conuey away the gold and siluer from their gods, and bestow it vpon themselves.

10 Yea, they giue of the same vnto the harlots, that are in their houses: againe, they decke these gods of siluer, and gods of golde, and of wood, with garments like men.

11 Yet cannot they be preserued from rust and wormes,

12 Though they haue covered them with clothing of purple, and wipe their faces because of the dust of the Temple, whereof there is much vpon them.

13 One holdeth a scepter, as though hee were a certaine Iudge of the countrey: yet can hee not slay such as offend him.

14 An other hath a dagger or an axe in his right hand: yet hee is not able to defend himselfe from battell, nor from cheernes: so then it is evident that they be no gods.

15 Therefore feare them not: for as a vessell that a man vseth, is nothing worthy when it is broken, 16 Such are their gods: when they be set by in their temples, their eyes be full of dust by reason of the feet of those that come in.

17 And as the gates are shut in round about vpon him that hath offended the king: or as one that should be led to be put to death, to y priests keepe their temples with doores, & with lockes, and with barres, lest their gods should be spoiled by robbers.

18 They light by candles before them: yea, more then for themselves, whereof they cannot see one: for they are but as one of the posts of the temple.

19 They confesse, that euen their hearts are gnawed vpon: but when the things that creepe out of the earth, eat them and their clothes, they feele it not.

20 Their faces are blacke through the smoke that is in the Temple.

21 The owles, & allowes & birdes flie vpon their bodies, and vpon their heads, yea, and the cats also.

22 By this yee may be sure, that they are not gods: therefore feare them not.

23 Notwithstanding the golde, that is about them to make them beautifull, except one wipe off the rust, they cannot shine: neither when they were molten, did they feele it.

24 The things wherein is no breath, are bought for a most high price.

25 They are borne vpon mens shoulders, because they haue no feet, where by they declare vnto men, that they are nothing worth, yea, and they that worship them, are ashamed.

26 For if they fall to the ground at any time, they cannot rise vp againe of themselves, neither if one set them vp right, can they moue of themselves, neither if they bee bowed downe can they make themselves straight: but they let gifts before them, as vnto dead men.

27 As for the things that are offered vnto them, their Priestes sell them, and abuse them: likewise also the women lay vp of the same: but vnto the poore and sicke they giue nothing.

28 The menstruous women, and they that are in childbed, touch their sacrifices: by these things ye may know that they are no gods: feare them not.

29 From whence cometh it then, that they are called gods? because the women bring giftes to the gods of siluer, and gold, and wood.

30 And their Priestes sit in their temples, having their clothes rent, whose heads and beardes are shauen, and being bare headed, 31 They roare and cry before their gods, as men do at the feast of one that is dead.

32 The Priestes also take away of their garments, and cloth their wiues and children.

33 Whether it bee euntl that one doeth vnto them, or good, they are not able to recompense it: they can neither let vp a King, nor put him downe.

34 In like maner they can neither giue riches nor money: though a man make a dowe vnto them, and keepe it not, they will not require it.

35 They

In this chapter are the makers and mainteiners of images mightily confuted, 2. That is, seuentie yeeres.

Or, courts.

Isa. 46. 7.

35 They can saue no man from death, neither deliuer the weake from the mightie.

36 They cannot reioice a blinde man to his sight, nor helpe any man at his neede.

37 They can shew no mercie to the widow, nor doe good to the fatherlesse.

38 Their gods of wood, gold, and siluer, are as stones that bee betweene one of the mountaine, and they that worship them, shall bee confounded.

39 How should a man then thinke or say, that they are gods?

40 Forouer, the Chaldeans themselves dishonour them: for when they see a dumbe man, that cannot speake, they present him to Bel, 41 And desire that hee would make him to speake, as though hee had any feeling: yet they that vnderstand these things, cannot leaue them: for they also haue no sense.

42 Furthermoze, the women, girded with coards, sit in the streetes, and burne straw.

43 And if one of them be drawn away, and lie with such as come by, shee casteth her neighbour in the teeth, because shee was not so worthily reputed, nor her coard broken.

44 What doener is done among them, is lifes: how may it then be thought or said, that they are gods?

45 Carpenters and goldsmiths make them, neither bee they any other thing, but euen what the workman will make them.

46 Yea, they that make them, are of no long continuance: how should then the things that are made of them, be gods?

47 Therefore they leaue lies, and shame for their posteritie.

48 For when there commeth any warre, or plague vpon them, the Priests imagine with themselves, where they may hide themselves with them.

49 How then can men not perceiue, that they be no gods, which can neither defend themselves from warre, nor from plagues?

50 For seeing they be but of wood, and of siluer, and of golde, men shall know hereafter that they are but lies, and it shall be manifest to all nations and Kings, that they bee no gods, but the workes of mens hands, & that there is no worke of God in them.

51 Whereby it may be knowen, that they are no gods.

52 They can set by no King in the land, nor giue raine vnto men.

53 They can giue no sentence of a matter, neither preserue from iniurie: they haue no power, but are as crows betweene the heauen and the earth.

54 When there falleth a fire vpon the house of those gods of wood, and of siluer, and of gold, the Priests will escape and saue themselves, but they burne as the balkes therein.

55 They cannot withstand any King or enemies: how can it then bee thought or said that they be gods?

56 Forouer, these gods of wood, of golde, and of siluer can neither defend themselves from theues nor robbers.

57 For they that are strongest, take away their gold and siluer, and apparell, where with they be clothed: and when they haue it, they get them away: yet can they not helpe themselves.

58 Therefore it is better to be a King, and so to shew his power, or else a profitable vessel in an house, whereby he that oweth it might haue profit, then such false gods: or to bee a doore in an house, to keepe such things safe as bee therein, then such false gods: or a pillar of wood in a place, then such false gods.

59 For the Sunne, and the Moone, and the starres that shine, when they are sent downe for needefull uses, obey.

60 Likewise also the lightning, when it shineth, it is euident: and the wind bloweth in euery countrey.

61 And when God commaundeth the clouds to goe about the whole world, they doe as they are bidden.

62 When the fire is sent downe from aboue, to destroy hills and woods, it doth that which is commanded: but these are not like any of these things, neither in forme nor power.

63 Therefore men should not thinke, nor say that they be gods, seeing they can neither giue sentence in iudgment, nor dor men good.

64 Forso much now as yee are sure, that they be no gods, feare them not.

65 For they can neither curse, nor blesse Kings:

66 Neither can they shewe signes in the heauen among the heathen, neither shine as the Moone.

67 The beasts are better then they: for they can get them vnder a couert, and do themselves good.

68 So yee may be certified that by no maner of meanes they are gods: therefore feare them not.

69 For as a scarcrow in a garden of cucumbers kepeth nothing, so are their gods of wood, and of siluer, and of gold:

70 And likewise their gods of wood, and gold, and siluer, are like to a white thorne in an orchard, that euery bird siteth vpon, and as a dead body that is cast in the darke.

71 By the purple also and brightnesse which faderth vpon them, yee may vnderstand, that they be no gods: yea, they themselves shall be confuted at the last, and they shall bee a shame to the countrey.

72 Better therefore is the iust man, that hath none idoles: for hee shall bee farre from reproofe.

25 The prayer of Azarias. 46 The crucitie of the king. 48 The flame deuoureth the Chaldeans. 49 The Angel of the Lord was in the forname. 51 The three children praise the Lord, and prouoke all creatures to the same.

24 And they walked in the middes of the flame, praising God, and magnified the Lord.

25 Then Azarias stood by, and prayed on this manner, and opening his mouth in the middes of the fire, said, 26 Blessed bee thou, O Lord God of our fathers: thy Name is worthy to bee praised and honoured for euermore.

27 For thou art righteous in all the things, that thou hast done vnto vs, and all thy works are true, and thy wayes are right, and all thy iudgments certaine.

28 In all the things that thou hast brought vpon vs, and vpon Ierusalem, the holy cite of our fathers, thou hast executed true iudgments: for by right & equity thou hast brought all these things vpon vs because of our sinnes.

29 For we haue sinned and done wickedly, departing from thee: in all things haue we trespassed, 30 And not obeyed thy commandments, nor kept them, neither done as thou hadst commanded vs, that we might prosper.

31 Wherefore in all that thou hast brought vpon vs, and in euery thing that thou hast done to vs, thou hast done them in true iudgement:

32 As in deliuering vs into the hands of our wicked enemies, and most hatefull traitors, and to an vnrightheous king, and the most wicked in all the world.

33 And now we may not open our mouthes: wee are become a shame and repute vnto thy seruantes, and to them that worship thee.

34 Yet for thy Prauses sake we beseech thee, giue vs not vp for euer, neither breake thy Couenant, 35 Neither take away thy mercy from vs, for thy beloued Abrahams sake, and for thy seruant Isaacs sake, and for thy holy Israels sake.

36 To whom thou hast spoken and promised, that they wouldest multiply their seede as the starres of heauen, and as the sand, that is vpon the sea shore.

37 If for we, O Lord, are become lesse then any nation, and bee kept vnder this day in all the world, because of our sinnes:

38 So that now we haue neither Prience, nor Prophet, nor gouernour, nor burnt offering, nor sacrifice, nor oblation, nor incense, nor place to offer the first fruits before thee, - that we might find mercy.

39 Mercy thelesse, in a contrite heart, and an humble spirit let vs be recoured.

40 As in the burnt offering of rammes and bullocks, and as in ten thousand of fat lambs, so let our offering be in thy sight this day, that it may please thee: for there is no confusion vnto them, that put their trust in thee.

41 And now we follow thee with all our heart, and teare thee, and seeke thy face.

42 But vs not to shame, but deale with vs after thy louing kindnesse, and according to the multitude of thy mercies.

43 Deliuer vs also by thy miracles, and giue thy Name the glory, O Lord,

44 That all they that doe thy seruants euill, may be confounded: euen let them bee confounded by thy great force and power, and let their strength be broken,

45 That they may know, that thou onely art the Lord God, & glorious ouer the whole world.

46 Now the kings seruants that had cast them in, ceased not to make the ouen hote with naphtha, and with pitch, and with tow, and with fagots, 47 So that the flame went out of the forname fourte and nine cubits.

48 And it brake forth, and burnt those Chaldeans, that it found by the forname.

49 But the Angel of the Lord went downe into the forname with them that were with Azarias, and smote the flame of the fire out of the forname, 50 And made in the middes of the forname like a most killing wind, so that the fire touched them not at all, neither grieved nor troubled them.

51 Then these thre (as out of one mouth) praised, and glorified, and blessed God in the forname, saying,

52 Blessed bee thou, O Lord God of our fathers, and praised, and exalted aboue all things for euer, and blessed bee thy glorious and holy Name, and praised aboue all things, and magnified for euer.

53 Blessed be thou in the Temple of thine holy glory, and praised aboue all things, and exalted for euer.

54 Blessed be thou that beholdest the depths, and sittest vpon the Cherubims, and praised aboue all things and exalted for euer.

55 Blessed bee thou in the glorious thron of thy kingdom, and praised aboue all things, and exalted for euer.

56 Blessed bee thou in the Armament of heauen, and praised aboue all things, and glorified for euer.

57 All yee workes of the Lord, blesse yee the Lord: praise him, and exalt him aboue all things for euer.

58 O heauens, blesse ye the Lord: praise him, and exalt him aboue all things for euer. Psal. 148. 4.

Or, Susanna

The hiftorie of || Susanna, which ſome ioyne to the end of Daniel, and make it the thirteenth Chapter.

8 The two gouernours are taken with the lone of Susanna. 19 They take her alone in the garden. 20 They ſeethe her to wickedneſſe. 23 She chuſeth rather to obey God, though it be to the danger of her life. 34 She is ackeſſed. 45 Daniel doth deliuer her. 62 The gouernours are put to death.

Here dwelt a man in Babylon called Ioachim.

2 And he tooke a wife, whole name was Susanna, the daughter of Helcias, a very faire woman, & one that feared God.

3 Her father and her mother alſo were godly people, and taught their daughter according to the Law of Moſes.

4 Now Ioachim was a great rich man, and had a faire garden ioyning vnto his houſe, and to him reſorted the Iewes, becauſe he was more honourable then all others.

5 The ſame yere were appointed two of the ancients of the people to be Iudges, ſuch as the Lord ſpeaketh of, that the iniquitie came from Babylon, and from the ancient Iudges, which ſeemed to rule the people.

6 Theſe hated Ioachims houſe, and all ſuch as had any thing to doe in the Law, came thither vnto them.

7 Now when the people departed away at noone, Susanna went into her husbands garden to walke.

8 And the two elders ſaw her that ſhe went in dayly and walked, ſo that their luſt was inflamed toward her.

9 Therefore they turned away their mind, and caſt downe their eyes, that they ſhould not ſee heauen, nor remember with Iudgements.

10 And albeit they were both wounded with her a To wit, from God.

her loue, yet durst not one shewe another his griefe.

11 For they were ashamed to declare their lust, that they desired to haue to doe with her.

12 Per they watched diligently from day to day to see her.

13 And the one said to the other, Let vs goe now home, for it is dinner time.

14 So they went their way, and departed one from another: yet they returned againe, and came into the same place, and after that they had asked one another the cause, they acknowledged their lust: then appointed they a time both together when they might finde her alone.

15 Now when they had spied out a conuenient time, that shee went in, as her maner was, with two maydes onely, and thought to wash her selfe in the garden, (for it was an hotte season)

16 And there was nobody there, saue the two Elders that had hid themselues, and watched for her:

17 Shee saide to her maydes, Bring me oyle and sope, and shut the garden doozes, that I may wash me.

18 And they did as shee bade them, and shut the garden doozes, and went out themselues at a backe doore, to fet the thing that she had commanded them: but they saw not the Elders, because they were hid.

19 Now when the maides were gone sooth, the two Elders rose vp and ranne vnto her, saying,

20 Beholde, the garden doozes are shut, that no man can see vs, and we burne in loue with thee: therefore consent vnto vs, and lie with vs.

21 If thou wilt not, wee will beare witness against thee, that a yong man was with thee, and therefore thou didst sende away thy maydes from thee.

22 Then Susanna sighed, and said, I am in trouble on euery side: for if I doe this thing, it is deare vnto me: and if I doe it not, I cannot escape your hands.

23 It is better for me to fall into your hands, and not doe it, then to sinne in the sight of the Lord.

24 With that Susanna cryed with a loude voyce, and the two elders cried out against her.

25 Then ranne the one, and opened the garden doore.

26 And when the seruants of the house heard the cry in the garden, they rushed in at the backe doore, to see what was done vnto her.

27 But when the Elders had declared their matter, the seruants were greatly ashamed: for there was neuer such a report made of Susanna.

28 On the morrow after, came the people to Ioachim her husband, and the two Elders came also, full of malicious vngination against Susanna, to put her to death, 29 And said before the people, Send for Susanna the daughter of Helcias Iochims wife. And immediately they sent.

30 So she came with her father and mother, her children, and all her kindred.

31 Now Susanna was very tender, and faire of face.

32 And these wicked men commaunded to vancome her face, (for she was covered) that they might be satisfied with her beauty.

33 Therefore they that were about her, and all that knew her, wept.

34 Then the two Elders stood by in the midst of the people, and laid their hands vpon her head, 35 Which wept, and looked by toward heauen: for her heart rent in the Lord.

36 And the Elders sayde, As wee walked in the garden alone, shee came in with two maides, whom shee sent away from her, and shut the garden doozes.

37 Then a yong man, which there was hid, came vnto her, and lay with her.

38 Then wee which stode in a corner of the garden, seeing this wickednesse, ran vnto them, and we saw them as they were together.

39 But wee could not holt him: for he was stronger then we, and opened the doore and leaped out.

40 Now when wee had taken this woman, we asked her what yong man this was, but shee would not tell vs: of these tyings are wee witnesses.

41 Then the assembly beleued them, as those that were the Elders and iudges of the people: so they condemned her to death.

42 Then Susanna cryed out with a loude voyce, and sayd, O eternall God, that knowest the secrets, and knowest all things afoze they come to passe, 43 Thou knowest, that they haue borne false witness against mee, and beholde, I must die, whereas I neuer did such things as these men haue maliciously imputed against me.

44 And the Lord heard her voyce.

45 Therefore when shee was led to bee put to death, the Lord railed by the holy spirit of a yong child, whose name was Daniel, 46 Who cryed with a loude voyce, I am cleane from the blood of this woman.

47 Then all the people turned them toward him, and sayd, What meane these wordes, that thou hast spoken?

48 Then Daniel stode in the middes of them, and sayd, Are yee such fooles, O Israelites, that without examination, or knowledge of the truth, yee haue condemned a daughter of Israel?

49 Returne againe to iudgement: for they haue borne false witness against her.

50 Wherefore the people turned againe in all haste, and the Elders sayd vnto him, Come, sit downe among vs, and shew it vs, seeing God hath giuen thee the office of an Elder.

51 Then sayd Daniel vnto them, Put these two aside, one farre from another, and I will examine them.

52 So when they were put asunder one from another, hee called one of them and sayde vnto him, O thou that art old in a wicked life, nowe thy times which thou hast committed afozetime are come to light.

53 For thou hast pronounced false iudgements, and hast condemned the innocent, and hast let the guiltie goe free, albeit the Loude sayth, * The innocent and righteous shalt thou not slay.

54 Now then, if thou hast seene her, tell mee, Under what tree sawest thou them compassing panying together? Who answered, Under a lencke tree.

55 Then sayd Daniel, Verely thou hast lye against thine owne head: for loe, the Angel of God hath rectured the sentence of God, to cut thee in two.

56 So put hee him aside, and commaunded to bring the other, and layd vnto him, O thou seed of Chanaan, and not of Iuda, beautie hath deceiued thee, and lust hath subuerted thine heart.

57 Thus haue ye dealt with the daughters of Israel, and they for feare companied with you:
but the daughter of Iuda would not abide your wickednesse.

58 Now therefore tell me, Under what tree diddest thou take them companying together?
Who answered, Under a prime tree.

59 Then said Daniel vnto him, Verely thou hast also lied against thine head, for the Angel of God waiteth with the sword to cut thee in two, and so to destroy you both.

60 Which that all the whole assembly cryed with a loud voyce, and prayd God, which saueth them that trust in him.

61 And they arose against the two Elders, (for Daniel had commeted them of faile witnessse by their owne mouth.)

62 And according to the Lawe of Moyses they dealt with them, as they dealt wickedly against their neighbour, and put them to death.
Thus the innocēt blood was saued the same day.

63 Therefore Helcias and his wife prayd
God for their daughter Susanna, with Iocim her husband, and all the kindred, that there was no dishonestie found in her.

64 From that day forth was Daniel had in great reputation in the sight of the people.

65 And King Astiages was layd with his fathers, and Cyrus of Persia reigned in his stead.

The historie of Bel and of the Dragon, which is the fourteenth Chapter of Daniel after the Latine.

Nowe when King Astyages was layd with his fathers, Cyrus the Persian received his kingdome.

2 And Daniel did eate at the kings table, and was honoured aboue all his friends.

3 Now the Babylonians had an idole, called Bel, and there were spent vpon him euery day twelue great measures of fine floure, and four-tie sheeps, and three great pots of wine.

4 And the King worshipped it, and went dayly to honour it: but Daniel worshipped his owne God. And the King sayd vnto him, Why doest not thou worship Bel?

5 Who answered, and sayd, Because I may not worship idoles made with handes, & the liuing God which hath created the heauen and the earth, and hath power vpon all flesh.

6 Then sayd the King vnto him, Thinkest thou not that Bel is a liuing God? Seest thou not how much hee eateth and drinketh euery day?

7 Then Daniel smiled and sayd, O King, be not deceiued: for this is but clay within, & brasse without, and did neuer eate any thing.

8 So the king was wroth, and called for his priests, and sayd vnto them, If yee tell mee not who this is that eateth by these expenses, ye shall die:

9 But if yee can certifie me that Bel eateth them, then Daniel shall die: for hee hath spoken blasphemie against Bel. And Daniel sayd vnto the king, Let it bee according to thy word.

10 (Now the Priests of Bel were threescore and ten, beside their wives and children: ) and the King went with Daniel into the temple of Bel.

11 So Bels priests sayd, Behold, wee will goe out, and set thou the meate there, O King, and let the wine bee filled: then shut the doore fast, and seale it with thine owne signet.

12 And to morrow when thou comest in, if thou findest not that Bel hath eaten by all, wee will suffer death, or els Daniel that hath lied vpon vs.

13 Now they thought themselves sure enough:
for vnder the table they had made a priuite entrance, and there went they in euery, and tooke away the things.

14 So when they were gone forth, the King set meates before Bel. Now Daniel had commaunded his seruants to bring ashes, and these they strowed throughout all the Temple, in the presence of the King alone: then they went out, and shut the doore, and sealed it with the Kings signet, and so departed.

15 Now in the night came the Priests with their wines and children, (as they were wont to doe) and did eate and drinke vp all.

16 In the morning betimes, the King arose and Daniel with him.

17 And the King sayd, Daniel, are the scales whole? Who answered, Yea, O King, they bee whole:

18 And as soone as hee had opened the doore, the king looked vpon the table, and cryed with a loud voyce, Great art thou, O Bel, and with thee is no deceit.

19 Then laughed Daniel, and held the king that he should not goe in, and sayd, Behold now the paneiment, and marke well whose footsteps are these.

20 And the king sayd, I see the footsteps of men, women, and children: therefore the king was angry,

21 And tooke the Priests, with their wines, and children, and they strowed him the priuite doores, where they came in, and consumed such things as were vpon the table.

22 Therefoze the King slew them, and deliuered Bel into Daniels power, who destroyed him and his temple.

23 A Mozeour in that same place there was a great Dragon, which the Babylonians worshipped.

24 And the King sayd vnto Daniel, Sayest thou that this is of brass also? loe, hee liueth, and eateth and drinketh, so that thou canst not say that he is no liuing God: therefore worship him.

25 Then sayd Daniel vnto the King, I will worship the Lord my God: for hee is the liuing God.

26 But giue me leaue, O King, and I will slay this Dragon without sword or staffe. And the King sayd, I giue thee leaue.

27 Then Daniel tooke pitch, and fatte, and hayre, and did seeche them together, and made lumpes thereof: this hee put in the Dragons mouth, and so the Dragon burst in timber. And Daniel sayd, Behold, whom ye worship.

28 When the Babylonians heard it, they were wonderfull wroth, and gathered them together against the King, saying, The King is become a Jew: for hee hath destroyed Bel, and hath slaine the Dragon, and put the Priests to death.

29 So they came to the King, and sayd, Deliuere vs Daniel, or else wee will destroy thee and thine house.

30 Nowe when the King sawe, that they praessed soze vpon him, and that necessitie contrayned him, hee deliuered Daniel vnto them:

31 Who cast him into the Lions den, where hee was fixe daies.

32 In the denne there were seuen Lions, and they had giuen them euery day two bodiees and two sheepe, which then were not giuen them, to the intent that they might deuoure Daniel.

33 Now there was in Aecyrie a Prophet called Abbaacue, which had made portage, and broken bread in a bowle, and was going into the field, for to bring it to the reapers.

34 But the Angel of the Lord sayd vnto Abbaacue, See, carry the meate that thou hast, into Babylon vnto Daniel, which is in the Lyons denne.

35 And Abbaacue sayd, Lord, I neuer sawe Babylon, neether doe I know where the denne is.

36 Then the Angel tooke him by the crowne of the head, & bare him by the haire of the head, and throught a mighty wind set him in Babylon vpon the denne.

37 And Abbaacue cryed, saying, O Daniel, take the dinner that God hath sent thee.

38 Then sayd Daniel, O God, thou hast thought vpon me, and thou neuer sayest them that seeke thee and loue thee.

39 So Daniel arose, and did eat, and the Angel of the Lord set Abbaacue in his owne place againe immediatly.

40 Upon the sixteenth day the King went to bewaile Daniel: and when he came to the den, he looked in, and beheld, Daniel late in the mids of the Lions.

41 Then cried the King with a loud voyce, saying, Great art thou, O Lord God of Daniel, and there is none other besides thee.

42 And he drew him out of the den, and cast them that were the cause of his destruction into the denne, and they were deuoured in a moment before his face.

CHAP. I.

8 The death of Alexander the king of Macedonia.

11 Antiochus taketh the kingdome. 12 Many of the children of Israel make covenant with the Gentiles.

21 Antiochus subdueth Egypt and Jerusalem vnto his dominion. 30 Antiochus setteth up idols.

After that Alexander the Macedonian, the sonne of Philip, was forth of the land of Chettim, and slew Darius King of the Persians and Medes, and reigned for him, as he had before in Grecia,

2 Hee tooke great warres in hand, and wanne strong holds, and slew the kings of the earth.

3 So went hee thorow to the endes of the world, and tooke spoyle of many nations, in so much that the world stood in awe of him: therefore his heart was puffed up and was haughty.

4 Now when hee had gathered a mighty strong host.

5 And had reigned ouer regions, nations, and kingdomes, they became tributaries vnto him.

6 After these things hee fell sicke, and knew that he should die.

7 Then hee called for the chiefe of his seruants, which had bene brought vp with him of children, and parted his kingdome among them, while hee was yet aliue.

8 So Alexander had reigned twelue yeeres when hee died.

9 And his seruants raigned euery one in his roome.

10 And they all caused themselves to be crowned after his death, & so did their children after them many yeeres, and much wickedness increased in the world.

11 For out of these came the wicked roote, enen Antiochus Epiphanes, the sonne of king Antiochus, which had bene an hostage at Rome, and hee reigned in the hundredeth and seuen and thirtieth yeere of the kingdome of the Greeks.

12 In those dayes went there out of Israel wicked men, which incited many, saying, Let vs goe and make a covenant with the the heathen that are round about vs: for since he departed from them, we haue had much sorrow.

13 So this denice pleased them well.

14 And certaine of the people were readie, and went to the king, which gaue them licence to doe after the ordinances of the heathen.

15 Then set they by a place of exercise at Jerusalem, according to the fashions of the heathen, 16 And made themselves vncircumcised, and forsooke the holy Couenant, and ioynd themselves to the heathen, and were sold to doe muchiefe.

17 So when Antiochus kingdome was set in order, hee went about to reigne ouer Egypt, that hee might haue the dominion of two Realmes.

18 Therefore hee entred into Egypt with a mightie companie, with Characts, and Elephants, and with horsemen, and with a great nauie, 19 And mooued warre against Ptolemeus King of Egypt: but Ptolemeus was afrayde of him, and fled, and many were wounded to death.

20 Thus Antiochus wanne many strong cities in the land of Egypt, and tooke away the peoples of the land of Egypt.

21 And after that Antiochus had smitten Egypt, hee turned againe in the hundredth fourtie and thre yeere,

22 And went by toward Israel and Jerusalem with a mightie people,

23 And entred proudly into the Sanctuarie, and tooke away the golden Altar, and the Candlesticke for the light, and all the instruments thereof, and the Table of the shewbread, and the pouring vessels, and the bowles, and the golden basens, and the baile, and the crownes, and the golden apparell, which was before the Temple, and brake all in pieces.

24 Hee tooke also the silver and golde, and the precious iewels, and hee tooke the secret treasures that hee found, and when hee had taken away all, hee departed into his owne land, 25 After hee had murdered many men, and spoken very proudly.

26 Therefore there was a great lamentation in euery place of Israel.

27 For the Princes and the Elders mourned: the young women, and the young men were made feeble, and the beautie of the women was changed, 28 Euery bridegrome tooke him to mourning, and she that saie in the marriage chamber was in heavinesse.

29 The land also was mooued for the inhabitants thereof: for all the house of Jacob was couered with confusion.

30 After two yeeres the king sent his chiefe talkematter into the cities of Iuda, which came to Jerusalem with a great multitude, 31 Who spake peaceable words vnto them in deceit, and they gaue credit vnto him.

32 Then he fell suddenly vpon the citie, and smote it with a great plague, & destroyed much people of Israel.

33 And when hee had spoiled the citie, he set fire on it, casting downe the houses thereof, and wals thereof on euery side.

34 The women and their children tooke they captiue, and led away the cattell.

35 Then fortified they the city of David with a great & thicke wall, and with mightie towers, and made it a strong hold for them.

36 Moreover, they set wicked people there, and vngodly persons, and fortified themselves therein.

37 And they stored it with weapons and vittales, and gathered the spoyle of Jerusalem, and laide it by there.

38 Thus became they a sore snare, and were in ambushment for the Sanctuarie, and were wicked enemies euermore vnto Israel.

39 For they shedde innocent blood on euery side of the Sanctuarie, and defiled the Sanctuarie, 40 Insomuch that the citizens of Jerusalem fled away because of them, and it became an habitation of strangers, being desolate of them whom he had boyne: for her owne children did leaue her.

41 Her Sanctuarie was left waste as a wilderness: her holy dayes were turned into mourning, her Sabbaths into reproch, and her honoz brought to nought.

42 As her gloiy had bene great, so was her dishonour, and her excellencie was turned into sorrow.

43 Also the king wrote vnto all his kingdom, that all the people should bee as one, and that euery man should leaue his lawes.

44 And all the heathen agreed to the commandement of the king.

45 Yea, many of the Israelites consented to his religion, offering vnto idoles, and defiling the Sabbath.

46 So the king sent letters by the messengers vnto Jerusalem, and to the cities of Iuda, that they should follow the strange lawes of the countrey,

47 And that they should forbid the burnt offerings and sacrifices, and the offerings in the Sanctuarie,

48 And that they should defile the Sabbaths and the feasts,

49 And pollute the Sanctuarie and the holy men,

50 And to set by altars and groues, and chapels of idoles, and offer by swines flesh, and vncleane beasts,

51 And that they should leaue their children vncircumcised, and defile their soules with vncleannesse, and pollute themselves, that they might forget the Law, and change all the ordinances, 52 And that whosoever would not doe according to the commandement of the king, should suffer death.

53 In like manner wrote hee thorowout all his kingdomes, and set overseers ouer all the people, for to compell them to doe these things.

54 And he commanded the cities of Iuda to doe sacrifice, citie by citie.

55 Then went many of the people vnto them by heapes, euery one that forsooke the Law, and so they committed euill in the land.

56 And

56 And they drove the Israelites into secret places, even whersoever they could flee for succour.

57 The sixteenth day of Cassiu, in the hundredth and sine and fortyeth yeere, they set up the abomination of desolation upon the altar, and they builded altars thypowout the cities of Iuda on euery side.

58 And before the dooxes of the houses, and in the streetes they burnt incense.

59 And the booke of the Law, which they found, they burnt in the fire, and cut in pieces.

60 Whosoener had a booke of the Testament found by him, or whosoener consented unto the Law, the kings commandement was, that they should put him to death by their auctoritie.

61 And they executed these things euery moneth vpon the people of Israel that were found in the cities.

62 And in the sine and twentieth day of the moneth, they did sacrifice vpon the altar, which was in the stead of the altars of sacrifices.

63 And according to the commandement, they put certaine women to death, which had caused their children to be circumcised.

64 And they hanged up the children at their neckes, and they spoiled their houses, and slew the circumcisers of them.

65 Yet were there many in Israel, which were of courage, and determined in themselves, that they would not eat vncleane things, 66 But chose rather to suffer death, then to bee defiled with thole meates: so because they would not breake the holy covenant, they were put to death.

67 And this tyrrannic was very sore vpon the people of Israel.

CHAP. II.

1 The mourning of Mattathias and his sonnes for the destruction of the holy cite. 19 They refuse to doe sacrifice unto idoles. 24 The zeale of Mattathias for the law of God. 33 They are slaine, and will not fight againe because of the Sabbath day. 49 Mattathias dying commaundeth his sonnes to sicke by the word of God, after the example of the fathers.

In those dayes stood by Mattathias the priest, the sonne of Joannes, the sonne of Simeon, of the sonnes of Joarib of Jerusalem, and dwelt in Modin.

2 And hee had sine sonnes, Joanan called Gaddis,

3 Simon called Thassi,

4 Iudas which is called Maccabens,

5 Eleazar called Abaron, and Jonathan, whose name was Apphus.

6 Now he saw the blasphemies, which were committed in Iuda and Jerusalem:

7 And hee said, Woe is me: wherefore was I borne, to see this destruction of my people, and the destruction of the holy cite, and thus to sit still: it is deliuered into the hands of the enemies.

8 And the Sanctuarie is in the hands of strangers: their Temple is as a man that hath no remoune.

9 Her glorious vessels are caried away into captiuitie: her infants are slaine in the streetes, and her young men are fallen by the sword of the enemies.

10 What people is it, that hath not some possession in her kingdome, or hath not gotten of her spoiles?

11 All her glory is taken away: of a free woman, shee is become an handmaide.

12 Behold, our Sanctuarie, and our beaustie, and honour is desolate, and the Gentiles haue defiled it.

13 What helpeth it vs then to line any longer?

14 And Mattathias rent his clothes, he, and his sonnes, and put sackcloth vpon them, and mourned very sore.

15 Then came men from the King to the cite of Modin, to compell them to forsake God, and to sacrifice.

16 So many of the Israelites consented vnto them: but Mattathias and his sonnes assembled together.

17 Then spake the commissioners of the king, and said vnto Mattathias, Thow art the chiefe and an honourable man, and great in this cite, and hast many children and brethren.

18 Come thou therefore first, and fulfill the Kings commandement, as all the heathen haue done, and also the men of Iuda, and such as remaine at Jerusalem: so shalt thou and thy familie bee in the Kings fauour: and thou and thy children shall be enriched with silver and gold, and with many rewards.

19 Then Mattathias answered & said vnto a lowde voice, Though all nations that are vnder the kings dominion, obey him, and sai away euery man from the religion of their fathers, and consent to his commandements, 20 Yet will I stand by my sonnes, and my brethren, walke in the covenant of our fathers.

21 God be mercifull vnto vs, that we forsake not the law and the ordinances.

22 Woe will not hearken vnto the Kings words to transgress our religion, neither on the right side, nor on the left.

23 And when hee had left off speaking these words, there came one of the Jewes, in the sight of all, to sacrifice vpon the altar which was at Modin, according to the kings commandement.

24 Now when Mattathias saw it, he was so vntamed with zeale, that his reines shooke, and his wrath was kindled according to the ordinance of the law: therefore hee ranne vnto him, and killed him by the altar:

25 And at the same time hee slew the Kings commissioner, that compelled him to doe sacrifice, and destroyed the altar.

26 Thus bare he a zeale to the Law of God, * doing as Phinces did vnto Samsi the sonne of Saloni.

27 Then cried Mattathias with a lowde voyce in the cite, saying, Whosoener is zealous of the Law, and will stand by the covenant, let him come forth after me.

28 So he, and his sonnes fled into the mountaines, and left all that they had in the cite.

29 Then many that sought after iustice and iudgement,

30 Went downe into the wilderness to dwell there, both they, and their children, and their wives and their cattell: for the afflictions increased sore vpon them.

31 Now when it was told vnto the Kings seruants, seruants, and to the garisons, which were in Ierusalem in the cite of David, that men had broken the kings commaundement, and were gone downe into the secret places in the wilderness, 32 Then many pursued after them; & hauing overtaken them, they camped against them and set the battell in aray against them on the Sabbath day.

33 And sayd vnto them, Let this now bee sufficient: come forth and do according to the commaundement of the king, and ye shall live.

34 But they answered, We will not goe forth, neither will we doe the kings commaundement, to defile the Sabbath day.

35 Then they gaue them the battell.

36 But the other answered them nothing, neither cast any one stone at them, or stopped the priue places, 37 But said, We will die all in our innocency: the heauen and earth shall testifie for vs, that ye destroy vs wrongfully.

38 Thus they gaue them the battell vpon the Sabbath, and slew both men and cattell, their wifes & their childzen to the number of a thousand people.

39 When Mattathias and his friends vnderstood this, they mourned for them greatly,

40 And said one to another, If we all doe as our brethren haue done, and fight not against the heathen for our liues, and for our lawes, then shall they incontinently destroy vs out of the earth.

41 Therefore they concluded at the same time, saying, Whosoener shall come to make battell with vs vpon the Sabbath day, wee will fight against him, that wee die not all, as our brethren that were murdered in the secret places.

42 Then came vnto them the assembly of the Iudeans, which were of the strongest men of Israel, all such as were wellminded toward the Law.

43 And all they that were fled for persecution, ioyned themselues vnto them, and were an helpe vnto them.

44 So they gathered a power, and smote the wicked men in their wrath, and the vngodly in their anger, but the rest fled vnto the heathen, and escaped.

45 Then Mattathias and his friendes went about and destroyed the altars,

46 And circumcised the childzen by force that were vncircumcised, as many as they found within the coasts of Israel,

47 And they purified after the proude men: and this act prospered in their hands, 48 So they recovered the Law out of the hand of the Gentiles, and out of the hand of kings, and gaue not place to the wicked.

49 Now when the time drew nere, that Mattathias should die, hee sayd vnto his sonnes, Now is wide and persecution increased, and the time of destruction, and the wrath of indignation.

50 Now therefore, my sonnes, be ye zealous of the Law, and giue your liues for the covenant of our fathers.

51 Call to remembrance what actes our fathers did in their time: so shall ye receiue great honour and an euertlasting name.

52 *Was not Abraham found faithfull in temptation, and it was imputed vnto him for righteousnesse?

53 *Joseph in the time of his trouble kept the commaundement, and was made the Lord of Egypt.

54 *Phinehes our father, because he was zealous and feruent, obtained the covenant of the euertlasting Ieresthood.

55 *Jesus for fulfilling the word, was made the gouernour of Israel.

56 *Caleb, because he bare witness before the congregation, receiued the heritage of the land.

57 *David, because of his mercy, obtained the throne of the kingdom for euermore.

58 *Elias, because hee was zealous and feruent in the Law, was taken by euen vnto heauen.

59 *Ananias, Azarias, and Misael by their faith were deliuered out of the flame.

60 *Daniel, because of his innocency, was deliuered from the mouth of the Lions.

61 And thus ye may consider thowout all ages, that whosoener put their trust in him, shall not want strength.

62 *Feare not ye then the wordes of a sinfull man: for his glory is but doung and wormes.

63 To day is he set vp, and to morrow he shall not be found: for he is tuned into his dust, and his purpose perissheth.

64 Wherefore my sonnes, take good hearts, and shew your selues mer for the Law: for by it shall you obtaine glory.

65 And behold, I know that your brother Simon is a man of counsell: giue eare vnto him alway: he shall be a father vnto you.

66 And Judas Maccabeus hath bene mighty and strong, euen from his youth vnto him be your captain, and fight you the battell for the people.

67 Thus shall ye bring vnto you all those that obstrue the Law, and shall auenge the iniuries of your people.

68 Recompense fully the heathen, and giue your selues to the commaundement of the Law.

69 So he blessed them, and was laid with his fathers,

70 And died in the hundreth, fortieth and first yeere, and his sonnes buried him in his fathers sepulchre at Bethan, and all Israel made great lamentation for him.

Then Judas his sonne, called Maccabeus, rose vp in his place.

2 And all his brethren helped him, and al they that held with his father, and fought with courage the battell of Israel.

3 So he gaue his people great honour: he put on a best plate as a gyant, and armed himselfe, and set the battell in aray, & defended the campe with his sword.

4 In his actes hee was like a Lyon, and as a Lions whelp roaring after the pray.

5 For hee pursued the wicked, & fought them out, and burnt vp those that bered his people.

6 So that the wicked fled for feare of him, and al the workers of iniquitie were put to trouble: and saluation prospered in his hand.

7 And hee grieved diuers Kinges, but Iacob reioyced by his acts, and his memoriall is blessed for euer.

8 Hee went also thorow the cities of Iuda, and destroyed the wicked out of them, and turned away the wrath from Israel.

9 So was he renowned vnto the ends of the earth, and he assembled together those that were ready to perish.

10 But Apollonius gathered the Gentiles, and a great hoise out of Samaria, to fight against Israel.

11 Which when Judas perceiued, hee went forth to meeete him, and smote him, and slaw him, so that many fell downe slaine, and the rest fled.

12 So Iudas tooke their spoiles, and tooke also Apollonius sword, and fought with it all his life long.

13 Now when Seron a prince of the armie of Syria, heard that Judas had gathered vnto him the congregation, and Church of the faithful, and went forth to the warre.

14 He said, I will get me a name, and will be glorious in the realme: For I will goe fight with Judas, and them that are with him, which haue despised the kings commandement.

15 So he made him ready to go by, and thtre went with him a mighty hoise of the vngodly to help him, and to be auenged of the childezen of Israel.

16 And when hee came nere to the going by of Beth horon, Judas went forth to meeete him with a small company.

17 But when they saw the armie comming against them, they said to Judas, How are wee able, being so few, to fight against so great a multitude, and so strong, seeing wee be so wearie, and haue fasted all this day?

18 Then said Judas, It is an easie thing for many to be slint by in the handes of few, and there is no difference before the God of heauen, to deliuer by a great multitude, or by a small company.

19 For the victorie of the battell standeth not in the multitude of the hoise, but the strength cometh from heauen.

20 They come against vs with a cruell and proude multitude to destroy vs, and our wiues, and our children, and to robbe vs.

21 But we doe fight for our liues, and for our Lawes.

22 And God himselfe will destroy them before our face: therefore be not yee afraid of them.

23 And when he had left off speaking, he leapt suddenly vpon them: so was Seron and his hoise destroyed before him.

24 And they purshed them from the going downe of Beth horon vnto the plaine: where there were slaine eight hundred men of them, & the residue fled into the land of the Philistines.

25 Then the feare and terrour of Judas and his brethren fell vpon the nations round about.

26 So that his fame came vnto the king: for all the Gentiles could tell of the wartes of Iudas.

27 But when king Antiochus heard these tidings, hee was angry in his minde: where, foze he sent forth, and gathered all the power of his Realme, a very strong army, 28 And opened his treasure, and gaue his holle a yeeres wages in hand, commanding them to be ready for a yeere for all occasions.

29 Querthelesse, when hee saw that the moey of his treasures failed, and that the tributes in the countrey were small, because of the dissolution, and plagues that hee had brought vpon the land, in raking away the Lawes which had bene of old time,

30 He feared least he should not haue now at the second time, as at the first, for the charges and giftes that he had giuen with a liberall hand afoze: so in liberalitie hee farre passed the other kings that were before him.

31 Wherefore hee was heauie in his minde, and thought to goe into Ierusa, for to take tributes of the countreyes, and to gather much moey.

32 So he left Lysias a noble man, and of the Kings blood to succee the kings businesse, from the riuer of Euphrates, vnto the borders of Egypt, 33 And to bring by his sonne Antiochus, till he came againe.

34 Moreover hee gaue him halfe of his holle, and Elephants, and gaue him the charge of all things that he would haue done, 35 And concerning those which dwelt in Iuda and Ierusalem, that hee should send an armie against them, to destroy and roote out the power of Israel and the remnant of Ierusalem, and to put out their memoriall from that place.

36 And to set strangers for to inhabite at their quarters, and part their land among them.

37 And the king tooke the halfe of the host that remained, and departed from Antiochia his royall citie, in the yeere an hundred fourtie and seuen, and passed the riuer Euphrates, and went thorow the hie countreyes.

38 Then Lysias chose Diodorus the sonne of Dorninus, and Nicano, and Sogrias mighty men and the kings friends.

39 And sent with them fourtie thousand footmen, and tenen thousand hollemen, to goe into the land of Iuda, and to destroy it, as the king commanded.

40 So they went forth with all their power and came & pitched by † Emmaus in the plaine † Emmaus.

41 Now when the merchants of the countrey heard the rumour of them, they tooke very much siluer and gold, and seruants, and came into the campe to buy the children of Israel for slaues, and the strength of Syria and of strange nations toynd with them.

42 Now when Judas and his brethren saw that trouble encreased, and that the holle dyed nere vnto their borders, considering the kings words, whereby he had commanded to destroy the people, and utterly abolish them, 43 They sayd one to another, Let vs redresse the decay of our people, and let vs fight for our people, and for our Sanctuary.

44 Then the congregation were some ready gathered to fight, and to pray, and to desire mercy and compassion.

45 As for Ierusalem, it was not inhabited, but was as a wilderness. There went none that was borne in it, in or out at it, and the Sanctuary

Sanctuary was troden downe, and the strangers kept the fourtresse, and it was the habitation of the heathen: and the mirth of Jacob was taken away: the pipe and the harpe ceased.

46 So they gathered themselves together, and came to Bethphage before Jerusalem: for in Bethphage was the place where they prayed aforesetime in Israel.

47 And they fasted that day, and put sackcloth upon them, and cast ashes upon their heads, and rent their clothes,

48 And opened the booke of the Law, wherein the heathen sought to paint the likenesse of their idols, 49 And brought the Priestes garments, and the first fruits, and the tithes, and set there the Nazarites, which accomplished their dayes.

50 And they cryed with a lowd voyce toward heauen, saying, What shall we do with these? and whether shall we cary them away?

51 For thy Sanctuary is troden downe and defiled, and the Priestes are in heauinesse, and brought downe.

52 And beholde, the heathen are come against vs, to destroy vs: thou knowest what things they imagine against vs.

53 How can we stand before them, except thou helpe vs?

54 Then they blew the trumpets, and cryed with a lowd voyce.

55 And after this Judas ordeined captaynes ouer the people, euen captaynes ouer thousands, and captaynes ouer hundredes, and captaynes ouer fifties, and captaynes ouer ten.

56 And they commaunded them that builded houses, or married wiues, or planted Vineyards, or were fearefull, that they should retorne euery one to his owne house, according to the Law.

57 So the hoste remooued, and pitched vpon the Southside of Emmaus.

58 And Judas said, Arme your selues and bee valiant men, and be ready against the morning to fight with these nations, which are gathered together against vs, to destroy vs and our Sanctuary.

59 For it is better for vs to die in battell, then to see the calamities of our people and of our Sanctuary.

60 Neuerthelesse, as the will of God is in heauen, so be it.

CHAP. IIII.

1 Judas goeth against Gorgias which lieth in wait. 14 He pursueth Gorgias and vs hoste to flight. 28 Lysias inuadeth Iudea, 29 But Judas driueth him out. 43 Judas purifieth the Temple, and dedicateth the Altar.

Then tooke Gorgias fise thousand foote men, and a thousand of the best horsemen, and departed out of the campe by night,

2 To inuade the campe of the Jewes, and to slay them suddenly: and the men of the fourtresse were his guides.

3 Now when Judas heard it, hee remooued, and they that were valiant men, to smite the Kings army which was at Emmaus,

4 Whiles yet the army was disperfed from the campe.

5 In the meane season came Gorgias by night into Judas campe: and when he found no man there, hee sought them in the mountaynes: for said he, they flee from vs.

6 But assoone as it was day, Judas shewed himselfe in the fielde with three thousand men, which had neither harnesse nor swoydes to their mundes.

7 And they saw that the armies of the heathen were strong and well armed, and their horsemen about them, and that these were expert men of warre.

8 Then sayd Judas to the men that were with him, feare ye not their multitude, neither bee afraid of their assault.

9 Remember how our fathers were deliuered * in the Red sea, when Pharaoh pursued them with an army.

10 Therefore now let vs cry vnto heauen, and the Lord will haue mercy vpon vs, and remember the Couenant of our fathers, and will destroy this hoste before our face this day:

11 So shall all the heathen know, that there is one, which deliuereth and saureth Israel.

12 Then the strangers lift vp their eyes, and saw them coming against them, 13 And they went out of their tents into the battell, and they that were with Judas blew the trumpets.

14 So they loyned together, and the heathen were discomfited, and fled by the plaine.

15 But the hudmost of them fel by the sword, and they pursued them vnto Gazeron, and into the plaines of Idumea, and of Azotus, and of Jamnia, so that there were slaine of them about thre thousand men.

16 So Judas turned againe with his hoste, from pursuing them,

17 And said vnto the people, Be not greedy of the spoiles: for there is a battell before vs.

18 And Gorgias and the army is here by vs in the mountaine: but stand yee now fast against your enemies, and ouercome them: then may yee safely take the spoiles.

19 As Judas was speaking these words, there appeared one part which looked from the mountaynes,

20 But when Gorgias saw that his were fled, and that Judas souldiers burnt the tents: (for the smoke that was seene, declared what was done.)

21 When they saw these things, they were sore afraid, and when they sawe also that Judas and his hoste were in the fielde ready to see themselves in aray, 22 They fled euery one into the land of Arar-gets.

23 So Judas turned againe to spoyle the tents, where hee gate much golde and siluer, and precious stones, and purple of the sea, and great riches.

24 Thns they went home, and sung Psalmes and praised toward the heauen: for hee is gracious, and his mercy endureth for euer.

25 And so Israel had a great victory in that day.

26 Now all the strangers that escaped, came, and tolde Lysias all the things that were done.

27 Who when he heard these things was sore afraid and discouraged, because such things came not vpon Israel as he would, neither such things as the king had commaunded him, came to passe.

28 Therefore the next yeere following, gathered Lysias thre score thousand chosen foote men, men, and five thousand horsemen to fight against Jerusalem.

29 So they came into Bethonema, and pitched their tents at Bethsura, where Judas came against them with ten thousand men.

30 And when he saw that mighty army, hee prayed, and sayd, Blessed be thou, O Saviour of Israel, which didst destroy the assault of the mighty man by the hand of thy servant David, and gauest the hoste of the strangers into the hand of Jonathan, the sonne of Saul, and of his armour bearer :

31 Shut vp this army in the hand of thy people of Israel, and let them bee confounded with their power, and with their horsemen.

32 Make them afraide, and consume their boldnesse and strength, that they may bee astonished at their destruction.

33 Cast them downe by the sword of them that loue thee: then shal all they that know thy Name, praise thee with songs.

34 So they toynd together, and there were flaine of Lysias hoste, five thousand men, and they fell before them.

35 Then Lysias, seeing his army put to flight, and the mannesse of Judas souldiers, and that they were ready, either to lue or die valiantly, he went into Antiochia, and gathered strangers, and when he had furnished his army, hee thought againe (being prepared) to come against Iudaea.

36 Then said Judas to his brethren, Behold, our enemies are discomfited: let vs now goe vp, to cleanse, and to repair the Sanctuary.

37 So all the hoste gathered them together, and went vp into the mountaine of Sion.

38 Now when they saw the Sanctuary layde waste, and the Altar defiled, & the doores burnt vp, and the shubs growing in the courts, as in a forest, or as on one of the mountaines, and that the Priestes chambers were broken downe,

39 They rent their clothes, and made great lamentation, and cast ashes vpon their heads, 40 And fell downe to the ground on their faces, and blew an alarme with the trumpets, and cried toward heauen.

41 Then Judas commanded certaine of the men to fight against those which were in the castle, till he had cleansed the Sanctuary.

42 So he chose Priestes that were undefiled, such as delighted in the Law,

43 And they cleansed the Sanctuary, and bare out the defiled stones into an vncleane place, 44 And consulted what to doe with the altar of burnt offerings which was polluted.

45 So they thought it was best to destroy it, lest it should bee a reproch vnto them, because the heathen had defiled it: therefore they destroyed the altar, 46 And layd by the stones by the mountaine of the Temple in a conuenient place, till there should come a prophet, to shew what should be done with them.

47 So they tooke whole stones according to the Law, and builded a new Altar according to the former,

48 And made by the Sanctuary, & the things that were within the Temple, and the courts, and all things.

49 They made also newe holy vessels, and brought into the Temple the candlesticke, and the altar of burnt offerings, and of incense, and the Table.

50 And they burnt incense vpon the Altar, and lighted the lampes which were vpon the candlesticke, that they might burne in the Temple.

51 They set also the Shew bread vpon the table, and hanged vp the vases, and finished all the workes that they had begun to make.

52 And vpon the five and twentieth day of the ninth moneth, which is called the moneth of Challeu, in the hundredth and eight and fortieth yeere they arose vp betimes in the morning, 53 And offered sacrifice according to the Law, vpon the new altar of burnt offerings, that they had made.

54 According to the time, and according to the day, that the heathen had defiled it, in the same day, was it made newe with songs, and harpes, and lutes, and cymbals.

55 And all the people fell vpon their faces, worshipping and praying toward the heauen him that had giuen them good successe.

56 So they kept the dedication of the Altar eight dayes, offering burnt offerings with gladnesse, and offered sacrifices of deliuerance and praise, 57 And decked the forefront of the Temple with crownes of gold and shields, and dedicated the gates and chambers, and hanged doores vpon them.

58 Thus there was very great gladnesse among the people, and the report of the heathen was put away.

59 So Judas and his brethren with the whole Congregation of Israel ordeined that the dayes of dedication of the Altar should bee kept in their season from yeere to yeere, by the space of eight dayes, from the five and twentieth day of the moneth Challeu, with mirth and gladnesse.

60 And at the same time builded they vpon mount Sion with hie walles and strong towres round about, lest the Gentiles should come and tread it downe, as they had done afore.

61 Therefore they let a garison there to keepe it, and fortified Bethsura to keepe it, that the people might haue a defence against Idumea.
